County laying off six CETA workers

By SUE KILEY WHITE

The beginning of the end is nearing for those people employed on the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program due to budget cuts proposed by the new Reagan administration.

In Clinton County six people will be laid-off on April 17. Notices were sent out March 19.

The following positions are being terminated next Friday; one clerk-typist in the drain office, one clerk-typist in the clerk's office, a law clerk for the prosecuting attorney, a 4-H program assistant, an oral historian and an Elsie police officer.

"It's been a hard and lengthy process," said Bill LeFevere, Clinton County administrative aide. "The county imposed a hiring freeze last year because of a proposed reduction in funds. We knew something was going to happen...we just didn't know when."

Six people working for the Clinton Development Commission (CDC) were also laid off last Thursday.

Tom Woodruff, president of the CDC had requested that the Clinton County Board of Commissioners, loan this group $25,000 to keep operating, saying they were saving the county a tremendous amount through their work on the drains.

His request however, was denied at the county's finance committee level last week.

A transfer of funds saved a clerk-typist's jobs in the probate court, according to LeFevere.

Also recommended for later lay-offs were a custodian, two jail matrons, a night caretaker, three additional clerk-typists and a maintenance position.

"We were lucky in 1981," said LeFevere. "With things being so tight in the state, we didn't have any lay-offs of county employees. However, it's uncertain what will happen in 1982."

He commented the reasoning for not rehiring the laid off employees with county funds was two-fold. First of all there is no surplus in the county budget and secondly these people would probably be laid-off again because the county couldn't afford to keep them on the payroll.

"I guess the phrase being used quite a bit in government now is, bite the bullet," LeFevere added.

The CETA work program started in the early 1970's and was designed to give people work, but to be used only for jobs over and above the normal county budget.

"Originally, CETA was never meant to be a program that local units of government should rely on," said LeFevere. "It was an easy trap to fall into though, because it was a less painful way to employ people. Bigger cities are going to be hurt worse than we are."

A total of 54 CETA employees work in Clinton County. This does not include Title 2B workers, but it is expected these people will be laid off also in the near future.

Some jobs just won't be filled such as seasonal positions. The City of St. Johns for example, has laborers that start work in June. These people have not been hired yet, so there obviously won't be any lay-off notices needed.

"CETA is going the way of the dinosaurs," commented LeFevere. "And there's going to be hard times ahead."

Department heads had put in requests to keep their extra help, but LeFevere commented, they knew the CETA program would be ending and have accepted the fact. Workers on the other hand, are angry because they thought they had a job for the duration of 18 months. Most did not appreciate the lay-off notices.

"The handwriting was on the wall three years ago," the administrator said. "The elected officials are going to have to fill in the gap when the CETA people leave and adjustments are going to have to be made."

LeFevere indicated county operations would have to be streamlined.

"Less money means less services," he warned.

Legislators explain Proposal G

By SUE KILEY WHITE

Proposal G was the main topic of conversation last Wednesday night when Clinton County Commissioners and township officials met with state legislators Ernest Nash and Allan Cropsey last Wednesday night.

Proposal G is also known as the Property Tax Cut Proposal which will appear on a statewide ballot May 19. The measure should reduce summer and winter tax bills directly, and provides additional property tax relief for renters, senior citizens and other taxpayers by increasing homestead property tax relief credit benefits. However, an increase in state sales tax will also be seen by Michigan residents with the rate going from the present four percent to five and one-half percent.

If the proposal is approved by the voters the taxes paid in 1980 will determine what will be paid in 1981 according to Nash. He used the following example: If a home has a state equalized value (SEV) of $20,000 and operating millage was .040 his property taxes would be $800 in 1980. If you then multiply the $800 by 1.06 the figure would be $848. Take half of that figure and in 1981 the taxpayer would pay $424.

Other classes of property such as business and commercial property will continue to pay the same amount in taxes except for the six percent limitation.

"Is this a very good incentive for business to come to Michigan?" asked one of the commissioners.

Nash answered, "No it really won't be beneficial to business at all. In fact, no statewide organization is really enthused about it either." He added, "Frankly, I really don't think it's going to pass."

Nash commented this proposal was on the ballot to try and "head off something that could possibly be worse." He also noted the proposal takes away a provision from the Headlee Amendment which was passed a couple of years ago.

Local treasurers and assessors present at the special meeting Wednesday evening commented this proposal would put a bigger work load on their shoulders. It was also pointed out senior citizens, veterans, paraplegics, and blind persons would benefit the most from the passage of this bill.

"Is there anything the legislature is trying to do to help the business industry in our state?" questioned Roger Overway, chairman of the Clinton County Board of Commissioners.

Rep. Cropsey indicated Proposal G was not meant as a tax relief for businesses.

"Businesses in Michigan still won't be able to be as competitive with other businesses in stronger economic climates," he said.

Cropsey further stated education has also been another area hard hit in recent years. He showed that in 1969 education received 28 percent of the state budget and social services received 14 percent. However, in 1980, education received 14 percent of the state budget and social services received 34 percent.

"When is the legislature going to start understanding that the only way we're going to get and keep people in this state is to have jobs available and this can't be done if business continues to take such a downward trend," questioned Overway.

Cropsey replied, "More revenue is going out to people that aren't being productive so that the people that are productive have to pick up the slack in the state's eroding economy...consequently people are moving out."

Proposal G only applies to homesteads not rental or resort properties. Farmers may have the 50 percent reduction apply to all farmland property taxes if gross farm receipts exceed household income, according to the wording in the bill. Otherwise, the cut applies to farmland adjacent and contiguous to the homestead if the owner lived there 10 or more years, or the homestead and five acres of land if the owner lived on the property less than 10 years.

"I have a strong feeling this proposal is going to pass," said Earl Lancaster, commissioner from St. Johns. "People are going to look at the idea of cutting will report

There will be a joint meeting of the Farmers Union and the American Agriculture Movement, Thursday, April 9 at 7 p.m. at the Capital Savings and Loan Community Room, downtown St. Johns.

Larry Phinney of St. Johns, president of the state AAM group will speak on his recent trip to Washington D.C. and the progress of the 1981 Farm Bill.

Also to speak is Jim Grams, county dairy farmer, who will report on the Farmers Union Convention.

Lions

pickup papers

The St. Johns Lions Club will pick up bundled newspapers left at the curb by 10 a.m. Saturday, April 11.

City residents with glass bottles and jars and aluminum may drop them off at the Re-cycling Center at the corner of Steel and Swegles Street from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The center is also open the fourth Thursday of each month from 7 to 9 p.m.

Board of Education

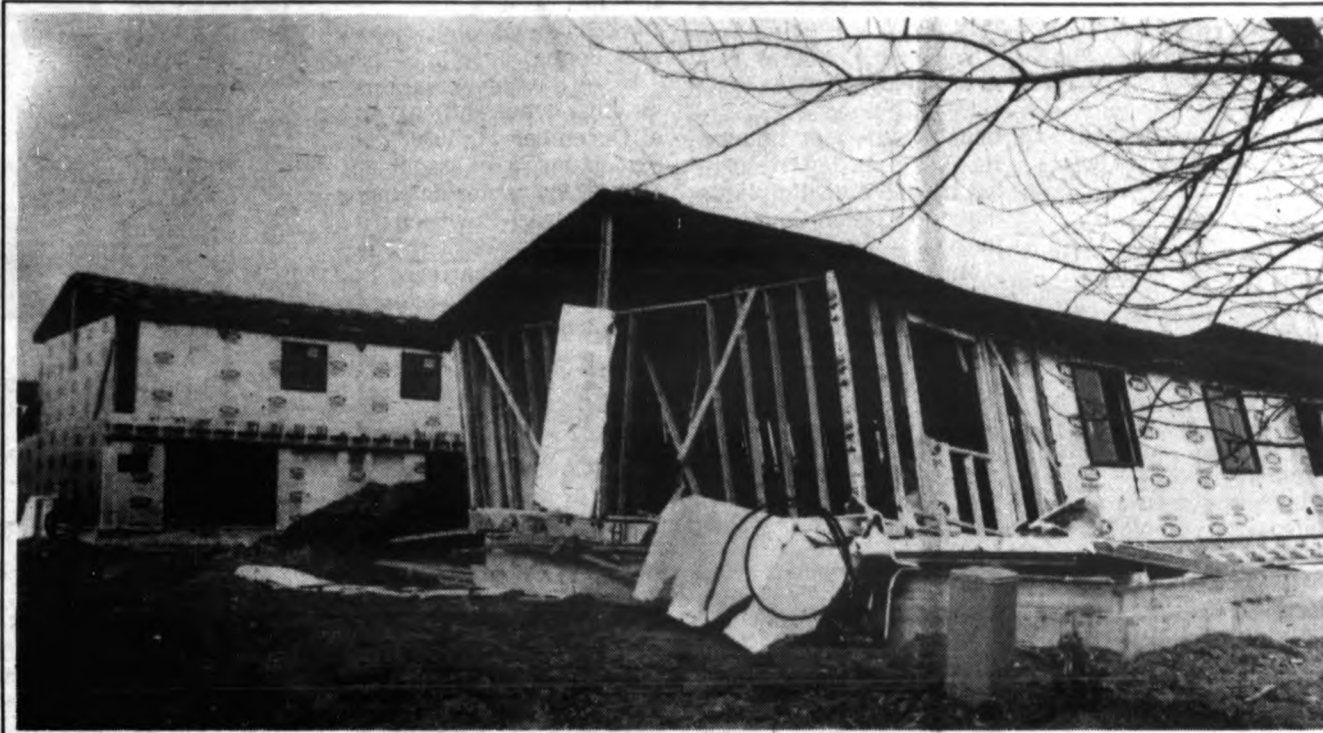

meets tonight

The St. Johns Board of Education meets in regular session this evening, Wednesday, April 8, at 8 p.m. at the Eureka Elementary School to hear a report from a Citizen Finance Committee which has been studying the school's financial situation for the past several months.

The committee is expected to make recommendations to the board on the amount of millage needed to maintain the existing school program and suggestions for cuts if necessary.

Tonight's meeting is the first in a series of four regular sessions that will be held at the rural elementary schools.

Eureka is in the northeast corner of the district.

High winds gusting from 50 to 80 miles per hour caused an unestimated amount of damage to the Suntree Apartments in St. Johns, Saturday morning. A two-story building under construction collapsed. According to city reports the building was being constructed out of the normal sequence with the shell and outer walls going up before the cement floor was poured. This caused the building to be weak and susceptible to the high winds.

Allen amendment adds $8 million to school aid bill

An amendment offered by State Senator Richard Allen, increasing the K-12 school aid budget for fiscal 1981-82 by $80 million, has been adopted by the Michigan Senate, his office reported last week.

In offering the amendment, Senator Allen argued that "the state has been steadily decreasing its support for education over the past several years, thus forcing Michigan citizens to assume a greater burden in funding education through increased property taxes."

He also pointed out that without increased education funding, "the ability of local school districts to fund education will be severely hampered if voters approve the property tax proposal on the May 19 special election ballot."

Under that proposal yearly property tax revenue growth will be limited to six percent unless raised by the voters.

"If we are going to have true property tax reform, then the state must be willing to pick up property tax revenue growth," Allen said.

In order to pay for the additional $80 million in education, Allen said additional reductions would have to be made from other state programs. He suggested reducing social services Aid to Dependent Children payments.

"Those payments are now 25 percent above the average payments made in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin," he said. "If Michigan reduced the ADC benefits by 15 percent, the state would save an estimated $78.5 million and still be paying 10 percent more in ADC than the four surrounding states," he maintained.

Either this approach or cutting the state budget across the board would be necessary to free the state revenue for the additional school aid dollars, he reported.

Allen serves on the Senate Education Committee.

Seminar set, discusses storms

Each spring Governor William Milliken designates a week as "Tornado Safety Week." It is now time to remind all Clinton County residents of the upcoming summer storm season.

As part of the Tornado Safety Week, and in recognition of the upcoming summer storm season, the Clinton County Office of Emergency services is sponsoring a seminar entitled "Summer Storms."

The purpose of this seminar is to increase awareness of summer storms and to improve safety measures.

With this in mind you are invited to a program to be held at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The same program will be presented on two separate evenings - Tuesday, April 21 and Thursday, April 23 at 7 p.m. The program is expected to last about two hours.

The speaker on each evening will be Robert Jacobson, Meteorologist in Charge from the United States Weather Service, Capitol City Airport. He will discuss the structure of tornados and tell how to spot them. The emphasis for the evening, however, will be on thunderstorms and straight line winds which did so much damage in the southern part of the state last July. He will also show a film entitled "Killer Tornado."

In order to assure adequate seating the Office of Emergency Services is requesting that groups and organizations please contact Capt. Robert J. Ferry before Friday, April 17 as to the number expected to attend each evening.

Resolutions approved at aging conference

By SHARON RANDALL

When Michigan delegates attend the White House Conference on Aging in Washington D.C. in December, it is likely that proposals made in Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties will be among those presented.

The Tri-county effort culminated at a Regional conference last month and steering committees at the state level are now compiling material from all the regional meetings to be used at the state conference, April 29, 30.

Three DeWitt women, Genevieve Drouin, Zella Custard and Sister Mary Honora Kroger and Brenda Hamilton, of Maple Rapids who directs the local office for Senior Citizens, represented Clinton County at the regional meeting. Mrs. Drouin and Mrs. Hamilton, along with 11 other people from the tri-county area will be among the 500 Michigan delegates attending the state conference.

Among the 11 are Dorothy Payne of Lansing and Ann Bridgeland of rural Ingham County who are the area's nominations for persons to attend the national conference.

Mrs. Payne is assistant director of the Tri-County Office on Aging. She has developed programs for low income senior citizens. Mrs. Bridgeland works for Capitol Area Community Services and has been active with the social-well being committee. Housing, especially as it affects the elderly, has been a priority. She has also been an Outreach advocate for seniors with Social Services and has pushed for rural transportation services.

Mrs. Hamilton said the pair were good representatives of the Tri-County area and had good qualifications which might earn them a spot at the national conference.

Getting ready for the St. Joseph Altar Society Parish Dinner, Sunday, April 12 are Hilda Hufnagel, left, and Laura Mullaney. The annual dinner, to be served in two halls this year, features ham and baked chicken with all the trimmings and a dessert smorgasbord.

The committee, which Mrs. Mullaney heads, expects to serve 2,000 persons from 11:30 to 3 p.m. at family prices. Chairmen for the event include Susie Schroeder, Kathy Randolph, Linda Hufnagel, Janet Newhall, Nancy Miller, Leona Thayer, Sue Fox, Barb Thelen, Judy Fox, Theresa Fedewa, Drucilla Rademacher, Sharon Vitek and Mrs. Hufnagel. Union Savings opens, grand opening approaches Union Savings and Loan is open for business in St. Johns and planning an open house at their new branch building on South US-27, April 15-18.

Managing the new St. Johns office is Glenn Varlesi who has been employed by the company for two and a half years. Assisting him as office supervisor is Priscilla Gove of St. Johns.

Hours of operation are from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Varlesi said festivities for the open house include free stuffed bears for the first 25 people who come in to the office on the 15th, a treasure chest full of prizes that opens with special keys residents will receive by mail and premiums for new checking and savings accounts. "We want everyone to come take a look at us," Varlesi said.

The new manager is a graduate of Michigan State University and has additional courses in finance. He is a Lansing resident but he and his wife plan a move to Clinton County in the near future.

Mrs. Gove, is a graduate of St. Johns High School. She has studied at Lansing

Business University. She and her family live on McNeil Road.

Mrs. Gove is a former employee of Union Savings and has also worked at other financial institutions in St. Johns.

Union Savings maintains six other branch offices. As of December 31, 1980, the association has assets of $120,697,927, according to a report released by Richard Burmeister, president. The business was chartered in 1886 and is headquartered in Lansing.

Lincoln Day Dinner set

Clinton County Republicans host their annual Lincoln Appreciation Dinner, Thursday, April 9, featuring 6th District U.S. Congressman Jim Dunn.

Dunn will be guest of honor at a $50 Patron's Reception from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at the Community Room of Central National Bank, St. Johns.

The dinner follows at 7 p.m. at the St. Johns High School cafeteria at which Dunn is the principal speaker.

Take firsts in festival

Two St. Johns High School students passed proficiency tests at the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at Ferris State College recently, receiving the highest possible award in the top musical test.

Kristin Valentine, piano and Scott Fitzpatrick, alto saxophone brought home the high honors, a first for the local high school.

Other members of the band and orchestra took firsts and seconds in the state contest.

Receiving top ratings were Beth Eberhard, violin, Caren Rojas, flute, Beth Buckley, flute, Milan Shaw, baritone, Gretchen Banninga, French horn, Karin Valentine, piano, and a brass sextet, Jon Musolf, Banninga, Ron Patrick, Chuck Coleman, Brent Simon and Mark Humenik.

Also taking a first place rating was a string ensemble, Bill Tennant, Theresa Glowacki, Beth Eberhard, Cheryl Summers, Kristin Valentine, Dan Plowman, Scott Fitzpatrick, and Mark Humenik.

Second place awards went to Theresa Glowacki, viola, Cheryl Summers, cello, Kris Wagner, violin, Caren Cole, flute, Kelly Bryde, bass clarinet and a jazz ensemble made up of Humenik, Dan Plowman, Kristin Valentine, Fitzpatrick, Simon and Musolf.

All the soloists are eligible to perform with the State Honors Band and Orchestra. Accompanist for many of them at the festival was Mrs. Diantha Witteveen.

City, recreation, Youth Baseball join hands

St. Johns city recreation and the youth baseball committee have joined forces to create a one year trial program both organizations feel will benefit summer ball players.

"It will be a whole new ball game," said Ken Kralik, Jaycee member of the youth baseball committee.

The merger will combine the youth baseball program which served 520 boys in three age groups last summer with the city's T-ball and softball program which serviced 298 children and 600 adults.

Plans are to run the Minor League program (for boys 8, 9 and 10) as a morning program. T-ball (for boys and girls 6 and 7) and Lassie League (girls 8,9 and 10) will also be daytime programs.

Little League (boys 11, 12 and 13), Pony League (boys 14, 15, 16) and adult softball will be night time programs.

Present managers of Minor League teams who will be unable to participate in a morning program will have first change at manager vacancies on night time teams, according to Barry Dean, another member of the committee.

"We don't want to displace a manager," he said, "but we hope everyone will see that this move is for the betterment of the whole program."

"It will also open the door for some men who work nights and afternoons and have been unable to coach," Kralik said.

One of the biggest changes in the program will be in field usage, Dean said. The merger will combine the Little League and Minor League fields behind Bee's on the south side of the city with the three fields located at the city park and the high school.

"It is possible, with enough equipment, to play all the Little League games in one night," he said. "Certainly one and a half nights."

The Pony League games are to be moved to the high school field, and the mound removed on their present field.

With a promise of lighting for the middle Little League Field, three lighted fields will be available for night play. This will help scheduling for the adult softball program.

Plans are to hire paid umpires for Little League and Lassie League, in an attempt towards more "consistent calling" according to Dean.

Diane Edwards, city administrative assistant said the city went to paid umpires about five years ago for the adult program. Volunteer umpires will be used for the T-ball and Minor League programs.

Mrs. Edwards said the city's responsibilities in the new combined program will be arranging for umpires, record keeping (manager, player and umpire lists and league standings), daily field maintenance of the six fields and scheduling field usage. She said the city has agreed to hire two full time recreation supervisors for the summer to help operate the program. This is an additional half-time position. The city will also be responsible for supervising CETA workers assigned to the program.

The Youth Baseball Committee will run tryouts and drafts, arrange for CETA employees, operate the concession stand and operate all fund raising for purchase of equipment, shirts, hats, paying the light bill at the Little League field and paying umpires.

They will join forces to secure managers, arrange publicity and for initial field repair.

Dean said plans have been made for several fund raisers which will involve the youth participants. The Pony League players will sell McDonald certificates which have been donated by the local restaurant.

The other youth leagues will be involved in a two week project selling decorative canisters filled with candy and popcorn. A variety of sports equipment prizes is planned to spur the young people on to a successful fund raiser, he said.

Kralik said the Jaycees and Jaycettes will again be involved in operating the concession stand at the Little League Field.

The Rotary Club's project is to spearhead a drive to light the second field at the Bee's complex. Kralik said the project will be a joint service club project, under the direction of the Rotary Club.

The Lions Club will continue improvements on the new field started last year and will aim towards lighting it for the summer of 1982.

Dean said a timetable for managers' meetings and field usage will be announced in the next few weeks.

Glen Durfee is to be the liaison between the city and the Youth Baseball Committee.

Special Olympics promote learning

Teachers involved in a Special Olympics contest at St. Johns High School pool for special education students, called the event a "rare learning experience for kids."

There was two-way learning as 35 high school students interacted and assisted 250 handicapped children from five county school programs in the all day event last week.

Chairing the activity was Kathy Zabihaylo, special education teacher assigned to Perrin-Palmer Elementary.

She said students were involved from St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Bath, DeWitt and the Intermediate School District.

Wayne Morrison, St. Johns High School teacher said students were recruited to help with the special activity that involved helping the participants into suits and following them through their events. "There were kids in wheelchairs and on crutches; many who couldn't get into a suit by themselves," Morrison said. The St. Johns helpers were chosen through the counselors for their interest in education, especially special education. Also on deck were students involved in other swimming programs as life guards.

Students were teamed with participants and helped them through events which included meter races, diving, and fun activities. Sponge races, kickboard races and innertube events were also on the program. Each child received a ribbon, according to Mrs. Zabihaylo.

Morrison said the day was special for all involved. "For some of these kids it was really a learning experience." Morrison said the day was filled with "touching moments."

Assisting were Linda Linder and Charlotte Grady.

A Track and Field Special Olympics follows in St. Johns, May 20 and will also involve other county schools.

Correction

Gene Allen Turcotte, 18, of 6540 W. Chadwick Rd., DeWitt was not responsible for an accident that injured two young women, March 19 as was mistakenly reported in last week's paper.

At fault was Jean Smith, 19, of Krepps Road, Lansingburg who failed to stop at the intersection of DeWitt Road and Taft Road. Turcotte's vehicle struck the left rear of the Smith vehicle spinning both vehicles around. The Smith vehicle rolled onto its side injuring both Miss Smith and a passenger, Barbara Jo Broward, 19 of Lansing.

Our opinion

Is there tax relief in Proposal G?

On May 19 Michigan voters will see a Proposal G on the ballot. On the surface it looks like property owners will be getting a 50 percent tax cut. However, when one explores the proposal further, what you see is not what you get.

At a meeting held last Wednesday in Clinton County, legislators Ernest Nash and Allen Cropsey attempted to explain the proposal to local treasurers, assessors and commissioners. They admitted the bill would not be beneficial to most people and that only a few selected groups such as senior citizens and disabled persons would actually reap any benefits.

While these groups certainly need help, a tax cut has to do more. Michigan's sagging business economy will not benefit the way it should from Proposal G. Without an incentive to keep business in Michigan, there will continue to be fewer jobs, fewer people owning property. Already our young people are heading out of the state for jobs in Texas and elsewhere.

The legislators say they are introducing Proposal G to ward off something that is potentially worse. Could they mean another Tisch proposal?

If state legislators are so worried about a Tisch proposal passing, why don't they come up with and answer the state really needs and that they will be happy to support? If legislators can't support their own measures how do they expect the voters to support it?

The increase in sales tax from four to five and one-half percent is also a potential wound for Michigan's failing economy. We need ways to boost and promote Michigan businesses rather than hinder them more.

The new so-called tax break is complicated to say the least. Local assessors and treasurers alike are apprehensive about the bill and say their work is going to increase greatly...yet only a few people will actually benefit.

The already crunched school systems, will be even harder hit if this measure passes. Less money coming into the state, means less money going out. Who will end up carrying the load of the school districts? We say, the taxpayer.

And if the taxpayer doesn't pick up the load, students will end up suffering. It seems like a no win situation.

As Roger Overway, Clinton County Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, put it, "When is the legislature going to understand that the only way we're going to get people is to have jobs available and this can't be done with business on such a downward trend?"

Turning the Camera Back

The name change was official as a new sign went up on our building in July, 1964.

For the first time since the DeWitt Republican was established April 9, 1856 the word "Republican" would no longer be seen on our flag.

Senior Citizen Update

By Ruth Delo

In developing good health habits one factor to be considered is exposure to the elements.

An older person has more of a problem adjusting to hot weather than does a younger person. He or she cannot dissipate body heat as readily and is more likely to suffer from heat exhaustion or heat stroke. This can be prevented by reducing physical activity during hot weather and avoiding excessive perspiration and prolonged exposure to the sun.

The older person also tends to be more susceptible to cold weather. Circulation is poorer, especially in the feet; and this makes the person a more likely candidate for frostbite. Avoiding prolonged exposure to the cold and keeping feet warm and dry in cold weather is important.

Another element in good health habits is the use of alcohol and tobacco. We have all read many articles about the harmful affects of these substances. The prolonged use of alcohol in excess can result in dietary deficiencies as well as changes in the function of the liver and nervous system.

Smoking can cause a chronic cough, reduced lung function, and heart disease; and the incidence of lung cancer is higher in smokers than in non-smokers.

The risks involved with drinking and smoking can be reduced if moderation is practiced, and they can be minimized if the habits are discontinued altogether. The decision is a personal one, but the family physician can be particularly helpful in advising as to the degree of moderation necessary for a particular person.

Most people who stop smoking notice a definite improvement in their feeling of well-being and notice a real reduction in their various respiratory difficulties. So.....until next time.

Chamber Notes

By Jody Smith

Clear your calendar for April 16. Aside from being the day after Income Taxes are due, Thursday is the day of the Chamber of Commerce lunch meeting at Cornwell Catering-Family Fare Restaurant.

The guest speaker will be Jeanne Rand who will be filling us in on the business and progress of the Clinton Area Care Center. The Care Center has been made possible by a fund-raising campaign and through the hard work of the board and everyone involved.

Jeanne Rand has been involved in the project since its inception in 1978, and on the 16th she will present the Chamber members and guests with the most current information available. If you are interested in attending this meeting, call the Chamber office by Monday, April 13. Be sure to include any guests you may be bringing when you call.

This year marks the 125th anniversary of St. Johns, and throughout the year the Anniversary Logo will be used to announce special activities.

The logo was designed by John Field, who is on the staff of the St. Johns Reminder. A community such as ours, which has steadily grown, is a community in which we can all take pride.

We salute St. Johns and the organized effort of the city directors to improve our community.

We're 125-years-old

This issue marks the beginning of our 125th year.

Special pages in this week's issue look back through 25 years of our newspaper, reviewing the growth and highlights of county history as seen through the eyes of editor, reporter and cameraman.

This seems an appropriate time to review what we, as a weekly community newspaper, are all about.

While we are a business and being prosperous is the only way we can be a good newspaper, we also view ourselves as a semi-public institution, with a responsibility to serve our readers and support their interests and activities.

Because we operate with a small staff we depend a great deal upon our readers, business people and service groups to let us know what's happening, rather than to call places on a regular basis or send reporters out to find or scout out news. What we do cover on a regular basis are board of education, city, and township meetings in St.

Johns, Bath and DeWitt. We hope to add Fowler meetings to this schedule in the near future.

We also cover county meetings and keep in touch with county officials. We have a regular beat to the police departments and the County Sheriff's Department.

We support special community projects with pictures and feature articles.

In short, we write about the people and places of Clinton County for the people of Clinton County.

Personality Profile

Neva keeps Elsie on the map

When the Republican-News celebrated its centennial in 1956, there were more than 40 local correspondents scattered throughout the county. Each week they would send in news from their well-defined neighborhoods.

Today only Neva Keys still contributes regularly to the County News.

"I just want to be sure everyone remembers that Elsie is still on the map," Neva laughed.

It was a democrat, Bud Clark, who first asked Neva to be a correspondent for Schuyler Marshall's Clinton County Republican-News.

In her first column, published Dec. 12, 1935, Neva included descriptions of a Woman's Literary Club meeting, a W.H.M.S. meeting, and the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges' Family Night potluck supper.

The column also included about 20 personal items naming an average of three families each. The topics ranged from auto accidents, to a basketball meeting, to the Sunday visits of community members.

Although Neva had never thought of being a correspondent herself, she says that she came from a family of writers.

Her great-grandfather, William F. Scott, had been a correspondent. He had covered the news from the Shepardsville Route and rural Elsie for the old Clinton County Republican.

At the time Neva began writing for the Republican-News, her mother, Pearl Mulder, was a correspondent for the Ovid Register-Union.

Later Neva went on to be the Elsie correspondent for a number of newspapers including Bob Martin's old Ovid Register-Union, the Owasso Argus Press, and the Lansing State Journal.

"I've always written for whatever paper happened to be here in Elsie," she added.

Today Neva no longer writes for the State Journal but still contributes to the Elsie paper; Ovid's weekly shopper, the Maple River News; and the Argus Press.

"I always put the first copy out in a box in the garage on Monday morning for the Ovid man," she explained.

Carbon copies are mailed out to the various other publications.

"She writes every weekend," grumbled her husband Sid. "We never can go anywhere because she's got to write."

"Well, we always try to go to church," Neva corrected him. "I write a little before I go. Then I always get more news from there."

Today the bulk of Neva's stories never appear in the County News under her by-line. In fact many of them appear in the obituary section.

"Obituaries never used to bother me," Neva confided. "But now it seems like they are all friends or even people I used to teach."

After Neva Bryant graduated from high school in St. Johns in 1922, she attended Clinton County Normal for her teacher's training.

In 1928 she married Sid Keys, and soon they began their family.

Before moving to their present home in Elsie, Neva and Sid and three of their five children spent some time living in a tent on his family's farm.

"The grasshoppers got into the boxes and chewed up everything," Neva recalled. "It was terrible."

Their present house stands on the road which led into Elsie from Craven's Mills, west of the village, and was once used as a tavern and overnight inn.

During their years in the automobile business Neva and Sid added on to the house and improved it.

"Sometimes I look around and wonder what I did with my life," Neva sighed. "I see friends who have wall-to-wall carpeting and nice furniture."

Neva Keys

Reading some of her scrapbooks makes it easier to see what Neva has done with her life.

In several boxes Neva keeps scrapbooks filled with clippings from her many columns.

Besides her clippings, Neva has several other publications to her credit including a good portion of the Elsie Centennial book and a short resume of her daughter Joanne's career as a nightclub entertainer.

As is the case with any reporter, writing has not always been a source of unmitigated joy for Neva. She says that she has always been especially sensitive to criticism.

"Ink White has heard me blow up so many times," she laughed.

Neva remembers that one of her most embarrassing moments came following a printer's error.

In one particular column she had the misfortune to report that Mrs. Helen Carter and Mr. O.L. Brainard had spent the weekend at Crystal Lake.

"Oh, there are so many funny things that happen that you can't write about too," she giggled.

Today Neva still tries to write as often as she can, but arthritis and worry about her little granddaughter both weigh her down at times.

Melissa, the daughter of her youngest son Jack, is the victim of a rare form of leukemia.

"Sometimes I don't know where the last year has gone," she sighed. "All of a sudden the years are going by faster than they used to."

Still Neva says that once she sits down to the typewriter, she does not want to quit.

For years Neva has done all of her writing in the family dining room, working around children and grandchildren.

"If I had it all to do over again, I wouldn't change a thing," she smiled.

"Except maybe I would have had a place of my own to do my writing, a place to store all of my things," she added.

OPEN THURSDAY AND FRIDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 P.M.

With community help

The show goes on at Pewamo-Westphalia

Following millage defeats and subsequent budget cuts in the Pewamo-Westphalia Schools, one of the casualties was the annual high school play.

Now the Pewamo-Westphalia Community Players have stepped in to offer their services and to sponsor the play for the student drama enthusiasts.

The play, entitled the "Stuck Pot," will be performed April 9, 10, and 11 in the Pewamo Elementary Gym at 8 p.m.

This comedy is about a group of high school students. The action revolves around the big school dance. The boys in the school form a club and chip in money, and the boy with the worst date wins the pot. When the girls find out about this, they, of course, form a stuck pot of their own.

The play is directed by Community Players President Tom Webb and is produced by Community Players Vice President, Alice Stump.

Cast members include: Roxanne Rademacher, Nancy Hanses, Luke Spitzley, Bonnie Stump, Angelia Lipinski, Patty Spencer, Marilyn Smith, Ron Jandernoa, Leah Hill, Sandy Thelen, Nita Thelen, Lori Arens, Becky Schneider, Nancy Schafer, Jane Cotter, Jan Riley, Shell Lucas, Dan Rademacher, Dan Pung, Kevin Rademacher, Tim Thelen, Pete Schafer, and Dave Platte.

The play is being financed by the Community Players, and some of the proceeds will be donated to the William Steinke Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Pewamo-Westphalia high school students are staging "Stuck Pot" with the help of the local Community Players group, April 9, 10 and 11 in the Pewamo Elementary Gym at 8 p.m. In a scene where the girls plan revenge on the boys are left to right, Bonnie Stump, Patty Spencer, Angela Lipinski and Marilyn Smith.

Lenten music heard

Members and guests of the St. Johns Morning Musicales met Thursday evening, April 2 in the chancel of the First United Methodist Church in St. Johns where they enjoyed a program of Lenten music, much of it played on the newly rebuilt organ of the church.

Mrs. Eldon LeBlond, who had been club president in 1968, was the honorary chairman of the day. She recalled some of the program highlights of that year and the members who participated. One memorable program was the exchange meeting with the Lansing Matinee Musicales, at which Mrs. Robert Rice sang some beautiful Hebrew songs.

Mrs. Walter Carter narrated the program of traditional Lenten music. The observance of Lent was first firmly established in the Christian Church in about the Sixth Century, A.D. In medieval times on Palm Sunday the whole population of a town, clergy and laity together, formed a procession outside the town and proceeded to the church or cathedral, singing and carrying palm branches.

Miss Mary Ann Rees played four organ selections. They were: "A Lamb Goes Forth Uncomplaining" by Pachelbel, "O Sacred Head Now Wounded" by J.S. Bach, "Andante" by Baum, and "Fugue in C Major" by Buxtehude.

Alice Stork sang "Behold the Man" by Jimmy Owens. Barbara Davis, organist of the United Methodist Church, then played several selections on the organ including "The Palms by Jean Baptiste Faure, "Open the Gates of the Temple," "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and "The Holy City." The final number was "The End of a Perfect Day," which the composer, Carrie Jacobs Bond, wrote in 1909 after having attended a sunrise Easter service on a mountain near San Francisco.

Scholarship auditions will be held on Saturday, April 11 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Maurice Witteveen.

Ticker Club to meet

The Ticker Club will meet Tuesday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clinton Memorial Hospital Conference Room. "The Type A Personality" will be the topic of the program presented by Sylvia Hirschegger from the LCC Cardiac Rehabilitation Program. For more information call 224-6881.

If qualified, the taxpayer would return the signed affidavit. In future years the affidavit would be sent to the taxpayer in February, to be returned by mid-April. Lending institutions will reduce escrow payments for eligible homeowners. An eligible person missing the filing of the affidavit could collect later from the state.

Trampoline makes its way into area classroom

By SUE KILEY WHITE

Jerry Pulliam, teacher at St. Johns High School has introduced a new piece of scientific equipment to his classroom...a trampoline.

The students were studying a unit on the circulatory system and respiration in a sophomore science class, and Pulliam decided to use a different method of teaching his class how their bodies worked.

"We used to run up and down the stairs or around the hall," the teacher said. "but a lot of kids wouldn't do it, especially the girls." Pulliam had no trouble last week getting his students to jump on the trampoline to the beat of music.

The students were first told to take their pulse while in a sitting position. Then they were to warm up for a half a minute and actually jump on the trampoline for two minutes.

The next step was to take their pulse after the work out and then keep taking it until the pulse returned to its normal rate. Their pulse rate should return to normal in three minutes.

"This is really a new innovation," said Pulliam. "My chiropractor got me working out on it three times a day and I have really noticed a change...it's a lot less jarring to the body than jogging."

About four students found that their heart rates doubled after jumping on the trampolines for two minutes. When running up and down the stairs this normally didn't happen.

"I'm tired already," one student commented after only working out on the trampoline for a minute.

At the end of the three day unit, Pulliam was going to compare the athletes' results to the non-athletes.

"I'm really surprised at how much their rates go up," he said. "I think they're surprised too."

★ Senior resolutions

Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties have had "a lot of compliments" on the resolutions submitted to the state steering committees, Mrs. Hamilton said. The are the result of material written at local conferences and narrowed down at the recent regional meeting.

Among the resolutions adopted at the recent regional meeting were:

... The Social Security system should be scrutinized and, if possible, revert to the original intent of retirement insurance. Alternative funding sources should be found for added benefits.

... All needs programs (such as supplemental security income, food stamps, health insurance) for persons 60 years and over should be administered by a single agency.

... A study should be made to review ways of disseminating information regarding tax credits and other benefits so that they are better understood.

... A health care "system", focusing on both physical and mental health, starting with preventative care and continued maintenance, must be developed and instituted and made available to all, regardless of membership in other groups, on a sliding-scale and-or ability-to-pay.

... That the initial goals of the 1971 Nutrition Program be retained; that the home-delivered meals program be provided on a daily basis for the homebound elderly; that the congregate meals program continue to be funded and be implemented on a community basis.

... That tax incentives be designed to assist children and responsible relatives to maintain older persons in their own homes or in the homes of relatives. These incentives could include tax credits for the cost of care provided by the family and for the cost of home improvements designed to accommodate physical limitations.

... Develop programs for two-way communication between young and old, such as Girl and Boy Scouts visiting and talking to those in homes; older people going to schools and teaching their skills as an elective for children.

... Adequate federal funding is necessary for large 12 passenger vehicles for group transportation and small, 4-5 passenger vehicles for individual transportation, gasoline and maintenance and wages of drivers and escorts.

... Promote greater use of local community funding and support through local church organizations and their "Home Missions" programs. Plus the use of local city recreational funds.

... Consideration should be given to reducing the property taxes older people pay. If fair income guidelines could be established, property taxes should be eliminated for those with lower incomes.

... Federal funding for subsidized housing should be continued and increased. Increased emphasis should also be given to encourage non-profit organizations to build housing for older persons.

Fowler plans Little League

The Fowler Little League summer baseball and softball program for boys and girls, ages 8-15, will again be offered this summer.

There will be two age group leagues for both boys and girls, one league for 8, 9, and 10-year olds and another league for 11, 12, and 13-year olds. There will also be a baseball team for 14 and 15-year olds who would like to participate in a traveling team league with teams from nearby towns. All girls currently in the eighth grade may sign up for softball.

Registration forms for all children may be picked up and returned to Waldron School by Monday, April 13.

Adult coaches are always needed, and no experience is necessary. Anyone willing to volunteer one night a week to help kids or anyone wanting more information may contact Jim Andros at the high school (593-2250) or Alan Ruhl (593-3321).

Man robbed, locked in closet

Clinton County Sheriff Department deputies were called to the Watertown Township home of William Morgan, April 2 after he was robbed at gunpoint and locked in a closet.

Morgan, of 9141 W. Grand River Hwy., Grand Ledge, told officers that at approximately 4:20 a.m. a male subject knocked at his front door and asked to use the telephone. Once inside, the man pulled out a handgun and robbed Morgan of $900 cash and a 35mm Pentax camera.

Morgan said he had fallen asleep while watching television and the lights were on in his home. He described the subject as a white male in his late 20's, 5 foot-9 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds. He had dark hair and a pale complexion and wore a dark mustache that appeared to be false.

A St. Johns man fell asleep while driving north on US-27 near Alward Road, Thursday, April 2 and ran into the rear of another vehicle, causing it to run off the road and roll over in a ditch, injuring the driver.

Daniel Law, 38, of 410 E. Cass St. was cited for careless driving. Injured was Carles Erskin, 28, of Ithaca who was transported to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Among the other 96 complaints handled by the Sheriff Department was a theft of a 1978 Ford pickup truck, taken on March 26 from a parking lot on West First Street in Fowler. The $4,500 pickup, owned by Maynard Wirth of Fowler was recovered, March 29, near Hineman and Price Roads. The theft is still under investigation.

Malicious destruction was reported in Fowler again this week at Simon Brothers Inc., Maple St. and at the Brass Rail on Main Street. Roman Simon reported that tires and a radiator valued at $810 were damaged on March 29. Tires were slashed on the car of Raymond Cook and an employee, Linda Kohagen while parked behind the Brass Rail, also on the 29th.

Doris Case, Eureka, told Clinton County sheriff's deputies that 95 gallons of gas was taken from an RV and motor home sometime during the first three weeks of March. The gas was valued at $130.

Louis Koenigsnecht, Fowler reported a yellow Schwinn 10-speed bike with an infant seat on the back missing from his backyard on March 30. Value of the bike and seat is $89.

Harry J. Matteson, Laingsburg, reported on April 2 that a McCullough Chain Saw was missing from his shed valued at $190.

Grass fires up in St. Johns

The St. Johns Fire Department responded to a brush fire on Marshall Road, March 31 which destroyed about two acres of straw.

Firemen fought the blaze for 20 minutes before getting it under control.

The fire was started by Louis Martin who was burning trash at the time. The field belongs to Lee Pit-chford.

Dry grass and weeds have accounted for at least 12 fires so far this spring. Fire Chief Clare Maier said most grass fires start from people burning trash. He recommends that trash be burned in a covered barrel.

Property damaged

Over $3,000 worth of damage was done to the yard of the Joe Gonzales home at 1103 Hampshire Dr., according to St. Johns police reports.

Three teenagers, Ralph Dara, Jr., 17, 2847 E. Parks, Gerald G. Gilbert, Jr., 19, 1101 Hampshire Dr., and one a 16-year-old St. Johns juvenile were arrested.

Dara was arrested for trespassing and Gilbert was arrested for trespassing and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

One tree on the Gonzales property was cut down and the other tree was severely damaged police reports indicate. Parts of the yard were also destroyed.

The incident happened on March 28 at about 1 a.m. Gerald Cannon, Ovid, reported that while his truck was parked behind Fishers Big Wheel on April 2 a McCulloch chain saw valued at $200 was stolen.

Two breaking and entering also occurred in the city over the weekend. However, nothing was reported missing in either case.

The Village Square Laundry Mat reported that someone kicked in an inner office door and Teresa Merrill School officials say one window was broken and inside door was also broken down.

There were five minor accidents also occurring in St. Johns last week.

Clinton County News

Serving the Clinton Area Since 1856

ST. JOHNS, MICH.—

Over the last 25 years

15 cents

The old and new co-exist at the County News

The year 1964 could be considered something of a watershed in the history of the Clinton County News. Before that year the ownership of the paper had remained remarkably stable.

The DeWitt Republican, later the Clinton Republican, remained under the control of H.S. Hilton from April 9, 1856 until it was sold to Otis Fuller in 1880. Fuller was succeeded as owner in 1889 by Coleman C. Vaughn.

Schuyler L. Marshall became owner of the business in 1923. A year later he merged his paper with the St. Johns News to form the Clinton County Republican-News.

On Jan. 1, 1945 the paper was sold to Ink White who remained owner until September, 1965.

If the ownership during the paper's first 110 years was slow to change, so was the technology required to compose and publish a weekly newspaper.

When Vaughn took possession of the old plant on West Walker where Antes Cleaners is now located, he inherited a Country Campbell newspaper press, a Gordon jobber, and the usual assortment of type. About 1900 he built the present County News building and eventually installed a Gross perfecting press which could print 8 pages at once.

The other great improvement came when the compositors who worked at the old hand-set cases were replaced by Linotype operators.

It was under White in 1964 that the County News converted from the old "hot" type to the new "cold" offset printing process.

That bold step marked the end of the days when a publisher could put out a weekly with a few good people and a few mechanical devices.

Suddenly newspaper publishing, even small-town publishing, became big business requiring expensive technology and huge investments.

In 1965 the Clinton County News was acquired by John and Dale Stafford and Duncan Cameron of Greenville. Steven Hopko was named publisher, and Lowell Rinker became editor.

Roland Huard was made publisher in 1968. Jim Edwards took over the reigns as managing editor in 1972.

In 1976 the 120-year-old publication was purchased by the Milliman Newspaper Group, Inc., headquartered in Eaton Rapids. Patrice Hornak took over the duties of editor Oct. 12, 1977. The present managing editor, Sharon Randall, took over in 1980.

On June 1, 1980 the Suburban Communications Corporation purchased the stocks of three mid-Michigan weekly newspaper companies including the Milliman Group. In all 14 weekly publications were involved in the transaction.

With this purchase and the formation of the Lansing Suburban News Network, Inc. came more technological changes.

During the second half of 1980 County News staff writers turned from their typewriters and began doing their own typesetting at two video display terminals located in the St. Johns office.

Production for all 14 papers in the network was moved to Grand Ledge.

In Grand Ledge paper punch and magnetic tapes are fed into a typesetting machine which spews forth long strips of copy. Production specialists then affix the waxed strips and screened photo prints to cardboard sheets. Finally the camera-ready flats are taken to the printer in Howell by courier.

As the Clinton County News celebrates its 125th anniversary of publication, the old and new technology still co-exist uneasily in the County News building.

The old production room stands empty now except for the few "Green Sheet Shopper" tubes that have yet to be installed. They will soon be used to deliver the network's proposed common classified section.

Film is processed and prints are still made in the well-equipped darkroom.

In the old job shop, manager Dick Miller still nurses one old Linotype along by speaking to it in his own peculiar language. Job presses still wheeze and groan out special orders.

In the cellar a new hot water boiler hums within crumbling stone walls. It is flanked by rusting metal newsstands offering 10 cent issues of the Clinton County Republican-News.

In the job shop of the Clinton County News, manager Dick Miller still nurses along one old Linotype to set type for special orders. Dick joined the staff of the newspaper in 1956 just after the huge centennial edition was finished.

Agriculture was big business

Agriculture has always been a big industry in Clinton County, some might even say it is the big industry. That is why the County News has always tried to cover news of interest to the farming community.

The following items touch only a very few highlights of the News' coverage of agricultural events during the past 25 years.

-When Heath Boyer, a high school junior from Grosse Pointe, visited the Byron Kissane farm in the summer of 1957, his official host was FFA State Vice-president Bill Kissane.

Said Boyer of the experience, "I learned that a farmer has to know more about things than any other man alive with the possible exception of a philosopher - and I suspect that most farmers have a bit of that in them too."

-On April 30, 1959 Republican-News Farm Editor Bob Fedewa wrote: "Many farmers around the county are planting oats and some have had oats in for some time. This fact still makes me wonder if the saying 'The best oat variety is corn' isn't true."

-The world's largest herd of registered Holstein cattle in 1960 were to be found at Green Meadows Farms near Elsie. That 1,600 acre farm was owned by Merle Green and his sons, Duane and Velmar.

-That year Charles Wadell of Duplain Twp also became the fifth Clinton County youth in a decade to win the American Farmer Degree from the FFA. Wadell worked a 240 acre farm with his father, Harry.

-On Dec. 16, 1960 the outgoing board of drain commissioners of Gratiot, Shiawassee, and Clinton counties voted to go ahead with the controversial Maple River drain question.

-A 1961 agricultural census revealed that 88.8 percent of Clinton County land was in farms. It also counted 13,500 ewes; 45,000 cattle and calves; 17,000 dairy cows; 150,000 laying hens; and 50,000 hogs.

-The Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce named a Bath Township farmer, Robert Zeeb, 1963's Outstanding Young Farmer in the State.

-In 1964 Duplain farmers Elwood Erickson and his son, Wesley, became the 500th cooperators in the 10-year-old Clinton County Soil Conservation District.

-One hundred and seventy-five NFO members held receipts down about 75 percent when they picketed the Wolverine Stockyards in 1964.

-By 1967 the NFO was said to be having a negligible effect in Clinton County. Nevertheless William and Donald Rice were dumping 4,500 pounds of milk per day.

-The Clinton County NFO gave away one and one-quarter tons of pork in 1968 to charities in marked contrast to the NFO shooting of 204 hogs, calves, and sheep near Bannister.

-In 1969 Jay Foster won the Grand Champion Beef award at the 4-H Fair for the second year in a row. His sister, Sharon, won the reserve championship award.

These six pages look over the 25 years since the Clinton County News celebrated its 100th anniversary. Today, as close as we can determine it, we are starting our 126th year of publication. Staff member Jean Martin compiled this material from our bound copies, reflecting the changes and growth that has taken place since 1956.

During the second half of 1980 managing editor, Sharon Randall, and her staff turned from their typewriters and began doing their own typesetting at video display terminals like this one.

We specialized in news with a local flavor

The Clinton County News has always specialized in news of interest to the home folks, news that isn't carried in the large daily papers. Clinton County is not an island, however; and sometimes news of state or national importance affects us too.

Herewith we offer a few topics discussed in these pages over the past 25 years. Remember reading headlines like these?

Firemen battled the Steel Hotel fire on Good Friday, 1975. The 15 remaining residents of the old St. Johns landmark all reached safety before the flames spread from the basement to the upper floors.

County landmarks were lost over the years

When an area gets to be as old as Clinton County, residents are sure to acquire a fondness for certain businesses, buildings, and landmarks. It is also just as certain that some of these landmarks will, one by one, disappear over the years.

Here are a few of Clinton County's more memorable landmarks which have disappeared or have undergone radical changes in the past 25 years.

In 1957 the Republican-News reported that the short-lived Elsie Byerly Grocery Store was destroyed by fire Dec. 19. The building was declared a total loss, and owner Joe Bartek reportedly sustained a $70,000 loss. The manager of the building was Merle Ginther.

The old Emmons Cider Mill which had stood on Railroad Street in St. Johns since 1896 was razed in 1958.

In February, 1958 the paper reported that students would no longer attend the Grove School in Watertown Township. The school had been in continuous use since it was built about 1875.

It was also reported that in 1958 the old St. Johns firm of Fowler and Son Hardware, formerly Fowler and Ball and even earlier Kipp and Ball, had been sold to Ben Wieber. The firm was founded in 1865 by Charles Kipp.

On June 13, 1958 the Price Methodist Church in Victor Township was destroyed by fire after having been struck by lightning.

What the Republican-News called "one of the grandest churches in the state" caught fire because of sparks from a workman's torch. On April 20, 1959 firemen and townspeople battled for eight fruitless hours to save the old St. Mary's Church in Westphalia.

In 1959 Clinton Memorial Hospital's Crichton Nursing Home on North Lansing Street in St. Johns was closed. It had opened in 1950.

Howard Barnum's St. Johns Bus Station on West Railroad Street closed Feb. 1, 1960.

It was also in 1960 the the Clinton County Board of Supervisors abandoned the county children's home at 201 E. Gibbs. The first home had been opened at 105 W. Baldwin in 1924. The Gibbs Street home was purchased in 1944 for $7,000.

On April 17, 1962 the St. Johns City Commission finally voted to remove the boulevard islands on Linden and Maple Avenues next to the courthouse. The island on Linden had covered the old interurban track, and removal of the islands made way for 30 additional parking spaces.

The News reported in March, 1964 that three youths had been arrested for arson of the former McMaster Hotel at the corner of DeWitt and Maple Rapids Roads. Originally the abandoned Italianate structure had been a half-way house and stagecoach stop.

In 1965 the cornerstone to the county courthouse, which had been set in 1871, had to be moved in order to connect the new west wing with the rest of the building.

The County News reported that St. Isadore's Parish in Laingsburg suffered a $100,000 loss when its church was destroyed by fire.

In the summer of 1966 the top story came off St. Johns' old Hick's Store building, and the building was completely remodeled to make way for Ken Dickens' new D and C Store.

By the fall of 1966 the old Maple River bridge west of Elsie was no longer in use. It had been built in 1902, and the dam followed in 1912.

Later that winter the old St. Johns water tower at Ottawa and Gibbs was torn down. The tower was built in 1922 by the Wickes twins and had a 100,000 gallon capacity.

In 1967 the old waterworks plant on the same site and the DPW garage were also torn down. The plant had been built in 1889 by Harry Fieldew.

It was also in 1967 that the yellow brick Italianate house on Cass at Maple in St. Johns, which had once been the home of the Arthur Wilsons and their son, Rodney B. Wilson, was torn down to make way for the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conn.

In 1967 the County News had to report that publisher Robert D. Martin had put the "Ovid Register-Union" to bed for the last time on June 29.

The St. Johns School District sold seven rural schools at auction in the fall of 1968. The Union Home brought $975; the Jason $1,510; and Merle Beach went for $1,075; while the Lemm brought $4,175; the Simmons $3,110; the Parker $1,125; and the little Cedar Lake School, only $275.

The Pewamo elevator was destroyed by fire June 4, 1969. One day later the 135-year-old Farmers Elevator in Elsie was also destroyed by fire.

In 1972 the old Elsie High School, which had been built in 1903, was torn down.

On Good Friday evening, March 28, 1975 the Steel Hotel, which had stood on Clinton Avenue in St. Johns for 88 years, was destroyed by fire. The County News reported that arson was suspected.

During the bicentennial year of 1976 Robert Ott of the St. Johns Police Department renovated the city parking lot on the former site of J.C. Matthew's ice cream plant on West Walker.

Last year 18 rural bridges in the county were ordered closed because they were judged to be unfit to support the weight of a car.

In March, 1980 the citizens of Eureka donated their clinic to the Clinton Area Care Center to further the goal of building a new nursing home and senior citizens' residence in the county.

It was also in 1980 that the parishioners of Wacousta's Community United Methodist Church on Herbison Road auctioned off many of the furnishings from their 113 year old church. The proceeds were used to raise funds for a new building.

Unprecedented growth recorded in county

About 25 years ago the Republican-News' editor, Ink White complained, "There isn't enough mortgage money for all the people who think they want homes. There isn't enough credit available for all the business borrowers who would like to expand their plants."

Nevertheless in the mid-1950s Clinton County found itself poised on the edge of unprecedented growth in all areas of society.

Considerable population gains were recorded in most areas. Numerous housing starts forced municipalities to re-evaluate services, and new sewer project became common.

Attitudes towards the responsibilities of local government changed, and many municipalities began to redefine themselves accordingly.

There was considerable change and growth even in the area of recreation and the development of leisure-time activities as new parks were constructed and old ones were upgraded.

The children of the post-war baby boom were getting ready to enter high school, and the changes in educational facilities were nothing short of revolutionary.

The entire system of rural education that had served the area since it was first settled was completely dismantled, and adjustment to the new ways was not always easy.

Through all of the social upheaval of the past 25 years, or perhaps because of it, religion remained a vital force in the lives of many of our readers. Many denominations built new churches or renovated existing structures, and abandoned buildings usually found new congregations quickly.

On the next few pages we will present a mere sampling of the growth we have witnessed over the past 25 years.

Government services grew

"There's news aplenty for Clinton County people in this week's issue," the Republican-News reported 25 years ago. "If you're a typical 'kiver to kiver' reader, we'll guarantee that you won't be disappointed."

A lot of the news each week since then has been about the doings of the various civic groups and governmental bodies around the area.

In 1961 the County Board of Supervisors voted to build a new Children's Home with the $100,000 in surplus funds that had accumulated over a period of years following the Great Depression.

A parcel of land on S. Swegles, east of the hospital, was purchased for $7,717.50. The new structure was dedicated April 27, 1962.

It was also in 1961 that the County Board of Supervisors took the first steps toward rezoning land in DeWitt Township from agricultural to residential to make way for the Lake Geneva Development project.

The supervisors gave their approval to the construction of a new $190,280 wing on the courthouse May 13, 1966.

The old Municipal Court, Justice of the Peace, and Circuit Court Commissioners were replaced by Judge

Roland J. Duguay and the new Clinton County District Court in 1969.

On June 23, 1974 the 65th District Court held an open house in their new offices located in the former Hoag Funeral Home on US-27 in St. Johns.

When 127 of the county's 142 bridges were determined to be inadequate to handle regular traffic in 1962, the county determined that $4 million would be needed for rebuilding.

Two new bridges were completed that year on DeWitt Road over Stoney Creek and on Wacousta Road crossing Hayworth Creek.

The next year two bridges were completed on Forest Hill Road, one south of Colony Road and one crossing Cox Drain. Bridges were also built on Upton Road over the Looking Glass and on Clark Road over the Remy Chandler Drain.

In 1964 a bridge was completed on Wood Road, crossing the Looking Glass River. Three bridges were built on Colony Road at crossings of Hayworth Creek.

A new $140,000 bridge over the Maple River at Elsie

Business boomed

With a bank in the county advertising interest in excess of 12 percent on 108-day savings, it may be hard to remember when this was not always the case.

In January, 1957 the St. Johns National Bank, the State Bank of St. Johns, and the Fowler State Bank all proudly announced an increase in the rates of deposit. New interest rates included 3 percent on one-year time certificates, 2.5 percent on six-month certificates, and 2 percent on savings.

Understandably deposits in Clinton County's seven banks reached an all-time high as the Republican-News reported deposits amount to almost $1 million above 1955 figures.

At the A and P pork roast was selling for 29 cents a pound, and business was booming.

On May 4, 1959 the General Telephone Company broke ground for a new $1 million building on State Street in St. Johns. The yellow brick building was designed to house the company's district office, dial equipment, and toll center.

That same year Federal Mogul's new addition for manufacturing metal powder was begun.

At 10 a.m. Sept. 23, 1959 radio station WJUD went on the air at 1580 kilocycles. The station, owned by Justin F. Marzke, was located at 1363 Parks Rd.

In 1960 LeRoy Kiebler and his sons, Richard and Ronald, purchased DeWitt's Rosevale Packing Co. which had closed in September, 1956.

On Feb. 6, 1961 consolidation of the State Bank of St. Johns and the St. Johns National Bank was announced. The resultant company was known as the Clinton National Bank and Trust.

In May of that year Sealed Power Corp. made a 6,800 square-foot addition onto the north end of their St. Johns factory.

A consolidation of the State Savings Bank of Elsie with the Clinton National Bank and Trust was announced July 20, 1961.

Later that fall CNB and T opened its first auto bank at the corner of Higham and Spring streets in St. Johns.

The new $300,000 12-lane Redwing Lanes bowling alley was built by Dorr M. Anderson in 1962.

Plans were also announced that year for a new man-made lake in Victor Township to be called Lake Victoria.

The grand opening of Gregg Thelen's new hardware store in Westphalia took place Dec. 1, 1962.

A new business, Industrial Phosphating Company, opened in 1963 south and east of St. Johns.

It was also in 1963 that the 8-acre Cash-Way Lumberyard opened in Watertown Township.

A new $3 million expansion program, announced June 4, 1964, nearly doubled the size of Federal Mogul.

That same year Edward Loznak founded Clinton Machine in Ovid; and southern Clinton County's first 18-hole golf course, "Green Meadows," was opened in Watertown Township by S.K. Thingstad.

In 1965 Sealed Power announced a $2.75 million expansion.

Church people were important

Over the past 25 years church people and church news have been important to the readers of the Republican-News and Clinton County News.

News stories from individual churches, weekly sermons and Sunday School lessons, and a regular church directory were printed in these pages for many years.

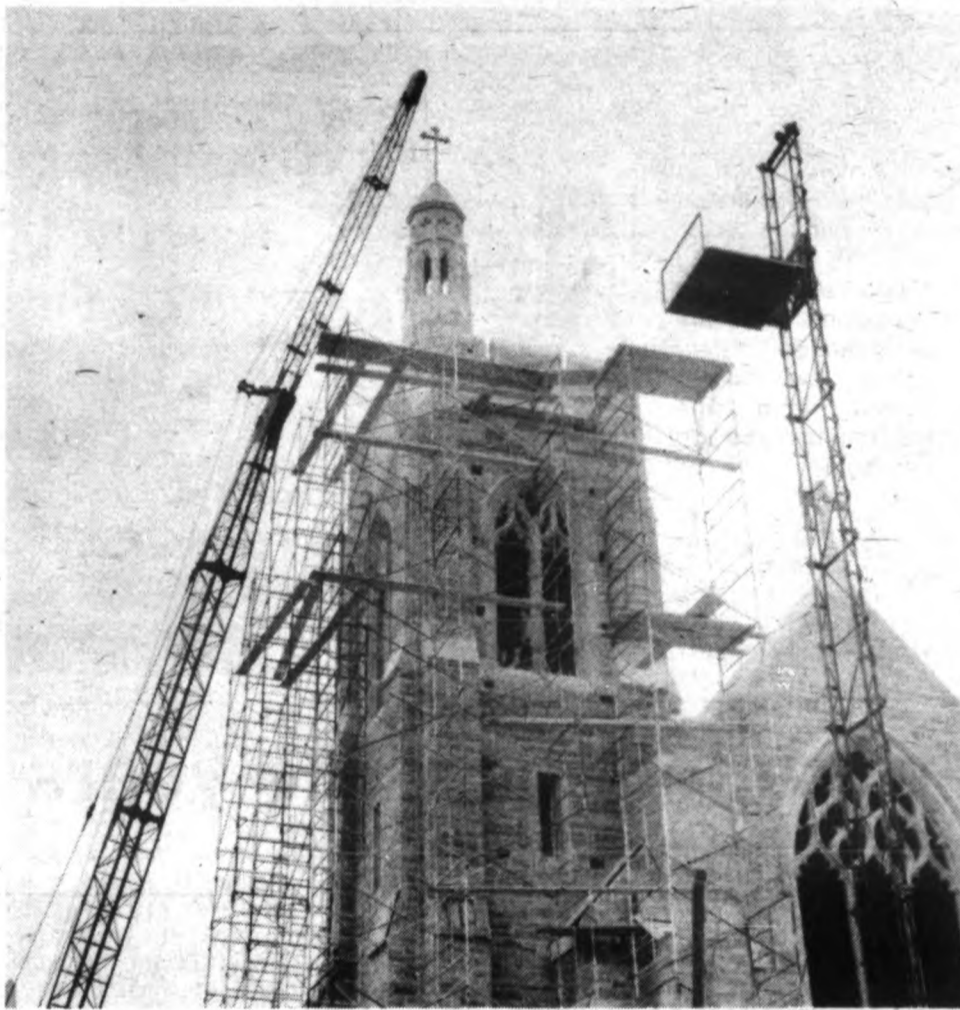

During these 25 years the churches of Clinton County were undergoing the same tremendous growth as did the rest of society.

Ground was broken for the new $80,000 St. Johns Lutheran Church Sept. 2, 1956. It was dedicated by the Rev. C.R. Fiege June 16, 1957.

Pastor Thomas E. Pace was on hand for the dedication of the Assembly of God's new chapel on US-27 at Baldwin June 10, 1957.

At the same time that plans were announced for the new six-room addition to St. Joseph School in St. Johns, the parish also made plans for redecorating the church interior. The estimated $240,000 were raised in a six-week fund-raising campaign, and the newly renovated school and church were blessed at the Golden Jubilee May 3-9, 1959.

Going up

In the spring of 1960 the parishioners of St. Mary Church in Westphalia began building a new church after a fire destroyed their former majestic structure. The new church was the fifth building to be used for worship by the 125-year-old parish.

School districts underwent big changes

Probably no one segment of society has undergone more upheaval and change over the past 25 years than has the county's school system.

In 1955 there had been 112 school districts with boards and a census. At this writing there are now only seven which serve Clinton County students, all K-12 districts.

As early as February, 1957 the Farm Bureau held a forum so that rural people who were determined to maintain local control could question experts from the Michigan Department of Education about the possibility of forced consolidation.

"Intense interest and emotional prejudice combined to make the session a lively affair," reported the Republican-News.

The next week the St. Johns district issued a statement that it was "not interested in promoting the cause of rural district reorganization, except to recognize that it (was) a nation-wide trend toward a better, a more equitable, and more representative plan of school operation."

It was also in 1957, however, that the St. Johns Board of Education purchased 12 acres of land near the City Park from Mrs. James F. Woodhams for $8,000.

An Association for Rural Education sprang up; but under pressure from the department of education, rural schools continued to annex to larger districts.

Mergers were adopted and millage and bonding issues were passed with an ease that seems almost unbelievable just 25 years later.

Early in 1958 voters in the Pewamo and Westphalia districts turned down a merger with Fowler. On July 16 Fowler voters approved a $455,000 bonding issue for a new 250-students high school.

It was also in 1958 that residents of the Maple Rapids Community School District voted to annex to the Fulton district.

In the fall of 1958 the new $100,000 Most Holy Trinity Elementary School in Fowler was nearing completion.

After Westphalia voted to annex with Pewamo Schools in 1959, Pewamo voters approved the merger by a margin of 320 to 17. The new $757,247 P-W High School was dedicated Nov. 26, 1961.

It was also in 1959 that DeWitt voters approved a $160,000 bond issue for an addition to their high school.

In 1961 Bath voters approved a $640,000 bond issue for a new high school. enlargement of the primary school, and repairs to James Couzens Agricultural School. The high school was dedicated May 6, 1962.

On Feb. 25, 1963 the parishioners of St. Joseph's in St. Johns broke ground for a was dedicated Nov. 9, 1966. It was named for retiring member of the road commission, George Libey.

Road rebuilding projects on Clark Road, east of US-27 and on Wright Road, south of Fowler were begun in 1969. Work on Francis Road was also begun that year.

DeWitt voters agreed to change from a village to a city Dec. 15, 1964. When they voted to accept their new city charter June 7, 1965, the question passed by a margin of 227 to 23. The city's first mayor was William Buck.

On Nov. 15, 1965 Bath Township took on the status of a municipal corporation by becoming the first charter township in the county.

In the fall of 1967 Bath Charter Township officials opened their new offices at the corner of Webster and Drumheller roads.

As early as March 11, 1957 a new sewage treatment plant was scheduled to go into operation on N. US-27 in St. Johns.

On Jan. 7, 1963 the Village of DeWitt had passed a proposal to build $488,000 to build a new sewer system.

Later that same summer the St. Johns City Commission approved an $850,000 proposal to expand and improve the city's water system. This, they believed, would meet the needs of the city for the next 20 years. The bond question was approved by a 20 to 1 majority in January, 1964.

The new 150-foot water tower with gold letters edged in black was constructed that year; and on Nov. 12, 1964 Mayor Jack Smit first opened the valves to fill the tank.

On Dec. 12, 1965 the Village of Ovid held an open house for their new $77,300 public works building and water treatment plant.

In 1969 Ovid residents had the opportunity to hook up to the new sewer. Residential hook-ups cost $27.50.

At the same time residents of DeWitt Township approved a new $4,405,900 sewer project.

On April 13, 1970 Clinton County officials signed sewer bonds for the project. The bonds were set to run for 25 years at 6.7239 percent interest. It was determined that a $2,000 tap-in fee would be charged to connect with the new line serving Valley Farms, Clinton Village, and Weisman and Boichot subdivisions.

In 1978 Elsie began construction of a new $4,045,500 sanitary sewer system.

The new $300,000 wastewater treatment plant in St. Johns was completed in the fall of 1980. When in operation it reportedly would be able to treat 2.5 million gallons per day.

The most prominent federal projects in the county were several new post offices that were built in the past 25 years.

The new 1740-square-foot post office building on the west side of Main Street in Ovid was begun in 1959. It was dedicated July 23, 1960; and Ralph Baker was the postmaster.

The new Eagle Post Office was dedicated July 22, 1961 while Dorothy V. Korroch was acting postmaster.

A new post office in Elsie was dedicated June 2, 1962. The postmaster was J. Versal Baese.

DeWitt's new post office was dedicated July 21, 1963 while Arthur Newman was still postmaster.

In the past 25 years recreation for many Clinton County residents has meant heading north on US-27 every Friday evening. In this time, however, recreation facilities throughout the county have also improved.

On May 13, the Michigan Conservation Commission gave the green light to the $2.1 million Sleepy Hollow State Park project in Ovid and Victor townships.

The Daniel Droste Memorial Park, just west of Westphalia, was dedicated July 25, 1965.

It was also in 1965 that Dr. Paul Stoller donated two ponies to the growing zoo in the St. Johns City Park. One pony was named "Charlie C." for former mayor Charlie Coletta. The zoo was later closed due to a lack of funds.

In 1971 the county received $110,000 in state recreation bond funds. The windfall was used to improve parks in Elsie, St. Johns, Fowler, Bath, Westphalia, DeWitt, and Valley Farms.

Readily available health care has been a priority item for Clinton County leaders since a community effort first built Clinton Memorial Hospital in 1927.

Thirty years later Clinton Memorial Hospital added a new laundry and storage building. Don Isbell was named manager of the new facility.

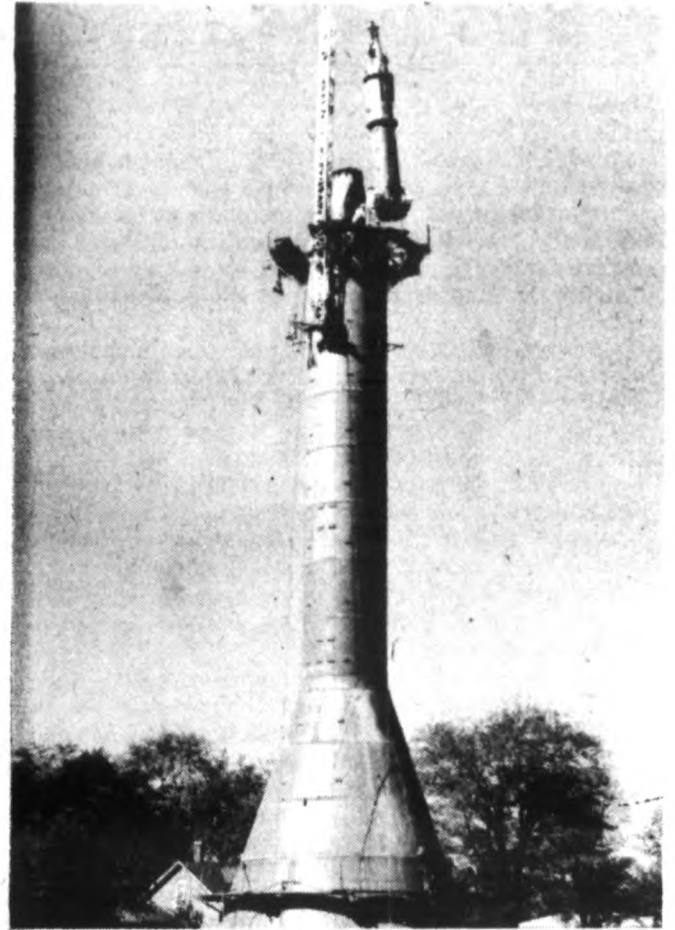

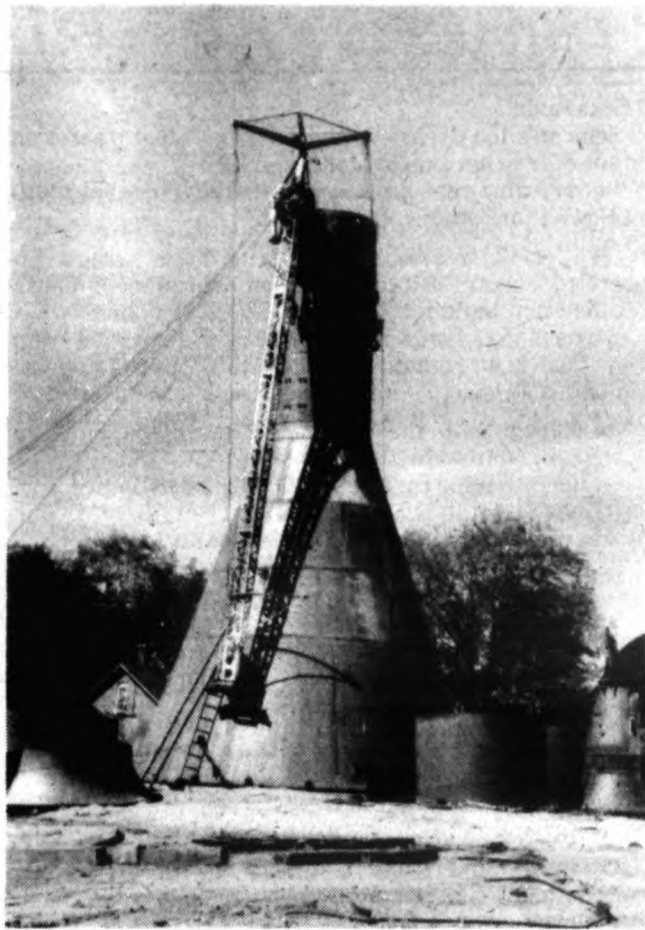

On Aug 1, 1966 Ink White, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the hospital, broke ground for a new $1,073,000 addition. The section was built to house a new obstetrical unit and infant nursery, more patient rooms, offices, and a new lobby and waiting room. The wing was dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fehling April 12, 1970.

Ten years later Clinton Memorial opened offices in DeWitt's new Country Meadows Village Center.

The Rivard Nursing Home at 313 E. Higham, under the new management of Beatrice Rivard, held an open house Sept. 13, 1959.

Gerald Shepard and Russell Howe represented Clinton County on the first board of the newly organized Mid-Michigan District Health Department Feb. 2, 1966. Dr. Franklin W. Smith was named its new medical director.

In 1978 plans for the proposed new 108-bed Clinton Area Care Center were announced. Ground was broken for the project Nov. 10, 1979 with Carmen Tranchell turning the first shovel of dirt; and in December, 1980 the center committee received their building permit from the City of St. Johns.

Back in August, 1964 people thought the new water tower in St. Johns resembled a giant Mercury space capsule as it began stretching toward the sky. The new 150-foot tower featured 10-foot gold letters edged in black.

★ Churches

Following the destruction of Price Methodist Church by fire, the cornerstone of the new church was laid Sept. 7, 1958 by Kenneth Fricke, chairman of the Official Board. The building was dedicated July 3, 1960.

On May 29, 1960 Westphalia's St. Mary Parish began building the fifth church in the 125-year history of the parish. The new church, which was constructed with a seating capacity of 831 at a cost of $470,000, was blessed May 28, 1962.

The Rev. Peter F. Nieukoop conducted the first worship service in the new $90,000 First Baptist Church on Whittemore in St. Johns June 30, 1963.

Groundbreaking for the new $80,000 Masonic Temple on W. M-21 in St. Johns was held Sept. 24, 1962; and the group moved into their new building in October, 1963.

The new St. Anne's Episcopal Church on US-27 at Webb Road in DeWitt Township was built in 1965.

The Bath Baptist Church, organized March 16, 1868, dedicated their new $150,000 building March 27, 1966.

The congregation of the new Duplain Church of Christ in Rochester Colony occupied their building Dec. 10, 1967.

The St. Johns Church of the Nazarene dedicated a new parsonage on N. Lansing April 20, 1969.

Consecration services were held April 27, 1969 for the new Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at the corner of Upton and Stoll roads in Bath Township.

On May 4, 1969 the Eureka Congregational Christian Church broke ground for a $100,000 building project. The new church had a seating capacity of 250 and included five classrooms and a fellowship hall.

The St. Johns Council 3281 of the Knights of Columbus opened their new building on N. US-27 June 28, 1970.

On Aug. 5, 1973 parishioners of Ovid's seven-year-old Holy Family Catholic Church broke ground for their first church building on Mabbitt Road.

One week later the newly-formed Catholic Community of St. Jude in DeWitt started their new church building on N. Bridge Street.

Groundbreaking for the new Seventh Day Adventist Church at 1400 N.

Oakland, St. Johns was held Nov. 18, 1973.

On Oct. 27, 1974 the First Church of God dedicated their new building on M-21 at DeWitt Road west of St. Johns.

Members of Pilgrim United Methodist Church broke ground for their new church May 11, 1975.

The manse of the First Congregational Church in St. Johns was razed in 1974 to make way for a new educational wing on the south side. The new wing was dedicated May 4, 1975.

In 1980 St. John's Episcopal Church did some work on the interior of their building, and in 1981 the church was placed on the State Register of Historical Sites.

At the museum, April 1 through June, will be a display of old photos from 115 glass plate negatives, printed by the St. Johns Camera Club.

Starting, April 15, the St. Johns Morning Musicals will have a display of old instruments and sheet music.

sion program to provide a 25 percent increase in piston ring production.

William Richards, Jr., operator of Richards Dairy, bought out the stock of Matthews Stores, Inc., a longtime manufacturer of ice cream, in 1965.

On July 1, 1965 Kurt Becker opened a new appliance store on Clinton Ave. in St. Johns.

That same year as a part of a new communications project, General Telephone built a 305 foot microwave tower west of St. Johns.

On June 26, 1965 Sears opened its new store in the Southgate Shopping Center on S. US-27.

Eberhard's Big E Store opened in DeWitt Township on US-27 at Boichot Road Nov. 30, 1965.

On Jan. 5, 1966 the Osgood Funeral Home and Abbott Funeral Home of Maple Rapids came under the same management.

Capitol Savings and Loan Association opened a branch in St. Johns June 1, 1966.

On June 9, 1966 a merger was announced between the Fowler State Bank and CNB and T.

In the fall of that year Jud Marzke finished a two and one-half story apartment building on Sturgis at Baker in St. Johns. To the west was Darrel Jones' six single bedroom apartments. Across from the Wheel Inn on US-27 stood Dr. P. F. Stoller's apartment building.

The 54-bed Ovid Convalescent Manor was ready for business in September, 1966.

Ken Dickens held the grand opening of the new D and C Store in the remodeled Hicks Building Oct. 20-21, 1966.

On May 29, 1968 Arnold's Discount Drugs opened at Southgate in St. Johns.

In 1969 Willard Searls started what the County News called the largest residential development in St. Johns in the area of E. Cass and Scott Road. Later he began his 449-space trailer park and 31-acre subdivision on Parks Road.

Schwan's Ice Cream erected a 23 x 43 foot freezer on Walker Road north of St. Johns in 1969.

In that same year ground was broken five-miles south of Fowler for Schafer Heating, Inc.

On Sept. 18, 1969 the Federal Land Bank Association and Production Credit Association held an open house for their new building at 1104 S. US-27 in St. Johns.

Bernard Feldpausch's new Bee's Chevrolet and Oldsmobile, Inc. building was officially opened Feb. 26-27, 1970.

In March, 1970 the Maynard-Allen State Bank in Westphalia moved to a new location.

Groundbreaking for the new Stylemaster Homes, Inc. on Gibbs Street in St. Johns was held Oct. 29, 1970. Ben Wieber was the manager of the new plant.

One month later Escher Technology Association opened its facility for the study of hydrogen-oxygen and solar energy technology.

It was also in 1970 that Panel-Line of Elsie opened to produce paneling and shutters for motor homes and other recreational vehicles.

In 1972 DeWitt Township's C D's nightclub caused a stir by presenting topless dancers.

On Oct. 30, 1974 Clinton National opened its Plaza 27 drive-in bank on US-27 south of St. Johns.

Urbanization in Clinton County moved up another notch April 19, 1975 as McDonald's opened its St. Johns restaurant.

On Jan. 24, 1978 the St. Johns Wheel Inn, which had burned in June, 1977, celebrated its grand opening.

That same year a four-unit medical building was constructed at the corner of M-21 and Morton in St. Johns.

The new DeWitt ShopRite at the corner of US-27 and Herbison also opened in 1978.

In January, 1979 the Ford dealership in St. Johns was moved to new facilities at 1410 S. US-27. The name was changed to St. Johns Ford-Mercury, and the grand opening was held April 18-20, 1979.

Juanita O'Leary began construction of her proposed new 114,000 square foot Wheel Inn Shopping Mall on S. US-27 Oct. 26, 1979.

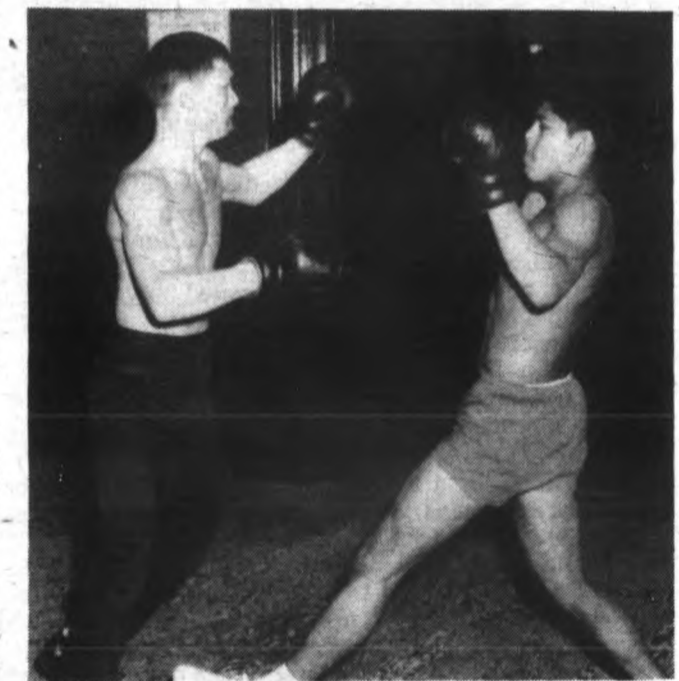

It was all ribbons and smiles in October, 1980 when the Bath ShopRite opened its doors to the public.

Fishers Big Wheel, the first store in the Wheel Inn Mall, celebrated its grand opening Nov. 25, 1980. The next day the County News reported that crowds of customers, attracted by free and inexpensive items, waited impatiently for the area's first major discount department store to open.

Except for the railroad and this newspaper, there are probably no other businesses who can boast of being here for the full 125 year; but a few come close.

Parr's Pharmacy can trace its beginnings to the Corner Drug Store (see above). Other old-timers include the St. Johns Furniture Company, the National Bank, and the F.C. Mason Company. Kurt's Appliance may be a lineal descendant of the old Fowler and Ball established by Charles Kipp.

Dave Vallin (in trunks) and Ross Masarik did some sparring above the fire hall in St. Johns during a practice session for the 1965 Golden Gloves tournament.

We always loved a party

We here at the Clinton County News have always been big on celebrations, and in our day we have recorded quite a few. Here are just a few of our favorites from the past 25 years.

By September of 1956 the staff of the old Republican-News was still recovering from publishing and distributing their 11 section, award-winning Centennial Edition. In Shepardsville, however, the festivities were just beginning as the Shepardsville Methodist Church celebrated their 100 years in the community.

A year later and several miles on down the tracks of the Grand Trunk Railroad, the village of Fowler was celebrating its Centennial.

Fowler celebrated from Aug. 22-24, and in its next edition the Republican-News included pages of photos taken during the parade.

Earlier in 1957 the Republican-News had celebrated the Elsie Centennial with a special section in its July 18 edition.

"Predictions are that this will be the biggest affair this community has ever seen, and will be the most memorable," wrote Republican-News correspondent Neva Keys.

In 1958 the St. Johns Masonic Lodge No. 105 F. and A.M. celebrated their centennial during the week of April 14.

Even farther on down the Grand Trunk lines Pewamo celebrated its Centennial July 10-11, 1959 by dedicating a new $75,000 bridge over Stoney Creek on Hubbardston Road.

In 1961 the village of Westphalia beat the Clinton County News to the punch by celebrating their 125th anniversary. The mayor was Gregg Thelen, and the reigning queen was Carolyn Trierweiler.

In October, 1964 St. John's Episcopal Church in St. Johns celebrated its centennial with Earl Haas as general chairman. The Rev. Hugh Banniga led a commemorative prayer service assisted by the Rev. G. Moore Morgan.

The Clinton National Bank and Trust Company set aside the entire year of 1965 to celebrate its 100 years in the community. William W. Barber was chairman of the festivities.

In 1967 the old West Bingham Evangelical United Brethren Church on Taft at County Farm Road observed their 100th anniversary. Their pastor was the Rev. Eugene Friesen.

June 21-23, 1968 was set aside for the Hubbardston Centennial. The parade, presided over by Queen Judy Skinner, lasted for hours and was considerably longer than the streets of the village.

Charles L. Zigler was installed as Eminent Commander of the Knights Templar in St. Johns to mark the beginning of that organization's 100th year.

In June, 1969 the County News reported, "A community-effort time machine will spin its magic next week as Ovid area residents go back one hundred years in time to observe the centennial birthday of their village."

The Bath United Methodist Church also celebrated its 100th anniversary that June.

That year also marked the 100th year for the congregation of St. Peter Lutheran Church in Riley Township.

In the fall of 1969 Clinton County residents all joined in the celebration of the centennial of their courthouse with what was billed as "old tyme" entertainment.

The St. Johns Co-Op celebrated its 50th anniversary Jan. 10, 1970. The business had begun in April, 1920 as the St. Johns Agricultural Association.

Even more recently the Ovid-Duplain Library Club and the Chapel Hill United Methodist Church in Bath Township marked their 100th birthdays in 1979. And again the County News was there to help them celebrate.

Local teams were tops

For at least 25 years the Republican-News and later the Clinton County News have been publishing items of interest to local sports enthusiasts - news they often would never find in any other paper.

The following is a quick review of the pages and even complete sections that have been printed about Clinton sports events.

The St. Johns High School cross country squad captured the regional championship for the first time since the 1920s Oct. 25, 1958. Members of the squad included: Norbert Kuntz, Herbert Pasch, Harry Thompson, Larry Brown, Don Hiar, Larry Moore, and Jim Heibeck.

For the first time in history Clinton County teams sewed up class B, C, and D district basketball titles in 1959. St. Johns in class B was coached by Joe Veramay; Fowler's class C squad was coached by George Fox; and the class D championship team, Westphalia, was coached by Lee Middleton.

In June, 1959 St. Johns High School golfers Ben Munger, Barry Dean, Jack Wirick, and Ron Rademacher, won the regional title.

The 1960 Bath Bees won the class D basketball championship at MSU under coach Ben Summers.

Barry Dean brought home the 1960 Central Michigan Golf Championship for the Clinton County Country Club. John Hopko was runnerup in the championship round.

In 1961 the Fowler Eagles took regional basketball honors under coach George Fox. Members of the team included Clare Fox, Ted Simon, Steve Spicer, Vern Sillman, Alvin Fedpausch, Louis Schneider, Alan Ruhl, Mark Armbrustmacher, Bob Koenigsknecht, and Charles Heyer.

The 1962 Golden Gloves season was the best in Clinton County.

An 1889 savings account passbook issued by the Clinton County Savings Bank was the oldest of 60 entries in a Centennial contest sponsored in February, 1965 by the Clinton National Bank and Trust.

Gayle Desprez, assistant vice-president of the bank, is shown here (left) presenting the $50 first prize to the owner of the 1889 entry, Miss Florence Dexter of St. Johns. Other prize winners are Mrs. Florence Ewer of R 6 and A. Gayle Vauconsant. These others winners were also from St. Johns.

ton County history when six went on to district finals and brought home four championships. Champs included Pedro Riojas, Jim Ballard, Pat Pohl, and Doug Arthur.

In 1962 the Fowler Eagles took the conference basketball championship, this time playing in class D.

St. Johns boxers won district Golden Gloves titles again in 1963. Doug Brya won in the featherweight division while Pat Pohl captured the middleweight championship. Their coach was Wayne Beaufore.

The 1963 Elsie Big Reds captured the class C district basketball title with a 65-61 victory over Bath.

The Fowler Eagles in 1963 took the Central Conference, district, and regional titles in their last year under coach George Fox. Fox left Fowler with a 104-25 record.

The winner of Clinton County's first Soap Box Derby, held June 16, 1963, was Jon Tatroe.

On June 28, 1964 Doug Hankey won the State Amateur Golf Championship at Charlevoix. Barry Dean took second place with a 4 under par 68. Because Hankey and Dean had agreed that the loser would caddy for the winner, Dean caddied for Hankey in the final rounds.

Coach Bill Smiley's 1964 Redwing football team won the West Central Conference trophy with a 7-0 record.

In 1965 the Ovid Romans took the class C district basketball championship for the first time in 30 years by defeating Fulton 70-53.

St. Johns had its first state wrestling champion in 1966 when Al Johnson, a 138-pound senior in the Redwings squad, won in four matches.

In the fall of 1966 the St. Johns Redwings won the West Central B League football championship in below freezing temperatures.

In 1968 John O'Leary of St. Johns was lauded when he scored a hole-in-one on the 200-yard par 3, number 8 hole at the Clinton County Country Club.

Later that fall Nick Hatta of St. Johns bowled a 299 game at the Tri-Ami Lanes in Ovid. Hatta left the 4 pin on his last ball in the 10th frame.

The 1969 Redwings, under coach Bill Swears, took the West Central Conference basketball championship. The DeWitt Panthers captured the district class C title that year under Frank Deak. The O-E Marauders also won the district class B championship in a 90-73 win over Ithaca.

The St. Johns Redwing Lanes bowling team won the 1970 Michigan State Bowling Tournament.

Gene Schoendorf of Elsie came up with the first hole-in-one of the 1970 season at the Clinton County Country Club on May 20.

It was also in 1970 when Dale W. Coffman of St. Johns scored 973 of a possible 1,000 points to win the Michigan State Outdoor Smallbore Rifle Position championship.

Late in November, 1980 the Fowler Eagles football squad traveled to the Pontiac Silverdome to face Norway for the class D state title. They were defeated 25-0.

A March 21, 1981 banquet in Ann Arbor honored longtime St. Johns coach Mike Humphrey as Golf Coach of the Year.

Demolition workers began razing the old Wilson home at the corner of Cass and Maple in St. Johns in March, 1967. The first step, of course, was to tear down the cupola on the roof.

Time was when this picturesque structure was an important stopping place on the old post road from St. Johns to St. Louis. Long known as McMaster's, it compared favorably with Coleman's, Drake's, and other nearby hostelries of the same era. It was destroyed by fire in 1964.

★ Schools

$198,686 addition to their school. An earlier addition to the front of the school had been started in 1958.

In March, 1964 10 Clinton and Shiawassee county rural districts voted to annex with the Ovid Public Schools, but not before Ovid had presented them with an ultimatum.

The March 12, 1964 Republican-News reported, "Tuition students from the rural districts which vote against annexation will not be accepted beginning with the 1964-65 school year."

In May of that same year Ovid and Elsie voted to consolidate. Later in 1965 the new $1,648,000 O-E High School was begun. The building was contracted at a cost of $12.47 per square foot and was dedicated Oct. 1, 1967.

On March 6, 1965 East Essex became the first of the 32 remaining rural districts to annex with St. Johns. By May 8 the largest school annexation in Michigan history was completed when the last of the 32 districts, representing a total valuation of $18 million, were finally annexed to the St. Johns Public Schools.

In 1966 a $5.4 million bond issue squeaked past St. Johns district voters by 19 votes. The bond issue raised funds for a new high school and two rural elementary schools. It was also announced that the 1967-68 school year would be the last for the remaining one-room schools in the district.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new $3,554,914 St. Johns High School took place May 17, 1967. At that time St. Johns buses were covering 1,900 miles every day.

That month also saw the dedication of Westphalia's new St. Mary School. It was occupied Nov. 3, 1966.

On Oct. 1, 1969 Fowler opened its new elementary school.

A 1972 $2,650,000 bond issue to expand DeWitt's high school passed by only a narrow margin.

It was also in 1972 that the Clinton County Intermediate District constructed two buildings, a 4-room portable for TMI classes and a permanent brick administration building.

The next year Bath voters approved construction of another new high school and the remodeling of the other as a middle school at a cost of $2,900,000.

Eight years later, as school enrollments continued to drop, Bath and most of the other districts in the county would have to return to the voters repeatedly to obtain even basic operating millage, thus apparently bringing to an end one of the most remarkable periods of growth in the history of Michigan education.

-Elsie's Raymond Thornton, who operated a dairy farm on Shepardsville Road, was named one of 19 Outstanding Farmers in Michigan in 1970.

-Steve Conclin of DeWitt won the 1973 State 4-H tractor contest and went on to represent Michigan in the Eastern Regional contest in Richmond, Virginia.

St. Johns hopes to contend in MMB

By TIM JEFFERY

Rod Rojas doesn't have to prove a thing. The smallish lefthander enters his junior season for the St. Johns baseball team as the ace of the pitching staff.

Last year, Rojas was a unanimous first team all-league selection. He won seven ball games overall and four in the Mid Michigan B Conference.

At 5-foot-7, Rojas hardly appears overpowering, but an average of 11 strikeouts per outing in 1980 will attest for the zip on his fastball. In addition, he mixes an excellent curve and a knuckleball in his repertoire.

Redwing coach John Wilcox can rest assured when the ball is in the hands of Rojas, but in order for the ball club to improve on last year's 9-10 mark and fourth place finish in the league, a couple of the other pitching candidates must come through.

The most likely hurler to pick up the load is senior Paul Swagart. He posted a 2-1 slate as a junior. A right hander, Swagart possesses a live fastball as well as a good breaking pitch.

Another right hander, junior Ken Clark, isn't overpowering, but his assortment of junk and good control could make him one to reckon with this spring.

Two seniors, Chris Ballinger and Scott Chamberlain also loom as pitching prospects, while sophomores Jamie Werbish and Eric Smith are good bets to surface on the hill as well.

Most of Ballinger's time will be spent at third base. He is probably the best hitter among the Redwing returnees. Last year Ballinger hit .360 overall and .400 in the league enroute to a second team all-conference berth.

Junior Dean Sharick is the St. Johns shortstop. He fell just short of the .300 mark in 1980, but with the year of varsity experience under his belt, may become an outstanding hitter. He's already a proven standout defensively with his fine speed and strong arm.

Kurt Slamka, the senior catcher, is another important key in the lineup. He handled the position last year, compiling a .260 average while showing a good arm in the process. Wilcox expects to find a bundle of base hits in Slamka's bat.

Chamberlain and either Werbish or John Karber will round out the infield.

Chamberlain lettered last year, although his playing time was limited. He'll be asked to handle the first base duties and thus far has given indications of being a much improved hitter.

The graduation of standouts Don Stoddard and Todd Bakita leaves a gaping hole at second base, which is where Karber or Werbish must step in. Neither has varsity experience however, both have looked good in the pre-season and appear capable of doing the job.

The outfield is still an uncertainty. When not pitching, Rojas will play center field.

Other leading candidates include junior Scott Palmer, who has looked good with the bat in practice, Werbishnd sophomore Gary Kielen.

With just the four seniors on the roster, it's imperative each enjoys a good season. The team's younger players will be asked to carry big loads as well.

Defending champ Ionia appears loaded once again and Chesaning could also be very good. St. Johns has to rate as a darkhorse because of its inexperience, but optimism is high and should the Redwings get enough offensive output and one of the pitchers other than Rojas to deliver, they could become serious contenders.

Six St. Johns returning lettermen will play vital roles in the success of the team during the coming baseball season.

Last year's club finished the year in fourth place, but Coach John Wilcox hopes his team can be a contender this time around.

The six pictured here are; (front from left) pitcher Paul Swagart, pitcher Rod Rojas and shortstop Dean Sharick; (back) third baseman Chris Ballinger, first baseman Scott Chamberlain and catcher Kurt Slamka.

The junior Rojas is the key player. He won seven games last season and his blazing fastball should bring him several more before his career at St. Johns is over. (Photo by David Olds)

Eagle outlook a bright one

By TIM JEFFERY

For starters, Fowler head baseball coach Neil Hoffman welcomes back a second team all-state center fielder and a pitcher whose career record is 9-1.

In addition seven more lettermen are back from last year's second place team, giving the Eagles a lineup that may be good enough to wrestle the Central Michigan Athletic Association league title away from P-W.

The center fielder is Lloyd Feldpausch. A senior, he hit a solid .351 in 1980 with a team-leading 21 runs batted in. Feldpausch also led the club in runs scored with 20, walks with 17 and was second in stolen bases with 10. Despite the outstanding credentials, conference coaches somehow voted Feldpausch to only a second team all-league berth.

Senior Tom Weber is the standout pitcher returning for the Eagles. This season will mark Weber's fourth as a varsity player. When not pitching he'll handle the shortstop duties.

He's a tremendous offensive threat as indicated by a .344 batting average last year, as well as 18 stolen bases, 10 RBI's and 18 runs scored. He also has excellent hands and range when playing shortstop.

On the mound, Weber won six of seven decisions in 1980, the only loss coming to P-W in extra innings. He compiled a 3.20 earned run average and has an excellent breaking ball which he mixes in with a good fastball.

Weber was a first team all-league choice and a Class D all-region pick by the high school coaches association.

Steve Schneider at first base, Doug Cook at second and Jim Pung at third, all seniors and returning lettermen, make up the rest of the infield.

Schneider figures to bat fourth or fifth in the lineup after driving in 13 runs in 1980. He has good power and fields his position well.

Cook like Schneider will be playing his third year of varsity ball. He was an honorable mention pick on the all-conference team last year when he batted an even .300. Cook has excellent bat control at the plate and will fill the number two spot in the order. Defensively, Cook committed just four errors in 19 games last year.

Pung is a steady performer who can hit the ball with power.

Senior Dave Taylor gets the nod at catcher. He has an excellent throwing arm and could become an asset at the plate.

Another senior, Kurt Thelen will also see some catching duty. Thelen is the team's jack-of-all trades. He'll also see action at shortstop, third base and in the outfield, depending on who the pitcher is.

Along with Feldpausch, the outfielders will be either Mark Halfman, a senior or Thelen in left and senior Ron Simon or Don Simon, a junior in right. All have fine defensibility and give Hoffman plenty of depth.

Halfman will share much of the mound duties with Weber. He was 1-2 last year, but had a sparkling 1.29 E.R.A. and led the staff in strikeouts. He's a left hander with outstanding control and a natural movement on his fastball.

Ron Simon, 2-4 in 1980, but somewhat of a hard-luck pitcher, is another who'll be on the hill. His control is improved over last season and he has the capability to throw hard.

Another left hander, junior Mike Ulrich should provide help on the mound as well. He threw well in relief in a couple of stints at the varsity level last year.

Hoffman lists three others who may provide his ball club with help during the coming season.

Junior Dean Schmitz is a catching candidate, while sophomores Marty Hamilton and Jim Farely are vying for duty in the infield and in the outfield, respectively.

P-W faces stiff challenge to repeat

By TIM JEFFERY

Ordinarily, graduation of an entire infield and a pitcher who compiled a 7-0 record would be cause for alarm.

Indeed the losses will be tough to overcome, but Steve Spitzley and the members of his Pewamo-Westphalia baseball team aren't about to throw in the towel in defense of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference championship.

Word out of DeWitt is that 38 juniors and seniors to be, have picked up varsity football jerseys for next season. The figure is a marked improvement over last year's turnout and further illustrates Coach Gail Thornton has the Panther grid program on the way back....I realize coaches voted for the all-area basketball team which appeared in the State Journal some two weeks ago, but I wish someone could explain to me how Lansing Christian's Jason Peters made the squad ahead of St. Johns' scoring whiz Jeff Casler.

Friday, April 24 is worth noting as Fowler and DeWitt are scheduled to meet in softball and baseball. Each school could conceivably win league championships in both sports. The meeting was originally scheduled for Apr. 25 but the doubleheader has been backed up a day.

One of the games between the girls could feature the county's top two pitchers. The Eagles' Jane Goerge and DeWitt's Linda Noch are capable of pitching seven innings of shutout ball on any given afternoon.

The matchup between the boys pits coach against former pupil. Fowler head man Neil Hoffman played his high school ball under DeWitt Coach Frank Deak and will bring a seasoned ball club to DeWitt. Both teams have returning all-staters, the Panthers' Chip Rennaker and Lloyd Feldpausch of Fowler as well as a couple of other all-state candidates for this year....Once again efforts by concerned Pewamo-Westphalia backers have saved varsity sports at the school and one who could benefit most is Pirate catcher Mike Pohl. The senior

Fulton girls should contend

By TIM JEFFERY

A combination of seasoned veterans and good young talent gives the Fulton softball team plenty to be optimistic about for the coming season.

Kathy Joseph's Pirates finished third in the conference last year and won 13 of 20 games overall. A total of eight returning letterwinners are on hand and the team looks very strong defensively.

A two-year all league pitcher, Jill Moore has graduated and her shoes are the biggest ones to fill.

Senior Ranae Sorrell will have the unenviable task of trying to replace Moore. Sorrell did not play last year, thus she is still untested in live competition. She does have excellent control and despite being less than overpowering, should be effective with the strong defense behind her. Sorrell should also be a tough out for opposing pitchers and will likely hit in the fifth spot in the order.

Trisha Zamarron, a sophomore and senior Janet Fricke will share the mound duties with Sorrell. Fricke is the hardest thrower of the three, but she still needs work on her control.

Both Zamarron and Fricke are expected to see action in high field, depending on who is pitching. Fricke hit .400 last year and was named to the all-league honorable mention team. She has good power and figures to bat third.

Zamarron carries a good stick as well and has good speed on the bases.

Two others vying for outfield spots are first year players. Lori Svok is a senior and is a good bet for left field while Shanna Mora is a sophomore and should see action in center field.

Senior Mindy Seifort lettered last year and she too can help out at any of the three outfield positions.

The infield and the catching position appear sound. Senior Pam Chick is set for her third year of varsity ball and gets the nod at catcher. She hit .300 in 1980 and because of her fine speed bats in the leadoff spot.

Senior Annette Bontrager will play first base. She batted .250 last season and shows signs of topping that mark this year.

A freshman with tremendous potential, Wendy Andrews, is the likely starter at second base. She'll bat somewhere in the middle of the order. Andrews does most everything well and should be a great player before her time is up at Fulton.

Tammy Thompson, a sophomore and a second-team all-leaguer last year will play shortstop. She batted .350 and enjoyed a big year in the stolen base department in 1980. Thompson should bat fourth for the Pirates and gives the team excellent play defensively.

Doreen Davis, a senior and a third year varsity player, will play third base. She hit .280 last season and did a fine job of hitting behind runners in the number two spot in the lineup. Davis has shown a bit more power in the pre-season, hitting the ball to the gaps in the outfield. Sheas a good arm at third and has good speed as well.

Senior Jan Winsor, a co-captain along with Chick and Bontrager will provide excellent depth in the infield. She played second base last year and will see action there again this spring as well as the other infield spots.

Predicting where Fulton may end up is difficult. The league is tough with the likes of Fowler and St. Pat's to name a couple, but on paper the Pirates seem to have enough talent to be a legitimate contender.

Pirate season could be difficult

By TIM JEFFERY

The top four hitters on last year's ball club, two of which were also Fulton's best pitchers, have graduated. Head baseball coach Warren Kent must find successful replacements for catcher Jeff Moon, pitching ace Larry Lieby, shortstop Mark Skaryd and center fielder Larry Fisk if the Pirates are to be contenders this season.

All four of the graduated players were all-league selections however, the team finished with an 11-10 mark last year while playing several sophomores, thus it is hoped the junior class will be productive.

Most of the probable starters are underclassmen and Kent is still searching for a set lineup.

Greg Sorrell, a junior will start at first base. He took over the position early last year and showed excellent fielding ability.

Junior Ken Murdock is the likely starter at second. He has good hands and has handled the defensive aspect of second base well in pre-season practices.

The shortstop will depend on who is on the mound. When not pitching, Wayne Bond could handle the duties at short. A junior, Bond is a fine all-around athlete and may play several other positions as well. He looks to be the best hitter of the returning players.

Junior Pat Abbott and freshman Greg Caris are also candidates for the infield. Abbot has hit well throughout the spring and Caris has been impressive with his arm. It's likely that Caris will open the season at third base.

Senior Steve Duflo is currently out with a sprained ankle, but when totally healthy, he should start somewhere in the infield.

Mark Proctor, a junior, sophomores Brian Hamp and Jon Steigerwald and freshman Brian Ernst are battling for infield spots as well.

Senior Randy Riggle and sophomore Craig Baker are the leading candidates for catcher. Baker could develop into a good hitter and will likely open the season as the starter. Riggle missed the entire 1980 season with a broken back, but is ready now and should contribute throughout the year.

Moving to the outfield, junior Paul Warnke appears to be the top center field candidate. He has an excellent arm.

Marc Proctor, also a junior will open in left field. He along with Bond has been the best hitter in the pre-season.

Senior Tim Floate could start in right field.

Juniors Andy Stephens, Kevin Caris and Tony Brown provide the Pirates with depth in the outfield.

Bond is expected to be the ace of the pitching staff. He posted a 3-4 mark as a sophomore at the varsity level. He throws hard and could turn out to be an excellent hurler.

Abbott and Proctor will be the number two and three pitchers. The pair handled most of the mound duties for last year's JV ball club. Murdock and Greg Caris should also see pitching action.

The 1981 season marks Kent's 12th as t Fulton head coach. Early indications are this may be one of his toughest challenges as a coach. With all the youngsters on the team, it may be mid-season before Kent is able to settle on an every-day lineup.

backstop enjoyed success on both the football field and the basketball court but with limited size his best bet in college will be baseball. Pohl's coach Steve Spitzley can't say enough good things about him and thinks his catcher has a bright future on the diamond.

Trivia Dept: Three Detroit Tiger pitchers posted perfect winning percentages in 1980, yet it's likely only one will be on the roster when the season gets underway on Thursday. Can you name them?....Magic or not, I enjoyed watching the Lakers lose Sunday to Houston. Maybe now, Moses Malone will finally start getting the national recognition that has so long been overdue. Kareem isn't basketball's best center anymore, Moses is.

Johns Wilcox's St. Johns baseball team opens its season in style. The Redwings get it underway next Monday against Grand Ledge at Lansing's Municipal Park....Class C DeWitt starts its baseball campaign with three straight doubleheaders against Class A foes, all of which should help in preparing for a tough Capital Circuit race. The Panthers meet Holt and Sexton on the road before returning home to face St. Johns.

Predictions for the upcoming baseball season: Lou Whitaker will hit .310 and be moved up from the number nine spot in the der.

Oakland won't duplicate its surprise season of a year ago and will finish below .500 and better than 20 games behind the division winner.

The Dodgers trade with Minnesota two weeks ago will prove to be the ripoff of the year. Los Angeles got Ken Landreaux from the Twins for virtually nothing in return.

Ralph Houk will wish he'd stuck to fishing by the time the rest of the American League teams are through battering the Red Sox pitching staff.

Redwing girls' track team looks much improved for new season

For the St. Johns girls' track team, the only way to go in 1981 is up.

The Redwings dropped all six of their conference meets last year, but with 12 returning letterwinners and five other promising freshman the outlook is much better.

Last year's JV team won its conference meet rather handily and coach Terri Brown sees that as a positive indication of things to come.

Julie Badeaux, a high jumper and Julie Bennett, a distance runner, are the lone seniors returning.

The juniors coming back are; Melinda Beck, a half-miler, Connie Koenigsnecht, a sprinter, Kelly Peck, also a sprinter, Molly Penix, a quarter-miler and Kelly Wassa, a shotputter.

Sophomores, Jan Blasin, a sprinter, Carol Good, a sprinter, Caren Rojas, a hurdler, Gloria Stratton, a shotputter and Theresa Pope a discus thrower, also won letters last season.

The brightest of the freshmen are; Sallie Good, Dawn Reynolds, Tina Simon, Anne Moore and Jody Russell.

Overall the team should be strongest in the sprints and the relays. The entire makeup of the relay teams return intact.

Peck should be excellent in the 220-yard event. She finished first in each conference dual meet last year.

Carol Good was the top freshman sprinter in the MMB in 1980 and big things are expected from her.

Bennett is the Redwing captain. She was last year's recipient of the 101 percent award.

★ P-W baseball preview

1980 and 12 of 16 overall. The CMAC crown was the team's third in four years.

Pitching appears to be the big question mark, but the veteran who'll man the catching duties is one of the best around at handling a pitching staff.

Senior Mike Pohl threw out 11 would-be base stealers and picked off four other runners from his backstop position last season. Enough said about his arm.

Pohl's offensive credentials were equally as impressive last year. He hit .350, drove in an amazing total of 27 runs in 15 games and socked two home runs. Quite obviously, Pohl was a first team all-leaguer.

Pitcher and left fielder Chris Thelen is another fine hitter. As a junior, he hit .340 and was a member of the second team CMAC squad. Thelen has good speed and hits the ball hard to all fields.

Senior Guy Walter, an excellent defensive player will be the center fielder. Walter is quick and has a good eye at the plate, making him the Pirate leadoff hitter.

Dave Smith, also a senior and a solid defensive player, is slated for right field. He batted .240 last season and appears capable of topping that figure this time around.

Senior Dan Pung and sophomore Dan Pohl should also see considerable playing time in the outfield. Pung lettered in 1980 and when not roaming the outfield this year, may see action this spring as a designated hitter.

Pohl is the younger brother of Mike and has shown good potential. He'll also do some pitching.

The infield stacks up with Gary Hengesbach at first base, Lee Klein at second, Brian Stump as short and Dan Hanses at third.

Hanses is a sophomore while the three others are seniors however, all four have limited experience.

As a group, they look good defensively, but hitting is an uncertainty.

Stump has shown signs of being a good contact hitter and Hanses has consistently stung the ball in practice, now they must prove they can produce in the regular season.

One of the biggest if not the biggest keys to whether or not P-W will be successful, is the development of young lefthander George Heckman. He has the potential to be an overpowering pitcher and if he can harness his control, things will look much brighter for the Pirates. Heckman is only a sophomore, but it is hoped he can become the ace of the staff.

Thelen, 3-1 last year, has good control and a fine curve. He's certain to be kept busy on the mound.

Walter, Hanses and Dan

Pohl must also help with the pitching. Walter appeared in only one game as a hurler in 1980 while Pohl, a lefthander and Hanses each compiled 3-1 marks for the JV squad last season.

Spitzley is a realist and simply stated, "We've got our work cut out for us. Fowler looks super tough." The coach also pointed toward Laingsburg and Bellevue as good ball clubs.

Stanley Clark

A Maple Rapids resident, Stanley L. Clark of 406 W. Main died April 5, 1981 at his home. He was 31.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, April 8, 1981 at 2 p.m. in the Abbott Chapel of the Osgood Funeral Homes with the Rev. Howard Spray officiating. Burial will be in East Plains Cemetery.

Clark was born in Carson City June 6, 1949 to Stanley J. and Nancy August Clark. He graduated from Fulton High School. On February 3, 1968 he married Jacqueline Young.

Clark had been a lift truck driver at Oldsmobile for 13 years and lived all of his life in the Maple Rapids area.

Stanley Clark is survived by his wife, Jackie; two sons, Bradley and Christopher, both at home; his mother, Mrs. Nancy Clark of Ionia; and his grandparents, Mrs. Margaret Drew of Middleton and John and Vera Clark of Matherton.

Roza Komives

Roza P. Komives of 5323 E. Townsend Road, St. Johns passed away suddenly at her residence April 1, 1981. She was 73.

Graveside services were held Monday, April 6 at South Ovid Cemetery with the Rev. Justin Sheperd officiating.

Mrs. Komives was born Jan. 17, 1908 in Hungary to Istban and Vrona Goeda Gulyas. In November, 1938 she married Louis Komives in Lansing. He preceded her in death July 4, 1980.

Mrs. Komives was a homemaker who lived in Lansing and Detroit before moving to St. Johns in 1954.

Roza Komives is survived by one son, James Komives of St. Johns; one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Swift of St. Johns; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Feketa and Mrs. Elizabeth Krausz, both of Hungary; and six grandchildren.

Medardo Soliz, Jr.

Medardo V. Soliz, Jr., 24, of 824 Cross in Lansing died April 3 at his residence.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, April 8 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns. Burial will be in Mt. Rest Cemetery. Arrangements are being made by the Osgood Funeral Homes.

Soliz was born in St. Johns April 30, 1956 to Medardo and Maria Martinez Soliz. He graduated from St. Johns High School in 1974. On Oct. 18, 1980 he married Debra Marshall.

Soliz was employed at Oldsmobile and was a member of Cristo Rey in Lansing.

Medardo Soliz is survived by his wife, Debra; his parents, Medardo Soliz, Sr. of Grand Ledge and Maria Soliz of St. Johns; four brothers, Pedro, Victor, Manuel, and Rey, all of St. Johns; six sisters, Anna Marie Soliz, Victoria Teems, and Esperansa Soliz of St. Johns, Rosa Soliz of Texas, and Elida Kieffer and Patty Soliz of Lansing; and two grandmothers, Matilda Martinez of St. Johns and Silveria Soliz of Ovid.

Wanda Muller

Wanda (Miller) Muller, formerly of N. Warren Road in Ovid passed away April 5, 1981 in Pleasant View Medical Care Facility following a long illness. She was 90.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, April 8 at the Houghton Chapel of the Osgood Funeral Homes with the Rev. Joe Horton officiating. Burial will be in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Muller was born Dec. 23, 1890 in Germany. In June, 1912 she married Michael Muller in Cleveland. He preceded her in death Feb. 1, 1972.

Mrs. Muller was a homemaker and had lived in Germany and Cleveland before moving to Ovid in 1940. She was a member of the Church of God.

Wanda Muller is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Elsie W. Maddrell (Emlinger) of Flint, Mrs. Martha Dare of Flint, Mrs. Wanda Willey of Lansing, and Mrs. Edna Ehrlick of Owosso; three sons, Alex of Mason, Edward J. of Sunfield, and Henry of Cornuna; 20 grandchildren; and several great-grandchildren.

Orpha Reed

Orpha Reed, 74, of Punda Gorda, Florida passed away February 26, 1981 in Punta Gorda.

Central Michigan Horseman's Association "CMHA"

Horse showing continues to grow year after year in spite of the economy and the cost of gas. Many local families are enjoying their summer weekends traveling the horse show circuit. One such circuit is that of the Central Michigan Horseman's Association. C.M.H.A. was organized in the early 1970's to promote horse showing on a competitive but yet friendly, educational basis. The Association is considered to be a strong family organization offering show classes for all ages. The show season begins in mid-May and continues most weekends until early September. Various 4-H clubs and service organizations are the sponsors of C.M.H.A. shows with all proceeds going to the sponsors. Shows are held in Flint, Owosso, St. Johns, Ithaca, and Midland.

The Association has tried to include many aspects of horse showing with such classes as halter, showmanship, western and English horsemanship and pleasure. Walk trot is always a popular class for the youngsters. C.M.H.A. is an all breed association which allows competition for all. The last show of the season is a C.M.H.A. sponsored fun show with the emphasis on having a good time. Many participants show in odd costumes.

The show season is culminated with a year-end awards banquet held in early November to present awards for outstanding accomplishments.

C.M.H.A. invites you to call (517) 834-5446 for further information on their organization.

No. AB-18 (Sub-No. 42F)

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ABANDON

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company hereby gives notice that on or about April 23, 1981, it intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting the abandonment of the following line of railroad known as: Ionia Branch, from railroad milepost 0.07, at or near Grand Ledge, to the end of the line at railroad milepost 26.30, at or near Ionia, a total distance of 26.23 miles, in Ionia, Clinton and Eaton Counties, Michigan. The line for which the abandonment application will be filed includes the stations of: Eagle, at milepost 4.3; Portland, at milepost 12.1; and Ionia, at milepost 26.1.

The reasons for the proposed abandonment are that the ownership and operation of the line has not been profitable, the involved assets can be better utilized, and the line requires rehabilitation.

The line of railroad has appeared on the system diagram map in Category 1 (Section 1121.20(b)(1)), since November 25, 1980.

The interest of railroad employees will be protected by the imposition of Oregon Short Line conditions and/or such other conditions as the Interstate Commerce Commission may deem appropriate.

Any interested person, in response to this notice, is entitled to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission written comments in support of the proposed abandonment or protests to it.

Protests to the proposed abandonment shall be in the form of a verified statement, and at a minimum contain:

- (1) Identification of protestant including its name, address, and business;
- (2) Statement of protestant's interest in the abandonment proceeding; whether protestant uses the involved service; and if it does not, information with respect to the group or public interest it represents;
- (3) Specific reason(s) for opposing the abandonment, including information with respect to protestant's reliance on the involved service, with allegations of fact supported by an affidavit or personal knowledge of the facts;
- (4) Any rebuttal of information or material submitted by applicant; and
- (5) Request for oral hearing and reasons therefor, if desired.

In addition, any commentator or protestant may provide a specific statement of position and summary of evidence with regard to any or all of the following:

- (1) Intent to offer financial assistance;
- (2) Environmental impact;
- (3) Impact on rural and community development;
- (4) Suitability of the properties for other public purposes; and
- (5) Recommended provisions for protection of the interests of employees.

Written comments and protests will be considered by the Commission in determining whether an investigation is needed to assist in determining what disposition to make of the application. In the event an investigation is conducted, then the commenting party or protestant may participate in the proceeding as its interests may appear.

Those parties filing comments in opposition to the proposed abandonment should be prepared to participate actively in either oral hearings or via the submission of additional material in the form of verified statements. Parties seeking information concerning the filing of opposition comments should refer to 49 CFR 1121.36.

Written comments and protests should indicate the proceeding designation No. AB-18 (Sub-No. 42F) and should be filed with the Deputy Director, Section of Finance, Room 5417, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, no later than May 23, 1981. Interested persons may file a written comment or protest with the Commission to become a party to this abandonment proceeding. A copy of each written comment or protest shall be served upon the representatives of the applicant, Rene J. Gunning and Peter J. Shudtz (113), Cheesie System, Suite 2204, 100 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD 21201. The original and two copies of all comments or protests shall be filed with the Commission, together with a certificate of service.

If no protests are received within 30 days after the application is filed, the Commission will find that the public convenience and necessity require or permit the abandonment. In such a case, the Commission will, within 45 days after the application is filed, issue a certificate which permits the abandonment to occur within 75 days after the application is filed.

The line of railroad sought to be abandoned is available for subsidy or sale in accordance with applicable laws and regulations (49 U.S.C. 10905 and 49 CFR 1121.38). Applicant will promptly provide upon request to each interested party an estimate of the subsidy and minimum purchase price required to keep the line in operation. The carrier's representative to whom inquiries may be made concerning sale or subsidy terms is W. H. Sparrow (314), 100 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD 21201.

Persons wishing further information concerning abandonment procedures may contact the Interstate Commerce Commission's Section of Finance, Office of Proceedings of the Commission's Rail Services Planning Office, or refer to the full abandonment regulations at 49 CFR Part 1121.

A copy of the application will be available for public inspection on or after April 23, 1981, at The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company's stations, located at: 702 North Clinton St., Grand Ledge, Mi., and South Hudson St., Lowell, Mi. The business hours of the Grand Ledge station are between 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m., with a lunch period between 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The business hours of the Lowell station are between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., with a lunch period between 12:00 Noon and 1:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The carrier shall furnish a copy of the application to any interested person proposing to file a written comment, upon request.

Oats, dry beans now insurable

FCIC District Director Harlan Stull has announced that oats and dry beans have been added as insurable crops in Clinton County for 1981.

A law recently approved by Congress authorized the federal government to pay up to 30 percent of the insurance premium for farmers who insure their 1981 crop investments with all-risk Federal Crop Insurance.

In Clinton County the government-subsidized insurance is offered on corn, oats, dry beans, and soy beans.

The premium discount is available to policyholders who do not elect to participate in a USDA disaster payments program on the insured crop. Farmers may participate in both the insurance program and the disaster payment program by paying full price for the insurance.

Stull points out that the objective of the new insurance plan is to provide farmers with "a flexible and affordable way to insure the record-breaking sums of money it will require this year to produce a crop."

Policyholders can tailor their insurance to their needs by choosing to insure 50 percent, 65 percent or 75 percent of average yield. The insured yield is multiplied by the number of acres insured which gives the production guarantee.

Policyholders can also select the price they want to be paid for each bushel or pound that their crop falls short of the production guarantee. The highest selection approximates the market price of the insured commodity as projected by FCIC.

The new law also authorizes a discount for policyholders who elect to replace the hail and fire coverage of their FCIC insurance policy with an equal or larger amount of hail and fire insurance written by a private insurance company.

Information about insurance, the protection it provides, and the deadlines to sign up can be obtained from the nearest FCIC office.

Ownership retained

Michigan growers retained ownership or some degree of pricing control on 57 percent of the soybeans and 37 percent of the wheat stored in off-farm storage facilities such as grain elevators on Jan. 1, 1981, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service.

Soybean producers controlled 5.4 million bushels of soybeans stored in off-farm positions compared to over 5.6 million bushels a year ago.

Wheat producers retained pricing control over 5.7 million bushels on Jan. 1. Last year 3.5 million bushels remained under producer ownership.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain Mortgage made by Albert Paul Parkey and Vivian Kay Parkey, husband and wife, of 6471 Ocha Drive, East Lansing, Michigan 48823 to Clinton National Bank & Trust Co. whose successor in interest by virtue of a name change is Clinton Bank & Trust Company, a state banking corporation, of 200 N. Clinton Avenue, St. Johns, Mich. 48879 dated November 5, 1977, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Clinton and State of Michigan, on November 15, 1977, in Liber 295 of Mortgages; on page 452 on which Mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Five Thousand Eight Hundred Forty-Six & 35/100 ($5,846.35) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said Mortgage has become operative;

Now Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front steps of the courthouse in the City of St. Johns, and County of Clinton, Michigan, that being the place for holding the Circuit Court in and for said County, on May 12, 1981, at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, and said premises will be sold to pay the amount so as aforesaid then due on said Mortgage together with 13.09% per cent interest, legal costs, Attorneys' fees and also any taxes and insurance that said Mortgagee does pay on or prior to the date of said sale; which said premises are described in said Mortgage as follows, to-wit:

The South half of Lots 26 and 27, Supervisor's Plat No. 1, Bath Township, Clinton County, Michigan, according to the plat recorded in Liber 2 of Plats, Page 14, Clinton County Records.
