FACT finder

Are you concerned about getting the straight facts on a question which arises but don't know where to find the answer? We'll find the facts for questions submitted by our readers. Just drop us a line at FACT FINDER, Clinton County News St Johns 48879.

Q. We have been hearing rumors that something might be done about the partially razed dwelling on South Lansing St. We have talked to the owner this past year and she said they would do something about it. It is a health hazard and an eyesore not to mention children being seen playing in the building. They could get hurt. The fire department burned down a building next to this one this past summer in a fire drill. Couldn't they do this to this eyesore, too? BC, ST JOHNS.

A. Because you and other neighbors helped put the heat on, there'll be a big bonfire in your neighborhood this month. St Johns Fire Chief Clare Maier says the owner applied to the State Department of Public Health for a burning permit. The city's volunteer fire department is tentatively planning to burn the structure at its monthly fire drill—the third Monday. Afterwards maybe things will cool down a bit.

Q. What is holding up the bringing to trial the several men who were arrested this last summer for pushing drugs to the young people of St Johns? I heard one of the young men arrested brag the other day that they were going to drop the case against them. How can the city spend $600 to set up a bust and then not follow through? Taxpayer parent, ST JOHNS.

A. Those charged must be afforded their procedural rights, according to Clinton County Prosecuting Attorney Jon Newman, who adds they've been taking full advantage of them, too. Two pleaded guilty to charges of delivery of LSD and were sentenced to 3 years probation. Trials for 2 others, also charged with LSD delivery are likely to be set next week at the opening of the December circuit court term. The remaining 2 are to be arraigned in circuit court Dec 18. Prosecutor Newman says there's no chance the cases against them will be dropped and that the charges carry a maximum of 7 years imprisonment. The actual sentencing is up to the judge.

Q. When is the St Johns school system going to do something about the playground at the Central Elementary School? Not only is much of the equipment hazardous but it is continually muddy and dirty. My son comes home filthy and has already gone through a $25 coat. MW, ST JOHNS.

A. Progress is frozen right now. That's because cold weather stops the contractor from putting another layer on an approximate 150 x 79 ft playground area which has already been blacktopped. Central elementary principal Mike O'Connor says workmen got started late and a good job couldn't be done now if the sealer coat was applied. He agrees with you that the area has been a quagmire in the past but explains steps are being taken to correct it. He's making a personal inspection of playground equipment. Replacement is already in the works for a couple pieces of outdated and broken equipment.

Q. Now that Wall & Webb is closed, how do I get a ring back before Christmas that I took in to be repaired? TC, ST JOHNS

A. You should have it in or on your hand soon. FACT FINDER called Lester Lake, owner, who said he'd be in touch with you. Lake plans to reopen for business Thursday for a stock reduction sale.

LAST WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you feel Revenue Sharing funds should be used to improve county roads?

YES: 100%

"There is a definite need for better county roads because of the growth of our county, especially in the south". "yes, it is a project that's necessary". "something has to be done soon." (See story on Revenue Sharing)

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you feel the Christmas season costs you too much money?

YES 'NO'

Units wait for checks

It's revenue waiting game

It's a waiting game in Clinton County for county units wondering: "how much and when?"

Although figures have been released naming amounts units are to receive from Federal Revenue Sharing no definite amounts have been named and no checks had been received by Monday night.

While the County Board of Commissioners have made tentative plans for their share of Revenue Sharing, other units, such as DeWitt Township are not counting their "chickens until the Revenue Sharing egg is hatched."

At their Monday night meeting the DeWitt city administrator, Dan Elliott, said he couldn't name an exact figure DeWitt would receive and recommended delaying plans for use of the funds until the check is received.

BATH CHARTER Township, operating with several new board members since the November election, also has not made any plans for the federal funds.

In DeWitt Township, officials are also waiting for the check to arrive before putting the money to any specific use.

St Johns is another unit not making any plans until they have the check in hand. The city has set up a special account for the money and Tom Hurdley, city clerk, said he believes definite plans for the funds will be made when the city receives the money.

On the county level, commissioners are working with a figure of $353,000, previously reported to be slated for the county government.

They have approved $150,000 for road improvement on a 1-year program. Road commissioners have requested $150,000 for 5 years, but the county said they have no way of knowing how much they will receive in the future and didn't want to obligate the board beyond 1 year.

A total of $68,786 was set for the Sheriff's Dept to finance salaries, Clinton County Sheriff Percy Patterson and wife, Dora, were the guests of honor at a noon luncheon at Daley's Monday in St Johns. Present were law enforcement officials, judicial members, attorneys and other county officials who honored Percy, who is retiring as sheriff after 24 years of service, from 1949 until 1973. During the dinner he was presented with a snowmobile suit and boots and Mrs Patterson received a table centerpiece.

Eagle patrons help capture 4 subjects

EAGLE - Four would-be villains got more than they bargained for recently. According to Sheriff's Dept reports 2 subjects entered the Eagle Inn at 12:27 am and ordered beer and pizza.

When the owner, Fred Catlin, went to the storeroom for the pizza, he reported seeing a man and then said 2 jumped him.

It was reported Catlin was knocked to the floor and hit several times when he yelled for help.

Three customers: Jerry Daniels of Eagle, Bill Evert of Eagle and Odes

Posey of Rt 3 Portland went to Catlin's aid.

They held the 2 when another came out, but got away when chased.

An ex-Grand Ledge policeman, Catlin went to his home about 300 yards away for a gun and handcuffs.

On the way back he saw a van which had pulled away earlier. He attempted to flag the vehicle down, but told police he was nearly struck. He shot several times at the vehicle, which was driven for 2 miles, where Deputy Donald Kennel and Catlin spotted the driver attempting to change a tire flattened by a round from Catlin's gun.

Arrested were Gary Eugene Slater, 21, 1428 Kenilworth Dr, Lansing; William Mikulek, 20, 3833 Wilson Ave, Lansing; Michael Warren Severns, 20, 1425 Briarwood, Lansing; and Jeffrey Rich, 19, 4709 W Grand River, Lansing. They were charged with breaking and entering and bond was set at $1000 which was posted by all 4.

The breaking and entering took place when they broke into a door at the back of the building which is always locked. A trial date will be scheduled.

Mrs Makara wins again-- ups lottery take to $50,000

ST JOHNS - $10,000 plus Thursday equals $50,000 is a winning formula for Mrs Helen Makara.

The lucky St Johns woman was a $50,000 winner at Thursday's Super Drawing of the Michigan Lottery. She accepted a check for $10,000 from lottery director Gus Harrison at the Michigan National Guard Armory in Lansing where the first drawing in state history took place. The remainder will be paid over the next 4 years.

"I'm not a bit disappointed about not winning the $200,000 but I am a bit shook up about this whole thing." Ms Makara commented following the drawing. She said she still plans to throw an all night party for the people she represents as a committee woman of UAW Local No 652 at Oldsmobile.

"People in St Johns have been very nice - everybody has said they were glad a person like me was a super winner. Some of them have asked what I would win in the second week," she says. Her plans are to bank most of the money, although she admits she'd like to visit Hawaii or Alaska.

One thing she's definite about is her future plans for the state lottery. "I'll continue to buy raffle tickets - 13 at a time," she told the County News.

Hospital joins new placental tissue study

ST JOHNS - Efforts to further reduce infant mortality in Michigan involve a partnership between Clinton Memorial Hospital, St Johns, and the new Placental Tissue Registry of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Clinton Memorial Hospital is one of 26 in Michigan cooperating in the MSMS research project, started in 1970.

"The MSMS Committee on Maternal and Perinatal Health feels that the placenta may provide clues to hidden birth defects and deaths of infants," reports Joseph R Cipparone, MD, of Lansing, chairman of the Tissue Registry.

Dr Cipparone, a pathologist, says it is unfortunate the research is just now being applied to the placenta - a cake-like organ within the uterus which provides nutrition for the unborn child.

According to Dr Cipparone, examination of the placenta can sometimes provide clues to medical problems that may threaten the life of a child or indicate a hidden birth defect that once identified can be corrected. In the case of an infant death, study of the placenta may produce information that can be used to help the mother produce a normal, healthy child if she becomes pregnant again.

TO FURTHER placenta research, the Michigan State Medical Society set up the Placental Tissue Registry at the Michigan State University College of Human Medicine.

The purpose of the registry is the "Acquisition of pathologic placental tissue specimens contributed from various sources in the State of Michigan and dissemination of the knowledge gained by a study of these specimens to those concerned with the care of the pregnant patient and her child," Dr Cipparone said. The files of the registry are maintained in the pathology department at MSU.

Michigan is believed to be the only state having such a registry, Dr Cipparone reports.

Dr Cipparone said nearly all hospitals, both medical and osteopathic, examine abnormal placentas in their own pathology departments, and both medical and osteopathic physicians send placentas to the MSMS registry for a greater concentration of minute details.

Gross (naked eye) and microscopic examinations of tissues are performed at the registry by Charles H Sander, MD, assistant professor of pathology at MSU, and Doctor Cipparone, who is also an associate clinical professor of pathology at MSU. Each year the registry received more than 100 specimens in 1971 and 150 so far this year from various hospitals around the state including the Upper Peninsula. About one half were associated with infant deaths.

There is no charge to the physician or patient for studying the specimen reporting. The registry receives an annual $1000 grant from the Bureau of Maternal Health of the Michigan Department of Public Health to cover expenses.

The placenta of a young woman who had to deliver her second baby by Caesarean section was recently received by Dr Cipparone. Although her five-pound baby lived, it had been in some difficulty during the delivery. Dr Cipparone hopes to find some hidden clue in the placenta which will help the young woman have a healthier pregnancy next time.

He told of the case of a 19-year-old woman who delivered a stillborn baby. The woman had had eclampsia, a form of toxemia, with convulsions, while pregnant. When he examined her placental tissue he found fatty materials at its base similar to those which could be found in the blood vessels of a coronary arteriosclerotic patient.

After further tests he advised her obstetrician to put her on an anti- or low cholesterol diet. If she becomes pregnant again, Doctor Cipparone hopes the diet will aid her in having a successful delivery.

Post Office sets office hours for holiday season

The St Johns post office will extend Saturday window hours Dec 9 and 16. Service windows will be open from 9 am to 4 pm on the next 2 Saturdays for the convenience of Christmas customers. Dec 14-16 is the latest suggested date to mail greeting cards to foreign countries by air mail in time to be delivered by Christmas.

Dec 9-11 is the latest date for foreign air mail parcels.

For domestic surface mail, parcels should be mailed by Dec 10 and greeting cards by Dec 15.

Freight offices will close in Pewamo, Ovid, Fowler

LANSING - The Michigan Public Service Commission announced Friday that it approved an application by Grand Trunk Western Railroad to close freight stations in Clinton, Genesee, Gratiot, Ingham, Ionia, Kalamazoo and Shiawassee counties.

The railroad now has authority to close its freight stations at Pewamo, Ovid, Fowler, Davison, Middleton, Stockbridge, Climax and Lennon.

GTW has told the Commission that the volume of business at each of the stations has dropped to the point where it can no longer justify keeping the freight stations open. The Commission reviewed protests to the proposed closings before issuing its order.

Central National announces plans for new branch here

JOHNS -- Harold Wellman, President of Central National Bank of St. Johns, has announced the proposed construction of a full service branch bank, which will be located at the Southgate Shopping Center. The branch bank will consist of 4 drive-up kiosk units and 3 lobby teller windows. It is estimated the proposed building will cost approximately $300,000 and will be in operation April 1, 1973.

Wellman indicated the assets of Central National Bank recently reached a $25 million, which is double the size of the bank only 4 years ago.

He said Central National Bank is pleased to provide this additional service to the growing community."

Any salary raises will be retroactive to Jan 1, 1973. City attorney, Daniel Matson, said statutes prohibit depositing of funds with Farm Bureau Services or Capital Savings and Loan.

Currently the cemetery endowment fund is deposited with those 2 businesses and Matson said the board would not legally continue.

Mayor Ray DeWitt asked that steps be taken to correct the situation.

Council members Ronald Mull and Wayne Wilcox discussed the need of new fire equipment for the city. Wilcox said, "We should take a good strong look at our firefighting equipment." Elliott and Wilcox said cost of a new pumper would run between $36,000 - $40,000.

He was right something wrong

OIDV-- Donald Bruce Taylor, 1345 S Warner, Ovid, saw something was wrong when his light flashed on his automobile instrument dash. When he looked down, taking his eyes off the road, the vehicle went into a ditch. After returning from a house where he called authorities he found his car burning. The car was totally destroyed by flames.

The walls haven't come tumblin' down at this house on South Townsend Rd and the neighbors don't like it. They've asked city commissioners to do something about it. St Johns Fire Chief Clare Maier reports the owners applied for a burning permit after the commission put the heat on.

Millions of trees planted

Michigan State Conservationist for USDA, Soil Conservation Service, Arthur H. Cratty, has just released the tree and shrub planting totals for 1972. There were 13,392,000 trees and shrubs planted. Along with rural environmental improvement which will result from these plantings, there is also erosion control, forestry and wildlife benefits.

The planting program is a result of joint work by many local Soil Conservation District, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and the Soil Conservation Service. Since 1936, Mr. Cratty reports over 400,000,000 trees and shrubs have been planted. He estimates that this means about 500,000 acres of land have been improved by these plantings. Clinton County Soil Conservation District furnished leadership for planting 55,355 trees during 1972. This represents about 89 acres of protection. Stanley Baird, chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation

District states that 600 acres have been planted in Clinton

Open Letter

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family. The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W Hoag

In addition to the standard Type A lunch, the cooks will also be offering an A La Carte menu. Daily items include hamburgers, hot dogs, french fries, apple and cherry pies, twinkies, cupeakes, oranges, apples, cookies, and chocolate milk. Specials, in addition to daily items, will include Mondays - ham & cheese on bun, Tuesdays - Mike (small submarine sandwich), Wednesdays - burritas (spicy sandwich), Thursdays - pizza, and Fridays - cheese-burgers. All items range in price from 5¢ (chocolate milk) to 40¢ (mike).

The students have been asking for a change in the lunch program, and with the help of Mrs. Balderson, the head cook, the student council, and Don Mueller, principle, the A La Carte program has become a reality. Thanks to all who have assisted the A La Carte menu to become a part of the lunch program.

In other areas of interest, we would like to encourage everyone to support our school. There is always something happening at DHS Tonight (Wednesday) is the girls' BB game with Pottersville at DeWitt. The varsity team is now in second place and there is always plenty of action as the girls battle it out. Game time is 6:30.

Thursday, the wrestling team will travel to Dansville for their weekly match. The freshman team will play at home against Lansing Catholic Central, Thursday at 7 pm. Friday, both the varsity and junior varsity teams will challenge Portland St Pats here at 7 pm.

In action Thursday, Nov 30, the wrestlers outscored Haslett 37 to 27. Kurt Martens, Chris Corr and Dale Young both succeeded in pinning their man.

On the academic scene, report cards were distributed Nov 7. There were no classes Nov 8 because of parent teacher conferences. There were 53 freshmen, 31 sophomores, 41 juniors, and 55 seniors on the honor roll. Of the 180 on the honor roll, only 6 students earned all A's.

The senior class is preparing for graduation. They have chosen navy blue and burgandy as their class colors. Announcements have also been ordered. Nov 20, Powell Studios delivered senior portraits.

The junior class has boosted its treasury by holding a Donkey Basketball game. The funds will be spent on the Junior Senior prom, which is now in the planning stages.

Wednesday, Dec 13, the High School Band and Chorus will present a Christmas Concert. Look for details in next week's paper. All drivers beware!!! There will be a new crop of drivers on the roads (trails) in DeWitt as the fall driver's education classes finish in mid-December. There will be another session beginning in the spring.

The students in French club are trying to raise enough funds for a trip to France in the spring. At one of their last meetings, they had a guest speaker from an Airline Company. The trip will cost each member between $300-$400. Mrs. Olivera Bukovinsky, French teacher, is the French club sponsor.

The student council is trying to organize a school newspaper. It will be sponsored by Tom Mauro, and backed by the art department, the graphic arts department and other interested groups, if it is cleared through the administration.

Other flicks of interest around the halls of DHS are the film flicks being shown during activity period. They are sponsored by the co-ed phys ed class; the new sweaters (off-white, v-neck, varsity letter) the varsity club members are wearing and the movies being sponsored by Mrs Elaine Kutchins, Mr Tom Sawyer, the sophomore and junior classes, and the student council. Four movies will be shown, spread out over the school year. The first, Rebel Without A Cause, was shown to the student body on Nov 21 and 22. Basically, the sophomores and seniors viewed the film Tuesday, and the freshman and juniors saw it Wednesday. Generally all students enjoyed the movie and a special thanks goes to all who helped bring the movie to DHS, especially Mrs Kutchins and Mr Sawyer.

St Johns High School Junior Bob Halmo operates the school's new multilith duplicator.

St Johns High School SJH Happenings

by Theresa Huard

On behalf of the Clinton National Bank, St Johns High School now has a Multilith Duplicator.

The Multilith Duplicator, an offset printing press, would usually cost the school approximately $2000 but last October Charles Huntington, a representative from Clinton National Bank made arrangements with Mr Kramer, head of the business department for the school, to receive the duplicator.

The main advantage of this type of press is the clearness of print and pictures.

Mimeograph machines, which the Torch (the school paper) previously used, caused print to come out too light or too dark and often smeared. Pictures were harder to print and usually came out very distorted. Another advantage of the Multilith Duplicator is that it has created a job for Bob Halmo, junior who is associated with the Business Department through his Typing I class. Bob has learned to operate the machine on his own with the help of an instruction booklet.

In addition to the Torch, the machine is used to print the programs for the drama productions, wrestling matches, Staff and Drama Club newsletters.

Future plans are being made to use the duplicator for school district newsletters, the school curriculum guide and eventually school stationery. Mr. Kramer hopes that a class might be added to the curriculum in which many other students could learn and benefit from operation of the Multilith Press.

Butter cookies will stay flavorful if you follow these few suggestions for storing. Bar cookies should be stored uncut in a tightly covered baking pan. Store soft cookies in a tightly covered container; crisp cookies in a loosely covered container. Keep all in a cool place and do not mix soft and crisp cookies together.

Five SJHS students travel to COSMOS

MT PLEASANT - Five St Johns High School students were among 200 from 23 countries, who took part in COSMOS, sponsored by the State YMCA of Michigan at Central Michigan University Dec 1-3.

Several wonderful things have occurred to make COSMOS a reality. The community of Mt Pleasant has opened its heart and homes, with local families hosting participants coming from all over the state. The program designed under the leadership of Miss Debbie Barnat, a doctoral student from Michigan State University, offers many new experiences for all. The small group discussions, individual conversations, and total group "Cosmic Happening" are all meant to sharpen our awareness of the similarities and differences in the many cultures of the world. . . . eating with chopsticks, listening to students who have lived their lives under the cloud of war, dancing the Mexican Hat Dance, or seriously discussing issues that affect all people of all countries. All is designed with this purpose in mind. Dr Nicholas Goncharoff, a former Russian prisoner of war and presently Director of International Education and World Affairs of the National Council of YMCA's, was a special guest resource. It is through programs such as COSMOS that young people the world over will come to a better understanding of each other, and hopefully the result will be peaceful co-existence and the absence of conflict.

Local participants were Rita Kissane, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Kissane, Route 3; Sandi Munger, daughter of Mr and Mrs Keith Munger, 211 West Buchanan and Kitty Smit (Holland) staying with Mr and Mrs Wayne Bruin, 3760 East Taft Rd; Debbie Thelen, daughter of Mr and Mrs Alvin J Thelen, Route 2; and Ursula Itschner (Switzerland) staying with Mr and Mrs Wayne Ward, 501 W Baldwin Street.

Fulton High School On the scene

with Cheryl Snyder

Gaining their 1st victories for the season were the junior varsity and varsity basketball teams Friday, December 1. The varsity Pirates posted a 56-53 win over the Lansing Christian Pilgrims, after being behind most of the way. It shows that the blue and gold never give up! Leading the way were Larry Badge and Stuart Kanitz with 15 and 13 points respectively. The junior varsity, however, had an easier time of it, breezing past the Pilgrims 54-49. High scorers were Doug Antes and Pete Maniez with 19 and 17 points respectively. A SPIRIT raising pep assembly was held the last 15 minutes of the day by the JV and varsity cheerleaders. Each class president came down and led their class in a cheer. The loudest class gave the softest class a "pie in the eye." The sophomores were the winners and their president, Gavin Tyler gave the losing junior president, Dave Croad the "pie in the eye." Mr Parker, varsity coach, and Mr Wright, junior varsity coach, gave short talks and introduced the 1972-73 basketball players.

On Monday, December 4, Fulton students enjoyed an all-school paid assembly entitled "Broadway In Sight."

Facing big opponents

Redwings have experience, speed

After clobbering non-league opponent Ovid-Elsie in the season opener, the St Johns Redwings dropped their 2nd contest to Ionia.

However, coach Doug Japinga is counting on the experience of his squad to improve on last season's 4-13 mark.

Returning this season are Charlie Faivor, Bruce Irish, Ed Jorae, Alex ManKinnon, Dennis Parker, Dan Mohnke and Mike Sutherland.

Japinga also plans to make use of the talent of some players who gained experience with the junior varsity last season.

Not a particularly tall club, the Redwings will be pitting their speed against the height of opposing squads during the '73 season.

Japinga said Ionia is to be considered the favorite in the West Central League this year. Ionia has 2 outstanding talents in Kurt Kaeding, 6-8, and a real fine shooting guard, Steve Walter. Both players had outstanding performances in their encounter with the Redwings and will probably continue against their other league opponents.

Redwing opponents, on the other hand, will be in for 4 quarters of fast basketball with St Johns combining their quickness with a good defense. West Central teams will most likely often feel the sting of an exploding fast break—an edge that can give a good fast team points while rattling their opponent's offensive attack.

Heighth is strength

Question mark for Ovid-Elsie

Bob Foreback, Ovid-Elsie cage coach, sees this year as "a question mark."

"We have fine material returning from last year's team," he said. "We will build around these 4 players with 3 other seniors having a chance to earn a starting position on the team."

"Our strength this year will be over-all team heighth. We lack the big man, but could start 5 boys 6-1. We have some good shooters and some rebounders returning. Gary Groom, our leading scorer and rebounder is missing the first few games of the season because of an injury. This could hurt us now early in the year."

Foreback said his teams' weakness will be "over-all speed."

He looked at St Louis as the team to beat this season. He added "Chesaning and Ithaca return veteran teams and should push St Louis for the league title. O-E, Bullock Creek and Corunna are improved, making this 1 of the most balanced leagues since I've been at Ovid-Elsie."

Enthusiastic reports on Eagles

Following an outstanding 17-4 season last year, the Fowler Eagle cagers return this season with 8 returning lettermen, 6 of whom saw plenty of action last season.

Losing only 3 league games last season, the Eagles went all through the district tournament and to the regional championship game, when they lost to Webberville.

Coach Charles Trierweiler sees Springport as their biggest problem for the Eagles this year along with returning talent to the Webberville and Potterville teams. He also said Pewamo-Westphalia is a team with a lot of potential.

Trierweiler is enthusiastic about this season's prospects and said, "I'm real optimistic. The team got a lot of experience last year and I've seen a lot of improvement already this season."

Fowler has already started the season on a winning note with a convincing 76-56 victory over Portland St Patrick. The victory displayed a balanced scoring attack with 4 players, Johnny Simon, Scott Spicer, Mel Pohl and Tony Thelen hitting in double figures.

Fowler fans wishing to see the Eagles in action at home shouldn't waste time. Because of schedule changes, Fowler will have no home games after January.

Only 2 starters back

Young squad for DeWitt

A young squad will be fighting the basketball wars for the DeWitt Panthers this season.

Although 4 lettermen have returned to the Panthers, only 2 were starters in any games last year.

Offensively, the Panthers will be led by Randy Lankford, Steve Dalman and Chris McNeilly.

Strong rebounding performances are expected from Tom Ashley and Mike Ferguson.

DeWitt lacked rebounding strength in their season opener against Bath, but Coach Frank Deak sees it as a lack of experience. He looks forward to the team picking up during the course of the season.

Defensively, DeWitt will be facing opponents with a variety of defenses, switching from a zone to man-to-man depending on the game situations.

They plan to run whenever they can and will be working to break loose with the fast break. With the rebounding of Lankford and Dalman, plus their ability to steal the ball, DeWitt will feature a fast-paced offense ready to take advantage of opponent's miscues.

Deak sees Fowler and Springport as the teams to beat with Bellevue and Pewamo-Westphalia offering strong competition.

The Pirates of Pewamo-Westphalia are still recovering from football season with 4 varsity players and another on this year's team from last year's squad on the injured list with football injuries.

A relatively small team, the Pirates are depending on their experience to put them into contention this year.

P-W has 7 returning lettermen this year, but Jim Hengesbach, Mike Miller, Doug Walter and Tom Davern are out with an assortment of football injuries consisting of 2 injured knees, 2 broken ankles and a broken hand.

Coach Harry Peacock, sees the team in contention "if we can get healthy. Once the team is back to full-strength, they'll have plenty of depth with good shooters.

They plan on using a zone defense plus a man-to-man to utilize the team's speed, depending on the opponent.

Carrying a respectable 14-6 record from last season, Coach Peacock in his 4th year as coach of the Pirates looks to Fowler and Springport as the teams to beat.

Just 2 lettermen return

It's defense for Bath Bees

Defense will be the name of the game for the Bath Bees basketball team this year.

That's how coach Richard Wilt describes this season. "We know we're going to have to play good defense," he explained, "because we're not a great offensive team."

After a 15-6 record last year when Bath went all the way to the quarterfinals, only 2 lettermen have returned to the Bees squad -- Fritz Ordway and Dale Cantwell.

"Much will predict," Wilt said, "upon how rapidly our juniors mature. We should be a good rebounding team with Ordway doing the job for us there. We lack good team shooting and speed. "Doug Kesson, a junior up from the junior varsity shows a lot of promise and we expect him to take up a lot of the offensive slack.

"Robin Tucker and Glen Tarrant, both juniors, are capable of scoring, but they just haven't put it together yet. We're hopeful they'll turn into varsity ballplayers."

In a league where they're not predicted to be in contention, Wilt said 6 teams have been given a chance to win the league.

Leslie and Stockbridge are the considered the co-favorites and they're expected to get competition from Dansville, Perry, Williamston and Pinckney.

Redwings fall to Ionia after victory over O-E

Ionia jumped off to an early 10-0 lead and the St Johns Redwings were never able to catch up Friday as Ionia took a 84-68 victory.

Kurt Kaeding and Steve Walter of Ionia did the large share of the damage to the Redwings, pouring in 26 points and 31 points each. In the 1st quarter, Kaeding canned 6 or 7 jump shots from 20-feet out, pacing the Bulldogs to their early 10-point margin.

The Redwings finally found the range in that opening quarter for 11 points, but Ionia held a 22-11 1st quarter advantage.

In the 2d quarter, St Johns pretty much stayed even with the Bulldog scoring hitting for 23 points while Ionia dumped in 25 points.

GOING INTO the 2d half Ionia, held a 45-36 lead and continued their hot shooting in the 3d quarter, hitting for 24 points, while holding Redwing shooters to 10 points.

St Johns pulled a 4th quarter shooting advantage, picking up 22 points while Ionia stayed with their regulars and hit the basket for 15.

The Redwings pulled within 5 in the 2d quarter and, after being down by as much as 23 points at 1 time, pulled within 14 in the last period.

Leading the scoring for the Redwings was Doug Woodhams, junior forward, who hit for 15 points and Alex MacKinnon, senior guard, also with 15. Also in double figures was Mike Sutherland with 10 points, followed by Chuck Faivor with 8, Tom French with 6, Den Parker with 6 and Bruce Irish with 5 points.

The Redwings fared better earlier in the week when they downed Ovid-Elsie 72-53.

MIKE SUTHERLAND led the scoring with 17 points. Also in double figures were

Doug Woodhams with 13 and Alex MacKinnon with 10, followed by Don Mohnke with 9, Chuck Faivor with 9, Dennis Parker and Bruce Irish with 4, Ed Jorae with 3, and Mark Deboer with 2. The Redwings shooting eye hit at a 44% clip, while Ovid-Elsie couldn't connect on more than 23% of their shots.

Redwing Jayvee cagers win 1st two contests

St Johns junior varsity cagers took their 1st 2 games of the season last week, downing Ovid-Elsie 72-53 Tuesday and Ionia 57-52 Friday.

Jeff Hazel led the scoring in the victory over O-E with 14 points, followed by Wayne Wilson with 12 and Kevin Knight with 11.

The Jayvee Redwings took an early 1st quarter 27-8 lead. In the 2d period, they outscored O-E 14-13 for a 41-21 halftime lead.

Ovid-Elsie outscored St Johns in the 3d quarter, 15-14 and both teams hit for 17 points in the final quarter. Wayne Wilson led the Redwings rebounding with 10.

AN EXPLOSIVE 3d quarter gave the Redwings the edge in a squeaker Friday night at Ionia. St Johns trailed 29-22 going into that 3d period, but poured in 24 points, while holding Ionia to 12.

They were outscored 12-11 in the final period, but held onto a 57-53 victory.

Jeff Hazel led the scoring with 13 points and Bill Kohls pumped in 12.

Kohls led the rebounding with 9 and guard Jim Moriarty turned in a scrappy defensive performance. He also added 9 points to the winning effort.

They were followed by Robin Tucker with 8 and Glen Tarrant with 6.

Wrestlers take second

Bath outrebounded Leslie 42-37, but the 30 turnovers were difficult to overcome, with Leslie turning the ball over only 18 times.

After losing their season wrestling opener to Perry 29-25, Ovid-Elsie took 2nd place out of 18 teams in the Okemos invitational.

Clinton area SPORTS

In the victory over DeWitt, Ordway was again the leading scorer, dumping in 25 points, followed closely by Cantwell with 24. Also in double figures were Steve Dalman with 12, Randy Lankford with 12, Kesson with 11 and Mark Colby with 10.

WESTPHALIA BUILDERS & SUPPLY COMPANY

"Keep your customer serviced and satisfied."

"Keep your customer serviced and satisfied" is Westphalia Builders & Supply Co's motto. It's paid off, too. Business has increased 10% yearly since its beginning as a partnership in 1957. Charles A Hengesbach and Harold Schrauben formed the Westphalia Builders & Supply Co in that year dealing in residential construction.

March 7, 1958 the business was incorporated with Hengesbach elected president. Offices, showroom and warehouses were built at 7200 Grange Rd a mile and half south of Westphalia in 1960 and Hengesbach became sole owner in 1962.

Today, Westphalia Builders & Supply Co does light commercial construction and builds homes in a 40 mile radius. The list of employees has grown from 4 to 50 with a branch office started in 1970 at 1440 Godfrey SW, Wyoming, a Grand Rapids suburb.

At their Grange Rd location, Westphalia Builders & Supply Co deals in carpeting, windows, inlaid flooring, handtools, paneling, countertopping, hardware roofing appliances and all lumber supplies. They are the biggest dealer in gypsum products from here to Detroit retailing over 12 million feet of dry wall yearly. In addition to excavating, they sell and install Viking Saunas. From 1 panel truck in '57, their fleet of trucks has grown to 7. They're open for business Monday through Friday from 8 am to 5 pm and Saturday until noon.

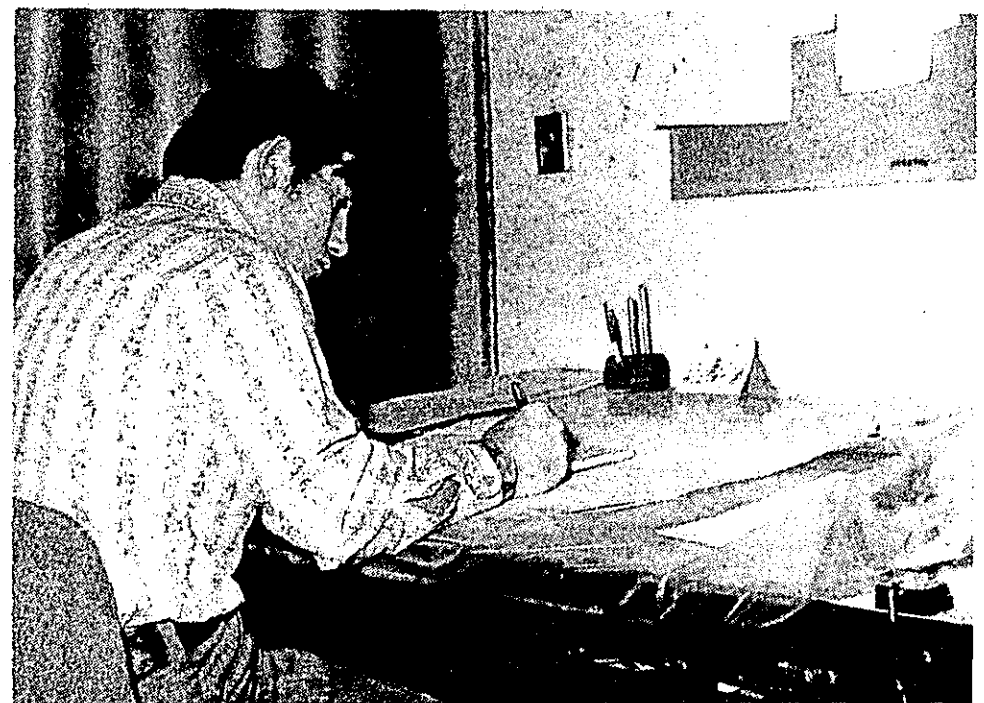

People behind the scenes are Paul Hengesbach, lumber yard division manager; Walt Thelen, construction estimator and Clarence Eddy, assistant manager and purchasing. Jerry Shipalia is the Grand Rapids division manager, while El Donaldson is comptroller.

Westphalia Builders & Supply Co is a family operation headed by Charles, president and treasurer. His father, Anthony, who was instrumental in the business' beginning, is yard manager; his wife Janet is secretary, and his brother, Paul is vice president.

By maintaining the motto, "keep your customer serviced and satisfied, they have built the second and third homes for families. They are continually looking for property to acquire for future expansion.

Westphalia Builders & Supply Co is the largest dealer in gypsum products from here to Detroit retailing over 12 million ft of dry wall yearly. Paul Hengesbach, seated and Clarence Eddy look over the warehouse supply.

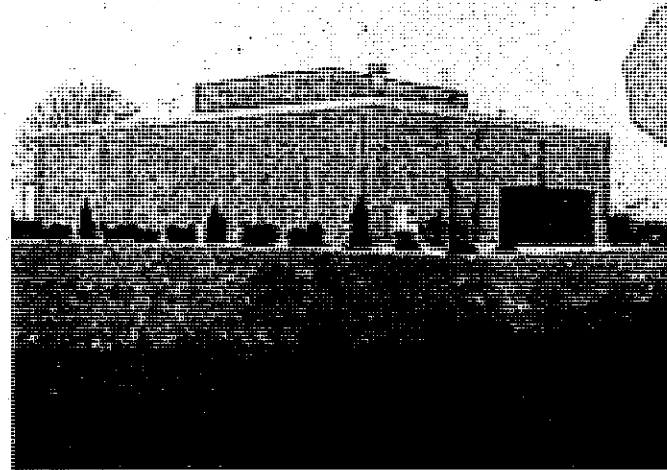

At his drafting desk is Walt Thelen, construction estimator for Westphalia Builders & Supply Co.

Explaining the growth of Westphalia Builders and Supply Co are Charles Hengesbach, president and treasurer, and his wife Janet, secretary, right, to Bob Barker, manager of Pewamo branch office of Central National Bank and Harold Wellman, Central National Bank president.

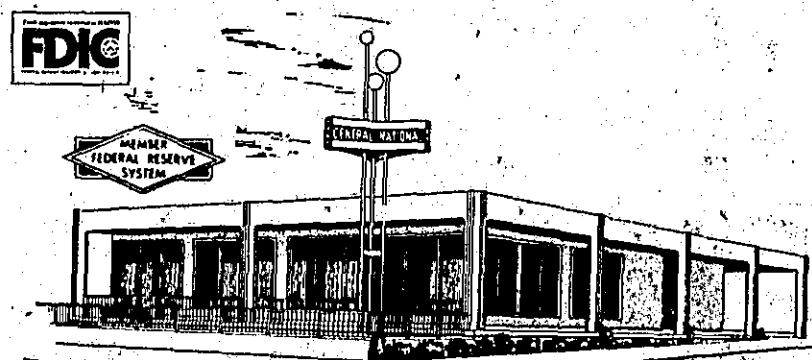

This home west of Westphalia is one of the fine examples of custom-built residences by Westphalia Builders & Supply Co.

An example of Westphalia Builders & Supply Co's light commercial construction is the General Telephone building west of Fowler completed last fall.

There's a future in electronics

St Johns High School Electronics II students Tom Butler, left, and Joe Fernholz work on a car radio.

(Editor's Note: This is the first of 5 features on a Clinton County vocational-education program known as shared time being administered by St Johns High School in cooperation with Ovid-Elsie, Bath, Pewamo-Westphalia and Fowler school districts on an experimental basis this year.)

By LEE PETERS
News Staff Writer

ST JOHNS - "There are good paying jobs in the electronics field not requiring a 4-year degree," is what David Birdsley says to students thinking about a career in that field.

And the St Johns High School vocational education instructor makes it sound convincing. Enrollment in basic electronics at St Johns has increased from 23 students last year to 77.

"THIS IS the first time we've offered our facilities to other schools in the county," explains Birdsley, a state certified teacher. "Our program allows them to take career oriented courses not offered at their own schools" he adds. For the 1972-73 academic year Bath and Fowler students are participating, but Birdsley has voiced optimism more districts will join in next year.

Two Fowler teenagers are enrolled in basic electronics because it is not taught at their school. "The basic course is a prerequisite for electronics II or radio servicing," says Birdsley, "and 3 Bath boys have joined our students in that course. They will be back next for electronics III or TV servicing."

Basic electronics composes 4 classes meeting an hour daily, taught by Birdsley, a 12-year Air Force veteran, and John Mellinger, a Northern Michigan University graduate. Studied are atomic theory, DC circuits, magnetism, AC circuits, vacuum tube and transistor theory. "We teach theory on the board and students prove what we've been talking about in the laboratory."

A radio servicing class meets 2 hours daily learning about AM and FM radios, auto radios, stereo and stereo system, hi-fidelity phonographs and 8 track recorders. The TV servicing class also meets daily for 2 hours studying black and white and color television theory and antenna installation. A background in basic computer circuits is given as this is an area common to any electronics field, according to Birdsley. For each class, students are graded on their understanding of theory and troubleshooting ability with a full credit given toward graduation.

"A well-equipped lab is available," maintains Birdsley, "and we have everything we need. We have radio equipment and black and white and color TV sets called trainers where the instructors put the bugs in and the students find them. People can also bring in radios, TVs, phonographs for servicing. Cost is a $1 service fee plus the cost of parts needed for repair." Birdsley cautions that if you're in a hurry don't bring in the equipment as it's basically a learning situation.

Upon completion of all 3 courses students are at the entry level for work in radio and TV servicing. "They have all the theory and know basic troubleshooting procedures," concludes Birdsley.

Troubleshooting a 5 tube AM radio are shared time students Robert Hubble and Norm Viachet, seated, of Bath High School.

A state certified vocational education instructor, David Birdsley discusses a 5 tube AM radio with St Johns students Gary Mankey, center, and Kirk Nostrant. Students enrolled in radio servicing this year will advance to television servicing for 1973-74.

Host families needed in Clinton County

The 20th Annual "Adventure in World Understanding" will be held at Michigan State University from December 22-30, 1972. Approximately 60 foreign students attending colleges throughout the United States are expected to participate in this program.

One of the highlights in the program over the past few years has been the overnight visit to a farm, rural non farm or urban family. Each student will be able to spend an overnight visit from Sunday, Dec 24 through Christmas Day, Dec 25, if enough host families are located.

The student should be returned to the Kellogg Center at Michigan State University in the evening of Dec 25.

Any family interested in sharing their Christmas day with a foreign student and serve as a host family for, two days should contact the Extension Office in St Johns 224-3288 for more information or an application. Families with children at home will receive first preference. Last year 8 families in Clinton county served as host families for this program.

Give us a rest

Memó to the Politicians: Please, oh please, do two things.

1 Stop talking about 1976, the possibilities, etc, for at least a full year. Most of us have had it on politics for the present and your credibility (if you have any) has been tarnished by over exposure. So please shut up.

2 For those of you already in the public trough go back to work at the jobs you are being paid to do. If you aren't on a public payroll then running for any major office means getting a leave of absence or quitting in order to campaign. Not so with the officer holder, though. He collects his full pay check while failing to perform even a portion of the duties he swore to do.

Sen George McGovern and Sen Ed Muskie were on the road for more than 2 years in their quest of the presidency. That is too long a time.

Closer to home, Michigan's Attorney General Frank Kelley campaigned for more than a solid year. Of course he had Leon Cohen on hand to run the shop. But Leon is leaving to join a utility company. This is a bit ironic since Kelley campaigned in the time honored political boss technique of whipping utilities.

It will be interesting to see how Kelley does without Leon who is credited in Lansing by newsmen with being Kelley's idea man.

Soapy Williams had a similar helper in Paul Weber. Finally, Paul went to the other side of the street to work for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. And from that point on Soapy's efforts in politics were less than significant. Of course he did get on Michigan's Supreme Court with a background of never having appeared in a court room as a lawyer.

Michigan's political method of selecting its Supreme Court judges remains the disgrace it has always been and the public is entitled to a better way.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

The decision of the State Officers Compensation Commission (SOCC) to hold the line on salaries of top statewide elected officials, Supreme Court justices, and members of the Legislature during 1973-74 is being viewed in some quarters as a signal for similar action on other state salary schedules. In its long-awaited decision, the Commission ruled that the present salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Supreme Court Justices and Legislators "compare favorably with rates paid for similar elective offices in other states which approximate Michigan in size of population, degree of economic development, legislative days in session, and in other factors which affect the demands of time and expertise for the offices involved."

As may have been expected, the decision was met with mixed feelings by the officials involved. Some legislators feel that a $17,000 salary is not sufficient since most of them must maintain two places of residence—Lansing and their home districts—almost year around. Some justices didn't like the ceiling which, for the first time ever, the SOCC set on their expense allowance.

OTHERS—myself included—feel that persons seeking legislative office know in advance what the salary is, and they shouldn't seek it if they feel they cannot make both ends meet. I personally believe the SOCC made fair and reasonable salary and expense recommendations and that the time has long since come and gone for a little belt-tightening and budget-balancing.

Under the Constitution, the legislators cannot obtain salary increases even if they get the required two-thirds vote necessary to reject the Commission recommendations.

One of the principal questions raised by the Commission ruling is whether it was a subtle hint to the legislators that we should follow suit and hold the line on state expenditures by rejecting any pay raise package recommended by the Civil Service Commission for the state's 50,000 civil servants.

Two years ago, the Legislature was criticized for not following the Governor's urging that it reduce the inflationary 8.1% civil service pay raise recommended for state government workers. But it was pretty tough for legislators to veto a salary hike for other state employees when they had just received a $2000 boost themselves.

But this year it's a different story, and the Governor's office has again suggested that this year's recommended raise for civil service employees should not be too high and if so should be scaled down.

STILL, the situation leaves the Legislature in a peculiar bind. If it follows its action of 2 years ago and accepts the Civil Service Commission's recommended salary increase for state employees, it undoubtedly will be chastized again for not holding down state expenditures.

On the other hand, if it reduces the Commission's recommendation or rejects raises altogether for state employees in an effort to hold down expenses in line with the State Officers Compensation Commission, the Legislature most certainly will come under fire from most state employees.

QUESTIONS ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I've been getting social security payments since I was 9. Next year when I'm 18, I plan to enroll in a trade school. A friend told me that my monthly payments will stop when I become 18 if I don't go to college. Is this true?

A. No, you don't have to go to college to continue to get your monthly payments after you're 18. However, you do have to be single and enrolled as a full-time student at an educational institution. Most trade schools qualify as educational institutions. You should check with your social security office to be certain the trade school you're planning to attend meets this qualification.

Q. I'm enrolled in the medical-insurance part of Medicare and I heard the annual deductible is going to increase. Is this true?

A. Yes. Beginning January 1, the annual deductible under the medical insurance part of Medicare will increase $10—from $50 to $60. An increase was necessary because of rising medical costs.

Q. My brother has been getting monthly disability payments from social security since 1968. I recently read in the paper that disabled people under 65 will soon be able to get Medicare. Is this true?

A. It is true that people under 65 getting social security disability payments will soon be eligible for Medicare coverage. Starting in July of next year, your brother and other disabled people who have been getting social security disability benefits for at least 2 years will be eligible for Medicare.

Q. I'm retired. I read that starting January 1973, I can earn $2100 a year and still get my full social security payments. Is there any chance that this amount will be increased in the future?

A. Yes. Recent changes in the social security law provide that, as future earnings levels rise, the amount people can earn and still get social security benefits will also rise. The first automatic increase in the social security retirement test cannot, however, occur until 1975.

A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS

Between the lines

with Jim Edwards

Journalism circles are all abuzz about newsmen no longer being able to withhold information from officials with a few already going to jail because they won't reveal their sources.

As your local pad and pen about town, I can assure you I will not reveal confidential sources, even if it means going to jail.

"Why just last week, a local official asked 'who told you were an editor?' Standing firm and straight, I refused to tell him.

This type of journalism ethic even invades the home where it is sometimes necessary to withhold information from members of the family.

FOR INSTANCE, the other night my wife asked, "Where have you been all night?" Glancing about the house to make sure it wasn't bugged, I answered, "I'm sorry, I cannot divulge that information." "If you don't divulge in 30 seconds, a Supreme Court couldn't save your skin," she replied. So much for journalism ethics in the home.

A few days later, a mysterious man came to the office and inquired about sources for a recent story on the rapid rise in deaths among male snowflakes.

Laughingly I answered, "I made it up for a column. You see, it was a parody on some of the expensive government studies to obtain worthless information. It really got a few chuckles...er, you say you don't think it was all that hilarious?"

Unsmiling, he continued, "We happen to know you didn't make that up. Now, right now, no stalling, where'd you get the information?"

"HONEST," I said, "trying to look like I was lying. After all, this was a good chance Mother can be proud of me. I got classy friends.

As a boy, I can remember Mother complaining about my father's old friends. He was a white-collar salesman by then, but he had spent his early years fishing and repairing boats on the Great Lakes. He finally got the dirt from under his fingernails, but he never got his early friends from under Mother's skin.

She claimed it was embarrassing to be walking downtown, all dressed up, and have a 3-day drunk fall out of a bar and put his arm around her and say: "Yer Eddie's wife. I wash at yer wedding, Eddie and me used to have some great times. Did he ever tell ya."

I soon learned what she meant. A bunch of my college friends thought it would be fun to go slumming in my hometown. I took them to the White Star, the evilest looking tavern on the waterfront. The floor was dirt but it was cleaner than the customers. 2 women in the corner were hitting each other with their kids. I looked into the bartender's one eye and I knew he was on probation for mass murder.

He asked me to prove my age and I gave him my driver's license. He read it slowly and then hollered:

"Hey, you must be Eddie's boy!" But things were different the other night, a classy night which I am herewith writing home to Mother about. She should know the kind of people that Eddie's boy is hanging out with since he gave up his paper route.

It was a birthday celebration and 6 of us dined in the Epicurean Room of the most sophisticated restaurant in the big city.

Rah! Rah! Sis boom bah. Girls basketball—rah, rah, rah!

Women's 11b has got nothing over the Class of '65. We knew what the score was 7 years ago.

Our high school girls basketball team was the center court attraction. And I was a star player or at least I could have been if they would have lowered the basket or raised the floor.

SPORTS writers called me leavin' Lee. I teamed up with the fantastic 5-bouncin' Bev, cool Char, movin' Marian and cagey Connie. Marian and I were forward, Bev and Connie were always on their guard and Marian was rovin'. That was on a man to man defense.

Those uniforms were what made us state standouts. We wore hot pants when they still called 'em short shorts. The blue satin tops accented the bottoms with the school letters across the chest and numbers on the back. There were no baby blue velour Addidas with white stars, but we stood tall in freshly polished white PF Flyers. We never had to worry about tripping over our locks like they do nowadays. Our only problem was making sure our lacquered ratted hair didn't touch the net when we stood under the basket.

AT THE halftime we dribbled in the locker room, slipped on our white blouses, corduroy and saddle shoes

I had a perfect season. . . went O-O for the year. I could do layups, field goals and outside shots, but it seemed like I was always coming off the rebound. I fell in love with all the starters of the boys varsity and broke up 5 different times.

An ounce of prevention

Itching and Scratching

One of the common problems people experience in winter is itchy skin.

The elderly seem more susceptible to this condition, or else are more likely to ask for help in its alleviation, in the experience of most physicians.

Oldsters also tend to like woolen clothing, which is particularly irritating. They are more likely to suffer from rheumatic conditions, for which sometimes hot baths are recommended. If a person stays too long in the tub and the water is too hot, this affects the skin more than usual. Finally, drying off with a towel further contributes to the irritation.

It is an ancient and wise rule that irritated skin should be dried up by gentle patting, rather than aggressive rubbing.

SIMPLE RECOMMENDATIONS

In medical school, we learned that it was relatively easy to treat skin conditions, if they were not too serious. We were told that if the skin appears too dry, we should moisten it. If it seemed too moist, then we should dry it.

IF IT has no oil in it, oil it. Finally, always look for the itchy producing agents or organisms that attack the skin. This last condition was very prevalent years ago, particularly in children, and it was more likely to occur in winter because personal hygiene was, of course, more difficult and not always pleasant during cold weather.

Infections with nits and lice were common, and children would scratch and scratch and further complicate the situation.

DON'T SCRATCH
Positively the worse thing that one can do with a patch of itchy skin is what would seem, if not the most logical, certainly the most desperately resorted to measure, scratching.

Some people itch more easily and more frequently than others, just as some are extremely ticklish, and some are not at all.

People with allergies are said to be more itchy than others; they have a low itch threshold.

IN ANY EVENT, scratching does not really relieve itching; it only seems to. There may be a temporary feeling of comfort, but itching itself reduces the pain threshold, bringing on a vicious cycle of itching, scratching, itching and more scratching.

One trick many people learn spontaneously is that you can obtain temporary relief sometimes just by pinching the skin next to the itching area. That has the advantage of not further increasing the itchy pain in the affected part.

Cold compresses, or cold in any other form, usually also relieves itching, but as with scratching, the pain may be worse when the cold is discontinued.

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

There is much physicians can do to eliminate itching nowadays. Many of the most common conditions producing inordinate itching (including flea bites, fungus and yeast infections, ringworm, allergy and eczema) can be treated promptly and successfully.

There are also a few serious internal diseases which may manifest themselves by itching, so it is doubly important to have a competent physician evaluate the situation.

PCA announces annual meeting

The Production Credit Association of Lansing will hold its Annual Stockholders Meeting Wednesday, Dec 6, 1972 at Kellogg Center, East Lansing.

Paul W. Darling of Owosso, President, will preside at the meeting. Arnold K. Musolf of East Lansing, secretary-manager, will give the financial report.

There will be an election of 2 directors.

Yule market tips

It's the Christmas shopping season. We hurry around trying to get all the presents purchased and the food ready for days of feasting. Right now, it looks as if there will be plenty of fresh fruit for the holiday season.

December holidays and citrus fruits just seem to go together. Many a child finds a tangerine or orange stuck down in the bottom of his Christmas stocking. The supply of citrus fruits is plentiful this year. At this time, the forecast is for a record crop of Early, Mid-season, and Navel oranges. Unless the weather decides to play havoc with the crops, we may have as much as 30 percent more of these oranges over last year's crop. The quality is looking good right now too. December brings peak supplies of both tangerines and tangelos plus more grapefruit.

The produce section of the grocery stores will continue to have large supplies of apples available. Present storage reports show an increased amount of McIntosh and Spies, while inventory of the other major varieties of apples is down somewhat.

For those of you who like to use fresh avocados in your meals, you'll be happy to know there will be more available this year. This crop, which starts to market in volume during the latter weeks of December, is estimated to be over twice as large as last year's extremely small crop.

CRANBERRIES will still be available in quantity during December although down in supply from November. Depending on what part of the country they are coming from, the cranberries may be small, and not too colorful, or may be large and quite colorful. Sweet potatoes are plentiful for December, but supplies will begin to go down after the November peak. Prices should be similar to 1971. Fresh supplies of both broccoli and Brussel sprouts are coming in from California now. Quality appears good at this time.

With the holidays around the corner, many of us scurry around trying to bake a multitude of cookies, cakes and candies. Dried fruits and nuts are important ingredients in much of that baking. This year, prices are steady to higher for most of these items.

Raisins are at record high prices. The grape crop was small, so there were fewer grapes available for processing. Even though the prices are higher, not all the cost increases are showing up at the retail level. Prunes are also in smaller supply, with higher prices.

The almond crop is larger than 1971, but demand is heavy. The walnut crop is going to be smaller, but prices have not increased as yet. Prices for peanuts in the shell appear to have dropped slightly during November.

YOUR CHRISTMAS turkey will likely cost you more than the Thanksgiving turkey. Traditionally, this bird's price rises after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Beef and chicken prices will probably remain near current levels throughout December, with few specials expected. Pork prices, except for ham, may drop slightly by the end of the year. Ham is usually one of the favorites of the holiday season.

Egg prices have been increasing and are likely to go higher. We use many an egg for holiday baking and for "vacation" breakfasts. Medium size eggs will probably be close in price to large eggs.

Election reform

Rep. Douglas Troise
87th District

From time to time, since first coming to the Legislature, I have shared with you some of my impressions of the unbelievable things I have observed. But I'd have to judge the activity of the past week as the best (or worst) example of "wheel spinning" I've seen yet.

Here, with 15 days, at the most of legislative work scheduled, we are still seeing new bills being introduced. Now, any bill introduced at this date, unless concerning a dire emergency, has no chance of even being considered by a committee, let alone passing through both houses of the Legislature and reaching the Governor.

When we adjourn Dec 15, every bill which has not passed both houses will be dead and must be put through the entire process again before it can ever become law.

Yet, in spite of this six new bills covering subjects ranging from public employee labor relations to drivers license laws were placed in the House, of Representatives hopper on the 27th of November. This brings to 2,416 the number of House bills offered in the 1971-72 session; another 1,494 have been presented in the Senate.

Of that total, approximately 550 will have found their way into the lawbooks by the time we adjourn.

It's not only the introduction of new bills at this time that seems a little ridiculous to me. It's also silly, I believe, to still be considering House bills, as we have spent most of our time on the floor doing. These bills have almost no chance of becoming law because there's no time for them to go through a Senate committee, Senate debate and a Senate vote unless they're vitally important.

But, we have been hotly debating a lot of House bills, approving some and Senate-rejecting others, sending those passed on to the Senate to die at the adjournment date.

It's not that we don't have important legislation to consider; but I guess we have to wait for committee actions on critical bills, conferences on others and to pass the time, we just play around with hopeless stuff. The only benefit to this is the ego of the sponsor who can tell his constituents how effective he was in getting legislation through the House and the "Senate is to blame" for its not becoming law.

I guess what I'm trying to say is that we need some new rules and schedules in this legislative business. We need some deadlines set after which the introduction of only critical bills would be allowed. We need to get bills out of committees by a deadline, set dates for passing them through each chamber and limit consideration of bills to those which have met these objectives.

At this time, in the House, we should be considering only those bills which have already passed the Senate. The Senate should be considering only House-approved legislation. After all, these are the only bills which have a chance to become law anyhow.

We should have stopped introducing new bills long ago and restricted the reporting of new bills from committee for floor action. These kinds of rules have long been advocated by those of us on the Republican side of the aisle. Since we do not control the House, we cannot impose them.

But, it is my hope that we can persuade enough members from the other side to see the merits of setting up schedules which will streamline the whole legislative process.

Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem said bonds.

This bond is fully negotiable, having all the qualities of a negotiable instrument under the law merchant, the uniform commercial code and the negotiable instruments law.

This bond and the interest thereon are exempt from any and all taxation whatsoever by the State of Michigan or by any taxing authority within said State.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Marines air opinions

Dear Ed,

Look here man I was checkin out the paper that you happen to be the editor to. Now don't get me wrong I'm not jumping on your case. I'm just trying to make a point. Oh by the way I'm not by myself when I speak about the subject of abortion. There are five (5) of us. We are currently on duty in the Mediterrean. We picked up on your paper from one of the dude's people in your town. We agree with the couple who commented about the convict being allowed to go free if he pays for his victim's funeral. It is the same if they legalize abortion.

Why should a mortal homo sapien have the right to take a potential crumb-snatcher's life. We are in the Marine Corps and contrary to popular belief we don't kill and eat dead babies. There are beaucoup of us who have deep feelings about kids. We are all young men who are supposedly upholding the rights of the constitution including the (right) of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The way it seems now, you want to kill the future population. (Mom's apple pie has been ripped off and the girl next door want's an abortion because she is pregnant).

You might think that we are just trying to be funny, but that is the way it seems to us. The way we look at it "If you dance to the music you know you've got to pay the piper." A crumb-snatcher didn't ask to be born, but he has just as much right as you and I to live. Regardless if you believe in religion or not you should not be the determining factor if the child lives or dies. The part that should be determined is; are you ready for a child or not? When I say you I'm speaking of people in general. It really seems like a bust to have to vote to see if a child has a right to sustain life or not. We agree that if the people who are FOR the abortion law had a choice to be born or not would they take it or leave it.

We hope that you don't sound too radical for you, but we think that this is something serious. Has the society in the United States of America gotten so capitalistic that it doesn't matter if you kill, just as long as someone makes a dollar or two. It is in the realm of possibility that it may become a FAD example: If the Jones' have an abortion, then we'd better have one to keep up with the crowd.

War kills enough people, let's not kill everyone before they get a chance to prove themselves. We would appreciate it if you would print this in your paper. If it steps on someone's toes we hope that our opinion doesn't hurt too much.

Here are do's and don'ts on snowmobiling

Eight years ago when snowmobiling was still a curiosity, an estimated 14,000 were in use nationwide—about 10% of them in Michigan.

In Michigan alone this winter, 40,000 snowmobiles are expected to be sold as the state's number of registered snowmobiles soars well past the 300,000 mark.

By winter's end, snowmobiling will have pumped an anticipated $200 million into the state's economy. This estimate projects a $50 million increase over last winter's expenditures on snowmobiles, accessories and related items. That outlay generated almost $12 million in state tax revenues.

"To accommodate this ongoing boom, 200 more miles of state forest trails and 70 of Michigan's 79 state parks are now open to snowmobile use," notes Joseph Ratke of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

But Ratke advises snowmobilers to familiarize themselves with Michigan's tougher snowmobile restrictions before operating their vehicles this winter.

AIMED AT curbing the ever-increasing snowmobile accident rate, the new law takes full effect this season. It allows snowmobilers to be driven only on road right-of-ways—not the roads themselves—north of a line from Muskegon to Bay City. Use of public roads or right-of-ways south of the line is absolutely forbidden.

An amendment to this state law which would have permitted snowmobilers to use highway right-of-ways throughout Michigan is not expected to receive legislative approval this year.

After Jan. 1, 1973, the law will prohibit children aged 12 to 15 from driving snowmobiles without adult supervision unless they have successfully completed a safe snowmobiling course. Children under 12 cannot operate a snowmobile on public property.

The state legislature has also earmarked almost $200,000 in snowmobile registration revenues for use by state and local agencies for trail development and snowmobile safety programs.

"Snowmobile accidents claimed the lives of 30 people in Michigan during 1972 and injured another 1,969," says Ratke. "Hopefully, the state's more vigorous involvement in snowmobile accident prevention will change this alarming trend."

IMPRUDENT snowmobile use has also resulted in the vehicles being barred from 4 public game areas in southern Michigan.

Ballenger explains

"no" votes on bills 5706, 5707

Mr. President and members of the Senate, it is with considerable uneasiness and discomfort that I must vote against Senate Bills 5706 and 5707, but the final package that has been presented to us for our consideration really leaves me no alternative.

Although there is really one basic reason why I'm voting against these 2 bills, I could cite many reasons for my "No" vote, and I think they would all have merit. I could, for instance, point to the fact that the motor fuel tax is the only source of funds for highway construction in Michigan and that that same motor fuel tax -- whether it remains at 7¢ per gallon or is hiked to 9¢ and earmarked solely for road and highway needs -- is grossly inadequate to meet the anticipated highway needs in Michigan for the future.

The 1972 National Transportation Report (published by the US Department of Transportation) shows highway transportation funding needs in Michigan to be nearly $27 billion during the next 20 years. The presently allocated gas taxes -- even if they were hiked to 9¢ per gallon and used solely for road purposes -- would provide barely more than half that amount. Thus there is a very shaky case indeed for diverting highway users taxes from highway use in Michigan if we are to maintain our superior highway network.

I could also point to the surprising rigidity and stubbornness of the proponents of this legislation in seeking to find ways to get mass transit off the ground in Michigan. The advocates of mass transit in this state have absolutely refused to budge from their preconceived idea of how mass transit should be funded. They have ignored all other ideas, all suggestions for compromise. They have even rejected the successful experience of cities like Montreal and Atlanta and San Francisco in seeking to find ways to gain tax funds for mass transit here.

Let's face it -- if these bills were touted by all to be the greatest things that ever came down the pike, they would have been. The House and 38-0 here because everybody who was asked to vote on them was told that they were the best thing since sliced bread. But you know that's simply not the way it is. Compared to the status quo, there are obvious benefits for certain geographical areas of the state under these bills at the expense of other geographical areas. And if we're really going to vote on these bills on the basis of the areas we represent, on the basis of what is best for our own individual constituencies, of what our own people want, then the Senator from the 30th Senatorial District has got to be one of the first in line to say "no" to Senate Bills 5706 and 5707.

Under these 2 bills, the citizens of the 30th Senatorial District will find their gasoline taxes increased nearly 25% -- and what will they get in return? First, they'll find that 14 counties in the state will get at least a 20% increase in road funding under the new allocation formula -- but none of the counties wholly or mostly contained within the 30th District will get anywhere near that. Secondly, they'll learn that the average increase for the 83 counties in Michigan will be 20% -- but the counties in my district will only average an 11-1/2% increase. Then they'll find out that the greatest increase any county gets under this package is 44% (Oakland), and that the smallest percent increase is only 7.9% (AND THAT'S IN Macleam County, one of the counties in my district).

To top it off, they'll find out that under the present formula for allocating gas tax revenue, they contributed roughly $7.4 million to the state in gas taxes and got back only $7.5 million in 1971 -- an even return on their investment. Under the package voted on here today, however, they'll pay in some $3.5 million and get back only $2.4 million -- an actual loss of nearly 12% on what they'll pay in.

And that, gentlemen, is why I'm voting against this very controversial package. In closing, I'd like to take a second to thank the members of the Senate Highways Committee -- and especially the chairman, Senator Fleming -- for the way they've handled these bills. After enduring nearly a year of public vilification and abuse they've shown that the legislative process works and that the Legislature is still the last preserver of the government still fully accountable to the people. Who carried these bills on the Senate floor? Senator Fleming, that's who -- despite the abuse he's endured and despite his personal distaste for several aspects of the whole question of mass transit and the way it was being handled here.

There's an obvious lesson here: The question was not really one of this legislation being "hurdled" up by a small band of willful men -- thus thwarting the public will and the vast majority of legislators. The real issue was whether advocates of these two bills were going to allow anyone or any group of men to sidetrack their formula for success. If, after the "full and public debate" here on the Senate floor which the supporters say is all they have ever sought, these bills are defeated, do you think for a moment the vituperation will end here? I don't think so. I think it will simply begin anew -- with all the Senators who voted "No" as the largest and loudest carry, they'll carry, they'll carry, they'll carry because arms were twisted and promises made in order to get over the final hurdle. Success in passing the package at any cost even if a majority of the people in the state oppose it has been the name of the game all along -- and I think everyone in this chamber knows it.

Plans and objectives for 1973 REAP set

Following the announcement of the 1973 Rural Environmental Assistance Program earlier this fall, plans are being made to develop the program for use by farmers in Michigan in 1973.

Art Rowley, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee said that the REAP program development meeting will be held in each county to develop the 1973 program.

Along with the 1973 program, investment plans are being developed as a basic guide to direct emphasis toward the conservation problems of greatest concern in each county.

The county development groups, with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, County Extension Service, and other local agencies, determine the priorities for conservation and pollution problems in the county and establish program priorities accordingly.

Major emphasis will be placed on long-term enduring conservation measures, including pollution abatement, permanent vegetative cover, and forestry practices. Practices will be included in the county REAP program that will most effectively meet the conservation needs for the county.

THE COUNTY investment plan lists the basic conservation needs for cropland, vegetative cover, forest needs, and pollution abatement needs. This material is reviewed and program priorities are established to best utilize program funds to combat these problems.

Program goals and objectives listed in the investment plans include methods to encourage farmers to participate in high priority practices, pooling agreements, and Special Projects. Special provisions are also made for low income producers.

The state allocation, which is $3,033,000, is included in the investment plan with plans to spend 45 percent of the funds for high priority practices, 25 percent for medium priority practices, and 30 percent for low priority practices. Our goal, said Rowley, is to assist farmers as much as possible, through the REAP program, in solving their pollution abatement and other agricultural conservation problems.

Farm Tips

Soybean seed problems forecast

By WILLIAM LASHER Extension Agriculture Agent

half of the states soybean crop harvested so far.

Wet conditions are expected to restrict the availability of seed for planting the 1973 crop. Certified seed is expected to be in limited supply, with only enough to plant about 25 percent of the projected 1973 acreage.

DUE TO THESE adverse conditions, get your 1973 seed stocks as soon as possible. Some recommendations for purchasing soybean seed are:

1. Obtain certified seed if possible.

2. If you can't get certified seed select seed supplies from fields planted with certified seed in 1972. Fields harvested early in the fall are preferred.

3. Because of the unsettled soybean situation throughout the Midwest buy 1973 seed from local reputable dealers.

4. Check all noncertified seed for germination rates. Soybeans are especially sensitive to high moisture and low temperature conditions at harvest and may lose their viability as a result of freezing and/or mold infestations.

Classes For Cash Croppers Cash crop farmers and their employees can brush up on their business knowhow during the "off months" by enrolling in Michigan State University's Cash Crop Production Program, says Bill Lasher, Clinton County Extension Agent.

You need not be a high school graduate to enroll in the program, which runs from January 2 to March 14. Applications may be obtained by writing to Jim Gibson, Institute of Agricultural Technology, 120 Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823. Deadline for applying is December 15.

The two and one-half month program includes instruction in plant disease identification, weed and insect control, soil management, cash crop production, marketing, and maintenance and selection of farm machinery.

Program cost is $15 per credit for Michigan residents. Students may live on or off campus, and are accorded the same rights of a regular student, with the exception of participating in the band or varsity sports.

Heard about the Hummer?

New rotary combustion engine from Evinrude. Raise the hood and look at a new era in snowmobiling. Meet The Hummer, 35 horses of smooth, mellow power. Please don't call it a Wankel and don't confuse it with any of the under-powered imported engines you may have seen. This one's the product of 9 years of Evinrude research and 10,000 hours of field testing. It'll get you past 60 if you want to, and beat even most narrow track machines in a 200 foot sprint.
