Two local plants rehiring

ST. JOHNS—The two major industries here are on a recovery course, replacing laid-off workers to their production lines as business slowly improves.

Sealed Power, which was down 158 workers at one time this year, has the majority of its people back to work. The lay-off list includes only 34 people.

"We're getting our people back to work," said Personnel Director David Dodd. "It's hard to speculate on why business is on the upswing," he said. "We do have the orders, but it's hard to say if it's because of the election year or if manufacturers just want to fill up the showrooms," he said. Dodd said Sealed Power plans to keep the present work force of 254 people through the end of the year.

The factory on West M-21 which makes piston rings, saw its employee list drop to a low of 133 people in June. That was compared to 291 at the end of October, 1979.

Federal-Mogul employees are not being called back quite as fast but Plant Manager Matt Armitage is forecasting business to gradually improve throughout all of 1981.

Last month 25 employees were called back and this week another 30 were re-hired.

Federal-Mogul's cutback started a year ago when they stopped replacing people who left for retirement or other reasons according to Al Bachman, personnel director. In December, the plant had 640 employees on board but that dropped to about 630 due to attrition by April. The big lay-off came in May when 150 employees were dismissed. In August another 40 were laid-off.

Armitage said recovery over the next six months will be tied in with how the new cars are accepted. Federal-Mogul's automotive volume is just starting to grow from less than 50 percent of its old volume. The plant has also had increases in orders from General Electric and Caterpillar.

Alternative ed moves ahead

ST. JOHNS—The Adult and Community Education program enrolled 163 students with an equivalence of 103 full time students setting up a new program that is making use of Teresa Merrill Elementary School for alternative education.

Director John Furry, who hopes to move the community education office to the Teresa Merrill building sometime in the near future, said that 12 of the 163 students are enrolled in alternative education.

Alternative education is the director's term for a high school completion program for dropout students who cannot or will not function in the traditional school setting.

Furry approached the St. Johns Board of Education earlier this fall with his proposition to use Teresa Merrill (closed as an elementary school this fall) saying that the program would bring new monies into the district and "pay for itself". He said this week that he is still optimistic about doing so and that he came back from a recent Community Education director's meeting full of more ideas and possibilities for his program.

The alternative education program is in full swing for the 12 enrolled and includes five mornings of classes from 8:30 to noon each day.

Furry's innovative program for these special students who had unusual circumstances that kept them from functioning at the high school, includes units in basic life skills such as attitudes and promptness, personal social development and identifying their own goals. Counseling is also a big part of his program.

Some of the life skills units deal with managing time and money, credit and banking and other life functions that according to Furry, "We all need to manage in this world."

Testing for the life skills competencies will come from community experts in the field. "We will be using local volunteer experts to help us determine if the student has learned a particular area," Furry said. "The community

Capers being staged

ST. JOHNS—Ticket holders to the Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's Clinton Capers, an extravagant, amateur musical comedy to be staged here, Friday and Saturday are in for a real treat.

A spectacular cast of 80 shows off community talent under the guidance of a professional New York director, in 8 p.m. performances both evenings in the St. Johns High School Auditorium.

Dee Ferris is chairing the event, a first for the auxiliary. Proceeds go to the organization's pet project at Memorial Hospital, a new color television system installed last year.

The cast of 80 has been in vigorous rehearsal, learning numbers that include an impressive "Big Circus" act complete with clowns, magic and circus dancers. Special attention will be given to the children in the audience during this part of the show.

As does every musical variety show, this one sports cancan dancers in a high-kicking line. Professional director, Gary Randall promised to "make everyone a star," and he indeed comes close. Costumes, skits, dances and songs are done with a real professional air. The finale, impressive with Star Wars music, lights, swords, costumes and action is sure to be a hit.

Tickets will be available at the door for a $3.50 donation. They also may be purchased at the City Municipal Building from 10 a.m. to noon and from 7-10 p.m., Clinton Memorial Hospital and the DeWitt Medical Center. For more information call 224-2109 or 224-7523.

Clinton Memorial Hospital receives $28,775 grant

ST. JOHNS—Clinton Memorial Hospital has been named for a matching grant from the U.S. Department of Energy that will help implement projects that will pare some $13,308 a year from gas and electric bills.

Controler Bob Camis said the grant for $28,775 will enable Clinton Memorial to institute some $57,550 in projects that will help conserve and save energy. Part of the grant monies will help pay for a $6,500 professional audit that suggested the energy savings changes.

Camis said the average simple payback on the project would be 3.83 years, which "amounts to a lot of savings." He explained that 96.3 percent of Clinton Memorial's savings would be in natural gas and 3.7 percent in electricity. "In a year that means our anticipated savings on gas would be $11,748 and on electricity $1,560," he reported.

Some of the projects will start about Nov. 1, Camis said and be finished by the first of the year. The major projects include installing a boiler economizer to improve efficiency; insulating the condensate return and steam pipes; installing thermostatic control valves on the steam heaters; using a night set-back system in unoccupied areas; converting some of the air circulation systems to use inside air; revising controls for pre-heat systems and replacing all exterior doors as needed.

There are also minor changes that can be made without extra costs that will amount to additional savings, Camis said.

Clinton Bank dedicating new J. M. Egan center

By Sharon Randall

ST. JOHNS—After a run through for special by invitation only guests this evening, Clinton Bank and Trust will stage a public open house at its new John M. Egan Building on the corner of Brush and High Streets, Sunday, Oct. 26 from noon until 4 p.m.

Branch managers will act as tour guides and resource people will be on hand to explain the workings of the behind the scenes bank, taking a check from its writing until it is packed up to be mailed back. Charlotte Shoup, vice president and operations officers is building manager.

John Pearson, assistant vice president and marketing officer said the $1,200,000 project which includes purchase and renovation of the building formerly used as an auto dealership will "totally increase the efficiency of our operation."

Forty-three employees have been transplanted to the new center from cramped quarters on the second and third floors of the downtown bank building, but the new space allows for up to 90 people. Bank officials say the present personnel will receive $500,000 in salaries during 1981, operating such departments as auditing, checking, control, data processing, investments, mail, personnel, purchasing, savings, records retention and proof and encoding.

The building contains: A humidification system designed to aid in employee comfort, save energy and control static electricity.

Pello energy saving windows, designed to conserve energy and provide employee comfort.

A computerized twelve-zone heating and air conditioning system to provide maximum efficiency of energy sources.

An automatic water sprinkling system for fire control, employee safety and building security.

A halon fire depression system for added fire control in high-security areas.

Low energy lighting used throughout the building and exterior areas.

Insulation comparable to 14 inch ceiling battens and eight inch wall battens.

High-noise area constructed with acoustical wall panels for sound control.

Tonight is the formal dedication service for the building appropriately named for John M. Egan, the highly respected businessman who came to St. Johns in 1929 to open the Egan Ford dealership and garage in the structure built in 1916-18 by A.T. Smith.

Egan, now retired, operated a successful business there for 35 years. He was director of the State Bank of St. Johns and continued on the board of Clinton National Bank and Trust when the two merged in 1961. He retired from that post in February of 1969.

Project supervisor of the spacious center was Gayle Desprez, executive vice president. Interior design and furnishings were the responsibility of Jean Pardike, assistant vice president.

Under remodeling construction for nine months, the building was purchased by Clinton Bank and Trust in 1979 from Egan and Larry Burns who had become his partner in 1940. The auto dealership had moved to a new location on South US-27 in 1978 under the ownership of Bruce Fowler and Jack Downing and was renamed St. Johns Ford-Mercury.

Egan's successful business career sports highlights that include a special award in 1939 for selling over 100 tractors in a year period. The Ford-Ferguson tractor line was added to the dealership in 1938 and continued for 10 years. During the 50's and 60's the dealership sold an average of 700 vehicles per year.

Home Health service ends

By Jean Martin

Clinton Co. Home Health Services, which had previously been offered by the Mid Michigan District Health Department, were scheduled to end Friday, Oct. 17 due to a budget crisis within the department.

Earlier in the year the MMDHD, which serves the counties of Clinton, Gratiot, and Montcalm, had implemented a four-day work week for some employees as a cost cutting measure.

When union representatives objected, the public health board decided to take another look at the budget. They finally told the unions that the only other option would be to lay off some staff members.

"We felt that it wasn't fair that these employees be asked to take a 20 percent cut across the board regardless of seniority," explained a Teamsters union member. "We had had only a one percent raise, and many of our people weren't getting a living wage anymore after the cut-backs. At least they could get unemployment and look for other jobs with a lay-off. That's why we asked for the lay-offs."

Among the budget problems encountered by the MMDHD was a recall of WIC (Women's, Infants, and Children's) Funds that had been placed in the general fund.

This money was originally given to the department to pay local grocers for the foods received by participants in the program, according to Joe Latoff, director of the Mid Michigan District Health Department. When the State of Michigan began paying the grocers directly from Lansing, money that had been advanced to the MMDHD had to be returned to the state, Latoff said.

According to a state-wide survey of local governmental financing for local health departments compiled earlier by Latoff and some of his staff, the Mid Michigan District Health Department already receives the least local support of any health department in the state.

The budget for the MMDHD called for receipt of $1.82 per capita support from the counties involved.

By comparison Shiawassee Co. paid $2.97, and the Barry-

Clinton Bank and Trust's new Operations Center is dedicated this evening in a special by invitation only open house. Named for J.M. Egan, the man who ran a successful Ford dealership there for 35 years, the building now houses the behind the scenes operations of the local bank that has branches in Bath, Elsie, DeWitt Township, Fowler, Lansing, Laingsburg, East Lansing, and has a traveling bus that goes to Maple Rapids and Wacousta. (Photo by Jean Martin)

Green Meadow bull chosen

ELSIE—Green-Meadow Sentinel, a young bull bred by Green Meadow Farms has been chosen to enter Select Sires' program for Genetic Advancement (PGA) sire sampling procedures. Based on his outstanding pedigree, this bull calf has been selected as one of only 100 Holstein bulls from throughout the United States to enter the program in 1980.

The dam of Green-Meadow Sentinel has met the high standards for milk production and type conformation required by Select Sires. Green-Meadow Boots Memo has been scored Very Good - 87 and has made records to 23,196 pounds of milk and 866 pounds of fat at six years and 10 months of age.

Green-Meadow Sentinel is sired by Arlinda Commander. As evidenced by his progeny proof, this well-respected sire has the ability to pass on top genetics to his offspring. USDA information from July 1980, shows he has a Predicted Difference of plus 1,284 pounds of milk worth an additional $148 with a Repeatability of 99%. His latest Predicted Difference for type from the Holstein Association is plus .06 with a 99% Repeatability.

This young bull is sired by Commander, one of the highest Predicted Difference for Milk sons of his illustrious sire, Fond Matt. The dam is a Bootmaker daughter that completes four generations of over 100,000 pound lifetime cows. This is a cow family that produces and lasts while running in a 1400-cow dairy operation. Green-Meadow Sentinel should sire tall, very dairy cattle with wide, level rumps and particularly good fore udders and udder support.

Select Sires, Inc. is a federation of 11 farmer-owned and controlled Artificial Insemination cooperatives. The basic objective of the federation is to serve the genetic needs of livestock farmers.

Eaton department received $2.17 per person from those counties. Meanwhile nearby Ionia County supplied its health department with funding of $3.88 per resident. The best funded health department in the state, in Washtenaw County, received $9.94 during 1979, the last year for which figures were available.

On October 1 the health department board voted to lay off the equivalent of 37.12 employees. Among the first to go were four sanitarians, leaving only one sanitarian to serve the Clinton County area.

By Oct. 17, the target date for the elimination of the Home Health Services program, things were winding down satisfactorily according to Mary Beth Upton, a spokesman for the MMDHD nurses.

According to Mrs. Upton, some of the patients have been transferred to other agencies; some have been readmitted to hospitals; and the health department is keeping some patients for lab work at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

"The patients who went back to the hospital didn't go just because our service was ending," she explained. "It just happened that way."

There were a few people who went into nursing homes who might have been maintained in their own homes if the MMDHD hadn't had to start turning patients away, she said.

Patients, reported Mrs. Upton, were given the option of going with either Greater Lansing Visiting Nurse Services or In-Home Health Care Services, Inc., a private agency. A few chose discharge instead. Insofar as was possible MMDHD nurses tried to make the transition as easy as possible for patients.

"They have really been putting a lot of effort into these transfers," Mrs. Upton commented. "It's been very traumatic for the nurses and some patients."

Other patients may hardly notice that a transfer has taken place if all goes according to plan. According to Mrs. Upton and Jacqueline Mollema of In-Home Health Care Services, some of the MMDHD personnel will be working with the agencies.

"It is my 100 percent wish that these people will cover the same patients they had (when they worked for the MMDHD)," promised Mollema.

Meanwhile county commissioners were reporting that they had received a few phone calls from worried patients. In one instance Max Calder of DeWitt reports that he did a follow-up and learned that a constituent was being picked up by an agency but simply had not yet received notification of that fact.

Physicians have been notified and patients have been referred, according to Mrs. Upton; but the MMDHD has no official procedure for assuring itself that they will be accepted by the agency to which they were referred.

"These (agency) people are professionals, and we assume that they will honor their commitments," Mrs. Upton said. "But we are not going to check up on them."

Mollema, the owner of In-Home Health Care will be holding an open meeting for interested Clinton County residents Wed., Oct. 29 at 7 p.m. in the community room of Central National Bank.

"We will be in the community to provide general information," she said. "There will be a time for questions and answers. We can tell people then what services can and can't be provided."

Check presented

A subscription promotion by the Clinton County News this spring earned $700 for the Clinton Area Ambulance Service. Circulation director Bob Howell presented Carl Fonger, Emergency Medical Technician a check for the Ambulance Service which operates on trained volunteer help. Fonger, has worked with the local group since 1972. He said they are down to about 19 members and are searching for more people who would like to help maintain the service here. Interested persons can contact Fonger at 224-2658 or Herb Brown, 224-7963.

Sheriff Department seizes marijuana

CLINTON CO.-A large quantity of marijuana with an estimated street value of $43,000 was seized Monday evening in a raid by the Clinton Co. Sheriff's Department and the Tri-County Metro Narcotics Squad.

At 10:00 p.m. on Oct. 20 officers from both units moved in on a residence at 13462 Bancroft Blvd. in Watertown Twp. Here they uncovered 15 lbs. of marijuana and 3/4 of a pound of Thai sticks, ticks of compressed marijuana which sell for about $20.00 a piece in the Lansing area. Two people, whose names were not immediately released, were arrested. One was lodged in the Clinton Co. jail, and the other is being held in the Lansing City jail on other charges.

CLINTON CO.-William Cook, 34, of 7263 W. Victoria Dr., Laingsburg was eastbound on Price near Shepardville Rd. when he went off onto the shoulder of the curve on the south side of the road Oct. 18 at 4:30 a.m. The vehicle he was driving went 83 feet, hit a guard rail, skidded sideways and hit a rail on the north side of the road. The vehicle then skidded around and went backwards across the road to the south side and jumped up on the guard rail. Cook was taken to St. Lawrence Hospital. He told officers that he believed someone had walked out in front of him. Cook was cited for careless driving, and sheriff's reports indicate that he had been drinking. Earlier that morning at 1:20 a.m. Nicholas Roberts, 24, of 317 1/2 N. Clinton in St. Johns was injured when he failed to make the curve on eastbound Round Lake Rd. near Babcock. His vehicle went off the road, rolled over completely and ended up in the ditch on the east side of Babcock Rd. Roberts sought his own treatment for injuries he sustained in the mishap.

Sheriff's deputies received a report Oct. 19 that a westbound car had run off the road near the residence of Darrel Pennington of 13371 W. Grand River in Eagle. The car had struck a lawn ornament, a pine tree, and the house; but the driver was not found at the scene. Two days later James Robert Kebler, 34, of 13045 Grand River in Eagle turned himself in at the jail. He was cited for careless driving.

On Sunday, Oct. 19 Kent Hoskins, 20, of 210 S. Scott Rd. in St. Johns struck a wall on a bridge while driving northbound on DeWitt Rd. near Alward. Sheriff's reports indicate that Hoskins fell asleep.

Earlier in the week Cash Kiebler, 17, of 918 Webb Rd. in DeWitt received injuries when the vehicle in which he was riding ran off the road striking a tree. Reports indicate that the driver of the car, Gregory Carr, 18, of 1415 N. Homer in Lansing had been drinking. Kiebler was taken to Sparrow Hospital by friends.

There were reports of damage at the Grove Bible Church in Victor Twp. over the weekend when vehicles doing circle spins in the parking lot threw gravel into the side of the building. Damage included storm windows, a plate glass window and door, and 400 square feet of aluminum siding. There were no suspects.

Blaze doused

Ovid firemen fought a fire at the Watson Road home of Pricilla Decker, Tuesday, Oct. 14 for three hours after it was reported by neighbor Richard Ackles. Fire chief Larry Martin said the blaze was caused by an electrical short in the ceiling of the kitchen and did extensive damage to the rural home. "They lost just about everything," the chief said. Ovid called the St. Johns Fire Department for assistance with manpower and water. (Photo by Robert Dickman)

Youth turns himself in to St. Johns police

ST. JOHNS-A 16-year-old Middleton youth turned himself in to St. Johns police officers Oct. 17 following a hit and run accident the previous day.

St. Johns police officers report that a car owned by Gary Stockman, 202 W. Lincoln was totally demolished while it was parked in front of the residence at about 3:34 a.m. The vehicle causing the accident left the scene only to return the following day.

The youth was referred to Gratiot County Probate Court, but will appear before Judge Gordon Willyoung in Clinton County on a careless driving charge according to police.

In another incident Tracy Wright, 102 W. Park reported to police that when she returned home five pair of jeans, blouses, a denim coat and jewelry valued at $328 had been taken. The incident happened on Oct. 17 between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Police are continuing their investigation.

When Todd Birdsel returned to his 505 W. Parks residence in St. Johns at 9 p.m. Oct. 17 he discovered a rock had been thrown through his 24 x 24 kitchen window. There was no estimate on the damage.

Police also report 10 accidents in the city during the past week none of which included serious injuries.

VIEWPOINT By Sharon Randall

CCN suffers growing pains

I'm writing this on my typewriter. It's a rebellion of sorts and a farewell. It's a rebellion to two new machines that sit here in our office demanding change. It's a farewell to something that goes back 30 years to the time when I, as a skinny, freckled nosed eight-year-old decided that someday, somehow, I would be one of the people who put words together for readers.

When I wrote letters to the world of newspapers that I knew as a child, the Traverse City Record Eagle, the Detroit Free Press and the Chicago Tribune, letters came back telling me of a world that died at the Clinton County News when Ink White made the decision in 1965 to sell instead of getting bigger and purchasing his own offset "cold-type" press.

The new owner, Dale Stafford of Greenville, had already gone to offset and had been printing the Clinton County News for White for about a year. A modern composing room had been installed upstairs, keeping only the job shop downstairs. Later, ownership changed again and Richard Milliman switched printing to his plant in Howell at the Livingston County Press.

This spring, Milliman sold all his papers to Suburban Communications Corporation of Livonia, and we're into another change. It's an exciting change. For the first time since I've lived in this community, the writers here have access to editorial direction. There is leadership and support available that should help us become better writers and more competent at graphic design and layout. When I leave this typewriter and start composing my copy on the Compuedit visual display terminal (VDT) machine I'll be entering the world of new journalism; there are very few newspapers left that haven't made that jump.

Then why do I linger here? Mostly because of people. When the press was hauled out of here in 1964 it took something that will never be replaced. A press is the core of a newspaper. It pounds and beats like a living heart. It takes people to operate it, lots of people, who are all in a building together with real jobs and pride in every issue that is pulled off the press.

That part of the Clinton County News is dying a little more this week. Now production is being modernized and will be done in an efficient, organized plant in Grand Ledge that will eventually handle us and all of our new sister papers. A few of our people here will join that staff. Several others will slowly be phased out and find jobs someplace else.

What will be left is the editorial staff, these two new machines, I'm trying to tell you about and the advertising staff, our livelihood. We'll keep our office staff so the same friendly voices will answer "Clinton County News and Review" but billing and classifieds will go off to Grand Ledge or East Lansing via toll free numbers sometime within the next few months.

I know this building groaned when they tore out the press. It sits in gloom around me today as we say good-by to our typewriters. It shakes its shaggy grey head at the technology that is putting the reporter at a VDT machine and eliminates typesetters and proof readers. The Compuedit spits out stories onto paper tapes that will be whisked away to another new machine that can wink out a story, ready for production, in 45 seconds.

The ghosts that haunt the cupboards behind me, living and breathing in the pages of micro-filmed and bound copies of this paper and its counter parts, hold me back. Within a year, this story will also be bound, in Vol. 124, No. 42. Someday my ghost will sit in there on the shelf and wait as people are offered their Clinton County News via a television screen or whatever becomes the next new way.

Another side to closing

Dear Editor: All of the recent letters sent to your office to be published were full of pity for Anna Jackson on the closing of her "Foster Care Home".

Well, here is another opinion. Her's never was a nursing home as so many people think. To be a qualified nursing home one has to be licensed through the state and there has to be a registered nurse or licensed practical nurse on duty at all times.

Her homes were licensed through Department of Social Services so all she was ever qualified for was Foster Care. There is a great deal of difference. I would also like to know how anyone can run a Foster Care home without a license for three years? No one else could get by with it.

You relatives, of the patients, did you ever see Anna Jackson's license on a wall in plain sight or the renewal date, or didn't you care whether she was licensed or not?

I am a former employee of the home and I see many different sides to the story plus more.

The time for the inspectors to step in as they did, so early, to "catch them in the act" is just what is needed to be done, not to go in when everything is put in order. They've done exactly as it should be done. If one has nothing to hide, it shouldn't matter when they are inspected.

When anyone is in business such as the Jacksons were and deal with the public day in and day out they should do what is expected of them. Anything less is of their own doing. So let's not hear any more sympathy for Anna Jackson but feel sorry for the poor elderly who so often get shoved around, through no fault of their own.

Praise for Jackson Home

Dear Editor, Regularly for a period of over twelve years, at my convenience I visited the Jackson home to do the lady residents' hair.

Ann, Jack, Duane and the staff ran a clean, cheery, homelike atmosphere for the people who lived there. The meals served were excellent, the treatment each elderly person there received showed compassion.

There are not many young men as considerate of the elderly as Duane Jackson.

The residents of Jackson Home will surely miss being there.

Sincerely,
Betty Fleischer

She'll have no birthday party

Letter to the Editor:

Anna Simcox was a resident of Clinton County since 1915, and a resident at the Jackson Nursing Home for the past eight years which was recently and abruptly closed.

certifier will decide if the student is competent. Does he understand how this particular life function really works? Does he know how to apply for a loan and what it will mean to repay it?" Furry explained.

Another part of the alternative education program will have students examining careers and eventually job shadowing community people involved in the world of work. "Hopefully each student will at least job shadow with three different careers," Furry said.

If the student clicks with a particular career the program will make an attempt to place him in a similar job situation on a longterm venture and he will become an "employee without pay" working under the community expert.

"We're struggling," Furry admitted. "We see some good things happening and some bad things but that is what we expected."

His hope for the program is still strong he said and he expressed again his philosophy for "keeping these students by bending a bit to try and meet their needs." Afternoons at Teresa Merrill from noon until 3:30 are scheduled with adult students on the high school completion program who have their choice of three different classes.

Winter term plans include offering daytime enrichment classes at the new building in addition to the popular evening classes scheduled in the high school.

Furry looks ahead to the future and sees Community Education including special daytime classes for senior citizens and classes in early development for children who aren't quite ready for kindergarten. "The possibilities are endless," he emphasized.

The Jacksons always provided excellent care and compassion for my mother. She was always well kept, with her hair done, clothes neat and clean, and fed the finest home cooked meals.

Today, October 14, 1980 is Anna Simcox's birthday. Today at 91 years of age she would have been given a birthday party (as usual) at the Jackson home with her old friends and neighbors. She will not have that party at the Jacksons this year.

I was called by the Prosecuting Attorney of St. Johns on Oct. 1, 1980 at my Higgins Lake home and told that my mother had to be moved out of the Jackson home by 5 p.m. that afternoon or they would move her!

Finding a place for our elderly parents that can provide the excellent care or something even comparable to what the Jacksons provided is very difficult, but to find a place in a few short hours for a woman 91 years old is impossible.

I was able to get my mother into a home the next day in Mt. Pleasant, but the trip was heart-breaking. Mom just kept saying, "Take me home, take me home."

Guy and Anna Simcox worked the fields of a 90 acre farm two miles west of St. Johns all their lives and saved every cent for their old age. They were from the old school of belief of taking care of themselves and paying their own way.

It is unbelievable that in a time when we are all trying to become more aware of the needs and the well being of our elderly people, that a group of government people that were put into their jobs by the public to protect us can come into a home like the Jacksons with their checklists and be allowed to create such an upsetting situation for 13 very elderly people who supposedly have the same rights as any citizen.

We thank God for people like the Jacksons and wish to express our gratitude and support to them for the excellent care and love they gave my mother.

Thanks to McDonalds

Dear Editor, Last week we stayed at the Ronald McDonald House while our child was a patient at Children's Hospital in Detroit.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Chuck McCann, owner of the McDonalds Restaurant in St. Johns, other McDonalds Restaurant owners, The St. Johns Jaycettes (who sell Ronald McDonald sweatshirts and T-shirts) and everyone else who helps support the Ronald McDonald House. There are a lot of grateful parents, ourselves included who say thank you. Having such a nice and convenient place to stay made it possible to be close to our child with the comforts of home.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Marvin Robertson

Question: I heard on the radio that it's easier for adult adoptees to get information about their real background. Is this true?

Answer: A new law, which became effective Sept. 10 allows for freer access to adoption records in some circumstances. If you were adopted and are now an adult, you may go to the court or agency in charge of the adoption, and receive the following information if it is on file:

1. The date of birth, as well as the county and state of birth.
2. Your medical history as well as that of your parents.
3. The national or ethnic background of the natural parents.
4. The circumstances under which you were placed for adoption (that is, whether your parents released you for adoption, or the court took you from your parents involuntarily).
5. Religious background of the natural parents.
6. Age and sex of natural brothers and sisters.
7. Education level of natural parents.

The court or agencies may supply further non-identifying information at their discretion. If identifying information is sought, you must submit a written request to the following agency: Michigan Department of Social Services Adoption Central Registry P.O. Box 30037 300 S. Capitol Avenue Lansing, MI 48909

That agency will not release non-identifying information to you unless several conditions have been met, such as the filing of statements of consent to release by the natural parent(s), or that the reason for the adoption was the death of both parents.

A fuller explanation of this change in the adoption law may be found in an excellent pamphlet entitled "Release of Information From Adoption Records". This pamphlet is available at your state or local Department of Social Services Offices.

church and school groups and other organizations in planning future events. It will prevent scheduling conflicts as well as eliminate the accidental scheduling of the same kinds of events on the same dates.

With advance notification of special community events the Chamber office can advise various state agencies, tourist associations and travel guides of dates and times for these events. These special interest agencies may then include this information in literature and brochures put out by their offices and provide a broader coverage for many local events. There is no charge for inclusion in these pamphlets and guides but dates and times must be decided upon approximately three to six months in advance.

Any club or organization wishing to register may call the Chamber office and tell us the date, time, place and type of activity and we will enter it on the calendar. We also will let you know what else is scheduled near to that time or on the date. Of course, the decision as to whether or not to change a date will be left up to the club or organization concerned.

By serving as a check point early in the planning stages, the calendar will help to effect well attended programs and more successful fund raisers. With the updating of the calendar through the Chamber office, the Chamber will be made aware of community activities and can give out accurate information to interested parties.

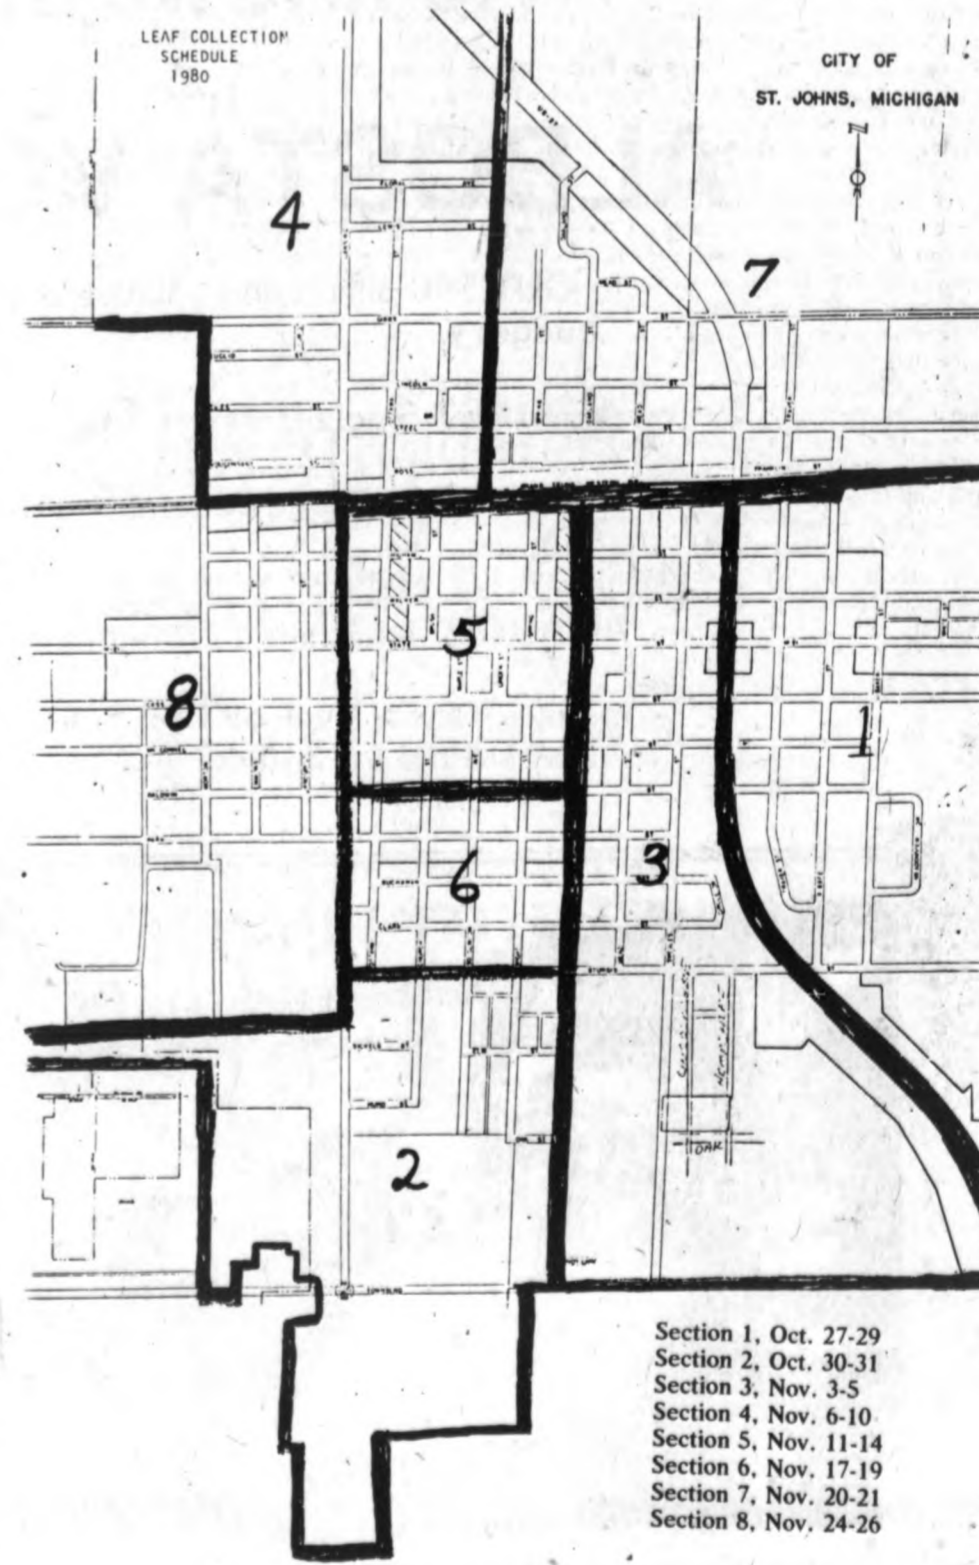

The next time your club, church or organization is sponsoring a bake sale, car wash, or whatever, call the chamber office and put it on the calendar.

City sets leaf pick up schedule

ST. JOHNS—Fall weather is causing a pile up of leaves on the lawns and streets of the city and workers are geared up for the annual leaf collection.

Residents were asked in their city newsletter to watch the Clinton County News for the above map and should refer to their area and the dates pick-up will be made in their neighborhood. City workers who haul the leaves to a landfill area prefer the leaves in tied bags set on the curb in front of the home.

Pretty legs

You couldn't do it folks! Of all the entries, publicity chairman Terri Warren received for the Clinton Capers, "Match the bodies with the legs" contest featured in the Clinton County News, Oct. 8, only Ron Huard matched them up. Ron was right when he put, Body A with legs 4; B, 2; C, 5; D, 3; E, 6 and F, 1. Showing off were R to L, Randy Humphrey, Paul McNamara, Rod Fuller, Brandon White, James Grost and Roy Briggs. Huard couldn't resist composing a little rhyme to go along with his entry: "Win or lose, it's fun to guess, especially things so serious. With pins attractive as this mess, there're at least six wives delirious." The Capers are Oct. 24, 15 at 8 p.m. at St. Johns High School auditorium. (Photo by Sharon Randall)

Redwings rally to beat O-E 28-10

By Tim Jeffery

When one looks back at the statistics from Friday night's Ovid-Elsie-St. Johns football game it's rather hard to believe there were 38 points scored in the contest. Combined, the two teams totaled less than 300 yards in offensive output, yet St. Johns was able to register 28 points to the Marauders' 10.

The Redwings took advantage of a pair of big plays and played stingy defense to up their record to 4-3. The setback leaves O-E with a mark of 3-4.

St. Johns received the opening kickoff, but couldn't move and punted into the wind. The Marauders took over in excellent field position on their own 49-yard-line. Eight straight runs and an incomplete pass left O-E with a fourth down at the 26-yard-line. Coach Russ Pope took a time out to talk about the situation, electing to go for the field goal.

Kicker Jim Chapko got all of his boot and it sailed through the uprights for a 43-yarder. The kick came with 5:02 left in the opening quarter.

The Redwings took the ensuing kickoff and ran off five plays before a fumbled handoff bounced in O-E's direction. The loose ball was scooped up by Brian Lambert who made no mistakes and pranced 31 yards for a touchdown. Chapko hit the point after and with still 2:46 remaining in quarter number one, the Marauders led 10-0.

St. Johns got back in the ball game late in the second quarter after getting good field position following an O-E punt. The runback had 15 yards tacked on to it because of a Marauder penalty. Quarterback Steve Gonzales scored the touchdown on a fourth down sneak from a yard out. The play capped a 34-yard drive, taking seven plays. Rich Kingsley added the extra point and the half ended with O-E leading 10-7.

A John Karber interception proved to be the big break St. Johns wanted, early in the third quarter. Given a first down on the Marauder 34-yard-line, the guests proceeded to march in for the go-ahead touchdown in just five plays. Dean Sharick got the score with 7:45 showing on the clock, by bursting in from 7 yards out. Kingsley hit the point after to make it 14-10.

The Marauders were not able to mount an attack and were forced to punt to St. Johns on each of the next two possessions. Starting on their own 18-yard-line, late in the third quarter, the Redwings connected on the game's biggest play. Quarterback Scott Palmer found Bruce Fedewa all alone behind the coverage and hit him in perfect stride for a 78-yard scoring strike. Kingsley hit his extra point try and with 48 seconds left in the third quarter it was 21-10.

On the second play of the final quarter, Rod Rojas put the game on ice for the Redwings when he intercepted an O-E Pass and went in untouched for a 28-yard touchdown. Kingsley's fourth point after of the evening was perfect and St. Johns had its final margin of 28-10.

Despite holding a 10-0 lead at one point, O-E could only muster 110 yards of total offense. Brad Byrnes led the rushing attack with 43 yards on 11 carries. Troy Ginther caught two passes for 19 yards.

The Redwing offensive effort netted 178 yards with almost half of it coming on the long touchdown pass. Kurt Hayes was the leading rusher with 48 yards in 15 tries. Fedewa and Gary Campbell caught the lone completions for St. Johns.

Defensively, Ryan Ackels had 19 tackles for the Marauders, followed by 13 by Dean Bendt. St. Johns was led by 12 tackles by Fedewa and 10 by Kurt Hayes. The Redwings had four big interceptions, two by Rojas and one apiece for Karber and Campbell.

St. Johns coach Joe Gonzales was pleased with his team's comeback stating, 'We were very pleased to have the kids hang in there the way they did and come back strong after being down 10-0. Again the defense has to be complimented, really they only gave up the field goal.'

The next action for O-E is Friday night at home against DeWitt who sports an identical record to that of the Marauders, 3-4.

St. Johns goes on the road to face Mt. Pleasant, a team that is 2-5, but had played its share of good football, losing a couple of very tough games.

SJ basketball machine rolls on

By Tim Jeffery

Last Tuesday night was billed as the game in which the St. Johns girls' basketball team would finally be tested. The opponents, Ovid-Elsie, entered the game with a perfect record in league play and only two losses on the season. Both of the defeats had come in a tough weekend tournament in Grand Rapids.

Once the action started though, it quickly turned into another Redwing romp. After one quarter it was 20-4 as St. Johns' tough defense continuously denied all-stater Jennifer Litomisky the ball.

Lori Kus, looking more and more like an all-stater in her own right, played a big part in the fast Redwing start. The 6-foot-3 center performed well on both ends of the court, rebounding and scoring.

The St. Johns lead reached 35-19 at the intermission as Litomisky was able to find the mark on a couple of occasions.

Kus was not the whole story for St. Johns as guard Denise Thelen continuously hit from long range and on layups. At the same time, Anne Stafford was steadily putting together a fine all-around ball game.

Sensational sophomore, Sue Pearsall again displayed her superb talents, scoring from both inside and out. The sky appears to be the limit for her as Redwing fans can only ponder what the future holds in store for Pearsall.

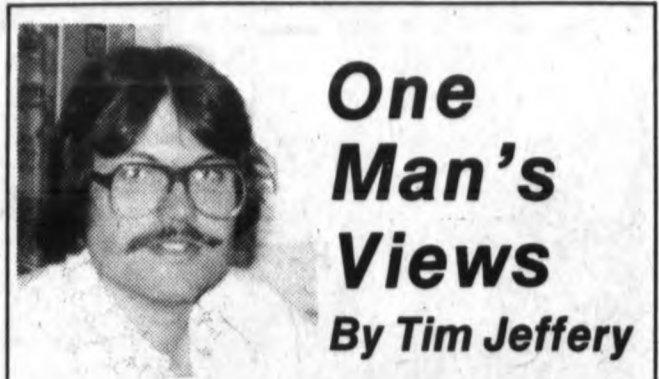

Kim Kloeckner, Sue Howe and Gretchen Banniga were also very instrumental throughout the evening as the second half looked much like the first. When the final buzzer sounded, the scoreboard read 72-38.

Much of O-E's problems could be traced to 25 percent shooting for the contest. Litomisky was tops with 15 points, followed by the Marauder's fine sophomore Shawn Barclay's 10. Lori Len totaled six points, while Vicki Selhke added four.

Brenda Hughes and Tina Woodbury rounded out the O-E scoring with two points and one point respectively. Litomisky led the Marauder rebounders with 14 followed by Len's eight and Barclay's seven.

For St. Johns, Kus finished with 27 points and 20 rebounds. Thelen hit for 16 markers while dishing out

One Man's Views

By Tim Jeffery

Some Sunday night thoughts after a busy sports week. The St. Johns girls' basketball team is nothing short of awesome. They could go all the way...DeWitt's 27-13 loss to Eaton Rapids shows a team with only 22 bodies eventually wears down.

What a shame it is to see a football team like Okemos probably not make the playoffs. Chasing looks as though it will, but who would you like it the two of them were to meet head up?...With all the fine linebackers around the county, Fowler's Lloyd Feldpausch takes the cake when it comes to hitting and being where the football is.

Hopefully everyone was lucky enough to see Tug McGraw's great gesture of patting his heart after Hal McRae's long foul fly in game five's ninth inning. Tug is beautiful...Will Utah and the great Darrell Griffith ever appear on 'The NBA on CBS'? Probably not, but wouldn't it be nice if Boston would've drafted him. We'd see him every week.

Fowler's Melody Sowers deserves great praise for the job she's done with her girls' basketball team...St. Johns quarterback Scott Palmer's 78-yard touchdown pass to Bruce Fedewa was worth 1000 looks for pure beauty, that's not to knock O-E though.

I'm still trying to decide which is the bigger of the two hot dogs, U.L. Washington or Clint Hurdle. They both need more mustard than Detroit's Rickey Peters.... The P-W-Fowler game this Friday will be a dandy. Two great teams, two great coaches and plenty of individual talent.

Don't relievers Dan Quisenberry, Tug McGraw, Rich Gossage and Joe Sambito all seem so much tougher than Tigers' Aurelio Lopez. It must have something to do with the Royals, Phillies, Astros and Yankees making the playoffs, huh?...Even if Bath finishes at 7-2, there will always be that 'should've been' dampening the fine season.

Has any state so dominated sports the way Pennsylvania has throughout the last 10 years? The Pirates, Phillies, Steelers, Eagles, 76ers and Flyers have all won big...Strong wind or not, Jim Chapko's 43-yard field goal to give O-E a 3-0 lead over St. Johns was a tremendous boot.

It's a good thing MSU has Northwestern left on the schedule or else they might end up with a L-10 mark in Muddy's first season...Tell me it isn't true that the Lions will win more games than both the Red Wings and the Pistons, who play 80-82 games respectively.

Fulton crushes Bellevue

By Tim Jeffery

The Fulton football team rolled to its second straight win Friday night at Bellevue and in so doing played its best game of the season. The Pirates churned out 413 yards on the ground and 21 first downs. The hosts were limited to only 19 yards of total offense and two first downs. When the dust had finally cleared Fulton had a one-sided 43-0 win.

Fulton scored on its first possession of the contest by driving 60 yards. Wayne Bond registered the touchdown on a 23-yard run. Scott Winsor kept the ball himself and ran in the conversion to make it 8-0 with 9:31 left in the quarter.

Bond struck paydirt again late in the first quarter, this time on a burst of 3 yards.

The scoring opportunity had been set up when Winsor picked off a Bronco pass. He brought the ball back inside the 5-yard-line, but a clipping penalty moved it all the way back to the 40. Rod Robbe added the two-point conversion following the second touchdown.

At just 1:09 into the second quarter, Bond tacked on his third touchdown by scoring from 2 yards out. The Pirate march covered 65 yards. Mark LaLone completed the first half scoring by adding the conversion run. The teams left with Fulton up 24-0.

Robbe scored the fourth Pirate touchdown with 58 seconds remaining in the third quarter, finishing another long drive. His run was from a yard out. Jeff Waldron booted the extra point to stretch it to 31-0.

Early in the final quarter, Robbe broke off a run of 65 yards and had an apparent touchdown, but a holding penalty wiped out the effort. Then two plays later, Winsor made sure the six would count when he raced 65 yards into the end zone. The Pirates failed on the point after try.

With 6:30 showing on the clock, freshman Steve Moon completed the Fulton onslaught by going in on a run of 9 yards. The play capped a 40-yard drive.

A host of Pirate ball carriers got into the action with Bond leading the way. He totaled 146 yards on 13 carries. Winsor added 104 yards on 10 attempts, followed by Robbe's 66 yards in 12 tries. LaLone picked up 51 more in 10 rushes. Steve Moon had 26 yards with his three carries, with Andy Stephens getting 21 on seven tries and finally freshman Devin Stouff rushing six times for 17 yards.

Defensively, Pirate coach John Wachsmuth labored it a total team effort as Waldron was tops with seven tackles. Fulton picked off three Bronco passes, with two going to Winsor and one to Moon. Stephens was credited with a fumble recovery. Throughout most of the evening, the Fulton defense rested comfortably on the sidelines as the offense marched up and down the field.

P-W defeats Shamrocks to move into second place tie

By Tim Jeffery

The Pewamo-Westphalia football team didn't let down its fans at last Friday night's Homecoming as they jumped out to a 22-0 halftime lead and went on to record win number six in seven tries by a score of 28-7 over Portland St. Patrick. The victory sets up a big meeting this week between arch rivals P-W and Fowler, both with 6-1 records.

The explosive ground game was again the story for the Pirates as they racked up 259 yards compared to 108 for St. Pat's. P-W quarterback Mike Pohl threw for 65 more yards to give his team 324 total yards.

As has been the case throughout most of the year, the first quarter was a big one for Mike Folk's ball club. After failing to move on the initial series, the Shamrocks lined up to punt. With a gusting wind blowing into his face, the PSP punter hit the ball straight up into the air and actually had it blow backwards for a minus 10 yards.

P-W took over on the 18-yard-line and scored in five plays. Brian Pfaff scored on a run of five yards and then added the extra point conversion on a run.

With the defense doing a fine job of shutting down the Shamrocks, P-W's offense extended the lead to 14-0 late in the opening quarter. This time it was Kevin Fedewa scoring on a 3-yard run, finishing a 60-yard drive in 10 plays. The big play in the march was a 17-yard Pohl to Pfaff pass completion.

The Pirates added one more before halftime on a 1-yard run by Pohl. The score came late in the quarter and capped a lengthy drive. Pohl kept the ball on an option to make good on the two-point conversion, upping the lead to 22-0.

Fedewa stole the show at halftime by being named the Homecoming King. Then to show he was a king on the football field he grabbed the second half kickoff and raced 95 yards for a touchdown. The point after attempt failed, leaving it at 28-0. Later in the same quarter Fedewa had a 57-yard run called back because of a clipping penalty.

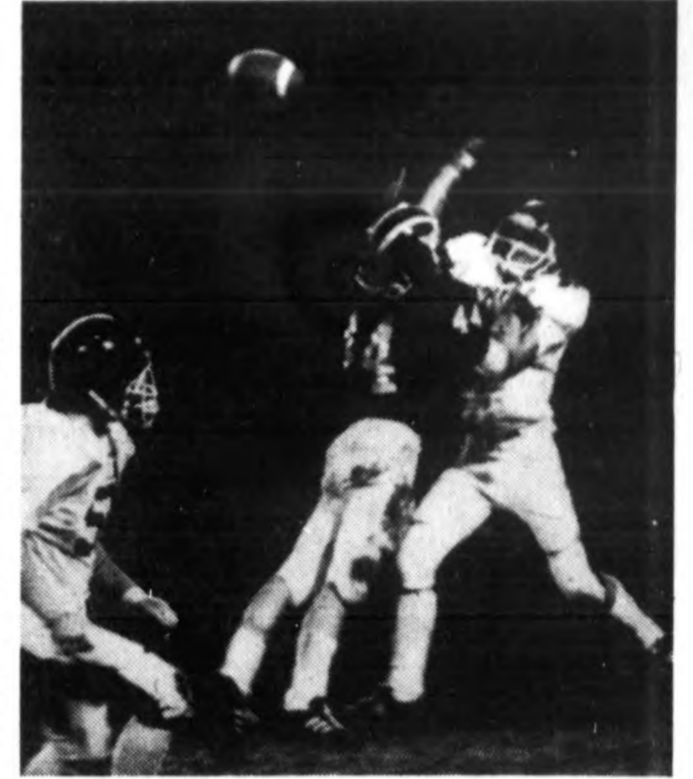

The Shamrocks recorded their lone score of the contest with just three seconds left in the third quarter, when Kurt Simon picked up a P-W fumble on the 9-yard-line and rambled into the end zone. Ken Kramer ran in the two-point conversion to complete the scoring.

Fedewa carried the ball 16 times for 105 yards while teammate Dean Schafer picked up 100 yards on 14 tries. Dar Hengesbach was the leading receiver for the Pirates with two grabs for 31 yards. Pfaff and Dave Rademacher had the other two catches.

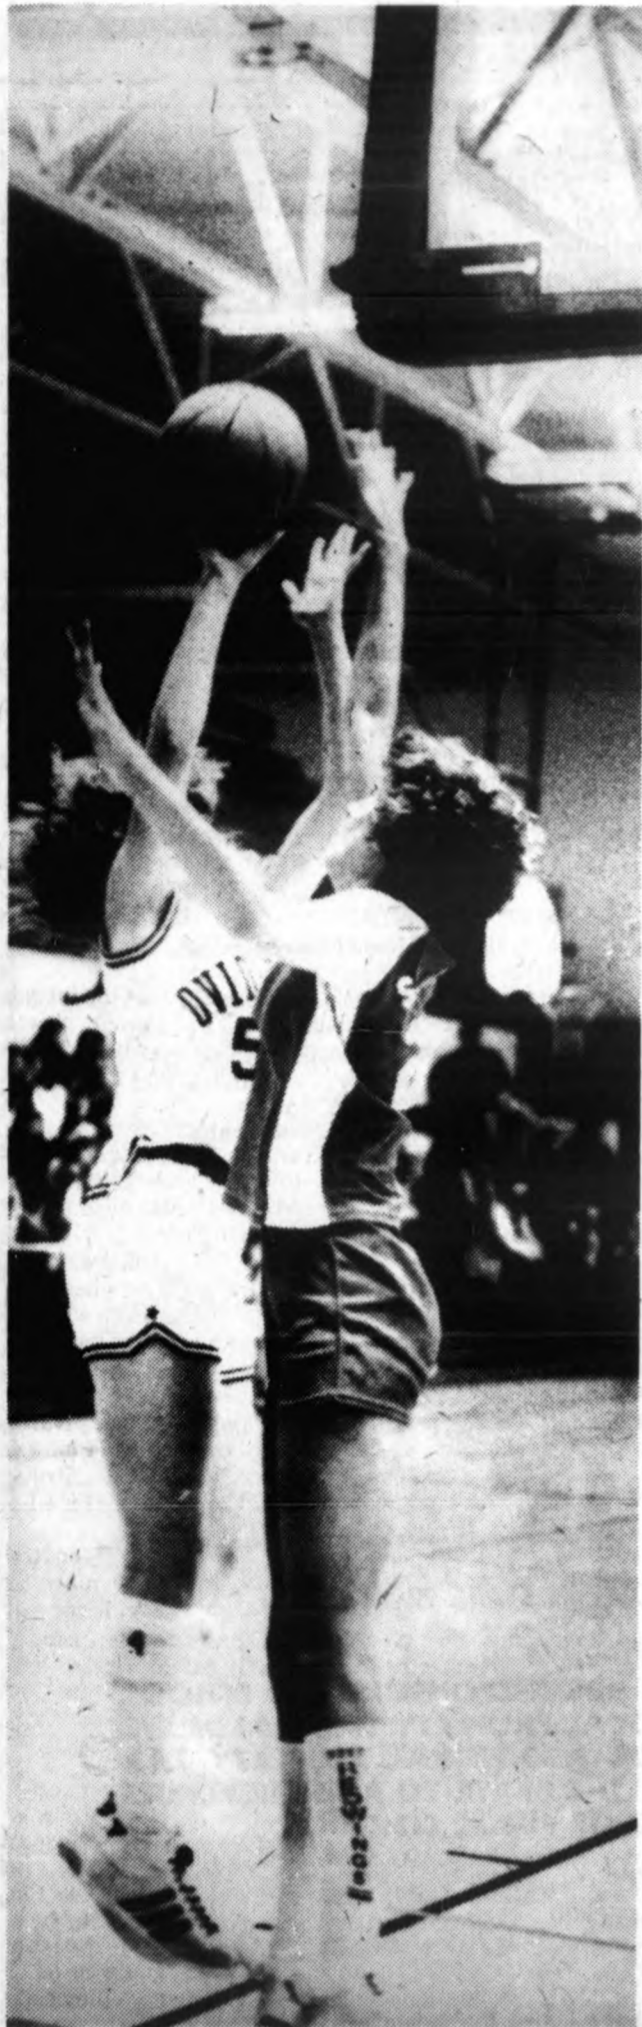

John Nurenberg and Kurt Schafer were the leading tacklers with 11 apiece. Dave Smith had eight stops and a pair of fumble recoveries, while Chris Thelen had seven tackles, a fumble recovery, an interception and a steal of a St. Pat's pitchout on an option. Terry Thelen was also credited with an interception.

Now the Pirates look to Friday's encounter with Fowler for what appears to be second place in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference. Folk had this to say about the fierce rivalry. "When these two schools play, they are always after each other. The problem for us is just keeping the kids from getting too fired up, so that they keep thinking all the time."

It isn't necessary to add to Folk's comments other than to say both clubs will come out banging.

P-W's Kurt Schafer (44) shows why he rates with the best of the area's linebackers as he breaks up this St. Patrick passing attempt in Friday's 28-7 P-W victory. (Photo by Chris Thelen)

Fowler suffers first loss

By Tim Jeffery

The Olivet football team has been highly touted all season long, what with its superb talent and speed, therefore the 22-0 win over Fowler Friday night certainly didn't hurt the victor's fine image. Actually, the score was somewhat misleading as two of the touchdowns came in the game's final eight minutes.

As is often the case when a pair of excellent ball clubs lock horns, the contest was one with plenty of hard-hitting, yet was almost error free. The teams were penalized only a total of 35 yards and the game had just two turnovers. Unfortunately, both of the miscues belonged to Fowler.

The first touchdown of the evening came with 20 seconds left in the opening quarter. After driving 60 yards, Brian Williamson scored on a 1-yard run to complete the march.

"They just kept coming up with the key play in that drive, picking up first downs on a third and long and on a fourth and six," Fowler coach Steve Spicer recalled.

The Eagles threatened to tie the score later in the half, by piecing together an impressive drive. Eventually reaching the Olivet 11-yard-line with a first down, a Luke Hufnagel pass was then intercepted by Todd Page on the three. Having been lifted by what would prove to be the game's biggest defensive play, the visitors were able to maintain the 6-0 lead until the half.

Fowler made another bid to knot the score on its initial series of the second half. This time the Eagles had a drive, take them to a first down at the Olivet 8-yard-line. Then after reaching the four, a holding penalty backed the hosts up 15 yards and allowed the defense to thwart off the scoring opportunity.

With both teams still battling it out tooth and nail, Olivet broke it open four minutes into the final quarter. Following a short Fowler punt which gave them a first down just 35 yards from a touchdown, the visiting Eagles drove in for the clincher. Jeff Oberlin scored on a run of 5 yards which was followed up by quarterback Gary Morrison's keeper for the two-point conversion.

Faced with a situation where they had to throw, the hosts were stopped on the next drive by Page's second interception of the game. Olivet then added frosting to the win by going 46 yards for the final touchdown. Williamson got the touchdown on a 5-yard run. He capped his fine evening by going in on the two-point conversion.

Noseguard Dave Taylor missed the ball game for Fowler because of an accident earlier in the week in which he suffered a 25-stitch cut. He absence did leave a gap that proved tough to fill, but Spicer wasn't about to make excuses. "Losing Taylor hurt, but they made the big play and that was really the difference. I thought it was a well played ball game by both teams and one that was very clean," the coach said.

Tom Weber led Fowler's ground game with 50 yards on 15 carries. He also had the lone Eagle pass reception of the evening, good for 39 yards.

Lloyd Feldpausch was tops with 18 tackles as he continued to play superb football. Steve Thelen was second with 14 stops.

Olivet outgained Fowler 190-93 on the ground with Williamson leading the way, totaling 73 yards on 11 rushes. Morrison threw for just 31 yards for the visitors.

The annual Fowler-Pewamo-Westphalia clash takes place at Fowler Friday night. Both teams are 6-1 and will be battling for sole possession of second place.

NOTICE PUBLIC HEARING VILLAGE OF WESTPHALIA

A public hearing will be held Monday, Nov. 10, 1980; 8:00 p.m. to discuss amending Ordinance No. 124 relating to the requirement of pavement and concrete curb and gutter.

Phyllis M. Myers
Village Clerk

Following is the third in a series of open letters to voters of the 10th Congressional District written personally by 10th Congressional District Republican Candidate State Senator Dick Allen.

The Economy

I indicated in the first of these columns two weeks ago that I would lay out my proposals for solving our current economic problems. I believe that candidates for Congress have an obligation to lay out their solutions to these problems. And I remain convinced that the blame for our current economic woes rests squarely at the feet of a Democratic Congress that mistakenly believes that more spending and high taxes can solve our problems.

Here's what we must do if we are going to bring an end to our economic downturn — a downturn that has resulted in an 18% inflation rate, double-digit interest rates, and unemployment in the Tenth District over 15%.

First, we need to balance the budget by spending cuts rather than new taxes. There has been a lot of talk about the need for a balanced budget among the Democrats in Washington; talk, but no action.

Secondly, I believe we can encourage investment in America through programs designed to encourage savings. I am convinced, for example, that we need to eliminate all income taxes on interest earned from savings accounts. I also believe that we need reform of our inheritance tax system — a system that often encourages the closing of family-run businesses upon the death of one of the family members.

Thirdly, I support reform of the nation's regulatory system to get government off the backs of the businessman.

And finally, I am convinced that we desperately need a system of indexing both personal income taxes and capital gains taxes. Our present tax structure amounts to little more than legislated inflation. Under our present system, when an individual's income goes up, he moves into a new tax bracket that takes a greater share of his income for taxes. That system forces taxes up so much that in the last three years, the federal government's tax bite on the American taxpayer has risen from 18 to 21 percent.

A system of tax indexing would end the benefit the federal government derives from inflation. These proposals represent a marked departure from the primrose path which the present Congress has led us down. They are proposals designed to encourage investment and productivity in America.

The simple truth is that our free enterprise system has not failed US; rather, the Congress has failed IT. A new Congress — and a new Tenth District Congressman — can make a difference.

Student commended

FOWLER—James Andros, Fowler High School principal, announced that Dennis Schmitz is being commended for his outstanding performance in the 26th annual (1981) National Merit Scholarship Program.

More than one million students entered the 1981 Merit Program by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in 1979. About 33,000 of these students throughout the United States will receive a commendation for outstanding test performance. Commended students rank below the level required for Merit Program Semifinalists—the only participants who will continue in the 1981 competition for Merit Scholarships. Nonetheless, commended students have shown exceptional academic promise by scoring among the top five percent of merit program participants.

Fowler students celebrate bounty

FOWLER—Holy Trinity School's fourth graders celebrated the plentiful bounty of their state Friday with a Michigan breakfast.

The students ate products grown and raised in this area. They chose Michigan apple cider, venison sausage, and scrambled eggs. Many of the students brought the food from farms around the Fowler area.

Parents were very generous. They supplied most of the eggs, sausage, and bread and when food wasn't supplied, a donation was contributed.
