Drugs
in Clinton County

Editor's Note: (The following article was compiled through the help of every school district in Clinton County. The students talked to were selected on the basis of honesty and their knowledge of the situation by their own instructors and principals. The names of the students will be withheld barring possible incrimination.)

Drugs do exist in Clinton County and in the schools within this county. The students interviewed spoke of the situation in many Interviews stretched over a period of four weeks produced a very vivid picture. Questions ranged from what the student thought of the drug situation at his or her particular school to whether or not they had smoked marijuana or used other drugs.

Quite a few of the comments will undoubtedly startle many people as they did me in a few cases but don't get the idea that these young people aren't telling the truth. You can't afford to think they aren't.

Seven students were interviewed here. They were chosen by the school's principal and counselor.

"I don't know if drugs are a problem here or not," said a 13-year-old eighth grader. "Some of the kids talk about drugs and keep most of the conversation centered around marijuana."

The same eighth grader said he thought it would be pretty hard to get drugs in the middle school atmosphere.

A 14-year-old girl said, "I think it's terrible at all schools because the kids start out so young that by the time they reach high school, they're really hooked. The students here can pick up the drugs if they know the right people to approach. Some of my friends have brothers and sisters that are hooked on some sort of drugs."

The girl also admitted that most talk around the school associated with drugs turned into joking matters.

"Some of the kids can get grass from high school kids when they need it," said another 14-year-old girl.

Most of the kids agreed that the situation wasn't too serious in the middle school but that it was, on the other hand, close enough to become one.

All interviewees were definitely against the legalization of marijuana. A girl, age 11, said, "It's alright to smoke and drink if you know when to quit. I think it would be a lot harder to stop drug usage than smoking and drinking."

None of the students talked had tried marijuana or any drugs.

It was like leaving the darkness and entering the light when the students from DeWitt High School were talked to.

Remember, the students were chosen for their honesty and their knowledge of the situation.

A young man, age 18 and a user of marijuana, said, "There are 20 to 30 seniors that are drug users, mainly in the area of marijuana. There are another ten juniors and ten seniors who have tried pot. The hardest drug being used here is LSD; no cocaine or heroin."

He went on to say, "There's a fair amount of speed and methamphetamine in use. Three or four kids are hooked on LSD."

Speaking of the drug availability, another senior boy said, "A sale could be set up outside of school with another student but nothing inside school. He went on to say that none of the students negotiate sales of drugs inside school because they are afraid of the consequences if caught dealing."

"Smoking pot on weekends is getting to be as normal as having a beer at a party. Young people who are A-students, the ones that wouldn't think of drinking, are smoking grass," said a girl in a similar position herself.

This girl went on to say, "I'd never drop acid (LSD) because it's bad and it does plenty of harm to chromosomes. This last result is important to me because I want to bring a healthy child into the world after a normal pregnancy."

Another girl, age 17 and a senior, said, "A lot of kids are trying and using pot; probably 50 per cent of the seniors. 60 per cent of my friends smoke grass and 75 per cent of the same group have tried it."

Talking about her knowledge of drugs, she said further, "I've smoked pot and I don't see where it's anymore harmless than alcohol. Reading had informed me of what an overdose of drugs will do but I think a more objective look at drugs would be helpful to all students, one where both sides of drug usage is given, not just the don'ts."

Five out of the eight students at the high school said they had tried marijuana and four of the five said they were using it. They all said more drug education was needed at the school starting with showing the students what drugs look like.

Two freshmen were among the students interviewed.

One of them, 15, said part of the freshman class, those attending St. Theresa Elementary School, had a three-week course on drugs last year when they were 8th graders. He said he didn't know of any of the freshmen that had tried grass. This first freshman ended his comments saying, "Marijuana shouldn't be legalized. The punishments for sale and possession of pot should be stricter as should the laws governing drinking, and even smoking cigarettes."

The other freshman, a boy, age 13, said, "I don't know who is using it (marijuana) and I don't see why they would want to. The freshman class here at DeWitt are generally interested in it; some know of the dangers and wouldn't try it; others are waiting for their chance to get a hold of it."

This boy seemed to have one of the better suggestions for further drug education at DeWitt High School. He said, "A good thing would be a short nine-week course centering strictly on the knowledge of drugs, what they are and what they can do. I think making the course an elective would be the best way of introducing it to the students."

I hope the parents reading this are interested in what these young people have to say. They definitely know more about it than you do.

None of the students at any of the high schools or middle schools indicated a problem with glue-sniffing which is, by the way, many times more harmful than marijuana, as are all other drugs.

BATH HIGH SCHOOL

There is an unusual situation at Bath High School. It's one of the smaller high schools in the county but proportionately more students are associated with the drug situation because of a very tragic incident that occurred during summer vacation this year.

A senior, Dave Schwartz, who had graduated from Bath in June died from an overdose of heroin at his apartment in Lansing. All of the students interviewed said they thought the violent death of this young man halted much of the drug flow.

All knew how the boy had died and how people in his apartment at the time of his overdose were afraid of calling the ambulance for fear they would be caught by the authorities. Finally, someone did call an ambulance. The ambulance attendants said there was no one present in the apartment when they arrived.

A senior boy, age 18, said, "Thirty to 40 per cent of the senior class have probably tried grass and five per cent of the class are still with it."

This 18-year-old went on to say, "The situation isn't as bad as it was before because, I think, of more maturity on the part of the student body." He then said the maturity was the result of Schwartz's death during the summer. "Many of the kids here turned into juicers over the summer months." (Juicers are people who get their kicks from beer and liquor).

Of the five students interviewed at Bath, three said they had tried pot. One said he was a "now-and-then" user.

A 14-year-old freshman boy said that seven to eight per cent of the freshman class had tried pot and that maybe one per cent or three or four kids are currently using it.

The freshman then said, "There are probably four or five people here at Bath High School that can be contacted for the purchase of drugs and it would probably take you three days to pick it up."

TIME NEEDED to make an order for drugs and effect a sale ranged from one hour or even one half hour to one week, but nothing over that. This is one area in which all students were extremely knowledgeable.

Giving her views on the legalization of marijuana, a 17-year-old senior girl said, "I used to think legalization of marijuana would be good but it's just another hangup for society. The badness of pot would far out-shadow the goodness of it. People have to face reality."

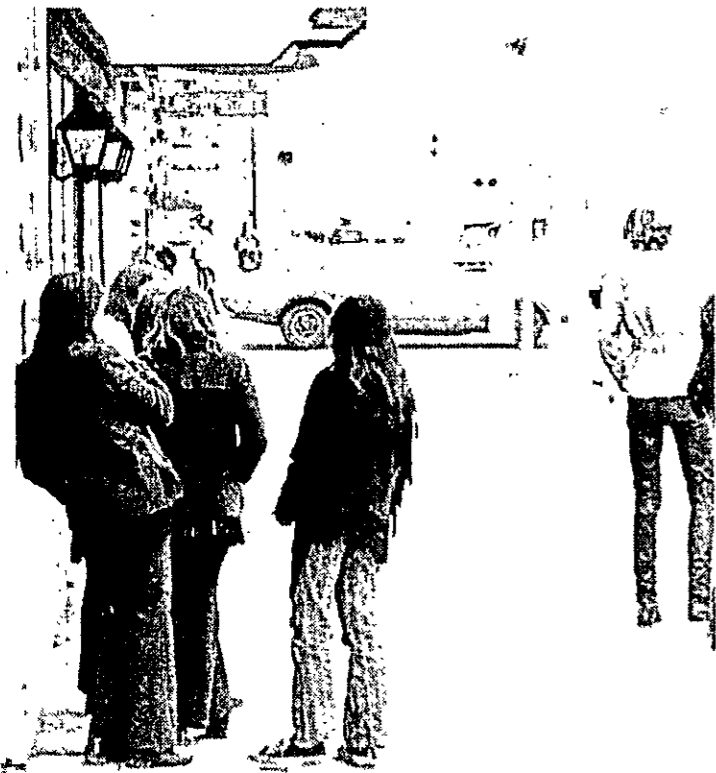

Speaking of the Bath area, the same girl said, "Bath is so conservative that kids will constantly be afraid of drugs, which, I suppose, is a good thing."

A senior boy, 17, said, "A little bit of everybody wants to try grass. It's not localized to one group in the school. Hard drugs are around, though. I know of 20 acquaintances who are probably on hard drugs."

Another 17-year-old senior boy told me one of the more startling realities of my encounter with area students.

He told me of a 15-acre field of wild marijuana growing free within one mile of Bath High School. This isn't as far-fetched as a person might believe. Students

GATHERING STORM?

The old street-corner gang still exists in cities and towns across the country, but their attitudes and morals have changed considerably from the "older generation's." In local Clinton County communities, such as this St. Johns teen scene, the youth display extraordinary candor and discuss drugs and politics freely and with some knowledge on the subjects. Where they get drugs, why and what's up ahead are all matters of discussion.

New park board created for DeWitt recreation

A new parks and recreation board was established Monday night during a regular session of the DeWitt City Council, a proposal that has been in the works for more than one year.

DeWitt Mayor Lawrence Keck said the city has requested state funds for the program which had begun as a volunteer effort last summer by interested citizens.

Keck appointed three city councilmen to the posts. They are Floyd Fowler, chairman, Robert Ballard and Raymond DeWitt.

The program was set in motion during the summer months by Thomas Mauro, a DeWitt High School coach and instructor, who donated his time to direct the arts, crafts and sports program at the city park.

Keck said that announcements of the parks program personnel will be made later.

In other action, the council heard a report by Mayor Pro-Tem Keith Blizzard indicating the trash pickup project "is stalled for lack of bids."

The plan, which would make available to the citizens a city-wide trash pickup service, has only generated sparse interest from local trash haulers.

Citizens could purchase trash bags from the city at 20 cents per bag with free pickup under the program, but thus far the city has received little interest from garbage collectors.

"We should get some bids before the next meeting," Blizzard said. "But we haven't set a date."

Press denied look at DeWitt budget proposal

The DeWitt City Council Monday night refused to discuss the new proposed 1971 city budget with reporters and delayed discussion of the measure until the first December meeting.

Mayor Lawrence Keck told reporters that the plan submitted by Councilman Roger Overway would have to be discussed and reviewed by council members before details could be disclosed to the public.

Copies of the new budget were distributed to council members during the regular session Monday night. Keck instructed the regular session Monday night. Keck instructed the members to read and review the budget and "use your pens" on judging the figures.

He told reporters that copies of the budget would be given to the press during the Dec. 7 meeting, at which time the vote would be taken on approving or rejecting the measure.

"I had hoped that we would have had something settled by now," he said.

Approved the purchase of $15,000 in treasury bills or commercial bonds out of the special assessment district two monies.

Discussed the completing of changing the road signs throughout the city to create a uniform appearance. They indicated that about eight street corners have the old road markers, while the remainder of the city has the new green and white markers.

Discussed the study of changing the size of cemetery lot sizes and general cemetery expansion planning, although no formal action was taken during the meeting.

DeWitt home burglarized

Thieves netted more than $400 in jewelry and $97 cash Saturday after breaking into a DeWitt Township home, according to Clinton County sheriff deputies.

The reports indicated that the thieves gained entry into the home, located at 15712 Brook St., Lansing, by breaking glass in a basement door and pulling back a bolt lock.

Deputies said that a colored television set and several cameras remained in the building, but a $400 diamond ring, a gold necklace with matching bracelets, a bank book and cash were missing.

The home had been "ransacked," according to reports, with drawers opened and items thrown on the floor.

The home is owned by Oda Marcussen, although she was not home at the time of the robbery, and relatives reported the incident to police.

Commissioners find landfills in danger

By TOM McELENEY
News Staff Writer

Supervisors from Bengal, Bingham, Dallas, Westphalia and Riley Townships were present Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the regular meeting of the County Board of Commissioners to discuss renewal of landfill licenses.

The state recently turned down requests by these same townships to renew landfill licenses because they did not meet the requirements set forth by the state.

The new law states that a properly run landfill has to be attended during each day of business and that six inches of dirt must be placed over all trash at the end of each day with a final two feet of dirt or clay being placed over an area when its use as a dumping area or fill area has stopped.

This undoubtedly would run into additional money outlay, according to board members and the township supervisors. Many of the townships are going into debt paying for the present landfills.

Spokesman for the townships during most of the morning was Marshall Hicks, supervisor of Bengal twp.

The landfills have all applied for new licenses but have been turned down because they haven't met the state standards. The problem was put to rest at noon the day of the board meeting and will be picked up again by the County Planning Commission on Nov. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the Circuit Court chambers in the County Courthouse.

Other business during the day included:

An understanding by the commissioners that a mistake of collecting too much school tax in Bath Township was caused by the wrong placement of a decimal point during the calculations of the tax rolls. Duane Smith, township supervisor, and Township Clerk Lee Reasoner presented their findings to the board. The problem was tabled for further discussion in order to reach a solution.

Drug Smith elected FB president

dents at both Ovid-Elsie High School and Pewamo-Westphalia High School gave the same reports of the pot-producing plants growing, even flourishing here in Clinton County. Again, I remind you not to doubt these people and what they have to say.

Next week: Ovid-Elsie, St. Johns, Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia students discuss the issue of drugs in Clinton County.

Elton R. Smith, Kent County dairyman, has been re-elected president of Michigan Farm Bureau.

The action was taken at the annual reorganization meeting of the Board of Directors, following the three-day meeting earlier this week of the 58,000 member organization.

Renamed vice president was Dean Pridgeon, Branch County farm leader.

John Laurie, Tuscola County dairyman was elected to the Executive Committee. Others re-elected were Dan E. Reed, secretary-manager; William Beatle, treasurer and William Wilkinson, assistant secretary.

Five district directors were re-elected at the three day meeting. They were Dean Pridgeon, Montgomery, District two; Elton R. Smith, Caledonia, District four; John Laurie, Cass City, District six; Harvey Leuenberger, Saginaw, District eight and Richard Wieland, Ellsworth, District 10. Walter Frahm, Frankenthum and James Sayre, Belleville were re-elected to two year terms as directors-at-large.

Other members of the 16 member board are Arthur Bailey, Schoolcraft; Andrew Jackson, Howell; David Morris, Grand Ledge; Kenneth Bull, Bailey; Eugene Roberts, Lake City and Franklin Schwiderson, Dafar.

Mrs. Jerold Topfiff, Eaton Rapids, chairman, Michigan Farm Bureau Women's Committee, will serve the second year of a two year term. She is also a member of the Board of Directors.

denial to join the Tri-County Airport Authority. Comm. Andrews, in the same vein, said the voter wasn't informed enough before the general election on Nov. 3.

School board members tour district schools

Exhaustion reigned supreme at the monthly meeting of the St. Johns Board of Education Wednesday Nov. 11.

The majority of the board members, including board president Raymond Parr, had spent the day touring every school in the St. Johns District which came to a total of well over 100 classrooms.

Their labor yielded a long list of priorities that will be considered by the board members weren't finished coming in, yet.

Board members learned that a new additional building to house farm machinery and items not being worked on by the Industrial Arts class in the high school is needed to allow adequate room for students to work during class hours.

It was reported that a building, the size of which is needed, would cost approximately $1,000 and that the student carpentry class would construct it.

A motion was made and supported to take the necessary funds for the building from the $5,000 surplus in the Building and Site Fund.

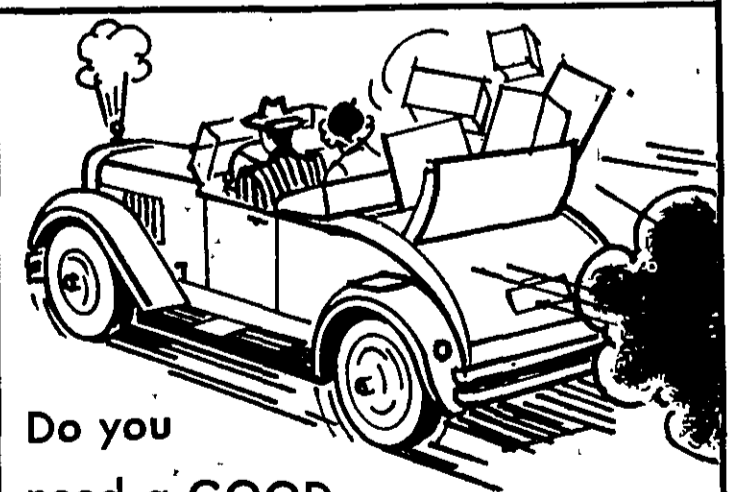

Another item brought before the board was a video-tape film system for use by the high school as an educational device and for the athletic teams as a source of game films. The system shown to the board was on loan to the high school for two weeks.

A motion to check into the lease and purchase prospects of the system and to check with the various coaches for their approval of the system was made and amended by one to table the motion until the December meeting was unanimously supported.

Board members gave unanimous approval to have one of the high school business classes establish a breakfast snack program in the high school for a trial period lasting through the end of the first semester of the current school year.

St. Johns Christmas activities announced

Tentative schedules for Christmas activities in St. Johns were announced last week by Chamber of Commerce officials following their regular monthly board meeting.

According to President James Leon, Rich Anderson and Bernard Feldpausch are serving as co-chairmen for the Christmas schedule and already much of the groundwork has been completed.

As in the past, a tree lighting, lunch with Santa and free movies will highlight the season's activities.

Opening ceremonies are slated for 7:30 p.m. November 27 when the city Christmas tree and lighting decorations will be officially lighted for the holidays.

The Jaycettes, traditional sponsors of the lunch with Santa program will hold their events on the Saturdays of Dec. 5 and 12. The lunches will be in the community room of the Municipal Building.

Free movies at the Clinton Theatre will be held three consecutive Saturdays beginning Dec. 5. Tentative plans again call for two movies on each day to accommodate all children wishing to attend. Manager Howard Kortez will release the titles of the films upon completing schedules.

Leon pointed out that help in erecting Christmas lights will be needed and volunteers can contact him, Anderson or Feldpausch. Full details of the program will be given at the monthly membership meeting at Daley's Nov. 11. The lights will be installed beginning at 8 a.m. Sunday Nov. 22.

Lions start drive to free names of POWs

The Lions Clubs of Clinton County have joined in circulating petitions seeking the identity of Americans held prisoners in North Vietnam.

The Lions Clubs of St. Johns, DeWitt, Maple Valley, Ovid, Elsie and King Arthur's Court have combined their efforts in the project.

The petition calls on the United Nations "to procure from the government of North Vietnam the names and whereabouts of all American prisoners of war presently being held by the North Vietnamese."

It also petitions the UN to take "action that will assure humanitarian treatment of these prisoners during their confinement." The petitions will be presented before Christmas to a representative of the Lions group at the UN in conjunction with a like effort by other Lions organizations across the country.

'Thurber Carnival' DeWitt drama fest

By CHERYL METZGER DeWitt High School

The DeWitt High School Drama Club will present its first production Nov. 20, and 21, 1970 at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The comedy review, 'A Thurber Carnival,' by James Thurber, is a series of scenes which were taken from Thurber's most brilliant sketches.

The production includes "The Night the Bed Fell", a hilarious account of one chaotic night in his youth; "If Grant Had Been Drinking at Appomattox", Thurber's view of what could have happened; "The Unicorn in the Garden" is dedicated to the proposition that the husband can sometimes win too; and lastly the ever-popular "Walter Mitty", the dreamer's dreamer.

According to Mrs Barbara Hoppe, director, "We have attempted to stay true to the Thurber spirit; the set is uncluttered and the production will be done open-curtain. Although some of the humor is aimed at those who sincerely enjoy the Thurberesque comedy, 'A Thurber Carnival' should provide an evening of fun for those who enjoy first-rate comedy."

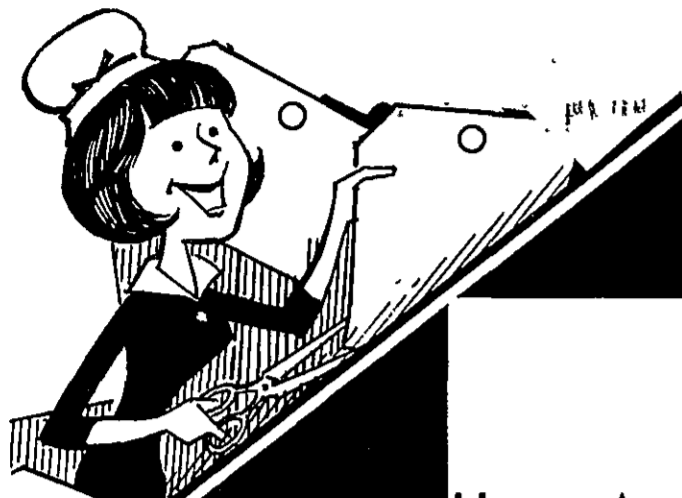

Appearing in the play are Val Strait, first woman; Patty Costello, second woman; Cheryl Metzger, third woman; Debbie Krohn, fourth woman; Phil Whittier, first man; Harmon Everett, second man; Robin Cole, third man; Don Bordua, fourth man; and Dave Lankford, fifth man.

Marie Harold is the student director, Paulette Mulford, general crew chairman, and John Zentgraf will be accompanying on guitar and banjo.

Marauders sabotage Redwings

By TOM McLENEY
News Staff Writer

the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The Marauders of Ovid-Elsie High School ended a four-year losing streak Friday by dumping the Redwings of St. Johns High School 24-17.

Redwing Head Coach Jeff Smith seemed to sum up the inadequacies of his ball club by saying, "We were a step behind all night long and we just weren't thinking. And, at our size, we couldn't afford that." The only real bright spot for St. Johns was senior Steve Mead who rushed for 120 yards and had 18 tackles on defense.

Ovid-Elsie seemed to do everything right. They did what they were supposed to do and capitalized on the Redwing mistakes. The only noticeable area of let-down was the fact that St. Johns scored 17 points against them, second highest of the year.

Saginaw St. Stephen's scored 20 points on the O-E defense. The defense had gained three shutouts and had only allowed Swartz Creek a field goal.

but the yardage was hard to come by from here. On the first play from the six, Redwing tackle Dan Stockwell nailed Marauder Dick Bates to the ground with a seven-yard loss. After an incomplete pass from the SJ 12, it was fourth down and 12 yards for the touchdown.

Late rally not enough for Bees

The Bath Bees might be grateful for one thing after Friday night's loss to Haslett. It was the last game of the season.

The 1970 football season that had started with a surprising 12-10 win over a tough DeWitt squad, would up with a 30-12 defeat at Haslett field.

It took the Bees three quarters to get warmed up to the Vikings before turning quarterback Paul Stoll loose with two touchdown passes to ends Brad Scheibly and Rick Smith.

But by that time, Haslett had put the game out of reach with a big 30-point total.

In fact, Haslett had so dominated the game that they didn't need any passing yardage at all. The Vikings rolled up 396 yards — rushing.

Haslett's Don Graham got the scoring started in the first quarter with a one yard touchdown run. Glen Brunger jumped in from the one for another TD during the second quarter.

The third quarter found Graham rambling 60-yards for another Haslett score, while Roger Ribbow closed the scoring by taking the ball in from 19 yards out.

Jeff Robinson hit on three points after kicking conversions and added a 32-yard field goal to the totals.

Bath dripped to a season ending record of 4-4-1.

Michigan State equaled its all-time football series standing with Iowa at four wins each with a 37-0 Homecoming Day victory in 1970.

GOTCHA!

Ovid-Elsie defensemen Tom Pumford (30), Duane Wieber (73) and Phil Seybert (63) gang tackle Redwing running back Larry Hayes (22) during Friday night's defeat of the Redwings.

St. Johns didn't waste much time getting on the scoreboard after the game began. The Redwing Machine cranked out 61 yards in nine plays to score their first touchdown of the night with nine minutes left in the first period. Atkinson booted the extra point and the score was 7-0 St. Johns.

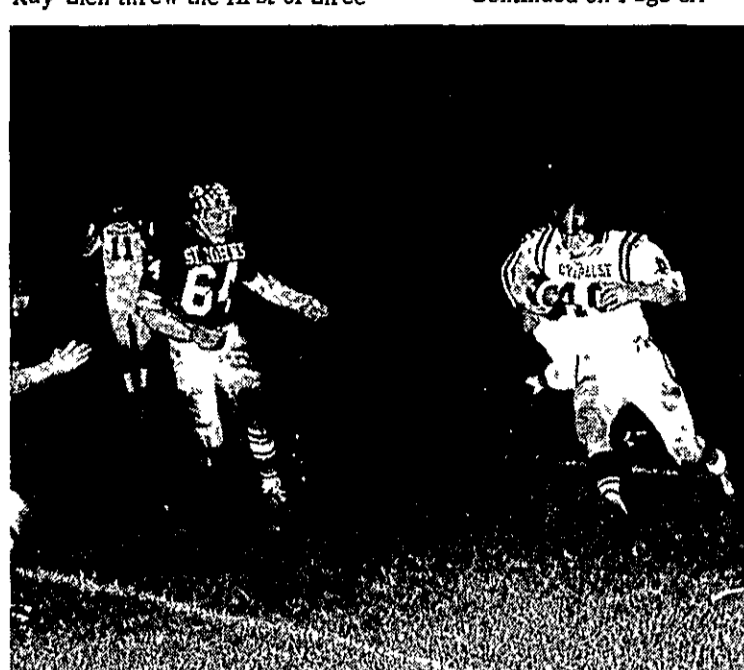

It was surprising to see this famed Ovid-Elsie defense get punctured so quick with a score. The puncture must have hit a nerve because the Marauders were out to win.

O-E took the ensuing kickoff and was forced to punt after three downs. O-E recovered a Redwing fumble on the punt return on the SJ 22. The Marauders were unable to penetrate the Redwing defense for a score and St. Johns took over on downs after seven plays were executed by O-E.

THE TWO TEAMS then proceeded to exchange the ball several times until the Marauders took possession of the pigskin on their own 44 yard line with about nine minutes left in the second quarter.

Then, running back Ron Lover, a standout for the O-E ball club all season, began punishing the Redwing defense with hard, short runs that netted four first downs on the way to O-E's first score of the night with 3:47 remaining in the first half.

Ten plays placed the ball on the six yard line of St. Johns

HERE I COME!

Marauder halfback Dick Bates rushes for part of his 26-yard Friday night total against St. Johns. Jim Findlay (40) and Steve Mead (64) seem to have different ideas. O-E rushed for a total of 119 yards against the Redwings.

Michigan State football losses in 1970 to Notre Dame, Ohio State and Michigan marked the first time the Spartans ever have failed to win at least once in the nine different years they've had to face the three.

Revenge is sweet for O - E

On a third down and two-yards situation on the Marauder four yard line and was dropped by O-E for an eight yard loss. Fourth down was an incomplete pass and O-E took over. O-E couldn't move the ball against the Redwing defense and was forced to kick with 25 seconds remaining in the half. Redwing running back Gary Burk took the punt on the O-E 48 and ran it back 30 yards to the 18 yard line. The last play of the half was a pass from Atkinson intended for Dave Flermoen in the end zone. Ovid-Elsie was charged with defensive pass interference in the end zone so it was St. Johns' ball again on the O-E 19 with 0:00 in the half.

ON THE SECOND final play of the half, Atkinson kicked a 35-yard field goal, which is considered quite respectable for a high school athlete. St. Johns led going into the locker room 10-8.

The Redwings came right back in the third quarter and did a repeat performance of the first quarter. They marched 31 yards in five plays after Jim Findlay's interception of a McKay aerial.

The march ended with Mead diving over the line for one yard and the score. Atkinson kicked the extra point with 7:44 on the clock and St. Johns held a somewhat commanding lead 17-8. That was all she wrote for St. Johns, though.

On the next series of downs for Ovid-Elsie, Lover carried the ball 10 times out of 16 plays for the Marauders to get the ball down deep in Redwing territory. Lover was relentless all night and he was playing with a bad shoulder.

St. Johns managed five plays during the whole third quarter. Ovid-Elsie had 20.

St. Johns finally stopped the Marauder drive on the SJ and took over on downs. The Redwings gained two first downs and brought the ball out to the 23 before a clipping penalty sent it back to the SJ 12. St. Johns punted and O-E took over on the SJ 48.

McKay hit end Cal Woodard with a 20-yard pass play from scrimmage and O-E was knocking. Coach Smith then sent in Atkinson to spell the left defensive end and to show him how to block an offensive end such as Woodard. Atkinson did it but the lesson was worthless as Woodard gained ten yards on the next play with the same pass pattern.

With 5:38 in the final period, McKay threw to end Rob Byrnes for 20 yards and the touchdown for O-E. With the next two-point conversion, the score was 17-16 St. Johns. It looked as though the Redwings could win if they played flawless ball and hold onto the ball to run out the clock.

But, the straw that broke the camel's back came on the ensuing set of plays by St. Johns.

ATKINSON RAN for a yard and, on the next play, Hayes ran and fumbled on the SJ 14. Five plays later, McKay ran two yards for the touchdown that won the game for Ovid-Elsie with 2:58 remaining in the game. McKay hit Woodard for his third two-point conversion of the night and the Marauders of Ovid-Elsie High School were on their way to beating St. Johns for the first time since Ovid-Elsie was formed five years ago. The score was 24-17.

The Redwing Machine did finish the game and the season in a heartbreaking blaze of glory.

Dan McKenzie, of St. Johns, ran the ensuing kickoff back to the SJ 41 yard line. From there, Atkinson engineered one of the best-executed touchdowns attempts I've ever seen.

Mead ran for eight yards on the first play and immediately ran for three more and the first down on the next play.

Then, Atkinson hit end Roy Pederson with a seven-yarder to the O-E 39 with 1:51 in the game.

Mead was then at it again, he gained nine yards and a first down on the next play and three yards on the next play. Flermoen then added three more before Atkinson, himself, ran for seven and another first down.

But, the flourish of drive and brilliant offensive powers stopped on the Marauder 12 yard line with 17 seconds remaining in the game and fourth down and ten yards to go for SJ. Atkinson tried a roll out but came up three yards short of the first down on the Marauder five yard line. Ovid-Elsie ran one play with eight seconds left and won themselves a hard fought football contest.

Statistically, the Marauders captured the first down column, 19 to 11 for St. Johns. Rushing yardage was won by the Redwings 181 to 119. Passing yardage went to Ovid-Elsie 113 to 29 yards as Atkinson only completed three of nine passes all night. McKay completed 13 of 21 passes for O-E.

Ovid-Elsie recovered two Redwing fumbles and had one pass intercepted. Atkinson had no interceptions.

INDIVIDUAL RUSHING for Ovid-Elsie included Lover with 69 yards in 22 carries, fullback Glen Bensinger with 27 yards in nine carries, Bates with 26 yards in 14 carries and Melvin with 10 yards in four carries.

Redwing rushing statistics were led by Mead with 120 yards in 16 carries, Flermoen with 25 yards in eight carries, Hayes with 22 yards in five carries and Atkinson with 13 yards in 10 carries. Passing yardage was divided among Pederson with 15 yards and on a reception, John Smit with one grab for seven yards and Hayes with another snag for seven yards.

Passing for Ovid-Elsie went to Woodard with six receptions for 69 yards and a two point conversion, Foran with one catch for three yards and a two-pointer, Byrnes with three grabs for 30 yards and a touchdown and a conversion and Melvin with one catch for 13 yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, Mead led Redwing tacklers with 18 drops and O-E had Frank Dudash with 10, Tom Pumphorn with nine, Jim Stewart with seven and Gary Rivest with six.

"It was a pleasant win Friday night, that's for sure," said Marauder Head Coach Mark O'Donnell. "I've never before had a team where I platooned ten men and ended a season with a 8-1 record."

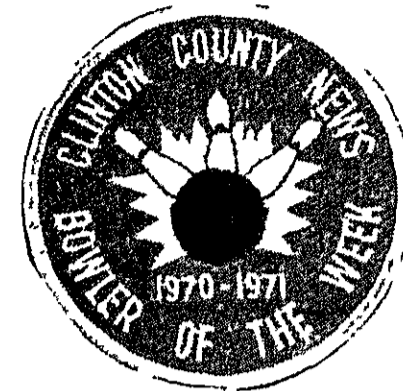

O'Donnell said it was interesting to note that after the game Friday, my boys said they thought it was the cleanest ball game they had played all season. They also told O'Donnell how impressed they were with the Redwing football players when they came over after the game and congratulated the Marauders on a well-played game.

It was a tough way to end a season for the Redwings but it's nice to know what kind of young men have come out of the program.

Just wait til next year!

Football is another Thanksgiving season fare

FOOTBALL GAME PLAN FOR THE COOK

HALF-TIME BUFFET

DELIGHT YOUNG GAME-WATCHERS with Dinty Dogs on hot dog rolls, sesame-seeded Cheese Krispies (right) and a nut-covered Chiquita Banana cake frosted with peanut butter cream.

NEW YORK (ED) — Professional football coaches start with a game plan. Smart football-watchers do, too. The culinary game plan that will win applause from your fans is built around lively and easy-to-prepare snacks—the kind that leave you plenty of time to watch the game.

To satisfy the heartiest of appetites, start with NFL Training Table Foods. The fact that the players eat them, too, seems to add a special zest to a football afternoon. A meal plan that gets away from the ordinary includes Hall of Fame spread, baking powder biscuits filled with ham slices and banana fritters. To please younger game-watchers, try hot and savory Dinty Dogs—Dinty Moore Beef Stew on hot dog rolls, served with Chocolate Flavor Ovaltine. Good eating—to go with a great game!

TO PLEASE THE FOOTBALL FANS

PURPLE PLUM SAUCE FOR HAM

1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) purple plums ¼ tsp. cinnamon
2 Tbsps. cornstarch ¼ tsp. allspice
½ tsp. salt 1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 Tbsp. Chiffon Soft-Type Margarine

Drain plums and reserve syrup. Cut plums into small pieces. In a saucepan, mix cornstarch, salt, cinnamon and allspice. Gradually stir in syrup. Boil one minute, stirring constantly. Stir in lemon juice, Chiffon and plums. Transfer sauce to gravy boat and spoon over slices of ham. Makes 3½ cups.

BANANA BLITZ SALAD

2 Chiquita Bananas, sliced 1 cup seedless grapes, halved
2 Tbsps. lemon juice 1 cup pineapple chunks
2 oranges, sectioned

Sprinkle lemon juice over banana slices and combine with the grapes, pineapple chunks and orange sections. Line a bowl or platter with lettuce and arrange fruit in the center. Serve with any tart salad dressing. Makes about 4½ cups, or six to eight servings.

HALL OF FAME SPREAD

6 Tbsps. Peter Pan Smooth Peanut Butter
4 Tbsps. commercial sour cream
4 or 5 drops hot pepper sauce
2 tps. grated onion
6 strips crisp bacon, crumbled
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Blend peanut butter and sour cream together. Stir in remaining ingredients and mix well. Spoon into small bowl and chill. Serve with Krispy Crackers. Makes 2/3 cup.

CHEESE KRISPIES

½ cup (2 oz.) grated cheddar cheese
3 Tbsps. Chiffon Soft-Type Margarine
1 Tbsp. grated onion
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
4 drops hot pepper sauce
12 Krispy Crackers
1 Tbsp. sesame seeds

Blend cheese, margarine, onion, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and pepper sauce thoroughly. Spread on crackers evenly to edges. Sprinkle with sesame seeds. Broil until bubbly. Serve hot.

PLEASE THE FANS with super snacks: crocks of Hall of Fame spread with crackers, a platter of ham on biscuits, spiced almonds and puffy banana fritters... good eating!

BUILD A BUFFET around NFL Training Table Foods; the fact that they're "football's own" seems to add a special savor to game-watching afternoons. A culinary game plan includes cheese and cracker snacks, boneless ham, salad, a sweet-treat pie and mugs of steaming hot coffee. All good game-time eating!

NEW YORK (ED) — Football may be a rugged sport, but your entertaining of the fans can be easy fun-and-games. To please the heartiest appetites, build a half-time buffet around NFL Training Table Foods; the fact that they're football's official foods seems to add a special savor to simple good eating.

A buffet that leaves you time to watch the game, too, is built around ham with purple plum sauce. Cook Hormel Cure/81 Ham as package directs. Serve hot or cold; either way, it's extra-special with the savory sauce. Serve with cheese and crackers, a banana-rich salad, hot mugs of coffee and the family's favorite whipped cream-y pie. You'll get the applause at half-time—instead of the marching bands!

The Wise Wife's Football Glossary

Take it from a generation of "football widows": you can't fight the fans, so you might as well join 'em. The wise hostess knows her way around football as well as around her kitchen. To impress the man of your house (and get more out of game-watching yourself), start with a quick brush-up on the pass patterns—the basic language of football.

Down-and-out: Receiver runs down the field and turns out to sideline.

Down-and-in: Receiver runs down the field and turns in to the center.

Sprint-out: Passer sprints out to side as if it's going to be a running play, and then he passes.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY
BY JANE ASHLEY

Dress Broccoli with Cheese Sauce

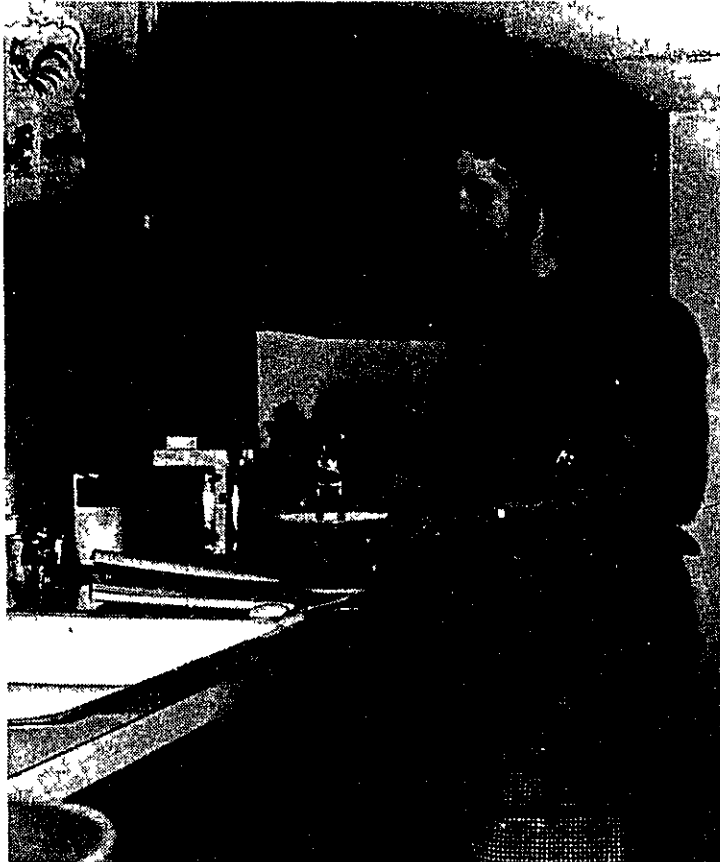

To serve Broccoli with Cheese Sauce, begin by cooking the broccoli in a manner to seal in all the flavor, color and vitamins. Then top it with a creamy cheese sauce.

To cook the broccoli, trim, wash and drain but do not dry. Place 1 tablespoon margarine, and desired seasonings in a saucepan with a tight fitting cover. Add broccoli and 1 tablespoon of water. Cook over medium to low heat 8 to 16 minutes or just until vegetable is tender, shaking the pan several times to prevent sticking and adding more water if necessary.

| 2 tablespoons margarine | 1/8 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 tablespoon corn starch | 1 cup milk |

 - 1 tbsp. cornstarch
 - 1/2 c. chopped onion
 - Salt and pepper to taste

All supermarkets advertise low prices. But what about the prices they don't advertise?

It takes more than weekly specials to show substantial savings on your food bill. Other supermarkets advertise weekly specials but make up for it on the rest of your order.

Are you paying the lowest possible prices, or does your food bill include the cost of supposedly free trading stamps and other costly gimmicks? Not if you are one of the thousands who have switched to Andy's IGA.

Here you get weekly specials on meats and other perishables, PLUS over 6,000 more everyday low prices on groceries, fresh produce and all the other items that make up the major part of your food order. How do we do it? By lowering our markup. By dropping the trading stamps.

And with food costs constantly rising, you want the most good food for the money you spend. We sell only U.S.D.A. Choice Beef. We wrap all our meats in "see thru" trays. Our produce is always fresher, better tasting. Our money back offer guarantees complete satisfaction.

SPECIAL THIS WEEK: We've dropped the price of young Tom Turkeys down to 29¢ a pound, only 89¢ for delicious standing Rib Roasts. At Andy's, you pay only for the meat, not stamps. At our everyday low prices, you can always keep Thrifty Sliced Bacon on hand for only 49¢ a pound, and Kraft Miracle Whip is now only 55¢ a quart.

Extra lean hamburger 3 or more pounds just 69¢ a pound. We've cut the cost of cooking.

Notice of Restrictions in the Sale of Natural Gas by Consumers Power Company

The Michigan Public Service Commission, because of a shortage in natural gas supply and to protect service to existing customers, has authorized Consumers Power Company to impose certain restrictions on the sale of natural gas to existing and prospective customers, and has directed the Company to publish the essential portions of the Commission's order. These are:

1. All commitments and applications for future residential service, including apartments and mobile homes, existing on the date of the Commission's order (November 9, 1970) are voided.

2. No new commercial or industrial customers shall be added to the Consumers Power Company system. However, commitments already made to existing commercial and industrial customers will continue to be honored. The base period to measure commercial and industrial loads shall be the 12 months ended June 30, 1970 or the amount of the commitment if a new customer.

3. No new residential customers or additional residential space heating loads, including apartments and mobile homes, shall be added to the Company's system, except as follows:

A. Persons who had installed gas space heating equipment, or were in the process of installing gas space heating equipment on October 1, 1970, shall be given first priority on remaining gas supplies, provided that such persons otherwise qualify for gas service in accordance with the Company's standard rules and regulations. The right to obtain gas service in accordance with this provision shall lapse unless Consumers Power Company is notified in writing of a desire for gas service prior to December 15, 1970.

B. All other persons desiring residential gas service, including service to existing residential units, and new construction, must make application in writing to the Company for such service.

C. Applications for existing residential units may be made at any time. Applications for new residential construction shall be made after the footings and foundation walls are completed at the location desiring gas service or, in the case of mobile homes, after the concrete slab is poured.

D. Consumers Power Company, as soon as practicable, will verify by field inspection that the residential units are in existence or that the required construction is completed, and upon such verification will issue a dated commitment. Thereafter, the Company is directed to make a second field inspection in not less than 80 nor more than 100 days. If construction has not proceeded to completion of the framing and roofing of the structure the Company will advise the applicant that he has 30 days in which to carry construction to that stage of completion, or the permit will be irrevocably canceled. In any case, gas service must commence within 12 months of the original date of issuance, or the commitment will be voided. Dated commitments are applicable only to the locations specified, and may not be transferred to any other site.

E. Owners of buildings now receiving gas service in a building which is torn down because of public improvements, may transfer such gas service for the same uses to another location owned by such person, provided the transfer is completed within 12 months after discontinuance of service at the original location.

4. The procedures set forth in paragraph 3 hereof shall be followed by the Company until such time as its total confirmed estimated connected annual requirements are approximately 370 billion cubic feet.

Why children don't eat

Toddlers are full of surprises. One minute they're in the cupboard pulling out all the pots and pans and the next minute they're reaching up to hug you.

One of the surprises you should know about as a parent is not uncommon among all children. This surprise comes when the child is about 18 months old. At this time he may begin to eat less and even skip entire meals. There is no reason to be alarmed, since this is a normal occurrence.

During infancy your baby's growth and development is taking place at a rapid rate. In the first 18 months the average baby will gain over 17 pounds. This rapid growth requires generous amounts of food and getting your baby to eat at this time presents no problem.

However, in the next 4 1/2 years from about 18 months to the age of 6, growth slows down and so does the need for food. Since your child's body requires less food, his appetite will decrease. This reduced appetite is often misunderstood by parents because their child is so active. They often try to force their children to eat during this period without realizing that they just aren't hungry.

Like most stages of development, this period of reduced appetite is only temporary. Sometime between the ages of 6 and 8, most children enter another period of rapid growth and development. Appetites pick up again as the need for food increases. However, if your child has developed poor eating habits during the lull period, they could continue for a long time. This is why it is so important to develop good eating habits early in your child's life. Here are some tips on how to build good eating habits:

- AVOID BETWEEN MEAL SNACKS—Playing and romping do not create the demand for food that growth does. So snacks—except for fruit and water—should be avoided.
- MAKE MEALTIME CHEERFUL—To help your child associate eating with enjoyment, avoid lectures and arguments at mealtime. It also helps to prepare the food so it is attractive to your child. One example is to use bright colored foods.

- SERVE THE RIGHT FOODS—Proper nutrition is the key to good health. In deciding what your child should eat, be sure to include plenty of high-protein foods, such as meats, cheese and eggs. Vegetables and fruits are important sources of needed sugar, starches and vitamins. Your doctor may also recommend a vitamin supplement such as Poly-Vi-Sol vitamins, to make sure your child gets the vitamins he needs.
- SELF-FEEDING IS IMPORTANT—If your child can feed himself, he will gain a sense of responsibility. This permits him to eat without feeling forced.

- SERVE A VARIETY OF FOODS—An important step in getting your child to eat is to broaden their taste acceptance by introducing them to new foods. Mixing something new with one or two "old favorites" is a good technique. Another is to keep the servings small. Your child feels just as you do when facing a huge mound of food when you aren't hungry.

THE ALL NEW OPEL 1900. NO OTHER ECONOMY CAR (FOREIGN OR DOMESTIC) GIVES YOU ALL THIS.

The Opel story is simple. You simply get a lot more car for your money. The new Opel 1900 offers many things as standard equipment that small cars offer as optional equipment. Or not at all. For example, the Opel 1900 is the economy car with hydraulic valve lifters, just like the big American luxury cars, for a quiet-running engine and eliminating the need for adjustments. The Opel 1900 has front power disc brakes for quick, smooth, straight-line stops. As standard equipment. The Opel 1900 has lots and lots of room. About 5 inches more hip room in our back seat than the widest of the new small domestic cars. And please notice, the Opel has adjustable backs on its front bucket seats as standard equipment. The Opel 1900 is one of the very few economy cars with dual front headlights. The Opel 1900's trunk is 11.4 cubic feet big. That's bigger than some larger American cars. And if you've seen the trunk opening on any of the new small cars, you'll appreciate the new Opel 1900. You can get big things into the trunk without scraping your knuckles and elbows. The Opel 1900 has a four-speed gear box as standard equipment. And a three-speed, fully automatic transmission is available. Things like wheel trim rings, chrome drip rails, window trim moldings and fancy vinyl upholstery can really dress up a car. And they're all standard equipment on an Opel 1900. But maybe you want an economy car just for the great gas mileage and easy handling. The Opel 1900 gets great gas mileage and we turn tight - 31.8 feet with only three turns of the wheel. See all the Opel 1900s (1900 Sedan, 1900 Sport Coupe, the zippy 1900 Rallye and the beautiful 1900 Wagon) at your Buick-Opel dealer's. Over 2,000 of them sell and service Opel from coast to coast. While you're there, see the other new Opels, too. Available this year is a new four-door sedan, in addition to a two-door sedan and an economy wagon. And they've got many of the things the 1900s have. Plus one other wonderful advantage—they're less expensive. After you've seen all the new Opels, if you can find an economy car that you think gives you more than Opel, congratulations Opel, congratulations! You've done more than we could.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE News Advertising Manager

Here we go again. Last time it was Mike Pearson, this time it's Glenn Pearson. Glenn is the winner of the County News' Football Contest this week and we have $20.00 waiting for him. The only catch is we don't know where to reach him. This happened several weeks ago when Mike Pearson won the contest and we couldn't reach him either. So . . . If you know Glenn, tell him he won and to stop in the County News.

Army and Oregon played a tie this week and so that game was marked wrong on all football contest entries. Glenn Pearson missed that and the MSU-Minnesota game to win the contest. Fifteen or so people had three wrong.

This week's issue of the County News contains the annual "Kitchen Ideas" section. Our thanks to the good cooks of Clinton County who were nice enough to share some of their favorite recipes. We intercepted Big Mama's contribution to the section. We didn't want to be an accessory to a massive outbreak of ptomaine poisonings in the area. She's the only hostess we know who serves alkali-seitzer as an after dinner drink.

Parr's Pharmacy is celebrating their anniversary with a special three day sale starting Thursday, Nov. 19. Sixty years of serving the Clinton area is something. Funny, Ray doesn't look that old.

Next week the County News will be coming your way a day early. Because of Thanksgiving we have moved our news and advertising deadlines back one day to insure early delivery.

We like Thanksgiving second only to Christmas. We can remember the tables we've sat down to ever since we started on solid food. Dinner is always delicious and is always the same. Turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, candied yams, peas, pumpkin pie and gallons of milk. We used to have Cold Duck to start off with but a couple of years ago the Big M got bloated and spoiled the whole effect.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

It was a real smashing work session Thursday evening as the 4-H Teen Leaders finished collecting and sorting of disposable glass containers collected earlier this month.

The members loaded 10,380 pounds of glass containers in Richard Woodhams truck which was hauled to Charlotte on Friday. In order to get more glass in the space available the members broke the bottles in 50-gallon drums once the bottles were sorted and aluminum rings removed.

Three barrels which could not be put on the truck are ready for the December load.

Presently this makes over 7 1/2 tons of glass bottles which have been collected and sold to the Owens Illinois Plant for recycling and not dumped in the city or county landfill areas.

The cooperation of the people of St. Johns and out in the county has been greatly appreciated. Over in the Westphalia area under Esther Pung's leadership the 4-H'ers collected a lot of bottles which were brought in Saturday.

With more of the township landfills being closed this glass container collection will be a benefit to many people. The next time for collecting glass containers will be Saturday, Dec. 5.

Following the work session the Teen Leaders held their regular meeting. They donated $141.50 to the National 4-H Club Center Expansion Drive. They voted to hold a bowling party on Dec. 5 and a Christmas party on Dec. 10.

Several members volunteered to work with the 4-H Youth program in the Mt. Vernon Townhouses in Lansing with children in the low income areas.

A film on Environmental Problems titled "The Gifts" was shown pointing out what the people have done to our natural resources and what problems we now need to correct.

A record number of 280 4-H leaders and guests attended the County 4-H Leaders Recognition Banquet held Monday, Nov. 9 at Smith Hall. The program was well received by the leaders and guests in attendance.

Arden Peterson, Program Leader, 4-H Youth at Michigan State University, spoke on "Leadership in Action." He involved the leaders in games, events, and activities and when finished, related these experiences to leaders working with young people in a local club. The Clinton County local MABC was honored as "Friend of 4-H" award for 1970. The County local has been active in supporting the 4-H program for more than 15 years either with premium money to encourage better showmanship with dairy cattle.

Duane Davis was recognized for serving 25 years as a 4-H leader and Mrs. Clyde Peck was recognized for serving 20 years as a leader. Those leaders serving 15 years were Stanley Baird, Dorothy Ballantine, Robert Klsane, and Jack Schwark; while 6 leaders were recognized for serving 10 years—Ethel Flegler, Russell Howe, Edith Kaufman, Mary Libey, Mildred Whitaker, and Robert Zeeb. There were 25 leaders recognized for completing 5 years of leadership and 52 leaders serving 3 years as a local 4-H leader.

Four leaders were recognized as outstanding 4-H alumni. They were Verna Peck, Delmas Moldenhauer, Mildred Whitaker, and Viola Rossow.

The first 4-H Roller Skating activity will be held on Thursday, Nov. 19, 7-10 p.m. at the Ranch Roller Rink in St. Johns. The following clubs have made reservations to attend: Westphalia 4-H, Handy Andys, Prairie, County Farm, Olive 4-H Projects, Pioneer Trail Riders, Willing Workers, Bengal Community, Charlie's Gang, and Keepers of the Angels of Agriculture.

The Merry Makers 4-H members invited the summer club to their meeting where they received their fair premiums, certificates, and pins. Demonstrations were given by Donna Davis and Ellen Personous on "What to Do With Your Patterns"; Ellen Miller on "Seams" and Teresa Clark on "Articles Needed for Your Sewing Basket and How to Use Them." The club members plan to go roller skating in January. Their next meeting will be on Dec. 8.

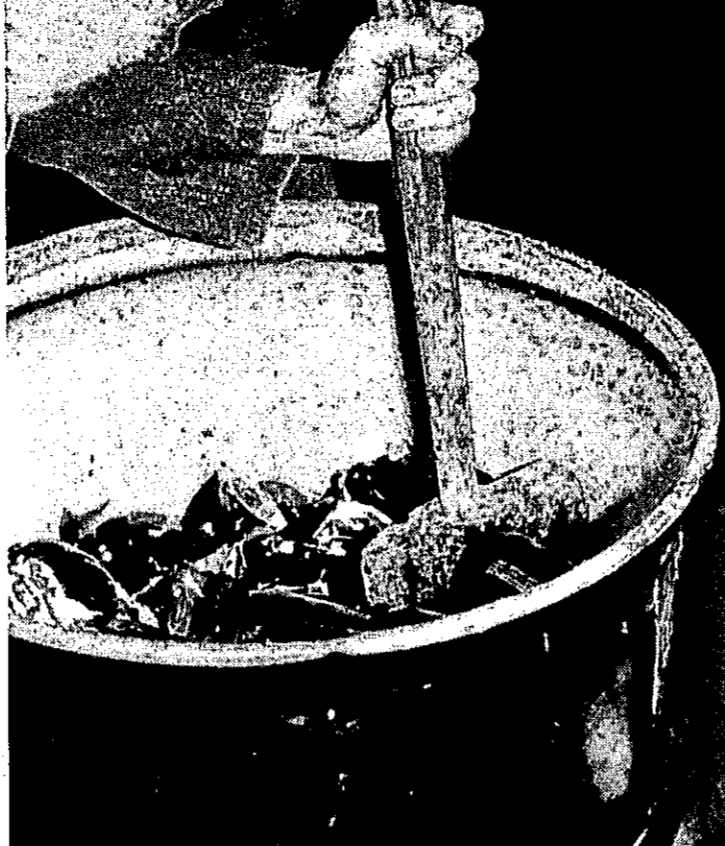

The Olive 4-H Projects held their Annual Family Potluck dinner with nearly 100 people in attendance. Fair premiums, certificates, and pins were presented to the members.

Some of the top awards won by the members this past year included three state project award winners, top litter barrel at the County Fair, and the Beef Herdsmanship at the County Fair. The members voted to go roller skating on Nov. 19 and April 15.

Their next meeting will be on Dec. 1, 7:30 p.m. at Riley School which will be their Christmas Party. Members are to bring a gift costing between 50-75 cents. The Olive 4-H club will have 69 members enrolled for the winter program.

The Knit and Stitch 4-H club has 11 members this winter under the leadership of Mrs. Lawrence Heibek. Demonstrations were given by Kathy Bappert and Connie Gova. Members received their fair premiums, pins and certificates.

Two new members, Julie Dakers and Tama Sweeny, were welcomed into the club.

GLASS BREAKER

4-H volunteers not only collected the glass, but took on the task of crushing the five tons with hammers.

SEA OF BOTTLES

Here is a portion of the five tons of glass collected by Clinton County 4-H'ers last week. It's awaiting shipment to factories for recycling.

New federal effort aids rural families

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by GARY A. KLEINHENN Michigan Farm Bureau

The supply of modern housing in rural Michigan may be expanded through a new cooperative effort with private industry announced today by Alfred O. LaPorte, state director for Farmers Home Administration, rural credit service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"From now on, builders, developers and realtors in the home building and financing fields can work directly with prospective borrowers to 'package' applications for rural housing loans," LaPorte said.

"Participation in the packaging program," he added, "will be limited to those who can provide all the necessary information about the home, assure its delivery at a specified price, and can work directly with the applicant family."

"The first step for a prospective packager is to meet with the FHA county supervisor to obtain detailed information about eligibility requirements for a loan and the type and cost of homes the agency can appropriately finance," LaPorte said.

He explained that the packager will assemble reliable information on the applicant and the home he wants to buy, build or improve.

They will submit the data on forms supplied through the local Farmers Home Administration offices, situated in 35 towns in Michigan. When the information about the building and applicant is complete, the loan can be approved and funds made available by the Farmers Home Administration.

Families residing in communities of 5,500 population and under are eligible to apply for FHA loans. They must be unable to obtain adequate credit from private sources.

Approved borrowers receive direct financing through FHA.

In general, he explained, the family must lack decent, safe and sanitary housing, must be unable to obtain credit from other sources and must have sufficient income to repay the loan, pay taxes and insurance, maintain the house and meet other living expenses. Family income, however, may not exceed limits established by FHA.

The state director said loans may be made to farmowners, nonfarm tract owners, rural residents or nonrural residents with low to moderate incomes who work in a rural area. The home may be on a farm, in open country or in towns under 5,500 population that are rural in character and not adjacent to an urban area.

"Each packager should understand that final action cannot be taken on applications until all required information has been submitted to FHA, the applicant is interviewed by the county supervisor and any required supplementary information has been obtained," LaPorte pointed out.

The Farmers Home Administration rural housing program totals $1.5 billion in fiscal 1971, and will finance about 125,000 housing units. The total in 1972 is expected to reach 200,000 units.

The rural housing program for Michigan during the 1971 fiscal year will total about 4.5 million dollars, which will finance about 3200 units. The 1972 program is expected to provide financing for about 5000 units.

The state director noted that James V. Smith, Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration "has expressed confidence that this new program will help smooth the way for applicants and move us more rapidly toward the national goal of adequate housing for every family in rural America."

You, your relatives, and every tax paying person can save $200 on your federal income tax return if Washington ever decided to forego the paying of interest on the national debt.

Last year the staggering interest charges were $19,256,821,000.

Pulling this astronomical fee into perspective can be credited to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce which reports that this $19.2 billion is more than it cost the Federal Government to run our country for the first 117 years of our history. Once more, the $3.5 billion increase in 1969 is more than the total Federal Budget for any year until 1918.

But getting back to dollar figures the common man can better grasp, the report explains—"This interest is the equivalent of the combined incomes of 2,231,000 average American families."

"With the money spent on interest, the government could have:

"Bought $20,000 homes for 936,000 families, enough to house the combined population of Detroit and Houston.

"Paid weekly wages of more than $122 to over three million unemployed workers for the entire year.

"More than doubled funds spent for the War on Poverty, Office of Education, Narcotics Bureau, air pollution control, public assistance and housing, and urban renewal and environmental control."

As the agriculture industry no doubt agrees, the report concludes, "This burgeoning cost is not only money which could be put to better use; its continuing growth feeds the flames of inflation that burn away the value of our dollar."

"This spiraling climb will stop only when the public demands it, the National Chamber feels: When the voters show it's not smart politics to spend and spend, without paying for it as we go."

In the meantime, the report adds, "The government, unlike private borrowers, seems content to carry this debt—and to add to it—as long as it can pay the interest cost."

Farm loan extensions help in marketing

Large quantities of farm crops under government price support loan have been redeemed in recent months because of improved market prices according to Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He notes that this is a good illustration of how a loan program can help producers in the orderly marketing of their crops.

It is particularly true, he said, in regard to soybeans and corn where market prices have improved considerably in recent months.

He points out that many producers with soybean loans have gained up to 50 cents per bushel over the price at harvest time by holding their crops until June or July of this year.

Smith noted that the advantage of the price support program permits the producer to get a low interest loan at harvest which provides funds for immediate expenses and then he has the option of selecting during the entire marketing season the time that he feels is best to sell his crop.

He also reminded producers of the availability of the resale program on corn and soybeans, pointing out that both the 1967 and 1968 crops of corn and soybeans presently under resale and also the 1969 crop on farm-stored loans may be extended for another year.

This option is not extended to producers with warehouse loans. The warehouse-stored loans either have to be repaid or were automatically forfeited to CCC on the maturity date.

Storage for the 1970-71 program year would be about 12 cents per bushel for 1967 and 1968 crop corn and soybeans and about 13 cents per bushel for the 1969 crops of corn and soybeans.

Many producers in recent years have taken advantage of the Government loan program to help defray the costs of building and maintaining farm storages for crops placed under price support loan.

Further details on this program can be obtained at the local county ASCS office.

Canned trees?

Growing trees in containers may produce heartier, faster-growing specimens at lower costs.

Michigan State University foresters are planting valuable hardwoods such as black walnut, black cherry, etc., in containers to prolong the planting season, accelerate growth and improve survival. The method also eliminates need and cost of nursery production and transplanting.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q) Where can I get information on the tax law changes that go into effect this year?
A) This information is in Publication 553, Highlights of 1969 Changes in the Tax Law. Send a post card to your district director for a free copy.

Q) Is the tax on airplane tickets deductible?
A) No. However, the total cost of the air fare including the tax, may be deductible as a business expense if the trip qualifies as an ordinary and necessary business expense.

Q) Besides my regular job, I just started a part-time business. Should I file an estimated tax declaration since taxes are not taken out on this income?
A) You should file an estimated tax declaration or increase withholding on your regular job. Estimated tax forms and instructions are available at local IRS offices. To increase withholding, check with your employer.

Q) Our apartment was broken into and my wife's jewelry stolen. Can we deduct this loss on our tax return?
A) The amount of the uninsured loss over $100 may be deducted as a theft loss provided certain conditions are met. To be deductible, you must show that the property was actually stolen and not lost or mislaid. Your records should also establish the date the theft was discovered, the cost or other basis and fair market value of the stolen property, proof of ownership and the amount of insurance or other compensation received.

Q) When I left my summer job my boss gave me a statement showing my wages and taxes paid. Should I send it to you now or wait until the end of the year?
A) Keep the withholding statement given you until you file your 1970 tax return. Then a copy should be attached to your Form 1040. When an employee stops work, his employer is required to give him a withholding statement of wages paid and taxes withheld not later than 30 days after the last payment of wages.

Q) What are the rules for deducting long term capital losses against ordinary income under the Tax Reform Act of 1969?
A) You may deduct from ordinary income half of any long term capital loss up to a maximum of $1,000. Although this $1,000 figure is the same as last year, the 1969 Tax Reform Act made only half of the long term losses deductible from ordinary income, not the full amount as in previous years.

Q) How do I get a Social Security number? I need one for a summer job.
A) Your local Social Security office has Form SS-5 you can use to apply for a Social Security number. Send the completed form to the Social Security Administration and they will assign you a number.

Q) I'm a full time college student and think I will get a tax refund. If I don't have to count a $750 scholarship as income, is it income?
A) Scholarships are generally not taxable and do not have to be reported for tax purposes. Since there are many different types of scholarships, you will want to check with the organization that gave you the scholarship to see if they have information on its tax status.

Refreshments of coffee, punch, sandwiches and cake were served in the dining room by Mrs. Richard Watson, Mrs. Robert Watson, Mrs. Clarence Darling and Miss Cheryl Watson.

Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. Robert Hebel Sr. and Mrs. John Spencer attended a meeting of the Executive Council of the Clinton County Federation of Women's Clubs at Fricke Church on Tuesday, Nov. 10. Plans were discussed for the 1971 meeting which will be held at Fricke Church the last week in April.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Karl Smith who opened with a short prayer. Several of the ladies reported on the meeting they attended in St. Johns on Oct. 13. The February project was discussed.

The business meeting adjourned and the program was turned over to Mrs. John Spencer.

Mrs. Ray Jones had charge of devotions. She read from Psalm 16. Mrs. Spencer's topic was "Retirement—Boon or Bore!" It was presented in a sketch with the different ladies taking the part of a retired person. Mrs. Spencer was the social worker talking with them. Those taking part were Mrs. Ralph Baker, Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. Warren Gurtshall, and Mrs. Karl Smith. Each of the people in the sketch told how they had solved their retirement problem, some by doing hospital volunteer work, by taking part time jobs, or by doing volunteer work in the church.

4-H'ers can, freeze food

More and more young people want to entertain for and by themselves. And when they get ready for their friends' arrival they most often use easy-to-prepare foods that are either canned or frozen.

Clubs in the 4-H food preservation program find they have even more versatility than usual. They have canned and frozen the foods they use themselves.

Things like pizza sauce and the fixings for sloppy joes are common fare to these 4-H'ers. They've advanced to frozen beef stroganoff and pickle relish they've preserved themselves.

The 11,500 young canners and freezers have more going for them than just the accolades of their peers and the satisfaction of seeing their handiwork on the shelf or in the freezer.

Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation, national donor of the 4-H food preservation program for the past 42 years, offers incentives and recognition. In 1969, over 5,400 young people received county medals for excellence in the program.

Each state selected an outstanding girl to represent them at National 4-H Congress in the 4-H food preservation program. Her expense-paid trip was provided by Kerr.

This year, medals of honor, a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 through Dec. 3 and a scholarship are among the goals of 4-H'ers in the food preservation program.

State winners will be honored by Kerr at a recognition breakfast during the Congress. Scholarship winners will also be announced at the event.

The 4-H food preservation program and other 4-H activities are supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. The awards are arranged through the National 4-H Service Committee.

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of question and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) When my father died, mother collected benefits from his life insurance. Is that taxable?
A) If the benefits are paid in a lump sum they are usually not taxable to the extent they represent interest. Details on insurance payments may be found in Publication 505 Taxable Income and Nontaxable Income. Send a postcard to your IRS district office for a free copy.

Q) I want to clear out some of my old bank records, check stubs, cancelled bills and the like. Is there any need to keep some of them for tax purposes?

A) As a general rule, the IRS may assess additional tax or you may claim a refund within three years of the due date of a return. Therefore, any record you might need to support an item listed on your return should be kept at least three years.

Naturally you will keep some records longer. For example, records on the purchase of a home or the acquisition of stock should be kept longer.

Q) Can a self employed individual set up his own retirement plan?
A) Yes, if you are in business for yourself you may deduct your contributions to a self-employed retirement plan, provided that the contributions are based on earned income. Your business can be either full or part-time.

For details, send a post card to your District Director and ask for a copy of Publication 566, Questions and Answers on Retirement Plans for the Self-Employed. It's free.

Q) There have been some changes in my tax situation since I filled out my estimated return in April. Can I change it now?

A) Yes, recompute your estimated tax on the worksheet included in your 1040ES package before you make your third installment payment in September. The amended tax figure and the new payment amount should be shown on the voucher you send in with your payment.

Q) What tax records do you need to file a return? I just started work and will be paying tax for the first time next year.

A) You will need records to show your income and expenses for the year. If you are withheld by your employer, he will give you a statement of wages paid and taxes withheld at the end of the year. One copy of this should be filed with your return.

If you are not subject to withholding be sure to keep a record of your earnings. You may want to make estimated tax payments during the year to keep you on the same pay-as-you-go basis as those subject to withholding. Forms and instructions for making estimated payments are available at your local IRS office. You should also keep a record of all expenses that are deductible for federal income tax purposes. This would include medical expenses, charitable contributions, interest expenses and the like. Receipts, cancelled checks and similar evidence on these expenses should be kept in a file folder or special envelope so that they will be readily available when you start working on your tax return next year.

Q) Can the fellow who made out my return handle my tax appeal? He knows more about it than I do.

A) It depends on his qualifications. If the tax adviser is a certified public accountant, a lawyer or has passed a special examination given by the Treasury Department, then he can represent you. A tax return preparer without these qualifications can only assist the taxpayer during the examination of the return and not thereafter.

Q) Is it too late to make a change in the return I filed for 1969? I think I'm entitled to a deduction for moving expenses.

A) You may still claim this expense by filing Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. As a general rule, you have three years from the date your return was due to claim items you forgot. Copies of the form and instructions for completing it may be obtained by writing to your District Director.

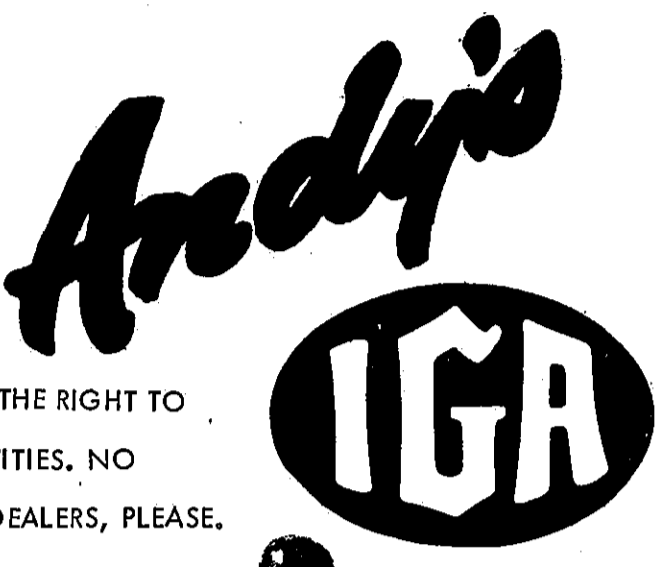

Q) Is money given a maid for carfare subject to Social Security tax?

A) Yes, the Social Security tax applies to the total cash paid a household employee, even though some is paid for transportation. Tax payments for the July, August, September quarter are due November 2. Any person who has paid $50 or more cash wages in a quarter to an employee for household services (cleaning, gardening, etc.) must file a return using Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.

Q) My ex-wife has always claimed our son as her dependent but this year I've been paying his college costs. Can I count this as a contribution to his support?

A) Yes, education is one of the items included in the support test. If you can establish that you provide more than half your son's support for the year, then you may be entitled to claim his exemption. Section 117, which places the child in the greater part of the year is entitled to claim the exemption.

Don't destroy cause.

President Nixon, whose inaugural theme was "togetherness" has chosen the road to "asunderness."

The reaction among our young people led to the deaths Monday, of four students, two young men and two young women on a university campus in Ohio.

To those young people who are studying history and current events and must know that violence leads to violence, we say no matter how justified your cause, if you choose the path of violence, you choose the path to disaster for your cause.

Our fervent plea to you is to do better than your elders. Make this democracy work and it will work for you. It is the most difficult form of government in the world.

Protest; but peacefully.

Take to the streets, but not the center of the street - take to the sidewalks and knock on every door in America talking to your neighbors, using the power of reasoned persuasion.

Bring your young ideals and your young power to bear on your Senators and your Congressmen through your letters and your petitions and through those you generate among your adult neighbors.

Organize; visit every home in America, peacefully. It will be hard work. It will be discouraging, because democracy is a hard taskmaster.

You are outraged by the course your country is taking, as are many of us. Do not commit outrages of your own against our democracy and against our society.

Do not equate the fundamentals of our America with the present set of government policies, they are not one and the same. The fundamentals are sound and true; the present policies (some of them) are unsound and in some cases, such as the President's war-making action, are counter to the fundamentals of our country as established by our constitution.

Keep the faith. America is a great country. It is being misused by some of its leaders who do not understand the democratic foundation upon which it is built.

IF IT FITZ . . .

Heroes are made

By JIM FITZGERALD

"Why are you taking 2 coats to the football game?" my wife asked as we drove down the highway.

"It's easier than getting a tattoo," I explained.

"What does that mean?" she asked.

"It means I'm too rugged to be suckered by this fancy, frilly, got-to-have-a-gimmick world," I explained.

"Forget it," she said. "I'm sorry I asked."

"But I want you to understand," I said. "It's important to you. Everyone else at the game will notice my extreme virility. As my wife, you should know about it too."

"Are you serious?" she asked.

"It's the cigaret commercials on TV," I explained. "It used to be you could recognize the hero by his tattoo, if he rode a horse and branded calves on their butts. Or you could recognize him by his hot eyes if he rode a barstool and picked up broads simply by flashing the brand of his butts. . ."

"...well, there's no tattoo parlor in our town and those Captain Marvel transfers kept washing off," I continued explaining.

"Also, I always hated to turn on my hot eyes in a bar because it melted the ice. So I felt like an impotent sissy. But now the Camel cigaret people have shown me a practical way to prove my manhood."

"Don't take either hand off the steering wheel," she said. "But what does all this have to do with 2 coats?"

"I knew you'd get interested when the conversation got sexy," I said. "The point is that Camel doesn't fill up their cigarets with menthol or cork tips or coupons that'll furnish palaces. The TV commercials say their cigaret is straight tobacco, fine tobacco, with no gimmicks. Left unspoken is the horse and branded calves on their butts. Or you could recognize him by his hot eyes if he rode a barstool and picked up broads simply by flashing the brand of his butts. . ."

"You're not serious," she interrupted.

"And then the brave man appears. He lights his Camel, squints his eyes, blows the smoke, SLINGS HIS COAT OVER HIS SHOULDER, and then strides off to watch a prize-fight or win World War 3. No matter where he goes, he doesn't wear his coat, he hangs it over his shoulder. That's virile," I said.

"I've seen those commercials," she said. "But the hero carrying the coat is in his shirt-sleeves. You are wearing 1 coat and carrying the other one."

"Well, it's cold out," I explained. "They film those commercials under hot lights."

"OK," she said. "But don't you think you could settle for just 1 coat until we get to the game. I don't think it's safe driving with a coat over your shoulder."

"If it were a tattoo, could I take it off to drive?" I asked out of the corner of my mouth, crinkling my eyes and twitching my cheek.

"You are serious. You think you're Humphrey Bogart," she said.

"Onward and Upward," I said.

TAKING FIVE

Pollution whisperings

By RON HUARD

Wife's been running around the house in recent days whispering through a voice silenced by hoarseness.

"Sore throat," I asked.

"No. Air pollution," she whispered.

"Pollution?" I gasped. "Right here in the heartland of Michigan?"

"Vochhessch," she choked. "It's spreading everywhere and what can one man do, my friend?"

"Aw, c'mon. It's gotta be a cold."

"Well, some of it is, but most of it came from pollution."

That's when it hit me.

Like Agnew, pollution has become a household word.

A guy can't sneeze in his own home without the kids crying in unison, "Air pollution!"

Pouring dishwater down the drain used to be the normal thing to do, but now we store it in lead containers so it won't contaminate our sewage lines.

(Wife should have been doing that with some of her coffee years ago)

There was a time when life was fine and burning papers in an incinerator was the most acceptable way of disposing of them.

Now the mere mention of an incinerator brings gasps of horror accompanied by accusing finger pointing and cries of anguish.

Just thinking about burning is more traitorous than setting up a maxi-coat shop in a nudist colony.

Unclutter the clutter

Is your house one of uncontrolled clutter? Lack of adequate storage can be the principal culprit in this situation.

For most people, regardless of whether they live in a large home or in a tiny apartment, it doesn't take very long to accumulate a great amount of everything.

Accumulations may be useful or not, seasonal or unseasonal, decorative objects you couldn't resist, gifts from well meaning friends or relatives or clothes not worn for some time, hobby collections, gadgets, reading matter, sports gear and on and on.

Whatever the reason for accumulations you have two choices find storage room or get rid of it.

Perhaps a third choice is to live with the clutter.

Assuming you don't want the clutter, and there are certain things you do want to keep, your choice of finding storage faces

you. Remember its not necessarily the size of your house that counts, but how well you organize.

Take a look around. Be objective. What is important to the family and what can you do without?

Which things need to be stored close at hand for regular use? Which things seldom used (the set of Christmas holly dishes used only at holiday time) could be stored further away?

Are family games, toys, a dictionary or encyclopedia, in easy access for those needing them?

After you've made some of these basic decisions, look around the house again. What kind of storage facilities are available for use? You may be surprised to see lots of unused possibilities staring right back at you.

Look toward unused corners, space on either side of a fireplace, space below windows, or on either side, under a stairway, on porches. Would shifting of closet contents make for better storage? Chests; shelves; cubicles; double-purpose furniture such as an ottoman of drawers or a chest-window seat; "Tree" or "pole" arrangements for books, bath towels, bric-a-brac, and entire wall storage units (combinations of open and closed) only start a list of possible solutions for you.

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE Extension Home Economist

Be alert for ideas. Department store model rooms, houseware, kitchen and bath divisions, unpainted furniture stores, lumberyards, hardware stores, household magazines and specialty catalogues are all good places to look for ideas.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader adds to Chief Glazier's words

Dear Sir:

I should like to stress what your Chief of Police said in your article on the drug menace.

Chief Glazier proposes to treat the cause while the others are concerned about treating the symptoms. The drug habit is a symptom of a warped, twisted mind produced by an injustice-ridden environment.

Chief Glazier has put his finger on the greatest injustice of all. We all know character is built through hard work, struggle, and success; yet, we tolerate the nefarious child labor law that literally guarantees destruction of character.

Why? When we took work away from young people and treated them like children, it was worse than a blow below the belt. It was a kick in the groin. Why do we do it?

The next greatest injustice is the compulsory school attendance law. First, let me say that for the students attending school, teachers are doing a fine job. A job of which anyone can be proud. You will find the students working hard and enjoying it. They are a well-adjusted lot. But, for the non-student it is an entirely different story. They are mis-fits, unhappy, rebellious. And the school has very little to offer him. It is from this group we are turning out illiterates, delinquents, and sometimes even criminals. It is from this group we are getting our drug addicts, hippies and many others with warped minds who are trying to destroy our schools, colleges and universities. Before this group the best teachers in the world are completely helpless. When parents who are taxpayers will pay excessive taxes to harm their own children, we must conclude we, at least, are getting what we asked for. But, why do we want it?

Sincerely, Floyd Taylor Elsie.

She urges patronage of Clinton theatre

To the People of the Area: The Clinton Theatre in St. Johns has been sold to Howard Kortes.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends and customers who patronized us through the years.

I would also like to take this opportunity to suggest that you patronize the local theatre.

My daughter and I were in attendance at the showing of "Gone With the Wind". It made me sad to see so few people there. For those who were complaining a short time ago about the type of films which are objectionable I wondered where they were for a really fine picture.

There is much more involved in running a theatre than the general public realizes. After being associated with it for thirty five years, I speak with authority.

The proper complaints should be made to the film companies, not the exhibitor. Today, you take what is available, you are told how long to run that particular film, and they set the percentage they will take, which often is beyond reason. This is the way it works, or your theatre is closed.

It seems to be the custom to go out of town for dinner and the show. We have many fine restaurants in this area. Why not eat here and attend the local movie?

On behalf of my late husband and my family, thank you.

Sincerely, Geraldine Beechler

An altar too small

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

In the eighth chapter of the first book of Kings we read Solomon's great prayer of dedication of the magnificent Temple built for Israel's God. After this unusually long prayer, Solomon offered sacrifice before the Lord. The story tells us he offered some 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep.

Because of this great mass of offerings, Solomon had to consecrate the middle of the Temple court in order to handle all the animals. The reason for this was, in the words of the Hebrew writer, "because the bronze altar that was before the Lord was too small to receive the burnt offering and the cereal offering, and the fat pieces of the peace offerings."

The theme here is that the altar was too small. For King Solomon it was literally too small—it couldn't handle the great numbers of animal sacrifices. For you and me "an altar too small" has symbolic meaning.

In our worship of God we must be careful that we don't put it in small terms. We must be careful that our worship is not too small to be worthy of our God whom we address as Almighty.

First, our altar of worship is too small if it concerns only ourselves. If we have room only for ourselves in our praying and worship, then our altar is too small.

Some people seem to have rewritten the Lord's Prayer for their own use; they change all the pronouns so it sounds like this—"MY Father, who art in heaven. . . Give ME this day MY daily bread. . . Forgive ME MY trespasses, as I forgive those who trespass against ME. . . And lead ME not into temptation, but deliver ME from evil."

Obviously this prayer is too small. The poet describes the type of person whose altar is too small. He writes:

"Of all the clever people around me here

I most delight in me. Mine is the only voice I hear And mine the only face I see." Secondly, our altar of worship is too small if our prayers are only about our families. I know a prayer for the family is larger than a prayer for the self, but it is still too small to fit the worship of the God and Father of all men.

The family altar or family worship is a wonderful and powerful force in the lives of the individual family members. The danger involved, however, is that the family can draw a circle around itself and forget about the rest of the families under God's care.

Prayer concerned only with our own family is too small for Christian worship.

Jesus always had the vision of the larger family. Once, while He was speaking to the people, His mother and brothers stood outside and asked a man if they could speak to Him. When the man took this request to Jesus, He answered and said, "Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?"

Then He stretched out his hand toward his disciples and said, "Here are my mother and brothers! For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother, and sister and mother."

How about the rest of the families in the world? When was the last time you prayed for the families in China, Russia, Poland, East Berlin, Cuba, Vietnam, the poor families

Clinton County farmers harvested 25,000 acres of soybeans in 1969, according to Phil Doctor of the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

Production amounted to 532,000 bushels, an average of 21.3 bushels per acre. This compares to the 1968 crop of 567,000 bushels from 24,000 acres.

Doctor says that Clinton is one of the larger Soybean producing counties in southern Michigan.

In our inner cities and rural slums? If it has been a long while, then your altar of worship has been too small.

Finally, our altar of worship is too small if we limit our prayers to our own nation. In these days of world tension, we must pray for the world. In the Episcopalian Prayer Book there is a prayer that says, "O Lord our governor, whose glory is in all the world; we commend this nation to thy merciful care, that being guided by thy Providence, we may dwell secure in thy peace."

Well, we do want God to care for our nation. But God loves the world. What about the nations whom we consider to be our enemies? Do we pray for them? Again in the Prayer Book it says, "Grant to the President of the U.S., and to all in authority, wisdom and strength to know and to do thy will."

Shouldn't we be saying in stead, "Grant to Richard Nixon, Mao Tse Tung, Fidel Castro and all others in authority, wisdom and strength to know and to do thy will? Fill THEM with the love of truth and righteousness?"

Jesus said, "Go ye into all the world." In our worship we ought to go into all the world. "So God loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son." Yes, even a national altar is too small.

The bronze altar that was before the Lord was too small to receive the burnt offering, and the cereal offering, and the fat pieces of the peace offerings."

Of course we must pray for ourselves if we are to have real communion with God. Also, we must pray for our family and our nation.

But our altar of worship is too small if we forget to pray for other individuals, other families, and other nations. Remember, God is God of the whole earth.

Holding Hands

By WARREN E. DOBSON

I've held those hands for forty years 'N mebbe somewhat more— With so much time as that elapsed How can I keep the score?

I've held 'em in the early morn, 'N when the moon shone bright I've held 'em after most good folk, Was safe in bed at night!

I've held 'em —rough 'n calloused— And I've bandaged 'em when torn, I've held 'em when their owner Was weary, weak and worn,

I've held those hands when sickness, Left 'em sort of white 'n thin, I've held 'em up in victory When our turn came to win.

I've held 'em through depressions, 'N when the goose hung high, When we were very much alone, 'N with plenty others nigh.

With so much holding action Perhaps you lost connection? But there were some times I confess I held in self-protection!

Shake that 'gullible consumer' label

Do you resent being labeled as a gullible consumer? Then check your buying practices.

Are you aware of the fraudulent schemes going on about you?

Watch out for these schemes. First how about that door-to-door salesman? According to the State Attorney General there isn't one thing sold by door-to-door salesman that you can't purchase in the stores as cheaply.

If you want to buy magazines do someone a favor and restrict it to the schools when they sell magazines, or to your church and clubs.

Avoid out-of-town door-to-door salesmen. Be suspicious of salesmen who declare that they are taking "surveys" or want to give you a "gift."

To make out a check directly to a door-to-door salesman is an unwise practice.

Avoid anyone who comes to the door and declares that he is the fire inspector, or the chimney inspector, or the roof inspector.

Avoid anyone trying to sell you aluminum siding from door-to-door. Avoid the referral method.

Many people think that by referring another prospective customer they will get a percentage off on a product.

Mac's Moments

Lend an ear

By TOM McELENEY

As long as I've been working in the drug vein this past month or so, I thought I would relate to you some of the experiences I've had with your children during their days at school over the same period.

Two weeks ago today, I began talking to junior and senior high school students throughout the county to find out what the drug situation was, in their particular school and what their personal feelings on the topic were.

I'm not about to tell you what they told me because I've already laid that out for you elsewhere in this edition of the News.

I have learned that the young people occupying the high schools in this county are a hell-of-a-lot more mature than high school people were when I was in the same environment seven years ago. They know how to communicate and want to.

If you've read my story, or should I say their story, you know that at least marijuana exists in the county. These young people are talking to instructors that will listen to them, not the people that don't give them a chance to express themselves.

A senior girl at Ovid-Elsie High School told me the one thing that would really make her happy would be being able to talk to her Mom and Dad without starting out as the person with the wrong ideas in all conversations.

On the other hand, another senior girl at O-E said she was blessed with a set of parents that are worth their weight in gold. This girl's folks have listened and have discussed any problems the girl might have or topic that she wants their opinion on.

I talked to a young man at DeWitt High School who is set quite a bit away from the majority of the student body because of his dress in school.

As he explained it to me, I'm not trying to rebel against any law that has been decreed as to the proper dress, I like to wear relaxing clothes.

The same person was one of the most honest students I talked to during my interviewing. And, believe me, I ran into plenty of kids who weren't telling the truth or at least who were hiding the truth, mostly because of fear.

You might have noticed in my article that I didn't ever give an opinion on what I thought about smoking grass and popping pills and shooting drugs from LSD to Horse. You can find the definition of Horse in another article in this week's News.

The reason for my not being opinionated is the fact that I want you, the student, the parents, the brothers and the sisters, to talk the problem over at home. Many of you parents might feel a sense of shame after such an encounter but do it anyway. I think your whole family unit will benefit.

I'm not eliminating myself from the delinquent list of non-listeners. Before I came to St. Johns, I lived in Flint and worked as a reporter at "The Flint Journal."

One of my best friends at the Journal was the business editor who was 23 years old. He came to one of my parties one Friday night and I knew he had been smoking grass prior to arriving at the party. I told him that I sure didn't see the sense of smoking the weed and was turned off to him for the rest of the evening.

East Victor

By Mrs. Ray Ketchum

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barrett entertained his sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wizork of Ionia and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Coe of St. Johns and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barrett of St. Johns last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Carl and family of rural Owosso were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Strouse and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Scott and family of DeWitt, Mrs. Helen Youngs and Leon Giffels of Laingsburg were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott and Roy.

This party took place about three months ago and I never took the time to understand my friend's decision to try and use marijuana 'til now. I'm making it a point, now to find out why he did or does smoke pot. Do you know who taught me to listen to my friend's reasons?

The kids many people refer to as the ignorant dummies who should get a good straightening out, that's who!

I'll let you in on a secret if you promise to tell it to everybody. These kids aren't the dummies you think they are. Talk with them, you'll be surprised.

This is going to make this week's column a bit long but both subjects are worth the space.

My compliments go out in abundance to the American Broadcasting Company and to the movie they featured on their "Movie of the Week" series a week ago Tuesday on Nov. 10. The name of the epic was "Tribes."

For those who didn't see it, it was centered around three young men who were inducted into the United States Marine Corps. One was a so-called flower child and the other two were similar products of my younger generation.

It would take me another three pages of type to express my feelings of the excellence of the picture. All that I can say is I'm sorry if you were one of the people who didn't get a chance to see it.

Maybe enough people will ask ABC to repeat it. I know I could enjoy it just as much the second time around.

Again, nice work ABC and a sincere thank you to the host of young people I've had the pleasure of talking to during the past two weeks. Thanks for your cooperation and your honesty. Keep it up!

Election analysis

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

In one of the most unusual Michigan elections in memory, legislative Republicans and Gov. Milliken held relatively firm against a tide of votes for Democratic candidates for statewide administrative offices.

The second consecutive confused election in Detroit again made us measure the wait for final returns in days, rather than hours.

Governor Milliken won an exceedingly close contest with Democrat Sander Levin, with the outcome not known until Thursday afternoon. Levin almost managed to ride in on the coattails of U.S. Sen. Philip Hart and Attorney General Frank Kelley.

Governor Milliken's personal appeal was too great, however, and he prevented a Democratic landslide which, if it had gone unchecked, might have reached down to the legislative level.

The strength of Hart and Kelley also contributed to the defeat of GOP Secretary of State candidate Emil Lockwood, Democrat Richard Austin, with a strong base in his Wayne County home, was apparently helped outstate by his ticket-mates.

The bright spot in the election for Republicans, in addition to the Governorship, came in the legislative races. Despite a close race for Governor and a strong Democratic trend in other statewide offices, Republicans lost only one seat each in the House and Senate.

Pending careful checks of some close races, it appears that the balance of legislative power will remain essentially the same as during the past two years.

IN THE HOURS of Representatives, the apparent party division will be 52 Republicans and 58 Democrats. That measures out to a net loss of one Republican seat. Democrats won seats formerly held by Republicans in Detroit and Lansing. Partially offsetting that outcome was a Republican victory in a formerly Democrat seat in Flint.

Interestingly enough, not a single House incumbent lost in the general election. Every re-election-seeking House member who made it past his party primary also was approved by the voters in November.

The primary change in the House will probably come in the Republican leadership. Two of the most important positions opened up when Republican Leader Robert Waldron and Floor Leader William Hampton declined to seek re-election.

The Caucus Chairmanship, now held by Rep. Russell Strange—defeated in the August 4 Primary—is also open. Efforts to fill the vacancies could result in shifts throughout the Republican leadership.

Over in the Senate, it appears that Republicans will cling to the slimmest possible margin of control—the vote of GOP Lieutenant Governor-elect James Brickley. The uncertified election returns showed the two parties with 19 seats apiece, resulting from a Democrat gain of one seat.

If that alignment holds up, Brickley apparently will be able to cast the tie-breaking organizational vote.

This would mean that Republicans would continue to hold committee chairmanships and determine the flow of legislation.

The Senate leadership picture will also be somewhat changed from the composition which existed for most of the last two years. Senate Leader Emil Lockwood gave up his seat to run for Secretary of State.

However, it doesn't appear at this point that the contest for Senate leadership positions will be as wide open as in the House.

It would appear that in the coming legislative session, philosophical and organizational factors will be pretty much the same as during the present Legislature.

With the Legislature so evenly balanced, a good deal of emphasis will have to be put on bipartisan cooperation if we are to produce a successful program.

DIAGNOSIS:

An advanced case of poor printitis brought on by critical exposure to long waits for printing jobs, sloppy composition, burning prices and high pressured excuses for low keyed quality.

PRESCRIPTION:

Three MINIT print capsules, then relax in a comfortable chair with a favorite magazine. In only minutes you'll feel pains of poor printitis dissipate.
