

Businessmen say freeze doesn't hurt

By TIM YOUNKMAN

The Presidential price-wage freeze was, generally, too short a time to do any good at the local level. At least that's the opinion of local businessmen from the Ovid and Elsie area.

Mrs. Audrey Bancroft of Bancroft Clothing in Ovid said the freeze hasn't affected her business.

"We buy all of our things a year ahead of time," she said. "Our purchases were all made before the freeze went into effect." By buying ahead of time, the freeze did not involve her prices for fall clothing, she said. She noted that purchases made now, during the freeze where wholesale prices were stopped from increasing, will benefit the consumer in the long run. She said the lower wholesale price will mean a lower retail price later on, even after the freeze is discontinued.

Mrs. Bancroft said her business has been down during the past month, but couldn't determine whether the price control was causing it or the warm weather was to blame. "People can't get into a fall mood with this kind of weather," she added.

Not so fortunate, perhaps, is the automobile dealer who was caught with a stock of 1971 autos at the time of the Presidential economic controls. Irene Clark, of the Clark Service Ford dealership in Elsie, said the freeze has had a definite effect on the local car-buying scene.

She said her firm had 15 1971 automobiles and four trucks left with the 1972 units coming in. "We are trying to sell the 1971 model against the '72." Consequently the dealership is suffering by just breaking even or below with the leftover 1971 cars. With no real markup on the 1972 units, the dealerships were actually faced with a situation of selling both model year units for the same price.

"We got accustomed to the old way of increasing the prices. Now we have to cut the gross. We are just trying to get invoice out of them."

She noted that people are skeptical about the failure to pass legislation dropping the excise tax, although, she added, that people have been more interested in new cars than in previous years.

She said it was hard to get more gross from the auto business in a small town rather than a more highly populated area. She noted that "we'd be lucky to get $150 to $200 on a car." She said it was the same five years ago.

"Our costs have increased over that time, but the prices have jumped that much," she said. "The freeze hasn't affected the parts and service. We have several independent operators who service everything in the area. We can barely get book labor." Mrs. Clark said that the garage was doing a substantial volume to offset some of the setback.

Another Elsie businessman said he didn't really feel the pinch of the freeze.

Spencer Blackford of Dancer's Department Store said the freeze, so far, "has not had an effect." He added that his firm had already made about 80 per cent of its yearly purchases before Aug.

15, the date the controls went into effect.

"Personally, I hate to see him (Nixon) take it off. If things continued the way they were things would really explode. The inflation was running away with itself and controls should have been put on it years ago."

He said the only real effect on his prices have come from competition. Prices remained low because the competition hasn't raised prices. But he said it was a standard practice to leave items at a certain price such as blue jeans or insulated coveralls for hunters.

"The coveralls were $29.99 last year and that's what they are this year. Work clothes haven't gone up and I think the quality is the same." He indicated that the prices would stay the same or vary even if the controls were not established.

He said the only item that would demand an increase this year would be shoes, where nationwide increases have averaged $25 per cent over the past few years. Those increases have been stopped temporarily, at

Christmas plans get early start

ST. JOHNS—It may be a little early to think Christmas, but St. Johns Chamber of Commerce and Jaycee members are all ready for the big holiday when it does roll around.

The annual Christmas program, which includes a parade, tree lighting ceremony, arrival of Santa and a series of kiddies' luncheons with the jolly fellow, has been expanded to include a religious program sponsored by the St. Johns ministerial association.

The new addition will be a program of Christmas hymns and an outdoor program on the courthouse lawn Saturday Dec. 11. Time of the program will be announced nearer the date.

The entire Christmas program is under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce but administered by the Jaycees. Arnold Wiles, assisted by Keith Harrison and Dave Needham have arranged the entire Christmas period schedule and all phases of the program are now in readiness.

The schedule for the entire program is as follows:

Sunday Nov. 21 at 8 a.m. members of the Chamber and Jaycees will gather to erect Christmas decorations. Assembly point will be the building formerly occupied by Bee's auto agency.

The official tree-lighting ceremony will take place Friday evening Dec. 3 and Santa will make his first appearance as part of that program. This event will be followed by the religious program on Dec. 11.

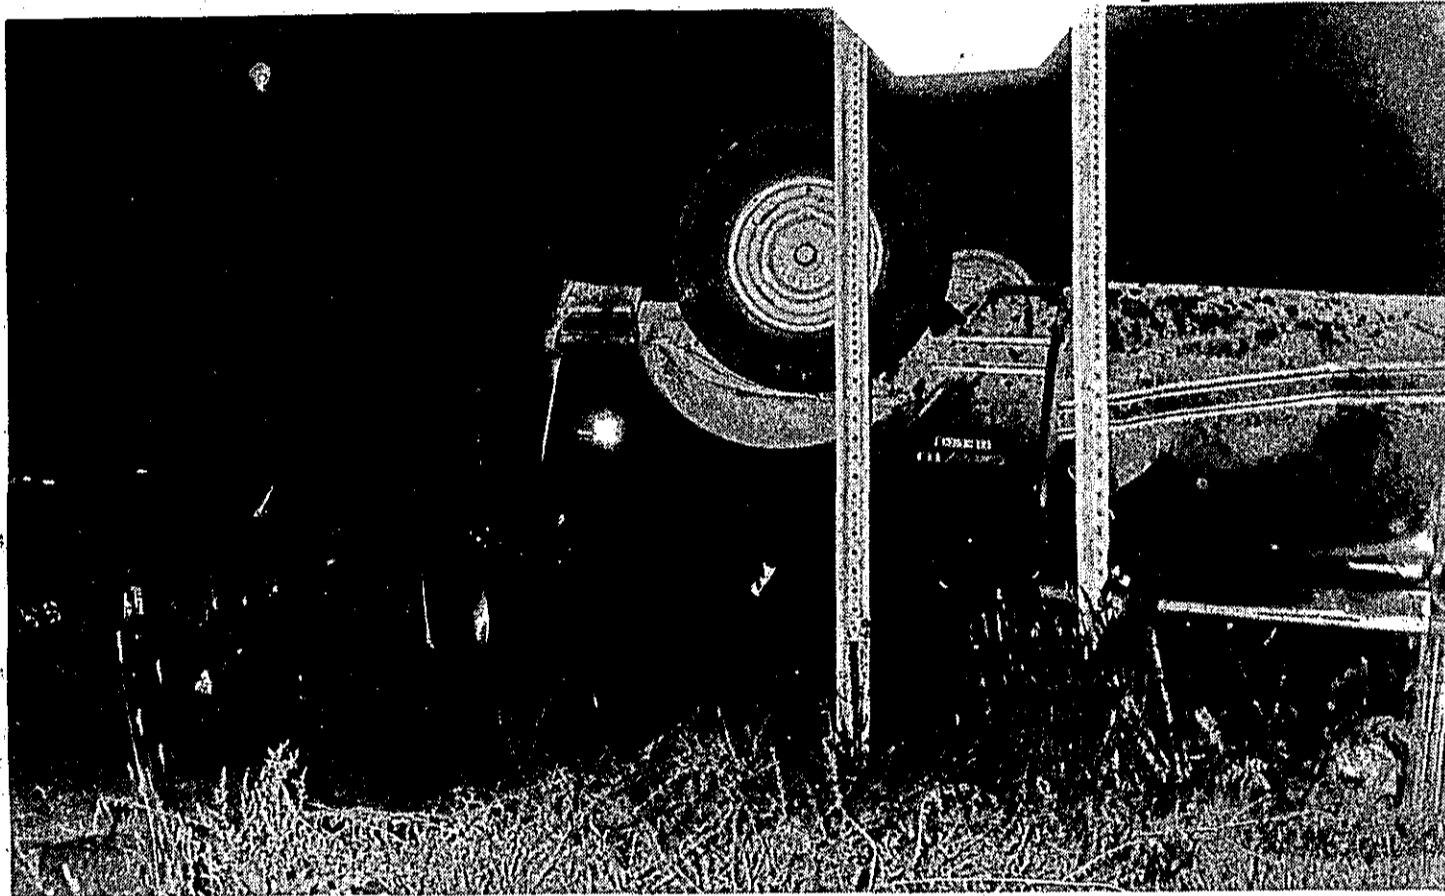

Two luncheons with Santa will be held, followed by free movies at the Clinton Theater. The luncheons, to be held in the Municipal Auditorium, will be conducted by the St. Johns Jaycees on Saturday Dec. 11 and 18. Tickets for the free movie programs which follow each luncheon will be available from Chamber member business places.

Final event of the season will be the taking down of decorations and that is scheduled for Sunday Jan. 9.

Police chief hurt in township crash

DeWitt Township Police Chief Bruce Angell, 29, was injured Friday night when a light truck, operated by Marvin DeForest, 49, of Haslett, turned in front of the unmarked police car at US-27 and Clark Road in DeWitt Township. Both drivers were treated and released from a Lansing hospital after the crash. DeForest was cited for an improper left turn and failure to yield the right of way.

No city help for Our House

ST. JOHNS—Our House could become their house again.

A plea for financial aid from the City Fathers fell on sympathetic, but deaf ears Tuesday night. Approximately 20 young people and members of the board of directors appeared before the commission.

They wanted the same thing as last time—the City to take over the operation and financial burdens.

However, the Commission said they had studied the matter, discussed it with citizens, and after careful consideration, decided they did not want anything to do with Our House.

SO OUR HOUSE may revert back to the Grand Truck Railroad, who owns the former freight building.

"We just don't have the money," explained Mayor Robert Wood. Wood also said it appeared to be the feelings of St. Johns citizens that enough recreational facilities and schools were already being supplied by the tax dollars and they did not want their money going into this project.

The committee then asked if the Commission would pass a resolution in support of a teen center.

Commissioner Mrs. Robert Rand proposed a resolution stating the commission was "generally in favor of a well-run and well supervised teen center." It was supported by Wood.

ON A VOTE, however, Commissioner Roy Ebert voted no while Wood and Mrs. Rand voted yes. City Attorney Paul Maples however said the motion failed because it takes a majority of 3 of five elected commissioners to make it count. Commissioner James Groat was not present at the meeting at this time.

In other Commission action, a public hearing was held on the city building code and a resolution calling for a new code. That code will be published in next week's Clinton County News. The Commission oked public distribution of the code in booklet form.

They gave Kurt Becker permission to park a trailer in front of his store on Oct. 21, 22 and 23 and oked a request from P-W students to sell advertisements in the city for their yearbook.

They gave the Jaycees permission to

Thanks, again, Sir

ST. JOHNS(c)—Last Thursday afternoon, Linda Stevens saw something float through the air and settle on the ground in front of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stevens, on South DeWitt Road, in Olive Township.

On investigation, she found the object to be three balloons tied together with a tag attached. Two of them were deflated. On the card was written the name and address of a boy in Racine, Wisconsin, and the information that the balloons had been released at Racine, which is on the shore of Lake Michigan, only that morning.

Lloyd Ford, who lives on North DeWitt Road in Greenbush Township had a similar experience on July 25. The attached cards on both sets of balloons requested the finder to return a card to the person who had released the balloons. Ford did so, and just this week received the following letter from a boy in Chicago:

Dear Sir: I am writing this letter to thank you for sending my balloon tag back from the Tri-Luminar Lodge picnic. I am 7 1/2 years old, and Friday night, October 8, my father took me to a dinner, and because you sent the tag in I was the winner, and got a $50 bond.

Thank you again, Sir, for being so kind and sending in the tag. When I say my prayers at night, I will pray for you. I am in second grade in school and I asked my Mom to help me write this letter. I am John William Gibson, Chicago, Ill.

Perhaps Linda will receive a letter of thanks some day. She has returned the tag she found.

Board votes on budget details

ST. JOHNS—After gaining one week's time from approving final budget details, the Clinton County Board of Commissioners were to convene Tuesday to vote on individual appropriations.

The commissioners last Tuesday adopted a balanced budget of $1,577,980 for 1972. At the time the commissioners indicated they were approving the totals only and not specific items. Some commissioners indicated they did not have time to examine the budget before the meeting and needed the extra week to study the proposal.

However, they passed the "total" figure so that township officials could begin immediately to spread their tax rolls.

The final detailed approval, commissioners said, should be very close to projected needs issued by the various county department heads. Last year spending fell within two per cent of the budget and the projections for this year have been made more accurate by a series of monthly audits.

The total budget is $88,086 more than the 1971 budget of $1,489,914. Major increases proposed in the itemized budget were in the areas of law enforcement and court related expenditures.

Rotarians honor students

By ANNETTE WHITE

Three students of St. Johns High School were honored and presented merit awards for their rolls in leadership, participation and outstanding achievements at Tuesday's noon Rotary meeting.

Receiving the awards from Rotary member Brandon White were Anne Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Fox, Janet Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes and Daniel Barz, son of Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Barz.

The awards were given by the Rotary in conjunction with Youth Activities Week which is Oct. 10 through Oct. 16.

In introducing the winners to the Club, Gordon Vandemark, program chairman, remarked that these students displayed leadership ability in many areas.

Anne Fox holds memberships in the Drama Club, Pep Club, G.A.A., Historian Drama Club, and was in the casts of "The Brick and The Rose," "Pygmalion," and "Arsenic and Old Lace." She was voted best drama actress and won the 1970-71 orchestra scholarship. She has served as drama club vice-president and state thespian president. She is also a member of the National Honors Society.

Janet Barnes is a member of the M and D Club, G.A.A., Drama Club, Pep Club and served as sophomore and junior class secretary. She has served on the homecoming committee, senior play committee and prom committee. She is a member of the National Honors Society and a National Merit Scholar.

Daniel Barz, a three year track member, is a member of the Wilsonaires and is involved in intramural basketball. He is a member of the National Honors Society and was a cast member in "The Curious Savage" and "Guys and Dolls."

The students led a question and answer period dealing with the modern educational system, the local teen drop-in center, and the school's curriculum.

Guest Rollin Huard, president of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce, presented awards to two Rotarians who were unable to attend the recent Chamber of Commerce awards banquet. Huard presented Lee DeWitt with the senior president's award and Virgil Zeeb, a certificate of appreciation for his support in chamber activities.

Ralph Labrato and Dr. James Schweigert new members; were inducted into the group by Earl Lancaster.

Mrs. William Barber, Mrs. Wesley Manker and Mrs. Barry Dean were guests of their husbands as each couple has an anniversary in October.

WIN YOUTH MERIT AWARDS

Brandon C. White Jr. of the St. Johns Rotary Club congratulates Daniel Barz, Janet Barnes and Anne Fox who were presented merit awards for their participation in activities and outstanding achievements. The trio were presented the awards and were luncheon guests of the Rotary Club last Tuesday.

Altar society presents annual fall fashion show

BY ANNETTE WHITE
News Society Writer

St. Joseph's Altar Society held its annual card party and fashion show in the school gym last Thursday evening.

Chairman of the event, Mrs. Marie Thelen, introduced Mrs. Mary Crosby and Mrs. Marilyn Brown who were narrators of the show.

The models approached the stage which was decorated as a football field and Herbert DePeal supplied organist selections during the show.

Clothing for the models to display was supplied by Julie K, MacKinnons, Carol Ann Shop and Rehmann's.

Models included Jimmy Kissane, Georgia Motz, Margaret Stachel, Karen Brya, Rita Harr, Corky Paradise, Alice Thelen, Yvonne Simon, Marsha Rademacher, Mary Jo Droste, Bob Ladisky, Tom Hall, Shirley Eisler, Janet Sipkovsky and Bernadine Henning.

Other models were Charles Stachel, Kay Dietrich, Cathy Droste, Beverly Mohnke, Dorothy Cain, Judy Fox, Lucille Fox, Steve Thelen, Rita Doyle, Mike Gehoski, Danny Rehmann, Tim Thelen, Lee Thelen, Glen Pung, Marlene Fabus, Robyn Rehmann, Theresa Bappert and Lynn Henning.

Several door prizes were given away during the evening with the grand prize, a 12 inch television set, won by Sarah Homant of St. Johns.

Lynn Henning, modeling for Rehmanns, was wearing the latest in Tuxedo rentals. His attire featured a black crushed velvet jacket with a black satin collar, lavender colored shirt and the latest, a butterfly style tie.

Mrs. Marilyn Brown and Mrs. Mary Crosby were narrators of this year's annual fashion show sponsored by the St. Joseph's Altar Society. The event was held in the school gym last Thursday.

Teresa Bappert, modeling fashions from MacKinnon and Sons, is ready for the winter months wearing a tow coat and bonded knit ski pants.

Modeling fashions from The Carol Ann Shop, Janet Sipkovsky steps front and center wearing a cranberry, bamboo and navy madras plaid A-line skirt and blazer jacket. Setting off her attire is a cranberry turtleneck.

THEY HEARD MORE complaints about the water situation on Garfield St. and passed a resolution for installation of curb and gutter on Oak St.

They gave the City Manager permission to apply for federal funds for purchase of additional recreational land near the city park. The city may be eligible for such a grant. They also passed a motion for the city attorney to purchase 14.2 acres, the land near the park, with an option to pay by cash or land contract.

They discussed various intersections around town and requested a traffic study be made. Of major concern was the intersection of Sturgis and Oakland, the scene of several injury accidents in recent weeks. A street light request for Hampshire and Lambert Streets was tabled until the Commission receives a city wide lighting report from Consumers Power Co.

least, he said.

Dale Levey of Levey Jewelers in Elsie also did not see much effect from the economic controls at the local level.

He said he had a few directives from various companies that had planned a price raise of from five to 10 per cent that could not go into effect because of the controls.

"In my operation, it hasn't bothered me since I wasn't going to raise my prices anyway," Levey said. He added that he purchases stock twice a year—spring and fall.

Since all items are frozen at the wholesale level, Levey said he made some extra purchases that he would normally have made next spring. "I could buy it now at a lower price instead," he added that the consumers would benefit on that type of purchase later on.

He noted that the price controls should have been put into effect earlier. "This wasn't a long enough period and there were no real controls and no means of enforcing them," he cited at least one business, in Owosso, where prices have risen at the retail level despite the freeze. "There have been violations, but there was no way of stopping them."

Boyce Wooley of Wooley's Five Cent to $1 Store said there was no noticeable change in his business pattern. But he wasn't positive about the future. "It may effect me in the future if they keep the controls on. Our prices have been maintained at the same level and there is not a noticeable change there."

He said he was in favor of controls now and after the freeze is dropped, but added he would "leave that up to them (the legislators)." He said he did not want to second guess any further economic control action that could affect local business.

It was unanimous that controls were needed and that they were needed sooner and should have lasted longer. But, outside of the auto dealerships, the controls have had little or no effect locally, with little effect in the future, according to the businessmen.

Warriors drop Redwings

By TIM YOUNKMAN

ST. JOHNS—Some days you just should have stayed in bed. It was that kind of day (or evening) for the St. Johns Redwings Friday night when they camp up against what was billed as a "weak" Waverly squad. The Warriors had only won once and lost three.

But Redwing blocking broke down early in the first quarter and the St. Johns squad set up in punt formation. The snap from center was low and the Warrior defenders raced in to block the punt. The ball went straight up and was snared by Waverly's Gary Lennon who ran the ball in 20 yards for a touchdown. Jon Miller, the Warrior halfback who was converted to quarterback last week, fired a strike to Greg Sellers for the conversion.

From that point on, there was no stopping the fired up warrior offense. After a series of downs was halted, St. Johns had to punt again. Steve Hewes then capped a Waverly drive with a 12 yard run to put the game away.

Hewes scored later on a three yard run and Chuck Shell added another to help blank the Redwings 26-0.

St. Johns could only roll up 91 total yards compared with the 275-yard total offense of the Warriors. The Redwings managed 41 yards on the ground and 50 in the air on five completions in 21 attempts. Waverly got most of its yardage on the ground, rushing for 263 yards. The Redwing defense managed to bottle up the Waverly passing attack as Miller completed only one of four passes for 12 yards.

"Our blocking broke down and after the blocked punt we were in the hole 8-0," Redwing Coach Ernie Becker said. "Then they scored again." Becker was upset with the missed blocking assignments and the breakdown at the line.

"We are going to work on the basics of blocking and tackling this week," Becker said.

The next Redwing opponent is Hastings and it will be another tough one for St. Johns. Hastings owns a 3-1 conference record after crushing Alma 21-0 Friday night. The Saxons are 3-1-1 overall.

"They are going to be real tough," Becker said. "They beat Waverly."

Becker added that outside the fundamentals, the Redwings were not intending to utilize "anything special."

The Redwing loss drops them into the cellar of the West Central Conference with an 0-3 league record and 1-4 overall. St. Johns is tied with Alma which also has an 0-3 league mark.

THIS IS THE WAY IT SHOULD BE

NOT AGAIN

A pretty good Redwing rush prevented Waverly quarterback Jon Miller from mounting much of a passing attack. When he did scenes like this took place as Redwings Gary Koenigs-knecht (61), Bruce Irish (71) and Bob Elliott (86) move in to lower the boom. In the background are Redwing John Makara (76) and Warrior Steve Hewes (12).

PEACE OF MIND

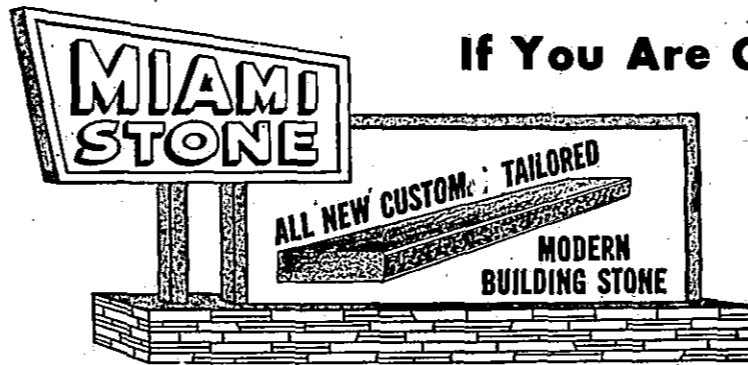

Save for a rainy day—those who do are apt to have the most sunshine in their lives.

Ken Schueller was able to complete this toss with excellent blocking. He completed five tosses for 50 yards in the Redwing loss to Waverly, 26-0.

Marauders ready for title defense - Corunna

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Co-Editor

OID-ELSIE-It was a "mild" night for Ovid-Elsie's Marauders Friday night. At least that was the way Line Coach Russ Pope described the O-E victory over Midland Bullock Creek, 14-6. He noted that his team looked as though they "were thinking about their big game next week with Corunna." Ovid-Elsie and Corunna are the only unbeaten teams remaining in the Mid-Michigan B Conference and their clash Friday at Marauder field could determine who will win the league title. The Marauders struck early against Midland to gain the lead.

On the first Bullock Creek offensive play of the night defensive back Bill Foran intercepted a pass and returned it to the Lancer 40 yard line. In seven plays the Marauders had a score as fullback Glen Bensinger scampered seven yards to the end zone. Foran booted his first of two extra points and O-E led 7-0. That was all of the first half scoring until a few seconds before the end of the second quarter. Bullock Creek was forced to punt and halfback Randy Byrnes hauled the ball down on his own five-yard-line. With an excellent wave of blocking, Byrnes dashed 95 yards for another touchdown, but the play was called back on a clipping penalty. Line coach Pope said Monday that "after viewing the game films numerous times, Coach Mark O'Donnell and his assistants still can't find the infraction on the play." The coaches indicated that the defense held the team's lead during the first half after turnovers halted the offensive efforts to add to the seven-point lead. The Lancers only managed 15 yards rushing during the first half. After a good kick return by Bensinger in the second half's opening minutes, Jeff Grant took a hand off, ran off his left tackle and down the sidelines for a Marauder touchdown. The excitement of Grant's touchdown was short-lived as Bullock Creek returned the following kickoff for a 95 yard touchdown run to bring the score to 14-6. O-E quarterback Tom Kirinovic was the leading rusher with 72 yards in eight carries and the scoring was augmented by Foran's kicking efforts. Foran has booted 10 straight points-after-touchdown this season. Junior lineman Lynn Webster led the defense with 13 tackles and sophomore Rob Nethaway added nine solo hits for the Marauders. "All the marbles will be at attack next Friday when Corunna comes to O-E," Pope said. "On paper, O-E looks like the winner, but on the field who knows?" He noted that the Marauders have scored 112 points and given up only 12, while Corunna has scored 90 and given up 40. A sidelight to the title clash will be the personal rivalry between the schools' coaches. O-E's O'Donnell has a career win mark of 113 victories and Corunna's Nick Anese has 110 to his credit. They are close friends off the field but both should be pulling out all the stops Friday to gather in a victory. The contest will feature Ovid-Elsie's Dad's Night which might give an edge to the Marauders, according to Pope. The O-E Little Marauders played the Bullock Creek JV's to a 6-6 tie. Tim Quine scored O-E's only touchdown to give them a 2-1-2 record for the season. The Mini-Marauders, Ovid-Elsie's frosh squad, ran wild again this week by crushing the Bullock Creek frosh 46-12. It was the third for O-E. Perry Munson and Paul Case each scored two TD's for the Marauders.

UP THE MIDDLE

Ovid-Elsie's Gary Groom (21) smashes up the middle for a short gain against Midland Bullock Creek. The Marauders topped the visitors 14-6.

FAR ENOUGH

The Bullock Creek Lancer running backs found daylight only briefly against the rugged Marauder defense. Here the O-E defenders are about to put an end to a five-yard jaunt by the Lancer halfback.

I THINK WE HAVE IT

It seems a certain bet that Ovid-Elsie recovered a Bullock Creek fumble. The Marauders grabbed the ball just as the Lancer offense had started a drive.

Peggy Dush is named cheer leader

LANSING - An Elsie girl, Peggy Dush, has been chosen as a varsity cheerleader for 1971-72 at the Michigan School for the Blind here. Peggy and other members of the squad returned to school a week early this fall to learn new cheers. They also attended a summer camp at Ferris State College. The cheerleading squad will be performing for American Education Week, Oct. 28, at the school open house. On Jan. 29 they will be competing against 11 other schools for the blind in Indiana at the annual school for the blind wrestling and cheerleading tournament.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dush of Elsie.

R. Conn named to MRA board

LANSING-A St. Johns Businessman has been named to the list of directors of the Michigan Retailers Association following their Oct. 5 meeting at Walnut Hills Country Club in Lansing. Appointed to a three year term was Robert Conn, of the E. F. Boron Company of St. Johns.

Cultivate the habit of thinking for yourself, always—individualism is the thing that makes our country great.

P-W Homecoming a success

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA—The P-W Pirates got back on the winning track Friday night as they dumped Portland St. Pat's 24-6 to please a sellout homecoming crowd.

St. Pat's scored first on a four-yard run by Dan Meyers. P-W had fumbled a punt on the 10 yard line and Meyers ran across on fourth down.

But the Pirates came right back as Roy Piggott slammed into the end zone on a two-yard run to cap a 52 yard drive. That was all the scoring in the first half.

In the third period, Mike Gross ended the deadlock when he went 11 yards to score. It capped a 42 yard sustained drive of five to six yards a play.

IN THE FINAL period, Dan Jones capped an 82-yard drive with a one yard plunge and Gross ran 53 yards for the final tally.

Little Pirates swamp Shamrocks for fifth win

PORTLAND—The Pewamo-Westphalia Little Pirates came to town last week to play football.

And that's what they did, with vengeance as they demolished the Portland St. Patrick JV's 38-6.

The JV regulars put the game on ice early by scoring 16 points in the first quarter and another 16 in the second period. Then the Pirate backup squad came in to hold the Shamrocks to only six points throughout the second half while adding six of their own to the 38-point total.

P-W's Gary Beachnau opened the scoring with a three-yard run early in the first quarter. The point-after-touchdown (PAT) was successful and P-W had an eight point lead.

The second TD of the period came on a 30-yard pass from Randy Walter to Dave Pung and the PAT was accomplished on a Walter pass to Dan May.

Beachnau combined with Gross was the leading rusher for the Pirates with 109 yards in 18 carries. Jones was second with 41 yards.

Coach Bill Marks cited Tom Fedewa, Chuck Bengel and Tom Thelen with an outstanding defensive game. Fedewa had seven solo tackles and eight assists while Bengel had three solos and 11 assists. Thelen intercepted two passes, had four solo tackles and six assists.

The second touchdown was set up by one of Thelen's interceptions.

THE VICTORY PUT the CMAC back into a four-way tie, DeWitt lost their first conference game Friday night and now it's P-W, the Panthers, Pottersville and Laingsburg head and head.

P-W had eight first downs,

201 yards rushing, 15 yards passing on two of eight attempts and two interceptions. St. Pat's had seven first downs, 28 yards rushing, 71 yards passing on six of 15 attempts.

Mike Fedewa, the leading rusher for the year, is out with a knee injury and he missed the St. Pat's game. Coach Marks said he expects Fedewa to return to action in about a week.

An open date in the P-W schedule will be filled Friday night when Armada comes to town. Armada is a class C school east of Flint with a 4-1 record. That's the same as P-W's record.

GAME TIME will be 7:30 instead of 8 p.m.

Vikings end Panther win streak 26-14

BY TIM YOUNGMAN
Co-Editor

POTTERVILLE—The opening kickoff was an evil omen to the DeWitt Panthers here Friday night as the Vikings' Bob Nemeth took the -kick 90 yards for a touchdown.

The entire first half, in fact, was a nightmare for Coach Tom Isanhart and his undefeated Panthers. The Vikings turned around with 4:34 left in the first quarter and drove down to the DeWitt goal line. Then quarterback Dean Peters dove over for the score. The successful point-after-touchdown (PAT) made the first quarter score 14-0.

The Panthers fought off several threats in the second period until Nemeth took a screen pass from Peters on a fake punt play and ran it in for a touchdown with 36 seconds remaining in the half. That put it out of reach.

DeWitt fought back in the third quarter when quarterback Ron Wilcox dashed nine yards for a score with 4:30 remaining. His pass to Tom Ashley added the two extra points.

With only one minute gone in the fourth period, Wilcox capped a drive with a one-yard plunge into the end zone. The score was set up by a 30 yard run by Mike Moody who was the Panther workhorse Friday night. He carried the ball 11 times for 111 yards.

The final Viking score came with 9:44 to go in the game when Peters unleashed a 57-yard bomb to Nemeth and a touchdown. The 26-14 margin stood up and the Panthers had suffered their first league loss in more than two years.

To further heighten the anxieties of the Panther coach, Moody was having some breathing problems and he may be lost to DeWitt for some time, pending the results of tests conducted this week at a Lansing hospital.

The Panthers put on a good show despite the loss, picking up 236 yards rushing and 41 passing while Pottersville had 108 on the ground and 140 via the airways.

"When they ran the kickoff back we missed blocks and tackles," lamented Isanhart. He was particularly upset about the missed tackles on the fake punt. He said the 57 yard bomb had caught his defenders in a one-on-one situation.

He blamed much of the poor point production on penalties. "We had eight motion penalties. With the plays that were called back because of penalties we would have had well over 300 yards."

Tom Ashley and Wilcox each added their fifth interception to the season's record in the game. He cited the play of Chuck Berkimer on defense as a standout performance. "But we are not going to overlook them. You never know. Even though they also lost to Pottersville, they played a better ballgame against them than we did."

The game is slated to start at 8 p.m. at the DeWitt field.

Scoring by quarters:
DeWitt 0 0 8 6—14
Pottersville 14 6 0 6—26

Wolfpack devours Eagles

RUN FOR YOUR LIFE

This Fowler Eagle is trying to outfly the Laingsburg Wolfpack, which is in hot pursuit. The Wolfpack won 46-6. PHOTO BY BILL BERTRAM

FOWLER—When it rains, it pours. At least that's the way the Fowler football team must have felt Friday night. It rained footballs and touchdowns as Laingsburg bowled over the Eagles 46-6 in a CMAC contest here.

The loss leaves the Eagles with a 1-4 season record and a 0-13 record in the conference.

Fowler's lone score of the night came on a one yard quarterback sneak by Scott Spicer. Bill Feldpausch set up the score when he blocked a Laingsburg punt on the eight yard line.

LAINGSBURG SCORED on big plays. There was a 40 and a 60 yard run, a 27 yard pass, a 40 yard punt return and an 83 yard pass interception and a 70-yard run.

The PAT scoring came on three runs and two passes.

The Eagles had more first downs than Laingsburg, picking up 12 to their six. But Laingsburg had 188 yards on the ground and 116 through the air on five of 12 pass attempts and they intercepted five Fowler passes.

The Eagles had 67 yards on the ground with Larry Halfmann getting 50 of those yards, and 61 through the air. Scott Spicer hit on seven of 21 pass attempts. The Eagles fumbled three times, losing two of them.

RON GOETSCHY was the leading rusher for the Wolfpack as he picked up 149 yards and scored three touchdowns and two PAT's. Two of the touchdowns came on 40 and 60-yard runs and the third on a 27 yard pass from Jack Hunt.

Chuck Ordway scored on the 40 yard punt return and also picked up one PAT on a Hunt pass. He also intercepted a Spicer pass and went 83 yards for the score.

Randy Wrobel scored on a 70 yard pass from Hunt and also on a PAT pass from Hunt.

Dan Doyle scored the other PAT on a run.

AT THE END of the first period, the Wolfpack led 16-0. Fowler scored six in the second quarter and the Wolfpack scored eight. Laingsburg scored their final 22 points in the third quarter.

Fowler will journey to DeWitt Friday night for another CMAC league game. Starting time will be 8 p.m.

EAGLE GIRL CAGERS

Fowler girls open season

By BETH FOX
Fowler High School

The girls' basketball season will begin this Wednesday, October 20, at Fowler High School. We are in the Capital City Area League. Our games will begin October 20 and will be ending December 15. The games are held every Wednesday night at 6:30.

Members of the varsity team are: Jan Thelen, Ann Klein, Janet Rademacher, Mary Lou Fox, Karen Brown, Beth Fox, all seniors. Junior members are Lynn Schmitt, Jane Pung, Marilyn Feldpausch and Reenie McKean.

TEAMS THAT WE will be playing are: Lansing Catholic Central, Holt, Bath, Haslet, Potterville, Williamston, Laingsburg, Leslie and DeWitt. At the end of the season a banquet will be held in honor of all the league teams. At this banquet a first and second team will be announced and a trophy will be given to the first place varsity and junior varsity teams.

The girls have been practicing since early September at Fowler and we all hope they do real well throughout the season.

Girl grid game

FOWLER—There will be a powderpuff football game Saturday night at the Eagle Field sponsored by the Varsity Club beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The game will be for the traditional school championship and pit a team composed of the senior and freshman girls against a team of girls from the junior and sophomore classes.

All football fans are invited to attend.

Installation of new officers for Radiant Chapter No. 79, Order of the Eastern Star, will take place Saturday evening, Oct. 23, in the Masonic Temple at St. Johns, at 8 p.m. The installation service is open to the public.

Helen Cressman, Worthy Matron for the past year, will be succeeded by Geraldine Workman, while Mark Eaton will continue as Worthy Patron. Arlene Hoag will be installed as Associate Matron, with Van Hoag going in as Associate Patron.

Dorothy Steves and Lloyd Atkinson continue as Secretary and Treasurer, respectively. Katherine Williams will become Conductress, and Jean DeVore, Associate Conductress. Imogene Huer will be installed as Marshal.

The Points of the Star will be as follows: Adah, Dorothy Welsh; Ruth, Betty Henry; Jean, Jean Green; Martha, Betty Burk; Electa, Frances Luther. Ruth Mehney will become Warder, and John Williams, Sentinel. The position of Chaplain will be filled by Dorothy Cressman, while Mildred Countryman will be installed as Organist.

The installing officer for the ceremony will be Helen Hoag, a past Worthy Matron of Radiant Chapter and a former Committeewoman of the Grand Chapter of Michigan. Esther Bradley, past Worthy Matron of the local chapter, will serve as Installing Marshal, while Neva Pope, also past Worthy Matron, will be installing Organist. Violet Pope will be installing chaplain. Daniel G. Bross will be soloist for the service, singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "The 23rd Psalm" by Malotte, and "The Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi."

An Honor Guard for the festivities will be composed of members of St. Johns Commandery No. 24, Knights Templar, and Chapter No. 21, Order of Rainbow. Refreshments will be served, with Mr. and Mrs. James Spousta acting as host and hostess.

The United States Postal Service says mail volume during fiscal 1971 is expected to total 86 billion pieces. How much mail is that? Well, if you started at the birth of Christ to sort one piece per second, you still wouldn't be done sorting the 86 billion pieces. (You'd also be old and tired.)

BATH HOMECOMING QUEEN

These lovely young ladies were named candidates last week for the honor of being the 1971 Bath High School Homecoming Queen. From left, they are Rose Jensen, Marilyn Verette, Rosie Lehmann and Debbie Townsend. The winner, will be chosen Friday night during the homecoming football game between Bath and Williamston.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

Terry Speer, Rollin Dunkel and Gene Dunkel look over the selection of Boa Ski and Johnson snowmobiles in the newly expanded Dunkel Snowmobile showroom. Their 2nd annual Open House is scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Bees smash Stockbridge, lead league

STOCKBRIDGE - The highly rated and unbeaten Stockbridge Panthers, with their prep whiz Jesse Campbell, were stopped cold Friday night by a fired up Bath defense and the offense went on to capture a 38-6 victory and undisputed lead in the Ingham County League.

The potent Bee offense rolled up 396 total yards and six touchdowns while the rugged defensive squad held the Panthers to 130 total yards and one touchdown.

The win leaves Bath alone in the Ingham County League lead with a 4-0 record. Perry and Fowlerville are in second with 3-0-1 records.

Bath's Joe Mitchell started the scoring fever with a 35 yard run in the first quarter. That performance was matched minutes later when Paul Stoll dropped back and hit Fritz Ordway with a 50-yard touchdown pass.

The Bees didn't give the Stockbridge defense much of a breather when they came back with another scoring drive, capped by a quarterback sneak by Stoll that netted 20 yards and six points. Stoll had another play in mind, according to Coach Ron Skorich. But when the senior quarterback looked over the unusual Panther defense, he called an audible at the line and kept the ball himself.

Stoll then passed to Brad Schabally for the PAT.

The next Bath score came after a Bee drive bogged down, Ordway went back to punt but when he got the ball he dashed 46 yards for the touchdown.

The final score of the half came when Stoll capped another drive with a one yard quarterback sneak.

In the fourth quarter Jeff Smith ran for three yards and the final Bath score.

Stockbridge got on the board late in the fourth quarter when Charles Shivers ran 40 yards for a touchdown.

Skorich noted that at halftime the Bees had totally handcuffed Stockbridge with a 32-0 lead and had held the once-potent Panther offense to only eight total yards.

Skorich cited the play of Mitchell, Ordway, Randy Markham and Larry Feguer on defense as they rolled up a combined total of 40 solo tackles.

"They all played fabulously," Skorich said. "Everything went right. They were ready for the game and were really fired up."

The coach said the defense put a lot of pressure on the Stockbridge quarterback by utilizing a rushing four and five man line. The Panthers tried to break out of that cage with passes, but only managed to complete five of 15 for 63 yards. They also tried to run the quarterback option, but the play of Mitchell and Henry forced the runners back into the line. "They did a tremendous job," Skorich said.

The Bees will challenge the Williamston Hornets Friday night for the annual homecoming game. And Skorich is optimistic.

"If our kids play the way they are capable of we will win, Williamston has fast backs and a big offensive line, but it looks good for us if we play well."

Last year, Bath squeaked past Williamston 18-14, but Bath fans aren't anticipating a low scoring cliff-hanger like that this time. They saw what the Bees did to Stockbridge and are looking for more of the same—especially for a homecoming tilt.

Scoring by quarters: Bath 12 20 0 6-38; Stockbridge 0 0 0 6-6.

ANNUAL STATISTICAL AND FINANCIAL REPORT

St. Johns Public Schools of Clinton and Gratiot Counties

The school year of 1970-71 saw a slight decrease in the rate of student growth in the St. Johns Public Schools. The total enrollment was 4167 students, which was 126 students more than the 1969-70 year. This represented the smallest increase in student growth in the past five years.

For the 1970-71 year the schools were operated with a tax levy of 14.5 mills voted and 8 mills allocated, 7 mills were levied for the retirement of the 1966 debt.

During the year three unscheduled events contributed to the operating deficit of $121,481 which existed at the end of the fiscal year. The first was the Supreme Court Decision requiring schools to furnish free to students all textbooks and supplies. The second was the November defeat of Parochialism which caused the 7th and 8th grades at St. Joseph School to transfer to Rodney B. Wilson Junior High on January 4, 1971. Since this was long after the official closing day, there was no State Aid for these students. However, three additional teachers were hired to teach them.

The third event was the arbitrary reduction of 2% of State Aid in March because of the financial condition of the State.

For the year 1970-71 the minimum Teachers Salary was $7500 for a beginning teacher with a B.A. Degree while the maximum salary was $12,750 for a teacher with an M.A. Degree and 11 years of experience. The median salary was $9950.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

Are you ready? Alright . . . Mrs. Gale Anderson, Douglas Knight, Eleanor Gallen, Randy Henry, Terry Thelen, Tim Thelen, Frank Simon, Dan Ruble, Don Isbell, Kathy Warner, Duane Sperry, Beulah Dick, Tom Fedewa, Bob Boettger, John Lemmon, Keith Jolly, Ellen Jolly, Mike Brown, Bob Mitchell, Bonnie Mitchell, Jeff Thelen, John DeWitt, another Terry Thelen . . . and Dan Ritter have something in common.

They all had two wrong in the County News' Football Contest. The winner . . . Dan Ritter with a tie-breaking point estimate of 53 points. We've tried to reach Dan to tell him he has $20.00 waiting for him at the News' office but have been unsuccessful. Why don't you tell him.

ROGER MOORE OF MOORE OIL told us the other day his pretty wife is under the weather. She might not be well enough to go to Jamaica with him. Rog won an all-expense trip to the sunny climes by being the leading Zephyr dealer in a recent Naphsol Refinery promotion. The well earned vacation starts Friday for eight days . . . and there's absolutely no truth to the rumor that Rox is feeding Alice "get-stick" pills so he can go alone.

This weekend will be the last one for the Family Drive-In Theater. Following the last show Sunday, the Family will close for the winter. The final features are the Baby Sitter and Weekend with the Baby Sitter. Both are R rated. And both lead me to believe I should select our baby sitters . . . not the Big M. DUNKEL SNOWMOBILES have more than doubled their display area. Stop over during their annual Open House this Friday, Saturday and Sunday and see the '72 Boa Ski and Johnson snowmobiles. Be sure and register for the free snowmobile suit. Nothing to buy and they'll even supply you with coffee and donuts.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Upton of St. Johns were a recent winner. They will be spending a weekend at Fonro Lodge near Mio snowmobiling to their heart's content courtesy of Beck and Hyde Farmarina. The Farmarina will hold three more drawings, the 15th of each month and again all you have to do is register. I really enjoy the Detroit Zoo. The day I was married, I spent the morning wandering around the enclosures pondering my sanity.

Every year we go two or three times. We did it again this past weekend. And it was beautiful. The many flowers are still in bloom, the trees and shrubs are in color and the animals are friskier this time of year. The Preville family took a vote and we decided that this is the very finest time of year to visit.

ST. JOHNS—The St. Johns Art Guild held their annual organizational meeting Wednesday Oct. 6 at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School.

The new president for 1971-72 is Arlene Lounds, while Margaret Hart was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The Guild will feature guest artists this year on a one night basis and they will also sponsor an eight-week instruction class. New members are welcome, with dues set at $2 for the year and the membership entitles a member to work on the spring art show.

Interested persons may join by attending the weekly meetings Wednesday nights at Rodney B. in the art room.

NIDA DUNHAM WILL teach the art course beginning Oct. 20. Interested persons may call Arlene Lounds, 224-7807 or Gladys Schueller, 224-3066 for further information.

The course is suited for beginners as well as artists. New persons may bring their art equipment to the first lesson at the school Oct. 20 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Calvin Caesar of 110 Lewis St. of St. Johns was hostess to a baby shower honoring Mrs. Gale VanBurger, Sunday, Oct. 10.

Nineteen guests were present for the shower and bingo was played. A luncheon was served and Mrs. Gale VanBurger opened her gifts.

Speedway.
The only sports snowmobile of its kind made in the U.S.A.

Speedway. Completely new. It's unlike anything on the market. It's as snowmobile as a snowmobile can be. But it's more. It's a snowmobile built in the tradition of Ferrari, Corvette and Jaguar. A sports machine with flair and integrity. In design. In engineering. In performance.

Speedway. America's first true sport snowmobile. It's a snowmobile with decidedly crisp, clean, and functional lines. Its styling and pacesetting engineering share as much design finesse with Italy as with California.

As you'd expect from a thoroughbred, you get fiscal integrity. You get a speedometer and tachometer. Standard. A fuel gauge. Standard. Dual sprocket track drive. Standard. Ram-air induction hood with racing lock pins. Standard. Slider suspension. Standard. Shock absorber ski suspension. Standard. There's even an adjustable thumb/hand throttle control. You guessed it. Standard.

The slide rail suspension, plus the quad-leaf/shock absorber ski suspension means agility. The Speedway carves through slaloms like clay and comes out as straight as a Trevino tee shot. Power abounds throughout the three model line but dyed-in-the-wool competitors will really respond to the nearly limitless power in the Speedway 650. Fantastic!

Now if all this doesn't trigger a flow of adrenalin, maybe you'd better look over the entire 3 model line. 340, 440, and 650. Buy any other snowmobile and all you get is today's snowmobile. Buy a Speedway and you get a piece of tomorrow.

ST. JOHNS - The Clinton County Soil Conservation District Air Tour had 120 people take the tour Saturday, Oct. 16. The District directors appreciated having the use of Charles Dickinson's Airport for the day. Robert Dennis, Max Miller, and Willard Cable flew for the tour, carrying three passengers at a time.

The planes were arranged by Ray Wheeler of Capital City Aviation, Lansing.

Rep. R. Douglas Trezise (R-Owosso) flew over all of the watersheds with Stanley Baird, chairman of the district, and Robert Moore, director.

Lloyd B. Campbell, district conservationist, Orville Beachler, soil conservation technician, Donald Halvorsen, construction engineer for the Maple River Watershed, S.C.S., and Gerald Wilcox, state department of agriculture flew over the Maple River Watershed.

Many people thought the week's delay added to the beauty of the fall colors and hope the District will have another Air Tour.

Women hear Desprez

ST. JOHNS—Fifty-five women and one man, all employees of Clinton National Bank, gathered for a pot-luck dinner and social hour last week on the bank's third floor in what might be termed a gathering of the women of the CNB&T clan.

The lone male in the crowd was vice president Gayle Desprez who addressed the ladies with remarks on Clinton National operations and personnel policies. A second featured speaker was Joan Grigsby, assistant vice president of the Women's Division of Union Bank and Trust Co. of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Grigsby told the Clinton National women of her group's activities at the Grand Rapids bank and outlined statistics on the positions women hold in the U.S. economy.

General chairman for the event was Helen Studer. Other CNB&T employees serving on various committees were Helen Fowler, Gerry Workman, Roma Hamer, Betty Allen, Virginia Shawnee, Irene Speck, Susan Keener and Shar Walker.

Also assisting were Shirley Lake, Mary Holt, Jeanette Argersinger, Jean Pardike, Carolyn Coffman, Jack Holcomb, Patti Henning, Jackie Pline and Marilyn Rossow.

MRS. STUDER expressed plans for future gatherings for CNB&T women.

Births

VINCENT—A girl, Sally Jo, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vincent of R-1, Ovid Oct. 6 at Clinton Memorial Hospital. She weighed 5 pounds, 10 ounces. The baby has two brothers and one sister. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hudson and Vera Vincent. The mother is the former Alice Hudson.

ST. JOHNS United Methodist Church will host a Lay Witness Mission Nov. 5-7. Preparation for this special venture includes four Sunday evening Prayer Fellowships in October led by Mrs. S. R. Russell, John Furry, J. D. Robinson and Robert Sirrine, climaxed by a 24 hour prayer vigil beginning Thursday noon, Nov. 4 in the Chapel of the church.

Laymen from various communities including churches in Illinois, and Kalamazoo, Michigan will lead the participation in this mission.

The public is invited to join in this fellowship at any time. The program includes:

Fri. evening, Nov. 5, 7:00 p.m. General Session at the church followed by small groups and afterward a singspiration.

Sat. a.m., 10:00 Coffees at homes. Contact Mrs. Walter Cole, Phone 224-7523 for locations.

Sat. evening, 7:00 p.m. General Session at the church followed by small groups and singspiration.

Sun. morning 9:30 Sunday School, 11:00 Church Service under direction of visiting laymen.

Open Letter

Nov. 11 - The annual Congregational Church bazaar will be held featuring a luncheon served from 11:30 to 1 p.m., and a dinner in the evening from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Baked goods, rugs and needlework, boutique items, Christmas decorations and many other articles will be on sale. Free babysitting will be provided during the dinner hours for those attending.

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

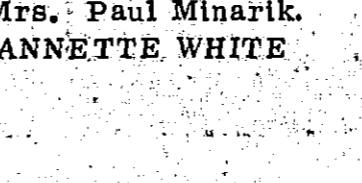

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Rosanne Stump weds Roger Lee Schafer

MR. AND MRS. ROGER LEE SCHAFER

PEWAMO — Rosanne Louise Stump became the bride of Roger Lee Schafer Saturday, Oct. 9 in a 2 p.m. ceremony performed in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Rev. William J. Koontz, officiated at the double ring service before an altar decorated with yellow gladiolus, orange mums and brown star flowers.

Organist for the ceremony was Mrs. Ernest Schafer and music for the service was sung by the church choir.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. McCorkle of Pewamo and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schafer of Westphalia.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, chose an empire-style gown with a detachable train, long sleeves with lace cuffs and a mandarin style collar. The gown was trimmed with pearls and edged with soft lace. A Juliet cap trimmed with a crown of beads and lace, secured her shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses, orange mums, baby breath and brown star flowers with long orange and brown streamers.

Colleen Schafer of Pewamo was maid of honor and assisting as bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Miller of California, sister of the bride, Linda Stump of Pewamo, sister of the bride, Brenda Schafer of Westphalia, sister of the groom and Connie Theis of Pewamo. The attendants wore empire-style gowns in fall colors of yellow, orange and brown in a floral design. A wide ruffe edged the hemline of the skirt. They wore starflower headpieces and carried bouquets of yellow and orange mums with brown star flowers and dark brown ribbon streamers.

John Schafer, of Westphalia, brother of the groom, was best man and assisting as groomsmen were Donald Stump of Pewamo, brother of the bride, Rex Kramer of Pewamo, Bill Freund of Pewamo and Randy Schafer of Westphalia, brother of the groom.

The couple greeted 600 guests at the reception which was held in St. Mary's Social Hall in Westphalia at 5 p.m.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were Mrs. Jacob Cook of Pewamo and Mrs. Adam Schafer of Westphalia, grandmothers of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to the Bahamas the couple will make their home in Lansing.

The couple are both graduates of Pewamo-Westphalia High School.

Mrs. K.L. Jones hosts Morning Musicale

ST. JOHNS(e)—St. Johns Morning Musicale met Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. K. L. Jones in Greenbush Township, with 25 in attendance. Following the year's program theme of "Holidays", the morning's program was in observance of Columbus Day.

Mrs. Lawrence Fish gave highlights of the life of Christopher Columbus, pausing from time to time in her narration for a musical number. "Santa Lucia", an Italian folk song from the Naples area, was presented as an example of the kind of music Columbus might have heard as he played around the harbor of Genoa as a boy. It was sung by Mrs. Paul Martis Jr., Mrs. Raymond Torpey, Mrs. Dick Jacoby and Mrs. Frederick Lewis, accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Lundy.

Mrs. H. M. Bross demonstrated and discussed ecclesiastical modes, explaining that modal music was commonly used in church services during Columbus' early life. As an example of polyphonic church music which came into use late in the 15th century, the Choral Ensemble sang "Jesu, Rex Admirabilis" by Giovanni Palestrina, under the direction of Mrs. Dean Stork with accompaniment by Mrs. Lundy. The text was sung in both Latin and English.

Exemplifying the kind of music Columbus might hear today, if he were to return to the islands he discovered, the Ensemble sang the calypso song, "Yellow Bird."

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Howard Woodbury, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. George H. Brooks, state chairman of the Committee on International Music Relations, gave a report on work to be done in this category.

Guests of the club were Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Carrol Lee. New members in attendance for the first time were Mrs. Ronald Duguay and Mrs. Ray Piggott.

Diane L. Simon now Mrs. Eldred Stump

WESTPHALIA — Baskets of white gladiolus and lavender mums decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church for the Saturday, Oct. 16 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Diane Loretta Simon and Eldred Harold Stump, Rev. James Schmitt performed the double ring 1 p.m. ceremony and organist was Mrs. Daniel Spitzley.

MRS. ELDRED HAROLD STUMP

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florian C. Simon of R-1, Pewamo and the groom is the son of Mrs. Laura Stump of 14149 Elm Street, Westphalia and the late Herbert Stump. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an empire-style gown of billowy silk organza with a built-in train. The bodice, caps and cuffs of the full sleeves were accented with re-embroidered Venice lace. A face-framing clip headpiece of Venice lace and hand rolled organza petal flowers secured her chapel-length veil and she carried a long bouquet of red sweetheart roses, white carnations, Fuji mums, white baby breath and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Richard Geller, of Lansing, was matron of honor and assisting as bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Cassell of Westphalia and Therese Thelen, Pewamo. Barbara Schmitt of Westphalia was junior bridesmaid and Jill Cassell, Westphalia, was flower girl. The attendants were attired in gowns of royal purple chiffon topped with lilac satin on the deep set yoke and ruffled necked bodice. The gown featured full Bishop sleeves, small purple buttons and a natural waistline. They wore a headpiece fashioned with a purple picot taffeta bow and streamers and carried lavender carnations, white mums, light pink baby breath and lavender streamers.

Best man was Kenneth Stump, Westphalia, and serving as groomsmen were Gary Thelen and Kenneth Simon, both of Westphalia. William Schmitt of Westphalia was ring bearer. Seating the guests were ushers, Eugene Stump, St. Johns, and Bernard Simon, Westphalia.

A 5 p.m. reception was held in St. Mary's Hall for 400 guests. Following a wedding trip to Florida, the new Mr. and Mrs. Stump will make their home at 427 Seymour, Apt. 104, Lansing. The couple are both graduates of P ewamo - Westphalia High School.

Gladys Fedewa now Mrs. Larry Tiedt

ST. JOHNS — Rev. William Hankerd performed the double ring Sept. 17 ceremony uniting in marriage Gladys Ann Fedewa and Larry Michael Tiedt. The altar of St. Joseph's Catholic Church was decorated with white gladiolus and purple asters for the 7 p.m. service.

Organist was Mrs. Ray Schneider and Shella and Sheryl Pulliam sang wedding selections. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Fedewa of 2087 East Price Road, St. Johns and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Tiedt of 404 Meadowview Drive, St. Johns.

The bride and groom were each escorted to the altar by their parents.

The bride chose a gown of white silk organza styled with a high neckline, long Bishop sleeves, an A-line skirt and a detachable train. The bodice and front of the skirt were accented with a princess-style panel of Chantilly lace and motifs of lace trimmed the sleeves and train. A ruffle edged the neckline and sleeves. Her headband headpiece of brocaded lace secured her chapel-length veil and triple tiered elbow-length illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, pink miniature carnations and white gladiolus florets.

Maid of honor was Joyce Fedewa of St. Johns, sister of the bride and matron of honor was Mrs. Diane Harper of Florida, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Judy Hyde of St. Johns, sister of the groom, Mrs. Jacqueline Billzard of Brideman, friend of the bride, and Patricia Findlay of St. Johns, friend of the bride. Flower girl was Theresa Hyde of St. Johns, niece of the groom.

The attendants wore purple chiffon over taffeta empire-style gowns with long sleeves featuring a lavender satin yoke trimmed with purple satin buttons and a lavender ruffled neckline. The flower girl was attired in a long lavender gown of chiffon over taffeta with purple and white embroidery on the bodice. They carried colonial bouquets of lavender pompons, pink miniature carnations and purple star flowers and wore ribbon and flower headpieces.

William Eldridge of Fowler, cousin of the groom, was best man and assisting as groomsmen were Allen Tiedt of St. Johns, brother of the groom, Douglas Billzard of Bridgeman, friend of the groom, John Engler of Mt. Pleasant, friend of the groom, and Thomas Wilson of DeWitt, friend of the groom. Ring bearer was Bruce Fedewa, brother of the bride and seating the guests were ushers, Gary Hyde, brother-in-law of the groom, and Wayne Fedewa, brother of the bride.

An 8 p.m. reception was held in the social hall of St. Joseph's Church 325 guests.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Fedewa of Westphalia, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Fred C. Tiedt of Fowler, grandmother of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to Canada the couple will make their home in Muskegon.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School and a 1971 graduate of Lansing Community College.

The groom, a 1966 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, is a 1970 graduate of Michigan State University.

Federal-Mogul

24 years of production here

By TOM DEWITT
Co-Editor

ST. JOHNS—There isn't an American car on the road today that isn't running down the high-a long way since the decision to manufacture babbitt lined steel-backed bearings was made by Federal-Mogul in 1945. The company purchased a 25,000 square foot dirt floor brick

There were 34 employees who began work in 1947, some 24 years ago. And they were, for the most part, local people. Today Federal-Mogul is the largest single employer in St. Johns and at the present time there are approximately 486 persons employed at the plant. Added space has been provided by a series of additions, culminating in the one completed in 1965 which doubled floor space to the current 240,000 square feet.

The original main product of the St. Johns Plant, a complete line of sleeve bearings, is being phased out at the present time. However, other bi-metal products such as bushings, thrust washers and steel spacers, are being turned out daily by the millions.

IN MANUFACTURING connecting rod bearings, the plant was instrumental in developing an entirely new concept by which locking lips, holes, and notches were punched and the chamfers coined on the ends of the bearing during blanking and coining, eliminating several secondary operations.

In full round bushings, the plant produces items that range in diameters from .375" to 11.100". Their bushings are made on multi-station progressive dies, which have the capabilities of producing bushings that have coined grooves, holes, projections and other configurations and design specifications required by the customers.

The dies are designed by the plant's internal engineering department and are the product of many years of development and refinement. Should a customer have a need for new design thrust washer, the plant has the ability to produce any configuration you desire, through the use of progressive multi-station tooling. They can make washers having tangs, coined grooves or contoured thrust surfaces.

THE PLANT IS NOTED for its pressroom which consists of basically high speed double crank Minster presses ranging in tonnage from 100 to 400 tons.

A new heat treatment process has recently been added to provide additional capacity for specialty stampings and specific customer requirements. The first part of this story has dealt with the history of the Federal-Mogul Plant and its capabilities. Next week, Plant Manager John A. Fox will discuss the future, including re-alignment of the present plant operations and new products for the future.

The St. Johns plant in 1947 way without at least one part of it being made right here in St. Johns.

If that sounds to you like some pretty far out statement of localism made by some over zealous chamber of commerce member, then you are wrong.

American-made cars today run with parts made right here in St. Johns at the nearly today of a century old Federal-Mogul Manufacturing Plant.

The St. Johns Plant has come building formerly occupied by the St. Johns Portable Building Co., manufacturer of bolt-together houses.

EXTENSIVE REMODELING was begun in 1946. It included poured concrete floors, a new heating plant and modern office space where a former lumber storage shed had stood. When the work was completed later that year, the old building was hardly recognizable.

WITH THE EXCEPTION of raw materials, such as steel, the plant is entirely self-sufficient, with the capabilities of producing, both for its internal consumption and outside sales, a complete line of all of the Federal-Mogul developed bi-metal products, made through strip manufacturing.

In strip manufacturing, the St. Johns plant helped pioneer the development of the aluminum strip in different alloys and the aluminum bonding line has the capabilities of pressure bonding all of these alloys.

Kermit Hart named ABG operations head

SOUTHFIELD—Kermit M. Hart, former manager of the St. Johns Federal-Mogul Plant, has been named operations manager of a combined operation known as the Antifriction Bearing Group. The promotion was effective Oct. 13.

Hart was the former general manager of the BCA Division, a position he assumed in 1968. On Oct. 12, Thomas F. Russell, executive vice president of the corporation here announced the combining of the Bower Roller Bearing Division and the BCA Ball Bearing Division into the Antifriction Bearing Group.

Herbert H. Kietzer, whom Hart replaced as BCA head in 1968, was named group manager. Hart was manager of the St. Johns Federal-Mogul Plant in 1958 moving in 1965 to Detroit where he was responsible for manufacturing operations at five of the division's plants.

VICE PRESIDENT RUSSELL listed a number of advantages in joining these two similar operations.

"BY COMBINING such similar functions," Russell said, "Federal-Mogul will greatly increase efficiencies in terms of engineering, manufacturing, sales and marketing operations. Most important, we will substantially improve services to our many important customers in the automotive, truck, off-the-highway, construction and farm equipment industries. Through this streamlining process, Federal-Mogul creates a stronger production, engineering and sales force that will add to future economies. The merger of ball and roller bearing operations follows the merger in July, 1969, of BCA's and Bower's antifriction bearing research activities in Ann Arbor.

"RESULTS HAVE SHOWN that we have provided expanded research support for our customers through the diversified engineering talent made available in the combined laboratories," Russell said. "Immediate benefits were realized in particular by design engineers and quality assurance engineers. We expect to see similar results in our newly combined manufacturing and sales operations."

Farm Bureau members elect new officers at annual conference

ST. JOHNS—Lee Ormston, director representing Ovid-Victor townships, presided over the 52nd Annual meeting of the Clinton County Farm Bureau held Tuesday at Smith Hall.

Ormston has served as Farm Bureau President for three years and will retire at the organizational meeting set for Tuesday.

Two new directors were elected at the meeting, Ronald Miller, Ovid township who will replace Ormston and Eugene Thelen of Bengal township who replaces Jim Becker. Re-elected to three-year terms were Fran Motz, Director at Large and Lewis Lonier, representing Watertown-Eagle district.

A record crowd of over 300 members and guests were in attendance at the dinner-business session where such items of business as policy resolutions, approval of delegates to state annual meeting and awards were presented to the members.

A new Farm Bureau Queen was selected to represent the county during the coming year. Miss Mary Black of Bath township will compete for state honors at Grand Rapids on November 8.

Special guests introduced were Bob Dittmer, W.R.B.J. radio, Art

Romig, St. Johns, Cooperative, Bill Fillwoch, Farmers Petroleum, Stuart Watt, St. Johns Cooperative, Farm Bureau Insurance Agents, Leon Feldpausch, Mark Simmon, Mike Kowatch, Ron Motz and Bill Maher.

Mrs. Albert Schaefer a member of the Citizenship Committee introduced the winners of the Citizenship Seminar scholarships, Michele Lenon and Kevin Hayes of St. Johns and Tom Morris of Grand Ledge.

They were presented with certificates and books, Larry Sprague, Vo-Ag teacher at Ovid-

"Bring on the food" seems to be the intent of these Farm Bureau members and guests during the annual dinner-meeting.

This happy group displays a centerpiece they decorated for the centerpiece contest. They are from the Friendly Fringe Farmers organization.

Elsie High School and four members of the Ovid-Elsie F.F.A. were introduced and presented with a certificate from Farm Bureau for their participation in an Environmental Project. They all received pocket watches as mementos of the occasion.

Policy resolutions held the spotlight during the evening and received much support from the membership. Such issues as welfare increases, tree books in schools, pollution laws, Reorganization of School Districts, equality of educational opportunity and land assessment were considered and the membership passed strong resolutions concerning them all.

A vote of thanks was given in the form of a resolution to the 4-H clubs of Clinton county for their work in trash pick-up, glass collection and junk car clean up programs. The members paid tribute to the membership team headed by Earl Barks for a successful year.

They also took action to support the drive for additional doctors in Clinton County both by assistance in any way possible and in cash donations. Money for this is to be donated through the Farm Bureau office as coming from Farm Bureau members. A resolution against two bills now in the senate and house which would establish the so-called "Home Rule" and take from most county officials much of their authority without a vote of the people was presented and was adopted with orders that it be delivered immediately to Chr. Milton Zaagman of the Senate Committee on Municipalities.

Annual reports and talks concerning State Farm Bureau affairs were given by David Morris District No. 5 Director and Kenn Wimmer, Farm Bureau Regional Representative. Wimmer used yards of wide adding machine tape to list all of the benefits of belonging to Farm Bureau.

Entertainment at the meeting was presented by Paul Witgen who sang several numbers. His accompanist was Mrs. Duane Davis.

The members approved a list of delegates to state annual meeting which included Gerald Gove, Maurice Johnson, Robert Reese, Jr., Roy Sanborn, Leon Schumaker, Gerald Starling, Elmer Swagart, Alfred Thelen, Marvin Thelen, and Madison Wyrick all nominated by their respective Community Groups. Clinton County is entitled to 12 delegates and will include six directors and six of the above named list, the remaining to be alternates.

Awards were given to Community Groups for 100 per cent membership maintenance as follows Country Cousins, Clinton Pioneers, Country Neighbors, Friendly Farmers, Friendly Fringe Farmers, Looking Glass Valley, Maple Valley, Prairie, Parker Center, Section Corners, Sleepy Hollow and Young Pioneers.

Table decoration winners were Happy Hix and Loyal Neighbors for originality and Jason Center and Prairie for beauty. Needlecraft contest winners were Mrs. Claudia Conley, Miss Karen Tolles and Mrs. Albert Schaefer. Mrs. Schaefer also won the grand prize. All winners will take their needwork to the State Farm Bureau meeting. Door prize winners were Mrs. James Becker, LaVern Lerg, June Reese, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peck.

Al is among the area's most ardent supporters but his efforts are usually outside membership roles and are completed behind the scenes. Hardly a community project of any mention has not been furthered by Al's assistance in some manner or form. His restaurant business keeps him from becoming a joiner, but he is a member and active in the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce, and on more than one occasion has sold tickets for groups who needed help. JERRY, BETTY, KENNY AND CHERRI ALLEN MEET BETTY ALLEN, OUR GAL FRIDAY meet Betty Allen, our gal Friday

Almost every business has its "gal Friday" and Clinton National Bank and Trust is no different, except, perhaps that our gal is right out front where she not only performs her daily routine but assists customers as well. Betty Allen has the official title of lobby manager but that doesn't really say much for all she does. Her influence extends not only to our St. Johns office tellers, but into the operations of our safety deposit area and jumps across our rear drive into the auto-bank.

Aside from supervising personnel in these sections of the bank, Betty handles a number of varied inquiries from customers visiting our main lobby. In addition she is frequently called upon to act as receptionist by arranging for bank officers and their callers to get together or by directing visitors to the appropriate office or bank area.

Betty's banking experience began in 1941 when she joined the staff of the predecessor to Detroit's Manufacturer's Bank, Industrial National Bank. In 1960 she began working at the State Bank of Carson City and two years later moved her family from the Fowler area to Carson City. Before coming with CN&T in 1970 Betty had worked her way from teller to assistant cashier, a position she now holds with us.

Our gal Friday claims her hobbies to be sewing, reading and her dog, Candy, but we know the pride of her life is her family. And proud she can be of her five sons and one daughter (poor Cherril). The two oldest sons are completing college at state schools and the third is an engineer with General Electric. Jerry has just completed high school and is employed at Carson City Hospital. Kenny is a senior at CCHS and lone daughter Cherril is a junior at the same school.

It's easily seen that Betty's career and family life keep her on the go, so much so, in fact that she was forced to relinquish her post as Congregational Church treasurer in favor of completing two banking study courses in personnel and public relations. But that's the way it is with our gal Friday. She does all that she can and does them well, especially where customers are involved. In fact, she even does them well on Mondays!

Is Alex doing own writing

Dale Stafford
in the Greenville Daily News

My fishing companion exploded the other day and got in the news. He is Lyall Smith, the public relations director of the Detroit Lions and the fellow I hired in 1945 as my successor as sports editor of the Detroit Free Press.

Here is a man of patience but he finally had it with the bad mouthings of Alex Karras who is getting $35,000 a year this year and next to NOT play for the Lions.

Karras said no kind things about Forest Evashevski, his college coach at University of Iowa.

When Pete Rozelle, the National Football League commissioner, suspended him for a year for gambling on NFL games, the man put his mouth in higher gear. The tirade against Rozelle became almost non-stop.

Now the Lions are his target. The Detroit Free Press has engaged Karras as a columnist for its sports sections to allegedly write things about the Lions.

This in itself is suspect since any person who has been around the writing business knows that very few name athletes are capable of authorship. Ghosts are provided by the managements to create the precious prose. Likewise, newspapermen aren't athletic stars.

Long ago Christy Walsh made a fortune with pieces supposedly created by Babe Ruth. The Bambino couldn't recall the names of teammates who played with him. And he cared less as he went through life having fun. Writing is drudgery and by no stretch of the imagination could Babe be involved in this sort of thing.

A long time ago a Boston newspaper signed a deal with Ted Williams, a mighty athlete but a less than lovable character on occasion.

The newspaper's baseball writer was given the task of producing a daily column under Ted's name.

One day at the Tiger home in Detroit (then called Briggs Stadium) I was standing alongside as the Boston writer sought to get some ideas for the Wil-iams column. "Go away," said Ted, "I'm sick of you and don't bother me until next season."

My dear friend Herb Graffis has done more profitable ghost writing than anyone I know. He lives in a magnificent home at Fort Myers Beach, Fla., and attributes it all to the daily articles and books he wrote under Tommy Armour's byline.

His Armour book has outsold any golf volume ever published. The syndicated golf articles appeared in hundreds of daily newspapers for 17 years.

"Did you talk to Armour very often about the books or the articles?" I asked Herb.

"Oh now and then," said Graffis.

Tommy was a Scot who drank Scotch whiskey and tea at the same sitting. In my humble opinion this is a rather old combination of beverages.

One athlete who insisted on doing his own stories was George Kell, once a great third baseman and now a fine sportscaster.

I gave George $1,000 for doing his pieces for a season and they appeared in the Free Press under the headline "Kell Tells."

Every day he wrote out in long hand an excellent column.

He and Byron (Whizzer) White, once a Detroit Lions quarterback but now a U.S. Supreme Court Justice, are the most intelligent of all the athletes I've known.

Kell and I were on a friendly basis until the time of the All-Star game. Ralph Kiner, then the big hitter of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was in Detroit and kidded George about his column.

"How much are you getting?" Kiner asked.

"$1,000 for the season," said Kell.

"I'm getting $4,000 from a paper in Pittsburgh and all I do is talk to the guy who writes it about once every two weeks," Kiner explained.

George told me this and I detected the notion the man thought he'd been had. But George kept on writing his articles as in the past until the season ended.

Is Karras writing his pieces? The people at the Free Press know but they won't tell.

As for me, I have an opinion but let us give everyone the benefit of the doubt.

Well done, planners

We would like to commend the organizers and planners of the area high schools' 1971 homecoming festivities for their success in avoiding conflicts in scheduling the events.

It should be remembered that last year, most of the county's six high schools scheduled their homecoming games and crowning ceremonies on the same evening, allowing for only a minimum of coverage from the Clinton County News.

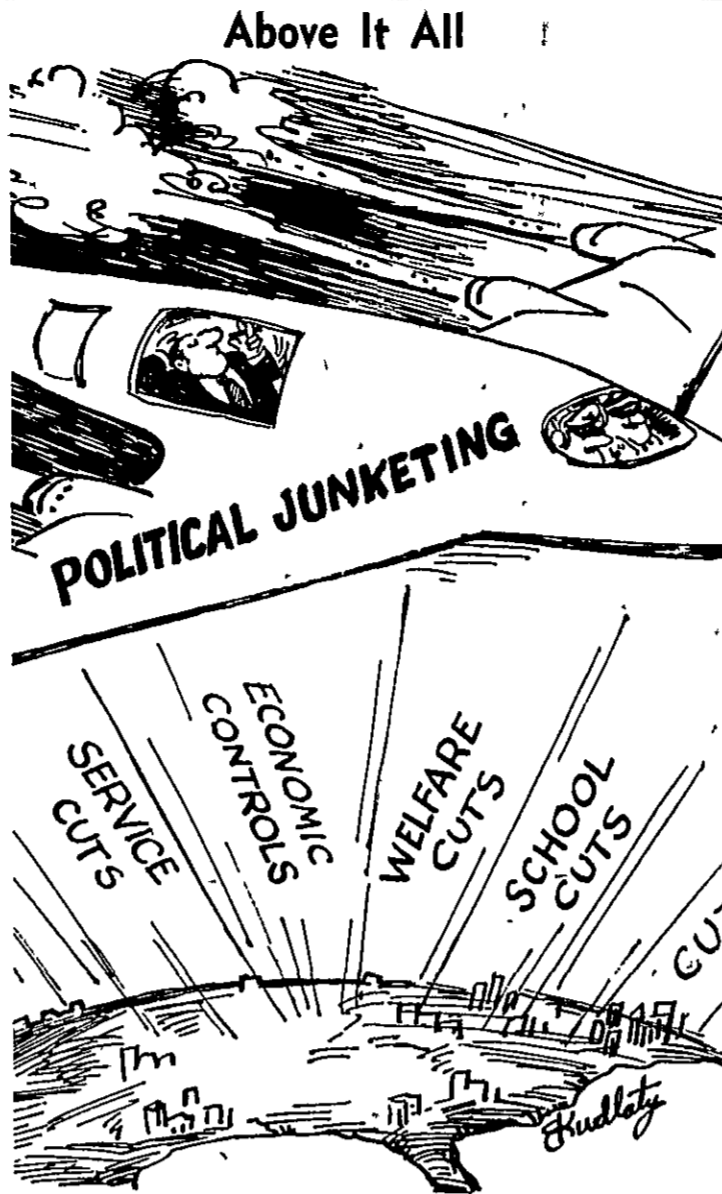

This year, however, there was only one night when two homecomings were celebrated at the same time. We were able to adequately prepare our own schedules to provide coverage for the two ceremonies, one at DeWitt and the other at Fowler on Oct. 8.

Ovid-Elsie held homecoming ceremonies on Oct. 1, while Pewamo-Westphalia's was Friday night. Bath will hold its homecoming Oct. 22 and St. Johns will have a big night on Oct. 29.

We again commend those who planned this year's events and hope that similar arrangements will be made in the years to follow.

Back thru the years

One Year Ago

A high speed chase through the streets of St. Johns and S. US-27 ended in the apprehension of two juveniles after an all-night search. A Clinton County deputy chased a suspicious vehicle, which was later determined to be a stolen auto, and as the cruiser approached the suspects the car was sideswiped by the youths. They escaped immediate capture in a near-by field, but were apprehended the next morning.

The St. Johns Redwings spoiled Waverly's homecoming plans by dumping the Warriors 27-8. The Redwings jumped to a quick 20-0 lead by halftime and coasted the rest of the way to gain sole possession of the West Central Conference lead.

10 Years Ago

Clinton County Board of Supervisors voted to enter into an agreement to purchase the former Dr. Scott residence at 106 Maple Blvd., St. Johns. Owners of the home, Dr. H. L. Oadley agreed to sell the home for $30,000.

The Supervisors were also considering taking action to ban Sunday hunting in Clinton County beginning in 1962. They noted that Sunday hunting was prohibited in at least five Michigan counties and severely restricted in many others.

The 1961 Clinton County Community Chest drive was moving at a snail's pace. The drive was launched Sept. 25 and should have been completed by Oct. 19, but only about $10,670 in cash and pledges were reported to committee chairmen. The figure was at least $25,000 short of Clinton's goal.

The St. Johns city commission voted to permit the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints to conduct services in the Municipal building on Sunday mornings for three months. The DeWitt Panthers made their intentions clear in the first minute of play against Vermontville and when the smoke had cleared the Panthers had their third D conference victory 52-12. DeWitt scored two touchdowns in the very first minute of play.

During Homecoming ceremonies, St. Johns High's student council president James Lancaster placed the crown on the head of Sharon Eaton, designating her 1961 Homecoming Queen. Members of her court were Connie Crowell, Linda Magsig, Jane Schumaker and Barbara Bullard.

The E. P. Boron Company was observing 38 years of service to St. Johns and Clinton County. Boron started the business in 1923 in the upstairs of the building housing the D & C Store.

25 Years Ago

With OPA ceilings off livestock, farmers from a radius of 50 miles or more of the city flocked to St. Johns to sell their cattle, lambs and hogs at the weekly auction conducted by the Wolverine Stockyards company. It was a week to remember and amounted to the biggest six days in the stockyard's history.

At the company's six auction yards in this section of the state, more than 10,000 head of livestock were sold. The total dollar volume was approximately $400,000. The Friday auction in St. Johns alone accounted for more than $100,000. Record breaking sales were also conducted at the company's yards in Lapeer, Gladwin, Clare, Marlon and Gaylord.

One of the then "new much talked-about" Kaiser Special automobiles was on display at the Searles Sales and Service showrooms in St. Johns. It was one of the first cars of its type in St. Johns and crowds flocked to the showroom to look at

Liquid assets

There's many a classic story
Told of various folks n' cranks,
Who never really trusted
Their cash hoards to the banks;
They stuffed 'em neath the mattress
Quite secure from public gaze
'N went about their daily chores
In their usual haunts and ways.

There's changes in the scheme of things
No mattress is immune,
The straw tick of the olden days
Is quite far out of tune;
The things we used to glorify
As bein' what they oughter
We find are really quite passe
Now mattresses fill with water!

Now therefore those allergic
To savings trusts or banks
Must count on water proofin'
To put in mattress tanks;
If frozen assets are really bad
Uncle Sam kin be assured,
We aim to keep 'em liquid
By havin' 'em water cured!

Paying for educational reform

By TIM YOUNKMAN

We are on the eve of a chaotic situation in Michigan. It won't be something as dramatic as bombing school buses and the like. But it will cause a good deal of confusion among taxpayers, school administrators and legislators.

Our state supreme court may soon rule on the constitutionality of the property tax supporting our educational system. Recently, the California supreme court ruled the property taxes the sole source of local revenue for schools to be unconstitutional.

If the Michigan court so rules, then the entire revenue-gathering base for our schools will be swept away.

What then? How will we make up the difference? What will happen to our schools and how much local control will be lost?

The questions aren't easily answered. But during discussions with various local superintendents and administrators, one thing seems certain. The state is bound to gain more control over local educational decisions.

LET'S EXPLORE the possibilities. One administrator said it would be a "good" thing if the state took over the whole show. For example, there would be a vast increase in the state income tax to cover the cost of state-wide education. The property taxes, of course, would be lowered, with the cost of education spread over all the people on an "ability-to-pay" basis.

However, the administration of the revenue (which now would come totally from the state level) would be the responsibility of the state education department. Local controls would be non-existent.

As the superintendent told me, the job of being superintendent may become a civil service position whereby all administrators are locked in a certain salary base. Teachers would then come under civil service and be locked in a salary-step basis—unable to strike and unable to bargain at a local level.

One problem that we now find overwhelming would fall aside. The problem of busing for integration would not be important. The real problem has always been the quality of the education that some of our children are receiving.

WITH CIVIL service assignments and equal monies per child in each district—the quality should be about even. There would then be a possibility of redistricting the schools to maintain equality. Thus the systems with two or three large high schools could be broken up into smaller districts. That, at least, is the way the picture was painted by one administrator.

It is time we come to the realization that this is not a fairy tale. The property tax is not feasible as a basis of paying for our children's education.

An acceptable alternative for some of the new expense of administering education would be state-wide lotteries, off-track betting and legalized gambling. These ideas were not approved in the past. They had the connotation of sin and evil. But it should be realized that even with those sinister tags, illegal gambling is thriving.

The state could take much of the money and put it into the educational system plus have money to aid other governmental institutions.

In New Jersey, for example, Gov. William Cahill, in speaking to a House Judiciary subcommittee, told officials that the state's lottery has grossed more than $118 million since January and has netted $53 million for education and state institutions. Michigan could certainly use $53 million more for education.

The change is coming for sure. Our problem now is how to pay for the revamped system. We had better come up with an answer soon or chaos is what we will have.

'IF IT FITZ ...'

Archie sits strangely

By JIM FITZGERALD

You might be impressed to learn that my family discussed the Last Supper at the dinner table the other evening. Real religious, huh?

Not really. Save your awe, the main subject of our conversation was actually Archie Bunker's TV show, All in the Family. The Last Supper just kind of slipped in at the end, unexpectedly, between I Love Lucy and Etem Zimbalist Jr.

Obviously the discussion was not as religious as it was intellectual.

All in the Family is supposed to be more than just another situation comedy in the awful mold of Bachelor Father and I Led Three Sons, or whatever that lousy thing is. Archie Bunker is the friendly neighborhood bigot.

He is continually knocking the Jews and the niggers and the spics and the polacks and the wops. Fred MacMurray would never do anything like that.

ARCHIE IS WRONG, of course, but he's also pretty funny. And the show is supposed to contain some worthwhile "social commentary". The idea is that you, the viewer, see a lot of yourself in Archie. And when you see what a jerk Archie is, you solemnly resolve to go forth and bigot no more.

Which is a noble concept. Although I wonder if Archie isn't maybe a hero to a lot of viewers, sort of a George Wallace in hard hat. Some people couldn't see bigotry in themselves if they looked in the mirror and saw Lester Maddox.

But I always did worry too much. Back to the important things ... I told my family the Bunker show is the same as every other situation comedy in one vital aspect.

It lacks reality. The Bunker family crowd around the same side of the dinner table, just like Lucy's family, the Beverly Hills and Mary, Tyler and Moore. This is artificial. If all four members of my family jammed together on the north side of the kitchen table, leaving the south side vacant, a passing stranger would think we were either nuts or perverts.

My family naturally urged their Wise Old Dad to reveal why the TV people arrange their seating so peculiarly.

"So they all can face the camera," I explained. "They all sat on one side of the table at The Last Supper," my son said. "What channel was that on?"

I IGNORED this Christian aside and pointed out another example of strange sitting on TV. When two men are in the front seat of a car, the passenger always sits smack up against the driver. Even if they both work for the FBI and drive Ford's widest idea, they still sit so cozy it's a miracle if their neighbors aren't talking.

"It's the only way they can goth get their heads on a 21-inch screen at the same time," I exclaimed with modest pride at my perceptiveness.

It was at this fascinating point in the conversation that my family insisted on swinging the conversation away from show biz. They are jealous of my superior knowledge in this field.

My wife had recently made her modeling debut in an underground style show. Photos of the event were passed around the table and she said she hadn't realized what a deep dimple she had in her chin.

"It's handy for carrying nickels for the parking meter," I said. "I carry them in my navel," she said.

"Oh, that's where I carry 'em," I said. "But only during the 40 days before Easter."

That's when they left the table. But at least they left on a religious note. Onward and Upward.

We all aren't guilty

Rep. Douglas Trezise
87th District

Because the legislative branch of state government has come under attack recently in a metropolitan newspaper, I am going to depart this week from my schedule of reports on my questionnaire and discuss the questions raised by that newspaper.

First, I confess, I cannot refute the specific charges leveled in the newspaper series. That Sen. so-and-so bought a $800 desk or that another legislator ordered cork paneling for his office, etc. are a matter of record.

But what I do resent is the general broad-brush treatment which leaps to the conclusion that all members of the legislature are guilty of this kind of extravagance because of a few isolated instances.

The report seems to ignore completely the fact that the large majority of the members of the House of Representatives work from unpretentious two-man offices, furnished with a bare minimum of equipment.

In my own case, I share a 10 ft. x 15 ft. office with Representative Robert Young of rural Saginaw County. We each have a desk, a file cabinet for our bills and journals, a visitor's chair—but we do have a folding chair we can set up in the event of a crowd—and a storage cabinet we share. Our secretaries share an area outside our office which is about the same size but must be kept clear as it is the access route to the fire escape.

If this is the indulging of my own lavish tastes for which we all stand accused, then there is a difference in our definitions of "lavishness."

My accommodations are generally typical of those of the majority of members in the House. Some offices are larger and furnished a little better but these are assigned to members in leadership positions or certain committee chairmen who require more in the way of staff and who are more likely to have larger numbers of visitors or are required to hold meetings and hearings in their offices.

CONCERNING MYSELF, I was assigned to my office when we convened last January. To date, I have not purchased or requested one item of furniture nor sought any remodeling or change in accommodations.

I will concede, there is a lack of control over legislative expenditures. But again, this does not lead to the conclusion that all legislators abuse that lack of control. Most legislators request what they need through established channels and accept any inconvenience that might involve.

I believe closer control should be instituted over legislative spending. I favor the taking of competitive bids on all construction work, furniture and supplies. I intend to work toward the institution of this practice. I do not believe any person should be allowed to make purchases on behalf of the state without some form of controlled

God's gifts

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

The text for this week is 1st Corinthians, chapter 12, verses 22-23. Pick up your New Testament and read the text.

In this letter St. Paul talks about the evaluation of the members of the Church in order to warn against any tendency to create disunity in the fellowship. The frailty of human nature is such that some of God's gifts to men were more highly esteemed than others. For example, Paul mentioned the gifts of being an apostle, or a prophet, or a teacher, or a worker of miracles, or a healer. Those who were not endowed with these gifts probably felt that they were not too important in the Christian community, and that they would not be missed if they fell away.

There may have been a tendency for those who possessed the more spectacular gifts to put on airs and to assume powers of authority and leadership for which they may not have been especially fitted. Certainly by putting on airs those people would show they were not spiritually fit for positions of leadership. So, to counter-balance any tendency of this sort, Paul pointed out that every part of the body—every Christian in the fellowship—was vital to the smooth and effective working of the whole body—the whole church.

We know even more today that this is true. It is not necessarily the greatly talented people whose service will rank the highest with God. Paul's message to us today could well go something like this, "Now look, for the well-being of the Church, there will always be diversities of gifts and therefore different functions."

So get used to the idea. There will always be a need for apostles to transmit the traditions of the faith. We will always need the prophets to study the gospel writings and bring them to bear on the life and culture of the times. There will always be a need for teachers to instruct others in the faith in order that sound doctrine can be preserved from insidious heresies.

There will always be a need for miracle workers and healers and helpers and administrators. So respect the gift that the other person has, no matter what it is. All are essential and vitally necessary to each other."

ST. PAUL SAYS to all clergymen, to all church board members, to all organists, to all women in altar guilds, to all church-school teachers, to all women's guild members, to all church treasurers, to all ushers—"Don't get all puffed up over your particular job in the church. They're all needed and no one job is more important than another."

Remember this. Great deeds and services may indicate our talents and capacities, but small deeds and services indicate the depth and the range of our consecration. This is what Christ wants from all of us. No matter what our particular gift from God is, we are expected to perform humble service in His name.

A well-known Scottish minister always tried to put appropriate illustrations in his sermons. One day he told his congregation about one of his dreams. He had dreamed that he had died, and naturally had presented himself at the pearly gates of heaven for admission. But to his dismay, Peter denied him admission until he presented his credentials.

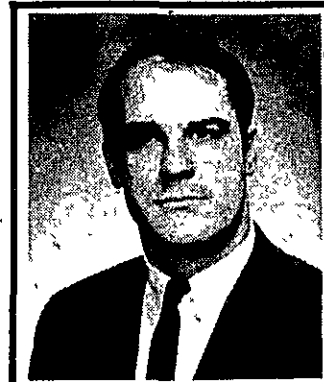

The old man told of the sermons he had preached, but Peter said that no one had heard them in heaven. He spoke of his service to his city and of her pastoral work, a work that had made him beloved by hundreds of people. Even that was unknown in heaven.

Just as he was about to turn away from the gates, Peter said, "Stay for a minute and tell me this. Are you the man who fed the sparrows?" "Yes," was the reply, "what has that to do with it?" "Come in," said Peter, "the Master of the sparrows wants to thank you."

Yes, we are expected to perform humble service in His name. That is the first and foremost requirement of us as Christians. Then we are expected to use the talents that God has given us in a humble and loving way.

Getting all puffed up over our special talents is not expected of us and is not encouraged at all.

We need more space

The furor over the Legislature's renovation of its working quarters, first mooted a couple of weeks ago and climaxing earlier this week with a three-part "expose" in The Detroit Free Press, has reached deafening proportions.

As one news story put it, a "New Capitol is Rising—Inside Old Walls." Without breaking new ground, the Legislature seems to be building a sumptuous modern Capitol within the walls of the present 92-year-old domed structure in the heart of downtown Lansing.

New offices and committee rooms, complete with cork-lined walls, plush carpeting, and draw draperies, rise from yesterday's debris in the state's latest architectural "breakthrough"—a "breakthrough" that could cost taxpayers up to $4 million.

All this while the Legislature has spent $3 million more over the past few years to plan and buy land for a new Capitol building which could cost up to $100 million if it's ever built.

And therein lies the rub. If in fact recent pie-in-the-sky visions of a new State Capitol have at last foundered on the rocks of a major state fiscal crisis which calls for austerity, not self-indulgence, then limited spending on rehabilitation and expansion of the existing Capitol is not totally unwarranted.

But if, in fact, the Legislature still harbors hope of someday erecting a lavish Taj Mahal two blocks west of its present quarters, then it's particularly galling to see it spending as much as it now is on renovating its current facilities.

The fact is that the Legislature does indeed need more space. As Chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Consumer Affairs, for instance, I have been unable to secure space in the Senate side of the Capitol in which to hold my committee meetings. For nine months I've had to use the House Appropriations Committee room for my meetings—and even then only during Thursday noon-hour lunchtime breaks. And while I'm content with my own personal office, nobody who's ever seen it can tell you that it even approaches the splendidous or affords the slightest bit of privacy.

AFTER THE SENATE finishes remodeling itself, there will be the not-unreasonable number of 10 committee rooms (providing space for 15 standing committees to meet) where only two bona fide committee rooms existed before the start of the year.

Yet there's little question but that those in charge of refurbishing have let things get out of hand. As the Free Press noted, "those who have taken the old Capitol building as their personal domain have the brass of the old Bourbon kings, but scarcely the style."

The Legislature has assumed prerogatives for itself it would not tolerate for others. Its tastes have run to the extravagant even when the merely functional would serve just as well. Obviously, such a situation cannot be allowed to continue.

In conclusion, if left to my own devices, I'll remain in my musty, high-ceilinged office with the ornate Victorian woodtrim. If I'm forced to move it won't be to the time of $765 credenzas, $17 ostrich calf wallets, or $205 ice makers.

And I'll continue to oppose the erection of a new State Capitol—as I always have in the past.

of their feelings than a listing of what they "would have liked" 4 years ago is a vote just within the past 6 weeks. At the time of consideration of the appropriations bill for capital outlay, the House defeated by an 83 to 9 vote a measure to spend another $5 million in preliminary costs for the new Capitol building. This vote reflects present sentiment in the House of Representatives.

I personally think the day of a new Capitol is a long way off. Money has been spent in the present building which should provide adequate space for some time in the future.

But I think a better indication

Same troubles

Dear Sir,
I read your story in the Clinton County News, Sept. 22, of water every where. Some one told us there was going to be a hearing of it in court, and any one can go to hear it. Is this true? And if so when is it?

We have or are having the same kind of trouble here just across the county line. We have been to health board in Ionia and they just don't care. The state told us the water we sent in to them to test had sewage in also. People here drain their bathrooms in an open drain and still they won't even clean it out. The state said the law is — you have no right to drain a bathroom in a drain.

You're suppose to have a septic tank — there is a $1000 fine or 80 days in jail or both. I feel sorry for those people. We also know what it smells like. We had a foot and a half in our basement that stunk our whole house up. The state said they can't do anything unless some one got sick. They said the county is supposed to do it. I would like to know what can be done — or if the court is not open to everyone, who do they have hired to fight it.

Thank you very much,

O-E schools mark national education week

OVID-ELSIE — Ovid-Elsie Schools will be marking American Education Week with a series of open houses at all levels of education.

All elementary schools will have an evening visitation on Monday, Oct. 25 from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. The junior high schools will be open from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the same evening.

On Tuesday, Oct. 26, parents are encouraged to drop in anytime during the day at all schools to view where the action is.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 26 will see parents in the role of high school students following their student's schedules. Schedules of courses will be shortened, but bells will ring and parents will go from class to class, even in to the lunch room where refreshments will be served.

All of these open houses are designed so that parents get a general idea of schools today and have questions answered about instructional matters.

Those parents wanting to know a particular student's progress will have the opportunity to schedule a conference with individual teachers.

White-collar workers will outnumber blue-collar by more than 50 per cent in 1980. However, 31 million workers will be employed in blue-collar jobs, an increase of more than 2 million over 1970.

Brown backs youth bill

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Third District Congressman Garry Brown (R-Mich) today introduced a bill to authorize funds for continuing a national summer youth sports program for disadvantaged youngsters.

For the past 2 years, the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), through participating higher education institutions, has run a summer sports program for disadvantaged youth in urban areas. The program, held on college and university campuses, is operated in conjunction with the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

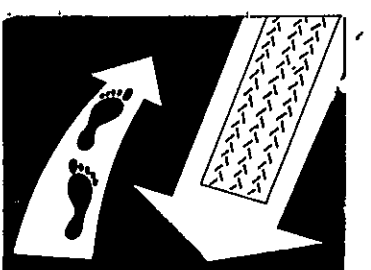

Funding for this program has come on a last-minute basis from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"As it stands now," Brown said, "there is no indication that OEO plans to continue funding this program." Brown further noted that "under this new bill, funding would be on a long-range basis and it would be possible to have year-to-year coordination of the youth sports program."

Brown's bill would provide a 5-year authorization, with $5 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1972, $7 million for fiscal year 1973, and $10 million for the three succeeding years.

The summer youth sports program provides sports training and athletic competition along with facilities and supervision for young people who could not otherwise afford to participate. Each youngster in the program would also receive a medical examination, a daily meal, counseling in study and career opportunities and other added benefits.

In the past, the summer youth attention and participation. Last year, there were 45,000 young people in 98 programs in 56 towns and cities.

Some tips for the 'Hunting Syndrome'

In autumn the ghost of Nimrod, the mighty hunter, strfs in many a husband's heart. Off he will go to the forest with visions of filling the larder with game. Back he will come, perhaps empty-handed, but certainly to fill your sympathetic ears with tales of muscled struts, cuts, bruises and various other misfortunes that befall him.

The wife who early recognizes her husband's "hunting syndrome" can offset many of these problems, according to the makers of Bayer Aspirin, whose would follow this five-point plan: 1) Insist that your husband go for a medical checkup; 2) Have him get an eye checkup; 3) Recommend some pre-conditioning exercises; 4) Provide him with an adequate medical kit; 5) Arrange for him to spend an afternoon before the hunt at a local rifle range.

The medical checkup should include, of course, a cardiogram, particularly if he is over 40. It will also provide him with guidelines for the pre-conditioning exercises necessary to develop strength and endurance for "the chase."

In addition to confirming that his eyesight is sound, your eye doctor should check whether your husband is "right-eyed" or "left-eyed."

Gravely, in right-handed persons, the left side of the brain is dominant because the nerve fibers from the left cerebral hemisphere cross over to the opposite side of the base of the brain. Since the cross-over is not complete, many of us have varying degrees of ambidexterity.

A simple "home" test can be done by pointing your finger at an object across the room—keeping both eyes open. With the finger still pointing at the object, close the right eye only.

If you are "left-eyed" the finger will stay on the object if you are "right-eyed" it will move to the right of the object. In crowded hunting areas, the difference could be crucial.

Pre-conditioning exercises should be planned with two goals in mind: strength and endurance. A regime of push-ups, toe-touching, deep-knee bends and sit-ups is excellent—as is jogging or running in place.

Bear in mind that repeating an exercise many times with a light load (weights or a heavy book) will increase endurance, whereas fewer repetitions with a heavier load produce muscular strength.

A good basic medical kit should have: a first-aid manual; elastic bandages or surgical tape for binding sprains and strains; an antiseptic for minor cuts; a tube of petroleum jelly for burns and chapped lips; gauze roller bandage; an analgesic to relieve stomach distress brought on by his own cooking; Bayer Aspirin to relieve headaches and aching muscles; and an insect repellent.

Also include tweezers, a small scalpel, a few sterile bandage compresses and a small roll of white tape. The latter should be used, together with preplanned signals, when your husband, the hunter, gets separated from his party.

Experienced hunters regularly practice at local ranges or clubs before undertaking a hunt—and strongly recommend that weekend hunters do likewise. If your community has such a range, urge your husband to spend some time there.

Check your local police department—some make arrangements during hunting season to open their target ranges to sportsmen. In some communities, hunting courses are even supervised by off-duty enforcement personnel.

Of course, this five-point program does not guarantee your husband will come home laden with bear. But it will ease your anxieties about his preparedness and, as a result, send your husband forth in high spirits.

And, who knows, this time he may actually come home with muscled struts, cuts, bruises and something more in the bag than dirty laundry!

EAST LANSING—Buying beef by the side could be the grandaddy of all bargains to the American consumer. But many factors determine whether it's a worthwhile purchase, according to Marilyn Mook, extension foods specialist at Michigan State University.

"There is no easy 'yes' or 'no' to your decision," she says. "In variety of cuts. Some are tender, some are not and some are cuts you might not normally buy. For example, the hindquarter yields more steaks and roasts, but is more expensive than the forequarter. The forequarter has less tender cuts, such as the chuck or shoulder, but it yields more usable lean meat."

Most locker and freezer provisions will convert less desirable cuts into ground meat or stew meat, Miss Mook says.

In general, you can expect a side of beef to yield 25 per cent waste, 25 per cent ground beef and stew meat, 25 per cent steaks and 25 per cent roasts. Quality of meat and service more expensive than the forequarter. The forequarter has less tender cuts, such as the chuck or shoulder, but it yields more usable lean meat.

Beef sides aren't always a bargain

costs are two other factors in the value of beef buys. The usual charge for cutting, wrapping and quickfreezing is about 10 cents per pound, she says.

Grade is an indication of beef quality. USDA Choice is the most widely sold retail grade. It has a tough fat marbling to give a tender, juicy, flavorful roast and steaks from the loin and rib. The less tender cuts of this grade may be prepared by dry heat methods. USDA Good beef has less fat, but also less flavor and tenderness than higher grades.

Dairy industry honors two

EAST LANSING—A former Michigan State University extension specialist in dairy sanitation and a federal milk marketing administrator were honored at the annual banquet of the Michigan Dairy Foods Association at Boyne Highlands, Sept. 16.

Receiving a citation and color portrait of himself were Jewel M. Jensen, an authority on dairy formulations, and George Irvine, administrator of the Federal Milk Marketing Orders for the Detroit and southern Michigan areas since 1961.

Prof. Jensen is completing his 36th and final year of teaching and research at MSU. During his tenure, he coached dairy product bidding teams which achieved recognition in national collegiate contests.

Irvine, who retired Sept. 30 after 27 years of federal service, is a graduate of Michigan Agricultural College with a master's degree in business administration from Harvard University.

Building fires were the big consumer of dollars with losses of $2.2 billion. Dwelling fires were responsible for over half of the human lives lost and approximately one-fourth of the victims of home fires were children.

Each day, on the average, the cost of fires in residential property is 18 lives lost, 1736 homes and apartments damaged or destroyed and over $2 million lost. Reports indicate the nation is making small but significant progress in lowering the fire loss problem. With a continually increasing population, the number of fire deaths per thousand persons has decreased slightly in a majority of states. However, with the inflation spiral, the cost of fire per capita continues to climb, rising from over $8 per person in 1960 to almost $13 last year.

What can be done about this fire problem? Each of us must start our personal fire prevention program in our homes and our families. A good beginning is inspection of our buildings. According to a NFPA study, the principal causes of building fires are: (1) defective or misused electrical wiring and equipment; (2) defective or overheated heating and cooking equipment; and (3) careless use of smoking materials. Together, these three causes accounted for 39 per cent of all building fires last year. Second, we should plan what to do in case of fire. Every member of the family should know at least two ways to get out of a room or building. This training should include even the youngest children. All exits should be kept clear. Fire department phone numbers should be posted at each phone. In two-story buildings, a rope ladder or similar device should be kept on hand, and an alarm system should be set up.

Most fires are caused by carelessness—don't let your friendly fire become a foe by your carelessness.

Janet Barnes named NMSC semi finalist

ST. JOHNS—Principal Gordon Vandemark has announced that one student at St. Johns High School has been named a semi-finalist in the 1971-72 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The student is Janet Barnes, a senior. She is one of 15,000 semi-finalists appointed today across the nation's most intellectually talented high school seniors. They will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1972.

The semi-finalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST), which was given last February to more than 65,000 students in about 16,600 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

THE SEMIFINALISTS ARE representative of the country's most intellectually able young people, according to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "From this group will come many future leaders in business, industry, and the professions," he said.

"These students bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities. The future success of these young people will, however, depend upon their ability to become leaders in the high intellectual levels that they are capable of attaining."

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for the Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their high NMQST performance on a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

About 48 per cent of the semi-finalists are expected to become finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,900 National Merit $1000 Scholarships which are allocated by states. Many will also be considered for the renewable four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 500 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals. Each finalist will receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of his outstanding performance in the program.

WINNERS OF FOUR-YEAR Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual need. Winners of the National Merit $1000 Scholarships will receive their non-renewable one-time awards upon enrollment as full-time students in accredited U.S. colleges or universities.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, and extracurricular activities of the finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

NMSC identifies the semi-finalists to all regionally accredited colleges and universities and to certain scholarship-granting agencies and other sources of financial aid. Studies in former years have shown that about half of the semi-finalists received financial aid from sources other than the Merit Program.

Names of the winners in the 1971-72 Merit Scholarship Program will be announced in the spring of 1972. Some 26,000 students have received Merit Scholarships in the sixteen annual programs to date. About $61 million in financial assistance to Merit Scholars and their colleges has been expended or committed through the Merit Program.

Service Personnel

CPL. UNDERWOOD

Cpl. Frederick B. Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oak Underwood of Maple Rapids was recently awarded the Navy and Marine Medal.

He received the award for heroism while serving with Headquarters Battery, Eleventh Marines, First Marine Division in Vietnam.

On Oct. 30, the Ho An River overflowed its banks south of DaNang, trapping villagers in the area and forcing them to huddle on rooftops. Observing that women and children were being swept away by the strong current, Corporal Underwood, accompanied by two other Marines, resourcefully fastened a rope to the wire at the defensive perimeter of his base and, utilizing it as a lifeline, waded as far into the river as the length of the rope would allow. For the next several hours, with complete disregard for the possibility of being swept downriver by the raging water, he dove beneath the surface to search for persons trapped in submerged houses, pulled people from rooftops and passed them in relay to the safety of the base and, on one occasion, assisted in carrying a woman in her bed from the middle of the river to the cantonment area. Although nearing exhaustion from fighting the current and from carrying the frightened and sometimes helpless members of the populace, he resolutely continued his efforts until assured that all those he could reach were either carried to safety or were able to make their way to the base unaided.

Corporal Undersood's courage, valiant initiative, and selfless devotion to duty at a great personal risk were instrumental in saving the lives of at least 40 Vietnamese civilians.

He was the tenth person to receive this medal in his unit over a period of six years.

SSG DAVID L. PARKHOUSE has been appointed assistant instructor of military science in the Army ROTC detachment at Gettysburg College. Parkhouse entered the Army in Nov. 1966. He is graduated from DeWitt High school, DeWitt, and had attended DeWitt elementary schools. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon G. Parkhouse of 416 S. Bridge Street, DeWitt. He is married to the former Marilyn J. Forbes of DeWitt and they have one son. Gettysburg College is a 140 year old, co-educational liberal arts institution located in historic Gettysburg, Pa.

PVT. LEWIS M. WILSON

Marine Pvt. Lewis M. Wilson, son of Mr. Leo Wilson of 7643 Chandler Road, St. Johns, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego.

Army Private GARY L. SMELTZER, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Auburn U. Smeltzer, 129 E. Main St., Maple Rapids, recently was graduated from the clerical school at the U.S. Army Armor Center, Ft. Knox, Ky. During the course, students receive instruction in typing, filing and how to perform administrative duties in a military office. Pvt. Smeltzer entered the army in May of this year and received basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. His wife, Virginia, lives at 108 Spring St., St. Johns.

Army Captain VAN E. PRIEST, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Priest, 119 Washington, Maple Rapids, recently completed the five-week military personnel officer course at the U.S. Army Adjutant General School, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Capt. Priest received instruction in organization and office management, records, and reports, and personnel management, actions, affairs and compensation. The captain received a B.A. Degree in 1968 from Michigan State University, East Lansing. His wife, Virginia, lives at 311 S. Sears, Reed City.

Army Private First Class PATRICK M. GALLAGHER, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Gallagher, 130 N. Ewen St., Maple Rapids, recently was assigned to the 1st armored division in Germany. Pvt. Gallagher is a vulcan missile crewman in Battery A, 2nd Battalion of the Divisions 59th Artillery near Schwabach.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Clark of Elsie and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Waggoner went on a color tour to Houghton Lake and back on Monday, Sept. 27.

On Thursday and Friday late afternoon last week Mrs. Gordon Waggoner was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Clark in Elsie.

FFA members off to U.S. meat judging show

OVID-ELSIE—Five members of the Ovid-Elsie FFA chapter traveled to Kansas City, Mo., to participate in the national FFA meat judging contest which was held during the 44th national convention of the Future Farmers of America.

The meat judging team traveled to Kansas City by bus to participate in the contest Oct. 13.

Members of the team are Kim Horae, David Wyrick, Dwight Hunt, Mike Rummell and Charlie Green. The team is coached by Larry Martin, C. F. Sheldon Packing House.

The meat judging contest is one of five national FFA contests in which young men and women test their ability to select quality livestock and animal products.

The Ovid-Elsie chapter has been noted for fielding outstanding agriculture department teams.

They won a gold medal for over-all state competition; first in chapter standings throughout the state; won the chapter safety award state-wide; won a national gold award for over-all chapter competition; won a silver award at the national level for safety.

The teams also won a second spot in the state-wide parliamentary procedure contest; third with a silver award for state-wide demonstration competition; and second gold award in regional public speaking contests.

The group also boasts of a first place gold award in meat judging; a first place gold in agri-mechanics testing; second gold in dairy judging and fifth spot silver medal in poultry contests.

The contests are sponsored by the national FFA foundation and are held in conjunction with the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show which provides animals for contestants to evaluate.

This year's judging contest will include judging of dairy cattle, dairy products, poultry, livestock (sheep, beef and swine) and meats.

THIS YEAR, 191 three-member teams, plus alternates, will participate in the contests. Each team in the contest has competed against other chapters in their state for the privilege of attending the national convention where they must match their skills in selecting quality animals and animal products with teams from four other states. Only FFA members who are under 21 years of age and who are currently taking vocational agriculture are eligible for the contests.

The meats judging contest is being sponsored as an FFA foundation special project by Oscar Mayer and Company of Madison, Wis.

Contestants in the meats judging contest will spend two hours in a cold storage meat room making their evaluation. The 35 teams will compete in pork and lamb. The teams will be scored on their ability to select the highest quality meats as well as their ability to identify the various retail cuts of meat.

Judging is done on a basis of USDA meat inspection standards, and students are graded by a panel of adults whose professions are closely related to the meat industry.

Team scores in each contest are computed by combining individual scores of each team. The O-E chapter team earned member. Awards are made to the high scoring teams and to the highest scoring individual in each contest. The O-E chapter team earned the trip to the national FFA convention when they won the Michigan State meat judging contest.

4-H Chatter
Adults needed

We are turning away youth who want to join 4-H because we don't have enough adults who are willing to help with the program. This was the comment made by a number of 4-H leaders Thursday evening at their general leaders meeting at Smith Hall. Clinton County 4-H program serves over 1400 different boys and girls throughout the county but could reach many more youth if the adult leaders were available. Many clubs now are too large for the number of leaders willing to help with the program. People don't have to have a 4-H background or be a specialist or expert in their area to serve as a leader. If you have a desire to help and work with youth, please contact the County Extension Office in St. Johns, phone 224-3288, for more information. We have nearly 300 adult leaders now but we need more to reach the potential youth wanting to be in 4-H. Parent support and involvement is necessary for a successful 4-H club program. Parents who have a son or daughter enrolled in a 4-H club program are encouraged to contact 4-H leaders to see how they might help out with such things as transportation for certain events, helping with activities, encouraging their child to finish their project, attend the work meetings and participate in club activities.

were shown on the 4-H Traverse City Trip taken a few years ago. The club would like to have a winter handicraft club if leaders can be secured.

The Tail Waggers 4-H Club members are quite proud of LuAnn Thelen as her dog was the fifth dog accepted for further training at the Leader Dog School for the Blind at Rochester. Dan Balog, the liaison between the Leader Dog School and the club, reported that since 1939, there have been 3400 dogs trained and given to blind people. Last year 211 dogs were trained at the Leader Dog School at Rochester. A group of the 4-H members and their dogs will present a program at the Haslett Lions Club meeting, October 20, 7:00 p.m. This group includes LuAnn Thelen, Dawn Archer, Ann Graham, Cheryl Gintner, Mark Bruhn and Jeannine Seeger. Two new members were enrolled in the club and received their dogs for their projects. Ann Graham demonstrated a way to keep your dog's attention in only five minutes that she had learned at a Dog Obedience class at Owosso. Each member was asked to demonstrate with their dog the progress made since the last meeting. Mr. Balog is setting up a 25 minute T.V. show for 3 or 4 members to participate in.

Statistics over the past five years show that one-third of the members are first year members and two-thirds of the members are three years or less. Over 50 per cent of the members are 12 years or younger. It is true as the members reach high school they do get involved with more school activities and then a decision has to be made which they want to participate in. But many of the most active 4-H members are those who also are very active in school, church and community events.

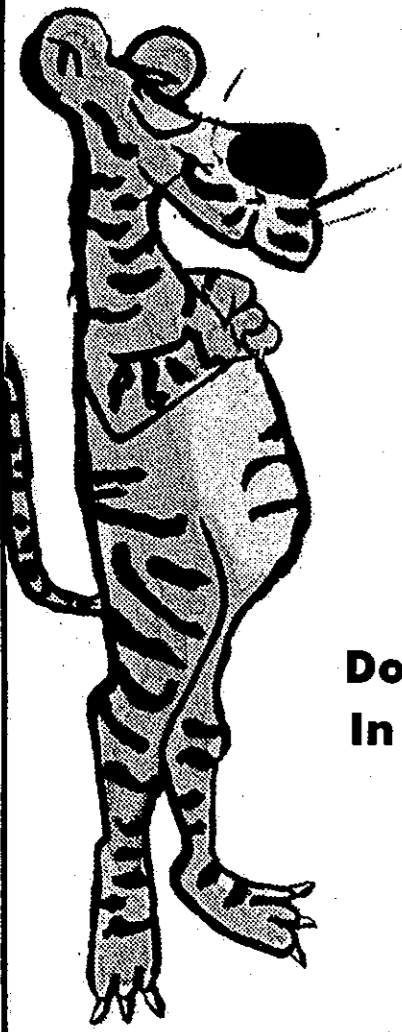

The variety of projects available to the youth in each club depends upon the abilities of the adult leaders. The number of projects available varies from a small club of 5 or more members to a club with over 100 different projects available to the youth in both the winter and summer program. Other questions discussed by the leaders included the Fair judging, award trips, the values placed by members on blue, red and white ribbons and county-wide activities. Nimble Fingers, Bengal Community and Elsie 4 Corners 4-H Clubs were recognized as honor clubs by scoring a total of 900 or more points on activities and accomplishments of their club during the summer program. Each club received an award for this honor.

The Elsie Four Corners 4-H club members held an initiation for new members and made plans for their fall achievement November 1 at the E.E. Knight School, 7:00 p.m. with a pot luck dinner for the members and families. Fair premiums, certificates, pins and awards will be presented to the members.

Steve VanVleet is the new President of the Country Cousins 4-H Klub for the winter program. Other officers include: Frank Falvor-Vice President; Gerilyn Falvor-Secretary; Wayne Fedewa-Treasurer; Darlene Devereaux and Ed Falvor-Recreation Leaders. Prizes were presented to the club winners of the pumpkin and sunflower contest, 20 members are planning on attending the 4-H Roller Skating activity on November 18 at the Ranch Roller Rink in St. Johns.

DeWitt

The DeWitt Chapter O.E.S. annual meeting and election of officers was held Friday, Oct. 1, Mrs. William Weston and Raymond Locher were elected as W.M. and W.P., to be installed Friday, Oct. 22, at 6 p.m. Mrs. Pauline Bolchot recently received a 50 year certificate of DeWitt Chapter O.E.S.

Meet "Tiger"

"Tiger" used to live in a gas tank and eat mufflers.

Then he heard about FARM BUREAU DOG FOOD.

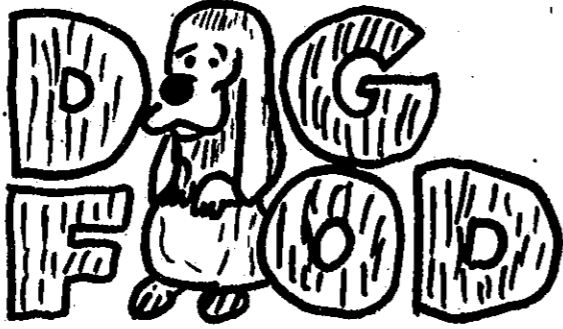

How good it is... how delicious and nutritious... in chunks or granulated.

"Tiger" doesn't eat Farm Bureau Dog Food... but he used to eat dogs that did. (They tasted better.)

But, no more. Farm Bureau Dog Food now has Tiger Repellent.

GOURD CONTEST

Jeff VanVleet, left, took first place in the decorated gourd contest during the 4-H show. Kathy Valentine was second and Steve VanVleet was third.

Plymouth Satellite is built as if you wanted to keep it in the family...

for a long, long time.

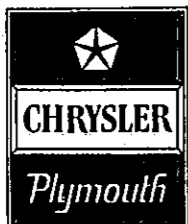

Satellite is our beautiful entry in the mid-size field. All-together beautiful and built to last. Satellite isn't just beautiful. It's built to last, too. Beneath its sleek design is a deep-down strength to keep you going a long time. Also, our two-door Satellite isn't just a four-door with two doors hung on it. It has a different design from our four-door Satellite.

Result? Our two-door Satellite comes through as a more sporty, personal car. Our four-door has a longer wheelbase, a roomier interior. All the room a family needs. The longer you keep it, the more you like it. Satellite is built with the rigid strength of unibody construction. It rides on Chrysler's famous torsion-bar suspension. And every Satellite goes through a thorough 7-step dip-and-spray process that guards against rust. Put them all together and you've got a car that will keep its good looks a long time and stand up to your kind of driving. 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road. When we say Satellite is built to last, we speak from experience and facts. For example, 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

So, if you are looking for a beautiful car... for a car that's built to last... for a car that's priced less than a full-size car... here's your beautiful answer. Satellite, coming through with the kind of car America wants. Who knows? This may be the car you pass on to your son.

Coming through with the kind of car America wants.

ST. JOHNS — Letters of Commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1971 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) have been awarded to three students at St. Johns High School, Principal C. Gordon Vandemark has announced. Those named commended students are Anne Fox, John Wampler, Colleen Wood. They are among 35,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 per cent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1972. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

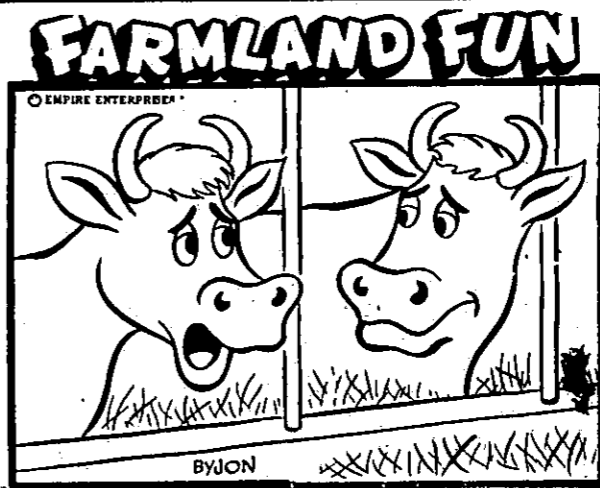

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their standing in this nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their high performance on the NMQST gives promise of continued success in college."

*THE COMMENDED Students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students' names are reported to certain scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the NMQST in February 1971. The reports include home addresses, test scores, and anticipated college major and career intentions of the commended students.

THE STONEY Creek 4-H Club members held their fall achievement meeting with a potluck dinner for members and families. Fair premiums, certificates, pins and award trips were presented to the members. Duane Davis, the club's leader, presented John Aylsworth, the Extension 4-H Youth Agent, $50.00 as the club's contribution to the National 4-H Center Expansion Drive in Washington, D.C. For the program, films

Pay delay

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The House passed a tax bill incorporating the President's New Economic Policy proposals last week and approved his delay of Federal Government employee pay raises for six months, until July 1, 1972.

At week's end, the Senate had begun its consideration of the tax bill and also had approved the President's pay hike delay.

The tax legislation provides some $15.4 billion in tax relief for individuals and corporations over three years. Of this, $9.7 billion is non-business tax relief for individuals and $5.7 billion is relief for corporations and individual's business income.

As reported in this column last week, this legislation accelerates increases in the personal income tax exemption and standard deductions due in succeeding years, raises the low-income allowance so as to remove those below the federal poverty level from the tax rolls, restores the 7 per cent investment tax credit repealed in 1969, eliminates the 7 per cent excise tax on new cars, scales down business benefits from accelerated depreciation rules promulgated by President Nixon earlier this year, and provides new tax incentives for American exports.

THE LEGISLATION IS expected to face strong opposition in the Senate.

Senate Finance Committee hearings began last Thursday, Oct. 7, chaired by Senator Russell B. Long (D-La.) who has disputed the claim that the House passed bill represents a fair balance between tax relief for business and consumers.

Also last week, the House and Senate approved the President's proposed federal employee pay increase.

Under the provisions of the 1970 pay legislation, a vote of disapproval in either chamber could have overridden the presidential deferral.

THE SENATE ALSO gave its final approval to a $21 billion defense procurement bill, 82-4.

The legislation carries an end-of-war amendment (the Mansfield Amendment), a $381 million military pay raise, and a provision breaking the United Nation's embargo against imports from Rhodesia.

This bill now goes to a House-Senate conference where there are expected to be strong differences on specific provisions of the legislation. In September, the Mansfield amendment was a source of conflict when House-Senate conferees met to work out differences on legislation extending the selective service act, the first piece of legislation that the amendment was attached to.

The Rhodesia amendment requires the President to allow imports of chrome from Rhodesia, despite a U.N. embargo designed to pressure Rhodesia's break-away government into a settlement with Britain on voting rights for blacks. Proponents argued that the chrome is needed for steel production and other industrial processes.

THIS WEEK IN THE House major scheduled action includes consideration of legislation regarding equal rights for men and women and adoption of the Consumer Protection Act.

The Consumer Protection Act would establish within the Executive Branch a Consumer Protection Agency which would be empowered to advise the Congress and the President and promote and protect the interests of consumers.

This legislation was considered by the Government Operations Committee on which I am privileged to serve.
