All in a day's work

After fighting an early morning blaze for more than five hours, the St. Johns Firemen ended Fire Prevention Week with an open house at the fire hall. The blaze completely destroyed the main building of the St. Johns Hardwood Lumber Company on County

Man arrested for making drugs

LANSING—A series of raids by the Tri-County Metro Narcotic Squad, the Drug Enforcement Administration and the Clinton County Sheriff's Department has resulted in the seizure of drug chemicals and paraphernalia with a street value of $453,055. Detective Lieutenant Gene Wrigglesworth called it "the biggest bust we've ever had as far as a speed lab is concerned."

Arrested was Daniel Charles Hoover, 27, formerly of 2814 Beaujardin, Apt. 107, Lansing who was charged with attempting to manufacture Methamphetamine. Chemicals involved in the operation were stored at two addresses, one in Clinton County.

Hoover, who was arrested by Federal Agents at Ferris State College where he is a pharmacy student was arraigned at U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids and released on a $1,000 personal recognizance bond, pending trial in federal court.

After Hoover's arrest, Clinton County Prosecutor Jon Newman issued a search warrant for 9520 N. US-27, DeWitt where officers found and seized 15 pounds of chemicals (precursors) used to manufacture Methamphetamine. A second seizure took place at 4718 Kessler, Lansing where the remaining chemicals needed to make the finished product was seized along with vials, beakers, and cookers needed to produce the drug.

Methamphetamine is called "speed" on the streets and if the chemicals from the two raids were put together they would have produced 7.2 kilos of Methamphetamine with a street value of $453,055, according to Wrigglesworth.

Wrigglesworth said the speed lab was not yet in operation. Officers from the various agencies had been investigating the set up for a "little over a month," he reported. Officials were alerted by drug supply houses that Hoover had ordered the various chemicals which by themselves are not illegal.

County jail granted reprieve

By Sue Kiley White

CLINTON COUNTY—Last week Clinton County Commissioners and local law enforcement officials were able to breathe a temporary sigh of relief after the state corrections commission gave the okay for the county jail to continue operating. There is however, a catch...the jail must be renovated to meet state codes within a four month time frame. The reprieve is only for a two year period also.

Sheriff Tony Hufnagel and County Board Chairman Roger Overway, say there should be no problem in meeting the time restrictions. Both officials further stated the reprieve from closure or becoming a 72-hour lock-up is still temporary and within two years they must come up with a way to finance a new jail.

"A few months ago when we had that first meeting, I thought they were going to close us down," said Overway. "But because of the changes Jon Newman and his staff came up with, it changed everything."

Newman and his assistant Richard Dresser presented the commissioners with some additional modifications in the form of variances which included making a multi-purpose room out of a part of the kitchen and conference room for about $10,000; adding a longer catwalk and reducing the six man cells to five man units for another $10,000 and adding a second fence around the exercise area for $6,000. The total amount of the renovations should be around $60,000 according to Overway. This should include the $28,000 approved previously for a fire escape and security fence which is already under construction.

Hufnagel explained the lower portion of the jail must be renovated within 45 days to maintain its jail status. The upper floor while under construction will be a 72-hour lock-up with only two people allowed per cell. After construction the upstairs will be able to house five men per cell.

"We will be a minimum security jail reduced from our medium security status," said Hufnagel. "There will be no maximum security cells in this facility." He added that during the time of construction most of the prisoners would be housed elsewhere.

"We are really pleased we're able to work something out with the corrections commission," said Hufnagel. "It's going to cost a lot in renovation, but it's still less than if we had to ship them all out to other facilities."

The sheriff indicated the county has spent nearly $5,000 in the past month and a half to board prisoners out in other facilities. They have found other jails to be in the same situation as Clinton also with regards to overcrowding. This has forced the county to travel to both Isabella and Eaton County to house prisoners. When possible, the county tries to house prisoners in the Gratiot County Jail because of its proximity.

"Our troubles aren't over yet," said Overway. "The corrections commission indicated we have to still try for a new jail." He added, "We have no other alternative, but to put it on the next ballot after November."

Those who attended the corrections commission meeting in Ann Arbor Wednesday Oct. 8 were Overway, Hufnagel, Robert VanDriesen, chairman of criminal justice committee, William LeFevre, county administrative aide, Russ Doty, undersheriff, Newman, and his assistant Richard Dresser.

"We really had to plead our case to stay open at the time," said Overway. "The corrections commission staff had originally recommended for us to become a 72-hour lock-up." He added, "We are pleased with the final results."

At a regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday morning (Oct. 14) it was decided to deviate from normal procedures and award a contract for further jail renovations to Norm Rademacher, the contractor already completing Phase One of the renovations.

"This is an emergency," said Overway. "If we wait to get bids we'll be wasting a month." The contract is for labor and materials which should cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $26,000. All monies used for the renovations will be taken from the Public Improvement Fund.

Fire destroys Hardwood Co

ST. JOHNS—The St. Johns Hardwood Company lost its main building that housed the saw mill and other equipment in an early morning fire, Sunday, Oct. 5.

St. Johns Fire Chief Clare Maier said the call came into the station at 4:02 a.m. and fire fighters fought the blaze until after 9:30 a.m.

When firemen arrived, the blaze, which had been reported by a passer-by, had completely engulfed the building and the roof was already in. Maier said.

"We aren't sure what happened," he indicated, saying that John Criswell of the Clinton County Sheriff Department was investigating for possible causes.

The Hardwood Company site has been the scene of several fires the past year but they were limited to wood chip piles.

While Maier couldn't put a dollar figure on the fire and officials of the company have been unavailable for comment, the entire building and the equipment in it were lost. Maier said his crew fought the blaze with 15,000 gallons of water and had assistance from the city of DeWitt with a tanker.

Local firemen were called out on two other emergencies this past week, one for a truck fire at Central Michigan Tractor and Parts, 2903 N. US-27. Maier said the truck, which was used around the yard and contained a torch for cutting off parts, was a complete loss. They also answered a call for a car fire that did minor damage to a vehicle owned by Robert Cantwell of North Clinton Avenue.

Clinton County News wins awards

ST. JOHNS—The Michigan Press Association has released results of its 1980 Newspaper Contest, naming the Clinton County News for four awards.

The paper received certificates of excellence in the use of graphics, sport coverage, editorials, and spot news picture categories.

The Colorado Press Association judged 948 entries from 72 weekly newspapers and 33 daily newspapers from throughout the state. More than 200 awards were made in three divisions based on circulation size. The Clinton County News awards included a second place in editorials by Sharon Randall for three unrelated pieces dealing with county schools. An honorable mention went to the paper for a spot news picture taken by Ben Manning, who worked in the darkroom here last year while a senior at St. Johns High School.

Three sports sections put together by former staff writer, Mark Haney, won an honorable mention. The sections included special columns by Haney as well as large, graphic photos taken by him, Bill Donahue, Chris Thelen and

Board reviews tight budget

By Sue Kiley White

CLINTON COUNTY—"What we've got is a real tight budget here," said Bud Nobis, chairman of the finance committee of the County Board of Commissioners during a public budget hearing held at the courthouse in St. Johns, Tuesday.

Nobis indicated the projected 1981 budget of $4,578,434 is up almost $252,000 from the 1980 budget of $4,326,763. The county expects to receive nearly $385,000 in federal revenue sharing monies. However, it was stressed by the commissioners that Congress has not approved federal revenue sharing for the coming year, leaving the possibility of the county receiving no federal money.

Areas hurt the greatest by no federal revenue sharing funds would be the Clinton County Road Commission (which has been receiving $100,000 to operate), the Mid-Michigan Health Department and Community Mental Health.

It was also pointed out at the 10 a.m. hearing that the only sure source of revenue for the county is the $2,516,134 collected in property taxes. This is an increase of $294,000 from last year.

Other sources of revenue for the county are way down this year according to the board. The Register of Deeds for instance, is way down in revenue due to inflation, rising interest rates, and the lack of construction. So, while property taxes are bringing in a 2.5 million dollar figure other sources including licenses and permits, Michigan income tax, friends of the court, and the probate, district and circuit courts are bringing in revenues of $2,000,000 combined.

Employees were given a nine percent raise, with a dental plan and an extra personal day also included. The circuit and probate judges were not given raises by the county in an effort to bring all the salaries in line. According to Nobis, the district court judge's salary is low, while the probate judge's salary is high. The circuit judges' salaries are "in the ball park" according to Nobis.

What if Tisch passes? "We don't know where we'll stand for 1982," said Roger Overway, board chairman.

The budget was tabled until the next meeting of the board on Oct. 28.

Energy projects underway for St Johns schools

By Sharon Randall

ST. JOHNS—If everything goes as planned, Gordon Vandemark, administrative assistant, expects to have bids on a number of money saving energy projects in by the November meeting of the Board of Education here.

The projects were made possible when voters gave approval on a 1/2 mill for maintenance request at the September special election. "Matching grant funds are still available," Vandemark told the board saying that he was ready to submit a new timetable for the grant money.

"If we are going to take advantage of energy savings, we must institute these projects as soon as possible," he said.

The energy saving programs have been designed for East Essex, Eureka, East Olive and Riley Elementary Schools, the newer buildings in the district. There will also be some work done on the older portion of East Essex school and Swegles Elementary School, mainly covering some windows and fitting others with storm windows.

The plans call for vestibules to be built at Riley and East Essex and a system of duct work to run down the halls, to recirculate warm air. A duct system will also be installed at East

Boat wrecked

A pontoon boat became disassembled on US-27 Wednesday afternoon when it became unhooked from a car driven by Richard D. Holmes, 48, Lansing near the Railroad Street intersection. The boat and trailer veered across the highway into oncoming traffic according to St. Johns Police reports and smashed into a truck driven by Andre L. Heureux, of Quebec, Canada. The pontoon boat was demolished. The incident is being blamed on a defective trailer hitch. No one was injured and no tickets were issued. Traffic was only interrupted for a short time. DeWitt woman dies in auto crash

A DeWitt woman, Jean Ann Grandy, 32, was killed Monday, Oct. 13 at 11:57 a.m. in a single car accident in Watertown Township. She was westbound on Grand River Ave. when she lost control of her vehicle at the 1-96 overpass. The car went into the median striking a support pillar head on. The driver was dead at the time of the accident. No one else was injured in the mishap.

Disaster funds available

CLINTON CO.—Gov. William G. Milliken said Friday that the Small Business Administration (SBA) has granted his request for an agricultural disaster declaration for 13 southern Michigan counties including Clinton. Milliken requested the designation, Aug. 12, saying that severe storms between May 29 and Aug. 3 caused crop losses estimated at $34.4 million and farm building damage estimated at $900,000. The Farmers Home Administration earlier granted Milliken's request for a disaster declaration covering the same storm period. Low-interest SBA disaster loans will be available to storm victims in the following 13 counties and in adjacent counties: Allegan, Barry, Berrien, Calhoun, Cass, Clinton, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lapeer, Ottawa, St. Joseph, Van Buren and Wayne. Eligible persons, firms and organizations can file applications for loans for physical damage until the close of business on April 9, 1981, and for economic injury until July 9, 1981.

Funds granted for health services

Notification has been received from Congressman Bob Carr's office by the Ingham Community Mental Health Center of the Community Mental Health Board of Clinton, Eaton and Ingham Counties, that a grant of $112,187 has been received from the National Institute of Mental Health, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The grant will assist the community mental health center in providing mental health consultation and education services in the areas of schools, business and industry, courts, agencies serving minorities, and agencies serving rape victims. The application for the grant was approved by a National Institute Health review committee 15 months ago, but was unfunded. The grant is funded as of October 1, and the program will begin shortly, with a notification to organizations who had originally expressed interest in the program.

Car-deer mishaps plague drivers

CLINTON CO.—There have been 12 separate car-deer accidents reported in Clinton County since the beginning of October, according to Sheriff Anthony Hufnagel. In the northwest section of the county Gary Lee Hiller, 29 of 8130 N. DeWitt Rd. was northbound on US-27 south of Hyde Rd. early in the morning of Oct. 1 when a doe jumped out in front of him. On Oct. 4 Vincent Vitek, 22, of 4648 E. Parks Rd. was southbound on US-27 near Maple Rapids Rd. when he hit a doe crossing from the east to the west. Marion Bedes of Mason reported that she was driving along Wright Rd. near Colony on the evening of Oct. 8 when three deer crossed in front of her causing her to swerve into a ditch and strike a utility pole. A resident deer was hit Oct. 10 on Tallman near Island Rd. after it ran part of the way across the road and turned around. The driver of the vehicle which hit it was David Halfmann, 24, of Fowler. In the southeastern part of the county Steven Mudgett, 16, of 2205 W. Gratiot Co. Line Rd. was eastbound on Price Rd. Oct. 4 when a deer ran into the path of his

Mental Health examined

The Clinton Community Mental Health Clinic, a satellite clinic of Ingham Community Mental Health Center, was among examples used for studies at a conference in Racine, Wis. earlier this month. The conference looked at "Mental Health Services for Rural Populations," and served rural community health professionals and mental health educators, researchers and policy makers from a dozen states. Ingham's Mental Health Board runs satellite clinics in Charlotte and Mason as well as St. Johns. The Conference focused on the relationship between mental health factors and the nature of life and work in rural areas. The implications of lack of employment opportunities, scarce transportation, limited health personnel and resources, and geographic dispersal of client populations was examined. According to the Conference sponsors, the Wing-spread Conference was the first national meeting to link issues of rural work life and employment with rural health issues.

CLINTON CO.—Four area men were arrested by Department of Natural Resources officers near Fowler for knowingly and willfully possessing illegal deer. Among those arrested are:

Kenneth Walter Steen, 36, of R# 1 Pewamo; Mark Weber, 48, 2796 Wright Rd.; Fowler; Hugh Henry Miller, 34, of 1221 Grange Rd.; and Roger Conley, 33, of R# 1, Island Rd. Fowler.

Test well results promised in 2 weeks

By Sharon Randall

ST. JOHNS—The city's well consultant Walter Meinert was given the go ahead to accept a bid from the C.S. Raymer Co. of Grand Rapids to run a test well on the county owned site south of Townsend Road at Monday's city commission meeting. Meinert promised the results within two weeks.

He said the test well had been held up due to the illness of Carl Oberlitter of Ithaca who was going to do the job.

The Raymer Company test well will cost the city $7,050 based on 175 feet of drilling. Meinert said, indicating that it would be eight-inches in diameter.

From the test Meinert expects to be able to predict what the long term range of available water will be.

Carl Fongers, superintendent of the city water department told commissioners that it was "important to get going on this. We need a good well before summer if possible."

Also in wait for the well is the Oxford Development Corporation which is to build a housing project on that side of the city and would like to use city water. If the city is unable to come up with water, the Oxford company plans to drill their own well on site.

City commissioners also gave the nod to Jim Hubbell, who is providing engineering services for the $8,300,000 waste water treatment plant.

to make a grant amendment request for additional needs. The plant, built by grants from the Environmental Protection Act and the Department of Natural Resources, is nearly in complete operation.

Hubbell asked city commissioners to approve a change order that would permit repair and renovation of two primary tanks from the old plant that have been incorporated into the new system. Hubbell said new-ing the tanks had revealed severe cracking and estimated repair costs at about $5,000 per tank.

He said the tanks built in 1953, would last 20 more years with repair. Two more tanks, to be used in the new system are also expected to need repairs, and would be examined after they were de-watered.

Other items included in the grant amendment request were a sludge truck and a maintenance building. The $105,000 truck will be used to take wet digested sludge to fields and land fills for disposal and provides an alternative to sludge disposal. The proposed 30 x 100 feet maintenance building would be built on the site and used to store equipment and make repairs.

City manager Randy Humphrey said the grand amendments would be submitted for approval. "If we can't get extra money for them, then we need a priority list," he said.

The plant has been in construction for nearly two years. It was built with a $6,039,150 federal EPA grant and a $420,610 DNR state grant. The city's share was $1,840,240.

Olive which has an oil fired furnace like Riley and East Essex.

New gymnasium lighting is planned for Riley, East Olive, East Essex and Swegles and will cut costs in half. Vandemark said, "We'd like to get bids to do this at Perrin Palmer and Eureka, too," he said but they are not covered by the grant.

The four elementary schools qualified for the grants because of their size and because they had oil fired furnaces. Payback for the projects will be about four years, according to Vandemark.

"We are also doing other kinds of energy saving projects at the other schools with our own staff," he reported, "such as caulking windows and wrapping pipes.

Plans for improvements at Central School which are to come from other money raised with the 1/2 mill, have not yet been finalized but Vandemark said his staff is making a priority list and will be reporting back to the board.

East Essex plans carnival

Vaccination recommended

CLINTON COUNTY — Area Veterinarians Robert Malesky of St. Johns Animal Clinic and Michael O'Brien of Ovid-Elsie Animal Clinic are still recommending vaccination against Parvovirus for dogs, the highly contagious disease that hit this area in late July.

"Between our two clinics we have lost up to 75 dogs," Malesky said, "and we have treated double or even triple that with the disease."

The signs of Parvovirus are severe vomiting, diarrhea, loss of appetite, listlessness and blood in stool. "It has slowed down, but we are still seeing enough cases to still be concerned," Malesky said.

The doctors said that the onset of cold weather will help prevent the transmission of the disease but the danger will remain in the area. "Dogs who have been cured, are of course immune," Malesky said, and the vaccination of between 400 and 500 dogs in the area will help temper the risk.

"Our major concern is puppies," he related, saying that a Parvovirus vaccination would be recommended now for all puppies along with the other common protections.

"A great deal of work has been done on this vaccine," he explained. "We are pretty much assured that we have the thing down to a point where we can protect these dogs."

While the vaccine is still somewhat hard to get, area veterinarians should be able to take care of their clients, he said.

The vaccine runs between $8 and $10 and requires a yearly booster.

McNamara elected to MHAMIC board

LANSING—Paul E. McNamara, administrator at Clinton Memorial Hospital, St. Johns, has been elected a member of the Michigan Hospital Association Mutual Insurance Company's (MHAMIC) Board of Directors, it was announced today by Jacques W. Sammet, president of the Lansing based organization.

MHAMIC is a mutual insurance company formed in early 1976 when the availability of professional liability health insurance in Michigan was considered by many to have reached a critical level, according to Sammet. The company is sponsored by the Michigan Hospital Association, Lansing, which represents the state's 240 hospitals and health care institutions.

McNamara, who will serve on the board for two years, has been at Clinton Memorial since 1972. Prior to that he was employed in industrial and business management for the Memorial Hospital of Owosso. He is a board member of the Michigan Mid-South Health Systems Agency, the South Central District Michigan Hospital Council, the Capital Area United Way, and was advanced to membership status in the American College of Hospital Administrators last July. He is a past president of the Lansing Area Hospital Administrators Council and a past secretary for Tri-County Emergency Services Council.

Meeting offers help for arthritis

ST. JOHNS—Representatives from the Michigan Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation will be here, Tuesday, Oct. 21 at a 7:30 p.m. public meeting, at the Clinton Senior Center to offer help and present the basic facts about the disease.

The meeting has been designed to offer information about arthritis to its sufferers, family of persons with the disease and prospective volunteers who would like to help spread the services of the foundation in this area.

Bob Paulson, program assistant who works out of a Lansing office representing a 15 county area said that while arthritis is "not a killer, it is the nation's number one crippling disease."

"Billions of man hours are lost each year due to arthritis," he said, explaining that 90 percent of people over 60 have some form of arthritis.

"There is no cure for arthritis," Paulson said, "and probably one of the reasons for this is that there isn't enough money available for research."

While in St. Johns, Paulson and his first and only volunteer from this area, Marci Weir, who suffers herself from arthritis, will attempt to put together a core of people interested in helping make Arthritis Foundation information and services available here.

Mrs. Weir, sought help at the Lansing center when she first discovered she had arthritis. "It's very frightening when you find out you have a disease like this," she explained. "One of the most helpful things to me was just talking to someone else who had arthritis. Even over the phone, a lot of my fears and questions were answered."

Mrs. Weir said that families of sufferers need to understand the aspects of arthritis and learn to cope with the family member who has it. "There's so many things about arthritis that people don't understand," she said.

Tuesday's meeting is intended to be the first of several programs here if enough interest and need is shown.

Candidates Night planned

A Candidates Night will be held Tuesday, Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the St. Johns High School Library to examine the candidates and issues in the presidential election.

Representatives of the Clinton County Republican and Democratic parties will explain the national and local issues and their candidate's stands on them. Also present will be representatives of John Anderson and Ed Clark.

Doughnuts for sale

The St. Johns Lions Club will be selling doughnuts by the dozen to help finance their eye program. Lions members will be at Krogers, Andy's IGA, Parr's and the Wheel-Inn on Thursday and Friday Oct. 23, 24 during late afternoon and evening hours.

Fit for a queen

Pamela Chick was crowned the 1980 Homecoming Queen in halftime ceremonies held during Fulton-Middleton's game against Pottsville last Friday night. The celebration was made complete with Fulton-Middleton's decisive 30-0 victory over their opponents. Pamela is the daughter of Margaret and Lyle Chick. (Photo by Chris Thelen)

A wish come true

Deanna White and Chris Wilson held court after an impressive Homecoming Victory Bath High School scored over Dansville, 28-9, Friday night. The duo were crowned king and queen at a dance after the game sponsored by the Athletic Boosters. There were no half-time activities because of budget cutbacks made after a millage defeat in September. (Photo by Tim Jeffery)

Leaders study folk patterns

By Theresa Dow Silm
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Older teen and adult 4-H volunteer leaders can learn how their county culture and traditions have affected their lives at special 4-H Folk-patterns workshops to be held around the state in November.

The project, a joint effort between the MSU Museum and the Michigan 4-H Youth Program, is designed to encourage young people to investigate local cultural patterns, artifacts, traditions, and institutions in an effort to better understand historical and cultural trends.

Everyone is affected in some way by their cultural heritage or local folklore. Through the Folkpatterns

Conferences slated Oct. 22

Conferences for Fulton Schools will be held, Wednesday, Oct. 22 from noon to 4 p.m. School will be dismissed at 11:20 a.m.

Open houses in the elementary schools will be held, Tuesday, Oct. 21 from 7-9 p.m.; middle school, Wednesday, Oct. 22 from 6:30-8:30 a.m. and high school, Oct. 23 from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

project, 4-H members will learn about the impact of cultural traditions on their lives.

Though young people enrolled in the project may investigate a variety of cultural areas, such as transportation, shelter, communication, trade, food production, energy and education, their studies do not have to be limited to well known historical events or people.

The project has endless possibilities. Any tradition or individual that has affected county life may be studied.

The Folkpatterns project is funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities through the Michigan 4-H Foundation.

For more information about the Folkpatterns workshop or any other 4-H activity, contact Theresa Silm at the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service office or call 224-3288.

OUR OPINION

United Way will work if a lot give a little

The United Way fund drive thermometer is up on the courthouse lawn in St. Johns signaling the start of the annual drive in Clinton County. Volunteer solicitors, mostly business and industry people, scour the county seeking monetary support for the 24 member agencies that somehow, sooner or later, touch us all.

This year the county committee is seeking greater participation, trying to reach more people, knowing that many individuals may have to give a little less this time.

The United Way of Michigan is a voluntary, non-profit, statewide federation of state and national agencies which provide human care services to Michigan citizens. Founded in 1947, United Way's original purpose was to promote united fund-raising campaigns in order to conserve the financial resources of Michigan communities and the time of volunteers. This gives donors a high payback on their donation investment; 91 cents out of every dollar goes to service member agencies. United Way donations come back to county residents in many, many ways and not only to the sick and needy.

While there are no figures for the number of persons from Clinton County who were aided through United Way agencies figures for the entire state total 600,000. Figures of incidence for many of the services show 592 contacts from Clinton County residents with the Arthritis Foundation, Michigan Chapter; 12 with the Epilepsy Center of Michigan; 85 with Michigan Association for Better Hearing and Speech; 1,612 with the Michigan Heart Association; 72 with National Council on Alcoholism, Michigan Division; 83 with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Michigan Chapter; 186 with Association for Retarded Citizens of Michigan; 40 with Michigan Health Association in Michigan and 242 with the National Kidney Foundation.

If you haven't been a United Way contributor in the past, this is the year to jump in and help. Clinton County Chairman, Matthew Armitage, plant manager of Federal Mogul, said his volunteers are seeking more donors this year. "If we can convince more people to give a little, we'll make our $51,000 goal," he said.

Join in, give a little. It only works when we all contribute.

VIEWPOINT

By Sue Kiley White

It is about time the Clinton County Jail is given some sort of break from all the regimental hoopla it has been receiving the past couple of years. For some time now the corrections commission has been handing down rules and regulations faster than the county could comply.

Last week Clinton County was given its reprieve. A short reprieve, perhaps, but a break nonetheless. Wednesday night, the Clinton County Jail was allowed to remain a jail rather than be forced to close its door or become a 72-hour lock-up.

Chairman of the Board of Commissioners Roger Overway says a great deal of the credit for the corrections commission's change of heart is due to Prosecuting Attorney Jon Newman and his staff for coming up with acceptable modifications and variances. We feel not only Newman, but the entire board of commissioners and the sheriff's department deserve a lot of credit for their perseverance and dedication in trying to keep the jail operational.

By keeping the facility functioning as a jail the county is saving the taxpayers money. If pre-trial prisoners were boarded out along with other long term offenders the fees to other counties would be exorbitant. If the jail were closed completely, the county would still have to board out all its prisoners making the costs astronomical. In addition to the money the transporting of prisoners would cost, the county would also lose the services of its road patrol deputies.

It is commendable of the prosecutor and his staff that they found a way to save the jail. It is also commendable of county officials for trying to fight the system.

Even so, the battle can't stop here. The commissioners and prosecutor must continue to fight, making sure more costly restrictions are not placed on the jail within the two year time frame.

We believe some of the new modifications will be beneficial to both the prisoners and the staff at the jail. A second floor stairway is definitely listed as an advantage, along with the reduction of the number of inmates housed per cell.

However, it is hoped the corrections commission does not go overboard in its efforts to provide better conditions for prisoners. Sure they have rights, however, they give up a lot of those rights when they break the law.

Jails should not provide all the "comforts of home." Jails are correctional facilities for those who can not live within the frameworks of society. Therefore, inmates should expect a few "hardships" when they enter the confines of a jail.

Jails like Clinton County's are becoming a thing of the past, but it's good this one will be around just a little while longer.

CHAMBER NOTES

State group looks at tax proposals

By Jody Smith Manager

The St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce is a member of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and through this affiliation receives information pertinent to the business community. In November, there will be three tax related proposals on the ballot that the state chamber has taken a stand on.

While the local chamber has elected to remain uncommitted with regard to these ballot proposals, I would like to pass this information from the state ballot committee on to the business community.

The state chamber's ballot committee, the Michigan Business Initiative, is working with other business groups in opposition to proposals "A", "C", and "D". Proposal "A", the Smith/Bullard Tax shift Plan is seen by the committee as the most disastrous for business and will receive the bulk of the committee's efforts for defeat. According to the Michigan Business Initiative, this proposal will allow up to an additional 30.5 mills to be levied as property taxes on business and commercial property over that levied on residential and agricultural land. The residential and agricultural

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Exception taken to right to life movement

Dear People:

For the last few months I have been receiving a copy of your Review, totally unsolicited, but must say that I do enjoy reading it. I happen to live in King Arthur's Court and although we make one a sort of neighborhood of our own, the Review makes one feel as though they are a part of a community.

Your last issue had an article in the "Personality Profile", which I feel I must take exception to. It concerned a young St. Johns mother and her activities in the "Right to Life" movement.

I realize that the issue of abortion is a highly personal, emotionally charged matter which always involves the religious upbringing and beliefs of the individual and their entire life style. However, I do feel that your article presented only one side of the matter.

Mrs. Charvat has, as do we all, a right to her opinion and beliefs, but after years of seeing, reading and conversing with people on the subject, I do question some quotes from the article.

"There are many dangers to the woman in an abortion... her chances are one in three that she will never have another baby"... this statement is in itself a reason for the safe and sane doctor/hospital oriented termination of pregnancy. Better the teen-ager take the route of a hospital induced abortion under safe and sterile conditions.

"Child abuse is increasing", Mrs. Charvat opines.

Certainly it is and one of the reasons for this is the young mother who cannot cope with a marriage performed because she was pregnant, irresponsible young husbands, economic conditions and general inability to face the responsibilities of marriage and too many children over too short a time span. Any social worker can tell you this.

As long as we continue to have individuals who argue against sex education at any early age in the school system, "the pill", and parents who fail to instill knowledge and morality into their children, we will have pregnancies. Also, we will have tax paying citizens supporting the unwed mother and her children, as well as child abuse, and all its consequent evils.

I realize that I am speaking out against a very popular movement, but I think the "Right to Life" people carrying around their bottles and jars with a fetus in them, should also take a long look at the abused child, the would-be adoptive parents and realize that there are two sides to this problem. But of course one must remember they also have the backing of large, powerful church groups behind them who have maintained their power, wealth and membership over the years just through such social shenanigans.

P.S. May I add that I have also for years worked in a hospital and seen the "results".

Maybe present tax system isn't so bad

Dear Sharon:

Some of the following statements are paraphrased from a letter to the editor in the October 5, 1980 Lansing State Journal. The writer of that letter brought some vital issues to mind and I looked up some figures in relation to our income and tax status.

Most people will agree that there are many faults to the property tax system, but perhaps that system can be improved in better ways than any of the three tax proposals we all have to choose in November.

When I compare all of the taxes that we pay I find that the property tax on our home is considerably less than our federal income tax. It is also less than our social security tax. The tax on the rental property we own is less than our state income tax.

All three of the proposals on the ballot are aimed at reducing property taxes. Currently, all property taxes remain in our local community. The monies are divided among the city or township, the local school district and various county government operations.

The people elected to our local governing bodies-i.e. city commission, school board, etc., are our neighbors. Their meetings are public, public hearings are held throughout the year and as our elected representatives we have given these men and women the authority to decide how and where the tax revenues will be spent. We have input at these public meetings as well as the knowledge that our decision-makers are local people, living in the same community and paying property taxes just as we are.

All three of the tax proposals on the ballot propose to take our tax dollars away from our local government and make a state agency responsible for receiving, dividing, and appropriately disbursing amounts back to us. Making the state responsible for the redistribution of tax money to local governments will necessitate additional costs - the administrative costs for the paperwork, planners, clerical staff, mailing - and those costs will be expensive.

Local property taxes have increased, but the results have been visible within the community and the schools. Inflation has run so rampant that perhaps we don't see all the services we would like to, but we still have that control - and if we don't like it we can go to our neighbors, whom we have elected into power positions, and complain. If any of the tax proposals on the ballot pass we will lose that control and that input. And none of the proposals will affect the amount of federal taxes and social security taxes that we pay.

We will have a choice in November. If we want to keep our local control then we need to take a serious look at where our taxes are going and what benefits we're getting now and what we many lose.

The grass may look greener over there, but once we cross that bridge we may find that what we left wasn't as bad as we thought.

Sincerely,
Joan Valentine

Protests closing

Dear Editor,

How sad government bureaucracy has closed the Jackson Nursing Home and in such an inhumane way. It was HOME for many aged people.

The Jacksons are very compassionate people and gave loving, tender care to their patients.

My mother was in their home for many months. She received the best of care and attention.

I and my family have the highest regards for Anna, John and Duane Jackson—a hard working team that gave a pleasant home-like atmosphere for their patients instead of an impersonal institution.

I also object to the "gestapo" like tactics used by your local prosecutor and the state inspectors. Storming in at an unearthly, early hour and then later notifying relatives of the patients they must be moved out by 5 o'clock that very day.

Yours truly,
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bunday

Speaks up for Jacksons

To The Editor:

Welcome to Germany, 1939. With the storm troop, Gestapo methods used at 6:30 a.m. on the morning of Oct. 3 against the Jackson Nursing Home, one was reminded of the stories that came out of Germany during the late thirties.

The tactics of our state and local authorities in their raid at the nursing home was uncalled for. There was no warning, no chance to defend themselves just a brutal "We're closing the place."

Also the way in which the relatives of the people in Jackson's care were notified was shocking and brutal.

I feel that the Prosecuting attorney Jon Newman could have handled this whole affair in a more humane and tactful way. These people, Anna, John and Duane are not criminals, but kind, compassionate and concerned for the elderly people entrusted in their care. I have known the Jacksons for over 20 years, have been in their home morning, noon and night and I have seen the gentle care the people were given; the beautiful meals served. I have seen the comfort and cleanliness that Jacksons insisted on at all times.

This whole affair was unjust, unfair and unnecessary. Rivards have been given extensions, why not Jacksons?

With the way our government operates I pray to God that I don't live long enough to be in a position these elderly people were.

A devoted friend of Jacksons

Another honorable mention was made for graphics in three issues which included the special 1979 4-H Fair section and the 1979 Home Tour Festival section, collaborative efforts by the staff under editor Patrice Hornak.

Also listed in the awards, announced last week, were sister papers of the Clinton County News, owned by Suburban Communications Corporation of Livonia. Among them were The Grand Ledger Independent for the first place in enterprise stories; the East Lansing Town Courier, a second in general excellence, and the Williamston Enterprise a second in sports coverage.

A letter from a Clinton Area resident asks:

Could we have a report in the county paper as to how the building fund is progressing, and when the work will commence?

Dear Friend:

Thank you for your continuing support in honoring your pledge.

Your note of inquiry in regard to construction and pledge support I will be glad to answer.

Our Farmers Home Administration Loan (5% for 40 years) has been verbally approved, and since all paper has been completed and sent to Washington, it should be only a matter of weeks before we have a written commitment. At that time 2 1/2 million dollars will be deposited in a Federal Reserve bank to build the Clinton Area Care Center. When the written commitment is received, the architect will finalize drawings and bids will be taken from contractors.

Our pledges are coming in, but, there is a slowing down from lack of understanding of why it is taking so long. There have been so many steps and everyone has been long and tedious.

We are nearly there, it will be worth the wait. The next few weeks are vital to the culmination of this project.

Thank you, again, for your support and patience.

GETS INVOLVED

Nona counsels special parents

By Jean Martin

Nona Edsenga has been involved in helping parents solve the problems they have in securing a proper education for their special children for a number of years.

According to Nona it all began with a call from the DeWitt Schools when the new mandatory education laws came into effect in the early 1970's. Each district was asked to send a parent to the Intermediate School District's Parent Advisory Committee, and Nona was informed that she had been nominated.

"I shrugged my shoulders and said, 'Sure I'll give it a try,'" she recalled.

Nona and her husband Kenneth were first aware that something was wrong with their son Tom when the boy was about seven months old.

They had been married for a number of years and were in the process of trying to adopt when they learned of the pregnancy.

"We were so delighted," Nona recalled. "But as it turned out it was just no fun at all to have that baby. He cried constantly. It was a nightmare."

As Nona remembers it, she got very little sleep for the first five years of her son's life.

"I would teeter him all night on a rocking horse so that my husband could get some sleep. I got so little sleep that several times during the day I actually fell asleep while I was walking. Fortunately it always seemed to happen while I was in the hall so that I fell against the wall onto the laundry basket," she said.

When he started school tests showed that Tom had some learning disabilities. He had problems in isolated areas like math and writing, and he doesn't hear vowels sounds in the spoken language.

"We realized," she said, "that he just doesn't perceive the world as others do. It is very frustrating and exhausting for him to try to get along here."

A few years ago Tom told his parents that he wanted to die and go to heaven with Jesus. "He just felt at that time that he was no earthly good," said his mother.

Since that time and as a result of extensive treatment, a lot of things have changed for the better for Tom and his family. Although he had been on as many as three or four different medications at one time, he no longer needs medication anymore. Ten years worth of allergy shots have desensitized him to his many allergies.

"He had many airborne allergies. Basically, he was allergic to anything green," she laughed.

Today Tom is getting average and above average grades in his mainstream classes.

"I look for him to live an independent life, a fairly normal life," his mother concluded.

Nona has mixed feelings about the question of mainstreaming in which students with handicaps are placed in regular classrooms. She does, however, agree wholeheartedly with the basic purpose of mainstreaming, that is, to educate the child within the normal context as much as is possible.

Where the system breaks down, she feels, is in the implementation of the theory.

"They took all of these kids and sort of dumped them into regular classrooms without giving teachers enough extra help in dealing with them," she explained.

The best part of the concept, as far as Nona is concerned, is that it teaches them to cope in a world that really wasn't designed for them in the first place.

Mainstreaming causes a lot of confusion on the part of the parent and the school, according to Nona.

"Whenever a special service or a modification of requirements is needed, the question always becomes, 'Who's going to pay for it, regular or special ed?'" she said.

It is the parent, she explained, who has the ultimate responsibility for the child. If the handicaps are severe enough, the responsibility can last for the rest of the child's or parent's life.

"Both school and parents need to realize that the parent is an involved participant, not just someone who is there to listen to what the educators have to tell them," she emphasized.

Nona foresees an even greater need for formal parental involvement in view of the growing financial crisis within Michigan.

"There is going to have to be a growing alliance of parent groups; or all of our children are not going to get the service they need over the next 10 years," she said.

To the parent who asks "What can I do?" Nona suggests getting involved with other people who have common concerns. Such involvement can be a good learning experience for the parents when they begin sharing ideas about common concerns according to Nona.

"Because we don't have a professional advocacy organization in Clinton County it is all the more important for parents to become knowledgeable," she said. "The parent is still the best advocate a child can have."

With the November election only a few weeks away, the privilege you have earned as registered voters in this county should not be ignored. No matter how distasteful the state of government or politics may seem, the process can work only when it is exercised by the majority. Find out the voting records of the candidates and make sure the person votes in accordance with your understanding of how the candidate has committed her or himself. Here at the Chamber office I have voting records of different legislators and if you would like information of this sort, or if you have questions on the tax issues, please call me at 224-7248. property taxes would be cut but any shortage which would affect Michigan schools would be shifted to the state for funding. In order for the State to make up this deficit the Department of Management and Budget estimates that either state income tax, currently at 4.6%, will have to be increased to 6.6%, or some other increase, most likely in the single business tax rate, will have to be enacted.

The Michigan State Chamber also opposes Proposal "C", the Legislative/Executive Tax Shift Plan and Proposal "D", the Tisch Tax Cut. The Board has also opposed Proposal "E", which deals with Prison Construction Funding. The major thrust of the Chamber's opposition has been toward Smith/Bullard because of its effects on businesses and because there has been no organized effort to oppose this ballot proposal.

Fulton enjoys Homecoming 30-0

By Tim Jeffery

Fulton wasted little time in getting the Homecoming festivities started last Friday night against Potterville as they rolled up 23 first quarter points and coasted to a 30-0 win. Defense was the name of the game for the Pirates as they held the visitors to a total of 67 yards.

The contest marked the first time in a couple of weeks that Fulton has been totally healthy. However, as it turned out, Pirate coach John Wachsmuth was able to empty his bench, getting every player into the game.

Fulton kicked off to the Vikings, but the guests couldn't move and were forced to punt. The Pirates took over on their own 38-yard-line and marched in for a score. Quarterback Scott Winsor got the touchdown on a run of 20 yards. The two-point conversion was good on Rod Robbe's run, making it 8-0 with 9:37 left in the quarter.

The second touchdown was set up by a Karl Verway fumble recovery at Potterville's 40-yard-line. The hosts moved the distance with Robbe going over from the 2-yard-line. Winsor passed to Mark LaLone for the conversion.

With less than one minute left in the opening stanza, the Vikings were forced into another punt formation. Fulton's Wayne Bond broke through and blocked the kick. He then picked it up and rambled 41 yards for a touchdown. Jeff Waldron kicked the point after to give his team a 23-0 edge.

Potterville got its only scoring opportunity of the game in the second quarter when Fulton fumbled inside its own 15-yard-line. The Vikings couldn't move the ball from there and turned it over on downs.

The game's final touchdown came with 5:37 remaining in the fourth quarter. Winsor broke off a 41-yard run to make up for a play that had been called back earlier in the drive. The Pirate quarterback had broken a 51-yard touchdown burst a few plays before only to have a clipping penalty nullify it. The 41-yarder counted though and with Waldron's point after Fulton had its 30-0 victory.

Wachsmuth summed up the victory with praise for his defense. "Defensively, I thought we played quite well. Offensively, we played well at times, but we did give away a couple of scoring chances. But, overall we feel as though we're coming around and now we'll take the games one at a time and hope to finish at 6-3," he explained.

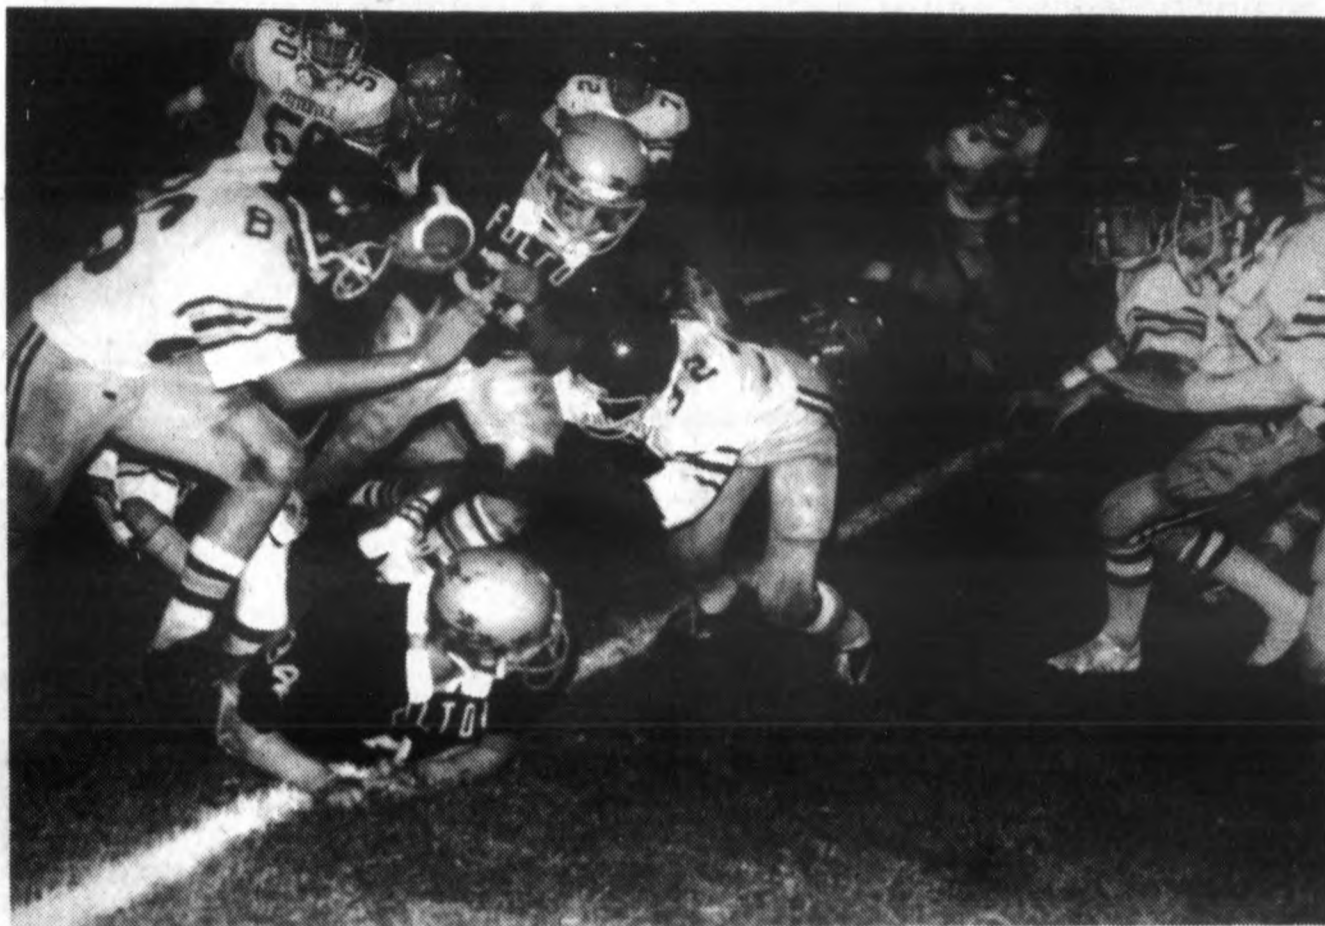

The Pirates were led by Winsor's 84 yards in seven carries and Robbe's 73 on 16 attempts enroute to a total of 225 yards on the ground. Bond, returning to action after missing last week's battle with P-W gained 47 yards on seven tries. Winsor hit two of three passes for 10 yards. LaLone grabbed both of the completions.

The fine defensive showing was spearheaded by Jim Fricke with 10 tackles, Robbe with nine and Jeff Waldron with eight. LaLone had the game's only interception while Verway covered two Potterville fumbles.

Fulton travels to Bellevue Friday for a game with the winless Broncos. Wachsmuth is taking nothing for granted and expects Bellevue to be ready to play tough football.

Fulton running back Wayne Bond (31) powers ahead for extra yardage while Rod Robbe (34) helps with a block during Friday night's 30-0 Homecoming win over Potterville.

Ionia upset drops Redwing record to 3-3

By Tim Jeffery

Much of what happens in a football game depends on what takes place during each team's first offensive series. A consensus among coaches will generally reveal how important it is to establish an attack early. Therefore, tracing down reasons for Ionia's surprising 9-7 win over St. Johns Friday night leads directly to the Redwings opening possession.

The Bulldogs had trouble with the St. Johns kickoff to start the contest and were dropped on their own 7-yard-line. Three successive running plays netted eight yards forcing the hosts to punt on fourth down. Kurt Hayes returned the kick seven yards to give the Redwings a first down on Ionia's 39-yard-line.

After picking up a first down with two running plays, Bruce Fedewa then took a second down handoff on a counter, for 20 yards, making it first and goal at the five. Hayes ran for a yard, but before the next snap, St. Johns was hit with an illegal procedure penalty backing it up to the nine.

Ed Hollenbeck picked up four yards on the next play, but Hayes was stacked up for a loss of four on the third down try. With fourth and nine, St. Johns elected to go. A pass by Scott Palmer sailed over the head of Fedewa, ending the scoring chance.

The second Redwing series did pay off as the team marched 55 yards in 12 plays to take the lead. Key plays in the drive were runs of 11 yards by Hollenbeck and a 10-yard Palmer to Doug Sleep pass. The scoring play was a seven yard pass by Palmer to Fedewa with 10:00 left in the second quarter. Rich Kingsley booted the extra point.

Later in the half a short Redwing punt gave Ionia a first down on the St. Johns 38-yard-line. Nine straight rushes took the ball to the 4-yard-line where the Bulldogs elected to go for the field goal on fourth down. Jerry Adams hit the kick of 19 yards with just 32 seconds showing on the clock.

A St. Johns fumble early in the third quarter set up the Ionia touchdown that would prove to be the difference. Todd Purkey made the key recovery for the Bulldogs at the Redwing 20-yard-line.

Using seven plays, Ionia moved into the end zone with Dan Caruso getting the six pointer on a run of 2 yards. Adams missed the extra point leaving it at 9-7 with 7:26 to play in the quarter.

The next St. Johns series resulted in another fumble which Ionia recovered. The Bulldog offense began to move again, reaching the Redwing 25-yard-line. However, Gary Campbell came up with a big play as he picked off a short pass by quarterback John Stowell to put an end to the threat.

The clock showed 2:42 to play in quarter number three.

The Wings then ran off three plays and gained only six yards before punting back to Ionia.

St. Johns got the ball back two more times but failed to move on either opportunity. To illustrate the dominance of the Bulldog defense, the longest gain from scrimmage by the Redwings during the second half was a Dean Sharick run of four yards. St. Johns totaled two first downs for the entire contest with only one of those being in the second half and that came on a penalty.

The game ended with Ionia killing the final 5:04 with ten consecutive running plays, pushing its total offensive output to 221 yards. Dan Caruso carried the ball 21 times for the Bulldogs picking up 109 yards.

St. Johns totaled 151 yards, 88 of which came via the rush and 63 through the air. Palmer completed 5 of 11 passes for 37 yards. Steve Gonzales completed his lone pass on the evening for 26 yards.

Fedewa led the Redwing defense with 20 tackles, while Campbell intercepted two passes and John Karber picked off one.

St. Johns travels to Ovid-Elsie Friday to face the Marauders who sport a 3-3 mark, identical to that of St. Johns. The game can be labeled a must win for both teams in the hopes of achieving a winning season.

One Views Man's

By Tim Jeffery

At the college level its Michigan-Michigan State, USC-UCLA and Alabama-Auburn. One step higher gives us matchups such as Pittsburgh-Houston or Los Angeles-Dallas in the NFL. Then when you talk of the big rivalries at the high school level in this area, Ovid-Elsie-St. Johns ranks right with the best of them.

The two square off this week and for the Marauders, a win over St. Johns could make their season after a pair of losses to what appear to be the league's top two teams.

On the other hand, the Redwings have been mostly up one week and down the next. The loss to Ionia was a surprise, but now a win over O-E could cover up much of the agony.

Both teams need the contest badly in their respective strides for a winning season. The Redwings close out with games against Mt. Pleasant on the road and Grand Ledge at home. Neither team figures to be easy prey by any stretch of the imagination.

Ovid-Elsie wraps it up with DeWitt at home and a very good Shepherd team at Shepherd. DeWitt would like nothing better than to give coach Gail Thornton a win over the coach he played under in his school days.

Looking at the results from games played against common opponents will only further confuse the chances of picking a favorite. Earlier this season O-E defeated Ionia very soundly 28-6 and rolled up almost 500 yards in total offense. Then Ionia bounced back to defeat St. Johns 9-7 last week.

Back on Sept. 26, St. Johns shut out Corunna 13-0 and in so doing completely dominated the action. Corunna proceeded to rebounds with a 26-0 victory over the Marauders last week.

Portland and Charlotte have pieced together impressive seasons thus far, yet were defeated by O-E and St. Johns respectively. The only common foe to have beaten both O-E and the Redwings is Chesaning, a team which could almost sew up a playoff berth by knocking off Corunna this week.

There is surely no love lost between the two schools so expect a very physical contest. Each team's strength has been in the defense, while for much of the time the offenses have had their problems. Therefore, what we should see is a low scoring game right? Probably so, and it may even take a big play such as a score by one of the defenses to determine a winner.

One more final note. In our July 2 paper I wrote that I fully expected to see Houston and Kansas City in the world series, so naturally you know where my heart was in that tremendous National League Championship Series. Oh well one out of two isn't all bad, so why not an early shot at

Following is the second in a series of open letters to voters of the 10th Congressional District written personally by 10th Congressional District Republican Candidate State Senator Dick Allen.

Our Farm Future

Dear Voters:

Agriculture is the leading economic activity in our district and is critically important to the jobs in Tenth District cities and towns. Additionally, since farm commodities comprise our nations largest export, they are crucial to our international balance of payments and to restraining the inflation caused by America's huge oil imports.

I believe my background will enable me to contribute significantly to the agricultural future of this country.

I have a degree in veterinary medicine, have lived on a successful family farm all my life, and have been active in its management since 1960. I have served 10 years in the Michigan Legislature, including service on the House Agriculture Committee, the Senate Agriculture Committee, and the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture.

And I believe that agricultural policy is one of the most important issue areas of this decade.

I have a plan for a basic change in our nation's agricultural policy that I believe could be a major boost to our economy.

Crop support prices and loan programs have been the major feature of America's postwar agricultural policy ever since the Democrats took control of the Congress. These policies have greatly increased the production of commodities and - in the long run - lowered prices.

While the resulting lower grain prices have been bad for agriculture, they are generally perceived as good for consumers. However, I believe that is a serious misconception. Low grain prices are no better for the USA than low oil prices would be for OPEC! For years, America has been dumping large amounts of grain on international markets with price depression as the result.

We need a policy that calls for government purchase of grains during periods of high production, similar to what we have now. However, rather than storing that grain - as we do now - I believe it should be converted to alcohol in order to increase our production of gasoline. Surplus government grain could be sold to gasohol plants at less than market prices based on a formula that protects both the interests of consumers and farmers.

The imposition of such a policy would cut current storage costs and stimulate a high level of production, while at the same time working to decrease our energy imports.

A better agricultural policy is good for everyone in this country, and especially for the people in the Tenth District.

St. Johns girls' mark stretches to 8-0

The St. Johns girls' basketball team chalked up wins number seven and eight last week as they remained undefeated entering last night's game with equally unbeaten Ovid-Elsie. The Redwings won on Tuesday night at Ionia by a score of 68-25 and followed up two nights later with a 74-45 pasting of Owosso.

The story against Ionia was the fine defensive performance. The Bulldogs were outscored 14-0 in the opening quarter. St. Johns then racked up 20 points to Ionia's 12 to take a 22-point half-time advantage. Ionia's first basket didn't come until the clock showed 6:23 left in the second quarter.

The Redwings went to the free throw stripe only four times hitting on two of the attempts. Lori Kus made both of those charity tosses as she finished with a game high 16 points. Denise Thelen had 14 points and Sue Pearsall had 12 as nine different St. Johns players scored.

Kus led the rebounders with 17 while Thelen again enjoyed a fine all-around game with seven assists and nine steals.

Against Owosso, the Redwings opened up a 22-10 first quarter margin and stretched it to 42-18 at the half. Excellent teamwork and 50 percent shooting from the floor were the keys in the victory.

Kus again was tops in scoring with 17 points and led with eight rebounds. Pearsall scored 15 and Thelen 12 to round out the players in double figures.

Corunna defeats O-E

The Ovid-Elsie Marauders went into Friday night's game facing their second straight MMB powerhouse and for the second straight game, they came up empty-handed. The ferocious Corunna defense held the visitors to 55 total yards and just two first downs for the entire evening, in handing O-E a 26-0 setback.

The Marauders dropped to 3-3 with the loss while Corunna moved to 5-1, setting up the meeting with unbeaten Chesaning this week for what will probably be the league championship.

Corunna's first touchdown came with 7:49 left in the first half when running back Rob Grumley scored on a 19-yard spurt. The play capped a 10 play, 60-yard drive, but the extra point failed, leaving it at 6-0.

Later in the same quarter with O-E still seeking its initial first down of the contest, a Rick Winkler aerial was intercepted and brought back to the Marauder 35-yard-line. From there the Cavaliers took nine plays to put six more on the board. Jeff Wilson scored on a run of 1-yard. Rick Welte carried in the two-point conversion to make it 14-0 with 2:33 left on the clock.

Grumley scored his second touchdown of the game with 6:53 to play in quarter number three. He scored on a 1-yard run, completing a march of 64 yards in 14 plays.

The final Cavalier touchdown was another run of a yard. This one came with 11:57 left in the ball game and was scored by Todd Dumond. The drive covered 42 yards and took eight plays.

The Marauder offense could never get untracked and were able to run just 28 plays from scrimmage. Corunna, on the other hand showed total ball control with a total of 76 snaps and 21 first downs.

Amongst the few bright spots for O-E were Ryan Ackels with 28 tackles plus a fumble recovery. Fellow linebacker Scott Hudecek totaled 18 tackles with one quarter-back sack. Dean Bendt had 15 stops plus a fumble recovery and Troy Ginther had 13 tackles.

The Cavaliers ground out 284 yards rushing with three players totaling better than 70. Grumley led the way with 78 followed by Dumond and Wilson with 75 apiece.

Marauder coach Russ Pope found little to be happy about in assessing his team's performance. "They completely dominated every phase of the ball game and we just didn't seem to bounce back very well from the loss to Chesaning. That Corunna team is a good one and they will give Chesaning all they can handle," he stated.

The next test for Pope's forces comes at home Friday night against traditional rival St. Johns. The Redwings lost to Ionia last week which leaves them with a 3-3 mark on the year. Both teams have their share of injuries, making the depth factor a key issue in the confrontation. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Fowler wins 36-8; Olivet next

By Tim Jeffery

The Fowler football machine fine tuned all of its parts last Friday night with a 36-8 waltz over Laingsburg, setting the stage for this week's confrontation with equally unbeaten Olivet.

Actually the Eagles were able to pick up only 10 first downs compared to 15 by Laingsburg, but a majority of the Wolfpack total came in the second half when the issue had long been settled. Fowler's first down statistic is somewhat misleading as the offense clicked on a number of big plays.

Early in the opening quarter a short Laingsburg punt gave the Eagles a possession starting on the Wolfpack 39-yard-line. The visitors promptly covered the distance with Lloyd Feldpausch going in for what would be the first of four touchdowns for him on the evening. The initial score came on a run of 1-yard.

Late in quarter number one Fowler took over on its own 5-yard-line and started a beautiful 95-yard march. Feldpausch had runs of first 57 and then 22 yards before finally scoring on a 2-yard burst, on the first play of the second quarter. Quarterback Luke Hufnagel passed to Tom Weber for the two-point conversion.

Laingsburg quarterback Doug Hurst threw a second quarter pass into the arms of Weber who upon intercepting, raced 31 yards for the third Eagle touchdown. The pickoff was number four on the year for Weber. The lead was upped to 22-0 when Weber ran in the conversion.

Fowler scored once more before the half with Feldpausch again gaining the honors. This one came on a 15-yard run, marking the fourth play of the drive which covered 38 yards. A 22-yard punt return by Weber set up the good field position. The Eagles elected to kick the point after with Dean Schmitz handling the duties. His boot sent the teams into the lockerroom with a score of 29-0.

On Fowler's initial offensive series of the second half, Coach Steve Spicer sent his first unit in for what he told them would be one series. With the ball on the 9-yard-line, the starters took advantage of their only second half playing time. Feldpausch took the handoff on the initial play and burst into the secondary where he turned on the burners and jaunted 91 yards. Schmitz drilled the extra point.

Laingsburg finally got on the scoreboard mid-way through the final quarter when Steve Wickham hauled in a 20-yard pass from Hurst, finishing a 82-yard march. The successful two-point conversion came on a run by Wickham.

The winners totaled 305 yards rushing and six through the air. Quarterback Hufnagel threw only three times. To go along with his four touchdowns, Feldpausch gained 200 yards on just eight carries. Weber added 56 more with seven attempts.

The Wolfpack picked up 93 yards rushing and 99 more passing. Hurst hit on 12 of 26 tosses with Greg Carpenter leading the way by grabbing four of the throws. Wickham rushed 20 times netting 76 yards.

Feldpausch led the defensive effort for Fowler as well. He was credited with 18 tackles while Roy Feldpausch was in on 16 stops. Weber and Hufnagel each had an interception.

Olivet rolls into Fowler Friday night with a 6-0 record which includes wins over tough P-W and Fulton teams. The winner of the matchup is a likely bet to grab the CMAC title.

League champs

The St. Johns golf team capped a perfect season by winning MMB Tournament last Tuesday at the Candle Stone Golf Course in Belding Michigan. The Redwings finished three strokes ahead of runner-up Alma with a score of 451. P-W posts fifth win 36-0

By Tim Jeffery

All season long Bellevue has been the team CMAC foes have fattened the offensive statistics against. In Friday nights encounter with Pewamo-Westphalia, the Bronco's didn't spoil that trend. The home standing Pirates blew to a 30-0 halftime lead before finally settling for a 36-0 win over their hapless guests.

The victory moved P-W's league record to 4-1, keeping them a game behind Fowler and Olivet. For Bellevue the loss was the sixth against no wins.

The Pirates opened with a bang as quarterback Mike Pohl threw 25 yards to Dar Hengesbach on the first P-W play from scrimmage. Eight plays and 58 yards later, P-W struck paydirt. The score came on a 4-yard Pohl to Hengesbach pass. The two-point conversion attempt was good on a Pohl to Dave Rademacher toss.

Late in the first quarter Pohl's arm got the Pirates six more points. The P-W quarterback hooked up with Brian Pfaff on a 48 yard scoring strike. The play capped a 67-yard drive in just three plays. Pfaff then ran in the two-point conversion.

The third touchdown came four minutes into the second stanza. Kevin Fedewa scored on a 35-yard run, to complete a five play 67-yard march. Earlier in the drive Fedewa had a run of some 45 yards only to have it wiped out by a clip. As a result the gain was only 17 yards. The conversion was a pass from Pohl to Rademacher.

Kevin Smith intercepted a Bellevue pass late in the second quarter and returned it 33 yards to the Bronco 13-yard line, setting up the next score. Fedewa ran for 2-yards. Dean Schafer burst for 11, and then went over from the one. The extra point failed leaving it 30-0.

The opening series in the third quarter produced the game's final touchdown. Pfaff got the score on a run of 27-yards. Earlier in the drive he had carried the ball twice for 17-yards and Fedewa once for 14-yards.

The lone Bronco threat had come on their first possession of the game, when with the game scoreless, they drove to the P-W 30, before Schafer came up with an interception on a fourth and 13.

Pirate coach Mike Folk was pleased with the overall offensive showing. "I thought our offensive line played very well. Bellevue does a lot of different things defensively. They stunt, blitz and gamble, but our line did a fine job," he said.

Fedewa led the P-W ground game with 112-yards in nine carries. Schafer added 51 yards, while Pfaff totaled 48. Pohl completed 5 of 7 passes for 83 yards. Hengesbach caught 2 for 29 yards and Pfaff the one for 48.

The defense was led by John Nurenberg's 11 tackles. Kurt Schafer's 8 and 7 more by Smith, as the Broncos were held to 110 yards. Smith, Fedewa and Dean Schafer were each credited with a pass interception.

P-W's next action is Friday against Portland St. Pat's. The game is the Pirate Homecoming with kickoff scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Olivet beats Fowler

In the only action for the Fowler basketball team last week, the girls were defeated by unbeaten Olivet 75-54. The loss dropped Fowler's record to 3-3 in the CMAC and to 4-4 overall. Olivet raised its mark to 6-0 in the conference.

After trading buckets throughout much of the opening quarter and eventually finishing the stanza deadlocked at 15, the host Olivet team outscored their guests 26-15 to take an 11-point lead into intermission.

The Eagles were outscored by seven in the third quarter and never managed to get back into the contest, although the team hit on 19 of 27 free throw tosses for the evening.

Lana Hafner paced Fowler with 15 points, while hauling down 13 rebounds. Connie Feldpausch had 14 points and led the way with 17 rebounds. Kay Snyder and Becky Klein each chipped in with eight points. A frustrated Jane George attempted to play but could manage only five points after leading the team in scoring through the first seven games. GERALYNN SMITHY rounded out the Eagle scoring with four points.

Telling It Like It Is

By Tim Jeffery

The Kansas City Royals breezed to an American League West championship. Then it was the New York Yankees in the playoffs. The Yankees won 103 ball games to top the majors in wins, yet the Royals swept them in three.

In the National League, Philadelphia emerged from what was probably the best championship series ever played. The battle with Houston was extremely emotional and may have taken a great deal out of the Phillies, mentally. Steve Carlton, the Philly pitching ace won't be ready to pitch until game two, thus making it hard for him to pitch three times should the series go seven games. The stage is set. Here then is this week's question.

Who do you like in the World Series and what are your reasons?

Steve Bakita of St. Johns: "I don't know what the pitching rotation will be but right now I'd have to go with Kansas City. A lot will depend on Steve Carlton. The key is whether or not he can do anything with the tough K.C. hitters. With Carlton not starting in the first game, he won't be able to go three times if necessary. Another factor is there will probably be some home runs hit, where they weren't any in the Astrodome during the N.L. Championship Series. If Brett has any kind of trouble with anybody it would likely be a left hander more so than a right hander so again Carlton is the key, but I'll take the Royals in five."

Dale Kuenzli of St. Johns: "I would go with Kansas City in six games. I think that player for player you have more of a team effort with the Royals than a bunch of individuals like the Phillies have. K.C. is better managed and seem to be hungrier while Philly has several individualists and scraps amongst themselves. The Royals are faster and will probably run the bases well on the Phillies. Also you've got Brett who is the best player on either team as well as in all of baseball, although Pete Rose is close."

Jim Ostrowski of St. Johns: "I'd say Kansas City in six. I think they're due and they've just got too much talent. The Phillies never should've gotten past Houston. Another thing with me is I don't like Pete Rose. I think he's overrated and overpaid."

Tom Zink of St. Johns: "I like Kansas City in seven. I've got to believe there is more cohesiveness on the K.C. team. They've got the better bats and more team speed as well as being more disciplined."

Bob Bellgowan of St. Johns: "I like Kansas City in six games because of George Brett. That's all I can say, the guy's tremendous."

ROYAL SCOT HOSTS

Bowling pros journey to $100,000 Open

By Tim Jeffery

Royal Scot Lanes will be the site of the 1980 $100,000 Kessler Open PBA Bowling Tournament, beginning Oct. 16 and running through Oct. 21. A total of 144 bowlers will actually compete for the prize money, starting on Oct. 18.

The finals will begin Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. with the top five bowlers competing for the big stakes. ESPN, the Entertainment Sports Programming Network available to cable television subscribers, will televise the finals. Taping for ESPN begins right at 7 p.m. thus all spectators must be seated by 6:30.

The tournament is the first of its kind ever held in Clinton County. Bruce Stenson and Georgia White are the tournament directors with Joe Joseph serving as the honorary tournament director.

Larry Laub, last year's winner of the Kessler Open held in Battle Creek will be on hand to defend his title. Mark Roth, the three-time winner of The Sporting News PBA Player of the Year Award and the leading money winner from 1979 figures to be one of a number of bowlers to give Laub trouble. However, the defending champion posted a record of 8-1 in televised matches last year, which was tops among bowlers that competed in five or more events on television.

Nelson Burton Jr., the 38-year old superstar will compete in the action as will Dick Weber, the legend from St. Louis, Mo. Weber is a member of the PBA and ABC Hall of Fame and holds the record (along with five others) for the most perfect games in a tournament. He pieced together three 300 games in a tournament in 1965 in Houston, TX.

Earl Anthony, the all-time top money winner will also compete in the Kessler Open. The left-handed Anthony finished second behind Roth in the 1979 PBA average leaders standings.

Alvin Lou, the likeable 26-year old from El Cajon, Calif. will be on hand to excite the crowd as will Marshall Holman, the winner of four 1979 tourneys.

The list of big name bowlers is one of great length, but five area bowlers will also have a shot at placing their names among the elite. Chuck Morden, Ed Jackson and Tim Small all of Lansing plus Buster Brewbaker of Grand Ledge and Mike Eaton of Wyoming have qualified for the proportion of the tourney.

The Headquarters Regional Director of the PBA, Al Thompson and Darrell Ducat also a PBA member will take place in the competition. Thompson, a native of Worthington, Ohio and Ducat of Toledo, Ohio are the owners of the Royal Scot Lanes.

At 8 a.m. on Thursday, a Pro-Tour Qualifier event will take place. The session is scheduled to run until 10:45 p.m. and carries an admission price of $3.

The following day will have a practice session for all pros, running from 9 a.m. until noon. The cost is $2 to witness the practice.

Then at 1 p.m. a Junior Pro-Am will take place. All juniors will roll three games on the same pair, with three different pros. The divisions will be broken into boys scratch and boys handicap with ages 11 and under in one segment and ages 12 and over in another. The same breakdowns will take place with the girls' competition.

On Saturday, Oct. 18 the "pros six qualifying games" gets under way at 9 a.m. This session runs until 3:30 p.m. and carries a $4 admission charge. The qualifying picks up again at 4 p.m. and continues until 10:30. The charge is $5 to witness the second qualifying session.

The final six game qualifying period is Sunday from 9 a.m. through 3:30 p.m. with the cost to spectators set at $4.

At 7 p.m. Sunday the Match Play finals begins. Bowlers will roll eight games with Sunday night's session scheduled to run until 10 p.m. Admission is $6.

The last two Match Play Finals will be held on Monday the 20th. The first session runs from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the second from 6:45 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. Admission for the final two events in Match Play Finals is $6 and $7 respectively.

The televised finals on the 21st will carry an admission price of $7. Tickets for all events are available in advance at the Royal Scot Lanes.

For further information call the Royal Scot Lanes at 321-3071.

Joe Joseph (right) welcomes bowling great Nelson Burton Jr. to Clinton County for the $100,000 Kessler Open to be held this weekend at the Royal Scot Lanes. Burton is just one of a huge number of stars scheduled to be on hand for the tournament as they attempt to take the title from defending champion Larry Laub. (Photo by Jan Thomas)

NOW From Clinton Bank...

A NEW kind of account: enjoy free checking service and earn interest on all the money you keep on deposit . . . we call it . . .

5 1/4%

CHECKING*

Clinton now has an account that lets you write all checks free of any service cost (with a minimum balance of $1,500) and pays you 5 1/4% annual interest.

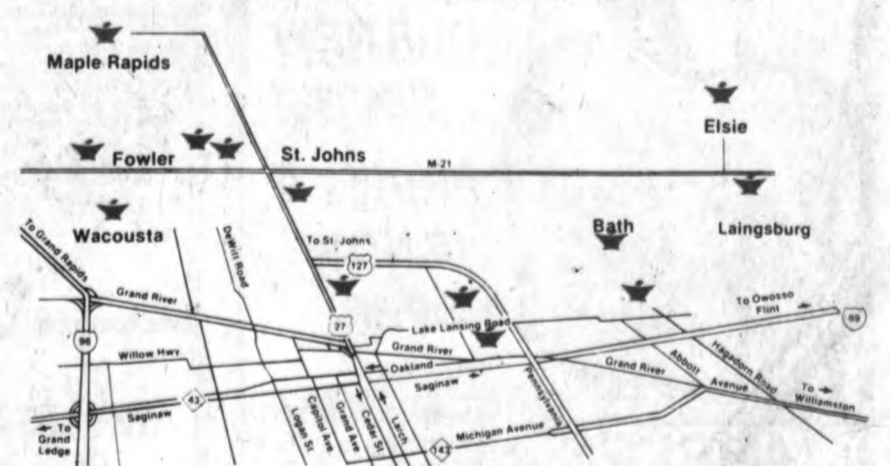

To make your funds earn the top interest dollar, we'll compute your interest daily, and compound and pay it monthly* based on the average collected balance. Each month your itemized statement will show exactly how much your money earned that month and add your interest to the money you keep on deposit.

Clinton's 5 1/4% CHECKING is ideal for anyone who can keep $1,500 on deposit.

When you open a 5 1/4% CHECKING account you will receive a complimentary supply of our new duplicate copy checks that let you keep a copy of every check that you write . . . right in your checkbook.

For all the details on this new account that pays you interest on all the money you keep in checking, call 371-4794 or 224-6811, or stop at any of our 13 area locations.

13 Convenient Offices To Serve You

*Under Federal Law, NOW account services are not available before December 31, 1980. This is an automatic transfer account with interest paid quarterly until December 31, 1980. As of January 1, 1981, it will become a single account with interest paid and compounded monthly at the maximum interest rate allowed at that date.
