File petitions for new city

PROPOSED NEW CITY (SHADED)

Incorporation of a new city of about 7,000 people in DeWitt Township has been proposed in a petition filed with the county clerk. The board of supervisors likely will set a date for an election on the proposal at a special meeting Dec. 23.

The new city, if approved by voters, would stretch from the south to the north end of the township and would straddle US-27. Its width would range from one mile to 1 1/2 miles east of US-27 to from three-quarters of a mile to a mile west of the highway.

It would border Lansing on the south end, the City of DeWitt on the northwest, and Olive Township on the north.

One hundred fifty-seven names were on the petition filed Nov. 14 with County Clerk Ernest Carter. The signers propose that the residents in the area affected incorporate as a fourth-class home rule city.

As such they would have their own city charter. "The main concern of the people," proponents of the city proposal said, "is to control their own roads, drains, sewers, their own police department, fire department, zoning and health departments.

"THEY CAN CONTRACT with the county for any of these services, and for some they will, but at the same time they want to control them by policy.

"They also want to control their own millage rate (by charter). If we were annexed to either DeWitt or Lansing, we would have to adopt their charter. The people want a chance to adopt their own.

"People would like to be left alone in their own static condition as they prefer to be," a spokesman said. "The only way they can is to adopt the same city laws that the annexation laws threaten."

Just how soon residents along the central corridor in DeWitt Township will vote on the question isn't known yet. A group of supervisors Monday formally requested the special meeting for Dec. 23, and County Clerk Carter has and is making the formal notification of the supervisors for the meeting on that date.

Carter must yet verify the names on the petition as valid, but even 100 of the 157 names submitted would be sufficient to call for a special election. Such verification is expected to be completed in time for the supervisors to take action on the petition Dec. 23.

If this does happen, the board of supervisors would set a date for the special election. Should the formation of the new city be approved by the voters in the affected area, a charter commission would also be elected. The commission would then have one year to draw up a charter and submit it to the electorate again for approval or disapproval.

THE PROPOSED NEW city would involve all of DeWitt Township Sections 3, 10, 15, 16, 21, 22, 27, 28, 33 and 34, plus all of Sections 4 and 9 except those portions now incorporated with the City of DeWitt, and the west one-half of Sections 26 and 35. It would also include a narrow strip on the east edge of Section 32, east of a line running directly north from the intersection of DeWitt and Sheridan roads.

The proposed new city would divide the remaining portions of DeWitt Township into two separate areas. Township Supervisor Reginald Nelson said Monday the remaining portion of the township would have a tax base still larger than the three smallest townships in the county.

Six-year-old Michael Moore, son of Mr and Mrs Edward Moore of 1377 W. Parks Road, St. Johns, bows his head reverently at the start of Thanksgiving dinner while proud grandparents Mr and Mrs George Snter of 720 N. Oakland Street look on approvingly.

Propose merger of Laingsburg bank with Clinton Nat'l.

LAINGSBURG — Preliminary agreements were signed this week for the merger of the Union State Bank of Laingsburg with Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. of St. Johns.

Directors of the two banks announced that the merger proposal would be submitted to their stockholders for approval at their respective annual meetings early next year. If the shareholders approve, the merger is then contingent upon sanction of the U.S. comptroller of currency and other regulatory agencies.

Victor F. Brya, Laingsburg bank president, said his directors considered merger with the larger St. Johns institution a necessary move to provide their community with expanded banking services. Under terms of the merger agreement, the present Laingsburg bank would become an office of Clinton National.

"Clinton National's larger loan limits and its ability to attract deposits through higher savings interest rates will be welcomed by our customers," Brya said. He also pointed to Clinton National's trust services and computer accounting facilities as significant benefits to Laingsburg bank customers.

THE LAINGSBURG bank, with current resources in excess of $1,600,000, has been serving the Shiawassee-Clinton County area continuously since 1888. Clinton National, established at St. Johns in 1865, has resources of more than $35,000,000 and maintains banking offices at St. Johns, Elsie, Fowler, Hubbardston, Maple Rapids, Eureka, Bath, Wacousta and Valley Farms.

The merger agreement provides for the election of three Laingsburg directors to Clinton National's board—Victor F. Brya, Orval Antcliff and George Palmer. Three other current Laingsburg directors would become honorary directors of Clinton National. They are Roy Van-Welsor, Ward Smith and George Walters.

W. S. Lusk, president of Clinton National, said that Brya would be named a vice president of the merged bank and would continue in charge of the Laingsburg office. All other present Laingsburg bank personnel will be retained, Lusk said, and will be entitled to pension and insurance benefits currently enjoyed by Clinton National's staff.

Annual stockholder meetings at which the merger proposal will be considered are scheduled at Laingsburg on Tuesday, Jan. 21, and at St. Johns on Thursday, Feb. 20. Affirmative action by stockholders and regulatory agencies concerned could make the merger effective in April of next year, bank officials say.

Comedy set for weekend

Adult comedy is the fare this Thursday and Saturday evenings as the St. Johns First Nighters open their 1968-69 theater season with the performance of Neil Simon's play, "Come Blow Your Horn."

An enthusiastic cast and staff of veterans and newcomers have been working about two months on various aspects of the production. The stage setting at St. Johns High School Auditorium was completed Sunday, and the First Nighters were to hold their final dress rehearsal tonight (Wednesday).

Curtain time Thursday and Saturday at the high school will be 8 p.m. There will be no performance Friday night because of high school basketball.

"Come Blow Your Horn" is a three-act adult comedy that concerns two brothers out for a last fling before they settle down.

Overtime parking may cost 50 cents . . . or is it $1?

Overtime parking violations in St. Johns after Jan. 1 are going to cost the culprits 50 cents . . . or is it $1?

The city commission hasn't really decided on the exact amount, but it almost assuredly is going to be higher than the 25-cent fine that is now assessed for overtime parking.

All of this talk revolved around the introduction last Monday night of Ordinance No. 221, which would establish a parking violations bureau for the City of St. Johns. Without the ordinance, City Atty. William Kemper pointed out, parking fines would be paid through the new district court, and half the money would remain with the county.

The ordinance spells out the parking offenses and fines, and this is where the discussion got lively Monday night. For the sake of introduction of the ordinance, a figure of 50 cents was used as the fine for overtime parking in metered zones.

Commissioner Dr Herb Oatley said he believed 50 cents was justifiable, and Commissioner John Hannah said he felt a $1 fine would be too heavy. But Commissioner Mrs Jeanne Rand commented "I'm in favor of $1."

Hannah reiterated that he thought that would be too steep, and that most of the people who are ticketed for overtime parking just happen to get hung up in a store and not get back to the car in time.

MRS RAND POINTED out that merchants in town have been complaining about the lack of turnover in the parking spaces. She said many people take advantage of the small 25-cent fine now applicable, figuring it is cheap parking. "They'll rest their cars there for 50 cents just as much as they do at 25 cents. But I don't think they would at $1."

Dr Oatley backed Hannah, and said people can get delayed in the stores, and he suggested multiple ticketing for offenders who haven't moved their cars after two more hours.

Mayor Robert Wood sided with Mrs Rand in favoring a $1 overtime parking fine. Wood asked for an informal decision among the commissioners present (Commissioner Charles Coletta

THANKSGIVING

St. Johns and Clinton area folks broke bread together

THANKSGIVING MEANS MANY THINGS to many people, depending on their own particular circumstances, but almost universally throughout this country, Thanksgiving Day is one of gatherings of families and friends and the breaking of bread together.

Clinton County folks are not unlike others. They invited friends and relatives to their homes for Thanksgiving dinner or, conversely, went themselves for dinner with others. Whether there were many or just a few at the dinner table, there was always a spirit of reverence in keeping with the meaning of Thanksgiving Day.

Many were the visits, and much was the good and the warmth that came from them. The Richard Drostes were Thanksgiving Day hosts for a get-together with Mr and Mrs Ernie Exelby, Mr and Mrs Art Snater, Mr and Mrs Phillip Howard and Mrs Laurina Droste. . . Mr and Mrs Richard Karber and family and Miss Roxanne Russell spent Thanksgiving at the Joseph Karbers. . . Mr and Mrs James Rewerts and Mrs Ken Russell and children were Thanksgiving guests of Mr and Mrs Lawrence Henning.

Mr and Mrs Jerry Williams and children of South Kibbee Street visited relatives at Cadillac over Thanksgiving. . . Al and Marie Hight of South Lansing Street hosted their daughters and their families, Mr and Mrs Willard Studer and children of St. Johns and Mr and Mrs Albert Latson and daughter of Howell.

Going "home" for Thanksgiving is part of the tradition. The Wayne Gossett family of South Church Street journeyed to Hoopston, Ill., to spend the holiday with his parents, and the John Aysworth family of East Cass Street went to Ohio for visits with her parents at Milan and his folks at Shreve. . . Mr and Mrs C. Lester Jenkins of South Baker Street were Thanksgiving guests of their son and family, the Charles Jenkins, in Detroit.

The Lowell Rinker family on South Traver Street were hosts to Mrs Clyde Rinker of Hart and Mr and Mrs Gary Rinker and son Scott of Akron, Ohio for Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. . . Mrs Robert Barbeau and children spent Thanksgiving with her mother at Ludington and then her husband joined them after a deer-hunting trip in the northland.

They all got together for Thanksgiving—Mr and Mrs Robert Zuker with the Lloyd Wiebers. . . Mr and Mrs George French with Mr and Mrs Neil Harte. . . The Harry Conleys with the Edgar Conleys. . . Mr and Mrs Alexander Hillcoat at the John Bond home. . . Mr and Mrs Frank Talaga with Mr and Mrs Eugene Talaga. . . Mr and Mrs Gaylord Doyle with Mrs Julia Jury. . . Rev Joe Wieber with Mr and Mrs Ben Wieber.

Some folks went off to the lake for a quiet observance of Thanksgiving, Mr and Mrs Ronald Henning spent Thanksgiving at Houghton, Lake, and the Timothy Greens were at Higgins Lake.

Some families had lots of Thanksgiving visitors. Mr and Mrs Alvin J. Thelen and family out on Parks Road were hosts to Mr and Mrs Patrick B. Kelly and family, Mrs Agatha Simon and family, Mr and Mrs A. Simon, and Mr and Mrs Donald Ankey and family.

Mr and Mrs Lewis McClary spent Thanksgiving with Mr and Mrs Melvin Rademacher in DeWitt. . . Mrs Cook went to Fowler for Thanksgiving dinner with the Marvin Thelens. . . Mr and Mrs Robert Harris and family spent Thanksgiving at Mr and Mrs Fred Edinger's in Marshall. . . Going to Grand Ledge for dinner with Mr and Mrs Rickert were Mr and Mrs James Sommer of St. Johns. . . Mr and Mrs Duane Rudy and family spent Thanksgiving at Mr and Mrs Mark Rudy's at Carp Lake.

Mr and Mrs Paul Tkaczyk were guests at the Walter Pylowany home in St. Johns. . . The Walter Pierces of South Clinton Avenue were Thanksgiving guests of Mr and Mrs Ben Swanchara. . . Mrs Eleanor VanElls and Mike spent Thanksgiving with Mr and Mrs Fred Rogers. . . Mrs Mary Stay spent Thanksgiving at Mr and Mrs Nick Koelgsknecht's home.

There were these get-togethers on Thanksgiving—Mrs Vera Cook with Mr and Mrs Leon E. Thelen. . . Mr and Mrs William Buggs Sr. and Mr and Mrs William Buggs Jr. with Mr and Mrs Gerald Buggs in St. Johns. . . Mr and Mrs Elston Miller with Mr and Mrs Gerald Henning. . . Mr and Mrs Walter Gromaski with the George Makaras. . . Mr and Mrs St. Pierre with Mr and Mrs Charles Stachel.

Chris and Steve Henning, children of Mr and Mrs Ronald Hennings, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr and Mrs Elmer Feldpausch in St. Johns. . . Mr and Mrs Hugo Fox spent Thanksgiving at home.

(More Thanksgiving visits detailed on Page 4A)

PRE-THANKSGIVING FIRE LEVELS RURAL HOME

A fire early on the morning before Thanksgiving forced a mother and her seven children to flee and then it proceeded to level the house despite efforts of St. Johns firemen. Here firemen play water on two fuel oil tanks as flames put the final touches on destruction of the home of Anna B. Olinger on East Price Road. Other pictures and stories on Pages 3-A, 1-B and 3-B.

PICKUP OF GUTTER RUBBISH CONTINUES

St. Johns officials said this week pickup of leaves and dirt from street gutters will continue wherever the material from one block is collected in one place.

Supervisors pave for new board

Clinton's 22-man board of supervisors busied themselves Monday in helping prepare the way for the new generation—the 11-man board of supervisors and the district court, both of which take effect Jan. 1.

The board approved the expenditure of up to $2,000 for a law library for the new district court Judge Roland Duguay and gave its records and equipment committee, headed by Claude Underhill of Victor, power to act in purchasing a long list of requested items of office furniture for the new courtroom.

Duguay said the law library he required would consist of books that would be referred to every day or at least regularly during deliberations in district court. He said the law library in the circuit court could be drawn upon for some books, but the one he is asking for would have every-day use.

The board was somewhat reluctant to go along with the expenditure. The motion to approve the $2,000 appropriation passed by a 15-5 vote, with the opposition saying they thought more study should be given to the needs before making the expenditure. Voting against the appropriation were Supervisors Gerald Shepard of Bath, Raymond Mayers of Bengal, Maurice Gove of Bingham, John Setterington of Essex and Norman Thelen of Riley. Bill Kemper of St. Johns and Herman Openlander of Watertown were absent.

THE BOARD SET the salary range of $7,000 to $10,000 a year (range nine) for the district court's chief magistrate and court administrator. The exact salary is being left to the salary and clerk hire committee for the time being. Judge Duguay hasn't announced yet who his appointment as magistrate will be.

Probate Court Judge Timothy M. Green told the supervisors that his record will become a court of record by law on Jan. 1, meaning it will be necessary to record testimony. He asked for funds to purchase an appropriate tape recorder and transcription equipment. The board authorized spending up to $700 for the equipment.

Supervisors voted to "freeze" the salaries of all appointive boards until the new supervisors have an opportunity to study the situation.

In other business Monday, the board of supervisors concurred with two recommendations from the zoning commission. One gives permission to Carl Stigel to develop a sand and gravel pit in section 19 of Bath Township and the other permits rezoning a parcel of land on the northwest corner of the Airport Road-Grand River intersection in Watertown Township from D agriculture to G light industrial. That clears the way for construction of warehouses.

In a related matter, the board scheduled a public hearing and special meeting for Dec. 23 to act on the new county zoning ordinance. The zoning commission hearing on the ordinance is scheduled for 10 a.m. on that date.

THE BOARD instructed the county engineer to survey county property west of US-27 and north of Taft Road for possible rezoning to commercial zone. This parcel includes the area where the Clinton County Road Commission wants to buy some 20 acres or so for its new garages. Supervisors concurred with proposed by-law changes of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission which would add one new representative from local government from each county. Norman Thelen, currently a member of the commission representing the board of supervisors, was named the local representative, and the new board of supervisors will appoint a new representative from the county.

The board gave formal approval Monday to its $1,062,900 budget for 1969 following a public hearing to which nobody but the press media showed up.

The board recessed about 5 p.m. Monday and was to meet again this evening (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock.

Northside kids to have ice rink

Youthful ice skaters who live on the north side of St. Johns have a long way to walk to the city park for skating, but this winter, with the blessings of the city commission, there'll be a spot on the north side for them.

Commissioners enthusiastically gave permission to Robert Prowant of 103 Floral Avenue to use the former International fire truck pump and city water for constructing an ice skating rink on a vacant lot near his house. The lot was used this summer for a softball diamond.

Prowant said he and others would be happy to provide the time for flooding the lot for skating.

Meanwhile, the city commission is still not sure what's going to take place—if anything—about ice skating this winter at the city park. The austerity program still exists, and commissioners expressed a hope that service clubs might again come to the rescue. The Jaycees are reportedly considering some type of involvement in the project.

Winter events already fill tourist bill

Several state-wide events that may interest the traveler during the next week were announced Friday by the Michigan Tourist Council.

Winter Boutique is scheduled at Wyandotte Friday through Sunday, while the month-long Christmas Exhibit at Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn opens Friday.

Flint has two skating events Saturday. One is the Recreation and Park Skating Championships, and the other is the Indoor Speed Skating Races. The fairgrounds in Detroit is the site for the Wolverine Sports Club Skating Championships on Sunday.

Starting next Tuesday and continuing through Dec. 29 is a program highlighting Christmas trees around the world, to be displayed at the nature center in Kalamazoo.

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors held their last regular meeting Monday—though it was recessed until a later date—before the new 11-man board takes over in January. The board posed for this picture recently along with two representatives of the news media. Left to right are: front row, Elden Smith of the City of DeWitt, Gerald Shepard of Bath, Chairman Walter Nobis of Lebanon, John Setterington of Essex, Mrs. Betty Minsky of the State Journal, Tom Hundley of St. Johns, and Lowell Rinker of the Clinton County News; second row, Gerald Lankford of the City of DeWitt, George Austin of Ovid, Earl Barks of Olive, Reginald Nelson of DeWitt, Charles Coletta of St. Johns, Claude Underhill of Victor, George Moore of Duplain and Norman Thelen of Riley; back row, Maurice Gove of Bingham, Derrill Shinabery of Greenbush, Bill Kemper of St. Johns, County Clerk Ernest Carter, Rex Sirrine of St. Johns, Herman Openlander of Watertown, Bill Hufnagel of Dallas, Walter Thelen of Westphalia, Russell Howe of Eagle and Raymond Mayers of Bengal.

New faces among appointees to 3 city boards

As flames tore at the last wall on the Olaer home on East Price Road early last Wednesday morning, St. Johns firemen relaxed a bit and maintained a cooling vigil on two full tanks of fuel oil next to the house. A chair appeared from somewhere, and fireman Jim Karber took advantage of it.

DR ALBERT NELSON
LEON BREWBAKER
GERALD WILCOX

At least three new faces will be appearing on St. Johns boards and commissions during the next year, the result of appointments by the city commission last Monday evening.

Dr Albert Nelson of 504 N. Ottawa Street was appointed to a three-year term on the St. Johns Board of Review. He replaces George McCurry, whose three-year term expires this year. Ink White of 400 S. Oakland and Leon Brewbaker of 410 E. Cass Street were appointed to three-year terms on the St. Johns Zoning Board of Appeals. White's was a reappointment, as his term had expired, and Brewbaker will take the place of Don Britten, whose term also expired.

Only one of two scheduled appointments was made to the St. Johns Planning Commission. Gerald Wilcox of 405 S. Traver Street was appointed to the commission, succeeding Dwane Wirick whose term had expired. The term of William Morriss also expires, but the four commissioners present were split evenly on who would be the new appointee, so that decision was delayed until the next meeting.

The planning commission terms of office are four years.

MAYOR ROBERT Wood is also automatically a member of the planning commission for the duration of his term as mayor. His administrative appointment to the planning group was City Manager Harvey Weatherwax, whose term coincides with Wood's.

Also delayed by the city commission last week was action on a proposed landfill contract with a private firm. City Manager Weatherwax asked that action on bids be tabled for one more meeting so that some legal aspects could be checked out and some additional information compiled.

The commission took positive action on several items of business at their meeting last Monday night. Ordinance No. 220 was passed. It abolishes Ordinance No. 165 that provides for city licensing of electrical contractors and journeymen operating in the city of St. Johns. All licenses issued under Ordinance 165 and now in effect will expire March 1, 1969, under terms of the new ordinance.

Electrical contractors and journeymen operating in the city will now be licensed solely by the state.

The commission gave approval of an SDM liquor license for Arnold's Payless Discount Store in the Southgate Shopping Center. A formal resolution recommending the license was forwarded for final action by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

THE ST. JOHNS FIRE Department was authorized to use the city park grounds between June 30 and July 7 for their annual Independence Day celebration. The commission also waived soliciting fees for the American Legion Auxiliary so that group could conduct its annual sick-room equipment drive, and they approved a request from the Seventh Day Adventists for permission to play recorded Christmas music from a car in residential areas of the city the last three weeks in December.

City Clerk Thomas Hundley was authorized to spread past-due city taxes (summer) on this winter's county and school tax roll. A.A. Eichholz of 106 1/2 E. Higham Street asked the commission for special parking privileges in the parking lot at Higham and Spring streets. He said the enforcement of the city's two-hour parking limit in the lot and on the street around his apartment area makes it very inconvenient for him. He is 65 years old.

Mrs Albert Nelson, representing the Perrin - Palmer Community Club, appeared before the commission and requested help in obtaining an authorized crossing guard or some type of automated signal for school children at the corner of Lansing and Lincoln streets in front of Perrin-Palmer School.

SHE SAID TRAFFIC there in the morning and at noon makes it difficult for the children to get across the street, since the patrol boys are not authorized to halt traffic. She said the children often have to wait as much as 15 minutes for traffic to clear sufficiently for a safe crossing, and with inclement weather coming the community club thought something should be done.

Commissioners were sympathetic and said they would bring this matter up during a forthcoming meeting with the St. Johns Board of Education. The city and school presently share 50-50 in the cost of crossing guards on M-21 and US-27 at East Ward and Swegles schools. Albert J. Marrah of 309 N. Ottawa Street lodged a complaint with the commission concerning sidewalk conditions on the east side of the 300 block of North Clinton Avenue—the aftermath of repeated water line leaks. The site is in front of the L & L Restaurant and other businesses in the immediate vicinity.

Marrah said the lead-pipeline from the center of the street to the curb has sprung leaks several times in the last couple of years and that the city has been only patching it and refusing to replace it with a copper line, which he said he has installed from the curb into the building he owns there.

He said the holes dug to repair the leaks are constantly re-filled with the same mud and clay, and the resulting mess makes it difficult to keep the buildings clean because people track the mud in.

CITY MANAGER Weatherwax said he agreed the line should be replaced and a concrete cap be put over the hole, but he said the prior commission's austerity policy had deterred him from making this step. As far as the concrete cap goes, he said he would be willing to do this right away but warned that if the clay and mud had not properly settled, the concrete might crack.

City Commissioner Herb Oatley said he thought it was about time the commission gave the city manager more free rein to do things the way they should be done rather than necessitating less - expensive stop - gap measures that prove more costly in the long run.

City water, sewage pumpage reported

St. Johns' municipal water plant pumped 41,488,000 gallons of water during October, compared to 39,335,000 pumped during September. The most water pumped on any one day during October was 1,508,000 gallons, and that was on Thursday Oct. 17.

During the same period, the sewage treatment plant processed a total of 14,130,000 gallons of sewage effluent in October, with the 890,000 gallons on Tuesday, Oct. 15 being the highest single amount.

Senior Citizens entertained by high school groups

Clinton County Senior Citizens were entertained at the Nov. 26 meeting by two vocal groups under the direction of Eric VanCamp, choir director at the Rodney B. Wilson High School.

The Wilsonettes, a group of 12 girls, sang two numbers "Mary Don't You Weep" and "Look of Love." The Wilsonaires, the older of the two groups and composed of eight girls and eight boys, sang four numbers, two madrigals, "O My Husband Stagers So" and "Weep O Mine Eye" and two other numbers with piano accompaniment.

The annual Christmas party will be held on Dec. 10. There will be potluck dinner at noon, as usual, followed by exchange of 50 cent gifts. The ladies should bring a gift marked for a lady and the men one marked for a man. The band members are requested to bring their instruments.

Tea, open house to honor service award winner

Mrs Sharon Stone, picked last week as the "outstanding woman of the year" in St. Johns, will be honored by the St. Johns Jayceettes at a public open house tea next Thursday evening at St. John's Episcopal Church.

The open house will be from 8 to 10 p.m. Mrs Stone will receive the Community Service Award from the Jayceettes about 9 p.m. Chairman for the awards program is Mrs Nancy Wells, while other members of the committee are Mrs Ricki Dean, Mrs Lynn Banninga and Mrs Peg Freeman.

Mrs Charles Hazle WSCS president

Mrs Charles Hazle is serving her third year as president of the Women's Society of Christian Services of the United Methodist Church. She has been a member for the past 8 1/2 years.

The WSCS has a membership of 180, divided into six circles. Each circle can raise funds individually, or they can function as a unit on larger projects.

During the past year they have purchased new lounge furniture (for a multi-purpose room used for Sunday school, club meetings, etc.). The WSCS sponsored Mr and Mrs Hazle and their three oldest children along with two young people from the church on a trip to British Honduras, this past summer, where they did missionary work. One of the circles sponsored a Halloween party at the children's home. Another circle is having a clothing collection for the Indians at Mt. Pleasant.

The WSCS paid the tuition costs for three ladies to attend the school of missions at Albion. They send cards and flowers to shut-ins. The club pays the wages of the girl who plays the church chimes. They also make a church pledge and send approximately half of all funds received to the Central Michigan District where it's used for missionary purposes.

TO RAISE THE funds necessary for all these projects, they have pledges, serve at wedding receptions, have rummage sales, and hold a yearly bazaar. This year the "Country Kitchen Bazaar" will be held Dec. 5 from 3 'til 8 p.m. in Niles Hall.

Other officers in the club are Mrs Sherwood Russell and Mrs Marvin Barclay as vice presidents; Mrs Charles Wood as secretary; Mrs Joseph Hallenback as treasurer; Mrs John Rumbaugh as chairman of social relations; Mrs C. L. Lumbert as chairman of missionary education; Mrs Gordon Vandemark, chairman of spiritual growth; Mrs Donald Swagart, membership chairman; Mrs Glendon Fitzpatrick, chairman of local church responsibility; and the nominating committee is made up of three members, Mrs Walter Nickel, Mrs Lester Jenkins, and Mrs Glenn Osgood.

MRS CHARLES HAZLE

Mr and Mrs Hazle have five children—Stewart 12, Jeff, 11, Greg, 10, Brian, 9, and Leslie Ann 7. They live at 1300 S. Airport Road. Her husband runs a mobile feed mill. Three of the children are 4-H members, and Mrs Hazle is secretary-treasurer of the 4-H council. She also belongs to the Jolly Mixers, sings in the choir, and drives a school bus.

Mrs Hazle is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Wayne Cook who live north and west of St. Johns. Cook drives a school bus for East Essex School. Her mother is a retired school teacher.

Elsie

By Mrs Neva Keys

Rev and Mrs George Nagel and three children of Brockway, Pa., spent the Thanksgiving holiday with their Mother, Mrs Daisy Talley of rural Elsie.

Mrs Helen Stephens of Mt. Pleasant spent a few days with her sister, Mrs Gladys Coslette of Elsie and attended a family Thanksgiving dinner in St. Johns Thursday. Mrs Coslette returned to Mt. Pleasant to spend a few days with her sister.

Larry Stambersky, son of Mr and Mrs Jerome Stambersky had the misfortune to fracture his arm Tuesday, while playing at school.

Social Events

Santa's Workshop Bazaar, sponsored by the Ovid Acme Society, will be held on Saturday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Darling's Hardware in Ovid. They will feature gift items, baked goods, toys and fancywork.

3 scouts to get Eagle badge

Three St. Johns Boy Scouts will be elevated to the rank of Eagle in special ceremonies next Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church.

Richard Moldenhauer, 17, son of Mr and Mrs Louis Moldenhauer; Craig Puetz, 17, son of Mr and Mrs Leonard Puetz; and Kris Williams, 17, son of Mr and Mrs John Williams of 109 S. Baker Street, will receive the coveted Eagle badge, the highest award attainable in scouting.

The boys are all members of Troop 71, sponsored by the United Methodist Church. John Williams is scoutmaster.

The public is invited to attend the Eagle award ceremony on Dec. 10, starting at 7:30 p.m. in Niles Hall of the Methodist Church.

Piggott-Sherman vows at Westphalia

WESTPHALIA—A double-ring service on Oct. 25, at 5 p.m. united Miss Mary Ann Piggott, daughter of Mr and Mrs Gerald D. Piggott of R-2, Portland, to William Ray Sherman, son of Mr and Mrs Harry E. Sherman of R-2, Lansing.

The marriage was solemnized at St. Mary's Church in Westphalia, with Rev Aloysius Miller officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The altar was decorated with white mums and gladiolus with pink gladiolus for accent color.

The bride selected a floor-length satin sheath gown covered with a flowing lace. It divided down the front, and the lace formed a medium length train. The gown featured long lace sleeves and big satin bow in the back. Her veil was elbow-length net, attached to a high petal leaf, white head piece. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus with pink sweetheart roses.

Gladys Hufnagel served as matron of honor; she wore a two-toned floor-length gown with long sleeves. The top was made of light blue lace and the skirt was of dark blue linen. Doris Sherman, Ann Smith, and Jean Wieber were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns, only the color was two-toned pink. They each wore a color matched headpiece made in the form of a single carnation, matching the colors of their skirts. Their bouquets were pink and white gladiolus.

The bride's mother selected a cranberry red sheath dress made with long sleeves over a woolsen sheath; her corsage was of red roses. The groom's mother selected a green and blue brocade sheath dress with a matching coat. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Ted Cannell served as best man, and groomsmen were Duane Piggott, Bill MacArther and Craig Gearhart. Users were Alan Piggott and Richard Sherman.

A reception for 300 guests was held immediately after the wedding in St. Mary's Parish Hall. After a trip through northern

David Hartman weds St. Johns girl

Miss Phyllis Jean Trumbull, daughter of Mr and Mrs Don Van Nortwick of R-6, St. Johns, became the bride of David Allen Hartman, son of Mrs Edward Seely and Godfrey Hartman of Owosso. The wedding was held Nov. 9, at 2 p.m. The marriage was solemnized at the Free Methodist Church in St. Johns, with Rev Elmer Courser officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father, Don Van Nortwick. The double-ring service was performed before an altar decorated with vases of white mums and gladiolus. Music was played by Betty Jo Knapp.

Miss Trumbull selected an empire waisted A-line gown, fashioned of deep luster satin with lace bodice and sleeves. A detachable train was fastened at the waist with a satin bow. Her veil was a forward type of bridal illusion, held in place with a headpiece of pearls and crystal. It was ballerina length. She carried a bouquet of white mums with white velvet ribbon running throughout and streamers of white velvet.

Mrs Virginia Gladstone served as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs Beverly Yerlan, Mrs Carol Taylor, and Miss Sandra Pierce. Flower girls were Shelly and Sherry Gladstone of St. Johns. They were dressed in pink, the bridesmaids in green and the matron of honor in pink.

All dresses were designed alike with brocaded bodices and satin A-line skirts. They were sleeveless and empire waisted. All wore matching shoes and elbow-length white gloves. Their headpieces were satin bows, covered with illusion. They carried bouquets of white mums with velvet ribbon to match each girl's dress.

The bride's mother selected an aqua colored dress with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with red accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

Paul Hartman served as best man, John Yerlan and Tom Landis served as groomsmen. Charles Schaufele and Keith Brown were ushers. Bradley Lintemuth was ring bearer.

A reception was held at the IOOF Hall, St. Johns, immediately following the ceremony. Those serving at the reception were Kathy Hartman, Marie Schneider, Linda Pierce, Annette Conley and Alberta Jumper.

For her going-away quilt the bride selected a gold dress trimmed in white lace eyelet with black accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., they will live in Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School with the class of 1967. The groom graduated from Owosso High School with the class of 1964.

Tom Martin returns home after 21 years in Air Force

How does it feel to leave St. Johns and return 21 years later? Tom Martin is very happy to be home. He liked the Air Force but he's found adjustment to civilian life simple and easy. He does have a little trouble recognizing old friends, and he misses some who have moved away. Martin left St. Johns in 1947, Tom Martin returned to St. Johns with his family, Lisa, 7, Mike, 8, and his wife Betty, after 21 years in the United States Air Force. He now works at Saylor-Beall Manufacturing Co.

and went of San Antonio, Tex., where he received his basic training. He then went to Denver, Colo., for further schooling in clerical work. From there he spent from one to three years stationed in such places as Washington D.C.; Korea; Dallas, Tex; Goose Bay, Labrador; Altus, Okla.; Wichita Falls, Tex.; Casablanca, Morocco; Kincheloe, Mich.; Tin City, Ala.; and his last hitch was spent in Abilene, Tex, where he retired from service life and came home.

He married Betty Wilmoth in 1956. She is originally from Oklahoma, but he met her in Texas, and married her in Arkansas, so they had a well-traveled romance.

They now have two children; Mike is 8 years old, and daughter Lisa is 7. They live in a new home on West Walker Street, and Martin works at Saylor-Beall. His hobbies are bowling, hunting and fishing. He started to bowl in 1962, and has won 15 trophies. He says "I should have bought a bowling alley."

'Come Blow Your Horn'

1st Nighters play this weekend

When it comes to being a First Nighter, everybody helps out everywhere, whether you're acting in a play or not. Sunday Richard Cramer (painting), Doug Weir, Wayne Hicks (kneeling), Milo Rowell and Vicki Rowell put the finishing touches on stage background for "Come Blow Your Horn."

with their father in the waxed fruit business. The father is upset throughout the play because both sons are more interested in women than the job. Frank Sinatra starred in the movie version of the play.

EUGENE LIVINGSTON as Alan Baker and Phil Anderson as Buddy Baker portray the fling-minded brothers whose interests are inclined more toward Alyce Cramer as Peggy Evans and Barbara Rann as Connie Dayton than toward work.

Wayne Hicks portrays the disgusted father, Mr. Baker, while Vicki Rowell is Mrs. Baker and Jean Mary Bartholomew plays the part of a visitor.

Livingston, Hicks, Mrs. Rann and Mrs. Rowell are seasoned veterans of First Nighters work through their last four years of performances. Livingston has appeared in most of the First Nighters' productions, with his most notable role being that of Harry Lambert in "Never Too Late." He directed last year's "Goody Charlie" production.

Hicks is assuming a triple role with this performance. He is president of the First Nighters, has a major role in "Come Blow Your Horn," and is directing the play. He also directed "Never Too Late" and has appeared in five past shows by the theater group.

Mrs. Rann played the role of Kate in "Never Too Late" and Sister Joanna of the Cross in "Cradle Song" and had parts in several other First Nighter plays. Mrs. Rowell will be remembered for her performances as Gloria in "Everybody Loves Opal" and as Edith Lambert in "Never Too Late." She's also appeared in numerous performances of the First Nighters' one-act play, "The Lunatics."

The other members of the cast of "Come Blow Your Horn" are new to the First Nighters stage but not necessarily to acting. Phil Anderson played leading roles in two high school musicals at St. Johns and after completing a summer course in musical drama at Northwestern University played a leading role in the opera "Noye's Fludde" with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

ALYCE CRAMER HAS had a long interest in drama and has appeared in several high school plays in the past. Jean Mary Bartholomew is also making her first appearance as a First Nighter.

Hicks said the First Nighters are hoping for good community attendance at the play Thursday and Friday night to help perpetuate a scholarship program established three years ago. Last summer the First Nighters sent three high school juniors to Olivet College for a comprehensive drama course, bringing to nine the number who have received scholarships.

Hicks said the First Nighters are continually seeking new membership. "We now have a hardcore of veterans who have been with us on just about every production, but we are certainly in need of more active members."

"We welcome anyone who would like to act or direct, but we also need much help with behind-the-scenes work and the many jobs that precede the performances."

Other First Nighter members are involved in "Come Blow Your Horn," too. Milo Rowell, Richard Cramer, Tom Hufnagel, Ken Pyle, Doug Weir, John Martin, John Paradise and Glenn Hills are working on staging, and Henry Dellar, Rowell, Hills and Robert Brock have made up the advertising team for the First Nighters' program. Special services have been handled by Frances Martin, and Arthur Wainwright. Lowell Rinker and Betty Jane Minsky have worked on the publicity team.

Also working on the play in various capacities are: Sheila Brock, Dorien Foster, Patty Zuker and Glenna Acker on tickets; Ardis Crawford, Janice Pyle and Polly Briggs on properties; Beth Knight, Vickie Smith, Corky Paradise, Betty Jane Minsky, Marjorie Wilcox, Priscilla Gove, Judy Hyde, Chris Idzkowski, Pat Shimabery and Rosie Paradise on make-up and properties; Doris Hicks and Annette White as prompters; and Janice Pyle, Dorien Foster, Annette White and Dee Cartwright on the coffee committee.

The First Nighters meet the second Monday of every month at 8 p.m. at 110 1/2 E. Walker Street, above the E. F. Boron Co. building.

Here comes Santa

James Leon, general chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas project for this year, early this week made an announcement which should bring sparkle to the eyes of all-area youngsters.

According to Leon, official word from the North Pole has confirmed the arrival of Santa Claus and, as has been planned, the jolly old man of Christmas will make his first appearance in St. Johns Friday night at 7 p.m.

His entrance will be marked by a parade through the downtown area, and observers along its route will be treated to candies and favors. Santa will be drawn in a carriage and his arrival will open a series of activities which will include movies and luncheons.

Santa's headquarters throughout the Christmas season will be in the municipal building and it will be there that three "Luncheons with Santa" are to be held. These special gatherings are under the sponsorship of the Jayettes, and Mrs. Lowell Rinker is in charge of the arrangements.

THE TIMES of the luncheons will be from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturdays, Dec. 7 and 14.

Santa will remain to greet children in the municipal building from 3 to 5 p.m. on those dates.

There will be a nominal charge for the lunches which will consist of sandwiches, milk and treats.

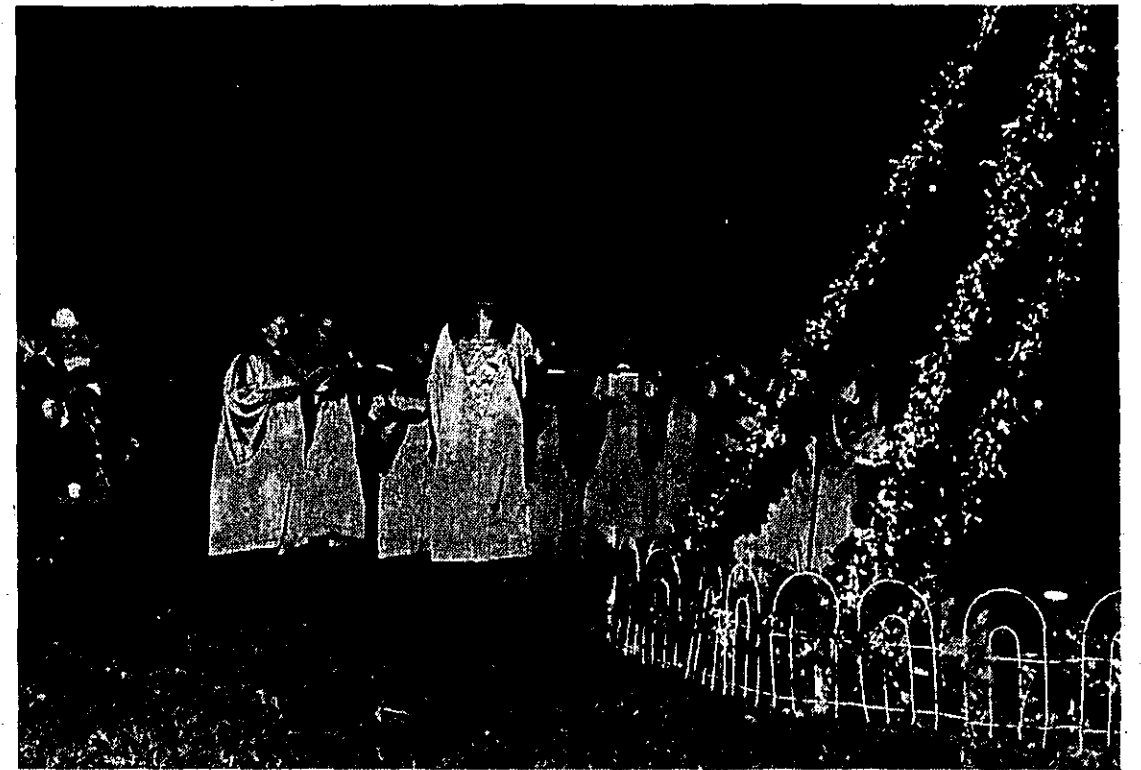

Work on the Christmas program has been under way for several weeks and numerous members of the Chamber of Commerce have participated in making the preparation. Working closely with Leon have been Bernard Feldpausch and Charles Huntington. Feldpausch has headed up the Christmas decoration and tree lighting divisions and Huntington has organized the initial opening program.

Organizations which figure on bringing a large group of youngsters to one of the lunches with Santa are asked to call Mrs. Rinker for an advance reservation. This will allow the Jayettes time to prepare for a larger-than-normal number of children at any one time.

Through the cooperation of Howard Kortez, manager of the Clinton Theater, three special kiddies programs have been arranged. These will be on the Saturdays of Dec. 7, 14 and 21 and will consist of shows at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. The movies scheduled in order of appearance are "Man Called Flintstone," "Lad, A Dog" and "Incredible Mr. Limpit."

Bernie Feldpausch this week expressed a note of thanks to all who participated in working on the installation of Christmas decorations in the downtown area. "The attitude which these men have shown is what makes for a better community," Feldpausch stated.

Those participating in the cleaning and installation under Feldpausch's direction were

The St. John's Lutheran Church choir sings one of three Christmas musical selections on the courthouse lawn Friday night as St. Johns officially lighted the city's Christmas tree at the head of Clinton Avenue. The whole scene is enhanced this year by Yule lighting on the front of the courthouse and the walks leading up to it. Also singing Christmas selections Friday night were members of the choirs from the Grove Bible Church and the First Congregational Church.

Overtime parking to cost 50c ... or $1

was absent last Monday night) as to what figure read into the ordinance, but two favored 50 cents and the other two favored $1.

City Atty. Kemper said the ordinance would have to be passed at the Dec. 9 meeting if it was to go into effect Jan. 1, and he suggested that for the purpose of introduction to the ordinance, the 50-cent figure be used. If the full commission decides Dec. 9 on a different figure, it can be changed without holding up the passage of the whole thing.

The new parking violations bureau which the ordinance would establish shouldn't cost the city much to operate, Kemper said in answer to a question from one of the commissioners. One of the girls at the counter where water bills and taxes are paid could collect the penalties according to the schedule of fines.

IN THE EVENT someone protested his being ticketed, that case would be referred to the district court where a decision could be made.

With the exception of the meter violation fine of 50 cents—or 10¢ if 17—all of the other fines detailed in the proposed ordinance are the same as are now being assessed through municipal court. In case you haven't had such a problem lately, this is what the fines are:

Parking too far from curb, $2; angle parking violations, $2; obstructing traffic, $4.

Prohibited parking (signs unnecessary): on sidewalk, $2; in front of drive, $2; within intersection, $3; within 15 feet of hydrant, $5; on crosswalk, $2; within 20 feet of crosswalk or 15 feet of corner lot lines, $2; within 30 feet of street side traffic sign or signal, $2; within 50 feet of railroad crossing, $2; within 20 feet of fire station entrance, $2; within 75 feet of fire station entrance on opposite side of street (signs required), $5; double parking, $2; blocking emergency exit, $5; blocking fire escape, $5.

In prohibited zone (signs required), $2; in alley, $2; wrong side of boulevard roadway, $2; loading zone violation $2; parking during prohibited hours, $3; meters, not parked within space, $2; failure to set brakes, $3; parked on grade with wheels not turned to curb, $2; and bicycle parking violations, $1.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Nancy MacLuekle of R-3, St. Johns is among 2,132 students, faculty and staff members of the University of Wisconsin at Madison who gave a pint of blood during this fall's all-campus blood donation.

The annual meetings of Farm Bureau Services, Inc. and Farmers Petroleum Cooperative, Inc., will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. at the Lansing Civic Center.

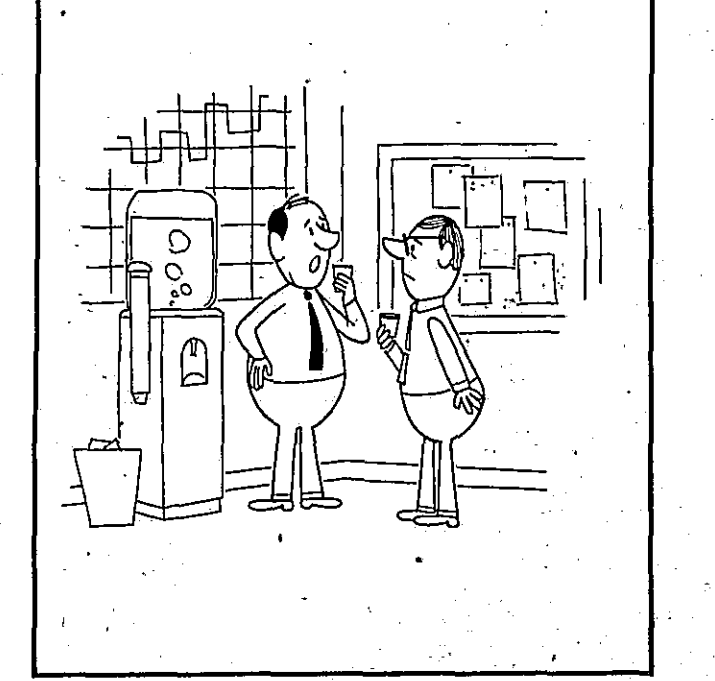

St. Johns officials are still considering the possibility of erecting the lighted star atop the water tower for the Christmas season. A lot depends on the amount of repairs necessary to the star pieces.

The Michigan Constables Assn. winter seminar will be held Dec. 14 and 15 at Kellogg Center at MSU.

"Cookie Walk" set for Dec. 13

The Clinton County Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will sponsor a "Cookie Walk" Dec. 13, at Central National Bank. The hours will be from 11:30 a.m. on. They will feature a large assortment of cookies made and decorated with the holiday season in mind. Coffee will be served, and the public is invited to come in for a visit.

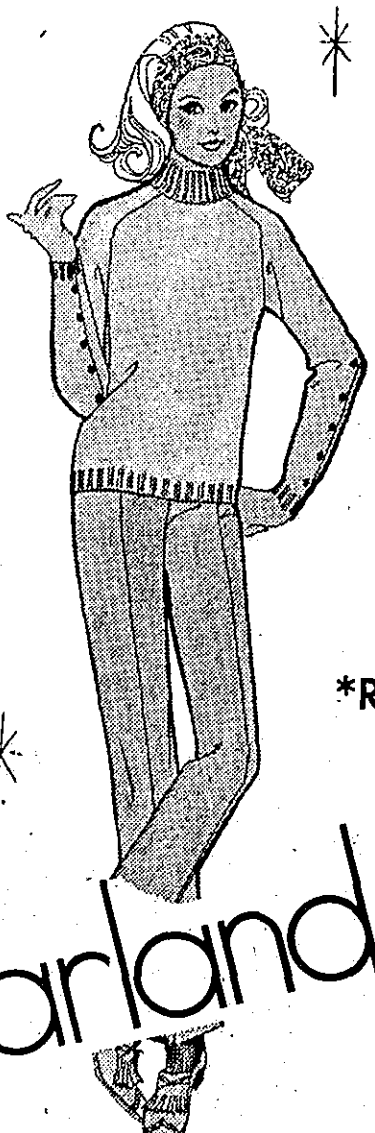

Mrs. Maridel Nelson is chairman for the event. Profits from the sale will be used for the many projects the club has at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

"By the time you're thirty, you can have forty years of business experience, counting overtime, that is."

60 county 4-H leaders, others get recognition

Don Strouse, representing Cities Service Oil Co., chats with new 4-H Key Club members whom he awarded certificates and pins to Monday night at the 4-H Leader Recognition Banquet. The girls are Kathy Nichols and Lois Miller (standing on floor) and Dana Sue Hazle, Louise Green and Kathy Davis (on the steps). Not present to receive their awards were Larry Borton, Diana Jones and Kathy Schaefer.

Sixty Clinton County 4-H leaders with an amassed total of 412 years of leadership service were given special recognition Monday night at a dinner for all 4-H leaders given by the 4-H council. An estimated 225 persons attended.

4-H Key Club Awards were also made, and awards were given for "friend of 4-H" and to three 4-H alumni.

Four persons were elected to the 4-H council, Mrs Diane Hazle was named a representative from the northwest district, Mrs Emily Davis from the northeast district, Mrs Margaret Schaefer from the southwest district, and Don Devereaux from the southeast district.

The 4-H Key Club Award, presented each year by the Cities Service Oil Co. for outstanding 4-H work, was given to eight 4-H'ers, although only five were present to receive them Monday. Don Strouse of the Strouse Oil Co. in St. Johns awarded them to Kathy Davis, Lois Miller, Kathy Nichols, Louise Green and Dana Sue Hazle. Not present were Kathy Schaefer, Larry Borton and Diana Jones.

Lowell Rinker, editor of the Clinton County News, was presented with the "Friend of 4-H Award" for his past services to 4-H work in both publicity and other phases of service. Stan Baird, president of the Clinton County 4-H Council and master of ceremonies for the evening, presented Rinker with a plaque. His name will also be engraved on a permanent plaque that will hang in Smith Hall.

A 4-H ALUMNI AWARD went this year to three persons—Diane Davis, Irah Wood and Dale Anderson. They were all present to receive the award from Baird and 4-H Youth Agent John Aylsworth.

Nine of the 10 4-H leaders who have completed 15, 20 and 25 years of leadership were present to receive special recognition from the group.

Honored for 25 years of leadership were Andrew Cobb, Esther Plowman and Ardis Sibley. Twenty-year service awards went to Rex Ballantine, Don Davis, Alice Heibek and Goldie Moore. Fifteen-year awards

Among the 4-H leaders honored Monday night for long service include these with 15, 20 and 25 years. Talking with 4-H Council President Stan Baird (right) are, front row, Goldie Moore (20), Jeanne Borton (15), Esther Pung (15), Ardis Sibley (25) and Jean Ormsby (15), and in back row, Andrew Cobb (25), Rex Ballantine (20), Don Davis (20), and Alice Heibek (20).

were presented to Jeanne Borton, Jean Ormsby and Esther Pung. Others receiving awards were: For 10 years, Wanda Ruffnagel, Elisabeth Levey, Virginia Roesch and Margaret Schaefer;

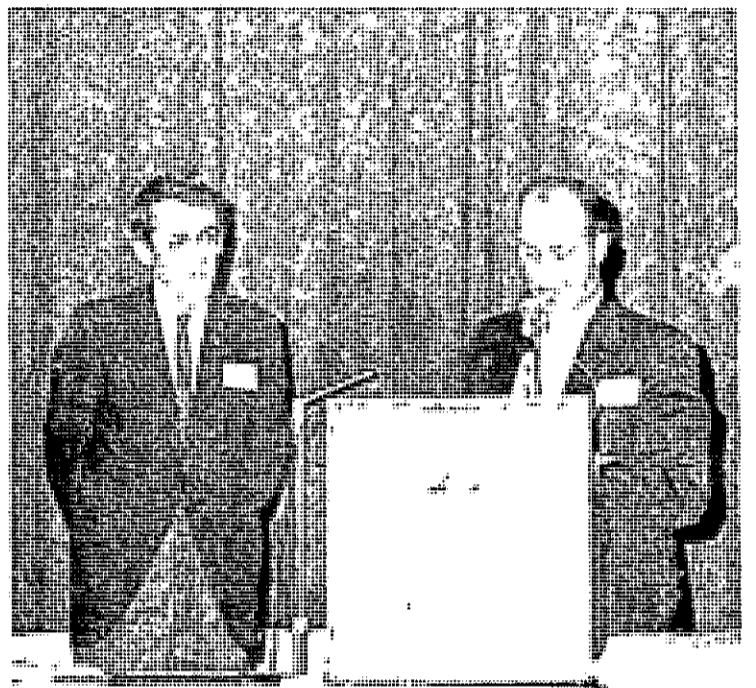

For five years, Jeannette Beachnau, Helen Cornell, Barbara Davis, Donna Elliott, Duane Green, Yvonne Haviland, Helen Hazle, Juanita Horman, Lawanna Johnson, Marian Kurnez, Russ Libby, Floyd Messer, Louis Moldenhauer, Lillian Seeger, Doris Strouse, Hewitt VanVelsor and Stella Wenzlick;

For three years, Jean Amos, Herm Baese, Dianne Barrett, Emily Brook, David Elliott, Adeline Feldpausch, Annebelle Falvor, Harry Harden, Dale Haviland, Pearl Henler, Bruce Irish, Mary Lehman, Eugene Martin, Oleta Matteson, Marla McCrumb, Dennis Morrison, Francis Motz, Lois Nichols, Mary Lois Payne, Bob Risley, Karl Schaefer, Betty Schwark, Frank Scripser, Linda Shoemaker, Arlene Smith, Alphonse Thelen, Betty Thelen, Marie Thelen, Marge Webster and Robert Wolfe.

RAY GILLESPIE, state 4-H program leader, was the featured speaker on the program. He praised the 4-H leaders present and said that many people become involved in 4-H because the leaders are leaders. He characterized leaders as three different types—command, teacher role and asking-the-right-questions leadership.

"4-H leaders have great influence on other's children," Gillespie said, "and the most important thing that can happen to the youngsters is an ability to relate to you as a true leader." Gillespie emphasized the importance of the asking-the-right-questions type of leadership, pointing out that questions lead to right answers.

Other entertainment during the evening was presented by the Shawassee Kitchen Band, and Jack Worthington called for square dancing that followed the main program. Group singing led by William Brook followed the earlier dinner served by the Pilgrim United Methodist Church women.

Lowell Rinker (left), Clinton County News editor, listens as 4-H Council President Stan Baird reads a list of past services to 4-H work by Rinker prior to awarding him the Friends of 4-H Award Monday night.

Ovid searches for pioneer descendants

OVID—The Village of Ovid, which celebrates the 100th anniversary of its incorporation next year, is looking for descendants of its "founding fathers."

The search for descendants of Ovid pioneers is undertaken in the hope that they will be able to furnish the centennial committee with facts of historical significance, photos of Ovid's early days, and other information to make the past live again.

The theme of the centennial, which is scheduled for the week of June 22, 1969, is "To live again the past and to welcome the future." A special invitation is extended to any descendants of Ovid pioneers to attend a special "mass meeting" of the centennial committee at the East Elementary School in Ovid Wednesday, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m. If the descendants are unable to attend the meeting, they are urged to send any available information to the general chairman, James Briggs, Box 4, Ovid, Mich. 48866.

Some of the early known pioneers include: Samuel Barker, William Swarthout, Allen Lounsbury, John Cross, Fredrick

Cranson, Steven Pearl, John Jessop, William VanSickle, Jabez Denison, David Cranson, John McCullon, Enoch Willis, Enow Kenyon, Christopher Vandewater, Harry Marvin, D. C. TB deaths decline

Both TB cases and TB deaths have declined in Michigan over the past twenty years. This decline has been relatively slow for the most part. The rapid drop in TB deaths in the first half of the period reflects the beginning of drug treatment for TB, especially the use of isoniazid from 1952. It is hoped to speed decline somewhat in both cases and deaths with intensified efforts to find and treat TB early and with drug treatment of those infected with TB (people with a positive tuberculin test), which has been recently begun.

Elsie

By Mrs. Neva Keys

Thanksgiving Day was of a special significance this year to Mr and Mrs Sidney J. Keys of Elsie since it marked the 40th anniversary of their marriage. Thanksgiving Day 1928 was also the traditional football game of the Ovid and Elsie High Schools in the forenoon. While the Elsie Independents, a popular football team under the direction of Dale George played in the afternoon drawing in many enthusiasts from the surrounding area. Keys was a member of the team and although he did not play that day, he and his bride-to-be the former Neva L. Bryant remained long enough to learn the outcome.

They drove in the snow storm to Detroit where they were married that evening by the Rev. W. G. Proulx of the Oakdale Methodist Church. The wedding took place in the reception room of a small hospital where the bride's father, Dr. Harold K. Bryant was the resident physician.

The couple was attended by the bride's sister, Margaret Bryant Edwards of Duplain and H. Edward Conklin of Detroit. Another sister, Dorothy Bryant Kasper who was taking nurses' training at the Detroit Grace Hospital was also present.

Directly following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to the immediate family and friends.

The tragic death of the groom's

14 year old brother, Harlan P. Keys on the following Sunday called the newlyweds home from a brief honeymoon.

The bride, a graduate of St. Johns High School and Clinton County Normal was teaching at the Rowell School in Duplain while the groom, who graduated from Elsie High School and attended the Detroit Institute of Technology, was associated with his father, the late Sidney B. Keys, in the automobile sales and service business.

The Keys family is now composed of three daughters, Mrs. Kenneth (Joanne) Wilson and the Misses Jeanette and Jennifer Keys, all of Miami, Fla.; and two sons, W. H. (Bud) Keys of Jonesboro, Ga. and John (Jack) Keys of Elsie.

There are also six grandchildren: Brant, Stephanie, Jeffrey and Mark Wilson of Miami and David and Deborah Keys of Jonesboro, Ga. Mr and Mrs Keys observed a quiet Thanksgiving with only their 15-year-old son, Jack at home, but there were many best wishes by telephone and greeting cards from their family. Mrs. Keys was pleasantly and completely surprised by a dozen red roses from her husband for the occasion.

Mrs. Keys two sisters, Mrs. Kaspar of Detroit and Mrs. Edwards of St. Johns, who were present for the Thanksgiving wedding dinner 40 years ago, and Donald Willard of Ovid joined the Keys family for a late turkey dinner this Thanksgiving Day.

MYF TO MEET DEC. 8

The "Hanging of the Greens" party sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship groups of the church will be held Sunday evening Dec. 8 at 6:30 p.m. A light cooperative supper will be served (families are to bring sandwiches for their own family and salad or cake). Beverage will be furnished.

Following the meal, church classes will decorate their rooms, and the MYF will decorate the sanctuary, while others will visit during this time then tour the rooms. A carol sing will close the evening.

As in other years, they will take gifts to be sent to Bethany Children's Home in Kentucky. This year they are requesting socks and mittens for the "sock and mitten tree." These may be any size and will be mailed immediately following the party.

Everyone is invited. It's a wonderful way to start the observance of the Christmas season.

Mr and Mrs Peter Peterson of Middleville spent the Thanksgiving weekend with Mrs. Lloyd Craven.

Mr and Mrs Virgil Lawson of Niles and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr and Mrs Lunsford Melvin. They were also accompanied by Mr and Mrs James Lawson and Mr and Mrs Philip Dawson.

Has inflation inflated your home insurance, too?

Chances are, inflation has ballooned the value of your home, as well as the cost of replacing losses. Your insurance may no longer be enough. Call me for a free survey.

While TB deaths in Michigan are gradually declining, deaths from emphysema and chronic bronchitis are increasing rapidly, according to records of the state health department. In ten years, emphysema deaths increased five-fold -- from 191 to 996, and chronic bronchitis deaths nearly quadrupled -- from 48 to 178. At the same time tuberculosis deaths declined by one third -- from 466 to 301.

Woman's Club assesses itself for benefit of Girls' Town project

St. Johns members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs have voted to assess themselves $1 per member toward the state federation-sponsorship and support of Girls' Town, a home for emotionally disturbed girls.

"Loch Rio," as the Girls' Town unit is called, is located in Belleville on the shores of Lake Edison. The home is for girls whose problems are of such a nature that they cannot be cared for in foster homes.

"Girls' Town attempts to help them before they react with destructive or delinquent behavior," local Woman's Club officials said.

In addition to the $1-per-member assessment, a collection for further donations is taken at each local club meeting. The Clinton National Bank and Capitol Savings and Loan Assn. have also contributed. Further donations will be gratefully accepted by the Clinton County Federation president, Mrs. Clifford Lumbert.

"Loch Rio" is a pleasant, two-story frame house with a home-like atmosphere. The girls receive training in household tasks, attend public school and the church of their choice. They are a part of church, school and community activities. There is little institutional atmosphere about "Loch Rio."

THIS PROGRAM, begun in 1950, did not just grow. It was carefully planned by professional agencies who donated their time and services. It is incorporated, and the board of directors and trustees are all members of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs. It is licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

"Loch Rio" was licensed in 1958. It is supported by voluntary donations from Michigan club members and others interested in youth work. Memorial tributes and bequests are welcomed.

But the need is felt for expansion. Seventy-four girls from all parts of Michigan have been residents of Girls' Town since its opening; application requests continue to come in, however, and of the 65 received last year, only nine of the girls could be accommodated.

"We are tired of saying 'No, there is no room,'" trustees say, and they are looking for additional room. Plans are now under way for the addition of another unit at an estimated cost of $125,000. It is toward this end that local Woman's Club members are working.

Shepardsville

By LUCILLE SPENCER, Correspondent

The Berean Circle of the Shepardsville WSCS met Nov. 21, at the home of Mrs. Robert Henderson. Mrs. Irene Hettinger had charge of the program and Mrs. Dale Squiers the devotions. Correspondence was read from the families of Mabel Keck and Clyde Morrill, also a card from Rev. Somers. The usual reports were read. The Chinese Auction resulted in a substantial sum for the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rounds of Bath were recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer.

Advent Sunday was observed at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church during the Sunday morning worship hour, by the lighting of the first candle. A candle will be lighted each Sunday during the Advent season as part of the Worship Service. The Rolle Gruesbeck family had charge of this part of the service. At a recent Sunday morning service at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church a Girl's Trio from the Price Church sang a very nice number. They were accompanied by Mr. Michael Swender on the organ and Mr. Edward Waters on the guitar. Bill Wilson got a deer just about a half-mile from his home on Nov. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox of Lansing. They returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Waters spent ten days hunting near Glennie. On Friday Mrs. Waters was operated on for minor throat surgery at Owosso Memorial Hospital. She came home Saturday and is feeling fine, just can't talk.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Alderman and family were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Jerry Rankin and husband of Saginaw on Thanksgiving.

CHURCH NEWS ITEMS

The Charles Swender family will have charge of the Advent Candle Service on Sunday morning.

Open Letter

Dear friends,

It is wise to plan ahead in the selection of a cemetery plot or mausoleum before the need arises. In fact, some persons now arrange their own funerals in advance of need with the funeral director of their choice. This can save the survivors considerable time and worry when death occurs and is most sensible for elderly persons having no close relatives or those desiring an unusual type of funeral service.

Respectfully,
Van W. Hoag
 Hoag Funeral Home
 ST. JOHNS, MICHIGAN

who preceded her in death two years ago.

Mrs Openlander was a member of the Wacousta United Methodist Church and has been organist for the past 60 years. She was also a Sunday school teacher, a past matron, a life member and organist of Wacousta chapter order of Eastern Star number 133, an honorary life member of WSCS Center Circle, and she was also a member of the Farm Bureau.

She is survived by two sons Stuart of Palmer, Ohio, and Herman a Watertown township supervisor; one brother W. King Lee of Watertown Township; six grandchildren; and two great grandchildren.

Services were in charge of Holihan Funeral Home in Grand Ledge. With the funeral held Monday at the Wacousta Methodist Church, at 2 p.m. Rev Dale Spoor officiated. Burial was in the Wacousta Cemetery.

Mr Stammersky

Anthony Stammersky, 64, of R-2, Harrison died Nov. 26, at 2 p.m. in his home. Funeral services were held at Hoag Funeral Home Friday, Nov. 29, at 2 p.m. Burial was at Mt. Rest Cemetery. Rev Gerald Churchill officiated.

Mr Stammersky was born in Czechoslovakia on April 24, 1904, the son of Edwin and Frances Vanecek Stammersky. He resided most of his life in St. Johns and moved to Harrison three years ago.

He married Ellen Gladstone in St. Johns June 1, 1926. He was an employee of Fisher Body in Lansing.

Fashions change every year, but people with a sunny disposition are never out of style.

Dean Eisler (44) of St. Johns fires up shot over Ovid-Elsie's defense, while Redwings' Dick Rehman (52) and Jon Berkhausen (54) get ready for possible rebound. Watching helplessly are Marauders Dave Long (23), Terry Plowman (25) and Dave Klabak (11). St. Johns won 73-56.

Freesoil's third quarter upends Fowler, 67-64

FOWLER—The Fowler Eagles lost a 10-point halftime lead, then almost rallied their way out of the problem before dropping a 67-64 non-league decision to Freesoil Friday night. It was Coach Charles Trieweller's Eagles' opening game of the year. The Eagles couldn't seem to miss the basket during the first two quarters, but in the second half when they cooled off slightly, Freesoil's Ken Papes started bombing in the long-range shots and almost single-handedly demolished Fowler. Papes scored 14 of his 27 points in the third quarter as Freesoil wiped out a 34-24 Fowler halftime lead and then took the lead themselves 47-45 with some 2 1/2 minutes left in the quarter. Only Neil Thelen's eight points in the quarter kept Fowler within range.

Continuing their practice of last year, the Fowler squad made an exciting game of it. With Thelen and John Mathews scoring six points each in the fourth quarter, the Eagles nipped away at Freesoil's 63-47 lead. They scored a bucket for each Freesoil free throw until Mathews pulled Fowler to within one point at 59-60 and then Thelen hit a jumper to put them ahead 61-60 with 3:50 left in the game.

Paul Marong of Freesoil pulls down a rebound despite leaping efforts of Alan Pohl (54) of Fowler during the first half of Friday's game. No. 42 for Fowler is Tom Piggott. Fowler lost the game 67-64.

Freesoil went out ahead 63-61 with a free throw and basket, but Mike Wieber sank a free throw to make it 62-63 with 1:17 left. Paul Marong scored from underneath for Freesoil, but Thelen closed the gap again with a 20-foot set shot with 37 seconds left. Marong got loose underneath again and put the game out of reach 67-64 with 20 seconds left, and that's how the scoring wound up.

Fowler's first half was something else again. Everything they threw up — all good shots — seemed to go in, and with Thelen scoring eight points and Mathews, Keith Thelen and Dave Moritz adding four each, Fowler jumped out to a 22-13 lead. They continued the barrage in the second quarter, but Freesoil was outscored by only one point, 12-11, and that set up the half-time score of 34-24.

The Eagles wound up with a 43 per cent shooting average for the night, while Freesoil shot a good 40 per cent. Freesoil out-rebounded Fowler 44-35.

Fowler had a 31-27 advantage in field goals, but they only went to the free throw line four times (and made two shots); Freesoil committed only seven fouls as a team, and three of those were offensive fouls.

Score by quarters:
 Fowler 22 12 13 17 - 64
 Freesoil 13 11 29 14 - 67

Sporadic Wings dump Ionia for 2nd victory

IONIA — St. Johns' Redwings overcame some cold first-quarter shooting, early foul trouble and poor free throw shooting to defeat Ionia 73-65 Friday night in the first West Central basketball game for both teams.

Dick Henderson, Dick Rehmann, Terry Maier and Dave Gaffney all ran into foul trouble quickly, and Ionia was in a one-and-one free throw situation after only about four minutes of the game had elapsed. Maier had four fouls by halftime and the other three had three each, forcing Coach Bill Swears to shift to his bench for player personnel.

Only Rehmann and Gaffney fouled out of the game, and the Redwings survived a poor first quarter to win going (slowly) away. Jon Berkhausen's strong game and 20-point effort made it possible, but he got scoring back-up from sophomore Dean Elsler with 15 points and Dick Rehmann with 14.

Waverly here

St. Johns will play the Waverly Warriors in a West Central game this Friday evening in St. Johns. Waverly cruised by Alma last week, making few mistakes, and Coach Bill Swears of the Redwings looks for a tough, good game. The JV action begins at 7 p.m. and the varsity game at 8:30.

Had not Ionia been cold, too, the first quarter might have been St. Johns' undoing. The Wings connected only on five of 25 first-period shots from the floor, but Ionia wasn't much better, and St. Johns trailed only 15-14 after the first stop. Berkhausen scored half of the points in the quarter to keep St. Johns in the game.

CENTER DICK REHMANN starred in the second quarter as St. Johns came back strong to take a 34-31 halftime lead. Rehmann pumped in 11 points from close in and controlled the backboards with five offensive and four defensive rebounds during the quarter.

St. Johns as a team shot better, hitting eight of 16 shots during the period. Sophomore forward Dean Elsler contributed six points during the spurge, and Berkhausen had the other three.

The Redwings began to pull away during the third quarter, hitting their field goal shots at nearly a 50 per cent clip. Berkhausen was again the "gun" with four baskets as St. Johns outscored Ionia 21-18 to take a 55-49 lead into the last period.

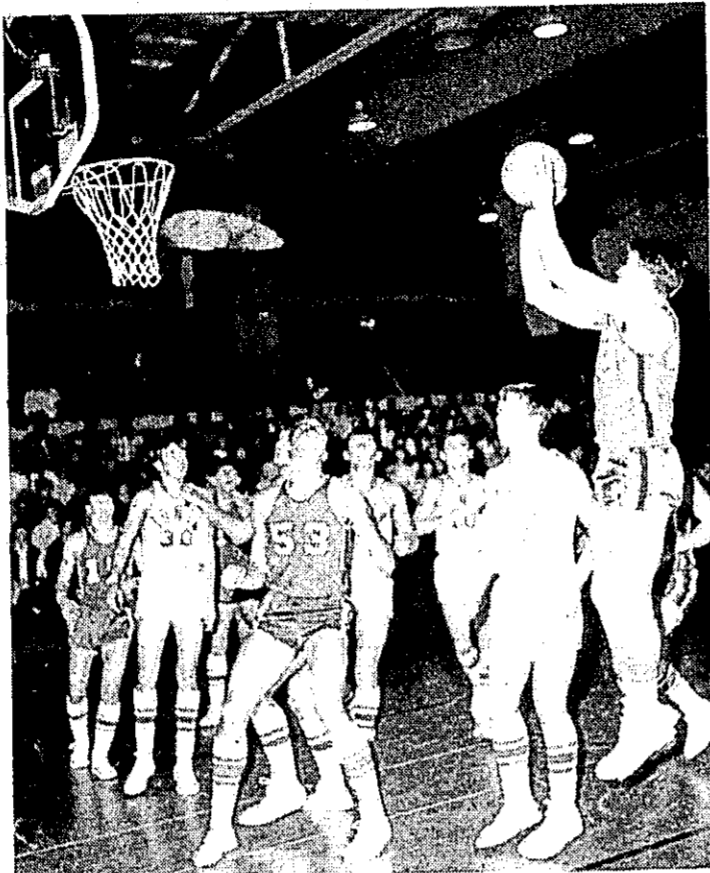

That was much the same story. St. Johns outscored Ionia 18-16 to preserve the victory, again shooting nearly 50 per cent from the field, this time with Dick Henderson topping the scoring with seven points.

Although St. Johns hit 48 per cent of their shots in the last three quarters, they wound up with only a 39 per cent figure for the game, canning 31 of 79 shots. They made only 11 of 24 from the free throw line, however. Ionia was cold from the field all night and wound up with a poor 28 per cent, on 24 of 83 shots, but they scored 17 free throws out of 23 attempts. St. Johns outscored Ionia 54-43. Dick Rehmann had an astounding 20 rebounds, while Elsler pulled down 10.

Score by quarters:
St. Johns 14 20 21 18 - 73
Ionia 15 16 18 16 - 65

St. Johns scoring: Jon Berkhausen 9-2-20; Dick Henderson 3-1-7; Dick Rehmann 6-2-14; Terry Maier 2-3-7; Dave Gaffney 3-0-6; Dean Elsler 6-3-15; Bob Rehmann 1-0-2; Rich Stoddard 1-0-2; Chuck Green 0-0-0. St. Johns totals 31-11-73, with 22 personal fouls (Rehmann and Gaffney fouled out).

Ionia scoring: Wilson led the way with 17 points, while Brown had 15 and Fuller 12. Ionia totals 24-17-65, with 16 personal fouls (Tuller fouled out).

Dave Gaffney of St. Johns is about to score two points against Ionia Friday night. St. Johns players watching his shot are Dick Rehmann (53), and Terry Maier and Dick Henderson in background. St. Johns won 73-65.

Ovid-Elsie JV, s trip St. Johns

The Ovid-Elsie junior varsity basketball team defeated St. Johns 47-39 last Tuesday night in a game filled with almost as many ball control errors as points.

The second half was particularly ragged, and both teams scored only 31 points between them—15 for St. Johns and 16 for O-E. The Little Marauders, however, had built up a commanding lead with a 16-10 second-quarter scoring advantage, and their 31-24 halftime lead was never really threatened.

Leroy Thomas was the big scoring gun for Ovid-Elsie, getting 19 points, while Keith Nelson had 4, Mike Maag 8, Dan Bowles 2, Tom Miller 3, Kurt Kristin 4 and Mark Case 2.

St. Johns got 11 points from Steve Mead, 10 from Bill French and 9 from John Smit, while Gary Burk had 1, Fred Root 4 and Brian Carpenter 4.

30-point third quarter boosts St. Johns past O-E 73-56

Scoring the first 10 points in the third quarter last Tuesday night, St. Johns' basketball Redwings turned in a 30-point period and romped on to a 73-56 win over Ovid-Elsie in the 1968-69 opener for both teams.

Although four players scored in double figures for St. Johns, it was a tough defense that held the visiting Marauders at bay throughout most of the game. Only in the fourth quarter did Ovid-Elsie manage to score consistently, and then they never got any closer to St. Johns than 70-56.

Forward Jon Berkhausen and center Dick Rehmann were defensive bears. Rehmann blocked at least 10 Ovid-Elsie shots and pulled down 16 rebounds despite riding the bench through part of the last half when he got four fouls. Berkhausen was credited with five rebounds and played a steady floor game. Dean Elsler pulled down nine rebounds.

Berkhausen was on Ovid-Elsie's big forward, Jerry Weir, all night and held Weir to only three points. Daryl Melvin was the Marauders' only big scoring gun, getting 17 points, including seven free throws on eight attempts.

Sophomore Dean Elsler led the balanced St. Johns scoring attack with 19 points. Dave Gaffney fired in 15 points, Terry Maier had 14 and Rehmann chipped in 12. St. Johns shot 51 per cent from the floor during the evening despite missing a half-dozen layups. They weren't much better from the free throw line, canning only 15 of 31 attempts.

IT WAS A RAGGED game, as season openers frequently are. St. Johns held on to a 13-9 first quarter lead despite missing four lay-up shots in the first few minutes. Ovid-Elsie led only briefly, 2-0, 2-1 and 5-4 before St. Johns took the lead and began to build it up. St. Johns led 32-22 at halftime as Berkhausen, Maier and Elsler all scored four points and Gaffney had three in the second quarter.

St. Johns really fired out in the third quarter. Maier hit a short jumper, Rehmann dumped in a layup and Gaffney scored three straight buckets before Ovid-Elsie could get a point. St. Johns continued to bombard the basket and scored a total of 30 during the quarter to increase their lead over the Marauders to 62-36 going into the last eight minutes.

Gaffney had 10 of his 15 points in the third period, Maier had five and Elsler scored nine during the span.

Mike Bowles had six points, Cal Woodard four and Daryl Melvin and Dave Klakabak three each as Ovid-Elsie put together a fourth-quarter rally. They scored 13 of the first 17 points and wound up with a 20-11 scoring advantage during the period.

Ovid-Elsie had a 32 shooting percentage from the floor and made only 16 of 29 free throws.

Score by quarters:

St. Johns 13 19 30 11-73
Ovid-Elsie 9 13 14 20-56
St. Johns scoring: Jon Berkhausen 2-2-6; Dick Henderson 2-1-5; Dick Rehmann 5-2-12; Terry Maier 5-4-14; Dave Gaffney 7-1-15; Dean Elsler 8-3-19; Chuck Green 0-2-2. St. Johns totals 29-15-73, with 20 personal fouls (Maier and Gaffney fouled out).

Ovid-Elsie scoring: Terry Plowman 0-0-0; Jerry Weir 1-1-3; Dave Dubois 3-0-6; Daryl Melvin 5-7-17; Dave Klakabak 3-5-9; Cal Woodard 3-3-9; Jerry Guyski 2-0-4; Mike Bowles 3-2-8. Ovid-Elsie totals 20-16-56, with 23 personal fouls.

Dick Henderson (22) rises to the occasion for a shot at the basket against Ovid-Elsie, and he's got marvelous rebound potential standing by, with Terry Maier (14), Jon Berkhausen (54) and Dick Rehmann (52) in good position. Ovid-Elsie players are unidentified.

OVID - ELSIE—Three Ovid-Elsie football players were named to the Mid - Michigan B League all-star team announced last week by league coaches.

Guard Ken Coon of the Marauders was named to the offensive team, while end Jerry Guysky and linebacker Dennis Bolton earned spots on the defensive all-star team.

Ron Lover of Ovid-Elsie received honorable mention.

Fowler junior varsity wins

FOWLER—The Fowler junior varsity Eagles won their opening game of the season Friday night by a 58-36 verdict over Freesoil.

It was strictly a second-half victory, because Fowler trailed 10-7 at the first stop and had only a 24-23 halftime lead. But they outscored Freesoil 19-5 and 15-8 in the last two periods to win going away.

Cliff Thelen led Fowler scoring with 20 points, while Ed Pung had 10, Clare Thelen 9, Gary Pung 8, Ken Schmitt 6, Roger Nobach 3 and Bruce Weber 2.

Fireman Jim Karber directs a stream of water against charred timbers as St. Johns firemen fought in vain to save the home of Mrs Anna B. Olger from ruin early the morning before Thanksgiving. The house burned to the ground, but Mrs Olger and her seven children escaped unhurt.

But mom, 7 kids aided Pre-Thanksgiving fire levels rural home

Fire leveled their home on the day before Thanksgiving, but Mrs Anna B. Olger and her eight children gave thanks anyway last Thursday—thankful they all got out of their home without injury.

This week they're giving thanks again for Red Cross and public and private aid and acts of kindness that flowed in since the family disaster.

Boxes and boxes of donated items began piling up at the Donald Devereaux home nearby even before burning embers died out, and soon it had to be transferred to the roomier basement of the Price Methodist Church. Schoolmates of the younger Olger children contributed money, and at the high school items started piling up that afternoon after teacher Mrs Peggy Andretz initiated a drive by the students. The Audley Higbles of 3999 E. Chadwick Road, DeWitt, are relatives of the Olgers, and they soon began to receive items that were passed on to the family.

WRBJ broadcast the Olgers' plight, and the appeal fell on receptive ears.

The stubborn fire that destroyed the Olger's home apparently broke out about 5:30 a.m. last Wednesday in a back room of the house at 4008 E. Price Road, diagonally across the Chandler Road intersection from the Price Methodist Church. Mrs Olger said she smelled smoke when she got up, and when her daughter, Lorna, 16, came downstairs at 6:45 and said she did, too, they began to look. When they discovered the fire, they got the rest of the children up—Charles, 14, Mary, 13, Clyde, 11, Henry, 10, Margy, 8, and Helen, 3.

Within minutes, neighbors had spotted the flames, and they called the St. Johns Fire Department. Two trucks sped to the scene, but firemen couldn't put out the fire, and the flames slowly ate their way around the house from the southeast corner. It was nearly two hours before the last wall had burned and been pushed in.

AS THE FIRE moved into the last section of the house, firemen pulled back and concentrated on cooling down two fuel oil tanks filled with oil immediately adjacent to the house on the west. There was no explosion and the fuel oil did not burn.

There were fortunately no injuries in the fire. Mrs Olger and all the children got out of the house quickly, four of them in their pajamas, while two of the boys managed to grab their clothes (each others). Mrs Olger and one of the girls had shoes on, but the others were barefoot.

None of the furniture or clothing inside the house was saved.

Neighbors took the Olgers to the warmth of the Donald Devereaux home nearby, and it wasn't long before the disaster machinery of the American Red Cross was working on the case. Robert Prowant, one of the Red Cross disaster representatives in Clinton County, was one of the firemen who answered the call, and he immediately sent word back to St. Johns.

Before firemen left the scene, C. D. Shawnee, disaster chairman for Clinton County, was talking with Mrs Olger at the Devereaux home, offering aid to the burned-out family.

THE RED CROSS arranged for the Olgers to move into the Hub Motel in St. Johns and to get clothing and food from local stores.

Other aid has been flowing in St. Johns firemen were fighting a losing battle here as they sought to contain a blaze which eventually leveled the home of Mrs Anna Olger and her seven children last Wednesday morning. Firemen are unidentified.

State tax distributed at $1.54 rate

Clinton County governmental units are getting $1.54 per capita on the state income tax distribution for the third quarter of 1968, Clinton County Treasurer Velma Beaufore reported last week.

A total of $58,438.38 has been received from the state and distributed by Mrs Beaufore, with half of it remaining with the county-level government. The other half was distributed to townships, cities and villages. The $1.54 for the third quarter compares to $1.52 per capita during the distribution for the first quarter of the year and $1.70 for the second quarter.

In the latest distribution, the County of Clinton is receiving $29,219.19. The following amounts, in addition, are being distributed to the other governmental units at the rate of 77 cents per capita:

Townships: Bath $2,873.64; Bengal $687.61; Bingham $1,033.34; Dallas $823.90; DeWitt $4,936.47; Duplain $879.34; Eagle $871.64; Essex $534.39; Greenbush $1,028.72; Lebanon $517.44; Olive $1,091.86; Ovid $993.30; Riley $756.14; Victor $951.72; Watertown $1,546.16; Westphalia $786.17.
Cities: St. Johns $4,328.17; DeWitt $953.26.

Higher license plate fees add to road fund

Higher motor vehicle fees now being collected as Michigan motorists purchase 1969 plates will help bring improved roads benefiting all highway users, according to James Vivian, president of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

The increased plate fees will add approximately $30 million to road funds, Vivian said. Of this amount county road commissions will receive about $10.2 million while municipalities will divide about $6 million to be spent on local road and street improvements.

"The license fee increase is the first in 35 years, restoring pre-depression rates," Vivian noted.

"Michigan passenger car owners have for many years enjoyed bargain plate fees which were among the lowest in the nation," Vivian said. "Even with the present increase, Michigan still will be below the national average in vehicle license charges."

ALL MOTOR VEHICLE taxes for fuel and license plates are earmarked for highway construction and maintenance after deduction of in excess of $9,000,000 in collection costs and an allocation of approximately $3,000,000 to the Waterways Commission.

The higher passenger and commercial license fee schedules were adopted by the 1967 Legislature to provide added funds needed for road improvements required to handle steadily growing traffic volumes, Vivian said. The tax increase was described as a minimum emergency move because highway fund revenues were insufficient to keep up with road improvement needs.

The last engineering study of highway needs showed Michigan needed approximately $3 billion

(Continued from Page 1-B) since the fire. Callers from Lansing, DeWitt and St. Johns have promised such furniture items as refrigerator, stove, beds, davenport, and four-piece sectional. Most of it is used but still valuable to a family trying to re-establish a home.

Mrs. Olger had just purchased a dinette set with eight chairs for her home and it had been delivered only the day before the fire. It was among the furniture lost. Ben Karlson, owner of St. Johns Furniture Co. where she had purchased the dinette set, called Mrs. Olger to tell her he would replace it for her at no charge.

St. Joseph Catholic Church sent out four bushel baskets of canned goods. Schoolmates of the Olger children collected money among themselves and brought an envelope of it to help the family out. Several service clubs in St. Johns are also donating money.

Though it didn't take place as planned, the Olgers observed Thanksgiving on schedule last Thursday, perhaps more thankful than many people. Mrs. Olger and her seven children were dinner guests in Lansing of another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. James Alward.

Farm producers using price support regularly

Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, today reported that producers this year are using the price support program to a much greater extent than in recent years. He stated that as of Oct. 31, nationally, farmers had placed nearly 318,000,000 bushels of wheat from the 1968 crop under the loan program. Michigan, he added, being one of the smaller wheat states had only 2 1/2 million bushels under loan.

He noted, however, that Michigan wheat, along with wheat from the other states that has been placed under loan, has materially helped the market price in recent weeks. Michigan prices, he stated, had risen from a low of 90¢ a bushel in September to the

Deadlines

Because we haven't heard of a newspaper that suddenly materializes with all news, advertising copy and pictures in place and in A-1 condition, it becomes necessary for the Clinton County News to impose deadlines to insure a smooth flow of copy so that as much material as possible may be printed in proper form. Toward this end, these deadlines are now in effect:

- Display advertising..... Monday noon.
- Classified advertising..... Monday noon.
- Letters to the editor..... Thursday 5 p.m.
- News for farm pages..... Thursday noon.
- Wedding stories, pictures..... Thursday noon.
- Other contributed pictures..... Monday noon.
- Church and fine arts items..... Thursday 5 p.m.
- Regular columns..... Friday, 9 a.m.
- Sports page items..... Monday, 5 p.m.
- Teen activities page items..... Thursday, 5 p.m.
- Other contributed items..... Monday, 5 p.m.

Earlier submission of news items is greatly appreciated, with the result that more attention can be given to them. Items will be accepted after the deadline, but will be used ONLY if time and space are available. Requests for pictures to be taken by the County News staff should be made as soon as possible and never less than 24 hours before the picture time.

Record per-acre yield for corn

Plenty corn!
This summarizes the greatest per acre yield of corn in the State's history as reported to Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture by C. A. Hines of the Crop Reporting Service.

The service is supported jointly by the U. S. and Michigan departments of Agriculture. This year's harvest of corn for grain will average 74 bushels per acre as compared to 35.7 bushels per acre during the 1940's. Total production in Michigan is expected to be 97,902,000 bushels for 1968.

Despite this record yield, per-acre total production in the state is slightly under 1959, the top year, when production reached more than 98 million bushels. The greater number of acres devoted to corn in 1959 accounts for the difference. Yields per acre that peak year were only 57 bushels per acre. This makes 1968's per-acre yield of 74 bushels an acre the more amazing.

In general 1968 was a good year for corn, said Ball, adding that favorable weather is not the entire answer.

"GROWERS ARE EMPLOYING more advanced cultural practices. We have better fertilizers and herbicides to do with, and for more than a decade Michigan growers have planted the heavier yielding hybrid corn varieties almost exclusively. These advances have increased the efficiency of corn production to a great degree," Ball explained.

The Crop Reporting Service estimates a little more than half of the state's corn production is fed to livestock right on the farms where it is grown. The rest is sold, mostly to other livestock raisers for feed.

Clouds of steam rise from two fuel oil tanks beside the house as St. Johns firemen kept them watered down as flames advanced from other parts of the Olger home. The front wall of the house bowed out and piece by piece fell apart minutes after this picture was taken.

Jaycees to honor outstanding farmer

The St. Johns Jaycees will meet next Tuesday evening to award the title of "Outstanding Young Farmer of 1968-69" for Clinton County.

A survey is being taken of farmers between the ages of 21 and 35 who are doing an outstanding job of farming and otherwise serving the community, and a panel of judges will announce their decision on the winner next Tuesday night.

The "Outstanding Young Farmer" dinner will be at the L & L Restaurant. Co-chairmen for the Jaycee project are John Aylsworth and Tom Peacock.

In addition revenues to build needed road systems to 1980 traffic requirements. A new engineering study of road needs currently is underway and is scheduled to be completed by 1970, Vivian declared.

At the time of legislative action on the present tax increase it was estimated that it would cost the average motorist about $15 more per year to provide for additional road improvement funds.

Always remember that careful planning makes a smooth road for the wheels of progress.

People who look for trouble shouldn't be too surprised when it comes their way.

ST. JOHNS' ANNUAL

CHRISTMAS OPENING

Dear old Santa, with FREE candy and gifts for all the kiddies. His suggestion to wise shoppers is to shop in St. Johns, where you'll find the perfect gift for everyone on your shopping list, at a price you can afford.

SANTA CLAUS ARRIVES
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5,
7:00 p.m.

Bring the kiddies to St. Johns for the gala opening of the Christmas shopping season. He'll usher in the season with a colorful parade led by the St. Johns High School band. Stores will be open until 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience. Don't miss the action.

Clothing-a-rama
topic for Extension

Mrs Oscar Johnston and Mrs Raymond Thayer gave lessons on clothing-a-rama at the Nov. 19 meeting of the Brown Bees Extension group. Ten members answered roll call at the meeting.

Mrs Charles Klaver gave the council report, Mrs Floyd Hamer, the hostess, had charge of recreation. Knitting was started by some of the ladies present. The mystery prize was won by Mrs Kate Courland.

The next meeting will be the group's annual Christmas dinner at the L & L Restaurant in St. Johns.

PCA meet
at MSU
Thursday

The Production Credit Association of Lansing will hold its annual stockholders meeting Thursday, Dec. 5, at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

Herbert VanAken of Eaton Rapids, president, will preside at the meeting. Arnold K. Musolf of East Lansing, manager, will give the financial report. There will be an election of one director. Sylvan H. Wittwer director of the agricultural experiment station at Michigan State University will be guest speaker. Theme of his message will be "New dimensions in Agriculture and World Food Production."

Six hundred farmer members and guests are expected to attend this event. The Lansing association is a farmer cooperative extending credit in the counties of Ingham, Eaton, Barry, Ionia, Clinton and Shilawassee.

The past year the association loaned over $17 million to its farmer members.

FB board
reelects
Smith

Elton R. Smith, Kent County dairyman, has been reelected to his fifth one-year term as president of Michigan Farm Bureau. The action was taken at the annual reorganization meeting of the board of directors of the 54,000 Farm Bureau members, following the three-day meeting recently.

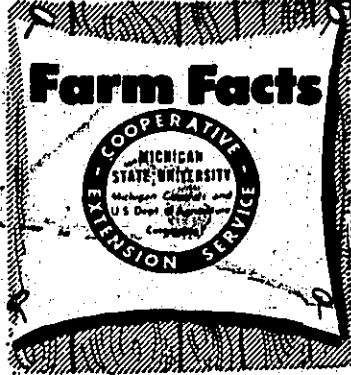

Renamed vice president was Dean Pridgeon, Branch County farm leader. David Morris, Clinton County cattleman, was reelected to the executive committee. Others reelected were Dan E. Reed, secretary-manager; William Beattie, treasurer; and William Wilkinson, assistant secretary.

Five district directors were renamed—Nicholas Smith, Addison, District 2; Elton R. Smith, Caledonia, District 4; John Laurie, Cass City, District 6; Harvey Leuenberger, Saginaw, District 8; and Richard Wieland, Ellsworth, District 10.

Walter Frahm of Frankenmuth and Dean Pridgeon of Montgomery were reelected to two-year terms as directors at large. Calvin "Pete" Lutz of Kaleva in Manistee County, was elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of James Thar of Decatur. Lutz, a fruit and vegetable farmer, will serve a one-year term as director at large.

Other members of the 16-man board are Harry Nye, District 1; Andrew Jackson, District 3; David Morris, District 5; Kenneth Bull, District 7; Eugene Roberts, District 9; and Clayton Ford, District 11.

Mrs Jerold Topf of Eaton Rapids, chairman of the women's committees of Michigan Farm Bureau, retained this position for the ensuing year and is also a member of the board of directors. Lawrence Karsten of Rogers City was elected chairman of The Farm Bureau Young Farmers, replacing Michael Satchell.

Field day results listed

Tests showed rights, wrongs of soil sampling

A series of field demonstrations on soil sampling in July, September and October showed the right way and what happens when poor soil samples are tested.

A field on the Maurice Gove farm provided the action. Three soil types were represented. They were quite identical, however, in most respects except for degree of natural drainage.

Brookston loam (8805A1) was level and low, Conover loam (6455B1) was very gently rolling, and Celina loam (5355B1) was gently rolling. All were found in one field and had identical cropping, liming, and fertilizer history.

ANY COMBINATION of samples from these three soil types gave test results part way between the individual tests and did not represent any one area. And remember the three soil types are very similar. Combining samples from non related soil types would result in tests even further from representing the field.

allowed to dry in room temperature, then about one cupful taken for laboratory testing. Additional soil sampling information is in Extension bulletin E498 titled "Sampling Soils" and is available at the Cooperative Extension office.

EXTENSION REPORT

Fertilizer continues to be farmer's best buy

By GEORGE McQUEEN

Fertilizer continues to be a "best" buy for farmers. While other costs of production continue to go up, fertilizer prices have been going down. Costs of fertilizer itself now is often secondary to time, labor and expense of applying it.

Broadcasting is usually the cheapest, fastest and requires the least labor of any method of application. Lime for raising pH and for supplying calcium and magnesium is nearly always broadcast.

Potassium at today's prices can be broadcast efficiently on clay loam and loam soils in Clinton County nearly anytime during the year. Usually some excess quantity is spread to make up for possible reduced availability.

Potassium should not be broadcast on sandy or organic soils except close to the growing season. Potassium is held in soils for plant use by clay particles, and soils low in clay such as the sandy and organic soils may lose considerable potassium to leaching.

Phosphorus, however, may be spread on the sandy and organic soils. Phosphorus now is by far the more expensive common plant nutrient. Most phosphorus broadcast on our clay and loam soils is tied up and becomes unavailable to plants. However, heavy soils limed to our recommended level of pH 6.5 to 6.8 are more likely to retain the phosphorus in an available form.

At best, broadcast applications of phosphorus fertilizer is very inefficient. It is best to band phosphorus below and it is available to young seedlings for a fast start and remains available for a longer time during the season, other costs.

No fertilizer or lime should be applied, however, without a guide to expected effects on future crop yields. A basic guide is a chemical soil test.

Take a good soil sample then don't guess—soil bank.

Nitrogen losses from soil may take place rapidly and in large amounts under certain conditions. Interactions exist among temperature, moisture, clay, and the organic matter (biological activity) in soils. If we knew what temperature and moisture conditions would be between application and use by the crop we would have a much greater choice in when and on what soils to apply nitrogen.

In general, nitrogen should be applied as close as practical to the time crops are making most rapid growth. Applying any form of nitrogen earlier then becomes a problem of chance or averages.

Now that some nitrogen fertilizer prices are lower, greater risk of loss can be taken in order to save time, labor and other costs.

Even more complex. Recent price reductions have made anhydrous ammonia relatively inexpensive, and farmers may be tempted to apply it improperly or in excess.

EAST OLIVE SCHOOL HELPS TWO CLASSMATES

Mark and Lonner Reynolds, students at East Olive School, lost their home, and all their possessions in a fire Nov. 21. School friends collected food, clothing and toys to help the family. Mark is in the kindergarten and Lonnie is a seventh grader. Their house was located at R-2, Laingsburg.

Butterscotch bars

By MRS MARY BROWN-FOWLER

- Combine and cream together:
1 c. butter or margarine
1 c. firmly packed light brown sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 egg
2 c. flour

Spread evenly in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. In a small bowl beat 1 egg (until thick or lemon colored). Stir in 2/3 c. firmly packed brown sugar. Spread this mixture over top of batter already in pan. Sprinkle with 1 c. coarsely chopped nuts (pecans preferred). Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 min. Place on wire rack to cool. Cut into squares or bars. May be rolled into powdered sugar if desired when completely cooled. Makes 18 to 20 bars.

Waste of food is greatest waste

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

"Waste not - want not" was a favorite expression of many of our ancestors in this our land of plenty. Perhaps one of the most prevalent conditions that exists in our country is the waste of food. It takes intelligence and a concentrated effort. We must not let our feeling and expression of thankfulness for our plenty become wastefulness. There are those among us who have declared war on waste and won. The rest of us should pattern after those who know that thrift is still a virtue.

Most of us eat too much. Few of us are concerned with just enough food to meet our own nutritional requirement. We eat what we like and all we can hold. Far more of us get sick from overeating than we do from not getting enough to eat. Advertising is geared to our wants rather than our needs.

We waste food, too, by cooking too much. Some of us who remember the depression years are the greatest offenders. We want to make sure there is enough and more for everyone. So we have the problem of leftovers. We make an attempt to use them. Most often we store them in little dabs in the refrigerator for a week or two till they spoil, even so our conscience doesn't bother us when we throw them out.

Others of us who are more serious about not wasting food sit down and try to eat all the nutritional requirement. We eat what we like and all we can hold. Far more of us get sick from overeating than we do from not getting enough to eat. Advertising is geared to our wants rather than our needs.

Our home freezers get loaded with waste—food we never use but store for three or four years before hauling it to the dump to feed the rats. It's easy to lose food in a freezer, too, so we can't find it when we do want to use it.

An automatic garbage disposal unit built into a sink is a boon to food wasters. All evidence is destroyed so fast that eliminates any pang of conscience one might have.

Cooking and buying more than we can use isn't the only way we waste food. We destroy much of the real value of a food in the process of preparation and cooking. We peel away the most nutritive parts, and boil out the nutrients and pour them down the drain. We hold perishables in improper storage facilities till nutrients deteriorate and food becomes unpalatable.

There is much that each of us can do to eliminate food waste. We must learn which foods are essential and then plan, buy, store and prepare foods to eliminate waste. It takes intelligence and a concentrated effort. We must not let our feeling and expression of thankfulness for our plenty become wastefulness. There are those among us who have declared war on waste and won. The rest of us should pattern after those who know that thrift is still a virtue.

4-H Club Chatter

Personality Plus will be the theme of an area 4-H Teen-Age Personal Appearance Training Program conducted on Saturdays, January 18 and 25, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. This training will be designed for 4-H youth 12-14 years of age and their leaders from Clinton County, Grant County and Shawansee County.

Commissioner S.C. MIKE MARTINEZ, USN, 22, son of Mrs. Helen G. Martinez of 222 W. Williams Street, Ovid, was advanced to his present rate aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Hornet at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, Nov. 13.

4-H teen leaders are urged to attend the one-day area teen leader training on Saturday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Teen leaders from Clinton and Shawansee Counties will be participating. Members are urged to contact the Extension office if they plan to attend and stay for lunch. An excellent program has been planned for this day.

Brook of East Lansing will be representing Clinton County at the National 4-H Dairy Conference in Chicago Dec. 4-7. He will be accompanied by six other 4-H members from Michigan and Dr. Larry Johnson, Extension dairy specialist from Michigan State University. Roger is a member of the East 4-H Purpose 4-H Club and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brook.

Eureka

By MRS. GORDON WAGGONER, Correspondent

REMEMBER MOTHER'S ALBUM DAY

Every mother present for the services of Sunday School and Worship at the Eureka Congregational Christian Church, Dec. 8, will be given one 8 x 10 black and white family portrait. Every mother should plan to have her entire family present with her on this day. A luncheon will be provided by the Youth Group Pilgrim Fellowship on a free-will offering basis for the Family Day. Visitors are most welcome.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Eureka Congregational Christian Church will be held at 7:00 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2, in the Fellowship Hall.

SUMNER PARTY

A slumber party was held at the home of Mr and Mrs Duane Bunce, given by their daughters, Terri, Jill and Polly. Record playing, games and refreshments were held in the evening. Girls attending the Thursday evening party were; Bernadette Joras, Debbie Howard, Cindy Lewis, Ramona Hubbard and Linda Waggoner. All girls returned to their homes Friday noon.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP WEDNESDAY

The December meeting of the Eureka Congregational Christian Church will be this Wednesday Dec. 4, at the church for their monthly meeting.

The special music last Sunday, Nov. 24, at the Eureka Congregational Christian Church, was sung by sisters, Linda and Gloria Waggoner, with Douglas Thatcher accompanying them at the piano. They dedicated their song to their parents, Mr and Mrs Gordon Waggoner and their grandparents, Mr and Mrs Milford Clark. Both couples were celebrating their wedding anniversaries Sunday.

Mrs Ethel Randolph is a patient at Gratiot County Community Hospital in Alma. She was admitted last week Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Maurice Blank and Bill were Thanksgiving day dinner guests of her nephew, Mr and Mrs Eugene Clark, of Grand Ledge.

Miss Gloria Waggoner was a Thanksgiving day dinner guest of Fred and Claude Moore.

Mr and Mrs Don Eastment, Kathy and Patty were Thanksgiving day dinner guests of his mother, Mrs Laura Eastment. In the evening they had supper at her parents, Mr and Mrs Gordon Eichorn. Mrs Eastment and her sister called on their grandmother who is in the hospital. She also called on Mrs Ethel Randolph at the Alma Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Henry Howard, Debbie and Craig had a family dinner for her family on Thanksgiving day. Those present were

Mr and Mrs Elmer Thornton, Mr and Mrs Dennis Flegel and Denae, Mr and Mrs Donnie McCullough, Mrs Ward Lewis, Gary Thornton, Marsha and David, all of the Elsie area and Mr and Mrs Bradley Grenlund of Flint.

Mr and Mrs Wallace Huggett and children of Marlette, were Thanksgiving day and weekend guests of Mr and Mrs J. D. Robinson.

Mr and Mrs Richard Bediek of St. Johns, spent Thanksgiving day with her parents, Mr and Mrs Victor Shappell and her grandmother Mrs Nellie. Eddie Light of St. Johns, was a Thanksgiving day dinner guest of his aunt and uncle, Mr and Mrs Orrin Blank. Afternoon callers of the Blanks were Mrs Gordon Waggoner and Linda.

Marion Sohn's guests for Thanksgiving day dinner were Leon Lewis and children and Mrs and Mrs Herb Posh and children. Janet Lewis is still a patient at Carson City Hospital. She should be coming home soon.

Mr and Mrs Howard Waggoner of Prudenville were callers in the homes of his brothers, Mr and Mrs Wendell Waggoner and Mr and Mrs Gordon Waggoner Nov. 24.

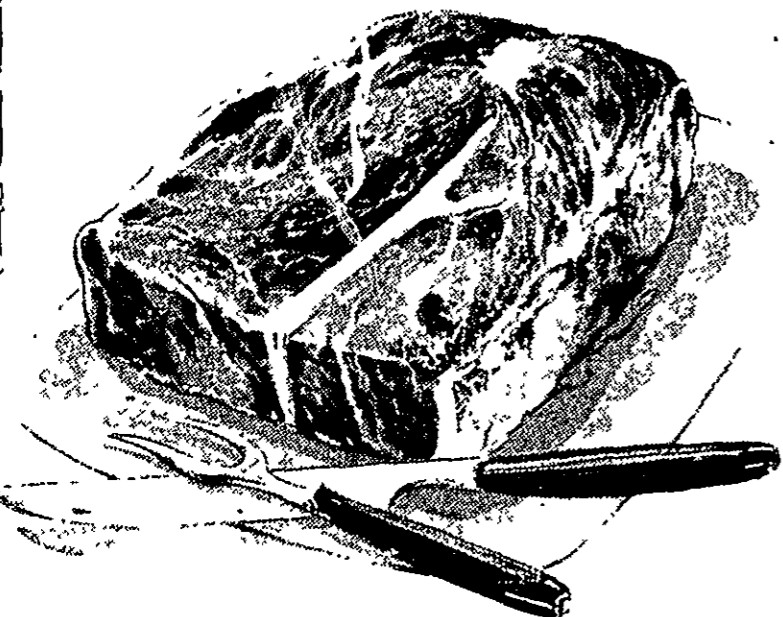

Bob Lewis is a patient at Carson City Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Chester Blank, Pat and Dave of Ewart and Mr and Mrs M. B. Watt of Lansing, were guests of Mr and Mrs

Orrin Blank Nov. 24.

Mr and Mrs Gordon Waggoner, Gloria and Linda were Nov. 24, late afternoon dinner guests of her parents, Mr and Mrs Milford Clark in Elsie. Both were celebrating their wedding anniversaries.

The ladies at Marion's Rest Home, and Marion wish to thank the Eureka Junior Girl Scouts and their leaders for the thoughtful gifts and favors for Halloween and Thanksgiving, they were greatly appreciated. Jenny Salters who has been at Marion's for two and a half years, spent Thanksgiving with her daughter and family Mr and Mrs Bob Serviss of Ovid.

Extra 19 pints of blood helping man recover from serious burns

Ronald Rieves of 480 W. Alward Road, DeWitt, is now recuperating from third degree burns he suffered at his home March 9. His right leg and both hands were burned. Since the fire Rieves has had 10 skin grafts and received 19 pints of blood by transfusions.

Rieves is not without experience in the repair of machines. He has been doing his own mechanical work on trucks, cars and farm machines for the past 14 years. His garage is attached to his home, and this is where the fire occurred.

At about 4 p.m. on Saturday, March 9, he was repairing some worn-out floor boards on an old pick-up truck. To be on the safe side, he decided to remove the gas tank which is located directly beneath the floor boards. He was going to weld in some new pieces. After siphoning off all the gas he could out of the tank, he rolled under the truck on a dolly, and attempted to loosen some bolts that had rusted shut.

He was pushing on the gas tank to get it out when some gas left in the tank spilled out onto his hands and his right leg (he thought there was about two gallons left in the tank). He doesn't know what ignited the gas and neither does the fire department, but there is the possibility that when the tank hit the floor it caused a spark, and the whole area was engulfed in flames.

Rieves ran to the basement in his home, attached the water hose, ran back to the garage and started to put out the fire. He was soaking the roof rafters when the fire department arrived. Some neighbors who had been repairing a roof saw the smoke from the garage and came to help Rieves.

RIEVES THEN GOT in a car, and they drove him to Clinton Memorial Hospital where he walked in. He has spent the last eight months in the hospital, with the exception of about six weeks when he was permitted to go home between skin grafts.

The skin grafts are now completed, and except for an ache in his leg, and a sore back where they removed about 36 square inches of skin for grafting, he's feeling much better. He has lost 65 pounds since the accident, and his nerves aren't as good as they once were. He feels he will be able to walk in the near future without too much trouble. He will be released from the hospital as soon as his back is healed.

The fire caused about $1,000 worth of damage to the garage. Many friends, neighbors, and relatives have donated blood for Rieves, and he knows how valuable it can be.

Rieves married the former Pat Houska six years ago. She is originally from Elsie, and they now have a baby daughter, Roxanne, who is six months old. Rieves and his parents were former residents of Williamston. He built their home in DeWitt four years ago, and they have 28 acres of land.

Rieves is an employee of White Motors in Lansing as an apprentice on machine repair. He spent three years in the Army, and with the exception of a tonsillectomy in his childhood, this is his first serious illness.

Ronald Rieves suffered third degree burns to the right leg and both hands in an accident at his home last March. Since that time he has received 19 pints of blood and several skin grafts. He and his family live at 480 W. Alward Road.

PUNCH AND CAKE ADD FESTIVE TOUCH TO CEREMONY AT EAST OLIVE Troop 143 at East Olive School held investiture services for 19 brownies last Wednesday. Committees named for OES Chapter No. 79

Committee appointments for the year for Radiant Chapter No. 79, Order of Eastern Stars, were announced last week by Elizabeth Henry, worthy matron.

Appointments include; Mark Eaton, Inez Hettler and Esther Bradley, auditing committee; Charles and Virginia Ziegler, Lloyd and Mildred Atkinson, Donald Heuer and Dorothy Welsh on the grievance committee; Elizabeth Henry, Dorothy Steves and Kathryn Williams on the relief committee; Elizabeth Henry, Jeanna DeVore, and Violet Pope on sunshine committee; Imogene Heuer and Arlene Hoag on flower committee; Elsie Dickinson, Joan Martin and Margaret Valentine on ways and means; Marguerite Crampton, and Inez Hettler on marker; John Williams, Kathryn Williams, and Helen Cressman on examining; Dorothy Steves and Joan Martin on publicity; Mark Eaton and Gerald Pope on proficiency.

A dinner will be held Dec. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the L & I Restaurant honoring the junior past matron and past patron, Brother and Sister Ziegler. The next regular meeting of OES will be tonight (Wednesday, Dec. 4) at 8 p.m.

November was an unusually busy month for the OES, with members attending the regular meeting, a District 5 Line Officers School at Flint and a school of instruction, held jointly with Morning Star Chapter 279 of Ovid. The school of instruction was held at the St. Johns Masonic Temple Nov. 20, with Cecile Hayes, grand organizer of Fenton, as conductress.

Special ed discussed at DeWitt

DeWitt—The DeWitt Board of Education members have stated that additional money will be needed for next year to operate the special education program. At present the special education programs operate only on the elementary and junior high level. There are some students now entering high school next year, and their special educational needs will have to be met, the board said. The district presently spends about $9,000 per year on special education.

A student teacher program will be established in cooperation with Michigan State University by the DeWitt board of education. The program will cover student teaching in both the elementary and high school grades, and will be under the direction of Don Mueller, high school principal.

Willard Reed, school board president, named a committee to study board policies on bidding made by construction firms. The board members felt that a policy clarification was needed on the construction bidding procedures.

YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

Question: There are two widely separate dates on the face of each of my recent savings bonds. How can I determine when they started earning interest?

Answer: Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares earn interest from their "issue date" which is the first day of the month in which they are purchased. Below the "issue date" is a space for the issuing agent's dating stamp—which shows the actual date the Bond or Share was issued. This latter date has no effect on interest accruals or the waiting period for redemption.

It pays to be honest, but sometimes collections are slow.

Baptist quiz team on the road; church to honor long-time members

Five area churches, including the First Baptist Church of St. Johns, have entered teams in the quiz programs on the Grand Rapids Association of Regular Baptist Churches.

The St. Johns church's team will travel to Portland this Saturday to compete with a team from the Laingsburg Baptist Church. The teenagers are quizzed over certain chapters of the book of II Corinthians. Other teams competing Saturday will be from Ionia Baptist Church and the Lyons Baptist Church.

The St. Johns First Baptist Church team consists of Nancy Silvers as captain and Trudy Estes, Joy Harrison, Janet De-Witt and John DeWitt. Mrs Richard Perry is quiz coach. This Sunday evening, Dec. 8, at 7 p.m., the First Baptist Church will honor 12 members who have had 40 or more years of continuous membership in the church.

MRS BLANCHE PARR has been a member 63 years and has the longest continuous membership. Leslie Brown has had 44 years of membership and is the oldest member at age 88. Others to be honored include Mrs Grace Penix, Miss Birdaline Smith, Mrs Lois Woodbury, Mrs Blanche Lee, Miss Edna Hurt, Mr and Mrs Frank Moore, Mrs

Leah Frayer and Mr and Mrs Fred Crowell.

Only seven other members have had 30 or more years. On Dec. 10 the First Baptist Church will have its annual Christmas Dessert Smorgasbord, where the ladies of the church invite their husbands to attend this very special elegant affair. Featured on the program will be an outstanding trumpeter from Detroit, Chuck Ohman, along with his sister Mrs Ruth Lehman, who plays the piano. This is the most special affair of the year at First Baptist Church and 180 people are expected to be in attendance.

The Women's Ensemble is in charge of decorations, with Mrs Ken Snider as chairman. Mr and Mrs Don Penix and Mr and Mrs Nelson Showers will be at the punch bowl. Program chairman is Mrs Robert Diltner, and food chairman is Mrs Ken Loudenbeck.

Elsie may vote on liquor

ELSE—There's a possibility Elsie village voters will be asked to vote on a liquor by the glass proposal in their March 11 village election.

Charles Lockwood, representing the Hitching Post Tavern, appeared before the Elsie Village Council last Monday evening to discuss the possibility.

He was given permission to circulate petitions for such a vote, but he was told he would need a number of signatures equal to 35 per cent of the number of voters who voted for village president last spring.

Mrs Patrick (Lenore) Foran succeeds Mrs Alice Blunt as village clerk after Mrs Blunt's resignation last month.

Village employee James Dorman was instructed to put up new street signs at intersections along Simonson Street and along Wight Street in the village.

Congregationalists plan Bible display Sunday

An exhibit of unusual Bibles is being planned for this Sunday, Dec. 8, at the First Congregational Church in St. Johns.

Members are being asked to bring their extraordinary Bibles to the church, along with information about it written on a 3x5 card. The Bibles will be on display during the coffee hour following the morning worship service.

The sermon for the day—Universal Bible Sunday—by the Rev Gerald Churchill will be "The Eternal Light" and will be devoted to the Bible.

The Christmas class of new members will be received into membership of the First Con-

On the job

One of the things about the Red Cross that most people don't consider around here is their work in times of disaster.

This is bloodmobile time again, and so the focus of attention on the Red Cross will be with that in mind.

Local Red Cross disaster officials reminded Clinton County residents this week of their presence in the event there is an immediate need for food, shelter, clothing, medical assistance, or other need resulting from a disaster.

Robert Prowant and Willis Hettler Jr. are the Clinton County Red Cross disaster contacts, and if they can't be reached maybe C.D. Shawnee can.

The disaster assistance is one phase of the Red Cross work, and officials emphasized no reimbursement for the assistance is required or expected.

May we humbly suggest that a donation of a pint of blood at the bloodmobile in St. Johns Dec. '18 might be a fitting way to show private and public gratitude for the public and private disaster work the Red Cross does?

The summer days are over 'N though they call it fall Old zero-puss is comin' on, 'N wantin' to play ball; Most everything fur bearin' Has donned a slick new coat, While mine is thin 'n shaggy Like some old billy goat!

The ground is fairly covered 'N well protected too, With seeds 'n plants moved well indoors Secure from winter's brow; Dams Nature hastens to protect From every wintry whim, The animals have new fur coats While mine is old and thin,

Some birds and beasts prepared and move Like folks to temperate zones, Where winter chill is nearly nil, Upon their brittle bones; But although I would like to fly, I mostly must demur, 'N seek relief from winter grief With nary a new fur!

The green beanie caper

I got to thinking about my freshman beanie the other day. I don't know why; it was just one of those thoughts that pop into your head from time to time.

I remember the game extremely well, because I never should have been there. I myself had been bedridden most of that week with the Asian flu, but the thud and crunch of football game on a crisp, clear fall day was too much.

that homecoming game rolled around it was rather beat up in appearance, having been stuffed in my back pocket whenever going into classroom buildings and being whisked out and worn when outside of buildings.

Healthy hike

By ELMER E. WHITE

The Michigan Civil Service Commission has settled on an average 6.9 per cent salary hike for the state's 43,000 classified employees.

partments and employee groups were weighed against public resistance to increasing public payrolls in setting the wage rate increase.

Included in the new pay plan is $2.67 million in additional fringe benefits. This encompasses liberal overtime compensation provisions.

"We don't expect everybody to be satisfied, but we think this package realistically approaches the public need for a reasonable level and quality of service in a tight labor market and an expanding economy," he added.

Last year the commission authorized an average raise of 6.3 per cent, costing $19 million overall. It was widely accepted by the employees—but considered short of their goal.

The commission report said above average increases were recommended in employment groups where there was continued large demand and short supply, or where there was high turnover.

Commission officials said the new pay plan dollar spread includes:

More than 800 teachers, including those in special education and rehabilitation trades, received increase recommendations ranging from 9 to 11 per cent.

About 23,000 state employees in the five lowest grades, who would get $9.85 million; an additional 1,074 employees in the six highest grades, who would get $1.43 million; another 18,407 employees in seven middle grades, who would get $12.89 million.

Regular clerical and administrative adjustments range from 5.2 to 7.1 per cent; labor and trade classes from 6.9 to 8.2 per cent; social welfare classes from 6.9 to 7.7 per cent, and physicians, psychiatrists and dentists from 6 to 8 per cent.

County has big role in proposed 910-mile trans-Michigan waterway

Lansing engineer envisages major branch following Looking Glass River through Clinton

By Dr John R. Snell — President
John R. Snell Engineers, Inc.
Lansing, Michigan

Like many areas of our country, the State of Michigan has a water problem. Although we are situated in the midst of an abundance of clean, fresh water, our water supply is not well distributed for its most effective usage. A look at the map of Michigan reveals the crux of the problem. Adjacent to four of the Great Lakes, Michigan's fresh-water shoreline is exceeded by that of no other state. Unfortunately the bulk of this shoreline lies in areas far removed from the state's population and industrial centers. In burgeoning areas like Flint, Lansing, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, and Grand Rapids, the existing supply of water is simply not sufficient to maintain the present rate of economic growth over the long haul. Wells and streams, which constitute the water supply, supply relatively limited amounts of water and thus cannot support unlimited population and industrial expansion. If more water is not brought to these people and industries, their growth rate will dwindle and other more favored outstate areas will profit by their loss.

The idea of transporting water from the Great Lakes to inland areas of the state is not a new one. A feasibility study completed in the late 1950's revealed that the cost of a trans-Michigan pipeline just to supply water for minimum municipal needs would cost up to three quarters of a billion dollars. This magnitude of cost would preclude agricultural and large scale industrial use and would have furnished only about 3% of the water needed.

The basic idea of transporting water to the mid-state area by means of an open waterway or chain of lakes was conceived by John R. Snell Engineers, Inc. of Lansing in 1963. The plan essentially involves lifting water out of Lake Huron and transporting it to the highest divide of south Michigan's watershed lying between the boundaries of Lapeer, Oakland and Genesee Counties. Thence the water would flow naturally down three major, planned waterways supplying critical areas of the state.

The waterway would originate in the international ship channel, some two miles north of Port Huron and about a mile off shore in Lake Huron. The first link in the proposed waterway is a 300 foot wide channel, about seven miles long, formed by widening and deepening the river and an already existing channel between Lake Huron and the Black River. Water from Lake Huron would flow up this channel to the first dam. At this point the water would be pumped up 80 feet into the first reservoir contained in the badly eroded, steep valley of the Black River and Mill Creek. Five miles up Mill Creek a 55 foot dam would be formed a second reservoir. Five miles west another reservoir, behind a 50 foot dam, would start the water on its way toward the watershed divide and its distribution across the state by means of gravity along its designated routes.

One of the three major routes envisaged is along the Looking Glass River to a point Northwest of Lansing. Just west of Lansing at a point where the banks of the Grand River are high and narrow, an aqueduct would carry the water across the Grand. Having crossed the Grand, the waterway would divide, one branch flowing down the relatively clean Thornapple River and the other, down the Battle Creek River to Battle Creek. Before reaching Grand Rapids, the Thornapple Branch would be split three ways: one branch going west along Rabbit River to Saugatuck, another working its way through lakes and creeks where it would cross above the Kalamazoo River at Plainfield and then flow along the Paw Paw River to Benton Harbor, St. Joseph and the third continuing along the Thornapple to Grand Rapids. The waters of all branches of this major route would ultimately flow as far as Lake Michigan.

A second major branch of the waterway would supply the greater Flint area, flowing northward from the divide. This water would supply industry and agriculture as well as augment the flow of the Flint and Saginaw Rivers.

The third major branch, flowing southward from the watershed divide, would supply the Pontiac and Detroit areas. This branch would separate just west of Pontiac, one leg going down the River Rouge to the Detroit River and the other flowing down the cleaner upper reaches of the Huron River toward Ann Arbor. Before reaching the contaminated portion of the Huron River the waterway would be separated from the river and would flow parallel to it. From another split west of Ann Arbor one branch would flow cross country to Jackson and another into the Raisin River near Dundee.

Construction is the major cost associated with the proposal. Besides the dams built east of the watershed divide to effect the transfer of Lake Huron water up to the divide, other dams would be needed in various places along the three branches of the waterway. Widening and deepening some of the rivers in various places would also be required in order to improve them for general recreation purposes. Rough estimates which include acquisition costs for land, excavation, dams, pumping and generating stations, and so forth, indicate that the more expensive sections of the waterway might reach a million dollars per mile while some portions would run only half as much. Total construction cost of the waterway and the equipment to run it would probably be about a half-billion dollars. Compared to Detroit's new 130" water line the waterway costs less to construct and operate per mile yet will supply over twenty times the volume of water. Cost of pumping the water from the Lake Huron level to high point of the watershed is reduced by off peak pumping.

Bathroom safety check wise

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE
Extension Home Economist

With the holidays fast approaching, let's make a safety check in the bathroom to be sure no accident mars these wonderful days. The National Safety Council lists the bathroom as the location of a high number of home accidents. Slipping heads the list.

Shiny, smooth porcelain and tile finishes and hard-surface floor covers are designed to make cleaning easy. But they also present conditions for dangerous slipping.

Here are some ways to reduce the possibility of accidents, if not eliminate them.

recommended for small rooms or those without windows.

It is possible to have a thermostatic tempering valve put on the bathroom hot water line to be sure scalding water never pours from the faucet.

A LOCKED MEDICINE cabinet is important when there are small children in the home. Youngsters can climb, so don't trust just a "high spot." Be sure your locked bathroom door can be opened from the outside. Modern bathroom door locks have a bar-key arrangement to prevent a child being caught in a locked room.

A small child should never be left alone in the bathroom. Inquisitive fingers can turn on a shower or youngsters can too easily lose their balance in a tub of water.

Check the safety features of your bathroom. Don't let an accident spoil your holiday.

Use non-slip treads with an adhesive backing in the tub and shower stall. Or use a rubber mat with good suction cups. Such mats have to be pressed down firmly after a little water has been drawn in the tub or shower floor. If you are installing new bathroom fixtures, give consideration to both tubs and showers with non-skid patterns etched into the bottom. These are proving very satisfactory.

Firmly anchored hand rails or grab bars are a must for older persons and are fine for all other ages also. They should be installed on the wall beside as well as inside the tub. A grab bar on a shower wall prevents many a fall. Clamp type bars, firmly attached to tubs work well for children, but perhaps are not quite as effective for adults.

PLATE GLASS sliding doors in showers should be tempered glass. Tempered glass is stronger than ordinary plate glass and if it is broken, tempered glass shatters into small pieces rather than into large jagged pieces. New type plastics are tough. Their resiliency absorbs blows without breaking and are worth consideration.

Bath mats and small rugs should have a non-skid backing. Even better is the rubber backed carpeting suitable for bathrooms. Not permanently anchored to the floor, it is easy to take up and launder. Large bathrooms can be carpeted in two or more pieces fastened together with special tape. The smaller pieces are thus easier to handle in laundering.

Special care must be taken with electrical appliances in bathrooms. No electrical appliance (hair dryers, razors, etc.) should be used while you are in the tub. If you must have a radio in the bathroom, be sure you use a battery operated transistor type. Even it should be located where it cannot fall into the tub. Portable, electric heaters are to be easily tipped over, or even touched for use in the bathroom. Gas heaters are never
