ST. JOHNS—Engineer-Manager Donald C. Haske, 42, submitted his resignation effective Monday to the Clinton County Road Commission. Haske said he was resigning for personal reasons.

Haske joined the road commission as engineer-manager in August of 1967 and had served in the post since that time. No successor has been named.

"I have no further comment," Haske said. "And I have no definite plans at this time."

Projects completed during Haske's tenure included Clark Rd. improvements from US-27 to Bath, a bridge on Shepardsville Rd. over the Maple River, Tallman Rd. Bridge on the Maple River and many smaller projects.

Haske, his wife Barbara and their four children live at 1100 Hampshire Dr., St. Johns.

No further details have been disclosed.

Christmas is coming

Window Nights planned in Ovid

OVID—Plans were set in motion last week for Ovid area merchants to again sponsor the annual Ovid Window Nights as part of the Christmas festivities this year.

The first tickets will be issued by store merchants on Friday, Nov. 26. A total of 96 prizes will be given away by Ovid merchants—a value of more than $400. Each prize will range from a minimum value of $5 to $10 and participants must be 18-years-old or older.

Each of the participating merchants will give a ticket for each purchase. Participants are to keep all of their tickets throughout the promotional event as the tickets will be good all three window nights. The tickets will be issued from Nov. 26 until Dec. 18, but merchants indicated that no purchase is necessary to be eligible to participate.

The three dates designated as window nights are Dec. 4, Dec. 11 and Dec. 18, according to the Ovid Business Association.

Participants must claim their prizes from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. each Saturday. New numbers will go on all prizes each week. If prizes aren't claimed during one week, they will be issued new numbers the next Saturday until the contest ends.

The banner is designed to remind area residents of the Ovid Window Nights promotion. A list of winners will appear in the Shopping News each week.

Participating merchants include Tom's Western Store, Tyler's Furniture Store, Jim's Super Service, Ray's Gulf, Maron's IGA, Riverside Laundromat, Harold Green Insurance, B and D Snack Shop, Clock Cleaners, Kut and Kurl Shop, Dorothy's Beauty Shop, The Beauty Boutique, Jenk's Drug, Darling's Apparel and Gamble Store. # Christmas decoration Sunday

ST. JOHNS—With Thanksgiving a week away, the holiday season is upon us.

And this Sunday morning, for those of you who want to get the spirit early, there will be a decoration party.

That's right, for those of you who want to do something for your community in the spirit of Christmas, the St. Johns Jaycees will be happy to see you at 8 a.m. at Bee's old building, Sunday is the day the Christmas decorations will go up in the city.

"Anyone who would like to help us out can be at Bee's old building Sunday morning," said Barry Dean of the Jaycees. "We'll take all of the help we can get."

THE JAYCEES WILL bring you the Christmas spirit this year as they are in charge of everything as part of their community project work.

Other events planned are the arrival of Santa Claus Dec. 3, free movies and lunch with Santa.

"We're in the process of finalizing all of the Christmas plans and we should have the full schedule ready for announcement next week," Dean said.

Clinton has new deputy--six days old!

LANSING—Clinton County has a new deputy sheriff.

He wasn't hired under the government funding for new jobs, nor was he, in fact, hired at all.

The new deputy is probably the youngest deputy ever in the department. In fact, he is only six days old!

Patrick Shawn Donovan was born at Lansing General Hospital Thursday afternoon at 2:04. He weighed 7 pounds 1 ounce.

HE BECAME AN Honorary Deputy Sheriff of Clinton County when Deputy Ray Stiver spotted a car traveling at a high rate of speed in the Valley Farms area.

Stiver gave chase, stopping the car just south of the Clinton County Line. He found Patrick's parents-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Donovan of Bath in a hurry to get to the hospital on time.

Realizing the distance to travel and the heavy traffic, Deputy Stiver loaded the mother into the patrol car. That was at 1:45 p.m.

Stiver alerted the Sheriff's office at St. Johns and they in turn alerted the hospital. Patrick was born five minutes after his arrival at the hospital.

IN HIS REPORT, Deputy Stiver said, "I was happy he had the courtesy to wait until we got to the hospital."

Newman issues warrant

Howell man dies in crash

Robert W. Young, 57, of Howell, died in this flaming auto after it was struck in the rear while waiting for children to board a halted school bus. Richard L. Kirby of St. Johns, driver of the other vehicle, was charged with negligent homicide in the accident.

ST. JOHNS—Clinton County Prosecutor Jon Newman Monday authorized a warrant charging Richard L. Kirby, 27, of 311 Wight St., St. Johns with negligent homicide in the death of Robert W. Young, Friday morning.

Newman authorized the warrant after reviewing the circumstances of the Friday fatal accident. Young, 57, of Howell, died when his car burst into flames after being struck by a vehicle driven by Kirby.

"Mr. Kirby will be arraigned as soon as he is released from the hospital," Newman said.

Sheriff's Deputies said the accident occurred when Kirby's car struck the rear of the Young vehicle on northbound US-27 south of Parks Rd., Friday.

YOUNG HAD STOPPED for a St. Johns school bus which was loading students at 3557 S. US-27. The school bus was not damaged, nor involved in the accident. The driver drove the bus away from the scene to prevent injuries to the children.

Witnesses said the vehicle driven by Young exploded after being struck in the rear. The impact knocked the vehicle into the median, turning it over on its side. Young burned to death in the car.

Kirby was admitted to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment of his injuries and observation.

The victim was pronounced dead at the scene by coroners Van Hoag and Lee R. Rummel. The St. Johns Fire Department extinguished the blaze.

Firemen had the blaze under control in a matter of minutes after their arrival. Witnesses were unable to aid the victim because of the intense heat.

UF drive hits 88 per cent

LANSING — The United Community Chest campaign has reached 95 per cent of their $2,180,000 quota for the 1971 drive. Clinton County Chairman Charles Coletta announced that 88 per cent of the local drive has been attained.

The Lansing area drive, which includes Clinton County, has reported a total of $2,070,000 has been pledged to the campaign.

Watertown girl killed

WATERTOWN TWP.—A teenage girl on her way to a party was struck and killed Saturday night when she darted into the path of an oncoming car on Clark Rd. west of Francis Rd. here.

Dead is Diana Kay Chamberlin, 15, of R-3, Herbison Rd. She was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing.

Sheriff's Deputies said the girl ran into the path of an auto driven by Herbert F. Miller, 47, of Portland. Miller said he had just crested a hill on Clark Rd. when the girl ran into the path of his car. He was not charged by the deputies.

Deputies said the girl's mother had stopped in the roadway to let her daughter out. The girl was on her way to a party across the road when she ran into the path of the car.

Miss Chamberlin was a sophomore at Grand Ledge High School and she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Harriet Chamberlin of Wacousta, her father, Clyde Chamberlin of Lansing, a brother Thomas and a sister Lorraine, both at home.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Wacousta Methodist Church with burial in the Wacousta Cemetery.

State party chairman McLaughlin to speak to county GOP Tuesday

ST. JOHNS—William F. McLaughlin, state Republican party chairman, will be the guest speaker at the Clinton County Republican Committee meeting to be held on Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. in the courthouse in St. Johns, it was announced today by James M. Palminter, county Republican chairman.

The meeting is scheduled as the regular bi-monthly county committee meeting and chairman McLaughlin will speak as part of a continuing series of meetings to acquaint area Republicans with the policies, procedures and political philosophies of the Republican party.

McLaughlin, a native of Syracuse, N.Y., came to Michigan in 1951. Active in Republican politics since 1960, he was elected party vice-chairman in 1965, and appointed by state chairman Elly M. Peterson to serve as executive director of the Michigan Republican State Central Committee. He was unopposed at the 1969 and 1971 State Conventions for the job of Party Chairman. According to Palminter, "chairman McLaughlin's remarks will cover the political picture for 1972, which in light of the recent national developments, makes the Republican Party picture brighter than it has been in a long time."

Palminter said, "plans for future meetings include such subjects as the widely differing philosophical views within the Party, and the role that young people will play in the Party's future."

Plans are also being made to invite Senator Robert F. Griffin to address the County's Lincoln Day Dinner to be held in late February or early March.

During his high school years, McLaughlin was an honor student at the Cathedral Preparatory School for Boys of Erie, Pennsylvania, Aquinas Institute of Rochester, N.Y., and the Cathedral Academy of Syracuse. He represented his schools in four varsity sports—football, basketball, baseball and track and field—and was a member of school debating teams, sports editor of his school newspapers, associate editor of a school yearbook and secretary of his class.

In 1950, he was awarded a scholarship to Lemoine College in Syracuse when he won first place in the Syracuse Diocese high school oratorical contest. In 1951, he transferred to the University of Detroit where he majored in political science.

While attending the University of Detroit, he became associated with the United Detroit Theater Corporation and rose to the managerial level with that firm. In 1955, he joined the Cinerama Corporation at Detroit's Cinerama Music Hall Theater as assistant manager.

During his tenure with Cinerama, he served as manager and managing director and in

Career ed plan ok'd by board

ST. JOHNS—Clinton County Intermediate School Supt. E. Stanley Pocus was given the go-ahead Thursday by the county board of education to investigate and implement a new career education facility for Clinton County.

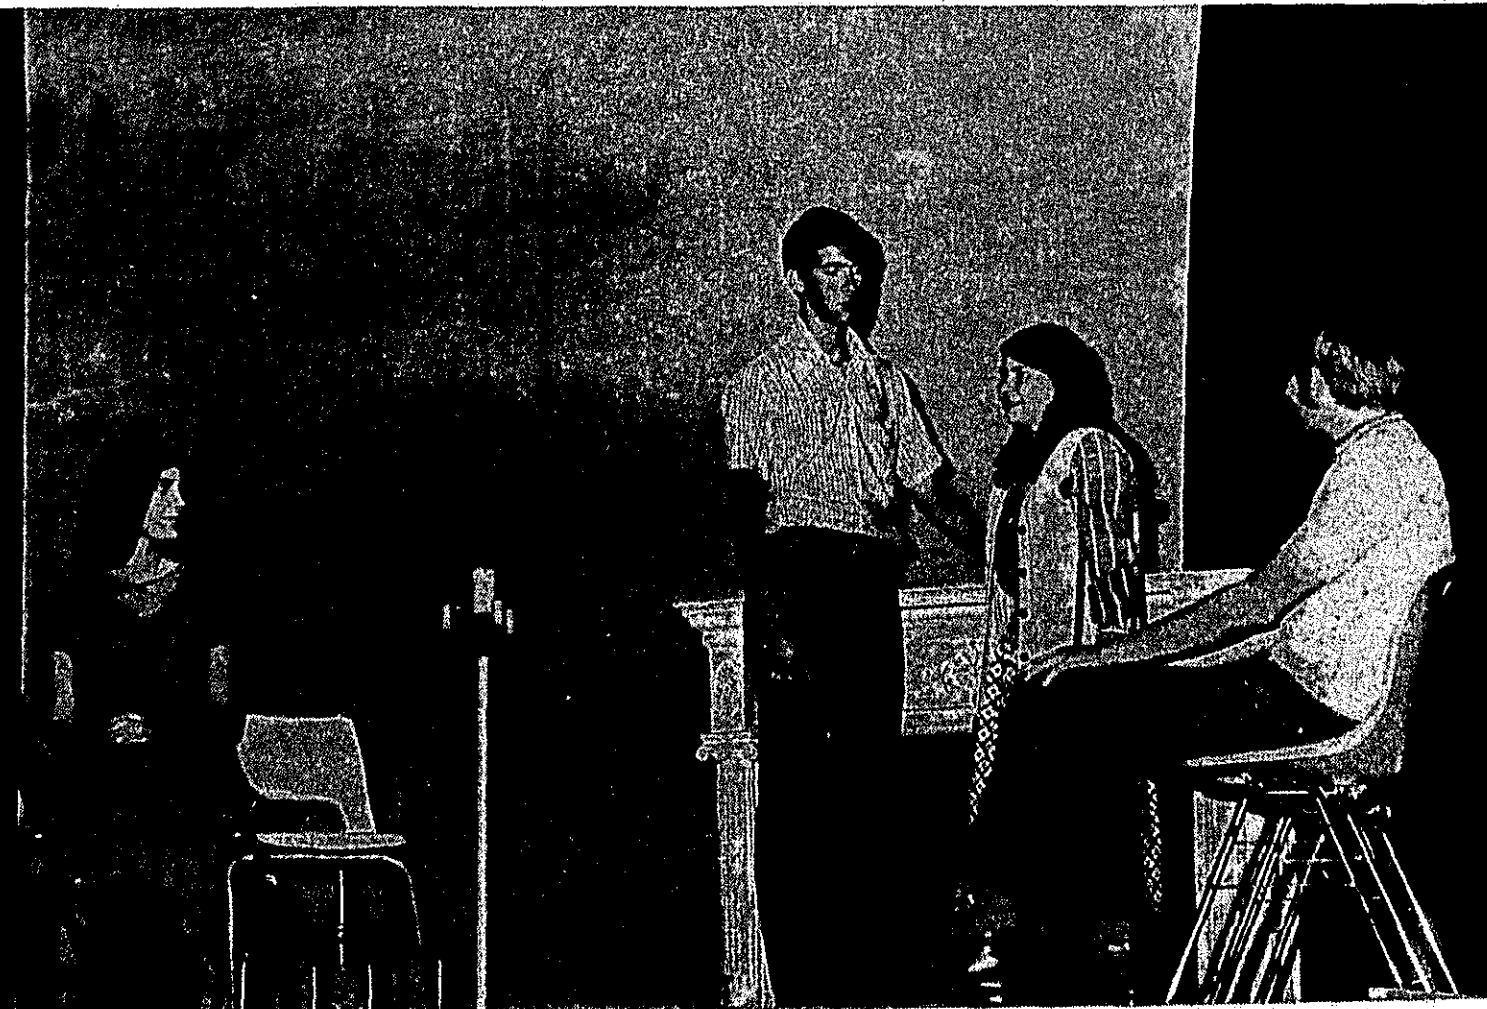

"That will mean a lot of work and planning before we have anything definite," Pocus said. "We are working with the support of the six school districts of Clinton County. I am to get information about what we have to do to implement this program here," he said.

During the session, Pocus was also given authority to seek a new facility for the board of education, currently sharing space with the county health department in an older structure on Maple Street, St. Johns.

"We have to meet with committees and see how much room is needed. Some of our staff members don't even have desk space," he said. The six school superintendents in the county suggested a new facility during a formal meeting two weeks ago to provide more space for the staff and for meetings. Plans have not been developed pending further study, Pocus said.

Robert Thompson

Thompson reported 'fair'

ST. JOHNS—Robert E. Thompson, 35, executive vice president of Central National Bank of St. Johns and Ovid was reported in fair condition Tuesday morning at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Thompson suffered an apparent heart attack Friday night at his home at 408 S. Kibbee. He is in the cardiac care unit at the hospital.

A former Ovid resident and a native of Alma, Thompson moved to St. Johns two years ago when he was named executive vice president of the bank.

Couples attend convention

GRAND BAHAMA ISLANDS—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mesh of 808 W. Baldwin St., St. Johns and Mr. and Mrs. Gary McNamara, of 253 S. Victor St., Fowler attended the annual Miracle Maid cookware sales convention—holiday at the Grand Bahama Hotel and Country Club here Nov. 7 through 10.

Approximately 500 Miracle Maid sales leaders from throughout the nation participated in a four day, three night convention as a reward for their outstanding sales performances during the summer.

500 attend CNB&T's open house

ST. JOHNS—Upwards of 500 persons viewed the completely remodeled St. Johns office of Clinton National Bank last Thursday and Friday during a two-day open house marking official ending of the $100,000 project.

A showing Thursday evening drew 200 guests including a number of officials from banks in Detroit and Grand Rapids which regularly do business with Clinton National.

Friday's activities attracted 300 persons who toured the various areas of the bank and received refreshments and token gifts commemorating the event.

Officers of the bank viewed the open house as a success and were pleased with the number of visitors during both showings.

"THE NUMBERS were very near our estimates," commented Brandon C. White, Jr., administrative vice president. "We expected around 200 persons Thursday evening and had prepared ourselves to handle between 250 and 350 all day Friday. It was most gratifying to see the people in our area so interested in the activities of the bank."

Vice president Gayle Desprez, personnel director, had praise for members of the CNB&T staff, all of whom participated to some extent in the open house or its preparation.

"The entire event was most successful," Desprez commented. "Our people pitched in to insure the right things weren't forgotten and the various schedules were met. Everyone was assigned to a specific job and all seemed to enjoy meeting informally the customers we serve day to day."

Ink White, president and John Rumbaugh, executive vice president, participated in conducting tours through the bank during both showings and each indicated satisfaction with the open house.

THE EVENT CULMINATED a near two-year program of planning and remodeling, that saw major physical and operational changes in the St. Johns office of Clinton National. The remodeling included installation of a new 68 car parking lot along with reconstruction of a modern auto bank serviced by a pneumatic tube system. Bank officials estimate that present facilities will be adequate through 1977.

Library to aid those with reading problem

ST. JOHNS(c)—Bement Public Library of St. Johns has begun a new service for teachers and parents of children who have reading difficulties. Mrs. Hilda Bross, librarian, says that a Remedial Reading Shelf has been established, so that it will be easier than it has been heretofore to find books which will be helpful to the child who is getting a slow start in reading.

At present the books available are for first-graders, but one recently purchased set of 20 volumes breaks that grade down into four levels. The spine and cover of each level is printed in a different color, which indicates to the library staff whether that particular book is Level one, two, three or four within the first-grade bracket.

To the child, all the books are merely attractively printed in bright colors.

The set referred to is called Venture Books and they are published by the Garrard Publishing Co. Each book has a card with "Tips for Testing" and Comprehension Questions. The card, of course, is for the use of the parent or other adult who is working with the child.

The Library has also recently purchased 15 "Easy Reader" books, which are also on the Remedial Reading Shelf. These books, published for several years by Grosset and Dunlap, contain stories carefully written to keep the young reader's interest high.

They are told in a simple, open style, with a strong rhythm that adds enjoyment both to reading aloud and silent reading. A high percentage of words are repeated, and this skillful repetition helps the child to read independently.

The Children's Department at Bement Public Library already has a number of the Grosset

Jorae sisters wed in October

MR. AND MRS. JACK DUANE LARSEN

ST. JOHNS—Renee Ann Jorae became the bride of Jack Duane Larsen Oct. 15 in a double ring ceremony performed in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Rev. William Hankerd performed the double ring service before an altar decorated with orange and yellow gladiolus, yellow pompons and gold, brown and orange colored oak leaves scattered throughout the arrangements.

Soloist John Anderson rendered "O Lord Most Holy", "O Perfect Love" and "Ave Maria" and organist was Mrs. Jackie Schneider.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Jorae of R-3, St. Johns and the groom is the son of Mrs. Marietta Larsen also of R-3, St. Johns.

Bands of lace extended from the neckline to the hemline and was repeated on the back of the skirt. Her floor-length mantilla veil of silk illusion, edged with lace, was attached to a Camelot hat and she carried a round bouquet of orange roses, baby woodroses, tangerine carnations, butterscotch pompon orange streamers and love knots.

The attendants wore floor-length peasant-style gowns of chiffon featuring long sleeves, and empire-style waistline and a full skirt. A lace bolero accented the bodice of the gowns. The maid of honor was attired in brown with an orange bolero and the other attendants wore gold, green and orange with a brown bolero. They carried a hanging round bouquet of mums and carnations.

Best man was Allen Gillespie, friend of the groom, and assisting as groomsmen were Jim Larsen, brother of the groom, and Bill Dershem, brother-in-law of the groom. Seating the guests were ushers, Jim Dershem, friend of the groom, and Dan Jorae, brother of the bride.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jorae and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Eaton, grandparents of the bride. Frank Desprez, great-grandfather of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stroud and Mrs. Gladys Dush, grandparents of the groom.

Elsie

Mrs. King began cake decorating just for family and friends about a dozen years ago. Soon it was more than a hobby and her cakes were much in demand with decorations for special occasions such as birthdays, graduations, showers, weddings, anniversaries, family gatherings and various church, school and organization special events.

Mrs. King received recently the Master cake decorator award from the Wilton School in recognition of meritorious achievement as a participant in the 1971-1972 Wilton Master Cake Decorating Contest. She was notified that she is now eligible for a Grand Prize—the two-week cake decorating course in the world famous Wilton Decorating School in Chicago.

When Mrs. Richard C. King of 125 Church St., Elsie submitted a picture in the Wilton Decorator Contest in Chicago, little did she believe she would be a winner, not once but three times.

Early in October, Mrs. Fern King received a congratulatory letter that her original 'Turt' Cake design had been judged the winner of the week and enclosed was a $25 gift certificate.

In thanking Mrs. King for her entry, Norman Wilton, president, wrote, "You have shown a great deal of creativity and skill in your decoration of this particular cake."

Doris Anne Wallen became the bride of David Paul Thompson, in a double ring ceremony on Thursday, October 28 at 7:30 p.m. Ray T. Willert, a Magistrate for the Alma Court, united the couple in marriage at his residence in Ithaca.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Wallen of 22451 Baldwin Road, Bannister, Michigan. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Thompson of 8790 Harris Road, Fowler, Michigan.

The bride chose a floor length A-line gown of nylon voile over taffeta. The dress featured a bodice of nylon lace trimmed with sequins and seed pearls, a scalloped lace neckline, tapered sleeves with pointed cuffs, and a detachable chapel-length train, accented with flower appliques the same as the gown, which was secured at the waistline. Her veil of nylon illusion net, was held in place by a leaf-petal crown trimmed with seed pearls. She carried red and pink long-stemmed roses, tied with a white ribbon bow.

Patricia L. Wallen of East Lansing, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length empire-style gown of white acetate lace over pink satin. The empire waist was trimmed with a wide pink satin band, and in back a detachable pink satin bow was secured at the waist. She carried a bouquet of red and pink roses and white-red carnations.

Mother of the bride chose a printed nylon jersey jacket dress of plum and aqua. Mother of the groom chose a beige dress, with a nylon lace bodice, and a soft pleated skirt. Both wore a corsage of pink roses and white-red carnations and a pink rose, trimmed with a pink ribbon bow.

Paul E. Tonelli, a friend of the groom, was the best man. Following the service, a reception was held for both families at the home of groom's parents.

A wedding trip out West is being planned in early January. The bride is a 1967 graduate of Ashley Community High School, and attended Michigan State University for three years, while majoring in Art Practice Education.

Rose M. Wieber now Mrs. Gary Schueller

MRS. GARY JOSEPH SCHUELLER

FWLER—Baskets of blue and white pom-pom and mums decorated the altar of Holy Trinity Church for the Saturday, Nov. 6 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Rose Marie Wieber and Gary Joseph Schueller. Rev. Albert Schmitt performed the 2 p.m. double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Wieber of 622 North Main Street, Fowler and the groom is the son of Mrs. Irene Schueller of North Wright Road, Fowler.

Organist for the ceremony was Paul Wieber, cousin of the bride. The bride was given in marriage by her father and chose an empire-style gown of silk organza featuring an A-line skirt, stand-up collar, long full sleeves and a detachable cathedral-length train. A gathered lace headpiece secured her chapel-length veil, edged with lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, white carnations and white tulip mums.

Mary Wieber of Fowler, the bride's twin sister, served as maid of honor while Jane Wieber, Connie Wieber of Fowler, sisters of the bride, and Eve Goerge, of Lansing, friend of the bride, assisted as bridesmaids. Cheryl Wieber of Williamston, niece of the bride, was flower girl. The attendants wore light blue chiffon over taffeta empire-style gowns with long sleeves and a ruffle neckline. The gowns featured a blue sapphire velvet bodice. They wore a velvet bow headpiece with streamers and carried a colonial-style bouquet of light blue carnations, white mums and light blue starflowers.

Best man was George Goerge of Fowler, friend of the groom, and assisting as groomsmen were Forest Conley, Martin Miller, both of Fowler and Stan Pohl of Lansing. Ring bearer was Brian Schueller of Fowler, nephew of the groom. Seating the guests were ushers Mark T. Wieber of Lansing, brother of the bride, and Joseph Schueller of Fowler, brother of the groom.

A 4:30 p.m. reception was held at the church hall for 400 guests. Special guests at the wedding and reception were Mrs. Ethel Gee, grandmother of the bride, and Sister Rosalyn, sister of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the new Mr. and Mrs. Schueller will make their home in Fowler.

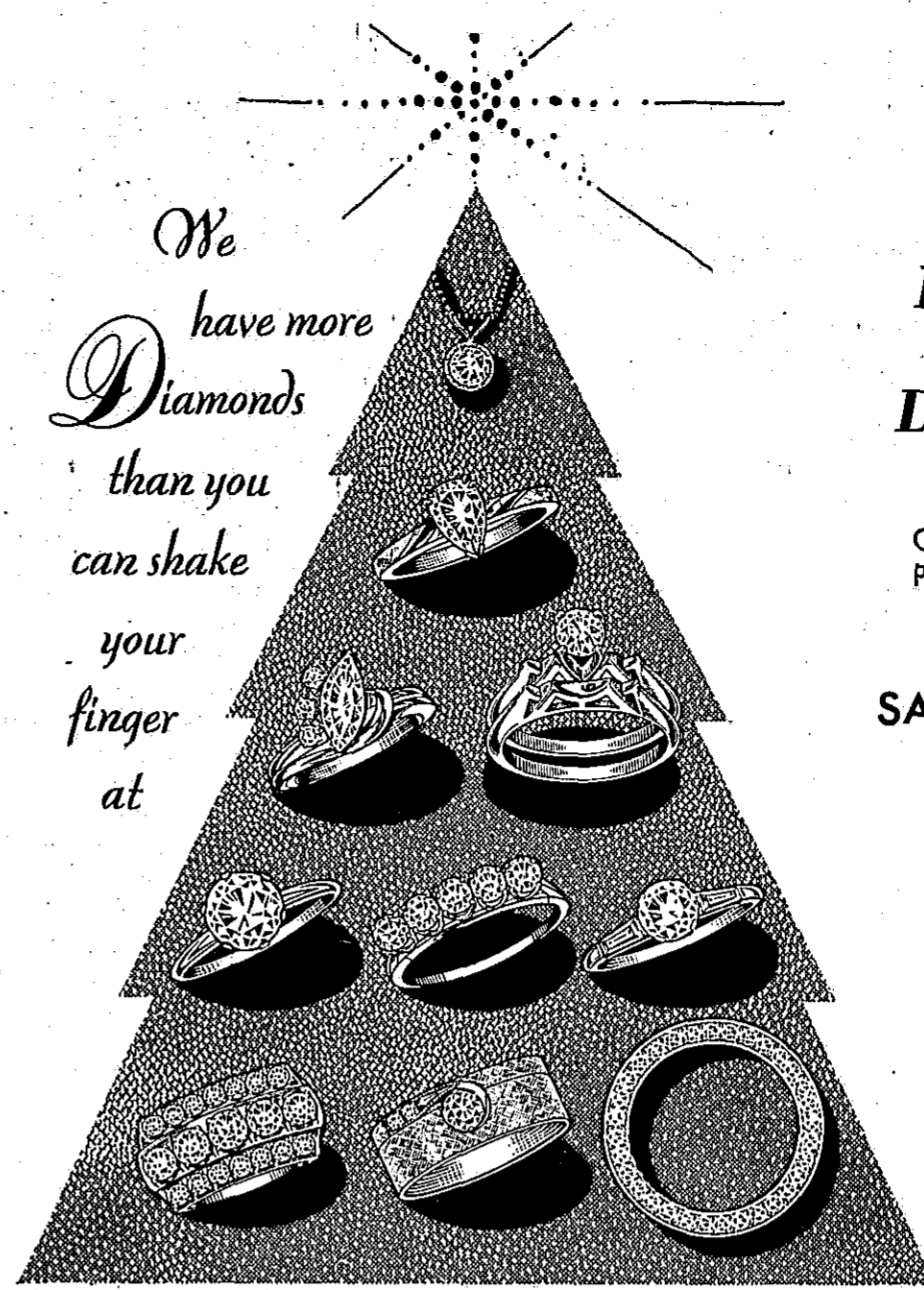

The couple are both graduates of Fowler High School.

Something fun, worthwhile in Fowler's talent company

FOWLER—Something fun and yet something worthwhile is what a group of sophomores at Fowler High School wanted to do.

The answer came in the form of a company called Talent Unlimited, a student-established company in cooperation with Dennis Whitlock, industrial arts teacher. The company was to be a mass-production unit which was to build a wood product to be sold.

To find what the company should make they polled the surrounding area. They observed that the majority of the people polled requested magazine racks. The company voted and they agreed to produce them.

To launch the company, money was necessary because the company sold stocks at 50 cents each to the students in the class. For their investment they would receive a percentage of the profit. When the materials arrived the company was ready to go.

The students voted for the company's board of directors. Brian Thelen was elected president; Frank Koenigsnecht, vice-president; Glenn Thelen, secretary; Dave Halfman, treasurer; and George Simon, sales manager. The company had engineers to design the product. They were Roger Thelen, Steve Fox, and Brian McKean.

There were other smaller divisions and each student was in a division. The divisions were maintenance, safety, layout, assembly, cutting, quality control, sanding, finishing, and sales.

The company gave two free shares to the person who sold the most racks and they were awarded to George Simon who sold 27 of them. The company has sold 69 racks and due to their success the company will close and go on to other projects.

They could have easily sold 100 racks but they decided to discontinue because their objectives had been met. The company sold $314.25 worth of racks. The company paid the debts and now will get a $1.85 per share. The racks came in different finishes such as walnut, maple, antique, clear and painted. The antique sold for $5., the clear and unfinished were $4.25, and all others were $4.50.

The company took pride in their work. Talent Unlimited proved to be a successful and interesting project with a basis for future projects. The students had many compliments on their project and were proud of having a successful company.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family. The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Redwings startle Marauders win streak stops at 15

By TIM YOUNKMAN

ST. JOHNS—It was bound to happen someday. The law of averages say you have to lose once in a while. But up until Friday night many of the Ovid-Elsie Marauders hadn't experienced a football defeat in their high school careers. The juniors on the squad had been undefeated in 15 games as freshmen and sophomores and had an eight game win streak this season before crashing into St. Johns. The Redwings won 21-16.

The Redwings, under new coach Ernie Becker won their fourth game of the year, their second in a row, and have lost five this season. Last week the Redwings bumped Alma 8-6.

But turnovers cost the Marauders their first unbeaten season in the school's history. "We had three fumbles and two passes intercepted," lamented assistant coach Russ Pope. "They say in football that usually the team that makes the fewer mistakes wins the game and it was true at St. Johns," Pope said.

The Redwings came out with a "winning attitude," the kind St. Johns fans are used to. They were determined to avenge last year's loss to the Marauders—the first Ovid-Elsie victory over St. Johns ever.

It was obvious from the start that the Marauders were not going to put on the flawless show their fans normally experience. St. Johns kicked off to the Marauders to open the contest, but the O-E receivers couldn't handle the ball and fumbled.

But the usually tough defense held off the St. Johns drive and forced the Redwings to punt. The Marauders took over and drove to the one-yard-line, but another O-E mistake—this time a holding penalty—pushed the ball back to the 15, where the action faltered. The Redwings stopped the drive at the nine-yard-line.

The Marauders saw quite a bit of the field inside the Redwing 20-yard-line, but saw little of the end zone. O-E drove to the 16-yard-line in one series and were at the 14-yard stripe at the end of the half in another TD attempt. The Redwings stunned the Marauders on two touchdowns in the second quarter, the most anyone has tallied against the rugged O-E defense all year. Quarterback Ken Schueller hit halfback Bruce Cameron on a 30-yard gainer. The Marauders were called for pulling the facemask on the tackle and another 15 yards pushed the ball to the 11-yard-line.

The Redwings scored from six yards out on a TD run by Cameron. Dean Eberhard kicked the extra point to give the Redwings a startline 7-0 lead over the ninth-ranked Class B team in the state.

On the following kickoff, the Marauders fumbled again and St. Johns took over to wrap up another score in less than five minutes. Schueller broke through the O-E defense for the score from the one-yard-line. The extra point attempt was fumbled but the teams retired to the locker rooms at halftime with St. Johns in front 13-0.

It looked like a whole new team when the Marauders returned to the field. They chased the Redwing ball carriers limiting them to minus-10 yards in the second half.

The Marauders scored the first time they had the ball in the second half when junior halfback Gary Groom dashed seven yards for the TD and carried it over for the conversion making the score 13-8.

Groom got the call again the next time O-E had the ball. He raced 27 yards for the score and picked up two more points on the conversion to put the Marauders ahead 16-13.

It appeared that St. Johns had lost momentum and that Ovid-Elsie would hold on to record their first perfect season, but the Redwings caught fire.

They forced the Marauders into a punting situation but a swarm of Redwings broke through to block the kick on the O-E 30-yard-line. After two unsuccessful drives up the middle, the Marauders threw up a nine-man line to try to stop Schueller from running around end. But on the third-down-and-nine play, Schueller crossed up the Marauders with a perfect strike to Cary Rappuhn, who had slipped behind the defender at about the five-yard-line. He trotted in for the winning TD. The extra-point try was good and the Redwings led 21-16 with only four minutes to go in the contest.

Ovid-Elsie took the ball and began a drive that looked promising but a pass interception nullified the attempt. The turnover came at the Redwing 13-yard-line and it ended any chance for another Marauder TD.

The scoring burst by St. Johns was more than all of the other O-E opponents combined this year. The Marauders had given up only 18 points all year before facing the Redwings.

The Redwings picked up 100 yards rushing and 71 passing while the Marauders doubled that with 221 rushing and 72 passing. "The stats didn't win that football game," Pope commented.

Rick Staples and Rich McCreery led the defense with 10 and 12 tackles.

Ovid-Elsie, who had won 15 games in a row, "will just have to start another victory string," Pope added.

Things look bright for that prediction. The Marauders will lose 15 seniors to graduation in June, but will have 20 returning lettermen to add strength to the squad. Currently there are seven underclassmen starting on the defensive unit. The offense will again see Gary Groom who scored 56 points and rushed for over 700 yards. Also returning will be signal caller Tom Kirinovic who made the Mid-Michigan B all-conference honorable mention squad.

Lynn Webster, who made all-conference at defensive tackle, also had a lot of playing time, Pope said, on the offensive line. Staples, the other offensive tackle, was the second-leading tackler last year as a sophomore and this season he was the third leading blitzer on the squad.

Pope added that the team and coaches "would like to thank Dr. A. N. Saunders for all the time he donated to the Ovid-Elsie football team this year."

The team will add to new schools to the schedule next year. They dropped the series with Swartz Creek and Chippewa Hills of Remus and added away clashes with Lowell and Bridgeport.

Take that! Ken Schueller (13) gives Marauder Bill Foran a stiff arm as he escapes for a gain against Ovid-Elsie. Defensive halfback Rick McCreery (40) moves up too late to stop the Redwing quarterback.

Impressive credentials

OCID-ELISIE—THE Marauders named to the Mid-Michigan B Conference all-star squad had quite an impressive record for the coaches to ponder when they made the selections.

RON MEAD, a senior defensive safety had compiled 45 tackles and four pass interceptions. He won the "best hit" award for his efforts in three games — Ithaca, Bullock Creek and Swartz Creek. On offense, Mead scored 20 points on three TD's and one 2-point conversion. He gathered in 12 passes for 256 yards. The 6-1, 165-pounder was converted from halfback to end in the second game of the year.

GARY GROOM, junior half-back, had 109 carries for 720 yards. His best night was against Remus Chippewa Hills when he rolled up 144 yards rushing. He rumbled 130 yards Friday night against St. Johns in the team's only loss of the season.

Groom added 52 points to the Marauder attack and chipped in with five pass receptions. As the team punter, Groom averaged 40 yards a kick. Groom is 6-1 and weighs in at 180.

TIM BOUCK, a 6-3, 195-pound right end, caught 11 passes during the season for 134 yards and one TD. According to the coaches, he is the best down-field blocker on the O-E squad. The Marauder captain played both ways and missed one game because of an injury.

TOM KIRINOVIC, who was named for honorable mention on the MMB star-studded squad, threw five TD passes while calling signals for the Marauders. He picked up 125 yards rushing and added to his attack with 48 completions in 104 pass attempts for 645 yards. Kirinovic did not sustain an injury all year and saw action in every game. He is 5-10, 155 pounds and is a junior this season.

ROB NETHAWAY, 6-3, 263 pounds, was the stalwart middle guard and tackle for the tough defensive unit. He accounted for 64 tackles and seven fumble recoveries—and one pass interception. He is only a sophomore so the MMB opponents will see plenty of him during the next two seasons.

FRANK QUINE, 5-10, 190 pounds, is a senior offensive tackle and captain. He was a standout on defense at tackle with 67 tackles. He was never hurt and played every game.

LYNN WEBSTER, 6-2, 240 pounds, was a defensive standout with 67 tackles. The Marauder junior added a safety and two fumble recoveries to his record this year.

BILL FORAN, who made the honorable mention team at corner back, is 5-10 and weighs 160 pounds. He had 41 tackles and five pass interceptions. He kicked 12 extra points and one field goal. He played both ways and was a team captain.

DAN EGBERT, junior line-backer, is 6-1 and 170 pounds.

He was credited with 52 tackles, two pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries. He was responsible for all defensive signals for the Marauders. He missed one game due to injuries.

DAN FRUCHEY, an honorable mention candidate, was a star at offensive right guard. He was the fastest lineman and was responsible for a lot of the open field created for Marauder runners. With quite a few returning juniors to the lineup next season, it is almost a sure bet that many of these players will be named to the MMB squad for another year.

Cards ready for donation

ST. JOHNS—Christmas cards are again available from the American Cancer Society for a donation to the cancer fund.

Mrs. C.W. Lambert said the cards will be available at Dr. C.W. Lambert's office, 105 S. Ottawa, or at their home, 808 W. Park St. The donations are tax deductible.

Diocese collecting clothing

LANSING—Catholic churches throughout the Diocese of Lansing which this year encompasses 10 counties will be accepting donations of used, but serviceable clothing and bedding materials as the 23rd annual Catholic Relief Thanksgiving Clothing Collection for the Needy Overseas gets underway here during the week of Nov. 21-28. It was announced today by Bishop Alexander Zaleski.

"There is a special need for lightweight clothing," Reverend

John M. Fackler, Diocesan Director of the Clothing Drive emphasized, "because a substantial portion of the garments will be earmarked for distribution to the millions of Pakistani refugees who have fled their homeland across the border into India."

Bishop Zaleski appeals to all persons of goodwill to gather up whatever clean clothing, blankets, bed linens, and shoes that can be spared and leave at any Catholic church during Thanksgiving Week.

Successful men have the ability to get along with some people and ahead of others.

The St. Johns Football Club would like to thank the following people for their assistance on the football field and seeding project.

WIN HONORS

Rehmann starts for LCC Saints

LANSING—Bob Rehmann, former St. Johns Redwing basketball player, is beginning his second year as a member of the Lansing Community College team.

Rehmann, one of the top three scorers for the Saints last year, made his debut Saturday night with the team against Davenport J.C.

Last year the team compiled a 19-9 record and the sixth best per game scoring average in the nation, 102.6, last season. Rehmann, a forward, Lamont Crawley, center and guard Gino Baldino all hit high in double figures last year to boost that average.

Baldino holds the school record of 37 points in one game. Gino Crawley is the second highest rebounder in the country with an average of 17.

SAYS COACH ART FRANK, "Gino has to be one of the finest JC guards in the state and Lamont is certainly one of the best big men. Rehmann is just a real good solid ballplayer."

While at St. Johns Rehmann was named all conference center for the Redwings. During his senior year, the Redwings had a record 13-1 in the West Central and 15-1 for the season. They were rated sixth in the state in class B.

Signs damaged

FOWLER—Vandals damaged 17 road and street signs in the Village of Fowler Friday night. Sheriff's Deputies said the signs were apparently knocked over with a vehicle.

John Spicer, president of the village, said six stop signs, three speed limit signs and eight street markers were damaged.

Signs damaged

Both teams were ably captained. The seniors by Diane Weber, and the juniors by Barb Kolp and Theresa Schafer. Quarterbacking for the seniors was Alice Smith and for the juniors, Barb Kolp.

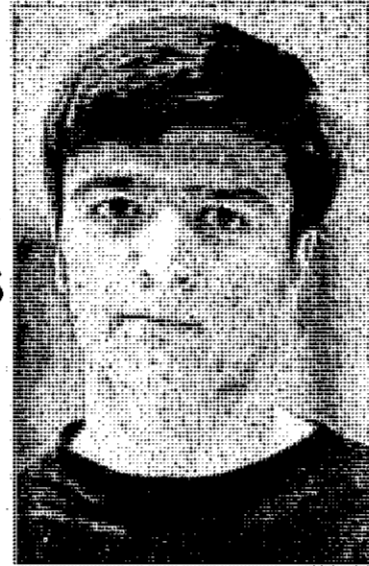

If one girl should be given an award for the best player of the game, it would be Theresa Schafer, half-back and co-captain of the Jolly Juniors. On offense she gained the most yardage of either team, and on defense she stopped the seniors.

COACHING THE Senior Stompers was Ron Warner, assisted by seniors Ben Wesley and Mike Gross. The Jolly Juniors were coached by Harry Peacock. Assisting him were juniors Doug Walter and Tom Davarn.

Both teams would like to thank Robert Rice, Doug Kilbourne and Sam Smith for refereeing the game.

Scoring by quarters:

Juniors win grid game

By VALERIE HILL
P-W High School

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA — Friday night, Nov. 12, the Senior Stompers went against the Jolly Juniors in a Powder Puff game that will go down in the history of Pewamo-Westphalia High School.

It was the first time the Junior girls defeated the Senior girls, with one of the highest scores ever.

The score was only achieved through the hard work of 20 juniors and 23 seniors. Injuries during practice eliminated two juniors, Sheila Bedenbender and Wendy Trisveller, and one senior Cathy Simon. The losses inspired the teams to work even harder. The seniors won the toss. On the first play, the defense of the juniors allowed Diane Weber to slip through and score the first touchdown of the game. However, they did not get the two point conversion. The juniors bounced back with a touchdown and a two point conversion. At the end of the first quarter the score was Jolly Juniors—8, Senior Stompers—6. The juniors continued to lead the rest of the game.

THE SECOND QUARTER gave two touchdowns and one two point conversion to the juniors and nothing to the seniors.

In the third quarter the seniors' offense got two touchdowns and one two-point conversion, while the defense held the juniors to only one touchdown and one two-point conversion.

The fourth quarter saw only one touchdown and one two-point conversion scored by each team. So the final score was J.J. 38 — S.S. 28. Only by coincidence, the juniors scored more points than the P-W Pirates Varsity squad did against any one of their opponents this season.

Both teams were ably captained. The seniors by Diane Weber, and the juniors by Barb Kolp and Theresa Schafer. Quarterbacking for the seniors was Alice Smith and for the juniors, Barb Kolp.

If one girl should be given an award for the best player of the game, it would be Theresa Schafer, half-back and co-captain of the Jolly Juniors. On offense she gained the most yardage of either team, and on defense she stopped the seniors.

The Red Machine starts up for another gainer as quarterback Ken Schueller hands off to Redwing back Bruce Cameron during second quarter action.

Ovid-Elsie's Gary Groom crashes over behind the blocking of Rick Staples (74). The score broke the ice for the Marauders after St. Johns had stormed to a shocking 13-0 lead in the first half. O-E came back with 16 points in the third quarter of the game, but the Redwings were too much for the MMB champs, downing them 21-16.

Elsie

Mrs. Robert Baker, worthy matron, and Mrs. Lella Wilsc, secretary of the Elsie Chapter OES and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mulder of St. Louis Chapter OES attended the reception and dinner honoring Florence A. Adair, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter OES in Imperial Hall at Fraser, Saturday evening, Nov. 6.

There were 1,100 guests present from all parts of Michigan who were greeted by D. LaVerne Courtney, Right Worthy Associate Grand Patron of the General Grand Chapter and representatives of the Grand Lodge, F and AM, International Orders of Rainbow Girls, Job's Daughters and DeMolay. Following the dinner there were many tributes and presentations of the Grand Family, Clubs, County Associations and the hostess Berkley Chapter OES No. 483. The guest speaker was D.H. Meepach of Dallas, Texas, whose address was "The Formula is Ask", based on the following selection from Matthew 7:7-8: "Ask, and it shall be given you; Seek, and ye shall find; Knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For everyone that asketh, Receiveth; and he that seeketh, Findeth; and to him that Knocketh, It shall be opened."

Members of the Green School Extension Group met at the home of Mrs. Lillian Morley Thursday for their tour and luncheon at the Herbruck's Cheese Counter near St. Johns. The ladies were shown many of the hundred different varieties of cheese. They learned that it one of the most nutritious and versatile foods and may be served in main dishes, salads, sauces, sandwiches, appetizers and snacks. They learned that the three types of cheese are natural, pasturized process and cold-pack and that most Cheddar cheeses are mild, medium or sharp according to the degree of curing. Cheese is an excellent source of many important nutrients in the diet, especially the protein and is a well-liked food. The ladies agreed and thanked the Herbrucks for their interesting afternoon.

The golden rule is something, one half of the people think the other half should observe.

Toronto trip

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

"It was fascinating and a great experience" was the comments of the six Clinton County 4-H'ers as they returned home Sunday evening from their trip to Toronto, Canada, Nov. 11-14. The six 4-H'ers were Lori McQueen, Jane Vitke, Bonnie Kimball, and Phyllis Dershem of St. Johns, Randy Davis of DeWitt, and John Dunham of Elsie.

While in Toronto, they attended the Royal Horse Show and Livestock Show, the Legislative Building and new City Hall, the Castle Loma, and Science Center, viewed the Christmas parade and did some shopping. On their return home the group stopped at Niagara Falls.

The Clinton County 4-H'ers joined 4-H members from Eaton, Ingham and Livingston County on this trip. Another experience they gained was what to do while the old bus was being fixed.

The first scheduled 4-H Roller Skating activity will be held on Thursday, Nov. 18, 7-10:00 p.m. at the Ranch Roller Rink in St. Johns.

The following 4-H Clubs have made reservations for this evening filling the capacity of the hall: Olive 4-H Projects, Knit 'N Stitch, Green Clover Community, Jolly Knitters, Prairie, Willing Workers, Termites, Lucky Riders, We Hah Kay Asta, Charlie's Gang, and Country Cousins. The cost is $1.00 per person. The Country Cousins 4-H Club held a bake sale Saturday and raised $25.50 which will be donated to Jim Marrast for his work to the 4-H clubs in the Island of Grenada. Our congratulations to the 4-H members for this worthwhile project.

The Jolly Knitters 4-H members received a certificate of recognition for their safety programs held during 1971. The club will go roller skating on Nov. 18 and Christmas Caroling in December. Demonstrations were given by Kay Falvor on "Decreasing and Increasing Knitting"; Sue Falvor on "Knitting Abbreviations"; and Elaine Miller on "The Making of Yarn Flowers". Charles Tait showed slides of his participation in the 4-H Exchange Trip to Minnesota this past summer.

The Bengal Community 4-H members learned their club was recognized as an honor club and for safety award this past year. Stuart Hazle and Debbie Thelen gave a report on their trip to Camp Kett for the Teen Leader Workshop.

A committee of Jane Vitke, Jeff Hazle, Stuart Hazle and Debbie Thelen was appointed to work out several money making projects discussed at the meeting. Fair premiums, certificates, project pins and awards were presented to the members.

The Tail Waggers 4-H members received a $25.00 donation to their club from Mrs. Pat Bemis of Owosso who judged their show at the County Fair. Also the club received a trophy of a lion from the Haslett Lions Club for their work with the leader dog for the blind project.

The St. Johns Lions Club members voted to support the leader dog project in the county by providing funds to cover all veterinarian costs with this project. Lori Webster reported on the demonstration she gave at the Holt Lions Club.

The members dogs were tested and graded by four members to see if they are potential leader dogs. Ann Graham and Debbie Webster gave a demonstration on the "Grooming of Your Dog."

The Nimble Fingers 4-H members have 54 members enrolled for the winter program. The teen leaders will meet with Mrs. George McQueen to work out details on their project to help an elderly couple this year and report at their next meeting on Dec. 13. Fair premiums, certificates, pins and calendars were passed out to members with personal record books to new members. The December meeting will include a program on "Good Grooming."

The Willing Workers 4-H members have elected Barbara Dilts as their President for the coming year. Other officers include: Rita Horman-vice president; Mary Lou Bergdoll-secretary; Earl Flegler-assst. secretary; Kathy Eaton-treasurer; Bruce Rossow-assst. treasurer; and Roseanne Rossow-news-reporter.

The club members are planning to go roller skating on Thursday, Nov. 18. Fair premiums, certificates, project pins and trip awards were presented to the members.

The Riverside Riders 4-H members selected Terri Witt as the most active 4-H member in their club for the year and received a horse blanket for his award. The members held an evaluation of the horse show held in October and discussed ways to improve it. The members held a Halloween Hayride party.

Several winter activities for the club were discussed such as bob sledding, roller skating and winter riding of horses.

Phosphating is not fertilizer!

By TOM DEWITT
Co-Editor

ST. JOHNS—What has making American automobiles last a little longer, and the most modern plant of its kind in the world have to do with St. Johns? Industrial Phosphating that's what!

"People think we make fertilizer," laughed Plant President Ed Spaulding.

Phosphate is a type of fertilizer, but that is where the similarity ends. In St. Johns, phosphating means rustproofing. Protection of the prime product of Michigan's economy, the various parts of your automobile from the elements that cause rust and decay.

"THE PHOSPHATING process is better than the former zinc and cadmium process which used to protect the parts," says Spaulding.

The St. Johns plant runs seven days a week, 24 hours a day, turning out 40,000 pounds of protected parts every two hours. On a yearly basis, that averages 74,880 tons of parts.

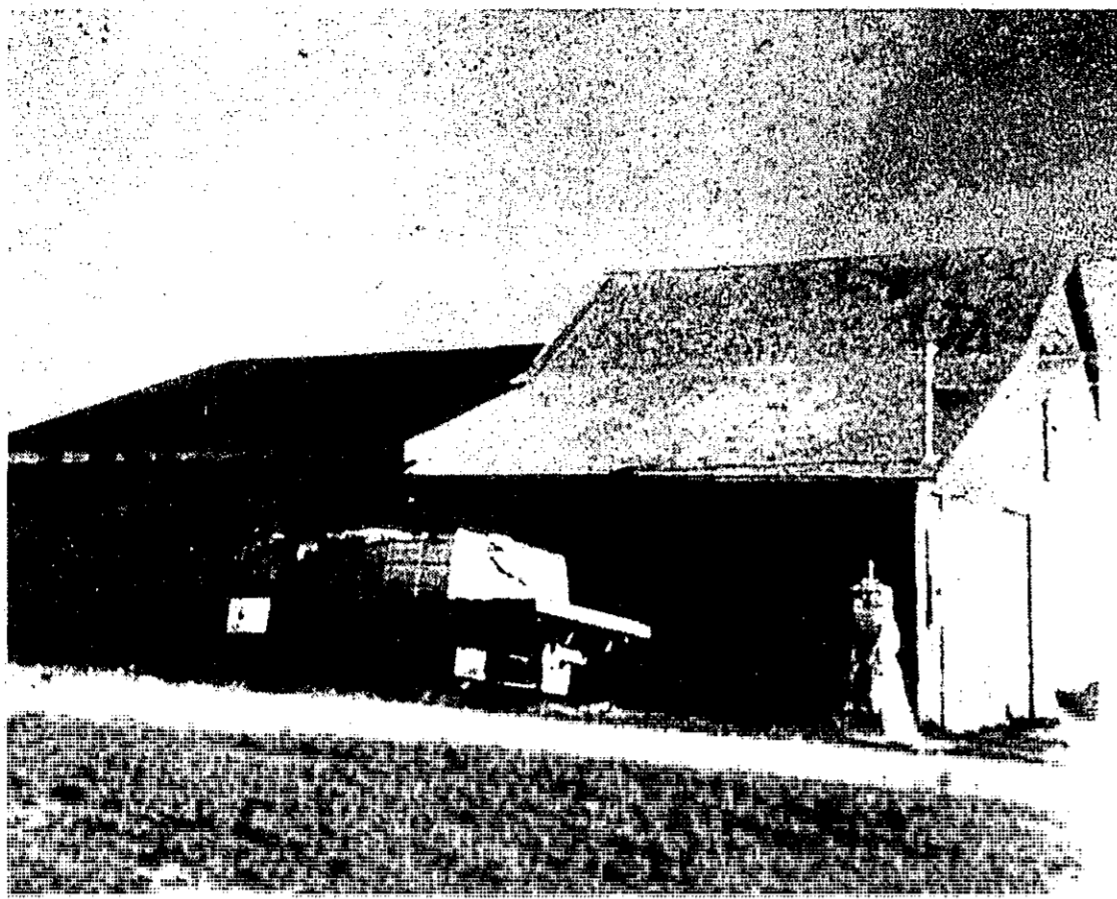

The parts are originally made by the customers, Ford, General Motors and American Motors, shipped into the plant where they are treated. The "treatment" consists of immersing the parts into the phosphating solution by an automatic dumper. The parts travel around the line 18 times. The entire process is programmed on a time schedule and can be controlled. Therefore, various parts will receive the amount of protection they require.

The plant has been called "the most modern plant of its kind in the world." And that's not bragging on the part of plant management. That statement comes from the customers themselves!

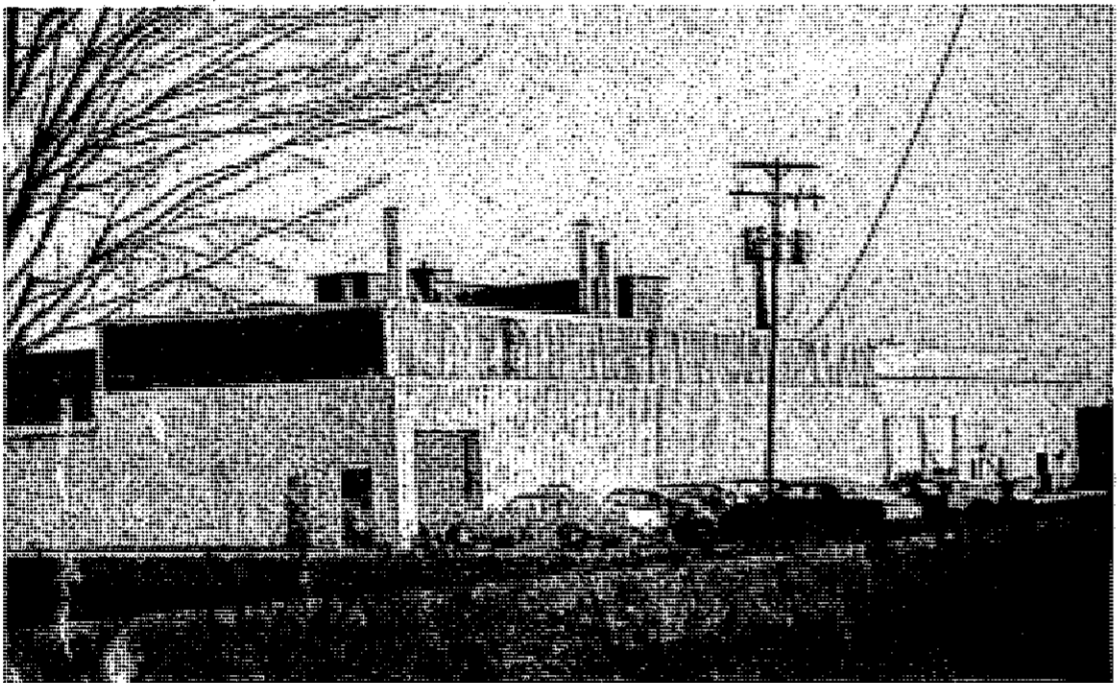

"THERE IS ONE plant of this type in Detroit that is larger than our plant, but the St. Johns operations is the only one that is

BORN DIPLOMAT

The fellow who is smart enough to ask his friends for advice seldom needs it.

The new modern plant.

fully automated," Spaulding said.

The plant started in 1963 when Spaulding set up operations in an old barn at 6035 Krepps Rd. It was first called Industrial Painting.

"There was a need for such a plant in the area and with encouragement from the industry, I decided to go into the business," Spaulding said.

By 1965, the demand for parts protection had outgrown the old barn and an addition had to be built. Other additions were built in 1966, '67, '68 and 1971.

THE OLD BARN is now gone.

And in its place is a modern 24,000-square foot plant operating three shifts, employing 25 persons.

The parts which are coated with the phosphate include bolts, nuts, steering column holders, A-frames and other automotive pieces.

Right now they are running some 80,000 valves a day for Ford Motor Co. The valves, which are coated to prevent sticking, were first tried in the Pinto. Those first coated valves were made right here.

"On all of the tests they have run so far, our coating has checked out with superior marks," Spaulding said.

THE PLANT ALSO operates a painting line, painting heater components for American Motors and fender braces for Ford.

When the parts arrive, they are first put into a cleansing bath then rinsed with water. Next they go into an acid bath and another water rinse before the actual phosphating takes place.

When the process is finished, the parts are packaged and returned to the customer.

In addition to the companies already mentioned, Industrial Phosphating also serves Saginaw Steering Gear, Chevrolet, Buick, Federal Mogul, Portland Mfg. Co., Smeltzer Corp., of Lake Odessa and many other companies located in New York and Ohio.

THE BIGGEST CUSTOMER by far is Oldsmobile, located in Lansing. This week a new 1971 Oldsmobile will be on display in the lobby of the Central National Bank to show off the parts which were phosphated for protection right here in St. Johns.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

Parr's Pharmacy is having an Anniversary Sale and Ray Parr says the choice is yours.

It seems that there has always been a pharmacy on the corner of North Clinton and Walker. The names have long since been forgotten but back in 1862 when the building was completed, the first tenant was a pharmacy.

So, the Anniversary Sale could be the 108th.

The corner store changed hands a few times in those early years, then in 1910 Ray's father, Dart H. Parr purchased the business. That's 61 years the Parr's have operated the business and so it could be the 61st Anniversary.

Or it could be the 23rd. Twenty three years ago, in 1948, Ray joined his father as a partner in the firm.

Or it could be the 15th Anniversary. Fifteen years ago, in 1956, Ray purchased his father's share and became the man at Parr's.

Ray says it's your choice . . . but I say (after reading Ray's Anniversary ad) that regardless of the name of it, it is one dandy sale.

I don't know if I like Dan Beck or not. He keeps giving people an all-expense paid weekend at Fonro Lodge . . . with two Skidoos at their disposal. But not to me. This week Mrs. Ken (Donna) Wilson of Elsie won the Free weekend. Mrs. Wilson went to the Farmarina to tend to her prize, I went to get a picture. Mrs. Wilson got her prize, I got the picture . . . and an ice cold cup of tar Dan calls coffee.

It seems the coffee pot went bust and no one told me. Talk about surprises. The Preville family received a phone call the other night. Not that our phone doesn't ring that often, but the surprise was the caller.

Cousin Barb Akkanen called from Raco (deep in the heart of the boon-docks) in the U.P. on her very own phone.

Barb and John moved to Raco back in 1954 and since that time till now the closest phone was a mile away. Now that's isolated. I wish I could report what the conversation was about but the only thing I heard that I could understand was, "Hi, it's me, Barb. We have a phone. Johnny's timing me so I'll have to talk fast . . ."

But she did sound the happiest she's been since the plumbing came indoors. Jack Spencer of St. Johns mis-fired on only two football games in a week that saw many upsets to win the County News' Football contest. The only losers Jack selected were Wisconsin and Ohio State.

MRS. BETTY J. RADEMACHER

meet Betty Rademacher, our check accounting supervisor

If you've ever wondered what happens to a check when it's cashed or deposited and you want to be filled in on all the details, then stop in and chat with Betty sometime. She's in charge of our check accounting and demand deposit department and when it comes to whereabouts of a check or the status of a savings account activities which occur at CNB&T in just one day, you can quickly see that Betty and her staff are kept pretty busy.

Betty's been with the bank since October 1962 and throughout these years most of her time has been spent in the various accounting divisions. Her experience includes working with our certificates of deposit and Golden Eagle savings plans accounting as well as in our imprinting department where records for mailing and account communications are maintained. All this led to her present work as department supervisor.

Betty, who is a widow, has five children and six grandchildren. Colleen, the youngest of the Rademachers, graduated from St. Johns High School last spring and has been selected for airline hostess study. She will soon leave for Kansas City to begin on the job training.

Betty, it seems, is a year-around sports woman as she enjoys watching football, baseball and basketball and those three activities just about span the 12-month cycle. But just as important a pastime are her six grandchildren and there's little denying they capture a great deal of grandmother's attention.

But during bank hours Betty's attention is wholly on her department and it's not a light suggestion that we make to visit her if you have a checking account question. Come to think of it, you might test her out on football, baseball or basketball. Betcha she could answer those, too.

Are the courts only for goody two shoes liberals?

Does the governor of Michigan represent all the citizens of the state or does he represent just part of them?

Is the responsibility of the attorney general declared null and void when a request is made by conservatives for equal time and effort on the part of the attorney general in presenting a challenge in a court of law?

Wild-eyed liberalism has gotten where it is today because it has used the courts and the machinery of law. Yet this week 2 groups, one within the framework of state government and the other on the outside as a citizen group would deny these same tools—the courts and the machinery of law—to a goody group of Michigan people with a different point of view.

The American Civil Liberties Union, a shelter for many who have used the courts to challenge prevailing philosophies successfully, came out violently opposed to Gov. Milliken for his request in asking Attorney General Kelley to appeal a federal court ruling in which the state and Detroit and Suburban schools have been declared guilty of de jure segregation.

In addition, the Michigan Civil Rights Commission which has always been quick to rush to the courts for appeals when its own accusers on occasion have won a round, has presented a resolution urging the governor to withdraw his appeal and has urged the attorney general to refuse to appeal even if the governor doesn't reconsider.

The issue isn't school segregation. The issue isn't the good guys vs. the bad guys as the ACLU and the Michigan Civil Rights commission news releases would have us believe.

The issue is whether the right of appeal applies only to ACLU and Michigan Civil Rights commission causes and not to the apparently large group which has a different opinion from Judge Stephen J. Roth.

Michigan constitutional officers represent all the people in Michigan—not just those on one side or the other in a particular confrontation before the courts.

The ACLU and the Michigan Civil Right commission has apparently forgotten that.

The rights of appeal are for all people and groups of people—not just the ACLU and the Michigan Civil Rights commission. These groups have forgotten that, too.

Arenac County Independent, Standish

A Greek authoress . . . her name escaped us . . . made an impassioned plea on the Johnny Carson Show the other night . . . a plea to the American government to keep its nose out of other people's business.

"Why," she asked "must the American government continually interfere, continually demand of people in other countries that they adopt a government that will be satisfactory to the United States."

HER COUNTRY lives today under a ruthless, military dictatorship . . . her country . . . Greece . . . the birth place of the democratic form of government.

Her commentary was initiated by a question on what she thought of Vice-President Agnew's visit to Greece.

"He is 61 years old," she said. "He was not born poor. Tickets to Greece do not cost that much. If his return to the native land of his parents was because of nostalgia, why hadn't he returned many, many years ago?"

SHE MADE her point very clearly. Agnew was not there because of "nostalgia." He was there, she was absolutely certain, to let people know the oppressive dictatorship had American approval and if they did rise up . . . well, how do you fight townhall . . . especially an arms rich, powerful townhall.

We'll confess to knowing little about Greek politics. Nevertheless, her tense feelings struck home.

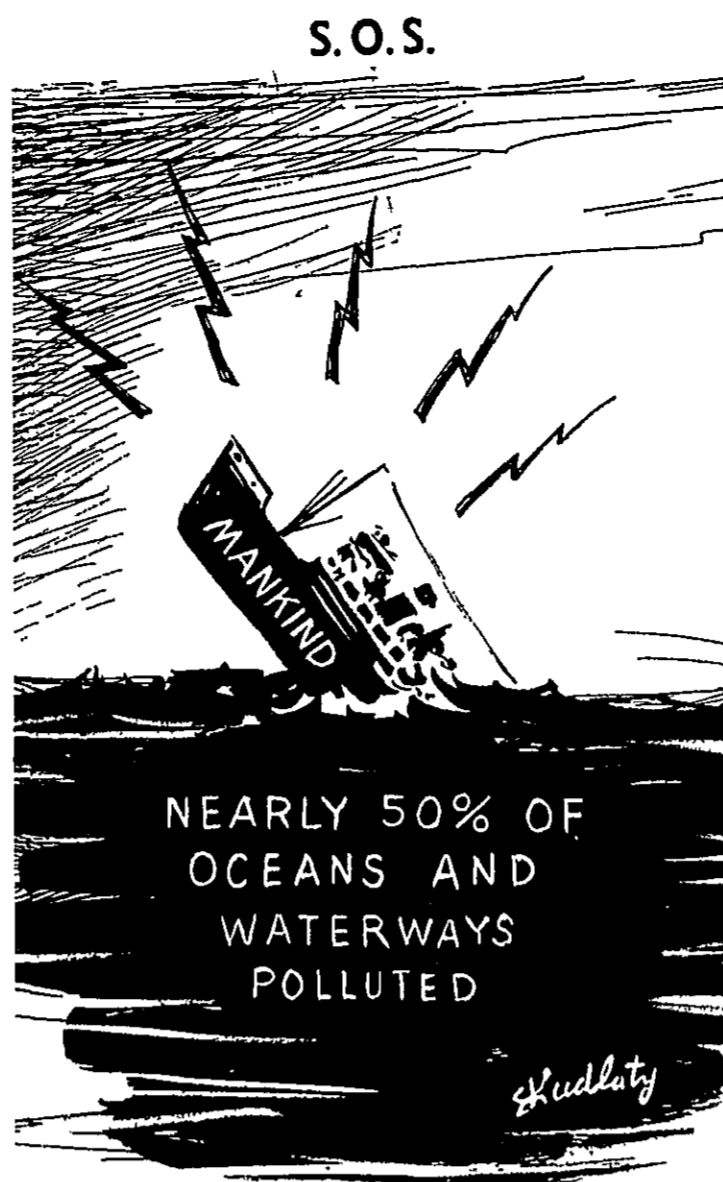

How can America . . . the bulwark of freedom in the world . . . make people believe its intentions are sincere when it says, "Govern as you wish, as long as it pleases us."

Allen wants hiking amendment in bill

LANSING—Provisions for hiking, biking and horseback riding were presented here today at a hearing on a package of transportation bills presented by Gov. Milliken.

The proposal was presented by State Rep. Richard Allen (R-Ithaca) by way of an amendment to the transportation package requiring that the needs of non-motorized transportation be considered in any future road construction.

The hearing was held by House and Senate Committee members involved in the consideration of the transportation bills which contain proposals for extra money for roads and mass transit systems through an increase in the gas tax.

Presidential trivia

By TIM YOUNKMAN

Chester Alan Arthur may sound like a new rock group for those who aren't quite caught up on their trivia history.

But all of our mallmen ought to know who he was—Chester Alan Arthur was the 21st President of the United States.

Mallmen and other government workers should have a warm spot in their hearts for Mr. Arthur since he was the man who made their jobs possible. Arthur's main achievement while in office from 1881 to 1884 was the reforming of civil service in the United States.

Recently a Michigan man, Jerry D. Roe, executive director of the Michigan Republican State Central Committee, helped to start a group called the Michigan Friends of Chester A. Arthur. It was formed to help locate artifacts of the forgotten president for the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, which has no artifacts of the 21st President.

The drive is similar to the unusual group formed a few years ago to "remember" Millard Fillmore, the 13th President and last of the Whig party to hold that office. Each year the group gathers on Jan. 7, or thereabouts, to hold a party in Fillmore's memory.

The Fillmore group's formation left Arthur on the bottom of the remembered list as far as Presidents were concerned.

It all leads to an interesting topic of just how much Americans really know about their ancestors—even out of simple curiosity.

For example, a question like how many American presidents have there been? should draw at least one accurate answer. Normally, it doesn't. We know that President Nixon was inaugurated the 37th President, so the answer should be 37. Wrong—it is 36. We keep forgetting about Grover Cleveland who served two terms but not consecutively. So he was considered the 22nd and the 24th President.

Or how about this one. How many of you can name all of the American Vice-Presidents? That's pretty tough. There have been 39 Vice-Presidents, counting Mr. Agnew. But remembering some of them could even stump a professor of history. Names like John Adams, Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey can be remembered, but how about Elbridge Gerry, Schuyler Colfax, Levi P. Morton and Charles Curtis? They aren't exactly household words.

How much do we know about our former leaders' religious backgrounds? We know that all but one President were Protestant. Nine Presidents attended the Episcopal Church, seven were members of the Presbyterian Church, four were Methodists and four were Unitarians. Others were members of the Baptist, Congregational, Quaker and Reformed Dutch churches.

Although all of the Presidents assumed the role of Commander-in-Chief of the American Armed Forces, only 21 ever wore military uniforms. Our friend, Chester A. Arthur was a Quartermaster General, New York State Militia, which he helped to organize.

I could go on, but you get the picture. The problem seems to be that we really don't know much at all about our history, important facts or the trivial. We tend to make the same mistakes over and over again on issues of national importance.

We should take an active interest in our triumphs and failures of the past which could help in shaping our future. And, if along the way, we discover what the G. stands for in Warren Harding's name, all the better!

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Learning about aspirins

By JIM FITZGERALD

"I stopped to listen to an aspirin lecture."

That's what I told my wife when she asked why I was late getting home from work.

No kidding. I was driving by the County Center building when I heard the thunderous applause coming from inside. Naturally, I had to stop to see what was going on. It took me 5 minutes to find a parking place.

I slipped the usher $5 and he forced 2 fat women to shove over and make room for me in the last row. It wasn't too crowded because 1 of the women stood up most of the time. I asked her why she was standing.

"Because that man deserves a standing ovation," she explained. "He is telling me what I want to know about pain relievers."

She was referring to the speaker, Charlie Sincere. You must have seen him on TV. He's strictly low pressure, neatly dressed but not flashy. He looks you in the eye, speaks in a low voice, and patiently answers every question, no matter how stupid. He won't talk to an audience that isn't at least 5 per cent Negro and .001 per cent American Indian.

Charlie's mission in life is to explain aspirin. He lectures everywhere and always draws a crowd. He drives a previously owned Lincoln with a .001 per cent American Indian in the backseat, just in case.

I arrived at the end of Charlie's lecture but just in time for the questions from the audience. This is the best part because Charlie always answers with 1 leg hung over the corner of a desk, so you know his answers are honest and sincere. He brings his own desk. It is transported in the trunk of his previously owned car, along with a 5 per cent Negro.

A woman stood up. "I'm a Catholic," she said, "so isn't it best for me to take St. Joseph Aspirin, especially on Sundays?"

"Some of my best friends are Catholics," Charlie answered. "But they always take Bayer Aspirin, even on Sundays. I know priests who use Bayer. The Pope is expected to rule on this question at the next ecumenical conference where, I'm pleased to say, I will lecture. But in the meantime, you can certainly feel safe using Bayer no matter what your religion. I have nothing against St. Joseph, of course. And I urge each and every one of you to make your aspirin choice freely, without regard to religion. I would only remind you that Bayer is proven best, which is probably why Jesus and the 12 apostles used it."

I decided to ask a question. "Mr. Sincere," I said, "numerous scientific tests have proven, without a doubt, that aspirin is aspirin and no 1 brand is any better than another. So why do you insist that Bayer is best? Do you have a better grade of cotton plugging the bottleneck...?"

At this point, the crowd began to shout me down. A lady jabbed me with her umbrella. Someone said, "Throw that commie out of here." I was beginning to think I wouldn't live to have another headache. But Charlie Sincere saved me.

"Let that man go," he commanded. "He knows not what he is saying. He is obviously sick. If the pain persists, he should see his doctor."

Onward and upward, sincerely.

Ballenger happy on bill's passage

State Sen. William S. Ballenger today hailed legislative passage of his bill to allow tax deductions for contributions to political candidates or parties of $50 or less.

Entitled Senate Bill 273, Ballenger's measure passed the House yesterday by a vote of 58-26 after winning Senate approval last June.

A House amendment set Jan. 1, 1972, as the effective date for the measure, which is now on its way to Governor William G. Milliken for his signature.

According to the language of Ballenger's bill, the 1967 state income tax law could be amended to read: "IN COMPUTING TAXABLE INCOME THERE SHALL BE ALLOWED AS A DEDUCTION POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS BY ANY PERSON TO POLITICAL PARTIES OR CANDIDATES NOT IN EXCESS OF $50.00 PER ANNUM." Six states now have similar statutes but until now Michigan never had seriously considered such a law.

"Passage of SB 273 represents a major step forward in my three-year campaign to broaden the base of political fund-raising," Ballenger commented.

"In an age of ever-increasing and exorbitating campaign expenses, this bill will encourage thousands of people and hundreds of organizations in Michigan to give, or to give more," said the 30-year-old lawmaker. "This would take vast pressure off the hundreds of non-wealthy citizens in Michigan who run for office, and would give a lot of gold men a better chance to play what present laws are helping to make a rich man's game."

Concluded Ballenger:

"I think that in addition to any bills we may consider in the future limiting campaign spending, the only real solution to the impropriety in the use of political funds is to get so many people to participate in the giving that no candidate would feel dependent on special interest groups. It would be a really healthy development if the Michigan voter could somehow be persuaded to leave his public servants less dependent on the financial fat cats—be they individuals or organizations."

MHSAA and the State

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

For months, members of the State Board of Education have had their eyes on the highly respected and eminently successful Michigan High School Athletic Association, long a model of efficient operation for the rest of the nation.

At the behest of a few disgruntled parents, some board members vowed to take over operation of the Association, which for about a half century has been running Michigan high school athletics with extreme fairness and without any suspicion of favoritism or scandal.

But the Board ran into two buzzsaws it hadn't foreseen in its takeover plans.

First, several legislators aroused by the plan to make a political football out of a heretofore "non-political" organization started to apply the brakes to the onrushing State Board steamroller.

When a series of public meetings were held in various parts of the state, testimony ran almost 100 per cent against changing the Association's status. The few Board members who did attend the meetings got their ears burned by irate school administrators and coaches—not to mention the general public.

Secondly, both chambers of the Legislature approved a Senate resolution, which I co-sponsored, requesting the State Board of Education "to hold in abeyance any further plans for a proposed reorganization plan for state athletic supervision programs."

The resolution stated that "since its inception, the Michigan High School Athletic Association has, through a representative council which is broadly representative of private, parochial and public junior and senior high schools, attempted to and has successfully endeavored to keep interscholastic education at a high level, to safeguard the welfare of participants and to arrange athletic programs so that there is ample time for both study and athletics, and as a result the Michigan interscholastic athletic activities throughout the state have been a model for the entire nation."

The resolution noted that "the members of the Michigan Legislature wish to strongly protest any further action being taken by the State Board of Education which would in any way attempt to change the present organizational structure concerning interscholastic athletic activities of all schools within the state."

It expressed the legislative feeling as being "vehemently opposed to in any way injecting interscholastic athletic activities into the political arena, which the proposal by the State Board of Education would tend to do."

While the determined Board may still go through the motions of a political takeover, Michael Deeb, Board Vice-chairman, indicated the message had begun to penetrate. He said:

"A legislative resolution doesn't legally stop us from enacting our proposal. However, if our legislative body deems it proper to take another route, then I would hardly think the Board would scorn them."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"We are responsible"

Dear Editor,

We would like to thank you for your editorial "Divergent Feelings" in this week's County News, you summed it up very nicely.

Our group is working to better our community by changing some things at our beloved hospital that should have been changed long before this. We do not mean to hurt anyone. Our group is concerned over our doctors that we now have being overworked, they have done a wonderful job since Dr. Stoller died trying their best to treat all of their patients.

We are simply a group of people, all of whom do or have used our hospital and we think enough of it and of our community that we do not want to see it close down.

It hurts to see the people of St. Johns going to hospitals out of town when most of them would prefer to go to Clinton Memorial if they could.

We feel that this petition is our first step in restoring our hospital and reports we are getting back on these petitions many others feel the same.

This is not something that a group of emotional people have dreamed up and done on the spur of the moment, we have spent many hours looking into this, we have corresponded with many different hospitals and talked to various people in the past two months.

We feel that this is something that has to be done, the people of this community have sat back and complained about the situation for years, not taking any action and in those years our hospital has slowly been losing out.

We love our community and our hospital is a big part of it so please all of you people that have been sitting back complaining about it get out and do something about it after all it is our hospital, we are the Clinton Memorial Association and we can do something about it.

Sincerely,
THE CONCERNED CITIZENS

Quality education

Rep. Douglas Trezise
87th District

It should come as no surprise to readers of this column that I strongly support the announcement by Gov. MILLIKEN last week concerning his program for assuring a "quality education" for all elementary and high school students in Michigan.

I believe also that his program has or should have the support of the majority of the people in the 87th District.

Contrary to many news stories, these proposals are not an "anti-busing" program. They get to the real root of the problem which, of course, is not racial but economic.

AS INDICATED in this column last week, I feel the "dejure" segregation finding in the Detroit school system should be appealed. It would be tragic to begin a costly plan of correction now only to have it appealed later and have that finding reversed.

The Governor's decision to appeal that decision as soon as it is legally possible should be applauded.

By "appeal" we are not saying we seek a reversal. We mean that we want the full assurance of the judicial branch of the ultimate way the law is to be interpreted.

In the meantime, regardless of "dejure" or "defacto" segregation and regardless of busing or anti-busing, the basic inequities in our educational system remain. And, these inequities are mainly financial.

AS LONG AS 20 mills of local taxation produces $600 per pupil for schools in one district and that same 20 mills in another district produces only $200, you cannot provide equal educational opportunity in the two districts.

The state-aid formula is intended to balance this out but even that is inadequate. In the first example above, state aid would amount to $139.50 per child, making a total of $899 available to educate each student.

In the case of the poorer district, the state assistance would be $461.50 per pupil, bringing the total available to only $661.50. Another way of saying it is that the second district would

DESPITE THIS ASSURANCE, I think we should be prepared to accept some state-imposed restrictions. To my mind, these should be limited to the areas directly affecting costs and relating to the efficient use of the funds provided.

But matters of curriculum, text book selection, discipline and other non-financial matters should be the responsibility of the local districts. Because salaries of professional educators represent the largest portion of school costs, I suspect that sometime in the future some state direction in that area is coming.

I am hopeful that these subjects and any others which affect our educational system will be thoroughly aired and understood before we, as voters, face the ballot on the question of financial reform.

But the job right now is to get the petition signatures necessary to place the question before us and I urge your assistance in that undertaking.

Holy communion

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

Christians celebrate the Holy Communion. The Holy Communion is a sacrament. A sacrament is the Gospel acted out. It is a divine drama—a living parable. Today I write about the truths which the Holy Communion or Lord's Supper portrays.

First, the Lord's Supper can bring you inner strength. The Spirit of Christ living in you gives you inner strength—strength that helps you overcome the many frustrations in life. Clayton Williams in "The Dark Road to Triumph" writes, and puts the following words into the mouth of Jesus, "Life cannot break you, cannot frustrate God's purposes in you if you will let God's purposes be fulfilled in your broken, suffering, betrayed experiences."

"Take in your hands life's suffering and defeat, born of loyalty to me, as I take this broken bread and this cup of crushed life poured out. Do not hold back! What you suffer in loyalty to me will become a source of God's power for you and for the world."

Next, the Lord's Supper can satisfy your hunger—your spiritual hunger. In John's Gospel, chapter 6, we read where Jesus is teaching his disciples and they say to Him, "You must show us more miracles if you want us to believe you are the Messiah. Give us free bread every day, like our fathers had while they journeyed through the wilderness!" Jesus said, "Moses didn't give you fathers bread—My Father did. And now He offers you the true bread from heaven. The true bread is a Person—the one sent by God from heaven, and He gives life to the world."

The disciples said, "Sir, give us that bread every day of our lives!" Jesus replies, "I am the bread of life. No one coming to me will ever be hungry again."

Next, the Lord's Supper reminds you to be thankful. The Lord's Supper reminds you to think about all that you have in this present life. Robert Rodenmayer says, "There are three kinds of giving; grudge giving, duty giving, and thanksgiving. Grudge giving says, 'I have to'; duty giving says, 'I ought to'; thanksgiving says, 'I want to.' The first comes from constraint; the second from a sense of obligation, and the third from a full heart. Nothing much is conveyed in grudge giving since the gift without the giver is bare. Something more happens in duty giving, but there is no song in it. Thanksgiving is an open gate into the love of God."

The Lord's Supper reminds you to be thankful.

Next, the Lord's Supper makes you aware of the Lord's presence. We are made aware that we can have a personal relationship with Christ.

In Westminster Abbey over 600 years ago, King Henry V of England was found one day by a courtier at a celebration of the Holy Communion at an almost deserted side-chapel in a quiet part of the building, while a great crowd of people filled the great nave of the Abbey. The crowd was listening to an address by a talented preacher. When the courtier asked why he was not with the larger congregation, the King answered, "I would rather meet with my friend than merely hear Him talked about."

Next, the Lord's Supper reminds us about the birth of Jesus. This is the Incarnation and it means that God put Himself completely into a human being. F.W. Boreham in "The Drum of Dawn" wrote, "Sir Christopher Wren expressed himself in granite; Joseph Turner expressed himself in oils; Michelangelo expressed himself in marble; Shakespeare expressed himself in writing; but God selected flesh as the ideal vehicle for self-expression. And there is nothing so eloquent as flesh. The twitching of the lips, the pallor of the countenance, the crimsoning of the cheeks, the moistening of the eyes—these telltale signals are more eloquent and more revealing than any mere words could possibly be. For they are flesh; and flesh is the ideal medium for self-expression. That is why God chose it. He selected the one element in humanity that He Himself did not share."

Next, the Lord's Supper reminds us of the Atonement. Atonement means that there is a barrier between God and man. It means that man's sin has created a rupture in his relationship with God. The holiness of God is on one side and man's pride and perverseness are on the other.

H.R. Mackintosh writes, "We often speak of the mystery of the Atonement. And often by our very manner of saying this, a suggestion is left that the difficulties are purely intellectual. If we were able, if our minds were more subtle or profound, it is hinted, we should not find the Cross so unfathomable as we do."

"But doesn't the difficulty lie far deeper? I feel that the great reason why we fail to understand Calvary is not merely that we are not profound enough; it is that we are not good enough. It is because we are such strangers to sacrifice that God's sacrifice leaves us bewildered."

God's sacrificing His Son Jesus brought man back to God again. This is the Atonement. Finally, the Lord's Supper reminds us of the need for salvation. Why do men need to be saved? Because they are lost. Why do they need to be redeemed? Because they are sinful. Why do they need to be reconciled? Because they are estranged, separated, and alienated from God by their rebellion and defiance of God's law and will. Why does this salvation have to come from God? Because man is not able to save himself. His sins are too many, his rebellion too deep, and the gulf that separated him from God is too wide for anyone but God to bridge.

Dear Editor:

Many of your readers who have heard about the plight of the millions of refugees from East Pakistan now living in crowded camps throughout India might be wondering what concerned Americans can do to alleviate the suffering of these poor displaced human beings.

During the week of November 21-28, the 23rd annual Thanksgiving Giving Collection for the Needy Overseas will be conducted throughout the ten counties in the Diocese of Lansing. All Catholic churches will gratefully accept bundles of serviceable used or unwanted clothing and bedding materials during this week. These donated garments are processed and shipped overseas for distribution to the poor of all races and religions through the global facilities of Catholic Relief Services which conducts aid and development programs in 70 countries.

Much of this year's clothing and bedding materials will be earmarked for distribution to the East Pakistani people who have had to flee their homeland since the civil and military disturbances began in March, this year. Catholic Relief Services is aiding thousands of these refugees with daily food rations and medical care, in addition to supplying them with clothing and sheltering.

Last year, the people of the Lansing Diocese donated more than 175,000 pounds to this nationwide campaign. We are confident that your readers will once again want to participate in this program to help the less fortunate peoples of the world.

We appeal to your readers to bring their unwanted dresses, trousers, shirts, infant wear and other garments to the nearest Catholic church during the week of Thanksgiving. There is an extra urgent need for lightweight clothing because most of the countries where Catholic Relief Services conducts its aid programs are located in warmer climates.

This Thanksgiving season, we can all show our thanks by emphasizing the giving.

Sincerely yours,
Reverend John M. Fackler
Diocesan Director.

Whether its reputation is good or bad, it doesn't mean we avoid it, and that goes for you, I or anything and anybody.

If you have a good reason for this, you can shut me down, but I am curious why!

How about St. Pats

On behalf of the St. Johns Music Department, I thank you for the fine coverage you gave to our up-coming Varsity Nite. A newspaper is of invaluable service to the development and growth of a community. The Music Department endeavors to develop the aesthetic awareness of the populous through the vehicle of concerts.

I am not naive enough to believe that everyone in this community enjoys our type of music. However, there has been a concerted effort, for several years, to attract an audience through a variety of music programs. I believe we have increased our attendance and have culturally enriched our community.

Please excuse the "rambling." I just wanted you to know what our basic philosophy is and how important your newspaper is to our cause.

Once again, thank you for the fine news articles concerning Varsity Nite. Hope you and some of your staff can attend.

Sincerely,
W. P. Cole
Music Department Chairman

Freeway path-up pays off

LANSING-The continuing program to improve highway safety at hazardous locations has paid dramatic dividends on a freeway curve in Gratiot County, the Department of State Highways reported today.

The curve, on southbound US-27 south of the Ann Arbor Railroad bridge near Ithaca, previously had been the scene of numerous run-off-the-road accidents during wet weather.

Road surface improvements were made in October, 1970, and the results are now in.

Police agencies reported 16 accidents (with 15 injuries) during the 12 months prior to the change, and only two accidents (with four injuries) in the 12 months after.

Even more conclusive were results of a Highway Department questionnaire to area service stations regarding the calls for assistance.

According to the questionnaire results, during the three summer months of 1970 there was a total of 42 calls for tow service as a result of drivers losing control on this curve. Only three calls were received during the same months of this year.

The curve hazard was corrected, at a cost of $9,000, by placing a 600-foot bituminous surface patch at the beginning of the curve. The pavement cross-section was adjusted to help the driver make the curve. The adjustment also caused water to run off the pavement surface much faster.

Previously, rain water ran along the pavement surface rather than off the sides. Surface water contributed to the cause of the accidents.

Harold H. Cooper, engineer of the Highway Department's Traffic and Safety Division, said the curve improvement showed an exceptional benefit for the money spent.

"This is just one example," he said, "of the type of improvement we can make on the highway system with adequate study and application of the best traffic engineering principles."

The Highway Department allocates up to $5 million annually to locate and improve danger spots such as the Gratiot County curve.

Additional safety programs are funded by the Federal Government and administered by the Highway Department.

Antibusing clause on higher ed bill

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The House last week ditched President Nixon's $1.5 billion desegregation bill and several busing bills on the $23 billion higher education legislation.

Now the two measures, which previously had been passed separately by the Senate without antibusing provisions, are expected to face tough going in the House-Senate Conference Committee.

Initially, the controversy will center on the busing provisions.

GOP caucus seeks sweeping reforms

LANSING—Sweeping procedural reforms and a request for immediate appeal of the Detroit school busing court decision are foremost among recommendations developed by House Republicans at a special caucus this week.

State Representative R. Douglas Trezise (R) of Owosso reported on the meeting held Monday, October 25, on the eve of the Legislature's fall session.

"In addition to House operations and the school integration decision, the GOP caucus work-shop dealt with welfare reform, urban affairs, education and environmental issues," Rep. Trezise said. "Our overriding concern is that this fall session and sessions to follow be productive and accountable to the public. We feel these goals have not been met by the present Democrat leadership, so we have taken the lead in pushing for reform."

"Due to the impact of the Detroit school decision by Judge Roth, and the possible implication of cross busing between school districts, we formally asked the proper authorities to seek immediate appeal of this court-setting case. Our aim is to have the full ramifications of the legal action spelled out in detail by the highest possible judicial authority," Rep. Trezise said.

"The caucus agreed that the effort for financing reform for K-12 education should be intensified, with the aim of final legislative action as early as possible next year."

Welfare reform is an important topic, with the welfare appropriation bill at the head of legislative priorities for the fall session. Rep. Trezise said the GOP program is to concentrate on assuring that all public assistance goes to truly needy persons, and to encourage private employment and public work incentive programs for welfare recipients. A series of suggested reforms were developed to promote equity in public assistance, including support of President Nixon's Family Assistance Program and to eliminate welfare fraud.

CHIEF RECOMMENDATIONS for environmental action were passage of bills providing on-going monitoring and reporting of air pollution and tighter controls over outdoor advertising. "Our urban affairs task force recommended expansion of our highway and sewer system and prompt attention to most transit needs of urban centers," Rep. Trezise added. "We also believe we need a uniform state construction code, legislative decision on whether to extend public and fire compulsory arbitration and careful land use planning with encouragement of voluntary green belt zoning.

"These are the major recommendations of House Republicans to put the Legislature on a responsible and responsive course in meeting the priority need of Michigan citizens," Rep. Trezise concluded. "This fall session must be the turning point which redirects this Legislature toward accountability and achievement."

Counselor's Corner

Questions and answers

Inside school counseling

In recent years guidance programs have been introduced, expanded and modified at a rather rapid pace in many school systems. These developments have come so fast that many parents, students, and teachers find that they are uncertain about the objectives, methods or results of modern school guidance programs.

Students of so-called problem children indicated that their difficulties might not have developed if they had received counseling about their needs. Other studies of the capabilities needed for gainful employment and of occupational trends suggested that schools needed guidance programs to help students prepare for satisfying and productive lives.

This week's column will deal with an attempt to answer some common questions that are raised by parents and students about guidance and counseling programs generally.

WHAT IS GUIDANCE?

Guidance can best be defined as the services available to each student to facilitate his academic success in school; to help him/her better understand his strengths and limitations; to identify his interests; to aid him in planning for and attaining realistic goals. The emphasis is always on the individual, even when students meet in groups for guidance purposes.

WHY ARE GUIDANCE PROGRAMS NEEDED IN THE SCHOOLS TODAY?

Effective guidance programs are needed in schools today more than ever in the past because of the accelerating rate of change in many aspects of life. For example, technology has created new vocations, which are unfamiliar to students who need to prepare for such positions and their parents.

More students than ever before are dropping out of school; each one needs guidance to make maximum use of his talents.

HOW DO ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOL GUIDANCE PROGRAMS DIFFER?

Guidance programs must evolve to meet these basic needs of students which are common at both levels of education, elementary and secondary. These needs are:

1. Assistance in developing an adequate self image.
2. Assistance in developing effective interpersonal skills.
3. Assistance in their vocational development.
4. Assistance in problem-solving and decision making.

Assistance in achieving responsible independence.

It should be pointed out, however, that the elementary school program is concerned generally with the early identification of children's ability and with those children who have learning difficulties. Counselors and classroom teachers work closely in the elementary school. At the secondary level the Guidance program broadens to include future educational and occupational plans.

WHAT IS INCLUDED IN A COMPLETE SECONDARY SCHOOL GUIDANCE PROGRAM?

Counseling, the primary activity employed in a guidance program, is the process by which a student is helped by conferences to understand himself in relation to the developing and changing world of work. An important part of this process includes conferences with parents and teachers and the use of other school and community resources.

The counselor uses individual and group tests; school orientation classes; information about vocational training, colleges, and careers in working with the individual student.

Leading authorities in education recommend that for an effective guidance program there should be no more than 250-300 students per counselor. At the present time, however, our high school staff of three full-time counselors is servicing 1,300 students at a ratio of 430 to 1.

HOW DOES COUNSELING WORK?

Counseling provides professional assistance for each individual by helping him to be more objective and realistic as he seeks self-understanding and self-development. Individual counseling helps the student interpret and relate facts about himself and his world and to apply this knowledge in (a) solving everyday problems and (b) making realistic educational and occupational plans. ### Middlebury

By Mrs. Don Warren

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Middlebury United Methodist met recently in the dining room of the church with Lois Gardner, Midge Craig and Loreta Warren as hostesses. President, Helen Hubbard called the meeting to order and opened with prayer.

Communications consisted of "thank you" notes from Marjorie Boggs, Maud Warren and Marjorie Murphy and a letter from missionary, Miss Palmer. Loreta Warren announced that she had some completed program books for 1972. If anyone would like one now.

An invitation was extended to anyone that would like to go to the Blue Star for Rita Craig on Saturday evening, Nov. 13 at the home of Mrs. William Holley on Colony Road.

Miss Wanda Dyer said that the Upper Rooms had not been received for November and December.

These new kettles have been purchased for the church kitchen and it is requested that these kettles not be taken from the church. There was discussion on putting a sign in the corner of the dining room at a future date.

The President again announced the upcoming training and conference meetings and urged the members to attend. Grace Pflum gave a report on the Flower Fund and said the committee members were having difficulty finding gifts for the stated amount of $2. The motion was made that the amount be increased to $3. Carried. Grace will take this to the Council on Ministries for their action.

There was a discussion on the study book "The Gospel of St. Matthew". Suggestions were made on how this could be a meaningful experience, possibly a family study on Sunday evenings for a few weeks. The minister is to be consulted and Dorothy Jordan is to order one copy of the study book.

November will be installation of the officers and Loreta Warren will contact the minister regarding the service. "Thank Offering" will also be received in November. Fleeta Warren is in charge of the devotions and Esther Tubbs conducted a most interesting program of questions and answers.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served to the 20 members present by the hostesses.

Thanksgiving is one reason to "think turkey" but certainly not the only one.

If you're interested in good tasting protein food at a low cost, you'll "think turkey" several times each month. The reason is this:

The carry-over of frozen birds from last year, plus the crop from this year (1971), has created the largest supply of frozen turkey in 10 years. The major part of these birds are heavyweight (16 to 20 pounds) so if we get a price break it will most likely be on the heavy birds. This is most often the pricing pattern, but this year there may be a greater spread between the heavy and lightweight bird.

The problem with a big bird is the leftovers. Particularly at holiday time, it's nice to bring the whole bird, packed with stuffing and surrounded by garnishes to the table so father can demonstrate his carving skill. Very often most of it comes back to the kitchen as leftover.

"Leftovers" can be a real problem to an inexperienced cook. When leftovers become waste then any price advantage at the store is wiped out in the kitchen. Then it would have been to our advantage to buy a smaller light weight bird at a higher cost per pound, but one that could be utilized.

With a little creative thinking we can still buy a nd use the heavy, lower cost bird. Actually, with the pricing pattern an 18-pound bird can cost less than a 12-pound bird. The trick is to turn leftovers into "planned-over." Plan ahead how you'll utilize every bit of the bird. Maybe you'll prepare a little extra of all the food at a meal and then set up a nd freeze your own TV dinners.

Certainly you'll freeze some leftover meat for sandwiches; you may even sort the white and dark meat you'll freeze chunks for casseroles, and bits and pieces for turkey a la king.

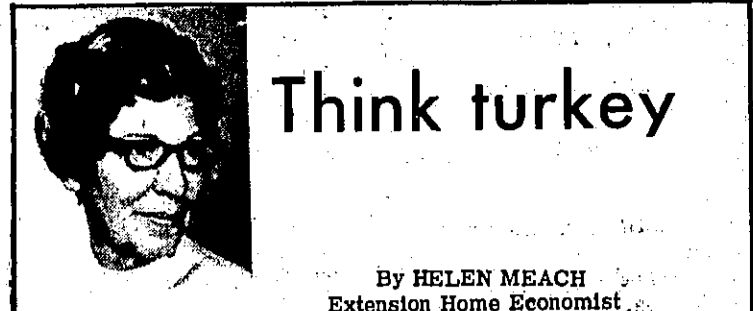

A "first time" turkey buyer may be a bit confused. Weights range from four to eight pounds, fryer-roasters from 22 to 25 pound mature roasters. The lightweight broiler fryer will not be as moist and juicy as the larger birds when cooked in the same manner. Broiler birds need frequent basting to insure moist meat.

Mature birds range in weight from the 12 to 14 pound range to twice that much.

The label on the package will usually specify the brand name, some identification as to sex and age of bird.

Turkey is not a "last moment" food. We know that it takes hours to cook before serving, but remember it takes shaving time, too. Plan your purchasing time accordingly. The most recommended way to thaw a turkey is in the refrigerator. With this method, it usually takes 2 to 4 days for most whole turkeys (in original wrappers) to thaw.

Remove giblets from inside of turkey, whenever you can pull them from the bird. Store these separately. Do not thaw commercially stuffed turkeys.

Machine-knit fabrics in today's picture

Machine-knit fabrics are the leading picture today in ready-to-wear garments and in the fabric-by-the-yard departments. They have even found their way, in limited amounts, into the home furnishings, also, says Lorraine Sprague, Extension Home Economist.

Machine-knit fabrics are made from the same fibers as are woven fabrics - natural or synthetics with numerous combinations. In general, care corresponds to fiber care. However there are some exceptions due to fabric-construction methods. And ready made garments need care as well as those made at home...

In selecting patterns for knit fabrics, the degree of stretch and kind of stretch (extensibility to the trade) must be considered. Some sewing techniques apply to both woven and knit fabrics, while others are recommended for one or the other type of fabric. All of these details plus others will be presented at Extension sponsored meetings, Nov. 9, Commercial National Bank, Ithaca; Nov. 11, Casino, McCurdy Park, Corunna and Nov. 16, Central National Bank, St. Johns. These meetings are scheduled from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and are open to all interested persons. Extension Study Group leaders will also have materials for re-teaching.

In the afternoon of each of the above dates, representatives of business, adult and community education programs and other qualified individuals who conduct construction classes will be present from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m.

They will show examples of what can be made in knit wear classes for both men and women that are offered throughout Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties. They will explain class organization under the different situations, cost, necessary equipment and other details. Some classes are taught by demonstration and others by participation. Women may then better decide which classes meet their individual needs and enroll as they wish.

All home sewers, 4-H leaders, representatives from High School homemaking classes, Extension Study group leaders and others are invited to attend one or both segments, says Miss Sprague. For those attending the full day and bringing a sack lunch, beverage will be available.

Government forecasts of a record 1971 feed grain production, especially corn, have sparked a renewed demand by some Congressmen for the establishment of government "strategic reserves" of such grains, and a prediction by high USDA officials that more tax dollars would have to be spent next year for taking more land out of feed grain production.

Representative Neal Smith of Iowa recently testified before a House Agriculture Subcommittee, urging the government to purchase up to 720 million bushels of feed grain, including corn, at not more than $1.17 per bushel. When the market price reaches $1.17 per bushel, government purchases would halt and the sales of government owned grains would be made when demand exceeded supply.

Plans for such "reserves" have been proposed many times in past years, and earlier this year, some Congressmen of both parties expressed great favor for such government stockpiles.

So far, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin has been cool to the idea, stating, "We know that reserves do overhang a market and do affect price levels adversely." Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Clarence Palmbly has pointed out that the reserves set up in the 1950's did not do the job for farmers.

Farmers can remember many instances in recent years when government-held commodities have been dumped on the market to depress prices. Such reserves are handy devices to politically manipulate markets, to coerce farmers to cooperate with government supply-management programs and have imposed ceilings on farm prices.

The dilemma of record crop production and the possibility of lower prices can be traced to the continuation of government farm programs.

As the election year of 1972 draws near, many Congressmen as well as the Administration are concerned about the effect of bumper grain crops and prices.

New era of stretch

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE
Extension Home Economist

The 70's definitely are becoming a new era of stretch-stretch fabrics that is. Consumers demand comfort in their clothing and stretch is one way to get it. The textile industry is striving to meet this demand in both knitted and woven fabrics.

Knit fabrics have a natural built-in stretch factor due to the yarn structure and the stitches used in manufacturing. Both must be controlled to produce a fabric that has both stretchability and good recovery. Without good recovery, a knit fabric sags and bags. And few consumers will put up with this.

Stretch in woven fabrics may be produced by the physical or the chemical treatment of the yard. For example, anylon yarn may be heat formed to produce a stretch yarn and a cotton yarn may be treated with chemicals to make it into a stretch product. The consumer in general cannot determine how the stretch factor has been introduced.

Spandex yarn also is used to put stretch into woven fabrics. Labels will indicate if Spandex is in the product. Rubber yarns or rubber cores wrapped with a textile yarn also produce stretch.

In addition, woven fabrics are classified by the direction of the stretch. In a warp stretch fabric the stretch yarns run lengthwise in the fabric; in a filling stretch fabric, the stretch yarns run crosswise in the fabric. When stretch yarns are used in both directions a two-way stretch fabric is produced. Knitted stretch fabrics are quite well known. Woven stretch fabrics, newer to the textile field, are fast becoming very popular. Manufacturers indicate woven fabrics are more stable and easier to handle than knit fabrics. In general a greater variety of design and texture is available in woven stretch fabrics.

As with all others, stretch fabrics whether knitted or woven, should carry labels regarding recommendations for cleaning. Fiber, type of yarn construction and method of manufacturing all influence if a fabric should be wet or dry cleaned. Again the consumer cannot tell which method to use simply by looking at the fabric.

Now Is The Time To Worm Your Cattle

How your animals get worms

Pastured beef and dairy cattle pick up infective worm larvae from grass. (Feeders bring worms with them to the feedlot). From egg to adult to egg, the entire life cycle of most roundworms takes only a few weeks. But the females laying the eggs may live for as much as a year inside animals, laying hundreds, sometimes thousands, of eggs a day.

Result: Damaging infections build up fast.

AVAILABLE IN: THIBENZOLE Wormer Pellets, 6.6%—50-lb. bag and 10-lb. bag. One pound will worm two 500-lb. animals.

THIBENZOLE Cattle Wormer drench—plastic mixing bucket with 2 bags of 55.03 oz. each (bucket treats 182 head of 500-lb. cattle), and plastic mixing bottle with 4 bags of 130 Gm. each (bottle will worm about 30 head).

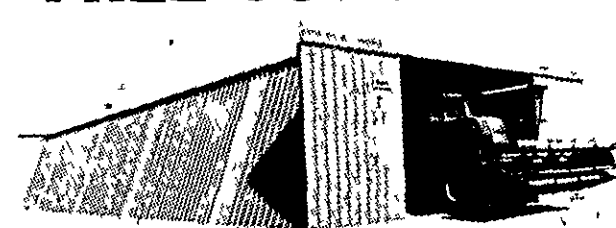

THIBENZOLE Cattle Wormer 15-Gm. boluses—50- and 200-bolus nested carton and 5-bolus blister pack. One bolus worms one 500-lb. animal.
