Tragic housefire in northern county

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

A housefire at 8003 Maple Rapids Road killed one person and was indirectly responsible for the death of another in northern Clinton County last Tuesday, Jan. 29.

Dead is Barbara Lindsley, 44, who was trapped in the apartment she lived in at the back of the house by the flames, and Robert Edgar Bennett, 40, of the Maple Rapids Fire Department, who reportedly had a heart attack at the scene.

Lindsley was the sister of Lewis Thayer, who lived in the main part of the two story house with his wife Sandy and their three children. No one else was in the house at the time of the fire. Lindsley was mentally and physically handicapped after an auto accident approximately four years ago.

In addition to the Maple Rapids Fire Department, of which Bennett was a member, the St. Johns, Elsie, and DeWitt City Fire Departments all assisted at the scene of the fire. Firemen were at the home on the corner of Maple and Scott Roads from 11 a.m., when the fire was reported, until approximately 2:30 a.m. Wednesday morning, when the body of Lindsley was found.

The alarm was called in Tuesday morning by a passing motorist who noticed the fire. The house was engulfed in flames by the time firefighters arrived.

No probable cause for the fire, which is thought to have started in Lindsley's apartment, was known at press time.

County Republicans name convention delegates

By JOE HOPPE
Staff Writer

About 50 people attended the Clinton County Republican convention in the Clinton County Courthouse Jan. 29.

Leon Brewbaker presided as chairman over the convention, with Kathy Canum acting as secretary, Terry Haneckow as sergeant at arms, Jon Newman as parliamentarian, and Bonnie Wickerham, Arden Pearson, Pat Purtil, and Dolores Betz as tellers. The convention officers were sworn in by State Senator Alan Cropsey, of DeWitt, who also gave a talk on what's been going on at the state capitol lately.

The main business of the convention was to elect delegates from the 10th and 6th congressional districts to the state convention to be held Feb. 16 in Grand Rapids. Those delegates are: 10th District; Dolores Betz, Charlene Borgeson, Leon and Terry Brewbaker, Kathy Canum, Erika Cropsey, Jack Fraser, Terry Haneckow, Jon and Marilyn Newman, Walter Nobis, Tom O'Bryant, Alta Reed, Carmen Seats, Terry Yonker, and Alan Cropsey as delegate-at-large. The 10th District alternates are: Imogene and Oliver Beck, Fred Belbeck, Dorothy Carson, Doris Cook, Mary Dove, Vita Fraser, Floyd Messer, Clayton Parker, Betty Seats, Jo Ann Slabonek, Carol Tatroe, Joyce Whitlock, and Sandra Yonker. The 6th District delegate elected at the Jan. 29 meeting was Rolf Peterson. His alternate is Gail Matthews.

After delegates were elected, Carmen Seats presented the issues delegates will be voting on at the statewide convention.

The first issue, calling for Michigan Republicans to support amendment to the state constitution allowing for the death penalty, was approved by the convention members.

Also approved was support for the establishment of federal and state enterprise zones to attract business and jobs to depressed rural and urban areas.

The convention took no position on three of the seven issues facing them. The first no position issue was on whether or not the Republican party should urge legislation which would limit the population of group homes on a population basis. The second no position issue was on whether Michigan Republicans should support legislation that would assure water quality by transferring dredge and fill permit jurisdiction from the state's Department of Natural Resources to local drain commissioners. The third no position issue was on whether Michigan Republicans should support legislation that would prevent tax supported schools universities or public institutions to be in direct competition with the private sector.

Clinton County Republicans voted to support a move by the state Republican committee to return to a state party platform rather than the present issues system. The platform system is seen as being more comprehensive and more helpful in attracting independents to the party.

The county's Republicans voted against legislation to create agricultural land reserves. Owners of land should be able to purchase or sell land for whatever purpose they choose and owning land as an economic investment were given as reasons against setting up the agricultural reserves.

Delegates from the 10th District will be voting along these issue guidelines at the state district caucuses Feb. 15 at Amway Place in Grand Rapids and at the state convention at the Ford Museum Sat. Feb. 16.

Police addition started at Bath Twp. Hall

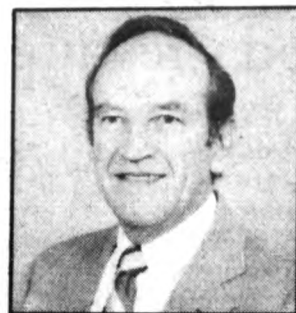

Construction started on an addition to the Bath Township Hall to be used for the township's police department Jan. 29.

The addition will measure 20 by 50 feet and contain a chief's office, officer offices, a squad room, evidence room, and interview room. The cost of the addition should be approximately $50,000, which has been budgeted in the township's 1985 budget. The money was raised over a number of years through investments by Bath Township's treasurer.

Construction is being managed by Dick Berry of the Berry Construction Company. The addition is expected to be completed by spring.

Steinman to chair mental health board

Robert Steinman was recently elected chairperson of the Community Mental Health Board, Clinton-Eaton-Ingham Counties at an organizational meeting. Steinman, a local St. Johns attorney, has served on the board since February of 1981. He has served as the Board's vice chairperson and has chaired a number of the standing committees.

Also elected to office at that meeting were Dorothy Frederickson, an Ingham County commissioner, who will serve as vice chairperson, and Carol Siemon, an Ingham County assistant prosecutor, who will serve as secretary. Ms. Frederickson has been on the Board since January of 1981 and Ms. Siemon was appointed to the Board in January of 1984.

The Tri-County Community Mental Health Board operates programs for the mentally ill, the developmentally disabled, and substance abusers.

Schools unable to provide closing info on answering machines

An Open Letter To The School Community:

Once again I come to you with the regretful news that we can no longer provide school closing information in a timely personal manner via our telephone answering machines.

This past week has demonstrated that the answering services, 224-4950 and 224-7510, cannot keep up with the demand and new misuse of the telephone lines. It seems a few of our more creative students have found how to jam the machines which in turn keeps the telephone trunk lines open so that multiple conversations can be carried out at the same time. While this may be fun for those involved, it caused a great deal of technical difficulty for the telephone company and the customers they serve. We again offer our apology to those inconvenienced by a few. Beginning immediately, the answering machine 224-4950 will carry school closing information between the hours of 6:00 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. only, along with the radio stations.

The primary source of school closing information will be the area radio stations and TV Channels 6 and 10. No school closing information will be given out via the school switchboard or school personnel. We are sorry we cannot accommodate personal calls, but we do not have the telephone capacity nor people power to serve the extremely high demand.

Thank you for recognizing this need to change our information network.

Consumers Power has black-out tips

Consumers has come up with the following suggestions for dealing with a power outage:

- Post the Consumers Power Customer Services office number and your account number near your telephone. Your account number helps pinpoint your location.

- Have candles, a flashlight with extra bulbs and batteries, and a portable, battery-powered radio in the house.

- If a severe storm is approaching and you have an electric water pump, fill containers or your bathtub to assure yourself of a water supply.

- Keep telephone numbers of local fire and law enforcement agencies at hand for use if a life-threatening situation exists. Here's what to do if an outage does occur:

- Look outside for obvious causes such as fallen wires or trees. If wires are down, don't approach them. Check to see if your neighbor's service has been interrupted.

- Check your fuse box. If the problem is just in your home, it may be a blown fuse or tripped circuit.

- When you report the problem to Consumers

Power, be as prompt and factual as possible. If you can't reach the company immediately,

MMHD offers pre-natal care program

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department in cooperation with a statewide effort initiated by the legislature, is offering a new prenatal care program for low income women in Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm Counties. The MMDHD has set a goal to serve 245 pregnant women in the three county area by September, 1985.

The new prenatal care program is available at no charge to low income women who are not currently covered by Medicaid. The program is funded by a grant from the State Health Department.

The statewide need for this special prenatal care service is evident. Infant mortality rates in Michigan have been very high for the last several years. Infant mortality rates in the three county area range up to 16.3% for babies in their first year of life. This means that for

County gets food stamp prosecution money

In July of 1982, the Clinton County Prosecutor, Jon Newman entered into a contract with the Michigan Department of Social Services in which the County is reimbursed a set amount to help cover the cost of prosecuting food stamp fraud cases.

As of the end of 1984, the County has received $3,577.50 from the State. In a report released December 28 by the Prosecuting Attorney's Coordinating Council, Clinton County ranked 14th in the state for the amount reimbursed. In most cases in which a person is convicted for food stamp fraud in Clinton County Circuit Court, they are ordered to pay restitution to the State for monies received by fraud.

For example, on January 14, Circuit Judge Randy L. Tahvonen sentenced Albert Joseph Alvarado, 41, of St. Johns, for obtaining General Assistance and Food Stamps in the amount of $3,026.00 by fraud. He was sentenced to three years probation, one year in jail with credit for 10 days already served, court costs of $480, to reimburse the County for the costs of court appointed attorney fees, and restitution in the amount of $3,026.00.

every 1,000 babies born, over 16 babies died in their first year of life. Many of these babies are born at a low birth weight.

Because of the high cost of prenatal care and the fact that many insurances do not cover it, many women do not receive adequate prenatal care. Adequate prenatal care can assure adequate birth weight, and dramatically reduce the risk of disease, birth defects, and death during the first year of life.

Good prenatal care includes education on nutrition, smoking, alcohol, stress, exercise and drugs, which can help to raise babies' birth weights.

The new prenatal care program offers personal care throughout a woman's pregnancy by a certified nurse practitioner, public health nurses, public health educators, a nutritionist and a consulting physician.

The prenatal care program includes: examinations, lab tests, vitamins, expectant parent classes, and educational sessions as needed. The educational sessions offer information on: breastfeeding vs. formula, family planning services, parenting, nutrition, weight control, health assessments, child safety seats, WIC, immunizations, medicaid screening and Health Education and Risk Reduction.

Mothers who are at high risk of complications during pregnancy or delivery will be referred to an OB/GYN specialist. After the babies are born, a home visit from a public health nurse will be made to provide follow-up and referrals to other community agencies as needed.

Prenatal care should begin in the early stages of pregnancy. It can help prevent problems during pregnancy and help to ensure the health of the baby and mother.

For more information to determine whether you or someone you know will qualify for this program call: Sue or Donna at 224-8393, Mid-Michigan District Health Department, 306 Elm Street, St. Johns, MI 48879. All information is confidential.

City Commission approves Little Caesar's expansion, licensing for L and H Cab Co.

By JOE HOPPE
 Staff Writer

The St. Johns City Commission paved the way for two new businesses to begin operation in St. Johns at its Jan. 28 meeting.

With the commission's endorsement of his request to the state Liquor Control Board for a class C resort liquor license, Ron Margetin hopes to be expanding Little Caesar's at Southpoint Mall into a full family-style restaurant by April or May.

"Our whole battle plan here is to provide St. Johns with a family restaurant, and to offer local and wholesome clean entertainment here," Margetin told the commission.

The restaurant would take up an additional 2400 square feet around the area in the mall Little Caesar's is in now. The proposed blue print allows for the seating of 127 people, a beverage bar, salad bar, and a room which can be opened up for periodic local entertainment or rented to various groups.

Margetin told the council that the new restaurant will create 30-40 jobs for St. Johns, and would be open from 11 a.m. to midnight weekdays and 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. weekends.

"With a full restaurant on the premises, I'm sure it will attract more businesses to the mall," Margetin also stated.

L and H Family Cab, the cab company Jean Lupnitz, of DeWitt has been trying to establish in Clinton County since December, cleared another obstacle at last Monday's meeting.

Although no one showed up to testify for the need of a cab company in St. Johns, even with the meeting held in the city's library to make it barrier free for the handicapped, the commission gave Lupnitz the go ahead to operate within the city. With the commission's permission now, Lupnitz still has to get a taxi company license from the city, and will have to fill out the proper forms and applications, pass inspection of her vehicles, provide proof of insurance, present bonds, go through a rate hearing, and have a radio frequency for dispatching the cabs approved by local police before L and H can begin operation within the city. Lupnitz has already received permission to operate in DeWitt Twp. and is waiting for permission from DeWitt City.

In other action by the commission, two parking ordinances that went into effect in November became permanent. The 200 block of West Higham Street in front of the Clinton Bank and Trust Operations Center will remain as a two-hour parking area, and the south side of Gibbs Street between Morton and Swegles will remain a no-parking area.

Also, the commission okayed budget adjustments for the first month of '85. In a letter to the Board of Commissioners, City Treasurer Eugene Simon stated that actual department expenditure totals are holding true to budgeted figures, the adjustments only need to be made on line items within certain departments.

The first car theft reportedly occurred in Paris in 1896. The Baron de Zuylen's auto was stolen by his mechanic while it was undergoing repairs.

FRED GIBBS TO SPEAK

Fred Gibbs, Director of Juvenile Court for Clinton County, will speak on two consecutive Wednesday evenings, Feb. 6 and 13 at 7 p.m. at Bethel Mennonite Church, 10 miles north of St. Johns on US-27 on the subject:

Schoolboard approves text, appoints asst. wrestling coach

By JOE HOPPE
 Staff Writer

St. Johns will have an assistant wrestling coach and next year's sixth graders will be reading from a new textbook after the St. Johns schoolboard's Jan. 28 meeting in the Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School's library. The meeting was re-scheduled from the Jan. 21 date which was cancelled because of snow.

High school woodshop teacher Jim Cleaver will be the new assistant wrestling coach. The assistant coach position was only recently created, after an increased number of students decided to participate in wrestling this year.

Latin America and Canada, published by Allyn and Bacon, Inc. will be the text for sixth grade social studies students for the '85-'86 school year. The text consists of a boxed set of smaller books, each dealing with various aspects of Latin America and Canada.

St. Johns schools will also be able to make more money from their money in the bank after authorizing participation in investment pools. Public Act 367, passed by the state legislature in 1982, allows governmental units in this state, such as school systems, to invest in these pools. St. Johns is participating in this type of money management because investment pools offer higher interest rates than the super now accounts the schools currently deposit in, and can be deposited bank for shorter periods of time, says school Superintendent Earl Gabriel.

dent Earl Gabriel.

The schools will be depositing their money in pools managed by Comerica and Michigan National Bank. The banks will be making the particular investments for the schools.

In other action taken by the board, board-member Eugene Livingston was named as St. Johns School Board representative to the Clinton County Intermediate School District's annual budget meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 26.

Theatre Department state finals bound

The St. Johns High School production of "Guys & Dolls" traveled to Stevensville, Michigan and Lakeshore High School on January 25 and 26 to participate in the Michigan High School Theatre Competition's district level of competition. After braving the blowing snow, icy roads, winter white-outs and frazzled nerves, the company performed at 11:20 a.m. on January 26 before three judges. The end result seemed to merit the trip an effort as the St. Johns Theatre Group succeeded in qualifying for the state finals for the 15th consecutive year.

This means that the group will next travel to Michigan State University on February 15 and 16 to defend its title of two years standing as state theatre champion. If they do so, this will be the first time in the history of the competition that a single high school has won the state title for three consecutive years.

Some of the judges' comments regarding the S.J.H.S. production of "Guys & Dolls" were: "Excellent integration of musical numbers with dramatic scenes--good casting", "Clever use of periaktoi scenery", "Nice theatricalism", and "I enjoyed the style of the show. The characters were well drawn and in good control." With these comments, the judges passed the St. Johns show on to the state level of competition at Michigan State University. Not only did they recognize the show as a whole, but took special time to single out Colleen McCarthy with an award of superior for her portrayal of the role of Miss Adelaide, Julie Stapelman was awarded excellent individual performance award for her work as the show's orchestra director, and sophomore Trish Shoemaker was singled out with an award of excellent for her portrayal of the role of Sarah Brown.

This means that the St. Johns show will now move to Michigan State University for its state finals performance. At the present time, the show is to appear at the Fairchild Theatre on the M.S.U. campus as the second show in the competition on Saturday morning, February 16. This will put the shows performance at approximately 10:15 a.m. The general public is welcome to view the entire state competition free of charge. The only request made is that you neither enter or leave the theater during the performance of a show. The St. Johns production has a cast and crew of 100 St. Johns High School students and is under the direction of Robert L. Koger and assistant director Barbara J. Markman. The entire company and its directors wish to invite the people of the St. Johns area to their state finals performance at Michigan State University.

keep trying. To cope with an extended outage:

- Keep your refrigerator door closed for as long as possible. Foods inside can stay fresh for 12-24 hours. In a lengthy outage, you may wish to use dry ice to keep your foods cold.

- Use extreme caution and provide proper ventilation if you are cooking with an alternate fuel, especially indoors.

- If you have a sump pump, be prepared to take action to minimize the affects of possible flooding.

- In extreme cases you may consider buying or renting a portable electric generator.

If the storm causes flood conditions:

- If you smell gas or see bubbles rising from an appliance, call Consumers Power immediately.

On December 16, 1869 she was united in marriage to Albert Taylor of New Hudson, Michigan. On Feb. 22, 1871 Mr. and Mrs. Taylor moved from Oakland County to their farm on section 18, Olive Township where she experienced all the hardships of pioneer life. To this union five children were born, Rollin, Bert, Nellie, Nettie and Belle, who grew to womanhood and manhood and all being present during her last illness.

Obituaries of yesteryear

Among the items that have gone the way of nickle beer and buggy whips are those great obituaries of yesteryear. One would be hard-pressed to pinpoint exactly when they met their demise but upon comparison, obituaries of even 40 years ago show a marked change from those we have become accustomed to; the abbreviated, compact and to-the-point obituary of today. The "Golden Age" of the obituary (if such a morbid subject can carry that title) was made obvious during the turn of the past century when local newspapers were filled with bold-print banners proclaiming the deaths of countless "pioneers." In those days practically anyone who lived past the age of 70 was deservedly or honorarily given the title of "pioneer" with captions like "Aged Pioneer Succumbs" or "Rites Given Sunday for Pioneer." My personal favorite is

"Esteemed Pioneer Called Home."

The manner in which these obituaries were composed, although by today's standards are often viewed as long-winded if not altogether humorous, achieved somewhat the status of a fine art. They were filled with praise and glorification in describing the deceased's fortitude in conquering the rigors of pioneer life, and often approached deifying the deceased for the manner in which they faced their death.

Aside from all this, for modern-day historians and genealogists, these oldtime obituaries more often supply information and insight into the life of one departed which modern obituaries ignore or fail to contain. The necessary criteria for a good oldfashioned obituary would include where and when the deceased was born, who his or her parents were, where the deceased lived as a child, education received (especially if it was limited to the country school followed by the school of hard knocks), where and when they married (and to whom), what accomplishments they achieved in their life, churches and social groups they were associated with, their selflessness to the needy and friendliness to the friendless, the exact (even if embarrassing) nature of their accident or fatal illness (especially the amount and duration of their suffering), the exact time and circumstances of their demise, date and place of the funeral, the minister's name and what his sermon contained, who sang and what was sung, an exhaustive list of survivors, all pall bearers, the numerous friends and relatives from out of town who attended, a description of the floral tributes, and often, a melancholy piece of poetry.

The following obituary exhibits most of these criteria:

MARTHA A. WINSLOW TAYLOR.

Martha Amelia Winslow, eldest of three children of Wellington and Dolla Winslow, was born at West Bloomfield, Oakland County, Michigan, on December 15, 1845, and departed this life at her home in DeWitt, January 13, 1924, aged 78 years and

"Esteemed pioneer called home"

(Continued from page 17A) went far and near administering to those who were sick. Her one sublime faith was to do all she could for those who were in distress. In her younger days she took a very active interest in the church, Sunday School and Aid Society of her respective community. Mrs. Taylor was a member of the Clinton County Pioneer Society.

Besides her aged husband, she is survived by two sons, Rollin of Olive and Bert of DeWitt; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Norris of Olive, Mrs. Will Brinkerhoff and Mrs. Roy Gage of Lansing; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Rollin Taylor and Mrs. Bert Taylor; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren and many friends.

The funeral was held at the Baptist church Wednesday, January 16, Rev. G.S. Northrup of St. Johns officiated. Mrs. Grace Coon sang three numbers. Mrs. Merle Kraas accompanied at the piano. The pall bearers were Wm. Cole, Byron Blizzard, Wm. Phillips, Willis McLouth, Jerome Dills and Frank Hurd. Interment was made in the DeWitt cemetery. The many beautiful floral offerings from the neighbors and friends from away testified to the true worth of the long and useful life that Mrs. Taylor had lived. Relatives and friends from away to attend the funeral were, Lyman and David Taylor of New Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Taylor of Jackson.

Gratiot players plan "My Fair Lady"

The Gratiot County Players are planning to present "My Fair Lady" as their spring musical for the 1984-85 season and have scheduled auditions for the play on February 9 and 10.

A cast of as many as 45 men and women can be utilized, according to the director, Claudia Brewer of Ithaca, with major roles for 3 women and 4 men and numerous smaller parts for men and women of all ages.

The play features many well known musical numbers including "I Could Have Danced All Night," "Get Me To The Church On Time," "On The Street Where You Live," and "I've Grown Accustomed To Her Face."

Because of the popularity of this show, the players have scheduled an additional two performances. There will be eight performances instead of the usual six performances. "My Fair Lady" is set to run on April 19, 20, 21, 25, 26, 27, and May 3 and 4.

Auditions for parts in the musical are to be held at the Gratiot County Playhouse in St. Louis at 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 9. The 11:00 a.m. auditions are for chorus parts only. Those wishing to audition are asked to bring a vocal selection of their choice.

A pianist will be provided and music will be on hand for those who choose not to bring music with them. Auditioners may sing in small groups of 2 or 3, or sing solo. A barbershop quarter is needed for the play and anyone interested in that is encouraged to audition as a quartet.

Auditions at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday are for principle roles and all other speaking parts. Each participant will be asked to do solo singing, readings from the play, simple dance movements and other acting exercises.

Open auditions for all parts and chorus are scheduled at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, February 10.

According to the director, anyone who wants to audition but can't attend the scheduled auditions, may make special arrangements by calling 875-3589 or 463-1252 before the scheduled audition times.

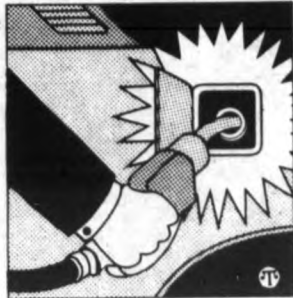

STRANGE "BOOKS"...Indian petroglyphs near Alamogordo, New Mexico, constitute one of the strangest "books" ever found in the Southwest. Science believes they were made between 600 and 1200 years ago, but archaeologists are at a loss to explain their exact meaning.

You and Your Car

Tips from the Mobil Auto Tech Group

Power Talk

Your gasoline brims with power: a cupful has the energy of 23 sticks of dynamite.

But petroleum science helps today's gasoline do much more than just exude performance. For example, a modern gasoline like Mobil Super Unleaded includes ingredients to fight knock and inhibit carburetor dirt—besides whisking you along the highway.

How does gasoline work? It's pumped to your carburetor, mixed with air. Then there are four strokes of each piston: (1) cylinder intake valve opens, piston descends, sucking in fuel and air; (2) valve closes, piston rises, compressing fuel and air; (3) spark plug ignites the mixture, forcing piston down, turning crankshaft, sending power to wheels; (4) exhaust valve opens, piston rises, forcing out exhaust gas.

That adds up to just one power stroke, three to get ready. So hurrah for all that power per cupful: to help 700-hp race cars zip 220 mph at 2 miles a gallon—or your mid-size family bus tool along at 55 mph, using only 25 or 30 of its 100 hp.

Tragic fire sweeps through Eureka home

A tragic fire swept through the residence of Lewis and Judy Thayer, 8003 Maple Rapids Road, Tuesday, Jan. 29.

Lewis Thayer's sister, Barbara Lindley, died in the fire, which is believed to have started in her apartment at the back of the house. Lindley was physically and mentally handicapped after being involved in an auto accident four years ago.

Also dead is Robert Bennett, 40, who was at the scene as a volunteer for the Maple Rapids Fire Department. Bennet is believed to have suffered a heart attack.

Outdoors By Dick Bradley

Now the trees are relieved of their icy loads and the snows of midwinter stretch in easy drifts across the land. They beckon to the skier and to the hunter with their soft white depth.

But with the entrance of February on the scene, comes too the thought of taxes. And with that thought another of dismay at the feeling that their payment is such a little thing as far as solving problems is concerned.

Where does the money go? What of the sum that I send in can be seen to work for anything that I hold dear?

Founded less than 10 years ago was an organization that offers a partial answer to the frustration that outdoor lovers feel when considering questions like those above. The Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation is that organization, and as of November it was attracting enough attention through its good works to have Governor James J. Blanchard proclaim a week in its behalf. It was "to focus public attention on the private-sector fish and wildlife habitat efforts of the foundation," according to a release by that group.

Specifically, it was two principle projects that attracted the Governor's attention and led to the proclamation. One, known as the Milli-Ander Wetland Restoration, was described as the largest private-sector wildlife effort in Michigan history. The other, labeled Trout Stream Restoration Project, is a five-year activity slated to begin this year. "It may be the most important private fishing initiative ever in Michigan," according to Blanchard.

The Governor closed by wishing the Foundation future success and growth and Dan Robbins, the organization's president, responded by saying, "We hope the Governor is right, and that all citizens become aware of their own potential to help wildlife.

Whether we experience a new era in Michigan conservation will be largely dependent upon citizen support for our private-sector wildlife program."

Now the Foundation is announcing its sponsorship of the 1985 Michigan Wildlife Art Festival, the only exposition of its kind in Michigan. It will be held at the Southfield Civic Center the weekend of March 22-24. Hopefully, it will attract 20,000 visitors, with proceeds from admission, auctions, and donations going toward Foundation conservation programs.

It seems that awareness and tax deductible involvement with groups like the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation offers even a more tangible future than an IRA tax shelter.

President Robbins offers interested citizens an address and phone number for additional information and brochure of activities. They may address inquiries to the Foundation at 2325 S. Cedar, Lansing, MI 48910. The phone number is (517) 484-9600.

I like the idea of having had a hand in maintaining for the future, some of the things I have long taken for granted. I love the out-of-doors and this gives me a chance to show it.

DW Panthers roll Perry

The DeWitt High School basketball team broke a 31-31 tie with 5:04 left in the third period to roll to a 72-54 win over Perry on Jan. 29. "We got our running game going and got the ball down the court quicker for some high percentage shots," said DeWitt Coach D.J. Lincoln.

Snow slo-pitch set Feb. 23

The Delta Township Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a slow-pitch softball tournament, to be played in the snow at Sharp Park on Feb. 23 and 24.

The tournament will be double elimination and is open to any mens' teams. Cost of the tournament will be $50, and softballs will be provided.

A.S.A. umpires will officiate the event. Trophies will be awarded to the top two teams, with individual trophies going to the championship team.

The tournament will be limited to the first 16 registered teams. For more information, call (517)-627-4034.

DeWitt's pressure defense and defensive rebounding stiffened in the third period and also helped break the game open. The Panthers shut down a Perry offense that had tied the score at 31 after trailing by seven points at the half. "We were playing a little quicker on defense," said Coach Lincoln. "We blocked some shots and usually held them to one shot per possession."

DeWitt's leading scorers in the game were Tim Miller with 23 points and Kevin Moody with 10.

The Panthers have won four of their last five games and are 5-6 on the season.

In junior varsity action, DeWitt raised its record to 5-6 with a 62-38

Agricultural News

By Marilyn Loudenslager
Extension Agricultural Agent

The reasons why agriculture is struggling through economic uncertainty are often difficult to understand because much of what happens in the market is influenced by national and world economic conditions.

Even understanding the effect of deregulation of financial markets, the shift from fixed currency exchange rates to floating exchange rates, and a growing dependency on international grain markets doesn't help much in running the farm.

That's where the Cooperative Extension Service program "New Economic Realities in Michigan Agriculture" enter the picture.

The program is intended to help farmers understand how national and international economic activities affect local markets and what farmers can do with the farm business to adjust changes in government policy and agricultural economics.

The program includes all Extension personnel in the field and on the MSU campus—who have agricultural responsibilities. They are committed to helping individual farmers find solutions confronting the farm business. Frank Brewer, assistant director of Extension for agriculture and marketing programs, says the objectives of the program are:

--To work with farmers to adjust production systems to increase economic efficiency, minimize risk and increase net farm income.

--To do what is possible to help prevent farm bankruptcies and foreclosures through education.

--To provide a framework to evaluate economic potential, both for those entering agriculture and for those already in agriculture who are considering changes in their business.

--To provide the opportunity for more farm families to benefit from counsel with skilled professional workers.

--To accelerate the adoption of new research results and new knowledge.

--To help maintain a strong agricultural economy for Michigan.

The program is open to all farmers. Details of the program may be obtained by calling the Cooperative Extension Service Office at 224-3288.

Exchange students want to live in area

Debra Swartz of Bath has recently announced that she has received several applications from European teenagers who will be spending the 1985-86 school year in Michigan, sponsored by Education Foundation for Foreign Study. As an Area Representative for the EFFS high school exchange program, Mrs. Swartz will be interviewing and selecting local host families for next year's students.

The students are between 15 and 18 years of age and come from countries throughout Western Europe, including Denmark, Italy, Spain, and Germany. They arrive in August to spend ten months living with American families while attending local high schools. The program provides a two way learning and sharing opportunity and a unique chance to understand and appreciate a different culture.

Educational Foundation invites a family accepted as hosts for the year ahead to review several applications to select the boy or girl with whom they would like to share their home. An early decision to host gives a family time to correspond with their future "son" or "daughter" and begin to build a friendship that will last a lifetime.

Anyone interested in knowing more about the program or in applying to serve as a 1985-86 host family, should call 641-4265.

Free checking accounts, along with other financial services that were once free, are disappearing fast.

In reality, most services were never really free, even though customers did not pay for them directly. Large savers, for instance, helped subsidize small savers and the expense of administering their accounts.

Low interest rates paid on savings accounts used to subsidize checking accounts. Now that interest rates are competitive, each service must stand on its own.

Dec. milk production down 6%

Milk production in Michigan during December totaled 435 million pounds, down 6 percent from a year earlier, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Milk cow numbers at 390,000 head, were down slightly from last month and 14,000 below the December 1983 level. Milk output per cow averaged 1,115 pounds, down 25 pounds from a year ago. The quantity of grain and other concentrates fed daily to milk cows was unchanged from last year averaging 16 pounds per cow as of January 1.

The value of milk sold in Michigan during December averaged $13.90 per hundredweight (cwt.), down slightly from a year earlier. This preliminary price reflects the total value of milk at the dairy plant or receiving station before deductions are made for hauling and dairy program charges. Slaughter cow prices averaged $35.00 per cwt., up 1 percent from a year earlier. The average value of a dairy concentrate ration as of January 1, was $6.20 per cwt., down $1.30 per cwt. from a year earlier.

U.S. milk production during December totaled 11 billion pounds, down 3 percent from the previous year. Accumulated production for the year was down 3 percent from 1983. Production per cow averaged 1,019 pounds during December and milk cow numbers averaged 10.8 million head. December milk production was below the previous year's level in 31 of the 33 states compiling monthly estimates. Only California showed an increase in production, while Washington was unchanged.

Dairy manufacturing plants in Michigan produced nearly 2.5 million pounds of butter during November, down 50 percent from a year ago. American cheese production at 1.4 million pounds, was down 17 percent from the Other services that were previously free or very inexpensive have also begun to reflect the true cost of doing business. The fees for a bounced check, stop payments and cashing a non-customer's check have all been on the increase.

Burning Wood: The revival of wood as a heating fuel—largely in response to the higher cost of oil and natural gas—has led to a rash of house fires. But many of these fires could have been prevented with proper maintenance, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Chimney: The No. 1 cause of fires involving fireplaces, inserts and stoves that burn wood or coal is creosote build-up in the chimney. Have your chimney checked and cleaned at least once a year by a competent chimney sweep, and inspect it yourself twice a month for creosote, soot, other obstructions or damage.

The Right Sound: One way to check a metal chimney for build up is to tap it with a metal object, such as a coin or screwdriver. A clean pipe should make a ping noise, a dirty pipe a dull thud.

Operation: Regularly test the operation of draft louvers, dampers, door and screens. Also, inspect your fireplace or wood stove for cracks in the masonry or metal. If any part of your unit isn't working properly, get it repaired immediately.

Grate: Under the tremendous heat of a fire and the weight of logs, fireplace and wood stove grates can get out of shape. This can minimize the efficiency of your unit, cause damage and even create a fire hazard. Replace a damaged grate before building another fire.

Fire Starters: Never start a fire by using gasoline, kerosene or any flammable liquid. Instead, use small strips of paper or twigs. Don't burn newspapers, gift wrapping or trash. Burning paper can be carried up the chimney, possibly igniting any creosote deposits. Paper burns too quickly and too hot. Also, ink on colored paper can emit dangerous lead fumes when burned.

Early light bulbs did not last as long as modern ones because they contained a vacuum. Now they are filled with an inert gas.

P-W volleyballers beat Portland

The highly-ranked Pewamo-Westphalia varsity girls' volleyball team defeated Portland High School, 17-15 and 15-8, on Wednesday, Jan. 30 at P-W High School.

The Pirates went into last week's action ranked 10th in the state in Class C according to a recent Coaches' poll. Portland trailed in the first game, 8-2, but rallied to send the game into overtime before falling.

Then, in the second game, P-W's senior star, Linda Rademacher took over.

The 6'1" Rademacher made four successful spikes in the second game, leading the Pirates to the sweep in the match.

Wacousta ice rink is 'ready for skaters'

"The ice rink in Wacousta is ready for skaters," according to Watertown Township Parks and Recreation Director Tony Sporer. "The cold spell we had was ideal for flooding and our dedicated volunteers did a super job plowing, brushing, and spraying. We came close to not having a rink this year because the ground hadn't froze, as it turns out, I'm glad we decided to go for it. This year we have two rinks, a large one for hockey and a small one for younger kids, and soon we'll have new floodlights installed for improved evening visibility."

Skaters are welcome anytime and any responsible adult can sign out a key to the warming house from the Wacousta General Store.

In other Parks and Recreation news, Sporer announced the availability of a Watertown Township Bowling Club Card, which is good for a 50% discount on lane fees, 10% discount in the pro shop, one free lesson, and 3 free games, all redeemable at Royal Scot Lanes. The cost of this card is only $5.00 and family memberships are also offered.

A Shuffleboard Club meets Tuesday mornings at 10:30 a.m. and open Volleyball is Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m., both at the Watertown Township Hall and both are free of charge. Pick-up Basketball takes place from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. on Thursdays at the Wacousta Elementary School with a $1.00 fee charged at the door. The Wacousta Winterfest, a coed and mens softball tournament, takes place on March 9 and 10, and the first annual Mitten Volleyball tournament will be held on March 2.

Aerobics, bingo, babysitting, and cross country skiing are other activities taking place in Watertown Township. For more information on any of the above mentioned programs, call Tony Sporer at 626-6593.

Women, Infant, Children Nutrition Clinic-8:30-11:30 a.m. and 1:15-4 p.m. at the Clinton Branch Office, 306 East Elm Street, St. Johns.

Morning Musicales sings the old songs

St. Johns Morning Musicales met at the home of Eliza Johnson to further their study of the history of music in America. The members reminisced with Adele Jones as she recalled the past of her grandparents, Harlan and Mary Keys, and the music that filled their lives and the appreciation they left as their legacy to their offspring.

The group participated by singing songs of the period from 1850 to 1910. The sweet and lyrical songs, "Listen to the Mocking Bird," "There's Music in the Air," and an old Spanish Air "Juanita" were followed by the melancholy songs of the Civil War such as "The Vacant Chair," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," "Tenting On the Old Camp Ground,"

"Just Before the Battle Mother" and the more joyous song "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and the inspirational "Battle Hymn of the Republic." A sample of the contra-dance music popular to that time was played by pianist Diantha Witteveen. The favored instrument was the mandolin and guest, William Peckham, played "Old Black Joe," "Duna" and accompanied the club singing "Sweet Adeline" and "Good Night Ladies."

St. Johns Morning Musicales is affiliated with the National Federation and Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. For more information regarding the local club, contact Mrs. Frederick Lewis or any club member.

First ladies not just president's wives

Nearly everybody knows that George Washington spent a hardship filled winter at Valley Forge. But how many know that Martha endured the miserable experience with him? "To me, that never see anything of war, the preparations are very terrible indeed," she confessed to a friend, "but I endeavor to keep my fears to myself as well I can."

"Historians have understandably treated the presidency as a men's locker room," University of Texas historian Lewis Gould told an audience this past November at the Gerald R. Ford Museum's Modern First Ladies Conference. "By ignoring first ladies," Gould said, "we have truncated the humanity of presidents and diminished them as men. Our grasp of the presidency is poorer for that action."

Headlining the historic conference were former first ladies from opposing parties, Betty Ford and Rosalynn Carter. The two day forum reflected a growing interest among historians in what has been called the most demanding volunteer job in America. Historians have been ranking presidents for years, but recently, they participated in a pioneering poll ranking first ladies and placed Eleanor Roosevelt at the top.

All the first ladies are popular at the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History in Washington, D.C. "The eagle eye of the public has become ever more closely fixed on the first lady," curator emeritus Margaret Klapthor observes. Klapthor, creator of the First Ladies Hall, thinks that, through the first ladies, people are drawn to the "personality of the presidency"--those human qualities in their presidents with which they can identify.

America's first first lady had no precedents to guide her. The Constitution didn't mention a first lady. In fact, no one mentioned a "first lady" until 1877, when reporter Mary Clemmer Ames wondered in print if Lucy Hayes, wife of President Rutherford B. Hayes, would be affected by the world of Vanity Fair: Would it "friz" the hair and bare the shoulders of the Madonnalike "first lady of the land"?

Martha Washington--Lady Washington to the citizenry, "dear Patsy" to her husband and an "unassuming character" to "second lady" Abigail Adams--made only one public statement in her life--a quick thank you to an admiring Philadelphia crowd. Her entire world revolved around her husband. She wrote to a friend: "...though his feelings and my own were in perfect unison with respect to our predilections for private life, yet I cannot blame him for having acted according to his ideas of duty in obeying the voice of his country." But that didn't mean that she never complained: "I never go to any public place...indeed, I think I am more like a state prisoner than anything else..."

Abigail Adams, called "her Majesty" and "Mrs. President" by critics, was just as devoted to second President John Adams as Martha was to George. She was not, however, unassuming: "I know not how...to impose a silence upon myself when I long to talk."

John Adams depended on Abigail for physical comforts and moral support--but also for ideas. "I want to hear you think or see your thoughts," he wrote to her. She had ideas on most subjects. She advocated the abolition of slavery, the expansion of education and woman's suffrage. As the Founding Fathers were drawing up the nation's first code of laws at the Continental Congress, Abigail urged Adams to "remember the ladies."

Privy to most governmental affairs, Abigail Adams--who hung out the presidential laundry in what is now the East Room of the White House--shared her opinions only with family and friends. And although, as her daughter said, her real taste was for "a dish of politics," Abigail was, like her model Martha Washington, an excellent national hostess.

As a hostess, however, no first lady has ever topped Dolley Madison, with or without her satin and velvet turbans garnished with ostrich plumes.

Abigail Adams, shown here in a portrait by Gilbert Stuart, cautioned her husband, President John Adams, to "remember the ladies" in the first code of laws.

Dolley was hostess for two presidents--the widowed Thomas Jefferson and "the great little Madison" named James. She simply loved people and parties. Dolley was planning a banquet the very day the British were marching to capture the capital and her with it. Urged to flee, she calmly packed the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and other state papers in a small trunk. Then, out of "respect for General Washington," she had his portrait by Gilbert Stuart freed from its ornate frame and carted out of town for safekeeping. Today, this portrait is the only object in the White House that was in the original "President's House."

Dolley also managed to save her red velvet curtains and some silver plate. But she had to leave most of her lavish wardrobe behind. "What Mrs. Madison wore" was fashion. Guests at her imaginative and unceasing parties were invited without regard to political philosophy. Dolley herself never commented on political matters and modestly admitted to her husband, "I am not much of a politician." But everybody loved Dolley, and some of her popularity inevitably rubbed off on James Madison. Alike in their devotion to their husbands, Martha Washington, Abigail Adams and Dolley Madison were all women of their time but distinctly different personalities. And each created a mold filled by some memorable first ladies who followed them.

The dutiful Martha Washington had spiritual heirs in sunny Lucy Hayes, a temperance advocate and one of the best loved women of the White House, and in Mamie Eisenhower, another well loved first lady. "I have but one career, and its name is Ike," Mamie once said. "Mrs. Ike," said the president, "refused to get involved in public life herself."

Abigail Adams, who gave her husband the benefit of her intellect, had soul sisters in Sarah Polk, Edith Wilson and Bess Truman. During his term of office (1845-1849), James Polk ran the country with his wife, a confidante and co-worker in all aspects of governing. "None but Sarah knew so intimately my private affairs," Polk said. As befitted a "perfect lady" (her highest compliment), Sarah Polk gave her husband credit for everything.

The second Mrs. Wilson was a perfect Southern lady who took it upon herself to manage the presidency

First ladies too often ignored

for some months when Woodrow Wilson was partially paralyzed by a stroke in 1919. During her "stewardship," Edith Wilson always maintained, "I myself never made a single decision regarding the disposition of public affairs" except for "the very important decision of when to present matters to my husband." Some historians dispute her claim, but it was fortunate for the country that Woodrow Wilson had traveled nowhere without Edith and had shared every idea and policy decision with his "little girl."

For Harry Truman, his ladylike Bess was "my chief adviser always." He consulted the "Boss" about using the atom bomb, about the value of the Marshall Plan to rebuild Europe and about whether to fight in Korea. "I discussed all of them with her. Why not?"

President John F. Kennedy once noted: "A man marries a woman, not a first lady. If he becomes president, she must fit her own personality into her own concept of a first lady's role." Like Dolley Madison, Jacqueline Kennedy set the style for a nation. American women wanted the "Jackie look" in their clothes and hairdos. Her glittering, non-political White House parties created trends in party giving and focused new attention on the arts.

Jacqueline Kennedy, like Dolley, was mindful of history and made millions of Americans aware of the historical necessity of preserving America's "first home"—the White House. "It would be a sacrilege merely to redecorate it—a word I hate. It must be restored—and that has nothing to do with decoration. That is a question of scholarship." She conceived the first White House guidebook, and, thanks to her, the White House has museum status to protect it, a curator to advise it and an active historical association.

The ladies of the White House followed familiar 18th and 19th century pathways well into the 20th. Lou Hoover—a brilliant woman who had majored in geology at Stanford, spoke Chinese plus four more languages and had seen the world—was an honorable heir to Martha Washington. Lou supported Herbert Hoover and dedicated herself to the Girl Scouts.

Her successor, called by one disgruntled soul "an unscrupulous Girl Scout," was the first first lady to take full advantage of the 20th century. Eleanor Roosevelt added a new power to the example of Martha Washington, the influence of Abigail Adams and the grace of Dolley Madison. During her White House years, from 1932 to 1945, she showed that the first lady could act as an individual, quite apart from her husband, the president.

Eleanor Roosevelt broke first lady precedents by holding press conferences, giving lectures, writing a syndicated daily column and making radio broadcasts addressing the critical issues facing an America in depression and at war. Eleanor expressed controversial opinions, sometimes differing with FDR. She traveled everywhere, showing her concern for people—logging 40,000 miles a year in her first eight White House years. She reported to FDR on the conditions in the cities, in the dust bowl, in the coal mines and in the army camps of the Pacific. Soldiers in the New Hebrides were told not to shower naked in the rain, lest Mrs. Roosevelt turn up. She did.

President Roosevelt, who delighted in quoting the "missus," was not one of her many critics. "Lady," he told her, "it's a free country. I have my own way of getting my views across to the American people. If you get me in hot water, I'll manage to save myself."

First ladies have always had their critics. As Pat Nixon once pointed out: "It takes heart to be in political life." But modern first ladies have seen, as Eleanor Roosevelt saw, that there is "so much to be done, so much that can be done."

"Well, who elected you?" Rosalynn Carter has quoted critics of her Dolley Madison, who loved people and loved to give parties, sat for this Gilbert Stuart portrait in 1804.

active governmental elected me, but I was role. "Well, nobody there, and nobody would have liked it if I had done nothing. So you do the best you can and don't worry about it."

Prescribing that people should do "what makes their hearts sing," Lady Bird Johnson battled the ugliness on the landscape she called "an eroding force on the people of our land." Betty Ford lobbied for the Equal Rights Amendment and spoke out about her breast cancer. Nancy Reagan is fighting drug abuse among America's young. Betty Ford summed it up this way: "First ladies, first families are human. They bleed red blood. They have normal human emotions."

Clearly, the role of the first lady has expanded as the roles of American women have expanded. A major role for women remains. One day, someone may once again be faced with Martha Washington's dilemma.

Will he be called the first "first gentleman"?

FAR-AWAY FOODS YOU MAKE AT HOME

HONG KONG FISH

You can prepare a steamed fish entree in the style of traditional Oriental cuisine.

A recent international food trends survey, conducted by Beatrice Companies, Inc. revealed that cooks in Hong Kong and the United States are adopting each other's food preparation and consumption habits in an "East meets West" exchange of food customs.

In less than a half-hour, you can prepare an elegant main dish using a traditional Oriental recipe which has been adapted for American tastes.

STEAMED FISH AND HAM A LA HONG KONG

Fish:

- 6 dried black mushrooms
- 2 cups water
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon Wesson Oil
- 1 pound fresh or frozen broccoli spears
- 4 to 6 scallions (or green onions), with tops
- 12 slices (about 2 pounds) turbot or whitefish fillets
- 12 slices Swift Premium Hostess Ham[®], 1/8-inch thick (about 9 ounces)
- 5 to 6 thin slices pared ginger root
- 1/2 cup peanut oil

Sauce:

- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1/2 cup chicken broth
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sesame oil
- 1/2 teaspoon white pepper

Steamed Fish and Ham A La Hong Kong uses ginger root and is topped with a light, glazed sauce.

minutes, drain. Rinse in cold water; drain. Place scallions on heat resistant platter for steaming. Cover with fish, then ham, then mushrooms. Top with ginger root slices and arrange broccoli spears around platter. Place steamer rack in steamer or Dutch oven. Add enough water to just reach rack. Cover and bring to boil. Place platter on rack. Cover and steam dish for 7 minutes, or until fish is firm, white and just begins to flake when pierced with a fork. While fish is steaming, prepare sauce. Sauce: Blend cornstarch and water in small bowl. Pour into 1-quart saucepan; stir in remaining ingredients. Remove platter from steamer. Drain fish juices from platter into sauce and simmer until thickened. In separate 1-quart saucepan heat peanut oil and pour over fish. Drain excess oil. Top fish with sauce. Each portion consists of fish fillet(s), ham slice, green onion and broccoli spears.

Variation:

For each serving, ham slices may be rolled around two 3-ounce fish fillets and secured with toothpicks before steaming.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: This recipe can also be prepared in a wok as you would other fish recipes.

FOOD IDEAS for all seasons

QUICK KIWIFRUIT CAKE FOR ENTERTAINING

Kiwifruit Cake, simple to make, eye-catching, and above all, tasty to eat, is a great dessert for friends and family.

This dessert starts with a baked cake layer. Apricot preserves are heated for the quick glaze, and vibrant green slices of kiwifruit garnish the top.

Almond or orange liqueur drizzled over the cake before glazing is an optional, though delectable, addition. Serve wedges of the pretty cake with fluffs of almond-flavored whipped cream.

Because kiwifruit are harvested at a mature, hard stage, the kiwifruit in the marketplace may still be firm. They will ripen easily if left at room temperature several days or until they yield slightly to gentle pressure. Refrigerate ripe kiwifruit until ready to use.

California kiwifruit are a good source of vitamin C and contain other important vitamins and minerals. Simply remove the fuzzy, brown skin with a knife and slice, chop, wedge or puree the emerald fruit for using in favorite salads, desserts, entrees or appetizers.

KIWIFRUIT CAKE

- 1/2 cup apricot preserves
 - 1 (8-inch round) baked yellow cake layer
 - 3 California kiwifruit, pared and sliced
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
 - 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Heat apricot preserves; strain. Brush top of cake with strained preserves. Arrange kiwifruit slices on glazed surface; spoon preserves over kiwifruit. Fold sugar and almond extract into whipped cream. Serve whipped cream mixture with cake. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Variation: Before toppings are put onto cake, prick surface of cake uniformly with skewer or wooden pick. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons almond or orange liqueur; let stand 30 minutes. Top cake with strained apricot preserves and kiwifruit as above.

Chicken—One Of America's Favorite Foods

Americans are eating more chicken today than they did five years ago. In one recent study, 51% of the women interviewed said they had substantially increased their families' consumption of chicken in the past two years. When asked why, all agreed that it was nutritious, low in fat and extremely versatile. In addition, it is easy to prepare and almost universally enjoyed by children and adults alike.

Chicken Dijon is a flavorful addition to your file of poultry recipes—one your family is sure to enjoy. Tangy with the addition of lemon and Dijon style mustard, it has a subtle sweetness as well. The addition of fruit cocktail packed the light way in juice or extra light syrup adds color, sweet fruit flavor and nutrients. Good sources of Vitamins A, C and niacin, the five attractive fruits make this a colorful dish to serve to family or friends. It's easy to see why chicken is one of America's favorite foods.

CHICKEN DIJON

- 2 cans (17 oz. each) fruit cocktail in juice or extra light syrup
- 1 green onion, chopped
- 2 Tablespoons snipped parsley
- 2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard
- Grated peel of 1 lemon
- Juice of 1/2 lemon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2-1/2 pounds chicken pieces
- 1/3 cup flour
- 2 Tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 Tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 3 cups hot cooked rice

Drain fruit cocktail; reserve 1 cup liquid. Mix fruit cocktail, reserved liquid, onion, parsley, mustard, lemon peel and juice, salt and pepper. Coat chicken with flour. Heat oil and butter in skillet until hot. Brown chicken over medium heat. Stir in fruit cocktail mixture and bouillon cube. Simmer 20 to 30 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Serve over hot cooked rice. Garnish with parsley sprigs, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

EASE AND ELEGANCE... CREAMY LETTUCE SOUP WITH SHRIMP

Activities abound between mid November and early January. During this "busiest-of-seasons" people often juggle extra shopping and entertaining with jobs and routine chores. Time, money and patience may run short during the time. But good organization and some well thought out menus can help combat the challenge of the holiday hustle.

"Elegance with ease" are buzz words with holiday chefs. And they are words which describe this Creamy Lettuce Soup. Elegant because it is an adaptation of a French classic. A creamy blend of California Iceberg Lettuce in a chicken broth base is accented with a dash of nutmeg and a splash of white wine. A garnish of tiny shrimp and thin Iceberg shreds add a delicate touch. Easy because the soup takes only minutes to prepare and uses staple foods.

Iceberg Lettuce is a perfect holiday staple. It's crisp and clean and keeps for more than a week. When purchasing, select "springy-firm" heads with outer green leaves. Core, rinse and drain thoroughly. Then refrigerate in a closed plastic bag or plastic container. Remember to reach for the Iceberg when preparing holiday meals.

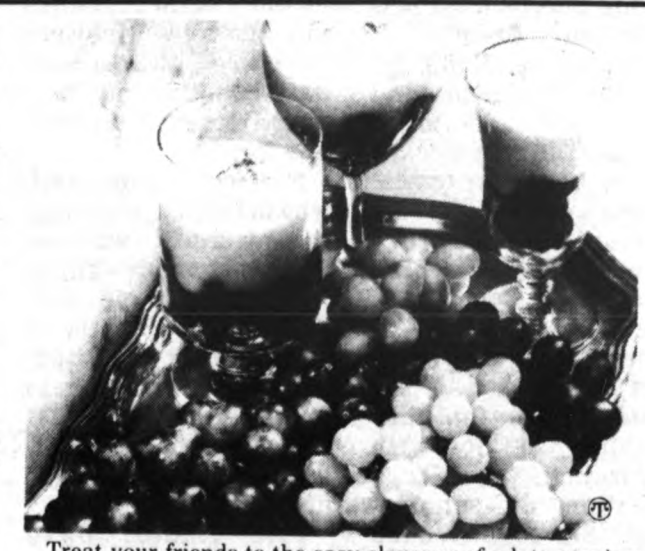

CREAMY LETTUCE SOUP WITH SHRIMP

- 1 head iceberg lettuce
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes, crumbled
- 3/4 cup water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup onion rings
- 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) cooked, cleaned shrimp, drained
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- Dash nutmeg
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 cup white dinner wine or
- 3 tablespoons water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Core, rinse and drain lettuce thoroughly; shred enough lettuce to measure 4 cups, packed. Chill any remaining lettuce in plastic bag or crisper for use at another time. Combine shredded lettuce with bouillon cubes, water and lemon juice in blender, whirl until smooth. Saute onion in butter in saucepan until tender-crisp but not browned; remove onion from pan, with a slotted spoon. Blend flour, salt, pepper and nutmeg into butter in pan; stir in milk. Cook, stirring until mixture comes to boil and is thickened; blend in wine and pureed lettuce mixture. Add onion and shrimp; heat through. Serve at once with additional crisp shredded lettuce in center if you wish. Makes 6 servings.

Treat your friends to the easy elegance of a late evening snack served in the convivial atmosphere of your own home. Branded Grape Parfaits, quick, make-ahead desserts are the perfect finale to a special evening.

Brandy-sauced grapes are topped with a rich, creamy pudding, then refrigerated until ready to serve. Accompanied with cordials or espresso coffee, the parfaits become a truly memorable dessert.

Sun-ripened and ready to eat when harvested, California table grapes are a wonderful fruit to keep on hand for snacks or meals any time of the day.

BRANDIED GRAPE PARFAITS

- 2 cups grapes, halved and seeded if necessary
- 5 tablespoons brandy, divided
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- Ground nutmeg

Combine grapes and 4 tablespoons brandy; marinate, refrigerated, 1 hour or longer. To prepare pudding, combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan; add milk and egg. Cook and stir over medium heat about 5 minutes or until thickened and smooth. Remove from heat; stir in remaining 1 tablespoon brandy. Cool. Place 1/2 cup grapes in parfait glasses. Top with 1/2 cup pudding. Garnish with nutmeg. Makes 4 servings.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
 IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CLINTON

In the Matter of the Complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

TO THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CLINTON

ROBERT A. BOWMAN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.
 2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent.
 3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a County Property Tax Administration Fee of four per cent which shall be a minimum of $1.00 as provided by Section 211.59, C.L. 1979, as amended, and (d) $10.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned.
 4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, county property tax administration fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:
 a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, county property tax administration fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;
 b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgement in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, county property tax administration fee and expenses as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained, and the amounts listed in the column headed "aggregate" shall constitute the amounts adjudged against the said several parcels, unless so amended by this court.
 c. That said judgement provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;
 d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Damp weather can cause arcing problems. Check under the hood after dark for high voltage jumping to the ground. It may be visible. Rust or corrosion on any of the secondary ignition parts indicates that a part may be defective and needs replaced.
