St. Johns City Commission

City approves sidewalk sales

By KIMBERLY MARSHALL

The St. Johns City Commission approved of a request by the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce to hold City Sidewalk Sales on July 25, 26 and 27 and to also allow free parking for those dates.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters will also be holding a donation drive on June 28 and 29 to raffle off a prize during the St. Johns Mint Festival.

The Commission decided to read and set a public hearing for an ordinance that will change the zoning classification for Block 16, which is sided by Cass, Wight and McConnell Streets and Clinton Avenue, during their June 24 meeting.

The new ordinance would change the classification from residential to office, excluding four lots of property on the south side of the block belonging to Olivea Carroll, John Caudy, Walter Pierce and Kenneth Johnson, which will remain residential.

The new classification, if passed, would also be amended to allow mortuaries, funeral homes and museums as a use by right in an office designaion.

The request for the change in classification came from Dr. Donald Koenigsnecht who was interested in purchasing the property at 102 E. Cass Street, belonging to Keith and Kay Mishler, and converting it to a dentist office.

In other business, the Commission approved of the final payment of $2,199.35 to Searles for the completion of the Garfield Street sanitary sewer project. Plus, a partial payment of $39,024.91 to Searles for the Downtown Project, leaving a balance of $6,717.55.

The Department of Public Works employees were recognized for their efforts in cleaning up St. Johns after the recent wind storm.

Series of break-in's results in some leads

By KIMBERLY MARSHALL

Clinton County Sheriffs Deputies are looking for at least two vehicles believed to be possibly used in connection with a rash of breaking and enterings that occurred in the area beginning May 20 through June 6, according to Dick May, Detective Division.

One vehicle is a compact pickup truck, white with grey primer paint, the second vehicle is a rust colored Vega. Both vehicles have been spotted near robbery sites.

Thomas Pawlicki, St. Johns, reported his house broken into May 20. Taken was an AM/FM stereo cassette and a 12 inch black and white television.

Edna Lovoll, DeWitt, reported her house broken into May 26. Taken was a Sears component stereo, a large collection of records and a 19 inch color television.

Jennette Baese, Ovid, reported her house broken into June 3. Taken was household goods, jewelry, television, microwave, clock and some bookends. Deputy Bill French was able to obtain some fingerprints from an item in the kitchen.

John Skapik, St. Johns, reported his house broken into June 5. Taken was a portable color television, cooking utensils, radio/cassette recorder and crock pot.

Larry and Carol Bashore, Ovid, reported their garage had been broken into June 5.

Taken was a cabinet tool chest, Redi-heater, air compressor and numerous tools.

David Dodd, St. Johns, reported his house broken into June 5. Taken was a microwave, television, radio and toaster. Deputy Mark Finnilla investigated and obtained fingerprints of the suspect(s) at the scene.

Pat Fox, St. Johns reported her house broken into June 5. Taken was a weed wacker, jewelry, cordless phone and a radio.

Margaret Rouse, DeWitt, reported on June 6 that sometime within the last six weeks someone had broken into her garage. Taken was a bench-type drill press valued at approximately $300.

David Cluley, Ovid, reported on June 8 that sometime between June 2 and June 7 a Farm and Fleet car battery was taken out of his 1974 Chevy pickup. The battery is a 12 volt, valued at $30.

Detective May believes that at least some, if not many, of these breaking and enterings are connected. These cases still remain under investigation.

During the past week Sheriff's Deputies handled a total of 134 complaints, including: 16 P. D. accidents, 14 assists to other departments, 10 malicious destructions of property's, seven breaking and enterings, seven reckless drivers, six suspicious subjects/activities, four domestics, four fights, four alarms, four loud parties, five larcenies, four trespassers and one personal injury accident.

The Department booked in 36 people, nine for operating under the influence of liquor.

The current jail population is 47.

Proceeds from County notes distribution given

Patricia Purtill, Clinton County Treasurer, today announced that the $3,190,000 proceeds from the County's notes sold on March 27, were placed with an additional $8,602 currently on hand in the County's 100% Tax Payment Fund and used to make a distribution to all units of government within the County on April 30th.

The distribution was for the 1984 delinquent real property taxes which were returned as uncollected to the County Treasurer on March 1, 1985.

The Borrowing will be repaid by the County Treasurer from delinquent taxes, interest and property tax administration fees that are paid into the County Treasurer's office over the next several years.

The interest rate on delinquent taxes is 12% per annum and the delinquent property tax administration fee is a flat 4% of the face amount of the delinquent tax paid.

Purtill has been the County Treasurer since January, and is the County official in charge of such borrowings.

This year's sale attracted four bids and resulted in a winning bid of 6.69%. Bids were accepted both in the County building and at the office of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan in Detroit.

The offices were connected by telephone during the sale.

"By using the dual sale approach," explained Purtill, "we are able to attract more bids on the notes. If you have more bidders, you have an opportunity to get a better interest rate and save the County money. This year there were four bidders."

According to John R. Axe of Municipal Financial Consultants Incorporated of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, the County's financial consultants, the successful sale was achieved because of Ms. Purtill's exceptional speed in reaching settlements with the various local units of government within the County and because of considerable pre-planning and pre-arrangement on the County Treasurer's part. Mr. Axe explained that because of the County Treasurer's good organization and attention to detail, this year's sale resulted in an interest rate of 6.69% per annum as opposed to 7.16% last year.

"The 100% Tax Payment Fund has resulted in greater efficiency in the handling and distribution of tax monies," Purtill said. "We now make one distribution per year to our local units of government, as opposed to two or three times per month. The fund has also been immensely helpful to all units of government in Clinton County, since their cash flow is now more consistent," Purtill added.

Congressman Bill Schuette

Dear Congressman Schuette,

Please help senior citizens and the needy by supporting the distribution of surplus commodities like cheese and butter. For those of us who are on fixed income, what with rent and utilities to pay, the extra food sure helps out. What else is the government going to do with the surpluses anyway? When we need free cheese and butter, and are willing to stand in line to get it, we really need it!

Thank you,
M.S.
Big Rapids, MI

Dear M.S.,
I am a strong supporter of the distribution of surplus commodities.

One of the most important things our government can do is to help those who cannot help themselves. The distribution of surplus dairy products is one way we can help people in need. For many folks, by the time the bills are paid, there isn't much left for clothes or food. No one should have to make that choice; by giving needy people our food surplus, they receive that helping hand that is so important.

Bath awards three degrees

By MARILYN HESS
Bath Editor

"I know now that I can accomplish anything I want to...I learned that if you just put your mind to it, you can do it," says Alberta Ledesma.

She is one of three Bath area residents who donned cap and gown to receive her high school diploma last week through the Bath Community Education Adult High School program.

Earning the diploma was the end of a long road for Ledesma. She dropped out of Bath High School after the 10th grade and left home for Florida. There she married her first husband, but the relationship failed after the birth of their son.

She returned to Lansing, and six years ago began completing school through a program there, but was dissatisfied with the instruction. She started a secretarial course at the Mason Career Center two years ago, and will receive her certificate of completion next week. But she still wanted to finish the high school classes for her diploma.

So she looked into the Bath community education programs, which began last fall as a division of the Haslett-East Lansing-Okemos community education group. There she found the one-on-one basis that allowed her to work at her own pace, and the teacher support that encouraged her to persevere.

"I think if a lot of students had the one-to-one basis, they'd go back (and finish school)," she says.

When she began last fall, Ledesma's goal was to get her diploma no later than this June. "When I found out I needed more than 200 hours, I didn't think I could do it," she says.

But in less than a year, Ledesma put in those hours at the adult high school office and found time to do the homework as well, in between raising a second child and trying to make her second marriage work.

She went for two hours, two days a week, until three months ago, when she doubled the time spent at the center in order to complete all the requirements and meet her goal this year.

Friends and family watched as she participated in the commencement ceremony at Haslett High School. Wearing navy cap and gown, she walked forward to receive the document she's worked so hard to obtain. "I didn't know what to expect," she says, "but I know I was nervous."

Ledesma is looking forward to finding a good job with her diploma and the secretarial skills she obtained at the career center. She says she knew that the chances of her getting a well-paying job would be greatly increased if she had at least a high school education. But if she does not land a job

Albert J. Fillmore, piano; Joseph Massolini, tenor; and now Brunetta Mazzolini, soprano; will be the featured performers.

Ms. Mazzolini will appear with her brother in a group of vocal duets and will present a group of solos herself.

Department to receive grant

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department received a grant for $28,000 from the State Department of Social Services. The purpose of the grant is to plan and conduct a conference that will address the issues of adolescent pregnancy in Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm Counties.

The conference will address six issues including: pregnancy prevention, prenatal care, child abuse and neglect, financial assistance and education.

A task force of professionals and concerned citizens from Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm Counties are working together to coordinate the adolescent pregnancy conference.

The purpose of the conference is to promote networking of the services available to adolescents and to develop a community plan. The community plan will possibly include: strategies on how to improve services to teens in the six areas listed above, networking among agencies that serve teens and new programs directed at serving the needs of the teen population.

Copies of the community plan will be available in September from the Mid-Michigan District Health Department.

Letters to the Editor

American Cancer Society

Clinton County Cancer Society to hold annual Golf Day

Dear Editor:

The Clinton County Division of the American Cancer Society will hold its annual Memorial Golf Day Saturday June 22 at Twin Oaks Gold Course from dawn to dusk. The course is five and one-half miles north of St. Johns on U.S. 27.

Then Twin Oaks will donate all green fees to the Cancer Society. We will have games, prizes, and a bake sale and lunch in the club house.

The golf day is one of our largest fund raising events. Last year we raised $2,210 on Golf Day of which $450 was cash donated as memorials.

We set a goal then to try to raise over $2,000 in memorials this year and already we have received $1,260. We are appealing to the public to support our project by bringing your cash memorial, in memory of a friend or relative - living or dead - to Twin Oaks Saturday.

Or, mail them to the American Cancer Society, Box 115, St. Johns, 48879.

We are appealing especially to residents in the parts of Clinton who were not contacted for donations during our door-to-door crusade in March and April. Because of a lack of volunteers, some areas were not canvassed.

Anyone with time to devote to help us in our crusade colicitaion next year is also invited to contact us at Box 115, St. Johns, 48879.

We are grateful for the fine past support of Clinton residents and are confident that through your future support the day will soon come when we will have conquered cancer.

Sincerely,
 Dick Amstutz
 Treasurer
 Clinton Unit, American Cancer Society

AGAINST CANCER

Citizen feels too much attention given to farmers

Dear Editor:

I'm writing in response to the letter from Sister Madonna Pirret. I agree with most of the things the sister had to say about the plight of the farmer. But, she is forgetting that quite a few of those famers put themselves in this predicament.

I would like to talk about another problem. What about other people? I work for a community operation and I have to take a part time job just to make ends meet every month. And even sometimes we won't make ends meet.

If I have to fix the car or if the light bill gets too high. I will never be able to retire or send my children to college.

I think people shouldn't give to much help to some of those farmers. Most of them live a heck of a lot better than I do.

The four-wheel drive pickups, nice homes, new cars and kids in college. Where is the end to this foolishness?

I have a few ideas to bat around, like Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) should take some of the farms they have foreclosed on and let them grow back to woods and sell the silos and buildings off of them. That way we could save some farmland for future generations.

With supplies so abundant, I think it could be done. Put some of those farms and farmers out of production. Save some of the soil for the next generation. It may even help to make farm prices go up, if enough of it would be done.

FmHA will never be able to sell some of those farms anyway. They are over-priced and interest is too high. If we keep torturing our land we will end up like those poor souls in Africa and other nations. They let their resources go to heck. Maybe not us, but I think of our children and their children.

I live and work in a farming community. The people pay my wages and benefits, in return, I give them my services. Like I said before, we can't make ends meet. We do not live very high either. We have no savings that can be kept. We don't have our own house, and never will even have a chance to.

I would like to have a home to call my own and become a proud resident, pay propety taxes and all of that, but the people seem to think people like me make enough money. They just don't seem to care for other people.

Instead of giving so much attention to the farmers and their troubles, lets think about the other people that work and don't get ahead.

If some of those farmers had to go out and get a steady job they probably couldn't handle it. Because they are to used to being their own boss and making their own hours.

Sister Madonna also commented on a woman who said things are tight in the gas station, that farmers couldn't buy gas to go see grandma. That's tough.

I have to go to mow my mother's lawn this summer to help pay off some of the money I owe her. I'll have to mow her lawn 80 times to pay for the money I had to borrow last summer to have my car fixed.

That's just one of the loans I've gotten from her. I thank God for Mom.

I thought that when I went out and got a job that I wouldn't be dependent on my parents anymore. But, if it wasn't for Mom I wouldn't be able to drive to work or heat my rented house.

I'm sorry I'm such a pest to my mother and others that have had to help me out. But, she keeps saying she's proud of me and to be happy I have a job. Thank God for mothers and their positive thinking.

You would think a proud community such as I work for would be proud enough to pay a wage to a person so that he or she would not qualify for foodstamps. I have too much self respect to draw them anymore.

That's why I have an extra job. My wife has to do extra work also. I'm lucky to have such a wonderful wife, most women wouldn't put up with it.

I'm not just talking for myself, but for the millions in this so called democracy. The government seems to take little more of our freedom away every year.

You may say why doesn't this guy go out and get a decent job? Because I feel I shouldn't have to go to Olds or Fishers Body just to get laid off and end up on welfare. I'd probably make more on welfare. But, I'm too dumb to give up and quit trying.

Sincerely,
 Steve Cook

The Frugal Fox moves and expands unique business

By KIMBERLY MARSHALL

The Frugal Fox has changed locations three times since it first opened its doors in 1981, but its newest location appears to be the best move yet.

The Frugal Fox moved into the old House of Flavors building on Brush Street and had a grand opening June 8. The new facilities were perfect for allowing Janet Holden, the owner, to expand the growing book selection.

"Business has been excellent since we opened up at our new location," said Holden. "We have been able to expand our book selection, create a "Cabbage Patch Kid" dolls and clothes corner and a playroom to occupy the kids while their moms shop."

Another reason she wanted to earn her diploma is for her children. "I have to show them a good example...I have to show them that school is where it's at, because otherwise you're not going to make it," she says.

The Frugal Fox is a consignment shop. Holden receives items from all over Michigan, including Flint, Owosso, Stanton and Carson City. She doesn't take just anything, either.

"I look over all the items very carefully. I send back items that don't meet up to the Frugal Fox's standards."

Holden got the idea for the shop when she had a traveling job with a seafood company and she saw many consignment stores on her travels.

"I told my husband, Tom, that I thought I could run a shop like that and he said go ahead."

Tom is an electrician at Motor Wheel, in Lansing, and helps Janet out with maintenance work.

Holden has merchandise arriving daily. She sorts and tags items with a date. After 60 days unsold items either go back to who sent it in, or, if they don't want the items back, they go to charity.

Holden has one part-time employee named Darcy Ranshaw. Business hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday, Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

'Opie' makes big time as director

Submitted by: DAVID SCOTT

Andy, Barney, and the whole town of Mayberry, North Carolina must have their head in the clouds over the success of their most famous citizen Opie Taylor.

Of course I'm referring to the red headed freckle-faced boy Ron Howard. The only thing is, Ron Howard is no longer a little boy.

While you can still see reruns of The Andy Griffith Show, or Happy Days (Howard plays a slightly older youth facing the trials and tribulations of growing up in the Fifties), he's never been more successful than he is today. You may not see his face anymore, but that's because he's Directing. Perhaps you remember "Night Shift" which launched the career of Michael Keaton (Mr. Mom), Johnny Dangerously, or Howard's huge success, "Splash" starring Tom Hanks and Daryl Hannah.

Howard's keen sense of timing and fantasy-like imagination make

This summer you'll have the chance to see Ron Howard's efforts with a fantasy heart-warming film, "Cocoon".

Without giving too much away; the story deals with visitors from another planet, and the effect they have on a community of elderly people. It's one picture the whole family will want to see.

"Cocoon" opens nationally June 21.

From child star to successful director, Ron Howard has covered the complete range in the entertainment world. Aunt Bea, you raised that boy just fine.

Opportunity to be a foreign exchange student available

A unique opportunity to learn about other countries and make international friends awaits area families which host exchange students through Pacific Intercultural Exchange.

PIE is a private, non-profit teenage student exchange program which holds exchange visitor designation by the U.S. Government.

A family may host for either a summer or a school year. French, French-speaking Tahitian, and some Spanish students will begin arriving June 27, for a six-week summer stay.

In August, Students from Spain, France,

Brazil, Mexico, Austria, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Colombia, the Phillipines, and Japan will arrive for the 1985-86 school year.

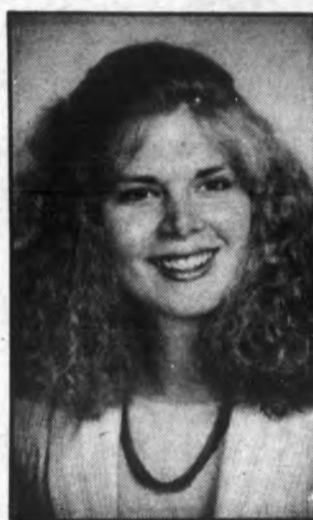

The focus of the exchange experience is the family. The exchange student becomes a son or a daughter to the host family, while attending high school and participating in community activities. Both students and families increase their interest in, and understanding of, people and cultures different from their own.

Host families come from different backgrounds, family size, and income levels.

Like each exchange student, the members of each host family have unique interests, activities and talents.

PIE matches students with compatible families. An effort is made to identify the host family will in advance of the student's arrival so that family and student can get acquainted through letters and photograph exchange.

Families interested in hosting for either this summer of the 1985-86 school year should contact Pacific Intercultural Exchange as soon as possible. Contact Patricia Blundy at 616-527-1379.

Former coach made athletic director

Dr. Ray R. Keech, Superintendent of Bay City School District, today announced the appointment of Joe E. Gonzales as district-wide athletic director.

Gonzales, 42, succeeds Art Nixon in the post. Nixon has been named Director of Adult and Community Education for the Bay City Schools.

"We are extremely pleased to have Mr. Gonzales on board with the Bay City Public Schools and we look forward to his work in continuing the fine athletic traditions established for so many years in this community," said Dr. Keech.

Gonzales came to the school district in March as Administrative Assistant for Personnel. He had been Assistant Principal of St. Johns, MI, High School.

The new Bay City Athletic Director earned a Master of Arts degree in Educational Administration at Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI, where he also earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish. He also attended Delta College, University Center, MI, for two years. He presently is working on requirements for a doctoral degree in Educational Administration at Wayne State University, Detroit, MI.

A native of Freeland and 1961 graduate of Saginaw Arthur Hill High School, Gonzales has 23 years of coaching experience in football, basketball and baseball. He has a record of 66 wins and 33 losses in football and was named regional coach of the year in 1975 and Class A coach of the year in 1982 for the Lansing area schools while coaching at St. Johns. His first coaching job was at Freeland High School with the freshman football team while he was a student at Delta. He has a composite football coaching record of 130 wins, 54 losses.

Fifteen of his former players have gone on to college grid careers, including two in Big Ten schools. He has been asked to be a member of the coaching staff at the Michigan State University summer football camp.

Prior to becoming Assistant Principal at St. Johns in 1975, Gonzales was a teacher of Spanish and French there and in the Lake Orion school system. He has also been director of the Michigan Migrant School and has 16 years experience in migrant education and was a supervisor and teacher of delinquent youth at Camp Oakland, Oxford, MI, for three summers.

Gonzales and his wife, Edna, a teacher in St. Johns, have a son, Steven, who is a member of the football and basketball teams at Alma College and is currently playing with the Alma team in exhibitions in Finland.

Gonzales will oversee the total athletic program and work with principals in the hiring of coaches.

"We want to try to continue the strong athletic tradition here at Bay City in all sports and to improve our facilities and programs for both the girl's and boy's programs," said Gonzales.

"One of our goals is to increase athletic participation at the intermediate level and to offer programs in the elementary schools," he added.

"We want to build a base so that youngsters can have the skills needed at the higher levels because we feel that it is healthy and rewarding for students to be involved in athletic programs," Gonzales said. "Athletics and academics go hand-in-hand, as a partner, not as an add-on. Many people call it extra-curricular, but I like to call it co-curricular RAVE CAN NOW EXPAND HOURS-Thanks to the generosity of the Clinton County Deputy Sheriffs Association, volunteers for RAVE (Relief After Violent Encounter) will be able to extend their hours of emergency crisis intervention this summer. A $695 donation by the local deputies' organization has made it possible for the RAVE Board of Directors to purchase a telephone diverter machine which will enable volunteers to work from locations other than the RAVE office.

"We realize now that it is staying light much later, that many domestic assaults may not even occur until well past midnight," explained RAVE executive director, Janet Holden. "Thanks to the Deputy Sheriffs Association now we can be there for clients who desperately need someone, even in the middle of the night."

Beginning immediately RAVE volunteers will be able to accept emergency call at the 224-6990 number until 6 a.m. daily. The business office will still remain open for emergency and routine office calls from 3-11 p.m.

Dieters need to make exercise time

The traditional American diet can not only be hazardous to your health, but also hazardous to your appearance!!! So many of us need to change our eating and activity habits, but we can't find the necessary motivation to make physical activity a daily event.

Are you one of those people who have been dieting for years and all you've lost is your sweet disposition? Perhaps you can see the scale creeping up year after year and at the same time realize that it is getting harder and harder to lose those pounds! No matter the situation, being overweight is harmful - both to our bodies and to our minds.

To begin a diet, you need to determine the number of calories your body has to have in order to achieve and maintain your weight. It is also essential to learn which foods are more appropriate for your body and how to substitute lower calorie foods for calorie laden ones while still maintaining a nutritionally balanced diet.

The calories you burn up every day with activity are also very important. When you lose weight, you're not only losing just fat, you are also losing some amount of lean muscle tissue. If you regain this weight, you regain fat - possibly even where there was once lean muscle tissue. You can see how important it is to keep weight off once you've lost it and to make exercise, which builds good muscle tone, a part of your day.

Effective weight loss happens gradually and slowly. Many times, a support group or a supportive family member is needed to see you through the "tough spots". Remember, don't quit - even if you "slip", that's all it is, "a slip". Just carry on with your diet from there!

The StayWell program of The Memorial Hospital is now offering a course entitled, "HOW TO LOSE WEIGHT". This course, instructed by a Registered Dietician, will meet beginning June 17, for eight weeks. No classes will be held between June 30 and July 14. For more information or to enroll, you must call the StayWell office 723-5211 ext. 1812 before June 13th.

Democrats, administrators urged to co-operate

Congressman Edward J. Madigan, ranking Republican member of the House Agriculture Committee, today urged both committee Democrats and the Administration to become "cooperative contributors to the creative process that's already begun" in drafting a 1985 Farm Bill.

In his appeal, offered as agriculture subcommittees are drafting individual sections of the massive four-year farm policy proposal, Congressman Madigan cited suggestions from Rep. Bill Schuette as a "creative sparkplug that represents the kinds of policy re-thinking we should be doing this year."

"Congressman bill Schuette's proposals for new incentives in the dairy and cash grains sections of the farm bill are exciting alternatives to the expensive, tried-and-failed policies this government has used in the past.

"There is no question in my mind that if we are going to return the business of farming to the farmer...and take the decisions out of bureaucrats hands...it's going to take our dedication to the innovative approaches that Bill Schuette has brought to the drafting of a 1985 farm bill," Madigan said.

"We need universal agreement from Republican, Democrats, the Administration and the American consumer and farm production communities that it's time to try something new. And this is certainly the time to act. Farmers are in trouble, the government is deeply in debt, our leadership in world food markets is under attack by more flexible, more competitive producer nations and government stands directly in the path of American agricultural growth.

"Unless we address these problems now, when we have a four-year farm policy waiting for re-authorization, we could wake four years from now to find America listed as a minor supplier in a wildly-segmented international food marketplace.

"Bill Schuette has been bold enough to recognize that fact. In concert with dairy and cash grain producers, and with his fellow Republican members of the Committee, he has created a fresh approach to his constituents' farm policy needs," Madigan said.

"He has captured both the initiative and the imagination of his fellow committee members. Now, when its time to commit those ideas to policy in the formal farm bill drafting, I believe that the committee and the Administration would do themselves, the farming community and the American taxpayer a serious dis-service if it did not incorporate Bill's work," Madigan said.

"My thanks are extended to him for the exciting concepts and ambition he's brought to the Agriculture Committee's most difficult job. I look forward to working with him to see that this year's farm bill lives up to the standard of excellence and creativity that he's set for us," Madigan concluded.

Republican members of the Ag Committee offered a host of new approaches for the 1985 Farm Bill's treatment of specific commodity programs in a combined presentation April 3rd in Washington. In large part, they are directed to the strengthening of America's place in international markets as a key to expanding sales and reducing U.S. farm dependency on government supports.

Republican initiatives also produced a 1985 Farm Bill commodities sections which promised to maintain expenditures at or below last year's levels, reflecting the GOP committee members' belief that American farms are severely hurt by growing federal deficits.

As committee work begins, each of the alternative proposals will be offered in detailed legislative language for majority members' responses and for comment by the Administration, whose own 1985 farm bill proposals have been largely rejected by committee members.

Motorist and vacationer should follow County Sheriffs advice

With the increase in warm weather and subsequent vacation trips, the following safety message is brought to you by your Sheriff's Department.

Motorists traveling alone at night can never be too careful, according to Clinton County Sheriff Terry Haneckow.

"Motorists encounter many problems when a car breaks down, they are in a strange place, or are lost. These problems can be avoided with a little caution," Sheriff Haneckow said.

The Clinton County Sheriff's Department offers these safety tips to motorists which will help prevent driving at night from becoming an unpleasant experience:

--prior to your trip, map out your route and be sure your car is in good working order; check belts, tires, fluid levels, etc.

--know your car; if it were to break down, know what repairs you could make on your own and have the proper tools handy.

--if you are driving in a strange place, avoid areas in which you would feel uncomfortable should you have car problems.

--always lock your car doors when you are in or away from the car; when you return to your car, check under it and in the back seat before entering.

--should you encounter a flat tire, change it in a well-lit area; park as far into the shoulder as possible when changing a tire.

--if you encounter a flat tire in what you feel is an uncomfortable area, drive to a well-lit area or a service station--remember, tires and wheels can be replaced.

--in case of a breakdown which you cannot repair, place a white handkerchief outside your window, or put the hood of your car up; this is a signal to law enforcement agents that you are in need of assistance.

--if someone approaches you car, ask them to phone the police or a wrecker; never leave the car when a stranger offers to "take a look at the problem."

--if you are lost, drive to a well-lit phone booth or service station to ask for directions.

--keep extra clothing or blankets in your car, especially in the winter months; running the car to keep warm is a dangerous alternative

"If you are lost, you can always drive to a safe spot to ask for directions," added Sheriff Haneckow, "and if your car breaks down, wait for a police officer or servicemans help. Don't trust a stranger--no matter how nice they appear to be."

Sheriff Haneckow hopes that motorists in Clinton County will feel free to contact him with any questions they may have concerning these tips.

Fowler missionary to celebrate 40 years as priest

Albert I. Koenigsknecht, Maryknoll missionary from Fowler, will celebrate his 40th anniversary of ordination to the priesthood on June 30.

He will be honored that day, together with 58 other Maryknollers, in a jubilarian Mass and celebration at the Maryknoll headquarters.

Koenigsknecht will also mark his anniversary by celebrated a mass of Thanksgiving on June 16 at Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Fowler. Koenigsknecht began his many years of missionary service in Tepic, Mexico, following ordination in 1945. In 1948 he was assigned to Puno, Peru, where he became professor and rector of Colegio San Ambrosio.

From 1948 to 1953 Koenigsknecht served as pastor of Cerro Colorado parish in Arequipa, Peru. Working among the Aymara Indians in the Peruvian highlands, Koenigsknecht directed literacy campaigns by radio for about one million people.

He was awarded a silver medal for social service by the mayor of Arequipa for his work among the poor of that town.

A member of Maryknoll's regional council in Peru for 12 years, Fr. Koenigsknecht was named local superior of Maryknoll missionaries working in Arequipa in 1955. He was appointed First Consultor to the regional superior of Maryknollers in Peru in 1956.

From 1960 to 1965 Fr. Koenigsknecht served as pastor in Juli, Peru, where he later became director of the Cursillo Movement in 1967.

In 1973 Fr. Koenigsknecht was name Apostolic Administrator of the Juli Prelature, an area one-quarter the size of Michigan with a population of 350,00 people, the majority of which are Aymara Indians. In his new position Monsignor Koenigsknecht has the responsibility of directing the church in this area, much in the manner of a bishop, although he has not received episcopal consecration. He has powers to oversee the work of the parishes, appoint priests and direct the work of the religious and lay members of the church.

Along with other prelates of Peru, Koenigsknecht had a private audience with Pope John Paul II in Rome last October. The Holy Father returned the visit in February when he stopped in Peru during his travels through Latin America.

"It is not enough to work for the poor or give them alms, but we must be interested in their world in an accompanying role," said Koenigsknecht.

"Poverty, hunger and malnutrition cause our people much suffering. Some foster violence to bring about a change, as for example the "Shining Path" guerrilla movement which had its beginnings in extreme poverty. Here is where the Church must come in to help bring about change by peaceful means," he said.

"When I came to the missions we had all the answers. Now we have none," said Koenigsknecht, noting lessons learned in years of missionary experience. Instead, a missionary's answers are found in the "communities we have come to serve," he said. "We received more than we give."

Koenigsknecht attended Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit and St. Mary's Seminary, Norwood, Ohio, before he joined Maryknoll in 1942. He is a graduate of Holy Trinity High School, Fowler. Koenigsknecht has three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Juliana Simon of Pewamo; Mrs. Mark Schrauben and Mrs. John J. Klein, both of Fowler; Paul Koenigsknecht of Fowler and Goerge Koenigsknecht of St. Johns, Mich.

Maryknoll is the popular title for the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America. It was established in 1911 by the American bishops to recruit, train and send U.S. missionaries overseas.

Today there are nearly 1,000 Maryknoll priests, Brothers and lay missionaries. Together with about an equal number of Maryknoll Sisters, established as a separate organization, they work in 30 countries of Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands.

Today's MEDICINES

by Grant Brown, Pharm.D. Jackson, MI
Nancy Wenzloff, Pharm.D. Farmington Hills, MI

Why should I continue taking my medication even after I feel better

This question is best answered with an example: Your doctor prescribes the antibiotic tetracycline for a bacterial infection. Both your physician and the label tell you to continue taking the medicine for the full course of treatment and to avoid taking it within 1 to 3 hours of other medicines, meals or dairy products. Your pharmacist advises you to avoid using antacids or laxatives while taking tetracycline and repeats the warning to take all of the medication - even if you begin to feel better.

As your vitality increases, taking the capsules seems less important and in fact becomes a nuisance. You miss a dose one day; the following day you remember to take it only at bedtime. Then you forget about it altogether.

After having spent several dollars on the medication and much more than that on the visit to the doctor, several days later your old symptoms return. Upon calling the physician, you learn that the infection is still present and again you are instructed to use all of the capsules, even if you begin to feel better. Now, wiser and determined to disregard any inconvenience, you comply and soon the infection is eliminated.

The failure of a patient to follow a course of treatment prescribed by a physician for a specific health disorder is called non-compliance. Non-compliance is a significant contributor to rising health care costs; responsible for perhaps one in 20 hospital admissions. The above example has a fairly simple solution and a positive ending. In general, however, disorders resulting from non-compliance can range from mildly uncomfortable and temporary side effects to very serious habituation and even overdose.

To combat the problem of non-compliance, physicians, pharmacists and other health care providers now are supplementing their oral instructions with written guidelines. In fact, pharmacists participating in the Statewide Patient Education Program, now offer patients written information on their prescription medications. Research shows that patients who have a firm understanding of the correct use of their medicines and a knowledge of how the medicines work are less likely to be the victims of their own non-compliance.

Meanwhile, it is important to take any medicine exactly as directed, at the right time, and for the full length of time prescribed by your doctor. And, do not stop taking prescribed medicine on your own. If you feel that it's not working for you, check with your doctor or pharmacist.

New business formed to help dairy farmers

By KIMBERLY MARSHELL

Attention all dairy farmers! Help is on the way!

Help in the form of temporary, professional assistance when you need it the most.

Tri County Dairy Specialties will help out when your hired help quits, your crops need immediate attention, you need parlor help or you're just tired and need a rest or vacation (remember those?).

These services are just the a few of the many available through this new business formed by Terry Hamrick, Owosso.

Hamrick has been busy since April contacting dairy farmers, Cooperative Extension Service specialists and others, to determine if there would be a need for this type of service. The response was overwhelmingly positive and Tri County Dairy Specialties was soon born.

Hamrick has 16 years of on-the-job experience in different phases of dairy production, two years of Dairy Science, hoof trimming skills, A.I. Breeding certification and other areas of expertise to offer.

An additional facet to his service is that he has a list of experienced people trained in different areas, so that if he is unable to help a farmer, he will contact someone who can, at no charge to the farmer.

Additional services include steam cleaning of milking parlors, milk houses and other areas, milking of dairy cattle and maintenance of related records, feeding of all stock—in short, versatile professional herdsmen for reliable service.

"I will be getting full-time secretaries for the Owosso office in the near future to set-up a 24-hour answering service and expanding services into other states.

The response to my plans in this state and others has made me feel that the potential for Tri-County Dairy Specialties is astronomical," said Hamrick.

To find out more about this innovative service and how Tri-County Dairy Specialties can help you, call Terry after 3:30 p.m. at 517-725-8919.

Beef Show set

The Michigan Junior All Breed Beef Show is scheduled for Saturday, June 22, at the Ionia County Fairgrounds in Ionia.

This is an all breed beef heifer and steer preview show. Beef heifers born September 1, 1983 through March 31, 1985 are eligible to show.

Steers must weigh a minimum of 700 pounds. Heifers will be shown by breed and age and steers will be shown by weight. There will be a commercial heifer class for non-registered breeding heifers.

Showmanship classes will also be a part of this show. The event is open to all Michigan youth from 9 through 21 years of age. Each youth may show a maximum of two breeding heifers and two steers.

There will be a $10.00 entry fee per animal entered by June 13. Entries made after June 13 will be required to pay a $20.00 per head entry fee.

Fees must accompany entries in order to take advantage of the $10.00 entry fee. Late entries will be accepted until the morning of the show.

This show is an excellent opportunity for youth to compare their beef projects to others from throughout the state and to practice exhibiting before the county fair in August.

The event is sponsored by the Michigan Junior Livestock Society, Michigan Beef Breed Associations, and Michigan Beef Cattle Producers.

For additional information, contact Ken Geuns, Department of Animal Science, at 105 Anthony Hall, MSU East Lansing, MI 48824 or phone 517-353-2924.

Agricultural News

By Marilyn Loudenslager
Extension Agricultural Agent

Milking equipment can contribute to teat end damage and mastitis.

"Milking equipment needs regular maintenance to remain in top working condition," says MSU Extension dairy specialist Roger Mellenberger. "If equipment is not properly maintained, mastitis can increase and production can drop."

Malfunctioning milking equipment can cause poor milking performance by damaging teat ends and inviting infection, or by keeping cows from milking to their potential. Systems that are not working correctly will also slow milking and increase labor, Mellenberger says.

The total milking system should be inspected at least once a year for needed adjustments and parts that need replacing. Mellenberger says a complete system analysis twice a year is better, however. Some equipment items, such as teat cup liners, require more frequent changing or maintenance.

A twice yearly system analysis should include measuring pump capacity, effective reserve capacity, pulsator function, vacuum regulator response, vacuum level, slope of milk pipelines and cleanliness of all lines and parts. A variety of equipment problems can occur that damage the cows and reduce milk production, so dairy operators should always have their systems checked by an experienced, qualified person. A visual check is not sufficient.

Milking equipment installers can usually do system inspections. Mellenberger recommends getting a service contract from the dealer to guarantee equipment checks will be made at regular intervals.

Though it costs extra, a service contract is a worthwhile investment for most operations. Availability of service contracts and the extent of contract service are important considerations when dairy operators are buying or updating equipment, he adds.

Dairy producers must take responsibility for understanding a service contract and making sure it is fulfilled. Local Extension agents can help operators determine the feasibility of service contracts offered.

Operators can do their own maintenance inspections, but special tools and expertise are required. Dealers can provide a check-off list that spells out when to check or replace each part of the milking system. This list can help operators keep track of what maintenance is needed and how often.

Operators need to understand how their equipment works to keep it running smoothly and to maintain maximum milk production. Operators who are unsure about how any component of the milking systems works should ask their dealer or an Extension agent for an explanation, Mellenberger advises.

Celebrate a festive occasion this summer with homemade ice cream. Your guests will enjoy hearing the churn work and the anticipation of ice cream's good making ice cream, and that will start a nostalgic conversation.

All ice creams, of course, carry good nutritional value because their basic ingredient is milk, but homemade ice cream has the bonus of fresh flavor along with protein, calcium and riboflavin.

Homemade ice cream will come smooth and creamy from your freezer if a few tips are followed. Determine the right ratio of rock slat to crushed ice for uniform freezing. If the mixture freezes either too fast or too slow, a coarse texture or a spongy buttery texture results. So it's important to know how to operate your ice cream freezer before you assemble the ingredients for your own dairy desserts.

If yours is one of the half-gallon electric freezers that uses ice cubes and table salt, you can usually cut the recipes in half.

The following recipe features favorite ingredients such as bananas and marshmallows, opening new taste opportunities in the Rural living

By George McQueen,
County Extension Director

The biggest problem in home gardens is not insects or plant diseases but weeds. And the first year in a new garden stop is generally the worst.

Lee Taylor, Extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University, says more first-time gardeners probably give up because of week problems than for any other reason.

"The first year in a new spot is generally the worst, because tilling the soil for the first time stirs up vast numbers of weed seeds that have been lying dormant and waiting for proper conditions to germinate. If you prevent that first year's weeds from going to seed, your residual supply of weed seeds the next year will be smaller, and annual weed problems will gradually become less serious in successive years."

Another common problem with first-time gardens is grass that keeps trying to reclaim a section of lawn turned to garden. The best way to avoid battling grass all summer is to remove the sod or kill the grass the year before you plan to convert a area of lawn to garden, Taylor suggests. Covering the would-be garden spot with old carpeting, broken-down cardboard boxes or black plastic until the grass is dead and them repeatedly tilling the spot to bring up annual weed seeds so they can germinate and be destroyed will go a long way toward eliminating first-year weed problems.

Once the garden is underway, Taylor advises mulching for weed control.

"Carpet scraps, cardboard, several layers of newspapers, black plastic, grass clippings, straw, ground corncobs and a number of other materials can be placed on the soil between the rows and around the hills of crop plants to control weeds," he points out. "These mulches stop weed growth by cutting off sunlight to weed seedlings. They also slow the loss of water from the soil and so reduce the need to irrigate the garden."

Mulches may also contribute to some types of pest problems--particularly slug problems--by creating just the sort of moist, cool environment the pests prefer.

Mulches are generally very effective against annual weeds--those that come up from seed, mature, produce seeds and die in one season. Perennial weeds, which grow from underground parts each year, are a tougher problem. Removing them before you plant or killing the underground parts with herbicides is about the only long-term solution to problem perennials.

First-time gardeners often lose their gardens to weeds because they over estimate the size of garden they can handle with the labor and tools they have available.

"The larger your garden is, the greater the chance that the weeds will get ahead of you," Taylor says. "If you can't keep week seedlings controlled with a hoe, they quickly get so big you have to resort to hand pulling. If you fall behind on that, you may have to bring in the lawn mower."

For the first-time garden to be a rewarding experience, make it small, Taylor suggest. A 10 by 10 foot plot that you can keep fairly weed free will provide a much more pleasing gardening experience than a 50 by 40 foot plot that disappears under a carpet of weeds.

Farms Index of Prices represents a small drop

The Index of Prices Received by Michigan farmers for all farm products was 119 percent of it's 1977 base for the month ending May 15.

This represents a 2 percent drop in farm prices from April, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service.

All crop and livestock commodity groups showed a decline except fruit and vegetables which remained unchanged from the previous month, prices for farm products during May were 16 percent below year ago levels.

The Index of Prices Paid by farmers, nationwide, for commodities and services, interest, taxes and farm wage rates for May was 165 percent of its 1977 average.

The index was unchanged from last month and last year. The feed and feeder livestock indexes were lower that for April, Youth between the ages of six and twelve can be a part of a new six-week summer program sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service 4-H Youth Program.

Each young person will choose from six project areas and will learn skills to complete a variety of activities in that area. The six areas are: woodworking, foods-nutrition, arts and crafts, bugs and things, sewing and horticulture.

In each of the project sessions, members will complete projects to take home and show their family and friends.

Each day the participants will work in small groups on their special project. In addition, there will be games and other activities planned for everyone. Everyone needs to bring a sack lunch except on the sixth day when a special lunch will be prepared.

The program will meet once a week for six weeks from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. The program will begin the week of June 24 and will be held in St. Johns, Westphalia and DeWitt. The program will be held in St. Johns on Mondays, Westphalia on Tuesdays and in DeWitt on Wednesdays.

The cost for the program is $6 per member. This includes the cost of all project materials, the special lunch, insurance and all resource materials.

This new program is open to any youth between 6-12 and they do not need to be previously involved in a 4-H program. Every participant will learn a variety of new skills, make new friends and enjoy working with others and completing their own special projects.

Program flyers and registration forms are available at the Extension Office.

Registration for the program is due on or before June 20. Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Cooperative Extension Service at 306 Elm Street or by calling 224-3288.

while the fuels and energy index was higher.

Michigan grown crops showing lower prices from April were winter wheat, oat, dry beans, soybeans and potatoes.

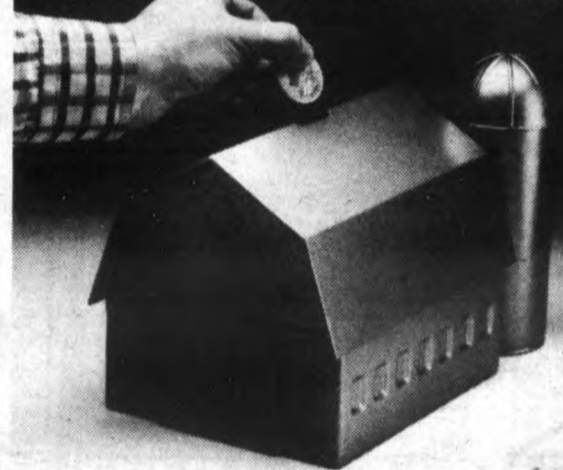

Corn and hay remained unchanged. Michigan livestock commodities showing a price decline were steers and helpers, slaughter cows milk and eggs. Calves showed a slight increase, while hogs remained unchanged from last month.

Nationally, the May All Farm Products Index of Prices Received by Farmers decreased 2 percent from April to 129 percent of its 1977 average.

Lower prices for tomatoes, cattle, wheat, milk and soybeans were partially offset by higher prices for oranges, onions, hay, lettuce and potatoes.

The index was 11 percent below a year ago.

Crystal Raceway results

Late Models give exciting performances

You had to be there...and a lot of people were...to believe the finish line performance of the top five Late Models in the feature event at Crystal Raceway on Saturday, June 8.

Bryan Hull, Roger Wing, Larry Aldrich, Gene Playter, and Andy Piercefield "put their pedals to the metal" and headed for the checkered flag in a flood of power and speed not often seen by even the most faithful fan in years of attendance at short track events.

Any of the five could have won it, but Hull actually did with Wing at his side, Aldrich and Playter right behind, and Piercefield making his bid for fourth position--all five machines taking up only four car-lengths of track space as they passed the flagstand.

In the preliminary Late Model events several drivers picked up points toward the season championship point fund: Bob Nieman had fastest qualifying time with 17:41. Playter won the fast car dash; Heat events were won by Glen Guernsey, Dennis Walker and Wing; Bob Hardin won the B-Feature.

The Pro Stock cars showed up this Saturday in force--48 total cars in the class. When the results were all in, Jeff Reist had won the feature, taked 2nd in the fast heat, and 3rd in the fast car dash, as well as having fastest qualifying time with and 18:39. Other top finishers in the A-Feature were Rodger Carman, Rick Stout, Roger Sowles, and Dave Harris, 2nd through 5th respectively.

Stout won the fast car dash, and heats were won by Dan Dulyed, John Nobach, Rusty Seavers, and Sowles. Ed Conklin won the consolation race; Nobach won the B-Feature.

The evening was not over since this was the second night for the Powder Puff class. Showing lots of driving skill were the winners of the two heats: Debbie Nieman and Sue Rinard. There were 22 cars in the two events. Second place money went to Rose Olsen and Cindy Wiggins while Debbie Reist and Robin Thompson each took third in her event.

Picking up the trophy for the Junior Fan of the week was Joey Jones, age 11, who chose Rodger Carman as the driver he wanted to ride with. Joey will receive a picture as well as his trophy.

Wednesday, June 19, the Busch Series will be at the raceway for their only show of the year. This circuit takes in the major tracks in the State, racing once a season at each. It is sponsored by the Michigan Speedway Promoters Association. Racing is at 8 p.m. for ever event at Crystal Raceway. For more information call 517-236-7380 or 517-235-4511.

Weed problem costly to Lakes dry bean industry

Weeds cost dry bean growers in the Great Lakes region an average of 180 lbs of yield or $34 per acre each year.

"Lake state growers lose an estimated 14 percent of their dry bean crop annually because of ineffective weed-control efforts," says Dr. James Chandler, chairman of the Weel Science Society of America, and professor of crop science at Texas A&M University. That represents an estimated loss of $15.9 million annually.

In Michigan alone, the average annual loss amounts to $11.9 million.

"As is true in any other crop, maximum yields are obtained when there are no weeks to compete with the crop," says Dr. Jim Kells, extension weed specialist at Michigan State University.

"Also, a weed like black nightshade, for example, can stain the beans, reducing the overall quality of the crop harvested," Kells adds, "Weeds can also make harvesting more difficult."

For effective weed control in dry beans, Kells recommends one of the following herbicide programs:

Pre-plant incorporated (rates are in pounds of active ingredient per acre):

1. 2 1/4 pounds of EPTC, and 1/2 pound of Treflan herbicide or 3/4 pound of Prowl herbicide.

2. 2 1/4 pounds of EPTC and 1/2 pound of Treflan herbicide or 3/4 pound Prowl herbicide and 2 pounds of Amiben herbicide.

3. 2 pounds of Lasso or Dual herbicide and 2 pounds of Amiben herbicide.

Pre-plant followed by pre-emergence recommendations (rates are in pounds of active ingredient per acre):

1. 2 1/4 pounds of EPTC and 1/2 pound of Treflan herbicide, or 3/4 pound of Prowl herbicide followed by 2 pounds of Amiben herbicide or 4 1/2 pounds of Premerge herbicide.

2. 1 pound of Amiben herbicide and 3 pounds of Premerge herbicide.

"EPTC herbicide provides effective weed control in dry beans and many other crops," says Ben Walravem biochemicals marketing manager for Pittsburgh-based PPG Industries, manufacturer of Genep EPTC herbicide. "EPTC has been the cornerstone of weed-control practices, have proven itself through university and on-farm trials," Walravem adds.

Kells says that farmers should "follow-up with a post-emergence treatment as needed using 3/4 pound of Basagran herbicide and crop oil concentrate to control annual broadleaf weeds such as Canada thistle, black nightshade and nutsedge. Using an effective weed-control program will help reduce annual crop loss and will increase dry bean yields and income," Kells adds.

Area youths invited to attend Cloverbud camp

Youth between the ages of six and 12 can be a part of St. Johns Cloverbuds Summer Day Camp, starting June 24.

The camp is a new program that meets every Monday for six weeks, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Smith Hall on the Fairgrounds, St. Johns.

Registration forms are due in the Extension Service office by June 21.

Each young person will chose one of the following special areas to study:

Woodworking-learn to sand wood, stain and varnish, make key rack, bread board, birdhouse or bird feeder.

Foods/Nutrition-learn to eat healthy, ready a recipe, measure ingredients, cook a different food each week.

Arts and Crafts-work on a different project each week: tin punch, stained glass, string art, scratch art, "me" mugs, etc.

Bugs and Things-learn about the insect world, start your own bug collection, learn to identify bugs, etc.

Sewing-learn to thread a needle, do some simple stitches, cut fabric, make puppets, stuffed animals, pajama bag or fabric photo frames.

Horticulture-learn about plant growth and reproduction and how to use plants, do plant experiments, do plant cuttings, make a terrarium, make a corsage, grow a carrot.

The program is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service 4-H-Youth Program and is open to all interested youth between six and 12.

Each day of the program, participants will work in small groups on their special project. In addition, there will be games and other activities planned for everyone. Participants need to bring a sack lunch each day.

The cost for the program will be $6 per youth. This is a $1 registration fee, which includes insurance, and $5 for all project materials. A special lunch is planned for the sixth week but there will not be an additional cost to the young people involved.

For more information on registering, contact the Cooperative Extension Service office at 306 Elm Street, St. Johns or call 517-224-3288.

OPEN SEASON AND CATCH LIMITS ON PIKE, WALLEYE, SAUGER AND MUSKELLUNGE

Under the authority of Section 4, Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended, being 300.4 of the Michigan Compiled Laws, the Natural Resources Commission, at its May 17, 1985, meeting, amended its December 6, 1984, order, No. CFI-112.84, Open Seasons and Catch Limits on Pike, Walleye, Sauger and Muskellunge, and ordered that the following amended order become effective May 17, 1985, and remain valid for a period of five years until March 31, 1990.

It shall be unlawful to ake the following named species except within the open seasons and daily limits prescribed (statewide regulations apply unless otherwise restricted):

Statewide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May 15 through February on walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The daily catch limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike; one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge).

The above regulations apply statewide except that walleye and sauger may be taken at any time from the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, Lake St. Clair, and Lake Erie; and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December 15 of each year. Internal Revenue Service makes amended forms Taxpayers who have filed their federal income tax return and later find that they did not report some income or failed to claim a deduction or credit may file an amended return, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, should be used to correct Forms 1040, 1040A or 1040EZ. Do not file another of these original forms. Form 1040X also may be used to claim a refund of individual income taxes.

The taxpayer should write the income, deductions and credits on the Form 1040X as they were reported on the original return, as well as any changes being made and corrected amounts, the IRS said. Then the tax should be figured on the corrected amount and the amount of tax owed or refund due should be figured. If tax is owed, it must be paid in full with the Form 1040X, the IRS said. The tax owed will not be subtracted from any refund not yet received or from any amount credited to 1984 estimated tax. A refund will be sent to the taxpayer separately from any refund related to the original return.

The IRS cautioned taxpayers to check the completed Form 1040X carefully to make sure that it shows all information called for, the year of the original return being amended and explanations for all changes made.

The form 1040X should be mailed to the Internal Revenue Service Center serving the area where the taxpayer lives as listed in the form's instructions.

An amended return must be filed within three years from the date the original return was filed or within two years from the time that the tax was paid, whichever is later. A return filed early is considered filed on the due date.

The IRS cautioned taxpayers that before they file a 1040X they should wait until they have received all Forms W-2 and 1099. Also, an amended return filed only a short time after the original return could delay a refund based on that return. Sometimes it is best to wait until the original refund has been received before filing an amended return, although if the amended return is filed after the due date, the taxpayer would be responsible for any interest or penalty due, the IRS said.

Finally, the IRS noted, if a taxpayer's return is changed for any reason, it may affect state income tax liability. Taxpayers should check with their state tax agency for details.

For more information on filing an amended federal return, write or call the IRS.

Sheehan to participate in Tuuri race

Noted runner/author Dr. George Sheehan will share his running and fitness expertise when he appears in Flint July 26 and 27 to participate in the Hurley Medical Center-Sponsored sixth annual Tuuri 10,000.

A nationally known speaker and writer on exercise and fitness, Dr. Sheehan, 66, holds race records for his age division and still competes. He will run the Tuuri 10,000, which will begin at 9 a.m. July 27 on Eighth Avenue in front of Hurley.

He will come to Flint July 26 and spend that day speaking at a noon luncheon meeting of the Flint Rotary, to the public and Hurley employees starting at 4 p.m. in Hurley's auditorium and again to runners and interested others at 7:30 p.m. at Billy's Pub and Restaurant, 448 S. Saginaw, Flint. His public talks are free.

After running the Tuuri 10,000 he will speak to runners. He will end his time in Flint by assisting at the 11:30 a.m. award ceremony.

Dr. Sheehan has written five books, several of which are available in local libraries (including Hurley's Community Health Information Library, 257-9757).

His first book, "Dr. Sheehan on Running," sold more than 500,000 copies. Another book, "Running and Being," was on the New York Times best-sell list for 15 weeks. His most recent book was "Dr. Sheehan on Fitness" (published as "How to feel Great 24 Hours a Day" in hardcover).

A cardiologist and member of the staff at Riverview Hospital in Red Bank, N.J., Dr. Sheehan also serves as medical editor and a columnist for "The Runner" magazine.

Named one of the 10 Health American Fitness Leaders for 1983 by the United State Jaycees, he was called "our most important philosopher of sport" by "Sports Illustrated." Through his talks and books he teaches people how to develop their fitness capabilities and what to do with them. His talks apply to anyone interested in fitness and any sport.

Dr. Sheehan's appearance is just one of the many special features of this year's Tuuri 10,000 and the Run for Children's Health 5k. Both races raise funds for Hurley's Arthur L. Tuuri Pediatric Center, which houses the regional neonatal and pediatric intensive care units, two general pediatrics units and a pediatric psychiatric unit.

Other special features are cash awards for top overall runners, a spaghetti dinner 5-9 p.m. July 26 at Billy's Pub (reservations may be made by calling 238-2415), a pancake breakfast at the starting line race morning and body composition analysis available at the race site.

Entry fee is $8 for either the Tuuri 10,000 or 5k. More information and entry forms are available by calling the race hotline, 257-9200.

Outdoors By Dick Bradley

By DICK BRADLEY
Outdoor Writer

Whenever man and nature come together it seems only a matter of time before nature suffers. We move to the shady woods only to cut down the trees to make room to build our homes. We build cottages on the shores of lakes and rivers known for their fish and waterfowl, only to destroy the bedding and nesting grounds by turning all the shorelines into lawns and beaches. We do these things innocently, but we do them.

Just a decade or so back, we were angered and annoyed when large numbers of our youth protested and demonstrated against the way we polluted our water and air. But once we took a look, we found that those protesters were right, and that not only were our waters polluted, but that the fish that lived in those waters had limited food value. To a large degree we tried to face and correct that situation, and indeed we accomplished much. A case in point was Mid-Michigan's Grand River which was found to have cleansed itself much more quickly than expected when given a little help.

Not so quickly corrected, because of the power of industry and big business, has been the air pollution problem. "Acid rain" as we have come to call it, has been shocking scientists with its severity for years. But until just recently we haven't even been willing to discuss the issue with our good Canadian neighbors to the north. The Canadians have known about this problem for years.

Chemical defoliants and insect sprays represent a third area that still needs more scrutiny than it's getting. And finally, just plain common sense on issues that involve the environment must be applied.

On a local scale, I recently became somewhat involved in seeking out the answer to why the Grand River's water level was lowered by "2 1/2 to four feet" in the words of a Board of Water and Light employee. The answer was quite logical. The water was lowered so that shoreline residents could work on ice damaged sea walls. A good reason at face value.

But why would concerned people lower the river for a ten day stretch, from May 18 to May 28, when that time span was critical to waterfowl and fish? A dozen phone calls to city officials and Department of Natural Resources people leave me with the impression that no one really thought about it.

In fact, the water lowering coincided with gamefish spawning and the hatching of young waterfowl. Beds of bass, according to a river-bank resident, were dug and eggs perhaps laid and then left high and dry for the sun to bake. Tiny ducks, for instance, were hatching out to be left at the mercy of dry land predators. Their nests were sometimes fifty feet from the waters that usually protect them. Obviously the timing was lousy.

I don't think that all of the damage that occurs when nature and man come together is intentional. I do think that we have learned enough about the needs of our environment to deal with them a little more intelligently.

MSU to give summer plays

Every summer since 1961, Michigan State University's Department of Theatre has produced plays with the purpose of bringing summer entertainment to the campus and metropolitan Lansing.

In July, the tradition of Summer Circle Free Festival continues with four productions primarily designed and acted by students. The performances are free of charge.

Many patrons arrive early to eat, take a walk, relax and enjoy the picnic-like atmosphere. Bleachers are available; patrons may also bring blankets and lawn chairs.

The plays are performed on the stage located behind the Auditorium Building on the banks of the Red Cedar River.

This summer's program is diverse to provide entertainment for the entire family. One of Neil Simon's most popular plays, "The Odd Couple," directed by Joyce Ramsay, opens the season July 3-6. A.R. Gurney's "The Dining Room" follows July 10-13. Director Farley Richmond describes the show as a banquet of theatrical riches in which the performers portray a wide array of characters from American life.

All plays begin at 8:15
