

Clinton teens only need money for a trip

FIRST IN A SERIES

Drug traffic in Clinton county is flourishing and while some law enforcement officials see no serious problem others view the situation with alarm.

Likewise there is not general agreement on where the stuff comes from, but be it Lansing, Owosso, Flint, Ionia or Vietnam, Clinton teenagers merely need enough money to buy themselves a trip.

Samples of almost every kind of currently popular drugs have been found within the county during the past two years and cases of use have been on the upswing. But while the hard—and more dangerous drugs—are clearly in evidence, areas seem to prefer puffing on pot or marijuana.

Marijuana smoking in all sections of the county is almost as common place as conventional cigarettes and officials have recorded cases of youngsters as young as nine years of age engaged in the practice. For the most part, however, transactions and use of marijuana is confined to junior and senior high school students and young adults.

And this is evidenced through the fact that not one junior or senior high school in the county is free from marijuana traffic and there are few points where teens congregate that do not afford ample occasions for sales or purchases of the stuff.

Likewise, there are dozens of hangouts where marijuana is smoked in groups and most of these are constantly under surveillance by law officials.

Under surveillance, but little else. From a realistic standpoint, strict enforcement would only result in wholesale arrest and confinement of teenagers. Arrests are made, to be sure, but according to some authorities, they come only when use of marijuana is coupled with another form of law breaking or when personal danger is imminent.

IN ESSENCE, THE shocking reality of the marijuana situation in Clinton County can be best summed up by these words from Dan Chisholm, county juvenile probation officer:

"We have lost the battle on marijuana."

To some who barely realized—or accepted—that a battle existed, the full impact of the statement must be shocking. To others who know the extent of drug traffic in the county, the words merely affirm the inevitable.

Chisholm feels the battle against marijuana was lost because of the slowness of disseminating information on the stuff to the general public. He cited the American Medical Assn. as being one group which could have played an important part in advancing knowledge but suggested they were slow. "While they were testing," Chisholm explained, "use of the stuff was growing."

"Our biggest concern at this time," commented Chisholm, "is to keep the kids from going on to harder stuff. We haven't lost the war on acid, speed and use of amphetamines and here's where we must now draw the line."

Like Chisholm, County Prosecutor Patrick Kelly sees little hope for combating marijuana use, and much of Kelly's concern centers on acceptance of the dope addict, his treatment and where marijuana leads the user.

"Our primary problem is that we're not equipped to handle the situation," Kelly explained. "We treat these people like we used to treat the alcoholic—we treat the symptoms rather than the cause."

Kelly strongly praised the recent opening of the drug abuse clinic in Lansing, but felt Clinton county needed a similar facility which would be more readily accessible.

As for combating the problem, Kelly's hopes are dimmed by what he feels are inadequate facilities and manpower. "The sheriff's department doesn't have enough men to keep on top of this problem. They're really overworked guys, but they are concerned."

Drugs in Clinton County

Unlike Chisholm, whose work brings him in direct contact with everyday teen activities, Kelly's dealings with offenders usually come only after arrests. Consequently much of his work is with late teens and young adults but records provided Clinton County News show a marked increase in drug abuse arrests in the past year.

For the year 1970, through Oct. 16, a total of 26 convictions were recorded and marijuana represented 19 of the total cases. Three of the cases involved the hallucinogenic drug LSD and three involved possession of Desoxyn. The final involved dealings with DUI nerve pills.

AN INTERESTING aspect of Kelly's records is reflected in the types of arrests and convictions. During 1969 a total of

But figures are interpretive only from the percentage of increase of convictions. According to other enforcement authorities the number is meagre in comparison with marijuana presence and use among teens.

Another county official who is acutely aware of the growing drug abuse problem, but whose work is with already convicted and older users, is Gordon Iacovoni, county probation officer. "There is definitely a problem," Iacovoni stated, "and it appears to be involving small groups of people in most small communities. My contact is only after an arrest or with people under supervision. I have contact with persons who use drugs and most are too weak to seek a better life."

Iacovoni describes the drug users as a "sub culture" and in Clinton the use of drugs, to his estimation, has grown considerably during the past two years.

This sub-culture, Iacovoni believes, is comprised of young people not attempting to escape pressures of life, but merely seeking kicks. He likens the trend toward greater use of drugs as being similar to earlier generations which experimented with beer and wine.

But he exhibits concern with the fact that drug use and abuse is on the upswing.

He pointed out that some of the users he comes in contact with are intelligent and feel they can handle it but they withdraw from social pursuits and live in a dream world.

IACOVONI ALSO FEELS the drug abuse clinic in Lansing appears helpful at present but feels it is too soon to effectively evaluate its influence on the Clinton county situation.

That influence may well be determined sooner than later, however, if further drug-battles in the county are lost.

Marijuana, according to Chisholm, is the least harmful of all drugs and highly controllable. Even glue sniffing can be more dangerous as fumes can damage internal organs.

In an outline of a speech he has given in the county, Chisholm describes the effects of marijuana smoking as not being addictive. Users generally become talkative and, in frequent cases, sight and hearing become keener.

The effects usually move in quickly after smoking, in about 15 minutes. The range can vary from depression to elation and yet there are some users who experience no change of mood at all. Some feel the latter group are prone to become attracted to harder drugs as marijuana fails to present the desired effects.

If arrested and convicted of a marijuana crime a person's life can be drastically effected. Initially, the offense, being a felony, will establish a police record and the conviction can mean that person can never be a member of the legal, medical or teaching professions. Likewise, attaining a responsible position in business or industry is seriously challenged once employers learn of the conviction.

Yet Clinton teens seem unconcerned with these things and even broad daylight frequently is no deterrent to use, sale or purchase of marijuana.

St. Johns Police Chief Everett Glazier, while expressing his belief that the problem in that city is not wide spread, credits any existence of drug use to unmindful parents.

"The parents don't see what the kids do," Glazier commented. "We don't have bad kids in this town; they're good kids, but like any kids they do need direction. Parents these days are too busy golfing, bowling or playing bridge and then when the kids do get in trouble right away they defend them."

Chief Glazier feels that much of the dope problem that does exist can be traced to the home. "We have to get the parents to work on it," he said. "We're

DeWitt schools study building bond seizure

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

DeWitt school board members agreed Monday night to seek an extension of a performance bond issued by United Piping and Erecting Company, Inc. in order to study the possibilities of utilizing the $15,000 bond.

The current bond agreement expires Nov. 15.

The board received a letter last week from the architects of the new middle school who recommended that the United Piping firm should forfeit the bond in lieu of services not rendered.

The United Piping and Erecting Company "have not completed their contract on the additions to the DeWitt High School and Scott Elementary school," remarked William Kane of Manson-Jackson and Kane, architects of the school buildings.

"It is our recommendation that the Board of Education initiate the performance bond," Kane said in the letter.

School Supt. James Ritchie told board members that further study of the problem would be needed before arriving at a firm decision and that an extension of the bond should be sought. He was given the authorization to get the extension.

He also noted that Kane will speak at the next board meeting, Nov. 24, to explain some of the work in the buildings.

In other action the board: Accepted several policy changes and additions, including procedures involved in protecting groups and property in case of a security threat.

The policy refers to various acts of harassment including telephone threats in which case the board "invests with the building principal the responsibility for determining the validity of the threat."

The policy states that "upon receipt of a threat the principal is to be informed immediately; in his absence the administrative assistant and/or superintendent is to be informed. He should consult immediately with the superintendent and/or the State Police."

"If the threat is considered an act of harassment the building is to be searched by the police. If the threat is considered dangerous the building is to be evacuated in one of the following ways:

"Students are to be moved to another building.

"Students are to be moved outside or to another building to await transportation to their homes. In this event the bus dispatcher stations will be asked to announce the DeWitt school students are being sent home.

"Every effort is to be made by the principal to determine the source of the threat.

Faculty members, custodians and all staff members are to make daily checks for unknown articles or other signs of suspicious nature. Any such matter discovered is to be reported to the building principal immediately.

"All storage and vulnerable areas are to be kept locked."

The policy emphasizes that if the building is evacuated and students and staff dismissed, the time will be made up at a later date.

High School Principal Donald Mueller told board members that the inclusion of the "no lost time" clause might deter pranksters from issuing threats.

The policy governing student disorders was changed by the board.

It states, "Students refusing to obey instructions from the administration will be sent home as outlined. . . In the event the student(s) refuses to leave the building or school grounds the principal is authorized to ask for assistance from law enforcement officials."

Commission renames Wood mayor

By TOM McLENEAY
News Staff Writer

Conformity was not the key word at Monday's City Commission meeting.

Robert Wood was unanimously voted to his second two-year term as Mayor of St. Johns Monday night at the regular City Commission meeting in the Municipal Building.

But, that's where the total sense of unanimity stopped. Commissioner Dr. James Grost nominated Commissioner Jeanne Rand for the position of Vice Mayor. Mrs. Rand turned down the nomination and, instead, nominated Commissioner John Hannah for the spot.

Hannah then leaned over the commission table and said, "Oh, come on Jeanne (referring to Mrs. Rand)," Mrs. Rand smiled and the vote for Hannah's Vice Mayorship became unanimous. Later during the meeting, Mrs. Rand voluntarily withdrew from her position on the City Planning Commission and asked that Roy Ebert take her place. Ebert is the newly-elected city commissioner.

Mrs. Rand reportedly received a phone call sometime prior to the commission meeting in which someone asked her if she was ready to accept another two-year term as Vice Mayor. Mrs. Rand reportedly said no that she'd like to be mayor.

It has evidently been some sort of a tradition in the past to vote someone into the mayorship from the city commission who has never been mayor and, however, at the same time, has had the most experience in commission procedures. This description seems to fit Mrs. Rand.

A SPECIAL RESOLUTION was passed unanimously by the commission regarding the services rendered the City of St. Johns by Charles C. Coletta during his 18 years on the city commission.

The resolution spoke of the work and contributions he has made to the commission, the city and Clinton County during his many years of service.

City Manager Harvey Weatherwax reported to the commission that the request for the blacktopping of Walker Street between Clinton Ave. and Brush St. to the Spartan Blacktop Co. couldn't be fulfilled 'til next Spring. The reason for the delay is that the company's machine for blacktopping streets is currently involved in other projects and won't be available 'til next Spring when the company is contracted to do more work in the surrounding areas.

Another blacktopping request was heard from Norbert Rehmann who asked the commission when the city parking lot at the corner of Spring Street and State Street would be topped. Weatherwax answered Rehmann's question by saying that the lot in question has to be graded before it can be surfaced and that some type of a retaining wall would have to be built next to the offices of Dr. R.L. Wolters.

Commissioner Hannah then moved that Weatherwax look into the feasibility of topping the lot spoken of by Rehmann. The motion was passed.

CLINTON NATIONAL BANK made a request to the city commission for "NO PARKING" zones to be designated around the entrance and exit to their new auto-bank facility on the corner of Spring St. and Higham St.

The request was discussed and was ultimately referred to St. Johns Police Chief Everett Glazier for further consideration.

Other business during the night included:

—accepting a bid on a new police car from Hettler's Motor Sales for a 1971 Plymouth at a cost of $2,250. Hettler's bid was the lowest of the five bids submitted.

—re-appointment of William Patton to the City Board of Review by commission vote.

—unanimous approval of Mrs. Ladd Bartholomew to another five-year term on the Library Board.

—unanimous approval of Ken Munger and Walter Pierce to the City Board of Appeals.

—unanimous appointment of Roy Ebert, Charles Coletta and Lyle Huntoon to the St. Johns Planning Commission.

ROBERT WOOD

—approval of warrants totaling $194,103.31. Weatherwax reminded the commission that all but $33,000 of these warrants are actually transfers of monies to other departments within the city.

—unanimous approval of a motion made by Commissioner Hannah to have Consumers Power Co. submit estimates of new downtown lighting costs to the city manager in conjunction with a request made by the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce.

Drug probe bares problem fortunate in St. Johns. It's been blown up bigger than it is, but if the parents would give the kids work to do in some of their free time that'd be a step in the right direction."

WITH A TRACE of smile, Chief Glazier opined, "Kids nowadays have done everything and seen everything a kid can do. They all have cars and go to the lake. What they really haven't done is work. Sure, there are some, but as a whole kids today do not have enough work to do."

Glazier expressed belief that marijuana and dope that is circulated in St. Johns comes from Lansing and Owosso. "We don't have any problems with our hometown kids," he said. "It's the ones coming in that give us fits."

Glazier's comments follow closely thoughts by Chisholm on one step to combat drug abuse. "As long as we have an uninformed public—parents, teachers and others, he said, "we aren't going to make much headway. "Parents should learn as much as they can about drugs and then tell their children the truth. That is the real danger. It is a mistake to try and persuade a youth into believing something that is not true about drugs, especially since he probably knows more about it than his parents."

Chisholm cited as "real dangers" those which are reflected in law enforcement, personal biological deterioration and the difficulties of a life which keeps running into closed doors because of a misspent period as a drug user.

Nevertheless a pot party can be attended any night of the week and, after school hours at any one of several places in Clinton county. Similar exposure can be found in St. Johns and one location is less than a block from the heart of town.

Traffic at the location has been observed on at least three occasions in the past four weeks and one youngster when questioned admitted that a pot party was in progress.

In another instance a St. Johns High School student made full arrangements to purchase a "nickel bag" from a known user simply to identify the latter for a County News reporter.

And most any student in any junior or senior high school in the county can identify sellers and users readily. Some are awed by the excitement surrounding smoking marijuana, others are frightened and still others merely accept it as fact but look upon users as "weird".

Next week: Read what the "weirds" say about dope as Tom McEleney writes about interviews with students and tells of their experiences and observations.

MARIJUANA

Marijuana has a long history and reputation of having over 300 million devotees throughout the world, 20 million in this country.

Marijuana is variously known, among other things, as pot, grass, Mary Jane and Hemp. The last name has plant roots since marijuana comes from the female hemp plant known as "cannabis sativa."

Pot is generally shipped into the United States in bricks weighing a little more than two pounds, while it is most frequently rolled into cigarettes—or joints—and smoked, it can also be eaten.

A little less than half the people give reasons such as escaping from reality, retreating from tension and worry, or that famous end run around life—rebellion.

Whatever the reason, its being used in high schools, colleges and homes with much greater frequency.

Many people expect too much from their first joint and feel let down if nothing happens. This could be caused from an ineffective smoking technique.

However, once the user has learned to take in the smoke, he is likely to experience a sudden feeling of well-being as frustrations begin to dissolve. Drowsiness is often noted as time slows itself like a giant locomotive and the world outside may take on the effect of being viewed through a water-filled fishbowl.

Some of the further effects of smoking marijuana are the individual feeling his senses become keener and a growth of hunger. Food reportedly will taste better and there may be an imagined sharpening of the senses so that the person is apt to overestimate his abilities due to an exaggerated feeling of awareness, thus posing a threat to his physical well-being.

The long-term physical effects of taking marijuana are not known as yet.

The more obvious physical reactions include rapid heart beat, lowering of body temperature and, sometimes, reddening of the eyes. It also changes blood sugar levels, stimulates the appetite, and dehydrates the body. Users may get talkative,

What it's all about—drug information

As a supplemental service to readers during the Drugs in Clinton County series, the Clinton County News will feature a bibliographical listing of pertinent books and papers concerning drugs. This week: general information in hardcover volumes.

Alpert, R., Cohen, S., and Schiller, L. LSD. New York: The New American Library, 1966. A "dialogue" between Alpert and Cohen on 16 questions of broad social import, covering dangers, merits, legal regulations and control of LSD.

Barber, Bernard. Drugs and Society. New York: Russell Sage Foundation, 1967. Outlines a comprehensive sociology of drugs and provides broad perspectives against which to view all aspects of concern with and social action regarding drugs.

Blum, Richard H. and Associates. Utoplates: The Use and Users of LSD - 25. New York: Atherton Press, 1964. A major study of LSD use in a variety of settings, and of users and nonusers. Also contains chapters on the psychopharmacological, legal and social aspects of LSD. A must!

Braden, William. The Private Sea: LSD and the Search for God. Quadrangle Books, 1967. An interesting attempt to relate the LSD problem to current trends in religious thinking.

Cheln, L., Gerard, D. L., Lee, R. S., and Rosenfeld, E. The Road to H. New York: Basic Books, 1964. A comprehensive sociological and psychological study of juvenile addicts in New York.

Within: The LSD Story. New York: Atheneum, 1964. One of the early psychiatrists to explore the effects of LSD during the past ten years presents reports on "good trips" and "bad trips", discusses "good" uses and "bad" uses.

DeBald, R. C. and Leaf, R. C. LSD, Man & Society. Middletown, Conn.: Wesleyan University Press, 1967. A symposium on LSD, "its pharmacological characteristics and effects, its impact on the individual and on society analyzed by nine authoritative scientists."

Lindesmith, A. The Addict and the Law. Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 1965. Detailed study of existing U.S. laws, regulation, police practice and court procedure relating to the "addict". The author's thesis is that our present system of narcotic control is both unjust to the addict and intensifies the problem.

Mayor's Committee on Marihuana. Lancaster, Pa.: Jaques Cattell Press, 1944. The marihuana problem in the city of New York: sociological, medical, psychological, and pharmacological studies. A classic which is now out of print but is reproduced almost in its entirety in Solomon, Marihuana Papers.

Solomon, David (Ed.) The Marihuana Papers. Indianapolis: Bobbs-Merrill Co., Inc. 1966. An important collection of papers. Although the predominant impact is not "anti-pot", the general excellence and diversity of papers should contribute to a further understanding of the use and abuse of this drug.

Uhr, L. and Miller, J. G. (Eds.) Drugs and Behavior. New York: John Wiley and Sons, 1960. Contributions by 53 research investigators. Part I: The methodological, chemical, biological and clinical context for psychopharmacology will provide a basis for understanding the current status of the study of the behavioral effects of drugs.

Drugs and their effects Part One loud, unsteady, or drowsy, and find it hard to coordinate their movements.

Marijuana's effects on the emotions and senses vary widely, depending on the amount and purity of the grass used. The social setting in which it is taken and what the user expects also influence his reaction to the drug.

The effect is usually felt quickly, in about 15 minutes. It can last from two to four hours. The range of effects can vary from depression to a feeling of excitement. Some users experience no change of mood at all. Time and distance frequently become distorted. A minute may seem like an hour and something near may seem far away.

Judgment is also affected with the use of marijuana. The user finds it harder to make decisions and finds himself more easily open to other people's suggestions. Any task taking good reflexes and thinking is affected by grass. For this reason, it is dangerous to drive under the influence of it and other drugs.

Some of the latest findings concerning marijuana have been made with the help of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), one of the active ingredients of marijuana. THC is commonly known as "synthetic marijuana."

A leading scientist recently found that high dosages of marijuana, which is not a narcotic, does not cause physical dependence as do heroin and other narcotics. This means that the body does not become dependent on continuing use of the drug.

Larger and larger doses of marijuana would probably be necessary for most users to get the same effects every time they smoked. Withdrawal from marijuana does not produce physical sickness.

A 1967 study of narcotic dependents from city areas showed more than 80 per cent had previously used marijuana. Of the much larger number of persons who use marijuana, scientists agree that few go on to use morphine and heroin.

No direct causes—and-effect link between the use of pot and narcotics has been found. However, researchers point out a person predisposed to abuse one drug may be likely to abuse other, stronger drugs.

There are many risks involved when young people become connected with marijuana and break laws concerning its sale and use.

—They may find their education interrupted and their future shadowed or altered by having a police record.

—An arrest or conviction for a felony can complicate their life and plans at many turns.

WMU Wind Ensemble Wednesday

The St. Johns area will be presented with a special treat Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. when the Western Michigan University Wind Ensemble plays a one-night engagement at the St. Johns High School Auditorium.

Fifty outstanding wind and percussion players make up the ensemble that embraces the chamber music concept of one player per part which is a departure from the common use of multiple players on each part in most bands.

The concept is one of the most exciting trends in wind band music and is one which has received much attention from composers who are attracted by the control they can exercise over the final musical product by writing for a specific number of players.

DeWitt senior inducted in National Honor group

By CHERYL METZGER DeWitt High School

Induction for seniors qualifying for membership in the National Honor Society was held recently at DeWitt High School during a special assembly.

The seniors had been judged on their scholastic average from the end of last semester, (Students must maintain a 3.0 or better grade point average) and the other basic qualifications—service, leadership, and character.

This fall's induction for seniors was new this year. In previous years, only one induction had been held, this year there will be two.

Free diabetes test Nov. 16

Free blood-screening tests to detect diabetes will be available here during the week of Nov. 16-21 as part of the search for the more than 100,000 "hidden" diabetics in Michigan.

Testing in Clinton County will be held at the Clinton Memorial Hospital laboratory, 805 S. Oakland Street, St. Johns Nov. 16 through Nov. 20 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Sponsored by the Michigan Diabetes Association (MDA), a United Fund agency, Diabetes Week is sponsored nationally by the American Diabetes Association.

Co-sponsors in Michigan are fifty-five Michigan Hospitals, county medical societies, and the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Persons planning to be tested are advised to have a meal rich in sugars and starches two hours before testing, to ensure the most accurate result, and are asked to bring the name and address of their physician if follow-up is necessary.

According to James J. Aiuto, M.D., Chairman of the MDA Diabetes Detection Committee, those who are over forty, weigh more than they should, and have a family history of diabetes are especially urged to be tested.

"A 'hidden' diabetic is a person who has the condition but is unaware of it," explained Dr. Aiuto. He said that a person may have the disorder and not know it.

However, the presence of diabetes may be indicated by excessive thirst, excessive urination, loss of weight, itching, constant hunger, easy tiring, slow healing of cuts and scratches, and changes in vision.

Anyone, even children, may develop diabetes, Aiuto noted. But adults over 40 are leading candidates, especially when they are overweight.

"Though there is as yet no cure for diabetes, today's treatment methods can help control it," Aiuto said.

Diabetes can be controlled by diet, exercise, and when necessary, insulin or one of the oral compounds that reduce blood sugar. A planned diet is basic to successful control of diabetes.

Diabetes can lead to a productive and active life. He can work, marry, and raise a family.

Neglect of diabetes, on the other hand, may lead to increased risk of coronary disease, hardening of the arteries, kidney disease, falling eyesight, gangrene, and diabetic coma.

Aiuto pointed out that diabetes mellitus, according to the American Diabetes Association, has increased nearly 95 percent between 1950 and 1965 and is still on the rise.

In Michigan, diabetes is ranked as the fourth leading cause of death by disease, the second leading cause of blindness, and a contributing cause in half or all heart attacks.

"We urge everyone to use the occasion of Diabetes Week to be tested as a protection against this disease," Aiuto said.

Immunization clinic gets new location

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department in St. Johns has announced another in a series of free immunization clinics for area residents Nov. 12 from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The clinic will be held in a new location this month, the Congregational Church basement, M 21 and Maple Street west of the courthouse in St. Johns.

All shots will be administered by nurses from the health department. The immunizations, which are free, include DPT, DT, Typhoid, smallpox, red measles, oral polio, Rubella (Three-day measles) and the Tuberculin skin test.

Future dates for the clinics were given as Dec. 10, Jan. 14 and Feb. 11 but the location of the clinics will be announced at a later date, according to the department.

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department, serving Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm counties, announced today that soil borings will be discontinued during the winter months.

The time span of the discontinuance will be from Dec. 11 to April 1.

Hayes, Redwings climb on Alma

Sickles Street Gang wins West Central title with Grand Ledge

By TOM McLENEY News Staff Writer

Mercy? What does the word mean? I don't know for sure and the Redwings of St. Johns High School didn't know at all Friday night as they clawed the Panthers of Alma 34-20 for their seventh win of the season and the West Central Conference Championship.

It just goes to show that you should never get a Redwing Machine mad because, after a week of repairing gaskets and main bearings, the "Sickles Street Gang" bore down on Alma and wouldn't let go. Larry Hayes missed most of the game because he spent most of the night running away from people. This running away totaled 201 yards in 12 carries which was nearly two-thirds of the 349 yards total rushing for St. Johns. Hayes had runs of 22, 33, 37 and 67 yards on his way to the 200 mark. The 67-yard run was straight down the west sideline and into the end zone for one of the Redwing TDs.

The real heroes of the evening for St. Johns were the offensive and defensive linemen. They'll be mentioned later.

The Ovid Elsie warm-up game began with a slight scare from Alma. The Panthers received the opening kick off and marched 80 yards in 13 plays with the touchdown coming on a 21-yard pass from Bruce Marble to end Marvin Pyle. Alma, 6, St. Johns, 0. The extra point attempt failed. This was something Alma shouldn't have done because the Redwings came back with 34 points before Alma could again score against the Redwing third-string defense.

ST. JOHNS running back Dave Flermoen took the ensuing kickoff and ran it back 25 yards to the SJ 40. Three plays later, St. Johns found themselves in punting position. Alma took over on their own 29 but a personal foul penalty after three plays made it third down and 19 yards to go. With a gain of only three yards on the next play, Alma was forced to punt.

Flermoen immediately raced for 18 yards and a first down on the first play after the punt. Three plays later, it was fourth down and one for St. Johns. Mr. Hayes ran off tackle for two big yards and the first down. Steve Mead then added four yards on the next play to the SJ 11.

With 11:18 in the second period, Flermoen ran eleven yards for the touchdown. With Atkinson's successful kick, the score was 7-6 in favor of St. Johns. Does that score sound familiar?

Alma took the next kickoff and after an incomplete screen pass by Marble, Panther running back Dave Falsom was dropped for a 17-yard loss to the Alma 20 yard line. Alma was forced to punt to SJ.

It was first and ten for the Redwings on their own 33. The next play has already been mentioned. Hayes ripped through the right side of the line with three key blocks and raced 67 yards for the second Redwing score in a little over two minutes. The score was 13-6. St. Johns, after the kick failed.

Clipping was then called on Alma after the kickoff which nullified a runback to the SJ 47.

THE DEFENSE for St. Johns was unbreakable. Luane Lumbert and Gary Rademacher nailed Marble for a two-yard loss on the second down and thus forced a punt on fourth down. St. Johns took over on their own 19 with 7:20 remaining in the half.

Atkinson then ran two keepers for a total of 21 yards. Six plays later, Gary Burk squirmed two yards for the TD. with 2:49 in the half. Illegal procedure was called on St. Johns on the two-point conversion attempt, so Atkinson kicked the extra point to make it 20-6 St. Johns. The second period came to an end with the score.

During halftime, the Redwing Marching Band "Sweetheart" for 1970 was named. She was Sue Shane, a senior. She was presented with a bouquet of roses and a big kiss from Drum Major Quentin Kuntz. The kiss might have wilted the roses a bit.

Second half action began with St. Johns receiving the kickoff and marching 82 yards in five plays for the score.

HAYES, himself, ran 57 of those 82 to set up the final scoring play, a 25-yard TD pass from Atkinson to Flermoen with 10:30 in the third quarter. In case you're not adding and subtracting, that touchdown took exactly a minute and a half to accomplish. The two-point conversion was good and without penalty and St. Johns was in front 28-6.

Alma received the kickoff and began a march on their own 38. Good running by Falsom and Tom Robertson moved the ball 16 yards before an 18-yarder by Robertson was called back for offensive holding. Alma was forced to punt.

Penalties were taking their toll on both sides. On the first play from scrimmage for St. Johns, Flermoen raced 16 yards only to have the gain nullified with a personal foul against SJ.

But, on the next play, Hayes was at it again. This time for 37 yards and a first down. Hayes ran brilliantly all night long, even on his short gainers for ten and twelve yards.

After this gain to the SJ 46, Atkinson connected with end John Smit for a 64-yard touchdown pass. Unfortunately, offsetting penalties against both teams nullified the play which had to be done over. After another incomplete pass to Smit and a one yard skip by Mead, St. Johns was forced to punt.

DEFENSIVE RESERVES spilled from the Redwing sidelines and Head Coach Jeff Smith was doing it again. He was handing his second stringers the best he had to offer, game experience on the field.

Alma took over on their 22 where Marble immediately threw a 35-yard bomb to Marvin Pyle. On the next play, Rademacher, Dan Stockwell and Brad Huntley nailed Marble for an eight-yard loss.

Marble then completed an eight-yard pass to back Mike Knapp but that was all as St. Johns forced a punting situation. SJ resumed offensive duties on their own 36.

Hayes was at it again as he ran for 12 yards on the next play. St. Johns got an extra 15 added to the 12 Hayes picked up when Alma was charged with a personal foul.

Six plays later, Atkinson ran for five yards and the touchdown to make it 34-6 Redwings. Atkinson's run was set up on a 18-yard pass play to Smit. The extra point attempt failed. There were 51 seconds left in the third period.

Alma took the kickoff and marched 78 yards in 13 plays. Falsom picked up 47 of those yards including the final eleven through the middle of the St. Johns defensive line for the touchdown. The TD came with 8:07 in the fourth quarter and the two-point conversion attempt failed making the score 34-12.

The Redwing reserve offense then took over and with the aid of two penalties and some solid running, St. Johns found themselves on the Alma 30 with a first down and five yards to go. But then the roof fell in.

ILLEGAL PROCEDURE and a ten-yard loss on a running play brought fourth and 17. The try for the first down was made but Redwing running back Larry Hayes (22) breaks into the clear Friday night for a 67-yard touchdown run against the Alma Panthers. Hayes gained 201 yards in 12 carries Friday to lead St. Johns past Alma 34-20 for the West Central Conference Championship and a 6-1 league record, 7-1 overall.

Marauders outlast Creek

Behind 3-0, and with three starters injured the Ovid-Elsie Marauders took the second half kick off and marched 88 yards in 17 plays to defeat a solid, upset-minded Swartz Creek team, 6-3.

Playing before a large Dad's Night crowd without left end Jim Bouck (broken ankle), the Marauders lost the services of all league back Ron Lover (separated shoulder) and three year starting right guard Phil Seybert (sprained ankle).

After receiving the kick the Marauders started their third quarter drive from their own 12 yard line.

With Dick Bates and Glen Bessinger punching for short yardage over the blocking of Mike Leslie and John Winkler they moved against the strong Dragon line.

Two major penalties helped the drive. A roughing the kicker gave the Marauders a first down at their own 37 and a pass interference call late in the drive made it a first and 10 at the Dragon 13.

On a 4th and 2 at the Dragon 5 Bates punched for three yards. Then with running room provided by Leslie and Winkler, Bates, a senior playing his first year of football, scored his first varsity touchdown.

The 17 play drive used 9:27 of the third quarter and twelve of the plays went over Leslie and Winkler.

The Marauder defense bent but didn't break during the game.

Late in the first quarter Swartz Creek drove to a first down at the Marauder 10 yard line. Marauder Tom Purnford broke thru to throw the Dragon quarterback for a five yard loss. The next play was stopped for a two yard loss by Rick Staples.

Faced with a 3rd and 17 with time running out, the Dragons elected to try a field goal. With a strong following wind the 34 yard try was good.

Trailing 6-3 in the third quarter, Swartz Creek gave up trying to run against a fired up Marauder defense and went to a shotgun passing game. Completing 7 of 15 the Dragons threatened in the third and final quarters.

Putting the stop on the shotgun was Purnford with a big interception on the O-E three yard line and Robb Byrnes saved a score with a leaping interception (his 7th of the season) in the Marauder end zone. Offensive end Cal Woodard inserted to help protect against the pass also picked off a pass to stop a Swartz Creek drive.

Forcing the Spartans to pass by stopping the ground attack were Marauders Frank Dudash with 11 tackles, Gary Rivers, 10; Staples, 7; Frank Quine, 7 and Duane Wieber, 6.

O-E JV's string jumps to 15

The Ovid-Elsie Marauder JV squad downed the Swartz Creek JV's Thursday night to end the season undefeated and extend their points per game average to 34.8.

The JV squad went 8-0 this year and as freshman ran up a 7-0 record in 1969.

Ovid-Elsie scored first on a one-yard drive by Tom Kirinovic capping a 72-yard sustained drive.

Then Gary Groom scored twice on runs of 29 and 34 yards with Kirinovic supplying an extra two-point conversion.

Late in the game Cale Reha put the game out of reach with a seven-yard dash.

Head JV Coach Joe Thering said that while the team was averaging more than 34 points per game, they allowed only five points on defense. The season was, studied with five shutouts.

The Marauder offense ran up 2,386 yards during the eight season games and allowed only 669 yards.

The leading JV scorer for Ovid-Elsie was quarterback Tom Kirinovic who scrambled for 11 touchdowns this season and three two-point conversions for a 72-point total.

Gary Groom, a fullback, was next with nine TD's and two conversions for 58 points.

Next in line were left half-back Dale Miller with 32 points and Randy Loynes with 26, half-back Jeff Grant with 24, half-back Cayle Reha at 18, and Marc Flegel with 16, Alan Cobb with 14, Rich McCreary with 12 and Dan Egbert with 6.

The Marauders started the season with a smashing win against Portland 50-0, followed by three more shutouts in succession—Saginaw St. Stephen 44-0, St. Louis 22-0 and Ithaca 56-0.

They topped Bullock Creek 28-12, Corunna 34-14, Chesaning 18-0 and Swartz Creek 26-12.

The JV's ran up 276 total points this season against only 38 for the opponents.

OUTDOOR NOTES

A carefully selected sign code of internationally recognized symbols is currently replacing the words on signs that have guided visitors through the National Park System.

The new symbols—which the National Park Service hopes to have in use throughout its system by July of 1973—are being introduced into four NPS areas this fall including Virginia's Colonial National Historical Park, Iowa's Herbert Hoover National Historic Site, Massachusetts' Minute Man National Historical Park, and California's Yosemite National Park.

Having captured the Mid-Michigan B conference crown, Ovid-Elsie will host the West Central conference to champs, St. Johns, Friday in the last conference of the season.

'Explosive' DeWitt blasts St. Pat's 28-14

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

Explosive is the only word to describe the DeWitt High School offense.

Take Friday night's game with Portland St. Patrick for example. Both the Panthers and the Shamrocks butted heads for most of the first two quarters and it appeared there might be a possibility of a scoreless tie.

Each team would run a good series of downs, then stall and lose the ball setting up another series for the opponent.

Then with three-minutes left in the first half the Panthers came to life.

Following an intercepted Shamrock pass, the Panthers ran a time consuming series of downs. With 35 seconds to go, quarterback Ron Wilcox passed to the sidelines hitting Jim Ashley who scampered 33 yards for the touchdown.

Wilcox then turned around the right end and smashed through two defenders for the two-point conversion.

On the following kickoff, the ball was held up in the wind at Portland stadium and carried only 25 yards, where DeWitt linemen waited.

As the ball touched down they buried it in a heap of bodies—DeWitt had the ball again.

With 23 seconds to go, Wilcox flipped a 33 yard pass to end Steve Tew for another touchdown. The conversion pass was intercepted but DeWitt led at halftime, 14-0.

The Shamrocks came roaring back in the third quarter with a 29-yard touchdown run by Tom Brown and a conversion by Dan Fedewa.

The game, after that, was never really in doubt for the Panthers and Head Coach Gary Roberts. In the fourth quarter, Wilcox hustled in from the one yard-line for another score, but the conversion failed.

The final Panther scoring came when quarterback halfback Mike Cole tossed a 23-yard strike through the Shamrock secondary to Tew. Mike Moody ran the conversion to give DeWitt a 28-8 lead.

Brown scored again for Portland from six yards out to end the game's scoring.

Wilcox completed his high school football career Friday night with 10 pass completions in 12 tries for a total of 229 yards.

The win brought DeWitt's conference winning streak to 15 games, counting this season, last season and one game in 1968.

Scoring by quarters:
DeWitt 0 14 0 14—28
St. Pat 0 0 8 6—14

DeWitt quarterback Ron Wilcox takes a sharp cut and blasts through two Shamrock defenders Friday night and goes in for the extra two-point conversion. The action took place late in the second quarter after Wilcox had thrown his first TD pass of the night. The Panthers remained undefeated in the conference by downing St. Patrick of Portland 28-14.

Love named Ferris grid standout

Norm Love of St. Johns and Bill Lubs of Southfield, carrying similar sounding names, presented similar appearing performances last week to be chosen Ferris State College's football players of the week.

Coach Bob Leach and his staff announced the decision after watching game films of Ferris' fourth straight triumph this fall, a 21-7 verdict which tainted Findlay's Homecoming.

Both are repeaters for the honor.

Love, a 205 pound sophomore, threw a touchdown pass, ran for another and directed the Bulldogs to the key win from his quarterback slot. The convincing victory lifted Ferris' season mark to 5-2 heading into Saturday's home test against powerful Wisconsin State University-Platteville.

Love, in his first full season of guiding the Bulldogs' offensive attack, completed just two of four passes for 28 yards but ran for 46 yards in eight attempts to help trigger Ferris' 246-yard attack Saturday.

"Norm ran our bootleg well and called a great game," Leach said. "His play selection was good, and he blocked extremely well."

The talented sophomore, who has completed five touchdown passes this fall, gave the Bulldogs their first touchdown with a 21-yard scamper in the second quarter then passed 20 yards to halfback Mike Zayt (Northville) moments later which gave Ferris a 14-0 halftime lead.

Lubs, a 241-pound sophomore, gained his second weekly defensive nod after being credited with 15 solo tackles against Findlay's sturdy running game. He also applied tremendous pressure on the Oilers' talented pass throwers Jan Samuels and Tim O'Malley.

Perry tops Bath, 32-12

Bath's Bees evened out their conference season Friday night by losing to Perry 32-12 giving them a 3-3-1 league record.

Perry's Rick Stuart scored twice from one yard out and heaved a 57-yard bomb to Greg Young.

Perry's Rick Szedlak scored on runs of four and 25 yards and ran for one conversion.

The third quarter belonged to Bath when Terry Glazier scampered 10 yards for a TD and Paul Stoll tossed a 29-yard pass to Fritz Ordway.

Bath has one game remaining to improve their 4-3-1 overall record. They meet Haslett Friday night at the Haslett High School field.

it failed and Alma took over on their own 25. Alma worked the ball up to their 37 where Dave Falsom romped 63 yards for another Alma score. This came with 3:05 in the final period.

The two point conversion was good and the score was 34-20.

Four plays after the kickoff by Alma and some good running on the part of reserve quarterback Ken Schueller, Atkinson was sent in to play left end, bringing back shades of 1969. On the next play, Schueller and Tom Bentley just missed connecting on a 45-yard pass for a sure TD.

Defensive interference against Alma placed the ball on the A 30. St. Johns ran out the clock with running plays but failed to score.

Head Coach Jeff Smith had high praise for both the offensive and defensive lines. He went right down both lines naming people such as Lumbert, Greg Crewley, Tom Rasdale, Larry Wakefield, Rademacher, Stockwell, Huntley and Dennis LaVeck.

LaVeck started the game for an injured Mead at linebacker and, according to Smith, played an outstanding game while he was in the game. LaVeck came out with only four minutes gone in the game with a painful shoulder dis-location. During those four minutes, LaVeck picked up six tackles. He'll be out of action for six weeks, thus missing the first part of the basketball season.

Defensively, Wakefield and Mead gathered 14 tackles apiece. Mead, as mentioned before, was playing with a badly bruised shoulder. Rademacher had nine tackles. Huntley had seven and Lumbert and LaVeck both had six.

STATISTICALLY, it was 21 first downs for St. Johns and 14 for Alma. Rushing yardage totaled 349 for SJ and 231 for Alma. Passing was about as even as you can get with the Redwings gaining 59 through the air to 60 for Alma. Penalties were 135 delinquent yards to 85 for SJ.

Individual running found Atkinson with seven carries for 38 yards, Hayes with 12 for 201 yards, Flermoen with six for 44 yards, Schueller with three carries for 25 yards, Burk with two for 11 yards, Mead with three for eight yards and McKenzie with three for nine yards.

Pass receiving was sparse. Smith grabbed two for 27 yards compared to Roy Pederson with one catch for seven and Flermoen with one for 25 and a touchdown.

Friday's 1970 finale finds the Redwings invading Ovid-Elsie for what should be one of the best games of the year. Game time is 8 p.m. at Ovid-Elsie High School. Better get there early if you want to sit during the contest.

Fowler blanks Webberville

A fired up offense from Fowler dropped the spitting Webberville Spartans Friday night 32-0 to finish the season with a winning record.

Steve Feldpausch drove over from seven-yards out in the first quarter for the first score.

The first quarter also found quarterback Gene Messer hitting Tony Thelen on a 21-yard pass. Messer ran seven yards and a touchdown plus a conversion in the second quarter with the seemingly helpless Spartans looking on.

In the fourth quarter, Feldpausch rammed through the Spartan line from one-yard away for another score. Later, Roy Thelen ended the scoring by dashing 35 yards on a double reverse.

The win pushed the Eagles into third place with a 4-3 Central Michigan Athletic Conference record and 5-3 overall.

MSU tests show fertilizers ineffective

Fertilizer sprays were ineffective on peach, apricot, sweet cherry and plum trees, in recent Michigan State University tests.

According to A.L. Kenworthy, MSU horticulturist, stone fruit growers would like to use foliar nitrogen sprays for the same reason that apple growers do—higher quality fruit.

But MSU studies indicate that foliar nitrogen sprays don't work on stone fruit trees because the waxy surface of the leaves acts as a barrier to nitrate penetration.

"Even at our highest application rate—six applications of four percent potassium nitrate solution—there was no beneficial response," Kenworthy said.

He hopes to conduct further investigations aimed at helping foliar nitrogen sprays to penetrate the waxy leaf surface.

Weber's TD's, Bengels arm smash Laingsburg finale

The Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates wound up their 1970 season Friday night at the expense of the Laingsburg Wolfpack drubbing them 40-28.

The win gave the Pirates second place in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference standings. P-W's scabbard Dan Weber poured across four big touchdowns to up his season total to 12.

Weber, in fact, was part of all when he trekked seven yards to tie the game and turn the momentum in the Pirate's favor. John Bengel flipped the two-point conversion pass to Albert Fedewa.

Then with 8:31 to go in the first half, Weber slanted in on a three-yard run for the second TD of the period, both within three minutes. Bengel hit Roy Piggott for the conversion to put the Pirates out of reach.

Weber caught a Bengel pass and scampered 35 yards for his third TD of the period, but the conversion attempt failed.

Laingsburg had opened the scoring with only two minutes gone on a 32-yard jaunt by Ron Goetschy. Mike Rann dove over for the conversion to give the Wolf pack an 8-0 lead.

With 8:10 remaining in the first quarter, the Pirates stormed right back with a 32 yard pass from Bengel to Fedewa. Hopes of tying the game were dashed when the conversion attempt was halted.

Laingsburg then began another march to the end zone. Goetschy picked off another pass, this one for 30 yards from Rann to put the Wolfpack in a confident position.

But with the Pirate 22 point surge in the second quarter the game was over for all practical purposes. They led at halftime 28-14.

The rest period didn't phase Weber as he turned on the power and outraced the Pack 40 yards

Additions, mark 1970 winter sports resorts

November's arrival is the signal for thousands of winter sports buffs to "think snow", so bring on the fluffy white—Michigan is ready.

Seventy-six developed winter sports centers, including three new areas, are ready to host an expected record number of snow fans this season.

Many of these centers have made major improvements for the 1970-71 season, including new binding facilities, slopes and runs, lifts and tows and snowmobile trails.

With a little help from nature and a stabilizing economy, it is anticipated that last year's record of 350,000 skiers, who spent $125 million having fun in Michigan, will be surpassed.

Snowmobilers, too, will make their presence felt as the sport continues its fantastic rise in popularity. Some experts predict that $34.5 million will be spent by snowmobiling families on Michigan weekend trips this season.

When the snow flies, three new sports areas will make their debut—Timberline Mountain, between Rose City and Mio; Kandahar Ski Club, near Fenton; and Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, north of Detroit near Utica.

Timberline Mountain will open with four slopes, three tows, a lodge with snack bar and a ski shop. Open weekends only, Timberline also will offer instruction and rental equipment.

Kandahar is a private ski club featuring both ski slopes and trails. For the skiers uphill convenience, it has eight tows and a pomalift as well as a lodge with snack bar. The club provides a ski patrol and instruction.

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park is made to order for the non-skier who enjoys the outdoor life in winter time. For fun in the snow enthusiasts, there is tobogganing and sledding on moderate slopes and ice skating on Stony Lake.

For warming those cold fingers and toes, the park also provides a warming shelter at the skating area.

Among the many improvements made during the summer months are the installation of four-place chair lifts at Boyne Mountain, near Boyne Falls (the resort now features two such chair lifts), and at Boyne Highlands, near Harbor Springs.

For the first time, Boyne also features the longest ski run in the midwest. It's a two-mile "Over the Mountain Road" run to the golf course and summer recreation area. Starting behind the first tree, you ski the road down through the woods.

At Bear Mountain, near Grayling, additions include a cocktail lounge and swimming pool while the Mt. Brighton Ski Area, near Brighton, has added a new ski run, two more rope tows, a new dining room and one more cafeteria.

Appealing to the snowmobiler will be the new trails laid out at Bear Mountain, Poirro Ski Resort, north of Mio; Sheridan Valley, northeast of Lewistown; Skyline, south of Grayling; Snowsnake Mountain, north of Clare; and Timber Lee, northwest of Traverse City.

The 1970-71 season will find 11 resorts with 21 new lifts and tows and 35 new slopes and runs at 8 winter sports centers.

Michigan is well-equipped to accommodate large crowds during peak periods, boasting well over 600 ski slopes and runs. Taking the drudgery out of skiing are more than 400 lifts and tows, including 68 double, triple and four-place chair lifts.

Eleven centers have swimming pools, 70 offer meals or snacks, 29 have cocktail lounges and bars and two feature airplane landing strips. If after-ski activities are your bag, many centers also offer dancing entertainment and teen fun.

Michigan's winter sports centers are widely scattered through the state, with 15 in the Upper Peninsula, 34 in west Michigan, 18 in east Michigan and nine in the southeastern portion.

OUTDOOR NOTES

Rainy weather abbreviated Lower Michigan's pheasant opener October 20, but not before hunters scored a general increase in shooting success over a year ago, the Department of Natural Resources reported.

DNR pheasant specialist Victor S. Janson noted that the season's generally good start reflects field reports which show that ringneck numbers are up from last fall in many areas of southern Michigan.

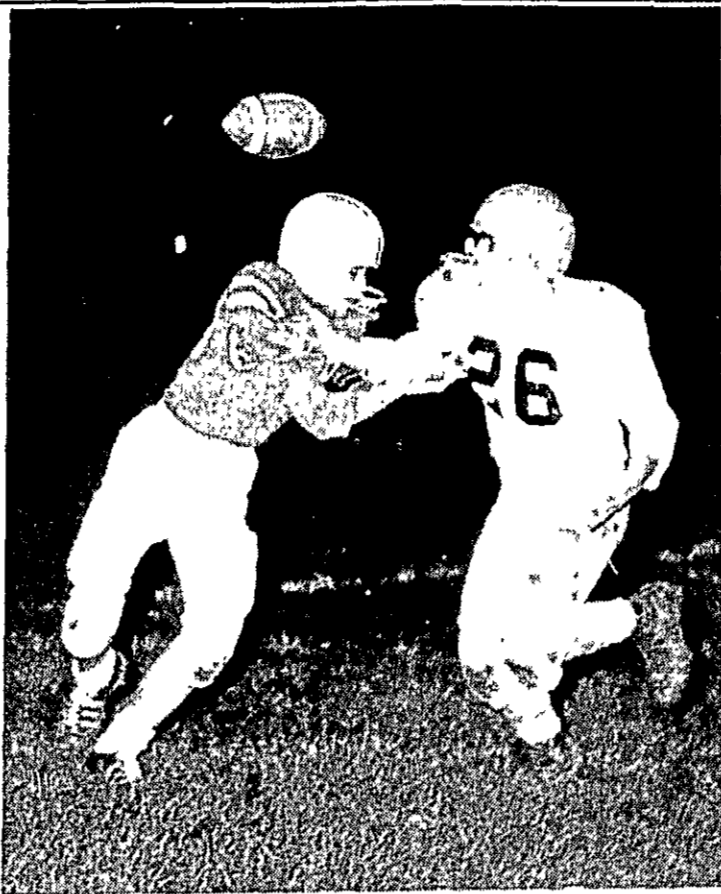

He also observed that the opening day's moist ground cover offered excellent scenting conditions for dogs, and helped hunters make the most of the pheasant upturn before they were rained out virtually everywhere by shortly after noon.

DNR field reports revealed that the first day's shooting success was "definitely up" in southern Ottawa and northern Allegan counties, in Berrien and Macomb counties, in the farm unit of Allegan State Game Area, and in Tuscola County's Fish Point Wildlife Area.

At the DNR's Rose Lake Wildlife Research Area near East Lansing, more hunters turned out for the season's kick off than last fall, and they bagged about the same number of birds as a year ago.

The DNR this week is mailing successful and unsuccessful notices to more than 267,000 hunters who applied for antlerless deer permits covering 59 areas in the Lower Peninsula during this fall's November 15-30 firearm deer season.

Of those applicants, about 89,000 were randomly selected from a machine drawing to receive this season's quota of permits. Approximately 69,000 permits are being distributed among hunters who applied for 37 areas in the northern Lower Peninsula. The remaining total of about 20,000 permits is being issued to hunters who applied for 22 areas in the southern Lower Peninsula.

In keeping with a legislative resolution, there will be no antlerless deer hunting in the Upper Peninsula during the 1970 firearm season.

DNR officials report that only two areas—Bois Blanc Island and the Beaver Islands Wildlife Research Area—drew fewer applications than their permit quotas.

Deer hunters don't really get away

Michigan's deer hunters may say they want to "get away from it all" for a week or so but General Telephone long distance calling statistics show they at least keep in touch by phone.

The company's long distance switching center at Alpena, which serves 15 communities in some of Michigan's best deer hunting area, annually experiences a surge in calling volume when the redcoat army invades the north-land, G.W. Lauher, traffic director for the company, noted.

Since the majority of the calls are handled by operators, the company adds extra personnel; but Lauher warned that callers may still experience delays during peak calling periods.

"Last year the total volume of long distance messages handled during the first week of deer season increased more than 30 percent over the previous week," Lauher said, "and operator-handled long distance calls were responsible for virtually the entire increase."

Long distance calls handled by operators, such as credit card, collect, person-to-person, and coin telephone calls, jumped nearly 75 percent over the week preceding November 15 while direct-dialed (DDD) calls actually decreased somewhat.

"This year our new intrastate long distance rates provide substantial discounts for dialing direct which should be an incentive for hunters who have access to nonpublic phones," Lauher said.

The recently introduced rates for long distance calls within Michigan feature discounts for direct-dialed calls of 20 percent on weekdays from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. and a 40 percent discount at all other times. The larger discount also applies on Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's, July 4 and Labor Day.

Lauher emphasized that the discounts do not apply to operator-handled calls; and, in the case of person-to-person calls, a 50-cent additional charge is added. (In communities which do not have DDD service, the discounts are applicable, however.)

Michigan's deer and land trespass laws.

It is also pointed out at avoiding the general uproar of confusion and complaints caused last season by the misuse of off-road vehicles, notably snowmobiles.

"Our state's deer hunters, themselves, must shoulder a good share of the responsibility in turning the tide on these problems," notes Angullim.

"If they don't, the quality of their sport is going to be downgraded to the point that they will be the big losers."

The DNR's Law Chief, hoping for the better this season, stresses that the deer hunting situation in southern Michigan can stand considerable improvement over last year.

Immediately before and during the 1969 season, conservation officers on duty in southern Michigan were flooded with 660 complaints of hunting violations and unsportsmanlike conduct.

One of the season's biggest sore spots among southern landowners was the mass invasion of their property by hunters who failed to seek permission to go afield on private holdings.

Angullim's call for a greater sense of fair play this season is aimed at reversing last year's disturbing disregard of Mich-

Mac's Moments

Its sports time...

By TOM McELENAY

Mac's Moments is taking a trip to the sports section this week but there's good reason.

Friday night is showdown in the central part of Clinton County.

The Marauders of Ovid-Elsie High School, 7-1, Mid-Michigan B Conference Champions, and the Redwings of St. Johns High School, 7-1, West Central Conference Champions, do battle on O-E's gridiron Friday at 8 p.m.

For Ovid-Elsie, there's quarterback Greg McKay, tall back Ron Lover, and Cal Woodard, defensive tackle Frank Dudash and running back Dick Bates listed as a few of the standouts.

St. Johns boasts a potent offensive machine centered around quarterback Randy Atkinson and running backs Larry Hayes, Steve Mead, Dave Flernoon and Gary Burk. Defensively, its Larry Wakefield, Gary Rademacher, Luane Lambert, Ken Schueller, and many more.

Before the season began, Redwing Head Coach Jeff Smith said, "If Ovid-Elsie beats Portland, they could go undefeated into their meeting with us at the end of the year." Smith seemed to have an inside track on the outcome.

O-E did beat Portland, this year's Tri-Central Conference Champions and they did the same thing last Friday beating Swartz Creek 6-3, a Class A school who just happened to be the Flint Metro Conference Champions.

Many O-E fans wish that the Marauders' loss to Saginaw St. Stephens could be played over again. Most of them think the outcome would be different.

There are also a few Redwing fans who would probably like to get a re-match with the Comets from Grand Ledge.

While talking to Smith Monday, he told me that O-E has a fantastic defensive line. This seems to be pretty self-evident when they hold the Swartz Creek Dragons to a field goal on offense.

The Ad manager of the Clinton County News wanted me to give him 12 points and Ovid-Elsie. Our Ad manager dreams at times. I wouldn't take or give points on either team in this contest. It's going to be a close one.

My leanings do have to be with St. Johns. But, then, if I didn't say that, my invitation to the Redwing Football Banquet might be revoked. But, then again, I haven't received one from Ovid-Elsie.

Oh well! I'll see you Friday night at the battle of Ovid-Elsie-St. Johns.

Baby rattles dangerous

Dr. Maurice S. Reizen, Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health, Tuesday issued a statewide warning concerning a potentially dangerous baby rattle which has appeared in some retail stores in the state.

Dr. Reizen described the rattle as having a plastic handle supporting a base made of the flimsiest cardboard.

Should the cardboard base become separated from the handle several metal prongs of various lengths are revealed. These tines are attached to the rattle's handle and are sharp enough to inflict serious injury to a child.

A babysitter in Jackson County first brought the lethal toy to public attention when her young charge jolted the rattle hard enough to cause the base to become unglued from the handle.

Word of the rattle soon reached Richard L. Hardy, Chief of Environmental Health for the Jackson County Health Department.

Ironically, the rattle bears the trade name "Protect-o". It was made in Japan and distributed in Michigan by an Ohio firm.

Shipments of the rattle are being traced and withdrawn from retail outlets, but parents of small children are advised to closely examine any baby rattles they have recently purchased.

If they match the description given here, waste no time in taking them away from your children, Dr. Reizen cautioned.

Sealed Power shows record sales, profit

Sealed Power Corporation last week reported record sales and earnings for the third quarter ended Sept. 30.

Gordon E. Reynolds, president, said net earnings for the three months were $1,041,000, or 60 cents per share, an eight per cent increase over the previous record of $963,000, or 56 cents per share, established a year ago.

Sales for the period were $17,481,000, up two per cent over 1969's record of $17,018,000.

Nine month sales also established a company record, Reynolds said, increasing about two per cent to $51,964,000 from the record $50,704,000 reported in the January-September period of 1969.

Net earnings for the nine months totaled $2,545,000, or $1.47 per share, down from last year's record of $2,944,000, or $1.70 per share.

The reduction in earnings during the period was primarily caused by a weak first quarter.

"Our record performance in the third quarter was all the more outstanding," Reynolds said, "because sales to original equipment manufacturers thus far this year have been adversely affected by a sluggish automobile market in the U.S. and Canada. However, we have benefited from a general improvement in the domestic replacement market and in other foreign markets."

"Additionally, Sealed Power's Remac Division has demonstrated continuing improvement in its sales to the growing automotive air conditioning after market," he said.

Funds released for recreation Ballenger says

State Rep. William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) Tuesday announced final approval of state financial assistance for several recreation projects important to citizens in Shiawassee and Clinton counties.

State financing for the projects comes from the Quality Recreation bond fund approved by voters in the last election.

State assistance for the project located in the Bath, Owsos, Laingsburg and Perry areas, totals over $115,000.

"In releasing these funds, Gov. Romney can stop income tax withholding on my pay if I want to."

Is that right?

A) Yes, you may stop income tax withholding on your earnings if you owed no Federal income tax last year and expect to owe none this year. This is done by completing Form W-4-E and giving it to your employer. If you earn less than $1,725 this year you won't have to pay tax.

Q) The $70 payment I sent in several weeks ago was not deducted from the tax bill you sent me. What should I do?

A) Reduce the bill by the amount of your last payment and pay the difference. Return the bill with your payment and note on it the amount of your previous payment, the date paid and where it was sent. What might have happened is that the bill was issued before your payment had been processed and credited to your account.

Sometimes, however, payments are received that cannot be credited because there is insufficient information to identify the payment. This happens when the payment is received without an accompanying bill or notice and the payment is not identified by the taxpayer's social security number.

If the payment carries a social security number then it can be readily identified and credited to the taxpayer's account.

Q) My neighbors tell me I can sell my house and not pay any tax on the profit since I'm over 65. Can I really do that?

A) Yes, all or part of the profits from the sale of the home may be tax free if you are 65 or over before the date of the sale and owned and used the house as your principal residence for at least five of the last eight years.

When these conditions are met, all the profit is tax free when the adjusted sales price is $20,000 or less. When the price is above that, only a proportionate part of the profit is taxable.

For details in this and other benefits for taxpayers 65 and over, sent a post card to your district office and ask for a copy of Publication 5543, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans."

Q) I'm thinking of buying some shares of stock. Is there any advantage of putting the account in my wife's name as well as my own?

A) There are many considerations to be taken into account. From a Federal tax standpoint, the owner of stock is entitled to exclude up to $100 in ordinary dividends from his income. If the stock is jointly owned, then each could receive up to $100 in dividends tax free.

Q) I do a lot of traveling on my new job. What kind of records should I keep on my food and lodging costs?

A) A cancelled check together with a bill stamped paid can be used to establish the amount of your lodging and the date. A diary or similar record of your meal and costs is acceptable if entries are made when the costs are incurred.

Rules on travel expenses are detailed in Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. For a free copy write your District Director.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

The funeral director, as well as the clergyman has a responsibility to ease the grief of the bereaved family. His counsel can be relied upon in the difficult time from the hour of passing to the final service.

To relieve the sorrow of the distraught survivors and to add a comforting memory picture is the funeral director's sincere concern.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Ticket sale plans announced for St. Johns 'Dracula' show

Special ticket sale plans have been developed at St. Johns High School for seat reservations to their forthcoming presentation "Dracula" Nov. 20-21.

R. L. Koger, associate director of speech and theater at the high school said the box office in the lobby of the new auditorium has been equipped with a special telephone to take reserved ticket orders.

Interested theater patrons may call the St. Johns Public Schools at 224-2394 and as for the Theater Box Office extension 242.

The party then may reserve his tickets for a desired night with the student secretary on duty.

Tickets will be placed in a separate envelope and filed in the box office until picked up by the party either on or before the night of the show. Tickets are to be purchased when the patron picks them up at the box office.

The box office will open two weeks before each production and will be opened from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"It is hoped that this new procedure will encourage more theater-goers in St. Johns and the surrounding area," Koger said. "We would like to encourage students attending St. Johns High to personally purchase their tickets at the box office during school hours."

The box office is currently open for the "Dracula" production. Tickets are $1.25 each. Curtain time for the production will be 8 p.m.

"Dracula" has been described by critics as a play for those who like their coffee strong. There is no mistake about this thriller being of the type that will shock the staunchest of playgoers who like thrilling plays.

Koger said, "I'm extremely pleased with the cast and crews of 'Dracula.' The progress has been extremely pleasing. For example, the set construction crew has the most difficult set done in two weeks."

The talent is a mixture of old and veteran talent. "The cast is enthusiastic and versatile—superior," he said.

The St. Johns High School Theatre patrons can expect a very enjoyable evening of horror and thrills as well as the usual top quality performance.

The play is a project of the Mask and Dagger Club, the St. Johns High School drama group.

Rock and light show next feature at MSU

A psychedelic "rock" and light show, the first of its kind in the Midwest, will be presented at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium during November.

The program, titled "A.R.C. 70," beginning Thursday (Nov. 5), is featured as a special attraction, according to John Hare, planetarium technician, and is not a regular planetarium show.

The unusual lighting effects will be created by using colored lights, polarizing filters, prisms, mirrors, strobe lights, a kaleidoscope, overhead projector, movies and slides—in addition to the planetarium's lighting equipment.

The music will be supplied by Magic, a local, four-member rock group. A stage will be constructed in the chamber for the group and stereo speakers will line the chamber walls.

Lighting will be provided by I See the Light, a local psychedelic lighting company.

Only three major planetariums—in Utah, Colorado and New York—have produced shows of this type, according to Hare.

"The planetarium dome lends itself to artistic expression," Von Del Chamberlain, planetarium director said, "and I think the combination of the various lights and music will be very interesting."

Programs will be given at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, and 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, Nov. 5 through Nov. 21. Tickets, at $2 each, are available at the planetarium or the Union Ticket Office.

The next regular program will be "The Christmas Star" which will run Nov. 27 through Dec. 28.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q) A fellow at the place where I work after school says I can stop income tax withholding on my pay if I want to. Is that right?

A) Yes, you may stop income tax withholding on your earnings if you owed no Federal income tax last year and expect to owe none this year. This is done by completing Form W-4-E and giving it to your employer. If you earn less than $1,725 this year you won't have to pay tax.

Q) The $70 payment I sent in several weeks ago was not deducted from the tax bill you sent me. What should I do?

A) Reduce the bill by the amount of your last payment and pay the difference. Return the bill with your payment and note on it the amount of your previous payment, the date paid and where it was sent. What might have happened is that the bill was issued before your payment had been processed and credited to your account.

Sometimes, however, payments are received that cannot be credited because there is insufficient information to identify the payment. This happens when the payment is received without an accompanying bill or notice and the payment is not identified by the taxpayer's social security number.

If the payment carries a social security number then it can be readily identified and credited to the taxpayer's account.

Q) My neighbors tell me I can sell my house and not pay any tax on the profit since I'm over 65. Can I really do that?

A) Yes, all or part of the profits from the sale of the home may be tax free if you are 65 or over before the date of the sale and owned and used the house as your principal residence for at least five of the last eight years.

When these conditions are met, all the profit is tax free when the adjusted sales price is $20,000 or less. When the price is above that, only a proportionate part of the profit is taxable.

For details in this and other benefits for taxpayers 65 and over, sent a post card to your district office and ask for a copy of Publication 5543, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans."

Q) I'm thinking of buying some shares of stock. Is there any advantage of putting the account in my wife's name as well as my own?

A) There are many considerations to be taken into account. From a Federal tax standpoint, the owner of stock is entitled to exclude up to $100 in ordinary dividends from his income. If the stock is jointly owned, then each could receive up to $100 in dividends tax free.

Q) I do a lot of traveling on my new job. What kind of records should I keep on my food and lodging costs?

A) A cancelled check together with a bill stamped paid can be used to establish the amount of your lodging and the date. A diary or similar record of your meal and costs is acceptable if entries are made when the costs are incurred.

Rules on travel expenses are detailed in Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. For a free copy write your District Director.

Turkey talk for Thanksgiving

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

It's never too soon to "talk turkey" . . . especially with the biggest turkey-eating day of the year looming over the horizon.

The first question on the agenda is, of course, what size turkey to buy. Standard guides suggest allowing 1-1/2 pounds of turkey per person. . . If you want enough for the big day plus some leftover for week-end sandwiches, snacks and casseroles.

If you are planning to buy an already-stuffed turkey, 1-1/2 to 2 pounds per person will give you generous servings for the main meal with enough left over for encores.

Because nearly all the turkeys sold in November and December are frozen, the next consideration is which, of all the many possible methods for thawing the big birds, to use.

If there is room in the refrigerator . . . and if you start soon enough (say several days) . . . a recommended technique is to thaw the turkey in the original moisture proof wrapping in the refrigerator.

Another highly recommended method is to put the turkey, still in its original wrapping, inside a brown paper bag. Tuck the paper bag around the turkey and thaw it at room temperature for 24 hours.

It's important to note, however, that if you buy a pre-stuffed turkey, no thawing is necessary. It's not even desirable.

Instead, the frozen, pre-stuffed turkey should go direct from freezer to oven.

There are several new approaches in turkey marketing. One is an increase in the number of turkeys with their own built-in thermometer.

The small, hardly noticeable device is already inserted in the thick part of the thigh. When the turkey reaches the proper internal temperature, a little red pointer emerges from the thermometer to tell you the good news that dinner's ready.

Another new idea for old tom is a technique called "self-basting". Special basting juices are inserted deep inside the flesh of the turkey to baste from the inside out during cooking. Hand basting does not penetrate the skin but does provide for a deep, rich brown color.

Fans of the self-basting turkey claim that the new process makes for the same golden brown skin with an even juicer, more tender interior.

One final question that sometimes comes up during the big pre-Thanksgiving and pre-Christmas seasons: are frozen turkeys apt to be held in commercial freezers from one season to another?

The answer is that commercial freezer storage is so expensive that it is not economically sound to hold frozen turkeys for long periods of time. If they don't move out in a reasonable length of time, special price features on turkeys are used to clear the marketing channels for the new stock.

Tom Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fowler, 1003 Swegles St., and Kathleen Zuker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zuker, 211 W. McConnell are the two area students in the group.

Director Hobson, in introducing the new group to the community said that the chorale is chosen from some of the CMU Music Department's most highly qualified singers.

"Most are music majors and their selection was based on the musicianship and vocal maturity of the singers," Hobson explained.

Sixteenth and 17th century composers will be represented in the debut as the group performs the traditional masses, motets and madrigals.

Among the contemporary composers whose works will be sung will be "Four Songs from the Masques of Ben Johnson," written by Dr. William Rivard of the CMU music faculty.

The program will conclude with "Sentimental Journey" by Norman Luboff and "Since Singing is So Good a Thing" by Robert DeCormier.

Hobson said that he was hopeful he could present the chorale group in at least two concerts per semester.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

MRS. RICHARD EASLICK

Couple honeymoon in Southern states

ELSIE(c)—The First Baptist Church of Elsie was the scene of a late afternoon wedding uniting in marriage Raelene Sue Loznak and Richard Max Easlick, 4515 Hollister Rd., Elsie and the late Rose Eastlick.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loznak, 359 1/2 W. Main St., Elsie and the groom is the son of Max Easlick, 4515 Hollister Rd., Elsie and the late Rose Eastlick. Lighted candelabra and tall vases of white mums, glads and carnations enhanced the altar where Rev. Thomas Cooper performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Donivan Williams played traditional wedding selections and Harry Price was soloist.

of the bride served as host and hostess.

A wedding trip through southern states awaited the newlyweds. For going-away, the bride wore a double breasted suit of gray wool knit with gold, gray and black striped top and black accessories.

Both the bride and groom were graduates of Ovid - Elsie High School and will reside at 311 East Main Street, Elsie. The bride is employed at Ralph's Beauty Salon in Oquosso and the groom is associated with the Thornton Board Applicators in DeWitt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white satin organza fashioned with an Empire-bodiced A-line skirt. It featured wide panels of Chantilly - type lace with tiny clusters of pearls. The full sleeves were gathered into deep lace cuffs at the wrists and a large satin bow and high neckline completed the design. Her lace-edged Mantilla veil was held in place by a high crown of white satin organza appliqued with lace and pearl trim. The bridal bouquet of red sweetheart roses and white carnations atop a white Bible was the gift of the bride's parents.

Diana Hoshield of Elsie was her cousin's maid of honor and Sharon Thornton, DeWitt and Renae Fatura, Bannister, sisters of the bride, Barbara Easlick, sister of the groom and Diane Foreit of Flushing were bridesmaids. They were identically attired in floor - length gowns of deep navy blue velvet designed with Empire bodice and stand - up collar trimmed with white lace and satin buttons. They wore white fur hats and carried matching muffs centered with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations tied with pink streamers. Jamie Fatura of Bannister and Ronda Thornton of DeWitt were flower girls for their aunt. They wore gowns similar to the bridal attendants but in powder blue and carried white baskets of carnations and sweetheart roses. Keary Bakita of Rockford, cousin of the bride served as ring bearer.

Johnny Dunham was best man and Terry Loznak, brother of the bride, Roland Thornton of DeWitt, brother-in-law of the bride, Jack Wassa, brother-in-law of the groom and Ed Thornton were groomsmen. Fred Fatura, Bannister, brother - in-law of the bride and Dan Acre seated the guests. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Elsie. Local students play in Lansing Symphony

When you want to play in an orchestra and one isn't enough join another.

That's what John Eldridge and Ann Davis, two St. Johns High School students, have done.

Eldridge, son of Mr and Mrs Robert Eldridge of St. Johns, has earned the honor of being the Lansing Junior Symphony's first chair concertmaster, the highest honor given to an orchestral player. This summer, he was given the opportunity to further his musical training by attending Michigan State University on a music scholarship awarded by St. Johns' Morning Musicales.

Miss Davis, daughter of Mr and Mrs Jack David of St. Johns, earned her place with the Junior Symphony by an audition which is required of all interested students. She also attended a summer music program at Interlochen, on a scholarship awarded by the school.

The students rehearse once a week in Lansing and present concerts throughout the year. The group will present a "Television Concert" on Channel 6 in December.

The pair are co-concertmistress and concertmaster of the St. Johns Orchestra. Their next local appearance will be Tuesday evening, Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m. when the orchestra will present their first concert of the season.

The public is invited free of charge to the event which will be held in the school's auditorium.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE $670,000 COUNTY OF CLINTON, MICHIGAN CLINTON COUNTY SANITARY SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM NO. 3 BONDS (VILLAGE OF WESTPHALIA)

Sealed bids for purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the County Road Commission Offices in the City of St. Johns, Michigan, on Monday, the 16th day of November, 1970, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated as of Oct. 1, 1970, the entire issue to be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 to 134, inclusive, will be registrable as to principal only, and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding eight per cent (8%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or any combination thereof. Said interest will be payable on May 1, 1971, and semi-annually thereafter on Nov. 1st and May 1st of each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to the date of delivery must be paid by the purchaser at time of delivery. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company, which paying agent qualifies as such under the statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, to be designated by the manager of the account purchasing the bonds, subject to the approval by Clinton County, which purchaser may also designate a co-paying agent similarly qualified and approved. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rates bid shall not exceed 2%.

Said bonds will mature serially as follows:

$40,000 May 1, 1973; $50,000 May 1st of each of the years 1974 and 1975; $35,000 May 1st of each year from 1976 to 1978, inclusive; $40,000 May 1st of each year from 1979 to 1981, inclusive; $45,000 May 1, 1982; $50,000 May 1st of each of the years 1983 and 1984; $50,000 May 1st of each of the years 1985 and 1986; $40,000 May 1st of each of the years 1987 and 1988.

Bonds maturing in the years 1973 to 1980, inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. Bonds maturing in the years 1981 to 1986, inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the County, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1980, at 102 1/2% of par if redeemed prior to May 1, 1983; 102% of par if redeemed on or after May 1, 1983, but prior to May 1, 1986; and at 101 1/2% of par if redeemed on or after May 1, 1986, but prior to maturity.

Thirty days notice of the call of any bonds for redemption shall be given by publication in a paper circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds and in case of registered bonds, thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem said bonds.

The bonds are to be issued under the provisions of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, and pursuant to resolution duly adopted by the Board of Commissioners of the County of Clinton for the purpose of paying part of the cost of constructing a sanitary sewage disposal system in said County to service the Village of Westphalia, all included as a part of a County sanitary sewage disposal system designated "Clinton County Sanitary Sewage Disposal System No. 3 (Village of Westphalia)."

The said bonds are issued in anticipation of, and are payable primarily from, certain specified contractual payments to be made by the Village of Westphalia, located in the County of Clinton, Michigan, to the Board of Public Works acting for and on behalf of the County of Clinton, pursuant to a certain contract between said governmental units, whereby said Board, on behalf of the County, is to construct sewer improvements within the aforesaid sanitary sewage disposal system. By the provisions of said contract and pursuant to the authorization provided by law, the Village of Westphalia has pledged its full faith and credit for the payment of its contractual obligations. The County of Clinton has irrevocably pledged to the payment of said bonds the total contractual payments, which payments are payable at such times and are established in such amounts as are required to pay the entire principal of and interest on the bonds promptly when due.

As additional security for the payment of the bonds and the interest thereon, the County of Clinton, as authorized by law, has pledged its full faith and credit for the prompt and timely payment thereof.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from Dec. 1, 1970 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the County of Clinton on all the bonds herein offered.

No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $13,400, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the County Treasurer, County of Clinton, Michigan, must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail if no bidder's representative is present. Payment for said bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve funds.

Bid shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, the text of which will be printed on the reverse side of each bond. The cost of such opinion and the cost of printing the bonds will be paid by the County. Executed bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, or New York, New York.

The bonds will be accompanied by the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds. Said bonds will be delivered within forty-five (45) days from the date of sale, and if said bonds are not delivered by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the forty-fifth day from the date of sale, the successful bidder may withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation in writing on the undersigned, in which event the good faith check shall be promptly returned.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds." Persons desiring further information concerning the above bonds may contact Stauder, Barch and Associates, 63 Kercheval Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan 48236 (telephone: 313-886-5613), financial consultants to the County.

LAST CLEANUP

Mrs. Yvonne De Paepe, far right, directs her Brownie Troop 44 girls in a lawn cleanup campaign at East Ward school Monday. She is assisted by Mrs. Sally Gavenda, dark coat, in the drive which is part of their Action 70 program. Another aide, absent from the photo, is Mrs. Lynn Miller.

Keep up with today's teen?

Is anyone more active than today's teen miss?

It is virtually impossible to keep up with her busy schedule!

There's school, a part-time job, sports events, homework, housework, dating and a million and-one activities that fill her day from the minute she gets up in the morning until that final lights out each night.

How does she manage to do all the things she does?

Some 137,000 young people, boys too, are finding the 4-H home management program a good way to learn how to budget their time, energy and money.

Supported by Tupperware, a division of Dart Industries, Inc., the company provides incentives and recognition, and other support materials in the program.

This year Tupperware is making available four medals of honor on the county level and an expense-paid trip to Chicago for the National 4-H Congress for each state winner.

Eight national winners are selected from state trip winners to receive $600 educational scholarships.

In reflecting on her interest and reaction to 4-H home management, a 1969 national winner explained: "Management is based on decision making and a good manager has to decide what his or her most important resources are and what she can do with the resources."

The winner was Becky Everett, New Sharon, Iowa, who added, "I had to decide which was more important, cleaning the house or homework."

4-H home management helped her get both jobs accomplished. Mary Huff, last year's national winner from Carrollton, Ga., said her "favorite project" is home management because "it has to do with every aspect of my life."

"When I began taking part in more and more activities I realized my time, energy, skills and money would have to be put to the best possible use," she noted.

This year eight other good managers will receive their scholarships during the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 through Dec. 3.

The Cooperative Extension Service conducts the program and selects winners. The awards program is arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Starting pay for the cadet 04 civil service positions is $216 and ranges up to $255 every two weeks.

Sale of hand crafted items, candles, ornaments, jeweled eggs, foot stools, shelves, and toys will take place throughout the afternoon and homemade baked goods and candies will also be on sale.

Each bond. The cost of such opinion and the cost of printing the bonds will be paid by the County. Executed bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, or New York, New York. Roger Moore of Harris-Moore Oil Co. and wife Alice won't be around for a week. They'll be sunning and swimming and enjoying themselves in the Bahamas. Rog won the all expense paid vacation by being the leading dealer of his class in a recent Naph Sol (Zephyr) Refining Company promotion.

We think that's nice. Like we said, we once won a live chicken in a U.P. Bingo parlor. In fact, we think that's so nice we won't say a word about how Rog was finagling how to go to the Bahamas and leave Alice here.
 Tim Knaus of St. Johns figured (like most all of us) the Lions would win Sunday. That was his only mistake. . . and the only mistake of Dan Bowles of Ovid, Harold Lundy of St. Johns and Stan Brown of Lansing.

 Tim's point estimate of 28 was the closest to the actual of nine points and so Tim collected the $20.00 in the County News Football Contest.
 We received about five entries that had the Saints picked over the Lions but they also picked some other upsets that didn't happen.

Farm Bureau honors ag leaders

Two agricultural leaders in Michigan, Lee D. Ferden and James G. Hays, received the Michigan Farm Bureau's Distinguished Service to Agriculture Awards at the MFB annual banquet, Nov. 9.

Elton R. Smith, president of MFB, presented the awards in the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium.

A plaque that reads, "Michigan Farm Bureau Award for Distinguished Service to Agriculture, 1970, James G. Hays, in recognition of his contributions to Agriculture through Education and Public Relations," was accepted by Michigan State University retired Associate Professor of Dairy, James G. (Jim) Hays.

Hays, a 1911 graduate of MSU, retired from MSU in 1955 after 33 years of teaching and extension work.

He is widely known as a banquet speaker and toastmaster. During World War II, he secured farm labor for Michigan farmers and helped mechanize farming operations.

Hays became widely known for his "cow talks". Proceeds from this project were put into a student fund in memory of his son, James Hays III, an MSU journalism graduate, who died shortly after graduation. Over a period of years, student loan-fund contributions have exceeded $30,000.

Hays has received honorary awards from the Michigan Purebred Cattle Association, Michigan Vocational Agriculture Teachers' Association; Michigan Dairy and Scholarship Foundation and the FFA.

He also received a MSU Alumni Award for Distinguished Service.

For more than 20 years he was extension dairy specialist. He is a life member of the Michigan Holstein-Friesian Association; a charter member of the Michigan Milk Producers and of Livingston County Farm Bureau and founder and a charter member of the Howell Cooperative Elevator. Mr and Mrs Hays live in East Lansing.

LEE D. FERDEN has served Michigan agriculturists for more than 40 years. He and his wife, Gladys, own and operate Ferden Farm in Chesaning.

Ferden completed the Farm Course at Michigan State University in 1924 and started farming in 1926.

He was named Corn King of Michigan in 1936, Michigan Wheat King in 1942-48; Reserve Wheat King of the National Association; International Hog and Grain Show in Chicago, 1951 and received MSU's Distinguished Service to Agriculture Award in 1960.

Ferden does Crop Experimental work, cooperative with MSU, Farmers and Manufacturer's Beet Sugar Association and in 1970 began experimental plots for the USDA.

He is the originator and breeder of Ferden Yellow Dent Corn.

He lectures on landscaping farm homes and judges and exhibits grains at county, state and international fairs.

Ferden has maintained a weather station for the U.S. Weather Bureau since 1943 and is a director on the Consumer Power Board of Directors. He has also served as a 4-H leader and member of the Saginaw County Fair Board.

Ferden is a member of Farm Bureau, Michigan Foundation Seed Association, Michigan Crop Improvement Association and an honorary FFA member.

His plaque reads: "Michigan Farm Bureau Award for Distinguished Service to Agriculture, 1970, Lee D. Ferden, in recognition of his contributions to Michigan Farmers Through the Improvement of Field Crops and Cooperation with Michigan State University."

Hays and Ferden joined 45 other recipients who have been awarded MFB's Distinguished Awards since 1956.

Silo gas kills, safety expert says

Silo gas, a killer of humans and livestock, may be especially dangerous on many farms this year.

"It has killed one Michigan man this fall, and it will take other lives unless farmers are extremely careful," says Richard Pfister, extension safety engineer at Michigan State University.

"Crops damaged by disease or exposed to drought are more apt to produce deadly nitrogen dioxide (silo gas) than other ensiled crops," Pfister explains.

"This year, some corn has been exposed to drought, and some has been damaged by southern corn leaf blight. A greater incidence of silo gas may therefore be expected."

The period of greatest danger is the first 12 to 60 hours after filling, Pfister says. But he warns farmers to be especially careful for two to three weeks after filling the silo.

"Always keep ventilators open during silo filling and while removing silage," Pfister cautions. "Leave a roof section open for at least two weeks after silo filling. Close this roof section when you have sealed the silo."

The gas is yellowish-brown in color, but it is seldom found in concentrations strong enough to be visible, Pfister explains. It has an odor like bleach or ammonia, and will occasionally bleach silage leaves. Dead sparrows or other birds at the base of the silo are a possible sign that nitrogen dioxide is present.

The MSU safety engineer warns that even in concentrations too small to detect, the gas can be harmful. Once in the lungs, nitrogen dioxide changes to nitric acid, which destroys the oxygen exchange cells. Victims may experience shortness of breath and cough with phlegm.

Pfister recommends that whenever you enter a silo: First, operate the blower 10 to 15 minutes.

Whenever possible enter from the outside ladder. The chute acts as an exhaust pipe. Let someone know you are going to enter the silo, and have him check on you.

"If you must enter a silo that shows signs of nitrogen dioxide, use an all-purpose gas mask with universal type canister or an air supply system similar to a scuba diving outfit," Pfister says.

To prevent children and livestock from being poisoned by the gas:

Open and leave open for at least two weeks after filling all windows and the outside door of the silo room.

Keep the door between the silo room and the barn closed at all times.

Secure all other enclosed silo areas.

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announced last week the lifetime milk production credits of over 100 tons for two Michigan registered Holsteins, one in Clinton County.

Athlone Fobes Suzette 4034327 (YG), owned by Duane and Velmar Green of Green Meadow Farm, Elsie, received the credits for a lifetime output of 200,027 pounds of milk and 8,014 pounds of butterfat, over a 14-year-10-month period.

The other Michigan Holstein was from Grass Lake with 17-year totals of 263,031 pounds of milk and 9,345 pounds of butterfat.

These Registered Holstein cows join a select group of 455 cows of the breed to be recognized as "iron grandmas" by the Holstein Association—cows having produced nearly 100,000 quart of milk in their lifetimes.

Milk and butterfat records of more than 127,000 Registered Holstein cows on official test were added to the Holstein Association's files last year. Production testing is a herd improvement program which aids dairymen in maintaining a more profitable operation.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Nov. 16 is the deadline for youth between the ages of 10-18 years as of Sept. 30, 1971 to enroll in a local 4-H Club throughout the County. The 4-H youth program is open to any youth whether they live in a city, town, rural areas, or farms. They may choose a project from many choices that fit their interests. There is no cost to join a local club unless the members decide upon some dues that stay with the club. What project the youth may choose will determine what other costs may be involved.

Sixty-one 4-H crop members, leaders, parents, and Exchange Club members attended the 4-H Crop Show dinner and program Thursday evening sponsored by the St. Johns Exchange Club. Dr. Bernard Knezek, Crops and Soils Department at Michigan State University presented the program. Knezek discussed the phosphates and nitrogen that is used in the production of food and how our soil acts as a filtering system. He pointed out that homeowners who fertilize their lawns in town and have the excess wash down the streets contribute nitrates and phosphates to our water pollution problem also. George McQueen, Extension Agricultural Agent, judged the 4-H members crop exhibits and discussed the exhibits with the audience.

There will be a 4-H officers training conference on Monday, Nov. 30, 7:30 p.m. at the St. Johns Jr High School. Adult resource people will work with the officers on parliamentary procedures and discuss their duties and responsibilities in their local club.

Presently four youths have indicated an interest in working with the Leader Dog for the Blind program where they will train a dog for one year to be used in this program. Puppies from 10-16 weeks of age are provided to the youth. We would like to have a club of 5 to 10 youth interested in working with these dogs. Anyone else interested should contact the County Extension Office as soon as possible.

The first 4-H Roller Skating activity will be held on Thursday, Nov. 19, 7-10 p.m. at the Ranch Roller Rink in St. Johns. Presently the following clubs have indicated an interest in roller skating in November: County Farm, Pioneer Trail Riders, Willing Workers, Prairie, Westphalia 4-H and Handy Andy's. Other clubs wishing to roller skate in November should contact the office as soon as possible.

Our congratulations go to the Maple River Craftsmen 4-H Club members as they have reached the quota of $1 per member fair share contribution to the National 4-H Center Expansion Drive in Washington, D.C. They donated $7 now plus $20 earlier for a total of $27. The members will be holding a Christmas Party on Dec. 14, 7-9 p.m. at the home of Russell Libey and an ice skating party on Jan. 16, 2-5 p.m. for two of their winter group activities.

The County Farm 4-H club members are getting busy with clothing projects as they discussed their patterns and material. At their Nov. 16 meeting Donna Stevens and Sherry Harte will demonstrate "Straightening Grain of Material" and Julie Green will demonstrate "How to Sew on a Button."

The Bengal Community 4-H club members have approved a payment of $17 contribution to the National 4-H Center Drive in Washington, D.C. The members received their fair premiums, certificates, and pins. The trip award winners and honor roll winners were announced. The Bengal Club received a banner for being an honor club this past summer. Diana Hazle told about her trip to the National 4-H Center and 4-H Conference at Washington, D.C. Pins were passed out to the members.

Charlie's Gang 4-H club members have elected Timothy Barz as their president for the Winter program. Other officers include William Horman, vice-president; Charles Sillman, secretary; James Irner, treasurer; Earl Flegler Jr., newsreporter; and Dan Barz, recreation leader. The members received the fair premium money, pins, and certificates. Dan Barz reported on his experiences at the Teen Leadership workshop at Camp Kett. The members have decided to go roller skating in November and March at the Ranch Roller Rink in St. Johns with other 4-H'ers. Charlie Sillm urged all the members to select their projects as early as possible so they could get started to work.

The Happy Hustlers 4-H club has 37 members enrolled and initiated 10 new members into their club this fall. The program was presented by Gloria Kurnez and Mrs. Peter Kurnez. 4-H certificates, pins and fair-premiums were presented to the members. Following the program the members worked on gifts that they will present to a nursing home at Christmas time.

The 4-Corners 4-H club members will hold a family potluck supper on Nov. 20, 7 p.m. at the E.E. Knight School in Elsie and will include their local achievement program. Due to the elections the tour of the Elsie Library was postponed. The members participated in the glass bottle pick up Saturday, Nov. 7. The group enjoyed an evening of recreation and singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Gaylord and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pearson of Pontiac called on their mother, Mrs. Martha B. Miller and brother, Hugh Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Miller and family of Lansing and Henry Leoffert were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Miller Sunday.

Mrs. Lula Boak visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Boak and family Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schafer and daughters of DeWitt were visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Miller Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lula Boak was a dinner guest Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Benjamin and family and also attended open house at Aldeen Sillmans of Riley Township. It was their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Thelen had a family gathering at their home Saturday evening in honor of their son and son-in-law who are home on a furlough from the service.

Social Security protects young disabled fathers

Young fathers who feel they have lots of responsibility and little financial security for their families if they die or are disabled may have more protection than they think.

Social Security can help support not only the worker, but also his wife and children if he is disabled. It can provide monthly checks for his family if he dies.

Each month, nearly two and one half million disabled workers and their dependents and over three million surviving children and widowed mothers get social security checks.

Amounts of the checks depend on the worker's average earnings under social security.

Disability benefits for a worker with a wife and one child range from $96 a month to maximum of $434.40 with the average about $273. Most young men whose annual salaries are in the $7500 range and above would be eligible for benefit payments close to the maximum amounts.

Survivors benefits for a widow with 2 children range from a minimum of $96 a month to about $432.40 with the average about $292.

A worker under 24 needs only one and one half year's work under social security to have disability protection.

Between 24 and 31, he needs to have worked only half the time between 21 and the time he is disabled to qualify for monthly checks for himself and his family.

Benefits in the case of a breadwinner's death are based on even more liberal standards. A man 28 or younger needs only one and one half years of work for his family to qualify for survivors benefits.

Young people interested in learning more about their social security protection should request the booklet "Social Security for Young Families" from any social security office.

Farmers to have pest controls soon

Michigan farmers should soon have chemicals to control soil pests that cost them millions of dollars each year in lost yields, according to a Michigan State University nematologist.

"Nematodes, usually considered a problem only in the South, are reducing yields of carrots, celery, onions, strawberries and cherries," Charles Laughlin said.

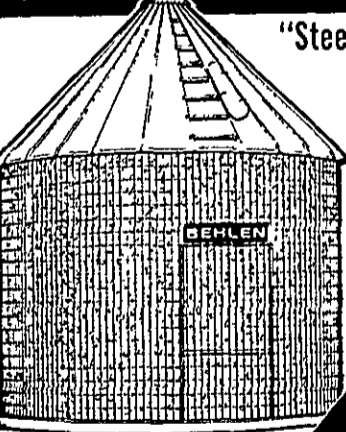

"But now we've found materials that can be applied at planting time, saving growers time and money."

"We think we'll be able to do the job with as little as 2 to 3 pounds of active ingredients per acre if we use a band application at seeding time. This has been tried successfully in Florida, and we think it will work in Michigan."

Laughlin is now waiting regulatory agency clearance on the effective nematocides.

Clinton County News

Sewage treatment plan may aid Clinton system

At some point in the future, Clinton County and other Michigan counties, may look to an experiment recently conducted in Muskegon to improve current sewage treatment facilities.

Conservation News, voice of the National Wildlife Federation reported that Muskegon has developed a "foolproof" method of disposing sewage.

A few years ago the city of Muskegon realized it would soon need a new sewage treatment facility.

Up to that time the city gave its sewage primary treatment—which means holding it in ponds for about four hours while bacteria act on the waste and solids settle to the bottom; and secondary treatment, which removed certain chemicals and bacteria, and then dumped it into Lake Muskegon which flows directly into Lake Michigan.

The result was Muskegon had a reputation as a "smelly factory town," and Lake Michigan was being dangerously polluted.

So officials called on Dr. John Shaeffer of the University of Chicago Center for Urban Studies who came to the conclusion, after studying Muskegon, that existing technology in waste treatment plants couldn't turn out acceptably clean water.

So Shaeffer took a completely new look at the very unglamorous problem of sewage treatment and realized that America is using horse and buggy technology in the space age.

There had to be a better way. Or, as Shaeffer put it, "If our old approach won't improve the environment, then we'd better find a better approach."

So he did!

His solution was simple. Muskegon will collect all its municipal and industrial wastes, run it through a series of lagoons and spray it on barren land in the eastern part of the county.

The sewage will fertilize the land, help produce a cash crop and be returned through the soil in a pure state to the water table. The county gets rid of its wastes, gains a new source of revenue and helps to clean up Lake Michigan.

It will take 10,000 acres of land to handle 32 million gallons of sewage a day.

The scheme appears to be foolproof. The sewage first goes to a lagoon where it settles for four days, as opposed to four hours in traditional plants. There it is exposed to the sun and bacteria start decomposition. From there it is piped to a holding lagoon where it waits to be spread on the farmland. The holding pond serves two purposes.

It has a four-month holding capacity so that nothing need be sprayed during periods of rain or when the ground is frozen, thus preventing run off and erosion. It also gives the community a chance to deal with accidental industrial spills which occur when poisons or dangerous chemicals are dumped into municipal sewers which happens more often than is generally supposed.

In traditional systems these spills are dumped untreated into the river or lake and wreak their particular havoc on the environment.

At Muskegon the holding ponds will give officials time to determine an appropriate antidote for poisons and will give dangerous chemicals the time to break down.

"It's a failsafe system because it doesn't have to discharge," Shaeffer said. Shaeffer predicts that his system could be used anywhere in the United States—or rather everywhere.

It would take, he says, one percent of all the acreage in agricultural production in 1968 to treat all the waste water in the United States.

The Federal Water Quality Administration is helping finance the plan in Michigan with some $2 million initially for development and construction. If the Muskegon plan is as successful as its backers predict, it can be hoped FWQA will use its matching-fund muscle to encourage other communities to build similar systems.

LIBRARY CLUB MEETS

There were 24 present when the Ovid-Duplain Library Club met at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church on Friday, Nov. 6. Following the potluck luncheon, Mrs. Robert Hebeles Sr., presided over the business meeting. A new member was welcomed into the club.

The budget as presented by the committee was adopted.

It was announced that the next meeting would be a family night at the home of Mrs. Charles Palen Jr. on Dec. 4.

Mrs. Leonard Hall had the program for the day. Her topic was on the history of the Hummel figurine. This figurine was created by Berta Hummel as she enjoyed making pictures for her little friends. She attended art school in Munich and later became a nun known as Sister Innocentia. The proceeds from the sale of these figurines go to the convent for their charity work. Sister Innocentia died in 1945.

Mrs. Hall had several of the small figures on display.

Carroll Chamberlain, daughter of Virginia Chamberlain, has taken a new position as a librarian with the Free University of the Congo. This university is located in Kifanganic (formerly Stanleyville) on the Congo river in Africa. She is spending a few days with her mother and brother, Virginia Chamberlain and Mark, before leaving to assume her new position.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Freeman and children of Keego Harbor spent Saturday, Nov. 7 with her grandmother, Effie Wilson.

Turkeys lead list

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Turkeys lead the list of foods in plentiful supply for November. By some lucky coincidence, Thanksgiving comes in November so the turkeys can go out in style.

Extension Consumer Marketing Information Service reports prices for turkeys are expected to average lower than they were a year ago.

Other foods in plentiful supply are rice, potatoes, onions, fresh apples, canned applesauce, apple juice, fresh cranberries, cranberry sauce, fruit cocktail, walnuts, dry split peas, pork and broiler-fryers.

Also considered smart buys though they're not on the plentiful foods list are nonfat dry milk and evaporated milk, peanut butter, dry beans, eggs, canned peaches, instant potatoes, frozen orange juice, dried prunes, sweet potatoes, cabbage, enriched macaroni and spaghetti and salad oil.

Look for all these foods at your grocery store if you want to save food dollars.

If you're stocking up on walnuts... or any other kind of nuts for holiday cooking and eating... store them so they'll keep their best eating quality. Most nuts need protection from oxygen in the air and from high temperatures that may cause the fat in the nuts to become rancid.

Nuts in the shell keep well at room temperature for a short period of time. For longer storage, keep them in a cool, dry place. Shelled nuts will keep fresh for several months in tightly closed containers in the refrigerator.

Shelled nuts in unopened cans keep well in a cool, dry place but will keep longer in the refrigerator or freezer. You can freeze shelled or unshelled nuts in tightly closed freezer containers at zero degrees or lower.

All kinds of nuts seem to do well in a cooler.

Record corn, soybean crop, USDA buys edible beans

With the 1970 corn crop estimated at 115 million bushels and the 1970 soybean crop at 13.9 million bushels, Michigan could end up this year with record crops of both, Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee, recently stated.

According to Smith, many warehouses are being flooded with grain, with producers hurrying through corn harvest because it matured two to three weeks earlier this year.

Earlier fears of corn leaf blight were largely dispelled in the Michigan area after crop reports indicated good to excellent crop conditions.

He noted, however, that some areas reported root rot and drier than normal stalks which present danger of the corn going down and lodging.

"Suppose There Were No Such Thing" was the sermon topic Sunday at the Church of Christ. Scripture reading was taken from II Timothy 3:1-5, 13-17. Special number in song was presented by the adult choir with Mrs. Ernest D. Schroeder at the piano. Greeters for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Betzer.

Many from the area attended the banquet Saturday evening at the Ovid-Elsie High School sponsored by the Central Michigan Christian Men's Fellowship. Speaker for the evening was Dr. Brant Lee Doty of Great Lakes Bible College, Lansing.

LADIES TO TOUR CAMPUS HOUSE

Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, the ladies of the Church of Christ will tour the Campus House at Michigan State University and present the group with a "Pantry Blessing" shower of food. The Campus House is in connection with the Campus Ministry of the Churches of Christ provide at MSU.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Burnham recently called on Mr. and Mrs. Jeane Burnham at Carp Lake. Mrs. Burnham recently suffered a stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woodard called Saturday on Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham and family.

Patricia Burnham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham was honored at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hott on Walker Road. Games were played and refreshments served by Mrs. Hott and her two daughters, Mary and Jan following the opening of gifts. Patricia will become the bride of Alan Johnson of Flint on Jan. 23.

Prospects continue, he stated, for an exceptionally good and record crop of soybeans, provided Michigan's unpredictable weather does not prevent continued harvest operations.

In view of the anticipated record crops of corn and soybeans, he added, storage may be at a premium.

Michigan's corn crop is estimated at 115 million bushels more than 1969, while Michigan's soybean crop is estimated to be in excess of 2 million bushels over the 1969 crop. Several warehouses, he explained, were reported to be completely filled and, searching for more space, some warehousemen have started to rent empty Government-owned bins at the various Commodity Credit Corporation bin sites throughout the State.

Smith pointed out that these government storages, where empty, are also available for rent to farmers at one cent per bushel of the rated capacity.

All storage bins are equipped with aeration units which may be rented at a slight, additional cost, he added. Producers in areas where these bin sites are located may find it to their advantage to rent one or more of these bins if they need local storage.

Such storage, he added, is also eligible if the producer wishes to place the corn or soybeans under a price support loan. However, in the case of corn, he explained, the producer must have complied with the 1970 Feed Grain Program, in order to be eligible for a price support loan.

Farmers, interested in such storage should contact their local ASCS county office for detailed information.

In another area:

More than 15.6 million pounds of dry edible beans were purchased last week by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for domestic donation according to Smith. The entire purchase, he stated, is for distribution to schools under the school lunch program and needy persons.

Purchases are financed with Section 32 funds provided by law to the Secretary of Agriculture from import duties collected under customs laws to encourage domestic consumption of farm products.

About 1.8 million pounds were pea beans, commonly known as "Michigan navy beans" and 470,000 pounds were dark red kidney beans grown in Michigan. Distribution of 4.2 million pounds to school lunch programs will be in 50-pound packages while the balance of 11.4 million pounds will be for distribution to needy persons in 2-pound packages similar to the packages in local grocery stores, he stated.

Purchases were made on a competitive bid basis and two Michigan packaging firms, J. P. Burroughs, Inc., Agricultural Division, Saginaw and Michigan Bean Company, Division of Wickes Corporation, Saginaw, received orders for about 1.8 million pounds of pea beans, 4.8 million pounds of pinto beans, and 470,000 pounds of dark red kidney beans.

The beans, Smith stated, were for delivery during the months of November and December and for destinations ranging across the United States from Maine to California.

Michigan destinations include locations at Flint, Boyne City, Lansing and Cadillac. These are central locations from which additional distributions will be made.

Last year, a total of 78,997,452 pounds of dry edible beans were purchased under this program from October 1969 to July 1970. Total purchased from the 1970 crop with this week's purchase is 25,890,832 pounds for distribution through December 1970.

Smith pointed out that while this is classified as a farm program, the direct benefit in this instance is to the consumer, a fact often overlooked in discussing farm programs and a very beneficial use of funds provided to the Secretary of Agriculture.

To Residents of Olive Township:

Thank You!

I wish to extend my appreciation to all who supported me in the recent election. I pledge to merit your consideration.

AUTOMOTIVE

For

Dope in Clinton County

In July of this year, law enforcement agents in the DeWitt area confiscated quantities of marijuana and other narcotics as well as an assortment of appliances used in the administering or use of narcotics. It was but one incident among many in recent months which clearly substantiate the presence of dope in Clinton County.

At that time we commented editorially as follows:

"Perhaps few groups outside law enforcement agencies, school officials and social workers really know the depth of the problem, but even an isolated case, as the one mentioned here, provides sufficient base for concern."

We are concerned.

And some of this concern arises from a fact more dangerous than the presence or use of narcotics. That fact is that many parents of teenagers in Clinton County fail to realize or accept the truth that dope is frequently more accessible to their youngsters than the parents themselves. Sales and purchases of marijuana in the county are commonplace and wherever sizable numbers of young people congregate there is traffic in dope.

Four weeks ago the staff of Clinton

County News began an in-depth study into the presence of dope among the county's teenagers. Our goals were to find out where it was, who was using it, how extensive that use and what is being done.

That study is now completed and after talking with many parents, law enforcement officials, school authorities, students and even users and pushers, our findings are most revealing.

From authorities we find that their principal concern at this time is the curtailment of graduation by present marijuana users to "hard stuff"; from parents we discovered that many can't or do not want to accept the fact that danger exists while others are vitally concerned simply from fear arising from lack of knowledge about the various forms of dope.

From students we found that the smart ones don't have time to experiment with the stuff, but among those who do there seems to exist a sub-culture of our society wherein traditional mores and values are losing their importance.

We have found that, despite what some psychologists believe, teens are not using dope to escape pressures of an adult society. No more so than when present adults asserted their independence as teens by securing beer and hiding in the woods to consume it.

According to the teens we talked with, "it's the thing to do."

And atop it all, we found that teens are more knowledgeable in their use of dope than their parents. They are not always frightened by threats of dangers presented by adults.

Some enforcement officials who work closely with teens who are apt to partake in dope activities firmly believe the war against marijuana has been lost. Traffic and use of marijuana has become so commonplace that even authorities look the other way and arrests are made only when use leads to deeper involvements which conflict with more enforceable laws or create bodily danger.

Our efforts to present the dope situation in Clinton County have not been designed to point fingers for what has or has not been done. We have opinions which may be presented at another time. But for now our intent is to bring to the forefront the widespread use of narcotics in Clinton County and to make parents aware of conditions which may threaten their teenage children.

It continues to be our belief that the strength of any society lies in the foundation of the home and Clinton County parents, by accepting a responsible role in combating the spreading use of dope, can play an important part in regaining some of the wholesome attitudes which seem to be disappearing.

What's more, such involvement can strengthen hopes for tomorrow's leaders to be stable and rational citizens who will not blow their minds — and possibly the world.

City, Schools settle on gridiron, Kennedy—Johnson oust GOP, record hunting turnout

ONE YEAR AGO
Nov. 12, 1969

A motion by St. Johns City Commissioner Charles Coleta brought to a close the extended period of negotiation between the city and the school district that had centered on a leasing arrangement for the athletic field at the city park.

The basis for the lease called for a 10-year term with a renewal option of a like period and an annual rent of $2,400, an amount to be negotiated if the renewal is executed.

The city commission also tabled a motion for a rezoning request that might eventually lead to another gas station on the southeast corner of the U.S. 27 State St. intersection in St. Johns.

Part of the land considered by the Boron Oil Co. as a service center site is residentially zoned and would have to be changed for commercial building to be done on it.

The St. Johns school board okayed the new 1970 school budget of $2.5 million. The budget covered salaries, building operation and maintenance, transportation costs and supplies, among other things.

John Alysow, 4-H Director for Clinton County, was named treasurer of the Michigan Extension Association of 4-H Youth Agents.

School officials at St. Johns High School have finally announced that the swimming pool at the high school will open its doors to the public starting Monday, Nov. 17. Superintendent Earl Lancaster told the News that Nov. 10 would be the opening day for students during and after school.

TEN YEARS AGO
Nov. 10, 1960

It was official on this date ten years ago. John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson were the new President and Vice President of the United States, respectively. This was the result nationally but in Clinton County, Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge eclipsed the two Democrats by nearly 6,000 votes before the final tally was made.

Other people elected to office were John Swainson, Governor; T. John Lesinski, Lt. Governor; James M. Hare, Sec. of State; Paul Adams, Atty. Gen.; Sanford Brown, State Treas.; Otis M. Smith, Auditor General; Patrick McNamara, U.S. Senator; Theodore Souris, Supreme Court Justice; Andrew Cobb and Carroll Newton, State Representatives; Paul Wakefield, County Clerk and Dale Chapman, County Drain Commissioner.

The Village of Victor approved liquor-by-the-glass by a vote of 265 to 207. The township became the second area in Clinton County to permit public sale of liquor for consumption on the premises.

On the football scene, the Fighting Bath Bees jolted Cornuna with a 27-13 upset. It was the first conference victory for the Bees during the 1960 season and the first win for Head Coach Dick Wickens.

DeWitt dropped the Sunfield cellar-dwellers 39-0 for the sixth win of the season for the Panthers. The Redwings of St. Johns squashed the Greenville Yellow-jackets 32-15 to end the 1960 season with an even 5-5 record overall. Elsie thumped Laingsburg 18-0 for a second place tie in the Central C Conference for the season.

Three Ingham County men pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal killing and possession of a doe deer when they were arraigned before Judge Alva F. Warr Monday morning, Nov. 7. The men were arrested by State Police on Chandler Road in DeWitt early Sunday morning.

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors unanimously voted to close the veteran's counseling office that has been maintained by the county for several years.

25 YEARS AGO
Nov. 15, 1945

Clinton County has recorded over 500 hunting registrations for this year's season. The 15th was the opening of deer season back in 1945 and conservation experts in the state estimated that the record kill of 70,980.

Great Britain's Prime Minister Clement Attlee was scheduled to present Clinton County with a special award for topping all Michigan counties in the per capita sales of savings bonds during the current Victory Loan drive if Dorris Anderson, chairman of the latest drive, had his way about it.

It all concerned a telegram received by Anderson from Frank N. Isbey, Michigan War Finance head. Isbey, in his telegram, said, "We have in our possession exclusively for Michigan the highest award that was given by the British government to the county in England that had the highest per capita purchase by individuals in their Victory Loan drive."

"This award is the original flag that was flown in England and will now be presented to the county in Michigan that has the highest per capita purchase of E, F and G bonds by individuals in the state.

"We propose that the county that has the high honor of winning it will have the flag to keep permanently in their possession and it is proposed that this award shall be presented by the British prime minister or British ambassador.

"The terms for this award will be E, F and G bonds bought by individuals in your county between Oct. 29, and Dec. 31—Frank N. Isbey.

Operations

By WARREN E. DOBSON

Talk about yer operations—
And who doesn't if they did
Have anatomy replacements
Some time since they wuz a kid.

Some are multiple and major,
'N some's not worthy of the name,
But once the subject's opened
Everybody plays the game!

All the hours on the table
'N the weeks of elapsed time—
Enter in to the discussion,
"No other one could equal mine!"

So the talkathon continues
With the final score in doubt,
Till we wonder are they real
With so many organs out?

Every one wants recognition,
Gained sometimes at any cost,
So we seize the first dull moment—
Least the chance again is lost.

As the game goes on forever,
Of so much we are bereft,
Still the test is not what's missing—
It's what we do with what is left!

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Before I leave you

By JIM FITZGERALD

A fellow columnist recently told his readers he has terminal cancer and will soon die.

I couldn't help wondering: If the doctor's put a black X on my forehead, would I tell you about it? Outside of being born, the most important thing that happens to a person is dying. If I had advance notice of my funeral date, would it be fair to withhold the news from my constant readers (Mother and Aunt Madeline)?

Let's say the doctor gave me 6 months. Chances are I could press words out of this type-writer right up until the last week or so. I base this estimate on past experience. Neither snow nor rain nor terminal hangover has ever kept me home from work. This isn't because I'm brave and rugged, it's because anyone who sleeps during the day in my house risks a cat in the face or a vacuum cleaner in the ear. My home is no place for an unhealthy man.

I could probably write 24 goodbye columns before finally leaving. My friendly mortician would wear out his tongue licking his chops.

And I could write more than soggy farewells. I could tell everyone off in fine fashion. I could prick balloons and name names and expose all sorts of foul hypocrites. I could finally write without fear of a punch in the nose because no one would walk with a limp just to make sure.

I could also make it clear what I want done with my body. I want the doctors and scientists to help themselves. . . .

"The eyes should go to a blind girl so that I might finally see what women see in clowns like Elvis Presley, Englebert Humperdink and Tom Jones.

—My heart should be transplanted into anyone living in San Francisco. Then the band will always know what to play when I walk into a nightclub in heaven.

—My liver should be made available but not forced upon anyone.

—The doctors can decide the distribution of any other parts that might be in demand at the time. The remains should be cremated and the ashes put in a Mason jar and stored on a shelf along with my wife's jams and jellies. This will help her to remember me every morning just before she spreads her toast.

These are all persuasive reasons for announcing my death in advance. If I should ever get the chance, but the best reason was supplied by a friend.

"Is it fair to force readers to react to my death before I die?" I asked him. "Should I print my obituary months in advance?"

"Sure," he answered. "That way you can go to all the parties."

Letters to the Editor

Purse theft draws comment from reader

Editor:
Since St. Johns is my home town, I am sorry to have to write this letter, pointing a finger at a very dishonest girl or woman in the area.

On Friday evening, Oct. 30, my daughter and two girl friends were in your city, and stopped at the Ladies Room of the Shell Service Station on M21 at Clinton Ave.

By accident, my daughter left her purse. She drove nearly home, then discovered her purse was missing, drove back to the station, but of course, the purse was gone.

She notified the Police and Sheriff Dept., but we realize they can do nothing if the girl or woman did not turn it in.

The purse was purchased in Kansas City and was a large pouch type of dark brown and dark navy blue suede squares and among other personal items, contained her light blue billfold.

Also, her driver's license, social security card, papers from Sears and the Telephone Co., plus letters addressed to her from friends in the service.

So there was more than enough identification, and the girl or woman who found it has had adequate time to turn it in or call us.

There is a reward for the return of the purse and its contents, including the money, intact, if the guilty party will only turn it in at the St. Johns Police Department or call me, collect, at 743-3182.

If the girl or woman who found the purse is not honest enough to turn it in, in fact, then I only hope she can live with her conscience, and never has to experience this type of misfortune.

We have always had faith in the honesty of people and really hate to lose that faith. But, believe me, our faith is fast dwindling. The guilty party will be found out, through her own gully actions and without a doubt, her conscience, if she has one, will be hard to live with.

After all, how can she explain the sudden accumulation of that sum of money, or the sudden possession of a new purse or the contents? What good are these items to her?

Please, to you who found the purse, turn it in or call me, and the reward is waiting for you. How can you "honestly" enjoy the possession of that which is not legally yours?

Social unrest is devil's work

Dear Fellow Citizens:
This letter is not about the strike, or who we should have voted for. It's not about which Proposals we should or should not have, nor is it about who should get food stamps.

This is about picking up a newspaper or magazine, or watching TV and seeing nothing but HATE - HATE - and more HATE in this country of ours. Look at all the violence, prejudice, marchings, obscene movies, killings etc. that need not be. Can't we get it through our thick skulls that this is the devil working thru Communist ways to degrade us all?

Isn't it about time, before it's too late, that we, as Christian people, get down on our knees and put GOD back into this country and tell the devil and his evil ways to go back to HELL where he belongs?

Sincerely yours,
Marie Hollis

The least we can do

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

In John's vision in the Book of Revelation one of the elders asks him, "These men that are robed in white—who are they and from where do they come?"

And John answered, "My Lord, you know, not I." So the elder answered his own question. He said, "These are the men who have passed through the great ordeal; they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

These men robed in white and with palms in their hands were the early Christian martyrs. These men had suffered severe persecution at the hands of the Roman government and finally were executed because they would not forsake their faith in Christ.

They would not bow down and worship the Emperor, so they shed their blood and died in their faith.

We are reminded to think about those Christian martyrs down through history who have literally shed their blood for their faith in Christ.

We are called to remember such names as Stephen, the first Christian martyr who was stoned to death while the future St. Paul stood by and watched.

We are called to remember that that same St. Paul suffered an agonizing death by crucifixion.

Yes, I want you to remember the Christian martyrs of yesterday, but I also want to remind you that the days of martyrdom are not over. Many Christians today are suffering and dying for their faith in Christ.

I want to point this out to you, because it is very easy to forget that is happening to Christians in other parts of the world.

You and I here in Clinton County have a fairly comfortable religion in comparison to the Christians in the Communist countries. Our faith in Christ is not directly challenged like it is where the Marxist philosophy is dominant.

There is a Lutheran pastor, The Rev. Richard Wurmbrand, who was imprisoned and tortured in a Communist prison in Rumania. He survived his ordeal, but he has written about his fellow Christian prisoners who did not survive.

He writes about them as those, "who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

In order that we do not remain insensitive to the ordeals and the sufferings of those martyrs, I want to share with you a portion of Pastor Wurmbrand's writing.

He says in "Tortured For Christ", "A pastor by the name of Florescu was tortured with red hot iron pokers and with knives. He had been beaten very badly. Then he was put in a cell."

Starving rats were driven into his cell through a large pipe. He could not sleep, but had to defend himself all the time. If he rested a moment or closed his eyes, the rats would attack him.

"He was forced to stand for two weeks, day and night. The Communists wished to compel him to betray his brethren but he resisted steadfastly."

"In the end, they brought his son of the age of 14 and they began to whip the son in front of the father, saying that they will continue to beat the child until the pastor said what they wished him to say."

"The poor man was half mad. He bore it as much as he could. When he could not stand it any more, he cried to his son: 'Alexander, I must say what they want! I can't bear any more your beating!'"

"The son answered: 'Father, don't do to me the injustice to have a traitor as a parent. Withstand! If they kill me, I will die with the words, 'Jesus and my fatherland.'"

"The Communists, enraged, fell upon the child and beat him to death, with blood splattered over the walls of the cell."

No, the age of Christian martyrs is not over. There will always be martyrs as long as there are men of power who try to stamp out Christianity. There will always be those courageous, Spirit-filled men and women who, in the face of torture and death, will shed their blood and die for their faith.

I hope you see how easy we have it in America. We don't have to face the ultimate choice of life or death. You and I can proclaim our faith without fear of losing our lives.

So remember how well off you are and get down on your knees and thank God for living in a country which still believes in democracy and freedom. Thank God for the opportunity of Worshipping Him without persecution.

Then offer your prayers for all those Christians behind the Iron Curtain. Pray that God will sustain them and strengthen them in all their sufferings.

This is the least we can do for them.

Mac's Moments

Clinton Avenue 1984

By TOM McELENY

The time is sometime in the future.

Perhaps a decade from now. Maybe a little longer.

Walking down Clinton Avenue on a fall afternoon wouldn't be the same as 1970.

As you walk down the street, the sensation comes over you that someone's watching. Not in the usual sense—a passer-by or a shop owner or a neighbor.

The eyes that are on you aren't friendly, although they may not immediately be hostile.

The eyes record such data as where you have been, how long you were there, where you are heading, when you stop, whom you meet and what you were discussing.

The people on Clinton Avenue don't stop to talk anymore. The farmers drive into town and out again without the small talk with neighbors, old friends or shop owners.

In fact, everyone is silent. Maybe a person will nod to another now and then, but no real communication.

The kids with hot wheels aren't running main street anymore, either.

Shops, stores and restaurants close at dusk, to avoid any possible trouble.

The local police aren't really police anymore, but watchdogs at their television sets installed in their offices—their only function is to record and process the data for the files.

In short, it would be a new era in America—the Dark Ages. Fact or fantasy? Don't leap to a hasty conclusion. It could happen and it is happening now.

This basic fear of the ultra-reaction has been plaguing generations of writers and thinkers and responsible government leaders.

George Orwell thought about this subject at length in "1984." H. G. Wells inserted the idea in his "Time Machine." Current futurists like Ray Bradbury and Rod Serling anticipate the Great Reaction.

This concept of government dominated the thoughts of the Bolsheviks in 1920 and various Fascist elements in 1940. It has been the tactic of the world leaders throughout history from Ramses to "Papa Doc" Duvalier.

This idea is generally termed preventive surveillance—or more recently preventive criminology.

What it amounts to is the creation and operation of Big Brother.

We have bills introduced in the state and federal legislatures each year that, if passed, would establish as thorough a dictatorship as Hitler or Stalin produced.

A current idea that may be introduced, if it hasn't slipped through the federal committees already, is the directive to allow police agencies and federal investigative networks to record data on any citizen in America.

To qualify for this dubious distinction of being on file, the individual need not be a criminal suspect—only a potential criminal. That narrows the selection down to about 200 million Americans and untold numbers of foreign visitors.

This practice could lead to a computer state with electronic eyes in every home as described in Orwell's novel.

In order to prevent crime this organized reaction would prevent the use of our basic liberties. People would fear congregating at political rallies or conventions, speaking out at obvious injustices or attempting a change within the societal structure.

There is no end to the suppositions. We are nowhere near that type of life, yet.

But a recent speaker summed up the precarious position of America today when he said that "Dictatorships don't always come with armies and tanks." We are in a struggle today between individual rights and the nature of an expanding society.

Changing the laws to restrict the potential criminal will not stop crime. It will change the nature of crime—rechannel it into new outlets.

What is frightening about this super-surveillance is that individual anonymity will be destroyed—and with it the essence of our democracy.

Expect St. Joseph school to remain open through next June

Officials of St. Joseph School in St. Johns voiced optimism that classes would be continued through next June despite the loss of supporting funds denied by the voter approved proposal to ban public aid to private schools.

Fr. William Hanker, superintendent and Sister Margot, principal, both indicated hope that the school would complete the current year. However, "that would be the end," said Fr. Hanker.

"We have not received any directive from the bishop and I'm crossing my fingers in hopes we can continue through next June, but that would be the end."

Fr. Hanker indicated that future use of the school buildings would be directed to religious instruction for all Catholic students in Clinton county.

"The voters have spoken," Fr. Hanker stated, "and we fully accept that decision. What we must do now is to make certain there is no polarization of factions. We must avoid this completely."

Fr. Hanker explained that at present no definite plans can be made but he expects an outline for the future can be established in the next 30-60 days.

It's over, for now

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

The 1970-General Election is over.

To that, many people—including office-seekers—will heave a big sigh of relief.

For members of both parties, the campaign has been a long and hard one. At times, it has been rather intense, which is rather unusual for the so-called "off-year" election.

But control of the Legislature was at stake and that, alone, is enough to add zest to an election. As things turned out, Democrats will control the House, 58-52. But Republicans are expected to narrowly control the Senate on the strength of a potential tie-breaking vote by the GOP Senate President (now Lieutenant Governor James Erickley).

In addition, this year the added emotion issue of Parochialism (embodied in "Proposal C") did much to spark the campaign.

Unfortunately, because it was primarily a religious issue, it caused more than a normal amount of friction both within and without the two major parties.

However, such elections are the principal reason for the unusual stability of our form of government.

Americans may become inattentive during election campaigns but, once the votes are counted, they are willing to say: "It was a good fight, it is up to the winners now — until the next election."

History may prove the winners, in this case, didn't get any big prize because the problems ahead for state government in the next few years will be extremely tough and may seem to some not worth the price of winning.

The big question, as always, is the constantly rising budget—and the necessity for new taxes to fund it.

While the General Motors strike theoretically will affect the current budget, it can have a damaging effect on the state's financial picture next year, too. If it continues to be unduly protracted.

The current drain on the state's welfare funds is of such magnitude that it is inevitably bound to affect operations of other state departments for the rest of the fiscal year.

Ever since its inception, the strike has been hitting the state treasury hard from two angles—in lowered tax returns (primarily sales and use taxes) and in much higher welfare costs. Thus, the hope of starting the next fiscal year with a surplus has all but vanished.

Even before the strike is ended predictions on new taxes necessary for operating state services in the next fiscal year run as high as $300 million, in some circles.

Largely because of constitutional limitations on two primary tax sources—sales and property taxes (the latter for local use)—Michigan residents will find themselves facing increased income taxes.

Only the extent of the increase remains to be determined. An increase was necessary, no matter which party carried off top honors in last Tuesday's election.

With most cities also in deep financial trouble, the demands on state government for more state funds for cities will surely escalate. The question will be how much more state money can be shunted back to local units of government without seriously affecting services providing on a statewide basis.

Rubber ducks and football

By RON HUARD

The troubles of the world came to a halt last Sunday as sports fans across the country thrilled to a rash of field goals in professional football that caused Harry Reasoner to begin his 11 p.m. newscast with a complete rundown.

It was a refreshing change from the routine news menu which is usually highlighted by war, riots, killings and liberating women.

Seems that a platoon of place kickers set the tone of the day's events led by a 63 yard boot that sent out Lions to defeat in the closing seconds of their game in New Orleans.

That was disappointing, to be sure, but the realization that in this crazy-mixed-up world of ours a simple thing like a football game could dominate the news is a bright thought.

Take that football game along with a currently popular ditty entitled "Rubber Duck" and you begin to realize that maybe we're not as crazy as we think we are.

Any country that can flip over the consequences of a sporting event and hum a tune in honor of a rubber duck can't be all bad. In fact, the gang at Michigan State paired the two things last Saturday, using the ducky song as the theme for their half-time show.

STRICTLY FRESH

One of the best ways to keep your head is not to go over it into debt.

It's kinda like returning to the days before Pearl Harbor when the only complicated thing was trying to pay the bill at the corner grocery. Professional football hadn't really come into its own and the only noise about rubber ducks came from the little whistles on their bottoms.

There were storm clouds, but nobody seemed to pay any attention to them. Some thought this was bad because the next thing we knew we were at war.

Nowadays there are storm clouds all around and everybody runs about with an expression that suggests they had worms for breakfast. It's really a study in contrasts.

Then comes along a day like last Sunday and the realization suddenly occurs that perhaps rubber ducks and football are a bit more important to us than we think.

Perhaps — just maybe — they keep a lot of us from going ga-ga.
