Launch drive to change Clinton Memorial policy

ST. JOHNS — An attempt to change a system which has allegedly operated the same way for the past 44 years, was launched Monday night by a group of concerned citizens here.

The group, which calls themselves The Concerned Citizens Group, launched a petition drive in an effort to make changes, both in personnel and policy, of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees.

The group charges that the present 35-member board of trustees has failed to meet certain requirements of the by-laws of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Association.

The group says the Hospital Association is made up of all adult persons who are residents of Clinton County. Back in 1927, when the hospital was first built, the association was formed and the board of trustees elected.

"SINCE THAT TIME, the board has filled vacancies by voting among themselves without consulting the Association," said Mrs. Sharon Reha, chairman of the group. "We feel this has been a major contribution to the lack of doctors in Clinton County today. And we mean to change this."

Clinton County has a total of 12 doctors, with three practicing at Clinton Memorial Hospital, it is stated. Those practicing at the hospital are all medical doctors, and the group says Osteopathic doctors are not allowed to practice at the hospital.

The petition seeks "open discussion of the hospital and medical needs of the community and the means of meeting these needs", revisions of the hospital by-laws to "restore the Clinton Memorial Hospital to community control."

The petition also calls for election of all trustees by the Hospital Association membership to terms not to exceed three years.

IMMEDIATE ELECTION of not less than 1/3 of the board of trustees (12) with an additional 12 to be elected in May of 1972;

Determination of the status of osteopathic physicians in meeting the health needs of the community, including the right to use hospital facilities;

And consideration of construction of a medical clinic building adjacent to the hospital as a means of attracting new physicians to the community.

"We feel that this clinic alone would attract doctors to our area and would keep them here," said Mrs. Reha. "They did this in Hastings, hoping to attract one doctor. They got five."

THE PETITIONS were distributed Monday night at a Concerned Citizen's meeting. The petition also calls for a general meeting of the Association to be held not later than Nov. 30 on the matters.

Group members and volunteers are seeking signatures today throughout Clinton County and they hope to have all of the petitions returned within two weeks. Persons wishing to sign a petition may write to Concerned Citizens, Post Office Box 323, St. Johns.

"We also could use more volunteers in the outlying township areas," said Mrs. Reha.

Persons wishing to volunteer their time may also contact the group by writing to the same address.

State ok's Sturgis St. traffic light

ST. JOHNS—The State Department of Highways has given approval for a traffic light to be installed at US-27 and Sturgis St. on the south side of the city.

Mrs. Carol Maples, a member of the local People Who Care Committee, told the Clinton County News the approval had been granted last week. The light will be installed in the near future.

The light was sought following the death of a 12-year-old St. Johns boy who was killed when struck by a car in June of 1969.

O-E board approves contracts

By TIM YOUNKMAN

OVID-ELSEIE—The Ovid-Elseie Board of Education Monday night unanimously approved the 1971-72 teacher contracts after a long series of negotiations that resulted in changes in six areas.

The contracts had been ratified by the Ovid-Elseie Education Association (OEAA) more than a month ago and the board was scheduled to act on the contracts Oct. 11. However, the board did not have a quorum at the Oct. 11 meeting and delayed action until Monday night.

The major area of change came in the salary levels. A teacher with a bachelor of arts degree received a $300 increase, from $7,500 to $7,800 at the first level and was increased $650 at the 11th level from $11,100 to $11,750.

The BA plus 20 category was increased from $7,650 to $8,100 at the first level and was jumped from $11,650 to $12,400 at the 11th level. Holders of master of arts degrees received a raise from $7,800 to $8,300 at the first level and from $12,200 to $12,950 at the top.

The MA plus 30 category was increased from $8,000 to $8,600 at the first level and from $13,250 to $13,950 at the 11th level.

Superintendent Donald Kenney, who was the board's chief negotiator, said the increases averaged 7.35 per cent for all teachers and the figure included benefit increases. He said the actual increases

"Good to be a winner"

St. Johns dairyman wins national contest

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Co-Editor

ST. JOHNS—Warren Swanson is a little happier these days.

He entered a contest last April and thought that was the end of it, but in September, he heard from the West-Agro-Chemical company. They told him he had been selected a winner in the annual herd health contest sponsored by the agricultural products firm.

Swanson, 38, R-4, St. Johns, according to the company, will select from a list of outstanding sires and a free artificial insemination for his herd will be awarded.

The Herd Health Contest is a way to recognize dairymen throughout the United States who employ outstanding herd health and dairy management programs, the company indicated.

Swanson operates a dairy farm at 3540 W. Centerline Road, St. Johns which he purchased five years ago. He said he has a herd of 38 cows and the rolling herd averages 15, 129 pounds of milk and 540 pounds of butterfat, which is good production for the herd's size.

"It is really nice to be a winner," Swanson said Thursday. "I saw the ad in a magazine and thought I would enter the contest. I entered in April and waited until September before I heard from the company."

To win the award, Swanson did not have to buy a product from the company but filled out a questionnaire that was attached to the advertisement. The questionnaire asked 10 specific questions on the operation of dairy farms and how various farmers cared for the health of the herd.

One question asked about what farmers considered to be the most serious herd health problem and officials indicated a majority said finding quality sires for insemination.

THE CONTEST was open to dairymen of the continental United States, excluding the company's employees. The entry had to be completed by a dairyman and validated by

QUEEN CANDIDATES

One of these pretty girls will be the 1971 Homecoming Queen for the St. Johns Redwings Friday night. The girls are Jill Guernsey, Anita Stigar, Cathy Stoddard, Cindy Lanterman and Shirley Eisler.

Homecoming festivities Friday

ST. JOHNS—Friday is Homecoming for all former Redwings.

And it should be a gala time for all. The parade committee for the 1971 Homecoming has introduced some new and exciting features in an effort to involve the student body and the community even deeper into the events than before.

Some of the changes for 1971 are a longer and more complete parade route, a change in the order of the parade lineup and the introduction of the St. Johns High School Redwing Marching Bands Red and White Flag Honor Guard.

This year the parade will originate at Floral St. and march south up Clinton, turn east at State, south at Linden, east at Cass, south down Oakland, west on Sturgis, south on Lansing and west on Sikes to the High School.

Instead of the traditional first float being that of the Senior Class and the Queen's Float, the Freshman Class will assume the position of the first float in the parade.

The Freshmen will be followed by the Sophomore, Junior and Senior floats respectively. The Queen's Float will be the final entry in the parade.

The Marching Band's Red and White Flag Honor guard regularly marches with the band but during the parade they will have a separate position. Other entries in the parade will include St. Johns Mayor Robert Wood, former homecoming queens, the Redwing Band and a special color guard provided by the St. Johns American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Grand Marshal for this year's parade will be High School Secretary Mrs. Edna Fiegler.

The parade will step off at 5:30 p.m.

Young Ovid man killed in crash

CORUNNA—A 22-year-old Ovid man died early Monday morning when the car he was driving struck a horse on a Shawansee County Bridge.

Dead is Dale Charles Johnson, 22, of 3300 S. Balcom Rd., Ovid. Sheriff's Deputies said the car struck the horse which was standing in the middle of a bridge on South Warren Rd. in Middlebury Township.

The car apparently continued on across the bridge where it left the roadway and rolled over. Johnson was thrown out of the car, deputies said.

A passenger in the car, 17-year-old Debra R. Young received cuts and bruises in the mishap. Deputies said the horse was owned by Alfred Taphouse of 257 S. Warren Rd.

THE MISHAP was reported to police at 4:50 a.m. Monday.

Johnson was born in Clinton County Feb. 8, 1949, the son of Charles D. and Bertha M. Johnson and he was a lifelong resident of Ovid. He had served with the Army in Germany, having been discharged in January of 1969. He is survived by his parents, a half brother Francis Griffith of Ovid, his grandmother, Mrs. Rhoda Johnson of Baton Rouge, La. and Mrs. Bertha McCarthy of Ionia.

Funeral services will be Thursday Oct. 28 at 1 p.m. from the Houghton Chapel of the Osgood Funeral Homes Inc., Ovid. Burial will be in the Maple Grove Cemetery.

Dale Johnson of Ovid died early Monday when this car he was driving struck a horse and crashed.

General plans $10.2 million program

OWOSSO—General Telephone plans to spend a record $10,257,400 for service improvement and expansion in its central Michigan service area in 1972. B. R. Davies, central division manager for the company, has announced. The division includes 49 exchange communities in the Alma, Durand, Edmore, Grand Ledge, Mt. Pleasant, Owosso and St. Johns districts.

"Our 1972 plans included improvement and expansion projects for both local and long distance service in each of our seven districts in the central division," Davies said at an Owosso news conference held to announce the 1972 program.

The $10.2 million construction budget is nearly $1.4 million larger than the $8.8

million program currently being completed for 1971. General Telephone has spent nearly $35 million on service improvement and expansion in the central division in the past five years.

CENTRAL OFFICE equipment will require $3,654,700 of the $10.2 million 1972 expenditure. This includes local (lines and terminals) and toll switching equipment, "carrier" (equipment to superimpose additional channels on present voice circuits), "ticketers" (specialized long distance equipment required for each call which records all digits dialed in, sends them along to the next switch or station and also records all call details such as length, day and time of day) and operator toll boards. Much of this equipment is normally housed in one of the company's "central offices."

In all, 57 individual projects in the division will add 4,800 lines, 4,200 terminals, 80 ticketers and 636 carrier channels within the central division which provides service to more than 105,294 telephones located in communities of 17 Central Michigan counties (Barry, Clare, Clinton, Eaton, Genesee, Gratiot, Ingham, Ionia, Isabella, Livingston, Mecosta, Midland, Montcalm, Newagen, Osceola, Saginaw and Shiawassee).

Land and buildings to house the additional equipment and to provide needed office and working space will cost $250,400 including major building projects at Barryton, DeWitt, Hemlock, Stanton and Alma. The company will also purchase $287,000 of existing long distance facilities presently owned by a connecting company.

Additional aerial and buried cable, underground cable in conduit and pole lines—called "outside plant" equipment by the company—will cost $3,794,800; and "station" equipment, or telephones, business systems and associated connection equipment, will add another $1,972,900 to the budgeted expenditures for 1972.

News track meet May 8

ST. JOHNS — The Clinton County News and the North Clinton Shopping News will sponsor the annual all-county track meet, this year scheduled for May 8, it was announced Thursday.

The track meet will be held at the Ovid-Elseie High School all-weather track on May beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Last year, Ovid-Elseie won the event in a five-team race. Track meet officials are hoping that by planning the event well in advance, all of Clinton's six high schools will be able to schedule the meet.

In a letter to the area coaches and athletic directors, Ovid-Elseie Coach John Oberlin, who is helping to plan the event, said he hopes all of the coaches would put the meet on their schedules immediately.

Crash kills St. Johns resident

ST. JOHNS—A 63-year-old St. Johns man died Saturday at noon in a two car accident west of the city on M-21 at DeWitt Rd. Dead is Gerard J. Newhouse, 63, of 5611 W. Townsend Rd. Deputies said Newhouse was dead at the scene.

The mishap occurred when a car, driven by Roy I. Harlow, 16, of R-2, St. Johns, was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting a vehicle making a left turn. The Harlow vehicle was westbound on M-21.

Deputies said the youth's car went off the north side of the road, back onto the pavement and then across into the eastbound lane where it collided headon with the Newhouse vehicle.

HARLOW AND A passenger, Dale L. Prochazka, 17, of 607 Oakland St. were treated for cuts and bruises at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services for Gerard J. Newhouse were held Tuesday Oct. 26 from St. Johns Episcopal Church with the Rev. Hugh Baniga officiating.

He was born Feb. 8, 1908, in Boskoop, Netherlands, the son of Abram and Alyda Newhouse. He attended schools in Ohio moving to the St. Johns area in 1954. Prior to that time, he lived in the Lansing area.

He married Mary E. McMaster in Lansing July 2, 1932. He retired from Oldsmobile in May of 1968 and had worked at Kurt's Appliance Store in St. Johns. He was a former member of the Vestry of St. Johns Episcopal Church and the Executive Club of Oldsmobile.

He is survived by his widow Mary, three sons Dr. Robert Newhouse of Traverse City, Thomas Newhouse of Grand Ledge, and Arthur Newhouse of Denver, Colo. He is also survived by a daughter Mrs. Barbara Tews of Boyd, Minn., five grandchildren, three brothers, John of Long Island, N.Y., Henry of Lansing and Louis of Lansing.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Annette Belt of Springfield, Ohio, Mrs. Marie VanHilburg of Lansing and Mrs. Nell Artley, of Lake Linden.

Burial was at Deepdale Cemetery.

Test case ruling delayed

By TIM YOUNKMAN

ST. JOHNS—It's going to be a long wait for several Clinton County residents who have filed suit in circuit court here to win the state's first anti-pollution case under the 1970 Environmental Act.

With the non-jury trial finished the judge, Circuit Court Judge Leo Corkin, said it would be about two months before the judgment is filed with the Clinton County clerk's office. The only reason given for the delay was the heavy case load facing the court between now and the end of the year.

The case was filed against William Biergens, 10789 Howe Road, Eagle, by several neighbors claiming Biergens' farm is a source of pollution and he should be banned from any further operation in the area.

The Biergenses keep pigs and damages have been sought for alleged damage caused by odor from the hogs. Plaintiff witnesses claimed they smelled hog odors at times when driving in the area or visiting Biergens' neighbors.

Those seeking judgment against Biergens are Mrs. Burtice Crandall, who is asking for $50,000 in damages; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crandall, who are asking for $20,000; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Babbitt, seeking $100,000; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nourse, seeking $10,000.

Two of the plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burnette withdrew their complaint. They had sought $50,000 in damages and no reason was issued for their withdrawal. The original suit demanded $230,000 in damages which was lowered to $180,000 when the Burgess couple dropped suit.

A motion for a summary judgment seeking to have the environmental act declared unconstitutional on grounds that it attempts to delegate legislative authority to the judiciary, filed by Biergens' attorney, Timothy Green, failed to receive a ruling from Judge Corkin.

The judge also reserved a ruling on another motion by Green to dismiss the charge that the Biergens operation constituted a nuisance. Corkin said this portion of the suit is not covered by the Act, although the remainder of the suit is involved.

Witnesses for the defense, which included an agricultural engineer from the University of Illinois, Arthur J. Mulling, testified that he had inspected the farm operation and found equipment in good condition and in use and that it was a quality port producing system.

Dr. Duane Deming, veterinarian with the State Department of Agriculture, said the sanitation, management and housekeeping on the farm were above average when he visited the facility last week.

The delayed ruling, which should come sometime in December, means that the operation will continue without an injunction banning Biergens from operating the farm. And the residents in the area, in the meantime, will have to wait along with state officials who are anxious to hear the outcome of the first test of the Environmental Act.

Local draft resumed

ST. JOHNS—Draft calls will be resumed in November and December for 1971 first priority registrants with random sequence numbers 125 and below, Clinton County Selective Services Executive Secretary Opal Podolak has announced.

Draftees will also include volunteers and extended priority registrants with random sequence numbers 190 and below. The 1971 first priority group includes registrants born in 1951 or earlier who received lottery numbers of 125 or below in 1970 or 1969 and who are available for induction during 1971.

Registrants selected for induction will receive at least 30 days notice instead of the 10 days required under present regulations. All inductions will be completed by December 9.

STUDENTS AND TEACHERS who are reached for induction in November and December may have their inductions postponed to the end of the current semester, quarter or term.

Cars and trucks, major tools such as ditchers, trenchers, cable plows, tractors and generators, and office furniture costs will be $297,200.

"In terms of service improvements, our 1972 program will mean rural service will be reduced to no more than four parties per line in an additional 14 exchanges," Davies said. "By the end of 1972, 40 of our 49 exchange communities will have rural service limited to four parties or less 'upgrading' in the remaining nine communities will be completed in 1973."

This 1972 rural upgrading program includes the exchanges of Ashley, Barryton, DeWitt, Grand Ledge, Hemlock, Howard City, Lainsburg, Lakeview, Middleton, Owosso-Corunna, Palo, Remus, Stanton and Woodland.

The company has plans to establish Extended Area Service (EAS), or toll-free calling, between Owosso and Bancroft, Owosso and Durand, Owosso and Ovid, and between Stanwood and Big Rapids during 1972.

Davies pointed out that the company is also embarking on an urban upgrade program which will ultimately provide only one- and two-party service in the urban or "base rate" area of an exchange. The "base rate area" is the area in which urban service is available without paying additional charges for mileage.

The seven exchanges involved in the 1972 central division schedule for "urban upgrade" include Ashley, Barryton, Hemlock, Middleton, Palo, Remus and Six Lakes.

The total 1972 program for service improvement and expansion in the central division represents an average investment of over $97 for each of the 105,294 telephones. The division, which has 657 employees, has a total capital investment in land, buildings and equipment of nearly $71 million, or $108,000 for each employee.

In Michigan, General Telephone has more than 464,500 telephones in service in 538 communities. The company operates in all or part of 61 of the state's 83 counties.

a state or county extension director, milk sanitarian, dairy plant field man, plant manager, animal health supply dealer, feed dealer, DHA representative, artificial inseminator or veterinarian.

Swanson's entry was validated by Nelson Howes, D.V.M., of St. Johns.

Mike Oberlander, vice-president of marketing for the firm, said there were "thousands of entries and judging was difficult. Any dairyman who won in this kind of competition should be very proud of himself and his dairy operation."

Swanson was one of 250 dairy farmers nationally to win a second-place award in the contest. There were 25 first place winners who were awarded a top halfer of the popular breed of their choice plus $100 of West products for herd health.

Company officials indicated that of the 25 first place winners, more than half were teenagers. The firm has announced that the second annual contest plans are currently underway.

Swanson, who has been a dairy farmer for 14 years, and his wife Doris have three children. They are Marsha, 9, a student at Riley Elementary School, Dana, 6, a student at Olce School and Jack, 1.

Saturday banking returns to Clinton

ST. JOHNS — Saturday banking has returned to St. Johns.

In recent announcements issued by both the Central National Bank and the Clinton National Bank and Trust Company, the banking firms have revised their weekday hours and have initiated a return to Saturday business hours.

The banks had been open Saturdays until June, 1969 when they extended Friday evening hours and dropped the Saturday service entirely.

Central National opened for business Saturday Oct. 23 as part of a service reorganization program.

The new hours for the main office lobby and the Southgate branch are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; and 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

The Drive-in service hours are 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Monday; 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday; and 8:30 to 1 p.m. on Saturday.

Central National's Ovid branch will have lobby and drive-in hours from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; and 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

The Pewamo branch will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Monday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday; 9 a.m. to 12 noon Thursday; 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday; and 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

The complete schedule for Clinton National, which starts Nov. 1, provides lobby banking service in St. Johns from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday; 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; walk-up service from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Lobby hours in the Valley Farms office are 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday. Drive-up teller service at Valley Farms is available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

In Elsie, new lobby hours extend from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday and from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. Drive-up service is 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday; 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Adise from the new walk-up service on Saturday, the Laingsburg office lobby hours are now 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday.

No change has been made in the Fowler office which continues a 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. schedule Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday.

Hours at all service locations were determined through the survey and appropriate schedules were applied.

In addition to these offices, Clinton National Bank also maintains mobile service at locations in Bath, Eureka, Hubbardston, Maple Rapids and Wacousta. The days and hours of the mobile unit schedule have not been affected by the changes.

Harold Wellman, president of Central National Bank, said a recent market survey of the Clinton County area indicated a need for additional banking hours, primarily on Saturdays.

"In addition, we spoke to every retailer in the community and they were unanimous in their desire for Saturday banking and the convenience it would provide for their customers," Wellman said.

"Central National Bank is always ready and anxious to provide the necessary banking services for St. Johns and the Clinton County area which it serves," he said.

It may present cause for adjustments on our part but the customer's convenience is our major concern.

"With the possibility of the increased application of the four-day work week, we believe a modification of traditional business hours is in the near future and we want to be among the first in banking circles to make these advances."

"The program of extended hours has been under consideration for some time," commented Brandon C. White, Jr., administrative vice-president of Clinton National. "We have seen an ever increasing trend toward a need for banking service during hours not normally associated with business activity. Our survey definitely supported the mobility of our customers as well as their desire to transact business during hours which would not interfere with their leisure or recreational time. We believe our 7 a.m. opening and extended evening hours is a unique service which will be of great convenience, immediately and in the months ahead."

Monday and Friday; walk-up service from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; auto drive-up service from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and Friday; drive-up from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; and drive-up from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Lobby hours in the Valley Farms office are 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday. Drive-up teller service at Valley Farms is available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

In Elsie, new lobby hours extend from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday and from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. Drive-up service is 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Friday; 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Adise from the new walk-up service on Saturday, the Laingsburg office lobby hours are now 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday.

No change has been made in the Fowler office which continues a 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. schedule Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday.

Hours at all service locations were determined through the survey and appropriate schedules were applied.

In addition to these offices, Clinton National Bank also maintains mobile service at locations in Bath, Eureka, Hubbardston, Maple Rapids and Wacousta. The days and hours of the mobile unit schedule have not been affected by the changes.

Harold Wellman, president of Central National Bank, said a recent market survey of the Clinton County area indicated a need for additional banking hours, primarily on Saturdays.

"In addition, we spoke to every retailer in the community and they were unanimous in their desire for Saturday banking and the convenience it would provide for their customers," Wellman said.

"Central National Bank is always ready and anxious to provide the necessary banking services for St. Johns and the Clinton County area which it serves," he said.

It may present cause for adjustments on our part but the customer's convenience is our major concern.

"With the possibility of the increased application of the four-day work week, we believe a modification of traditional business hours is in the near future and we want to be among the first in banking circles to make these advances."

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,
Van W. Hoag

The film, "Through Gates of Splendor", which depicts the story of five young missionaries who died at the hands of the savage Auca Indians in Ecuador, will be shown at Maple Rapids United Methodist Church on Oct. 31 at 7:30 p.m.

This is the authentic filmed story which stirred millions as it appeared in Life, Reader's Digest and the six books on the subject, and as it was reported over radio and television networks.

Much of the picture was photographed by the men themselves shortly before they were killed. Seen in the film, in addition to the five men and their wives, are Auca - "George", "Dellah", "Dayuma" and Rachel Saint, Betty Elliot and her daughter, Valerie, now living with the Auca killers.

There are scenes of Nate Saint's little airplane executing the amazing bucket drop, landing on the incredibly short sandbar which the men called "Palm Beach", the tree house, the ingenuity, the careful and dedicated preparation, the failure and subsequent victory as the two women were permitted to enter where the men were not.

Produced for the Auca Missionary Foundation, narrated by Betty Elliot, from whose books, "Through Gates of Splendor and The Savage, My Kinsman, the story was taken, this is one of the most remarkable missionary films ever made.

MRS. MICHAEL JOHN PUNG

Couple travel West following wedding rite

PEWAMO—St. Joseph's Catholic Church was the setting for the Saturday Oct. 23 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Karen Elaine Smith and Michael John Pung. Rev. Martin Miller performed the 1 p.m. double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with assorted colors of mums and gladiolus.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and chose a white satin gown designed with a high neckline, modified waistline, Bishop sleeves and an A-line skirt flowing into a chapel-length train. The bodice featured a bib-effect embossed with Venice lace as was the neckline, sleeve cuffs, and hemline. Venice lace motifs were scattered on the skirt. A Venice lace Juliet cap secured her elbow-length veil and she carried an assorted colored bouquet of mums, carnations and roses.

Mrs. Russell Manning of Westphalia was matron of honor and serving as bridesmaids were Barb Pung of Portland, sister of the groom, Maggie Droste of Westphalia, Sue Pung, of Portland, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Fowler, sister-in-law of the bride. The attendants wore gowns styled with a full A-line skirt, high stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves. Venice lace trimmed the collar, down and around the high waist-line, sleeves and a flat bow accented the waistline. Each wore a different color, emerald green, royal blue, gold, purple and wine red.

Henry Knoop served as best man and assisting groomsmen were Dan Smith of Pewamo, brother of the bride, Dave Pung of Portland, brother of the groom, Steve Smith of Pewamo, and Mike Smith of Pewamo, both brothers of the bride. Serving as ushers were Lawrence Smith and John Nurenberg.

A 5 p.m. dinner was held with a reception following at St. Mary's Hall in Westphalia for 500 guests.

Special guest at the wedding and reception were Mrs. Dora Smith and John Thelen, grandparents of the bride.

Following a wedding trip West, the new Mr. and Mrs. Pung will make their home at 332 Grant Street, Portland.

The couple are both 1967 graduates of Pewamo-Westphalia High School.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID HENRY

Sharolyn Mansfield weds David Henry

ST. JOHNS -- Sharolyn Ann Mansfield became the bride of David James Henry Saturday, Sept. 18 in a double ring ceremony performed in St. Johns Episcopal Church at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Hugh Banning officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with white mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard Kensinger of 4097 Meadowsweet Drive, Dayton, Ohio and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henry of 607 East Higham Street, St. Johns.

The bride was given in marriage by James Kensinger and chose a street-length white A-line dress of bonded knit trimmed with lace braid. A small white pillbox-style headpiece secured her short veil and she carried a nosegay of white mums and pink sweetheart roses.

David B. Valdez of Dayton, Ohio was matron of honor. She wore a blue street-length sleeveless dress trimmed in white and a headpiece scarf accented with white pearls. Complimenting her attire was a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. Special guests at the wedding and reception were Mrs. Mary Ann Richards of San Bernardino, Calif., grandmother of the bride, Lillian MacKenzie and Elizabeth MacKenzie, both of Omer, great aunts of the groom.

The new Mrs. Henry chose a bonded knit beige pantsuit with orange trim and brown accessories for travel on their wedding trip to Southern Michigan. They will make their home at 1957 Riverside Drive, Dayton, Ohio following their trip.

Student efforts span "Generation Gap"

"High school students worked hard to get St. Johns its large city park in the early 1900's, and two generations later it was again the labor of the town's young people that helped restore the park for community use," Kurt Becker, chairman of the St. Johns Park Board, told the local Woman's Club at their Oct. 20 meeting.

Two high school seniors, Cheryl Amstutz and Sharon Mazzolini, also told club members of their experiences of government-and-society-in-action during a week this past summer at Girls' State in Ann Arbor. As the 1971 recipients of the Club's Girls' State Scholarship Award, Cheryl and Sharon were selected on the basis of their outstanding performance and scholarship at St. Johns High School.

Giving a verbal picture of "Our Park", past, present, and future Mr. Becker recounted how the 60-acre wooded area was to be cleared for farming, had it not been purchased in 1916 by the city at the then going rate of $110 per acre. It now remains one of the last hardwood forests in this area.

The efforts of early adult campaigners for the parkland purchase, Mrs. DeWitt Hunt and Dr. Silsby who wrote numerous articles in the county newspaper, were strengthened by high school students who led a door-to-door campaign that eventually won the necessary public support.

Becker explained that the park had an active recreation program until about 7 or 8 years ago when a millage reduction necessitated an austerity program.

The Park Board was reactivated two or three years ago and the young people "pitched in" again to help paint, repair, and fix up areas that had been somewhat rundown and unavailable for public use.

"Now an estimated 1,000 to 1,500 people use the park during the summer months," Becker said, "and this includes such special gatherings as family reunions."

Newly-acquired state monies are to be used for such improvements as a senior citizen park, new playground equipment, and four new tennis courts which can be flooded for a skating rink later.

There are also projected plans to relight the existing softball diamond and eventually add a new one, to build new restroom facilities, a shelter, and a lighted shuffleboard court.

He noted that softball and tennis are "coming back very strong in St. Johns as recreational activities."

Returning to a quotation from the early newspaper articles by Dr. Silsby, who had chosen St. Johns as a good town for rearing a family, Mr. Becker reiterated that facilities for a good education, good recreation, and moral and religious advantages make a good community.

The next meeting of the St. Johns Woman's Club on Nov. 3 will be highlighted by a talk, "I'm Back From Drugs" by Hugh Dillon in the parlors of the Hoag Funeral Home, 409 S. Whittemore.

Guests are encouraged to attend this public education program.

From the State House One house

By REP. DICK ALLEN

I'm for a "one house" or "unicameral" legislature!

It's not because I share the common public opinion that the current legislature has completely failed the public. On the contrary, I believe we have done a respectable job, balancing the budget despite severe economic problems, passing a good many hot issues from divorce law reform to 18-year-old vote, and turning down many irresponsible proposals.

I do not hold the opinion of many that a major benefit of passing a "one house" proposal would be to get rid of the current load of hams in Lansing. There is little doubt the winners in the new government would be largely those who had served in the old. After all, they have proven themselves in at least one essential of a leader in a democracy, winning elections.

AS GOVERNMENTS GO, Michigan's is a good one. Not just compared to Hitler's Germany or Herod's Egypt. Compared to the other States and also to local and national government.

But being as good or a little better than the rest is not good enough. Governments are under attack from citizens of all political persuasions. Two big criticisms prevail.

Government is not responsive! It does not act despite widespread public support of action. Example: property tax relief and educational finance reform.

Legislators are not directly accountable! Example: Did property tax relief fail because of House Democrats, Senate Republicans, Ryan or Milliken? Under the present system, we all point our fingers at each other.

Members of our committee have visited Synanon, a successful drug treatment program in California, and have attended drug conferences in various parts of the country.

All this has been expensive, of course, but I think necessary. Finally, it has been productive. The House passed a very comprehensive drug bill affecting areas from law enforcement to physician's prescriptions.

Now THE BILL goes to the Senate. Should they just accept it on our word? Of course not. They should have subcommittees, hearings, fact-finding trips and expert testimony.

Eventually they will become sufficiently expert to act on the bill. Probably they will make some changes. No two groups are likely to perceive exactly the same solution. They will add some new twists that have come along since the House acted.

Then it goes back to the House for concurrence in the Senate amendments. You wouldn't want us to do that without some study now, would you? And if we don't agree 100 per cent, it goes to a conference committee. If they can agree on a compromise, this must then be passed by both the House and the Senate.

In most cases, by the time it goes this far an election has come up and all pending legislation is wiped off the books and new faces appear on the House and Senate committees dealing with drug legislation.

WHAT DO WE DO? Begin a study, of course, with hearings, fact-finding trips... Need more said? Michigan citizens heed a Unicameral Legislature.

A "one house" system would be more responsive, able to act within a more reasonable period of time. Let's take an example. I have been on the House Public Health Committee since I came to Lansing. For all this time Michigan has had a drug problem. Legislation in this area is rather technical, requiring a lot of study. We had a special subcommittee that worked for over proponents argues that the "protective" work laws are more often used to discriminate against employment or promotion of women than to protect them.

The amendment will become part of the Constitution only if approved by a two-thirds vote of the Senate and by the legislatures of 38 states.

Senate consideration is not expected until next year.

In other action on Capitol Hill last week, the House Education and Labor Committee reported legislation to boost the $1.60 minimum wage for about 35 million Americans to $2.00 an hour on January 1, 1972.

THE BILL WOULD raise the minimum wage for another 10 million employees who came under jurisdiction of the minimum wage law in 1966 to $1.80 January 1 and $2.00 a year later.

The bill would also raise the minimum wage for about half a million agricultural workers to $1.50 in January and $1.70 a year later.

Scheduled for action this week in the House is a joint resolution regarding the school lunch and breakfast programs for needy children, and a motion to go to conference with the Senate on the military procurement authorization.

Also scheduled: Higher Education Act; Uniform Services, Health Professions Revitalization Act; Environmental Pesticide Control Act; Alaskan Natives Land Claims Settlement.

More protection

GARY BROWN
U.S. REPRESENTATIVE

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The House acted last week to create a Consumer Protection Agency to give the consumer a greater voice in Federal Government proceedings. And, it approved a constitutional amendment urged by women's groups for half a century giving women equal legal rights with men.

The purpose of the consumer's protection legislation is to give the consumer a voice in Federal proceedings where business interests argue that they should be given rate increases or that they are not guilty of violating Federal laws enacted to protect the consumer.

The bill would establish a Consumer Protection Agency in the Executive Branch and grant it powers to intervene as a party—with power to present testimony, cross-examine witnesses and appeal decisions—in formal proceedings before Federal agencies, except where the agencies are seeking "primarily" to impose a penalty on a person or company violating Federal law.

The protection agency could not intervene in informal preliminary investigations by regulatory agencies.

AN AMENDMENT OFFERED on the House floor (the so-called Moorhead Amendment) which would have empowered the consumer agency to take part in more formal proceedings and would have allowed it to oversee certain informal proceedings, was defeated, 218-160.

This legislation now goes to the Senate.

Also given approval last week was a women's rights constitutional amendment. The vote was 354-23, far in excess of the two-thirds majority required.

In seeking equal rights for women, the bill's sponsors successfully opposed a provision to exempt women from the draft and work laws protecting the health and safety of women workers.

Redwings crush Hastings 13-8

By TOM DEWITT Co-Editor

HASTINGS-The Redwings have a little surprise for Grand Ledge Friday night. "We're going to give them their first league loss," says Coach Ernie Becker. "It's the biggest game of the year for us."

What? The Redwings win at home? It could be. Last Friday night the team finally got it together and surprised Hastings 13-8. In fact, they didn't just beat them to win their second league game. They dominated the entire game!

THEY HELD THE Saxons to just 52 yards on the ground and 30 yards through the air or a total of 82 yards. That's pretty darn good in anybody's book. But when you throw the fact in that Hastings, until this game, was the league's total offense king, it's even more impressive. "Their return yardage on punts and kickoffs made the score as close as it was," said Becker. "But we stopped their balanced attack."

Hastings' Heath scored all the points for the Saxons, a touchdown on a 90-yard punt return, with three minutes left in the game and the two point PAT. "Our defense was supreme," Becker said.

REDWINGS' SCORING came in the first half, with about two seconds showing on the clock, when Ken Schueller passed 10 yards to Carry Rappuhn for the score. Dean Eberhard kicked the extra point.

In the third quarter, Bruce Cameron scored on a 10 yard run off tackle. This time, Eberhard kick was no good.

Cameron's score capped the finest night he has had this season. The junior tailback had an outstanding night picking up 113 yards in 20 carries to lead the rushing. George Rosner added 50 yards in 15 carries and Gary Mankey picked up 27 yards in 10 carries. Even Schueller had a good night on the ground, as he picked up

AND TWO OF those passes were third down, long yardage plays.

"Our offense moved well because the line was really moving them out," Becker said. "Everybody was charged up. Our backs ran the hardest they have yet this year."

Defensively, the Redwings did everything right. In holding the Saxons to 82 yards, Randy Devereaux recovered a fumble, Bob Elliott blocked a punt and Schueller intercepted a pass.

Gary Koehnigknecht was the day head hunter as he had 11 solo tackles. Devereaux had seven.

22 yards in seven carries. The Redwings had 210 yards on the ground.

He had a better night in the air, hitting four of seven pass attempts 60 yards. His favorite target was Rappuhn, who caught three of the four passes for 46 yards and a touchdown.

Bruce Irish did an outstanding job and so did Bob Hunter, who was filling for an ailing Kevin Hayes.

HASTINGS HAD led the league in total offense until they met St. Johns, Grand Ledge, second in offense and league leaders, beat the Saxons 7-6.

"Our boys were really fired up, right down to the managers,"

Becker said. "Everybody really worked together. And if we keep on playing inspired ball, we are going to be right in there."

The Redwings come home Friday night to meet Grand Ledge.

It will be homecoming, and probably the best game of the season. Game time is 8 p.m.

DeWitt destroys Fowler 42-2

By TIM YOUNKMAN Co-Editor

DeWITT-Fowler discovered the meaning of frustration Friday night when they ran into the DeWitt Panthers.

The Panthers, who walked away with a 42-2 victory, put the night's trend in motion when Ron Wilcox gathered in an Eagle punt on his own 15-yard-line with 5:50 to go in the first quarter. Wilcox slipped in and out of the Eagle defense for an 85 yard touchdown. Ron Brown picked up the two extra points on a run.

Wilcox spurred another Panther score with 3:24 left in the half. Wilcox, the DeWitt quarterback, flipped a 19 yard pass to Ron Brown who scampered into the end zone. Wilcox added the two-point conversion to give DeWitt a 16-0 lead at halftime.

At this point, Fowler was not out of the game, but when the teams lined up for the second half kickoff, no one in the park knew what was about to happen.

With 8:30 left in the quarter, Wilcox rolled out and hit Chuck Berkimer on a 20-yard scoring play. Berkimer, a standout on defense and backup quarterback, has been used sparingly as a receiver.

Three minutes later Wilcox tossed a 35-yard bomb to Tony Vetraino. Inside three minutes, the Panthers had put the game on ice.

But they weren't through with Fowler. Only 34 seconds after Wilcox threw the TD bomb to Vetraino, the Panther quarterback flipped another scoring toss to Kent Wolfe who lateraled to Vetraino after being bottled up. Vetraino dashed 22 yards for another TD. Brown dove in for the two-point conversion.

DeWitt put the final touches on Fowler in the last quarter when Wilcox passed to Randy Pitts for a 20 yard scoring play with 3:44 remaining. Wilcox passed for five touchdowns, scored one himself and added two points on a conversion.

Fowler managed to get on the scoreboard with 11:08 in the fourth period when Wilcox was trapped in the end zone for a safety.

The win was DeWitt's best showing of the 1971 season and keeps them in a four-way tie for first place in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference. DeWitt, Laingsburg, Pewamo-Westphalia and Potterville all have 3-1 league records.

DeWitt Coach Tom Isanhart said he was proud of his squad. He noted that Tom Ashley picked up his seventh interception and Berkimer grabbed his sixth.

"We had a good night," Isanhart said. "Fowler played a good game during the first half, but after they got behind they let down. We came out and had a good third quarter."

DeWitt will face Portland St. Patrick Friday night. "If we win, we will be assured of co-championship in the CMAC," Isanhart said. "They will be real tough. We can't afford to overlook them." St. Pat's has a 3-3 record.

Service Personnel

Army Specialist Five JAMES A. SIMPSON JR., son of Mrs. Patricia A. Moore, 315 E. Main Street, DeWitt, is participating with more than 11,000 troops in exercise reforger III in Germany. He is a soils analyst in Headquarters Company, 1st Engineer Battalion of the 1st Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan. His father, Major James A. Simpson Sr., is stationed at Ft. Dix, N.J. His wife, Jerri, lives in Millford, Kan.

THE BIG RED ONE division consists of three brigades. The 1st and 2nd brigades are based at Ft. Riley and the 3rd brigade is permanently stationed at Augsburg, Germany.

The men of the 1st and 2nd brigades, with support units, flew to Germany to join the 3rd and move to the exercise area extending from Munich to near the Czechoslovakian border. Emphasis in the exercise was placed on testing procedures for receiving, assembling and deploying army units, once they arrived, rather than on rapid air transport from the U.S.

In the field maneuver phase of the exercise, units of the 1st Infantry Division and the Canadian 4th mechanized battle group engaged in simulated combat with the Aggressor Forces of the U.S. 1st Armored Division (regularly stationed in Germany) and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Exercise Reforger III is the third annual operation in the series. The exercises are designed to fulfill U.S. commitments to NATO and those made in the 1967 Trilateral agreement between the U.S., the United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany.

Army Private CHARLES E. PIERCE, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Pierce, 314 Wilson St., DeWitt, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Ft. Campbell, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

Pvt. Pierce is a 1966 graduate of DeWitt High School, and received his B.S. degree in 1971 from Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Business notes By MIKE PREVILLE News Advertising Manager

Purdue, Notre Dame and DeWitt. All three teams were the victim of the upset bug. Lynda Simon of St. Johns figured like most fans and picked Purdue and Notre Dame but she selected Chicago.

Her winning entry in the County News' Football Contest had just the two wrong and so Lynda takes home the $20.00 and earns the title of "Football Expert."

Cindy Thornton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thornton of St. Johns, is an "Expert," too. Cindy is an 8th grader who has been entering the contest for the last four years should have won the contest last week.

She didn't because she is an avid football fan.

Oh, she had her entry all filled out and was going to bring it to the News' office but rather than going straight home after school she watched the 8th grade boys play football. And when she arrived home, much later, she was grounded.

All during the weekend she kept track of her teams. . . 15 of 16 won. That was the week over 20 people tied with two wrong. So, while we can't award Cindy any money. . . we can give her the honorary title of "Football Expert."

Another winner this week was Jerry Livingston of St. Johns. Jerry won the men's snowmobile suit given away during the Open House at Dunkel Snowmobiles.

Did you ever feel betwixt and between? Kind of out of it? We were on our recent visit to Grandma's in Royal Oak.

We decided to go out one evening. Out to dinner and for a little dancing. Dinner was fine. . . but then the problems began.

After a fine meal we rang the buzzer at the Royal Oak Elks Club. We had been there a few times and, always had an enjoyable time. The crowd had always been a mixed one and the music very good.

Not that time.

Not that we don't like Lawrence Welk type music or are prejudiced against "old folks" but I swear we were the only couple under 60. . . and we felt just a little out of place.

The Big M was happy but kept at her to find a "livelier" spot.

So we left and after stopping at a couple spots to no avail I asked where there was a nice place with a good band.

The doorman (or bouncer) of the very plush place we had wandered into suggested either down Woodard a couple of miles or if I returned with a jacket he would let us in.

We went down Woodard a couple of miles. We found the action. "Where it's at" and all that. The place was packed. The band was loud. So loud we had to write our order on a napkin. . . all communication in the place was either written or sign language.

And some of the language being used on the dance floor would be censored in a newspaper. I never knew the human body had so many moving parts.

During a rare moment of quiet (the band lost their place) Alice said or rather hollered. . . "I'd rather be the youngest couple in the place rather than the oldest."

And we were the oldest. By a good 10 years.

And then a strange aroma was picked up by the Big M. The music was back so she wrote me a note. It said. . . "I smell pot. We're leaving."

So we did.

She told me the State Police had given a program at PTA about drugs and the Trooper had lit (not smoked) some marijuana and that's how she knew.

I wonder where the 30 year olds hang out?

OVID-ELSIE — The explosion came in the second quarter. In a sloppy, rain-soaked clash Friday night, the Ovid-Elsie Marauders splashed past previously unbeaten Corunna 15-0 and all of the scoring came in the second quarter.

The Marauders built up the suspense near the end of the first quarter when they took a punt on their own 45 yard line. Backs Glen Bensinger and Gary Groom started the drive on a series of off-tackle runs, picking up two first downs to the 28-yard-line. Gordon Baker scampered for 11 more yards around right end and quarterback Tom Kirinovic hit Bensinger with a pass good to the one-yard-line before time ran out in the period.

On the first play of the second quarter, Kirinovic smashed through Corunna's defense for the TD. Bill Foran kicked his 11th straight extra point to bring the Marauders to a 7-0 lead.

The Marauders' second touchdown came with 1:26 left to play in the first half. The score capped a 97-yard drive that started after Foran had picked off a pass on the Corunna three-yard-line. With a mixed attack, O-E drove to the Corunna six-yard-line where Bensinger carried the ball over for the TD. Halfback Charles Miller flipped a pass to end Rich McCreery for the two-point conversion.

It was an unusual second half. Corunna came out throwing and didn't let up. The Cavaliers ran only once during the whole second half with the rest of the attack coming via the air route.

But Corunna had its share of problems. Ron Mead picked up an interception for Ovid-Elsie halting one drive and the charging line caught Corunna quarterback for huge losses to offset any advance.

Corunna came up with the worst of it in the injury department, too. The Cavaliers lost two of their halfbacks before the end of the first half. Ovid-Elsie lost the services of Bensinger for most of the second half, but team doctor A. H. Saunders said that all the hurts were minor and the Marauders will be healthy when they face Chesaning Friday night. Ovid-Elsie is now assured of at least a tie in the Mid-Michigan B Conference and a win at Chesaning would give the Marauders undisputed claim to the title for the second consecutive season. Ovid-Elsie's Frank Quine led the defense with eight solo tackles while Dan Egbert, Rob Nethaway and Randy Loynes each had seven. Foran picked off two Cavalier passes and Mead had one. Lynn Webster added a fumble recovery to the defensive attack. The Marauders picked up 208 yards on the ground against the second best defense in the league and added 43 yards through the air on six completions.

O-E collected 13 first downs compared with 10 for Corunna. The Little Marauders didn't have as good a time last week as the Corunna JV's downed O-E 20-12. Jim Lawrence and Larry Bush scored the touchdowns for Ovid-Elsie. The JV's will play Chesaning at the Ovid-Elsie field Thursday night starting at 7:30 p.m.

Pirates dumped by "forgotten" Armada

By TIM YOUNKMAN

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA—The Pirate fans sat in stunned silence Friday night as the visitors rolled over their hometown boys 26-8.

"They (the fans) seemed to overlook Armada on the schedule," Coach Bill Marks explained. But Armada, the leaders in the Southern Thumb League, came to play football.

"We did a good job," Marks said. "But we were playing way over our head." He described the school as a small class B, the only class B school on Pewamo-Westphalia's schedule. Marks said the score did not indicate the caliber of play on the part of both teams. "They intercepted just before the half and went in for a touchdown," Marks said. "We did not win, but did a fair job against them. We made a couple of mistakes in key situations."

The crowd was stunned in the first quarter when Armada scored on a pass from Bill Zebellian to Dave Spencer, covering one yard. Spencer booted the extra point.

In the second quarter Armada's Mike Ku added six more points on a 10 yard run. The conversion failed, but the visitors had nailed down a 13-0 lead at halftime.

Armada picked up the pace in the final quarter when Zebellian passed again to Spencer for a 25-yard TD play. The conversion attempted was blocked by the Pirates, but Armada was not finished.

Tim Rusk capped another drive on a one yard run. Spencer added another point with the conversion.

Pewamo-Westphalia finally gave the crowd something to cheer about when quarterback Roy Piggott tossed a 67-yard bomb to Doug Walter for a touchdown. Piggott flipped a pass to Dan Jones for the conversion.

The Pirates made a respectable showing in the statistical war gaining 131 yards on the ground and 143 yards in the air on five completions in 15 pass attempts. P-W managed 11 first downs.

Armada collected 16 first downs and gained 242 yards rushing and 145 yards passing on nine completions in 22 attempts. The alert visitors picked off three P-W passes while the Pirates grabbed a one.

It was P-W's second loss of the season and they have four wins to their credit. The Pirates remain tied with DeWitt, Potterville and Laingsburg for the Central Michigan Athletic Conference championship title.

The Pirates will host the Laingsburg Wolfpack Friday night in what amounts to an elimination round in the championship drive.

"They have a good ball club and have scored lots of points," Marks said. They have "good backs and ends," and he wasn't exactly sure how he would defend against the potent attack. "We will try about everything. This is our biggest game, a must game."

Marks said he would like to see Laingsburg come out throwing against the Pirates. P-W has had one of the better pass defenses in the league.

He said he hoped Al Fedewa would play as well against Armada. Fedewa picked up seven solo tackles and assisted on nine others. Fedewa was also credited with blocking a punt. Marks was glad to see him back after suffering a bad ankle sprain earlier in the season.

P-W FHA attends conference

By VALERIE HILL
P-W High School

The Pewamo-Westphalia Chapter of Future Homemakers is neither a small or idle Chapter. The membership is approximately 75, and they are getting their activities rolling.

The chapter elected its new officers for the 1971-72 year. They are: Anne Bengal, president; Patty Noeker, vice-president; Wendy Trierweiler, treasurer; Cindy Pohl, secretary; Colleen Kohagen, entertainment leader; Kathy Smith, Plantist; Susan Schmitz, Points Chairman; and Valerie Hill, reporter.

On October 16 representatives from the P-W chapter went to Corunna for a Region 8 meeting. Attending also were girls from the Fowler, Dansville, Perry, Michigan School for the Blind, and Holt Chapters to name a few.

THE GIRLS REGISTERED at 8:30. At 9 we were welcomed by Mr. Duane Ash, principal of Corunna High School and an FHA welcome from the 1971-72 State President, Vicki Hashbarger.

P-W had two girls running for a regional office. Entered were Susan Schmitz for Reporter, and Valerie Hill for Vice-president. Talking on the goals and enthusiasm needed to become good FHA members were two special speakers. They were Ellen Stewart, a past regional secretary, and Laurie Jackson, our 1970-71 Ex-State President.

After lunch was the presentation of awards and announcement of the new officers. Pewamo-Westphalia won two awards. The chapter won a plaque and a blue ribbon for their exhibit. They also won second prize, of a red ribbon, for their chapter scrap book.

And then happiness reigned as the new 1971-72 Region officers were announced. P-W's Valerie Hill is now the new Vice-President. Following the announcement the old officers gave their farewell and installed the new officers.

P-W Homecoming a success

By VALERIE HILL
P-W High School

Excitement was at its peak Friday, Oct. 15. Pewamo-Westphalia rolled to another victory here over Portland St. Pat's, 24-6.

A riotous Activity week was capped by a pep rally Friday afternoon and Homecoming Festivities in the evening. This year was one of the best Homecomings ever. The P-W marching band played beautifully the theme from Love Story as the revue of club cars and class floats passed in front of the stands.

The cars carried representatives from the Performing Arts Company, Girls' Athletic Association, Future Nurses Association, Future Homemakers of America Chapter, and the Varsity Cheerleaders.

RIDING ON THE floats were four girls each from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. Sitting elegantly upon the senior float were Joyce Fedewa, Kim Ludwick, Lynette (Pete) Pline, Donna Smith, Ruth Thelen and last year's queen, Linda Platte.

The very high point came when the announcer proclaimed that the new 1971-72 Homecoming Queen was Ruth Thelen. Screams and whoops of joy were heard from every corner. Linda Platte, the 1970-71 queen crowned a very ecstatic Ruth.

Also announced was the winner of the first and second prize floats. The junior class won first prize of $15 and the senior class won $10 for second prize.

Special guests attending the game were the girls and boys of the Pewamo Elementary School Service Squad and Safety Patrol.

Clinton officials invited

KALAMAZOO — Township officials in the Third Congressional District, which includes Clinton County, will be meeting in the Kalamazoo County Center Building at the fair grounds Oct. 28.

The Michigan Township Association said 420 officials from the five county district have been invited to attend the meeting, billed as an educational affair.

Congressman, legislators, county, state and federal officials are expected to be on hand to discuss items such as election laws, assessing, boards of review, planning commissions, and zoning.

A 40 x 5 ft. photo mural has been mounted on the west wall of the auditorium in the St. Johns Municipal building after being part of the Clinton National Bank decor for nearly 17 years. The mural was a gift of the bank and officials from the city and Clinton National examine its new location. From left, Brandon C. White, Jr., administrative vice president and Ink White, president. Speedway. The only sports snowmobile of its kind made in the U.S.A.

Speedway. Completely new. It's unlike anything on the market. It's as snowmobile as a snowmobile can be. But it's more. It's a snowmobile built in the tradition of Ferrari, Corvette and Jaguar. A sports machine with flair and integrity. In design. In engineering. In performance! Speedway. America's first true sport snowmobile. It's a snowmobile with decidedly crisp, clean, and functional lines. Its styling and pacesetting engineering share as much design finesse with Italy as with California. As you'd expect from a thoroughbred, you get fiscal integrity. You get a speedometer and tachometer. Standard. A fuel gauge. Standard. Dual sprocket track drive. Standard. Ram-air induction hood with racing lock pins. Standard. Slider suspension. Standard. Shock absorber ski suspension. Standard. There's even an adjustable thumb/hand throttle control. You guessed it. Standard. The slide rail suspension, plus the quad-leaf/shock absorber ski suspension means agility. The Speedway carves through slaloms like clay and comes out as straight as a Trevino tee shot. Power bounds throughout the three model line but dyed-in-the-wool competitors will really respond to the nearly limitless power in the Speedway 650. Fantastico! Now if all this doesn't trigger a flow of adrenalin, maybe you'd better look over the entire 3 model line. 340, 440, and 650. Buy any other snowmobile and all you get is today's snowmobile. Buy a Speedway and you get a piece of tomorrow.

Indian Guide program inaugurated

ST. JOHNS --The Indians are massing to the north of St. Johns. There are tribes of Sioux, Chippewa and Huron, but don't be alarmed. They are friendly.

It is all part of a new drive in the St. Johns area to expand the St. Johns YMCA Indian Guide program.

The local tribes sponsored an induction ceremony at Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club Saturday complete with bonfires and canoes.

The initial three Indian Guide tribes, called the Sioux, Chippewa and Huron, were formed last spring and will be formally inducted in the Indian-theme ceremony by YMCA guide authorities from Lansing's Mich-I-Lan Federation.

It was quite an affair, complete with tom-toms, peace pipes and authentic Indian costumes.

The three tribal chiefs for the ceremony were Bob Ntemi of the Sioux, Ray Signs of the Chippewa and Bill Escher of the Huron. The three men said they are working for the addition of more tribes and that the groups can be started soon. That way, St. Johns would be able to form its own Nation this fall.

Fathers with sons in kindergarten through second grade interested in joining this "fun-learning" experience based on traditional American Indian themes are urged to contact one of the chiefs locally or contact the Lansing YMCA.

Tribal meetings are held weekly where dads and sons join in for games, stories and crafts. Each meeting is hosted by families in rotation, and treats are provided for the Big and Little Braves at the end of the "pow-wow." The men indicated that it is a good way for father and son to get to know each other and work together.

The Indian Guide movement did not just happen, according to a bulletin issued by the local tribes. It came about as the result of deliberate planning to help the American father become a "pal" of his own son at the boy's early age.

The movement began in St. Louis, Mo., in 1921, when Lansing F. Smith and the late Frank Cheley of Denver, Colo., compiled the "Father and Son Library." These books stimulated wide interest in the father and son relationship and made clear the need for a program that would bring dads and their boys into better companionship.

In 1925, Harold S. Keltner brought from Canada an Ojibway Indian, Joe Friday, who stayed several years as a member of the staff of the St. Louis YMCA. Talks and lectures by Joe Friday were enthusiastically attended and Keltner came up with the idea of the Indian Guide program.

Meeting set for Ovid scouts

OVID--A meeting has been scheduled Thursday at 7 p.m. for all boys ages eight to 11 or in the third grade who are interested in joining the Cub Scouts in the Ovid Area.

Those interested in adult leadership, including den mothers, cub master and Webelos leaders, will be recruited.

The meeting is set for the Ovid East Elementary School with all parents and new and registered Cub Scouts attending. The purpose of the meeting is to register new Cubs and assign registered Cubs to dens. The pack cannot operate successfully and obtain the three "Aims of Scouting"—character, citizenship and fitness—unless leaders volunteer their time and effort to the youngsters. The group is the Cub Scout Pack 576 of Ovid.

ranged from a minimum of four per cent to a high of 9.7 per cent.

Other areas that were changed slightly were teaching hours and class loads, illness and disability benefits, payable extras, insurance and the school calendar.

"I feel pretty good about it," Kenney said. "We were a little lower in the BA area than some of the other districts, but I think we were generally right in line." Kenney said he was happy that the negotiations are finally over, at least until next spring.

Kenney said he would still handle the negotiating chores for the board. There had been some speculation that an assistant would take over the contract talks. "We discussed that possibility, but the negotiations will still be carried on by the superintendent."

The O-E superintendent said he would start the talks earlier next spring, in an effort to bring about an early teacher settlement. "I was at a disadvantage coming into the talks late," he said.

Kenney replaced former Supt. Robert Beauchamp who resigned during the summer. Kenney was hired as the superintendent in August.

The Ovid-Elsie contracts leave three school districts unsigned in Clinton County, St. Johns, Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia teachers are still working under last year's contracts, but, so far, none of the three educational associations have threatened to strike.

4-H winter program begins

The county 4-H winter program is now underway with many of the clubs holding their organizational meetings, electing officers, signing up for projects and making plans for the new year. Other clubs which have not started yet will be getting underway soon as the enrollment deadline is November 16.

During the past several weeks I have been meeting with a number of club leaders regarding their fall programs, club enrollment and projects they will be offering to the youth in that club. The Victor 4-H club will be offering winter projects for boys this year as well as the clothing, knitting and crocheting for girls.

Mrs. Darwin Curtis is serving as the organizational leader and is working hard securing enough adult volunteers to handle the number of youth wishing to join. The Green Clover Community club will be offering Snowmobile as a new project along with knitting and handicraft. Donna Bishop is back at the helm of the club again.

I have had several adult men wishing to work with a club in St. Johns and Ovid area. As soon as we know the project areas they wish to work with we will try to establish some new boys clubs in these areas. Any youth wishing to enroll should contact the County Extension Office in St. Johns.

FIVE CLINTON county 4-H Teen Leaders attended the state wide 4-H Teen Leader Workshop October 22-23 at Camp Kett. They were Elizabeth Curtis of Lansingburg, Virginia Cordes, Lansing; Debbie Thelen, Stuart Hazle and Cathy Howell of St. Johns. They participated in sessions with 120 other Teen Leaders from throughout the state on learning how to be creative, telling the 4-H story, looking at 4-H club problems, how do we teach, and developing county wide Teen Leader activities.

O-E brownie investiture held

OVID--Brownie Troop 473 held its Investiture Oct. 12. Candle lights and autumn decorations greeted Kim Case, Julie Dantale, Lilly Durham, Dawn Pray, Beth Anne Stinson, Shelly Taylor, Paula Thayer, Jill Wakefield, and Mary Jo St. John.

Brenda Hughes and Sherry Lunquist escorted each girl over the bridge and to the pond where Scarlett Hill and Tammy Kiger served as trees over the pond. Each girl recited the Brownie Rhyme. After receiving their pin from Lisa Smith and Jenny Bovan they also recited the Brownie Promise.

After all new Brownies were invested, the color guard was ordered to advance by leader, Mrs. Beverly Bovan. Members absent due to illness were Kenda Winkler and Connie Warfle.

Following the ceremonies, refreshments were served by co-leader Mrs. Sandra Case.

9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

That should tell you a lot about the cars we sell.

Whether you own a big or small car, pay a little or a lot, the one thing you don't need from a car is trouble. You want a car that will hold up. A car that's built to last.

Well, we're with you. Just look at this figure: 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road. This includes all the various owners, any kind of terrain, and numbers of miles. But every Chrysler is designed and built the way you want it—to last. So even if you won't be keeping a car for years and years, it's good to know you've got all that quality going for you in your first year as well as in later years.

Every Chrysler Imperial is road-tested at the factory.

If our cars aren't right, we don't want you to have them. For example, every Imperial is put through a road test at the factory that includes over 100 different checks before it reaches you. This year every Chrysler car offers a new optional electronic ignition system that does away with the points and condenser that can wear out. This helps keep the engine tuned longer. And a tuned engine means cleaner exhaust.

From our lowest-priced Chrysler Royal to our big, luxurious Imperial, Chrysler cars are built to last. The same is true of every Chrysler-engineered car we sell—Valiant, Duster, Cricket, Satellite and Fury. We think that's the kind of car America wants. That's the kind of car we'd like to show you. Come see us today.

Meet elementary grade counselors

ST. JOHNS — Counseling and guidance for St. Johns students is not something that begins in the junior high school level. It starts much lower. At the elementary level.

Michigan Guidance and Personnel Association.

All of the counselors at St. Johns are certified through special training in counseling.

In last week's Clinton County News, a new column was inaugurated by the St. Johns Counseling staff. It appears again in this week's edition. Also in last week's edition, the high school and junior high counseling staff was introduced.

This week, you can meet the elementary counselors.

Walter Nickel—With 38 years of experience, including 18 of them at St. Johns, Walter Nickel likes children. "I always have," he says. "I feel that being a counselor will give me an opportunity to help those who need it. I believe that guidance and counseling is just as necessary in elementary grades as it is in high school."

NICKEL HAS AB degree from Eastern Michigan University in math and science and MA degree from the U. of M. He also has a school administrative specialist degree from Michigan State University and has been taking classes for the past two years in counseling and guidance.

He has 10 years experience in the Ida system as teacher, principal and superintendent, 10 years at Marlette, as high school principal and 1 year teaching math and science at St. Johns, 11 years as principal of the Central School, and six years as an administrative assistant, including two years as director of a federally funded program in elementary counseling.

Ralph Conine—He is presently in his fifth year of elementary counseling at St. Johns and he has nine years experience in the classroom. He has a BA degree in Bible and Psychology from Bluffton College and received his teaching certificate and counselor certification from MSU. He spent two years as assistant director of region 8 Department of Classroom Teachers, and two years as director. He is a member of the Michigan Elementary Counselors Association and the

Allen donates pay hike

LANSING—State Representative Richard Allen (R-Ithaca) is donating his legislative pay increase to charities and other good causes in the 88th House district.

He made this announcement Tuesday as he presented a personal check for $300 to Gratiot County United Fund Director Jerry Carvey at a U.F. report luncheon in Ithaca.

With a little humor Allen said he hoped no one would conclude that he "didn't deserve the raise or that he had not earned it. "This has been the toughest session I have been through yet," he observed.

REPRESENTATIVE ALLEN gave two main reasons for his decision to make the donations. First, he said, he is in support of the wage price freeze, but in sympathy with teachers and other workers who had been denied a scheduled increase because it fell at the wrong end of the year.

"Secondly," said Allen, "I'm not asking for sainthood or anything for doing this. It's just that both JoAnn and I work, and we have concluded that $2,000 is a reasonable level of donations for us. No doubt many others do as much."

The legislative pay raise had brought about some controversy early in the session. The $2,000 donated by Allen would be the total increase in his wages since he first took office in January of 1969.

ALLEN SAID the remainder of the donations would be announced at a later date.

Counselor's Corner Career counseling Inside school counseling

The elementary counseling program in the St. Johns Public Schools started with a federally financed project in September of 1967. The program operated for three years in selected elementary schools. One counselor was employed during the first year and two for the second and third years. They were Ralph Conine and Persis Cortright.

When the federally funded program closed in June of 1970, The Board of Education, encouraged by a group of concerned parents, decided to continue the program on a limited basis with one elementary counselor. This year Walter Nickel is employed as an elementary counselor, making two full-time people serving in the elementary schools.

Mr. Conine works mainly in Central and Perrin Palmer elementary schools and "on call" at East Ward and Swegles. Mr. Nickel is assigned to the Riley School and the Rodney B. Wilson sixth grade. He is "on call" at East Olive, Essex and Eureka Schools.

It is believed that counseling in the elementary schools is just as important, and in some ways more so, than in the junior and senior high schools. The chances for successfully helping a child who is not doing well in school are greater in the early school years since habits are not so well established as they are later. Children who will have problems can be identified very early in school. The sooner they can be helped, the greater are the chances for a successful school experience.

It should be emphasized that counselors are available to all children—not just those who have difficulties. Help can be given to these students in vocational and job information, special projects in subject matter areas, where to find information, etc.

Mr. Conine and Mr. Nickel spend the greater share of their time talking with students, both individually and in small groups. Much time is also spent talking with parents and teachers. Both counselors feel that helping a child effectively is a team effort that involves the child, the parent, the teacher, the principal and the counselor. Hopefully the counselor will be able to help both parents and teachers better understand their children and their problems.

This year a concerted effort is being made by all counselors, elementary and secondary, to improve communication with parents. Plans are being made to form some parent groups to develop a better understanding of children. Parents are urged to take every opportunity to meet with counselors and teachers.

Another important activity of the elementary counselor is referring children and parents to other agencies for help. Some children have emotional-psychological problems which are too serious for the counselor to handle. These cases are referred to the Mental Health Clinic at Clinton Memorial Hospital. Counselors can help in making appointments. Children who are severely disturbed emotionally may be referred to the Lincoln School in Lansing. Some children are also referred to pediatricians and psychiatrists. There are other places where physically handicapped children may be referred.

Parents are urged to see their child's teacher and counselor as quickly as possible if satisfactory progress is not being made. If children are to be helped effectively, cooperation between the home and school is essential. The counselor is in a good position to bring parents and teachers together. Counselors are at your service and they hope parents will call them for help.

There are about 2100 elementary students and two counselors. Because of the lack of more personnel, it is difficult to do much in the area of vocational and job information and generally working with students who are doing well in school but who might be challenged by counseling to do more. It is hoped that in the future the Board of Education will be able to employ enough counselors to adequately cover all of the elementary schools.

All counselors are specially certified under the new law effective July 1971. This law stipulates that any person entering the field of counseling after July 1971 must possess a MA degree in guidance and counseling from an approved program. In addition they must also possess a teaching certificate and have a minimum of 3 years teaching experience.

Ashley senior heart victim

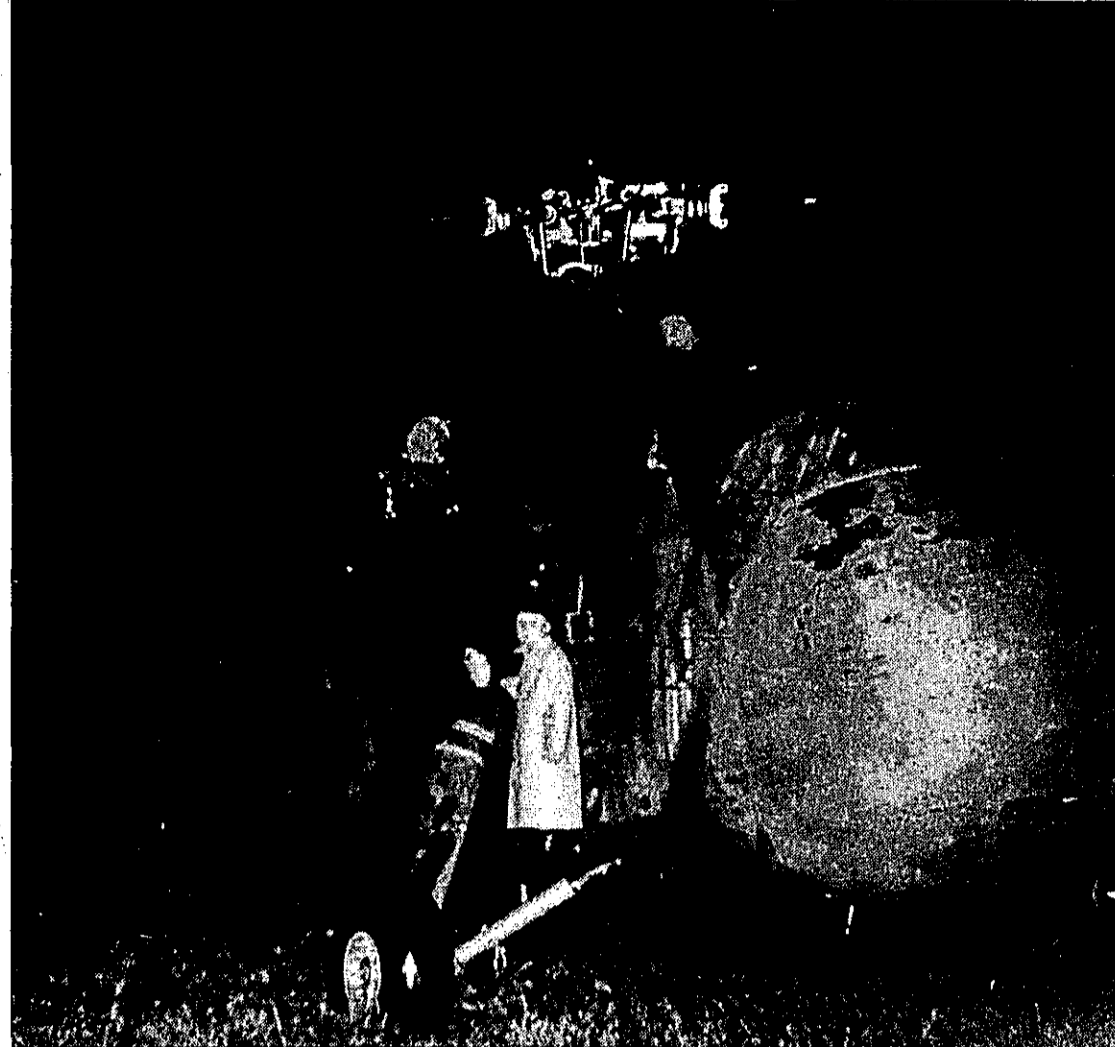

ELSIE—Funeral services were held Friday for a 17-year-old Ashley High School senior who collapsed at his home Oct. 19 and died of an apparent heart attack.

Dean Rader Hendry, 20687 Cupp Road, Elsie, was buried at Hillcrest Memorial Gardens after services at the Jennings-Lyons Chapel in Owosso with Dr. Ivan O. Gonser officiating.

He was born in Owosso May 15, 1954 and was the son of Rader E. and Mary Hendry. He resided most of his life in this community.

He participated in the Future Farmers of America program at Ashley High School and was the FFA treasurer this year. He had been a varsity basketball player, a two-year veteran of the baseball team and was participating in his first season on the Ashley varsity football team. At the same time, he carried a 3.6 grade point average in his academic studies.

He is survived by his mother; three half-brothers, Darrell of Forest, Miss., Milton of Columbus, Miss., and William Gould at home; one half-sister, Molly Gould, at home; and his grandmother, Mrs. Susan Beattie of Owosso.

The Tony Hufnagel family of Walker Rd., St. Johns, was surprised Friday evening when heavy weather forced this Ohio National Guard helicopter down behind their home. The chopper, carrying four guardsmen, was on its way to Ohio from Grayling when the weather closed in. The Hufnagel boys, Kurt and Eric, were extremely happy about having a helicopter in their backyard.

St. Johns High School planning big open house

ST. JOHNS — The faculty and staff of the St. Johns High School are busily engaged in preparing for their annual observance of American Education Week.

This year it falls during the week of October 24 through the 30th. St. Johns High School will set aside Tuesday, October 26 as its open house date.

In an effort to encourage greater parent participation with a more meaningful program, the teachers and administrators have been working closely together in developing a new format for this year's American Education Week observance.

The students will be sent home at noon on Tuesday, October 26, and the afternoon will be devoted to individual parent-teacher conferences which will be scheduled at the teachers' request. The evening's program will have the parents attending an abbreviated version of their son's or daughter's daily class schedule.

TEACHERS WILL BE submitting a list of student's names to the office this week whose parents they would like to have scheduled for a conference. Hopefully, any parent contacted for such a conference, will make every effort to meet it. It is definitely felt that a mutual understanding of a student's strengths and weaknesses by parent and teacher can have a positive effect on the student's future success in high school and after high school.

The evening program will begin at 7 p.m. and will have the parents going through his child's daily class schedule. This will allow the parents an opportunity to meet his son's or daughter's teachers, as well as give the teacher an opportunity to explain the class or subject to the parent.

With so many new courses and curriculum changes being offered the St. Johns High School student, it is felt that parents should be better informed regarding the classes his student is taking regarding aims and goals of the class, as well as the basis for grading, homework requirements, and general objectives of the course.

Time will be set aside at the end of the evening for refreshments when all the faculty and staff will be available to further explain any portion of their class room procedure, and also to schedule individual conference appointments for those parents who were not scheduled for the requested conference but would still like the opportunity of meeting individually with the teacher regarding their child.

IT IS FELT that parents participating in this program will have a much more realistic picture of the way in which their son or daughter spends their day, as well as a better idea of the people who daily influence their child's life. It is genuinely hoped, that through this program for American Education Week, there can be formed a basis for better understanding between child and parent; parent and teacher; teacher and child.

The faculty and staff at St. Johns High School feel all that is needed now is 100% parent participation on Tuesday, October 26. Make plans now to attend!

Mrs. Flegler chosen Grand Marshal

ST. JOHNS—For the honor of Grand Marshal for the St. Johns High School's 1971 Homecoming Parade the committee this year has chosen to honor their high school secretary Mrs. Edna Flegler.

This position is a position of honor that the parade committee gives to a person connected with St. Johns High School activities, and has demonstrated a devotion, interest, and desire to assist our school's interests. The parade committee felt it only proper to recognize Mrs. Flegler a person who more than meets any of the criteria.

Mrs. Flegler has started her 24th year as St. Johns High School Secretary. During these years she has worked under three different principals, Earl Place, Benjamin Pocus, and Gordon Vandemark. Her eagerness to not only assist these men, but to also be of assistance to students, faculty, and other staff members as well has more than pleased the St. Johns High School population. There is hardly a day that goes by that you don't find Mrs. Flegler working hard to assist some student, faculty member, staff member, or administrator with some problem—and always with a pleasing manner and willingness to be helpful.

In talking with Mrs. Flegler one gets an even deeper insight into her interests in St. Johns High School. Regarding the students she freely stated, "I think that basically all our students are good teenagers. They are no worse than when I went to school, there are just more of them."

WHEN ASKED ABOUT her work Mrs. Flegler stated that the most pleasing aspect was, "The feeling of working around teenagers. This is the age group that I like best." Regarding the less pleasing aspects of her job she states, "I really don't like the pressures of the first six weeks of school, and getting the year off to a good start.

When Mrs. Flegler was asked to reflect back upon her years at St. Johns High and select just one of her most memorable experiences she stated, "It had to be the reactions and displays of appreciation that the students and staff gave Mr. Pocus on his resigning as High School Principal."

With the work and interest that she has displayed, it is obvious why the 1971 Homecoming Parade Committee has chosen their school secretary to ride in the position of honor in the 1971 Homecoming Parade.

EXTENSION CLUB MEETS

The Green School Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Schumecer Thursday and made plans to tour Herbruck's near St. Johns and have lunch there Nov. 11.

Mrs. Raymond Thornton gave the Clinton County Council report and the club met Monday with Mrs. Carl Morley to make articles for the Christmas Workshop in St. Johns on Nov. 9.

The local club will be responsible for decorating Smith Hall in St. Johns for the Christmas Workshop so Mrs. R. D. Pray and Mrs. Raymond Thornton were appointed to take charge of the arrangements.

Plans for the club's Christmas party were discussed and the chairman appointed Mrs. Clarence Goodrich and Mrs. Carl Morley to see about the arrangements and report at the next meeting.

The members will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Morley, Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. to go to St. Johns on the tour and lunch at Herbruck's.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 for a potluck dinner at 11:30 a.m.

In Memoriam

In memory of Joseph Plumstead, who passed away one year ago, Oct. 30, 1970. Memories are treasures no one can steal. Death is a heartache nothing can heal. We won't forget though he is gone. But we will remember, no matter how long. Sadly missed by his wife and daughters and families. 26-1p

In loving memory of our Father and Grandpa, Lloyd E. Myers who passed away one year ago October 29.

Oh Dad, the pain that I feel, it seems too much to bear, And tears they keep falling, Your memories are everywhere. If only I were young again, Into your arms I'd climb, And Dad that's where I'd stay, Until the end of time.

But God he came and took you, The Dad that I loved so, I only pray he gives us strength, Without him to onward go.

Sadly missed by his family, Joyce and Maynard, Donna, Richard and Dorothy, Gary and Joanne, Mary and Jim, Keith and Barbara and 24 grandchildren. 26-1p

F-M to make tie rods

By TOM DeWITT
Co-Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a two part feature story on Federal-Mogul, St. Johns' largest employer. The feature stories are part of a continuing series called "Know Your Community." Last week, Writer Tom DeWitt told the story of the beginning of the plant to the present day. This week, he interviews Plant Manager John Fox.

ST. JOHNS — If you want to see John Fox during the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., be sure to make an appointment. Fox is a very busy man. He spends a lot of his time in meetings and conferences, which guide the day by day operations and the future of the Federal-Mogul Plant here.

But when you do catch up with John Fox, you're immediately impressed with the pride this man has in his plant and the zeal with which he is prepared to face the future.

"We are facing the next few years here with a reasonable degree of optimism," Fox says. "US and foreign competition makes our job increasingly demanding, but we have a good level of optimism that we can arise to the challenge."

WITH THE PHASING out of the bearing operation at the St. Johns Plant, there have been considerable rumors that the plant may also be phased out. But with the continued level of production of bushings, washers and spacers, this is hard to imagine.

And, starting in November, the St. Johns Plant will be turning out another new product—tie rod assemblies for Chrysler Corp. There are two sizes.

"The tie rod assemblies are a new product for the plant here and we will begin making large assemblies in November," Fox said. "Shortly after the first of the year, we will begin production of the smaller rod assemblies."

New equipment for the production of the new product will also be arriving around Nov. 1.

"WE HAVE THE capabilities of making precision type metal stampings for the automotive industry and we will be looking further into this in an effort to develop more products," Fox said.

Along with the development of the new product lines, there will also be a re-alignment of operations within the plant.

"This re-alignment will give us a better material flow and minimize the number of times a product has to be handled during manufacture," Fox said. "It will be more of an assembly line type operation."

The re-alignment will encompass some 25 to 30 per cent of the present floor space in the plant.

OTHER FUTURE PLANS call for modifying the present computer operation at the plant.

"Our plans now call for utilizing the central computer operation at our Southfield corporate headquarters," Fox said. "We hope to hook up a central system involving the other plants with terminals in each of these plants where feasible."

Fox said connecting with the central computer at Southfield would eliminate the need for highly sophisticated systems in each of the plants.

The future computer program, which is now undergoing a comprehensive study, could perform such tasks as manufacturing scheduling, accounting functions, tooling, billing and keeping track of inventories.

"THIS, HOWEVER, WILL be done in stages," Fox said.

Ecology is something Federal-Mogul is also interested in. Interested enough to spend a quarter of a million dollars within the next two or three years.

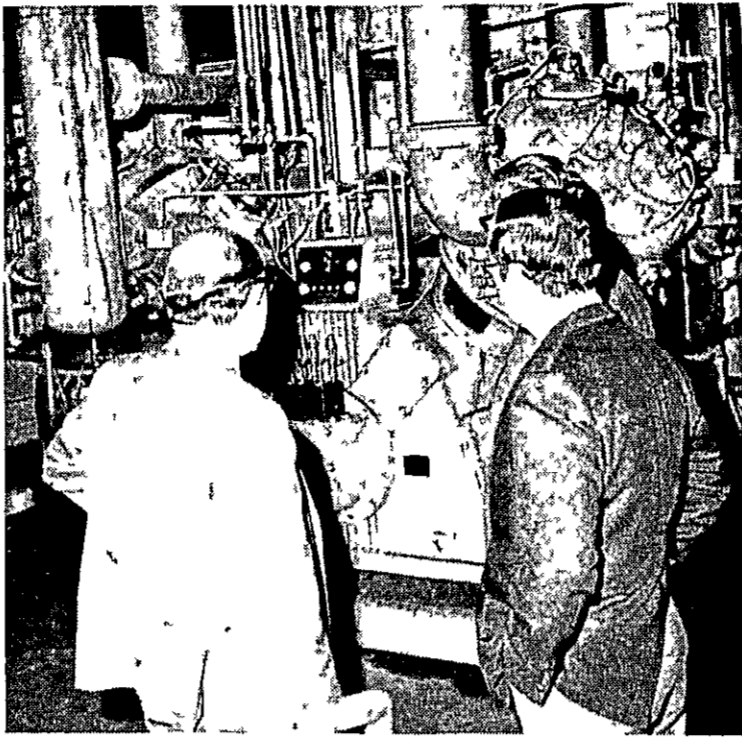

The plant's plating operation and other manufacturing phases makes them the largest water user within the city. It is estimated the plant uses 50 per cent of the available city water during a year's time. This water is then dumped into a county drain north of the city after it is used.

This water will be further purified when the improvements are made. The money will be spent on a water purification system and some of the equipment is scheduled to arrive early in 1972. "IT'S OUR EFFORT to keep the good earth inhabitable," Fox said.

Federal-Mogul, 24 years in business in St. Johns, is looking toward the future.

"Our intention is to try and take advantage of our expertise in manufacturing high precision metal stampings," Fox said. "We can make either metal or bimetal products and we would hope to expand to other products other than bushings, spacers and washers. We are looking at as many related product lines as possible."

Personnel Director Don Gilson shows Central National Bank executives Harold Wellman and Robert Thompson one of two air compressors which have run continuously since the day the plant opened 24 years ago.

Heat Treatment Supervisor Bill Bissett shows Wellman and Thompson a couple of F.C. Mason Co. cultivator points made stronger by the heat treatment process at Federal-Mogul.

"KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY" Federal Mogul Corporation

St. Johns Manufacturing Plant

Steady Growth . . . Meaningful Improvements Will Benefit the Community

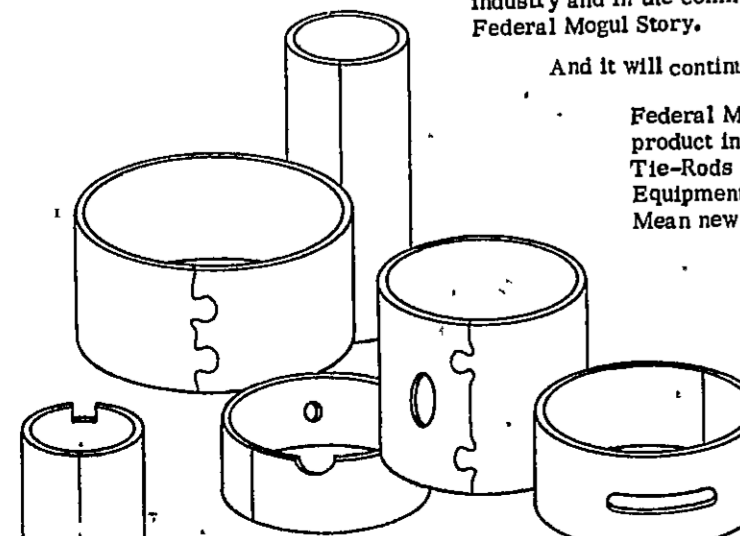

Since 1947 when 34 employees worked at Federal Mogul to today expansion both in the industry and in the community have been the Federal Mogul Story.

And it will continue.

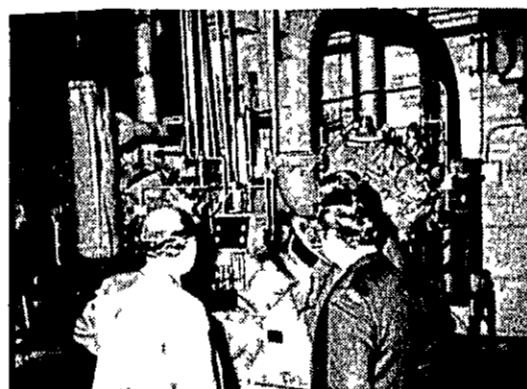

Federal Mogul will soon be producing a new product in the St. Johns plant. Automobile Tie-Rods for the Chrysler Corporation. New Equipment, New products and new opportunities Mean new Growth.

For the benefit of all, Federal Mogul, the largest single water consumer, will soon start a 1/4 million dollar water purification facility.

Products Manufactured by Federal Mogul on Display in our Lobby

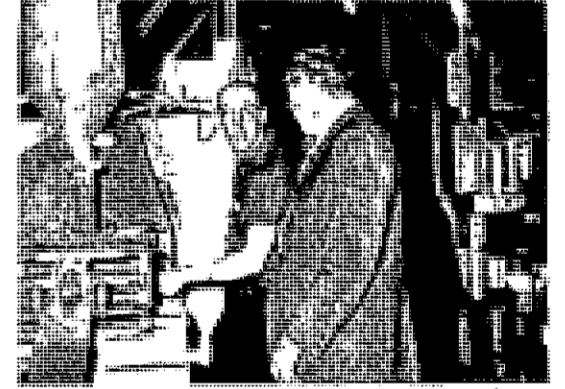

Federal Mogul's Don Gilson (R) shows Central National Bank President Harold Wellman and Executive Vice President, Robert Thompson (L) the complete line of products manufactured in the St. Johns plant.

Don shows two air compressors that have run continuously since 1947.

Here steel is being sliced for bushings.

Niles Attenberger explains how the steel is backed with copper-lead alloy.

READY FOR UNICEF DRIVE

These third graders from St. Joseph Elementary School in St. Johns show off the Halloween costumes they will wear Saturday night as part of the UNICEF "Trick or Treat" fund raising drive. They'll be knocking on doors along with about 60 other volunteers in grades three through six. Behind the colorful masks are, from left, Sandy Hollis, Stephanie Smith, Bruce Fedewa and Mike Riley. The display in the background was assembled by the school children.

THE RODNEY GINTHER FAMILY

meet Rod Ginther, assistant manager in our Elsie office

In just about a month from now Rod Ginther will mark completion of his second year with CNB&T and during most of that time he was on assignment in our credit and adjustment department. This background gave him first-hand experience in the basic functions and policies of the bank and paved the way for his move to the assistant manager's slot at Elsie. You might say when this assignment came about early last summer it was like a homecoming for Rod.

He was born in Laingsburg but moved to Elsie at the age of 13 and graduated from high school there. What's more, his wife, the former Barbara Miller, is a life-long resident of Elsie and if that doesn't knot the home-town ties very little else will.

Aside from attending Ferris State College, Rod has completed two study courses sponsored by the American Institute of Banking in the fields of personnel administration and public relations.

Rod explains that the name of his second car is "Minor Auto Repairs" so it's fortunate that minor auto repairs is among his leisure hours pastimes. Other hobbies include basketball and golfing and he is a member of the Thursday night golf league at North Star course. In addition, Rod has worked regularly as a member of the Elsie Improvement Assn.

There are three young Gintners, Tracy Sue, Darcy Jo and Bradley Charles, and the family resides at 120 E. Oak St. in Elsie.

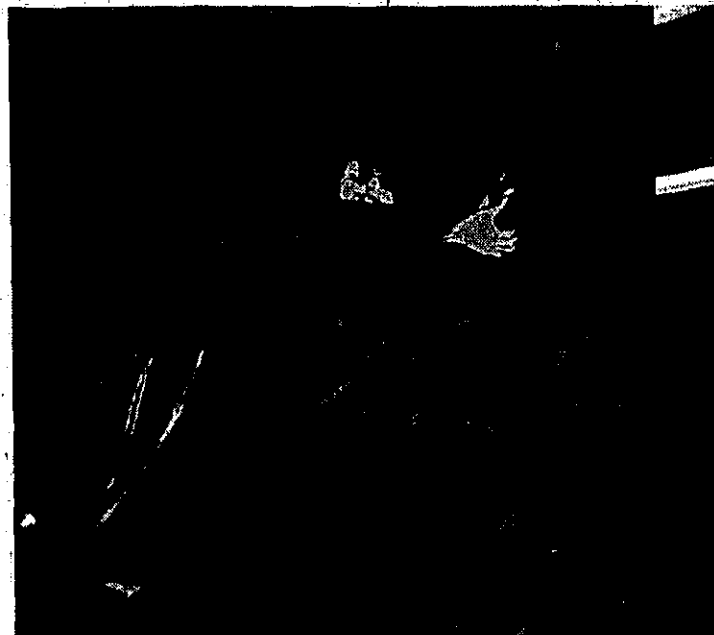

Next time you're in our Elsie office stop at Rod's desk and say hello. It's a little too late for golf and too early for basketball, so we know he'll be there... unless "Minor Auto Repairs" has conked out again.

Take another look at building program

It should come as no surprise to any of Clinton County's taxpayers that we find ourselves in quite an educational dilemma. Among the six school districts in the county, several master contracts with the teachers remain unsigned, including Fowler, St. Johns and Pewamo-Westphalia while Ovid-Elsie's board of education still must ratify that contract.

It was not surprising that the county followed the national and state trend of turning down milage increases and voters, instead, only approved the current level of operational milage amidst increasing educational costs.

The formula for the state aid to education appropriation has not been as favorable to the districts as anticipated and that results in a further pinch on the pocketbooks of the boards of education.

It is with deep regret we view the passing of a program initiated at St. Johns High School that has allowed expression to vocational arts. The demise for the present at least, of the Building Trades program at St. Johns came about through lack of funds during a vast cutting policy by the superintendent and the board.

This is not to indicate that the cut in spending was not justified since it did require in the neighborhood of $25,000 to operate. But the program was unique. High school students would build an entire home, complete with built-in appliances and cabinets, with the aid and assistance of various local merchants who would donate some time and talent to the boys. The program has been duplicated in several other school districts in Michigan with similar success. The boys not only learned from books and shop-type classes, they actually went out and did the job. It became a valuable tool to apprenticeship.

The St. Johns class constructed two homes, one on Lansing Street and the other on Sickles, across from the school.

Parents of the students and the students themselves are still interested in re-starting the program which has been under the Vocational Arts department at the high school.

Local businessmen and contractors seemed interested enough to participate for the second year in a row last year.

We would like to see the board of education and the superintendent examine the program once again, for next year, if possible, in an effort to re-institute this worthwhile vocational program.

While it may be the sign of the times, it is still sad to see a worthy program such as this one go unfunded in a period when vocational educational needs are critical.

We would also be interested in hearing from the parents and taxpayers of St. Johns' school district in our letters to the editor column concerning the program.

And we hope the superintendent and board members will study the problem again in order to upgrade the level of vocational education in Clinton County and St. Johns.

Keep open minds

It is important, we believe, to have our lawmakers take stands on issues, give reasons for such positions, and inform their constituents. This is particularly vital on controversial situations which our legislatures face.

Locally, Senator Ballenger and Representative Allen have taken opposite field positions on the proposal to make our state legislature a unicameral body. Attempts are being made to get the issue on the ballot as it would necessitate a constitutional amendment.

While we feel it is important that our legislators take positions, we would also hope they would not close their minds to all sides of the issues. This is just good legislating. And, when this publisher was encouraged by one of his legislative representatives to keep an open mind through discussion of the issue of a one-body legislature, we would remind our lawmakers to do likewise. If, with all the pros and cons brought together on such proposals, it is deemed in the best interests of the majority and the state as a whole to change stands, then we should be willing to accept switching horses by our legislators as an indication that to change minds rather than sticking to a possibly premature evaluation is not a showing of weakness.

And we would hope our elected representatives will be attending and participating in debates on the floors of our Senate and House as these important issues are discussed.

We would also hope that the people of this state become concerned enough to be in a position to vote intelligently on important proposed changes of our laws. We expect this of our paid elected officials. Should they expect any less from us?

Back thru the years

One Year Ago

Oct. 28, 1970

William Steinke, 55, Superintendent of Schools at Pewamo-Westphalia for the past 10 years died this week of a heart attack at Carson City Hospital. He had been hospitalized a week following a heart attack. Funeral services were held Friday in the high school gymnasium. With one week remaining, the Clinton County Community Chest Drive is floundering to say the least. Monday's report placed the current total at 18 per cent or $4,494 of the $25,000 goal. Official ground breaking for St. Johns' newest industry will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. According to Ralph Lebrato, treasurer of Stylemaster Homes Inc., the new plant located on Gibbs St., a block north of Morton, should be ready for production shortly after the first of the year.

The Clinton County Board of Commissioners approved their 1971 budget which total's $1,489,914.40. Of the total, $384,000 is from estimated receipts, $200,000 from estimated income tax and $905,914.40 from the portion to be raised by millage.

R. Douglas Trezise has been named to the special commission on local government by Gov. William Milliken this week.

Sections of 14 streets in St. Johns were paved with blacktop at a cost of $61,482. The final cost figure may run to $65,000.

10 Years Ago

The drain commissioners of Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties will hold two public meetings for discussion of the Maple River drain project on Friday. One will be held in Corunna and the second at Ithaca. The meetings were called to obtain public opinion on a proposal to apply for Federal aid on the controversial Maple River drain project. A similar meeting was held in St. Johns in September.

Roger D. Underhill, 33, of DeWitt, on parole from Iowa State Penitentiary after serving part of a seven year sentence for his part in a bogus check operation is being held in the Clinton County Jail on charges of counterfeiting bank drafts and breaking and entering. He was arrested by State Police Thursday in connection with a string of burglaries in the Owosso area. Five other men were also arrested.

Ken Greer, Clinton County Civil Defense Director, will be the speaker at a meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the DeWitt Township Hall.

Holden-Reid announced the opening of a branch clothing store in St. Johns this week. Joseph J. Holden and C. Marshall Reid, Lansing area clothiers, said Harold E. Cole of Lansing has been named as manager.

University medical center authorities at Ann Arbor reported

Wednesday that Patricia Decker five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Decker of Rt. 6 St. Johns has been removed from the danger list, but remains in critical condition suffering from burns she received last Tuesday when her clothing caught fire. The Community Chest Drive is still $20,000 short of their goal.

25 Years Ago

Some 9,000 voters in Clinton County may produce a record off-year vote in next Tuesday's general election of state and county officers. County Clerk Paul Wakefield said the vote may reach an all time high in a non-presidential election.

Plans are nearing completion for the big 4-H crops show to be held at the municipal building in St. Johns Nov. 6. Interest is running high this week in St. Johns in the three-man race for the city commission post left vacant by the death of Mayor George Schoenhals. The three candidates are Oliver D. Little, Joseph G. Matthews and Jack Smit.

Dr. Charles S. Miller, Fowler's newest physician, began his practice in the neighboring city Monday in the offices formerly occupied by Dr. P. F. Stoller.

The Rodney E. Wilson 60-piece high school band will participate in a marching festival at Charlotte Wednesday, Nov. 6. Over 500 musicians from 10 schools will demonstrate their football formations and drill routines.

Grading and construction work started Monday this week for a new airport with 2,100 feet of runway on the Floyd Wing farm two miles south of St. Johns and two miles west. The new field will be operated by Mr. Wing and the G. and M. Flying Service of Elsie. Workmen are busy leveling, the sod runways of the 106 acre field and construction work will soon begin on a cement block office and lounge. Steel hangers will also be erected at the field.

Charles Austin of St. Johns has been elected president of the Clinton County Bar Association at the first post-war meeting held Wednesday at the Park Hotel in St. Louis.

Veterans' Day 1971

By TIM YOUNKMAN

Veterans' Day, 1971. But it wasn't quite like any other we have ever experienced. It wasn't that long ago in our history, when the bitterness of war and the agony of slaughter was realized, that the 1918 Day to Honor All Veterans was established. It was Nov. 11.

The nation had been dragged, by creeping involvement, into a totally "unnecessary" war that cost millions of lives and touched the life of every man in the civilized world. It seems ironic that 53 years later we haven't found the answer to war—but end up submerged in another "unnecessary" war in Asia.

Each citizen who has aligned himself against the current struggle in Vietnam has had to express the displeasure in one way. Demonstrate.

Those who disliked the long-haired "freaks" were forced to look at them night after night on the televised newscasts. They were demonstrating against the war, were carted off to jail and forgotten.

Until recently, the anti-war stance was limited to the "freaks," until it began to bother the rest of the nation's citizens. It created a need for newspapers and television newsmen to dig into the root of the questions that were bothering the people who could not find the answers any other way.

Then, the tragic discovery of incidents like My Lai and how they were covered up and filed away at the Pentagon. How young American men had turned into bloody savages in an effort to stay alive 5,000 miles away from home in a war they didn't create.

A startled public watched as thousands of American soldiers returned from Vietnam hooked on heroin or directly hooked in that direction with the use of other drugs.

And most recently, we have witnessed the most disgusting slap in the face, President Thieu was re-elected in a one-man race for the nation's top political spot. His opposition melted away (or rotted away in jails) when it became apparent that the elections would most likely be rigged if another name was placed on the ballot.

Yet we stay. The war, we are told, is winding down and it should be less than two years when we can pull out. At the same time, word has been leaked at our buildup in Laos and Cambodia and how they are now strategic in saving the Asians from Red aggression.

The casualties have been sharply decreased in the past year. But one thing still persists that is not reflected on the casualty lists. When a soldier is cut down in Vietnam, it doesn't matter to his widow or his bereaved parents that he was the only one killed this week during the war. To them he is the whole world and the world ended with him on that day.

Monday found many Vietnam veterans marching in various parades throughout the country. Many of them wore the bands of protest or took part in ceremonies calling for the immediate end to the hostilities. These men saw their friends slaughtered on the battle field and some were injured themselves. But they cannot justify the pain and anguish suffered by their comrades and link it to some ambiguous talk of democracy and the like.

It is time we honored our dead soldiers—and save thousands of others right now by stopping what we now know to be wrong. If we let it continue—even for less than two years—we are guilty of betraying the democracy we are told we have been fighting to save. And all those men who died in 1918 and 1944 and 1971 will have died in vain.

'IF IT FITZ ...'

Sports vs books

By JIM FITZGERALD

After exhaustive study, 2 psychologists have reported that sports do not build character. Being a football star does not make Johnny a better person. 20,000 high school coaches just silt their jockstraps.

But I am laughing. I am remembering a basketball coach who was also a history teacher. He couldn't understand how I could be 6 foot tall and not want to play basketball. Every time he graded my history assignment, he subtracted 10 per cent because I was a sissy and 15 per cent because St. Stephen High was in last place in the St. Clair County League and it was all my fault.

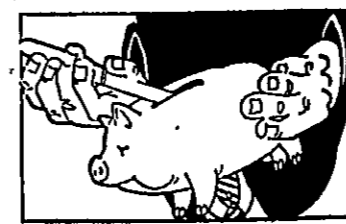

He was 1 of those coaches who insisted Lincoln would never have been elected president if he hadn't been a little leaguer. World War 2 would be won on the West Point football field, he said, and France fell to Germany because French kids never learned how to play short-stop.

If that coach is still alive today, he probably thinks the world's greatest sissies are Dr. Bruce Ogilvie and Dr. Thomas Tutko, psychology professors at San Jose State College in California. For 8 years they tested 15,000 athletes, worked with 27 professional teams and hundreds of high school and college teams. And they concluded there is nothing to support the traditional idea that sports build character. "Indeed," they said, "there is evidence that athletic competition limits growth in some areas . . . athletic competition has no more beneficial effects than intense endeavor in any other field."

So there, Coach. 30 years later, my judgement is vindicated by experts. I never could understand how running around in public in my underwear would make me editor of the New York Times.

It's not that I don't like sports. As a boy, I went to all the games and crawled around under the bleachers, looking for dropped money. That's how I became a fan. I still attend more games today than most normal men. I take my son along to pick up the money although I get half if I see it first.

The other day my mother came Pocket money is what to spend to fix 'em after carrying around all those pennies.

The first step in saving your pennies is to buy a $10 piggy bank.

visiting and got her first look at the recreation room recently installed in my basement. Dear Old Mom remembers my hyper-relaxed boyhood better than anyone. She remembers when I delivered newspapers, my dad looked out the window and swore he had to line me up with some trees to see whether I was moving.

"You have finally achieved your boyhood ambition," Mother said. "You have your own pool table and your own bar with running water and cold beer. I am so proud of you."

I explained to her that it was, shucks, really nothing. And I asked her if she had been worried, those many years ago, about a son who never went out for school sports.

"You were always sitting around the house reading," she remembered, "while the other boys were out playing ball. I asked you once if you thought you'd grow up to be a great man, and you said you'd rather grow up to be a great reader."

Hmmm. I wonder if books build character? I don't remember any teacher ever saying so. I never won a letter for my sweater for reading. There were never any pretty cheerleaders chanting: "Go man, read that sentence, understand that paragraph, Rah rah."

"I'll bet you're glad I built my character with books instead of sports," I told Mother. "You bet," she said. "All you ever read were comic books." Onward and upward, with character.

A tomato worm just has no wings
He's strictly second-rate
As to means of locomotion
When he wishes to migrate;
How come when my tomato vines
Give promise they will bear,
This ugly green-gray glutton
Just happens to be there?

The 'tater bug is hungry,
And though his eyes are small—
He zooms down on my 'tater patch
Pre-destined fer a ball;
Now a couple 'tater bugs more or less,
Bring no loud wails from me,
How come I'm doomed to entertain
Their hull blamed family tree?

Cut worms, squash and corn borers
Ne'er sport a periscope,
To help them find a spot to land—
And give my stuff a poke;
Why can't they find new rendezvous
When they start on their prowls?
'N not each year invade my patch
To fill their hungry jowls?

I never sow my farm to weeds,
Nor beg them here to stop,
I fight them tooth n' nail n' still
They are my surest crop!
No matter how I work and plan
I've still a full fine job.
How come these pests don't all retire—
'N stop their raisin' Hob?

Looking for constructive answers

Open letter to physicians

Dear Editor:

With gratitude and admiration, we salute all of you who practice the healing arts.

We have been fortunate over the years to have had many physicians serve this community faithfully and well. A small number have enjoyed a brief period of rest and retirement from their busy lives, before passing on to the larger life. But most of them have ended their earthly days here among us, while still in the harness, still serving their profession and their patients. Although we did not know them all, we salute them all in respectful remembrance.

However, it is to those physicians who still live and work among us that this letter is directed.

You have set high standards of training and performance, to be met by yourselves and those who desire to work with you. You have demanded the best that is financially possible in the way of equipment, services and standards for our hospital. You have helped to attain and maintain high levels of sanitation practices and preventive measures in our community.

With your fellow citizens, you have served this community on boards and committees. Several of you have served your country. You have been members of your chosen churches, contributing of your talents as well as your worldly goods. Your families have taken their places in the community with dignity and respectability.

You have earned the respect of your colleagues, the cooperation of your co-workers, and the confidence of your patients. You are loved by many of the youngest and oldest of those you treat.

And so, to all those in our midst who practice the healing arts, we say thank you for the patience, good humor and understanding you have often shown us, but most of all for the comfort, hope, healing and health you have brought us. We know that many others join us in this expression of appreciation.

Signed,
Ross and Doris Downing, Jack and Virginia Diehrich, Harry and Dianne Goerge, Ernest and Patty Isenhower, Raymond and Pauline Torpey, Dick and Lole DeGroot, Josephine Hulse, Robert and Frances Conn, Mildred Countryman, Mary Stone, Ruth Barclay, Catherine Stevens, Evelyn Walton, Pauline A. Powers, Nora Helbeck, Rolan W. Sleight, Bonnie LaBrie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Downing, Donald P. Powers, Ivan and Ina Parrott, Alta Rhynard, Jennie Bandt, Mrs. Roscoe Smith, Birdie Glover, Olive Conklin, Ray and Nel Torpey, Dorothy Jean and Bob Sirrine, Mrs. Dart Parr, Florence Feighner, Edna Feighner, Manning and Hila Bross, B. K. Sheen, Ardis Crawford, Diane Gurski Helen E. Judd, Jack Davis, Geraldine Workman, Cleo Desprez, Thomas L. Hundley, Harvey Weatherwax, Randy L. Humphrey, Jessie Finch, Mildred Poccus, Jacqueline Plozman, Adelalde Mikula, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Powelson, Karen Green and Bruce Campbell.

Young people today are looking for constructive answers to the problems of the world. This is the time of year when, throughout this country, their thoughts turn to the United Nations Children's Fund, (UNICEF) whose efforts are focused on a positive and meaningful approach to the problems of children and youth in the developing countries.

The young people in the United States are growing up in a period of great uncertainty, manifested by various kinds of social upheaval. They are faced with serious decisions they must make for themselves about what is right and what is wrong. And they are more than ever concerned with what is happening in the rest of the world. The majority are well-fed, well-housed, and educated through high school; and most have never known material deprivation.

By contrast, most of the young people in the developing countries have known nothing but deprivation. They are ill-fed and poorly housed, and only the lucky ones have finished the primary grades (in many cases to find that they are not properly prepared for the new jobs that are available). These adolescents become a bitter and unhappy segment of the population of the developing world.

An ever-increasing number of countries are turning to the Children's Fund for assistance in educating their children. Once again UNICEF has accepted the responsibility and is working on several new approaches to the problem.

These plans include reorientation of education in the classroom so that students are more realistically prepared for existing job opportunities; the creation of prevocational training centers for the many youngsters who are not in school; and most important—for the largest group of adolescents who now live in rural areas—the organization of young farmers clubs to train farmers and rural artisans.

Many young Americans are looking for new ways to help their peers through UNICEF. If they are too old to Trick or Treat for UNICEF on Halloween, they organize other fund-raising activities that can make a real contribution to the solution of the problems of their counterparts in the developing countries. It is our responsibility as adults to help our young people develop this social concern, and join them in supporting the United Nations Children's Fund.

Wants signs

Dear Mr. Editor,

I am a very concerned parent of four and if at all possible I would like this letter to be printed in the paper. For two months now I have been trying to get TWO signs on Colony Road between Gilson Road and Chandler Roads to the effect "CHILDREN AT PLAY". I have called the Clinton County Road Commission several times and all I get is a run around from the signmen and secretaries that they have the signs but they can't put them up without the approval of the County Engineer first.

The secretary was supposed to have the County Engineer call back but he never did. This morning I called him at his home, he listened, said "I have a meeting to go to and I will check into this but I can't promise anything. If we put signs up for everyone that wanted them we would be putting up thousands."

I said I was a parent of four. They age from two to 12. The people that live across from us have seven of ages three to 12. That makes 11 altogether in a very short space.

I think that the reasons for the signs are very good ones. Within a one mile area we have four gravel pits in operation. We have a lot of heavy trucking, these are not only dump trucks but gravel trains and they do not travel at a slow rate of speed either. This trucking is not all from Clinton County.

Saturday, Oct. 16, an eight-year-old girl was hit in front of our home by a car driven by an elderly lady not going too fast. She hit her brakes. The car slid and the girl was hit. No one was hurt badly. The eight-year-old was taken to the doctor and checked over. She is badly bruised and sore.

This could have been real bad if the woman had been going faster or if it had been one of these gravel trains they could NOT have stopped.

Maybe these signs wouldn't slow traffic down but it would at least make it known that there are children in the area, be aware.

Now I wonder if it had been the County Engineer's child, and I know that he has several, if they would have to check into it.

Is that justice?

Dear Editor:

It used to be that an officer of the law was a person with some principles, and who tried to see that justice was carried out. Ovid, now has one whom I would say is far from it.

One night last week one of Ovid's village policemen stopped for a red light at Ovid's four corners on Main Street. I stopped behind him, and when the light turned green he still sat there—I pulled out and went around him then he put his flasher on and followed me to my destination, which was a block or two away.

He stopped and told me I had run a red light—you can imagine my reaction. He gave me a ticket which, by the way cost me $15.00, besides counting points against one on their driver's license. I am asking you, is that a policeman with principles and justice in mind?

Karras fan

To the Editor:

In the pithy jargon of the sports world a "cheap shot" describes the action of a football player who attacks another who is in a defenseless position. Your guest editorial is a glaring example of a journalistic "cheap shot."

Mr. Stafford has written a column and a half of half-truths, innuendos and diatribe. In one instance he writes, Alex Karras is being paid $35,000 not to play football. The whole truth is that Alex Karras was fired from a contract which had two years to run. Under the contract, management is required to pay his salary for that period.

Mr. Stafford also "neglected" to mention that his friend, Lyall Smith, had Alex Karras barred from the stadium press-box. Karras, with commitments in television and motion pictures needs no outside help in defending himself, but Mr. Stafford can use assistance in editorial honesty.

Disputes claims

To The Editor,

In regards to Rev. Banning's articles on welfare which I have re-titled "fallacy and fact". Reverend Banning cites a quotation that welfare fraud approximates four per cent of the total whereas tax cheating totals seven per cent. By inference, these "facts" negate each other—a fallacy. A fact,—two wrongs do not make a right.

Let us then explore this four per cent cheating with a quotation from a speech given on Oct. 13 of this year by Alan B. Shepard Jr.

Shepard said his concern was with recent criticism that the space program should be cut to pay for a greater need in the area of welfare. "The true situation is that the space program and social welfare programs are not competitive and should not be," said Shepard.

Many people don't realize that for every dollar of taxes, the government spend forty two cents for social services, only one and four tenths cents on the space program. There are facts, not fallacies.

Therefore, being one of the ninety three per cent who is not cheating on taxes may I not be resentful of the four per cent who are cheating on welfare? Having been gainfully employed for most of the last fifty one years I have found much satisfaction in earned wages rather than welfare funds contributed by others.

Thanks city

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Greater Lansing Branch of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, I would like to thank those contributing to the success of our 1971 "Breath of Life" campaign, the Jayettes, the many walkers, the area chairman, Mrs. Mary Hutton, and the many donors.

Our door-to-door total for the Lansing area is now at $11,000.44, with donations still being received; fifty-five per cent of this amount will go to our National Foundation for Research. Thank you for helping us fight children's lung diseases.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Michael Walsh,
President

Not getting protection

Dear Editor:

I feel that it is about time for someone to speak up for the rights we so rightly deserve as a taxpayer. Namely, Police Protection. We pay for it but do not get it. I phoned the so called police department, one evening, hoping that they would catch three men in an attempted break in. I never did get a policeman to answer the call. Other times I have reported to the police other dangerous violations of the law, but no results.

Now, I ask, "Is this Police Protection?" I, like other folks of this village, feel that it is about time that our so called police department was investigated and put on the right track for the sake of justice to all and not just a select few.

Bean seed testing available

LANSING—B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, today announced MDA will provide an- nounced service to state farmers, testing of field bean seed for bacterial blight.

The testing methodology was developed by Michigan State Uni- versity, which then requested that MDA incorporate this ser- vice with others in its labora- tory; this request was also con- curred in by the bean industry. A testing fee of $5 has been established for each five pound sample received between October 15 and December 15. Because of the heavy demand on MDA labora- tory facilities the remainder of the year, a special fee of $15 has been set. If the grower requests germination tests, an additional fee of $1.50 is as- sessed.

Forms to accompany samples for testing are available from Michigan Department of Agricul- ture, Laboratory Division, 1615 South Harrison Road, East Lan- sing, Michigan 48823 or by con- tacting county extension agents in bean growing areas.

WILLIAM YOUNG, MDA plant pathologist, said bean bacterial blight is an internal disease which can affect the quality and yield of a harvest. It cannot be con- trolled by dusting or spraying. To avoid bacterial blight, disease-free seed must be used.

Young said seed, to be cer- tified, must pass rigid standards established by the Michigan Crop Improvement Association which have been incorporated into reg- ulations of the Michigan Depart- ment of Agriculture.

MINUTES OF ST. JOHNS

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to set a Public Hearing on proposed Ordinance No. 243 for October 11, 1971 at 8:00 p.m. in the City Commission Chambers. Motion carried.

The City Manager read a communication from Mr. and Mrs. Rand stating that they would withdraw their offer to dedicate a piece of property 66' x 132' for the continuation of Wight Street.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Grost to accept the City Manager's report regarding the water main extension on US-27 and to await further information. Motion carried.

Comm. Grost offered the Resolution Establishing An Advisory Parking Lot Board and moved the adoption thereof, which was supported by Comm. Rand. Resolution declared carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Ebert to appoint as members of the Advisory Parking Lot Board, Mr. Edward Idzkowski, Mr. Edward Mankey, Mr. Donald Roesner and Mr. Robert Thompson, also to appoint Mr. John Hannah as the member representing the City Commission. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Hannah to open the public hearing concerning the Giles Street Special Assessment District. Motion carried.

The City Clerk informed the City Commission that he had contacted both Mr. Briggs and Fedewa Builders in regard to the Special Assessment. Mr. Hundley stated that both parties wished to enter into a Public Works Contract with the City inasmuch as they are the only affected property owners.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Hannah to close the Public Hearing inasmuch as the property owners were not interested in a Special Assessment. Motion carried.

The City Clerk reported to the City Commission that pursuant to their request, he had entered a request to the Clinton County Board of Commissioners regarding the Emergency Employment Act of 1971. Mr. Hundley stated that his letter listed three employment classifications which could be funded under the program. Further, he told the City Commission that he had received unofficial word that the City would receive funds in the amount of $12,700.00.

Motion by Comm. Ebert supported by Comm. Rand to accept the City Clerk's report on the Emergency Employment Act of 1971. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost that the Mayor be authorized to execute the contract with the engineering firm of Hubbel, Roth and Clark covering engineering services in connection with the renovation of the Wastewater Treatment Plant. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to open the public hearing regarding the Oak Street Special Assessment District. Motion carried.

Comm. Rand stated that she would disqualify herself for voting on the proposition inasmuch as she is a resident of the neighborhood.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost that the public hearing regarding the Oak Street Special Assessment District for curb and gutter be recessed until September 27, 1971. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Hannah to authorize the City Manager to meet with Mrs. Kubica regarding the request for sanitary sewer and to have the authority to act. Motion carried.

Reverend C. A. Stone, representing the St. Johns Ministerial Association appeared before the Commission and read a request for temporary parking of trailers.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to close the Oak Street Special Assessment Hearing. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost that City assume 20 per cent of all curb and gutter construction and the property owners pay 80 per cent of future curb and gutter construction. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost that the City make a Public Improvement of curb and gutter on Oak Street via the special assessment procedures. Further, to authorize the City Assessor to strike a Special Assessment Roll with the property owners paying 80 per cent of the curb and gutter cost and the City paying 20 per cent of the curb and gutter cost.

YEA: Rand, Grost, Hannah, Wood.

NAY: Ebert.

Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Hannah to accept the recommendation of the City Manager and the City Engineer for the extension of a water main to Townsend Road and to set a 6" hydrant on the south side of Townsend Road according to the sketch submitted by the City Manager. Further, to authorize the City Manager to take bids to complete the water main extension. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Hannah to accept the recommendation of the City of St. Johns purchase 14.2 acres of land adjacent the city park at a price of $28,500.00 and that the purchase be consummated pursuant to the original agreement between the City and Mr. Fell. However, the annual payments would be extended one year to reflect the additional cost. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to approve the cash register maintenance contract between the City and the Cash Register Exchange and Sales Corporation. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to authorize the City Manager and the Park Board to take bids on park equipment. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Rand that the City Manager and the City Park Board contact an engineering firm for the engineering work required under the park grant. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Rand to authorize the City Manager to take bids for two pick-up trucks. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Rand that the petition submitted regarding street improvements on Morton Street be accepted. Motion carried.

Mr. Robert Barnes, President of the Board of Trustees for "Our House", appeared before the City Commission requesting that the City Commission assume financial assistance and make "Our House" a part of the Municipal Government. Mr. Barnes requested that the present staff of "Our House" be retained and the City provide funds for such items as insurance, heat, lights and salaries.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Hannah to table this request and discuss it at a future Committee of the Whole meeting. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Hannah to authorize the City Attorney to draft the Public Works Contract for the extension of sanitary sewer on south Lansing Street. Motion carried.

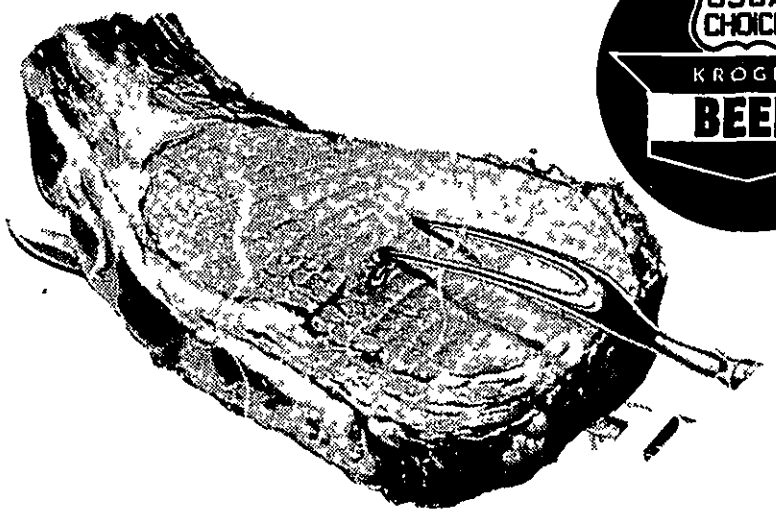

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to adjourn at 9:25 p.m. Motion carried.

ST. JOHNS BUILDING CODE

Ordinance No. 243

An Ordinance to provide for the minimum construction requirements of dwellings, buildings and structures in accordance with the provisions of Act 207 of the Public Acts of 1921, (MSA 5.2932) and to provide for the administration and enforcement, including penalties for the violation thereof.

The City Commission of the City of St. Johns, County of Clinton, State of Michigan ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Section 1.01 TITLE

This Ordinance shall be known as the "St. Johns Building Code."

Section 1.02 PURPOSE

The fundamental purpose of the Ordinance is to promote the public health, safety, morals and general welfare by adopting regulations governing the manner in which and the types of materials of which dwellings, buildings and structures shall hereafter be erected or altered, which regulations are intended to improve the safety, protection and sanitation of such buildings and structures. These requirements are to be interpreted as essentially minimum and nothing contained in this Ordinance shall prohibit the use of any additional measures designed to improve the construction of any building or structure.

Section 1.03 SCOPE OF REGULATIONS

Beginning with the effective date of this code, no dwellings, buildings or structures shall be erected or altered other than in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 2. DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this Ordinance, certain terms are here-with defined.

When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the singular number include the plural number and words in the plural number include the singular number.

The word "shall" is mandatory and not merely directory.

Section 2.01 ACCESSORY BUILDING

Means a supplemental and subordinate building or structure on the same lot as the principal or main building but not part of the main building.

Section 2.02 ALTERED

Means any modification, addition, or change in construction or type of occupancy; any change or re-arrangement in the structural parts of a building; any enlargement of a building, whether by extending a side or by increasing its height; or the moving from one location to another.

Section 2.03 APPROVED

Approval by the Code Administrator in accordance with the provisions and purposes of this Code.

Section 2.04 BUILDING

Means any structure having a roof supported by columns or walls and intended for shelter, housing, or enclosure of persons, animals or property.

Section 2.05 DWELLING

Means any building or portion thereof, which is designed or used exclusively for residential purposes.

Section 2.06 ERECTED

Means the construction, alteration, reconstruction, moving upon, or any physical activity upon a lot.

Section 2.07 INCOMBUSTIBLE

Material that will not by itself ignite when its temperature and that of the surrounding air is 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit.

Section 2.08 MASONRY

Stone, brick, structural clay tile, concrete masonry units, gypsum tile or block, structural glass block or other similar building units or materials of a combination of same bonded together with mortar. Masonry also includes plain concrete.

Section 2.10 PRIVATE GARAGE

Means an accessory building or an accessory portion of a principal building designed or used solely for the storage of noncommercial motor vehicles, boats, house trailers, and similar vehicles owned and used by the occupants of the building to which it is accessory.

Section 2.11 STRUCTURE

Means anything constructed or erected the use of which requires location on the ground, or attachment to something having location on the ground.

Section 2.12 STRUCTURAL ALTERATIONS

Means any change in the supporting members of a building such as bearing walls, columns, beams or girders, or any substantial changes in the roof and exterior walls.

SECTIONS 3. CONSTRUCTION DWELLINGS

The following provisions shall apply to all dwellings hereafter erected or altered.

Section 3.01 QUALITY OF MATERIALS AND WORKMANSHIP

All building materials and workmanship shall be of good quality conforming to general accepted good standards. Except as be otherwise provided herein, the standards of the National Bureau of Standards shall be deemed to be generally accepted good practice.

Section 3.02 MORTAR

1. PROPORTIONS. Mortars of the following proportions measured by volume with sand in a damp, loose condition shall be acceptable for the specific uses mentioned in this section:

Section 3.04 STORIES

Means that portion of a building included between the surface of any floor and the next floor above it, or if there is no floor above it, then the space between the floor and the ceiling next above it and shall include all floors whose levels do not exceed fifty per cent of the main floor level measured between the floor and ceiling. No less than 7 1/2 foot ceilings.

Type A. One (1) part of portland cement to not more than three (3) parts of sand with an addition of hydrated lime or lime putty or not more than twenty-five (25) percent of the cement.

Type B. One (1) part of portland cement, one (1) part of hydrated lime or lime putty, and not more than six (6) parts of sand. Or one (1) part of prepared masonry cement conforming to type 11 of Federal Specifications (U.S. Bureau of Standards) FS-C181B to not more than three (3) parts of sand.

2. USE. Type A mortar shall be used for all below grade masonry construction. Type A or Type B mortar shall be used for all above grade construction.

Section 3.03 CONCRETE

Workable concrete shall be produced in accordance with the following table for the particular use specified.

Type of Concrete and use	No. of gallons water to be used if sand is:	No. of sacks of sand and cement	Mixture of sand and gravel

Type A --- All	Wet	Damp	Sand	Gravel
concrete exposed to the weather or to water pressure or reinforced	4	4-1/2	1	Cu. ft. 1-3/4 Cu. ft. 2

Type B --- All	Wet	Damp	Sand	Gravel
other concrete except Type C.	5	5-1/2	1	2-1/4 5
Type C --- Footings.	5-1/2	6	1	2-3/4 4

*Sand: Sand or other fine material less than 1/4 inch in size. Gravel: crushed stone or other suitable material larger than 1/4 inch, but not larger than 1/5 the narrowest dimension between forms of the concrete number, nor larger than 2-1/2 inches.

Section 3.05 FOOTINGS AND FOUNDATIONS

1. All footings shall be carried below frost level, shall bear on undisturbed soil and shall be designed to properly and safely distribute the superimposed load and add sufficient stability to the foundation.

2. Footings for all load bearing walls shall be of concrete at least sixteen (16) inches wide and eight (8) inches deep, for eight (8) inch reinforced poured walls and eight (8) inch blocks, twenty (20) inches wide and ten inches deep for ten (10) inch and twelve (12) inch blocks. Eight (8) inch blocks are not acceptable under this Code, when brick facing is used for exterior walls.

3. Where non-suitable soil conditions are encountered in construction of footings and foundations the Code Administrator may require soil borings and piling design acceptable to the Department of Public Works or any engineer designated by the City Commission.

Section 3.06 WOOD CONSTRUCTION: GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

All wood construction shall conform to the requirements of this Section and Sections 3.07.

1. Minimum sizes of lumber members required by this code refer to nominal sizes. American Lumber Standards for dressed sizes, shall be accepted as the minimum sizes conforming to nominal sizes. Computations to determine the required sizes of members shall be based upon the net dimensions (actual size) and not on the nominal sizes.

2. Splicing of wood joists between bearing points is prohibited.

3. Girders shall be structural steel, solid wood, built-up wood or reinforced concrete.

4. All joists of solid wood girders shall be made over pier or column supports. No built-up girders shall have joints broken at less than four (4) foot intervals.

5. Wood or steel posts when used as columns in basements shall bear on a cement base twenty-four (24) by twenty-four (24) by twelve (12) inches. The base shall bear directly on the post footing.

Section 3.07 WOOD CONSTRUCTION: FLOOR, CEILING AND ROOF FRAMING

1. Where floor joists frame into the side of wood girders, the joist shall be supported on metal joist hangers.

2. Ends of floor joists framing into masonry walls shall be supported on metal joist hangers or shall have not less than four (4) inches bearing and shall have at least (3) inch fire cut. An air space of one-half (1/2) inch shall be provided at ends and sides of wood joists framing into masonry.

3. Floor joists shall have a clearance of not less than eighteen (18) inches between the bottom of joists and the surface of the ground underneath. Floor joists up to 13 feet in length shall be at least 2 x 8's placed 16 inches on center; 13 feet to 16 feet shall not be less than 2 x 10's placed 16 inches on center.

4. Floor joists shall be doubled under all non-bearing partitions which run parallel to the floor joist. Joists under bearing partitions shall be multiplied in sufficient number to adequately support combined loads. Doubled joists shall be separated and blocked at four (4) foot intervals where piping or duct work occurs.

5. Ends of lapped joists shall rest on girders or on bearing partitions and shall be securely nailed to plate and to each other.

6. Floors, including attic floors and flat roof joists shall be cross-braced at intervals not to exceed eight (8) feet and double nailed at each end.

7. Where the structural strength of framing members is definitely impaired by inherent defects on by cutting or drilling, such members shall be reinforced or replaced as required by the code administrator.

8. An opening not less than twenty-four (24) inches by thirty (30) inches access into each attic space shall be provided.

9. All attic spaces and other space between flat roofs and ceilings shall be ventilated by screening louvers or other means approved by the code administrator.

10. Ceiling joists up to fourteen (14) feet shall be 2 x 6's; fourteen (14) to sixteen (16) feet shall be 2 x 8's. When ceiling joists do not serve as ties for the rafters, collar beams of 1 by 6 or 2 x 4's shall be installed on at least each third pair of roof rafters and shall be securely nailed to the rafters. Maximum spacing of collar beams, five (5) feet on center.

11. All openings in roof for dormer windows which are not supported on partitions shall be framed with double rafters and headers.

12. All rafters shall be at least 2 x 6's spaced 16 inches on center. Except when they are manufactured trussed, which may be 2 x 4, 24 inch on center.

13. Roof boards shall be minimum 3/4 inch or plywood 1/2 inch.

Section 3.08 WOOD CONSTRUCTION: EXTERIOR WALLS

1. All exterior wood or metal stud walls shall provide strength and rigidity equivalent to the following:

(a) Two (2) inch by four (4) inch wood studs spaced not more than sixteen (16) inches on center for walls supporting floor loads

(b) Two (2) inch by four (4) inch wood studs spaced not more than sixteen (16) inches on center for all interior walls.

2. All interior walls shall be covered with wood, dry wall, masonry, plaster or the equivalent in strength, rigidity and durability. The following minimum shall apply to the above materials:

3. Sheathing may be of wood, structural insulation board, gypsum board, plywood or other materials approved by the Code Administrator.

Section 3.09 EXTERIOR WALL COVERINGS

The outer covering of all exterior walls shall be moisture-resistant, of sufficient stiffness and properly anchored to remain in place during high winds and be reasonably permanent, and for the purpose of reducing the fire-hazard, be restricted to the following materials: wood-siding, exterior grade plywood, brick, cement block, cinder block, cement shingles, asphalt shingles, and brick siding, including other materials as may from time to time be approved by the Code Administrator as reasonably resistant to fire, PROVIDED, however, that no such materials shall include either tar paper or building paper.

3. Above components may further be covered by laminated or affixed coverings.

- (a) Wood - 1/4 inch over 3/8 backing
- (b) Drywall - 3/8 inch
- (c) Plaster - 5/8 inch of covering

Section 3.10 MASONRY WALLS

1. Solid brick walls shall be not less than eight (8) inches thick with a header course at least every seventh course.

2. Hollow masonry. The minimum thickness of bearing walls of structural clay tile or concrete masonry shall be not less than eight (8) inches and shall have full mortar coverage on vertical and horizontal face shells.

3. Brick veneer. Thickness of brick veneer shall be not less than three and three-fourths (3-3/4) inches, properly anchored with rust resisting wall ties, at least one tie every three square foot and must rest on foundation.

4. Existing walls. No existing wall shall be used for renewal or extension of a building or be increased in height without special written permission of the Code Administrator.

Section 3.11 ROOFING

The use of all readily ignitable and hazardous roofing material such as light asphalt or tar-impregnated paper and straw thatch is prohibited. The following materials may be considered as satisfactory: wood shingle, approved metal roofing, roll roofing or asbestos shingle.

Section 3.12 CHIMNEYS

1. Materials. Chimneys shall be constructed of brick, stone or reinforced concrete or hollow masonry units. When built of reinforced concrete or hollow masonry units with walls less than eight (8) inches thick, the chimney shall be lined throughout the flue linings. Pre-fab chimneys may be used, such as Metalbestos chimney for oil or gas or any other pre-fab with same fire rating.

2. Foundations. Chimneys shall not rest upon or be carried by wood floors, beams or brackets, not be hung or supported by metal stirrups from wood construction but shall be built upon concrete or masonry foundations or reinforced concrete slabs properly proportioned to carry the load without danger of settlement or cracking. The footing shall rest on solid earth and shall be carried below the frost level.

3. Separation from other construction. No combustible beams, joists or rafters shall be placed within two (2) inches of the outside face of chimney. No combustible studding, lathing, furring or plugging shall be placed against a chimney or in the joists thereof.

4. Flashing connections between roofs and chimneys shall be made with cap and base flashings of sheet metal or other approved material.

5. Height. Chimney shall be built at least two (2) feet above the highest point of the roof.

6. Use. All flame type heating devices or appliances used for space heating shall be safely connected with a chimney and shall be subject to the approval of the Code Administrator.

Section 3.13 SMOKE PIPES

1. Connections. Every smoke pipe shall connect with a flue by means of a tight joint and not more than one smoke pipe shall be connected to a single flue.

2. Passage through combustible construction. No smoke pipe shall pass through a ceiling, floor or roof construction of combustible material.

Section 3.14 FIRESTOPPING

Firestopping shall be supplied and so arranged as to cut off all concealed draft openings and form an effective fire barrier between stories, and between the upper story and the roof space and shall be subject to inspection by the Code Administrator before being concealed.

Section 3.15 DOORS

Each dwelling shall be provided with at least two (2) doors giving direct access to the yard surrounding the dwelling, one of which shall be located in the front half and the other in the rear half of the building.

Section 3.16 FLOOR AREA AND HEIGHT

Floor area and height - for the purpose of this Code, the City shall be deemed to be divided into zoning districts which districts shall coincide with the districts designated in the City of St. Johns Zoning Ordinance and the floor area and height requirements of that document shall prevail.

Section 3.17 ELECTRICAL WIRING AND OUTLETS

The installation of all electrical work, including equipment, shall in every case be done in a safe and workmanlike manner. The regulations of the National Electrical Code, most recent edition, shall be considered as good standard practice by the building inspector. Installation shall comply with the requirements of the electric utility company serving the area and shall be approved by such company or some other qualified electrician.

Section 3.26 PLUMBING INSTALLATION

The installation of all interior plumbing work shall comply with Articles I to IX inclusive, of the Michigan State Plumbing Code.

The total glass area of required windows in any habitable rooms shall be not less than one-tenth (1/10) of the floor area of the room.

Section 5. REPAIR OR RECONSTRUCTION OF NONCONFORMING BUILDINGS

A. Nothing in this Ordinance shall prevent the reconstruction, repair or restoration and the continued use of any nonconforming building or structure damaged by fire, collapse, explosion, acts of God, or acts of a public enemy, subsequent to the effective date of this Code, provided, however, that the cost thereof does not exceed 60 per cent of the fair valuation of such building as determined by the Board of Review or the City Assessor and provided further that there is no change in the size of the building.

B. Nor shall anything in this Code require any change in the plans, construction or intended use of a building for which plans have been prepared heretofore and the construction of which shall have been diligently prosecuted within one (1) month of the date of passage of this Code, and which has been completed within twelve (12) months after the date of passage of this Code.

Section 6. CONFLICTING LAWS AND REGULATIONS

If a conflict of restrictions occurs between the St. Johns Building Code and the St. Johns Zoning Ordinance, the more restrictive provision will take precedence.

Section 7. ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT

Unless otherwise instructed by the St. Johns City Commission, the Code Administrator or his authorized Deputy shall be the Administrator of this Code with power of enforcement.

Section 8. INSPECTIONS

1. As work progresses under a building permit, the holder thereof shall cause the Code Administrator to be notified when an inspection is necessary as outlined in this Code, namely:

A. SITE INSPECTION: After structure is staked on property but before excavation is started.

B. FOOTING INSPECTION: To be made after trenches are excavated and forms erected.

C. FRAMING INSPECTION: Upon completion of the rough frame of the structure, including the application of roof shingles and sidewall sheathing and the installation of rough plumbing and chimneys and before the lath is applied.

D. FINAL INSPECTION: Upon total completion of the work authorized by the building permit, and before occupancy.

2. Should the permit holder fail to comply with the requirements at any stage of construction, the Code Administrator or his Deputy is hereby empowered to cancel the building permit issued and shall cause notice of such cancellation to be securely posted upon said construction and such posting shall be considered as service upon and notice to the permit holder of cancellation thereof. No further work shall be undertaken or permitted upon such construction until a valid building permit shall thereafter have been issued.

3. Prior to occupying a dwelling, a final inspection MUST be made. Occupying a dwelling before the final inspection is a violation of the St. Johns Zoning Ordinance.

Section 9. BOARD OF APPEALS

There is established a Board of Appeals in accordance with Act 207 of 1921, as amended (MSA 5.2935). The said St. Johns Board of Appeals, consisting of not less than five (5) members, shall also serve as the appellate board hereof.

1. It shall be the duty of the Board of Appeals to consider appeals from decisions of the Code Administrator where there are practical difficulties or unnecessary hardships in the way of carrying out the provisions of this Code. The Board of Appeals shall have power in passing upon appeals to vary or modify rules, regulations or provisions of this Code, or decisions of the Code Administrator so that the spirit of this Code shall be observed, the safety, sanitation and protection of buildings be secured and substantial justice be done.

2. Meetings of the Board of Appeals shall be subject to the call of the Chairman or the Zoning Administrator.

Section 10. AMENDMENTS

Amendments may be initiated by the St. Johns City Commission, the Planning Commission, or by petition of one or more persons having an interest in the property to be affected by the proposed amendment.

Section 11. VALIDITY

If any provision of this Code, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance be adjudged invalid by the Courts, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Code which can be given effect without the invalid provision of application, and to this end the provisions are declared to be severable.

Section 12. PENALTIES

1. Any person, firm or corporation or agent thereof, who violates, disobeys, omits, neglects, or refuses to comply with, or resists the enforcement of any provision of this Code shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, punished by a fine of not less than ten (10) dollars nor more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, including the cost of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not less than one (1) day nor more than ninety (90) days for each offense or by both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court. Each day that a violation is permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense. The imposition of any sentence shall not exempt the offender from compliance with the provisions of this Code.

2. The St. Johns City Commission, the Code Administrator, the City Attorney of the City of St. Johns, or any owner or owners of real estate within the district in which any property in violation of the Code is located, may institute injunction, mandamus, abatement or other appropriate action or proceeding to prevent, enjoin, abate or remove any such violation.

The rights and remedies provided herein are cumulative and in addition to all other remedies provided by law.

Section 13. EFFECTIVE DATE

This Code shall be in effect 20 days after passage.

Graduation policy altered

ST. JOHNS—The St. Johns Board of Education Wednesday made official a change in school policies regarding graduation requirements. The official action was taken following initial action taken at the September meeting.

Supt. Earl Lancaster said the policy change was made because of the addition of the ninth grade into the present high school. When the school was built two years ago, only grades 10-11-12 first occupied the building. The former code was modified at that time.

The new policy requires all students within the day program to enroll in five full credits of work each school year for a total of 20 over a four year period. A student must successfully complete at least 19 credits of the 20 required. Two credits may be taken through correspondence if special needs are evident.

All transfer students will have their accumulative credits evaluated and either accepted or rejected as they relate to the program of studies in the St. Johns system. No more than six credits per school year will be accepted.

REQUIRED COURSES MUST be completed for graduation and receipt of a diploma.

The policy also states: "In the best interests of social as well as the intellectual well being of the pupil, the numbers of credit courses and activities which he carries each year should be determined on the basis of his needs and capacity."

"It is advisable that he have four years of experience in high school. In some cases, pupils may be allowed to graduate in less than the time recommended, provided that sound guidance procedures and parental and principal consent has been secured by the student."

Lancaster explained the above concept was a "relaxing" of the former rule which did not permit it.

STUDENT CLASSIFICATION according to credit requirements are three for sophomores, eight for juniors and 13 for seniors. Any student who has failed two major required subjects in any one year will not be allowed to advance grade levels under this classification system.

Schedule of Services: Tuesday, Thanksgiving Day 7:30 p.m.—Dedication and Communion Service. Friday 7:30 p.m.—Youth Services.

Saturday 6:30 p.m.—Anniversary Supper - Rev. Ray C. Middleton, speaker.

Sunday 11:00 a.m.—Homecoming Services - Rev. Jack Barlow speaker. Both speakers are former pastors from here.

Sunday School at 10:00 a.m. as usual.

The State Fall meeting of the Conservative Congregational Christian Conference will be held in Eureka on Saturday, Nov. 6. This will be an all-day meeting held at the church here.

The annual meeting of the Eureka Burial Ground Corp. will be held Saturday evening Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Eureka Elementary School Library. All lot owners are urged to attend this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Burgher of Warsaw, Ind. were Thursday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Waggoner. Gordon and Don were army buddies during the 40's.

Price District

By Mrs. Harold Crowley

Christian Education Sunday was recently observed at the Price United Methodist Church by recognizing the education workers with a special service during the morning worship period. Special recognition was given the adult class for their regular attendance and to show appreciation for their continuous service. A praying hands plaque was given to each of the following members: Mrs. Vida Exsby, Mrs. Nona Ashley, Mrs. Helen Hunt, Mrs. Austie Waldelich, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Darnell and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ormsby.

Laymen's Day was presented at the Price United Methodist Church under the direction of the lay leader, Lee Ormsby. Several laymen and laywomen participated with the message theme being "In the Interest of Others".

Our thanks to everyone who attended and helped in any way at the recent chicken supper and fair, which once again made this event very successful.

Dr. Robert T. Anderson will conduct worship service at the Price and Shepardsville United Methodist Churches Oct. 17 and 24 as a replacement has not yet been found.

Don't assault your battery

EAST LANSING—Take better care of your battery. You'll get a better charge out of it.

Howard Doss, Michigan State University agricultural mechanization specialist, offers these tips for battery care:

Keep the fluid level in the battery just to the split ring or bottom of the filler neck on the battery. A healthy working battery uses about one ounce of water for every 60 hours of use.

Use distilled water. If this is not available, use drinking water that does not have a high mineral content. Fill it just before you plan to use it for several hours.

When checking the fluid level in your battery, make sure your engine is turned off. And no smoking. Batteries give off an explosive gas.

If the fluid level is up and the battery still refuses to start your vehicle, corroded terminals could be the problem. Use a battery terminal brush or wire brush to remove the corrosion on the posts so your cables have a good surface to be connected to.

To reduce corrosion, wash battery terminals and top with a solution of baking soda and water (mix 1/4 pound of baking soda with a quart of water). But don't let the solution get inside the battery. Tighten the vent caps before washing.

Rinse the battery with water and dry it after washing. Then make sure the holes in the vent caps are open.

If you've left your lights on, and your battery has slowly discharged, drag out that battery charger and connect it to the terminals. But before you do so, completely remove all vent caps to avoid gas pressure due to a clogged vent cap hole.

ALWAYS hold matches till cold.

Storing corn key to better prices in '72

EAST LANSING — Producers who have corn eligible for price support loans will be money ahead by storing this year and using loan program, according to Nick Smith, chairman, Michigan State ASC Committee.

Current market prices, he stated, need to be stabilized because of an apparent bumper corn crop this year, Michigan's 1971 corn crop, he stated, is expected to be about 114 million bushels. However, the national production is estimated to be in excess of a billion bushels over the 1971 crop.

Smith said storage on the farm or in commercial warehouses could bring better prices later in the season. Storage will relieve the glut on the market at harvest.

Michigan farmers, Smith added, have been buying additional farm storages and dryers at an increasing rate since early this year. Many of these storages and dryers were financed with loans through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. This increased farm storage should provide ample facilities in many areas for storing Michigan's 1971 crop. In addition to the impetus for increased loan activity because of low market prices, Smith stated, there are 14 per cent more Michigan farmers signed up under the 1971 Feed Grain Program than a year ago.

THIS IN TURN, will increase the number of producers eligible to take advantage of the Price Support Loan Program as an orderly marketing tool.

With current market prices for corn more than 18 cents below the county loan rates in Michigan, Smith urged producers to consider the advantages of holding their corn off the market until the market is able to absorb the excess production. Orderly marketing, he added, is the key to better prices. Where funds are needed, eligible producers can obtain price support loans through their local county ASCS office.

Smith also reminded producers of Secretary Hardin's recent announcement that loans on 1969 and 1970 crop corn revealed this year, and 1971 crop corn under farm-stored loan may be extended by producers to May 31, 1973. The announcement was made early, he said, so that farmers could decide whether to store and hold their corn or sell during the current harvest.

Producers who are short grain storage, Smith added, may be able to rent empty CCC bins at the various binsites in the State. These binsites are located in Berrien, Branch, Clinton, Eaton, Gratiot, Kalamazoo, Lenawee, St. Joseph, Shiawassee, Tuscola and Van Buren counties. CCC bins are available for rental at one cent per bushel per month on the rated capacity. Further details, he stated, can be obtained at the local county ASCS offices.

Detective wins state honors

LANSING—A top State Highway executive who improved efficiency, a State Police detective who developed centralized use of a computer to detect criminals, and a Social Services supervisor who devised ways of cutting red tape have been honored as the State's three outstanding career public employees for 1971.

The Governor's Commission for Distinguished Public Employees today announced selection of John P. Woodford, 48, of Okemos Deputy Director-Chief Engineer of the Department of State Highways; Darrell H. Pope, 40, of 507 Park Street, St. Johns, State Police Detective; Mrs. Clarissa Love, 41, of Detroit, career developer of the Department of Social Services as winners of state-wide competition among 50,000 state employees. The coveted awards will be presented by Governor Milliken at a luncheon in Lansing on November 4 to be attended by some 400 leaders of Michigan business, industry, and government.

"Purpose of the program is recognition by business, industry, and government of career public employees who made a superior contribution in the service of the taxpayer," Robert Pick-up, Director of the Citizens' Research Council and Chairman of the Commission, said.

Woodford's recognition cited his role in a reduction in the number of Highway Department employees from 4,907 in 1967 to 4,327 in 1971, although the department's total work volume this year is expected to be the highest in recent years.

WHILE MOST STATE departments have increased personnel, the steady reduction in the last four years of 580 employees in the Highway Department has been generally accomplished by not filling vacancies. State Highway Director Henrik Stafseth in supporting the nomination declared: "It is mainly through Woodford's direct and sustained efforts the department has the lowest level of employment in 10 years."

Woodford's rapid rise from a project engineer in 1947 at the age of 25 assigned to troubleshooting bridge and tunnel projects on Michigan's first urban freeway, the Edsel Ford in Detroit, to assistant bridge engineer in Lansing at 32, assistant chief engineer at 34, and to his present position, the top classified job in the Highway Department in 1967, was also noted.

Stafseth described Woodford as a "hard-driving administrator who thinks fast, acts fast, and makes decisions fast—with that rare quality of being right most of the time." A native of Massachusetts, and graduate of Cornell University, who was shot down while a navigator with Eighth Air Force in Europe during World War II, Woodford was attracted to Michigan by a childhood visit to Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

He is married and the father of seven children.

POPE WAS CITED for his work in devising a central computerized file which analyzed reports of armed robberies from all police departments in Michigan and, by comparing methods used, suggested suspects known to utilize the techniques involved. He was also cited for volunteer work in developing training courses in marine safety, instructing hundreds of young people in the central Michigan area in a program filmed for training purposes and circulated nationally by the American Red Cross.

Pope, who enlisted in the State Police as a trooper in 1956, was initially assigned to the underwater recovery squad, later worked in the modus operandi section of the State Police where through extraordinary effort he caused the identification of several criminals who would otherwise have gone undetected. He currently does volunteer work lecturing before church and business organizations on the problems of narcotics, pornography, and other police-community problems. He is known for his personal interest, assistance, and guidance of young people who seem headed for trouble with the law.

He is married and the father of four children.

Mrs. Love, employed by the Department of Social Services since 1957, in Detroit was cited for her initiative as a clerk in suggesting methods of improving paper flow in processing medical and medicare claims by welfare recipients in the Detroit office, and in subsequent work as an office manager. Her current assignment involves counseling less educated and less qualified employees in self-help so they, too, can develop more responsible careers in state social service work.

SHE WAS ALSO cited for a host of activities aimed at resolving community and human relations problems which include special awards from the NAACP, Detroit Board of Education, the mayor of Detroit, the Detroit News, and the Michigan State Employees Association. She has held over a dozen posts with volunteer community organizations in Detroit, participating in special programs for student guidance counseling and treatment of racial minorities in textbooks in the Detroit public schools. She is the mother of five children, the oldest a girl in college, one son in the armed forces, and three still in high school.

Grain facility saves losses

Building a grain drying facility can be expensive. But think of the alternatives.

That's what Willard Reichart, Quincy, Mich., did when he figured out what it would take to bring another son into his business.

Reichart owns and rents over 700 acres, most of it corn, with about 500 acres as corn grain. He maintains a 120-cow dairy herd.

His son, Larry, 21, is in partnership with him. And son Bruce plans to join the partnership soon.

Reichart figured he had to expand his grain storage facilities so he could speed up harvest time, cut harvest losses—which run from 15 to 17 per cent with late harvesting—and spend more time with his dairy herd.

He has a 9,000 bushel bin and is going for a 50,000 bushel volume by 1973. He plans to incorporate it all into a material flow system and feed processing center. Ned Netherton, Hillsdale County Extension Agent, figured Reichart's investment would be $1 to $1.25 per bushel capacity, less if he does some of the work himself.

"The new system includes the present dryer, a larger dryer later, a new elevating leg, belt conveyor pit, a feed processing center and using existing bins plus locating two new ones," Netherton explains.

"As he makes purchases and continues development, he will be doing so according to the plan and eventually end up with a unit he desires."

Reichart expects to complete the system in about two more years.

Netherton says on-the-farm storage is important to cash grain producers, because it saves time at harvest. Reichart wants to avoid those long lines at the local elevator and to reduce late harvest field losses.

"He will probably do a better job of marketing, too, because he will have his corn grain under his control," says Netherton.

Two words, marketing and bargaining, have been used by our nation's business and labor for many years and are now coming to the forefront in the agriculture world.

A landmark piece of legislation called the National Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act of 1971 has been introduced by one hundred congressmen so far.

There is a need to improve the legal foundation upon which farmers can build their own effective marketing and bargaining programs.

A growing volume of farm production is now produced and marketed under advance contracts between farmers and handlers.

With the growing concentration of power by handlers, farmers are seeking to develop strength through the formation of marketing and bargaining organizations to achieve a more equitable position at the bargaining table.

FARMERS SHOULD HAVE the same privilege as other segments of business in having designated, well-informed representatives to meet and bargain with handlers of their products in the development of contract terms.

The Skis Bill is a modest and temperate approach to the problem as is indicated by one hundred bipartisan congressmen's interest.

ASCS for storage facility use

ST. JOHNS—Farmers, farmer groups and warehousemen needing grain storage facilities can apply at the County ASCS Office for use of Commodity Credit Corporation bins.

Space to store about 240,000 bushels is available at the Clinton County Binsite at St. Johns, Michigan. Bins in Clinton County are usually used to store corn.

The cost for bin rental is one cent a bushel per month, or fraction of a month, for the rated capacity of the bin. Most CCC bins have 3,250 bushel capacity, although some larger ones have up to 40,000 bushel capacity.

Aeration equipment will be available at most bins for a slight additional charge, but no drying facilities.

Grain stored in the rented bins is entirely the responsibility of the farmer, group of farmers, or warehousemen who rent the bin.

All inquiries and requests about bin rentals should be made at the County ASCS Office.

Mayor sets Halloween hours, rules

ST. JOHNS—Halloween got official recognition by the St. Johns City Commission Tuesday night and Mayor Robert L. Wood urged children and parents alike to be cautious.

Wood said the city fire siren would be sounded at 6 p.m. to signal the start of traditional trick or treating and again at 8:30 p.m. to signal the end of it. That will be on Sunday, Oct. 31.

"We are asking all St. Johns residents to turn on all porch and yard lights at that time to

"And we are asking that they be turned off again at 8:30 p.m."

HOPING TO MAKE Halloween a safe period, Mayor Wood urged all persons driving cars on that date to be especially cautious and watch out for small children who could dart into the roadway at any time.

The City Commission also urged parents not to allow their children to eat any of their treats until they have been inspected by an adult.

EXTENSION REPORT
Don't hold breath

By GEORGE McQUEEN

Wheat hybrids could be in commercial production within three years—maybe even next year. But don't hold your breath.

These hybrids could increase yields up to 25 per cent and give farmers some important disease and insect resistance. But producing them takes time—a lot of time.

Dr. Clyde Trupp, Michigan State University crop scientist, is in charge of one of the few intensive hybrid wheat development programs at a university. He says developing new wheat varieties takes about 15 years. And with hybrids, this figure may be a bit optimistic because of the genetic problems faced by the breeder.

A big obstacle is the lack of a simple effective means of restoring fertility to the offspring of the male-sterile, female parents. Genetic restorer systems do exist, and can be incorporated into male parents, but the systems vary widely in effectiveness. They are influenced by climate and are generally complex, requiring a long and complicated development program.

Trupp says developing workable parent lines can be approached from two major directions: (1) genetic manipulation to produce the desired male and female parents, and (2) the use of chemicals to induce desired male sterility. Since no reliable gametocide (a chemical that causes either male, female or total sterility) is available, the MSU program is placing most of its attention on genetic manipulation.

In addition to the traditional method of developing parents for potential hybrids, the MSU program is also using a more exotic system for arriving at the same end result. This breeding scheme uses both cytoplasmic sterility and genetic sterility. Last winter, approximately 3,000 crosses were made in MSU's greenhouses attempting to develop a desirable male parent in Michigan. The crosses involved hard red winter and spring wheat varieties and standard Michigan soft white winter wheat varieties. The red wheat varieties had good fertility restorer systems, but undesirable quality. The white varieties had good quality, but lacked restorer systems.

TRUPP POINTS out that about 9,000 plants from crosses made the previous year (1969-70) were screened for possible use in developing male parents. Hard red spring wheats were crossed with Michigan winter wheats with the idea of getting a plant that has desirable quality, an effective fertility restorer system, and winter type. About 350 selections from the 9,000 plants were saved for further evaluation. Most of these will be involved in greenhouse crosses this coming winter if they appear suitable at that time.

Attempts are being made to develop both male and female parents using the traditional method of cytoplasmic sterility, says Trupp. At present, the exotic breeding system is being used only to come up with the desired male parent.

Continuing work involves crosses aimed at producing a female parent. These crosses involve introducing male cytoplasmic sterility into 50 different wheat lines. After these lines are developed in the greenhouses, they will be moved to the field for increase and evaluation in actual hybrids.

Hybrid wheat research at MSU is now going into its third year. To date, research emphasis has been on developing suitable parent plants that may be used to develop new hybrids.

Major attention is being given to developing a hybrid winter wheat, but the possibilities of developing hybrid spring varieties are not being overlooked, adds Trupp.

Fifty million acres of wheat are produced each year in the U.S. Since new seed of hybrid varieties would be required each year, a large potential market for seed exists.
