NEW CLINTON AVENUE OFFICIALLY OPENED-Following a speech by John Arehart and presentations by the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, Arehart cut the ribbon to officially open the recently remodeled Clinton Avenue, St. Johns, May 29. Arehart thanked everyone involved in the project including merchants, shoppers, construction crew and companies, and all city employees involved for their support and efforts. The project was completed one month in advance and under budget. The project cost $158,000 which was split between the city, a grant and property owners along Clinton Avenue. Photo by Kimberly Marshall, CCN.

Suspect pleads guilty

The fourth of the four men accused of sexually molesting a 13-year-old Wacousta Boy Scout, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of third-degree criminal sexual conduct May 30.

Donald Bushard, a Wacousta Troop 60 assistant scoutmaster, pleaded guilty to the lesser charge in return for Clinton County Prosecutor Jon Newman dropping a first-degree criminal sexual conduct charge (CSC).

Bushard, 20, of 9383 Cutler Road, Watertown Township, was arrested in early May after the parents of the victim and other Scouts, also suspected of being victims, called police.

Two other Troop 60 leaders, 46-year-old twin brothers Doanald and Delmar Gowing, pleaded guilty late last month to first-degree CSC, admitting they

St. Johns City Commission

Commission approves new budget

By KIMBERLY MARSHALL
Staff Writer

The St. Johns City Commission officially adopted the 1985-1986 fiscal year budget calling for a total levy of 14.37 mills.

The City will levy 10 mills for general operations, .6 mills for General Operations (G.O.) Bond number one, 1.6 mills for G.O. Bond number two, .39 mills for G.O. Bond number three and 1.78 mills for G.O. Bond number four, for a total of 14.37 mills.

The Commission authorized appropriations for the following expenditures:

Legislative Department-$115,403
Administrative Department-$214,527

Municipal Building Department-$39,700
Police Department-$390,229

Fire Department-$109,321
Department of Public Works-$124,527
Parks Department-$39,713

Recreation Department-$36,474
Insurance Rebate Fund-$370,481

Capital Improvement Fund-$118,716
Major Street Fund-$168,247
Local Street Fund-$168,933

Revenue Sharing Fund-$83,444
Library Fund-$73,963
G.O. Bond Funds-$440,028

Garbage Fund-$192,234
Water Production Fund-$208,530

Water Distribution Fund-$113,211

Wastewater Treatment Fund-$302,992
Sewer Distribution Fund-$37,235
Capital Improvement Fund-$248,120
Bond Operating Debt Fund-$138,276
Mobile Equipment Fund-$324,301
Special Assessment Fund-$51,257

They also decided that any amendments or alterations to these appropriations must receive specific prior approval by the City Commission. In addition, the estimated capital expenditures and operating costs schedule was adopted as an appendix to the budget.

In other business, the City turned down a request by the Cable TV Advisory Committee that the City relinquish its rate control over cable television's basic service rate by amending the Franchise Ordinance, removing Section 7.170, which includes the rate regulation provisions.

The regulation specifically states that cable service rate increases can not exceed the last consumers price index increase.

According to a commission member, the last measured CPI was approximately six percent. The cable television company wanted to charge an increase of 18 percent.

Under the Ordinance, the city will have no control over rates after December 1986. The commissioners voted 3 to 1 to keep the regulation as it stands now.

"We made a commitment in good faith and we should stick with it," said Dick Starck, vice-mayor.

The Commission approved a request from the St. Johns Lions Club to bring a circus into St. Johns on July 18, for performances at 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. to be held west of the St. Johns High School parking lot.

The Lions Club will use some of the proceeds to help support a drug program to be taught in the Junior High School.

Permission was granted to the St. Johns Rotary Club to use the football field and city park for the annual July 4th fireworks and carnival. The carnival will be July 2, 3 and 4th. The fireworks will be on July 4th.

The Commission also approved of their request to waive all permits and fees.

Sheriff asks for local support

Dear Editor:

One of the most effective tools a sheriff can have in his fight against crime is the support of the citizens in his county. On the local level, grass roots support is a strong deterrent to those who would cause harm or injury to a community or any of its people. But on the state level, our local law enforcement needs often would go unnoticed, if it were not for the Michigan Sheriff's Association (MSA).

The MSA is more than an association—it is a team made up of Michigan's 83 county sheriffs and more than 20,000 business and citizen members across the state. Individual associate member dues enable the Michigan Sheriffs' Educational Fund to provide additional training for sheriffs and their deputies. The fund also publishes The Michigan Sheriffs' Star, a quarterly newsletter about law enforcement which all members receive.

One of the most effective services MSA provides on our behalf is legislative involvement. Through SHERPAC, a separately supported political action arm, the MSA tracks more than 120 pieces of legislation through the Michigan Senate and House of Representatives each year.

MSA staff people work hard to make sure that the needs of the counties continue to be heard at the state level. They talk with state elected officials, the governor, the attorney general and other department directors to keep local criminal justice concerns in the forefront on Michigan government.

The MSA is now seeking new members, and many people in Clinton County soon will get a letter in the mail. This mail solicitation for memberships in may association has may approval and is being conducted with may authorization.

I hope people will think about this and join me—in taking a more active role in our fight against crime. We'll make a great team, and together we can make Clinton County a safer and more peaceful place to live and raise our children.

Sincerely yours,

Sheriff Terry R. Haneckow
 Clinton County

St. Johns School Millage Election

Citizen believes in school millage increase and urges all citizens to use their vote

Dear Editor:

Summer is rapidly approaching and with it another school millage election. Although it is easy to develop a ho hum attitude toward school elections, I feel that this summer's election could mark a turning point in the future of our school system and in the destinies of our children.

This millage election finds our school board members united in recommending a renewal and two increases. It has been a long time since our school board has shown this kind of unanimity.

Today, it seems as though we are always reading about America and America's children falling behind. We read about Japanese parents fighting to get their children into the best schools while the parents of American children complain that they can't afford the taxes to pay for even second rate schools. These same parents them-wonder why their children don't get the best jobs and why Americans are losing jobs to the Japanese and others.

If anyone wonders what a third or fourth rate education provides you only have to look to Detroit's inner city. Is this what you want for the children of our community? I do not.

Although none of us enjoys paying taxes, I would suggest that the cost of not providing the best possible education for our children is in-initely greater. The only thing more expensive than a good education is ignorance. Our nation's future rests in our children. We must be as generous and sacrifice as much for them as our parents did for us.

I would urge everyone to support the recommendation of our St. Johns School Board and vote yes on all ballot proposals.

Sincerely,

James B. Schweigert,
 D.D.S.

Woman agrees with theater

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to the woman who was angry that her son had been asked to leave the St. Johns theater.

I, too, was at the movie Friday night and although you do not say, I am assuming your children attended the early (7:15) movie which I did also.

I saw the usherette remove the many children and teenagers and quite frankly, I think her only mistake was in waiting too long to do it. If was obvious that most of these kids were there for some sort of social hour in which they moved from seat to seat and talked loudly and behave abnoxiously. Although I do not know you or your son, if he was one of these kids he deserved to be ejected.

The movie was a good one with a detailed story line and tricky plot and it was difficult to enjoy it while setting amid the chaos.

I know it's unfortunate that there isn't more for kids to do, but ruining a movie for everyone else is no excuse.

Its wonderful that in light of the small town theater's recent decline that St. Johns has maintained current movies and offered them so cheaply (.99). It's a shame that apparently many parents see .99 and 2 hours of babysitting by the theater a good way to pawn their kids off on weekends. I am not referring to you or your son personally, but I thought you should be aware of what went on that night. It's a shame, as you said, that your son had a bad experience with the police.

Thank you

Lisa Bolton, Elsie

P.S. You don't say the ages of your children but the movie contained some nudity and sexual situations and a concerned parent might be well advised to check the movie out first before leaving young children to view it.

Marijuana fines should be stiff

Dear Editor:

This letter is directed to Judge Jeffrey Martlew; in regards to a recent sentencing of an individual for furnishing intoxicants to minors. During your campaign we heard you were going to rid our highways of intoxicated drivers and so far you are trying to do your job well, but that little slap on the wrist you gave this person was ridiculous; if these minors had been arrested for OUIL after being furnished with these intoxicants what kind of sentence would you have handed down to them? Also the sentence for the possession of Marijuana was not in line with your other sentencing of possession of Alcohol, remember Judge both of these substances are drugs and possession of them should be identical. The police are trying to put a stop to minors buying alcohol in the stores in our county it would help if you would be more severe with people when they are caught serving our young people alcohol.

Sincerely

Alice Stevens

No program cutbacks are being planned for the Bath school system

Although Bath School Supt. James Garner predicts a deficit for next year, no program cutbacks are scheduled.

He explained that the $28,000 deficit predicted for the current school year has been eliminated, and the district presently shows a $8,000 surplus. Likewise, although a $35,000 deficit is in the budget for next year, Garner says, "hopefully we'll end up in good shape."

A May 19 Lansing State Journal article mistakenly reported a list of areas scheduled for cutbacks. Garner says no reductions are planned.

The board of education will discuss next year's budget at a special meeting May 28 at 7:30 p.m. They will also discuss a three-year maintenance plan, which will be implemented if voters renew 1 mill for maintenance on the June 10 ballot.

The plan, which was approved by the board May 13, lists projects to be funded by the 1 mill, which translates into $44,456 a year for the district. The list includes finishing roof repairs in the elementary school ($30,000), completely updating heating systems in the three schools ($28,000), athletic field and playground improvements ($16,000), and energy improvements ($6,000).

St. Johns second graders tour Clinton Hospital

St. Johns area second graders enjoyed a special inside look at Clinton Memorial Hospital in conjunction with National Hospital Week, May 12-18.

The second-graders were given a tour of the hospital's facilities, including the Radiology Department, Emergency Room, Laboratory blood-drawing room, and Dietary Department. In addition, the youngsters took part in activities designed to acquaint them with a "patient room." The second-graders role-played as doctor, nurse and patient in a simulated patient room.

Clinton Memorial provides the Pediatric Orientation in an effort to dispel any fears or apprehensions children may have in regards to a hospital.

Over 300 second-graders, teachers and parents from Central, Swegles, Perrin-Palmer, East Essex, East Olive, Eureka, Riley and St. Joseph schools took part in this year's program.

In addition to the hospital staff members assisting in the orientation, were volunteers Muriel Gilson, Alma Green, Cindy Halfmann, Sylvia Hirschegger, Louise Porter, Tammy Thelen, Barbar VanBuren and Kathy Warren. The event is coordinated through the Volunteer Services Department by Marilyn Wood, Volunteer Services Coordinator.

Congressman Bill Schuette

We need to do something about the high cost of health care in this country. We as older citizens of this country need the benefit of good medical care whether we can afford it or not. So, we as senior citizens are urging you to fight to preserve Social Security and Medicare.

those who are least able to pay the hardest, they also do not address the long-term problems which we face.

I remain committed to caring for our senior citizens, and will fight to see that they get the level and quality of health care that they deserve.

Dear Congressman Schuette:

W.F.

Mt. Pleasant

Dear W.F.:

No one can argue that our senior citizens are entitled to the best medical care than we can get them. The problem is that the rate of inflation in the health care industry has been double and triple that of the economy as a whole. These spiralling costs of care, coupled with a steady "graying" or aging of our population as a whole have meant that Medicare is one of the most rapidly growing parts of our federal budget, and may be insolvent as soon as 1990.

Protecting Medicare and providing all of our senior citizens an adequate level of health care is going to take more than a few cuts here and a premium increase there. Aside from the fact that premium increases hit and solvency of the Social Security system.

Regarding COLA freezes specifically, I am not certain what the House Budget Committee will propose. Like the President, I am opposed to any freeze on COLAs for Social Security recipients.

One of my long-range goals is to make sure that the Social Security trust fund is taken out of the unified federal budget. Restoring Social Security to its original, independent status as a trust fund will enable us to gauge its financial status accurately, and clear away a lot of the political smoke that surrounds the fund's status and impact on the deficit.

I know that the Social Security payments our senior citizens rely on are the contributions they made over a lifetime of work. We cannot continue to have these contributions made into political bargaining chips during the annual debate on the budget.

C.F.
Evert

Dear C.F.:

Senior citizens living on fixed income must be assured economic protection by maintaining Social Security benefit levels. I will strive to maintain the integrity

Morning Musicale has last meeting

The final meeting of the year for St. Johns Morning Musicale affiliate of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs was held at the First Congregational Church.

Phyllis Rice mezzo-soprano culminated the year's study of the interlacing of music with the development of our country by selecting songs from a varied list of American composers. Diantha Witteveen was the piano accompanist.

The beautifully performed program included "By the Waters of Minnetonka" by Thurlow Lieurance, "Indian Love Call" by Rudolf Friml, "The White Dawn is Stealing" (Iroquis Tribal Melody), Opus 45, No. 2 by Charles Wakefield Cadman, 2 songs from Set of Jade (six Chinese poems) "A Bitter Love" and "Lines from the Tomb of An Unknown Woman" by Richard Bales, "Just A-Wearyin' for You" and "A Perfect Day" by Carrie Jacobs Bond, "The Ox-Driving Song" from the folk opera Michigan Dream by H. Owen Reed.

The program concluded with Helen Lewis and Phyllis Rice singing "Indian Names and "Michigan Morn" and the group singing "I Want to Go Back to Michigan" by Irving Berlin, "Michigan My Michigan" by Otto Meissner and another version of "Michigan My Michigan" by Carl Anschutz.

A salad pot-luck luncheon proceeded the program. Bright geranium plants interspersed with ivy decorated the buffet and luncheon tables. Mildred Brown was in charge of luncheon arrangements.

Helen Lewis will continue as president for the year 1985-86 and be assisted by vice-president, Ruth Comstock; treasurer, Sybil Werbish; recording secretary, Julia Thornton; corresponding secretary, Margaret Paige and press reporter Carolyn Campbell.

Halley's Comet

Halley's Comet is on the return leg of its 76-year tour of the solar system and Lick Observatory astronomers at the University of California, Santa Cruz have charted a "road map" of nearby stars for part of the comet's trip back to the old neighborhood.

Halley's Comet will be visible — through a telescope — in the Lick "road map" part of the sky through October 1985.

Astronomers expect that the comet will brighten enough by January 1986 to be seen with the naked eye.

Now superintendent of the St. Johns School District, Gabriel was a speaker at the FSC Commencement. The College granted over 3,300 diplomas, and graduated its initial classes in its master's in accountancy and bachelor's in nursing and public relations programs.

Chase to star in two movies

Submitted by, David Scott

In the early 1970's if you heard the name Chevy Chase, it was either a city in Maryland or a type of car. Since then through the magic of Saturday Night Live and successful box office hits, Chevy Chase has become a recognizable name and face sure to bring us more hits.

He'll have two chances this summer to bring his bumbling off-the-wall humor to a theater near you. Watch early for "Fletch", a detective comedy with Chevy Chase playing to the hilt his master of disguise character.

His other summer film will be a sequel to last years box office success "National Lampoons Vacation". This year the family travels abroad to cause more trouble in "National Lampoons Vacation in Europe". If you're a Chevy Chase fan like me, you won't want to miss either of these films. And to think it all started with "Live from New York, It's..."

Today's MEDICINES

by Grant Brown, Pharm.D. Jackson, MI
Nancy Wenzloff, Pharm.D. Farmington Hills, MI

My doctor has told me that I am at risk of developing osteoporosis and should start taking a calcium supplement. How much calcium should I take and what product should I use?

There are many forms of calcium supplements available over the counter without a prescription and all are touted to be beneficial in the prevention and treatment of osteoporosis (the excessive loss of bone density).

The recommended daily allowance (RDA) of calcium for adults is 800 mg per day; however, a higher daily intake may be required to achieve a positive calcium balance, especially in older adults who absorb calcium less efficiently.

Current recommendations state that by taking between 100 and 1500 mg of calcium per day you may reduce bone loss and decrease the effects of osteoporosis.

Any form of calcium supplement may be used; however, they vary in the amount of calcium they provide. For instance, 1,000 mg of calcium carbonate provides 400 mg of calcium while 1,000 mg of calcium gluconate contains only 100 mg of calcium. A summary of supplements shows that:

- Calcium carbonate (oyster shell calcium, Oscal, Tums, etc.) is usually the least expensive and supplies the most calcium per tablet.

- Calcium gluconate provides a small amount of calcium and must be taken frequently throughout the day.

- Calcium lactate should be used with caution in people who are lactose intolerant.

- Many other supplements are available including calcium levulinate, calcium chloride and chelated calcium, but these may be accompanied by side effects such as stomach irritation, constipation and bitter or salty taste.

It is best to select a product, e.g., calcium carbonate, that provides the highest amount of calcium for the least amount of money. The product should be taken in divided doses as this will enhance the overall calcium absorption that occurs.

Could I get the calcium that is recommended in the foods that I eat instead of taking a calcium supplement every day?

Even though there are many dietary sources of calcium available, most women today only receive approximately 450 mg of calcium per day from their diet. This is well below the recommended daily requirements. Also, most of the foods that are high in calcium would require that you eat large amounts on a daily basis to achieve the recommended calcium intake. For example, milk is one of the highest sources of dietary calcium (approximately 290 mg per 8 ounces) but you would have to drink one quart every day. Listed below are some other foods high in calcium: milk, one quart, 1160 mg; sardines, eight medium, 354 mg; yogurt, one cup, 345 mg; cheddar cheese, one ounce, 211 mg; creamed cottage cheese, one cup, 211 mg; tofu (soybean curd), 3 1/2 ounces, 128 mg.

Remember, there are many options and sources available for calcium supplementation and if you are unsure which is best for you, as always, ask your pharmacist.

Retired local architect dies

Florence Gay

Florence White Gay died May 12, 1985, at the Schnepf Health Care Center in St. Louis, Michigan, at the age of 88 years.

She was born December 18, 1896, in Owosso, the daughter of John and Anna (Becker) White. As a young child she moved to Clare, with her parents and two brothers.

After graduation from Clare High School in 1915, she moved to Toledo, Ohio, where she was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, purchasing land rights. She studied voice and diction for two years at the Toledo Conservatory of Music and Art.

She then entered Ohio State University to study civil engineering and architecture, following in the footsteps of her father, John White (Chief Engineer of Surveys and Superintendent of Construction of the Ann Arbor Railroad, 1883-1893).

While employed by the architectural firm of Warren S. Holmes in Lansing, she met and married R.V. Gay of St. Johns. Soon after their wedding in September, 1923, they opened architectural offices in St. Johns.

During their partnership, they produced many schools, hospitals and structures that dot the map of Michigan today. Five of those structures are here in St. Johns: St. Joseph School, 1924; Clinton Memorial Hospital and Nurses Home, 1926-1939; First Methodist Episcopal Church, 1937; Perrin-Palmer School, 1939; and the Municipal and Library Building, 1939.

R.V. Gay was born and raised in St. Johns. He graduated from St. Johns High School in 1913. After serving in the army in World War I, he returned to the University of Michigan, and received his degree in Architecture and Engineering in 1921.

In that same year, he was one of a group of young architects from the United States chosen by the government to travel in Europe and study the reconstruction of the Reims Cathedral in France.

In 1942 he was appointed Michigan State Planning commissioner by governor Harry F. Kelly. He died in that office in 1943.

Mr. Gay's maternal grandfather, Cornelius G. Barnes, was one of the builders of the Clinton County Courthouse and the John Hicks residence. His paternal grandfather, Richard E. Gay, arrived in St. Johns in 1854, and was known as "the Pioneer Shoemaker", making the first pair of boots and shoes in St. Johns.

While a resident of St. Johns, Mrs. Gay was an active member of St. Johns Episcopal Church Choir, the Child Study Club and formed the St. Johns Civic Players Guild.

During the 1940's and 1950's, she was an Engineer I with the State Department of Bridge and Highway, retiring from the Department of Conservation.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Benjamin (Helen) Barrera, of Alma, Mrs. Albert (Anita) Ehinger Jr., of New York City, and one son, Robert V. Gay of Richmond, Virginia, seven grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Burial was May 15 at Mt. Rest Cemetery, St. Johns. Memorials may be made to St. Johns Episcopal Church, St. Johns.

Wacousta OES, Chapter No. 133; and a member of the Cole-Briggs American Legion Post Auxiliary of Grand Ledge. Mrs. Woodard was a lifelong area resident of Eagle Township.

Teen volunteer program set

The Voluntary Action Center is planning the eighth annual Teen Volunteer Program for the summer of 1985. More than 50 jobs are available — child care helpers, classroom aides, office assistants, state representative interns, friendly visitors, maintenance personnel, computer interns, recreation aides, teen organizers, and hospital workers. Teens may work from two to 20 hours a week, depending on the job they choose.

Over 50 teens worked in area agencies last year. Benefits to the teens include on-the-job training, exploration of possible career choices or interests, familiarization of the needs and resources of the community, a chance to help others, and something worthwhile to do during the summer. At least 200 teens are needed to fill the summer volunteer jobs on file at the Voluntary Action Center.

The Summer Teen Volunteer Program is an opportunity for teens to serve others while learning about themselves and their communities. For more information, call the Voluntary Action Center at 371-4894.

Manor site of the "Senior Prom"

A "Senior Prom" was held last May 23 at Findlay Country Manor, as part of the festivities of National Nursing Home Week.

"It was definitely the highlight of the week," said Debbie Whybra, activity director. "The residents are still talking about the event and how much they enjoyed getting all dressed up."

Whybra says many thanks are in order to several St. Johns businesses, as it was with their support that the prom was so successful. With a special thank you to Rehmann's Clothing Store for their generous donation of tuxedo's for all the men at the manor.

"This was a first for the men—none of them had ever worn a tux before, so they were really excited, and so handsome," said Whybra.

Also providing services were Annette Snyder of Merle Norman Cosmetics and Jamie Hollenbeck of the Golden Comb, who helped to get the ladies beautiful for the Prom.

Residents were entertained at the Prom by the Vi-Accord Band, a local band led by Veronica Boettger with members Edwin Boettger, Iva Stevens, D.O. Wakefield, Margaret Smith, Leone Bare, Donna Stewart, Marguerite High, Julia Thornton, Lester Sehlke and Katherine Sehlke.

The crowning of this years king, Don Scott and queen, Pearl Roberts, was the highlight of the evening which kept the residents on the edge of their seats until the announcement.

When asked how he felt to be king, Scott replied, "I'm grateful and honored having been chosen."

Roberts, queen, just beamed and is still excited over the prospect as reigning as queen for a whole year.

Last years king and queen, Karl Hecht and Irene Decker, gave up their crowns with reluctance, but said it had been a "fun and new experience".

Michigan Farm Bureau opposes proposed taxation measures

In written testimony sent members of the House Taxation Committee May 23, Michigan Farm Bureau Senior Legislative Counsel Robert E. Smith said the state's largest farm organization strongly opposes the proposed increase in the capital gains tax (H.B. 4699) and the proposed tax on insurance premiums (H.B. 4702).

"Farm Bureau is concerned about the economic effect these provisions would have on farmers during this period of fiscal crisis and generally depressed farm economy," Smith said.

H.B. 4699 would change the present taxable 40 percent of capital gains to 100 percent, increasing the tax on all capital gains except the sale of a personal residence by 150 percent. "This would create a major tax burden on farmers at the time when many are selling breeding stock and land in order to remain solvent," Smith said.

"Another serious problem with H.B. 4699 is the deviation of Michigan's present policy of following the IRS tax code. Such deviations will make our present tax system much more complex, requiring separate bookkeeping and tax computations," he said. "Because of these reasons, we strongly oppose this 150 percent increase in the capital gains tax."

The other proposed legislation, H.B. 4702, would impose a 2 to 3 percent tax on domestic insurance premiums. "Such taxes are always passed on to the purchaser in one form or another so farmers would be affected more severely than most other purchasers of insurance because of the wide variety of insurance protection they must purchase," Smith said.

Insurance coverage that would be subject to the 2 percent tax rate include workers' compensation, life, liability, autos, trucks, group accident, and health. The 3 percent tax rate would apply to fire and allied lines. In the case of "multiple peril" insurance such as farm owners and homeowners, 70 percent of the premium would be subject to the 3 percent tax and 30 percent of the 2 percent rate.

"We strongly oppose the premiums tax because if it would result in a substantial tax increase to the agricultural community," Smith said.

Block asks Food and Agriculture Council members for their feedback

Speaking to Food and Agriculture Council members in 50 states via telephone from the USDA Washington office, Secretary of Agriculture John Block outlined an initiative to streamline basic operations of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In the nationwide teleconference, May 22, Block called for recommendations from council members by Sept. 1.

He said the goals of the initiative are fundamental: to improve service, reduce costs and adapt to changes in USDA clientele, budget and technology. While the USDA will continue to provide service to farmers as in the past, the efforts to streamline the agencies will result in more efficient management and a stronger department, Block predicted.

He asked members of the Food and Agriculture Councils to identify programs and functions in their states that are duplicated by two or more agencies, to identify opportunities to share support services and reduce administrative costs, and to collocate field offices wherever possible.

The effort will be carried out under the leadership of USDA Deputy Secretary John Norton and Deputy Assistant Secretary for Administration Charles Grizzle. Four regional workshops are scheduled during June to lay out the plans and develop proposals. Workshops will be held June 10-11 in Atlanta, June 13-14 in Salt Lake City, June 24-25 in St. Louis, and June 27-28 in Philadelphia.

According to Homer Hilner, chairperson of Michigan's Food and Agriculture Council, streamlining possibilities in Michigan include identifying and sharing support services to reduce administrative costs for equipment purchases, computer time sharing, soil survey activities and personnel services.

Hilner said that a strong effort has been made toward co-location of the state's field offices for Soil Conservation Service (SCS), Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services (ACS) and Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Currently, 59 of Michigan's 68 field office locations house two or more of these USDA agencies.

Milk products vary with country

In America, nearly all the milk products come from cows. If you were to visit other countries, you might drink unusual milk.

Kids in India like to drink Zebra milk! Around the world there are lots of different animals that give milk to people.

Here are some of the other animals that give milk to people in other countries. Horses and Donkeys give milk in parts of China. Reindeer in the Arctic Islands, Camel in parts of Africa and Asia, Buffalo give milk in India, Pakistan and Egypt, Sheep and Goats milk are in demand in parts of Europe, and now Goats milk is now becoming popular here in America.

Goat milk is a valuable food product. The protein is rich in essential amino acids which enable the body to repair and build new cells. The calcium is used for building strong bones. It helps to keep muscles and nerves in good condition and to help make the blood clot properly. Goat milk is also a good source of Phosphorus. This is used along with the calcium in building and maintaining bones.

Goat milk is higher in Vitamin A than cow milk. This vitamin is good for healthy skin, eyes, and the respiratory system. The B vitamins help give us healthy skin and nerves and much more.

Many people can tolerate goat's milk who cannot properly digest cow milk. Such problems as skin rashes, bronchial disorder, gastro-intestinal disorders and headaches can be traced to allergic responses to cow milk. Babies with colic and diarrhea are very often suffering from cow milk allergies, the switch to goat milk sometimes can give them fast relief and allows them to thrive.

Cheese is a milk product of great importance. The types are varied and range from fresh to cured. Cheese provide a tasty added ingredient to many prepared foods.

Goat cheese is certainly good tasting and definitely provides good nutrition. Goat cheese is lower in calories and easier to digest than other cheeses.

BE creative and add a little flair to your meals. Try some Goat Milk and Cheese products this month.

Fairboard sets August 5 date

For nearly 10 months now, members of the Clinton County Fair Board have been hard at work making plans for the 1985 Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair. This year's event will be held on the fairgrounds in St. Johns the week of Aug. 5.

A full four days of fun and a wide variety of activities are being planned for this event and the Board members are confident that this will be one of the best fairs ever held in Clinton County.

The Fair will actually begin on Monday morning as all of the still projects and animal exhibits will be brought in and placed on display. Some judging of projects will take place on Monday and judging will continue throughout the week.

The focus of the annual county event is on the young people of the county and their many varied achievements. Board members work hard to make sure that nothing distracts from the focal point.

This year over a thousand youth are expected to exhibit and there may be nearly 5,000 different exhibits on display.

The dunking tank which was a popular new feature last year will be back again this year. The Board plans to increase the number of hours that it is in operation. The hog roast, lamb roast and the barbecued chevon are also annual highlights which will be returning again this year.

A new feature this year will be a pony which is scheduled for Thursday evening beginning at 8 p.m., following the annual 4-H Fair Members Awards Program.

One of the highlights for many of the members which market animal projects is the annual livestock sale which brings many businesses and individuals from across the county out to support the market livestock program. The Sale will be held on Wednesday evening, Aug. 7, beginning at 5 p.m. with the small stock sale (rabbits, poultry and goats) and followed at 6 p.m. by the livestock sale (beef, lambs, and hogs).

Again this year, interested persons in the community may apply for exhibit space in the Commercial Exhibit Tent. The proceeds generated from the rental of space in this tent are used to finance Fair operations and to help finance improvements on the Fairgrounds. Interested persons may get an application from the Extension Office or by contacting any of the Fair Board members.

When your jam turns out to be syrup...

Have you ever started to make jam and ended up with ice cream syrup? That can be frustrating when you have invested so much time and money into the project already. There are several things that will cause your jam/jellies to remain soft. A few of those factors include too little sugar, too little pectin, or too large a batch.

Here are a few tips to help make your jam/jelly making a successful experience every time.

1. Sterilize your jars. The USDA recommends that you sterilize your jars anytime you are preserving food in a processing time of 15 minutes or less.

2. Follow the instructions carefully. If the recipe says to "boil hard for one minute," time it by the clock.

3. Measure the ingredients carefully. Remember — fruit, pectin, acid, and sugar all have to be present in the right amounts for jelly or jam to "set up."

4. Never cut down on the amount of sugar that a recipe calls for. It takes a lot of sugar for a gel to be formed. If you use less, you'll wind up with syrup — great for ice cream or pancakes, not so good for toast or sandwiches.

5. Never double a recipe. If a double batch of jelly or jam is cooked for the usual time, it will be undercooked — which means the jelly or jam will be soft and runny. If boiled longer, it will have a caramelized flavor and dark color.

Do you sometimes have to scrape the mold off your jam?

Is your pressure canner something that scares you to death?

Are you sometimes afraid that you may be poisoning your family by your home-canned goods?

If you answered "yes" to any of these questions then Canning Update '85 is the series for you!

This series will include sessions on waterbath canning, pressure canning, jam/jelly making, pickling, and freezing foods. Each class will include actual demonstrations, some hands-on experience, question/answer sessions and all the 1985 changes in USDA recommendations for safe food preservation.

This series is perfect for the beginning canner, as well as the experienced canner who just wants an update.

Canning Update '85 will be held on June 12 and 13 in the home economics room of the St. Johns High School. The series will include a pressure canning class from 10 a.m. to noon and freezing tips from 1 to 3 p.m. on the 12th. On the 13, the series will cover waterbath canning from 10 a.m. to noon and jam/jelly making from 1 to 3 p.m. Following the class, each participant will be encouraged to volunteer some time to promote safe food preservation in the county.

The charge for the entire series is just $10. Pre-registration is required because enrollment is limited. To pre-register, contact the Cooperative Extension Service at 224-3288 by June 7.

Agricultural News

By Marilyn Loudenslager
Extension Agricultural Agent

Parasitic worm infestations in cattle causes weight loss that reduces production, and can even lead to death if left unchecked. Proper management reduces the threat of worm problems.

"If producers use good management techniques, worm infestations will rarely be a problem," says Dr. Tjaart Schillhorn van Veen, veterinarian and large animal specialist at Michigan State University.

Cattle ingest parasites while grazing in the spring and fall when worms are in the larval stage. After entering the host, the worms mature and lay eggs in the cattle's digestive tract. The eggs are then excreted in the cattle's manure, to be ingested during grazing when the new generation of worms is in the larval stage.

Management practices are designed to keep cattle from ingesting the larvae when they are most abundant. Operators should first deworm cattle before moving them to pasture in the spring. This should kill worms that overwinter in the cattle's stomach and intestine and minimizes later field contamination. Make sure to check worm load before and after deworming to verify the treatment worked, Schillhorn van Veen advises.

Cattle can be dewormed anytime after April 1 — as most of the larvae overwintering in the gut have matured by that time. If the farm has high stock density, operators should consider deworming again in July. Once cattle are dewormed, operators need to see to it that the animals stay that way, Schillhorn van Veen says. This means making pastures as worm free as possible.

It is not possible to eradicate parasitic worms from pastures, he notes. Some worms will survive the treatment and others will be spread by birds and the wind and in a variety of other ways will reinfest the field. Fields remain relatively clean until early July but may reach a risky contamination level by this time, as the season's second generation of larvae start hatching. Schillhorn van Veen suggests changing pastures to keep worm counts down.

Confining cattle until June ensures fields are relatively worm free for the first part of the season as well, but this is often economically impractical.

Schillhorn van Veen also recommends a management program that involves cutting and grazing pastures by rotation to keep pastures worm free. Using three pastures, graze animal on one field, cut the grass for hay on the second, the rest the third field. After the first cutting, rotate previously grazed field. Continuing this practice through the summer keeps parasitic worm contamination from building to a problem level.

Schillhorn van Veen suggests deworming cattle again in the fall to rid cattle of the parasites before they become metabolically inactive within the digestive tract for the winter. This is particularly important for young cattle, whose immune systems are not completely developed and are less tolerant to parasites.

Extension 4-H-Youth Agent

Youth are invited to participate in an eventful 4-H Great Lakes Resources Camp July 20-26 on Beaver Island.

"The purpose of the camp is to increase participants' awareness, appreciation, and understanding of natural resource ecology and management, with special emphasis on the Great Lakes," says Theresa Silm, Clinton County 4-H Youth Agent.

Sea Grant agents, 4-H youth agents and natural resources specialists will instruct participants in learning options focusing on Great Lakes ecology, history, wildlife, insects, amphibians and plants. Sessions on wetlands and dune and beach ecology also will be offered.

Recreational activities include hiking, fishing, bird watching, historical tours and volleyball.

The camp is designed for 13-15 year old boys and girls interested in natural resources. A limited number of 16-19 year olds will be selected to provide leadership.

The group will board a boat at the city dock in downtown Charlevoix for the trip to the island.

Participant cost is $50, which includes round-trip boat fare, meals, lodging and transportation to Beaver Island. Other expenses are covered by the MSU Sea Grant Advisory Service and Michigan Bell.

Applications are due June 7 and can be obtained at the Extension Office. For more information and applications, contact the Cooperative Extension Service of call 224-3288.

Canning saves money

With your garden freshly planted, are you thinking about how good those fresh vegetables are going to taste and how much money you are going to save at the supermarket? Why not extend those savings throughout the entire year by preserving some of those vegetables.

To help you keep those vegetables looking and tasting fresh all year long, the Cooperative Extension Service will be hosting "Canning Update '85" June 12 and 13 at the St. Johns High School. This two-day series will include a 10 a.m. to noon pressure canning workshop and a 1 to 3 p.m. freezing update on the 12th and a class on jam/jelly making from 10 a.m. to noon and one on water-bath canning from 1 to 3 p.m. on the 13th.

Each session will include actual demonstrations, question/answer sessions and all the 1985 changes in USDA recommendations for safe food preservation.

Following the series, each participant will be encouraged to volunteer some time to promote safe food preservation in the county.

The charge for the entire series is $10, which includes a class notebook and the 30th edition of the Ball Blue Book. Pre-registration is required because enrollment is limited.

Trimming hooves improves health

Regularly trimming the hooves of dairy cows is an important part of maintaining the animals' overall health and keeping milk production at its peak.

"Cow foot problems often lead to decreased milk production because cows tend to eat less when their feet hurt," says Herbert Bucholtz, Michigan State University Extension specialist. "Trimming the hooves reduces the potential of cows developing foot problems."

Cows' feet are naturally trimmed when they walk around grazing on open pasture. Most operations keep cows confined, however, so they don't get enough exercise to naturally wear down hooves. Dairy facilities also often have smooth concrete floors, which do not wear down hooves properly even if the cows do get sufficient exercise.

If allowed to continue to grow, cows' hooves eventually look like skis or sometimes curl under, Bucholtz says. Overgrown hooves cause cows to shift their weight to the tender heels of their feet, stretching their tendons and muscles. This weakens their legs and makes it painful for them to walk.

Farmers can avert this situation by simply trimming each cow's hooves at least once per year. It is best to trim cow's hooves when she is in late lactation. Though the trimming procedure is not painful, it does stress the cow, and stress should be avoided when the cow is in high production.

In severe cases, a cow's hooves may require two to three trimmings to get its feet back in proper shape.

Bucholtz recommends hiring professional hoof trimmers — they have the appropriate tools and expertise to get the job done quickly and so minimize stress on the animal.

Make sure the trimmer has a good reputation. Improperly trimmed hooves can be as painful to a cow as untrimmed hooves. A veterinarian's or neighbor's recommendation is often a good way to find professional hoof trimmers. They generally charge between $7 and $15 per cow, depending on what needs to be done, but it is worth the investment, Bucholtz says.

Two-day Crystal Raceway show rained-out

The big two-day show at Crystal Raceway was partially rained out as the 1,500 people who had come early to watch the qualifying got drenched heading to their cars. Over 100 racing machines were in the pits and ready to go, but Mother Nature prevailed and the Sunday night show had to be canceled. Those who still hold tickets may use them at the SOD races on June 15 or they may use them at any regular show, but with no difference in price. Pit passes may be used in the same way.

Saturday was the great show in itself as 69 cars in the two regular divisions performed for the crowd. Dave Harris started the evening with an 18:56 qualifying time which is a new track record for the Pro Stock Division. Jeff Reist won the fast car dash, helping him to stay in the top position in points.

Heat winners in the Pro Stock division were Terry Carson, Don Rohn, Roy Doolittle, and Rodger Carman. The winner of the consolation race was Dan Wiggins, and Don Rohn was the B-Feature.

Taking the checkered flag in his first feature win was Troy VanderVeen. Rodger Carman and Rick Stout were second and third.

The big race of the night was the 40-lap Late Model Spring Championship which saw Mike Powell on the pole after his three consecutive feature wins. Right beside him sat Roger Wing, last year's point champion. Wing pulled up on Powell in the first lap and they duelled it out for 17 laps until Powell had to pit with a flat tire. Wing won the race, leading from start to finish. Bryan Hull was second and Larry Aldrich was third. Don Bohannon and Kirk Taylor picked up money for fourth and fifth.

The top three places received trophies sponsored by Miller Beer, and Wing received a bonus because he had won at Ionia the night before.

Fastest qualifier for the night in the Late Models was Jeff Finley with a 17:44. Heat winners were Bob Harden, Bryan Hull, and Dennis Boyce. Winner of dash was Alan Taft.

Alcohol-related boat accidents increasing

Last year, an estimated one-half of all recreational boating accidents occurred because someone had too much to drink and got careless. More than 1,200 people died on our nation's waterways, many of them from alcohol-related incidents. Boating is supposed to be fun, but recreation can quickly turn into tragedy if alcohol is involved.

Drinking even small amounts of alcohol while operating a boat is more dangerous than more people realize, according to a report from the U.S. Department of Transportation. Even without drinking, the effects of wind, noise, glare, and motion can cause fatigue and slowed reaction time after just a few hours on a boat. And if a boat operator has been drinking as well, these effects are compounded, the report says.

Drunk boaters not only endanger themselves; frequently they put other waterway users at risk. That is why the U.S. Coast Guard and state boating authorities are cracking down on alcohol abuse; they want to save lives and make boating more pleasurable for everyone.

You should be aware that the federal government and many states have recently toughened laws against drinking and boating. For example, boating accident reports must now state whether alcohol contributed to any casualties, and anyone convicted of operating a vessel while intoxicated in waters under federal jurisdiction faces a maximum penalty of a $5,000 fine and a year in prison.

The U.S. Department of Transportation, of which the Coast Guard is an important part, is working closely with the states to strengthen laws against drunken boat operation. All but one of the states now have laws against operating a boat while intoxicated. In addition, a growing number of states are setting limits on blood-alcohol content levels and requiring mandatory breathalyzer tests for those suspected of drunk boating. I hope and expect to see more of these laws enacted during 1985.

The Coast Guard is also coordinating an ambitious public awareness program to educate boaters about the hazards of mixing alcohol while operating a boat. This includes a number of "safe boating" courses that are available all over the country. The courses are offered as a public service by groups such as the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, U.S. Power Squadrons, the Red Cross, and individual states. If you are a boater who has never taken one of these courses, the U.S. Department of Transportation recommends you do so. The overwhelming majority of boaters who have fatal accidents have never had any safe boating education.

Armyworm damaging corn crop

Armyworms have been spotted damaging corn in Michigan.

Normally expected to start feeding damage at about 45 degree days, they appear to be right on schedule for Clinton County this week, (May 24 and for two weeks), check small grains, especially wheat that is planted thick, and grassy weed areas in corn.

Look for chewed margins of leaves, green droppings ("frass" or "sawdust") under the plants, and dark caterpillars with a light stripe down each side near the base of the plants. Control is relatively effective when the worms are small.

The weather this spring has been ideal to bring on early infestations of many insects with some of the worms being especially benefited. Fields should be checked often and any problem should be identified so that any needed corrective measure can be used properly.

Watertown sewers refinance will save township money

The refinancing of a 1981 general obligation bond for Watertown Township sanitary sewers will result in a gross savings of $650,000 to the township, says Township Supervisor Tom O'Bryant.

Final papers on the refinancing from an interest rate of 13.8 percent to 8.9 percent were to be signed this week, O'Bryant said last Wednesday.

"It's quite a savings over the long term," O'Bryant says, noting that the $650,000 savings will be realized over a 20-year period.

The collector pipe installation designated Honor Students include: Andrea Collins, Marcia Freed, Linda Garner, Lori Leiby, Trisha Malek, Shelly Miller, Lisa Munger, David

financed by the new $1.3 million bond will mostly service the Grand River corridor, roughly between Airport Road and I-96, O'Bryant says. Work is also slated for a three-quarter mile stretch between Airport Road and Clark Road, he says.

O'Bryant estimates a $25,000 savings during the first year of the new agreement, with a savings of about $30,000 per year afterwards.

"The taxpayers of the township will have a benefit," he says, but "whether they see it as a lower millage rate or see it in roads (improvements) . . . or parks" has not yet been determined, he says.

Bath schoolboard election June 10

On June 10, voters in Bath will decide who will fill one four-year board of education seat. Three candidates are running for the position, and following is a profile of each one:

Dean N. Sweet, Jr. is the incumbent, running for his second term on the school board. He has lived in Bath his entire life, and graduated from BHS in 1962 as a 13-year senior. He is employed by the Bank of Lansing as a branch officer at the airport branch. He has done extensive volunteer work with the Boy Scouts of America and the Red Cross. He is presently a member of the Bath Township Police and Fire Board.

Sweet was elected to the school board in 1981 and has served as the board treasurer since that time. He has attended a number of seminars sponsored by the Michigan School Board Association. He has participated fully in the contract negotiations that have occurred in the last four years, and participated in the selection process of the current superintendent. As a member of the school board, Sweet says he has made a commitment to represent the people of the school district and to maintain a high quality educational level for the students.

Sweet says he feels the knowledge and skills he has gained as a member of the board of education are valuable to the school district, and he wants to continue to serve the community for another four years.

Karen Cook has also lived in Bath since she was a baby. She married Jim Cook 13 years ago, and they are raising three boys: Jimmy, Ben, and Drew. She is not presently employed, and says she enjoys being home.

Cook graduated from BHS in 1971, and has taken college courses which include psychology, auto mechanics, creative arts, and writing.

She is an advisor to Explorer Post 369 and serves as a committee member for Cub Scout Pack 267. Cook is a member of Gunnisonville United Methodist Church, and serves as a church camp advisor.

Her other interests include sewing and handicrafts.

Cook is running for the school board because she says she has some new ideas to help provide good school programs. She says that she feels it is time someone with children in the elementary school got involved.

Denise (Bos) Ackerman has been a Bath resident for 16 years. She has two boys, 10 and 8, in Bath schools. She is a 1971 graduate of BHS and attended Grand Rapids Baptist College. During the winter months she is employed as a tax preparer and office manager for H&R Block in East Lansing. She is also serving on the Clinton County Committee on Gifted and Talented, representing Bath.

Her main interest in serving on the school board is to help facilitate the continuing emphasis in Bath schools on educating every child to his full potential — intellectually, physically, and socially.

St. Johns first graders tour Shared-Time

What are all those buildings around St. Johns? That's what Mike Muehlenbecks first grade class were exploring in one of the Michigan Week Tours for school children set up by CRV and the Chamber of Commerce.

This class was visiting the Clinton County Shared Time School located at the corner of Higham and Brush streets in St. Johns. They found out that high school students have the opportunity for some neat classes at the center. The cosmology program has about 35 students who will be able to become licensed to do work in beauty shops when they pass their license tests.

There were other interesting programs that this group discovered. They looked at the auto mechanics equipment visited the computer room and found IBM Computers waiting for students to learn word processing and programming, then they discovered the food service program waiting on tables, cooking and baking in the kitchen and even washing dishes. But, best of all they enjoyed the cookies that the students made for them.

Of the 230 students from the six Clinton County School Districts this group only missed visiting those students in Health Services training assigned to Clinton Memorial Hospital. A thanks went to Mr.

Johnson and the staff at the school for making the visit possible for this group and other classes. The public is encouraged to stop in for a visit.

Use caution when buying

Commercial silage additives don't always do what the manufacturers promise, so farmers need to be cautious when buying these products.

Manufacturers are responsible for proving that an additive product either reduces losses from fermentation or oxidation, or improves the quality of feed for livestock production, compared with untreated silage under the same conditions, says Herbert Bucholtz, Michigan State University Extension dairy specialist.

Farmers should insist on obtaining reliable, controlled research data from the manufacturer confirming a product's effectiveness, he says.

Following another farmer's recommendations is not the best way to decide on which additive to use, because on-farm product comparisons are seldom controlled or accurate.

If the silage contains enough moisture, antioxidants or mold inhibitors can help reduce heat damage to a limited extent. Trials indicate that addition of propionic acid at the rate of 0.4 to 0.6 percent (8 to 12 pounds per ton) reduces mold in small silos when silage is ensiled at 40 percent moisture. Lower application levels do not adequately prevent mold development.

Other additives primarily composed of dried molasses, salt or flavor compounds have proven to be of little, if any benefit.

Resignation of police chief leaves questions

The sudden resignation of DeWitt Township Police Chief Carroll Lee has led to questions that his departure was due not only to health problems, as stated in the resignation letter, but to the continuous conflict between Lee and Supervisor Frank Mann.

"We did have a little disagreement over the way things were run," said Mann, "and that could have contributed" to the stress Lee said intensified his ulcers and high blood pressure.

"But there are no hard feelings," said Mann.

Township Clerk Greg Whitlock said the recent issue of scheduled police overtime, a point of contention between Lee and Mann, "might certainly have had a bearing" on Lee's resignation.

"Certain things might have added to the stress he was feeling," Whitlock said, "like not seeing eye to eye with the superintendent and the board."

Lee cited family problems and health problems in his resignation letter, which was accepted by the board of trustees at a May 17 special meeting. The board refused, 5-2, to pay Lee's salary until the end of his contract, Dec. 31. Trustees Charles Rademacher and Doug Hammond cast the two dissenting votes.

Lee, who has served as DeWitt Township police chief since January 1983, was not present at the meeting, and Whitlock said he was visiting a sick daughter. Lee was not available for comment later, because he left for vacation in Oklahoma. Mann said that although Lee's resignation is not effective until May 31, the police chief will be taking vacation and sick time until then.

Lee had approached Mann a little more than two months ago to find out the procedure for resigning, but the supervisor said he talked Lee into staying until his contract expired. So although his resignation letter was sudden, it was not totally unexpected.

Sgt. Don Bye was sworn in as the officer in charge at the special meeting, and Whitlock said the township is not in a rush to fill Lee's vacancy immediately.

"I think they're going to sit down and decide the qualifications they want in the next police chief," he said.

Earthworms may do wonders for soil outside, but don't let any stay in potted plants. As they burrow in and around roots, they sometimes do more harm than good.
