Wings off and running, trip O-E 83-56, Ionia 71-50

By RON KARLE
Editor

The 1969-70 version of St. Johns Redwing basketball team went out of town for a successful trial run last week and then returned home to show their stuff to the home folks in the new high school gymnasium.

Playing before a full house at Ovid-Elsie Tuesday, St. Johns tuned up their machine by dumping the Marauders 83-56 in the season opener.

Hosting Ionia in the conference opener Friday, the Redwings emptied the bench once again as they thrashed the Bulldogs 71-50.

Following the O-E game, Head

Coach Doug Japinga said his first impressions were that "we need a lot of discipline in both offense and defense—especially offense."

"We had far too many turnovers," said Japinga adding that he was "pleased with the efforts of the entire team all the way through. Everyone played fine ball."

"But if we are going to be a fine ballclub we must be consistent both out front and under the backboards," he said.

"We weren't really ready for them, but that's no excuse," said O-E Head Coach Bob Foreback. "We just didn't penetrate their defense. I kept waiting. I thought it was just tension."

It must be noted that the Marauders were playing under a severe handicap since they were without the direction of their coach for a week. Foreback was called out of town to attend the funeral of his mother.

"They had real good guard play and were just too tall for us," said Foreback. "They've got a couple of players . . . that Rehmann and that Eisler. Wow!"

Foreback said he thinks "they're one of the better teams we'll play all year."

There was no doubt Bob Rehmann and Dean Eisler attended the affair.

Rehmann, a senior forward, pumped in 18 points to lead. Story continued on Page 15-A

Post office official offers suggestions for your holiday mailing

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love—send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas, not after," advises Officer-In-Charge Keith A. Mishler of the St. Johns Post Office.

"On the day after Christmas a post office building can be the most depressing place in the world if it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late," says Mishler.

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe the following mailing schedule.

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by this weekend. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than Dec. 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than Dec. 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be in the mail by Dec. 15.

Mishler also emphasized the importance of using and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. It only takes a couple extra seconds, but pays big dividends.

Zip Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete mailing address will be returned to the sender.

"A return address might not seem very important," Mishler notes, "but last year more than 32 million pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate the worth of each of these pieces at 25 cents, including postage, postal customers lost more than $7.5 million last year to dead letter offices. And none of this would have happened if the envelopes had contained a return address."

Needle in a haystack?

You won't find a needle in Alfred Nurenberg's haystack.

Nurenberg, of Pewamo, never even had time to slip a needle in the 1,500 bales he had for sale.

He ran a classified ad in the Clinton County News and by 11:30 a.m. on the day the paper came out, he had a buyer.

He tells us he is "very satisfied with the results" of this little ad:

HAY FOR SALE
1,500 bales. First and second cutting, conditioned, no rain. 2 miles west, 1 north and 1/2 west of Westphalia. Phone 000-0000.

Maybe you would like to buy a haystack or sell one.

You're sure to find whatever you're looking for in a fast-acting classified ad in the Clinton County News.

Maybe even a needle in a haystack.

DeWitt Council votes to hire police chief

By BOB CALVERLEY
News Staff Writer

The DeWitt City Council Monday night moved to hire a new police chief, at $8,000 per year, after dissolving the present description of the job and formulating a new one.

Presently, the job of police chief is handled by the city manager Elden Smith who is paid $13,500 in this dual capacity. He receives part time help which costs approximately $3,500 a year.

Under the new plan Smith's salary would be reduced to $12,000 per annum and part time help costs reduced to $1,000. Smith would still contribute some of his time to police duties.

"How can you hire a new police chief at $8,000 when the city manager is getting paid for it," said Lee Rummell a former DeWitt councilman. "He was informed of the conditions of his job before he was hired six months ago."

Councilmen Raymond DeWitt and Roger Overway said that the duties of city manager and assessor and police chief were too much for any one man.

"We feel now we need a city administrator and a police chief," said Overway.

"We tried an experiment," DeWitt said describing Smith's multiple duties, "It cannot be done." He later admitted, "We made a mistake, but we've got to try again."

"I don't feel the City of DeWitt has the money to hire another police chief," Rummell said.

Tie breaker wins contest

In the final football contest 6 persons missed only 3 games. John Bond, 210 S. Oakland, St. Johns guessed 53 points and was closest to the tie breaker score of 51 points. The Clinton County News wishes to thank all the football fans for entering our contests these past 12 weeks.

Central National Bank now pays 5% interest on Christmas Clubs.

There were other objections raised from the audience concerning the quality of the police protection.

"You can't have as much protection by having just one full time man," said Bill Page, who has been working as a part time policeman in DeWitt. "We're behind every town in the country," he said, "now we're going backwards."

$97,012 city budget approved by DeWitt

The DeWitt City Council Monday night passed a $97,012.00 budget, an increase of $13,747 over last year. The budget was based on 11.3 mills, the same as last year.

Councilman Keith Blizzard voted against the budget motion. "I felt the city manager's salary was too high," he said later.

The budget specified a $12,000 per year salary, for the city manager.

Councilman Raymond DeWitt proposed an amendment to the budget earmarking half a mill from the General Fund (roughly $2300) to be spent solely for street planning and construction.

"We still have nothing in a street fund or plans for a water system," DeWitt said. It was "bad economics," he thought, to wait until these projects had to be done, and then hit the taxpayer all at once with the cost and the interest of a bonding issue.

"We should get something aside now," he said.

"You show me exactly what this money is for and I'll go along," said Councilman Roger Overway, "but only if it is for a specific purpose." He added that the council could always take some money out of the Con-

Dim visit for Santa?

Santa's coming to St. Johns Thursday night—but the Christmas spirit may be dim.

That is, unless the lights can be found for the Courthouse Christmas tree which is scheduled to be lit at 7 p.m. under Santa's direction.

Chamber of Commerce and city employees need a tip as to the location of a number of colored lights needed to complete Christmas decorations at the Courthouse.

The lights, part of a changing color unit for the Courthouse Christmas Tree, have been misplaced and anyone having information as to their whereabouts should contact Brandon White, James Leon or Bennie Benninger.

But please hurry!

Santa's sort of pressed for time these days and we want to be ready for his visit.

Free film dates set

Chamber of Commerce President Brandon White this week announced the titles of the movies scheduled for showing as part of the annual Christmas program.

According to White, the movies will be shown on three dates with two showings each day. The dates and movies are: Dec. 6, "Challenge to Robin Hood"; Dec. 13, "Snow White and the Three Stooges"; and Dec. 20, "Further Perils of Laurel and Hardy."

Admission to the movies is free but tickets must be from business places and firms who are members of Commerce. Seats at the movies will be on a first come-first served basis.

Drinking season is here, but problem is year-round

By RON KARL
Editor

It's the season to be merry. And for most, "merriness" means drinking. Traditional holiday drinking is often traditional problem drinking—more acceptable in the open at this time of year, under the guise of social drinking.

"Some of the nicest people are problem drinkers," says Ernest Condell, executive director of the Tri-County Council on Alcoholism and Addiction. "These are the productive citizens of the community—teachers, bankers, factory workers and so on."

Condell, "a social drinker myself," doesn't mind a little about drinking.

He sees problem drinking as a stigma due to lack of information comparable to tuberculosis in the 1930's.

"Information on alcoholism is about 20 years behind TB in respectability, but someday we hope to be as open about this as we are about heart disease or cancer today," he says.

He says only four per cent are Bowery bum types while the other 96 per cent are productive people.

"People wish all alcoholics were Bowery bums so they would excuse themselves," he says.

He explains that when a person drinks on an empty stomach, the alcohol enters the blood stream within 30 to 40 seconds and within three to four minutes the heart has pumped the alcohol throughout the entire body.

"The liver eliminates only one-third of an ounce of alcohol per hour," says Condell. "It makes no difference if you use black coffee, cold showers or fresh air in trying to sober up someone."

"All you end up with is a wide-awake drunk," he adds.

"It doesn't matter if he's been drinking beer, wine or liquor," he says "All these have basically ethyl alcohol."

Three or four drinks by the average person lowers inhibitions, says Condell.

By this time alcohol has affected the forepart of the brain and the shy guy with a couple of drinks becomes aggressive and the life of the party. For most teens this takes only a can of beer.

By the time the average person has consumed six to eight drinks the middle part of the brain is affected. This is the "sight center," he says.

"You lose peripheral vision—it's like a pair of blinders on a horse—you can't see out of the sides of your eyes."

If you are driving in this condition you may not see cars alongside, your co-ordination is off and it becomes difficult to judge distance.

"State Police studies now show that 50 per cent of all fatal accidents involve drinking," says Condell.

If the person continues drinking beyond this point it may affect the rear part of the brain or the medulla which ties in with the spinal cord.

This affects breathing and heart beat and enough alcohol could result in death.

"Fortunately," says Condell, "Mother Nature usually steps in here and the person falls on his face dead drunk, but not all people, though."

When asked just what exactly is an alcoholic, Condell said experts consider a person an alcoholic when drinking interferes with the most important facets of his life such as his family or job performance.

Condell says a test has been devised which can determine if a person is an alcoholic or not: "No matter what you drink," he says "drink no less than one or no more than three, then stop. Do this for a month to three months at the most.

"No matter how often you drink, if you can do this you're not an alcoholic," he says.

Condell "one of every 15 high school students who opens that first can of beer gets hooked on alcoholism."

"I wish we had a test like the TB skin test to show high risk drinkers," he says. "It's not just psychological alone—there are so many emotional factors."

"Lots of people who have neurotic or emotional problems never drink," says Condell, "but alcoholics have emotional problems."

We have to remove the stigma of alcoholism if we're going to treat it as a disease, he says.

Because of this most people cover it up for their own protection.

"This is the worst thing possible," says Condell. "Alcoholism is not a disgrace—it's a disease."

Condell says the Tri-County Council on Alcoholism and Addiction can help. "We're not a treatment center," he says "we offer counseling."

The council is located in Lansing at 223 North Pine. Those wishing additional information may call 482-3392.

It could make the season merry all year long.

Supervisors explain costs of soil survey

By BOB CALVERLEY
News Staff Writer

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors drafted a communication to be sent to Dallas, Lebanon, Essex, and Westphalia Townships explaining why the completion of a soil survey done at no cost in the other 12 townships of Clinton County would cost them money.

"Back in 1968 the Board of Supervisors agreed to do this survey, but we don't have the money now," said Walter Nobis, chairman.

Jerry Wilcox, chairman of the Planning Commission, noted that the cost of completing the soil survey would be $47,865.

Originally the survey was a Tri-County Planning Commission project with Housing, Urban Development (HUD) contributing two-thirds of the funds, Michigan State University $10,000, and the three counties splitting the remaining $18,000, cost, over a three year period. The survey was completed in the 12 counties.

During the second three years of the project, in the wake of the Tri-County reorganization, HUD pulled out of the survey, followed by Eaton and Ingham counties.

"A communication should be sent calling their (the four remaining townships) to the fact that the cost is now several times as much for the four townships as it was for the 12," said Supervisor Robert Montgomery.

Nancy Purchase of Purchase Productions appeared before the board asking if her organization could rent Smith Hall for teen dances and concerts.

Earl Haas (manager of the hall) wouldn't rent it because we were a profit-making organization, but we had always told him we were a profit-making organization when we rented it before," said Mrs. Purchase. "Why did he change his mind now?"

"Haas showed me the minutes where the prosecutor ruled the hall can't be rented by a profit-making organization," answered Chairman Nobis.

"Why is the 4-H Club allowed to use a hall, supported by Clinton County tax payers, at no cost, while we can't even rent it?" said Betty Jane Minsky who was also speaking for Purchase Productions.

No action was taken on the issue.

Prosecuting Attorney Pat Kelly brought a new ordinance enacting the Planning Commission to the board for approval.

"The first ordinance I drafted wasn't a complete ordinance, which could be accepted by the State of Michigan Attorney General's office," he explained.

St. Clair Pardee, architect in charge of remodeling the old cut Court appeared before the board to answer questions about the lack of a sub floor in the court.

"I don't know what more to put there," he said, "they did the best they could with what they had to work with."

"It isn't good enough," said Supervisor Andrew Cobb, Pardee later agreed to install a sub-floor, at no added cost to the county.

In other action to the board—Appointed Jerry Langford to study the recommendation of A.T. Allaby Insurance to reduce personal property coverage from 100 per cent to 90 per cent.

With agreement from Commonwealth Associates Inc. reduced the time of the $40,000 planning study from one-and-a-half years to one year.

Decided to close the Drivers' Licensing Bureau on Dec. 27 and Jan. 3.

Jaycees set party for Ovid kids

Ovid Jaycees are taking about 40 needy children on a shopping tour Saturday Dec. 13 in addition to a party and a visit with Santa.

Leonard Mitchell, a member of the Jaycees, says the children are from the Ovid-Elsie School District and will be shopping for clothes, shoes and even boots if needed.

He says a number of merchants are co-operating by giving discounts purchased by the Jaycees for the children.

After their shopping tour, the children will gather at the IOOF Hall for a Christmas party and the visit with Santa.

Also participating is the Jaycee Auxiliary with the women providing gifts for each child. They will also prepare food for the party.

Benefit rock dance a success

More than $500 was raised last Saturday night at a benefit rock dance for the Joe Van Rooyen family.

A diversified group of local people decided to help with the medical bills after his wife, Trudy, 39, died following a long illness. She was the mother of his boys, Rick and Mike.

Bands featured were "The Reason Why" and "A. J.'s Bag," of St. Johns; the "Virgin Thunder" and the "Dog," of Lansing.

Many other local adults and young people worked to make the dance a success.

tingency fund for worthwhile projects.

The amendment was defeated in a 3-2 vote.

City Manager Elden Smith reported that $49,697.72 in Summer taxes had been collected and that there was $11,503.21 in delinquent taxes.

He also reported:

- That the cost of street lighting had risen from $312.24 per month to $342.52.
- On the use of Forms 101 to collect Federal funds.
- That a local citizen had replaced an old building at the cemetery, free of charge, and the city was now installing electricity and painting the building.
- That he had drafted a letter to explain the special sewer assessment, which some citizens apparently did not understand.
- That at the request of the Post Office, the street numbering system was being extended to all houses, specifically the Lake Geneva area.

In other action the council:

- Agreed to furnish street lighting for the Millbrook Meadows and Fedewa construction projects, as requested.
- Appointed Councilman Paul Mulford to attend the Looking Glass River Watershed Council meetings.
- Appointed City Clerk Dorothy Keck to attend the Certified Public Accountants workshop meeting on the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund to be held Dec. 8 in Grand Rapids.
- Amended Zoning Ordinance 25 to rectify a minor omission.
- Agreed to pay all bills as reviewed by the Budget Committee.

Senior Citizens plan annual Christmas Party

The theme of the Nov. 24 meeting of the Senior Citizens was "Thanksgiving" with the members giving their reasons for being thankful. There was also community singing appropriate to the season.

There will only be one meeting in Dec., on the 16th when they will have their annual Christmas party. All attendees are requested to bring a $7.75 gift, the women bringing gifts for women and the men bring gifts for men.

The members voted to participate in the city program of helping needy families for Christmas and everyone is requested to bring some article of food to the next meeting. A committee composed of Carmen Tranchell, chairman, Mrs. Robert Hathaway, Mrs. Mary Dush, Miss Marion Hill, and Mrs. Mike Wesner was appointed to secure the name of a family and make arrangements to deliver the food.

St. Joseph Church setting for Lounds-Kurncz vows

Linda Arlene Lounds became the bride of James Michael Kurncz Oct. 18, in a double ring ceremony conducted by Father William Hankard at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in St. Johns.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Lounds, 410 S. Oakland Street, St. Johns, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kurncz of Colony Road, St. Johns.

The groom was accompanied down the aisle by his parents followed by the bride who was escorted to the altar by her parents.

Her organist over taffeta bridal dress was an empire design with open v-neck lace work accenting the bodice. The chapel train attached at the waist band was edged with the same open lace. Both front and back were accented with buttons and open lace. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a crown decorated with seed pearls, rhinestones and small white roses. Her bouquet was a cascade of white mums accented by two yellow centered orchids.

Miss Janet Geller, Price Road, St. Johns was the maid of honor, with Mrs. Thomas Bourdon and Mrs. Wayne Woodbury serving as bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaids were Marion Kurncz, sister of the groom and Loretta Lounds, sister of the bride. The flower girl was Shelly Kurncz, cousin of the groom.

The maid of honor wore a gold, long-sleeved dress accented with open-lace work on the cuffs and the bodice. A small bow with streamers accented the back of the dress. The bridesmaids wore avocado green gowns identical to the maid of honor. The flower girl wore a short sleeved dress similar in style.

The church was decorated in yellow mums. Mrs. Lounds chose a sleeveless sheath dress in a light green brocade with matching coat and accessories and Mrs. Kurncz wore a dress in light blue. Both were presented with double orchids.

Melvin Wieber was the best man. Gary Brzak, Sid Lounds, Greg Lounds, and Calvin Lounds, brothers of the bride, served as groomsmen. Ring bearer was Kenny Lounds, brother of the bride. The altar candles were lit by Rodney Lounds and Peter Kurncz. The men wore grey strollers, dark coats, grey vests, striped pants, and four-in hand ties.

Special guests were Mrs. Sophie Dudash, grandmother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lounds and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lowe, grandparents of the bride.

An evening reception was held at the VFW Hall in St. Johns for 275 guests. The buffet dinner was followed by a dance.

Marlene Sipka served the wedding cake. Nancy Turcotte, Linda Hamilton, Anne Kurncz, Gloria Kurncz and Sue Warstler served at the bride's table.

The bride is a student at Michigan State University and a 1967 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School. She is employed at Clinton National Bank. The groom spent two years in the Army after graduating from the same school. He is employed at Olds-mobile.

After a honeymoon in Canada and the New England States the couple will reside at 4200 S. Pennsylvania Ave. in Lansing.

Music department hosts The Caldwell's

An exciting experience in music will take place Dec. 8 at 8 p.m. in the St. Johns High School Gym when the music department of St. Johns High School presents The Caldwell's. The Caldwell's are a 14-member musical ensemble from Columbus, Ohio. They present an action-packed concert appropriately called "Music For Young America."

Their musical styling is contemporary. They use popular music, professional choreography, and patriotic emphasis to entertain and communicate. Their programming includes high school assemblies, concerts, fairs and festivals, military bases, television and recordings. Paul Caldwell is the pacesetter for this talented troupe. His musical background and training have given him the solid technical foundation on which to build his colorful and inventive style in music. He has an unusual ability to capture in sound the emotional impact that each song possesses.

They have just released a new long-play album, "It's Time to Hear Caldwell's." This is entire family entertainment with the proceeds to go towards the Plano Fund.

Legal secretaries meet

The Legal Secretaries Organization, a newly formed organization for Clinton and Gratiot Counties met Nov. 20 with a dinner meeting at Daley's Restaurant. Eighteen girls attended. Mrs. Beth Brown, Secretary to Circuit Judge Jack Warren of Ingham County was guest speaker. She was recently given the distinguished honor of being legal secretary of the year. Since this is just being organized, anyone from the two counties working in the legal field is most welcome to join. The next meeting will be in Gratiot County Jan. 15 with election of officers.

Troub-Erickson VOWS EXCHANGED

The New Haven Church of the Brethren of rural Middleton was the scene of a candlelight wedding, Oct. 25, uniting Marjorie Lea Troub, daughter of Mr and Mrs Richard Troub of Middleton, and Michael Lee Erickson, son of Mr and Mrs Nolan Erickson of rural Ashley.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev Randall Roose, of Mt. Pleasant, uncle of the bride, with Rev John Hurst, of the Church of the Brethren, reading scriptures on Love and on Marriage.

Mrs Emory Waldron, cousin of the bride, played several organ selections, as well as the traditional Wedding March. She also accompanied Mrs Ronald Friesen, who sang "Whither Thou Goest," "The Wedding Prayer," and "With This Ring."

The bride escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length A-line styled gown of silk organza over taffeta, trimmed with rose point lace, with full length lace sleeves, and a detachable chapel-length train, also trimmed with rose point lace.

Her elbow length veil fell from a crown of pearls. A white pearl necklace, gift from the groom, accented her neckline. She carried a white Bible arrangement of white pompons and red sweetheart roses. The Bible was a gift from her maternal grandmother, and was used in her mother's wedding.

Mrs Terry Maniez, friend of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs Kurt Bancroft and Mrs Stanley Clark, friends of the bride, and Miss Judy Erickson, sister of the groom. All wore identical floor length gowns of navy blue velvet, with elbow length lace gloves, gifts from the bride. Their head piece of baby blue netting was accented by a navy blue velvet bow. They carried white lace muff arrangements of red carnations and white pompons.

Julie Joslin and Pamela Eicoate, cousins of the bride, were dressed in floor length gowns and head pieces identical to the matron of honor and bridesmaids. Shane Barrett, cousin of the groom, and dressed in a tuxedo, was the ring bearer. His boutonniere was a red sweetheart rose.

Dennis Erickson served as his brother's best man, with Terry Maniez and Stanley Clark, friends of the groom, and Rick Troub, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. Ushers were Charles Boott's, cousin of the groom, Dan Foster, David Redman and Jerry Fabus, friends of the groom. All wore tuxedos with white jackets and black trousers. The groom's boutonniere was a red sweetheart rose centered in a white carnation. All male attendants and ushers wore boutonnieres of red carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Troub chose a brown two-piece dress trimmed in beige, with matching accessories, and a corsage of white pompons and red sweetheart roses. Mrs Erickson wore a light blue two piece dress, with a matching lace covered jacket and accessories to match. Her corsage was also white pompons and red sweetheart roses.

The altar decoration was a fan vase arrangement of white snapdragons and red carnations with palms. Before leaving the altar the bride and groom lit a wedding candle and were then introduced as husband and wife. Honored guests were the bride's paternal great grandparents, Mr and Mrs Clare Troub; and the groom's paternal great grandmother, Mrs Ardith Erickson; maternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs Ernest Anderson; and paternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs Wilford Erickson.

A reception was held in the Fulton School student commons for 300 people, with Mr and Mrs

Scholarship Competition to be held

The Auditions Committee of the St. Johns Morning Musicals has set Saturday, March 14 for the annual scholarship competition to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

The competition will be held 9:30 a.m. in Rodney E. Wilson Jr. High School auditorium.

Regulations for the competition and application forms will be available shortly from members of the musicale.

Linda Thelen bride of Donald Thelen

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Westphalia, was the setting for the Oct. 24 wedding of Miss Linda Theresa Thelen of Westphalia, and Donald Clement Thelen of Fowler. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Norman Thelen of Westphalia and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Leonard Thelen of Fowler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a floor-length A-line gown with lace applied on both the bodice and the skirt. A chapel-length organza train was attached to the dress. Her rose bud veil was accented with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs Victor Voisinnet of Lansing, served as matron of honor and Miss Diane Thelen and Miss Jane Fedewa both of Westphalia served as bridesmaids. Julie Ann Nurenberg, Westphalia, was the flowergirl. They wore sapphire blue velvet gowns trimmed with white lace and carried bouquets of white mums.

Both mothers wore dresses of winter white with the bride's mother selecting sapphire blue accessories and the mother of the groom wearing accents of navy blue. They each wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Leroy Thelen, Lansing, served as best man while Bruce Thelen, Fowler, and Thomas Thelen, Howell, assisted as groomsmen. Ushers were Melvin Drake and Frank Simon both of Lansing, and ring bearer was David Hufnagel of Lansing.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the church hall. Lucy Koeligskecht and Carol Benjamin cut the wedding cake and waiting on the bride's table were Mrs James Voisinnet, Mrs Melvin Weber, Shirley Irner and Rita Knoop.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will be making their home in Lansing at 816 Genesee.

Both graduated in 1967, the bride from Pewamo-Westphalia High School and the groom from Fowler High School.

Shower fetes Pat Pendell

Miss Sue Pendell of Middleton, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given Nov. 18 by Pat and Barb Schmid.

Guests at the shower enjoyed an evening of games with prizes going to Mrs Margaret Wood, Mrs Arlene Gladstone, Miss Joy VanEtten, Mrs Charlotte Jolly, Miss Anita Plerce, Mrs Linda Skinner and Mrs Thelma Woodbury.

Miss Pendell will become the bride of Robert Schmid on Dec. 6.

Central National Bank offers 5 pct. interest on Christmas accounts

Central National Bank has announced it will offer five per cent interest on 1970 Christmas Club accounts.

The bank, located in St. Johns, Ovid and Pewamo, is the first in the county and among the pioneers in Mid-Michigan to offer this service, says Robert Thompson, executive vice president.

This new trend in banking was noted last month in The Wall Street Journal and began with banks in the South and the East.

Under this program, says Thompson, people will open accounts with larger denominations and more tend to complete the deposits necessary for the plan.

Under Central's program, which computes interest daily, club members determine the amount they wish to save and generally make 25 bi-weekly deposits to complete their requirements.

Club members must deposit the amount they specify in order to receive interest, he says.

Deposits, however, may be made whenever the club member chooses to make them.

"It looks like you do get results," says Thompson.

A Grand Rapids bank noted an increase in the amount of deposits and the number of club members after they offered interest on Christmas Club accounts this year.

In 1968 the bank had 14,588 Christmas Club members who saved $1,437,000, he says. This year the bank offered interest on club accounts and members increased to 19,800 and savings were up to $2,860,000.

Thompson says national figures show that only four per cent of Christmas Club money is actually used for gifts. One-third of this money goes right back into savings while the balance—more than 50 per cent—is used for other expenses or purchases.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Business is so good at Egan's Ford Sales in St. Johns they're even attracting deer. That's why the canvas has replaced the window. Last Friday morning a doe jumped through the plate glass window, raced around the showroom and bounced off some cars before it was captured and taken out to the country. "Maybe it wanted to take out a demo," quipped one of the salesman.

Students, citizens, groups join forces to help needy in county for Christmas

Nineteen more shopping days 'til Christmas. Two weeks ago when there were 29, a bleak fourth Thursday in December loomed ahead for some of Clinton County's poor.

"But it looks like we're going to be in real good shape," said Rita Thornton, community aide for the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) who handles the Christmas Clearing Program. "There was a terrific response after the story in the newspaper."

But the job isn't finished yet. "We still have some worrisome spots in the outlying areas," says Betty Sill, also an OEO community aide.

"Our big problem in these areas," she said, "is to keep track of who is taking care of whom, to avoid duplication."

Maple Rapids, DeWitt, and Bath have all taken care of their families, Mrs Sill said, but added that in the Ovid-Elsie area she has families with no sponsors.

Bill Karber, who runs the roller rink has set aside Dec. 16 for the program. On that night a new toy will be the admission price to the planned skating party.

The Student Council in Fowler is having a food, clothing and toy drive to help out.

The American Legion, in St. Johns will sponsor a skating party and the Medical Careers Club has volunteered to repair some of the used toys.

Buchman, a senior citizen, has also volunteered his time to repair toys. Toys with loose parts that need only minor repairs or tightening up like old bikes are fine, he says, but those with parts missing or broken pieces can't be easily repaired.

Many other organizations all over the county have taken responsibility for helping needy families.

"We're still taking names of needy families," says Mrs Sill, "and we're still looking for help."

The OEO office is located at 106 Maple and the telephone number is 224-3302.

Nineteen more shopping days 'til Christmas—you'll have to hurry to get in on the action.

P-W approves record budget

A public hearing was held on the 1969-70 Pewamo-Westphalia school budget last week at the regular Board of Education meeting.

A record budget of $520,744 was presented; an increase of $118,094 over last year. Receipts showed $514,164 for the fiscal year.

Elementary Instructional Costs, showed the greatest increase over last year which was up $62,635.

Item by item, the budget showed the following: Elementary Instruction $157,578 up $62,635; Secondary Instruction $184,163 up $22,803; Administrative Costs $26,966 up $4,546; Transportation $68,152 down $1,483; Operation of Plant $34,785 up $7,591; Maintenance $9,900 up $1,464; Fixed Charges $24,500 up $16,028; Capital Outlay $12,400 up $4,381; Community Services $2,300 up $129.

Total teachers' salaries amount to $279,441 up $73,180. The total teaching staff last year was 26 full time and two half time teachers. The 1969-70 teaching staff is 31 full time teachers.

In other action, the board approved a resolution to request approval from the State Department of Education to borrow $20,000 for general operation.

The superintendent was authorized to request bids on two new school buses to replace two 1960 vehicles. Bids are to be returned for the December meeting.

Good crowd

Michigan State averaged crowds of 70,426 for each of five home football games during 1969, third best total in Spartan books.

wash in DeWitt agreed with Page and stated that vandalism of his property had sharply decreased since the extra evening patrols of part time policemen had been added.

"Part time help is much better than what you're going to now," he told the council, "We need more part time help."

Several councilmen and Mayor Laurence Keck explained that the job description for police chief would assure adequate police protection and that night patrols would be continued.

"Now we're going to have a full time police chief which is more protection," said Overway.

When called to a vote, the motion to hire a new police chief carried unanimously.

Councilmen Duwayne Ziegler, Raymond DeWitt and Keith Blizard were appointed to a committee to draft the job description in time to be presented to the next city council meeting, Dec. 14.

DeWitt tackles problem

That 'slow learner' may lack perception, not ability

By BOB CALVERLEY News Staff Writer

First results of a Federal program to aid perceptual development of children in DeWitt Public Schools seem to be favorable, says Elementary Principal Don Powell.

The program, which involved special individual training of "slow learners" for six weeks this summer, grew from a theory Powell has concerning children in the fourth and fifth grades, who are unable to cope with the learning expected of them.

Psychological tests show these slower learning children to have normal mental capabilities, but they are unable to keep up with others in their classes, particularly in reading.

"Suppose some children develop or grow perceptually, less rapidly than most children," said Powell.

Perceptual ability is the child's awareness of the data reaching his senses, or more simply, how he sees things. Children with low perceptual ability may have a tendency to write letters or numerals backwards or be unable to grasp that the letters in words, and the words themselves in reading, go from left to right.

"These youngsters don't see things the way others see them," says Powell.

Most children become fully mature in perceptual ability by the time they are in the fourth or fifth grade, but Powell believes some develop this ability at a slower pace than others.

"These slow growing children are not ready to learn beginning reading skills but because of age and size, they were given beginning reading demands in the first grade," he said.

"When the perceptually slow children grew to the point where they were ready to learn beginning reading skills, the majority of children had moved on to more advanced reading skills.

"Because learning is built on past learning, these children get farther and farther behind."

Powell convinced school personnel in DeWitt that the key to overcoming this problem might lie in perceptual training to speed up perceptual growth in the children.

In January 1969 tests were given to kindergarten, first, second, and third graders, and

DeWitt School Board views computer service

James Decatur and Roland Lewis reported on their visit to the Ingham County Computer Center at the DeWitt Board of Education meeting Nov. 25.

The two were investigating the possibility of using the computer service to handle some of the bookkeeping and financial work of the school system.

"It's gotten to the point where it is not going to be kept up by one person," said Lewis, "but this method is not less expensive when you start."

"I don't see us getting into this type of program in the immediate future," Supt. James Ritchie commented.

No action was taken on the report.

In other action, Ritchie told the board that two teachers had last year been illegally awarded tenure.

"We were under the impression that teachers transferring from another state only needed one year before tenure could be granted," he said. Ritchie explained that the action of the board could not supersede the law of the State of Michigan, and that this would be explained to the teachers involved.

The board voted 4-2 to send two representatives to the National School Board Convention, April 11-14, 1970, in San Francisco.

"I think there's a great deal to be derived from it," Lewis said in supporting the action.

Lloyd Ballard and Merry Sellhorn voted against the motion. In other action the board:

Mr and Mrs Carl Barnes and Karla Kay entertained Mr and Mrs Herbert Kowalk of DeWitt, and Mildred Barnes on Thanksgiving.

Mr and Mrs Andrew Kempf were Sunday dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Bert Barker and Marilyn. They were at Mr and Mrs Maynard Kempf's on Thanksgiving day.

29 children who appeared to be perceptually handicapped were selected to participate in a summer program.

A proposal was submitted to state authorities and $5,538 in federal money was obtained.

During the six weeks of summer school, youngsters were individually trained by teachers and teacher's aides. Children such as the one with the inability to grasp words and letters flowing from left to right were painstakingly drilled by teachers to follow, first a solid line, then a dotted line, and given manual exercises to get them reading the right direction.

"Since the program ended all the children have been tested," said Powell, "and the average child raised his Perceptual Quotient 23 points."

An average Perceptual Quotient score is 100. He added that one 7-year-old boy who began with the general skills of a 5-year-old finished with the skills of an 8 1/2 year old.

Some youngsters with perceptual problems who did not take the program were also retested, and they showed no growth of perceptual ability at all.

"But I can't say yet that the program was an unqualified success," added Powell. "The real proof of the value of this, or any other educational program, is conduct in the classroom. First returns, after six weeks of school, are very encouraging."

To illustrate this, Powell explained if a boy were painstakingly trained to put a basketball through the hoop until he could score every time he shot, it wouldn't mean anything unless he could also score under all the pressures of a real game.

"It's possible we may need to reinforce this program with a similar one next summer for some of the children involved," he said, "but I think it has real potential."

Tell child why he's in hospital

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE
Extension Home Economist

No one enjoys a stay in a hospital, though adults will readily admit our good fortune in having them available when needed.

But a child lacks the knowledge and understanding of the purpose of such a place.

UNLESS he has been prepared for such an experience it can leave emotional scars long after his physical health has been regained.

Because fear of the unknown is far more terrifying than anxiety about the known, it's important that parents tell a child why he is going to the hospital. If he knows the "why" he won't feel some mean trick has been played on him, or that it's some sort of a punishment to him.

THE AGE of the child will of course influence the amount of detail you give regarding what to expect. For example if a child has never seen a surgical mask he could be quite frightened.

Social Events

Mr and Mrs Willis Hardenburg, Keven and Nancy and also June Reist and Charles Burnett of Flint spent Thanksgiving Day with Mr and Mrs Dewey Reist of St. Johns. Mr and Mrs Ralph Thrush of Kenosha, Wis. were afternoon callers.

However, he should understand that a hospital stay may be quite different from just being ill at home. It's important that he know there may be some discomfort and even pain.

HE SHOULD understand however that the discomfort and pain will not last and that he can stand it. Let him know how much you can visit and if possible about how long he'll be in the hospital.

A child needs his parents' presence. To help ease his anxiety take him or go with him to the hospital if at all possible. Be with him before and after an operation if possible.

It's as harmful to deceive a child innocently as to mislead him willfully. In either way you betray his trust in you.

LUTHERAN CHURCH CONFIRMATION CLASS

Freezing and canning tips

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

There's that office phone again and chances are that the home-maker on the other end of the line has a question on freezing or canning of food.

The answers go something like this.

THE WHITE sediment in your jar of dill pickles does not necessarily mean that they are spoiled. That white sediment can be caused by using table salt rather than pickling salt. It may be due to the bacteria that cause the desired fermentation in dill pickles. In neither case is it harmful.

Yes, some folks do freeze fresh tomatoes at home for future use in cooking. The resulting product is not considered to be top quality.

IT IS possible to successfully freeze whole fresh tomatoes with the use of liquid nitrogen which freezes food at temperatures as low as 275 degrees below zero but this is not in common use.

No, green tomatoes should not be ripened on a sunny window sill. Ripen them at room temperature (or as low as 80 degrees) in full light but not in direct sunlight or near a concentrated source of heat. Refrigerate after they become fully ripe.

OF COURSE, misshapen tomatoes can be canned. As long as they are not spoiled they are worth saving. Make them up into tomato juice or stewed tomatoes. If you stew the tomatoes you can use up some of the other end-of-the-garden vegetables and stewed tomatoes are a real favorite in winter meals.

Here is the recipe: 2 quarts tomatoes (cut in chunks), 4 tablespoons green peppers (chopped), 4 tablespoons onions (chopped), 6 tablespoons celery (chopped), 2 teaspoons celery salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Measure all vegetables after chopping. Mix all ingredients and pack into clean jars to within 1/2 inch of top of jar. Put on cap, screwing band firmly tight. Process in water bath for 45 minutes.

Diane Harter bride of Michael O'Malley

Now at home in Colorado Springs, are Mr and Mrs Michael O'Malley who were married Oct. 25 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns. The couple traveled through Illinois and Pleasant Run on their honeymoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs George H. Harter of 116 Lewis St., St. Johns and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs O'Malley of Deerfield, Illinois.

Miss Diane G. Harter was given in marriage by both her parents. She approached the altar in organy gown with a fitted bodice and a straight skirt with lace applique trim. Her elbow-length veil was accented with the same applique as her gown. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and ivy.

Her attendant, a college friend, was Mrs Margaret Sayen of Bartle Creek. The matron of honor wore an olive green silk long sleeve gown with a fitted bodice and a straight skirt. Her pill box hat was done in gold net and she carried a bouquet of white and yellow spider mums.

Bill Viers, served as best man and ushers were Tim Thilman and Tim O'Malley, brother of the groom.

The Rev Hankerd performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of spider mums. Mrs Herman Smith was the organist and accompanied John Anderson when he sang, "Oh Perfect Love" and the "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride's mother selected a knit suit in celery green while the groom's mother wore an aqua silk. Both were presented with a corsage of white gardenias.

Special guest at the wedding was Mrs Frank Klein, Detroit, grandmother of the groom.

Mrs Arthur Halfman made the wedding cake which was served at a dinner reception at Dale's Restaurant. Serving the wedding cake were Mrs Gordon Howe of Berrien Springs and Miss Sue O'Malley, sister of the groom. Mrs Donald Gilson acted as hostess.

The bride changed to a black and white dress with a white coat accented with an orange scarf for travel.

The bride attended Albion College and graduated from Western Michigan University in 1966. The groom attended Western Michigan University and was employed by Glenbrook Laboratory.

MYRTIE B. JONES

Mrs Myrtie B. Jones

Mrs Myrtie B. Jones, 88, died Nov. 17, at the Jackson Nursing Home in St. Johns. Severe illness had kept her in hospitals and nursing homes for the past 10 years.

Mrs Jones was born in Bengal Township, the daughter of Samuel and Rosella Alexander Parks. She attended the Boak rural school. At the age of nine her mother became an invalid and the child learned cooking, sewing, and housekeeping at her mother's bedside. When she was 12 her mother died, and, although she was an excellent student, she had to leave school and become housekeeper for her father, two older brothers, and a younger sister.

In 1901 she married Earl Jones, also of Bengal. They began housekeeping in a log cabin, but soon moved to the farm in Essex Township where they spent their lives, building it from bare ground to a good home and a successful business.

Though hard-working people they always found time to be neighborly and active in community affairs. They belonged

An uncommon look at an unusual breed of men and their work

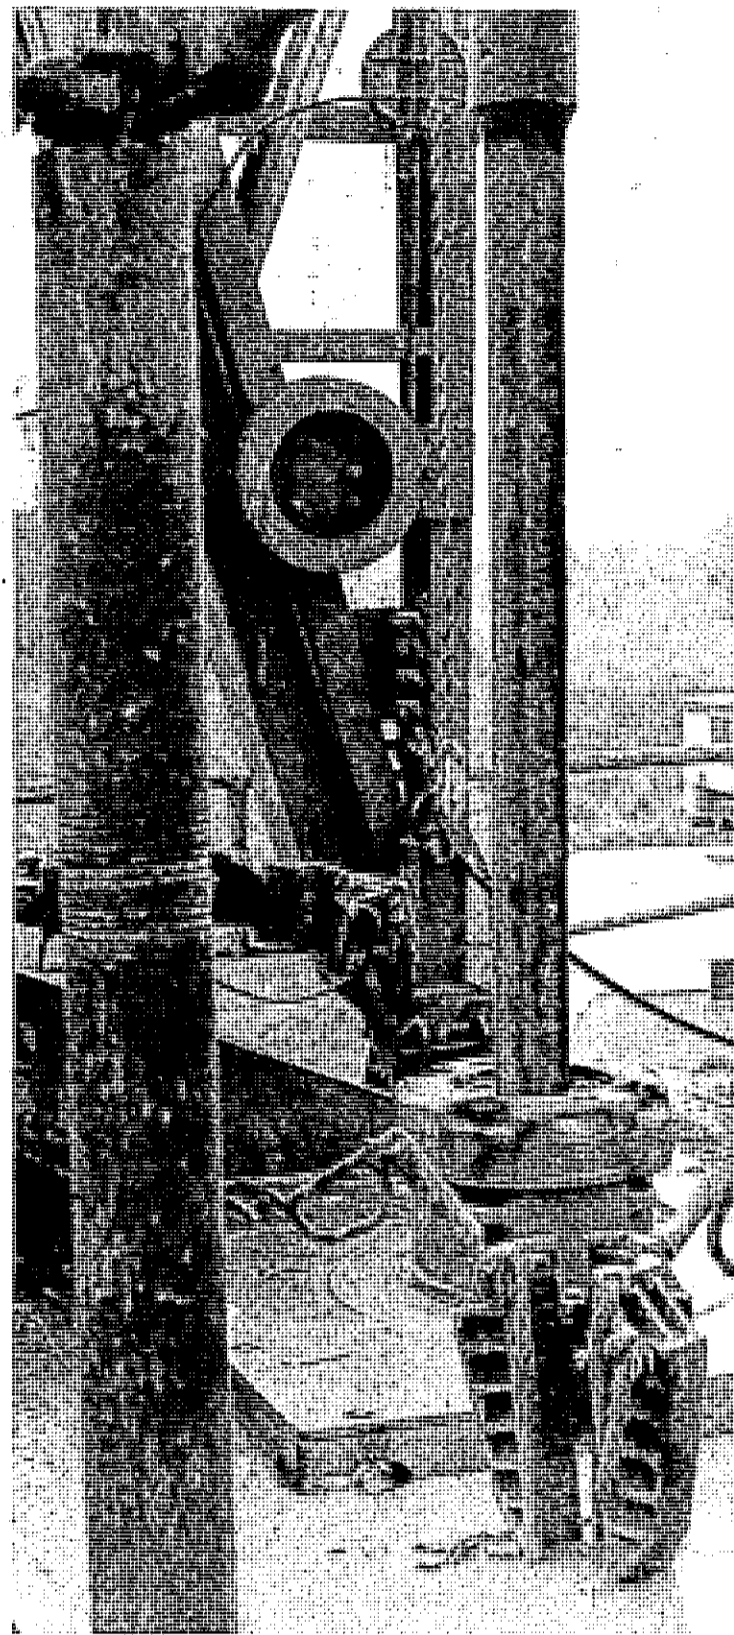

A month ago a 127-foot oil derrick appeared on the horizon in Clinton County near Ovid Township. Drillers plan to probe at least 7,000 feet for oil or petroleum in hopes a major break runs through the field. Oil wells are an uncommon sight in these parts so News photographer Ed Cheeney took his camera in for a close up of an unusual breed of men and their work.

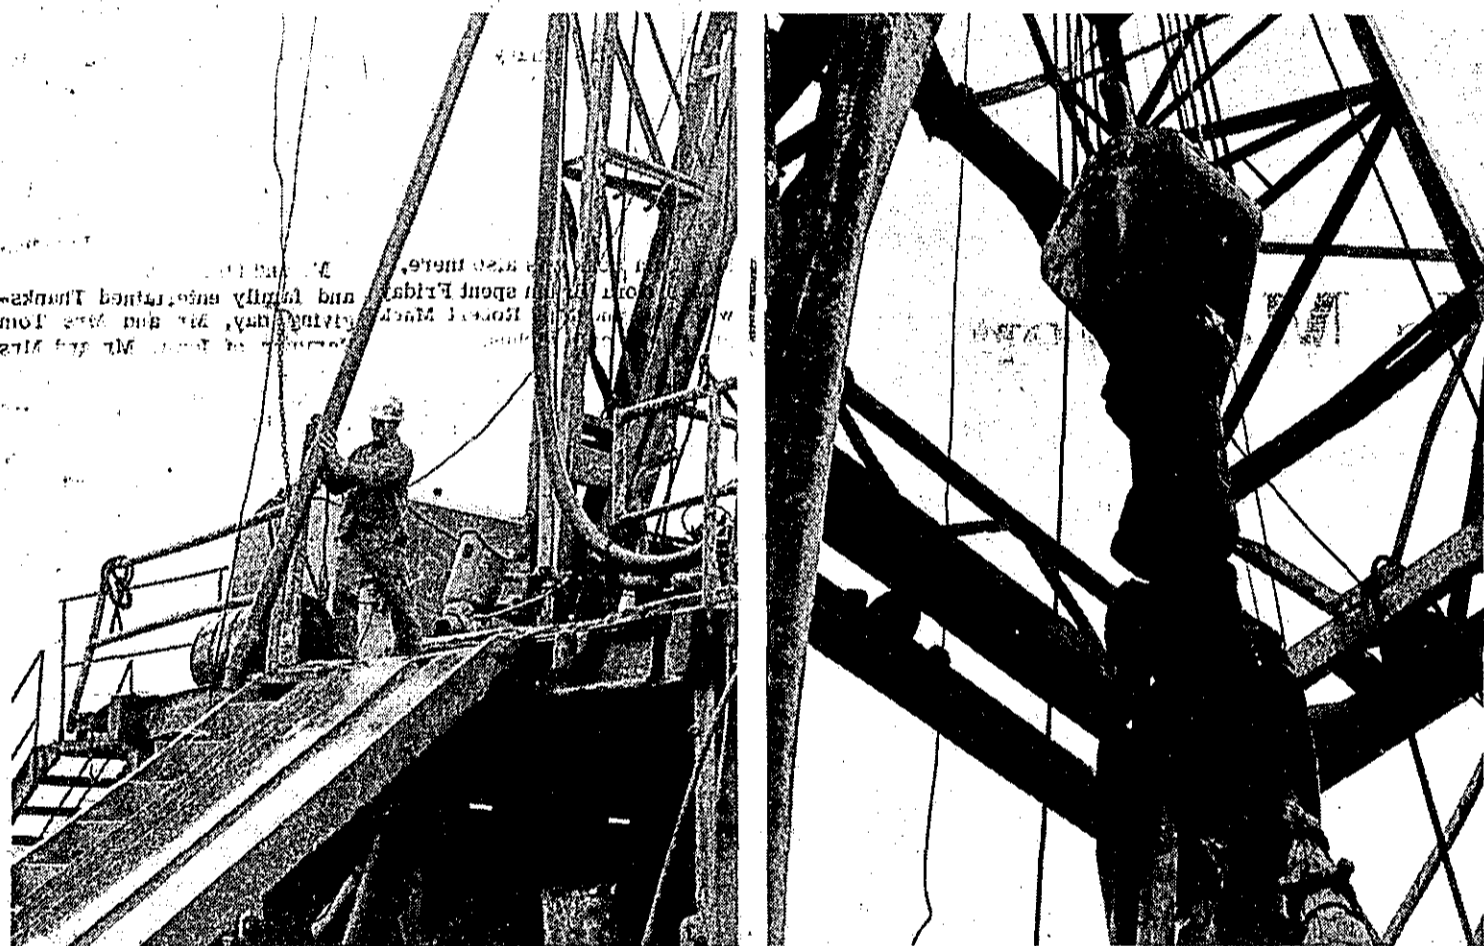

Workman ready to hookup 30-foot drill extension

This is what a derrick (left) looks like looking straight up from the platform.

This connector looks like a giant pulley (below).

Up top, this workman prepares to hoist 30-foot extension for connection to the drilling apparatus.

This mighty drill churns through a foot of earth anywhere from a minute and a half to five minutes depending on what's in the way.

League football coaches
name five Redwings to All-Conference team

BRIAN BALLINGER

TIM DURNER

ROGER DAVIS

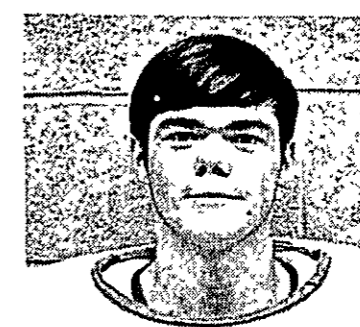

Repeating for All-Conference honors, St. Johns quarterback Tim Durner this week was a unanimous selection of West Central Conference coaches who also placed four other Redwings on the dream team.

Joining Durner on the first team offensive unit were senior tackle Brian Ballinger and senior guard Roger Davis while Chuck Green and Rich Stoddard, both seniors, were named first team backs on the defensive unit.

Besides St. Johns, only conference champions Grand Ledge placed as many as five players on the All-Conference squad first team.

Durner, a senior co-captain of the Redwings, completed 59 passes in 132 attempts for 893 yards and an average gain of 15.4 yards. He threw nine touchdown passes over the season and rushed for another 26 points.

Although named to the offensive unit, Ballinger was also a defensive standout for the Wings all season. The Redwing co-captain named by his teammates as the club's most valuable player, was in on 82 tackles for the year and was credited with seven solos.

Davis, named by his teammates as the season's 100 per cent player, was also another Redwing defensive standout named to the All-Conference first team offensive unit.

A strong blocker on offense, Davis, a 6-foot-2 senior, defensively contributed 61 tackles, including four color solos.

Green, another two-way man, was named honorary captain by his teammates at the conclusion of the season. Although named to the defensive unit, Green was the club's leading ground gainer with 1,050 yards for the season averaging 5.9 yards per carry. He scored 60 points—30 rushing and caught passes for 30 more.

Defensively, Green led the Wings in interceptions with seven while recovering two fumbles. Stoddard, a 5-foot-7, 157-pound defensive halfback was the fifth Redwing named to the All-Conference team. Stoddard, a senior was one of the club's leading tacklers with 33, including six solos. Following the Grand Ledge game, Stoddard's defensive play earned him Back of the Week honors.

JVs have trouble
in season openers

JV Coach Mike Young promised a hustling basketball squad at St. Johns before the season opened.

And the JVs haven't let down in that respect but they've had their troubles in the season openers.

At Ovid-Elsie last week, the Marauders stopped St. Johns, 46-32, and in the home opener Friday, Ionia's JV squad topped the junior Redwings, 51-38.

"Our kids hustled well on defense against Ovid-Elsie," said Young, "but our lack of rebounding strength hurt us."

"We put up more shots than O-E but only hit on 19 per cent while they hit on 44 per cent of their shots."

St. Johns trailed by four, 12-8, at the end of the first period and added six in the second to be on the short end of a 26-14 halftime score.

Hitting for only four points in the third, St. Johns fell behind by 17 in that period, 35-18, but came back with 14 in the final frame.

Against Ionia, a team which scored 85 points in its opening game, St. Johns had two players in double figures—Rick Hudson with 12 and Dennis LeVeck, 11.

"Offensively, we put up 30 more shots than they did," said Young, "but again, we only hit for 19 per cent."

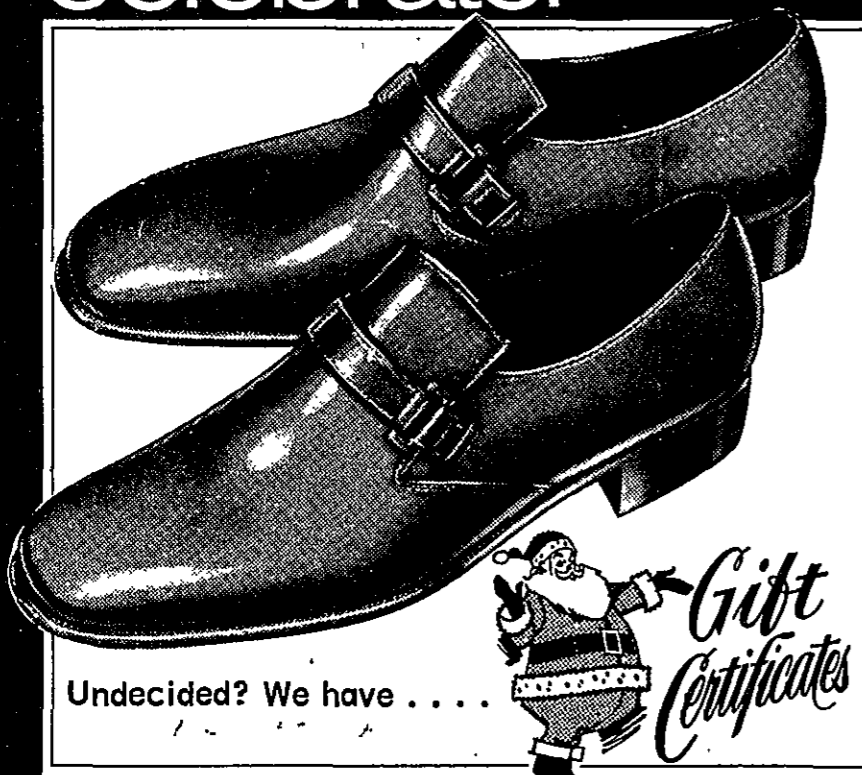

"We turned the ball over only 14 times which isn't too bad for this early in the season," he added.

At the end of the first period St. Johns trailed by only two, 10-8, but then Ionia hit for 15 in the second and the Wings were behind 25-15 at the half.

Hitting for only six in the third quarter while the Bulldogs scored nine, the Wings came back for 17 in the final. This output was equally equalled by Ionia, however.

Ionia	10	15	9	17-51
St. Johns	8	7	6	17-38
St. Johns	8	6	4	14-32
Ovid-Elsie	12	14	9	11-46

Redwings off and running with two wins

Redwing shooters while Elsler, another senior up front, fired in 17.

The Redwings, showing tremendous hustle along with a certain over-eagerness which is to be expected in the first outing, were held pretty close through much of the first period.

But with about three minutes left in the period and leading 10-7, the Wings began to find the range and the period ended with St. Johns owing a 19-9 margin.

In the second period St. Johns hit for 23 more while the Marauders were held to only 10 and the Wings held a 42-19 lead at the half. With about a minute and a half left in the half St. Johns hit for seven points while O-E added only one in that span.

The Wings struck fast early in the third period hitting for six points in the first minute and a half and increasing their lead to 28 points, 46-20. St. Johns led 62-36 at the end of the period.

With less than two minutes gone in the final period, Rehmman hit on a pair of free throws to put the Wings up by 34 points, 70-36—the biggest margin of the night.

Adding to the Wings' offense were Dave Gaffney and Rich Stoddard with nine points each. The only player to hit in double figures for Ovid-Elsie was work-horse Cal Woodward, a 6-foot-1 junior, who pumped in 25.

"This Woodward will probably be one of the finest ballplayers in their league," said Japinga. But the Marauders were able to hit on only 33 per cent of their shots while St. Johns had a 79 per cent average.

The Redwings were somewhat smoother Friday against Ionia and the hustle was still there, too.

Terming it "a good team effort," Japinga said, "It was an improved performance over the Ovid-Elsie game.

"I was enthused with the kids' hustle and effort," he added.

The lead exchanged hands several times for the first 3 1/2 minutes of the opening period until Gaffney broke a 5-5 tie to give St. Johns the lead which they never relinquished.

The Wings held Ionia scoreless for the last two minutes of the period while adding nine of their own to pull ahead 27-9 at the end of the quarter.

Neither club scored during the first 3 1/2 minutes of the second period and the Wings were able to put only seven on the board in the remaining 5 1/2 minutes while the Bulldogs picked up 11.

St. Johns led 34-20 at the half.

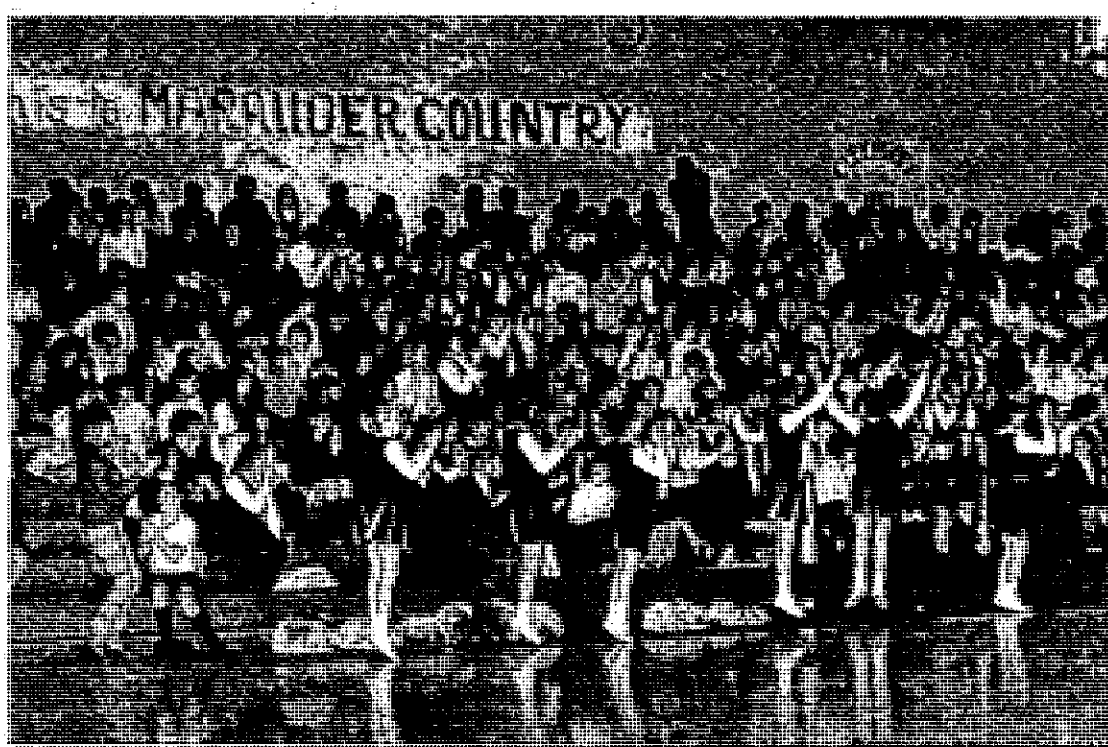

In the third period, the Wings opened up their largest lead of the night—22 points—when Chuck Green hit for two at 6:38 and a 42-20 lead. St. Johns opened the period with eight consecutive points—four from Green—while holding Ionia scoreless.

At the end of the period the Redwings led 53-36.

The Bulldogs out-scored the Redwings, 18-14, in the final period but it was too late to overcome the explosive first quarter.

"I'm pleased we didn't give up after the first quarter," said an obviously discouraged Don Gorsuch after the game. The Ionia head coach indicated he was impressed with the Redwing defensive effort and the fast break.

St. Johns meets a tall Waverly club Friday and Gorsuch said,

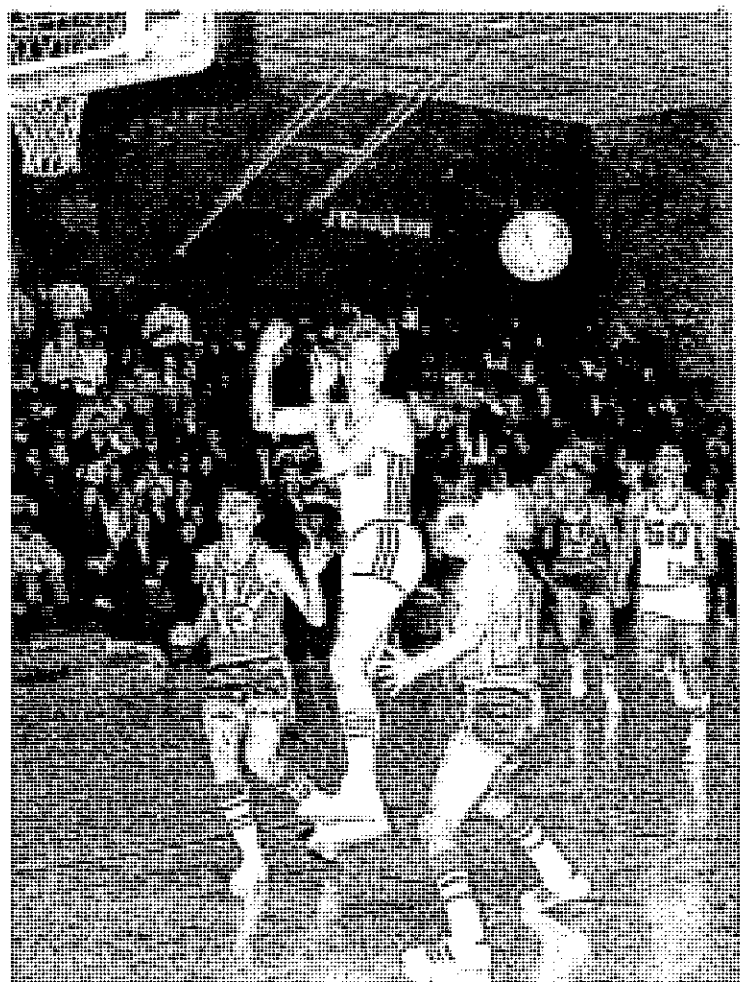

It may have been Marauder country, but the invading Redwings from St. Johns came on like Attila the Hun taking a Roman holiday.

"I think your defense can run them." The Wings spread out the scoring against Ionia with four players in double figures.

Elsler paced St. Johns with 14 points, while Gaffney had 13 and Green and Rehmman 12 each. Dan Rademacher had nine. Mike Fuller was the only Bulldog in double figures with 17.

3 Ways To Pay For Christmas

Number one

Check-Mate is not a credit card. It is a check guarantee-automatic loan program. It assists you in cashing checks where you are now known and it allows you to write checks for more than your balance with payment of the loan created by small monthly installments or a lump sum, if you desire. Only you and your bank know that you are creating a loan when you write the check.

Number two

Michigan Bankard, unlike Check-Mate, is a credit card. It allows you to obtain a cash advance in over 300 banks throughout Michigan. It also allows you to charge purchases in more than 17,000 businesses and service establishments throughout the state.

Christmas Savings Club

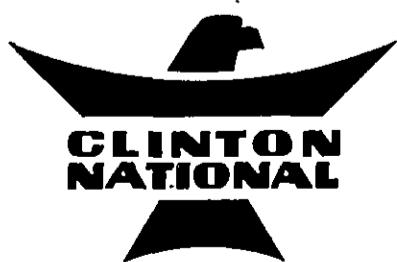

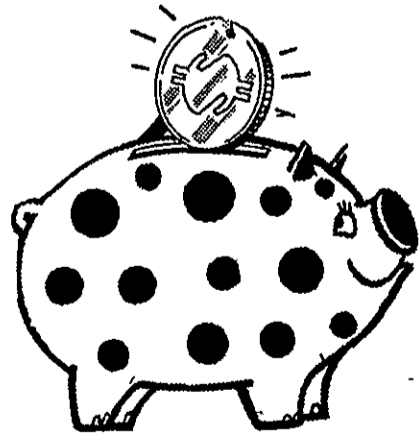

Number three

Of course if you didn't open a Christmas Club last year it won't help this Christmas. If you did, you have Christmas money right now. For next year, however, it is time to open the account now so you will be ready for Christmas 1970.

3 ways to pay for Christmas

At no other bank in Central Michigan can you obtain (1) Check-Mate, (2) Michigan Bankard and (3) Christmas Club. Why not have all three from the only bank in the area that offers all three?

Kathy Jo Nichols wins state 4-H health award

Kathy Jo Nichols of DeWitt has been selected as the State 4-H Health Award winner and will be a delegate to the 48th National 4-H Congress in Chicago from Nov. 30 through Dec. 4.

She will be one of Michigan's 30 4-H members among the 1,650 4-H Youth from 50 States and Puerto Rico attending the National 4-H Congress.

"Make Tomorrow Happen" is the theme of the 1969 Congress which is designed to offer 4-H members education, inspiration and recognition. While in Chicago the delegates will visit the Museum of Science and Industry, Art Institute, Livestock Exposition and other points of interest. The youth will explore career opportunities and discuss key issues affecting citizens of the United States and their role in World affairs.

Kathy is a member of the Olive 4-H Projects Club in Clinton County for her ninth year taking a total of 30 projects in the area of clothing, food, weather, vege-teen leader and gun safety.

She has been a camp counselor, fair superintendent, served her local 4-H club as president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and news reporter, served as an officer in the County 4-H Teen Leader Club and County 4-H Service Club.

Kathy participated in the National 4-H Teen Caravan program in 1969 to Japan, the Area 9 4-H Exchange trip to Canada in 1968, and has received County 4-H award trips to Barry County, State 4-H Youth Week.

Her 4-H projects have been outstanding earning her trips to the State 4-H Show at Michigan State University in vegetables, food and clothing. In 1968 Kathy won the County 4-H Public Speaking Contest and placed second in the State Contest at State 4-H Show.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Mahlon Nichols of DeWitt and is presently a senior at St. Johns High School.

Although health is not a separate project, Kathy qualified for this area in the district and state contest because good health is stressed in all her projects. The final selection took place at the State 4-H Show at MSU. The donor of National 4-H Health Award is the Eli Lilly and Company of Indianapolis, Ind.

By ROBERT ELDRIDGE Road Clerk

It was my misfortune to break a leg some time ago which necessitated a five-week absence from work.

This accounts for the non-appearance of the County Road Report, if perhaps you may have wondered. So much for that.

It is the time of year again to start planning for next year's road work. Meetings have already been scheduled with seven township boards to discuss plans for local roads this coming season. These meetings are being held evenings this year so that members of the commission can attend.

It is at these meetings that the township boards acquaint the commission with what they desire in the line of road improvements and major projects such as chloride application, brush control, tree removal and so forth. Mr Maske prepares cost estimates on the work the boards would like us to do and, if the estimated costs fit within the township's budgeted amounts for local road work, agreements are drawn up.

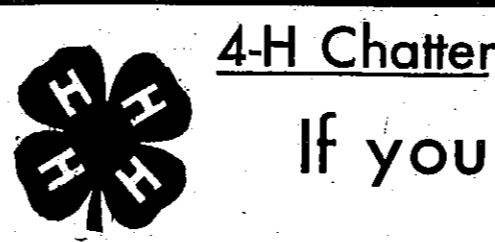

These are legal agreements authorizing the commission to perform specified road jobs within the townships. The commission participation in the cost of these projects is specified as is the townships' share and the agreements are signed and witnessed by members of the boards and of the commission. No major road project is done on any local road without such an agreement being drawn.

If an emergency arises during the year, such as the need for a large bridge culvert perhaps, special meetings are called and agreements covering the needed work are arrived at and signed before the work is done. Normal maintenance, such as grading, surface patching, filling washouts, ice and snow removal and so forth, is done by the commission without an agreement from the townships as this is work the commission is set up for and is expected to do.

For the most part—there are occasional exceptions—the commission stands all the cost of rebuilding primary roads and also of maintaining them. Under the law, our funds are supposed to be spent on a 25 per cent basis—one fourth towards local roads and three-fourths for primary roads. This is essentially why it is necessary for the townships to contribute heavily of their funds if much rebuilding of local roads is to be done.

This accounts also for the disparity in miles of improved local roads between townships. Some have more funds than others, of course, and others have chosen to spend their funds in different ways than their neighbors. The commission can make suggestions for local road improvements, it can urge that certain major projects be undertaken on local roads but the basic decisions on such work are made by the township boards. This is as it should be and will remain under our present laws.

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Michigan State University agricultural engineers warn farmers with liquid manure pits that dangerous gases may accumulate in the tanks. Ventilate areas over liquid manure tanks before toxic or explosive gases gather, the engineers suggest.

A good time for review

It would be good for our country if every citizen were to review often the fundamental factors of our way of life.

The three fundamentals are: (1) faith in God; (2) constitutional government; (3) private enterprise.

1. Faith in God.

When the founding fathers came to America, the desire for religious freedom was their great driving force. They were Godly people. The first buildings erected were crudely constructed church buildings. The people prayed to God for guidance, and they placed their faith in God. Basic principles growing out of this great faith were written into every governmental document which went in the formation of our U.S.A. And don't forget this; men cannot be really free unless they are controlled from within, and the Christian religion is the most effective means of controlling people from within.

2. Constitutional government.

This is the second great fundamental in our freedom structure. Our founding fathers did not use the word "democracy" in either the Constitution or Bill of Rights. They were building something far better, a constitutional Republic. The Constitution guarantees rights for all people, minorities or majorities. Under it any one citizen can stand on his constitutional rights and challenge his government, even sue it. And the majority cannot run roughshod over the minority, as may be done in a "democracy." The Communists call their government a "democracy," but it is a democracy of slavery. Our government contains true democratic principles, but they are made possible by the unique structure of the republic.

3. Private enterprise economy.

There are two distinct types of economic systems which people may have. One is a government-owned economy, and the other is an economy owned by private individuals. There might be a combination of the two for a short time, but a combination could not last long. Ultimately the government must own the property, the factories, the farms, the businesses, and the homes; or the private citizens must own these things. As a result of our private ownership we have the greatest outpouring of material wealth the world has ever seen, and its distribution throughout the whole population is the most equitable yet attained in any country.

4-H boys and girls enrolled in the woodworking project in 15 different clubs throughout the county.

Several new woodworking projects clubs this year include the Termites from the Bath area, E & W Woodworkers from Grand Ledge area and Eagle Border from the Eagle area. The other twelve clubs have had woodworking projects for several years.

Woodworking experience and age determines which phase of the project 4-H members choose. The different phases of 4-H woodworking projects require different amounts of experience and ability. The 4-H woodworking project offers an opportunity for originality and creativity. The member discusses with the leader which items they would like to make.

Learning to use hand tools is a major goal in the first phase of woodworking and 4-H members make flower boxes, breadboards, knife holders, doorstops, birdhouses, bird feeders and other items. On the advanced level members learn to use power equipment making bookcases, workbenches, screens, lawn chairs, picnic tables and household furniture depending upon the ability and skill of the member.

The 4-H Teen Leaders will meet Monday, Dec. 8 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Johns High School instead of Thursday, Dec. 4. The members will have a swimming party from 6:30 p.m. - 8 p.m. at the High School and then go to Smith Hall for their meeting and Christmas party. The Teen Leaders may invite a guest to the party and there is to be a gift exchange of $1 at the meeting.

Would you like to be a 4-H Astronomy leader? How would you like to explore the observation and study of stars and planets and their ever-changing relationships to earth? That's the essence of a new project program being designed for youth and prospective leaders in the 4-H Youth Program.

The Initial Astronomy Project idea will be launched on Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m. at the MSU Abrams Planetarium with prospective teen and adult leaders in attendance. A series of two hour leader training programs will follow during the spring for those who want to further develop their leadership in astronomy skills.

Specific areas to be taught will be: Star and constellation identification, observing the moon and planets, using binoculars and telescopes, observing motions in the sky and observing "deep sky" objects such as double stars, star clusters and galaxies.

If any one would be interested in learning more about this program or would like to be a leader please contact the County Extension Office, 1003 South Oakland St. in St. Johns or phone 224-3288.

The Eagle Beavers have elected the following officers for their winter program: Mary Jo Bergans, president; Sandra Volk, vice president; Lou Ann Volk, secretary and treasurer; Pat McConnell, news reporter; and Myrna Payne, recreation leader. The club has 11 members and Jeanette Beachnau is the new organizational leader. The next meeting will be Dec. 13 at the home of Myrna Payne.

The Riverside Riders 4-H members are busy covering the Veterinary Science Project covering the first three chapters. The club held a hayride and party earlier. The members discussed having a sleigh ride with Belgian horses pulling the sleigh, roller skating and having a blacksmith and veterinarian talk to them about their own horses.

The Olive 4-H projects club members held their regular meeting with a family potluck dinner. Fair premiums, certificates, pins, and trip awards were presented to the members. Kathy Nichols showed slides and talked of her experience this summer on the National 4-H Teen Caravan program to Japan. The club has seventy-two members in the winter program making them the largest club in the county. They have 31 members, in sewing, 11 in tractor, nine in knitting, three in passport, six in weather, 19 in handicraft, three in small engines, six in electrical, one in indoor gardening and seven in teen leaders.

U.S. extends deadline for meat inspection

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has given Michigan and 44 other States another year—until Dec. 15, 1970—to establish meat inspection systems equal to requirements of Federal law.

Joint Federal-State surveys of these State's systems, including laws, regulations, financing and staffing, as well as actual inspection, give USDA reason to believe these states will have a fully operational system by the new deadline, covering all meat slaughtering and processing plants doing business wholly within the State.

USDA has advised officials in California, Florida and Maryland that their inspection systems have been evaluated as being at least equal to the current status of Federal inspection.

Officials in Indiana and North Dakota were advised that unless they can provide evidence that defects in laws, regulations, funding, or staffing can be overcome in time to have an adequate inspection system operating within the next year, it will be necessary for USDA to take over inspection of meat plants doing business wholly within those States.

The Wholesome Meat Act, signed Dec. 15, 1967, gave the States two years to establish meat inspection systems for packing plants operating wholly within States that are at least equal to the Federal inspection system which covers plants operating in interstate or foreign commerce.

The Act authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to grant a State an additional year if the State shows significant progress toward meeting the requirements.

In States that are granted such extensions, the Secretary retains authority to move in to close plants that are a hazard to public health.

If progress in any State is no sufficient to qualify it for the one-year extension of time, the Act requires that the Secretary make all intrastate plants in the State subject to the Federal Meat Inspection Act.

The Wholesome Meat Act provides for Federal financial and technical assistance to the States to help them establish adequate inspection systems. USDA has been providing such assistance—including half the cost of operations—to 48 States and Puerto Rico under Federal-State cooperative meat inspection agreements authorized by the Wholesome Meat Act.

USDA buys dry edible beans for donation

More than 13 million pounds of dry edible great northern and pea (Michigan navy) beans were purchased last week by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for domestic donation says Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The entire purchase, he says, is for distribution to schools under the school lunch program and needy persons.

Purchases are financed with Section 32 funds provided by law from import duties collected under customs laws to the Secretary of Agriculture to encourage domestic consumption of farm products.

About 8-3/4 million pounds of the 13,081,768 pounds purchased were pea or Michigan navy beans.

Distribution to school lunch programs will be in 50-pound packages while those for distribution to needy persons will be in two-pound packages similar to the packages in local grocery stores, he says.

Purchases were made on a competitive bid basis and two Michigan packaging firms, J. P. Burroughs and Michigan Bean Co., Division of Wickes Corporation, both of Saginaw, received orders for over eight million pounds of the 13-million pound purchase.

The beans, Smith says, were for delivery during the month of November and for destinations ranging across the United States from Portland, Maine to Arizona and California.

Michigan destinations included Boyne City, Iron Mountain, Cadillac, Lansing, Saginaw, Holland, Flint, Kalamazoo, and Marshall. These are central locations from which distributions will be made.

Smith points out that while this is classified as a farm program, the direct benefit in this instance is to the customer, a fact often overlooked in discussing farm programs and a very beneficial use of funds provided to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Federal proposal would aid young farm workers

Secretary of Labor George P. Schultz has proposed a hazardous-occupations order to protect hired farmworkers under 16 from particularly hazardous jobs.

The proposed order, published in the Federal Register Oct. 9, would replace an interim order of January 1968 which expires this year.

A public hearing on the proposal will be held Nov. 18 in Washington, D.C.

The proposed order would protect young workers from dangers in certain tractor and farm machine operations, handling hazardous chemicals and explosives, working at high elevations, working in pens with breeding stock, heavy timber operations, driving buses, trucks, tractors or autos with passengers, and work inside airtight produce and grain storage or silos.

The 14- and 15-year olds who complete training under approved Federal Extension Service or Vocational Agriculture programs may receive an exemption for operation of tractors and some farm machines.

Cooperative Vocational Agricultural student-learners would also be exempt from certain provisions of the proposed order.

The order would not apply to youths employed by their parents or persons standing in for a parent or person, nor would it supersede more stringent State laws.

The proposal was developed with the assistance of an ad-

Michigan State unveils new cucumber type

Potential for increased yields and economic returns are two attractive traits of a new cucumber variety recently released by Michigan State University horticulturists.

Spartan Advance is a gynoecious (predominantly female) hybrid which is specially adapted to mechanical harvesting. According to horticulturist Larry R. Baker, Spartan Advance represents an improvement over similar hybrids in yield and other desirable characteristics.

Besides traits essential to effective mechanical harvesting, the new hybrid is resistant to cucumber scab and cucumber mosaic virus. It also has good shape and color which improve its marketability, says Baker.

The new variety is a result of a special vegetable research program being conducted at MSU. The aims of the research are to strengthen the multimillion dollar Michigan vegetable industry and to provide consumers with better fresh and processed vegetables.

"And we aren't finished yet," says Baker. "Development of genetic resistance to powdery mildew and angular leaf spot is in progress."

Hospitalman LON R. BEE-MAN, USN, son of Mrs Pat L. Reinke of R-2, Round Lake Road, Laingsburg, received the Navy Unit Commendation during ceremonies aboard the hospital ship USS Sanctuary off the coast of Vietnam.

The commendation was presented by the officers and men of the hospital ship by the Commander of the U.S. Seventh Fleet in recognition of Sanctuary's exceptionally meritorious service from April of 1967 to April of this year.

The Secretary of the Navy cited the white-hulled ship for her service while providing highly responsive hospital ship services to American and allied forces ashore.

The Sanctuary recorded in two years 7,000 helicopter landings, 12,300 patients admitted and treated a total of 23,500 servicemen.

Aviation Machinist Mate Airman Apprentice ROBERT T. KUCH, USN, husband of the former Miss Kay J. Herbert of 10710 Van Orden Road, Fowlerville, Mich., is serving at the U.S. Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Fla.

Pensacola is the hub of the Navy's vast aviation training command. Known as the "Annapolis of the Air", the Pensacola station provides flight training for student Naval Aviators.

It is also the home of the Navy's precision flight demonstration team, the Blue Angels.

Seaman RONALD L. HOLCOMB, USN, son of Mr and Mrs Lyle L. Holcomb of 309 E. McClintock St., Laingsburg, Mich., completed a deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the destroyer USS Schofield. The ship is scheduled to arrive in Long Beach, Calif. on November 21st.

While serving as a unit of the U.S. Seventh Fleet, the Schofield acted as rescue carrier for various U.S. destroyers also deployed in the Tonkin Gulf. It also patrolled the Taiwan Straits and was Commanded Seventh Fleet's administrative representative in Hong Kong.

Interior Communications Electrician Fireman NORMAN D. BLAKELY, USN, son of Mr and Mrs Norman A. Blakely of 203 S. First St., Elsie, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga at Long Beach, Calif. The carrier is presently undergoing a major overhaul at the Long Beach Naval Shipyard. Ticonderoga, the first carrier to complete a fifth tour of duty in Vietnam waters, is being converted from an attack carrier to an anti-submarine warfare carrier in its new homeport of Long Beach.

CHURCH NOTES

The two circles of the Shepardsville W.S.C.S. are preparing a layette to be sent to the Grand Rapids Community House. All good used or new items are needed. If you have not contributed and would like to do so, the items may be given to Miss Donna Hettinger or to the circle presidents, Mrs Dale Squiers or Mrs Karl Smith.

Mrs Beulah Swender has been moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs Albert Mizga, at Lakeview Michigan, 48850. Mrs Swender will be 83 on Sunday Nov. 30. Let's remember her with a card shower.

Mr Willard McMaster has been moved from the hospital to a nursing home in Lansing.

Mrs Russell Cavanaugh has returned home after having surgery at St. Lawrence Hospital.

Mrs Pearl Miller is staying at the home of her sons.

The Berean Circle of the Shepardsville W.S.C.S. met at the home of Miss Donna Hettinger on Thursday evening, Nov. 20. There were nine members present. The Chinese Auction netted a goodly sum for the Circle's treasury. Items were brought to the meeting for a layette to be sent to the Grand Rapids Community House. They will also be looking after the people at the county farm for their welfare project this year. Mrs Dale Squiers had charge of the program. Her topic was on "The Reason for Thanks."

Rev and Mrs Tennant of Lansing and Mr and Mrs Zeigler and family of Lincoln Park were present at the baptism of their granddaughter, Karla Ruth. She was baptized by her father, assisted by Mr Fred Musolf of Price Church during the worship service on Nov. 23.

Mr and Mrs John Spencer spent Nov. 22 with their granddaughter, Mrs Richard Barker and family of Lansing.

The Council of Ministers and the Administrative Board will meet in Joint session on Dec. 7. The council will meet at 7 p.m. and the Board at 8 a.m.

On Friday evening, Dec. 5 the members of the Ovid-DuPlain Library will entertain their families at a Family Night Potluck Supper at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs Robert Hebel Sr. She will be assisted by Mrs Charles Walker and Mrs Glen Parks. The entertainment committee is Mrs Christine Snyder, Mrs Ina Woodworth and Mrs Clarence Mead. There will be a gift exchange.

YEAR END REPORT SHEPARDVILLE AREA

Not too much has happened in the Shepardsville area this past year.

In June, when the people of Ovid were getting ready for their Centennial and were sending caravans to the various villages one of the stops on their last trip was in Shepardsville, on the church parking lot. Mrs John Spencer was Mayor of Shepardsville for about 20 minutes. Two men from the Shepardsville vicinity received awards on their magnificent beards, Mr Roger Smith and Mr Avery Squiers.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Kelly Jr. restyled the outside of their farm home.

An oil well was drilled on Walker Road on the W. O. Fox farm. No oil has been discovered.

Mr and Mrs Dale Squiers observed their 25th Wedding Anniversary at the church. The affair was hosted by their five children.

The W.S.C.S. sponsored three successful smorgasbord suppers. One was a church-wide supper and fair which gave the Building Fund a boost.

The Men's Club meets at the church once a month on the third Monday for a potluck supper. Once a year they entertain their wives. This year it was on December 15.

The church has a new pastor since June, Rev Karl Zeigler and his wife Ruth Ann. Rev Zeigler is doing graduate work at MSU. In October they became the proud parents of a baby daughter Karla Ruth, who was baptized by her father on Nov. 23.

There were three deaths in the area. Mrs Ruth Going, Mr Steve Komives and Mr Lawrence Harvey.

The Ovid-DuPlain Library Club held one of its meetings at the church this past year. Mrs William Ballenger was the guest speaker. They are meeting again in Shepardsville area before the year's end. On December 5 they held their family night at the home of Mr and Mrs Robert Hebel Sr. It was a Christmas Party, with a gift exchange.

Elsie

By Mrs Neva Keys

Mr and Mrs Richard Holton announce the marriage of their daughter, Beth, to Dennis Bolton, son of Mr and Mrs Wendall Bolton of Ovid.

The wedding took place in the chapel of the United Methodist Church of Elsie with the Rev Gordon Showers officiating Saturday afternoon, Nov. 22, at 4:00 o'clock.

Miss Kathy Tribelner and Lynn Bolton, brother of the groom, attend the couple.

A wedding supper was held for the immediate families at the home of Mr and Mrs Robert Faucet.

Mr and Mrs Lawrence Hess were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, Nov. 23. Their only daughter, Mrs Barbara Hall, was hostess for an open house for 100 relatives and friends at the Hess home, 337 W. Pine Street, Elsie.

Mrs Hess the former Elizabeth Cobb, was married Nov. 19 1949 to Mr Hess in the home of her father, the late Lyman J. Cobb of Elsie with the Rev Earl Mumby officiating. The groom's parents were Mr and Mrs John Hess.

At the time of their marriage, the bride was teaching home economics in the Sebewing High School and the groom was stationed with the US Navy at the naval base in Boston.

They have always made their home in Elsie where Hess operates a barbershop and Mrs Hess continued teaching for several years and was also Clinton County Home Demonstration Agent.

Among the special guests Sunday were Mrs Frieda Kling of Sebewing and Andrew W. Cobb of Elsie, who attended the couple 25 years ago.

Other guests recorded by Miss Susan Hess of Lansing were from Elkhart, Indiana, Hillsdale, Litchfield, Clarkston, Grand Rapids, Mt. Pleasant, Owosso, St. Johns and the Ovid-Elsie area.

Mr and Mrs Hess also have a baby granddaughter, Carrie Hall.

PLAY AWAY FROM TRAFFIC
WINNER, AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

who can drive a crooked nail?
No heartache surpasses that of earnest parents trying to mold the character of their child . . . and seeing daily the ominous signs of failure. But all the urging, pleading, coaxing and punishing we can muster is unlikely to change the course of a life that lacks spiritual backbone.
Who can drive a crooked nail?
The sooner religious training begins, the earlier its results become evident in a child's attitude and behavior. Your child's readiness to respond to parental encouragement and discipline is merely the reflection of those deeper qualities of personal integrity which spiritual growth will foster.
Let the Church help you raise your family. God never meant you to try it alone!

It's not the kids

It is about time that a lot of grown-ups, especially politicians and the heads of our educational systems, from the primary grades to our colleges and universities, took a good look at what they are failing to teach, namely, pride in the United States of America, its constitutional government and individual opportunity under our economic system.

What can be expected of our young people when in political circles they continually hear attacks on U.S. enterprise? Rarely is there a word about the merit of the U.S. free market, capitalistic system that has made our progress possible.

No wonder our young people are confused. Try to find an Address by a congressman, a college president or a school superintendent that forthrightly stands up for fundamental principles that underlie our free enterprise system as contrasted with an all-powerful bureaucracy that smothers individual opportunity. They seem afraid to support our heritage.

Don't blame the young people for downgrading our constitutional government. They are simply reflecting a lack of understanding which results from failure of leadership in our schools and legislative halls to glorify the individual freedom and opportunity that were given us by our forefathers, instead of serfdom and dependence under a socialized state.

Driver deaths

Casualties in war are tragic—and unpreventable. But most casualties at home are useless and could be prevented. Highway casualties are far higher in number than those of war—consequently more fatalities occur.

Americans should declare a national Observance Day in memory of Americans killed in driving. It would not only honor those who died in vain on our highways, but it would help remind more of us to drive with greater care and demand the same from others.

Consumer is king

One of the nation's largest mail order retail merchandising firms* has opened 150 of its 821 department stores on Sunday. The opening of these stores will continue through the remainder of 1969. The reason given for the unprecedented move by a company official is highly revealing. He explains that, "a strong desire voiced by customers that they want to shop on Sundays and concern voiced by stockholders that the company stay open when our competition is open" is responsible for the new policy.

When one of the country's largest merchandising concerns opens its stores for business on Sunday because "the public wants it," the fundamental truth that in a free market the consumer is king could hardly be more emphatically demonstrated. No matter how large a retailing establishment becomes, its solvency remains a question to be decided by its ability to give customers what they want, when they want it, at the lowest price commensurate with the times. Thus, a merchant grows in accord with a maxim of modern mass distribution: move the highest possible volume of goods at minimum prices. This mass merchandising philosophy has resulted in a U.S. retail distribution system that operates on the narrowest of profit margins—often as low as a cent or two per dollar of sales. Few businesses demand the never-ending alertness of merchandising. Sensitivity to consumer needs and wishes is one of the primary prerequisites of success.

CUERO, Tex., RECORD: "The free enterprise system, as we know in America, is preferably to other forms of government—as history has shown. However, one is not lacking in patriotism or Americanism to realize it is not perfect and can be improved upon."

THE GRASSROOTS OPINION

LA PORTE, Ind., HERALD-ARGUS: "Take it from a veteran reporter who believes a long, hard struggle is ahead in the student revolt. He contends the two sides have not listened to each other, the two sides being the students and the American public. If they have learned nothing and settled nothing, there is not much chance of an immediate realistic understanding. That, indeed, is a pessimistic outlook on a social revolution that is not apt to fade quietly away."

HAZARD, Ky., HERALD: "Has it ever occurred to you that in our social system the politician is enabled to reach a position of responsibility without having any training? He serves no apprenticeship. He masters no course of study. He need pass no examination as to his ability... The veterinarian who doctors our dogs and cats is required to show more careful preparation for his calling than is the politician who seeks to assume the right to direct not only our industrial but much of our personal life."

Breaking the Safety Barrier

Talking Turkey

No sooner had the H.E.W. Put the ban on cyclamates, Than F.D.A. or F.A.D. Tries to reciprocate.

Now chiggers are the villains The turkeys' "peace of mind" Is threatened, so a pesticide To soothe the birds we find, It's heptachloric residue That calms the crazy chiggers And soothes the ruffled feathers, The F.A.D. now figgers.

Alas when chiggers we repel, And peace of mind restore The turkeys we contaminate Cause F.D.A. to roar!

Heptachlor contamination? We still can only guess, Five parts per million in some birds "But most of them had less"

In turkeys or cranberries, Cyclamates or residue, When good food is in season, They keep us in a stew.

Once thru' another crisis Stirred by some federal "find" We discover more than turkeys. Are denied due to "peace of mind"

'IF IT FITZ . . .

A Spiro defense

By JIM FITZGERALD

First the TV networks. Then the New York Times. Spiro Agnew is obviously working his way up and it is only a matter of time before he gets around to small-town editors. I plan to be ready for him.

Spiro says we writers are no longer free from criticism. Which sure shows how dumb I am. I always figured I was the most criticized slob in town.

At the country club recently, several merchants kept tripping me as I walked around the pool table. And under the poker table, they kicked my shins. They were peeved because I'd printed that they should have uniform store hours instead of each store locking the customers out on a different half-day. "Let's hang him," said a car dealer, "but not until he buys a round." Only my economical nature saved my life. Fortunately I had bought my round for 1969 the month before.

On my desk right now is a sweet postcard from a reader who really knows how to hurt a guy. He sends me an insulting note every week, which is bad enough, but he doesn't even pay the postage. The newspaper pays it. This clown somehow got a large supply of our return-postage-paid cards. You are supposed to use these cards to order subscriptions but this anonymous bird uses them to call me names. The latest message said: "You nigger lover. You want to raise a nation of half-breeds and mulattos. I'd hate to see your family. Why don't you wake up and wise up?" I wasn't particularly stung by the snide reference to my family because I don't get along so well with them, either. In fact, they are my severest critics. My wife says I'm unfair to women, my daughter won't speak to me because I wrote she didn't play the guitar so hot, and my smart-aleck son goes through every edition with a black crayon, circling misspelled words.

Geez, I remember once when I wrote that our churches were full of prejudiced phonies. The next day I walked down main street and so many people crossed to the other side to avoid me, the downtown area tilted.

But Spiro Agnew says newspaper writers weren't criticized until he came along. And from now on we should be prepared to defend ourselves, he says.

Far be it for me to argue with the man who is a breath away from this nation's top office. I might better spend my spare time praying for President Nixon's health.

But just recently, while in a rather giddy mood, I did write something like this: "The name of Spiro Agnew has now become a household word. In my household, some young rebel wrote it on the basement bathroom wall."

That's just the type of thing Spiro was talking about. He doesn't believe in censorship by government, but he doesn't believe in censorship by newspapers, either. His scorn is for the news executives who censor the available news, choosing what to print and what to scrap. Some dummies call this editing, not censoring, but what were they ever vice president of?

The next time you go to the butcher, don't accept those lean pork chops, so neatly trimmed from the whole pig. Insist that all the discarded fat be included, too. Tell 'em Agnew sent you.

In the meantime, I am preparing my defense. My offense, as I see it, was taking a quote out of context, and applying it unfairly.

So I am making a list of all the other dirty words on that bathroom wall.

Effete Thanksgiving?

By RON KARLE, Editor

It was a pretty special day over there on East Jefferson Avenue.

That's where the Mollisons, Char and Andy, hold forth.

They live in one of those grand old apartment buildings on the Detroit River with Belle Isle providing the view across the way.

It was Thanksgiving at the Mollisons and my first with them.

Andy, who keeps bread on the table through his intrepid reporting efforts for the Detroit Free Press, is a friend and probably my best.

He's an unlikely sort among all those Brooks Brothers types down at City Hall. He shuffles, talks slow and he's not uncomfy for a shift, but to surface or for something to be a little ruffled and then there are all those little scribbles of notebook paper which somehow are transferred into stories.

He attributed his onetime near-shoulder-length hair to the fact that "the people in the mayor's office are going to have to get used to long hair sometime, so it may as well be with someone they've got to deal with everyday" or something along that line.

He is also one of the better reporters in the business in that town.

Char is more than a wife. To be sure, she's some home-maker and her cooking would threaten your grandmother's.

But she is aware of life outside of the kitchen.

She thought it important to march in the Washington Peace Moratorium last month, and she did, what with the grape boycotting season slowing down.

Among the guests were a beard and a Brooks Brothers suit, both from the mayor's office. There was no noticeable clash in views despite such ties with the establishment.

Much of the conversation was of the kind that bewilders much of the population. But we all know the old ways are changing.

There were no bowed heads in Thanksgiving.

Maybe it was so obvious it didn't have to be said.

Others might say it should have been.

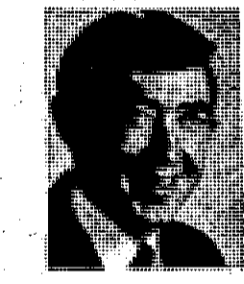

Anyway, there were 19 pounds of turkey to attend to and Laura's dressing and yams, hot Greek bread and pumpkin pie.

Yes, we all know the old ways are changing.

Strangely traditional fare to be serving effete snobs for peace.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN 88th District Representative

The Legislature is considering an educational package totaling over one billion dollars, but the majority of my mail is concerned primarily with one 25 million dollar portion. That is, the aid to non-public schools provision, nicknamed "parochial aid."

My mail runs somewhere between 5 to 1 and 20 to 1 against this proposal. Twenty to 1 if you count petition signatures the same as letters (which I don't). Polls and questionnaires indicate aid to non-public schools would not have a chance of passage on a statewide vote. So I get this question, "How can the Legislature seriously consider enacting into law something which it knows the majority of the people are against?"

Well, here's how. Let me precede my remarks by reminding you that I voted against the form of direct aid proposed in this year's regular session, a proposal which I do not see as basically different from the one now before us.

An institution of long standing in our State involving a considerable segment of our population is in serious financial trouble. Non-public education and its supporters are in a bind. At least to them it seems they are faced with the demise of their beloved schools. Our laws are full of provisions that have been written for minority segments of our population when they were in a bind. There is a tax exemption for rigs and dies written at a time when auto companies were threatening to leave the State. Farmers were exempted from the personal property tax in response to their obvious plight. The fee for crossing the Mackinac Bridge was drastically cut and the costs included in a license fee increase in response to the serious economic plight of the U.P.

I doubt any of these specific proposals would have passed a statewide vote since they benefit primarily minority segments.

Two things bring the issue to a head this fall. One is the proposal that practically all public school operating finance come from the state level. This really creates a hardship on a small community which strongly supports a non-public school. There are a couple of towns like this in the 88th District. When school finance was primarily local, they supported their religious schools through tuition payments and church contributions. They also supported their public school through the property tax, but the amount was relatively low since most children attended parochial school. With the present proposal for State financing, this community would pay the same level of property tax and income tax as everyone else, but would get money back only on the basis of the relatively minor number of students in the public school. This causes a rather severe drain on the communities' resources.

The major reason that non-public school aid is rated a good chance this fall is the process of legislative compromise. (When this process results in something we are against, we tend to call it horse-trading.)

A current proposal such as the current educational package must have something in it for a lot of people. Parts of it require two-thirds legislative support. There are a few automatic no votes on any major issue. So no substantial segment can be left out with any hope for passage. Not the inner city, not the rural small towns, and in this case—not the non-public schools. It's as simple as that. They're not a majority here but they have votes that will be needed to pass any major educational change.

I have sympathy for the plight of these people and their schools. I think a tax credit such as we have for non-public colleges like Alma would be appropriate.

But I have not supported direct aid to non-public schools. I presently feel there are not enough advantages to the total educational reform package to take this step.

TAKING FIVE Leftovers

By RON HUARD

We're eating left-over turkey this week—as are forty million other American families—and chances are good we'll be eating it for some time to come. I suppose there are worse kinds of left-overs, but right now it appears Tom turkey will be running a close race with the Christmas goose.

The cause of this promise for extended menus of turkey can be directly attributed to the fact that my mother and father were frightened out by a half-dozen inches of snow. Obviously, they've been spending too much winter time in Florida and are in need of a quick refresher course on how to drive in Michigan after Nov. 15. (I'm a poor one to be passing judgment on who needs driving lessons!)

But then, I suppose it isn't all their fault. Sister Kay and brother-in-law Dave were riding with the folks and when you add their constant stream of chatter to a blinding snow storm that's enough to make even a St. Bernard return to the wine cellar.

So that's what the four of them did and taking away four mouths from a twenty-five pound bird leaves one heckuva lot of sandwich material. There were others on hand for the carrying but even after filling their plastic bags for on-the-way-home snacks we have so much turkey left that the kids aren't even fighting over who gets what . . . yet.

The funniest part of the whole thing is that those who were coming had part of the dinner in their car. When they returned to the wine cellar they took with them the rolls and pies. When we sat down to eat our turkey there were four missing persons. When those four sat down to eat their pie and rolls there were a dozen missing persons.

Kinda looks as if somebody will be eating left-over pie and rolls a lot longer than we'll be eating left-over turkey.

Orchestra program more than doubles

The St. Johns Schools orchestra program has more than doubled in size with the addition of 47 beginning students from eight elementary schools. Of these 47 students, 35 are fifth graders, and 12 are sixth graders. The violin, viola, and cello are the instruments being played by the students.

The Junior High School string orchestra has added 17 wind and percussion players from the band and now have formed what is referred to as a "full orchestra".

They have been rehearsing together twice a week for the past 3 weeks and will continue to do so throughout the year.

This group made its first appearance at a Thanksgiving assembly at the junior high school. The group will also perform in one of the Christmas concerts which will be open to the public.

Orchestra students are now in the process of selling code finder directories with a complete listing of zip code and area code numbers for the entire United States. The orchestra hopes to raise money to offer scholarships to deserving students to attend summer music camps. The directories cost $1 and are available from any orchestra member, or by calling 224-2996. Those calling are asked to leave their name and address. Directories will be delivered.

View from the 87th

By WILLIAM S. BALLENGER
State Representative

With the Legislature set to reconvene next Tuesday, Dec. 2, what's the current status of Governor Milliken's Educational Reform program and what is likely to happen to it during the remaining month of the 1969 legislative session?

First, it should be emphasized once again that the Governor's Educational Reform package consists of not just one bill but 10 bills and two resolutions. The House has been waiting for nearly two months for the Senate to initiate action on these 10 bills and two resolutions. But so far the Senate has debated and passed only two of these measures and sent them to the House. The rest are still in the Senate and have not yet come to a vote. Whether the Senate will act on any of these 10 remaining measures before the year is out is anybody's guess.

that the 1970-71 State School Aid bill as passed by the Senate will be roughly $1 billion — about 14 per cent from this year's $865 million State School Aid act. Of course, this is subject to further adjustment by the House.

The second of the Governor's Educational reform bills passed so far by the Senate — also pending reconsideration on Dec. 2 — is SB 1084, which would eliminate the property tax credits ($116 million annually) against the state income tax which have been in effect the past two years. This bill, if it becomes law, would be the main extra source of revenue to finance the 1970-71 state school aid bill which I've just mentioned.

If it becomes law, SB 1084 would go into effect on Jan. 1, 1970, and would remain in effect only if Michigan voters approve a referendum question in Nov. 1970, to institute a statewide uniform property tax of 12 mills for school operations.

The Senate has also passed a package of three tax bills not included among the Governor's Educational Reform recommendations. These bills would eliminate certain existing exemptions from our present Sales and Use Tax laws. The estimated annual yield from these bills would be about $36 million.

Still very much alive in the Senate are two Democrat-sponsored measures which would extend the Sales and Use Tax to cover the purchase of industrial and agricultural equipment. But these measures have not yet passed the upper chamber, and I hope they don't.

TO SUM UP, far from "rushing" the Governor's Educational Reform proposals through the Legislature will be doing well if, by Dec. 31, it takes action on just the 1970-71 State School Aid bill and the appropriate revenue measures needed to fund it.

And I should add that, even if we accomplish this, we will not really have touched upon the meaty "reform" aspects of the Governor's program such as I've discussed the past two weeks. All we'll really have done is to effect a stop-gap measure on the way, hopefully, to more meaningful action which may not be forthcoming until as late as next spring or summer.

One parting word: Don't worry! I and every other legislator will have a chance to vote on just about every component part in the Governor's program individually. In other words, it's not a question of either accepting the whole package or rejecting it altogether. We'll have plenty of opportunity to accept the "good parts" and amend or reject the "bad parts" one by one. It's not an "all-or-nothing" proposition.

SECONDLY, THE so-called "Bursley Amendment" to the Parochial section requires that non-public schools receiving state aid must be subject to a section in the Michigan Constitution which bans discrimination on the basis of religion and creed as well as race, color, or national origin.

Needless to say, it is entirely possible that this amendment may mean that state assistance to private schools will eventually destroy the very cause for which these schools were originally founded. But if that possibility doesn't bother the non-public schools, it doesn't bother me. If this is the price the non-public schools are willing to pay in order to obtain state aid, that's their decision. I'm only concerned about whether the state can afford to commit itself to subsidizing two competing school systems which aren't apt to be very different from each other a few years from now.

OVERALL, I SHOULD add

13 in Honor Society at P-W

By GAIL COTTER
P-W High School Correspondent

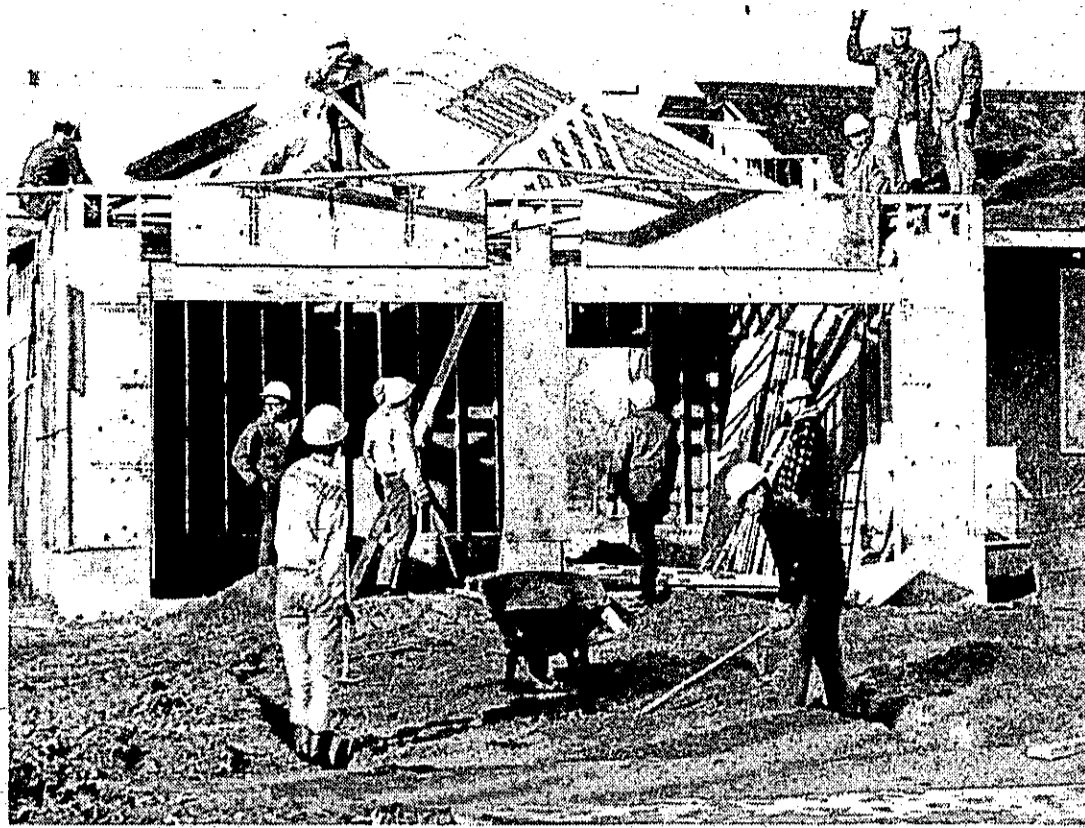

Thirteen students have been named to a new National Honor Society, at Pewamo-Westphalia High School.

Active membership in this honor organization is open to juniors and seniors who have attended the school for at least one semester. The criteria by which members are chosen is scholarship.

Seniors must have an overall B-plus average since entering high school, and juniors must have at least an A-minus average since their freshmen year.

Senior members are Chris Casari, Gail Cotter, Dick Huhn, Ed Martin, Irene Pline, Pat Rademacher, Colleen Schafer, Sandy Smith, and Rosanne Stump.

HALF-WAY HOME

Students in the building trades class at St. Johns High School continue progress in construction of a two-car garage attached to a three-bedroom home which the class began building this fall. The house, at 606 S. Lansing St., is expected to be completed by spring.

Service Personnel

JAMES A. WAGER, son of Mrs. Dorothy L. Wager, 4659 W. M-21, St. Johns has been promoted to sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sergeant Wager, a fuel systems specialist at Mountain Home AFB, Idaho, is serving with the 67th Civil Engineering Squadron, a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides combat air support for U. S. ground forces.

The 1964 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School previously served at Phang Rang AB, Vietnam. His wife, Sandra, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hyler of 602 E. State St.

Personnelman Seaman THOMAS L. JENKINS, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lester Jenkins, 701 S. Baker St., St. Johns, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS America. He is married to the former Miss Janyth Rumbaugh, 425 Meadowview Dr., St. Johns. They reside in Norfolk, Va., where the ship is homeported and Mrs. Jenkins teaches in the Norfolk school system.

The America, one of the nation's newest and largest carriers, is completing a 10-month, $27 million overhaul at Norfolk Naval Shipyard in Portsmouth.

Jenkins' work in the ship's Educational Services Office consists of counseling American personnel on Navy and civilian educational opportunities. He assists them in gaining admission to several types of schools and obtaining correspondence courses, a significant portion of the Navy's advancement program.

PFC RICHARD BRUNGER

Marine Private First Class RICHARD E. BRUNGER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Brunger of 319 Pinewood Drive, Fowlerville, Mich., was meritoriously promoted to Private First Class upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

His promotion recognized his outstanding performance of duties during recruit training.

He has been sent to Camp Pendleton, Calif. for four weeks of infantry combat training and four weeks of basic training in a military occupational specialty.

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) ALLEN J. STEPHENS, husband of the former Miss Melissa J. Jopke of 300 S. Oakland, St. Johns, Mich., completed a seven-month deployment in the Tonkin Gulf aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany, homeported at Alameda, Calif.

The men of the ship and Carrier Air Wing 19 were praised by the commanding officer of the Oriskany for their "superb" bombing support of U.S. ground forces while operating in the area of Yankee Station.

During the ship's fifth consecutive deployment in Vietnamese waters the crew visited Hawaii, the Philippines, Hong King and Sasebo, Japan.

Airman First Class DAVID E. BUSHRE, son of Mrs. Ethel E. Bushre, 6008 Welling Road, Eureka, has arrived for duty at Clark AB, Philippines.

Airman Bushre, an air armament mechanic, is assigned to the 405th Avionics Maintenance Squadron, a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and the Pacific area. He previously served at Kingsley Field, Ore.

The airman is a 1966 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, St. Johns.

U.S. Air Force Sergeant RAYMOND J. LATCHAW, son of Mrs. Iva A. Latchaw, 7539 Clark Road, Bath is on duty at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam.

Sergeant Latchaw, a communications equipment repairman, is assigned to the 1877th Communications Squadron, a unit of the Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for USAF operations.

A 1963 graduate of Bath High School, the sergeant attended Lansing Community College.

His wife, Josephine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Clise, 12568 Webster Road, Bath.

of American combat forces in the area. The projects we worked on included the extensive upgrading and improvement of the Vietnamese highway system and two large bridges.

Marine Corporal DAVID L. KIGER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Kiger of 14820 Webster Road, Bath, is serving with Headquarters and Service Company, Third Battalion, Second Marine Regiment, Second Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force Atlantic, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Marines of the Second Marine Division participate in amphibious maneuvers, helicopter exercises and counter guerrilla operations.

His company provides the service battalion with command, administration, utility and utility maintenance support, and supply functions. His company is also capable of operating three water supply points in general support of the division.

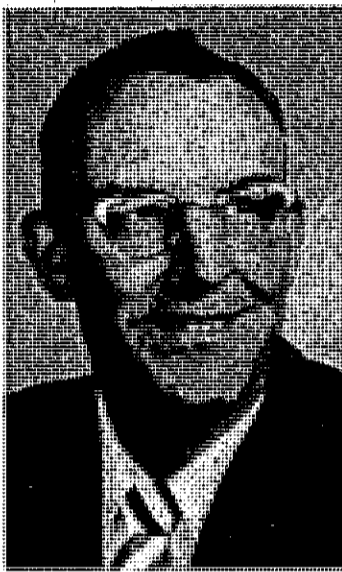

Airman Apprentice JEFFREY L. TEWS, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Tews of 275 Dill Road, DeWitt, graduated from the Aviation Mechanical Fundamentals school at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

The 160 hour course included basic mathematics, common aircraft hardware, mechanical and electrical physics, aeronautical publications and the use and application of hand tools.

EUGENE BEAGLE

Students start memorial for Eugene Beagle

A year ago at this time Eugene Beagle, chairman of the Industrial Education Department at St. Johns High School was a victim of a heart attack while deer hunting.

The students, under the direction of the Student Council, started a memorial fund. Contributions have been used to purchase a plaque and books which will be placed in the Industrial Education section of the resource center of the new High School in his name. Each book will contain a dedication label in his memory.

Mr Beagle was with the school system for 19 years.
