County OKs rewriting of rural zoning ordinance

Revision to cost about $3,000

Clinton County is going to get a new rural zoning ordinance. The board of supervisors Monday approved a motion to have the present zoning ordinance rewritten at a cost of approximately $3,000, the revision to be completed by next spring.

The county will enter into an agreement with the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission to do the rewriting work along the lines of a model rural zoning ordinance. The new ordinance would, however, be based on specific zoning needs of Clinton County.

The rewriting of the ordinance has been under consideration by the supervisors for several months and such a move got unanimous support Monday from all of the 17 supervisors present at the time of the roll call vote. Zoning Administrator William Coffey said the supervisors' decision made him happy.

THE PRESENT ordinance has been cumbersome and is vague in too many areas, supervisors said. So many amendments have been made that the ordinance is hard to follow, and more are needed to bring it up-to-date now, Coffey said.

"We have about reached the end of the rope on the workability of this ordinance," DeWitt Township Supervisor Reginald Nelson, a member of the zoning committee, commented.

A new, better-written zoning ordinance could also be expected to cut down considerably on the number of zoning appeals brought before the zoning appeal board, Coffey said.

Before the vote on a new ordinance was taken, the matter was referred to the board's appropriations committee for a recommendation as far as cost goes. Charles Coletta of St. Johns, chairman of the committee, told the board he felt "There are some things we'll have to do despite a tight budget." Walt Nobis, chairman of the zoning committee and a member of the appropriations and finance unit, said that "It will cost the taxpayer more money by not doing it (rewriting the ordinance) than if we do."

WITH THE "blessings" of the appropriations committee, the board passed the motion to rewrite by a 17-0 vote.

The last revision of the present ordinance was made in 1964, and as Nobis commented, it is "so muddled up with amendments it's hard to make heads or tails of it." And there are some 385 to 400 legal descriptions that are not included in the zoning ordinance now.

Nobis said his committee attempted to find out what it would cost to up-date the present ordinance, but he said he couldn't get any estimate because nobody wanted to do it. Tri-County's estimated cost for doing a complete rewriting was considerably lower than any other group contacted, and Nobis said he felt this would be the best course (See MAY REWRITE, Page 3-A)

Veterans Day plans told

Veterans Day 1967 will be observed across Clinton County this Saturday, and a formal retreat on the courthouse lawn in St. Johns will be one of the events marking the annual commemoration.

The retreat will be at 5 p.m. Saturday, but all veterans are urged to meet at the American Legion hall on East Walker Street at 4:45 p.m., ready to move out. Service caps or uniforms are optional.

"This will be our opportunity to show our Viet Nam servicemen we are behind them 100 per cent, plus paying homage to our fallen comrades of the past wars," Legion post commander George Smith said last week. "Turn out, comrades, and let's show our city and citizens we know what patriotism is."

ALL CITIZENS of the community, as well as veterans, are invited to attend the formal retreat. A unit of the National Guard of Lansing will assist in the retreat ceremony.

In the meantime, St. Johns Mayor Charles Coletta has called upon all citizens of the community to observe Saturday as Veterans Day and is asking that the occasion be observed with appropriate ceremonies "in honor of those who have borne the burden in the defense and preservation of our freedom."

"I further call upon all of our citizens and business firms to mark this day with the proud display of the flag of the United States as a reaffirmation of our support of our national purpose and an expression of appreciation of the sacrifices required for the preservation of our freedom to this day."

A RELATED EVENT to Veterans Day is tonight's "Veterans Round-Up" at 7 p.m. at the Legion Hall. This is the annual get-together of veterans of the community—veterans of World War I, World War II, the Korean War and Viet Nam.

All paid-up members of the sponsoring organizations will receive a free dinner, compliments of the VFW, Legion or St. Johns Honor Guard.

Schools in the St. Johns school District will dismiss early—at 2:30 p.m.—next Monday

City income tax OK'd

Passes by 3-2

A city income tax for St. Johns was approved by the city commission Tuesday night by a vote of 3-2.

Approval followed another lengthy discussion before a large crowd of interested citizens who attended the meeting. About 100 persons attended.

The new income tax for the city will go into effect Jan. 1. It will place a tax of 1 per cent on the taxable income of all residents within the city and a tax of one-half of 1 per cent on those persons earning their income in St. Johns but living outside the city.

The probability of a referendum on the income tax arose quickly after the meeting when many in the crowd adjourned to start the gathering of signatures.

The commission's action favoring the income tax came after over an hour of testimony from the more than 100 people in the audience. None of the 40 persons who spoke in testimony favored the income tax. After the testimony was completed there was some question about whether the tax ordinance would be taken from the table, but Commissioner Rex Sirrine finally moved for some action and got it.

Sirrine continued his remarks, however, by saying that he did not want the responsibility of putting on an income tax without a vote of the people and that he would vote against a tax.

Commissioner John Furry introduced the official motion to adopt Ordinance 210 (the income tax), and he got a support from Commissioner Mrs. Jeanne Rand.

On a roll call vote, Furry, Mrs. Rand and Mayor Charles Coletta voted for income tax and Commissioners Sirrine and Gerald Irwin voted no.

The complete wording of the income tax ordinance appears on Pages A-17 and -18 in this issue of the Clinton County News.

Following the passage of the income tax ordinance, Furry introduced Ordinance 211 which calls for a reduction of 2 mills in property taxes for next year unless the budget next year shows a further reduction would be feasible. This was a first reading of the ordinance, and no action was taken.

The public meeting was far more orderly than many others have been in the past, and Mayor Coletta insisted that the audience stick to giving testimony rather than asking questions. This was done to a great extent, and all the testimony that was heard was in objection to the tax. Many of the reasons were redundant, but the highlights were these:

"An income tax would definitely discourage new businesses from coming here."

"... Because of the exposure of confidential information to people in a small community."

"It would handicap the man with ambition who wants to get out and earn some money."

"It is not fair to make people who live out of town help pay our way here in town."

Crime, tragedy share major role in past week's news

Crime and tragedy shared a major role in the news during the past week in Clinton County.

Along the lines of tragedy were another fatal auto collision, a separate seven-injury accident, a gasoline tanker accident and fire, and a dwelling blaze which forced a family of four into a cold and snowy night.

The fatal accident—No. 10 for the county this year—occurred at 1:42 a.m. Saturday on US-27 at the Lansing Street intersection on the north edge of St. Johns.

The victim, John J. Quinlan, 55, of Mt. Pleasant, was driving south in the northbound passing lane of US-27, according to witnesses. Shortly before the accident police received a call that Quinlan had been in the northbound lane all the way from Ithaca.

ST. JOHNS POLICE Officer Gale Anderson arrived at the north edge of the city just in time to witness the accident. A northbound car driven by Leonard L. Carl, 30, of Ithaca, pulled out to pass another car and encountered the on-coming car in the wrong lanes of the divided highway.

Carl suffered facial cuts in the head-on collision but was released after treatment at Clinton Memorial Hospital. Mr. Quinlan was taken to the hospital, too, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Seven persons were hurt about 4:30 p.m. Sunday in a two-car collision at Webb Road and US-27 in DeWitt Township. They were all hospitalized, but only the driver of one of the cars, Stanley Rich, 63, of Ionia, was still in Sparrow Hospital in Lansing Tuesday.

DeWitt Township Police Chief Bruce Angell said Rich's northbound car and a car driven by Gerald M. Moredock, 19, of Sheridan, Ind., collided at the intersection. The injured included Moredock and five passengers in his car: Naomi Sloan, 26, and Helen Sloan, 27, both of Marion, Ind.; Steven Smith 19, and David Pickering, 20, both of Midland; and Timothy Kenoyer, 19, of Highland, Ind. Rich suffered cuts and bruises and was still in the hospital Tuesday.

A SPECTACULAR fire followed the wreck of a gasoline tanker, truck on icy US-27 between Bolchot and Stoll roads in DeWitt Township early Monday morning. The driver, Irvin Smith, 25, of R-1, Marshall, remained in serious condition and in intensive care at St. Lawrence Hospital Tuesday with second- and third-degree burns on his head, arm and back. DeWitt Township Police Chief Angell said Smith's tanker skidded on the highway as he was driving north and it went off the right shoulder where the two tankers overturned and exploded. The cab of the truck broke free and went off the west side. Smith leaped from the truck and landed on the highway where he suffered burns when the truck exploded.

DeWitt township and city fire departments, with help from the Lansing Fire Department, quelled the blaze. Assisting Angell in policing the accident were state police, Bath Township police, Clinton County officers and DeWitt city police.

County not eligible for snow funds

Clinton County won't be eligible to receive any special snow removal funds from the State Highway Department again this year, because we didn't get enough snow last year, despite three major storms. Last year the county had an average snowfall of 69 inches. The smallest payment by the state this year is $571 to Eaton County which had 72 inches of snow. Payments are based on average snow depth and number of miles of roads in each county.

before 4 a.m. The fire and removing of the wreckage kept US-27 closed for about 8 hours and traffic was detoured both east and west on Stoll to Bolchot and Turner. The highway was reopened at 11:45 a.m.

THE DWELLING fire occurred about 1:30 a.m. Monday. Mrs. Carl D. Teelander of 502 Vauconsant Street, St. Johns, was awakened by the smell of smoke, alerted her husband, and they escaped with their two small children.

The St. Johns Fire Department was called, but the fire burned out the living room dining room, and kitchen of the one-story home. Two bedrooms were heavily damaged by smoke.

A defective furnace in the utility room of the house was tentatively blamed for the fire by Fire Chief Clare Majer.

The Teelanders are now living with Mrs. Teelander's mother, Mrs. Mary Prochaska at 1170 Wildcat Road.

County employee salaries to climb $10,650 in 1968

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors Monday approved new salary ranges for 11 wage classes for county courthouse employees and then gave informal approval to $10,650 in salary increases granted by the salary and clerk hire committee.

The salary increases apply to 39 employees and appointed officials, making an average increase of $272 per employee. Some positions, however, did not receive salary increases for 1968. Increases that were granted ranged from $200 to a top of $500 per year.

The county board's only official action was to change the wage classifications. The committee's recommendation was the elimination of Wage Class 1, and changing of classes two through nine to one through eight. New nine, 10 and 11 wage classes were made.

THE NEW SALARY ranges are: Class 1, $3,200 to $4,000; Class 2, $3,500 to $4,500; Class 3, $3,700 to $4,900; Class 4, $4,000 to $5,100; Class 5, $4,200 to $5,300; Class 6, $4,500 to $5,500; Class 7, $4,900 to $6,100; Class 8, $5,000 to $6,500; Class 9, $6,500 to $8,000; Class 10, $7,000 to $10,000; and Class 11, $10,000 to $13,500.

In addition to the wages changes within classifications, new classification of individual employees was made in several cases, including the clerk in the clerk's office from Class 4 to Class 3; deputy register of deeds from Class 3 to Class 4; county en-

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

Winter time is party time, especially during the holidays. As any woman knows, parties are more fun if you're dressed for them. . . . and women's party clothes and formal are on the really elegant side this year. Devastatingly beautiful dresses in a splendor of color lead the fashion parade, many encrusted with sparkling jewels and ornaments.

To dry clean such clothing successfully, not only must the fabric from which the garment is made be considered, but also each material (including trimmings) which goes to make up the entire article.

As a rule, ornaments, jewels and metal and stone-studded buttons must be removed before dry cleaning. Sequins and other bead trimmings are usually too numerous to be taken off and require very special cleaning care. Trimmings that are a different color than that of the main garment have to be tested to make sure that the colors won't "bleed."

You can trust the cleaning of your precious formal to us with complete confidence that we will give them attentive care and return them to you impeccably clean and new-looking. Remember, with fine clothes especially, the sweetness of low price never makes up for the bitterness of low quality!

6 accidents investigated by police

There were a number of property damage accidents around the county during the past week, and several involved minor injuries.

Geather W. Marcus, 54, of 11371 N. US-27, DeWitt, and Lavern Marcus, 48, suffered cuts and bruises in a two-car accident about 6 p.m. Sunday at US-27 and Stoll Road in DeWitt Township. They were in a car that was struck from the rear by one driven by Ross J. Brown, 71, of Lansing.

Both cars were going south. Brown said he saw the Marcus car start to make a left turn, but when he attempted to stop his foot slipped from the brake pedal onto the gas pedal.

NORMAN J. Pohl, 32, of 5147 W. Centerline Road escaped injury when his car left DeWitt Road south of Taft, jumped a pile of stone, hit three newspaper boxes, ran across two lawns, destroyed a shrub and spun out across the road and stopped in a ditch on top of a mail box. He claimed another car coming from the north forced him off the road. Pohl was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions, resulting in an accident. The crash occurred last Thursday.

Mrs. Dawn M. Frost, 20, of 110 N. Lansing Street, St. Johns, complained of pains as a result of a two-car collision at the corner of East Sturgis and Wight streets in the city about noon Nov. 1. The other car involved, driven by Michael Galvach, 17, of 704 N. Clinton, reportedly stopped at the yield sign and then started up, striking the Frost car. Galvach was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Charles H. Johnson, 21, of 537 N. East Street, Ovid, swerved off the highway to avoid hitting several stalled cars, a wrecker and the Elsie police car about 9 p.m. Friday on Hollister Road a half-mile south of Mead. It was snowing heavily at the time, police reports said.

ERMA KNAUS of Bannister lost control of her car on a slippery Hollister Road Friday and she hit a guard post and went into a ditch near the Elsie limits. She wasn't hurt.

Two cars collided about 8:10 p.m. in front of the Northside Drive-in on US-27 in DeWitt Township. Kurt H. Tucker, 25, of Lansing said an unknown car in the passing lane made a quick stop, forcing him to swerve into the rear of an auto driven by Gordon L. Olson, 24, of Pinckney, who was stopped in the driving lane because of another accident farther up the road.

Sixth grade honor roll students named

The following sixth grade students of the Swegles Street School were on the honor roll for the first marking period: Sue Davis, Tom French, Gloria Hackett, Michael Paradise, Jack Patterson, Larry Ritter, Tom Smiley, Stephanie Toth, and Cheryl Worral.

St. Johns police Officer Russell Doty (standing) and Deputy Sheriff Richard May inspect tools and tires which were recovered in the home of one of four suspects arrested in connection with a burglary at Bee's Chevrolet-Olds body shop Oct. 29.

Criminal Court

Merwin H. Counterman, 53, of 13300 US-27, DeWitt, is being held on $1,000 bond at the county jail on a charge of felonious assault.

George C. Hodges, 42, of Lansing was fined $75 and assessed costs of $19.30 Monday by Municipal Judge Alba Wert on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor. Hodges was arrested Sunday in DeWitt Township.

Gale F. Price, 18, of 130 E. Oak Street, Elsie, was fined $100 plus $19.30 costs Monday by Judge Wert on a charge of speeding in Greenbush Township.

Joy D. Rood, 18, of Lansing, charged with having no operator's license, was fined $35 plus $19.30 costs and sentenced to three days in the county jail Monday by Wert.

Judge Wert also fined Guy W. Wooten, 52, of Lansing $50 plus $19.30 costs on a charge of impaired driving.

Crime has its day, takes its lumps, too

Crimes were foiled both in the act and by later capture during the last week in Clinton County, and some criminals were successful, too.

St. Johns police have jailed four suspects in connection with the theft of four tires and several tool boxes from Bee's Chevrolet-Olds body shop on South US-27 sometime the weekend of Oct. 20. They are all charged with breaking and entering.

They are Jimmie H. Bauerle, 18, of Lansing; Paul E. Hoyt, 20, of Lansing; Victor F. Daily, 18, of Lansing and Gary F. Beech, 24, of Okemos. They are being held on $1,500 bond.

HOYT AND DAILY were arrested last Wednesday and Bauerle and Beech last Thursday by city officers Russell Doty and Lyle French and Deputy Sheriff Richard May.

May had jotted down the license number of a car parked along the road in front of the body shop early the morning of Oct. 29, although two occupants of the car said they were only having car trouble. When the theft was reported Monday morning, Oct. 30, May recalled the incident and looked up the license number. This led to the identification of the suspects, a search warrant was obtained, and the stolen equipment was recovered last Wednesday.

Jack G. Steinhilber, 23, of Idlewild Court, R-5, St. Johns, is being held at the county jail under $2,500 bond on a charge of breaking and entering at the Zephyr gasoline station on South US-27 in St. Johns. City and county police arrested him inside the station early Monday morning. Steinhilber demanded examination, and Municipal Judge Alba Wert set a pre-examination for Friday.

CRIMINALS DID HAVE success early last Thursday morning at the Beck and Hyde Farmarina on US-27 five miles north of St. Johns. Thieves sawed through a log chain and drove away with a trailer and two snowmobiles already on the trailer.

Dan Beck of the firm set the value of the stolen equipment at $2,500. The two snowmobiles were on the trailer and covered with canvas. A $100 reward has been offered for information leading to the return of the machines and the arrest of the persons involved in the theft.

There were other crime stories worth note in the past week, too. The VanEss Construction Co. of Comstock Park told city police that the windshield and right door glass on a truck parked on Townsend Road near US-27 were smashed sometime early last week by an object similar to a hand axe.

Halloween vandalism was minimal, or so reports would indicate. A yard light globe at the Al Marrah home at 309 N. Ottawa Street in St. Johns was broken and knocked off sometime Halloween night.

Glenn Fifield, 14, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Glenn Fifield of 108 E. Shurgis Street, suffered a badly swollen eye, the result of having been hit by a stray egg near the downtown area of St. Johns last Tuesday night. He reported that some older boys were throwing eggs at passing cars. Several pieces of broken shells were removed from the eye area.

County may not seek federal funds for CD center in courthouse wing

The controversial civil defense operating center in the new east wing of the Clinton County Courthouse came up for discussion again Monday by the board of supervisors.

Derrill Shinabery of Greenbush Township, chairman of the building and grounds committee, asked for discussion on whether or not the county should apply for about $17,000 in federal funds available because of the extra money that was put into making the emergency operating center in the basement of the wing.

The general tone of the discussion was that the county should not ask for the money. "If we once accept it, then we may have 'sold' the basement to the federal government," Shinabery said.

THE $17,000 IS ABOUT half of what it cost the county to build that wing to federal civil defense specifications for an emergency operating center. CD officials at the state level have been asking the county to apply for 50 per cent reimbursement, but the county has been putting off such application on the grounds that final work on the building isn't completed. Only minor touchup is yet to be done.

The board, in its discussion Monday, seemed to fear that if the federal money was to be accepted, they would give up some manner of control over the use of the basement of the wing. With a new district court statewide proposal facing them, there was consideration of placing the district courtroom somewhere in the east wing.

"There is no reason the basement could not be reworked to make it like the basement of the west wing," Shinabery said, "if we can maintain control over its use."

Supervisor Lorenz Tiedt of St. Johns said that for $1.50 per county resident (about the cost for the special requirements) he wouldn't want to relinquish control over the basement.

SHINABERY CAUTIONED that his bringing up the discussion should not be construed as being against civil defense or the presence of the EOC in the east wing. But he said the county should be free to make the best use of the space in the wing when the time comes that space is again at a premium.

The matter was referred to the civil defense committee to see what red tape would be involved in refusing the federal money for the wing. It will be brought up at the board's Dec. 4 meeting.

The county is still without a civil defense director. William Hufnagel of Dallas Township, chairman of the CD committee, said only two applications have been received so far. The committee will wait until the next meeting before making a recommendation.

Hufnagel reported that his committee had met with a civil defense committee from St. Johns and that the city has agreed to install a new compressor which it bought to the civil defense siren on the courthouse. The county will maintain the compressor, he said, keeping it in working order.

IN OTHER business Monday:

"The supervisors referred to the county prosecutor for proper drafting a request from Supervisor Reginald Nelson of DeWitt Township that county dog wardens be given permission to take the dog census in his township. While permission would be granted, the matter would have to be negotiated with the dog wardens. The matter will be brought up again at the next meeting.

"The board adopted a resolution concurring with one from Sanilac County, asking the state Legislature to exempt counties with less than 50,000 population from new requirements concerning ambulance service. The resolution also asks that insurance companies be required to provide insurance for ambulance charges and that the $35 uninsured motorist fee be increased to provide for that insurance cost.

The aim of the resolution is to relax laws which discourage private ambulance services from doing business. "I don't believe we (the county) are obligated to provide this expensive service to our people," Supervisor Gerald Shepard of Bath said.

A TOUCH OF SPRING ALREADY

Mrs. Beth Dean of Maple Rapids holds an autumn stranger — a lily which she picked last Thursday morning before coming to work in St. Johns. The plant had three buds last month and she didn't figure these two would develop, particularly after they lay in the snow last week. But they did . . . and gave a spring-like touch to early winter.

*THE BOARD APPROVED rezoning of about six acres of land in Bengal Township for the Monsanto Chemical Co. They are planning to build a fertilizer blending plant of bulk fertilizers in Section 7 of Bengal Township. The site is on M-21 and goes back to the railroad tracks. The rezoning is from D agricultural to G industrial. The rezoning was approved by the zoning commission, and the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission's recommendation was favorable. The Bengal Township board gave no recommendation. *Alden Livingston was reappointed to a new three-year term on the zoning commission. *A new set of annexation petitions was received Nov. 1 from the City of DeWitt. The petitions will be checked out by County Clerk Paul Wakefield and the matter will be brought up for county board action at the December meeting. If the board approves, the matter will be put to a vote of the people in the affected area immediately southwest of DeWitt and the residents of the city.

*Lorenz Tiedt was named as an additional member of the Clinton County committee pertaining to the study of a tri-county airport authority to operate Capital City Airport. Reginald Nelson of DeWitt Township, a member of that committee, said a meeting with representatives of Ingham and Eaton counties and the Civil Aeronautics Commission will be held Nov. 13 in Lansing.

Salaries . . .

(Continued from Page 1-A) that was done this year, eliminating the need for official board action on the salary changes. The committee this year is headed by Supervisor Maurice Gove of Bingham Township and also includes Elden Smith of the City of DeWitt, Gerald Shepard of Bath, Walter Thelen of Westphalia and Harold Reed of St. Johns.

THE FOLLOWING SALARY increases were approved by the committee: Deputy clerk No. 1 $300; deputy clerk No. 2 $300; drain clerk $350; county engineer $500; deputy register of deeds $300; undersheriff $500; three deputy sheriffs $500 each; turnkey at jail $500; sheriff's clerk $300; license bureau clerk No. 1 $400; license bureau clerk No. 2 $300; deputy treasurer $300; equalization director $300; equalization clerk No. 1 $400; equalization clerk No. 2 $300; assignment clerk $200; farm extension secretary $200; farm extension clerk $300; friend of court $300; friend of court secretary $250; probation clerk $200; prosecutor's clerk $300; zoning administrator $250; juvenile clerk $300; two janitors $300 each; building superintendent $350; probate registrar $300; and juvenile home matron $300.

No wage increases for 1968 were provided for matron at the jail, two dog wardens and circuit court reporter.

The committee set hourly rates for part-time courthouse employees at a minimum of $1.60 and a maximum of $2.25. Part-time deputy sheriffs will be paid $2.25 per hour.

May rewrite zoning

TRI-COUNTY'S estimated cost of $3,030, he said, was based on the supposition that that planning body would get the full amount of annual appropriations it requested from the three participating counties—Clinton, Ingham and Eaton. If it doesn't, the cost of rewriting the zoning ordinance would probably be higher because of the need to special-hire workers on the ordinance.

Nobis said Tri-County estimated the new ordinance could be completed in six months, and they wanted to be able to get it done before the construction season gets a good start next spring. Involved will be at least six meetings with the zoning commission, one with the drain commissioner and engineer and one with the road commission.

Some zoning changes would undoubtedly be made from the current zones in drawing up the new ordinance. A public hearing on the new ordinance would be held before the board of supervisors takes action on adopting it.

NOBIS SAID the new ordinance would include zoning maps as a part of the ordinance, whereas, under the present zoning ordinance maps are merely attached. He detailed Tri-County's estimated cost for doing the maps and the whole ordinance as such:

Posting the 380-400 legal descriptions not on the maps to the 16 township base maps, $450; up-dating the general county map, $250; posting the 16 township sepias (reproducible maps), $260; and photo copies of each township map, $70 total. Total mapping costs, $1,030.

The estimated cost for writing the text of the ordinance, based on a model rural zoning ordinance but applied specifically to Clinton County, was $2,000.

The board also voted to order 4000 additional copies of the ordinance and maps at an additional cost of $400.

New septic tank permit guidelines effective here

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department has adopted additional guidelines to be followed before issuance of septic tank permits in Clinton County. The guidelines will apply in all cases where the average percolation test is less than two inches per hour or one inch per 30 minutes. Dr. F.W. Smith, medical director of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department said.

In such percolation test cases, no permit will be issued until the following requirements have been met:

- (1) A copy of the application for a permit has been given to the township supervisor with a recommended plan of installation.—If the department feels one can be recommended, His approval will be recorded.
- (2) A copy of the application will also be given to the county zoning administrator and the county drain commission, and their approval or disapproval will be recorded.
- (3) If there is disagreement between the above four bodies, a meeting will be called and a consensus opinion will be sought.
- (4) A final approval or disapproval of the permit will then be given by the medical director of the health department.

Clinton well represented at State Grange meeting

Clinton County was well represented when the Michigan State Grange held its 94th annual session at Sturgis Oct. 17-21. This year marked the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Grange.

Among those attending from Clinton were Almond Cressman, overseer of the Michigan State Grange, and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Thelen, assistant and lady assistant stewards.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. John Walling were representatives from the Granges of the county.

This year's annual session was special because of the 100th anniversary observance. America's oldest farm organization, the Grange was born out of the upheaval brought by the Civil War. Farmers had no spokesman, and there was an idealistic feeling that an association of farmers might help heal the breach between the North and the South.

THE IDEA CAUGHT on, and Grange halls sprang up throughout much of the country and became centers of neighborhood activities. By 1875, the Grange claimed 2 million members and turned its influence on Washington.

Through that influence the Interstate Commerce Commission developed, rural free postal delivery began, the U.S. Department of Agriculture was created, parcel post came into effect and the old postal savings program was started.

The Grange also was instrumental in starting the vocational agriculture programs in schools, and it lobbied for the pure food and drug act, the wool products labeling act and the packers and stockyards act.

The social-fraternal aspect of Grange is an important one, but Michigan Grange Master Grover Grigsby pointed out the Grange is still actively interested in economic and political problems. At its annual session last month the Grange made these moves:

*THEY CRITICIZED recent U.S. Supreme Court action which the Grange believes favors accused criminals over police in methods of handling the accused.

*They asked for laws which would jail without bond any person inciting a riot and "punish them to the full extent of the law if convicted."

*They opposed daylight saving time for Michigan.

*They demanded reduction of tolls on the Mackinac Bridge.

*They favored a law allowing only property owners to vote on school millage issues.

*They opposed Michigan State University's recent action which charges tuition on an "ability to pay" basis.

Wayne Woodbury of 204 N. Traver Street, St. Johns, is among 17 students enrolled in a technical training course in commercial horticulture at Michigan State University. Students spend the first year in residence at MSU and during their second year serve as full-time employees in a retail flower shop or in a production greenhouse...

The Village of Elsie now has an impaired driving ordinance which sets up a lesser offense than a drunk driving charge. The ordinance provides a maximum penalty of 90 days, a $100 fine or both. Violators will receive four points on their driving record for each conviction. A drunk driving ordinance remains in effect.

Posing with the Grange's 100th birthday cake are Michigan State Grange officers from Clinton County at the recent state session. They are State Grange Overseer Almond Cressman and Mrs. Cressman and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Thelen, assistant and lady assistant stewards.

Next bloodmobile visit set Dec. 7

Dec. 7—the 27th anniversary of the Pearl Harbor bombing—has been selected for the semi-annual visit of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile to the St. Johns community.

Mrs. James Crosby, chairman of the local bloodmobile committee, said the Red Cross unit will be set up at the First Congregational Church basement in St. Johns from noon to 6 p.m. on Dec. 7.

She said 18 beds will be made available, which should facilitate more rapid handling of blood donors and thus a shorter wait for them.

The committee is aiming for a record 300 pints of blood donated. The current bloodmobile record in St. Johns is 243 pints this past July.

The bloodmobile committee consists of Mrs. Crosby as chairman; Mrs. John Paradise in charge of the telephone; Mrs. Leonard Puetz in charge of volunteer help for the bloodmobile; and Mrs. Ed Idzkowski in charge of promotion and advertising.

St. Johns women attend annual district convention

Members of the St. Johns Woman's Club were in attendance at the 46th annual convention of the West Central District Oct. 26 at Byron. The 35 clubs of the district registered 135 delegates and visitors.

The business meeting, conducted by District President Mrs. L. O. McNally, included the adoption of a resolution that the $250 raised for a library scholarship in memory of its beloved and honored member, Esther R. Hunter, be formally established and placed at Ferris State College. It was further resolved to continue to raise additional funds for further library scholarships.

Esther R. Hunter, a former St. Johns club woman was also a West Central District president and a past president of the Michigan State Federation. She was a member of the Michigan State Library Commission and during her lifetime devoted much time and effort toward the betterment of library service in the State of Michigan.

THE ADDRESS by the State President Mrs. Charles Rose mentioned that "Women's Clubs are no longer just a literary one but a Woman's Chamber of Commerce in every town and hamlet."

Local club women Mrs. Winchell Brown, department chairman of fine arts, and Mrs. Esther Graham, division chairman of trade and aid in the department of international affairs, assisted in the workshops of the various departments of the federation.

The director, Miss Esther Bain, of Girlstown or Loch Rio, the Michigan State Federation Women's Club home for girls at Belleville, spoke of the pride members should feel in having helped 71 girls adjust to a normal life.

A "first" for the district was a public speaking contest, a new division of the department of fine arts. Contestants chose either the theme of the General Federation, "Build With Youth For A Better World," or Michigan's Girlstown. Mrs. Robert Diltzer represented the St. Johns Woman's Club, choosing the letters of Loch Rio as her topic in setting the theme in speaking on Girlstown—"Love Opens Children's Hearts, Releasing Inner Oppressions."

AT THE ANNUAL election voting Mrs. Kenneth Leatherman of Caledonia as West Central's president for 1968-69, the St. Johns' club president, Mrs. John Rumbaugh, was elected to the board of directors.

Peter Chan spoke at the evening banquet on "Thal and American Relationship." "No matter

Maple Rapids makes new effort for sewer grant

MAPLE RAPIDS—The Village of Maple Rapids switched to a back-up plan last Wednesday night after an initial effort at a federal grant for a "sewer system failed."

The village was informed a $109,200 federal grant through the Federal Water Pollution Control Agency would not be available. Now the village is checking on the status of an application for a $298,000 grant from the Farmers Home Administration.

If that fails, there's still an application for a loan to cover the entire $408,000 sewerage facility project to pursue.

The $109,200 grant won't be available because the state's priority system doesn't permit the allocation at this time, the Maple Rapids trustees were informed. That grant would have covered cost of the treatment portion of the project.

In other business last Wednesday, the council granted permits to Robert Miller of South Poplar Street and John M. Ryan of 606 S. Maple Street to temporarily locate trailers on their property.

From Impala, world's most popular car

The silent ride of quality for '68

Now there are more good reasons than ever why people should prefer Impala. Like all regular Chevrolets, it's even further ahead for '68!

A more hushed ride. Among other things, we refined and improved everything about the ride to make it surprisingly smooth and silent. Just try it and see. You'll find that our engineers used electronic computers to pinpoint places where noises might develop, and installed a special network of rubber cushions to keep squeaks and rattles from disturbing your comfort. We doubt that you've ever driven a car that moves so noiselessly.

The look you like best. People have always preferred Impala's looks. So for 1968 we made it even more beautiful. We gave the grille a more massive and masculine look. We gave the hood sweeping new lines and tucked the wipers neatly out of sight. We designed the taillights right into the rear bumper for a look you're sure to like.

We owe you the best. We figure we owe people more than other car makers do. Because it was people who put us in first place in the first place, and who keep us there year after year. We appreciate it.

Fulton raps Central Montcalm 21-14 to end good season

MIDDLETON—The Fulton High School Pirates wound up their 1967 football season on a winning note, dumping a fighting Central Montcalm team 21-14 Friday night.

The Pirates finished the season with a 4-1-1 Tri-Central league record, good for third place behind co-champs Portland and Lakeview. Fulton had a 5-2-1 overall record.

The first half was the best for the Pirates, both offensively and defensively. On defense, they held the host Central Montcalm team to only 18 yards total offense while scoring 13 points themselves on offense.

BILL PRIEST got the first Fulton touchdown early in the second period with a nine-yard sweep around end. John Hoard kicked the extra point to make it 7-0. Later in the period Randy VanSickle scored on a two-yard dive play, and it was 13-0 at halftime.

VanSickle scored another touchdown in the third quarter, this time on a four-yard run. Fulton wrapped up the scoring in the fourth period when Larry Motz tackled Central Montcalm quarterback Jeff Gerlach in the end zone when he attempted to roll out on a pass play. The safety gave Fulton its final two points.

The safety was set up by one of Phil Smalley's fine punts that was downed on the two-yard line. Smalley punted five times during the game and averaged 41 yards per boot, helped by big kicks of 62 and 50 yards.

CENTRAL MONTCALM scored its touchdowns in the second half. In the third quarter Gerlach passed to Williams for a touchdown and in the fourth quarter found Mills open for a TD.

The game was as close in the statistics department as it was on the scoreboard. Fulton had nine first downs to Central's five; they outrushed Central 191 to 35, but Central outpassed Fulton in yardage gained by 177 to 34. Fulton completed two of three passes, while Central Montcalm completed 10 of 19 and had two intercepted by the Fulton defense.

The defense was led by Randy Loudonbeck who had seven tackles and two assists and who put lots of pressure on Central Montcalm runners and passers all night.

VanSickle was the leading ground gainer for Fulton, running 20 times for a total of 83 yards. Dick Zammaron carried 14 times for 80 yards.

Bath Bees win to share CMAC title

BATH—The Bath Bees, Porterville Vikings and Portland St. Patrick's Shamrocks wound up their football seasons Friday night all tied for first place in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference.

The Bees swooped by a stubborn Laingsburg Wolfpack 26-6, Porterville beat a fighting Fowler team 20-13, and St. Patrick's edged Webberville 12-6.

Bath, Porterville and St. Patrick's all finished the year with 6-1 records in the conference and 7-1 records overall.

Bath staged a sort of come-from-behind victory over

Laingsburg, although their deficit was early and short. Laingsburg scored first in the second period when Nick DeVault ran five yards for a touchdown to make it 6-0. Bath tied it up at halftime when Elias David passed to Mike Woodruff on a 55-yard play for a touchdown.

BATH TOOK THE lead as quickly as possible in the second half and then broke the game wide open. Warren Baird took the second-half kickoff and ran it back 82 yards for a touchdown. Later David again passed to Woodruff for a touchdown, this one covering 45 yards.

Then again in the fourth quarter, Baird broke loose for a 41-yard run that scored a touchdown. Davidson and Bill Harris ran the extra points.

Bath's championship effort in the final game was headed by Baird who had 143 yards rushing.

Merlin Truman played an outstanding game at defensive end.

Over at Fowler, the host Eagles kept the pressure on Porterville before the Vikings eked out a 20-13 victory.

Scoring was hot and heavy in the first period. Jerry St. John scored on a 13-yard run for Porterville, but then quarterback George Goerge ran the ensuing kickoff back 65 yards and a few minutes later scored for Fowler on a one-yard plunge.

MIKE HEINZE passed 31 yards to Mike Taverniti and Vic Amey scored the extra point to give Porterville a 13-6 halftime lead. Heinze ran one yard for the last Porterville touchdown in the third period, and Amy ran the extra point.

Fowler controlled the ball most of the fourth quarter, scoring early in the period on a one-yard plunge by Gary Schueller. Goerge passed to Steve Nobis for the extra point. Fowler threatened to score again near the end of the game but a fumble ruined the last chance.

Wings lose, Marauders win in tune-up for 'jug'

Ionia downs St. Johns 28-14 to take league title

The Ionia Bulldogs capitalized on Redwings fumbles to set up two touchdowns and then went on to win by a score of 28-14.

The Bulldogs win gave Ionia the West Central League championship with a 6-1 league record. Ionia's only league loss of the season was handed to them by Charlotte 13-0.

THE REDWINGS traveled to Ionia with a chance to share the West Central crown if they could win. They took an early 7-0 lead on a pass from Tim Durner to Cary Hambleton that covered six yards. John Salemi ran for the extra point.

Midway in the second period, Ionia's Bruce LaPointe recovered a St. Johns fumble and the Bulldogs capitalized on the break to tie the score. Greg Wilson went 21 yards for the TD and a pass from Chuck Stewart to Gerry Woodbury was good for the extra point.

A SHORT TIME later, Ionia went into the lead when Stewart went the final two yards on a sneak. Wilson's 26 yard run had set up the scoring play. Bob Baker plunged for the extra point and Ionia led 14-7.

The Redwings came storming right back with a pass from Durner to John Markman giving St. Johns a first down on the Ionia 25. Mike Green took a lateral from Durner and went in to score. Salemi again ran for the extra point and it was a tie ballgame with eight seconds left in the half.

NEITHER TEAM could do much in the third quarter, but early in the fourth quarter Ionia broke the tie and took the lead they never relinquished.

Greg Wilson went 18 yards off tackle for the score and Pete Schanski plunged for the extra point to make the score 21-14.

LATER IN THE fourth quarter, St. Johns drove deep into Ionia territory but lost the ball on downs. Ionia took over but the Redwings defense held and Ionia was forced to punt. St. Johns took over on their own 19 and on the second play the Redwings fumbled and Ionia recovered.

On a third and four situation, Stewart passed to end Bruce LaPointe in the endzone with only 1:23 left in the game. Schanski added the extra point and Ionia held off the Redwings to win 28-14.

OTHER WEST CENTRAL league action saw Grand Ledge and Hastings playing to a scoreless tie, while Greenville closed out its membership in the West Central league with a 25-0 win over Alma, and Charlotte rolled over winless Lakewood 27-6.

Final standings in the West Central has Ionia on top with its 6-1 record, followed by Grand Ledge 4-2-1, St. Johns, Greenville and Charlotte, all with 4-3 records, Hastings 3-3-1, Alma 2-5 and Lakewood 0-7.

THIS WEEK THE Redwings are at home to close out the season against the Ovid-Elsie Marauders. The Marauders have a 6-2 record for the season, 5-1 in the Mid-Michigan B league. At stake in this, the final game for both teams, will be the "Little Brown Jug," a trophy donated by Federal-Mogul shop employees last year.

Ionia falls to JVs in finale

The St. Johns junior varsity finished the football season in fine style last Thursday night by defeating the Ionia Bulldogs 13 to 7.

The weather was very cool and damp but the JVs got off to a hot start with Redwing Jeff Silm running 20 yards on an off-tackle sweep to score the touchdown. Silm also scored the extra point on a run.

Early in the second quarter Ionia scored on a 50-yard pass play. The extra point was good. St. Johns came back with new vigor and scored in the third quarter. Two plays after Rich Stoddard intercepted a pass he scored, diving three yards to make the touchdown. The extra point attempt by Silm failed. A good defense held the Bulldogs scoreless for the rest of the game.

Dave Gaffney was elected team captain by his team mates for this last game. Rich Bolder was the defensive player of the year and Chuck Green and Silm tied for the most touchdowns scored during the season. Both had seven.

PAYS DIVIDENDS Building strong friendships is a good investment—an insurance policy for the future.

CPL RAY CHAMBERLAIN

Ray L. Chamberlain, a former all-state football player with the former Ovid Romans, is continuing to play football while serving in the U.S. Marine Corps. Chamberlain, a corporal stationed at the U.S. Marine Corps base at Camp Pendleton, Calif., is playing his second year with the eighth-man football team of the 2nd Infantry Training Regiment. Last season his team won the base championship with a 12-1 record, and currently they are 8-0 for this year.

Chamberlain is playing first string defensive guard. Commented Fred A. Jackson, special services chief for the USMC at Camp Pendleton: "What Ray lacks in size, he makes up for in desire and speed. He is aggressive and works hard in practice and sets a good example for other team members and for younger boys working their way up."

Chamberlain, a 6-0, 190-pound Marine, graduated from Ovid High in 1965. He is the son of the Duane Chamberlains of 303 W. Front Street, Ovid.

Sports, by Ovid-Elsie JVs, 18-2

OVID-ELSIE—The Ovid-Elsie junior varsity football team defeated Birch Run 45-0 last Thursday.

Frank Winkler scored the first TD with an 85-yard run on the first play of the game. A few plays later Dave Long returned a punt 47 yards for another touchdown, and Dale Malder scored the extra point. Just before the half Terry Plozman went off tackle for 60 yards and a touchdown, and then Ovid-Elsie blocked a Birch Run punt and Terry Latham picked up the ball and carried it into the end zone. Long scored the extra point.

In the third quarter, Long passed to Plozman for 30 yards and a touchdown—Long's 11th touchdown pass of the season. Ovid-Elsie's final score also came on a pass, this one from freshman quarterback Len Bolton to Frank Winkler. It was Winkler's ninth touchdown of the season.

The Ovid-Elsie defense gave up only two first downs to Birch Run. Charlie Heinze again led the defense with 12 tackles, and Ed Waters and Gary Burns each had six.

The O-E junior varsity finished the season with a 6-2 record, winning over Portland, Chesaning, Bullock Creek, Corunna, Perry and Birch Run and losing to Ithaca and St. Louis.

DeWitt has rough time in finale

DeWITT—Friday just wasn't DeWitt's night on the football field.

In the Panthers' final game of the season they weren't able to move the ball out past their own 30 yard line, they fumbled five times, and three punts were blocked.

And they lost 18-0, their seventh defeat of the season to go along with one tie game.

The visitors and the victors were the Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates, who themselves have had trouble getting into the win column this season. But Friday night they took command of the game and never were jeopardized.

But after scoring in the first period on a 25-yard pass play from Mike Miller to Verne Thelen, the P-W Pirates had trouble working against a stubborn DeWitt defense.

It wasn't until the fourth period when Jerry Pohl blocked a DeWitt punt on the 5 yard line and Todd Beachnau recovered in the end zone that the final disposition of the game was assured. Before it was over, Ken Weber scored another touchdown for P-W on a 5-yard run.

Both coaches praised their own and the other defenses. Coach Gary Roberts of DeWitt said he thought the Panther defense played well considering that Pewamo-Westphalia was inside the DeWitt 30 most of the evening but yet scored only three touchdowns.

The game was played on a water-covered field, but the turf was exceptionally solid for those kind of conditions.

O-E nips Birch Run in final tune-up

OVID-ELSIE—The Ovid-Elsie Marauders waited for over three quarters of their snow-filled game with Birch Run Friday night before getting the break they were waiting for.

It was one of those breaks that they made. With just over 10 1/2 minutes left in the game, the O-E front line opened up a hole through which left-halfback Jerry Gazda found running room. Gazda sloshed 81 yards for the only touchdown of the game to highlight a 7-0 victory for the Marauders over Birch Run.

It was Ovid-Elsie's only real break of the game. They out-gained the visiting Panthers in total yardage, 178-104, and had eight first downs to Birch Run's six, but they never had an outright scoring threat.

THE MARAUDERS stayed on the ground all night, never attempting to pass because of the cold, snow and slippery footing. The Marauders got to the Birch Run 30 on their first series of plays but lost the ball on downs. Birch Run threatened twice in the third quarter, but couldn't punch across a touchdown. They punted to Ovid-Elsie after their first series of plays and then immediately fell on a fumble of the punt at the O-E 9 yard line. But the Panthers fumbled on the first play and Ovid-Elsie took possession again.

The Marauders got out to the 37, but on a fourth-down kicking situation, the slippery football eluded punter Don Wilson and Birch Run recovered on the O-E 20. They moved it down as far as the seven, but two passes were knocked down and Ovid-Elsie took the ball back on their seven.

THE MARAUDERS moved out to the 19 quickly, and that set the stage for Gazda's 81-yard run, the longest touchdown run in Ovid-Elsie's two-year history. L.D. Jones added the extra point by running off the left side of his front line.

Don Wilson was again the Marauders' "big bear" on defense, being credited with 14 tackles.

St. Johns football 'gate' helps carry all school athletics

By MIKE GALVACH News Staff Writer

While warm weather and clear nights prevail, fall football is the best box office draw for athletic contests during the school year.

Until the fourth game St. Johns had been lucky; for the most part the weather was fairly decent, the crowds were large and the income was good. But on Oct. 27 the game was postponed, and Saturday night the people who turned out in mud and slush were hardly more in number than those who attended the dance after the game.

While the weather definitely affects attendance, football is still the largest crowd pleaser. And it's also the most expensive sport of all those played in high school—each player on the field has almost a hundred dollars in equipment on him.

THIS, THEN, ACCOUNTS for the increase in the cost of admission. Dwane Wirick, athletic director at Rodney B. Wilson High School, explained that the need for the increase in admission price over other sports arose out of the need for more funds to buy sports equipment. As prices for good athletic equipment increase, each individual sport must make up the difference.

The three paid-admission sports—football, basketball, and wrestling—must carry the rest of the sports and pay for all the equipment out of the money taken in for admission. These three sports run themselves and the other sports; thus no money has to be subsidized by the school board.

To focus on football, there have been some large crowds at the games this year. The total amount of tickets sold for the first three games exceeded the $5,500 mark. Compare this to $1,276 taken in for all the home games last year.

Basketball is the second largest sports attraction in school, taking second probably only because the gym can just hold a certain number of people.

"Because the football field is situated at the park, a larger crowd may be admitted," Wirick said. "The spectators may stand around the field and watch the game. The gym has been filled to capacity many times during the seasons, but it is hard to admit a larger crowd than the gym has room for."

Winning teams draw the spectators in large numbers and St. Johns has had many in recent years. During the past 10 years attendance at football and basketball games has increased greatly due to the fine ball clubs St. Johns has had.

The spectators are of a new breed, also, for in recent years they have seemingly developed into better sports. The reason for this could possibly be that spectators understand the mechanics of the sports better. People are more interested and excited by sports today than ever before. Both the home and opposing spectators today have never been better behaved.

"THE CHEERLEADERS also have a hand in the controlling of the crowds and in recent years they have done an exceptional job," Wirick said.

Four state agencies will hold a joint hearing Nov. 13 beginning at 10 a.m. so that interested persons may submit data or views on the proposed rules and regulations for the administration of the Subdivision Control Act (Act 288, P.A. 1967) which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1968.

The hearing will be held at Lansing in the Supreme Court chambers in the Capitol. The agencies are the Departments of Highways, Public Health, Treasury and Conservation's Water Resources Commission. The agencies recommend that such data or views be submitted in writing and supplemented orally at the hearing.

Veterans Day 1967—a day of appreciation

Saturday, Nov. 11, the entire nation will observe Veterans Day 1967. Although the date was observed originally as the anniversary of the World War I armistice, the observation of Veterans Day 1967 is in no way a consecration of the memory of any past armed conflict.

The observance of Veterans Day 1967 will be more than an expression of esteem by America for her veterans. It will be even more than a demonstration of appreciation for a new generation of gallant Americans who serve the nation's purpose today.

YES, VETERANS Day 1967 will bring home to millions of Americans the fact that "Freedom is not free!"

"The inescapable price of freedom," said Gen. Douglas MacArthur, "is the ability to preserve it from destruction."

How valuable is freedom? Ask the millions from Central Europe to Southeast Asia, to the Caribbean, who have fled the tyranny of godless Communism. They seek freedom, the individual dignity, which was bought by the courage of our Nation's founders and retained by heroism, in equal portion to their courage, by succeeding generations of Americans.

MORE THAN 20 million living Americans, from personal experience, know the price of our precious freedom.

No one hates war more than the war veteran. But that same veteran knows that the lofty goals of freedom, an honorable peace, a recognition of individual human dignity cannot be attained while there are forces seeking to dominate the world through acts of aggression.

The observance of Veterans Day must be an expression of national unity, a message clearly understandable to those forces of aggression seeking signs of internal weakness. The citizens of Clinton County can do their country a vital service by their participation in the Veterans Day program here.

In so doing, we will not only honor our veterans, but also acknowledge the price which must be paid on demand for our freedom. Let us further resolve by our participation in Veterans Day 1967 that our precious freedom shall be preserved and that we shall persevere in our defense of Freedom's cause until that day dawns on a world blessed with an honorable peace.

School bond issue election nears

Less than two weeks remain before the Nov. 20 special election on the $250,000 school bond issue in the St. Johns School District.

School officials this week announced that absentee ballots for that election can be picked up any time at the school administration office in the high school. The deadline for absentee ballot applications is 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 18. Absentee ballots must be turned in before 8 p.m. on election day.

The bond issue election would result in a three-quarters of a mill additional school tax for nine years, school officials point out. This would amount to 75 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

For example, a house valued at $14,000 would have a state equalized valuation of $7,000 and the three-quarters of a mill would result in a tax of $5.15 per year. The bond issue would run for only nine years.)

The money from the bond issue would be used to equip and furnish the rural elementary schools, complete high school site development and build a bus storage garage.

True success follows labor, and nothing else.

Mrs Smith hosts Kith 'n Kin Club

Mrs Clyde Smith of St. Johns was hostess for the Kith'n'Kin birthday club Monday evening, Oct. 30, at the home of her sister Mrs Charles Fritz of DeWitt. (Mrs Smith is to enter Ford Hospital at Detroit Tuesday morning where she will undergo surgery.)

Mrs Florence Wickham of St. Johns, was the birthday guest and she received a group gift of money from the club.

Instead of party games during the evening the hostess supplied the materials and each guest made an art and styrofoam doll to take home.

Mrs Arnold Gross of Lansing drew the door prize, a center piece of flowers, made of feathers by Mrs Alva Hartman.

The November hostess will be Mrs Kenneth Bunge. Other guests included Mrs Bill Shaver, Mrs Max Pierce, Mrs Clint Wright of Lansing, Mrs Farley Bouts of DeWitt and Mrs Ernie Fritz.

Mr and Mrs Terry Nolph were Tuesday visitors of his uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs Lloyd Ford of Clinton Village. They also called on Mr and Mrs Ernie Fritz. Terry is in the service and they are stationed at an Air Force base in Massachusetts.

MARINE CORP DAY

"The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand." Nov. 10, 1975, the Continental Congress authorized the United States Marines to take part in the Revolutionary War.

Governor Romney has proclaimed Nov. 10, United States Marine Corps Day.

Since 1775 Marines have grown from their original two battalions of sharpshooters to an organization of highly mobile divisions specially trained and equipped for invasion and quick seizure of enemy bases, supported by tactical air units.

The Marine Corps insignia, the "Globe, Anchor and Eagle" stands for its fighting role on land, at sea and in the air. "Semper Paratus" (Always Faithful) is the Corps' motto.

IN 1805 THE CORPS took part in destroying the stronghold of the Barbary Pirates at Derne, Tripoli. This ended the pirate menace that had attacked the shipping of many nations. One of the most stirring battle songs of the armed forces is the Marines' Hymn, "From the Halls of Montezuma to the Shores of Tripoli."

Norman Pohl, Kirk V. Burl, Hugh Hall and Wallace (Gus) Temple are some of the local "Leathernecks" to have served in the USMC in the past 10 years.

LIBRARY CLUB HEARS

Members of the Ovid-Duplain Library Club and their families met in the social room of the Methodist Church of Shepardsville, Friday evening, Nov. 3, for a potluck supper.

Mr and Mrs George Craig of Ovid furnished the evening's entertainment by showing and narrating pictures of their recent summer trip to Alaska.

The next regular meeting of the club will be hosted by Mrs Charles Walker at her home on East Colony Road at 12:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1.

'TRICK OR TREAT'

Another Halloween has passed. Each year the people in this area look forward to greeting the ghosts, goblins, witches and black cats who rap on the door and call out "trick or treat".

Year after year a noticeable few have reached the "too old" age bracket for this and are replaced by a new set of toddlers on their first trip.

The two young sons of Mr and Mrs Robert Houska of St. Clair road drew much attention as they appeared on door steps in their very complete costumes dressed as "hippies".

At the Pat Pohl residence of N. Watson Road generosity ran rampant. Along with the usual tasty treats, Pat was slipping a puppy in the treat bags of the younger set. A few mothers had to back track on their route to return the discovered pup after a few miles of travel.

Even though the "treat" delighted the youngsters, the evening ended with the original number of pups at the Pohl's.

Mrs Belford Ewer of N. Watson Road entered Clinton Memorial Hospital Tuesday.

Kirk Burl of S. Shepardsville Road was a guest of Bill Shinn at the Clarence Shinn cottage near Buelah where a weekend of wild turkey hunting was anticipated.

Several members of the Rochester Colony Extension Club plan to attend the Christmas workshop at Corunna, Nov. 8 and 9.

Mr and Mrs J. D. Washburn, son Dan and Mr and Mrs Freeman Treacher attended funeral services at Reed City Sunday for Mrs Vickie Pratt of Ashton.

Bob Pratt spent the weekend at the J. D. Washburn home in the Colony.

Mr and Mrs L. J. Olson of the Colony entertained Dr and Mrs Kenneth Olson of Midland Sunday.

CCN FILES ADDED TO
Among the correspondents who were guests at the Clinton County News Thursday afternoon, each woman undoubtedly left with an special interest in a different phase of the operations of a weekly newspaper.

Most significant of the tour for Mrs Al Rademacher of N. Watson Road was learning of the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant and the work of John Cumming, director of the library, where the best collection of historical documents are kept.

This bit of information aroused the correspondent's interest into more research on subject. She learned that the library was founded in 1955, one of the youngest research centers in the state, with some rare documents, a few unique, while other are "the most important historical documents our society produces—newspapers," according to Cumming.

Also contained in the library, valued well over one million dollars are about 900 rare maps, dating from the 17th century 5,000 photographs, 375 state newspapers, 1,000 reels of microfilmed newspapers, books, pamphlets, sheet music and so on.

THE FIRST BOOK printed in Michigan is among the rarities in the collection. "L'Amie Penitente" was printed by Father Gabriel Richard in Detroit in 1701.

Mr Hiram Hazen is a patient at St. Lawrence Hospital. Elbert Laurence returned home Wednesday from St. Lawrence Hospital following surgery.

AMONG THE communications addressed to the board and considered was a letter from Michigan Council No. 55 AFL-CIO requesting that a date be set to start negotiations on a new contract for the hourly rated employees of the commission. The old contract expires Dec. 31.

Sealed bids for the November and December requirement for gasoline were opened. Five companies bid; the bid of Marathon Oil Co. was the low one this time and this company was awarded the order.

The Bath Township Board invited our superintendent, Mr Haske, and myself to head a meeting with them last Monday night and discuss what they would like the commission to accomplish during the coming year. It was my first visit to the fine new building the people of the Charter Township of Bath have erected to house their township offices; it is proof that such a structure can be both functional and attractive.

Q—I am enrolled at the University of Arkansas under the GI bill for the 1966-67 term. I plan to attend the University of Missouri for the 1967 summer session. What must I do to obtain VA educational assistance for the summer session? A—Submit a request to the VA Regional Office for a change of program or school.

RED CROSS CANTEEN HELD FOR ARMY INDUCTEES

Mrs Nancy Holland, office clerk of the Clinton County Selective Service office, takes roll early Thursday morning as some 65 young county men prepared to go to Detroit for either pre-induction physical examinations or induction into the U.S. Army. The scene is the Clinton National Bank community room, where the Red Cross set up a canteen to serve coffee and rolls to the men before they left.

1809. It is distinguished as the first book bound and printed in what is now the state of Michigan.

"I feel the most significant part of the entire library is our newspaper collection" Cumming said. "We probably have the best collection of newspapers in the state."

The Clarke Library newspaper collection dates back to the 1760's, where any newspaper telling something about Michigan is kept. Small towns like Ashley, for instance had three newspapers in 1894. Bannister had a couple. In fact almost every town had at least one paper.

In an excerpt from a Gratiot county paper in 1865, "The stage will now run from St. Johns to Mount Pleasant. Leaves a.m. Tuesday, arrives Thursday p.m."

OUR CLINTON County News has recently donated past volumes to the library. They will be microfilmed, the old volumes rebound and then placed on exhibit.

Over the years our small town newspapers have disappeared. Sad, when they have provided us with historical records of the past, reflecting the conscience of the community and refer to almost everything desirable and undesirable about the locality.

Cancer unit gives gift of $1,500

The Clinton County unit of the American Cancer Society has presented another check to the Cancer Research Institute at the University of Michigan—this one for $1,500.

The check brings to a total of $19,500 the amount which the county society has given to the U. of M for cancer research. The presentation was made recently by Mrs Audrey Fruchtl, chairman of volunteer activities, and 24 other volunteers who were guests of Dr Jere Bauer of the Kresge Medical Research Building at the U of M.

Clinton County cancer workers volunteers now have an opportunity to get the game "Crusade" (similar to Monopoly) which was developed last year as an effort to make people more conscious of cancer. The game was introduced on the Oct. 28 Lawrence Welk TV show. Clinton County volunteers helped pre-test the game during its development last year. Mrs Fruchtl can make arrangements for getting the game for interested volunteers.

NORAD program held Nov. 1

The St. Johns Woman's Club held their Nov. 1 meeting in the auditorium of the Rodney B. Wilson High School. This meeting was open to the public and it featured NORAD (The North American Air Defense Command and Aerospace Defense) and was presented as a public service project by the General Telephone Company.

Mrs John Rumbaugh, president of the club, welcomed the audience. She told of the club's broad interests and how such a program fitted in. Chairman of the evening, Mrs Harold Millman, introduced the Wilsonaires, a singing group of the high school, who entertained by singing "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "Just Friends" and "Three Coins in the Fountain," all arranged by Ray Coniff; "Every Time I Feel the Spirit" a spiritual by William Dawson and "Salute to America." They were directed by Gordon Vendemark and accompanied by Lyn LeBlonde.

MRS MILLMAN THEN introduced William Graef, district manager of the General Telephone Company. Graef, using colored film, showed how NORAD defends this continent against bomber attack with its Distant Early Warning (DEW) Line. This is a chain of radar stations across the continent from the Aleutian Islands, Alaska, Canada to Greenland. The SAGE System with its direction centers process this data electronically, NORAD also possesses a huge arsenal of formidable weapons.

From outer space NORAD keeps watch with BMEWS, which is the Air Force's Ballistic Missile Early Warning System, with radar complexes in Alaska, Greenland and England.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the program was a telephone call dialed directly from the speaker's desk to NORAD headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo. Graef carried on a conversation with the briefing officer whose picture was flashed on the screen. Both sides of this conversation could be heard by the audience, who asked questions which were answered by the officer. A group of Science Club students from the Ovid-Elsie High School contributed a great deal to this part by their intelligent questions.

Publicity for the affair was handled by Mrs John Minsky. The next club meeting will be held Nov. 15 in the church parlor of the First Methodist Church. "International Exchange" is the topic of the program, which will be a panel discussion by a number of exchange students and it will be under the direction of Mrs George Judd.

Sec. 12 The tax shall apply on the following types of income of a resident individual to the same extent and on the same basis that the income is subject to taxation under the federal internal revenue code:

(a) On a salary, bonus, wage, commission and other compensation.

(b) On a distributive share of the net profits of a resident owner of an unincorporated business, profession, enterprise, undertaking or other activity, as a result of work done, services rendered and other business activities wherever conducted.

(c) On dividends, interest, capital gains less capital losses, income from estates and trusts and net profits from rentals of real and tangible personal property.

(d) On other income of a resident individual.

Sec. 13. The tax shall apply on the following types of income of a nonresident individual to the same extent and on the same basis that the income is subject to taxation under the federal internal revenue code:

(a) On a salary, bonus, wage, commission and other compensation for services rendered as an employee for work done or services performed in the city. Vacation pay, holiday pay, sick pay and a bonus paid by the employer are deemed to have the same tax status as the work assignment or work location and are taxable on the same basis as the normal earnings of the employee for work actually done or services actually performed.

(b) On a distributive share of the net profits of a nonresident owner of an unincorporated business, profession, enterprise, undertaking or other activity, as a result of work done, services rendered and other business activities conducted in the city.

(c) On capital gains less capital losses from sales of, and on the net profits from rentals of, real and tangible personal property, if such arise from property located in the city.

Sec. 14. The tax shall apply on the taxable net profits of a corporation doing business in the city, being levied on such part of the taxable net profits as is earned by the corporation as a result of work done, services rendered and other business activities conducted in the city, as determined in accordance with this ordinance. "Taxable net profits of a corporation" means federal taxable income as defined in section 63 of the federal internal revenue code but taking into consideration all exclusions and adjustments provided in this ordinance. No deduction shall be allowed for:

(a) Net operating losses and net capital losses sustained prior to the effective date of the tax.

(b) The city income tax imposed by this ordinance.

A corporation may deduct income, war profits and excess profits taxes, imposed by a foreign country or possession of the United States, allocable to income included in taxable net income, any part of which would be allowable as a deduction in determining federal taxable income under the applicable provisions of the federal internal revenue code.

Sec. 15. An unincorporated business, profession or other activity conducted by 1 or more persons subject to the tax as either a sole proprietorship or partnership shall not be taxable as such. The persons carrying on the unincorporated business, profession or other activity are liable for income tax only in their separate and individual capacities and on the following bases:

(a) A resident proprietor or partner is taxable upon his entire distributive share of the net profits of the activity regardless of where the activity is conducted.

(b) A nonresident proprietor or partner is taxable only upon his distributive share of the portion of the net profits of the activity which is attributable to the city under the allocation methods provided in this ordinance.

(c) In the hands of a proprietor or partner of an unincorporated activity, the character of any item of income taxable under this ordinance is determined as if such item were realized by the individual proprietor or partner directly from the source from which it is realized by the unincorporated activity. In computing his taxable income for a taxable year, a person who is required to file a return shall include therein his taxable distributive share of the net profits for any partnership year ending within or with his taxable year.

Sec. 16. An unincorporated business, profession or other activity owned by 2 or more persons shall file an annual information return setting forth:

(a) The entire net profit for the period covered by the return and the taxable portion of the net profit attributable to the city.

(b) The names and addresses of the owners of the unincorporated activity and each owner's taxable distributive share of the total net profit and each nonresident owner's share of the taxable net profit attributable to the city.

Sec. 17. At the election of an unincorporated business, profession or other activity, the entity, on behalf of the owners, may compute and pay the tax due with respect to each owner's share of the net profit of the activity after giving effect to exemptions to which each owner is entitled. This election is available to all unincorporated business entities having 2 or more owners regardless of the residence of the owners. The tax thus paid by the entity shall constitute all tax due with respect to each owner's distributive share of the net profits of the unincorporated business, profession or other activity.

If the unincorporated business, profession or other activity elects under this section to file a return and pay the tax on behalf of its owners, the election and filing are deemed to meet the requirements of this ordinance for the filing of a return for each owner who has no other income subject to the tax. However, a return is required from any such owner having taxable income other than his distributive share of the net profits of the entity. In such case the entire income subject to the tax shall be included in the return and credit taken thereon for the tax paid in his behalf by the unincorporated activity.

If the unincorporated business, profession or other activity elects to pay the tax on behalf of the owners, then the unincorporated business, profession or other activity assume the status of a taxpayer and is liable to interest and penalty if payment is not made by the due date, in accordance with the calendar or fiscal year used by the unincorporated business, profession or other activity.

Sec. 18. When the entire net profit of a business subject to the tax is not derived from business activities exclusively within the city, the portion of the entire net profit, earned as a result of work done, services rendered or other business activity conducted in the city, shall be determined at the election of the taxpayer under either section 19, sections 20 to 24, or section 25.

Sec. 19. The separate accounting method shall be used if such taxpayer regularly keeps its books and records in such manner as to show with reasonable accuracy the portion of its net profits attributable to work done, services performed or rendered, and business or other activity conducted within the city, and such portion of the net profits is subject to the tax. If such method is used the administrator may require a statement, explaining the manner in which the apportionment is made, in sufficient detail to determine whether the net profits attributable to the city are apportioned with reasonable accuracy.

Sec. 20. The business allocation percentage method shall be used if such taxpayer does not elect to use the separate accounting method of allocation. The entire net profits of such taxpayer earned as a result of work done, services rendered or other business activity conducted in the city shall be ascertained by determining the total "in-city" percentages of property, payroll and sales. "In-city" percentages of property, payrolls and sales, separately computed, shall be determined in accordance with sections 21 to 24.

Sec. 21. First, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the average net book value, of the tangible personal property owned and the real property, including leasehold improvements, owned or used by it in the business and situated within the city during the taxable period, is of the average net book value of all of such property, including leasehold improvements, owned or used by the taxpayer in the business during the same period wherever situated. Real property shall include real property rented or leased by the taxpayer and the value of such property shall be deemed to be 8 times the annual gross rental thereon. "Gross rental of real property" means the actual sum of money or other consideration payable, directly or indirectly, by the taxpayer for the use or possession of real property and includes but is not limited to:

(a) An amount payable for the use or possession of real property or any part thereof, whether designated as a fixed sum of money or as a percentage of sales, profits or otherwise.

(b) An amount payable as additional rent or in lieu of rent such as interest, taxes, insurance, repairs or other amount required to be paid by the terms of a lease or other arrangement.

Sec. 22. Second, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the total compensation paid to employees for work done or for services performed within the city is of the total compensation paid to all the taxpayer's employees within and without the city during the period covered by the return. For allocation purposes, compensation shall be computed on the cash or accrual basis in accordance with the method used in computing the entire net income of the taxpayer.

If an employee performs services within and without the city, the following examples are not all inclusive but may serve as a guide for determining the amount to be treated as compensation for services performed within the city:

(a) In the case of an employee compensated on a time basis, the proportion of the total amount received by him which his working time within the city is of his total working time.

(b) In the case of an employee compensated directly on the volume of business secured by him, such as a salesman on a commission basis, the amount received by him for business attributable to his efforts in the city.

(c) In the case of an employee compensated on other results achieved, the proportion of the total compensation received which the value of his services within the city bears to the value of all his services.

Sec. 23. Third, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the gross revenue of the taxpayer derived from sales made and services rendered in the city is of the total gross revenue from sales and services wherever made or rendered during the period covered by the return.

(1) For the purposes of this section, "sales made in the city" means all sales where the goods, merchandise or property is received in the city by the purchaser, or a person or firm designated by him. In the case of delivery of goods in the city to a common or private carrier or by other means of transportation, the place at which the delivery has been completed is considered as the place at which the goods are received by the purchaser. The following examples are not all inclusive but may serve as a guide for determining sales made in the city:

(a) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within the city from a location in the city or an out-of-city location are considered sales made in the city.

(b) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within the city directly from the taxpayer's in-city supplier or out-of-city supplier are considered sales made in the city.

(c) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments directly to the customer at his regularly maintained and established out-of-city location are considered out-of-city sales.

(d) Sales to an out-of-city customer with shipments or deliveries to the customer's location within the city are considered sales made in the city.

(e) Sales to an out-of-city customer with shipments to an out-of-city destination are considered out-of-city sales.

(2) In the case of public utilities, or businesses furnishing transportation services, "gross revenue" for the purpose of this section may be measured by such means as operating revenues, vehicle miles, revenue miles, passenger miles, ton miles, tonnage, or such other method as shall reasonably measure the proportion of gross revenue obtained in the city by such business.

(3) In the case of a business of the taxpayer involves substantial business activities other than sales of goods and services such other methods of allocation shall be employed as shall reasonably measure the proportion of gross revenue obtained in the city by such business.

Sec. 24. Fourth, the taxpayer shall add the percentages determined in accordance with sections 21, 22 and 23 and divide the total by 3 and the result so obtained is the business allocation percentage. In determining this percentage, a factor shall be excluded from the computation only when the factor does not exist anywhere insofar as the taxpayer's business operation is concerned and, in such case, the total of the percentages shall be divided by the number of factors actually used. The business allocation percentage shall be applied to the net profits, wherever derived, of the taxpayer subject to the tax to determine the net profits allocable to the city.

Sec. 25. An alternative method of accounting shall be used if the taxpayer or the administrator demonstrates that the net profits of the taxpayer allocable to the city cannot be justly and equitably determined under the separate accounting method or the business allocation percentage method, or if undue expense to the taxpayer would result from complying therewith because of the taxpayer's manner of operations and methods of accounting. In such case the administrator, upon application of the taxpayer or upon his own initiative, may approve or specify factors or methods of determination as will effect a just, nondiscriminatory and reasonable result. Application to the administrator to substitute other factors in the formula or to use a different method to allocate net profits shall be made in writing and state the specific grounds on which the substitution of factors or use of a different method is requested and the relief sought. No specific form need be followed in making the application. Once a taxpayer has filed under a substitute method, he shall continue so to file until given permission by the administrator to change.

Sec. 26. (1) Capital gains and capital losses, other than gains and losses on securities issued by the government of the United States, shall be included in income only to the extent of that portion of the gains or losses which occur after the effective date the taxpayer may use net proceeds from the sale or exchange less fair market value as of the effective date of this ordinance. The fair market value of property shall be determined by an appraisal or similar reliable evidence. The fair market value of a security shall be the last quoted price on the last business day prior to the effective date. For a security traded over the counter the last quoted price shall be the last bid price on the last business day prior to the effective date. The taxpayer may determine the gain or loss on a transaction in the same manner as for federal income tax purposes taking into account only that portion thereof which occurs after the effective date. The portion of that gain or loss includible in computing taxable income will be the same proportion of the total gain or loss as the period of time the property was held after the effective date of the ordinance bears to the total time the property was held. In any city adopting this ordinance which had a valid local income tax ordinance in effect on January 1, 1964, capital gains and losses shall be included to the extent of that portion of such gains or losses which occur after the effective date of the original city income tax ordinance.

(2) If capital losses exceed capital gains in a taxable year, the unused portion may be utilized to the same basis as under the federal internal revenue code.

Sec. 27. An estate or trust is not subject to tax under this ordinance, except that it shall be treated as a nonresident individual for purposes of section 11 of this ordinance to the extent income of the estate or trust described in section 12 is not includible in the return of a resident individual as "income from estates and trusts." A resident individual shall include "income from estates and trusts" in his income subject to tax under this ordinance without regard to the situs of the estate or trust. For this purpose, an "estate" means the estate of a deceased person during the period of administration or settlement and a "trust" means an inter vivos or testamentary trust created by an individual for the benefit of 1 or more persons.

Sec. 28. (1) "Income from estates" means "income" as defined in section 643 (b) of the federal internal revenue code, properly paid, credited or distributed but not in excess of the resident individual's share of the distributable net income of the estate decreased by the amount of depreciation or depletion allowed the resident individual as a deduction under section 642 of the federal internal revenue code. The exceptions hereinafter set forth with respect to trusts are also applicable to income from estates. "Income from trusts" means the amount of "income" as defined in section 643 (b) of the federal internal revenue code, distributed or required to be distributed under sections 652 (a) or 662 (a) (1) of the federal internal revenue code, decreased by the amount of depreciation or depletion allowed the resident individual as a deduction by section 642 of the federal internal revenue code, with the following exceptions:

(a) Dividends on stock of state and national banks and trust companies.

(b) Interest from obligations of the United States, the states or subordinate units of government of the states.

(2) Income received by a resident individual from a fiduciary shall retain the character it held in the hands of the fiduciary. With respect to trusts where the income is taxed to the grantor or some other person under subpart E of subchapter J of the federal internal revenue code, the grantor or other person shall include in his return all items of income and deductions allowed by this ordinance.

(3) An individual shall include "income from estates and trusts" in his return in the same year as provided in the federal internal revenue code with respect to distributions of income from estates and trusts. The amount of income included in the return for the first tax year of a resident individual, with respect to estates and trusts, shall be computed as though the tax year of the estate or trust for federal income tax purposes began on the effective date of this ordinance and ended with the end of the tax year of the estate or trust for federal income tax purposes which ends next following the effective date.

Sec. 31. An individual taxpayer in computing his taxable income is allowed deductions for the full personal and dependency exemptions authorized by the federal internal revenue code. The taxpayer may claim his or her spouse and dependents as exemptions, but if the taxpayer and the spouse are both subject to the tax imposed by this ordinance, the number of exemptions claimed by each of them when added together shall not exceed the total number of exemptions allowed under this ordinance.

Sec. 32. The following payments and benefits received by any person are not subject to the tax:

(a) Gifts and bequests.

(b) Proceeds of insurance, annuities, pensions and retirement benefits. Amounts received for personal injuries, sickness or disability are excluded from taxable income only to the extent provided by the federal internal revenue code.

(c) Welfare relief, unemployment benefits including supplemental unemployment benefits, and workmen's compensation or similar payments from whatever source derived.

(d) Amounts received by charitable, religious, educational and other similar nonprofit organizations which are exempt from taxation under the federal internal revenue code.

(e) Amounts received by supplemental unemployment benefit trusts or pension, profit sharing and stock bonus trusts qualified and exempt under the federal internal revenue code.

(f) Interest from obligations of the United States, the states or subordinate units of government of the states and gains or losses on the sales of obligations of the United States.

(g) Net profits of financial institutions and insurance companies.

(h) Dividends received from national and state bank stock.

(i) Amounts paid to an employee as reimbursement for expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in the actual performance of his services and deductible as such by the employer.

(j) Compensation received for service in the armed forces of the United States.

Sec. 33. Ordinary, necessary, reasonable and unreimbursed expenses paid or incurred by an individual in connection with the performance by him of services as an employee may be deducted from gross income in determining income subject to the tax. The expenses are limited to the following:

(a) Expenses of travel, meals and lodging while away from home.

(b) Expenses as an outside salesman, away from his employer's place of business.

(c) Expenses of transportation.

(d) Expenses under a reimbursement or other expense allowance arrangement with his employer, where the reimbursement or allowance has been included in total compensation reported.

Sec. 41. A person having a tax liability under this ordinance in any year shall make and file with the city an annual return for that year, on a form furnished or approved by the city, on or before the last day of the fourth month for the same calendar year, fiscal year or other accounting period, as has been accepted by the internal revenue service for federal income tax purposes for the taxpayer. An individual taxpayer is not required to file an annual return if the amount of tax due under this ordinance does not exceed the amount withheld by more than $2.00. A husband and wife may file a joint return and, in such case, the tax liability is joint and several.

Sec. 42. The annual return shall set forth:

(a) The number of exemptions, place of residence, place of employment and other pertinent information as shall reasonably be required.

(b) The aggregate amount of compensation, dividends, interest, net profit from rentals, capital gains less capital losses, net profits from business and other income, subject to the tax.

(c) The total amount of the tax imposed by this ordinance.

(d) The amount of the tax previously withheld or paid.

(e) Credits provided in this ordinance.

(f) The balance of the tax due or to be refunded.

Sec. 43. Any balance of the tax which is due the city at the time of filing the annual return shall be paid therewith. If the annual return reflects an overpayment of the tax, the declaration thereof on the return constitutes a claim for refund and the overpayment shall be applied against any subsequent liability thereunder or, at the election of the taxpayer and when so indicated on the return, the overpayment or any part shall be refunded.

Sec. 44. Where total income, total deductions, net profits, or other figures are derived from the taxpayer's federal income tax return, any item of income not subject to the city income tax and allowable deductions shall be eliminated in determining net income subject to the city tax. The fact that a taxpayer is not required to file a federal income tax return does not relieve him from filing a city tax return.

Sec. 45. For the purpose of determining net profit allocable to the city under this ordinance, a corporate taxpayer may elect to file a consolidated return including subsidiaries whose voting stocks is more than 50% owned by the taxpayer, if such return will more properly reflect the net profits and activities of the taxpayer in the city. The city may require a consolidated return if necessary to properly determine net profits of the taxpayer allocable to the city.

Sec. 46. An amended return shall be filed, on a form obtainable from the city, where necessary to report, additional income and pay an additional tax due, or to claim a refund of tax overpaid, subject to the requirements or limitations contained in this ordinance. Within 90 days from final determination of a federal tax liability which also affects the computation of a taxpayer's city income tax liability, the taxpayer shall prepare and file an amended city income tax return showing income subject to the city tax based upon the final determination of federal income tax liability, and pay an additional tax shown due thereon or make claim for refund of an overpayment. A taxpayer may not change the method of accounting or apportionment of net profits after the due date for filing the original return, or any extensions thereof.

Sec. 51. (1) An employer doing business or maintaining an establishment within the city shall withhold from each payment to his employees on and after the effective date of this ordinance the tax on their compensation subject to the tax, after giving effect to exemptions, as follows:

See ST. JOHNS CITY ORDINANCE NO. 210 page 18-A

City of St. Johns Ordinance No. 210

(a) Residents.

(1) At a rate equal to 1% of all compensation paid to the employee who is a resident of the city, if he is not subject to withholding in any other city levying the tax.

(2) At a rate equal to 1/2 of 1% of all compensation paid to the employee who is a resident of the city, from whom the employer is required to withhold on such compensation earned in another city.

(b) Nonresidents. At a rate equal to 1/2 of 1% of the compensation paid to the employee for work done or services performed in the city designated by the employee as his predominant place of employment. The withholding rate shall be applied to the percentage of the employee's total compensation equal to the employee's estimated percentage of work to be done or services to be performed in the city for such employer, but no withholding shall be required if the estimated percentage of work is less than 25%.

(2) An employer withholding the tax is deemed to hold such tax as a trustee for the city.

(3) An employer who is required to withhold and who fails or refuses to deduct and withhold is liable for the payment of the amount required to be withheld. The liability shall be discharged upon payment of the tax by the employee but the employer is not relieved of penalties and interest provided in this ordinance for such failure or refusal.

Sec. 52. Employers shall not withhold any tax from the following payments:

(a) Compensation paid to domestic help.

(b) Compensation paid to a person who is not an employee, including an independent contractor.

(c) An amount allowed and paid to an employee as reimbursement for expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in the actual performance of his services, and deductible by the employer.

Sec. 53. If the tax is not withheld, an employee is not excused from filing a return and paying the tax on his compensation. If the tax is withheld but an employer fails to pay the tax to the city, the employee is not liable for the tax so withheld.

Sec. 54. (1) An employee with compensation subject to tax shall file with his employer a form on which the employee shall state the number of exemptions claimed, the city of residence, the predominant place of employment, and the percentage of work done or services performed in the predominant place of employment. The percentage shall be expressed as "less than 25%", "40%", "60%", "80%", or "100%". The employer shall retain the form and rely on the information therein for withholding purposes unless directed by the city to withhold on another basis. If information submitted by the employee is not believed to be true, correct and complete, the city shall be so advised.

Sec. 55. An employee shall file with his employer a revised form within 10 days after his number of exemptions decreases or he changes his residence from or to a taxing city. The employee may file a revised form when his number of exemptions increases. An employee shall file a revised form by December 1 of each year, if his predominant place of employment or his estimate of the percentage of work done or services to be rendered in the city will change for the ensuing year. Revised withholding certificates shall not be given retroactive effect.

Sec. 56. If an employee refuses to furnish a withholding certificate upon the request of his employer, the employer shall withhold 1% of the employee's total compensation, and report and pay the withholding on the basis of the best information in the possession of the employer.

Sec. 57. (1) The city shall provide withholding tables establishing the amounts to be withheld for various tax rates, wage brackets, numbers of exemptions and pay periods. An employer who uses the tables fully discharges his duty to withhold. An employer may elect not to use the tables, in which case he shall discharge fully his duty to withhold he shall withhold the applicable per cent of taxable compensation after provision for exemptions.

(2) The first compensation paid an employee on or after the effective date of the tax levy is subject to withholding on either of the following bases at the option of the employer:

(a) On the full amount of compensation paid.

(b) On the proportion of compensations paid for work done or services performed on or after the effective date of the levy.

Sec. 58. If an employer withholds more than the apparent tax liability of an employee due to an increase in the number of exemptions claimed during the year, or due to the actual percentage of work performed in the city by a nonresident being less than the estimated percentage, or due to a change of residence during the year to or from a taxing city, or due to any reason other than the employer's error, the employer shall neither refund the excess to the employee nor offset the excess by under-withholding in a subsequent period. The employee shall claim his refund from the city on his annual return.

Sec. 59. Correction of an over or an under-withholding as a result of an employer's error shall be made as follows:

(a) If the error is discovered in the same quarter in which it is made, the employer shall make the necessary adjustment on a subsequent pay and include only the corrected amount on the quarterly return.

(b) If the error is discovered in a subsequent quarter of the same calendar year, the employer shall make the necessary adjustment on a subsequent pay and report it as an adjustment on the quarterly return.

(c) If the error is discovered in the following calendar year, or if the employer-employee relationship has terminated, the procedure shall be as follows:

(1) The employee or former employee shall apply to the city for a refund in case of an over-withholding. Upon proper verification the city shall refund to him the amount of the over-withholding.

(2) If a deficiency is discovered, the employer shall notify the city and the employee or former employee, who shall pay the city the additional tax due in his annual return.

Sec. 60. An employer shall file a return, furnished by or obtainable on request from the city, and pay to the city the full amount of the tax withheld on or before the last day of the month following the close of each calendar quarter.

Sec. 61. (1) An employer shall file a reconciliation of his quarterly returns on or before the last day of February following each calendar year in which he has withheld from an employee's compensation. A deficiency is due when the reconciliation is filed. If the employer made quarterly payments in excess of the amount withheld from an employee's compensation, the city upon proper verification shall refund the excess to the employer.

(2) In addition to the reconciliation the employer shall file an information return for each employee from whom the city income tax has been withheld and each employee subject to withholding under this ordinance, setting forth his name, address and social security number, the total amount of compensation paid him during the year, and the amount of city income tax withheld from him. The information return shall be on a copy of the federal W-2 form or on a form furnished or approved by the city. A copy of the information return shall be furnished to the employee.

(3) If an employer goes out of business or otherwise ceases to be an employer, reconciliation forms and the information return forms shall be filed by the date and the final withholding return and payment are due.

Sec. 62. (1) A person who anticipates taxable income from which the city income tax will not be withheld, shall file a declaration of estimated tax on a form furnished by or obtainable on request from the city. A calendar year taxpayer shall file a declaration on or before each April 30. A taxpayer on a fiscal year basis or other accounting period shall file a declaration within 4 months after beginning of each fiscal year or other accounting period.

(2) If a taxpayer has not previously been required to file, the declaration shall be filed on or before the first date for making a quarterly payment which occurs after he becomes subject to the requirement to file a declaration. A taxpayer shall file a declaration for the same calendar year, fiscal year or other accounting period that has been accepted by the federal internal revenue service for federal income tax purposes. A declaration by an individual or unincorporated entity is not required if the total estimated tax, less any credits applicable thereto, does not exceed $40.00. A declaration by a corporation is not required if the total estimated tax, less any credits applicable thereto, does not exceed $250.00. A declaration by or on behalf of an estate or trust is not required.

Sec. 63. (1) A taxpayer's annual return for the preceding year may be used as the basis for computing his declaration of estimated tax for the current year, or he may use the same figures used for estimating his federal income tax adjusted to exclude any income or deductions not taxable or permissible under this ordinance.

(2) The estimated tax may be paid in full with the declaration or in 4 equal installments on or before the last day of the fourth, sixth, ninth and thirteenth months after the beginning of the taxable year.

(3) An amended declaration may be filed when making a quarterly payment, and the unpaid balance shown due thereon shall be paid in equal installments over the remaining payment dates.

Sec. 64. (1) The filing of a declaration of estimated tax does not excuse the taxpayer from filing an annual return even though there is no charge in the declared tax liability. An annual return shall be filed by the end of the fourth month of the year following that for which the declaration was filed. Upon written request of a taxpayer the administrator may extend the time for filing the annual return for not to exceed 6 months. The administrator may require a tentative return and payment of the estimated tax.

(2) A penalty or interest shall not be assessed if the return is filed and the final tax paid within the extended time and all other filing and payment requirements of this ordinance are satisfied, and the estimated tax paid equals 70% or more of the tax shown due on the final return or 70% or more of the tax shown due on the taxpayer's return for the preceding taxable year.

Sec. 65. An individual who is a resident of the city and received net profits from a business, profession or rental of real or tangible personal property, gains from the sale or exchange of real or tangible personal property, or salaries, wages, commissions or other compensation for work done or services performed or rendered, in each case outside the city, and is subject to and has paid an income tax on this income to another municipality, shall be allowed a credit against the city income tax for the amount paid to the other municipality. The credit shall not exceed the amount of taxes which would be assessed under this ordinance on the same amount of income of a nonresident.

Sec. 66. In withholding or in paying the tax due under this ordinance, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to 1/2 cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to 1 cent.

Sec. 71. (1) The administrator may adopt, amend and repeal rules and regulations relating to the administration and enforcement of this ordinance, but not in conflict with the ordinance, subject to the approval of the city governing body. The rules and regulations, amendments and repeals, after approval by the city governing body, shall become effective upon being published in the official newspaper of the City.

(2) The administrator shall enforce this ordinance and the rules and regulations. The administrator shall prepare, adopt and make available to taxpayers, employers and other persons all forms necessary for compliance with this ordinance.

(3) The city treasurer shall collect all taxes and payments due under this ordinance and deposit them in a designated city depository.

Sec. 72. A taxpayer or employer desiring a special ruling on a matter pertaining to this ordinance or rules and regulations shall submit in writing to the administrator all the facts involved and the ruling sought. A taxpayer or employer aggrieved by a special ruling may appeal the special ruling in writing to the income tax board of review within 30 days.

Sec. 73. (1) The administrator, personally, or his duly authorized agent or a duly authorized city employee, may examine the books, papers and records of any person, employer, taxpayer or his agent or representative, for the purpose of verifying the accuracy and completeness of a return filed, or, if no return was filed, to ascertain the tax, withholding, penalties or interest due under this ordinance.

(2) The administrator or his duly authorized agent may examine any person, under oath, concerning income which was or should have been reported for taxation under this ordinance, and for this purpose may compel the production of books, papers and records and the attendance of all parties before him, whether as parties or witnesses, if he believes such persons have knowledge of such income.

Sec. 74. (1) Information gained by the administrator, city treasurer or any other city official, agent or employee as a result of a return, investigation, hearing or verification required or authorized by this ordinance is confidential, except for official purposes in connection with the administration of the ordinance and except in accordance with a proper judicial order.

(2) Any person who divulges this confidential information, except for official purposes, is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine not exceeding $500.00 or imprisonment for a period not exceeding 90 days, or both, for each offense. In addition, an employee of the city who divulges this confidential information is subject to discharge for misconduct.

Sec. 81. (1) A person shall furnish, within 10 days following a request of the administrator or his duly authorized agent, the means, facilities and opportunity for making such reasonable examinations and investigations as are authorized by this ordinance, and shall present himself for examination under oath when so ordered by the administrator. The request or order of the administrator or his duly authorized agent may be made verbally. However, a person may require that the request or order be addressed in writing to him, and if the request relates to interest, dividends or other payments made to a taxpayer or presumed taxpayer, that it adequately identify him.

(2) Refusal by any person to submit to such examination or investigation, when requested or ordered by the administrator, is a violation of this ordinance, punishable by such penalties as are provided in the ordinance.

Sec. 82. (1) All taxes imposed upon taxpayers and moneys withheld by employers under this ordinance and remaining unpaid after they are due bear interest from such due date at the rate of 1/2 of 1% per month until paid.

(2) A person failing to file a return, or to pay the tax, or to remit withholding when due, is liable, in addition to the interest, to a penalty of 1% of the amount of the unpaid tax for each month or fraction thereof, not to exceed a total penalty of 25% of the unpaid tax. The administrator may abate the penalty or a part thereof for just cause. If the total interest or interest and penalty to be assessed is less than $2.00, the administrator, in lieu thereof, shall assess a penalty in the amount of $2.00.

Sec. 83. (1) Interest or a penalty shall not be imposed on an additional tax assessment if, within 90 days from final determination of a federal tax liability which also affects the computation of the taxpayer's city income tax liability, the taxpayer prepares and files an amended city income tax return showing income subject to the city tax based upon the final determination of federal income tax liability, and pays the additional tax shown due thereon or makes claim for refund of an overpayment. Interest shall not be allowed on a refund of the city income tax resulting from a final determination of federal tax liability.

(2) Interest and a penalty shall not be imposed for under-estimating the tax if the total amount of tax withheld and paid by declaration, equals at least 70% or more of the tax shown due on the final return or 70% or more of the tax shown on the taxpayer's return for the preceding taxable year.

(3) An employee shall not be penalized because of the failure of his employer to report or pay tax withheld from the employee when the employer has in fact withheld the proper amount of tax.

Sec. 84. (1) If the administrator determines that a taxpayer or an employer subject to the provisions of this ordinance has failed to pay the full amount of the tax due or tax withheld, he shall issue a proposed assessment showing the amount due and unpaid, together with interest and penalties that may have accrued thereon. The proposed assessment shall be served upon the taxpayer or employer in person, or by mailing by registered or certified mail to the last known address of the taxpayer or employer. Proof of mailing the proposed assessment is prima facie evidence of a receipt thereof by the addressee.

(2) A taxpayer or employer has 30 days after receipt of a proposed assessment within which to file a written protest with the administrator, who shall then give the taxpayer or employer or his duly authorized representative an opportunity to be heard and present evidence and arguments in his behalf.

Sec. 85. (1) After the hearing the administrator shall issue a final assessment setting forth the total amount found due in the proposed assessment and any adjustment he may have made as a result of the protest. The final assessment shall be served in the same manner as a proposed assessment. Proof of mailing of the final assessment is prima facie evidence of a receipt thereof by the addressee.

(2) If a protest is not filed in respect to a proposed assessment, a taxpayer or employer is deemed to have received a final assessment 30 days after receipt of the proposed assessment.

Sec. 86. If an employer or taxpayer files a return showing the amount of tax or withholding due the city, but fails to pay the amount to the city treasurer, the administrator is not required to issue a proposed assessment or a final assessment. The administrator shall issue a 10-day demand for payment and if no payment or satisfactory evidence of payment is made in the 10 days he may thereafter recover the tax with interest and penalties thereon in the name of the city in any court of record as other debts are recoverable, or prosecute for violation of this ordinance under section 99, or both.

Sec. 87. If the city believes that collection of the tax withheld from an employee's compensation as imposed under this ordinance will be jeopardized by delay, the city, whether or not the time otherwise prescribed by the ordinance for making the return and paying the tax has expired, shall immediately assess the tax and interest and additions provided by the ordinance. The tax interest and additions shall thereupon become immediately due and payable, and the city shall make an immediate notice and demand for payment, notwithstanding the fact that the withheld tax is not due under the ordinance until the last day of the month following the end of the calendar quarter.

Sec. 88. (1) Except in case of fraud, failure to file a return, failure to comply with the withholding provisions of this ordinance, or omission of substantial portions of income subject to the tax, an additional assessment shall not be made after 3 years from the date the return was due, including extensions thereof, or the tax was paid, whichever is later. An omission of more than 25% of gross income is considered a substantial omission of income. Under this section a declaration of estimated tax is not considered a return.

(2) If the federal internal revenue service and a taxpayer execute a waiver of the federal statute of limitations, as to a taxable year, the expiration of the period within which an additional assessment may be made by the administrator or a claim for refund filed by the taxpayer for such taxable year for city income tax purposes shall be 6 months from the date of expiration of the waiver.

Sec. 89. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this ordinance, a tax erroneously paid shall not be refunded unless a claim for refund is made within 3 years from the date the payment was made or the final return was due, including extensions thereof, whichever is later, unless the administrator and the taxpayer mutually agree to extend the time for assessment or refund. Under this section a declaration of estimated tax is not considered a return. Upon denial of a refund a taxpayer may follow the same procedure for appeal as provided in the case of a deficiency assessment.

(2) A tax deficiency as finally determined and interest or penalties thereon shall be paid within 30 days after receipt of a final assessment where no appeal is made.

Sec. 91. The governing body of the city shall appoint an income tax board of review consisting of 3 residents of the city who are not city officials or employees.

The board shall select its chairman, secretary and such other officers as it deems necessary and shall adopt rules governing the procedure for hearings before it and its other procedures. The rules shall be filed in the office of the city clerk and shall be available for inspection by any interested person. A copy of the rules shall be furnished on request to any interested person.

A majority of the board members shall constitute a quorum for any action by or hearing before the board, or for any other purpose. A member of the board shall not act on a matter in which he has a financial interest other than the common public interest. A record shall be kept of all the board's transactions and proceedings.

Sec. 92. (1) A taxpayer or employer may file a written notice of appeal with the secretary of the income tax board of review within 30 days after receipt of a final assessment, denial in whole or part of a claim for refund, or special ruling of the administrator. Upon receipt of the notice of appeal, the board of review shall notify the administrator, who shall forward within 15 days to the board a certified transcript of all actions and findings taken by him relating to the matter under appeal. The appellant or his duly authorized representative may inspect the transcript.

(2) The board of review shall grant the appellant a hearing at which the appellant or his duly authorized representative and the administrator and his authorized agent have an opportunity to present evidence relating to the matter under appeal. After conclusion of the hearing the board acting by a majority vote of its 3 members shall affirm, reverse or modify the matter under appeal and furnish a copy of its decision to the appellant and to the administrator.

(3) The provisions of this ordinance as to the confidential character of tax data are applicable to proceedings pending before or submitted to the board.

St. Johns

All 'roads' lead to new library at high school

One of the central points of interest in any school building is its library facilities, and at the new St. Johns High School now under construction the situation is no different.

In a manner of speaking, all roads lead to the library in the new building.

The library is probably the most striking feature of the main academic cluster, the largest of three circular clusters of classrooms at the east end of the new high school complex.

Four corridors lead into the main cluster—two from the rectangular sections of the building to the west and one each from the business education and science wings on the northeast and southeast. They all lead to a 10-foot-wide corridor which completely encircles the library and its related rooms at the core of the academic cluster.

THE CORE COULD be referred to as an instructional materials center. It involves the library and audio visual department.

The library is the more striking. It will be an almost complete circle of a room, a large expanse partially carpeted to help reduce noise. Miss Maureen Knudsvig, the librarian, plans to make it a colorful place, stressing the importance of color toward creating a lively atmosphere.

At the new high school, the library will be strictly for reference and enrichment. It won't be used for study hall, Miss Knudsvig emphasized, which should reduce the traffic and make it more conducive to serious reference study. A portion of the library may be set with a couch and more comfortable chairs to provide an area for relaxed, leisure reading.

The striking feature of the library will be its circular nature. Most of the books will be shelved on bookcases extending out from the walls on the west side of the library. They will have adjustable shelves so that small-size and large-size books relating to similar topics can be shelved together. The stacks will house up to 14,000 books—more than double what the present library has.

And Miss Knudsvig said about half of the 6,881 volumes the are intended. At present, a portion of state funds to the school library is withheld because St. Johns does not have this central processing library.

ALSO OPENING OFF the library will be a small study room and a larger library classroom, which will be used by the librarian in teaching classes for library assistants and for proper use of the library.

Another feature will be a separate room for a professional library which will contain books, magazines and journals solely for the teachers in the school.

There will be two main entrances to the library. These will include a library display case in the center of each entranceway. These and the other walls around the library will provide much more display area and bulletin boards than are now available, Miss Knudsvig said.

Seating in the library will be about the same as is provided at present, but without study halls and without ninth graders the effect should be a better chance for the high school students to use the full library facilities. Miss Knudsvig said she also hoped to have the library open earlier in the morning and later in the afternoon than, is now possible.

ANOTHER FEATURE of the new library is individual study carrels in several locations, including one which ties in directly with the audio visual center. The "A.V." rooms will number two, compared to one available now, and are located just off the library on the northeast side. The study carrels on the wall there will be equipped for listening and viewing, and students will be able to check out from the AV center records, tape recordings, film strips, microfilms and single-concept films to view and hear at these carrels. The ones next to the A.V. rooms will be specially wired.

"These will be a source of information just like books," said Robert Spencer, audio-visual director. "It is just an expansion of the 'old' library concept."

The AV department will use one of the two rooms strictly for storage. This room will provide considerably more storage space than is presently available, and will have more cupboards and benches. It will also have an area where teachers can preview their audio-visual material before presenting it to the students.

The second room, or workroom, will open into the library and, will have space where teachers can work on making their own transparencies for such equipment as the overhead projector. And that's where students and teachers will check out equipment.

The location of the audio-visual center near the library is a natural, Spencer pointed out. "We will be able to have much better coordination of our two reference jobs, and we will also be able to make it available now to students as well as teachers."

library now has will be left for the junior high when the move is made to the new library. So a lot of new books and reading material are in the offing.

BOTH RECTANGULAR and circular tables will occupy the central area of the library. Dictionaries, atlases and magazines will be located in the center. The main magazine storage area will be in a room off the southeast side of the main library.

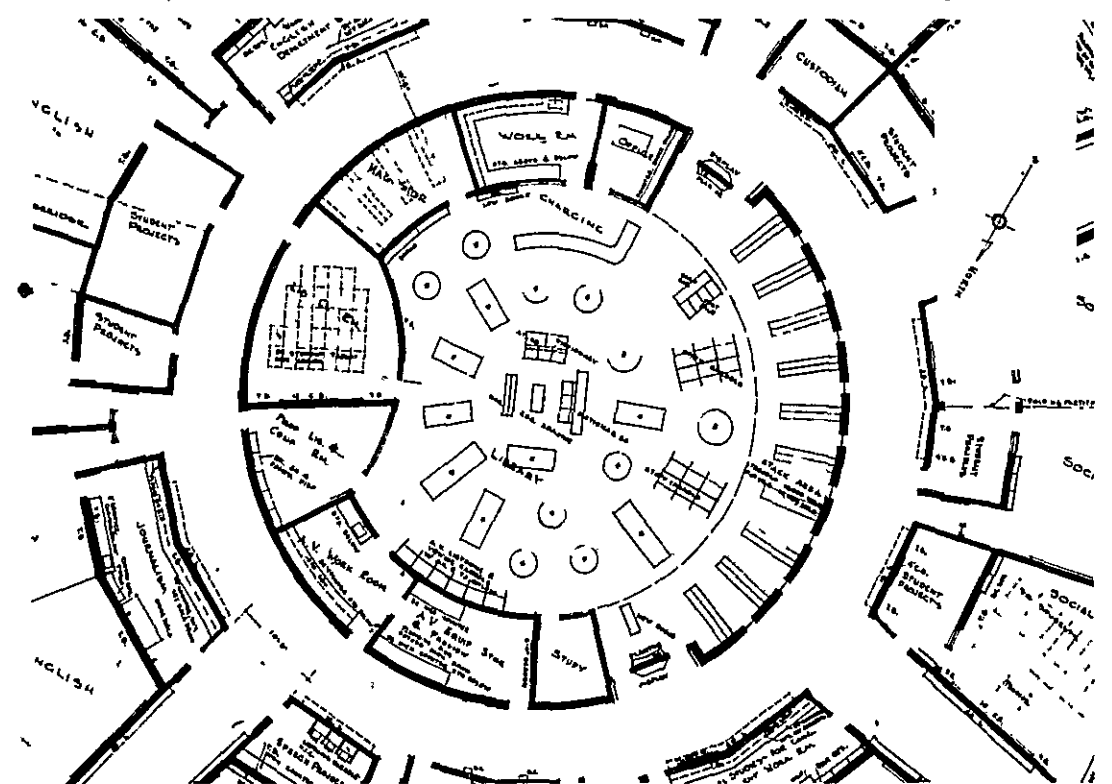

Back of the check-out desk on the south side of the library will be the librarian's office and a separate work room. The work room will be for the processing of books; presently this is done in a room which also is used for a classroom, office and conference room.

The school district is working for state approval of a central processing library at the high school, in which case all new books for the entire school system would be marked, carded and catalogued at the high school before being shipped out to the various schools for which they

Shaded area in the core of the big circular cluster locates the library in relation to the other features of the new St. Johns High School.

The library and audio visual rooms of the new St. Johns High School are detailed here by architect Guido Binda & Associates. The library core is in the center of the largest of three circular clusters of classrooms.

16 named to take survey of shelter protection here

Sixteen Clinton County residents will put on colorful badges and go calling for the next few weeks in a Home Fallout Protection Survey which the U.S. Bureau of the Census is conducting in Clinton County and all over Michigan for the Office of Civil Defense.

Hobart A. Yerkey, director of the Census Bureau regional office in Detroit, said the following persons have been selected and trained as interviewers to call at homes in Clinton County: Opal B. Bancroft, Anna Das, Marie L. Ford, Virginia L. Jones, Theresa M. Kramer, Joe R. Kurka, Pauline A. Powers, Charlotte V. Saxton, Ellen J. Spicer, Becky S. Spicer, Bethel J. Tisch, John J. Vuko, Donna L. Waggoner, Barbara J. Wooley, Anna E. Woodworth and Ruth C. Pino.

The Home Fallout Protection Survey includes only single family homes and two- and three-unit dwellings. It is being taken by mail in cities of 10,000 or more population, where questionnaires have been mailed to households to be filled out and mailed back. In areas outside these cities interviewers are visiting homes to obtain the required facts and figures about the construction of houses.

DIRECTOR YERKEY asks householders to welcome the census interviewer and to give full cooperation so that accurate information may be obtained.

DIRECTOR
Bureau of the Census

This is a sample of the identification tag 16 Clinton County census enumerators will wear as they take a home fallout shelter survey.

Most interviewers are women. Each wears a red, white, and blue identification badge which is her official credential. It bears her signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a census interviewer, and as such, has sworn to keep confidential all census information given to her.

Householders, both renters and home owners, are asked a few easy-to-answer questions. How many persons usually live in your household? How many floors does your house have? Do you have a basement or cellar under your house? If so, what are the walls made of? What is the height of each outside basement wall above the outside ground level?

Facts about a house, whether mailed in by the householder or obtained by the census interviewer, will be processed at the Census Bureau. An electronic computer will calculate the protection against radioactive fallout the house provides.

THIS INFORMATION will be mailed directly to the householder, together with a civil defense booklet. Those with basements will receive, for their consideration, a booklet describing suggested methods for increasing the amount of protection in basements. Those without basements will receive another booklet with general information on protective measures that can be taken by individuals and families.

The computer's report on the fallout protection in a home is confidential between the Census Bureau and the householder, and is provided without cost to him.

At the completion of the survey, statistical totals will be provided for the State, counties, and municipalities. Together with similar figures for previously designated public fallout shelters, they will provide a complete picture of available shelter space, information needed by State and local officials in order to plan fallout protection for every resident.

Consumer Week is Nov. 6-10

The challenge of being a sharp shopper is getting much attention this decade. But being a competent consumer means have a well-balanced idea of what consuming really is.

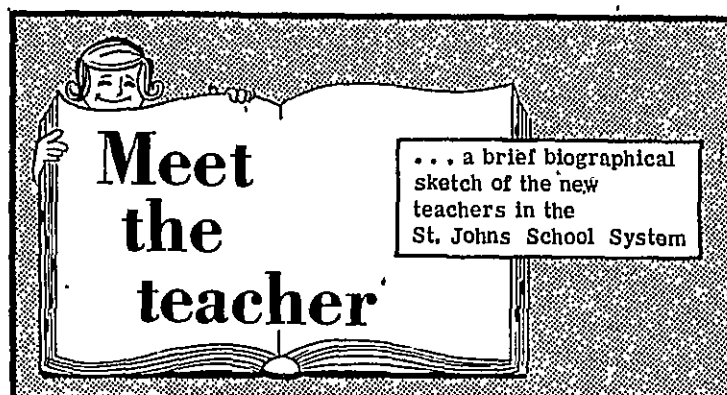

In an effort to let people know of the consumer education available, the Extension Service is sponsoring Michigan Consumers' Week, Nov. 6-10. It will coincide with the national observance of Consumers' Week.

Being a competent consumer means more than developing buying skills. It means knowing values that are important to you as an individual and using them in making your decision in the selection of goods and services. It means making efficient use of an item after you buy it. Competency as a consumer includes making the best use of time, talent, skills, knowledge, income and other resources.

YOU LEARN TO USE your resources to your best advantage through education. This kind of education is a major part of the Extension Service program in the state.

Mrs. Lea Whitfield, assistant director of the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University, outlined the Extension family living education program, which has home economists with the latest unbiased

The monthly free immunization clinic for Clinton County will be held next Wednesday, Nov. 15, in the basement of St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns.

The clinic is sponsored by the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, and free immunization shots (including measles vaccine), vaccinations and tuberculin skin tests are offered. Children must be accompanied by an adult, because signed permission for each child is mandatory.

The clinic will be conducted by Franklin W. Smith, MD, medical director of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, assisted by the public health nurses. The clinic will run from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Information serving every county in the state. In most cases, two home economists serve a two or three county area. In addition, other staff members are involved in agriculture, marketing, natural resources and 4-H—Youth programs.

Consumer education programs are built on the idea that everyone in the family is a consumer. Young people learn their consumer habits early, she emphasized.

MRS. WHITFIELD noted that each county staff in Michigan will develop their own consumer information program for Consumers' Week. Local staffs will offer open houses, special meetings, printed materials and special radio and television broadcasts to help inform residents of services available through the Extension Service, she said.

"One of the strongest parts of the consumer education effort is the training given by Extension home economists to volunteer leaders. These leaders help other consumers become better informed by re-teaching the lessons to their families and friends."

As a rule, people are pretty quick to recognize anything that's really good.

BACKACHE & TENSION SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION

Common Kidney or Bladder Irritations make many men and women feel tense and nervous from frequent, burning or itching urination night and day. Secondly, you may lose sleep and have headache, backache and feel older, tired, depressed. In such cases, CYSTEX usually brings relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in acid urine and quickly easing pain. Get CYSTEX at drugists.

Children want to dress like friends

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

It is cold outside! So out come the winter coats, boots and mittens. A child's clothes do more than just protect him from the weather. And the child's reaction to clothes may not be the same as his parents'. Putting yourself in your child's place in looking at clothes may reveal some situations you hadn't thought about.

Children are consumers too. They learn early good and bad shopping skills and care of what they buy. The whole family of consumers is getting statewide attention during Consumer Week, Nov. 6-10, sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service.

AS THE PRE-school child grows older, suitability begins to enter: he wants to wear "what the other kids are wearing."

It's important to the child to look like other children rather than be different. Sometimes this will show when the child insists on getting something new to wear, or about wearing or not wearing something on a particular day.

Mother's role in cases like this is a compromise between the child's need and often intense demand for clothes and consideration for the rest of the family—how much money is available for everyone's clothes.

PUTTING YOURSELF in the child's place may show how much the young child would like to be able to take care of himself. And clothes selected with this in mind can help build the child's responsibility.

By allowing them to choose their own clothes—at least within reasonable limits—the child practices making decisions. It can gradually develop into selecting new clothes for himself.

Today's emphasis on mix and match children's clothes gives them a chance to experiment in putting things together; blouses, skirts, sweaters, jackets and pants, shorts and shirts.

SELF-HELP FEATURES in clothes that help children dress themselves and become less dependent builds their confidence. Such self-help features include big buttons rather than small ones, garments that open down the front and elasticized waist bands.

Children learn responsibility in taking care of their clothes too. Neatness is best taught by example. But care of clothes needs to be realistic before the youngsters can manage.

SHELVES, DRAWERS, closet rods and hooks should be within easy reach for small children. It's easier for them to hang up clothes if the hangers fit small sized clothes. They should have designated easy-to-find places to keep their clothes and a place to put soiled clothes.

And they should have a good example set by both parents. "Buying Clothes for Tots", Extension Bulletin Number E-399 is available at no charge from your County Extension Office. Write: County Extension Office, Courthouse Annex, 1003 S. Oakland, St. Johns, Mich. or call for your copy.

"Maybe I don't look so good... but I do lend a bit of atmosphere to the place. And I'm quite a drawing card when it comes to flies and varmints! What's so great about a Gas Incinerator... always bragging about its health and cleanliness—that it doesn't even smoke when it consumes rubbish and refuse. Well, I'm not taking any more 'garbage' from them! You'll see... replacing me with an automatic Gas Incinerator will make a big difference in their life!"

Bement Public Library

National Book Week and Children's Book Week do not run exactly concurrently, but they do overlap. Bement Public Library observed the opening day of National Book Week with an open house sponsored by the newly organized Friends of the Library. The affair honored Mrs. Laurita Allison, who recently left the service of the library after being assistant librarian for 17 years. Also honored were two recently retired members of the Library Board, Mrs. Beulah Ballantine and Basil Delbert.

The board of Bement Public Library placed a book in the library in honor of Mrs. Allison and her years of service. It is James L. Elliott's RED STACKS OVER THE HORIZON. Published by William B. Eerdmans Publishing Co., of Grand Rapids, the book is the story of the old Goodrich Steamboat Line which operated steamers on Lake Michigan for many years until 1933.

Mrs. Allison's favorite vacation spot is the beach at Muskegon, and it was thought by the board that with her interest in history and old things, she would particularly enjoy sharing this book with the reading public of St. Johns.

BEMENT PUBLIC LIBRARY is proudly displaying a brand new set of Encyclopedia Britannica, which arrived in time for National Book Week. The set which it replaces really merits an honorable discharge, since it has been giving service since 1939.

Many new children's books arrived in time to be on exhibit during Children's Book Week, which began Oct. 31. Included among them are new copies of all the Newbery and Caldecott Award books.

The John Newbery Award was established and endowed by Frederick G. Melcher in 1921. It is awarded for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children written each year. The man for whom the award is named was an English bookseller and publisher of the 18th century and was the first person to print and sell books especially for children.

The Caldecott Award was established and endowed, also by Frederick G. Melcher, in 1937. It is given for the best-illustrated book for children published each year. This award is named for Randolph Caldecott, a 19th century English illustrator who became known for the action, vitality, and humor of his picture books.

Bement Public Library already had copies of most of the award books, but because they are so outstanding the books are getting a little shabby, and often more than one copy is needed.

A very special memorial gift received in time for Children's Book Week is an attractive red-white-and-blue clock for the children's library. This is a gift in memory of Mrs. Reva Ward, who was a teacher in the St. Johns area schools for nearly 50 years.

Physical fitness champs among the fifth and sixth graders in the St. Johns city schools are these boys, who came out on top in a contest conducted by Mike Humphrey, physical education instructor. Left to right are: Tim Martin, sixth grade winner; Mike Price, sixth-grade runnerup; Roger Gregory, fifth grade winner; and Brian Stork, fifth grade runnerup.

5th, 6th grade boys compete in fitness test

A city-wide fifth and sixth grade physical fitness testing program was conducted recently by Mike Humphrey, Physical Education teacher for the public schools. The object was to find the most physically fit boy in each of the two grades.

The boys were tested in five events and given scores for the number of times they can do a given event. The five events were 300-yard run, pull-ups, push-ups, squat thrust in one minute, and sit-ups in two minutes.

A total of 157 boys were tested, with the high point total being 320 and the lowest 14. This is out of a possible 500 points. The point schedule was taken from the United States Marine Corp testing program.

If any parents are interested in seeing how their son scored with the members in his class, they may check with the home room teacher where their son goes to school. Charts have been posted.

Fifth grade winner was Roger Gregory, 10 years old. He goes to Swegles School and is the son of Mrs. Ruth Gregory. He scored a total of 294 points. First runner-up was Brian Stork, 10 years old, of Swegles School, and the son of Rev. and Mrs. Dean Stork. He scored 288 points.

Sixth grade winner was Tim Martin, 11 years old, of Perrin-Palmer School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin. Tim scored 320 points. First runner-up in sixth grade was Mike Price of Central School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Price. Roger scored 296 points.

Seniors to take state scholarship exams

By MIKE GALVACH
St. Johns High School

Seniors will be taking the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Examination this Saturday, Nov. 11. This testing program will be sponsored by the State of Michigan and is for those who would like to gain financial aid through scholarships.

The test center for the program in this area will be Rodney B. Wilson High School, but due to the excessive number taking the test, many seniors have been referred to Michigan State to take the test. Testing will begin at 8 a.m. and will continue on until about 12:30 p.m.

The annual magazine campaign is well underway, with Ginger Simpson and Scott Robbins holding the reins. Scott is now assisting Ginger in learning the many duties of the position in order to better prepare himself for the chairmanship next year. Scott is also the publicity manager and is assisted by Luane Lumbert. Mark Ott is the finance manager.

THE QUOTA of $5,200 set for this year is just slightly higher than the quota of $5,000 set for last year. The trip to Chicago is again being sponsored by the student council along with many other fine prizes.

The annual Varsity Night program is slated for Nov. 11. This entertaining evening offers a pleasant break between football seasons and the beginning of basketball and wrestling seasons. Featured on this year's program are the Wilsonaires, the Stage Band, the various Rock 'n Roll groups. Selected from their halftime shows, the St. Johns Redwing Marching Band will perform Big 10 fight songs and other popular selections of music.

Junior and senior members of the orchestra at Rodney B. will be traveling to Pontiac Nov. 11 to participate in the string clinic. The clinic begins in the morning with students auditioning for chairs, and then later in the afternoon a full orchestra performance will be held. All the students are rated according to their ability and are helped and directed by well-known directors from all over the State of Michigan.

The Junior Play is progressing well. In this play, "The Mouse that Roared," Dave Zischewski will be playing the part of Captain Mountjoy. Scott Robbins will play the part of David Benter and the two ladies-in-waiting will be Judy Whitlock and Shari Liszewski. The committees for properties, costumes, and lighting met and are now busily occupied preparing for the dress rehearsal and finally the two nights of production. The Drama Club will help with the make-up.

The exciting and breath-taking Trampoline-Spaceball Set will perform for the Nov. 13 assembly in the high school gymnasium. The first hour assembly will provide new insights for the students who have never seen spaceball played. Elements of basketball and volleyball are included in this fast-moving sport.

The program will illustrate the perfect coordination of mind and body needed for this action-packed sport. American astronauts and air cadets use this game in their training programs. The respectable titles earned by the group include NCAA trampoline champion, three times, Big Ten Trampoline Champion, and Pan-American Games Trampoline Champion. They have made

Library Club has Friends night Nov. 3

Friday evening, Nov. 3, the members of the Ovid-Duplain Library Club entertained their husbands and friends at a family night program at the Shepardsville Church. The committee in charge were Mrs Robert Watson, Mrs Ray Jones and Mrs Alfred Rademacher. The tables were decorated in keeping with the fall season, with gourds, small pumpkins and brightly colored leaves.

Mrs Charles Walker read an invitation from the daughters of Mr and Mrs Clarence Kaltrider, inviting the club to attend an open house at the Clinton County Country Club for their parent's 50th wedding anniversary. The time is from 2 to 5 p.m. and the date is Sunday, Nov. 19.

Special guests for the evening were Mr and Mrs George Craig of Ovid, who showed pictures of their Alaskan trip. This is the second time the Craigs have visited Alaska with their camper. There is a saying that goes something like this: That a picture is worth a thousand words. The same could be said about the Craigs' pictures. The Craigs were presented with a gift from the Club.

The next meeting will be the Christmas program at the home of Mrs Charles Walker of Colony Road. The members are asked to bring their gifts for the Traverse City Hospital. Mrs John Bracey is in charge of this project. There will be the usual potluck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Roll Call is to be a Christmas wish. Those in charge of the program are Mrs Darwin Hunt, Mrs Chauncey Green and Mrs Harold Frisbie. The date is Dec. 1.

The MYF will meet Sunday, Nov. 12 and again the 26th. It is necessary that each member must attend both meetings each month in order to be eligible for their party each month.

The afternoon circle of the WSCS will meet Thursday with Mrs John Spencer of Kinley Road. Mrs George Olson will have the program and Mrs Robert Hebel Sr. will have devotions. The thank offering will be taken at this time.

The Berean Circle of the WSCS meets Thursday evening, Nov. 16, with Mrs Clare Alderman. Mrs Irene Heltinger will be in charge of the program and Mrs Leona Swender will have devotions. They will also have their annual Chinese Auction at this meeting.

The Official Board will meet at 4 p.m. Nov. 19 at the church.

If you are an official on this board, make a special effort to be there so that there may be a full attendance.

The Methodist men are urged to keep Nov. 27 in mind as they will have the men of the Price church as their guests for a potluck supper.

The name of Mrs Sarah Young was omitted among those who were present at Mrs Charles Palen's surprise birthday party which was held a short while ago.

Mr and Mrs Ed Long of Lake Mills, Wisconsin spent from Thursday morning until Sunday morning with her mother, Mrs Charles Olson Sr., and the Charles Olson Jr. family.

Mr and Mrs Ronald Freeman and daughter of Keego Harbor spent Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs Effie Wilson.

Mrs John Spencer spent Thursday afternoon, with other correspondents, visiting the news room of the Clinton County News. It is too bad that more of the country correspondents did not avail themselves of the opportunity to see how their paper is set up, before it goes to the printer.

Mr and Mrs John Spencer spent last Wednesday afternoon and evening with Mr and Mrs Guy Cox in Lansing.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Thursday evening the Clinton County 4-H teen leaders attended the program "Know Your Government" as they learned about the county board of supervisors from Ernest Carter, chairman of the board, and about the City of St. Johns council from Mrs. Jean Rand, a council member.

Each spoke to the organizations of their respective government body, the responsibilities of members, the problems they are facing, and how the city and county work together. The members felt that more people need to take time out to learn more about their local government.

Mr. Vo Quang Tam, national 4-T leader of Viet Nam, spoke to the teen leaders, explaining about his country and how the 4-T program operates. The 4-T stands for the head, heart, hands and health that the 4-H stands for here in the United States. During the next three weeks, while Mr. Tam is in the county, he will be learning more about the Extension programs and how people live here in Michigan.

Mr. Tam will be speaking at the Happy Hustlers 4-H Club Family Night program on the 13th, the Methodist Men's Club on the 17th, Price Methodist Church United Nations program on the 18th, and will be attending the 4-H Council meeting, Rotary, Jaycees, USDA meeting and the Gratiot County 4-H leaders banquet.

Brenda Flegler of St. Johns and James Nichols of DeWitt have been selected to receive the "I Dare You" award. Brenda and Jim were selected for this award based upon their selection as the County outstanding boy and girl for 1967. The award is an inspirational book by William H. Danforth, founder of the Ralston-Purina Co. The book is written out of Mr. Danforth's experience to challenge the young people of today to develop their talents and to measure up to their very best selves. In this day of great need for outstanding and dedicated citizenship, the book may provide a stimulation to accept today's many challenges.

The sponsoring organization is the "I Dare You" committee and the Youth program is made possible through a grant to the "I Dare You" committee.

WHEREAS, the Finance Committee members were present and were fully cognizant of the Board of Supervisor hearings and discussions on the said resolution, and do each firmly believe that the intent and understanding of all the members of the Board of Supervisors present at said July 10, 1967 meeting at the time of passage of said resolution were in full and substantial understanding and accord with the following resolution.

AND WHEREAS, the Finance Committee will present the following resolutions to the Board of Supervisors at its next regularly scheduled meeting, and will unanimously recommend its ratification by said Board of Supervisors.

RESOLVED, THAT the said $200,000.00 borrowing heretofore authorized by the Board of Supervisors at its regular meeting of July 10, 1967, and its resulting application therefore to the Municipal Finance Commission of the State of Michigan was in anticipation of the collection of taxes commencing to be due and payable on December 1, 1967 which tax is for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1968; the notes of the County to issue for said borrowing to mature and be repayable on March 1, 1968, from the herein stated anticipated collection of taxes, and the special fund designated in the said resolution of the Board of Supervisors dated July 10, 1967 does refer to the repayment of said borrowing from the first collections of the herein stated anticipated collection of taxes, namely from the taxes to become due and payable December 1, 1967, as same are received from the collections of taxes for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1968.

WHEREAS, it could not reasonably have been foreseen and adequately provided for such necessary additional funds for operating the County when the tax levy was being made because the final allocation Board, decision provided for 5.63 mills, whereas the estimated County budget required 7.21 mills to fully cover said cost estimates. In addition thereto, said expenditures increased substantially through various State statutory required services imposed upon the County without sufficient return revenues provided, namely the Drivers License Bureau, Equalization Department and Medical Health facilities. In further interest of good government, it was expedient and deemed required to add the services of a County Engineer, and that resulting department, all of which had effect to cause said deficiency.

At this time Supervisor Lorenz Tiedt, did disclose and declare that he as a member of this Board of Supervisors is also a member of the control Board of the Clinton National Bank and Trust Company and as such should therefore be barred from voting on any question directly concerning said Clinton National Bank and Trust Company and the County of Clinton in the negotiation of a loan for Clinton County.

Supervisor Tiedt, Chairman of the Equalization Committee, presented the Equalization Report and discussed it with the Board, after which he moved that the report be laid on the table until the next meeting. Motion was supported by Supervisor Shepard voted and carried.

Chairman Carter appointed Supervisor Tiedt as a delegate and Supervisor Shepard as an alternate, to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement Board to be held in Grand Rapids on October 18, 1967.

Chairman Carter appointed Supervisors Nelson, Shinabery, and Smith, to meet with similar committees from Eaton and Ingham Counties for the purpose of discussing the possibility and feasibility of the formation of a joint Tri-County Board of Supervisors Airport Commission composed of the three counties.

A motion was made by Supervisor Shinabery and supported by Supervisor Barks, that this Board concur with action and recommendations of the Clinton County Zoning Commission taken in a meeting on September 14, 1967, and that the following Ordinance and Building Code changes be adopted by this Board. On a call for an Aye and Nay vote those voting Aye were Supervisors Shepard, Mayers, Nelson, Moore, Howe, Shinabery, Nobis, Barks, Austin, Norman Thelen, Carter, Walter Thelen, Tiedt, and Price. Those voting Nay were Supervisors Gove, Satterington and Underhill. Absent were Supervisors Huftnagel, Clark, Reed, Coletta and Smith, 14 Ayes—3 Nays. Motion declared carried.

ASC PROGRAM

Increased interest shown in soybean loan program

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on Oct. 26 announced a 1968 Voluntary Feed Grain Program that takes action to reduce total supplies in order to strengthen prices.

The target is to divert about 30 million acres from production in order to change this year's 2 to 3 per cent over-production to a 2 to 3 per cent under production next year.

Farmers will be encouraged to divert at least 10 million additional acres through the offer of diversion payments at 45 per cent of the total support ($1.35 for corn) times the farm's projected yield. Average per acre payments will be slightly higher than in 1966.

GOOD WEATHER at home and abroad in 1966-67 has led to world-wide over-production of grains. This big world crop has depressed U.S. prices. Keen competition last year cut our exports by 7 million tons from the previous year. We can't be absolutely certain what production at home or abroad will be in 1968, but under our new farm program, with flexible, voluntary feed grain features, we are making adjustments that will increase prices.

Price support loan levels under the 1968 program will be at the 1967 level: for corn, $1.05 per bushel; sorghum, $1.61 per hundredweight; and barley 90 cents, oats 63 cents, and rye $1.02 a bushel. Price support payments will continue at 30 cents per bushel for corn and 53 cents per hundredweight on sorghum, based on planted acreage up to one-half the farm base times projected yield.

Current estimates indicate that in the absence of a diversion program, feed grain production in 1968 would be well in excess of requirements. Without the diversion program, returns to feed grain producers would likely be about 30 per cent less than this year. Income of livestock and poultry producers also would be adversely affected as a result of the abundance of cheap feed and its effect on animal numbers and prices of livestock and poultry products. The old adage that "cheap corn means cheap cattle and cheap hogs" still holds.

KEY PROVISIONS of the 1968 feed grain program are:
1) Required acreage diversion to conserving use to qualify price support loans and payments is continued at 20 per cent of a farmer's base acreage of corn and sorghum. No diversion payments will be made for this minimum diversion, except for small farm acreages—the same as in 1966 and 1967.

2) Additional acreage diversion will be possible up to a total of 50 per cent of the base or 25 acres, whichever is larger, the same as in 1966. The acreage diversion payment rate will be at 45 per cent of the total price support times the projected yield. Average projected yields for 1968 in most major producing areas generally are higher than in 1966. On a national basis, the projected corn yield is up six bushels and grain sorghum up four bushels per acre.

3) Exceptions were made for small diversion payments; both in 1967 and 1968, and the similar exception will be continued in 1968. A farm with a base of 25 acres or less will get payment on the first 20 per cent acreage diversion at 20 per cent of the total support rate times yield, and at the regular 45 per cent payment rate on the remaining acreage diverted to a conserving use.

As in 1967, producers with corn-sorghum base acreages up to 125 acres will have the option of temporarily reducing this base down to 25 acres and still be eligible for the small farm provision on condition that no corn or grain sorghum will be planted for harvest on the farm and the 25 acres are diverted to conserving use.

WHETHER SOYBEAN plantings can be made on corn-sorghum acreage as in 1967 without loss of the feed grain support payments will be announced after the domestic and export situations for this crop are more fully developed.

Conserving base features will continue in 1968 the same as in 1967 and 1966.

Substitution provisions relating to wheat and feed grain acreage will be continued.

As announced July 24, 1967, barley is not included in the 1968 feed grain program. All barley producers will be eligible for barley price support loans regardless of acreage planted. Also, wheat producers desiring to substitute acreage in order to produce wheat on barley can do so for the 1968 crop. No acreage diversion will be required from barley if requested for the purpose of producing wheat on such acreage.

Determinations such as advance payments, the production of substitute crops on diverted acreage, and other details, will be announced prior to the signing time.

Signups for participating in the 1968 feed grain and wheat programs are to take place concurrently during February and March 1968.

Autumn dairy care suggested

Because the farm is the source of milk from which fine dairy foods are derived, milk sanitation is important to producer and consumer, especially with cold and wet weather setting in.

John Anderson of St. Johns, dairy inspector of the Michigan Department of Agriculture for this part of the state, urges herd owners to clip hair on a few cows each day as a step toward clean milk.

He said early clipping of flanks, bellies and udders simplifies sanitation all winter when cows are closely confined. The clipping of hair on the under parts of cattle is not required by law, but strict sanitation is enforced by the Dairy Division of the department.

"In autumn clipping cows is easy, but after cows have been indoors for weeks it is a difficult task," said Inspector Anderson. "For herd owners who do not have them, clippers usually can be rented from producer associations and dairy plants." In December or January cows should be clipped again.

Inspector Anderson is a member of the Dairy Division's 53-man force whose responsibility it is to see that users of Michigan milk and dairy foods receive clean wholesome products. To assure sanitary conditions routine inspections are made at farms producing milk as well as plants processing milk, butter, ice cream, cheese and nonfat dry milk.

Clinton SCD enters Goodyear competition

Clinton County Soil Conservation District has entered the 21st annual Goodyear Competition to select the nation's top 53 conservation districts, according to Robert Moore of Elsie, district chairman.

Activities of the district will be weighed against the performance of other districts in the state in determining the outstanding district in the annual event sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., of Akron, Ohio.

Key agricultural leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil conservation efforts from Jan. 1, 1967, through Dec. 31, 1967, will be considered.

GRAND AWARD for the 53 districts selected nationally will be an expense paid, work-study trip to Arizona in December 1968 for one member of the district governing body and the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each winning district.

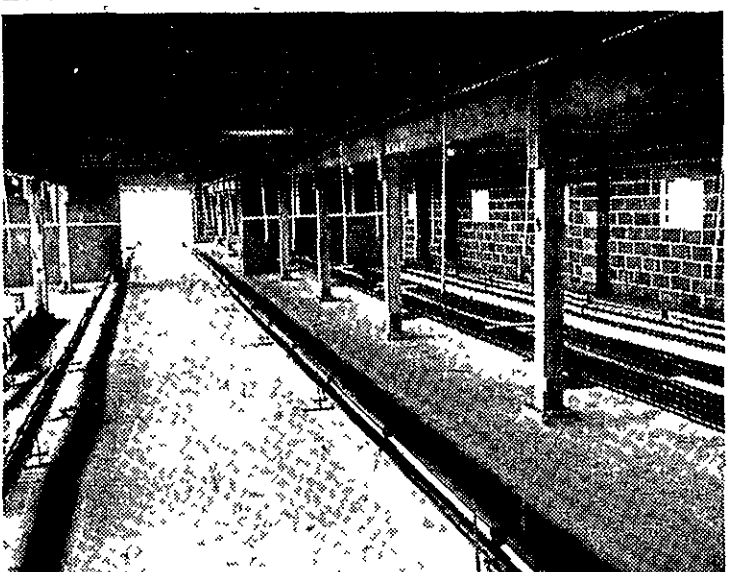

The 106 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix.

Clinton County Soil Conservation district has taken part in the competition eight times in the past and was named the state's first-place district in 1962.

District directors are: Robert Moore of R-1 Elsie, Keith Wright, of R-1 Fowler, Clarence Manning of R-1 Eagle, William Mayers of R-2 St. Johns, and Stanley Baird of DeWitt.

Moore said the district's outstanding cooperator will be selected from over 810 farm co-operators enrolled in the district program. Nationally, over 2,000,000 farmers in over 2,950 districts have signed cooperative agreements with local Soil and Water Conservation districts.

Concrete poultry house floors pay. They offer improved livability, easier sanitation, less deworming; require less litter and fewer man-hours for clean-up. Pullets grown on concrete floors average four more eggs per hen per year.

Concrete floors do pay

To reduce production costs and increase profits, more poultry growers are installing concrete floors. Tangible savings can result from at least five phases of production, according to a comparative study made by a Georgia poultry producer.

The cost of installing a concrete poultry house floor usually averages about 30 cents per bird. The big advantages are less deworming, improved livability, easier sanitation, less litter needed, and fewer man-hours for clean-up. An unexpected feature of the study showed that pullets grown on concrete floors average four more eggs per hen per year.

The results of the study are based on comparisons between one million birds, half of them grown on concrete and the other half on dirt floors. Specific savings of one-half cent per bird were reported on deworming costs alone. The producer further reported that the livability rate of each flock raised on concrete was 2 per cent higher. It is easier to sanitize concrete floors. Savings in this phase of the production cycle averaged nearly 45 per cent less than the cost of cleaning dirt floors. Twenty-five per cent less litter was needed—a savings of from $35 to $40 per brood. Twenty man-hours of labor per brood was saved.

Paved poultry house floors will pay for themselves many times over. They help to lower operating costs, and that means broader profit margins.

Michigan winter movie available

Prints of the Michigan Tourist Council's newest motion picture production, "Winter in Michigan," are now available for general distribution.

The 15-minute sound and color film portrays Michigan's wide variety of winter vacation activities, including skiing, snowmobiling, sightseeing, ice fishing and festivals, said William T. McGraw, Tourist Council Director.

Prints of council films can be booked free of charge by contacting the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926. Requests should be submitted at least eight weeks in advance of the scheduled showing to assure bookings.

Dairy farmers were furthest from parity of all types of farmers in 1966, many of them lucky to achieve 50 per cent.

Subdivisions in dairy areas are problems

A sign goes up in a dairy farming community announcing a subdivision development and the result is dairy farmers faced with higher land taxes.

Michigan State University agricultural economists say that real estate taxes on a per acre basis often will be doubled or tripled on some farms. They advise dairymen to examine the consequences of adopting alternative solutions to high land assessments and tax rates if they are to stay competitive.

MSU economists suggest the following. Prepare budgets showing expected changes in investments, receipts and expenses if plans are being made to change the land area operated or if selling the farm and moving to a new location is being considered.

Many farmers profit by selling and relocating their farms in a more rural area, economists say. But for those who expect to farm for only a few years, economists suggest an alternative of selling most of the farm land and buying much of the feed. But sooner or later the residents will force a move because of "nuisance" regulations.

Agricultural economists advise consideration of the consequences of taxes paid on capital gains in event of selling land at a high price. They say that savings in taxes paid on capital gains are considerable when no more than 30 per cent of the selling prices is received at time of sale with the balance collected over a period of 5 to 10 years.

Apple production development told

Apple production has increased in Michigan because of new technological methods of packaging and harvesting, according to Michigan State University horticultural officials.

Michigan apple packers are using the new molded tray container. A shrink-film or over-wrap is molded tightly by machine over 6 to 12 apples in an egg-carton-type tray. Apples will not bruise as easily during shipment and when displayed will reveal color and quality to the consumer.

The three and four pound poly bags are rapidly replacing the once popular returnable crate and bushel baskets, says MSU agriculturists. Sixty to 70 per cent of Michigan's apple crop for retail sale is now packed in poly bags.

Apple harvesting was done mechanically for the first time this season in Michigan. A mechanical picking machine, modeled after the now popular cherry picker, was innovated on a few Michigan apple farms, according to reports to Michigan State University.

Increase silo capacity almost 250 tons in a 30 x 60 foot silo by distributing silage more evenly, say Michigan State University researchers. Lack of or faulty, distribution, results in separation of stalks and leaves from the corn and less than maximum packing.

NOW BOOKING GLH SEED CORN

THE SUREST SIGN OF GOOD SENSE IN SELECTING HYBRID SEED CORN

This emblem is going up along more and more Michigan highways as more and more Michigan farmers plant the only major brand of hybrid seed corn whose producers subject every acre and every bushel of seed to impartial testing by the Michigan Crop Improvement Association. Besides the MCA tests, every new variety is widely tested three years before it's put on the market. GLH now has 12 varieties—all tested and proven for high quality, top production in one of Michigan's four crop zones. When you see the GLH emblem above, you'll know the farmer who put it up used good judgment in selecting the corn he planted last spring.

Methodist news notes

Notes on activities in the Methodist Church of St. Johns:

The official board of the church will meet Tuesday, Nov. 21.

This Sunday will be "A Great Day for Singing" in which the 12 hymns of the month will be used in a specially designed worship service.

George Somers will preach at the morning worship service Dec. 10.

Mrs. Eugene Beagle is church school superintendent at the Methodist Church, and Mrs. Alan Sloe is secretary-treasurer. There is a trained teacher for every class, but helpers for the teachers are badly needed. A helper is not expected to teach the class, but can be of much assistance in relieving the teacher of other duties.

Sunday, Nov. 19, has been set aside for baptism at the worship services. Parents who would like to have their children baptised at that time should notify the church office so that arrangements can be completed.

Baptist Church news notes

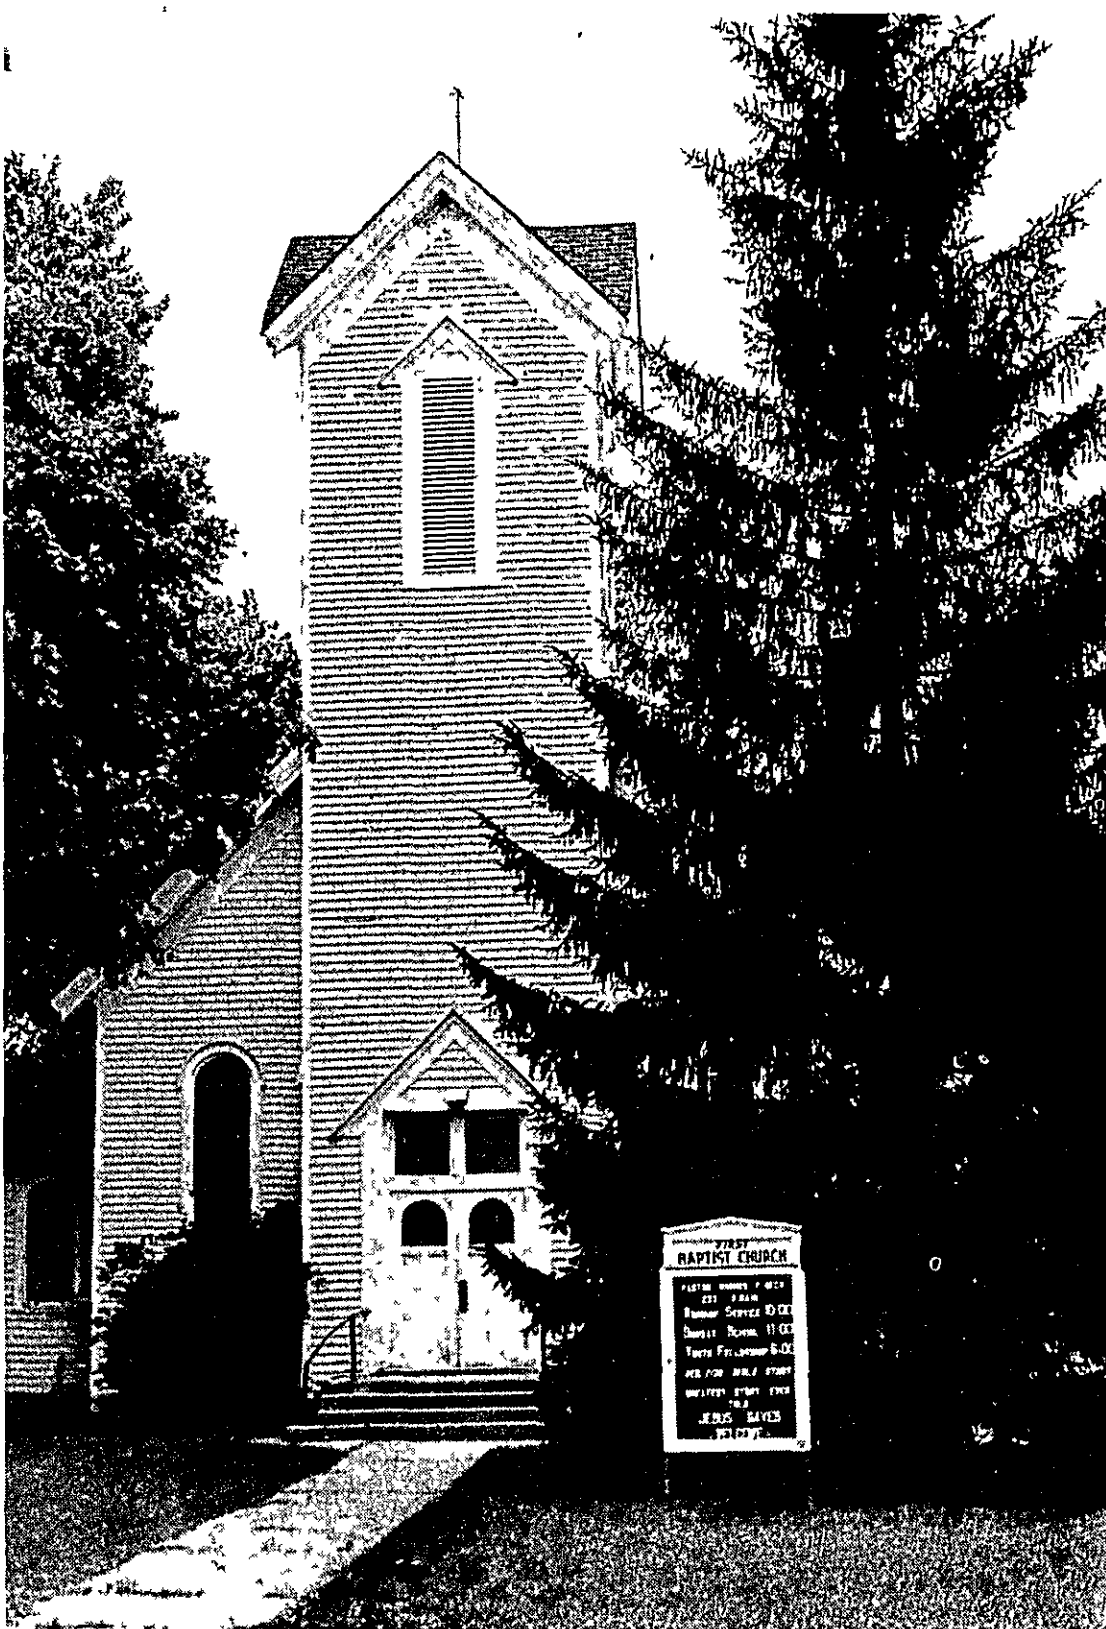

Here are some notes on activities at the First Baptist Church in St. Johns:

Rev. Stephen Nischik, missionary to the Ukrainians, delivered the sermon at evening worship at the church Sunday.

A family night service with the Whirlbirds and Junior Youth was held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, and at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) parents of teenagers will meet for an hour and a half.

This Sunday's program will include the Back to the Bible Quartet at the morning service and a communion service at the evening worship. Sunday will also be Shepherd's Sunday, when the church annually takes an offering for the needs of Shepherds, Inc., in the care of mentally retarded children.

Our places of worship . . .

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF ELSIE

The First Baptist Church of Elsie is highlighted this week as one of "Our Places of Worship" in Clinton County. Rev. Norris Beck is the pastor of the church, situated at 163 W. Main Street in Elsie. Paul Brown is church school superintendent. Church board members include Chairman of Deacons Mrs. George Serviss, Deacon Wayne Morey and Paul Brown. Board of trustees members are Daisy Talbot, Wayne Morey, Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. George Serviss.

Fr Hackett of Pewamo reassigned

PEWAMO—Bishop Allen Babcock of the Grand Rapids Catholic Diocese last week announced the reassignment of Rev. Francis L. Hackett of St. Joseph's Church at Pewamo to the pastorate of Our Lady of Fatima parish in Shelby.

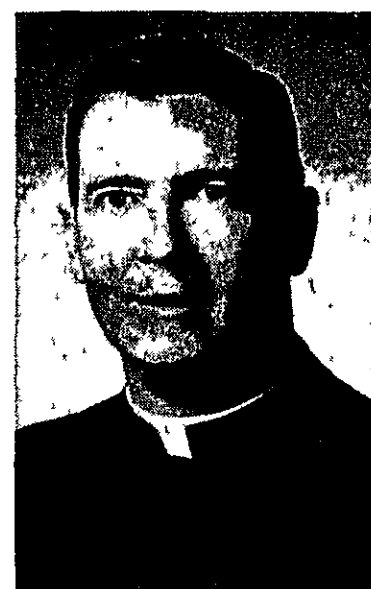

Father Hackett will also have a mission St. Joseph at Elbridge. Succeeding Rev. Hackett as pastor of St. Joseph's in Pewamo will be the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Thomas J. Bolger, M.A., veteran priest of the Grand Rapids Diocese and director of the Office of Education for more than a decade.

Mrs. Bolger had recently held the pastorate at the inner-city parish of St. Mary's in downtown Muskegon.

FATHER HACKETT has served in an interim capacity at the Pewamo church since the death of Rev. Paul F. Kersjes in December 1965. During those months the program begun by Rev. Kersjes was carried on in the rebuilding of the curriculum at St. Joseph's Elementary School, the expansion of the religious education program for elementary, high school and adult age groups, and the extensive renovation of the physical plant of St. Joseph's School.

A financial campaign is currently in progress to retire the indebtedness incurred.

Parishoners of St. Joseph's honored Father Hackett at an informal reception in the new auditorium Sunday evening. Parish officers of the Men's Holy Name Society and the Ladies

REV. FRANCIS L. HACKETT

Altar Society served as hosts and hostesses. The evening started with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament at the high altar in St. Joseph's Church at 5 p.m.

Father Hackett preached his final sermon at St. Joseph's Sunday and was to assume his new duties at Shelby Wednesday (Nov. 8).

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Hubbardston has set new fees for the use of the dump by Hubbardston, Pewamo and North Plains Township residents. Fee for entry to the dump is 25 cents per car, 50 cents per pick-up truck and $1 per large truck or wagon. The dump is now open Tuesdays and Saturdays.

Thirty-nine of Western Michigan University's 18,447 students are from Clinton County, the university reported last week. And the southeastern part of Michigan, with which Clinton is linked, supplies one out of every three students at WMU.

Parish assembly to start Vatican decree discussions

The Most Rev. Alexander Zaleski, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Lansing, has called for assemblies in all 115 parishes and missions of the diocese this Sunday, termed "Renewal Sunday."

The assemblies will be the first of eight weekly meetings for more than 20,000 Catholics involved in a programmed study and discussion of the Second Vatican Council Decree on the Apostolate of the Laity.

The Rev. William G. Hankerd, pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns, told the Clinton County News his parishioners will assemble at 7 p.m. Sunday at the church.

ABOUT 200 ADULTS and 11th and 12th grade high school members of the parish have already registered for a home discussion program, which will take place on the second through the seventh weeks of the meetings. These in-between meetings will involve many groups of 10 to 12 persons meeting in homes to study and discuss various chapters of the decree.

Others here who would like to register for the home discussion program are asked to contact either Bernard Feldpausch or Anthony Kuntz, parish co-chairmen.

The diocesan program will climax with a Diocesan Renewal Congress Feb. 18, 1968, at the Lansing Civic Center.

Father Hankerd said the purpose of the program is to help lay persons recognize their redefined dynamic role in the church—and to help them assume that role.

Missionaries to Ghana slated at Bethel Church

Carson and Ellen Moyer, returned missionaries from Ghana, will speak at the Bethel Mennonite Church this Sunday at 11 a.m. The Bethel Mennonite Church is located 10 miles north of St. Johns on US-27.

The Moyers have been engaged in pastoral and medical work in Accra, the capital city of Ghana, since 1959 under the auspices of the Mennonite Board of Missions. In Ghana, Moyer was missionary overseer for the Ghana Mennonite Church and was moderator of the conference and Mennonite representative on inter-church committees.

Mrs. Moyer was engaged as a medical officer for Christian Council's family counseling program. Currently on furlough, the Moyers are studying at the Goshen Seminary preparatory to returning to Ghana for their third three-year term.

A time of decision

Americans have reached a point where we must make a decision: We must obey laws and rules and stand firm for their enforcement, or we can chuck them as being only so much paperwork. The latter decision would be suicide.

Yet this is what we do and allow. We allow protest marches to turn into riots and we handle them with kid gloves and make apologies for turning them back. We allow statements and actions of treason and are reluctant to prosecute for fear of infringing on a traitor's rights.

Crime has almost become an accepted pastime because we are afraid to prosecute and judge by the intent of the law rather than loop-holed letter of the law. Moral decay among our young people is the result of parents afraid or just plain unconcerned about enforcing the rules of the home and of gentlemanly and lady-like behavior.

State's road building is an endless job

(From The Jackson Citizen-Patriot)

The State of Michigan has done well in building freeways under the federal Interstate highway financing program and with its own funds. Few states can brag of three major routes completed from border to border.

Now comes a member of the State Highway Commission, Wallace D. Nunn, to say that the job is less than half done when viewed in the light of the needs of 1980.

The state's 1,300 miles of freeway will have to be expanded to 3,000 miles by that date or Michigan will "have a traffic jam to end all traffic jams."

Mr Nunn's deductions seem reasonable, even though they may be shocking

These are the symptoms of a sick society. Any doctor will tell you you can't cure a serious illness by lax application of rules concerning rest, food, and proper medicines. And we as a supposedly intelligent people should know that we won't cure this national illness by lax application of national and moral laws.

Our national Constitution guarantees individual freedoms, but those freedoms don't extend beyond the point where they infringe on the freedoms of other people or other groups. We have to realize this, and we have to firmly draw a solid line at that point of conflict.

It's time we stand up and tell our law enforcement agencies to carry out the intent of the law and to tell our courts to judge by the intent of the law. And it's time that we observe the law—of man and God.

to the people who have to pay the bill for new highways.

The population and automobile explosions create a need for highways that never seems quite filled no matter how rapidly the roads may be built.

To put it another way, no state ever can reach the point where it can sit back and say that its freeway system is complete. Delays in construction only compound the problem.

All of which, of course, is something for the Legislature to understand as it contemplates the proposed increase in taxes. A great deal of money will be required for the state to keep even with the ever-expanding need for new highways.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

WYNNE, ARK., PROGRESS: "Under the American system of government, you can't bully your way into society. Those who choose this course eventually will destroy all their chances for social and economic equality. We sincerely believe the majority race in our nation has done much—and still has much to do—to erase the injustices of the past 100 years. We also believe that the minority race is now being handicapped more by its own so-called leaders than it has been by its previous oppressors."

SELMA, ALA., TIMES-JOURNAL: "One of the finest words right now is 'pragmatic'. So someone says that Mr Smith is pragmatic, and someone else nods understandingly. But what is the speaker actually saying? That Smith is involved in affairs of community or state? That he is officious and opinionated? That he is practical and matter-of-fact? Or that he's just a plain old busybody? Smith can, in fact, be any of those if he is really pragmatic. The dictionary says so. So unless the precise intent of the word is made clear, or the speaker doesn't mind a punch in the nose, it might be more pragmatic for him to come right out and say that Smith is practical—if that's what he means, and he usually does."

YANKTON, S.D., PRESS & DAKOTAN: "Might we suggest that the first picture to be used on the new six-cent stamp could appropriately be an American taxpayer standing with his bare chest showing—indicating that he had already lost his shirt."

WATERLOO, WIS., COURIER: "We believe it's time the potential victims of inflation make it clear to the politicians that we are not as gullible as the inflationists seem to think."

OCALA, FLA., STAR-BANNER: "Charles Evans Hughes, the famous American jurist, observed that 'a man has to live with himself, and he should see to it that he always has good company.' Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., the American capitalist, put it another way: 'When a man has confidence in himself, he gets along.'"

A look into the past . . .

UP GOES THE SMOKESTACK

That smokestack in last week's picture of the St. Johns factory area in the early 1900s was a predecessor to this one being raised in 1915. Tom Parks of R-4, St. Johns, who contributed the picture, helped raise it. He's on the low roof of the building at the right, with A.W. Stockwell on the left. John Thurston is behind the first team of mules, with Elmer Kitridge behind the second team. The building is that of the Hayes Wheel Works.

The reward

By W. E. DOBSON

After you've toured or travelled
Found time and the notion to roam,
After the journey is ended—
Once again you have landed at home;
Only then is there real relaxation
Away from the maddening throng,
And you feel a bit surer than ever,
"This is the place I belong!"

Though many the lands to discover,
And each with appeal of its own,
Comes an hour when nothing else answers
And again you rejoice to go home;
Though you lived like a king on your mission,
Satisfactions are waiting you there,
Far away from the din of the city
You commune from that favorite chair.

Oh, it's fun now and then to play gypsy,
And pull on your seven league boots,
To live in the planning and going—
To feast on the choicest of fruits;
But fruits ever change with the season,
The wonders recede one by one,
Till again you are treading the pathway,
In the role of a Prodigal Son.

from the HOPPER

By STEVEN HOPKO

Our day and age seems to be a time when license and flouting of the laws has become legal, at least to some groups, and the disturbing thing is that they seem to get away with it.

There are a few laws which I dislike very much, and would like to forget that they exist. But, I am told that I must obey because it is my obligation to God and country.

I DISLIKE PAYING my taxes because I believe that too much of our tax money is wasted by those who handle it in projects that I do not approve. Yet, my church and my country say that it is my obligation to pay, even though I do not like it.

What I need is someone to give me sanctuary or to instruct me in how to avoid paying taxes that I dislike. If someone took me up on this request publicly, I'm sure that the hue and cry would be heard from here to you know where.

YET, LATELY, we hear more and more of ministers, priests and other men of God who have publicly announced that they are willing to help young men avoid their military obligations and even to give them sanctuary.

These instructions on how to avoid military service would be, "how to be a conscientious objector." Webster defines a conscientious objector as: One who, for conscience' sake, objects to warfare or to military service. I believe that over the years 99% of the men of this nation were or have been conscientious objectors. Yet these same men entered service and served their country, because it was their obligation to God and country.

WE ARE TOLD today that many of our young men do not have the patriotic desire to serve their country and this is not surprising when we consider the number of men, especially men of the ministry, who would help these men avoid what we must believe is right.

Mrs. Robert Rand and John Furry were elected to the St. Johns City Commission by city voters Tuesday and both—highly elated after hearing the results—promised the best representation possible.

Reckless flying is the charge lodged against Arden Kimmel of Roseville, when he appears before Justice Alba Wert here Friday morning in answer to a summons issued by Deputy Gaylord Foote of Bath.

To me, the purpose of the men of the ministry, has been to teach us to live our lives in the ways God set forth. To obey the laws of God and country and these laws are tied together very closely. It is almost impossible to violate one without violating the other.

YET, BECAUSE a few of these men of the cloth do not believe in what we are doing in Viet Nam, and this they have a right to do, they have publicly stated that they will instruct men on how to avoid a personal obligation to their country.

Today is the time when so many of our younger generation needs to have his faith in God and country renewed by every effort available. The men of our religious faiths have the knowledge and ability to accomplish this, but it will never happen if even a minority believe that they can disobey a law simply because they do not believe in it.

THERE IS A SAYING that goes: Laws are made to be broken. At one time or another I believe that we all

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

I was reminded the other day about the Presidential Scholars—the boy and girl from each of the states, from each of the 11 U. S. territories and 15 students at large—who are singled out each year for honors by President Johnson.

This is a nice thing, and it shows that more attention is being placed on scholarship, and not only by educators.

Scholars in high school are not looked on any more as merely teachers' pets by their fellow students; they're taking a place of honor. And so it should be.

As I follow the honor rolls of the various Clinton area schools throughout the year, it occurs to me that the students who study hard and do well in school probably don't get the proper recognition. I've commented on this before.

THE SCHOOLS have local chapters of the National Honor Society, and they do their part in promoting scholarship and recognizing those who achieve it. And there are many other groups—civic groups as well as those in school—which help to spotlight those who are learning and doing it exceptionally well.

But honors like these are often soon forgotten by those not associated with the student. The name is read in the paper, but the meaning is soon lost in the shuffle of other names through the mind.

In athletics, this problem is combated by using the athletics letter, which athletics wear on sweaters. Bands do the same. Why couldn't this be done for those achieving greatness in scholarship?

Such a plan worked fine in the high school at Denison, Tex., according to an article in a national newspaper supplement magazine several years ago. School letters were awarded each year to 24 students who did superior academic work.

THERE, EACH school year, the 24 letters are handed out, equally divided among the four major fields of study—English, math, science and social sciences—and at the sophomore, junior and senior levels. Letter winners themselves were reported extremely proud of their achievement. But more importantly, one of those students who hadn't won remarked, "I'd rather have one of those than a sports letter. They really show you've achieved something." A football player who won both an athletic and scholastic letter significantly wore the one for academics.

A program similar to the one in Denison could work here, and it wouldn't downgrade the athletes and bandmen. But it would honor, and put on public display wherever he or she wore the sweater, the scholar. If the letter had a white background, it would probably differentiate the scholar from the others.

These students and the ones who are trying to better themselves are the ones who should be constantly recognized and encouraged by the public, for they are the future backbone of future America. If this method would help—and it should—then it would be more than worthwhile.

What's the PF in your basement?

Did you know your basement has a "best corner"; that is, a corner that provides the best protection against radioactive fallout? It's the one with the highest outside ground level, the one with the least amount of basement wall extending above ground. Now, that's something you can easily determine for yourself.

But do you know how much protection against fallout the best corner provides? Likely not; only a scientific evaluation could give you that information. And that's exactly what the Home Fallout Protection Survey is doing for Michigan householders living in one-, two-, and three-family dwellings with basements—evaluating the degree of protection in each home basement, and mailing this confidential information directly to the householder.

In response to Governor George Romney's request, the Office of Civil Defense in Washington arranged for the Bureau of the Census to make this State-wide survey. The bureau obtains a few simple facts about the construction of one-, two-, and three-family dwellings. On the basis of this information, a computer at the Census Bureau calculates the protection factor (PF) for each individual basement.

PROTECTION FACTOR is a term used to indicate a certain amount of protection against fallout radiation. For example, a person in a basement corner which has protection factor-40 would receive only one-fortieth or 2 1/2 per cent as much radiation as he would get if he were outside and completely unprotected. The higher the PF, the more protection the basement affords. PF-40 has been established by the Office of Civil Defense as the minimum standard for public fallout shelters. The familiar black-and-yellow fallout shelter sign designates buildings where these shelters are located.

In addition to providing the PF for the best "corner," the computer calculates the PF for the center of your basement.

This, in effect, tells you the amount of protection normally found in your entire basement.

But what if the PF in your best corner is below 40? The computer calculates how much weight of material should be placed over each square foot above the best corner to bring its PF up to 40.

All of this information comes to you with a civil defense booklet suggesting relatively inexpensive measures you can take to increase the "radiation shielding" in your basement. And if you want detailed plans for improving the shielding in your basement mail the postage-free card attached to the booklet.

YOU SAY YOU DON'T have a basement? Then fill in the questionnaire anyway, and you'll receive a Civil Defense booklet containing other helpful information about fallout protection for you and your family.

If you need further information contact your civil defense director or the Civil Defense Division, Michigan State Police, East Lansing.

Recovery, Inc., helping mental patients share, shake burdens

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Fifty mental patients were waiting to see Dr. Abraham A. Low, a psychiatrist, as he walked through the doors of the University of Illinois Medical School. Realizing that he could not possibly give an hour to each one, Dr. Low conceived the idea of helping them in a group.

That was in 1937. Shortly thereafter, Dr. Low realized that patients who have largely recovered from their psychosis can be helpful to others who have been dismissed from mental hospitals but still get upset and frightened. He founded Recovery, Inc., a "club" composed of laymen who have largely or completely recovered from their mental problems and who aid others in need of help.

THIRTY YEARS LATER Recovery, Inc., has a membership of over 10,000 and has helped many thousands more overcome their mental problems. There are 157 chapters in Michigan alone; 36 states and three Canadian provinces have local chapters.

It is a self-help organization of people whose extreme nervousness interferes with their lives. For some it's a means of recuperating from a nervous breakdown. Members meet regularly in small open meetings with the reading of a chapter from Dr. Low's book, "Mental Health Through Will Training," followed by panel discussions. Members relate personal experiences, report how Recovery helped them handle their difficulties. First names only are used unless the person wishes to reveal his last name.

Anger is always at the root of nervous upsets, according to Recovery philosophy. Either the nervous person is angry at someone he feels is wrong or he is angry with himself for failing to live up to his own expectations. In Recovery members learn to value their mental health over the symbolic victories they might win if they bristled at every small annoyance. Instead, they remind themselves that there is no right or wrong in a triviality.

BECAUSE THEY ARE laymen, members make no attempt to counsel each other on major crises or give advice. They merely give examples of how they have practiced the Recovery Method in facing and handling specific difficulties.

One of the goals of Recovery members is to develop a sense of humor. Part of their problem is taking trifling matters too seriously. They learn to laugh together about things that would have sent them on a crying jag before Recovery.

Meetings are held mostly in churches, but Recovery is a non-sectarian, non-profit organization. Before Dr. Low's death in 1954, a national headquarters was set up in Chicago. A small paid staff operates at 116 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., but all other Recovery leaders are volunteers and receive no pay. The organization is self-supporting through voluntary contributions, memberships and income from the sale of literature and records.

A SMALL BUT important step was taken this fall in solving the nation's doctor shortage. Michigan State University's College of Human Medicine was one of five new medical schools admitting students for careers in medicine.

Some of the existing 94 medical schools are increasing their enrollments. The result of an increase of first-year medical students to an estimated 9,280 compared with 8,964 last year.

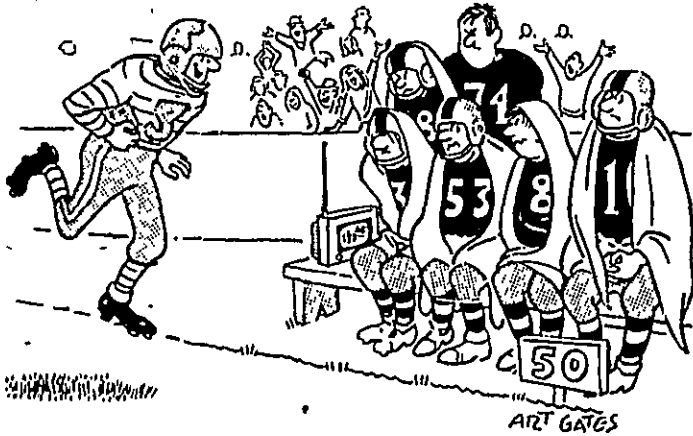

The new schools should be fully operative by the mid-1970's and be graduating an additional 1,000 medical students annually. U.S. medical schools will then graduate about 10,000 students per year.

THE SHORTAGE OF physicians in Michigan is felt in many communities. The immediate needs are 300 additional doctors per year. Michigan currently has three doctors for every 2,000 people, one of the highest doctor-to-population ratios in the nation. It is beginning to show an alarming change.

MSU's new facility is now categorized as a "two year" school. Its program is considered a "continuous six-year experience," with "medical school" training starting in the fourth year after three years of undergraduate work. The school is aiming for an enrollment of 64 students per class and is completing plans for an $11.8 million Life Sciences Building.

Wayne State University's medical school is also expanding under the new "medical complex" planned for the university. University of Michigan medical school, already the largest in the nation, has filed detailed expansion plans with the state board of education and the Legislature.

Despite provocation, it pays to keep your thoughts to yourself in the presence of customers and enemies.

A beautiful Indian Princess sat one day, in her tepee, combing and braiding her long black hair. Suddenly she heard a noise. She looked up at the entrance flap of the tepee and there stood an Indian brave. He quickly told her that her father, the chief, wanted to see her.

Hurriedly she finished grooming her hair and put on her best of clothing and hastened to her father. As she approached the circle where the old chief was sitting, she noticed a strange silence. The Indian princess stood before her father and anxiously waited the sound of his voice. And then the chief looked into the dark eyes of the girl and said, "My lovely daughter, my beautiful Indian princess, today you have become a woman, you are no longer a child."

He handed her a large basket and said, "I want you to take this basket, go to my best field of corn, select a row with the tallest stalks, walk down the row and pick enough of the finest corn in the row to fill your basket. It is all for yourself my daughter, but there is one condition, once you have passed an ear of corn you cannot turn back."

THE "PRINCESS" took the basket. She went to her father's best field of corn. She picked the row with the tallest stalks. She started down the row. She felt an ear of corn but it was too soft. Then she examined another, but it was crooked. The next was too hard, and the next was irregular. On and on, down the row she went, finding something wrong with each ear of corn and then, to her amazement, she reached the end of the row and her basket was empty.

School state aid money mailed out

The October apportionment of state school aid was mailed to school districts in Clinton County last week by County Treasurer Velma Beaufort. The money represents 18.66 per cent of the state aid for the year.

Amounts received by each school district include: DeWitt Public Schools $65,710; Fowler Public Schools $19,260; Bath Community Schools $85,150; Ovid-Elsie Area Schools $112,240; Pewamo-Westphalia Community Schools $27,250; and St. Johns Public Schools $143,900.

Also included in the $463,150 mailed out was $2,670 for the Clinton County Intermediate School District and $6,900 for the county special education fund.

Union claims atom plans 'poisonous'

Senator John O. Pastore (R.I.) . . . Several of my colleagues in this and the other body have called to my attention telegrams they have received recently from officials of the various local affiliates of the United Mine Workers union (UMW). The form telegrams refer to recent statements of UMW President W. A. Boyle concerning the alleged dangers to the public health and safety of the "poisonous"—as he characterizes them—nuclear reactors being built today by the civilian electric utility industry. The telegrams also ask that the Atomic Energy Commission's budget be reduced by $1 billion in order to halt the construction of these reactors . . .

"Let me say at the outset that I am not going to engage in a name-calling contest with Mr. Boyle over the relative merits and demerits of coal versus nuclear power . . . I realize that he has an economic interest to protect here, although I must say in passing that the use of statements calculated to inflame and alarm the public in order to denigrate a supposed competitor is going a bit beyond the bounds of propriety . . . I think the facts speak for themselves.

"FIRST, AS TO the implication of a government subsidy . . . The simple fact of the matter is that not one of the large number of light water reactors ordered by the Nations utilities since late 1963 has been funded with federal money . . .

"These reactors were sold on a strict commercial basis—an arms length private transaction between the reactor manufacturers and the purchasing utilities who deem these reactors worthwhile investments from the standpoint of economic and from the standpoint of the health and safety of their customers . . .

"What . . . would be the effect of cutting the AEC's (Atomic Energy Commission) approximately $2.5 billion budget by $1 billion as suggested by representatives of the UMW? The greatest impact would probably be on our national defense effort, to which nearly one-half of the AEC's budget is devoted.

Does the UMW want us to 'cut back in our weapons or naval reactors program? . . .

"As to the safety of nuclear power-plants . . . There has never been an accident involving a civilian nuclear power-plant which caused injury or damage to a member of the general public. I wish that other industries could point to a safety record as outstanding . . .

"BETWEEN NOW and the year 2000 . . . this nation is going to have to build the equivalent of seven additional power systems of the size that is now serving the American people. To meet this tremendous surge we will have need for increasing amounts of all forms of fuels—coal, oil, gas, hydro, and nuclear. The suppliers of fossil fuels will be hard pressed to meet the ever-increasing demands that will be placed upon them.

"Fair competition between the various energy forms will be a healthy and invigorating spur to increased productivity . . . The task that confronts us is too monumental to leave room for competition by terror tactics, propaganda, or innuendo . . ."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The Federal Power Commission reports that the present annual consumption of coal by the electric power plants is 260 million tons. It also predicts that by 1980 that consumption will increase to at least 500 million tons.

Contrary to popular belief, there is a shortage of miners qualified to operate modern mining equipment.—J. C.
