

Southern county called crossroads of drug traffic

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

Outside St. Johns, the most highly populated area in Clinton County is centered just beyond the Lansing city limits. And according to southern county police agencies it appears that this area is the crossroads of the drug traffic in the Ingham-Clinton area.

These police departments, especially the DeWitt Township police and the DeWitt city police, have not only dealt with the soft drugs of marijuana and LSD, but have found the full-time hardcore pushers of heroin and other "killer" drugs.

"We have a real problem," admits Bruce Angell, DeWitt Township police chief. "We have found at least three known pushers who live in this area."

He said that the pushers dealt in hard-line drugs and that they have been under surveillance by township and county police departments for some time.

"The real problem is we have to have an iron-clad case before going to the county prosecutor," Angell said.

He noted that in most cases of mere possession, the judge would hesitate to send the accused party to jail for a long term for the relatively minor offense. He added that it would be extremely difficult to arrest the local pushers on anything stronger than possession.

"I've heard comments that police officers are turning their backs on the problem of law enforcement in drug traffic," Angell said. "This is not sound judgment, in my opinion."

"I'm sure that anyone caught with drugs by a police officer is not being ignored," he said.

Angell pointed out that the most prevalent types of drugs in the southern portion of Clinton County are marijuana, LSD and some mescaline. He added that the pushers, though certainly not ignoring the local market in the county, have turned to the larger and more financially rewarding market of Lansing.

THE SCHOOL children have been the main targets for years and the problem has been increasing for about three years, both in Lansing and DeWitt, Angell said.

The main part of DeWitt Township falls within the Lansing school district, with parts of the northern township in the DeWitt school district.

He said that about three years ago he had warned school officials of both districts about the increased flow of drug traffic in the township area but was "not heard."

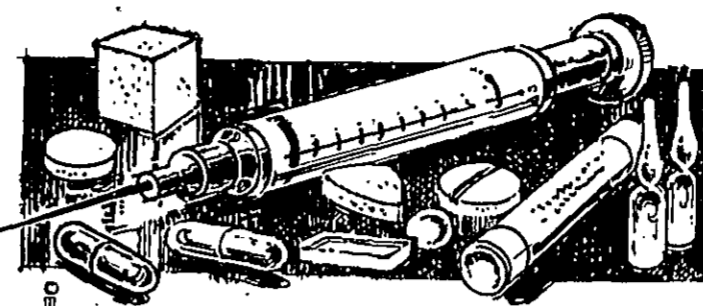

"It has been only in the past year that school administrators have owned up to the fact and realized that there was a problem here," the police chief said.

"This problem has grown and it's hitting all strata of society," he said.

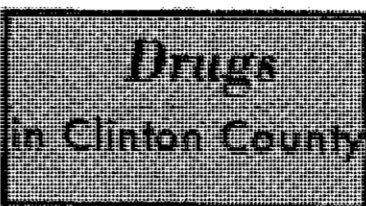

He noted that the traffic, which is mostly marijuana at present, has been dealt with through a surveillance system, but emphasized the need for a more skilled police force and a need for increased manpower to cope with the problem.

He cited the recently formed Metro Squad in Lansing, a special narcotics investigation team under the direction of the Lansing Police Department.

Angell said the Metro Squad will be drastically increased in the future to deal with the drug traffic on a large scale. Cur-

FOURTH IN A SERIES

He said that there were only about six full-time qualified individuals in the state currently working on such a program.

"This township should have more police and have a member on the Metro Squad," Angell said.

"We must have adequate enforcement and bring the educational process into light," he said. "But again I emphasize that the police are not ignoring the problem."

Angell said that he estimates about 65 to 70 per cent of the older school-age children in the area have tried drugs of one form or another, most often marijuana. He said that at least 20 per cent are regular users of soft drugs and that as many as five to ten per cent use harder drugs including heroin.

Worried parents have been calling the township police office weekly, Angell said who are about ready to give up. Some young people call with brothers and sisters on drugs and they want to know what to do about the situation.

"There is a need for an information center in the county to talk to people and help them with this problem," Angell added.

Charles Anderson, DeWitt city police chief, said that he would not like to see any of the drugs legalized.

He stressed that the problem would increase rapidly under a legal umbrella.

"Pot is the thing here," he said. "Heavy drugs are on the decline, but pot is staying the same if not increasing."

Anderson said that about 50 per cent of the area teens had tried drugs and that about 20 per cent are frequent users.

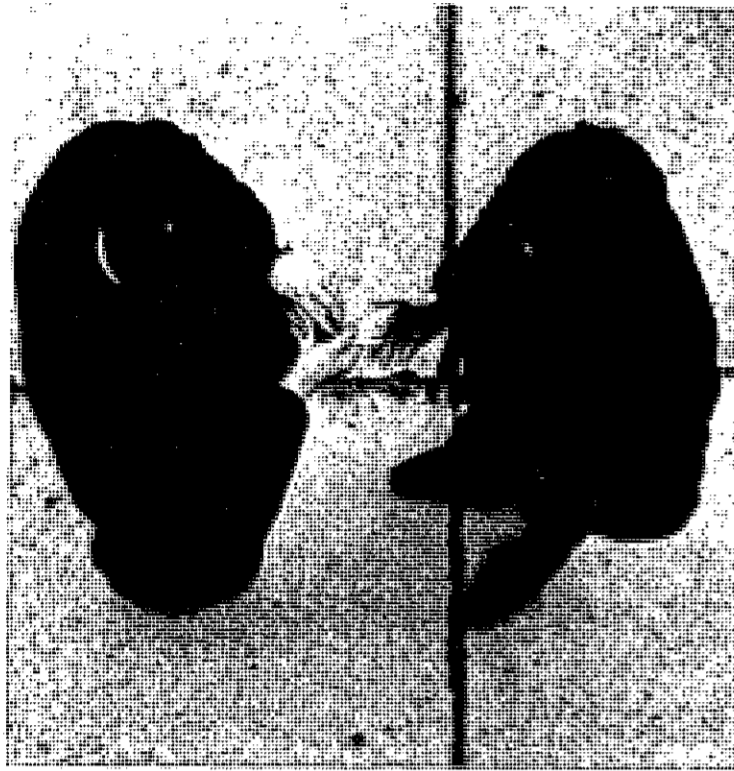

He cited the restrictions placed on the police department by the courts and legislators as harassment to make investigations impossible.

"I'd like to see the search and seizure laws relaxed on narcotics," Anderson said. "The laws and courts should enforce harsh penalties, although they are not too lenient in our county."

He said that the police agencies should work toward the apprehension of the users, since there are "so many pushers and to try to get them is almost impossible."

Anderson has been conducting a part-time educational program and demonstration in the area to inform the adults of the drug situation. He noted that he gets better responses from area church groups, having talked to about 12 groups thus far with five more scheduled in the near future.

THE SALE-NO BIG DEAL

They look like cigarettes, but then again, they could be marijuana joints. If noticed closely, one end is twisted and flat. Is marijuana this easy to obtain in the Clinton County area?

SANTA CLAUS

Christmas mail dates start Dec. 1

Officer-in-Charge Keith A. Mishler of the St. Johns Post Office Wednesday urged residents of St. Johns "to try to remember" that recommended mailing dates for civilian domestic Christmas mails start Dec. 1.

The national Christmas "mail early" theme this year, he explained, is based on the familiar musical tune "Try to Remember."

"The idea, is to have our customers remember recommended mailing dates. This will insure fast and efficient delivery of parcels and cards and prevent disappointments for friends and family members. Of course, it will also be a big help to your post office," he said.

Key suggested latest dates by which Christmas mail should be deposited are as follows, but Mishler urged customers to mail earlier if possible:

Distant States - Parcels - this week. Greeting Cards - Dec. 10.

Local and Nearby Areas - Parcels - Dec. 11. Greeting Cards - Dec. 15.

Santa Claus is coming in mystery appearance

The arrival of Santa Claus, lunch with the jolly old gentleman and free movies are all activities which will kick off the Christmas season in St. Johns this weekend, but according to co-chairmen Rick Anderson and Bernard Feldpausch Santa's arrival will take on a new twist.

His appearance, scheduled for someplace in downtown St. Johns around 7:30 p. m. Friday, will be spiced with a touch of holiday mystery. Unlike in the past, when Santa arrived by land vehicle, this year's visit will be highlighted by a rooftop search and even the searchers will not know where he will be.

His opening might be made from a rooftop, a second story window or a stairway, but where ever it is he'll be pursued by the St. Johns volunteer Fire Department and members of the Redwing Marching Band. Following his appearance a parade along Clinton Ave. will be held.

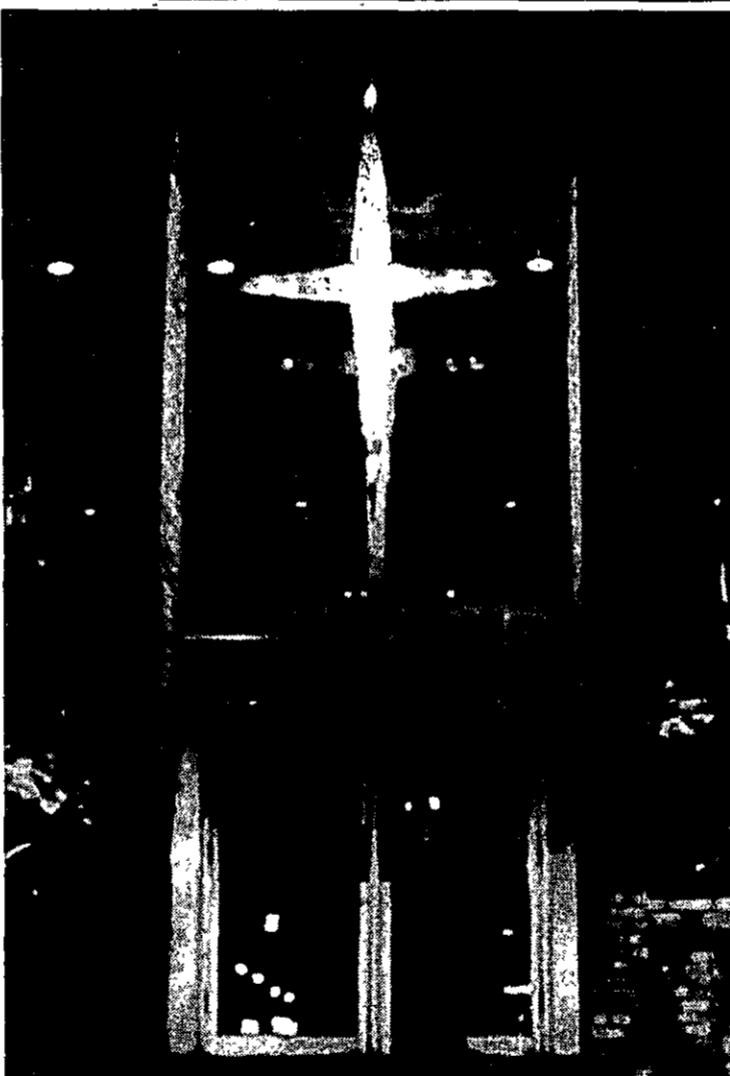

In other events scheduled for this weekend in St. Johns, the Jayettes will conduct their traditional lunch with Santa program, but here too, something new has been added.

A story hour for youngsters will be held before each of the lunch with Santa sessions planned for Saturday Dec. 5 and 12. On those days the story hour will begin at 10 a. m. and extend to 11 a. m. with luncheon to follow until 12:30. Santa will not be on hand during the story hours, but will appear for both luncheons.

As in previous years St. Johns Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring free movies for three Saturdays preceding Christmas. Showings will be held at 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. on Dec. 5, 12 and 19. This week's offering will be a Tarzan film and admission is free if accompanied by tickets available at all Chamber of Commerce member stores.

This opening weekend of Christmas activities will be followed by a second series of events the following weekend. Official tree lighting ceremonies accompanied by choirs from churches in the community is planned for Friday Dec. 11. The ceremonies will officially open the season in St. Johns.

Participation by various groups in the annual Christmas schedule is coordinated by the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce.

REFLECTIONS OF PEACE

It's not a new idea, but this "peace symbol" in the Clinton County courthouse window seems to cast a tranquil spell over a sleeping city. Christmas preparations appeared throughout St. Johns last week. More Christmas photos appear on page 9A. (News photo by Ed Cheeny).

County releases tax figures, school share dominates revenue

The Clinton County Allocation office released a special report this week showing the breakdown of all tax revenues and revealed that more than 80 per cent of all taxation in Clinton County goes to the school systems.

According to the report, an average of 81 per cent of the revenue collected is in school taxes with 15.4 per cent in county taxes and 3.6 per cent for township taxation.

The City of DeWitt taxpayers turn in the highest percentage of revenue to schools with 86.7 per cent. The lowest tax base is Bath Township with 74.7 per cent going to schools.

Bath Township citizens have the highest percentage of any governmental unit going to the Township government with 12.8 per cent. Victor Township is the lowest in this category with 2.5 per cent.

Lebanon Township pays the most percentage wise to the county government with 17.7 per cent of the tax.

DeWitt has the lowest percentage of its taxes going to the county with 13.3 per cent.

THIS IS WHERE IT HAPPENED

This switchboard at the superintendent's office of the St. Johns School District was the scene of a bomb scare phone call recently. The call was taken by co-op student Patty Henning at 8:30 a.m. A thorough search was made of the high school but no bomb was found. Classes were resumed.

Chest drive goal nets 92 per cent

Clinton County's United Community Chest Drive is over and the final total reached is $23,072 or a little over 92 per cent of the $25,000 proposed goal.

The report was made Monday by County Chairman Wayne F. Hicks, vice president of the Central National Bank of St. Johns. Hicks made the comment that despite the bad circumstances of the period (referring to the UAW strike against GM), everybody did a fine job as far as soliciting was concerned.

Two of the seven county divisions exceeded their set goals. They were Special Gifts, headed by Roland Sleight, which topped at 116 per cent of the hoped-for goal, and the Professional division under the leadership of Mayor Robert Wood, that reached 110 per cent.

Other divisions and their chairmen were: Commercial, Barry Dean; Industrial, William Patton; Schools and Gov't., Steve Bakita; Area, John Aylsworth, and Women's, Mrs. Helen Kohls. Of everyone involved, Hicks said,

"I want to thank each enrolled campaign volunteer for their hard work and dedication during the very trying campaign. Any individual person that was mistakenly missed during the collection operation can still turn in their contributions to the Central National Bank.

Bomb scare tactics fail

"Bomb scares seem to be a 'sign of the times' and St. Johns is no exception.

Recently, a phone call was taken at the main switchboard of the St. Johns School District. The caller stated "There's a bomb in the school. Don't bother looking for it," according to St. Johns superintendent Earl R. Lancaster.

The girl that took the call, a co-op student by the name of Patty Henning, became very nervous upon taking the call, according to Lancaster.

The call was taken to mean the high school and a thorough but brief search of the high school was made by local firemen, school officials, instructors and students, according to High School Principal C. Gordon Vandemark.

Classes resumed after the search with about 120 students absent. These students, according to Vandemark, received unexcused absences because they left the parking lot of the school without permission.

Asked what the usual absent figures are from day to day, Vandemark said that there is usually about 94 per cent of the student body in attendance each day.

As it turned out, the two juveniles who made the threatening call were actually trying to scare the Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School into no classes, according to Lancaster.

Two youths, one age 12 and the other, 14, were arrested respectively on Saturday night and Sunday morning following the scare. Both were referred to probate court.

St. Johns Policeman Lyle French told the News that lines are set up to trace calls of this nature. This made for the quick apprehension of the two juveniles.

TOTAL JUST SHORT OF GOAL

Wayne F. Hicks, general chairman of the Clinton County United Community Chest Drive, said Monday that a total of $23,072 or 92 1/2 per cent of the $25,000 goal had been collected for the 1970 campaign. Percentage-wise, Clinton County contributions eclipsed Ingham County which had a total of 90.6 per cent.

Jay Kussmaul, internal relations for Fisher Body.

Those re-elected were Leon P. Clark, Clark Construction Company; Fred E. Colwell, Kansas City Life Insurance Company; Robert S. D'Amello, administration department of state government; Dr. John A. Fuzak, MSU assistant dean; Mrs. Richard Johnston, J.W. Knapp Company personnel department; Alvin L. Pickett, Michigan State Employees Association; Roger J. Schafer, Harris, Reames & Ambrose; and Judson M. Werbelow, Dickenson, Wright, McKean & Cudlip.

The election-meeting of the chapter members featured talks from staff members Kathleen Behrens and Mrs. Francis Friedlein who assisted in relief efforts following the devastating Hurricane Celia in southern Texas.

Mrs. Friedlein works with the Red Cross volunteers in area hospitals including Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns.

Saturday is threshing day at Bee's Chevrolet

Threshing oats in December? It's going to be done this Saturday on a farm adjacent to the Bee's Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Inc.

The event begins at 10:30 a.m. with the firing of a Civil War cannon three times by Clyde Anderson.

Wayne Kemler of Alma will fire up a 16-horse Advance steam engine and begin the threshing.

The most interesting part will be seeing many business and professional men from St. Johns doing the bundling of the oats.

The celebrities will include Father William Harker of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Jim Leon of Saylor-Beall, Walter Thelen of Westphalia, Bob Bal-langer of St. Johns, Earl R. Lancaster, superintendent of the St. Johns public schools, and Ron Huard, publisher of the Clinton County News.

Tending the grain will be Albert Hufnagel of St. Johns, Roy Feldpausch of Fowler and Lloyd Love and Bob Nuremburg of St. Johns.

Bill Warnke and Fohn Flek of St. Johns will tend the blower.

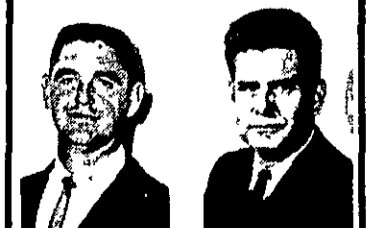

Some of the other events during the day at Bee's will include a tug a war at 1 p.m. between the St. Johns football squad and an old John Deere tractor.

Antique stationary gasoline engines will be on display and, if it turns out to be a nice day, a garage sale to raise money for the little league lights will be held on the spot.

This is surely a family event and cameras will be welcomed. Concessions will also be available throughout the day.

He received a comprehensive introduction to the ordnance mission of developing, supplying and maintaining the Army's combat vehicles, as well as extensive training in leadership and other phases of troop command duty. Lt. Wohlfert entered the Army in August 1968. He received his commission through the reserve officers' training corps program at Michigan State University, where he received a B.S. degree in 1968. His wife, Katherine, lived in Havre De Grace, Md., during this training.

'C' hearing halted, schools await verdict

An eagerly awaited court decision on the total effects of the new Proposal C amendment to the Michigan constitution has been postponed until Monday by Traverse City Circuit Court Judge James Fitzpatrick. The hearing in question concerns the Traverse City school board's suit against the state Board of Education, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelly and the state Sup't. of Public Instruction John Porter.

The Traverse City board had requested that they be permitted to continue a shared-time program for parochial school children despite the new amendment. Fitzpatrick indicated that the state's Supreme Court may issue a ruling on the amendment through another case presented earlier, in which case the Traverse City hearing would not be resumed.

Clinton County non-public schools all have programs similar to the normal shared-time concept and would create administrative and organizational problems should the amendment rule out shared-time.

IN TROUBLE?

St. Joseph's Catholic School in St. Johns may be in jeopardy if a pending court decision finds that the shared-time programs in Michigan must end under the recently passed Proposal C amendment to the state constitution. Catholic and other private schools in the county may face severe cutbacks or even close their doors for lack of funds and state programs.

Fowler churns up Freesoil, 68-57

Fowler High School cagers got off on the right foot Saturday night by coming up with their first victory of the 1970-71 basketball season.

FR Frosh record

Michigan State frosh footballers won two of three games played in 1970, splitting in two contests with Michigan and defeating Notre Dame in the other.

CROWD Crowds

Michigan State's football team appeared before 626,891 fans in ten games in 1970, an average of 62,689 per contest. Of that total, 387,051 were at six home games, an average of 64,508,

The Eagles led all the way in beating Freesoil High School 68-57.

Leading scorer for Fowler was senior guard Neil Thelen who netted 25 points on 11 field goals and three free throws. Balanced scoring figured with the other five Eagles who played most of the game.

Jerry Pohl dropped in 12 points while Ed Pung and John Matthews got eight apiece. Cliff Thelen and Stan Feldpausch each had six.

Freesoil scoring was led by Tom Papes with 17 points.

John Matthews, Ed Pung and Stan Feldpausch all fouled out of the game for Fowler. All together, the team compiled 30 fouls to only 15 for Freesoil.

As a team, Fowler hit on about 35 per cent of their field goals getting 31 of 89 from the floor. They were a 50 per cent team on free throws getting 6 of 13.

Freesoil connected on only 15 of 66 field goals for a mere 23 per cent.

Rebounding honors went to Jerry Pohl with 18. John Matthews followed closely with a total of 15 grabs.

Eagle Head Coach Charles Trieweller said, "Considering the defensive brand of ball we play, I was very satisfied with this, our first outing. We did have too many fouls, even though we did play a man-to-man defense all evening."

The Eagles were to continue their season with a game Tuesday Dec. 1 against Fulton. Porterville is next on Dec. 11.

Scoring by quarters:
Fowler 13 25 12 18 -68
Freesoil 10 15 17 15-57

Lose 58-56

P-W falls

Pewamo-Westphalia's 15-point fourth quarter rally fell one bucket short in the county's first basketball game of the season Friday night as Portland stopped the Pirates 58-56.

Pirate guard John Bengal had an outstanding evening with a 29-point effort but it wasn't quite enough to trip the Red Raiders on the Portland home court.

The Pirates led for most of the game with a 261-21 halftime margin and 41-40 after three periods, but fell behind to stay in the fourth frame.

Steve Wirth hit 11 points for the Pirates and Ron Kramer ended the night with 10 points.

Dennis Duffy led the Portland attack with 19 points, followed by Dennis Kavanaugh with 11 and Chuck Durrant with 13.

The Pirates, 0-1 on the season, host Saranac Tuesday night.

Masarik-Thurston rites read at St. Joseph's

Rev. William Hanker performed the double ring wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Sandra Lee Masarik and Keith Lee Thurston, Saturday, Nov. 28. Yellow and white gladioli decorated the altar of St. Joseph's Catholic Church for the 2 p.m. service.

The attendants wore celerygreen empire-style gowns of peau-de-seoie featuring Juliet sleeves, a high crown collar and a mock bib, accented by green, yellow and orange trim. A celery green bow secured their double veils and they carried bouquets identical to the bride's.

Terry Thurston of St. Johns, brother of the groom, was best man and assisting as groomsmen were Michael Bishop of St. Johns Douglas Thurston of St. Johns cousin of the groom, and David Buck of Mt. Clemens cousin of the groom. Ushers were Ronald Fedewa of Lansing, Felix Medina of St. Johns and Gary Locher of Ypsilanti.

The couple greeted 300 guests at the reception which was held at 6 p.m. at St. Joseph's Social Hall in St. Johns.

The new Mrs. Thurston chose an orange double knit dress with black accessories for travel on their wedding trip to Canada.

The groom is a 1968 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School and attended Lansing Community College.

Redwing cagers get spotlight

By TOM McELENEY
News Staff Writer

Basketball is gradually getting the spotlight across the land and St. Johns is no exception.

The Redwings of St. Johns High School played their first game of the 1970-71 season last night against the Ovid-Elsie Marauders. There was one statement on the locker room black board last week and it read, "We must have that game against O. E."

Redwing Head Coach is Doug Japinga. Mike Young is the Junior Varsity mentor and Al Werbish takes care of the Freshman squad.

Last year's varsity squad finished with a 20-2 overall record and a share of the West Central Conference Championship with the Waverly Warriors. The Redwing conference record was 13-1, the one loss coming at the hands of Waverly when the two teams met on the Waverly home court. St. Johns won the same tilt when the two teams met here.

Seven seniors and seven juniors make up the varsity this year with only one starter returning from last year, forward Dean Eisler.

Eisler is a senior who stands 6'5" and averaged 21 points a game last year. "Eisler has to provide the leadership for a team effort," said Japinga.

Other seniors are headed by 6'3" center Steve Mead. "Mead is strong," said Japinga. "We are relying on him for strength under the boards and for an offensive punch, too."

Randy Atkinson is a 6'0" forward who will be out of action for the first two weeks of the season because of some torn ligaments in his knee. According to Japinga, Atkinson will surely be considered a possible starter when he returns to the line up.

Both Eisler and Mead will be starters.

Another starting forward will be Brian Carpenter, a 6'0" senior.

The quarterback for the team, according to Japinga, will have to be 5'11" Mike Brown, a guard, Japinga also remarked that Brown is a good passer and a good shooter with a nice jump shot.

Another good passer and all-around hustler is 6'0" guard Fred Root, according to Japinga. Root seems to have the quickness to be termed a "goer" by Japinga.

These first six seniors are all returning lettermen from last year's champions.

The seventh and final senior is Greg Lounds, a 5'11" forward who has never played high school basketball before in his life. "He wanted to play and worked all year long," said Japinga. "He played himself onto the ball club. He's intelligent and learns quickly."

The juniors on the varsity start with 6'0" Mike Grost, a forward who started on the junior varsity last year. "Grost has worked hard and is possibly my sixth man with Atkinson out," said Japinga. He's also listed as a fair shooter.

Dennis LaVeck, a 6'1" junior plays both forward and guard and was last year's leading JV scorer until he broke his toe half way through the season.

The only junior center is Rick Hudson, 6'2", who is out of action with the flu at present.

Ken Schueller, a 5'10" guard, is termed as a good ball handler by Coach Japinga. He also seems to be an exceptional hustler.

DOUG JAPINGA

The other three juniors are: Jeff Springer, a 5'11" strong-rebounding forward; Jim Conley, a 5'10" guard, and Dan Yurek, a 6'0" guard with a good outside shot.

"It will be difficult to duplicate the efforts of last year's club but that is the goal we're working towards. With dedication, we could be a reputable ball club," said Japinga.

Asked about the upcoming season, Japinga said:

"There is a better overall balance in the league this year than there was last year. Last year, Waverly and ourselves tied for first place with exact 13-1 records. The third-place team had a record of something like 9-6, which proves how unbalanced the league was."

"Hastings is very tough this year and will be one of the biggest teams in the league. They have a 6'7" center by the name of Paul Pearson."

"The other tough contenders in the conference will be Ionia, Waverly and Grand Ledge."

"Ionia has all-around good height and the returning junior varsity champions from last year."

"Waverly will again be strong. They have 6'6" Dave Dunham, a second team all-conference pick last year, plus his 6'3" brother, Dick."

"Grand Ledge will be boasting a strong team with three returning lettermen and starters," Japinga said that the other three league teams have to be considered, also. Alma's seniors were the nucleus of the 1969 JV champs and could be a surprise.

Japinga also said that Charlotte will be bigger and that Lakewood would be improved over last year.

Bath lands three spots in Ingham

The Bath Bees placed three members of the 1970 football squad on the Ingham County All-League team, it was announced Thursday.

The three Bath players picked for the honors were quarterback Paul Stoll and end Brad Schalbly on offense and Don Adams, a defensive lineman.

Fowlerville topped the other league teams by placing eight players on the squad.

Besides Schalbly, the other pick for the top end in the league went to Joe Sober of Fowlerville.

Randy Newberry of Leslie was chosen for center while the interior linemen were Carl Menjamin of Perry, Mike Parker of Leslie, Gary Greathouse of Williamston and Tom Ruttman of Fowlerville.

The dream team backs were Tim Connell of Leslie, Rick Szedjak of Perry, Rick Grill of Fowlerville, Gary Frisell of Dansville and Bath's Stoll.

Other defensive linemen besides Adams were several repeaters from the offensive squad. Among them were Ruttman and Greathouse while Sober won defensive back honors.

Other linemen were Sam Wilsenski of Leslie, Dan Howlett of Stockbridge, Roger Reason of Fowlerville and Mark Hillia of Williamston.

Linebackers were Lynn Darling of Leslie, Brain Risdon of Fowlerville and Dave Beckman of Pinckney. Ed Haller of Fowlerville was picked at one of the defensive back posts.

Awards banquet held at O-E

By TOM McELENEY
News Staff Writer

Included sophomores Rob Irons and Rick Grusbeck, and seniors Keith Nelson, Tom Miller and Byron Prang.

Good food, humor and excitement highlighted the 1970 Ovid-Elsie High School Football Banquet held on Nov. 24.

Everyone of the hundreds of people present at the banquet were treated to a potluck dinner with the main course of ham being furnished by the high school.

After the dinner, the presentations began. Members of the Ovid-Elsie school administration took the first bows. They were followed by the members of the press, the various coaches wives present and Dr. A. N. Saunders, the team physician and tape expert.

John Oberlin, cross-country coach, was in the spotlight next as he introduced his squad members. Cross-country lettermen

Fursteneau then explained away his team's dismal season of no wins and one tie by saying, "Coach Mark O'Donnell told us to teach the kids how to block and tackle and that was what we hoped we did."

Junior Varsity Head Coach Joe Thering was next on the docket. Thering's job was quite a bit easier than Fursteneau's. Thering's charges went through the entire 1970 season undefeated and captured the conference championship.

"The first game of the season was questionable as to what the outcome would be," said Thering. "But, somehow we walked away with a 50-0 win."

Christmas seal letters arriving late in state

Christmas Seal letters are arriving later than usual in many Michigan homes this year because of computer problems that have been encountered in preparation of the mailing, according to John Pettibone, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

"The Christmas Seal organization's problems arose," Pettibone said, "in the conversion of Christmas Seal lists from manual and mechanical systems that have been in effect for many years to electronic processing."

"We were searching for a more economical means of handling mailing lists, but one of the computer programs for conversion of lists from our manual system to the electronic system was imperfect and has delayed our mailing to some communities by as much as two weeks," he said.

Pettibone urged Michigan residents to answer their Christmas Seal appeal letters as soon as possible and person who had not received Seals by the first week in December were asked to contact the association's headquarters at 403 Seymour, Lansing. The phone number is 484-4541.

Pettibone expressed the hope that individuals would increase their contribution to the Christmas Seal Campaign this year to provide additional muscle to the organization's antismoking and air pollution campaigns, as well as supporting the continuing activities in the area of tuberculosis, emphysema and asthma.

Michigan trees best for holiday

Christmas tree buyers in Michigan have the world's finest and freshest trees available at some of the most attractive prices, according to B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Michigan is the leading producer of plantation grown Christmas trees. More than five million Michigan evergreens will be harvested for sale in the 1970 season.

Growing and marketing Michigan Christmas trees adds up to more than a $20 million annual business.

"Millions will be shipped out of the state, some as far away as California," Ball said. "But there will be plenty for sale at outlets in every city and hamlet in the state. And Michigan residents will generally have fresh cut trees and a wide variety of excellent quality to choose from."

Scotch pine is the most widely produced plantation tree; other Michigan species on the market will spruces and firs.

A booklet, 'Buying your Christmas Tree', is available free at the office of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lewis Cass Bldg., Lansing, 48913. It has sketches of tree species as well as tips on selecting, caring for, and disposing of your Christmas tree.

OUTDOOR NOTES

This being the case, DNR officials are urging snowmobilers to focus their fun on the eastern half of the trail from Grayling across to Tawas City.

That stretch, winding about 93 miles, offers long spans of federal and Consumers Power Company lands over which snowmobilers can zoom without fear of trespassing problems.

The DNR also points out that, except for a very few posted areas, all state forest lands are open to snowmobiling. Of particular note, the Department has developed 30 permanent snowmobile trails with a total span of 700 miles on state forest lands in northern Michigan.

The Department of Natural Resources DNR is advising snowmobilers not to use northern Michigan's riding-hiking trail west of Grayling this winter because of access problems with punctuate much of the route from there to its terminus on Lake Michigan.

The DNR, already receiving a growing number of inquiries about the trail's accessibility for snowmobiling, explains that the riding-hiking route west of Grayling crosses a considerable amount of private land for which no public easements have been gained.

In fact, some landowners along this stretch have told the Department that snowmobilers are not welcome on their property.

Some of the trail's western link cuts through state lands, but the pattern of public ownership there is patchy and could cause snowmobilers, unwittingly and otherwise, to trespass on private holdings.

Clinton drug

He said that there is a need for more drug education, but that the programs alone have not done the job. "Permissiveness seems to over-ride the good from drug education."

Anderson said that the parents do not know what to look for and that a visual aid could be important in an adult drug education program. He carries a case of various drugs that have been confiscated during the past year to show interested adults.

"The kids already know, but we've lost the parents," he said. The parents should know the symptoms for each drug, he added.

The problem of drugs on a wide and increasing scale exists without a doubt, according to these officials. They challenged any school official who denies that drugs exist in their Clinton County schools, but stress the need for strong and immediate drug education programs throughout the county. In the next part of the Clinton County News drug probe, the school administrators speak out on new educational programs being established in the area.

"The boys always obeyed our commands down to the letter. They were always obedient, even when the advice was wrong."

The JV's finished the season with a perfect 8-0 mark. The awarding of 32 sets of numerals were made to 32 JV players.

Assistant Varsity Coaches Bob Foreback and Russ Pope gave brief but humorous accounts of the past football season and prepared the assembled for the talk that was given by Varsity Head Coach Mark O'Donnell.

O'Donnell handed out 39 varsity letters or their equivalents to the 1970 varsity squad members, 16 of whom were juniors. After the letters were passed out, O'Donnell began to hand out the special awards including all-conference and the Most Valuable Player Award.

A special "Golden Arm" award was presented to senior quarterback Gregg McKay who threw for a total of 893 yards during the season. Another "out-of-the-way" award was given to Ron Lover, a senior fullback, for his 86 yard winning run in O-E's 14-8 victory over Corunna. Lover was awarded the game ball.

O'Donnell pointed out senior Dick Bates as a very unusual case. Bates had never before come out for football until his senior year. He rushed for a total of 420 yards which averaged 5.5 yards per carry. For his efforts, Bates won the team's "Most Improved" award.

Tri Captain honors went to Ron Lover, Mike Leslie and Phil Seybert, all seniors.

Mr. Seybert wasn't finished. He was chosen to both the Mid-Michigan B All Conference 1st Team offensive team and 1st Team defensive team. Seybert and senior Duane Welber were unanimous all-conference picks.

Seybert also won his team's award for "Most Desire" and put the icing on the cake with the squad's "Most Valuable Player" award.

The evening's festivities ended with a presentation of trophies to the varsity coaches and the presentation of the conference trophy by Owosso Argus-Press Sports Editor Luck Gadd to O'Donnell.

No! Trophies weren't the only awards handed out Nov. 24 at the Ovid-Elsie Football Banquet. Head Coach Mark O'Donnell, left, presents senior quarterback Gregg McKay with the "Golden Arm Award" in recognition of the 893 yards he gained through the air during the 1970 football season. Those yards were gained on 71 completed passes for a 55 per cent completion average.

Eagle powerhouse may be title bound

The central Michigan area's Class D powerhouse is in for a rough season.

At least that's what the coach thinks.

Charles Trierweiler, Fowler's head coach, insists that the competition will be "tough."

"DeWitt will be one of the stronger teams and there are four or five teams that have all of their starters back," he said.

Fowler fans are still smarting from the last regular season game last spring when the DeWitt Panthers put the stoppers on the Eagles' 15 game win streak with a 64-59 win.

Trierweiler expects Owosso, St. Paul and Potterville to be a handful during the season with both teams carrying three of their five starters last year.

"I'm really looking forward to the season. We've got a good team and will be contenders in the league (Central Michigan Athletic Conference). The first four or five places will be bunched up," Trierweiler added.

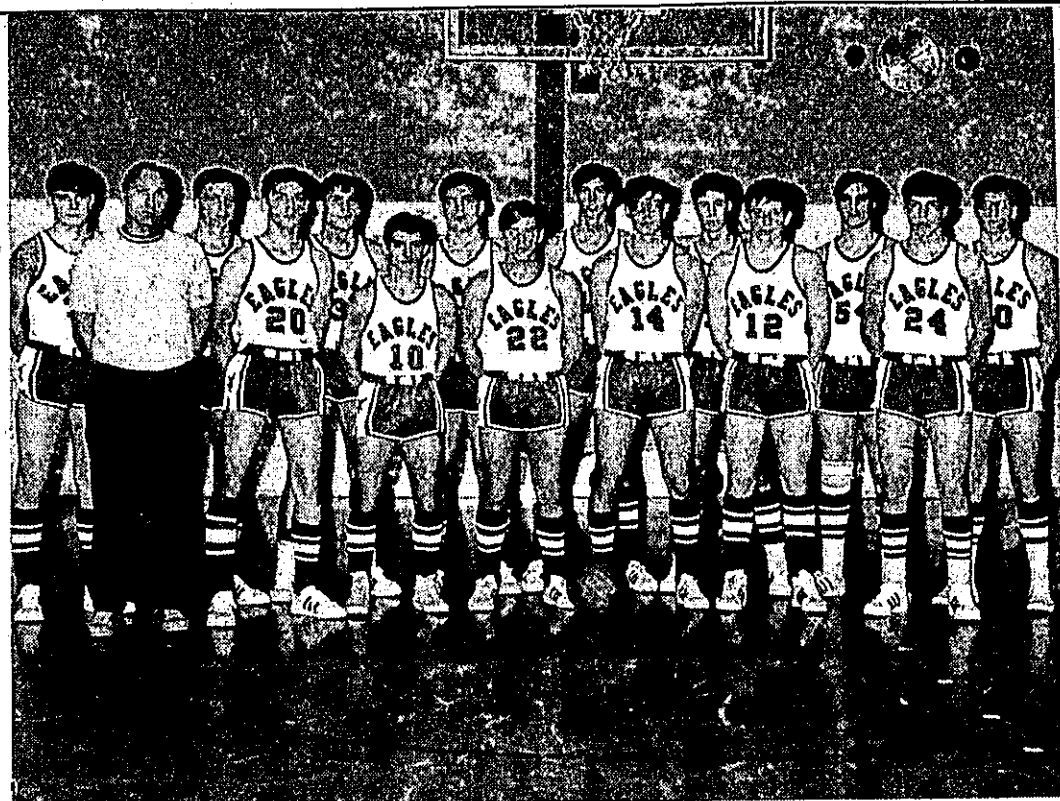

The Eagles drubbed a strong Freesoil squad Saturday night 68-57 for a good season start.

The Eagle coach nine returning letterman with his top scorer and rebounder from the 1969 squad.

Guard Neil Thelen (5-11) topped the team last year with 274 points and is helped out by teammate forward Jerome Pohl (6-1) who was the top rebounder and third leading scorer with 179 points.

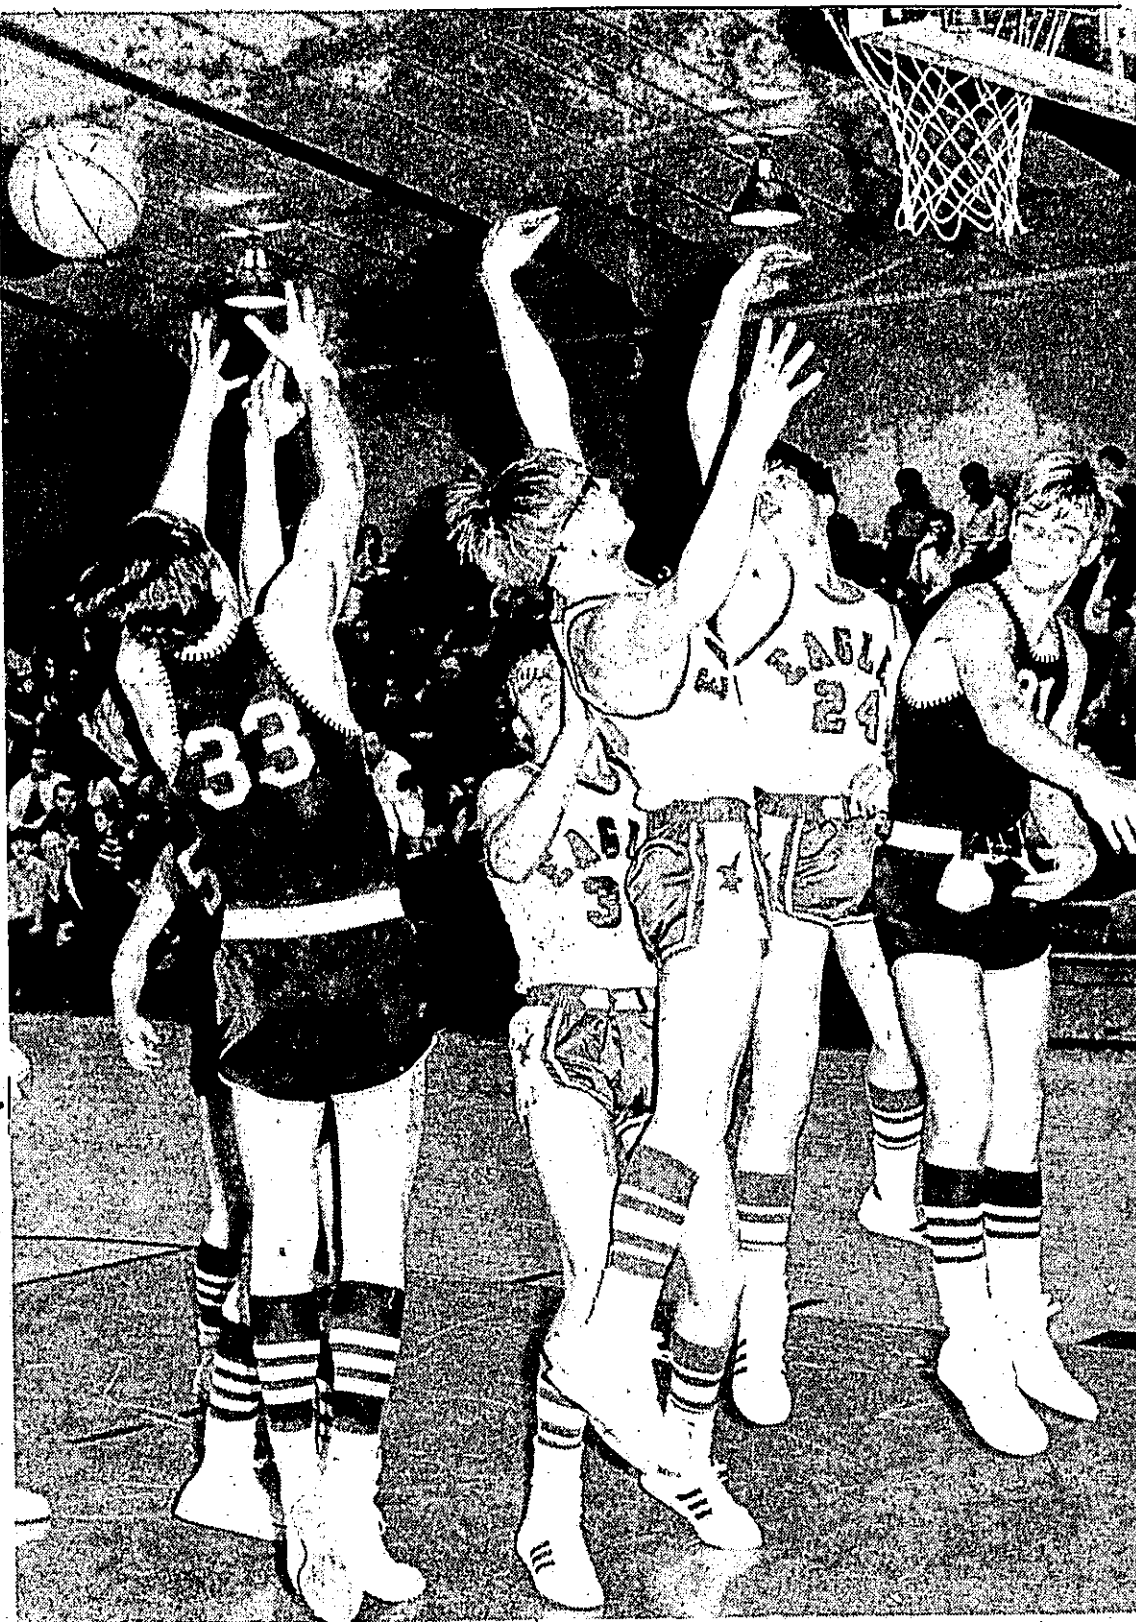

Other returnees are John Matthews, 6-2 center, guard Ed Pung, guard-forward Cliff Thelen, guard-forward Clare Thelen (who is out with a leg injury) and guard Steve Feldpausch.

Modesty is a virtue that coaches tend, at times, to overlook, but Trierweiler seems to have played down the possibility of a Class D championship this year - but considering the talent on the team and past performance, a state title is a distinct possibility.

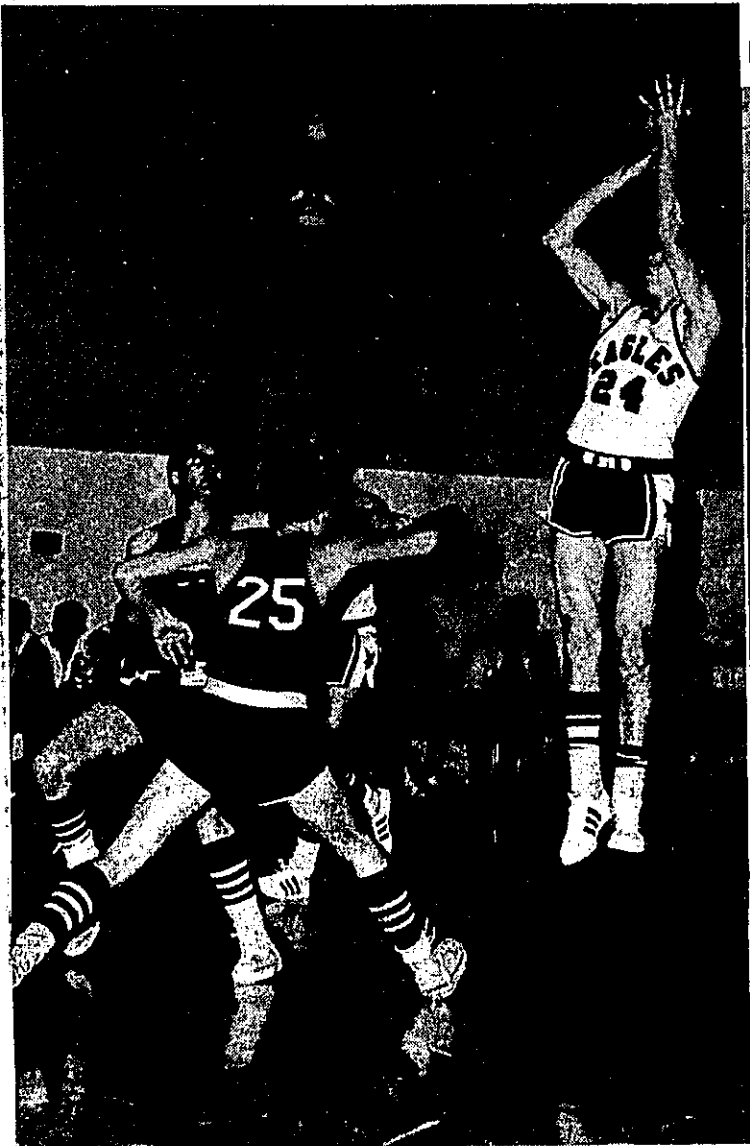

THE 1970 FOWLER CAGERS

DANCING ANYONE?

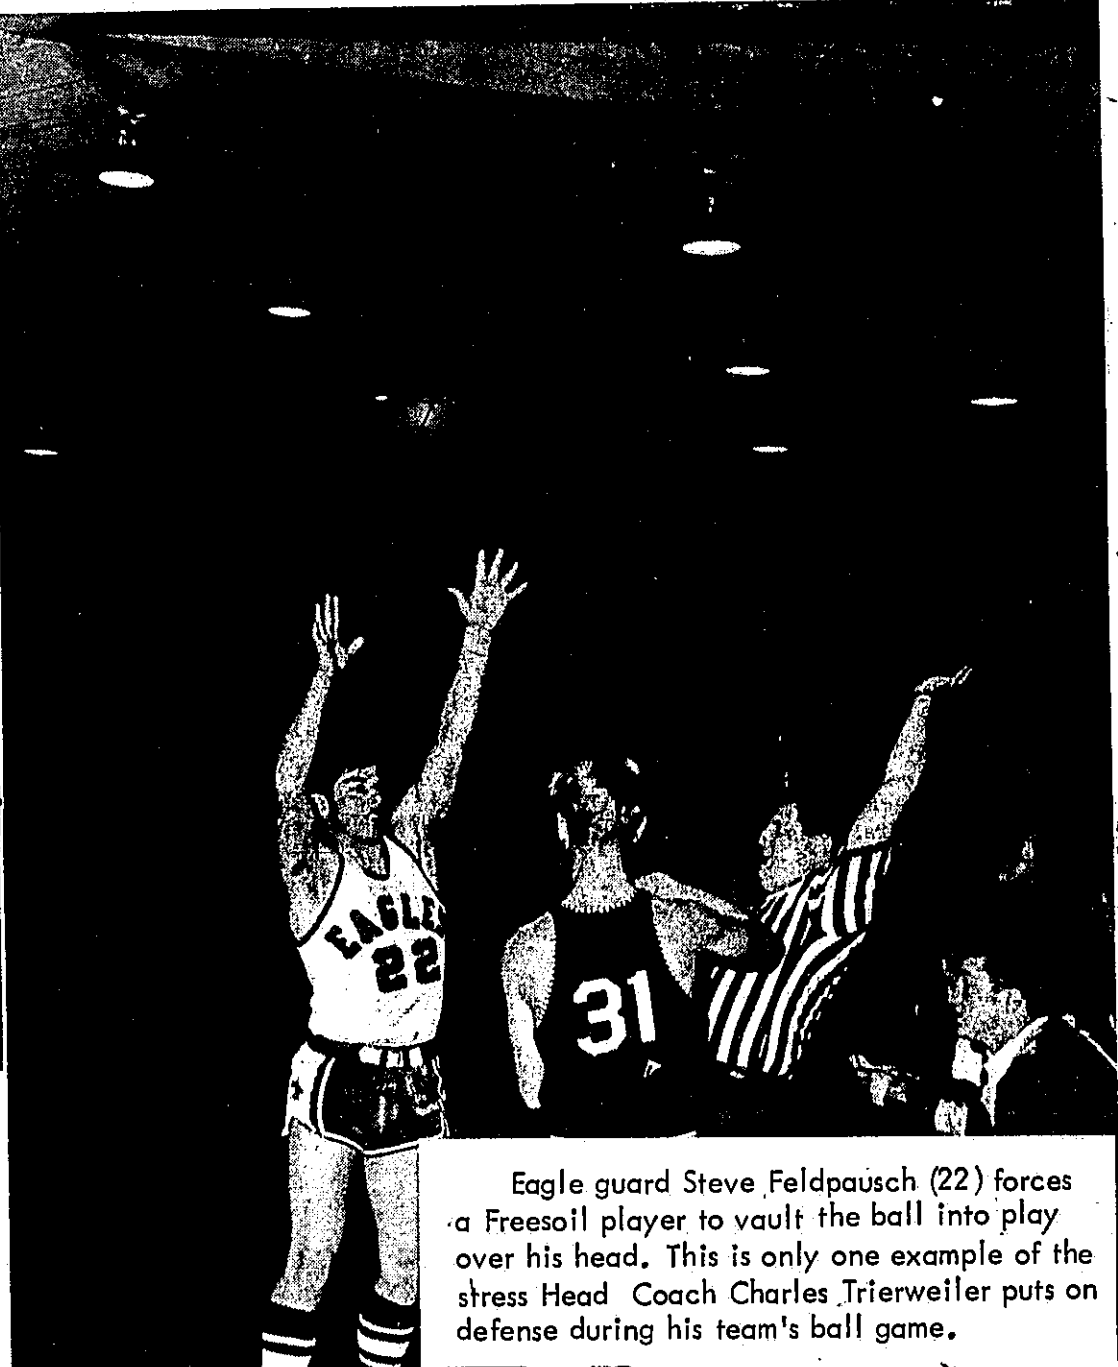

The basketball seems to have other ideas as it leaves this group of players to dance for its possession. The action took place during Saturday night's basketball game between Fowler and Freesoil High Schools at Fowler.

Marauders sweep 'B' all-star spots Norm Love lands NAIA all-star spot

The Ovid-Elsie Marauders, Mid-Michigan B champs, dominated the all-conference football team picks last week by placing six players at seven positions on the first squad and seven on the honorable mention lists.

MORE LAND FOR RECREATION

The United States Department of Agriculture's Land Retirement Program provides 250,000 acres of land in Michigan for recreational use, mostly hunting but includes other uses such as fishing, trapping and hiking.

Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural and Stabilization Conservation Committee states that this is agricultural land that was producing surplus crops and is now retired from production under the Cropland Adjustment Program administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Smith points out that the public as well as the landowner benefits by this program. The landowner receives about what he would normally earn from allotment or base crop production in Michigan. This is mostly corn and wheat. The public benefits because the majority of this land is available for public use. Two-thirds of the land open for public hunting is in the lower third of the State and is available to all people regardless of race, color or national origin. A list of these farms for any given county may be obtained in the local county ASCS office. They can be identified by large white and green signs posted at the farm headquarters which states in part "hunting without charge."

Ferris State's talented sophomore, quarterback Norm Love of St. Johns was named to the NAIA, all-district football team during an awards banquet last week.

The St. Johns product set a varsity record at Ferris State with six touchdown passes this fall.

Love completed 31 of 83 passes for 495 yards to land the coveted quarterback position.

Ferris State also placed three other offensive spots and three defensive positions on the official 28-man football dream team chosen from among nominees of the only four football-supporting institutions in District 23 of the NAIA.

Besides Love, teammates Craig Yager, Lou Rollenhagen and Tom Baldwin landed spots on the offensive team Bill Lubs, Willie Bouyer and Bruce Witbrodt were named on defense.

Nearly 100 athletes, coach and school officials from nine NAIA colleges in Michigan attended the yearly dinner-meeting at Alma College. Selections were by vote of the participating coaches.

Love led the Bulldogs to a respectable 5-4 season.

Drug ed program established by 4-H

The national 4-H service committee announced last week that the youth organization has enlisted the assistance of the Eli Lilly and Company in the development and execution of a national drug program.

The company is one of the 4-H health sponsors nation-wide. "Knowing the facts about drugs, the consequences of experimentation and addiction must receive major attention in a program of drug education," said Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee.

"And a program designed to prevent tragedy must draw from a broad base of knowledge, utilize a wide range of methods and enlist the support of qualified people everywhere. That is the kind of program we are working on in 4-H," Mindrum said.

He noted the response of young people to a training course established by 4-H and the Co-operative Extension Service in Amarillo, Tex., which enlisted the assistance of the police.

After the training, the youths themselves passed on information to other teens. Equally effective programs are underway in many states including West Virginia, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Tennessee and Iowa, the 4-H spokesman reported.

At National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec. 3, drug abuse is to receive the attention of 1,600 of America's top 4-H'ers. The topic will fit into the Congress theme "We Care" and help motivate the young leaders to carry on educational programs in their local communities.

Eli Lilly and Company, which has supported the national 4-H health program for 15 years, will take an active part. The company will have an exhibit about drug abuse on display and show a movie, "Students Look at Drugs," which has been previewed by numerous 4-H groups.

Moderator of the youth panel featured in the film, Dr. Ivan Bennett, staff psychiatrist at Lilly, will conduct an informal discussion with 4-H Congress delegates.

The company also will award seven $600 scholarships to national 4-H health program winners and host a recognition event for some 50 state winners at the national 4-H event.

In further reference to 4-H education efforts Mindrum pointed out that leaders and parents of 4-H members generally are confident that their youngsters will resist temptation to experiment with drugs.

The complacency has no place in fighting the problems of drug addiction he added.

"Telling it like it is" continues to be the core of our education program, Mindrum stressed.

The National Institute of Mental Health recently estimated that more than 500,000 people are obtaining drugs illegally and depend upon them to get through the day. The illicit market in barbiturates—called "downers" and amphetamines—"uppers" is a major concern of society, the 4-H Service Committee director related.

"As a responsive, concerned and viable organization representing a cross-section of society 4-H accepts its responsibility in providing a strong drug education program. 4-H appreciates the support it is receiving from Eli Lilly and Company and others in mounting a strong educational effort," Mindrum concluded.

Questions & answers on Social Security

Q) In January of this year, I had major surgery and paid my doctor the full charge which was $450.00. I submitted a claim to Medicare in March and in May received a check from Michigan Medical Service. The form which was attached to the check showed that instead of the payment being based on the full $450, Medicare had allowed and based their payment on $350.00. The surgery was lengthy and I feel $450.00 was not an unreasonable fee. Is there anyway in which I may protest this and possibly receive a greater reimbursement?

A) Yes. You may request that the claim be reviewed by the carrier, Michigan Medical Service. You should contact your social security office and ask for their assistance in requesting a review of the claim. If possible, you should provide the social security office with a copy of the Explanation of Benefits form which came with your check and a statement from your physician which shows the exact surgical procedure and any complicating or unusual conditions which may have been involved.

Q) I collect social security widow's benefits. I never worked myself. Will my survivors get a lump-sum payment when I pass away?

A) No. The lump-sum payment is only made after the worker's death, and the worker must have credit for a certain amount of work under social security.

Question: My doctor treated me while I was hospitalized in July for a heart attack. I asked him to get his payment from Medicare and bill me for the balance but he refused.

Answer: Your doctor does not have to bill Medicare for his services. You should complete a "Request for Medicare Payment" form, attach an itemized bill, and send the form and bill to the appropriate insurance company listed in your Medicare handbook. The bill does not have to be paid to submit a claim for reimbursement, and your doctor is not required to sign the Medicare form. The Medicare reimbursement will be sent to you.

Derby committee plans May race

It may be hard to believe with most people awaiting the chill of winter but the first meeting of the annual Soap Box Derby or World's Gravity Gran Prix was held Nov. 23 at Bee's Chevrolet-Olds, Inc.

The annual sponsors of the event in St. Johns, the St. Johns Jaycees and Bee's Chevy-Olds, Inc., brought representatives together to decide on a new date for the event.

The main reasons for searching for a new date was that it has been difficult in the past to obtain bands and marching groups for the parade and many of the young boys that might have wanted to participate had already left for summer cabins with their parents.

Sunday, May 23, is the new date with the parade scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. The derby itself, as in past years, will follow the parade.

Director and General Chairman for this coming year's derby is John Arehart, an instructor at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School in St. Johns. Arehart succeeds William McCarthy, who has held the director position for the past six years.

McCarthy received a special director award from the Chevrolet Division of General Motors for his continued interest and dedication to the young people of the Clinton County area through the derby.

The parade committee is made up of Mart Livingston, Charles Agerstrand, Karl Harter, Mike O'Connor, Dave Humenik, Roger Beebe, Terry Cornwell and Pete Riojas. Jack Bertoldi and Roger Bee-bee head the finance committee. Race Day committee members are Jack and Gene Downing and Jaycee President Shayne Smith.

Dave Humenik, Tom Hutton, Byron Horton, Terry Cornwell and Pete Riojas head up the Clinic Inspection committee.

Jack Bertoldi and Ken Welch, comprise the Inter-Community Co-ordinating Committee (I.C.C.).

Tom McElenny is publicity chairman.

The derby kits are available at Bee's and would be ideal for a Christmas gift.

Clinics will be announced at a later date and will be starting earlier because of the updated derby day.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 26.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE

We're in trouble in Westphalia. With Aggie Stump, last week's Bowler of the Week; and Herm Thelen at Westphalia K of C Lanes, Aggie rolled the highest series by a woman this year (623), but did we have her at Westphalia K of C? No. . . we said that series was rolled at Redwing Lanes. To set the record straight, Aggie blistered the pins at Westphalia.

38 (43 points were scored). He and Jeri Brown of St. Johns had each picked 12 of the 16 games correctly.

The contest in this week's edition is the finale. Make your selections carefully for this is your last chance to pick up Christmas shopping cash this year. Good luck!

Santa's coming to town Friday, December 4 at 7:30 p.m. And the jolly old gent is going to stick around for a few weeks. . . for the next two Saturdays there will be a "Story Telling Hour" from 10 to 11 a.m. followed by "Lunch with Santa" from 11 to 12:30 at the Municipal Building. All youngsters are invited.

And all youngsters to the free matinee at the Clinton Theater, compliments of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce. All your tots and teens have to do is pick up free passes at any Chamber member's business.

With Christmas evening hours at St. Johns merchants just around the corner, Clinton National's new lighted parking facility will be a great convenience to shoppers.

The 41-space lot is for use not only for bank customers, but customers of any store, day or evening. We'll bet Big Mama could tie up three of those spaces without half trying. She's the only person we know of who angle parks in a parallel zone and parallels in an angle zone.

Talk about upsets. . . Army Navy, Southern Cal-Notre Dame, Jets-Vikings. . . you can imagine what that did to our Football Contest this week. Even the winner had 4 wrong.

Mike SanMiguel of St. Johns takes home the $20.00 with a tie breaking point estimate of

We've been Christmas shopping already, and have already given some of the gifts. But the thing we are really hunting for is a pair of women's bedroom slippers. . . the fuzzy feminine kind. But, you know Big Mama. . . the closest we've come is some men's alpaca linings out of a size 16 boot. Oh, well.

we'll knit her a pair.

We had a dandy deer season, just excellent. No, we didn't get our buck. . . we didn't even hunt. But while all the hunters were slogging thru cedar swamps in the rain, trying to eat their own cooking, staying up late drinking hot chocolate and playing fish etc. etc. or in other words. . . sour grapes!

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

The fall and winter 4-H enrollment stands at 1,912 boys and girls enrolled in one of the local 4-H Clubs throughout the county.

There are 279 boys and 733 girls enrolled in over 1,352 projects that fit their needs and interests.

The size of the clubs vary from 106 members down to five members. A breakdown shows one club with over 100, two clubs between 70-85, one club between 41-50, seven clubs between 31-40, seven clubs between 21-30, nine clubs between 11-20, and 20 clubs between five-10 members.

The larger groups are mainly community clubs offering a variety of projects such as clothing, knitting, photography, conservation, leather and leader dog.

The more popular projects with 20 or more members include clothing (515), knitting (262), woodworking (186), cultural arts (93), teen-leadership (66), photography (43), leathercraft (27), indoor garden (25), tractor (24), and small engines (23).

Adults serve as volunteer leaders providing the youth assistance in learning and developing project skills in their project area. They also work with the youth in learning to work together on community service projects, group events, leadership and citizenship in action.

Saturday Dec. 5 is the next collection day of disposable glass containers by 4-Hers for their community service, environmental and money making project.

People in St. Johns are reminded to set their glass containers out on the curb by 10 a.m. and people outside St. Johns are urged to bring their glass to the fairgrounds between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Last month more than five tons of glass was collected, sorted, and hauled to the glass plant in Charlotte.

The 4-H Teen Leaders appreciate the assistance and support of all people who have helped with this disposable glass project.

All youth interested in raising a leader dog for the blind as their 4-H project will meet on Thursday, Dec. 3, 7:30 p.m., Smith Hall in St. Johns.

Mr. Daniel Balog, Director of the Leader Dog School, will discuss the training program with the youth and parents. Balog will also bring a puppy about the size the youth will receive and a trained dog to demonstrate what the dog needs to learn this year.

The youth will train the dogs for one year and will be tested at that time to see if the animal is accepted for the school.

All Clinton County 4-H dairy members who kept production records on their animals this past year are invited to attend the Clinton County DHIA annual meeting and dinner Dec. 12, 12 noon at the Bingham Grange Hall south of St. Johns.

A trophy will be given to the member whose animal has the best 305 day record based on a mature equivalent basis.

The final 4-H Photography TV program will be on Saturday, Dec. 5, 7:30-8 a.m. on channel three in Kalamazoo. This will be the sixth program in the series, 4-H Photo Fun Club.

The program will show members comparing pictures taken for the Conservation Week Poster Contest and evaluating pictures taken by the members in telling picture stories and others.

A ten week series called 4-H TV Action will begin on Saturday, Dec. 12, 7:30-8 a.m. on Channel Three. Each week the youth can learn about such emergencies as tornadoes, fires, blizzards, cold, floods, living out-of-doors under emergency conditions and others.

Any youth interested in securing a member's manual to follow the programs should contact the County Extension Office, 1003 S. Oakland St. in St. Johns.

There is no cost and a person does not have to be enrolled for a regular 4-H club to receive a manual to follow the program.

Scott Lonsberry has been elected president of the Eagle-Border 4-H Club for the coming year.

Other officials include Mark Walsh, vice-president; Brian Walsh, secretary; Gordon Ennes, treasurer; Mike Palmer, news-reporter and Claire Rowland, recreation leader.

Members and parents were present to hear James Palmeter, leader, explain how the club will operate, what projects the members might choose from and answer questions of the group.

Fair premiums, certificates and pins were presented to last year's members.

Ecology gets boost from Clinton farmers

Interested spectators discuss the seeding of rye on the Paul Thelen farm in Dallas Township. From left are George McQueen, extension agricultural agent, Stanley Baird, chairman of the Clinton County SCD, Bob Moore, director of the SCD, Mrs. Sue Paksi, SCD executive secretary, Clarence Manning, SCD director and Orville Beachler, SCD technician.

Concerned Clinton County farmers are doing something about the pollution and sedimentation of our air and streams.

Under the sponsorship of the County Extension Service and with part of the costs shared by the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, Max Miller, local owner of an aerial crop dusting and seeding service, seeded demonstration strips of rye cover crop in corn on six Clinton County farms.

Miller furnished his services free of charge.

The six farmers involved were Francis Trierweiler of Westphalia Township, Paul Thelen of Dallas Township, Gerald Wieber of Lebanon Township, Norman Irrer of Bengal Township and Ron and Jack Miller of Ovid Township.

Cover crops help "tie" down the soil against both wind and water erosion and also keeps excess fertilizer from leaching away and getting into streams and water tables.

The cover crop when plowed under in the spring improves the tilth of the soil.

ASCS programs affect public

Virtually every citizen is affected by ASCS farm programs whether or not he participates in them, stated Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural and Stabilization Conservation Committee.

ASCS programs affect prices and availability of major farm commodities as well as the products into which they are converted. With their supply of cropland and management know-how, farmers produce far more than we can eat, sell, or afford to give away.

Farmers have been aware for a long time of the cost-price squeeze-aware of the fact that the more successful they are in creating abundance, the lower the price they receive in the marketplace, he said.

City residents are becoming aware of the problem as the public becomes better informed. For example, we know that fewer farmers are using more machinery, more fertilizer and improved varieties on fewer acres to produce more corn, wheat, beef—more of just about everything. Because of increased supplies of farm products, an hour's factory work now buys more food than ever before.

Smith pointed out that agricultural abundance, price stability, conservation and national security have been major farm program aims since the first legislation dealing with price support and production adjustment was passed by Congress in 1933.

Congress enacts farm legislation and appropriates funds to carry out the legislation. Authority for the administration of these programs is vested in the President, the Secretary of Agriculture, and the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

The CCC is under the general supervision and direction of the Secretary. At the county level these programs are administered by the county ASCS office.

The most important facets of compliance with farm programs are to protect the government's interest by guaranteeing taxpayers and Congress that agricultural payments are made in accordance with the law, protect producer's interest by determining accurately the extent of participation in the program and provide payments and benefits when rightfully earned.

'Neat' cattle

There were 1,621 "neat" cattle in Clinton County in 1840, according to the U.S. census. No figure was given for sloppy bovines. ("Neat" is an adjective of Old English derivation used to describe bovine animals.)

Beetle attacked

A parasitic bacterium which attacks the Japanese beetle is being studied by Michigan State University microbiologists. The scientists are attempting to find a means of commercially producing spores of this bacteria so that it can be introduced into the soil in Japanese beetle infested areas.

Sugar industry plans two new scholarships

Michigan high school seniors planning to enroll at Michigan State University next fall with a major in Agriculture or Home Economics are eligible to compete for two $1,000 scholarships being sponsored by Michigan's beet sugar industry.

Determining factors in granting the awards include financial need, scholastic achievement and extra-curricular activities.

Applicants for the two scholarships will be screened by the university, with the final selection made by representatives of the state's sugar industry.

Students interested in applying for the Agriculture grant should contact the Dean of Agriculture, College of Agriculture, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

Application for the Home Economics scholarship can be made through the College of Human Ecology (formerly College of Home Economics).

Fall 1971 will mark the 16th consecutive year of the beet sugar industry's scholarship program. $30,000 in financial aid has been previously awarded through the program, which was established to encourage higher education in the fields of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Application deadline for the two grants has been set for December 15 by MSU's scholarship office.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Therefore, where one farmer in America can produce enough for himself and 44 others, then truly this is "Thanksgiving," every day of the year. And it is a salute to American agriculture, that the job continues to get done, and with true thanksgiving, continues to share its knowledge with others.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers.

Q) The income tax surcharge expired in June. Does that mean money earned this fall is not subject to it?

A) The income tax surcharge applies to all income earned in 1970. Withholding by employers for the surcharge, however, was stopped in July.

When the surcharge was due to expire last December, it was extended by Congress to June 30, 1970 at a reduced rate of 5 per cent. That means the rate for the 1970 calendar tax year is 2 1/2 percent.

Q) A couple of days after I paid my tax bill I got another notice on it. What should I do?

A) The latest notice you received was probably issued before the payment was credited to your account. In a case like yours where the payment was made a few days before receiving a notice, ignore it.

If you receive another bill for payment of the same amount, please return it indicating the date the payment was made and where it was sent. If your check has been returned by your bank show the numbers or other identification put on the check when it was deposited by IRS.

Q) I paid over $50 to servants I hired to help out at my daughter's wedding reception held in our home. Do I have to pay social security tax for them?

A) No, you do not unless you paid $50 or more to any one person during a calendar quarter.

Employers who are liable for this tax, should file the return and pay the tax due by November 2. That is the deadline for reports on the July, August, September Quarter. Use Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.

Q) I've been given an expense account on my new job.

How will it affect my tax return?

A) If you account to your employer for those expenses, you will not have to report them on your tax return. An exception occurs when your reimbursement exceeds your expenses. The excess then should be reported as income.

Employees who are not reimbursed for business expenses may claim a deduction for them on their tax return. For more information on this subject, send a post card to your IRS district director and ask for Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. This pamphlet is free.

Q) My store is up for sale and one person who wants to buy it has offered to make a down payment and to pay the rest in three years. Can I save on taxes by having the money spread like that?

A) There could be a tax advantage of reporting profits from a sale over a period of years. Whether it will benefit you depends on your tax bracket and other income. To qualify for this tax treatment, however, the payments you receive during the first year must not exceed 30 percent of the sales price.

Gannon, Porter to serve on Michigan Week board

Phillip J. Gannon, president of Lansing Community College, and Dr. John W. Porter, superintendent of public instruction for the State of Michigan, will serve as co-chairmen of the 1971 Michigan Week Education Board.

Their appointment was announced Nov. 23 by Fred R. Charlton of Sturgis, general chairman for Michigan Week 1971 and administrative assistant to the president of Kirsch Company.

"Since Michigan Week is essentially an educational endeavor, promoting a greater knowledge and appreciation of our state's many advantages," Charlton said, "it is fitting that two of our most prominent educators should oversee the Michigan Week Education Board."

These two men will direct some 40 committees representing associations in the broad field of education.

The Education Board is one of six activity boards in which all Michigan Week state committees are grouped. As deputy general chairman at large Frank Buchanan, public relations supervisor for Michigan Bell Telephone Company, Detroit, directs all Michigan Week activity boards.

Education Board chairman last year was Jack A. Smith, superintendent of the Carson City schools.

He taught in Battle Creek public schools and at Duke University and was a research consultant at MSU.

After serving as special assistant to the superintendent of Lansing public schools, he became dean of Lansing Community College in 1957 and has been LCC president since 1964.

His professional affiliations include American Association of Junior Colleges and Michigan Community College Association. He is consultant-examiner for the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

He makes his home in Lansing with his wife and three children.

An Indiana native, Porter received his B.A. degree from Albion College, his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Michigan State University.

He taught in Albion and Lansing high schools, was an education research consultant for the Department of Public Instruction, and served as the first director of the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority.

He became associate superintendent, Bureau of Higher Education, Michigan Department of Education, in 1966. For the past year, he had been acting superintendent of public instruction for the State of Michigan before assuming his present superintendent's post on October 14.

Porter has received distinguished service awards from the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Lansing NAACP, and a 1970 concurrent resolution of tribute from the Michigan Legislature.

He resides with his family in East Lansing.

Dates of the 18th annual Michigan Week are May 15-22, 1971.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, over 85 per cent of the present programs administered by the Clinton County Department of Social Services are Federal and State programs, and

WHEREAS, programs like the ADC Program have increased from an average caseload of 81 in 1968 to a caseload of 166 as of September, 1970, and

WHEREAS, cash reserves of both the County and the County Social Services Department are not adequate in the closing months of the County's fiscal year to finance 100 per cent of programs largely determined by the Federal and State governments, and

WHEREAS, present regulations do not permit reimbursement by the State until after bills are paid, and the County Department of Social Services cannot pay the bills until it receives reimbursement from the State or additional appropriations from the County, and

WHEREAS, the Clinton County Department of Social Services is responsible for administering a complex system of welfare programs under sponsorship of Federal, State and County Governments, and

WHEREAS, the County's share of the cost is largely determined under formulas controlled by the Federal and State governments, and

WHEREAS, reimbursement from the State is generally received two months after a billing is filed for reimbursement which places the County in the position of having to maintain a cash reserve to finance 100 per cent of three months of State and Federal reimbursable programs, and

Knitwear problem

Wool knitwear has always been more or less a problem child in the home laundry. But good news comes that an experimental process is underway in the United States Department of Agriculture to take care of this problem child.

Why does wool knitwear shrink? Knitwear presents a more difficult problem than woven fabric because the knit structure is comparatively loose and yarns in the knitted loops tend to shift and adjust during washing. This is known as "relaxation shrinkage" to the fabric world even though the yarns themselves are shrinkproof.

"Pilling" another disliked feature often occurring during the washing of wool fibers is the loosening of the fibers and their rolling together to form tiny balls. Most washable knits now available should be hand-washed or machine-washed on the gentle cycle to avoid this deterioration of appearance.

The original process for wool shrinkage control was developed in 1963 but the goal of truly machine-washable wool knitwear presented a real problem. The new process incorporates the coating of two chemicals on the fiber surface which forms an extremely thick, tough, layer on individual fibers. Repeated tests show the new process maintains the good appearance of the knitwear after repeated washings on the regular cycle.

Watch for it — it's soon to be evidenced on the market — the truly machine-washable wool knitwear.

Let's try again

County Commissioner Roy (Jack) Andrews recently told his fellow members that another vote on the recently defeated airport authority proposal is needed but prior to that vote, Andrews suggested, voters in the county should be informed of the benefits.

We agree on both suggestions. There is little doubt that Clinton County, being on the fringe of one of the fastest growing areas in Michigan, can reap uncounted advantages from participation in development of Capital City Airport. To fully appreciate the possibilities of such involvement we must look beyond the immediate area of the air terminal to the broader scope of economic activity which will funnel automatic growth into the area. Planners are without doubt concerned with service advantages afforded to local air traffic, but a hard look at the overall picture is, indeed, one of encouragement.

We assume that Mr. Andrews was disappointed with the denial of participation for he and others had worked long toward participation in the airport authority. We share this disappointment and hope that following a sincere effort to acquaint voters with all aspects of the plan participation in the authority can again be considered.

Congratulations

Our congratulations go out to Mrs. Hugh (Lynn) Banninga for her selection by St. Johns Jaycettes as "Outstanding Young Woman."

Aside from her membership in the Jaycettes, Mrs. Banninga has been most active in a number of civic projects and it is from this concern and involvement that her recognition springs.

We commend her for her participation and extend congratulations for her well-earned award.

OCEAN CITY, N.J., SENTINEL-LEDGER: "The average American, perplexed by the great issues confronting this country, finds it difficult to develop sound opinions in the face of rabid partisanship exhibited by politicians, newspaper writers, radio and television commentators and other so-called leaders of public opinion. There is a tendency to accept without question any statement or assertion that fits in with what the individual wants to believe. Moreover, there is a lamentable determination on the part of too many to persuade everyone to fall in line with whatever is being peddled. It is a good idea for us, once in awhile, to carefully consider the stubborn independence of the hardy citizen who has the nerve to look the majority in the face and say, despite the popular flurry, 'I don't agree.' More of such individualism and thinking is needed."

TOWANDA, Kans., TIMES: "There's a wrinkle in the 1968 federal gun control law which you should know about! If you move out of state permanently—and not just on a hunting trip—you cannot transport your guns across state lines in your personal car without being in violation of the gun law. You may, however, consign your guns to a common carrier moving your household goods. If your commercial mover will not accept guns, you can turn them over to a dealer in the state where you are moving. But don't transport your personal guns in your personal car across state lines to your new residence. That's a federal no-no."

Redwings smash Ovid-Elsie, some items weren't cheaper, army officer gets award

ONE YEAR AGO Dec. 3, 1969. The Redwings of St. Johns High School got off to a rousing start toward their capture of the West Central Conference Basketball Championship. The Raiders of Ovid-Elsie were cleaned by St. Johns 83-56 and Ionia's Bulldogs got a taste of the same humiliation, 71-50.

25 YEARS AGO Dec. 6, 1945. Lt. Col. Ralph G. Atkinson, 104 W. Baldwin St., St. Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Atkinson, was awarded the Legion of Merit for his outstanding work as Ordnance Supply Officer with the First U.S. Army in the European Theater of Operations.

TEN YEARS AGO Dec. 1, 1960. Robert N. Young, 37, Woodland, Calif., was appointed director of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission. He took over his duties in Lansing and replaced Sanford R. Farness, who took a job with the state department of administration, building division.

What were the items mentioned in 1960 selling for in 1945? Well, the cigarettes were going for $1.24 a carton. Butter was 47 cents a pound. The toilet tissue was 19 cents for four rolls.

It was announced that 14 branch prisoners of war camps in southern Michigan were going to be closed because of the completion of agriculture contracts. Those camps affected were located in Fremont, Coloma, Waterloo, Grant, Lake Odessa, Owosso, Hart, Sodus, Dundee, Caro, Crosswell Mt. Pleasant, Bay City and Alma.

The St. Johns Women's Club voted at their November meeting to sponsor the organizing of a division of the American Cancer Society in Clinton County. The front page of the then Republican News was adorned by the picture of 3-year-old Barry Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan R. Dean, as he was dropping his letter to Santa Claus into a city mailbox.

Returning lettermen for the Redwing basketball team were Bill Ortwain, a 6'1" forward; Jon Cortright, a 6'11" center; Mike Oatley, a 6'1" center; Mike Werblish, a 5'10" guard; Barry Dean, a 5'8" guard, and 6' Junior guard John Penik.

Four rolls of toilet tissue were going for 25 cents in 1960. Some of the other prices were bacon at 49 cents a pound, margarine at six pounds for a $1, ice cream for 59 cents a half gallon, and $2.39 a carton for cigarettes.

Well, little did she know, but her apparent concern probably had Christ holding his sides in laughter. It's the time of the year for his month-long giggling session. Every December there's an acute awareness among us mortals that maybe we've forgotten something about Christmas.

Seven residents of Clinton County were granted their citizenships. They were Herbert Thorp, Bath; Susan Hospodar, St. Johns; Johanna Hoska, St. Johns; Jack Perry Burtovy, Elsie; Elizabeth Urban, St. Johns; Alwine Gilbert, Lansing, and Martha Hatta, St. Johns.

The little lady with the pointed nose and pince-nez glasses had backed the sales clerk into a corner and was really reading her the riot act. "You people are simply awful," she said. "Here it is a week before Thanksgiving and you're already loaded down with Christmas decorations. That's all you think of is making money. Why don't you ever think of putting Christ back into Christmas?"

There's gossip to be spread and prejudices to be exploited. There's fingers to be pointed and self satisfaction to be enjoyed. These are just some of the things we've forgotten. But the merchants are 'the whipping boys. They've taken Christ out of Christmas! And that's the cause of the chuckles. After eleven months of hell raising we still have the gall to point an accusing finger.

College football draws to a general end this weekend with the exception of the many and varied post season games, whether they be bowls or ones containing the standouts of the game. Looking back over the season as a whole, I've had the fortune to recall many of the good times and good feelings I've had. One of the first ones during the season was watching the Bulldogs of Ionia battle the Redwings of St. Johns here in St. Johns. For most of you people to recall that night, all I have to do is mention the word, "rain."

Letters to the Editor

P-W freshman says drug use 'not a problem'

Dear Editor, I am in the freshman class from Pewamo-Westphalia High School. I am writing in reply to an article which was put in your paper on Wednesday, Nov. 25. This article was about the drug situation in Clinton County. I feel that P-W has taken enough demoralization from your paper. I am not putting down your paper. In general I think it is delightful to read. But P-W's students seem to have the disposition of drunks, liars, and bad athletes through that article and others.

Reader wants good grammar, good drug facts

Dear Editor, I'm pleased to see that someone is finally bringing the county drug problem to the surface. I feel the problem has gone unheralded altogether too long. After all, before this, some people didn't realize what they were missing. Nevertheless, I feel that your probe of the drug problem was questionable to say the least.

P-W council upset with drug series

Dear Editor, As president of our Student Council, I write this letter in response to your articles on "Drugs in Clinton County Schools." Your articles were very interesting and probably held the attention of your readers. But I'm afraid it did a little more than that.

View from the 87th Revamp drug laws

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Michigan may soon act to bring its drug laws into line with the new Federal Drug Abuse Control Bill signed into law recently by President Nixon.

Another important bill, HB 4794, has also passed the House and is slated for action by the Senate on Dec. 9.

This bill runs along the same lines as the bill passed in 1969 allowing minors to be treated for venereal disease without parents' consent or knowledge.

Teacher cites parents role in drug fight

Dear Editor, I would like to write a few lines and tell the people what is being done at our school Rodney B. Wilson Junior High and what they can do to help at home.

These courses are taught by Mike Humphrey and Roger DePape, both are physical education instructors at the seventh and eighth grade level.

While on drugs the students see movies, charts, graphs, pictures, and hear speakers. They study each of the common drugs like red devils, rainbows, speed, marijuana, etc.

Now a few words to all parents; you have a job to do, you have got to take more interest in your child's free time, this old saying of out of sight out of mind is starting to backfire.

Think about this and ask yourself if I let him or her continue on this path what will the outcome be, if you don't like what you see, why not change now, your kids will thank you when they grow up.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Humphrey's letter precedes a final installment in the current series on drug abuse in Clinton County. The last segment, scheduled for publication Dec. 9, will explain programs in the county designed to inform and combat the trends toward growing drug use.)

Thanks for music

Dear Editor, I just had to write and thank the Music Dept. of St. Johns High School for a wonderful evening of music on Varsity Night.

This is a group of young people that St. Johns can be proud of. All the hours of hard work by the teachers and students made them sound like young professionals.

EDITOR'S NOTE: While it is understandable that school officials and student leaders may be defensive concerning the information uncovered in the drug series, it is important to restate the fact that proof is readily available. PROCEEDINGS of the St. Johns City Council

The organizational meeting of the City Commission was called to order at 8:00 P.M. by Mayor Wood.

Commissioners Present: Ebert, Grost, Rand, Wood, Hannah.

Commissioners Absent: None. Staff Present: City Manager, City Clerk, City Attorney.

Mayor Wood stated that he would accept nominations for Mayor and Vice-Mayor.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to reappoint Robert H. Wood to a two year term as Mayor. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Hannah to close the public hearing since there was no one present that wished to discuss the proposed alley vacation. Motion carried.

In its last meeting on November 11 the House adopted the conference committee report by a nearly unanimous vote. The bill has now gone to the Senate with action on it expected to come during its December 9 session.

House Bill 2153 as it is now written would reclassify marijuana from a narcotic to a dangerous drug and, in accordance with the new Federal law, would change the crime of use from a felony to a misdemeanor.

Simple possession is defined, according to the bill, as possession of 25 grams or less of marijuana. Anyone convicted of possession of more than 25 grams, or of selling or dispensing of marijuana, will still be guilty of a felony, and face the stiffer felony penalties.

This legislation is expected to be more effective in helping law enforcement agencies and the courts control traffic in narcotics and dangerous drugs. The more realistic penalties are expected to increase convictions.

It is also expected to more effectively isolate the hard core pushers and users from the "experimenters" or "occasional users" of illegal substances.
