Commissioners deny gravel pit

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

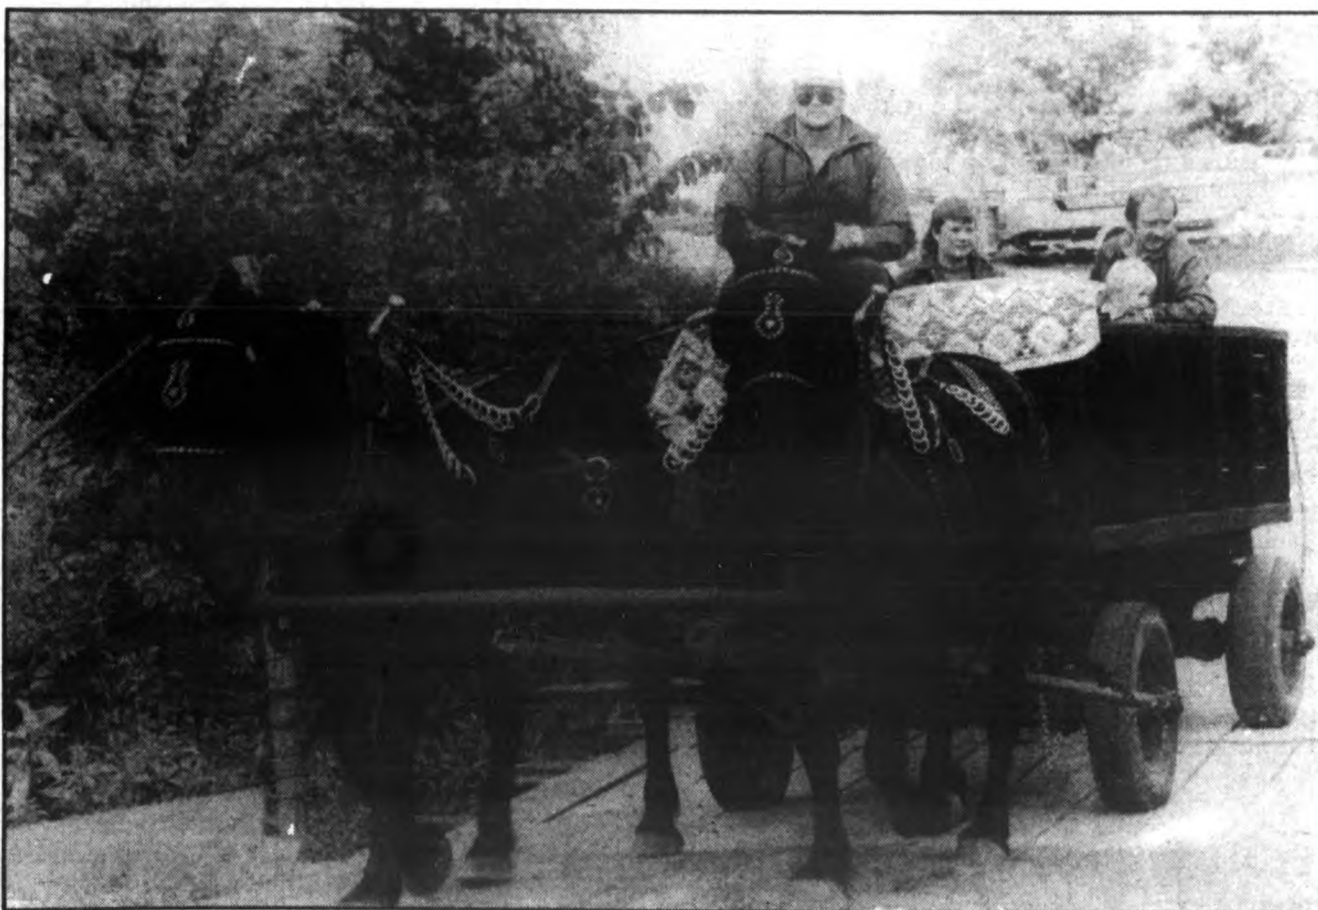

Nearly 50 Clinton County residents gathered together recently to voice their concern over the request for a gravel pit in the DeWitt and Airport Roads area. On Tuesday, County Commissioners voted in favor of the residents, denying the request for the Special Use Permit (SUP).

The sand/gravel pit was to be located on a 60-acre landlocked parcel between the two roads. At the Commissioners meeting, Robert Steinman, attorney for developers Albert and Maxine Galloway, assured Commissioners that the Galloways agreed to comply with operating hours, fencing, haul routes, site development, rehabilitation and reclamation rules set by planners.

He added that the request complied with the County zoning ordinance and that both the County Planning and Road Commission had already recommended approval.

However, H. James Star, a Lansing attorney representing the property owners group, argued that the graveled haul routes are old, narrow and could be hazardous if gravel trucks and school buses or other big vehicles meet; and that,

A LITTLE OF THE GOOD OLE DAYS COMES TO BECK'S FARM MARKET- Area folks got a chance to experience some of the activities enjoyed years ago when horses were common on the local scene. This team, owned by Jim Whitford of Eureka, was on hand Saturday afternoon to furnish free wagon rides to kids and parents alike while visiting Beck's Farm Market during their massive produce sale at the farm market. Emergency Plan to begin generating energy

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

The St. Johns City Commission recently voted to make all operations go on the Emergency Preparedness Plan that began several years ago.

According to Lyle French, St. Johns Chief of Police, a large generator was purchased several years ago and was mounted behind the Municipal Building. At that time, the necessary electrical work was completed within the building to make the system operational, but authorities were unable to find a local electrician who could make the necessary conversions on the generator to produce the required emergency output needed to maintain electrical power in the building.

If the system is operational, electrical power will be supplied to the Municipal Building making functional the radio base, the main tornado siren, the fire whistle and the telephone system.

Bill Gramlich recently obtained quotes from three electrical contractors on the cost of the labor and material to make the system operational.

A power pack purchased by the Motorola Communications would provide eight hours of auxiliary power. A portable generator, which would automatically start and provide power in case of an electrical power failure, would also be purchased, totalling approximately $4,900.

A portable generator from Community Electric would cost $4,288. The generator has the same features as the Motorola Communications generator.

Dean's Hardware also offers a 3000-watt portable generator for $600. This would provide the necessary power needed for the fire department radio base, located underneath the water tower, but would require being manually started and the power supply switched.

City prepares for Homecoming

It's that time of year again and the St. Johns Homecoming 1984 is drawing near. Fans are eagerly awaiting the battle between the St. Johns Redwings and the Chesaning Indians in the traditional Homecoming game.

Anticipation also builds as students, parents and members of the community await the crowning of this year's Homecoming King and Queen. Amidst all the festivities of this year's Homecoming is the parade which precedes the game and gets activities under way. This year's parade theme is "The

Due to the cost differences, Chief French suggested that the Commission purchase the portable generator from Dean's Hardware and install it at the water tower to provide auxiliary power for the fire department radio base and also be available if needed elsewhere in the city.

Chief French also agreed with Bill Gramlich's recommendation that the city obtain the services of Superior Electric of Lansing, Inc., in making the necessary modifications to the generator presently located behind the Municipal Building, thereby making the system operational.

Silver Screen," which depicts movies of our time.

Any groups or organizations that may be interested in entering this year's Homecoming parade must be pre-registered by Friday, Oct. 5, to participate.

The parade will be Friday, Oct. 12, at 5 p.m., with line up at 4:30 on Lincoln Street. For more information, contact Gary Larsen at St. Johns High School, 224-9341, ext. 116, or Kathy Kirby at 224-4508.

The city accepted the recommendations and accepted the plan.

In other action, the Commission accepted the request for a taxi cab license for the Community Resource Volunteer vehicle. A public hearing will be held on Oct. 8 at the next City Commission meeting.

Exchange Club to sponsor steak dinner

Make no mis-steak about it! The St. Johns Exchange Club will be sponsoring their annual Steak Dinner Saturday, Oct. 6, in the St. Johns High School cafeteria.

All Exchange Club members are selling tickets to the meal, with adults paying $5 and children $2.50. Tickets are also available at the door for the same price.

The meal will feature a complete steak dinner, including a steak and baked potato. Food will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. All proceeds from the event will go to local projects for the community youth.

Clinton Capers to feature local talent

Any area resident who has longed for a moment on Broadway may get their chance this month when the Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary stages its third biennial production of the "Clinton Capers."

The Capers feature all local talent and relies on members of the community for acting, set design and props. Anyone interested in any aspect of the production is invited by the Auxiliary to attend a "Meet The Director Party" on Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 7 p.m., in the Municipal Building.

The Hospital Auxiliary donates all proceeds from the event to Clinton Memorial. "Clinton Capers" is a Jerome H. Cargill Production, a New York-based firm. The production is scheduled for 8 p.m. on Oct. 25, 26 and 27 in Pocius Auditorium at St. Johns High School.

Tickets are available from any Auxilian, through the hospital Gift Shop or by contacting the Human Resources Department at Clinton Memorial, 224-6881, ext. 285.

Scholarship applications now being accepted

Scholarship applications are being accepted for the Navy's four-year Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC) college scholarship program. Deadline for application is December 1, 1984.

The four-year, $40,000 college scholarship competition is open to U.S. citizens 17 to 21 years of age. You must be a good student and have an ACT score of 24 Math, 18 English or a SAT score of 520 Math, 430 Verbal as a minimum to qualify and compete.

During the competition for the 1984 scholarship program there were 160 scholarships offered to 289 qualified applicants.

The NROTC scholarship pays all tuition, books, educational fees and provides $100 per month during the school year. Students also have 4 to 6 weeks paid training each summer. The scholarship recipients attend more than 60 of the nation's finest colleges and universities, including the University of Michigan. During the school year, students usually wear a uniform one day per week and spend 5 to 7 hours per week in Naval Science activities.

Upon graduation the students are commissioned in the regular Navy and may be assigned to aviation, submarines or surface ships. About 12 percent may be commissioned as Marine Corps officers (if they desire and are qualified). The active duty requirement is four years.

Immediate application is urged in order to qualify for the early selection board. The absolute deadline for initial applications is December 1, 1984. Deadline for receipt of ACT or SAT scores is December 31, 1984.

Another world is just few minutes away

Editor's Note:

This is part of an informational series on Mid-Michigan's newest educational indoor entertainment complex. Located a short distance off I-75 in Flint, Six Flags AutoWorld offers the entire family a unique experience in understanding the historical beginnings of the auto industry. Visitors will find many hours of enjoyable rides and film features throughout the domed facility which is conditioned for all-weather comfort.

Rising 70 feet in the air, and covering an area larger than a football field, Six Flags AutoWorld's dome is an architectural wonder. But what is inside the structure is even more fascinating.

Beneath the copper covered sky-lit dome are authentic reproductions of historic Flint buildings, a flowing river, complete with working water wheel, old trade shops and restaurants. The life-size re-creations show the evolution of Flint from a center of fur trading to lumbering, then to carriage making and finally automobile manufacturing.

Upon entering the dome, AutoWorld visitors come to the cabin of Jacob Smith, the first fur trader to settle in Flint. Using a holographic-style system of carefully controlled lighting, Smith's "ghost" appears out of nowhere. (Actually it is projected onto a carefully concealed scrim of the exterior of the cabin.) Smith relates his experiences as a fur trapper, and his presentation is heightened by impressionistic lighting cues and realistic cabin decor. Smith expresses amazement at the development of "his" Flint, especially at that unbelievable invention—the horseless carriage. Smith's presentation provides visitors with an entertaining preview of what they will see at AutoWorld.

Smith's cabin is only part of the realistic world of old Flint under the dome. Included are an authentic Indian village, a tavern, and old sawmill, complete with working water wheel.

Saginaw Street is the heart of old Flint under the dome, and making the street realistic required some old fashioned craftsmanship. Just building the shops, stores and other buildings on the street wasn't enough; they had to be realistic to their setting and time. The two-story Flint Opera House, a replica of the old Flint City Hall, is the best example of painstaking attention to detail found in the turn-of-the-century era structures.

"Most buildings today are pretty simple—straight lines and corners," according to Mike Dorish of AutoWorld general contractor Darin and Armstrong. "But the 19th century style requires mitred corners and elaborate cornices and complicated trims. Our skilled tradesmen had a lot more fancy woodworking to do than in a conventional job."

The dome is completely climate-controlled, with a year-round temperature of 70 degrees. While that provides visitor comfort, it created a challenge for the landscape architect. Native Michigan foliage requires a dormant period of winter, which would be impossible in the year-round dome. The William Reinhold Landscape Contractors of Flat Rock solved that problem by importing more than a half million dollars in lavish, tropical foliage, carefully chosen to resemble native Michigan trees and shrubs. For instance, Norfolk Island pine trees are used in place of Michigan white pines.

However, just finding tropical substitutes was not enough. Many of the larger specimens were dug from the field, root-pruned and put in specialized containers a full year before installation at AutoWorld. They were placed in special Florida shade houses which filtered out 80 percent of the sunlight, allowing the plants to adjust to the lower light levels at AutoWorld.

In all, there are some 200 tropical trees and 2,500 shrubs at AutoWorld. They were transported to Flint from Florida over a five-week period, using 20 temperature-controlled semi-trailers. More than 900 cubic yards of special planting mix were used in the landscaping, which heightens the sense of realism to the historic village of Flint.

From the dome, visitors move through several other buildings at AutoWorld, housing an unusual variety of automotive related displays, rides, multi-media shows and "hands-on" exhibits.

That is plenty of time to build an appetite, but it's doubtful anyone will leave AutoWorld hungry, not with the wide selection of food available at the complex. From relaxed meals with waiters and waitresses to fast food, AutoWorld has a menu to satisfy everyone.

A full-service, 185-seat restaurant offers complete meals, and with its outdoor, second story patio, it combines a scenic view of the entire dome along with first-rate cuisine. But fast-food fans also have plenty to choose from in the complex, including hot dogs, hamburgers, sausages, ice cream, soft drinks, popcorn and other snacks.

Those with a sweet tooth haven't been forgotten, either. AutoWorld offers a variety of old fashioned candies, and has its own fudge making operation.

A special food attraction at AutoWorld is funnel cake, a light batter-fried pastry, topped with powdered sugar and fruit syrups. AutoWorld's food service is an industry within itself, with some 160 employees working full-time to satisfy the varied appetites of AutoWorld visitors.

Less than an hour's drive east of St. Johns and just off I-75, the $70 million AutoWorld is the world's largest indoor entertainment complex. A new kind of theme park, it's the first of a new generation of indoor, year-round entertainment facilities. Multi-million dollar "hands-on" computerized educational exhibits, themed restaurants and distinctive shops contribute to a totally unique experience for people of all ages.

The world-class facility is being managed by Six Flags, the largest theme park operator in North America, and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bally Manufacturing Corporation.

The Historic Flint AutoWorld Foundation, a non-profit organization, pursues historic and educational objectives at the project.

Five local students commended in program

St. Johns High School has been notified that five of its seniors have been designated Commended Students in the 1985 Merit Program. William Swears, principal, announced today that

Andrew Brockmyre, William Cleaver, Grant Linnell, Tarek Saad, and Julie Stapelman placed in the top five percent of over one million participants in the 30th annual competition and will receive a Letter of Commendation in honor of outstanding promise for future academic success.

If a 170 pound man expended energy at the rate of the tiny hummingbird, he would have to eat 285 pounds of hamburger or twice his weight in potatoes each day in order to maintain his weight.

REACHING FOR THE TOP! Migrant pickers come annually to Beck's Fruit Farm, where they stay until picking is over up to eight weeks later.

THUS BEGINS THE OPERATION. Owner Dan Beck pours the picked apples into a machine that cleans, dries and waxes the fruit, making it already to eat for his customers. The box holds 18 bushels of apples.

AFTER 15 MINUTES the dirty apples come out shiny clean and then head for the automatic sizer, where they are separated and bagged for purchase.

More than an apple a day!

Photos by Susan Owens

BAGGING THE FRUIT is the next step of the process. The shiny apples are then taken to Beck's Farm Market or simply sold at the farm.

APPLES ARE SOLD ALL YEAR AROUND at the Fruit Farm, with nine different varieties available. Above, some are prepared for cold storage.

Apples become a way of life for St. Johns family

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

Everyone knows the old adage, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away," but not many people know why.

Not only are they one of the first foods of mankind, they also feed the first fruits of mankind by providing sauce and juice for babies, nourish growing children as a dessert and snack food, and as a source of quick energy, conveniently refresh busy adult workers.

The natural fruit sugars are uniquely pre-packaged in its own colorful, protective skin, which is also edible and recommended for its special nutritive value. The Michigan Apple Committee states that even the seeds and core may also be eaten if chewed thoroughly and carefully. Besides other constituents, the core contains 24 times as much Iodine as the rest of the apple.

Apples also serve as a natural "toothbrush," cleansing breath and teeth as well as massaging the gums while eating them. The Commission said eating an apple actually removes more bacteria from the mouth than a three minute brushing and a gargle.

And for those who want to lose weight, apples are a nourishing diet supplement. One medium size apple contains about 80 calories and weighs about one-third pound. They are low in sodium, rich in potassium and are one of the best sources of dietary fiber. What's more, apples are filling and not fattening.

Dan and Jeanette Beck, of Beck's Fruit Farm on Maple Rapids Road, in St. Johns, have recognized the importance of apples while growing 65 acres of the fruit for more than 23 years. For Dan, growing and selling apples is a way of life. His mother had owned the St. Johns farm for 46 years before Dan and Jeanette bought it in 1962.

The orchard consists of nine different varieties of apples including the popular eating Red and Golden Delicious, MacIntosh, Jonathan, Paula Reds, a Japanese variety called Matsu and baking favorite Spys.

Three different types of trees are available at the orchard. Besides the standard size trees, semi-dwarfs and dwarfs have also been planted to give better use of land. Beck said the dwarf trees allow more trees to be grown per acre, as well as producing better fruit because of an equal distribution of sunlight.

"And it's easier to pick them," he added. "Both for our pickers and the customers who come to pick their own."

The Becks house up to 15 migrant pickers for their orchards, giving them a place to sleep right on the land. The workers, many the same year after year, begin showing up towards the end of the month of August. Many of them aren't even able to speak English.

According to Jeanette, there are about six to eight weeks of picking, the first apples beginning with the Paula Reds. MacIntoshes come next. Now, up until the end of October, all of the varieties are available.

She added that the Pick-Your-Own program at the orchard has been very popular, with several people bringing blankets and a picnic lunch while picking. She said many take advantage of the quiet surroundings and stay an entire afternoon in the rows of trees.

Although this seems to be the peak season for apples, the Becks also store their apples in a cold storage room and sell them throughout the winter. Many people buy them throughout the year, with an especially large amount purchasing them during the holidays.

The Becks are one of only two orchards in the county that picks, washes, cleans, dries and shines their fruit before selling it at either the farm or Beck's Farm Market on US-27.

"When you take a bite out of these apples, they will be clean and ready to eat," Beck said.

"We're a family owned operation. We enjoy what we're doing. All we have is apples so we try doing the best we can with them," Jeanette said. "People come from all around to buy our apples, too. They say they taste better."

Dan said one of the reasons for their success is their trickle irrigation system which causes the apples to increase in size. He said the system is effective during the dry season when most of Michigan has little rain.

Another reason seems to be in the added help of their five children, Debra, Melinda, Lisa, Nathan and Jason. All of the children help pick and pack the apples.

Plans begin for annual state color tour

One of the nation's most lavish fall color displays will soon begin in Michigan, creating a perfect setting for autumn festivals, cider mill visits, auto tours and other pursuits, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Stars in the state's autumn spectacular are the more than 85 species of trees in 3.7 million acres of state forests and five million acres of national forests. As their leaves turn, the trees display a vivid mix of crimson, golden and purplish hues.

Color watchers who prefer certain hues should look for sugar maples for brilliant golds and red maples for bright reds. While sugar maples outnumber other trees in many parts of the Upper Peninsula, both species are dominant in the Lower Peninsula west of I-75 and U.S.-27.

East of that line, brilliant yellow leaves are worn by aspens, birches and poplars. Leaves of oaks vary from russet to light brown while sumac trees become almost iridescent red and tamaracks turn gold.

Color is expected to be about the same as last year's—good but not spectacular because of a dry summer.

State forestry experts expect this year's color show to peak from mid-September to early October in the U.P. Best times for color viewing in Lower Michigan north of a line from Ludington to Standish will be late September to mid-October.

In Lower Michigan's midsection, color viewing should be best in early and mid-October. That region is south of a line from Ludington to Standish and north of a line from Muskegon to Port Huron.

Southern Michigan should display a fall color extravaganza during mid- and late October.

Among the most relaxing ways to see fall color are boat cruises offered in every region of the state.

Two are offered on West Michigan's Lake Charlevoix. The Beaver Islander is scheduled for October 6, 7, 13 and 14 and the Star of Charlevoix runs daily through October 14. The Timberlee Belle runs through mid-October on Boardman Lake, near Traverse City.

In East Michigan, Au Sable River paddleboat tours are slated September 29-October 21. For Southeast Michigan travelers, a cruise of Kent Lake at Kensington Metropark near Milford is set for October 14, 27, and 28.

U.P. boat trips include the Pictured Rocks Cruises at Munising through October 10.

Landlubbers may choose from dozens of other autumn activities.

Southeast Michigan events include Dearborn's Octoberfest, October 1-7; Fall Color Tour, Yates Cider Mill, Rochester, October 1-November 16; Ypsilanti's Apple Harvest Weekend, October 5-7;

Autumn Harvest Festival at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, October 5-7; Autumn Festival, Cranbrook Institute, Bloomfield Hills, October 6-7, 13-14; Fall Harvest Day, Ella Sharp Museum, Jackson, October 7, and an Apple Festival, Port Huron, October 21.

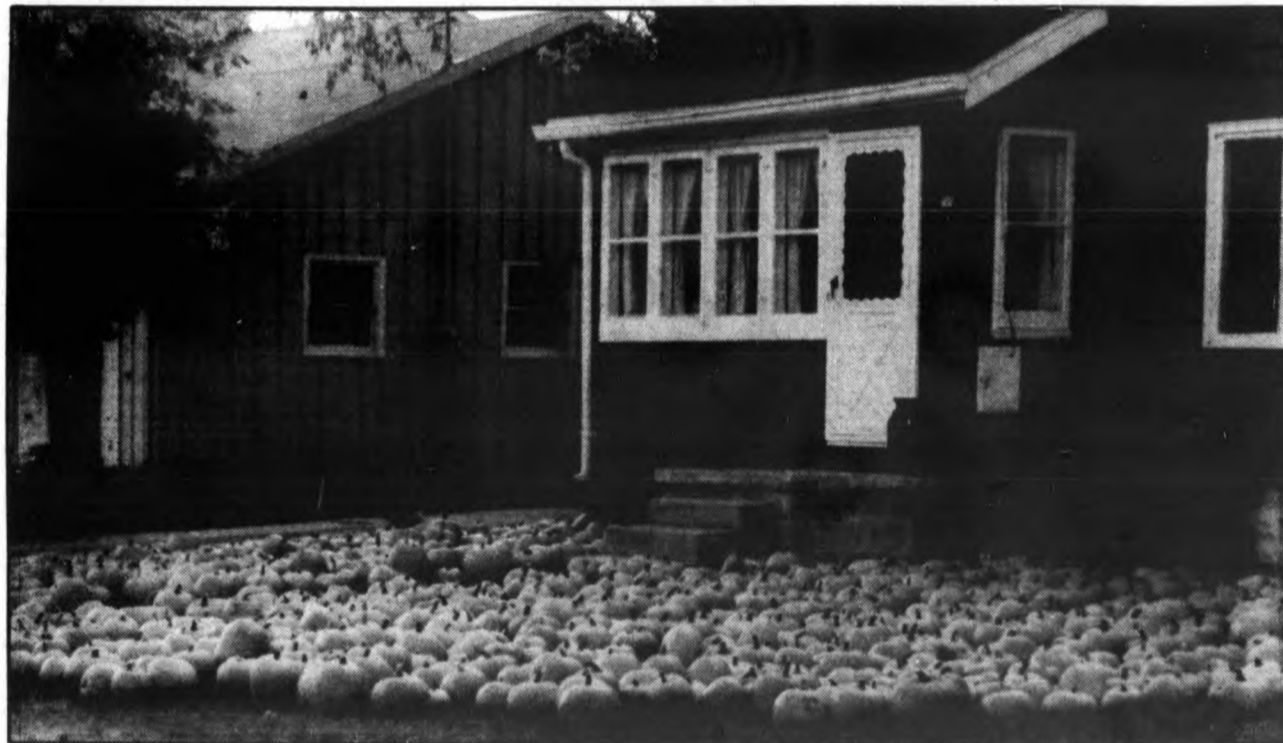

In East Michigan, special attractions with an autumn theme include guided and self-guided color tours, Gladwin County, September 30; Fall Color Tour, Houghton Lake, October 13, and a Fall Color Train Excursion, Bay City to Grayling, October 13.

West Michigan fall events include a Viking Color Festival, Cadillac, September 29-October 7; Oktoberfest, Kalamazoo College, October 5-6; Red Flannel Festival, Cedar Springs, October 6; Heritage Hill Home Tour, Grand Rapids, October

6-7; Color Tour/Art Festival, Frankfort, October 6-14, and an Apple Festival, Bangor, October 11-15, and Charlevoix, October 14.

Upper Peninsula attractions are an Ethnic Food Festival, Escanaba, October 6; Fall Art Fest, Dee Stadium, Houghton, October 6; Annual Home Tour, Iron River, October 7; Pumpkin Fest, Bessemer, October 13, and Arts and Crafts Show, Town Hall, L'Anse, October 8-13.

A number of scenic color routes for motorists in each region are featured in "Autumn in Michigan," a free guide available from the Michigan Travel Bureau. Copies may be requested by calling toll-free 1-800-292-2520 or by writing to the Bureau at P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, MI 48909.

Area hospice offers shelter for ill

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

Webster defines it as a shelter for travelers. Although the characteristics have changed somewhat during the recent years, a Hospice has maintained its same meaning. Today, it is an organization that provides emotional and physical shelter for those who are dying from a terminal illness.

Janet Gramlich, director of the Clinton County Hospice, recently gave an overview of the program to the St. Johns Exchange Club. In her presentation she underscored the necessity of such a program for both the terminally ill person and their family.

"Hospice is a program of support and care designed to maintain the quality of life for terminally ill persons and their families," she said. "Its goal is to provide an alternative approach to living; to meet the physical, social, emotional, spiritual and practical needs of the person and their family."

According to Gramlich, a team made up of a physician, nurse, clergy and trained volunteers provide assistance to the primarily home-based family, lending their support through the final stage of life. This support continues through and beyond the grief process.

The program allows the terminally ill person to spend his remaining life in familiar home surroundings. A physician is available to provide pain and symptom relief medications during the period, as well as lead overall medical supervision. The nurse is responsible for making the assessments vital to the patient's care, while guiding and supporting the terminally ill person and family members through the final stages of life.

Several clergymen have also made themselves available to provide spiritual counseling and support to the patient and family.

The trained volunteers, Clinton County has 70, also provide support and prove to be a valuable asset to the patient, Gramlich said. Lawyers, hair dressers and other professionals volunteer to perform a wide range of services for both the patient and the family.

The volunteers undergo a training process that not only assesses their feelings and sensitivity towards the terminally ill, but also provides them with the ability to offer guidance to the dying person and his family, she said. The volunteer coordinates his program of assistance with other Hospice team members in order to maintain a continuity of care for the patient and family.

Gramlich added that family members also play a major role in helping the dying individual to remain encouraged about the remainder of time they have.

"Above all else, the patient is encouraged to remain an active participant in life, both at home and socially," she said. "His needs are considered foremost."

The success of Hospices all around the nation have led to an added interest in the organization as a whole. More and more people are aware of the program, with more and more people volunteering time and money to make their local program a success. Most programs rely on fund-raising, memorial gifts, private donations or fees to keep the program funded.

Gramlich said that medical services traditionally covered by insurance are also covered when required for a Hospice care patient. Recent legislation will also provide Medicare reimbursement for Hospice services.

The Hospice for Clinton County is sponsored by Clinton Memorial Hospital Home Health Services. For more information, call 224-6881; or the DeWitt Medical Center at 669-8302.

Grand Chapter to hold session

The Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of Michigan, will once again hold its Annual Session on Oct. 9, 10 and 11, at the Wing's Stadium in Kalamazoo. This year will mark the 118th Session of the oldest Grand Chapter in the World.

The Order of the Eastern Star is the largest fraternal organization in the world, to which both men and women can belong, and is composed of close to 80,000 members in Michigan, with an approximate three million members worldwide.

This 118th Convention, entitled the "Circle of Love" session, will host about 4,000 Eastern Star members from Michigan and other jurisdictions throughout the United States and Canada.

Loyal service and loving dedication of these members, make it possible for the Grand Chapter to disburse in excess of $145,000 yearly for its charitable work, and to many other charities on a local level throughout the state.

Mrs. Katherine Erb, the Worthy Grand Matron, is from Livonia, Michigan, and George S. Garey, the Worthy Grand Patron, is from the Chapter of Acme, Michigan. They will be presiding over this 118th session.

There are six chapters in Clinton County and each chapter will be sending delegates to this convention.

Oktoberfest to be held

The history of the Most Holy Trinity Parish Oktoberfest began in 1980, just one year prior to the 100th anniversary of Most Holy Trinity Parish in Fowler. The parish decided to celebrate the centennial in a very big way. A central planning committee was formed and from there the ideas and enthusiasm began to grow rapidly. After much consideration, it was decided to have two celebrations. The first was to be the annual parish festival with its own parade and theme. It was held in August, 1980.

The second celebration was a special mass on Trinity Sunday. This was attended by the Bishop of the Diocese and 63 priests, brothers, and nuns who were originally from or had served at Most Holy Trinity Parish. A dinner followed the mass in the parish hall. The parish hall proved to be too small to accommodate the entire parish family for the occasion. This prompted a member of the Centennial Planning Committee to suggest that an Oktoberfest be held so the entire parish could celebrate as a family under one roof. An Oktoberfest Planning Committee was formed and once again the enthusiasm began to grow. A theme was adopted, "We Walk By Faith and Dance For Joy."

On October 8, 1981, the plans were pulled together. A tent was secured in the parish parking lot and that same evening many parishioners brought their tools and began to work on building a wooden dance floor. Another group gathered tables, and yet another group began the task of decorating and creating a festive atmosphere.

Finally, the big night arrived and the celebration was ready to begin. Youth Night was held Friday night and on Saturday, Adult Night began with a 4:30 Polka Mass.

The overwhelming success of the first Oktoberfest prompted a second, third, and now the fourth.

If you're looking for lots of entertainment and good fun, make sure you visit Most Holy Trinity's Oktoberfest in Fowler. Youth Night is October 5 from 9:00 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. and Adult Night is October 6 with a Polka Mass at 4:30 p.m. and dancing from 6:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. See you in Fowler!

Citrus department clears fruit disease

The Florida Department of Citrus today said consumers have nothing to fear as a result of the discovery of citrus canker disease in nursery trees.

"There is absolutely no way for this plant disease to affect either animals or humans," said Dr. Bernie Lester, executive director of the department. "It is a disease of plant life only," he emphasized.

Scientific support for the statement also comes from Dr. Ernest Du Charme, retired plant pathologist, and recognized in the scientific community as the leading authority on this subject. He has spent years studying the disease in South America and other countries where it exists.

Drs. Du Charme and Lester recently conducted a national press conference to allay fears consumers may have about purchasing citrus fruits.

"Harvesting of the new crop will begin in just a few weeks," according to Dr. Lester, "and we expect to ship ample supplies of quality Florida fruit to meet market demand."

Nursery trees are citrus trees less than 18 months old which are not yet of sufficient age to produce fruit commercially. It takes about five years for a citrus tree to produce fruit in commercially-significant quantities.

Worm before freshening with Kent Cattle and Sheep Wormer for high production all through lactation.

If you worm each cow just before she freshens, milk flow can peak earlier, peak high, and stay higher all the way to drying off.

Worm spring and fall with Kent Dairy Wormer to keep reinfestation under control.

Worming your entire herd at one time with Kent Dairy Wormer in the spring, when worm egg production is highest, will help reduce worm populations throughout the entire year.

Deworming a second time in the fall will help control internal parasites that mature from summer contamination.

Kent Dairy Wormer is easy to use. Just feed it for six consecutive days. It can be fed to all dry or lactating dairy animals as well as growing stock. It's palatable, and no milk withdrawal is required.

Quackgrass controllable for fall

By following a properly managed weed control program and employing a recently issued herbicide use recommendation, area dairy and cattle producers can effectively and economically rid sod acres of quackgrass this fall, and improve the quality of their forage, according to a local specialist.

Using a three-step approach and applying Roundup herbicide at a reduced application rate of 1 quart/acre, Gratiot County livestock producers can control quackgrass, which is a serious competitor in most forage crops, especially alfalfa, says Dennis Fleming of Anderson Grand River in Middleton. By doing so, they'll also improve palatability and raise protein content of their forage, he adds.

For starters, producers should cut their alfalfa crop in mid to late August, he points out. "This allows sufficient time for quackgrass plants, which grow rapidly in fall weather conditions, to re-emerge and reach the desired height for treatment with Roundup," Fleming explains. "Growers should treat this tough perennial when it is 8 to 12 inches tall."

In the past, farmers were hesitant to treat quackgrass with Roundup because of the high cost associated with the 2 quart/acre rate. The new one quart recommendation, however, now cuts application costs in half, making it more affordable to treat quackgrass in the fall. This rate is possible due to recent advancements in Low Rate Technology (LRT).

"The second step in the program is to apply 1 quart/acre of Roundup using LRT, a concept involving low water volumes, slight application equipment modifications and the addition of a non-ionic surfactant to the spray mix," the dealer explains.

Five to 10 gallons/acre of water carrier, for example, produces an enhanced droplet, improving the performance of a translocating herbicide like Roundup. And low volume spray tips such as flat fan nozzles are recommended over large flood jets because they ensure more thorough spray coverage, he says. "These nozzles should be spaced 20 to 30 inches apart, and boom-height adjusted to achieve a 30 to 50 percent spray overlap at the top of the weed canopy," he advises.

Herbicide wetting and overall control is further enhanced, he adds, when an additional surfactant is used. If the surfactant has more than 50 percent active ingredient, growers should use 2 quarts for 100 gallons of spray solution, he advises. If surfactant contains less than 50 percent active ingredient, it should be added at the rate of 4 quarts/100 gallons.

As a final step, a deep tillage operation a few weeks after Roundup treatment will ensure optimum weed control and facilitate seedbed preparation for next year. "There should be no fall tillage for three days following herbicide application," he says. "Then, a single pass with a moldboard plow will control the alfalfa and help create a mellow seedbed for spring planting."

With this program, area livestock producers have a viable alternative to traditional control methods, which usually involve multiple tillage and incorporations of atrazine. "An atrazine program severely limits a farmer's cropping options due to the residual carryover of the herbicide," the specialist says. "Because of the sensitivity of alfalfa to atrazine, many growers are forced to grow corn three years consecutively at a time when they'd prefer to grow forage to meet their livestock feeding needs."

These carryover problems are eliminated with Roundup, a systemic herbicide that translocates throughout emerged quackgrass into its rhizome network, controlling both above and below ground growth, he notes. "Equally important, Roundup, unlike atrazine, has no residual effect on the soil, leaving a farmer's cropping options open."

Through this programmed approach, producers can economically control quackgrass and improve the overall quality of their forage, while still maintaining maximum cropping options. And by treating quackgrass in the fall, they'll have more time to devote to other areas of their farming operation in the spring, the dealer concludes.

Carryover soybean stocks decrease

Carryover soybean stocks in Michigan on September 1, 1984 totaled nearly 1.8 million bushels. This is 46 percent below carryover stocks last year, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Farmers held 38 percent of the soybeans in storage compared to 54 percent a year ago. Disappearance since June totaled 3.6 million bushels compared to 6.7 million bushels for the comparable period a year ago.

Nationally, the September 1, 1984 carryover of old crop soybeans into the 1984-85 marketing year totaled 175 million bushels. This is 49 percent below last year and 31 percent below September 1, 1982. Soybeans stored on-farms totaled 68.3 million bushels, 42 percent below last year. On-farm stocks accounted for 39 percent of the soybeans stored in all positions.

Proper fruit storage encouraged

You can enjoy the delights of fresh pumpkins and winter squash long after you put the garden to bed for the winter if you store the fruits properly.

"Squash, in particular, can be enjoyed throughout the New Year holidays if you harvest it carefully," says Lee Taylor, Extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. "The vegetables must be fully mature and without bruises and, most importantly, they must be picked with the stem left on. They should be harvested before the first heavy frost, though a light frost will do no harm."

A hard frost will damage the hard shells of the fruits so molds, bacteria and other spoilage organisms can get a foothold.

The easiest way to tell if a squash is fully ripe is to look at its groundspot, the discolored area on the fruit where it rests on the ground. If the squash has reached maturity without being moved, its groundspot should be very pale or yellow compared with the full, rich color of the rest of the fruit. If the skin of the squash can be punctured with a fingernail, the fruit is definitely not mature enough to store.

Once picked, check the fruits for bruises and other blemishes, and store only the best. The best environment for storage of these vegetables is an area with temperatures ranging from 50 to 58 degrees F and low humidity. Store squash and pumpkins on open shelves no more than one or two layers deep so air can circulate freely around them.

"Pumpkins can be stored for two to three months and winter squash for three to six months," Taylor says. "Though the vegetables will store for this long, they may not taste as good at the end of the storage period as they do earlier. The fruit should be tasted occasionally to see if the flavor is deteriorating."

The best varieties of squash to grow for storage are the smaller ones, such as the butternut squashes, because they are more likely to mature. Spaghetti squash also stores well. The larger varieties may not mature enough for storage, even though they are fine for eating when harvested and for a few weeks after harvest.

In northern climates like Michigan's, most squash take the full season to ripen. If the fruits at the ends of the vines are still small and green by mid-August, pick them off so the plants can devote more nutrients to the fruits that will mature.

Many people believe odd numbers are "luckier" than even ones.

Advantages increase for green crop

There are many advantages and few disadvantages to using a green manure crop for your garden.

"Green manure" refers to a grain or grass crop, usually rye, which is planted in the garden in the fall and plowed under in the spring. This practice adds nutrients and organic material to the soil.

"The best grain to use for this purpose is rye," says Lee Taylor, Extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. "If it is planted by early September, it should get tall enough to help prevent the erosion that often occurs when a garden is left bare during the winter."

The rye will grow quickly in the spring, so it will help draw moisture out of the soil and make it possible to begin working the garden earlier.

The recommended method for planting in small gardens is to disk or work the ground, then broadcast the seed, then work the soil again. Mulches, such as leaves, can be worked into the ground at the same time or left in a thin layer on the surface. When it begins to grow, the rye may even help to hold the leaves in place and keep them from blowing off of your garden.

"You don't have to wait until the garden is all cleaned up to plant the rye," Taylor says. "You can sow it in the areas surrounding such late crops, as potatoes, squash, carrots and Brussels sprouts."

In the spring, when the rye is 6 inches or so in height, it can be tilled under. If it gets too tall, Taylor suggests mowing it with a lawn mower before turning it under. The crop does not have to be tilled under all at once. The areas where early vegetables are to be planted can be turned early while the other areas are left to grow.

The only real problem with this method of soil enrichment is that rye may be difficult to find. There is some cost involved in purchasing the seed, too. Also, the rye grows so quickly in the spring that it can get uncontrollably tall. A timely mowing or hand cutting should prevent this.

Overall, using green manure is an efficient way to maintain and improve garden soil. The few drawbacks are outweighed by its beneficial effects on the soil.

Michigan herds produce less milk

Dairy herds in Michigan produced 451 million pounds of milk during August, down 5 percent from one year ago, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Milk cow numbers averaged 392,000 head, unchanged from July but down 13,000 from a year earlier. Milk output averaged 1,150 pounds, per cow, down 25 pounds from a year ago. Reduced grain feeding rates and poor pasture conditions due to dry August weather (especially in southern Michigan) were factors in the lower milk per cow.

The value of milk sold in Michigan during August averaged $13.10 per hundredweight (cwt.), down 20 cents from a year earlier. This price reflects the total value of milk at the dairy plant or receiving station before deductions are made for hauling and dairy assessment charges. Slaughter cow prices averaged $38.50 per cwt., up slightly from a year earlier. Slaughter cow prices have declined by almost 10 percent since last spring.

Nationally, milk production during August totalled 11.2 billion pounds, down 4 percent from a year earlier. Milk production for the first 8 months of 1984 was down 2 percent from the comparable 1983 period. Production per cow averaged 1,038 pounds during August, 13 pounds below a year ago. Milk cow numbers averaged 10.8 million head during August, down 3 percent from a year earlier. August milk production was below the previous year's level in 31 of the 33 states preparing monthly estimates. Only California showed an increase.

Dairy manufacturing plants in Michigan produced 2.1 million pounds of butter during July, down 38 percent from a year earlier. This was the lowest monthly butter production in Michigan since November 1980. American cheese production in Michigan, at 1.5 million was down 22 percent from a year ago. Ice cream output, at 4.1 million gallons, was up 12 percent. Michigan placed 7th nationally in ice cream production during July.

Service announce rates

Commercial elevators in Michigan held 700,000 hundredweight (cwt.) of dry beans in storage as of August 31, 1984. This estimate of dry beans in commercial storages is issued by the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. The quantity in elevators includes 620,000 cwt. of Navy beans and 80,000 cwt. of all other classes combined. An estimate of the quantity of dry beans held on farms is not included in this report.

An annual report of carryover stocks for dry beans as of August 31 was requested by the Grain and Agri-Dealers Advisory Committee and authorized by Dr. Paul Kindinger, director, Michigan Department of Agriculture. Dry bean stocks data for this report was tabulated from data supplied by elevator operators on the Grain Dealers Daily Position Report form filed with the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Future estimates of carryover stocks for dry beans will be issued in conjunction with the regular USDA September soybean stocks report.

WHAT A TREAT! Both sessions of the kindergarten class at Swegles Elementary School were given a special treat last week when Earl and Joanne Swindlehurst brought in their cider press to show the children exactly how cider is made.

Students observe cider press workings

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

It was perhaps the most "pressing" day the kindergarteners have had since starting school a month ago. It wasn't because of the amount of work they had to do either. In fact, this kind of school work was fun.

On Wednesday, Sept. 26, the kindergarten students at Swegles Elementary School were given a special treat. Earl and Joann Swindlehurst, of St. Johns, brought in their old-fashioned cider press and a couple of bushels of apples and squeezed their way to several gallons of fresh apple cider.

The Swindlehursts explained the apple press operation by first placing the apples in the top of the wooden press and turning a large device. The juice from the apples then seeped out the bottom of the press as a room full of five year olds stood by and watched. Removing a pail-like fixture from the machine, Joann then poured the juice into several containers, using a cloth as a screen to collect any loose apple pieces.

Mrs. Jean Gibson, teacher of the class, took the filled containers and poured each of the children a glass of freshly squeezed apple cider. Donuts were also served to complete the perfect fall day.

The event came as a close to a fruit unit the children had been studying the past several weeks. According to Gibson, the class had been identifying and discussing the way many fruits grow. Other fruits included in the unit were: coconuts, figs, dates, avocados, bananas, raisins, prunes, dried apricots, pears, pineapples, cactus pears, peaches, nectarines, kiwi, grapes and lemon-lime ade.

St. Johns lose to Ionia Bulldogs

The distance to Ionia from St. Johns is only 25 miles, but after Friday night the trip must have seemed like 50 for the St. Johns Redwings after dragging themselves back from Bulldog town, victimized 14-0. The loss followed last week's spectacular win over Alma, 26-0 on the home turf.

Ionia who came into the game as a league favorite surprised no one in the Ionia crowd as they saw their Bulldogs shut down the explosive Redwing offense to a zero on the scoreboard. St. Johns was led in rushing by running back Scott Nelson who had to settle for a mere 56 yards in 14 carries.

St. Johns now levels their league record out to 1-1 while Ionia maintains their league supremacy with a perfect 2-0.

Butterfingers seemed to have plagued the Redwing running game all night as they turned the pigskin over eight times, six on fumbles. Bulldog offensive power, backed by strong defensive effort, told the game's story.

Ionia took a first quarter lead on a one-yard scamper by quarterback Jack Skoog, followed by the traditional extra point boot. Then in the final frame, the Bulldogs iced the cake with another touchdown, this time with less than 7 minutes to play, on a 27 yard run by fullback Terry Linn. Todd Miller delivered the extra point through the uprights to seal the 14-0 shutout win for the Bulldogs.

Coach Joe Gonzales and his proud crew of Redwings will be putting the Ionia encounter behind this Friday as they brace themselves for their traditional rivalry with Coach Russ Pope's unpredictable Ovid-Elsie Marauders. The game will be at Ovid-Elsie.

Dealer's Choice featured

Over 250 top race drivers from throughout the midwest will challenge the world's fastest 3/8 mile paved oval, October 6 and 7, during the running of the 6th Annual "Dealer's Choice" at the Kalamazoo Speedway. Over $30,000 in prize money awaits the top late model, sportsman, street stock and mini-champ competitors.

On Saturday, the activities begin at noon with warm-ups; time trials at 3:00 p.m.; and the first of several preliminary events set for 6:00 p.m. A giant party for both the competitors and fans will take place after Saturday's races. Sunday, there will be over 300 laps of feature racing starting at 1:00 p.m.

PASS INTERCEPTION BY WOLFPACK PUTS SCARE INTO EAGLES CROWD- It looked apparent from the early goings that Laingsburg might walk away from Friday night's game at Fowler with an upset win over the Eagles by virtue of this interception by Tom Castillo of Laingsburg. Fowler's Dennis Fox (24) puts the stop on him as Eagles Gary Thelen (72) comes to his aid on the play. Laingsburg followed with a field goal to take their early 9-0 first quarter lead. Photos and game coverage by Harold Schmaltz, CCN.

Many prominent drivers have already entered including Indiana veteran Denny Nyari, who's won more races (since 1980) than any other driver in the United States. Entries from our area include John Houser of St. Johns, Gary Fedewa of Lansing, Jim Aldrich of Ovid, and a number of Owosso and Spartan Speedway drivers.

The average American uses about 28 pounds of soap and detergents a year.

Girls win against Ionia b-ball team

The St. Johns girls' basketball team recently won a game against the Ionia girls after taking the lead early in the first quarter and ending with a score of 50-43.

Brenda Eiseler took the lead for the girls scoring 22 points in the game. She also had 17 rebounds and three steals.

Pam Sehlke followed closely behind with a score of 13. She also had four assists and three steals.

Lisa Thelen had five assists in six and a half minutes. Thelen also suffered an ankle injury that has possibly sidelined her for Tuesday's game against Ovid-Elsie.

The St. Johns girls' overall record stands at 6-1. In the Mid-Michigan B conference, they stand at 2-0. O-E is also 2-0 in the conference.

in the news

Michigan State University's Kathy Teichert of St. Johns finished second to Sarah Dekraay of Indiana in MSU's 11th Annual Golf Invitational held September 21-22. Teichert finished two under the leader with rounds of 70-73-83-226. After nine rounds, Teichert's average is 77.3.

On the back nine, Teichert shot a 31 on her first 18 holes in tourney to establish a women's record on the Forest Akers West Course.

Advanced Fire
named champs

Where there's smoke, there's Advanced Fire Protection.

The St. Johns-based women's softball team, which plays out of the Delta Township Parks & Recreation Union Division, smoked five consecutive opponents over the Labor Day weekend and claimed the four-state Class B regional championship.

"Our goal from the beginning of the year was to make it to the state finals," said Mike Nunn, proprietor of Advanced Fire and sixth-year coach of the team. "This was just an added plus for us."

"This team was really up and down all year," he added. "We'd play good ball and then we'd play bad ball. But we peaked and played our best ball of the season at the most opportune time."

Advanced Fire started its quest to the regional title in dramatic fashion. Trailing 4-0 to Sports Source, the Class B state champs from Milwaukee, Wis., the hometowners rallied for four runs in the sixth inning to tie the game and then won it in the seventh on Brenda Eiseler's solo home run.

Game 2 was also close, with Advanced edging its way past The Brass Door of Ohio, 3-1. Linda (Shilling) Roesner, who picked up victories in all five games, enjoyed her best outing of the tournament in that contest.

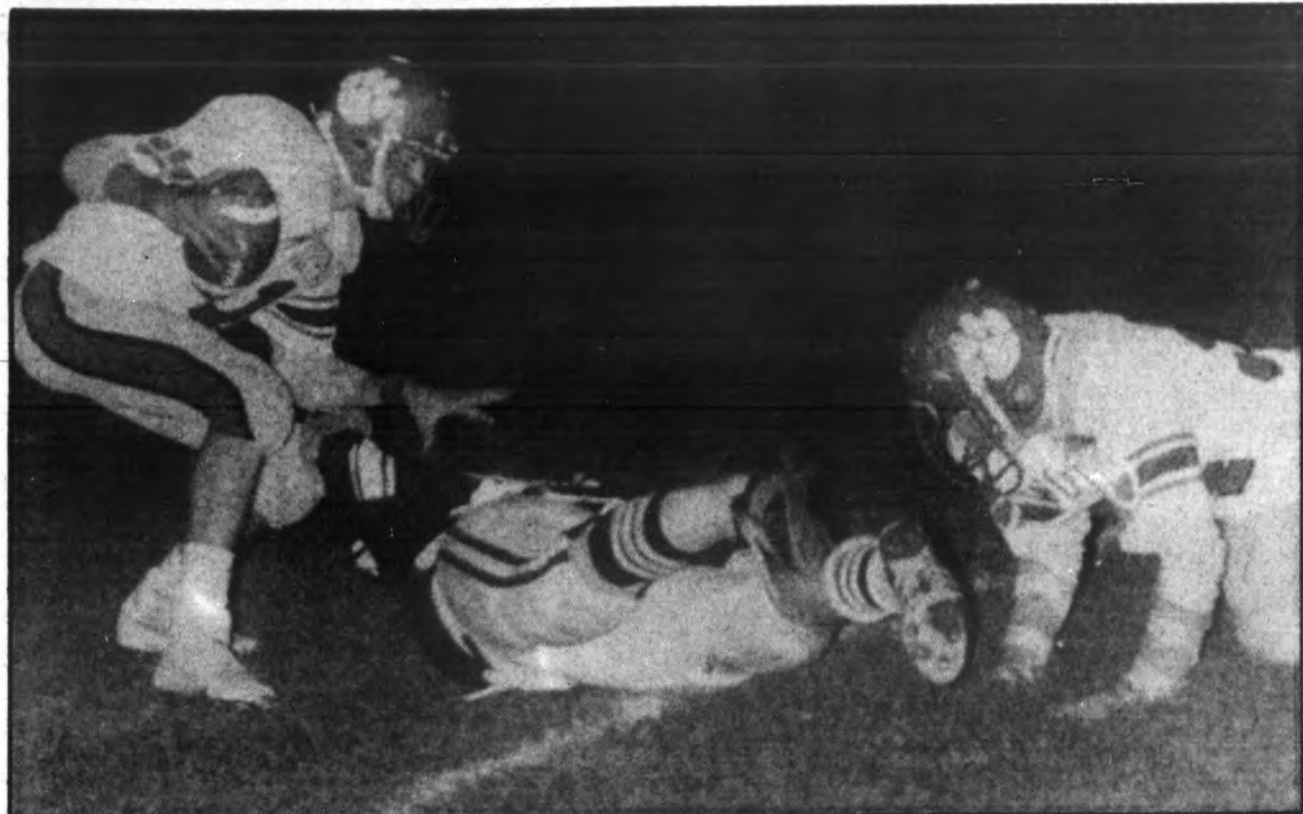

Games 3 and 4 were blowouts. After whipping Clyne's Funeral Home of Metro Detroit, 17-8, Advanced Fire blazed past the Night Riders of Pontiac, Mich., 19-6.

Nunn's squad combined for six home runs and 46 hits in those two games. Eiseler, Linda Sperry, Sue Pearsall and Becki Woodhams hit round-trippers in Game 3, and Roesner and Eiseler circled the bases in Game 4.

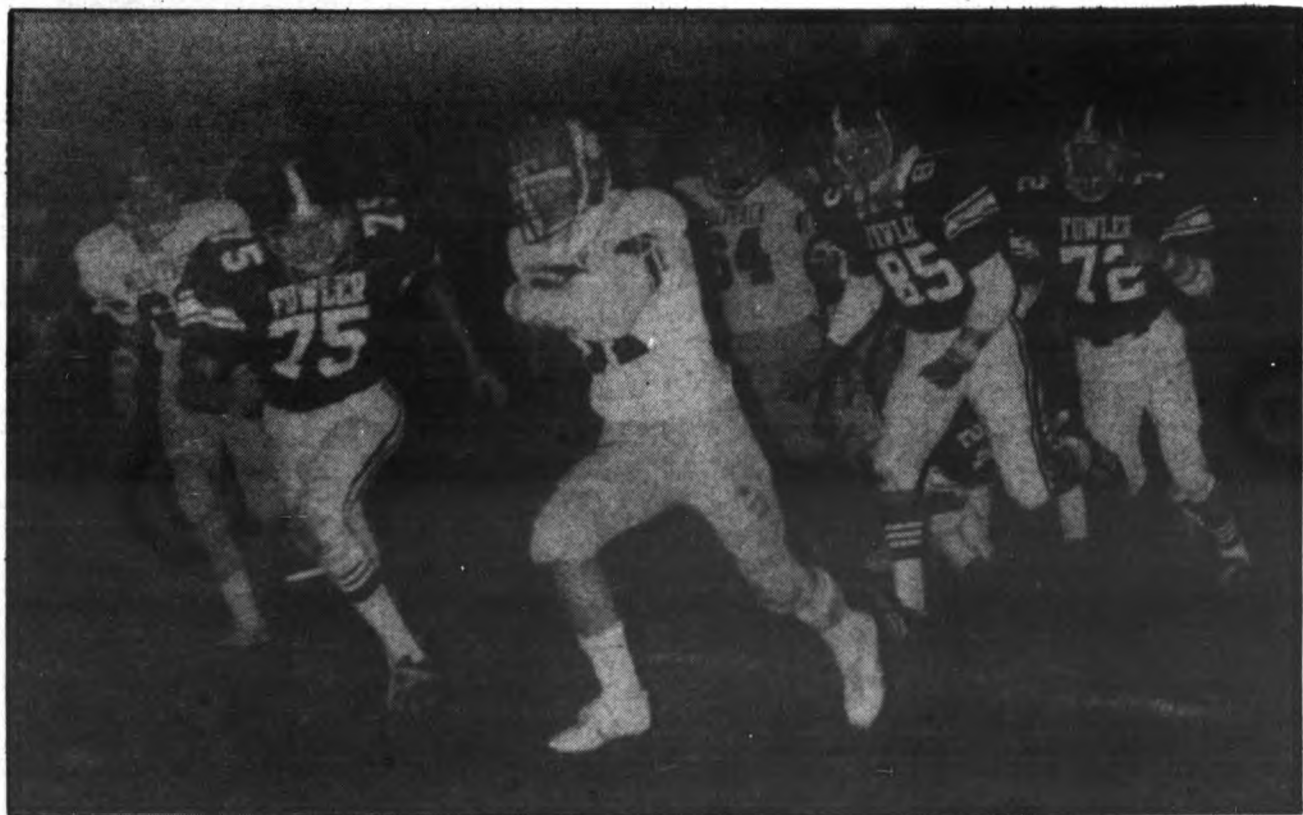

The championship game called for more heroics. This time Advanced Fire trailed 2-0 in the sixth, and came back to defeat the Night Riders 6-2.

Run-scoring hits by Eiseler, Lori Henning and Roesner and two RBIs by Woodhams sparked the WOLFPACK'S LAST OFFENSIVE DRIVE STYMIED BY ALERT FOWLER DEFENSES- An alert Fowler defender stops a last ditch scoring attempt here by the upset-mind Laingsburg Wolfpack in breaking up a pass play with 1:12 left in the first half with this flying tackle. Laingsburg led 9-8 and hoped to cushion their lead before the halftime break. Fowler went on to win the CMAC rivalry, 14-9. Photos and game coverage by Harold Schmaltz, CCN.

LAINGSBURG TAKES EARLY LEAD ON SHAW'S TD RUN- Scott Shaw scampers to an early Wolfpack touchdown in Friday night's crucial contest between the Fowler Eagles and the visiting Laingsburg Wolfpack. Later in the same quarter, Laingsburg continued their offensive supremacy over the stunned Fowler Eagles with a 23-yard field goal by Tom Castillo. His boot through the uprights boosted the Wolfpack lead to 9-0. A brilliant fourth quarter effort by Coach Steve Spicer's crew pulled out the victory for the Eagles, winning by a close margin, 14-9. Bill Payne (75) of Fowler makes a valiant effort here to stop Scott's scoring drive here in the photo. Other Eagles in pursuit were: Joe Bertram (85) and Gary Thelen (72). Bertram took the eventual winning touchdown pass from quarterback Gary Simon to provide the margin for the state's 7th ranked class D team.

Football contest winner announced

Last week's lucky CCN Football Contest winner took the prize on only two misses, barely nosing out nine others who missed three. Winner of $20 last week was Clare Townsend, Jr. of 640 E. Harrison Road, Alma.

Townsend apparently had some insight into a couple of major college football upsets as he picked Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt as winners. Most everyone else picked Clemson and Alabama as probable winners. The two he missed were the games between San Jose State-California and Fulton-P-W. Other than those, he was perfect.

The other entries barely missing were: Jamie Girlliam of St. Johns; Crystal Sawyer of St. Johns; Donald Hyler of St. Johns; Virginia Hatta of Ovid; Sheila O'Grady of Hubbardston; Dave Thelen of Fowler; Chris Eberhard of St. Johns; Chuck Howe of Ovid and Billy Dailey of Hubbardston.

Better luck next time, folks.

"This was a team that possessed a lot of composure," Nunn beamed. "They never gave up. They're a scrappy ball team."

Members of the team were: Patty (Robinson) Malusek, Linda Sperry, Linda (Shilling) Roesner, Sally Buggs, Sue Pearsall, Becki Woodhams, Brenda Eiseler, Denise Henning, Lori Henning, Betsy Smith, Karen Schneider, Mary Murphy, Lisa Schafer, Connie Nunn and Pee Wee McGee.

Assisting Nunn with the coaching duties were Doug Woodhams and Mike Shilling.

GETTING A HORSE'S VIEW OF THE ACTION- Most people know what it's like to view the road from the hood of their own car, but few in the younger crowd have ever seen this view from a horse's standpoint. Although they didn't express themselves verbally, this team of horses named Candy and Julie, nevertheless, went through their paces Saturday afternoon with little or no complaint. Continuous wagon rides took place at Beck's Farm Market Friday and Saturday throughout adjoining fields near the farm market. The activity was accompanied by free cider and donut holes for everyone following the rides.

Some of the most interesting news in today's paper is found in the classified columns.

residents in other areas where pits are located complain that the SUP rules, especially dust abatement, are not adequately enforced.

Others spoke out about their concern for the safety of their children walking to and from school bus stops and the narrow road, which is 16 to 18 feet wide and tree lined. A concern for joggers, horse back riders and walkers was also expressed. Dust pollution, noise, property devaluation and wear-and-tear on the unimproved roads were also fears expressed among the residents.

Steinman said he will probably file an appeal to the circuit court.

In other zoning action, Commissioners approved a SUP for the for the business expansion of John and Carolyn Beck's Cider Mill on US-27.

Also, a SUP issued in June was amended. The permit, originally issued for June 1 to Sept. 1, was extended to Sept. 30, after migrant pickle farm owner Sydney Acre said his pickle harvest might extend beyond the 1st.

The DeWitt City Police made several arrests over the weekend, including five persons for the possession of marijuana. One adult, Kenneth Clark, 18, of DeWitt, was arrested Sept. 21, as well as four juveniles whose names are being withheld.

Todd Lesley Couzzins, of DeWitt, was also arrested for disorderly conduct on school grounds and two juveniles were arrested for curfew violation.

Todd Newman, 21, and Mike Shamp, 28, both of Charlotte, were arrested Friday night for possession of open alcohol in a motor vehicle. Both men were attending the DeWitt-Charlotte football game.

Rebecca Beckwith, 18, of DeWitt, was injured Friday evening after her motorcycle was struck by a car driven by Lesa Seida, 18, of DeWitt. Police reported that Beckwith was driving her motorcycle on Herbison Road, when Seida attempted to make a left hand turn onto DeWitt High School Drive and struck Beckwith. Seida was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

On Sept. 27, Dale Lawrence Hall, 23, of 1185 Primrose Lane, DeWitt, was arrested for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

The DeWitt Township Police are currently investigating a breaking and entering that occurred Sept. 24 at the home of Douglas Fedewa, of 215 Julie Drive. Fedewa reported that someone had broken into his storage shed and took a lawnmower and grill.

One woman was seriously injured Sept. 21 in an accident that occurred on Turner and Clark Roads. According to police, Edna Shaw, 38, of DeWitt, stopped her automobile at the cross street of Turner and Clark and then proceeded to cross Turner. The driver of a second car, Judy Koelsch, 38, of DeWitt, apparently did not see Shaw and struck her automobile. Shaw's car continued after the impact and struck a large rock.

Two subjects were arrested Sept. 15 after Deputy William French observed a vehicle parked in front of the Fowler Conservation Club. Upon further investigation, three subjects were found sleeping in the back seat of the automobile, and a door was found open on one of the buildings. Dep. French then found the two subjects inside the building. The two were arrested with the names being withheld as the warrants are still pending.

A rear garage door and the door into the residence was kicked open Sept. 9 to gain entry into the residence of Lester Gurden, Woodworth Road, Ovid. He reported that a small $30 calculator was taken, a man's Pulsar watch valued at $125, antique coins and approximately 100 pounds of steaks taken from the freezer.

Also missing from the residence is a two and a half year old silver miniature poodle. Total loss is estimated at approximately $570.

During the week 33 people were booked into the County Jail; twelve of them for drunken driving. Deputies handled a total of 90 complaints this week, some of which included: two loud parties, six larcenies, four breaking and enterings and six assists to other departments.

Well, That's Life

By Nancy

Only When You're Young!!

When my middle daughter moved out and into her own apartment 15 minutes away, I thought she had arrived and was perfectly happy. She had a good job, a car, and we visited as often as we could. We always managed to chat on the phone once a day to keep up with each other's happenings.

During one of our chats, she suddenly informed me she didn't like her job, her apartment, or living in the big city. The silence was deafening, because I wasn't going to ask the obvious question, so she quickly shared her plan of action. She was going to move to "where else", THE BEACH.

In order to do this with her girl friend, it was going to take time, money, and a good job. WRONG!! She had given her notice that day and was going to work two weeks and then D-day. By the time she paid the necessary bills and rented the U-Haul, you guessed it, no money. She knew absolutely no one in that area, so there was no one to count on or lend a helping hand.

Need I tell you the nightmares that plagued my body in the next couple of weeks. I kept thinking if she'd just do it my way, I would feel better about the big adventure. My way being: job, money, and later on. When I could see she was actually going through with this and not turning back, I panicked. The "what ifs" were engulfing my being.

On the scheduled Friday morning, I went to spend the day with her before her departure early the next morning. I was blessed with packing and loading the U-Haul, running last minute errands, and doing last minute laundry. I asked myself over and over why was I participating when this was not the way I wanted things to be. How could she just leave and abandon me like this?

Being an almost 20-year-old lady, she was doing her own thing in her own way and of course, she had every right. I might have done the same thing at that age, but I wasn't sure which highway led out of Ohio to the beach. As I had many times before, I reminded her of an old saying, "You can't sow your wild oats all week, go to church on Sunday, and pray for a crop failure." She never was thrilled with my pearly words of wisdom.

She did call the next evening, collect from a pay phone, to say they had arrived safely and all was well. She did have an apartment, but no utilities and of course, no phone. I wondered if the city police of the area would deliver messages? The next call, a week later, only informed me, she had found a job that wouldn't start for a month and she had $20.00 and a box of macaroni left.

I guess you could only handle this when you're young!!
That's life and this too shall pass...

St. Johns Musicale begins new season

Members of the St. Johns Morning Musicale enjoyed coffee and cider served by Esther Jacoby and Julia Thornton as they gathered at the home of Martha Lundy to begin the 1984-85 club season.

A resume of the years program was presented by Adele Jones. The theme being "Sweet Freedom's Song," a development of music in America.

Martha Lundy played two piano selections, Rachmaninoff's Eighteenth Variation from Rhapsodie on theme of Paganini and Nathaniel Dett's Juba Dance from the suite "In the Bottoms" which set the mood of early negro life in the south.

Rachmaninoff, although Russian born, escaped to this country in 1917 where he composed and performed for the better part of his life.

Nathaniel Dett was Negro of Canadian birth, but like Rachmaninoff came to the United States to live. Educated at Harvard and the Eastman School of Music, he became known for his musical talent receiving several honors for piano compositions and at one time studied under Nadia Boulanger in Paris. Later in life he volunteered for the U.S.O.

The program closed with the members singing "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Helen Lewis, president, announced the South Central District Meeting MFMC will be held Oct. 4th, at 9 a.m., at the Plymouth Congregational Church, Lansing.

The next club meeting will be held Oct. 11 at the home of Delia Anderson, on W. Colony Road, at 9:45 a.m.

YOU'LL FIND SAWINGS AT Beck & Hyde's

NO WEAK LINKS

John Deere has rugged, dependable chain saws for every woodcutting need

John Deere chain saws are built tough to handle woodcutting jobs quickly. And you can buy any model with confidence, because we don't cut corners on quality, even on our smallest saw.

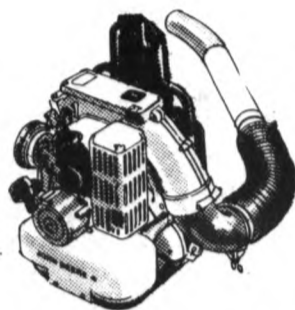

With 12 models — 27.9 to 78.6 cc's — available, there's a saw right for your particular needs... professional, casual or somewhere in between.

All models have a sprocket-nose guidebar — 12 to 27 inches long — for less friction, longer chain life. Deep-biting chisel or semichisel chain with built-in guard links to help prevent snagging. And a counterbalanced crankshaft/connecting rod for smooth operation. The adjustable automatic oiler has just two moving parts for easier maintenance.

The "V" and "EV" series saws also have an isolated engine that dampens vibration for more operating comfort. Plus a throttle-trigger interlock to guard against accidental operation.

See us today for a quality-built John Deere chain saw.

Power Blowers

Power blowers whisk away leaves, debris, light snow with no effort. Backpack or hand-held models are gasoline powered, easy to operate.
