Because of the Memorial Day holiday, the Clinton County News will next week be published on Wednesday, May 28.

The following week we will resume our normal Tuesday publication.

Youth jobs

CLINTON COUNTY Schools, community agencies and private sector employers are working together to find summer jobs for young people in Clinton and neighboring counties.

Employers interested in hiring young people, ages 16-21, for the summer should call 1-487-0106 and ask for a Hire-A-Youth representative.

Concert

ST. JOHNS The elementary and Junior High orchestras will present their annual Spring Concert on May 22 in Rodney B. Wilson Junior High Auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The program will feature selections by the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grade orchestras, with the combined seventh and eighth grade orchestras ending the concert.

Tickets are $2 for adults, $1 for students and senior citizens, and pre-schoolers are free. Tickets are available from the orchestra members or may be purchased at the door.

Muser

ST. JOHNS Attention all: The Mid-Michigan Muser, a poetry magazine sponsored by the Community Resource Volunteers, has met its May 15 deadline. All the poems are in and ready to be processed.

Poems were submitted from all areas of the county. A 16-year old wrote about the chilling reality of "The Fire" on a cold winter night. Read about how "Time Passes" and "The Child Not Kept." There's a "Tribute to Dad", "My Beloved Husband" and also Mom.

Publicity for the magazine proclaims: "So many words that will make you laugh, enjoy a tear, or clear your mind — don't miss this publication of The Mid-Michigan Muser. Watch for further information."

Bed race

ST. JOHNS Vrrroom! Vrrroom! Yawn! Get the lead out of your bed! It's almost time for the Fourth Annual Bed Race, sponsored by the Southpoint Mall Merchants Association.

The dreamy dragsters will speed their somnolent way to victory or defeat in the parking lot of the mall on June 21. All proceeds from the event will benefit the Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor.

New to the event this year is a third category of bed — the Professional Modified. This category is the same as the Modified category (which is any bed other than a hospital bed) except that winner will have won two out of three races against the opposition.

"There are serious bed racers out there, folks," says Lori Vasquez, president of the mall merchants association.

For the Hospital Bed category, Clinton Memorial Hospital will provide the racing recliners.

The St. Johns Knights of Columbus will hold a pancake breakfast at the mall before the race with the proceeds also going to the Findlay Manor.

A deejay from WITL radio station will announce the race.

The entrance fee is $25. Racing teams may have up to five members. For rules, entry forms, or more information, call Lori Vasquez at 224-9456 or Dave Weiner at 224-9339.

New budget: slight rise for city taxes

The average homeowner in St. Johns will pay an additional $10.50 in taxes and fees this year, according to a budget proposed by the city manager to the city commission last Monday.

City streets will take the brunt of an expected end to federal revenue sharing this year, with only about one-third the usual amount budgeted for street repair.

The commission will hold a public hearing on the proposed budget on May 27, at 7:45 p.m. at the commission chambers in the city hall.

The increase slated to be paid by residents consists partially of an additional .22 mill increase in the city property tax levy. For the owner of a home with a cash value of $50,000 the increase will mean a property tax bill $5.50 larger for 1986 than 1985.

The millage increase will pay for scheduled increases in the repayment of debts for construction of the wastewater treatment plant and other utility improvement projects. Increased repayments on the principal of those debts was scheduled when bonds were issued to finance the projects.

Additionally, residents will be charged $5 more per year for garbage collection.

City Manager Randy Humphrey, in a memo to city commissioners, said that although the budget does not include an immediate increase in sewer and water rates, such an increase is "expected" if costs rise or consumption decreases dramatically, or if the CPAs this fall determine during our annual audit that an increase is required....

THE ENTIRE budget is $129,637 larger than last year, an increase of three-tenths of a percent. That is the net effect of this year paying off several large municipal projects (on the plus side) and the anticipated loss of federal revenue sharing (on the negative side).

Capital expenditures for the city industrial park, the new fire hall and downtown improvements were all paid off this year.

Federal revenue sharing accounts for $36,152 in assets during the coming fiscal year — about half of which is carry-over from this year. This compares to $83,455 this year.

"The street paving program is the one that's been cut most significantly to make up for the revenue sharing," said City Clerk Richard Coletta.

The only street repair budgeted is $18,600 for resurfacing portions of North Clinton and South Oakland streets.

Humphrey said the amount typically budgeted for street repair is $60,000.

"You can only do that (suspend street repair) for so long," he said. "Eventually it catches up with you."

In his memo to city commissioners, Humphrey warned that unless revenue is found to replace the federal funds that traditionally paid for street repair, "deterioration of the existing paved system will occur and unimproved streets will remain of a gravel texture."

Bement Library will also share some of the brunt of the expected loss of federal revenue sharing. The city, which traditionally uses revenue sharing to finance its contribution to the library, will contribute $8,000 less next year to the library, according to the proposed budget.

IN RELATED BUSINESS, Police Chief Lyle French recommended to city commissioners that the city contribute $5,000 to the Tri-County Metro Squad. The squad, a police task force centered in Lansing that works exclusively on drug cases, will disband if support is not obtained from local governments in its area of operation, leaders of the squad have said recently.

"Really, what they need is manpower," said French, adding that any money donated by the city would be combined with other funds from Clinton County governmental units and used to hire an officer for assignment to the metro squad.

City Manager Humphrey said administrators for the city expected to come up with several options commissioners could choose from for finding money in the proposed budget for the donation.

Format of school board Candidates Forum set

Questions directed at particular candidates will be discouraged during the question and answer period but the public will have an opportunity afterwards to talk directly to candidates.

This is the plan for the St. Johns Board of Education Candidates Forum at the high school on May 29 at 7 p.m.

At a meeting between organizers of the event and Judge Randy Tahvonen who will serve as moderator, it was decided that questions directed at specific candidates will be of lower priority than questions equally appropriate for all the candidates.

Those who have questions for specific candidates will be able to ask them afterwards, during an informal "punch and cookies" period in the school cafeteria.

The evening will be conducted as follows:

- Tahvonen will open the forum with a brief welcome and an explanation of the ground rules for the evening.

- Candidates will then each have a one-minute period in which to make opening remarks. Organizers suggest a brief introduction and summary of qualifications for office.

- The question and answer period will then begin, with questions in writing taken from the public and asked by a panel of local news reporters.

- Candidates will be grouped on stage according to the term for which they are running. Within those groups, the candidates will be seated alphabetically from left to right. The opportunity to be the first to respond to questions will be rotated among the groups.

- Each of the reporters on the panel will have an opportunity to ask one additional question of the candidates.

- Each candidate will have a one minute period in which to make closing remarks.

- The evening will then be adjourned to the school cafeteria for informal discussions between candidates and the public.

Hospital, nursing home at odds on which will get limited number of beds

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

The two largest health care facilities in St. Johns are at odds with each other over which facility should get a limited number of "skilled" nursing home beds allocated to the county by the state health department.

Clinton Memorial Hospital and the Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor have both applied to the state health department for 24 "skilled beds" — beds for patients who require more intense care than "basic" nursing home patients but less intense care than "acute" hospital patients.

The Michigan Department of Health has allocated 25 "basic" nursing home beds and 24 "skilled" beds to Clinton County. The skilled beds, however, can be used for either basic care or skilled care.

Clinton Area Care Center, Inc., the parent corporation of Findlay Manor, has applied for all 49 of the beds. Additionally, it has applied for 16 "home for the aged" beds — a category of bed that requires less intense patient care than basic beds.

The Clinton Memorial Hospital Association has also applied for the 24 skilled beds.

IT IS THOSE 24 beds that are under dispute between the hospital and the nursing home.

At least three other medical care corporations, none of which currently have medical care facilities located in the county, have also applied for the beds.

Currently there are no skilled beds available in Clinton County, said Paul McNamara, president of Clinton Memorial Hospital. He said county patients who require that level of care currently have to go outside the county. This creates a hardship for patients and for elderly spouses and family members of the patients, he said.

McNamara said that when funds were being raised in the community for the construction of Findlay Manor, one of the biggest selling points was the need for skilled beds in the county.

"The nursing home was built," he said. "They had the ability to put in skilled beds and they chose not to."

Mark Stapelman, administrator of Findlay Manor, said the facility did not have the financial ability to install skilled beds when it was built. Now that the facility is established, he said, the money is available to install the skilled beds.

"We've been laboring toward getting some skilled beds in the facility," he said.

Stapelman said the Findlay Manor, if it gets the beds it has requested, will build a 26,000 square foot addition, hire 42 additional staff members, purchase new equipment such as respirators and interventional equipment, and upgrade the skill level of its staff with additional training.

Clinton Memorial Hospital administrators said the hospital has space available on the third floor in which to house the 24 skilled beds it has requested. They argue that it would cost less to install the beds at the hospital where the space is already available and where support services — staff, equipment and laboratories — are already in place.

They also argue that most patients go down from "acute" care to "skilled" care and not up from "basic" to "skilled." Thus, they argue, patients entering skilled care would have to be moved only between hospital wards and not between buildings.

'Both the Clinton Memorial Hospital and Findlay Manor are very valuable. I hope they would come together and talk.'

Also, they argue, the patients would likely be seen more often by doctors if the skilled beds are housed at the hospital.

Harold Benson, chairman of the board of directors of the Clinton Area Care Center, declined to present an argument in favor of the disputed beds going to Findlay Manor. Both he and Stapelman said they would prefer to let the state health department make a decision based on the merits of the proposal of each institution.

Joe Latoff, director of the Mid-Michigan Health Department (a separate agency from the state health department), said he hopes to act as an unofficial mediator between the boards of directors of the two institutions. He said if the two boards will sit down and talk with each other it is possible that each could end up supporting a modified version of the proposal presented by the other.

"I think that both the Clinton Memorial Hospital board and the Hazel I. Findlay Manor board are very important and valuable to this community," he said. "As such I hope they would come together and talk and end up supporting each other."

$800 mini-grant will help fund summer camp at Sleepy Hollow

Two St. Johns women have successfully applied for an $800 grant with which to conduct a music camp at Sleepy Hollow State Park for children this summer.

Kitty Donohoe and Pasqua Wartsler arranged for the grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts. They applied for the grant under the auspices of Community Resource Volunteers (CRV) of St. Johns.

CRV each summer conducts a two-week computer camp for local youths in which the youths learn about computers. The music camp is actually in its third year but this is the first year it has been funded by other than fees paid by participants.

During the last two weeks of July, the computer camp will be held mornings at the CRV office. In the afternoons the camp will be moved to Sleepy Hollow.

At Sleepy Hollow, Wartsler and Donohoe will draw heavily upon folk music and folk arts to teach children about the sun and ecology. "I like to think of it as high tech meets low tech," says Donohoe.

Activities will include creating a "solar picnic," story telling, folk arts, singing, and a field trip to Woldumar Nature Center.

Cost for each participant for the afternoon camp only is $25. Cost for the computer camp will be announced at a later date.

For more information about the camps call CRV at 224-8285 or Pasqua Wartsler at 224-8857.

Scholarship committee explains criteria

To the Editor:
The Rodney B. Wilson Scholarship Selection Committee would like to publicly acknowledge the great opportunities the Wilson family has provided during these past years to many of St. Johns' outstanding students.

To select students each year from the graduation class for this honor is a challenge and arduous task, but one which we do with great pride and interest. The tenets of the Will are the determining factors under which the students become eligible and by which they compete for the scholarship.

The committee is guided by these principles in making their selection:

1. The applicant must be scholastically in the upper third of his or her graduating class.
2. The applicant must exhibit all around citizenship qualities within the school and community, through leadership activities in such organizations as the church, Scouts, etc.
3. The applicant must show a willingness to be of service to others in both school and community.
4. The applicant must be of a high moral character within the school and community.

Letter

5. Having met these conditions, the choice or choices shall be made upon the basis of financial need, to the end that the income provided shall serve a worthy and proper purpose.

While this last criteria has caused the committee some consternation in their deliberation, it is felt that less emphasis should be placed on this factor. In this way, it is hoped that those with outstanding academic accomplishments and citizenship contributions will be rewarded.

Although, every applicant cannot be a winner, it is our desire that those selected are representative of the wishes of the Wilson family.

In the House of Representatives Tax amnesty

Gary Randall

Michigan will have a tax amnesty program this spring. House bill 4706, (which I co-sponsored and strongly supported) has been passed by the Legislature. The bill authorizes the program which will be administered by the state Department of Treasury and the State Revenue Commissioner.

Amnesty is to be observed for at least 30 days, but not more than 60 days, ending no later than June 30. The state treasurer will set the dates. During that period, taxpayers who pay in full their state obligations, which were due before Oct. 1, 1985, plus interest, will do so without incurring penalties or prosecution.

For the most part, amnesty will cover the state individual income tax, single business tax, sales and use taxes, motor fuel tax, cigarette tax, intangibles tax and inheritance tax. It will not apply to local taxes, such as property taxes or city income taxes. It also will not apply to federal taxes or beer, wine or liquor taxes.

In about a month, the Department of Treasury will begin advertising and explaining the program. Although the legislation provides for amnesty, the details of its operation will be developed by the treasurer and the state revenue commissioner.

I urge constituents who want to take advantage of this amnesty period to obtain and follow the directions when they become available. Anyone with legal questions should also contact their own attorney, tax consultant or certified public accountant to ensure they are proceeding properly.

For example, amnesty will not apply to taxes due after Sept. 30, 1985, nor to persons currently under criminal investigation or individuals involved in civil actions or criminal prosecutions regarding state taxes.

The amnesty period will be followed by a significantly tougher investigation and enforcement of state tax laws. There will be a special penalty of 50 percent assessed against those who fail to take advantage of the amnesty if they are subsequently discovered to be delinquent in a tax.

Experts predict that the program should bring in between $50 million and $120 million.

It makes sense to have an amnesty period before a major increase in enforcement. I hope people who have been afraid to come forward, for fear of civil or criminal penalty, will take the opportunity to pay their taxes and interest in full, and start with a clean slate. Gary Randall is the 89th District Representative to the Michigan House of Representatives.

Tax Amnesty office opens in St. Johns

Tax Amnesty offices opened throughout the state last week with the Clinton County branch located on the first floor of the Courthouse in St. Johns. The office will be open each Friday from May 12-June 30 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Michigan's Tax Amnesty program allows delinquent taxpayers to pay back taxes without penalty or prosecution. The state hopes to collect $50 million in delinquent taxes during the amnesty period. When amnesty ends on June 30, fines and penalties will double.

A toll-free telephone line, 1-800-10 TAXES, is also in operation to answer confidential questions about amnesty.

Buckle up, says Sheriff Haneckow

The Clinton County Sheriff Department is asking motorists to join the "All American Buckle Up" by obeying the state's safety belt and child restraint laws. The special traffic safety promotion begins May 22 and runs through Memorial Day, May 26.

According to Sheriff Haneckow, officers will be paying particular attention to violators of the state's safety belt law and child restraint law. The Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning (OHSP), sponsors of the campaign in Michigan, suggest that all occupants of motor vehicles buckle up.

The safety belt law requires all drivers and front seat passengers to wear properly adjusted safety belts. The child restraint law requires all children under age four to ride in either a safe child car seat or safety belt in the back seat.

Law enforcement agencies in 28 counties including Clinton will be participating in the selection enforcement campaign.

Keep pets safe, asks postmaster

More than 5,100 letter carriers were bitten by dogs last year and St.

Johns Postmaster David Yallup wants residents to realize that it is the homeowners responsibility to keep their pets restrained.

During summer months, dog bites are a significant problem for letter carriers as pets are often permitted to run loose. The Postal Service has the right to refuse to deliver mail to any home where a dangerous or threatening dog is not kept restrained. Moreover, if the dog is allowed to roam free, service to an entire neighborhood can be interrupted.

Yallup is asking residents to be aware of their responsibility for their pets, and help protect carriers and themselves from the human and financial costs of dog bites.

Local man will be ordained May 22 at Lutheran Church

Bryan Salminen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Salminen of 1109 Wight Street, St. Johns has received a call to become associate pastor of St. John Lutheran Church in Defiance, Ohio, after having completed a year of theological internship in Defiance.

Bryan Salminen

One of a class of 109 who graduated from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri, Salminen will be ordained at St. John's Lutheran Church in St. Johns on June 22 at 3 p.m.

Salminen began his schooling at Concordia College, Ann Arbor, completing his bachelor of arts program in 1982. He began his studies at Concordia Seminary in the fall of 1982 and is enrolled in the doctoral program at the University of Toledo in clinical psychology.

While at the seminary, Salminen participated in various organizations and played varsity basketball for three years.

He plans to marry Mary Kay Miller of St. Louis, Missouri, on Feb. 7, 1987.

"It's in the Bag"
by Bob Beck

Remember the story of "The Princess and the Pea?" How she convinced her doubters that she was truly a princess when she put a pea under her mattress and she couldn't sleep, even after adding six more mattresses?

Well, as any pea lover will tell you, that must have happened long, long ago, before today's tender garden pea was known. Or at least before an early nineteenth century gardener and English squire named Thomas Andrew Knight came along. For it was he who gave the world its first wrinkled pea. And, while wrinkles may not look good on people, they are the sign of a fine pea.

You see, a round, hard pea is round and hard because its starch is firm and unchanged. But as the starch slowly dissolves into sugar, the pea grows sweet and tender... and wrinkled.

Of course, even a hard, unwrinkled pea is better than no pea at all. And this is why peas have been one of man's favorite foods since long before the year one. They have been found in the ruins of ancient Troy, where they were prized as a winter vegetable, one of the few that could be dried and kept. And they were sold, more than seven hundred years ago, in the streets of Paris, ready cooked and as a soup.

Since those days, earlier and later varieties have been developed, so that peas can be grown out-of-doors from mid-June to mid-October. And, of course, you can enjoy canned and frozen peas all year round. But perhaps you miss the sound of pods popping and peas plopping into a pan, the way it used to be when you would help your mother shell peas in the kitchen on a summer afternoon.

Which just leaves room for me to invite you to shop at Beck's where you'll save money. And with us, that is no new wrinkle!

First annual Festival of the Arts is a hit at St. Johns High School

"It went super!" said Rich Vitek. "It was just great. The whole committee was just elated about how it turned out, how the students performed and how the public came out."

Festival of the Arts held at the high last weekend. Demonstrations, displays, concerts and theatre productions of student art were featured at the three-day event. The only thing that went wrong was the weather — the threat of tornados caused events scheduled for Saturday evening to be postponed until Monday evening. Vitek, one of the nine-member committee of high school staffers who put a year of planning into the festival, said it is hoped that the festival will become an annual event.

Director's News

Using pesticides

Giles Roehl

Many of the questions coming into the office at this time of the year concern the use of a chemical pesticide to control weeds, insects, or diseases. The correct use of any pesticide is an absolute must. To know what is correct, read the pesticide label for guidance and instructions.

One of the questions I received this past week was a telephone call concerning two pesticides. One was in a can too rusty to read the label, the other had been poured from the original container to a different container. The question was "how do I use these chemicals?"

The best answer is don't! Any chemical left over a period of time may change. It may either become too weak to be effective (a waste of time, energy and dollars if you bought it) or it may have had some evaporation and be significantly stronger than in its original form. Find a safe way to destroy small quantities of unwanted chemicals.

Pesticide users should never transfer chemicals to unlabeled containers. Any pesticide in an unlabeled container is illegal and should not be used.

The information on pest control given in the literature is usually written with the most common situations in mind. Each pest situation is different, however, and before applying a pesticide you should carefully consider the location, surroundings, possible exposure of people, and other factors that could affect your control while planning your operation. For example, the use of a toxic or caustic weed killer, while excellent around store rooms or lumber yards, would not be the one that you would use in a school yard, public park or around the home.

The label on all containers of pesticides contains a wealth of information concerning the use (or at times prohibitions) of that pesticide. By reading the label you will know how the pesticide can be used.

Always be sure that the pesticide is labeled to be effective and safe for your specific need before you start to apply it.

Pesticide Mixtures: Mixtures are often needed to control all of the pest present. A typical common mixture are such things as the fungicide-insecticide mixture that is used on fruits and vegetables. A mixture will reduce the number of different applications necessary. Many mixtures have been proven to be safe and effective and should be used whenever possible.

There is always a danger of some chemical or physical reaction between chemicals in the tank or of damage from the spray of the mixture. This danger (called incompatibility) is usually noted on the label of the mixture when mixtures are given. Compatibility tables are usually available from pesticide dealers.

Some mixtures, while desirable, may simply be impractical. An insecticide that should be mixed (incorporated) into the soil should not be applied in a mixture with a weed-killer that needs to be on the surface.

Because chemicals vary from manufacturer to manufacturer, and from lot to lot, you should test their chemical-physical compatibility by:

- Mixing them in a quart jar in the same preparations that you will use them in the tank (for example using about 1/4 ounces of pesticide in quart if you plan to use one pound of a pesticide in 15 gallons, 60 quarts, in the field.)
- Letting the mixture stand for about 15 minutes.
- Checking for any thickening, settling, or changes in color that would indicate some sort of reaction in the mixture.

Even when the "mixture passes" the quart jar test, you should test the mixture on a small area before mixing and using large quantities. Check the area frequently for any sign of damage and for effective controls. Do not use a mixture or any other pesticide until you know that it is effective and safe for your purpose. Giles Roehl is the Director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Russian radiation won't raise crop prices here, experts say

By BONNIE POWELL
Staff Writer

The nuclear accident in Russia may have neutralized some farmland in the immediate area of the tragedy, but hard-pressed farmers in this area will find little relief in getting more money for their crops, says Cooperative Extension Service Marketing Specialist Jim Hilker.

The Michigan State University professor notes that prices rose dramatically in the days following news of the disaster, but they have since dropped back. Hilker doesn't believe they'll be affected much at all on a long-term basis.

Farmers enrolled in programs that reimburse them during hard times wouldn't benefit much from a rise in prices because their government payments would go down. However, those who depend strictly on market prices could benefit.

Hilker feels the most that can be hoped for is a reduction in the grain currently being stored. Getting rid of stockpiles would be a great long-term benefit, he says.

According to Dr. Boyd Ellis, professor of soil chemistry at MSU, "The problem is we're all guessing at this point. We don't have much information to go on."

From what is known about the accident, short-term radiation such as iodine will only be a problem for about two weeks. Major contamination from radiation such as Strontium 90 "tends not to vaporize much and will affect the local area for as long as 180 years," says Ellis.

Contaminants such as Strontium, if introduced into wheat crops, cause severe problems in the bone marrow when ingested.

At this time it appears the affected area might only be 10 to 20 square miles, in which case the land taken out of production is inconsequential. If the area of contamination is much larger, then the Soviet need for grain could help the situation in this area. Experts stress that it is just too soon to tell.

Silage additives

Marilyn Loudenslager

Proper management techniques when filling silos have a greater influence on silage quality than the use of additives or preservatives.

"In a silo, the forage is stabilized and preserved by acids that form during fermentation," says J.W. "Bill" Thomas, Michigan State University Extension dairy specialist. "Rapid development of these acids reduces the dry matter loss and improves the quality of the silage."

Thomas explains that a high bacteria count, which causes natural sugars to ferment, stabilizes the silage. This high bacteria count is often obtained by proper ensiling methods.

About 100,000 bacteria per gram of forage, along with an ample sugar content to feed the bacteria, are required to produce enough lactic acid to preserve silage, Thomas says. Farmers ensiling a hay crop cannot know the microbial counts on the forage, so some farmers have begun to use live inoculants to provide a sufficient number of bacteria and to increase dry matter recovery.

Thomas says inoculants may increase dry matter recovery by about two percent, or about 16 to 20 pounds of dry matter recovery per ton of forage. With hay valued at $75 per ton, the increased value achieved by using an inoculant would be 67 to 83 cents per ton, but the cost of the inoculant ranges from 70 cents to $1.30 per ton.

"Inoculation should not be considered a practice with a high return on investment," Thomas says. "Emphasis should be placed instead on proper ensiling practices."

To develop a proper bacteria count, Thomas recommends a hay crop yield of at least two tons of dry matter per acre. A rainfall of at least 1/10 inch during

Winter wheat production expected to fall 14 percent

Winter wheat production in Michigan in 1986 is forecast at 38.5 million bushels, down 14 percent from 1985, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. The forecast is based on conditions reported by farmers as of May 1.

Planting of the 1986 crop was delayed last fall by the late harvests of soybeans, corn and dry beans. Some intended wheat planting was never realized. Winterkill was substantial, especially in the "thumb" and in central Michigan.

This resulted in an estimated 50,000 acres of abandonment. Acres for harvest is set at 700,000.

The yield forecast is 55 bushels per acre, down from the record high of 60 last year.

the four days prior to ensiling and a wilting period longer than one day to improve bacteria growth.

Though temperatures must be at least 60 degrees F to promote bacteria growth, the old adage "make hay while the sun shines" does not apply to ensiling. The sun's ultraviolet rays kill the bacteria in the hay. Bacteria numbers on swathed or windrowed hay are lowest at 2 p.m., when the sun is at maximum intensity.

If a farmer is unsure about his ensiling method and wants to ensure his silage has a proper bacteria count, Thomas recommends using an inoculant that will add 100,000 live bacteria per gram of forage. These bacteria are sold frozen or refrigerated and are mixed with chlorine-free water just before being sprayed on the chopped forage.

Farmers should make sure the silage has the proper moisture content, about 35 percent dry matter for bunker silos and 40 to 50 percent for upright silos, Thomas says. The silo should be filled rapidly to guarantee good packing and air exclusion. A silo distribution system should be used when filling to eliminate channels of lightweight silage in the silo.

Marilyn Loudenslager is the Agriculture Agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Classy Redwings take Classic championship

REDWING SWING — Angie Myszak gives an example of the Redwings' batting strength which has been a St. Johns strong point for much of the season. The ability to hit the ball hard helped the Wings to their Classic victory.

They're the "real thing" alright. The St. Johns girls softball team put on a class performance on their way to repeating as champions at the Lansing Diamond Classic played over the weekend at Ranney Park. It was the first time in Classic history that a team had successfully taken the win for two consecutive years.

The Redwings did it by stunning Laingsburg 18-2 on Friday evening, and outlasting Fowlerville on Saturday 4-3.

"I think it showed a lot of class for our team to play over the mistakes we made and come back to win," said St. Johns Coach Paul Sternburgh of the championship game versus Fowlerville. "It was by far the most exciting game we've had this year."

It would have been hard to find anyone in the cheering crowd at Ranney on Saturday to disagree with that statement. The Lady Glads and St. Johns gave the enthusiastic fans all the softball excitement they could ask for, and more.

Fowlerville scored one run in their half of the first inning when an infield popout eluded the grasp of shortstop, Lara Foy.

The Redwings wasted no time in getting a score on the board at their first at bat either. Mary Murphy walked, stole second, and came home on a single off the bat of Missy Vitek to tie the game.

THE GLADS WENT DOWN one, two, three in the top of the second when Murphy successfully picked a runner off third base to end the inning.

A lead-off double by Karen Simon and a single by Foy scoring Simon gave St. Johns a 2-1 lead at the end of two.

The middle innings were scoreless for both teams. The Redwings threatened in the bottom of the fifth on back-to-back singles by Murphy and Angie Pung, but no runs scored.

Fowlerville made things very interesting in the top of the sixth when a triple by Tonya Ebert scored two Lady Glad baserunners who had been walked by Eiseler. The Redwings did not score in their half of the inning.

Eiseler sucked it up in the final inning, striking out the last two batters with the bases loaded to pull the Redwings out of a jam.

Then came the "classic" final at bat for St. Johns.

Foy singled to open the inning, followed by a single from Murphy advancing Foy to second. With Pung and Vitek as Redwing outs, the outcome of the game was placed on the broad shoulders of Brenda Eiseler. She stroked a clean single into right center to bring the runners home and give St. Johns the championship.

"It was poetic justice for Lara, who had the error in the first inning, to come back and single and score the tying run," Coach Sternburgh said. He had nothing but praise for the Fowlerville team.

"They showed talent, poise and character," the coach said. "They're a very special kind of team."

Named as Co-Most Valuable Players for the Classic were Murphy and Eiseler, the senior catcher/pitcher duo for the Redwings. Murphy had 7 hits in 11 at bats for a .636 average, committed no errors, and made a number of sensational plays. Eiseler struck out 22 batters total in the three Classic games, 10 of those came against Fowlerville.

"I've had enough excitement to last for awhile," Coach Sternburgh said. "It's time to unwind a little." Just until pre-districts at Holt this Friday, Coach.

Fowler boys and girls dominate in regional track wins at Fulton

It's on to Hillsdale College the State Track Meet on May 31 for many members of the Fowler Eagles boys and girls track teams following their Regional victories at Fulton on Saturday. The boys tallied 109.5 points to take first place, and the girls accumulated 103 total points.

PIRATE FAN FROM JAPAN — Sayuri Urata, exchange student at Pewamo-Westphalia High School, has enjoyed her stay in America. Her Pirate teammates have enjoyed having Sayuri as a part of the girls volleyball and softball teams for the past year, and will miss her contributions when she returns to Japan.

Sayuri's smile seen on diamond

By RHONDA GAFFNEY

Bright, bubbly, brimming with enthusiasm. All accurately describe the personality of Sayuri Urata, Japanese exchange student at Pewamo-Westphalia High School.

Sayuri (pronounced sigh-ear-a), a junior at Pewamo-Westphalia, is an exchange student through the Youth for Understanding program. She arrived last August, and has been part of the Lawrence and Carol Hancock family of rural Pewamo since that time.

"Sayuri is an excellent student and has been a real asset for our school," said P-W counselor Jim Kotter. "We will definitely miss her next year."

That sentiment is echoed by friends, teachers and coaches who have made the acquaintance of Sayuri during her year at Pewamo-Westphalia. She has been involved in a variety of school activities, and was a pleasant addition on Pirate volleyball and softball teams.

"She's a joy to have on the team," said P-W girls softball Coach Bonnie Somero. "She gets along well with other team members and her personality has provided us with relief in tense situations."

SAYURI LEARNED OF the Youth for Understanding program from a friend in Japan.

"I always said, 'I want to go to America and see Disneyworld!' and now I have," said the raven-haired, dark-eyed teen. She made the trip to Florida during spring break, and also toured Washington D.C. when she first arrived from Japan.

"I don't want to go home," she said. "I wish my family and friends could come here."

Sayuri said the things she will miss most when she returns to her homeland in June are all the friends she has made here, playing on the volleyball and softball teams, and "going to the parties." She is looking forward to attending the prom at Pewamo-Westphalia, and toward her 18th birthday on June 13 which she will celebrate here in the U.S.

"I like the smallness of the high school here," Sayuri said. "Everybody knows me and it is so easy to make friends. American schools are much different from my home. We all wear uniforms there, and there is no make-up allowed. It is easier to talk to the teachers here too." Having completed her junior year in America, Sayuri will have two years of high school remaining when she returns to Japan. She speaks fluent English, a required subject in her homeland, having studied it since seventh grade.

VOLLEYBALL IS A familiar sport to the native of Nagoya, the third largest city in Japan. She played volleyball in junior high there, and also took part in Japanese fencing, track and badminton.

Although she claims she is "not any good at softball," she has "enjoyed playing with the team." Her opinion of her softball ability is not shared by Coach Somero.

"Sayuri is an excellent centerfielder," the coach said. "If she were to continue to play ball, fielding would be her strong point."

Her many interests have kept Sayuri "too busy to write home every week." Her father is a factory administrator in her hometown, and her mother sells cosmetics. She has one older sister still at home. Her American family includes a "sister" Angie who is also a junior at P-W, and two "brothers", Tom in eighth grade and Mike away at college.

"In Japan I am the youngest in the family," she said, "but here I am the oldest at home."

Mathematics, trigonometry, and computers are Sayuri's favorite subjects in school, and "chocolate chip cookies, pizza and lasagne" head the list of favorite foods.

"I have gained so many pounds in America," she said. "I will have to lose some weight before I go home!"

On her return trip to Japan, Sayuri hopes to make a stop in Delaware and visit a girl who her parents hosted in Japan last year. She would also like to see New York City before "the long plane ride home."

All of Sayuri's Michigan friends will miss her in class, on the volleyball court or softball diamond, and at the parties next year at Pewamo-Westphalia.

Maybe they will get together and give her a "number 13" party before she leaves.

"Thirteen is my favorite number," number "13" on the volleyball and softball teams said. "I know it is not good luck — but I like it."

Pirate girls take wins in CMAC

The Pewamo-Westphalia girls softball team upped their record to 5-4 in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference and 6-7 overall with a pair of wins last week. They defeated Portland St. Pats 8-5 and took a 10-2 win over Potterville.

"Our hitting is greatly improved since the beginning of the season," said Coach Bonnie Somero, "as well as overall improvement in most aspects of the game."

LeAnn Nurenburg threw both wins for the Pirates last week, giving up just three hits in each game, walking a total of seven batters, and striking out two. She is the leading pitcher for the Pirates with a 5-5 record.

The fourth inning saw the majority of P-W's runs scored in the game with St. Pats when four batters crossed the plate. The remainder of the scoring was spread out throughout the game.

Lori Hengesbach was 1-2 with 1 RBI in that contest, Rhonda Luna and Debbie Blatt both were 1-4 with 1

RBI each.

In the game with Potterville last Thursday, Kelly Werner was 2-3, Hengesbach was 2-4 with 1 RBI, and Missy Darling was 1-4 with an RBI. Luna had the big stick for the Pirates, going 2-3 from the plate with a big double that cleared the bases in the second inning. The Pirates plated seven runs in that inning.

Leading hitters for P-W at this point in the season are Hengesbach, batting 526, Jane Thelen 485, Darling 484, and Janean Thelen 412.

Pewamo-Westphalia has one CMAC game left to play — last night (May 19) against Fowler. The Pirates and Eagles are battling it out for third place in the league.

Coach Somero's squad has a doubleheader scheduled for this Thursday with Ovid-Elsie before their pre-district game on Friday at Ithaca with Ithaca. Winners in pre-district play advance to District finals on May 31 which will also be played at Ithaca High School.

Marauders track teams are busy at home and in regional meets

The Ovid-Elsie girls track team tied for sixth place at their Regional track meet held last Saturday at Saginaw Eisenhower High School. The Marauders totaled 38 points and qualified four individuals for the State Meet on May 31 at Jackson Northwest High School.

Carrie Darling — 800 run, third, 2:28.91.

Although the boys team did not qualify anyone for the State Meet, Phil Ehler placed sixth in the 3200 run with a time of 10:19.2.

In other action last week, the Marauders took part in the Alma Invitational where the boys placed seventh with 29 points, and the girls tallied 53 points for fifth place. In their final conference dual meet with Chesaning, the boys took a 106-31 loss and the girls were edged out 65-63 in the last event of the day.

Dinner by bus and a day for bus driver set by CRV

Take a bus to dinner? Community Resource Volunteers is encouraging area residents to do just that. This week is National Transportation Week. To celebrate, CRV has come up with a Drive 'N Dine Special.

Also this week, Fred Erridge, who has been the CRV bus driver since the bus program started, will be honored with his own "Fred the Bus Driver Day," on May 22.

The Drive 'N Dine Special works like this: On May 20, 21 and 22, the CRV bus will drive you and a friend to dinner at participating restaurants with a special fare of two for one dollar. Bus hours will be extended until 6:30 p.m.

Riders will be presented with a certificate that can be redeemed at the following restaurants for the specials listed:

- ELIAS BIG BOY will

'Fred has really bent over backwards to carry groceries and to do things he really didn't have to do.'

allow each person with a CRV certificate, who purchases a meal, to purchase a friends meal of equal value for half price.

- LITTLE CAESAR'S will allow each person with a CRV certificate, who purchases a pasta dinner, to receive a second pasta dinner free.

- THE WHEEL INN will give each person with a CRV certificate, who purchases a meal, a certificate good for up to $4 off the price of a second meal.

- BURGAR KING Will allow each person with a CRV certificate, who purchases a sandwich, a receive a second sandwich of equal value free.

There will be a limited number of each special. They will be available on a first call basis. Call 224-8127.

"We wanted to find some way to recognize Fred," says CRV Director Bill Richards. "He's really bent over backward to carry out groceries and to do things he really didn't have to do."

So May 22 is "Fred the Bus Driver Day." Scheduled activities include openhouses at the Senior Center (12:30 p.m.), Sun-tree Apartments (9:30 a.m.) and at Hazel Findlay Manor (3:15 p.m.)

Cake and punch for 200 will be served on the bus and balloons will be distributed to children.

Winter wind up

Theresa Silm

The first annual 4-H Winter Wind Up program was held at St. Johns High School on April 26 and many county 4-H members and leaders participated in this event. The program was developed by the 4-H Council to provide a finale for fall and winter projects and was designed to be fun for all who participated.

A variety of skill contests were held and members could compete in as many as they chose to. The annual Style Revue and a Public Speaking and Demonstration Contest were also part of the features.

In addition, an Open House was held in the cafeteria to let people in the community learn more about the local 4-H program and find out how they could get involved.

Winter Wind Up was a success in many ways and the 4-H Council will soon be making plans for next year's event.

Photos of the Junior and Senior Division winners will appear next week. A special thanks to Rich Wertz of the Clinton County News for taking the photos and to everyone who helped to make Winter Wind Up a good experience for the 4-H members who participated.

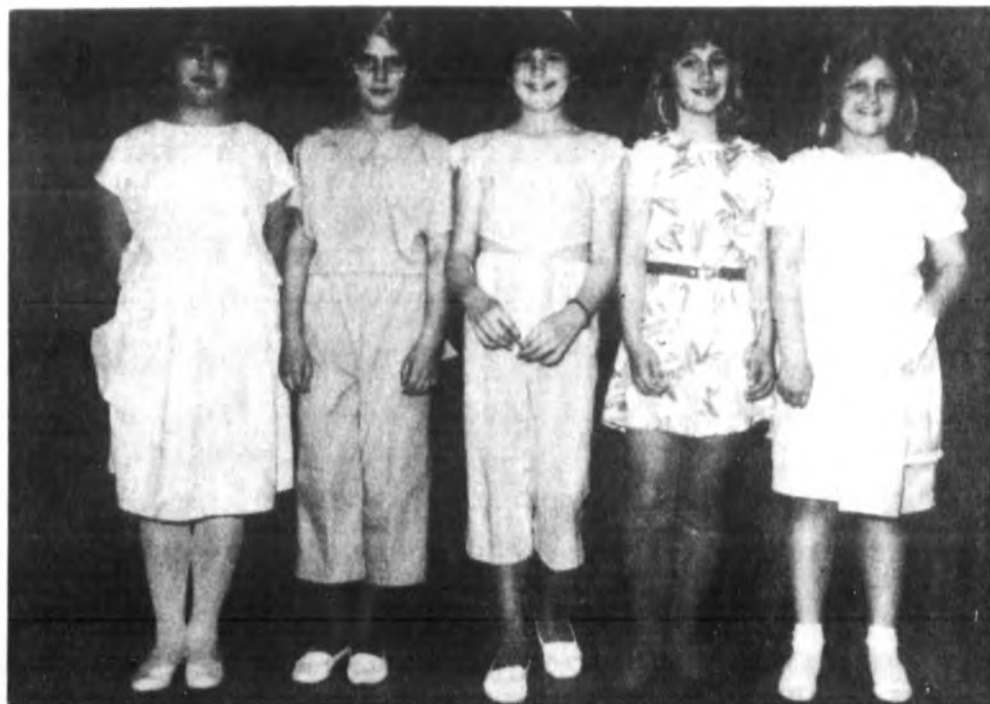

Theresa Silm is the 4-H Youth Agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

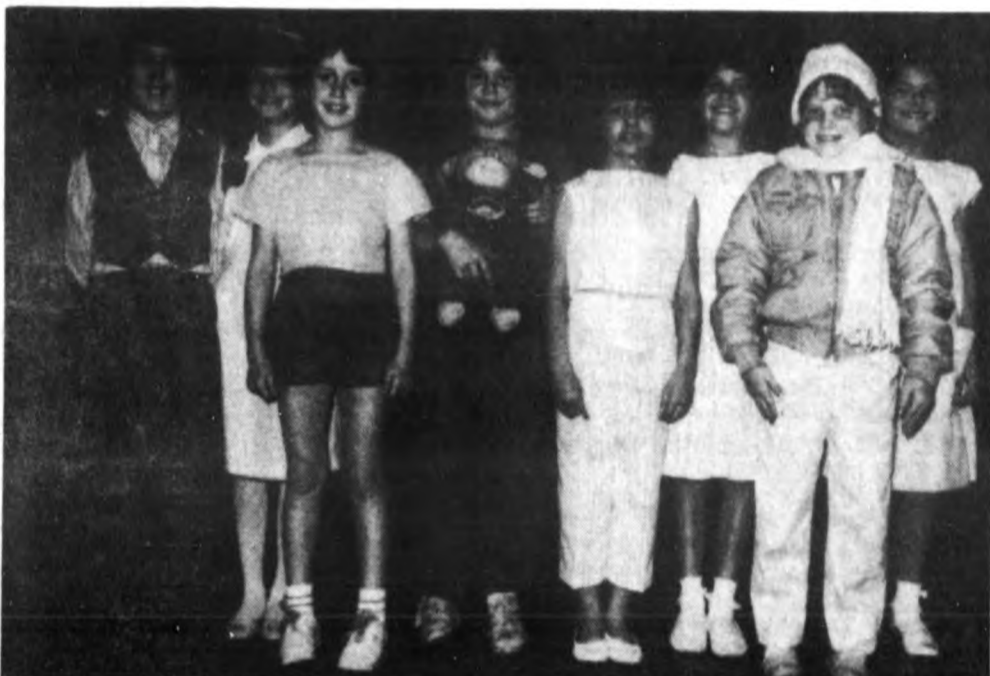

IN THE ELEVEN-year-old group, medals were won by Sandy Hengesbach, Karla Kurncz, Kathy Smith, Karen Burkhardt, Shannon Wood, Melissa Kusnier, Emily Harrison and Sheri Thelen.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD medal winners were Jamie Miller, Heather Holland, Brandy Smith, Jenny Thelen, Cindy Schmitt and Jody Miller.

SARA MARTENS, Monica Vitek, Gwen Bertram, Valerie Smith and Renae Hebeck won medals in the ten-year-old division.

NINE-YEAR-OLDS Amy Rehmann, Jennifer Brown, Melissa Pline, Sarah Sinke, Monica Horak, Jessica Koenigsnecht, Renee Fedewa and Emily Randolph won dress revue medals.

4-H'ERS FROM CLUBS throughout the county participated in the different skill contests. These are the members who won First through Third place rosettes in each division.

CES to hold stirfry demonstration

The Cooperative Extension Service will demonstrate a variety of new stirfry cooking recipes at Smith Hall on May 23 from 1-3 p.m.

Fee for the class is $2 with pre-registration required. Contact the Extension office at 224-3288

Lodge 225

Members welcomed in Bannister

By JOANNE FORNUSEK

The April meeting of Western Fraternal Life Association Lodge 225 in Bannister was called to order by President Robert Ladiski. Secretaries and treasurers reports were read and approved. A warm fraternal welcome was extended to new members Michael, Diana, April, Renee, and Dawn Synder.

A thank you was received from the family of Joe Krivak for the funeral dinner put on by the Lodge. A letter from Jenny Bush explained that she was in Arizona and her son would accept her 50-year pin. A thank you was read from Ed and Theresa Ladiski for all the food, clothing, and monetary donations sent to them after their house fire. Sisters Vlasta Kipta and Elizabeth Velat sent thank you notes for the cards they had received.

Sister Mildred Bradley reported that over 1,000 cookbooks have already been sold and the publishing company could be paid in full from the sales.

Brother Tom Bradley quoted prices for a new amplifier system for the hall and the committee was given authority to purchase the new equipment.

The building committee gave a report on the quotes they received from the insulation companies. The committee will make a decision and proceed with work on the hall. They also discussed enclosing the pavilion with doors that could be raised to become awnings.

A 1924 Vestnik and Badge were donated to the Lodge Historian by Sister Pauline Wassa. This collection is really growing, thanks to the generosity of so many members.

A committee (the officers) was named to make arrangements for a dinner celebrating the Lodge's 75th anniversary.

Those present celebrating April birthdays were Rudy Doubrava, Mildred Bradley, Frank Kral, Anne Panik, and Paul Gavenda. Special birthday wishes were also sent to Elizabeth Kubinger who is celebrating her 94th birthday and Mary Cerny who is celebrating 87 years.

Get well wishes were sent to Joe Houska, Vlasta

Kopta, Bert Wassa, Peter Schreiber, Rick Doubrava, and Joe Kleco. Hope all of you enjoyed a speedy recovery.

Door prize winners were Ed Fornusek Sr., Theresa Ladiski, and Stan Wassa.

Following the meeting, 150 people gathered for a dinner and program honoring 50 year members and new members of Lodge 225. The program began by singing the U.S., Czech, and Slovak National Anthems and the presentation of the flags. Flag and banner bearers were Ted Schulz, Damina Mikulka, Paul Gavenda, Tommy Bradley, James Dysinger, and Eddy Fornusek.

After an introduction by President Ladiski, readers presented instruction on Truth, Love, and Loyalty. Truth (Prava) was read by Ellie Bowles, Love (Laska) by Ann Dunay, and Loyalty (Vernost) by Joanne Fornusek. President Ladiski read the Rite of Initiation to new members Betty Velat, Nicholas Jerry, and Brettney Gewirtz. Persons who had been members of ZCJB for 50 years were honored and as their names were announced they were escorted to the front by Cheryl Ladiski, presented with a banner by Christa Tesarik, and a carnation by Anmarie Bradley.

Each honored member received a 50-year pin and was congratulated by WFLA Chairman of the Board, Edward Rozsypal.

Accepting pins were: Katie Adamek, Jim Libertin, Rose Fabus, Othella Golombisky, Frank Houska, Joseph Kurka, Frank Libertin, Annie Mahoney, Eliska Micka, Anna Shea, John Spousta, and Robert Velat. Some members could not be present and had others accept honors for them. James Bush accepted for his mother Jennie Bush, Johanna Houska accepted for her son Joe Houska, and Kathleen Bush accepted for her uncle Frank Stajdl. Congratulations to all for your many years of dedicated membership.

The formal program closed with everyone singing "America the Beautiful". Tom and Diane Bradley were program chairmen. Helen Wassa made all the flowers, and Marge Minarik was pianist.

NEW MEMBERS were welcomed into the lodge.

Mailbox Improvement Week is May 19 to 24

The U.S. Postal Service has designated May 19-24 as "Mailbox Improvement Week," according to St. Johns Postmaster Dave Yallup.

"Each year a week in May is set aside to remind customers on rural, city motorized and contract delivery routes to examine and improve the appearances of their mailboxes," Yallup said.

The purpose of the week is more than just to have attractive mailboxes however.

Postal regulations require that rural and contract route carriers must have access to mailboxes without having to leave their vehicles. Such boxes must be located on the right-hand side of the road in the carrier's direction of travel where traffic conditions would endanger a carrier driving to the left to reach the boxes. The boxes must also conform with state laws and highway regulations.

Customers are requested to remove obstructions — including vehicles, trashcans and snow — that make delivery difficult.

For both suburban curbside and rural roadside boxes, the Postal Service requests a height of 3½ to 4 feet from the bottom of the box to ground level. The address should be clearly printed on the receptacle.

A customer-designed rural box needs the prior approval of the postmaster before it can be installed.
