Storm leaves death, severe crop loss

By DAVID THOMAS

Flood tragedy

Off duty Clinton County Sheriff deputy George Weber, looks over the tragic aftermath of Fowler's flash flooding last week. Robert Lewis Bushamp of Sorrell Street drowned early Thursday morning after his pickup was pulled off the road into deep waters a few blocks from downtown. Bushamp's body was found about 70 feet from his truck. (Photo by David Olds)

Torrential rains hit Clinton County last Wednesday night causing millions of dollars of damage and resulting in the death of a 43-year-old Fowler man.

Hardest hit were Fowler, St. Johns, Maple Rapids and Ovid. Unofficial readings by the National Weather Service in Lansing indicated that five and one half inches of rain fell southwest of Fowler during the storm. "This is just an unofficial reading as we don't have an official weather station in Clinton County," said Bob Jacobson, National Weather Service meteorologist. "In some places it may have been as much as eight inches."

The storm claimed the life of Robert Lewis Bushamp of 246 Sorrell in Fowler as he returned home early Thursday morning. The Clinton County Sheriff's Department speculated that Bushamp's truck may have been swept off the road by strong currents into a low, water filled area near the railroad tracks, just a few blocks from downtown Fowler. His body was found approximately 70 feet from his truck around 8 a.m. Thursday morning. Bushamp was the manager of Lewie's Total Station in Fowler.

The heavy rains and flooding caused extensive damage to private residences, businesses and farmland throughout the county. Captain Robert Ferry of the Clinton County Sheriff's Department, coordinator of the county's damage assessment effort, estimated that $5,248,000 in damages occurred to private property and $319,000 to public property, including roads, storm drains sanitary sewers and bridges. In addition, it is estimated that county farmers lost more than $10 million in crop damage due to the storm.

Damage estimates for Clinton County were submitted to the governor's office Tuesday night and will be used to determine the county's eligibility for disaster relief, Ferry said. A decision is expected sometime this week.

Fowler dozens of basements were flooded with the water level sometimes reaching more than five feet. Businesses along Main Street suffered extensive damage and M-21 on the east end of town, was nearly impassable. Workers at Becker Furniture were mopping up water, thankful that no furniture was stored in their flooded basement.

"We're at least luckier than the guy that drowned," said Becker's manager Gerald Fox, shaking his head.

While basements and streets received extensive flooding in St. Johns, the worst damage may have been done to businesses along South US-27. Bee's Chevrolet and Oldsmobile was virtually under water and 113 new cars received water damage.

"I don't know yet what the loss is in dollars," said owner Bernie Feldpausch. "We're going through all of the cars now to determine the extent of the damage. It was really something . . . When we got here we found the wooden desks floating up next to the ceiling."

Feldpausch, like most of the county's businessmen, however, refused to admit defeat.

"We're just going to smile and go on," he said. The worst of the flooding in Ovid didn't occur until Friday when the Maple River poured over its banks. Sections of M-21 were treacherous because of the swiftly moving water and many residents near the river were forced to evacuate their homes. The Red Cross and other emergency units were put on alert in case patients at the Ovid Convalescent Home had to be evacuated. By late Friday, however, the river had begun to recede and Ovid residents began the task of drying out their village.

County roads were a mess, causing many county schools to close.

"We're just getting them back into shape," said Robert Ancel, superintendent of the Clinton County Road Commission. "Fourteen roads and several bridges were out. We've still got six or seven that are impassable."

The worst damage occurred in Lebanon, Essex and Dallas townships, according to Ancel. He estimated that it would cost the county $161,000 and take several weeks before the road repair job would be complete.

Homecoming parade is Friday

George and Bess Osgood, longtime supporters of area education, will be the grand marshalls in the 1981 St. Johns Homecoming Parade, Friday, Oct. 9 at 5 p.m.

The Osgood's will have the place of honor in the parade that travels up Clinton Avenue.

The homecoming football game with Ionia starts at 7:30 p.m. at the football field next to the city park. The Homecoming Queen will be announced during halftime activities. The queen and Mrs. Tkny Kuntz will pick winning tickets for the "Wheels and Wings for Care" drawing for a 1950 Ford Classic and a Cesna Airplane. The drawing has been moved to the homecoming celebration due to postponement of the "Wheels and Wings"

Lions ask: put papers at the curb

The St. Johns Lions Club will collect paper, glass and aluminum Saturday if city residents place them at the curb by 10 a.m.

The materials are taken to the organization's Recycling Center for processing and then are sold for re-use. Proceeds go into community projects.

Newspapers should be tied into flat bundles or can be put in grocery bags and placed at the curb. Bottles and cans must be clean.

The Lions also work at the Recycling Center, at the corner of Steel and Swegles Street, the fourth Thursday of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. and residents can drop off materials for recycling there.

Tryouts scheduled

Tryouts for the Pewamo-Westphalia Community Players production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" will be held Sunday, Oct. 11 from 1 to 4 p.m. and Monday, Oct. 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Pewamo Elementary School gym.

Fowler's big Oktoberfest this weekend

The Fowler Oktoberfest starts tomorrow with a Young Adults' Dance from 9 to 12:30 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 10, is the big day for the annual activity with Kid-dy Day from 11 to 4 p.m. and a Polka Mass at 4:30 p.m.

Dinner and music starts at 6 p.m. with both German and American food served in three large tents near the Holy Trinity Church.

Food, drinks and music are available all evening long.

Five vie for city posts

Five candidates are in the running for three seats on the St. Johns City Commission to be filled in a Nov. 3 election.

Seeking the three spots are two incumbents, Mayor John Arehart and Commissioner Richard Starck. Commissioner Elaine Brockmyre, who has served one term, has not sought re-election.

Ray Kentfield, a former mayor and commissioner who served on the board for 14 years, throws his hat back into the ring joining political newcomers Mark Holden and Thomas G. Wiseman.

Kentfield, a former city fireman, owns a painting and decorating business.

Holden, who works for Brulin and Co. as an industrial chemicals salesman has lived in St. Johns since 1977. He is also co-owner of the new Clinton Community Television Company.

Wiseman is personnel director at Clinton

Memorial Hospital. He has lived in St. Johns for six years, is a member of Kiwanis and has been active in Little League.

Arehart has served as mayor for the past four years. He has been on the commission for eight. He is an elementary principal at Riley Elementary School, St. Johns.

Starck is seeking his second term on the commission. A St. Johns resident for 15 years, he works as a designer and salesman for Cardox, a division of Chemetron Company.

Polls will be open, Nov. 3 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the city's five precincts. Absentee ballots are available at the city offices on Walker Street and can be mailed to citizens by request up to the Saturday before the election according to City Clerk Rick Coletta. City residents who are not going to be in town, Nov. 3, can also vote absentee at city offices up to the day before.

Disastrous rains flood Clinton County towns

Downpour closes businesses

Photographer David Olds toured Clinton County flood areas last Thursday to assess the damage. He found businesses closed and encountered cars and trucks plowing through streets that looked more like rivers. He saw the tragedy that struck dozens of new automobiles at Bee's Chevrolet and Oldsmobile. He followed the fire truck in Fowler as it went from house to house pumping out flooded basements. In St. Johns he watched Charley Wieber and Jeff VanFleet finding their boat more practical than their car to negotiate the city's street.

Make mixes on your own

A special program on making your own convenience mixes, "Back to Basics with Master Mixes and Spices," will be offered in St. Johns at the Capitol Savings and Loan Community Room, Oct. 15 at 1 and 7 p.m.

Extension Home Economist Carol Butler said the workshop will help people find ways to reduce their grocery bills. "We will explore the versatility of mixes and how to spice up family meals," she said.

Participants will have the opportunity to take home master mix of their own, Ms. Butler said. Bring an air-tight container, wooden spoon and measuring cup. Cost will vary with mixes. Call the Extension Office, 224-3288, to register.

Wacousta's fish suppers start Friday

The first family style fish supper of the season will be served from 4:30-7:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 9, by Wacousta Masonic Lodge No. 359. Take out dinner will be available at reduced prices. To find Wacousta, travel 5 miles west of Airport Road on Grand River Avenue to Wacousta Road, then north 2.5 miles.

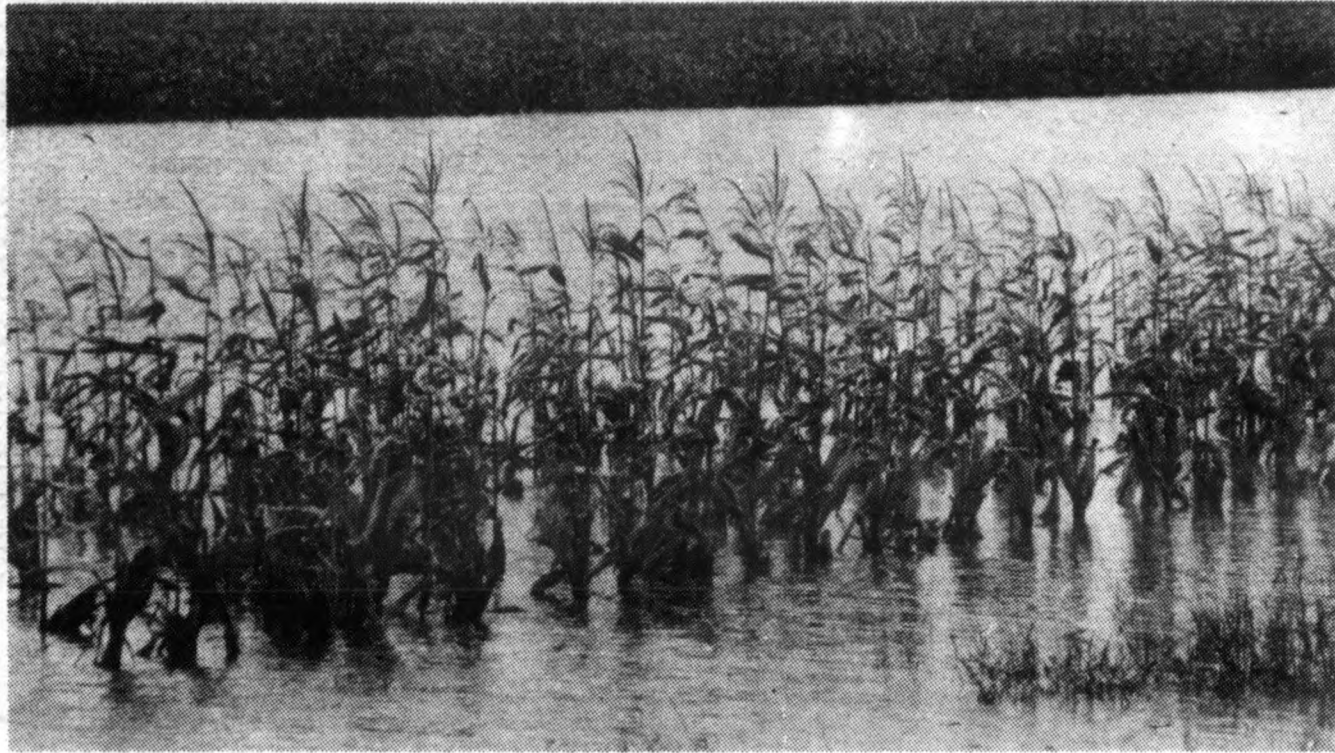

Alumni band will gather

The St. Johns Band Alumni will be having their annual get-together on Oct. 16. The alumni will be performing with the St. Johns High School Band at halftime of the football game with Ovid-Elsie. After the game, the alumni will meet in the band room at the high school.

Instruments will be available for those who need them. Alumni should meet in the band room at 6 p.m. for a practice session.

Dress is dark pants and red tops. For more information, call Walter Cole at 224-7523 or Cheryl Cole Shannon at 669-9197.

County farmers lose $10 million

By DAVID THOMAS

"I wouldn't encourage anybody to buy fur coats on the strength of their crops still in the field," Harold Benson said, looking over his field of water-sogged beans.

Benson, a Bengal Township farmer, was like many other Clinton County farmers. He knew last week's rain had destroyed much of his crop, but he wasn't ready to admit defeat.

"I really don't know yet," he said. "I've never seen it rain like it did. All we can do is hope it dries up so we can get in the fields and salvage something."

Crop insurance was available in the spring, but most Clinton County farmers decided not to buy it.

"It just hasn't been that good a buy in the past," said George McQueen, director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Office. "It's not that expensive, but the benefits just aren't that good. In addition, the risk of extensive damage due to heavy rains in Michigan has not been that great."

Benson's son Tom agrees.

"Almost nobody around here has insurance that would cover this kind of damage," he said. "We've got some hail insurance. But it didn't hail here."

Total crop loss in Clinton County was estimated at $10.8 million, according to McQueen. The biggest losers were dry beans at $2.7 million, corn at $3.4 million and soy beans at 3.1 million.

"In addition," McQueen said, "loss of topsoil itself is another $3.6 million and cleaning out the soil deposited in the streams will eventually cost another half million."

Farmers are currently being hurt by the danger of root and crop rot and by an inability to get into their fields to harvest what is left. McQueen also warned that either heavy winds or a wet snowfall might pull plants, already bowed by the heavy rains, right out of the ground.

"What we could sure use right now is a little bit of nice weather," Tom Benson said. "A little wind, some sunshine and 60 degree temperatures."

Lakes of rain

Flooded fields were the norm in Clinton County last week and many remain submerged. At the Livingston Farm on US-27, north of St. Johns, this stand of corn drooped in a rain filled pond. Crop damage has been estimated at $10 million in the county. (Photo by David Olds)

Homeowners won't cover

Very few qualify for insurance

By DAVID THOMAS

Even though hundreds of Clinton County residents received some degree of damage during last week's heavy rains, few will recoup their losses through their insurance policies.

A survey of local insurance agents indicates that conventional homeowners' policies simply do not cover flood damage.

"Flood damage is only covered through federal flood insurance programs," said Richard Hawks, a St. Johns' State Farm Insurance agent.

Not just anyone, however, can get federal flood insurance. Communities must apply and enter into a formal agreement with the Federal Emergency Management Agency. Confusion has surfaced since last week's flooding as to whether all communities are eligible for flood insurance or whether they must be located within a designated flood plain.

"The city of St. John's was never aware that federal flood insurance was available to its residents and, in fact, had been told a number of years ago we were not eligible because no portion of the city is located within a designated flood plain," said St. Johns' City Manager Randy Humphrey.

Ovid is in a designated flood plain and has been eligible for federal flood insurance since 1975, according to Larry Sanders, a spokesman for FEMA. Ovid officials, however, when contacted Tuesday, did not believe they had ever entered into a formal agreement with FEMA and did not think they were eligible for flood insurance.

"Of course, it could have happened before my time," said Village President Walter Huffman. "I'm not sure what happened here in 1975, but I will go back through our records and find out."

A check on Wednesday indicated that Ovid did have flood insurance.

"Our insurance agent sent out notices to all residents about a year ago letting people know they were eligible," said Huffman. "Only one person signed up."

Maple Rapids, DeWitt and DeWitt Township are other Clinton County communities that are eligible for federal flood insurance. No data was immediately available as to the number of residents in these communities who have purchased insurance.

"Just because a community is not in a designated flood area does not mean it would be ineligible to receive flood insurance," said Sanders. "We will allow other communities to come into the program."

Is it a good idea for communities not in a flood plain to join the program?

"It might be and it might not," said Sanders. "It's up to the individual community. In the past we have neither encouraged nor discouraged their participation."

Sanders explained that there were some mandatory provisions of the agreement that could limit a community's options in developing certain areas that were close to identified flood plains. He suggested that communities might want to explore these provisions before they decide to participate in the flood insurance program.

Flood insurance costs 40 cents for every $100 of coverage for a dwelling, with a coverage limit of $35,000. Insurance coverage for the contents of a structure is also available.

Sanders pointed out that just because a community is not enrolled in the federal flood insurance program, it does not eliminate the community from receiving any federal disaster relief that might be available.

Wheels and Wings waits for spring

Last week's rainfall was the final blow for the "Wheels and Wings for Care" festival planned to benefit the Clinton Area Care Center.

The family oriented festival has been postponed until "sometime this spring" according to spokesman John Arehart, but the car and airplane drawing will be held at the St. Johns homecoming festivities.

The two day event, first planned for Sept. 26 and 27, was rescheduled for Oct. 4 because of heavy rains but promoters had no way of knowing the next week would bring even wetter weather.

The "Wheels and Wings" drawing for a 1950 Ford Classic car and a Cessna airplane was launched to help pay expenses on the two day festival which included air balloons, helicopters, steam engines, tractor pulls, a carnival, and antique cars.

Arehart said tickets are still on sale for the car and airplane at Bee's Chevrolet-Oldsmobile or the Care Center office downtown, St. Johns. They will also be sold during the homecoming parade Friday and at the football game. Arehart said it was his understanding that expenses were "not yet covered" and said the ticket sale would be aggressive.

Agnes Kuntz, widow of Care Center supporter Anthony Kuntz, will draw the winning ticket for the antique automobile and the St. Johns homecoming queen will pull out the winning ticket for the airplane. Arehart said the drawing would take place toward the end of halftime activities.

Couple injured

Phyllis Simunek of St. Johns lays on a stretcher awaiting transport to Clinton Memorial Hospital following an automobile accident Thursday morning, Oct. 1. Mrs. Simunek and her husband, Frederick, were both injured in the collision and were taken to CMH, treated and released, St. Johns City Police officials said.

The Simuneks were northbound on US-27, 100 feet north of McConnell, when a car driven by Sherain McClerman, of St. Johns, southbound on US-27, skidded into the northbound lane of the highway striking the Simunek's car, police said. (Photo by David Olds).

Arrests up for drunk drivers

Arrests made in Clinton County for driving while under the influence of liquor are up 32 percent in the first nine months of 1981 as compared to the same period in 1980, reports Capt. Robert Ferry of the sheriff's department.

There were 57 arrests made for that offense in the first nine months of 1980, while 75 such arrests have been made in 1981.

In a report to the Lansing Area Safety Council, Ferry noted there was hardly any change in the number of total accidents, both property damage and personal injury, when comparing the first nine months of 1980 and 1981.

There were 505 total accidents in the first nine months of 1980 and so far in 1981 there are 504.

Promoted at Cooley

A St. Johns resident, John N. Scott of 400 S. Clinton Ave. has been promoted to associate professor at Thomas M. Cooley Law School, Lansing.

Scott was in general trial practice in Vicksburg, specializing in family, criminal and bankruptcy litigation, when he was appointed to the Cooley faculty in 1978.

He is a member of the real property, local government and legal education section of the American Bar Association, as well as the family law and real property sections of the State Bar of Michigan.

Scott teaches property, civil procedure, zoning, mortgages and land contracts, legal writing and advanced land use problems.

He and his wife, Donna, moved to St. Johns two and a half years ago. They have two children. Scott serves as a board member on the newly organized Clinton County Arts Council.

Vandals slice up golf course

Over $9,000 of damage was done to the Royal Scot Golf Course in Watertown Township between 7 p.m. Oct 4 and 7 a.m. Oct 5 by a vehicle doing circle spins on the greens, fairways and tees, Clinton County Sheriff's deputies report.

Entry to the course was made from off W. State Road, deputies report. Measurements were made of the tire tracks and the designs of the tires were noted. The incident remains under investigation.

A one car accident on Clark Road, one-half mile east of M-100, seriously injured both the driver and passenger of the vehicle, deputies said.

Linda Lou Barish, 27, of 9684 Wacousta, DeWitt, was driving eastbound on Clark when she lost control of the vehicle, deputies said. Both she and her passenger, Amy McClland, 11, were taken to Sparrow Hospital. Alcohol may have been a contributing factor in the accident, deputies said.

There have been four reports received by the Sheriff's department recently of a Peeping Tom in the Searles Trailer Park in St. Johns.

Circuit court reports

The following cases were heard before Judge Randy Tahvonen on Sept. 28 in Clinton County Circuit Court.

Arraignments:

Greg Leroy Hunt, 17, of 1130 Turner, DeWitt, pled guilty to larceny in a building. Sentencing was set for Oct. 13 at 9:30 a.m.

Clarence Leroy Witchell, 20, of 8171 Colby Lake Road, Laingsburg, pled not guilty to breaking and entering an occupied dwelling with intent to commit the crime of larceny. Trial by jury was scheduled for Oct. 27.

Sentencings:

Lonnie Lee Nemetz, 21, of the Michigan Reformatory, Ionia, was sentenced to 32 to 48 months in prison for felonious assault.

John Pike, 26, of 10200 Airport Road, DeWitt, was sentenced to one year in jail for driving under the influence of liquor, 2nd offense, and one year in jail for driving while license suspended, 2nd or subsequent offense.

William Ball, 21, of 70 Randall, Lansing, was sentenced to two years probation, 90 days in jail, $240 court costs and other conditions for attempted breaking and entering an unoccupied building with intent to commit the crime of larceny.

Car is stolen

A 1976 Ford station wagon was stolen from the corner of M-21 and Baker during the night of Sept. 30, St. Johns City Police officials report.

The car described as having a light yellow roof and pea green body belongs to James Muser of 901 E. State, police said. The theft remains under investigation.

The First Assembly of God Church, 604 E. Balwin, reported a microphone and cord valued at $189 was taken from the church on Sept. 30, police said.

A camera and equipment was reported missing by Parr's Pharmacy on Oct. 5, police said. The theft, which occurred between Aug. 14 and Sept. 19, was discovered while the shelves were being cleaned, police said. Missing was a 35 mm Mamiya, an auto-winder and a F-1.7 lens. Total of value of the merchandise is $460, police report.

One more for the road not a good idea

By NANCY ZEIMEN

According to Chief of Police Tom Aranow, DeWitt Township has a very special problem.

One member of the department's traffic control team was assigned to research the drinking driver problem in the township and the investigation revealed some surprising and sobering results.

The township learned that their drinking driver average was twice the state average. In 1979, the state average was 12.2 percent and the township's average was 34.6 percent. In 1980, the state averaged 25 percent and the township, 40 percent.

Aranow explained why the township has such a high rate. "Literally all of our bar traffic is drive in traffic," he said "Apparently people drink in our taverns and then attempt to drive home."

Though US-27 and access roads to that highway are where the problem is most obvious, Aranow said drinking drivers have problems wherever there are curves in the road. Winding roads such as Turner, Airport and Round Lake Road prove to be hazardous for the drinking driver, he said.

Researching the problem was just the beginning of the police department's involvement. A solution was soon to follow. Through a federal grant in cooperation with the Office of Highway Safety Planning the township police began a crack down on drinking drivers on Oct. 1 and will continue until January when the grant runs out. It is the last leg of a three-year program of traffic safety.

In April, the department received a resolution from the township board endorsing its program.

"We then arranged for a meeting with the State Liquor Control Commission, our officers and liquor license holders in the township to explain the law regarding sales of liquor to intoxicated people," Aranow said.

At that meeting the department asked the liquor license holders for their cooperation and got it. A stern letter, at the bar owners's request, was sent to the taverns so they would have something to show irate drunks.

"We asked them (liquor license holders) to recognize that under the law they were liable for injury and damage caused by an intoxicated person after that person had been served in their taverns," Aranow explained.

Anyone injured by a drunk driver can file suit against the tavern that served the drunk. Currently there are two such suits in the township, Aranow said.

Liquor license holders in the township were also advised that officers making contact with intoxicated persons, arresting drinking drivers or investigating accidents would include as part of their report a determination of where that person had been drinking and if a violation of the drinking law had occurred.

In addition, Aranow said all area departments will be exchanging information on where drivers are drinking.

"Couple that with pin maps and we will be gearing our enforcement to particular problem areas," Aranow said.

Attends conference

Mrs. M.B. Paige of St. Johns was one of several hundred recent participants in a week-long Elderhostel program at Alfred University in western New York. The series of lectures and seminars was designed for older Americans and included short courses in linguistics, the history of photography, sculpture and modern China.

Other parts of the program include an extra patrol officer on the road from 7 p.m. to 3 a.m. each day when the bar traffic is heaviest. Aranow said other patrols will watch for drinking drivers from 9 p.m. to 3 a.m.

"We want to convince people that this is a serious problem," Aranow said. "It has been taken much too lightly until now. Drunk drivers kill 25,000 people annually in the United States," he said.

"If you are going to drink and drive, then your chances of being arrested are good," Aranow said emphatically.

The department will also be keeping track of the court cases of the drunk drivers it arrests to see if the court supports the program. Aranow would like to see jail time and heavy fines imposed on the guilty.

"Almost every citizen group formed has included court watching to see if a program is carried through," Aranow said.

Rumbaughs honored

Clinton County Historical Society members John and Catherine Rumbaugh, center, were honored last Friday by the Michigan Historical Society for their preservation work at the Paine-Gillam-Scott museum in St. Johns. The St. Johns couple were among 15 Michigan citizens receiving awards from the society's 1980 president Ernest C. Brown, Jr., left, and Thomas Jones, executive director of the state society. They have been the leaders in the county society's efforts to preserve and furnish the house museum and make it available to the public.

Fowler remembers 1957 flood

By DAVID THOMAS

"We had one pretty much like this one in 1957," said George Weber, long-time Fowler resident. "Downtown was really under water. It was really something."

Even though many Fowler residents who suffered damage in last week's flood weren't around to remember the one in 1957, a check of old newspapers confirmed Weber's statement.

"Rains caused a once-in-a-century catastrophe in Fowler last Thursday afternoon," the Clinton County Republican-News reported on July 18, 1957. "Phenomenally heavy rains — more than any available gauges could measure — flooded all of the village of Fowler south of the Grand Trunk railroad to a normal depth of about two feet."

Last week's flooding proved the paper wrong. It happened for the second time in just 25 years.

Damage in the 1957 disaster to the downtown business district was estimated at $100,000 with Frechen's Grocery, Huggett's Hardware, Becker's Department Store and the Goerge Funeral Home receiving much of the flooding.

Downtown damage was not the only problem, as many private residences experienced water-filled basements. Pumping units provided by the St. Johns, Westphalia and Fowler fire departments worked all night and all day helping citizens remove the water.

"Perhaps the the most eye-catching picture on Main St. at the height of the flood was Republican News photographer Al Haight," the paper reported. "Clad in his everyday clothes — shoes, socks, dress pants and all — he was often wading hip deep in the wet stuff. What he was trying to protect with that raincoat we'll never know."

(Present-day photographer David Olds also recorded the scene, but unlike 1957 photographer Haight he used powerful, modern lenses and stayed totally dry).

Fowler wasn't the only area that got lots of water back in 1957. St. Johns' oil dealer Floyd Robinson found flooding much farther east.

"Floyd's delivery truck stalled while going through a torrent across the old sink hole on DeWitt Rd. just north of DeWitt," according to the paper. "Floyd got out and walked to the nearest telephone to summon wrecker service. When he and the wrecker got back to the truck, there was little left of it in sight. The water level was nearing the top of the cab and still rising."

Hettler's came out Friday morning, well equipped to salvage what might be left of Floyd's truck. They even had a boat available. But it wasn't needed — the water left as quickly as it came and the truck was again resting on nice, dry terra firma."

George Weber was right. The 1957 flood was really something.

Crowned in Fowler

Fowler High School's 1980 Homecoming Queen Cindy Klien crowns Connie Feldpausch as this year's queen. Bruce Wirth was named king. The two were chosen from the senior court which also included Roy Feldpausch, Darryl Thelen, Jeff Thelen, Jeff Pung, Beth Feldpausch, Arlene Feldpausch, Sue Gard and Kim Schafer.

Float representatives were Julie Pung, Emily Feldpausch and Char Feldpausch, juniors; Vicky Feldpausch, Lori Paksi and Amy Fink, sophomores; and Beth Wirth, Lynn Thelen and Karne Halfman, freshmen.

On the court

Who will be queen? The answer will be revealed at St. Johns' homecoming game with Ionia Friday. One of the five senior girls in the front will be crowned during halftime activities. Nominated by the senior class and voted on by the student body, the queen will be chosen from l to r, Connie Konigsnecht, Cindy Fleischer, Darcy Holstein, Laurie

Drain brush spraying completed

Clinton County Drain Commissioner Harry J. Harden recently announced the completion of the 1981 brush control spraying program of approximately 30 drains located throughout Clinton County. Total cost of the project was approximately $38,000. Harden said the spray program is in its fourth year and that all drains were sprayed which have been petitioned within the past 14 years or which recently had the brush cut by CETA crews.

The spray material used by Chemi-Trol Coppany has been approved by the Department of Agriculture and cleared by the Environmental Protection Agency, he said. The chemical, Krenite, is a new product which only affects woody plants and is not harmful to any growing crops such as beans, vegetables, or grain crops.

The cost of approximately one dollar per acre for maintenance work of this type is very small compared to that of the new Lyon and Dean drain located in Bengal Township, noted the Drain Commissioner. That project, which required stump and brush removal, deepening, and widening, carried a cost of about $50 per acre.

Harden said that spray maintenance keeps drains flowing during heavy rain storms, preventing flooding and insuring that tile systems installed on farm land will flow freely. Many landowners, he added, in cooperation with the Drain Commissioner, move ahead and clean their own drains once the brush and tree stumps have become dead. Harden also claims that approximately 150 miles of county drains have been improved since April 1976 under this maintenance program, thus saving the taxpayer and county many dollars.

Work at mission

Members of the Ban-nister and Ashley United Methodist churches and the Salem Lowe and Greenbush churches spent a week this summer at a work camp at the United Methodist Red Bird Mission in Beverly, Ky.

The idea originated with the Rev. Mark Johnston and the Rev. Robert Gillette. Rev. Johnston and his wife, Jane, had taught school there and Rev. Gillette's parents are completing a two year mission term at the hospital there.

Work at the mission included mending walls, painting a barn, renovating and repairing homes, removing debris from the school site (the school had burned a couple of months previously), and preparing the new school site.

BPW week approaches

The Clinton County Board of Commissioners have proclaimed Oct. 18 - 24, National Business Women's Week in Clinton County as a salute to working women. Signing the proclamation was Roger Overway, chairman of the commission. Representatives of the St. Johns Business and Professional Women were Janet Tiedt, left, Sharon Worral and Bonnie Wickerham.

The BPW is presently involved in a membership drive. Area working women may contact a member of the club for more information. (Photo by David Thomas)

Botulism danger lurks in zucchini mock pineapple

One of this summer's most popular canning recipes could cause botulism, says Extension Home Economist Carole Butler.

An alternative to throwing out the pineapple made from zucchini would be to boil the product vigorously for 10 to 15 minutes and then freeze it, said Butler. The vigorous boiling will destroy the toxin, but the bacteria will still be present, she said. After boiling, the product will be mushy, but can be used in making breads or other foods where the consistency of the product is not essential.

If the potentially poisonous product is not boiled and then frozen, Butler advises it be thrown away. She cautions against freezing the product without boiling it. "Freezing will only stop the growth," she said, "when it is thawed the growth is still there."

Internist opens practice

A specialist in internal medicine, John S. McDonald, M.D., has opened a medical practice in St. Johns. His office will be located with Dr. James M. Grost at 210 E. Walker until completion of the St. Johns Medical Building adjacent to Clinton Memorial Hospital. Drs. Grost and McDonald will share office space in the new office building.

Dr. MacDonald attended medical school at Michigan State University and served his internship at Hurley Medical Center, Flint. After practicing general medicine for a short time in Crystal Falls in the upper peninsula, he returned to complete his residency in internal medicine at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The Clinton County area is not new to McDonald. He lived in Bannister for a number of years during his childhood. He and his wife, Diane, have moved to St. Johns.

Health dept. warns

Take precautions in flood clean up

While Clinton County officials are not aware of any major health problems as a result of last week's flooding, they are urging residents to take precautions as they clean up the damage.

"Our concern is that when people reopen their homes they pay close attention to safety and sanitation guidelines," said Joseph Latoff, director of the Mid-Michigan Health Department. "We are also available for consultation and on-site visits if people have serious problems."

Latoff made the following suggestions for people who have suffered water or sewage damage to their homes:

- If the home has not been vacated during the flood period, wash or flush down walls and floors as fast as the flood waters recede.

- If the home has been vacated, do not move the family back until there is electricity, an adequate water supply, available toilet facilities, a working heating system and a supply of clean, dry bedding.

- In order to rehabilitate a home, adults (no children) may return but should take a supply of safe drinking water with them in clean bottles or jugs. If possible, obtain water from a municipal source. In the event that municipal water cannot be obtained from a private well outside the flood area, be sure to disinfect it with one of the common liquid laundry bleaches by adding three or four drops to each one gallon of water and mix and let it stand for 30 minutes. This treatment will make the water safe; however, a chlorinous taste should be noticed.

Water from wells and cisterns located in the flood areas is unsafe and should not be used for drinking or cooking, brushing teeth, dishwashing or clothes washing unless boiled for ten minutes or treated with chlorine.

- Be cautious in entering a flooded basement relative to electric outlets and gas lines. Have the utility company shut off the electricity and gas line. Do not handle any connected electrical cords or appliances if the current is still on. Get assistance before attempting to disconnect cords or open the fuse box in a flooded basement. Do not light a match in an enclosed area where gas might be present. Check all affected pilot lights or burners on gas fired or oil fired appliances before putting them back in service. If electricity is connected to an appliance which has had the motor controls submerged, do not attempt to start it until you have consulted your appliance service company or dealer.

- While a basement is flooded, avoid flushing toilets or using other plumbing fixtures whose discharge would increase the hazard or make the basement more difficult to clean.

- After the flood waters recede, drain surface pools by ditching or pumping. Drain all flooded basements by natural drainage or pumping. Wash or flush down walls and floors, if possible, during the drainage or pumping process.

As a final clean-up of walls, floors, cupboards, dishes, use plenty of soap or dishwashing compound. Use warm or hot water if possible. Areas may be distinguished by use of Lysol or chlorine solution. Use eight tablespoon- or one half cup of bleach per gallon of water.

During the clean-up period of basements or other enclosed areas, provide as much ventilation as possible by opening windows and use of fans if electricity is available.

- Discard all bottled goods sealed with crimped caps that were in the flood. Destroy the contents to make certain that no one else will use such bottled goods.

Discard all vegetables, such as potatoes, carrots, cabbage, onions, and others which were in contact with the flood water. Canned fruits and vegetables should be thoroughly washed. Wash the outside of the can with soap and hot water, using a brush around the covers and rubber rings. The cans and jars should then be immersed in chlorinated water for at least 15 minutes using three or four drops of bleach per gallon of water.

Food stored in a refrigerator where the electricity has been off for more than 24 hours or where flood waters have risen above the door opening, should be discarded.

Food stored in a deep freeze unit where the electricity has been off more than 72 hours should be examined carefully. If the food has not reached a temperature of 40 F or above it could be refrozen and used without endangering health; however, the flavor and texture might be damaged. Food with a temperature of above 40 F should be discarded. Food in a freezer where the door or lid has been submerged in flood water should be discarded if there is evidence that water has entered the freezer compartment.

Any discarded food or vegetables should be placed in covered vermin-proof receptacles until final pick-up or disposal.

- Clothing, carpets, upholstered furniture, toys, bedding, and similar items should be discarded unless they are cleaned and disinfected. Movable objects should be put outdoors to dry and exposure to sunlight. Some salvage agencies or companies are equipped to process contaminated material without hazard to employees or eventual customers. Discarded clothing should not be left accessible to unauthorized scavengers pending pickup. Stores with flood-damaged merchandise are required to obtain clearance from either the local health department or the State Department of Agriculture before offering any such goods for sale.

- After cleaning the basement, the individual should make sure that all clothing and parts of the body which come in contact with the sewage are thoroughly washed. Prevent the tracking of sewage into the living quarters of the house.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the Mid-Michigan Health Department at 224-2195.

Unique players group to perform

A unique group of performers are coming to St. Johns, Oct. 12 - 18 to share their talent for communication through drama, with area churches.

The Covenant Players are a part of a world wide group organized and directed by Charles Tanner. They use the media of drama to communicate values and principals in a unique way.

The group has a repertoire of over 800 plays and can communicate a variety of themes, issues and subject matter using everything from light comedy to heavy drama, science fiction and biblical characterizations.

The story tellers will perform at St. Joseph Catholic School, Monday, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. in the gym. The free performance is open to the public. St. Joseph school children will be exposed to the group with special plays on Tuesday morning.

During the week they are to perform at the Elsie United Methodist Church and the Salem, Greenbush and Lowe Methodist Churches. Rev. Robert Gillett can be contacted for times and place.

On Sunday, Oct. 18, members of the group will perform at morning worship (11 a.m.) and Sunday school (9:30 a.m.) services at both the First Congregational Church and the United Methodist Church in St. Johns.

The four Covenant Players will be staying with church families in the area.

Local talent

Sherri Todd, a junior at St. Johns High School, recently returned from Wilton's Cake Decorating School in Chicago, where she took two courses in the craft. For two weeks, Sherri attended classes learning the art of gum paste and practicing various borders and decorations. The wedding cake shown here was just one of the many projects Sherri completed during her stay in Chicago. Sherri and her father, Robert, began their business, S and R Cake Supplies and Gifts, just this summer.

Rumbaugh's, museum need continued support

With preservation as the theme of the Historical Society of Michigan's 107th annual meeting in Battle Creek last Friday it was appropriate that Clinton County's John and Catherine Rumbaugh were among those honored.

Certainly the St. Johns couple hold title here in this community where their efforts at the Paine-Gillam-Scott Museum have made it one of the most visible preservation projects.

While the Rumbaugh's were among 15 people or organizations to receive the Society's Award of Merit for special preservation projects across the state, the speaker's message seemed to chronicle them and their involvement in the local museum.

In his address to the state members, Charles Hosmer of Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill. said the basic problem in preserving and saving old buildings is in the public's awareness of the projects. "You have to convince the public that this is progress," he said.

The preservationist acts at "the gut level", quite often saving a building first and then being able to tell why afterwards. "It's hard to put into words, 'why' a building is worth keeping," he explained.

The history professor and leading author of historic preservation and its trends in America, said preservationists "have to have something of the crazy about them. They know full well how irrational it is to save an old building," he said.

Calling preservation a heart throbbing activity, Hosmer said the people involved in it quite often "achieve near miracles."

The Rumbaugh's award was based on 2,300 hours of volunteer work at the Clinton County Historical Society's restored house museum this year, but their actual involvement spans a greater period of time and many, many more hours. The couple, long-time members of the historical society which supports the historic home museum, were involved in the first historic museum here which was housed in a tiny cottage on Oakland Street. They were instrumental in requesting the present building from the county commission after it was no longer needed for the Mid-Michigan Health Department.

"Surprisingly enough," Hosmer said, "it takes very few people to save an old building." That was true here as far as the actual working committee. It was a small group that put in the long hours it took to physically restore the Paine-Gillam-Scott house.

The Rumbaugh's would be the first to say, however, that behind-the-scenes and financial support that comes from hundreds of county residents is the key factor in any restoration project.

While the actual restoration of the building was done by "very few people" the donations come from many, many county residents. There is no doubt of the worth of the Paine-Gillam-Scott house now that it has been saved. There is no doubt of the support it receives from the citizenry.

"Despite the cuts in federal financial support, most people are optimistic about the future of the preservation movement," Hosmer said. The idea of historic preservation being good for both economic and social aspects of a community is going to help, he maintained. Add to that the fact that it is less expensive to fix up an old building than to tear it down and rebuild, and you'll find more support, he added.

If Hosmer had a message for the future it was that there is a great need for the public to continue to support restoration projects. The Rumbaugh's would echo that message. The Paine-Gillam-Scott House Museum can continue only with constant support from the county community.

Chamber notes

By Jody Smith

There will be pumpkins in St Johns, thanks to Irrer children

Everything's coming up pumpkins in St. Johns and just ask the Irrer family on Francis Road if you don't believe it.

It all started when the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce contacted the Irrer kids to see if they would grow 1,000 pumpkins for the October promotion. The idea is to give away pumpkins with a minimum purchase at Chamber member stores. The Irrers agreed to take on the project and the fun and the work started.

In order to be assured that they would meet their contract obligation of 1,000 pumpkins, the Irrer family checked with the County Extension Service to see how many seeds and how much space would be needed. They checked into pumpkin diseases and pests to find out what to guard against. They found that one acre planted to the recommended number of seeds would produce the needed pumpkins.

Kevin, 16, Becky, 13 and Paula, 10 are all in 4-H, so they knew what was ahead. Doug, 6, — well, living on a farm and surrounded with farming chores made him an equal partner. The Irrer children are not strangers to hard work and responsibility and all four of them put effort into the project.

The pumpkin field responded very well to their long hours of weeding and hoeing. Their acre has produced almost 5,000 pumpkins and the Irrer family now basks in the orange glow of the giant crop.

Actually, there has not been much time for basking — the Irrers have been too busy. Charlie Brown looks for the most sincere pumpkin patch but the Irrer kids win the prize for the most persevering pumpkin patch. Tom and Marilyn Irrer, parents of the pumpkin crew, said the pumpkins spread into the bean field and the children had to work hard to get them out.

After hand weeding the beans once, the children discovered that those relentless pumpkins had taken over again and the job had to be repeated.

With the pumpkins in their own field and finally grown, the hardest part is yet to come. Harvest brings the young people a big job. There are about 106 pumpkins in each load and each load takes them an hour to collect. Let's see, 106 pumpkins goes into 5,000 how many times?

Just a reminder that the next Chamber of Commerce meeting will take place at 7:45 a.m., Thursday, Oct. 15 and will feature breakfast, a talk on Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation and a tour of the new medical office facility adjacent to Clinton Memorial Hospital. The meeting will take place in the hospital dining room. The St. Johns Medical Building will not be completely finished but it will be ready for a tour. The Chamber will be the first group to view the facility.

Call the Chamber office, 224-7248 to reserve a place.

Senior citizen update

Understanding your blood pressure

-What do the numbers on a blood pressure reading mean?

There are two numbers, the systolic pressure which is a measure of force and the diastolic pressure which is a measure of resistance.

The first number is the systolic reading, the measurement in millimeters of mercury of the force of the column of blood as it leaves the heart and strikes the walls of the first big blood vessel, the aorta.

The bottom number is the diastolic pressure. That is a measure, again in millimeters of mercury, of the resistance that the blood must overcome to pass through the smaller vessels.

-What is a normal blood pressure reading?

A blood pressure reading of 120 over 80 is normal for most people. For an adult over 30 the systolic pressure should be under 140, and the diastolic pressure reading should be under 90. That would be a reading of 140 over 90.

-What is a high blood pressure reading?

A blood pressure reading greater than 140 over 90 but less than 160 over 95 generally calls for continued observation. A blood pressure reading of 160 over 95 is the beginning of high blood pressure. There is a tendency now for doctors to treat these mild cases more aggressively. They believe that the longterm benefits of controlling even mild high blood pressure justify early treatment.

By Ruth
Delo

-Can blood pressure vary from hour to hour?

Yes, blood pressure can change due to such things as emotional factors, stress, pain, and exercise. The pressure can vary 15 to 20 points within five or 10 seconds.

-How can a person tell what his or her blood pressure really is?

Repeated readings should be taken under fairly relaxed conditions. One should not institute therapy or diagnose somebody as having hypertension because of one reading.

-What if my reading is at or near the high average?

As mentioned above, this does not mean that you have high blood pressure. It does mean that you should take it upon yourself to have your blood pressure rechecked periodically.

This information was given by representatives of Clinton Memorial Hospital at the screening downtown in St. Johns.

So..... until next time.

Personality Profile

Craftsman and educator, Stevens is both

By DAVID THOMAS

During the day he puts on work pants and a flannel shirt, goes down into the basement and works with his hands. At night he dresses up, leaves the house and puts his mind to work.

Evert Stevens enjoys the contrast — a daytime job as a woodworker and evening duties as president of the DeWitt school board.

"I didn't really plan it that way," Stevens said. "But that's just the way it worked out."

Planning is something Stevens has found difficult to do during the last couple of years. The discovery of a brain tumor in 1979 forced him out of a promising future in the construction business and into a much more sedate life style characterized by serious surgery and numerous radiation treatments.

"I'm much better now," he admits, "but for a while there it was tough. Especially the effect of the radiation treatments."

Stevens is no stranger to either the carpentry or education fields. As a 10-year-old in Lapeer County, he was first exposed to woodworking through a 4-H Club project. Since that time he has never stopped making things with his hands. He graduated from Michigan State University with a degree in zoology and came to DeWitt as a teacher in 1969.

"Most people seem to think that because I do woodworking I must have been an industrial arts teacher," he said. "But that's not true. I taught biology."

He spent eight years as a teacher and then formed his own construction company in 1977.

"I was getting disenchanted with teaching," he admitted. "I believe in getting back from work what you put into it. That wasn't happening with me. I was coaching track and doing a number of other things after school. But those extra things didn't seem to make any difference. . . . I miss the satisfaction of working with the kids. It's just the extra things that got to me."

In addition to his construction venture, Stevens also worked for a while at Impression 5 Museum in Lansing where he was in charge of building new exhibits.

The radiation treatments severely sapped his strength, however. In order to speed recovery, Stevens recently opened a small woodworking shop in his DeWitt home. He makes a wide variety of colonial reproductions including clocks, furniture, wall accessories and tote craft boards. He has exhibited his work at both the DeWitt Ox Roast and the home tour.

Stevens has served on the school board since 1978, most recently as its president.

"Rather than sitting on the sidelines and making comments about things I didn't like, I decided to run," he explained. "I enjoy the challenge. The board is different today than it used to be. The superintendent used to pretty much run the school and the board was not that active. Now the board is more vocal and works very hard to make good decisions."

Stevens admitted that being on the board of education tends to "whet his appetite" to get back into teaching.

"I've thought about it from time to time," he said. "It's funny, though, as a member of the school board I voted to eliminate the very job I might have taken."

When Stevens isn't functioning as a school board member or crafting a new piece of furniture, he can usually be found working on his Westbrook Avenue home where he lives with his wife, Gail and his three children, Christine, Michael and Meridith. A colonial saltbox he built in 1976, it still needs a few finishing touches.

"I've still got some inside work to do and the landscaping," he explained. "I also promised my wife we'd have a greenhouse. She's really good with plants."

Now that Evert Stevens is recovering from two years of serious illness, what does he think of the future?

"Good question," he said. "I think about it a lot. When I was a teacher I never wanted to go into administration, but now my experiences as a school board member, a coach and a teacher make me think I may have something to offer as an administrator. I think I might like to give it a try, anyway."

Couple joined in First United Methodist Church

Jacqueline Elaine DeGeer and Philip David Stonecipher were joined in a double ring service by the Rev. Keith Laidler at the First United Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, Sept. 26.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeGeer of St. Johns. She is a 1972 graduate of St. Johns High School and a 1976 graduate of Northern Michigan University.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stonecipher of Crawfordsville, Ind. He graduated from Crawfordville High School in 1969 and from Hillsborough Community College in Tampa, Fla., in 1979 and 1981.

Mr. DeGeer escorted his daughter to the altar decorated with yellow glads and white and blue mums. "The Wedding Song" was sung by the bride's sister Barbara Richmond and Rev. Laidler sang both "My Tribute" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Jackie Laidler on the organ.

The bride's gown featured schiffli embroidery, silk Venice lace, long sleeves and an attached chapel-length train. Her headpiece was a Venice silk covered camelot with a chapel-length veil of illusion trimmed in matching lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, yellow and white daisy mums, blue miniature carnations, baby's breath and blue and white streamers.

Maid of honor was Michele Richmond, the bride's niece, of Burton. Bridemaids were Elizabeth Ruvolo, the bride's sister, of St. Johns; Patricia Barrett, the bride's sister, of Ashley; Donna Bengel of Kalamazoo; and Barbara Bell, the groom's sister, of Urbana, Ill. Flowergirl was Kimberly Jo Barrett, the bride's niece, of Ashley.

They wore baby blue Qiana gowns with silk Venice lace sleeves and bodices, headbands of yellow and white silk daisies and blue baby's breath and carried colonial bouquets of white and yellow daisy mums, miniature carnations, blue baby's breath and yellow and blue streamers.

The bride's mother wore a blue, sleeveless Qiana pleated gown with a silk

Venice lace jacket. The mother of the groom wore a light green, sleeveless, lace knit dress with jacket. Both wore yellow sweetheart roses with white, miniature carnations.

Robert Stonecipher, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were David and Edward DeGeer, brothers of the bride, Rick Richmond, nephew of the bride, and Gerald Bell, brother-in-law of the groom. Ron Ruvolo and Max Barrett, brothers-in-law of the bride, were ushers and ringbearer was Jason Bell, nephew of the groom.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Knights of Cloumbus Hall in St. Johns following the wedding.

Marie and Dottie Ruvolo served the bridal table, Lisa and Amy DeGeer and Mary Lou Barrett passed the cake, Janis deGeer and Clara Pierce cut the cake, Marsha Stevens and Kathy Hazle poured punch and coffee and Gidget DeGeer was in charge of the guest book. Clara Pierce, aunt of the bride, made the wedding cake.

Host an hostess were Barbara and Donald Richmond. Special guests were Iva DeGeer, great-aunt of the bride, of Mt. Albert, Canada, and Alice Lapeer, cousin of the bride, from Toronto, Canada.

The couple traveled to Niagara Falls, through the Smokey Mountains and to Lake Lure, N.C., and then onto their residence in Tampa, Fla.

Stadel, O'Brien marry in Portland church

Karen Stadel and Jerry O'Brien were united in a double ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Father Jim Carmody at St. Patrick's Church in Portland on Sept. 19.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Stadel of Mulliken and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Brien of Westphalia.

The bridal gown was made of taffeta and lace with sequins covering the bodice and featured a large ruffle along the bottom. The bride wore a shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of lavender nasturtiums, white carnations, lily of the valley and baby's breath.

Linda Stadel, the bride's sister, of Mulliken, served as maid of honor. Cathy Bagley, Sharon O'Brien and Janice O'Brien served as bridesmaids.

Flowergirl was Lori Stadel and Christopher Arsenault was ringbearer.

Dave O'Brien, the groom's brother, of Westphalia was best man. Groomsmen were Joe O'Brien, Carl Huhn and Barry Stadel. Duane Stadel and Tom Hafner were the ushers.

A reception was held at St. Mary's Parish Hall in Westphalia. Jan Spitzley, Debbie Krausz, Monica Hart, Dianne Stadel and Judy Parker were servers at the reception.

A special guest was Belva Putnam, the bride's aunt, from California.

The couple honeymooned in Dayton Beach, Fla., and now reside in Westphalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Brien

Area couple speaks vows

Kim Kay Kashenider and Lee Schavey were married Saturday, Aug. 22, 1981 in an evening ceremony at the First Assembly of God in St. Johns.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kashenider of DeWitt. She is a graduate of DeWitt High School and is employed as a beautician at Montgomery Wards.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schavey of St. Johns. He graduated from St. Johns High School and is employed by Kiebc Foods, Inc., of DeWitt.

The bride's gown was candlelight in an empire style. It's bodice of chantilly lace came from her mother's wedding gown. The dress featured a full skirt of Georgette with pleated lace edging around the neckline, sleeves and hemline, and a wide chantilly lace train edged with scalloped, gathered lace.

Linda and Carl McCarrick stood up for the couple as matron of honor and best man. Ushers were Gregg and Gary Kashenider, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a formal coral Georgette gown and the groom's mother wore a formal yellow gown.

Mrs. Anna Pelley of Lansing designed the wedding gown and Leona of the St. Johns Green House designed and arranged the flowers.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 300 guests was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in St. Johns.

After a honeymoon in Michigan's upper peninsula, the couple will reside in St. Johns.

P-W bops Fulton with big plays

By KEVIN BOGGS

Pewamo-Westphalia used the big play in the personage of running back Dale Schmitt to defeat Fulton Saturday night, 34-6.

Schmitt registered the game's first touchdown late in the second quarter on a seven yard run and proceeded to dismantle the Fulton defense with scoring jaunts of 95 and 44 yards in the second half.

For the evening, Schmitt had 196 yards on only 15 carries.

"Things just went right for us. Both teams played well, we busted a couple of plays that broke the game open," said P-W head coach Mike Folk.

The first big play of the evening occurred with less than 30 seconds showing on the second quarter clock when P-W's Dan Pohl intercepted a Craig Baker pass at the Fulton 32 and returned it to the 12.

Two plays later with 14 seconds remaining, Schmitt took it in from seven yards out. Schmitt also ran in the two point conversion to give the visitors an 8-0 lead at the half.

After receiving the second half kick-off, Fulton marched down to the P-W three yard line. The drive was highlighted by a 23 yard run by fullback Andy Stephens.

But Fulton could get no closer than the three as they were stopped on downs. John Nurenberg and Mark Miller made the tackle on running back Wayne Bond on the critical fourth down play.

Two plays later, Schmitt broke the game open by streaking 95 yards into the end zone. Jeff Spitzley kicked the PAT to make the score 15-0.

"If Fulton had managed to score there, the game could have been very different. Then, when Schmitt went 95 yards, that was the turning point of the game," Folk said.

Later in the third quarter, Paul Simon intercepted a pass and carried it down to the Fulton 26.

Quarterback Ted Droste completed an 11 yard pass to Jim Weber and the short touchdown drive was culminated on a two yard run by George Heckman. Spitzley's PAT increased the P-W lead to 22-0.

Wayne Bond, who had a good night with 117 yards on 25 carries, was instrumental in Fulton's lone scoring drive. He picked up gains of nine, 10 and 11 yards before scoring early in the final quate from three yards.

Fulton tried an onside kick that only travelled four yards and on the first play from scrimmage, Schmitt capped a perfect night as he darted 44 yards for the Pirate's fourth touchdown.

John Nurenberg scored the final touchdown late in the game on a three yard run.

Going into the contest, Folk was worried that Bond and the rest of the Fulton offensive unit would dominate the game with ball control. As it turned out, Fulton ran seven more offensive plays than did P-W (52-45), but ball control did not seriously hurt the winners.

"Anytime you can contain Wayne Bond and get the ball away from Fulton, you've got to be happy. Sometimes you never get the ball from them — it's like playing pool with a guy who clears the table and never gives you a chance. Bond ran more times against Olivet (47) than we had total plays against Olivet," Folk said.

P-W accumulated 247 yards on the ground, 23 through the air and had eight first downs. Fulton churned out 186 yards rushing, no yards passing and had seven first downs.

The Fulton passing game never got it together, going 0-12 with four interceptions.

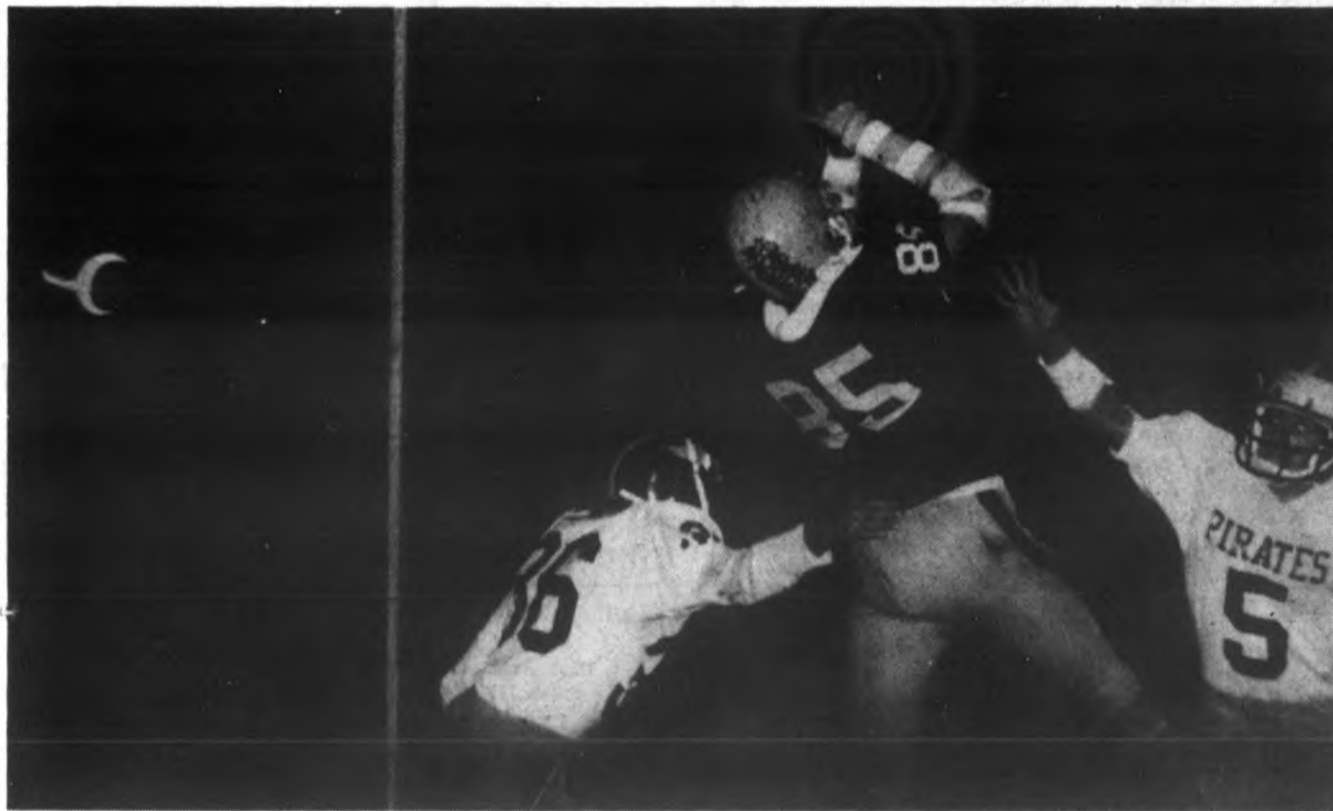

Linebacker John Nurenberg and noseguard Mark Miller combined for 29 tackles to lead the P-W defense. Schmitt also had a good game defensively with 10 tackles.

Bond sparkled for Fulton on defense as well, coming away with a total of nine stops. Ed Rittenberg contributed eight tackles and Andy Stephens seven to the defensive cause.

Fulton head coach John Wachsmith was gracious in defeat.

"P-W's got it all — size, strength and a very physical team. We had to play flawless football to win and we didn't. They made the big plays and we didn't," Wachsmith said.

P-W is now 4-0 and shares first place in the CMAC with Fowler. Fulton fell to 2-2, 2-1 in the conference.

Fulton's senior split end Ron Hanson (85) goes up for a pass that got away. Defending on the play for Pewamo-Westphalia are Terry J. Thelen (36) and Dan Pohl (5). Fulton had trouble moving the ball through the air against P-W and lost, 34-6.

Werbish kicks St. Johns to win

By KEVIN BOGGS

The St. Johns defense turned in another stellar performance and the offense mustered just enough firepower to give the Redwings a 9-7 Mid Michigan B victory over Alma Friday night.

St. Johns got on the board with 4:44 left in the opening quarter when junior fullback Bruce Riley busted loose for a 48 yard touchdown run. The score stayed 6-0 as the PAT went awry.

Alma's offense came alive for about the only time in the game as the Panthers came right back following Riley's run for a touchdown.

A good kick-off return set the Panthers up on their own 35. The home team put together back-to-back first downs on six successive running plays. Lightning then struck the Redwing defense in the form of speedster Mike Coon. With 1:30 left in the first quarter, Coon raced 40 yards to tie the game at 6-6. Chris Cater's PAT gave Alma a 7-6 lead.

"He (Coon) just made one heck of a run. He broke about three tackles and just got loose from us," said Redwing head coach Joe Gonzales.

On their next offensive series, the Redwings fumbled the ball right back to Alma on their own 25.

Alma's Rich Priest recovered the fumble and, with 39 seconds left in the first quarter, it looked like big trouble for St. Johns.

The Panthers were stopped on four downs by the Redwing defense which seemed determined not to allow two touchdowns in one game.

Trailing 7-6 going into the final half, about all the Redwing offense had to do was put a score of any kind on the board. The defense was playing that good.

"Alma did absolutely zero in the second half. Our defense stopped them cold," Gonzales said.

In the fourth quarter the Redwing offense generated five first downs on a long drive that seemed destined to result in a touchdown.

Quarterback Steve Gonzales ran from the Alma 12 all the way down to the four, but the play was called back due to a five yard penalty for backfield in motion.

"We've got to get it out of their heads — making all these costly mistakes," Gonzales said.

On a fourth down and goal from the six, Gonzales called on place kicker Jamie Werbish to give St. Johns the lead.

In the first quarter, Werbish had missed not only the PAT, but also failed on a 26 yard field goal attempt.

The third time proved to be the charm; the 5-10 junior nailed the 23 yard three pointer with 8:46 remaining to give St. Johns the lead and the eventual 9-7 win.

Did coach Gonzales have any doubts about sending in Werbish for the critical field goal try?

"No. He's a good kicker, but he's been having a tough

Marauders pull surprise on Indians

Don't ever accuse the Ovid-Elsie gridders of playing three yards and a cloud of dust football. The Marauders and the Chesaning Indians combined for 864 yards in total offense on Friday night and when the smoke had cleared, O-E ended up with a 21-20 victory over the defending Mid-Michigan B champions.

"I don't think anyone will shut out that potent Chesaning offense and yet I still think O-E played some good defense even in giving up 20 points. The only thing that saved us was our ball control. We ran 58 plays to their 50," said Marauder head coach Russ Pope.

If Pope is worried about the defense, he can take comfort in the fact that his team has one of the best offenses in the area.

On their first possession, O-E started 90 yards from the end zone and made the long trip in 14 plays to score the game's initial touchdown. The drive was highlighted by a 38 yard off tackle scamper by Scott Miller. Craig Coleman went the final yard to cap the drive and Al Bywater's PAT made it 7-0.

After forcing the visitors to punt, Miller again broke off a long 27 yard run to the Chesaning three, but a major penalty brought the ball back to the 24.

Another penalty nullified a 34 yard field goal by Bywater. Bywater's second attempt was blocked.

Quarterback Tim St. Gordon found Damion Frasier alone in the end zone as the seven yard pass produced the Indian's first score with just 40 seconds left in the half.

You might expect the Marauders to be satisfied with their 7-6 lead and sit on the ball until halftime. Not so.

Starting from their own 32 after the Chesaning kick, quarterback Pete Hurst winged a 14 yard pass to Coleman and then with seven ticks left on the clock, Hurst again teamed up with Coleman on a 56 yard scoring strike.

Thanks to some daring maneuvers and Bywater's second successful PAT, the Marauders took a 14-6 lead into the halftime intermission.

Before Chesaning cut the lead to 14-12 on a five yard run by Doug Forsyth, Miller dashed 70 yards for an apparent touchdown. It was called back, however, as the Marauders were penalized for an illegal block.

Chesaning put together a 77 yard drive in seven plays late in the fourth quarter to go ahead 20-14. Forsyth scored his second touchdown and the Indian's converted on the two point try to go ahead by six with only 3:40 remaining in the game.

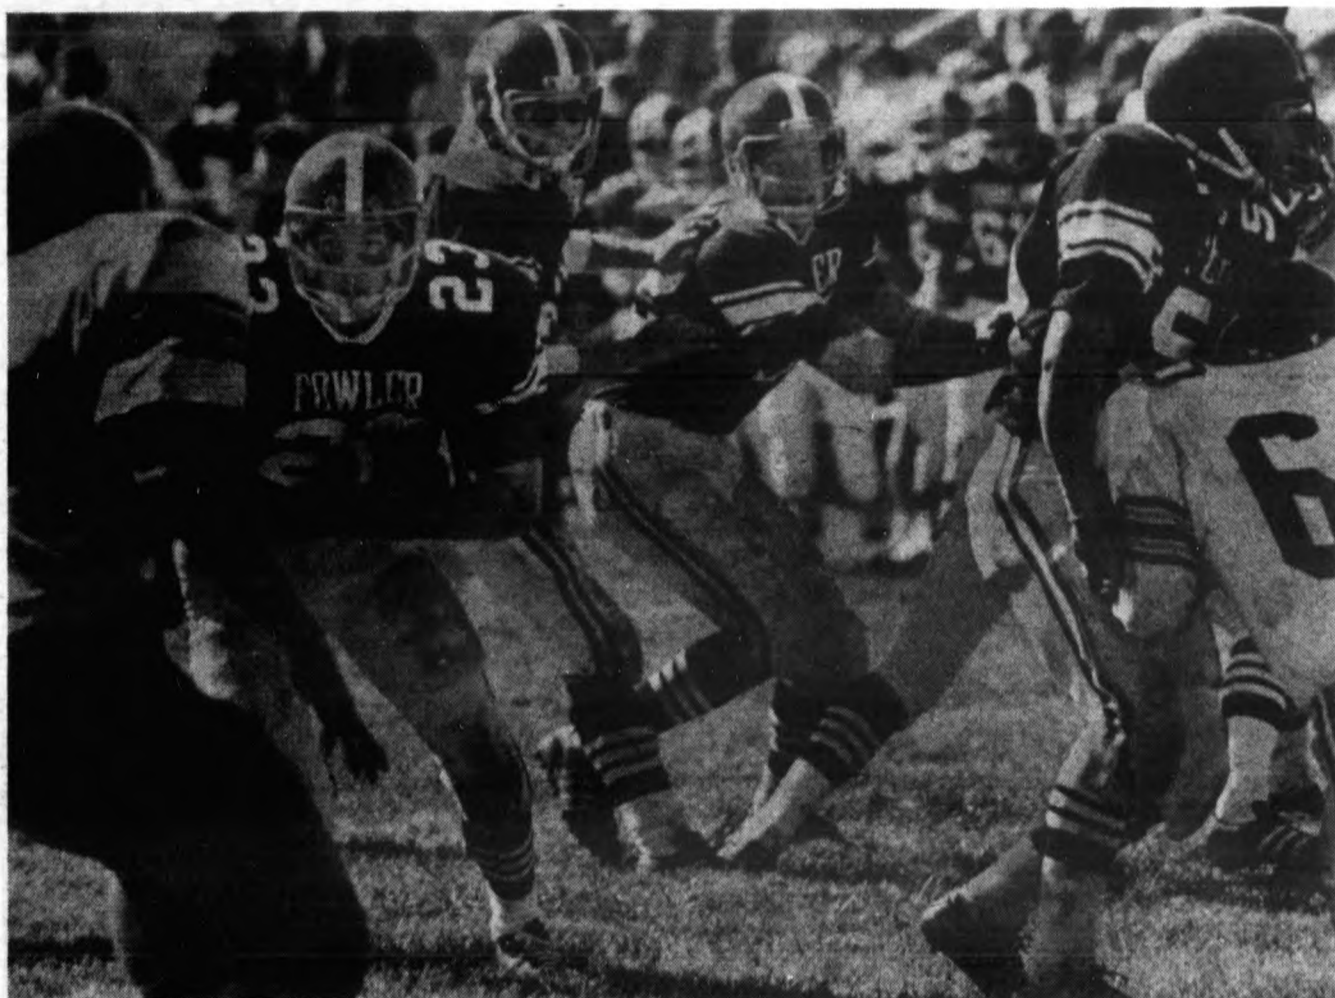

As they did at the end of the first half, Hurst and Coleman got together, this time on a 13 yard pass, to provide the Marauders with the tying six points. The big play of the 46 yard drive was a 38 yard halfback pass from Miller to Kevin Bease.

Bywater connected on his third PAT of the evening to give O-E the slim one point lead.

But the Indians weren't finished as they threw one last scare into the Marauders. Chesaning connected on three While three of his teammates play follow the leader, Fowler's Bruce Wirth (23) looks for daylight in the Pottersville defense. The Eagles managed to knock off the Vikings 6-0 last Saturday in a game moved back a day due to flooding.

Fowler wins

You might say Fowler head coach Steve Spicer had a bad week. The heavy rain on Wednesday night caved in his basement walls which necessitated the cancellation of the following afternoon's football practice.

Through it all, Spicer still managed to lead the Eagles to a 6-0 homecoming victory over Pottersville on Saturday afternoon.

Dave Koenigsnecht scooted 53 yards on the third play of the first quarter for the game's only touchdown. The two pint conversion pass fell incomplete and that, for all intents and purposes, was that.

Although Fowler had the ball inside Pottersville's 40 yard line on five different occasions, they were thwarted each time by their own mistakes and a stubborn Viking defense.

The Eagles committed an uncharacteristic six turnovers and dropped a couple of Darryl Thelen passes in the end zone.

For their part Pottersville never penetrated the Fowler 40 yard line. In fact, the closest the winless Viking's came to scoring was on their last offensive play of the game when quarterback Steve Sweet threw the bomb deep into Fowler territory, only to see Koenigsnecht intercept.

The Fowler defense, which in case you're counting has not given up a point in four games, held Pottersville to five yards rushing and 81 yards passing.

"As far as the tackle charts go, no one really sticks out on defense," Spicer said.

Come on Steve, nobody?

"Well, Ray Feldpausch had nine tackles, two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery," the Fowler coach said.

The offense, although it had its problems, managed 192 yards rushing and 20 through the air. Koenigsnecht carried 25 times for 151 yards.

St. Johns: The Redwings improved their Mid Michigan B record to 3-0 on Tuesday with a 37-36 win over Ionia. Sue Pearsall showed few ill effects of the ankle injury she suffered in the DeWitt game as she pumped in 23 points to lead the Wings. Debbie Hufnagel pulled down an unbelievable 27 rebounds and Gretchen Banninga had 10 caroms to give St. Johns plenty of strength on the boards.

In cross-country action, the Wings knocked off undefeated Ovid-Elsie 26-29 to go 3-1 in the Mid-Michigan B. Paul Pioszak finished in first place overall in a time of 16:29. Teammate Bob Fonger finished in second to provide the slim margin of victory. The Marauder's Stan Bloomfield, Pete Trujillo and Craig Smith took the next three positions, respectively.

The girls swim team knocked off Mason on Tuesday night, 98-74. The 200 Medly Relay was won by the foursome of Stratton, Meyer, Peters and Munger. The 400 freestyle went to Hayes, Fedewa, Munger and VeCasey. Monica Hayes won the 200.

Ovid-Elsie: Ovid fell to Corunna, 38-35 in a heart-breaker they almost pulled through in the final quarter.

The Marauders were down 12 at halftime, 24-12 but pulled through in the fourth quarter chalking up a score of 32-30. The first disappointment came when Mary Perrein took a shot that went in and out again and the Marauders stayed behind for the rest of the game. A few minutes later with the score 35-32 Perrein made a shot and was fouled and head coach Mary Hudecek thought she'd be going to the free throw line with a chance to tie up the game. But the referee ruled that Perrein had been fouled before the shot and ruled the basket off the scoreboard.

Perrein made one of the two freethrows to pull her team to 35-33, but the Marauders could get no closer than that.

The Marauders were out-rebounded 43-23, but coach Mary Hudecek praised her team for their constant hustle.

"They never give up. I just love them for that. They hustle all the time," Hudecek said.

Lori Lin had 12 and Perrein 8 to pace O-E.

The Honke sisters, Elise and Marsha, combined for 26 points and 28 rebounds to propel the Cavaliers to the victory.

With the loss, the Marauders fell to 2-1 in the Mid Michigan B and 4-4 overall. O-E shot 27 percent from the floor and 50 percent from the foul line. Corunna was good on 35 percent of their field goal attempts.

"We can't fall behind like that and expect to catch up very often," Hudecek said. "Last year when we had Jennifer Litomisky it was possible, but this year we don't have anybody who can pour them in like Jennifer did."

Fowler: The Eagle cross-country team lost to Bellevue and defeated Maple Valley in a triangular meet on Tuesday. The Fowler girls defeated the same two schools with Emily Feldpausch finishing first in 19:44

Pioszak tops Ferris meet for fifth win

St. Johns: At the Ferris State Invitational on Saturday, cross-country standout Paul Pioszak made it five out of six victories this season by taking first place honors over the 5,000 meter course in a time of 16:05.

As a team, the Redwing harriers were placed in the ten school Class A division and wound up in ninth place. Bob Fonger placed 38th and Tom Rayman 43rd for St. Johns.

The golf team had three matches scheduled for this past week with only two actually taking place. Thursday's match with Corunna was rained out and will not be made up.

However, the linksters saw action at the Prairie Creek course the following day and lost to DeWitt, 162-182. Tom Beachum led the Wings with a nine hole score of 42. Jon Warren had a 44, Landon Foy a 47 and Kevin Barrett a 49.

At the Old West Central Classic at Charlotte's Butternut Brook course on Saturday, the golfers finished fifth out of six schools. Warren shot a 91 to lead St. Johns. The JV golfers took third as freshman Grant Linnell captured medalist honors with an 87.

The heavy rains forced cancellation of the scheduled swim meet last Thursday between St. Johns and Haslett. It has been rescheduled for tonight (Thursday).

The girls tennis team improved their record to 8-2 on Monday with a 4-3 triumph over the Grand Ledge Comets. Leslie Smith picked up the lone singles victory for the Redwings. All three doubles teams won their matches to provide the slim margin of victory. Doubles winners included: Michelle O'Connor and Ellen Witteveen; Lauryn Escher and Julie Garapetian; and Sarah Tetens and Cheryl Perez.

P-W: The Pirate golfers improved their dual meet record to 7-0 with a 151-199 victory over Fowler last Wednesday. Jeff Belen fired a 34 at the Portland Country Club to pace the Pirates. Dan Bengel had a 35, Dan Blatt a 41 and Rich Arnes a 41 for P-W. Fowler's Mike Ulrich led the Eagles with a score of 39.

Ovid-Elsie: The Marauders finished seventh in the 14 team Class B division of the Ferris State Invitational on Saturday. Craig Smith was the top O-E finisher as he crossed the tape in 17th place. Stan Bloomfield was right behind Smith in 18th. Pete Trujillo finished a respectable 25th in the 98 runner field.

Fowler: The golfers dropped a 146-187 CMAC decision to Portland St. Patrick's on Monday afternoon. Mike Ulrich shot a 41 for the Eagles at the Portland Country Club, followed by Dave Luttgig's 48, Kevin Gibbon's 49 and Marty Hamilton's 49.

Fulton: The Fulton linksters picked up their first match victory of the year by upending Laingsburg on Monday, 165-180. Medalist honors went to the Pirates John Walrath who shot a 39 at the North Star course. Scott Baker shot a 42, Greg Caris a 42 and Craig Hamp a 42.

Basketball

P-W downs Shamrocks

P-W: Shawn Thelen made two clutch free throws with seven seconds left to give P-W a thrilling 48-45 victory over previously unbeaten Portland St. Patrick's Wednesday night.

The Pirates led 32-21 at halftime, but the game was knotted up at 42 with 52 seconds left in the contest on a basket by St. Pat's Karen Kramer.

Ann Pung calmly sank two free throws and then Patti Theis hit a basket to boost the P-W lead back up to four with only 17 seconds remaining.

St. Pat's Laurie Leik converted on a three-point play to narrow the margin to one point before Thelen put the game out of reach with her free throws.

"LeAnn Radeemacher really came through. She hit some nice outside shots and had five steals. She had by far her best game of the year," said P-W head coach Carol Bogard.

Rademacher led the Pirates with 17 points, followed by Thelen's 12. Theis led P-W in the rebounding department with 10. P-W sank 17 of 50 shots from the floor for 34 percent and were 14 of 22 from the foul line.

The victory boosted P-W into a three way tie for first in the CMAC with Fowler and St. Pat's.

Ovid-Elsie: The Marauders picked up a 49-36 victory over non-league foe DeWitt Thursday night, 49-36.

Although the Marauders had one less field goal than DeWitt and were outshot from the floor, O-E took advantage of their numerous free throw opportunities to win the game.

O-E connected on 23 of 35 free tosses while the visiting Panthers made only six of ten from the line.

O-E's 23-14 halftime lead was trimmed to five after DeWitt opened the third quarter with a pair of baskets.

The Marauder defense put the clamps on, though, and shut the Panthers out for the remainder of the quarter. Going into the final quarter the score stood at 36-18.

In the rebounds, O-E pulled down 43 to only 29 for DeWitt. The big story, however, was the Marauder defense which had DeWitt perplexed all evening.

"They were much more aggressive on the boards — that was the major difference, along with their defense. Offensively they didn't hurt us, but defensively they had control of the game," said DeWitt head coach Frank Deak.

O-E was led in the scoring column by three girls in double figures — Shawn Barclay (12), Mary Perrein (12) and Tena Woodbury (11).

Fulton: A cold shooting performance did not stop the defensive minded Fulton Pirates from whipping winless Bellevue last Wednesday, 42-25.

Fulton scored the game's first basket and then proceeded to miss their next 11 shots. At the end of the first quarter, the Pirates trailed 6-2.

The frigid shooting continued through three quarters, although Fulton managed to turn a one point halftime deficit into a 23-19 lead going into the final eight minutes of play.

Typical of their performance up to that point, the Pirates missed three easy layups at the end of the third quarter.

"Most all of our shots were decent shots from close range. We just couldn't get the ball to drop," said Fulton head coach Ron Merritt.

The Pirates started to put the ball in with regularity in the fourth quarter, outscoring Bellevue 19-6 to win going away.

Fulton switched to an aggressive zone defense two games ago and it has been instrumental in producing back-to-back victories.

"I told the girls that if it hadn't been for our defense, we'd have lost," Merritt said.

O-E faces unbeaten Cavaliers

By KEVIN BOGGS

I did reasonably well last week by picking three out of four winners. For the year my selections have been on the money seven out of nine times. Still, surprises abound as many of my final score predictions have been off the mark by considerable margins.

I thought St. Johns would have no problem disposing of Alma last week, but the Redwings needed a fourth quarter field goal by Jamie Werbish to edge the Panthers. Have I overrated St. Johns or, more precisely, is the Redwing offense only mediocre? A week ago I would not have even asked such a question, but four games and 32 points does not exactly exude confidence in an offensive unit. For the moment, I reserve my right to take a wait and see attitude.

As predicted, P-W defeated a hard nosed Fulton team last Saturday. The actual final score of 34-6 was a bit different from my predicted final of 19-16, though.

Although Fowler is also unbeaten (not to mention unscored upon), I believe P-W is currently the best team in the CMAC. 15 days from now when the two arch rivals meet at P-W, perhaps Fowler will be the better team. I expect both squads to go into that game with 6-0 records and the winner to walk off with the CMAC championship. It should be a great game. The last time P-W came out on top was 1976. In 1980, Fowler won in triple overtime 12-6.

Spectator's Special: Corunna at Ovid-Elsie: Last week the Marauders surprised me by knocking off Chesaning 21-20. Pete Hurst and Craig Coleman teamed up to provide the offensive fireworks and propel O-E to victory.

Corunna comes into the game undefeated. After being defeated 9-6, St. Johns head coach Joe Gonzales said he was impressed by the size of Cavalier running backs Jeff Wieland and Phil Zielinski.

Corunna has given up only 19 points in four games and I look for them to be a little too tough for O-E. Final score: Corunna 21 O-E 7.

Ionia at St. Johns: The Bulldogs invade St. Johns tomorrow night sporting a 1-3 record. Two weeks ago Ionia's Dan Causo scored two touchdowns and rushed for 154 yards in a 20-12 loss to Chesaning.

The Redwing defense remains superb while the offense flounders. Final score: St. Johns 20 Ionia 7.

Bellevue at P-W: Bellevue comes into P-W winless and without hope. This game reminds me of a Northwestern-U of M clash. Final score: P-W 42 Bellevue 0.

Laingsburg at Fowler: The Wolfpack will be trying to put a chink in the flawless armor of the Fowler defense. Laingsburg has a pretty good offensive line and a punishing fullback in Scott Deyarmond who gained 117 yards last week against Portland St. Pat's.

The Wolfpack is 2-2 overall and they could make things difficult for Fowler whose offense has had trouble moving the ball. Final score: Fowler 19 Laingsburg 8.

Fulton at Potterville: Fulton will rebound after last week's tough loss to P-W. The big plays killed the Pirates last week. It won't happen again. Fulton will control the ball against the winless Vikings and come out on top. Final score: Fulton 27 Potterville 6.

★ Basketball

Balanced scoring was the name of the game as three Fulton girls — Amy Slavik, Kiffany Bailey and Brenda Ondrus — all had 10 points. Trisha Zamarron also came off the bench to score eight points. Ondrus led the team in rebounds with 18.

"I'm a little surprised at the balanced scoring we've been getting. It makes it tougher on the other team to adjust to us," Merritt said.

The win raised Fulton's record to 5-3 and 3-2 in the CMAC.

Note: The heavy rain on September 30th forced the cancellation of two games: Olivet at Fowler and St. Johns at Okemos. The games have not been rescheduled as of yet.

time. I wanted to show I have confidence in him. The way the season's been going, the kicking game is very important," Gonzales said.

Coon was forced to leave the game in the third quarter because, in the words of Gonzales, "he had his bell rung. He didn't know where he was."

The defense led by Riley (14 tackles), Brent Churches (nine tackles) and Tim Moore (nine tackles) continued to play superbly for St. Johns.

"I think our defense really hits. The Corunna coach (Dick Moffitt) told me our guys hit harder than anybody," Gonzales said.

But the Redwing offense continues to have its problems. Why?

"As I've said before, lack of execution, but not by everyone — by certain individuals at certain times," Gonzales said.

St. Johns had 14 first downs, 209 yards rushing and zero yards passing. Riley had 99 yards in nine carries, Todd Elsea 52 yards on 10 carries and Gonzales 51 yards on 20 carries.

The Panthers finished with seven first downs and 150 yards in total offense.

St. Johns is now 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the conference.

Scholar named

John P. Stefanek, a senior at Ovid-Elsie High School, is being commended in the 27th annual National Merit Scholarship Program. A letter of commendation will be presented to Stefanek who placed among the top 51,000 participants in the current competition.

"To be designated a Commended student is an outstanding attainment," said a spokesman for the National Merit Scholarship

Corporation which conducts the Merit Program. "The nation will benefit from the continued educational and personal development of students such as Stefanek because they have shown exceptional promise."

In the spring of 1982 NMSC will announce the names of about 5,000 Merit Scholarship winners who will receive awards worth $15 million for college undergraduate study.

passes down to the O-E 25 before Don Phillips intercepted a St. Gordon pass to all but end the game.

The Marauders compiled 235 yards on the ground and Hurst was seven of 15 through the air for 191 yards. O-E's leading runner was Miller who had 120 yards in 13 carries. O-E also put together 17 first downs.

Chesaning had a balanced attack as well, getting 173 yards via the passing game, 165 yards rushing and amassing 13 first downs.

The victory boosted O-E's record to 2-2.

4-H honors its faithful leaders

A special salute was made Monday evening to the Clinton County 4-H leaders at a banquet that drew more than 300 people.

Sponsored annually by the Clinton County 4-H Council and Clinton Bank and Trust, the dinner meeting honors leaders who have served three, five, 10, 15, 25, 30 and 35 years. Teen leaders who have served for three years are also honored with special pins.

The county's 10 longest serving 4-H leaders have turned in 250 years of teaching and support to the 4-H program. Honored were Anabel Peck of the Elsie 4-H Corners club with 35 years and George Hazle of the Scattered Southeast Club and Ila Wood of Olive 4-H Projects with 30 years each.

Leaders with 25 years of service are Elizabeth Blakeley of Elsie 4-Corners, Jack-Schwark of Ovid Spring Valley Club and Shirley Hazle of Scattered Southeast.

Twenty year leaders are Norman Blakely of Elsie 4-Corners, Sue Cerny of Nimble Fingers, Donna Goerge of Fowler Big Dealers and Marilyn Kissane of 4-H Wonders.

Youth Agent Theresa Silm called the leaders "special people that make 4-H happen."

She said Mrs. Peck, whose club started in 1946 has been organizational leader as well as a leader in flowers, vegetables and demonstration projects. At fair-time she has served as vegetable chairman and Quonset chairman. She has served on both the county and state horticulture committees and coached the county identification team.

Hazle who is a dairy leader has been active on the county and state dairy committees and served as the dairy judging coach. Mrs. Wood is organizational leader of a large club and leads clothing, crochet, foods, knitting, flowers and vegetables. She has been a member of the county horticulture program for years.

Mrs. Blakely has been a special help in the Elsie club as well as a department assistant at the fair. Mrs. Silm said. She leads clothing, foods and special activities. Schwark is a tractor leader and is in charge of the county tractor safety and maintenance certification program. He is also responsible for the county and state tractor contests and is a rifle leader. Mrs. Hazle is an organizational leader and on the 4-H Council. She is a foods leader and has been on the county foods committee. Recently she attended a state dairy foods conference in Washington D.C. to promote and support the dairy program.

Blakely leads indoor gardening and rabbits and is a fair chairman. He also is on the county horticulture committee. Mrs. Cerny is the organizational member of her club and also leads crafts and horticulture. She helps coach softball, has been a fair chairman, contest coordinator and on the county developmental committee.

Mrs. Goerge leads knitting, sewing and flowers. She is active in church, school and at home and on the job. Mrs. Kissane is a past food stand chairman for the fair

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Clinton County Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on, Wednesday, November 4, 1981 at 7:30 P.M. in the Clinton County Courthouse, St. Johns, Michigan.

The subject of the public hearing will be the consideration of the following amendments to OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance.

CASE ZC-24-81 Eagle Township - Rezoning

A petition for rezoning has been filed by Mr. Lloyd E. Moody, 13531 S. Wright Road, Eagle, MI seeking rezoning from A-1, Agriculture to B-1, Commercial the following legally described property which generally lies on the southwest corner of the intersection of M-100 and Grand River Highway. The property is owned by Mrs. Alice C. Sullivan, 10945 Grand River Highway, Grand Ledge, Michigan.

BEG. 15 RDS. S. OF INTERSECTION OF GRAND RIVER HWY. AND E. LINE OF SEC. 26, T5N-R4W, TH. W. 32 RDS. 13', N. TO C/I OF SD. HWY. SE 1/4 ALG. HWY. TO E. IN. OF SEC., TH. S. TO BEG.

CASE ZC-25-81 Text Amendment

Amend Art. 4, Sec. 4.4.8 by deleting the entire section from OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance.

4.4.8 Special Use Permit: The Board of Appeals shall review any properly filed appeal from action by the County Board of Commissioners on a request for a special use permit pursuant to Art. 7 of this ordinance.

The Board of Appeals has the power to approve or deny the issuance of a special use permit or it can authorize approval and vary the conditions of that approval as long as the conditions remain consistent with the standards described in Art. 7 and are consistent with the standards described in Art. 7 and are consistent with the intent of the provisions of this ordinance. In making this determination, the Board of Appeals shall examine the application and all accompanying data as well as the records and determination of both the Zoning Commission hearing and the Board of Commissioners' deliberations; furthermore, the Board shall make any additional investigations it deems necessary before rendering a decision. Decisions of the Board of Appeals are appealable to Circuit Court.

Amend Article 7, Sec. 7.1.12 by deleting the entire section from OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance.

7.1.12 Appeal: Appeal of a decision on a special use request may be taken to the Board of Appeals in accordance with the procedure specified in Section 4.4.8.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Clinton County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct a public hearing on Monday, October 19, 1981 at 8:00 P.M. in the Conference Room, Clinton County Service Center, 306 E. Elm Street, St. Johns, Michigan.

The subject of the public hearing will be the consideration of the following cases:

AB-48-81: BINGHAM TOWNSHIP - Lot of Record Determination
An application for a lot-of-record determination has been filed by Mrs. Teresa Sisson 1350 N. Scott Road, St. Johns, Mi. pursuant to Art. 4.4.10 or OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance. Relief, if granted, would allow the division of the following legally described parcel into two (2) 132 x 198 foot lots.
BI 101A - 030-010-300-050-00
Com. on the W. sec. In. of Sec. 10, T7N-R2W, in Mi. at a pt. 703' S. of W 1/4 post (Which quarter post is located at the inters. of Scott Rd. & Steel Rd), run. th. E. 198', th. S. 264', th. W. 198' to sd. Sec. In. th. N. alg. sd. Sec. In. 264' to pl. of beg. Mrs. Sisson represents that the parcel in question was two distinct lots in 1954, and was later combined into one description.
AB-49-81 BATH CHARTER TOWNSHIP - Dimensional Variance and Expansion of a Non-conforming Use
An application for two (2) dimensional variances and an expansion of a legal nonconforming use has been filed by Dale Trew, 13645 Main Street, Bath, Mi. The applications are filed pursuant to Art. 6.19.2, 6.20.10J and 13.3 of the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance. The applicant is seeking the dimensional variances to permit the construction of a building to be utilized for automobile and general residential storage and parking five (5) feet from a side and rear property line. In like manner, the applicant requires authorization from the Board since the construction could be deemed an expansion of a legal nonconforming use, since the building is an accessory use to a multiple family dwelling located on site. The ordinance does not permit multiple family residential uses in the B-1, commercial zone.
Lots 5 & 6, Blk. 7, except a piece of ld. in the NW cor. of Lot 5, 16 1/2' N&S by 33' E&W; also exc. a piece of ld. at the SW cor. of lot 6 30' N&S by 60' E&W.
AB-50-81 EAGLE TOWNSHIP - Dimensional Variance
An application for a dimensional variance to OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance has been filed by Mr. Lloyd E. Moody, 13531 S. Wright Rd., Eagle, Mi requesting a dimensional variance to Sec. 6.19.2 of the zoning ordinance. Relief, if granted, would allow the use of an existing building for a commercial farm market which is closer to the r/o/w of Grand River Avenue than permitted. The ordinance requires a (60') sixty foot setback from the r/o/w. The existing barn is only 15' from the r/o/w. The relief requested only pertains to a dimensional variance for setback and not authorization for a farm market, which will entail a change of zone.
Beg. 15 rds. S. of interse. of Grand River Hwy. & E. In. of Sec. 26, T5N-R4W, th. W. 32 rds. 13', N. to c/l of sd. Hwy. SE'ly alg. hwy. to E. In. of Sec., th. S. to beg.
AB-51-81 DUPLAIN TOWNSHIP - Special Exception
An application for a temporary housing occupancy permit has been filed by Mr. Robert Houska, 5220 St. Clair Rd., Elsie, Mi on behalf of Mr. &

Mrs. Warren Drew. The application is filed pursuant to Art. 4, Sec. 4.4.6, and if approved, would allow the placement of a mobile home on the following legally described parcel of property due to a medical condition of the occupant.
A par. of ld. measuring 150' E&W by 120' N&S out of SW cor. of N 1/2 of SW 1/4 of Sec. 21, T8-N-R1W in Mi; ALSO a par. of ld. measuring 250' E&W by 250' N&S out of NW cor. of S 1/2 of SW 1/4 of Sec. 21, T8N-R1W, Duplain Twp., Clinton County, Mi cont. approx. 1.84 acres.
AB-52-81 WATERTOWN TOWNSHIP - Special Exception
An application for a temporary housing occupancy permit has been filed by Mrs. Vivian Humphrey, 15835 Grove Road, Lansing, Mi. The application is filed pursuant to Art. 4.4.6 of the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance and, if approved, would allow the occupancy of a mobile home for medical reasons on the following legally described parcel of property:
Wa 562 - The S. 201 feet of Lot 11, Supervisor's Plat No. 4, T5N-R3W, Watertown Township, Clinton County, Michigan.
AB-54-81 WATERTOWN TOWNSHIP - Special Exception
An application for a temporary housing occupancy permit has been filed by Harold Main, 8562 Howe Road, Eagle, Mi. The application is filed pursuant to Art. 4.4.6 of the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance and if approved, would allow the occupancy of a mobile home for medical reasons on the following legally described parcel of property:
80 rods W of SW cor. of SW 1/4 of Sec. 5, T5N-R3W, th. 80 rds. N, 20 rds. W, 80 rds. S., 20 rds. E. to pl. of beg. Watertown Township, Clinton County, Mi.
AB-55-81 OLIVE TOWNSHIP - Dimensional Variance
An application for a dimensional variance to Art. 6, Sec. 6.5.5.(B) has been filed by Raymond Barnhart, 8373 Loomis Road, DeWitt, Mi 48820. Relief, if granted, would allow the utilization of a parcel of property which has less road frontage than required by the ordinance, for residential purposes. The legal property description of the affected property is as follows:
Com. 490' N. of SW cor. of NW 1/4 of Sec. 21, T6N-R2W, th. N. 285', th. E. to Locher Dr. th S'y agl. drain to a pt. directly E. of beg., th. W. to POB.
AB-56-81 Interpretation of OR-1-78, The Clinton County Zoning Ordinance
Pursuant to the provisions of Art. 4, Sec. 4.4.4 Interpretation, the Clinton County Department of Development Control requests that the Zoning Board of Appeals interpret the provisions of Art. 6.16.21 to determine if it is the intent and purpose of this provision to preclude the below ground storage of flammable liquids in the M-1 Industrial zone district.
The appeal application(s) and OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance are available for public inspection in the Department of Development Control located at 1003 S. Oakland Street, St. Johns, Mi between 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. Monday through Friday. Interested persons are requested to attend the hearing and voice their opinions in respect thereto or written comments may be forwarded to the Department. Please call 224-6761 Ext. 221 for further information.

Extension offers garden tips

The frosts that spell the end of the outdoor gardening season do not stem the tide of gardening questions. Michigan State University Extension specialists answer timely queries for October:

Q. I'd like to gather some walnuts or hickory nuts this fall. Where is the best place to look for nut trees?

A. Nut trees prefer to grow on high ground where the soil is well drained. You may find them in the company of sugar maples and other hard maples, beech trees, oaks and other highland species. Nut trees may often be found growing along country roads. The nuts may fall in the road; but they belong to the person who owns the land on which the trees are growing, so be sure to ask the landowner's permission before you gather them.

Q. I gathered some excellent black walnuts last year and intend to go back to the same tree this year. I would like to plant some of the nuts on my property. Do they need any special treatment before planting?

A. Remove the thick outer husks and dry the nuts for a few days. Place them in plastic bags in the refrigerator until spring. Then plant them and be patient. It generally takes eight to 12 years for walnuts grown from seed to produce nuts.

Q. My potatoes this year were some of the strangest things I have ever seen. They were all knobby and rough, and some of them were shaped like animals. What causes this?

A. Potatoes often grow in strange shapes when subjected to uneven-soil moisture. Deep weekly watering during dry spells, especially after plants have started to flower and form tubers, and mulching to slow the loss of water from the soil should give you more regularly shaped tubers next year.

Q. What causes tree leaves to turn color in the fall?

A. The change in color is the tree's response to decreasing day length. As the days get shorter, the leaves stop producing chlorophyll, the substance that gives them their green color. As the old chlorophyll breaks down and is not replaced, other pigments which have been present all along but masked by the chlorophyll become visible. Cool nights and warm days tend to make these colors brighter. Freezing temperatures kill leaf cells, prevent color formation, and cause leaf abscission layers to form, followed by leaf drop.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE

Pursuant to the terms of a certain Judgment of Divorce JUAN J. VASQUEZ, 3117 North East Street, U.S. 27, Lansing, Michigan 48906, is the holder of a note dated the 29th day of March, 1978 and signed by ROSA MARIA VASQUEZ. JUAN J. VASQUEZ also holds the Second Mortgage which was signed and delivered by ROSA MARIA VASQUEZ to JUAN J. VASQUEZ to secure payment on the note. The Second Mortgage was recorded with the Clinton County Register of Deeds on August 4, 1978 at Liber 300, Pages 176 and 1977.

The Second Mortgage concerns property at 309 S. Swegles, St. Johns, Michigan 48879 described as:

Lot 4, Block 35, original Plat to the City of St. Johns.

ROSA MARIA VASQUEZ, breached the Second Mortgage. She was given proper notice of the breach, but she has not cured the breach. Accordingly, the mortgagee has declared all of the money secured by the Second Mortgage to be immediately due and payable, the mortgagee will use the power of sale granted by the Second Mortgage, and the Second Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises. As of the date of this notice, the amount due to JUAN J. VASQUEZ is Two Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($2,800.00). This amount includes the principal of Two Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($2,800.00) and no additional charges for interest, since the note contained no provision for payment of interest.

The interest of JUAN J. VASQUEZ in the premises described above, is a Second Mortgage, and is subject to the terms and conditions of a First Mortgage executed by JUAN J. VASQUEZ and ROSA MARIA VASQUEZ, dated January 11, 1973 in the principal amount of $14,000.00 and delivered to Farmers Home Administration. This First Mortgage was recorded with the Clinton County Register of Deeds on January 11, 1973 at Liber 269, Pages 177-180.

The foreclosure sale will be held on October 29, 1981 at 10:00 a.m. at or near the main entrance to the Courthouse, St. Johns, Michigan. The main entrance of the Courthouse is at the corner of State Street and Clinton Avenue.

THIS FORECLOSURE SALE IS TO BE SUBJECT TO ALL TERMS, CONDITIONS AND BALANCES DUE OF THE FIRST MORTGAGE RECORDED AT LIBER 269, PAGES 177-180, WHEREIN FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION IS THE PRESENT HOLDER.

The statutory redemption period is six months from the date of sale.
