Westphalia man stands mute on murder charge

By Sue Kiley White

ST. JOHNS—Ronald Edmund Thelen, 28, stood mute in front of Judge Timothy M. Green on a charge of second degree murder and a felony firearms charge on Tuesday, Sept. 2 during a circuit court arraignment, according to Jon Newman, Clinton County Prosecuting Attorney.

Thelen is accused of killing his 30-year-old wife Peggy Jane Elizabeth Thelen on Wednesday, Aug. 20. He is being held in the Gratiot County Jail until a motion is filed and a trial date is set.

Judge Green indicated he would not be able to hear the case. The matter will be turned over to another judge in the near future.

Thelen was bound over to circuit court following a preliminary examination which began Wednesday, Aug. 27 in 65th District Court in St. Johns. The hearing was continued Friday, Aug. 29. Judge Peter D. O'Connell, District Judge from Mt. Pleasant, presided over the case.

The purpose of the preliminary examination is to determine whether there is enough evidence to warrant a trial.

During the preliminary exam, testimony was heard from 10-year-old Jennifer Kristine (Waugh) Thelen, daughter of the deceased, who was in the home along with her five-year-old brother John at the time of the incident. Also testifying during the two day proceedings were Dr. Laurence Simson, pathologist at Sparrow Hospital, Gerard Thelen, brother of Ron Thelen; Dale Wise; the suspect's mother, Rose Thelen; and Sgt. Dale Welton of the Michigan State Police.

Thelen was arraigned in district court Friday, Aug. 22 and was charged with second degree murder. This was amended on Wednesday to include charge two, a felony firearms violation.

He was held in the Gratiot County Jail over the weekend without bond for the second degree murder charge and on $10,000 bond for the second felony charge.

It was determined during the course of the examination that Mrs Thelen was killed in the bedroom of their Centerline Road home with a high velocity rifle which had belonged to Thelen's brother Robert, who was killed in VietNam.

According to Dr. Simson's report, Mrs Thelen was fatally injured by a bullet which entered just below the right eye and exited through the back of the head.

"She died immediately," said Dr. Simson. "She never even heard the noise."

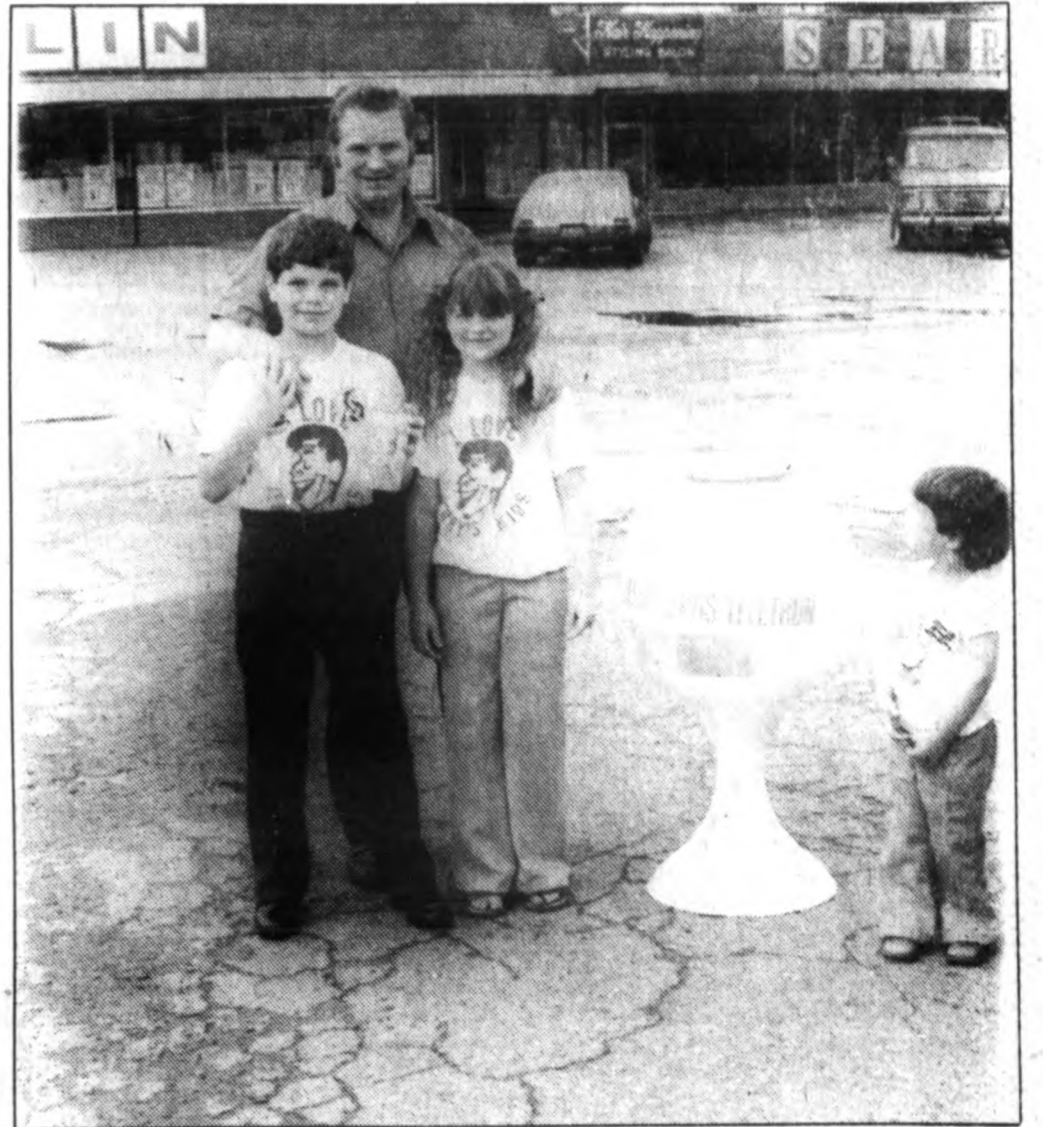

Testimony revealed the couple was having a domestic argument in which Mrs Thelen had threatened to "pack her bags and leave." After the shooting, witnesses indicated Thelen tried to commit suicide, but was stopped by his brother.

The defendant's attorney, Robert Siegrist of Lansing, tried to have the charge of second degree murder reduced to involuntary manslaughter. His objection, however, was denied by Judge O'Connell on Friday.

Peggy and Ron Thelen were married last September according to the defendant's mother. They had just moved to the Center Line Road address in July, previously residing in St. Johns.

Siegrist opposed the second degree murder charge saying it was not established that Thelen intended to kill his wife.

"There is not one iota of evidence that the defendant intended to kill his wife," said Siegrist. "He thought the safety was on. Second degree murder has not been established."

Fishers Big Wheel joining community

By Sharon Randall

ST. JOHNS—When Fishers Big Wheel opens in the Wheel Inn Mall in November, 40 local people will be hired as permanent part-time employees. Some 20 more than that will be hired initially to help get the store ready for operation, according to Morris Green, vice president of advertising and sales for the large discount chain.

Not only will the new store provide regular part-time jobs for local residents, it will give local consumers another excuse to "stay home and shop." Fishers Big Wheel will offer 43,500 square feet of both soft and hard lines including discount clothing, fabrics, domestic, hardware, toys, health and beauty in 80 departments. The store also includes a shoe department and a small record department.

Fishers Big Wheel bought out 16 Tempo (Gambles) stores in Michigan and Ohio and have converted them to their larger line of merchandise. The St. Johns store is part of an expansion in Michigan which includes new stores in Caro, Bad Axe, Albion and South Haven.

Green said the St. Johns store is expected to open in November, "if construction problems can be ironed out." It will make the 65th unit owned and operated by the chain. Green said five or six more are being planned for construction next year.

Green, who said the store's motto was "We're big on people," indicated that store management would participate in the community.

"We want to be part of the community and we feel that our store will eventually help everyone. We are anxious to be part of the growth here," Green said.

He said a manager and two assistant managers will be transferred here and that they will be encouraged to be involved locally. "We will be part of the Chamber of Commerce; we will participate in fund drives," he said.

Green explained that his store's drawing card will be its friendly, clean atmosphere. He described the merchandise as "quality merchandise at discounted prices" and said Fishers Big Wheel carries as many name brands as they can. "The customer will find Lee and Wrangler jeans and Land and Sea blouses and Granimals for kids," he said. The 80 departments include clothing for the whole family.

St Johns faces staff changes, reductions

ST. JOHNS—Defeat of the August millage proposal caused staff changes at St. Johns schools which includes principal reassignment at the elementary level and a reduction of 12 teachers across the district.

With the closing of Teresa Merrill, Mike O'Connor, who served at both Teresa Merrill and Central, was made principal of Perrin-Palmer and Eureka Elementary Schools. The vacancy at Eureka was left by the retiring principal, Fidelis Cameron.

Dale Knight, who served as principal at both Swegles and Perrin-Palmer, takes over at East Olive. He will, however, remain the principal at Swegles.

Roger Feeman, former principal of East Olive, was named the new principal at Central. As coordinator for the St. Johns elementary schools, Feeman is frequently involved in staff meetings. "We needed to have him closer to town," explained Gordon Vandemark, personnel director for the district.

John Arehart remains as principal at Riley Elementary.

The St. Johns teaching staff has been reduced by 12 teachers. These and all staff reductions, were accomplished both by lay-offs and by choosing not to replace retiring and resigning employees. The loss of five elementary teachers will increase the average class size by about one student. While class averages went from 25.2 to 26.2 students, the actual range is from 19 students in one class to several classes with 30 students. The librarian for elementary schools, who was recently added, has been dropped again.

Five high school teaching positions were affected by the cutback. The orientation portion of health and Please turn to page 4A.

Family robbed at gun point

DEWITT TWP.—Six DeWitt Township residents were held and robbed at gunpoint in their Boichot Road home on Sept. 1 at about 10:45 p.m. by two black males, according to Thomas Aranow, police chief.

The Randy Wills family of 15281 Boichot Rd., were robbed of approximately $500. Apparently the two men forced their way into the home, with one of the men armed with a small automatic pistol. According to police reports one man held the family at gunpoint while the other man took their wallets and personal affects.

Aranow said the case has been turned over to the Clinton County Detective Bureau. Police are searching for one black believed to be about six foot three inches tall, heavy build with a short Afro and the other man believed to be about five foot nine inches tall of thin build.

A 20-year-old Lansing man was critically injured after he lost control of his vehicle on Turner Road. Michael Nelson, 15601 Brook, was stopped during a routine traffic stop by a DeWitt City police officer when he fled from the scene in a 1971 Cadillac.

SMI group home planned in Victor Twp

By Jean Martin

VICTOR TWP.—Routine meetings scheduled by Tri-County Mental Health to acquaint Victor Township residents with a proposed new group home for severely multiply impaired adults drew larger than expected numbers of homeowners and interested parties. The home, which would be built on Chandler Road between Pratt and Green, would be built to the State's specifications by Mike Davis of Grand Ledge and leased to the State.

Wednesday evening's meeting followed a heated meeting earlier in the week. Under groundrules put forth by township supervisor Bob Remus, several areas of disagreement were discussed.

Tri-County Mental Health representative James Barclay showed a slide presentation to introduce the neighborhood to the type of resident they could expect to find living in the proposed new home. He also contrasted this type of living arrangement with the institutional setting in which most of the proposed new residents are in right now. He emphasized that the new residents would be people who had been institutionalized from Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham County areas. He also indicated that all residents would be involved with day programs in St. Johns and Lansing.

Although a few Victor Township residents expressed some uncertainty with regards to the condition of the residents of the proposed home, most of their concern seemed to be with regards to the proposed site.

In the past there had been several attempts by township residents to buy and develop the site for their own homes. When prospective buyers approached the Department of Public Health in St. Johns, they were told that the soil did not offer very good drainage for a home sanitary system. When one party finally offered to appeal the decision of the department, the decision was reversed; and the party was given permission to build. The new ruling was made on the basis of an older existing well and septic tank that had been in operation before the current regulations were in effect.

Township residents expressed the opinion that private individuals had been denied the right to build on land that was now being approved by Public Health for the State to use.

"I would not recommend this site for anyone to build on," said Tom Waldbillig, a spokesman for the Department of Public Health. "Any operation is going to be very questionable," he added.

The land is approved, according to Waldbillig, only because Public Health policy states that any site with an existing system is an approved site even though the older sanitary system is not going to be used in the new building.

Expressing concern for the health and safety of the proposed new residents and their neighbors, Residential Services supervisor Barclay promised, "There will be a new perk." While the perk test itself will not be done, residents were promised that new and more extensive investigation will be made before a new sanitary plan is designed.

Township residents were assured that they would be informed of the results of further testing. A tour of a similar AIS home in Washtenaw County is also being arranged. Anyone who would be interested in seeing a similar home in operation is urged to contact Bob Remus for more details.

Maco involved in new construction

In the midst of what is generally considered to be a bad time for the construction industry, Maco Tool and Engineering, Inc. at the corner of Spring and Higham Streets in St. Johns is making a rather substantial addition. The new cement block structure on the south side of the building is currently being faced with brick to blend with the rest of the structure.

According to general foreman, Robert Hawk, the new addition has been planned for the last year and a half.

The company builds and reconditions many types of machines. All are different and made to the customer's specifications, and the plant is currently working on four different types of machines.

"We're optimistic, says plant manager, Don Smith.

The new addition will provide more space for assembly. The machines are also tried out before shipping. This is especially important in the case of overseas customers according to Mr. Hawk.

VIEWPOINT

Coupon campaign misleading

By Sharon Randall

It's the "Music Man" plot right here in St. Johns, without the librarian for a romantic angle. Call it the "Coupon Man," and this villain won't become a hero when the curtain falls. Instead he'll leave town with $12,000 to $24,000 or even more.

The Clinton County Senior Drop-in Center, the good cause he's using for his venture, will get perhaps $600 and Big Brothers and Big Sisters, a charity in the wings, will get an equal amount.

The story starts with promoter Victor Franklin coming to town. He's got a good idea and he's willing to share it with a charity. For the use of their name, he'll run a "coupon" game; solicit all the free and "money-off" offers from local merchants, print the coupon books, run a telephone campaign and give them $2 a book.

It sounds like an easy way to earn money and after being turned down by the local Jaycees, Franklin finds a taker in Big Brothers and Big Sisters. But their United Way sponsor frowns at them becoming involved in money-making activities, so they turn to the Senior Drop-in Center. It's a natural, both organizations have the same chairman, Hugh Banninga, on their Board of Directors.

It's understandable why they bit. Money-making activities are what keeps the Senior Drop-in Center going. Raffles, bake sales, public meals and donations not only enabled them to keep the center open, it gave them the courage to jump into a new building and carry off a beautiful remodeling project. That this center is worth community support is undisputable. The seniors have not only put effort into their own center, they are generous with their time in other community and school events.

Franklin, however, is abusing their generosity. He is also misrepresenting the generosity of the merchants who provided the coupons for the books.

The coupon book represents $300 worth of food, merchandise and services in the community. It sells for $29.95. There is a printing fee but the service was not performed locally. Two dollars goes to the charities involved. Telephone solicitors, area housewives, are paid by the book, for taking orders and delivering.

The abuse comes not in the coupons themselves. They are all legitimate offers, most of them free offers when something of equal value is purchased. The abuse is not in the jobs the solicitation is providing for area women.

The abuse is in Franklin's wording of the solicitation and its misleading implications. The prospective coupon book buyer is told that the campaign is a "fund raising project" for the Clinton County Senior Center. They are told that the "total" $29.95 is tax deductible.

Instead of saying that our seniors are getting only $1 of each coupon booklet sold, the solicitation implies that they are getting the entire $29.95.

Sometimes it's easier to look behind than it is to look ahead. Banninga said "We are not interested in doing a con job on the community," and he means it. The seniors, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, and the boards that represent them, are only interested in earning what they can for their causes. What hurts the most, and it affects the seniors far more than Big Brothers and Big Sisters, is that the fact that every book sold means that someone out there thinks he just donated $29.95 to the Clinton County Senior Center.

It's like crying "wolf," I'm afraid. There's only so many $29.95's in a community this size and it's a shame that Victor Franklin is taking the majority of it when he leaves St. Johns. It was a good idea for a fund raiser, but only if the money stayed in town, or at least a greater share of it.

If you really want to donate $29.95 to the Drop-in Center, send them a check and skip the coupon book. If you really want a coupon book, and you want to help the center, drop in down there and buy one, they get $7 for each one they sell themselves.

If you have already bought one of the booklets, use the coupons. The merchants want you to, it's a form of advertising and spreading their name and services. But don't be misled, know just where your $29.95 is going to.

SENIOR CITIZEN UPDATE

By Ruth Delo

Do you remember when we didn't take our children and ourselves to the doctor, but used some of our own remedies that had been handed down to us from our parents? I recently read in the Modern Maturity magazine that some of these "old" remedies had their merits.

Remember when a nasty cold meant plenty of homemade chicken soup? Sometimes your mother's own brand of medicine was all you needed to get well. Sure, some of it was hokum, but lots of it, even today, makes plain good sense. Treating yourself when you can may save you an unnecessary trip to the doctor or drug store.

For a sore throat, mix 1/2 teaspoon of ordinary table salt with one glass of warm water and gargle. This is an old one, but works as well as any store-bought mouthwash.

Salt water works on a stuffy nose, too. Mix one teaspoon salt with one pint of water. Dispense with a dropper or spray bottle. Everyone has a cure for hiccups. Hold a paper bag over your mouth and nose. Hold your breath and start counting; do this several times trying to count further than the time before. Scaring someone does the trick sometimes. Try doing what we used to do for babies. We would put just a little sugar on the end of a spoon and let them suck it. It usually stopped the hiccups. Eating one teaspoon of granulated sugar without water stops hiccups in 19 out of 20 people. Try it.

Bees can be bothersome this time of year. If one should sting, mix two teaspoons of household ammonia with one glass of water and use as a soak or compress. Also a meat tenderizer made into a little paste with a little water and rubbed on the sting will often do the trick.

I still drink warm milk for insomnia and they say the protein in milk does it, so it really doesn't have to be warm.

Instant relief from burns (even sunburn) use ice! Soak the burned area in ice water or apply ice pack immediately and keep it on for at least 15 minutes. If the burn appears to be more than something superficial, better check with your doctor.

What cold does for burns, hot does for itching. Application of hot water for a brief time can provide almost instantaneous relief of itching for up to three hours.

For painful aches and stiff wrists, elbows, ankles and toes, fill one bucket or basin with moderately hot water, another with moderately cold. Soak affected areas in the hot for four minutes, then in cold for one minute, then hot again. Alternate for 30 minutes, always beginning and ending with the hot soak.

When my boys had chest colds and coughs I used to make a bib and stuff it with chopped onions. The boys hated it and covered themselves with blankets up to their chins, so they wouldn't smell it. But you know the heat from the onions really helped.

Do you remember some of the old remedies? If you have some, send them to me and I'll print them. It's fun to remember—

So.....until next time.

OUR OPINION

Good things are going on

Some good things are happening in DeWitt Township and the City of DeWitt.

First, a liaison committee between the township and city governments has been formed to accomplish major goals for both municipalities. Secondly, a Neighborhood Watch program has been implemented by the township police department.

For so long it seemed the "Me Generation" had taken over, not only in our own county, but throughout the country. We find it refreshing that people are starting to think of others once again and not for what they will personally gain from the experience.

So much more can be accomplished when people work jointly on a project, rather than duplicating both time and effort. There is so much more expertise and experience to be gained from working together, sharing ideas, and accepting constructive criticism.

We are not saying working together is going to be all milk and honey, because there will be problems. However, the positive aspects far outweigh the negative side to the story.

The Neighborhood Watch program makes it possible for people to feel comfortable when they leave on vacation or go up north for the weekend. They know someone is there looking out for their best interest.

Sure, it's going to take a little more time being involved in either of these programs, but to us it's worth the effort.

Care Center news and views

By Thomas Wiseman

As most people know, Clinton County and the towns which comprise it declare the week of Aug. 17-23 as Clinton Area Care Center Week. During this week, different clubs, organizations, churches, and businesses sponsored a fund raising event to support the much needed Care Center.

A big "thank you" to St. Johns Ford-Mercury and Keelean Buick who each generously donated a used car to be raffled. This raffle alone drew in over $1500 in donations. St. Johns Elias Brothers' "Big Boy", donated 10 cents for every Big Boy sandwich sold during the week and Kentucky Fried Chicken donated 50 cents for each barrel and bucket of chicken sold during Care Week.

Different organizations in Fowler organized and supported a bingo. The Congregational Church of St. Johns sponsored a street dance and St. Jude's Catholic Church in DeWitt and the St. Johns Exchange club helped with the Care raffle ticket sales. We also owe a big thanks to Rehmann's Clothing, Clinton Bank and Trust, Kroger's, the St. Johns Business and Professional Women's Club, Clinton County News and The St. Johns Reminder for all their help and support.

The Farm Bureau Association is sponsoring a Hog Raffle with the drawing to be held during the Home Tour Festival, Saturday, Sept. 13. Tickets may be obtained by any member of the association or call the Care Center at 224-6808.

Again, the Care Center says "Thank You" to the citizens of Clinton County for your support and enthusiasm that has been shown from the very beginning and we know will be with us to the end.

★ SJ school changes

orientation classes for freshmen has been dropped. The health section will be retained. One music position, which served both orchestra and band in the junior and senior high, has been eliminated. Fewer opportunities will be available in the vocational area. An electronics program has been completely dropped, and enrollments in other vocational programs will have to be limited.

Several coaching positions were eliminated at the high school and junior high levels, and seventh and eighth grade football have been combined. There will also be some basic reduction in opportunities and an increase in class size due to the loss of three teaching positions on the junior high level.

Cuts in aide time will amount to approximately 30 hours per day. Only the two aides who were formerly employed at Teresa Merrill will be laid off. Others will experience a reduction in work time. One bus route was eliminated by the purchase of a larger bus, so one less driver was needed. One hundred and fifty-five families were affected by changes in routes which were announced earlier.

The equivalent of one and one-half secretaries will be eliminated, and the number of hours some food service employees will be working have been reduced.

The equivalent of four people have been cut from the custodial staff throughout the district. These cuts will affect the day to day operations of the schools in that offices and classrooms will not be cleaned as often. Some custodians will be working split shifts in the elementary schools, also resulting in less cleaning time.

Besides the cuts in staff hours, field trips for students have been virtually eliminated. "I consider them gone," says Vandemark.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Support for coach

Dear Editor:

In response to Tim Jeffery's column, "One Man's View", as parents of a St. Johns High School football player, we know what the facts were, and support Joe, 100 percent. He is the only one involved in the administrative staff who has the interest of the students at heart, and is the most devoted coach there is.

It was stated, "Joe gets his own way", well, he is fighting for the boys in the whole-football program, not himself. He knows how devoted the players are, and how hard they work, and then to have petty administrative dictations, try to spoil what they have worked for years to make out of themselves.

In reference to the phone call to the radio station, it was the only way the players could get anyone to listen to them. The administrative personnel they tried to talk with, just laughed at them, and wouldn't give them any answers.

The big shots up there keep doing anything they can think of to hurt kids, and get back at parents, just because they didn't get their extra millage. They are hurting a lot of innocent people, and causing a lot of hard feelings. We have always voted for the increase of their millage, because we wanted the best for our children, but, on Sept. 29, that may be another story.

They cut everything pertaining to the kids, but not one of the big shots have taken a pay cut or turned down a raise.

For those who don't know, football is the biggest money making sport at St. Johns High School. It comes closer than any other sport in covering all its own expenses. This comment was made at a recent school board meeting.

Sincerely,

Very Interested and Concerned Parents

P.S. To all St. Johns Football Fans: Let's forget about the administration and come out and give Joe and his great team of Redwings, all of our support and show them we care.

Personality Profile

St. Johns couple works for Jerry's kids

By Jean Martin

Bob and Gert Sheren are supervising the Muscular Dystrophy telethon in St. Johns again this year for the fourth time, but they have been involved in the annual Labor Day fund-raiser for at least the last six or seven years. They became involved in working for the telethon at WJIM in Lansing where Bob answered phones and Gert worked in the mail room.

As chairpersons for the local drive they are responsible for the annual collection. Last year the total collection figure was $10,373 and this year's drive brought in $8,860.33.

Mrs. Sheren said that 80 percent of the funds collected here remain in the area for help to Muscular Dystrophy victims. Twenty percent goes into the national fund.

When they were first asked to open a pledge center in St. Johns, they had trouble finding a location to set up their phones. One week before Labor Day, Bob finally went to the St. Johns City Commission and asked for help. With the cooperation of several city employees, they were able to run the pledge center from the Municipal Building itself. Later the center was moved to the Central National Bank's Community room.

The Sherens are vocal in their praise of the bank and much of the local business community Gert can count them off on her fingers. "Montrey's gives us pizza at night; McDonald's for breakfast. We get Kentucky Fried Chicken for lunch, and Elias Brothers furnish us with supper for the workers." Beck's, Andy's, Kroger and White's Bakery also contribute food and facilities to the monumental effort at both the community room and the wishing well at Southgate Plaza.

Televisions will be loaned to the center by Kurt's Appliance and Dean's Hardware. "Barry Dean donates all of the softballs for the (Muscular Dystrophy) tournament, too — a minimum of two dozen every year," adds her husband.

This year's telethon involved many volunteers. At least 24 telephone operators worked in six hour shifts to take pledges. Five regulars, including Mr and Mrs Sheren and their son and daughter-in-law, were at the center from early Sunday evening until well after the telethon was completed on Monday evening. Bob describes Jim Wagar, who is in charge of the center's finances, as his right hand man. "I couldn't do this thing without him and Sandy. That's for sure," declares Bob. The center maintains a running count of pledges and phones them in to the Lansing TV station about every 15 minutes.

On Friday morning the phones were installed in the community room of the bank. The adjacent kitchenette was transformed into an accounting office with a television monitor, adding machines, and radio and telephone equipment. Then the Sheren and Wagars went home to try to rest up for the big weekend.

On Sunday afternoon the volunteer operators began arriving at the pledge center. The wishing wells were set in place, and the workers put on their pins saying, "I'll Be Up All Night With Jerry."

By 6:30 Monday evening the national telethon was ended. Pink, yellow, and green balloons floated idly across the floor of the pledge center. Weary telephone operators, many of whom have volunteered to work a double shift, gathered around a small table to eat the supper provided for them.

For the Sherens, the Wagars, and many of their volunteers, the work is far from ended. There are still envelopes to stuff and sort. The pledge phones must be manned for one more hour. After that the phones can be unplugged and set aside to be picked up by the telephone company. Television monitors must be returned to the merchants who loaned them. The balloons must be corralled; and the pins, stickers, T-shirts, and pens must be packed away for next year. Finally the kitchenette and community room must be cleaned and put back in order.

And what do the workers get in return for all of their time and hard work? "A lot of satisfaction," says Bob Sheren. "I feel the Good Lord has helped me to help someone else."

In a few months the whole process will begin again. The Sherens have a couple of ideas for fund-raisers that might be undertaken yet this fall, and the annual softball tournament, which netted $880 this year, will be coming up again next year.

Raising money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association is only one type of community project which interests the Sherens. Their charter membership in the Mid-State CB Club has involved them in supplying the fire department with two self-contained breathing apparatus units, and the ambulance service has benefited from some of the club's donations. Bob helped weld new bleachers at the park, and he set off the fireworks for the Rotary Club last July 4th.

Gert is planning on serving again as the school crossing guard at the corner of Oakland and State Streets. She did have to give up her motorcycle riding some time ago. "I gave this up after I got a busted arm," she explained.

The Sherens didn't just happen upon the Jerry Lewis telethon. They inspected several charities before deciding upon this one. "I have tried to be in anything that helps the community," says Bob. "Jerry (Lewis) doesn't make anything off this. If he did, I'd quit in a minute."

Bob first met Gert Sauer when he was in the service stationed in Germany in 1952. On Sunday, July 4, he had a date with another girl when he happened to meet Gert. Instead he took Gert out to supper. On Monday they went to a movie. On Thursday Bob asked Gert to marry him. Bob confesses that he has no idea what happened to the other girl.

Gert could not come to the United States until the next spring, so the Sherens were not married until March 14, 1953. Now they have three grown children, two of whom are adopted. One son died in infancy.

The family moved to St. Johns just after the blizzard in February of 1967. "It really is the best move we ever made," confides Gert.

Gert became a U.S. Citizen in 1974. She recalls how she was sworn in in Grand Rapids just as Gerald Ford was becoming President. The only question that she couldn't answer was one pertaining to the Fourth of July. "And it was the day we met," she declares in amazement.

Since that time, Gert has failed to vote only once. She missed a school election recently because she was hospitalized and forgot to get an absentee ballot.

Bob and Gert Sheren

Historians, DNR discuss fate of old Grove School

VICTOR—Members of the Clinton County Historical Commission met recently with representatives of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources to discuss the future of the old Grove School at the corner of Shepardsville and Price Roads. The school is situated to begin looking for advice.

After inspection by commission members, several options were discussed. Because of the location, it was agreed that the building was nearly impossible to protect. If the school is to be preserved it will have to be moved inside the park grounds, perhaps near the old Dennison School, which is to be turned into an interpretive center. Commission members pointed out features and furnishings of the 114-year-old building that could be salvaged and incorporated into the Dennison renovation project.

The bride carried a bouquet of daisies, rose buds and baby's breath to accent her wedding gown of pleated dacron polyester with beaded Alencon lace. She wore a finger tip length veil with a Juliet head piece.

The bridesmaids were Jane Fedewa and Jackie DeGeer, both of Lansing, Judy Rademacher of Fowler and Kathy Brigee of Mentor, Ohio. Sarah Rademacher and Charise Brigee were flower girls.

The attendants wore gowns with spaghetti straps and an empire waistline complemented with a pleated skirt, matching eyelet trim and short jackets. The dresses were of rainbow colors. They each carried a bouquet of daisies and baby's breath.

The mothers wore blue floor length gowns with pleated skirts. They also wore corsages of rose buds and daisies.

Groomsmen were Don Bengel, Ed Bengel, Ray Myers and Mark Thelen. Ushers were Dan Bengel, Roy Fedewa, Carolyn Thelen and Laurie Halfman.

A reception of 400 guests followed the wedding ceremony at the Fowler Conservation Club.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs Seraphine Halfman, was a special guest at the ceremony.

The couple traveled to Canada for their honeymoon and is now residing in Kalamazoo.

Connie Tyler

Connie Tyler takes assistant post

ST. JOHNS—The Clinton County Cooperative Extension service has hired a new assistant home economist to fill the vacancy left when Carol Butler stepped up to take Chloe Padgett's place as county home economist.

Connie Tyler, who was herself an active 4-H member, growing up in Indiana, has accepted the job and will divide her time between family living and 4-H duties.

"The nicest thing about this job is that it's so changeable," Mrs. Tyler said. "Every day will be different. We have many resources and if we don't have them, the Extension has a direct line to experts at Michigan State University," she explained.

Mrs Tyler is a 1977 MSU graduate in physical education and family and child life sciences and has worked in a variety of jobs involving people. She and her husband, Toby, have a preaching, singing ministry that they perform through a group called "Sounds of Victory." Tyler also has a painting and construction business. They have lived in St. Johns for the past year. They have two sons who attend Rodney B. Wilson Junior High.

The new assistant economist said she grew up on a farm and that 4-H helped her learn "common sense about practical things."

In her new job she will assist Carol Butler in "trying to meet the needs of the people in the community. We would also like to hear ideas from residents and will try to accommodate as many as we can," she said.

Small, but quick; St. Johns should fare well

By Tim Jeffery

Joe Gonzales won't be working with the biggest of teams this fall, however it is hoped that the team's speed and quickness can compensate for the size deficiency. A pair of all-state players have graduated leaving huge gaps to fill, but with 11 returning lettermen and an outstanding crop of juniors, the Redwings figure to be very competitive.

St. Johns was a second place finisher in the conference last year and finished with an overall record of 8-1. The junior members of the team were undefeated each of the last two years, as freshmen and then JV players.

There is currently a highly spirited contest for the starting quarterback position, with still no clear cut favorite. Senior Doug Sleep, 6-foot-2, 170-pounds, junior Scott Palmer, 5-foot-9, 175-pounds and senior Eric Ebert, 5-foot-10, 160-pounds are the competitors for the job.

Sleep started last year as an end after playing quarterback as a sophomore. He is an all-around outstanding athlete and has been named as one of the Redwings' captains. Palmer is a lefthander who throws well and is quite strong. Ebert is a transfer from Lansing Catholic Central who may help out defensively as well. All three individuals have certain strong points, but should all contribute at the position throughout the year.

Junior Dean Sharick has the inside track for the tail-back spot. He checks in at 5-foot-8, 170 pounds and possesses 4.7 speed in the 40. He scored frequently last season as a member of the JV squad.

Bruce Fedewa, a senior and also a captain will get the call as the swingback. He is 5-foot-11, 165 pounds and was named as an all-state linebacker in 1979. The blue chipper will again go both ways for Gonzales.

Gary Campbell, 6-foot, 180-pounds lines up in the full-back slot. The senior is expected to carry part of the load with his bruising runs up the middle, and also serves as a captain.

Senior Ed Hallenbeck and junior Jeff Casler are expected to start at ends, if Sleep is the quarterback. When not playing the position, Sleep may start at an end spot. Hallenbeck started a few games last year and figures to help with his fine hands and 6-foot, 180-pound frame. Casler is another 6-footer and weighs 165-pounds. He has outstanding speed (4.7 in the 40) and is an explosive hitter.

John Karber, a 5-foot-11, 155-pound junior is a hard worker, who is pushing for a possible starting berth as an end. He gives Gonzales excellent depth at the position.

The center is senior Kent Harris. The 5-foot-10, 175-pounder started on the defensive line last year and should be an outstanding blocker. He will also see action as a back-up fullback.

The tackles are senior Rich Mathias and Chris Johnson, also a senior. Mathias is, according to Gonzales, the only big man on the team. He is 6-foot-1, 225-pounds, extremely strong and a very fine blocker.

Juniors Eric Silm and Dave Maples will also see plenty of action as tackles. Silm is 6-foot, 190-pounds, while the latter weighs in at 185-pounds and stands an even 6-foot.

Todd Deitrich will start at one guard. The other spot is still open. Competitors for the job are Maples, Ray Signs and Kevin Scott. Deitrich is a 6-foot, 165-pound junior with excellent quickness and outstanding potential. Signs and Scott are also juniors and both weigh in at 165-pounds. Scott measures 6-foot-2, while Signs is three inches shorter. Each should see a great deal of playing time.

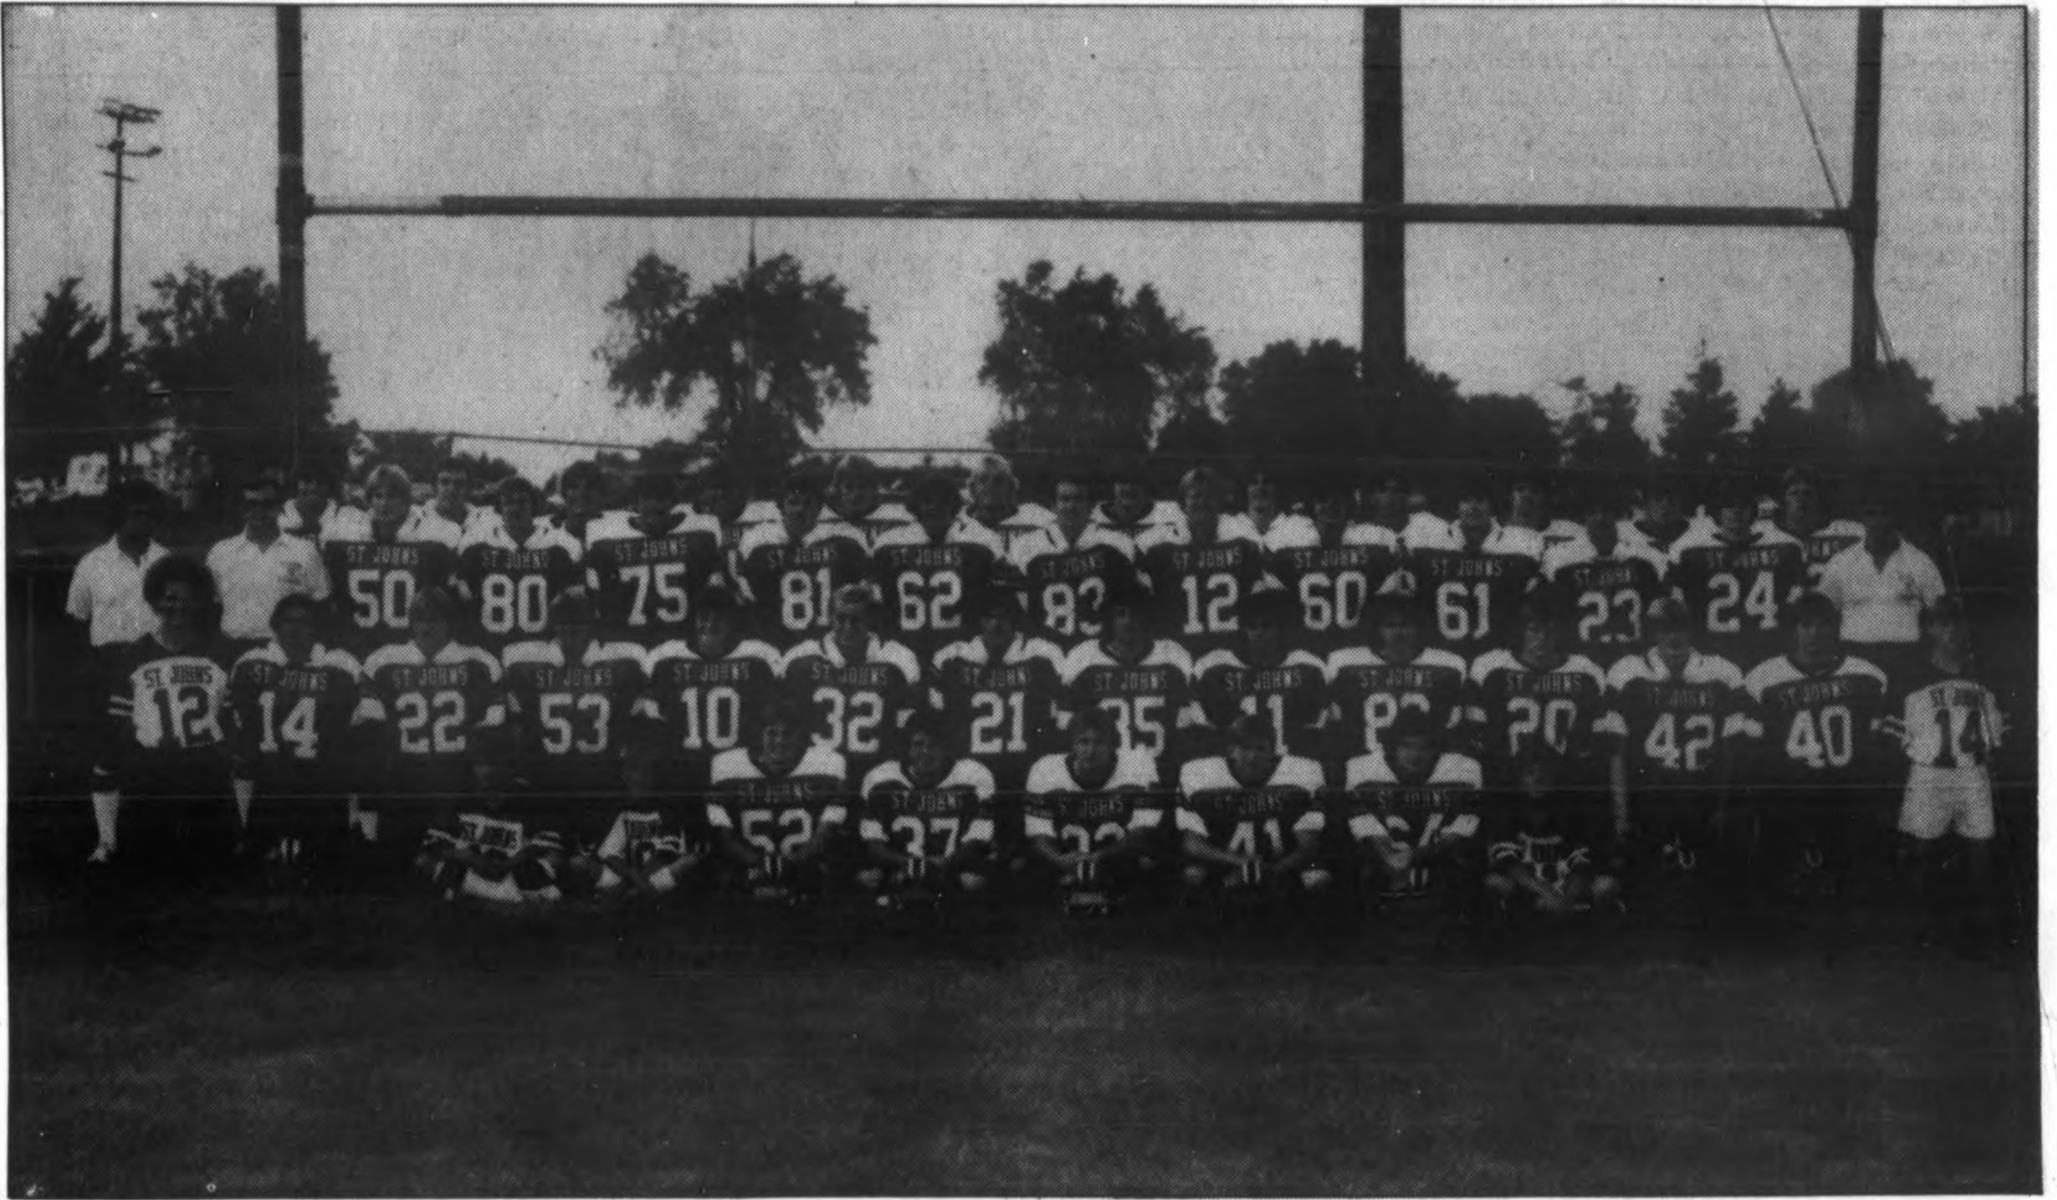

Hard-nosed Brent Churches, a 5-foot-6, 155-pound junior will see action in the offensive line. Gonzales indicated that Churches is pushing hard for a start.

Defensively, Detrich will line up as the nose guard. The tackles will be Mathias and Harris, with Maples, Tim Rayman and Gene Turcotte all pushing for playing time.

Rayman is a 6-foot, 170-pound senior, who has come on strong, despite being inexperienced. Turcotte, also a senior is 6-foot, 180-pounds and should provide strong depth.

The ends are Hallenbeck and junior Larry Goff. The latter is 6-foot-1, 185-pounds and is a very dedicated weight lifter. He has shown good speed. Challenging for the starting role is senior Todd Hudson, 6-foot, 175-pounds.

The linebackers in addition to the all-stater Fedewa, will come from amongst Churches, Scott and Signs. Junior Graham Rice is currently out with a broken thumb, but is expected back by the third game. He is 5-foot-9, 155-pounds and will probably start once he's 100 percent.

The monster will be either Ebert or Casler. Senior Scott Fitzpatrick, 5-foot-8, 160-pounds is a good hitter as well as a very hard worker and should also see action as a monster.

The cornerbacks are senior Kurt Hayes and junior Rod Rojas. Hayes is a 5-foot-10, 140-pounder, who is an excellent hitter. He started last year and will serve as a captain in 1980. Rojas is small at 5-foot-7, 135-pounds, but makes up for it with his desire. He has outstanding speed and according to Gonzales is a ferocious hitter. Another expected to see actions as a cornerback is Karber, the most dedicated weight lifter on the team.

The safety is Campbell with junior Mark Yallup slotted as a back-up. Yallup is 5-foot-10, 165-pounds and has looked good in pre-season practices.

Senior Rich Kingsley, a 6-foot-2, 175-pounder will handle the kicking duties. He has shown the ability to hit from better than 35 yards away.

Another senior, Jerry Ritz, 5-foot-9, 145-pounds is expected to help out both ways. He will see action as a defensive back and an end on offense.

The Redwings will still feature their Power I formation and the full-house T. The attack is very basic and doesn't often become fancy.

Corunna, Chesaning and Ovid-Elsie figure to be the teams to give the Redwings the toughest league battles. The juniors will play a major role in determining just how far St. Johns gets in the conference. If indeed the underclassmen develop rapidly, Gonzales could be in for another banner year.

St. Johns girls set to defend MMB Crown

By Tim Jeffery

Whenever you return 80 percent of the starting lineup from a team which lost only two ball games, the outlook should be extremely bright. Beth Swears' St. Johns basketball team is certainly no exception to the rule.

To start things off, 6-foot-3 forward-center Lori Kus is back for her senior year. After missing the first few games last season because of sickness, she came back to start the remaining games on the schedule, averaging 13 points and 14 rebounds. Kus hit on 43 percent of her shots from the floor and could very well improve on that figure this time around.

Another frontcourter who should start is 5-foot-10 senior, Anne Stafford. She did not see a great deal of playing time in 1979, but according to Swears has improved tremendously. Stafford will be a big factor on the boards and should help out with her scoring ability.

Sophomore Sue Pearsall measures in at 5-foot-10, also. As a freshman, she was with the varsity in the final seven games of the season. The frontcourter has fine ability to work one-on-one against a defender and with her size figures to be a strong rebounder.

Kim Kloeckner will start at one guard spot. The 5-foot-8 senior started every game for last year's MMB champs and showed a good outside shot.

The other guard is senior Denise Thelen. The 5-foot-6 playmaker won the team's 101 percent award last year and was a second team all-conference pick. She is very quick as well as an outstanding passer.

Senior Ann Purtill looks to be one of the first to come off the Redwing bench. The 5-foot-8 guard-forward played about half the time last season and was very instrumental in knocking off Lansing Eastern. Purtill plays good defense and shoots well.

Gretchen Banninga, a 5-foot-10 frontcourter provides excellent depth behind Kus. As a junior, she still lacks in experience, but has shown good jumping ability.

Up from the JV team is junior Connie Koenigs-knecht. The 5-foot-6 guard-forward is quick and plays well defensively.

Junior forward Debbie Hufnagel appears to be a good prospect. Measuring in at 5-foot-10, she is a good leaper, but lacks experience. Guard-forward Margaret Kramer looks to be a good shooter. The 5-foot-8 junior can contribute with her scoring.

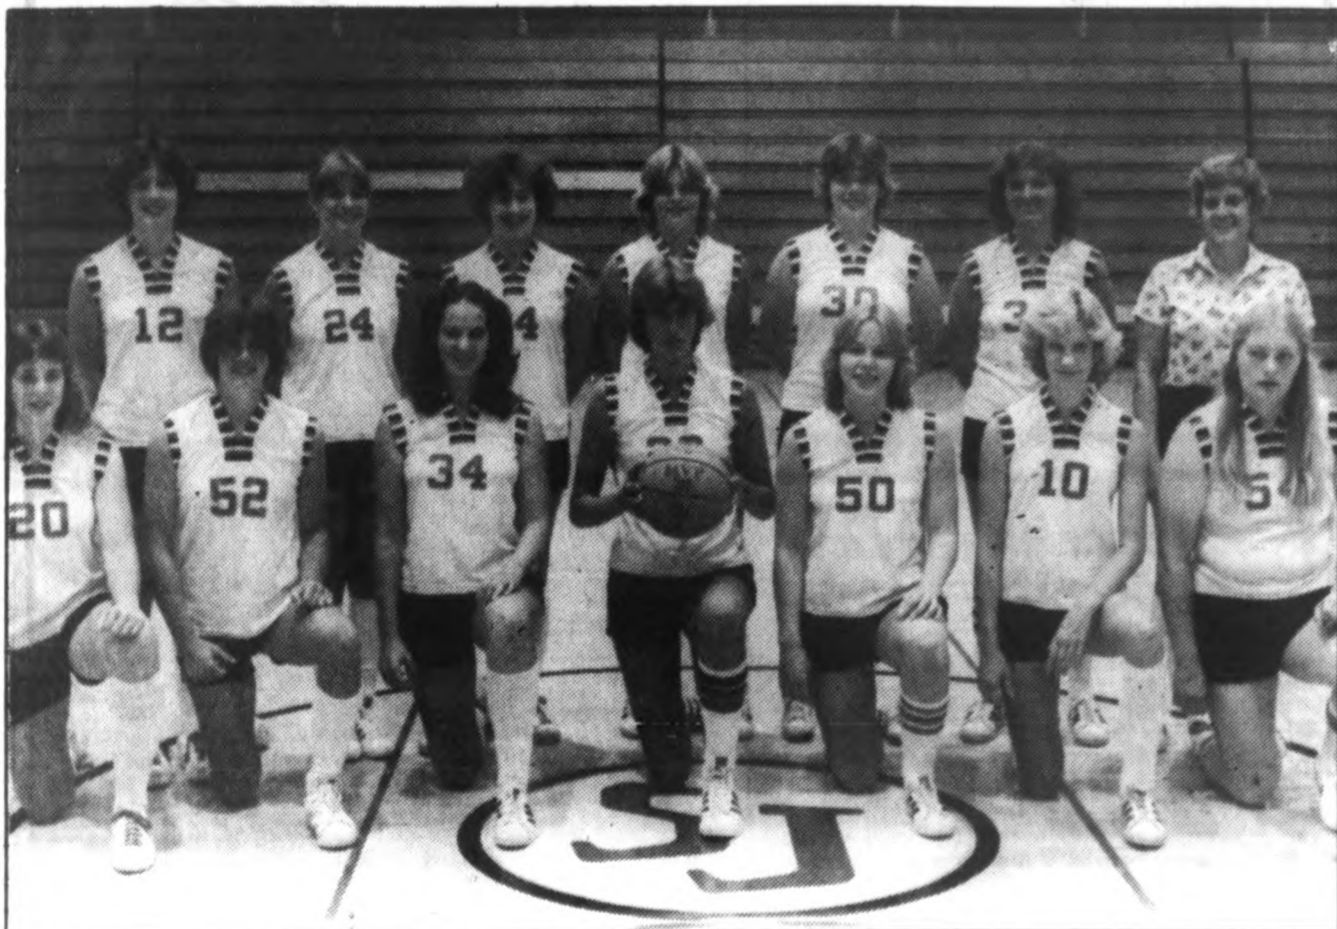

A trio of 5-foot-6 guards are also set to chip in coming off the bench. Sue Howe, Patti Smith and Missy Martis provide Swears with good depth in the backcourt. Howe is a bright defensive player, while Smith will help with her excellent quickness. The final of the three juniors is Martis who is currently nursing a severe ankle sprain and will be out of action for at least another two weeks.

Celia Olsson completes the roster. The 5-foot-10 senior is an exchange student from Sweden. Given time to become more familiar with the game, she could contribute on the boards.

The Redwings would prefer to run quite a bit if possible. When forced to set up, the patterned offense is still very flexible. Defensively they will mix it up as well, showing all the looks.

Lonia, Alma and Ovid-Elsie are teams Swears figures to have the best chance at overtaking her ball club. By looking at the Redwings on paper and on the court, they all may still be chasing St. Johns at season's end.

Eagles' key lies in the rebuilt offensive line

By Tim Jeffery

Last year was fun while it lasted for Fowler gridders. Unfortunately all good things, somehow come to an end. The powerful 9-0 team of a year ago has graduated a large portion of its performers. Bearing this in mind, another perfect season appears highly unlikely.

unlikely.

Luke Hufnagel, a 6-foot, 155-pound senior will be the quarterback. He is a smart ball player, with both a good arm and fine speed. Look for Hufnagel to carry the ball on options.

Senior Ken Wieber, 5-foot-10, 165-pounds will be Coach Steve Spicer's full-back. Wieber is quite strong and will be relied upon for his fine blocking talent.

Lloyd Feldpausch is one of the halfbacks. He is a 6-foot, 170-pound senior with good speed and the ability to run well with power. He is a fine all-around back.

The tailback is senior Tom Weber. The 5-foot-7, 150-pounder racked up 1022 yards last year, enroute to a first team all-league berth. He can be counted upon to give the Eagles another year with his fine speed and quickness.

The ends are Kurt Thelen a 6-foot, 165-pound senior and Doug Cook, 6-foot-1, 165-pounds and also a senior. Both players are very good blockers and can catch the football well.

The tackles are a pair of virtually untested seniors. Steve Thelen and Ron Simon will have huge roles to fill in order for the offense to roll. Thelen is 6-foot-2, 175-pounds, while Simon goes 5-foot-9, 150 pounds.

The guards are seniors Dan Schafer, 5-foot-8, 160-pounds and Dave Taylor, 5-foot-9, 165-pounds. The same story holds true with both of these performers in that they played very little last year and must prove themselves.

Completing the offensive line is center Gary Mueller, a 6-foot-2 senior. He comes into the season also looking green, again without accumulating much in the way of playing time last year.

On defense the Eagles will go with Cook and Hufnagel as the safeties. The cornerbacks are Weber and Wieber.

The linebackers are Feldpausch and Kurt Thelen, while the defensive line shapes up with Schafer and Roy Feldpausch at the ends. Feldpausch is the only junior to have cracked the Eagles' starting lineup thus far. He is 5-foot-9, 145-pounds and loves to hit.

The tackles are Simon and Mueller, while the nose guard is Taylor.

The big key for Spicer's crew is in establishing a creditable offensive line. The backs are strong, but need the blocking which was provided last year.

Spicer pointed out Pewamo-Westphalia and Fulton as two of the toughest teams in the conference. He also looks to see Olivet in the thick of things.

Overall, the Fowler gridders can likely put together another good season, but don't look for anymore in the tough CMAC to get through unscathed.

Fowler cagers

Fowler basketball team faces a long, tough road ahead

By Tim Jeffery

Fowler basketball hopes must be put into perspective. First the team will be facing a rugged schedule, considering how strong the league appears to be. Secondly, the Eagles have lost some outstanding talent from last year's 12-5 team to graduation. They do have five returning letterwinners to try to build upon.

Melody Sowers the Fowler coach welcomes Jane Goerge back for her third year of varsity action. The 5-foot-4 senior guard is extremely quick, shoots well and should end up with her share of steals.

Kay Snyder is the other starting guard. She is 5-foot-4 and also returns for her third year of varsity ball. She is an outstanding defensive player, but does not shoot a whole lot. Some scoring punch is needed from Snyder.

Junior Connie Feldpausch gives the team its only height to speak of. The center measures in at 5-foot-9 and will have to carry the rebounding burden. In time, Sowers looks for Feldpausch to become much more physical and to contribute on the offense.

Becky Klein is a 5-foot-6 sophomore who will start, probably at forward, depending on how Snyder and Goerge are situated. Klein averaged 14 points a game last year for the JV team before an injury to her knee cut the season short. She appears to be a bright prospect, with her fine jumping ability and her quickness.

Mae Farley is a 5-foot-6 senior who will contend for the final starting position. She played varsity last year and is strong defensively, with the ability to be very physical.

Junior GERALYNN SMITH is a quick ball player up from the JV team. She measures 5-foot-5 and is expected to see action as a forward.

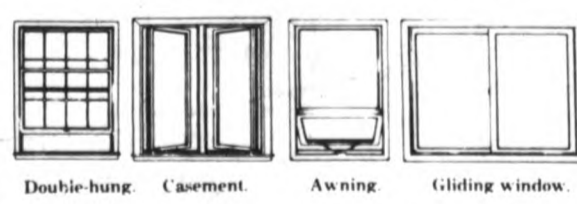

Michele Braun, a 5-foot-4 senior will contribute with her playmaking and quickness. Junior Kim Schafer, a forward up from the JV squad will help out with her outside shooting. She measures 5-foot-6.

Sophomores Lana Hafner and Diane Schmitz will see some playing time with the varsity, but may spend most of the year on the JV team. Hafner is 5-foot-10 and Schmitz is 5-foot-6.

Fowler will hope to press a good portion of the time. Offensively they will try to run whenever possible. Sowers will have to work miracles to win the conference, but stranger things have happened. A safer bet would have the team in the middle of the league's pack.

Pirates could be in for a big year

By Tim Jeffery

The Fulton Pirate gridders won six of nine ball games last season and look strong enough to approach those figures again. The league is powerful with the like of Olivet, Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia, but John Wachsmuth's troops figure to be right in the race.

Senior Scott Winsor returns to direct the offense. He is 6-foot-1, 150-pounds and one of the teams' captains. He was an all conference pick last season, while proving to be a fine passer and team leader. He can also run the option very well. Behind Winsor is 5-foot-9, 150-pound sophomore Craig Baker who has the looks of a fine prospect.

Junior Wayne Bond provides the team with excellent speed in the tailback slot. The 5-foot-11, 170-pounder amassed over 400 yards in the final two games last year after being hampered by early-season injuries. If he's healthy the Fulton ground game will be in good hands.

The slotback is senior Mark Lalone. The 5-foot-10, 155-pounder is a fine receiver and possesses good speed.

Senior Rod Robbe, 5-foot-10, 170-pounds is the fullback. He has shown the potential to be an outstanding back and will be counted on heavily to block well.

Junior Andy Stephens, 5-foot-8, 160-pounds will see plenty of action as both a fullback and a slotback. He is a tremendous hitter and can be very difficult to bring down.

Junior Ray Rumsey, 5-foot-8, 140-pounds and freshman Steve Moon, 5-foot-10, 150-pounds will also see playing time in the backfield for Wachsmuth. Ron Hansen, a junior should start at tight end. He is 6-foot, 165-pounds and has shown good blocking ability to go with his speed and fine hands. Senior Brian Winsor, 6-foot-1, 160-pounds, has been plagued with a shoulder problem, but should see some playing time as a tight end as well.

Pete Trefil is the split end. The 5-foot-6, 130-pound junior should be a big threat for opposing secondaries. He has good quickness and decent speed. Greg Winsor, a 5-foot-10, 140-pound junior will back up Trefil.

Junior Tony Brown, 5-foot-8, 170-pounds is the center.

He is a big key to the success of the team and looks to be rapidly improving.

The guards are juniors Ed Rittenburgh and Greg Sorrell. Rittenburgh is 6-foot, 175-pounds, while Sorrell is an inch taller and five pounds heavier. Both have been very impressive in practice and make up part of the strength of the Fulton team.

One of the tackles is Jeff Waldron, 6-foot-1, 210-pounds and a first team all-league choice last year. The senior is also a captain and will always line up on the tight end side.

Jim Fricke a 6-foot, 180-pound senior is the other tackle. He started last year, and will combine with Waldron to form an awesome pair of tackles.

Junior Ken Murdock, 5-foot-9, 150-pounds, sophomore Jeff Price, 5-foot-6, 130 pounds, junior Wayne Ball, 5-foot-9, 170-pounds, senior Karl Verway, 5-foot-8, 175-pounds and juniors John Johnson, 5-foot-4, 165-pounds and Mark Proctor, 5-foot-7, 165-pounds will combine to give the Pirates excellent depth in the line. It is undoubtedly the team's strongest suit.

On defense, Fulton has Lalone and Scott Winsor at the corner back spots. Others expected to see action in the secondary include Trefil, Rumsey, Brian and Greg Winsor, Moon and Baker.

The linebackers are Bond, Robbe and Stephens. Murdock and Price may also see action at the position.

In the line the starters look to be Sorrell, Rittenburgh, Hansen, Fricke and Waldron. Ball, Johnson, Brown, and Verway will be the back-ups.

Wachsmuth also has a number of freshmen who are developing rapidly and may see playing time this year, but will definitely be counted on in the near future.

The Pirates can be expected to throw more than they did in 1979 as they unfold some new wrinkles in the power-I formation.

The season gets underway Friday with Detroit St. Hedwig paying Fulton a visit. With the looks of an awesome line and a good crew in the backfield, it should be an exciting year for Pirate fans. They will more than likely make a strong run for a league title.

Fulton cagers have high hopes

By Tim Jeffery

If ever a team had reason for being optimistic, Bill Parker's Fulton basketball squad is one such contingent. They were 21-4 last year and were defeated in tournament play by the eventual Class C state champs, Saginaw Carrolton. The team has graduated its best player, but even the loss of Sandy Price doesn't darken the Pirate outlook.

Nancy Kresge, a 5-foot-8 senior forward and the league's number two scorer last year head the returning cast. She is an excellent offensive rebounder and on defense will be assigned to the opponents' quickest player.

Marti McVannel, a 5-foot-7 guard is the team's playmaker. She will be starting for the fourth year on the varsity team. McVannel led the team in steals and assists last year.

Laurie Fricke is the center. The 6-foot senior averaged 10 points and 11 rebounds a game last year. According to Parker, his center is much more aggressive this season, which should be bad news for opponents.

Junior Brenda Ondrus is another 6-footer. She is slated for a starting forward spot and figures to be strong on the boards with her fine jumping ability.

Annette Bontrager a 5-foot-5 senior is the final starter. She is a very aggressive player and should be help with her outside shooting.

Junior Sheri Miller is the first player expected off the bench. The 5-foot-5 guard is extremely quick and can shoot well. Sara Steigerwald is a 5-foot-8 junior who will see playing time as either a forward or center. Fellow junior Deb Fisk will do likewise as a guard. She measures 5-foot-1.

Senior Renae Sorrell, a 5-foot-8 senior will help out with the scoring load at both center and forward. Another senior, Joni Williams has greatly improved and will contribute in the middle of the boards with her 5-foot-9 frame. Beth Zamarron, 5-foot-8 forward, would be a possible starter had she not suffered an ankle injury. She is expected to be out for an extended period. Zamarron led the JV team in scoring last year and has been given jersey number 25, which belonged to Price.

Sophomore Michelle Winsor completes the roster. She measures 5-foot-8, is a great leaper and will be a good bet for a starting spot next year. Parker likes to run, so it can be expected the Pirates will do plenty of fastbreaking. They try to get the opponent to play at their pace.

If the breaks tend to lean to Fulton's favor, this appears to be the team capable of winning everything. Enough said.

One Man's Views

By Tim Jeffery

Tuesday night promises to be a big night in Bath. The Bees play host to Dave O'Dell's DeWitt Panthers in the opener for both teams. It also marks the debut of Patty Terres at the helm of the Bath girls.

Each team lost only twice last year and figure to play well again. Jeanne Marriot of DeWitt is 5-foot-11, making her the tallest player on either team. The Bees will have their hands full in trying to shut her down.

On the other hand, Ros Schneider of Bath will provide the Panthers with a problem. She can do everything on the floor well and must be held in check in order for DeWitt to be successful. Of course there are several other factors to look for.

The play of forwards Suzi Dalman of DeWitt and Robin Pixley of Bath will have huge impacts on the outcome. Dalman and Pixley were honorable mention picks in their respective leagues last year.

Point-guards Cindy Faggion and Teri Reblin will make you feel as though you're witnessing a track meet rather than a basketball game. DeWitt's Faggion is only 5-foot-3 while Bath's Reblin is an even smaller 5-foot-1. Both girls direct their team's offense and spearhead the press.

The game is a toss-up and only one thing can be certain. Neither team plays a slow game, so there'll be plenty of running and gunning.

St. Johns visits Charlotte Friday night to kickoff the high school season. The Redwings are not big, while Charlotte is the opposite. For the St. Johns gridders to win, they'll have to exploit their fine speed. They may not be able to muscle the bigger Capitol Circuit opponent.

The knock against Charlotte is the lack of imagination the team shows in its offense. They'll have to try something different if they expect to move on St. Johns. The Redwing defense was outstanding in last Thursday's scrimmage.

Friday will also be a big night for Gail Thornton. His DeWitt team opens their season at Saginaw Swan Valley, certainly not an easy foe. The saying has it that nice guys finish last, but something tells me this won't hold true with Thornton. You couldn't ask for a more cooperative and nicer person to deal with. Fortunately in all of his niceness, the Panther boss knows a thing or two about football. Victory may not come to him this week, but he'll win his share in time.

Can the Lions knock off the Rams, Sunday? Well, L.A. has some holdout problems of their own, a la Bubba Baker. Billy Sims will let it all hang out and may give the Rams fits if he can keep from fumbling. The question is can the Lions shut down the potent Ram passing attack? Make it Rams 27, Lions 20.

P-W features high-powered offensive attack

By Tim Jeffery

Whenever a team wins six of its nine games and then returns all of the backfield, expectations are generally quite high. This holds true for Mike Folk's Pewamo-Westphalia team, but there is one big if. The backs can only go as far as the line can take them and only one starter is back. Overall it will be a highly inexperienced wall to simply the blocking.

Mike Pohl, a 5-foot-8 senior will return to direct the wishbone attack. He started the final four games last year and in so doing fired three touchdown passes. He also has fine quickness and runs well. According to Folk, Pohl really opens up the offense.

The halfbacks are Kevin Fedewa and Dean Schafer, both seniors. Fedewa is 5-foot-9 and was a second team all-league selection in 1979. He gained better than 650 yards for the Pirates last year. Schafer is 5-foot-10, 167-pounds, started both ways last season and accumulated over 450 yards rushing. Fedewa is the faster of the two, while Schafer combines good power and excellent running instincts.

Senior Brian Pfaff, 6-foot, 180-pounds will be the fullback. He started the first four games last year until a broken collarbone cut his season short. Pfaff is an excellent pass receiver, has good speed and could best be described as a shunting type of runner.

Chris Thelen, a 5-foot-8, 160-pound senior with great quickness will fill in at various spots in the backfield. He provides P-W with very good depth in their running corps.

The ends are seniors Dar Hengesbach and Dave Rademacher. Hengesbach is 6-foot-1, 175-pounds, while Rademacher goes 6-foot-2, 180-pounds. Hengesbach saw a considerable amount of playing time last year and has good hands. The latter is, according to Folk, vastly improved and has excellent speed. Senior Guy Walter, 5-foot-7, 142-pounds will fill in at split end. He also has sticky hands.

At the guards will be Kevin Smith and either Dave Smith or Dale Schmitt. Both Smiths are seniors, with Kevin checking in at 5-foot-11, 170-pounds and Dave at 5-foot-8, 150-pounds. The former is the team's lone starter back on the line. He has good quickness and strength, which make him an outstanding blocker. The smaller of the Smiths is also extremely quick and saw considerable action on defense last year. Schmitt is a 6-foot-3, 180-pound junior, with extreme intensity. He has moved up from last year's JV team.

Gary Hengesbach and Bill Keilen figure to be the tackles. Hengesbach, a 6-foot-1, 170-pound senior has greatly improved and shows excellent blocking technique. Keilen is a junior and weighs 195-pounds, while standing an even 6-foot. He is very aggressive and is learning fast.

The center is senior Jon Riley, 5-foot-9, 170-pounds. He has improved greatly through weight-training and hard work on the practice field.

Seniors Dan Thelen, 5-foot-10, 170-pounds and Dave Klein, 5-foot-9, 160-pounds will fill in at both the guard spots and the tackle positions.

On defense, the Pirates will go with Fedewa and Schafer as the cornerbacks. Walters, Pohl and Chris Thelen will split the time as safeties.

The linebackers are Kevin Smith, Dar Hengesbach and Kurt Schafer. Schafer is a 5-foot-10 senior, who was one of the team's best defensive players until a shoulder injury in a car accident put him on the shelf. He may very well be the Pirates' leading tackler this year.

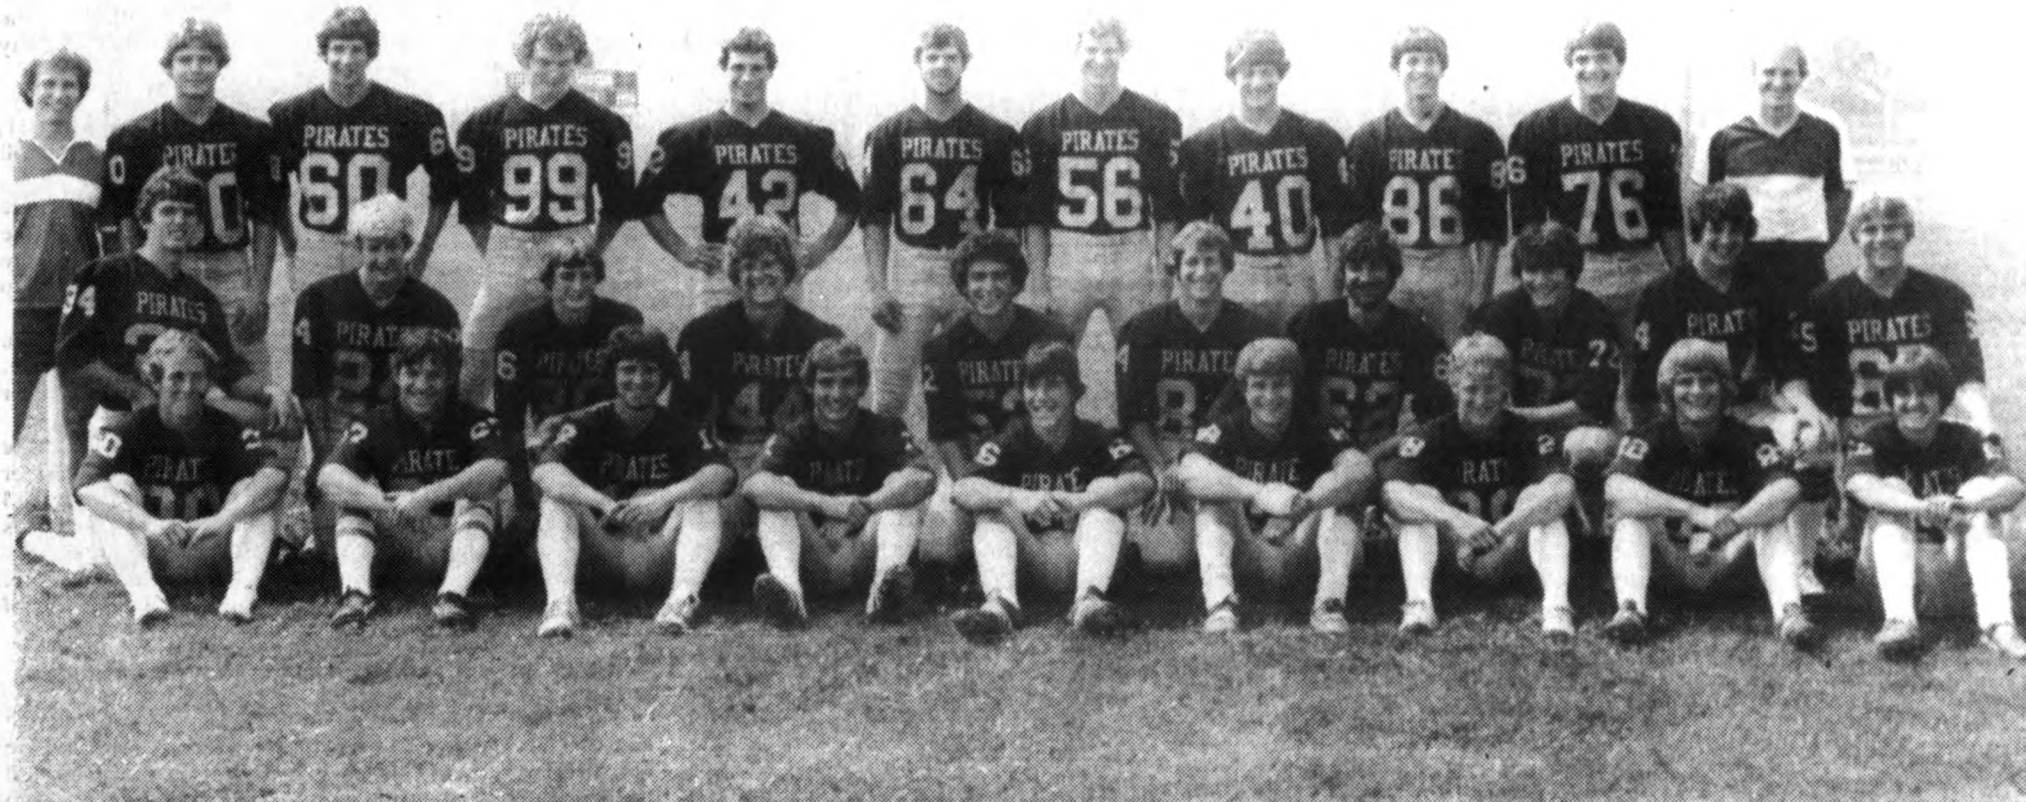

The defensive ends are Pfaff, Dave Smith and Schmitt. The tackles are Gary Hengesbach, Keilen and Riley. Schmitt and Riley will probably be back-ups, while the other four start.

John Nurenburg, a 5-foot-11 junior is the nose guard. He is the strongest player on the team and started the final six games last year at fullback. He should again see action again in the offensive backfield.

The Pirates will put the ball in the air frequently from their wishbone, which is contrary to what many teams do with that particular offensive formation. On the other hand, they will still follow the rule for the wishbone, in that they'll often try to get outside.

The team opens the schedule with Saranac at home. The third and fourth games may be the keys. P-W will play Olivet and then Fulton. These two teams along with Fowler figure to give Folk's troops the most difficulty in the CMAC.

The awesome talent in the backfield makes the Pirates a very strong threat for a conference championship. If Folk's line comes around quickly, opponents may be hopelessly trying to corral a whole flock of running backs.

IN 1980 SEASON

Pirates looking for contention

By Tim Jeffery

Bonnie Somero's basketball team was an even 7-7 in the league last year and 12-10 overall, while neither mark is poor by any means, her troops figure to upgrade the records this season.

Junior Lynn Klein returns to direct the offense. She is 5-foot-4 and mixes speed and defense into her package of tools, making her a fine point-guard.

Therese Simons, a 5-foot-5 senior will start at the other guard spot. She has started each of the last two years and lettered three times. Probably the team's best all-around player, Simons combines speed, good outside shooting and excellent ability for going to the basket.

Second team all league pick, Gina Pline is back to anchor the middle for the Pirates. She is a 5-foot-10 senior with fine scoring and rebounding abilities. Pline scored at a 15 point per game clip in 1979 and has lettered twice.

The forwards look to be 5-foot-8 Jane Cotter and 5-foot-9 Lee Ann Radamacher. Cotter is a senior with two varsity letters to her name. She can fill it up from the outside and does a good job on the boards. Radamacher is a junior, who is probably the team's best free throw shooter and outside shooter. She lettered in 1979.

Junior Donna Heckman is a 5-foot-8 forward, expected to be the first player off the bench. She started last year and was one of the team's best rebounders. When her game is at its peak, Heckman works extremely well inside.

Shawn Thelen, a 5-foot-6 sophomore guard, looks to be a very bright prospect for Somero. She works well on defense with her great anticipation.

Another strong defensive player to provide depth is Judy Theis. She is 5-foot-4 and will help out at guard.

Patty Theis is a 5-foot-10 freshman who is a good ball-handler and looks to be a big factor for the P-W future. Only the second freshman to make the varsity squad, the other being the team's older Theis, she should see her share of playing time this year.

Senior Patty Spencer is another returning letterwinner. She measures 5-foot-11 and does a good job on the boards.

Offensively, the Pirates like to try to take advantage of any weaknesses the opponents may have. Normally it will be the opposition that dictates the type of attack Somero's forces will use. They will run when the opportunity permits.

On defense, the team figures to mix it up a good deal more than in the past. Somero indicated they have been hurt by previously trying to go with one defense and won't be caught short again.

The coach pointed out Fulton, Olivet and St. Patrick's as the league's toughest competition. Her squad looks to be a better team than that of a year ago, but the league is very strong and it will take an extraordinary effort from the Pirates to capture a title.

DUE TO ILLNESSS

Marauders must improve defensive line

By Tim Jeffery

For Russ Pope, injuries and other factors have already become a factor in his putting together a defense. When practice got underway, it was figured that the defense would be the backbone of the team, but now it could be the weakness.

Offensively, the Marauders return a veteran quarterback to spearhead their veer attack. He is senior Eric Winkler. The 6-foot-1, 190-pounder combined for nearly 1000 yards in total offense last year and is an excellent option quarterback. He also handled the team's punting duties to the tune of 37 yards a kick.

Senior Kevin Wilson will be one of the halfbacks. He started on defense last year, but had troubles with a shoulder injury, which forced him to sit out much of the time on offense. He measures 5-foot-11 and weighs 160-pounds and runs on offense. He measures 5-foot-11 and weighs 160-pounds and runs a 4.8 in the 40.

Brad Byrnes is the other halfback. He is 5-foot-11, 165 pounds and has outstanding ability. The fullback is junior Scott Miller. Against Ithaca last year, the 5-foot-10, 165 pounder gained 80 yards in his first action as a varsity ball player.

The ends will be Troy Ginther and Mark Carter. Ginther, the fastest player on the team, is 6-foot-1, 172 pounds, while Carter is also 6-foot-1. He weighs in at 160-pounds. Both players have the ability to catch the football well and should see more passes in their direction this fall. Carter will also serve as the team's snapper for punts.

Ryan Ackles, a 5-foot-10, 190-pound senior will be one of the guards. He was an honorable mention all-state selection last year. Ackles combines excellent strength with his 4.8 speed in the 40.

The other guard is expected to be senior Paul Garcia. He is 5-foot-11, 185-pounds and looks to be a fine blocker.

The tackles are Mark Staser a transfer from East Lansing High School and Dean Bendt. Staser is 6-foot-2 and weighs 170-pounds. Bendt was all conference last year and checks in at 6-foot-2, 182-pounds.

Al Bywater, 5-foot-11, 185-pounds is the center. He is a junior and enjoyed a fine season on the JV team last year.

On defense the Ovid-Elsie team goes with a 4-4. The downlinemen are Steve Nyhus, 5-foot-7, 170-pounds; Al Martin, 5-foot-10, 170 pounds; Bendt and Kip Coleman, 6-foot, 170-pounds.

Jim Chapko, 6-foot-2, 195-pounds is out with hay fever and may not be able to play in the opener Friday. Another player who could have started in the defensive line is Tom Smith, 5-foot-8, 224-pounds. He is suffering from appendicitis. The loss of both of these two players may be more than the Marauders can overcome.

The outside linebackers are Wilson and John Grinnell, 5-foot-9, 155-pounds. The two inside linebackers are Ackles who set a school record with 160 tackles last year and junior Scott Hudecek. He measures in at 6 foot and weighs 178-pounds.

In the secondary, Ovid-Elsie goes with senior Bob McQue 5-foot-9, 145-pounds, Ginther and Carter. The three should form a very respectable secondary.

St. Johns, Corunna and Chesaning all look to be strong in the MMB race and in order to get into the thick of things, Pope may need the return of some healthy linemen on defense.

Ovid-Elsie Marauders

By Tim Jeffery

Mary Hudecek's Ovid-Elsie basketball team should be much improved in 1980, if only because more shots will be aimed at the bucket by more people. The team learned the hard way that it takes more than one to tango.

All-everything Jennifer Litomisky was last year's star and at the same time the reason for the team's problems. No one other than the senior center would shoot. While she did a tremendous job, other members of the team relied too heavily on her to carry the load. This year's team has worked hard in pre-season practice to come up with other scoring threats.

One such player is senior Connie Warfle. The 5-foot-7 forward did average 9 points a game last year and is developing into a very respectable outside shooter.

Another who is expected to help out with the scoring load is 5-foot-1 senior Brenda Hughes. The little guard is the team's floor leader and must be reckoned with when it comes to shooting.

With figures such as 1060 career points and better than 890 rebounds, the 6-foot Litomisky is truly awesome. She connected on 75 percent of her free throws and 66 percent of shots from the floor on last year's 12-10 team. Her marks of 24.9 points and 23.5 rebounds per contest are well within reach again, but undoubtedly the team's center would be willing to sacrifice the individual status for a few more wins.

Junior forward Lori Len plays strong defense under the basket and has good court sense. The 5-foot-7 frontcourter played varsity ball last year and will be counted on to chip in with some scoring.

Shawn Barclay a 5-foot-5 sophomore guard has moved up from the JV squad to a very likely starting spot on the Ovid-Elsie varsity group. She has excellent quickness which could enable her to score on the fastbreak.

Barclay will also help greatly on the defensive side.

Junior Tena Woodbury is another fine defensive player and possesses excellent ability for getting open on offense. The 5-foot-7 guard-forward should be strong off the bench.

Terri Reed a 5-foot-8 forward is able to get inside to help out with scoring. She is a junior.

Another Terri, this one quite a bit smaller at 5-foot-1 and named Fisher will provide great hustle and strong defensive play. She too is a junior.

Forward Yvette McAllister has moved in from Breckenridge and should help out with her quickness. McAllister is a junior and stands 5-foot-8.

Lisa Makela is a 5-foot-8 senior forward. She is an exchange student from Finland and has proven to be a good athlete. Makela hustles well and will help with a bit more familiarization of the game's fundamentals.

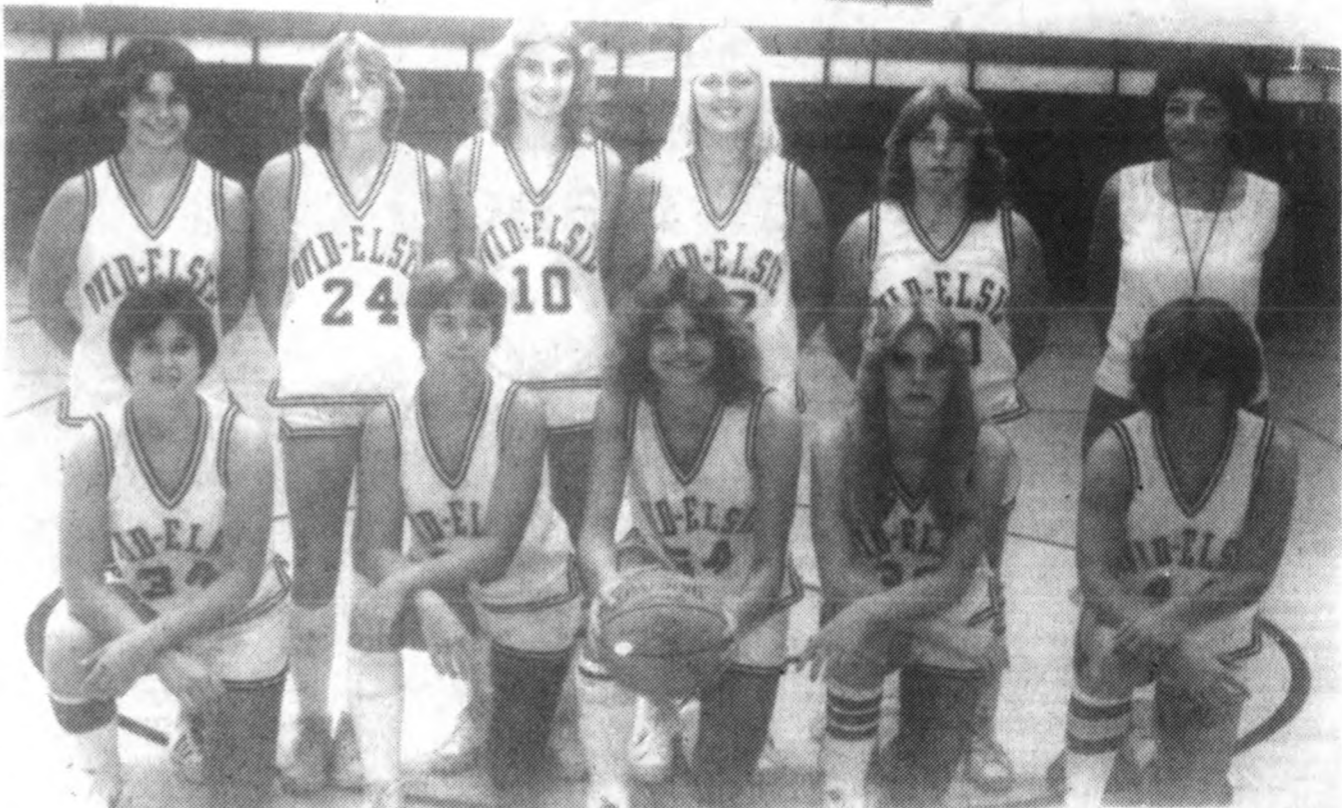

A big blow to the Marauders has been the loss of senior Vicki Sehlke. The 5-foot-7 guard-forward was expected to start, but is out with a foot problem. She scored at a 7 point per game clip last year and could be a tremendous lift when she returns. If she is able to come back, it won't be until at least a month.

The team looks as though it may be able to run a bit more than last season's team, however they won't try to force the break.

Against smaller teams the Ovid-Elsie girls will likely match up in a man-to-man defense. They will also show some zone defense whenever necessary.

Hudecek indicated St. Johns, Corunna with their new coach and Alma as the league's stronger teams. Of course she has high hopes of having her contingent right in the thick of things. Those hopes can become a reality if the balanced scoring comes about. Tuesday, Nov. 18 is a date to mark down on the calendar. It may very well be for the conference championship as the Marauders close out their season at St. Johns.

Obituaries

Gladys Darling

Funeral services were held Monday, Sept. 1 for Gladys L. Darling, 91, of Juddville Road, Elsie. She died at the Durand Convalescent Manor, Saturday, Aug. 30, 1980 after four years of illness. She leaves 158 descendants.

The services were at the Houghton Chapel-Osgood Funeral Home with the Rev. Homer VanBuren officiating. Burial was in Fairfield Cemetery. The family suggests that memorials be made to the Carland United Methodist Church.

Mrs Darling was born in Fairfield Township, June 29, 1889, the daughter of Delos and Vila (Hanes) Curtis. She lived all her life in the township, attending school there.

She was married to Earl Darling in Burton, May 16, 1906. He died in 1974. She was a homemaker, member of the Carland United Methodist Church and its United Methodist Women's group.

Haven," he said. "We had a kid in the home who had been breaking rules all the time but then started to follow them at Green Haven. He was being transferred to a state work camp and while packing he found a list of Green Haven rules and crushed them into a ball.

"It blew our minds," Olmsted said. "We had failed to teach him that rules were life long, not just for a certain place and time."

"We do feel that we're doing something," said Olmsted. "There are a lot of good things happening at Green Haven and with the system."

The Clinton County caseworkers are seeing younger children in the courts with the average age estimated between 13 to 15. At 16, Olmsted points out, the school related offenses are not handled by the courts because a youth can quit school at this age.

There is also the trend this year of seeing more girls both at Green Haven and being placed on probation. In previous years there weren't any girls in the facility.

Many of the youths that caseworkers see informally, (for such offenses as running away or truancy), become official cases and end up being taken away from their homes. But, there are times when a youth is caught stealing just once and the caseworker never sees him again.

"Juvenile crime takes many other aspects into account," Olmsted said. "A kid who steals a car might be trying to get away from a father who drinks and beats him all the time. You have to look at the situation, assess it and then look at the variables."

THANK YOU

I wish to at this time thank everyone who supported me and especially to those who volunteered their time and effort to keep our expenses under $3000 in our effort to elect me sheriff. I'm looking forward to working with all of you again.

IMPORTANT SAFETY WARNING to owners of older John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractors

Maintaining the safety equipment on your older John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractor can be especially important. The original boot (or cover) for the battery's positive post on Model 60, 70, 100, 110, 112, 120 or 140 Tractors manufactured from 1963 through 1974 may have suffered from age or may have been lost or damaged. And if that positive battery post is not properly covered, there is danger of a spark causing a fire and bodily injury if you accidentally touch a metal gas can to the positive battery post when refueling the tractor. A more serious fire can result if you are not using a safety-approved gas can.

If you own one of the above models, John Deere wants to make absolutely certain that your tractor has the battery's positive post properly isolated. To make it easy—and safer—for you, we will send you a new cover, free. Just fill out the coupon provided below and mail it to the address shown. It comes complete with installation instructions and is not difficult to install. But if you prefer, after you have received your kit, make a date with your John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractor dealer and he'll install it for a small service charge.

Remember, safety and maintenance go hand in hand. The operator's manual can help you. Read it again. Keep your tractor as safe as it was when it was delivered.

It could be the most important thing you do today.

Back to school means school officials have been busy all summer

By Sharon Randall

While Clinton County's 12,309 students have been off on summer vacations, things have not been quiet around their school buildings.

Some of the summer's activities are evident, clean lockers, fresh paint, shiny floors, scrubbed walls and furniture. Other things aren't as visible but have taken up hundreds of summertime hours. Heating units have been cleaned and reconditioned, buildings have undergone safety inspections, schedules, classes and bus runs have been organized, tons of materials for student and teacher use and record keeping have been printed, test results have been analyzed, supplies have been ordered and distributed, cupboards are stacked.

Maintenance and custodial staffs at St. Johns Public Schools work all summer; often extra part-time help is added. With 10 buildings, St. Johns runs a staff of five maintenance people and 24 custodians about half of which, work part-time. Maintenance Director Bob Keisel said that one of the biggest jobs custodians have every summer is to clean and strip the lockers. Each school year students decorate lockers with pictures and other paraphernalia and each summer custodians spend hours stripping them off and removing tape and glue deposits.

A crew of four tackles each room to clean and re-lamp light fixtures, clean, lubricate and change filters in heaters, clean windows, dust, scrub and resurface floors with wax finish, clean and repair or replace broken furniture. Every year, 10 percent of the rooms are painted during the summer, other rooms are washed down.

Maintaining the heating systems is another big chore according to Keisel. Each year the steam boilers are drained and cleaned, a practice that he feels has resulted in long use from them. The boiler at the junior high school has been in use since 1925 and "is still doing a good job." Central School's boiler is of 1935 vintage and still working up to par.

There are jobs that just can't be done when school is in session. Jobs like repair and painting of the swimming pool at the high school and the refinishing of the gym floor which is sanded and refinished each year.

The maintenance department takes on one or two big projects each summer. This year all the efforts were put into bringing Central School up to code. More than 100 man hours were put into meeting fire marshal and national electrical codes, Keisel said. Last year's big project was replacing the lighting in the Rodney B. Wilson gym.

Administrators and school secretaries have spent the three summer months in an array of activities, many of which there is simply no time for during the school year. Elementary Coordinator Roger Feeman pours over test results, in an attempt to provide curriculum committees and classroom teachers in areas of student weakness.

Feeman also coordinates elementary programs and activities with the junior high and high school and assigns students and staff. He also spends "an enormous amount of time just talking to parents." Student schedules often have to be worked around working mothers and baby sitters, items that Feeman said are critical to the families

Criteria for free, reduced school meals set

The Clinton County Intermediate School District today announced the policy for Free Milk for children unable to pay full price of milk served under the Special Milk Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility.

TOTAL FAMILY SIZE	A.	B.
	SCALE FOR FREE MEAL	SCALE FOR REDUCED MEAL
1	$ 5,230	$ 8,150
2	6,900	10,760
3	8,500	13,380
4	10,250	15,990
5	11,930	18,600
6	13,600	21,220
7	15,280	23,830
8	16,950	26,440
Each additional family member	$ 1,680	$ 2,610

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space of signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of Federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and criminal status.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

Children of unemployed parents may qualify for free milk if total family income include welfare payments, unemployment compensation and sub-pay benefits fall within the prescribed family income guidelines.

In the operation of special milk programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, creed, color, or natural origin.

The State Board of Education reports that since 1956, when Michigan's driver's education law was enacted, nearly 3.5 million high school students have taken driver's education.

The average Michigan resident borrowed 3.64 library books last year, according to the State Library.

A record 521,950 students were expected to be enrolled in Michigan's public and private two and four-year colleges and universities this fall, the State Board of Education said.

involved. "We know that these are real needs with these families and we try to meet their needs," he said.

Once letters of school assignments go out, time is spent on the phone or meeting with parents who feel there are family conflicts with the assignment. "We try to meet people's needs and circumstances as much as we possibly can," he said, "but within the alternatives we have to work with."

Personal contact is important, according to Feeman but it takes time. "Some parents feel hesitant to call or communicate with school officials, but we might be able to help if they do," he said.

This year there have been special problems because of the millage failure. First, because the issue was turned down in June, school officials had to prepare two separate plans, one anticipating voter approval in August and the other in case the millage was turned down again.

Now they know they are in a cutback plan and face a trip back to the voters in late September but the still face negative calls from concerned parents who don't understand and say "but I voted yes."

A great deal of administrative time goes into personnel, especially in negotiating. These duties are handled by Gordon Vandemark who also does all the hiring. He is responsible not only for negotiations but on the interpretation of what effects each step will have on the whole school picture.

"Today there is a lot of time involved in that [negotiating]," he said. "There's no logical explanation anymore." Vandemark also met frustrations in staff assignments this year because of the necessity to lay off a number of teachers. Legalities had to be checked, he said. "We had to find out what we can do and can't do. Everyone has rights and they want them explained to them. A lot of time is spent in explaining."

While most of the support personnel contracts are not as complex as the teacher contract is, there is a lot of comparing between them and between what we and other districts have.

Vandemark is also involved in transportation and this year's bus routes were changed due to costs. Some 45 families were involved in a cut back on turnarounds, requiring children to walk to a corner from one to one half mile from their homes. Vandemark said it involved 185 miles of turnarounds per day for a substantial savings over the year.

School personnel all echoed the fact that the schools don't remain empty during the summer. "It's busy every day of the week and evenings too," said administrative secretary Evelyn Walton. Summer sessions of sport camps, band, cheerleading, and drivers' training keeps the parking lot full. Elementary buildings and ball fields are also used during the summer. A six week session of remedial math and reading was held for students elementary through junior high on a tuition basis and buildings were also used by the Migrant program and the Health Department for a fluoride clinic.

The list goes on, both in "getting ready" activities and in building use, but summer is over and ready or not, the kids are back.

HOLTON-LATOFF

1854 Italianate

501 East Higham Street

The Italianate house owned by the Joseph Latoff family is one of the earliest houses built in St. Johns, and the design served as a model for many other homes in the city. For many years it was owned by the Shields family. In later years, Julia and Helen Holton lived in the west half of the house, while their aunt, who was a Shields, lived in an apartment in the east half.

Visitors to the home today will find much of the original painted pine woodwork. The dining room still features the original pine flooring accented with a Persian style rug. Also of interest are the original stained glass work in the front door and an elegant staircase featuring a cherrywood newel post. The slightly distorted quality of window glass throughout the house marks it as original to the home.

Other articles on display throughout the house on the day of the tour will include fine handwork, a three level antique high chair, and many fine old pieces acquired by the current owners.

This special Home Tour guide is brought to you by the staff of the Clinton County News and members of the Clinton County Historical Society with financial support from area businesses :

BULLARD-FIELD

1896 Victorian

409 East Higham Street

The soft blue of the Max and Harriett Field House was a specially mixed color, chosen to blend with the interior. Harriett took her red, white and blue color scheme from the stained glass window on the side porch door.

The Fields have kept family traditions from both sides alive. Harriett's mother always had a sea scape over the mantle and so does she. Family portraits adorn the walls of the staircase and tell the story of the Fields and Kennedys.

In every room an appreciation of old furniture, old linens, and old china and glass is evident. All features of the home blend in with the life style of the family, which has been in the printing and publishing business in St. Johns.

This house was a favorite tour stop on the original home tour in 1975.

TAKE A FRIEND

Buying tickets ahead will save money

Tickets to this year's Home Tour grant entrance to seven houses and one church between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 13.

It is this tour of houses that is the major money maker of the Clinton County Historical Society. Funds earned from the annual tour, in its fifth year, go into a number of special projects including the society's museum, The Paine-Gillam-Scott House and special publications aimed at preserving area history.

Trying to attract pre-sale buyers, the tickets for the 1980 tour are being offered at a special savings. "We hope people will buy their tickets early and that they will bring a friend to the tour," Betty Moore, Home Tour chairperson said. Pre-ticket prices are two for $6. Single tickets and tickets the day of the tour are $4. "People who buy a ticket are helping support the society and the museum," Mrs Moore said.

You'll find tickets at Bennett's Jewelry, Big Boy,

Mark Roberts, Herbrucks, The Clinton County News, Levey's Jewelry in Elsie, the DeWitt and Maple Rapids libraries and from Nina Waldron in Fowler.

The Big Boy restaurant, ticket sponsor, is offering a special 50 cents off coupon on the back, good for the day of the tour.

Stop and see our window displays of miniature homes built by area craftsmen.

The Nihart apartment building was built by Captain David French in 1876 in the Italianate style. The home was purchased in 1880 by the Shaver family who added to the structure and probably made some of the elegant additions such as the red glass and initial in the doors.

In the 1890's the house was purchased by the George Marshall family. At that time the home included both a small parlor and a main parlor.

In 1929 the vacant house was remodeled by a local architect, R.V. Gay, and became known as the Gay Apartments. On Memorial Day, 1936 the house burned as a result of an overheated hot water heater. It was repaired and has continued to serve the community as an apartment house.

The C.E. Niharts have recently undertaken a restoration of the building to the style of the 1929 renovation. This will be the first opportunity for the public to tour the recently restored house.

ST JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Site No. 4

400 East Walker Street

St. Johns Episcopal Church has been an organized church since 1864 and marks its 116th year in October, 1980. The first church building was of early Gothic design and was constructed of wood. It burned 30 minutes after evening services on Easter Sunday, April 17, 1892. Immediately the vestry began to plan for a new building, and the cornerstone was laid on August 3, 1893.

The first service held in the new building was the sunrise celebration of Holy Communion on Easter Day, March 15, 1894. This building is of early English design and contains many beautiful memorial stained glass windows.

When the Church School building was being constructed in the late 1960's, the cornerstone of the first building was saved from oblivion by a parishioner and it was eventually relaid.

The present parish family, under the guidance of the Rev. Robert Coval, held an auction recently to help in the restoration and repair of the present building.

St Johns Men's Art Club's Show and Sell on agenda

The St. Johns Men's Art Club is again hosting its annual fine arts and crafts show and sale on the courthouse greens. Open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in conjunction with home tour times visitors can browse and buy paintings, pottery, hand work. Bill Morriss is chairman and says that many local and regional artists are included this year.

Leave your stitches at the festival's Quilt Show

This year you'll find the Quilt Show in a new location, the auditorium of Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School.

Use the side entrance off Cass Street.

Chairpersons, Marianne Barrone and Pam Gnodtke, have planned an extensive showing of quilts from around Clinton County. It features both antique and new quilts in hundreds of patterns. The show runs from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

A quilt top is to be on hand for visitors to add their stitches to. Come try your hand at this ancient craft that has had such a revival the past several years.

BABCOCK - REED - MATTHEWS

1868-1876 Italianate

100 North Oakland Street

The Babcock-Reed-Matthews House incorporates several architectural styles and features into what is probably a Queen Anne-style home. Outstanding architectural features include roof-line brackets and Greek Revival front porches.

On tour is the lovely apartment home of Mrs J. G.

Matthews. Harold Reed owns the house.

The interior of Mrs Matthews's home is decorated with memorabilia and family pieces. A lovely Sheraton chest made in 1812 belonged to the Mathers. Increase Mather, the 17th Century churchman, was an ancestor. Other pieces include a tea caddy which has been in the family for 100 years, a silver tea set, and a cylinder top Eastlake burlled-walnut desk.

Shelves in the hallway were originally used by men to hold their hats when they attended the Spiritualist meetings which Mr. Babcock held to promote his opposition to the teaching of religion in the public schools.

SHAFLEY - WELCH

1900 Queen Anne

204 South Oakland Street

The Kenneth Welsh House is a modified Queen Anne built at the turn of the century. Porch tiles were designed and laid at the same time the interior was modified by the Shafley family.

At one time the Shafleys rented out rooms on the second floor to the men who were building US-27. A number of local teachers also lived here when first coming to town.

Family furnishings and several pieces which were present during the Shafley period are now in the living room. The girls' room has toys and doll houses displayed on a note floor which has the old graining effect that once was so popular. Today it is considered very unusual. Beautiful old family pieces, a cherry dresser and chest, are in the master bedroom.

As visitors leave the house on the day of the tour, they are invited to ring the dinner bell near the back door. This bell has been in the Welsh family for generations and is still used to call the children home.

Old cars on display

The Hub Antique Car Club will host a display of antique cars on the corner of Cass and Maple Streets near the courthouse after the 9:30 a.m. parade.

The club has been active in the Home Tour festivities each year and they will be featured in the morning parade. Visitors can get a closer look at the old automobiles all day long from their display area at the Street Fair.

Giant Flea Market offers antiques and collectables

Among the free attractions hosted annually at next weekend's Home Tour Festival is the popular Flea Market headed by Ron and Lillian Hyler.

The Flea Market attracts dealers from around the state and fills the gym at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School at the junction of Cass and Maple Streets. It will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

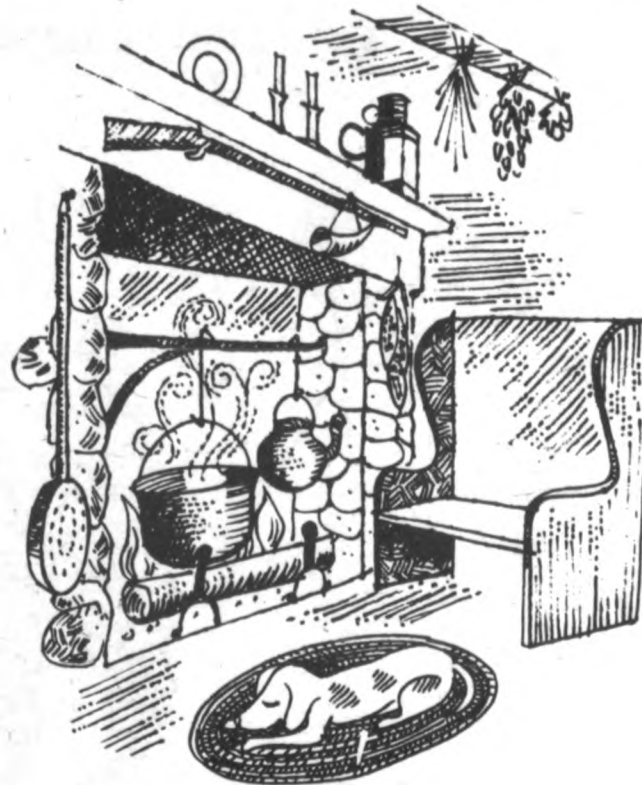

Call it a collector's paradise or the junkman's dream, a flea market is an activity for both young and old. One never knows what may be found, rare antiques are sometimes hidden among the horde of collectibles. Or perhaps there will be the cover to match the chipped one on your favorite tea pot or a pie tin like the one your grandmother used when you were a child. There will be something for the coin and stamp collector and interesting items in glass and dishwares. You can expect to find baskets, crocks, books, and kitchen items. Last year there were old guns, snowshoes and tiny sewing cabinets. This year the Hyler's promise even more.

The place where you can go for a good old-fashioned home cooked meal.

Clinton Historical Museum

1860 Italianate
106 Maple Street

In 1860 John W. Paine, a partner of Charles Kipp, built this imposing brick home in the Italianate style. In the 1890's Dr. Samuel Gillam remodeled the house extensively, and the small office to the north was constructed. In 1904, Dr. Walter Scott joined Dr. Gillam in his practice.

When the Clinton County Historical Society took over the house, restoration was made to the remodeled condition of the 1890's.

Several rooms have standing exhibits of period furnishings donated by Clinton County residents. Other areas featuring temporary displays. A member of the Society will be in the Genealogy Room to answer questions on the day of the tour.

Throughout the summer months the Museum is regularly open on Sundays from noon to 4, Wednesdays from 1:30 to 5, and on Friday evenings from 7 to 9.

Don't miss the special events planned just for the tour day. A 1902 Oldsmobile will be parked in the driveway. The kitchen remodeling has uncovered an old fireplace and original flooring. This room is now ready to paint. An old Edison phonograph will be playing and a black light display does a little bit of magic to a collection of fluorescent dishes from 1880 to the Depression era.

Fun Run Starts parade

It's to be a grand parade with some special surprises according to Joe Humenik, chairman.

The St. Johns Pep Band, the Darold Rice Band Wagon sponsored by Clinton Bank and Trust, Big Boy and his little car, Ronald McDonald, floats, antique cars and clowns are all signed up for participation. Still coming are more bands, horses, dancers and scout groups.

The parade starts at 9:30 a.m. with the St. Johns Firemen's Fun Run. People should line up to watch the parade on North Clinton Avenue to prevent congestion near the courthouse.

Society encourages renovation

In an attempt to encourage renovation of historic structures in the county, the Clinton County Historical Society has information available to homeowners who are interested in restoring existing structures.

All current and back issues of Old House Journal are available at the Paine-Gillam-Scott Museum.

Last spring a special seminar was held with lectures from local contractors who specialize in restoration as well as an informative slide presentation owned by the society. If enough interest is shown, a similar series will be offered again.

CONN HOUSE

1965 Ranch

110 West Cass Street

The Conn house, built in the mid-1960's is a lovely home which serves as a veritable repository for early St. Johns memorabilia. The site upon which Mrs Robert Conn and her late husband built their home is also notable because it was here that the home of the Kipp-Ball-Wilson family stood for many years.

The Wilsons, relatives of Mr. Conn, are known today for their contributions to education in the community. It was this family who donated the land for the Rodney B. Wilson School across the street. In 1965 the estate of Nora Ball Wilson established the Wilson Scholarship and Trust from which local students have continued their educations.

Each room in the house is furnished with heirlooms which once belonged to early prominent families of St. Johns. Among these are toys, books and a cuckoo clock that once belonged to the Wilson's only son, Rodney, who died during the influenza epidemic of 1918.

Other lovely family pieces include the Bible from Mrs Conn's grandfather, John Henderson; a set of plates handpainted by an early neighbor, Mrs Corbin; and a rocker and table that once belonged to the Robert Steele family. Another treasure is the original land patent for the 40 acres on West Parks Road issued to Bemsley Conn as Bounty land awarded to his father-in-law Joshua Newell on May 5, 1853.
