Imposters sought in local robbery of woman

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

The Clinton County Sheriffs Department is currently looking for three men believed to have taken $6,500 from an 82-year-old area resident, while under the false pretense of Consumer Power workers.

According to Detective Dick May, on May 23rd, the three men went to the door of an elderly woman and explained that they were Consumer Powers employees who were checking electric meters. After telling the men where the meter could be found, the three proceeded to cut the phone wire without telling the woman.

May said they then returned to the door, explaining that there was a major problem with the meter and that they needed to check her fuse box.

Allowing the imposters into her home, the men proceeded to tell the woman that there was a wire that could possibly break off, that could result in a flash fire if the whole house wasn't rewired. The men suggested that the rewiring process could be accomplished for an estimated $8,000.

When the woman explained that she didn't have that much money, the men then convinced her that her insurance company would cover any costs that she couldn't provide, bringing the costs down to $6,500.

According to May, the woman said all three men were very polite, causing her to mistakenly put her trust in what she thought was actual Consumer Power employees. When one man offered to drive her to the bank to withdraw the money, she reluctantly accepted.

Upon leaving the bank, the man offered to hold her money so that no one would steal it. After placing it in his back pocket, the woman reported that the man then said he saw some of his crew members and told her they would follow her back to her home to begin the rewiring project.

Upon returning to her home, the two men that were left at her residence were gone, with an additional $50 stolen from her dresser. And the other man never returned with the $6,500.

"We just want to warn senior citizens," May said. "Don't be conned into anything. Consumer Powers employees all have proper identification cards."

May added that an hour and a half after the local incident, a similar incident occurred in Shiawassee County, in which three men posing as Consumer Power employees tried obtaining $8,600 from an 81-year-old resident. May said that the men weren't able to obtain the money, however, because the resident had previously been alerted to the possibility of con artists in a similar case.

The third suspect was a white male, in his 20's. He had dark complected skin and had a small build.

The men, in both cases, were reportedly seen driving a dark brown mid-size car.

May said that anyone who might have information on the whereabouts of the individuals, should contact the

May described the first suspect as a white male, between the ages of 18 and 20. He stood about 5'7" to 5'9" and weighed approximately 180 pounds. He had shaggy sandy-brown hair, a round face and crooked teeth. He had a pudgy build, with reddish, sunburnt skin. He was wearing a blue tee-shirt, faded blue jeans and spoke with a southern accent.

Suspect number two was also a white male, in his 30's, with reddish blond hair. He was described as having a beard and mustache and reddish, sunburnt skin. He stood about six feet tall and had a medium build. He was wearing an aqua tee-shirt with a "Free the Gypsies" pin. He also had a southern accent.

Sheriffs Department immediately.

He added that in every case, residents should ask for proper identification before allowing anyone into their home. If they refuse, call the Sheriff Department or the Consumers Power company immediately.

Woman sought in kidnap attempts

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

The Clinton County Sheriffs Department has recently issued a warning to all area residents concerning a woman who is posing as a Protective Services worker and attempting to kidnap area children from their parents.

According to Detective Dick May, the Gratiot County Sheriffs Department recently reported two instances of a white female, in her late 20's, going to the door of a residence and asking for a child by name. She claims to be either a Protective Service worker of a Health Department official currently investigating a case of child abuse.

May said that once the parents allow the woman into their home, she tries snatching the child from their arms and runs to the door, attempting to steal the child away from the family. May added, however, that she has always been stopped before leaving with the child.

Similar attempts have also been made in Gladwin and Lake Counties, May said. "It's important to remember that all Protective Service and Health Department workers have proper identification, complete with pictures, and that at no time will they take a child from a home without court papers or in the presence of a uniformed police officer."

May said the woman was a white female, in her late 20's, standing between 5'8" and 5'10". She weighed approximately 180 to 200 pounds and was heavy set. She had dark, sandy brown hair and wore a brown hat with a white feather. She was also wearing a black blazer jacket and off-white slacks.

She was described as talking with a "thick tongue," wore burnt red lipstick, plum-colored rouge and white nail polish. She had a silver ring on her ring finger, a

Old tokens sought by out-of-state historian

To the Editor:

I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by stores, barber shops, Indian Traders, saloons, forts and other businesses years ago. The tokens were "good for" $1, 50 cents, 25 cents, 12 and a half cents or such in trade or merchandise or "good for" a loaf of bread, one drink, one shave, one ride or whatever. They were usually made of metal, and while having the general appearance of a coin, they made in all shapes and sizes with some even picturing buildings, animals, etc.

I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area years ago and I would be most interested in obtaining some of them for my collection.

I am hoping that if you have a "letter to the Editor" section in your paper that you might mention my search. I know that this request is relatively unimportant but I do get a great deal of enjoyment from my hobby and I do believe that these concrete reminders of our great heritage are worth preserving.

I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these tokens or from anyone that might be able to help me.

Any help you can give me of any kind is greatly appreciated. I now live in South Dakota and my address is: P.O. Box 1573, Sioux Falls, South Dakota 57101.

Thank you in advance and best wishes.

Riley School applauded locally

To the Editor:

Last Friday, my wife and I were invited to demonstrate a portion of our collection of 100-year-old foot-powered tools at Riley School, on the corner of Pratt and Lowell roads, in the St. Johns school system. The event was part of the Michigan Week activities.

We are happy to report that if anyone needs their faith in the future restored, they should take an opportunity to spend an entire day at this school as we did. The building was clean and neat, and the students were friendly, courteous and well disciplined. It speaks well for the teaching staff and the entire St. Johns school system.

It was a very enlightening and enjoyable day. Sincerely,
 Bill and Caroline Carter

Letters to the Editor

Response to Democratic counterpart's letter

To the Editor:

As 10th District Republican Chairman, I feel compelled to answer the recent letter of my Democratic counterpart regarding the current effort being waged by our Republican candidate for Congress, Bill Schuette. The reason I feel compelled to answer is that our party, from the local level to the national level, is truly enthusiastic about the candidacy of Bill Schuette, and we want to make sure that he gets elected in November.

Bill Schuette formally announced his candidacy and campaign theme on January 25, 1984. New Leadership for Tomorrow. He specifically stated what New Leadership for Tomorrow means.

New Leadership for Agriculture. With nearly one-third of the economic base of the district directly related to agriculture, our district needs a congressman who serves on the Agriculture Committee. We don't have that today.

New Leadership for developing new jobs for our workers. Unemployment continues in double digit figures in the northern reaches of our district. This is simply unacceptable.

New Leadership for an Improved Quality of Life - education, health care and environment.

New Leadership to stop wasteful government spending. The Grace Commission report contains good examples of the fact that government does not operate like a business -- a business that must live by the bottom line. We need to tighten up and use our valuable tax dollars more wisely.

New Leadership for Better Government - not more government. We must continue to support Ronald Reagan to keep this country moving in the right direction. However, we must make sure that our district shares in that economic recovery. We need a congressman who will be part of the "Solution Team" in Washington. How many times do you think Don Albosta is invited to the White House to consult on economic solutions when he voted against President Reagan's programs in 82 percent of the time in 1983?

Political candidates don't become public figures overnight. The first step as a challenger is to establish your name and the office for which you are running. Once people know who you are, then you work to develop the trust that is necessary to ask for their vote via the issues.

Bill Schuette understands the issues - agriculture, health care.

jobs environment, government spending, education and how they impact people in mid-Michigan. He knows because he has talked with thousands of residents over the last 11 months.

As we all watch this campaign progress, we can expect to see new approaches to political campaigning from Bill Schuette. The "Shoe T" billboards are a good example of a new method to solve a difficult name pronunciation problem quickly. I am confident that Bill will carry that same energy, enthusiasm and commitment to new approaches to solving our problems to Washington when elected in November.

Sincerely,
 Dennis Starner

St. Johns Rotary Club begins preparations for 4th of July Festival

The St. Johns Rotary Club is pleased to announce it will again sponsor the annual 4th of July Festival. This year's Festival will be held in the St. Johns High School parking lot and that immediate area, commencing on June 29, and running through the evening of July 4.

The St. Johns Rotary Club has made a concerted effort this year, as in years past, to furnish quality entertainment for Clinton County area residents over the 4th of July weekend.

This year, the festival will commence on June 28, when the carnival furnishing rides and amusements from Schmidt Amusements of Standish, Michigan, opens its doors. Special arrangements have been made this year to run the carnival for five days based on a pay-one-price-for-all the rides you want to ride on a particular day. Tickets will be on sale at the midway for $6 a person or tickets may be obtained in advance from any St. Johns Rotary Club member for only $5. This special arrangement will continue each day from the beginning of the carnival up to the 4th of July. On the 4th, all rides will be 75 cents per ride.

In conjunction with the 4th of July Festival, the St. Johns Rotary Club is again sponsoring a Country and Western show which will be presented on June 30th, at 4 and 8 p.m., at the Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School auditorium.

Tickets for the Country and Western show will be priced at $5 for an adult and $5 for each child, or $9 for a family up to five persons.

The 4th of July Festival will culminate as it has in the years in the past with the biggest and best fireworks in the Mid-Michigan area on the evening of July 4th. Again, in the St. Johns High School parking lot area.

Please remember, if you are one of the many people who attend the fireworks display at the high school parking lot area, please park all your vehicles in designated parking spaces and leave the streets in that area open for ingress and egress for emergency vehicles. The St. Johns

Rotary Club has experienced some difficulty in past years in moving emergency-type vehicles through the area during the fireworks display, creating what could be a serious problem if it continues into the future.

St. Johns Rotary Club is also pleased to announce it will again sponsor, in conjunction with the Festival, a raffle with cash prizes being awarded the night of July 4th, after the fireworks have been displayed. We urge all citizens in the Mid-Michigan area to support the raffle since the money from the raffle goes directly to pay the costs of the fireworks used in the 4th of July display. In recent years, monies generated from the sale of raffle tickets has not covered the costs of the fireworks display, thereby placing the continued presentation of the fireworks display in serious jeopardy. We urge everyone who is interested in continuing the annual 4th of July fireworks display to support the activity by buying raffle tickets from any St. Johns Rotary Club member at $2 a ticket or three for $5.

Prior to the adoption of the 12th Amendment in 1804, the candidate who came in second in a presidential race automatically became vice-president.

Local man arrested in larceny

By SUSAN OWENS
 Staff Writer

Donald Derwin Upton, Jr., 29, of W. Maple Rapids Road in St. Johns, was arrested May 23rd in connection with a series of larcenies occurring at the Federal Mogul Corporation in St. Johns.

According to St. Johns Police Chief Lyle French, the arrest came as a result of an ongoing investigation during the past several years. Upton is one of several persons arrested and charged with larceny from a building and larceny over $100 in several repeated incidents of illegal removal of tin from the Federal Mogul plant.

Upton was arraigned by Judge Lewis on May 25th and bond was set at $2000. At that time, the defendant requested a preliminary examination to occur. No court date has been set.

In a separate incident, police arrested Scott Lynn Feldpausch, 20, of 1300 W. Kinley Road, in St. Johns, on May 31st, for a forgery that occurred in April of this year. He was arraigned in the 65th District Court and bail was set at $500.

Green Meadows view Dairy Month

Photos by Susan Owens

By SUSAN OWENS
Staff Writer

In 1922, Merle Green decided to purchase 250 acres of land in Elsie, enough land, he felt, to start his own dairy farm.

Today, his farm has set a worldwide record for having the largest herd of registered Holstein cattle.

According to Green, all 3000 cows have papers tracing their ancestry back to 1880. The records include the individual name, amount of milk produced and the distinct markings on each cow.

Although he began the farm himself, some 62 years ago, his entire family now takes an active part in the management of the 4000 acre farm. His sons, Duane and Velmar, are the presidents of Green Meadow Farms, Inc., with his grandchildren soon to be included in the corporation. Together, they oversee the 40 employees who tend the cattle, produce the feed (actually made at the farm) and cultivate the land at the expanding farm.

Green said that 1500 cows are milked an average of 18 hours a day, producing an estimated 62,000 pounds of milk per day, an equivalent of 30,000 quarts.

At the same time, the family is presently seeking more efficient ways to produce the milk, including the incorporation of the most modern methane gas plant in the world. Green explained that a technological process using the cow's mamure will soon be developing enough energy to run the entire farm. He added that what the farm doesn't use, will be sold to Consumer's Power.

"The cattle business is actually quite a scientific thing now," he said. "We'll soon be putting in a new computerized milking parlour that will record things like how much milk is produced daily."

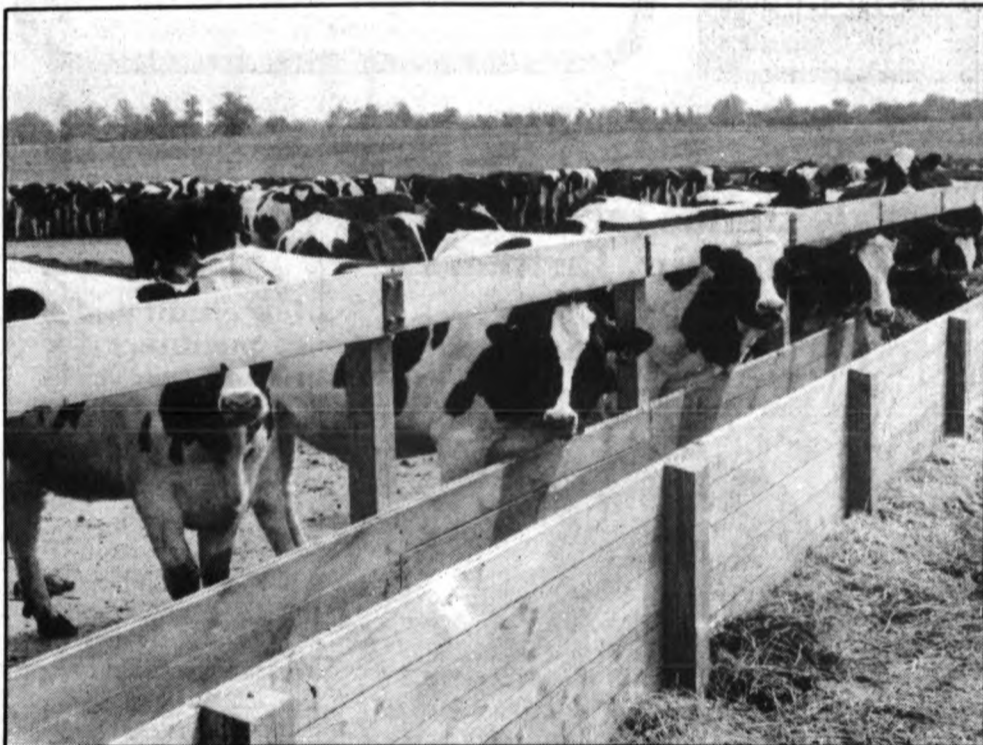

Green invites the public to come tour the farms during Dairy Month.

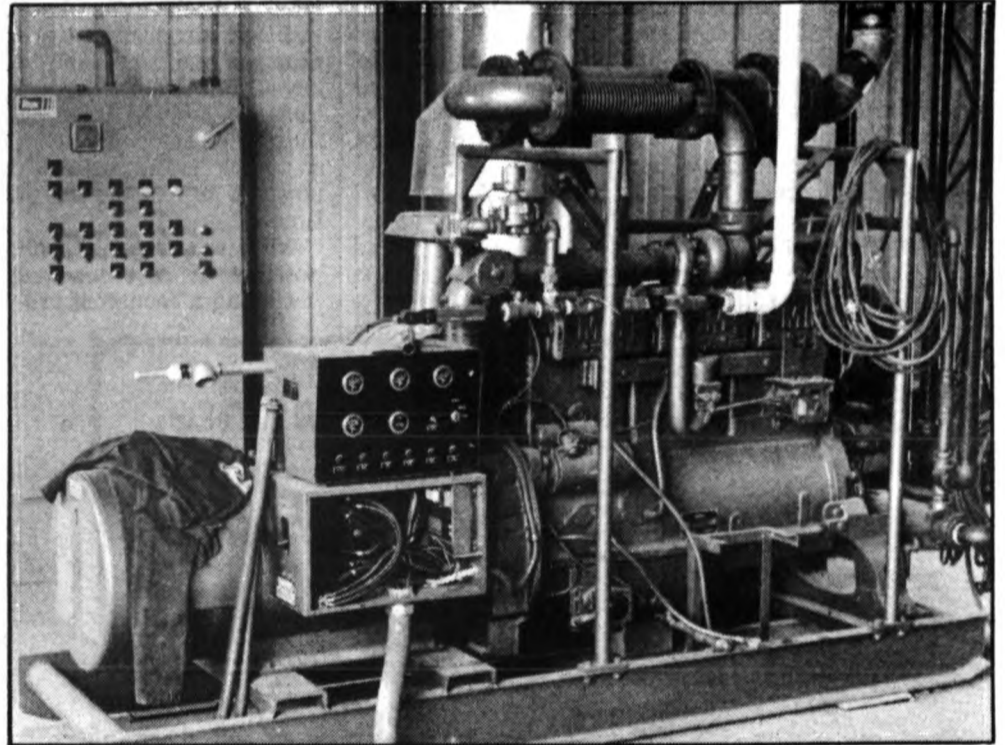

MERLE GREEN began his dairy farm in 1922, with 250 acres.

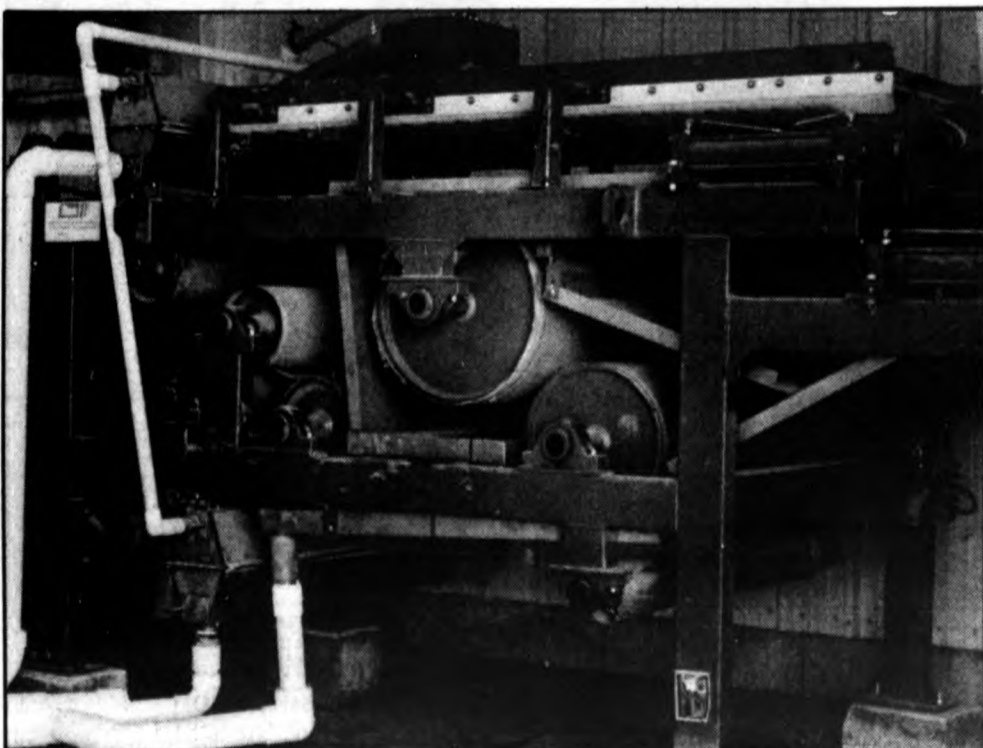

TODAY, he stores his own feed in large storage areas and uses tractors to transport the feed to the barns and cows.

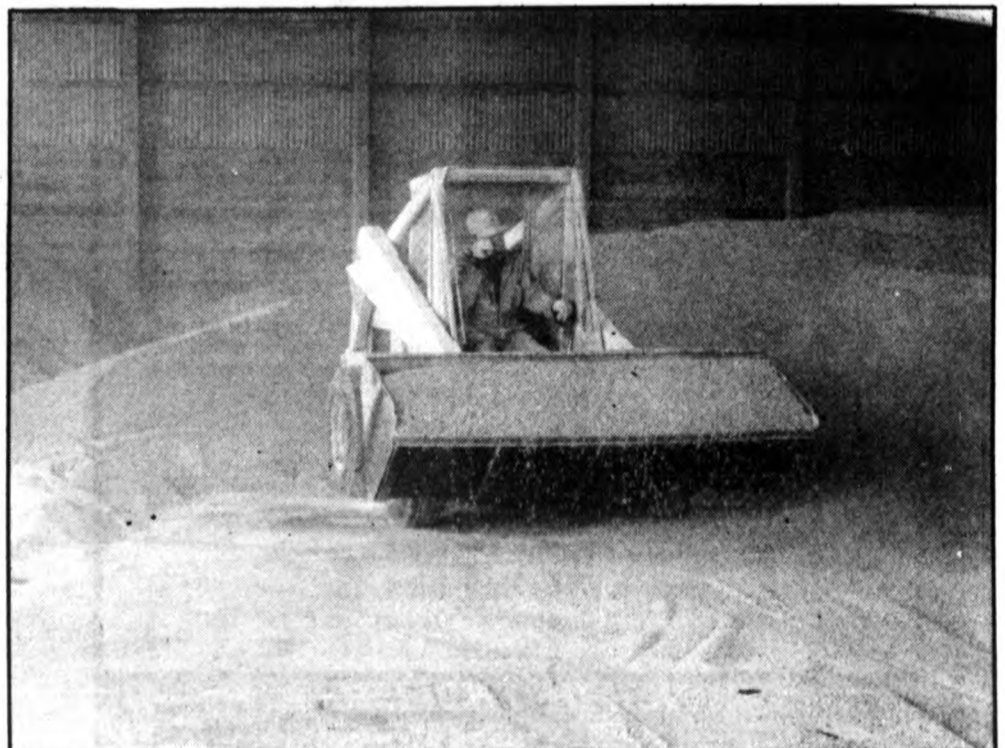

FIFTEEN HUNDRED COWS are milked 18 hours a day at Green Meadows.

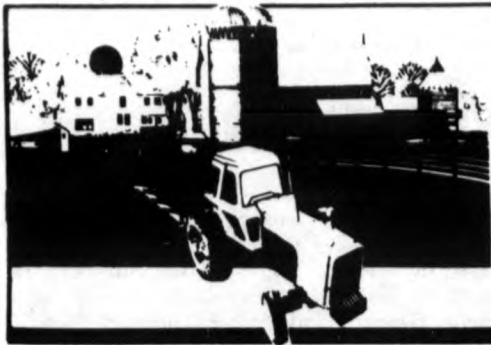

THE FARM IS EXPANDING to include the most modern methane gas plant in the world.

THIS DRYER IS THE FIRST of its kind to be used in the farming industry.

EVEN MIXING THE FEED for the 3000 registered Holstein cattle at the farm, becomes a chore.

Plant disease battled best by built in resistance

In the battle to save the vegetable garden, plant diseases are often the invisible enemy. By the time the gardener notices that plants are dying or heavily damaged, the battle is lost.

"Your best defense against plant diseases is built-in resistance," says Christine Stephens, Michigan State University Extension plant pathologist. "Selecting and using resistant varieties can do more to reduce plant disease problems than anything else you can do."

Check seed packets, the labels in bedding plant packs and the descriptions in seed catalogs for mentions of disease resistance, she suggests. In tomatoes, look for the letters V and F—and sometimes N—after the variety name. These indicate resistance to Verticillium and Fusarium wilt disease—and nematodes.

For a guide to disease-resistant varieties, consult your county Cooperative Extension Service office. Lists of MSU-recommended varieties include many high producing varieties that are resistant to the more common crop diseases.

Inspect transplants

before you buy them and avoid any that have swellings on the roots, spots on the leaves, sunken spots on the stems, yellowing or other signs of abnormalities.

As extra insurance against crop diseases, rotate closely related crops so they don't follow one another in the same spot in the garden year after year. For instance, avoid planting tomatoes or peppers this year in the same place that grew potatoes, tomatoes, peppers or eggplant last year. Will organisms tend to build up in the soil where these plants are grown year after year. Likewise, members of the cole family of crops—broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, kohlrabi and radishes—should not follow one another.

Melons, cucumbers, summer and winter squash, pumpkins and gourds could follow cole crops or tomato family crops but should not follow one another in the same spot. Insect control and sanitation can also be factors in minimizing plant diseases, Stephens notes. Bacterial wilt of cucumbers and squash is carried into the garden by the cucumber beetle. You must control the beetle to keep the disease from getting established. Diseased plants should be pulled and destroyed as soon as they begin to droop so that incoming beetles cannot pick up the disease organism from them and transmit it to healthy plants.

Fertile soil, adequate moisture, good soil and air drainage, and freedom from competition against weeds and damage by insects are also factors in preventing disease. Insufficient nutrients, too little or too much water, lots of weeds and attack by insects stress plants and make them more susceptible to attack by disease organisms.

Some disease organisms need free moisture on leaf surfaces to get established, Stephen notes. These diseases will be more common in plants grown in low-lying or shady areas where soil and air drainage are poor and plants are slow to dry off after rain or irrigation. She advises watering the garden early in the day so plant foliage doesn't stay wet for long periods of time.

When crop rotation isn't possible or diseases are becoming a recurrent problem, soil fumigation may be the solution. Soil fumigants will rid the soil of disease organisms and also give some control of weeds and harmful insects. Most materials used to fumigate garden soil are restricted use chemicals that may be purchased and applied only by a licensed pesticide applicator. Consult local garden store operators to find out what materials are available and get the names of people to apply them. Fumigation should rid your garden of disease organisms for several years.

Some plant diseases, especially fungus diseases that cause spots on leaves and fruits, can be treated to minimize damage to the crop.

New safety tool reduces chain saw kick-back

Consumers with older model chain saws now have a new safety tool in the form of the low-kick chain to reduce the risks of injury from chain saw kickback.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, kickback is the sudden and potentially violent rearward and/or upward movement of the chain saw, often caused by the interference with the chain moving around the tip of the guide bar. This sudden and unexpected kickback can propel the moving chain saw into contact with the operator, often with serious results.

Government safety experts say that recent improvements in the design of saw chains have brought about the "low kickback consumer replacement chain" which is capable of reducing chain saw kickback. CPSC said owners of older model chain saws should take their saw to a dealer and have it equipped with one of the new low kickback consumer replacement chains now on the market; the cost is comparable to that of conventional chains.

CPSC said some 120,000 persons need medical attention each year for chain saw related injuries; of these, some 60,000 receive emergency treatment at the hospital. Chain saw kickback was associated with one in five of these injuries.

The government safety agency offered the following tips to improve operator safety and to reduce the chances of an accident while using the chain saw: always operate the saw with both hands gripping the handles; avoid situations that could cause chain saw kickback, such as not allowing the tip of the guide bar to touch any object during chain saw operation.

Refer to the owner's manual for the proper grip of the saw; check for the proper placement of the thumb and fingers on the forward handle; start all cuts at full throttle and cut at top speed until the cut is complete; keep the body clear of the natural path the saw will take after completion of the cut.

If necessary, adjust the throttle speed so that the chain does not move when the engine idles. If efforts at adjustment do not stop the chain from moving, the saw should not be used until it has been repaired by the dealer. Carry the saw carefully: the engine stopped, guide bar and chain pointed behind the body, the muffler away from the body.

Keep all safety features, such as chain brake and tip guard, operational at all times. Keep the chain sharpened and under proper tension. Refer to the owner's manual for recommendations covering use, maintenance and storage for the chain saw.

Consumers wanting detailed information from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission on chain saw safety should write: Saws, Washington, D.C. 20207.

Farm wives earn wage for helping

Recently, many farmers began paying a wage to his wife. Farm wives of course are and always have been important partners on the farm sharing in decision making, record keeping, and often participating in the long hours of farm work.

Why does this work on several area farms? First, if the wife receives a wage, she could take part of her wages and invest in her own IRA Retirement Program, up to the limit. That may be an advantage depending on the tax bracket you may be in now compared to retirement age. Maybe the money needs to be invested in the farm business or to repay debts.

Second, the farm as a whole would pay less Social Security tax because the wife is not eligible to pay into the program under a farm operation agreement. This would cause lower Social Security benefits in retirement years. Her wages would also be a direct farm expense, creating a smaller earned income from the farm.

Third, the farm could buy a health insurance policy for the wife and deduct the premium as a tax deduction as employee fringe benefits. A comparable policy must be available to other employees of the business, however. On a family farm, the wife is very often the only full-time employee. The children could even be covered by the wife's health insurance policy.

At the present time, this method appears to be legal and acceptable, provided the wife is paid on a regular basis from the farm checkbook and is actually providing labor to the farm. There is some tax strategy involved that someday may be challenged.

Leonard named as head of development section

Lyle J. Leonard, recently a resident of St. Johns, has been named head of the packing development section at Norwich Eaton Pharmaceuticals, according to Dr. Thomas L. Breon, associate director of pharmaceutical development.

Until taking this position, Leonard was senior packing engineer for Abbott Laboratories where he was responsible for packaging development of sterile injectible products and solid dosage vitamin products. Earlier, he had similar experience with Cooper and Bristol Laboratories (where he was manager of packaging development) and with Keener Corporation, a supplier of packaging machinery.

In his new position, Leonard will be responsible for the development, specifications and maintenance of all packaging components and systems for Norwich Eaton's prescription products manufactured in the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

Leonard, a native of St. Johns, graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School in 1966. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in packaging from Michigan State University in 1974.

He and his wife, Jill, of Cazenovia, New York, have one son, James. They plan to relocate from their present residence in Cazenovia, to Hamilton, New York, in the near future.

Norwich Eaton Pharmaceuticals, Inc., is a research-based, wholly-owned subsidiary of The Procter and Gamble Company, manufacturing and marketing prescription drugs, medical foods and feeding devices worldwide.

Some major trademark brands are Macrodantin, Duvoid, Vivonex, Entex and Dantrium. Their interests include urologicals, enteral feeding, respiratory therapy, bone metabolism, dermatologicals, antibiotics, malignant hyperthermia and skeletal muscle relaxants.

Applications accepted

Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) offices across the state will take applications for the Michigan Youth Corps program for two weeks beginning on Monday, June 4th, MESC Director S. Martin Taylor announced recently.

He said that 102 MESC locations throughout Michigan will be the only sites where young people can apply for the Youth Corps. Applications will be accepted through Friday, June 15th.

"Although the state legislature has not passed final Youth Corps legislation," Taylor explained, "we must begin the registration process now to insure that we will have a pool of eligible candidates ready for immediate referral to jobs once the program is approved and before too much of the summer has passed."

To qualify for the Michigan Youth Corps, young people must be 18 to 21 years old, unemployed and Michigan residents.

Preference in hiring will be given to those from families where the principle wage earner is unemployed. In addition, older applicants will be referred to jobs before younger ones, Taylor said.

The jobs are expected to Republican volunteers from Clinton County will participate in the Saturday, June 9th, "Reagan Round-Up" door-to-door voter identification canvassing in Michigan, according to Enid White, of DeWitt, Clinton County Republican Chair.

The Reagan Round-Up in Michigan is the kickoff project of the ReaganBush '84 nationwide voter identification and registration effort. Other states will hold their round-ups June 23.

"In Clinton County, our goal is to identify supporters of President Reagan," White said. "We will be going door-to-door on June 9th in an effort to identify where President Reagan's support is in Clinton County. Unregistered supporters of President Reagan will be given information and assistance in registering to vote."

"Clinton County Republicans will also be doing follow up contact with President Reagan's supporters in the months immediately preceding the November election," White added.

Those interested in volunteering for the "Reagan Round-Up" canvassing should contact Leon Brewbaker, Round-Up chairman, at 224-3251.

Before you begin the 1984 jam and jelly making season, look for a new powdered fruit pectin on the market this year. Novice and expert alike know that it's the pectin that helps assure a good "set." For those consumers who prefer a less sweet jam or jelly, new Sure-Jell Light fruit pectin is ideal because it requires 1/3 less sugar than conventional powdered pectins. There are no artificial sweeteners or preservatives in the new pectin product. The specially developed recipes provided in package leaflets use more fruit and less sugar than called for in traditional recipes. New Sure-Jell Light and regular Sure-Jell fruit pectin (the latter on the market since 1934), are side by side on market shelves, but they are not interchangeable in recipes. Both fruit pectins are equally successful in only those recipes developed for that specific pectin. With a bevy of seasonal fruits on the horizon, this new fruit pectin for jams and jellies with less sugar promises to inspire current and new jam and jelly makers.

FRESH STRAWBERRY JAM

- 6 cups prepared fruit (about 2-1/4 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
- 4-1/2 cups (2 lb.) sugar
- 1 box Sure-Jell Light fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 2-1/4 quarts strawberries. Measure 6 cups into 6- or 8-quart saucepot.

Then make the jam. Measure sugar. Mix 1/4 cup of the sugar with fruit pectin; then stir into fruit in saucepot. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a full boil. Immediately add remaining sugar and stir. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Ladle quickly into hot jars, filling to within 1/4 inch of top. Cover and process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes. Makes about 8 (8 fl. oz.) jars.

On a leisurely Sunday, when you bake a ham, use the leftovers for a tasty and time-saving dinner that is sure to please your family. The Ham Cakes and Pineapple recipe featured here is perfect for a hectic weekday after work, when you want to streamline your time in the kitchen.

You can assemble and prepare the ingredients for the Ham Cakes in about 15 minutes. Then, while they are baking, you can make a salad, steam a fresh vegetable like carrots, and set the table, all in under an hour!

Although this tasty dish serves six, it only requires one pound of cooked ham, thanks to Honey Maid® Graham Crackers. Crush these crackers into crumbs and you have a new and delicious way to extend meat. Although children and adults have enjoyed Honey Maid Graham Crackers as a sensible snack for years, cooks are now discovering that the crackers add a special flavor to many recipes.

For a free copy of "Honey Maid Graham Crackers—Recipes For You and Your Family," write to Nabisco Brands USA, Food and Nutrition Center, River Road, East Hanover, New Jersey 07936.

HAM CAKES AND PINEAPPLE

- 1 pound cooked ham, ground (about 3 cups)
- 14 Honey Maid Graham Crackers, finely rolled (about 1 cup crumbs)
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1 (20-ounce) can sliced pineapple in unsweetened juice
- Parsley sprigs

In large bowl, combine ham, graham cracker crumbs, eggs and mustard. Shape into 6 patties; set aside.

Reserve 1/4 cup pineapple liquid. Arrange 6 pineapple slices in 2-quart shallow baking dish; cut remaining 4 slices in thirds; reserve for garnish. Place patties on top of pineapple slices. Garnish with reserved pineapple pieces. Pour reserved pineapple juice over patties.

Bake at 350°F. for 35 to 40 minutes, basting with pineapple juice every 10 minutes. Garnish with parsley sprigs. Makes 6 servings.

Microwave: Prepare Ham Cakes and Pineapple as above using 2-quart shallow glass baking dish. Microwave on HIGH 9 to 11 minutes, rotating dish 1/2 turn after 5 minutes.

It's springtime! And Mother Nature is busy creating a new palette of vibrant colors, fabulous fragrances and exotic flavors.

What's more, the folks at America's favorite tea company have been doing the same thing with their line of herbal teas. The wide variety of unique flavors are aromatic and refreshing. Each one is created with natural herbs and spices for a beverage that's absolutely caffeine-free!

Pick from Lipton's delicate palette of flavors such as almond pleasure, cinnamon apple, gentle orange, quietly chamomile, roasty mint or toasty spice. Or choose from these brand new exciting additions: citrus sunset, lemon soother or tangy orange. The names speak for themselves, each representing a perfect blend of all-natural herbs and spices. For example, citrus sunset is an exotic combination of orange peel, hibiscus flowers, cinnamon and rose hips. All Lipton Herbal Teas are conveniently packaged in the familiar Flo-Thru tea bag, which lets the full flavor of the ingredients come through as it is brewed. And the brewed teas are not only deliciously soothing when prepared hot, but also delightfully relaxing when served over ice... a welcome thirst-quencher for warm spring days. Herbal Teas also add a special touch in beverage recipes. Here are a few spring fever ideas to refresh your palate with part of the herbal tea palette.

In 5-cup blender, combine tea and sherbet; process at high speed until blended. Garnish, if desired, with additional fresh mint sprigs. Makes about 4 servings.

AMBROSIA SHAKE

- 2 cups boiling water
- 8 Lipton Tangy Orange Herbal Tea Bags
- 1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple in natural juice, undrained
- 2 cups (1 pt.) vanilla ice cream

In teapot, pour boiling water over tangy orange herbal tea bags; cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags; chill.

Perk Up Pasta With Maine Fish Steak Sauce

A delicious new twist with pasta...Maine fish steaks in a tomato sauce.

Pasta's high on the list these days for those in the know about good eating. Adding to its popularity is the fact that it's remarkably easy on the budget and combines beautifully with many interesting ingredients.

Here's a recipe that teams pasta with highly nutritious fish steaks from the icy shores of Maine. Packed under the Port Clyde or Holmes labels, fish steaks are loaded with nutrition and very flavorful.

It's a great recipe when your garden is overflowing with ripening tomatoes but it's ideal for any season of the year.

PORT CLYDE PASTA WITH FISH STEAK SAUCE

- 6 medium-size ripe tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon dried basil, crumbled
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 teaspoon finely chopped garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 3 cans Port Clyde or Holmes fish steaks, any flavor
- 1 pound linguine or spaghetti
- 1 tablespoon soft butter
- Parmesan cheese, grated (optional)

Immerse tomatoes in boiling water for 15 seconds, or until skins come off easily. Peel and chop. Combine with parsley, basil, lemon juice, oil, garlic, salt and pepper. Place drained fish steaks in shallow bowl and spoon sauce over them. Set aside. Cook pasta in boiling, salted water according to package directions. Drain. Toss pasta with butter over low heat. Then add about one-third of sauce. Divide among six pre-heated deep plates. Top with remaining sauce and serve immediately. Top with grated cheese, if desired. Serves six.

A Space Age version of that American favorite...hot dogs and sauerkraut.

There's nothing simpler for serving a crowd than good old American hot dogs, accented with sauerkraut and other yummy toppings.

Hot dogs and kraut can make a deliciously easy family supper, too. They're a snap to prepare and the addition of sauerkraut insures extra nutrition as well. Sauerkraut is a low-cost, low-calorie food that's high in fiber and a good source of Vitamin C.

Try this recipe for Space Shuttle Franks for a new version of the basic favorite:

SPACE SHUTTLE FRANKS (Serves 8)

- 8 hot dogs
- 8 hot dog buns
- 2 cups (16 oz. jar, can or polybag) Silver Floss sauerkraut

Place hot dogs on squares of aluminum foil. Top each generously with sauerkraut. Wrap and cook over hot coals on barbecue grill for ten to 15 minutes. Heat buns during last five minutes of cooking.

Place hot dogs and kraut in buns and top with any of the following:

- mustard
- chili sauce
- chili
- horseradish
- sour cream...or any other topping of your choice

National Fishing Week planned

"Gone fishin'." Sound relaxing? More than 50 million Americans think so.

One of the country's greatest pastimes will be celebrated during National Fishing Week (June 4-10), a time to appreciate all that fishing in America is—the tremendous variety of fish, the enjoyment and respect for nature, and the billions of dollars it generates. Everyone who packs a rod and reel and heads for a rippling stream or a quiet pond is one of the 42 million adults and 12 million youths who go fishing each year in the United States.

Those anglers take 750 million annual fishing trips, says the National Wildlife Federation, whose 4.1 million members and supporters includes hundreds of thousands of men and women who fish.

Who are all these anglers? Some 31 percent are women, according to the NWF. About 36 million Americans fish in fresh water. Of those, 63 percent fish in manmade lakes, ponds and reservoirs; 40 percent fish in natural lakes and ponds; and 43 percent fish in rivers and streams.

About 12 million Americans fish in salt water. Of those, 55 percent fish "surf and shore;" 37 percent fish in the deep sea; and 43 percent fish in saltwater sounds, bays and tidal inlets and streams.

About 2 million anglers a year go ice fishing. About 400,000 go spear fishing, 300,000 use a bow and arrow, and 1 million go "gigging" for frogs.

Not only are these millions of anglers having fun, but they're boosting local economies as well.

Consider: The American men and women who fish spend $17.3 billion a year on the sport, including almost $4 billion for food and lodging, $3 billion for transportation, $2.5 billion for fishing equipment, $600 million for licenses and dues, $528 million for rental and other fees, $340 million for leasing and ownership fees, and $6.4 billion for special equipment such as boats and vans.

Freshwater anglers spend $7.8 billion a year. Saltwater anglers spend $2.4 billion a year. Despite these figures, not everything on the fishing front is rosy, according to the National Wildlife Federation.

"All of us who enjoy fishing must realize that the sport is threatened by many of our own environmental mistakes," said Jay D. Hair, NWF executive vice president, citing such problems as water contaminated by toxic wastes, agricultural runoff, overfishing, and dam construction on fish spawning streams. "One of the most grave threats is the loss of habitat such as wetlands, which is increasingly critical. Another is acid rain, which is already responsible for fish losses

Booklet answers questions

Questions consumers may have about their AT&T telephone set are answered in a new booklet which is available from AT&T Information Systems.

The eight-page booklet, "Telephone Talk About Your AT&T Telephone Set," tells of the changes and choices AT&T customers now have as a result of divestiture of AT&T on Jan. 1, 1984. The questions which are most frequently asked are answered, such as how to get a phone repaired; how to continue leasing a phone; who to call for what; what services are available for the handicapped; and where to buy phone sets and equipment. Toll-free numbers for contacting AT&T are also listed.

This free booklet may be gotten from AT&T Phone Center Store or by calling the AT&T consumer sales and service office on 1-800-555-8111.

in 212 Adirondack lakes and ponds, and threatens hundreds of other bodies of water across the country," Hair said.

"If we as a nation of anglers wish to continue to enjoy fishing and protect our fishing-related economy, then we must protect, enhance and restore our valuable fishery habitat."

Outdoors By Dick Bradley

Darkness gives way to gray, and then enough light to see several boats spread along the shallows of the lake. Their movement is slow and very little sound emits from any of them. They are out early to usher in one of Michigan's finest fishing traditions, the opening of the bass season.

Like the deer season opener, the first day of bass fishing offers one of the best times of the year for taking the quarry. Usually coinciding with the spawning season, visual evidence of the presence of fish is available. And if the fisherman has scouted his lake at all, he will have located several of the scooped-out, light-colored telltale signs that there are bass in the area he has chosen to fish.

He will have found a few of their beds. That same visual evidence of spawning activity is, of course, available to everyone. Being there early is an advantage.

A second advantage to pursuing bass during the spawning season is that fish will often strike out of the desire to protect their bedding territory as well as out of a sense of hunger. A lure thus cast into the proximity of spawning bass has twice the likelihood of being taken.

You may have seen the swirling wake of a bass in shallow water, chasing an intruding fish that has ventured too close. This is another way that bass give their presence away during the early part of the season. Only during intense feeding sprees do they lunge and swirl and distort the surface as much during any other part of the year.

And finally, a reason for being out early on the opening of bass season is the sheer joy of the quest. As in any kind of fishing for gamefish, there is the mystery of the unknown. On opening day more than any other time, it seems to me, we can expect the unexpected; that is fun and sport.

I can remember the gray dawn when my partner and I pushed off the waters of a lake completely unknown to us at the time. After an hour's fruitless search, we finally found a spawning area and caught and released 14 respectable bass.

I remember the time when I was about to step quietly into my boat when a large swirl near the back caused me to stop in my tracks. Slowly and carefully I rigged up my rod and cast to the spot. An almost immediate "take" thrilled me, but moments later I was landing a 4-pound channel catfish.

I remember the opener when a friend and I caught 26 bass of from 12 to 20 inches by 10 in the morning.

And I can remember the morning when I had moved carefully to a spawning area where I had earlier seen a bed and a large bass. A telltale swirl greeted my approach and just as I cast to the area with great expectations, the furry, wet head of a muskrat appeared.

These are just a new of the reasons that when the mornings of the early part of bass season become light enough to see, there are already boats moving stealthily on the lake.

Playter finishes first at Owosso Speedway

Fantastic racing with the Super Stocks occurred Saturday night on the half mile dirt oval at Owosso Speedway. Gene Playter won the feature event, with Kris Patterson placing second, Joe Dorer, third, and Ray Gadd, fourth.

The four car dash was won by Joe Dorer, of Coldwater. Dorer also won a heat event as did Dave Mulder, of Ovid. The pursuit was fast and exciting with Gene Playter holding off Kris Patterson and Pat Atgate.

Sports Stocks were equally as exciting on the quarter mile dirt oval with John Forsyth winning the feature event. Ron Parrish was second and Dave Kurka, third. Ron Parrish won the four car dash. Mike McMullen won a heat race, as did Mike Jenson. The pursuit race was won by Dave Kurka.

P-W Community Players set local stage for summer production

"Most of the staff has been chosen, and we're excited about auditions," said Kaye Pilmore. "We're hoping for a large, enthusiastic cast."

Pilmore volunteered to direct the Pewamo-Westphalia Community Players' summer musical, "Annie Get Your Gun," and plans are now underway for what could be one of their largest cast plays in the history of the group.

The PWCP is a non-profit organization which began back in 1970. Since then, the theatre enthusiasts have staged more than 22 plays and musicals, including such favorites as "Oklahoma," "The Sound of Music" and "South Pacific."

"It's an appropriate year to do 'Annie Get Your Gun,'" commented Pilmore, "as this is Irving Berlin's 96th birthday year, and one of the songs which he wrote for Annie was 'Old Fashioned Wedding.' It was the last song he wrote."

Pilmore added, "Also, Ethel Merman, who starred in the Broadway version of 'Annie Get Your Gun,' died this year, and Berlin wrote the production with her in mind."

The staff members for "Annie" include Steve Kimball, lighting; Alice Kramer, set design; Lesley Daman and Bernita Fedewa, co-musical directors; Tim Spencer, orchestra director; Darlene Costello, costume design;

Susie Feldpausch, accompanist; and Cheryl Pell, publicity. According to Pilmore, there are still openings for a stage manager and a property manager.

"We can always use lots of help," said Pilmore.

Auditions for "Annie Get Your Gun" were June 4th and again tonight, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., at the Pewamo Elementary gymnasium in Pewamo. Production dates are slated for August 10, 11, 12, 17 and 18. For more information, please call 593-2265 and 593-3278.

Brown promoted to program director

Dr. Norman A. Brown, a former resident of Bath, has been named program director of the W.K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek. Brown, currently the dean and director of the Agricultural Extension Service at the University of Minnesota, will join the Foundation on July 2nd.

As dean and director of the Minnesota Extension Service, Brown is responsible for a staff of more than 800 extension faculty serving the state's 87 counties. He is also a professor with the university and since 1974, has served as special advisor in agriculture and rural development to the Partners of the Americas, an organization concerned with improving the quality of life in Latin America and the Caribbean.

From 1972-1980, Brown was a professor and director of 4-H Youth Programs with the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University. There he administered statewide youth activities involving a staff of 220, serving 258,000 young people. For two years prior to taking that post, he was assistant director of resident instruction in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at MSU.

From 1960 to 1963, Brown taught high school and adult education in Bath. He also served on the Bath Board of Education.

In his position as a program director, Dr. Brown will work with the programming staff to develop and review Foundation priorities, evaluate and recommend proposals for funding, and administer active projects.

Areas of particular involvement will include agriculture and food supply; continuing adult education; and leadership, economic and youth development.

Delinquency rate declines for second year

The delinquency rate for single-family home loans made by the Farmers Home Administration has declined steadily for the second consecutive year.

Calvin C. Lutz, state director in Michigan, recently announced the delinquency rate in March was 12.7 percent of the Michigan Farmers Home Administration total of 25,069 single-family home loans, down from 16.8 percent in March of 1983.

"In real numbers, this means that some 980 fewer borrowers are late in their payments," Lutz said. "Those families can feel more secure with the knowledge that their loans are current. A large measure of the credit for this improvement must go to FmHA field personnel who counsel and advise homeowners on family

Safety check list warns parents

Summer is quickly approaching, and thousands of children will be finished with school and home for the next few months. Many will be unsupervised during the day while their parents are at work.

Every year, 3,000 children under the age of 14 die in home accidents, according to figures from the National Safety Council. These deaths are often due to accidents such as fires, drownings, suffocation, electrocution and poisoning, all of which can be avoided.

With these facts in mind, the Mid-Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross has developed a check-list for parents to review with their children, which should make both of them feel a little safer.

- Hold regular fire drills — and make sure there is a designated spot where everyone is to meet in the event of a fire.

- Teach children how to dial emergency numbers, and what to say once they reach those who can help them. Don't forget to have the children practice giving directions to the home.

- Tape your address and telephone numbers next to the phone. Work number, local emergency, and a neighbor who is known to be at home during the day all common examples.

- Leave a first aid kit in a designated spot, and teach children simple first aid techniques.

- Review standard safety rules, such as no matches, no climbing, no using the stove. Don't forget to include special circumstances like no swimming if you have a pool.

- Warn children not to accept rides from strangers or let them into the home. Also instruct children not to admit to callers that they are alone.

- Have children call you at specific times during the day.

- Arrive home at a designated time and be sure to let the children know if you will be late.

- Set up a snack-bar equipped with sandwiches, munchies or any other foods which do not require heating, knives or any breakable tableware.

administration, USDA's rural credit agency, makes loans to low-income families who cannot obtain mortgage credit from commercial lenders.

Lutz said the efforts of the field staff were even more impressive "when you consider that, during the two-year period, they also were processing and approving another 3,987 home loans and 3,658 farm loans."

The outstanding principal on FmHA's single-family housing loans nationwide totaled $21.9 billion as of January, a 3.6 percent increase from the previous year.

"This shows that, with proper counseling and loan servicing, low-income people can become successful homeowners even in times of economic stress," said Charles W. Shuman, administrator of the agency.

Altogether, the agency nationwide has a portfolio of about 1.75 million direct loans valued at $58.3 billion.

Spartan Ventures launched at MSU

Michigan State University launches its fourth season of "Spartan Ventures" for young learners June 17 on the East Lansing campus. The one-week enrichment sessions are sponsored by MSU Lifelong Education Programs. Separate camps focus on biology, the physical sciences, math and writing, and computer literacy.

"The need to interest youngsters in math and science has been a matter for national debate for the past year," notes Dr. Julian Brandou, Ventures coordinator and assistant dean of the College of Natural Science.

"These programs are designed to stimulate interest in science before definite educational and career goals are set."

The June 17 through August 10 program combines classroom sessions with field trips and recreational activities. The camps are supervised by faculty and MSU resident advisors.

New to the lineup this year is "Pencils and Problems," which stresses expository writing and math skills. Open to youngsters ages 12 to 15, the session are June 17-22 and June 24-29.

THE WINNER'S CIRCLE--The seventh graders at Rodney B. Wilson Middle School recently completed a substance abuse program entitled the Winner's Circle. Under the program, students were required to pledge never to take drugs, write a 200 word essay, a poem and design a poster on why they decided not to use drugs. All students who completed the projects were given a Winner's Circle t-shirt. All of the projects were judged and awards were given for the most creative projects. A ten-speed bicycle was also given away in a final drawing. The program was sponsored by several St. Johns businesses.

June 10th marks last day for insured corn sign-up

June 10 is the final planting date for insured corn according to Barbara Cranson, District Director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

"Acres of corn planted by June 10, insured by FCIC (or by private company reinsured by FCIC), must be reported by July 10 to receive full insurance coverage," says Cranson.

Acreage planted after June 10 should also be reported on the July 10 acreage report (in the "remarks" section) as being planted too late for insurance coverage.

"The final planting date of June 10 is the latest date established by FCIC to plant and expect a normal crop to be produced. Crops initially planted after this date are not insurable unless a late planting agreement is signed by the final planting date," Cranson said.

Farmers wishing to discuss local conditions, such as excessive moisture, that may affect planting should contact their local, authorized crop insurance agent as soon as possible.

Unemployment rate dips

unemployment rate was 12.5 percent, down slightly from February's 12.6 percent. The number of jobless in the state in February was 535,000, while the number of jobless workers in March was 539,000. Today's release breaks down the statewide March statistics.

Among the 13 areas, the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti, Battle Creek, Benton Harbor, Detroit, Jackson and Bay City areas had drops in their March jobless rates. The Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area had the largest decline as its rate fell from 8.3 percent to 7.2 percent, giving the area the lowest unemployment rate in March.

Flint, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Muskegon, Saginaw and the Upper Peninsula, all had marginal increases in their jobless rates during March. The Upper Peninsula had the highest unemployment rate at 19.5 percent, slightly up from the February rate of 19.4 percent.

Taylor said that all areas showed labor force growth above a month ago indicating that jobseekers are entering the labor force in greater numbers because of the state's improving economy.

Although some areas showed marginal jobless rate increases as labor force growth outpaced employment gains, unemployment in all the metro areas was significantly lower than a year ago.

Historical group organized locally

The Rochester Colony Historical Association, of Duplain, was organized May 22. Thirty residents of that area met in the United Methodist Church and elected officers.

Officers are: Robert Risley, president; John Anderson, vice-president; Jeanne Temple, secretary-treasurer; Dan Garcia and Jack Tyler, members at large. The officers named will serve as the Board of Directors.

The primary reason for the formation of the association is to save the Colony Schoolhouse from destruction. It had suffered severe damage in the April 30th windstorm. Protection, preservation and restoration of the 1866 structure are immediate goals.

The group set adult membership at $5. Children, 15 years and under, may become associate members for $1.

It was announced that a private benefactor has offered to pay all insurance costs for the building, but money is needed to pay for materials, wiring and the renovation of the building. Many hours of volunteer labor will be needed to make the project succeed.

For years, the building was used for graduation parties, wedding receptions, showers, reunions and other community gatherings, and the Rochester Colony Historical Association plans to restore the building for community use again. Several generous donations have already been received. Charter memberships will be taken until September 1.

The next meeting is Tuesday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m., at the schoolhouse if possible. If not, at the United Methodist Church.

FACTS & FIGURES

Nearly 100 million ounces of silver bullion have been accumulated in this country during the past year, reports the Bureau of Mines.

For the third consecutive year, silver available in the U.S. has been surplus to domestic industrial needs, totaling some 150 million ounces over the three years.

For silver to remain $3.50 above the average for 1982, experts report that more than 100 million ounces had to be stashed away by speculators and investors.

Industrial demand for silver is down. During the fourth quarter, 1983, consumption of silver at 27.7 million ounces was down 6.4 percent from the third quarter, according to the Bureau of Mines.

Potpourri

Dear Colleen:

Dear Colleen:

Is it possible that two people who have been married for more than 20 years really do not like one another? In our circle of friends, one couple gives this impression. They are both charming and witty in their relations with others. But they seem unable to sit side by side for five minutes without getting into an argument that involves name-calling, shouting, nasty language, etc. I find it difficult to understand.

Sam

Dear Sam:
Couples who fight and fuss, yet stay together, tend to uphold the old saying that you can love someone without liking them. Then, again, they may enjoy their bickering. Out of respect for their friends, however, they should reserve these antics for the privacy of their home. They have no right to make others uncomfortable.

Dear Colleen:

How many times should you forgive your boyfriend for stepping out on you? We go to different schools, hundreds of miles apart. We both have mutual friends at each university, so I usually find out when he has dated someone else. He is always sorry and always promises "never again." But, can I believe him?

Ann

Dear Ann:
Long distance romances often run into difficulty because people make commitments they find difficult to keep. What you need to be concerned about is whether or not the boyfriend will be able to live up to a commitment when there is no distance separating the two of you.

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

DENTURES

Maybe you've noticed that your dentist has been taking a little extra time to remind you of things you should do to take better care of your teeth. As you grow older, protecting natural teeth becomes increasingly important.

Loss of teeth leads to deterioration of the bone, changes the shape of the jaw and makes one look older. Good, solid teeth, along with proper dentures, maintain the shape of the jaw and prevent deterioration.

Don't stop reading here if you already have or are about to get a full set of new dentures. They need proper care, too.

The Federation of Prosthodontic Organizations has issued guidelines on proper care of dentures from day one. Such things as how to chew, what to do about "clicking," how to care for your dentures, and what to do with them at night. FPO also reminds that dentures are not as sensitive to hot foods or liquids or the presence of bones or gristle, which means you'll need to be a bit cautious with your eating and drinking for a while.

What we have heard others say about their problems with new dentures in times past shouldn't be of too much concern. There is an adjustment period but, once it is over, properly adjusted dentures should cause no discomfort and require only a few minutes care each day.

Dentures, like natural teeth, must have proper care, however. Improper care or use can lead to bone disease and gum disease and to problems with jaw joints and muscles that bring pain or headaches — which can lead to eating problems and poor nutrition.

So, take care of your teeth - or your dentures - and you'll look and feel younger longer.

RESISTING THOSE "EVIL SPIRITS"

June 10, 1984

Background Scripture: 1 Samuel 18:1-29.
Devotional Reading: Genesis 37:12-24.

Saul was a real human being, wasn't he?

At first, when with God's help they wanted to make him king over Israel, he hid among the baggage. But later, when he had drunk deeply of the cup of political power, keeping his throne became an insane obsession. Yes, how very human.

Of course, Saul's problem was not that the people didn't respect him. When he returned from his battles with the Philistines, the people would line the streets and hail him with "Saul has slain his thousands." With an accolade such as that in the midst of all the singing and dancing, the timbrels, the songs of joy and instruments of music, wouldn't you think he would be satisfied?

WHAT MORE?

But what really angered Saul was the fact that the people also sang, "and David his ten thousands." Instead of feeling gratified and pleased with his choice of David to lead his armies, Saul could only feel fear: "...what more can he have but the kingdom?" Like a petulant child, Saul goes into a sulk and the writer of 1 Samuel tells us,

"And Saul eyed David from that day on" (18:9).

From this day forward there would be no peace in Saul's heart or his house:

"And on the morrow an evil spirit from God rushed upon Saul, and he raved within his house, while David was playing his lyre, as he did day by day" (18:10).

I would give a name to that "evil spirit" that rushed upon Saul, I would call him "Jealousy." But, unlike the writer of 1 Samuel, I would not ascribe this evil spirit to God, just as Jesus did not attribute evil spirits to his Father. Nor would I be willing to say with the writer that the Lord "had departed from Saul" (18:12). Rather, it is apparent that Saul had departed from the Lord.

SAUL WAS AFRAID

Furthermore, the reason that the "evil spirit" could enter his life was that there was a void in Saul where God had been pushed out of his life. As Jesus was later to illustrate in his parable (Matthew 12), the evil spirits of life—fear, suspicion, jealousy, etc.—can rush in only when our hearts are empty.

Had Saul been grateful to God for what he had done with and for him, if he had been content to be the great Saul who "has slain his thousands," the evil spirit of jealousy could not have "rushed upon" him. If he had continued to walk with God, he would not have had to fear David. For it was God, not himself, who had made him king, just as it was God who was giving David his success.

"And when Saul saw that he had great success, he stood in awe of him" (18:16). That was Saul's fatal error: he kept looking at David when he should have been watching God. And is that not also often our mistake, too, focussing on the creature instead of the Creator, creating a void in our lives that invites a host of evil spirits to rush in upon us?

Ricki Burk honored as CPR instructor

Ricki Burk, a St. Johns resident, was presented with the CPR Instructor of the Year award at the American Heart Association of Michigan's annual meeting and awards luncheon, May 23, at Long's Convention Center in Lansing.

Burk has been the guiding, motivating force in expanding CPR training into a relatively rural Clinton County where very little CPR activity was occurring before her involvement.

An employee of Clinton Memorial Hospital, Burk is directly responsible for the design, implementation and day-to-day organization of a public and in-house CPR training network that is self-supporting and meets the demand for training in the county.

Prior to her involvement, approximately 200 people per year were receiving training. The figures have grown to 1300 per year and are still escalating. These figures represent the time since Burk became an instructor in 1977 to 1981, when she became an instructor-trainer and the numbers skyrocketed.

Docket No. AB-18 (Sub-No. 56)

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ABANDON

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY (C&O) hereby gives notice that on or about June 25, 1984, it intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, an application for a certificate permitting abandonment of a portion of its Portland Subdivision (formerly called Ionia Subdivision) extending from Milepost 3.43 (Valuation Station 5190+00) near Grand Ledge, to Milepost 11.54 (Valuation Station 5618+06) at end of line at or near Portland, a distance of approximately 8.11 miles, in Eaton, Clinton and Ionia Counties, MI. The line for which the abandonment will be filed includes the stations of Eagle (Milepost 4.3), and Portland (Milepost 11.5).

The reasons for the proposed abandonment are that the ownership of the line has been unprofitable, and the involved rail assets can be better used elsewhere.

This line of railroad has appeared on the system diagram map in Category 1 since August 18, 1982.

The interest of railroad employees will be protected by the imposition of Oregon Short Line conditions and/or such other conditions as the Interstate Commerce Commission may deem appropriate.

Any interested person, after the application is filed on or about June 25, 1984, is entitled to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission written comments concerning the proposed abandonment or protests to it.

Protests must contain the following:

- (1) Protestant's name, address and business;
- (2) A statement describing protestant's interest in the proceeding including:
 - (i) A description of protestant's use of the line;
 - (ii) If protestant does not use the line, information concerning the group or public interest it represents; and
 - (iii) If protestant's interest is limited to the retention of service over a portion of the line, a description of the portion of the line subject to protestant's interest (with milepost designations if available).
- (3) Specific reasons why protestant opposes the application including information regarding protestant's reliance on the involved service (this information must be supported by affidavits of persons with personal knowledge of the fact(s));
- (4) Any rebuttal of material submitted by applicant; and
- (5) If an oral hearing is desired, a request for and reasons why an oral hearing is necessary.

In addition, a commenting party or protestant may provide a statement of position and a summary of evidence regarding:

- (i) intent to offer financial assistance;
- (ii) environmental impact;
- (iii) impact on rural and community development;
- (iv) suitability of the properties for other public purposes; and
- (v) recommended provisions for protection of the interests of employees.

Written comments and protests will be considered by the Commission in determining whether an investigation is needed to assist in determining what disposition to make of the application. The Commission will automatically direct investigation if a protest is filed which demonstrates: (1) the protestant filed a feeder line application under 49 U.S.C. 10910; (2) the feeder line application involves any portion of the rail line involved in the abandonment or discontinuance application; (3) the feeder line application was filed prior to the date the abandonment or discontinuance application was filed; and (4) the feeder line application is pending before the Commission. If an investigation is conducted, the commenting party or protestant may participate in the proceeding as its interests may appear.

Those parties filing protests to the proposed abandonment and discontinuance of service should be prepared to participate actively in either oral hearings or through the submission of additional material in the form of verified statements. Parties seeking information concerning the filing of protests should refer to 49 CFR 1152.25.

Written comments and protests should indicate the proceeding designation No. AB-18 (Sub-No. 56), and should be filed with the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, no later than July 25, 1984. Interested persons may file a written comment or protest with the Commission to become a party to this abandonment proceeding. A copy of each written comment or protest shall be served upon the representatives of the applicant, Rene' J. Gunning (113), Chessie System, Suite 2204, 100 North Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21201, and Peter J. Shudtz, Chessie System, P.O. Box 6419, Cleveland, OH 44101. The original and two (2) copies of all comments or protests shall be filed with the Commission with a certificate of service.

If no protests are received within 30 days after the application is filed, the Commission will grant the abandonment request and issue a certificate which permits the abandonment to occur within 75 days after the application is filed.

The line sought to be abandoned will be available for subsidy or sale for continued rail use, if the commission decides to permit the abandonment, in accordance with applicable laws and regulations (49 U.S.C. 10905 and 49 CFR 1152.27). Applicant will promptly provide upon request to each interested party an estimate of the subsidy and minimum purchase price required to keep the line in operation. The carrier's representative to whom inquiries may be made concerning sale or subsidy terms is Barry Holt Blank (313), Chessie System, 100 North Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21201.

Persons seeking further information concerning abandonment and discontinuance of service procedures may contact the Interstate Commerce Commission's Rail Section, Office of Proceedings, or the Office of Transportation Analysis, Rail Services Planning Office, or refer to the full abandonment regulations at 49 CFR Part 1152.

A copy of the application will be available for public inspection on or after June 25, 1984, at the C&O's freight agency, 702 North Clinton, Grand Ledge, MI, open 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday (closed for lunch from 12:00 Noon to 1:00 PM). The carrier shall furnish a copy of the application to any interested person proposing to file a protest or comment, upon request.

According to deputies, Kevin Smith, 21, of Westphalia, was east bound on Oak Street, near Westphalia Street, when Derek Maxwell, 11, of Westphalia, was west bound. Reports say that Maxwell was not looking when he crossed over into the lane of the vehicle driven by Smith.

careless driving and transported to Sparrow Hospital by Mercy Ambulance.

At approximately 1:15, deputies were called to the scene of a motorcycle accident involving driver James A. Brown, 30, of St. Ignace, MI. Youth to apply for jobs last from six to 12 weeks and pay $3.35 an hour. Corps members could work a 30 or 40-hour week.

Taylor said that anticipated work sites for the program will include public parks and recreation areas, highway areas, county fairs, hospitals and schools.

MESC offices, in most cases, will be open normal working hours from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, during the next two weeks to accept applications for the Youth Corps, Taylor said.

Young people should apply only once," he stated. "Duplicate applications could cause a person to be dropped from the applicant pool entirely."

MESC offices will screen all forms and refer the names of eligible candidates to employers. Employers will then contact the applicants directly to arrange for interviews.

As in any job interview situation, Taylor advised young people to appear on time for their interview and be prepared to show proof of age and Social Security card. Failure to accept a job or to report for an interview could result in no further referrals for the youth.

Pending final legislative action, this year's Michigan Youth Corps is expected to create 15,500 summer jobs.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING

ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES
AND ON PROPOSED 1984-85 BUDGET

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on June 14, 1984, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. at 8060 Ely Highway, Middleton, MI 48856 the Board of Education of Fulton Schools will hold a joint public hearing to consider the district's proposed 1984-85 budget and to consider the levying in 1984 of an additional proposed millage rate of .4976 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Education may not adopt its proposed 1984-85 budget until after the public hearing. A copy of the proposed 1984-85 budget is available for public inspection during normal business hours at 8060 Ely Highway, Middleton, MI 48856.

The Board of Education has the complete authority to establish that 31.9 mills be levied in 1984 from within its present authorized millage rate. The additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1984 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by one and five-tenths percent (1.5%).

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss both the school district's proposed 1984-85 budget and the levy of an additional millage rate. Following the public hearing, the Board of Education may adopt its 1984-85 budget; not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing the Board of Education may approve the levy of all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.
