

US-27 business routes on agenda again

St. Johns

Business route alternatives from the planned US-27 freeway to serve St. Johns will be discussed at a public hearing Oct. 16 in St. Johns, according to the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

It will be held in Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School beginning at 8 p.m. At the request of public, private and civic groups in St. Johns, MDOT directed Wilbur Smith & Associates, the consulting firm which planned the freeway alignment, to develop business route alternatives.

The consultants have developed business route alternatives, using M-21 (Alternate A); Parks Road (B); Taft Road (C); and Price Road (D). (See map)

The M-21 and Price Road alternatives would connect with the freeway at interchanges already planned. The Parks and Taft road routes would connect with proposed interchanges, not previously planned.

The business route alternatives will be the subject of public informational meetings Sept. 25 at Smith Hall at the Clinton County Fairgrounds. Both the afternoon and evening sessions will be informal, with visitors welcome at any time from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Information, maps and other data pertinent to the alternatives are also available for review at the Clinton County clerk's office, the Clinton County Planning Commission, the St. Johns city clerk's office and the Bement Public Library.

The social, economic, environmental and transportation impacts of the four alternatives are included in a supplement to the Draft Alignment Environmental Impact Statement, dated March 9, 1977.

Copies of the supplement can be obtained from: Wilbur Smith & Associates, 809 Center St., Suite 102, Oakland Center, Lansing, Mich. 48906 (517) 485-6500

Co-op fate in farmers' hands

By Patrice Hornak
Editor

St. Johns Co-op?
What is the fate of the St. Johns Co-op?

That is the question that was posed to about 700 co-op patrons who were notified recently that the co-op is $400,000 in the red and is in need of some operating cash to carry it through the coming soybean and corn harvest.

At a meeting of patrons last Thursday evening at the elevator, farmers were asked to pledge $200,000 by today, Sept. 19, in order to keep the elevator running. Money is to be brought to the elevator by Thursday, Sept. 20.

Secretary of the St. Johns Cooperative Board of Directors, Francis Motz, explained that the co-op asked each farmer to contribute $1,000, knowing that some small farmers would not be able to give this much money. Approximately 225 people attended the Thursday evening meeting.

The pledges will be just that—pledges. They will be donations to the elevator and will not be repaid once the elevator gets back in the black. "There isn't time to sell debentures to get money into the system for this harvest," he explained.

Motz had no early indications of how well the co-op's plea for operating cash is going to succeed.

How did the co-op get $400,000 in the red?

"Inflation is a big cause of it," said Motz. "Ninety-five percent of the elevators in Michigan had a loss year," he offered. In simple terms, the co-op auditor said the co-op sold grain for less money than what it paid farmers for it.

Trying to please the local farmer, the co-op may have been paying farmers more for the grain than what the co-op could sell it for. "In the elevator business, there is a real fine line between profit and loss," said Motz. That fine line was crossed a few times too many and thus the elevator got into financial shortages.

Actually, for the last four years, the St. Johns Co-op has operated at a loss, losing maybe $20,000 or so. This resulted in the co-op not having money to buy grain from the farmers.

"Ideally, a co-op should operate like this: The farmers should expect to pay a little more for their seed and sell at less. Then at the end of the year, the profit is paid out in dividends rebated according to the amount of business the patron does with the co-op," said Motz.

This was the idea upon which the St. Johns Cooperative was founded back in 1919. Twenty farmers each donated $100 to get the elevator going. This was the only time donations were received in the elevator's 80-year history—up until this week.

Last year the co-op's sales hit the $8 million mark. However, a new computer system was installed and financial reports were not available to the board of directors headed by president Wilbur Thurston until recently. There was no accurate financial statement so the board wasn't aware of the co-op's cash flow.

Terry Fleming, St. Johns Co-op manager, was relieved of his duties two weeks ago. Richard Crumbaugh who was hired by St. Johns Co-op last winter as feed manager is now the acting manager. The staff at the elevator has been cut from 26-27 to 21 persons now and the revised 1979 budget drawn up since the co-op board became aware of the $400,000 loss, now shows a profit of over $400,000 by the end of the year if farmers back the co-op with their faith and commodities.

If the farmers pledge the $200,000, the elevator will buy grain as cash is available. Thereby, no bad checks will be written.

Clinton County farmers are already unsure of the elevator business, as the Boughton Elevator in DeWitt went bankrupt this past spring. That was a small elevator compared to the St. Johns Co-op. A number of other elevators around the state have been forced to close their doors or sell to another buyer.

The St. Johns Co-op isn't facing bankruptcy. However, if the shareholders don't support the co-op, there is always the possibility that it may be put up for sale.

Sunny weather cooperates for successful Home Tour

The sun shown bright on St. Johns and the Rochester Colony Saturday for the Clinton County Historical Society's fourth Home Tour festival.

Tour chairman Henrietta Teare said visitors came from all over Michigan. "It was a perfect day, we couldn't have asked for more," she said. The weather was beautiful and there was plenty for everyone to do and see.

Jeanne Temple, who organized the tour at the Rochester Colony, and also had her own home on display said Saturday's event was a real community project. "Everyone is pleased at how the day turned out," she said. "We are all happy that so many people came out to see what we have here."

The biggest community activity in the county seat, the Home tour is the Historical Society's major money maker and support for the Paine-Gillam-Scott museum.

As a sidelight to the tour of historic sites and homes, area clubs and churches set up booths, activities and food stands on the Court House lawn to entertain the crowd and earn money for their own organization.

Popcorn, pie, ice cream and lunches went well. Most booths sold out as did the Congregational Church's salad luncheon.

Out at the Rochester Colony the Duplain Church of Christ served a salad and homemade bread luncheon for "donation only" and at the end of the day turned the contributions of $504 over to the Historical Society.

Mrs. Mildred Brown, treasurer of the society and chairman for tickets said more than 900 were sold for the 10 a.m.-8 p.m. event. "It was a beautiful day and everything went very well," she said. "It looks like we will take in just a little over $4,400," she reported.

The total includes $136 taken in by the raffle chaired by Carole Klein. Prizes went to Dorothy Hansen of Flint; Barbara Sirrine of St. Johns and Carol Wellso of Okemos. They included a crocheted afghan by Mildred Countryman and two oil paintings donated by Ida Osborn.

Boat people strike up new life in Bath homes

By Sue Kiley
Editor

Bath Twp.

A kindergarten teacher and a dressmaker are looking for jobs. However, they are not your ordinary kind of job seekers. Anh and Zan are Vietnamese refugees, otherwise known as the "boat people."

A family of three and two sisters were taken in by members of the Bath community recently and it was an experience for everybody according to JoAnn Balzer. The Balzers hosted the two sisters, Anh and Zan for about four weeks.

"All we had to offer was the basement," she said. "But as soon as they saw two beds they threw themselves on them."

The two women were on a refugee boat for 16 days without food and water after they had left their homeland. Over 100 refugees were crammed on the small boat, which did not allow them to even move from their spot. When the boat finally reached the equator, the refugees received food, water, and a little rest.

"We were surprised at how westernized they were," Mrs. Balzer said. "Anh spoke English very well. There were only a few words she didn't know."

The Balzers learned quite a bit about the two young women who stayed with them. From what they could gather they came from a very wealthy family in Vietnam. However, when the Communists took over they took everything from the factory the family owned including the care and their home.

"Anh said she worked very hard and saved gold in hopes to buy a home," Mrs. Balzer related. "They took everything from them, though."

Anh and Zan paid money three times to get out of Vietnam, losing about $4,500. Their two brothers who are still in Vietnam have paid money twice, and see little hope of every leaving the country.

"The girls haven't heard from their parents in over a year. They just recently learned from a relative in Hong Kong that their father is alive. The women also have a married sister who escaped and is living in Los Angeles.

Before the sisters left Vietnam their mother gave the three girls matching rings. On their way to America the ship they were on was robbed by pirates who were taking what little the refugees had. The girls hid the rings, however, and the pirates left without finding them. One of the sisters ended up losing her ring in a refugee camp while washing clothes.

"It's been one thing after another," Mrs. Balzer commented.

The Vietnamese refugees refused to be interviewed or have their picture taken for the paper. One of the reasons they left Vietnam was because of Chinese spies among their family. They are fearful someone might be watching them in America also.

Mrs. Balzer is a pacifist. She was in college at the time of the Vietnam War, and although she was not an active protester she did not adhere to the ways of the war. For her it was a little hard to accept the refugees in ways, and still has mixed feelings.

The refugees on the other hand will not talk about the war or the American soldiers. The other family staying with Mary Donaghue in Bath was sympathetic to the Americans and were converted to Christians.

"The last thing I thought I'd be doing is helping Vietnamese build a new way of life," Mrs. Balzer said.

There has been a tremendous amount of work put in by members of the Bath community and the Gunnisonville Church. Hours have been spent driving them back and forth to social services, employment offices and Medicaid facilities. They have also been driven to Lansing Community College for English lessons.

One negative aspect the Balzers and Ms. Donaghue have had to contend with is sickness. Anh was very ill the first couple of weeks with severe stomach cramps and one member of the Nguyen family was thought to have tuberculosis.

Nguyen weighed 88 pounds and needs glasses and a better understanding of the English language before he will be able to get a job. Mrs. Balzer also commented he is still very timid.

Both refugee families are settled into apartments in Lansing as of last week. It took almost a 100 calls, but the two families are living in the same apartment building. The problem was not because they were Vietnamese, but that they had a child and that they were on welfare.

Having the refugees in their home was a lot of work, but the Balzers say it was a great experience for everyone. "It was something we just had to do," Mrs. Balzer concluded.

Ottmar Mergenthaler revolutionized the printing industry with his invention of the linotype machine on Aug. 24, 1884. Before his creation all type had to be hand-set, a slow time-consuming process. The linotype allowed printers to set whole lines of metal type in seconds, letting the printed word reach more people at a cheaper cost.

Sept. 12, 1873, was the date of the successful completion of the first practical typewriter by Christopher Sholes. The first patent on the timesaving device was as early as 1829, but it wasn't until Sholes' machine—invented in 1867, patented the next year and finally produced five years later—that the ingenious device with two rows of black walnut painted keys became popular with the public.

Intramurals attractive at RBW

St. Johns

Last year at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School, there were 1,545 participants in the junior intramural program, though some students were counted more than once as they participated in more than one program.

The statistics showed the St. Johns Board of Education at last Wednesday's meeting the great interest in the intramural program.

A report on the intramural program was given by Robert Kudwa, junior high principal. "It is easy to see that our primary goal of the intramural program is to get as many kids as possible involved regardless of their abilities," stated the report.

The intramural program offers activities such as golf, tennis, cross country, volleyball, bowling, snow skiing, ice broom hockey, frisbee golf and swimming. The "Almost Anything Goes" show, girls' and boys' softball and skiing attracted the most popularity among the students. The report by Kudwa also showed where 212 students participated in the interscholastic sports program offering football, basketball for boys and girls, girls' volleyball and cheerleading.

Also at last Wednesday's meeting: --the tax rate was set at 25.75 mills for 1979-80 and the debt levy was set at 2.30 mills.

--the district agreed to apply for a loan of $375,000 from the School Bond Loan fund. Last year was the first year the district agreed to apply for a loan to carry it through October and November until new taxes come through. However, the district discovered it did not need the loan and thus it never received loan funds.

--the board voted to raise the substitute teacher pay from $30 to $35 per day. The permanent substitute who subs more than 10 consecutive days in one classroom will receive $55 a day. Substitutes had not received a wage increase in eight years. Last year in the St. Johns school district there were 1,389 substitute days, according to Superintendent Dr. Donald Burns. Substitute were paid a total of $48,615 last year.

--the rental of Olive Center School to the Clinton County Intermediate School District was tabled.

--teacher resignations were received from Marilyn Potter, type C consultant; and Elizabeth Wisler, English teacher at the high school.

--new teachers were hired to replace other teachers who had resigned or retired. There are less teachers this school year than last year. New teachers include: Iva Adams, junior high English; Terri Brown high school business; Richard Burk, high school health-orientation; Gail Cotter, Swegles; Deborah Lynch, high school English; Emabeth Parker, high school art; Thomas Vibber, high school physical education; Daniel White, high school English; and Sherman Nickelson, high school electronics.

Electric company gets loan

Washington

Congressman Don Albosta (D-St. Charles) announced Sept. 11 that the Tri-County Electric Cooperative of Portland, will receive a $1,205,000 loan from the federal government.

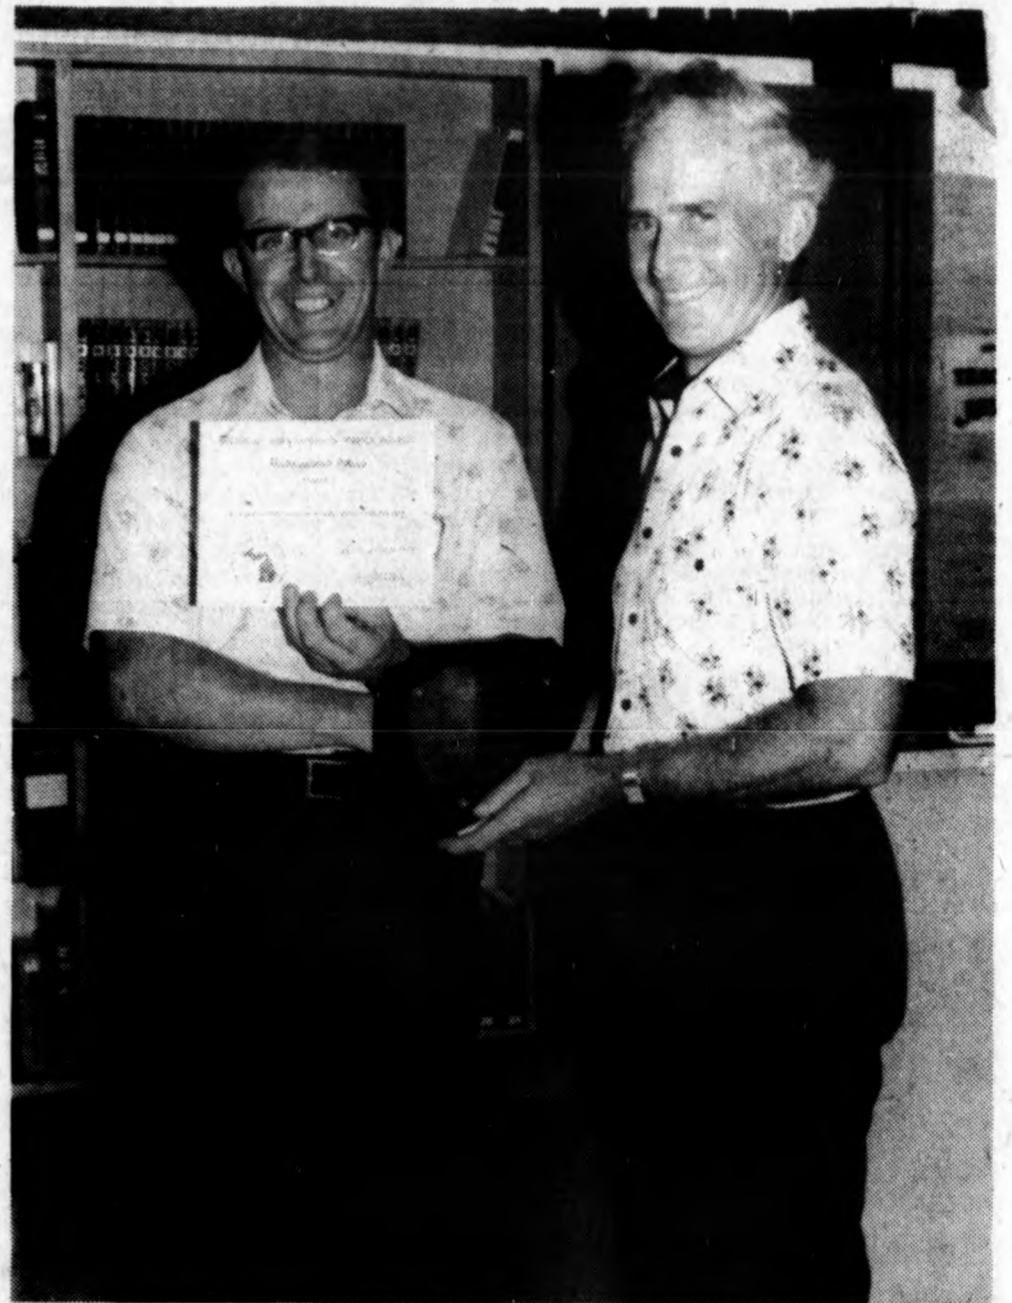

Albosta said the loan from the Rural Electrical Administration will be used to finance service for 1,040 additional customers for the cooperative. In addition, the money will be used to finance 76 miles of new line, and other improvements to the system.

The loan was granted at a five percent interest rate. Tri-County will obtain supplemental financing from the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation.

The cooperative serves parts of Clinton, Ingham, Clare, Gratiot, Isabella, Mecosta, Osceola, Barry, Ionia, Saginaw, Eaton, Jackson, and Montcalm counties.

Fowler board appreciation

Gerald Pohl, a 12-year veteran of the Fowler Board of Education, and a dedicated Fowler school district resident, was presented with a special plaque in recognition to his service to the district last Wednesday. Presenting the plaque was Clare Feldpausch, president of the Fowler board. Pohl served as president of the Fowler Board of Education from 1973-78 and he served on the board when both Waldron Elementary and the addition to Waldron were built. "In addition, he spent numerous hours attending meetings and helped build the kind of school system that we are all proud of," said Feldpausch in presenting the award. (Photo by Patrice Hornak)

Headlee costs Fowler school district $23,000

Fowler

Fowler's board of education set the operational millage rate at 24.276 mills for the 1979-80 school year and approved an additional 5.9 mills for debt retirement.

Fowler has 17 extra voted mills for operation and will receive 7.276 mills for the county, down from 8 mills received last year. The difference was due to the Headlee Amendment which caused .742 mills to be rolled back in the Fowler School District. Headlee cost Fowler $23,000 according to Superintendent Gary Jackson.

Community School District is suing the state because it claims the school state aide is non-equitable to schools throughout the state.

--set the annual budget hearing for Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

--accepted five tuition students. Tuition in Fowler is $100 for elementary students and $150 for high school students.

--passed a resolution to borrow $177,806 from Clinton Bank and Trust at 6.5 percent interest to carry the district until state aid payments come.

--presented a special service award to Gerald Pohl, former Fowler Board of Education president.

Historic Home Tour Festival, 1979 and a good time was had by all!

Waiting to see

Saturday's participants found short lines at most of the sites. More than 900 visitors saw historic homes, a church and school more than a century old, the county museum and an artist's studio. Here visitors line up to see the St. Johns home of Van and Cathy Cowan.

Antique autos

Old cars were the hit of the parade and a special display at the Court House greens. Car owners motored to Rochester Colony in the afternoon, were served lunch, and sang hymns at the 124 year old Methodist Church.

A little socializing

Out at Rochester Colony folks visited over the fence at the Royal Risley farm while visitors viewed the home. A tailgate farm market at Friendship Park, and a salad luncheon and antique display at the Duplain Church of Christ were additions to the rural part of the tour.

Handmade beauty

Quilts were plentiful Saturday, both in the backyard at the Royal Risley farm at the Colony, and in a spectacular show in St. Johns. Mrs. Risley has made "at least 200" quilts. At the Quilt Show, chaired by Linda Scranton, 100 old and new quilts were on display.

Special skill

On the Court House lawn, demonstrations included chair caning by Fred Barton. These women watched him go through the intricate weaving steps and questioned him for projects of their own.

Arts and crafts for sale

The St. Johns Men's Art Club's Show and Sell Arts and Crafts fair was bigger than ever this year as area artists and craftsmen brought their wares to show off and sell. Here local craftswoman, Kay Arehart, right and her daughters visit with the creator of these colorful hens, used for decorating and door stops.

Dancing feet

Square dancers were on parade with Dorothy and Wendell Law. The dancers from Bath and Maple Rapids also demonstrated in a special show during the street fair.

SENIOR CITIZEN UPDATE

By Ruth Delo

I went out to visit the Community Living Center on County Farm Road and found it very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury have been in charge of this facility for five years—he acting as superintendent and she as the matron. They try to make a "home" for the people that live there and some of them think their biggest worry is, "don't make me leave here."

There are four females working for them. One is the cook, another one does the washing and ironing and the other two keep the rooms clean. They do a very good job of it I think. The building itself is quite old, but they are doing their best to make it comfortable and home-like.

Two years ago the CETA boys came in and painted the rooms and this year all new carpeting has been put down in all the rooms. Mrs. Salisbury said the residents were so interested and happy when she put up some new sheer curtains, after all this is home to them.

The sleeping capacity is 31 beds, but at the present time they have 24 people. There are 20 men and four women. The men and women each have their own sections to live.

Their ages run from 19-82, so you see there is quite a variety. They feel that this is good as it makes each one aware of what others, of different ages, are like.

I met and talked with several of the "live ins" and found they come from all walks of life.

Some of you will probably remember French Holbrook. He is 76 years old and used to work for the newspaper here. His family has lived in this community since 1842 when his great grandfather settled here.

Many of these people have their own work projects. Gordon Pier is one who strips and finishes antique furniture with stain and varnish. He showed me a table he had refinished and it was beautiful. He also likes to help with the gardening.

This facility used to really farm the lands around it, but now they only have a large garden. So many of these people love to be outdoors, so it doesn't present any problem getting them to help with the garden work. It provides fresh vegetables for the table and good exercise for these residents of the Center.

Some of the work within the building is also done by the people living there. One lady, Mary Pavelia, is from Yugoslavia and doesn't even speak English, although Mrs. Salisbury can make her understand some things. After meals she likes to take care of things in the dining room and even though it takes her an hour or more they let her "do her thing" and she is happy doing it.

This a two-story structure and those who would have trouble going up and down stairs stay and live on the first floor. Most of the bedrooms have two or three beds in each one, but there is a bedroom or two with only one bed. The younger boys are assigned to the same room so they can listen to the kind of music they like and watch the kind of TV they want to.

It used to be "lights out" was at 10 p.m. So many are in the middle of a movie or a program at that time, so now they can stay up later if they are quiet enough so as not to disturb others. There is a large lawn to walk around as much as they desire and lawn chairs under the trees for their convenience.

Some of the people had good hobbies but didn't want me to mention what they were or who they were. I guess they are a little shy.

One very interesting man is Harry Prisk. He is 60 years old and is crippled with Cerebral Palsy. They have provided a place for his loom on the second floor. There he sits many hours of the day making rag rugs on his loom.

As you can see by the picture there are many threads involved in making the rugs and he strings them all by himself. He cuts and gets the rags all ready for the rugs. Mrs. Salisbury says she buys the pretty colored material for him. They call him Poncho or Ponch and this suits him very well.

For recreation they take them fishing, into town when they go for groceries, to a circus, and someone has provided tickets for them to go to a Western Show. They try to see that they get as much activity as is available to them. With pride they say that a 1980 12-seated van or mini-bus is on order for them. They are quite excited about that.

You are asking, by now, how do these people become a part of this Community Living Center? If a patient leaves the hospital and doesn't have a place to go because he or she is not able to care for himself or no one to care for him, they can contact the Community Living Center at 224-4514 or call Social Services at 224-7772 and ask for Mrs. Green.

Sometimes an elderly person is living with a son or daughter and it becomes necessary to find another home, perhaps from over-crowded conditions or temperaments, etc. They they could be accepted at Community Living Center.

The young might live there because of problems at home, and sometimes a person needs a period of this kind of living before starting out on their own, after having been in a mental hospital. Three times a week these people are taken to the Day Care Center and they help them become adjusted to outside living.

Paul Burnham, a 21-year-old fellow, comes in for part-time work to help with the "live ins". He helps them get a bath and makes it a fun time, sometimes, with a bubble bath or something that will add to their better hygiene. They love him and look forward to his arrival. He gives them a lift and all of us need a lift once in a while.

At Christmas time some of the church groups help with a party and gifts. The Boy Scouts usually decorate a tree for them. The Jaycees also help to make their Christmas more enjoyable. It is nice that others are interested in them and what happens.

They have a lounge with a TV on both floors, but they do have a need for some comfortable arm chairs.

This was a fun interview and I really enjoyed talking to these people. Let's make their lives as happy as we can. So...until next time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

What can we do now?

Dear Editor:

The 7th of June some of our dreams started coming true. My sons opened up their second pizza store. The first was doing well and they wanted to have one in their own hometown. We were given a great welcoming and all seemed so good.

Shortly after we opened the store we noticed there is very little law enforcement in this little town. We started noticing around 9:30 p.m. that there were a lot of cars cruising up and down the street in front of our store. Shortly after this we noticed youths from 12 years and some teens walking up and down the streets. As days went by we noticed a lot of noisy commotion on the streets around 9-10 p.m. every night getting worse on weekends.

The youths started coming in our carry-out store using dirty obscene language, sitting under our store window on the sidewalk smoking what smelled like pot, drinking, using obscene language. When my son and I asked them if they would move on down the street some of them did, but the ones that wouldn't have led us into a nightmare.

They have harassed us to the breaking point—calling names, spitting on the windows, throwing fire crackers into our store, throwing smoke bombs into our store, egging our delivery truck, breaking glass in front of the store, lying and sitting on our customers' cars.

We tried to ask them nicely to stay away from the front of the store but they only laughed at us. Then the night of the DeWitt Ox Roast they were so rowdy it was scary. That night a couple of young boys threw pop bottles in front of the store and broke them. I told them I would get a broom and they could sweep up the glass but they told me to go to H--- and said a few other very obscene things.

Now in the last few weeks we had to call the City Police Dept. on a lot of things, such as the smoke bombs getting thrown into the store, obscene language, sitting on the sidewalk in front of the store, calling us dirty names, shining spot lights on the eye that controls the street lights so that all the street lights would go out. They seemed to take all this vandalism and such so lightly. They made us feel like it was our fault for noticing all this or complaining about it.

Well after that night things seemed to be worse and worse. The longer we are here we seemed to notice things that I still can not believe. It was like our small loveable hometown turned into something unbelievable. I started seeing things I had read about and never dreamed really happened coming true and happening right before our eyes, seeing it night after night, the drinking in the streets, dancing in the street, drugs sold right out on the streets, traffic violations, merchants' property moved out into the streets (a swing set) and the youths playing on it, street lights being turned off by someone shining spot lights on electric lights, fire crackers, smoke bombs being thrown, building fires in the streets, destruction of property (benches, trees, awnings on merchants windows being destroyed, urinating in the streets and on the trees and in corner store front doors, breaking beer and pop bottles in the streets, spitting on store windows, shooting BB guns at store windows, egging cars, store fronts, and people, trying to set each other on fire, throwing fire crackers at cars and in our store at our delivery truck, blocking the delivery truck's way, spitting at us, saying obscene things at my age I have never heard anyone say before, pulling leaves off our newly planted trees and building fires in store fronts and in the streets. It's like a big rock concert. I have so much to tell you I don't really know how. I hope all of this is not running together for you.

We tried not to care what they did outside as long as it does not affect us because this is the way the police make us feel like we are supposed to do.

I have so much more I could tell you. But I am trying to work up to last night, Sept. 15 without taking up too much more of your time.

Well, all of this harassment has gotten worse over this last week. It really came to a head starting the week of Sept. 9th-15th. During the week of Sept. 9th-15th, during the week they spit on our window, threw fire crackers into the store and in front of the store, blocked the delivery truck's way, threatened our delivery boy, shoved my son, trying to get him to hit them so as they can "sue him" because they are minors, forcing their way into the store, spit at us and used such awful obscene language.

When I was getting ready to take our floor mats outside to sweep them, one of them opened the door and threw a fire cracker at me. I was so shook up I went out the door after them. Being a mother of seven and a grandmother of five I guess I should have been able to control myself. But I couldn't.

I started shouting at the minors that I was going to call the police on them and sign a complaint on them. Well, one of them shoved me, then my son came running out of the store and the minor shoved me again. My son stepped in between the minor and me but he reached around him and tried to shove me and so my son sprayed some Guardian in his face to defend me.

The minor kicked my son in groin very hard. He fell to the ground. His wife came running out of the store with the fire extinguisher and started spraying them with it but they backed off. My daughter was phoning the police. My son crawled into the store and collapsed. His wife was still spraying the fire extinguisher.

The police came. We were all very upset. They had to take my son to the hospital in an ambulance while we were closing up our store.

These minors signed a complaint on us. They let him go and let him sign a complaint on us. They also let us sign a complaint and the officer in charge told us the prosecuting attorney would probably issue a warrant out for my son's arrest.

Before last night, Sept 15, we begged the city police. I talked to the County Sheriff we got a petition listing all of the complaints being true. We talked to the city attorney and did everything we knew to do to keep all this from happening but they won't listen to us.

Please help me. What can we do? What kind of a world is this? What kind of law is this? Why do we have to take all this?

We have so many really nice teen youngsters and adults that are good.

Customers, why do we have to put up with so much of this harassment from these few? They are already expelled from school. Now they have started to harass us during our lunch hours at the store.

What can we do? Which way do we go? Do we join them out there--be like them--stoop to their level?

Last night I guess we finally realized why we are being harassed, as these minors were shouting at us, "to get out of here we were here first."

We will not close this store for these few minors. We will not bend to their demands. My boys are very young but are hard workers and always have been. They worked hard a lot of years for their own stores. I won't let these few push them out.

Why the hard-helmets, night sticks?

Letter To The Editor

Today, Sept. 17, 1979, I was a witness to the mass demonstration held at Federal-Mogul. I was sickened by the sight of a city police car arriving with six officers wearing hard-helmets and carrying night sticks. The officers immediately started "pushing and shoving" strikers without a word of warning. I still cannot understand what Chief French could have been thinking of when he ordered this done. What was intended to be a peaceful demonstration could easily have turned into a free for all.

While the police were busy harassing the strikers (who help pay their wages), a car was parked on my lawn. I placed a call to the police department to get it removed, only to find that there were no cars available to answer my call since they were at Federal-Mogul. Thank God my life or the lives of my children were no in danger.

When Chief French was asked by a striker as to why he was on Federal-Mogul's side and not on theirs since the strikers are paying his wages too, he said that he was not getting paid enough. I wonder how much it does take to get him on your side.

Thanks, Historical Society

A super thankyou to the Historical Society for brightening up St. Johns, last Saturday the 15th.

From the courthouse lawn displays, the Home Tour, the participation of the St. Johns High School Band (in brand new uniforms), and perfect planning of the events just made the day.

I have reason to believe the Historical Society even controlled the weather.

What a fabulous job.

Thanks again.
Sincerely,

We want clean downtown streets

I would like to know what we have to do to get the City of St. Johns to clean the downtown streets. Today is the Home Tour and many people will be here from other towns and will see what I saw this morning—the same garbage in the gutter I've looked at for two weeks now. Talk about taxes, the downtown merchants really get the shaft. We pay taxes on our building and taxes on what's inside and get no Garbage Service. We buy the trees, the benches and repair the sidewalks. What the downtown looks like is what visitors remember.

I hope everyone who reads this letter will call City Hall and tell them we want clean streets downtown.

★ Tour

Ron and Lillian Hyler organized a successful Flea Market at the junior high school with 24 vendors.

The Quilt Show hosted more than 700 viewers for the collection of 100 antique and new quilts.

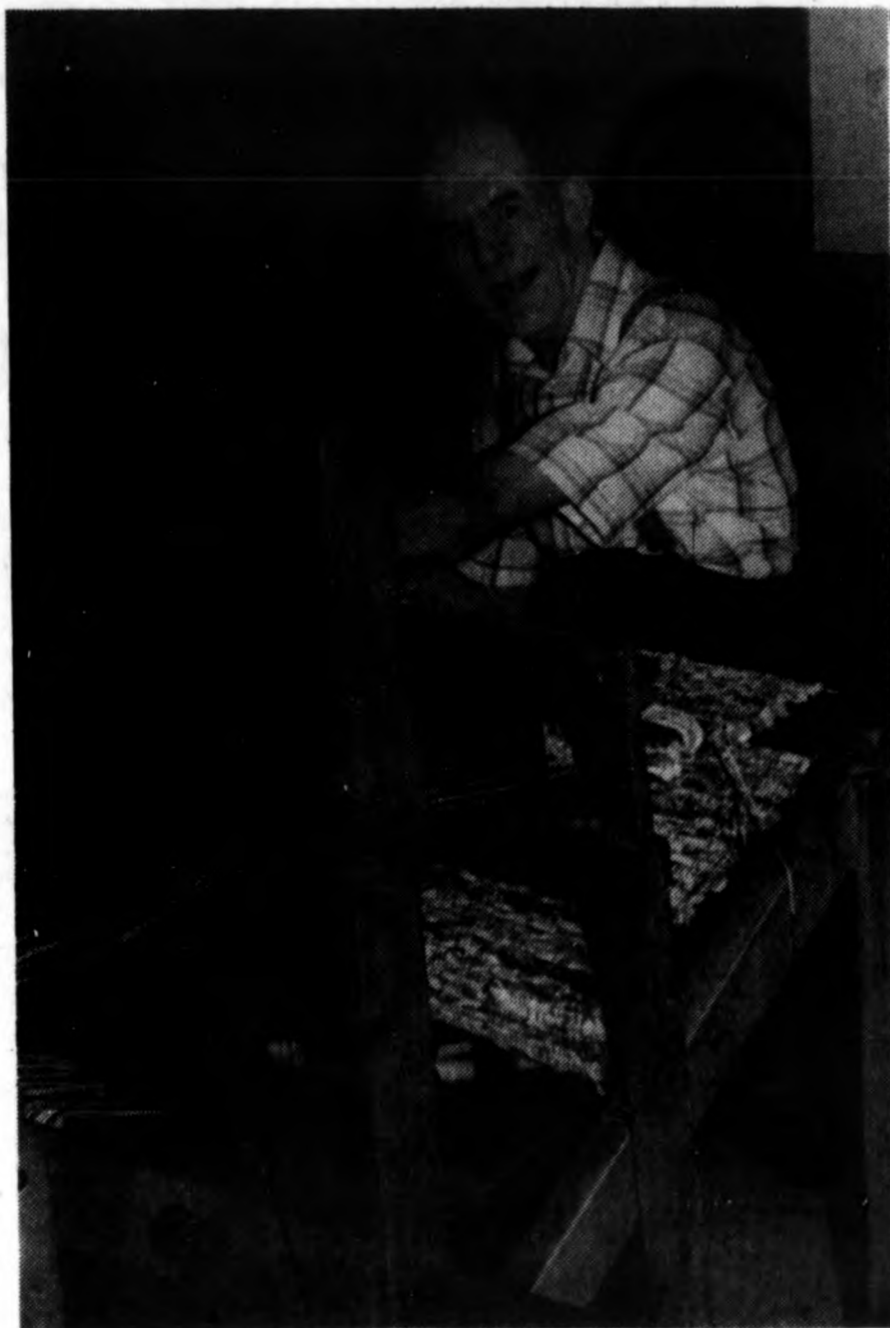

At the Paine-Gillam-Scott museum, one of the tour stops, Lions Club members played host in the front room where a special display featured items collected by Ralph and Dody Lynam from trips around the world as International Lions Club president.

Despite an audience of nearly 600 during the tour on Saturday, Bob and Lee Walling, museum assistants said 37 people came through the 1860 house on Sunday. Two groups included parents who had been through the museum on Saturday and brought their children on Sunday. A popular museum addition is an Edison Amberola that museum staff played in an upstairs room. The wind up music maker has more than 150 rolls of music and comic records from 1913 through the 1920's. It was a recent donation from Leona Stockwell Rumbaugh of Bannister.

A lively parade filled Clinton Avenue at noon with many marching entries. Patterson & Sons substituted at the last minute with a tractor and driver to pull the Senior Citizen display, according to Jean Clark, parade chairman.

Mrs. Clark said the 24 antique cars on display were all from Clinton County. Most are owned by members of the Hub Antique Auto Club. The noon parade has become a happy addition to the home tour. "We are very pleasantly surprised at the crowd we got," Mrs. Clark said.

The old cars were arranged into a group to motor out to The Colony in the afternoon where members had lunch at the Dunlain Church of Christ and sang hymns at the Colony's Methodist Church built in 1855.

Grandma Reese sells fine sweet corn

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

DeWitt Twp.

The sweet corn is all gone now at the Reese farm. If the weather holds out what's left in the field will be used by the family and friends and neighbors who come and pick their own.

Young Robert Reese III, who at 22 years of age, now runs the farm will get to his other tasks like filling the silo. Since the third week of July until September 12, he and his helper, Doug, have been kept busy with his grandmother's hobby, selling fine sweet corn to passers-by.

Tables are set up under shady trees in the farmhouse yard and signs are put up out on Clark Road and US-27 directing customers to the best sweet corn in Clinton County.

The Reese farm is notorious for excellent sweet corn and it all started 25 years ago when Maggie Reese had extra corn in her garden and carried it out to the road in her apron.

Today Robert plants 25 acres of sweet corn, staggering maturation dates so the family has corn to offer from the third week of July into September. The early corn matures in 67 days and the late corn in 94 days. Planned plantings keep it ripening perfectly over a seven to eight week period.

In her 80's, Maggie Reese is a joy to her customers. During sweet corn season she works long hours at the stand, getting pleasure in serving the friends and customers who come back year after year. "You wouldn't believe the people who come back, like old friends, or all the kisses and hugs I get," she said.

Mrs. Reese said that customers tell one another and bring more customers. "We saw so many new faces this year," she said. Except for the signs, the family does very little advertising. The corn, sold by the dozen, has gone off to Alaska, Tennessee, Massachusetts, Florida and even Iowa. There's plenty of field corn in Iowa but not any fine sweet corn, according to Mrs. Reese's customer.

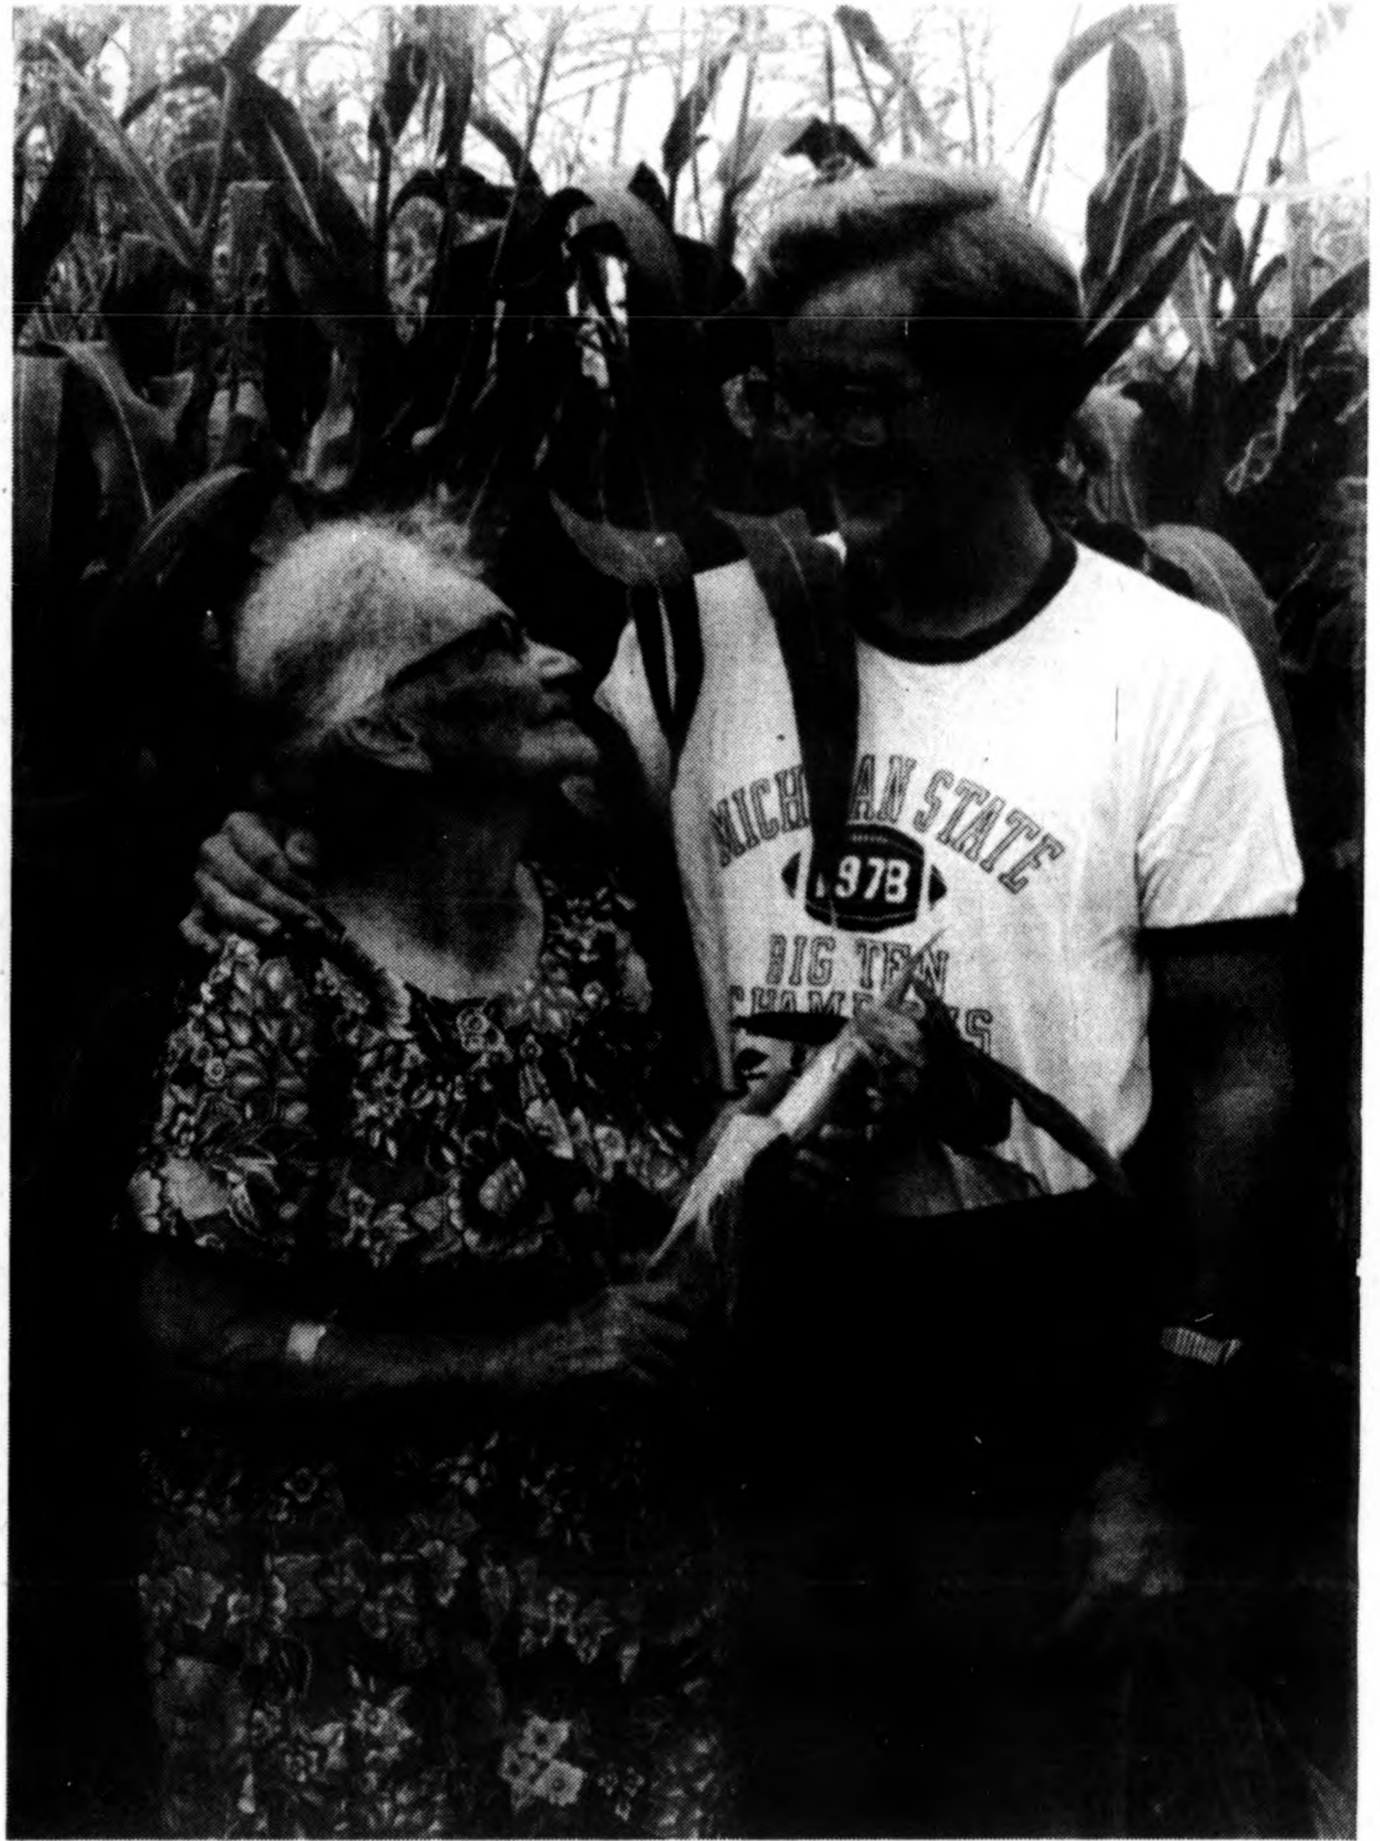

After so many years, it's a hobby with an obligation. The Reese family motto is "Never a bad ear," and they guarantee to replace any corn that a customer can't use. The corn is sprayed for worms but sometimes one shows up anyway. It's their biggest dread.

"We've built our business on pleasing people," Mrs. Reese said. "We wouldn't break a trust for the world." The Reese family strives to keep customers happy and satisfied. The corn is picked every few hours all day long so that it is always fresh. Robert and Doug still pick it all by hand. "Bobby's done a marvelous job," his grandma brags.

The corn business is tied tightly to the Reese family. Robert and his sisters helped their grandmother pick and sell corn every year as they grew up on the farm. This year the youngest, Carol, was home from Colorado with her own daughter, who scooted around the table in her walker while Great-grandma Maggie sold corn and visited with her customers.

"I always said I had something good started," Mrs. Reese reflects, "then my son became part of it and now it's my grandson. I'll be down there myself helping as long as God gives me strength," she vowed.

"It was lovely this year," she said, "so many people, such kind and wonderful people." They call me, grandma and they always ask my age. I say I'm not old, I've just been young a long time."

March of Dimes Bike-a-thon Sept 29th

St. Johns

There may be a bit of confusion this year about the March of Dimes Bike-a-thon because this year's bike-a-thon is set for Saturday, Sept. 29 and on Saturday, Sept. 22 there's a bike-a-thon to benefit St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

This year will mark the third consecutive year the March of Dimes Bike-a-thon will be staged in Clinton County. Eaton and Ingham County March of Dimes bike-a-thon will also be held in concurrence with the Clinton bike-a-thon.

Registration will begin on Sept. 29 at 7:30 a.m. at Smith Hall and bikers will get their two wheelers at 8 a.m., according to Thomas Nemcik, coordinator of the bike-a-thon. Bikers under the age of 18 must have their registration and waiver forms signed.

Last year 28 persons raised nearly $1,000 to fight birth defects through the mark of Dimes Bike-a-thon. Nemcik is hoping to double or triple that number.

The entire 15-mile bike-a-thon route to be traversed three times will be on blacktopped roads monitored by Community Radio Watch.

Bikers will accept pledges of 10 cents per mile or more from friends and relatives and then on Saturday, the number of miles the bikers travel will determine how much money will go to the March of Dimes. It is not a race.

Pledge forms will be at Clinton county schools and additional information may be obtained by contacting Nemcik at Clinton Bank and Trust's main office in downtown St. Johns. A rain date has been set for Sept. 30,

Completes training

Roger Dershem, installer-repairperson in St. Johns for General Telephone Company, has recently completed training subscriber carrier repair procedures at the company's Muskegon headquarters.

The course teaches the student to test, align and repair "carrier" equipment associated with both long distance and local service. "Carrier systems" provide the means for simultaneously transmitting more than one message over a single channel.

Dershem, who is a graduate of St. Johns High School and has attended Lansing Community College, resided with his wife Mary Ann and their two children Dianne and Kathylean at 3701 N. DeWitt Rd., St. Johns.

Bikers ready to 'Ride for Lisa' this Saturday

The "Ride for Lisa" Bike-A-Thon this Saturday is now well underway, thanks to some hard working committee chairpersons. They are Maurice Witteveen and Lannie Fisher in charge of the route, Mike VanRooyen and Ben Manning for recruiting, Mike Dietz for Prizes, Salley Beck for publicity, and overall bike-a-thon chairman Pete Witteveen.

Funds raised support St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, the largest childhood cancer research institution in the world. Cancer is second only to accidents as a killer of children in this country. Since opening in 1962, this non-sectarian research center has become the leader in developing new treatment procedures to save children stricken by catastrophic diseases.

"We need riders, but not only that we need the community to support them. Please make this ride a real success," said Pete Witteveen.

Riders may report to the pavilion in the park at 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 22. Refreshments will be served. Pick up sponsor forms at Rodney B. Wilson, St. Joseph, Teresa Merrill, Perin Palmer, Swegles and Central schools.

For further information call Pete Witteveen at 224-3830.

Flu clinics set up in Clinton

Influenza (or "flu") is a respiratory disease caused by a virus. There are two main types of influenza viruses- A and B. Each type includes many related viruses or strains, each different from the other, according to the Mid-Michigan District Health Department.

Influenza illnesses vary from very mild to severe, and depend on factors such as the individual's susceptibility and General Physical condition. Influenza is a serious illness among the elderly and chronically ill.

Elderly and chronically ill adults and children are most likely to face the risk of death or complications during flu epidemics, particularly those who suffer from heart or respiratory illness.

Vaccinations will be offered for individuals 60-years-old and older at these sites. These clinics have been made possible through the joint efforts of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department and Clinton County Commission on Aging and Nutrition Site Owners.

Clinics will be set up for the "high risk population" those individuals 18-years-of-age or older with chronic conditions such as diabetes; diseases of the heart, lung or kidneys; severe anemia; or chronic illnesses (or medications) which lower the body's resistance to infection, including certain malignancies and immunoppressive therapy and individuals 65 years or older.

Schedules will be publicized at a later date. For further information regarding these clinics contact your local health department, Clinton County 224-7772.

UAW stages rally at Federal-Mogul

St. Johns

There were a few scratched cars and a few kicked hub caps when Federal-Mogul salaried employees tried to drive into the plant's fenced parking lot Monday morning as striking UAW Federal-Mogul production workers staged a rally in front of the entrance to the parking lot.

But, St. Johns Police Chief Lyle French said basically the rally went smoothly. "It could have been a lot worse--but it could have been a lot better," he said. Ten uniformed law enforcement officers brought the salaried employees' cars into the parking lot, one by one.

About 500 Federal-Mogul production employees are on strike, with 475 going out Aug. 10 and about 75 going out last June. They are members of the United Auto Workers Local 925. The UAW and Federal-Mogul are trying to reach their first contract, as the plant recently went union this summer.

Police called to Montry's Pizza

St. Johns

Police were called to Montry's Pizza in downtown St. Johns three times last Saturday, the final time to break up a fight which sent the restaurant owner to the hospital.

Montry's Pizza has been the object of vandalism, firecrackers, obscene language and harassment of its customers and staff recently by a group of teenagers and young 20's. The problem came to a head Saturday night.

According to police reports, two St. Johns police Department officers were dispatched to Montry's to disperse a group of kids in front of the pizza restaurant around 11:23 p.m. Only minutes later, the police were called back to Montry's after the building had been egged.

Police officers stopped one car of young people suspected of doing the egging. After one of the car passengers started cussing at the officer and wouldn't comply with the officer's instructions to shut his mouth, the 22-year-old young man was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Arrested at 11:53 p.m. was Carl Orson of 600 N. Lansing St. He was lodged in the Clinton County jail.

About an hour later, police were called back to Montry's to disperse a fight. Mrs. Connie Montry, mother of restaurant owner Mike Montry, claims some youths threw firecrackers at her when she went to shake out the rugs prior to closing. Her son came to her defense, spraying Guardian, in the face of one of the youths. A fight ensued and Mike was kicked in the groin and sent to the hospital.

The youth claims Mike Montry started the fight. He has filed charges against Mike and Mike has filed charges against the youth.

Chief French said Montry's has been the focus of vandalism and harassment lately because Montry's refuses to serve the persons who they believe are doing the harassment and because Mrs. Montry circulated a petition among downtown merchants, listing the complaints against these teens and young adults.

Downtown merchant Barry Dean agreed with the chief saying that there has always been a problem with vandalism done by the youths in the downtown district, but Montry's is the focus of their attention now. He believes the situation was a lot worse with the 18-year-old drinkers.

St. Johns is not the only city with a teen problem. Eaton Rapids, Charlotte and Ithaca have all reported similar teen gang problems in recent months.

Dean is by no means slighting the problem, however. His business, Dean True Value Hardware, has operated 35 years and in those 35 years, he has had five large plate glass windows broken, including three in the last 2 1/2 years.

Bill Patton from Capitol Savings and Loan said the youngsters "lack pride in community" and he termed the debris of cans and broken bottles and litter in the downtown district "ridiculous."

Chief French said his department has been putting extra surveillance on the downtown district but he also said, "We can't have an officer down there 24 hours a day because other people would like protection too."

Chesaning next for Redwings

St. Johns grid team blasts Waverly

Redwing flies

Bob Sutherland, St. Johns running back (12), has been a hard man to contain this fall. Against Lansing Waverly Friday, he rushed for 167 yards and scored three touchdowns of a 55-26 St. Johns win. (Staff Photo)

Lansing

Those St. Johns football fans who thought the extravagant win over Charlotte in the season opener was something, didn't know what Redwing coach Joe Gonzales had in store for Friday.

It turned out to be a 55-26 swamping of Class A Lansing Waverly.

But the Redwings haven't time to sit around, patting themselves on the collective backs, because this week's foe, Chesaning, makes the first two look a little easy.

"Really it is all academic," Gonzales said, "because the big one is this week. It was nice enough to win these first two, but they are just warm ups for this week."

But Gonzales is being careful with the game at Chesaning.

"The only thing I don't want to do is make it too big of a game," he said, "because I have seen some of our kids get too psyched up over a big game."

"I just want to go about preparing for this as a normal game."

But a "normal" game it won't be. It is very possible, Gonzales said, that the winner of Friday's struggle could go on to win the Mid-Michigan B Conference crown and a Class B playoff berth.

It doesn't help the Redwings to be facing a Chesaning team still stinging from a 22-21 loss to Otisville-Lakeville Friday.

What shouldn't hurt St. Johns was the shattering win over Waverly.

With a 21-point opening period and a resounding 27-point final stanza, the Redwings wrapped up the high-scoring win. In the end St. Johns rushed for 319 yards, adding 86 through the air for a 403-263 total yards advantage over Waverly.

The Redwings scored on eight of 14 possessions in the game, punted just once and scored on its first three possessions.

"Our offensive punch was good," Gonzales said, "and yet I still see some things I don't like."

Senior swingback Bob Sutherland got the Redwings on the board first when he caught a 24-yard pass from Senior quarterback Todd Bakita at the 8:01 mark of the opening quarter.

Senior halfback Pete Minott then caught a 12-yard pass from Bakita, who was two-for-7 for 36 yards, as the quarter ended.

Waverly finally scored four minutes into the second period when Rinn Evans went 10 yards. The Warriors trimmed the margin to a touchdown at halftime when Steve Schmidt scored on a one-yard run.

"Well, we got out on them early, 21-0," Gonzales said, "then they had to battle back, which they did 21-14. But they couldn't keep us from scoring again."

Which the Redwings did, midway through the third quarter on a 27-yard run by Minott, who rolled up an impressive 83 yards rushing. Waverly trimmed the margin again, this time on a 36-yard

On The Mark

by Mark Haney

When football coaches speak of prospects or, when they just get together and talk about players they have known, the talk often heads for such attributes as size or speed.

Players who are big or teams that were big often get mentioned. A player that was very fast will sneak into the conversation.

But one part of a football player, or any athlete for that matter, that gets left out of the conversation is heart. And that is because it can't be measured by any scale or with any stopwatch.

It either is there or isn't. And if it isn't, then all the weight, all the height and all the speed in the world can't make it appear.

Friday when Ovid-Elsie's small, out-sized football team took the field in Bridgeport, they had heart in players like 130-pound John Sovis and 140-pound John Micka.

And when Bath took the field against people like Perry and Hartland, huge football teams by Bath's comparison, the Bees had the heart too.

And that turned them both from out-and-out losers to winners.

It will take me a long time to forget the display of emotion put on by Micka and Sovis against Bridgeport.

They didn't yell and scream. Sovis, for one, made many a game-saving tackle against the bigger Bearcats, but one, on a two-point conversion attempt by Bridgeport, was priceless.

The Bearcat back was going around end and had turned the corner. He seemed a sure bet to score, just a yard away and momentum was with him. But from out of the blue came Sovis, and he not only kept the opponent from scoring, but knocked the player out of bounds with a blow that was, to put it clearly, brutal.

No one knows where players like Bath's Mike Zeeb get their heart at. It doesn't appear to be hereditary, or else people might start breeding for such a trait. It just is something that comes from within. And no coach or opponent can begin to gauge how much of it there is in any given players.

He just has it or he doesn't.

But if he does, then you can toss out all the talk about size and speed. 'Cause, all you gotta have is heart.

Fowler tosses Fulton for second loss

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

Fowler

It was like watching two stars passing in the night, one on the rise the other falling.

That was what it was like Friday at Fowler High as Fowler toppled long-time Central Michigan Athletic Conference power Fulton, 30-12.

Fulton, 9-0 for three straight seasons and winners of the CMAC title for three straight seasons, now finds its record a perfectly imperfect 0-2 while Fowler rides the top of the CMAC along with Pewamo-Westphalia and Olivet at 2-0.

"They still are a fine football team," Fowler Coach Steve Spicer said. "And we have been in that kind of position before. We won 20 straight then had a 3-6 year. I don't think Fulton's a better team than 3-6, though."

After Fulton scored in the first quarter on a four-yard run by senior halfback Jeff McVannel, it was all Fowler and Fowler all the way as the Eagles never trailed again.

Fowler retook the lead on a 58-yard drive that ended with a 20-yard burst by senior halfback Dave Weiber. Coupled with junior halfback Tom Weber's conversion run, the Eagles went ahead 8-6.

The lead grew in the second quarter when the Eagles capped another 58-yard drive with an eight-yard run by Weiber, Weiber adding the conversion run.

Fulton trimmed the half-time lead to just 16-12 when senior fullback Buzz Hanson scored for Coach John Wachmuth's Pirates on a 50-yard run.

But Fowler iced the win with a 60-yard drive in the third quarter for a touchdown on a seven-yard run by senior halfback Doug Koenigs-knecht. Senior quarterback Neil Hufnagel then found senior end Terry Thelen for the conversion. Koenigs-knecht capped a 70-yard drive by pulling down a 17-yard aerial from Hufnagel for the score.

Yet Spicer said the game was a lot closer that the score would have one believe.

"The score was not an indication of the game," he said. "It was a lot closer. It was a very hard-hitting football game."

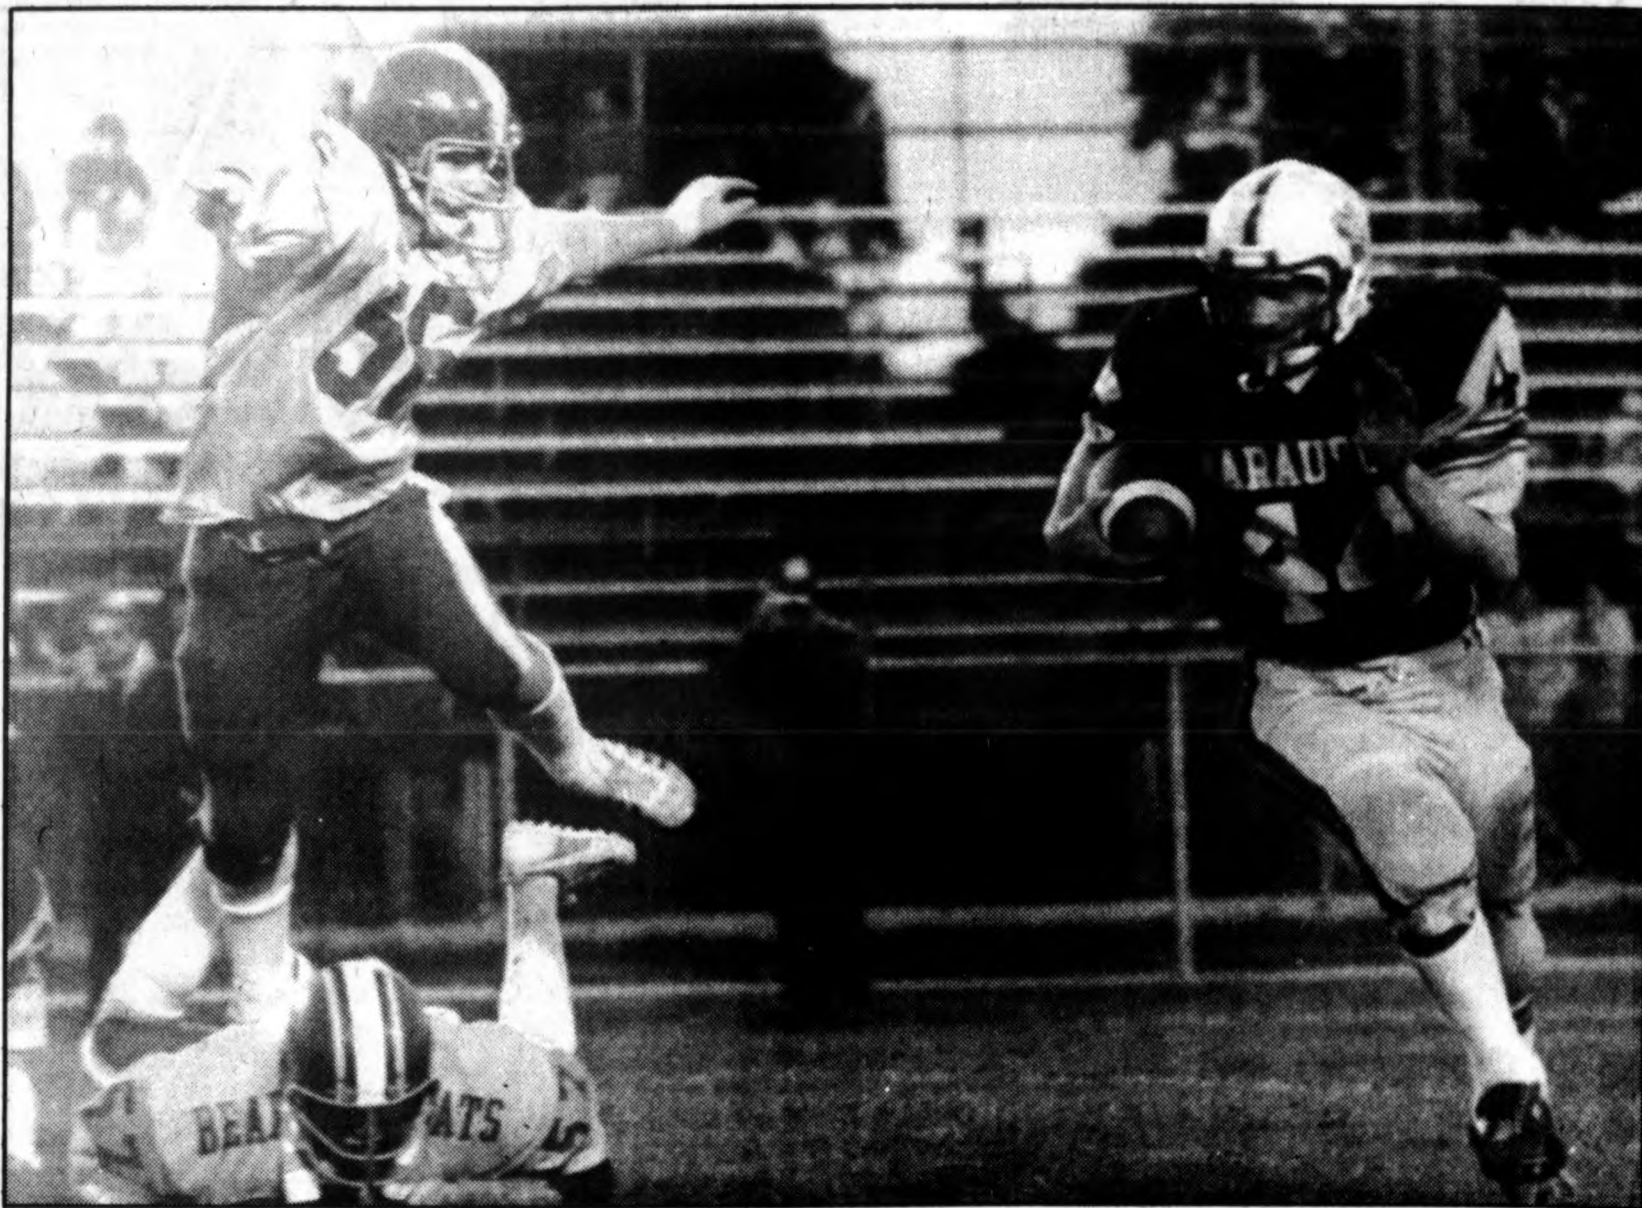

"But the victory was an entire team effort. There were no real stars. Our offensive line (Terry Thelen, Dick Schafer, Lou Simon, Bob Pung, Tom Osborne, Kevin Thelen, Dave Wirth) did an outstanding job."

That line paved the way for Fowler backs to accumulate 223 yards rushing while with Koenigs-knecht carrying 15 times for 86 of those yards. Weiber added 95 more yards on 14 carries.

Concentration

Ovid-Elsie senior halfback Kurt Tullar (44) seems oblivious of the efforts of Bridgeport tackle Bob Edgley (56) as the Marauder back heads off tackle. Tullar managed 49 yards in his 17 carries Friday as Class B Ovid-Elsie toppled Class A Bridgeport, 14-12. It was the Marauders' first win this season. (Photo by Mark Haney)

Ovid-Elsie stuns 'Goliath' Bridgeport

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

Bridgeport

It took the play of two of the smallest Marauders—5-foot-8, 135-pound John Micka and 5-foot-9, 136-pound John Sovis—to allow the Ovid-Elsie football team succeed at "David" opposite Bridgeport's "Goliath" Fridays the Marauders won a 14-12 game.

For it was Micka's clutch kicking and Sovis' clutch defense that aided the Class B, nearly Class C, Marauders to defeat Class A, Bridgeport at Bridgeport.

"The kicking game, coached by my assistant Bill Foran, won the game," Ovid-Elsie Coach Russ Pope said. "Good punting by John Sovis and the two extra point kicks by John Micka were the key to our victory."

But Micka and Sovis nearly didn't get the chance to be heroes, for in the first half, both squads desperately tried to give the game away. Only a 20-yard pass from Bearcat senior quarterback Greg Moskal to junior flanker Jeff Thompson—and a tipped pass at that—with 19 seconds left, allowed either team to score before haltime.

On Bridgeport's first possession of the third quarter, the Bearcats were pinned back to their own six before punting. On a fourth and seven, the Marauders' junior quarterback Rick Winkler passed to senior end Tim O'Donnell, who carried to the one. That set up a scoring run by senior halfback Kurt Tullar.

And Micka's kick put Ovid-Elsie ahead 7-6.

Moskal intercepted a Winkler pass in the fourth quarter to help set up Bridgeport's second, and seemingly winning touchdown. But it took some clutch passing. On a fourth-and-five, Moskal hit senior end Brian Flory for a first down at the 35. On an ensuing third and-10, Moskal tossed a screen pass to junior fullback Byron Kurkowski, and he took the ball to Ovid-Elsie's 20. Kurkowski eventually carried the ball to the five where Moskal found senior flanker Julius Washington open on a slant in for the score.

But Sovis made his most valiant effort on the two-point conversion try when he bounced Kurkowski out of bounds at the one, saving what would have been the tying points.

Ovid-Elsie drove from its own 35 mainly through the air. Winkler hit O'Donnell for a first down at the 50. He found O'Donnell for another 31-yard pass to the 35. Then senior half-back Jeff Winans carried to the 21 and the Marauders were close with 2:41 left.

Winans was then dropped for a four-yard loss. But Tullar bulled his way to the five. A face-mask infraction by Bridgeport gave the Marauders another chance. Winkler then found O'Donnell in the end zone for the score with 55 seconds left.

And Micka's extra point kick made the win stand up.

"I thought we had the ability to comeback," Bridgeport Coach Mike Waldrezak said, "but we didn't tonight."

Moskal, however, kept the Bearcats in the game with 13-for-20 passing good for 128 yards. Winkler, on the Please see Page 2B

Pirate grid squad edges Laingsburg

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

Laingsburg

"We are trying to build the thing up," Pewamo-Westphalia Football Coach Mike Folk said after his team's 8-7 win over Central Michigan Athletic Conference rival Laingsburg Friday. "Until we get in front of the home fans, we aren't going to run the score up."

Is that for real?
"No, no," he said with a laugh. "We really were praying on this one. We got by with some luck."

Indeed the Pirates did get by with luck, emerging with a 2-0 record thanks also to a 14-13 win over Saranac in the opener.

This time, the Pirates played tug-of-war with Laingsburg for three periods before either team reached the end zone.

Then Laingsburg did it first, with the help of an interception of a Doug Miller pass. A six-yard pass from Laingsburg quarterback

And Laingsburg got the extra point off the toe of Mark Williams.

After the ensuing kickoff, Folk went with junior Mike Pohl at quarterback and he instantly threw a 23-yard pass to senior end Stan Piggott to put Pewamo-Westphalia in Laingsburg territory. But on the very next play, Pohl collided with junior halfback Brian Pfah and the handoff was fumbled. Laingsburg recovering.

After the Pirates forced a punt, they took over at midfield with three minutes left. First the Pirates got an 18-yard run by junior halfback Kevin Fedewa off an option play. Then junior halfback Guy Walters tossed a surprise 27-yard halfback pass to Piggott and put the Pirates within two-points of a win. And, at the 2:37 mark of the final quarter, Fedewa made the win stand up with a burst around end.

Luck really ran out of Laingsburg when Junior Perry Thelen intercepted a pass, allowing Miller and the Pirates to run out the clock.

"We were lucky to win that one," Folk said. "We were really happy to win it. We won't have many games where we get pushed around like we did in this one."

In fact, Laingsburg pushed the Pirates around for 206 yards on the ground while Hurst hit on six of 19 for 26 yards. What helped the Pewamo-Westphalia crew, was a secondary that contributed five interceptions.

"They only punted twice," Folk said, "so those turnovers including two fumbles, got us the ball. We would have been in big trouble if we hadn't stopped them that way."

Yet Folk's secondary had to go man-to-man with one of the CMAC's best passing teams.

"We were going to go with five defensive backs," he said. "But the way they were running we couldn't do it. So we had to go to man-to-man coverage the whole game. And if they hadn't been able to do the job we would have never been in the game."

The Pirates did manage 146 yards on the ground, 83 coming from Fedewa. Miller, Pohl and Walter added up 83 more yards in the air-33 from Miller, 23 from Pohl and 27 from Walter.

The Pirates managed to hold penalties down to 10 yards while Laingsburg was slapped with 65 yards worth. "We didn't get close enough to them to hold them," Folk said.

"But that is what happens when you are small like we are," he added later. "We have to make our own breaks."

Another Pirate team made its own breaks last week. The junior varsity pounded Laingsburg, 58-0. "I told my junior varsity coach he has to quit that," Folk said. "He's going to make all those people pretty mad out there for us the next day."

The freshman, however, lost of St. Louis, 6-0.

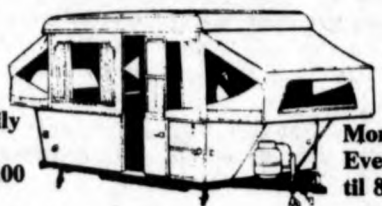

Turn the corner

With Marauder senior end Tim O'Donnell (81) leading the way, Ovid-Elsie running back Jeff Winans, also a senior, eyes the open field during Friday's game at Bridgeport. Winans rushed for 61 yards in his seven carries Friday as the Marauders gained a 14-21 win. (Photo by Mark Haney) third quarter scoring strike from Schmidt to Brian Landstra.

In the final period St. Johns scored on a 10-yard run by Sutherland, an eight-yard run by Minott and two passes from junior quarterback Doug Sleep to senior halfback Korte St. John, the first for 17 yards and the last for 33 yards. All came within nine minutes of the last quarter. Minott's run was set up by a Garrett Hayes interception while the last pass was set up by a Calvin Winsor fumble recovery.

Waverly finished off the scoring when Landstra caught an 11-yard pass from Schmidt, who completed 11 of 20 for 175 yards with just one interception.

"Waverly probably didn't think we'd be able to beat them," Gonzales said. "That is my opinion of what they thought."

While Sutherland kept his star shining with his efforts,

Gonzales saw two other stars possibly emerge from the contest.

"I was pleased with Sutherland, but I really was pleasantly pleased with Minott," he said. "That really gives us another threat back there.

"And Sleep looked impressive," he added. "Todd (Bakita) probably has to be feeling some discomfort now."

Not as much as Waverly did Friday.

other hand, made eight of 16 passes for 115 yards with an additional 105 yards coming on the ground from people like Winans, with seven carries for 61 yards.

It took a lot of yardage, however, to overcome the 52 yards in penalties assessed Ovid-Elsie. It wasn't one-sided, as Bridgeport was nailed for 62 yards worth.

Yet it wasn't the penalties or the passing that the coaches remembered most.

"It was a tough, hard-hitting game," Pope said. "Bridgeport had two players sent to St. Luke's Hospital and we had Mike Shank and Jeff Winans hobbled with ankle and knee injuries. We just hope they will be ready for Ionia next week."

"They just outthit us," Walderzak said, "that is all there is to it. They just outthit us."

The Ovid-Elsie junior varsity copped an 8-6 win with Scott Miller doing the scoring for the Marauders. Bridgeport's freshman, however, stunned the Marauder freshmen 28-8.

St. Johns, Fowler make wire polls

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

St. Johns

All it took were a pair of resounding wins this year to get both the St. Johns High and the Fowler High football team rated in both the United Press International (UPI) and Associated Press (AP) polls.

After Friday's 55-26 trouncing of Class A Waverly, coupled with a 27-6 rout of fellow Class B Charlotte in the opener, Coach Joe Gonzales found his Redwings ranked sixth in the UPI poll and ninth in Class B in the AP poll all released Tuesday. Jackson Lumen Christy tops each poll.

"Gee, I'm kind of surprised to hear that," Gonzales said.

It is a change in precedent, the Redwing coached said. "I don't know why we were picked," he said. "I can't understand it. We have had teams before that were 6-0 and 7-0 and not gotten ranked in either poll."

Fowler, meanwhile, soared to a tie for second, with Norway, in the AP's Class D poll while coming in third in the UPI's poll.

The Eagles bounced Class D rival Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart 27-0 in the season opener then toppled long-time Class C power Fulton Friday, 30-12.

It may be the defeat of bigger schools, especially by large scores, that afforded both teams berths in the first polls of the season.

"I guess the size of the win and the size of the school we were playing could have something to do with it," Gonzales said.

Among other area schools listed, Portland St. Patrick and Olivet, members of the Central Michigan Athletic conference along with Fulton and Fowler, were tied for 20th in the UPI's Class C poll while Stockbridge, a member of the Ingham County league, is ranked 14th. Stockbridge is sixth in the AP poll with Olivet ninth.

Though Fulton senior linebacker Carl Eyer has him seemingly wrapped up, Fowler High fullback Dave Wieber (dark jersey) proved to be a hard man to get down Friday night. The Eagle back rushed for 95 yards in Fowler's 30-12 win over Fulton Friday. (Photo by Chris Thelen)

'Wings cop victory

St. Johns

The game was nearly over before it started for the St. Johns girls' basketball team Wednesday.

★ Fowler

"I just thought, to be honest with you, that Fowler just outplayed us," Wachsmuth said. "They ran the ball right down our throats all night."

But the Eagle defense didn't exactly stop Fulton cold, as the Pirates, with Hanson gaining 111 yards in 20 carries, racked up 156 yards on the ground and got 58 in the air on a three-four-five passing performance by senior quarterback Larry Leiby.

What did slow the Pirates

For no sooner had the Redwings gotten underway than they found themselves rolling to an easy 84-29 win over visiting Hemlock.

Coach Beth Swears troops was 45 yards in penalties, two fumbles lost and one interception by Fowler.

"We had three turnovers against a team like Fowler," Wachsmuth said, "and you can't do that and expect to win."

"I think Fowler is going to be the team to beat," he added. "I haven't seen Pewamo-Westphalia yet or Olivet, but Fowler's good. The whole league is just more balanced this year."

The kinging maybe dead, long live the king!

notched their opening game win behind 52 percent shooting from the field and 55-23 rebounding edge, all without the services of 6-foot-2 junior center Linda Kus, who was injured.

Senior co-captain Denise Henning paced the Redwings with 19 and four assists

The Redwing reserves grabbed a 31-28 overtime win over the Hemlock junior varsity, by outscoring Hemlock 8-5 in the overtime.

Redwings net two wins

St. Johns
First they lost big, then they won big, then they barely lost.

Now all the St. Johns girls' tennis team needs to complete the cycle is a slim win Wednesday against visiting Lansing Sexton.

Coach Melanie Humphrey's 2-2 Redwing tennis team found itself getting pummeled 6-1 by a tough Mason team Sept. 7, then rolled over first-year Corunna 7-0 Wednesday only to lose to visiting Grand Ledge Friday, 4-3.

The loss Friday was most frustrating for the Redwings because it came about from an injury forfeit. Fourth singles players Beth Buckley had to forfeit her match to Grand Ledge's Brenda Hunvett when she had to be taken to the hospital for what later was determined to be a sprain.

Number one singles player Kris Tetens and number two singles player Beth Hunt gained wins for St. Johns along with the second doubles team of Irenna Garapetian and Leslie Foy.

That same doubles squad was the lone winner a week before against Mason, a team Humphrey said "is and will be the best team we play this season. Mason's number one, two and four singles players have played those positions since they were freshmen."

In all of Wednesday's match, the Corunna team won just three games. After St. Johns won all four singles matches by identical 6-0, 6-0 scores, Mary Mahoney and Annette Bradford managed to win two games of a 6-2, 6-0 loss to St. Johns' Debbie Phillips and Mary Fedewa in first doubles. Then Foy and Garapetian gave up a game in a 6-0, 6-1 win over Lori Springer and Kris Kazen.

O-E cagers split week

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

Ovid

The big lead, or rather the big win, is something the Ovid-Elsie girls' basketball team saw both sides of this past week.

For the Marauders wound up a 64-50 winner over Bullock Creek Tuesday, then managed a 54-42 loss to DeWitt Thursday.

No matter what, the difference can't be blamed on senior center Jennifer Litomisky. In the Bullock Creek contest she scored 38 points on 55 percent shooting while also grabbing 22 rebounds. Then, while battling DeWitt's All-State forward Kelly Robinson, among others, she managed a 19-point, 13-rebound game against DeWitt.

Yet while Marauder coach Mary Hudecek said "She earned every point," in the Bullock Creek game, plaudits weren't forthcoming Thursday.

"She had a terrible night," Hudecek said of her 6-foot center. "She'd get that ball and it just would not go in."

It didn't help Litomisky that her teammates joined together for just 13-for-45 shooting, meaning not too much help.

"The kids were psyched out," Hudecek said. "I didn't think we could have beaten them when we went there but after the first half I knew we could do it."

But Ovid-Elsie suffered through a third quarter where it was outscored 16-5, allowing DeWitt to break open a 21-all contest.

In all, 50 fouls were called in the game, 21 on the Marauders and 29 on DeWitt. "Fifty fouls in a game is not good," Hudecek said. "It was a rough game."

Yet DeWitt's Robinson managed 18 points and guards Kathy Spagnuolo and Julie Wey hit for 11 and 10, respectively.

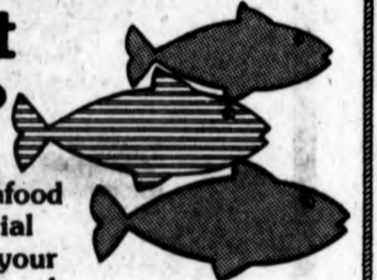

"This is going to be a building process," Hudecek said, "and I have to realize that."

"When these kids get untracked," she added, "they are going to be good. I have no doubt. If they get a few more games under their belts they will be good."

A good sign was the Bullock Creek game, where Ovid-Elsie outrebounded the visitors 44-14 and hit on 20 of 61 shots. Though Bullock Creek got 16 points from center Janet Luepnitz with guard Kelly Krenzy adding 15 more, Angie Elder, a forward, gave the Marauders a good game defensively.

The Marauder junior varsity, however, didn't do so well. They lost to Bullock Creek 29-28 despite a 12-point game by point guard Terry Fisher then fell to DeWitt's reserves 35-29.

Redwing golfers slip

St. Johns
 Going into this past week, the golf coaches around the Mid-Michigan B Conference had their respective eyes on St. Johns' golf team. For the Redwings had two tough contenders on tap in Alma and Ionia. St. Johns managed to emerge with a split, losing to Alma Tuesday, 215-219 but taking Ionia 203-205.

After Kathy Tiechert, however, St. Johns scoring fell off. Rod Crowell fired a 46, Brian Barrett added a 47 and Jeff Kemper chipped in a 49.

And St. Johns said goodbye to an unblemished record.

But the Redwings made a trip to Rolling Hills Golf Course in Ionia pay off despite sub-par performances by the Tiecherts. While Tom and Kathy shot 42's, Crowell nailed a 37 for medalist honors and Barrett joined Tom Beachum with 41's. The Redwings also topped Lowell 203-215 Thursday in a non-league battle. The St. Johns junior varsity managed to top Lowell 223-228 while keeping an unbeaten record with a 223-247 win over the Ionia reserves and a 222-226 triumph over the Alma reserves.

Pirate harriers gain momentum

Pewamo
 Momentum, and a lot of it, may be riding with the Pewamo-Westphalia cross country team already this fall.

This past week the Pirate runners came up with two outstanding Central Michigan Athletic Conference wins, a resounding 17-46 triumph over Portland Tuesday and a tough 19-41 victory over Pottersville Thursday.

In each race the Pirates scored with numbers. With the trio of Scott Simon, Joe Weber and Kevin Spitzley going one-two-three each day, the Pirates took all of the top nine spots except fourth Tuesday then took the top three and sixth, seventh, ninth and 10th Thursday.

Simon won Tuesday in 16:34, slipping a little Thursday with a time of 16:51. In Thursday's race Tom Smith and Tom Theis took sixth and seventh, respectively while Tim Cook took ninth and Glenn Schmitt wound up 10th.

The wins left Pewamo-Westphalia 3-0 overall with a 2-0 slate in the CMAC. The Springport Invitational, Thursday, is next.

O-E seeks links win

Ovid
 Ovid-Elsie golf coach Tom VanDenter likes to say that his golf team is 1-5. But that "one" in the win column is a technical knockout, coming in a double-dual meet that Sanford-Meridian couldn't attend. Sanford, you see, doesn't have golf this year.

So VanDenter calls it his win. But what the Marauders golf coach would like even better is a real win, one that comes on the golf course itself.

But he didn't get it this past week. First his Marauders lost to Ithaca 172-184 then they were pasted by improving Corunna 192-229.

His Marauders did turn in a personal best Thursday against Corunna only to have the home squad post the season-low 192 over the Chippewa Hills Golf Course. Corunna's Jim Koenig shot an even-par 35 while Joe Ruga carded a 38. Both Al Sellers and Bob Lennox shot 39s with Doug Libra carding a 41. Even Corunna's reserve did better than Ovid-Elsie's varsity, shooting a 224 to the Marauder reserves' 263.

Ovid-Elsie's varsity got 43's from Mark Attenburger and Bob Skriba while Lyman Keesler shot a 44. Mike Ginther added a 46 and Jerry Horn shot a 53. Attenburger shot a 42 against Ithaca, with Skriba and Ginther adding 45's. Keesler shot a 52 and Horn a 54.

Ithaca got a 41 from medalist Brian Whiteman, with Brad Simmet shooting a 43. Allen Schafer and Jim Pitcher shot 44s. Peggy Mahoney added a 49.

St. Johns runners win opener

St. Johns
 When St. Johns opened its cross country season, it was a bit later than many teams. But the Redwings made the wait worth it, almost. They lost to Mason by the slimmest of margins, 28-29.

"It (the wait) has given us more time to get in shape," Coach Bob Spencer said. "Before we have always started the Tuesday after Labor Day and that was too soon."

Despite the loss, Spencer said he was happy with the results. "It was a good meet," he said. "Our times were pretty good. Their times were way better than they were last year." While Mason's Dave Hinkle won the race in 16:19—he has run 15:44 before this season—St. Johns' Jerry Peters was second in 16:32. Teammate Paul Pioszak was third in 16:52.

Todd Scott of St. Johns was fifth in 17:17 with Eric Root seventh in 17:26. Dave Miller of the Redwings wound up 12th in 18:10.

In last year's opener the top three times for St. Johns were 17:36, 18:30, and 19:09. No wonder Spencer is encouraged.

Wins come to Fulton

Fulton
 Fulton High got a big game from senior forward Sandy Price and some big defense from Price while bagging a pair of wins this past week.

First the Pirates of Bill Parker topped Fowler and coach Melody Sowers

57-42, then Monday they topped Ovid-Elsie 57-42. Against Fowler Price exploded for an 18-point game then she handled 6-foot Ovid-Elsie center Jennifer Litomisky Monday.

The Pirates, however, allowed Litomisky 28 points and 25 rebounds.

P-W golfers triumph

Pewamo
 While the Pirate football and cross country teams walk off with all the glitter, the Pewamo-Westphalia golf team has been doing its share of winning so far this fall, chalking up a 156-187 win over Fulton Thursday. It was the Pirates' second win in three outings and its first in Central Michigan Athletic Conference play in as many matches.

Are there bikes out there?

By Diane Otton
4-H Youth Program Assistant

Of course there are bikes in Clinton County! In fact according to most recent statistics there are 1,920 bikes registered in St. Johns alone, in addition to many more unregistered.

Unfortunately with all the bikes come a lot of accidents—accidents which easily could have been avoided, if bikers, pedestrians, and motorists would adhere to a few rules.

1. Know traffic signs and signals and obey them.

2. When cycling in the street, behave like a motorist.

3. When cycling on sidewalks behave like a pedestrian and yield at crossroads, driveways and to other traffic.

4. Communicate with motorists, particularly at intersections where the rules of the road are most often violated.

5. Ride as close to the right as safe.

6. Never ride more than two abreast.

7. If you must ride after sunset, your bike must have a strong front light and good rear reflector.

8. Motorists—watch for bicycles! They are very difficult to see anytime, day or night.

Of course there are other rules and precautions that bikers might also use.

You by this time are probably wondering why in the world a 4-H program assistant would be writing about bicycle safety of all things. Well to be quite honest, Clinton County doesn't have a very extensive 4-H biking program—yet.

There are many 4-H'ers in the state, though who are involved in 4-H Biking and have found the rewards that it offers. The newest, largest and perhaps the most fun biking programs offered is the Coast to Coast tour. This year the tour went across Mid-Michigan to Lake Huron. From there, the bikes traveled north to the Straits and south along Lake Michigan coast back to Lansing. A tour is also planned for 1980 in the Upper Peninsula and in 1981 in the southern Lower Peninsula.

There are other biking activities also offered through the state office, including bike safety, handling ability and balance tests and work-outs. County Fair exhibits, demonstrations, and rodeos are common means of evaluation for counties. Interested bikers learn how to pack, eat and prepare physically for both long and short tours and of course getting the old bike into working condition.

If there are any 4-H'ers interested in biking or in fact, anyone with an interest in being in 4-H Biking as a volunteer leader or participant, please contact the County Extension office.

4-H'ers LEARN SWINE PRODUCTION

Young people in Clinton County are learning the importance of good livestock management practices in swine production through 4-H.

4-H'ers learn responsibility by raising their own animals, but even members who don't raise hogs can become more informed consumers by taking part in the 4-H swine program.

Youngsters in the swine program can learn to judge market animals, identify wholesale and retail cuts of pork, judge meat quality and learn principles of marketing, as well as raise hogs and develop a continuous hog breeding operation. 4-H'ers also learn the important role pork plays in human nutrition.

The program is particularly educational for youths who breed their own animals, raise the offspring and sell them at market weight.

Besides having a lot of fun showing their animals, the kids learn about possible careers in swine production. Many of them may become professional swine producers as adults.

The 4-H swine program is supported by the Wilson Foods Corp. Each year

Wilson awards a $50 US Savings Bond to an outstanding 4-H member in each state and six $1,000 scholarships nationally. Scholarship winners also receive expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, to be held this year Nov. 25-29.

More information about the swine program or 4-H, contact the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service office at 224-3288.

ROUNDUP®

It can mean more milk per acre.

Quackgrass in your alfalfa costs you. It's that simple.

Quackgrass has only half the protein content of alfalfa; so if there's some in your alfalfa, you're growing less protein. And spending extra on protein supplements.

Roundup® herbicide by Monsanto controls quackgrass so effectively, that some alfalfa fields have yielded up to 1,400 pounds more forage per acre from the first cutting.

Remember: Roundup controls quackgrass. Less quackgrass means more alfalfa, which in turn means more protein. And more protein means more milk.

See your dealer soon for your supply of Roundup. And get ready to produce more milk per acre.

Clinton youth successful at State Dairy Days

By Diane Otton
4-H Youth Program Assistant

I won't get any brownie points for getting information in on time, but would you believe we just got our information about Dairy Days and as long as you have been in suspense this long, I guess a few statistics won't hurt.

To refresh your memory, Dairy Days was held Aug. 20-23 at Michigan State University. This year there were over 1,000 total parents, leaders, 4-H Club members and families at the event. Clinton County had six dairy members participate in addition to two young teams.

As with the other state events, Clinton county fared very well. In senior demonstrations Jill Swaggart placed fourth. Dairy science exhibits boasted Dan Cable in second place. In dairy judging, Jeff Schneider placed seventh high individual junior judge, just 29 points behind first place. Dairy goat judging was something new this year, but Clinton County participated anyway. Gae Cobb placed fourth in her first attempt to judge dairy goats.

Dairy Days also included the All-Michigan Dairy Youth Show. Over 600 members and leaders participated in the activities and learning experiences that led up to the Dairy Show. Dairy Showmanship hosted Margery Green placing fourth in showmanship division I. John Swagart was first place in his showmanship class division VI. Clinton County 4-H'ers placed in the top half of all classes that they participated in.

To wrap up Clinton County winnings, the dairy group placed sixth in club herdsman-ship.

Once again, we are very, very proud of Clinton County 4-H'ers and the sportsman-ship and showmanship that all displayed in the various state contests.

What a find

Marie and Jack Bower found their first Indian arrowhead 15 years ago. Since then Jack has been finding them left and right while he cuts sod at his farm on Chandler Roads. Pete and Mike have taken the arrowheads to school several times although their origin is unknown. Jack theorizes his farm used to be a hunting ground and that there are thousands of the crude Indian artifacts buried on the farm. "I'd just like to know how many I've sold with the sod," Bower said. A picture of the two boys with the arrowheads is expected to be featured in National Geographic World, a children's version of National Geographic. (Photo by Sue Kiley)

Ronald Holley of St. Johns has been elected to a one-year term as alternate director of Region IV of the Michigan State Employees Association (MSEA).

Prior to his election as alternate director Holley served as vice president and a board member of his local MSEA chapter. He has chaired his chapter resolutions committee and has been a delegate to MSEA'S general assembly for two years.

Theresa Dow gives fabric selecting tips

4-H'ers in Clinton County are learning that selecting a quality fabric is essential to the creation of a professional-looking garment, says Theresa Dow, Clinton County 4-H youth agent.

Careful examination of the fabric in the store can avoid problems later. No amount of meticulous sewing will improve the appearance of a poor quality fabric.

There are three simple in-store suggestions tests which will help consumers get the best value for their dollar.

Crush a corner of the fabric, hold it tightly in your fist for a few seconds, then release, if the fabric wrinkles in your hand it will also wrinkle if you sit down in it.

Ms. Dow advises buyers to measure a small length of fabric with a ruler. Stretch the fabric lengthwise, release and measure again. The material should snap back to its original measurement. This should also be done across the width of the fabric. Cloth which stretches will produce clothes which bag at the knees and elbows.

Weaknesses in the fabric can be detected by holding the material up to a light. Flaws, holes, thin areas and heavy threads which would not otherwise be seen show up against a light.

Instruction in careful fabric selection is part of the 4-H personal appearance project in which girls and boys ages 9-19 learn to make attractive wardrobes.

The 4-H personal Appearance project is supported by Coats and Clark, Inc. Each year, Coats and Clark award four medals of honor per county; expense-paid trips for state winners to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, to be held this year Nov. 25-29; and six scholarships nationally.

For more information on the personal appearance program or 4-H, contact the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service office at 224-3288.

It was a busy summer for St Johns recreation programs

St. Johns

Summer recreation programs in St. Johns have concluded but recreation director and city assessor Diane Edwards is now busy looking at the programs from a cost and benefit view.

This past summer the St. Johns Parks and Recreation Department headed by summer recreation director Harold Wellman, Jr. featured a softball slate of 27 men's teams, 11 women's and eight girls' teams.

On the tennis courts near the ball fields, 32 doubles teams participated in the couple's tennis tournament and league.

The swimming pool ran in conjunction with the YMCA in Lansing offered a whole schedule of activities ranging from swim lessons to lifesaving to open swim to family swim.

Twice a week, the city recreation department sponsored children activity days. There were bike and water safety programs, a swim meet, ball and yard games, craft days, a Mini-Olympics and an end of the summer disco party. Between 15 and 70 youngsters could be found participating in each activity.

One of the bright spots in the season wrap-ups was the announcement that this year's vandalism of property and equipment was down. Restrooms and playground equipment were traditional prime targets and Mrs. Edwards said "there was hardly any vandalism at all this year."

Two grants were used to enhance the recreation facilities. New restrooms were ready for the Fourth of July, built with a federal grant and another federal grant is being used to build two tennis courts at the senior citizens park.

The Mid-State CB Club made and donated four bleachers for the women's softball diamond.

The total parks budget is $51,000. This goes for maintenance, equipment and wages. The recreation budget is an additional $25,000. For this three summer softball leagues, the city allocated $3,000 for umpires, equipment and trophies. For tennis the figure was $800 and for the playground program, $500 was spent.

Starting the first of 1980, the volleyball and basketball leagues will get started again and the ice pond will be flooded.

Reed gets promotion

Tom Reed of DeWitt, and John Schornack of Manchester were named assistant managers of the Michigan Live Stock Exchange.

The Exchange is the state's largest livestock marketing agency. It handled approximately 259,000 cattle, 620,000 hogs, and 88,000 sheep and lambs in 1978 for a dollar volume of over $200 million.

Reed first came to the Michigan Live Stock Exchange in 1968 and two years later accepted the appointment as Gratiot County's agricultural extension agent for Michigan State University. He also served as a crops and livestock specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau prior to rejoining the Exchange as manager of member relations in 1977.

Reed will continue to handle the activities of the member relations department and will assume the additional responsibilities of personnel procurement and training.

Among the more than 300 students in the College of Arts and Sciences at Grand Valley State College who were named to the dean's list for the winter term 1979 were Mark Willson or DeWitt and Joseph Irler of St. Johns.

Students must maintain a 3.5 grade point average while carrying a 15-credit hour course load.

Goods taken from storage company

DeWitt Twp.

Over $3,000 worth of property was stolen from Donald Dobson of Lansing who had stored items at A-1 Storage on the corner of State and Chandler Roads. Taken from the building was an outboard motor, camping equipment, and household goods. Dobson had stored the items there in late June and reported them stolen to DeWitt Township police officers on Sept. 10.

Emiel DeSander, Nettie Lane, reported to police someone broke into his home while he was in it. The incident happened on Sept. 17 at 1 a.m. Nothing was reported taken.

A 14-year-old girl was the victim of a criminal sexual assault while taking a walk at 3:15 in the morning. She reported the incident happened near the Sheridan Road School. Police have a suspect, but he is not in custody yet.

Alcohol decision making faces 7th, 8th graders in district

Reach Out set

An Evangelistic Reach Out will be held Sept. 22 at 3 p.m. in the Owosso Bentley Park. This open air gospel sing will feature the Christian family (above) as well as the Don Crowe family. Everyone is welcome; it is non-denominational. There will be a free will offering.

Clinton County
The Michigan Department of Education and the Clinton County Intermediate School District will soon be helping to make the seventh and eighth graders more aware of the need for responsible decision making about alcohol.

This has come as a result of a workshop on Sept. 12 at the Clinton County Intermediate School District and funded by the Michigan Department of Education. This effort is part of a three-year plan that the State Department has undertaken in cooperation with the Safety and Traffic Engineering Department of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

During the three-year effort, school districts representing selected intermediolate school districts will have an opportunity to acquaint their teachers with the alcohol awareness curriculum.

Dr. Ann Johnson, the Department's traffic education consultant and Gerald G. Basch, safety education supervisor for the Automobile Club, met with classroom teachers and counselors from the six local districts to introduce a complete (and free) ALCOHOL awareness module that contains games, puzzles, and role-playing ideas, along with other materials and methods designed to increase the knowledge about alcohol.

The module is unique in its ability to motivate junior high school students to learn the facts of alcohol use. It capitalizes on the result of national surveys which suggest that the period between the 13th and 14th birthdays is the time when many youngsters decide to drink.

The module uses the interest students have in driving and obtaining a driver's license to motivate them to a greater knowledge of what alcohol is and what it does, especially as it relates to driving.

The project is funded by a grant from the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning.

O-E board doesn't use 1/4 mill

Elsie
Ovid-Elsie's school board doesn't think it will need all the millage voted by the residents of their school district so last week at the board's regular meeting, they voted to levy one quarter mill less than what voters said they can levy.

Last June Ovid-Elsie voters approved a renewal of 19 mills for operating and they also gave their OK to a one mill increase.

At the Ovid-Elsie School Board meeting, the board voted to set the operating levy at 19.75 mills, giving the district $1,412,949. The school district will also receive $537,993 from the county, or 8 mills minus six-tenths of a mill rolled back because of the Headlee Amendment.

Ovid-Elsie's state equalized valuation (SEV) is set at $71,541,677.

Also at the Sept. 10 meeting, the board voted to spread 1 mill for debt retirement.

—Superintendent Donald Kenney announced that WOES radio station has received 100 percent donor pledges for announcing the 1979 varsity football games.

—Superintendent Kenney and the board related their observations of their recent visit to see the operation of a methane generator at Jordon College in Custer.

—attention was drawn to the first place Proficiency Award in Dairy Production for the state of Michigan won by Ovid-Elsie High School graduate Karen Green. She has been selected to the national regional level which involves 12 states.

CB stolen

Clinton County
Robert VanDrieson, Eagle, reported a CB radio was taken from his car while it was parked at his residence during Eagle Days.

Police are looking for a male subject who exposed himself to some 11 and 12-year-old girls who were playing at the intersection of Wildcat and Shepardville Roads. Police are looking for an older model yellow or beige car. The suspect is a white male believed to be in his early 20's.

Robert L. Gibson and Randy A. Kibbey, both of Lansing were arrested and charged with larceny of gas from Fata and Sons in Watertown Township.

Pearsons double the fun for 50 golden years

Married 50 years

When sisters marry brothers and spend 50 years living across the road from each other it's an occasion to celebrate. Clyde and Hazel

Pearson and Glen and Ruby Pearson did just that Sunday in a spectacular open house for family and friends. (Photo by Sharon Randall)

Clyde and Hazel Pearson and Glen and Ruby Pearson celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries together Sunday at the Pilgrim United Methodist Church. It was a repeat of their silver wedding anniversary celebration 25 years ago and of their double wedding 50 years ago in 1929.

Nearly 300 friends and family members filled the church and it was impossible to separate them because the couples are two sisters who married two brothers and have shared the past 50 years living across South Jason Road from each other, raising their families and farming together.

"This is the happiest day of my life," Hazel said Sunday as the four were hosted by their children and grandchildren.

Clyde and Hazel have four children, Betty, Anita, Sharon and Gerald; 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Glenn and Ruby have six children, Virginia, Ann, Eleanor, Sheila, Cheryl and Michael; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Hazel and Ruby's brother Roy was here from California for the celebration. It was a trip to Roy's in 1928 that brought the two sisters and the Pearson brothers together. Hazel said it all started in Canada when her and Ruby's grandmother, Ann Hazetina Lockman married Clyde and Glenn's grandfather, Emmanuel Pearson.

On a trip to visit Roy with their parents, Charles and Ettie Gedney and younger sister Verna, the family stopped in Michigan to visit the Pearson relatives.

After the Gedneys returned to Canada, Clyde and Glenn came to visit on the family farm near Brantford, Ontario. There were more visits and letter writing until the four decided to have a double wedding in the little country church near the girls' home.

After the wedding the couples came to Michigan where Clyde and Glenn were in partnership with their father, William Pearson and mother, Nellie (Brown) Pearson and brother, Lewis.

Over the years, living across the road from each other, the couples have grown to depend upon each other. They have shared work and play and families. Both couples are members of the Pilgrim church.
