Spring Clean-up program begins in downtown St. Johns

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

May 1st marks the beginning of the St. Johns Spring Clean-up program, with trash pick-ups beginning at the city offices west of downtown. The Kibbee Street Play Lot and the district court will also be involved in the first day of removal.

According to City Administrative Assistant Diane Edwards, this year's project will follow the same procedures the past several years.

This year, the city will be contracting with Randolph's Hauling for the removal of trash to Lansing, Edwards said. The company must furnish a minimum of two trucks, with drivers, capable of hauling 25 yards of trash each. The company will be making trips to and from Lansing for disposal of trash on the designated days.

At the same time, Edwards said that the actual loading of the trash will be done by city crews and equipment, at the curbside of homes and businesses in the area.

The City Council Monday night, opted to continue this year's Spring Clean-up under the same cooperative plan as last year, rather than begin a new independent program, in which the city would be totally responsible for the removal.

Last year, the program cost the city more than 21 thousand dollars, but Edwards said she doesn't expect that cost to increase much more this year.

May 4th, 11th, 16th and 17th have been designated as general area pick-up and catch-up days for the Spring Clean-up program. The city urges St. Johns residents to be prepared for the removal by placing their trash on the curb at the front of their home or business. Removal of brush will not be included in the program.

In other council action, phase two of the Public Safety Building was accepted by the board, enabling Fire Chief Clare Maier to continue with his Fire Hall project.

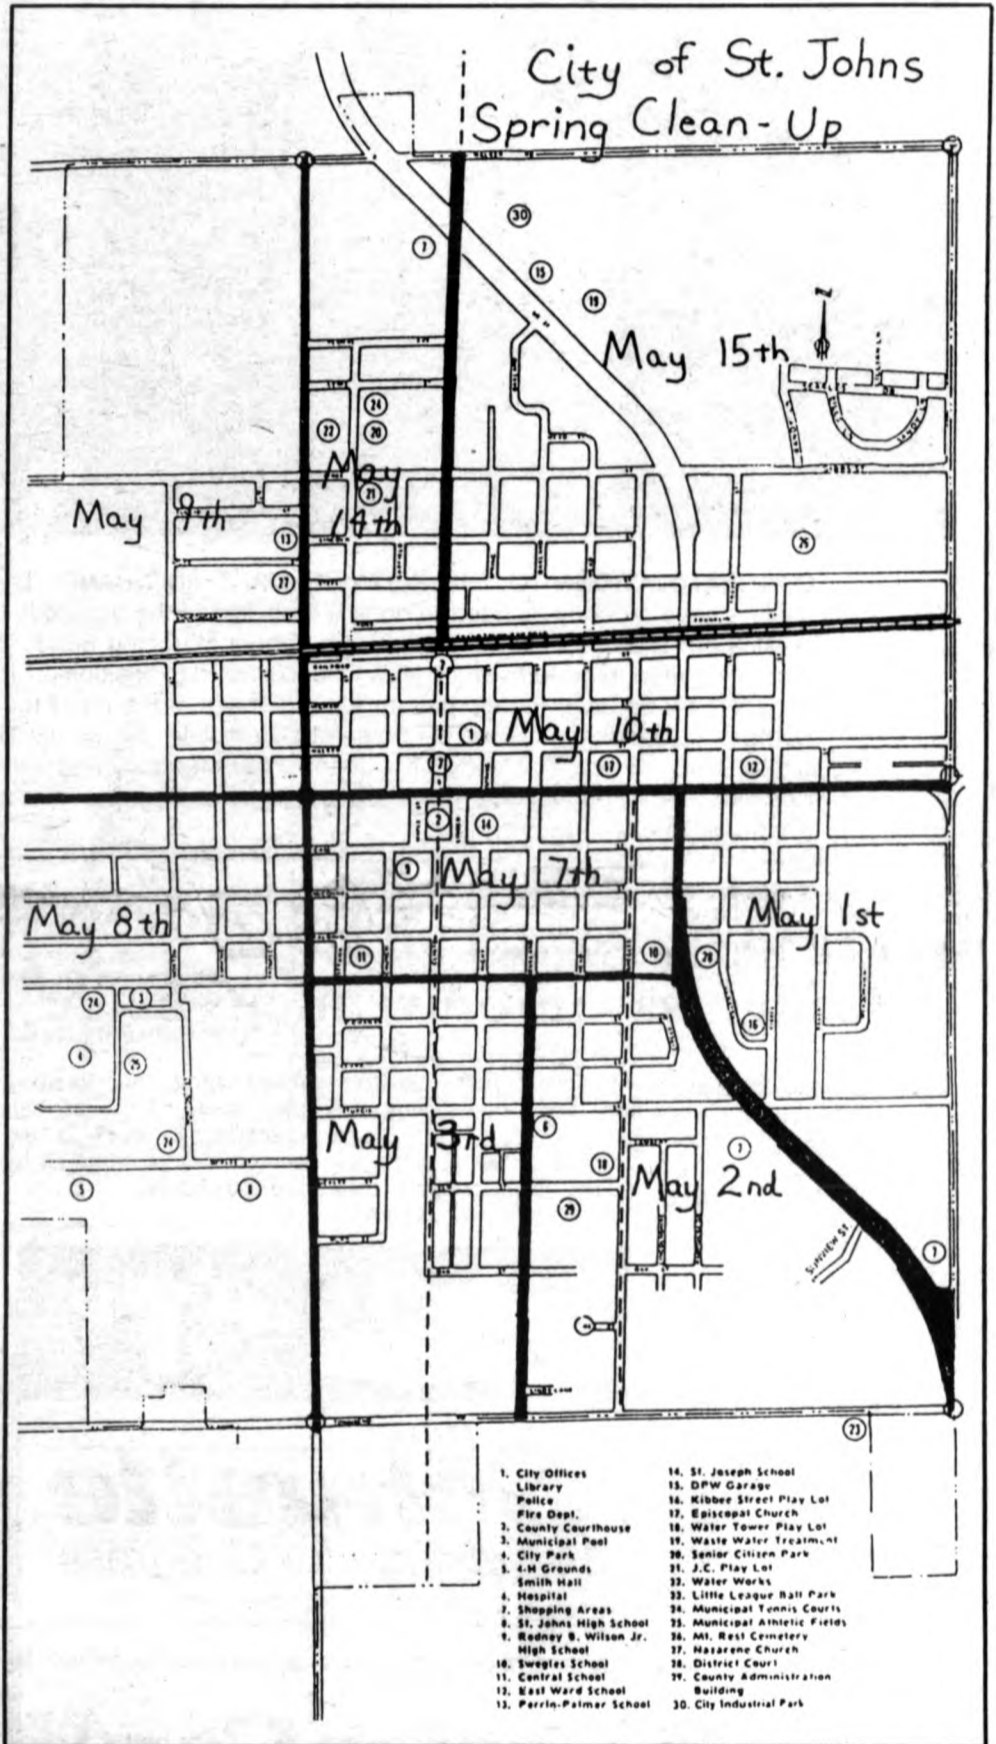

According to Maier, many individuals have committed themselves to donate time and energy to the construction of the fire hall. He said that he now plans to begin soliciting for pledges of assistance in the project, as well as informing the architect to begin designing the building.

Diane Edwards also announced that the applications for the Small Cities Block Grant have been received by the city, and must be returned by May 15th. As of Monday night's meeting, little response had been received regarding the downtown business owners support of the project, but Edwards said she remained hopeful that the business would respond by the end of April.

"As I stated in the last meeting, the more local money, both private and city, the better our chances of receiving state funds," she said.

The city is expected to hear if they receive the grant in June.

MEMBERS OF THE HANNOVER YOUTH SYMPHONY, of Hannover, Germany, recently arrived at DeWitt High School as part of the Blue Lake International Exchange Program. The symphony gave a free performance Thursday evening at the high school. They are one of six European musical groups that will visit Michigan during the year.

DeWitt Township adopts new energy plan for fire hall

The DeWitt Township Board Monday night adopted a new gas saving plan guaranteed to save 10 percent of the fuel used by the Township Hall Fire Barn.

According to Township Assessor Thomas Woodruff, the plan involves removing the present energy system located in the Fire Barn, and installing new boilers and equipment at a cost of $1273.20.

The Board also approved a special use permit for Chase Broadcasting, located in the Country Meadow Shopping Center.

According to Woodruff, the K-92 radio station will be installing a 60 foot microwave tower at their location on 13105 Shavey Road.

The car show will be held May 2nd through 6th at the Southpoint Mall.

Postal inspectors warn public of fraud

Numerous complaints nationwide are being received concerning vacation packages being offered by various firms through use of COD Service.

The Postal Inspection Service has reported initial contact with the public is made via the phone or postcard to notify the recipient that they have been selected by computer to receive an exciting three-day, two-night vacation in "one of 32 different major resort areas including Atlantic City, Mexico City, Canada or the all new Disney World Epcot Center."

They are promised first class accommodations for four and as a further enticement to accept the package, a coupon for a lifetime supply of Kodak color film and several hundred dollars of vacation discount books is offered. For their part, recipients are asked to accept a COD package through the mail usually costing $39.00 to cover the expenses incurred in the processing and handling of the vacation package.

Investigation by U.S. Postal Inspectors disclosed recipients were led to believe no other additional payments or fees would be necessary. Upon receipt of their free gifts, however, customers noted the packages did not include transportation to or from the resort areas, many additional fees and surcharges were required, and the free film and vacation discount books were available only if additional payments were made for processing and handling.

Based on early inquiries about the travel offer, thousands of victims nationwide are losing money to this scheme. With summer approaching, similar schemes may appear. Consumers are asked to check the legitimacy of the advertisement and company before accepting a COD. The U.S. Postal Service allows customers to people who use the mails are legitimate and ethical in the conduct of their businesses, Postal Inspectors say. To avoid problems, consumers receiving COD's through the mail should deal with reputable firms known to the consumer. If COD merchandise is unsatisfactory, the

Oil change provides funds towards Cystic Fibrosis

On May 18, 19, and 20, the Amoco Dealers in Michigan are offering a lube, oil and filter change for $14.95 with three dollars donated to fight cystic fibrosis. Called "Dollars Against Cystic Fibrosis", this is the first public connection between the Amoco Dealers and Cystic Fibrosis although many dealers have been involved with the Annual Amoco Dealers Against Cystic Fibrosis Golf Invitational for many years.

According to Gary Fritz, Amoco dealer who is spearheading the fund raiser, "This is the first opportunity the dealers have had to involve the community in their fund raising efforts. They really care about finding a cure for cystic fibrosis and the money is going to research."

Cystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children in the United States.

MANAGER MARILYN THELEN PRESENTS band director Walter Cole with the McDonald's Care coupons to be sold by Marching Band students.

McDonald's coupons to help St. Johns Marching Band

St. Johns residents can buy their favorite McDonald's meal to help St. Johns High School Redwing Marching Band.

Members of the band will be selling special McDonald's certificates which can be redeemed for $1.00 of food and beverages at McDonald's restaurants at St. Johns, Alma, Portland and Owosso.

McDonald's will contribute $1.00 for every certificate sold by the Marching Band. Proceeds will be used for their trip to the New Orleans Worlds Fair Exposition.

"This project is one way for McDonald's to be an active partner in worthwhile community efforts here in St. Johns," said Charles McCann, owner/operator.

"Everyone who purchases one of the special certificates being sold by the band can receive up to a dollar's worth of food at McDonald's for every dollar spent, and at the same time provide much-needed support to this good cause."

Jenkins draws success in area poster contest

Antonio Jenkins, age 7, of 702 E. Geneva Dr., DeWitt, recently won a $50 U.S. Savings Bond for his runner-up drawing of Dr. Richard Bednarczyk in Health Central's "Draw your Doctor" contest. The contest, which ran from February 1 to March 30 and had over 300 participants, was designed to find artwork for the exams rooms in Health Central's Pediatrics Department in addition to giving children ages 10 and under something fun to do before seeing their health care provider.

Annual nurses week announced

The week of April 29 through May 5 has been designated as Michigan Nurses Week, honoring those individuals who provide a variety of services both in and out of the immediate health care area.

Over one hundred nurses, nurses aides, orderlies and ward clerks are employed at Clinton Memorial Hospital, representing over 800 years of service to the hospital.

In recognizing the contributions the entire nursing staff makes to Clinton Memorial, Chief Executive Officer Paul McNamara said: "Our nurses do a super job. The patient is always their concern, and we welcome this opportunity to say thanks for a job well done."

D. IRENE ZEEB, BRANDON WHITE AND RICHARD HAWKS helped to unveil a Master Donors Plaque at Clinton Memorial Hospital last week. The plaque lists names of individuals and organizations who have donated to the hospital in the past.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

Accolades to Catherine Rumbaugh for her recent letter on the downtown store fronts of St. Johns.

On a recent tour of Galveston, Texas and the famous Strand district of that city, we witnessed what restoration can do for Victorian architecture.

A little more than a decade ago, Galveston was dying, businesses were moving out and unemployment was high. One particular bleak area was the commercial district named the Strand.

The rebirth began with the Junior League's restoration of two nineteenth-century buildings. The Galveston County Cultural Arts Council, the Historical Foundation and other Strand supporters took up the banner and created a group to work out a scheme for restoring the entire district.

This revival has brought new life to the business and residential districts of that city. As the Senior Warden of the Galveston Trinity Episcopal Church remarked to us at their coffee hour, "We had no idea the restoring of the original facades would attract so many tourists and new businesses to our city."

Just by stripping the quasi-Alpine additions from St. Johns downtown buildings, the historical Victorian fronts would be revealed.

Sincerely,
Carolyn J. Campbell

St. Johns scores high

Sophomores Chip Renaker of DeWitt and Paul Pioszak of St. Johns turned in strong performances for Western Michigan University's baseball and track teams April 20 and 21.

Renaker played three games as an outfielder against Ohio University and had three hits in seven trips to the plate, drove in three runs and scored another. He's seen action in 17 games for the year and has scored 13 runs and driven in 7. He is batting .348.

Pioszak covered the 3,000 meter steeplechase in 9:29.8 at the Kentucky Relays in Lexington to take fourth place.

Master Donors Plaque unveiled at Clinton Memorial

D. Irene Zeeb, Brandon White, and Richard Hawks helped unveil a master Donors Plaque which was placed beyond the main lobby at Clinton Memorial Hospital this past week.

The plaque includes names of those individuals and organizations who have qualified for membership in the hospital Donors Club. The Donors Club was established in 1983 as a means of honoring those people who provide ongoing support to

Clinton Memorial. Membership is based on records kept since 1980, with varying club levels so that a person could achieve different levels over a period of time. While all donors are considered members of the club, only those who have achieved the $100 level or above are included on the plaque due to space limitations.

Mrs. Zeeb, chairperson for the Annual Appeal

Committee of the Development Council, reported a 138 percent increase in charitable giving during this year's Annual Appeal. The donors plaque project was undertaken by the committee, with construction and design done by Sports Section in St. Johns.

Brandon White serves as chairperson of the Development Council and Richard Hawks is chairman of the Board of Directors at Clinton Memorial.

That's Life

By Nancy Fischbach

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

A lot of people have nightmares on April 15 as they scurry to the Post Office one stroke before midnight to mail their tax returns. Before I made it to the Post Office, I left in the pouring rain for the airport to pick up my traveling husband.

Only three miles from home, I stopped behind a car for a red light. While waiting for the light to change, I turned to reach in my purse for a piece of chewing gum for my little girl and the next thing I knew, we were bounding around in the car like a rubber ball.

When I finally realized what had happened, I calmed my daughter and checked her injuries. She seemed to be fine, but at that point I wasn't sure I was all connected.

After a few panicky moments, I realized I had to find my drivers license and insurance papers. The next big move was to get out of the car. Before I could get the door open, the young lady who was driving the car that had just struck mine looked in the window and said, "Were you stopped for a red light?" I knew I was in trouble then! Who else but a space cadette couldn't see the red light?

When I got out of the car and trudged through the rain to the service station, I had presence of mind to ask the service attendant to call Piedmont Airlines and inform my husband of the accident.

After answering questions, having vital signs taken, and assuring my daughter all was well, it was decided we should go to the hospital to be checked out.

Now, if you haven't experienced a neck brace, being strapped to a backboard, only capable of looking straight up, and not moving in an ambulance that jars you until you're ready to lose your cookies, you've missed a startling life experience.

When you finally reach your destination, you're whisked off to a cold, sterile room that is separated by pulling curtains around. You are greeted by a man in white attire who, in a calm voice says, "Where does it hurt?" Then you are off to a picture studio where things show up like false teeth, bra straps and lots of old bones.

By this time, after a turbulent flight, my husband's plane lands and as he enters the airport he hears his name being paged to pick up the courtesy phone.

At this point, he knows the call is not an invitation to a birthday party. The patrolman calmly informs him his wife and daughter have been in a car accident and that he needed to come to the hospital as soon as possible.

Sure, no problem, with four suitcases, pouring down rain, shredded nerves, and no transportation.

After a couple of hours we were united and on our way home. After settling in and discussing the happenings of the evening, we realized one more trip had to be made before the stroke of midnight—the Post Office.

That's life and this, too, shall pass.

Clinton Theatre: More than a movie house

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

Things keep on happening at the Clinton Theatre in downtown St. Johns. Two years ago their whole format changed from being open only three days a week, to everyday of the week, with all seats only 99 cents a showing. At the same time, they added their first arcade next door and a small snack shop.

Within a matter of time, more video machines were added. And Bob and Maxine Miller's theatre became more than just a movie house.

"We had tried many things," owner Bob Miller said. "We wanted to make the place more attractive for the young people. We wanted to provide a nice, clean place for them to come to."

The Millers bought the theatre in 1977, after having operated another business in Owosso for several years. According to Miller, until the time of the purchase they had never thought about owning their own movie house.

"We had always liked movies," he said. "So we decided to look into it."

Miller admits that the business is much more complicated than it seemed at the time. One of the more difficult situations is determining what programs will be shown throughout the year. He said that in determining the movies, he has to gamble on which shows will be popular, not only in the industry, but also for the area residents.

Despite his efforts to keep the movies from being offensive, he said that often he isn't aware of what the movie content actually is.

"We have no way of screening pictures before we get them," he said. "We just not sure of the content until we get them. And then if it's objectionable, it's too late. We have already signed a contract with the distributors in Detroit."

At the same time, Miller said that their are very few G-rated movies available on the market today. Most of them are PG, parental guidance suggested, or R, restricted unless accompanied by an adult or guardian.

Miller said he has also found it a problem in regulating the youth when an R-rated movie is being shown.

"We do try to control the young audiences," he said. "But under the law, I have to sell a ticket to anyone who is of age. Many times, a kid will simply go down the street and find someone who is of age to buy their ticket." He added, "A guardian can cover any adult."

Miller went on to explain that many times it may appear that youth are unaccompanied in the theatre, but that often the adults are sitting in back, while the youth occupy the first few rows.

"Children like to sit in the front rows," he said. "That's the way it has always been. We don't let anyone in who is unaccompanied."

Showtime at the Clinton Theatre is 7:30 p.m., on Sunday through Thursday, and 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

THE CLINTON THEATRE is undergoing a few changes. Three months ago the owner Bob Miller installed a new silver screen, which now makes the theatre capable of showing three dimensional movies. He said he is also looking forward to remodeling the interior of the theatre by adding new seats.

names in the news

U.S. House of Representatives candidate, Bill Schuette (pronounced Shoo-tee), recently filed his April quarterly campaign report with the Federal Elections Commission (FEC).

"I am extremely pleased that over 1100 individuals of the 10th Congressional District have contributed to our campaign. Monies raised to date, place this campaign well on target for our overall campaign goals," Schuette said.

The Schuette Campaign reported over 93 thousand dollars in contributions for the first quarter of 1984 (January - March). Thus far, approximately 250 thousand dollars, 96 percent of which was contributed by individuals, has been raised by Schuette since filing in June, 1983.

Schuette is seeking election to the 10th District Seat now occupied by Congressman Don Albootsa. Schuette formally announced his candidacy in January of 1984.

Starting a family business solves employment problem

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

When the going gets tough, the tough get going and that's exactly what happened to Jim and Karen Kraft, of DeWitt. After being unemployed for a year, the Krafts decided to take a long hard look at their employment options. After some serious consideration, they began investigating the possibility of starting their own business.

According to Jim, he spent a great deal of time re-examining his employment history. There were certain needs that had to be met within their household. Both he and his wife wanted something that would support their six member family, while at the same time, something that would involve the family as a whole.

After contemplating his options, Kraft began to investigate starting up his own Servicemaster cleaning service franchise. He had worked for the company several years previous to this time and had experience as a carpet cleaning man. The franchise would also be something that his family could take an active part in.

According to Kraft, the business's reputation helped to clinch his decision. Servicemaster is the world's largest cleaning service. Originally founded in 1947, the company has expanded to include more than two million franchises throughout the country.

The business as a whole is divided into two separate franchises: on-location services, which deals mainly with homes and smaller businesses, and contract services, which deals with major janitorial services for larger companies.

"We decided to discuss starting the franchise with all the kids and see what they thought about it," he said. "It was basically a family decision."

After spending three hours talking the business over with a Servicemaster representative, the family decided to follow through with the franchise.

Jim and Karen Kraft spent several weeks in seminars that trained them for the on-location services. They also participated in two weeks of on-the-job training. After graduating from Academy of Services, they were prepared to open the business.

Working out of an in-the-home office, Karen, handles the office work, while her 13-year-old daughter, Keri, helps with the filing. Their oldest daughter, Kimberly, is the Sales Manager, while son, Jim, helps his father in the service production. Ken, their youngest son, is also a service technician.

The family began servicing Clinton, Ingham and Eaton Counties on April 1st.

MARILYN WOOD, OF THE HUMAN RESOURCE office at Clinton Memorial, and Maridell Nelson, of the Hospital Auxiliary, look over the donations already coming in for the upcoming Trash and Treasure sale, May 19. All proceeds for the event will go to the auxiliary for renovation of the 2nd and 3rd floors of the hospital. The public is invited to attend, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Take a Bow

Jim Pennington, a senior at DeWitt High School, will visit Europe this summer as a member of the Blue Lake International Symphony Band.
 The 100-piece band will depart from Detroit on June 18 and return to Michigan on July 16. While in Europe, it will tour Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and West Germany.
 Professor Leonard Falcone, who served as Director of the Michigan State University Marching Bands for 40 years, will serve as Musical Director of the 1984 Blue Lake International Symphony Band. Falcone, who presided at more than 1,000 MSU band performances at football games and other events, recently was awarded an honorary doctor of fine arts degree by the university where he served as bandmaster for so long. Professor Falcone has been a member of the Blue Lake faculty since the camp's beginning in 1966, and was recently awarded the prestigious honor of being selected to the NBA Hall of Fame by the National Bandmaster's Association.

Over 3,000 Blue Lake students have visited Europe as part of the Blue Lake International Exchange Program since it began in 1969. During this same period, more than six dozen European youth music groups have visited Michigan as part of the cultural exchange program.
 Pennington, who plays the drums, has been traveling to Blue Lake once a month since last fall to rehearse with the Blue Lake group.
 Blue Lake, one of the nation's largest summer music camps, is located about 15 miles north of Muskegon. It offers summer programs for talented elementary, junior high, and senior high school music, art, and theatre students.
 Pennington is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Neil E. Pennington. In addition to music, he is also interested in skiing and computers.

Joan's recipe corner

By Joan Schmaltz

Now that April is over and May is here, it's about time to start thinking about having the kids home for the summer. Soon we will start hearing little voices shouting, "Mom, I'm hungry! We eat earlier than this at school."

For those days when lunch comes earlier than you expected, try handing out a few molasses cookies and a glass of cold milk. This might give you a few extra minutes to catch the ending or beginning of your favorite soap.

MOLASSES SUGAR COOKIES

- 3/4 cup of shortening
- 1 cup of sugar
- 1/4 cup of dark molasses
- 1 egg
- 2 tsp. of baking soda
- 2 cups of sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 tsp. of cloves
- 1/2 tsp. of ginger
- 1 tsp. of cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. of salt

Melt shortening in a saucepan over low heat. Remove from heat; let cool. Add sugar, molasses and egg; beat well. Sift together flour, soda, cloves, ginger, cinnamon and salt; add to first mixture. Mix well; chill. Form in 1 inch balls, roll in granulated sugar and place on well greased cookie sheets two inches apart. Bake on 375 degrees for 8-10 minutes.

I am happy to be able to share with you a recipe from Mabel E. Curtis of Elsie. I would also like to send her a thank you for her recipe of filled noodles which comes from an old German recipe. They are fantastic! I hope everyone enjoys trying them out as much as I did.

FILLED NOODLES

For the actual noodles you will need:

- 6 eggs
- a dash of salt
- 1/2 cup of water
- Flour (enough to make a stiff dough)

Mix eggs, salt, water and flour together. Divide the dough into four quarters. Roll out each quarter to the thickness of pie crust. Now, cut each quarter into quarters again. Place a heaping tablespoon, or more if needed, of the meat mixture on each quarter. Fold corners over and press firmly together.

For the meat mixture you will need:

- 3 lbs. of soup meat
- 3 medium sized potatoes
- 4 cups of bread crumbs
- 3 small onions
- salt and pepper to taste

Cook the soup meat until well done. Remove the meat from the stock. Remove meat from the bones. Run this through a grinder. Also grind potatoes and onions and add to the meat. Add bread crumbs and salt and pepper. If needed, add just enough beef stock to moisten and mix thoroughly.

When the meat mixture has been added to the noodles, drop into boiling broth and continue to boil for 20 minutes. All that is left is to enjoy!

If anyone else has a recipe that you would like to share, mail it to Joan's Recipe Corner, The Clinton County News, P.O. Box 10, St. Johns, MI 48879. I hope to hear from several more of you next week.

Learning economics the hard way, sums up past 50 years of farm programs

Learning economics the hard way—through trial and error in farm policy—is the way Michigan farmer Elton R. Smith summed up the past 50 years of federal farm programs during a USDA "listen" session in Des Plaines, Illinois. Smith represented the viewpoints of the American Farm Bureau Federation, of which he serves as vice president, during the first in a series of future food and agricultural policy sessions called by Secretary of Agriculture John Block for public comment on the drafting of the 1985 Farm Bill.

"We see no way to fine tune or tinker our way to farm income opportunity farm programs that unduly restrict production and attempt to bypass the marketplace," Smith told the secretary. "There is great need for an economically sound, long-term, market-oriented farm program that gives farmers and ranchers appropriate protection from price disaster while avoiding the political features that encourage excess production."

Smith said that while Congress has been passing farm bills since 1933 to stabilize prices and save the family farm, the number of farmers has gone steadily downward, while at the same time, the number of federal employees working to "save" farmers has increased from 24,000 in 1929 to 122,600 in 1982.

Congress cannot keep raising guaranteed prices to farmers without losing this country's competitive advantage to foreign producers, Smith said. "We cannot expect our export customers to stay with us if they can get better deals elsewhere. In short, we are learning economics the hard way—by trial and error in farm policy. U.S. farmers and their support agri-industries have invested heavily in production and other facilities to serve the world market. It has paid good returns in the past—and can in the future—if farm policy is shaped to serve export markets," he said.

"Shutting down and pulling back to service only the domestic food and fiber industry is not a viable option to be considered by U.S. farmers and their related farm support services," the farm leader told Block.

"Farm Bureau has chosen a market-oriented policy path for 1985 farm legislation. keystones of this policy are world-competitive loan rates for major export crops and elimination of the federal farmer-held reserve for wheat and feedgrains. We favor the target-price income support concept, as farmers adjust to more market orientation. We favor acreage reduction programs if carryover stocks exceed reasonable levels."

"Farm Bureau members support vigorous export market development and appropriate measures to retrieve traditional U.S. farm markets taken from us through export subsidies by competing nations," he said.

Smith told Secretary Block that the most successful farmers and ranchers are those most flexible in adjusting their operations to present needs. "The kind of farm programs we need must be sufficiently flexible to transmit the right signals between producers and consumers."

"Because the U.S. Department of Agriculture, universities, Farm Bureau, and private forecasters are unable to foresee the future with accuracy, a farm bill written in the summer of 1985 must contain sufficient flexibility to meet market conditions that may develop by 1989," he said.

Homeowners urged to check policies

With the tornado season here, this is a good time for homeowners to check policies to determine if homes are insured for their worth, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Homeowners should be sure their property is covered for the replacement value, not just the market value," stated Auto Club Homeowners Insurance Claim Director Rene L. Monforton.

A homeowner with replacement cost coverage would not have to pay anything beyond the deductible for damage to the dwelling, such as aluminum siding or a roof, no matter how old the property. If a home is insured based upon market value, the homeowner may have to pay for depreciation in addition to the deductible.

As an example, a home that sold for $50,000 several years ago may actually cost $80,000 to replace or repair when inflation and the cost of labor and materials are considered.

A home must be insured for 80 percent of its replacement cost to qualify for replacement cost coverage. Insuring beyond that point is seldom done since cement foundations and basements are rarely destroyed.

When buying an insurance policy, homeowners should consider which type of coverage would best suit their needs. Homeowners with articles of high value, such as cameras, jewelry and furs, may want to specifically insure personal property in addition to their basic coverage. An appraisal is required for each item to be insured by means of scheduling. Insurance is also available for renters and condominium owners.

Is your microwave oven just a convenient place to warm-up, defrost or even store food? If you find yourself using the old traditional methods to cook food because you don't want to take the time to learn how to make them in the microwave then the Cooperative Extension Service Basic Microwave Cooking Workshop is for you.

"More From Your Microwave" will be offered from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. on May 14 at DeWitt High School. During the workshop you will see a variety of food prepared in a microwave oven, including meats, vegetables, casseroles and desserts. You will also have the opportunity to taste all of the recipes demonstrated.

The registration fee for this workshop is only $2.00 which covers demonstration materials and printing costs. So register now because workshop enrollment is limited.

Send registration requests to Dawn Harris, Extension Home Economist, 306 Elm St., St. Johns, MI 48879 by May 9. Pre-registration is required for this program.

St. Johns students travel to another culture

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

It used to be that high school foreign language students were merely taught the basics of a different culture. They studied the language, and learned about the cities, by reading books and talking amidst themselves. An instructor, who had possibly visited the foreign country himself, would also be available to help guide his students to the best of his or her ability.

In the past several years, all that has changed. High schools are now offering foreign language students an opportunity to see the country firsthand. Many people, including St. Johns teacher Robert LaBrie, see the program as an asset to classroom learning.

LaBrie, a foreign language teacher at St. Johns High School, recently took 40 students and seven adults to France for a week-long tour of the country. He said the experience itself was one of the finest he had since beginning the program less than 10 years ago.

"The students were immersed in the culture," he said. "I allowed them latitude in seeing Paris. The group was exceptionally mature, so I had no fear in letting them go out in groups of five, six or seven. The guidelines were given before the trip and (the students) came through."

According to LaBrie, most every sight was seen in the City of Lights, including the Palace of Versailles and the Valley of the Loir. He said they visited famous chateaus, built by kings, queens and nobles hundreds of years ago. They climbed to the top of the Eiffel Tower and stood in Notre Dame. And they experienced the french cuisine, frequently consuming typical breakfasts of a croissant, coffee and chocolate.

The sights weren't unfamiliar to the students, however, since most of them had studied French for at least one year. At the same time, the students all agree that the text books and postcards do nothing for the real beauty of France.

"The city was enchanting," said Shelly Rawson, a 12th-grade student who participated in this year's program. "Seeing everything we had studied about, and recognizing it, was great. You learn so much more than how to speak and know the language."

Brandy Wells said her favorite part of the excursion was seeing the Eiffel Tower. "The scene from the top at night was really super."

"I liked the people," said Colleen McCarthy. "The people are really different there. I'm going to go back someday."

According to LaBrie, the entire trip takes a great deal of planning. The cost, although cheaper than a usual trip, is the major factor involved in planning for the participants. He said that many of the individuals save their money all through high school in order to participate.

Nevertheless, according to LaBrie, all of the work, time and money spent on the trip is well worth the trouble.

"I don't mind the work," he said. "Taking young people abroad, and having them enjoy themselves so much, is a tremendous reward."

He added, "The reward for me is to show the young people another world beyond Clinton County and St. Johns."

No one could refute that this year's trip to France proved to be more than an ordinary field trip. Or that the educational benefits that evolved from the excursion, was something they will ever forget. In fact, the week-long trip proved that education CAN be fun.

Hazel Findley reviewed

The Hazel I. Findley opened its doors with one residential client on June 30, 1982. On July 1, the patients at Rivard's Nursing Home were transferred to the Country Manor. After the first few months, there were 89 nursing clients. Almost continuously since then we have 19 residential beds. At the present time, 10 of those are now filled.

Mark Stapleman, director of the Manor, says we have excellent inspections from the Department of Mental Health which is a tribute to the efforts of all the 115 employees. Both senior and junior volunteer groups play a very active role. There are two local schools involved in an active grandparent program. There is also a nurses aide program from the high school. The participants receive academic credit from the school with a certificate. Some of these students will be hired as nurses aides at the Country Manor.

Serving the spiritual side is the St. Johns Ministerial Association. They arrange for services every week and also visitations. Of course as a community owned and operated facility, we also receive great support from local individuals as well as organized groups. These services vary from one on one visitations to organized luncheons, group projects, providing financial and equipment needs and moral support when required.

It is not just all taking on the part of the facility, we are also working to maintain high standards, the patients total needs through normalizing their life style to the greatest extent possible. Some of our activities include weekly bake sales, fitness classes, hobby clubs, cooking activities, special candle lit dinners with special guests and some group sharing sessions, community luncheons, bowling, and visits to interesting community events, such as Barber Shop Quartets at the Wharton Center at MSU, Blue Grass Festival, Uncle Johns Cider Mill, and outdoor barbecues.

We also are working with the families to acquaint them with the facility and expected changes in their attitude and outlook as well as that of the nursing home patient. We have a family support group as well as a full time social worker designed to assist with questions and problems.

We, of course, have ongoing safety programs, such as monthly fire drills. This week we will have a tornado drill, monitored by the Sheriff's Department, to insure safety of the residents and proper response by the employees.

As an additional interest, Mr. Stapleman reports that 28 percent of the patients are over 90 years old, with one patient being 99 years old.

Plans for the future, as donations permit, include shuffle board and pavilion type picnic area in the courtyard as well as flowers and shrubs for beautification. On the north side of the building, we will develop a large fenced garden and walking area with wheel chair paths in order to provide a free movement area with minimum supervision. Naturally we must begin soon replacing equipment and making repairs on building and facility repairs as items wear out.

We are confident the community will remember these upcoming needs and continue their generous support.

Heritage art show opens

"Images of Michigan's Heritage," an exhibit of paintings by contemporary artists showing historical aspects of Michigan opens Saturday, May 5, at the Michigan Historical Museum.

According to Secretary of State Richard Austin, all Michigan artists and painters were invited to submit paintings for the exhibit by Feb. 1 of this year. Seventy-two works by 47 artists were chosen for the exhibit. Prizes totaling $1,200, already awarded, will be presented to winning artists May 5.

The exhibit will continue in the Historical Museum until Sept. 1.

The exhibit is a cooperative effort sponsored by the Michigan Historical Museum of the Department of State, the Ingham County Arts Commission and the 55th District Court Art Fund.

The Michigan Historical Museum is located at 308 N. Capitol Ave., across from the state capitol in Lansing. Hours Monday-Friday 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Saturdays and holidays, noon to 4:30 p.m., closed Sundays. Admission is free. For further information, call (517) 373-1979.

Nurses celebrate

Over 60,000 registered nurses in Michigan will celebrate Michigan Nurse Week, April 29 - May 5. The Michigan Nurses Association (MNA), the professional association for registered nurses, is the primary sponsor of the observance.

As the state's largest group of health care providers, registered nurses play a vital role in providing essential health care services throughout the state.

BEHIND THE SCENES at Bee's Sports is mechanic Al Bozung, bookkeepers Adeline Feldpausch and Jean Munger, counter girl Julie Kentfield, manager Mark Munger and serviceman Mark Hoover.

BEE'S SPORT, LOCATED SOUTH on US-27, is preparing for perhaps the best season ever. The sporting goods store has recently signed a contract with the Clinton County News to constantly advertise with the newspaper. Welcome aboard!

Bee's prepares for a sting in sporting goods

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

With summer just around the corner, manager Mark Munger, of Bee's Sporting Goods, is preparing for perhaps his biggest sales year ever. He said that since the economy has improved over the last few years, his business has continued to improve.

Bee's Sports has been the yearly recipient of the Mercury Marine Guide Star Award for superior sales since 1981. They have also received two Gladstone Sales Awards for their achievement in marine retailing.

According to Munger, Bee's Sports first opened its doors in 1968, after owner Bernard Feldpausch decided to begin another business in the area. Feldpausch was looking for an additional store to help increase his profits, thus enabling him to have the necessary funds to construct a new building for his Pohl Brothers car dealership. The dealership was then located in downtown St. Johns and Feldpausch wanted it moved to the current location on U.S. 27.

The store began by selling marina equipment, snowmobiles and campers. In 1974, they began a full line of motorcycles, making them the only bike dealer in town. Three years ago, they began selling auto parts. They have also added a service department to maximize their efficiency for their customers.

Bee's Sports is open Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., on Friday's from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturday's from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Service Academy applicants sought

Congressman Bob Carr is now accepting applications for admission to the four United States Service Academies. Any student who is a high school junior or above is eligible to apply.

Applications and information are available for the Naval, Air Force, Army, and Merchant Marine Academies. Interested students should contact Carr's district offices at 91 N. Saginaw in Pontiac or 116 Bailey St. in East Lansing. The deadline for applications is Oct. 29, 1984, but students are urged to apply early.

Carr may have up to five cadets at each academy at any one time. He can also nominate additional students for further consideration by the academies. Twenty-three students were recommended last year.

Applications are screened by a committee of teachers and community leaders. Selected students will also be interviewed in person.

Davenport holds open house

On Tuesday, May 8, beginning at 4 p.m., Davenport College in Lansing will host its third annual Employer's Open House at the campus located on the corner of Kalamazoo and Cherry streets in downtown Lansing.

Mrs. Susan Backofen, placement director, says the evening will consist of a general session in which the programs and services offered by the college will be explained, followed by an informal buffet.

Don Colizzi, dean of Davenport College in Laning, says the open houses were originated to provide employers with a chance to become more familiar with Davenport and its specific business programs, as well as to provide a forum for the sharing of common problems and solutions.

Badge Beat

On April 20, the Clinton County Sheriff Department investigated an accident at the "T" section of French and Wright Roads in Lebanon Township. According to deputies, Gary Swanson, 27, of Pewamo, was eastbound on French Road when he failed to stop at the "T" intersection at Wright Road. Swanson was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Kathryn Sawicki, 20, of Charlotte, and her passenger Mike Wright, 26, also of Charlotte, were both recently injured when Sawicki lost control of her vehicle, April 22, when she swerved to miss a deer. According to deputies, the vehicle was southbound on Francis Road, went off the road, and rolled over in the ditch. Both were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Deputies have recently investigated a larceny from a store in Westphalia, in which empty bottles were taken. According to deputies, Bernie Martin, of Adgates, reported the incident on April 20. He gave deputies a vehicle description and a license number. Three suspects were later interviewed and confessed to the larceny. One subject is a juvenile and warrants are being sought for the other two.

On April 21, deputies investigated a larceny complaint made by Dale Wagner, of Portland. According to deputies, Wagner reported that he left his 1976 Pontiac Trans-Am at his parents residence. While there, someone stole the passenger door from the vehicle. Loss is estimated at $200 and the case remains under investigation.

Deputies are also investigating a larceny from an auto owned by Harry Scott, of Parks Road. Ac-ording to deputies, Scott reported that someone had taken some car stereo equipment from his vehicle, parked in his driveway, April 19. He had left his vehicle unlocked. Total loss is estimated at $290, with a Sanyo in-dash AM-FM radio-cassette player and a Clarion Graphic Equalizer being stolen from the vehicle.

During the week, the Sheriff Department handled a total of 79 complaints, including seven larcenies, two breaking and enterings and several trespassing complaints.

The Bath Police Department is currently investigating a possible arson that occurred April 25 on Upton Road. According to police, 10 to 20 acres of Department of Natural Resource land caught fire Wednesday. The case remains under investigation.

The circuit court report

These are the sentences handed down in the 29th Circuit Court by Judge Randy L. Rahvonen:

Gordon K. Fisher, 18, 11988 Seaman Rd., Sumner, was sentenced to 8 to 15 years in prison for criminal sexual conduct, 2nd degree.

Derrick R. Hull, 18, 4075 E. Holt, Lot 203, Holt, was sentenced to 1 1/2 to 4 years in prison for delivery of marijuana and 3 to 7 years in prison for delivery of LSD.

Odtis Arthel Robinson, 38, 3621 Brighton, Lansing, was sentenced to 4 to 7 1/2 years in prison for assault with intent to commit criminal sexual conduct, 3rd degree, 2nd offense.

Jeffrey Scott Barish, 18, 114 S. Scott St., DeWitt, was sentenced to 4 to 10 years in prison for violating his probation. Herbert Kenneth Miller, Jr., 36, 3331 Felt St., Lansing, was sentenced to 5 years probation, 6 months in jail for assault with intent to commit criminal sexual conduct, 2nd degree. Edward E. Knight, 33, 5665 E. Island Rd., Elsie, was sentenced to 2 years of probation and 90 days in jail for attempted malicious destruction of property over $100.

Hummingbirds attracted to flowers and food in landscape

Whether you make your own hummingbird feeder or buy one of the increasingly fancy ones commercially available, you'll have better luck attracting the tiny fliers if you include in your landscape some of their favorite food flowers.

Glenn Dudderar, Extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University, says the ruby-throated hummingbird—Michigan's only species of hummingbird—is attracted primarily to trumpet and tube shaped flowers in red, orange and yellow, and to fragrant flowers of any color. Landscape plants that hummingbirds visit in search of nectar, one of their primary foods, include trumpet vine, mock orange, butterfly bush, sweet William, columbine, lobelia, wisteria, foxglove, phlox and beebalm. If you don't have any of these plants in your landscape, you could plant them. Or you could enhance your chances of attracting hummingbirds by combining your feeder with hanging baskets of fuchsia, petunias or impatiens.

The feeding tube or tubes on your feeder should point upward to minimize dripping. A red or orange flange or artificial flower at the tube opening makes it easier for the hummingbirds to find it. A bee guard over the opening is also helpful. It's simply a cylinder that's placed over the end of the feeding tube. It allows hummingbirds to feed by inserting their bills and long tongues through the cylinder to the feeding tube. But bees' tongues are too short.

Place the feeder in the shade to reduce dripping, and replace the solution every two to three days if the birds don't consume it. The solution can be as simple as a cup of brown sugar per quart of water, or it can be made from commercial mixes available at many stores.

You're most likely to see hummingbirds feeding at dawn and dusk. The male is metallic bronze-green on his back, with an iridescent ruby red patch on his throat. The colors seem to change from gray to blue, emerald or yellow-green as the light strikes the feathers. The female is green-gray on the back with a gray belly. The birds are so small and move so quickly that you might mistake them for large insects.

To feed on nectar, the birds hover in front of flowers and use their long tongues to siphon the sweet stuff out of the blossoms. They also consume large numbers of insects and get significant quantities of protein from the pollen grains they ingest along with the nectar.

Michigan's tiniest bird is also one of its more far-ranging travelers. Though it is only about 3 inches long and weighs about an ounce, the ruby-throated hummingbird migrates from Michigan to South America in the fall and back again in the spring, arriving in April or early May.

Soon after they arrive, the male begins to court the female. She sits quietly while he swoops and dives about her. The sharp-and-lucky-observer is most likely to spot him when he slows as he reaches the top of an upward swoop and prepares to dive.

Hummingbirds prefer to nest in dense shubbery shaded by taller plants. They build their tiny nests out of lichens and mosses, using spider webs to stick the material together.

The eggs are white and pea-sized. The female usually lays two. The young birds are so small that both of them could fit in a teaspoon.

After the young birds are raised, the whole family begins to build up fat reserves to fuel them on their long flight to South America. There they are only one of several hummingbird species, and one of the more drab, at that.

Corn borers to cause more problems

Corn borers have long been a problem for corn belt farmers, but in 1983 they suddenly became much more serious. A survey of county extension agents in 17 states last winter found that of 435 agents responding, 360 ranked corn borer as a major problem in 1983. That number was higher than any other insect, including corn rootworm, which was mentioned only 249 times by the agents.

Despite the increased threat presented by corn borers, most insect specialists still recommend waiting until they hit before trying to treat for them.

Bill Pagano of Stauffer Chemical Company says that of the two methods of controlling corn borer, planting-time and rescue treatment, the rescue treatment is the best. Planting-time treatment, Pagano says, requires three times the normal rate of insecticide to control the borers.

"That is simply not the best approach, because it's uncertain whether corn borers will even be a problem in any particular field," he asserts.

Instead, he suggests a planting-time treatment with an insecticide like Dyfonate at normal rates to control insects such as rootworms and cutworms. The insecticide can be applied again, over the top, if borers infest the field.

He says careful surveillance can be used to spot corn borers in plenty of time to prevent serious damage. This involves monitoring moth traps to determine when the borers are likely to be laying eggs, then checking fields for eggs masses. A commonly used economic threshold for treatment is one egg mass per plant, or when 50 percent of the plants have some feeding damage showing.

Pagano says the time to worry about corn borers is in early June when the temperature is consistently warm at night. The moths are likely to be flying and laying their eggs on those nights when the wind is calm and the humidity is high.

Over-the-top treatment at that time will effectively stop first-generation damage but there is a chance that a second or third generation infestation of the borers might develop. If that happens the situation gets more complex but with careful planning Pagano says damage can be kept to a minimum.

The principal threat that second-generation borers presents is to the ear shanks. They burrow into the shanks, weakening them and causing the ears to drop to the ground.

Because the second-generation threat can last over a two or three week period, it is sometimes economical to treat twice for them. That means careful monitoring of the fields so that the applications are timed to do the most good.

Corn borers can be a serious problem and if 1983 is any indicator, 1984 could be bad. With a carefully timed insecticide program, the borers can be held in check and damage kept to a minimum.

Dairy herd product down

Dairy herds in Michigan produced 464 million pounds of milk during March, virtually unchanged from March 1983 according to the Federal/State-Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Milk cow numbers declined during the month, as the March average of 397,000 head was off 1.5 percent from a year ago.

The value of milk sold in Michigan during March averaged $13.40 per hundredweight (cwt.), down 30 cents from a year earlier. This price reflects the total value of milk at the dairy plant or receiving station before deductions are made for hauling and the dairy assessment. Slaughter cow prices averaged $42.80 per cwt., down slightly from last March.

The amount of grain and other concentrates fed daily to Michigan milk cows averaged 15.7 pounds on April 1, down slightly from a year ago. The average value of this feed was $7.10 per cwt., unchanged from a year earlier.

Nationally, milk production during March totaled 11.7 billion pounds, 3 percent less than a year earlier. Production per cow averaged 1,078 pounds, 8 pounds less than March 1983. Total milk cows averaged 10.9 million head, down 2 percent from a year ago. Accumulated milk production during the first quarter of 1984 exceeded 34 billion pounds, down slightly from the comparable period in 1983.

Dairy manufacturing plants in Michigan produced 5.4 million pounds of butter during February, down 8 percent from a year earlier. American cheese production, at 1.1 million pounds, was down 41 percent from the previous year. Ice cream output was 2.3 million gallons, off 2 percent from a year ago.

Birth

Rick and Lori Hall of Bath are proud to announce the birth of their son, Rickie Duane, Jr. He was born on March 19 at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. He weighed 5 lbs. and 15 ozs. He joins a sister, Amy, 9 years old.

Grandparents are Mildred Hoag of Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bowen of Mio. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hall of Diamondale and Alice Brown of Lansing.

Baked beans month declared for July

The growers and processors of Michigan dry edible beans have again designated July as National Baked Beans Month in 1984.

Whether they are made from dry navy beans, pork and beans, or are warmed up right from the can, baked beans truly are a family favorite, especially during the "dog days" of summer.

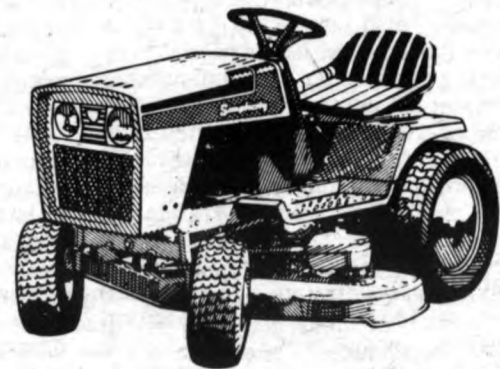

Even more important, baked beans are good food. Cooked beans have only 224 calories per one cup serving, and have 27 percent protein. Beans have absolutely no cholesterol, and a one cup serving of cooked beans contains 3 grams of dietary fiber. This compares to 4.7 grams for a cup of bran, and .6 grams for a cup of diced celery. Beans are an excellent source of fiber, which is so important to today's health conscious Americans.

And beans don't stop there either. They are also rich in such important vitamins and minerals as phosphorus, potassium and iron.

Mushrooms to be plentiful in Michigan

A combination of warm temperatures and sufficient rainfall could propel this spring's crop of Michigan morel mushrooms into one of the most plentiful in recent years, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

A survey of areas around the state which traditionally produce the largest crop of morels—considered by many to be the most delectable of mushrooms—shows confidence that this will be rated a bumper year.

"Best estimates are that at least a half million people head into Michigan woods and fields, mostly in May, to gather morels," stated James Drury, Auto Club Travel Operations manager. "People come from miles around to enjoy the various mushroom festivals and to look for prize morels themselves."

While mushroom festivals are the order of the day at such celebrated locations as the National Mushroom Hunting Championship in Boyne City from May 12-13 and the Mesik Mushroom Festival from May 6-13, mushroom hunters have found great success in many sections of the state.

"The northern Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula are favorite hunting spots for morels," Drury said. "But just as many morels can be found in southern Michigan if conditions are right, including soil, temperature and moisture."

Veteran mushroom hunters say the best places to search include gently rolling land covered by hardwood trees, including dead elm, with a lake or river nearby. The south slopes of hills, down in valleys and around old elm stumps also are good spots.

In general, morels appear from late April to mid-June, spreading northward across the state. Black morels usually appear first and are followed by white. For safest picking, first-timers should go hunting with an experienced hunter, or visit one of five state mushroom festivals for a guide or assistance.

In addition to the Boyne City and Mesik festivals, there are the Sixth Annual Mushroom Festival in Harrison May 5, the Morel Mushroom Festival in Lewiston May 12 and the Mushroom Mania in Grayling May 5-6 and May 12-13.

"Most of the festivals provide guides to help people find morel areas and many of the local chambers of commerce are happy to provide up-to-date information," Drury added.

When searching for morels, hunters should wear sturdy, comfortable hiking shoes and carry a basket or paper bag to hold the morels. Scissors or a sharp knife can be used to cut the morels just above the ground.

MOREL MUSHROOM PICKING TIMES

Thousands of residents and visitors will head outdoors in search of Michigan's famed morel mushrooms from late April to mid-June. Black morels generally appear first and are followed by white morels. Best mushroom hunting is near gently rolling areas with hardwood trees, especially near water. The Automobile Club of Michigan map notes the morel season in regions of the state. Mushroom festivals stated this spring are noted with a ★ on the map.

Potato production declines for 1984

Michigan potato growers, shippers and processors held a total of 1.7 million hundredweight (cwt.) of potatoes on April 1, 1984. This compares to 1.8 million cwt. a year ago, according to the Federal/State-Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Most growers, except seed producers, are in the process of finishing up shipping before spring fieldwork begins.

Disappearance for the 1983 crop from the start of harvest to April 1 at 5.7 million cwt. is 9 percent below disappearance for the same period a year ago. Disappearance during March totaled 700,000 cwt., well below movement last season. So far this season, 77 percent of the crop has been removed from storage compared to 78 percent last year.

Nationally, potato stocks on April 1 are estimated at 77.4 million cwt. in the 15 major fall producing states. This is down 13 percent from a year ago and 5 percent below two years ago. The April 1 stocks accounted for 28 percent of fall production this year compared to 30 percent a year ago. Potatoes processed to April 1 in the eight major processing states totaled 83.4 million cwt., slightly below last season's pace. Processing during March was 2 percent above a year ago.

Corn stock reduced sharply this year

Last year's smaller corn crop continues to be reflected in sharply reduced stocks levels this year. Michigan corn stored in all positions on April 1 totaled 88 million bushels. This is less than half of last year's inventory, according to the Federal/State-Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Holdings in both on-farm and commercial warehouses showed a significant drop. On-farm stocks accounted for 64 percent of the corn in storage.

wheat was Michigan's only major commodity with a higher stocks level than last year. Wheat holdings totaled 12.4 million bushels compared to 9 million bushels a year ago.

Nationally, corn stored in all positions on April 1, is estimated at 3.26 billion bushels, 48 percent less than last year's record high 6.25 billion bushels. Of the total corn on hand, 60 percent was stored on farms. Soybeans stored in all positions totaled 753 million bushels, down 36 percent from April 1 a year ago and 28 percent less than April 1, 1982. Farm stocks of 339 million bushels, were 50 percent below last April. Off-farm stocks totaled 414 million bushels, down 18 percent from April 1 a year earlier. All wheat in storage totaled 1.75 billion bushels, 7 percent less than last year's record high.

Michigan soybean stocks at 10.4 million bushels, showed a drop of 24 percent from a year earlier. Farmers held 41 percent of the soybeans in storage on April 1, compared to 71 percent a year ago. Oats at nearly 5.6 million bushels also displayed a lower level of stocks than the previous year. Winter

Frank Youdan

Frank Youdan, 88, of 58 Marjorie St., Battle Creek, passed away April 21 at the Community Hospital after a lengthy illness.

He was born in Clinton County on October 2, 1895 to Frank and Margaret Ann (Auten) Youdan. He was raised in the St. Johns area.

He was a retired farmer and had lived in Elmira from 1946-1981.

He served in France during World War I in the Army. He was self-employed as a barber in Eureka for a time. As a young man, he traveled around the country and homesteaded in Montana with his brother.

He was a member of V.F.W. Post 1518 in Gaylord and the World War I Barracks 553 in Battle Creek, where he served as quarter master.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Lewis (Mildred) Chadderdon of Battle Creek; three grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held April 23 at the Eureka Cemetery in Eureka. Arrangements were by the Farley-Estes Funeral Home.

Wilma B. Schreiber

Wilma B. Schreiber, 68, of 22751 W. Ferden Rd., Bannister, passed away April 24 at Owosso Memorial Hospital. She was born June 30, 1915 to Charles and Vita Cartwright.

She married Arnold Schreiber December 25, 1936 in St. Johns.

She is survived by her husband, Arnold; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Potter of Shtatown and Mrs. Larry Ritenburg of Bannister; one son, Richard Schreiber of Bannister; seven grandchildren; two brothers. She was preceded in death by one brother and one sister.

Funeral services were held at the Carter Funeral Home in Elsie on April 27 with Rev. Lars Anderson officiating. Burial was in the Ford Cemetery.

Animal lovers unite

Animal lovers of all ages are invited to Michigan State University May 5 for Small Animals Day.

A variety of young animals will be shown in a natural setting on MSU's farms from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

"Small Animals Day provides the opportunity for children and adults to visit a farm and see the animals on an individual basis," says James Jay, assistant director of academic programs in the MSU College of Agriculture and Natural Resources (CANR).

McDonald's helps athletic department

Ovid-Elsie residents can buy their favorite McDonald's meal to help the Ovid-Elsie Athletic Department. Students involved in sports will be selling special McDonald's certificates which can be redeemed for $1.00 of food and beverages at McDonald's restaurants at St. Johns and Owosso.

McDonald's will contribute $1.00 for every certificate sold by the students. Proceeds will be used for their athletic events.

"This project is one way for McDonald's to be an active partner in worthwhile community efforts here in the Ovid-Elsie area," said Charles McCann, owner/operator. "Everyone who purchases one of the special certificates being sold by the Athletic Department and students can receive up to a dollar's worth of food at McDonald's for every dollar spent, and at the same time, provide much-needed support to this good cause."

In the Service

Airman Mark Tribfelmer, son of Beverly Swender and stepson of Charles Swender of 8601 Krouse Rd., Ovid, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the civil engineering field.

He is a 1978 graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School.

Marine Sgt. Gary Lowrie, son of Milton and Beulah Lowrie of 11620 Watson Rd., Bath, has completed the Basic Avionics Technician Course.

During the self-paced course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, the students received instruction on the fundamentals of electronic circuitry and were introduced to the wide variety of electronic equipment items currently installed aboard Navy and Marine Corps Aircraft. They studied airborne radar, communication and computer equipment, plus the technical manuals, safety precautions and troubleshooting procedures used for maintaining each.

Marine Lance Cpl. David M. Wood, son of Richard and Alma Wood of 303 W. Lincoln St., St. Johns, has completed the Advanced First Term Avionics.

During the 26 week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn., trainees studied airborne communications, fire control systems and antisubmarine warfare systems.

In addition to the technology of these systems, they studied mathematics, physics, electronic theory and the operating principles of digital and analog computers.

Navy Airman Steven Rogers, son of Bill Rogers of Grand Ledge and Joanna Rogers of DeWitt, recently returned from a six-month deployment. He is a member of Helicopter Anti-submarine Squadron-15 (HS-15), based at Jacksonville, Fla., and embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence.

During the deployment, the squadron saw combat action, and participated in a major NATO exercise.

HS-15 began the deployment by participating in Operation "Urgent Fury" in Grenada. The squadron flew in support of ground operations for three weeks.

After leaving Grenada, the squadron travelled to the Mediterranean, where it took up station off the coast of Beirut, Lebanon. While there, HS-15 helped support the Multi-national peacekeeping Force.

Leaving the Mediterranean, the Independence went to the North Atlantic for NATO exercise "Teamwork 84", the largest NATO exercise ever conducted. HS-15 provided air support for this exercise.

Port visits were made to Haifa, Israel; Naples, Italy; and Portsmouth, England.

CITY OF ST. JOHNS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING PRELIMINARY CONSIDERATION OF 1984-1985 FISCAL YEAR BUDGET AND ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

There will be a public hearing for preliminary consideration of the City of St. Johns proposed 1984-1985 fiscal year budget and the 1984 City tax levy, in the City Commission Chambers at 121 E. Walker Street, St. Johns, Michigan on Monday, May 14, 1984 at 7:45 p.m.

*MILLAGE RATE COMPARISONS

	1981	1982	1983	Proposed 1984
OPERATING	10.00	9.52	9.72	9.72
DEBT	4.10	3.80	3.60	4.19
TOTAL MILLS	14.10	13.32	13.32	13.91

Under State law (Act 5 of 1982), the change in State Equalized Value for existing property would result in a 9.70 base tax rate for 1984 operating purposes. You should note that for the first time in numerous years no tax increase factor was applied to City parcels. The estimated increase for City operating tax revenues is only .0021% or $1,398.34.

The millage increase proposed for debt is required by a scheduled increase in principal payments on three of the four outstanding bond issues.

The proposed budget assumes the continuation of the same millage rate of 9.72 mills for general operations. The City may levy, under charter, up to a maximum of 10 mills for operating purposes but chose not to increase said levy.

Once you've decided to mow with the best, it's only a question of how fast you want to finish.

No matter what kind of lawn you have or how much time you want to spend on it, there's a dependable, top-quality John Deere mower that's designed for the job.

If, for example, you have a lawn of a quarter acre or less, your best bet is probably a walk-behind mower. There are several models available, including the 21-inch self-propelled version pictured above. It comes with a dependable 4-hp engine, a deep die-cast aluminum deck, and rear-wheel gear drive.

If you own a larger lawn, you may prefer one of the five new John Deere riding mowers. Even the 8-hp R70, the lowest cost model, will mow a half-acre in just 30 to 45 minutes, depending on the amount of trimming to be done. It has a 30-inch mower, a full-length welded steel frame, a 5-speed shift-on-the-go gear-drive transmission, and an optional 6½-bushel rear grass bag. Or, if you mow an acre or more, a John Deere lawn tractor may be in order. The 116, for instance, with a 46-inch mower and 16-hp engine, will mow an acre of lawn in about 45 minutes. All five lawn tractors can provide added versatility with optional front blade, snow thrower, dumpcart, lawn thatcher, and rear-mounted grass bagger (for 30- or 38-inch mowers).

HEAVY-DUTY TILLER

John Deere 6-hp tiller prepares deep, fine seedbeds... saves hours of hoe work. Wide turbo tines mix and mulch soil thoroughly to 7-inch depth... adjust to working widths of 13 to 24 inches. Optional tine extensions increase tilling width to 34 inches. Reverse gear lets you back tiller out of tight spots. Pressure-activated clutch handle — release it and all action stops.

Calling Colleen

Dear Colleen:

What can you do with an old grouch who spends his full time trying to make everybody else miserable just because he has physical ailments that keep him constantly out of sorts with the world? Doesn't he know that he has lost the respect of all of his relatives? They just don't come around any more. I would leave, too, if I didn't think he would starve himself to death if he were left alone. He reads your column, so I use this medium to say, "Straighten up, pops!"

Jana

Dear Jana:

I wouldn't criticize pops too strongly until I had walked in his shoes or sat in his rocking chair. But, you are quite right that a sufferer shouldn't look for company in his misery. And, some people develop into constant grippers without ever realizing that they are making things tough for everyone around them. Maybe there's a message here for somebody.

Dear Colleen:

I'll admit that I'm not very handy around the house. I can barely drive a nail without bending it or busting my thumb. But, I don't think my wife knows how much I resent her constant harping on my lack of talent. She never misses a chance to tell someone that I am all thumbs and completely helpless in the "handyman" department. She finds it a flaw in my character and I find it distressing, but can do nothing about it.

Ben

Dear Ben:

If inability to perform as a handyman is the only flaw in your character, your wife should count her blessings and drop the subject forever.

SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Just Thoughts

Wisdom is not a product of age, but of experience. We begin to gain wisdom at that point in life when everything that happens to us becomes a learning experience. We profit in some way from the bad times as well as the good times.

If we are unable to learn from our mistakes, we may well go through life as a "loser." This is the tag that the younger generation often places on an individual who stays in hot water by repeating the same mistakes again and again.

The older generation knows, however, that winners don't always win. Through the history of time, great achievements have been recorded by individuals who failed and who stumbled time after time, only to get up and have another go at it.

You could write it off as simple perseverance. But, it's more than that. The doers of life are people of wisdom and maturity. And, it was wisdom that brought them to an important level of maturity—that stage in life when one begins to succeed because they refuse to let the fear of failure turn them away from a good effort.

As we grow older, we need both wisdom and maturity. Without these, we may be content to step aside when the world says we're "too old" or "too tired" or simply over the hill.

If we have wisdom, we know our capabilities. If we have maturity, we know what we can do and how far we can go. We can be in control.

WHAT DEMONS BELIEVE May 6, 1984

Background Scripture: James 2.
Devotional Reading: Leviticus 19: 15-18.

I'm rather confident that this is one question to which you've not likely given any thought: "What do demons believe?"

But, lest you jump to the conclusion that I am simply scraping the bottom of the biblical barrel, let me assure you that the question as to "what demons believe" is very, very relevant to your own life and faith—perhaps painfully so.

For the answer to this question is that demons believe pretty much what you believe!

WORDS AND WORKS

Although that statement may seem quite unorthodox, I hasten to inform you that my source is quite "orthodox," assuming you regard the source of orthodoxy. For it is the New Testament Apostle James who says: "You believe that God is one; you do well. Even the demons believe and shudder" (James 2:19). The problem with demons, James is suggesting, is not that they hold wrong beliefs, but that they don't act in accordance with those beliefs.

But James isn't really concerned with demons—a preoccupation that seems to obsess some Christians today—but with followers of Jesus Christ and particularly those who, like the demons, believe the right things but don't do them! "For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so faith apart from works is dead" (2:26).

There have been those who have concluded that, in light of statements such as these in James 2, there is a very real controversy between Paul—"a man is justified by faith apart from works of law" (Romans 3:28)—and James. Yet this is one of those controversies that is more apparent than real. It is a conflict of words, not meanings. Ironically, both James and Paul use Abraham as their example. Both quote Genesis 15:6—"Abraham believed God and it was reckoned to him as righteousness" (Paul in Romans 4:3 and James in James 2:23). So both Paul and James are one in calling for belief that moves us to live rightly instead of just thinking or even speaking rightly.

SHOW YOUR FAITH

I am convinced that both Paul and James would agree that faith is not simply an idea in the mind, but a conviction that motivates what we do. And that's why this is so contemporary: we still tend to miss the meaning of faith, forgetting that Jesus himself taught that faith must produce the right fruits (Matthew 7:20). We still tend to think we have responded in faith when we have told a brother or sister in need, "Go in peace, be warmed and filled" (James 2:16).

Noting that many so-called "friends of music" tended to spend a great deal of time in arguing about music, a famous musician observed that "Great music is not composed for argumentation, but rendition."

The same is true of great religion.

Poor posture causes backaches

Most adults at one time or another suffer lower back pain, and in many instances, the cause of the pain stems from poor posture. It stands to reason, then that if you sit hunched over a desk all day, your back will ache.

Sitting for long periods of time can be a more stressful position for the lower back than standing or walking for similar amounts of time. It is important to learn the correct way to sit to eliminate this stress.

The normal posture of the lower back is a slight forward curve, and the curved area often is referred to as the small of the back. You should sit in a chair so the small of your back can be pressed against the back of the chair. Your feet should be flat on the floor and your knees at hip height. Any office chair that hugs the small of your back is both comfortable and an aid to good posture.

You may want to cross one leg over the other. This places one knee above the hip so the pelvis tilts and the small of the back is flat, taking some of the stress off the lower back. Alternately resting a foot on a small stool under your desk also elevates the knee and takes some stress off the lower back. Arm rests on the chair also help in reducing stress on the back while sitting and getting up.

Here are some additional suggestions for alleviating the lower back pain caused by poor posture at your desk:

Don't hold the telephone between your head and shoulder.

Don't sit at your desk all morning or afternoon without a break. Get up occasionally and walk around. Sit at your desk and stretch out your legs. If no one's looking, put them up on your desk for a few minutes.

Never sit on a high stool to work. Your legs are left dangling unsupported, placing unnecessary strain on your lower back.

If you must stand for a long period of time during your work day, alleviate back strain by standing with one foot several inches above the floor on a foot rest or other support.

Poor posture at your desk may be only one factor contributing to your lower backache at the end of the day. You may have begun the day with the early twinges of a backache by sleeping on a mattress that is too soft. A firm mattress is necessary for good sleeping posture. If you sleep on your side, put a pillow under your head so your neck is aligned with your spine. If you sleep on your back, be sure to keep your back flat on the mattress. Sleeping on your stomach can be unusually stressful to your lower back.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harvey Sutter and Joanne Sutter, husband and wife, of the township of Bath, Clinton County, Michigan, Mortgagees, to Michigan National Bank, a National Banking Association, Mortgagee, dated the 3rd day of July, A.D. 1978, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Clinton and State of Michigan, on the 12th day of July, A.D. 1978, in Liber 299 of Clinton County Records, on page 702, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Twenty-Seven Thousand Six Hundred Seventy-four and 42/100 ($27,674.42) Dollars

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Clinton County Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on Wednesday, May 9, 1984 at 8:00 P.M. in the Clinton County Courthouse, St. Johns, Michigan. The subject of the public hearing will be the consideration of the following:

ZC-3-4-84 Watertown Charter Township-Rezoning Amendment to the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance.

Rezoning from M-1, Light Industrial District to R-1A, One Family Rural Residential district the following legally described parcel of property which generally lies in Sec. 28 of Watertown Charter Township on the south side of Grand River Avenue West of I-96 and east of Forest Hill Road.

Part of the W 1/4 of SW 1/4, Sec. 28, T5N-R3W lying S. of US-16, beg. at SW cor. of Sec., th. E. 699', th. N. 865.8' to cen. of hwy., th. NW 1/4 718', S. 1055' to beg.

The present use of the subject parcel is single family residential and farming. Rezoning the parcel will eliminate a nonconforming use and ensure that in the event of a fire or destruction the applicant could reconstruct the residence.

The rezoning petition and OR-1-78, the Clinton County Zoning Ordinance are available for public inspection in the Department of Development Control located at 1003 S. Oakland Street, St. Johns, MI between the hours of 8:00 A.M. - 12:00 Noon and 1:00 - 5:00 P.M. Monday through Friday. Interested persons are requested to attend the hearing and voice their opinions in respect thereto or written comments may be forwarded to the department. Chop Suey Skillet, delicately seasoned with ginger, makes the most of fresh vegetables and cooked beef.

Ideas for appetizing, quick-to-fix dishes are not always easy to find. Your fortune is about to change thanks to this Chop Suey recipe.

This dish, loaded with fresh vegetables and seasoned with ground ginger and sherry, stretches one cup of cooked beef far enough to serve three.

Add Oriental noodles, Won Ton soup, fortune cookies and tea for an authentic taste and touch of the Orient.

CHOP SUEY SKILLET

- |   |                          |
|---|--------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine                               | 2 tablespoons dry sherry |
| 1 cup green onions cut diagonally in 1-inch pieces              | 1 cup diced cooked beef  |
| 1/2 cup diagonally sliced celery                                | 1 cup bean sprouts       |
| 1/2 cup green pepper strips                                     | 1 tablespoon soy sauce   |
| Generous dash ground ginger                                     | 1/2 cup sliced radishes  |
| 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) Campbell's Condensed Golden Mushroom Soup | Cooked rice              |

1. In 10-inch skillet over medium heat, in hot butter, cook green onions, celery and green pepper with ginger until just tender.

2. Add soup, sherry, beef, bean sprouts and soy sauce. Heat; stirring occasionally.

3. Add radishes. Serve over rice. Makes 3 1/2 cups or 3 servings.

In many areas of the country, luscious fruits like strawberries, blueberries and raspberries are seasonal, and we need indulge ourselves whenever we can.

The Fruit In Crust recipe featured here uses fresh strawberries and bananas in one sumptuous tart. A layer of smooth Royal® Instant Pistachio Pudding and Pie Filling provides a delicious contrast in flavor and texture to the fresh fruit.

FRUIT IN CRUST

- 1 (17-ounce) package frozen puff pastry
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 (3-3/8 ounce) package Royal Instant Pistachio Pudding & Pie Filling
- 1-1/2 cups milk
- 1 cup strawberries, sliced
- 1 banana, sliced
- 1 cup whipped cream or topping

Preheat oven to 450°F.

Roll pastry into 10-inch square; fit into 9-inch pie plate or quiche plate; trim edges. Place foil in center of crust. Fill with uncooked rice or dry beans to weight down pastry. Reduce oven temperature to 400°F. Bake pastry for 15 minutes. Brush with beaten egg and bake an additional 5 minutes; cool.

Prepare instant filling according to package directions for pie using 1-1/2 cups milk. Spread in crust. Chill 1 hour. Arrange sliced strawberries and bananas over filling and garnish with whipped cream or topping. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

There's certainly nothing trivial or trifling about this spectacular show-off dessert. "Plain" cake is converted into a layered beauty with pudding, whipped cream and fruit.

Trifle has been an English tradition since the 17th century, where it was originally made by soaking sponge cake in wine or liqueur — then adding fruit, jam, custard, whipped cream, and sometimes, macaroons.

In this updated trifle recipe, sherry, brandy or rum is used with restraint. Orange juice can be substituted for an alcohol-free version. The lavish preparation of the "classic" trifle has been simplified with "convenience foods". Assemble the trifle in your most gorgeous glass bowl or compote and no one will suspect that such an elegant dessert is actually an easy do-ahead recipe.

JUST A TRIFLE

- 1 frozen pound cake (10 3/4 oz.), thawed
- 1/2 cup sherry, brandy, rum or orange juice
- 2 cans (17 1/2 oz.) Thank You Vanilla Pudding
- 1 can (21 oz.) Thank You Cherry Pie Filling
- 1 carton (4 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed

Cut cake into 1/2-inch cubes. In pretty glass bowl, place a layer of cake cubes. Sprinkle with sherry (or liquid of your choice). Spread about 1 cup pudding over cake, forming a thin layer. Top with a few spoonfuls of cherry pie filling (doesn't need to make a complete layer). Continue layering until ingredients are used (except whipped topping). Make final layer of whipped topping.

Refrigerate at least two hours before serving. Makes 6-8 servings.

For a neat-to-eat version of the popular Mexican taco, try this zesty Corn-Burger Taco Pie. The corn helps stretch a smaller amount of meat into an economical main dish.

CORN-BURGER TACO PIE

CRUST

- 1 cup all purpose flour
- 1/4 cup cornmeal
- 3-oz. can french fried onions, crushed
- 1/2 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 1/4 cup water

FILLING

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1.25-oz. envelope taco seasoning mix
- 3/4 cup water
- 12-oz. can Green Giant Niblets golden whole kernel corn, drained
- 1 cup shredded lettuce
- 2 oz. (1/2 cup) shredded cheddar cheese
- 1 medium tomato, chopped

Heat oven to 375°F. In medium bowl, combine flour, cornmeal and french fried onions. Add margarine and 1/4 cup water. Stir until dough holds together. Press in bottom and up sides of ungreased 9 or 10-inch pie pan. Bake at 375°F. for 20 to 25 minutes or until light golden brown.

In large skillet, brown ground beef; drain. Stir in taco seasoning mix and 3/4 cup water; simmer 15 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally until liquid is reduced. Stir in corn; cook until thoroughly heated. Spread mixture into baked crust. Top with lettuce, cheddar cheese and tomato. 6 servings.

Sicilian Pizza can be made easily at home. The sauce is made conveniently with "V-8" Vegetable Juice.

If spring fever has a hold on you, just being outdoors is the best cure. It is the perfect time to: do some yard work; begin a new exercise program; or just visit with neighbors you have not seen over the winter.

As the sun goes down, you will be left with a hearty appetite but not much energy for fussing in the kitchen. This Sicilian Pizza can be prepared quickly and easily at home. It is good enough to rival what is sold at the neighborhood pizzeria. Home-made pizza is an economical alternative to "ordering out." This delicious pizza will serve eight for only $3.30*.

SICILIAN PIZZA

- |                                       |  |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| 1 tablespoon butter or margarine      | 1 cup finely chopped drained canned tomatoes     |
| 1/2 cup chopped onion                 | 3 cups biscuit mix                               |
| 1 large clove garlic, minced          | 3/4 cup water                                    |
| 1 teaspoon Italian seasoning, crushed | 1 package (8 ounces) mozzarella cheese, shredded |
| 2 cups "V-8" Vegetable Juice          |  |

1. Preheat oven to 425 F. Lightly grease 15 by 10" pan. To make sauce: In 2-quart saucepan over medium heat, in hot butter, cook onion with garlic and Italian seasoning until tender; add "V-8" Vegetable Juice and tomatoes. Reduce heat to low; cook for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool.

2. To make crust, in large bowl, stir together biscuit mix and water with a fork until a soft dough forms.

3. Pat dough evenly into prepared pan. Pinch edges to form 1-inch rim. Spread sauce evenly over dough; top with cheese.

4. Bake for 20 minutes or until crust is golden. Cut into wedges. Makes 8 servings.

SPANISH OMELET

- 1 can (7 oz.) Bumble Bee Solid White Tuna
- 1 medium onion, diced
- 1 medium green bell pepper, seeded, diced
- 1 clove garlic, pressed
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1/4 cup diced green chiles
- 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 teaspoon fines herbes, crumbled
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 8 eggs
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/4 cup butter
- Dairy sour cream

Drain tuna. In saucepan, sauté onion, green pepper and garlic in oil until vegetables are soft. Stir in tomato sauce, green chiles, cheese, fines herbes, sugar and salt. Simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Remove from heat. Stir in tuna. Cover. For each omelet, beat 2 eggs with 2 tablespoons water and 1/4 teaspoon cumin. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in 7-inch omelet pan until bubbly. Pour in egg batter. Cook over medium heat, lifting edges to allow uncooked portion to run under and brown. When brown and firm, yet moist in center, slide onto serving plate. Fold in half. Repeat with remaining eggs. Spoon sauce over each. Dollop with sour cream. Makes 4 servings.

Open Letter to Our Readers

Dear Reader,

Readers are the life-blood of a newspaper. Likewise, a newspaper can and should be the life-blood of the community. We need you as a reader and we like to think you need us as a link to the community. We have been going through many changes with The Clinton County News, trying to improve its content by becoming more of a community newspaper.

The Clinton County News comes to you by second class mail which assures that you get the paper on time. From now on, it will be delivered to your door by mail on Tuesdays in order to accommodate our new advertisers. We will have a much larger circulation, which means we will reach more people with the paper.

In order to retain our second class permit -- to assure that you will receive The Clinton County News on time -- we must have a second class controlled permit, which means that we have to have 50% paid subscribers and/or customers requesting that they receive the paper. This is to show the Post Office that yes, indeed, you do want to receive The Clinton County News.

We are asking for and appreciate your support.
