Commission investigates Fire Hall Plan

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

Plans for the new Fire Hall came to a temporary halt recently after the city received only two bids for the proposed addition to the public safety building.

According to City Assessor Diane Edwards, both of the bids were rejected by the commission August 13th since even the lowest bid - $106,131 - was approximately 14 percent over the estimated cost of the construction. The high bid was $154,000.

Herminio Roldan, an architect from Flint, previously presented a plan for the Fire Hall that included building a concrete skeleton adjacent to the St. Johns Police Department on M-21. The construction would also include redesigning the front of the police building, making both structures appear as one. An enclosed "hose drying tower" will be built between the two, creating a visual separation between the buildings, as well as adding to its appearance.

When presenting the plan, Roldan estimated the entire cost would not exceed $91,740. Both he and the city commission was surprised at the higher bids, as well as fact that only two bids were received. The commissioners voted to table further action while City Manager Randy Humphrey tries to determine the causes of both. Alternatives for the building are also being explored, including the construction of a metal pole barn structure rather than planned concrete. Edwards said action will hopefully resume at the next meeting.

In other action, the commission voted to open bids for the downtown improvements on August 24th, by 9 a.m. The bids will be presented to the commission at the August 27th meeting.

Edwards said that costs of the special assessment are currently estimated at $23.085 per front foot. The average property owner has 25 foot of frontage, which would equal approximately $577.13 in special assessment. Property owners will also be responsible for their own plumbing costs inside the buildings, which will be needed for the new water main lead line.

The improvements are being made jointly with the city, private business owners and $47,200 recently received from the Small Cities Public Works Grant. Edwards explained that the city will be paying $52,800 - approximately 37 percent of the project, with the balance being special assessed against property owners in the project area. Property owners are expected to pay $41,876 - 29.51 percent - of the total project over a five year period.

Included in the downtown improvements will be refurbishing sidewalks, curbs and gutters, repaving of the roads and restoring water leads on three blocks of Clinton Avenue, from M-21 to the railroad crossing.

The city has already marked out and began cutting the water main lead lines. Edwards said that once a bid has been accepted, the concrete work will begin. She added that she hopes much of the work will be completed this fall.

City Manager Randy Humphrey was also appointed as the certifying officer for various regulations concerning the grant and the Labor Standards Administrator.

Sealed Power Corporation also concluded their final step when the commission voted to approved their site plan review. The plan included details for the $2 million addition, including a lunch room, inspection areas and office space. Officials said the additions will free up room in the rest of the plant for additional machinery and equipment.

The proposed addition is located on the front (south side) of the existing building and will be flush with the existing building, no closer to the property lines.

The additions are expected to create 20 new jobs at the piston ring making factory, located at 910 W. State Street. Edwards said digging will begin next week with the actual construction to follow.

DeWitt coaches hold out on practice

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

Negotiations for new teachers contracts had apparently caused DeWitt coaches to call "time out" on the practice of seven fall sports last week, possibly eliminating the entire fall sports schedule.

According to a written statement by the DeWitt Board of Education, the coaches failed to begin regular season practice on Monday and Tuesday, August 13th and 14th.

"Michigan High School Athletic Association Rules and Interpretations require football teams to have a minimum amount of practice to the playing of its first game," the statement read. "If this requirement is not met, then a team is unable to commence its fall schedule."

The Board of Education has decided to apply the same criteria to the six other fall sports including, cross country, tennis, girls basketball, soccer, swimming and golf.

Superintendent Steve Garrett reportedly said however, that the first week of practice could be considered optional, with Monday, August 20, considered the determining factor in the season. If coaches do not report to practice by then, the season may be over.

Presently, the DeWitt Board of Education and the DeWitt Education Association are working on negotiations for the upcoming school year. The current teachers contract expires August 31st, meaning the coaches have actually committed themselves up to that date.

AND THE WINNER IS... Renae Ebert, 17, of DeWitt. Thanks to the St. Johns Burger King, Renae was one of thousands of Michigan residents to attend the Michael Jackson concert held at the Pontiac Silverdome last weekend. Store Manager David Fisher presented the tickets to Renae on August 15th.

Congressmen support extra highway funds

Michigan Congressmen Bob Carr and Don Albosta have recently announced that they have joined Senators Carl Levin and Donald Riegle in writing a letter to Federal Highway Administrator Ray Barnhart, in which they express their solid support for the application of the Michigan Department of Transportation for $29.2 million in extra highway funds for Michigan. The FHWA will redistribute unused highway dollars, which had been obligated to other states, later this month.

Carr, a member of the Transportation Appropriations Committee, commented, "Michigan desperately needs these highway funds. There are always good projects in our state which cannot be undertaken because of a shortage of Federal and state highway dollars. We're fighting to bring more of our tax dollars back to Michigan to serve our needs," he added.

In the meantime, Albosta, who serves on the Public Works and Transportation Committee, pointed out the funds are needed to upgrade and maintain Michigan's aging infrastructure and keep it as modern as possible. "Our taxpayers made the investment years ago to build many of the highways and bridges which are now part of the interstate system," Albosta remarked. "These roads and bridges are in need of improvement for increased safety and to meet current FHWA standards."

The four Michigan legislators agree much work remains to be done in order to make the highway fund distribution equitable. They emphasize it is not fair that a state with double-digit unemployment should have to support highway development in other states at the expense of its own. They said Michigan needs every dime it can get for its economic revitalization, of which transportation infrastructure is a most important part.

Correction

Last week's election report governing the 65th District judgeship race perhaps misled a few people when a front page story indicated Jeffrey Martlew as the winner of the race between incumbent District Judge Frederick Lewis and Richard Koenigsnecht in the August 7th Primary Election.

In further clarification of the published story, the Primary actually had two winners. Martlew will face incumbent Judge Lewis in the November General Election to determine who will serve the 65th Judicial District come January 1, 1985.

Martlew, a DeWitt attorney, tallied 2,514 votes while Lewis trailed closely with 2,378. Koenigsnecht was eliminated from the November election, losing narrowly with 2,206 votes.

Letters to the Editor

Congressman receives thanks for help

To the Editor:

There are a lot of things said about our politicians just before an election, some good, but mostly bad. I would like to tell you about one of our Congressmen who has taken the time from his busy schedule to help someone who really needed it.

I had filed for Social Security Disability three or four times and always received the same answer. One of my friends suggested that I get in touch with Congressman Don Albosta. I wrote him a letter explaining my circumstances, that I am an amputee and have other medical problems which prohibit me from working. It was only about a week before I heard from his office and they told me they would look into my case. In approximately a month, I heard from Social Security that my claim had been approved.

My family and I think a great deal of Congressman Albosta for all the help he gave us and will never be able to thank him enough. We often hear how after a man gets to Washington, he forgets about the people who helped him get there, or even the people who didn't, but Congressman Albosta has proved, that in his case this isn't true. He is a fantastic man and a great human being. Thanks Congressman Albosta!

Albosta sponsors bill to stop influx of pork imports

Congressman Don Albosta has announced that he is cosponsoring H.R. 5206, legislation to stop the recent influx of cheap Canadian pork and live hogs into the U.S. The pork imports particularly hurt Michigan markets, which are so close to Canada.

"We cannot allow other nations to overproduce, then dump their exports on American markets," Albosta declared. "This is especially true when the imported goods have been subsidized by a foreign government. It is not fair to hard working American producers to let this go on without protest. We must let the Canadian Government know that this practice is not acceptable to us, and that if we are to be expected to comply with the rules of fair and free trade, they must also comply and allow our pork producers to compete on an equal footing with theirs," he added.

The bill, which is currently before the Ways and Means Committee's Subcommittee on Trade, requires the Secretary of Agriculture to set the level of subsidies provided to Canadian pork producers, and upon this finding, directs the Secretary of the Treasury to impose duties that will offset the competitive advantages resulting from the government subsidies.

Said Albosta: "I am hopeful this legislation will make a speedy trip through committee and onto the House floor for consideration."

Tigers join in urging parents to immunize children

"You're Out!" has a lot of meaning in Michigan this year with baseball fever rampant. Die-hard Tiger fans are everywhere.

We urge parents to latch onto this theme—with an addition: "You're Out! Without Your Shots!" is the theme picked for August, Immunization Action Month.

Michigan's team, including Gov. James J. Blanchard, the Tigers, state health department, and all local health departments, have joined this effort to see that our children's immunizations are up-to-date.

We are pleased to help.

Joseph Latoff, director of our local health department, explains that Tiger baseball team members have given their time and voices for this effort, and Manager "Sparky" Anderson has accepted the Honorary Chairmanship. He and pitcher Jack Morris are urging parents to put immunizations at the top of back-to-school needs.

That's where the theme comes in. Michigan law requires all children entering day-care centers or school for the first time to show proof of immunizations.

Latoff urges parents to keep the record of immunizations that they will be given when the child's shots are administered. This is a valuable document that lasts a lifetime.

Here in Clinton County, requirements for school are: four(4) dpt (diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus), three(3) opv (oral polio vaccine), one(1) measles, one(1) mumps, and one(1) rubella.

Latoff urges parents to check with their doctor or the health department if they don't know what shots their child has had.

Measles outbreaks which peppered the state this year total more than 400 cases, according to state health department records.

Some college students slipped through the school systems earlier, leaving them vulnerable to the seven diseases: Measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and polio. Therefore, Latoff urges college-bound people to check their records also.

We in Clinton County like winners. We want our children to be winners, too—healthy winners. Remind them, "You're Out! Without Your Shots!"

Legal Aid of Central Michigan provides services in St. Johns

Legal Aid of Central Michigan will start having office hours in St. Johns on August 27 at the Clinton County Juvenile Court Building, 1003 S. Oakland, across from the Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Legal Aid Attorney Daniel Bambery will be in St. Johns every Monday, from 9 a.m. to noon. "We want to help income-eligible people in Clinton County who have serious legal problems, like: unlivable rental houses or apartments, physical abuse or a wrongful denial of needed public benefits. The purpose of this new office is to try to help these people get the legal relief they deserve."

Legal Aid provides free legal services to people who cannot afford an attorney. Attorneys give advice, represent clients in court and help people living on low incomes know and assert their rights. Legal Aid also provides information and education to help prevent law-related problems from happening. No criminal or traffic cases are handed. Legal Aid's services are free to income-eligible people. For example a family of four making $1,062.00 gross income a month or less is eligible. Court costs and fees are waived or suspended by the courts for persons the court determines cannot afford the fees.

Legal Aid has four areas of service: Public Benefits, General Intake, Community Education and Domestic Relations.

The Public Benefits Unit handles welfare, social security, disability and other governmental benefits programs. Cases are screened for people whose benefits have been denied or terminated improperly. Other cases such as Food Stamp denials, reductions of benefits, vendor payment problems, denials of Medicaid and other problems with public benefits also accepted. If you are receiving public assistance -- including A.D.C. or G.A. -- and are experiencing problems keeping your benefits, call Legal Aid.

The General Intake Unit handles housing, consumer and other civil disputes. Housing problems are its primary focus including illegal or wrongful evictions, maintenance problems, security deposits and land contract or mortgage foreclosures. Consumer matters such as utility shut offs, defective merchandise, debts, defaults, repossessions and defense to lawsuits are handled on a selective basis.

The Community Education program at Legal Aid attempts to teach people to know and assert their legal rights. This unit sets up community legal education seminars, and writes and produces brochures and self-help booklets on more than 30 civil legal issues.

If groups of 15 or more would like a two-hour seminar on housing, family or public benefits law, call Phil Deschaine at Legal Aid. They will also provide literature and self-help booklets at no charge.

The Domestic Relations Unit accepts family law cases under these priorities: 1. An individual who is the victim of serious physical abuse which is part of a pattern of such abuse or whose child is the victim of physical abuse. 2. A meritorious contested custody case. 3. A case where an important family right or interest of the client is threatened. Information is available to people with family law problems and referrals are sometimes provided.

To receive help, call Legal Aid, toll-free 1-800-292-0856. Explain your problem to us on the phone. If you are eligible you will be given an appointment with Attorney Daniel Bambery in St. Johns on a Monday morning.

In addition to scheduled appointments at the Juvenile Court Building, Bambery will see people on a walk-in basis as his schedule allows. Other times are available in Clinton County or Lansing if a Monday morning appointment is not possible for a person needing legal assistance.

"While Legal Aid cannot help everyone, we can help income-eligible people who have serious legal problems that fall into our areas of service," states Paula Zimmer, Legal Aid Executive Director. "If you think you have such a problem, call us -- we're in St. Johns to help you."

Swim Along for Cancer successful

The Clinton County Unit of the American Cancer Society netted $334.50 in the recent "Swim Along for Cancer."

Sixteen young adults swam in Clinton Memorial Pool in St. Johns on the 21st of July.

Under the direction of Lynne Furry, pool director, Kelly Coffman swam for $88.25. Her 11-year-old sister, Kendra, $43.50; Sandy Walfrom, $38; Chris Snyder, $34; Paula Pardike, $30.25; John Kuenzli, $18; and Janie Cooper, $17.

Jenine Furry, Mike Bull, Theresa Koenigsknect, Laura Fury, Jenny Boatz, Jeanneane Ammons, Jenny Green, Scott Fury and Candy Femby also all swam for the $300-plus total.

This was the first annual "Swim Along for Cancer." The spirit and the fun these youngsters put into their summer pool program is a real way to "beat the heat" and also help "Reach for Gold" Cancer Society program for 1984.

Officials from the program said they are proud of the youth and their efforts to help in the Communities Research, Education and Service program for the American Cancer Society.

July weather proves favorable for August crops

July weather was characterized by near normal temperatures and below normal rainfall. Crop prospects on August 1 were generally favorable despite the dry weather during late July. Most developing crops in Michigan have been stressed and timely rains will be needed the remainder of the season, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Corn production and acreage for grain are expected to return to near normal levels following last seasons PIK program. Corn production is forecast at 247 million bushels, a 49 percent increase from a year ago. Average yield is projected at 95 bushels per acre. Soybean production is expected to total 36.5 million bushels, a 9 percent increase from last year. The prospects of a record soybean crop are attributed to an increase in harvested acreage. Yields are expected to average 32 bushels per acre.

This year's dry bean crop is projected to be the smallest since 1957. Dry bean production is estimated at 4.3 million hundredweight (cwt.), 6 percent below last year. Yields are forecast at 1,100 pounds per acre, 200 pounds below last year and the lowest since 1976. Summer potato production is estimated at nearly 2.6 million cwt., an increase of 17 percent from last year. Sugarbeet production is forecast at slightly over 2 million tons, a 3 percent increase from a year ago.

Winter wheat production is estimated at 43.2 million bushels, a 20 percent increase from last year. Yields are expected to average 54 bushels per acre, a new state record. This year's yield will be 4 bushels above the previous record established in 1981. Quality of this year's crop is excellent. Oats production, at 18 million bushels, will increase 15 percent from a year ago. Rye production, at 640,000 bushels, will be the highest since 1973. Alfalfa hay production, at more than 5 million tons, is expected to be up sharply from last year.

Nationally, corn for grain production is forecast at 7.67 billion bushels, 84 percent above last year's drought-stricken crop. Soybean production is forecast at slightly over 2 billion bushels, 30 percent larger than 1983, but 7 percent smaller than 1982. Dry bean production is expected to total 19.3 million cwt., 24 percent above last season.

Fruit crops expected to equal last year's Production prospects for four out of the five Michigan fruit crops forecast on August 1, are expected to be equal to or larger than a year ago, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Increased production is forecast for apples, peaches and pears. Plum production is placed at last year's level. Grape output is expected to be less than in 1983. Growing conditions have generally been favorable throughout the year. Grapes were the only fruit crop to suffer any significant freeze damage this spring. Recent rains have improved soil moisture conditions.

Apple production in Michigan is forecast at 800 million pounds, a 7 percent increase over last year's crop. Early harvested varieties have shown good color and sizing. Nationally, apple production is set at 8.3 billion pounds, fractionally above a year ago.

Michigan's peach crop is in excellent shape with production pegged at 45 million pounds, 29 percent above last year. Early harvest is in progress. For the U.S., peach production is placed at 2.5 billion pounds, a 42 percent increase from 1983. The State's pear crop is estimated at 10,000 tons, a 25 percent increase versus last season. One of the nicest crops in years is in the making. Nationally, pear production is pegged at 687,000 tons, down 11 percent from last year. Prune-plum output in Michigan is expected to equal the 13,000 tons produced last year. The crop has good quality and sizing. At the U.S. level, prune-plum production (excluding California) is estimated at 54,400 tons, down 13 percent from last year.

Grape production in Michigan is forecast at 50,000 tons, a 10,000 ton dip from a year ago. A superb crop with excellent sugar content is expected. Nationwide, grape production is expected to be down 2 percent from last year to 5.4 million tons.

Archeologists estimate that primitive man as early as 50,000 B.C. discovered that certain spices could make food taste better.

Dry bean production down

Dry bean production in Michigan during 1984 is expected to total 4.3 million hundred-weight (cwt.), a decline of 6 percent from last year. This year's crop is expected to be the smallest crop since 1957, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Development of this year's crop is nearly two weeks behind normal due to extensive replanting in late June. Dry weather during July has stressed the crop and yields are expected to average 1,100 pounds per acre. This year's yield will be 200 pounds below last year and the lowest since 1976.

Planted acreage of dry beans is placed at 400,000 acres, 11 percent above last season. The current estimate is unchanged from planted acreage published on June 28. The August acreage estimate is based on a special survey of about 2,000 growers conducted in mid-July after planting was completed. Acreage expected for harvest this fall should total 390,000 acres, 11 percent above last year.

Acreage planted to Navy beans is estimated at 360,000 acres compared to 300,000 acres in 1983. Planted acreage for all other classes (colored) of dry beans is placed at 40,000 acres compared to 60,000 acres a year ago.

Nationally, dry bean production is forecast at 19.3 million cwt., 24 percent above last season. Production in North Dakota is expected to increase 27 percent to 2.1 million cwt. Production in Minnesota is placed at 672,000 cwt., an increase of 49 percent from a year ago.

Outdoor Life

By Pat Hogan

Thought I could escape a little of the heat so I headed up on the Maple to take a few casts for whatever. I'm telling you, it was so hot I seen lizards laying on their backs blowing on their feet. I fished for about an hour when I saw this other fisherman head my way and we stopped to jaw awhile. I told him how hot I thought it was (that was a mistake, first lie never wins) and he whips this one on me.

About the time when he was a young fella, the river was so low he brought out a truck load of water, ran the hose into the river and turned it on and watched the fish swim up the cool stream and into the truck.

Now, if you can beat that (or have a better one) send it to me and you'll become an official member of S.J.T.W.A.

On display at the Hook Line and Sinker is the awesome Turk-Kee-To.

You have to work a little harder for the gills and walleyes in this weather, but a few folks are still doing good (hit the deep during the day, shallows in the evening) light colored rubber worms on the bright days, dark go darker, is a good rule for bass.

George Knight, captain of the "Ten Pin," has boated over three tons of salmon this year so far, folks. People going out with him are having the time of their lives.

Mid-Michigan Steelheaders Association meets once a month in Lansing. Good speakers, movies and up-to-date information, like on stream trout fishing to salmon fishing, are included. We need more members. For more information, call Hook, Line and Sinker at 517-224-8741.

Remember, fishing is the most fun you can have with all your clothes on.

THIS IS THE WAY THE PRO'S DO IT. George Knight, captain of the "Ten Pin," gives Tod Roichards, of St. Johns, instruction on how to land a 20 pound plus King Salmon.

IT'S A KEEPER! Ron Richards, of St. Johns, proudly hefts a 26 pound King Salmon taken aboard the "Ten Pin." The fish hit a Mac's Squid Plug.

St. Johns Update:

By Ruth Delo

Senior citizen employment

Are you 55 years of age or older? Would you like employment, full or part-time? Each Tuesday a representative from the Senior Employment and Training Service will be at the Senior Citizen Drop In Center, 215 N. Clinton, St. Johns, from 9 a.m. to noon.

You will be interviewed and given information about job seeking assistance. You will be advised on eligibility requirements, etc., for job seeking.

It is free of charge, so stop in and get information or call 224-4257 during the hours of the day indicated above.

What does an eight year old do during summer vacation?

Freddy SanJuan has had an interesting summer. He is eight years old and besides his mother and father, his family consists of a brother, Arnold, age 15; two sisters, Maria, age 18, who will start College at Aquanis College in Grand Rapids, and Geraldine, age 13.

With a charming smile, he said he started the summer he watched T.V. and played outside. Then he joined a group of young people, computer and nature group, headed by Bill Richards from the CRV office. He has a computer at home so he was somewhat familiar with one.

The group went to Intermediate School to play with computers. They learned basic programming and how to draw pictures on the computer, and how to make paper weights.

On a trip to Sleepy Hollow Lake, he learned to swim, he was a sea lion. He said he went fishing but only caught one fish. I can see the reason for that as they only had one fishing pole and five kids.

Next was a trip to the Kellogg factory, Battle Creek, Mi. After seeing how cereal was made they had samples to eat. It was a fine trip, he said.

In the afternoon they visited the Kellogg Sanctuary. There were all kinds of birds, swans, peacocks and many others. He really liked stopping in Lansing for ice cream.

He and his family then went on vacation, which included Kings Island, Ohio, and he sure smiled when he told about the rides, especially the roller coaster.

Last was computer and cream day. It was held at the ice cream store on Spring Street in St. Johns. They used computers doing what they had learned during the summer and then came the ice cream.

Jesse Ackles, another eight year old, goes to school at Perrin Palmer, gave a little information about his summer. Besides his mother and father, he has a four and a half year old sister.

He took swimming lessons for one week, he can do the front crawl, breast stroke and back float.

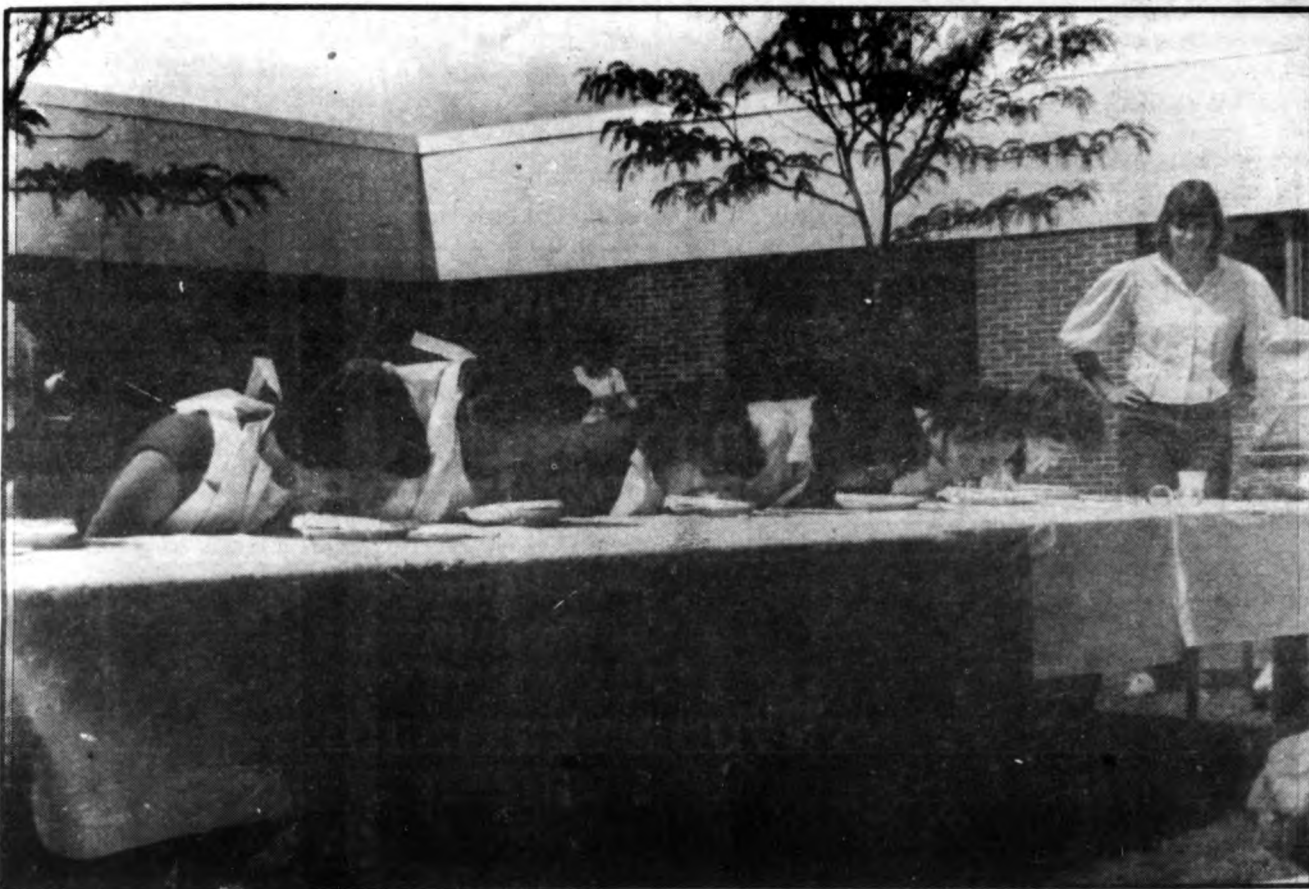

He attended the Computer Camp at the Intermediate School on US-27, south of St. Johns. He learned the basic programming and picture drawing on the computer.

On the Sleepy Hollow trip, he hiked and went swimming.

He also enjoyed the trip to Astronomy Camp at Abrahms Planetarium at MSU. He learned about constellations and wrote a story on word processing. He learned about stars and heard a story on the Universe unfolding.

On vacation with his family, they visited the Toledo Zoo, stayed at Houghton Lake overnight, next Elk Rapids and swimming at Wilderness State Park.

He also attended the computer and cream day and seemed to be right at home with the computers.

Vestaburg man qualifies for fishing Hall of Fame

A 34 pound 6 ounce brown trout caught on May 16, 1984, in Arcadia, Bar Lake, Michigan by Robert Henderson of Vestaburg was qualified by the National Fishing Hall of Fame, Hayward, Wisconsin as a new all-tackle and 10 pound line class world record.

The Michigan catch bested by 12 ounces, a 33 pound 10 ounce brown trout caught in Flaming Gorge, Utah, on March 4, 1977, according to the Fishing Hall of Fame's records department. Another Utah brown from the same water, caught on January 25, 1975, and qualified by the Hall, held the world record for the preceding two years.

Prior to that a 39 pound 8 ounce brown trout from Loch Awe, Scotland, captured in 1866 and listed in the record annals of the time for more than a century was researched by the Hall of Fame and disqualified as a poorly documented catch. It was allegedly foul hooked and was not recognized by traditional British record keepers either.

Modern rules require very stringent documentation of any record catch. All-tackle-heaviest of a species-catches are examined carefully by professional fisheries persons for correct species identification. Henderson's new world record Michigan brown was dissected to absolutely authenticate its species, according to a Hall spokesman. Even a blood test was taken. The entire qualification process was directed by Ned Fogle, fish biologist for the State of Michigan, Department of Natural Resources.

The non-profit Fishing Hall of Fame updates world all-tackle and line class records quarterly in its bulletins and the annual synopsis is published in book format each April for the preceding year's record catches. The book lists over 100 freshwater fish found in the western hemisphere and an additional 25 eastern hemisphere species as well as the current records of all 50 states in the U.S.A.

Persons who catch potential records are advised to follow a few basic but important procedures to help authenticate their catch, namely: Weigh the fish on a "legal for trade" scale in company of two disinterested witnesses who provide their name, address, and signatures; Take a clear, broadside photo; Do not cut or open the fish; Have the fish species positively identified by a professional fisheries person, and save at least the first 25 feet of line for later line class laboratory tests.

For further information and free brochures and record application forms, write or call the National Fishing Hall of Fame, Box 33, Hall of Fame Drive, Hayward, Wisconsin, 54843. Phone 715-634-4440.

Starner named new chairman of Schuette campaign

Dennis Starner, of Midland, has been named as General Chairman of the Bill Schuette for Congress Campaign. Starner assumes this position in Schuette's stretch drive to unseat Democrat Donald Albosta, of St. Charles.

Schuette said, "Dennis Starner was the correct choice to implement the plans and opportunities the campaign identified in our recent reorganization. I am delighted that Dennis has accepted this responsibility."

Schuette continued, "Dennis has a lengthy history of intensive involvement in grassroots Republican organizing throughout the 10th District. He brings to the campaign a knowledge of people throughout mid-Michigan and a keen grasp of the existing campaign structure."

Starner stated, "I am totally committed and extremely enthusiastic about the opportunity to help elect Bill Schuette to Congress. Bill's months of hard work and aggressive campaigning, in addition to the solid organization put in place by many dedicated people, means we will win in November."

Starner added, "At this stage of the campaign, the key is to execute a winning campaign and to continue building a network of supporters throughout the townships of the 10th District."

Starner, age 38, is the 10th District Republican Party Chairman, 10th District Chairman of Reagan-Bush '84 and is a member of the Advisory Committee of Michigan Citizens Supporting the President. He is a delegate to the 1984 Republican National Convention in Dallas, and was a delegate to the 1980 Republican National Convention in Dallas, and was a delegate to the 1980 Republican National Convention and an alternate at the 1976 Republican National Convention.

Starner has been a precinct delegate since 1973 and has been a delegate to the Michigan State Republican Convention from 1973-1984. He has been a member of the Midland County Republican Executive Committee since 1980. Starner was Vice-Chairman of the 10th District Republican Party from 1981-83. From 1979-80, he served as 10th District Chairman of Ronald Reagan for President and was a Regional Field Director for the Reagan and Bush Committee in 1980.

In 1981-82, Starner was a Field Representative for "Target '82," a voter identification program implemented by the Michigan Republican Party. He also worked in the capacity of Field Representative for the 1982 Headlee for Governor campaign.

Starner is a member of the American Legion and the Michigan Area Chamber of Commerce. He has been involved in the Midland Association of Life Underwriters since 1979, and is President of this organization for 1984-85. An insurance agent with Farm Bureau since 1974, Starner received the Agent of the Year award in 1976, and received National Quality Awards in 1981, 1982 and 1984.

Festival draws a thousand to Bannister

Approximately 1,200 people attended the annual Czechoslovakian Harvest Festival at Bannister Z.C.B.J. Lodge on Sunday, August 5, according to Program Chairman Tom Bradley. The district festival sponsored by the Bannister, Flint, and Owosso Z.C.B.J. Lodges, celebrates the harvest in a tradition brought to this country from Czechoslovakia.

Lodge members arrived at the hall at 4:00 a.m. Sunday to begin frying the 145 chickens needed to provide 1,000 home cooked dinners for hungry visitors. Diners were treated to an "all-you-can-eat" meal of fried chicken, ham, mashed potatoes with gravy, dumplings with sauerkraut, stuffing, salads, and kolache.

Following the meal, a musical program featuring performers from local lodges was presented. Lodge members dressed in colorful costumes marched onto the outdoor platform bearing decorated scythes and rakes, and wreaths made of wheat and flowers.

Owosso Z.C.B.J. singers led the singing of the U.S., Czech, and Slovak national anthems, and Father John Hoogterp offered a harvest prayer. Master of Ceremonies Frank Machala declared, "Let the Festival begin!", in both English and Czech and the audience settled back to enjoy a colorful program of music and folk dancing.

The youngest group of Bannister Z.C.B.J. Czechoslovakian Folk Dancers, ages 2-7, charmed the audience, singing two songs in Czech and performing folk dances. They were followed by the pre-teen, teenage, and adult groups of Bannister's talented dancers, who thrilled the spectators with their performances of traditional dances.

Dances were interspersed with medleys of Czech and Slovak songs by the Swartz Creek Friendship Club, Owosso Z.C.B.J. singers, the mother-daughter team of Pauline Sourek and Annette Schulz, and a trio consisting of Bob Ladiski, Diane Bradley, and Teresa Ladiski. Many audience members were observed singing along with the familiar songs.

Members of the dance group presented gifts to accordian player Eddy Fornusek and dance teacher Diane Bradley in recognition of the time and work they had donated to the group.

After the program, which featured 140 talented and colorfully dressed performers, Z.C.B.J. Chairman of the Board Edward Rozsypal picked the winner's names in the free drawings for cash prizes and bicycles. Winners of the cash prizes for teenagers were Howie Sloat, Tim Bishop, Tammy Thelen, Sherri Ladiski, Julie Smith, and Laurie Mikulka. Joy Chirra won the tricycle, Sarah Bradley the girl's bicycle, and Bruce Thelen the boy's bicycle.

From 4:00 to 8:00 p.m., the public was given the opportunity to display their dancing skills to the old country music of Al Smeja a Jeho Muzikanti, while enjoying the refreshments provided by lodge workers.

TWELVE HUNDRED PEOPLE TURNED OUT for the Czechoslovakian Harvest Festival held recently in Bannister. A parade was also featured at the event, with participants dressed in their traditional clothes.

CZECHOSLOVAKIAN DANCERS were among the many events featured at the Bannister Festival recently.

The Little Things!!

While going through some old clothes and treasures, I came across a small package all wrapped in tissue paper. After carefully opening the fragile package, I was flooded with memories of my girls christening ceremonies.

For both girls we were blessed with a beautiful spring morning, even though the memorable events were two years apart. No matter how many times you experience this, you still have the same emotional impact.

The morning of is a complete fiasco, no matter how organized and together you are. Babies very seldom feel the urgency to cooperate. After doing everything possible to ready yourself, you still have to save time for the last minute diaper change and you hope the final burp. The car ride to the church leaves you arriving looking like you slept in your clothes and in a short time you're going to be standing in front of a lot of people.

Have you noticed the christening ceremony is always the last part of the service? It's obvious there's been no thought or consideration planned for the mothers to calmly get through this event.

When the time does finally come for parents and babies to arrange themselves at the front of the church, you have visions of your baby burping or spitting up all over his black robe. There's always the possibility of the pampers leaking and fright taking over the baby causing screams of anger to fill the room. Believe me, when I say, this is one time when you're not in charge. Thank heaven, the old adage usually applies, and they do just the opposite of what you anticipate.

As you once again take your seat in the back of the church, you wonder why you even spared the energy to worry about the little things. Being human and made up of emotions, we sometimes tend to slip into the pattern of fretting over things we can't change, instead of using the energy on things we can change.

That's life and this too shall pass...

Local parents warned of false Protective Service workers

Recent reports in several central Michigan counties of a person or persons falsely claiming to be Children's Protective Services workers have prompted the state Department of Social Services to advise the public that PS workers cannot remove a child from its parents without a court order or law enforcement officer with them.

Since May 16, at least 12 incidents involving a man and a woman (or in some cases two women) have occurred where strangers posing as Children's PS workers from DSS have gained entry into homes and asked to inspect small children for signs of physical or sexual abuse. In at least one instance the stranger attempted to take a baby from its home but was thwarted by the mother who grabbed her child from the intruder.

These apparently related incidents have occurred in Gladwin, Gratiot, Presque Isle, Alcona and Kalkaska counties. Similar incidents have been reported in New Jersey recently. Local police, sheriffs and the Michigan State Police are investigating along with DSS officials.

Protective Services staff do have a legal responsibility in Michigan to investigate reports of child abuse and neglect. However, DSS policy is to seek court-ordered removal of abused children only as a last resort, or in cases where the health and safety of the children are in immediate danger. In virtually all cases where DSS seeks protective custody of abused children, court action is taken and/or law enforcement officers accompany the PS workers to the child's home.

If a stranger approaches you or comes to your home claiming to be a Children's Protective Services worker from DSS, ask that person for identification. If you have reason to doubt the validity of the identification, call your local DSS office for verification before admitting the person in your home.

Above all, do not let the person remove your child from your custody without proper authorization.

If a person claiming to be a PS worker cannot produce proper identification -- or if you cannot verify through your local DSS office their identity or reason for being there -- do not let him or her into your home. Try to get the license plate number from the stranger's car, if possible, and contact your local police or sheriff immediately.

People who have any information regarding this matter are asked to contact their local police, sheriff or the Michigan State Police.

The "Crime Stoppers" anonymous tip line in Saginaw is available for anyone who may want to report information on these incidents confidentially. Simply call (517) 752-STOP.

Micro-computer was featured at 4-H Fair

The Clinton County 4-H Fair had a little different sound to it this summer. If you listened closely you could hear the "buzz", "whirl", "bang" of a micro-computer blending in with all the other more traditional sounds of the fair.

"I like to bring the micro-computer to the fair because it gives people an opportunity to see how easy it is to run a computer," says Dawn Harris, Extension home economist. "It also gives them an idea as to whether or not a computer would be a wise investment for their own home, farm or business," continues Harris.

The micro-computer program offered at the fair this year was "Dollars and Decisions in the Supermarket." This is a free program that tells you how much you are spending on a given food item in a year's time and also how to save money on that item by purchasing the least expensive brand. "Some of the results are really surprising," says Phyllis Myers, Family Living volunteer. "I found out that it costs me almost twice as much to make my own pizza than it does to buy it ready made."

Myers is just one of the six volunteers that ran the micro-computer during the fair. Other

Home maker's Day success

Homemaker's Day at the 4-H Fair this year was a day filled with demonstrations, contests and a lot of good food.

"There were over 50 entries submitted in the Homemaker's Day skills contest this year," says Dawn Harris, Extension home economist.

Those winning first place included: Mary Ellen Pung--Whole Wheat Honey Buns; Bea Grams--Heavenly Cookies; Joan Schrouben--Pineapple Pie; Earlene Schaub--Peanut Butter Fudge; Mary Ellen Pung--Telephone Cake; Sharon Powell--Dress (original design); and Dorothy Cressman--Sweet Cherries. All of the first place winners received a rosette and a $10.00 gift certificate.

Other features of the day included low-cost demonstrations put on by Cloth and Collectables and a carrot taste-testing booth coordinated by the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME. Hazel I. Findley Country Manor was the scene of a "good ole fashioned carnival" Tuesday afternoon, when residents participated in the annual "Summerfest." The Clinton County Senior Citizens Fun Band played old everyone's favorites while residents and community members tried their hand at winning games such as the balloon popping contest. Others viewed craft tables or ate carnival goodies. A fun time was had by all who attended the event.

MEALTIME MAGIC

Brown Bag Special

Back to school means back to brown bag lunches for many students. While peanut butter and jelly sandwiches are a quick and popular choice, you might like to occasionally include something a little special just to show how much you care.

That's where the home economists in the Wish-Bone test kitchen developed Lunchbox Sandwiches. Easy to make, filling and nourishing, they're a welcome change from the usual sandwiches.

Each sandwich takes advantage of the fuss foods such as tuna or bologna. And for fast preparation, the fillings are all perfectly seasoned in one easy step with convenient bottled Italian or Russian dressing. The combinations are then encased in refrigerated crescent rolls which have been formed into different shapes. The variety of shapes and tempting fillings are a delightful lunchtime reward for any hard-working student.

LUNCHBOX SANDWICH PIES

1 package (8 oz.) refrigerated crescent rolls or buttermilk biscuits
Suggested Fillings*
Caraway, celery, poppy or sesame seeds
Preheat oven to 375°. Separate crescent rolls or biscuits. Roll slightly and form or cut into desired shapes—for example: rectangles, circles, hearts, etc. Equally divide a Suggested Filling onto half the shapes; top with similar shape and seal edges tightly. Brush buns with additional bottled dressing and sprinkle with one of the seeds. Bake 10 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 4 to 8 pies depending on size of shapes.

SUGGESTED FILLINGS—
Simple Tuna Salad: In small bowl, combine 1 can (7 oz.) tuna fish, drained and flaked. 3 tablespoons Wish-Bone® Italian Dressing, and 1/4 cup chopped green pepper.

Red Deviled Ham: In small bowl, combine 1 can (4-1/2 oz.) deviled ham, 3 tablespoons Wish-Bone Russian Dressing and 2 tablespoons drained sweet pickle relish.

Crescent Bologna Rolls: Spread 8 sections of crescent dough with 3 tablespoons Wish-Bone Russian Dressing blended with 1-1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard. Roll 8 slices bologna (about 1/2 lb.) and place on wide end of each dough sections; roll as package directs. Proceed as recipe directs.

Pinwheel Tea Cookie Pops combine chocolate and spiced tea flavored swirls in a colorful pinwheel effect. Placed atop wooden sticks, these cookie lollipops are sure to become a popular holiday treat.

PINWHEEL TEA COOKIE POPS

2/3 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups all-purpose flour
1-1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 squares (1 oz. ea.) semi-sweet chocolate, melted
2 teaspoons Lipton® 100% Instant Tea powder
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon lemon extract

In large bowl, blend butter with sugar until light and fluffy; add egg and vanilla.

In medium bowl, combine flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add to butter mixture, blending well after each addition. Divide dough in half; add chocolate to one-half; to other half, add 100% instant tea powder, nutmeg and lemon extract.

On waxed paper, flatten each half into 3"x8" rectangle; chill at least 1 hour. Between waxed paper, roll each half into 7"x12" rectangle. Place chocolate dough on tea dough, pressing slightly. Roll, starting at narrow end, jelly-roll style. Chill at least 2 hours.

Preheat oven to 375°. Cut roll into 20 slices (about 3/8-inch thick); insert wooden ice cream sticks about halfway through cookies. Place on baking sheets and bake 8 minutes. Carefully remove to wire racks to cool. Makes about 20 cookies.

BUTTERSCOTCH TEA TODDY

1/3 cup Lipton 100% Instant Tea powder
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1-1/2 quarts milk
1 package (6 oz.) butterscotch chips

In large saucepan, combine all ingredients. Heat, stirring occasionally, until butterscotch melts. Serve, if desired, with whipped cream. Makes about 6 servings.

Calling Colleen

Dear Colleen:

How do you tell a friendly neighbor that he is being too friendly? This couple moved in next door several months ago. We like them very much.

They enjoy doing the same things we like to do—cooking out in the yard, playing bridge, etc. The problem is that he is extremely curious about everything we do. If we have company, he can't stand it. He just has to come over and see who it is. He doesn't stay long, but he always makes an appearance. How do we tell him nicely that we would like some privacy?

Jan

Dear Ann:

Meet him at the door, say "hello" and tell him that you have company and hope he will drop by again later. He should get the message.

Ann

Dear Ann:

He has not vanished into thin air. Let him know through mutual friends that you wish to talk to him—and tell him nothing but the truth when you have that opportunity.

Dear Colleen:

I liked this guy very much. We were going together for

SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Where To Live

Following close behind financial considerations, most persons nearing retirement give concern to where they will live. For many of these, the issue arises only because the house in which they raised a family has become too big for two people. They seek advantages in a smaller place—like less maintenance and upkeep and lower real estate taxes. Savings here can be important to those on retirement incomes.

But, selling the old home and buying a new one should not be a casual experience. More than the appearance, size and cost of the new home should be considered. Location is extremely important. Is it convenient to stores? Is there a church nearby? What about recreation facilities? And, what about neighbors? Are there only young adult couples in the neighborhood?

There is a tendency to shove these considerations into the background if the smaller home is attractive and available at a good price. The attachment to the old home, those sentimental feelings, can be submerged into the pleasure of the new place. But, after a time, sentimental feelings return, as does a yearning for contact with old friends and neighbors.

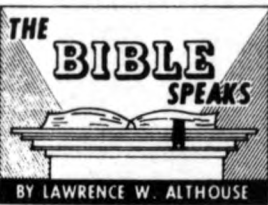

If the new place is located in the old hometown, friends are not too far away. But if the move is made to another town or to the country, remoteness can widen the gap and increase the dissatisfaction.

If you are considering buying a new home, it's wise to make certain the location is satisfactory before you make the move.

CONSEQUENCES

August 26, 1984

Background Scripture: 2 Kings 24 through 25.
Devotional Reading: Jeremiah 12:8-16.

The tragedy of Judah under Zedekiah doesn't seem all that remote to us. The last days of Judah as recorded in 2 Kings 25 are not all unlike what some of us have witnessed in our century: a brave defense, ultimately overwhelmed, a city and nation devastated.

For Judah it was no half-way measure. The army was utterly defeated. The king was captured, forced to watch the execution of his sons and then blinded. The Babylonians destroyed the temple, the king's palace and the walls of Jerusalem. And the population was carried into captivity with only a few peasants left to inhabit the once-proud capitol.

WHAT WAS EVIL

What happened to Jerusalem and Judah was no mere accident. Nor was it fate, for the writers of 2 Kings make it clear that all of it could have been avoided if the people had changed their ways. No, it was neither chance nor fate that brought upon them this great disaster. It was, however, a matter of consequences. Judah finally paid the check for its moral and spiritual decline.

Like almost all the kings that had preceded him, Zedekiah "did what was evil in the sight of the Lord" (24:19). The writer of 2 Kings doesn't tell us what that was, but says simply "...according to all that Jehoiakim had done." In other words, it was more of the same moral sickness that had afflicted Israel almost from its very beginning.

But Judah suffered the final disaster, not just because of an evil and foolish king, but because the people followed him down the road to decline. Under his leadership, they also "did what was evil in the sight of the Lord" and the disaster that followed was simply the consequence of that decay.

INTO EXILE

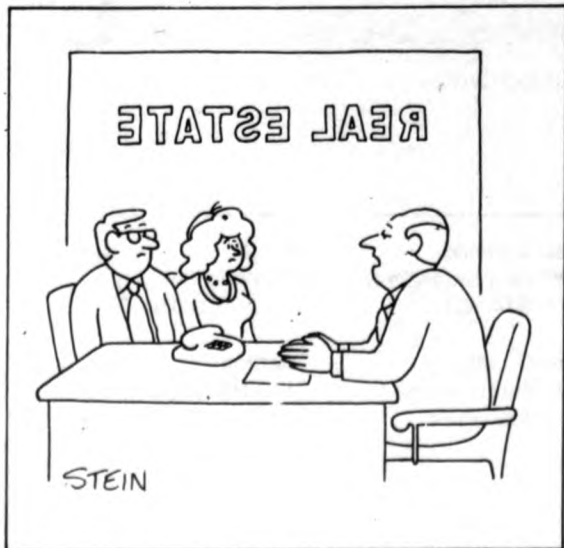

Life is a series of consequences for choices we have made and courses we have taken. Racial problems in our country today are largely the consequence of slavery. Many of our deepest concerns of today are obviously the consequences of discarded standards that have not been replaced by something better. Drug addition in our world is a consequence on our culture's growing dependence on chemicals to solve our problems (alcohol, nicotine, barbituates, etc.). And most of our international tensions and dangers are the consequence of societies that have placed material things ahead of spiritual values.

If we poison our atmosphere, if we irreversibly pollute our earth, if we destroy each other in one iridescent moment of nuclear madness, it will not have been either fate or accident. It will be a consequence of what we as a society have done, are doing and seem bent on continuing to do.

Exile was a picnic compared to what faces humanity today.

Negotiations continue for DeWitt teachers contract

DeWitt teachers have met 11 times since June 5th, with no tentative agreement made. They have reportedly met three additional times during the past week, including a nine hour conference on the previous Saturday.

Under current negotiations, teachers have agreed to report to school on August 30th in preparation for the September 4th starting of school.

All of the articles of the current contract are reportedly being negotiated, with 16 of the 26 already determined. However, Garrett reportedly said the important issue of class size is still being worked out.

The DEA is reported to have went to arbitration on class size recently and lost. The arbitrator upheld the board's action in exceeding class on occasion, saying contract language gave it that right. Garrett said the board felt it must retain the right to exceed the maximums set in the contract when circumstances necessitate the action.

The board has reportedly listed reduced class size as a district goal and set up a class size committee, made up of teachers and administrators, to recommend a case by case solution.

The Board is being represented in negotiations by Ron Risdon of the Michigan Association of School Boards. The DEA is represented by Jean Cusick of the Michigan Education Association.

"Ordinary Women" meets the last Thursday of every month, with a different guest speaker each month at the Church of the Living Word, formerly known as Hope Fellowship. This month the meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m. with Barb Patrick giving her testimony of her life when she was into drugs and rebellion.

Tomorrow.

In each of us is that characteristic, that trait, that thing that makes us different from potatoes and rocks.

That thing that makes us human.

That thing that makes us love life.

That thing that makes us believe life will endure. That it should endure. That it can.

That thing that makes us human gives us our concept of future.

That thing that makes us human also bands us together in one kind of a group or another, each working to ensure the future.

A family is such a group. So is a government.

So is a company.

This company, Consumers Power, is a group of 260,000 people—employees and shareholders—who believe in the future.

A group of 260,000 people today who carry forward the work of the much smaller group that started this company in 1886.

The day-to-day activities have changed somewhat over the near-century since, but the purpose is the same now as it was then.

This company's purpose is and always has been to supply energy to the people of Michigan.

To do that, we have continually looked ahead to see how people would be living, and working, in years to come.

Our job, really, has been to imagine the future.

To plan.

To study, design, devise, engineer, invent, build, operate, and plan more.

We continually look for ways to provide the energy Michigan needs in ever-increasing amounts.

Each is part of our answer to the continuing questions about energy supplies. For now. For tomorrow.

In our near-century of answering those questions, acceptance of our answer has been extremely high.

Sometimes, rarely, there has been controversy.

The Midland plant has been a controversial answer all along.

We believe that Midland was a correct answer.

Without Midland, we will go back to the question and find a new answer.

This company, this group of people working to ensure the future, will continue to honor the commitment made almost one hundred years ago.

The commitment of today's 260,000 people of Consumers Power that Michigan's homes and schools will be warm in the winter.

That the lights in our libraries will not go out.

That Michigan's future looks bright.

And powerful.

And that Consumers Power will help you live there.

Our ninety-eighth year of looking at tomorrow.

P-W Cheerleaders add weight-lifting program to practice

The Pewamo-Westphalia Cheerleaders have added a weight-lifting program to their practices. The conditioning routine, organized by assistant football coach Kurt Mabie, has definitely helped the girls in their preparations for summer camps.

The P-W Varsity Squad attended the Dynamic Cheerleader Association's camp at Central Michigan University. Their spirit theme, "Care Bears" won a ribbon for outstanding creativity. The squad also received a first place ribbon for an original cheer. They designed the cheer within a 30 minute period and were selected first out of the 59 other squads at camp. Their greatest achievement was the second place ribbon for over-all performance in competition. The girls had to compete on the final day at camp with two floor cheers and two chants.

The P-W Junior Varsity squad attended a United States Cheerleader Association "Camp America" at Olivet. They received four ribbons in the squad cheerleading competition. The squad was also selected to compete in final night competition with their pompon routine.

Debbie Blatt was chosen as one of the camp's top ten cheerleaders and also won the talent competition with a gymnastic routine. She received a plaque and a ribbon. Debbie will go on to national U.S.C.A. competition at the Civic Center, in Lansing, August 22-25.

The P-W Freshman squad is attending the Michigan State University's summer sports school. The squad members are: Carisa Belen, Robert Jo Maclam, Sandy Trierweiler, Stephanie Schmitz, Patti Pung, Amy Stump, Lori Kowatch and Wendy Nocker. This is the first summer that the freshman squad has attended cheerleading camp.

The squads are coached by Kathee McDonald. This is her first year as cheerleading coach at Pewamo-Westphalia.

The freshman squad will begin their season cheering on September 6, at the girls' basketball team's game in the Portland Tournament. The J.V. squad will start their season on September 6 at the P-W J.V football game against Lansing Catholic Central, at L.C.C. LUNCH PROGRAM FOR CLINTON COUNTY SCHOOLS

Clinton County Intermediate School District today announced its policy for Free Meals and Free Milk or Reduced-Price Meals, for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, Special Milk Program, and U.S.D.A. Donated Food Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility.

TOTAL FAMILY SIZE	A. SCALE FOR FREE MILK AND FREE MILK	B. SCALE FOR REDUCED-PRICE MEALS
1	6,474	9,213
2	8,736	12,432
3	10,998	15,651
4	13,260	18,870
5	15,522	22,089
6	17,784	25,308
7	20,046	28,527
8	22,308	31,746
Each additional family member	Plus 2,262	Plus 3,219

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals or reduced price meals. Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. This information may be verified at any time during the school year. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. To apply for benefits, households should complete the application provided by the school and return it to the school as soon as possible.

For the school officials to determine eligibility, the household must provide the following information listed on the application: Names of all household members; social security numbers of all adult household members or an indication that the household member does not possess one; total household income by source for each household member; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct. Households are required to report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size. Food Stamp Program households may provide their case number instead of income information on the application.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of Federal funds, that school officials may verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and criminal statutes.

In most cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should follow the instructions provided on the application and contact the school if they need additional information.

Children of unemployed parents may qualify for free or reduced price meals if total family income including welfare payments, unemployment compensation and sub-pay benefits fall within the prescribed family income guidelines.

Under the provisions of the policy Larry A. Schwartzkopf, Supt., will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he or she may make a request either orally or in writing to same, Box 207, St. Johns, MI 48879, 224-6831 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

In operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age, or handicap.

If any member of a household believes he/she has been discriminated against, he/she should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., 20250.

Post-Graduate classes offered in county

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

High school graduates are being offered another educational alternative in Clinton County this year in hopes of better training students for the working world.

According to Community Education Director John Furry, graduates under 20 years of age by September 1st can participate in the developing program, as well as any adult that has not graduated or has obtained a G.E.D.

"We're looking at a 13th year of school," Furry said. "It's designed to provide a certificate comparable to the program at L.C.C. (Lansing Community College), but it's entirely free."

Under the program, students may participate in courses such as computer operator assistant, word processor operator, accounting assistant and receptionist/typist classes. At the same time, several courses such as small engine technician and welding have been expanded, all providing up to 540 hours of instruction.

"These are certificate programs," Furry said, "Not just courses. A student must complete the program for certification."

"Graduates can take whichever course they want," he continued, "vocational or academic. Along with this concept, they can simply take the whole program or a class they may have missed during their four years in school."

Furry said the program is being offered free of charge thanks to monies available from the State Aid Act. The potential for such a program has always been there but never utilized. He said this year the school board recognized how profitable such a program would be for post-graduates.

Classes will begin on September 10th, with registration beginning this week. For more information, call the Community Education office. Class size is limited.
