Board studies bids on school additions

BULLETIN
The St. Johns School Board Tuesday night rejected all bids on the East Essex and Eureka school additions as being too high. They voted to readvertise for bids at the same time they open bids Jan. 18 for the new southeast and southwest schools.

The low combination of bids received last week figured out to nearly $24 per square foot, architect C. Douglas Pardee reported.

Bids received last week for the additions to the East Essex and Eureka elementary schools were still under consideration by the St. Johns Board of Education this week.

Five general contracting, three electrical and three mechanical bids were received at the regular board meeting last Wednesday evening.

Because the bids included not only the basics of the specifications but also alternate deductions and additions, it was impossible to immediately figure low bidders.

ARCHITECT DOUG Pardee reported back to the board last Thursday evening on preliminary studies of the bids, but not enough information had yet been obtained on which to make a decision.

It did appear, however, that construction bids were somewhat to considerably higher than had been anticipated.

The alternates involved in the bidding included the deduction of the proposed vestibules in each school, interior brick finish, two-inch blacktop and ceiling trim, and the addition of better floor material and addition of carpeting in the libraries.

Another alternate was the deduction of a special education room from the Eureka School.

THE RESULT OF all the alternates was a maze of figures which architect Pardee and the board of education have been studying.

Bidders include: General contract, Hungerford Construction Co. of Jackson, Slwek Construction Co. of Lansing, Granger Brothers Construction Co. of Lansing, Ackerman Construction Co. of Lansing and Karston Construction Co. of Grand Rapids; mechanical contract, Goller of Cedar Springs, Holwerda - Hulzinga of Grand Rapids and United Piping Co. of Lansing; and electrical contract, Fox Electric of Lansing, Martin Electric and Grand Valley Electric of Grand Rapids.

Preview of spring sports show set

The preview showing of plans for the 1967 Farm, Home and Sports Show of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce has been scheduled for next Monday evening at the Central National Bank community room.

First-hand information on the show will be available Monday, including photographs of similar shows held elsewhere, display models showing how booths will be set up, and signs and advertising material that will be used at the show.

Andrew Voorhees and Bryon Hudson, a promotional team from Flint and Houghton Lake who are handling the sale of booth space and the promotion of the show for the Chamber, will be present. Smith Hall and the surrounding buildings and grounds have already been rented for the spring show, scheduled for April 6, 7 and 8.

"This is your big opportunity to display your products and services before a mass audience," the Chamber said in a letter to prospective exhibitors. "This sport show will be a natural place for you to make contacts with potential customers—to work up mailing and prospect lists."

Wrapping up the elections

Watertown race still up in air

Drawing decides clerk race, but recount asked

HOSPITAL WORK WELL AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Steel beams were being set in place this week as contractors continued nearly a month ahead of schedule on the construction of new additions to Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns. Building Chairman Bill Barber said the addition should be closed in by December, allowing interior work to be done during the winter. Remodeling of the existing building will begin soon.

It may be six weeks yet before the Watertown Township election contest for township clerk will be definitely decided.

After three counts of the ballots by the election board last Tuesday and Wednesday and a counting by the canvassing board Thursday, there developed a two-way tie for the position.

Election laws provide for a drawing of lots to decide who the clerk will be. Mrs Mildred McDonough, who has been deputy clerk several years, won the drawing Friday. Mrs Opal Bancroft, the other candidate involved in the tie, is asking for a recount.

THE REQUIRED LEGAL form asking for the recount was filed with Clinton County Clerk Paul Wakefield Monday.

He said it could be up to the end of December before the county canvassing board legally could make the recount. Since the Watertown candidates were listed on the same ballot with state candidates, the ballots cannot be touched until the state canvassing board meets and a certain length of time passes during which state and district candidates can ask for recounts. The state canvassing board doesn't have to meet until Nov. 28.

After that time is past, the state releases the ballots to the local governments for any recounting that has to be done.

THE PROBLEMS developed in a township where there was originally no contest for local offices. But the incumbent clerk, Mrs Ruby Saxton, who was seeking reelection, died less than a week before the election. This set the stage for a sticker and write-in campaign.

Mrs McDonough, Mrs Bancroft, and Herman Openlander campaigned in the last days before the voting for election to the post of clerk.

The three-way sticker campaign resulted in such problems for the election board that at 5 a.m. Wednesday morning—nine hours after the polls had closed—they locked up shop and went home for a few hours of sleep before resuming the count.

BACK AT 9 O'CLOCK, they worked until 2:30 p.m. before finally reporting the results to County Clerk Wakefield. Their report, the result of four recounts, showed Mrs Bancroft the winner by one vote—189 to 188—over Mrs McDonough with Herman Openlander third with 101 votes.

Thursday morning the township board of canvassers met and spotted recording errors that resulted in a 190-190 tie.

Friday morning at 10 a.m., in the presence of the board of canvassers and the two Watertown precinct chairmen as witnesses as provided by law, the drawing was held, and Mrs McDonough won. Then Mrs Bancroft announced she would ask for a recount.

THERE WERE NO contests in the other offices of the township. Ernest Carter was reelected supervisor, Ed Kraft treasurer, Rollin Noble trustee and Herman Openlander and Richard Ackerman constables.

Watertown's second election on the question of becoming a charter township resulted in a "yes" decision. The final total vote was 449 in favor of becoming a charter township and 340 against it. In Precinct No. 1 the issue passed 251 and 176, and in Precinct No. 2 the vote was 198 yes and 168 no.

Supervisor Carter said he felt this vote "represented a good cross section of the voters and is more representative of the people's wishes" than the first special election a year ago was. It was defeated 67-48 at that time.

Carter said the township would probably change to its charter status about the first of the year.

Because of the late return of votes from Watertown Township last week, the Clinton County News was unable to publish the tabulation of votes for state and district offices. Here's that tabulation, with precinct No. 1 totals listed first and Precinct No. 2 listed second:

Commission picks Coletta mayor; Furry vice mayor

Charles Coletta was chosen by fellow commissioners Monday night to be the mayor of St. Johns for the next two years.

A unanimous ballot was cast for Coletta, Sealed Power executive who has been on the city commission for years. He succeeds Jack Smit, who did not seek reelection to the commission this year. Coletta earlier served as mayor of St. Johns in 1956.

Newly elected Commissioner John Furry was named vice mayor by the other commissioners in a session where the new commission organized itself and appointed members to various boards and committees under the framework of city government.

FURRY AND Mrs Robert Rand, both new commissioners, were officially sworn in to their new positions last Friday.

Other appointments effective following the Monday night organizational meeting are:

Charles Coletta and Lorenz Tiedt were named City representatives on the Clinton County Board of Supervisors and City Clerk Don Clark and City Atty. Harold Reed are also members as specified by the city charter. There is no change in the city's representation on the board.

There is also no change in the city's administrative force. Reed continues as attorney for the city.

New ad deadlines effective Nov. 24

The Clinton County News advertising deadlines for both display and classified advertising have been established as 5 p.m. Monday preceding publication. This change in the deadline is necessary to insure that all advertising and news copy can be accurately handled by our staff.

The new deadlines will go into effect next week.

city, Don Clark as assessor and clerk, Ken Greer as manager and Don Betterly as treasurer.

MRS BARBARA MacKinnon was appointed to the library board for a term running to November 1971, filling a vacancy which has been overlooked for several years. Other members of the board and the expiration date of their appointments are Mrs Jean Bartholomew 1970, Mrs R. L. Wohlers 1969, Mrs Beulah Ballantine 1968 and Basil Dierbert 1967.

The commission appointed James McKenzie to the three-man board of review replacing Justin Marzke, whose term had expired. Other members of the review board are George McCurry 1968 and C. Douglas Pardee 1967.

William Graef and Edward Sulka were reappointed to three-year terms on the city planning commission, and Mrs Jeanne Rand was named an ex-officio member of the group replacing Charles Coletta who serves automatically as mayor. Mrs Rand's term will be for the full term of her office—six years. Other members of the planning commission are Dorr Anderson 1967, St. Clare Pardee 1967, Duane Wirick 1968, William Morris 1968, Ken Greer 1968 and Coletta 1968.

City puts $1,200-per-acre tag on land school wants

The City of St. Johns will ask $1,200 per acre for the land the St. Johns School District wants to buy to complete its high school site.

The $1,200 figure is one which Fitzgerald and Fitzgerald, Trenton appraisers, came up with in an appraisal of the land, located south of the city park football field and south of Sickles Street. Slightly over six acres are involved. The schools are presently leasing the land for school use, but they want to purchase it so they can locate the high school on the high point of land in that area. The high point includes some of the city-owned property.

THE COMMISSION Monday unanimously agreed to ask for the appraised price, and they passed a resolution asking for that amount. The resolution will be forwarded to the school board.

On another school related matter, the commission talked for some time but took no formal action pending more study. This involved the need for sewer system changes to accommodate the new high school in the southwest part of the city.

The engineering firm of Williams and Works, after studying the problem and the city's sewer system, recommended a $226,000 project, but commissioners were quick to point out Monday night they have no $226,000 to do the recommended job, and they didn't feel it should be rightfully done yet.

SOME WORK WILL have to be done—probably next summer—to provide the bare essentials for handling the sewer needs at the new high school. The commission's concern Monday evening in their discussion was how much of the cost should be assessed against the schools.

Williams and Works said those bare necessities include repairing three blocks of 10-inch sewer along the railroad tracks between Kibbee and Swegles, rebuilding of the present sewage lift station on South US-27 at the extension of Baker, and the installation of a sewer line up Sickles from Lansing Street to the school site. City Manager Ken Greer estimated the cost at about $40,000.

The sewer line would be a necessity, the city pointed out, to get sewage to the present main on Lansing. The lift station would have to be enlarged to handle a greater capacity of sewage which would result from the larger high school.

THE REPAIR OF THE sewer along the tracks would put back (See $1,200 TAG, Page 2-A) been serving on that body. Other members of the board are Don Britten 1966, Ken Munger 1967, Ink White 1968, and Walt Pierce 1967.

Also appointed officially were members of the Mayor's Committee on Low-Rent Housing and the Mayor's Downtown Committee. No changes in the membership of those two groups were made.

The Mayor's Committee on Low-Rent Housing consists of Rev Hugh Banninga, F. Earl Haas, William Graef, Rev Gerald Churchill, Mrs Vera McKenzie, Mrs Betty Penix, Ray Osborn, Leon Brewbaker and Mrs Kay Williams.

The Mayor's Downtown Committee includes Bill Barber, Ink White, Roy Briggs, Robert Conn, Alan Dean, Bernard Feldpausch, Gerald Irner, Lester Lake, Frasier MacKinnon, Ray Osborn, St. Clair Pardee, Ray Parr, Walt Pierce, Robert Prowant, John Rehmann, Bill Richards Jr., Conn Selm, Rex Strrine, Al Walker and Don Warstler.

NO ACTION WAS taken on the appointment of a marshal or a health officer, although the health officer position was discussed in light of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department and will be brought up again at the next meeting Dec. 7.

Greer was appointed the city's legislative contact man for the Michigan Municipal League.

into service a 10-inch main that has been closed for a number of years. Presently sewage is diverted east from North Kibbee to North Scott Road, from where it goes north and then back west to the sewage plant. But Williams and Works says the Scott Road sewer is not large enough to handle the increased flow the school would create.

The only logical solution, they said, would be to repair the closed sewer along the railroad.

The commission decided to talk the problem over further before approaching the school board with it.

IN OTHER miscellaneous business Monday night, the commission established the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 7:30 p.m. as their regular meeting dates. These are the same as in the past.

A total of $93,237.91 in bills was approved for payment, including two large payments to contractors on the curb-gutter and water main work.

Board sells 2 unused one-room rural schools

Two of the St. Johns School District's one-room schools—both not in use anymore—were sold by the board of education last Wednesday evening.

The Church School, located on leased land on Baldwin Road in Gratiot County, was sold by sealed bid and went to Kenneth Yordy of R-3, St. Johns, for $25. Yordy's was the only bid received. Only the school building was involved in the transaction.

About 15 persons were on hand, but only two bid on the Page School building and property on Chandler north of Maple Rapids Road. Jack Smit of St. Johns was the high bidder and the school board sold the building and about a half-acre of land with it to Smit for $1,100.

national Bank and Trust Co. for investing the $5.4 million which the board will get Nov. 21 from the sale of school construction bonds. Some $5,350,000 of it will be invested in both short-term and long-term U.S. treasury notes;

State ski map now available

The 1966-67 edition of the popular Michigan Winter Sports Map, listing winter sports centers and their facilities, is now available for free distribution, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The map locates 83 centers, including 15 in the Upper Peninsula, 38 in west Michigan, 19 in east Michigan and 11 in south-east Michigan.

Sixty-four centers have skiing only, four have tobogganing only and 15 have facilities for both sports.

Copies of the map and other winter vacation information can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

the other $50,000 has already been committed in the form of site purchases and architects' fees.

The schools will get the $5.4 million in bond money next Monday when President Ray Parr and Secretary Fred Meyer of the board of education go to Detroit to sign the school bonds with the Bank-of-the-Commonwealth.

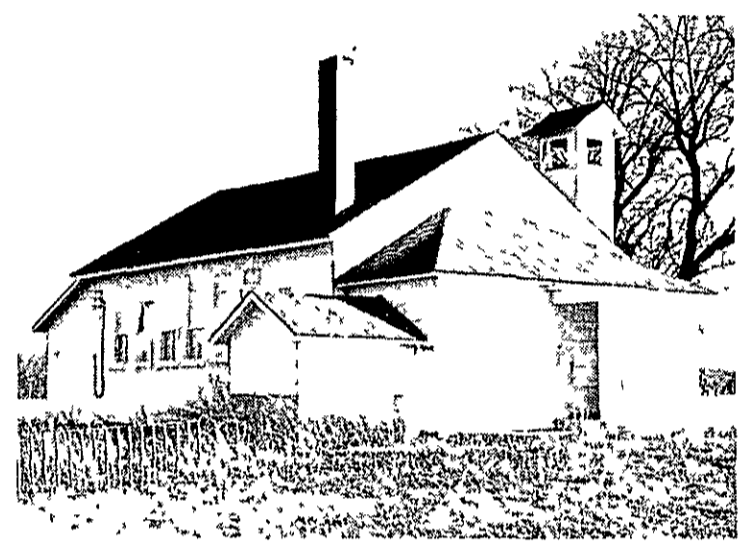

THE PROPOSED new neighborhood elementary schools in the southern parts of the school district now have names. The southwest school, to be located at Lowell and Pratt roads, will be called the Riley Elementary School, and the other, on Green Road west of Krepps, will be called the East Olive Elementary School.

The board also voted to purchase a rear scraper blade for its tractor from Phillip's Implement Co. and a front blade for snow removal from Oliver Montague.

In a special meeting Thursday night, high school architect Guido Binda presented the board with a front elevation drawing of the proposed new building.

Chest drive sputters

Clinton County's Communities Chest drive is sputtering at about the $10,000 level!

Only a little over $1,000 was turned in during the last week to Chest drive treasurer Charles Huntington, bringing the total amount contributed to date to slightly over $10,000.

Huntington said he was certain much more than that has been donated by residents of the county but it has just not been turned into him yet. Later reports by workers this week are expected to swell the total.

The drive still lags, however, and is considerably short of its goal of $26,500. Contributions to the communities Chest benefit nine public agencies: the American Red Cross, Lansing Child Guidance, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, St. Vincent PePaul Society, 4-H Fair Fund, Michigan United Fund and the Michigan Children's Aid Society.

Democratic committee to meet tonight

The Clinton County Democratic Committee will meet tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the community room of the Central National Bank in St. Johns. The county delegates will also meet at the same time to elect half of the executive committee who will begin their new terms Jan. 1. Coffee will be served.

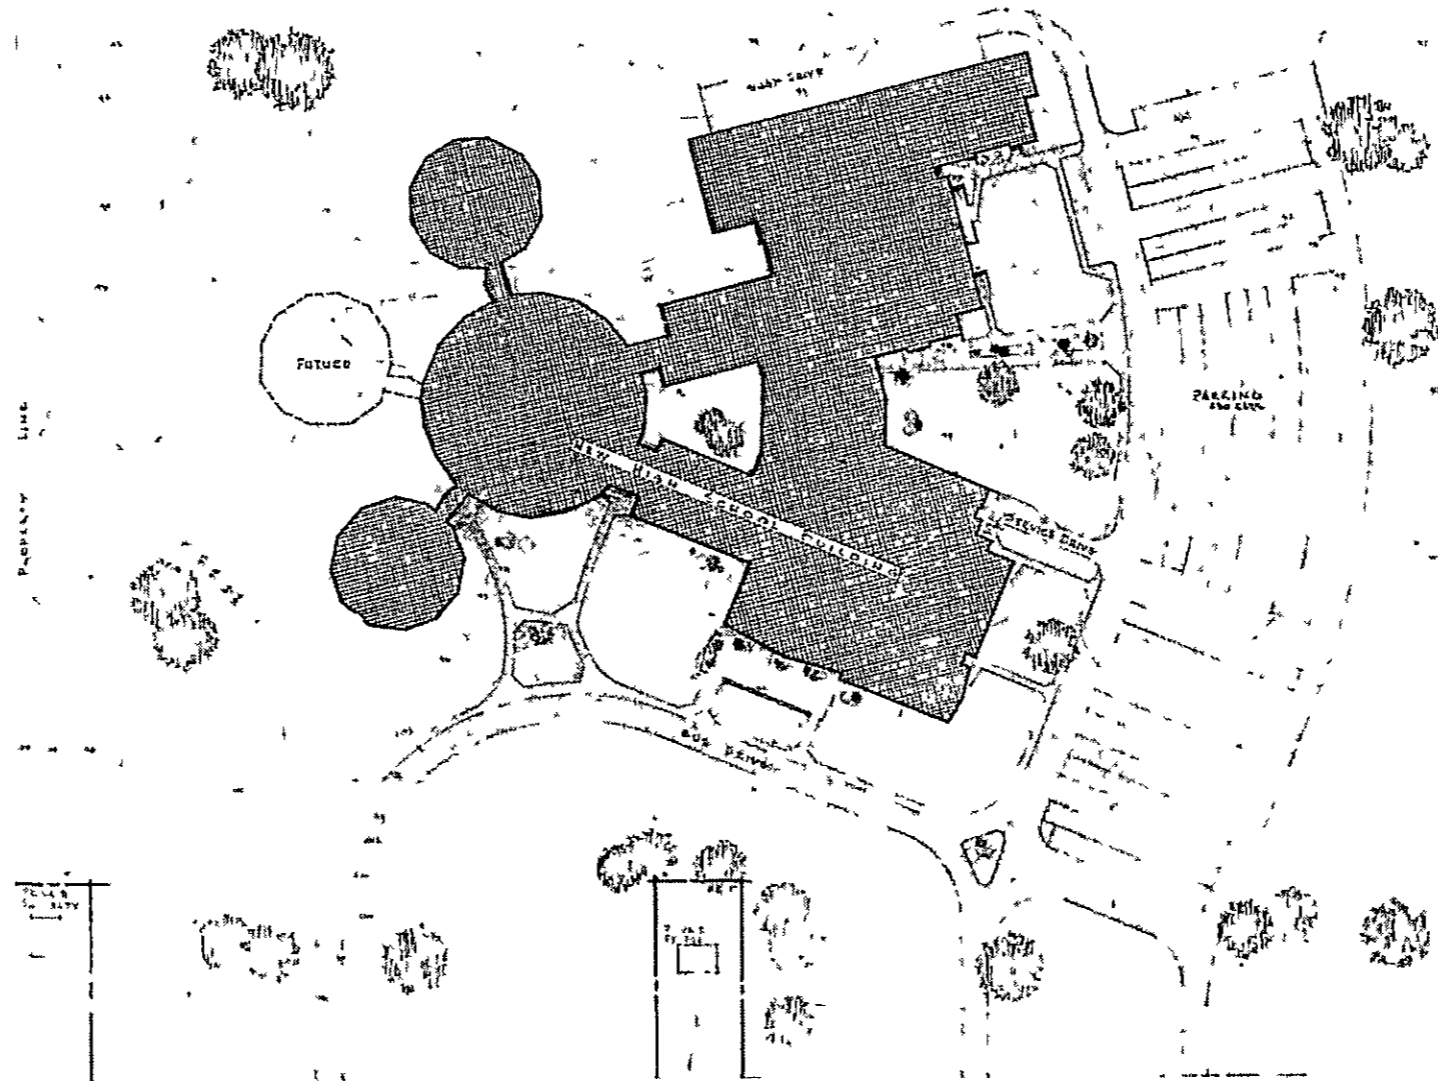

Everything seems to be higher today—even blood pressure.

New state map contract awarded

For the fourth consecutive year, Michigan Lithographing Co. of Grand Rapids will print Michigan's official state highway map.

The state administrative board has approved the award of a contract to the Grand Rapids firm to print one million copies of the 1967 highway map for $46,950.

The new map is scheduled to be off the press by March 1.

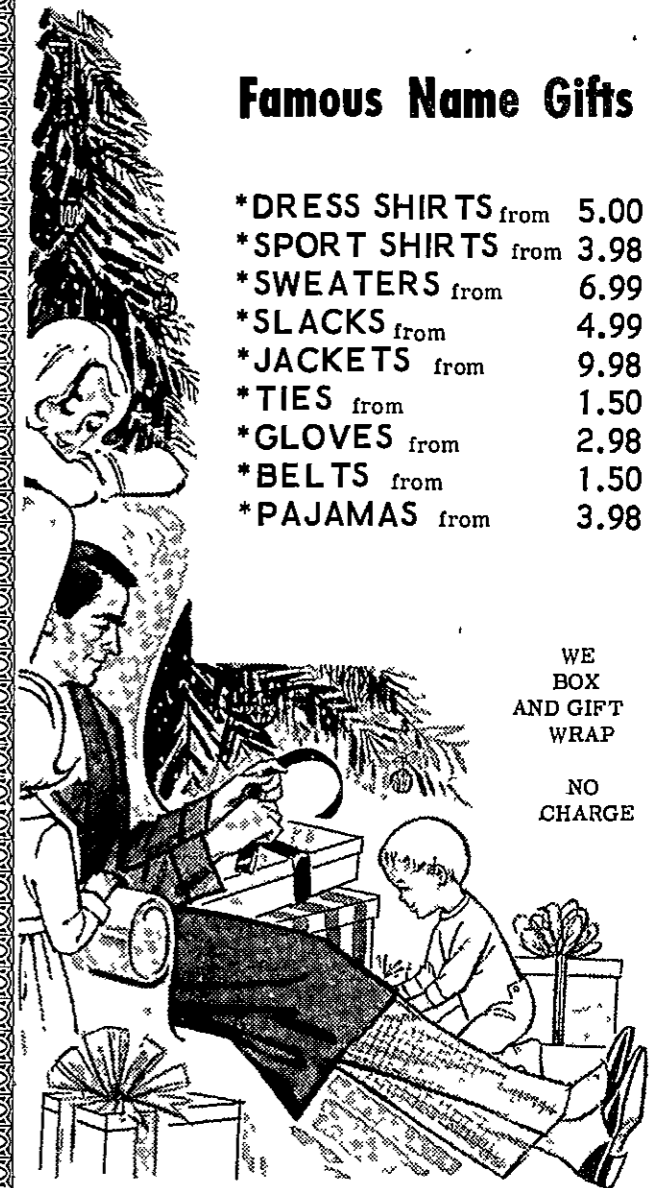

SITE LOCATION FOR PROPOSED ST. JOHNS HIGH SCHOOL

This is the site plan accepted by the St. Johns School Board for location of the proposed new high school. The top of the map in this instance is south; Sickles Street runs along the bottom from left (east) to right (west). The school property surrounds private property (at lower center). Parking will be provided for some 430 cars to the west of the building. Buses will pick up and discharge students from the front entrance.

Record 91 persons get medical self-help diplomas at Fowler

FOWLER—Ninety-one persons received diplomas last Tuesday night marking the successful completion of a nine-lesson course in medical self-help at Fowler. It was the largest self-help class to graduate in the county.

Clinton County Civil Defense Director Charles Frost said a total of 121 persons took one or more of the lessons, and 102 were eligible to take the final test last Tuesday night.

"The people of Fowler should be congratulated for participation in this course," Frost said. "And credit should go to Sections and Corners Extension group for sponsoring the lessons."

Pair wed 25 years

A mock wedding took place with Cindy, Robert and Sharon Vitek wearing the original clothes worn 25 years ago by the bride, groom and maid of honor respectively.

The Most Rev Alexander Zaleski, bishop of the Diocese of Lansing, and the Most Rev M. MRS TERRY LEE ORDWAY

Sheila Anne Sleight is recent bride

ST. JOHNS—Terry Lee Ordway claimed as his bride the former, Miss Sheila Anne Sleight Oct. 20. Rev Edwin F. Schoettle officiated at the double ring ceremony.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church of St. Johns was the wedding setting.

The new Mrs Ordway is the daughter of Mrs Wendell Sleight of 2360 E. Price Road, St. Johns and the bridegroom is the son of Mr and Mrs Aaron Ordway of 4387 S. Krepps Road, St. Johns.

Given in marriage by her brother, Rick Sleight, the bride approached the altar wearing a floor length gown of satin fashioned with a sheath style skirt and a chapel train. The gown featured reembroidered lace at the natural waist and on the skirt. She carried a cascade arrangement of white chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

MISS CONNIE Hall, cousin of the groom, of St. Johns was the maid of honor. Gayla Gill, cousin of the bride, of Howell, Gorene Steadman of Mason and Linda Castner, cousin of the groom, of St. Johns were the bridesmaids.

They wore floor length gowns with gold brocade bodices and crepe skirts. The gowns were empire styled and featured detachable wateau trains. Their flowers were cascades of bronze, gold and yellow chrysanthemums.

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S wedding, Mrs Sleight wore a green brocade ensemble and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a yellow and gold outfit with a white orchid corsage.

Beginner's Luck?

Tony Fabis Jr. of R-1, Elsie, brought down an eight point buck on his father's farm last Wednesday, Nov. 2, at about 5:30 p.m. When dressed out it weighed 160 pounds. Tony brought the buck down with a 25 pound pull bow and was about 25 feet away. This is Tony's first year to hunt with a bow and arrow. He is 13 and in the eighth grade at Elsie Junior High School.

Deer storage law has few changes

Lucky hunters who return with a deer will have little difficulty in complying with statewide meat inspection regulations of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Dressed and cut-up deer may be stored in commercial locker plants with other foods as in the past if the skins and hides are not included. Deer with hides on, or deer hides or skins must be stored in separate rooms apart from other provisions.

STATE VETERINARIAN J. F. Quinn said a few hunters take their deer to licensed slaughtering establishments for processing. In such cases deer must be processed at a time other than during the plant's regular slaughtering and processing of livestock operation.

"The one new rule of concern to deer hunters applies only to the handling of deer at commercial slaughter establishments and does not concern locker plants," said Dr. Quinn.

"The rule is in conjunction with enforcement of the statewide meat inspection law which became effective this year. The reason for the regulation on deer, which also applies to butchering of other wild game, is to protect the public food supply from the possibility of contamination."

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held a special meeting last week for labor negotiations. The next regular meeting will be held Friday, Nov. 18. Two more labor meetings are scheduled for this month, one this week Wednesday and one on Monday, Nov. 28.

The Commission and the Union are going over an entirely new contract section by section. Many changes have been made and agreement has been reached on most sections. Only those sections dealing with arbitration and the economic proposals remain to be discussed. The meetings have been amicable.

BIDS WERE opened at the last regular meeting for the November and December gasoline requirements. Marathon Oil Co. was the low bidder and was awarded the contract. Bids were also taken for the removal of 1,400 dead trees from primary roads. The Quality Tree Service was low bidder and was awarded the contract. William Robinson of that company said that work on this project would start this month.

The snow storm and heavy rains left many roads in poor condition. One casualty of the severe weather was the new bridge at Elsie. The blacktop surface failed to cure properly and the bridge had to be closed.

WE WANT TO thank the Ovid-Elsie High School band, Derrill Shinabery, Paul Wakefield, George Moore, Durward Conklin, the newspaper, radio and television stations and many others for their participation in the ceremony dedicating the bridge and honoring our retiring commissioner George Libbey.

Nine Redwings on all conference teams

Nine members of the 1966 St. Johns Redwings conference championship football team were named to all conference honors.

Four members, Rick Liszewski, Terry Thurston, Gary Boyce and Randy Humphrey, all seniors, were named to the first team.

THREE, Craig Knight and Tim Spitzley, seniors and Norman Love a junior were named to the

Tie-breaker snaps contest snarl

But for the tie-breaker, the Clinton County News football contest of last week would have wound up with five people sharing the $20 prize. But using that tie-breaker score, John Estes of 404 E. State Street, St. Johns, emerged the winner.

Estes and four others missed only three games in their selection. The others were Iva Halsted of Maple Rapids, Chaney W. Downing of Middleton, Luane Lambert of 808 W. Park, St. Johns, and Mrs Keith Barrett of 810 N. Clinton, St. Johns.

But Estes had a tie-breaker score of 32, which despite being eight points higher than the actual total of points in the Ohio State-Iowa game, was closer than the others, and so Estes won. In the regular selection he missed the Greenville-Belding game which ended in a tie, he picked Pottersville to win (they got beat by Morrice) and Chesaning to win (they got beat by St. Charles).

The season's final football contest appears this week on Page B-8.

JVs whomp Ionia 43-13

By GAY BOND

The St. Johns JVs triumphantly ended their season on a happy note, overpowering once-beaten Ionia 43-13 last week.

Ionia's Mark Toller capitalized on St. Johns errors and scored the first TD of the evening. The conversion was no good and Ionia led 6-0.

Keeping their poise, the JVs scored next with Chuck Romig breaking through for the touchdown. The extra point was no good and the score was tied 6-6.

Early in the second quarter Kurt Hildorf scampered in for a TD. The score stood 12-6.

AFTER MANY set-backs, St. Johns scored on a 47-yard jaunt by Phil Knight. The scoreboard showed the JVs ahead 18-6.

Johns put on a sustained drive and scored with one minute left in the half. Hildorf scored on an end-run and the extra point was no good. The half concluded with the score St. Johns 24, Ionia 6.

St. Johns, taking advantage of an Ionia fumble, scored again. Going through the line, Romig tallied the TD. The conversion was no good.

Ed Molnet stole the ball from the Bulldogs on the 50 and romped to a defensive TD. The pass from Tim Durner to Terry Maters for the extra point was good. The JVs led 37-6.

The third period ended when Craig Bartholomew hauled in a pass to the 2-yard line. Hildorf dove over the center for the TD. With this, St. Johns ended their scoring spree. Ionia slowly worked down to the goal line with Dade Allen finally scoring. The JVs came home with a 43-13 victory.

Young archer gets his deer

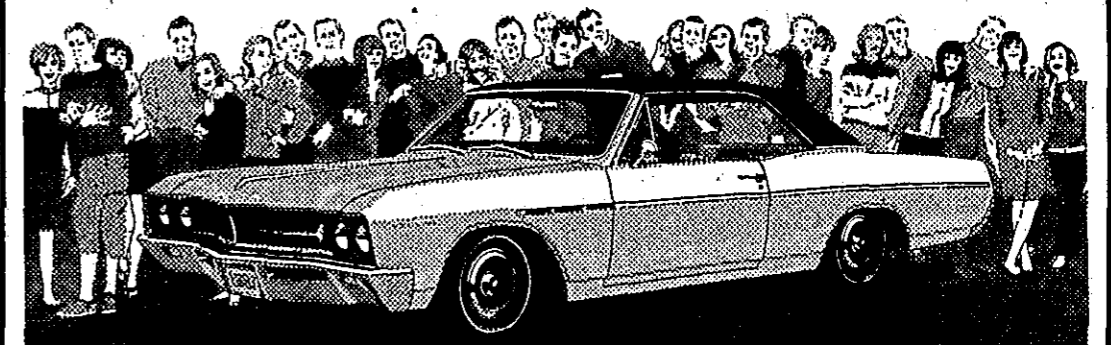

FOWLER — Danny Fedewa, a freshman at Fowler High School, has a nine-point buck to his credit after nearly a complete archery season of waiting and hunting.

On Nov. 5, the last day of the archery season, Fedewa was hunting northwest of Fowler when he sighted his buck, shooting it from about 50 feet with a 30 to 35-pound bow.

The deer weighed 190 pounds when dressed out. It took seven shots to kill the animal.

Redwings down Marauders 44 - 7 to win final game

By Steven Hopko

The St. Johns Redwings' journey to Elsie to play the Ovid-Elsie in their final game of the season was a success as the West Central Conference Champions downed the Marauders 44-7.

Nine Redwings seniors made their final appearance for St. Johns. Included in this group were two backs and seven linemen. The backs were Gary Boyce and Randy Humphrey. In the line were Rick Liszewski, Terry Thurston, Jon Tatroe, Gary Silm, Craig Knight, Tim Spitzley and Jim Smith.

THE MARAUDERS were fired up for their finale with St. Johns, but could not contain the explosive running of Boyce, Humphrey and Green. These three St. Johns backs combined for a net gain in rushing of 361 yards while the Redwing defense was holding Ovid-Elsie to a net of 77 yards.

Boyce picked up 146 yards on 18 carries to go over the mile in yards rushing for his high school career. Humphrey picked up 78 yards on 10 carries and Green rolled up 136 yards on 17 carries. The Redwings other eight yards of rushing came on Fuzzy Thurston's romp up the middle.

THE REDWINGS stuck to a ground attack as they scored in every quarter. Norm Love threw one pass to Humphrey for 13 yards and Boyce threw one to Downing which was incomplete. This was the extent of the Redwing passing attack.

Ovid-Elsie stayed on the ground the first quarter and was held to 36 yards. In the next three quarters, quarterback Mike Seibert, threw 15 passes, completing four for 100 yards and having two intercepted by the Redwings. Seibert threw one pass to halfback Jerry Gazda for 48 yards late in fourth quarter.

FOUR OF THE Redwing scores came on mistakes by the Marauders. Six times, Ovid-Elsie fumbled with the Redwings recovering three times and turned all three into scores. Of the two pass interceptions, St. Johns scored on one. The other three St. Johns scores came on drives of 72, 48 and 43 yards.

The Ovid-Elsie score also came on a miscue by the Redwings. With left guard Terry Thurston carrying the ball late in the fourth quarter, Thurston fumbled with the Marauders recovering on their own 42. Two first downs gave the Marauders a first down on the Redwing 26. Here, Seybert hit Gazda with a pass in the left flat and Gazda went the remaining yards to score. This score came with seven seconds left in the ball game. Bob Wilber hit left tackle for the extra point.

THE REDWINGS took the opening kickoff and put on a 72 yard drive for their first score. Humphrey picked up 46 yards in the drive and went the last four on a reverse to the right to score. Boyce kicked the extra point to put St. Johns in the lead 7-0.

Ovid-Elsie took the ensuing kickoff on their own 22. Five plays later Seybert fumbled and Fuzzy Thurston recovered for St. Johns on the Marauder 47. Green and Humphrey ate up the yardage with Green going the last five up the middle to score. Boyce's try for the extra point was wide to the right and the Redwings led 13-0 as the first quarter came to a close.

EARLY IN THE second quarter the Marauders moved from their own 21 to the St. Johns 33. Here Seybert again fumbled with Redwing guard Joe Kellen recovering. The Redwings moved to the Ovid-Elsie five before Boyce fumbled and the Marauders Stuart Conkin recovering.

Ovid-Elsie moved out to their own 16 before they ran out of downs and were forced to punt. St. Johns took over on the Marauder 42. Boyce, Green and Humphrey combined to carry it to the one. Green then hit the center for the score. Boyce's kick was good and the half ended with St. Johns leading 20-0.

The Redwings kicked off to start the second half and the Marauders took over on their own 23. On the third play, Seybert's pass was intercepted by John Salemi who returned it to the Marauder 15. Boyce made nine through left tackle, then on a delay, he went up the middle for the last six to score. His kick was wide and St. Johns led 26-0.

DENNIS Barrett of Ovid-Elsie returned the kickoff 21 yards to his 25. On the third play, Seybert dropped back and threw a long pass downfield, intended for Gazda. Humphrey stepped in front of the intended receiver, intercepted and returned it to the Marauder 43.

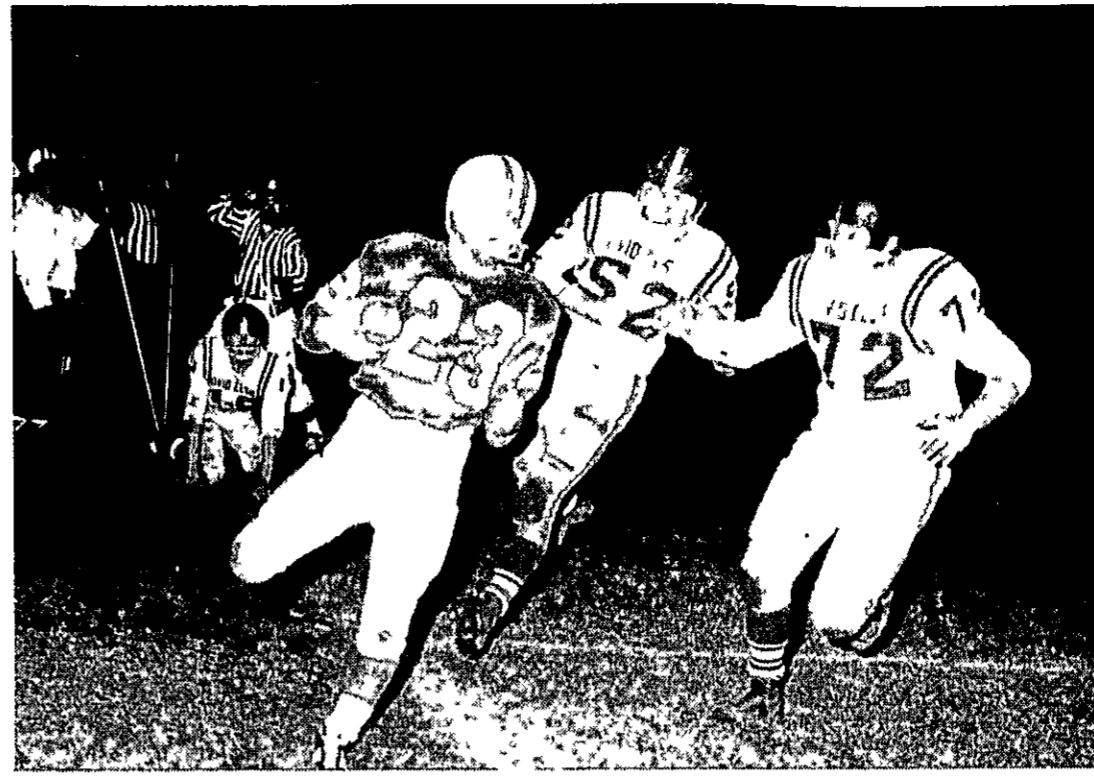

On a reverse to the right Humphrey picked up 15 yards to the 28. Here Mike Green took the ball up the middle and with a great block by guard Jon Tatroe went all the way to score, and St. Johns led 32-0.

straight plays and the Redwings took over on downs on the Ovid-Elsie 43. On the fifth play Boyce hit left tackle for the last four yards and another Redwing score to make it 38-0.

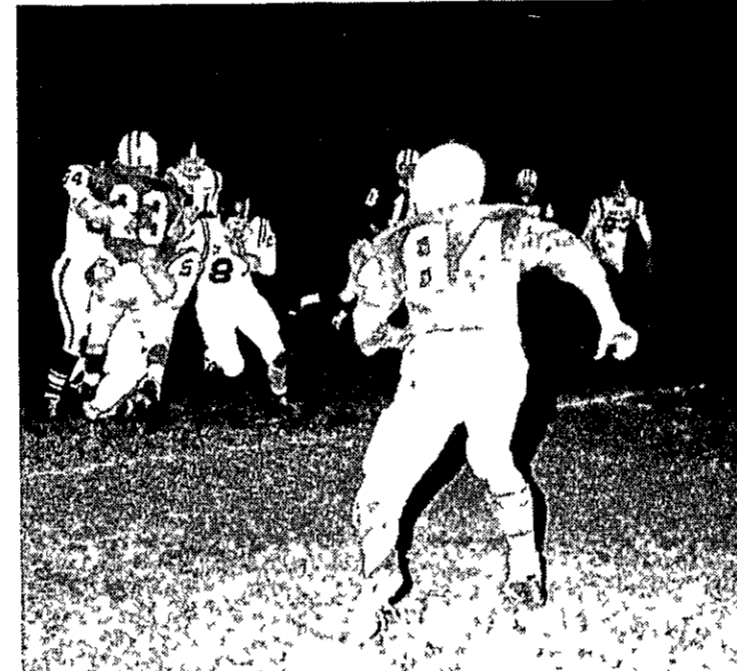

Gazda returned the kickoff 17 yards to his own 24. On the second play, Seybert was hit and fumbled with Craig Knight of St. Johns recovering on the Marauder 18.

BOYCE CARRIED three times with the last one for a yard and the score to put the Redwings in the lead 44-0 with five minutes remaining in the game.

Ovid-Elsie lost the ball on downs twice and the Redwings lost it twice on fumbles before the Marauders put together their one drive for a score.

The Redwings Gary Boyce (23) is run out of bounds after a 15 yard gain by Gailen Thornton (52) and Larry Kindel of Ovid-Elsie. Quarterback Mike Seybert and the referee watch from the sidelines.

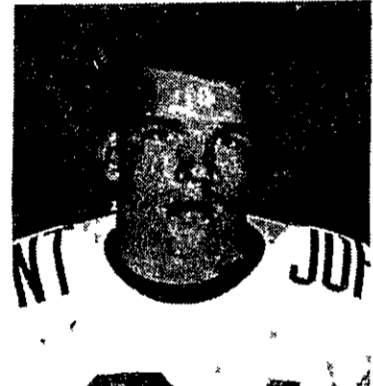

Gary Boyce (23) of St Johns runs into a quartet of Marauders after a 12 yard gain as Terry Hart (84) rushes in. The Marauders include Larry Randolp (64), Gailen Thornton (52), Lee Jenks (81) and Jerry Gazda (41).

Boyce races past a mile in rushing

Gary Boyce, the 150 pound senior halfback of the St. Johns Redwings completed his high school career at Elsie last Friday by raising his rushing total to over the mile mark. Boyce did this in two years on the varsity squad.

Boyce has carried the ball 120 times this year for a rushing total of 1252 yards. In the 1965 season, Boyce carried the ball 71 times for 609 yards.

FOR THE TWO seasons, this gives Boyce 1861 yards on 191 carries, 101 yards past the coveted mile in rushing.

In his two seasons on the Redwing varsity, Boyce has averaged 9.8 yards per carry. In his junior year, he averaged 8.6 yards per carry. This past year he has averaged 10.43 yards per carry.

THIS PAST YEAR, Boyce's high and low yardage has ranged from 45 yards in seven carries (6.42 average) against Greenville on Sept. 23 to 227 yards on 12 carries (18.75 average) against Charlotte on Oct. 21.

In addition to his rushing, Boyce has caught 14 passes in the last two years for 226 yards, or 16 yards per catch. This is not included in his rushing totals.

BOYCE IS THE third Redwing in recent history to break the coveted mile in rushing. He ranks behind John Vitek who reached this mark in his senior year, 1964. Vitek carried 240 times for 1958 yards in his career at St. Johns. This was an average of 8.2, two yards a carry behind Boyce's average. Vitek's total was for three years, while Boyce accomplished his in two.

Boyce and Vitek rank second and third behind Dale Knight, who in three years of varsity football for the Redwings rolled to over the 2000 yard mark.

Note to bowling secretaries

The Clinton County News is again this year publishing the results of weekly bowling activity in area bowling leagues in view of the high interest in that sport. Deadlines must be imposed, however, to prevent a surge of reports on Tuesday, our final production day. League secretaries MUST mail or deliver their weekly report to the office of the Clinton County News within two days of their bowling date; this is because our staff is not large enough to handle all the copy on Tuesdays.

Copy delivered beyond those deadlines will be used only if time permits the preparation of the material after other work is done, and if space permits.

NIGHT HAWK LEAGUE—Beck's Farm Market and Randolph's Digging Service are tied for the league lead after last Tuesday's bowling and are six games ahead of their nearest

Clinton voters went along with others around the state in turning down the proposed amendment that would allow 18-year-olds to vote, rejecting it 4,892 yes to 6,285 no. Here's how each precinct voted on that issue:

Bath 1, 195 yes, 234 no. Bath 2, 178 yes, 192 no. Bath absentee voters, 10 yes, 15 no. Bengal, 133 yes, 148 no. Bingham, 180 yes, 264 no. Dallas, 258 yes, 284 no. DeWitt 1, 224 yes, 293 no. DeWitt 2, 142 yes, 191 no. DeWitt City, 145 yes, 233 no. DeWitt 4, 128 yes, 138 no. DeWitt 5, 282 yes, 367 no. Duplain 290 yes, 380 no. Eagle 180 yes, 283 no. Essex 197 yes, 210 no. Greenbush 198 yes, 228 no. Lebanon 76 yes, 97 no. Olive, 201 yes, 324 no. Riley 117 yes, 183 no. Victor 182 yes, 178 no. Watertown 1, 170 yes, 271 no. Watertown 2, 144 yes, 232 no. Westphalia 273 yes, 294 no. St. Johns 1, 306 yes, 422 no. St. Johns 2, 297 yes, 363 no.

Neighboring Laingsburg had several issues on its ballot Nov.

8. Voters turned down a liquor by the glass proposal 132 yes to 256 no and also soundly defeated a proposal to change the name of the village to "Sleepy Hollow" to help identify it with the proposed new state park northwest of there. That vote was 27 in favor and 363 opposed.

Liquor by the glass also figured in the issues being voted on in Gratiot County, Arcadia Township there approved the measure 262 to 172, while Seville Township OK'd it 271-244.

There was a mix-up in the voting machine ballots in Bath and DeWitt Townships last Tuesday. The two townships are in the 6th Congressional District, but the ballots carried the names of the 3rd District candidates, Democrat Paul H. Todd Jr. and Republican Garry Brown.

County Clerk Wakefield said the error was discovered about a half-hour after the polls opened. Election workers quickly corrected the names on the machines. He noted that his order to the Kalamazoo firm which printed the machine ballots was correct, but the ballots were shipped directly from the printers to the township clerk and no one caught the error in time. Apparently there will be no further action taken, because the race between the two 6th District candidates, Democrat Lee Wenke and Republican Charles Chamberlain wasn't close.

As Clinton went, so went the rest of the counties in the various national and state representative and senate districts.

In the 3rd U. S. congressional district, incumbent Paul Todd lost to Garry Brown, the Republican. Brown had a total of 66,385 votes to Todd's 62,075. Brown carried Clinton 5,423 to 2,946.

Incumbent Republican Representative Charles Chamberlain of the 6th District won reelection by a vote of 84,515 to 41,234 over Democrat Lee Wenke. In Clinton Chamberlain had an edge of 2,062 to 1,289 in Bath and DeWitt Townships.

STATE SEN. EMIL Lockwood of St. Louis easily defeated Joe Kurka Jr. by a total margin of 42,884 votes to 22,678 votes. He built up the margin in all parts of the district, which includes parts of Ingham, Eaton and Montcalm counties and all of Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee. The victory margin was, in fact, even greater than when Lockwood and Kurka faced each other in 1964.

ative district, incumbent Blair Woodman defeated Democrat Sanford Volker by a total vote of 15,083 to 8,794. In Clinton County Woodman's margin was 4,463 to 2,610.

Republican Lester Allen was reelected to the 88th District seat in the Michigan Legislature by a total vote of 11,772 to 6,478 for Democratic challenger Joe Hanus. In Clinton, Allen had a 3,042 to 1,456 margin.

Although the turnout was good last Tuesday, it didn't appear to be quite as good as in 1962 and 1964. About 11,954 persons voted last week, compared to 12,416 in 1962 and 14,680 in 1964.

Just over 70 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls last Tuesday, that figure being based on the March records of 16,899 voters registered in the county.

DeWitt Township's turnout, spurred by the supervisor race, was described as one of the largest ever.

In addition to rejecting the name change and liquor by the glass, Laingsburg residents also put the kibosh to a $30,000 bond issue for a new library by a vote of 256 no to 131 yes.

Here are the vote totals in the DeWitt city election:

Eldon Smith was elected mayor with 192 votes over Robert Ballard with 184 votes. Three men were elected to the city council, they being Keith Blizzard with 283 votes, Lee Rummell with 256 and Lloyd Berkimer with 231. Others running were James Decatur 125, Charles Ferguson 120 and Gerald DeLone 76. Roy Decker, unopposed for justice of the peace, received 322 votes.

About 90 per cent of the city's registered voters turned out.

Over 700 served at Ovid-Elsie smorgasbord

ELSIÉ — The Smorgasbord committees of the Ovid-Elsie High School Band Department met Tuesday evening in the Elsie Home Ec Room to report the success of the dinner. Although the monies and bills are not all collected, Director Don Thayer announced that well over 700 diners were served Sunday in the Elsie School gymnasium.

This has been an annual event sponsored by the Band Boosters over the past decade but this the first since the consolidation of the school bands. Last year several Ovid "Band Parents" aided in the planning and serving and this year Ovid joined whole-heartedly with the project that resulted in the largest smorgasbord held here.

The general committee was composed of Mrs. Raymond Thornton and Mrs. Alpha Grubbaugh of Elsie and Mrs. Bud Casler and Mrs. Vincent Csapos of Ovid.

The gymnasium was decorated under the direction of Mrs. Martha Schultz of Elsie and Mrs. Jeanne Wilkins of Ovid. They used "Living With Music" as the theme, and "winged" records, colorful record jackets, musical notes, toy instruments mounted on styrofoam and school colors of blue and gold.

ALONG THE RAIL separating the bleachers from the serving area was a large scroll depicting the musical score of "America" made by Mrs. Schultz.

When Mrs. Lucas Marton, chairman of the dining room committee contracted the flu at the last moment, Mrs. Max Courter stepped in to carry on her duties with the other members, Mrs. Richard Rummell and Mrs. Donald Warren of Ovid and Mrs. Floyd Glowney of Bannister.

About 60 members of the school band, dressed in black and white, responded with their best in serving the guests at three hourly intervals, averaging approximately 235 at each sitting.

An efficient committee: Mrs. Howard Halteman, Mrs. Glenn Williams and Mrs. Jack Kelley of Elsie and Mrs. Jack Miller and Mrs. Donna Kusenda of Ovid headed the kitchen duties and kept the long Smorgasbord table well laden. The meat, cut and served by Earl Seybert Jr. and Frank Loznak of Elsie and Bud Casler and Albert Ackley, included oven baked chicken and ham, Swedish meat balls and roast beef.

Mrs. E. M. Slagh directed the ticket sales with Mrs. Jack Schewark and Mrs. James Besko of Ovid and Mrs. Robert Buchele of Elsie as assistants.

THESE COMMITTEES along with scores of parents and young people toiled many hours in preparation of food and setting up the dining room and also the ever necessary dish washing crew and clean-up squad. Directors, Don Thayer and Joseph Susenko, served as hosts.

Adding to the festive atmosphere were the television in the reception and waiting room, recorded stereo music in the dining room and the attractive arrangements of flowers, donated for the occasion.

Immediately after hearing the reports Tuesday night, arrangements were underway for a repeat performance early in November 1967.

Seventeen members of the 1966 committees volunteered to serve again but there will be a need for additional help on the ticket and general committees. When they meet to plan their work, each group will appoint its own chairman.

As spokesman for the committees, Mrs. Raymond Thornton expressed their sincere thanks for the splendid cooperation and the very accurate records kept by each committee.

Members of the local WSCS have been invited to join with the Bannister WSCS Wednesday evening, Nov. 16, at 8 p.m. Mrs. George Carter Jr. will present the lesson "Wycliff Bible Translators."

What's so great about a Gas Incinerator... always bragging about its health and cleanliness—that it doesn't even smoke when it consumes rubbish and refuse. Well, I'm not taking any more 'garbage' from them! You'll see... replacing me with an automatic Gas Incinerator will make a big difference in their life!"

Esch, a 1964 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, St. Johns, reported to the Anti-Submarine Warfare command from the heavy cruiser USS Newport News (CA-148). Prior to reporting to active duty aboard the Newport News in January 1965, Esch was a member of U. S. Naval Reserve Surface Division 9-1, Lansing.

The Atlantic Fleet Anti-Submarine Warfare Force, commanded by Vice Admiral Charles E. Weakley, USN, with headquarters in Norfolk, has the wartime responsibility for routing

Carve, don't hack that turkey

Will that succulent Thanksgiving turkey be carved into beautiful, mouth-watering slices, or will the man of the house hack it into a mangled wreck.

Carving a turkey is an annual trauma for some people, but is simplicity itself for others. As with so many things, it's easy when you know how.

These drawings show you how. First, remove the leg by turning the turkey on its side with its breastbone away from you. Hold the end of the drumstick and pull it forward as the knife cuts through the joint (Figure 1).

NEXT, CARVE THE drumstick into lengthwise slices by standing it on its thick end and holding the thin end with your hand (Figure 2).

Carve the thigh after the leg. Expose the thighbone by slicing down to it. Remove the thighbone by running the point of the knife around it and lifting it up with the fork. Then finish slicing the thigh meat (Figure 3).

If you want only a few large slices from the breast, carve with the grain. Slice lengthwise until you reach the wing joint, then remove the wing. Continue slicing until you have carved all the white meat on one side of the turkey (Figure 4).

IF YOU WANT SEVERAL small slices from the breast, carve across the grain. First remove the wing, then slice at an angle of about 45 degrees. Continue carving slices until you reach the breastbone. Loosen the slices by cutting along the bone under them (Figure 5).

And that's all there is to it. Provided, of course, that you have the proper tools. An article on "Meat and Meat Carving" in World Book Encyclopedia says:

"The well-kept carving set is very important to good carving. A good carving knife needs to be sharpened only once in a while, but it should always be steeled before using.

"A MEAT PLATTER or a carving board allows more room for cutting and makes carving easier. A large carving fork holds the meat much more firmly than an ordinary dinner fork."

Bon appetit, and don't forget the cranberry sauce.

Learn about product before buying it

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Sometime when you were contemplating an important purchase, I'll bet you have wished you knew a little more about the product you were considering and how to best go about making a good choice.

Boning up before you approach a particular situation and going to sources that will give you specialized knowledge is often helpful.

This is the kind of thing that teachers do in teaching . . . and we all do it to some degree in our everyday lives. There's so much information you can't carry in your head all the time, but if you have a general background awareness of good shopping practices you can always get special information on the particular item you're interested in.

THIS IS THE best advice we can give consumers, since you just can't carry all the information you need in your mind.

One of the places you can look for programs of general consumer interest is the Cooperative Extension Service. It's a place where a good deal of consumer information is available that people aren't aware of. The Extension Service offers many programs that do feed into a consumer's interest and general awareness and that meet specific consumer needs, too.

consumer problems; it's quite a recent one and it has a good deal of information on credit, on various family financial institutions, on consumer products and just generally on consumer interests. This is written almost at high school level, so it's not difficult reading. Sometimes consumer economics books are not really the kind of thing we can use in a practical way. This one does give some basic principles, but it also deals with practical problems—the kind we all face every day as consumers.

And there's the Yearbook of Agriculture, "Consumers All". It's available in paperback, and should be pretty easy to get at the newsstands.

THEN, OF COURSE, a good many publications and all of the news magazines give you background information. "U.S. News" is a good one—and "Business Week". Watch the trends that can help you in planning ahead and doing your day-to-day shopping.

Another magazine geared particularly to consumer interest is "Changing Times". This isn't available too widely at newsstands, but it is available by subscription.

A couple of others are "Consumer Reports" and "Consumer Bulletin". These magazines are published by two different companies that test products and report on performance. They also carry editorials and articles on subjects that are of consumer interest.

Imaginative Christmas decorating ideas

For the best Christmas decorations one adds imagination to the ideas suggested by women's magazines, newspapers and other women, to make them truly personal.

At the Christmas Workshop Nov. 1, women's groups from all over Clinton County put on display articles they made for Christmas use.

Members of the B & B (Bingham and Bengal) Extension group showed their decorative touch at the Christmas Workshop also. Most of the supplies needed to make the items they showed can be found at a dime store or in homes, group members said.

AS YOUR EXTENSION Home Economist, I'm responsible for home economics programs in the Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties. You can contact me at the Courthouse in Clinton County.

We, in the Extension Service, would like to take the opportunity during National Consumer Week, Nov. 14-18, to show you the type of publications that are available free from our offices to consumers . . . and we'd like to know what type of information you might need, so we can serve you better in the future.

Of course, the Extension Service isn't the only source of information for consumers. Some times we overlook the library but it does have much information that is helpful to consumers.

RECENTLY A GOOD many books have been published on family finance and on consumer problems. In fact, there's one very good one that I think we might mention specifically—which I think you should find in your library—or be able to get from the State Library. It's called "Consumer Problems" and "Personal Finance". The author is Arch W. Troelstrup. This is an excellent book dealing with

When you love your work, it shows.

And we love our work. So much that we couldn't bear to stop with the slickest-looking split grille ever to grace a Wide-Track. (Or any other car, for that matter.)

We went ahead and made the windshield wipers disappear. The car not only looks cleaner, but the wipers are less subject to icing and freezing, too.

Then we got rid of the vent windows on all Grand Prix hard-tops. We replaced them with nifty monograms and a flow-through ventilation system.

We even designed a rather unique hood-mounted tachometer option that's available on all Pontiacs. As are our other new options like stereo tape and stereo radio.

And, of course, our handsome interiors have to be seen to be believed.

All Pontiacs have standard safety features that include a dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, outside rear-view mirror, and GM's energy absorbing steering column.

Isn't it time you decided to see your Pontiac dealer? If you love our work the way we do, it's the least you can do.

Fowler student council has busy Nov. 7 session

By JOANNE THELEN
Fowler High School

The Fowler Student Council meeting was held Nov. 7, and Sharon Frechen, Stan Pohl and Judy Kramer were chosen to represent Fowler at Bath on student exchange day.

The junior class smorgasbord to be held Dec. 3 was approved by the council.

A noon-hour activity report was given by Stan Pohl. It was decided that the student council should encourage more students to take part in the activities. The council also presented the dance schedule for the dances preceding the basketball games; they are as follows: Fowler vs. Freesoll, Nov. 25, freshman; Fowler vs. P.W., Dec. 16, sophomores; Fowler vs. St. Pat's, Jan. 13, seniors; Fowler vs. Webberville, Jan. 20, juniors; Fowler vs. Pottersville, Feb. 10, (basketball homecoming) boys varsity.

THE CONCESSION stands were also given for the basketball season. They will be sponsored by various organizations during this season's games.

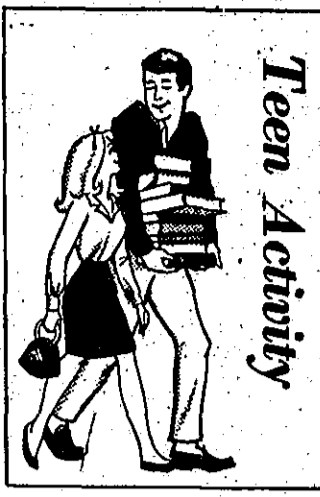

Activity period was transferred to Tuesday in order to work an assembly into the schedule. The student body assembled in the gym on Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 2:15 to hear Dr. Mikal Adams speak. Dr. Adams is a noted lecturer and professor at Green Valley University. He posed as president of the Communist party in Grand Rapids, informing the students on the history of communism and the so-called advantages of it. After a 30-minute lecture he attempted to answer the many challenging questions presented to him by the students. The assembly was concluded with a very forceful pledge of allegiance to the flag.

THE VARSITY cheerleaders took first place at the annual cheerleading clinic Nov. 5 in Saranac. The clinic opened with a 30-minute practice session. Following this they had an opportunity to exchange cheers with cheerleaders from various schools attending the clinic. Preceding this the different cheerleading squads performed skits. The clinic was concluded with the competition cheers.

Our varsity cheerleaders are Beth Becker, senior who is captain, and four juniors, Sarah Edinger, Bonnie Schmitt, Anita Schmitt and Sharon Frechen.

Another short assembly was held during first and second offensive and defensive teams of the league were announced. The athletes from Fowler receiving this award are: first team defense, Lester Thelen, Bruce Thelen, Neal Thelen, and Mike Nobach. First team offense, Dave Koenigsmecht, Bruce Thelen, Ron Brown, Mike Nobach. George George received a second team offense award.

The class C league dance was held at DeWitt High School Nov. 12. It began at 8 p.m. and ended at 11:30. Music was provided by the Bent Sceptors.

P-W plans science fair April 9

By SUE THELEN
Pewamo-Westphalia High

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA - The P-W student council held a special meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 8, for the purpose of discussing the science fair. Members of the entire student body are encouraged to enter exhibits under the categories of biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics.

This fair, to be held on April 9, is co-sponsored by the Science Club and student council, and together they are offering a $50 prize for the best over-all exhibit plus awards for the first-, second-, and third-place winners in each category.

The parent-teacher conferences were held on Nov. 10 in the afternoon and evening. Because of the good attendance, it was considered a success. Members of the Future Teachers Club and Performing Arts Corp. assisted in introductions.

APPLICATIONS reached the school from Clinton County Memorial Hospital concerning the girls interested in becoming candy strippers. Those interested should contact Miss Schavey.

On Monday, 40 juniors and seniors boarded a bus at 7 a.m. and started on their way to Ferris State College in Big Rapids. They returned at about 5:30 p.m. and gave reports of an enjoyable and informative trip.

The Varsity Club held a meeting recently and decided to help the cheerleaders with the pep meetings. They also proposed a Christmas party with the G.A.A.

THE PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA Future Farmers of America have selected the top five members from the past year and will send them on a four-day trip to Chicago. The top five were Mike Pung, Keith Rademacher, Bernie Simon, Vernon Thelen, and Bill Simon. They will leave on the 26th of this month with their advisor, Mr. Gibson, for the four-day trip. While in Chicago, they will visit the Chicago Board of Trade, the museum of Natural History, and the International Livestock Show.

By CATHY ROBINSON
Ovid-Elsie High School

The 1966-67 annual staff has picked "Legend" as the name for the new annual. The staff selected the name from several entries submitted by the students. The editor of the "Legend" is Mary Zieg, a senior at Ovid-Elsie.

Members of the editorial board are Business Manager Dan Kusenda, Senior Editor Dorothy Bloomer, Class Editor Ross Baker, Sports Editor Rick Warren, Organization Editor Bruce Powlson, and Staff Artist Kathy Beach.

Others on the staff are Bob Davis, Betty Farr, Londa Bradish, Juva Lea Wilkins, Doug Tody, Pam Loznak, John Craig, Cristie Mitchell, Pam Darling and Sandy Goodrich. The staff advisors are Mrs. Shumaker and Mr. Kelley.

THE STUDENTS of Ovid-Elsie got a four-day vacation starting Nov. 3 and 4. School was closed because of snow, and because of the closing the student council bonfire, snake dance, and D. J. dance were cancelled. The bonfire and dances were rescheduled for Nov. 10 and 12.

The whole student body was invited to show its spirit at the bonfire before the Ovid-Elsie and St. Johns football game. The cheerleaders held a cheering contest between the grades and all grades were well represented. Everyone showed great spirit and all seemed interested in the outcome of the game with St. Johns. Many people feel that Ovid and Elsie have found themselves a new rival. Maybe as the years go by a great rivalry will exist between Ovid-Elsie and St. Johns as it did between Ovid and Elsie.

THE MARAUDERS ended their first football season, and they are now in the process of getting in shape for basketball season. The Marauders have done quite well in football considering they were inexperienced with the conference in which they were playing, but quite well is not good enough and next year they will no longer be inexperienced. Through the year the students will become more acquainted and strive to strengthen the spirit which they hope will bring the Marauders out on top.

'Teen note' held Mondays at DeWitt

By MARGE KOWATCH
DeWitt High School

The DeWitt High School football season closed on Saturday, Nov. 5, with our first touchdown of the year made by Dave Parker.

DeWitt now has a teen note every Monday for all the students in the school. Records are played in the cafeteria and volleyball and basketball are played in the gym. This gives the students a better opportunity to get to know other students better.

On Dec. 7 and 8 the senior class is presenting their senior play entitled "You Can't Take It With You." It is a three-act play by Moss Hart and George Kaufman. The cast of all senior and one junior totals 20 people. It's a hilarious comedy and everyone is welcome to come. It begins at 8 in the DeWitt High School gym on stage. Admission is 50 cents for children and $1 for adults. Tickets may be bought at the door.

Saturday the annual league dance was held in the DeWitt High gym featuring the "Bent Sceptors." Students of all the schools in the league attended.

Get highway matching funds

Clinton County will receive $50,416 as its apportionment of federal matching funds for construction on county secondary roads, State Highway Director Howard E. Hill announced last week.

Hill said Michigan will get $8,535,549 in federal funds for secondary road construction during the fiscal year starting next July 1; the Highway Department will retain about 40 per cent for use on its secondary system, and the state's 83 counties will receive the remaining $5,425,963.

Each county road commission must match the federal funds on a 50-50 basis, and it must be used for construction purposes only. The money is allocated to counties on the basis of land area, population and road mileage.

No 'dull break' at St. Johns High

By GAY BOND
St. Johns High School

Even though this tends to be the dull season between football and basketball, the students never seem to be lacking for something to do.

Our magazine campaign is at its midpoint with magazine sales progressing rapidly to the $5,000 quota. An extra two days were added to the time limit because of the two days when school was closed.

THE MONTHLY faculty meeting was held Monday. It is held every second Monday of the month with school dismissing at 2:30 p.m.

The Ushers' Club held its first meeting last week. The selection of officers took place with the following results: President, Brenda Flegler; vice-president, Lois Zell; secretary, Linda Lounds; and reporter, Sharon Howe. Mrs. Dorthea Barnes is the club's adviser.

In the weekly student council meeting it was voted to purchase pins for the Ushers' Club. This organization is a non-profit one and renders services to the whole community.

THE ART CLUB constitution was approved as well as the schedule for the future student council meetings. A committee was formed to investigate granting passes for the dances to the members of teams participating in the sports of that season. The rest of the meeting was devoted in picking the assemblies for the next school year. These assemblies are of a variety of topics and are paid for by the student council.

Nip and Tuck

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How I had dreaded cleaning the attic! But it was all worth it after I found the picture of Nip and Tuck when they were puppies. I sat down there and then in the cold, dusty room and recalled the day when Bob brought them home to Carol. How she laughed and loved them and flung her arms around both our necks in excited gratitude. How much fun we three had, watching the cunning antics of the canine infants.

Nip is gone now, duly mourned and buried under our apple tree, and Tuck, gray and crotchety, limps if he moves too fast. Carol lives in Cincinnati in a happy home of her own, and I carry roses to the cemetery on the hill.

What a wonderful gift is memory. My days are rich with remembrances of the good life Bob and I had. How glad I am that we shared, not only a home, but also a love for God and His Church so that though now I am lonely, yet I am not alone.

Farmers warned on clover seed

Atlaswede, a variety of red clover, is being offered to Michigan farmers for seeding in 1967. But Michigan State University crop scientists say it is not one of the high yielding varieties in MSU tests.

Lakeland, Penscott, Michigan Mammouth and Michigan Common have all out-yielded Atlaswede in MSU variety tests.

The crop scientists also contend that Atlaswede is a "one cut" variety while the others continue to produce even though once harvested.

"Farmers who do not know their seed varieties should know their seed dealer. The best advice we can offer is that they obtain their seed through their local seed dealer or elevator," said Leyton Nelson, MSU Extension crop scientist.

Four of the six Clinton County 4-H youth who participated in events at the recent Detroit Junior Livestock Show posed for a Michigan State University Extension photographer. Showing their steers are, left to right, Brent Ballinger, Sharon Stoy, Doug Messer and Philip Glinke. Others from Clinton were Eugene Messer and William Stoy.

6 show 4-H steers at Detroit

Six Clinton County 4-H members returned from the Detroit Junior Livestock Show last week and had a very worthwhile experience in showing their steers.

The members were Sharon Stoy, William Stoy and Brent Ballinger of St. Johns and Doug Messer, Eugene Messer and Philip Glinke of Fowler. The group was chaperoned by John Aylsworth, Extension 4-H youth agent.

Aylsworth said even though the members didn't win, they learned a lot about showing cattle and fitting the animals for show by watching other exhibitors.

OVER 30 COUNTIES had exhibitors participating in this show. The price drop the past two weeks had some effect on lower market prices at the sale. Many of the members lost money by bringing their animals to the Detroit Show instead of selling them at their county fair sale. However, the experience of exhibiting at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show was worth the gamble, according to remarks heard from many parents of the exhibitors.

The grand champion steer was a 1,000-pound Angus steer owned by Nancy Dibble of Ann Arbor, and it sold for $2 per pound. There were 239 steers sold bringing the 4-H members $61,485.89 for 222,000 pounds of beef.

The grand champion lamb was a 110 pound Hampshire lamb owned by Mark Chapman of South Rockwood and sold for $6 per pound. There were 184 lambs sold bringing the members $5,506.19 for 17,871 pounds of meat. The grand champion market pig was a 225 pound Hampshire hog owned by Brenda Bussing of Coldwater and sold for $1.35 per pound. There were 96 hogs sold weighing 20,420 pounds and brought the members $5830.88.

$42 return for $1 in aglime

Experiments by a midwest college of agriculture started in 1923 and summarized in 1959 — a period of 36 years — show the tremendous return of $42 for each dollar invested in aglime.

The crops grown in this experiment were alfalfa, wheat, corn, and soybeans. At the start of the experiment in 1923, the soil pH was 5.0. A total of 9 tons of aglime were applied per acre at a cost of approximately $30 using the current price of $3.50 per ton. The value of crops produced was $458 or slightly over $15 for each dollar invested.

AS MOST OF THE lime was applied in the early stages of the

Here's some ventilation tips for livestockmen

Winter is the time farmers must give some attention to ventilation of livestock housing. Michigan State University agricultural engineers say allowing one cubic foot per minute of forced air ventilation for each 10 pounds of poultry or livestock in a building is a good "rule of thumb."

Fresh air inlets on long sides of buildings and ridge and eave openings for 3- or 4-sided cold buildings are also important. Two to four air changes per hour are usually necessary to control moisture condensation.

MSU Engineers say a common tendency is to keep buildings too tightly closed.

experiment when aglime was selling at $1 per ton, the net return is $42 for each dollar invested. Regardless of which figure is used the returns are excellent.

The application of 9 tons of aglime raised the soil pH from 5.0 up to a low of 6.7 and a top of 7.0. These results show the value of demonstrating to farmers the need for a liming program based on soil tests. Farmers must be motivated to adopt good farming practices in order to achieve maximum production and profits.

Industry, Extension, the ASCS and others including bankers, fertilizer dealers, etc., cooperate in demonstrating to the farmer the results to be obtained from adequate liming and fertilizing programs.

New potato test site goal: 2,000 bushels per acre

Michigan State University has established a new Agricultural Experiment Station six miles west of McBride in Montcalm County.

The 80-acre research site will be used primarily to improve the production efficiency of various processing crops, especially potatoes. The land used for the experiment station, owned by the Comden family, is located in the heart of western Michigan's prime potato producing area.

"OUR GOAL WILL be 2,000 bushels of potatoes per acre," commented Dr Richard W. Chase, MSU crop scientist who will coordinate the farm's research program. "We'll look at all phases of potato management to achieve this goal." The farm will also be used to test methods that can increase the production and quality of other crops that might be grown with potatoes, such as beans, wheat, corn and horticulture crops.

The 80 acres of the Comden Farm that have now been leased to MSU gives the University 11 experiment stations located throughout the state, plus the farms and research plots located on the MSU campus.

DR SYLVAN H. Wittwer, director of MSU's total agricultural research program, referred to the acquisition of the new experiment station as "an important historical event" that would have "great meaning" to the development of vegetable processing industries in Michigan.

The Comden-MSU leasing agreement extends from Nov. 1, 1966, to "the end of crop harvest" in 1976.

American elm losing as state shade tree

The American elm has been Michigan's leading shade tree for many years. But the invasion of the Dutch elm disease throughout much of the state has caused other trees to replace this great favorite for yards in both urban and rural areas.

Dr Harold Davidson, Michigan State University specialist in horticulture, reports the honey-

Chicago stock show will open 9-day run Nov. 25

The International Live Stock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo, largest of the country's annual livestock shows over the past 66 years, will be opening in Chicago Nov. 25 for a nine-day run through Dec. 3.

Thousands of the country's most valuable purebred farm animals will be exhibited by owners from over 30 states and Canada, the show management reports.

They will comprise 36 different breeds of beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and swine that will be competing here for $135,000 offered in cash prizes and the prestige of a win in this climax event of the agricultural show year.

Several hundred farm youths from many states will be among the exhibitors. An International Quarter Horse Show, the 15th annual, will be held as a pre-show opening event Nov. 17 to 20.

locust, sugar maple, red maple, and little leaf linden are high on the list as replacement trees.

The thornless honeylocust is a favorite in many areas because it is fast-growing, easy to transplant and relatively free from insect and disease damage.

SOME OF THE NEW selections of ash and oak trees are also popular in certain areas. Davidson says local nurserymen are familiar with trees adapted to local conditions.

For a gold fall-color the Gingo tree is good in limited areas of southeast Michigan.

Fall and early winter is a good time to transplant most trees, Davidson advises.

Large trees, 15 to 20 feet in height, can be transplanted in the winter. Trees are moved more easily because the ball of earth can be frozen around the root system and the tree can be moved by a mechanical lift into a new hole without damaging roots. Experienced nurserymen should be contacted before the ground freezes to make arrangements in advance.

Sociological factors play part in decreasing numbers of dairymen

A combination of economic and sociological factors are causing Michigan dairy farmers to seek other occupations.

This is the contention of Dr. Lynn McBride and Carl R. Hoglund, Michigan State University agricultural economists, who revealed preliminary findings of a recent survey to determine why many farmers have quit dairying.

"ALTHOUGH MOST of the reasons for quitting are economically grounded, there is strong basis for suggesting that a sociological revolution is taking place on our farms," Dr. McBride told dairy manufacturers meeting recently on the MSU campus.

"Returns on investments in capital, labor and management have been lower in agriculture than these resources might have earned in other areas."

"Being willing to accept the lower returns may indicate that there were additional returns of an intangible nature accruing to the farmer, and that farming was a way of life, and living and working in the rural areas had a value.

"THIS FEELING may be waning, and the dairyman's concern with low returns on investment suggests that it is."

The survey was conducted by the two MSU researchers in all the milk producing areas of the state, and covered the period between September 1963 and September 1966.

Questionnaires were sent to 4,000 producers who had either changed markets, changed to farming other than dairying or had changed their organizational affiliation during the three-year period. About 1,200 of those contacted responded, and about half of these had quit dairying.

The preliminary report shows that the major reason for quitting is high investment costs and low returns. Next in line are long hours and low returns, health, lack of help, low milk prices, age, too many inspectors, sons left farm and others.

ABOUT 65 PER CENT of those leaving were 50 years of age or older, and about 41 per cent were over 60. Closely related to age was the number of years the producers had shipped milk, with about 85 per cent indicating 15 years or more.

Approximately 60 per cent of the former dairymen operated from 100 to 250 acres, 13 per cent operated 250 acres or more and 27 per cent handled less than 100 acres. Dr. McBride indicated that this distribution did not differ greatly from the current pattern of Michigan dairymen.

The report also shows that about 71 per cent of the dairymen milked less than 30 cows when they quit, but that many of them had previously milked more than that. Dr. McBride said this suggests that the process of exit from the industry is not a hasty one, but involves some degree of herd reduction before the final departure.

"IN TODAY'S technological environment, where investments can easily go beyond the normal limits of a farmer's ability to accumulate adequate finances in the usual way and to engage in credit financing only on a short term basis so his farm can be passed on to the next generation free of debt, the family farm, in its past form, may have problems," Dr. McBride stated.

"It a sociological revolution in the value system of the farmer is taking place and intangible values are no longer a part of the returns picture to the younger generation, the problems will be further complicated.

"In any event, it seems certain that the organization and structure of dairy farms of the future will be substantially different than those of the past."

ASC PROGRAM

Price support loan levels for 1967 crops

Secretary of Agricultural Freeman announced Oct. 17 that the 1967 crop price support loan levels will be 90 cents per bushel for barley, 63 cents for oats, and $1.02 for rye. Compared to national average loan levels for 1966, barley is increased 10 cents per bushel; oats 3 cents per bushel, and rye support is unchanged.

All production of these three grains are eligible for price support loans. The announced support loan levels, however, are based on the following grades: barley, No. 2 or better; oats, No. 3; and rye, No. 2 or better, or No. 3 on the factor of test weight only.

AS ANNOUNCED earlier, barley will not be included in the 1967 feed grain acreage diversion program because supplies along with expected production of this crop will be in reasonable balance with needs.

The loan rate for 1967 crop barley at 90 cents per bushel represents an increase of 10 cents, or 12 1/2 per cent over 1966. Oats production returns in 1967 should be greater if the crop is fully planted. However, a 20 cent per bushel price support payment will not be made on projected yield of 60 per cent of the acreage as in 1966.

THE LOAN RATE for 1967 crop corn and also the total support rate will be increased 5 cents per bushel. This makes the national average loan rate $1.05 per bushel and the national average price support rate $1.35 per bushel for 1967 crop corn.

We have received a little more information on the 1967 feed grain program. There will be advance payments to producers who participate in the program. Producers with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less will be eligible for an advance diversion payment. Producers with feed grain bases larger than 25 acres will be eligible for advance price support payments.

I WANT TO remind wheat producers who have farm-stored wheat to take a look at it and be sure the weevils are not working. Sometimes cold weather will cause them to confine themselves to a small area in a bin, which will cause the grain to heat, which in turn will lower the quality.

To report advice on fertilizer

The 1967 fertilizer recommendations for vegetables and field crops will be reported at a Michigan Fertilizer Conference Dec. 2 at Michigan State University.

Dr. Robert E. Lucas of the MSU Department of Soil Science will discuss the recommended fertilizers, with respect to reserve fertility, crop grown and crop yield goal.

MSU specialists also will consider a host of other topics, including fertilizers and water pollution, challenges ahead in agricultural research, nitrogen soil tests to improve sugar beet quality and fertilizer for horticultural crops.

TWO PANELS will probe various aspects of pesticide residues in soils and corn production practices for high yields.

Some 250 representatives of Michigan's fertilizer industry are expected at The Kellogg Center for Continuing Education for the conference, sponsored by the MSU College of Agriculture, Department of Soil Science, and Cooperative Extension Service.

In announcing this year's conference, MSU officials also revealed the dates for fertilizer conferences for the next five years. They are: 1967, Dec. 8; 1968, Dec. 6; 1969, Dec. 5; 1970, Dec. 4, and 1971, Dec. 3.

Give trees good soaking

Trees and shrubs should have a good soaking before winter sets in. Michigan State University Landscape Nursery Authority Harold Davidson says trees survive winters better if they are thoroughly wet in the fall.

Many white birch, willow and poplar trees have been dying from neglect in Michigan the past two or three years because of the drought.

When white birch decline in vigor they are susceptible to an infestation of insects known as the bronze birch borer, says the Extension horticulture specialist.

This borer attacks beneath the bark, unnoticed to the human eye, destroying the transport system within the tree.

Davidson says the pest can best be prevented rather than eliminated. Keeping birch trees in vigorous condition by frequent watering during low rainfall and by fertilization will keep the tree strong and prevent damage.

Clip cows now for milk sanitation

To make it easier to maintain an adequate milk sanitation program during the winter, dairy herd owners should clip objectionable hair on a few cows each day from now until the arrival of low temperatures.

This is the suggestion of the acting chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's dairy division, Kenneth Van Patten. The dairy division is responsible for enforcement of all of the state's laws governing wholesomeness of milk from farm to retail outlet.

VAN PATTEN SAYS clipping cattle is not a legal requirement, but it is necessary in order to make the milking process more sanitary. Strict sanitation is essential at all levels in milk production.

He says clipping is usually easy in the autumn, but difficult if cattle have been housed indoors for weeks. Clippers may be rented from milk producer associations and dairy plants that are interested in receiving raw milk of the highest quality possible, he added.

Inspectors of the dairy division work in all parts of the state and in all levels of milk production to maintain the high standards of dairy product wholesomeness required by Michigan law.

EDITORIAL PAGE

A mirror of the times

A newspaper, by very definition, is charged with portraying to its readers an accurate—and, insofar as possible, adequate—reflection of those events which make up the news of the day.

Again by definition, "news" is a commodity which embraces the unusual, the unexpected, the significant variations from normality—whether the variations be good or bad. And let it be noted that the news is not of the press' making and frequently not to its liking.

But like it or not, things do happen, people are projected into the realm of public events, and situations develop which affect the lives and fortunes of the general public. All of these mirror the times in which we live, and it is the role of the newspaper to faithfully depict contemporary life—seeking always to keep within the bounds of good taste, fair play and avoidance of libel.

A newspaper which discharges its function is bound to displease some of its readers. Frequently there will be criticism of a newspaper's editorial policy. Occasionally, readers will object to the presence—or absence—of items in the news columns. And from time to time, as indicated by some of today's letters to the editor, there will be objection to advertisements.

Those who manage the advertising policies of a newspaper, just as do those of the editorial staff, seek to maintain reasonable standards of propriety. Advertisement of illegal operations or products never will be carried knowingly by a reputable newspaper. But few newspapers will take it upon themselves to suppress advertising which clearly is permitted by public policy as reflected by statutory law. But advertising, while providing the essential financial support of the newspaper, does not govern the content of either the news or editorial columns. Those two components stand separate and apart from business influence.

The news columns, including feature material which may be specialized in interest, have the mission of informing, of enlightening, and occasionally of entertaining. The writing which goes into the news columns should be objective and dispassionate. It is designed to convey to the reader the what, when, where, etc., of an event or a development at which the reporter is the representative of the reading public.

On the other hand, the editorial page of the newspaper deliberately reflects opinion. Through the columns of syndicated writers and letters to the editor it reflects many opinions. The editorials themselves reflect the opinion of the newspaper. They seek to persuade readers that certain policies, persons or practices are better—or worse—for the common good than others. The editorialist may be right or wrong, depending (subjectively) upon the reader's own point of view and (objectively) upon subsequent events.

But, right or wrong, the editorial writer bears the journalistic responsibility of acquainting himself with facts, evaluating them in the light of other facts and his own experiences and reaching a conclusion which he considers worthy of presentation to the reading public. The obligation of an editor and the hazards entailed in discharging it were well expressed more than a half-century ago by one of the founders of the Columbia State, N.G. Gonzales:

"No editor having strong convictions of public duty and expressing them without fear can hope to escape criticism; and the worse the men or the policies he antagonizes, the more certain it is that his criticism will be violent, unscrupulous and vituperative. I have been willing to incur the hatred and abuse of evil elements in our policies if thereby I could accomplish something for the welfare of South Carolina. It would be much more agreeable to me personally to raise no issue which would provoke retaliation, but I must perform my public duties as I see them."

What price honor?

Every now and then Newsweek carries a copyrighted house ad about some of the things of general public interest in the country.

A short time ago it had one entitled "What Price Honor?" A copy of this particular one came to this desk last week.

It stated that a leading TV comic in this country was paid $10,000 for a 10-minute guest appearance, and pointed out that an outstanding brain surgeon averages $900 for a 6-hour operation!

Here are some of the other things it stated:

A famous comic strip artist makes $150,000 a year.

The salary of the most distinguished professor at Harvard is no more than $28,000.

A football rookie, who has yet to play a pro game, signed a contract for $500,000.

Our leading astronauts who have clocked the most time in space get $15,886 a year.

The magazine then quoted what Plato said about 2,300 years ago that "What is honored in the country is cultivated there," and wondered if we were satisfied with those whom we are "honoring?"

Are we?

By STEVE HOPKO

The election is past and we at the News can settle down to our regular hours of toll, that is those who worked the election night through, so that we could have the county returns in our Nov. 10 issue.

The all-night crew consisted of Rinker, Sandi and myself, with Dick Miller coming in about two in the morning for a couple of hours.

Sandi handled the County Clerk's office, keeping Paul Wakefield company and calling in township returns as they were brought in to the clerk's office.

Here at the News office, Rinker and myself handle the phone and other little things that are needed to finish putting the issue together.

OF COURSE, election night is never a drag, as we always have a few friends and interested parties dropping in to just check on things, plus there is the phone ringing quite often with people calling in returns or inquiring as to how someone is doing in their race for office.

All in all it is a long night, but it's fun in a way, so we don't mind. Especially when people compliment us on having the complete returns in. We realize that we are doing it for their benefit, and we are here to serve, thus every two years we spend the night working to do what is expected of us.

Next week is Thanksgiving, the beginning of the festive season of the year, which will last for the next five weeks. This will climax on New Year's Day. The day when the majority of the men of our area will be glued to the picture box, watching the ending of the football season with the bowl games.

But getting back to Thanksgiving. This is the day when we gather with our families from near and far to enjoy the companionship of our relatives and the overburdened tables of food, prepared to entice any and all appetites.

THE SAYING goes that this is a custom handed down to us from our Pilgrim fathers. But I think that what they had in mind when they started this is a little different than what the average American family practices today.

Our ancestors, in beginning the day of Thanksgiving, did so in thanks for the many blessings they received during the past year.

WE, IN THE 1966 version, do the same thing, although the blessings that we have to be thankful for are quite different from those of our ancestors.

But be that what it may, the true spirit of Thanksgiving will be with everyone, each in his own way, and thus Thanksgiving will be a happier day for one and all.

The other day as I was driving around town, I noticed that many people have raked the last of their leaves and had them piled neatly alongside the roadway.

I was gratified to notice, a few days later, that these people did not receive the cooperation that I did when I last raked leaves. This was about two weeks ago. I ended up with a pile approximately 15 feet long, five feet wide and four feet high.

This pile was finished about 7 p.m. on a Saturday evening: At approximately 8:15 p.m. that See HOPPER page 13

LAST WEEK (Nov. 3 issue) in your editorial column you commented on the proposed amendment to lower the voting age to 18. You gave the incident of vandalism to the portable school trailers as an example of the irresponsibility of teen-agers.

This incident is truly unfortunate, but let me point out that happenings such as this represent only a small minority of the American teen-age population. If we are going to use specific incidents to point out

THIS CRIMINAL along with the vandals responsible for the painting were members of a small minority of sick people to deny rights and privileges to any group because of the action of a small minority is foolish and against the basic philosophy of majority rule.

If you want to get a good idea of what today's American youth really are like try looking at the some 1200 boys and 300 girls who attended Wolverine Boys and Girls State this summer and experienced a week of intense study in Democratic government. Why not look at the numerous teens who attend colleges and universities across our state this summer for special workshops in everything from theatre to homemaking? No one can argue with the importance of the responsibility held by 18 and 21 who are serving our country in the armed forces right now.

And right here in our own city we have many examples of fine citizenship and responsibility on the part of young people. Look at our high school athletic program that handles hundreds of responsible young men every year. The music department of the school is also a good example, boasting one of the finest marching bands in the state and a concert choir of equal quality.

ACADEMICLY our young people are sound also. The recently published honor roll shows over 40 per cent of the 17 and 18 year olds in the school made the honor roll. These are only a few of the many examples that

There's No Way to Lose

Fire and burglary take a large toll of U. S. Savings Bonds, but not a penny is ever lost by the owners as a result.

A Pennsylvania manufacturer watched as his building burned to the ground, taking with it a safe containing valuable papers and a number of Savings Bonds. The bonds, of course, were replaced, in keeping with the Treasury's pledge to restore any bonds lost, stolen, mutilated or destroyed.

In New York, a fireman bought a bond for his girl friend but, before he could deliver it, the alarm sounded. The bond fell from his shirt pocket into the fire. He was eligible for and received a replacement. Sixteen years after fire destroyed a mid-western home, leaving an 11-year-old girl as the only survivor, family discussions disclosed that there had been some bonds in the house. Inquiry turned up the prior existence of three $25 bonds. Replacements were ultimately mailed to the lone survivor, then married.

A Massachusetts man reported the theft of bonds from his home, in 1960, and replacements were issued. Four years later, the bonds—badly mutilated—were found two blocks away in shrubbery being cleared for a repair job. They were turned in for cancellation.

Other instances of lost bonds are just as unusual. A southern farmer, with a bond in his billfold, lost both while plowing a field. He replaced and thoroughly raked the field, but could find neither the billfold nor the bond. His application for a replacement is being processed. In this Silver Anniversary year of the Series E Bond, the record remains the same as it has for 25 years. Any bond lost, stolen, mutilated or destroyed is replaced free of charge by the Treasury.

Another page in history was turned recently with the opening of the new Island Road bridge over the Maple River at Elsie. The old bridge, built in 1901, was constructed to handle traffic like this, but it served traffic of a much faster and heavier nature for many years. There was no date given with this picture, contributed by our Elsie correspondent, Mrs Neva Keys, but it was sometime after 1912 when the dam behind the bridge was built.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Some foresee later primaries to reduce campaign fatigue

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Late fall elections in Michigan were held during the war and in 1964 when the new Constitution was being implemented. Some sources predict a permanent move to a later primary election in future years.

Why? Simply because a three-month campaign resulting from earlier voting is hard on candidates, both physically and financially, and the voters don't seem up to it any more.

Candidates easily reach many more people through newspapers, direct mail and other advertising methods than they do at club meetings, streetcorner hand-shaking stops or even official party functions.

JUDGING FROM TURNOUTS at many campaign stops this year, voters want to make up their minds in the quiet comfort of their own homes rather than an outside political rally.

Even perennial campaigners like Secretary of State James M. Hare have been complaining for years of the absurd cost of running a campaign.

This year many candidates noted that smaller and smaller turnout resulted at public appearance functions.

PHYSICAL DEMANDS on a candidate would considerably be relieved by reducing the campaign time.

Many candidates feel sure that the fewer number of campaign meetings in a given area would restore meaning to public appearances and thus increase the voter turnout.

Farmers complain about spring and summer weather this year, but the tourist-oriented businessmen could hardly be happier.

A summer's end survey by the Michigan Tourist Council indicates an average 15 per cent increase in tourist business over the previous year, the biggest year on record.

THE REPORT IS based on figures compiled by some 75 Chambers of Commerce, key tourist attractions and traffic measuring points throughout the state.

State parks continued this summer to handle a heavy volume of tourist activity. Daily attendance at parks was up 22 per cent and camping increased by 34 per cent in the year.

Much of the boost in tourist activity seemed to result from travel northward, the survey indicated. The Mackinac Island Chamber of Commerce office, for example, reported a 50 per cent increase in business. Other U.P. and extreme northward attractions noted business well above the average.

SEVERAL SOURCES in the regional tourist associations reported their areas handled as much business as possible with present accommodations, indicating room for considerable expansion in the various facets of the industry.

Tourist Council Director William T. McGraw is still awaiting final dollar figures from some sources but says indications are that Michigan, fast becoming the Florida-of-the-North, will do well over a billion dollars in recreational travel spending for 1966.

INCIDENTAL PERHAPS to the tourist survey was a figure which gives rise to a new call for legislative action.

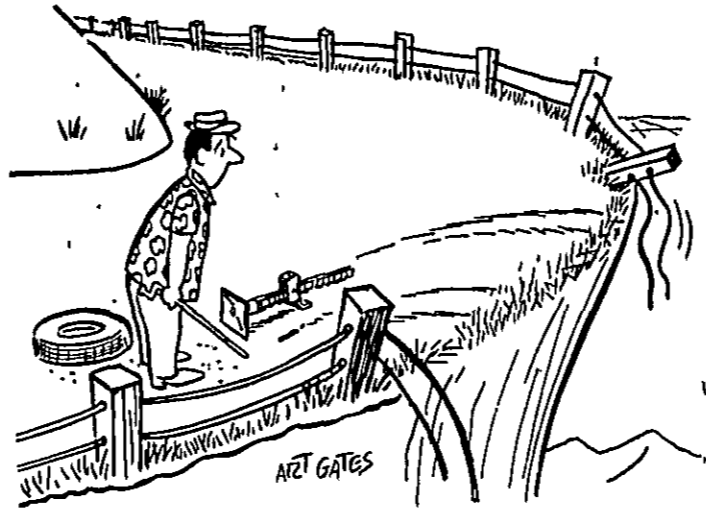

The Mackinac Bridge has been a major tourist attraction as well as a traffic measuring point since it was opened in 1957. In the past couple years serious attempts have been made to decrease the tolls on this span.

In the 1966 summer business report, the Tourist Council received word that traffic was up on the bridge by 7 per cent over the previous year. This was well below the state average gain despite generally better-than-average boosts in the northern regions of the state.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS to get the Mackinac tolls lowered were not primarily based on helping increase tourism, but rather on giving commuting residents of the two sections of the state a break on travel cost.

Passenger cars pay $3.75 per one-way trip across the bridge.

Complications enter the reduction picture because of the bonds sold to finance construction of the $100 million span.

The "Low Down"
From the
Congressional Record
By Joe Cump

Medical supplies worth $19 million wasted

Senator Lee Metcalf (Mont.)... "In the last session of this Congress, I introduced legislation which would broaden the donable property program by including within it surplus raw materials in the national stockpile..."

"Dr Howard A. Rusk (The New York Times) wrote an excellent analysis of the medical stockpile problem and... I ask unanimous consent that the article be printed in the Record..."

Last year the United States Public Health Service destroyed $19 million worth of medical supplies—supplies that could have relieved human suffering and misery had they been used before their useful life expired on some storage shelf.

THESE NEEDED supplies are stored in more than 2,000 locations around the nation as part of our civil defense stockpile. Most of them are part of the so-called "packaged disaster hospitals..."

In these packaged hospitals and in other types of storage are medicines, including antibiotics, rubber gloves, adhesive tape, bandages, and medical equipment of all kinds—in short everything that is needed in a hospital of that size on an emergency basis. It is all slowly deteriorating.

The problem is that these supplies were bought and stored as a precaution against some future disaster. There is no way in which the Public Health Service can allow their removal until their storage life has expired and they must be destroyed.

THREE SENATORS — William Proxmire of Wisconsin, Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Lee Metcalf of Montana—have proposed legislation to remove this restriction. They propose that these vitally needed materials be taken out of storage before their life expires and used by other agencies, sold as surplus or donated to public and private non-profit health organizations.

Antibiotics, for example, have a stated storage life of five years. It is the policy of the Public Health Service to retain "outdated" antibiotics in the civil defense medical depots as long as periodic tests by the Food and Drug Administration indicate no significant loss of potency or evidence of deterioration.

HOWEVER, IN MAY of 1965 the Public Health Service destroyed six types of medical items stored in depots that had deteriorated and were unfit for human use. The value of these items was nearly $4 million.

In introducing his proposed legislation, Mr Proxmire said: "In this day and time, when we are making so great an effort to improve the medical care our people receive, it seems criminal to me that $19 million worth of medical equipment and supplies have had to be destroyed in the last year when they should have been used to heal the sick."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT It would serve no useful purpose to speculate on the value of the medical supplies wasted since the start of the civil defense stockpile program.

What is more important, is that a start is being made to reduce stockpile waste in the future.

Livery stable: where men learned some basic rules

HAYDN PEARSON

In the second decade of this century, horse-powered economy gave way to mechanical contraptions that carried a water trough beneath the hood. Blacksmith shops and livery stables were changed to garages and filling stations. Half a century later the cycle has come full way; cars are an essential cog of the economy and horses are a status symbol.

The oldtime livery stable was part of a lad's education in the era of Morgan roaders. Each village had its stable, often connected with the local hotel. In spite of anxious mothers' worries, the livery stable was not a den of iniquity. Perhaps it was not a course in the higher realms of art and literature, but millions of American boys learned lessons that have stood them in good stead.

A LAD IN DESPERATE need of a dime for penny candies could always get an hour's work clearing out stalls, washing and oiling harness, cleaning the wagons. Drummers hired teams to visit the stores of the area; summer folks hired rigs for trips. The livery stable man usually bought and sold horses. Each spring it was common for the stable to bring in horses from a distance to sell to farmers.

The oldtime livery stable was a marketplace where men enjoyed matching wits in horse-trades. The stable had a distinctive smell compounded of manure, straw, leather and just plain horse. The countryman does not claim that the livery stable was the equal of a college education. But many men look back over the years and know that in the old barns and offices they learned basic rules that have served them well.
