Auto Owners lawsuit settled

St. Johns

In a settlement reached late Tuesday evening, April 29, in the courtroom of Circuit Judge Randy L. Tahvonen, all claims between Bruce Grubaugh, the City of St. Johns and Auto Owners Insurance Co. arising out of a March, 1961 automobile accident which left Grubaugh permanently blind, had been paid or dismissed.

As part of the settlement agreement, Auto Owners will pay Mr. and Mrs. Grugaugh approximately $250,000 which remains due them as part of the $345,000 jury verdict returned against the City on April 29, 1976.

A significant portion of this payment to the Grubaughs will, in turn, be paid to the city to offset interest, attorney fees and expenses associated with the lawsuit.

This quarter-million dollar settlement brings to an end 17 years of litigation springing from the accident.

A second lawsuit by the city against Auto Owners for claimed bad faith in failing to settle the original Grubaugh case was dismissed by Judge Tahvonen. Although that case was scheduled for trial this week, no decision on the merits of the case was made in light of settlement on the original accident case.

The city commissioners and their attorney, John Cote of East Lansing, expressed satisfaction with the settlement and reduction in anticipated city taxes for 1980.

Auto Owners Insurance Company and its attorney, Terrence Lynch of Farmington Hills, agreed that settlement was in the mutual interest of the parties and benefitted both the company and the residents of St. Johns.

Subsidized housing not substandard housing

By Patrice Hornak
Editor

St. Johns

The term "subsidized housing" often brings with it connotations of substandard housing where low-income residents live.

Concern that the proposed 120-unit subsidized apartment complex in St. Johns would follow the norm has been put to rest in the mind of at least one St. Johns city commissioner who recently toured apartment complexes owned by the developer, Oxford Development Inc. of Okemos.

"If we're going to have subsidized housing, I'm glad to have these people," said Commissioner Don Roesner last week.

He and five other St. Johns residents including the city manager, city assessor, City Commissioner John Hannah, and members of the board of appeals and planning commissions toured Oxford Development apartments in Charlotte and Lansing two weeks ago.

To qualify for the proposed St. Johns apartments, one of the family members will be required to be "gainfully employed." A family of four will be able to earn up to $14,700 to qualify for a federal subsidy.

Expected monthly rent of a one-bedroom apartment will be about $330 and a two-bedroom unit will cost about $456 monthly. There will be one-bedroom, two-bedroom and three-bedroom units for rent.

Roesner said a lot of people in St. Johns would qualify for a government subsidy under the $14,700 income cap. Because the need is expected to be great, the Oxford Group will not be advertising for tenants outside the community, said Roesner.

"It's not going to be subsidized housing like in the big city," Roesner said. He said many of those projects are government operated or the developers are "in it for the bucks."

Rent increases have senior citizens worried

By Patrice Hornak
Editor

Clinton County

Senior citizen tenants of the Fedewa senior citizen apartment complexes in Clinton County recently received letters that their rent may possibly be increased if the Farmers Home Administration grants the increases. Area seniors are concerned.

Fedewa Enterprises owns and operates three senior citizen complexes in Clinton County—in St. Johns, Fowler and DeWitt. Rent in St. Johns will go from $139 monthly to $199 under the proposed rent increase. DeWitt's present $149 monthly rent will be increased to $199 and Fowler's $143 monthly rent will also rise to $199 if approved by the FHA.

Crystal Maneval, property management for the three senior citizen apartment complexes, said her firm is seeking the increases due to a rise in real estate taxes, operating expenses and energy costs.

Though the seniors pay their own utilities, there are energy costs associated with outdoor lighting and the community rooms and laundry facilities.

Not all tenants will be affected by the increases, if they are granted. Those receiving rental assistance will not have to pay extra rental fees since their rent is subsidized by the government.

Homeowners to get about $25 each

St. Johns

The St. Johns City Commission voted unanimously at a special meeting May 5 to return all excess proceeds from the City vs. Auto Owners settlement to the taxpayers.

The settlement of this lawsuit which originated from the Grubaugh vs. City litigation brings to a close 19 years of legal activity.

The commission estimated that after the balance of the judgment is paid from the quarter of a million dollar settlement to the Grubaughs, $66,500 will be available for rebate to the 1979 summer taxpayers.

Officials stated that this represents a return of an approximate 30 cents for each $1 paid in and the average homeowner will therefore receive an estimated $25 check in approximately six weeks. The $25 rebate is calculated on a $20,000 assessed value home. Refunds will be proportionate to the assessed value from which the judgment levy was made.

Further, there is therefore no necessity to levy any additional millage for the judgment balance this summer. The anticipated levy prior to settlement had been 3.4 mills. The total summer levy is predicted to be 17.4 mills as opposed to the 22.05 mills levied a year ago.

In taking this action, the commission chose to have the city's general fund absorb all legal expenses and costs, totaling nearly $50,000.

Fund drive begins for Drop-in Center

St. Johns

Fund raising is underway to raise $20,000 for the Senior Citizen Drop-in Center to help finance the purchase and renovation of a new building in downtown St. Johns.

A team of people is asking help from businesses and individuals for any amount, according to information released by the Center Director Fred Rewerts. Donations ranging from $1,200 to $2 have already been received.

The Center has a good record for community support. Since it opened a little more than a year ago, $5,000 has been raised for operation. Fund raisers, dances, bake sales, raffles and donations have maintained the Center in the rented building. Kiwanis, Jaycees, Jaycettes, Rotary, and Rodney

B. Wilson Junior High are all contributors.

The Center Board took action the end of March to purchase the new building, the former Heathman paint store across the street from the rented building, for $26,000. It was estimated that $20,000 would be needed for renovation to meet safety and health codes for barrier free access. Volunteer labor has speeded up the renovation and the completion date has been moved to June 1, two months ahead of schedule, making a need for funds necessary right now.

While funds for the director's position come from the Tri-County Office on Aging, that is the only outside money available for the center. All other expenses—rent, utilities and insurance—come from the seniors themselves.

Current participation at the center has grown from 12 persons to 500.

CMH sets May 8 for annual meeting

St. Johns

Election of officers and a report on the financial status of Clinton Memorial Hospital will highlight the annual meeting of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Association on Thursday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the dining room of the hospital.

Association treasurer, Dyle Henning, will report that a recently completed audit of the hospital's records for the year 1979 showed the hospital to be in good financial condition.

The hospital's financial statement shows an excess of revenues over expenses of $191,541 for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1979. This equates to a margin of 5.4 percent which is available for reinvestment in facilities to provide good medical care for the community.

During 1979, 2,580 patients were admitted to the hospital. This was an increase of 15 percent over the 1978 level. In addition, 194 births were recorded during 1979, again a 15 percent increase over the previous year. Emergency room services increased with expanded physician coverage.

Total capital expenditures for 1979 were $319,568, compared to $201,432 for fiscal year 1978.

★ ISD millage

When asked why he felt the Pewamo-Westphalia voters said yes to the request, Larry Schwartzkopf, intermediate superintendent, said he really had no explanation, though P-W Superintendent Roy Thelen had predicted the vote in his district would be close.

The defeat of the millage request means the six local school districts will have to pay their own share of their special education costs.

Additionally, the intermediate will not be able to receive $148,000 from the state it would have received if the millage request would have been approved. Local districts don't qualify for this funding.

Schwartzkopf said the local districts will probably have to levy at least one mill to cover their additional special education costs.

In retrospect, he said he was not surprised by the millage defeat, though he did have a little ray of hope it would have passed.

"Voters have had enough property taxes. They want a change," said Schwartzkopf. He felt the millage turnaround wasn't a vote against special education funding, but rather a way taxpayers could say no to additional property taxes.

Government spending does not require a vote by the people, but when a millage vote is put before the people, they use it to tell their legislators that, "Enough is enough on property taxes," said Schwartzkopf.

"They have a sound argument," he said. "There has to be a change."

Under state regulation, there cannot be cuts in special education programs and the local schools can't cut special education programs either.

If finances are tight in a school district, Schwartzkopf reasoned that the school district will be forced to make cuts in other programs in order to pay for the special education costs.

When asked if the intermediate district would ask the voters again to approve the one mill for special education purposes, Schwartzkopf said he didn't foresee another election. That decision lies with the intermediate board of education.

Bikers raise $200 for CF

Police, fire millage up for renewal

By Sue Kiley White
Staff Writer

DeWitt Township

A two-mill renewal request, one each for the police and fire departments in DeWitt Township will be on the May 20 ballot. This is a renewal request to be able to operate the two departments under the same level of services as in the past.

According to Eileen Corr, township treasurer, extra money has always been asked for to help run the departments.

Marge Graham, publicity chairperson of the township group called FACTS explained what the renewal would mean.

"One mill in DeWitt Township means about $60,000," she said. "However, there are 16 different tax rates in DeWitt Township because of the different school district combinations."

Mrs. Graham explained that of an average township tax dollar, 14 cents goes to the township, 10 cents goes to the county, and 76 cents goes to the school district.

Broken down this means if a township resident owned a home valued at $15,000 it would cost $9.48 a year each for the police and fire millage renewal for three years. This means 79 cents each per month or two and one-half cents a day each.

On a $60,000 home this means the millage would cost $37.95 each per year or $3.16 each per month or 10 cents each per day.

"We based these figures on the highest they could possibly be," Mrs. Graham said. "It might end up being lower when we find out about the rollbacks."

Signs, posters and door to door canvassing will be conducted by off duty members of the police and fire departments along with concerned citizens.

Gus Wilcox, chairman of the FACTS committee called the effort, "a monumental task."

Chamber music discussed

St. Johns

Mrs. Kenneth Jones was hostess for the April 16th meeting of the St. Johns Morning Musicales. After the business meeting, conducted by the club president, Carolyn Campbell, Ann Holm, program chairman of the day, introduced Dorothy Lawrence, narrator, who explained the characteristics of what is known as chamber music. It was written for small groups of instrumentalists to be performed in the halls of palaces of the aristocracy. Much music of this type was composed in the early eighteenth century. Most chamber music is polyphonic in structure, having two or more melodic lines, each with a rhythmic life of its own. To enjoy this music to the fullest, one should listen for the separate strands of melody.

Ann Holm introduced Brian Arnold, music instructor who brought two string quartettes to play for the club. The seventh grade quartette consisted of Lisa Vitek, Brenda VanTassel, Bob Sabo, and Scott Tarnosky. They played "Air No. 4" from Handel's "Water Music". Bill Tennant, Jr., Tony Garcia, Cheryl Summer and Teresa Glowacki made up the quartette of eighth graders. They played "Allegro", by Karl Stamitz, and a modern composition, "Cake Walk", by Norman Leyden.

The next meeting of the club will be a co-operative dinner at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, May 9 (members note change of date) at the First Congregational Church.

May 4 to May 10 has been designated "National Music Week" by the National Federation of Music Clubs, of which the St. Johns Morning Musicales is a member. Jean Woodbury and Maxine Parmelee are the committee for observance of National Music Week, this year.

CHIROPRACTIC'S ANSWER TO THE DRUG MENACE

Want to get drugs off the streets and away from your kids? The answer may be simpler than you think. Get them out of your medicine cabinet!

Psychologists claim we retain 60% of what we read, 90% of what we see, 95% of what we do, and FORGET 95% of all we HEAR. That explains why children do more of what their parents do and little of what we say. When your child sees you taking pills or getting shots because you feel bad, he or she simply learns that's what you do to get feeling better. Pushed or prescribed has no meaning to a young mind.

The notion that there's a "PILL FOR EVERY ILL, AND A POTION FOR EVERY EMOTION" can well lead to the destruction of society as we know it-- if we don't soon change our direction! Now, I'm not a prophet of doom because I know there's an answer. Thousands of times every day, all across this country, people are finding answers to their health problems thru CHIROPRACTIC.

This is the world's fastest growing drugless and completely natural healing ART. Rather than try to eliminate disease with drugs and surgery, the CHIROPRACTOR works with your body's own defense mechanisms to keep you healthy naturally..

The procedure is simple, basic, and only takes a few minutes to administer. No drugs, no surgery, just good common sense.

St Johns craftsman builds for job and hobby

Dandy Randy's

Donuts at Dandy Randy's Donut shop cost $10 apiece. A glass of Kool-Aid costs an additional $10. Shop owner Randy Antes said he's made more than $600 in his business venture — thanks to the make-believe highly inflated society in Randy's classroom at Waldron Middle School. Dan Bowen is a carpenter by trade and a carpenter by hobby. After working all day building for a living it is not unusual for him to spend all evening building out of love. He's really much more than a carpenter. He's a fine craftsman, a maker of beautiful furniture. The talent comes from somewhere deep in his genes. Woodworking is a natural part of him and other members of his family.

In Dan's own home workshop in his basement on McConnell Street, St. Johns is his great-grandfather's tool box and he is still using some of his tools today. He said he has "a pretty extraordinary shop," explaining that most of his tools were purchased when he worked as a finish carpenter in Indiana. "Now they are an extravagance. I don't use them for work anymore," he said, "my employer furnishes all the tools we use."

His home workshop remains busy however. Last week he delivered a rolltop desk to a lawyer in Mt. Pleasant who ordered it more than a year ago. The large oak piece contains $750 worth of lumber. Thirty-three pieces of wood make the roll.

Dan said, the end of the project on the large desk was the most fun "because it finally looked like a roll top." It was his first desk but he already has plans to build another one for himself. "In fact I hated to let it go," he said.

The owner however, was a frequent visitor as the project developed and was waiting for it to fill a special spot in his office.

Dan got the custom job after his customer saw items he entered in a Mt. Pleasant art fair which included a cradle and a reproduction oak night stand.

Dan and his wife, Cathy, who teaches at Eureka Elementary, both like antiques. The cradle was made from a pattern taken from one built in 1850. Many of the things Dan would like to build are reproductions of fine old furniture. He has a file of patterns and historic design books in his workshop but "not half as many as I would like to own," he said.

Dan keeps more than one project going at a time. He's building a plank table of light cottonwood (cut at an uncle's farm) and is also putting together a small hutch for his mother-in-law.

Now that the oak roll top has been delivered, it's time to be starting another large project. "I enjoy myself down there," Dan said.

Fowler mini-societies teach lessons in life

By Patrice Hornak

Fowler

There are two entirely different societies existing in Mrs. Janet Bird's seventh grade math classes at Waldron Middle School. One is the Wild Kingdom and the other is Eagle Country.

Eagle Country was a highly inflated economy. For example, one student needed a quart of water to make Kool-Aid and donut shop. He had to pay the school principal $40 for that quart of water.

In the other society, Wild Kingdom, prices are a little more reasonable. The owner of the junk yard rents the wastepaper basket from his teacher and charges only 50 cents for fellow students to throw away their trash.

The idea for creating two societies came in a four-day workshop Mrs. Bird attended. The workshop was sponsored by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and Wayne State University. In each classroom, students "earn money" by turning in assignments, displaying good behavior and doing their homework. At the end of the week, the paymaster gives them a weekly check.

Each class had to decide how much their "services" were worth. In Eagle Country, students get paid between $350 and $400 a week. In the Wild Kingdom, weekly paychecks are about $50.

With the money they earned by doing their homework and such, students were able to establish businesses.

"To get a business, they must have money. To get money, they must have good behavior, turn in their homework," said Mrs. Bird.

Starting a business from scratch took capital to purchase goods. "The success of the program depended a lot on the cooperation of the parents," Mrs. Bird said.

Students were to make deals with their parents for the purchase of goods such as gum or candy to be sold at their stores. The kids could either agree to work off the cost of the merchandise or they could give their parents part of the profits. Tuesday night during open house, parents were invited to visit the mini-societies and use their cash given in exchange for the goods to buy something in Wild Kingdom or Eagle Country.

In the mini-societies they could find a disco, a bakery, a discount store, a police department, lawyer's office, a popcorn stand, a junk yard, a lottery, a bank and a rock candy store, to mention a few businesses.

Besides teaching students how to set up a business, Mrs. Bird also stressed math skills like computing profit and loss margins and interest rates. Since the mini-societies were held once a week during math classes, students got to put their math skills to practical use.

Another valuable lesson learned in forming a society was the need to have a government, a police station and taxes.

As Mrs. Bird explained, somebody stole a piece of candy in jest. At the end of the mini-society session that day, in debriefing, students discussed what should be done with the offender. It was decided to form a police department to handle such offenses.

Students decided how much the policeman should be paid and where the funds would come from.

In like manner, a government was needed. Students campaigned for president, vice president and secretary. (They already had a treasurer.) The government in Eagle Country decided they would assess everyone $14.

"The society only gets as complicated as the kids want it to become," Mrs. Bird said.

Debriefing sessions are terribly important to running this program, Mrs. Bird said. Students can work out problems during the debriefing. They can talk over needs. They can assess where their society is going.

Why do the students like their mini-societies so much?

Some of their answers were: We get to spend money. There's no homework. It's cheaper than in real life. We have more responsibilities. Parents don't tell us what to buy. We get to know adult problems.

TOP 10-TEAM FIELD

Eagles first at Invite

Fowler
The Eagles topped a 10-team field Saturday at the Pottsville Invitational winning with a total of 69 points over their nearest competitor, Laingsburg who finished with 55 1/2.

In the process three school records fell. Two in the hurdle events and one in the mile relay.

Dave Koenigsnecht captured both the 120 yard high hurdles and the 330 yard low hurdle event in record setting times. In the high hurdle event he finished in 15.3 seconds and in the lows he ran a 41.7. Koenigsnecht was also first in the long jump, leaping 19 feet 8 inches.

The relay team of Luke Hufnagel, Tim Luttig, Jeff Thelen and Neil Hufnagel put their names in the records book with a 3:37.4 time. The old record was 3:37.8. They were second in the meet. Fowler's 880 team was first and the 440 team was second.

Other scoring came from Dick Schotter, third in the shotput, with a heave of 43 feet 7 inches; Neil Hufnagel, second in the long jump and first in the high jump, clearing 6 feet 4, while Dave Koenigsnecht was second in the high jump, also at 6 feet 4 inches, Hufnagel was fourth in the 330 low hurdles.

Koenigsnecht ran the opening leg of the winning 880 relay team along with Luke Hufnagel, Doug Knoenigsnecht and Terry Thelen. Doug Koenigsnecht was first in the 100 yard dash in a time of 10.4 seconds.

Dennis Thelen, who ran well in the mile run, was just one second off the school mark in that event and finished sixth, one place away from scoring points.

In the 220 yard dash, Luke Hufnagel was third and Terry Thelen was fourth. Terry was also fifth in the 100 yard dash. Dale Feldpausch was fourth in the 880 yard run to round out the Fowler scoring.

Fowler dominated the competition in a double dual meet against Pottsville and Portland St. Pats. last week, beating Pottsville 87-36 and St. Pats., 115-4. Fowler lost to Ovid-Elsie last week 71-61.

Highlights of the double-dual included 12 first place finishes and a sweep in the high jump, 100 yard dash and in the low hurdles. Each of the relay teams won their events also.

Fowler nine chase P-W

After tipping Bellevue 8-7 last week, Fowler stayed within half a game of league leading Pewamo-Westphalia with a victory over Pottsville on Monday night, 6-5.

Tom Weber, who went three-for-four on the night at the plate, was the winning pitcher and Bob Stanfield took the loss.

Lloyd Feldpausch singled to start the first inning and scored later on a single by Weber. Steve Schneider singled home Weber to make it 2-0 after one inning. Fowler also got lone runs in the second and fourth innings to go up 4-0.

After Doug Cook doubled in the second, Lloyd Feldpausch singled him home. Cook singled in the fourth and Steve George sent him home later in the inning.

Pottsville got on the scoreboard in the sixth, but not before Fowler got two more runs on a two out walk to Feldpausch, a triple by George and a single by Weber.

Fowler got a scare from Pottsville in the bottom of the seventh inning, finally getting the last out with the bases loaded.

Fowler has a double header with Fulton scheduled for Thursday and they hope to raise their 5-3 overall mark.

Volley

Bruce Fedewa, the number one singles player for St. Johns, defeated Jerry Adams of Ionia last Thursday, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. It took some well-placed shots and a lot of concentration, but Fedewa's win paid off. The Redwings won the meet, 4-3. The victory gave St. Johns an impressive 7-1 season record. (Photos by Patrice Hornak)

Redwing netters stop Waverly, Ionia

The Redwing netters continued something of a hot streak as they topped Lansing Waverly by a 7-0 score and nipped league rival Ionia, 4-3 Thursday afternoon. The wins gave St. Johns a 7-1 mark overall and they are now 5-3 in the conference.

Against Ionia, Bruce Fedewa continued to play well, winning a tight match in three sets over Jerry Adams. The scores were 6-2, 3-6 and 6-4.

"Bruce played a very good match," said Coach Al Werbish. "He never gave up on himself."

Chuck Coleman improved his own personal record to 9-4 with his win over Phil Reglin, 4-6, 6-1 and 6-3.

The doubles teams of Banninga and Musolf and Warren and Bensinger also topped their opponents in straight sets.

"Garth and Jeff played well and it boosted their record to 5-1," said Werbish.

"What I especially like is that we are beginning to really believe in ourselves as a team and that's very important. It's hard to lose when you believe in yourself."

St. Johns thinclads 3rd at Mason meet

St. Johns
Making their first appearance at the Mason Invitational Track Meet, held Saturday, May 3, the Redwings scored 71 team points, good for a respectable third place behind Holt and host Mason.

The competition seemed to bring the best out of several St. Johns performers, as the team set three new school records and shattered two meet and track records.

New school standards were set by Jerry Peters in the mile run; the Redwings 440 relay team and the mile relay team. Meet and track marks fell in the hurdle events, where Jeff Howe lowered both previous times. Peters was sixth in the mile, but his time of 4:35.6 was a winner so far as St. Johns high school marks go. He was just three seconds shy of another mark in the two-mile with a 10:05 clocking.

About two-thirds of America's 79 million housing units — houses, apartments, house trailers, or wherever else people live the year round—have been built since 1940, about 12.5 million of them in the last 10 years. The average age of a housing unit is about 20 years.

The 440 yard relay team of Bob Sutherland, Ruben Martinez, Marty Martinez and Greg Fox ran a 45.7 lap. The old mark was 46 seconds flat. Fox ran the anchor leg of the mile relay also. Dan Matson, Sutherland and Ruben Martinez joined him to set the new school record time of 3:33.7.

St. Johns' 880 relay team captured first place, but did not set any records in so doing. Sutherland carried the baton first, followed by Howe, Marty Martinez and Fox ran anchor.

Howe topped Holt's Wayne Coats in the high jump with a leap of 6 foot 6 inches to win first place.

Other scoring in the Mason Invitational came from Dan Matson, third in the 440 dash with a time of 52.5; Paul Pioszak, sixth in the two-mile behind Peters; Cal Winsor, sixth in the pole vault, clearing 11 feet 6 and Bob Sutherland, who was second in the long jump at 20 feet 4 inches.

Tuesday, April 29, St. Johns ran against Alma and lost by ten points, 71-61. The Redwings had nine first place finishes to just seven for Alma. It was the Alma depth that gave them the win.

Jerry Peters was first in the mile and two-mile; Jeff Howe took honors in the high jump and both hurdle events; Dan Matson captured both the quarter and half-mile runs and Bruce Szarka won the discus. The mile relay team of Matson, Fox, Ruben and Marty Martinez were also first.

Scoring for the 10-team Mason Invitational: Holt-142; Mason-114; St. Johns-71; Okemos-43; Jackson County Western-40½; Pinckney-30; Chelsea-23; Eaton Rapids-11; Haslett-9½ and Jackson Northwest-9 points.

St. Johns faces Ionia Wednesday, before Monday's Clinton County Tournament.

Marauders lose

Ovid-Elsie

The Ovid-Elsie boys' and girls' track teams suffered losses to Chesaning's thinclads on Wednesday, April 30. The boys' team lost 95-37, although the girls were defeated by the narrowest of margins, 62-61.

The girls took eight first place finishes to seven for Chesaning. But Chesaning's depth in the majority of events spelled the difference.

In the field events, OE team members took first place in all four events. Collee Reha was first in the shotput with a heave of 30 feet 7½ inches. Theresa Batora's toss of 110 feet 1 inch in the discus was good for first as well. Jen Litomisky and Jodie Hehrer captured the top spots in the high jump and long jump. Litomisky cleared 5 feet 6 and Hehrer leaped 15 feet three-quarters inch.

Robin Parker won both hurdle events and both the mile and half mile relay teams won their events. The mile team of Brenda Hughes, Angie Elder, Jen Litomisky and Jodie Hehrer combined for a winning time of 4:15.8. The 880 team was timed in 1:51.5 and its members include Hehrer, Kathy Parker, Litomisky and Parker.

Jon Torrey and Jeff Winans captured the only individual first places for OE, while the mile relay team of Scott Miller, Kevin Wilson, Mike Shank and Winans were also first.

Miller was second in the low hurdles and Torrey was third in the high hurdles. Winans cleared 12 feet in the pole vault which was good for second place.

Kevin Bloomfield was third in the two-mile, with a time of 10:46.4 and Jack Sovis and Mike Shank also took third places. Sovis was third in the 100 yard dash and Shank in the long jump.

Both the boys and girls teams face Corunna at home, Wednesday, May 7 and the girls travel to Corunna for that school's relays on Friday, May 9.

Redwings record dips to 2-3

The Redwings won one and lost two last week as their softball record dipped to 2-3. They still have at least a mathematical chance for a high finish in the league with five conference games left. St. Johns should surely play the spoiler's role if nothing else.

The Redwings clobbered Ovid-Elsie on Tuesday last week, 17-2 and then lost a pair of games to Chesaning, 7-6 and 11-6.

Brenda Thelen was 3-4 in the OE game and Denise Henning was 2-4. Steph Smith picked up her first win and her first complete game as Tena Woodbury suffered the loss.

St. Johns jumped out to a 3-0 first inning lead and then scored six runs in the second to really put things away.

It was not until the fifth inning that OE could get on the board and by then the 10 run rule was called and the game ended.

In that second inning, the Redwings sent 10 batters to the plate, scored six runs on just one hit and four errors.

Ovid-Elsie scored on two walks and two hits, too little, too late.

St. Johns outit Chesaning in their first game and also took an early lead until Chesaning struck for three runs in the second on a triple by Mary Horny with the bases loaded. St. Johns had an opportunity to win the game in their half of the seventh when Henning raced home from second base on Rhonda Osga's single, but was thrown out at the plate to end the game.

Beth Cowan was 2-4 and Steph Smith, who was also the losing pitcher, was 2-2. Jo Achtabowski was the winner for Chesaning.

Pirates topple St. Pats

Pewamo-Westphalia

The Pirates of Pewamo-Westphalia made it four in a row on Monday, April 28 as they topped Portland St. Pats., 6-1 in Central Michigan Athletic Conference action.

Keith Spitzley went the first six innings and gave up just four hits, walked nine and had four strikeouts to his credit. Chris Thelen pitched the final inning and fanned two batters.

Mike Pohl had two hits for PW and added three RBIs and Thelen had a single but scored three runs.

Andy Schrauben took the loss for the Shamrocks, giving up a total of 11 runs and walking nine.

After both teams exchanged runs in the first inning, PW got on the board again in the third. Tom Droste was hit by a pitch, Thelen singled and Mike Pohl flew out to left. Chris Schneider then walked to load the bases. A wild throw by Schrauben to first base in an effort to throw Dan Thelen out allowed Droste to score.

Scott Simon stepped up to the plate and promptly slapped a single that scored Chris Thelen from third.

Again in the fourth inning the Pirates added runs 4, 5 and 6 on singles by Dave Smith and Tom Droste and a single by Pohl. In between all that, Chris Thelen was safe on an error and the Pirates also pulled off a double-steal to advance runners into scoring position. Droste picked up an RBI in the inning and Pohl had two.

Pohl tallied three RBIs for the afternoon and raised his batting average to a sizzling .500 clip. He also has 11 RBIs on the season.

Fulton-P-W split doubleheader

In a May 1 doubleheader, Fulton and Pewamo-Westphalia traded one run victories, Fulton winning the opener 5-4 and Pewamo-Westphalia coming back to take the nightcap 6-5.

Scott Simon, working in relief of both PW starters, split the games too. Simon gave up the winning run to Fulton in the first game on a bases loaded walk in the seventh. The run broke a 4-4 tie game.

PW picked up two runs in the sixth inning of the second game to salvage the win. Trailing 5-4, PW's Tim Nuremburg was hit by a pitch to start their rally. Dave Smith successfully executed a bunt single and Guy Walters was then safe on a fielder's choice. Tom Droste slapped a single through the infield driving in one run and Walters scored shortly on a pass ball.

The win gave PW a 4-1 league mark, while Fulton evened their record at 2-2.

The line score in the first game was Fulton, five runs on six hits and two errors; while PW had four runs on four hits and committed one error. In the second game, PW scored six runs on seven hits and had three errors; Fulton had five runs on six hits and had two errors.

Fowler fourth

Fowler

The mile and 440 yard teams took firsts and Kat Schmidt won the shotput competition, as Fowler's girls track squad placed fourth in Saturday's Potterville Invitational.

Schmidt also scored points for Fowler in the discus, finishing third with a toss of 96 feet. Becky Klein was second in the 100 yard dash. Klein's time was 11.9 seconds.

The mile relay team won with a time of 4:26 and is composed of Lana Hefner, Sue Farley, Kay Snyder and Becky Klein. Renee Cook teamed with Snyder, Farley and Klein to capture the quarter mile team event in a time of 54.2 seconds.

Grass Lake won the meet, followed by Allendale, Laingsburg and then Fowler. Coach Betsy Smith said she was very pleased with the relay teams. She also said the most exciting event of the day was the efforts put forth by one Grass Lake Runner who almost singlehandedly pushed her team to victory.

"Grass Lake had a runner who competed in the mile, the two-mile, the 880 and the 440," said Smith. "That's incredible enough, but she won all of them except the quarter mile." Smith noted the young lady placed third in that event, to make quite an incredible day.

On Tuesday, April 29, Fowler participated in a double dual with Potterville and Portland St. Pats. Fowler won easily, topping Potterville 81-20 and smothering St. Pats. by a score of 95 to just two points for the Portland runners.

Redwings drop three

Despite jumping out to a quick 3-0 lead in the first game, St. Johns dropped a doubleheader to Chesaning Thursday, May 1, by scores of 15-3 and 5-2.

Kurt Conley opened the scoring with a solo blast in the first inning and Chris Ballinger followed with a two-run shot later in the inning and the Redwings were up 3-0 in their half of the first inning.

Chesaning returned the favor and scored four runs of their own in the bottom of the inning. Their runs came on a homerun with the bases empty, one with one aboard and a single run late in the inning, which put them up 4-3 and they never looked back.

Winning pitcher Steve Birchmeier hit the two-run homer to aid his own cause. He also had a three run homer in the second game. It was this blast that spelled doom for St. Johns in the nightcap, as it broke a 2-2 deadlock in the bottom of the seventh inning giving Chesaning the win.

Chris Ballinger had four hits for the afternoon, including two doubles, a homerun and a single. Rod Rojas took the loss in the second game and Todd Gilroy in the first. Rojas had allowed just four hits going into the seventh inning, when Birchmeier connected for his game-winning homerun.

St. Johns had a three-inning game with Ovid-Elsie called due to rain after three innings last week and it will be made up as a part of a doubleheader later.

Fowler girls pile up runs, win twinbill 36-10, 16-15

Fowler clobbered Laingsburg 36-10 in the opener and then watched their 13-3 lead almost disappear, but they held on to sweep the doubleheader by winning the second game 16-15.

Betsy Weber, Mae Farley and Connie Feldpausch all had home runs in the first game, while Kat Schmidt went three-for-six and Sandy Thelen had six stolen bases in the 26 run victory.

The fourth inning saw Fowler score 13 runs on a combination of walks, singles and a three-run homer by Weber.

In the second game, Schmidt was 4-5, including three singles and a triple. She had four runs-batted-in.

St. Johns scrimmaged Grand Ledge this past weekend.

In contests which saw a number of untested and inexperienced players at unfamiliar positions, the Redwings lost both games by scores of 13-0 and 9-2.

St. Johns is now 2-5 and faces Corunna in a single game affair on Tuesday and plays at home against Alma in a doubleheader on Thursday afternoon.

Mae Farley was 2-3 and she had three RBI's.

Julie Pung picked up in the first game and Diana Klein was the winner of the second.

Schmidt leads the team in hitting with a .666 average. She is a senior and also has four homeruns to lead the team in that category also.

Fowler is now 4-2, both overall and in league play.

Safe!

★ Rent

In Fowler 100 percent of the tenants receive rental assistance. In St. Johns and DeWitt, 40 percent of the tenants receive rental assistance.

For seniors who don't receive a government subsidy, however, the rent increase might cause a pinch.

"Seniors (in St. Johns) are looking at a 43 percent increase in rent and a 14 percent increase in Social Security. That's going to hurt a lot of people," said Brenda Hamilton, Clinton County senior citizen office director.

She is urging seniors living in the apartment complexes to write the FHA, voicing their objections to the proposed increases.

Joyce Skedgell, district loan assistant in the FHA office in Hastings, explained that housing projects financed with FHA loans must obtain permission from the FHA to raise rent fees. Once an application to increase the rent has been received, the FHA has 30 days to review the application and make a determination.

Ms. Skedgell said that three FHA districts are involved in the proposed Fedewa increases. Besides the Clinton County housing units, Fedewa also owns complexes in Portland and Ithaca. Increases are also being proposed in those cities.

Because three FHA districts are involved, the state FHA office is going to make a recommendation to each individual district on the proposed increases. Ms. Skedgell said this is not their district's usual routine.

The 30-day determination period will probably be extended due to the state office's involvement.

Ms. Skedgell said requests to raise rent fees are pretty common, due to the rise in inflation. She also added that because the Fedewa proposed rent increases are so high, they are being questioned.

Her office has received a lot of letters against the increase already. She said close to half the tenants have written letters.

A few years ago, the FHA approved a rent increase for Fedewa. Tenants obtained a lawyer and had the rent increase lowered, said Ms. Skedgell.

"The increase was actually needed in the fall of 1978 to keep the project operating, but the rental increase was postponed," said Ms. Maneval. Due to this, it was a necessity for the increase at this time in order to maintain proper facilities to the satisfaction of the tenants, she said.

She also said the letter circulated by the Senior Citizen office had some incorrect information. "As far as figuring 43 percent, it depends upon what they are basing it on," she said.

"We are continually trying to get approval on additional rental assistance for our tenants," she said. Unfortunately, she added, government assistance has not been available due to a cutback in various programs.

Information on the proposed rent increases is available to all tenants. They may obtain it from the Fedewa Enterprises office at 6218 Wright Road.

Bath hires attorney for negotiations

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

Bath

The Board of Education here will hire a school attorney from the Kidston-Peterson firm in Kalamazoo to act as board negotiator for the teacher contract.

"I guess it's just a fact of life," board member Pam Gnodtke said. "It's not a good idea to put our superintendent in the position of negotiator, and none of us want to do it," she said. Cheryl Minerick, board member said that the negotiations committee felt that the school attorney would have some knowledge of the Bath school situation which would be an asset.

The Bath Education Association will vote May 21 on whether or not they wish to go to regional bargaining and join the Ingham County Education Association. Bath teachers are ending a two year contract negotiated in 1978.

Superintendent Ken Dyer said he and board members are available to speak before local groups or to go into homes for informal meetings to explain the upcoming millage proposals. After hearing the recommendations of the finance committee the board voted in April to ask voters for a renewal of the present 20 mills plus three extra mills for operation. A separate one year proposal on the ballot will be a request for one mill for maintenance to the middle school roof.

Dyer said he and board members will be happy to speak on the budget, the ballot, the Homestead Act and answer questions voters have about the upcoming request.

Projected enrollment figures for next year look dismal. Elementary principal Jim Hixon told board members that the kindergarten enrollment drew in 20 students less than school officials had expected.

"We've never been able to count on more than 10 percent more than we have on roundup," he said. The school enrolled 71 kindergartners in the recent registration.

In other action the board:

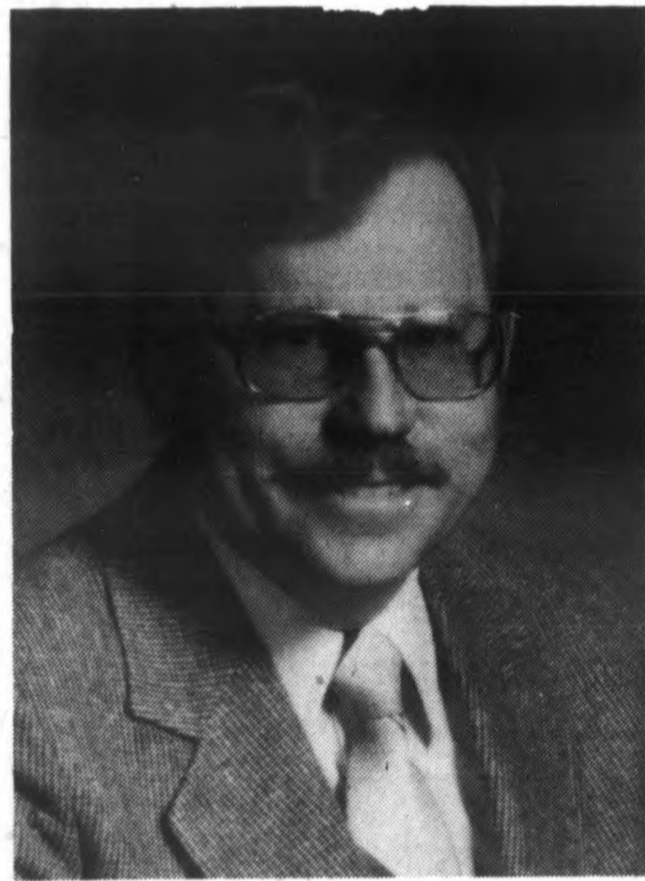

Extended the administrative contract of High School Principal Tony Drago for six months, until December 31, 1980.

Moved to purchase a piano from Marshall Music Co., for $1,395 for the elementary school.

Approved the early graduation request for Shaun Fischer who wished to graduate one year ahead of his graduating class.

Fischer has been following a special educational plan which combined his classes at Bath High School with some at Lansing Community College in order to meet the necessary requirements.

DeWitt selects superintendent

Stephen Garrett

DeWitt

DeWitt's newly hired school superintendent Stephen Garrett said last week that he is "anxious to get on the job, meet people and learn their concerns."

Garrett was hired this month for the class C school that has been operating under interim superintendent John Prevost since September. He is to start July 1 after finishing his contract at Coleman Community Schools where he has been administrator since February of 1972.

The search for a superintendent in DeWitt began after the forced resignation of Superintendent Raymond Spear, July, 1979. He had been with the district for a year.

Prevost took over in September while Board of Education and citizen committees determined the qualifications and goals the district should look for in hiring a new school head for the 1,900 students district.

Prior to his superintendency in Coleman, Garrett served as an assistant superintendent from 1968-1972 and junior high school principal in 1967-68 in the Columbia School District in Brooklyn, Michigan.

He served as a teacher in the Hastings Public School and Delton Kellogg School in southwestern Michigan.

During the past two years he has also been an instructor in school administration courses, dealing with community relations, at Central Michigan University.

Garrett received his B.A., B.S., and M.A. degrees from Western Michigan University and an Ed. S. degree in School Administration from Central Michigan University. He has also completed graduate work toward an advanced degree at Michigan State University.

On dean's list

Lori A. Ormston, Route 6, St. Johns, was among 148 students named to the 1979-80 first semester dean's list at Spring Arbor College in Spring Arbor.

The dean's list is based on a 4.0 point system and a 3.5 grade point average or above is required for this scholastic honor.

'Sound of Music'

The auditorium of DeWitt High School was filled with the "Sound of Music" on May 1, 2, and 3 when students performed the play made famous by Julie Andrews. Jeannine Ferlan, a sophomore played Maria the nun turned governess. The students performed for a full house all three nights. (Photos by Sue Kiley White)

Clinton successful in Horse Jamboree

This year, for the first time in several years, Clinton County Youth participated in the State Horse Jamboree.

The Jamboree on April 26 and 27 was the culmination of several contests, including horse judging, horse quiz bowl, public speaking, method demonstration and slide presentation. Clinton County Youth participated as junior and senior novices in horse judging.

Before we get to their success, however, I'd like to share with you how much time and work these youths and coaches spent on judging horses.

Last spring (1979), horse judging had a fledgling start, but was put aside for summer programming. This past fall two volunteer leaders, Mary Wendt and Donna Apostle, decided to give it another shot. Because it had been some time since Clinton County had tried horse judging, the group needed to begin with the very basic. Meeting once a month didn't seem too bad either.

In January, the group began gaining momentum as they tried competing in an Appaloosa judging contest in Ada. The day was long and very cold, but began a long string of successes with Tammy Foster placing sixth in the junior division. The group was encouraged and began more intensive judging, picking up their meetings from once a month to every other week.

The 4-H'ers had the opportunity to judge and practice their oral reasons. At the end of March the junior and senior teams tried their expertise again by competing at the Appaloosa judging contest associated with Block and Bridle. Once again the judging group was successful with Tammy Foster placing third in juniors and Debbie LaBar placing fifth in seniors.

With less than a month to go before the final contest, the group began to meet weekly—really putting in the hours. One of the highlights of these workouts was the trip to Rooker Arabian Farms. Finally all were ready to participate in the Horse Jamboree.

The contest consisted of judging eight classes: four halter classes on Morgans, Quarter Horses, Arabians, and Appaloosas and four saddle classes on hunt seat and saddle seat pleasure, and western pleasure on Morgans and Appys. The contestants had to answer three sets of questions and give two sets of oral reasons. It was a very long but successful day.

It was at the awards breakfast on Sunday morning the teams found out exactly how successful they actually were. The junior team which consisted of Tammy Foster, Jenny Pontious, Kelly Rosenquist and Debbie Witt, saw Kelly place second in reason and tenth high individual. Tammy placed nineteenth high in individual. The team placed third high in reasons and fifth high overall.

The senior team was equally successful. It consisted of Marc Arthur, Debbie LaBar, Colleen Wheatine and Chad Wing. Colleen placed ninth in reason, Marc was ninth in individual, Chad was 12th in individual and the team placed fifth in reason and stood fourth overall.

Is the team considering judging next year? As one senior said, "Next year, we're goin' for the gold!"

4-H Spotlight

By Carol Butler
Assistant Home Economist

"Be doers and not hearers only."

That describes Denny Vanek for sure—a real doer! Denny has been actively involved in 4-H since 1975. With his wife, Judy, they lead a horse club and contributed much time to the Fair operations.

The Vaneks live at 5209 Cutler Rd. in DeWitt. After moving to the farm five years ago, they say they'll never go back to the city.

It's obvious after minutes in their home the great love for animals that exists. One wall in their living room displays their favorite horses. And if you ask to see a picture of their baby, out comes a snap shot of their newest Arabian foal.

Denny works at Fand Vending Machine Company. In his free time, he often works behind the scenes in many 4-H projects.

Denny and Judy are members of North Presbyterian Church in Lansing and have served in many capacities there over the years.

Denny didn't think that he should be in the spotlight, but those of us in 4-H appreciate his help and want to say, "Thanks Denny."

Head Start has a birthday

St. Johns The month of May marks the 15th anniversary of the National Head Start program. The Capital Area Community Services Head Start program, which serves Ingham, Eaton, Clinton and Shiawassee counties will join more than 9,000 Head Start centers across the country in celebrating the program's founding. Head Start is a federally-funded program to assist pre-schoolers and handicapped youngsters from low-income families. On Friday, May 9, parents and students of the St. Johns Head Start program will be passing out helium-filled balloons at the Southgate Plaza in St. Johns. The balloons will have an outside message printed on them saying, "Happy Birthday Head Start." Inside, there will be messages also. A phone number to call if someone is interested in entering their child in the program will be enclosed. About 100 to 150 balloons will be passed out.

On Tuesday, May 13, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., there will be an open house at the Head Start classroom in St. Johns. The classroom is located in the St. Johns Episcopal Church school, 400 E. Walker St.

The entire community is invited to the open house. Parents wishing to enroll their child in Head Start are especially invited. The theme for the open house is, "A day in Head Start."

Since its establishment on May 18, 1965, Head Start has provided comprehensive health, education, nutrition and social services to more than 7 million preschool children in this country.

Project Head Start has received considerable attention in recent months due to new research findings documenting the program's lasting effect on children.

Twelve major studies found that children enrolled in Head Start and similar programs 10 years ago are far less likely to be held back a grade or assigned to special education classes than low-income children who did not attend an early childhood program. Children who had gone through Head Start and other programs also scored higher in math, had stronger self-concepts and parents with greater expectations of their potential.

Brya takes first place

St. Johns Trent Lee Brya, 12, took first place in the 65-pound weight class at the state kids wrestling finals which were held in Grand Rapids this past weekend. Brya, who is a sixth grader at St. Joseph Catholic School, took a first place gold medal in the district wrestling competition at Lansing's Eastern field house April 19 and also a first place gold medal at Hold Regional Competition April 26.

By placing at the regionals, he has qualified himself for the five Great Lakes states national competition which will be held in Grand Rapids May 30 and 31.

The United States Kids Wrestling Federation (USWF) is a nationwide organization which uses a freestyle type of wrestling used in the Olympics.

Brya started the year wrestling at 70-pounds in the 11-12-year-old age group. However, for the tournaments he has been watching his weight and is wrestling at 65-pounds in the same age group.

Trent and his brother Troy, who wrestles at 90-pounds in the 13-14-year-old age group have been members of the Capitol City Wrestling Club for three years.

The boys go to practice two nights a week and spend all day Saturday in competition. The wrestling season usually starts in January and ends in May.

Trent is a member of the band and also plays baseball during the summer. He is the son of Terry and Susan Brya, 2323 Yallup Rd., St. Johns.

"The modern courtroom has to be functional, and yet the design has to promote the dignity of the court," said Robertson. "I hope that my service on the committee will be of some benefit to Clinton County as well as Michigan courts in general."

IN THIRD GRADE SURVEY

Energy problems considered

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

St. Johns

The third graders at Perrin-Palmer Elementary school took a look at our energy problems by conducting a community survey and found out that people in St. Johns are not adverse to nuclear energy and are very supportive of gasohol production.

The children drew up a survey questionnaire asking for opinions on the solutions to energy problems.

Asking what types of energy our country could develop, besides solar, the students received high approval, 35 responses, for gasohol, especially in this area. Wind was a possible energy source for 33 people and 25 mentioned that nuclear energy should be refined to a safe level of use. Other answers checked included 17 for growing more forest for wood; 18 develop more gas and oil reserves; 13 mine coal more extensively.

Another question asked, "If the farmers cannot sell their crops overseas, what else might they do with them to earn a living?"

Opinions were high for creating new uses for our crops with 35 responses; 34 people suggested that we could create new markets; 14 sell to other cities and communities and 6 that we could barter with our neighbors.

Another important question that we are being faced with stated: "If people drive smaller and fewer cars what might the automobile factories do to make jobs for their employees?"

Opinions on this question ranged from 41 saying they could make a new product or a smaller more fuel efficient car that would last longer to nine who said people could transfer to another area and seven that thought they could make more auto parts.

Another question asked what new industries could be brought into our area to make new jobs for the people in our community? A gasohol production plant received the most responses with 42. A factory for making farm machinery received 25 responses and a dairy received 20 favorable comments. The plastic factory received 16 votes followed by a meat packing plant with 13 votes. The building supply factory and clothing factory received 11 votes and a toy factory 10 votes. A steel factory and a nuclear energy plant received 9 votes each and the school supply store chalked up six votes. The brick factory and the airplane factory each received three votes.

The children received 21 responses from the families within the classroom and 26 returned from at random mailing. Representative Allan Cropsey also wrote the children and returned a survey.

In addition they interviewed business people and citizens about town and taped their responses.

That everyone is thinking about energy was very evident in the extra comments citizens wrote on their survey sheets.

Ideas ranged from bringing back old windmills and water wheels to further development of solar energy and geothermal (internal heat from the earth) energy.

Many people mentioned the need for further development and research on uses for farm products. Gasohol seemed a logical source for our area to many. Utilizing the Great Lakes for water power; finding ways to produce synthetic fuels and the use of hydrogen power were all mentioned as alternative forms of energy.

Most people agreed that it will take many different sources of energy to solve our problems. Another common comment was to build smaller cars.

"I don't think the answer will be to buy fewer cars," one citizen wrote, "but rather to shift from purchasing big cars to buying smaller cars. The auto makers must design smaller cars at competitive prices."

Another person commented that too many jobs (such as Federal Mogul and Sealed Power) are parts suppliers and depend upon there being more and not less cars built. "We need to find a way to run cars on a replaceable fuel. Energy conservation makes little sense to people that would be out of a job on welfare," he said.

Several people mentioned the possibility of shortening hours and cutting out overtime so "everyone could work." Employees would make less money, one person wrote, but this would help slow down inflation.

Nuclear energy was a big definite in most answers. Only two people surveyed said, "Definitely not nuclear energy."

"We can make nuclear energy safe by keeping track of maintenance and function by qualified personnel," was one comment. Others replied, "Man made energy is the only inexhaustible source we can depend on forever. Now we need to find a way to dispose of nuclear waste"; and "Future use should develop better and safer ways to control this cheap source."

Several persons wrote with much faith about the community of St. Johns and hope for the future. People mentioned the Wheel Inn Mall and the new Clinton Area Care Center as places for future new jobs.

Survey team

Part of Arleen Wood's Perrin-Palmer third graders' energy survey involved interviews with local business and professional people that were recorded on tape and in pictures.

Students Jeff Tomlinson, left, Stacey McGlothlen and Debbie VanCamp were part of the team that interviewed Dick Foster on the end and Bill Escher. Classroom photographer was Matt Randall. Foster and Escher are involved in research on hydrogen power.

Capitol Savings & Loan's 90 years of service

We've got good reason to celebrate!

"Capitol Investment Building and Loan Association" was incorporated on March 4, 1890 to help area residents finance their homes and earn top returns on their savings. And we've been growing strong to provide you with those vital services ever since.

In 1890, a group of local men decided that a savings, building and loan association would render a great service in making Lansing — then a city of barely nine or ten thousand population — a home-owning community. And so the Capitol Investment Building and Loan Association, as it was then known, was born. Shares sold for 75 cents, and the Association's original capital was $352.50.

The Association shared its first home on Ottawa Street with the Lansing Women's Club, which occupied the second floor. Though the ladies of the Women's Club were at first reluctant to have the Association's sign on their building, Capitol won them over by paying for the heat for the entire building!

1895 — Industrial conditions were favorable in the '90's, and the company prospered. New members joined constantly to build up the working capital. Loans were made in increasing numbers — first to Lansing families; then, as the growing membership made it possible, to families in other cities. Mortgage assets in 1895 totaled nearly $1 million, giving Capitol a place among the largest associations in the state.

1906 — The board of directors felt a shorter name was in order, so "Capitol Savings and Loan Association" was officially adopted as the company's new name.

1923 — Men's custom-tailored suits sold for as little as $30; a National Electric iron was $2.39. Again the board moved to change the name, and Capitol Savings and Loan Association became "Capitol Savings and Loan Company." That same year, the firm moved into a newly-built, 8-story office building on Allegan Street, where the home office is located today. Total assets exceeded $7 million, having nearly tripled in five years.

In 1930 the auto industry was booming in Lansing, and Capitol had paid $1 million in dividends to its customers. The Great Depression was ravaging the country, but Capitol Savings & Loan continued to accept savings and make loans.

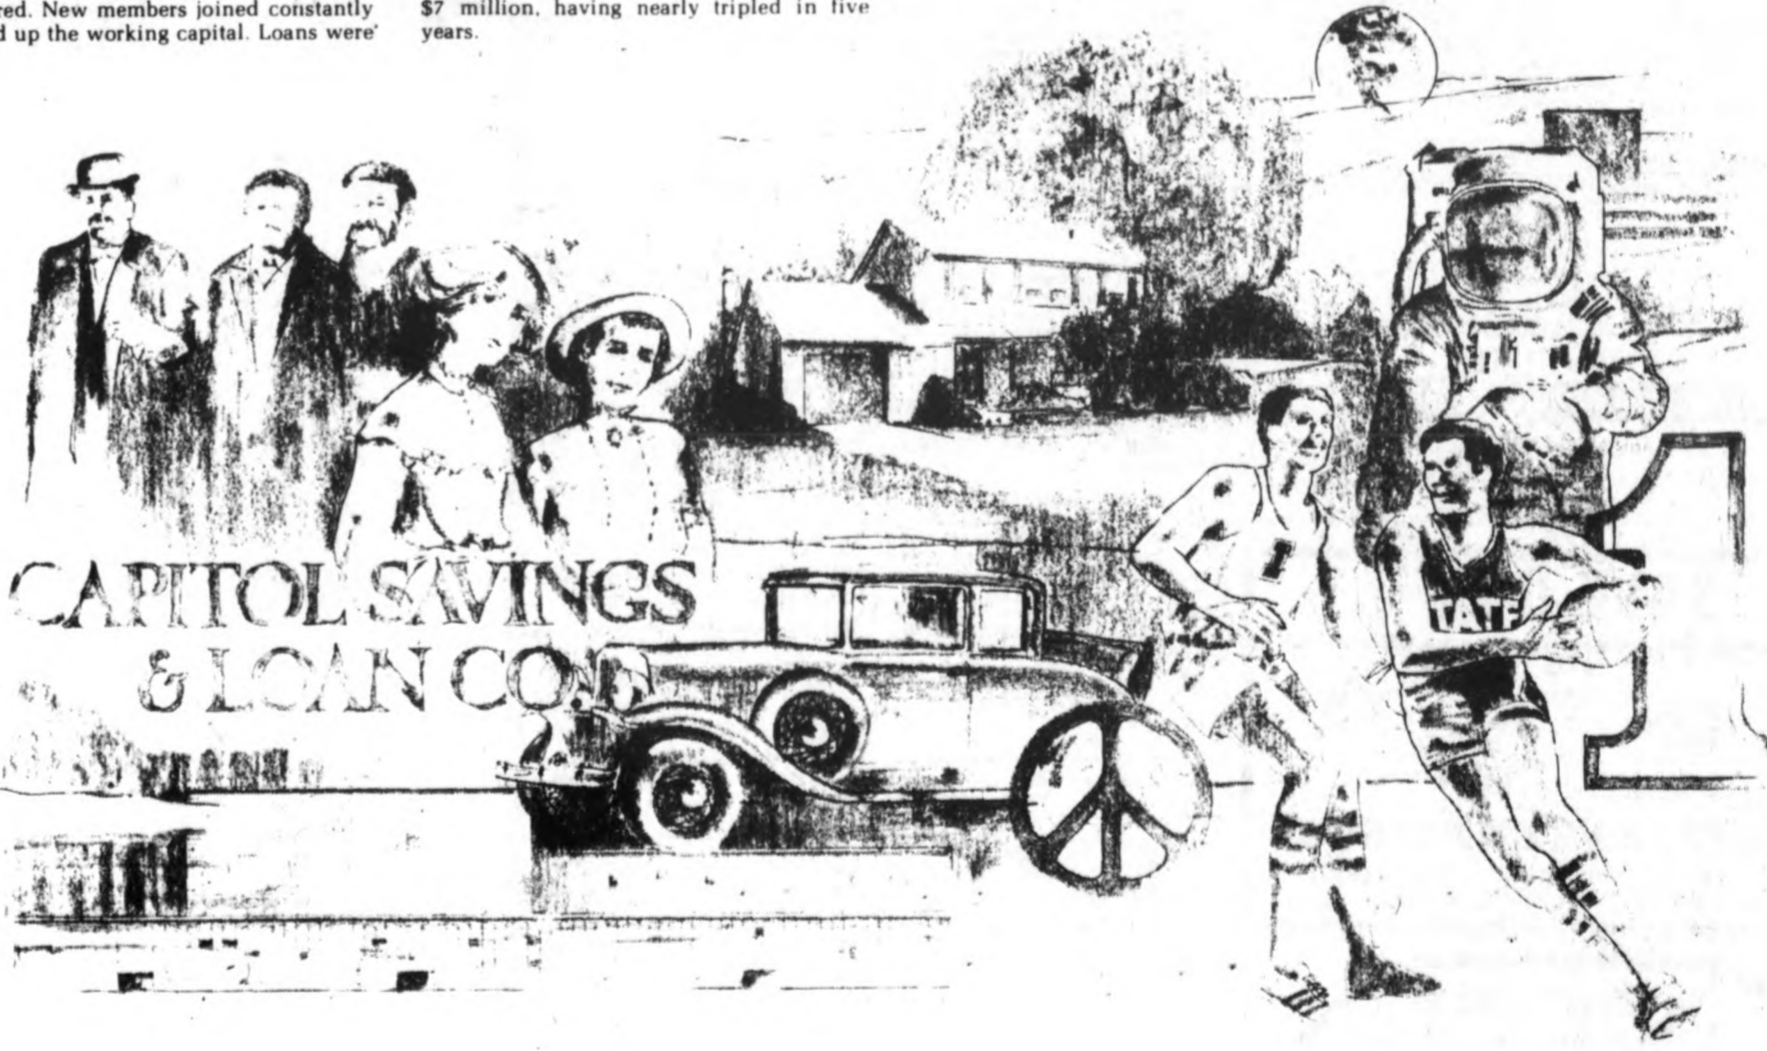

1940 — Renovation and a nine-story addition at the Allegan Street location doubled Capitol Savings and Loan Company's floor space, and local businesses eagerly sought to lease office space in the impressive structure. By this time Capitol had also expanded to the Detroit area, with branch offices in Pontiac and Lathrup Village. Assets exceeded $12 million, and local papers heralded Capitol's 50 years of service without ever missing or delaying a semi-annual dividend to its customers.

The 1950's post-war boom spurred industrial activity — and, in turn, a growing need for housing for area families. Strong and consistent expansion enabled Capitol to take a leading role in answering that need. In 1957, the name was once again changed to "Capitol Savings & Loan Association," and it has been so known ever since.

1960 began a decade that saw unprecedented economic growth, civil unrest, and the first man on the moon. Capitol Savings & Loan expanded with branch offices in Lansing and neighboring communities, and the main office was remodeled inside and out. In 1964, assets reached the $100 million milestone.

The 1970's saw $1-a-gallon gas become a reality... and ancient history. A Magic era brought MSU their first NCAA basketball crown, and thousands jammed the streets of Lansing as a parade welcomed Earvin "Magic" Johnson and teammates home. At Capitol Savings & Loan, new savings instruments were introduced to help small depositors earn higher returns on their savings; and an in-house computer system was installed to provide customers with up-to-the-minute services.

1980 — Assets are approximately $470 million and Capitol Savings & Loan celebrates 90 years of service — and is still growing strong!

Capitol Savings & Loan welcomes the challenge and the opportunities of the '80's. Progressive yet prudent management promises a bright future for our Association and the families we serve. We convey our deepest thanks to the many, many customers and friends who have made possible our 90 years of growth and service.

P-W band to perform at capitol

Westphalia

The Pewamo-Westphalia Junior High Band has been chosen to play on the steps at the state capitol in Lansing on Friday, May 9.

The band sent in their application in late March and were told in early April that they were chosen. The band will be playing during the lunch hour. A tour of the capitol will be included in the trip.

This is the first time that any junior band from Pewamo-Westphalia has performed at the capitol. Other groups from around the state will also be performing on other days.

The 85-member band is under the direction of Mark L. Szyperki. The members are seventh and eighth graders from both Pewamo-Westphalia Junior High and Pewamo St. Joseph schools.

★ Head Start

Over the past 15 years, Head Start has launched a series of experimental programs to improve services to families, some of which have been adapted by local programs.

These demonstrations include centers for families with children from infancy to age three; programs that use home visitors to work with parents and children at home; projects that enroll the entire family; and programs linking Head Start centers to elementary schools.

Since 1972, Head Start has also mounted a major effort to serve handicapped children, with nationwide enrollment of handicapped preschoolers reaching 41,000 last year.
