Judgeship hotly contested

Voters make decision today

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

In a rather uncommon political situation, Clinton County's hottest local-level race this year is a non-partisan one; for the 65th District Judgeship.

The election for district judge pits incumbent Fred E. Lewis against Jeff Martlew, who has had a private practice in the DeWitt area for six years.

Experience has become one of the contest's big issues. "I campaign on the basis of the fact that he is unqualified besides having a law degree," says Lewis of Martlew.

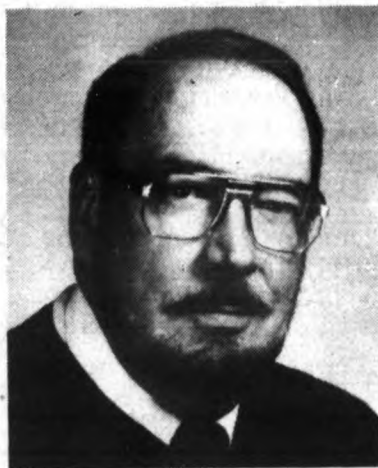

"I have been practicing law for 8 years and I've had hundreds of appearances in courts," says Martlew. Martlew adds that he has been appointed as a defense lawyer by Lewis in numerous court cases, and if he were unqualified, those appointments would not have been made.

"I don't think experience is the issue here," Martlew says. "I think it is his record, which has not been very good."

Martlew says that Lewis has been lenient on drunk driving, and that the average fine imposed on drunk drivers has been about $100 below state average. "This is a slap on the wrist approach to a serious problem," says Martlew. "The Judge is sending the message out that he doesn't think this is a serious thing."

Another figure Martlew uses to show that Lewis has had a lenient record on drunk driving is that Clinton County is 82nd of 83 counties in Michigan for the average fine on drunk driving, according to Michigan State Police. According to the same study, Clinton County is 73rd of the 83 Michigan Counties for persons jailed for drunk driving. Lewis denies the accuracy of this report, but the State Police stand by it, says Martlew.

"I don't just haul off and kick people around," Lewis says in defense of his record. "I take them and talk to them and try to straighten them out."

Judge Fred L. Lewis

Lewis says that he tries to look at comprehensive, long term results in his actions as a judge.

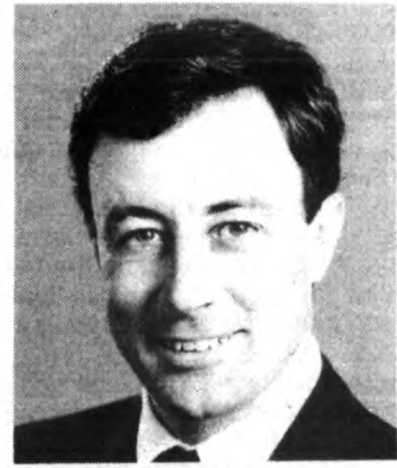

After the experience issue, one of the main questions of this campaign has been that of politics themselves.

"I look at the judgeship as something above regular politics," says Lewis. "What it now appears to be is a contest between politics and professionalism," he says of the campaign.

"I'd call painting the sign at the courthouse to look like his yard signs politics," says Martlew. "It's politics to deny that problems exist or that they can't be corrected." Martlew cites a backlog in the courts and several trials from 1983 that were just tried.

Lewis says that there are reasons for every problem with his court that Martlew cites. According to Lewis, some of these trials have taken so long to try because of difficulties on the prosecutor's level, those accused have jumped bond, or just plain problems with the system as it is currently set up.

On the issue of campaigning, Martlew says

Jeffrey Martlew

"I'm sure I have spent more time campaigning, but I work for myself, my own business." Martlew says that Lewis has cancelled all jury trials for the last part of October so that he could go out and campaign for himself.

"I guess I just resent a fairly new resident coming in with all this GM money and blowing me out of the water," says Lewis. According to Lewis, Martlew spent $10,000 on his campaign in the week before election day alone, and the money is probably coming from Martlew's father, who is a vice president of the Buick Division of General Motors in Flint.

The third big issue of the campaign for 65th District Judge has to be whether or not there should be two district judges. Lewis thinks there should be. "The hard cruel fact is that my court does 80% of the work in this county," says Lewis, whose court pre-tries all felonies and tries all civil cases involving complaints under $10,000 and all misdemeanors in Clinton County. "I am the bottleneck," says the judge. "It all goes through me, and that's enough to serve two circuit judges." The circuit judges take the felony and larger civil suits passing through Lewis' court and cover both Clinton and Gratiot Counties.

Martlew is against employing another circuit judge. "I don't think the present judge is giving us the full 40 hours a week," says Martlew. According to the challenger, Lewis is doing a much better job this year than last because he has to face re-election. He cites the fine-revenue from the 65th court to back up his statement. The total fine money for 1983 was $107,000. The fine money for 1984 just through September is $102,000, says Martlew.

Thanks, caperers

Dear Editor:

The Clinton Capers is presented every two years to raise funds for Clinton Memorial Hospital. These funds help to assure continued quality care for all who seek it.

This year it was our privilege to assist in this effort. On behalf of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary we would like to thank the 160 member cast and crew for their hours of dedicated effort. The show was fantastic and enjoyed by over 1500 ticket holders.

Thank you to the Patrons for their generous support and to the advertisers who have continued to participate in this effort.

It was a joy to see so many give so much time, effort and financial support to their community. To-date, the Capers has netted over $8,600.

We look forward to seeing all of you in 1986.

Judgeship

Martlew says that besides the reasons already given, a new judge would cost the residents of Clinton County over $100,000, not only in salary for himself, but for assistants, and then there would have to be renovations to the courthouse and fringe benefits for all the new employees.

While Martlew agrees that all of the issues already mentioned have been raised, he sees the campaign as basically having four points. "I want to strengthen law enforcement, save wasted tax dollars, improve the administration of the court, and restore communications with the prosecutors office," says Martlew.

"I feel there are solutions to a number of problems faced by the district court and I don't think those things are going to happen without a different judge," the district court hopeful continues. Martlew is supported by the Clinton County prosecuting attorney, both outgoing and incoming sheriffs, "and a whole lot of city, township, and village officials and police."

"I am on duty right down the line five days a week," says Judge Lewis. "I am of the fourth generation in this county and I know and love the people. I have thirty years of experience. I really care about them. That's why my signs say 'he cares.' I really do."

County has gifted group

I am writing to let you know about an organization in Clinton County known as the Clinton County Association for the Academically Talented. I helped found this group in 1976 so there would be a source of support for academically talented students and their families. We realize that about 5 percent of the school age children have academic potential that may not be realized in the regular classroom. This group helps families to know how to cope with the needs of academically talented children and also advocates locally and state-wide for appropriate education for all.

It is a wide-spread myth that gifted children will all succeed on their own. In reality, problems such as learning to hide or cover up intelligence, becoming a classroom behavior problem, or having feelings of loneliness or isolation are common. These problems are related to fears of being "different" in a society where conformity is rewarded.

The parents and friends of the academically talented in the C.C.A.A.T. provide valuable information and support which have helped many families in Clinton County over the years. The group has sent persons to conferences in Lansing, Grand Rapids and CMU to learn about giftedness and to learn techniques to help families of gifted children.

The C.C.A.A.T. has also helped the educational community over the years by sending educators to conferences, providing literature relating to giftedness, and ideas for classrooms. Parents have also gone into the classrooms and volunteered time making learning better for not only the highly academically talented, but for all students.

All persons who are interested in such a support group are invited to the meeting to be held on Monday, November 12 in the Capitol Federal Savings and Loan Building in St. Johns at 7:30 p.m. There will be free literature, informal question-answer time, and election of the 1984-85 officers.

We appreciate this space to inform you and your readership about this community organization.

Patsy Coffman, Past President,
C.C.A.A.T.

controversial campaign

Schuette under investigation

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

In the latest development of the hotly-contested 10th district United States Congress race, Republican challenger Bill Schuette has been asked to reveal the status of a Federal Election Commission investigation currently underway against his campaign.

The Federal Election Commission (FEC) is following up on a complaint by 10th Congressional District Democratic Committee Chairman Dale Sheltroun that the Schuette campaign has laundered money and misreported campaign contributions. Sheltroun, basing his charges on "private sources," originally filed the charges against Schuette's campaign in August, but has recently re-emphasized the issue in the days nearer the election.

The only person who is allowed to talk about the investigation under FEC rules is Schuette himself. "There is a confidentiality provision in the rules, and the only person who can waive confidentiality is the person being charged," said Fred Eiland, of the FEC in Washington D.C.

Eiland was responding to some confusion in the Schuette camp over whether details about the charges could be revealed. Details may be revealed only in written form, however.

Upon learning that comments about the investigation were permissible, Howard Erickson, Schuette campaign press secretary, stated that there was "no truth to the matter whatsoever," and that the charges made against Schuette were "groundless." When questioned as to why he thought the charges were made, Erickson replied "I don't know." Erickson adds that 10th District Democratic Chairman Sheltroun, who made the charges, "is nothing more than a flack for Don Albosta, and Albosta is running a campaign of desperation. He is trying to save his political life."

At the Albosta headquarters, Albosta campaign press secretary Pat Casey reserved comment, only saying "if they are being investigated, they should admit that they are."

Correction

In our October 30 edition, The Clinton County News incorrectly reported the amount of the grant for the Mid-Michigan District Health Department's Healthstyle program as $10,000. It should have read $100,000.

Do you know this person?

Halloween is supposed to be a fun time for children and it has been for our own children until last night (Oct. 31).

Our daughter, 12, and son, 8, were trick or treating in our neighborhood last night and were in the next block on their way home when a person grabbed our daughter's bag of candy and ran off.

This person, who apparently was never taught the difference between right and wrong, was 5'8" or 5'9" tall, wearing a dark blue jacket, Levis, gray lace up boots, and a rubber mummy mask. How can a 12 year old girl defend herself against someone like that? He had passed our children several times, probably waiting until their bags were full.

If anyone knows this person, please tell him for us, that we hope he remembers that bag of candy for a long long time, and especially how he got it.

I know we will.

Carla White, St. Johns

THE FEC INVESTIGATION, while being the latest as of this writing, hasn't been the only controversial, or questionable, event in the Schuette-Albosta campaign.

In an earlier issue of campaign tactics, Rep. Albosta, speaking at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon here in St. Johns, called on Schuette to stop the broadcast of a television ad saying "While serving on the House Agriculture Committee, Don Albosta missed every single vote. Every single one."

Albosta had voted by proxy in the votes questioned by Schuette, which occurred not for the House Agriculture Committee, but for a subcommittee of the Ag. Committee. "A vote by proxy is still a vote," said Albosta Press Secretary Casey. "Proxy votes are often used by congressmen so that they can be in two places at once."

After changing the wording in the television ad to make it clear that the subcommittee votes, not the votes for the general committee, were being examined, Schuette's ad was taken from the air several days later.

"We did not pull the ad," said Schuette's Press Secretary Erickson, "It ran the allotted time." Erickson stands by the wording of the ad. "We're not saying that he didn't vote, we're saying that he missed his vote," Erickson said, "What he did was he sold his vote."

Casey calls this type of advertising a "pattern on the part of Schuette's campaign to take an issue and really say what wasn't true." Another area Casey cites is campaign material stating that Albosta did not vote for Reagan's balanced budget program in 1982. According to Casey, Albosta voted for the initial bill, but then voted against it after the revisions were made and he found out which parts of the budget were going to be cut.

"The record is clear that the Schuette campaign has ignored the facts," says Casey. "It's a campaign based on evasion and misleading statements. 'You can't campaign that way and be held accountable.'"

"Everything we've spoken about has been factual and documented," replies Erickson. "Albosta called Dick Allen a liar in '80, he called Larry Reed a liar in '82, and now in 1984 he's calling Bill Schuette a liar. His tune hasn't changed but I guarantee the results are going to be different this time."

Area woman wins on "Price is Right"

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

It might have been a lucky penny, or it might have been just plain luck that recently helped a St. Johns barber-hairstylist realize one of the goals of her recent honeymoon trip to Los Angeles and hear "CHRIS GRENNELL, COME ON DOWN!" to appear on the Price is Right nationally syndicated game show.

Grennell and her husband, Mark, got up at six a.m. in order to stand in line for tickets to the game show at C.B.S. studios in Los Angeles while on their honeymoon recently. After standing in line for two hours, the couple finally got tickets, then had to be interviewed, "what you do and where you're from" type questions, says Grennell, and after being admitted to the show, never got to hear their names called.

But after going to a nearby farmer's market for some lunch, and being given a "lucky penny" from off the floor by a salesgirl there, Grennell's luck changed.

"We went back to the studio, and there was a page with some extra tickets, and he gave us two," says Grennell. After going through the whole process again, she was the fourth one called to "come on down" for the second Price is Right show she attended. "I was nervous," says Grennell. "I can't remember what I did, I was in a daze."

What Grennell did was win $1000 and a sewing machine worth over $750. "I had six chances to get up on stage," Grennell says of the show's method for winning prizes. Contestants can only get on stage after coming closer to the price of an item of merchandise than five other contestants in the same situation. That's how Grennell won the sewing machine.

CHRIS GRENNELL,
COME ON DOWN!

After she got up on stage, Grennell had to choose four products from a list of six that would sell for under $1.43. "I stopped after three items," says Grennell, "because I wasn't sure of the prices on the three things left, a tube of toothpaste, a box of candy, and a can of stew. Everyone in the audience was saying 'The stew! the stew!' But I stopped, because if you get one wrong you lose everything. If I had picked the stew, it was over $1.43 and I would have lost." So Grennell won $1,000 instead of $10,000.

"I could play the game so well just sitting at home watching it, but when you have to go up there and do the prices, it's so hard," says Grennell.

Winning the sewing machine is a bit ironic for Grennell. "My mom had her old one restored and everything and gave it to me for a shower gift," she says. "But I'm sure this one I won can do a heck of a lot more things." Grennell will receive her prizes in 6-8 weeks.

Of the way she got picked for the show, Grennell says "I just had a feeling." She did not have to audition to show how excited she would be, or anything else game show contestants are rumored to have to do. "It isn't rigged," says Grennell.

"Nobody knows who's going to get called down or when you're going to get called down or anything."

"He's a really nice guy," Grennell says of show host Bob Barker. Of Johnny Olsen, the Price is Right announcer, she says "he's crazy. He'll tell jokes and do these dances before the show to get the audience riled up."

Grennell will be appearing on Tuesday, November 13's airing of The Price is Right at 11 a.m. on WLNS, Channel 6. She's eager to watch herself, because she doesn't remember much about being on the show itself. "It's like you're not even there, you're just so excited," says Grennell.

Tenth dist. candidates speak on issues

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

These are the positions of each of the candidates, Democratic incumbent Don Albosta and Republican challenger Bill Schuette, for the 10th District Congressional seat on some of the issues as given at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon held here in St. Johns Oct. 18:

Reducing the Federal Deficit:

Albosta: Stop building "gold plated sacred cow weapons." Channel money to strong conventional forces. Stop the flow of money out of this country. "If you cut everything but social security and the defense budget, that's only 20% of our national budget."

Schuette: Reduce spending, adopt a constitutional amendment to eliminate waste, keep the economy rolling, and no tax increase.

National Defense:

Albosta: supports a strong defense, but not the high-technology weapons systems being currently developed. "The MX missile system is a waste." Puts emphasis on conventional forces.

Schuette: supports "proper prudent technology." "We need to bargain from a position of strength, never of weakness."

Abortion:

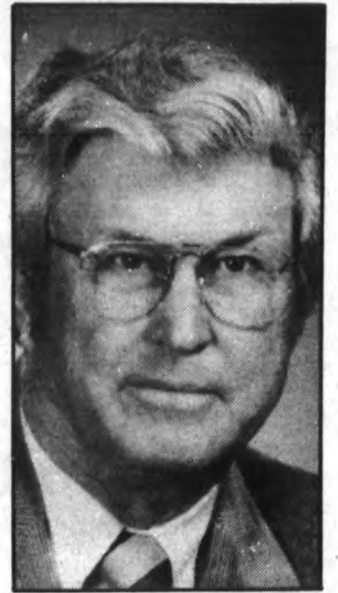

Albosta: against all abortion. Does not support any funding for abortion.

Schuette: adamantly opposed to abortion. Doesn't want state or federal dollars going to it, but individuals should be able to make choice.

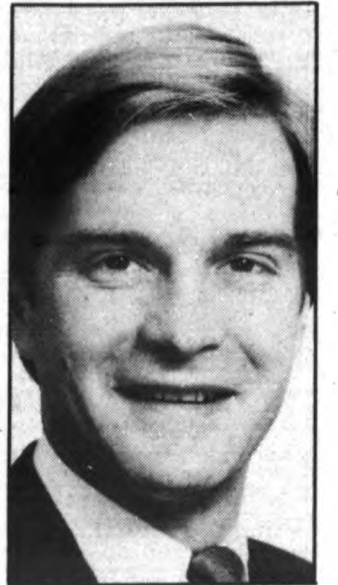

Agriculture:

Albosta: "The farmer is as well off today, or as bad off, as he was in the 30s, and that's about as low as you can get." Supports a two-price system for agricultural products, one for private use, another for commercial.

Schuette: follows the Reagan line. "One question are you better off today than you were four years ago? I think the answer you would have to make is 'yes.'"

Historic DeWitt

By Kenneth Coin

Clinton House hotel

In the earliest years of DeWitt's history, a major highway thru Michigan territory was routed by way of the Scott settlement. By the late 1830's, the Pontiac-Grand River Road (now Round Lake Road/Main Street) was carrying an enormous amount of traffic between Grand Rapids and the capital at Detroit. Captain Scott, who early on realized the responsibility as well as the profit in providing travelers with food and lodging, seemed in a perpetual state of building and expanding to keep abreast of the increase in traffic.

In 1841 (some sources date it at 1839), Scott began construction of a large wood-frame building on the southwest corner of Main and Bridge, adjacent to the Scott's large log home which had served for a time as a hotel. The new structure measured 44 x 64 feet with the longest dimension running north and south.

A sailor named Gerry has been credited as the actual builder, although many carpenters were probably required to fashion and place the massive beams, sills and timbers. Local oak and black walnut for the framework was sawn on the south side of the Looking Glass at the mill of Judge Hiram Wilcox. The siding and finishing lumber was hauled by ox teams from Flint. The hotel was completed by late 1841-early 1842. The framework sat atop a high stone wall basement. The first floor contained the principle rooms; parlors, dining rooms, and a large tap or bar-room. The second floor was reserved for guest rooms and apartments. The third floor was dominated by a 19 x 64 foot ballroom with adjoining coat rooms. In all, the hotel is recorded as containing 35 rooms plus "closets and commodious halls."

It is not recorded where Capt. Scott's design for the Clinton House originated. It was built in the then popular Greek revival style of architecture, accented by massive door trim of classical order. The architecturally unique feature of the hotel was the incorporation of four gables, opposed to the common practice of using only two. This unusual plan offered the third floor both light and ventilation from four directions.

From the time of its completion, the Clinton

House dominated as the visual and social centers of the young community. Organizations of all forms frequently used the ballroom as a meeting hall and the holidays were often celebrated here with dinner and dancing. When county court was in session, the hotel did double duty, lodging persons involved with county government plus often acting as one of Clinton County's unofficial courthouses.

Captain Scott's youngest son, Charles, became the actual owner of the inn as well as successor to most of the Captain's large land holdings within the village. When Charles Scott chose to sell the "Big House" (as it was locally known) in 1846, it was widely reported that his father was furious. A letter which survives from that period states, "Charles Scott has sold the Tavern to Milo Turner and the Captain is as mad as you ever see anything and swears that he will never leave the house till he is carried out."

Milo H. Turner, a developer of New Albany (south of the river) during the 1830's and 40's, retained the hotel for only a year before selling out to Nelson Alport (sometimes spelled Allport) of Lyons, Michigan. Alport, besides operating the hotel, opened a shoe factory in the basement level of the building where George Wells had formerly run a shoe shop. The federal census of 1850 lists eight shoemakers working in the shoe factory beneath the Clinton House, including Alport's son, Mortimer.

In 1853, the hotel was sold to David Olin who is more often noted as a builder than that of a hotel proprietor. Among his building credits is the old Baptist church on north Bridge Street (now Mrs. Ely's Collectables). It was during Olin's ownership that the popularity of the Clinton House as a hotel reached its peak. Several stage lines brought coaches of travelers into DeWitt daily and, adding to this, the temporary influxes caused by the business of the county government, the hotel found itself in constant demand. Much of this demand was, however, to come to a quick decline with the removal of the county seat to St. Johns in 1857.

Vets honored Nov. 11

Veterans Day 1984 marks the seventh anniversary of the return of the observance to November 11 and the tradition of honoring the unknown soldier at Arlington on the 11th Hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

From 1971 to 1977, Veterans Day was observed on the fourth Monday in October in compliance with a 1968 law that changed most national holidays to Mondays.

Believing, however, that the November 11 date held great significance for this country, Congress passed a law in 1977 which returned the holiday to November 11. The law became effective in 1978, the sixtieth anniversary of the World War I armistice.

With the return of the observance to the armistice date of that "war to end all wars," this year's observance is an occasion to pay tribute to the 1,081,000 Americans who have died in the defense of their country in all American wars since 1776, and to more than 28 million living former service members who served both during war and peace.

Of a total of 38,924,000 war participants--going back to the earliest days of the nation--more than half of the men and women who have worn their country's uniform in wartime are still alive. Another 4.4 million living veterans saw only peacetime service.

By far the most costly of America's wars was its Civil War in which 5 million persons participated. That conflict resulted in 364,000 Union deaths and more than 133,000 Confederate casualties.

In contrast, 290,000 Americans fought in the Revolution, and 4,000 died in service. Out of 287,000 American participants in the War of 1812, 2,000 lost their lives in service.

During the Mexican War only 79,000 Americans were in uniform, yet 13,000 died in service.

In the Spanish-American War, 11,000 of the 392,000 U.S. participants died in service.

A total of 4,744 answered the country's call to arms in World War I, and 116,000 died.

A total of 9,834,000 Americans were in service during the Vietnam Era. Of that number 47,000 deaths were due to action of hostile forces.

Today's population of living veterans--including those who served in more than one period--is made up as follows: World War II (39%), Vietnam (29%), Korea (19%), Peacetime (18%) and World War I (less than 1%). Only 22 veterans--America's oldest--remain from the Spanish American War.

High School to perform Cinderella

Tickets went on sale Monday for St. Johns High School's fall theatre opener, "Cinderella."

High school students will be doing a "fairly modern" version of the classic fairy tale, which with its handsome prince, beautiful girl in rags, mysterious slipper, fairy godmother, ugly stepsisters and mean step mother, is not only a timeless story of fantasy, but has all the necessary ingredients of a contemporary soap opera.

Sixteen of over fifty high school students who tried out were chosen for the cast of the play by director and St. Johns High School teacher Robert L. Koger and assistant director Barbara Markman.

Most of the talent for this year's theatre premier is new, says Koger. The players are coming primarily from the freshman and sophomore classes.

The only senior in the play is Colleen McCarthy, who has gained a favorable reputation on the St. Johns stage portraying such characters as Miss Hannigan in "Annie," Martha Webster in "Bury the Dead," the wicked Queen Brangomar in "Snow White," and Lucy in "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." McCarthy now adds her part as the Queen in Cinderella to her list of regal and antagonistic roles.

The two juniors in the production, Tanya Andretz and Kirsten Harrier, have also had previous theatre experience. Andretz has acted in "Annie," "A Christmas Carol," "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," and "The Music Man." She has also worked as an award-winning technician in "Bury the Dead." Harrier has acted in "A Christmas Carol" and "The Music Man" as well as working on numerous theatrical crews. Andretz will play the Fairy Godmother and Harrier a stepsister in Cinderella.

Julie Friend, Patrick Niemi, Mary Buckwalter, and Matt VanBeelen, playing Cinderella, Ashes, the Wicked Stepmother, and the Prince, respectively, are four sophomores with experience taking part in the production. Friend is most remembered as the orphan Duffy in "Annie." Buckwalter also performed in Annie, and as Sneezy in "Snow White." Niemi has acted in "Annie" and "Bury the Dead" and has also been an active behind the scenes person, working on set construction and painting crews for both productions. VanBeelen made his acting debut last year in "Annie."

Making her acting debut as Tillibelle, one of Cinderella's stepsisters, is sophomore Michelle Erhardt.

This version of Cinderella to be put on by the St. Johns Theatre Department is described as a "fast moving, delightful rendition of the well-loved children's fairy tale and will be enjoyed by all ages. It will be a show you do not want to miss."

Tickets are available through the high school box office from 2:30-7 p.m. Monday through Friday at the cost of one dollar. Tickets will also be available through the elementary school box offices starting November 12.

Show times are 7:30 p.m. November 16 and 17, with 2 p.m. matinees on Saturday the 17th and Sunday the 18th, at the Pocus Theatre, in St. Johns High School.

BATH HALLOWEEN-Ghoulies, ghosties, long-legged beasts and things that go bump in the night poured from the elementary school to roam the

Badge Beat

All area police forces, Bath, DeWitt City, DeWitt Township, St. Johns City, and The Clinton County Sheriff, reported quiet Halloweens last week.

In Bath during the past week, a party attended by approximately 100 youths held in a house at 13639 Main Street was broken up after noise complaints by neighbors Oct. 28. Police responded to calls at the house twice, the second time arresting two male minors for possession of alcohol and two female minors for possession of marijuana. A warrant has been issued against the owner of the house, charging him with contributing to the delinquency of minors. According to the Bath Police Department, most of the parties were from Lansing and were not Bath residents.

THE ARMED ROBBERY SUSPECT thought to be involved in an armed robbery in the City of DeWitt and a strong-arm robbery and larcenies from vehicles in DeWitt Township has been arrested on armed and unarmed robbery charges.

The 15-year-old Hispanic male, a Lansing resident, is currently being held at the Ingham County Juvenile Home. A warrant has been issued for the 17-year-old white male also thought to be involved in the crimes.

DeWitt City Police arrested two male juveniles Oct. 30 in connection with the slashing of all four tires on the two vehicles owned by DeWitt High School teacher and junior varsity football coach Larry Baird. The tires were valued at approximately $600 and the juveniles have been charged with malicious destruction of property over $100. The two suspects have been turned over to their parents pending report of the probate court.

DeWitt Township Police reported two personal-injury accidents and the armed robbery reported elsewhere in this paper during the week of October 28.

The first auto accident occurred at Cutler and US-27 on Sunday Oct. 28 when a westbound car driven by James Price, 19, of Lansing ran a stop sign and struck a vehicle driven by Katherine Papiernik, 30, of DeWitt. After the vehicles came to rest in the northbound lane of US-27, a car driven by Edward Rinckey, 21, of Carson City hit the Papiernik vehicle after being unable to avoid the autos propelled into his lane. Thomas Papiernik, 34, a passenger in the car hit by Price, was injured and taken to Sparrow Hospital. He has since been released. Price, the driver of the first car, has been charged with disobeying a stop sign.

In the second of the personal injury auto accidents in DeWitt Township last week, which occurred at 7:35 p.m. Oct. 31 at the corner of N. East and Hicory Streets, a car driven by Mary Roppo, 43, of Lansing and carrying M.J. Peterson, 60, of Lansing and Marie Burch, 46, also of Lansing pulled out of a private drive into the path of a car driven by Christopher Olance, 25, of Lansing, who was northbound in the passing lane. The Roppo vehicle was struck broadside, injuring all occupants so that they had to be transported to Sparrow Hospital in an ambulance. Olance also sustained injuries, but was not transported. Peterson is currently in serious condition at Sparrow Hospital. Roppo, who has been charged with failure to yield right of way, is in good condition.

St. Johns City Police had no major crimes in their jurisdiction the past week.

The Clinton County Sheriff's Department handled 92 complaints in the seven day period from Oct. 21-28. Of 19 bookings in the jail resulting from these complaints, eight were for driving while intoxicated.

The Sheriff's Department handled a personal injury accident in Victor Township Oct. 27. Terry Cole, of Perry was westbound on Round Lake Road near Meridian at 1:50 a.m. when he attempted to pass another car and met an eastbound vehicle. Cole then drove his car into the ditch to avoid a head-on collision and his vehicle rolled over. Smith had to be taken to Sparrow Hospital by Laingsburg Ambulance. He has been issued citations for driving left of center and violating his restricted license.

Robert Smith, 410 S. Swegles, St. Johns, reported malicious destruction of property over $100 done to his van October 21. Smith's van had its windshield smashed, driver's door window broken, its hood and doors damaged, and both rear-view mirrors broken, resulting in an estimated $2000 worth of damage. The vandalism is apparently the result of a domestic argument. Sheriff's officers have a suspect in the case.

Mich. ski season looks good

Michigan ski operators estimate that millions of dollars in improvements, a healthier economy and good winter weather will help increase last season's $134 million revenues by 5 percent, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

More than one-third of the state's 55 public ski areas have improved facilities, double last year's total.

State travel officials expect revenues to rise to approximately $140 million this season. The record $145 million in revenues was set over the 1978-1979 season.

The Auto Club's 1984-1985 ski guide lists 55 public ski areas compared to 54 last year. Missaukee Mt. near Lake City and Mr. Mancelona at Mancelona will open after being closed last winter. Boyne Falls' Thunder Mt., which operated weekends, has closed permanently.

Life tickets average $10.81, up 21 cents over the 1983-1984 season. Eleven lodges raised their prices as much as $3 while three resorts dropped prices by $1 to $2.40.

The biggest improvements in Lower Michigan are at East Michigan's Sylvan Resort near Gaylord, formerly Sylvan Knob and now under new ownership.

A multi-million dollar expansion includes a new 20-unit hotel featuring a heated indoor pool and whirlpool. There also will be a 172-seat restaurant, 80-seat lounge and 150-seat banquet facility at the top all runs and reached by a new road.

Also new is a 1,400-foot intermediate run served by a triple chair lift, snowmaking covering 60 percent of all runs and cross-country skiing on loops of three, five and seven kilometers. All slopes have been reshaped or graded.

No other ski facilities in the region report major improvements. East Michigan daytime skiers will pay from $8 to $14 per lift ticket. West Michigan weekend daytime lift fees range from $5 to $20.

Owners of Caberfae, near Cadillac, invested $2 million to widen the top of a new hill opened last year by 75 feet and to raise the resort's vertical drop by 20 feet to 470 feet. The lodge dining room is remodeled, more than doubling seating to 240, and new snow grooming equipment was purchased.

Hilton Shanty Creek at Bellaire invested $1 million, adding a new building for equipment rental, a ski school and lift ticket sales as part of a two-year expansion.

Other major improvements were reported by Boyne Mt. at Boyne Falls, which made 32 main lodge rooms into 16 suites with sitting area and wet bar. Boyne Highlands near Harbor Springs added two whirlpools next to its heated outdoor pool.

Nub's Nob, Harbor Springs, added a 3,200 foot ski shop and rental building, high performance rental skis and a second power groomer and expanded snowmaking capacity 35 percent. Pando has improved its kitchen facility and added lighted cross-country ski trails. Royal Valley has a new snowmaking machine and has remodeled its cafe, lounge and rental department.

Schuss Mt., Mancelona, built a second beginner instructional hill, a 600-foot intermediate trail, a 1,600-foot-long expert run through heavy woods, a 1,100-foot run for racers and racing clients only, expanded snowmaking 60 percent added 12 chalets. Bittersweet near Otsego built two 700-foot beginner slopes, made one advanced run 20 feet higher and recontoured one expert run.

Southeast Michigan skiers will pay from $4 to $13.50 per day for lift tickets.

Largest improvements are reported by Mt. Holly, where a new 1,250-foot-long expert-only run boasts a 250-foot vertical drop. Parking is expanded 25 percent and 1,000 sets of rental equipment have been added.

At Pine Knob near Clarkston (now owned by the Nederlander Theatrical Corp.), snowmaking capacity is doubled, and a disco-style bar is remodeled to offer a ski-lodge atmosphere. The lodge restaurant, closed last season, will reopen. There will be 500 new sets of rental skis, a small ski shop, NASTAR (National Standard Race) racing and weekly promotional events.

Other regional facilities which have made improvements include:

Mt. Brighton, increased snowmaking 10 percent; Alpine Valley, Milford, increased snowmaking and added an indoor ski check area, and Mr. Grampian, Oxford, upped snowmaking capacity by one-third.

In the Upper Peninsula, Indianhead Mt. near Wakefield has completed a $3 million, two-year expansion. Six trailside rental units, with sauna and whirlpool, and a lounge and entertainment complex seating up to 300 persons are new.

Main dining room seating is expanded by one-third and the lobby size is tripled. A new partially solar heated indoor recreation building includes a heated pool, with a whirlpool for 24 persons and a sauna, connected to the main lodge by enclosed walkways. Snowmaking is expanded to cover 90 percent of the slopes.

Improvements also have been made by these U.P. resorts:

Blackjack, Bessemer, increased snowmaking 10 percent and added four condominiums; Marquette Mt., Marquette, widened three expert, racing and intermediate runs, boosted snowmaking capacity 20 percent, added 25 kilometers of cross-country ski trails and added grooming equipment, and Big Powderhorn, Bessemer, increased snowmaking capacity 80 percent.

U.P. daytime lift tickets range from $2 to $16.

Scouts learn of Civil War

By HONEY JANE CHARVAT
Correspondent

The glorious call to arms, the great hardships of the times, and the tragic losses came to life when the Cub Scouts from Pack 512 watched spellbound as Mark Pangburn unrolled his authentic Civil War regalia.

Pangburn is a part of a group which patterns itself after the 24th Michigan Infantry Iron Brigade, which took part in the Battle of Gettysburg.

Here is a sample of what he had to share with the scouts as he packed his backpack:

-To volunteer to fight for the North during the Civil War a soldier had to have at least three teeth. Why? So he could bite off the paper end of the gun powder. This requirement kept many from serving.

-A soldier had to be able to load and shoot his army issue rifle three times a minute.

-A volunteer had to carry a backpack weighing over 50 lbs., plus his rifle and march an average of 15 miles a day--day after day from here to Gettysburg.

-He was paid $13 a month, or $15 if he could play the fife and drum.

-At Gettysburg, the battle was fought by rounds. A round is where all the infantrymen fire in unison. Why? Because the guns put out such a tremendous amount of black smoke it was impossible to see the enemy, and by firing together it was more likely to hit a target rather than the here and there method.

-How noisy was it? It was so noisy that after the battle a rifle was uncovered that held 20 packs of gun powder even though the rifle was only capable of firing one at a time. So why did the soldier put in 20? He could not hear his own rifle not firing.

The Cub Scouts wish to thank Mr. Pangburn for his presentation, and Suntime Apartments for generously opening the doors of their community room to host the event.

Pioszak wins another

Sophomore Paul Pioszak of St. Johns finished in first place at the Michigan Track Athletics Congress meet October 27 at Western Michigan University's Arcadia Course. Pioszak, a graduate of St. Johns High School, finished the five-mile race with a time of 25:29. As a member of Western Michigan University men's cross country team, Pioszak will be competing in the Mid-American Conference championship meet at Toledo, Ohio November 3.

FUN FACTS TO KNOW AND TELL ABOUT DAIRY PRODUCTS

As the harvest season winds down and we move into the winter months, we might want to devote some of our time, knowledge and skill to promoting dairy products.

Fifteen cents per hundred pounds of milk shipped presently goes to an advertising, promotion and research fund. This money has been put to good use as demonstrated by the many TV, radio and magazine advertisements that are reaching the consumers of dairy products all over the nation. But every good product campaign can benefit from a follow up program with a personal touch!

Dairy products are delicious and nutritious! But if they are going to win the race against the numerous other products that compete for the consumer's dollar, we are going to have to go the extra mile. This extra mile may include programs developed and conducted by you. To begin with, find out all you can about your product. Then gather teaching materials and plan your programs for schools, mall promotions and more. Your imagination is the limit.

Dairy products are rich in protein, vitamins, minerals and energy. They contribute to one of the basic four food groups and a balanced diet. The primary mineral in milk and milk products is calcium. Calcium has received a lot of good press lately. It has been identified as the key to preventing osteoporosis, ("Brittle Bone Disease") a disease that will strike one of every 4 females and one of every 8 males over the age of 65. Calcium has been linked to preventing the loss of jaw bone and consequently the loss of teeth. Furthermore, calcium has been suggested to play a role in lowering blood pressure. High blood pressure is a condition which plagues many individuals and may lead to heart disease.

As you can see, calcium is an essential mineral to include in your diet. And where do you think our primary source of calcium is? That's right! Dairy products provide over 70 percent of the calcium available in American's diets. Now isn't that a fun fact to know?

As dairy farmers, you all provide the American consumer with their primary source of calcium packaged in a wide variety of delicious, nutritious forms. The cow has done the hard part! Now let's pool our skills and tell the consumers in Clinton County about our dairy products!

Clinton Memorial offers diabetes screening

The American Diabetes Association estimates that there are approximately 240,000 people in Michigan who have diabetes and don't know it. The earlier diabetes is detected, the better. The disease is the leading cause of blindness and a major factor in kidney failure, heart attacks and strokes.

In conjunction with National Diabetes Month in November, Clinton Memorial Hospital will be offering free diabetes screenings during the first week in November in an effort to identify undiagnosed diabetics and to encourage proper treatment for them.

The testing is limited to those over 18 years of age and persons who have not previously been diagnosed as diabetic.

To assure an accurate test, it is important to eat a high carbohydrate meal, one with large amounts of starches and sugars, two hours before the test. A good breakfast to have before the test, for example, would be fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, two slices of buttered toast with jam, and coffee or tea. A person planning to take the test after lunch could have a bowl of soup, a sandwich, cake or pie for dessert, and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period and nothing else except water should be taken before the test. The name and address of the family physician will be needed for follow-up.

The most common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, blurring vision, constant hunger, or the slow healing of cuts and scratches. The disease, however, may be present without any symptoms. People who are over 40, overweight, and blood relatives of a diabetic are especially urged to take the test since they are in the "high risk" group of those most likely to develop diabetes.

The free screenings will be offered Tuesday, November 6, from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. in the DeWitt Medical Center; Wednesday, November 7, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. and 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. at Clinton Memorial Hospital; and Thursday, November 8, from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. at Clinton Memorial.

The screenings are being sponsored by Clinton Memorial Hospital, St. Johns Lions Club, St. Johns Rotary Club, DeWitt Lioness Club and the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate.

COUNTY 4-H'ers EXCEL IN NATIONAL CONTEST

The Clinton County 4-H Horse Judging Team and their coach, Roger Foster, traveled to Denver, Colorado earlier this month to compete in the 4-H Western Classic on October 10th.

The four member team, composed of Tracy McCrumb, Rick Foster, Vickey McCrumb and Tammy Foster, competed against twenty one other state teams and over one-hundred individuals in the Western Classic.

The team qualified to compete in this competition by earning first place honors at the annual state contest during the 4-H Horse Jamboree in April at Michigan State University. Winning is not new to this team, as they were chosen as the third place team in 1983 before winning top honors in 1984.

In the national contest, the team took first place in the oral reasons competition and first place in the judging at halter division. Individual honors were also earned by team members. Tracey McCrumb placed third in judging at halter with Vickey McCrumb placing eighth in the same competition. Tammy Foster placed fourth in the oral reasons competition.

Tracey McCrumb is the eighteen year old daughter of George and Sandy McCrumb of DeWitt and has been a 4-H member in the Kountry Kids 4-H club for three years. In addition to her involvement with the horse judging team, Tracey is also enrolled in projects in ceramics and veterinary science. Tracey is a 1984 graduate of St. Johns High School.

Vickey McCrumb is also the daughter of George and Sandy McCrumb. The seventeen year old is also a member of the Kountry Kids 4-H Club and has been an active 4-H member for three years. Vickey also completed 4-H projects in veterinary science and ceramics this year and is interested in foods and gardening as well.

Rick Foster is currently in the 11th grade at DeWitt High School and has been a 4-H member for seven years. Like Tracey and Vickey, Rick is a member of the Kountry Kids 4-H Club and is active in the horse project. Rick is the sixteen year old son of Gary and Heidi Foster.

Tammy Foster is the fourth member of the team. She is the daughter of Roger and Judy Foster of DeWitt and is a junior at DeWitt High School. The sixteen year old has been a 4-H member for eight years and has worked in a variety of project areas including crafts, foods and teen leadership in addition to her horse project.

Their coach, Roger Foster, has worked with this team since they started and has helped them to develop their skills and led them to several horse judging contest victories in the past three years. Roger is a Jr. High teacher at Beagle Middle School in Grand Ledge.

The team worked hard during the previous six months to prepare for the event. They sold candy and had a car wash to earn over half of their expenses. Even with all of their own hard work, the trip wouldn't have been possible without the generous support of many community businesses and local organizations.

Pests frequent woodpile

That big woodpile that gives you such a feeling of snug security going into winter may also shelter rodents and insects and may even provide them an opportunity to spend the cold season under your roof. Where and how you stack the wood is the key.

Glenn Dudderar, Extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University, says mice and rats will readily take shelter in a backyard woodpile if conditions are right. If the woodpile is located some distance from the house so the rodents would have to cross a wide expanse of open lawn, they're likely either to stay near the woodpile or move on. If the wood is stacked next to the house, however, so the rodents don't have to venture out into the open, the woodpile enables them to search in perfect safety for an opening through which they can squeeze into your house.

It doesn't have to be a very big opening, Dudderar notes—a mouse can squeeze through a hole 1/4 inch in diameter, and a rat needs only a 1/2 inch hole. Both rats and mice can climb any surface rough enough to give them a toehold, so openings need not be at or below ground level to give them entrance.

"Provide the rodents with shelter in the form of a woodpile right next to the house, and they'll be able to take as much time as they need to scout out an entryway," Dudderar says.

Provide them with a supply of food, too, and your rodent problem can get serious very quickly, he adds.

Food can be in the form of easily accessible garbage, a poorly managed compost pile, wild bird food in flimsy containers, crop residues in the vegetable garden or dog food.

"If right next to the house is the worst place for a woodpile, probably the next worst place is next to the dog pen," Dudderar says. "If you feed the dog there, spilled and leftover food and the dog's water dish provide rodents with all they need in addition to shelter. I've never yet seen a woodpile next to a dog pen where there wasn't a rat or mouse problem."

Stacking wood against an exterior wall of your home also invites insect problems, says Gary Dinn, Extension entomologist. Wood is the natural home for carpenter ants, termites, wood-boring beetles and countless other insects and spiders. Except for carpenter ants and termites, which can seriously damage your home, most of these insects are more nuisance than threat. But they will move indoors for the winter. You issue the invitation when you stack wood next to the house. The insects then find the little crack in the foundation or the loose-fitting storm door and stroll right in.

Close up openings around windows and doors, seal cracks in the foundation and mend holes in screens. Then stack wood some distance from the house or, if you must pile it nearby, get it up off the ground—at least 18 inches—and keep it an arm's length away from the wall. Make the pile long and narrow, one log wide rather than several logs laid side by side. Multiple rows make better rodent quarters, Dudderar explains.

Insects may hitchhike indoors on wood, so bring in only what you'll use in a day or two, Dunn advises. A log riddled with insect tunnels that begins to erupt with big black ants or termites when it's disturbed or warmed to room temperature should be rushed outdoors at once, then burned or otherwise disposed of. Other insects brought out of firewood by the warmth inside your home are a nuisance rather than an emergency and can be collected with a vacuum cleaner.

Campground bluegrass

Salt River Acres will host the grand opening of their newly enlarged, enclosed and heated facility on November 10 from 7:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Entertainment for the evening of Bluegrass music will feature Southern Bound with former Midlander, Chris Norling, on mandolin. The newly formed group took first place at the recent Michigan State Fair Bluegrass Festival band contest. Another winner in the contest is scheduled to perform, Sugar Cured from the Grand Rapids area. Helen Hoskins and Homegrown Grass will round out the evening with their traditional style of down-home bluegrass.

Admission will be $8.00 per person at the gate, with senior citizens admitted for 1/2 price. Children under age 12 are free when accompanied by a parent. Door prizes will be given away to the first 50 admissions. Camping is available for the weekend with a $3.00 daily charge for electric hook-ups.

For more information contact: George Carr, (517) 631-7659.

The park is located 1/2 mile east of Oil City on M-20 and 2 miles south on Greendale Road.

CATALOGS ARE COMING!

Thanksgiving used to be the signal to begin holiday sales and promotions, but this year retailers are not waiting. In case you haven't noticed, mail-order catalogs are already appearing in mailboxes and are being advertised widely. They promise hassle-free shopping for speciality items and low-cost buying to stretch your gift dollar.

You can save time and, possibly, money buying through mail-order catalogs, but only with careful planning.

Mail-order buying can be a little too easy and you may end up with more gifts, the wrong gifts and more bills than you need. Here's some advice on how to cope with these catalogs:

--Before you order, look carefully at the purchase. Is your selection a planned purchase within your budget, or are you buying on impulse?

--Be sure you have all the information you need for ordering: size, color, need for auxiliary equipment, handling and shipping charges, and shipping instructions.

--Once you've completed the order form, check it. Be sure you haven't used confusing abbreviations, and that your numbers and words are readable. Do a double check on the amount you agree to pay.

--Never send cash. Use a money order, check or credit card number. Before you mail your order and payment, make a photocopy for your own reference.

--If you receive the wrong item or it arrives damaged, return it with a copy of your copy to verify your original order. Return goods by insured parcel post, United Parcel Service or some other carrier that gives you a receipt and requires the recipient to acknowledge the package by a signature. Always keep the receipts until the transaction is complete.

--Be sure you understand the company policy on returns--some allow them under certain circumstances, others don't at all.

--Most mail-order houses guarantee delivery within a specific amount of time and you mustn't assume they'll arrive sooner.

--Keep a list of things you've ordered by phone or by mail, the company's address you've ordered from and a running total of the cost. If you've allocated a certain amount for holiday spending, don't fool yourself that mail-order expenses don't count. They may not appear on your credit card statement for another month or two--but paying later may be harder than paying now.

Corn carryover reduced

Stocks of old crop corn in all Michigan storage facilities on October 1, 1984 totaled slightly more than 14.5 million bushels according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. This year's carryover represents an 86 percent reduction from the 106 million bushel carryover of a year ago, and the lowest stocks since 1975. About 57 percent of the grain was held in on-farm locations. Winter wheat stocks of slightly over 24 million bushels was down 5 percent from 1983. About 75 percent of the wheat was held in off-farm facilities, which is down from a year ago. Off-farm storage includes mills, elevators, warehouses, terminals and processors. Oats, at a level of nearly 1 million bushels on hand, exceeded 1983 levels by 15 percent. Just over 75 percent of the oats were held in on-farm storages compared to 80 percent held on farms a year ago. Barley stocks on farms were down 8 percent from last year.

Nationally, stocks of old crop corn on October 1, 1984 totaled 722 million bushels, 77 percent below the record high stocks of last year. Of the total corn stocks 48 percent, or 347 million bushels, were stored on the farm, while the remaining 52 percent of 375 million bushels were stored off-farm. The marketing year disappearance (October 1, 1983 through September 30, 1984) was 6.56 billion bushels, down 10 percent from a year ago. Oats and wheat stored in all positions were both down from a year ago by 6 and 8 percent respectively.

State congress race follows party lines

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

The race for Michigan's 89th congressional district, which covers all of Clinton and most of Gratiot counties, pretty much divides the candidates along straight party lines.

Republican incumbent Gary Randall is a firm believer in the economic policies of Ronald Reagan. Randall is for less government control and less taxes. "We should unshackle business and let it provide jobs rather than raising taxes," says Randall.

While he has not said that he would raise taxes, Democratic challenger Harold McCastle is not in favor of lessening government regulations, particularly when it comes to workers and the workplace.

"I've represented working people for 13 years," says McCastle, referring to his work on the Michigan State Carpenter's Council. "A better people I do not know. But they are easier to exploit, and easiest to jerk the carpet out from under. I'm afraid that Randall has taken the easiest path."

One particular issue that keeps raising itself is Randall's vote against a UAW-backed workers Right to Know bill, which would require employers to notify workers of hazardous substances found in the workplace.

"I support the federal form of Right to Know," says Randall. "Under OSHA standards it would provide the same thing, and would deal adequately with the problem." Randall feels that the much more restrictive version of Right to Know supported by the UAW would make Michigan's business climate "even worse than it is now."

"There's dangerous stuff out there that we're working with, carcinogens, mutagens, toxins. There's dangerous stuff that needs to be disposed of," says McCastle. He charges Randall with trying to "pettifog the issue" by bringing up items like table salt and banana oil on the UAW-backed

Create A Simple Dessert Sensation

Here's a great idea for a luscious dessert that is easy to make and light to the taste. Marbled Cheesecake Squares offer a special twist of goodness—semi-sweet chocolate and Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Toasted, vacuum-packed wheat germ adds a crunchy texture and nutty flavor to the crust, with the bonus of vitamins and minerals.

Prepare the recipe the night before, if you like, and serve right from the refrigerator. Marbled Cheesecake Squares are a perfect ending to any meal.

MARBLED CHEESECAKE SQUARES

- 1 cup flour
- 3/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons Kretschmer wheat germ
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 12 ounces cream cheese, room temperature
- 2 eggs
- 1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar

Combine and blend flour, 3/4 cup of the wheat germ, and 2 tablespoons of the sugar in a bowl. Cut in butter until mixture is crumbly. Measure 3/4 cup crumb mixture for topping and spread in shallow pan. Press remaining crumb mixture into ungreased 9-inch square pan. Bake both pans in 375 degree oven. Remove topping pan after 5 to 7 minutes. Remove crust after 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cream cheese and 1/2 cup of the sugar together. Beat in eggs one at a time; add 1 teaspoon of the vanilla. Melt chocolate and water in a saucepan over low heat. Remove; stir in 1/2 cup of the cheese mixture and the remaining wheat germ. Pour remaining cheese mixture onto baked crust. Drop chocolate mixture by spoonfuls onto filling. Swirl with fork to marble. Bake in 375 degree oven 20 to 25 minutes until set. Combine sour cream, powdered sugar and the remaining vanilla. Spread over warm cheesecake. Sprinkle with reserved crumbs. Chill 4 hours or overnight.

GRAPES ADD NEW NOTE TO WALDORF TRADITION

For all grape recipes as well as for refreshing out-of-hand snacking, you'll want to be sure to select plump grapes that are firmly attached to pliable green stems. Grapes are ripe when picked, ready for immediate use. Just store them in plastic bags in the refrigerator, then wash gently and pat dry just before serving.

GRAPE WALDORF SALAD

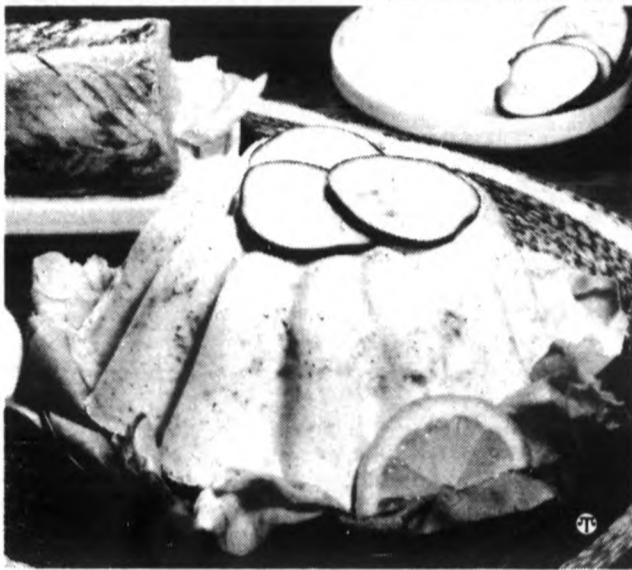

- 1 1/2 cups diced red or green apple
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1/2 cup broken walnuts
- 3 cups green, red or blue/black grapes
- 1/2 pound (1 1/2-cups) cooked ham, cut into strips
- 1/2 pound (2 cups) Swiss or Monterey Jack cheese, cut into strips
- Lettuce
- Mustard Dressing

Toss apple and lemon juice; add celery and walnuts. Arrange grapes, apple mixture, ham and cheese on lettuce-lined platter. Serve with Mustard Dressing. Makes 8 servings. Recipe can be halved.

Mustard Dressing: Whip 1/2 cup whipping cream until stiff. Fold in 1 cup mayonnaise and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Makes 2 cups. Recipe can be halved.

This salad, almost a menu in itself, is ideal for a warm sunny day although the ingredients are almost without season. Fresh California table grapes appear in markets from early May until well after the new year.

CREATIVE COOKING

Salmon, yogurt and cottage cheese make Cucumber Salmon Mousse Salad protein-rich, low in calorie—and positively delicious.

CUCUMBER SALMON MOUSSE SALAD

- 1 can (15-1/2 oz.) Bumble Bee Pink Salmon
- 1 chicken bouillon cube, crumbled
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 medium cucumber
- 1 cup plain yogurt
- 1 cup small curd cottage cheese
- 1-1/2 teaspoons dill weed, crumbled
- Crisp salad greens

Drain salmon. Combine bouillon cube, 1/2 cup water and lemon juice in a small saucepan. Sprinkle gelatin over water mixture to soften. Heat over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat. Peel, seed and chop cucumber (should have 1 cup). Combine cucumber, yogurt, cottage cheese and dill in blender. Whirl until smooth. Pour into a bowl. Add gelatin mixture, stirring until blended. Refrigerate until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Break salmon into small pieces. Stir into gelatin mixture. Pour into a 5-cup gelatin mold. Refrigerate until set. Unmold onto serving plate lined with salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

For more delicious salmon recipes, send a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to Bumble Bee, Dept. SM 84, P.O. Box 7758, San Francisco, CA 94120.

Guests will sing the praises of Holiday Vegetable Medley made with extra dry white vermouth.

If your vegetables always hit the same dull note, liven them up in a Holiday Vegetable Medley. Color, taste and texture in this harmonious blend add variety to the traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

A melange of colorful vegetables and rice combined with herbs, spices and Cinzano Dry White Vermouth, the Holiday Vegetable Medley is also convenient. Instead of preparing a potato or rice dish and a selection of vegetables—make this one casserole ahead of time if you wish.

HOLIDAY VEGETABLE MEDLEY

- 1 yellow squash, cut in 1/4 inch slices
- 1 zucchini, cut in 1/4 inch slices
- 1/4 pound green beans, cut in 1 inch pieces
- 1 small cauliflower (1-1/2 pounds), cut in florets
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut in 1/8 parts
- 1 small red onion, sliced
- 1 package (10-1/2 ounces) frozen peas, unthawed
- 1 cup raw long cooking rice
- 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) beef or chicken broth, undiluted
- 3/4 cup Cinzano Extra Dry White Vermouth
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon basil
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

Combine vegetables and rice in a 2-1/2 quart casserole baking dish.* In a small container, mix remaining ingredients. Pour over vegetables and toss to distribute seasonings. Cover and bake in a preheated 350° oven for one hour or until tender. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

*Casserole can be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated. Combine remaining ingredients and store separately. Just before cooking, pour liquid over vegetables and continue as above.

Today's Snack: Low Calorie/Sugar Free

If you're into today's lifestyle of staying fit and watching calories, this is the ideal snack to have in the "fridge" when you crave something a little sweet. Applestick Snack has fresh, crisp apple and tasty apple juice, and comes in at only 35 calories a half-cup serving. This is only one of a dozen sweet temptations you can serve to the family, easily prepared with the new Jell-O brand sugar free gelatin. Served plain, sugar free gelatin has only 8 calories in a half-cup serving! So, you can add other ingredients—such as fresh or canned fruit in juice or light syrup, vegetables, yogurt—and still come up with a treat that's low in calories and high in taste appeal. The speed-set method (using ice cubes) hastens thickening of gelatin, so there's no long waiting until enjoyment time. Sugar free gelatin comes in strawberry, raspberry, cherry, orange and lime, promising a bevy of light sweet temptations for everyday family menus.

APPLESTICK SNACK

- 1 package (4-serving size) Jell-O brand strawberry flavor sugar free gelatin
- 3/4 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup apple juice
- Ice cubes
- 1 medium unpeeled apple, cut in matchstick pieces (about 1-1/2 cups)

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Combine apple juice and ice cubes to make 1-1/4 cups. Add to gelatin, stirring until slightly thickened. If necessary remove unmelted ice. Stir in apple; pour into a bowl or dessert dishes. Chill until set. Makes 2-3/4 cups or 5 to 6 servings. (35 calories per half-cup serving)

MAKE A SPIRITED PLUM JAM

Any type of fresh plum will lend its own unique flavor and color to homemade jam. By adding some brandy or Grand Marnier, however, it is possible to create a truly gourmet jam not available on the grocer's shelf.

The morning toast will assume a new importance with the addition of Plum-Brandy Jam. This delicious fruit topping is also excellent on ice cream or pound cake. It might also be used as a glaze for a fruit cake.

There is a variety of unusual jams and jellies that can be made with wines and liqueurs. Cherries, peaches, raspberries and apricots all can be mixed with brandy to make unique jams. Blueberries, strawberries, grapes, raspberries, and grapefruit all make delicious jellies when mixed with the various types of wines.

Following is a recipe for Plum-Brandy Jam supplied by Christine Palmer, senior home economist for MCP Foods, Inc. Additional recipes for making wine and liqueur jams and jellies are available free of charge by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to MCP Foods, Inc., P.O. Box 3633, Anaheim, CA 92803.

PLUM BRANDY JAM

- (Yield: 11 Cups)
- 3 1/2 Lbs. Plums
- 1/4 Cup Lemon Juice
- 2-oz. Package MCP Pectin
- 8 1/2 Cups Sugar

- 1/4 Teaspoon Margarine
- 1/2 Cup Brandy

To Prepare Fruit: Wash and pit plums. Do not peel. Grind finely. Measure 5-3/4 cups plum pulp.

To Make Jam: 1. Measure sugar into dry bowl to be added later. 2. Measure fruit pulp into 6- or 8-quart kettle. If short of fruit pulp, fill last cup with water to equal exact amount. Add 1/4 cup lemon juice.

3. Add the package of MCP Pectin to fruit in kettle. Mix well. Stir thoroughly and scrape sides of pan to make sure all the pectin dissolves.

4. Place over high heat. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add the pre-measured sugar. Mix well. Continue stirring and bring to a full, rolling boil (a boil that cannot be stirred down). Add the 1/4 teaspoon margarine. Boil hard exactly 4 minutes.

5. Remove from heat. Skim foam. Quickly stir in brandy.

6. Pour into jars. Seal according to directions given on recipe folder in pectin package.

ST. JOHNS WINS A SQUEAKER FROM ARCH-RIVAL GRAND LEDGE-In a traditional match between the St. Johns Redwings and the Grand Ledge Comets, everything was all tied up, 6-6 with seconds ticking away on the game clock when fate gave the Redwings a chance to finish out their season on a winning note. By virtue of a pass interception, Kevin Aylsworth of the Redwings had a chance to kick a 24-yard field goal. His kick passed thru the uprights to give the Redwings a sparkling 9-6 victory. In this scene Redwing defenders are moving in on a Grand Ledge ball carrier. Pictured are Scott Feldpausch (23), William Keenoy (42). Coming in to assist is Redwing Marty Martens (80). Mich. is winter wonderland for snowmobiles

If Mother Nature provides her usual snowfall this winter, sports enthusiasts can enjoy 5,000 miles of snowmobile trails in Michigan, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The 170 trails listed on the Auto Club's Snowmobile Guide are located in 63 state parks, two southern game areas, six state forests and four national forests. They range from the two-mile-long Camp Nine Trail near Connerville to the 200-mile network in the Ottawa National Forest, both in the Upper Peninsula.

Snowfall is usually adequate for snowmobiling by December 1 in the U.P. and by the Christmas holidays in Lower Michigan. State law requires snow depth of at least 4 inches on snowmobiling trails.

Trails will be open January 1 through March 31 in southern game areas following the bow-and-arrow hunting season.

The state's public snowmobile trails usually are groomed weekly by state workers and 50 local government and private groups. Because state funding determines the extent of trail grooming, snowmobilers should check conditions at local DNR offices before starting a trip.

Although off-trail snowmobiling is allowed on state forest land, it is prohibited or restricted in national forests. Rangers' offices should be contacted for rules.

Some 190,000 snowmobiles are currently registered in Michigan compared to 240,000 last year. Statewide registrations peaked at 400,000 in the early 1970's and dropped to 232,000 in 1981.

Registration is $15 per person for a three-year period. Non-residents are required to buy a $5 one-year permit per person. More than 70 percent of those fees pay for trail maintenance. A $2 daily or

REDWINGS MOVE IN ON COMET BALL CARRIER-This action occurred Friday night in the traditional skirmish between the proud Redwings of St. Johns High School and the Comets from Grand Ledge in which Keith Cannon of the Comets finds himself in a no-go situation. In on the scene are Scott Nelson (9); Mike Goodman (70) and Marty Martens (80). St. Johns won the game with seconds remaining on the clock with a masterful field goal by Kevin Aylsworth, 9-6. Football contest ends with bang

BY HAROLD SCHMALTZ

Whew, what a contest finish this week! Seven contestants ended in a tie for first place with one wrong, thus the tiebreaker game between Penn State and Boston College became the deciding factor. Two entries who guessed Saturday's game total point spread between Penn State and Boston College would be 55 were Tom VanDeventer of Ovid and Ken Weber of St. Johns. Unfortunately for the two of them, Joyce Fabus of 3340 E. Roosevelt Road, Ashley zeroed in on the actual point total a little closer with an estimate of 57 points. The game total was 67. Penn State won the game 37-30.

Coming in close but not close enough were these entries whose point totals were too low. They were: Lloyd Feldpausch of Fowler; Tod Ballinger of St. Johns; Russell Wright of St. Johns and Darren Stump, also of St. Johns.

Lots of folks had only two wrong, then there were many others who had at least three wrong and some with many more than that. Those with only two miscues were: Jeff and Kevin Thelen of St. Johns; Fred Kohagen of St. Johns; Chuck Howe of Ovid; Rex Thelen of St. Johns; Agnes Danley of St. Johns; Jerry Wohlfort; Mark Stambersky of Elsie; Thomas Hatta of Ovid; Andrew Hatta of Ovid; Scott Thelen of St. Johns; Teresa Hatta of Ovid; Dick Thelen of St. Johns and Andy Thelen, also of St. Johns.

This week finishes out the regular football contest, however, we've got lots more fun in store for you. Starting Nov. 13, next week, we're starting our first annual Pro Football Contest. It will run for a total of five weeks. Now all you Sunday afternoon armchair coaches can have a chance to figure how you think the Lions, the Falcons, the Steelers, the Dolphins and the rest of the gridiron gang will do. Sounds like more fun, huh?

The Clinton County News would like to thank all the advertisers who made the Football Contest possible with their weekly support and we most particularly appreciated all you folks that played the game. Sorry all of you couldn't have won, but that's football. Keep your entries coming in, both by mail and over the counter for the Pro Contest next week!

Snowmobiles

$10 annual motor vehicle permit is required to operate snowmobiles in state parks.

Youths aged 12 to 16 who pass an eight-hour, state-approved snowmobile safety course may drive unsupervised across public land. Children under 12 must be supervised by an adult to ride on public property.

Last year 12 persons lost their lives in snowmobiling accidents. Five of the victims were on vehicles which fell through ice.

The Auto Club urges snowmobilers to follow these safety rules:

--Only cross ice that is at least six inches thick over lakes or rivers. Avoid ice at river mouths and stay alert for fishing holes, stumps and pilings covered by snow.

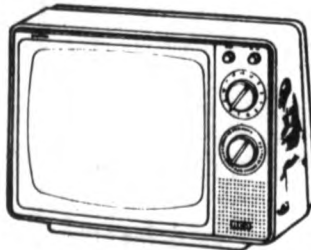

--Dress properly. Avoid clothing which may tangle in equipment.

--Carry tools, spare parts and extra fuel.

COMET HAULS IN A PASS FOR GRAND LEDGE- This reception occurred Friday night at St. Johns' last game of the season in which they hosted their arch-rivals from Grand Ledge. Moving in on the play is Redwing Scott Feldpausch (23). Fortunately for Coach Joe Gonzales' proud Redwings, Kevin Aylsworth was the hero of the night as he kicked a field goal with seconds left in the game. Aylsworth's three-pointer edged out the Comets in a close game, 9-6. By virtue of the win, the Redwings were able to close out their regular season with a respectable overall mark of 5-4. BOWERS SCAMPERS FOR YARDAGE AGAINST GRAND LEDGE- Rich Bowers (30) gathers momentum in his attempt here in Friday night's game with Grand Ledge. In addition to his scoring the team's only touchdown, Bowers picked up a total of 63 yards rushing in nine carries, while teammate Mike Matthews led the team effort with 88 yards rushing in 12 carries. A 24-yard field goal by Kevin Aylsworth broke the 6-6 tie to give the Redwings a last few seconds non-league victory, 9-6. Photo by Harold Schmaltz, CCN.

Panther cagers close in on title

The DeWitt High School girls' basketball team moved another step closer to its first league title since 1979 with a win over Eaton Rapids on Nov. 1. The 43-28 victory lifted DeWitt's record to 9-0 in the Capital Circuit and to 12-2 overall. With every other team in the league having at least two league losses, the Panthers need to win two of their three remaining league games to win the title.

Eaton Rapids held the score close early in the game, with DeWitt only leading by four at the end of the first quarter. The Panthers led 30-14 at the half and by as much as 19 in the third quarter before Coach Frank Deak substituted from the bench. "It was a good opportunity to let a lot of inexperienced players in the game," he said.

Leading scorers for DeWitt in the game were Sheila Milner with 12 points and Renee White with 11. White's 12 rebounds was high for DeWitt, followed by Milner with 10 and Chris Pearson with eight.

Accurate free throw shooting helped spark DeWitt's junior varsity to a 55-41 win over Eaton Rapids. The Panthers made 17 out of 25 free throw attempts with 11 of those made by Kari Lusty in 15 attempts. The win put DeWitt at 5-9 on the year.

DeWitt led by as much as eight points in the first half before Eaton Rapids climbed back in the game with fast breaks. Trailing 28-27 with 2:16 left in the third quarter, it took full court pressure by the Panthers to break the game open.

Kari Lusty was DeWitt's leading scorer with 23 points, followed by Kris Butts with 10 and Dian Gasper with eight. Shelly Szczepaniak's eight rebounds was team high while Lusty's seven was second. Butts led the team with four assists followed by Szczepaniak with three.

Panther b-ballers beat Williamston

Balanced, team play brought the DeWitt High School girls' basketball squad a 46-33 non-league win over Williamston on Oct. 30. The Panthers led throughout the contest, 10-5 at the end of the first quarter, 23-17 at the half and 34-26 at the end of the third quarter. The win raised DeWitt's record to 11-2 on the season.

Scoring was balanced among the Panthers with Kelley Carey, Chris Pearson and Anne Sontich each scoring six points in the game. Rikki Bouts and Sheila Milner each had four while Renee White led the Panthers with 13.

Milner was DeWitt's leading rebounder with 13, followed by White with 10 and Pearson with eight.

In junior varsity action, a determined DeWitt rally late in the game fell short as the Panthers lost to Williamston, 36-42. The loss dropped DeWitt's record to 4-9 on the season.

After trailing 11-29 at the half, DeWitt outscored Williamston by five points in the third quarter and by seven in the fourth.

Kris Butts was the leading scorer for DeWitt with 16 points, nine of them in the fourth quarter. She was followed by Kari Lusty with nine. Shelly Szczepaniak with seven. Szczepaniak also had five assists.

Anyone interested in purchasing these products may contact Roger Cook at 593-3196 or any other Fowler Lions member.

"Electricity... The Best Bargain Is Right At Home"

Now that the days are getting shorter and the nights cooler, many of us like to dream of escaping the Michigan winter for sunny Florida. Or Texas. Maybe even far-off California.

But whether you favor the South or West, have you considered the energy bargain you would be leaving behind in the Great Lakes State?

Even if, like most of us, you intend to move no farther than your favorite armchair this winter, you may be interested to know what folks in other parts of the country pay for the same amount of electric power.

"Bargain" may not be the description that comes first to mind when you think about utility bills. But all things are relative, and the cost of electricity in Michigan compares very favorably with the Sunbelt rates that lie at the end of I-75 or I-80.

Some comparisons will illustrate the point. They are based on an average consumption of 500 kilowatthours (kWh) a month, which excludes water and space heating but may allow for a little air conditioning.

Consumers Power Company's current rate for this level of consumption is $31.66, as of the October 1984 bill. In the comparisons which follow, July 1984 rates—the latest available—will be quoted for other utilities. Incidentally, the Consumers Power rate at that time was $29.96.

So let's switch on the air and head down to Florida...

Should you choose to spend the winter in Miami you become a customer of Florida Power and Light, whose 500 kWh rate was $48.63. St. Petersburg (Florida Power Company) was a little cheaper at $41.89. And so was Tampa (Tampa Electric Company) at $43.49.

But don't forget that Consumers Power's rate is $31.66!

Perhaps you prefer the wide open spaces of Texas. Houston Lighting and Power Company will welcome you at $40.58.

Swinging northwest will bring you to Phoenix, where Arizona Public Service Company's rate was $48.00.

Palm Springs (Southern California Edison Company) offers some relief from the desert dryness—and high electric rates—at $39.06.

But if you want to siesta in San Diego, hold on to your wallet! San Diego Gas and Electric Company charged $58.93—almost DOUBLE the current Consumers Power rate ($31.66, remember) for the same amount of power.

In fact, the average rate Consumers Power residential electric customers paid last winter was 25 percent below the national average.

Michigan may not be able to offer burnished beaches in the dead of winter. But compared with many other states, it can let a little sunshine into your electric bill.

Two run for state congress

list of harmful substances. "Treating this as a silly notion magnifies his irresponsibility to the people," McCastle says.

Another point of contention between the two candidates is the reforms in workers compensation laws in the state. Randall would like to see more reworking of the laws so as to "eliminate waste and provide for a better business climate." McCastle would like to see compensation at lower rates but at the original levels of coverage.

The candidates' positions on first mortgage interest rates on farms sum up their attitudes toward government as well as being a campaign issue. Randall voted that control of setting ceilings on these rates should given over to the federal government. McCastle says that the states should retain that right and Randall's vote is a reflection of his "insensitivity to the farmer."

Both candidates agree that a congressman needs to be accessible and responsive to the needs of the people, although there is some disagreement between the two as to what the needs of the people are. Both recognize the need for a better business climate in Michigan.

Killed the Dinosaurs

Some scientists are convinced that the extinction of the dinosaurs 65 million years ago was caused by the impact of a comet or asteroid, which disturbed the atmosphere and kicked up so much debris that it obscured the sun. The resulting darkness and cold were lethal to the dinosaurs and many other life forms.

PANTHERS SCRAMBLE FOR BALL POSSESSION AGAINST GREYHOUNDS--Toni Hufnagel (40) and Anne Sontich (34) ready themselves for a possible tip from a jump ball situation last Thursday night in which DeWitt continued their winning ways against Eaton Rapids. CCH remodels

Patients and family members using the admitting and outpatient services at Carson City Hospital will benefit from a recently completed remodeling project in the Patient Registration Department.

The reception area and the waiting room have been renovated for the convenience of patients, family members, visitors, and the hospital staff.

Furnishings in the admitting and outpatient reception area include new modular partitions and office furniture. These furnishings are assembled to allow for private conferences with patients, and still permit employees of the Patient Registration Department to communicate as necessary to provide patient services.

The waiting area has been redecorated and furnished with a new television set for the convenience of family members.

Those who have used the admitting and outpatient services in the past will find the locations of the waiting and reception areas reversed. The new arrangement has helped to achieve maximum privacy and convenience for patients and their families.

Panther gridders JV champs

Wednesday evening the 1984 DeWitt Panther junior varsity football team ended its season with a 38-0 victory over the Bath Fighting Bees last Wednesday night. The victory capped a 9-0 undefeated season with the Panthers taking the JV Capitol Circuit Championship. Under the imaginative coaching of Larry Baird and Bart Rypstra, the Panthers were effective on the ground and in the air. The Panther offense scored 187 points, while the defense held the opposition to a total of 40 points, racking up four shutouts.

The team displayed depth in all positions with nonstarting players able to fill positions left vacant by injury and illness.

Proving themselves both on and off the field, members of the team maintained an average grade point of 2.9. The all-sophomore team should be very strong in the race for the 1985 Capitol Circuit varsity crown.

Boosters need you

The DeWitt Booster Club, the organization that runs the concessions at DeWitt High School's sporting events as well as a planned Santa's Secret Shop for Scott School and Fuerstenau School and a planned follies, would like your help.

The Booster Club's purpose is "to work with building principals, administration, and school board to provide moral and financial support to the student body of the DeWitt school system." The club meets the first Monday of every month at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

"With all of us contributing in some way, the end result will be an outstanding effort rather than the showing of a few," says Booster Club member Mrs. John Foresman.

The DeWitt Booster Club is open to any person who is a resident of the DeWitt school district, or the parent or legal guardian of a stu-

Calling Colleen

Dear Colleen:

There are places to go to complain about child abuse, child neglect and much more. But, where do you complain—and what do you do—when a mother says, "I don't like children. I tolerate my own because they are mine, but I still don't like them." I heard a mother make this statement.

Shocked Sue

Dear Sue:

You heard a shocking statement. I am inclined to believe, that you were listening to a mother who gets more kick out of startling people with an oddball statement than she gets out of telling the truth. Some people will make an "off-the-wall" statement just to see what reaction it will bring. If you did not outwardly show how shocked you were, the mother was probably disappointed.

Dear Colleen:

When my brother died, his first wife, with whom he had no contact in 20 years, showed up at the funeral. I don't understand why. All she brought was trouble and confusion; two of my brother's children didn't even know their father had been married before. It lasted only three months. They parted in anger, but she came to the funeral with a big smile on her face. I still don't know why she came or where she came from.

Joe

Dear Joe:

A difficult choice always faces an individual when death claims a former friend or spouse, particularly if a long-ago parting was made with anger or resentment. The decision to pay ones respects, while difficult, is often made in remembrance of the better times or because one really cares. True, there are some people who just have a lot of brass. Your brother's first wife should be judged on the basis of her intentions—if you know what they were.

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Wanting

An oldtimer has commented upon the oft-made statement that it is extremely important for elderly citizens to have the feeling, and the belief, that they are needed.

What is equally important, he says, "is to want something out of life."

When you give it some thought, he has a very good point. We spend much of our lives in pursuit of the things we want. We want security. We want a home, a family, a car, a boat, a farm. It is wanting that pushes us to work longer, harder and to continue working after we have met our basic needs.

If we become satisfied early in life and can think of nothing else that we want, there is little incentive for effort. We may become complacent and lazy. The same has to be true in our senior years. If we want nothing other than what we have, we are hard pressed for motives.

Our correspondent says he has found motivation in his advancing years by pursuing his personal "want." He explains it this way: "I have always wanted to have some role to play in the community in which I live. If I hear they are planning a new road, I want to know where it will be located, who will be affected and the impact it will have on me and my neighbors. I want to have my say, not just about a road, but about anything new or different that represents change. I'm for change, for progress, but I don't like to look at something that has been done and wish that it had been done differently."

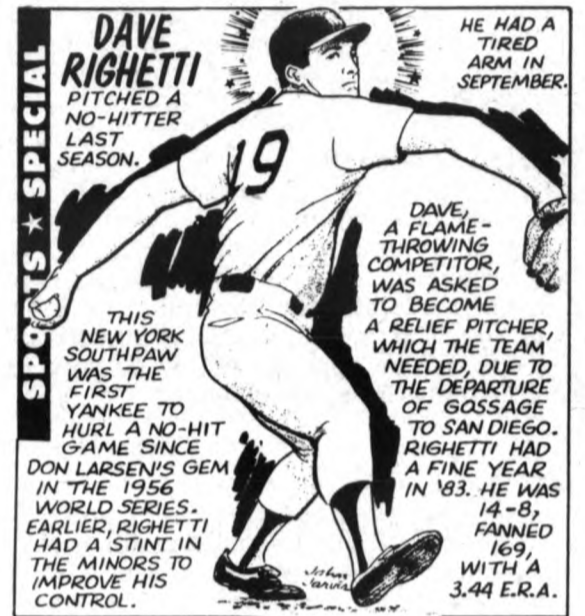

One man's philosophy and, for him, it works.

DIVINE OR DEPRAVED?
September 16, 1984

Background Scripture: Romans 2:1 through 3:20.
Devotional Reading: Romans 2:3-16.

Thirty years in the Christian ministry have led me to the conclusion that there are essentially three erroneous views of human nature.

One of these is the conviction that human nature is "totally depraved." Another: that human beings are basically "good." Both of these have had their champions in Christianity: the former in ages past and the latter in our present time.

Today I find that many people who have been born and raised in the Christian church are reacting vigorously against the concept of sin. As someone told me a few weeks ago, "I've spent too much of my life agonizing over this idea that, because of sin, I am a worthless wretch."

THE DARK SIDE

As one who has spent many hours in pastoral counseling, I would have to acknowledge that one of the most persistent problems that plagues people raised in the Christian church is a crippling lack of self-esteem. Most of the people I counsel have learned all too well to think of themselves as sinners. They have focused much too much on human depravity and neglected to consider the divine potential with which we are also endowed. It is a serious distortion of human nature because it sees only the dark side of our nature.

On the other hand, that human nature may be equally distorted if we think of it as only "good." And the consequences are grave because our experiences with people will not long live up to our expectations. We will find it hard to deal with the tons of human failure and sin that is all around us all the time. Go to Dachau some time and then see how persuasive is the concept that essentially human beings are "good." Pick up your morning newspaper and read the grisly accounts of rapes, murders, and betrayals and then see how long you can continue to reject the Christian concept of sin. It just won't work.

There is, of course, a third erroneous view of human nature and it was to this to which Paul was addressing himself in his Epistle to the Romans. In Judaism in those days—and in much of the Christian church as well—there was an assumption that some people are essentially "good," while others are basically "evil."

NO, NOT ONE!

This is still a popular view today: the "good guys" vs. the "bad guys"—the "good guys" being us, our church, our brand of the gospel, and the "bad guys" being those who don't follow our way. But Paul made it clear in Romans that that idea too is in error, for, as he puts it, "None is righteous, no, not one" (3:10). All of us belong to the "bad guys" for there are none of us who are without sin.

The "good news" on Christianity, then, is neither "all-pie-in-the-sky" nor all "gloom-in-the-tomb," and we can never truly understand and employ our true human nature until we acknowledge both the depravity and the divinity that co-exist and struggle in the same human being.

Vandermeer--Platte exchange vows

Julie Ann Platte and Michael Gerard Vandermeer were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony September 22 with Father James McDougall officiating. The bride is the daughter of Kenneth and Joan Platte of Westphalia. The bridegroom is the son of Jacob and Wanda Vandermeer of Monroe.

St. Mary's Church in Westphalia, the setting for the wedding, was decorated with arrangements of gladiolas, mums, and white bows with lilac trim in the center in the aisle. Music for the occasion was provided by Wilma Vandermeer and Catherine Nathen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of her own design. Her gown featured white wedgewood lace over crepe ployester, with a wedding ring collar and princess sleeves. The bodice was accented with piping to a v-drop waistline. It was covered with a lace applique and pearls. The a-line skirt had a ruffled lace hemline which tapered off to a chapel-length train. She wore her mother's headpiece, which featured a crown refinished in wedgewood lace, sequins, and pearls to match her gown.

She carried a colonial style bouquet of dried flowers, consisting of white strawflowers, money pieces, purple lavender, statice, white yarrow, and baby's breath. Her first communion rosary accented the bouquet.

Maid of Honor was Kathy Cook of Pewamo. Bridesmaids were Kathy Platte and Laurie Platte, sisters of the bride, and Annette Vandermeer, sister of the groom. They wore tafeta dresses that featured a ruffled scoop neckline with white lace trim, elbow-length sleeves, and a gathered skirt ruffled at the bottom. They carried arm bouquets of dried flowers. Flowergirl was Christine Iott, godchild of the groom.

Best Man was Lenny Price of Clinton, Illinois. Groomsmen were Bill Naida, Grau and Michael Platte, brothers of the bride, Jim and Jerry Vandermeer, brothers of the groom, and Mark Braza, friend of the bride.

A reception was held following the wedding at St. Mary's Hall with 260 guests attending. Mary DeRose and Lisa Weber assisted at the bride's table. Cindy Platte cut the cake while Maridell Hafner and Mary Naida helped serve the cake.

Special guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Platte, and Mrs. Dorothy Platte, a friend of the bride's family.

The couple now reside in Daytona Beach, Florida.
