On new courthouse wings

Granite engravings picture aspects of county life

By MIKE GALVACH
News Staff Writer

When you walk up the main sidewalk leading to the front doors of the Clinton County Courthouse do you ever take time to look on either side?

If you should, you will discover a very unique series of plaques. They were placed in the new wings' walls aligning either side of the main entrance in accordance with the plans drawn up by St. Clair and C. Douglas Pardee, St. Johns architects.

St. Clair Pardee conceived and drew up the plans for the plaques himself. Each set of three plaques is of solid opalescent granite and was shipped here from Cold Springs, Minn., where they were engraved into the granite blocks from drawings made by Pardee. When returned the blocks were cemented into the sides of the walls—an eye-catching asset to the recently completed front additions.

WHILE STANDING directly in front of the main entrance, facing the building you could view these interesting plaques yourself. Look to your left; the first plaque you see is a reproduction of a map of Michigan showing every county in both the Lower and the Upper Peninsulas. The second plaque represents Christianity by showing a church and people on their way to attend the church. The man standing in the doorway could be either a priest, minister, or any Christian leader. The point is that Clinton County is a Christian community.

The third plaque shows children on their way to school. This expresses a county-wide wish to see that all our children attend school and receive an education.

Now if you would glance to your right, you would see the remaining three plaques. The first attempts to illustrate the fact that central Clinton County is a growing industrial community. The factory, rail yard, and grinding gears represent this progress and growth people feel.

Plaque number two shows the courts where justice must prevail in order for us to have a safe and happy life.

The third and last plaque represents a way of life which is not uncommon to many area residents. The engraving shows that we are an agrarian county, too. We must be able to feed ourselves in order to have a workable, healthy, and progressive community.

Important school bond vote Nov. 20

School voters will decide Monday whether or not to permit the St. Johns School Board to bond for an additional $250,000 to finish up a multi-million dollar building program started earlier this year.

Over half the money would be used to buy equipment to furnish the new neighborhood elementary schools. The rest of it would be for site development at the high school, a new bus storage shelter, interest and bonding costs and contingencies.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday at the normal school district polling places. Only owners of real and personal property and their spouses may vote.

The bond issue would result in a maximum additional three-quarters of a mill in property tax, school officials noted, based on the district's current valuation. As the valuation rises, that tax would decline. At the start it would amount to .75 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

The income tax ordinance passed last Tuesday by a 3-2 vote after about 100 persons appeared in the audience to protest it.

Commissioners Charles Coletta, Mrs. Jeanne Rand and John Furry voted for it, and Commissioners Rex Siring and Gerald Irner voted no.

THE MONEY WOULD be used to complete the original plans drawn up prior to the approval in May 1966 of a $5.4 million building program. Many items, of equipment primarily, were cut from the original elementary plans when building costs zoomed higher than what the $5.4 million and some $300,000 which it is drawing in interest would pay.

Many of these items would be restored if the current bond issue proposal is approved by voters. Reinstated at the elementary schools would be these items and their estimated value:

FURNITURE & EQUIPMENT: chalkboard and bulletin boards at all schools, $8,500; 16 wardrobe units for all schools, $4,000; nine sink units for all schools, $3,700; tables and benches for the all-purpose rooms at all schools, $10,500; 18 cabinet units for the project areas in all schools, $7,500; three cabinet units for the kindergarten rooms, $2,700; 20 book trucks for the schools, $1,400; book cases for all libraries, $3,200;

Kitchen equipment, utensils and dishes, $45,000; library furniture, $7,000; classroom furniture, $10,000; office and clinic furniture, $4,000; teachers' lounge, $1,600; tables and chairs for conference rooms, $700; incinerators for all schools, $5,000; basketball backstops, $1,400; restoration of kindergarten toilet at East Essex, $2,000; darkening shades and wall-mounted screens, $4,500; repainting of existing rooms at East Essex and Eureka, $1,500. Total amount of furniture and equipment: $124,200.

MUCH OF the present equipment in use at the one-room schools of the district would be transferred to the new buildings when they're finished. But not everything can be transferred, as Walt Nickel, administrative assistant in charge of

JUDGE ALBA WERT

Municipal judge resigns

St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert will resign his position Dec. 1 and retire.

He announced his intentions in a letter of resignation read at last Tuesday night's city commission meeting. He will leave Dec. 6 for Florida to spend the winter.

No action was taken by the commission on Judge Wert's resignation. They postponed such action until the next meeting.

Judge Wert has served as municipal judge since that position was created three years ago by charter amendment. Associate Judge Robert Wood will fill the position until a permanent successor is named.

Tax referendum 'assured' here

A referendum on the city income tax ordinance passed last week is all but assured, opponents of the measure announced this week.

About 700 signatures have been placed on petitions asking for the referendum, and this is enough for nearly four fillings with the city clerk for a vote on the question.

But attorney Timothy M. Green, one of the strongest opponents of the income tax, said that "We are not going to stop at that. We're going to show that even before the election is held that a goodly majority of the people in town are opposed to it."

THE AIM, HE SAID, is to force the city to rescind the tax ordinance. "Having petitions of more than a majority of those that are voting should be some indication to the city of the ultimate outcome," Green said.

Give reasons

City commissioners give their reasons for their votes on the income tax question on Page 3-A. Other related articles appear on Page 1-B of this issue.

The petition to be filed with the city clerk asking for a referendum must have signatures of a minimum of 10 per cent of those who voted in the last election, and a maximum of 20 per cent signatures. Green said 1,792 ballots were cast in the last election, meaning 180 signatures would be the minimum and 360 the maximum.

"We have about 700 signatures now, hope to get about 1,200 and expect to have at least 1,000 signatures, or 60 per cent of those who voted in the last election," Green said.

JUST WHEN THE petitions would be filed with the city clerk wasn't known yet Tuesday. Green said that a steering committee was to meet Tuesday night to "perhaps decide" on a filing date. "There's some strategy to be played here, as far as timing goes," he said.

The law gives the petitioners six Mondays from the time of passage in which to file for a referendum. The petitions would then have to be certified by the clerk, and the city commission would then set an election for from 45 to 90 days after certification.

The collection of signatures to petitions began almost immediately following city commission passage of the income tax ordinance last Tuesday night. Within minutes many of the objectors in the audience adjourned to another location and started signing petitions which had been prepared in advance.

A STEERING committee of Green, Dr. H.L. Oatley, Dr. S.R. Russell, Mrs. Albert Nelson and John Hannah was named to spearhead the gathering of signatures, and they apparently had good success.

Large drug store involved

Southgate expansion plans outlined

A large chain drug store that will occupy 10,000 square feet of floor space will be the major addition in a $150,000 to $200,000 expansion of the Southgate Shopping Center in St. Johns.

Announcement of the plans for the center was made Monday by Alfred Fortino of Alma, secretary-treasurer of Bobenal Investments, Inc., of that city, Bobenal is the firm which owns Southgate.

Occupying the central part of the shopping center will be Arnold's, a drug store division of Borman Foods, Inc. To make room for the drug store, the present laundromat will be moved and itself expanded in a new addition to the north end of the shopping center next to the Central National Bank branch office.

THE ARNOLD'S STORE will then occupy all of the present laundromat space plus that recently vacated by Dee Drugs plus 3,250 square feet of a new addition to the rear of the shopping center.

That addition at the rear of the building will be 65 feet 10 inches wide by 50 feet deep, giving the completed store dimensions of about 65 feet by 165 feet. The new laundromat location on the north end of the shopping center will occupy a 45 x 76-foot addition.

Bobenal won the approval of the St. Johns Zoning Board of Appeals last Tuesday for a variance in the rear yard requirements so that the two new additions could be constructed. They asked that the 35-foot requirement be reduced to 12 feet.

Because of the slanting angle of the property line, only the corners of the two additions will reach to within 12 feet of the property line. A fence now partially shields the rear of the shopping center from the residential area along Hampshire Drive.

A BUILDING-PERMIT has been issued by the city and work is already under way.

Fortino said that the expansion of the shopping center—in the planning stages for several months—was being undertaken with the hope of attracting more traffic into the center... and into St. Johns.

"We have noted the tremendous growth of Lansing in past years, and now north Lansing is expanding," Fortino said. "We feel St. Johns has the handicap of being very close to a metropolitan shopping center, and if the business people in St. Johns do not act vigorously to keep the trade, it's going to become a very great challenge to keep them here."

"We have gone out and gotten a bigger lease, and we need a smaller one yet. We're hoping we can attract more traffic into the center."

The smaller lease Fortino spoke of would occupy the space adjacent south to the bank branch office. Until last week this space was also planned for, but at that point a women's and children's apparel store decided against coming into the area.

FORTINO NOTED that the shopping center was "very well located," and he said Bobenal would continue to improve the center "as we can," in spite of the fact their available space is at a minimum.

Their long-range plans, however, include an office complex and mall to the south of the Kroger Store behind the City service station. Such an expansion there would tie in with the retail businesses in the current shopping center area.

The presence of the new drug chain and the hoped-for other new tenant, along with the expansion of the laundromat, means not only more money being kept in St. Johns but also more jobs available, Fortino noted.

The expansion project is scheduled for completion next spring, the Bobenal official said. First to be accomplished will be the new quarters for the laundromat, and once it is moved the remodeling of the central part of the shopping center for the Arnold's store will begin.

One class is now being held in the new addition at the Eureka Elementary School. Mrs. Cleva Sumner conducts her second and third grade students in studies Monday morning. The class was moved from the Eureka Clinic after a special effort by contractors finished the big room. It will be divided by a sliding partition to form two rooms. The blackboard at right is portable and is the only one available until money is provided for equipment for the new rural school buildings. (Story on Page 2-A)

FORMAL RETREAT CAPS OBSERVANCE OF VETERANS DAY IN ST. JOHNS

Members of the St. Johns Honor Guard lower the American flag in front of the courthouse in St. Johns as 12 veterans of past wars salute in the background. It was a dark, dismal afternoon, and besides those participating in the ceremony, only 13 persons from the community turned out to watch the formal retreat.

First new classroom at Eureka occupied

EUREKA—Classes are now being held in one of the new classrooms at the Eureka Elementary School, the first such room to be completed in the current St. Johns Public School's building program.

Mrs. Cleve Summer's second and third grade room was moved into the new room over the weekend from its previous location in the Eureka Clinic building. Mrs. Summer's room had been there since the start of the year; it was taken out of the original school building so that the space it occupied previously could be transformed into offices.

The school board has been paying $100 a month rent at the clinic building and so was anxious to get the class moved into the new school. Contractors concentrated on the new room and got it done just as quickly as possible; no other rooms in the new addition are that close to completion.

MRS. SUMMER'S new room is actually a double-size room. It eventually will be divided by a folding partition, but that hasn't arrived yet. The completed classroom itself contains only one portable blackboard. The blackboards are part of the equipment for the schools that would be bought if the current bond issue proposal passes Monday.

Some 125 persons took an opportunity to view the progress on the new school addition at Eureka. The Mother's Club there sponsored an informal tour of the building.

The construction at Eureka is about 75 per cent done.

AT EAST ESSEX School, terrazzo work is completed and the ceiling framework is being put up. The parking lot has been put in and some rough grading around the building has been done. At the new Riley Neighborhood Elementary School, terrazzo work and ceiling framework has started and fascia work and glass are done. At East Olive, the interior walls are now completed and roof work is being finished up. Construction at East Olive is behind schedule because of a labor shortage and the fact many of the workers were transferred to the Eureka project because of the need for the classroom there.

the rural schools, pointed out. "We don't even have enough furniture for our schools now," he said. "We get requests from the teachers for extra tables and chairs for the one-room schools, but if we can't find them we just have to tell them we don't have enough in operations to buy them and they'll just have to get along without them."

Nickel said the $10,000 for classroom furniture is only enough for 10 classrooms. All the other classrooms will be furnished with furniture presently being used. Much of it is modern and will work nicely in the new buildings. Other furniture won't.

The current proposed bond issue would provide for other work at the rural elementary schools. Included would be black-topping of the play areas for an estimated $3,000; fencing at all schools for about $1,000; and seeding and landscaping at the elementary schools, estimated at $10,000.

OTHER COSTS that the bond issue would provide for would be bus storage shelter, $17,500; site development at the high school, $60,000; capitalized interest and bonding costs, $10,000; and contingencies, $24,300.

Many items of equipment and furniture which the board cut out of the original plans are still "out"—they aren't figured in the school plans any longer.

The reasons for the cuts in the first place go back to the period between May 1966 when the $5.4 million bond issue narrowly passed and the time bids were let and contracts awarded. Construction costs zoomed all over the state.

Most of the problem for the St. Johns School District arose in the area of the elementary construction. An original bidding Nov. 9 last year for the additions to the East Essex and Eureka schools came in too high, and the school board turned down the bids.

On Jan. 18 this year the board opened bids again, this time for a total combined project of the East Essex and Eureka additions and the new East Olive and Riley elementary schools. They, too, were higher than what had been anticipated, but the board approved them, feeling the prices weren't going to get any better.

HOWEVER, they did trim the bids considerably by deducting items from the original specifications, and in the end they finally decided to leave out a lot of the equipment in favor of constructing the buildings in the way they thought they should be.

The high school construction bids were opened May 3 this year, and they were a little higher than hoped for but within the acceptable range, the board said. An unexpected higher cost, however, was in the development of the high school site.

The school board negotiated with the city concerning the installation of storm and sanitary sewers, curb and gutter and paved road to the high school site. This and other costs related to the city's sanitary problems quickly ate into the $60,000 that had been figured for site development and landscaping. That's why the school is asking for the amount all over again.

Since May 1966 another project came to the board's attention—that of a shelter for the school district's bus fleet. Presently the buses are parked outside. The school board would like to build two pole buildings, with an open front end, in the area where the buses are presently parked. The costs would be about $17,500.

6 from area honored by Consumers

Some 270 Consumers Power Co. employees of the Lansing Division were recently recognized at the annual Service Award Dinner held at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State University.

The group included 47 Quarter-Century Club members and 89 retired employees. Company policy is to honor those employees who have completed a multiple of five years of service.

The following employees in the St. Johns Area were honored at the dinner: Martha G. Taylor, Reynold J. Thelen, Norbert J. Thelen.

Also honored at the Lansing dinner were St. Johns area retired employees Fred M. Barton, George W. Black and Dick DeGroot.

Special guests from the company's general offices in Jackson were present at the dinner.

This is the Richmond School building on East French Road which Greenbush Township will purchase from the St. Johns School District for $1. They will take possession after the schools are finished using it.

2 new department heads appointed for high school

Miss Peggy Carson and William Brown, teachers at Rodney B. Wilson High School in St. Johns, have been named to head the social science and physical education departments, respectively.

Miss Carson will fill the position left vacant when Robert White resigned last spring as a teacher here. She has taught world history at the high school for the past four years and also teaches a class in Russian after school. She holds a bachelor of arts and masters degrees from Michigan State University.

Brown, a third-year instructor at the high school, will head the physical education department. He is a graduate of Lansing Eastern High School and MSU, and he and his wife and baby daughter live in Lansing.

BROWN'S IS A NEW position, and he was quoted as saying that a department head was needed now so that a junior high program can be started and a better study of the curriculum begun.

Brown and Miss Carson were appointed to their new positions last Wednesday night by the St. Johns Board of Education. Also at that meeting, the board voted to raise basketball admission ticket prices from $1 to $1.25 — the same increase that was applied to football admissions.

The board approved the sale of the Richmond School — on French Road a mile and a half east of US-27 — to Greenbush Township for $1. Greenbush Supervisor Derrill Shlumberg appeared at the meeting and said the township wanted to use the building for its township hall and decided to take the board's offer of $1 for the school. The township will take possession after the school district is finished with the building, probably next spring.

The school board decided to use the educational TV facilities of Channel 10 in Lansing only for the rural elementary grades. The board had been studying the possibility of not using the service at all.

A special committee from the board was appointed by President Ray Parr to work with the county drain commissioner, engineer and road engineer on a problem of storm water drainage at the new Riley Elementary School.

IT SEEMS STORM water runoff from the roof of the new school is collecting in a pond on the southeast corner of the Pratt-Lowell roads intersection and at times floods the road. Arrangements will be worked out to carry the water to either a county drain some 600 feet north or to another nearby ditch.

Working on that special committee are board members Leon Schumaker, Donald Bast and Wendell Waggoner.

Crash kills woman

A DeWitt Township woman was killed and four other persons injured early Saturday afternoon on US-27 near the Northside Drive-In Theatre, raising the county death toll for the year to 11.

Mrs. Vivian Richards, 62, of 720 E. Coleman Road was the victim. Her car was consumed by a fire that started after the collision with an auto driven by Hazel Carrigan of 902 Elmwood Street DeWitt about 12:30 p.m.

According to state police, who investigated, Mrs. Carrigan's auto was northbound and slipped off the east shoulder of US-27. She brought the car back onto the highway but it swerved across into the southbound lanes and was struck by Mrs. Richards' car travelling in the outside lane. Mrs. Carrigan and children Penny, 4, Sally, 12, and Tammy, 2, were treated at a Lansing hospital.

Mrs. Richards was pulled from the wreckage of her car. She died of massive chest injuries. Obituary details are on Page 7-A.

City fathers comment on tax vote

City designates new stop, yield streets in town

Mayor Coletta comments

Mayor Charles Coletta, one of the three city commissioners who voted for a city income tax last Tuesday night, gave the Clinton County News this statement Monday, on his reasons for voting for the tax:

"In voting for the city income tax at the Nov. 7 commission meeting I may have lost some friends, and this I regret very much. However, I must vote my convictions as to what I honestly believe is best for the City of St. Johns.

"After carefully considering all the arguments and analyzing all the facts at my disposal I concluded that the benefits the city would derive from the income tax outweighed the disadvantages.

"THE MAIN BENEFITS that influenced my decision are as follows:

"1) It offers tax reform by the reduction of property tax rates on both real and personal taxes. In my opinion the tax rate can be reduced three mills.

"2) It will enable the city to maintain the present level of services and provide much-needed capital improvements, such as adequate police and fire equipment, paving and resurfacing of streets, improved street lighting, general fund assistance to the water fund insuring moderate water rates, new and improved storm sewer drains for continued growth of the city, and operation of the water plant to prevent the recurrence of rusty water in our mains.

"I know there will be several charges and criticisms leveled at the city commission for the way we voted. In all fairness, I ask you to analyze these charges factually and intelligently, then form your opinions.

"IF YOU CONCLUDE that we took correct action we would certainly appreciate your support. If you believe we made a mistake, exercise your rights by signing the petition calling for a referendum so the issue can be placed on the ballot and brought before the people for a vote.

"We need and want your help and guidance in determining what is best for the City of St. Johns."

Mrs Rand comments

City Commissioner Mrs. Jeanne Rand had the following statement concerning the city income tax passage last Tuesday night:

"At the Nov. 7 commission meeting I faced a large audience that I regard with respect—personally and professionally. I value their opinion of me. They could not respect me or endorse me as a representative of their city had I not been true to myself in an effort to do the right thing, in my opinion, for the City of St. Johns.

"When I voted yet for the city income tax I had evaluated the needs of the entire city. In so doing I could not be influenced by a small percentage of the total population. I apologize for nothing and see no reason for the citizens of St. Johns to apologize to me for exercising their right of referendum. The people have a right to speak."

John Furry comments

St. Johns City Commissioner John Furry issued the following statement Friday pertaining to his vote last Tuesday on the city income tax question:

"Basically I favored and voted for the city income tax because it is a more equitable tax, being based on the ability to pay, than is an increase in the property tax, both personal and real. Having a city income tax will enable the commission to accomplish a limited tax reform by making the burden of taxation more equitable and fair to the community. Personally I believe the personal property tax as it is used today with all its exemptions and loopholes is a grossly unfair tax.

CHARLES COLETTA

JEANNE RAND

"It has been charged that the commission, and myself in particular, had a closed mind to any reason given at the last commission meeting in opposition to the income tax. This is not true. I had formulated an opinion based on previous information obtained from both sides; however, this cannot be taken as having a closed mind—the fact that I did form an opinion, which is a responsibility I have as a representative.

"I DID NOT HEAR any reasons voiced at the meeting that carried enough weight to convince me that I was wrong in my position. Some of these reasons were: 'An income tax would prevent industry and medical persons from locating in this community. My reaction to this particular argument was that for the past 10 years we have been unable to attract medical or industry people to this community, with very few exceptions. Now I am supposed to be convinced that

2 decline comment

The Clinton County News asked all members of the City Commission of St. Johns for statements for publication concerning their votes on the city income tax question Tuesday night. Commissioners Rex Sirrine and Gerald Irer, whose views are not published here, preferred to make no statements.

the income tax, if passed, would be the straw that broke the camel's back. I cannot accept this as being reasonable or logical. I do think there are other reasons more influential that prevent industry or medical people from locating in St. Johns, and blaming it on the income tax is subterfuge.

"Another reason given is that the income tax would weaken the labor market and non-residents would seek employment elsewhere. Again I believe that there are other more weighty arguments as to why people choose to work or not work in our city. These reasons in my mind far outweigh the adverse effect a city income tax might have on the labor market, if any at all.

"THE THIRD REASON mentioned was that the income tax would cause many persons' incomes to be known to the public due to the size of the community. The income tax law provides for confidentiality of a person's tax return just as the personal property tax report is confidential. The penalty for anyone divulging confidential information is $500 fine and 90 days in jail. This reason for not passing an income tax is strictly a personal one, and although I respect any person's wishes that his income is his private business, I cannot accept this reason as being in the interest of the community as a whole.

"Before thinking about the city income tax, the commissioners did discuss other alternatives in their prior deliberations. One suggestion was that we ask the people again to vote for an amendment allowing a limitation of 20 mills. Another one was to increase the water rate to individual property owners. Another reason: ask the people for a certain amount of millage, enough to settle our financial problem and continue providing essential services.

"My reactions to these various alternatives was simply that, first of all, we asked the people twice for the 20-mill amendment, and twice it has been turned down. I cannot see going to the people again with the same proposal. I was opposed to the increase in water rates to the individual homeowner because a rate increase of this size would very possibly put a greater financial burden on the average taxpayer than would an income tax.

"THE LAST alternative might be worthwhile, but the problem would only be put off. Each time we needed more operational moneys we would have to ask the people, causing another election to be held and being uncertain in our planning until the people either approved or rejected the proposed millage increase.

"Frankly, I am glad to see this issue go to a referendum vote. This is the only way one can get an honest opinion from the people. For the commission to initiate an advisory vote of the people would have prolonged the outcome and necessitated two elections of the people rather than one, costing the people more money.

"By forcing a referendum vote, we will 1) get the response from the people which is badly needed, and 2) save the cost of another election, because upon the results of an advisory vote, the commission would have to act, and if the commission favored it, at that time their action would still have been subject to a referendum.

"I WOULD FURTHER explain my position on this issue by saying that without any doubt in my mind a reduction of at least two mills in the property tax is certain if the income tax is passed. This, as I stated earlier, will accomplish to some degree the needed limited reform in taxation by making the tax burden a little more equitable than it is.

"I do not feel that I have 'insulted the community' because of this position. I do feel that I voted in the interest of the community, and the people will either support this position or tell me I was wrong when they vote on the referendum ballot."

MASTER PLAN
The world might get better results if diplomats were paid on a peacework basis.

Even though the city income tax occupied the biggest share of the city commission's attention last Tuesday, there were other items of business taken up by the city fathers.

The commission approved four traffic control orders pertaining to stop streets and yield streets in various sections of the city.

These streets will now be stop streets: Hampshire Drive onto Sturgis; Lambert Drive onto Swegles; Elm Street onto Swegles; Oak Street onto Swegles; Swegles onto Townsend; Oakland onto Townsend; Oak Street onto Oakland; Elm Street onto Oakland; and Ottawa Street onto Floral Avenue.

Traffic on these streets will be required to yield right-of-way: Ottawa at Lewis, Ottawa at Gibbs, and Mead at Lincoln.

DAVE GRIFFITH of the engineering firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May gave an oral report to the commission concerning repair and rejuvenation to wells No. 1, 3 and 6. All but a few minor items of work have been completed and all three wells are back in service.

The commission accepted a quotation of the International Salt Co. of Detroit for road salt at $12.40 per ton for this winter. The city uses about 400 tons of salt per year on the average, although last year's use ran to 600 tons.

While the city accepted the order from the International company, they left the door open for even better prices by possibly combining their order for salt with that of the Clinton County Road Commission. More study and conferences with the road commission are needed, however, before it can be effected.

THE COMMISSION referred to the city planning commission a proposed rezoning for the Gratiot Farmers Supply Co. on North Lansing Street from R-1 residential zone to either neighborhood service or commercial. A letter to the commission reported the company is thinking of expanding their operation here.

A public hearing was scheduled for the Dec. 5 commission meeting on a petition for rezoning 12 lots 150 feet deep along the north side of East Walker Street, east of Baker from light industrial to residential. The request was made at the Oct. 17 meeting by Saylor Beall Corp.

The commission tabled a proposed plat for the same area.

The commission also tabled appointments to several boards and commissions of the city until the next meeting. Three-year terms of Ken Munger and Walter Pierce on the board of appeals expire this month, as do a three-year term of Doug Pardee on the board of review; three-year terms for William Barber and St. Clair Pardee on the planning commission; a term of Tony Kuntz on the library board; and one-year terms of Tony Tiedt and Charles Coletta on the Clinton County board of Supervisors.

Car-deer mishaps injure one Baptist Temple has new minister

Several car-deer accidents were reported around Clinton County during the past week, and in one case a passenger in the car was injured.

That accident happened Friday evening on US-27 near Colony Road north of St. Johns. Mrs. Patricia Kruse, 27, of St. Louis, suffered face and head cuts when the deer which her husband's car hit fell through the windshield onto her lap.

She was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital. Her husband, David Kruse, 27, said he was passing another car when the deer ran onto the highway. Saturday evening Mrs. Francis Bolter of 707 E. Higham Street struck a deer on M-21 east of Krepps Road, and early Sunday morning a deer ran into the side of an auto driven by Lawrence H. Peters, 49, of 8302 N. Carland, Elsie west of Meridian Road on M-21 near Ovid.

CLINTON COUNTY sheriff's officers investigated several other accidents during the week. Early Friday morning a car driven by Berma J. Seelhoff, of 2615 N. Ovid Street, Ovid, hit the wheel and axle of an unknown car. The wheel and axle were on the highway about a mile east of Shepardsville Road.

A county road commission truck was struck by an auto as the truck started to make a left turn onto Lowell Road last Tuesday morning. No one was hurt. The truck driver, Raymond G. Hine, 36, of 1012 S. Church St., St. Johns, said he had his turn signals on. The auto was driven by Joseph R. Schueller, 35, of South Main Street, Fowler.

Mildred J. Clements, 42, of St. Johns suffered bruises when her car went out of control and into a ditch along Lansing Street at the US-27 intersection. She told sheriff's officers a passenger in the front seat fell asleep and toppled onto her sore arm. She said she wasn't able to keep her pickup truck on the road, and it swerved into the ditch. The accident happened about 3:40 a.m. Saturday.

The St. Johns Baptist Temple Church on East State Street has a new minister following the resignation last week of Rev. Roy Green. He has accepted a call as construction supervisor for A.M.E.N. Missions on the Texas-Mexico border.

The new pastor here is the Rev. Floyd M. Mathis, 22, a native of Hayti, Mo. He was ordained last January at the Flint Baptist Temple and has been youth minister there working under Rev. D.L. Loughheed, pastor in St. Johns 25 years ago.

Rev. Mr. Mathis preached his first service here last Sunday. This will be his first full-time church. He will reside in St. Johns and will continue his studies at the Midwestern Baptist Seminary where he is in his senior year.

FOLLOWING GRADUATION from the Hayti, Mo., schools, Rev. Mr. Mathis went for two years to the School of the Ozarks and 1 1/2 years to Arkansas State College before enrolling at Midwestern Baptist Seminary.

Rev. Mr. Green has been in St. Johns 7 1/2 years. He preached his final sermon here Sunday evening and will leave soon for his new duties based at Harlington, Tex.

In his new work, Rev. Mr. Green will have a vital job in helping rebuild homes and communities on either side of the Mexican border that were wrecked by Hurricane Beulah. He was picked for the job because of his special experience in building trades.

He will be working in the same field with his son-in-law, Rev. Don Miller, who once also ministered here. Rev. Miller is now dean of the Bible Institute which educates Mexican nationals to work with their own people. The A.M.E.N. Missions stands for "A" Mission to Evangelize Nationals."

Dickinsons host Temple Board meet Nov. 9

The Temple Board met Nov. 8, at the home of Mr and Mrs Charles Dickinson. Nine members were present to transact the current business.

Recent work reported at the temple was done by Gordon Hodge who took it upon himself to cover the front of the serving cupboard that faces the dining room. Material for the job had been given by Mr Heusten, Commander. It was just a little short to cover the area, Hodge went to King Frost Lumber to obtain the needed plywood which ended up being donated by lumber company.

Another item discussed in detail was the furnace room. Charles Zigler with the assistance of John Williams are to sort and store whatever items of use and dispose of all the miscellaneous items, as storage space will be needed to store the old dining room tables and chairs as the new ones should be arriving in the very near future.

Two donations during the past month were applied on the outstanding principal still owing.

The two names drawn for repayment of loans were Bernice Beach and Fraser MacKinnon. The next meeting is to be Dec. 13.

Generally speaking, the world rewards us in proportion to our usefulness, and the most useful man may be a humorist.

St. Johns soldier gets football trophy in Korea

Pfc. LeRoy G. Martens, a member and co-captain of the Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 1 Corps G/P Artillery (HQB, ICA), football team, recently received an individual trophy to go along with a team trophy which he and the team won as runner-up champions of all 8th Army teams in Korea.

Martens, a 5-foot 11-inch, 175-pound end, was ICA's most all-around player. The son of Mr and Mrs Garhart Martens of 6053 Lowell Road, R-4, St. Johns, Marten earned the award and trophy in playing both offensive and defensive right end positions. His most outstanding play of the year came in the fourth quarter of his team's final league game when he ran a kickoff back 89 yards for the final and winning touchdown. It enabled the team to win the 1 Corps league championship with a 7-1 record.

But, in their third and final tournament game in the All-8th Army Tournament, the team was defeated. Martens received the honors and trophy in the absence of the team captain who was injured in the final game. Martens also missed one game of action this year because of a slight leg injury. He is a 1965 graduate of St. Johns High School. He is stationed at HHA, ICA, at Camp Saint Barbara, Korea.

'Wings dominate O-E, win 14 - 7

With approximately 2000 hardy fans on hand the St. Johns Redwings and the Ovid-Elsie Raiders played their final game of the season in a driving rain that soon turned the field into a virtual mud bowl.

The Redwings dominated play throughout the game, having the ball for a total of 64 plays as compared to Ovid-Elsie's 36.

IN THE STATISTIC column, the Redwings again predominated with a total of 280 yards gained, 205 yards coming on the ground and another 75 from passing. O-E totaled 87 yards rushing and were held to no yardage via the air route.

Of Ovid-Elsie's total yardage of 87 yards, L.D. Jones, the Raiders versatile fullback, picked up 54 of these yards on his scoring jaunt.

ALTHOUGH THE game was played in a driving rain and in a couple inches of mud it was almost free of fumbles. St. Johns did it twice, recovering both times for the only fumbles in the entire game.

Ovid-Elsie took the opening kickoff with Jerry Gazda returning it to the Raiders 22 yard line. On the first play St. Johns was offside for a five yard penalty. The Raiders picked up one yard in three plays and punted.

THE REDWINGS TOOK over on the O-E 47. On the first play Tim Durner dropped back and passed to Norm Love for a 17 yard gain. With a first and 10 on the O-E 30, Durner again passed, this time to Terry Maler good for four yards. Mike Green then hit the center for six more and a first down on the Raiders 20. John Salemi went to the left on a reverse, passed the line of scrimmage, cut to his right and went 20 yards to score untouched. Salemi ran for the extra point and St. Johns had a 7-0 lead with three and a half minutes gone in the game.

Following the St. Johns kickoff, Ovid-Elsie lost 21 yards on three plays and again punted. The Redwings took over on the Marauder 23. Maler tried left end for no gain. Then Durner tossed to Love who made a diving catch on the O-E eight yard line for a first down. Maler picked up seven around left end and Salemi got the last yard up the middle. Bob Cochrun ran for the extra point and St. Johns held a 14-0 lead with five minutes left in the first quarter.

EARLY IN THE second quarter St. Johns drove from their own 20 yard line to the Marauder 33 before losing the ball on downs. Dick Easlick lost two yards on a keeper play. Then the Redwings were penalized five yards for offside. Here Jones broke up the middle, was hit by two men, broke loose and outraced the Redwing secondary to cap his 54 yard scoring jaunt. Jones ran for the extra point and with four minutes left in the second quarter the score stood 14-7, which held up as the final score of the game.

EARLY IN THE second half, Ovid-Elsie had another good scoring opportunity but could not penetrate the Redwing defense. O-E took over on downs on the St. Johns 17 when a bad pass from center forced the punter to run.

Easlick picked up one yard on a keeper play. Jones picked up a yard on three tries into the line and the Redwings took over on their own 14.

WITH ABOUT A minute left in the third quarter the Redwings took over on downs on their own 11 yard line. Staying on the ground and grinding it out a few yards at a time, St. Johns ate up the yardage and the clock. The Redwings picked up seven first downs in this drive that took them to the Marauder seven yard line.

Here the Marauder defense stiffened, held and Ovid-Elsie took over on their own 12 with only two minutes left in the ball game.

THE STORY OF the second half revealed that St. Johns had had the ball for 37 plays while O-E had the ball for only 12.

Offensively for the Raiders it was L.D. Jones, Jerry Gazda, Dane Flegel and Richard Easlick who carried the load. For the Redwings it was Mike Green getting 77 yards on 16 tries followed by John Salemi with 42 yards in 10 tries, Chuck Romig with 22, Bob Cochrun with 15, and John Markman with 21.

DEFENSIVELY FOR both teams it would have been hard to single out anyone in particular, for both defenses played exceptional ball, with the exception of the first quarter when St. Johns jumped off to the early lead. The Redwings had 19 seniors playing their final game for Rodney B. Wilson. These seniors were: Bob Cochrun, Pat Durner, Cary Hambleton, Terry Hart, Dave Howe, Ken Jakus.

TOM KEHR, Joe Keilen, Ken Kurnez, Brent Law, Norm Love, John Markman, Jeff Nobis, Dennis Oakley, Don Palmer, Dave Peck, Tom Rademacher, Steve Rennells, and John Salemi.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

The Double M 4-H Saddle Horse Club members have contributed $100 toward the future 4-H horse barn to be built at the county fair grounds. The club held a very successful achievement program Saturday evening at Smith Hall. Vo Quang Tam, national 4-T leader of Viet Nam, gave an excellent talk on the youth program in Viet Nam and about his country. I'm sure the members appreciate much more the items we take for granted. Congratulations to the Double M 4-H horse members for their contribution to the horse barn building fund.

Robert Harte of St. Johns will be leaving Sunday to be a delegate at the National 4-H Dairy Conference at Chicago Nov. 19-22. Bob was selected for this award trip following an interview at state show in August at Michigan State University. David Harper was selected as an alternate.

The 4-H Council will be meeting at my home in St. Johns on Monday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m. Business includes final plans for the leaders recognition banquet to be held on Monday, December 4th, at 7:00 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns.

The Friends and Neighbors 4-H Club held their local achievement meeting, presenting the members with their pins, certificates and fair money. The entomology group decided to meet every other month throughout the winter and visited the Entomology Department at Michigan State University on Monday. The group discussed the money award they received from their community beautification project and how it might be spent.

The Lucky Rider 4-H Saddle horse club will hold their bake sale on Nov. 18 from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. in DeWitt. Best of luck with your bake sale this Friday. The members had a taste on the general appearance, head and neck of a horse.

The Swinging Bingham held their organizational meeting for the winter with 14 members. The officers elected include: President Jane Galloway, Vice President Steve Thornton, Secretary Rodney Thornton, and Treasurer Linda Durbin. The Swinging Bingham is the new club name replacing the Greenwood Busy Bodies.

Lee Ann Jacob is the new president of the Bengal Community 4-H Club for the winter program. Other officers include: Vice President Steve Thelen, Secretary Crystal Rhynard, Treasurer Keith Foote, Song leaders Mary Ann Fedewa and Vickie Thelen. News reporter Jane Vitek and Recreation Leaders Debbie Thelen and Debbie Suchek. Leaders were on hand to answer questions the members had regarding the 4-H club program. Fair premiums, pins and certificates were passed out to the members.

The Eagle Lites 4-H Club held their achievement meeting with members receiving their fair premiums, pins and certificates. The members saw the film "Man Enough For The Job." Officers elected for the winter program include: President Sandra Volk, Vice president Mike Phillips, Secretary Treasurer Kimberly Barber, Reporter Bernice Sullivan. Refreshment committee is Judy Gross, Ann Annette, Nancy Haueter, Sue Wilson and Rosie Ennes, entertainment, G. McCrumb, Jane Higbee, Kathy Haueter, Marlene Enness; cleanup, Sherry Feldpausch, Diana Cooper, Linda Cooper, Linda McCrumb and Colleen Murphy.

The four boys enrolled with food and garden projects in the 4-Corners club honored their parents and leader with a supper and party. The boys furnished the vegetables from their garden and cooked all the food for the supper. Looking over the menu provided by the boys, I'm sure they won't starve if there is no one at home to cook the food. They even washed the dishes while the parents and leader chatted. I'm sure the leader and parents are very proud of the accomplishments of these boys with their cooking skill.

The Handy Andys 4-H club members under the leadership of JoAnn Smith will be starting their sewing projects right away. The girls will hold a Christmas party Dec. 9 at the home of Lou Ellen Pline.

The 4-Corners 4-H club had an exhibit in Dancer's store at Elsie for a week, showing what 4-H has to offer boys and girls. Many phone calls and comments from people were received as a result of this display.

Vandals, thieves busy in St. Johns

Vandals and thieves were busy in St. Johns last week.

Avelino Pena of 114 1/2 N. Clinton Avenue told city police a cement block was thrown through the rear window and windshield of his car parked in the city lot near the A & P Store. A large piece of cement was also placed on the roof.

James Van Belkum of 107 N. Scott Road reported one windshield wiper torn off and the other bent when his car was parked on the street downtown in St. Johns Sunday.

There's music in the air in the halls of Rodney B

By MIKE GALVACH
St. Johns High

Twelve girls will make up the membership of the well-known singing group, the Wilsonettes, this year. Under the direction of Gordon Vandemark the Wilsonettes have increased in size and have added six new and sparkling voices to the group.

From last year's group there is only one returning member, Teresa Smith, an alto. Other alto section members include Rhonda Klockner, Sharon Summer, and Diane Fedewa.

The first soprano section this year consists of Carol L. Martin, Linda Lisawski, Pat Courser, and Verna Slagel. Second sopranos are Sandy Boyve, Diane Barnes, Pat Fox, and Sharon Howe.

The group practices on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday noons, and when possible they try to meet one night a week. The group is already busy rehearsing Christmas selections.

for the forthcoming Christmas concert. Mr. Vandemark stated that he felt the girls are now beginning to sense their direction and are showing fine advancement after only a few weeks of practice.

OTHER MUSICAL news includes some exciting information. The Boy's Quartet that was featured in last year's musical, "Music Man", are back-together. This well-received group is made up of Scott Helbeck, Chris Cornell, Bill LeFevere, and Tom Fowler. Recently they have been singing for many occasions.

The Men's Glee Club is also being organized, so announced Mr. Vandemark, vocal director. Seven members are returning with 13 new members soon to join. They are now making preparation for performances after the first of the year. This year Mr. Vandemark has opened the Glee Club to any boy in the school. He doesn't have to belong to any vocal class in the school. The Glee Club practices in the auditorium on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday noons from 12 to 12:25 p.m.

The Business Club will be led by Mark Ott this year as he was elected president at a recent meeting. The vice-president will be Donna Ballard, and Kitty Carter will perform the duties of the secretary. Carolyn Foote will handle all money matters as treasurer while Mary Ely will keep the school paper informed as a reporter.

PLANS TO PUBLISH a typing booklet are presently being discussed by the Business Club in order to make money. According to Mr. Kramer, club sponsor, the booklet will replace the first-year typing packets at the beginning of school next fall.

The Creative Writing Club is exciting and proving to be interesting as members find more than constructive criticism of their short stories or poetry. Rod Begeman and Noel Heinze are now teaching the elements of a short story and how to begin one. The basics of poetry and how to recognize them are also being explained by Robert Holzhel at the weekly meetings. Mr. Begeman stated that work would begin on a future club publication as soon as enough writing and art has been contributed. Whether a member or not, anyone with illustrations, short stories, or poetry is being asked to submit them for the publication.

The 30 members and sponsors hold their weekly meetings on Tuesday nights at 7:30.

Seniors at Bath give play

By MARILYN SIDEL
Bath High School

BATH—What happens when the students take over Mansfield High for the day? What will the results be? Chaos? Perhaps, but at any rate, the students at Bath High School got an insight as they watched the senior play, "Paint the Town Pink."

Bill Beard-sley plays Rem Tyler, a student at Mansfield High who takes over the principal's job. Mr. Clark, the original principal of Mansfield High, is played by Doug Brook. Kathy Everhart stars as Cristy Smith, a student who takes over the job as the principal's secretary. Sally Renwick, played by Dede Munson, is the original principal's secretary at Mansfield High.

The play production class gave the performance Thursday, Nov. 9, for the elementary and Friday morning, Nov. 10, for the high school and Friday evening for any one who wished to attend.

Powder Puffers put on good football show at Ovid-Elsie

By CATHY ROBINSON
Ovid-Elsie High

OVID-ELSIE—The main event in O-E last week was the powder puff football game between the seniors and the juniors.

For three weeks before the game both teams were in strict training. They learned plays, pass-offs and the basic fundamentals of football.

Coaching the juniors were Bob DuPont, head coach, and Dave Dubois, Jerry Winans and Terry Plowman. In Bob's opinion the junior girls played a great game. "They were not as big or as fast as the seniors but they wanted to win."

Coaching the seniors was Dane Flegel, head coach, and Tom Maron, Don Young and Lynn Binger.

All through practice both teams were sure of a victory. The Juniors made the first touchdown of the game in the first half; it was run by Linda Hooker, and Kay Ladiski ran the extra point.

During the half-time session in the senior locker room the girls decided to "play ball." And play ball they did when the seniors got back on the field they were ready to play for blood and a few times it got a little rough. Tag football turned out to be tackle in the last half of the game, the tackles being snuck in by both teams.

The senior girls made three touchdowns and one extra point in the last half of the game.

The TDs were run by Sharry Seward, quarterback, and Susan Farr, quarterback.

It was a great game and all the girls had a lot of fun in training and the game. The final score of the game was 19-6 with the class of '68" winning the game.

FHA girls at P-W 'trick or treat' for UNICEF

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA — On Sunday night, Oct. 29, the Pewamo-Westphalia Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America went "trick or treating" for U.N.I.C.E.F. and netted $105 for the fund.

This money will go to the starving and disease struck children of Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe and Eastern Mediterranean, no matter what their race, color or creed happens to be.

Nobody knows just how many children are slowly starving or falling into the hands of disease or even dying of leprosy, tuberculosis, malaria and many other dread diseases.

U.N.I.C.E.F., which stands for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, began in 1946 after World War II to help the starving and sick survivors and is still going strong.

On Wednesday, October 25, the P-W Future Homemakers of America held their monthly meeting and discussed a bake sale which was held Oct. 29 and netted $50.

Roseann Stump, Colleen Schaffer, Gall Cotter and Irene Pline received their Junior and chapter degrees in a degree ceremony conducted by Joan Kramer and Claudia Wieber.

The play will be directed by Charles Polling and Ronald Farrell. Jemery VanSickle will be student director.

Pewamo school news

PEWAMO—Wednesday, Nov. 8, Pewamo Elementary held their parent conferences and the excellent turnout of parents for the conferences was appreciated by the teaching staff.

The girls' Service Squad provided a touch of pleasant hospitality by serving coffee and acting as guides for the parents.

Saturday, Nov. 11, Julie Cvetnich, Bonnie Horn, David Powell and Jerome Schneider attended the Safety Patrol and Service Squad Rally Day at Central Michigan University. The foremen-tioned are officers in the Pewamo Elementary safety organizations.

During the roll call of the counties present it was noteworthy that Pewamo was the only school representing both Clinton and Shiawassee counties. The group enjoyed the safety program and with their sponsor, Steven Abell, helped cheer C.M.U. to a football victory over Morehead State of Kentucky.

Valerie Bartholomew, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ladd Bartholomew of 309 S. Clinton Avenue, St. Johns, has been elected captain of the Adrian College Women's Swimming Team. The Adrian team will host a state meet this Saturday, Nov. 18, at the college.

Lansing fan wins football contest cash

A Lansing sports fan, Gary Simons of 230 Harlett Street, emerged as the winner last week in the Clinton County News' weekly football contest, despite several tie games and upsets.

One of the games listed was scratched by the judges because it, in fact, was not scheduled and not played. That was the Ionia-Marshall game; it was a misprint and was supposed to be Marshall vs Hastings. Since the printed selection was wrong, it was dropped from the contest.

Taking that into consideration, Simons missed only three selections in winning the contest. He picked winners in games No. 3 and 8, both of which ended in a tie, and he picked Meridian to win in game No. 10 when actually Bullock Creek won.

Again the tie-breaker score had to be used to give Simons the $20 cash prize. Carolyn J. Campbell of 207 E. Walker also missed only three selections, but she had a tie-breaker score of 47 compared to Simons' 21; the actual tie-breaker score was 28, and so Simons was closest.

This week is the last for the contest this year. Selections include both college and professional football games this weekend.

Christmas Club checks—a record—set for mailing

Distribution of $123,642 to more than 1,200 members of the 1967 Christmas Club at Clinton National Bank & Trust Co. was announced this week by W.S. Lusk, bank president.

It is the largest Christmas Club total in the bank's history and involves the greatest number of local people, said Lusk. Checks will be mailed to reach club members Monday, Nov. 20.

Clinton National is inviting friends and customers to join its staff for coffee and cookies in the St. Johns office on Friday, Nov. 24, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The bank is opening its 1968 Christmas Clubs on that day.

Tips for thawing Thanksgiving turkey

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Thawing that turkey for Thanksgiving presents problems for many homemakers.

How long will it take to thaw that 20 pound bird? Is it safe to thaw it at room temperature or should a turkey be placed in the refrigerator for safe thawing? Thawing frozen turkeys at room temperature in closed paper bags keeps the temperature low enough to protect quality, USDA food specialists say. This method is more convenient than thawing in a household refrigerator or under tap water.

Many processors hesitate to recommend room-temperature thawing. Although this is a common practice, it can expose the outside surface of the bird for a period long enough . . . at temperatures high enough . . . for bacteria to multiply rapidly. Refrigerator thawing avoids this danger.

HOWEVER researchers say, if the bird is kept in its plastic wrap and placed in paper bag at room temperature, the atmosphere inside the bag will be only slightly warmer than the atmosphere in the refrigerator. Thus, the bird can be thawed completely without exposing the surface, to temperature higher than 55 degrees.

Large birds (20 to 25 lbs.) should be allowed about 16 hours thawing time. Smaller ones (8 to 12 lbs.) should be allowed about 12 hours. Be sure to refrigerate or cook the turkey within 1 to 3 hours after thawing.

If the dinner hour is definite, such as 12 noon (sharp), then start the bird 30 to 40 minutes ahead of schedule to avoid delay should the turkey take longer to cook than estimated. It won't ruin the bird if it must roast several extra minutes.

TURKEY NEEDS proper care and handling at home to prevent spoiled turkey. The two best ways to prevent spoiled turkey are: "Keep it hot or keep it cold." Most turkey spoilage is the fault of improper handling at home, such as letting turkeys stand at room temperature for several hours after serving it.

So, to be safe, rather than sorry, refrigerate turkey as soon after serving it as possible. Remove the dressing from the turkey and refrigerate it in a separate covered container.

To all of you . . . a happy Thanksgiving.

2 drivers from Holt involved in city crashes

Two Holt drivers were involved in traffic entanglements in St. Johns during the last week, but both escaped without injury.

Last Wednesday evening a car driven by George J. Potter, 43, of Holt was struck by another car at the intersection of US-27 and Townsend Road. The other car was driven by Leona J. Etlinger, 24, of 3547 E. Townsend Road whom police say pulled onto US-27 from the east and hit the Potter car.

Mark L. Stewart, 19, of Holt was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead after his car hit the rear of another at US-27 and Sturgis Street Friday. The other vehicle, a pickup truck, making a left turn onto Sturgis from the south, was driven by Gerald E. Henning, 40, of 812 S. Clinton Avenue, St. Johns.

Several other accidents were investigated by city police during the week.

LAST WEDNESDAY morning a car driven by Charles H. Harmon, 71, of 3365 Harmon Road, R-6, St. Johns, collided with a truck driven by Joseph M. Spitzley, 40, of Portland at State (M-21) and Morton streets. Harmon reportedly stopped for the stop sign and then pulled into the path of the truck. He was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Clyde A. Peck, 61, of 202 E. Buchanan Street said he was blinded by oncoming headlights, causing him to run into the rear of a parked dump truck loaded with brush on Oakland Street just north of Park Street Sunday evening. The truck was operated by Dave R. Mumma, 21, of Plymouth. No one was hurt.

Monday evening a car driven by one of the popular fallacies is that a man is burned out at 50 or 60 and is of no further use in industry.

by John L. Flak, 22, of 307 E. Baldwin Street ran into a car parked at the curb on West Gibbs Street as Flak turned the corner onto Gibbs. The car was owned by Richard Worrall of 801 N. Clinton.

notes from the bookshelf

By HILA BROSS
Librarian
Bement Public Library

THE BOOK SHELF

By Hila Bross
New on the book shelves at Bement Public Library are several books on the New York Times' bestseller list.

Catherine Marshall's new book, CHRISTY, had a waiting line when it finally arrived here after having been ordered for more than a month, and, of course, it went right into circulation. Miss Marshall, distinguished author of A MAN CALLED PETER, and several inspirational books, has once again turned to biography as she did in her other bestseller, In Christy she writes with her usual clarity, understanding, and individuality. She has indeed pleased her admirers by breaking into print again.

TOPAZ by Leon Uris is a masterful story of a master spy plot. Mr. Uris himself admits that this book is based on an actual plot which was circumvented before it reached fruition. Because of these circumstances, Harper's who had originally agreed to publish the book, withdrew from the arrangement. Most readers of the book agree that the French official who figures prominently in the plot is based on President DeGaulle, but Mr. Uris is cagey about admitting this.

Leon Uris, who is also the author of EXODUS and BATTLE CRY, writes in TOPAZ with his usual energy and masculine view of things. This one should make exciting and eye-opening reading.

THE CHOSEN by Chaim Potok is the story of a father and son living in Brooklyn in the 40's. It is a tale of devout Jews, and it carries a strong spiritual overtone.

NIGHT FALLS ON THE CITY by Sarah Gaiman is a novel about the beautiful city of Vienna, Austria, a story set in the tumultuous years from the German Anschluss of 1938 down to the Russian invasion of 1945. This book is peopled with many interesting, beautiful, intelligent characters. It is a story in which one can become completely lost.

Charles Jackson, who distinguished himself a number of years ago as the writer of THE LOST WEEKEND, the classic story of an alcoholic, has written a book about a woman who is as much a slave to her physical passions as the man in THE LOST WEEKEND was to his bottle. This would seem a more powerful book if it had not appeared in the midst of so many other books depicting characters who are also obviously slaves to their physical passions.

In fact, the American reading public has become so satiated with books filled with four-letter words and vivid descriptions of physical activities, that it would be easy to miss the whole point of Mr. Jackson's A SECOND-HAND LIFE. This is really a very well written book with a pertinent and timely moral, but maybe it should have been written several years earlier.

THE KLANSMAN by William Bradford Huie is a novel which realistically tells the unpleasant story of the role being played by the Ku Klux Klan in the present-day South. The story takes place in a medium-sized town in Alabama, and has a number of well-drawn characters, both white and Negro.

Audience opposed tax law before passage

The presence of the uniform city income tax ordinance on the agenda of last Tuesday night's St. Johns City Commission meeting drew a large crowd of citizens, and most of them appeared to oppose the passage of the ordinance.

About 100 people were in the audience. Thirty-six of them stood to express an opinion, and all the opinions were against an income tax.

Despite the strong and vocal opposition, the meeting was orderly, and the testimonies from the audience lasted just over an hour. Mayor Charles Coletta set ground rules for the discussion before it ever started, and they were followed almost perfectly.

EACH PERSON who spoke was required to stand, give his or her name, present their information briefly, with a three-minute limit, and ask no questions of the commission. Coletta said the commission was there to hear testimony and not to argue the case of a city income tax.

Rising to speak in opposition were Timothy M. Green, John Hannah, Ray Kentfield, Dr. S.R. Russell, Jerry Wilcox, Paul Maples, Larry Burns, Don Gilson, Brandon C. White, Robert Conn, Bruce Fowler, Floyd Parmelee, Mrs. Joyce Faight, Leon Brewbaker, Larry Sexton, Dick Devereaux, Kurt Becker, Dr. C.W. Lambert, John Hopko, Don Roesner, Steve Hopko, Mrs. Maridel Nelson, Mrs. Hattie Hannah, Dr. Albert Nelson, Dr. Herb Oatley, Ladd Bartholomew, Mrs. Beatrice Pope, Dr. W.F. Stephenson, Robert Gay, William Graef, Leo Pouch, Bernard Cain, Dr. Henry Burkhardt, Bruce Lanterman and Robert Diltner.

Ink White asked for clarification of the income tax law concerning interest on savings accounts in the banks but was told that that was a technical part of the ordinance that would have to be interpreted by an administrator of the ordinance once it was passed.

THIS APPEARED TO BE too much ambiguity, as far as the audience was concerned, and several comments during the course of the testimonies reflected that point. John Hannah commented that there was "too much fog in the whole ordinance." Brandon

City fathers comment

City commissioners were asked to make a public comment concerning their vote on the controversial city income tax, and some of them did. Their statements appear on Page A-3. Another related story appears on Page A-1.

White, executive vice president of the Central National Bank, told the commission it was inadvisable at this time to pass the ordinance because of the possible tax on savings interest. "If you can't tell whether this is taxed, then you can't make an intelligent decision" on the ordinance, he said.

A lot of the testimony concerned what other people thought. Don Gilson of Federal-Mogul said he had spent a lot of time in the week prior to the meeting in surveying the employees at F-M. He said he talked to 90 per cent of them and they were unanimously opposed. Bill Graef of General Telephone Co. said he didn't have to take a survey of his employees here; "They told me," he said, and he called it particularly "obnoxious" to those who live outside the community. Leon Brewbaker commented that "if this (audience) is a minority group then we're more

City tax law came off table slowly

Just what the disposition of the proposed city income tax ordinance for St. Johns would be following an hour of anti-tax testimony wasn't known for a few minutes during last Tuesday's city commission meeting.

Commissioner Rex Sirrine broke the ice by asking the mayor what the status of the tabled motion would be if it was not removed from the table. He wanted to know whether it would automatically die if it wasn't removed from the table and voted on that night. He was told no, that it could be taken off the table at any future meeting.

Sirrine then made a motion to take it from the table, and Commissioner Mrs. Jeanne Rand supported the motion. It carried.

SIRRINE IMMEDIATELY took the floor and commented that he would vote no because he did not feel the commission should take the responsibility and decide on an income tax without the approval of the people.

After a few seconds of heavy silence, Commissioner John Furry moved for the adoption of Ordinance 210—the income tax ordinance—and Mrs. Rand again supported the motion. The roll call vote went like this: Furry yes, Rand yes, Coletta yes, Irner no, and Sirrine no. The motion, and the ordinance, was declared carried by a 3-2 vote.

Following a brief pause while most of the audience got out of their seats and filtered out through the doors of the municipal auditorium, Furry introduced for its "first reading" Ordinance 211, which will provide for a reduction of two mills in the property tax except where the budget of the city would show a further reduction would be feasible.

Because no action is taken on the first reading of an ordinance, it was tabled until next, or later, meetings for action.

interested in the growth of our town than the average resident." And said Bernard Cain: "This group might possibly be the conscience of this town."

THE MAJOR CONTENTION of the objectors to the income tax was over the image which the tax would create and the "problems" it would create in bringing business and professional people and industries to St. Johns.

Larry Sexton of Sealed Power said an income tax would discourage Chamber of Commerce efforts to get new businesses in St. Johns. Steve Hopko of the Clinton County News said an income tax would discourage new residents from moving to St. Johns. Robert Gay of the F.C. Mason Co. said he was opposed to the tax because it would make it harder to get people to work.

This is already a problem, he said. "It's hard to get good men. I feel a tax would penalize those people to come in and work for our businesses. Their gas taxes already come back to us."

Floyd Parmelee of the Federal Land Bank said that "We are at a crossroads right now whether we stay here or not. We have six people employed, and we're concerned. Our expansion could go elsewhere."

Bruce Fowler of Egan Ford said an income tax would be detrimental to any business, and he thought such a tax was unfair at the local level.

COMMISSIONER Mrs. Jeanne Rand's testimony that she had made a personal telephone survey and found "over 50 per cent" of those she called in favor of an income tax brought more reaction from the crowd. Mrs. Rand said she thought she had contacted a good cross section of the people, and she listed reasons in favor of the tax as being an advantage to older people because property taxes would go down and an advantage to merchants because their personal property taxes would go down.

Don Roesner commented that "If the people are for it, where are they?" Dr. Albert Nelson claimed it was the people who wouldn't have to pay an income tax who were saying yes to Mrs. Rand's inquiries. Dr. Herb Oatley said those people had been told the answers in "that yellow sheet." His reference was to the controversial Municipal Report which first brought up the city income tax question.

Steve Hopko said the people who favored an income tax "are speaking strictly of their own selves. We have to look at the broad range, at what is best for the town, not individuals. An income tax will be a big factor in whether this town grows or becomes stagnant."

TAX RATES

There are two tax rates (applying to income after adjustments are made for exemptions, deductions, and non-taxable income.)

(A) One per cent (1%) rate used for: (1) corporations doing business in St. Johns; (2) St. Johns residents working in St. Johns; (3) St. Johns residents working outside the City who are not subject to withholding (of an income tax) for the City where they work; (4) persons carrying on unincorporated business activity (taxable only in their separate and individual capacities and according to the specific terms of the ordinance).

(B) One half of 1 per cent (1/2%) rate used for: (1) non-residents of St. Johns working in St. Johns; (2) St. Johns residents working outside the City who are also subject to withholding (of an income tax) for the place where they work.

TAXABLE INCOME

The tax shall apply on the following types of income to the same extent and on the same basis that the income is subject to taxation under the Federal Internal Revenue Code:

(C) Corporations: (1) Taxable net profits as defined in Sec. 63 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code. No deduction shall be allowed for net losses sustained prior to the effective date of the tax nor for the city income tax itself.

NON-TAXABLE INCOME

(A) Payments and benefits: (1) gifts and bequests; (2) proceeds of insurance, annuities, pensions, and retirement benefits, including social security; (3) amounts received for personal injury, sickness, or disability are excluded from taxable income only to the extent provided by the Federal Internal Revenue Code; (4) welfare relief, unemployment benefits and workmen's compensation; (5) amounts received by charitable, religious, educational and other similar non-profit organizations; (6) amounts received by certain trusts, which are exempt under Federal Internal Revenue Code; (7) interest from obligations of the United States, the states or subordinate units of government of the states and gains and losses on the sales of obligations of the United States; (8) net profits of financial institutions and insurance companies; (9) dividends from national and state bank stock; (10) reimbursement of expenses incurred in the performance of services and deductible as such by the employer; (11) Compensation received for services in the armed forces of the United States.

(B) Deductions from gross income: (1) Ordinary, necessary, reasonable and unreimbursed expenses paid or incurred by an individual in the performance of services as an employee but limited to the following: (a) Expenses of travel, meals and lodging while away from home; (b) expenses of an outside salesman, away from his employer's place of business; (c) Expenses of transportation; (d) Reimbursable expenses included in total compensation.

EXEMPTIONS

The taxpayer is allowed deductions for the full personal and dependency exemptions authorized by the Federal Internal Revenue code: (1) $600 per year for employee, his spouse and each dependent; (2) Additional $600 exemption if taxpayer or his spouse is 65 or over or blind. (For example, a blind person age 65 would receive an $1800 exemption).

PAYMENT OF TAX

(A) Employers are required to withhold from: (1) All residents of St. Johns; (2) All nonresidents who have St. Johns as their predominant place of business.

(B) Declaration of estimated tax: (1) to be filed by tax payer who anticipates taxable income from which the city income tax will not be withheld; (2) No declaration is to be made if estimated tax does not exceed: (a) $40 for an individual tax payer, or (b) $250 for a corporation.

(C) Annual return: (1) Any balance of the tax due the city shall be paid at the time of filing an annual return; (2) No annual return is due if the amount of tax due does not exceed the amount withheld by more than $2.

(D) The city income tax qualifies as an itemized deduction from the federal income tax.

This resume is designed to answer the majority of questions concerning the St. Johns income tax passed last week. If there are other questions relating to specific situations not covered in this synopsis, they should be addressed to Finance Department, City Hall, St. Johns, Michigan 48879.

High school close-up - Part IV

Teachers salute 'togetherness' offered by new high school design

If it had no other advantages, the new academic cluster of rooms in the new St. Johns High School will serve a major purpose: it will bring together in one area all the classrooms used by the various departments.

That advantage alone makes all the department heads involved almost ecstatic. But there are many other advantages in this central cluster, the largest of the three circular portions of the new high school building.

In the new high school, classrooms for all the academic departments will be located side-by-side, not scattered about upstairs and downstairs as they are now in the present high school building. And, without exception, they will provide more room for instruction—if not in actual square footage then in reduced class load because of the fact the new high school will serve only the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

THE ACADEMIC cluster will have no direct-outside exits, but there will be four entranceways into the area—two from the rectangular sections of the building to the west and one each from the business education and science wings of the high school.

Leading into the center of the cluster will be 12-foot corridors that widen out to 14 feet as they reach a 10-foot-wide hallway which completely encircles the library-instructional materials center. The hallway and corridor walls opposite the library core will have lockers for the students.

Probably the most striking area of the main cluster will be the library at the center, but the classrooms around the outside of the circular corridor will have exciting new features about them too, and they promise to be much more functional than the present high school rooms.

Three major academic departments will have classrooms in the central cluster—English, social studies, and math. There will be seven English Department classrooms, seven for social studies, and four for math.

TEN OF THE classrooms will be divided by folding doors, and these are designed to be more soundproof than many concrete block walls. The folding partitions will form a flat wall when closed—similar to the large folding doors in the center of the present high school gym. Small motors will be utilized to close and open the partitions.

The folding partitions will make it possible to quickly combine classes for such things as tests, team teaching, movies or occasions where special speakers are brought in to address classes. Six of the seven social studies rooms will be divided in this manner, as well as four of the English Department rooms.

The classrooms in the wing will all be pretty much the same size—about 20 feet across the front, 30 feet deep and about 30 feet across the back. They'll all contain about 16 feet of chalkboard, much more than is now available in the rooms. Window space will be considerably less, which provides for more space for chalkboards and bulletin boards. There will be more shelves, counters and cupboard space available in all the rooms than at the present high school.

Between the classrooms and the full-circle corridor that surrounds the library will be smaller rooms that will be project areas in some cases, restrooms, offices or workrooms.

IN THE ENGLISH Department, for instance, a journalism work room will run across the front of two English classrooms. This room will be equipped with the same equipment that now must be kept in a journalism-English room—mimeograph, typewriter, stencil cutting equipment, mimeoscopes, etc. There will be a lot of storage, and for the first time the journalism room will be self-contained. One of the two doors out of it will lead into one of the English classrooms, making the journalism area a natural as a special project area, too.

Two other English classrooms are fronted by student project areas where special work can be provided for accelerated students. They have doors leading both into English classrooms and out into the corridor where they are right across the hall from the library.

The speech room will include a special projects area in which there will be three listening carrels where students can listen to recorded playbacks of their voices in various speech projects. Other special project work will take place in that area, too.

THE ENGLISH Department and the Math Department will share a workroom for instructors in front of the two English rooms on the southeast side of the cluster near the corridor leading to the science wing.

Mrs Dorothy Bates, chairman of the English Department, is happy over the plans for the new wing, particularly in the fact that all the department's rooms will be grouped together—not scattered around. There are no additional rooms, and there are eight English teachers now. But some of those teachers, and a lot of the students, will be left in the present building when only the 10th, 11th and 12th grades move to the new high school. So, in effect, the same amount of space will be able to be used to much more advantage.

A curriculum study is presently being made throughout the school system, but Mrs Bates is already looking forward to being able to offer more electives in the 11th and 12th grades. Only basic courses are now offered because of the space, teachers available and the number of students who have to be taught. "We need to broaden our offerings," she said.

THE MATH Department will occupy the smallest amount of space in the central cluster—four rooms—but again the department will be compact and not spread out as it is now. Department Chairman Paul Repath is looking forward to many advantages in the new building.

MRS DOROTHY BATES

For instance, there'll be much more chalkboard available, which will allow more students at the board in working problems so that the teachers can observe their work. And there will be specialized panels on the chalkboard for advanced mathematics work. Some of the student desks will have inlaid graphs where problems can be worked out without the need of graph paper.

Repah said the school is considering bringing in a special math laboratory which would consist of a huge, wall-mounted slide rule and permanently mounted chalkboard drafting equipment that would improve accuracy of work.

The shaded area of the central cluster of classrooms is the area of the new high school discussed this week.

There will be one student projects room off one classroom; this would be used for remedial and enrichment work for individual students as is necessary and would also house a departmental library. It will have a door leading into the classroom.

THE WORKROOM for instructors that will be used in conjunction with the English Department will also be helpful, because now the teachers have no private place in which to grade papers and do other such work.

The Math Department presently has four rooms, but they are widely scattered.

The Social Studies Department will utilize seven rooms, six of which will have folding doors between for better use of team teaching, showing of films, etc. Three project rooms for individual and small group projects front on three of the classrooms; two of these also have a folding door between them.

One of the project rooms would be used to house rats. They're used quite a lot in psychology classes.

Bob Ballard, a teacher in the department hopes to have tables instead of desks in some of the rooms, particularly psychology and geography, because of the use of maps and other large material used in the teaching process. Geography would be a lab-type course compared to the others which would be the more conventional lecture type.

A DEPARTMENT work room will have bookshelves, lots of counter space, mimeograph, typewriter and tackboard space. Teachers will do their preparatory work and grading of papers in there.

All the rooms will have 16 feet of blackboard and tack boards on the partitions that separate the rooms that can be combined. Bookcases will be built in all the rooms. The history classroom will include bins in which newspapers will be stored. All the rooms will have wall-mounted maps and screens.

There will be two sets of rest rooms in the large academic cluster—one set on the north side and another on the south.

Two of the English rooms are larger than the others, but those were designed that way so that a corridor can be located in that sector should an addition have to be built to the east at some time in the future.

Michigan's new ski guide ready

The 1967-68 Michigan Winter Sports Map—the publication that gives detailed information on where to ski, toboggan and skate in Michigan's winter wonderland—is now ready for distribution, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The popular guide lists facilities at Michigan's 83 winter sports centers, including accommodations, slopes, lifts, tows, meals, instruction, rentals, snow-making facilities, entertainment and other specialized activities and facilities.

Free copies of the 1967-68 Winter Sports Map can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

If the careless driver could see himself as others see him many accidents could be avoided.

The large, central cluster of the new St. Johns High School will contain 18 classrooms housing the departments of English, social studies and math, as outlined here in this architect's plan. The central core of the cluster is the library which was discussed in last week's article.

Bishops' Thanksgiving clothing drive to start

Catholics in the St. Johns area—and non-Catholics who wish to participate—will have an opportunity starting Sunday to help alleviate some of the misery of poverty-stricken people in foreign lands.

The Catholic Bishops' Annual Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign for the Needy Overseas will be conducted throughout the Diocese of Lansing from Nov. 19 through Nov. 26.

The Rev. William Hankerd, pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church, appealed this week to not only Catholics but all people of good will in the St. Johns area to gather up all usable bed linens, blankets, clothing and footwear—no longer needed—and deposit them at St. Joseph Church.

Clothing, blankets and other donations will be distributed by Catholic Relief Services to those most in need in some 80 countries of the world without regard to race, creed or color.

Last year, Catholics in the Diocese of Lansing contributed 184,485 pounds of usable clothing to the Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign. This is the 19th consecutive year that American Catholics have conducted the national campaign in the name of their bishops for relief of suffering humanity.

Father Hankerd commented that "in this time of unprecedented prosperity in our own country, and with our national day of thanksgiving at hand, it is opportune for all of us to give some thought to how we can, in a practical way, help our less fortunate brothers. One way is to give whatever you can to the Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign."

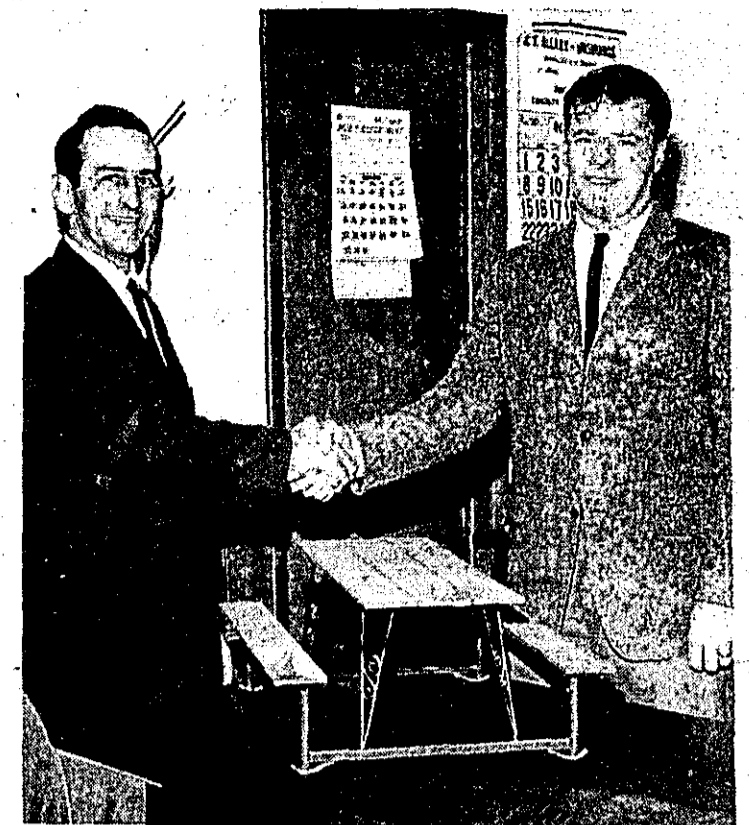

"All persons of good will—Catholic or not—are encouraged to bring your no-longer used bed linens, blankets, clothing and footwear to our church sometime during Thanksgiving Week."

Catholic Women deanery meet held

Furry is chairman of the Jaycee project.

Congregational annual fair

"Christmas on Treasure Island" will be the theme of this year's annual church fair of the First Congregational Church in St. Johns.

The fair will be held during the day Nov. 30 at the church, highlighted by a "T" party with Dathal Chrisman, a "grapho-analysis" handwriting analyst, at 10:45 a.m. Fair doors will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. A public luncheon will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

ASC PROGRAM

'68 agricultural conservation program for Clinton outlined

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Tuesday morning, Nov. 7, 1967, the Clinton ASC County Committee held their 1968 ACP development meeting at the ASCS county office.

The ACP development group consists of the County ASC Committee, Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, county supervisors of Farmers Home Administration, members of the governing bodies of the Soil Conservation District, Forestry Service, Michigan Department of Conservation, ASC community committeemen, and vo-ag instructors.

This group selected 29 conservation practices that they thought were needed in our county. This selection was made from 35 conservation practices approved for cost-share assistance in Michigan.

THE ACP PROGRAM has been in effect since 1936. Conservation practices reduce the loss of agricultural soil, water, woodland, wildlife resources, and improve the prospects of our efficient multi-purpose use in providing an adequate supply of food, fiber, water, and wildlife for the future.

Farmers in our county are carrying out a number of good conservation practices. Many farmers are earning assistance through ACP as they could not afford the total cost of establishing the conservation practice.

Last year 560 farmers in our county earned a total of $97,761. The following practices were the most popular: permanent cover and liming materials, tile drainage, green manure crops, winter cover, and wildlife ponds.

So far this year we have had 681 farmers request assistance. Due to the wet weather this fall some of them will be unable to carry out their practice.

THERE ARE A few changes in some of the practices for next year. The sign-up for next year's program will start after the first of the year.

I urge farmers to develop a conservation plan for their farm. If they need cost-share assistance, be sure and make a request at our office before the practice is started.

For technical assistance or assistance in developing a farm conservation plan, contact Soil Conservation Service.

The 1968 ACP practice sheets will be available from our office after Jan. 1.

Advocates new device for fat testing of milk

An Ohio State University dairy technologist has advocated a new Danish apparatus for fat testing of milk.

Experimentation with the "Milko-Tester" has shown that the device fulfills modern-day needs for a rapid, accurate, reliable and relatively inexpensive method for mass determination of fat in milk, said Dr. Theodore Kristoffersen of Ohio State's Department of Dairy Technology and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center.

He spoke at the 27th annual Dairy Manufacturers Conference Nov. 1-2 at Michigan State University.

"The change toward larger and larger dairy companies and producer organizations, and the resulting increase in the demands of testing facilities make it desirable that fat testing of milk be changed from the present 'horse-and-buggy' methods to those which are more suitable for the speed and temperament of today," he said.

"EXTENSIVE investigations by competent American and European scientists has shown that the apparatus is sufficiently accurate and dependable to justify its approval for official testing of milk."

He added, however, that approval of the Milko-Tester for official cream testing would not now appear to be justified.

Dr. Kristoffersen said that with respect to accuracy, proper operation of the Milko-Tester will yield results for milk which vary less in comparison with results obtained by the official ether extraction method than results obtained with the Babcock and Gerber methods.

In regard to dependability, he said the apparatus, with proper care, will give years of reliable service.

U.P. dairy foods use study results reported

Consumers favor milk and butter

What dairy foods are used most often by families in Michigan's Upper Peninsula?

Milk, butter and margarine, according to a recent Michigan State University study.

And used least by these same families are chocolate drink, chocolate milk, buttermilk, nondairy coffee creamer, nondairy sour cream, yogurt and ice milk.

These are some of the preliminary results of a survey of 1,537 consumers in the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula during March 1967. It is one of four such studies being conducted by MSU's Cooperative Extension Service over a six-month period to learn more about consumers' purchase and consumption patterns for various foods.

SIMILAR SURVEYS were made in the area of general food shopping habits and main dish protein foods, and one is scheduled later in the area of bread and cereal products, George T. Stachwick, director of agricultural marketing for the MSU Cooperative Extension Service, told the 27th annual Dairy Manufacturers Conference Nov. 2 on the MSU campus.

The dairy food study revealed that an average of 11 quarts of homogenized, low fat and skimmed milk per family were consumed in the specific week studied. Concerning container preference for milk, the study showed that the overwhelming favorite in all households was the paperboard carton.

As far as consumer use and acceptance of dairy and nondairy products, results showed that margarine, ice cream, cottage cheese and homogenized milk were the four products served at least once a month by the largest proportion (90 per cent) of the families. Used by over 50 per cent of the families were natural cheese and processed cheese.

CHOCOLATE milk, half and half, nondairy coffee creamer, sherbet, chocolate drink, skimmed milk, low fat milk, ice milk, dairy sour half and half, nondairy sour cream and yogurt were used by 40 per cent to less than 20 per cent of the families.

Of the 13 products served by more than half of the families, only five—margarine, whole milk, ice cream, natural cheese and processed cheese—were used by these families at least once a week.

Two-thirds of the families served ice cream at least once a week, and two-thirds said they never served either ice milk or sherbet at home.

Margarine consumption was almost twice that of butter, and twice as many families reported using margarine on a daily basis as those using butter.

Few families reported using heavy cream, half and half or nondairy coffee creamer very regularly. Of the three products, heavy cream was the most popular.

STACHWICK ADMITTED that the consumption of dairy products by Upper Peninsula families might be expected to differ somewhat from the national pattern. He said the higher use of fluid milk products may be related to the ethnic background of the people, many of whom are of Scandinavian descent.

"Although television has hastened the adoption of change and introduction of new products, the Upper Peninsula is still geographically isolated from major markets," he continued.

"The distance from the source of supply and the size of retail food stores limits the variety of dairy products made available. Also, dairy products command a higher price than in neighboring areas, which tends to limit availability of some of the specialty items."

Stachwick said the information obtained from the four studies will serve as a tool for evaluation and a guide for program planning for MSU's Consumer Marketing Program. She said plans are being made for similar studies in five Lower Peninsula cities sometime next year.

Golden Bulky is versatile, too. It can be used to balance the grain in your milking ration, dry cow ration or heifer ration. You can use Golden Bulky to supplement dry late summer and fall pastures or to preserve silage. And it can be top-dressed or mixed with your own grain.

Next time you stop by, let us show you how many ways you can feed versatile and nutritious Purina Golden Bulky.

Don't leave schools half finished

The St. Johns School Board will be waiting with bated breath next Monday night to find out whether the people of the district think they did right or wrong in building the new school buildings in the district.

Between the time of the May 1966 bond issue and the taking of bids early this year on the construction program, contracting prices rose sharply, and the board had to make a fateful decision:

"Should we cut corners on the buildings to allow money for the furniture and equipment, or should we build the buildings to our original specifications and reconsider the equipment later?"

They chose the latter course—to build the buildings the way they thought they should be built. They were wise. When public officials spend public money, it should be done for the greatest long-range good. Had the school board cut corners on the construction of the school buildings themselves, they would likely be outgrown and outmoded far sooner than they will now. The money they decided to leave in the construction of the buildings is money well spent.

We can't help but go along with the proponents of tighter reins on government spending, including schools, but somehow this bond issue Nov. 20 doesn't seem to fall in the same category, even though it comes out of the same taxpayer pocket. Operations can be cut back, but it doesn't seem logical to build $1.5 million worth of modern, functional buildings and then not provide the equipment to make them functional.

It is unfortunate that the schools have to come back to the voting public again. It is too bad the big jump in construction costs couldn't have been foreseen and a little extra have been included in the bond issue.

But, the school board, as well as the other residents of the district, was a victim of circumstances in that cost jump. It would seem a shame to just chuck a promising education system for the youngsters of our district because of that.

The $250,000 bond issue the school board is asking next Monday will cost taxpayers a little extra, but not enough extra to warrant killing it. The money will provide for cabinets, book cases, tables and benches, kitchen equipment, classroom furniture and other items for the new neighborhood elementary schools. Some of these items can and will be transferred to the new schools from the one-room schools, but a lot of it is in poor condition and incompatible—impossible to integrate into the new schools on a workable basis.

We hate to think that St. Johns School District residents will leave their multi-million dollar building program half-finished. A yes vote Monday would finish it in a manner in which we could all be proud.

A referendum is in order

A referendum on the city income tax question is certainly in order following the St. Johns City Commission's narrow approval last Tuesday night.

The slim margin of 3-2 by which the income tax ordinance passed was not conclusive on the commission's feelings. On an issue that so vitally affects every family living in St. Johns, a more clear-cut decision is needed from our city fathers.

Now by due process of law the income tax has been voted in, with at least the 3-2 majority of the commissioners feeling that it has the blessing of the majority of residents of St. Johns. We think they erred in their judgment but certainly not in their right to make the judgment.

While the number of persons in the audience at last Tuesday's city commission meeting was only a handful compared to the complete citizenry, we think the audience's views represented far more people than were there. The commission erred in this interpretation.

About 40 persons stood up to speak out against the income tax, and most of them gave logical reasons for their opinions. Some were based on concrete facts but most were based on intangible factors. However intangible they were, most were logical.

For instance, one reason brought up against the income tax was that it would be a hindrance to the growth of business, industry and population in St. Johns. We believe this, although there is no concrete evidence to back it up. An income tax is only one more stumbling block to jump over in a community's progress and sense of pride.

There were other good reasons against an income tax, too, but the commission, as a majority-rule governing body, chose to ignore these, probably because they felt reasons for an income tax outweighed the objections. The commissioners should not be criticized for this.

But we feel there is enough opposition to their DECISION that the people of the community should now take the question into their hands with a public vote on the income tax. We support the current efforts for a referendum.

It hardly seems possible that the football season has passed already and that we are in that short doldrum period between athletic seasons. I guess one of the reasons for rapid passing of football is that I haven't seen as many games this year as I did last.

The sole reason for that was weather. The season could be described almost as "rotten" as far as weather and playing conditions were concerned. There were only a few Fridays toward the start of the season that it didn't snow or rain, and the combination of the chilly temperatures with the chilling rains have made the life of the spectator almost unbearable.

Equally important in my line work is the effect the weather has on our camera equipment. Cold weather reduces the number of flashes we are able to get out of one charging-up of our electronic flashes, and so if it is extremely cold we may not be able to finish off a roll of 10 exposures before the flash gives up the ghost.

IF NOTHING ELSE, rain will drive our cameras inside. We don't have the most expensive cameras made, but they do cost a considerable amount and they are used all the time. We consider it foolish to take them out in the rain, especially for the prolonged periods of time in which we have to prowl the sidelines at a football game. We can't afford the lost time to have them in for repairs all the time.

And taking pictures in wet snow has additional problems, too. Besides shortening the life cycle of the flash battery power and subjecting the camera to the wetness, the pictures invariably turn out with big white blobs or streaks as the light from the flash bounces back off the snow flakes.

Our photography work at football games has been, as it was last year, a team effort. Our ad manager, Rod Brown, and I have taken a camera out to a top game around the county, and Ted Loomis, our high school senior darkroom technician, has provided the pictures of the St. Johns games.

These are just words of information that might interest you if you wondered why we didn't get around to cover a certain football game. We have tried to cover, with pictures, at least two football games Involving each school in our service area, but because of the weather we haven't been able to. I think each school has been in at least once.

Now comes the basketball season, a photographer's paradise by comparison. Our only problem in covering basketball games around the county will be with the weather that might prevent us from even getting to the game. The playing conditions within the gym are very conducive to camera work.

See you at the games. —rink

Woman asks of commissioners who OK'd tax

I'd like to voice my opinion regarding the city income tax.

First of all, I don't think a city the size of St. Johns warrants an income tax. I'd like to ask Mr. Furry what effect this is going to have on the new high school in regard to acquiring qualified teachers for our children? Who in their right mind is going to come to St. Johns and give up 1 per cent of their salary when they can go someplace else and not have to.

Secondly, the city commissioners themselves are not in complete approval of this: in Lansing, Mayor Murningham was man enough to vote it down, because he didn't have full support of his commission. What gives three people in this town the right to speak for everyone?

LESS THAN FOUR years ago, there were three or four people working in city hall. It now takes at least twice that number to replace those who have retired. Why? The city hasn't grown that much.

Also, in the Municipal Report, they brainwashed (to use the popular expression) the senior citizens into thinking they would greatly benefit from this income tax. They might drop the property tax 2 mills for one year, but then watch out. Once they get their foot in the door, you've had it.

They also slammed the professional people plenty hard. I'd like to ask them what they would do if these same professional people pulled stakes and left town.

The Clinton County News has adjusted its policy concerning publication of the names of writers in letters to the editor. Names will be withheld from publication on request, but they will be made available to any person who inquires. The change in policy was made because we recognize there are occasions when worthwhile opinions might cause the writer problems but should be stated regardless. The new policy takes effect this week.

Also, the people from out of town who are expected to pay 1/2 per cent of their income. Is it their fault these smaller towns don't provide employment for them? They pay license fees, highway taxes, and gasoline tax to help pay for the roads and streets, and they also spend plenty of money in this town.

AND WHAT HAPPENS when people start pulling their savings accounts out of our local banks, and putting it in banks where they have no city income tax? And what happens when industry starts pulling out? The questions could go on and on and on.

If they want to make St. Johns a "ghost town," let them pass it. They will be mighty sorry we ourselves have to budget our money. Why can't the city be a little more careful in their spending?

Sincerely,
MRS. FRED FERNHOLZ

She's concerned about school over-budgeting

To Editor:

I have read with great concern, as a taxpayer, regarding the additional money the Clinton County school systems would like to secure (as printed in the Nov. 2, 1967, Lansing State Journal) in order to meet their on-coming school expenses.

Operating a school budget is most similar to operating a home budget. You buy what you can when you can afford it. If we ever over-buy at home we run into trouble. If we take on more commitments than we should (without bearing in mind unforeseen circumstances which may arise and upset the apple cart) we again run into trouble.

I feel sorry for the school board that has permitted a similar situation to arise, and for jumping to such conclusions in regard to spending money before they know where it is coming from.

At home when a family cannot afford what they would like, they go without—like fencing, seeding and landscaping. This can also be put in practice in the operation of our schools.

I would like a new cook stove. Our present one is 19 years old but still serves the purpose fine. Also we would like a new piano; ours is 32 years old. But, too, this is in good condition even though we would like a new one.

We will buy what we can when we know we can afford it. The Clinton County school system should do the same.

However, I am very much in favor of the tax increase for our new high school.

Most respectfully,

He challenges Hopper column on clergy topic

To Editor:

It seems to me that there are some large inaccuracies in the last column of "from the Hopper". I do not feel that it would be just or honest to let these go unchallenged and would like to make a few comments on them.

First of all, it is obviously true that we do have obligations to God and country. The payment of taxes is ordinarily accepted as one of those obligations to our country. At the same time it is our responsibility to see that these taxes are well spent. On the other hand, I doubt if any valid comparison can be made between one's taxes and risking one's life in the armed forces.

True, we do have a responsibility to serve and defend our country. Perhaps there are those who have little or no love for their country and feel no obligations toward it. However, I am positive that many of those who are in disagreement with the present policy of this country in Viet Nam are at the same time very loyal and patriotic toward their country. It could well be that the reason they are against this war is because of their concern and their loyal devotion to the ideals this country proclaims.

It is possible that to these men there is a great deal of difference between defending one's own country and defending someone else's country. This is especially true where we are not even sure

'Courtship' problems solved by proposed constitution change

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Michigan judges could be selected with a minimum of political involvement under a "Michigan Plan" amendment to the 1963 State Constitution proposed by a citizens' group.

IF RETAINED by voters, the judge serves until he dies, retires or resigns. If voters do not approve his tenure, another slate of candidates is offered by the panel and another three-year appointment is made by the governor.

for Judicial Selection and Tenure, the League of Women Voters, of Michigan, and the American Judicature Society, the group will attempt to obtain 350,000 signatures on petitions by next June to get the proposal before voters in the November 1968 election.

Such plans call for seven panel members: three attorneys appointed by the State Bar Assn; three citizens appointed by the governor; and a judge who serves as chairman. When a vacancy occurs on the bench, this panel screens possible replacements, then puts forward a slate of three or more whom it considers the best qualified candidates.

Coupled with the proposal for bench selections is machinery for removing or disciplining judges for misconduct or malfeasance in office. A commission is established to investigate complaints about the courts at all levels. Upon recommendation by the commission, the Supreme Court may hold a public hearing and remove a judge.

At a recent conference in Grand Rapids the citizens' committee pointed out that all state judges except the Wayne County District Court Judge are elected by popular vote.

THE APPOINTED judge serves for three years. He is then required to stand for election on his record only and without opposition. For example, voters in Missouri are confronted with this simple judicial ballot: "Shall Judge X of the Blank Court of Missouri be retained in office? YES, NO (scratch one)."

Such a program has been working well in California since 1960. Called the Commission of Judicial Qualifications, the group there is composed of five judges, two laymen and two lawyers. In seven years of existence, the commission has investigated more than 400 complaints, induced 30 judges to resign or quietly retire and recommended one removal.

AN EDITORIAL IN the Kansas City Star sums up the proved benefits of such a plan: "A judge doesn't have to borrow and spend money to conduct a campaign. He is not forced to make political promises to men who control votes. He does not have to answer to a political boss, nor does he need to accept campaign contributions from lawyers who will practice in his court. It is by far the best plan yet devised to keep the bench out of partisan campaigns."

There is an interesting story of the old sage who lived on the side of a mountain near a lake. It was common practice for the people of the village below to come to him for counseling and advice.

One day he noticed a young lad walking up the path past the lake toward his cabin. The boy walked up the hill and stood erect before the sage. The old man said, "What can I do for you young man?"

THE OLD SAGE listened intently and then cast his gaze at the ground for several moments. He silently rocked to and fro. Not a sound was heard except the creaking of the crude rocking chair.

The wise old man sat again in his creaky chair and silently rocked to and fro. After several moments he looked into the boy's questioning eyes and asked, "Young man, when you were out in that lake, under water, what . . ."

U.S. to bill Israel for ship's losses

Rep. Craig Hosmer (Calif.) . . . On Oct. 6 I wrote the Defense and State departments as to progress on settlement of the U.S.S. Liberty incident . . . as follows. (The condensed letter follows).

Hon. Craig Hosmer, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. Dear Congressman Hosmer: The secretary has asked me to reply to your letter of Oct. 6 requesting information as to the current status of preparations being made by the Department of State to claim compensation from the government of Israel for injuries occurring as a result of the attack on the U.S.S. Liberty by Israeli air and naval units.

The United States has demanded compensation for injuries suffered in the tragic attack on the U.S.S. Liberty and the government of Israel has expressed its regrets over the incident and has promised to make payment.

While some of the claims will accordingly be ready for presentation in the near future, others will, of course, require a longer period of time before they can be presented. For instance, in the case of personal injuries resulting in permanent impairment, it will not be possible to establish the degree of permanent impairment until medical treatment has been concluded.

do not hesitate to let me know. Sincerely yours, William B. Macomber Jr., Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Publicity regarding the U.S.S. Liberty has been conspicuous by its absence. Even congressmen have to write the Defense and State Departments for up-to-date information.

This columnist asked for, and was furnished, an unclassified transcript of the testimony before the Court of Inquiry convened by the Defense Department, to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the armed attack on the U.S.S. Liberty.

The transcript disclosed these facts: "The Israeli armed forces had ample opportunity to identify the LIBERTY correctly. Witnesses testified to significant surveillance of the LIBERTY on three separate occasions from the air at various times prior to the attack—five hours and 13 minutes before the attack, three hours and seven minutes before the attack, and two hours and 37 minutes before the attack . . ."

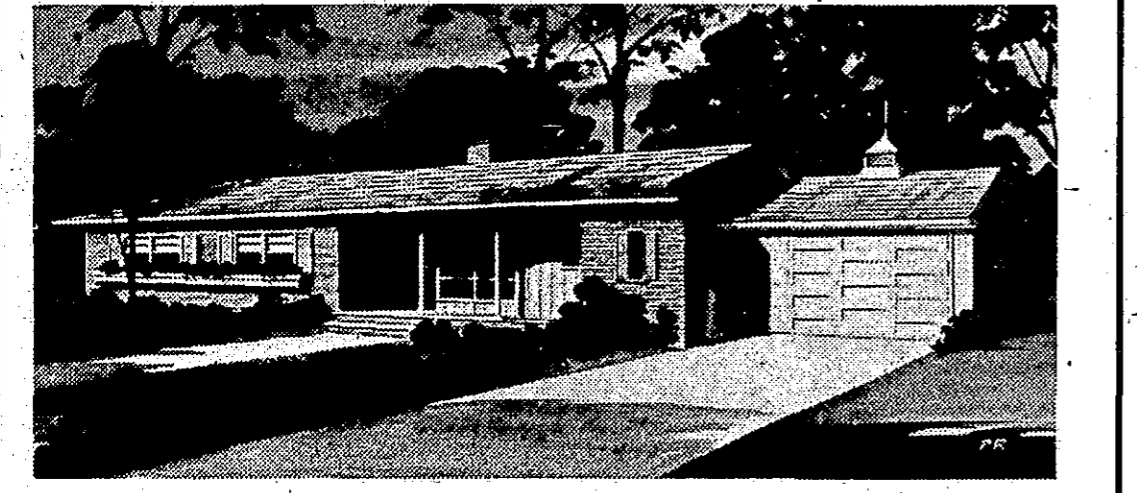

time approached closer than 13.6 nautical miles to land. . . . The testimony was taken under oath. Unclassified transcripts of the inquiry were made available to this column by Senator Robert P. Griffin and Rep. Guy Vander-Jagt, Senator Philip A. Hart also volunteered his version of the U.S.S. Liberty incident. —J.C.

Clean-up of new Girl Scout camping area starts in rain

A group of St. Johns Girl Scouts and several other council troops and their dads spent Saturday starting the clean-up of the Michigan Capitol Girl Scout Council's new camping site southwest of St. Johns.

Dismal weather didn't dampen the spirit of the girls, however. They worked—and had fun—cleaning up the barn and big hay loft on the 135-acre farm which the council bought last month.

The loft was the main point of interest. The council hopes to be able to use it for Girl Scout gatherings just as soon as possible. (However, a barn is a barn, the council's executive director, Miss Mona Heath, warned, and girls wanting to use it should have their tetanus shots to insure safety.)

THREE PROJECTS that will get top priority in the development of the camp site are a primitive-type well with hand pump which is hoped to be in operation next spring, a stairway going to the loft in the barn, and improvements on the lane leading from the farm yard off Parks Road south to the wooded areas of the camp.

Alton Dann, camp ranger for the Michigan Capitol Girl Scout Council, said the See Bees of Lansing were contacted and are going to work on several projects, including grading the lane to the woods, building a stairway entrance and exit to the loft, building some latrines, helping cut down and dispose of dead elms in the camping area, and repairing out-buildings on the farm.

The three-bedroom house on the farm—the former Leon Hoppes farm west of Grove Road on Parks—will be rented out in a short time, and revenue will go toward maintaining and repairing the camping site.

"IT MAY SEEM WE are moving slowly, but that's the way any permanent project is started," Dann said. "Several committees, along with expert advisors, will spend many hours developing the campsite down to the smallest details to insure that we receive the maximum use of the camp site and that it will progress and be better 20 years from now."

"We're working closely with all the soil conservation agencies and forest conservation departments on land management to assure us that the camp is developed properly for long-range use," Dann continued. "By using all of the information and help from these agencies which is available to us, this should develop into a beautiful camp site in the future."

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale is used for the development of Girl Scout camp properties, and the purchase of the Bengal Township site was made possible through those funds.
