Work at the plant has slowed down.

Chamber to hire part-time director

By Patrice Hornak

St. Johns

A part-time director for the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce will be hired in the near future.

Chamber members met last Wednesday to discuss the Chamber's future. Their final unanimous decision was to hire a part-time director, with the possibility of making that person full-time later.

About a month and a half ago, the Chamber board of directors proposed hiring a full-time director and raise membership dues about four times for the approximately 75 members. Members were contacted by letter and asked to send in their increased dues checks.

Chamber president Bill Patton reported that only 17 Chamber members responded by sending in their checks totaling $6,200.

Last Wednesday's meeting was billed as a "do-or-die" meeting. Either a new approach to directing the Chamber would be found or the Chamber would falter. There were already rumors that if the Chamber dissolved, a downtown business association would be formed to spearhead retail promotions.

Bernard Feldpausch, owner of Bee's Chevy-Olds dealership, received applause when he said, "I think the issue is whether we are willing to promote the community—whether we do it alone or as your Chamber. I'd rather promote the community and do it together."

There had been criticism of the Chamber being downtown promotion oriented and the board made up of main street businessmen.

Patton said Chamber members should not expect to put $100 into the Chamber and then in a month or so ask what that $100 has brought him or her.

"It's not that type of an organization," he said.

Jim Mead, manager of the Whipples Office Products, volunteered to spearhead a membership drive. After the membership has been increased, more funds will be available to support the full-time or part-time director.

Cost of hiring a full-time director and staffing and equipping an office was estimated at $30,000.

Under the present system, Roberta Mageli who manages the Credit Bureau of Clinton County has been the secretary of the Chamber, coordinating the Chamber activities while fulfilling her duties as credit bureau manager.

Members of the Chamber expressed a desire to have a "visible head" of the Chamber. An effort to find a retired

Jaycees receive statewide honors

St. Johns

The St. Johns Jaycees ended the year taking a long list of state awards.

President John Berg was chosen as one of the top 20 presidents by the state group from 380 chapters in Michigan. The club was named "Outstanding Chapter," at the district level and received a regional award for "Top Member Retention."

Their fund raising benefit basketball game against WJIM personalities for the Big Brothers and Big Sisters took a first place state award in "Community Fund Raising."

Berg also was singled out for the National Vice-President's award for leadership, community programing and membership retention.

Later this summer the St. Johns

Jaycees are to be given one of the "Blue Chip" awards given annually to the top 10 chapters in each state. This is the first time the St. Johns organization has received this award.

This past year the Jaycee chapter here has grown from 63 members to 80.

Berg, who has now handed over the president's gavel to the 1980-81 president Paul White, said his year as Jaycee president was the "finest leadership experience I've ever had."

"If given the opportunity, I would jump at the chance to do it all again," he reflected. "No other organization offers what the Jaycees can in terms of personal growth and management development programs. Best of all, the Jaycees offer a fun and exciting way to benefit the community," he said.

ALL THE WAY TO WESTPHALIA, TEXAS

Kids are running

Westphalia

There's a Westphalia in Texas, 1,080 miles away from Michigan's Westphalia near the western border of Clinton County.

Integrating social studies and physical education, St. Mary's teacher, LuAnn Harr had her fourth, fifth and sixth grade students running to Westphalia, Texas, and they made it.

It was only a simulation, of course, 16 laps on the playground equaled one mile. A giant map in the hallway recorded how far they went each day, aiming for that Texas town in the middle of the state.

About 150 students participated in the run that ended last Friday. This week, (now that they're there) the students are finding out about this sister town.

Students were allowed to run in the mornings before school and at recess.

Miss Harr said the kids were obsessed at first and ran 777 miles in the first three days. As they ran through the states, they talked about those places in social studies classes.

Miss Harr said the run was a great motivator for school spirit also. Parents were interested in the project (some even offered to help run) and teachers ran too. "It got the kids all fired up," Miss Harr said, working together and seeing the interest others had in their project.

Running to Texas?

Westphalia runners chalk up another mile on their playground journey to Westphalia, Texas. Top runners in each room were left to right,

Doug Nurenberg 17.2 miles; Doug Thelen, 23.1 miles; Jodi Fox, 13.15 miles; Joe Platte, 21.4 miles and Craig G. Thelen, 12.12 miles. The students in grades four, five and six tallied up 1,080 miles to reach their sister city near Austin, Texas. (Photo by Sharon Randall)

St. Johns

The St. Johns cable television project has been at a standstill for about three weeks now. The cable company manager and the Clinton County Department of Development Control are at odds.

Under the Michigan Building Code, the cable company must apply for a building permit to construct the 300-foot tower and adjacent little electrical housing building on property located in the county.

However, Omega Communications, Inc. Manager Ed Francke said Clinton County is being a stickler for details relating to the building permit and Jack Nelson, director of the Department of Development Control, said the law is the law and Omega Communications must follow it.

According to the building code, Francke must furnish the county with a set of plans sealed by a licensed professional engineer or architect. The rub comes when the state says the engineer must be licensed in Michigan. The cable company plans were sealed by an Ohio engineer.

"We're following the state law," Nelson said.

Meanwhile, Francke said it is a bunch of "bologna."

Francke said last week that Clinton County is the only county which has required his firm to meet the state code requirements. He said in Isabella and Gratiot counties he was not required to have the plans sealed by a Michigan engineer.

The reasoning behind a state seal is to have engineers familiar with Michigan weather conditions ensure that the project will endure local weather factors. If a firm in Florida drew up some plans for a house in Michigan, it might not be familiar with the stress caused by the weight of snow and ice on a roof.

That's just an example, but it applies to this argument between Nelson's department and Francke.

"If it falls over, the only thing it will do is hurt my business," Francke said. "I'm not going to pay for an inspector. I'm not going to do it."

Francke said Nelson's request is "right out of the books" but he argues that he's put towers up throughout the area and that the Department of Development Control in Clinton County is "trying to tell me how to run my business."

Alma and Gratiot County permits officers said Clinton County is not out of line in requiring the Michigan seal. The Gratiot County permits office said it was not sure why it didn't ask for a Michigan seal when a tower was erected near Alma.

Last August Omega Communications, Inc. promised the city of St. Johns cable television would be installed by November. Francke blamed the delay on the high demand for electronics and said at that time he knew his firm couldn't complete the project in the 90 days the president of Omega Communications promised St. Johns City Commission.

Francke said the cable is up in 90 percent of the city and all the equipment is now available.

'Circuit breaker'

CUT YOUR TAXES

By Patrice Hornak
Editor

St. Johns

You want to say yes to a quality educational system in your community but you also want to say no to higher taxes. What's the solution?

Have you considered the "circuit breaker?"
The circuit breaker is the Michigan Property Tax Credit Program which allows homeowners and renters alike to get up a $1,200 tax credit or rebate on their property taxes.

Like most property tax credit programs, not everyone can qualify. It depends upon your income and the amount of your property taxes.

To see if the circuit breaker can work for you, follow these simple steps.

First, compute your household income, including salaries, interest payments and other such sources of income.

Second, find out what 3.5 percent of that income is.
Third, write down the amount of money you pay in property taxes.

Fourth, subtract the amount you computed in step 2 from the amount you pay in property taxes.

Now, multiply that figure obtained in step 4 by 60 percent. That sum will tell you how much of a credit you can receive under the Michigan Property Tax Credit Program.

Using an example supplied by the St. Johns school administration which is hoping St. Johns residents will use the circuit breaker to their advantage and pass an upcoming millage proposal, a homeowner with a household income of $30,000 and a house with a market value of $50,000, is paying $1,323 in property taxes in St. Johns.

By applying for the circuit breaker, that homeowner would pay $1,159 in property taxes, a savings of $164.

The 2.95 mill increase being requested by St. Johns school board members will cost that same homeowner $73.75 in new taxes. However, the circuit breaker will refund $44 of that $73.75. For some people the circuit breaker could refund the total cost of the millage increase.

St. Johns schools will ask for 20.7 mills in June 9 election, the 20.7 mills including a renewal of 17.75 mills and an addition of 2.95 mills. One half mill will be specified for maintenance, to match an energy grant and to update Central Elementary to meet the fire and electrical codes.

Fowler schools will ask for a renewal of 17 mills and an addition of three mills June 9.

Ovid-Elsie will ask for a renewal of 20 mills and on a separate ballot, request one-half mill for repair of the high school roof.

Fulton schools will seek a renewal of 19.52 mills and an addition of up to 2.5 mills specifically earmarked for repair/replacement of the high school roof.

Pewamo-Westphalia schools are requesting a renewal of 18.5 mills on one ballot and an addition of 2.5 mills on another ballot.

Speech therapist services localized

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

Clinton County

Speech therapist services will be localized for the coming school year, giving the county's individual school districts control over hiring, assignment and scheduling, cutting down mileage costs and eliminating a half-time-position.

The service now operates through the Clinton County Intermediate School District and that office will continue to pick up 100 percent of the difference between state aid and cost to the district, according to Assistant Superintendent of Special Education Paul Tower. They will also provide districts with a specialist to certify case loads each fall.

State aid contributions through the added cost formula for special education services now pay about 30 cents on the dollar according to Tower.

While he admitted that the change was not smoothly received by the speech therapists themselves, he said it was welcomed by administration in the local districts. "This wasn't something we did capriciously or just to solve administrative problems here," he said. "The districts have been pushing for this for some time."

The local districts have been asked to place a priority on the present speech therapists when hiring for next year. "The end of the whole thing is to be more cost effective in providing services to kids," superintendent Larry Schwartzkopf said.

The crux of the program is scheduling according to Tower. "Time spent in travel is time of no use to kids," Tower said. While state guidelines recommend a maximum case load of 75 children to each therapist, loads in the Clinton County schools average, 42 children and Tower said it was mostly because of time wasted in travel.

Local districts will take over control and accountability for the speech therapist program along with hiring, assignments and scheduling, Schwartzkopf said. This will result in a stronger program, he feels.

Ovid-Elsie, St. Johns, DeWitt, Pewamo-Westphalia and Fowler have all agreed to take over the program. The CCISD will retain two full time positions for speech therapy at Walter Kyes Trainable School, the Severely Mentally Impaired School, the pre-school programs and a half-time position for Bath Community Schools.

Tower said that children and their needed services would be considered over any cost savings. "If we come down to it next fall and students are not receiving the services they need through the recommended personnel in each district, we will make adjustments," he said.

Sandy's off to Thailand

By Sue Kiley White
Staff Writer

St. Johns

On Thursday morning Sandy Nelson a St. Johns co-ed will leave life as she has known it for 22-years and enter a world filled with poverty, disease, and illiteracy. Ms. Nelson along with three other college students are on their way to Thailand through a Student Training in Missions program sponsored by Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship. The program is otherwise known as crosscountry ministry.

For Sandy, the trip is a dream come true. Beginning in her early teens she had a strong Christian background, which to her meant helping people, all kinds of people. After joining Inter Varsity while attending college her need for helping others became even stronger which then grew into the idea to become a missionary.

Although Sandy will only be in Thailand for three months, she is expected to prepare a group of countless refugees how to live in another type of society. She will eat, sleep, and work among the Thailand refugees with her main goal being to teach them English.

She will be teaching English to members of the Hmong Tribe, who are Laotians preparing to relocate in Guyana, South America. "We don't know for sure how many we will be teaching," Ms. Nelson said. "Probably a lot of them will be adults."

'Saving Our Farms and Villages' topic of June 7 presentation

DeWitt

Joseph T. Cox, professor of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture, Michigan State University, will discuss "Saving Our Farms and Villages" in a seminar on old houses to be held at DeWitt High School, 2957 West Heribson Road, Saturday, June 7.

The educational event is sponsored by the Clinton County Historical Commission and made possible by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Humanities.

Professor Cox is a thorough educator, in the university classroom and through the State wherever people are concerned with the visual environment and preservation of our greatest resources—people and the land. He will describe the crisis in rural America, where urbanization and erosion claim six million acres of agricultural land annually. He will seek to develop a broader public understanding of the problem and suggest ways to reduce its impact while maintaining the integrity of rural living.

Other participants in the seminar include Thomas Kane, a member of the Architectural Consortium and a graduate in Environmental Design, University of Kansas.

Geneva Kebler Wiskemann, former State of Michigan archivist and chairperson of the sponsoring commission will present a guide on how to gather information about your house and community. Libbie Spoelma, chairperson of the oral history committee of the Clinton County Historical Society will show how oral history can be used

You can't watch cable TV with promises

By Patrice Hornak

When you're promised cable television by November, you may get frustrated when you don't have cable television by June.

Omega Communications, Inc. has presented many reasons why it is not on schedule. The excuses started coming in December.

First, there was the manager saying the president of the company wasn't realistic in telling St. Johns it could have cable television in 90 days if the city chose his service.

Secondly, there was the excuse that parts weren't available. The industry was expanding too rapidly and there was a great demand for the materials.

Now the cable company manager says Clinton County is uncooperative in providing a building permit.

In effect, the Clinton County Department of Developmental Control

(zoning and planning offices combined) is going by the books. The building code for the State of Michigan points out what Omega Communications must do. Now it's the cable company's responsibility to comply.

Trying not to play judge, I still find it difficult to understand why it has taken over three weeks to resolve differences between the Clinton County officials and the cable company. If they were in a hurry to get cable television to the residents of St. Johns, why haven't they reached an accord and progressed on the project?

Omega Communications has a responsibility to the people of St. Johns to build a tower and get the service installed. Some businesses take their responsibilities seriously. Others don't.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

On Thursday, May 15, the Sault Ste. Marie Junior High Band visited St. Johns Junior High. The group performed in two school assemblies and were housed with families in St. Johns that evening.

For many of the students, the trip was the first one away from home. The host families were so kind in all the dealings with my students. The student body at the junior high was very receptive and I was very impressed with the behavior of the students.

Principal Robert Kudwa, Assistant Principal William

Brown, and Band Director John Speck were most gracious in every way.

I thought the best way to thank all the people in St. Johns was to write a letter to your newspaper. I know my students will think of your town and people with the happiest of memories.

Thank you all.

Sincerely,

Catherine Pontious, Band Director

ASK THE JUDGE

By Judge Marvin Robertson

Question: What's the difference between a power of attorney and a guardianship?

A power of attorney is an instrument whereby one party authorizes another party to act as his agent. A power of attorney is created voluntarily without court approval or supervision. This instrument can delegate very broad powers to the agent to act for the estate of the person who executed the power of attorney. A power of attorney automatically terminates upon the death of either of the parties.

A guardian is a person appointed by the court to have control over the person of a minor or an adult who cannot protect his own person because of mental incompetency, mental retardation, chronic use of drugs, chronic use of alcohol, or chronic gambling, or by reason of detention by a foreign power, absence or disappearance, or being unborn or unascertained.

The main difference between the two is the manner in which they are created. A power of attorney is a voluntary delegation of control of one's estate (or financial affairs). A guardianship is ordered by a court without the consent of the person for whom the guardianship was created (legally known as the "ward").

Question: What's the difference between a guardian and conservator?

As indicated above, a guardian has control over the "person." A conservator has control over the "estate" (loosely defined as property and financial affairs). A guardian or conservator, or both, may be appointed for appropriate persons. If both are appointed, the guardian and conservator may be two different persons, or one person may have both powers.

Timing of rescue attempt questionable

By Richard L. Milliman

PRESENTED HEREWITH, some purely personal perceptions, take 'em or leave 'em, as you will.

—The ill-fated Iranian rescue mission, seemed to be in keeping with everything else that has happened to us in the Iranian crisis since last November. It was tragic, humiliating, frustrating, resembling fiction rather than reality, just as everything else has been. Yet it happened. I don't object to the attempt to rescue the hostage prisoners; however, I do seriously question the timing, which seemed to contradict our simultaneous actions and words. It seemed to me the fitting time for rescue attempt was last November or December. As to the military or strategic aspects of the plan, I'm not qualified to comment. Few are.

—I can't shake the growing fear that no matter how many avenues we pursue, the 53 hostages are doomed. I fear they will likely be caught up as early victims when the powder keg which is present-day internal Iran finally explodes, as it certainly will.

—An elemental question, perhaps, but I've never seen the answer: who is paying for the keep of the hostages in Iran? Who pays for the food, for example? Who pays the cook, who was hired back with much fanfare?

—PRESIDENT CARTER'S appointment of Edmund Muskie to become secretary of state seemed to me to be an excellent political move by the President. In a stroke, he has strengthened his bridges to the Kennedy-liberal wing of his party, so ably manned to date by Vice President Mondale. Whether Mr. Muskie will make a good secretary of state is purely academic; his appointment was strictly political. I was surprised Mr. Muskie accepted the job.

—That Mr. Carter's manipulation of the White House and his incumbency is transparent politics should be no surprise. That's the way the art is practiced, and Mr. Carter's a master at it. He signed an economic aid bill for the new Volkswagen plant in Michigan just days before the Michigan Democratic caucuses. He visited the wounded servicemen in Texas just days before the Texas primary. He vacated the rose garden for the campaign trail about the same time opinion polls showed him running behind Ronald Reagan, citing, of course, that things were better so he could be freed from his self-imposed rose garden restrictions; yet, what had changed for the better? Nothing. It should be understood that Mr. Carter is in a fight for his political life, and is using every means at his command to survive. It should also be understood that his actions are what they are: blatant politics.

—MICHIGAN'S GOV. Milliken finally announced his choice for president. George Bush got the nod. But Milliken's timing, when Bush is so far behind front-runner Ronald Reagan, is open to serious question as to its political advisability. Milliken can't really help Bush at this point; but he does strain his posture with the inevitable winner, Mr. Reagan. When Gov. Milliken says he has no ambitions along the Potomac and seeks no federal job, I believe him; his actions, such as his late endorsement of George Bush, prove it.

—I'm still not convinced on the Olympics boycott, one way or the other. I can see merit in a united position against participation, thus registering our national objection to Soviet militarism; yet I can see merit in the argument that the boycott is too weak a gesture to have significance beyond national petulance. Then came May Day, and its traditional celebration in communist countries. The official Russian observance of May Day in Moscow drew the appearance of United States diplomatic officials in the audience. Yet our American athletes are expected to boycott the international Olympics. I don't quite understand all the innuendos of international diplomacy, I guess. It just seems inconsistent to me.

—To close with some added comment on the Iranian rescue mission. I cringe whenever I read or see criticism of those who conducted the raid, and references to Keystone Kops or similar demeaning terminology. The servicemen involved certainly did their best, the eight who died were killed in the line of duty, and the aim of the exercise was noble. Criticism of the men who were on the front line is not justified, in my opinion; the criticism, if due, should be aimed at those in charge. That's where the buck should stop; that's where any fingers should be pointed. Tragedy, yes; comedy, no.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day is celebrated all over the United States. It's a day that we show respect and love for those we care for by putting flowers on their graves.

It's also referred to as Decoration Day. As we visit the cemeteries throughout our land, it truly looks like "Decoration Day".

Many people have urns and each year refill them with a variety of flowers that the greenhouses have fixed in a filler to fit the urn. It's really beautiful. Others have planted small trees, shrubs, perennial flowers, geraniums, petunias, and all kinds of bouquets of "cut" flowers.

There are some cemeteries which do not allow you to put flowers or plants anywhere except on the stone itself and the stone is usually flat with the ground.

This is a day when many, many families get together, perhaps the only time this year. Quite often it's a pot-luck, or a buffet style cold meal so that whoever shows up or whenever they arrive the meal is ready. It makes this day seem sad and also glad.

It's a time for remembering. As you visit each grave you have a mental picture of each person and some incidents that stand out in your mind.

Some people visit the cemetery only at this time of the year. There are others who visit the cemetery very often. I think it's "to each his own". It doesn't make your love any more or any less, for the person who has gone.

There are so many ways to remember those we love—a spoken word, a piece of furniture, a book, a special day. Oh, so many things bring back memories that, to me, it doesn't have to be a visit to the cemetery. But if it helps you to go often, then that is what you should do.

The sad thing about Memorial Day is that it makes a long weekend. So many people are driving on the highway and so many lose their lives.

For those who get back safely, it's been a great weekend. Cottages are opened for the season, boats are put in the water, docks are put out once again and vacation plans are made. It's the real start of the summer season.

Enjoy yourselves, but please, drive carefully and watch out for the "other guy". Like they say, "The life you save may be your own."

So — until next time.

Summer camp fees for gymnastic equipment

KIDS, TEACHERS GIVE TIME

By Sharon Randall
Staff Writer

St. Johns

The headline on this profile is about the summer gymnastic program because that was the urgent request of its subjects, Jim and Sue Cerny.

It's the program that is important to the Cernys but it is the Cernys that make the Summer Gymnastic Camp profile material.

All the fees for the week long camp will go back into the gymnastic program because the director, Jim Cerny, the coach, Sue Cerny; and all the assistants, (most of them their high school team) will be donating their time.

The Cernys didn't have any trouble convincing members of the Redwings' Girl's Gymnastic team that their time and talent should be free this summer. "The kids are donating their time because they want new equipment," Sue said. Also on the summer volunteer staff are former St. Johns High School gymnasts, Bart Acino and Jim and Sue's oldest daughter, Denise. Bart is an outstanding gymnast at Michigan State University and Denise, (also a MSU student) is teaching gymnastics for the Spartan Youth Club. Bart and Denise both add outstanding talent to the summer coaching staff. Nine outstanding members of the girl's varsity team will be assisting. "I feel they are qualified," Sue said, explaining that the students spot for each other all the time.

The camp, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. each day, is for both boys and girls, ages eight to 18. Like all the summer camps run through the community education department, participants will get a special t-shirt. The session ends with a show for parents on Friday.

The major piece of equipment the Cernys and their team have in mind is a large floor exercise mat that is also used for the wrestling program. For gymnastic use the present mat (which is about 10 years old) has become illegal because it is four to six feet too short.

"The rubber has lost its resiliency," Sue explained. "It just isn't offering the kids the padding and protection that we need." Jim said a new mat the proper size will cost between $3,000 and $5,000, "depending upon what we choose." "We share with the wrestling program, so whatever we pick, it will be something they can use too," Sue added.

Gymnastic equipment is expensive the Cernys say and "things change." The better the youngsters become, the more they need the edge that good equipment can give them. "We find when we don't have these things (new kinds of equipment), they fall behind," Sue explained.

She'd also like to have a set of bars with more spring. "The kids on our team are of quite a high level," she explained. "The better they get the better equipment we need."

The Cernys got into gymnastics as parents. When Denise was only a year old they became aware of "how flexible she was." They put her into dancing classes as a three year old. "I'm not sure now, that was a real good idea," Sue said, "but I'd read that many children lose their flexibility by the time they're seven." At whatever age children start, Sue credits dance as being very important to a future gymnast.

"I can't say enough for dancing classes," she said. "Eighty-percent of the girls we have in high school say they wish they had taken dance or stayed with it."

Second daughter, Darlene, followed Denise into dancing and gymnastics, picking up her interest by first being a spectator. As their daughters advanced, the Cernys started learning how to spot and work with them. "Teachers were always saying they needed extra work at home, so we learned how to do it," Sue said.

Sue was still working on her degree so she took some classes in gymnastics, working under George Szyplula at Michigan State University. Szyplula and his wife and oldest daughter have a gymnastics program for young children in the Lansing area. By invitation Denise and Darlene became members of the Spartan Youth Club (where Denise is teaching).

Sue is now Varsity Gymnastic Coach and Jim is Assistant Varsity Coach for St. Johns High School. He is director of the summer gymnastic program. "We are going to take a poll at the first session and see if there is enough interest to have a second week, later in the summer," he said. Sue urges parents to send their children to a gymnastic camp, I wish they would send them to this first session so the money will go towards the equipment," she said.

Gymnastics is not the Cerny family's only interest. Sue teaches seventh grade English and reading and girl's physical education at Rodney B. Wilson and Jim works for Federal Mogul. Both have been active in 4-H for many years.

SOME PLANT FLOWERS

Memorial Day is time to remember loved ones

St. Johns

Spotted around Mt. Rest Cemetery are large stone planters placed there many years ago and for the past 40 or so years it hasn't been clear who takes care of them. A few have bulbs in them and come to life with spring flowers. A few are filled and the rest remain grassy and unkempt.

For nearly 30 years, Howard Purvis has prepared for Memorial Day by filling one of the planters near his family's graves. He took on the project 30 years ago when his father was buried there and has continued each year.

Close to the planter is a large black stone shaped like two hearts with simple block letters identifying "Purvis." It's the spot he has selected for himself and his wife. As he filled the planter, last weekend, he laughed and gestured towards his stone saying, "I don't know who's going to do this when I'm over there."

This year the planter will fill in and blossom with salvia, marigolds, and geraniums. More than $30 worth of plants fill the planter, carefully tilled and marked out in rows from the center. "I put leaves in it each year, and work it up good," Purvis said. He also keeps it watered all summer long, checking on it every other night. It's easy to keep watch on the planter, Purvis and his wife live near the cemetery and he works there part-time.

He looks at his planter garden as "a hobby," and said he gets many compliments on it each year.

Purvis has a son George who works at Motor Wheel and a daughter Linda Horvath, who manages Fairway Discount Drugs. He has four grandchildren.

Besides gardening (he also plants a large vegetable garden) Purvis spends a lot of time thinking about fixing up a Model A Ford that he acquired on a trip to Wyoming.

In memory

Planning commission okays rezoning

Clinton County

In a four hour meeting the Clinton County Planning Commission recommended the approval of a request for rezoning by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mahler from Watertown Township. The Mahlers are requesting that an 80 acre parcel be rezoned from one-family Rural Residential to Agricultural. The action took place on May 14.

In other business, the planning commission, acting contrary to a recommendation of the Department of Development Control voted to approve an amendment to the county zoning ordinance. The amendment if approved by the Board of Commissioners would allow heat treating, phosphating, metal plating, painting and other associated metal finishing operations in the Light Industry District. These operations are currently permitted in only the Heavy Industry District.

Forty-six applications, representing nearly 4,700 acres, were approved for enrollment in P.A. 116, The Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act. Clinton County presently has 66,242.43 acres enrolled in the Act with 8,962 acres being enrolled since the first of the year.

Finally, the commission recommended that the county apply to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for an Innovative Grant for Community Energy Conservation. The approximately $83,000.00 sought would be the county's portion of a joint application with other units of government in the tri-county area.

Among the projects proposed are energy audits of small businesses and low and moderate income and senior citizen residents, weatherization and retrofitting of small businesses and homes, hiring an energy coordinator and the education of targeted groups on energy conservation. The grant is for 100 percent funding and would not require the expenditure of any county monies.

All of the above recommendations are now forwarded to the Board of Commissioners for action at their regular monthly meeting on May 17.

IT BUILDS CHARACTER

Pilgrim's Caravan celebrates 10th year

By Sue Kiley White Staff Writer

St. Johns

A Caravan converged on St. Johns Friday evening. The cars kept rolling into the Pilgrim United Methodist Church parking lot with 120 children and parents flocking into the church for the evening's ceremony.

This was the 10th annual Caravan sponsored by the church according to Pastor Brian Sheen. It is similar to scouting except it also has a strong church background and deals in the areas of mental, physical, social and spiritual aspects.

In addition to the children participating there is an adult staff of about 25 people consisting of a director, secretary, and guides.

"This is the kind of program which can draw a lot of enthusiasm for the first year and then die quickly," said Rev. Sheen. "This hasn't happened here because of the tremendous amount of work a lot of people have done and cooperation we have received."

"The children start out in the first grade as papooses. Later, the girls become Indian maidens and the boys are Indian braves. They work on various projects and also do things together such as have skating parties and build a float for the Memorial Day parade. "The children are taken on a lot of field trips and special outings," said Rev. Sheen. "Our main goal however, is to build character."

Also stressed in the program is respect for adults and good manners. According to Rev. Sheen's philosophy these are things which affect us all and should never stop being taught. "We are not a playground or a babysitting service," he said. "Hopefully, we are helping parents with their missions in life, too."

High school age students and young adults without children of their own have been responsible for helping teach the program. They meet every Wednesday night

September through May. "Many beautiful things have happened through the program," said Rev. Sheen. "We've been part of the community."

Rev. Sheen indicated most of the troops have troop grandparents whom they do special things for including inviting them for dinner. Caravan program can be found in South Africa, Canada and England.

The program consisted of an awards presentation and displays of work the troops have done during the year. The children also recited the codes of honor and scriptures.

The theme of the Caravan is being trailblazers following a pioneer theme. The 10th annual honor council also featured the International Director from Kansas City and Charles Fry, district superintendent of United Methodist Churches of the central district.

Danny Glowacki had the special honor of saying the Lord's Prayer in sign language. Rev. Sheen taught him as he was taught by the Osage Indians of Wyoming.

Village of Fowler

Summary of Fowler Village Council Meeting

A regular meeting of the Fowler Village Council was called to order by President Carl Koenigsnecht on Monday, May 12, 1980, at 7:00 P.M. Trustees present were Antonides, George, Koenigsnecht, Smith and Simon. Spicer was absent.

Minutes of the April meeting were approved as read. Bills were approved as submitted. Committee assignments for 1980-81 were distributed, and LeRoy Joerge was named President Pro-Tem.

Representatives of the local Jaycees presented a list of improvements they would like to make at Fink Field, and asked for Village assistance. The Council voted to participate with the Jaycees in construction of a basketball court, at an estimated cost of $775. The Council also determined the Village would repair the backstop and fence, and furnish stone-dust for the ball field, as its contribution to the local Little League organization.

A sign will be installed at Fink Field prohibiting the use of the field for adult male slow-pitch softball. This field was not designed for adult male slow-pitch softball, and it is proving dangerous to residents using the picnic and playground area. The fence is also being damaged repeatedly. Alternate fields are available near the High School.

Clark Becker submitted a building permit application and petitioned for sewer line extension on West M-21. His plot plan was approved, and as soon as the exact length of the sewer line extension is determined, engineering plans will be requested.

The Council approved the change of use of a building on North Main Street for use as an ice cream drive-in type business.

Budget and tax levy were discussed. In 1979, the Village levied a tax rate of 11 mills, and with the Headlee rollback, collected 10.19 mills. Although the charter authorizes up to 15 mills (13.386 with Headlee rollback), the Council voted not to ask for an increase, but to again levy 11 mills. However, this year only 9.80 mills will be collected after the reduction factor is applied. A public hearing on the budget, and the proposed use of Federal Revenue Sharing funds for bridge and street improvements will be held at the next meeting on June 9, 1980.

The Council voted to share the cost of a privacy fence behind the Village storage garage, and to purchase a used tractor back-hoe.

Bill Johnson of Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr and Huber, discussed the current status of the water project and the storm sewer study, and there was also considerable discussion concerning the replacement of bridges on Maple Street.

The Street and Sidewalk committee was asked to be prepared to make street improvement recommendations at the next meeting. The Clerk was asked to attend a meeting on the Local Review of Preliminary Census Data on May 22nd.

Meeting adjourned 11:50 P.M.

Winnie McKean Village Clerk

Kleen Brite Systems, Inc. has opened its fifth Michigan office recently in St. Johns naming Bruce Weber, 204 S. Lansing, as manager. The new business cleans carpets and upholstery in addition to tinting and dyeing carpets. Weber does daytime and Saturday cleanings for both residential and commercial carpets. He can be reached anytime by calling 224-8519. Estimates are given. Weber explained the Kleen Brite process as pre-spotting, shampooing and then steam cleaning the carpet. He said an average job takes between one and a half to two hours. In addition to cleaning carpets he can also fix tears and burns as well as car interiors. Weber and his wife Peggy are expecting their first child in the fall. (Photo by Sue Kiley White) the refugees English is because it is the national language of Guyana, a country which has opened its doors to thousands of refugees recently.

Although Sandy and her fellow student missionaries have never taught in a classroom situation, they have been preparing for the past year on the obstacles they will face and methods they must use to teach these refugees, who are in Ms. Nelson's words, "basically illiterate."

"We don't know what to expect," she commented. "We know we are going to have to start at the very beginning with the alphabet. From there we will teach them through association and then spelling...who knows how far we'll get."

There are several reasons for Sandy wanting to be a teacher in a refugee camp. First of all, she wants to be a student of the culture and learn more about other people. Secondly, it fulfills her dream of finding out what a missionary is all about.

Sandy and her friends did not choose the country in which they will be working. Originally, they were scheduled to go to the Philippines but this fell through at the last minute.

There are 92 other students involved with the same missionary program from the United States who are working in foreign countries this summer.

"I can't wait to go," she said a week before she was scheduled to leave. "And yet there is a part of me that is very scared to go."

One weekend a month the group trained for their summer experience in Ohio. They learned how to face cultural differences, changes in moral values, and how to cope in a different environment.

If this wasn't enough, she also had to raise $1,940 for the trip. She still has $900 to go. The total program is non-budgeted with the funds subsisting on the mission coming from donations. The program has been in existence since 1972.

"I'm guessing on the types of clothes I should bring," she said. "It will be the rainy season so I guess that means a lot of light weight things."

She noted she has already learned a lot about the things she previously took for granted. For example, she began to pack a mirror for her trip, but then decided maybe that was a vain thing to do. After all what difference would it really make? She has had to get six shots for things such as typhoid, cholera, diphtheria and tetanus. In addition to the shots, she will also have to take malaria pills.

"Our biggest fear is in failing," Ms. Nelson said. "But we know we will be able to teach them something, which puts them in a better position than before."

When they return at the end of the summer, Sandy and her fellow workers will be showing slides and talking to people around Michigan about their experience. Central Michigan University, where Sandy is a student, donated $300 for educational supplies and has also supplied their film.

"My parents aren't too excited about my going," she said. "I guess I already know I can't call home if I'm lonely."

ST. JOHNS CITY COMMISSION MINUTES

At the request of Atty. Jack Cote, at 6:50 p.m. on Apr. 27, 1980, the Mayor asked the City Comm. to assemble at the Comm. Chamber at 7:30 p.m., for the purpose of an emergency session pursuant to Sec. 5 (5) of Public Acts 267 of 1976.

Comm. Archart, Roemer, Hannah and Starck voted unanimously in a Roll Call Vote to convene the Emergency Meeting pursuant to the statute having concluded that the imminent welfare of the citizenry was at stake. Attempts to contact Comm. Brockmyre were unsuccessful as he was out of the City. Also present were City Manager Randy L. Humphrey and City Atty. Paul A. Maples.

Atty. Cote reported that after extensive negotiations and deliberations at the pre-trial conference which started into this evening, Auto Owners had made an offer to settle the City vs Auto Owners litigation. Further, that the Court had requested the Comm. to consider the offer immediately and Atty. Cote felt any delay would jeopardize the offer. Cote informed the Comm. that Auto Owners was willing to pay the $58,841.40 previously ordered without appeal, and another $250,000 to settle the case. Those figures were in addition to the $107,371.25 Auto Owners had previously paid. The monies would be paid to the Grubbaughs on the outstanding judgment balance and they would in turn, rebate to the City and Comm. Further, the Judge would draft a joint press release subject to review by each party.

Mr. Cote highly recommended that the offer be accepted. He explained the calculated risk of any trial that would be incurred and the additional expense of the trial and probable appeals. He further explained that acceptance of this settlement would forgo the necessity to levy any additional millage this summer to pay off the judgment balance. The Comm. discussed the possibilities and considerations at length.

The Comm. discussed the possibility of accepting the settlement offer of Auto Owners per the recommendation of the City's Trial Counselor, Jack Cote.

Mayor Archart called a roll call vote. Roll Call Vote: Archart: YEA; Roemer: YEA; Hannah: YEA; Starck: YEA. Absent: Brockmyre. Motion carried.

There being no other business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:15 p.m.

In last week's Clinton County News the names of the groomsmen in the Lisa Thelen and Chris Weber wedding were inadvertently out. Groomsmen for the wedding were Jeff Thelen, Bruce Weber, James Theis, Perry Thelen and Kirk Thelen. Ring bearer was Eric Weber. The Clinton County News regrets this error.

Traverse City, founded in 1847, was an important lumbering center, but the rich forests were gradually depleted, due to overzealous efforts of the loggers. In the 1890's B.J. Morgan discovered that red tart cherries were suited to the area's soil and climate and Traverse City eventually became the cherry capitol of the nation, a title it still claims, according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing.

SJ Woman's Club installs new officers

By Dorothy Welsh

St. Johns

St. Johns Woman's Club installed officers at their May 7 luncheon in the Niles Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Installed were president, Mrs. William Morris; vice president, Mrs. John Giesecke; treasurer, Mrs. John Furry; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jeddie Stanley; secretary, Mrs. Keith McDowell; and directors, Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. Lloyd Ford, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. Winchell Brown, Mrs. Paul Pressler and Mrs. James Leon.

During introduction of guests, past presidents were honored.

Mrs. Maurice Witteveen entertained the club members and guests with a "Spring Medley" on the piano.

A skit was presented under the direction of Mrs. Giesecke. It depicted the life and works of Julia Ward Howe. The characterization was presented by Mrs. Winchell Brown in a suitable early 20th century costume. Furniture of the period helped set the stage.

The skit told of Mrs. Howe's difficulties and persistence in working for women's rights.

The local club is proud of the fact that the Resolution for state Care of Emotionally Disturbed Children drawn up here has been accepted and adopted by the State Federation.

Mrs. Lawrence announced that the District Convention will be held in St. Johns in the First Methodist Church on Sept. 23.

CHIROPRACTORS DON'T JUST HAPPEN

There are currently only about 30,000 practicing Chiropractors in the world. Most practice here in the United States, where Chiropractic was born. Since there are so few, I'm often asked the question, "How did you become interested in Chiropractic?"

The answer is the same in my case as it is for 99% of the others who have chosen this unique profession. A Chiropractor helped me! For years I had suffered from low back pain and had gone thru hundreds of tests. The medical doctors all agreed there was nothing wrong with me. But why did I still hurt?

Neither could they relate to my yearly bout with hay fever, my increasing nervousness, or the pains in my stomach. I tried other things, but nothing worked nearly as well as Chiropractic. After I began receiving adjustments my lower back started to get better. Then hay fever season came around and I found I could control it by being adjusted. Shortly, my stomach problem started to go away.

I was convinced. If Chiropractic could help me that way, I knew I wanted to pass that along to others. Now, all along the way, I was searching for a career that would satisfy me and still allow me to be of service to my fellow man. Thru Chiropractic I not only found a way of becoming healthier, I found a whole new way of life.

What now? We (my wife and I) want to help as many people as we possibly can to discover this way to better health.

The requirements? A minimum of two years of pre-professional college, then four years of Chiropractic School with a two-year intern requirement included. Anyone who may be interested in a Chiropractic career may contact us at either office.

Stretch

Sometimes you have to really stretch to get back to first base in time. This St. Johns runner did just that during last week's St. Johns vs. Ovid-Elsie baseball contest. The Redwings and the Marauders split, with O-E taking the opener, 14-5, and St. Johns winning the nightcap, 9-8. (Photo by Jeff Salisbury)

Fowler wins Class D track regionals at Caro

Leaving their nearest opponent over 20 points behind them, the Fowler Eagles boys track team collected 103 1/2 points to win the Class D regional held at Caro on Saturday, May 17. Michigan Lutheran Seminary was second with 79 team points. The Eagles were first in three relays and one individual event.

The Luttings, Koenigs-knechts, Thelens, Hufnagels, Schmitts and Feld-pausches all can be justly proud as ten of the team members come from these six families. The Eagles will have runners in 10 events at the state finals.

Tim Luttig, Neil Hufnagel and Doug Koenigs-knecht will compete in the high jump; Dave Koenigs-knecht will run in the high and low hurdles; Doug will enter the 100 meter dash; Neil and Dave will both be in the long jump; both Koenigs-knechts, plus Luke Hufnagel and Terry Thelen will form the 800 relay team; Luke, Terry, Doug and Larry Luttig will join forces to run the 400 relay; Dale Feldpausch will run the 800 meters and Mike Schmitt will run the 3200. The 1600 meter relay team of Luke Hufnagel, Tim Luttig, Jeff Thelen and Neil Hufnagel will also compete.

This lengthy group will certainly make Fowler one of the favorites to take the title.

Fowler also received scoring from Dennis Schmitz in the discus, whose throw of 135 feet 11 inches was two inches short of qualifying; Neil Hufnagel in the low hurdles; Jeff Thelen in the 400; Dennis Thelen in the 1600 and Luke Hufnagel in the 200 meter dash.

Wednesday is Fowler's league meet at Olivet. If the Eagles can finish higher than Olivet does, they will win the title of the GMAC. Friday there will be a Co-ed meet at Shepherd.

Howe, Matson in A finale

Jeff Howe and Dan Matson will represent the Redwings at the Class A state finals in boys' track on Saturday, May 31, by virtue of their high finishes in regional competition over the weekend.

The finals will be held at Houseman Field in Grand Rapids.

Howe qualified in the high and low hurdles and the high jump, while Matson will run the 400 meters. Howe was second in both the low and high hurdle events and Matson was third.

As a team, St. Johns finished in third place, tied with Grand Ledge. Sexton won the regional meet and East Lansing was second. St. Johns girls tallied just one point.

Other scoring for the Redwings came from the 800 meter relay team of Bob Sutherland, Howe, Marty Martinez and Greg Fox and Matson's sixth place in the 800 meter run. The relay team was fifth and missed by two-tenths of a second a chance to attend the finals in two weeks.

St. Johns runs in the annual conference meet on Tuesday at Alma and on Thursday will send a contingent of ninth and tenth graders to an invitational at Ovid-Elsie. Approximately 15 other teams are expected to attend.

St. Johns topped Ovid-Elsie last week in a dual meet, 92-40 in the boys' competition and lost to the O-E girls' team, 74-49.

Redwings clip Holt, split with Ovid-Elsie

The Redwings nipped Holt in a non-league baseball contest Monday behind a strong pitching performance by Paul Swagart. St. Johns took the lone game 7-5. John Brija took the loss for Holt. Rod Rojas had a hot bat for St. Johns, collecting three hits and driving in four runs.

St. Johns also lost a qualifying game over the weekend to East Lansing, 2-0 which ends their state tournament action almost before it began.

"We are looking forward to receiving a possible bid for the Diamond Classic," said Coach John Wilcox. "They (the tournament officials) indicated some interest in us last year, though we weren't selected."

Last Thursday night, St. Johns and Ovid-Elsie split a strange sort of doubleheader. The first game was a makeup game from an April 29 rainout. Action began where it had ended, in the fourth inning with O-E in the lead 6-4. The Marauders breezed to an easy 14-5 win, before the Redwings came back to win narrowly, 9-8 in the next game.

St. Johns opened the game with four runs in the first inning. Garrett Hayes doubled, Kurt Conley singled and Duane Rudy hit a homerun. Chris Ballinger walked and later scored after a single, a sacrifice and another walk and then a squeeze bunt by Kurt Slamka. They added two more in the bottom of the third on a walk and three singles.

Ovid-Elsie got on the board with a run in the top of the third when Scott Hudecek doubled and came home on a wild throw by the second basemen. They soared in front by picking up six runs in the fourth inning on a series of walks and singles and a three-run homer by Kevin Pease. After single runs by St. Johns in the fifth and by O-E in the sixth, St. Johns trailed 8-7 going into the bottom of the seventh inning.

Chris Ballinger singled, but was forced at second on a fielder's choice single by Dave Sehlike. Dean Sharick doubled to put runners at second and third and when Todd Bakita was intentionally walked, the bases were loaded.

Don Stoddard, pinch hitting, promptly singled home both Sehlike and Sharick with the tying and winning runs.

Rod Rojas, in relief of Paul Swagart, was the winner, John Micka took the loss for the Marauders. Rojas and Micka had reversed roles in the first game.

St. Johns also played Ionia on Wednesday night and lost, 6-1. Their record is now 6-9 overall and they finished 4-6 in the league. The Redwing season ends Thursday night at home with a doubleheader against Mt. Pleasant.

Correction

There was an error in a Redwing Lanes tournament story last week. The story should have said Sue Paksi came into the semi-final action with the back-to-back series, sporting a 1,128 pin count for her two previous contests.

P-W clinches baseball title

The P-W Pirates took the first game of a doubleheader from Fowler on Monday night and clinched the league title at the same time, winning 8-7 in eight innings.

The Eagles came back to win the nightcap, 8-2. Keith Spitzley was the winner of the first game and Tom Weber took the loss.

Tom Droste, Mike Pohl, Tim Nurenberg and Dave Thelen each had two hits. Droste, Pohl and Nurenberg each had a pair of doubles. Lloyd Feldpausch went 2-3 and Dave Wirth was 2-4 and had three RBIs for Fowler.

Fowler scored three runs in the top of the seventh to take a 7-6 lead, before P-W tied things up with a run in the bottom half of the inning to send the game into extra innings. Fowler failed to score and P-W's Guy Walter was safe on an error to open the eighth. Tom Droste hit his second double and Walter crossed the plate with the winning run.

Ron Simon was the winning pitcher for Fowler in the second game and Chris Thelen absorbed the loss. Lee Klein, Chris Thelen and Tom Droste had the only hits for P-W. Feldpausch, Doug Cook, Mark Halfman, Dave Wirth, Kurt Thelen and Jim Pung each had safeties for Fowler.

Both teams have a single game remaining in their regular season. P-W's record stands at 11-2 and Fowler is 8-5. Fowler plays Bellevue on Thursday before a pre-district game on Friday with Portland St. Patrick.

Fowler lost to Laingsburg 8-4, Olivet, 3-1 and topped St. Pats, 13-3 in a busy week in baseball for the Eagles.

Eagles take 2 from P-W Pirates

The Eagles and the Pirates met in a CMAC softball doubleheader on Monday night and Fowler swept both games from P-W, taking the opening game 7-5 and winning the second 15-5, in a game shortened by the 10-run rule.

Pewamo-Westphalia was held to just two hits in the first game and Judy Spitzley collected them both. Fowler took advantage of a number of stolen bases and sacrifices at key times to capture the first game.

Kat Schmidt and Connie Feldpausch each had two hits for the Eagles in the second game. Schmidt had a single, a homerun and four RBI's. Feldpausch had two runs-batted-in. Sherry Schneider was 2 for 3 for the losers.

A seven-run second inning spelled the difference for Fowler in the nightcap. They scored on several walks, a single, scoring two runners, by Schmidt and singles by Betsy Weber and Connie Feldpausch. Feldpausch also stole two bases, including homeplate. Last week, Fowler was beaten 9-4 by Portland St. Patrick. Jane George took the loss and she and Kat Schmidt had two hits apiece.

Fowler plays Bellevue on Wednesday and Potterville, in a free district game, on Friday.

Youth baseball program expands

St. Johns

The new Minor League in the Youth Baseball program here has been successfully formed, dividing 124 eight, nine and 10 year olds into eight teams and two divisions.

Nineteen boys were drafted into the Little League teams at tryouts last week but there are still some openings for boys ages 11, 12 and 13. Those interested should call Jon Berg, 224-4973, evenings for a team assignment.

The Pony League will be shrunk by two teams this year. All players from the Julie K. and Farmers Petroleum must be redrafted if they wish to play again this year. The Youth Baseball committee is seeking help in contracting these players who must be present for a re-entry draft, Thursday, May 22 at 7:30 p.m. at Bee's Fields.

The Little League fund raiser is in full swing according to Berg. Teams are selling trash bags door-to-door for individual and team prizes. The fund raiser is being administered by the St. Johns Kiwanis Club.

"Since all teams are essentially the same as last year, the competition is expected to be very tough," Berg said. The public is invited to watch Youth Baseball games, Monday through Thursday evenings beginning May 27 starting at 6 p.m.

The program is also seeking umpires for both Little League and Pony League.

Also raising money for hats, shirts and equipment are the new Minor League members who are selling $1 coupons redeemable at the St. Johns McDonald's Restaurant. The restaurant management donated the coupons for the money raiser.

Netters 5th in regional

St. Johns winds up their tennis season with a match against Ithaca, the number six team in Class C on Tuesday, hoping to add another victory to their 9-3 1980 mark. The Redwings topped Lansing Everett last week by a narrow 4-3 margin and finished fifth in their regional, held at Midland High School on Friday.

Host Midland High School was first with 21 team points, followed by Midland Dow, with 20; Traverse City, 15; Bay City John Glenn, 13 and St. Johns with 10 points.

The remainder of the scoring dropped off quickly. Bay City Central had three points and finished sixth; Saginaw Arthur Hill had two points and Bay City Auburn Western tied with Bridgeport with one point. Saginaw High School failed to score.

Number one singles Bruce Fedewa lost in the first round as did the doubles team of Warren and Bensinger. Chuck Coleman, Dan Halfmann and Jud Escher all won opening matches, but failed to advance after losing in the next round.

Banninga and Musolf and Witteveen and O'Connor also won in the first round before losing in later rounds. Witteveen and O'Connor lost in the finals to Traverse City.

Fedewa and Escher won against Everett in singles competition and the doubles team of Banninga and Musolf and Warren and Bensinger also were victorious.

Wings finish in 3-way tie

Coach Jan Szymczak was happy his team defeated Holt on Monday, 5-2, but he was even happier to hear that Alma had gotten by Chesaning in the first game of their doubleheader.

That win meant that St. Johns had earned a share of the MMB softball title with Corunna and Chesaning. All three teams finished with 7-3 marks. Chesaning topped Alma in the nightcap of their twin-bill, 5-4.

For the Redwings, it means an improved record and a rise from third place last year to a piece of the crown this year.

"A lot of people share in this thing," said Szymczak. "A lot of people contributed and it was a total effort."

St. Johns finished with six straight wins and they have won eight of their last 10 games.

Steph Smith, with relief help from Brenda Thelen was the winner over Holt.

Lori Howell was the loser for the Rams. Smith allowed both runs and gave up all three hits to Holt. Thelen, who came on in the fourth inning, faced 12 batters and struckout six. She gave up three straight walks in the seventh inning as Holt threatened to score, but she got two straight batters to fan, before Denise Thelen made a spectacular grab of a pop up along the right foul line with her back to the infield, ending the game.

Ronda Osga was 1-2; Beth Cowan, 2-3; Joan Pawlowski was 1-3, with two RBIs; and Ann Stafford collected one hit and three runs-batted-in.

Last week, St. Johns topped both Ionia and Ovid-Elsie. The Redwings clipped Ionia, 17-13, as Ronda Osga and Irena Garapetyan combined for seven hits, five RBIs and six runs scored. Steph Smith was the winner. Karen Erth took the loss.

Against O-E, the score was 19-0. Pawlowski went 4-4, Denise Henning was 3-3 and Cowan and Brenda Thelen had two hits each. Lori Len, Boni Bendt, Bev Hurst, Elsie O'Donnell and Teri Fisher all had hits for O-E.

St. Johns has a pre-district game with Lansing Eastern on Friday afternoon at Lansing Eastern High School.
