'Agriculture best single kind of business'

By Patrice Hornak

St. Johns

Congress has to kill the national health insurance bill, limit spending, balance the trade imbalance and stop excessive regulation. Those were the beliefs of American Farm Bureau President Allan Grant when he addressed the Clinton County Farm Bureau last Tuesday night in the St. Johns High School auditorium.

It was after 10 p.m. before Grant was introduced to an audience of 350 farmers, agribusinessmen, media people, Farm Bureau state officials, and interested community residents. He had a raspy voice, due to a sore throat and because of the late hour, he abandoned his prepared speech and spoke extemporaneously for about a half hour.

Michigan president of Farm Bureau, Elton Smith, introduced the honored guest by giving his background: a farmer from California, producing beef cattle and field crops, elected president of the American Farm Bureau Federation in 1976, a member of the Board of Regents of the University of California, and a recent recipient of a special award given by the Japanese government.

But, when Grant introduced himself, he told how he got started in farming. He told how his father died when Grant was young and how he started with practically nothing.

"You're in the best single kind of business—the most important business in the world," Grant told his audience. He went on to tell how people around the world are aided by food grown in the United States. "We're the greatest people in the world for helping people, next to the church," he said.

His affirmation of the goodness and righteousness of the American farm industry was interwoven in his conviction that the United States is the greatest nation in the world. "The best part of America," he said, "is that we do with what we have and we make it work."

But, several bills on the horizon, Grant feels may weaken the American system—the national health insurance bill and the movement to form a federal Department of Education.

"Things went downhill in education when federal aid to education was instituted," Grant said. He told the Clinton County audience that President Jimmy Carter has admitted that the Department of Education is a payback to the National Education Association for helping to get Carter elected to the presidency. That isn't a good reason for adding to the bureaucracy, Grant said.

Grant likened national health insurance to national Medicaid. "The cost (of instituting the program) supported by both Carter and Senator Edward Kennedy is too great," said Grant. Grant said the best solution to improved health care in the U.S. would be individual income tax credits on premiums paid for enrollment in private health care plans.

Commenting on Congressional spending, the nation's most influential non-government agricultural leader said, "We've got to stop printing extra money to cover our debt. That's the cause of inflation," he said.

Addressing all of his convictions, Grant told the local community that, "You can't get it done if you don't think it can be done." He was adamant in telling farmers they have to believe in a cause and then work to get it accomplished.

Farm Bureau members approved four national resolutions to be taken to the Michigan Farm Bureau convention.

—Overwhelmingly, the Clinton farmers voted to revise national laws "so as not to allow these foreign investors to deplete our resources and goods".

They voted to get health and dental care insurance premium expenses of self-employed persons allowed as an adjustment on income on income taxes.

—They reaffirmed Farm Bureau's support of a National Board of Grain producers to advise the Secretary of Agriculture on loan rules and target prices.

—They resolved that all running lights come on when the ignition is turned "on" on motorcycles—for safety purposes.

Kesler receives award for athletic field

By Ella Choinski
Guest Writer

Bath

An United Nations award was presented to a Bath resident Monday night for his major contributions in the construction of the high school athletic field.

Daryl L. Kesler, 14698 Robson Road, was given the award by Bath trustees as a reminder to citizens of UN Day on Oct. 24 which celebrates the International Year of the Child, board clerk June F. Burnett said.

The award was made in consideration of the fact that the athletic field would aid in the development of youth and, consequently, in the development of the world.

Kesler was chosen to receive the award because he headed the construction and contributed private funds to it, Burnett said.

"I was just a small part of the project," Kesler said. "The community helped with donations and there were quite a few dedicated workers."

Kesler's award was one of several made in metropolitan Lansing.

The proposed 1980 budget for the township, which totals $442,705, was approved unanimously by the trustees.

Considered in the budget are:
*a tax levy of 5.00 mills, reduced by Headlee to 4.54.

*two mills special vote for police and fire.

*mileage of 17 cents per mile or the same as the Federal government allows, whichever is more.

*full-time employment of the township clerk.

Trustees decided to determine in the future the liability and upkeep of a proposed "gazebo-type" bandshell which would be built on Main Street on the James Couzens School property.

The township could follow one of two alternatives on the proposal made by Burnett.

The construction could be built at the expense of the school board or the property could be leased by the school board to the township for a negligible amount and become a part of its parks system.

Burnett stated that the school board felt since the gazebo would be a park-like activity, it should be a part of the township's parks system.

Trustees questioned who would take the responsibility of ground maintenance at the site but were generally in favor of such a construction.

"With the gas crunch, something like this (gazebo) is needed to keep things closer to home," Trustee Robert L. Leiby said.

A bid for snow removal of the Township Hall parking lot and the cemetery next door was accepted by the trustees led by Marvin Morrison. His bid was the lowest of three submitted to the trustees.

A meeting was set for Nov. 6 to hear public comments on what needs to be funded in Bath next year if a Block Grant from HUD is received.

Catholic school enrollment drops

Clinton County

Two weeks ago figures were released about Clinton County's public school enrollment, figures which showed an enrollment decrease of 413 students from last year's student count.

Last week the Catholic Diocese of Lansing released its student count, showing a total enrollment decrease of 28 students for Clinton County's three elementary Catholic schools.

Holy Trinity School in Fowler showed 217 students enrolled this year, down from 229 students last year. St. Mary School in Westphalia also showed a decline, with 314 students in classes this year compared to 340 students last year.

St. Joseph School, St. Johns was the only school to show an enrollment increase, climbing from 241 students in 1978-79 to 251 students in 1979-80.

Across the 10-county diocese, Catholic schools showed a decrease of students, 58 in high school and 32 in elementary schools. This year's total enrollment is 14,133 of which 10,855 are enrolled in the elementary and 3,248 in high school.

"This decrease of less than 1 percent (in the diocese) is the smallest decline in four years, said Sister Mary Laubacher, assistant superintendent of schools.

Leaders named for seeking gifts

St. Johns

Leadership for major gifts in Clinton Area Care Center's capital funds campaign has been announced by Charles Coletta and Tony Kuntz, campaign co-chairmen.

Accepting the leadership positions are Robert R. Serrine, life-long resident and businessman of the area who will be pattern gifts chairman, and Judge Randy L. Tahvonen who will be advance gifts chairman.

The major gifts committees will be composed of outstanding community leaders who will be making contacts for initial large gifts over the entire area.

Corporations and individuals will be invited to consider pledges covering a five-year period. Contributions are tax-deductible.

In what is possibly this area's first county-wide campaign for locally-owned facilities, CACC seeks $600,000 from the community in gifts and pledges to insure a major building loan for the $1.8 million plant.

The care center will be a new facility providing both skilled nursing beds now totally lacking in Clinton County and intermediate care and home for the aged care beds.

Musical-Variety Show set for Dec 1-2

Pewamo
The board of directors of the Pewamo-Westphalia Community Players are announcing Dec. 1 and 2 to be the dates for the 1979 Musical-Variety Show, a significant change from its usual slot in the Players' season.

Alice Stump, a Pewamo resident, will be directing the show. Mrs. Stump has produced several blockbuster musicals for the Players during the last nine years, and the SRO success of the first musical-variety show occurred under her direction.

Commenting about the date change, Mrs. Stump noted that several patrons have mentioned that the February ice and snow present an uncomfortable hazard considering the sell-out audience the variety show usually enjoys. "Parking is always somewhat of a problem here, and when we chose the February slot for the variety show we didn't anticipate the popularity which the show would engender. The P-W schools were cooperative in our search for a date which would better meet the needs of our audience," she said. The Players use the Pewamo Elementary gymnasium for their productions.

Past shows have included everything from Beetles to Bach, with stand-up comics, barbershop quartets, Dixieland, bluegrass and Jazz bands, dance groups, magicians, and warm sing-along medleys. This year's show is likely to prove just as audience pleasing.

Mrs. Stump is currently choosing the acts to be considered for this year's show. She indicated "...although we often know a year in advance what we would like to see in subsequent shows, I never really know what will happen. There are a lot of very talented people who sometimes surprise even themselves when they call us. I like these evenings to have a warm, down-home, everybody's welcome kind of feeling, and I hope to be hearing from a lot of people who are interested in being a part of this kind of family entertainment."

In addition to performers, Mrs. Stump is looking for persons to join the production staff for the variety show. "Calling 593-2097 for additional information may result in a delightful new way for some of you to share the fun of community theatre," she said.

Cablevision postponed in DeWitt Township

DeWitt Township
It will be another two months before some of the DeWitt Township residents will be hooking up to Continental Cablevision, even though earlier predictions had said that the hook-up would take place around the last part of September and the first part of October.

Township Supervision Alta Reed said the township received a letter Oct. 8 from Continental Cablevision stating that the cablevision company is experiencing an equipment shortage. A new time table calls for installation of the cable television in 6-8 weeks.

The cable company also said that residents in the trailer parks will not be receiving cable television until summer because wiring for the service has to be done underground. "There definitely will be a flier in the mail when they (Continental Cablevision) are ready," Mrs. Reed assured.

Cost will be $6.95 per month for the basic service. Installation will be free during the first 45 days the service is offered in the area. After that time, installation will cost $10. The Oct. 8 letter from the cable company pointed out that the free installation dates have been extended from 30 days to 45 days.

Persons interested in Home Box Office, offering 15 new movies a month plus special sports and entertainment shows, will be charged an additional $8.95 per month. Cinaview, offering four new movies a month, will cost $3.95. Cablevision for an extra television set will cost $1.95 and hooking on to an FM stereo will cost $1.95 additionally.

Cablevision will be offered in the following subdivisions: Boichot; Clinton 1, 2 and 3; Valley Farms 1 and 2; and Hacker Acres. The north boundary for the service is Craig and Carl streets.

The rest of DeWitt Township will have to wait until population increases. Cable television will only service areas where there are 50 houses in a mile. Continental Cablevision will continue monitoring residential patterns and update the service as residences are added.

Pretentious aide doesn't make many brownie points

By Patrice Hornak

We all like a sincere person. We like to be around the down-to-earth guy who has no airs and is true to himself. The antithesis is the person who uses your association for his own benefit.

Last Tuesday evening it was a true joy to listen to American Farm Bureau President Allen Grant. Now, here's a man who has gone from rags to riches, to one of the most influential positions in United States agriculture and yet he had that down-to-earth aura about him.

His father died while Grant was at a young age. He had to assume the role of head of the household. Probably this training in leadership molded him young and readied him for the years ahead when he built his California farming enterprise.

Grant tossed out his prepared speech last Tuesday and spoke from his heart. He was an accomplished speaker. Those are the speakers who can go before a crowd and make each feel as though he or she is a personal audience.

He spoke about national issues. He was to the point when saying WE'VE got to kill the attempt to create a national health insurance, limit Congressional spending and balance the trade imbalance. He told why, too.

And, just as Grant was down-to-earth, there was a person in the audience who was the antithesis. He used the Farm Bureau meeting for his own benefit.

Those who attended the annual meeting have already guessed who I am talking about. He was a politician's aide.

U.S. Congressman Donald Albosta sent his aide, Rudy Serra, to the meeting—probably to get a feeling for farmers' concerns. That all well and good. But, what came out of Serra's mouth made him and Albosta sound as though Serra was only there for the brownie points.

"I'm Rudy Serra and I want you to know that Congressman Donald Albosta is going to be informed about how you voted (on Farm Bureau national platform issues) tomorrow morning," he told the audience, in effect. Though I'm paraphrasing, I hope I caught the meaning of his message.

Serra, I believe, wanted everyone to know that Albosta cared enough to send his aide. Sending an aide is a good idea. But calling attention to that fact is pretentious.

State Representative Alan Cropsy didn't pick an opportune moment to call attention to himself. Moreover, he stayed for the entire meeting which is more than Serra could say. Serra stayed only for the first half.

When will politicians and their political friends learn that ostentation is out? Down-to-earth is "in".

SENIOR CITIZEN UPDATE

New director

By Ruth Delo

Fred Rewerts has been selected as the new director for the Clinton County Senior Citizen Drop-in Center at 318 N. Clinton Ave. in St. Johns.

After many interviews and much deliberation by the advisory board, it was announced that Fred Rewerts was the new director.

His plans for the future are to make the drop-in center grow bigger, serve more people, have more activities and draw in the senior citizens from all over the county. He wants especially to interest those of you who live in the southern part of Clinton County. This is a Clinton County center not just a St. Johns activity.

Fred says he wants to make all of you feel like this is a "home away from home." Suggestions are always welcome.

Here is a little background of Fred.

He was born on a farm near Flanagan, Ill. Feb. 4, 1908. (Whoops Fred, that tells your age.) He was the youngest of eight children—four boys and four girls. His mother died when he was three years old.

He went to a country school and helped his dad with his farming. His father passed away when Fred was 20 years old. At that time he went to work as a "hired hand" on nearby farms.

During his school years he played football, basketball, went fishing and small game hunting. He did some singing as a soloist at many functions. He also wrote poetry and did some reciting when he was younger.

In 1930 he met Margaret Dement who was visiting at a nearby farm. They were married, Jan. 19, 1931. They continued to live in Flanagan and by the time they moved to Princeville they had nine children. At this time he was farming for himself.

In 1958 they moved to Michigan. They lived on a farm five miles south of Ovid.

He then went to work for Federal-Mogul and after a year he quit farming entirely. They were living on St. Clair Rd., Elsie at this time.

After 12 years they bought a house in St. Johns on Walker St. He retired from Federal-Mogul in 1972.

In 1975 he became a Pinkerton Security guard at Sealed Power. He retired from this job in 1976. That same year his wife passed away. They were then living in Fedewa Senior Citizen Housing on Amor Lane where he is still living.

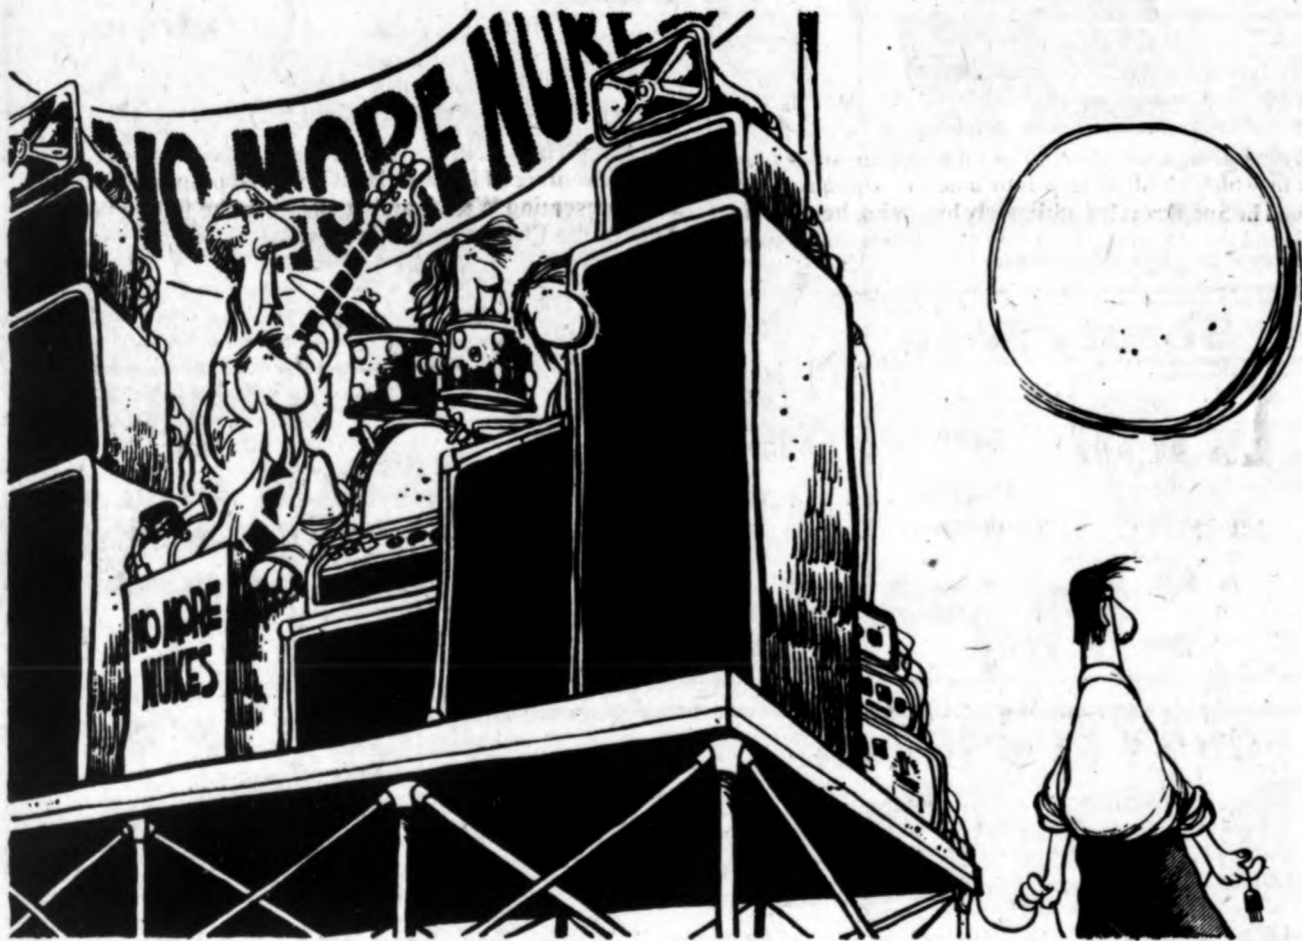

During this time he was an active member of the Lutheran church and helped to start the Golden Age Senior Citizen Club and was president for one year.

He has been active in the "Drop-in Center" and was one of the seniors who planted flowers and made the Senior Citizen Park so very beautiful.

We wish you the very best, Fred.

Area-wide Clinton County Senior Citizen meeting Oct. 19, at noon with a potluck dinner at St. Jude's in DeWitt. Entertainment has been planned. This includes all senior citizens in Clinton County.

So... until next time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Pumpkins stolen from children

Letter to the Editor:

Was I disappointed Sunday morning! To explain why, yesterday I put up our traditional cornstalks in front of the house by the porch. Then I went to our patch and carefully picked the bright orange pumpkins the kids await for so anxiously during this time of year. Before we carve and light our windows with them to welcome trick-or-treaters on Halloween nite, we always pile the pumpkins around the cornstalks.

Somebody had something else in mind for our pumpkins as they had all been stolen Saturday night. Too bad the innocent always get hurt by those who are thoughtless and trespass on other's property. Now we won't even have any to share with our family and neighbors.

I'd like to challenge parents of young people who have their driver's licenses and are allowed to go out with their buddies. Did you know where your kids were Saturday night and what they were doing?

Teacher strikes seen as positive events

Dear Editor,

In last week's Clinton County News (October 10, 1979) Sharon Randall wrote an editorial entitled "30 minute strike did long term damage." Randall wrote about the 30 minute strike staged in DeWitt by the teachers on Oct. 8, 1979.

Randall views the teachers as "chomping at the bit to use their strike tactic." This is an unfortunately uniformed statement. Striking is only used as a last resort when the negotiations process is not working.

References are made to "a lot of outright lies" made during a strike. Before reading the editorial I was unaware of these "lies." Ms. Randall goes on to splash these lies around in the editorial. I seriously question the value of this action because I look for more than this in an editorial. What public good can be accomplished by spreading lies?

Ms. Randall would like us to believe that a "strike hurts." She goes on to explain that a strike "puts friction and animosity where there should be harmony and good will." I believe strikes to be the beginning of the end of friction and animosity caused by slow or stalled negotiations. When teachers teach without a contract, tension and poor attitudes can build. The strike brings public attention to the problem and an eventual resolution results. The strike becomes the vehicle whereby a more productive educational setting can be achieved as well as a just contract agreed upon.

I believe teacher strikes can be positive events. They can help bring self-respect, pride, better educating conditions and equitable salaries to those educators willing to struggle for them.

If I had a child in the DeWitt school system I would be proud. Proud that my child is being instructed by a person who is willing to fight for those issues deemed worth fighting for. I would also be proud of those teachers because they realize their profession is worth the struggle.

Personality Profile

Conclusion is young author's beginning

Billy Tennant

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

St. Johns

There's a budding author in our midst with imagination and ideas to match the best of mystery and adventure writers.

Billy Tennant, a 12-year-old eighth grader at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High will be recognized by East Lansing radio station, WKAR, Nov. 4 and 5 has he reads his prize winning entry in their unique story writing contest.

Although Billy has been tuned in to creative writing since his fourth grade teacher, Mrs. Lynn Koger at Swegles sparked his interest with her writing assignments, he stumbled onto the contest while on a family trip to Iowa. While there they heard the contest advertised on an Iowa station. Inquiring they learned WKAR was also participating in the nationwide contest as part of the United Nation's celebration of the International Year of the Child.

Billy's entry is a 600 word conclusion to an exciting adventure written by the renowned Swedish author Astrid Lindgren (Pippi Longstocking). Her beginning has a hero, Count Miro, a villain, Don Luciano (the most feared of all villains) a beautiful white Bianca, a princess, a pirate ship (or is it a pirate ship?) and a castle high above the sea.

"The beginning is written so that it (the story) can be anything," Billy explained. Writing away for long hours, three nights in a row, Billy developed his story by picking up all the clues that Ms. Lindgren left dangling. The mysterious packet becomes a parcel of important papers; the pirate ship, Count Miro's own ship disguised as a pirate ship (there were a lot of them in the area); the woman in the tower, who else but a princess. The beautiful white Bianca comes galloping back into the story at just the right moment, leading a herd of stallions on which Count Miro's men finish the battle.

The action heightens when Count Miro is pushed over the cliff by the villainous Don Luciano and presumed dead. He reappears just in time, "cut, bruised, wet up to the waist" in time to save the battle. Then as in every good adventure, they all ride off, "Count Miro with the princess, of course." Don Luciano is left behind muttering, "I'll get you yet, if it takes me the rest of my life."

"It was like a puzzle," Billy said, explaining that he had to write and keep re-writing until all his pieces fit together. "When I ended up, it was really different from when I started," he said.

Billy Tennant is one of those children who walks through the world and welcomes what it gives. He samples and tastes and is often excited with what he finds.

Billy has always liked to read and his favorite stories are those in which children step into another world and are involved in complex roles, ultimately becoming heroes. He mentioned the "Narnia" series by C.S. Lewis and a story called "The Boy in the Toll Booth. He also likes J.R. Tolkien's "The Hobbit" and has turned that story into an elaborate board game.

The game has little characters for the moving pieces and a board that takes the Hobbits through the lands they travel in the book. If a player lands in a wrong spot he may be sent off to a separate Goblin or Troll Board and have to stay there until he rolls to get back to the main action.

Other danger spots involve a dragon and spiders and the players have to roll a wand to be spirited away or four diamonds to kill the dragon. "I've tried to stick to the story as much as I could," Billy said. The characters and board are all carefully drawn with colored pencils. The spaces on which the players move are perfect circles made by tracing around pennies.

He's also used his writing talent to start a neighborhood newspaper with his friend Jim Burkardt. Called, "Bill and Jim's Free Press" it contained news they picked up in their summer Weekly Readers, local and national sports coverage and things of general interest. "Mostly we just sold it to our parents," he admitted. The typewritten bi-weekly publication was not out this summer but Billy said the two have thought of picking it up again next summer if they are both home.

Billy plays the violin and the piano. He is part of an eighth grade string quartet. While he has written music before he only recently wrote words to a song that "just popped into my head." He came home from school with a sentence, "I don't know where I got it," he said. "But I thought it had rhythm."

The sentence was, "It seems to me, that I recollect." From there Billy's song goes on for seven or eight verses about, "My Aunt Bess Matilda from Lafayette."

What happens is that Aunt Bess is doing the wash and "she gave a scream, for her husband was in the washing machine." Her husband chases her through the verses each ending with the chorus, "... in that wishy, washy, walla, walla, washing machine."

While one would think that Billy would like English classes best, his favorite is really history and always has been. The mechanics of English, punctuation and capitalization are not his favorite thing but he admits that he is a "pretty good speller."

He also likes art and uses it a lot to illustrate his games and stories. His favorite sports are tennis and baseball. He's with the Brewers in Little League and is now playing intramural golf.

Billy's parents are Bill and Joi Tennant of South Swegles Street. His father is the director of the orchestra program in the St. Johns schools and his mother is a teacher and part owner of Meadowland Nursery School. His sister, Kristen, is a fourth grader at Swegles Elementary.

Through Billy Tennant's eyes, the world of a 12-year-old is an adventure of its own. He is a very appropriate choice for representing WKAR and St. Johns in the International Year of the Child story writing contest.

Teachers have chance reunion

Once there was a little school house on DeWitt Road, one and a half miles south of the Pilgrim United Methodist Church, called Stoney Creek Rural School. Many children were educated there.

By chance six women who taught there from 1910 to the 1950's were all present at the 65th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis at the Pilgrim Church.

The dean of the group is Mrs. Katherine Stanton of Detroit who taught at Stoney Creek about 1911. Her sister, Mrs. Mildred Gladstone of Paw Paw was the teacher in 1922 and 1923 and her niece, Mrs. Margaret Porter of Eaton Rapids followed in the 1930's.

Preceding Mrs. Gladstone was Mrs. Neva Pope and following her was Mrs. Gladys Bullard. The latest of the six to preside at the school was Mrs. Mary Walker who was there in the 1950's. These three women are all from St. Johns. Interesting comparisons were made on the duties and responsibilities of teachers in those days and the present times.

The school is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Churches.

Local soloist hosts Morning Musicale meeting

St. Johns
Members and guests of the St. Johns Morning Musicale met at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Rice, Wednesday, Oct. 10.

In a discussion of the recent convention of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs attended by club members, President Carolyn Campbell and Mrs. Esther Jacoby, vice president for the group indicated that the immediate past president of St. Johns Morning Musicale, Mrs. Carolyn Ruhl, will be the 1979-80 vice president of the South Central District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. The club also congratulated Mrs. Maxine Parmelee on her appointment as state chairman of the MFMC Scholarship for the Blind.

President Campbell indicated that St. Johns Morning Musicale had received several awards at the state convention for their local participation in National Music Week, and that the MFMC also awarded special recognition to several media sources for their assistance in publicizing National Music Week. The Clinton County News received such an award.

Mrs. Hila Bross presented the program for the Oct. 10 meeting, continuing the year's program, "A study in perceptive listening." Mrs. Bross discussed the sonata form, which applies particularly to instruments, as opposed to the cantata, which is to be sung.

Each sonata is composed of three contrasting movements: the exposition, or opening statement which provides the "home" base for the work, the development, which builds tension in various foreign keys, usually developing a feeling of breathless movement and excitement, and the recapitulation, which is a restatement in an end-of-the-journey return home for the composer.

Mrs. Martha Lundy played from the music of Beethoven, the particular composer studied for the day, the "Piano Sonata" Opus 49, No. 1 and 2. Mrs. Bross noted that Beethoven was a musical renegade, interested in learning the rules of music only so he could break them, which he flagrantly proceeded to do throughout his life.

Mrs. Bross mentioned that Beethoven often found himself in the throes of love, and wrote several humorous and delightful songs dedicated to the lady of the moment. Mrs. Phyllis Rice sang selections from his "Ausgewahlte Lieder", singing "Maliiede", or May Song, in German.

Beethoven was not much influenced by composers who preceded him, but by politics, events, and personalities. There seemed no limits to his creative resources, and club members learned that he often performed concerts for pocket money in which he simply improvised as he went along.

His becoming deaf did not seem to harm his ability as a composer, although he was subject to fits of depression at this turn of fate. It is believed that it was in such a depression that he wrote the

NOTE. A SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Method of Accounting. The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual method of accounting.

General Fixed Assets. The District records the cost of equipment and fixed assets other than buses as an expenditure in the general fund.

The District has not established a fixed asset group of accounts as required by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' audit guide for State and Local Governmental Units and by the Michigan State Board of Education.

Long Term Debt Group of Accounts. The Long Term Debt group of accounts does not include the school bus installment notes. These notes have been recorded in the General Fund, so that they may be related to school buses and more accurately reflect that portion of general fund balance.

Delinquent Taxes Receivable. Unpaid taxes are written off as uncollectible after five years.

Buses. Buses are recorded in the general fund at cost and amortized on the straight-line basis over a period of seven years in accordance with state requirements.

Big plays power Redwings to Ionia win

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

St. Johns
In football circles there is a saying - "He who lives by the pass, dies by the pass" - but it also is true that he who lives by the big play, well... lives by the big play. St. Johns has spent this past season living by the big play, and the Redwing football teams, 5-1 overall, 3-1 in the league, of Joe Gonzales has done fairly well by it. Friday, however, the Redwings nearly died for lack of the big play before pulling out a 13-3 homecoming win over Mid-Michigan B Conference rival Ionia. St. Johns had some big plays, but they were called back because of mistakes. A 66-yard touchdown romp by a healthy senior swingback Bob Sutherland was called back by a clipping penalty while a 47-yard interception return for yet another touchdown by junior defensive back Kurt Hayes was called back by a pass interference call.

Ionia, on the other hand, died by the pass. Though the Bulldogs managed 99 yards in the air, quarterback Mike Eddington also was intercepted twice, once by Hayes which set up St. Johns' first touchdown and one by linebacker Gary Campbell.

"I guess it appears to be bad breaks," Ionia coach Dan Painter said, "but I think it is because we have had so many injuries and down the line it has hurt us."

Ionia came on like gangbusters at the start, taking the ball 66 yards on its first possession of the game. The drive stalled and kicker Jerry Adams booted home a 31-yard field goal.

And that was how it stood at intermission, only after Sutherland's run was called back, much to the dismay of the shivering homecoming crowd.

"Offensively we were a little stale in the first half," Gonzales said. "But we got back together in the second half."

It took the Hayes interception, made on the Redwing 12-yard line, to set up the game's first touchdown. And it took just one play to get it, a 55-yard burst by speedster Sutherland, who accumulated 155 of St. Johns' 239 yards rushing.

The Redwings did piece together a drive in the last quarter, going 69 yards in four plays to get a touchdown on a 36-yard run by

Sutherland. The big play in the series was a 28-yard pass from senior quarterback Todd Bakita to junior end Doug Sleep, the only completion of the night by Bakita. "He did throw better," Gonzales said. "Todd threw better but our people dropped a few." Now, for St. Johns, thoughts must turn to Friday's encounter with rival Ovid-Elsie (3-3), which stunned Corunna 8-0. "They have got to be super fired up," Gonzales said. "I think we are in for a handful."

Open and shut

Ionia's junior upback Jim Loveless (31) is free, for the time being. But a trio of St. Johns Redwings, Garret Hayes (22), Greg Wood (53) and Bruce Fedewa (23) close in on the Bulldog. St. Johns toppled Ionia in Friday's homecoming contest, 13-3. (Photo by Mark Haney)

On The Mark

by Mark Haney

In each and every sport and in each and every season, there are peaks and valleys. Some teams never leave the mountain top while others never get out of the riverbed.

This year's football season has been no exception. There is St. Johns, a team Coach Joe Gonzales may be guiding to the playoffs, if everything goes right. All the Redwings have to do is win the rest of their games and have all former opponents do the same. Now that's not asking much is it?

Of course, Gonzales doesn't like to stress the playoffs, because there is a lot of season left. But the Redwings have managed a couple of key wins, including one over a tough Corunna team, and seem to be healthy again. They should be on their way.

On the other hand there is DeWitt, and no team could have suffered more bad breaks this fall than Larry Baird's crew. The Panthers have done everything but win this season. They just missed toppling Saginaw Swan Valley, one of the state's top Class B teams, in their opener. They just eluded victory against Mason.

Truly only one team has manhandled the Panthers and that was unbeaten Class B powerhouse Okemos. And in that respect, DeWitt is in good company.

Finally there is Fulton, and nobody has seen the changes come and go like John Wachsmuth's crew. The Pirates started the season trying to lengthen a 27-game winning streak. But they ran into Bay City All Saints, like Swan Valley, ranked in class B as an unbeaten.

Then it was unbeaten Fowler, now the top team in the state in Class D and a second loss.

At that point Wachsmuth had eight players quit the team, quite a few for a Class C school.

But the Pirates struggled on, beating Laingsburg before losing a squeaker to Olivet. The Pirates rebounded with a romp over Pewamo-Westphalia and a third win Friday over Pottersville.

Are things looking up at Fulton? Not quite. Wachsmuth lost starting quarterback Larry Leiby and starting halfback Buzz Hanson last week when they quit - after being disciplined by the coaching staff. So he played last week with a green quarterback and some people rearranged to different positions.

So it is hard to tell, is Fulton in a peak or a valley? Only time will tell, and there's a lot of that left.

Fowler bombs Laingsburg

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

Fowler

Fowler High's offense has been getting a lot of attention lately, what with games like the 28-0 Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, the 30-12 win over Fulton and the 46-0 triumph over Pottersville. Well they did it again Friday, ripping Laingsburg 31-0, but Coach Steve Spicer, whose team is topping the United Press International and Associated Press Class D football polls, credited the defenders on this one.

"It was our defense," he said. "Our entire defensive unit played a fine game, holding Laingsburg to only 46 yards of total offense."

That provided the Fowler fans with a fine homecoming despite the chilly temperatures.

The Eagle offense did heat things up, amassing 289 yards on the ground and 11 on a one-for-five passing effort by Neil Hufnagel. The Eagles lost two fumbles but the defense managed to force Laingsburg miscues.

Ed Thelen, Doug Koenigs-knecht and Lloyd Feldpausch each grabbed one fumble while Koenigs-knecht and Terry Thelen each bagged an interception. Hufnagel's lone completion to Koenigs-knecht came in the first quarter, but it got the Eagles rolling with their first touchdown. The duo repeated the performance for the conversion.

A three-yard run by Hufnagel accounted for the second Fowler touchdown. Hufnagel went back to Koenigs-knecht, who rushed for 146 yards in 15 carries, allowing Fowler a 16-0 edge at intermission.

Then halfback Tom Weber, who rushed for 146 yards in 15 carries, went to work. Weber scored on a 23-yard run early in the third quarter and capped the period with a 45-yard run for a touchdown.

Ovid-Elsie stuns Corunna

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer

Ovid

Homecoming is a game for the home team to win, and many schools go about scheduling the league patsy for such occasions.

Somehow, though, Ovid-Elsie has managed to lose seven straight homecoming games, until Friday. Then the Marauders of Russ Pope stunned Mid-Michigan B Conference rival Corunna, 8-0.

"It was a game where everything went right for us," Pope said, "no fumbles or pass interceptions and few penalties and we kept Corunna in the hole all night with our good kicking game. Plus it had to be the best defensive performance by an Ovid-Elsie team in quite a few years."

The Marauder defense's greatest challenge came in the second half when Corunna, which came into the game with a 4-1 league mark, drove to the five.

But Ovid-Elsie held on a fourth-and-two.

The Marauder defenders also scored some points when linebacker Ryan Ackles caught fullback Ross Campau, who was limited to 85 yards or 21 carries, in the end zone for a safety.

The Marauders offense accounted for the rest of the points in the first quarter. On Ovid-Elsie's second possession, the Marauders pieced together a 61-yard drive on the running of halfbacks Jeff Winnans and Chris Canfield, Canfield, who amassed 115 yards in 21 carries, scored on a one-yard plunge.

But it was the defense that drew the credit.

"It was our 5-2 defense with Ackles as the monster man," he said, "and keying on Campeau that was the difference in the game. Corunna's whole offense is Campeau and Ackles just went after him on every play."

And that is how the senior accumulated 20 tackles to lead the defense.

Lineman Dean Bendt, meanwhile, made 18 tackles, Mike Shank and Tracy Bashore were credited with 12 and tackle Dan Gilbert, in his first start of the year, made nine.

The Marauders face another challenge this Friday with a trip to St. Johns and a game with the 5-1 Redwings, 13-3 winners of Ionia Friday. Ovid-Elsie has never won a game in St. Johns.

"We watched last year's game films and it looks like a lot of the people who gave us fits last years are still in the same places this year," Pope said.

"Ovid-Elsie has never won a game on the St. Johns field but we weren't supposed to beat Corunna either so look for a great game between two good teams."

Ovid-Elsie's junior varsity didn't have a good game Thursday, losing to Corunna's reserves 26-6. The Marauder freshmen squad dropped a 14-6 decision to Corunna.

Deefense

Defense was the name of the game in Friday's battle between Ovid-Elsie and Corunna. Such Marauders as Dan Gilbert

(52), Matt Black (75) and Chris Canfield (33) helped Ovid-Elsie post an 8-0 upset victory. (Photo by Patrice Hornak)

Players quit, but Fulton wins anyway

By Mark Haney
Sports Writer.

Potterville
A little luck and a lot of pluck got Fulton High's football team a 46-0 win over Central Michigan Athletic Conference rival Potterville Friday.

The Pirates of John Wachsmuth, already devastated by the loss of eight players after the season's second game, lost two more players last week-quarterback Larry Leiby and halfback Buzz Hanson-yet managed to come out of the week a winner.

"They quit as a result of a disciplinary action," Wachsmuth said. "But I don't like to see that kind of situation get any recognition at all."
"We won and it was a whole team effort. I think I was most pleased with our attitude."

A 20-point fourth quarter surge put the game away for 3-3 Fulton, but the outcome was never really in doubt as the Pirates limited Potterville to 49 yards in total offense, 30 of it coming on the ground.

Fullback-linebacker Jeff McVannell led Fulton throughout the game. He amassed 230 yards in 26 carries, scored five touchdowns (both school records) while making eight tackles.

"He played like a man possessed, I'll tell you," Wachsmuth said.

The senior scored on an eight-yard run in the first quarter, on a four-yard burst in the second quarter on a five-yard run in the third quarter and on 14- and 37-yard runs in the final stanza.

Something must have possessed Scott Winsor too, since the junior somehow made the transition from split end to quarterback look easy. He completed three of 10 passes for 19 yards and made one good for a second quarter touchdown.

Winsor found Pat Bird for the 39-yard strike with four seconds left in the half. Winsor also rushed for 29 yards on four carries.

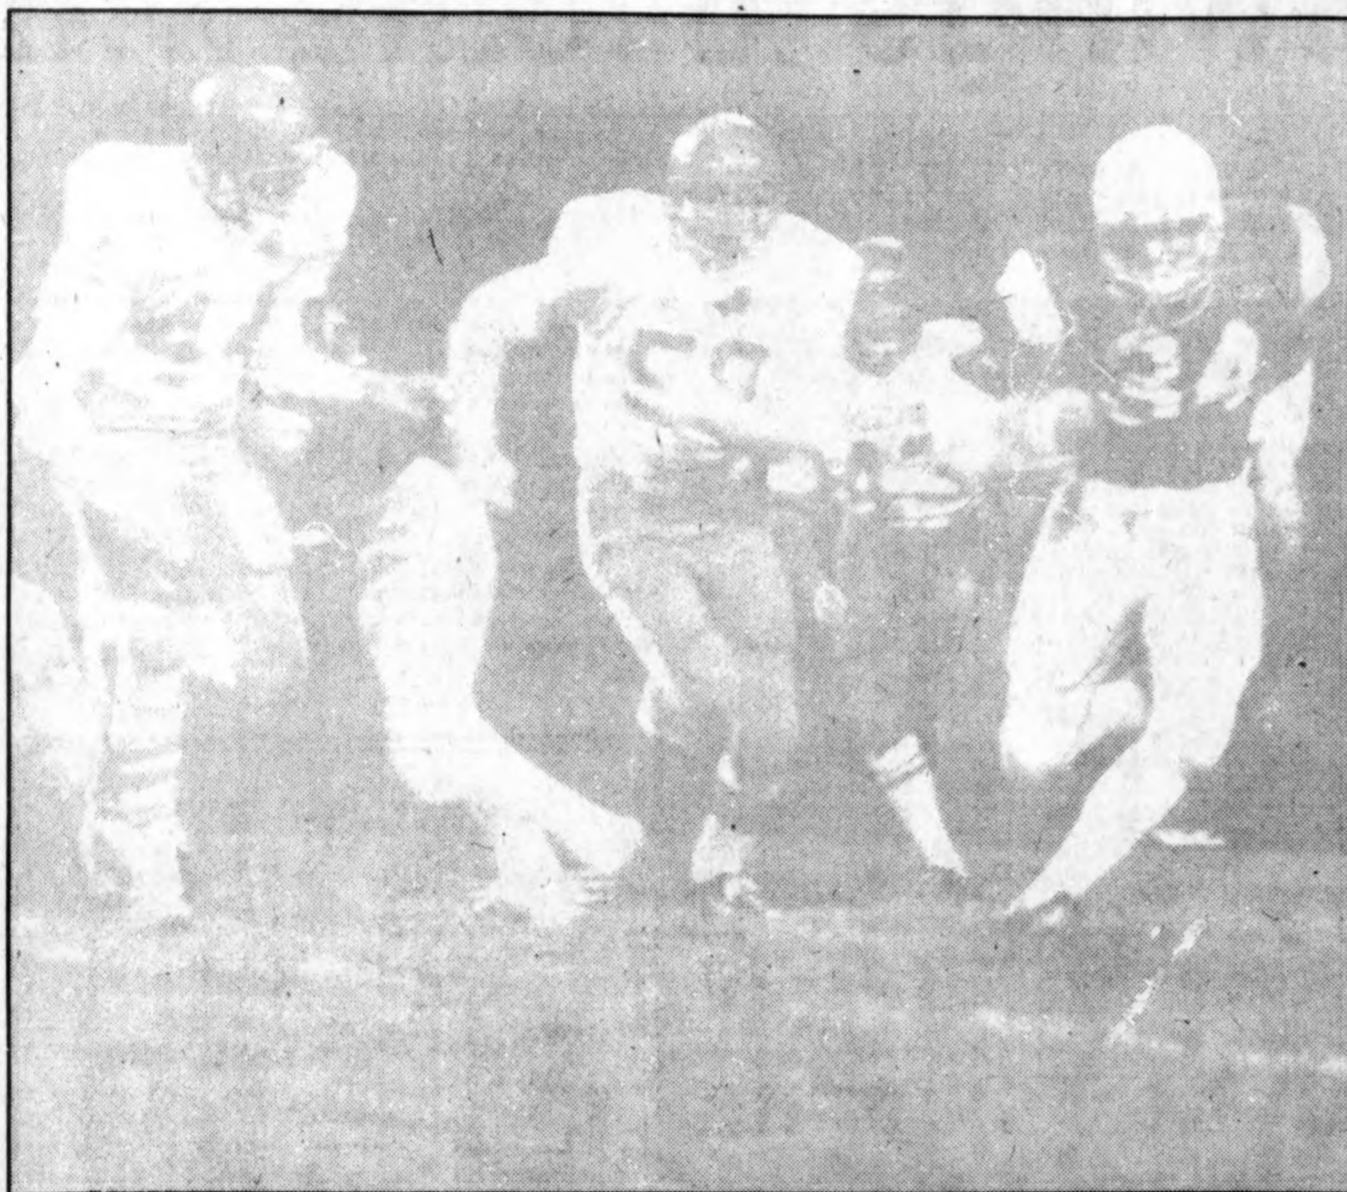

"He played a little quarterback in junior high and it is the same system that we use," Wachsmuth said, "but he is a smart athlete and he did a good job."

Mark LaLone, who moved to halfback in Hanson's spot, accounted for 83 yards in eight carries while scoring on an 11-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Fulton, 3-2 in the CMAC, may need some extra homecoming spirit to get by this week's foe, Bellevue, a team still stinging from Friday's 12-0 loss to Pewamo-Westphalia.

"They have a veteran team for the most part," Wachsmuth said, "and I know that they moved the ball on us pretty well last year. I think their passing game is better than they showed Friday (zero-for-six), at least from what my scouts say."

Spirit, new quarterback gain Pirates grid win

By Mark Haney

Pewamo
A sky-high Pewamo-Westphalia team proved to be too much for Central Michigan Athletic conference rival Bellevue Friday as the Pirates of Mike Folk chalked up a 12-0 homecoming win.

It was an unusually emotional Pirate team that won, upping its CMAC mark to 3-2 while rising to 4-2 overall. "I think the big question mark this week was whether we would come back from the Fulton loss (24-0) because they flipped us pretty good,"

Folk said.

"But we came out on the field and were emotionally high for this one and I don't know why. I don't know how to explain it. I guess homecoming was part of it." Also part of it was Folk's move to start junior Mike Pohl at quarterback in place of senior Bob Miller.

"We just wanted to try something different to try and get our offense working," Folk said. "Mike is quite a good scrambler." Pohl also proved to be an effective passer too, hitting on six of 14 for 104 yards. He also connected with halfback

Kevin Fedewa on a 20-yard scoring strike in the second quarter to put Pewamo-Westphalia on the scoreboard.

"It (the move) worked out for us pretty well," Folk said, "because we scored our first touchdown on a scramble."

The Pirates' other score came on a 55-yard draw play run by halfback Dean Schaefer. It was just part of an 88-yard, 10-carry afternoon by the junior.

Pewamo-Westphalia also missed on a touchdown when they drove 90 yards to the four only to be penalized when fullback Chris Schneider was caught pushing Pohl into the end zone.

The Pirate defense, meanwhile, kept the Bellevue offense bottled up, keeping senior halfback Kent Place to just 41 yards in 12 attempts. "We had good field position most of the night," Folk said, "and I think that did it. They didn't cross midfield at all in the first half."

Besides catching the lone scoring pass, Fedewa also managed 77 yards in eight carries.

Pewamo-Westphalia meets Portland St. Patrick, a 6-0 loser to Olivet, in this Friday's encounter in Portland.

Fowler gets CMAC title

Portland

With a little help from his friends, Fowler High golf coach Mike Braun brought home a Central Michigan Athletic Conference title Tuesday.

Though his Eagles wound up second overall to Pewamo-Westphalia at the CMAC meet Tuesday at Portland Country Club, they captured the overall league title when Portland St. Patrick took third.

Since the two squads had tied for the lead at the end of the dual match season, that left Fowler with the league crown, the first non-Pewamo-Westphalia win in four years.

The surprising part was that the Eagles did win, when two years ago Fowler couldn't even win a match.

"Up until two years ago," Braun said, "we hadn't even won a match. Then last year we were second." And now they are champions.

But the win didn't come without some assistance.

First there was Pewamo-Westphalia's help, by winning the meet, knocking Portland St. Patrick down a notch. The Pirates of Tom Heckman were led once again by a Belen-this time sophomore Jeff—who carded a two-over-par 74. Jeff Eassel shot a 92, Dan Bengel added an 82 and Mike Heiden shot an 87.

There were some outside help, from Fowler athletic director and football coach Steve Spicer and from junior varsity football coach Dennis Smith.

Those two let Braun's star players, freshman Dave and senior Doug Koenigsnecht, play both golf and football, allowing the two time off.

"We would have never won it (the title) without them (each shot 80)," Braun said. "And I'd have to thank Steve and Dennis Smith for letting them play."

The Eagles also got an 86 from sophomore Mike Ulrich while freshman Marty Hamilton turned in a 93.

TEAM FINISH: Pewamo-Westphalia 335, Fowler 337, Portland St. Patrick 339, Laingsburg 341, Fulton 375.

ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM: Jeff Belen (Pewamo-Westphalia), Mike Wilcox (Portland St. Patrick), Dave Koenigsnecht (Fowler), Doug Koenigsnecht (Fowler).

St. Johns wins Clinton Invitational

St. Johns

For maybe the first time in the race's existence, there were six competitive cross country teams entered in Thursday's Clinton County Invitational.

But the results were in favor of the home team, as St. Johns carried off the team trophy.

The Redwings scored 38 points to the 73 of second-place Fulton. Pewamo-Westphalia finished a mere point behind Fulton with Bath fourth with 86 points. DeWitt was fifth with 102 points and Ovid-Elsie sixth with 110.

St. Johns grabbed four of the top seven spots with Jerry Peters winning in 16:04. Paul Pioszak, Todd Scott and Eric Root took fifth, sixth and seventh respectively.

Fulton's Jim Slavik led

Peters most of the way around the Twin Oaks Golf Course layout only to be passed by Peters in the last 200 yards. Slavik and Bath's Doug Konen each finished in 16:08.

Fulton's Chris Price wound up fourth.

Other medal winners include Pewamo-Westphalia's Scott Simon who took eighth, DeWitt's Dennis Wissner ninth and Ovid-Elsie's Jack Miller 10th.

DeWitt's girls team dominated the girls race, taking all five of the top spots and all of the medals.

Monique DeSmith led the Panthers with a time of 20:27 while Cheryl Leach took second in 20:52. Lori Grendys was third (20:58), Missy Simon fourth (21:37) and Jill Stauffer fifth (21:40).

Bath's Karen Pratt and Kathy House were sixth and seventh, respectively, with Ovid-Elsie's Monica Truat eighth and Fulton's Kathy Baker ninth.

MMB golf title eludes St. Johns

Belding

The elusive Mid-Michigan B Conference golf title that at one time seemed to be all St. Johns' found its way to Alma this year, much to the chagrin of the Redwings.

At Tuesday's league match at Candelstone Golf Club in Belding, Alma snatched the title with a 445 while St. Johns wound up second, as they did in dual matches, with a 457.

Alma got an 84, 12-

Tom Teichert then joined Koenig, Gray, Barton, Flint and McClintic on the first team all-league squad while his sister Kathy made the Kathy is the first girl ever to make the all-conference team.

Weather wallops Fowler

Saugatuck

The wind blew and the rain flew and the Fowler High golfers froze, as did the golfers from 11 other schools at Saturday's Class D golf regional at Saugatuck.

In the end the Eagles of Mike Braun finished fifth in the match, behind Western Michigan Christian's 380 total, behind Saugatuck's 385, behind Saranac's 387 and behind Portland St. Patrick's 394. Fowler shot a 404.

"It rained the whole time," Braun said. "Four and a half hours of rain. I couldn't figure out why they didn't call it off and play it later."

Fowler was led by Doug Koenigsnecht's 93 while Mike Ulrich shot a 95. Dave Koenigsnecht fired a 102.

Pewamo-Westphalia drops a pair

Pewamo
You won't often find a coach satisfied in defeat, but Pewamo-Westphalia coach Bonnie Somero was satisfied not once, but twice with defeat last week.
Somero's team lost to Central Michigan Athletic Conference rival Portland St. Patrick Wednesday, 42-39 then dropped a 65-55 non-conference contest to Portland High Thursday.
Yet Somero saw a glimmer of hope amid the gloom.

"This is the first time all season that the kids have played with drive, and intensity," she said. "I was really happy to see that."
"The girls weren't disappointed because they gave their all in both games. And I was impressed."
But mistakes still hurt the Pirates, now 6-5 overall and 3-3 in the CMAAC.
Pewamo-Westphalia was good on just seven of 13 free throws while making 33 turnovers.

"St. Pats had a very aggressive man-to-man defense," Somero said, "but the lack of good free throws and the turnovers are what did us in."
That and a last-second St. Patrick bucket, that turned the tide. With 10 seconds left, Pewamo-Westphalia was up by a point.

Size did in the Pirates in the Portland game.
"The Portland girls were big," Somero said. "Our tallest player was the size of their shortest player. And they were excellent outside shooters."
Two of the bunch was the Doherty girls. Kate and Kit. Kate scored 11 while Kit added six. Carol Tichvon and Gayle Hoffman added 18 a piece.

The Pirates trimmed the Portland lead, then 48-33, with a fourth quarter surge.
"We went to a full court, man-to-man press," Somero said. "Hindsight being what it is, we probably should have done that earlier."
Center Gina Pline led the Pirates through the week with 15 points in the St. Patrick game and 13 against Portland. Senior guard Therese Simon, scoreless in the St. Patrick game, came back with an 11-point performance against Portland.

The Pewamo-Westphalia reserves suffered like the varsity, losing to Portland St. Patrick's junior varsity 40-36 despite a 10-point game by forward Becky Snyder. Center Donna Lenneman, who scored eight points against St. Patrick, scored eight against Portland as the Pirates lost 18-15.

Fowler cagers upend CMAAC leader Olivet

Fowler
All along, Melody Sowers said, she knew her Fowler High girls' basketball team could play like it did Wednesday when the Eagles beat then-unbeaten Olivet, 49-46.
The Eagles, 4-2 in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference and 6-3 overall, overcame a stifling Olivet press and brought to bear a strong defense of its own.

"Well I think things did go together pretty well," Sowers said, "but I think they could play like this every game, every night. But they don't usually, though I believe they have the talent to."
Defense played a big factor in Fowler's success.

"We had a very good defensive game," Sowers said, "and they played a super defensive game. But offensively we were off and on again."
When the Eagles finally broke the press, Sowers said, "it took the wind out of their (Olivet's) sails."
Then the Eagles used some 56 per cent second-half shooting to notch the win.

"They didn't fold under pressure," Sowers said, "as I have seen some other teams do. But then we have folded under similar pressure as we did against Fulton. The kids just knew how they had to play and what they had to do and went out and did it."
The Eagles eked out a slim

22-21 lead at the half and stretched it to a 36-33 lead at the end of the third quarter, then held on for dear life.
Being named Fowler's Homecoming Queen the Friday before must have done something to Kelly Halfmann, because the senior forward responded with a 19-point, 11-rebound game against Olivet. Senior forward Kat Schmitt, normally the top Eagle scorer, added 10 points with three steals and eight rebounds.

Center Jennifer Pritchard and forward Sandy Vetter led Olivet with 11 and 12 points, respectively.
The Fowler reserves, with point guard Becky Klein and wing Diane Schmitt scoring 14 points and wing Kim Schafer adding 12, lost to the Olivet junior varsity, 57-55.

FOWLER: 8141413-49
OLIVET: 9121213-46
FOWLER: Kelly Halfmann 9, 1/1, 19; Kat Schmitt 4, 2/3, 10; Sandy Thelen 2, 1/2, 5; Jane Armbrustmeyer 3, 0/1, 6;

Connie Feldpausch 2, 0/0, 4; Jane George 1, 3/4, 5. TOTALS: 21, 7/11, 49.
OLIVET: Sheila Fuller 2, 0/2, 4; Jeanna Pritchard 8, 0/0, 16; Meri Davidson 2, 1/2, 5; Sue King 1, 1/2, 3; Jennifer Pritchard 3, 5/9, 11; Sara Vahs 1, 1/2, 3; Beth Parrott 3, 0/0, 6; Sylvia Mott 1, 0/0, 2. TOTALS: 18, 10/21, 46.

'Wing swimmers win

St. Johns
The lists goes on and on, like a broken record. The St. Johns swim team just keeps on rolling, adding teams like Alma (96-75), Owosso (103-72), Corunna (102-70) and Haslett (127-36) to list of those defeated.
Such recent efforts have allowed the Redwings of Jim Makaruskas to notch its 19th straight dual meet win and post a 7-0 mark this season.
St. Johns saved the best for last and the meet Thursday with Haslett.
"This was our best one," Makaruskas said. "It wasn't necessarily our best competition but we really tried. We wanted to see how many people we could qualify for the state meet."
He succeeded in getting senior Linda Luttig (50-yard and 100-yard freestyle), senior Sharon Law (diving), senior Ruth Fedewa (100-yard butterfly), freshman, Gloria Stratton (100-yard backstroke) and sophomore Mandy Martindale (100-yard breaststroke) qualified for the meet.

"This Haslett meet we swam exceptionally well," Makaruskas said, "and we had worked out that morning so that was encouraging."
Luttig's wins in the freestyle-raced netted her the school record in the 50-yard contest with a time of 26.6.
Sohomore Judy Fedewa set a school mark in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:04.3 in the Alma meet while sophomore Shawn Meyer set a new school mark in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:14.5 at the Owosso meet.

Stratton tied the school mark in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 1:00.2 in the Corunna meet.
Meyer won the 200-yard and 500-yard freestyles in the Alma meet then won the 500-yard freestyle and breaststroke in the Owosso meet. Judy Fedewa, part of the record school high 400-yard freestyle team along with Stratton, freshman Debbie Stratton and Luttig, won the 200-yard freestyle and 100-yard butterfly in the Corunna meet.
The Redwings visit DeWitt Thursday.

Comet netters split

St. Johns
The rains finally let up long enough to allow the St. Johns High tennis team to get in its matches last week and the Redwings responded with a 6-1 win over Lansing Harry Hill and a 4-3 loss to Owosso.
In Tuesday's Owosso match, St. Johns got wins from first singles' Kris Tetens and fourth singles' Beth Buckley plus the third doubles' team of Tricia Barnes and Ellen Witteveen.
St. Johns' only loss in the Harry Hill match was in fourth-singles where Theresa Hyde fell to Melissa Davis 6-0, 7-6.
Though it didn't rain on the Redwings of Melanie Humphrey, it was cold (50 degrees during the Owosso match) and snowy (during the Harry Hill match).

ST. JOHNS-HARRY HILL: (Number One Singles) Kris Tetens (SJ) over Diane Torres 6-1, 6-2; (Number Two Singles) Beth Hunt (SJ) over Kris Kenyon 6-3, 6-4; (Number Three Singles) Beth Buckley (SJ) over Mary Herford 6-1, 6-1; (Number Four Singles) Melissa Davis (HH) over Theresa Hyde 6-0, 7-6.

Fulton cagers win

Fulton
It really wasn't the type of game Fulton High girls' basketball coach Bill Parker needed.
Parker said he didn't need such an easy 80-43 win over a weak Bellevue team Wednesday, not with next Wednesday's game at Portland St. Patrick - "down in the pit," Parker says - the next contest on the schedule.
"It was a funny game," Parker said of Wednesday's victory, Fulton's eighth in 11 games and fifth in six Central Michigan Athletic Conference games.

The Fulton junior varsity nipped Bellevue's reserves 29-25.

St. Johns harriers notch shutout

The shutout, according to cross country, is anytime you can keep the other team from placing a runner head of any of your own team.

St. Johns High's cross country squad did just that in its only dual meet of the week, a 15-50 win over Ionia.

Ovid-Elsie runners triumph

By virtue of depth, the Ovid-Elsie cross country team came up with a win, 23-38 over Corunna, in its only dual meet of the week. Coach Don Barlow's team allowed Corunna's Randy Wisner to take first in 15:55 but placed Jack Miller second in 15:56.

Aerobic dance growing in popularity, local classes filling up

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

DeWitt

It's fun. It's good for you. Incongruous as they seem both these statements refer to aerobic dancing, the new physical fitness program, sweeping the nation and gaining popularity in Clinton County.

Here at DeWitt Linda Donaldson has hooked about 30 women in the adult education program that meets twice a week at the high school. Dragging in their friends the majority of the group have met with Donaldson for three sessions now.

"I love it," one excited student said, "and I've gone down one dress size." Others claim to have lost inches from waist, thighs and hips. Instructor Donaldson, who started aerobic dancing in the Lansing area two years ago, has gone from a 32-inch waist to a 23-inch waist. Classes are set up to meet two hours a week but Donaldson said she enrolled in classes "all over town" and was dancing five hours a week. "I was having myself a ball," she said. Now instructing for the program in Grand Ledge, Lansing and DeWitt she carries a full teaching load of eight hours a week.

The program does not claim to be a weight reducing system but instructors say this is often an added benefit. Students lose inches through dancing and then automatically start watching their diets.

Exercises and dances change, so teachers are bringing something new to students for each 12-week session.

Local co-ordinator, Mickey Wilson said 45,000 students are enrolled across the nation with 1,000 instructors. "We have gained 550 students in the Lansing area in just two years," she said. "It's catchy because it's fun and because it works."

An introductory class in aerobic dancing is scheduled for St. Johns through the Community Education program. The five week class will run Mondays and Wednesdays from 5:30-6:30 p.m. starting Nov. 5 and ending Dec. 6. Contact Mickey Wilson at 372-7180 to register.

Professional dancer Jacki Sorensen developed the program for Air Force officers' wives in 1969. She combined the health and figure benefits of jogging with the fun and vigor of dancing. Her program strengthens heart, lungs and circulatory system, improves respiratory system, tones, trims and firms skeletal muscles and increases flexibility.

While stretching, skipping, kicking and swinging to a variety of music from country and western to rock and big band, cha-cha, polka and disco, the figure is toned and trimmed without the student thinking about it. One DeWitt student said, "My husband keeps asking if I'm the oldest one here, but it doesn't matter, no one would notice, it's so much fun." Ms. Wilson said students in the area range from 19 to 70 years of age. The dances are set up for non-dancers at three levels.

Most new aerobic dancers aren't physically fit so they begin dancing their way to fitness at a "walking" level. In time, they're able to "jog" or "run" through the dances. Everyone succeeds at her own level. Skill and technique aren't important. Having fun is.

After each dance, students check their heart rate. If too high, they slow down their pace for the next dance.

The word aerobic means "with oxygen" and aerobic exercises are those that cause your body to demand increased amounts of oxygen over an extended period of time. In aerobic dancing the heart and lungs work harder than normal and the cardiovascular system becomes stronger.

This strength cannot be stored however and students are encouraged to keep with the program as well as supplement it with something else.

"A lot of people don't know what it feels like to be in shape," Ms. Wilson said. "This program can turn them on to good physical fitness and they'll never want to let go." Many people are choosing aerobic dancing for physical fitness. Ms. Wilson said it has all the advantages of jogging and racquetball but the dancing makes it fun.

They love it

It's good for you and it's fun, this aerobic dancing meeting twice a week through the adult education program at DeWitt High School. Area women enrolled in the class say they are losing inches, having fun and feeling better than they ever have before. (Photo by Sharon Randall)

Church updates cornerstone

Bath Township

One hundred years ago, Chapel Hill United Methodist Church got its start. It didn't go by that name back in 1879, however. It was then called Pine Lake Methodist Episcopal Church.

In 1949, the church was put on its present foundation on Coleman Road in Bath Township and a copper box containing articles depicting the time were placed in a cornerstone.

Well, in celebration of the church's centennial, members of the congregation opened the little copper box last Thursday, Oct. 11 and they are preparing to put new and old materials in the cornerstone, to be opened at the bicentennial of the church.

"We felt this was a good year to update the cornerstone," said Joyce Snay. Her husband, Jim, actually opened the copper box.

What was inside? A membership list of the Ladies Aid Society (South Bath WSCS), a copy of the Michigan Advocate, Sunday school materials, a 50-year-old poem, and a treasurer's report were preserved.

To update the cornerstone, the congregation is going to put all the items placed in the box back in 1949 as well as new items into a plastic pipe and seal it. Rededication of the cornerstone will be Sunday, Oct. 21.

Among the new items in the cornerstone will be a list of the bell ringers who rang the church bell during the church's centennial celebration in the spring, a letter from President Jimmy Carter, a centennial plate, letters from Governor

William Milliken, Lieutenant Governor James Brickley and Congressman Bob Carr. Also included will be an invitation to the centennial celebration, a copy of the history of the church, a napkin from the centennial celebration, a church bulletin from the dedication, a copy of the original deed and a newspaper article telling about the church celebration.

This Sunday there will be a birthday cake with 100 candles on it when the congregation again celebrates the founding of the church. This will be one day plus 100 years since the church was originally dedicated.

What's inside?

SOIL EROSION AND SEDIMENTATION ACT

The countdown is on for applying Public Act 347, Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control, to farmlands. The law states that after Jan. 1, 1979 land changes including "agricultural practices" shall be subject to Michigan's program for erosion and sedimentation control. Farming practices such as plowing and tilling for the production and harvesting of crops are not subject to this act.

Agricultural practices which come under the act are earth changes within 500 feet of a lake or stream or which disturb one or more acres of land.

These might include: construction or improvement of surface and subsurface drains; preparation of building sites for barns or other structures; removal of woodlots, fencerows and windbreakers; construction of diversion terraces to direct surface water runoff; construction of roads or lanes; construction of ponds and impoundments; streambank stabilization; water control or sediment control structures; land shaping; animal water storage facilities.

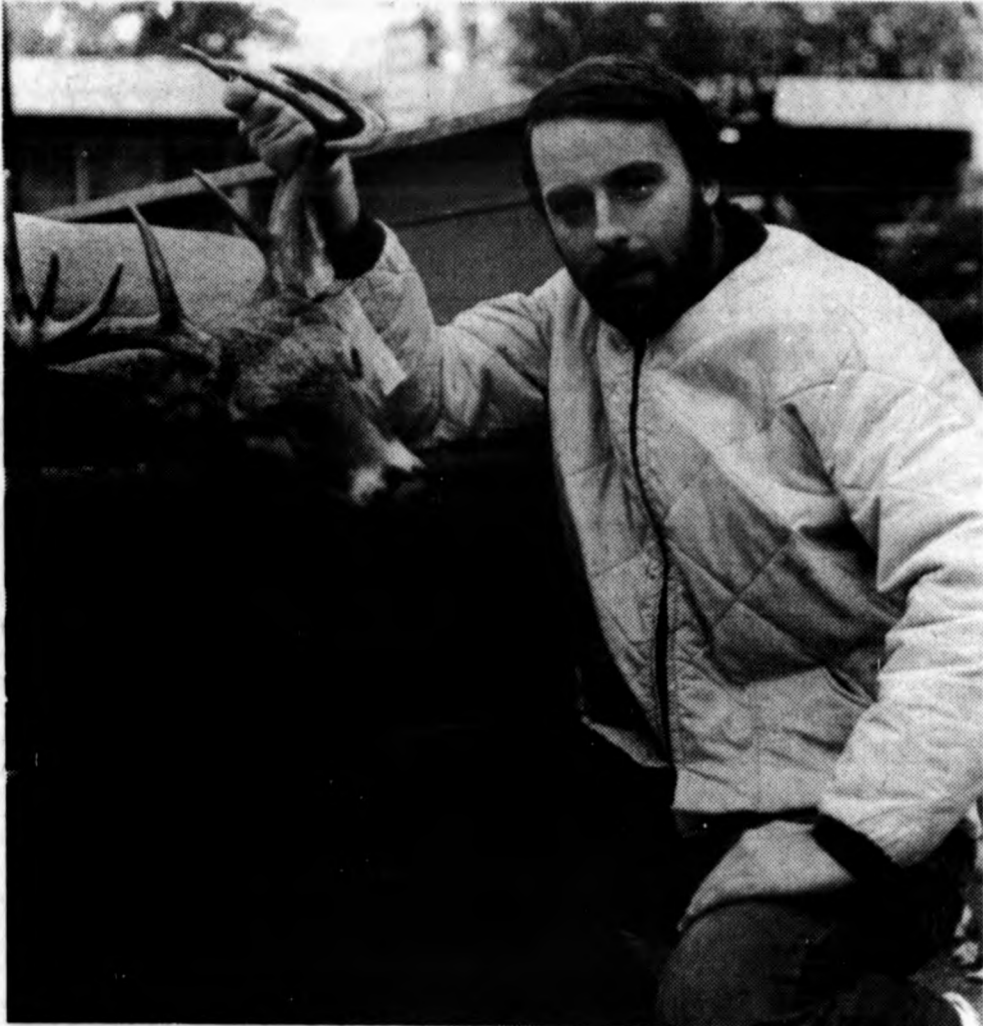

Restricted earth changes by land owners may be undertaken following entering into an agreement with the county Soil Conservation District to apply proper soil erosion control practices. The agreement serves as a substitute for having to acquire erosion control permits from county enforcing agencies.

Uniform application of this law should further reduce erosion and wasting of our farmlands and reduce sedimentation and filling in of our drainage ditches and streams.

Harvest is a good time to make a rough sketch of each field to locate problem areas observed during the year or at harvest. Poor yields, stones, wet spots, weeds, insects, disease, etc., may all be identified for later correction or treatment.

Soil sampling and testing now would be a start in correcting problem areas as well as boosting overall yields. Testing now would enable you to make more favorable buying decisions and tax decisions this fall and early winter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT PUMPKINS.

The frost is on the pumpkin; and fall is in the air. Here are some answers to the most often asked questions about pumpkins.

Q. When should pumpkins be harvested?

A. Pumpkins are ready for harvest when they have a good orange color all over and the skin is hard, not easily punctured by a thumbnail. To harvest, cut them off the vines, leaving a small portion of stem attached. Avoid leaving pumpkins out during a hard frost.

Q. How should pumpkins be stored?

A. With proper care, pumpkins will keep for several months. Store only well matured fruits that are free of insect damage and mechanical injuries. Pumpkins for long-term storage keep better if they are cured for 10 days at 80-85°F. (An easy way to provide warm temperatures is to put the pumpkins near your furnace) Curing hardens the rinds and heals surface cuts. Bruised areas and damage by insects however, cannot be healed. After curing the pumpkins, store them in a dry place at 55-60°F. If stored at 50 degrees F or below, pumpkins will suffer chilling injury. At temperatures above 60°, they gradually lose moisture and become stringy.

Q. How do you cook pumpkins?

A. Cook pumpkins in the oven or in boiling water on top of the stove. To bake, wash and cut in half, crosswise. Remove the seeds and strings. Place pumpkins halves in a pan, shell side up, and bake in a 325° oven for one hour or more, depending on size, until it is tender and begins to fall apart. Scrape the pulp from the shell, put it through a ricer or strainer, or mash it.

To boil pumpkins, wash it, halve or quarter it, remove the seeds and stringy portions, and cut into small pieces. Cook covered in a small amount of lightly salted boiling water for 25-30 minutes or until tender. Scrape the pulp from the rind and mash.

NOTE: you can cook pumpkins and use it to make a pie, but some of the huge jack-o-lantern types might not be very flavorful when cooked. These are best used for Halloween carving.

Q. What is the best way to freeze pumpkins?

A. Prepare and cook pumpkin as recommended above. After cooking, scrape the pulp from the rind and mash it or put it through a sieve. To cool, place the pan or bowl containing the mashed pumpkin in cold water. Stir occasionally. Pack into containers, leaving ½-inch head space. Seal, label and freeze. Use frozen pumpkin within one year for best quality.

Q. What is the recommended method for canning pumpkin?

A. The only safe way to can pumpkin is in a pressure canner. We recommend canning cubed pumpkin only, not mashed or strained, because heat penetration of such a thick product is poor. To can, wash the pumpkin, remove seeds and pare. Cut into one-inch pieces add just enough water to cover and bring to a boil. Pack hot cubes to ½ inch of the jar top. Add ½ teaspoon salt to pints; 1 teaspoon to quarts. Cover with hot cooking liquid leaving ½ inch head space at top of jar. Adjust jar lids. Process in a pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure. (240°) pints, 55 minutes and quarts, 90 minutes.

Q. How do you roast pumpkin seeds?

A. Separate seeds from stringy fibers. Wash seeds thoroughly and let dry at room temperature. The seeds should be mature, wellfilled and thoroughly dry before being hulled. To hull seed in quantity, first break them up with a rolling pin, hammer or food chopper. Then drop the seeds and hulls into a large container filled with water. Stir vigorously to bring all seeds in contact with the water and to break the surface tension.

After the seeds have dried, they may be roasted in a frying pan to low heat or toasted in a shallow pan in the oven set at 325°F. Mix about one cup of seeds with 2 teaspoons of vegetable oil and 1 teaspoon of salt and heat with frequent stirring to prevent scorching. The time required will be from two to six minutes, depending upon the dryness of the seeds. The hulled, toasted seeds can be used to replace nutmeats in baked goods or can be eaten as snacks.

It's your community ambulance

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

St. Johns
Emergency! A young woman's labor starts hard and fast and she knows there won't be time to get to the hospital. Emergency! A woman has a heart attack at a downtown business. A child nearly drowns in a farm pond. A man has a stroke out in a farm field. A car tips over and its driver and passengers are injured and trapped inside.

Accidents, illnesses, tragedy, who do you call? In Clinton County, residents dial 224-4357, the numbers are h-e-l-p on your telephone dial.

Responding will be a team of two Clinton County men or women, trained as Emergency Medical Technicians or as special ambulance drivers with 60 hours of advanced first aid. During 1978 they responded to 539 calls.

Clinton Area Ambulance service, staffed by community volunteers, trained and ready to help, responds to calls all over the county and takes care of hospital and nursing home transfers as well as emergencies.

Spokesman, Wayne Woodbury who has been an ambulance volunteer for eight or nine years says that the service is the people's ambulance, staffed by community members, for community members. "We all spend time here because we feel it is something that has to be done," Woodbury explained. "We know that some day we're going to go on a call and it's going to be someone we know who's in need of help."

Each case is handled according to the Golden Rule and victims and patients are treated with the same gentle care that Woodbury and his fellow workers would like for themselves and their own loved ones. That means giving out verbal assurance, holding a hand, wiping a tear.

It means thoughtful, deliberate care given after the situation is examined and thought out. "About 90 percent of this job is keeping cool and using your head," Woodbury explained.

If you picture your ambulance service as a high speed outfit rushing through red lights and grabbing accident victims up to rush them back to a hospital, you have the wrong idea. According to Woodbury ambulance drivers stay as close to the speed limit as possible. "We have enough training to know when time is an essence, he said, "but it won't do anyone any good if the ambulance ends up in a ditch."

Woodbury stresses the fact that the help that comes with the ambulance are not doctors or para-medics. "We are trained to offer emergency service and basic first aid," he said and to "get victims to the hospital in a stable condition." Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) can't administer drugs, but they render emergency first aid, splinting, bandaging, oxygen, resuscitation. "We also have the radio," Woodbury added, "and are in contact with a doctor on the other end, when necessary."

At an accident or in any emergency the EMT's are trained to look the situation over thoroughly and then proceed with assistance. "We look beyond the obvious and we handle each case assuming that something is wrong," he explained.

The Clinton Area Ambulance service is looking for new volunteers. The original 25-27 members has dwindled down to 17, and Woodbury explained that the more members there are, the less each has to do. Requirements for joining are that a person be 18 or older and that he or she receive 100 hours of training as an EMT or 60 hours of advanced first aid training. With the advanced first aid training the volunteer can become a driver but may not ride in the back of the ambulance. Every two years they must pass tests to be re-certified. Additional training is an on-going thing with refresher classes and new methods.

Each month (or less if there are more members) the volunteer spends a night at the ambulance garage on call. A small bedroom and kitchen provide facilities for a pair to stay there on call from 6:30 p.m. to 6 a.m. Another pair of volunteers are on call at home that night as a back-up service. On weekends volunteers are at the garage both day and evening.

EMT training is usually scheduled for two nights a week and costs the volunteer from $100-$150. If they join the service half of these fees are reimbursed.

The service is trying to maintain a balanced non-profit budget. Ambulance runs are $40 plus millage and this is fair according to Woodbury. In larger cities the service charge may be as high as $90. When volunteers stay at the garage overnight during the week they receive a gratuity of $10. Weekends are free.

The service is also supported with $1 per capita from the city of St. Johns, the villages of Fowler, and Maple Rapids, and the townships of Greenbush, Essex, Dallas, Bingham, Bengal, Riley and the northern part of Olive. This has enabled building the ambulance garage on South Oakland Street and purchase of two ambulances. It is levied only when there is a need. The townships and villages each have a member on the ambulance board, St. Johns has two. Also on the board are a driver and Herb Brown, manager of the service. Maralyn Brown, is secretary and does scheduling and is on call to the h.e.l.p. number in her home.

New equipment

This box contains pressurized air pants that are used in treating shock victims and also for splinting. All EMT's have received training in how to use them (Photo by Sharon Randall)

Rif story in dance

Second and third graders at Riley Elementary School were treated to a dancing story Friday as an aftermath of Reading is Fun day organized by Jane Knight, reading teacher. Angana Jhaveri, a theatre student at Michigan State University from Bombay, India told a story about the Hindu deity, Krishna in her pantomime styled dance. The children saw Krishna as a little boy, trying to snatch some butter from the family pantry. Ms. Jhaveri's visit was arranged by Community Resource Volunteers. (Photo by Sharon Randall)
