Poet and the pumpkins

Warren E. Dobson, Clinton County News poet, and his wife Esther tidy up a pile of pumpkins in front of their neat farm home on Wood Road south of State Road in DeWitt Township. Halloween and pumpkins are seasonal topics which Dobson uses for poetic expression. He writes about anything and everything however, and inspiration for verse can come wherever he happens to be. Dobson has been writing for the Clinton County News for about eight years.

Swim pool deficit smaller than expected

The swimming program in St. Johns this past summer operated at a lower-than-expected cost, and the deficit was only $754.96, the Lansing YMCA reported last week.

The deficit is being paid off by the Clinton County Memorial Swimming Pool Committee, which has more than enough in its fund of contributions to meet the expense.

Dr. Herb Oatley, chairman of the committee, and Larry Scramlin, YMCA director of the St. Johns pool program, expressed satisfaction and "pleasant surprise" to see how little the deficit really was.

"Almost perfect swimming weather during the latter part of the summer swelled attendance at the pool, and approximately 10,400 youngsters came during open swim hours during the summer. Another 285 adults and families took advantage of the pool. Admissions brought in $2,898.16 in revenue, some $698 more than what the YMCA had anticipated in its budget.

Total income was $8,655.41, some $735 higher than expected, while expenses totaled $9,410.37, nearly $1,000 less than expected.

Dr. Oatley said Friday the memorial pool committee would pay off the deficit in operations with a $4,776.11 balance now in its treasury. Even that would leave a net balance of $4,024.15, which Oatley said would be carried over for next year "for strictly pool purposes."

THE POOL COMMITTEE, organized by citizens when St.

Johns' fiscal situation forced the commission to announce the closing of the pool this summer, raised a total of $14,343.71 in contributions so that children could swim this summer. Some $9,564.80 was spent on equipment and installation, and the YMCA was contracted to assume the operation of the pool. The committee guaranteed it would stand any deficit which might be incurred.

Dr. Oatley pointed out that the equipment put into the pool this summer, including a vacuum diatomite filtration system and a pool heater to maintain a water temperature of 78-80 degrees, is the "best" equipment and can be expected to last for a number of years.

The $4,024.15 being carried over should be more than enough for operational deficits next year or even the next few years. Oatley said the Clinton County Memorial Pool Committee has not yet decided what to use the money for next year, but under consideration is a large canvas to be strung across the fence at the west and north ends of the pool to shield against the wind.

There may be painting and other opening costs next summer that will have to be assumed by the committee.

"THIS HAS BEEN a great summer," Dr. Oatley said in expressing thanks to the people who worked on the pool fund solicitation, and those who donated. "But it would have been terrible, with the weather like it was, if the

St. Johns race strictly write-in St. Johns voters will have a chance to do some "ghost writing" when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

They'll be deciding between three men who aren't even on the ballot but who are seeking two vacant city commission seats. Two of the men will be elected on the basis of write-in votes.

The candidates are John W. Hannah of 210 W. Walker Street; John Lynch of 110 E. McConnell Street; and Robert H. Wood of 107 N. Lansing Street.

They all stepped into the race following the announcement by city officials—after they had researched the situation—that the deadline for filing nominating petitions was actually Aug. 6 (primary election day) rather than later as they had figured.

No petitions had been filed by that deadline, so that threw the election to a completely write-in campaign. As of Tuesday only the three men had announced their candidacy.

Brief biographies of the candidates, plus their pictures and their own written comments concerning their candidacy appear on Page 14-B this week.

A special article and picture describing the proper procedure for writing in a candidate on the city precincts' voting machines appears on Page 8-A.

New Wacousta school part of future plans

WACOUSTA — A new elementary school in the Wacousta area is part of a long-range projection of Grand Ledge School District needs, the board of education told Wacousta area residents last week.

A 35-acre tract of land directly west of Wacousta is now being negotiated for and rezoning requests are being made to prepare the site for future school use.

Part of the present Wacousta School is more than 40 years old, and Grand Ledge Supt. Kenneth Beagle noted that many of the school's facilities are being used on a temporary basis, including portable classrooms and a library in the basement.

Poems from the pumpkin patch

DeWitt's Warren Dobson finds ideas come easily there or in dentist's chair

By LOWELL G. RINKER
Editor

Warren Dobson's roadside pumpkin business is keeping him busy these days, what with it being the Halloween season, but chances are there will be a poem come out of it somehow.

Dobson, 72, is the Clinton County News' regular poet, and his verses each week help brighten up the editorial page. The topics of his writing cover a wide scope, not the least of which is agriculture and once in a while pumpkins in particular.

He has been writing for the Clinton County News for about seven or eight years, and his poetry background goes back to when he was a child. His father, deaf most of his life, wrote verses, some of which he sold. "I suppose that's where I acquired whatever knack I have for it," Dobson comments.

He's had no formal training in poetry. He had high school English and short courses in college, but not with reference to poetry in particular. "It's just a natural trait that I try to give expression to."

The expression pertains to many things, from political and moral feelings to light-hearted verse. "The one on 92-cent wheat and ones on parity are typical, because I've tried to carry the farm viewpoint to quite an extent, and right now this time issue will be coming up for a vote."

"I try not to repeat myself. In going back over the years, I often find some with the same title, but they're not the same verse," Dobson estimates he's probably written 500 or more poems, and he's presently working on the possibility of getting some of them printed in book form.

"I SUPPOSE THAT'S more for my own vanity than anything else," he commented. "I'm still considering whether there is enough sale for the book to make it worthwhile. I don't expect it to make any money for me, but I would like to have it pay its own way."

Monetary income is not what prompts Dobson's poetry.

"It's not a highly paid profession," he chuckled. "It's more for the fun I get out of it. Not too often do we hear comments from subscribers. Once in a while, but for the most part we don't know what people's reaction is. I do it for the amusement, anyway."

While the Clinton County News has been his main media of public expression, there have been other means of spreading his poetry. He used to write occasionally for a newspaper in Branch County when he lived down there, and he's had some verses in Farm Bureau publications—"none of it what you'd call professional, but just amateur work."

At one time a farm paper in Iowa published some of Dobson's verses, and occasionally where he's written on some political topic, some county organization has taken it up. "But again, it's just happenstance," he said. "And as far as the actual cash remuneration is concerned, it's almost a minus quantity."

BORN NEAR QUINCY, Dobson lived most of his life in Branch County. He started work for the Farm Bureau in 1931 and had the first Farmers Petroleum bulk plant in the state down in Branch County, and he helped get several others started. Then he went on the road for Farm Bureau for a time before moving to Lansing to work in the main Farm Bureau office.

He was in the seed department for a number of years, then took over the steel paint and asphalt department. He went back on the road again selling seed and fertilizer before retiring seven years ago.

Dobson's "retirement home" is a neat, well-kept house and buildings at 16343 Wood Road, just south of State Road in DeWitt Township. He's got 30 acres of land—"too small for a farm and too big for a garden."

But gardening does provide a good portion of revenue and activity for Dobson. He's got two large gardens where he grows melons, sweet corn, potatoes, squash and pumpkins, "so there's something for sale from July on

Few contests at county level for election Tuesday

A fixed millage proposition and the election of a judge for the new district court provide about the only real decisions for Clinton County voters to make at the county level next Tuesday.

Candidates for other county offices, including the 11 new supervisors for the new county board, are running unopposed.

When it comes to the office of county prosecutor, however, there is no name on the ballot, and voters will have to write in their choice. So far only St. Johns attorney Patrick Kelly has announced his write-in candidacy.

The real decision for voters will be in deciding between Roland Duguay and Harold Reed for the new position of district court judge. The new court, which will take effect Jan. 1, will have county-wide jurisdiction and will replace municipal court and the justice of the peace courts.

Duguay is presently Clinton County prosecuting attorney; Reed is St. Johns Municipal Court judge and administrator at Clinton Memorial Hospital. More complete biographical material and written comments on their candidacy by each man appear on Page 15-B.

An article explaining the fixed millage proposition appears on Page 1-B.

ELSEWHERE AT the county level, candidates have little to worry about as far as opposition. There is none for the Republican candidates. Running for reelection as sheriff is Percy J. Patterson. Ernest Carter is seeking his first full term as county clerk after being appointed to that position last winter following the death of Paul Wakefield. Velma Beaufore is a candidate for another term as county treasurer.

Willard Krebel is the candidate for register of deeds, his party's choice in August after incumbent Mrs. Marie Belknap chose not to seek reelection. Dale Chapman, an incumbent, is running for another term as drain commissioner, and Van W. Hoag and Lee R. Rummell are candidates for the two coroner positions. Hoag is an incumbent, but Rummell is new; he would replace Robert Sirrine, who is not seeking reelection as one of the county's two coroners.

County electors will be electing one or another of 11 new supervisors to sit on the new one-man, one-vote county board of supervisors that will assume its duties in January. The districts from

City approves fire contracts with 6 townships in area

The St. Johns City Commission shot through their regular meeting Monday night in record fashion, adjourning just a half hour after Vice Mayor Mrs. Jean Rand gavelled the meeting to order.

The top item on the agenda was the approval of fire contracts with six townships in the St. Johns area—Bengal, Greenbush, Riley, Essex, Bingham and Olive. The only real contention was over the standby and per-run fees charged the townships; the rest of the contract was along the general terms of the earlier contracts which had expired this summer and then been extended.

Under the new terms, Bengal Township will pay $400 as a stand-by fee and $170-per run in the township by the St. Johns Fire Department. Greenbush has a $1,000 a year standby fee and a $150-per-run charge. Bingham has an $800 fee and $170-per-run charge.

Riley Township will pay $200 year plus $170 per run, as will Essex Township. Olive Township will pay a $460 standby fee and $150 per run.

Bingham and Greenbush are the only townships serviced in full by the St. Johns Fire Department. The other townships are paying for areas roughly con-

Local-level politics creating some little excitement, too

Local-level politics may be taking a back seat to national politics and all its presidential hoopla, but in Clinton County, at least, there is a wide assortment of competition and issues facing the voters next Tuesday.

Most townships and cities will be electing trustees or supervisors or clerks or mayors or councilmen. Some of the candidates have opposition and some do not. In several political subdivisions, there are vital issues for voters to decide on, too. Let's take a look at the situation:

Bath Township: Bath has a two-way race for a trustee seat, with Republican Richard A. Bragdon being opposed by Daniel A. Carleton, a Democrat. There are also two propositions. Proposition one pertains to a millage increase of one mill for five years to be used for providing additional funds for the purchase of fire trucks, fire equipment and establishment of a fire building and site fund. Proposition two pertains to the sale of liquor by the glass.

Bengal Township: There's no competition for two seats on the township board. Republican Donald Irner is a candidate for a full term, and Republican Harold Armbrustmacher is a candidate to fill a vacancy on the board. Bingham Township: Hugo Fox, a Republican, is a candidate for the township board.

DALLAS TOWNSHIP: Republican Josephine George is the only candidate for Dallas Township clerk, and Democrat Clare Snyder is the lone applicant for a seat on the township board.

DeWitt Township: DeWitt has a race for two township trustee seats between Democrat Milton J. King and Republicans Theodore L. Powell and William A. Johns. Oliver S. Angell, a Republican, is the lone candidate for township clerk. Township voters will also cast ballots on a proposition for DeWitt Township to become a charter township, giving it the status of a municipality with larger representation on the township board and broader taxing powers.

City of DeWitt: DeWitt city voters will have races for mayor and four council seats, as well as voting on a proposition to make sale of liquor by the glass legal within the city limits. In the mayor race for a two-year term, incumbent Elden T. Smith is opposed by Marshall C. Warren. There's a two-year term on the city council opening, and DuWayne Ziegler and Paul Mulford are the candidates. There are six candidates for three four-year terms on the council; aspirants are Lawrence Keck and Paul Hartwigsen, Andrew K. Traxler and Jack Scott, and Roger A. Overway and John H. Hatt.

Duplain Township: Republican Wayne Peck is the lone candidate for trustee.

Eagle Township: Republican Bruce Moyer is running for a seat as trustee, and Lynn Volk, a Republican, is candidate for another seat to fill a vacancy.

Essex Township: Charles R. Smith, a Republican, is a candidate as trustee.

GREENBUSH TOWNSHIP: Republican Miron Post is a trustee candidate.

Lebanon Township: Republicans Fred Watts and Paul Graff Jr. are candidates for trustee and township clerk, respectively.

Olive Township: Agatha Simon is a candidate for township clerk, and Gale Boron is running for trustee. Both are Republicans. Township voters will also cast ballots on a proposition to permit the sale of spirits in addition to beer and wine for consumption on the premises (liquor by the glass).

Ovid Township: Robert C. Hebel Sr., a Republican, is a trustee candidate.

Riley Township: Clarence Trumbull and Norman M. Thelen are lone candidates for the positions of trustee and supervisor, respectively. Both are Republicans.

Victor Township: Republican Stanley Morrill is a trustee date.

Watertown Township: Leon C. Garlock is a candidate for a full term as trustee, and Paul C. Schaefer and Thomas K. Ryan are candidates for two other terms to fill vacancies. Herman Openthal is running as township supervisor. All the men are Republicans.

Westphalia Township: Walter Kellen is a candidate for township trustee.

to after Halloween, at least." He has a quarter-acre of pumpkins this year but off of that will harvest quite a few tons. He eats primarily to the roadside business, though he's moved some through grocery stores and other outlets. One year he sold to a gasoline station which used them for a promotional program. Pumpkins and Halloween have been the subject of several of Dobson's poems in the past, and probably some of the brainstorms come while working in the garden.

"I GET IDEAS wherever I happen to be," he said. "I have been known to get up in the night when I had a wakeful time and get an idea. I'd go out in the other room and jot it down so I wouldn't forget it. They come rather spontaneously and not the result of any set time or effort."

"It can be prompted by most anything I happen to be doing. The one I have now seemed to come to life in the dentist's chair. Some are general philosophies, some are with regard to my ideas on current issues of the day. But there's no set pattern, I guess; they just are what you'd call a medley."

Keeping the Clinton County News supplied with poetry doesn't seem too much of a problem for Dobson. "There are times when I get a little behind the eightball and it becomes a matter of making the time (to write). But usually I have ideas enough ahead that unless I get involved doing something else I get them out in ample time."

Dobson sends his poems in in batches of two or three. He seldom gets much farther ahead, except when he and his wife go south for a few weeks, and then he makes some advance arrangements to make sure the editor is supplied while he's gone.

Dobson says he doesn't find writing the poems too hard. "It doesn't take a half hour to write them after I get the idea, usually, but the main job is to figure out something to write about." There are a lot of false starts, he admits. "The choice of words or lines is subject to change after the original is made, but it generally doesn't require too much changing."

Dobson's style is pretty much the same in every poem. He confesses he doesn't remember the names of the terms that apply to the style of poetry. There are certain cadences that come under one rule and some under another.

"IF YOU CAN GET your train of thought on a fitting sequence for each verse the rest is comparatively easy," Dobson said, "and you can tell your story and still put it in verse form. But there are some things you get all written and then make up your mind they weren't worth writing in the first place."

It's hard sometimes to make the word you want to use fit for length, Dobson says from experience. Another problem is not to repeat the same word too often.

"But I never have followed any hard and fast rules," Dobson admits. "I know even in college I was faulted sometimes because I went ahead and wrote the article without following the outline they required. I thought that if the end product justified the effort, then the outline was more or less unnecessary. But that wasn't their idea."

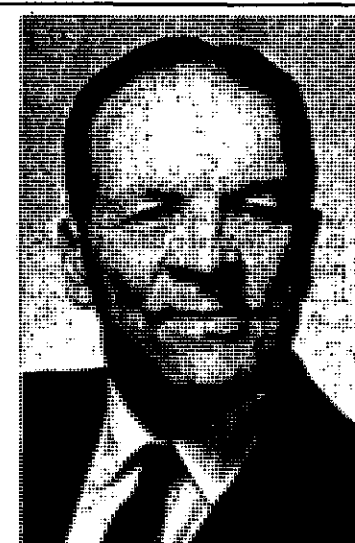

Dobson tries to keep all his poems of "printable length" and still say enough to carry his point. "I'm not one of those who think they can do it all in four lines."

His poetry is submitted in handwritten form. Occasionally his wife Esther, to whom he's been married 40 years, helps him out when he needs some typing done. "If it gets so the editor can't read my writing, then she'll have to type them all I suppose."

Mr and Mrs Dobson have one daughter, Mrs Russell (Elaine) Scoville of Saginaw, and four grandchildren.

By ROBERT ELDRIDGE
Road Clerk

Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the trusses were laid on the piers to form the road bed of the bridge over the Maple River on Tallman Road. These trusses are made of pre-stressed concrete, are 63 feet long and weigh about 20 tons each. The crane that put them in place was tied down with heavy cables, but even so, the weight of the trusses would lift the back end of the crane off the bridge deck when it was putting them in place.

Thirty of these trusses were laid on the piers and the close tolerances required in fitting them together seemed remarkable to me. Three-inch holes were formed diagonally through each truss at equidistant points. When the trusses were in place, these holes all lined up and one-inch steel rods were threaded diagonally across the entire width of the bridge tying the entire surface structure together.

The interstices between the trusses will be filled with grout, expansion joints will be packed in place at the truss ends and then a waterproofing compound will be applied. This will be followed with a ploid film sheet over the entire deck surface and finally a slightly crowned asphalt road bed will be applied as the final phase of the bridge deck. All this is scheduled to be done by the 6th of November and the opening - to - traffic date is Dec. 16, with final completion of the entire project scheduled for next June.

It is anticipated that traffic on Tallman Road will increase with the completion of this bridge next year. Tallman Road is a primary road in Clinton County. At the Gratiot County line it becomes Bliss Road which is also a primary improved road that intersects with M-57 further north.

The Tallman Road bridge is also the only crossing of the Maple River between Maple Rapids and the west county line, a distance of nearly seven miles. The project is costly, but its importance to the residents of the area and to the county at large makes it warranted.

Many a man bumps into trouble trying to dodge his duty.

It's the fiction in politics that causes the most friction.

133 attend fall session

Jaycees hold district meeting here

One hundred thirty-three Jaycees from eight of the nine chapters in the District 11 of Region D turned up in St. Johns last Thursday evening when the local chapter hosted the district fall board meeting.

Robert Padgett, state president of the Jaycees, was the keynote speaker at the meeting, which was preceded by dinner in the St. Joseph Catholic School social hall.

The meeting was the largest district meeting in District 11 in several years and the largest district meeting in the state this year. Roger Hammonree of the St. Johns Jaycees was in charge of arrangements.

Four Clinton County Jaycee chapters were among those receiving awards from Padgett during the evening. Accepting the national community development awards on behalf of their chapters were Dick Fink of the Fowler Jaycees, Jerry Ross of Ovid-Elsie, Jack Downing of St. Johns and Jerry Platte of Westphalia. Other chapters receiving the award were Charlotte, Grand Ledge, Sunfield and Waverly.

FOWLER, GRAND Ledge, Ovid - Elsie, St. Johns, Sunfield, Waverly and Westphalia won chapter management leadership awards, and Fowler, Grand Ledge, St. Johns and Westphalia won blue chip awards for membership increase.

Sunfield won the chapter travel trophy.

Padgett, the state Jaycee president, asked the representatives attending to "sell the Jaycee creed in your communities." He urged Jaycees not to change the world but to change the direction of the way things are already going.

"Today is the first day of the 'rest of our lives,' he said. 'We have to ask ourselves what we are doing with our children's world and whether we are putting it into trusting hands or careless hands.'

He said the United States is not a sacred nation, and the U.S. can lose its freedom by either war or loss of personal freedoms.

Padgett pointed out that Jaycees provide its members with top opportunities. "Don't hold yourselves back," he said, "There's a great future out there. All you have to do is want it and to take part in it."

Donald Hann, internal vice president of the Michigan Jaycees from Holland, urged the young men to get involved. "If we are to save democracy, we have to get involved," he commented. He said Americans are delegating their problems. They should be handled locally, he said, and they can be by realizing there can be good faith disputes that will bring about improvements.

The call to order for the meeting was given by Gary Quigley of St. Johns, District 11 vice president. Larry Wine of Charlotte, national director of Region D, was present for the meeting, too.

The Ovid-Elsie Jaycees were awarded the bid for the District 11 bowling tournament in 1969. It will be held at the Tri-Ami Lanes Feb. 2.

Jaycees plan shop trip for youngsters

OVID-ELSIE - A shopping trip for under - privileged children will be a Christmas gift from the Ovid-Elsie Jaycees this winter. The Jaycees will use some $200 in profits from an October horse show at Elsie to show the youngsters a good time.

Jaycee Wives Night-Out party is being planned by the Jaycees for Nov. 2. Nov. 5 will be a membership night dinner for the Jaycees at the Elsie Methodist Church.

The Republican caravan will be at Grand Ledge at 11:30 a.m. Friday, then at Westphalia at 1 p.m., Fowler at 1:45, Maple Rapids at 2:30, Eureka at 3 p.m., Elsie at 3:30, Ovid at 4 p.m., and St. Johns at 4:30.

They will be accompanied by Clinton County Republican Chairman Andrew Cobb and members of the Clinton Teen-Age Republicans.

The right kind of experience is sometimes worth the cost.

Dr DeVore building new office

A new medical building is presently under construction at 907 S. US-27, St. Johns, for Dr. Harry DeVore D.O.

He reports the new structure is scheduled for completion in February or March. At present the walls are up and within one or two weeks a Mansard roof will go on.

The New building will have 11 rooms, including a laboratory, office, and waiting rooms.

Dr. DeVore and Dr. Larry Bader D.O. are at present located at 206 W. Walker Street.

The man whose character and reputation travel in opposite directions soon loses both.

Margaret Igaz

PEWAMO (c)—Funeral services were Tuesday morning for Mrs. Margaret Igaz, 77, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Portland at 10 a.m. with her grandson, Father John P. Huhn of Battle Creek, officiating. Mrs. Igaz died at her home at 433 East Portland, where she had lived for eight years. She was a former resident of Pewamo for 40 years.

She was born May 20, 1891 in Czechoslovakia. She leaves her husband, John; two daughters, Mrs. Irene Huhn of Eagle Blanche, many of Bath; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild; three sisters and three brothers. Rosary was recited Monday at 8 p.m. at the Neller Funeral Home. Bearers were Harold, Arnold and Gerald Nureberg, Serigens Olah, Richard O'Neil and Clement Kramer.

Walter R. Fowler

Walter R. Fowler, 72, of East Jordan, father of Bruce H. Fowler of St. Johns, passed away Saturday, Oct. 26, after a year's illness.

Mr. Fowler was born in Alba, Mich., Sept. 25, 1896, and spent most of his life in the north country. After high school Mr. Fowler joined the Army and fought in the battles of St. Mihiel and the Argonne Forest.

He married Bernice Horton while at Camp Dix, N. J., on July 2, 1918. Fowler was very active in church work and was a member of the First Methodist Church of East Jordan.

He is survived by his wife, Bernice, and one son, Bruce Fowler; two sisters and five brothers; and five grandchildren.

Services were held at 2 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in East Jordan with burial at Central Lake.

Cecil C. Hopp

Cecil C. Hopp, 84, former St. Johns area resident, passed away Oct. 14 at Frankfort, Ind. Funeral services were held at the Christian Church in Flora, Ind., Oct. 17. He had lived the past 18 years in Flora, Ind.

Mr. Hopp was born in Frankfort in 1884. He is survived by his wife Mattie, three brothers and one sister.

Mr. Hopp was a devoted worker in the Bingham United Brethren Church during his 28 years here.

Mrs. Ruth Stotzel

Mrs. Ruth Stotzel, 75, former resident of 207 E. State Street, and recently of Muncie, Ind., died Oct. 23 in Muncie.

She was born in Henry County, Ind., Aug. 13, 1893.

Funeral services were held in New Castle, Ind., at the Macer Funeral Home Friday, Oct. 25. Graveside services were held in Mt. Rest Cemetery Saturday at 11:30 a.m. with Rev. Hugh Banning of St. Johns officiating.

Mrs. Stotzel is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Lynam of St. Johns and Mrs. Otis Loy of Muncie, Ind.; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

John F. Motz

John F. Motz, 87, of R-2, Bengal Township, died Saturday, Oct. 26, at 7:45 p.m. after a long illness. Mr. Motz passed away at the Motz Nursing Home in Fowler.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph Catholic Church Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 10 a.m. Burial was at Holy Trinity Cemetery, with Rev. Joseph Labiak officiating. Rosary was recited Monday at 7:45 p.m. at the Osgood Funeral Home.

Mr. Motz was born in Kitchener, Ontario, Oct. 15, 1881, the son of Frederick and Rose Motz. He attended Detroit schools and moved to this area in 1906 and to the Bengal address in 1910.

He married Christine Kramer in Fowler on May 17, 1910; she passed away in 1949. Mr. Motz was a member of St. Joseph Church, Knights of Columbus in Gaylord, Holy Name Society, and the Farm Bureau. He was a farmer all his life.

He is survived by two sons, Edward Motz of R-2, St. Johns, and Lawrence Motz of Fowler; one daughter, Mrs. Helen Tolles of Castle Rock, Colo.; 10 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

Mr. Cowman

HUBBARDSTON (c)—Funeral services for Lawrence Cowman, a former resident, were held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Chesaning, Saturday, Oct. 19.

Mr. Cowman was a long-time Chesaning businessman, operating a grocery and dry goods store.

He is survived by one son,

Joseph Cowman; two daughters, Mrs. Jane Sellers and Mrs. Sally Gewirtz, all of Chesaning; one brother, Roy Cowman of Hubbardston; and a sister, Mrs. Clara Harlan of Chicago.

Ernest Heinze

ELSIE (c)—Funeral services were held at the Carter Funeral Home in Elsie for Ernest T. Heinze, 72, of Gaylord Friday afternoon. Burial was made in Riverside Cemetery. He died Tuesday at the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Heinze was born in Elsie on Aug. 30, 1896, the son of Otto and Adella Heinze. He had resided most of his life in Detroit and Beulah. He married Esther Ladd at Detroit on Jan. 21, 1921. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Phyllis Begin of Farmington; one sister, Mrs. Beatrice Wiley of Detroit; four grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

St. Johns man seriously hurt in U.P. accident

Capt. Edward A. Lenon, head of the civil defense unit of the Michigan State Police and who lives at 509 S. Lansing Street, St. Johns, was seriously injured Oct. 18 in a car-deer accident north of Menominee.

His wife reported Monday that he was to be flown Tuesday to Lansing to begin a long period of convalescence at Sparrow Hospital. He suffered two fractures of his lower left leg, a fractured knee and back injuries.

Capt. Lenon was driving north on M-41 north of Menominee, his wife reports, when he crested a hill and came suddenly upon six deer strung out along the highway. Unable to avoid them, he steered toward the center of the road, hitting one deer and then losing control of the car.

His state-owned car went off the road and hit a culvert and then caught fire. He was unable to get out of the car until three college students came to his aid. He was not able to get the names of the youths.

He was taken to St. Joseph Lloyd Hospital in Menominee.

Rites held for mom, 2 sons

Mrs. Linda Kay Cairl and two of her small sons, Alan, 4, and Steven, 5, died Tuesday, Oct. 22 at 1 p.m., the result of an automobile accident on Francis Road in Clinton County.

Funeral services were held at the Congregational Christian Church in Maple Rapids on Friday, Oct. 25, at 1:30 p.m. The Rev. Robert Myers officiated. Burial took place at the Payne Cemetery.

Mrs. Cairl was born in Sheboygan, Ill., on May 17, 1940, the daughter of Cecil and Kathleen Wickaiser Duttonhaver. She graduated from Fulton High School with the class of 1958. She was a resident of Maple Rapids until seven years ago. She then moved to Lansing.

She was married to Jerry Cairl in Maple Rapids on May 28, 1958.

Mrs. Cairl, Steven and Alan are survived by the husband and father, Jerry Cairl; a daughter and sister, Jerilyn; and one son and twin brother, Adam; the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan of Maple Rapids, Mrs. Rebecca Wickaiser of Maple Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ryan of Maple Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cairl of Edmore.

Clinton County Sheriff's deputies said the mother and children were on their way to Maple Rapids to visit Mrs. Cairl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, when the car left the road and struck a tree. The station wagon, deputies reported, was cut in half and Adam was pinned in the wreckage by a mattress in the auto's rear section. Adam was treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital and released the next day.

Clinton County Coroner Robert Sirrine said the others were dead at the scene.

Fulton Auxiliary has meeting Oct. 17

The Fulton Area Jaycee Auxiliary met Oct. 17, with Vicky Winsor and Judy Cole as hostesses.

Reports were given on the toy party, the Jaycee Speak-Up program, and the school record books. It was voted to send the Merchand family of Vestaburg a donation for their heart fund.

The auxiliary will have a card party and potluck dinner party Nov. 2, at the home of Janice Helman. It was also decided that they will start meeting in homes during the winter months.

Two from county earn degrees

A total of 328 students received degrees and certificates at Central Michigan University's annual October graduation. There were two from Clinton County. Beverly M. Baker of R-1, Fowler, received a MA degree. Karen J. Thurston of 215 East High Street, Ovid, received a BS degree.

Students receiving degrees and certificates at Central's October graduation may participate in commencement ceremonies the following January.

The deadline for 4-H enrollment in Clinton County has been extended until Nov. 15 at the request of the 4-H leaders. Any boy or girl still wishing to enroll in a local 4-H club must do it by this Nov. 15 deadline. All organizational leaders should turn in their enrollment cards and club summary sheets by this date.

PHILLIPS' IMPLEMENT MARKING ANNIVERSARY

Phillips' Implement Co., operated by Harold Phillips of St. Johns, is marking its 15th anniversary in St. Johns this week, and a special celebration is taking place this weekend at the business at 313 N. Clinton Avenue. Phillips came to St. Johns in 1953, and after a few months at the corner of Higham and Oakland he located the business at the present site. The building was remodeled five years ago. He deals in Gehl and Oliver farm equipment and McCullough chain saws.

4-H Notes

Just a reminder of the 4-H leaders training conference at Camp Kett on Nov. 8-9 for all handicraft leaders. The first session begins on Friday at 6 p.m. and ends on Saturday at 3 p.m. The sessions will include discussions on various handicraft projects, wood finishes, visual aids, program planning and an exchange of ideas between handicraft leaders. Any leader interested in attending the conference should contact the Extension Office by Nov. 1.

The teen leader meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The nominating committee has proposed the following members to run for the officers: President, Larry Borton and Lois Miller; vice president, Kathy Davis and Nell Rossow; secretary, Ann Arens and Teri McQueen; treasurer, Dana Hazle and Jim McQueen; news reporter, JoAnn Kanaski and Roger Brook. All youth interested in taking the teen leader project should plan to attend this meeting and help elect the officers of their choice. Other business includes the yearly program, area teen leader workshop and Christmas program activities.

The County 4-H Service Club will hold its first meeting of the fall with a Halloween party on Saturday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Members are asked to come in costume. The most originally dressed boy and girl will receive a prize and reign as king and queen for the evening. There will be an election of officers, discussion of future projects, Christmas activities, games, dances and refreshments.

The third annual Gem and Mineral Show will be held Nov. 1-3 at the Michigan National Guard Armory at 2500 S. Washington Avenue in Lansing. The show is open on Nov. 1 from 5-10 p.m., Nov. 2 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Four 4-H club members from Clinton County will have their rock and mineral displays on exhibit. I'm sure those who attend will find the exhibits both interesting and educational.

The Michigan Polled Hereford Assn. will hold its 4-H Club Sale on Saturday, Nov. 9, at the Charlotte fairgrounds starting at 12:30 p.m. There will be 50 steer calves and 25 registered heifer calves for sale weighing about 400 to 500 pounds.

Chris Cornell of St. Johns is serving on the state 1969 4-H Youth Week planning committee and will be meeting on Nov. 2 at Michigan State University. Chris is a member of the Stoney Creek 4-H Club.

Our congratulations go to the Olive 4-H Projects Club of DeWitt, Nimble Fingers Club of St. Johns and the Four Corners 4-H Club of Elsie in recognition of being an honor club for the summer program. The club has scored 850 points or above on club activities and participation in the county 4-H program.

Zoning board approved some requests Oct. 21

The Clinton County Zoning Appeal Board Oct. 21 approved a request from Dale D. Manning to build a dwelling on a lot in Hawthorn Hills Subdivision, Watertown Township, providing some drainage requirements are met.

But, the drainage along Looking Glass Brook Drive and Bauer must be cleaned and corrected to flow to the Looking Glass River to the satisfaction of the county zoning administrator and the township supervisor before permission is granted.

In other action the board granted the request of Leo Kowach to build a milking parlor closer to the road right-of-way than the minimum required in Clinton. His milking parlor will be about 15 feet inside the 66 foot right of way on Walker Road in Dallas Township.

They approved a permit for Mr. and Mrs. E.L. McComber to occupy a trailer on Coleman Road, Bath township, for the duration of their lifetime.

All request for trailer permits in Clinton outside of area zoned as trailer parks automatically must go before the appeal board for action. The board only gives approval in hardship cases.

The board denied an appeal by Mrs. Sandra Carstensen to occupy a trailer on Coleman Road, DeWitt Township, because they didn't feel it was a hardship case.

FREE AMERICAN FLAG DECALS

Stop in at Central National for a FREE American Flag decal. No obligation!

HOW TO DISPLAY THE FLAG

Respect should always be shown for the flag and the following practices are recommended: The flag should always be raised and lowered by hand. It should be displayed only between sunrise and sunset. When raising the flag, it should be unfurled first. Do not raise the flag while it is furled. After unfurling, hoist it quickly to the top of the staff. When lowered, it should be done slowly and with dignity. When the flag is displayed other than being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed in a window, it should be displayed with the stars uppermost and to the flag's own right (on the left of the observer). It should not be allowed to touch the ground or floor, nor to brush against objects. Place no objects on or over the flag and do not use the flag as part of costume or uniform.

6 political parties on Nov. 5 ballot

Six political parties will have presidential and vice-presidential candidates listed on the general election ballot next week, but only the Republicans and Democrats have candidates for all the state and national offices.

The main drawing card for the election will, of course, be the presidential race. Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew are the Republican candidates, and Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie are the Democratic team.

Voters may be surprised when they look for the George Wallace-Curtis LeMay names for the American Independent Party, because they won't be there. Wallace's name will, but the ballot lists Marvin Griffin as his running mate.

Because Wallace waited so long to name his running mate, the Michigan ballots, which had already gone to print, were printed with the names of Wallace and Griffin. Griffin had been certified to the Michigan Elections Bureau of the Michigan Department of State some time ago.

"THERE ISN'T A thing we can do about this," says Secretary of State James M. Hare. "Griffin's name was submitted by the Wallace Party and was printed on our ballots. So he stays. Actually, it has no effect on the ballot, anyhow, because Wallace-LeMay run as a ticket and not as individuals.

Three other parties have presidential candidates. The team of Fred Holstead and Paul Boutelle are candidates of the Socialist Workers Party; Henning A. Blomen and George S. Taylor are Socialist Labor Party candidates; and Eldridge Cleaver and Larry Hochman are New Politics Party candidates.

At the same time, Secretary of State Hare reports, votes cast for candidates for president and vice president for the Prohibition Party must be counted in compliance with an attorney general's opinion of Sept. 16.

The ruling applies only to the Prohibition Party, the only party which filed names of presidential candidates with the secretary of state, which was not on the ballot. Candidates are E. Harold Munn for president and Rolland E. Fisher for vice president. There was also a list of presidential electors.

Most of the voting for these candidates, said Hare, will be done by stickers. On paper ballots, if a sticker bearing the names of Munn-Fisher is placed over the names of presidential candidates for one of the six parties now on the ballot and a cross appears in the circle at the top of the ticket or in the square before the space where the sticker has been placed, it will be a vote for the Prohibition party.

This means that on the party column where the sticker appears, no vote will be counted for that party's candidates for president and vice president. Votes will be counted for the balance of their candidates voted on that ticket. This will be a split ticket and will have to be tallied.

On voting machines, write-in votes or stickers will appear on the write-in roll.

Bath and DeWitt townships are in the Sixth District, where Republican Charles Chamberlain wants reelection for a seventh term and where Democrat James A. Harrison wants to be elected to his first term.

In the state legislative race, Clinton is again broken up into two districts. In the 87th District, which includes Bingham, Ovid, Olive, Victor, DeWitt and Bath townships, Republican William Ballenger is running against Democrat Richard D. Duzendbury.

The rest of the county is in the 88th District, where Richard J. Allen, the Republican, is running against Joseph F. Davey, the Democrat. Davey's pre-election campaign has indicated a possible close race for this seat.

Only Wallace's American Independent Party doesn't have candidates for the various state educational posts. Here's the line-up:

For two members of the State Board of Education: Republicans Barbara Dumouchelle and James W. TenBrink; Democrats Michael J. Deeb and Marilyn Jean Kelly; Socialist Workers, Ellen Robinson and Evelyn Sell; Socialist Labor, Peter Gonnis and Frank Troha.

For two regents of the University of Michigan: Democrats Gerald R. Dunn and Robert E. Nederlander; Republicans Lawrence B. Lindemer and Fred Matthaei Jr.; Socialist Worker, Helen Schiff; Socialist Labor, Glen W. Johnson and Lydia B. Muncy; New Politics, Eric Chester and Thomas Russell Copi.

For members of the board of trustees of Michigan State University: Democrats, Warren M. Huff and Blanche Martin; Republicans, David Diehl and Richard Ernst; Socialist Workers, George Bouse and Paul Lodico; Socialist Labor, Theos A. Grove and John Zywicki; New Politics, Bradford A. Long and Jason P. Lovette.

For two members of the board of governors of Wayne State University: Democrats, Augustus J. Calloway and George C. Edwards; Republicans, Kurt Keydel and Victor G. Ravilio; Socialist Workers, Evelyn Kirsch and Joseph Sanders; Socialist Labor, Vito J. DeLisi and Lowell E. Miller; New Politics, William Bunge.

Chest drive rolling; 51% of goal achieved

Clinton County's Community Chest drive is in full swing this week and the increased momentum was evident in the number of reports pouring in to Chest

Treasurer Charles Huntington of St. Johns.

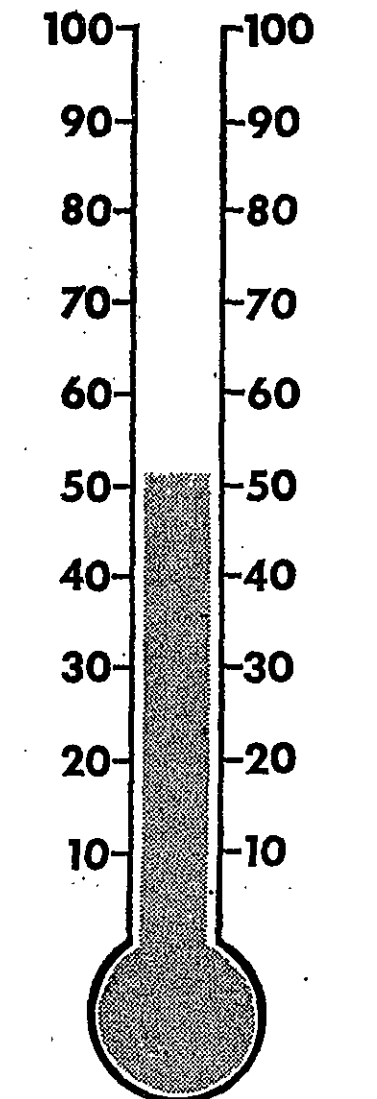

Ink White, county campaign chairman, said Tuesday that 51 per cent of the county's $23,683 quota had been reported to date.

First report of 100 per cent participation among employees from a county industry came this week from Advance Castings and Burton Mixer Manufacturing Co., where the 16 employees pledged a total of $308.40.

reach our $575 goal," she reported.

Leon Brewbaker, head of the professional division, had only incomplete reports from his group. "We hope to have our solicitation completed this week," he said.

The women's division, under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Kohls, is beginning a canvass of the St. Johns residential district this week.

At Sealed Power Corp., employee participation reached 71 per cent and the group of 160 pledged $2,537.60.

Incomplete returns from faculty and staff at the St. Johns Public Schools showed a total of $1,455 collected to date, reported Steve Bakita, who is heading the campaign in schools and government offices throughout the county. Other schools in the county were due to report later this week, Bakita said.

NEARLY COMPLETE reports from the special gifts division, headed by Rolan W. Sleight of St. Johns, show a total in excess of $1,200.

With only about half of his team captains reported to date, William E. Patton, St. Johns commercial division chairman, said his group had collected more than $2,000 by Tuesday.

As of Tuesday, Bath Township was the only out-county area to report their collections to chest headquarters. Mrs. Wayne Loomis said that Bath had achieved in excess of 50 per cent of quota. "We feel confident that we will

Church starts annex

EAST DEWITT—Another milestone for the congregation of the East DeWitt Bible Church was observed Sunday evening when Pastor Glen Farnham, with members of the church board at his side, moved the first shovel of dirt to start construction on a new large auditorium and classroom addition.

Tarrant Construction Co. is to start work immediately on the project that will cost about $125,000. The new facility will seat over 400 persons and will also have numerous Sunday school classrooms, fellowship hall, kitchen and office.

The expansion program was deemed necessary because of a steady, healthy growth that has more than doubled attendance in the last two years under the ministry of Pastor Farnham.

Pastor Glen Farnham of the East DeWitt Bible Church lifts a spadeful of earth Sunday to mark the ground-breaking for a $125,000 addition to the church. Members of the church board are pictured with the pastor.

Honduras voyagers to show slides of trip

This past summer nearly 30 teenagers and their adult sponsors from the Pilgrim United Methodist Church and the First United Methodist Church of St. Johns made a caravan trip to British Honduras.

This Sunday, Nov. 3, participants on the trip will show their slides and movies at the West Pilgrim United Methodist Church (formerly Bengal EUB) at the corner of Parks and Grove roads. The showing will begin at 7:30 p.m.

A former school bus, two campers with travel trailers and one auto with a camper comprised the caravan vehicles which threaded the mountains of Mexico enroute to the small under-developed British Honduras.

This trip was more than another rugged camping trip. These teenagers and their adult sponsors went to British Honduras, which is in a partner relationship with the State of Michigan under the auspices of the Alliance for Progress, to get involved. They devoted their energies to giving a fresh coat of badly needed paint to the interior of one of the Wesley College buildings in Belize City, the capital of British Honduras. They also got involved in meeting many native teenagers and citizens of British Honduras. They were active in participating in four different worship services throughout the city of Belize.

Did their involvement pay off? Kid they gain any insights into the pressing problems of an undeveloped country where the per capita income is less than $200 per year? Were they moved to see the warm and friendly way in which they were received by those whose range of opportunities is severely limited? Did this involvement influence the way in which they viewed people from a vastly different background from their own and who have a darker pigmentation of skin?

These questions will be partially answered Sunday.

How do you know how good your diamond is?

Whether you measure the weight of your diamond in carats or points (100 points to a carat), you know that a fine diamond is a fine investment. But just how fine? Unless you happen to be a jeweler yourself, you have no way of knowing its carat weight. Its clarity, color or perfection of cut. You have to take somebody's word for all of these things that determine the worth of your diamond. As ArtCarved jewelers, we proudly invite you to inspect our spectacular collection of ArtCarved diamond rings, each backed by its own registered Permanent Value Guarantee certifying precise weight, color, cut, clarity. You don't even have to take our word for it.

Central C League meeting at Bath; exchange Nov. 13

By MARILYN SIDEL
Bath High School

BATH—The Central C League Student Council meeting was held at Bath High Wednesday, Oct. 16. At this meeting the members elected Officers and planned social events for the year.

The officers for the 1968 All-League Student Council are: Kevin Karlkome from Webberville, president; Dave Lowe from Potterville, vice president; Sharon McComb from Webberville, secretary; and Ruth Scott from Laingsburg, treasurer.

After the election of officers the student exchange day was discussed. It was decided that Nov. 13 would be the exchange day with Nov. 20 as the alternate date.

The students participating in exchange day will go to the schools as follows: Laingsburg to Webberville; Webberville to Portland St. Pat; DeWitt to Pewamo - Westphalia; Portland St. Pat to Potterville; Pewamo - Westphalia to DeWitt; Fowler to Bath; Potterville to Laingsburg; and Bath to Fowler.

The maximum limit will be four students from each school's student council to participate in the student exchange day.

Allen originally decided to take the 90-mile hike because he wanted to celebrate his primary victory, to meet people and to demonstrate the vigor and energy he intends to use in the elected office. "I also wanted to dramatize that the 88th District is a long and perhaps unfairly shaped district," Allen said.

Pleads guilty to drugs charge

William W. Witt, 21, of Holt and formerly of St. Johns, pled guilty in circuit court Tuesday morning to a charge of possession of narcotic drugs, marijuana, and is awaiting sentencing Nov. 18 at 1:30 p.m. by Judge Leo W. Corbin.

Witt was arrested in June in connection with an alleged act in April. He was originally charged with dispensing narcotic drugs, marijuana.

Ovid-Elsie FHA initiation held

The Ovid-Elsie FHA initiated new members Oct. 22. The formal candle-light initiation was first, followed by the informal initiation. At this time all the new members changed into slacks. They had several stunts and games.

Warmth of a cotton fabric depends on the weave, not the weight.

Allen completes 90-mile walk through district

Richard Allen, Republican candidate for the 88th District, showed voters that he can keep campaign pledges when this past weekend he finished his 90-mile walk through the district on Sunday.

Allen, an Alma College professor and veterinarian, attempted the walk three weeks ago but was forced to quit after completing 24 miles because of severe leg cramps.

The original trek, which began in Coleman, was to fulfill a campaign promise made during the August primary election. Allen had told voters if he won he would walk the length of the district.

This time Allen started in Grand Ledge and completed the journey in Gratiot County. The district starts in Coleman and includes several Midland County Townships, all of Gratiot County Townships, several Clinton County townships and ends in Grand Ledge in Eaton County.

ASKED IF HE HAD any insights into the problems of the district following the trek, the exhausted candidate said he found three problems. There is a tremendous litter problem on the highways, especially with bottles and cans, Allen said. "The situation is extremely bad and it is a very expensive problem."

The second problem was that he found the district even longer by foot than by car. "And I found out my opponent sure has a lot of signs on trees, poles and fenceposts," he said.

Allen went on to say "I think this walk was a good experience. I met many people under different circumstances than giving speeches or shaking hands at the plant gates. The 88th district consists primarily of small towns and rural areas, and there are no friendlier or more courteous people than those in the 88th. I was offered snacks, rides and many other forms of hospitality."

Here's how to write in names on ballot, machine

Clinton County voters, and especially those in St. Johns, will be faced with the necessity to write in the name of their choice for several offices in next Tuesday's general election.

On the county ballot, there is no name printed in the space for prosecuting attorney, so names will have to be written in. In St. Johns, there are likewise no names in the two spots for city commissioners.

How do you write in the name of someone you'd like elected to those positions?

In St. Johns, the voting machines used in the two city precincts provide for write-in space for every office being voted. The write-in space is on the far left face of the voting machine as the voter faces it from inside the curtain.

A metal slide covers the space opposite each office. To open the slide, it is necessary to pull to the right a small button about half-way down the panel between the slides and the names of the offices being voted on. While holding the button to the right with one hand, pull the slide to the right with the other hand.

Once this is done, you are committed to a write-in vote. When the slide is pulled to the right, it automatically prevents any buttons for that office from being pulled under any of the political parties.

USING A BALL-point pen, or the pencil provided in the booth write in the name of the person you want elected on paper which is exposed beneath the slide. Be sure to write your candidate's name exactly as he uses it, for otherwise it would be invalid. For instance, write-in votes for Joe R. Smith would not be counted if the name was written as "Joe Smith."

This completes the write-in procedure.

Precincts with paper ballots will have blanks opposite the title of the office of prosecuting attorney. To write in a candidate on a paper ballot, merely write the candidate's name (again, as he uses it) and then put the proper "X" in the box opposite the name.

To write in the name of someone for any of the other offices, do the same thing whenever a blank occurs across from the description of the office. If there are no blanks—such as is the case with President of the United States—you may cross off the printed name and write in the name you wish, following up with an "X" in the box.

In an effort to help out voters in their understanding of the voting machines, St. Johns City Clerk Tom Hundley last Thursday night conducted a workshop for voters in which he explained the procedure of voting on a machine. Another such workshop was scheduled for Wednesday night, Oct. 30, between 7 and 8:30 p.m.

Houghten moves to new office

Herbert Houghten, local real estate agent, has just moved to a new office, but in the same building at 200 W. State Street. The new office was formerly occupied by the Selective Service Board. Houghten reports he will have more office space and will be able to serve customers more easily from this location.

Grad school stays up

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

It didn't hold up: the forecast that draft law changes would cause a big drop in graduate school enrollments in Michigan this fall.

Officials at Michigan State University, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University report graduate student numbers are down only slightly from last year.

U-M enrollment is 8,337, a decrease of 3 per cent from 1967's fall term. MSU has 7,700 students on hand this autumn, about the same as last year. Wayne State reports little change.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said the predictions of a mammoth decline didn't come true because: "Deferments were issued to students married before Aug. 26, 1965; married students with children; and students over 26-years-old."

Voluntary enlistments, mostly among last June's high school graduates, filled up draft quotas. Smaller-than-anticipated draft calls for Michigan during September and October.

"A GREAT HUE and cry went up from graduate schools when the new policy on draft deferments was announced," Col. Holmes said. "Some educators predicted enrollment drops of 40 per cent, but it just didn't happen."

Last February military draft deferments were eliminated for all but medical and ministry graduate students. Previously a college graduate could be deferred for advance study without qualification.

College officials say they are still concerned about the future impact of the law change on graduate enrollments.

"Right now our situation looks good on paper," said an MSU spokesman. "However, I suspect it will change by January or February if the calls go up and the draft boards begin dipping down into the graduate schools."

CHOOSING LEADERS by periodic election may be a good political system, but it is also, a costly one, says Michigan's chief elections official.

Secretary of State James M. Hare says the expense of printing the ballots alone runs to more than $500,000. Heaped on top of that are the $15 million worth of voting machines the state owns, and the money which must be paid to persons working at the 5,383 precincts. "If you take a conservative estimate of just five persons working at each polling place and an equally conservative estimate of pay based on $15 a day, this item alone amounts to over $400,000," Hare said.

NEARLY 90 PER CENT of Michigan's voters will cast their ballots on voting machines in the Nov. 5 election, the secretary of state estimates.

The most recent registration figures, filed up draft quotas. Smaller-than-anticipated draft calls for Michigan during September and October.

The state has 4,067 machine precincts and 1,316 which use the paper ballots, Hare added.

ONLY FOUR OF the state's 83 counties—Bay, Ottawa, Muskegon and Kalamazoo—have completely converted to machines. But Hare says that 31 counties are more than 50 per cent converted, and 66 counties have at least one machine.

The changeover to machines was most pronounced between 1955 and 1958, Hare says, when the number of machine precincts climbed from 1,700 to nearly 3,300.

ATTY. GEN FRANK J. Kelley says the constitutional amendment for a graduated income tax in Michigan is not self-executing. He says a sliding-scale tax could only be levied with the authorization of the Legislature.

Presently the Michigan Constitution restricts the state to a flat-rate income tax. State law limits all cities, except Detroit, to a 1 per cent levy on residents, and one-half of one per cent on nonresidents.

The first vote of the people in Michigan, then the Michigan Territory, was in 1827 when the citizens chose a 13-member legislative council.

Spirit Week held at Bath High

BATH—"Spirit Week" was held at Bath High School last week, Oct. 7 through 11. Monday was "Socks it to 'Em Day," and all students wore crazy socks. They ranged from mismatched socks to fur knee socks.

Tuesday was "Hat Day." The students and teachers wore all sorts of crazy hats such as old straw hats and Mexican som-breros.

On Wednesday the boys were ignored as it was "Hush Day" for the girls. The boys with the most hush buttons at the end of the day were crowned Mr. Irresistible; they were Danny Baker, sophomore, Royal Dobson, freshman.

"Scoury Day" was celebrated on Thursday as was "Hush Day" for the boys. The boys were given a chance to ignore the girls for a change of pace. As for the scurvy part, it looked as though Halloween had arrived a little bit early at Bath High.

Friday was honored as "Blue and White Day." Students were asked to wear the school colors. All during the week the cheerleaders, who sponsored this event, kept a watch for the student or students who showed the most spirit. They were awarded with a box of Cheer, and they were Beverly Beebe, senior, and Gary Morrill, sophomore.

The Bath High School chorus group held a Fun-Nite last Saturday night, Oct. 19, from 7:30 until 11 p.m. The money they made will go toward the purchasing of new blazers. The chorus group has also sold fudge and popcorn during the lunch hour to aid in the purchasing of the blazers.

The HI-Y officers from Everett High School visited Bath Friday, Oct. 18, to talk to a group of students that are interested in organizing a HI-Y group at Bath High.

They told how much fun an active HI-Y group can have if the members cooperate and work toward one goal for the whole group. The HI-Y organizations do such things as skiing, tobogganing, skating, camping, and going on canoe trips. They also have access to the YMCA.

Miss Rita Pence will be the sponsor for this group at Bath. She hopes the group will be able to go with the Everett students to Colorado for a ski trip.

All the safety laws in the world won't help the motorist who isn't safety-minded.

City approves contracts with 6 townships

forming to the 224- telephone exchange prefix.

OVID TOWNSHIP had notified the city it was pulling out of future ties with St. Johns and would service all of Ovid Township with its own department. Commissioners were told that no word had been heard from Victor Township on the fire contract with that township.

Commissioners discussed briefly a conversation Commissioner Gerald Irner had had with an Ovid Township farmer near the Bingham Township line. He reportedly wants to continue St. Johns fire protection because he is on the St. Johns phone exchange and doesn't want to fool around with the Enterprise number being offered.

City Atty. William Kemper said he didn't feel there was anything to prohibit the city from entering into a contract with a private individual for fire protection, but he did advise a city policy be determined before going into such a venture for the first time.

In bang-bang fashion the commission took care of several other items of business during the 30-minute meeting.

They passed Ordinance 219 to amend the city zoning ordinance (No. 187) by rezoning a parcel of land north of Walker Street between Scott Road and Baker Street (extended) from 1-1 industrial to R-2 medium density residential. The ordinance clears the way for the building of a 100-bed $300,000 medical care facility.

The area zoned is 350 feet wide along Scott Road, with the south line being 150 feet north of Walker Street.

* THE COMMISSION approved the request for transfer of credits by the Municipal Employees Retirement Board for one of the new police officers who came here in September from Shilawassie County.

* They authorized the city manager to advertise for bids for operation of the St. Johns city landfill north of town. Specifications which the commissioners looked over generally followed state statutes as they pertain to land fill operations.

* Ordinance 220 was introduced and will be on the agenda for possible passage at the next meeting. It would abolish Ordinance 165, which provides for the licensing of city electrical contractors and journeymen.

* A request for an SDM liquor license for Arnold's Payless Discount Store at the Southgate Plaza Shopping Center was tabled pending submission of a police report. Action is expected at the next meeting.

* City Commissioners Rex Strine and Gerald Irner, who have

4 bank robbery suspects back in Michigan

Four men arrested in September in Tennessee for the robbery of the Woodruff State Bank in DeWitt earlier that month have been returned to Michigan.

They were returned Friday and are being held under $25,000 bond each awaiting arraignment in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids.

John C. Green, 27, of Mason and Anthony Ballor, 26, of Warren, were charged on both federal and state bank robbery counts. Al Adams, 30, and Mel Adams, 29, both of Flint, were charged on only federal counts.

They fought extradition from Tennessee but were transferred following formal removal hearings.

30 sign WSCS Charter at United Methodist Church

The charter meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Middlebury United Methodist Church was held in the church recently with 30 members and two guests present.

This meeting was a service of celebration of the organization of WSCS due to the uniting of the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mrs. Robert Mulder, president, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Richard Whitmyer vice president arranged the program and asked Mrs. Edward Garber for the worship service. Presentation of the history was given by Mrs. Charles Warren. A loaf of bread was placed on the altar symbolizing the bread of life, surrounded by its four basic ingredients. Explanation of each ingredient was read by Mrs. David White, Mrs. Lawrence Warren, Mrs. Garber and Mrs. Charles Warren.

Following the pledge of purpose of the society, each member signed the charter, then seated at tables arranged in the shape of the cross were sweet bread, cheese and assorted fruits, in accordance with the traditions of the "Agape Feast" was prepared and served by Mrs. Ward Slocum, Mrs. Donald Craig and Mrs. Gale Craig. Mrs. White sang, "Let Us Break Bread Together on Our Knees" with Mrs. Lawrence Warren accompanying.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Warren have left to spend the winter months at their winter home in Lakeland, Fla.

Mrs. Merwyn Brookins is convalescing at Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns following surgery performed there Monday morning.

The Middlebury MYF went out to "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" and collected around $52. They wish to thank all who contributed. If any were missed that wish to donate, contact any MYF member by next Sunday so that the money may be sent in.

Mr. and Mrs. J.O. VanDyne and Jim and Mrs. Edna Warren were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lucy Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Potter in Laingsburg at a family gathering in honor of newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Potter.

Mrs. Blanche Potter will be the hostess for the November meeting of the Burton Farmers Club at the church Thursday evening, Nov. 7. Pot-luck supper at 7:30.

tracts was delayed until next Monday, but it was readily apparent who the low bidders on the general, mechanical and electrical phases were.

Bud Reniger Construction of Lansing was the apparent low general contract bidder with a bid of $439,500. There were six other bids ranging up to a high of $478,900.

Superior Electric of Lansing submitted the low bid of $46,900 for that work, and seven other bids went up to a high of $57,422. On the mechanical phase, C.G. Brenner of Lansing was the apparent low bidder with a base bid of $134,500, with five other bidders ranging between there and a high of $155,464.

No bids were received for kitchen equipment, and this will be readvertised later.

IF ALL LOW BIDS on the building construction are formally accepted next week, it would bring the total to $620,950, somewhat less than the $632,000 which had been estimated for voters in a school bond issue campaign.

Fowler School District voters approved the new school in June after Holy Trinity Parish notified the school board the Catholic School would not operate a second and third grade in 1969. The school board decided to build a new building to replace the present old structure, and voters approved it.

Construction on the new school is expected to start as soon as formal approval is given by the school board. To be located on a seven-acre site northwest of the present elementary school, the new building will have 11 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, a special education room, administration and staff areas, kitchen, storage, library and multi-purpose room.

Architect for the school is Manson-Jackson & Kane of Lansing. William Kane from the architectural firm was present for the bid opening Monday night.

While actual construction costs are expected to be about $620,950, judging by the low bids, the architects figure it will now take at least $712,664 to equip the building and provide a contingency fund. The bond issue approved by voters in June was for $700,000. The money will be invested, however, and will draw interest that should make up the difference.

The building is expected to be ready for occupancy next fall.

McKenna president of osteopathic hospital group

CARSON CITY — Donald McKenna of Carson City was installed as president of the American Osteopathic Hospital Assn. Wednesday, Oct. 30, at the group's annual meeting this year at Denver, Colo.

A native of Carson City, McKenna attended high school at Carson City and graduated from St. Mary's.

During World War II he spent three years in the Army Medical Corps attached to the Air Corps. After his discharge from the Army he became administrator of Carson City Hospital and for the past 22 years has held that position. He also is a member of the board of directors of Carson City Hospital.

He is a past president of the Michigan Osteopathic Hospital Assn. and at present a trustee of this association. He's a charter member and a fellow in the American College of Osteopathic Hospital Administrators, member of the Carson City American Legion and a past commander, and chairman of the Montcalm Community College Practical Nurses Advisory Committee.

Baptist members attend annual convention in Oct.

Rev and Mrs. Earl Copelin attended the annual Michigan Baptist state convention at Muskegon Oct. 17-19. The First Baptist Church, Rev. Delmar Case, pastor, and the Bethesda Baptist, Rev. Charles Poole, pastor, and their people hosted the convention. Main meetings of the convention were held in the beautiful Central United Methodist Church.

The general theme for the convention was "The New Life for a New Age". There were many highlights in the program and there appeared to be a greater sense of seriousness and urgency about the messages than in some previous conventions.

For many of us, the most touching experience came when three of our foreign missionaries were engaged in telephone conversations. The telephone conversations were amplified throughout the sanctuary. Ten minutes were devoted to each of three mission fields, namely: Tokyo, Japan; Bangkok, Thailand and Kinshasa, Congo. It was a genuine thrill to hear Miss Ann Tulanda, a native of Congolose, who is studying at Mounds-Middle School of Nursing, Minneapolis, Minn., talk to her parents for the first time in 5 1/2 years.

All in all the convention was a great inspiration and challenge.

Mr. Richard Cotton, a layman, was elected president of the convention for the coming year; Rev. Joseph Atkinson, vice president; and Rev. Ronald Miles, recording secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thurston are the parents of a daughter born Saturday in Owosso Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eldridge of rural Ovid are the parents of a son born Friday in Owosso Memorial Hospital.

Seaman 3rd class James Coe has spent the past eight months on the aircraft carrier Bon-Homme Richard, in the Gulf of Tonkin. He left Sunday, Oct. 27, to return there after spending his leave with his parents.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

Velvet is one of the most luxurious and versatile fabrics at a dress designer's fingertips. It is known as a "cut pile" fabric, and during cleaning and finishing the smooth pile threads must be kept in order. During wear the pile often becomes badly crushed and must be straightened and smoothed by the cleaner.

Many velvets today have been given crease or crush-resistance treatments and present less wrinkle removing problems in cleaning than those which have not been so treated. But all velvets require special cleaning care and handling.

You can safely send us all your "fragile fabrics" for thorough cleaning, to keep them looking new longer...and looking better on you. Remember, the best dressed people in town send their dry cleaning to us!

Mrs. B. Deibert hosts morning musical Oct. 24

The St. Johns Morning Musical met Oct. 24 at the home of Mrs. Basil Deibert. Since both hostess and president were absent at the district convention of music clubs, Mrs. A. A. Liszewski welcomed the members and the meeting was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. J. A. Bertoldi.

Mrs. Harold Lundy, chairman of the day, introduced Mrs. Lynn Woodbury, who gave the commentary on duo, divertimento, and etude. Mrs. Lundy accompanied Rhonda Woodbury as she played Mozart's "Divertimento in B", a sonata-type piece for clarinet, with three movements, allegro, adagio and rondo. This had been a winning number for her at the Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Mrs. Lawrence Fish and Mrs. Richard Jacoby sang a sacred duo, "The Silent Voice", by Caro Roma. Mrs. Woodbury continued with etude, the French word for study. Chopin was probably the most prolific and popular composer of etudes. Mrs. Lundy played his E Major Etude, designed for practice in playing. Mrs. Lundy and Mrs. William Patton concluded the program with three piano duos.

The next meeting will be in three weeks at the home of Mrs. John Caudy and will concern fantasia, fugue, gavotte and hymn.

Finance unit OKs $2.7 million in school bonds

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission, announced this week that the commission approved $2,700,000 of school building and site bonds for DeWitt Public Schools.

The proceeds will be used to defray the cost of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new junior high school building; remodeling the present high school building and erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the Scott Elementary School; erecting, furnishing and equipping a bus maintenance and storage garage; constructing and equipping physical education facilities, acquiring additional land for site purposes and developing and improving sites.

The bonds were authorized by the electors of the school district on June 10. They are unlimited tax bonds and will run until 1998. The school district is authorized to levy whatever taxes are necessary to pay principal and interest. These bonds are also qualified by the superintendent of public instruction under the school bond loan program.

Ovid-Elsie JVs down St. Louis

OVID-ELSIE—The Ovid-Elsie junior varsity football team whitewashed St. Louis 31-0 last Thursday evening at O-E, with the defense scoring the first touchdown of the several that were to come.

Duane Wieber and Mike Leslie of Ovid-Elsie tackled the St. Louis quarterback deep in his own territory in the first period, and Leslie, a guard, picked up the ball and ran 10 yards for the touchdown. Tony Fabus kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, Steve Melvin took a quick pitch and went around right end to another TD. Fullback Walt Schock picked up two touchdowns on trap plays up the middle in the second half, and quarterback Greg McKay scored the final TD on a sneak in the third quarter.

Leslie led the defense with his touchdown and two fumble recoveries and nine tackles. Tonight Coach Russ Pope's Junior varsity hosts the Olivet JVs, who are undefeated in six games this year.

St. Johns wraps up West Central grid title

Redwings whitewash Orioles in home finale

The West Central Conference football trophy belongs to St. Johns again this year. The Redwings of Coach Jeff Smith clinched the title outright Friday night with a solid 14-0 smooth 33-0 victory over Charlotte.

The winless Orioles were stubborn for three quarters before the Redwings finally broke it open with a pair of touchdowns in the last period and then finished it out with reserves and with linemen carrying the ball.

The shut-out of Charlotte was the first the Redwings had been able to manage this year, although they had some moral whitewashes of other teams in earlier games. Charlotte got no closer to the St. Johns goal than the 33 yard line.

Senior end and co-captain Jon Berkhausen scored two touchdowns on aerials from quarterback Tim Durner, and Ed Johnson caught another pass for a TD and Chuck Green and Ron Waggoner got the other six pointers.

ALTHOUGH CHARLOTTE is winless so far this year, the Redwings were not expecting them to be pushovers, and they found the Orioles up to expectation. St. Johns scored on their first series of plays, but then had to battle for every touchdown the rest of the way.

The first touchdown was set up perfectly by quarterback Durner. Running once himself and sending Chuck Green and Chuck Romig into the line and around the ends, he moved the Wings from their own 24 up the field to the Charlotte 20. He then passed to end Jon Berkhausen, catching Charlotte flat-footed and about 20 yards away from Berkhausen when he caught the pass and stepped into the end zone.

Jeff Silm made the score 7-0 with his booming placekick.

Charlotte, which had shown spirit and potential danger for St. Johns on their first series, picked up three first downs in marching 40-some yards into St. Johns territory when they got the ball again. But halfback Scott Bennett of St. Johns intercepted a pass by Charlotte's Jack Davis, and that was the last of the Orioles' offensive threats for the night.

The St. Johns defense, which gave Davis fits whenever he had an idea for a pass play, completely bottled up Charlotte, and then with about 3 1/2 minutes left in the half, Terry Maier intercepted another pass that set up the Redwings' second touchdown.

Chuck Green got the score with a sweep around left end for 12 yards with 2:21 left in the period. Silm added the extra point, and it was 14-0 at halftime.

BOTH TEAMS LOST the ball on downs after the second half started, but then St. Johns got on the scoreboard again. Fullback Ron Waggoner, who has been out most of the season while recovering from an illness, got into the lineup and on his third carry shook clear around left end and galloped 53 yards for a touchdown. That made it 20-0 with 2:45 left in the third quarter.

The Redwings added two touchdowns in quick succession in the last quarter. Terry Maier returned a Charlotte punt 26 yards to the Orioles' 27, then Durner passed to Dave Gaffney to the 14, and then hit Berkhausen up the middle and he shook free for the touchdown. Silm's kick was wide and it was 26-0.

Score by quarters:

St. Johns	7	7	6	13-33
Charlotte	0	0	0	0-0

Charlotte could do absolutely nothing in three plays and punted the ball back to St. Johns. It took three plays to move 44 yards. Chuck Romig turned right end and then cut back to the middle for 17 yards. Durner passed to Berkhausen for 16 more and then hit the target with a pass to Ed Johnson for 11 more yards and the final touchdown. Silm made it 33-0 with his placekick.

A penalty wiped out a 25-yard run by Romig on the next St. Johns series of plays, and they punted to Charlotte. They held Charlotte on downs, however, and this is when linemen switched to the backfield and a chance to carry the football.

Guard Norm Moinet, tackle Richard Vitek, guard Jerry Feighner and tackles Doug Thurston and Brian Ballinger got to run with the ball before it went over to Charlotte on downs for the last play of the game.

WHILE THE FIRST half was fairly close — both teams had five first downs — the Redwings opened the gap after the intermission and wound up with 11 to Charlotte's 6. While St. Johns held a respectable 96-52 rushing yardage edge in the first half, they outran and outgained the Orioles 148-48 in the second half. Charlotte was forced to punt six times and St. Johns four, with Redwing kicker Phil Knight averaging 32.8 yards per punt. Quarterbacks Durner and Maier threw 15 times during the game, completing six of the passes for 88 yards and three touchdowns.

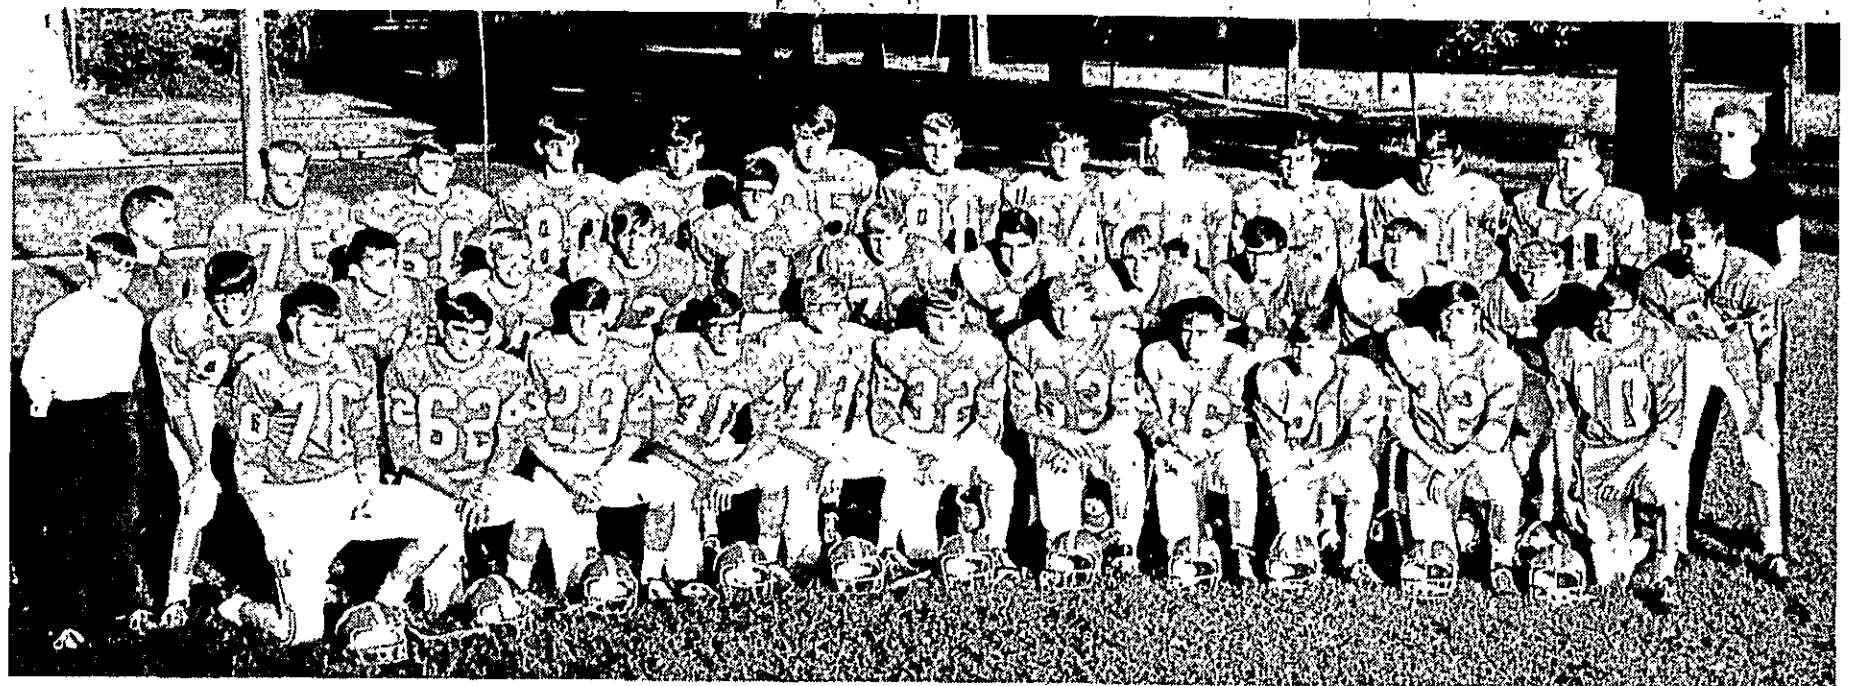

The weather report is for sunny skies the next day. The optimist buys a new bathing suit and the pessimist buys sunburn ointment.

A "CLUTCH" PLAY

Jon Berkhausen, St. Johns end, clutches for the ball on a pass from quarterback Tim Durner during the first quarter of action Friday night against Charlotte. That's the end zone behind Berkhausen, and that's where he ended up a second later for St. Johns' first touchdown in a 33-0 victory.

ST. JOHNS REDWINGS 1968 VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM

How sweet it is!!

How sweet it is to win an athletic championship! Ask Coach Jeff Smith of the St. Johns Redwings this week and chances are he'll give you a quiet, almost shy grin that says more than words.

Ask any of the football players and chances are they'll split their faces open from side to side with a happy grin.

The smiles are the lingering aftermath of a jubilant locker room celebration Friday night following the Redwings' 33-0 swamping of Charlotte that gave St. Johns the West Central Conference football title outright.

The Wings are unbeaten in league competition now, with a 6-0 mark, and have only one game left to play in the conference.

In the locker room after the game, the scene was one reminiscent of the Detroit Tigers locker room after the seventh game of the World Series. Head Coach Jeff Smith and Asst. Coach Tommy Wilson got a forced shower courtesy of the players. Bottles of ginger ale and the "uncola" took the place of champagne as members of the team took turns pouring it over their own heads and the heads of anybody who happened to be close.

Dads of a lot of the players were in the locker room, and several with movie cameras and lights had a ball filming the jubilation.

Dr. A. N. Saunders, who keeps the players taped up before and after games, got his turn in the showers and so did County News Editor Lowell Rinker before things calmed down. Manager Jim Wierman got soaked, too.

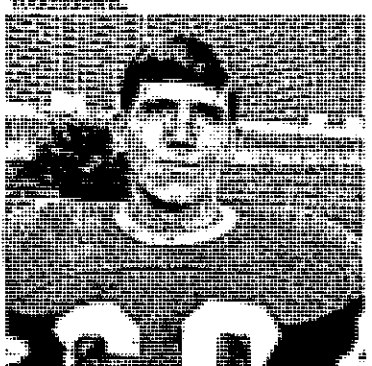

It was a good 20 to 25 minutes between the time the players got back to their locker room and the time they settled down to take their leisurely showers and get ready to go home or to the post-game dance.

While the Redwings have a lot to celebrate, they still have their work cut out for them. Their two games remaining are against potentially dangerous opponents—Lakewood this Friday in a West Central finale and Ovid-Elsie the following Friday in the final game of the season.

ST. JOHNS BACK OF THE WEEK

Halfback Chuck Green took over the workhorse duties for the Redwings Friday night and carried the ball 13 times, picking up 102 yards and scoring one touchdown.

ST. JOHNS LINEMAN OF THE WEEK

Roger Davis, an offensive right guard, did an outstanding job of blocking for ball carriers, and Coach Jeff Smith said he got the man he was supposed to block on all but one play during the evening.

Fulton chalks first victory

MIDDLETON (C) —Doug Cooper, Keith Leslie, Gary Betz and Alan Zamarron scored one touchdown each and Bill Priest rambled for two to pace Fulton High School to its first football victory of the season, 39-12, over Montabella Friday night.

Building up a 13-6 first-quarter and 26-12 halftime lead, the Pirates cruised in the second half as the defense shut out the Mustangs. Fulton had a big edge in statistics, getting 18 first downs to Montabella's three and rushing for 342 yards compared to Montabella's 98.

Doug First and Bob Gray led the defense with 15 and 13 tackles, respectively.

2 more players out for season

Two more St. Johns varsity football players were missing from the lineup last Friday and are lost for the rest of the season, Coach Jeff Smith reports.

Fullback Mike Green, leading ground gainer and scorer for the Redwings, is suffering from mononucleosis, diagnosed on Wednesday prior to last Friday's game. He'll be out for the season.

Fred Moore, a 285-pound senior tackle, suffered an eye injury earlier in the season and it finally bothered him to the point of seeking a doctor's care. He will be out for the season, too, and out of athletics for 10 weeks. Moore is also a heavyweight on the St. Johns wrestling team.

Other Redwings who have been out with injuries include Ken Eldridge, senior center with a shoulder separation; Mike Rasdale, senior guard with a knee injury; and Russell Hicks, junior guard with a broken arm.

Jeff Silm (43) of St. Johns finds the ground littered with players and the going rather rough in this piece of action against Charlotte Friday night. End Ed Johnson (82) of St. Johns has just wiped out Charlotte's Wes Fredenburg (50), Oriole Fred Tobin is on the ground, and Redwing Terry Maier seems to be deciding who to go for next. Orioles closing in are John Bartolacci (41), Rod Fuller (64) and Steve Sparks (51). Charlotte won the battle, but St. Johns won the war 33-0.

PEWAMO — Pewamo-Westphalia remained in a tie for first place with Pottersville in the CMAC league Friday night by defeating the DeWitt Panthers 12-0.

The Pirates are 6-1 for the season and 5-1 in league play. DeWitt is 3-4 and 2-4 respectively.

Both teams were scoreless in the first half. DeWitt couldn't get started until the fourth quarter and then their offense sputtered at the Pirates' one-yard line.

The Pirates scored in the third quarter when Roger Schafer got hold of a loose ball and raced 56 yards for a touchdown. They scored again in the fourth quarter on an eight-yard pass from Mike Miller to Tom Barker. The play capped a 68-yard drive.

Next Friday DeWitt plays Pottersville at home and Pewamo-Westphalia goes to Portland St. Pat's.

Ovid's Martin wins grid prize

Larry Martin of Ovid missed only four of the 21 selections in last week's Clinton County News football contest. That, along with his tie-breaker score of 38, won the contest for him and makes him $20 richer this week.

Martin was 14 points low on the tie-breaker, but it was closer than three other people who also missed four selections. They were Donald W. Rice of 908 Lincolnshire Drive, St. Johns; Carolyn J. Campbell of 207 E. Walker Street, St. Johns; and Frank Kapuglia of 1310 Berton Street, Lansing.

Martin had only the four selections wrong—he picked Charlotte over St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie over St. Louis, Notre Dame over MSU and Perry over Dansville.

Small pool deficit makes group happy kids didn't have some place to swim. We can all be proud that this community effort succeeded as well as it did."

"I think the attendance and other figures show our program was well accepted in St. Johns," Scramlin, the pool director, said in his annual report. "My opinion is not based on numbers alone, but rather on the quality of instruction given, the number of children returning for lessons and comments directed to me by satisfied participants."

Scramlin said 901 youngsters took part in four sessions of youth swimming classes, including 227 the first session, 290 the second, 226 the third and 158 the fourth. Revenue from these lessons totaled $5,303, some $100 short of what had been budgeted.

A ratio of one instructor to 10 or fewer students was usually maintained to assure a higher-quality instruction and supervision, Scramlin said. Fowler and DeWitt school systems provided bus transportation for three of the two-week sessions, and youngsters from the Pewamo-Westphalia area came in on a car-pool basis.

ENROLLED DURING THE summer were 464 youngsters from St. Johns, 171 from Fowler, 140 from DeWitt and 126 from Pewamo-Westphalia. Some of the children attended more than one session and would be counted more than once.

Two swimming classes for adults were held during the evening, with 26 persons taking the course. "The heated pool allowed us to hold the class late in the evening when most adults would be available," Scramlin said, "and I feel the increase in enrollment for the second class (22 compared to 4 in the first one) indicated the response."

There were three sessions of tiny tot swimming classes with 21 youngsters enrolled. Thirty youths were in two sessions of junior and senior lifesaving, with both Red Cross and YMCA methods being taught and both certifications being issued.

Scramlin reported some 10,400 admissions were made for open swimming, as well as about 285 adults and families. New this year was a family admission rate of $1, which Scramlin said worked out well. Weather during July and August was very good, and the pool was closed only seven times during open swimming due to rain or cold weather.

Miller had a time of 11:07, with his brother Ron getting in third, but Corunna runners John Lawson, Vic Kuchar, Mike Geel, Bob Perry and Larry Martindale, came in second and fourth through seventh, in that order, to win.

Leroy Thomas was O-E's next finisher in eighth place.

Laingsburg nips Bath

The Bath Bees smelled honey at Laingsburg Friday night, but the Wolfpack managed to stave off the spirited Bath squad and squeak out a 13-12 football victory. It was Bath's seventh loss of the season with out a victory.

Pat Co's extra point near halftime proved to be the winning margin. He kicked it after Gary Koonter had passed for five yards to Roger Crane to cap a 78-yard drive.

That put Laingsburg ahead 7-6. Bath had scored first in the second period on Don Koenig's two-yard plunge. Laingsburg opened up their lead to 13-6 in the third quarter after a 62-yard drive was finished off with Rich Velth's one-yard plunge.

Bath was thwarted with one scoring attempt in the fourth quarter, but then rammed the ball into the end zone when Koenig dived over from the two on a fourth-down play. A pass for the tying extra point was batted down by Laingsburg.

Bath recovered a fumble late in the game and started an aerial attack in an attempt to pull the game out of the fire, but Laingsburg's Gene Smith intercepted one of the passes to crush out the Bath hopes.

LARRY SCRAMLIN

HOLLY DAVIS AND Valerie Bartholomew served as assistant managers and also had charge of special activities such as swim team and aquatic club. Della Davis, Karen Grams, Elaine Kuntz and Bill DeGroot were swim instructors. Carol Flegler, Judy Whitlock, Scott Bennett and Bill Bartholomew worked as locker attendants.

A number of youngsters assisted the certified instructors in some capacity during swim lessons, and earning water safety aid certification cards were Craig Bartholomew, Barb Cartwright, Maggie Kuntz, Brad Huntley and Cathy Stoddard.

About 30 boys and girls participated on the swim team, and four meets were held with swim clubs and country club teams in the Lansing area. The aquatic club for 10 to 15-year-olds was organized to let interested youngsters earn free swim privileges by helping out in some capacity at the pool for three hours per week.

The pool staff worked with several organizations for special events. Clinton County 4-H Club members were allowed free swim privileges the first day of the 4-H Fair, and the St. Johns Jaycees again held their competitive swim meet for county residents in August.

Scramlin said he figured the late start on the swimming program this summer was the major reason for the deficit this year, and he looks forward to an on-time start next summer.

Fresh, Laingsburg play to 0-0 tie

The St. Johns freshman football team played Laingsburg on Thursday, Oct. 17. Both teams played a strong defensive game and the final score was 0-0.

SPORTS

Fowler falls to Pottersville

Pottersville's Bruce McMurray scored three touchdowns Friday night as the Vikings rolled over Fowler 40-13 in a CMAC game at Pottersville.

Fowler, shut out the first half, scored early in the third period when, on their first play from scrimmage, Gary Feldpausch shook loose and rambled 33 yards for a touchdown. Brother Steve ran for the extra point, and then Gary scored again on a diveplay from the two-yard line in the fourth quarter.

McMurray got his touchdowns on runs of two and three yards and a 19-yard pass from Dick Diana. Wayne Barty scored on a 68-yard run in the first quarter, and Kim VanTilburg scored twice, once on a 97-yard pass play from Diana and once on a 53-yard pass interception.

Set millage gets backing

Clinton County News

SECTION B

OCTOBER 31, 1968

All voters who go to the polls next Tuesday or who cast absentee ballots will have a chance to help decide whether separate tax limitations will be established in Clinton County for the county, townships, schools and the intermediate school district.

The proposal would do away with the tax allocation board for a period of two years and would raise the allocated total tax from 15 mills this year to 18 mills next year.

Both county and school officials, who annually haggle with each other over the division of the 15 mills, favor the new set millage proposal. They admit it faces a rough time at the polls, but they point out a number of advantages which will improve, they think, government by all the units concerned.

Each year the allocation board meets in early summer to divide the 15 allocated mills between the schools, the county, the intermediate school district, and the townships. The latter two figures have remained pretty much constant, with the real battle being over what is allocated to the schools and the county.

This year the allocation board decided to allow the schools 7.717 mills for 1969, with the county getting to spread 6.113 mills, the townships 1 mill and the intermediate school district

.17 mill. Under the set millage proposal, the schools would receive 9.7 mills, the county 6.5 mills, townships 1.5 mills, and the intermediate school district .3 mill.

THE DIFFERENCE in school allocated millage would be an increase of 1.983 mills, but proponents of the fixed millage point out this would mean no direct increase, because the school districts can ask for that much less in additional operating money from voters.

"No school district can possibly operate on 9.7 mills," officials point out in explaining set millage, "so it will still be necessary to ask for the difference between 9.7 mills and their needs. However, this 9.7 mills will qualify the school districts for minimum state aid" in the event proposals for extra voted millage fail.

The intermediate school district will have a possible increase of .13 a mill under the proposed plan. However, they will ask for only the actual millage they need for the two years of 1969-1970, with .3 mill being the limit.

The county this winter will spread 6.113 mills and under the new proposal would have up to 6.5 mills. If they decide to spread the maximum it will be an increase of .387 mill on all tax statements in the county.

This .387 mill plus the possible .13 mill increase for the intermediate school district will be the only increase in the taxes for the City of St. Johns and the See MILLAGE page 3B

ASC PROGRAM

26 Clinton farms open for public hunting

In the fall of 1966 approximately 1,100 farms in Michigan entered into agreements with the United States Department of Agriculture to allow public hunting and trapping on their farms.

Again in 1967 an additional 1,000 farms completed public access agreements. Presently there are 250,000 acres which are available for public use. Ninety per cent of the agreements were written for hunting only, and over half of these public access farms were in the lower one-third of the state, which makes them easily accessible to the majority of our hunters.

In 1967 approximately 20,000 hunters made use of our public access lands. The approximate number of man-hours of hunting on these lands amounted to 120,000 hours, and 10,000 birds, rabbits and squirrel were harvested.

In 1968 it is anticipated that a far greater use will be made of the public access lands because the sportsmen throughout our state are now more familiar with the program and the location of the areas available.

All farms which provide public hunting may be identified by a large green and white sign generally posted near the farm headquarters, which reads "Hunting Allowed".

Hunters may also obtain a list of the farms by contacting the local county ASCS office in the county in which they wish to hunt or by writing to the Michigan Department of Conservation, Game Division, Lansing, Mich. 48926.

In our county we have 26 farmers participating in the program, making 1,873 acres available for public hunting.

To maintain the best hunter-farmer relations, all hunters should contact the owner of the land where the public hunting sign is posted and identify themselves to assure themselves and the farmer that there will not be an excessive number of hunters on a given farm.

BE SURE TO FIND out what

Plan now for drying, storing '69 corn crop

Farmers should start now to make plans for drying and storing next fall's corn crop, advises George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent.

In some cases, he says, the excess crop can be dried and stored commercially. But if the farm is in an expansion period, farmers should leave room and plan for adding a drying unit.

McQueen warns that farmers won't have much time for planning when the next summer rolls around. Surveys by Michigan State University agricultural engineers show the average harvesting period in Michigan is usually only about 30 days. But, because of uncertain weather, it's best to count only 15 days for sure.

McQueen and Robert L. Maddex, MSU extension agricultural engineer, recommend that farmers select equipment that can dry in 16 hours what harvesting equipment will handle in 10 hours. Two - row harvesting equipment will harvest 125 to 150 bushels of corn an hour or 1,000 bushels in an eight-hour day.

A 10,000-BUSHEL crop would mean drying 600 bushels a day, and a 15,000-bushel crop would mean handling 1,000 bushels a day with the drying equipment.

With a batch-in-the-bin unit, Maddex says a 24-foot diameter bin would permit the farmer to handle 1,000 bushels daily with normal moisture removal. A good, small, automated batch drying system would also be suitable for this size of crop.

There are many good units to handle 10,000 to 15,000 bushels of grain in a season, says Maddex, and these can provide economical grain drying if properly operated.

"The biggest drawback to the Spanish variety (iberica) is its lack of hardiness. In comparison with 18 other varieties, the Spanish variety suffered winter needle injury and occasional death of its growing tip in northern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin, northwestern Illinois and northern Michigan.

But, says Wright, in other places such as the southern half of Michigan, Missouri, and Pennsylvania, they have continued to grow well for nine years.

What is the best part of Spain from which to obtain seed? Wright says there is no definite answer. Experiments on trees from five different Spanish origins showed no major or consistent difference in quality or growth rate.

Unit plan projects for church fair

The Mabel Maier Division of the First Congregational Church met at the home of Mrs. Ronald Rinckey Oct. 22 with eight members present and Mrs. Frank Maier as a special guest.

The group spent the evening working on projects for the church fair scheduled for Nov. 21.

The next meeting will be Nov. 26 at the home of Diane Waltz.

Spain source for best Christmas tree seed

For the best looking Scotch pine Christmas tree that requires almost no shearing, nurserymen should get seed stock from Spain, contends a Michigan State University forestry researcher.

Dr. Jonathan W. Wright says these trees have made the Scotch pine the most popular Christmas tree in the U.S. and helped to make Michigan the nation's leading producer, accounting for 10 per cent of all those grown in the nation.

He cites four reasons for the Spanish Scotch pine's popularity: 1) the foliage remains dark green or blue green throughout the winter, 2) the needles are shorter than in the Belgian and German varieties, 3) the stem form is usually good and 4) the tree requires very little shearing.

"The growth rate is 30 to 40 per cent slower than in the Belgian and German trees, which may account for the reduction in shearing needed," says Wright.

"IN EXPERIMENTAL plantations, a few specimens produced top quality Christmas trees with absolutely no shearing. We do not recommend this as a general practice, but we believe that the need for shearing may be decreased considerably as a result of slower growth rates."

The biggest drawback to the Spanish variety (iberica) is its

How much corn did you lose?

By GEORGE McQUEEN
Extension Agricultural Agent

Do you know how many bushels of corn you grew but didn't get into storage? One way to tell is to check kernels and ears found in the field. 1) the number of ears in 133 feet of row and 2) the number of kernels between rows for a measured distance.

One lost ear per 133 feet represents one bushel lost. Every twenty kernels found in a 40-inch square represents one bushel lost. Counting between rows only, the distances for each row width would be 40" row—40 inches; 38" row—42 inches; 36" row—44 1/2 inches; 35" row—46 inches; 32" row—50 inches; 30" row—53 inches; and 28" row—57 inches.

What accounts for field losses and how may they be reduced? Most corn harvesting machines will lose four to six bushels of a 100-bushel crop under perfect conditions. Poor machine adjustment, high ground speed and stalk conditions all contribute to excess machine loss.

Just standing in the field, losses increase about one bushel per acre per week after the kernel moisture drops below 35 per cent. When most corn hybrids attain 35 per cent kernel moisture they are fully mature and have completed kernel development. After that, it's just a matter of losing moisture.

Mature corn standing in the field dries at a rate of about one-half per cent moisture per day under favorable conditions. If temperature is below 50 degrees F. or relative humidity above 80 per cent very little drying takes place.

These are all more reasons for growing relatively early maturing hybrids. Many years of records show the so-called 95-100 day hybrids do at least equal the yield of later maturing varieties. By reaching maturity earlier, they dry more rapidly in good weather, thus being less exposed to field losses and fall storms.

Senior citizens elect Hill as chairman for 1969

Clarence Hill has been elected again as chairman of the Clinton County Senior Citizens. A new board of directors elected Hill and other officers at a meeting last Tuesday, Oct. 22, after members of the organization had first elected new directors.

Three guests at the meeting, Mrs. Betty Minsky, Rev. Hugh Banning and George Eberhard (directors of the recently dissolved Aging Committee), volunteered to serve as the nucleus of an advisory committee composed of a cross-section of citizens of St. Johns representing business, the professions, news media and social activities. This advisory committee will be available to assist the Senior Citizens if they are needed to help solve problems which might arise. Some of the Aging Committee members have been of considerable assistance in times past.

The following persons were elected by the entire group to serve a two-year term as directors: Arthur Thelen, Ben Gillison, Mrs. Carl Harris, Roy Ormsby and John Baumgartner. Leo Thelen was elected to serve for one year to complete the term of George Shaw, who now resides in Florida. The other directors who still have one year to serve are Clarence Hill, Elzie Exelby, Carmen Tranchell and Ernest Root.

The directors then met and elected the following officers for a term of one year: chairman, Clarence Hill; vice chairman, Elzie Exelby; treasurer, Roy Ormsby; and secretary, Carmen Tranchell. Miss Helen Baumgartner was elected card and flower committee and Mrs. Clarence Hill was chosen program director. Roy Ormsby will be in charge of card parties and will appoint his committees to serve.

The next meeting of Senior Citizens will be on Tuesday, Nov. 12, in the Episcopal Church undercroft. Charles Lapham will show slides of trips he and his wife have taken.

The local group will have a table of baked goods and other articles for sale at the Extension Club Workshop in Smith Hall Nov. 5.

lars per acre results when corn is harvested at 26-28 per cent moisture. This moisture will result in minimum field losses. Minimum handling damage to corn and reasonable cost of drying.

Sawmill Clinic To Be November 8

A rapid production, efficient sawmill in Beal City near Mt. Pleasant, will be the site of a sawmill clinic held for mill operators and other interested people Nov. 8.

The half-day clinic will begin at 1 p.m. with a tour of the new Weber Brothers' Sawmill. Visitors will see the conveyorized system at work, and will witness how the three-man operation can produce 8,000 board feet of lumber each day from mixed hardwoods.

Special features of the new mill include an upright edger that will saw and edge a board at the same time, and a chipper that reduced slabs and edgings to salable product for papermills.

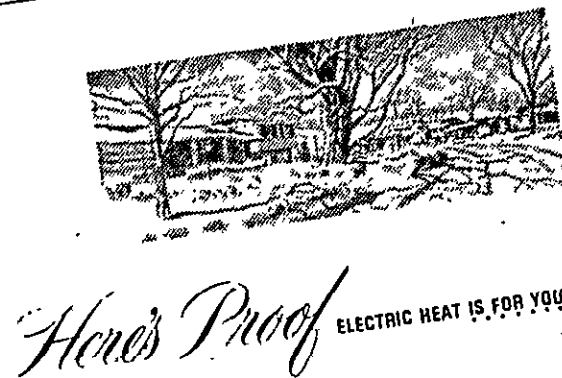

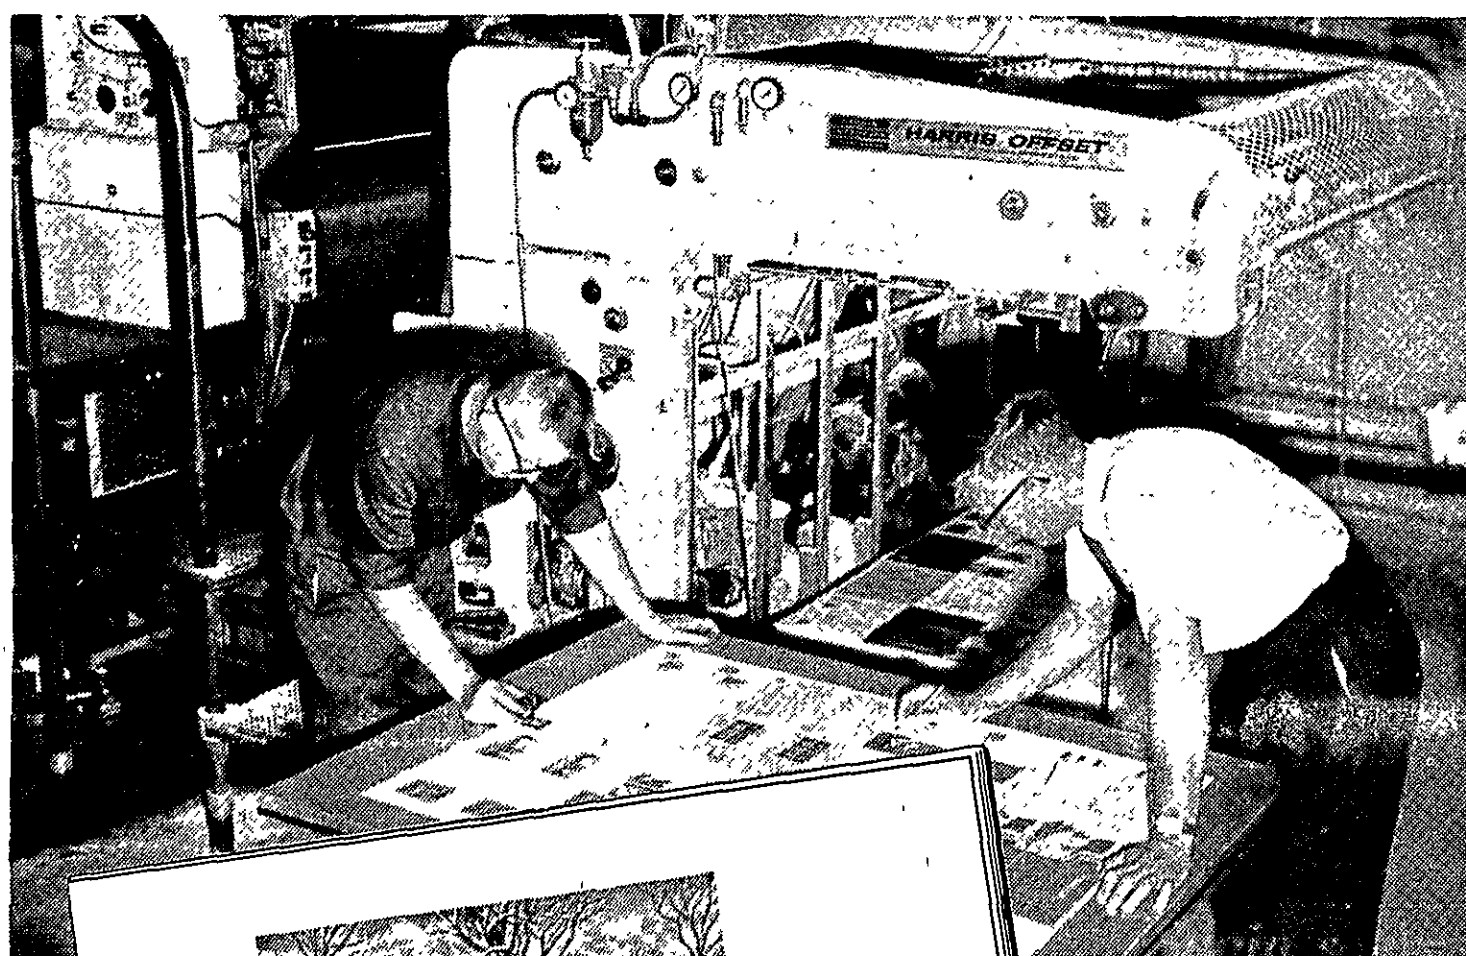

Following the tour, Ben Weber, one of the three brothers who own the mill, will discuss the operation.

Bill Keppler, head of the wood products Cooperative Extension Service program at North Carolina State University, will report on systematic problem solving in the sawmill, and Henry Huber, Michigan State University forest products extension specialist, will discuss "break-even" charts for chipping installations.

Fixed millage plan gets backing here

City of DeWitt—a total of .517 mill.

On an assessed valuation of $10,000, such an increase would be $5.17. This would be the maximum raise possible, and if either the intermediate school district or the county did not ask for the maximum, the increase would be less.

THE TOWNSHIPS will spread 1 mill this year. Under this proposal it would be possible to spread 1.5 mills, but this would be decided at the annual meetings of all the townships, except the charter townships of Bath and Watertown. If the townships show a need for the .5 mill increase, and the electors approve the additional, it would mean a total increase for the taxpayers in the townships of 1.017 Mills or $10.01 on the valuation of $10,000; $5 of that would remain in the township.

(By way of explanation, just what is a mill? One mill is one-tenth of a cent; 10 mills equals 1 cent. Therefore, on $1 valuation one mill tax would be 1 cent; on $1,000 valuation it would be $1; on $10,000 valuation it would be $10.)

The fixed millage proposal, if passed by the electors, would do several things:

It would eliminate the allocation board and save the county approximately $1-000 each year.

It would eliminate the annual fight each year for operating millage by the three units involved — namely, the county, public schools and townships — and the ill feeling caused by this annual meeting of the allocation board.

"The 15 - mill limitation has been outmoded for several years since the school operating costs have risen to their present level," allocation board members have stated. "The new plan would permit all units to prepare a realistic budget in advance of annual meetings and before the school year is over, making for better negotiating with teachers and other personnel."

This proposal will be submitted to the electors at the November election and if passed, will be for a two-year period. At the expiration of the two years it is the feeling of county, school, and township representatives that some other method of financing school operations will be arranged other than property tax. If some other arrangements are not made then, the allocation board will be reorganized and a new proposal presented to the electors.

Ballenger Calls For Welfare Restructuring

William S. Ballenger of rural Ovid, Republican nominee for state representative from the 87th District, told a meeting of the Ovid Crescent Club last week (Oct. 21) that a sweeping re-appraisal and restructuring of our welfare system is absolutely essential, with a shift in emphasis from hand-outs to helping hands.

Said Ballenger: "It is strange indeed that during six years of prosperity, total welfare costs in Michigan have increased from some $179 million to more than $437 million—an incredible jump of 143 per cent!"

"The most baffling phenomenon is the rapid growth of aid to dependent children (ADC) cases in just the past 10 months—from 38,500 to 48,000," he noted. Ballenger pointed out that mounting welfare rolls during an ear of unprecedented national prosperity should be the tip-off that drastic action is needed to redirect our welfare efforts.

"The basic philosophy behind welfare should be that assistance will be given to allow the recipient to become self-supporting," said Ballenger. "But instead of reducing welfare rolls, present programs perpetuate and enlarge them. The current system also tends to destroy and thwart initiative."

"The organization of the welfare system needs to be almost totally revamped," Ballenger continued. "The ever-increasing and changing federal programs and regulations often conflict with or overlap state efforts. There is reason to believe that the federal government's Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO)—one of the many so-called 'Great Society' programs—is actually recruiting welfare cases which the state, not the federal government, has to pay for."

"In some instances, welfare funds have been used to buy totally unnecessary luxuries like color television sets. There have been cases of men living with welfare recipients and eating up the allotment intended to support children. ADC mothers are encouraged to resist efforts to enroll them in training programs

Conines speak on India at Harvest Festival

The Salem United Methodist Annual Harvest Festival was held Saturday evening in the Church. Following a potluck supper Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conline showed pictures of their work as Peace Corps volunteers in India for two years.

Their Village of Vetapalem consisted of 12,000 people but compared to an American Village of just a few hundred. Their way of life is very backward. The people still use wild buffalo and bullock carts for transportation with a few having bicycles.

The Conlines have adopted a lively brown eyed Indian boy found while in India who is now Christopher Brian Conline. His grandfather Rev. Ralph Conline pastor of the church introduced him to the group.

On display in the foyer of the church were numerous articles they brought back with them.

Rev. Marlon Hanover of Benton Ridge, Ohio and Buddy Woodenhead, a homemade puppet will bring Christian Ventriloquism Speaking for Christ at Salem United Methodist Church Nov. 3 thru 10, each evening at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patterson were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kroll of Bannister.

Mrs. Marlon Earegood of St. Louis was a Friday evening visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gill Baker and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher and family spent Sunday touring the Newaygo area and called on their cousins Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell.

because of fear of losing part of their government check. Another major point of contention is whether the ADC system also works to promote illegitimacy by offering increased support for more fatherless children," he concluded.

Sealed Power 9-month earnings up 14% in 1968

Nine-month earnings of Sealed Power Corp. rose 14 per cent to $2,448,000, or $1.56 per share, from $2,148,000 or $1.38 per share, a year ago, confirming earlier estimates, Gordon E. Reynolds, the company's president, announced last week.

Final figures for the period showed sales slightly above expectations. Volume for the nine months was $37,966,000 compared with $35,711,000 in 1967, a gain of 6 per cent. Reynolds last month had projected sales of $37,850,000.

Third quarter net earnings were $975,000, equivalent to 56 cents per share, in comparison with $790,000, or 51 cents per share, in the like period last year. Sales of $12,919,000 were up 10 per cent from $11,756,000.

Per-share earnings for 1967 have been adjusted to reflect a 10 per cent stock dividend in August of this year.

The firm, a leading manufacturer of piston rings and other engine parts, expects fourth quarter sales to auto manufacturers to be up in consequence of heavy car production. Replacement sales are also continuing strong as more cars built in recent years of large production enter repairable age.

Farm Bureau women to meet Nov. 6

The November meeting of Clinton County Farm Bureau Women will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 6, instead of Tuesday, election day.

Tentative plans will be made for the coming year and presented for approval. Miss Helen Atwood, state coordinator of women's activities, will meet with the group.

The meeting will be at the Farm Bureau office building on West High Street. All Farm Bureau women are welcome and urged to attend.

The officers for the coming year are: chairman, Mrs. David Morris of Grand Ledge; vice chairman, Mrs. Raymond Mayer of St. Johns; and secretary, Mrs. Gerald Gove of St. Johns.

Members of the sixth grade orchestra were hard at work Thursday morning with their new teacher, Margaret Hawn. In the first row are Barbara Penix, Pamela Hufnagel, and Erin Wood. Back row Liane Whitford, and Kyla Bancroft. Absent for the picture were Rodney Thornton and Teresa Shupp.

Orchestra program restrung

The music of stringed instruments can once again be heard in the St. Johns School System. Mrs. Margaret Hawn is presently teaching orchestra to some 40 students in grades 6 through 12.

Mrs. Hawn is a graduate of the University of New Mexico and is near completion of her master's degree from the University of Indiana.

The school board has found it difficult to hire and hold good string teachers, and had considered dropping the course. Several parents objected to this and Miss Hawn was hired a few days later.

The orchestra hopes to play an active part in the music department this year.

Ovid hosts women's club meet

OVID—The Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs met Oct. 24, at the Front Street United Church in Ovid. This was the 47th annual convention of the west central district. Hostess clubs were the Ovid Crescent Club and the Clinton County Federation.

There were 136 women in attendance representing 36 women's clubs in Michigan. Mrs. Clarence Semans and Mrs. Richard DePond had charge of local arrangements.

The afternoon and evening sessions took place at the Main Street United Church. The afternoon address was given by Mrs. Zola Woodford Schroeder, MSPWC parliamentarian. She spoke on "Obscenity and Pornography," and heads the crusade for morality in the mass media.

The evening address was given by Dr. Robert Rice, M.D., from Greenville. His topic was "How You Get the Family Way."

Next year's convention will be held in Ionia.

WRC HOLDS THIMBLE PARTY AT BRAY HOME

The WRC held a Thimble Party at the home of Inez Bray Tuesday, Oct. 22. Cards were in play and high honors went to Minnie Wright and low to Katie M. Woodruff. The next regular meeting and thimble party will be at the home of Nora and Hazel Beebe on Welling Road, R-3, St. Johns.

The testimony of a clear conscience places the burden of proof on the other fellow.

Extra precautions needed for safe, happy Halloween

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE

This is the week for youthful goblins, witches and ghosts to pay their annual visits for "tricks or treats." Mothers helping the youngsters to dress for the occasion, children on the streets, and motorists all should take extra safety precautions so Halloween will be a happy experience for everyone.

Candles should never provide the light in a jack-o-lantern whether sitting on the front porch or carried by a youthful joy seeker. If light is needed, small flash lights will serve the purpose with no danger attached. Masks, an important part of Halloween costumes, cause far too many accidents. Too-small eye slits or face masks so large they slip and obscure the child's vision are real hazards. Many smart mothers have banned the use of masks, resorting instead to facial make-up. Halloween night creatures are usually in a hurry—on to the next house—the next street; rush home to empty the "loot bag" and off again! Long flowing skirts, billowing sleeves, ill fitting shoes, and floppy trousers can easily trip a scurrying witch or hobo. Such trailing garments can also catch in bicycle pedals and cause nasty falls.

The man or woman behind the wheel of the automobile needs to be even more alert this special night. Dark clothes, anxious and exuberant youngsters and often dark or stormy weather add up to real danger. Don't let your carelessness in instructing your child in safety practices or in your own responsibility for observing such practices put a blot on your conscience.

Parents need to help a child get a proper perspective of the true meaning of Halloween. Originally the holiday had a religious background—the eve of All Saints Day—a seeking of aims for the less fortunate—a casting off of ill deeds and misfortune. Those youngsters involved in collections for UNICEF and other worthy organizations are likely to learn Halloween is a time for others, not for personal or selfish means.

Hot lunches goal of East Essex Parents Club

Mrs. Dixie Kosloski, "Mrs. President" of the East Essex Parents Club, lives at R-3, St. Johns with her husband Jerry, and two children Pamela, 5, and Larry, 1. The club is a little unusual in that members elect a "Mr and Mrs President" husband and wife to serve the school needs.

The Kosloski home creates the feeling-one is stepping back in time. Decorated completely with authentic early American furniture and accessories she has collected throughout her lifetime. Mrs. Kosloski has been raised with antiques.

Her husband Jerry is a member of the Muzzle Loaders, 5th Battery Michigan Light Artillery, from Lansing. He has received many medals and awards for marksmanship and travels a great deal with his family to participate in these activities. He is a collector of antique guns and has one flintlock dating back to the time of Daniel Boone, (from Lancaster).

Mrs. Kosloski collects mostly tin and primitives. Some have been given to her as gifts, and she shops whenever they travel for items to add to her home.

Werbish named to 'Who's Who'

Al Werbish, son of Mr and Mrs John Werbish of 408 Giles, St. Johns, has been named to membership in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Werbish is a senior majoring in history at Adrian College at Adrian.

Election is one of the highest honors awarded a student at Adrian College.

Nominating committees consider scholarship, leadership and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular affairs, general citizenship and a promise of future usefulness in making their selections.

Werbish is a 1965 graduate of St. Johns Wilson High School.

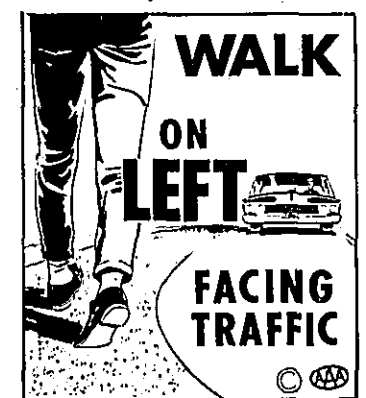

35 on bank's staff tour facilities

Thirty-five women staff members from five offices of the Clinton National Bank & Trust Co. met in the bank's community room in St. Johns last Tuesday morning for a get-acquainted coffee.

Among the St. Johns office personnel who served as hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Helen Fowler, Miss Irene Speck, Miss Virginia Shawnee, Miss Cheryl Elcher and Mrs. Geraldine Workman.

Miss Shirley Lake of St. Johns spoke briefly about the coming American Institute of Banking session for women to be held in Grand Ledge on Nov. 13.

Mrs. Helen Studor of St. Johns presided at the meeting and gave special recognition to personnel present from the Elsie, Fowler, Valley Farms and St. Johns auto-bank offices. The meeting concluded with a tour of the St. Johns office facilities and the bank's mobile county service unit.

VOTE NOVEMBER 5th ELECT ROLAND J. DUGUAY District Judge 65th District

AN OPEN LETTER ABOUT ROLAND J. DUGUAY Candidate for Clinton County District Judge

To the Citizens of Clinton County.

As law enforcement officers throughout Clinton County, we want to join with the Justices of the Peace of our County to express appreciation for the excellent job that Roland J. Duguay has done for us as Prosecuting Attorney. Our Justices of the Peace will no longer function after January 1st, but those who have worked with Roland J. Duguay, will long remember and cite the fairness with which he prosecuted criminals, and the vigor with which he pursued them to bring them to justice.

As a result, our County has what would have to be lowest unsolved major crime rate of any county in the State. To cite only a few prosecutions handled by Mr. Duguay, our County had more than its share of major crimes, including murder, several armed robberies, rapes and numerous breaking and enterings, but we are left with practically none that are unsolved today.

Roland Duguay was appointed Prosecuting Attorney by Judge Leo W. Corkin when we were in need of him the most. Supreme Court decisions appeared to be making law enforcement impossible, and we were working with the barest of manpower to get the job done. Despite it all, Prosecutor Duguay insisted on our living within the mandates of the Courts, and proved to us that the job could still be done.

As police officers and Justices of the Peace, we continually come in contact with Mr. Duguay's office, and with all of the other police officers in our County, including the Michigan State Police Troopers. We are always hearing the same praise of Mr. Duguay from practically every law enforcement officer working in our County.

Our only regret is that after January 1st, Roland J. Duguay will not continue as Prosecuting Attorney for our County. We join in telling the people of Clinton County that we know from working with him, that he will be a fair, honest and conscientious District Court Judge. Our County needs a man of his ability and integrity to preside over what will be the entire Lower Court System of our County after January 1st. VOTE FOR ROLAND J. DUGUAY AS DISTRICT COURT JUDGE ON NOVEMBER 5th.

Close-up of a nerve?

No. It's just a rope . . . at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted . . . he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

Think on these things!

By JUSTIN SHEPARD
Minister
Diplan Church of Christ

I have known men who open their mouths like barn doors in boasting what they would do if they were in someone else's shoes. They would abolish all taxes, turn poorhouses into palaces, but all this depends on an "if." If the sky falls we will catch larks. If it is a fine word; when a man jumps on its back it will carry him into worlds which were never created and make him see miracles which were never wrought. With an "if" you could put a city into a quart pot.

As to religion, tall talkers were the first to set it up. By their exertions everything was set a going, and people are not grateful, or they would almost worship them; it's shameful to see how they've been neglected, and even discredited! While they had a finger in the pie all went well at the meeting, but now they have left and there must be a screw loose, and those who live longest will see most. They borrow words from David and say, "The earth is dissolved and I bear the pillars of it." Talk of blowing your own trumpet, they have a whole band of music, big drum and all, and keep all the instruments going to their own praise and glory. We must try to state the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. If we begin calling 11 inches a foot we shall go on till we call one inch four-and-twenty. Once go in for exaggeration and you may as well be hung for a sheep as a lamb. He who tells little lies will soon think nothing of great ones, for the principle is the same. Where there is a mousehole, there will soon be a rathole, and if the kitten comes, the cat will follow. Long tongue, short hand. Great talkers, little doers. Dogs that bark much run away when it is time to bite. The leanest pigs squeaks the most. It is not the hen which cackles most that lays the most eggs. Saying and doing are different. It is the barren cow that bellows. Drums sound loud because there is nothing in them. Good men know themselves too well to chant their own praises. Good cheese sells itself without puffery. When men are really excellent, people find it out. Think on things that are honest.

Ohio pastor, puppet friend to bring service to Salem Church here

Rev Marlon Hanover of Benton Ridge, Ohio, and Buddy Woodenhead, his most popular homemade puppet, will bring Christian ventriloquism speaking for Christ at Salem United Methodist Church Nov. 3-10. Each evening's program starts at 7:30.

The church is located at the corner of North US-27 and Clinton Gratiot County Line. The public is invited.

Rev Mr Hanover, a minister in the United Methodist (E.U.B.) Church, brings to the groups to which he speaks a unique gospel ministry in ventriloquism Buddy Woodenhead, his most popular homemade puppet who sits 24 inches tall, entertains with light comedy and instructs with provoking puppet type logic that has made him a popular guest.

Dottie, Buddy's sister, has filled the gap for many audiences. Rev Mr Hanover, who is now pastor at Calvary Church in Benton Ridge, Ohio, began this unusual ministry in the spring of 1958 when he made a paper mache puppet for use in vacation Bible school of his own church. From a chance discovery of a book on Ventriloquism in the public library and this simple beginning in his own church has grown a ministry that has been amazing to many, including Rev Mr Hanover.

He is a graduate of Sycamore (Ohio) High School, Bluffton College, Bluffton, and Winebrenner Graduate School of Theology at Findlay, Ohio. He has served in the Ohio Sandusky conference of the E.U.B. Church since 1947. He is married and has a family of four sons.

Award banquet held for Cancer Society

Mrs. Raymond Thornton, Mrs. Rex Ballantine, Mrs. David Peabody, Mrs. Joe Fabus and Margaret Thornton attended the award banquet of the American Cancer Society State Convention last Wednesday evening at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing. Mrs. Thornton was one of 17 volunteers from the State of Michigan who received the Top Crusader Award. These awards are given annually to volunteers who have worked at least ten years for the American Cancer Society in its three phases of endeavor, education, service and fund-raising. Mrs. Thornton introduced a program of "Send a Mouse to College" which was conducted successfully by the Ovid-Elsie High School Band this past spring. She is Vice President of the Clinton County Chapter of the American Cancer Society and has been Duplain Township Chairman since 1956.

Shepardsville

By Lucille Spencer

Morningside Chapter No. 279, OES of Ovid will meet on Wednesday evening, Nov. 6 for practice for Installation on Nov. 8.

Mrs. Michael, Fliegel and daughter, Lori of Chicago, have been caring for her mother, Mrs. A. J. Schaefer, Mrs. Schaefer has had recent surgery.

The MYF of the Shepardsville United Methodist Church did very well on their UNICEF drive on Sunday evening. They collected better than $100 for this worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palen Sr. closed their cottage at Edenville for the winter. Mrs. Palen said that there was a bad storm up there, shutting off the electricity for about two hours on Sunday.

Mr. Irving Brooks left Monday morning for his home in Salem, Ore. after spending something visiting with his sister Mrs. Roger Smith and family.

Mr. Steve Komives is coming along just fine after having undergone surgery last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palen Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Decker and family were recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wisner and family and Mr. Roy Wisner at their ranch near Maple City. The Wisners are former Ovid residents. Maple City is located northwest of Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins entertained friends from Battle Creek on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Betzer have returned home after spending several days in Montpelier, Ohio visiting Mrs. Mary J. Irwin. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith of Ashley, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis spent the past week on a color tour of Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Davis of Clare accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Swagart, and Mr. Carl Bradmyer are visiting the Floyd Betzer and Wayne Mead families.

NEWS ITEMS

OFTEN FORCED OUT
The late appearance of correspondence and other news items from around the county is not necessarily the fault of the correspondents. Frequently the amount of news collected and contributed exceeds the amount of space available, and it is then necessary to withhold some items until the following week.

Mr. William Knight has returned to his home on Island Road after a three week stay in Owosso Memorial Hospital undergoing observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Halteman and sons Glen and Wayne spent several days this past week at Drummond Island.

Mrs. Roy Halteman was able to be brought to the home of her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Howard Halteman of Island Road this past Tuesday. She is progressing nicely following the installation of a pace maker some time ago.

Miss Mary Ann Palus and friend Miss Linda Katenin of St. Joseph School of Nursing at Flint spent the weekend with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Louis Palus of St. Clair Road and attended the wedding of Miss Judy Rivest and William Kissane at the St. Cyril's Church in Bannister Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Armstrong of Phoenix, Ariz. were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norval Ballantine of French

Meet identical twins Sheila and Sheryl Pulliam . . . or is it Sheryl and Sheila ???

How how do do they they like being being twins??

How does it feel to be identical twins?

"We just love it; we wouldn't want it any other way. We have lots of fun," Sheryl and Sheila Pulliam, members of the Junior class at Rodney B. Wilson High School, enjoy all phases of being identical twins. They are the daughters of Mr and Jerry Pulliam of North US-27.

They were born on July 20, 1952, and Sheryl is six minutes older than Sheila. Dressing alike is part of the fun and it's not difficult for them to fool relatives, friends or teachers.

The twins are so alike they have 11 identical tooth fillings. Their mental - thoughts and IQ levels are so similar that when given essay questions, the answers were like duplicates. The teachers then separated the twins into different sections of the room, and the essays still remained almost identical.

Extra sensory perception seems a much stronger trait with twins. It's as though conversation is muchless necessary. This trait goes back to their infancy, and Mrs Pulliam says, "It's quite common for twins to talk much later in life. They set up their own manner of communication and don't really need to talk as others do."

MUSIC PLAY AN important part of their lives. Sheryl is choir director at the United Methodist Church. Both sing in the Wilsonaires, and frequently they sing duets in the choir. Sheila sometimes sings solos. Sheryl plays the piano, and Sheila the guitar.

Except for a difference of opinion on hard boiled eggs, they like the same foods. The twins had all the childhood diseases together and still share cold and flu bugs. Frequently they talk and think in unison which can be a little confusing, especially when Mrs Pulliam only gets the talk part.

They both do gardening and baby sitting. Sheryl has the only collection in the family - gum wrappers. She is making a gum chain.

Both are on academic courses and last year had their father for a teacher. The girls felt he treated them harder than other classmates for fear of showing partiality, but he came in real handy when they needed things like lunch money.

In sports they show some difference. Sheila likes tennis, and Sheryl prefers golf. Both are presently considering teaching as a career. Mr Pulliam teaches 10th grade biology in the high school. Mrs Pulliam teaches third and fourth grade at East Ward. An interesting feature is that both parents are also twins.

Sheila and Sheryl both say they have "Never regretted being twins."

DeWitt, county still arguing about roads

DeWITT — City councilmen continued their attack on Clinton County road authorities last week as they again expressed concern because the roads in the southwest portion of the city are still under county control.

Councilmen said the city should be given ownership of the roads in the area. Clinton County road officials have balked on turning the roads over to the city, especially the main arteries in and out of the city—Turner, DeWitt and Herbison Roads.

No action was taken and the legal hassle continues.

Named to the city election board were Esther Klaver, Jessie Armstrong, Thelma Church, Marilyn Cohn, and Janet Woodruff.

Earl Miller was hired as the cemetery sexton.

Answers to 6 questions can help you duck the medicine quacks

Answers to six questions will help Michigan residents spot the health quacks who every day claim they can cure everything from cancer to arthritis.

James J. Lightbody, M.D., Detroit, president of the Michigan State Medical Society, says, "If you can answer 'yes' to any of these six questions, then be wary."

Dr. Lightbody said these questions will help Michigan residents recognize the quack salesman or the phony gadget:

One, is the product or service offered as a "secret remedy?"

Two, does the sponsor claim that he is battling the medical profession which is attempting to suppress his wonderful discovery?

Three, is the remedy sold from door to door, by a self-styled "health advisor," or promoted in lectures to the public, from town to town?

Four, is this "miracle" drug, device, or diet promoted in a sensational magazine, by a faith healer's group, or a crusading organization?

Six, is the product or service good for a vast variety of illnesses?

In commenting on the current concern of Michigan doctors to expose the health quacks who prey on the fears and hopes of sick people, Doctor Lightbody said, "The people who fall for this con game are good and sincere people who desire to improve their health or appearance. Their mistake is in seeking the 'miracle' or 'instant cure.'"

In deceitful promotions is a quack product; the machine that has impressive knobs and dials, but does nothing except take money out of the pockets of the unsuspecting, is a quack device."

The federal agency recommends the following action when a citizen suspects health quackery: "Contact your physician or inform your county medical society."

The FDA suggests three other routes: 1) get in touch with the Food and Drug Administration, either at its district office in your area, or in Washington, D.C.; 2) ask the Better Business Bureau about the reputation of the promoter; or 3) if the drug or device was promoted through the mail, inform your local post office.

Don't be afraid to warm to an electric blanket up

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

To buy or not to buy an electric blanket? That is the question before the house when frosty nights call for more covers on each bed.

Electric covers do combine comfort and convenience. An electric blanket has many features in its favor—not the least being its washability and sleepability.

Because an automatic heating blanket gives uniform warmth to all the body's cold spots without the weight of piled-on covers or constriction of bed socks, it lulls the user into the bliss of a sound night's sleep.

And how convenient to be able to launder it in an automatic washer or by hand. In fact, the dominant "don't" in electric blanket care is don't dry clean. Why? Because cleaning solvents can damage the insulating material which protects the wiring.

Some homemakers say "what's good for one is good for all" when caring for blankets of this type. Not so, my friend, for there are differences in fiber content and design. It is best to follow the manufacturer's directions to the letter. An alternative would be to follow your washer use care manual for correct timing of soaks, suds, rinse and spin cycles.

WASH AS SOON as the blanket starts to be the least bit soiled. If soil becomes imbedded, the gentle handling which is mandatory may not be adequate to do a thorough cleaning job. Use cool-to-warm water for both sudsing and rinsing as for a baby's bath.

Directions for some electric blankets permit use of an automatic dryer, others do not. Proceed accordingly. When a dryer is used, remove the blanket while damp to guard against overdrying and excessive tumbling that cause shrinkage. To finish the drying (or to dry it immediately after washing), drape the blanket over parallel lines—preferably outdoors in the shade. Then use both hands to straighten and pull it to shape. When completely dry, restore the nap by a quick once-over with a soft brush. Do not iron the blanket, but the binding may be pressed with a cool iron.

Recent developments include blankets of the "thermal weave" type with waffle-like depressions; separate hangers for attaching controls to headboards, and bottom snap fasteners which allow use either flat or fitted like contour sheets. One control even includes an alarm clock that can automatically switch the blanket off and simultaneously wake up the sleeper.

AN INNOVATION in heated blankets is a type which warms by water rather than by wires. This kind contains watertight, flexible plastic tubes through which electrically warmed water circulates. It can be slept on or under, can be dialed for the desired degree heat, and is claimed to be so durable that it can be crumpled or folded without damage. This type, also machine-washable, should be line-dried—never cleaned, wrung, or ironed.

Also available in the electric bedding lineup are mattress pads, footwarmers (half pads for localized warmth), coverlets, and sheets. Part of their appeal is lightness of weight, making them portable for away-from-home sleeping. All require frequent laundering because of body contact or surface exposure; again, these articles must be washed—never dry-cleaned. Launder by hand or machine according to their specific instructions which stress gentle sudsing and squeezing, plus line- or machine-drying.

A theory that doesn't allow for friction will get a hard rub. Some folks are as easily rattled as others are hard to shake.

Informed citizenry is Wood's goal

By ROBERT H. WOOD
Candidate for city commissioner

I have been asked to submit a short article concerning my opinions of the office of city commissioner, my qualifications for the office and why I feel that I should be elected to the office in the election on Nov. 5, 1968.

Concerning the office of city commissioner, I believe that a city commissioner under our form of municipal government has a direct responsibility to see that the essential services such as water, sewer, police protection, fire protection, etc., are furnished to the community as efficiently and as economically as possible. A city commissioner is also responsible to see that the revenues received from taxes and other sources are used in the most effective manner possible to benefit all the citizens of the community.

A city commissioner should use his best efforts to keep the citizens informed of what the city government is trying to accomplish. Further I feel that a city commissioner should always try to enlist the maximum citizen participation in the problems and decisions made by the city government. The citizens of the community should be kept informed of the use that is being made of their tax dollar, since in the final analysis it is the citizens' money that is being spent.

As far as qualifications for the office of City Commissioner citizens are the best and final judges of the qualifications. I can only state that as a practicing attorney in St. Johns I am constantly involved in such local problems as taxes and zoning. In the various positions that I have held such as justice of the peace and associate municipal judge I have become acquainted with the problem of local law enforcement. As a small businessman, home owner, and the father of three children I know and appreciate many of the problems of the citizens of St. Johns are faced with.

If elected I can state that I will put forth my best efforts to see that all the citizens' interests are represented, and I will approach problems with an open mind and will try to do what I feel in my conscience is best for the community as a whole.

Hannah promises spirit of cooperation

By JOHN W. HANNAH
Candidate for city commissioner

Thank you for your letter requesting statements from city commission candidates.

While I believe my past experience in city and county administration would be of considerable value, if elected, I know that the operation of municipal government has become more complicated in recent years. Our problems call for new approaches for solution with unbiased consideration by the commission for the best interests of the people of St. Johns.

I believe it would be presuming on my part to attempt to list the various problems that confront a city like ours, with a one-man solution.

Rather, I believe the new commissioners should assume their positions in an open-minded spirit of cooperation and a determination to work with the other commissioners to see that all city business is conducted on an economical, business-like and above-board basis.

I would welcome constructive suggestions from other citizens who are sincerely interested in working for the building of our community.

JOHN W. HANNAH

I believe we have capable management at city hall. Our new city manager is working to pick up loose ends and get our city operation on a good business basis. He is entitled not only to our support and cooperation in this, but should be aided by constructive guide lines set up by the city commission.

If I am honored with election, the above suggestions and recommendations will be my platform and I will do my best to warrant the trust the voters place in me.

3 men seeking write-in election as commissioners

Three St. Johns men will be write-in candidates for two city commission seats in a rather unique situation that sees nobody's name printed on the ballot for that position.

The candidates are John W. Hannah, shop superintendent of the Clinton County News; John Lynch, Clinton-Shiawassee agency manager for Farm Bureau Insurance; and Robert H. Wood, St. Johns attorney.

All the candidates pointed out to voters that in voting for them they must write in their name in the exact manner in which they're registered—in this case, two of the three are using their middle initial.

Hannah has a background of local government experience at Munising in the Upper Peninsula, where he served as councilman and mayor and was also on the Alger County Board of Supervisors. He was also probate judge, filling out an unexpired term.

He has been in the printing business for 48 years. He came to St. Johns from Lapeer in 1957. He and his wife Hattie live at 210 W. Walker Street.

Lynch, a Michigan State University graduate in police administration, served seven years on the Lansing Police Department and during that time was presented with the department's highest award for bravery. He entered the insurance field in January 1961 and in his first year was named the outstanding agent for Farm Bureau Insurance.

He has been career agency manager for FB Insurance since 1964 and has won top awards for many achievements in his field. He and his wife Sue have four children (Tom, 14, Mike, 13, Jim, 12, and Cathy, 10) and they reside at 110 E. McConnell Street.

Wood, 38, moved to St. Johns in 1963 after working for the Internal Revenue Service in Chicago for six years as an investigator and attorney. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1957. He was earlier an MSU graduate before serving in the U.S. Army.

Since being in St. Johns, Wood has been an attorney, justice of the peace and associate municipal judge. He is vice president of the Exchange Club and a trustee of the First Congregational Church. He and his wife Marilyn and three children (Wendy, Margaret and Douglas) live at 107 N. Lansing Street.

Class of '70' wins poster contest at P-W

By GAIL COTTER
P-W High School

The winning class in the poster contest was again the class of 1970. Many spirited posters and slogans were made by the separate classes, and there is no doubt that a lot of work was put into the contest.

At the last student council meeting, representatives were chosen to go to the league meetings. They are Roy Simon, Richard Harr and Nancy Bengel.

At the league meeting it was decided that the first league dance would be held at P-W. The date is set for Saturday, Nov. 9, and only schools in our league will be allowed to come. The band "The New Paris Bakery" will be featured.

GAA (Girls' Athletic Assn.) officers are: president, Gail Cotter; vice president, Colleen Schaffer; secretary, Sharon Smith; treasurer, Maryann Droste; and reporter, Anita Kramer. At the last meeting the girls participated in tumbling, basketball, badminton and some very vigorous volleyball games. Mrs. Richardson is the sponsor.

Janice O'Brien, who went to Sweden as an exchange student this summer, gave a report of her visit at a school assembly on Wednesday. She showed slides of her "home and family."

Michigan government officials have had some trying moments in office but none more trying than that of Gen. William Hull, governor of the Michigan Territory during the War of 1812. Hull was court-martialed on Jan. 3, 1814, and sentenced to death for surrendering Detroit to the British without a fight. Fortunately, Hull's sentence was remitted.

Lynch would involve more of citizenry

By JOHN LYNCH
Candidate for city commissioner

The reason I have decided to seek the position of city commissioner is because I feel it is every citizen's responsibility to take part in the governmental process, either through the holding of an elective office or by giving active support to the processes of government.

I feel we have an obligation to serve if we are qualified to do so.

I have been in business here for the past eight years and have lived in this community for the past 4 1/2 years, and I feel it is time that I become involved more actively in our community affairs.

I feel that our fundamental right of self-government begins on the local level and that the office of city commissioner should be representative of all residents of the city and no particular group. If elected I pledge to seek the advice and counsel of all members of the community.

I feel I would be qualified in helping solve problems facing the city because of my record of accomplishments in my personal business endeavors.

IN LINE WITH my belief that the views of citizens should be adequately presented, it will be my proposal, if elected, to establish a citizens advisory committee and to conduct informal meetings periodically for the purpose of exchanging opinions.

This committee will be created with the hope that persons interested in the general welfare of our community will seek membership and be prepared to exchange freely their opinions, suggestions or thoughts and to question, without reservation, the conduct of the city's operation.

I sincerely feel that a lack of communication between elected officials and the people they represent frequently results in grievous misunderstandings, and the establishment of an advisory group should minimize these possibilities.

There is nothing in my business or personal life that will derive benefit from a term as city commissioner except, perhaps, the satisfaction of returning to the community payment for some of the benefits which I enjoy. I do not look upon a term as commissioner as a period without difficulties, but I will enter it with great anticipation that what I have to lend may ultimately aid in bringing about improvement on what I feel is already a fine community.

So, in summation, I have no axe to grind; rather a real and sincere desire for an economically and socially sound community in which my family can find happiness. I seek closer and more definitive communications between city government and our citizens through an advisory committee, and I offer what leadership and administrative abilities I possess toward the continued welfare and development of St. Johns.

With ten years of legal experience, Roland J. Duguay, became Prosecuting Attorney for Clinton County by Special Appointment of Circuit Judge, Leo W. Corkin. He came at a time when we were sorely in need of a dedicated and qualified man to be Chief Law enforcement officer for our County. He quickly turned chaos into a highly respected and dignified office. With his devotion, fairness, and hard work, he gained the respect of all his fellow Attorneys, Judges, police officers, County officials and Supervisors alike. They are his strongest supporters, and can attest to his ability, qualifications and proper judicial temperament. If you have any questions, ask the men who have worked with him, and who should know.

Roland J. Duguay graduated from U. of D. Law School. He is Vice President of the Clinton-Gratiot Bar Association and member of the Tri-County Law Enforcement and Crime Control Policy Committee.

Experience, ability claimed by Duguay

By ROLAND J. DUGUAY
Candidate for
District Judge

Our new district court will generate a large caseload from receiving all criminal violations that previously were divided among the many justice of the peace and municipal courts of our county. In addition, it is expected that district court will receive the backlog of uncompleted cases from all those courts. From the very nature of this expected heavy caseload, the district court will require a judge who is practical and who will be correct often enough in his legal decisions rendered to make this a workable and just court for the people.

The deadline expressed is a very important one. Because all criminal cases will originate in the district court, which will be the entire lower court system for our county, this new court must be in operation on the day that justice courts cease their operations. This by law is Jan. 1, 1969.

The fast pace and heavy caseload of district court will be primarily criminal cases. This will require experience and a good working knowledge of criminal law and procedure. As prosecuting attorney, decisions have been required repeatedly that determined whether a person does or does not go to jail.

THE PROSECUTING attorney is also the legal advisor for our county officials and for our board of supervisors and is the chief law enforcement officer for the county. This requires extremely responsible decisions and advice that often involves a man's freedom, large sums of money or a large number of people. There is no other official position that necessitates more encounters with attorneys, judges and police officers throughout the county than prosecuting attorney. Court appearances are daily routine before our circuit, probate, municipal and the many justice courts of our county. These repeated court appearances necessitate having a good working knowledge of court procedure. These are the same basic decisions that our district judge will be required to make continually.

My experience is not limited in this regard. Not only have I been prosecuting attorney for Clinton County since having been appointed by Circuit Judge Leo W. Corbin, but I also was an assistant prosecuting attorney in Macomb County for over two years. This was a very populous county from the caseload standpoint. There, I gained immeasurable trial court experience.

In addition, I have also had six years of law office experience, which included both private and corporate legal practice. From this broad experience, I should be equipped to understand other attorneys' problems, and those of the litigants on any given case. Nor am I short of administrative experience. The prosecuting attorney office has required staff management and has been run effectively and efficiently during my administration. I have also been assistant general counsel for Detroit Mobile Homes, Inc. My experience also includes the administration and management of Bobenal Investments, Inc., while in private practice. This is a large land development company, which among its many holdings of apartments and shopping centers, does own the Southgate Plaza Shopping Center in St. Johns.

A self appraisal of one's ability and effectiveness is always a difficult matter to express to others. For this reason, I have suggested to the voters that they ask the persons who have worked with me as to my qualifications. This would include our county officials, supervisors, judges, attorneys and our police officers throughout the county. They should know best whether I am qualified, and whether I have the proper judicial temperament that is so important to be a good judge.

IF AFTER SUCH AN appraisal is made and if the people of Clinton County do vote for me to be their new district judge, then I only hope that I can render them justice for their decision and for their trust in me. If I am elected, I will do my best to establish this new court on a fair and strong foundation for years to come. I do not intend to whip a man when he is down, but I will not coddle the criminal, nor will I tolerate continual infractions of our laws.

As prosecuting attorney, I have devoted myself to law enforcement. As district judge, if elected, I do expect and will endeavor to be a strong advocate for good law and order in our county. On this basis, I ask for your support and for your vote on Nov. 5, to be your district court judge.

2 seek judgeship of new Clinton district court

The new district court plan that goes into effect Jan. 1 will be the entire lower court system for Clinton County, and two St. Johns attorneys are candidates for the one judgeship involved.

They are Roland J. Duguay, Clinton County prosecutor since June 1967, and Harold B. Reed, municipal judge now and also administrator at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

District court will be important. All criminal cases will originate in district court, meaning that all criminal complaints, warrants and arraignments, including the setting of bond, will be processed in this court. If the crime is a felony, then preliminary examinations will also be held in district court before it reaches circuit court level. All misdemeanors will now be fully handled by the district court, including those that carry a punishment of less than four years.

Civil jurisdiction of the district court will include all controversies up to $3,000. A small claims division of the new district court will allow more efficient and economical justice for small cases that previously had to be overlooked by damaged parties. District court will also be in charge of traffic violations bureaus throughout the County.

DUGUAY, AN ALMA COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY of Detroit Law School graduate, practiced law in Alma from January 1962 to June 1967, in both private practice and corporate law. He was assistant general counsel for Detroit Mobile Homes, Inc., and managed and operated Bobenal Investments, Inc., the firm that owns and operates Southgate Plaza Shopping Center in St. Johns.

He was assistant prosecuting attorney for Macomb County for two years and was the first assistant to receive a testimonial banquet by his associates and Macomb County circuit judges when he left for private law practice.

Vice president of the Clinton-Gratiot Bar Assn., he is active in civic affairs associated to law enforcement and is serving as a member of the Tri-County Law Enforcement and Crime Control Policy Committee.

REED IS A FORMER ST. JOHNS CITY attorney who on March 1 became St. Johns municipal judge. He was a member of the Clinton Board of Supervisors from 1963 to 1968. He is a graduate of Mercer University at Macon, Ga., and Wayne State University Law School.

Reed has been administrator of Clinton Memorial Hospital since October 1958 and previously served as business manager, beginning his association with the hospital in April 1955.

He is the senior partner in the law firm of Reed and Kelly which maintains offices in St. Johns and DeWitt. He and his wife Bobbie live at 305 E. State Street.

I'll deal firmly with criminals: Reed

By HAROLD B. REED
Candidate for
District Judge

On Jan. 1, 1969, Clinton County will have a new court, officially called the 2nd Division of the 65th Judicial District, which will replace all justices of the peace, the circuit court commissioners, and the municipal court of St. Johns. In addition, the district court will handle certain matters now the exclusive jurisdiction of the circuit court.

The court will consist of a judge, elected in the November election, one or more magistrates as provided by the board of supervisors, a court recorder, a clerk, and additional employees as required. Headquarters of the court will be St. Johns, but sessions may be held elsewhere as needed.

One of the unique features of the new court will be the small claims division. This is entirely new in Michigan law. It will provide that in civil suits involving $300 or less, with the consent of both parties, the matter can be heard rather informally before the judge and a decision rendered. No lawyers or collection agencies will be permitted to practice in the small claims division. Decision of the judge is final with no appeal. Procedure is simple and inexpensive.

The judge of the district court should be a mature person with previous judicial experience. He will take office with a heavy backlog of cases on the docket, a new court to get organized, and no precedent on which to rely. Certainly this will be no place for the novice judge, regardless of other legal experience, as there is no substitute for judicial experience.

In 1960, I was first elected to judicial office in Clinton County, as a circuit court commissioner. I was re-elected to this office in 1962 and served until early 1968 when I resigned to become municipal judge of St. Johns. Other experience in public office includes four years as city attorney of St. Johns, four years on the county board of supervisors, and a short period as assistant prosecutor. I have been administrator of the Clinton Memorial Hospital for more than 10 years, and have lived in St. Johns since 1955.

My campaign for the office of District Judge has been conducted in a mature manner in keeping with my personal finances and available time, and in accord with my conception of judicial dignity. No funds to finance my campaign have been solicited or accepted. If I am elected, I will owe no favor or obligation to any person or party. I feel this is important, since the Court must be kept out of politics. We have seen what happens on the state and national level when politics invades the courts, and we do not want it here in Clinton County.

As stated frequently in my campaign, my platform is law and order in Clinton County. I believe in supporting our police, and in dealing firmly and impartially with lawbreakers. I feel that much of the current wave of lawlessness can be traced to excessive judicial leniency, a mistake which I pledge not to make. I feel that the first duty of the courts is the protection of the law-abiding community.

On the basis of almost eight years of judicial experience in Clinton County, and my record as a city attorney and municipal judge, I feel that I am well qualified to be district judge and that my experience will be needed in the district court.

Charles King entertains O-E students

By FRAN FOWLER
Ovid-Elsie High School

OVID-ELSIE — "Swing Lo, Sweet Chariot." This was just one of the many songs that enchanted the Ovid-Elsie student body as Charles King, a well-known singer, came before the assembly of students and presented a program entitled, "Music in the Air."

King has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show, the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout program, and in the movie Carmen Jones. He is also the "director" of the "Wings Over Jordan" choir.

He sang many songs ranging from "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" to an old favorite "Rock-My-Soul."

Seven members of the O-E Student Council and their advisor, Mr Pope, traveled to the University of Michigan for a student council workshop on Oct. 22.

The main point emphasized during the assembly was that the student council should not be considered a student government. Later many group discussions were conducted by the professors and one was held by the U of M student council advisor.

Those attending from O-E were Rick Warren, Kris Taft, Eric Casler, Nancy Shinabery, Mary Temple, Linda Cox and Kathy Szilagyi.

During Spirit Week at O-E, the cheerleaders sponsored a leg contest. As it turns out a freshman finally beat an upperclassman at something. Bill Foran's legs collected the most money in the canisters which displayed the legs but no names. The other unsuccessful competitors were Greg Finch, Ken Coon, Phil Seybert, Jerry Weir, and Denny Barrett.

Nixon best choice for President

This newspaper supports Richard M. Nixon and urges his election as President Nov. 5. He alone offers hope that America can survive this time of crisis and become reunited.

This is our belief after looking not only at Mr. Nixon, but at alternatives Hubert H. Humphrey and George Wallace.

Mr. Humphrey represents a deeply divided Democratic Party that has not been able to cope with the gravest problems this nation ever has faced, while Mr. Wallace heads a movement more resembling an angry mob than a serious political party with deep-rooted convictions.

At this moment in history, America can ill afford leadership that is divided within itself. Nor can America afford its voice in the world originating from a "party" relying more on emotion than reason.

Richard Nixon and the Republican Party are the best America has to offer at this hour. The candidate has intellect, consistency, humility and new-found self control. The party has more unity and a broader base than the opposition.

Stripped of all other responsibilities, the main job of the winning candidate and party will be formation of a government to run the country. Humphrey and Wallace do not offer great hope in this important area.

Basically a well-intentioned man, Humphrey inherited two Democratic parties and has been unable to pull them together. Sen. Eugene McCarthy and his backers remain outside the fold. McCarthy and his forces represent some of the best thinking in the party, thinking that would be essential for a competent presidential brain-trust.

The temptation is to feel sorry for Humphrey, victimized by decisions the past

'Yes' for fixed millage

For several years now, well meaning Clinton County school and county leaders have gone into battle—against each other instead of with the other—in an effort to get as much allocated tax millage as they need to run their unit of government.

The battleground is called the allocation board. Sometimes in the heat of passion over their own cause, a unit will begin tearing at the program of the other unit. The sad thing about the whole battle is that both sides—and they do wind up as "sides"—are right.

The basic problem is that the 15-mills which the allocation board must divide each year is simply not enough to operate county government and schools in this day and age. Next Tuesday Clinton County voters will have a chance to put an end to this annual battle and immediately save the approximately $1,000 it costs each year to hold the meetings.

A county proposal calls for an 18-mill limitation, including set figures each year of 6.50 mills for the county, 1.50 mills for townships, .30 mill for the intermediate school district, and 9.70 mills for the school districts.

While the 18 mills is higher than 15, it won't necessarily mean an increase in taxes. The schools, for instance, would get 1.983 mills more by allocation than they are now getting, but at the same time they would be able to reduce extra-voted millage by the same amount, resulting in no change in taxes. (This is, of course, figuring no increases in costs or educational programming.)

We urge a yes vote for this property tax limitation referendum. In addition to the above-listed advantages, it will also allow the various units to plan their budgets much farther in advance because they will know exactly how much allocated tax they'll have. That's a much more efficient way of running government than what we have now with the tax allocation board.

six years that precipitated unrest and unhappiness throughout the country — decisions that really weren't his.

The fact remains, that however innocent he may be, Humphrey represents the Democratic Party, and the party is in no shape to govern.

George Wallace must be regarded as a figure capitalizing more on emotion than tempered, calculated reasoning, who if elected would have virtually no representation in the congress. Wallace continues to tell the people what many want to hear. He's going to win an early peace in Viet Nam, one way or another. And if a demonstrator camps in front of Wallace's car he's going to be run over.

Those leaning to the former Alabama governor should not be deluded into believing there are simple or quick solutions to the many problems confronting the nation.

In addition, as political columnist Walter Lippman points out, if elected, Wallace "would be at a loss as to what to do next, not having the supporters or the program or the experienced men to form a genuine government."

In our judgment, America cannot afford such a lapse.

We believe Richard Nixon at this time offers that best hope for our future—realistically, the only hope.

Prosecutor comments on court

Dear Editor:

In reply to last week's article in this column, I wish to further comment upon how our new district court could affect our citizens. We first should clearly understand that neither candidate for the post of district court judge has anything to do with the creation of the position. This was a legislative enactment for all counties throughout our state. The new court is here Jan. 1, regardless of whom our citizens elect to be its first judge.

As was maintained in last week's article, it is impossible to make any promise or predictions of the number of magistrates or employees that can be hired for this new court. These are matters which must await not only election of the judge, but also the approval of our board of supervisors. As having been legal advisor for our board of supervisors since the creation of this new court, I know that these matters are unresolved and how hard our board has been considering the situation.

By the law creating this new court, it could develop in either of two directions. The easiest would be simply to establish a courtroom facility in St. Johns and have the public come to it. This could be implemented by mail payments of motor vehicle violation fines or by creation of traffic bureaus located at various populous locations of our county.

The second approach would be the same as above, but to further implement the system with one or perhaps even two magistrates in designated locations. This does not necessarily mean more than one magistrate, but it could mean more than one location for his services. Justice is not always served by requiring the people to come to the facility. Ask any police officer whether the inconvenience of justice could persuade him to look the other direction before spending countless hours having a drunken driver jailed, and then have to return in the morning to process his complaint and then await the prisoner's arraignment by the court. There is also the problem of travel for some unfortunate persons injured during the night if they must travel to St. Johns before justice can be put into motion. The magistrate's availability to our citizens where they live should not be overlooked for the pure convenience of running a courtroom facility. Otherwise, we are toying with obstruction of justice. This could occur if this same drunken driver is allowed to continue his travel to possibly

Moon-struck type lice

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Etaoin and Shrdlu, erst-while young type lice from the Clinton County News staff, were observed the other day in a mood of speculation. Curious, I crept behind the almost empty type case and listened to their conversation.

They were talking about colonizing the moon.

"Someday there will be printing plants on the moon," Etaoin was saying, "and unless we get up there soon and get a toe-hold, we may be in for some lean years ahead."

"That's probably true," Shrdlu replied, "but getting there is going to be another thing. They sterilize those spacecraft, and you know what that would do to you and me. Fzzzzzt."

"Yah, but there must be a way. Those guys that went up last week were printers. At least they were printing signs all the time to show on their TV transmissions. They must have had something to print with, and I'm sure it wouldn't be sterilized."

Etaoin then suggested they catch the next newspaper to Florida, and they could ride right into Cape Kennedy on a typographical error. Shrdlu still wasn't sold on the idea.

"TO TELL YOU the truth, I'm not too excited about riding that big Saturn. Don't you realize that with us aboard it could very well louse up and fall back in the ocean or blow up? Man, I'm all for the perpetuation of type lice and colonization of the moon by type lice, but I'm also for the preservation of type lice. I think the risk is too great."

"You sound like a lousy chickenheart," Etaoin said in a reminding tone of voice. "If all of us type lice were like you, we never would get to the moon, and then someday the printing industry would realize the moon is liceless and they'd move all their printing plants up there. Then we'd be left with empty type drawers."

Etaoin moved in closer to Shrdlu, and their conversation became so hushed I could hardly make out what they were saying. But having been long associated with type lice and very much aware of their M.O. (that's police jargon for "method of operation") I was able to piece together at least the gist of what they were talking about.

Etaoin did win the argument. They plan to hop this week's Clinton County News to one of our Florida subscribers and from there hitchhike on the local media to Cape Kennedy. When the next Apollo mission reaches the vicinity of the moon, they'll sabotage the printed instructions for the astronauts so that it will call for them to be jettisoned from the space craft in a small container which will circle the moon in a slowly disintegrating orbit.

The conservative Shrdlu even admitted that if he could survive the lift-off from earth he would be able to withstand the shallow-angle landing of their container on the moon. Since type lice are long-lived (Shrdlu was born with Gutenberg's first typographical error) and require only minute amounts of oxygen, they figure to hold out in their container until the first printing presses arrive on the moon.

THAT WASN'T ALL I heard Etaoin and Shrdlu talking about. This was the general plan, but they also went into detail on how they were going to accomplish entry to Cape Kennedy and to the Apollo moonship. They didn't know I was listening, and I wrote it all down for you guys down at the Cape.

First of all, they were going to rhyrt bt glosugb ablard s osdd nadhr sbf h shft tygrb dyrrk shblard ygr /soolki lb s vkuyonistf.

SHALL SECTION 7 OF ARTICLE IX OF THE STATE CONSTITUTION BE AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS: "AN INCOME TAX AT FLAT RATES OR GRADUATED AS TO RATE OR BASE MAY BE IMPOSED BY THE STATE OR ANY OF ITS SUBDIVISIONS?"

Times have been changing rapidly, particularly since the Michigan Constitution was adopted in 1963. Needs of the state and local governments have increased to the point that current taxing policies are being taxed to provide sufficient revenue. Higher property taxes are almost out of the question. The income tax is probably the most equitable way to raise money, and there is no tax. Right now Michigan has a flat-rate income tax, one that takes a set amount (currently 2.6 per cent, after deductions) of your total income. No matter how large your income, the tax remains at 2.6 per cent. As matters stand, the Michigan Legislature has the right to increase or decrease the 2.6 per cent levy on your income—but it must treat all taxpayers the same. It can't tax some Michigan residents at one rate, others at another. Proposal No. 1 would change that. It would allow the Legislature to set a sliding scale and take a larger percentage of what you make as your income goes up. Proposal No. 1 doesn't establish a graduated income tax; it merely empowers the Legislature to enact such a tax if it deems fit. We feel a "yes" vote should be given to this proposal. Our government, to be effective and efficient, must not be hamstrung. The answer to inefficiency in government pertains to another question, not this one.

PROPOSAL NO. 2

YES ☐ NO ☒

PUBLIC ACT 6 PROVIDES THAT MICHIGAN SHALL BE EXEMPTED FROM OBSERVING DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME. THE PURPOSE OF THIS REFERENDUM IS TO APPROVE OR REJECT THIS ACT. SHALL THE STATE OF MICHIGAN OBSERVE DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME?

We feel Michigan should be exempted from going on daylight savings time. Even on standard time, we are an hour ahead of most states to the south of us and so are normally on "fast time"; the daylight savings time act puts us two hours ahead of actual sun time. The six-month length of daylight savings time is also too long, for it delays sunrise in the late fall until after many school children have departed for classes. Throughout the summer it raises havoc with farmers' work schedules. As far as we're concerned, it doesn't do that much for city folks, either, that would make it worthwhile. We would recommend a "no" vote on Proposition 2.

PROPOSAL NO. 3

YES ☒ NO ☐

SHALL THE STATE OF MICHIGAN BORROW THE SUM OF $335,000,000.00 AND ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF THE STATE THEREFOR PLEDGING THE FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OF THE STATE FOR THE PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST THEREON FOR THE PURPOSE OF PLANNING, ACQUIRING AND CONSTRUCTING FACILITIES FOR THE PREVENTION AND ABATEMENT OF WATER POLLUTION AND FOR THE MAKING OF GRANTS, LOANS AND ADVANCES TO MUNICIPALITIES, POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS AND AGENCIES OF THE STATE FOR SUCH PURPOSES, THE METHOD OF PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS TO BE FROM THE GENERAL FUND OF THE STATE?

This is perhaps the most important of the five state proposals. Unless we are to stew in our own sewage, some organized and sustained effort must be made to battle pollution. Michigan's lakes and streams are already dirty and getting dirtier. Because the bond issue and work program can probably be accomplished without either new or higher taxes, the problem narrows down to voter acceptance at the polls. The proposed program is simple and yet comprehensive. All of the $335 million for clean water would be dispersed to local units of government to provide 210 new water treatment plants for communities throughout Michigan; improvements to 126 existing water treatment plants; and sewers and pipelines for 3 1/2 million residents of the state where pollution is now serious and becoming worse. Coupled with local and federal funds, the money could do wonders. Vote "yes."

PROPOSAL NO. 4

YES ☒ NO ☐

SHALL THE STATE OF MICHIGAN BORROW THE SUM OF $100,000,000.00 AND ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF THE STATE THEREFOR PLEDGING THE FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OF THE STATE FOR THE PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST THEREON FOR PUBLIC RECREATIONAL FACILITIES AND PROGRAMS CONSISTING OF LAND ACQUISITION AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF PARKS, FOREST AND WILDLIFE AREA, FISHERIES AND OTHER FACILITIES USED OR USEFUL FOR PUBLIC RECREATIONAL PURPOSES AND FOR THE MAKING OF GRANTS, LOANS AND ADVANCES TO POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS AND AGENCIES OF THE STATE FOR SUCH RECREATIONAL FACILITIES AND PROGRAMS CONSISTING OF LAND ACQUISITION AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF SAID BONDS TO BE FROM THE GENERAL FUND OF THE STATE?

This proposal is closely related to Proposal 3, and it, too, deserves a "yes" vote. Our cities are bursting at the seams and the population in general is growing at a rate that makes our existing recreational facilities far short of adequate. This $100 million would again be teamed with local and federal funds to provide a total of $155 million that can be spent for much-needed parks, playgrounds and recreation centers for local units of government, and for state fisheries, state parks, wildlife programs and forest recreation programs. Michigan needs this desperately, not only for our own people but for the millions of tourists who bring millions of dollars in spending money into our state. Vote yes.

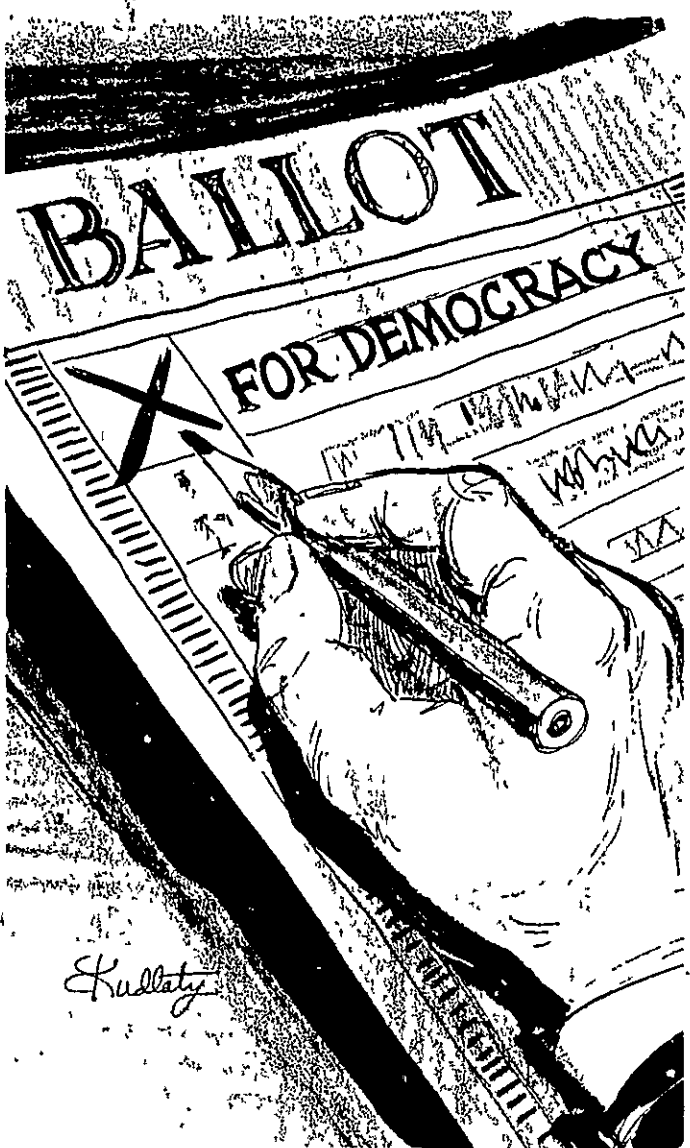

PROPOSAL NO. 5

YES ☐ NO ☒

SECTION 9 OF ARTICLE IV OF THE STATE CONSTITUTION NOW PROHIBITS THE ELECTION AS WELL AS THE APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE DURING THEIR TERM OF OFFICE TO ANOTHER STATE OFFICE. SHALL THIS SECTION BE AMENDED TO PERMIT THEIR ELECTION TO ANOTHER OFFICE?

We can see no advantage to the electorate for this permission to be granted. There are probably instances where one person could handle the two duties efficiently and without any danger of conflict of interest. We're sure such office holders would be watched constantly with raised eyebrows. There are enough qualified people, in most cases, that it would be unnecessary—and we feel unwise—to allow one person to handle two elective jobs at the same time. What with all the talk and fear of a more and more centralized government, this would seem to be one more, though tiny, step in the direction, and we don't like it. Our vote on Proposition 5 would be negative.

"Low Down"
FROM THE
Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

ALASKA MIGHT ELECT
THE NEXT PRESIDENT

This is not a political column. It's some unsolicited and accurately condensed remarks by Rep. Donald G. Brotzman (Colo.) regarding the possibility of a Nov. 5 election foul-up.

"The 1968 presidential election could be thrown into the House if one of the major political contenders fails to achieve a majority of the 270 votes in the electoral college. In such a case, the Members of the House would be asked to choose the President from the top three candidates on the electoral college's list of nominees.

"Congress is not at liberty to go outside this group of nominees in selecting a President.

"As far as the procedure is concerned, the vote for President in the House is taken as follows:

"Each State is given only one vote. Shall States with only one Representative — Alaska, Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, and Wyoming — have a vote equal to that of the most populous States, such as New York with 41 House Members. Therefore, a majority of each State's House delegation would determine the State's vote. A majority of 50 States, or 26 votes, is needed to elect a President.

"If a particular congressional delegation of a State has both Democratic and Republican Members and if the delegations are tied or otherwise cannot agree, then the State is not counted in the balloting for the President.

"How could the congressional election on November 5 affect a presidential contest in the House in January?

"To begin with the new Congress, elected on November 5 and taking office on January 6, 1969, will decide the outcome of the 1968 presidential election if it is thrown into the House of Representatives.

"One can see... that if the presidential election is thrown into the House, the Congressional election on November 5 would have a profound impact on the final selection of the President.

"For example, if Hubert Humphrey finished in either second or third place in electoral votes in November, as current public-opinion polls tend to indicate, and if the Democrats retained control of congressional delegations in 26 States or more, then the Democrats could elect Mr. Humphrey as the next President without regard to size of either his popular or electoral vote.

"As a final note, one must add that if the House failed to agree on a President by January 20, the date stipulated in the Constitution for the term of office to begin, then the Vice President, which is chosen by a majority in the Senate, would become "Acting President," serving until such time as either the House or Senate could decide on who should be the President or Vice-President."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

If you're confused, you're not alone. Read it again, it might help.

The situation would no doubt be resolved without contention, so why borrow trouble. But — Don't forget to vote. — J.C.

Time change

It's up to us to vote again,
So voters please take note again,
'N cast your lot;
They're tinkering with clocks again,
To boom more play-time stocks again,
We're on the spot!

E'en Eastern Standard time again,
With darkness most to noon again,
Seems not enough;
Startin' school while vet it's night again,
'Fer youngsters don't seem right again,
They play it rough!

We've outlawed old Sun time again,
It makes no reason or rhyme again,
This clock go-go!
Why can't we all be sane again?
Not kid ourselves in vain again?
I'd like to know?

A loud emphatic NO again,
Is needed to forego again,
This souped-up time;
So fall not friend, to vote again,
Or you will be the goat again,
First class n' prime!

kill someone or if the assailant's dispute is continued until more serious consequences occur.

Our new district court will require the judge to be in St. Johns, but it does not confine the magistrate to the county seat. The position of magistrate was created to assist the district judge, but this does not mean that he must sit on his lap. If the magistrate had regular quarters closer to the people, then we could accomplish putting justice closer to them and closer to our law enforcement officials who cannot be overlooked. This is a matter of placing a convenience where it will do the most good.

This should not be interpreted as saying that we need numerous magistrates or that we should go back to the justice of the peace system. This is merely to emphasize that some of the good features of the justice of the peace system were for too long taken for granted and only the lesser desired attributes continually argued against. Unless our new district court is made workable for the people, our attorneys and our police officers who will require its use daily, then it will not be very long before the very persons knocking the old system will be crying the loudest of how much better off we were before the new court system.

St. Johns will be adequately covered by the mere presence of the court and its judge in St. Johns where it is established by law. It does not necessarily follow that the communities outside of St. Johns will be pleased with the new court if it results in more lax law enforcement. By having closed access to the magistrate for purposes of making complaints and for the issuance of warrants, some of these problems for the outlying communities could be alleviated or lessened as much as possible within the framework of the law creating the new court.

Respectfully submitted,

OK enlargement of base rate area

OVID — The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized General Telephone Co. of Michigan to enlarge the base rate (flat rate) area of its Ovid exchange in Clinton County.

The company plans to add two and three-quarter square miles on the north and west sides of the present base rate area which will bring 63 customers into the flat rate calling area where urban telephone service will be available without mileage charges.

OLD NORTH OLIVE METHODIST CHURCH

Carl Hammond, former St. Johns oil dealer who now lives at 17 Pearl Street in Zephyrhills, Fla., brought in this old picture of the former North Olive Methodist Church, taken on May 5, 1918, by the late John Knight. The church was located on the northeast corner of US-27 and Price Road, where the Richard Stewart home is now. The picture looks north toward the church, with horse and carriage barns for the churchgoers strung out in the background. Hammond remembers there were pot-bellied stoves in each of the front corners of the interior of the church, and the organ was located on the left at the back end of the church.

Annual Statistical and Financial Report
ST. JOHNS PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF CLINTON AND GRATIOT COUNTIES, MICHIGAN

The 1967-68 school year was again a period of growth for the St. Johns Public schools. The enrollment increased from 3464 students in 1966-67 to 3647 for 1967-68. This represented a gain of 183 students, which resulted in much overcrowding.

During the year construction on four new Elementary schools was completed allowing them to be occupied as of the opening of school in September 1968.

In November 1967 a Bond Election to raise $250,000 to complete the furnishing of these schools was defeated by a 2-1 ratio.

On March 23, 1968, an election was held to increase the voted operating millage for one year from 4.5 mills to 12.8 mills. The election failed by 44 votes. On June 10th the same proposal carried.

For the year of 1967-68 the schools were operated with a tax levy of 8.2 mills allocated, 4.5 mills voted and 7 mills was levied for retirement of debt. This resulted in a total tax rate for schools of 19.7 mills, one of the lowest rates in Michigan.

The 1967-68 year started with an operating deficit of $32,525 and ended with a deficit of $87,532, for an in-year operating deficit of $55,007.

Fourteen members of the Bannister Women's Society of Christian Service attended Thursday afternoon services of Call to Prayer and Self Denial at the Ashley United Methodist Church. Mrs Lydia Peters of Ashley was in charge of the program. The worship service was "Christ the Giver of Life." Mrs Peters was assisted by members of the Ashley WSCS. They told of the various schools and urban ministries which the offering of the day would help. The 1969 Call to Prayer service will be held in Bannister.

The Annual United Nations Family night was observed Thursday evening at the Bannister United Methodist Church. Mrs Thomas Moore was in charge of the program. Mr and Mrs Charles Hazle and family of St. Johns showed pictures and told of their trip to Michigan's sister country, British Honduras. This summer, the Hazles joined a group of St. Johns area residents from the Pilgrim United Methodist Church and traveled by bus and travel trailer to British Honduras. The group spent seven days touring the country and meeting and working with its citizens. Following the program, a dessert lunch consisting of many foreign delicacies was served.

Mr and Mrs Ray Canfield and Miss Bethel Kelsey attended dedication services of the Family Altar of the Air Chapel at Battle Creek Sunday afternoon. Miss Vicki Valentine, Gloria Swanson, Matthew Peck and UMYF counselor Mrs Ray Peck attended the Fall Rally at Carson City United Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. There were approximately 160 youth and counselors in attendance.

The Bannister United Methodist Youth are planning to serve an election eve supper to the public Nov. 5 starting at 5:30 p.m. The meal will feature escalloped potatoes and meat loaf. A free will offering will be taken.

Mr and Mrs Alex Dunay attended installation services at Ashley Chapter 86 Tuesday evening. Mrs Dunay was the guest installing chaplain. Mrs Alex Dunay, Grand Representative to Oregon, attended the St. Louis installation services Wednesday evening.
