Zoning goes to court

Q. The Clinton County News is the only source Clinton County people have for a complete break down of the election results. With the number of voters attending the polls to cast their votes, I feel we are entitled to have a complete recap made of how each precinct voted on each issue. Do you plan to do this even though you feel it might be old news as of this date? CM, ST JOHNS

A. The Clinton County News had planned to publish all precinct voting totals. However just like the voters who met with much difficulty due to the extremely long ballot, we found space prohibited publishing the entire results. Those wishing to find out the vote results in their precincts may do so by calling the county clerk's office. The COUNTY NEWS regrets it was unable to publish the entire results, but fully intends to return to the practice for the next election.

Q. Has the market for Thanksgiving turkeys increased or decreased in St Johns over last year? WS, ST JOHNS

A. Holiday eaters in Clinton's countryside still like to gobble up turkey on Thanksgiving Day. We'll sell about 40% more birds this year estimates Bill Haupt, meat manager at Andy's IGA. He says that's because the wholesale price has gone up but the cost to the retailer is down. Last year Haupt recalls he sold quite a few hams, but this season the pigs are stuck in the fall mud it seems as the traditional bird remains on top. Louis Thelen, meat manager of Kroger's reports shoppers are buying a better grade turkey such as the Butterball and Honeysuckle because the cost hasn't increased. At the same time the price on cheaper grade birds is up. Kroger's biggest Tom weighs in at 25 lbs. He's sure he'll sell as many turkeys as last year and then ham, chicken and prime rib roast in that order.

Leads to re-accreditation

Committee evaluating high school

By LEE PETERS
News Staff Writer

ST JOHNS - An in-depth study aimed at re-accreditation of St Johns High School is giving faculty and administrators an insight as to how the local system can be improved.

Purpose of the evaluation, reports Jam Bargar, steering committee head, is not so much for evaluation but to see needs and to make the necessary changes.

An art teacher, Bargar volunteered to lead a group in preparation for a visit from an evaluating team from the North Central Accreditation Association (NCAA).

The 3-day stop at St Johns by the NCAA beginning Feb 12 is the first since the high school moved into its new facilities in 1969. According to Bargar, it's the policy of NCAA to make an evaluation every 7 years. St Johns received its first accreditation from the NCAA in 1927, and the most recent in '65 while at Rodney B Wilson.

PRIMARY OBJECTIVE of accreditation used to be so a graduate from such a school accepted by a college or university would automatically meet entrance requirements, explains Bargar. Now, he adds, it has developed into a lot more, particularly in evaluation. The steering committee, composed of 5 volunteers, and various committees, is now completing a year of self evaluation.

A new and extensive evaluation guide is being used this year, says Bargar. It covers every phase at the high school level including curriculum, staff, staff, and administrative relations, community needs and building facilities.

"We wanted to go along with this new form, used by only 2 schools last year, because so many changes have been made since we moved," admits Bargar. Although he thinks it has meant many long hours of hard work he also feels it has been exciting to the faculty. Bargar projects the benefits the school will reap will go on for years to come.

ALONG WITH 10 areas, all departments are being carefully studied, continues Bargar. The evaluation, basically faculty oriented, is led by the steering committee with Bargar, Walter Cole, John Furry, Paul Repath and Bill Swears, assistant principal and the only administrator. Areas and their chairmen include purpose and objectives, Jerry Pulliam; staff and administrator, Mike Gehoski; learning material center, Sherri Ralston; unique educational thrusts, Jerri Ann Beaufore; community, student and school information, Ted Slicer; guidance and other student-personnel Arlene Scramlin; instructional program, Gary Larsen; student activities program, Bob Spencer, and school physical facilities, John Speck.

Department heads have been crossed so that no chairman is heading his own department's evaluation, states Bargar. They include business, Bob LaBrie; math, Gary Kingsley; driver education, Terry Adams; foreign multiple family units, 78 single family lots and a golf course.

Arnold Kegebein, president of the Concerned Citizens of the DeWitt Area Association, announced that a complaint against the City of DeWitt was filed on behalf of his group, charging a "conflict of interest" in the matter. He said a Circuit Court hearing had been slated for Dec 6.

Richard Stoddard, speaking for the developers, said that specific efforts were made to avoid conflicts of interest. Developer Roger Overway added that he had withheld his vote on the matter, as a member of the Planning Commission.

That commission and the DeWitt Township Board recommended approval of rezoning, while the Clinton County and Tri-County Planning Commissions recommended the request be denied.

On behalf of the petitioners, Bruce Conradson said Township approval was hasty and without feeling for the area residents, many of whom were unaware of the matter.

Conradson added that he agreed with the Tri-County recommendation that expressed fear that development would be out of control if rezoning were approved. The speaker said that after rezoning, the submitted plans could be dropped and the land could go for sale to the highest bidder.

Developer Overway, who is also a newly-elected Clinton County Commissioner, said recent rezoning of an adjacent property for duplex living had already set the precedent for development in the area.

Zoning commissioners listened to fears expressed in the petition, including increases in crime, traffic and noise, as well as several references to taxation problems that were thought to be possibilities.

The Zoning Commission tabled the issue for a minimum of one month for consideration of the recommendations and the court case.

Roger Overway, president of DeWitt Development Corporation, expressed confidence when he spoke to the County News Monday. "We feel they don't really have a justified complaint," he said "and feel this will be clearly proven at the show cause hearing Dec 6."

Dan Elliott, DeWitt city administrator, told the County News the matter has been turned over to the city attorney.

In the request for a temporary restraining order, granted by Circuit Court Judge Leo Corkin, the plaintiffs, "George Moody and Margaret Faught and others similarly situated," asked: (1) restrain the re-zoning (2) the restraining order be made permanent (3) declare re-zoning null and void and order a re-zoning petition be handled by the new city council elected Nov 7 (4) other such and further reliefs and (5) plaintiffs be awarded costs and reasonable attorney fees."

In the petition for the restraining order it was stated, ". . . certain city officials were stockholders in DeWitt Development Corp, including but not limited to Mayor Keck and Councilmen DeWitt, Overway and Hiatt and the city planner and attorney.

"In April, 1972 or thereabouts, an opinion was requested about possible conflict of interest. In April an opinion (SEE PAGE 3)

They got their bucks

By Janet Brydon
Special County News Writer

The Dewitt Township Board of Trustees voted Monday to officially protest public inconvenience due to culvert installment across township roads.

The decision to send a "strong letter" to the Department of Public Works and the Dewitt Excavating Co was prompted by complaints from citizens and fire officials.

Trustee William Purves reported that all access to King Arthur's Court was blocked for part of a day, and the Township fire chief said that fire lanes have been obstructed creating a potential public hazard.

Knights shoot 3 bucks near home

ST. JOHNS - The Knight family was successful in its deer hunting outing over the weekend.

The men shot a 6 pointer Saturday and 8 pt and spikehorn bucks Sunday in Bengal Township within a half mile of the Alden Knight home on West Townsend Road.

Others hunting with Alden were his son, Robert, brothers, Dale and Douglas of St Johns and Rex of Midland and his father, Oliver, St Johns.

First buck of the season by a Clinton County hunter was reported by Joy Dershem, upper left. It was the first for the rural St Johns woman.

DeWitt Twp protests road inconveniences

In other business the Board set a cash-in-advance policy for sewer line extension to city residence on approving a hook-up for Mrs. Kowatch of Herbison Road. Although the Kowatch property is in the City of Dewitt, the Board agreed to extend services due to closeness of township sewer lines. Advanced payment of excavation costs and the current tap fee will be required. The board noted that this will be the usual policy for the future in such cases.

Remaining matters included a vote to assume 50% of court costs in a suit against the City of Lansing, should Watertown Township do likewise. The case centers around annexation of the airport to the city.

ALSO A COMMITTEE was structured to study possible locations for a new fire station.

It was announced that bids would be solicited for snow removal and a new police car.

Trustees approved a transfer of liquor license to the new owner of Eyer's Steak House.

A Parks and Recreation Commission resolution was read by Chairman Richard Padgett thanking Milton J. King for his support of the DeWitt Parks and Recreation system. King is a former chairman of the Commission.

Olive township board wants to thank all who supported them in the general election.

was filed by a special attorney outlining the conflict of interest.

"On Sept 18, councilmen Overway and Hiatt resigned and, Sept 25, members Paul Mulford and Norbert Jaskiewicz were appointed by the mayor.

"On Oct 2, Councilman Hartwigsen resigned and June Lankford was appointed by the mayor." The plaintiffs stated Keck was and still is a stockholder of DeWitt Development Corp. He did not seek re-election this year.

The plaintiffs also stated 2 new members of the council have blood relatives who are shareholders in the corporation.

Councilman, now mayor, Ray DeWitt informed the council Oct 16 he had sold his stock in the development corporation.

At the time of the re-zoning vote, the plaintiffs contend DeWitt still had direct or indirect interest as well as Mulford, Lankford and Keck.

In other business, the Zoning Commission granted a request for reclassification of an area around and including the Karber gravel works near Scott Road between Kinley and Colony Roads. The move allows heavy industry on the land and makes the manufacture of blocks at the Karber works possible.

In Duplain Township, the Faith Baptist Church will be allowed to construct on a site at Hollister Road, south of Maple Rapids. The special use permit required was granted despite two adjacent property owners who questioned the size and responsibility of the congregation in regard to the undertaking of construction. They also expressed fear of property devaluation.

Laughing with Lee

By Lee Peters

Turkeys first began to fret about their life expectancy in 1663.

That's when the country observed its first Thanksgiving Day after a national proclamation by President Abraham Lincoln. The date was Nov 28.

Periodically since the Pilgrim's feast, Americans had celebrated some form of Thanksgiving. President George Washington set aside Nov 26 as a national day of Thanksgiving for the adoption of the US Constitution in 1789.

But even after 300 years as a part of our American heritage, Tom Turkey can't say to his best gal, "you have come a long way, henny."

It's bad enough fried chickens are demanding reservations on the Thanksgiving Day table. Now pigs and ducks are trying to cut in on what should be strictly turkey territory. And don't give me a cooked goose. I demand turkey.

After all, Thanksgiving is the turkey's big day. They know one minute they'll be strutting around the barnyard and the next they'll be flat on their backs on the holiday platters of America. After they're gone all that's left are Aunt Gertrude's hand-crocheted feathered pillow and 180,000,000 diners stuffed full as a tick. Or wishfully thinking, you might get the breast bone.

That's if you can get it in 1 piece. Defless but determined, still don't know how to carve the turkey properly. Oh how that must hurt the big bird's pride—not to mention the left tibia. Now with electric knives they go at it like they were chopping a dead oak tree for the winter's supply of firewood.

And then what does the rest of the family do when asked what part they want. They gotta bring integration into it. "Give me the white meat. No, I want dark meat... pass me a leg. I won't eat that wing." Dad should just say fly off and pass your plate.

Remember all the hard work that went into its preparation when you take a bite as the juice gushes out. Mom deserves some credit. She stays up all night basting and blasting the bird and the aluminum foil keeps the whole thing under wraps.

Think turkey this Thursday. If you're fed up with turkey year after year just think how stuffed by us they are—and all we give 'em is bread crumbs.

And when you sit down to the harvest table to say your Thanksgiving prayers, please put in a good word for the turkey... Then GOBBLE it up folks.

French classical composers studied

St Johns Morning Musicales met at Nov 9 at the home of Mrs Fred Lewis to continue their program for the year, Musique de France.

Mrs A M Carson gave a paper on the life and works of 2 French composers, Andre Campra (1660-1744) and Claude Louis Balbastre (1729-1798), both considered classical period artists.

CAMPRA was an established composer of both instrumental and vocal music which he used in his position of choirmaster at the Cathedral of Notre Dame and conductor of the Royal Orchestra. Historically he is remembered as the first composer to obtain permission to use other instruments besides the organ in church music.

Balbastre, an organist at Notre Dame, was also a composer but is remembered more for his highly technical skill on the organ. He had a light and fanciful style which earned him the title of "organist of the graces".

Mrs B A Deuvert demonstrated the music of these men as she played "Noel with variations" by Balbastre. The music was made even more interesting by the fact that Mrs Deibert was playing on an 80-year-old pump organ owned by Mrs Lewis.

Clinton churches launch fall clothing appeal

CLINTON COUNTY - Churches in Clinton County have launched the Fall Church World Service Clothing Appeal. Twice each year churches seek to collect clothing to meet urgent needs overseas and at home. A minimum of 4 million pounds of clothing is needed annually to meet these needs.

Mrs Lloyd (Marie) Ford, Community Contact for the Clothing Appeal has announced the emphasis for this appeal is for all types of lightweight clothing. Clothing is shipped to disaster victims and refugees in more than 30 countries as well as used with disasters in the United States.

A NEW NEED which has arisen is that of men's clothing of all types. With the end of a 17 year civil war in the Sudan, a refugee rehabilitation program has been mounted by Church World Service, Catholic Relief Services and Lutheran World Relief. It is estimated that there are over 1 million refugees who will be returning to their homeland. An initial shipment of 300,000 pounds of adult clothing was shipped from the New Windsor Center. The stock of men's clothing was completely exhausted and additional shipments are being held up until the fall appeal.

completely exhausted and additional shipments are being held up until the fall appeal.

The need for children's clothing, for blankets, for layettes continues to be urgent. In 1971, CWS was 75,000 layettes short of the most urgent calls from overseas. Blankets were utilized in the West Virginia mountain disaster as well as by the victims of Hurricane Agnes in the Eastern States. Local churches are asked to conduct their appeal for clothing. When the clothing is collected, it should be packed in sturdy boxes and tied securely. The clothing should be delivered to the depot at St Johns Episcopal Church by Dec 4 for pickup by the CWS Truck.

For information regarding publicity materials or needs of the Clothing Appeal call the Community Contact, Mrs Ford, 224-2569.

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Defeat is not taken very easily when an unknown football field is muddy, or when you've been unbeaten all through the football season.

However, the mighty Pirates ended their 1972 season on a sour note Friday night, being beaten by a top ranked Beal City team, 26-0. Pride swelled all over the field, spirit was high, and no one, in the blue and gold uniform, gave up. No one could complain because the team chalked up a 7-1 season, and the championship of the Motor D Valley Conference. This truly will be remembered as "the year of the Pirates."

Moving toward graduation are the seniors at FHS. They chose the white rose to accompany their class colors of royal blue and light blue. "The future of the earth is in our hands, how will we decide?" was chosen as their motto.

As football season is closed thoughts are being turned to basketball season and wrestling. Varsity wrestling is new here this year and is under the direction of Jacob Pell. Mr William Parker will be the new varsity basketball coach, while Mr Dan Wright will be coaching the junior varsity team. Freshman basketball will be coached by Rick Roth, and Dave Marston will be coaching the junior high team. Both basketball and wrestling practices began Monday after school.

The varsity girls basketball team was victorious both Monday and Wednesday night last week. A tie for the championship was established Monday night as the girls beat Vestaburg 33-23. Wednesday Morris came and were defeated 43-23.

Swimmers prepare for season

ST JOHNS REDWING RETURNING VARSITY SWIMMERS HIT THE POOL - WHILE OTHER MEMBERS OF THIS YEAR'S SQUAD OBSERVE

ST JOHNS - While others have been thinking of deer hunting or zipping around on the family snowmobile the St Johns Redwing swim team is thinking of Dec 7.

That's the date St Johns opens this year's swimming meet season.

Following their 1st season in the conference last year with a 6-5 record and 3rd in the league, the Redwings are putting their all into preparing for the upcoming season.

In the 1st week of practice, the 31-man squad were working twice the distances of last year from 3:30 pm until 6:30 pm each weekday evening.

In the 2nd week, plans call for swimmers working out 3 days in the morning from 6:45-8 am with divers working out the same time 2 mornings a week.

COACH WAYNE MORRISON said his squad will be "hitting 6000-7000 yards a day" by the 2nd week of practice.

Facing the season with a highly competitive spirit, Morrison said, "each member of the team is seeking to reach his top potential this season."

"One of the team goals this year is to attempt to improve on all of last season's pool records."

The decision to go with the long daily practice sessions followed a meeting of Morrison and assistant, Bruce Barber, with the team members, who all elected to hopefully exceed last year's times.

The team and coaches also hosted a meeting with parents of members of the squad.

PURPOSE OF THE meeting was to acquaint parents with the goals of the team and to involve them with the achievements of the squad throughout the season.

The Redwing swimmers go into competition this season with 7 returning lettermen; Dan Downing, Mike Butler, Kirt Robbins, and Harold Wellman, Ed Riley, Doug Haas.

Brian Stork, Andy Huntley, Bruce Haas, Charlie Rehman and Harold Wellman.

A pre-season line-up shows Mike Butler, Mike LeVeck, Tom Villereal and Dale Stephenson in the 200 individual medley. Dan Downing and Harold Wellman are listed in the 50-meter free-style; Brian Stork and Kirt Robbins as divers; Charlie Rehman in the 100-meter fly; Dan Downing in the 100-meter free style; Bruce Haas, Joe Fernholz and Jeff Ferris and Charlie Rehman in the 400-meter free-style and Dan Downing and Joe Fernholz in the 200-meter free-style.

Mike Butler and Harold Wellman swim the 100-meter breast stroke and Bruce Haas, Dan Downing and Andy Huntley compete in the 400-meter free relay.

VD is increasing in Clinton County

by Leo Peters

ST JOHNS - Statistics prove it and local health officials agree... venereal disease continues to climb in Clinton County.

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department - with the entire nation - has witnessed a steady growth in gonorrhea and syphilis. The 2 are the most severe and widespread communicable diseases.

"The number of cases are raging on," reports Dr Ahmad Aurang, MD of St Johns, Mid-Michigan District Health Department director. He emphasizes venereal disease is the most common communicable disease in the United States second only to the cold.

"VENEREAL DISEASE," continues Dr Aurang, "doesn't recognize sex or age. It strikes people of all races, classes, and ages in all areas of the country." "And of course," he adds, "it is very common in those sexually active."

According to the Michigan Department of Public Health, teenagers account for about one quarter of all infectious VD cases reported in the state.

DR AHMAD AURANG

Across the US, teenagers and young adults are attacked at the rate of 1500 a day.

Seventeen cases of gonorrhea from Clinton County were reported to the Mid-Michigan District Health Department in 1971. This year's figures show 28 persons have already been treated for gonorrhea from Jan 1 to Oct 13. For the same period, only 2 cases of treated syphilis were reported.

In Gratiot and Montcalm County, also served by the district health department, figures are much the same. Gratiot listed 24 cases of gonorrhea in 1971, with 21 cases reported to Oct 13 of this year. In 1971, Montcalm County was among the top 20 counties with the highest rate of reported gonorrhea per population with 54 cases. Its '72 figures from Jan 1 to Oct 13 show 15 treated cases. Treated syphilis cases numbered 2 for Gratiot and 8 for Montcalm up to this month.

MICHIGAN HAD 22,259 treated gonorrhea cases reported compared to only 4800 of syphilis. Statistics compiled from 1961 to 1971 show syphilis peaked in 1966 and declined to 1969. It has increased steadily since that year. There has been no rise or fall for gonorrhea - it has traveled higher and higher on the graph throughout the decade.

Dr Aurang states 16 counties accounted for 94% of VD cases reported. Clinton wasn't one, but he cautions, "this definitely doesn't mean we don't have a problem."

A State of Michigan law," explains Dr Aurang, "requires a treated venereal disease case be reported to the local health authority. "And generally," he adds, "physicians are cooperative." But a representative nationwide figure, according to Dr Aurang, is 8 of 9 treated cases go unreported.

The legislature has passed a bill that a minor can seek treatment for VD without parental knowledge, says Dr Aurang. But, he adds, tacked on to the bill is that a physician can tell the parent at his discretion. This may stop the teenager from seeking treatment.

THE BEST THING to do to bring VD

under control, Dr Aurang feels, is to make the public aware of the situation. "We have to find as many cases as we can," he points out. "People who think they might have any symptoms or signs of gonorrhea or syphilis should get in touch with a physician," he says.

Here is where the doctor has an important role as Dr Aurang sees it. "He should spend at least 5 minutes to talk with these infected cases to ask for contacts," he maintains. If the doctor doesn't have time, Dr Aurang explains, this is where the health department comes in. A public health nurse can interview the patient to find out the contacts. Contacts must be treated even though they may not be ill or have any symptoms or signs. "This is what we encourage," says Dr Aurang, "but there is no legal enforcement."

If a person cannot afford treatment, the county has appropriated funds for communicable diseases. "The county can pay for indigent cases of gonorrhea and syphilis," relates Dr Aurang. The health department sends the individual to the physician of his or her choice and they in turn bill the county.

TO CONTROL VD, Dr Aurang suggests the public recognize:

1. VD is the #1 enemy among communicable diseases and it's growing fast.
 2. People should not have intercourse with an infected person.
 3. People should notice symptoms and signs of venereal disease BUT lack of symptoms is no guarantee a person is not infected.
 4. There is a cure for VD through treatment.
 5. People should see their doctor if there is any possibility they have VD. They should follow his orders.
 6. They should bring, send or introduce their contact to the doctor for examination and treatment.
- Pamphlets about VD are available to the public at the health department. The Mid-Michigan District has 7 public health nurses in St Johns, Ithaca and Stanton to provide information and give assistance. Films on VD are available through the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Red Cross: We don't turn our backs on a disaster

By LEE PETERS News Staff Writer

ST JOHNS - "To render assistance to people in any community, state or region where disaster occurs."

"That's the congressional charter of the American Red Cross, exclaims Charles J Shawnee, Clinton County disaster chairman.

Shawnee, a Red Cross volunteer since 1965, is on call in case of disaster at St Johns 224-3710 24 hours a day 7 days a week. The Clinton area is part of the Mid-Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross, which also serves Ingham and Eaton Counties.

"WE DON'T seek any limelight," explains Shawnee, a safety engineer for the Western Insurance Companies. "We do want people to know we're here to help them if they need it," he adds. He feels the people in the community have a responsibility to contact Red Cross during a disaster.

"If a family is stranded here due to an automobile accident and they had no money we would step in and assist them," cites Shawnee. The type of assistance that can be given is determined on an individual basis, he explains, and it's definitely not for the hitchhiker.

"We try to help them through the community or by contacting their family," he continues. "Our aid is mainly on an overnight or temporary basis and we immediately notify the Chapter office in Lansing because we don't have the facilities.

"If assistance is needed it should be for something beyond the control of the individual," maintains Ms Martha L Owen, deputy director for the Mid-Michigan Chapter. She pointed out fire and natural disaster as examples.

IN ADDITION to furnishing aid to disaster victims, Shawnee announces an emergency snow patrol is ready to deliver medicine and doctors to isolated areas. From 30 to 40 snowmobiles are ready to roll when an emergency call comes in.

It's the policy of the service, under the direction of Shawnee, the Beck brothers and Gary Hyde, to send at least 3 machines per call. They're available to doctors, police, the sheriff's department or families. No one is moved from one area to another without the physician's request or permission and if need be, presence.

Calls to the snow patrol should be made to Shawnee, Junior Hettler, Mark Kilpatrick or Ted Lewis, in that order.

OTHER SERVICES provided by the Red Cross, which operates from funds from Community Chest, include service to military families and veterans and safety programs consisting of first aid and swimming and boating classes. Red Cross also has a blood program and an office of volunteers serving in nursing homes, hospitals and motor corps.

Mid-Michigan Red Cross Chapter chairman is Robert E Shackleton, executive director of the MSU Alumni Association, has announced.

Kenneth Barnes, Director of Disaster Services.

Wolverine Division, will conduct a course "Standardized Immediate Assistance," (Revised) at the Mid-Michigan Chapter, 1800 East Grand River, Lansing, Dec 1 from 12:30 pm to 4 pm.

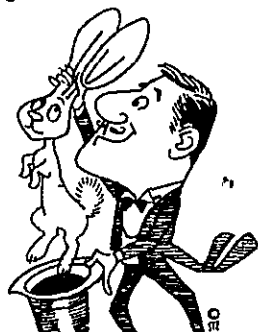

Staff and volunteer personnel are encouraged to take advantage of this experience which will further strengthen the ability of chapters to meet the needs of victims during a disaster. The training derived from this course is essential to personnel assigned to Disaster Action Teams.

It is hoped it will give meaning to the Red Cross mission and creed of the Red Cross nurse. "Wherever disaster calls, there I shall go. I shall ask not for whom, but only where I am needed. To bring comfort to those who are in trouble, to alleviate suffering and to conserve life is my mission."

The Tradition of Freedom... Our Cherished Legacy

Freedom is a tradition in our great nation. From the earliest beginnings, the courage of our Pilgrim forefathers made it possible. The will and faith of our people have kept it alive. It will remain ours with vigilance and dedication. So—the past, the present and the future are inextricably woven together. Through freedom. Today we give thanks for this precious legacy. We remember and cherish our tradition. We pray that freedom will become the inalienable right of all nations.

Defeat of Proposal C

Rep. Douglas Trevis
87th District

Since the people of the state turned down Proposal "C" at the polls last week you may think that is the end of talk about changes in our educational finance system in the state. On the contrary, it's probably just the beginning. I am not surprised that Proposal "C" was rejected, but I confess a little shock that the vote was as strong as it was in our area. Less than a year ago I sent questionnaires concerning a similar proposal to over 8,000 homes in the district. The response was more than two to one in favor, even though there were some reservations. Yet, in spite of that sampling, Shiawassee County rejected the plan by a three-to-two margin. Even in the strictly farm areas where the most significant property tax relief was offered, the plan was rejected. So, where do we go from here? Most of you are aware that there is a case pending before the Michigan Supreme Court claiming that our present method of financing school operations is unconstitutional. The case has been dormant for quite a while pending, I believe, the decision of the electorate on Proposal "C". Very likely the case will now be considered by the court in the near future. If similar cases in other states are any indication, there will be a determination that our system is contrary to the US Constitution and the Legislature will be ordered to do something about it.

THE BASIS for this decision will be the disparity between the amounts of money raised for school purposes in the various districts by the property tax. For instance, in our area, when we tax ourselves one mill for school purposes, we raise between $11 and $14 toward the education of each child in our school systems. In other areas of the state, because of the difference in local property valuation, they raise as much as $40 to $50 by levying that same mill. Even with a school aid formula which attempts to give more to the poor districts than to the rich, the actual amount of money available on a per-child basis to the various schools in the state ranges from $500 per year to over $1,200. In our 87th District we get perhaps $700 per pupil from state and local sources combined. It is obvious that "equal educational opportunity" cannot be provided in all schools in the state with this kind of disparity. When the order comes from the court to do something about this, the Legislature will have several paths to take. Among them is the levying of a state-wide property tax, paid to the state and allocated more evenly to all districts. The basic provisions of Proposal "C" could also be enacted by the Legislature, but apparently the people of the state don't want that approach. The plan we turned down was not the only answer to the problem. It was just one of several possible solutions. I supported Proposal "C" as a reasonable measure, but there are other approaches which I can also support.

THE ONE THING that bothers me most, though, is that we have not changed the basic constitutional limitation on property taxes which Proposal "C" would have done. We had the opportunity to reduce that ceiling from 50 to 26 mills and I'm afraid that, as long as the 50 mill allowance is there, somebody will find a way to spend it. So, as we finish up one legislative session and move into another, we find the state's biggest problem still where it was two years ago. Education is still the most serious issue facing the state and it is going to come in for a lot of discussion again during the next two years.

Questions about Social Security

Q. My mother, who's in a nursing home in another State, has most of her care paid by the Medicaid program. I would like to report some unsanitary conditions in the home. I heard that social security offices will accept such complaints. Is this true?

A. Yes. Local offices of the Social Security Administration now receive and report such complaints, so that they can be investigated. If you have any nursing home complaints, call, write, or visit any social security office.

Q. I had worked at a job for nearly 25 years until my doctor recently ordered me to quit because of a serious heart condition. Even though my husband is still working, can I receive monthly social security disability payments?

A. If you are found eligible for disability payments on your own work record, you will be able to receive monthly checks. The fact that your husband is working will have no effect on your monthly payments. You should call, write, or visit any social security office immediately to apply for disability payments.

Q. I'm 19 and get monthly social security payments as a student. I have been forced to drop the number of courses I'm taking to 11 credit hours. My college considers 12 hours as the minimum for a full-time student. Will this cause my monthly checks to be reduced?

A. Your monthly payments will stop. Students can get social security payments only if they are in full-time attendance.

THANKSGIVING

Why are we thankful Thanksgiving? Is it for luck or a chance? A change in our wheel of fortune? Progress in the field of romance?

How do we measure Thanksgiving? Will brief words or symbols suffice? Will the unit of value be stable? Or merely face saving device?

What purpose is served by Thanksgiving? Do we strive certain Gods to appease? Will the goal we are earnestly seeking? Be launched on some passing breeze?

For blessings we know have favored Our progress toward definite goals For the strength and the will to go forward When defeat would have taken its toll; For a dare that responds to each challenge And a measure of mirth on the way These be the sum and the substance For which we give thanks on this day!

I phoned a doctor but he wouldn't talk to me until I assured him I wasn't sick. Read that again. Sounds strange, when you think about it, doesn't it?

But you wouldn't have to think about it if I said:

"I phoned an Oldsmobile dealer but he wouldn't talk to me until I assured him I didn't want to buy an Oldsmobile."

You'd know right off that the Olds dealer was nuts, or at least sleeping with Ralph Nader. Car dealers want to sell cars, don't they?

Yeah. But doctors want to sell their medical services, don't they?

You bet. But, you see, it's not like the old days when a doctor grabbed at your appendicitis as quick as he could. He didn't keep you waiting for fear you might take your business to another doctor. Today, most doctors practice in platoons. The ideal situation is to have at least 7 doctors in each platoon or clinic. That way, there can be at least 1 doctor on duty every day.

They take each other's patients, depending on the day, with no animosity and no loss of income. All the money goes into the platoon treasury to be invested in real estate and growth stocks, with each doctor getting an equal dividend at the end of the fiscal period.

The platoon pays living expenses with monthly profits from its drugstore which patients must pass through to get out of the clinic. Any patient who doesn't get his prescription filled in the platoon drugstore risks severe amputation at his next appointment.

Being just a bit envious when you see the temperatures for the southern states.

Wondering why the car won't start just when you're in a hurry, but takes right off when the wife wants you to go to the store when you'd really rather stay at home.

At least 1 trip back from the relatives in a near blizzard or having to drive with your heart in your throat because the road is covered with ice.

Some parents saying it was "silly" to close school—there wasn't that much snow. Other parents saying "Why didn't they close school—it's too dangerous for those buses to be on the roads."

Looking at the thermometer and saying, "It sure feels colder than that."

Feeling that much colder when the weatherman tells what the temperature is with the wind chill index.

Having to drive to work on ice covered streets and roads, but you still think the morning sun on the icy trees is beautiful.

Wondering how those girls can stand walking around in the cold with those short skirts.

In cases where a platoon has less than 7 members, it is sometimes necessary that a medical degree be conferred upon an automatic phone-answering service. I know a mother who named her son Tape because he was delivered by a recorded message. When I phoned Dr Hippocratic at home, his daughter answered. In an unguarded moment, she readily admitted her father was there. (This is a capital offense for which the American Medical Society recommends forbidding the offender to use the family plane for 2 weeks.)

Anyway, the doctor sent his daughter back to the phone to tell me Dr Blank was taking his calls that day, from 10:30 to 11:30.

"I don't want to talk to Dr Blank, I want to talk to your father," I told the girl. "I am not sick."

"Are you sure?" she asked. "This is Dr Hippocratic's day off and he isn't taking calls."

"I guarantee I am not sick. I don't have the slightest temperature. I haven't missed a day's work in 15 years," I pleaded. "Now can I please talk to the doctor?"

He finally came to the phone. "This is Dr Marcus Welby," I told him. "I was flying over your town with the window open and I heard someone sneeze. Someone in this city is sick and I won't be able to sleep until I find him and cure him. I thought maybe you could help me search."

"This is a recorded message," said Dr Hippocratic. "There is no Dr Welby. There is no actor named Robert Young. . . There is no Dr Welby. . . There is no Dr Welby. . . There is no Dr Welby. . ."

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

As did the people of California, Colorado and Oregon, Michigan residents served notice in the November 7 election that they aren't ready to abandon property taxes for educational purposes in favor of unlimited income taxes.

By a margin if almost a half million votes, they rejected Proposal 'C', which was designed to shift the school tax burden from local to statewide sources and primarily from property to income.

And thus once more the problem of providing more equal financing for K-12 public education is tossed back into the lap of the Legislature.

Even more emphatically, the people again turned thumbs down Proposal 'D' by a margin of more than a million votes. Passage of Proposal 'D' would have paved the way for substitution of a graduated income tax for our present flat rate income levy.

THIS ALL LEAVES the matter of equality of educational financing pretty much as it was before Governor William G. Milliken and the Michigan Educational Association started their petition drive to get Proposals 'C' and 'D' on the ballot.

There is a possibility, of course, that either the Michigan or the U.S. Supreme Court will now legislate what the people have turned down by ruling that property taxes for educational purposes are unconstitutional.

Some other state courts already have done this, and it appears to be the "in" thing for socially-oriented courts to do these days.

The question really boils down to this: "If people of one community refuse to provide enough money for the education of their own children through taxes, should it be up to the people of other communities to provide the extra money needed?"

A GOOD EXAMPLE is Detroit. Already $80 million in the hole for school purposes, Detroit residents have just defeated for the third time a 5-mill property tax for the operation of their schools.

Detroit residents now pay only 15.51 mills ($15.41 per thousand of assessed valuation on their property) for school operating purposes. This is the lowest rate of any metropolitan area in the state. Other school districts are paying up to 38 mills to support their local schools.

Should people of these districts have to pay to educate Detroit children? It is an extremely complex problem — one that school people and legislators have been wrestling with for years. And, after last week's election, it is still with us.

No one can pinpoint for certain the reasons Proposal 'C' was rejected. But many believe part of the opposition came from the people's distrust of how high the Legislature would boost the income tax if 'C' had passed.

MANY MORE feared reliance on a statewide school tax that they believed, rightly or wrongly, might eliminate what little local control of school systems remains.

And, beneath the surface, many feared that if the state financed all education, it could order cross-district busing and taxpayers would have no way to fight back.

Regardless of the reasons, the people have sent school financing back to the starting line. Especially if a court decision mandates that the Legislature change our system of financing education, the 1973 legislative session will start out with a "toughie".

Most broken promises, were made with the best intentions.

Emergency versus ongoing care

On a recent visit to Chicago, I heard a presentation by Dr. Peter Rosen, Director of Emergency Services at the University Hospital, describing some of the changes in the caseload of emergency rooms.

Time was when "emergency room" meant a place to give first aid to the maimed and bleeding. There is still some of that; but more and more the caseload is shifting to care and treatment of people who are worried about themselves. Often, the doctor comes up with a completely negative examination.

"The emergency room," Dr. Rosen declares, "is becoming a convenient relief station for the burdens of daily living."

MONDAY BLUES
"The heaviest workload," he goes on, "occurs repeatedly on Monday, as people with Monday morning blues appear, instead of going to work."

On any day of the week, for that matter, a large number of young women prefer to sit in the waiting room, rather than face the stress of their work at home, and take care of their many burdensome responsibilities.

Since it is socially acceptable to be sick, other people in the family are more likely to be helped. A harried housewife may call a neighbor for help, "because I have to go to the hospital"; whereas, if she said she is sick and tired of taking care of her kids, and wants a day off, a sympathetic response would not be as likely.

In our state, the difficulties of the auto industry with the so-called "Monday and Friday cars" are well known.

Even in school, both absenteeism and behavior problems tend to increase at the beginning and end of the week, close to the two day weekend.

vacation. GROWTH OF EMERGENCY CARE
The Monday and Friday blues are only one factor, however, in the continuous demand for emergency services.

The great shortage of available physicians, particularly general practitioners, is another.

"Time of the day is also important," Dr. Rosen points out, "patients always think themselves sicker by moonlight than by sunlight". Still another contributory cause is the fact that often health insurance policies will pay for an emergency room visit, but not for a doctor's office call.

And, people know when they go to the emergency room that they are sure to find a physician there. They can conveniently drop in after work, or during the weekend, or when their own doctor is not available.

Finally, some people seem to prefer the relative anonymity of being treated in an institution rather than in the more intimate atmosphere of the physician's place.

"Even when we offer them an appointment with a private doctor, they seem to prefer to return to the emergency room", Dr. Rosen complains.

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

While the trend as described in the larger metropolitan region of Chicago isn't quite so strong in our own tri-county area, most physicians I have talked to here feel that it is, nevertheless, a clear fact.

Emergency room care is very useful when needed, but an ongoing relationship to a competent physician who gets to know you and your family well, both in health and disease, is a much better way of obtaining medical care.

How much for a soldier's life?

Letter to Editor,

The voter turn down of the soldiers bonus 2 weeks ago prompted this letter. This clearly shows how much a soldier's life is appreciated and the miserable amount of pay he gets and has to like it.

I did mine in the first war for a buck a day and my keep, by that I mean my room and board. But of course out of that I had an all expense paid trip to over there. When the British soldier left England for France, that meant overseas for them too.

I was on a British freighter going over in a convoy and had a sub attack near England and while some folks may not like this, I fed my dog better than what we got on the way over and, as I remember, the Govt allowed 33 cents a day for a soldier's meals at that time.

It's a good thing a young soldier is young and stupid when he first gets in the army, he does as he's told and nothing else.

The soldier is supposed to suffer, bleed and die all for the honor and glory of his country and spill his blood on somebody else's land and for somebody else's benefit.

Folks around here don't know what war really is. How would some of you like to have an occupation army come into St Johns for a while. The same thing would happen here as has happened in other countries as human nature is about alike the world round. Their rules and regulations would be near the same for everybody.

They would pick out the best and the biggest houses for their men and where you go is none of their business and the condition it might be in when you get it back is none of their business either, or how would you like to flee ahead of an advancing army with just what you had on your back?

The soldier during war time should get at least as much as highest paid defense work and nobody's shooting at him during all this time.

Instead, we wait until the war is over and ask for a bonus, and in that way the guys who died during the war get no bonus, they're dead and so the taxpayer is that much ahead. Oh, for the life of a soldier during war time.

Pants: The fit and the fashion

SLACKS, HOT PANTS AND PANT SUITS have never been a more important part of the fashion scene than they are now. They are being worn from morning to after dark - on city streets, out to dinner, entertaining at home - as well as in their more traditional roles as active sportswear.

Here are some pointers to achieve that very important, but sometimes hard to achieve fit:

Select your pattern size by first measuring waist and hips. Choose the pattern size by waist measurement unless your hips are 2 inches larger than that shown for your hip measurement and adjust waistline.

When taking hip measurements, run tape around hips nine inches below the natural waistline.

For thighs, measure the fullest part of the upper leg and its distance from the waist. The measurement around plus one inch for ease should match the pattern measurement. If an adjustment needs to be made, do this on the inside seam. Add half to the front and half to the back. Taper from the crotch to the notch.

To take a crotch measurement sit on the edge of a hard chair and measure the distance from your waistline to the chair seat, down your side.

This amount should match the crotch measurement on the pattern, with one-half inch for ease.

These alteration tips and much more will be offered at the program "Pants: The Fit and Fashion" when the Cooperative Extension Service will present the ideas sent from the Vogue Pattern Company.

Learning to accessorize and fit slacks, jeans, hot pants and knickers will be at the top of the list.

The program will be offered three times to help reach everyone interested. AND admission is free.

We hope to see you at one of the presentations.

They will be at the: Casino in Corunna on November 28 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Smith Hall in St. Johns on November 29 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and Commercial National Bank in Ithaca on November 30 from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

For more information call your Cooperative Extension Office.

I got stuck the other day up north while deer hunting, and in pulling my pickup out of the mire with a jeep, we bent the ball hitch on the bumper all out of shape. Being in a hurry, we didn't look for a more substantial place to hook the chain, but simply dropped the slip hook over the ball and started pulling away. Now, I'm in the market for a new ball. We've had a bit of wet weather and mud this fall and if you have pulled equipment out of the mud, it would be a good idea to check it over for broken, bent or damaged parts. One of these rainy days when you can't get in the fields is a good time to check and replace or repair any parts that were broken, or damaged. Then you'll be ready to go when the weather permits and not risk the chance of a breakdown because of a neglected repair.

The best time to make necessary repairs on machinery and equipment is when you put them away at the end of the season. You will have the malfunctions fresh in your mind and can make the repairs and adjustments faster and easier then next spring or fall when you may be rushed for time.

Drop in corn quality threatens livestock

Several cases of livestock poisoning due to moldy corn have been reported in the southern portions of the lower peninsula.

According to Michigan State University plant disease experts, wet weather conditions during the fall have been ideal for the growth of fungi on corn ears in the field. Some of these fungi produce poisonous compounds that, in high concentrations, can affect livestock.

Dr Elmer Rossman, MSU crop and soil scientist, says, "The best way to reduce the chances of livestock poisoning is to harvest corn as soon as possible, even if it means leaving wet areas of the field to harvest later. Harvested corn should be dried immediately to prevent further mold development. Drying, however, will not destroy poisons already present," Rossman said.

IN THE CASE of high moisture corn silage, the corn should be put into the silo immediately, and steps should be taken to insure the best possible fermentation. This will kill the mold fungi and stop the further production of poisons.

Dr L E Newman, MSU veterinarian, says, "The symptoms in livestock fed mold-damaged corn can vary widely, but may include: lack of appetite, poor feed response, poor weight gains, reduced milk production, reduced egg production, vomiting, scours, bloody feces, bloody urine, hemorrhages, swollen vulva, abortion, depression, weakness, nervous disturbances, prostration and death."

"Swine producers can test for the presence of mold poisons by feeding corn to finishing hogs for four or five days," says Dr Edward Miller, MSU swine expert. "Don't feed moldy corn to young pigs and hogs in the breeding herd, since these animals are the most sensitive to mold poisons. For these animals, use last year's corn stocks or substitute other feed grains such as wheat, oats, barley, grain sorghum or speltz," says Miller.

If there is no alternative but to feed moldy corn, Miller recommends that it can best be utilized by finishing hogs. "When possible, contaminated corn should be fed as shelled or ear corn," he says. "The hogs will do a good job of sorting the good corn from the bad when given a chance. Grinding and mixing force them to eat the moldy feed."

TO HELP PREVENT internal bleeding caused by mold poisoning, Miller recommends that swine producers add four (4) grams of vitamin K per ton of total ration. He also notes that attempts to increase feed consumption by adding molasses or similar products to the ration usually fail.

For cattle and sheep, MSU ruminant animal specialists Terry Greathouse, Hugh Henderson and Donald Hillman make the following recommendations:

Do not force animals to eat moldy or rotten corn.

Test feeding value of mold-damaged corn on small groups of animals (observe them closely for any symptoms) before mixing large quantities of feed.

If moldy corn must be fed, dilute it extensively with supplies of sound grain.

BE ESPECIALLY CAUTIOUS when feeding moldy corn to young and pregnant cattle and sheep, since they are most vulnerable to mold poisons.

If moldy corn is fed to feeder cattle, growth stimulants should be implanted in only five per cent of the animals. Observe the herd for several weeks, then implant the other animals as needed.

MSU Poultry Scientist Dr Cal Flegal notes that feed made from moldy corn should be fed to only a few birds in the chicken or turkey flock. These birds should be observed for any symptoms, like lowered feed intake or reduced egg production, before putting the entire flock on the ration.

If livestock problems or losses do occur, producers are urged to contact county extension agents and veterinarians immediately to get an accurate diagnosis of the cause of the problem, since other diseases can cause symptoms similar to those of mold poisons.

A resolution from Wextford County (County Work Programs) was read. Nobis moved, supported by Montgomery, to concur. Voted and carried.

RESOLUTION

(County Work Programs: A Utilization of Welfare Recipients to Reduce Welfare Costs)

WHEREAS, the performance records of federal, state and local agencies show continuous increases in the number of welfare recipients, in welfare costs and consequently, in taxes, and

WHEREAS, welfare hand-outs are an appallingly tragic misuse of monetary resources, and

WHEREAS, programmed forced idleness of welfare recipients is a cruel insult destructive of the individual and a shameful neglect and abuse of human resources, and

WHEREAS, maintenance and beautification projects are often left unfinished or uninitiated in every county in the nation, and

WHEREAS, County controlled, work-opportunity programs will decrease the number of recipients on welfare, will decrease welfare costs, will accomplish county work projects without increasing taxes, and will allow welfare recipients to earn self support and self respect, and

WHEREAS, Federal agencies prohibit employable recipients within the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC-U) program from performing county controlled work assignments in return for aid received.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Clinton County Board of Commissioners that we actively work for the amendment of present welfare statutes and proposed welfare bills to provide that each medically approved, employable welfare recipient on federal public assistance shall perform available work as designated by an elected county government without the need of prior approval by a state or federal agency.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we seek the support of all counties, Michigan Association of Counties, National Association of Counties, and our congressional representatives in a united endeavor to give local government the means to solve local problems and to achieve results in helping people through this amendment.

Joseph F Eger, Pastor St Johns Assembly of God Church, appeared and explained the youth work which they are carrying on in the county. He feels that a misunderstanding, presently exists, and needs clarification. They are seeking to assist in the rehabilitation of people with drug related problems and do not in any manner wish to impede the due process of the law.

Earl Haas, County Extension Director, appeared. He reported that his department is presently under the Equal Opportunity Employment Act and are complying with all provisions of such act. He then introduced William Lasher, who has been appointed to the position of Agriculture Extension Agent, formerly held by George McQueen. Mr. Lasher briefly outlined his experience and background and also expressed his pleasure in being assigned to Clinton County.

Kurt Hanes, representing the City of Lansing Bi-Centennial Park Commission, appeared. Mr. Hanes stated that the Bi-Centennial Park Commission was established by an act of Congress and allows for one Bi-Centennial Park in each state. They propose that the park be located in the City of Lansing on a 130 acre site. This would be a state and not a city park and should be available to all persons. He showed slides of the proposed development. The estimated cost would be thirty two million. A Building Authority would be formed with power to operate the park and issue revenue bonds. Hopefully, Federal grants would provide a sizable portion of the cost.

The Board recessed for lunch at 11:55.

P.M. SESSION

Upon again coming to order, a letter from Art Kelley, former Zoning Administrator, and who is presently engaged in making percolation tests as a private operator, was read. Mr. Kelley is disturbed over the Health Departments handling of his tests. Presently some are being denied, where he has reported favorable perc tests, while others are being approved that he found unfavorable.

Mr. Henry Furman further supported Mr. Kelley's statements. This, he contends, is creating a bad image for all parties concerned.

Chairman Shepard suggested a joint meeting with the County Commissioners, Mid-Michigan Health Department, Mr. Barnes and the sanitarians in hopes of establishing better communications and to establish a policy on marginal building sites.

A number of interested persons were present. Herman Openlander, Watertown Township Supervisor, supported the position of Mr. Kelley and Mr. Furman. They think that combination of factors should be considered in determining approval or disapproval of drain field permits.

Commissioner Andrews will set up a joint meeting of all interested parties.

Chamberlain made a request to refer the matter of transferring the function of perc tests to a department other than the present one. Chairman referred the matter to the Land Use Committee.

Arnold Minarik, Zoning Administrator, reported on the actions taken by and the recommendations of the Zoning Commission at their July 25, 1972 meeting.

Ray Stauder, bonding consultant, further explained the project. In the discussion which followed, the possibility of securing a Federal Grant is very remote at this time.

Roy VanSickle, Bath Supervisor, stated that he personally is not in favor of the project at this time. He does favor waiting for a Federal grant which he thinks can be secured at a later date.
Mr. Berardo, Township Attorney, stated that his firm cannot recommend the project on the present four-three vote by the township board. A larger majority by the township board is required, at least a five-two vote.

The chairman declared a recess at 2:30 p.m. Upon resuming session, Gove moved, supported by Hufnagel, to adopt the following resolution:
RESOLUTION
This Board does hereby give its initial and tentative approval to the aforesaid project and does authorize the Clinton County Board of Public Works to undertake the financing and construction of the project, subject, however, to final approval of this Board of Commissioners, upon submission to this Board of the documents evidencing agreement between the Charter Township of Bath and the Clinton County Department of Public Works, acting for and on behalf of the County of Clinton, for the acquisition, construction, financing and operation of the project.

On a roll call vote, those voting aye were Shinnery, Gove, Ditmer, Chamberlain, Underhill, Hufnagel, Montgomery, Lankford, Andrews and Shepard. Nays were Nobis. 10 ayes, 1 nay. Motion carried.
Commissioner Chamberlain presented a report from the Land Use Committee:

1. Discussion of septic tank permits held and the following recommendation was made: Taking the issuing of septic tank and drain field permits from the Mid-Michigan Health Department and put it in the Zoning Office, effective January 1, 1973 and retaining same rates for permits as charged now. (Action deferred at this time. Committee to meet with Barnes and the Sanitariums and report back.)
2. Discussed rates for building permits. Agreed that present rates are too low. Discussed rates based on valuation and number of inspections. Favor rates based on inspection. No action taken and further study is being made. (Shiawassee County is much higher than Clinton)
3. Building Code for farm buildings was tabled until a state building code is available.
4. Discussed a heated building for keeping dogs for Animal Control Officers. Some of the solutions were:
 - a. Build new animal shelter
 - b. Refuse to accept any dogs during cold weather
 - c. Accept only dogs that could be disposed of at once
 - d. Dump dogs in the Dept. of Agriculture Office if the offices meet the requirements for dogs.
 - e. Promote a Humane Society that would build an animal shelter
5. Build nests in present buildings. Committee favors proposal "f", if it would meet State approval. All members were against building a new animal shelter.
6. Eaton Highway problem expected to be solved by Road Commission and Drain Office.
8. Committee recommends that the Finance Committee continue $25,000 matching funds for township bridges and culverts.

Commissioner Nobis recommended that bonding limitations should be established for each component governmental unit on DPW projects. 25% of the County's bonding limitations should be reserved for county projects.
Montgomery moved, supported by Underhill, that commissioners expense accounts be approved as presented. Voted and carried.

Chairman Shepard stated that a special meeting may be called this month, tentative set for September 28, 1972 at 8:30 a.m. Notices will be sent in such case.
Nobis moved, supported by Hufnagel, to adjourn at this time and to meet again October 10, 1972 at 9:00 a.m. Meeting adjourned.

You can prevent choretime tragedy

Take precautions against choretime tragedy this fall, advises F. Earl Haas, Clinton County Extension Director.

To avoid falls, clear all stairways and walkways and check for overhead wires before transporting ladders or other tall equipment. Falls are a leading cause of accidental deaths in the US, second only to annual highway fatalities, he explains.

Apply adhesive-backed abrasive strips to smooth surfaces, or sprinkle sand over wet paint for slip resistance.

When using a ladder, set it one foot out for every four feet up. Since rungs on most ladders are a foot apart, calculate by counting the number of rungs from the ground to where the ladder rests.

Before climbing, make sure shoe soles are dry and ladder side rails and rungs secure.

To prevent strained back muscles, move heavy loads with a wagon, wheelbarrow or dolly, or have someone help.

Instead of stooping, bend knees and squat to lift any load. Keep feet apart with one beside and one behind the load. Tuck in your chin, get a good grip and lift slowly, keeping your back straight. Use leg muscles for most of the lifting. Carry sacks on your shoulder, taking the strain off your spine.

About 1 in 10 farm accidents involves animals, Haas reports. A normally docile animal may charge, kick or bite in some situations, the agent warns. Female animals protecting young, male animals protecting females, and sick or injured animals are unpredictable.

Hogs and most pets, also will fight to obtain or protect food.

Federal farm safety law prohibits any employee under 16 from working in the yard, pen or stall of a bull, boar or stallion kept for breeding purposes. Nor can an employee under 16 work with cows or sows with newborn young, unless the farm is owned or operated by the youngster's father or legal guardian.

When handling a horse, always let him know where you are and what you're doing, by talking to him or touching him gently without sudden movements.

Run your hand down his leg before lifting his foot, so he isn't startled. Never approach a horse directly from the rear. He won't see you and may kick if startled.

Snowmobiling:
*Try it,
 you'll like it*

Moto-Ski 'F'

Proof that a family machine doesn't have to sacrifice performance for comfort. Where it meets the ground, it's tough. Where it meets you, it's smooth.

Try it and you'll like it. Mrs Glenna Findlay of rural St Johns didn't like the idea of her husband Don buying a snowmobile. But 1 ride on a Polaris from S & H Farms on US-27 north of St Johns convinced her.

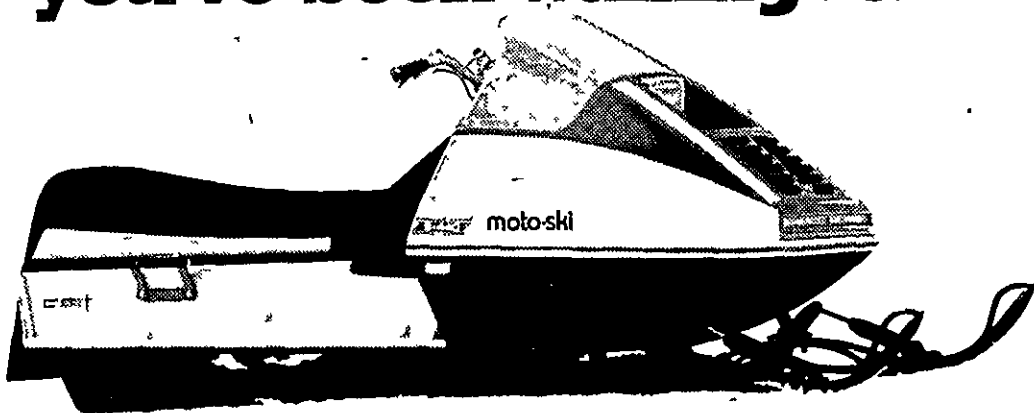

Now the Findlay family on N Lowe Rd owns 2 snowmobiles. Latest addition is a '73 Polaris TX. A third machine they owned has been taken over by a daughter and her husband from Detroit who bought it and left it at the folks. "When they want to head North," reports Mrs Findlay, "they come here and their snowmobile is all ready to go."

"Snowmobiling is such a great sport," exclaims Mrs Findlay. "We counted up and in a radius of a square mile there are 14 machines," she adds, "and now we see more of our neighbors than we ever did. When we go out the snowmobiles start to round up and we have a real good time."

If the Findlays aren't riding on their farm property, they make trips to Gaylord and Grayling. But they prefer to ride around their land and that of neighbors.

Although Jim, a sophomore at Lansing Community College, is the last Findlay child at home, snowmobiling brings the whole family together each winter.

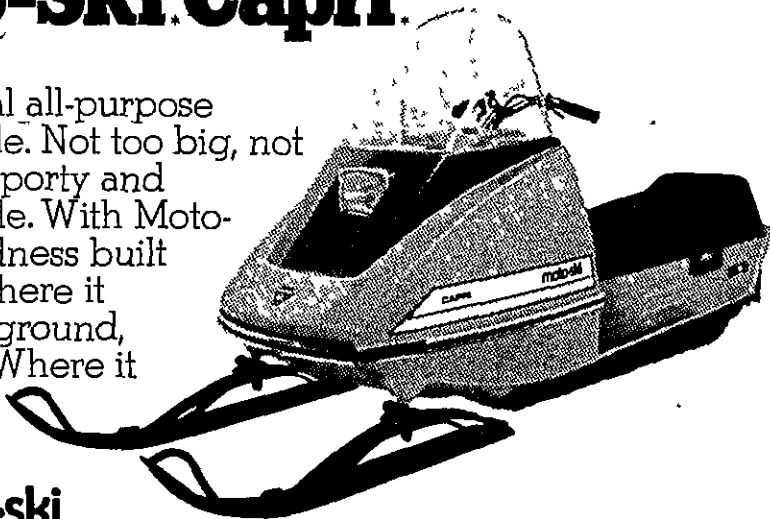

Moto-Ski 'S'. This is the sports machine you've been waiting for.

It Has All Power You Can Use, And Then Some.
 It's Lean, Low, And Built
 Close To The Snow For Better Balance.

Moto-Ski Capri.

The ideal all-purpose snowmobile. Not too big, not too small, sporty and dependable. With Moto-Ski ruggedness built right in. Where it meets the ground, it's tough. Where it meets you, it's smooth.

Snowmobiling a 'family affair'

Snowmobiling is a family affair for the Ed Cox family of rural St. Johns.

They like the winter sport so well 3 Rupp snowmobiles are parked on the lawn of their home on DeWitt Rd. Their machines, a 400 Magnum and 34 Sprint, '71s and a '73 30 HP Sport were purchased at Bob's Sport Center in St. Johns.

"We have 5 people and we all like to ride and that's why we have 3 snowmobiles," says Ed glancing at the glistening red machines. The Cox family includes mom Janet and children, Lisa, 10, Jane, 12, and Jeff, 13.

THEY'VE BEEN snowmobiling since 1968. "Last year we rode mainly up north," Cox explains, "because there wasn't much snow down here." They add that most of their friends are snowmobilers, too, and that both young and old like it.

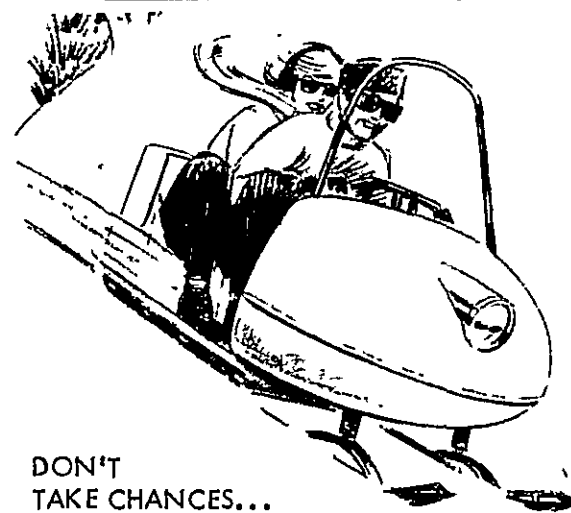

Cox is sold on his Rups because of a combination of dealer service and performance. From the woman's point of view, Mrs. Cox says "they're easy to handle and I enjoy driving them—it's not a chore." Her husband chips in, "that's because they're a lighter machine."

All 3 kids drive the machine. Jane enjoys snowmobiling because she likes the outdoors while Lisa says whenever you go over a bump it's soft in the back. Jeff feels there's not much of anything else to do in the winter and he likes the outdoors.

The Cox family says because they are rural people they're around nature and appreciate it more. "It's beautiful in the winter," they agree, "and through snowmobiling we can get to areas untouched by man." And they say they're healthier, too.

Now they're patiently waiting for the first snow when their Rups will hit the trail and won't have an idle moment until the season's over.

TNT for Tom Lewis

Hits the trails on new Ski-Doo

TOM LEWIS DEMONSTRATES SKI-DOO EASY START

One of the new Ski-Doo TNTs zipping around the St Helen area, near Houghton Lake, is driven by a St Johns man -- Tom Lewis of 1404 S Oakland.

Lewis purchased his new TNT from Beck & Hyde, 7 miles north of St Johns.

He started snowmobiling about 3 years ago, when he bought his 1st machine and decided to make his second 1 a Ski-Doo because "It's a dependable machine and I'm pleased with the service."

Snowmobiling is a husband and wife activity for the Lewis family. Tom and his wife, Nancy, got the snowmobile bug "after everybody in the family had snowmobiles."

RIGHT NOW the 2 Lewis children are a little young for the winter recreation activity. Son, Tom, is 1-year-old, and daughter, Amy, is 5 and rides a "little bit" now.

Tom and his wife, on those weekends the family doesn't go north, take advantage of the areas around Clinton County.

Satisfied with the performance of his Ski-Doo TNT, Tom commented, "I've been well satisfied and if I get another, machine, it'll probably be another Ski-Doo. I've always had good service and I can always get parts."

Robert Schafer goes "green"

Likes John Deere dependability, service

John Deere green is the snowmobile color at the Robert Schafer home this season.

Schafer started snowmobiling about 5 years ago and, in 1969, bought his 1st machine.

This year he decided to go to John Deere because, "I'm familiar with John Deere products and I know I can always get service."

He bought his new machine at Beck & Hyde Farmarina north of St Johns.

Bob and his wife, Sue, and son, Chris, 15, reside in Westphalia, an area where he does most of his snowmobiling.

SUE LIKES snowmobiling, but doesn't prefer to just go along for the ride. She says she'd rather be driving than riding.

Bob still snowmobiles with a lot of the same friends who got him interested in the winter-time sport 5 years ago.

He says he takes off on his machine alone many times and, before long, joins a group of friends enjoying the most popular outdoor winter activity in Michigan.

He's sold on his Yamaha

Light and easy to drive

Don Howse of Lansing is sold on his '72 Yamaha GP433 from Jack Piner's Sport and Cycle, US-27.

It maneuvers very nicely and it's light and easy to drive, says Howse. "It's got quick response all the way through, top to bottom," he exclaims.

A Japanese-made machine, Howse admits he's enjoyed his red and white snowmobile. Everybody that gets a chance to ride it does, he adds.

A GOOD aspect of the snowmobile is you don't have to mix the oil with the gas, explains Howse. There's a separate oil tank.

Howse plans to start snowmobiling around Dec 1. He'll take it up to Grayling where he owns some land.

Snow fooling, it'll be a great winter for Don Howse.

GETTING READY FOR FUN-FILLED WEEKEND

First machine is Chaparral

ST JOHNS -- Bernard Barrett now has a snowmobile to call his very own.

The 18-year-old St Johns youth bought a Chaparral Firebird from Dunkel's in St Johns. He said he purchased the '73 machine because he likes the looks of it.

"I needed something to do in the winter," he admits. Now the bright red snowmobile is parked at the Barrett home at 504 Euclid in St Johns.

This is the first year Dunkel's have sold Chaparrals. Barrett says they're good running machines and quiet, too. He recommends Dunkels because they're known for their good service.

Whenever there's snow the Charles DeYoung family doesn't miss a weekend of snowmobiling.

And now their youngsters, Lonnie, 11 and Chuck, 9 can boast of their own snowmobile. It's a '73 Moto-Ski Cadet from Northland Sales and Service on US-27 in East DeWitt.

Their mom, Patricia likes the new orange machine because it's small and easy for the kids to handle. DeYoung says it looks like a well-built machine and has been clocked at speeds up to 50 mph.

THIS IS the fourth year the DeYoungs of 124 E Jefferson, DeWitt have snowmobiled. Last summer DeYoung broke his back motorcycling and can't ride double this winter. And that's how the kids ended up with the early Christmas present.

"It's about the only thing to do in the winter," the DeYoungs feel, "and it's a good healthy sport getting you out in cold weather." Mrs DeYoung admits she had never ridden a snowmobile until they bought it. She said she would never like it - now she loves it.

The DeYoungs and others are planning a snowmobile trip across the straits over the Christmas holidays. Needless to say, the kids are thrilled.

Floate kids want another John Deere snowmobile

"When can we get another snowmobile?"

That's what 14-year-old Sheila Floate wants to know.

Her dad, Larry bought a John Deere 400 snowmobile last winter and the whole family fell in love with it. And that means mom and dad, 6 kids and the dog.

Floate selected his '72 machine at Carlton's Recreational Vehicles on US-27. With 28 hp it gets up to speeds above 60 mph, and that's going pretty fast.

It's just a short trip from the Floate home at 216 Mill St in Maple Rapids to the river flats. "We just go to the end of the block and cross over and there we are," the kids exclaim. They snowmobile 19 miles in the area all the way east to US-27.

EVERYONE likes to drive and ride the bright green and yellow snowmobile. Says Floate, "In the winter after the kids get home from school our machine vanishes and doesn't get a chance to cool off."

Then it's time for the grownups to take off. "It's good recreation and I get out of the house where before I used to sit in my easy chair from the time I got home from work. It's a great sport," Floate feels, and so does his wife Birdie. They have matching John Deere snowmobile suits.

And here's why the kids like to snowmobile-

Because you have to be 12 years old and have a safety certificate to operate the snowmobile, Robin, 11, isn't old enough. But when dad's around to help on their own property she admits, "it's fun to drive."

Brian, 12, says he likes to get away from the house, while Butch, 13, agrees with Robin that it's fun to drive.

Sheila thinks it's fun and good healthy entertainment, and Albert, 16, does, too. Gary, 18, enjoys it for recreation during the winter.

Mrs Floate likes to go out and drive and see places you couldn't ordinarily get to. And best of all, she knows it's helped her family keep healthy.

FAMILY AND DAD GIVE THE FLOATE JOHN DEERE A WORKOUT

HE'S A MERCURY MAN--ALL THE WAY

Stan's a Mercury Man

Stanley Geller's a Mercury man and has been since he started snowmobiling in 1969.

The Gellers of 3541 W Price Rd, rural St Johns is 1 of the many Clinton County families that look at snowmobiling as a "family affair."

Geller and his wife, Betty, have 7 children, 4 grown with families and 3 at home.

When they take off for the north country, it's Dad and Mom, the children and grandkids and about 10 snowmobiles.

THE GELLERS' favorite spot for snow machines is at Leota, northwest of Harrison. During the snowmobile season, they average a trip to Leota about every other weekend.

But, evenings and other weekends find the family taking advantage of the open spaces around their rural home.

A 2-snowmobile family, Geller sticks strictly to Mercury machines, purchased at Bee's Sports Division on S US-27 in St Johns.

His 1st machine was a Mercury in 1969 and he bought the 2nd last season.

WHY MERCS? "I liked the looks of the machine," Geller said, "and the way it was built."

"I thought I would get service with Mercury and I have."

The Gellers hit the trails on a Mercury 220 and Mercury 250.

Geller started in snowmobiling in 1969 when a neighbor introduced him to the winter-time activity.

"THEY TOOK ME for a ride on 1," Geller said and "pretty soon, I bought 1' of my own."

However, the snowmobile industry can't take credit for getting Geller out in the snow.

"I've always liked to play in the snow and the snowmobile is just 1 more way to do it."
