Additional SJ school millage sought

St. Johns

The cost of maintaining present education programs in the St. Johns school system is going to cost an additional 2.95 mills next year, and that is what the St. Johns Board of Education is going to ask voters to approve in the June 9 school election.

Actually, the ballot proposal facing voters in June will ask for 20.7 mills above the allocated 8 mills, with one-half mill earmarked for maintenance projects. The 20.7 mills includes a renewal of 17.75 mills and an addition of 2.95 mills. The renewal and addition will be combined in a single, one-year ballot proposal.

The board voted 4-3 to ask for the renewal and increase in one proposal at their May 7 meeting.

Estimated expenditures for the 1980-81 school year total $7,784,576, while estimated revenues based on the 20.7 mill proposal passing total $6,900,466. The difference of $884,110 would be made up by dipping into the school district's cash fund equity.

At the conclusion of the 1980-81 school year, however, the school district's available funds in the cash fund equity will be down to a mere $33,000—the amount it costs to operate the school district for about one day.

School auditors have recommended the district maintain about $300,000 or 4 percent of its budget in the fund equity.

Board finance committee chairman Bob Craig said the maintenance of 4 percent or $300,000 in the fund equity was "good management in normal times, but we felt we were facing an abnormal year with the recession in our city and farm economy. We felt our 'rainy day' was here and that we should use almost all of our savings account."

The school administration had recommended the maintenance of the fund equity at around $300,000 by asking voters to approve an additional 4.25 mills for the 1980-81 school year. However, the finance committee's recommendation of an additional 2.95 mills won out.

Of the 2.95 mills, one-half mill or about $92,000, would be specifically earmarked for maintenance.

The school district has been awarded a $37,000 energy grant but must match that amount in order to qualify for the grant. Since most energy improvements projects will pay for themselves within two years in terms of savings dollars on energy bills, the board feels the grant match should be met. The matching fund will allow the district, for example, to replace incandescent fixtures with fluorescent lights and remove some windows in classrooms.

Another $36,000 is needed to repair roofs at Riley, Rodney B., Eureka, East Essex and the high school. Also included in this figure is some maintenance work to be done on the Perrin-Palmer playground.

City budget calls for 17.4 mills

By Patrice Hornak
Editor

St. Johns

There were a lot of uncertainties about the 1980-81 budget presented Monday night to the St. Johns City Commission.

Federal and state revenue sharing totaling $123,639 is undecided, the possibility of another tax proposal like the Headlee Amendment looms for the November ballot and the state of the economy itself isn't strong at this time.

However, city commissioners accepted the $3.2 million budget and set a public hearing for Tuesday, May 27, at 7:45 p.m.

The budget for 1980-81 was based upon levying 17.4 mills, down from 22.05 mills levied last year and 19 mills levied in 1978-79. An extra 4.2 mills were tagged on last year's taxes to pay for part of the Grubaugh lawsuit settlement.

The 17.4 mills "is in compliance with the Headlee Amendment, and in fact, is less than an 11.1 percent increase authorized by the constitutional alteration," wrote Randy Humphrey, city manager, in his outline of the new budget.

He did add that if the state decides to impose an "unpredicted" state tax factor later this month, a millage rollback will be required. This rollback would mean the city will get the same number of dollars to operate but the amount of mills to generate that dollar amount would not be as many as 17.4 mills.

Of the 17.4 mills, operation of the city is expected to take 10 mills, as opposed to 9.5 mills two years ago. The garbage fund will remain the same at

Jail fate in voter hands

By Sue Kiley White
Staff Writer

Clinton County

The building of a new county jail will be before Clinton County voters for the second time on May 20. However, a no vote this time for the new correctional facility will mean changing the present jail to a 72-hour lock-up.

The proposition, if approved will authorize the county, acting through its building authority, to sell bonds equaling $3.2 million. Repayment of the bond issue over a 15-year period is estimated to cost $385,000 to $410,000 per year. The additional tax levy necessary to make the payments means less than one mill in the first few years, declining to less than one-half mill in later years. For a piece of property with a current market value of $50,000, the additional tax levy would average about $20 per year.

If the jail were approved the county would construct a facility which could accommodate 53 inmates and the operational needs of the sheriff's department through the year 2000. Design and size of the facility is based upon recommendations of a correction needs study completed by the county. The facility is proposed to be built on a 26-acre site on Townsend Road just east of Lansing Street in St. Johns.

The correctional needs study identified 41 distinct problems related to the county jail facility. The department of corrections listed 16 facility related problems which are in direct violation of state jail standards. Some of the problems are: lack of adequate exits from the second floor in case of fire or emergencies, lack of a guard station, lack of adequate visiting area, exercise areas, living space per inmate and no security garage.

If a 72-hour lock-up is instituted because of defeat of the jail proposal the county will not be able to house anyone over the 72-hour period. The county however, is still responsible for these people and will have to find space for them at another correctional facility.

It is estimated that the cost of placing county prisoners in out of county facilities will be between $150,000 and $200,000 per year above the current operating costs. This would also mean less road patrol protection, because officers would be on the road transporting prisoners.

O-E asks for millage renewal, roof repair

Elsie

Ovid-Elsie voters will be asked to renew 20 mills for one year at the June 9 school election. In a separate proposal, voters will be asked to approve an additional half-mill levy for one year to enable the school district to re-roof the high school.

Ovid-Elsie schools, in addition to the 20 mills up for renewal, have 7.40 mills allocated.

Michigan Week Art Show opens May 18

St. Johns

The St. Johns Men's Art Club, with assistance from the Community Resource Volunteers, will open the Michigan Week Art Show in the conference room of the Capitol Savings and Loan Building in downtown S. Johns commencing on May 18 at about 1 p.m. and extending through May 24.

Artists from St. Johns and neighboring communities are invited to enter works and in previous years the variety of work and the skill of the artists has dazzled observers.

The show will be hung on Saturday, May 17, and artists may bring in their works beginning at 9 a.m. Works will include paintings in watercolor, oil and acrylic, drawings and usually some sculpture.

Last year this spring show was judged by the public. This gave the public a role to play in the show and heightened interest of the observers to the point of participation. Each member of the public became a critic and judge and he or she cast their ballot for their considered choice. Because of the interest in this approach, the same judging will occur and each person attending will be asked to vote.

Many works will be for sale at the option of the artist and last year purchases generated at the show exceeded $700.

During Michigan Week school children, strollers, shoppers and visiting mayors will all have an opportunity to see the works and meet the artists from the Central Michigan area. Names of artists and groups will likely include: Anderson, Yurek, Hart, Jopke, Tiedt, Carey, Colleta, Morriss, St. Johns Men's Art Club and the Carson City Art Club, among others.

3 arrested in bar room brawl

DeWitt Twp.

A bar room brawl resulted in the arrest of three persons, Thursday, May 8, at the Stardust in DeWitt Township.

Township police were called to the bar and broke up a fight. The parties were arrested after they started fighting again with employees. Charged with disorderly conduct were Vernon Cox, 26, of Pleasant Grove, Lansing; Roxanna Cox, 23, of the same address, and Paula McQuay, 28, of Willard Street, Lansing.

Officers are still investigating. The trio may be facing assault and battery charges.

at 3263 E. Heribson Road, Bath and made off with the canoe.

$1,000 in cash and other property. Thieves broke a window to get into the residence.

Sometime during the late hours of May 2, thieves removed 1,000 feet of 2 x 4's valued at $400, from a construction site on Apple-tree Lane, Country Meadows Estates.

Emergency room vacancy filled at Carson Hospital

Carson City

For the past 10 years, Carson City Hospital has employed a full-time emergency room physician who is in-house at the hospital from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Services are available to the people of the area for any accident or illness of an emergency nature that an individual may feel cannot wait until their physician is on duty in his office.

With the recent resignation of Jack Comstock, D.O., the hospital has hired several Lansing area physicians to cover the emergency room. These physicians bring many years of metropolitan emergency room experience to the hospital and citizens of the area.

On the two nights a week that the emergency room physician is not on duty, the active staff physicians of the hospital will continue to cover this service, on a rotating basis, thus offering emergency service seven days per week.

Small Business Week set

Lancaster re-elected to board helm; Cox new hospital trustee

St. Johns

Earl Lancaster was re-elected president of the Clinton County Board of Trustees at their annual meeting Thursday, May 8, at the hospital.

Also re-elected to their previous offices were Lorenz Tiedt, first vice president; Conrad Seim Jr., second vice president; and Dyle Henning, secretary-treasurer.

Re-elected to the board of directors for two-year terms were Gayle Desprez and Arthur Wood.

Newly elected to the board was Edwin W. Cox of Greenbush Township. He is filling a vacancy created by the expired term of A. Fraser MacKinnon. The board passed a resolution expressing deepest appreciation for MacKinnon's dedicated service to Clinton Memorial.

Cox is employed in material handling at Oldsmobile in Lansing. He has served as a Greenbush Township Supervisor for eight years. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Clinton Area Ambulance Service.

He and his wife, Janet, have three children. Jeff and Jane are in college and Lisa is a student at St. Johns High School.

Cox is a lifelong resident of Clinton County. He is a member of the Clinton County Assessors Association and a member of Masonic Lodge 105 and Knights Templar 22.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Leo F. Greenwalt, vice president for the Government Affairs Division, Michigan Hospital Association. Greenwalt gave a brief history of the relationship between hospitals and governmental agencies during the past and at present. He sees even greater government regulation over all aspects of health care in the future.

Dr. James M. Grost, chief of staff, focused his report on three subject areas. Quality care continues to dominate medical staff activities and

Dr. Grost outlined the systems and committees responsible for the consistent and judicious monitoring of the quality of care provided. He reported on the continuing education programs being provided. He reported on the continuing education programs being provided for the medical staff at the hospital. Additionally, he addressed the problems of availability and the cost of medical care.

Irene Zeeb, chairperson of the board of directors, summarized events and the actions of the board during the past year.

Highlights of her report were the cooperation of the hospital with the Clinton Area Care Center; plans for moving the DeWitt Medical Center to offices in the Village Center at Country Meadows in DeWitt; and the sound financial status of the hospital.

She pointed out that room rates had not been increased during the year. Mrs. Zeeb also noted that a cooperative arrangement had been finalized with Sparrow Hospital for neurological consultation and EEG services and a new paging system together with Lansing General Hospital and Ingham Medical Center in Lansing. These shared agreements are in addition to the radiology/cardiology shared agreements with Ingham Medical Center and pathology services with St. Lawrence Hospital.

★ Jail's fate

"We can work with whatever we have," Sheriff Tony Hufnagel said. "I'm concerned however, that if we're closed down the additional cost of housing prisoners elsewhere and taking men off the road will have a severe impact on the county."

Hufnagel said he did not agree 100 percent with the rules and regulations set up by the department of corrections, but that there was a constitutional responsibility of the sheriff to provide a constitutional jail.

The sheriff noted that a few years ago there were Law Enforcement Agency (LEA) grants for renovations to jails. However, there was no place to put the renovations such as an outdoor exercise facility because of the jail's present location.

"With a new jail we hope we can house and help other counties on a fee basis," Hufnagel said. "This is good economics."

He noted a few years ago the county housed some prisoners from Ingham County on a fee basis and it didn't take any more staff to run the jail.

"The state might refuse to accept the white-collar or non-violent type of criminal because of overcrowding," Hufnagel said. "We wouldn't be getting the hard core criminal."

Roger Overway, chairman of the Clinton County Board of Commissioners stated that if the county went to a 72-hour lock-up the county would be paying $200,000 a year and get nothing in return except less road patrol.

"We really don't have a choice," Overway said. "Either we vote yes or it's a 72-hour lock-up and there won't be any delay."

DeWitt Twp seeks fire, police millage renewal

DeWitt Twp.

FACTS...In DeWitt Township it means a citizen's group advocating For A Community That's Safe. This group is supporting a two-mill renewal request, one each for the police and fire departments, which will be on the May 20

★ 17.4 mills

3.0 mills and generally the general obligation bonds will be less than in previous years.

Included in the new budget is $20,000 for a water well reserve, $15,000 for a public safety building and $56,551 for local streets. The water-sewer department's budget is set at $645,639. The new wastewater treatment facility is expected to go on line before this fall and a reserve fund for the facility is required.

The budget is available for public inspection at the city clerk's office in the municipal building.

Also at Monday night's meeting: --Steve's Refuse Service was granted a $200 monthly increase for its garbage services to the city. Presently the service gets $1,700 a month. Steve's Refuse has not had a rate increase since June of 1977.

--Water Well 5 failed last Friday and damage was reported to be extensive. City commissioners voted to use the good, salvageable parts from Well 5 to repair Well 3 and purchase new parts and renovate Well 5. Well 3 is presently being renovated. Both water wells are anticipated to be back on line in two weeks.

Humphrey said as long as the wells are forced to pump long and hard for water in the city, such repairs should be expected. Well 7 has been showing signs of breaking down. It was scheduled for renovation two years ago.

The city is in the process of acquiring water wells and establishing a maintenance schedule for its existing wells.

This is a renewal request enabling the township to operate the two departments at the same level of services as in the past. According to township officials this is a united effort of both the police and fire departments to have both questions pass.

Red and yellow signs simply stating one yes police plus one yes fire equals one safe community are being placed throughout the township during the next week. Flyers are being sent through the mail and door to door canvassing will be conducted by off duty members of the police and fire departments along with concerned citizens.

According to Marjorie Graham, publicity chairperson of the FACTS group one mill in DeWitt Township means about $60,000. However, there are 16 different tax rates in DeWitt Township because of the different school district combinations.

Mrs. Graham explained that of an average township tax dollar, 14 cents goes to the township, 10 cents goes to the county, and 76 cents goes to the school district. Broken down further means:

Ed Fancher, fire chief, stated, "For your investment you receive 24 hour fire protection and 24 hour medical assistance. Your fire department has a class A rating, the same as the cities of Lansing and Detroit. We have this high rating because of the quality service we deliver...and because we have always had the support of the people we serve. A yes vote means, "If you call us, we'll be right there."

Tom Aranow, police chief explained what would happen. If the police millage was not renewed for the next three years.

"Failure to pass the renewal of the millages will result in manpower cutbacks," he said. "Police officers will have to be laid off and routine police patrols will be non-existent."

Aranow further explained special attention to particular problems would have to be denied. The Clinton County Sheriff's department and the Michigan State Police will not be able to fill in the gaps because of the cutbacks they have seen recently.

"Any special request by schools, citizens or other groups will have to be denied if the millage is not passed," Aranow said. "We would lose one-third or three salary employees."

Supervisor Alta C. Reed, has also supported the millage issue in the flyer by saying "We're proud of the professional achievements of our police and fire departments."

If the millage fails the monies to run both departments will have to come from the township's general fund which would make cutbacks in other departments.

Spend it on the jail now or later

By Sue Kiley White
Staff Writer

Clinton County voters will decide the fate of their jail next week. There is no doubt it is going to cost money for a new jail. But it is also going to cost money to operate a 72-hour lock-up, which will become a reality if the bond proposal fails.

Voters have to weigh the pros and cons presented to them by the news media, county officials and the sheriff's department. Nearly everyone agrees that some of the rules and regulations placed on the county's jail are needless and almost ridiculous.

However, when the state says pay your taxes, you do. Likewise, when the state says build a new jail, you do or you pay the consequences.

Clinton County will be paying for the building of a new jail and the monies will be realized at the onset. With the lockup type of facility, residents will feel the effects until they call for a patrol car and it's not there because it's on the way to another county with a prisoner.

The lock-up system is also going to cost money, and a lot of it. Clinton County is not going to be able to board its prisoners free in other counties. The price is going to be more expensive elsewhere than it will be here, according to county and jail officials.

Either way taxpayers are going to be paying for the jail. It's a matter of choice whether it will have local control with money being spent within Clinton County for Clinton County. Or whether Clinton County is going to end up paying other counties for the same services it could provide.

Concern for prisoners

CONCERN FOR PRISONERS

I am concerned for the young men and women in the Clinton County Jail.

I have been privileged to have served as a chaplain in the county jail for the last two and one-half years, visiting there on an average of once a week. During this time I have talked with many different young men and women in the jail. Many of them are in their late teens and 20's. Only a few are 40 years of age or above. Some of them are first time offenders of the law while others are repeaters. Some are in jail here to be taken on to other correctional facilities such as those in Ionia or Jackson.

Many of these young men and a few women are kept here in the Clinton County Jail. Some of them are in for a few days and others are in for 30 days, 90 days, six months or even a year. They have not been sent to places where they could become friends with those who have become more deeply imbedded in lawlessness and crime. And they are still near their families, friends and familiar surroundings.

Here, these young men and women can be reached more effectively. The chaplain and other pastors along with the families can begin the healing work of befriending those who seemingly enter jail with broken relationships and little hope for the future.

Many of our young people come from broken families. Their needs are great. I could give you example after example of such heartbreaking situations.

When the law has been broken, some kind of punishment appropriate to the crime should be and is given in the courts. But with the judgment comes the mercy and kindness that inspires and allows old attitudes and ways of living to change. Justice and mercy is what we all need from each other.

Please return the cookbooks to the library

A letter to the Editor

Recently, the Bement Public Library purchased several new cookbooks for the women of this town to read and enjoy. In turn, many families benefited also, as these new ideas and recipes are implemented and brought to the tables around this town.

Someone, however, has decided the privilege should be entirely theirs and has lifted several of these fine books for their own personal library. The library does not charge fines generally, they accept explanations, renew without question, etc., etc. There is no reason these books could not have been checked out responsibly.

There is a drop box outside and the library is closed until noon and after 8 p.m. PLEASE return the cook books there and no one will know nor care who has taken them. But we, the public want them back! They are expensive, and cannot be replaced that easily, if at all. You have infringed on one of the few public services left to us. Clean up your act and feel better about spring—which is bound to come eventually.

Senior Citizen Update

Fund raising for the Drop-In Center

Has a volunteer called on you for a donation for the renovation of the new site for the Senior Citizen Drop-In Center?

There are about 35 people who are trying to get enough donations to cover the cost of renovating the building that was formerly Heathman's.

It is estimated that $20,000 is needed to comply with the building code for safety and health, including the installation of barrier-free facilities. Volunteer labor has cut the cost so much that $20,000 should be adequate.

There have been donations ranging from $1,200 to $2. The $2 donation was from a boy who did odd jobs, so he donated his $2. That could almost make one feel guilty, couldn't it?

You know the Senior Citizen Drop-In Center serves many uses. It is a nutrition site where meals are served every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The cost is just 50 cents. There are some people who need this 50 cent dinner to help them stretch their food budgets.

The majority of the people who attend these dinners—and there are some—times more than 80 people there—come for different reasons.

There are many seniors in our county who are lonely. Think how nice it is for them to go to the Drop-In Center three times a week and be with 60 or 80 others their own age.

If you should stop in during these times and hear the flow of conversation, you would know that visiting with others of the same age, with the same problems etc., is indeed what they are there for.

There are people who are now involved in activities connected with the Drop-In Center who haven't had an incentive for many years to participate in anything. It's making them come alive again.

By Ruth Delo

Where else in our community can a senior citizen find a resting place for a short time while they do their shopping? Many people come in from the country to shop. When it's noon they go to the Drop-In Center for lunch, rest a little, talk to people and are ready to finish their shopping and then go home. They have had a nice day.

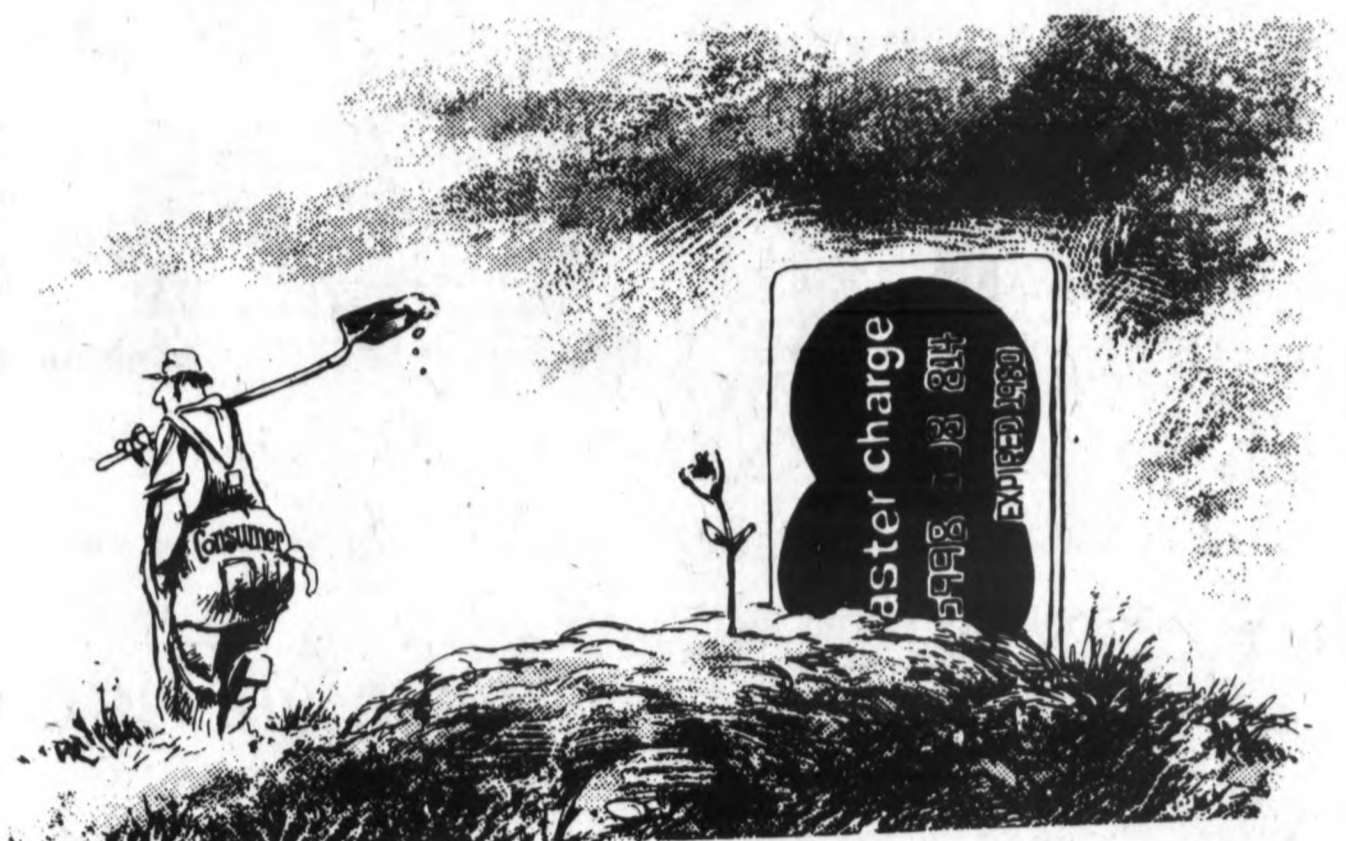

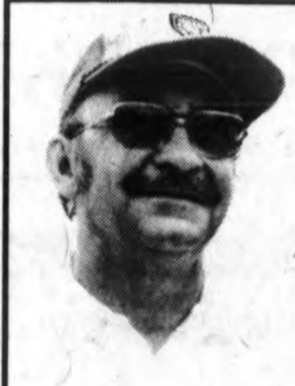

Fred Rewerts, the director for the Drop-In Center, said he wants people to feel like it's a "home away from home."

There are many activities at the center such as exercise classes, card playing, bingo and many other things and they are open every day Monday through Friday. Drop in any time.

If any of you would like to donate money for the rehabilitation of the new Drop-In Center, and no one has called on you, call the Senior Citizen Drop-In Center. Make as large a donation as you can, but any amount is very welcome.

The citizens of Clinton County have been so very generous in the past that I am sure $20,000 will be met. Thanks again.

So.....until next time.

This year expect the unexpected

By Richard L. Milliman

WE ALL KNEW 1980 was going to be a screwy political year. Presidential election years always are a bit off-center, anyway. But very few could have foreseen all of the odd developments of this particular election season.

Whatever happened to John Connally, for example? He looked and acted more like a president than anyone around, and he lined up more dollar support—the lifeblood of any campaign—than any other two candidates put together. Yet Mr. Connally dropped by the wayside early on.

Whatever happened to Ted Kennedy, for another example? Mr. Kennedy, the darling of the media, and the liberal wing of his party, the owner of a magic name and magic heritage, could have anything in the political arena just for the asking. So he asked, and was denied.....time and time again.

Who could have figured Connally and Kennedy, for two examples, would perform as they did?

AND HOW about all the other also-rans, especially among the Republicans? And how about the birth and growth of Rep. John Anderson as a serious, viable, logical alternative? And how about the complete, utter dominance of Ronald Reagan over the Republican nominating apparatus? Who could have figured these developments?

And how about the control of President Carter, even more complete in his Democratic party than Reagan's hold over his Republicans? Beset with foreign troubles, and economic troubles, and political troubles, who would have predicted Carter's pre-eminence as a politician?

And yet, the American people apparently aren't content with how things have developed. Mr. Reagan, among Republicans, and Mr. Carter, among Democrats, appear to have produced unassailable fortresses; the people of the country, who have participated in the nominating process so far, should be satisfied, even ecstatic. Yet, they're restless.

It's all over but the shouting—Carter and Reagan. Or is it all over? Strange things have happened so far, and stranger things may happen yet. Don't bet against it.

ODD, UNLIKELY reports spread in politics, especially in an election year.

For example, there is the recent newspaper item headlined: "Dump Carter! Democrats' talk of alternative candidate keeps spreading."

The article refers not to Sen. Kennedy, but rather to the unlikely prospect of a draft of Vice President Walter Mondale as an electable Democratic candidate. This notion is based on the idea that Mr. Carter in November can't win.

Mr. Mondale, of course, would attract all the same supporters who now hold out for Mr. Kennedy; in addition, Mondale certainly has built credibility among the Carter wing of the party.

The idea makes sense in every way except one: The Man in the White House certainly won't step aside willingly.

THEN THERE are other newspaper reports spreading the idea that Reagan invincibility at the November election would be enhanced by the appearance of Gerald Ford on the ticket.

Regular readers of this column know I think this would be a good idea if Ford headed the ticket instead of Reagan; but the emerging thought is to put Ford on the ticket along with Reagan, namely as a vice presidential candidate.

Ford would add experience and stability to the Reagan ticket, so the story goes, along with bridging the gap to those Republicans who still find a tough time accepting Reagan as their standard-bearer.

Although it seems a step-down for Mr. Ford, reports are that he would consider the plan, being the staunch party soldier he is, and might feel it would help the country so he will go along and help any way he can. Of course, both Reagan and Ford now live in California which might present some constitutional problem.

But in this crazy political year of 1980, anything can happen. A lot already has. Don't rule out anything, no matter how improbable it may sound at first blush.

Senior citizen housing rent addressed

Dear editor and interested citizens,

On March 21, the senior citizens tenants of the Fedewa housing complex in our county received notice of a proposed rental increase. At that time, our office, the Clinton County Senior Citizens Outreach and Transportation Program, was asked by the seniors in the St. Johns complex to become involved in this issue and help them stop such an enormous increase.

In last week's Clinton County News (5/7/80) an article appeared that addressed itself to this issue of the rental increases. It referred to the letter that supposedly used incorrect information regarding the actual percentage of increase, according to Ms. Maneval, the manager of the apartment complexes.

The disputed figure was 43 percent. This figure is based on the St. Johns complex and their increase. Their precise figure is 43.16 percent. As far as the DeWitt complex is concerned, their actual increase would amount to 34.96 percent and the Fowler complex would receive a 39.16 percent increase. However, in the St. Johns and DeWitt complexes the rental increase would affect approximately 60 percent of the tenants, those who do not receive governmental subsidy.

These proposed increases are above the economic means of the senior citizens in the housing complexes. Their 1980 promised cost of living increase in Social Security of approximately 14 percent wouldn't even begin to cover the proposed rental increase. There isn't any way they could absorb such an increase.

Finally, we'd like to voice our appreciation of the media coverage our rental issue has received. We feel it's important that the community be aware of this proposed rental increase and the burdens it could create for many people.

Sincerely,
Brenda Hamilton, Coordinator
Clinton County Senior Citizens Office

Parking space at jail impossible

I have been reading the pros and cons about the proposed county jail and one thing not mentioned is the parking space.

It is almost impossible to find a parking space as the jail is near the courthouse. When it was built a room was provided for county supervisors as there wasn't so many cars then as now. I know. I have been there.

Personality Profile

Eureka will say, Good luck, Mrs. Cameron

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

If Fidelis Cameron, teacher-principal at Eureka Elementary School were younger, she wouldn't dream of retiring from this small community school that's been part of her life for 18 years.

"It's not fair to stay," she said, "but I wish I were younger."

While Fidelis said that she wishes she just could "have faded out," next Sunday, May 18, from 2 to 5 p.m. the school and the community will say thank you and good luck in a big open house at the school.

In Eureka, the school and the community are tied together in many ways and Fidelis expects to remain a part of the community so people won't really be saying good-bye. It will be a wrench to leave her career and the people she works with every day. She loves children and she knows that she is going to miss her daily contact with them although many will walk by her house on their way to school.

She started teaching at Eureka when it was still a three room school in 1962. Over the years she taught all the grades in various combinations. In 1974 she became principal, teaching kindergarten in the mornings.

Her teaching career started in DeWitt at the Lott school where she taught kindergarten through seventh grades. She came there with her youngest son, Bruce, leaving her husband and three older children at home in Atlanta, Michigan where they owned a store.

Bruce went to school with his mother and they commuted back to Atlanta every other weekend. Fidelis was also taking college courses, striving for her degree. She had gone to county normal and with "a degree always in the back of her mind," had taken college courses where ever they were offered.

When the Lott school consolidated with Bath she went there to teach sixth grade, until the opening came at Eureka. Her husband, Bruce, sold the store at Atlanta and they moved to Eureka. He worked at Gower Hardware until he retired.

"I think God wanted me to be here," Fidelis reflected. "I have so many friends here, it's home." When her husband died, she felt a tremendous support from the community. "It was hard to come back after the funeral," she remembered, "but so many people rallied around me."

The Cameron children are also close to their mother. Fidelis has two daughters in Trenton. Her oldest son is a career man in the Air Force and Bruce lives in St. Johns. She has 11 grandchildren. "We're a close family," she said. "Nobody has to be invited to get together."

Fidelis plans to return to her own childhood hometown of Hillman in the summertime. Several years ago she bought a cottage on Lake Avalon. "It's actually on property that my Dad owned years and years ago," she said. "It's nice to be there. I have a brother there and we are very close."

Her mother, who is 89, is in a nursing home in nearby Ashley and Fidelis visits her everyday.

The principal's office at Eureka is decorated with children's art. A big blue heart proclaims: "Mrs. Cameron you're the best teacher I ever had," from Dana J. She said she loves teaching the kindergarten children and compares them to little chicks. "They grab at learning, like little chicks after corn," she said. "They take a kernel and go after more."

Eureka has remained a close and smooth working school, under Mrs. Cameron. "We really have had no trouble here," she said. "My teachers have been real good and the community is always behind us. I really could not have done this job without my good staff or the people of Eureka." She also gives credit to her secretary, Wanda Baker, who she calls, "My man Friday."

She calls Eureka a community in total support of its school. "When ever we want anything for the school everyone is right here to help."

Fidelis describes herself as an ordinary person and that has been the way she has administered Eureka school. "If something is wrong, I've got to tell them," she said. Sometimes she has longed for more diplomacy in her dealings with staff and parents and wishes she could be more tactful. "When something is on my mind, I've got to say it," she said. Her most difficult task over the years has been dealing fairly with people. "It's what I've always been most concerned about," she explained. "I want to be doing right by parents; I want to be frank with them."

The key to learning is discipline and it's the greatest need in schools today, she believes. "You have to have control and discipline in a classroom," she said. "We need more respect and honor in education," she said, explaining that she used those two words in her relationship with students.

The mainstay of good discipline is following through on what you say, Fidelis maintains. "If you tell them something, you should follow through."

"I have actual proof that the more discipline you give them, the more they respect you," she said. She also feels that children "don't hold it against me."

She notices more and more families with two working parents and an upswing in broken homes. "Parents have less time to spend with kids," she said. For those reasons she asks her teachers to try to make school time happy and productive but she also believes that education only works when there is a carryover from school to home.

Fidelis isn't counting the days until school is out, rather she is trying not to think about leaving too much. "I'm going to miss it," she said.

Fidelis Cameron

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School and the groom is a 1978 graduate of Fowler High School.

For her wedding the bride chose an ivory color wedding gown with soft pleated bishop sleeves, a high neckline with square ruffle on the bodice with a chiffon skirt which fell into a cathedral length train. Ruffles trimmed the bottom of the gown.

She wore a matching picture hat with lace edging and carried a cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations, stephanotis, orange and yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

The mother of the bride wore a blue floor length gown of polyester knit, featuring a high lace neckline, empire waist and a soft pleated skirt. The mother of

Morning Musicales entertains ministers

St. Johns

Sixty members and friends of St. Johns Morning Musicales enjoyed an evening of food and fellowship for their concluding meeting of the year on Friday, May 9, at First Congregational Church.

Mrs. H. A. Peterson installed incoming officers: president, Mrs. Richard Jacoby; vice president, Mrs. Dennis Pilmore; recording secretary, Mrs. H. Manning Gross; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Keith Laidler; and treasurer, Mrs. Julia Thornton.

Mrs. Gross was chairman of the evening for the program in the church sanctuary. Because so many of the members are involved in church music as choir members, directors, and organists, and work closely with the ministers and others involved in music of the church, the club invited the ministers to be special guests for the evening.

Mrs. Campbell introduced Father Robert Coval, Episcopal Priest at St. Johns Episcopal Church, who performed two organ selections. Father Coval's wife, Judy, joined him to sing two hymns of their denomination.

Mrs. Barbara Davis, organist at First United Methodist Church, introduced Rev. Keith Laidler, who sang "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings", accompanied by his wife Jackie. Following his selection, Mrs. Gross welcomed Rev. Gilbert Heaton, minister at United Church of Ovid, where she serves as organist. He spoke to the group about the integral importance of music as a part of the worship service, and particularly of the important role of the choir in leading the congregation.

Mrs. Clifford Lumbert introduced Tom Fowler, a member of the choir at First United Methodist Church, but for many years a member of two profession gospel quartets, "The Gospel Troubadors," and "The Chords." These groups performed across the country, giving their Christian testimony in song. Accompanied by Mrs. Davis, he sang a contemporary Christian song.

Mrs. Harold Lundy introduced Gordon Vandemark, choir director at First United Methodist Church, and he and Fowler concluded the program with the singing of two contemporary musical offerings.

Gunnisonville marker to be dedicated May 21

Gunnisonville
A highlight of Michigan Week in Clinton County will be the formal dedication of an official State of Michigan marker recognizing the Gunnisonville historical district. Registered Local Site No. 449.

Friends of history, alumni, supporters of the restoration of the one-room schoolhouse, interested public and young students from the new school nearby will gather at Clark Road and Wood Road at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, May 21, for a brief program. The marker was initiated and funded by the Clinton County Historical Commission. Increasing cost of the state approved markers threatened the project until response from local citizens supported the Commission's action. "The financial support we received from Oliver Angell and Robert Zeeb helped us purchase the stronger and more attractive style of marker," said Geneva K. Wiskemann, chairperson of the commission. "Their contributions made it possible for us to acquire the more desired double post marker available through the Michigan History Division, Department of State." Representatives of the community and the Lansing

School Board will be on hand May 21 to review the history of the rural community with its surviving church, school and cemetery and accept the marker as a valued addition to the historical literature of the county.

Ladies of the United Methodist Church of Gunnisonville will provide refreshments.

Local piano students pass tests

St. Johns Private piano students of Diantha Witteveen recently participated in a musical theory testing program, and all successfully passed the level of proficiency in which they were entered.

This service, provided to private piano teachers by the Greater Lansing Area Chapter of the Michigan Music Teachers Association, evaluated the working knowledge of the student, and enabled both the teacher and the student to see their areas of strength and weakness.

Nine levels of proficiency were recognized, and each participant tested on written theory, transposition, sight reading, keyboard theory and eartraining.

Those who entered were Kristil Speck, Cindy Armbrustmacher, Bill Tennant, Amy Schmidt, Nancy Thelen, Jeff Richards, Leigh Ann Darnell, Tina Trefil, Erin Fox, Lisa Vitek and Sherrie Vitek.

Mrs. Witteveen also teaches the nationally recognized Keyboard Arts group method. This spring, she received full endorsement for teaching the Keyboard Arts Elementary Program. She had previously earned full endorsement in teaching the Introduction to Music Study and Adult Music Programs.

SCOLIOSIS: CHIROPRACTIC CAN ELIMINATE THE NEED FOR BRACES AND SURGERY

A year ago, Tom Rayman, a seventh grader at St. Johns' Rodney B. Wilson Jr. High School, was told he had a tendency toward scoliosis. Although not directly referred to us, Tom's mother was a patient in our office, so she brought him in for an examination.

We found the characteristic signs of a developing scoliosis. One shoulder was higher than the other, there was a slight rotation with elevation in the hips and one leg appeared shorter than the other. We put him on a program of spinal adjustments that brought his spine back to complete health.

The message is as simple as the Chiropractic procedure we use. If your children show any of the signs of scoliosis we listed above, we'll be glad to take a look at them without charge. If you suspect, or already know of a problem, chances are extremely good a few simple-adjustments will clear the problem up.

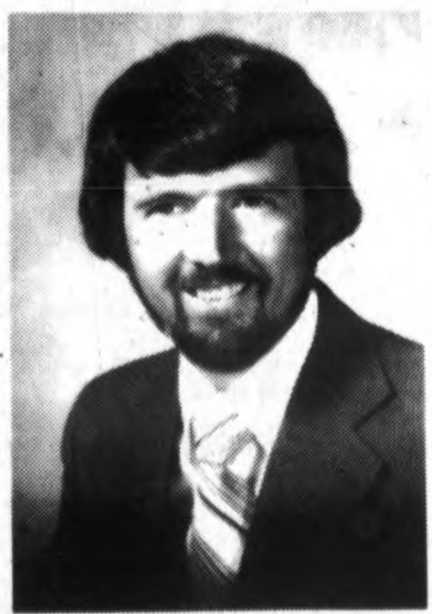

Remember, CHIROPRACTIC IS THE SAFEST, MOST EFFECTIVE HEALTH CARE KNOWN TODAY.

Clinton County Sports

St. Johns, DeWitt tops

Elsie
In the most competitive boys' Clinton County Track Meet ever, St. Johns came out the winner Monday, May 12, with 59 points, followed closely by Bath with 52 and Fowler with 48.

Rounding out the field of competitors in the boys' meet, DeWitt placed fourth with 38 1/2 points followed by Fulton with 32 1/2 Ovid-Elsie with 30 and Pewamo-Westphalia with 1.

DeWitt captured the girls' crown by collecting 70 points. Ovid-Elsie was a close-second with 60 points. St. Johns had 32, Fulton earned 24, Bath had 22 and P-W had 5.

Ovid-Elsie hosted the annual meet.

Meet records were set in five boys' events and one meet record was tied. St. Johns' Jeff Howe set two records alone, taking the 330-low hurdles in 38.7 and the 120-high hurdles in 14.8 seconds.

Fulton's Scott Winsor jumped 6-feet 6-inches to set a record in the high jump. Bath's Chris Foote went 12-feet 7 1/2 inches in the pole vault to set that record.

Another record came in the mile run when Bath's Doug Konen crossed the finish line in 4:40.3. John Lass from DeWitt tied a record in the 100-yard dash with a 10.3 clocking.

Other first place finishers for the day were:

Shotput, Steve Lewis (DeWitt), 45 feet 3.75 inches; long jump, Winsor (Fulton), 20 feet 3.75 inches; discus, Foote (Bath), 135 feet 11 inches; 2-mile run, Konen (Bath), 10 minutes 3 seconds; 880-yard run, Jeff Winans (O-E), 2:03; 440-yard dash, Winans (O-E), 51.5; and 220-yard dash, Luke Hufnagel (Fowler), 23.4.

Winning the 880-relay was St. Johns with a time of 1:32.7. The victory team was comprised of Jeff Howe, Bob Sutherland, Marty Martinez and Greg Fox.

Almost the same team combined to take the 440-yard relay in 45.8. Sutherland, Fox and Marty and Rueben Martinez took first place honors.

In the mile relay, Ovid-Elsie's team of Kevin Wilson, Mike Shank, Scott Miller and Winans posted a time of 3:31.9 to be first across the finish line.

Strong relay performances by DeWitt's 880 and 440 teams gave the Panthers the edge.

According to meet director John Oberlin, every meet record was broken in the girls' meet due in part to the good weather Monday.

Lori Libera, Cindy Faggion, Sue Faggion and Debbie Kendregan comprised the 880 relay team that finished in 1:50 to win that event. Libera, Faggion, Faggion and Tammy Noyce posted a 52.4 timing in the 440 relay to be first across the finish line there.

Ovid-Elsie's Brenda Hughes, Angie Elder, Jennifer Litomisky and Jodi Hehrer combined in the mile relay for a 4:18.4 clocking for first place. Hehrer also won first place honors in the 440-yard dash with a 62.1 clocking and Litomisky won the high jump for O-E with a 5-foot 4-inch effort.

Ovid-Elsie's Robin Parker was a double winner in the girls 100-low hurdles and the girls' 220-low hurdles. She had a 15.8 time in the 100 lows and a 31.4 timing in the 220's.

Bath's Ruth Mielhke captured two first places in the shotput with a toss of 35 feet 11.75 inches and the discus with a throw of 117 feet 11 inches.

Other individual winners in Monday's girls' meet were:

Long jump, Vicki Sehlke (O-E), 15 feet 3 inches; 2-mile Liz Jensen (DeWitt), 12:41.1; 880 run, Kelly Robinson (DeWitt), 2:31.1; 100-yard dash, Becky Klein (Fowler), 11.7 mile run, Lori Grendys (DeWitt), 5:47.6; and the 220-yard dash, Kelly Peck (SJ), 27.7.

The Winner!

Baseball tryouts set

St. Johns

Youth Baseball gets started this week with draft and tryouts for all leagues and fund raiser meetings and a work day.

Draft and tryouts are scheduled for all leagues, Thursday, May 15 at the ballfields behind Bee's Chevy-Olds.

Little League (ages 11, 12, 13) will tryout at 5:30 p.m. This is for boys who have not played before. Little League officials prefer that all teams stay intact except in special cases where it would be best for a 10 year old player to drop down to the Minor League. This is necessary in order to keep all the present Little League teams.

Minor League (ages 8, 9, 10) will tryout at 6 p.m. This time will also be used to organize this new league and kick-off a fundraiser activity. Three or four managers are still needed for this age.

Pony League (ages 14, 15 and 16) will tryout at 7 p.m. May 16 has been set as a rain date, same times as above.

Season openers for the three leagues are Little League, May 27, Minor League, June 9 and Pony League, June 9.

The Little League fundraiser will kick-off Saturday, May 17 at 9 a.m. at St. Johns High School Auditorium. All Little League teams, managers and coaches must attend.

The Minor League will be instructed on the fundraiser at tryouts, May 15 and Pony League will have no formal fundraiser, rather all players will pay a $10 league fee. This year's Pony League will be smaller by two teams. Disbanded will be Farmer's Petroleum and Julie K. Players from these teams will be absorbed into the seven remaining teams at Thursday's draft session.

The work date, Saturday, May 17, starting at 9 a.m. is important to the program according to Jaycee officials who sponsor the program. Parents, coaches, service clubs and all interested citizens are urged to come and help paint, clean, rake and mend and repair.

Pirates streak continues

The Pirates swept double-headers from Bellevue and Laingsburg last week, as Keith Spitzley picked up two of the four victories. P-W tipped Laingsburg by narrow margins on Thursday, May 8. They took the first game 7-5 and the second game 6-5.

Earlier in the week the Pirates topped Bellevue by scores of 9-4 and 4-3.

Spitzley won the opener Thursday night, allowing just five hits as P-W scored four runs in the first inning. After a one-out single by Tom Droste, Laingsburg pitching gave up five straight walks and two wild pitches, accounting for the runs.

They added two in the second inning to begin what looked like a rout on a double by Droste, another by Chris Thelen and finally a single by Mike Pohl.

In the fourth, Dave Smith walked, stole second and third and came home on a wild pitch by Mark Mahoney. Mahoney, who relieved in the first for Laingsburg, took the loss.

In the second game, Scott Simon, in relief of Chris Thelen, was the winning pitcher and Mahoney was saddled with another loss.

Against Bellevue, Spitzley won the opener and Chris Thelen came back to take the nightcap. Thelen added a homerun, a triple and two RBI's to aid his own cause.

Pewamo-Westphalia had a doubleheader at Pottersville Monday evening, 7-2, led by winning pitcher, Keith Spitzley who now claims a 5-0 season record. The team stands 10-1 for their season; 9-1 in the league.

The Pirates earned 7 runs on 9 hits, committing one error. Pottersville managed 6 hits but only brought in two runners.

The P-W team started scoring in the fourth inning. With one out, Chris Schneider singled; Dan Thelen walked and Scott Simon hit a fly for the second out. Brian Stump then hit an infield single to load the bases and Tim Nurenberg doubled for three RBI's.

In the seventh inning Guy Walters walked to open the inning and was forced out at second on a grounder by Tom Droste. Chris Thelen got a triple and an RBI. This was Thelen's third extra base hit in the game. Mike Pohl hit a homer into the bleachers and chalked up his 18th RBI of the season. He's batting .400.

Redwing Lanes hosts tourney

Redwing Lanes will host a final roll-off for the top 16 men and women bowlers this Friday night at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to watch some of this area's finest kglers try for a first place prize of $100.

Four bowlers remain in the men's and women's categories. John Bond faces Dick Seeley, while Tom Bullard squares off against Paul Heller. Bond rolled 657 and 656 series' and topped Steve Price and Steve Sutfin to earn semi-final status and enter competition with the highest average.

Marge Hurst will meet Sue Paksi and Roberta Kelley will challenge Carol Egres. Hurst comes into semi-final action with the best back-to-back series', sporting a 1128 pin count for her two previous contests. Hurst topped both Mary Terrall and Eileen Strickland to earn her spot in the semis.

O-E sweeps Corunna

Ovid-Elsie's girls' and boys' track teams were successful in defeating Corunna on Wednesday, May 7. The girls won, 67-56 and the boys, 73-59.

The boys took first place in ten of 16 events and the girls were first in nine. Jeff Winans was a multiple winner for the boys team, taking the honors in the 100 yard and 440 yard dashes.

The boys were shutout in only one event, the shotput, and it was that solid depth that gave them their win. They tallied six seconds and five third places. Other boys who took first place medals were: Doug Acre in the discus; Don Fabus in the long jump; Jon Torrey in the 120 yard hurdles; Scott Miller in the 330 yard hurdles; Al Betz in the 880 yard run; plus Mike Shank in the 220 dash.

Two relay teams also took first places. The 880 yard relay team of Todd Winans, Scott Miller, John Sovis and Kevin Wilson were clocked in 1:37 and the mile relay team of Wilson, Miller and Brian and Mike Shank won also. Their time was 3:38.5.

The boys are now 2-2 in the league and 4-2 in overall dual meet competition.

The girls boosted their records to 3-1 and 6-1 overall in their win over Corunna. Jodi Hehrer and Jen Litomisky in the high jump and 220 yard dash.

Theresa Batora was first in the discus and second in the shotput, while Robin Parker won the hurdles and Brenda Hughes the half-mile run.

Like the boys' team, the girls' 880 and mile relay teams were also winners. The 880 team is composed of Vicki Schlike, Kathy Parker, Litomisky and Robin Parker. The mile team members are Brenda Hughes, Angie Elder, Litomisky and Hehrer.

Olivet nine edges Eagles, 3-1

The Eagles lost a single game to Olivet on Monday night, in a pitcher's dual, 3-1. Mark Halfman was the loser and he allowed just three hits. Todd Gosner was the winner and he scattered four Fowler hits to earn the victory.

Lloyd Feldpausch scored the lone Fowler run when he singled and later scored on a throwing error. He was thrown out at the plate in the

After winning three straight last week, the Redwing's softball team can finish no worse than second place in the league with wins over Ionia and Ovid-Elsie this week. If someone can catch Corunna again and Chesaning the picture could look even brighter.

St. Johns captured a single contest from Corunna and swept a doubleheader away from Alma to set their league mark at 5-3. Chesaning sits atop the standings with a 5-1 mark, followed by Corunna with a 4-2 mark. St. Johns follows both teams and is now 3-3. Ionia is 1-5 and Ovid-Elsie is winless in six games.

Brenda Thelen upped her personal record to 5-2 on the season as she walked eight and struck-out four batters, earning the win against Corunna. The final score was 21-18. St. Johns led at one time 21-5, before a 13-run fourth inning by Corunna.

Yvonne Makara and Denise Henning led St. Johns at the plate. Makara went 3-for-5 and collected six RBI's on two doubles and a single. Henning had three RBI's.

Against Alma, Steph Smith won the first game and Brenda Thelen became 6-2 after winning the second. Makara again had a hot bat in the first game, going 2-for-3 and collecting five RBI's. Denise Thelen was 3-for-4, on a single, a double and a triple. She drove in four runs. St. Johns won the opener 11-7.

Brenda Thelen walked two and struck-out two in the 22-2 shellacking they handed Alma in the nightcap. She also drove in three RBI's. Leading hitters for the Redwings included, Joan Pawlowski, with a 2-for-2 game; Ronda Osga, who was 1-for-3 and added five runs on three walks and a double; Irenna Garapetyan, 2-for-3 and Denise Thelen who drove in four runs.

Wings outrun Ionia tracksters

The boys track team at St. Johns fared far better last week than their female counterparts, as the boys topped Ionia 100 1/2-31 1/2 and the girls lost 90-53. The girls finished a distant sixth at the Corunna Relays.

The girls' only highlights at Corunna were Caren Rojas's fine split time of 17.3 in the shuttle hurdle relay and Julie Badeaux's 4 feet 10 inch effort in the high jump.

The girls swept the 220 dash from Ionia when Peck, Good and Blasen finished one-two-three.

Connie Koenigsnecht joined the girls to take first in the 440 relay as well.

Julie Badeaux and Melinda Beck accounted for individual first place finishes for St. Johns, Badeaux in the high jump and Beck in the half-mile run.

The Redwing boys took first in 14 of 16 events as they swamped the weak Ionia team. The list of individual first place finishers included: Bob Sutherland, long jump; Jeff Howe, high jump (6 feet 6 inches); Cal Winsor, pole vault (11 feet); Jerry Peters in the two-mile; Howe again in the hurdle events, Dan Matson in both the 880 and 440; and Greg Fox in the 100 and 220 yard dash.

All three relay teams won for the Redwings, the 440, 880 and mile. St. Johns also swept the two-mile and the 330 low hurdles.

sixth inning to end a near-rally by the Eagles. The four Fowler hits were spread among Feldpausch, Tom Weber, Doug Cook and Steve Schneider.

Thursday, May 8, Fowler split a doubleheader with Fulton, losing the first game 9-6 and winning the second 7-0. Halfman made his first start of the year in that game and went the distance, allowing just four hits, striking out 11 and walking just one batter.

Seven games remain on the Fowler schedule, a single game with DeWitt on Wednesday, another with St. Pats. on Thursday, then doubleheaders with Laingsburg Saturday, P.W. on Monday and the final regular season game with Bellevue on Thursday, May 22.

Fowler stops Olivet, 14-5

The Fowler girls softball team continues to roll over and through opponents, beating Olivet 14-5 on Monday night and winning three straight last week.

Jane George raised her record to 6-1 as she got the win over Olivet, who almost gave the game to Fowler on their 11 errors. Chris Mott was the losing pitcher. Diane Klein was the leading hitter for the game with two hits in four trips to the plate. Both hits were doubles and she had two runs-batted-in.

Fowler scored three quick runs in the opening inning on a walk, Klein's first double, a sacrifice and a freak play. Ginger Bozing's last strike was dropped by the Olivet catcher and when Ginger raced to first, the catcher threw wildly into right field and she scored from there. The majority of the rest of Fowler's runs came courtesy of the numerous Olivet errors and a few well placed hits. Jane George and Kat Schmidt contributed timely singles in the game.

Against Fulton, Coach Betsy Smith cited the fine play and leadership of Mae Farley and Kat Schmidt as driving forces behind the 12-6 and 12-3 wins. Connie Feldpausch had three RBI's in the Eagles' victory over Pottsville early last week. Jane George won all three games.

Fowler plays a single game with St. Pats. on Thursday, a doubleheader with P.W. on Monday and finishes their season with Bellevue on May 22. Pre-District play starts later that week.

by Alma, Ionia

A win, two losses and a third place at the league meet. That's a quick summary of the week in tennis for St. Johns. The Redwings had almost expected to take second, but Ionia, a team that the St. Johns netter had defeated twice in the regular season, nipped them by one point, 25-24 for second. Alma was first with 34 points.

Bruce Fedewa, number one singles, placed third losing to Adams of Ionia 6-1, 6-7 and 9-7 in a heartbreaker. Number two player Chuck Coleman was second, losing a good solid match by 3-6, 7-6, 6-3 margins. Dan Halfmann was third at number three singles and Jud Escher also finished third.

Garth Banninga and Jeff Musolf, playing at number one doubles placed second. They lost to Alma's number one team, 6-4, 6-2 in the finals. Todd Bensinger and Jon Warren at number three doubles were also second and Pete Witteveen and Kevin O'Connor were third. St. Johns two dual meet losses came at the rackets of Alma, 6-1 and Lansing Eastern, 4-3. Musolf and Banninga earned the only win against Alma. All three doubles teams managed wins against Eastern.

St. Johns also defeated Ovid-Elsie handily on Tuesday, May 6 by a score of 7-0. Fedewa defeated Dave Baret, 6-2, 6-0; Coleman defeated Greg Terpstra, 6-1, 6-1; Halfmann defeated Dale Greenhoe, 7-5, 6-4; and Jud Escher defeated Neil Stambersky, 6-1, 6-2.

In doubles competition: Banninga and Musolf def. Roberts and Greenhoe, Witteveen and O'Connor def. Smith and Kessler, and Bensinger and Warren def. Staplew and Summers, all in straight sets.

St. Johns is 8-2 in dual meet play. They are hoping to get a lift by topping Everett this week before Friday's Regionals.

St Johns diamondmen dips below .500

The Redwings, after defeating Corunna, 9-4 on Tuesday, May 6, had an opportunity to move their record over .500 by sweeping a doubleheader with rival Alma on Thursday.

St. Johns failed to convert the opportunity, splitting with the Panthers, losing the opener 13-1, but coming back to take the nightcap, 8-6. Rod Rojas pitched a strong game for St. Johns in the second game, striking out nine batters giving up three hits and raising his record to 3-1 overall. The Redwings fell to 3-4 in league play, 4-6 overall.

St. Johns led 7-0 going into the top of the fifth; inning, before Alma took advantage of three walks, a hit batsman and two base hits to score their only runs of the game in that inning.

St. Johns scored four runs in the first inning. Kurt Conley was safe on an error, stole second and moved to third on Chris Ballinger's single. Dave Sehlike walked to load the bases and Dean Sharick's double brought home two runs. Todd Bakita drove home two more with a single. The Redwings scored two more in the second when Kurt Conley singled and Duane Rudy reached base on an error; and Sehlike singled them home. St. Johns wrapped things up with added runs in the third and fifth innings.

Todd Bakita and Rod Rojas had two hits apiece to lead St. Johns in the win. In the first game, Todd Gilroy absorbed the loss. The Redwings collected seven hits, but could push just one run across the plate. They committed two errors in the game and gave up 10 hits to Alma. In the second game they got ten hits, while committing just one error. Alma had three costly errors.

In the Corunna game, Rojas also won, spreading four hits over seven innings and striking out an impressive 15 batters. Chris Ballinger had two key RBI's and Duane Rudy had a grand slam homer in the sixth inning. At the time, St. Johns held a slim 5-4 lead and Rojas shut out the Cavaliers in the final inning.

St. Johns has Ovid-Elsie on their schedule for Thursday, May 15 and they will also host Holt on Monday, May 19.

St. Johns High School Building Trades Program

A DECADE IN REVIEW

The Workers...talented students & dedicated instructors.

OPEN HOUSE

Sunday, May 18th, 1-5 p.m.

800 S. Lansing St.

1980

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Chapko
800 S. Lansing

A built-in vacuum system, an electric garage door opener and a wood patio door for better insulation have been installed in the 1980 St. Johns building trades house.

These new features in this house already purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Chapko of Ashley make it a first of its kind for the St. Johns program.

The 1,239 square feet of living space contains three bedrooms, two baths, a laundry room on the first floor, and a kitchen-dining room combination. The house also features a two-car garage, covered patio and a full basement.

The hickory kitchen cabinets are by Schrock and complementing the cabinetry is a butcher block counter top. Also installed in the kitchen were a dishwasher and range hood.

Though the manual labor of building the house is done in the building trades classes, taught by instructor Robert Niemi and technical assistant Carl Orson, the behind-the-scenes work is completed by two other classes at St. Johns High School, namely the drafting and design class and the home furnishing class.

The drafting and design class prepared complete working drawings for the house under the guidance of instructor Terry Adams. The home furnishings class was responsible for selecting paint, wallpaper, light fixtures and carpeting. They were guided by instructor Grace Ormston.

Don and Bonna Rae Henning
801 S. Lansing

"It's small, but not too small," said Mrs. Bonna Rae Henning. The Hennings have four of nine children still at home and she said she truly likes everything about their home. She said they have loved the house since they saw it. She particularly likes the floor plan and the upstairs laundry room. She also added, "They did a beautiful job on the fireplace."

1978

Clare and Dorothy Stonebrook
213 W. Sturgis

"I like the look of the house on the outside," Dorothy Stonebrook said. "The L-shape really sold me on this one," she said. Other reasons she found attractive about this house was the number of shade trees and the ideal size of the house for the Stonebrooks who are retired. Clare Stonebrook said he liked the house because it was "maintenance free."

1977

Terry and Sally Hall
803 S. Lansing

Lots of cupboard space, a large working area, good lighting and a built in dishwasher are four very good reasons why Sally Hall likes her kitchen, where she spends a majority of her time. She also enjoys the desk in the kitchen. Since she does all the bookkeeping for the Hall household, the built-in desk comes in handy. She said she also likes the sizes of the bedrooms, lots of closet space and the two baths in their home.

1976

Elmore (Skip) and Karen Hughes
903 W. McConnell

The location attracted the Hughes to their house. Skip was transferred to St. Johns and he and Karen only had a few days to choose a house in this city. Mrs. Hughes said she was looking for a neighborhood with children and she likes being only five minutes from the schools, park and stores. She said the decorating pleased her and she liked the use of quality materials in the house.

Bob and Rosemary Green
104 Rex Lane

The Greens knew a lot of people already living in the vicinity of Rex Lane, so they were pleased to find a house in that area. Bob Green said he likes the size of some of the rooms, particularly the large living room. Also, because students were supervised during the construction of the house, he said he was "pretty well assured that things will be right." The Greens did have a problem with water leakage in their basement but after the schools fixed the basement, they haven't had any more problems.

1974

Dr. Russell and Ann Flermoen
1204 S. Swegles

"We've been happy with it, that's for sure," Ann Flermoen said. She said she likes the floor plan chosen for this house. It features a large sunken family room, a combined kitchen-dining room with an island stove in the kitchen, two full baths upstairs and a half bath in the basement. She also likes the floor plan because the three bedrooms are located at the other end of the house from the family room. Her husband, Dr. Flermoen, enjoys having a basement one brick higher than most basements because he is tall. The school contracted to have a stone fireplace built in the family room. The same stone theme is carried out on the outside of the house, too.

Dave and Sherry Miller
1202 S. Swegles

"The location, the roominess, the spaciousness and the family room," are what Sherry

Miller enjoys about this house. A fireplace the school contracted to have built is particularly enjoyed during the winter. The upstairs laundry is another added feature.

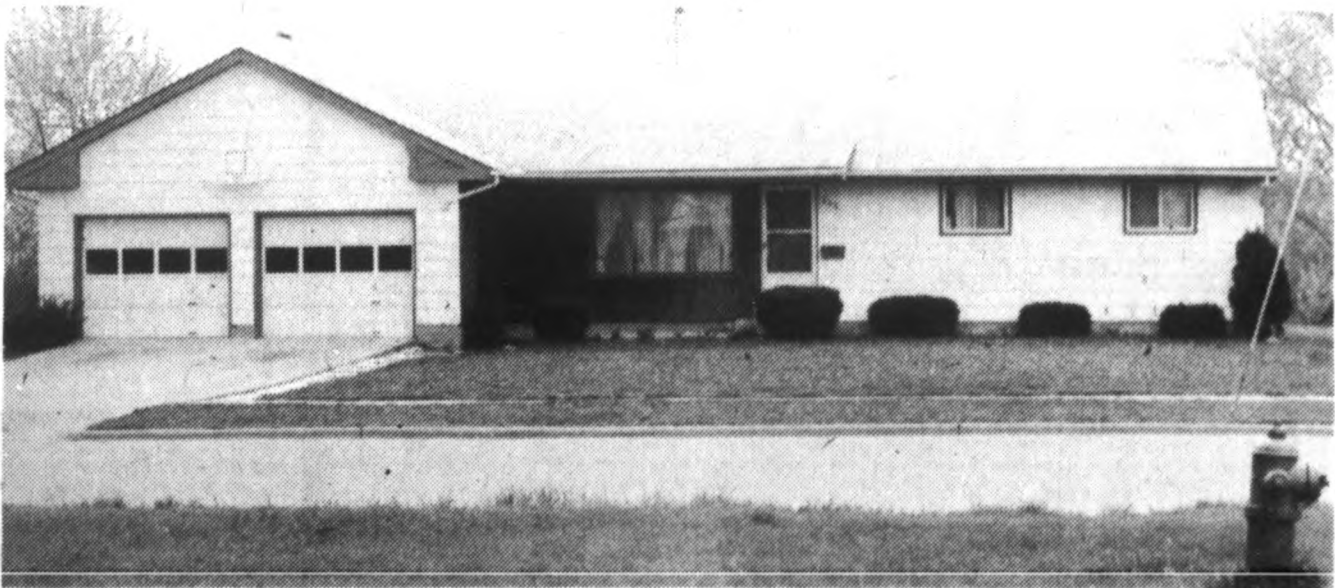

1972

Dr. Andrew and Vicki Messenger
406 W. Sickles

"It has a very nice floor plan," Vicki Messenger said. "It gives you a very spacious feeling with the living room open to the kitchen and dining room." These rooms also face a large open field at the back of the Messenger house, and this gives the residents a feeling of living in the country. Another attraction Mrs. Messenger enjoys is the upstairs utility room. The Messengers bought this home last year and she said it was very well maintained. "My father is a homebuilder and he thought it was very well made," she said.

Maridell Nelson
606 S. Lansing

"It's a compact, livable house. I love it. It's just an easy house to take care of," said

Maridell Nelson. She said she especially liked the pull-down stairway to the attic and the large storage area the attic gives her. "It had everything I wanted. I've never been sorry," she said.

Area schools host annual co-op banquets

St Johns

The St. Johns High School Office and Distributive Co-operative Education students hosted a banquet May 6 at the Dutch House of Beef for their employers.

Thirty-three supervisors from the St. Johns area were the guests of their co-op students. In attendance also were several high school business teachers in addition to the principal, William Swears; vocational director, Ken Lashaway; and superintendent of St. Johns schools, Donald Burns.

After dinner, each business supervisor introduced his co-op student and summed up the year's training program. Office education co-ordinator Jerry Beaufore reviewed the year with a look at the accomplishments achieved and objectives met in the past year.

During the year 43 OE and DE students were trained for job entry skills by the co-operative efforts of the school and the employers.

Al Johnson, distributive education co-ordinator, spoke about the 1980-81 co-op program that has already started and the need for more training stations to offer a variety of job experiences for qualified students.

The dinner closed with the distribution of certificates of appreciation given to all the participating firms and an expression of hope that they will continue to be a part of the co-op program for many years to come.

Anyone interested in talking to the co-ordinators about the co-operative method of teaching may call the high school at 224-2394.

Ovid-Elsie

The Ovid-Elsie Business Cooperative Education program concluded its eighth year of operation with the eighth annual co-op banquet on Tuesday, April 2, in the high school cafeteria.

The program was highlighted by the presentation of certificates to the training stations and to the outstanding co-op students in office education and distributive education.

Robert Foreback, cooperative education director, introduced each co-op student and presented them with an achievement record. He also introduced the head of each training station and presented them with a certificate.

The outstanding co-op award in distributive education was given to Pat Mead who is presently employed at Maron's IGA in Ovid. The outstanding co-op in office education was given to Amy Michutka, who is employed with Ovid-Elsie Area Schools, Ovid Junior High Librarian.

Eleven O-E students participated in the office education program and 12 participated in the distributive education program.

The co-op program is now setting up for next year's co-ops and if anyone is interested in discussing it, they can call Foreback at the high school. The numbers are Ovid-834-2271 and Elsie-862-4237.

Congratulations, You've paid off Uncle Sam

Congratulations are in order. Sunday, May 11, has passed and that means that from here on out this year, your income is your own.

Before May 11, it belonged to the tax man. The Tax Foundation which takes note of these things, says that the average American worker toils 131 days to earn enough money to pay taxes this year. That is five days longer than in 1978 and 11 days longer than 1975.

You are paying approximately 35 percent of your earnings in taxes. You spend two hours 52 minutes of each 8-hour working day laboring for the government. The government is the largest single expense you have.

What are we getting for this money? Well, we have an expensive energy program that doesn't work, we have a questionable defense system, we have crumbling highways and railroads that leak federal money, we have a giant welfare system from cradle to grave and we have businesses and public utilities that have to use some of their money to fight off the government of the same people they employ and serve. And we have a government that has slapped an embargo on products from the most productive segment of society, the farmer.

What can we do? We can continue to hold Washington's feet to the fire on government spending. We can demand that the money that is spent is spent wisely and more productively.

Reconstituted milk proposal creates stir

If a proposal, petitioned by a consumer food advocacy organization, to exempt reconstituted milk products from the pricing provisions of federal orders, were adopted, dairy farmers and consumers would be the losers, warned Robert Craig of St. Johns who is manager of Michigan Farm Bureau's Commodity Activities and Research Department.

During the comment period set by the USDA on the Community Nutrition Institute (CNI) petition, over 7,000 consumers, dairy farmers, farm organizations and Congressmen have responded. Among those was Elton R. Smith, Caledonia dairy farmer and president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, who told the USDA that the Institute's charges that lower-cost alternatives to fluid milk are being eliminated from commerce by federal milk marketing orders could not be substantiated and that a hearing was neither required nor necessary.

Although no decision has been announced by the USDA, Craig predicts there will be a hearing, and is urging dairy farmers to explain to consumers that what the CNI is proposing is a lower quality product.

"I think there are many consumers who do not realize that we're talking about a different product that is not comparable to the fresh milk they can buy now in their grocery stores," said Craig.

Reconstituted skim milk is blending non-fat dry milk (NFDM) with water and some fresh milk, and would contain lower solids-not-fat content. The solids-not-fat component of milk contains the protein, calcium and other valuable nutrients of milk and, under the proposal, would be reduced from 8.5 or 8.6 percent for fresh fluid milk to 8.25 percent for reconstituted milk.

"There is no question in my mind that lowering the solids-not-fat content of milk translates into a less palatable and less nutritious product," he said. "This aspect of the CNI proposal has not been told to the American consumer. One of the reasons the CNI proposal wants to change our milk marketing system is lower consumer prices. Yet, if the CNI proposal were adopted, store purchased NFDM would continue to be the most economical buy. For years, educational programs aimed at consumers, especially low-income people, have emphasized the use of non-fat dry milk in the diet for those who wanted a lower-cost alternative."

Craig said if the proposal were adopted, the effect on dairymen would be largely contingent upon the demand for reconstituted milk.

"There is no question that if sales of reconstituted, blend and filled milks were to capture a sizeable share of the fresh fluid milk market, producer prices for fluid milk would drop to the manufacturing level in order to be competitive," he said.

"We feel the proposal has the potential of reducing effective bargaining for dairy cooperatives—which has been one of the original goals of the CNI," said Craig.

"Apparently, it's kosher for other segments of the economy to bargain, but not dairymen."

SJ school millage

The remainder of the one-half mill for maintenance would be spent to get Central School to comply with state fire and electrical codes.

"We are going to have to use Central Elementary for at least a few more years," Craig wrote in his report to the board. "The binding agreement made with the state fire marshal is that the violations will be corrected to operate the school in 1980-81. While some of the money will come from the normal maintenance budget, about $25,000 more is needed to correct both fire and electrical problems."

Craig pointed out that if the board decided later to renovate Central, the money would be well spent. If the board applies for state and federal historical preservation grants, the money can be counted as part of the local share.

The board has not made a decision yet to apply for the historical grants. Nor has it made a decision on the future of Central School.

Craig said his committee's "bare bones" budget upon which the millage proposal was based reflects only a 10 percent increase in expenditures over last year. "Half the current rate of inflation," he said.

The projected 1980-81 budget is based upon 4,023 students, or an anticipated loss of 50 students from this year's student enrollment. Last September, when the official Fourth Friday count was taken, St. Johns school enrollment showed a drop of 90 students from the previous year.

If the millage proposal does not pass in June, the school board will have to hold another election before the start of school.

Donald Burns, school superintendent, said the board didn't draw up a list of programs or services that would be cut if the millage proposal would fail. He did say, however, that three years ago $200,000 was cut from the school budget and there were many problems which arose from the situation.

Now, faced with a $884,110 deficit, the cuts would have to be more drastic.

Correction

There was an error in last week's Clinton County News story about the regional School Bus Safety Rodeo May 3 at Olivet High School. The story should have said Sandra Conklin of Ovid-Elsie schools placed second with 392 points. The Olivet driver received 390 points. Ms. Conklin will compete in the state bus rodeo competition June 21 at Harry Hill High School in Lansing.

For you, Mom

It was a day to honor mothers, complete with a lasagna luncheon, cards, presents and decorations, Friday, May 16 at the Walter Kyes Trainable School. Rhonda Coker's class made all the food, place mats, potted plants and "did everything," for their special Mother's Day party. Moms, Helen Nurenberg, left, and Jeanette Thelen received special plants from Mark and Tonya.

Giant posters proclaimed, "We love Mom because: She makes the bed, packs our lunch, makes birthday cakes, plays ball, takes us to the movies and gives us a kiss." (Photo by Sharon Randall)

No size limits at Sleepy Hollow

Lansing

There will again be no size or creel limit during 1980 on bass taken from Lake Ovid in Sleepy Hollow State Park, the Department of Natural Resources reported last week.

The normal size limit of 12 inches and creel limit of five bass will be lifted on Lake Ovid May 24, the start of bass season, through Dec. 31 in an effort to reduce an overabundant supply of bass in the man-made lake, said Ned Fogle, DNR fisheries specialist.

"Bass are still overabundant in Lake Ovid and have shown little change in growth over the past year in spite of liberalized regulations last year," Fogle said. "By continued liberalization of the harvest, it is hoped that the growth rate can be improved."

Fogle said the regulation changes should result in fewer fish competing for a limited food supply.

The current average size of bass in Lake Ovid is about 10 inches.

Sleepy Hollow State Park is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. A $2 daily pass or $7 annual state park sticker is required for admittance. Boat launch facilities are available for small boats.

Special mom

Mrs. Carol Kruger received a special Mother's Day gift from her poetry writing sixth grade daughter, Dulcie. The Rodney B. Wilson student won a prize in a contest sponsored by the Lansing Jaycees and the State Journal Onlooker column. (Photo by Sharon Randall)

My Mother's Special...

My Mother's special, yes, indeed. She helps me when I am in need. She listens to my troubles and tears and helps resolve all my fears. When I'm hurt and broken inside, she's always there by my side. My mother's a person with a loving touch. I guess that's why she cares so much.

So wrote Dulcie Kruger about her mother, Carol (Mrs. David) Kruger of 715 N. Clinton Ave., St. Johns. Mrs.

Kruger is an assistant cashier at Village Center IGA Store, DeWitt; Darcie is a sixth grader at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High.

Dulcie's poem about her special mother won her first place in a contest sponsored by the Lansing Jaycees and the State Journal's Onlooker column. Mrs. Kruger said Dulcie is not new to contest winning, another one of her poems won a first place in the Central School Gong Show last year.
