The building will front on Sickles Street, with the circular clusters pointing toward Lansing Street.

THE SCHOOL BOARD next Wednesday will also take bids on the sale of two rural one-room schools which have been abandoned.

Local, Senate races sharpen election interest

Local races in St. Johns and DeWitt Township and the statewide competition for U. S. senator are expected to spur voter interest at the polls in next Tuesday's general election.

But there's lots of other excitement on the ballots, too.

Besides races for all state-wide offices and for mayor and council seats in the City of DeWitt, there are several proposals for voters to decide on.

THE FIVE-WAY race for the two city commission seats in St. Johns is drawing the most pre-election comment from city voters.

St. Johns voters will also decide yes or no on a proposed charter amendment resolution that would authorize the city commission to prescribe the salaries of commissioners.

DEWITT TOWNSHIP has a two-party race—and it looks like a close one—for supervisor, clerk, treasurer and trustees.

At the morning worship service seven new members will be received into the church.

Plans for the new addition to the church were announced in September 1965, but work was not started until this past March.

State-wide, the big-interest race is for U. S. senator. Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams is the Democratic candidate, and Robert P. Griffin, presently filling the Senate seat by appointment, is the Republican candidate.

IN THE SENATE race, voters will cast ballots for both a full term and to fill the vacancy created by the death of Sen. Pat McNamara last summer.

Democrat Paul H. Todd Jr., the incumbent, and Republican Garry Brown, the challenger, are expected to have a close race in their attempt at election to the 3rd District seat in the U. S. House of Representatives.

Closer to home, a stiff fight

We'll burn the candles!

The candles will burn into the wee hours of the night next Tuesday as the Clinton County News staff works late to compile the results of the election in Clinton County.

GEORGE LIBEY

Name new bridge for Libey

The new $140,000 bridge over the Maple River west of Elsie was to be formally dedicated Wednesday afternoon and named after a retiring member of the board of road commissioners.

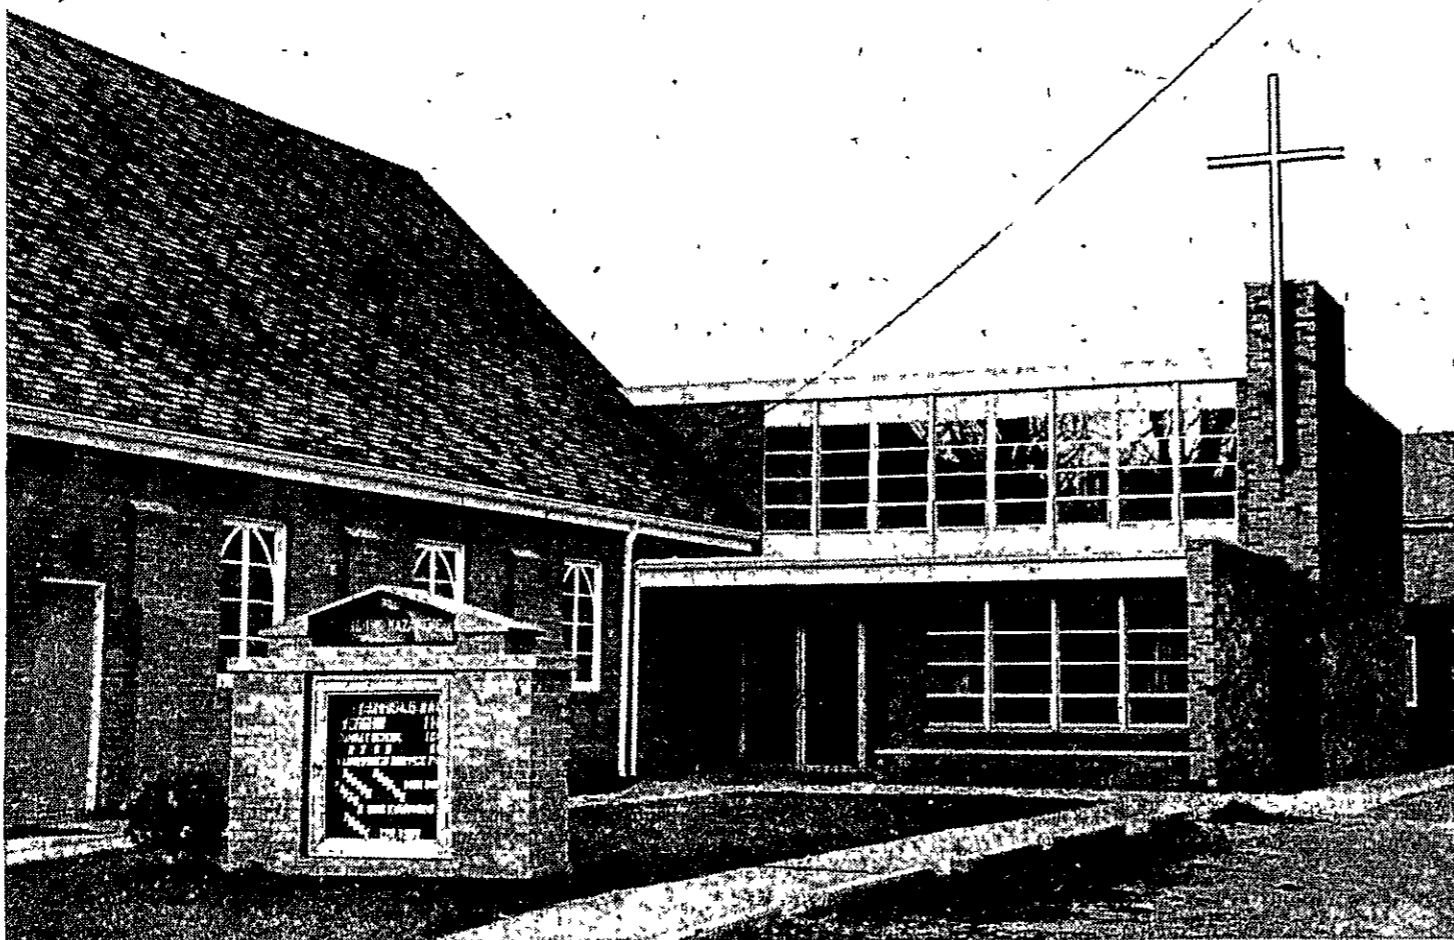

The bridge will be named the George Libey Bridge. Libey, of Elsie, has been a member of the road commission board for 18 years; he will retire in January when his current term on the board expires.

The dedication was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. and was to include a formal ribbon-cutting ceremony in the presence of township and county officials.

PAUL NOBIS, chairman of the road commission, will preside. On hand will be the bridge engineer, representatives of the contractor and other road commission officials.

The new bridge, which straightens out Island Road west of Elsie and eliminates several bad curves, has been open for several weeks. It replaces an old bridge which will now be abandoned.

Nazarenes to dedicate new $47,000 addition Sunday

Six of the seven former pastors of the Church of the Nazarene in St. Johns will attend the formal dedication this Sunday of the church's new $47,000 addition.

The building, in use for about a month, is receiving the final touches of workmen this week in preparation for the dedication.

The new addition to the church at 515 N. Lansing Street was started in March of this year.

IN ADDITION, three existing classrooms were remodeled and painted, and a balcony overlooking the sanctuary is being completed.

New carpeting and drapes were to be put in this week in one of the final phases of the construction project.

The church has also purchased three lots—one containing a house—across Giles Street north of the church. The house is being remodeled and painted and will be rented. The other lots will be made into parking space that will accommodate about 30 cars for parking for church-goers.

REV ELDON Raymond, pastor of the church now, said rent received on the house is expected to make the payments on the three lots. Members of the church have been volunteering their time and effort in fixing up the house at 609 N. Lansing Street.

Average attendance at Sunday school in recent weeks has been 105, Rev Mr Raymond said, and the extra parking space provided in the two lots is badly needed.

THE CHURCH of the Nazarene was organized in St. Johns in 1929, with the Rev Claude Jenks, now of Lansing, as its first pastor.

Merchant Boron dies at 94

Edward F. Boron, St. Johns' oldest active businessman, died last Wednesday evening at Clinton Memorial Hospital following a short illness. He was 94 years old.

Mr Boron was the founder and owner of the E. F. Boron Co., household accessories store now located at 122 N. Clinton Avenue. The business was founded in 1923.

Mr Boron had been in good health until a short time ago and had continued to take an active part in the business despite his 94 years. Not content to sit behind the desk, he sold, cut linoleum and carried packages.

Mr Boron served as mayor of St. Johns in 1908 and also was on the St. Johns school board at one time. He was one of the members of the building committee which helped plan the present St. Joseph Catholic Church.

EDWARD BORON

HE ENTERED THE St. Johns business world in 1880 when he started on a three-year term of work for the late C. A. Putt as a grocery clerk. Then he spent six years in a dry goods store owned by the late John Hicks.

George Chapman then offered Mr Boron a spot with his dry goods firm, and he was placed in charge of the carpet department. (See BORON, Page 2-A)

FIRE DESTROYS RURAL HOME

St. Johns and Fowler fireman battled together last Tuesday night to stop a fire which burned its way through the Rex Ward home on Essex Center Road north of Colony. Mr and Mrs Ward led their three children, who had been sleeping upstairs, out of the burning home before fire units arrived. An over-heated furnace is suspected as the cause. The house was "pretty well ruined," firemen said.

TWO TOWNSHIPS have proposals for voters to decide on. DeWitt Township is asking for an increase in the millage limitation by one mill—up to 15 mills—for the years 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1970 for the purpose of repairing, maintaining and replacing fire apparatus and equipment and for the operation of a police department.

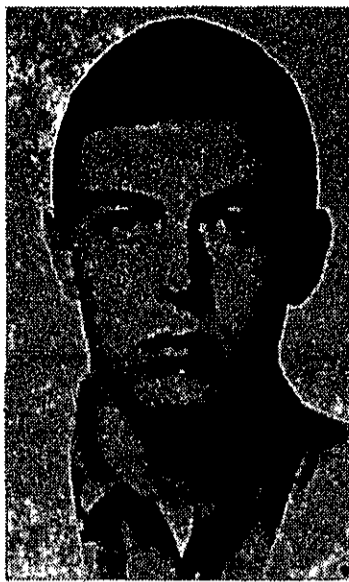

Watertown Township voters will act for the second time on a proposal to make Watertown a charter township. The proposal lost over a year ago in an extremely light vote.

A STATE-WIDE issue on the ballot next Tuesday asks for an amendment to the State constitution lowering the voting minimum voting age from 21 years to 18 years. Voters will be asked to vote yes or no.

Polls around the county will be open next Tuesday from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

2 new exchange students arriving

GUILLERMO LESSER

Two more foreign exchange students are this week joining the two now residing in the St. Johns School District and attending school here.

Arriving Wednesday at Metropolitan Airport in Detroit were Maria DeLourdes Inez Marina Witt, 13, and Guillermo Lesser, 17, both of Mexico.

They'll be here on a two-month program of the Youth for Understanding, a teenage exchange student plan. They will return to Mexico about Dec. 28.

MISS WITT WILL reside with the George McQueen family at 1802 E. Maple Rapids Road and will be in the eighth grade at St. Joseph Catholic School. She is from Tapachula, Chiapas, Mexico, a city of 41,700 people near the Guatemalan border.

Lesser is from Mexico City. He'll be staying with the Frederick M. Lewis family at 506 E. Walker Street.

Miss Witt's father in Mexico is a special official on the board of directors of the Bank of Commerce in Tapachula, and her whole family is banking oriented. Maria is interested in a psychology career, according to her introductory letter to the McQueens.

SHE LIKES BALLET and regional dancing and has a number of diplomas to attest to those talents. For spare-time enjoyment, she likes walking, group projects, reading, cooking, studying and dancing. She is learning English and also likes German and French.

Maria's family here consists of Mr and Mrs McQueen; Diana, 18 (an MSU student); Sandra, 16, a junior at Rodney B. Wilson High School; Teri, 15, a sophomore; Jim, 13, an eighth grader at St. Joseph; and Lori, 12, a seventh grader.

LESSER'S FAMILY here includes Mr and Mrs Lewis and their children, Jerry, 17, Maureen, 13, and Nancy, 11.

He likes cars and plays the guitar, drums and piano. His father and uncle are both engineers, and Lesser said in his letter to the Lewises that he wants to study for an engineering career.

He likes athletics and is on his school's hockey team; he also likes football and swimming. He has been in Boy Scouting in Mexico City. He has four brothers, and two sisters at home.

THE MEXICAN exchange program of Youth for Understanding is one of four programs which affect students and residents of St. Johns. Under this particular program, students from Mexico spend about two months here.

Other Youth for Understanding programs include a full year plan in which students from other countries stay with a family in the U.S. (Mali Schreiber of Germany and Mikael Ask of Sweden are here now); a six-month program in which South American students come to the U.S. about the first of each year (St. Johns has a bid in for one student under this plan); and a summer program in which local youngsters spend time overseas (five girls from St. Johns were in Germany, Sweden, Mexico and Finland this past summer.)

ment. He spent 20 years with the Chapman firm before the desire for his own business took him over.

In 1923, Mr Boron opened his first store over the old D & C Store at the corner of Clinton and Walker. In 1946 he took in his son-in-law, Robert Conn, as a partner in the business, and in 1955 they moved to the present location. A remodeling of the front of the building was undertaken last year.

MR BORON WAS BORN Dec. 15, 1871, in Olive Township, the son of Louis and Celestine Brya Boron. He attended country schools but lived most of his life in St. Johns. His home was at 207 W. McConnell, but he lived the past three years at the home of his daughter, Mrs Robert Conn at 204 Wight Street.

He married Dela Henderson in 1895; she died in 1915. He later married Kathryn Fay on Aug. 7, 1917. She died in 1963. Mr Boron was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, the St. Johns Rotary Club, Knights of Columbus and St. Vincent's DePaul.

SURVIVING ARE one daughter, Mrs Frances Conn, two grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Joseph Catholic Church, with burial in Mt. Rest Cemetery. The Rosary was recited Friday evening at the Osgood Funeral Home.

Mali Schreiber of Germany and Mikael Ask of Sweden (at center of table) informally chatted with members of the local Youth for Understanding Committee Friday at a luncheon at Daley's Restaurant. On the left is the Rev Gerald Churchill, a member of the committee; farthest from the camera is Mrs John Hoffman of Grand Rapids, area representative for Youth for Understanding.

Youth for Understanding committee here organizes

Mrs George McQueen has been elected chairman of the St. Johns Youth for Understanding committee which organized last Friday for a new year of exchange student activity.

The chairmanship has been held for the past year and a half by the Rev Gerald Churchill of the First Congregational Church.

Albert LaFevere was named secretary of the committee, with Lowell Rinker as publicity and program chairman and John Briganti as host family chairman.

OTHER MEMBERS of the committee are Mrs George Osgood, B. Stanley Pocus, Rev Mr Churchill, Dale Robinson, Charles Huntington, Dick Rutter and Mrs George Osgood.

The committee set a deadline of April 1, 1967, for receipt of applications from families who would like to host a foreign exchange student during the next school year (1967-68). An open meeting will be held sometime in March at which time Mrs John Hoffman of Grand Rapids, an area representative of Youth for Understanding, will speak and answer questions about the responsibilities of host families.

Briganti, a teacher at St. Joseph School, or Mrs Osgood will also meet with prospective host families.

THE EXCHANGE students in St. Johns now, as well as local students who have been overseas on the Youth for Understanding program are often available for speaking engagements, and committee member Rinker will coordinate this phase of the local program. Requests for a student speaker should be channeled through him at 303 S. Traver Street.

Three local high school students have already taken out application forms for representing this community and the United States abroad next summer. No action has been taken by the committee, and there is still plenty of time to apply. The committee emphasized that all students going overseas on the exchange program are really ambassadors of this country and the object of the exchange program is to better understanding between the U.S. and other nations. ATTENDING LAST Friday's organizational meeting of the local Youth for Understanding Committee were the two foreign exchange students living in the St. Johns community. They are Mali Schreiber of Germany, staying with the Raymond Parr family, and Mikael Ask of Sweden, staying with the Roy Davis family.

Audit shows city $42,956 'in black' for past year

The City of St. Johns has received a report from its auditing firm covering the fiscal year 1965-1966, and the report will be formally presented to the city commission at its first meeting in December.

Young Republicans plan potluck

Five members of the executive board of the Clinton County Young Republicans met last Thursday evening and made new plans for a potluck supper Nov. 12 at the Central National Bank Community Room.

A speaker will be named later. Persons attending the dinner are asked to bring their own table service and a dish to pass. Members of the executive committee present at the meeting last Thursday were Chairman Bernard Cain, Miggle Hall, Bob Purtil, Larry Cobb and Nell Hall.

The preliminary report issued Tuesday shows total revenues during that fiscal year of $585,137.77 and expenditures of $542,181.26, leaving an excess of $42,956.51.

CITY MANAGER Ken Greer pointed out that the total general fund expenses for the year were only $1,982.52 greater than had been budgeted and only $6,412.55 more than during the previous fiscal year.

Greer noted that having an excess of revenue over the expenses within the general fund reversed a pattern that had been developing over the past few years wherein the general fund spent more than it had received in revenue. Last fiscal year (1964-65) the general fund spent $61,912.74 more than it took in for the year and the year before spent some $35,593.36 more; and for the fiscal year of 1962-63 the general fund spent $3,563.58 more than it took in.

Greer pointed out the administrative services of the City have been in the process of modernizing the record-keeping procedures of the city. The legislative body of the city is in the position of now being able to tell what its general fund balances are at any time. "With this improved budget information the city should be able to watch its expenses much closer than it has in the past," Greer said.

Jury finds Griffith guilty

Charles D. Griffith, 33, of Lansing was found guilty Thursday of manslaughter in the fatal beating of his infant daughter in February 1964.

A jury of six men and six women returned the guilty verdict at 2:10 p.m. last Thursday after two hours and 40 minutes of deliberation.

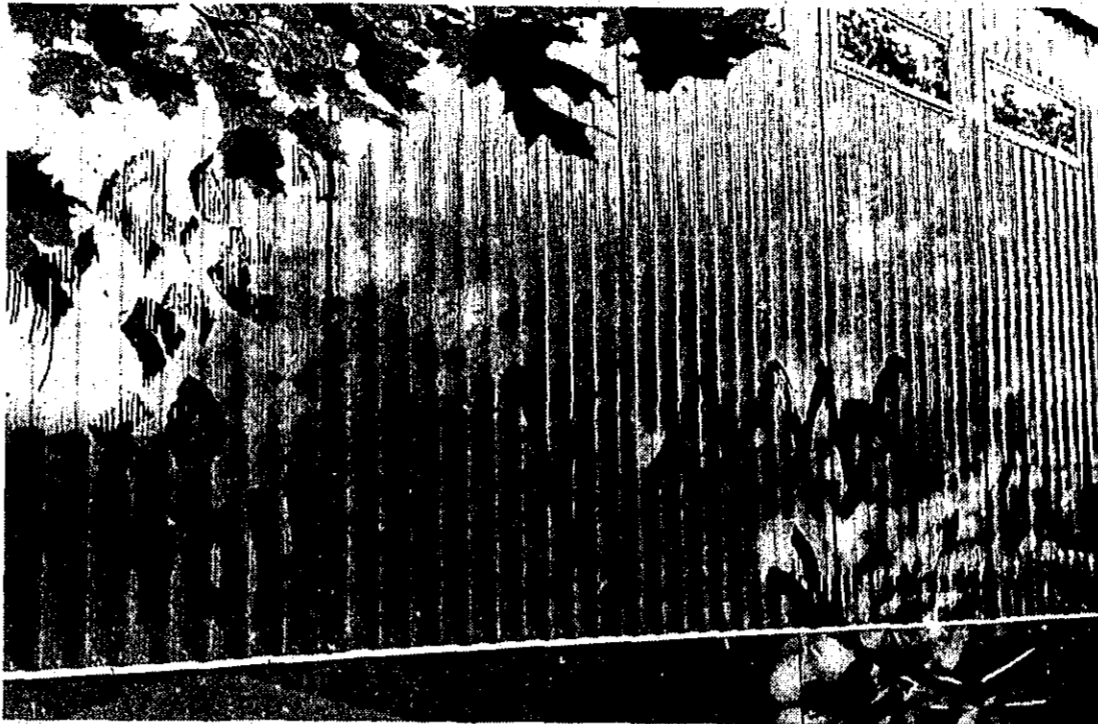

The trial, in Clinton County Circuit Court, lasted two days. No witnesses for the defense were called by Griffith's court-appointed attorney, James Moore.

GRIFFITH WAS charged with beating his 2-month-old daughter, Winona Renee, when she wouldn't stop crying while the Griffith family was visiting relatives in DeWitt Feb. 26, 1964. The child died three days later.

Griffith's wife, Bonnie, appeared for the prosecution on Wednesday. She testified she had left the child with her husband, and found her badly beaten when she returned.

Griffith will be sentenced by Judge Leo Corkin on Nov. 14.

JURORS IN THE trial last week were George Abbott Sr., of Maple Rapids; Mabel Bayeula of DeWitt; Beatrice Bozong of Hubbardston; Hubert M. Hilton of Ovid; Lenore Howe of Eagle; Donald Lucas of Fowler; Jessie McPadden of Laingsburg; Marie Northrup of DeWitt; Julius M. Pohl of Westphalia; Dewey Teal of St. Johns; Bernard Walker of St. Johns and Bernice Wohlfert of DeWitt.

Road Commission Weekly Report

Our first duty this week is to point out to the Clinton County News that the dangerous curve on Meridian Road has not been overlooked. Plans for re-location have been made. This project is one of many planned to be done under the new Highway Safety Program. Priority for these improvements was based on the 1964-1965 accident record, and this curve had two reported accidents in the two years.

The Board of Clinton County Road Commission will hold two meetings this week. The regular meeting will be on Thursday when bids will be opened for the November and December gasoline requirements and for the removal of 1,400 dead trees along Clinton County primary roads. Decisions are yet to be made on bids received in previous meetings for an air compressor, an asphalt distributor and a motor grader.

THE SPECIAL meeting this week was held Monday for the purpose of opening labor negotiations for the 1967 working agreement with Local 794 of AFSCME. Present at this meeting were the three road commissioners, engineer and clerk, the attorney for the commission, Russell Lawler, and the newly-appointed commissioner, Roy Davis, and Derrill Shinabery, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Present from the union were, Bruce Pifer, president; Roy Harger, vice president; Walter Wager, secretary; R. G. Bandt, treasurer; Robert Chittenden, president of council 55; and R. Rozatto, executive board member.

Negotiations opened with general statements and then the group started through the proposed new contract section by section. Many areas of agreement were found, and much progress was made. The meeting was entirely amicable and was adjourned at 5:30 p.m. following an agreement to meet again Nov. 9.

Co-op nurseries plan meeting at Albion

The Central Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries will hold a dinner meeting at Belle Monte Manor in Albion Nov. 9 at 6:30 p.m. Representatives of 24 cooperative nursery schools from Clinton, Ingham, Jackson, Branch, Eaton, Calhoun and Livingston counties are expected to attend. Among them will be members of the Jack and Jill Cooperative Nursery in St. Johns.

The speaker will be Betty Glick, director of home management and child development nursery schools at Michigan State University. Her topic, "V.L.P.'s in a Co-op—Very Important Parents" is of special interest to all parents participating in a cooperative nursery program.

Youth Agent John Aylsworth showed color slides on the future of crop production in Michigan. He also presented a slide-tape program on nursery production in Michigan by 1980. The slides and tape pointed out that nursery science might interest a lot of rural boys who were not interested in strictly farming.

Aylsworth said Friday the results of the Exchange Club-sponsored crop show may bring about some revisions for the 4-H crops project next year. "We may even have some live crop exhibits at the fair," he said, "with these to be graded on the condition of the stalks."

Halloween quiet in St. Johns

Halloween was relatively calm in St. Johns and Clinton County Monday night. Law enforcement officers gave a sigh of relief.

There were no major incidents, although someone did set fire to shrubbery around the swimming pool at the St. Johns City Park early in the evening. That was put out quickly by firemen.

Out in the county, sheriff's officers were called out several times to the old Fred Barber home on Jason Road in Victor Township where teenagers were wandering through and further ransacking it.

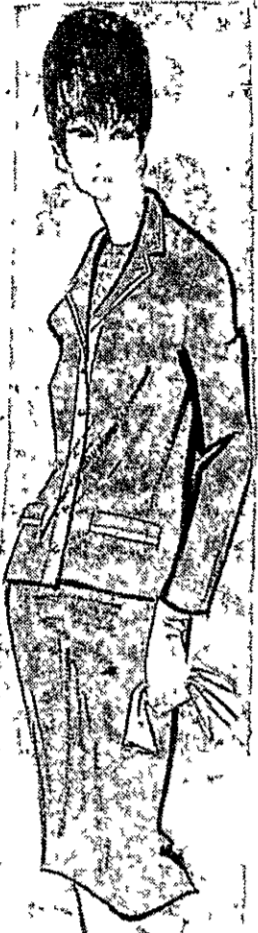

THERE WERE numerous incidents of pumpkins being smashed on lawns and streets, and several persons reported their houses were bombarded by eggs. There were several broken windows.

The schools in the central Clinton area reported no disturbance to property.

The St. Johns Fire Department, besides answering the hedge fire call at the park, was called out for a grass fire on the BenSwanchara farm off Williams Road in Bingham Township.

23 exhibit at 4-H crop show

Twenty-three exhibits of grain and crop science scrapbooks were shown at last Thursday night's 4-H Crop Show sponsored by the St. Johns Exchange Club.

Some 60 participants, fathers, 4-H club leaders and Exchange members were on hand for the evening dinner and program at the First Methodist Church in St. Johns. It was the best turnout in several years, according to William Smith, chairman of the project for the Exchange Club.

The grain exhibits were graded by George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent. "A" gradings were given to David Waltz for white beans; Kam Washburn for red kidney beans; Christine Kissane for shelled corn; Jack Woodhams for a spearmint exhibit; and Larry Blizzard and Randall Locher for ear corn exhibits; and John Dunham, Mark Simon, Bruce Harden and Charles Walker for ear corn exhibits.

"B" GRADING RIBBONS were given to Gary Greenfield, Scott Helbeck, Brent Law, Patrick Hilley and David Schwark for corn exhibits; Charles Walker for navy beans; Bruce Harden for soybeans. David Schwark got a "C" grading ribbon for his navy bean exhibit.

McQueen commented later during the evening's program that the exhibits were better and more in number this year than in the past. McQueen spoke about the quality and answered questions about individual exhibits.

Crop science scrapbooks were exhibited by Dick Cuthbert, Donald Cuthbert, Charles Faivor and Tom Faivor; the scrapbooks were not graded.

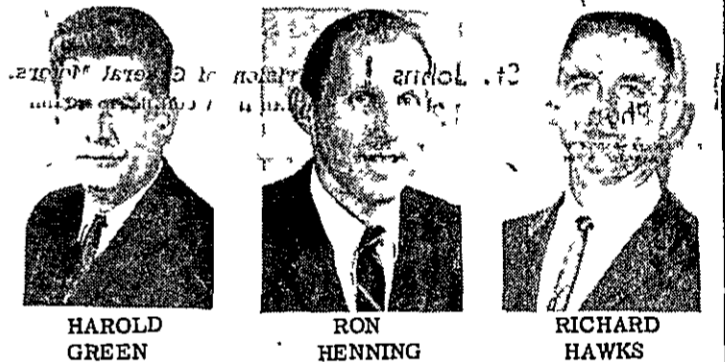

DURING THE PROGRAM of the evening, Donald Cuthbert gave an illustrated talk on ingredients of fertilizer, and 4-H

Woman's Club district meet draws 8 from here

Eight members of the St. Johns Woman's Club attended the district convention in the First Methodist Church at Greenville last Thursday.

Mrs. Marion Sagerdorf officiated at the all-day meeting with the general business in the forenoon and department workshops following lunch.

The speaker at the luncheon was Mrs. Robert Griffin, who spoke on "A Woman's Role in Civic Affairs." "Choose a party and give it your support," she told the club women. "If you have intellect and the practical application of politics, you are selfish in not sharing your knowledge."

PRIOR TO THE MESSAGE of the state president, Mrs. C. L. Rose, the delegation from St. Johns presented the candle lighting and re-dedication service which was written for their recent 75th anniversary celebration. A request was made to send a copy of the service to the president of the General Federation, Mrs. E. D. Pearce.

A tour of the Montclair Art Gallery, was enjoyed by the delegates.

The evening banquet attended by 125 men and women of the West Central District, heard David M. Mollthrop, community education consultant, National Small Business Assn., Washington, D. C.

His subject was "What YOU Can Do For A Better America." His plea was for the support of club women in investigating all candidates to distinguish between the politician and the statesman; the influence of labor bosses; the pros and cons of all bills; and a good look at "something for nothing programs" that our children will be contributing $40,000 in his lifetime to realize but $200 a month.

THE PAYROLL deduction plan has provided this painless method of taking from each wage earner to finance these billions of dollars in projects; but to find the nation in debt more than the total debts of all other nations combined, Mollthrop said.

"Do something for America; history records a lifetime of a nation to be 200 years. We are 190 years old."

The local contributors to the arts and crafts exhibit were Mrs. Doris Anderson and Mrs. Joseph Spusta.

Attending from the St. Johns Woman's Club were Mrs. Harold Millman, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. John Warstler, Mrs. Manning Bross, Mrs. George Brooks, Mrs. Kenneth Jones, Mrs. Van Hoag and Mrs. John Rumbaugh.

Teach new rules of sewing Nov. 15

Technology has taken over in the world of home sewing. No longer do "stereotyped rules" of yesterday hold true. For instance, a few years ago we (with a few exceptions) placed a pattern on the lengthwise grain of the fabric we were about to sew into a garment. Today with such innovations as permanent press and others, there are many times we should place the pattern on the crosswise grain! This means a goodly number of our old rules need to be "unlearned" or adapted.

To help home sewers readjust some of their ideas about the how and the why of garment construction a meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 15, 1 to 3:30 p.m. in Smith Hall, St. Johns. All Extension Home Economics-Family Living group project leaders will attend so they may instruct their members in the lesson Sewing: A New Perspective. 4-H Clothing - Knitting leaders will find the study useful to them in helping 4-H Club members in their projects. Other home sewers will find answers to some of their family clothing questions.

The same topic will be discussed Nov. 6, 1 to 3:30 p.m. in the Alma Community Center, Court Street, Alma and Nov. 9 the same hours in the Casino in Corunna. The Casino is located in the McCurdy Park. Women may attend the location that is most convenient.

Bath stumbles, but manages tie to keep title hopes alive

By LOWELL G. RINKER

BATH—The Bath Bees stumbled Friday night in their neck and neck race with Fowler for the Central Michigan Athletic Conference title. But they didn't fall.

Portland St. Patrick's came from behind to tie the Bees 20-20, but the result merely denied, and didn't seriously damage Bath's chances for the football title.

Bath will meet Fowler this Friday night and the winner will be the outright league champion. Neither team has yet lost a conference game, although Fowler has now won six and Bath five.

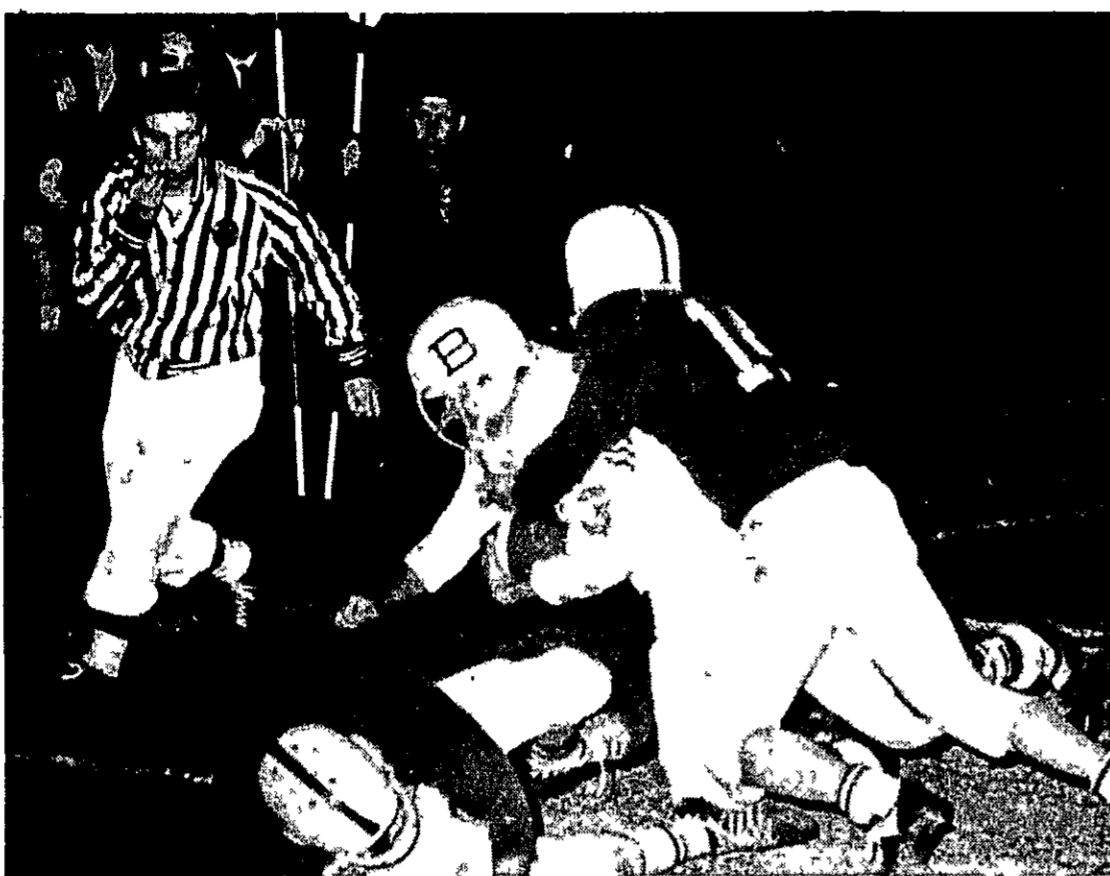

BUT THIS IS where last Friday night's deadlock with St. Patrick's could prove costly to Bath: If Bath and Fowler should tie this week, Fowler would own the league title on the basis of the most victories.

St. Patrick's trailed Bath 20-7 Friday night before rallying, and they got the tying touchdown with only about one minute left in the game. It came at the end of a 47-yard drive after they recovered a Bath fumble.

But the extra point kick of Russ Lennaman was wide and it preserved Bath's tie and title chances.

While most of the excitement came in the final minutes of the game, most of the scoring was done in the first half, which was a real slam-bang affair.

BATH TOOK THE opening kickoff and picked up two quick first downs—the second on a 14-yard run by quarterback Mike Tucker. That took the ball to the St. Patrick's 35, but a penalty and two losses forced Bath Bath's Randy Tucker (33) knocks one defender down and drags another (Art Baker, 14) across the goal line for his second touchdown against St. Patrick's Friday night. The TD was scored from four yards out late in the first half and gave Bath a 20-7 lead. St. Patrick's rallied and the game ended in a 20-20 tie.

to punt from their own 42. Tucker's punt was fumbled by the Shamrock receiver and Terry Barnard recovered for Bath on the St. Patrick 14. That set up the touchdown. Fullback Randy Tucker bulled 11 yards to the 3.

Dan Tucker, Randy and quarterback Mike failed on three runs to work it in for the touchdown, but on fourth down Randy swept left and for the six-pointer. Mike passed to end Bruce Miller for the extra point.

St. Patrick's struck back swiftly. Starting from their own 33, the Shamrocks chalked up four first downs and on 12 plays scored a touchdown. Chuck Schrauben got the TD from three yards out, and Lennaman booted the extra point.

ALONG THE touchdown trail was an 18-yard pass play from Art Baker to Lennaman. Bath was forced to punt on its next series of downs, but they got the ball back on the St. Patrick's 43 on another Shamrock fumble. Again it was the start of a Bath TD drive.

Dan Tucker had a nifty eighty-yard run and Randy Tucker a 10-yard dash before Dan slipped off four defenders on a run for the final 20 yards and a touchdown. Elias David was hauled down short of the goal on an end sweep attempt at the extra point.

BATH SCORED again before the half, this time after another St. Pat's fumble on the Bath 41. Randy Tucker rambled for 12 and 12 yards on two consecutive plays, Mike Tucker had a 13-yard run on an option and then swept right end to the 4. It was Randy's turn again, and he hit paydirt over right end, scoring with about a minute and a half left in the first half.

Dennis Hald carried for the extra point that made it 20-7. St. Pat's wasted little time in getting back into the game. On the ensuing kickoff, Terry Morrison gathered the ball in at the 15 and ran up the middle to the 50, cut to the sidelines and raced for the TD—an 85-yard run. Lennaman kicked the extra point.

BATH WAS ON the defensive most of the second half, but the defense was up to it—most of the time. First they stopped St. Pat's on the seven yard line. St. Pats then recovered a Bath fumble on the 21, but the Bee's forced the Shamrocks back to the 29, and took over there.

The Bath offense took a little of the pressure off with a drive of its own. Mike Tucker hit Miller on a 19-yard pass play, Randy had a 10-yard run, Warren Baird broke away for 13 yards and Bath got as far as the 18.

But the Bees lost the ball on downs back at the 38, and a 15-yard penalty gave St. Pat's a good start on the Bath 47.

THE SHAMROCKS made it to the 20, where Bath again stiffened and took the ball away on downs. With time draining, Bath lost the ball on downs near mid-field, took it back on a fumble and lost it again on another fumble.

This is where St. Patrick's started the march that tied the game with about a minute to play. The big play was an 11-yard screen-pass play from Baker to Morrison. Schrauben scored the touchdown from six yards out of tie the score. Lennaman's extra point kick was wide, and Bath fans sighed.

The game was really about as close as the score indicated. Both teams had 13 first downs, and Bath ran 49 plays compared to 46 for St. Patrick's.

Brownie Scouts 'follow piper'

"I know a song, and it wants to be sung. Come follow the piper."

That was the song being sung by 6,000 Girl Scout delegates as they left Detroit and the 37th National Girl Scout Convention recently where film star and Girl Scout leader Debbie Reynolds "ptaped" the organization into a new triennium.

Miss Reynolds is honorary national piper of a new nationwide project designed to hold girls who are already Scouts and to attract many more girls and adults.

AT THE LOCAL level, Brownie Troop No. 577 of St. Johns "followed the piper" last week and hiked to the city park with their leader, Mrs. Gene Hinton. A lesson on knot tying was given, games were played, and songs and a special Brownie treat were enjoyed.

This week the troop will visit Phillip's Centennial Cider Mill to learn how cider is produced. The regular meeting place of the Brownie troop is the St. Johns First Congregational Church, and they meet each Tuesday after school.

JVs win 3rd game in a row

By GAY BOND

The St. Johns JVs powered their way to a 53-13 rout over the Lakewood Vikings last Thursday to continue their winning streak of three games. This brought the JVs to a 3-3 league record.

In the opening seconds of the game Lakewood received and spurted 75 yards for a touchdown. The conversion point was nullified by a penalty.

CHUCK ROMIG sprang loose for 15 yards and later went in for the JVs first TD. The extra point was good and the Wings regained the lead 7-6.

In a fourth down situation Lakewood, on their own five-yard line was forced to punt. The JVs blocked the punt in the end zone for a safety. It was 9-6 with the Wings on top.

It was Jon Berkhausen's turn for a TD as he bulled his way for a touchdown. The JVs kicked off but recovered on the three yard line. Kurt Hildorf struck paydirt and with the placement good the score stood 22-6.

LATER IN THE first half Tim Durner hit his man, Terry Malers, for a 32-yard sprint. Hildorf plunged in for the TD and the JVs led 28-6 at the end of the first half.

In the second half Hildorf capped a 30-yard march by smashing into the end zone. The extra point was good and put the JVs ahead 35-6. After the JVs kicked off they recovered a Viking fumble on their own 25-yard line. Hildorf added another St. Johns touchdown by gulping in a pass from Durner to make the score 41-6.

The third tally of the second half was a pass play from Durner to John Yurek for 23 yards. The conversion was no good and gave the JVs a 47-6 lead.

LAKEWOOD entered the scoring column again when they intercepted a St. Johns pass to make it 47-13.

The Wings' last touchdown came about when Scott Bennett ran 15-yards and Mike Pedigrew pushed in for the final TD. The conclusion resulted with St. Johns winning 53-13.

Fowler Awaits Bath after 27-0 victory over P-W Pirates

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA — Fowler High School's football Eagles put aside their rivalry fears with Pewamo-Westphalia Friday night and rolled to a 27-0 victory over the Pirates to remain the county's only unbeaten football team.

It also pushed them into sole possession of first place in the new Central Michigan Athletic Conference. The Eagles are now 6-0 in the conference and 7-0 overall. They're a half-game ahead of Bath in the conference race. Bath was held to a 20-20 tie Friday night.

BATH AND FOWLER will meet this Friday night at Bath in a contest that will decide the conference race for good.

The game will find Fowler hurting. Three Eagle players were injured in the Pewamo-Westphalia game, and two—Neal Thelen and Dave Koenigsnecht—likely will not be able to play against Bath.

Thelen, a halfback, tore a ligament during the third quarter, and Koenigsnecht, a center, suffered a severely bruised knee.

Quarterback George Goerge twisted an ankle in the final period. The injuries were the first major ones of the year for Coach H. Blaine Douglas' crew and form another hurdle for the Eagles to jump.

"OUR BOYS WILL be up for the game," Douglas said. "We'll have an all-senior defense that will be ready to go. But Bath should be really rough for us; they're too big and strong."

The Fowler defense, led by the seniors, was rough on Pewamo - Westphalia last week, holding the Pirates scoreless and limiting them to 71 yards rushing and 27 yards passing.

In the meantime Fowler was grinding out 425 yards on offense, with Neal Thelen, Mike Nobach and Ron Brown scoring Fowler's four touchdowns.

Thelen got the first one on the first play of the game when he romped 67 yards for a touchdown. Bruce Thelen kicked the extra point. Neal Thelen got off on another 64-yard TD run before the quarter was over, but it was nullified by a backfield-in-motion penalty.

IN THE SECOND quarter, Brown scored again for the Eagles on a short dive play, and Thelen booted the extra point. In the final seconds of the half—54 to be exact—Fowler took possession of the ball at mid-field and George Goerge engineered another touchdown. The score came on a 22-yard pass from Goerge to Nobach, and Thelen's extra point made it 21-0 at the half.

Brown chalked up the fourth touchdown packing the ball for 48 of the 68 yards which the Eagles TD drive carried. He scored from four yards out. Thelen's extra point kick was blocked.

BROWN GAINED a total of 131 yards in 17 carries, while Neal Thelen had 36 yards in eight carries before he was injured. Brendon Goerge carried 11 times for 26 yards, John Weiber (Thelen's replacement) five times for 83 yards, and Goerge three times for 34 yards. Goerge also completed five of six passes for 68 yards.

Fire burns hole in Victor bridge

Laingsburg firemen extinguished a fire on the Babcock Road bridge over the Looking Glass River in Victor Township early Monday morning. The fire burned a hole in the deck of the bridge, but it was extinguished before it caused any damage to the steel.

The County Road Commission has placed a steel plate over the hole, and the bridge is open to traffic. Had the fire not been discovered when it was, the steel might have been damaged to the extent the bridge would have had to be closed, the road commission said. Vandals are suspected.

Passing car swerves into rear of other

A car in the act of passing another on US-27 went out of control and collided with the slower car Thursday afternoon. No one was injured.

Lynda Louise Bankey, 19, of Detroit started to pass a car driven by Ernest F. Schwarer, 56, of R-5, St. Johns when, she said, a third car interfered. She lost control and slid into Schwarer's auto, hitting it in the rear with the rear of her car.

The third auto passed Miss Bankey's car and continued on.

How valuable is my opponent's ten years of experience in Lansing, that he boasts about, when he took a back seat from first term Senator Roger Johnson, salesman, without any experience in agriculture, sponsored Bill 710 giving personal property tax relief to farmers.

Mr. Allen calls these men "do gooders" and "publicity seekers."

Isn't this too bad after the Michigan State Department of Agriculture gave him worthy recognition as an aid to farmers.

We should give my opponent credit for this tremendous record of experience. It taught him how to manipulate his distinguished record of absenteeism which is 55 days and 555 roll calls missed.

Experience has proven ineffective. Wouldn't You Rather have Results?

Lakewood upsets 1st place Redwings, 13-7

Viking defense hands St. Johns first defeat

By STEVEN HOPKO

It was homecoming at Lakewood last Friday and the fired up Vikings upset the 1st ranked Redwings 13-7 in a hard fought game.

Statistics for both team and individual were close, but the difference was in the scoreboard. The Redwing offense which had been rolling up a combined average of 400 yards per game were held to 149 yards.

THE REDWING defense held the Lakewood Vikings to the lowest number of yards for any team this year, but the Vikings were not to be deprived of victory as they drove 36 and 39 yards for their scores.

Seven times the Redwings penetrated or took over the ball inside the Lakewood 40 yard line, but were able to push the ball over the goaline only once.

TOM BARNUM, senior fullback led the Lakewood ball carriers with 80 yards in 15 carries. Halfbacks Mike Jackson had 35 yards on eight carries and Tom Hewitt had 37 yards on six carries.

For St. Johns it was sophomore fullback Mike Green who led with 65 yards on 11 carries while halfbacks Gary Boyce had 61 yards on 12 carries and Randy Humphrey had 52 yards on eight tries.

THE GAME STARTED similar to the Charlotte game with St. Johns kicking off to the Vikings. On the first play halfback Mike Jackson hit the center of the line and fumbled with Redwing center Rick Liszewski recovering on the Lakewood 28.

On the first play for the Redwings, Norm Love dropped back to pass and his toss, intended for Boyce, was intercepted by Tom Hewitt of Lakewood on his own seven.

THROUGH THE rest of the first quarter both defenses were tough as the Redwings held Lakewood to a net of 12 yards and the Viking defense held the Redwings to a net of minus five yards.

Late in the first quarter on a fourth and six situation, Love tried right tackle and made only two yards and Lakewood took over on downs on the St. Johns 36.

SEVEN PLAYS later, Barnum hit left tackle for the last four yards and a TD for Lakewood. Mike Altoff kicked the extra point and the Vikings held a 7-0 lead with the 40 seconds gone in the second quarter.

The second quarter was played between the 30 yards lines as both teams played about even. Lakewood gained 31 yards on 14 carries while St. Johns was getting 49 yards on 11 tries.

Lakewood's Rog Patrick (42) hooks a pass away from intended receiver Duane Downing (81) of St. Johns in action Friday night at Lakewood. Watching the play from afar are Gary Sillm (66) of St. Johns and Tom Barnum (32) and Jeff Lambert (16) of Lakewood. St. Johns lost in a big upset 13-7.

THE REDWINGS had the only scoring opportunity in the last 11 minutes of the second quarter when they had a third and two situation on the Lakewood 30. But on the play Love fumbled and Bob Wieland recovered to foil the St. Johns drive.

After exchanging punts in the third quarter the Redwings penetrated to the Viking 25. With a fourth and 13 Boyce attempted field goal was short. Lakewood took over on their own 20 and when three plays gained nothing, they punted.

ST. JOHNS TOOK over on the Viking 30. Three runs by Green, up the middle, gave the 'Wings a first and 10 on the Viking 16. Humphrey then hit left end for 16 yards and the TD. Boyce kicked the extra point and it was a tie ballgame with only one minute left in the third quarter.

Halfway through the fourth quarter St. Johns lost the ball on downs and Lakewood took over the Redwing 39. With Jackson and Barnum alternating carrying the Vikings made a first down on the St. Johns 22. On a reverse to the right Hewitt went 22 yards for the score. Altoff's kick hit the upright and Lakewood led 13-7 with six minutes left.

ST. JOHNS TOOK the kickoff and moved to a first down on the Viking nine. Two incomplete passes and a yard up the middle by Green and it was fourth and eight. The Viking defense rose to the occasion, they broke through the three Love for a five yard loss to stop the drive.

CLINTON COUNTY NEWS SPORTS

Randy Humphrey is running in stride but he's being slowed up by an unidentified Lakewood player Friday night. Humphrey later got St. Johns' only touchdown in the Redwings' upset loss to Lakewood 13-7.

Gary Boyce (23) of St. Johns looks around to get his bearings after finding some nighttime "daylight" against Lakewood Friday night. Trailing the play is the Vikings' Bob Wieland (50). St. Johns lost the football game 13-7 in the area's major upset of the football season.

St. Johns had one more opportunity with a first and ten on the Viking 26 with sixteen seconds remaining, but the clock ran out before they could run another play.

THE VIKING defense rose to the occasion and Lakewood defeated St. Johns for the first time since the Lakewood school merger.

St. Johns meets Ionia this Friday and needs a victory to win the league championship outright. Another loss and the Redwings would have to settle for a tie.

THE REDWINGS will go into the Ionia game with possibly two regulars on the sidelines, Terry Hart and Rick Liszewski both were hurt at Lakewood and it is doubtful, at press time, that either will see action.

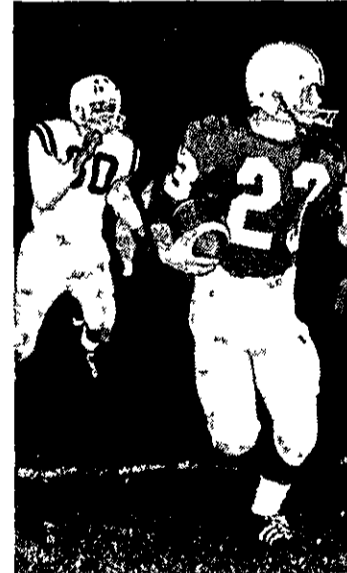

Fulton upends Montcalm

STANTON—Two Clinton area football teams were involved in upsets last Friday night, but only Fulton High School fans are celebrating about it.

The Fulton Pirates pulled the biggest upset of the year in the Tri-Central Conference by upending league-leading Central Montcalm 18-6 at Stanton Friday night. It bounced Central Montcalm out of first place into a tie for second a half-game behind Portland High School.

Randy VanSickle was Fulton's big gun again, scoring all three Pirate touchdowns. He put Fulton on in front on the first play from scrimmage by rambling 48 yards for a TD. Later he returned a punt for 76 yards and a touchdown and then ran, four yards for six points.

Practice self-discipline — the ability to do without places a man in a bargaining position.

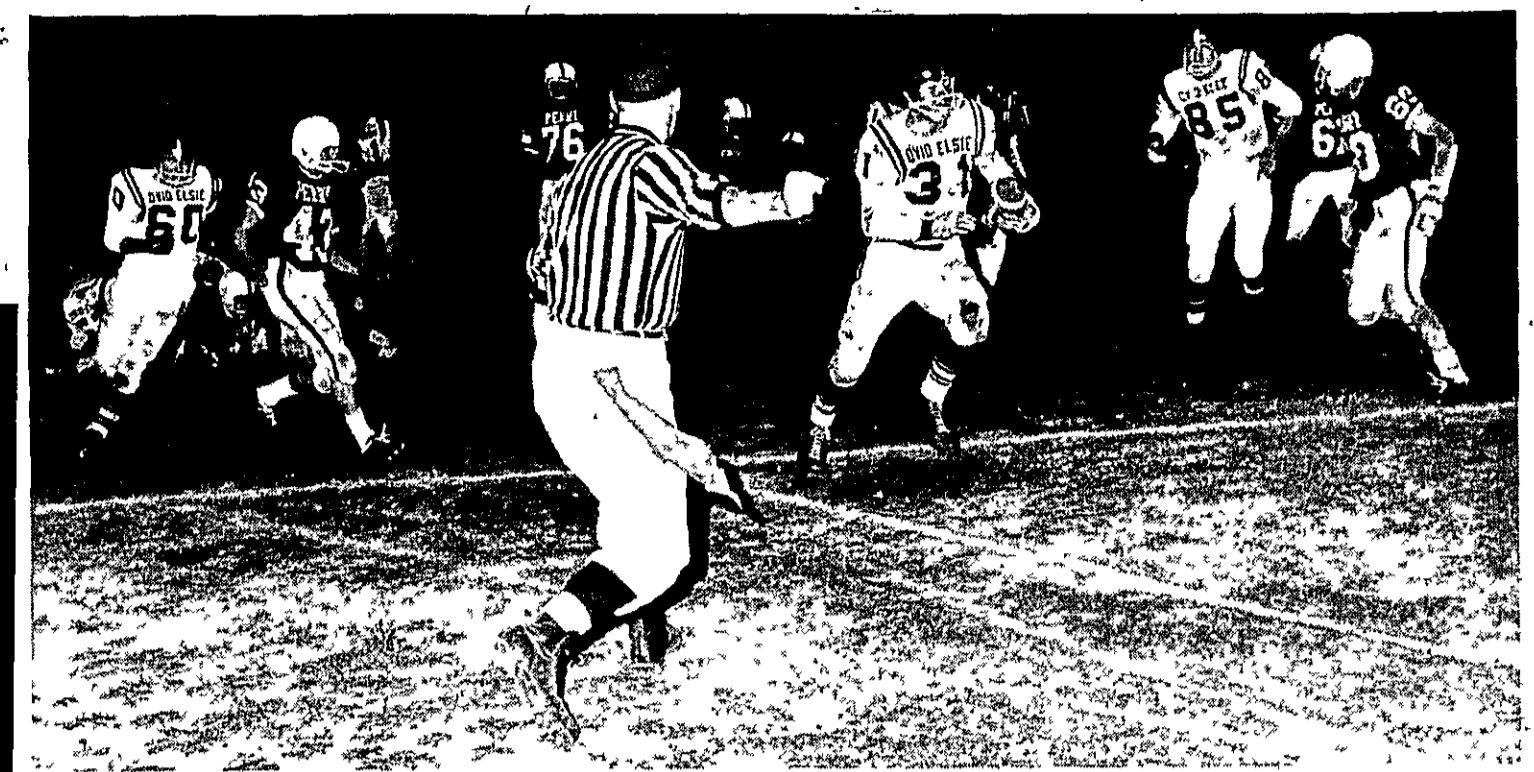

John Swanchara of R-6, St. Johns, emerged the winner in last week's football contest in the Clinton County News. He missed only three selections; everyone else among the 197 entries missed four or more.

Rural St. Johns man latest grid contest winner

John Swanchara of R-6, St. Johns, emerged the winner in last week's football contest in the Clinton County News. He missed only three selections; everyone else among the 197 entries missed four or more.

Swanchara was "thrown" by the upset loss of St. Johns and the tie game between Bath and St. Patrick's. Everybody missed those two. Swanchara also picked Western Illinois to beat Central Michigan, and just the opposite occurred.

Swanchara received a check Monday for $20, the winner's prize given each week of the contest. Another selection of games is listed in Section B this week.

The referee's touchdown signal came simultaneously with L.D. Jones' (31) strides into the end zone as Ovid-Elsie scored on Perry Friday night. Other players identifiable are Ovid-Elsie's Mike Lewis (60) and Don Wilson (85), and Perry's Larry Fountain (43), John Slanton (76) and Bert Lardie (60). Ovid-Elsie won the game 14-7.

Ovid-Elsie breaks 5-game winless streak, beats Perry

ELSIE — Ovid-Elsie football fans had something to cheer about Friday night for the first time since the opening game of the season. The Marauders bashed the Perry Ramblers 14-6 for their second win of the season and their first in Mid-Michigan B Conference play.

The fans had a lot to cheer about. Coach Mark O'Donnell's Marauders displayed a flashy, hard-hitting offense and held a wide edge in first downs and yardage gained.

AND THE DEFENSE was strongly effective, with only a 62-yard breakaway run by Ovid-Elsie.

Ovid-Elsie had one touchdown drive fizzle before they finally pushed across their first TD early in the second quarter. Taking the opening kickoff at their own 38, the Marauders picked up four first downs and worked the ball as far as the Perry 10 before they were pushed back to the 16 to lose the ball.

But they quickly forced Perry to punt, and starting on the Perry 46 they put together a scoring drive. Most of the yardage came on short gainers, but quarterback Mike Seybert had a key 15-yard pickup that set up a five-yard scoring run by fullback L. D. Jones. Richard Easlick kicked the extra point to put Ovid-Elsie out in front 7-0.

AFTER AN exchange of punts, Perry made its only threat of the first half, picking up three first downs in moving from their own 18 to the Ovid-Elsie 29. But Jerry Gazda intercepted a Mike Stuart pass to "kill the threat as the half ended.

L. D. Jones got Ovid-Elsie's second touchdown shortly after

DeWitt gets best chance this Friday

DeWITT — The DeWitt Panthers are getting ready for Webberville's visit this Friday night and their last—and best—chance to score a touchdown this year. And it could be a chance to break a 23-game football losing streak that dates back to Sept. 18, 1964, when they tied Maple Valley 20-20.

The Webberville Spartans, like DeWitt, have failed to win a game in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference this year. But unlike DeWitt, the Spartans do have a non-conference victory in their opener against Morrice.

AND, TOO, Webberville has scored—a total of 70 points this season. DeWitt is scoreless. The latest team to completely bottle up the DeWitt offense was Laingsburg, who Friday night defeated the Panthers 46-0.

the second half started. The Marauders forced Perry to punt again and they took over on their own 10. Dennis Barrett picked up 12 yards and Mark O'Donnell four out to the 25, and then Jones broke loose and with a key block from Jerry Gazda romped 75 yards for the TD. Bob Wilbur's conversion kick was good.

PERRY GOT AS far as the third quarter before losing the ball on downs. But the Ramblers forced Ovid-Elsie to punt to the Perry 38, and on the next play from scrimmage, Stewart rambled 62 yards for the TD. The extra point try was no good.

That was all the scoring and most all of the action. The rest of the game was played near mid-field. Ovid-Elsie is now 2-3-2 for the season and 1-2-2 in the Mid-Michigan B League. Perry is 2-5 and 1-4.

Third District Citizens:

WILL YOUR REPRESENTATIVE FIGHT TO SAVE CONGRESS FROM THE FORCES DESTROYING IT?

Or is he content to just "Go-along"?
Public and press alike are vitally concerned . . .

The Reader's Digest OCTOBER 1966

45TH YEAR

"... Last April, President Johnson called on Congress to compel the taxpayers to contribute at least $381 million in supplementary interest so that bankers would find it profitable to buy up low-interest loans made by the government under its various subsidy programs. The receipts from this inflated sale of government assets could then be represented as normal income that would reduce the Administration's spending deficit. Critics of all stripes denounced this gimmick.

"Just a government subsidy to the banking interests," declared the liberal Americans for Democratic Action, "... will increase interest rates for all borrowers... accelerate the tightening of the money market." Here was a measure which cried out for Congress to solicit expert views, to deliberate, to take into account the interests of all Americans.

But what happened? House Banking and Currency Committee Democrats in caucus agreed that the measure 'stank,' to quote one of them. Yet when they began hearings, these men were summoned outside one by one to take orders phoned from the White House. The committee permitted only two witnesses to testify—both sent by the President. In three hours the committee obediently approved the bill, involving nearly $11 billion. The House obligingly followed suit. Since, interest rates have shot up to a 40-year high, making it hard for families to buy or sell homes and for industry to finance job-creating expansion..."

Your present Congressman is a member of this committee. He must share heavily in the blame for this action!

LET'S NOT TRADE GARRY BROWN'S FIVE YEARS OF EFFECTIVE, UNBOSSSED PUBLIC SERVICE FOR TWO MORE YEARS OF THIS!

It's time for Congress to regain its Congressional role and quite being a rubber stamp for Democratic presidents. It's time to send a man like Garry Brown to Congress. Senator Brown has compiled a remarkable record for service to the people of Michigan. His achievements, in two Senate terms, include prime sponsorship of some 40 bills which have become laws of our state. A recognized expert in legislative process, Garry is credited with being the legislator most responsible for the new Senate leadership and the implementation of the new constitution which made the Romney record of progress possible. Garry Brown has shown by his actions that he will provide a new dimension of leadership and responsible representation for the people of the Third District.

Prior to Mr Amund's retirement from his trade as a baker in his country's capital city, he is proud of having furnished the royal family with his Danish pastries.

Typical of his country and people, Mrs Ewer found the Amund's bubbling with friendliness and a keen sense of humor. As a farewell gesture, Danish pastries, reportedly a work of art as well as delicious, were baked and served by the honored guest.

The visitors departed for Detroit Saturday where they boarded a plane for the return trip to their homeland.

Consumer is 365 day a year job

By HELEN M. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Being a consumer is an all-day, year round job. But in Michigan, Nov. 7-11 has been selected as Consumers-Week sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University.

National Consumers Week will be Nov. 14-18 sponsored by the Federal Extension Service.

A consumer - you are one, in fact we all are, but not all of us make the most of our consumer opportunities.

Being a wise consumer means making wise choices that satisfy our needs and wants. It means making the most of our purchases after we have them.

A WISE CONSUMER would not buy a sirloin steak if it took all of the family meat money, leaving no "planned overs" or money for additional food purchases.

Being a competent consumer means more than just using up the things we buy. The modern usage of the word suggests that we can consume landscapes, works of art, musical compositions and entertainment.

To help Michigan people become more aware of the need to become competent consumers is one reason for Consumers Week.

YOUR COUNTY extension service staff will participate in special radio and television programs and your newspapers will feature Consumer information throughout this second week of November.

In addition, the county extension service will have a special display in the entrance of the Courthouse which will provide an opportunity to learn of the helps and information available for consumers all year around.

Many Extension offices across our state will hold "Open House" through Consumers Week. Due to the construction in progress on the Clinton County Courthouse, we are forced to postpone such an event until a later date.

BUT WHY IS IT so important for consumers to have this information and knowledge? Americans are part of an expanding economy. They'll be spending more and more.

Michigan State University scientists who recently completed Project 180, a futuristic look at Michigan in 1980, say that the national economy will likely total about a trillion dollars by then, in terms of today's prices. That's enough to provide the population with an income after taxes of $3,000 per capita. Every man, woman and child in the economy will have about $1,000 of that to spend by 1980 than they have now.

EVEN THOUGH they'll have more to spend, using their resources satisfactorily will still be important.

Most people already have the basic necessities. Their additional choices will be for luxury goods and nonessentials.

In addition, people will have more leisure time. Most will be on a four-day week and also will enjoy another week paid vacation time. They'll have more time to spend their money, and more time to use what they choose.

We are all consumers—for informed consuming, the Extension Service can provide essential information and knowledge.

School magazine sale drive starts

The annual magazine sales campaign at Rodney B. Wilson High School got started Tuesday, with a goal of $5,000—or $5 per student—set for this year.

The program is sponsored by the student council along with the Curtis Publishing Co. The council decides what is to be done with the proceeds. In the past, the profits have paid for scholarships for traveling students, the student handbook, the paid assembly program, the popcorn machine, and the new piano and spotlight in the auditorium.

SOME OF THE NICEST things about the magazine campaign—for the students—are the prizes. Anyone who sells enough magazines to get the required number of credits chooses what he or she wants from the category of prizes that fits the number of credits. There are other numerous prizes, including a Chicago trip. One girl and one boy are chosen from the $30 club to go to Chicago with the teacher from the room with the highest percentage of sales.

To become a member of the $30 club, the person must sell $30 worth of subscriptions. Then the student's name is put in a box for a drawing. The name is put in again for each $5 over $30.

Tuesday, Nov. 1, was the starting date for the campaign, and it will end on Nov. 15. Officers for the campaign are: General manager, Steve Tarr; finance manager, Ed Lublow; publicity managers, Nancy MacLuckie and Tom Fowler.

Helping to spread the word of St. Johns High School's annual magazine sales drive by students, these four leaders of the drive pose under the Clinton National Bank clock that bears their message. "Clockwise" up and down the ladder are Tom Fowler, Steve Tarr, Nancy MacLuckie and Ed Lublow.

Winner of the Jaycee distinguished service award in 1962, he has held the offices of president, state director, local director and treasurer during his 11 years of active membership in the St. Johns Jaycees.

HE IS A MEMBER of the First Methodist Church. He was city chairman of Michigan Week in 1962 and served as a local director of the Clinton County Red Cross from 1960 to 1963. Raymond Kentfield

The only incumbent among the five candidates seeking seats on the St. Johns City Commission next Tuesday is Ray Kentfield Jr., 52, a resident of 103 S. Traver Street.

Kentfield has served 14 years on the city commission, including four years as mayor during 1957, 1958, 1961 and 1962. During that time he has also served the city on the planning commission, library board and Mayor's Downtown Development Committee.

HE ALSO SERVED one term as chairman of Region IV of the Michigan Municipal League and one term as vice president of the Michigan Municipal League.

A lifelong resident of St. Johns, Kentfield is a decorating contractor and has been doing that work for 21 years.

He is a member of the First Congregational Church, having served on the pastoral board, as head usher, as chairman of the board of trustees, and as moderator of the church.

HE HAS BEEN A member of the St. Johns Lions Club for 19 years and the St. Johns Fire Department for 20 years, including 17 years as secretary treasurer.

Kentfield and his wife Dorothy have two children, Terry 24 and Sherry 19.

Mrs Jeanne Rand

The only woman candidate for the St. Johns City Commission—and the first since 1958—is Mrs Robert C. (Jeanne) Rand of 303 S. Oakland Street.

Mrs. Rand has held no previous elective or appointive office in the city. She is now executive secretary in this area of the Michigan chapter of the American Red Cross. She has been secretary of the Swegles School PTA. She is also a member of the First Congregational Church.

A native of Clinton County and graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, Mrs Rand has lived in St. Johns for the past seven years. Her husband is an independent painting contractor. They have one son, Ward Van, age 8.

Lorenz Tiedt

Local political office is nothing new to Lorenz A. (Tony) Tiedt, city commission candidate who lives at 404 Meadowview Drive.

Tiedt served 13 years on the city commission from 1949 until 1962 when he lost the election to Gerald Irner. He has been a city representative on the county board of supervisors for 15 years and is this year chairman of that group's salary and clerk hire committee and a member of the equalization and the records, printing and equipment committees.

TIEDT ALSO SERVED on the St. Johns Board of Education for 1 1/2 years before resigning in January 1965 because of pressing outside interests and business.

Tiedt's business is secretary-treasurer of the Wolverine Stock

Yard Co. of St. Johns, a position he's had for 33 years. He is also a member of the board of directors of Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. and the board of directors of Clinton Memorial Hospital.

5 candidates seeking the two vacant seats on St. Johns City Commission

. . . and their views

Carpenter

Building and maintaining a better community in which to live is a responsibility of which we must all share.

St. Johns is my birthplace and except for my tours of military duty, I have resided in this community all my life. Ours has always been a growing and prosperous community and I would like to have a part in its future growth.

I feel it is now time to exercise my responsibility to this community by serving its people in an effort to maintain continuing growth and a better place in which to work and live.

As an executive departmental manager in business today, I feel I am qualified to meet the challenges of a growing community with its growing problems.

Furry

I have long been interested in governmental functions and have always advocated the importance of every citizen becoming actively involved in these processes. I have taught government classes for a number of years and have always felt that I would like to become a part of the local government and experience it firsthand.

A government such as ours can function properly and beneficially if the public is kept informed on what is going on. There is a serious lack of communication between citizens and public officials. This responsibility rests largely with the public officials—to keep the public informed.

I feel also there must be more diplomacy exercised in dealing with the public on the part of the city commission and the administration officers of our city government.

Closer supervision is necessary in carrying out the functions of government in all areas.

I believe in shorter terms of office for city commissioners and will work towards obtaining that goal.

I further believe that the city charter needs some revisions and also believe that it should be more strictly adhered to in the conduct of public affairs.

Obviously I will, if elected, work toward obtaining these ends.

Kentfield

I believe that most candidates basically have two reasons for running for City Commission.

First, I think most candidates are dissatisfied with some phase of city government. They hope that if elected they can help change this. I believe we have problems in city government; and if I am elected, I hope to convince at least two other commissioners and then these problems can be corrected.

Secondly, I think that most candidates are civic minded enough to want to offer their services to help make St. Johns a better place in which to live.

As my past record will show, I am willing to offer my services to help make St. Johns a more progressive and pleasant city.

Furthermore, I believe I personally have a third reason for running for office and for wanting to be re-elected. I was mayor when I appointed the Downtown Development Committee on Urban Renewal. This program I would like to see completed. I have also tried, and if re-elected, will continue to try to get greatly enlarged library facilities which St. Johns needs badly. I would also continue to try to get a new Fire Station and Police Station combined, away from the downtown area.

These are my reasons for running and for wanting to be re-elected. If I am re-elected, I will continue to fight for a better government in St. Johns.

Rand

Twenty-four years of my life has been spent working for the public. At present I am employed by the American Red Cross as executive secretary of this area.

My position involves meeting the public and assisting in solving some of their most difficult problems. I'm called on many times to aid people and am often able to bring about a happy solution to their difficulties. Personally I derive a deep satisfaction and happiness when I am able to help these people.

There are times when it is impossible to bring about a happy solution and this is as painful to me as it is to the family or individuals involved. Even on these occasions no one has ever left me feeling that I was disinterested, or too busy, to make an honest effort to help them.

The City of St. Johns is our home, and it is a home of which we can all be proud. Every member of this city should be willing to accept their share of responsibility no matter how small. Every child taught not to throw gum wrappers on the sidewalk is making his contribution and accepting his responsibility and so is the mother who gave the training.

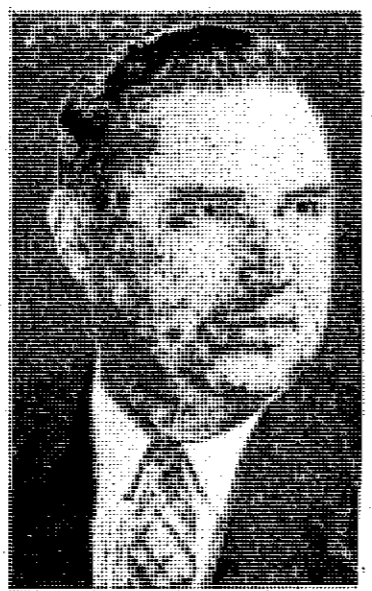

My ambition to become a member of our city commission stems from this feeling of responsibility and an honest desire to make my contribution by helping to mold the future of our home, with all of us, a family, working together in harmony.

2 vie for supervisor post in DeWitt Township

Roy (Jack) Andrews

Roy (Jack) Andrews, 50, of 585 Mayfield Drive, Lansing, is the Democratic party candidate for supervisor of DeWitt Township. He has been a resident of the township 11 years.

He is owner and manager of the PX Store in St. Johns, a business he has operated for 17 years. He has been a branch manager for the secretary of state's license office for 11 years.

JACK ANDREWS

Andrews is a member of the South Baptist Church and is presently serving on the church's board of directors.

IN 1947 HE WAS graduated from Michigan State University with an A.B. degree from the School of Business and Public Administration. Before starting the PX Store in St. Johns he was employed by Capitol Business Service.

He is a veteran of World War II where he was a flight lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force for 4 1/2 years as a transport and glider pilot. He spent two years in the South Pacific, Japan and New Guinea flying transport.

Andrews is married to the former Frieda Solomon Cutler, and is the father of two children.

Andrews chose to make no campaign statements for publication.

Reginald Nelson

Reginald Nelson, 36, of 4641 Brook Road, Lansing, is seeking election to the post of supervisor of DeWitt Township in his first bid for public office. He is the Republican party candidate.

Nelson is now serving as chief of the 24-man DeWitt Township Fire Department in Valley Farms, having been elected in January for a one-year term. He assisted in forming the township fire unit when it left the City of DeWitt.

NELSON IS A GAS designer in the engineering department at Consumers Power Co., where he's been employed eight years. He has been a Scoutmaster for Boy Scouts of America for six years and was treasurer of the same for two years. He is a six-year member and past minister of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

REGINALD NELSON

Nelson enlisted in the U.S. Army in January 1949 with the 101st Airborne Division and was transferred to anti-aircraft division. He received an honorable discharge from active reserves in January 1956.

He and wife Barbara have six children: Dennis 15, Michael 14, Greg 11, Todd 5, Chris 4 and Eric 1.

Nelson's statement

DEWITT TOWNSHIP TODAY

DeWitt Township has foregone many changes in the past few years, but I believe we face many major changes in the near future.

TAXES—Tax reform is a major subject of conversation. I believe that the first step in tax reform is a cut in government spending. Tax millage structure and expense allocations need to be analyzed carefully and repeatedly. The demands of the agricultural-urban areas are many and varied.

ROADS—Increasing numbers of subdivisions with paved streets exiting onto secondary gravel roads constitute a problem requiring better planning. Township traffic patterns as well as out-state traffic must be considered in our future road building programs.

POLICE AND FIRE—The township police department in conjunction with the county sheriff department and the services available from each must be evaluated. The ever-increasing need for more protection relative to the increase in population must also be considered. With the operation of the township fire department in the southern urban area of the township, the City of DeWitt protecting the northern area, and the far east area of the township being protected by the Bath Township Fire Department, our Township has adequate protection.

SEWERS—The Michigan Water Resources Commission in conjunction with the County Drain Commission has ascertained that the southern urban area of the township with its congested form and soil condition constitutes a need for the establishment of sewer district No. 1. Engineering ability on the part of the township supervisor will be a very vital asset in the continuous growth of DeWitt Township.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS—From my many years of scouting, church work and community service, I firmly believe that each individual's rights are of the utmost importance. The government should control or do for the people only what they are unable to do for themselves. I take pride in the American way of life, the Republican philosophy of economics and government, and only wish that every citizen of DeWitt Township shall have a voice in their government.

Wrong Wrong Wrong Right

Your vote may not count!

Your vote may not count next Tuesday . . . Unless you are careful to mark your ballot the way the procedure instructions say.

Voting machines, which are in use in St. Johns, and DeWitt, Duplain and Bath townships eliminate the danger of spoiled ballots, so those voters in precincts with paper ballots are the ones who must be careful.

People who work on election boards are the ones who are particularly concerned about spoiled ballots. It doesn't mean anything to them, in a direct sense, but they hate to see people take precious time to vote and then not have the vote count.

MOST PEOPLE who mark ballots incorrectly probably aren't even aware of it, and this is what disturbs the election board people. In a close election — such as the St. Johns school bond issue last May — a few spoiled ballots could make the difference.

Spoiled ballots aren't the result of new, young voters casting ballots for the first time. The same mistakes pop up time after time, and this is why officials are certain the errant voters are "veterans" who aren't even aware of their errors in voting procedures.

So, they list these pointers and suggestions:

*MARK THE box opposite the candidate of your choice with an "X" — not a check mark. A check mark is not legal and will constitute a spoiled ballot.

*The cross of the "X" must be within the box, even though the legs of the "X" extend outside the box. If the cross is outside the box, the whole ballot is spoiled.

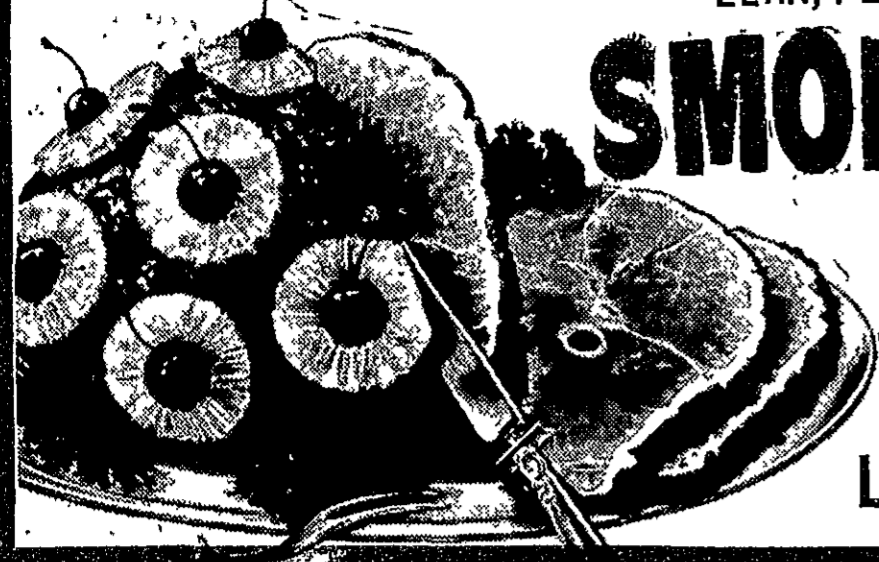

*If you mark your ballot with an "X" at the top of the political party column, you cannot vote for any candidate of another party. If you do, the whole ballot is thrown out.

*If you are not voting a straight ticket and you mark by accident an X in the box next to the wrong candidate, you may change your vote. To do this, use your pencil to black out the entire box of the incorrect vote, and then put an X in the proper box. If you don't, and there's an X in both boxes of candidates for a single office, the whole ballot will be spoiled.

*Don't make any identifying marks on your ballot. This will make it a "spoiled" ballot. Identifying marks could be a check or circle or something like that at some point on the ballot.

*Read the instructions before voting. Instructions are printed on instruction ballots, in the voting booth and on the ballot.

Sales up, earnings off at Sealed Power

Sealed Power Corp.'s operating results for the third quarter of the current year were about what was expected—a record high sales volume coupled with a decline in earnings that reflected higher expense levels.

Company President Paul C. Johnson announced last week that sales volume totaled $11,671,000 in the third quarter—a gain of 10 per cent over the corresponding period in 1965.

For the nine months, sales reached $35,589,000, an 8 per cent increase over the $32,923,000 recorded in the same period last year. All marketing areas participated in this improvement, but sales activity was especially strong in domestic original equipment and foreign markets.

ever, our 1966 earnings performance indicates some degree of progress," Johnson said.

"Material, labor and employee benefit costs for the nine months this year have risen about $1 million over the comparable period last year, while selling prices have remained relatively constant. In addition, unusual expenses have been incurred in connection with investment programs for modernization and expansion and the introduction of our new line of engine bearings for the replacement market.

"While these latter programs have adversely affected current year's earnings, they do provide the basis for future sales and earnings growth.

"The outlook for the balance of the current calendar year appears promising. A strong demand for our products in the original equipment market is indicated by the high level of vehicle production scheduled for the fourth quarter, and this period usually provides a seasonal increase in the demand for replacement products. If sales volume develops as expected, earnings should rise to the highest quarterly level this year."

The board of directors, at their October meeting, declared the regular 25 cents per share quarterly dividend to be paid Dec. 12 to shareholders of record on Nov. 21.

2 'holidays' next week

Two legal holidays next week will curtail business in several quarters around St. Johns.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 8, is election day, and the county courthouse will be closed, as will all banks around the county and the entire state.

Next Friday, Nov. 11, is Veteran's Day, and again the courthouse and banks will be closed. So will the post office, although the lobby will be open and lock boxes kept full of mail. No mail deliveries will be made to businesses and residential areas, but mail between post offices will be dispatched on a normal schedule.

Vigorous, Competent, Courageous Leadership for a Growing Michigan

(Political Adv. Sponsored by the Clinton Co. Republican Committee)

THIS I BELIEVE . . .

JOE KURKA

1. We must stop the trend toward corporate farming. Putting small farmers out for big business.
2. Michigan sorely needs a revolving fund to stop appropriations waste in our state budgets.
3. I believe in a graduated income tax with property tax relief. (I will work for this necessary constitutional amendment.)
4. Act 51 of Public Acts 1951 needs updating to provide a greater and more equitable distribution of road building funds to the townships.
5. We must utilize Federal Aid and step up our own anti-water and air pollution programs in Michigan.
6. Let's consolidate our tourism effort in Michigan. Further—we should examine the feasibility of a state sponsored program for lake reclamation. Tourism is our 1st industry. Improving that industry is sound business.
7. We must instigate a state sponsored driver education program for adults which also encompasses all areas of traffic safety. The proposed program does not suffice. This should be a separate state agency—removed from Highway Department, State Police and Department of State Jurisdiction. Michigan is the world's automotive capital. We lead the nation in modern highways. We must also lead the nation in highway safety.

WHEN ELECTED—I DEDICATE MYSELF TO FURTHERING THESE PROPOSALS.

Student council drilled on procedure

BY GAY BOND
St. Johns High School

In student council meeting this past week Mr Japinga, our speech teacher, was the guest speaker.

Discussions were held on hunting permits and the proms. It was settled to have a questionnaire distributed to all students concerning the question on if we should have only one prom in the spring and a Christmas dance sponsored by the student council or continue the procedure of having two proms.

MONDAY NIGHT The Clinton County College Night was held at the high school. Twenty college representatives from throughout the state were present to answer questions from the students and their parents.

This week the annual magazine campaign was launched by an assembly. The goal set for this year is $5,000. rehearsal. In the afternoon there will be a concert open to the public with all the participating orchestras performing.

ams for state scholarships are being held throughout the state. Students are either traveling to Owosso High School or to Michigan State University in East Lansing. They will have to be there and ready to go at 8 o'clock in the morning. Winners of this examination will either receive loans or scholarships to help them through college.

Candy Ballard, Mike Fuller DeWitt royalty

By MARIE KOWATCH
DeWitt High School

The 1966 DeWitt High homecoming was held Friday, Oct. 21, in the gym. Reigning over the festivities were Mike Fuller and Candy Ballard who earlier were crowned king and queen during halftime of the football game with Bath.

Arthur were other king and queen candidates.

THE SENIOR class built the kings float entitled "Mr Touchdown" in the form of a football field. Jackie Batdorf and Brad Ward, the junior class representatives rode on the float entitled "Moon Mist" built by the junior class. The sophomore float for representatives Sandy Snyder and Ricky Cole was titled "Cliderella" and it took first place. The freshman float for Marty Lankford and Becky Bouts was a "Horn of Plenty." Yellow, white and orange, with a large pumpkin, cornstalks and a harvest moon, centered around the queen's float entitled "Harvest Moon" and built by the student council.

The queen's court was presented with white mum and baby rose corsages, and the representatives were each presented with a bouquet of red roses.

Many long hours of hard work were put into the decoration of their gym readied by the dance chairman Diane Smith. Kathy Fuller and Bonnie Johnson as half time and parade chairman, did an excellent job on making sure things went smoothly.

Do you want to be represented by JOE HANUS in the STATE LEGISLATURE? For the past several years, it has seemed to some, he has consistently worked against the school and community of Ashley.

- 1. He has dropped membership in local organizations.
2. He has consistently opposed citizens who have worked so diligently to sustain and improve their schools.
3. He has been involved in transferring his property and property of others assessed at $170,000 from the Ashley District.
4. Through court action he is in part responsible for an injunction against the sale of bonds for a badly needed elementary school.

Is this an example of thrift, conservatism, untiring efforts in the field of education?

Can a person who cannot work in harmony with his own neighbors be expected to represent them or work for the best interest of others?

ST. JOHNS PIPER WITH KILTIE LASSIES

Jerry Lewis, a St. Johns High School senior, at center in the back row, is the piper with Alma College's Kiltie Lassies this year. The Lassies are eight Alma coeds whose dancing talent, flashing smiles and colorful costumes make them an especially popular group in appearances on their mid-Michigan campus and throughout the state. The girls, attired in kilts of Royal McPherson plaid, do authentic Scottish dances accompanied by Lewis. They are, from left to right: front row, Linda Penney of Allen Park, Renee Allan of Ferndale, Susan Johnson of Detroit, and Susan Wainwright of East Lansing; and back row, Mary-Jane Henne of Cadillac, Sue Buckmaster of Howell, Jean Sinclair of Detroit, and Kathleen Goodenow of Detroit.

ON TARGET

with the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce

By BETTY MINSKY
Secretary-Manager

The past week and this week have been and will be busy for your Chamber of Commerce and for good reason. Several tourist projects have kept us hopping. For instance, this past weekend the Holiday Ramblers paid a repeat visit to St. Johns. Because of the ball game, we made arrangements to locate them on county property at Smith Hall. All indications are that this group had a real fine time while here.

The today, Monday, the Baptist convention is here with about 200 people attending, a three-day meeting. THIS IS HARDLY more than over when about 150 will be coming to a Saturday meeting, this time at the Congregational Church.

And—here it is, mid October. Not a prime tourist month as we usually think of tourism.

And, for those who are still convinced that St. Johns is not, and cannot be, a tourist center, this month's activity should prove them wrong.

This month alone, in new money circulated in the community, being left here by out-of-towners, tourism is proved its worth. If not, just ask the gas stations. Or the restaurants. Or, our local baker who is being kept busy and who readily agrees tourism is worth the effort.

ALONG THESE SAME lines, it was a pleasure this past week to attend the East Michigan Tourist Assn. meeting at Bay City. I traveled there with Supervisors Derrill Shinbery and George Austin, and their charming wives. We had a very informative trip and it was good to know the board of supervisors supports this fine tourist program. I predict, at least as far as I am concerned, that we will have a very good relationship in the future insofar as county-wide tourist promotion is concerned.

In sending out their notice of the EMTA meeting, that organization included an editorial taken from the Frankenmuth News. It explained somewhat, I think, the feeling I have here in St. Johns: some are for it; others against it.

But, let's see what the editor up in Frankenmuth said on the subject:

TOURISM IMPORTANT FACTOR IN AREA DEVELOPMENT PLAN

(From Frankenmuth News)

"The tourist is important to Frankenmuth . . . all of Frankenmuth. Some of our citizens will wholeheartedly defend this statement; others will just as vigorously deny it. (This seems to be the situation here in St. Johns, if I may inject these few words).

"Why are tourists important to Frankenmuth?"

"Because tourists spend over $1 billion a year in Michigan providing revenues for our Frankenmuth businesses and many others. Nearly 140,000 Michigan jobs depend upon tourist spending in Michigan each year."

"Because these 'tourist dollars' generate an additional estimated $3.5 million each year in revenues for agriculture, manufacturers, service, professional, wholesale and construction trade in every county of the state."

"Because some of these 'tourist dollars' come to Frankenmuth businesses . . . Frankenmuth cash registers . . . directly or indirectly."

"These 'tourist dollars' don't just drop out of the sky or come along a freeway . . . they are earned. The EMTA works all year to bring these 'Tourist Dollars' to our region of Michigan, putting thousands of tourists on the highways and freeways."

"Tourism is the biggest industry in more than 50 of Michigan's 83 counties. Tourism is growing more important every year. It is Michigan's second ranking industry."

ON CLOSING, I would like to say that these tourist dollars just didn't come drifting into St. Johns either. Your C of C organized, and planned for the Ramblers. We worked with the two churches and are working with the Meet The Expert group for their February meeting here.

Management, breeding, feeding ...keys to production

Good management, breeding and feeding—it takes all three to make a high-producing dairy herd, according to Tony Cieslinski, who had Michigan's best dairy herd in 1966.

He should know—the herd on his farm near Uby was the first in Michigan to average more than 20,000 pounds of milk. The 30 Cieslinski Holsteins averaged 20,657 pounds of milk and 751 of butterfat for the year ending Oct. 1, according to Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. records at Michigan State University.

CIESLINSKI operates his 360-acre Huron County farm with the help of his wife, Marcella, and 19-year-old son, John. Another son, Mike, is a Michigan State University student. A daughter, Mary, 11, completes the family.

Donald Hillman, MSU Extension dairy specialist, agrees that management, breeding and feeding are the keys to a successful dairy operation. Good practices in these three areas will result in better production from any herd, he says.

An important part of dairy management is culling and Cieslinski uses tough standards. During the last testing year, he culled 16 animals from the herd.

If Cieslinski thinks a heifer can't produce at least 15,000 pounds of milk and 500 of butterfat, she's on the way out.

Throughout the testing year, the Cieslinski herd consumed an average of 6,000 pounds of grain per cow. That's one-third higher than the state average for DHIA herds, says Paul Wilkes, DHIA executive secretary.

CIESLINSKI RAISES his own herd replacements, with Mrs. Cieslinski caring for the calves. She also is frequently called upon as an emergency replacement for her husband or son at milking time.

For the most part, Cieslinski handles the dairy end of the operation, and John takes care of the field work on the farm's 280 tillable acres.

Cieslinski finds time to serve as treasurer of the Uby Community School board and as a director-at-large of the Michigan Animal Breeders Co-Op, headquartered at East Lansing.

He is thoroughly "sold" on artificial breeding. Almost all the cows now in the herd are artificial breeding progeny. His top producer, though, is not. She is one of the original members of the present herd, and produced 25,799 pounds of milk and 842 pounds of butterfat in 312 days.

CIESLINSKI MAKES sure his herd gets only top-quality hay. If a cow leaves some hay in the manger, it isn't left for her to eat later. The leftover hay is removed and replaced with a fresh batch at the next feeding time.

Besides their daily grain ration of a pound for each 2.5 to 3 pounds of milk produced, the Cieslinski cows get about 25 pounds of haylage or silage and all the hay they want.

The top 10 Michigan herds in DHIA production are: Cieslinski; A. Polgeter, Allendale, 18,790 milk, 697 butterfat; Jack Kaufman, Sandusky, 18,591 milk, 676 butterfat; Wesley Parker, St. Clair, 16,497 milk, 674 butterfat; Stewart Taylor, Marlette, 18,861 milk, 665 butterfat; Jon Gondzwaard, Byron Center, 16,613 milk, 648 butterfat; R. and A. Lettinger, Wayland, 17,052 milk, 645 butterfat; N. Sandbrook, Nashville, 17,122 milk, 644 butterfat; G. Shuler and sons, Baroda, 18,940 milk, 643 butterfat; and Ionia State Hospital, 18,492 milk, 642 butterfat.

Fall fertilizer use approved

Farmers often ask what plant nutrients can be applied in the fall and still be available to crops next spring.

Dr. John C. Shickluna says any or all three of the major fertilizer elements, as well as lime and the secondary elements, can usually be applied in the fall.

On soils relatively high in clay or organic matter, nitrogen can be applied after soil temperature drops to 50 degrees, with little or no loss before spring. Shickluna suggests use of an amonia form of nitrogen. He says nitrate forms are more subject to leaching and are better for spring or summer application.

PHOSPHORUS CAN BE applied in the fall, but should be supplemented by a high-phosphorus fertilizer at planting time on soils that test low or medium for phosphorus.

Potassium remains in the soil in an available form over winter. Crop response is just as good if treatments are made in the spring, but application of lime can be carried on any time a spreader can be put on the field. Shickluna says it is usually best to apply lime just before a small-grain or row crop.

If a legume is to be seeded, application of lime a year ahead allows it to become incorporated with the soil. Limestone generally contains plenty of calcium to meet crop needs, and dolomitic limestone will help fill magnesium needs.

Rural housing loans in state up 77% over '65

More than 400 Michigan families—some 77 per cent more than that of the previous year—during fiscal 1966 used $4,180,000 of Farmers Home Administration credit for construction and improvement of homes, Nyle L. Katz, the agency state director with offices in East Lansing, reports.

Some 132,000 of this amount was advanced directly to Michigan senior citizens for improved housing facilities, a 140 per cent increase over credit extended the previous period to rural residents of 62 years or over, Director Katz explained.

RURAL HOUSING loans to Michigan individuals, other than senior citizens totaled $4,046,000 during 1966—76 per cent more than that of the previous 12 months.

These loans ranged from small amounts for minor repairs to loans for building modest but adequate homes. Some of the funds were used to improve or construct essential farm buildings.

"Farmers Home Administration's rural housing program has resulted in untold benefits to scores of Michigan communities as well as to the hundreds of rural people involved," Director Katz emphasized. "That is only part of the story, for improvements made by borrowers to their homes have increased the tax base which makes it easier for the local communities to finance schools, road improvements, and other needed community facilities."

MORE THAN 90,000 rural American families throughout the 50 states, the Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico have borrowed more than $799.1 million since the program was expanded five years ago.

"It is important to note that many Farmers Home Administration rural housing loans are repaid ahead of schedule to the extent that payments of principal will be March 27 to April 1 at Smith Hall . . .

Here is the schedule for Camp Kett conferences for 4-H leaders: Nov. 29-30, exploration of careers; Dec. 2-3, horses; Dec. 6-7, recreation (tenured chairmen); Dec. 9-10, conservation (soil - water and forest resources); Jan. 10-11, working with disadvantaged youth; Jan. 20-21, poultry leaders; Jan. 27-28, conservation (wildlife and conservation appreciation, wildflowers, gun safety, archery and nature study); Feb. 11-12, landscape design and natural beauty project; Feb. 14 - 15, recreation (new chairmen); March 10-11, entomology; April 20-21, foods; May 19-20, dogs; June 20-22, flower arranging.

pal and interest throughout the nation equal 104 per cent of the total amount due since the program began," Director Katz pointed out. "Losses on rural housing loans are less than two one-hundredths of 1 per cent of the total loaned since the program started."

FARMERS HOME Administration housing loans are made to applicants unable to obtain credit from private lenders at reasonable rates and terms. They are tailored to individual needs and are accompanied by assistance in farm and financial management.

Anyone interested in further information should contact the local office at 125 South Maple Street, Ithaca.

4-H leadership school Saturday

A junior 4-H leadership school will be held at Smith Hall in St. Johns this Saturday, with junior and adult leaders from all over Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties participating.

It is a "first" area meeting of its kind and will cover such topics as: how to work junior leaders (for adult leaders), what is leadership, what it can do for you, functions of leadership, program organization for the local club, and recreation.

Saturday's program will run from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Participants should bring a sack lunch, as well as pencil and notebook. Milk, pop and coffee will be furnished.

If you plan to freeze a cake, be sure you use pure vanilla. Synthetic vanilla may give an off-flavor to frozen cakes, MSU home economists find.

4-H Notes

A 4-H leader recognition banquet is scheduled for Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. at Smith Hall . . .

Clinton County 4-H clothing leaders are urged to attend a training meeting today (Thursday) at Smith Hall. Miss Lorraine Sprague, Gratiot-based Extension home economist, will do the teaching. The meeting will include information on fabric characteristics, consideration when buying, pattern selections, preparation of fabrics and special problems. . .

THE CLINTON COUNTY 4-H Council has voted to see that each leader receives a subscription to the National 4-H News magazine. The monthly magazine contains articles and stories on what 4-H clubs are doing elsewhere and contains many ideas leaders can use in their clubs . . .

The Clinton National Bank will again provide the small 4-H calendars which will be passed out — one to a family — at the leaders banquet . . .

A county 4-H camp is being tentatively planned next June for 10- and 11-year-old members. If held it would be at the Barry County Campgrounds the last full week in June 1967. The number will be limited to the first 60 girls and 40 boys who sign up . . .

THE COUNTY 4-H service Club has ordered a number of metal "4-H Club Member Lives Here" signs. They will be available for sale for 50 cents each at the Extension office after Nov. 15 . . .

Price support activity big in Michigan

More Michigan banks and lending institutions may become interested in financing price support loans on farm crops, according to Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASCS State Committee.

This is due, he said, to the recent increase in interest rates from 5.2 per cent to 5.7 per cent per annum. The increased rate became effective Oct. 22.

The increase is in line with recent changes in the money market, Light added. He stated that the change in August from 4.9 per cent to 5.2 per cent and the recent increase to 5.7 per cent effective Oct. 22 was made to encourage continued participation by private lenders in the financing of commodity Credit Corporation loan programs.

LIGHT EMPHASIZED the increase will not be retroactive and also will not affect the interest rate on commodity loans obtained by farmers through the county ASCS offices. The interest rate for commodity loans will remain approximately 3 1/2 per cent to producers, he added.

Light reminded farmers that price support loans are available in Michigan on 1966 crops of wheat, oats, barley, rye, grain sorghums, corn, soybeans, honey, flaxseed and dry edible beans. He noted that dry edible bean classes grown in Michigan eligible for price support loans are pea beans, dark and light red kidney, small reds, pintos and pinks. Other classes such as cranberries and yellow eyes grown in Michigan are not eligible for price support, he added.

GEORGE PARKER, program specialist at the Michigan ASCS state office, reported there was increased participation in price support programs in Michigan over a year ago in wheat, oats and dry edible beans. It is also anticipated there will be increased participation on 1966 crop corn and soybeans, he added, when these crops have been harvested.

Light stated that many producers last year found that particularly in soybeans and corn it was a big advantage to place their crops under price support loan. This enabled them to seek the most favorable market price before selling their crop.

Cotton linter pulp is used in the production of car tires.

EDITORIAL PAGE Horse sense and federal aid

The congressman from Missouri wanted to be shown.

Democratic Rep. William Hungate thought he knew how well off his constituents were in the thriving farm terrain of St. Charles, Lincoln, Warren and Montgomery counties, Mo.

But there it was in black and white from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity:

"Approximately 120,000 needy persons are found scattered in every town and along rural roads in an area 60 miles long and 40 miles wide." The federal poverty office was announcing a $43,511 grant to help these needy 120,000 souls.

Since census figures showed only about 105,000 people living in this area, it meant that not only every resident was poor but they must have rung in some visitors to share their lack of wealth.

When the Congressman demanded an explanation, the poverty office frantically cut the figure to 87,000 poor people, then finally to 5,000 needy families.

The above sounds almost unbelievable doesn't it? And yet it is an accurate account of what actually took place, according to the current issue of Nations Business.

This might not be so disturbing if it was an isolated case of federal mismanagement, but the fact is that similar cases of squandering the taxpayers money are heard almost every day, even though they might not be as fantastic as this experience in Missouri.

Federal agencies seem to have a yen for spending every cent of money they can get their hands on without any regard to the end result. It seems to make little difference whether its in the form of foreign aid, the various and sundry programs of aid to local governments or the more recent "Great Society" program, the red tape is so complicated that by the time the program is ready to put into action Congress is called on for more money.

All federal programs are not bad, but there is no argument to the fact that they are expensive. We are just old fashioned enough to believe that if a little of what we used to call "horse sense" was injected into federal spending our dollars would go a lot farther. But idle dreamers were never known to have had any great amount of sound judgement, and Washington seems to have an over supply of this species.

Vote-at-18 question demands more thought

Proponents of the right to vote for 18-year-olds were dealt a severe blow last Tuesday night when—a scant two weeks before the question is to be decided at the polls—youthful vandals attacked the mobile classroom units at St. Johns High School with paint and obscene words.

It is doubtful the vandals were 18. Probably they were a year or two, or even three, younger.

But it is equally doubtful that in the few years it takes them to reach 18 they will grow up enough and mature enough to take the responsibility of voting seriously.

Fortunately we have a lot of 18-year-olds, and younger people, who ARE mature and who could handle the voting privilege the way it is intended to be handled. But the risks of giving the vote to all young people at that age are great enough that we think more than just a passing thought should be given to this question before Nov. 8.

Back Thru the Years

Interesting Items from the Files of the Clinton County News

10 YEARS AGO. From the Files of Nov. 9, 1956.

Timothy M. Green, St. Johns attorney, unseated probate judge William Morris in Clinton county's closest race at Tuesday's general election.

Both the proposals to raise city commissioner's salaries from $3 to $10 per meeting and the advisory vote on fluoridation of the city's water supply were lost in Tuesday's general election in St. Johns.

25 YEARS AGO. From the Files of Nov. 6, 1941.

Threat of a strike at the Rosevale Packing plant in DeWitt township was averted Saturday at a conference between the management and CIO officials. The plant was unionized during a walk-out last winter.

Win, lose or draw—no matter what the result of the final game against Boys' Vocational School of Lansing Friday night—the 1941 St. Johns high school grid season has already been chalked up as one of the most successful in several years. Seven of the eight scheduled games have already been played with the record showing one defeat, one tie and five victories.

50 YEARS AGO. From the Files of Nov. 9, 1916.

A group of Camp Fire girls was organized here Saturday, with Mrs. Carrie Gillam as guardian. The girls range in age from about 12 to 15, made up of girls who form a natural group.

There was great rejoicing over the dry victory. Wednesday morning the chimes in the Methodist church rang out "Praise God From Whom all Blessings Flow," and "Michigan, My Michigan." The other church bells followed.

In Clinton county a very big republican vote was cast, giving majorities from about 1300 to nearly 1900. The vote of Westphalia was a great disappointment to the local democrats, who have always looked upon that thrifty township of splendid men and women, as a permanent asset of the democratic party; but Westphalia voted a big majority for Hughes and the republican ticket.

A look into the past . . .

DEFENDER OF HIS COUNTRY

Back in 1918, Robert William Gillson, who lives on North US-27 now, was a little young to go to war, but he had his picture taken decked out in the uniform of the day. Twenty-two years later, Gillson (in the inset photo) was in the U. S. Army, and he served in the Pacific campaign during World War II, winning a good conduct medal and purple heart. These pictures were contributed by his mother, Mary B. Gillson of R-2 Ashley.

It's easy to blame the farmer But is the accusation justified?

BY WILLIAM SMITH
ASCS Office Manager
St. Johns

The housewife understandably becomes alarmed over rising food prices. Over a period of years there seems to be a normal pattern of stinging out the farmer as being the culprit. A search of facts reveals that this accusation is an unfair one.

Consumer consternation has been particularly loudly provoked because of price increases centering on two of life's main staples—bread and milk.

Farm prices of wheat and milk are higher now than in February. February wheat had a market value of $1.43 per bushel as against $1.74 per bushel in July. This represents a 31-cent-per-bushel increase to the farmer. Reflected in the cost of a one-pound loaf of bread it would total less than 0.4 cents.

RECENT REPORTS, however, indicate the retail price of bread had advanced 2 to 4 cents per one pound loaf. Simple arithmetic suggests that a price rise of less than one-half cent in raw materials cannot justify a two to four cent rise to the consumer. It is obvious someone is exploiting a modest price increase to the farmer so that an advantage may be taken of the consumer to enhance their own profit margins.

Likewise the attempt to mislead the consumer in the cause for the increased price of milk, needs to be countered by facts. Milk prices have gone up on a nation-wide basis by at least three times the amount justified by the Department of Agriculture's order, raising dairy price supports to the farmer.

IN JULY THE minimum price for class one fluid milk was raised 31 cents per hundredweight. Actual costs to the processor, however, are estimated at 22 to 24 cents per hundredweight. "But" says market prices were in excess of the supported price prior to the department's July order.

Inasmuch as there is about 23 half gallons in a hundredweight of milk, a justified increase could only approximate a cent per half gallon. Yet it is reported that consumer price increases range from three cents a half gallon to substantially more in some areas.

Dr. Lauren Brown of Michigan State University studied the records of 281 southern Michigan dairy farmers for 1965. He found that their average return for labor was thirty-two dollars for a 65 hour work week, or a 49 cent hourly return. This is the real problem in the dairy industry. The increase in price supports was a step taken by USDA to protect the welfare of the consumer as well as the dairyman.

IT IS SELF-EVIDENT that a 49 cent per hour labor return can only result in the continued selling off of dairy herds. Ultimately this would result in severe shortages of milk and produce, higher prices to the consumer. There should be no conflict between the farmer's goal of a fair price and the interest of the consumer in ample supplies of reasonably priced food. It must be recognized, however, that consumers have every right to object when retail prices are increased by three times the amount justified.

The farmer has been the scapegoat for rising food prices during my lifetime and I presume it began before that. No one denies that food prices to the consumer have risen during the last 15 years. A report from the Department of Agriculture shows the cost of the market basket has increased from $9.20 in 1950 to $10.42 in 1965.

THE FARM VALUE of that same basket decreased from $4.32 in 1950 to $4.09 in 1965.

The marketing margin however—and this is the processing area—increased from $4.74 to $6.33 in 1965 or a total of $1.59. This is an increase of 33 per cent. The farmer's share of the food dollar has decreased from 47 cents in 1950 to 41 cents in July 1966. Farm prices today are 14 per cent lower than they were in 1952. While consumer income levels increased steadily during this fifteen year period, farm prices were depressed, so that the farmer receives less than he received 15 years ago!

Farm debt has risen from 12.5 billions of dollars in 1950 to 36 billions of dollars in 1965. Yet it is the American farmer who absorbed the inflationary cost of the things he had to buy while experiencing the deflationary pressures on the products he had to sell.

IN A WORLD with millions plagued by hunger, the American consumer is envied by having an abundance of diversified high quality foods, all within reach of less than 19 per cent of his disposable income. Fortunately our Department of Agriculture serves both the consumer and producer. The Senate Agricultural Committee directed Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to survey retail food prices and to report on the extent to which farmers are being improperly blamed for rising consumer costs. This, in all probability, will reveal who is to blame for the excessive rise in food costs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lawmen reply to reader's letter

In the Oct. 6, 1966, issue of the Clinton County News there appeared a letter signed by R. A. DeWitt. In checking with your newspaper, it was found that this person was in fact a Richard Adler of R-2, DeWitt.

We would like to take issue with Mr. Adler's letter for several reasons. First, we believe that anyone who writes a letter or has views and expresses them as strongly as this should identify himself. THIS WAS NOT DONE! The name of Richard Adler and address R-2 DeWitt, was given to the newspaper, but in checking, it was found that NO SUCH PERSON lives at this address, or anywhere within the DeWitt postal routes.

YOUR MAIN TOPIC was Gordon Willyoung, a justice of the peace in Clinton County. This apparently is a personal matter with you, so we will not take issue with you on this point.

Your second point that we disagree with you on is the statement "We spend thousands yearly for law enforcement and yet the makers of the law and the enforcers of the law are the biggest law breakers . . ." Are you saying that EVERY police officer and EVERY legislator is a criminal? If you are, we would like to see you identify yourself and come forward with proof, not rumor.

Thirdly you start that from the rumors going around the county there is one public official who is immune from arrest . . . This is not true! Every public official in Michigan is subject to arrest except members of the state legislature while they are enroute to or from a session of legislature.

IT IS EASY FOR a person to criticize while hiding behind a fictitious name and address, but it takes a real man to give constructive criticism based on fact, not on rumor, and signing his own name.

Our main reason for writing this letter is to defend the law enforcement officials who try their best to serve the public in an honest and faithful way. We realize that these men are human and do make mistakes; but we do not feel that all law enforcement officials are the "biggest lawbreakers" as you would have us believe. If you do not actually feel this way and you in fact generalized in your letter, come out of hiding, be specific and don't try to run down the total law enforcement professions, many of whom are dedicated and often underpaid men.

Yours truly,

He was a small man in size. But his personality made him tower above all others. He was never without a smile for his fellow man and his generosity and kindness to others, put him above other men.

He had true humility. His faith was the kind that most of us dream of having but never quite seem to achieve.

HE WOULD HAVE been 95 years of age this December, but his God called and he answered.

His name was Edward Boron.

I ATTENDED "Eddie's" funeral last Saturday. Although I knew him—it seems like forever—it was for only a third of his lifetime.

This man did so much for so many people, but still so little is known of what he actually did. This was Eddie Boron.

IF IT WERE possible to talk to all the people who had come in contact with him, during his lifetime, then we would know of the many great things he had accomplished in his long span of years. But this would be impossible because of time and space.

I first met Eddie as a small boy. My recollection of him in those days are vague, although I can remember my parents talking of him many times and it always was with admiration.

AS I PROGRESSED in years, my admiration of Eddie did likewise. He seemed to have unbounded energy, not only in his work, but with any organization with which he was associated. His energy belied the fact of his years and his ever-ready smile and greeting added to this subversion.

Although he was a businessman in St. Johns for many years, he will probably be remembered more for his friendliness and kindness than for any other reason.

THIS IS HOW I remember him and I believe that all others whose lives crossed his at one time or another will do likewise.

It seemed as if I knew him very well, but as I think of him, I find that I hardly knew him at all. But the words I have put down here are the things that I remember of him.

ST. JOHNS and Clinton County have lost a fine man. And, like most great men, the mold from which he was cast seems to have been lost over the years.

Eddie will be remembered, not for any one great deed, but for the many small deeds that have endeared him to the hearts of so many.

WE HAVE LOST a fine man and friend, but his ideals of friendliness, honesty and graciousness are the legacy he leaves with all of us.

Came the inevitable voice from the rear: "I've got a grand that says he's dead."

Most married men run their homes like ships where they're the captains. How would they know they were going to marry admirals?

If people learn through their mistakes, there are a few fellows around who seem to be getting a fantastically broad education.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Getting your daughter dressed for school can be quite an experience—especially if you're a dad with a great deal of inexperience in this line. The result can be variously described as "colorful" and "odd."

Occasionally the orderly pattern of going home for dinner, throwing myself into the lounge chair and watching the Dick Van Dyke Daytime Show and the noon news is broken by a noon-hour engagement of my wife elsewhere. No more am I able to sit and watch TV while the miracle of getting a kindergarten fed, dressed and brushed takes place in another room.

AT BEST, THE child who exits our home schoolbound after dinner can only be called a shoddy miracle.

It happened again last Thursday. Ann was tied up downtown during the lunch hour so I consoled (with not much choice) to getting Kathy ready for school. Battling with television, crayons and coloring books, I managed to force a couple of sandwiches and a glass of milk into the tyke by noon (it took exactly 22 minutes, 30 seconds).

That was the easy part. But only 10 minutes remained before she was to go over to the neighbor girl's house so the two can go to school together. Like a tornado, we whirled into her room.

"What are you going to wear today?" I asked for openers.

AFTER FIRST picking two summer dresses including one with a ripped belt loop—both of which I objected to because of the weather—we finally settled on a blue and white "sailor" dress. I was somewhat reluctant because it is one she wears to Sunday school. And I was even more reluctant when she told me "It's alright with Mommy, Daddy."

I wouldn't let her wear her red Sunday school shoes, but I did give in on the dress and at this writing am still awaiting the reaction of my wife.

But I do pride myself that I didn't let her wear socks that clash with the dress, as I did several weeks earlier. I chose a middle-of-the-road white, and Kathy let it go at that.

BY THIS TIME the 10 minutes were nearly up. Still ahead of us was the job of combing her hair and making sure the jam was off her face completely. I have always had a horrible time trying to figure out how to put barrettes in her hair, so after brushing I merely closed my eyes and fastened them (quickly they didn't look too bad).

At 12:10 she swished out the door, on time . . . by some miracle.

Tomorrow, with luck, I can resume my relaxing and revitalizing lunch hours and have great confidence that my daughter will go to school wearing school clothes that pair up rather than pair off.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Political polls all the more interesting following election

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Predictions of coming events are frequently most interesting if viewed in retrospect.

Political polls measuring potential voter sentiment often provide the most interesting look after that sentiment has been expressed at the election booth.

THIS YEAR'S gubernatorial campaign, upon which so much national attention was focused, produced no startling public polls except perhaps from the shifting number of "undecided" voters.

One private poll, which gained little attention, may provide the most interesting evaluation in retrospect, however.

AN OVERWHELMING majority of the voters, 85 per cent to be exact, approved of the job being done the past four years by the Romney administration, Orlebeke said.

An election margin of this size would no doubt further boost the 1968 potential of the Republican governor. How close does this private survey come to your district's vote?

FINANCIAL difficulties are threatening a 15-month-old project of the State Mental Health Department, but officials hope to salvage much through redesign of the program.

The TOP program, for Training, Opportunity and Placement, was operating primarily on a U. S. Department of Labor grant. This money will be exhausted by Jan. 1, when department officials hope to switch to state support.

TOP aims to place retarded persons in the community; to help them find jobs and homes and to improve work skills as they adapt to a normal life.

SOME 575 PERSONS from various state institutions were referred to the project for potential placement and 240 patients were placed. Most of these are still on the job.

Dr. V. A. Stehman, assistant department director for services to the mentally retarded, reports the shift in financial support will essentially require a shift in focus and administrative changes in the program.

Emphasis is placed on strengthening services to the patients already placed, although new placements will continue to some extent, he said.

In the first 15 months of the program each participating institution had a full-time TOP evaluator and placement officers were stationed in various metropolitan areas.

Administratively, the change means the placement officers and evaluation team will be based at the department's Lansing office and travel around the state as the need arises.

BASIC IDEA BEHIND the project will not change: to teach the retarded patient some job skill and personal pride so he can resume life on the outside.

Stehman notes that several of those placed early in the program were given jobs requiring little skill, such as car washing. Time and normal social contacts have already helped many of these improve their abilities so they are ready to move on to new challenges.

Follow-up supervision of those already placed will serve to strengthen the program, says Stehman.

SILENT KILLER. Have you ever heard of it? Could it be in your home?

As many as 100 lives have been lost annually in Michigan to the silent killer despite regular warnings from the State Health Department.

The silent killer is more commonly known as carbon monoxide but gains its nickname because it has no visible color and no odor, but it lurks wherever there is combustion, such as canned heat, gas refrigeration, a furnace, or auto engine.

PREVENTION IS very simple: just provide adequate ventilation. An open window providing a good strong draft in the house, garage or heated car can eliminate almost all of the accidental exposures to carbon monoxide fumes.

Regular inspection of home heating systems, gas appliances and auto exhaust systems is also recommended to eliminate the possibility of faulty mechanisms leading to carbon monoxide leaks.

Reducing U.S. forces in Europe long overdue

Senator James B. Pearson (Kan.)... If rise as a cosponsor of Senate Resolution 300 proposing a reduction of American military forces in Western Europe...

"This resolution, in its fullest sense expresses the conviction of the Senate that a substantial reduction of our military contingent in Western Europe may be made without repudiation of our moral commitments to our friends or of our legal obligations under the NATO alliance..."

"Our present troop commitment dates from the period when direct Soviet aggression was a very real probability. U.S. troops were stationed abroad at a time when the capacity of the Western European powers to provide for their own military defense was extremely small. But both these conditions are now substantially changed..."

"SOVIET aggression in Western Europe remains possible, but highly improbable... It should also be noted that our modern airlift capacity, recently demonstrated, clearly proves our ability to deploy troops in Europe or elsewhere within hours..."

"Nor by suggesting a substantial withdrawal of our conventional forces have we reduced our capacity or willingness to retaliate with nuclear weapons should the Soviets be so foolish as to move against free Europe..."

"There are those who argue that Western European economies are not yet strong enough. But a realistic look at the economic prosperity of Western Europe belies the validity of this argument. Western Europe has the economic means to maintain whatever conventional military force is needed."

"IT IS INTERESTING to note that those same people in Europe who argue that the United States cannot be counted upon to defend Europe are now complaining that we persist too vigorously in our commitments in Asia, and are very generous indeed, in their recommendations about how we should be withdrawing from southeast Asia..."

"This time has come for West Germany through her own means to take greater initiative and responsibility towards finding her place..."

"I would make the point and observe that a reduction of American forces could ultimately bring about a similar reduction in Soviet forces without negotiation and in a manner that could have greater long-range benefits..."

"A new Europe has come into being. This new Europe requires a new policy..."

"THE CONDITIONS of the new Europe, the heavy demands of our commitments and challenges in other parts of the world, the status of our current balance-of-payments problems, and the necessity of advancing the cause of European unity require that we begin to rethink and redirect our entire foreign policy effort."

Senator Mike Mansfield (Mont.)... I commend the distinguished Senator from Kansas for the thought he has put into the speech he has just made, which I have read several times as well as listened to, and for the research which went into it..."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT The Washington Post reports that, "Most ordinary Germans, especially those living near Allied garrisons and bases, probably would welcome a phasing out..."

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Hand cider mill made best liquid concocted

HAYDN PEARSON

Sweet cider made from a combination of Northern Spies, Baldwins and Blue Pearmain is one of the best liquids ever concocted. We have been informed that certain citizens store the liquid and use it at a later date when it has a quality not found in fresh-pressed juice. We cannot vouch for this, but pass along the rumor for what it is worth.

Half a century ago many farmers pressed their own cider, and often put down a few barrels to sell as vinegar in the summer. There are men in city offices who remember the hand cider mill and the hours they spent with the machine. The mall order catalog was specific. "This is positively the best hand cider mill on the market."

"THE JUNIOR Mill has a capacity of two to four barrels of cider per day. Each mill is back geared and has a heavy balance wheel. You cannot buy a better finished or easier running machine." A lad had no intention of testing the capacity. The apples went into the hopper at the top and were ground to pulp by a hand crank. The pulp went into a wooden bucket; then the press screw was turned down to squeeze out the amber liquid which dropped into a pail beneath.

In colonial days apple juice was important. In old journals we find many references to sweet cider, hard cider, apple jack and apple brandy. Hot mulled cider was a favorite drink around fireplaces on zeroish winter nights.

The pumace was fed to cows and pigs.

IT WAS A long, monotonous Saturday's work to a 12-year-old. It was part of the farm routine and boys did their tasks without too much grumbling in the old days. There was one good point about it. A boy could drink all the sweet cider he wished and his capacity was practically unlimited.

GOVERNOR GEORGE ROMNEY STATE REPRESENTATIVE LESTER ALLEN

An Action Team for an Action State

October, 1966

Dear Friend:

I want you to know that State Representative Lester Allen has been a hard working member of our Republican team in Lansing.

Representative Allen's contributions, particularly in the areas of agriculture and business legislation, have helped to produce unprecedented Michigan progress. By returning him to Lansing in November, you can help us to make even further gains for all the people of Michigan.

I urge you to re-elect Representative Allen to the State House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

George Romney

STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSE'S MOUTH

One year out of the ten that I have served in the legislature has been singled out for special examination. I am willing to stand on my record for that as well as for every other year.

Allen's absences for 1965 session:

January, None; February, 3 days; March, 14 days; April, 2 days; May, 3 days; June, 4 days; July, None; September, 6 days; October, 1 day; Total 33 days

Why were these absences valuable to the State of Michigan? They were business trips on behalf of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, which has nearly 22 million loaned on farms in Michigan, most of which is within 60 miles of my District.

One of my committee assignments is Private Corporations of which I was Chairman for six years. This committee controls all legislation concerning financial institutions such as Banks, Savings and Loan Associations, Credit Unions, etc.

These trips did not cost the State of Michigan one dime. I did not turn in one dollar of travel expense in 1965 or 1966 sessions.

145 other legislators turned in additional travel expense totaling $139,845.00. These included "Junkets" to New York, Washington, Miami, New Orleans, San Francisco, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and several European Countries.

It takes 56 votes to pass a bill. The Democrats had 73 votes and the Republicans 37. Therefore the Democrats could pass or defeat any piece of legislation without one single Republican vote. Not voting on a bill is just as effective as a no vote in defeating a bill! Voting on a bill is never necessary or even useful unless it is going to be a yes vote. My important job in Lansing as a Member of the minority party is to help control legislation in committees before it reaches the floor. I also feel a deep commitment to help my constituents who may be having trouble with State agencies or officials. My work in these areas has certainly been much more effective than if I felt obliged to always be in my seat voting on every minor bill even when my vote means nothing.
