Central solution: neighborhood schools

By RICH WERTZ Editor

Almost all students in the St. Johns public school district will attend their "neighborhood school" next year if a short term plan is adopted that was recommended both by architects for the school district and by a citizens committee.

The plan, estimated to cost about $300,000, would require the purchase of an estimated eight portable classrooms that would be placed at Swegles and Perrin-Palmer schools. The Citizens Committee on School Organization (CCSO) last Thursday voted unanimously to recommend to the school board that the portable classrooms be ordered.

With the portable classrooms in place, students in the district would go to city schools if they live in the city and to country schools if they live in the country. City students would go to Swegles and Perrin-Palmer, with M-21 being the dividing line between the two school service areas.

COUNTRY students would go to whichever of the four country school buildings is located in their quarter of the school district, as divided by M-21 and US-27. (See map)

However, there will be a small number of students who will be bused to a neighboring school, according to current enrollment projections.

The plan is the "short term" solution recommended by the CCSO, which was charged by the school board several months ago with the task of recommending both short and long term solutions for the problem of Central Elementary School. A state fire inspector has said he will not authorize student occupancy of the building after the end of the current school year.

GARY WHITFORD, who was the only member of the school board not recalled by voters on April 24, said he expects to authorize the purchase. However, he said, before doing so he wants to first make sure eight portable classrooms are needed.

"I want to make sure we're not getting more than we need," he said.

Whitford said he would also make sure the school board elected June 9 will have the option of canceling the order by a certain date at no cost to the district. Superintendent Earl Gabriel said at the CCSO meeting that such a clause in the purchase contract will be possible.

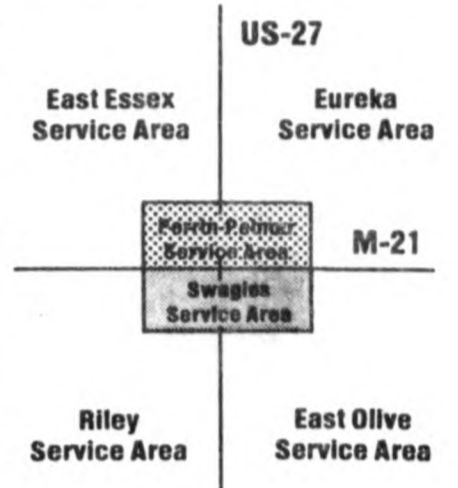

The purchase cost was estimated by Gabriel at $264,000. That would be spread over six years, he said, making the cost per year $44,000 plus interest. During the first year, installation of the portable classrooms would cost an additional $32,000, for a total of about $76,000 the first year, Gabriel estimated.

THE PLAN was recommended both by the CCSO subcommittee and by the architectural firm hired by the school district. Architect Don Lee, of Tomlinson Harburn Associates, said the two groups arrived at the plan independently. He said the architectural firm's recommendation is essentially a report of the consensus of opinion arrived at during the Central School workshop on April 26. About 80 residents of the district participated in that workshop.

"The nice thing about it is your current short term solution is a move to a long term solution," said Lee.

All 23 CCSO members present at the Thursday meeting voted for the plan. Several said they were very pleased with it.

However, several members said that even while they were pleased with the plan, they were concerned that what was meant to be a short term plan would become permanent.

NEIGHBORHOODS — Students would attend whichever school is in the service area in which they live, according to a plan recommended last week.

Long term solution: tear down and rebuild

Central Elementary School should be torn down but the site should remain part of the St. Johns school district, recommended the architectural firm hired by the school district.

Don Lee, an architect with Tomlinson Harburn Associates, said that is the conclusion his firm arrived at from studying the results of the April 26 Central School workshop attended by about 80 school district residents.

Lee said his firm was surprised to discover that there was not a lot of feeling among residents that the building should be preserved.

"It appears it is the site and its effect on the neighborhood that is important," Lee said.

At a meeting of the Citizens Committee on School Organization (CCSO) last Thursday, the firm presented several options it says the district should consider for replacing Central Elementary School. All of the options involve tearing down the current Central School building.

The first option, a report by the firm says, would be to construct a new building on the current site of the school.

However, the report says, the district should also consider converting the site to park and athletic facilities for Rodney B. Wilson Middle School.

"We could create something here that would enhance the neighborhood and would be an asset to the school," Lee said. "It would be somewhat of a park as well as meeting an educational need."

The report says the district could then proceed in either of two directions: it could build a new elementary school west of what is now Central School, or "with land acquisition upgrade and expand both... facilities of Perrin-Palmer and Swegles."

Both scenarios should include upgrading Rodney B. Wilson Middle School, the report says.

The report also said the school district should, on the long term, "maintain and enhance the neighborhood school concept throughout the district."

Lee said the short term plan recommended by the CCSO is a step in the right direction for creating a district of neighborhood schools.

Lutherans

ST. JOHNS St. Johns Lutheran Church, 511 E. Sturgis St., will host a blood drive on June 6 from noon to 5:45 p.m.

Among those who benefit from blood donations are children who have hemophilia, an inherited condition which prevents blood from clotting properly. If left untreated, hemophilia can cause great pain, stiffness, and disfigurement of the body.

Michigan has a special camp, Camp Bold Eagle, where nearly 200 hemophiliac children from all over the country come to take part in outdoor activities and develop a "can-do" attitude. Located near the Waterloo Recreation Area, the camp helps meet the children's needs for physical activity and social interaction.

For more information on the blood drive, contact Jim or Doris O'Connor at 224-2525.

Elected

ST. JOHNS St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce Board members who were recently elected for three year terms of office included: Diane Edwards, City of St. Johns; Bob Rehmann, Rehmanns Clothing; Greg DeLoia, Fishers Big Wheel; Lynn Weber, Hub Tire; Dennis Scott, St. Johns Reminder.

They will join other board members: Skip Hughes, Mick Boog, Barry Dean, Earl Gabriel, Dick Johnson, Jim Parr, Don Rademacher, Virginia Shawnee, Dan Redman and Curtis Keck, who compose the 15-member board.

Each represents certain categories of business and answers to particular needs and requests. The group will elect officers at the June 11 meeting.

Kennedy

ST. JOHNS The Clinton County Historical Society plans a special presentation by Dr. John Lattimer, a Clinton County native who has done extensive research into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The program is scheduled for June 19 in the Capitol Federal Savings community room at 7:30 p.m.

Lattimer did highspeed ballistic experiments on his family farms in northwestern Clinton County between Maple Rapids and Hubbardston. Lattimer and his two sons duplicated the Oswald-Kennedy situation in all types of variations.

In the presentation on June 19, Dr. Lattimer will show slides, the famous Zapruder movie of the shooting, ballistic movies of the woundings and the movie of Rudy shooting Oswald. Questions from the audience will be answered.

There is no charge for the program, and the public is invited.

TROUBLE SHOOTERS — St. Johns High School seniors Steve Voiset (second from left) and Duane Hoffer earned ninth place in the annual Plymouth-AAA Trouble Shooting Contest state finals recently in Warren. A total of 76 Michigan high schools entered four-man teams in the contest. The two highest scores from each team constituted the team score. The ten highest team scores went on to the "hands on" portion of the contest, in which Voiset and Hoffer took ninth place. The instructor for the two students is Larry Button.

Five school board candidates say they won't renew Supt. Earl Gabriel's contract if elected

By RICH WERTZ Editor

Five of the seven candidates endorsed by the Concerned Citizens for Education said last week they will not renew the contract of Superintendent of Schools Earl Gabriel if elected to the St. Johns Board of Education.

The candidates made the statement at a "Meet Our Candidates" event attended by about 50 people on Tuesday evening at the UAW Hall in St. Johns. The event was sponsored by the Concerned Citizens for Education, a spin-off from the group that organized a campaign that led to the recall of six members of the school board last month.

Concerned Citizens for Education have endorsed seven candidates for six seats on the board that will be filled in the June 9 election.

THE FIVE WHO said if elected they will not renew Gabriel's contract when it expires next year were Neil Barnhart, Paul Bieber, Kathy Sjoberg, Dick Lehnert and George Gavenda, Jr.

Kay Zuzelski, who also has the endorsement of Concerned Citizens, said she would not make a decision about Gabriel's contract until she had experienced working with him as a board member.

Roger Warner, who also has the endorsement of Concerned Citizens, was not present at the event.

"Personally, I would not renew his contract," said Neil Barnhart, when the question was posed to each of the candidates.

"Given what I know right now, I could not renew his contract," said Dick Lehnert.

Paul Bieber and Kathy Sjoberg both said they would not renew Gabriel's contract because they believe he lacks credibility with residents of the district.

"I CAN NOT see renewing his contract," said Bieber. "I won't say that he's lied... I do know that there's been times when he's had information that he has not furnished."

Sjoberg said she would follow the will of the residents she represents. She said she believes they would want her to vote against renewal of the contract.

"My feeling right this minute is that most of the people I represent would want me to vote that way," she said. "I wouldn't be predisposed either way."

Kay Zuzelski said she her own decision would come after serving on the board. She said Gabriel should not be held responsible if a board "abdicates" control of the district.

"I'm not willing to go into this saying I'm going to fire Mr. Gabriel," she said. "I have had some disagreements but that does not mean he couldn't be forced to do a good job."

GABRIEL, ASKED to comment, released a written statement that read in part: "Objectivity is the hallmark of good boardsmanship. I would hope that anyone who wishes to serve this community as a board member would approach their responsibilities free of biases and predetermined courses of action and not be quick to pass judgement on anyone's job performance until they are indeed elected and have had the opportunity to work with the administrator."

"We have made great strides and improvements in the school system in the past three and a half years and I am proud to have had a part in this development. We have also had some setbacks and I am willing to accept whatever part I had in those situations."

ALSO AT THE "Meet Our Candidates" event, the candidates discussed budget cuts, door-to-door busing and other issues.

The six candidates present at the event were generally in agreement that accountability by administrators is the key to budget decisions.

"I want to see some accountability," said Bieber. "I want to see how they come up with the figures."

Several candidates said they agreed with a statement by Lehnert that the administrator responsible for school district finances should report directly to the board. The candidates were also in general agreement that door-to-door busing should be a priority of the school district.

"We should wait to see how much it costs," said Lehnert. "If it costs too much, don't do it."

Barnhart said the transportation system might be improved by giving bus drivers, who "have a first hand knowledge" of their routes, a greater voice in how they are set up.

Arts festival is reason for pride in schools

To the Editor:

To the Festival of Arts teachers and students: I just spent the most enjoyable three nights that I have had in a long time.

They said when we started the recall we would hurt our children's education and harm the community. Well, if anybody had the good sense to go up to the high school this last three days they would have seen teachers and kids put their hearts and souls into some good, hard work. Those people could show some adults about life and what's important to them and our school.

Campaign has just begun, says candidate

To the Editor:

"You're a glutton for punishment!"
 "I'm glad you're running again because you've always been for quality education."
 "I'm sorry you were recalled. I didn't know that you didn't vote for that dirty deal on cutting busing without any warning last fall."

"I don't like the Concerned Taxpayers Committee dictating to me who I should vote for!"

These are some typical comments that I have heard the last several days as I have started my door-to-door campaigning in both city and country areas of the St. Johns School District. The generally positive response to my running again for school board for a two-year term is very encouraging.

I believe that my commitment to quality education, a good school system and also being fair with people

Candidates gearing up for House election

The race has begun between Bill Schuette and Don Albosta, candidates for the Tenth District Seat on the U.S. House of Representatives.

Publicity for the Albosta campaign said a poll, the results of which were announced at the May 15 opening of Albosta's campaign office, shows Albosta neck-and-neck with incumbent Schuette. Schuette defeated Albosta in the 1982 race for the seat. "The main storyline, which is very unusual in a race against an incumbent, is that this is a dead-even race," said pollster Stanley Greensberg, of Analysis Group, Inc. "This is not a race where the challenger needs to overcome ten or 12 points." Schuette, meanwhile, announced that he has the backing of Leon Brewbaker, owner of an inurance agency in St. Johns. Brewbaker will serve as a member of the Schuette's campaign finance committee, Schuette campaign publicity said.

"With Leon's help, I know we will win decisively in November," Schuette said. "We won last time because we had the best organization of men and women this state has seen and I'm delighted to have Leon's support and enthusiasm for our 1986 effort."

More than a hundred years ago margarine was discovered. It seems a Frenchman named Hippolyte Mege-Mouries, won a contest sponsored by Emperor Napoleon III of France in 1869, by inventing a substitute for butter ... more in the interest of economy than weight control or health concerns.

Although most people still call it butter, in three households out of four the spread people actually use is margarine. Health concerns have been among the main motivations behind the switch from butter to margarine since the 1950s. However, confusion regarding margarine's health benefits still is wide spread.

While there is no ironclad evidence to support all the controversial views, certain facts are worth considering when choosing between butter and margarine, also another alternate, a butter-margarine blend. The increasing number of choices sometime makes selection difficult.

Another choice is unsalted or "sweet" butter. By definition, unsalted butter is a food product that is made exclusively from sweet pasteurized cream. No salt or coloring is added. On the other hand, artificial flavor and color are used in margarines to make them look and taste more like butter. In fact, during certain seasons artificial color also is added to some butters.

Parade at 6 p.m.

Memorial Day on Friday

Memorial Day observances in St. Johns will be held on the traditional date of May 30 and will this year include the dedication of the Veterans Memorial in Mt. Rest Cemetery.

The memorial, which was completed this month, will be dedicated following the annual Memorial Day parade from the Clinton County Courthouse to the cemetery.

Observances will begin with the formation of the parade at 5:30 p.m. Participants should gather at the corner of Maple and Linden streets, next to the courthouse.

At 6 p.m. the parade will begin. It will proceed north on Clinton Avenue, east on Railroad Street, north on Mead Street, and east on Steel Street. Crossing US-27, it will enter Mt. Rest Cemetery.

Master of Ceremonies Jim Moore will then begin the observances by welcoming all who are there.

Tom Dolph, pastor of the First Baptist Church of St. Johns, will offer an invocation. He and Bob Shrine, who is a service officer for area veterans, will conduct the dedication of the Veterans Memorial.

Following the dedication, wreaths will be laid on the memorial. Johns Caudy, who was the guiding force behind the memorial, will lay a wreath on top of the memorial.

Traditionally, the song "Faith of Our Fathers" is played during the wreath-laying ceremony, said Jim Moore.

Music for the ceremony will be provided by the St. Johns High School Band.

The wreath-laying ceremony will be followed by a 21-gun salute fired by an honor guard of area veterans and the playing of "Taps."

Norman and David Rowley, of St. Johns, the creators of the Civil War re-enactment organization called the 10th Michigan Infantry, will conclude the observances with the firing of a cannon.

June school hearing set

June 23 was set as the date of a public hearing on a preliminary general fund budget for the St. Johns school district for 1986-87.

The hearing will be conducted at 8 p.m. in the library of the Rodney B. Wilson Middle School.

The district is required by law to have a preliminary budget in place by July 1, said Superintendent of Schools Earl Gabriel at a May 19 meeting of the school board.

However, he said, the $10 million budget is based on "soft data" because the district faces several budgetary unknowns, including the amount of state aid the district will receive, the cost of whatever plan is adopted for replacing Central School, and the cost of new contracts for bus drivers, cafeteria workers and teachers' aides.

The preliminary budget projects for June 30, 1987, a cash fund equity — the actual cash expected to be on hand — of $433,428.

That is down from a projected cash fund equity of $686,599 for the end of this fiscal year.

Gabriel said the figures are about what was projected during the last millage campaign.

He said the expected cash fund equity of $433,428 for 1987 will create a savings to provide continuity during the 1987-88 school year.

ALSO AT THE May 19 meeting, lone board member Gary Whitford ratified a contract between the board and 20 custodial/maintenance employees. The two-year contract includes a five percent wage hike.

Whitford said that although he had promised not to take drastic actions while serving as the only member of the school board, he decided to ratify the contract because the employees have been working without a contract since last June 30, because the contract was within the parameters the board had previously established, and because ratification now will allow wages retroactive to the start of the contract to be paid out of the current year's budget.

The bugs of summer

Dawn Harris

They swarm in your barbecue. They bite you as you mow the lawn. They'll be your uninvited house guest. These creepy, crawling, flying, biting, creatures can ruin that afternoon nap you planned in the backyard, as well as a camping or fishing trip.

The people who make insect repellent have come up with some suggestions for ways to keep summer biting bugs, especially mosquitoes, from spoiling your outdoor fun.

The best way to protect against the bugs of summer is to use a quality insect repellent, and to eliminate breeding areas. Insect repellent should be applied to all exposed skin before going outside. You can also spray non-synthetic clothes with aerosol for more complete protection.

Here are a few suggestions for helping reduce the mosquito population in your backyard:

- Dump out pails, pans and any open containers after a rain. Get rid of old tires, or puncture them to drain water. Mosquito eggs must be in water to hatch and these containers make ideal breeding grounds.
- Fill in drain areas where water stands; gutters, ditches and low areas in your yard. Mosquitoes even like holes in trees that collect water.
- Repair holes in your tent before you set out. Mosquitoes are tiny — one-eighth inch to one-quarter inch — and only need a tiny hole to get to you.
- Wear long-sleeved shirts and long pants in the early mornings and evenings when mosquitoes are most likely to strike. The less skin you expose, the less of a target you are.

Program for talents held in county

Seventh and eighth grade students who qualified for the Midwest Talent Search Program in Clinton County had the opportunity to participate in a seminar on video production on four successive Saturdays recently.

The students each chose to work on one of three productions: a news program, a children's show, or a comedy. They wrote the scripts, planned staging, gathered costumes and props, played the roles, took turns video-taping, and helped edit the final program. Mark IV Productions of Owosso assisted and provided the equipment.

Students from Bath, DeWitt, Ovid-Elsie, Pewamo-Westphalia and St. Johns were included in the program with funding supplied by the Clinton County Gifted/Talented Consortium, said Jenny McCampbell, consultant for Gifted/Talented Programming at Clinton Intermediate.

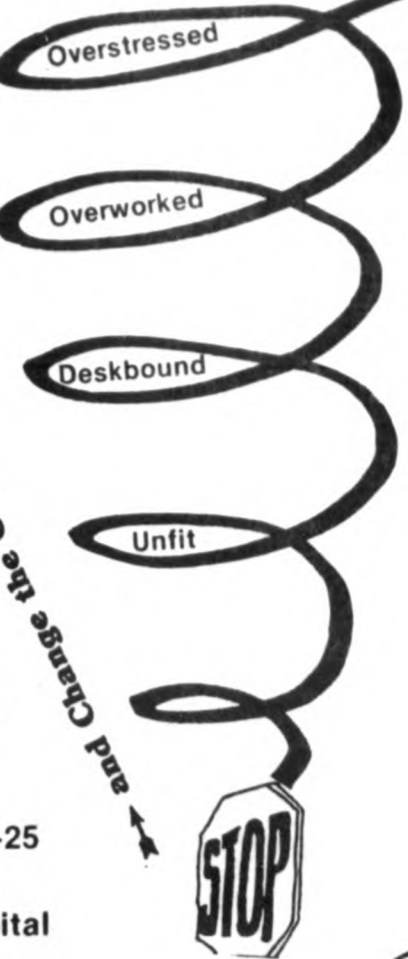

Each of the participating school districts will receive a copy of the 30-minute tape which resulted from the seminar. Also, the program will be shown over the Cable Network (Channel 2) in St. Johns on June 1 at 4 p.m. and over Channel 29 in DeWitt. DeWitt city residents should watch Channel 29 for the time and dates of the program, or call Jane Reed at City Hall, 669-2441, for information.

Clinton County teams are winners in first baseball pre-district games

By RHONDA GAFFNEY Sports Editor

Baseball pre-districts. Don't ask for an explanation of what their purpose is. Just accept the fact that they are necessary — that's what all the coaches do.

Actually, the pre-district concept is along the same lines as that of basketball district play. However, the geographical area of a baseball district is much larger than that of basketball with more schools involved. Therefore, there is a need for a "pre-district" round to whittle the field down a bit.

With that information out of the way, here is a brief round-up of results from pre-district games, all played last Friday (May 23) at a variety of locations.

ST. JOHNS

The Redwings travelled to East Lansing, taking a come-from-behind win over the Trojans 5-4. St. Johns advances into their Class A District, facing the winner of the Owosso/Jackson pre-district this Saturday (May 31) at Municipal Park in Lansing.

Despite the fact that both of St. Johns scheduled games last week against Alma and Mt. Pleasant were rained out, Coach Doug Parker was pleased with his teams' overall performance.

"We played pretty good ball," Coach Parker said. "We seem to have turned the corner, and if we continue to play like we have been, we are capable of winning the district."

Scott Jones went the distance for the Redwings, and took the win. He gave up six hits, allowed four runs, (one earned), struck out 10 batters, and walked just three.

"He was good when he had to be," the coach said.

ST. JOHNS OPENED scoring with three runs in the top of the fourth inning on a walk to Dwight Pierson and a two-run home run by Jeff Maurer with two outs. Tom Bates walked, Steve Dunkel was safe on an error, and a single by Dan Dorn sent Bates home for the Redwings third run.

East Lansing countered with four runs of their own in the bottom of the fourth to take the lead 4-3.

Two runs by the Redwings in the top of the seventh gave them the win. Dunkel walked, stole second, and advanced to third on an infield single by Dorn. Dorn stole second, and a big double off the bat of Scott Hiebeck sent both runners home to give St. Johns the lead.

Heibeck, sophomore second-baseman for the Redwings, was 3-4 at the plate with 2 RBIs and three stolen bases. Dorn was 2-4 with 1 RBI, and Maurer had the 2-run home run for 2 RBIs.

St. Johns' record stands at 8-8 overall, winning five of their last six games. They were named winners of the Mason Invitational last week, in a final determination of the outcome of that game with Mason which was not completed earlier in the season.

OID-ELSIE

The Marauders were 4-3 winners in their opening pre-district game with Corunna, played at Ovid-Elsie. They will play their first Class B district game this Saturday at Mt. Morris against the winner of the Chesaning/Durand pre-district game.

"We seem to have turned the corner...we are capable of winning the District."

Redwings' Doug Parker

Corunna took an early 3-0 lead in the first inning, but it was all the runs they would see for the game. Jeff Conklin, who got the win for O-E, threw shut-out ball for the remainder of the contest.

Conklin allowed four hits in the last six innings, and collected four strikeouts.

An RBI single by Jeff Davies gave the Marauders their first run in the game, and solo home runs by Joel Bohil and Nick Hurst tied the game up.

Ovid-Elsie put the winning run on base in the sixth inning when Randy Lockwood doubled. He came home on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Davies.

Coach Jack Nutters team did not fare as well in the nightcap, which was a completion of an earlier suspended game with Corunna. Ovid-Elsie lost that confrontation 5-7.

Errors cost the Marauders as they committed four during the course of the game. Hurst was 3-4 at the plate including two doubles and 3 RBIs, and Bob Foreback had two singles for the Marauders.

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA

The Pirates from Pewamo-Westphalia scored somewhat of an upset win over Lansing Catholic Central, defeating the Cougars in a close 3-2 game.

P-W will face the winner of the DeWitt/Bath pre-district in the Class C District finals at DeWitt on Saturday.

Lansing Catholic Central, who had lost just four games coming into the pre-district, took a 1-0 first inning lead.

The Pirates came back to score one run in their half of the first when Loren Thelen doubled and scored on a fielder's choice by Darrel Heckman.

It was nip-and-tuck in the second inning also, when both teams again traded runs.

Catholic Central went ahead 2-1 in the top of the second, and P-W came back to tie things up.

Bill Schneider was safe at first on an error, and scored on a sacrifice fly by Todd Smith.

Pewamo-Westphalia put the game away in the third inning when Thelen singled, moved to second on a passed ball, and crossed the plate on an infield over-throw.

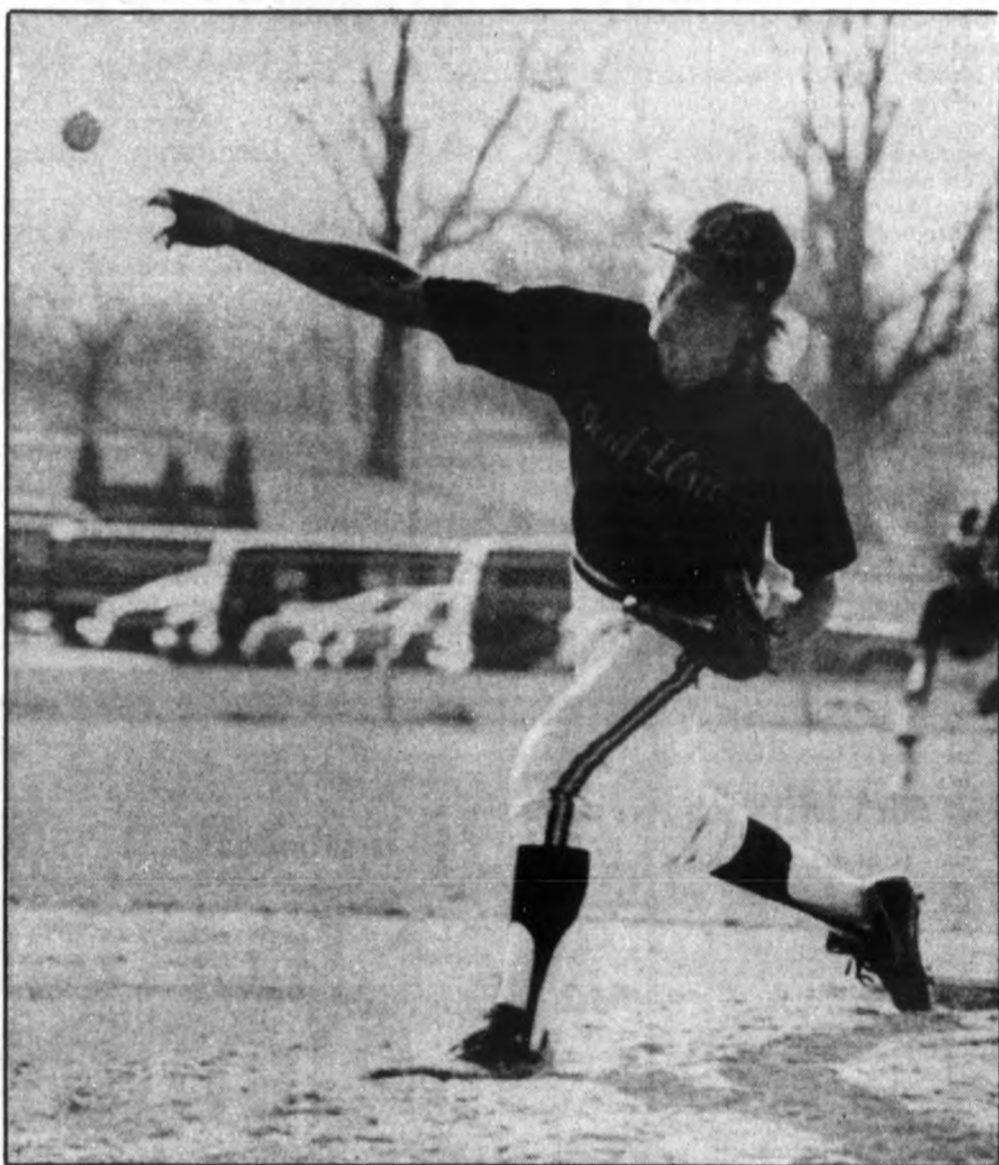

Stan Bauer went the distance for Mark Rademacher's team and got the win. He allowed seven hits, two runs, struck out four and walked just one Cougar batter.

ASHLEY

The Bears move into the Class D District finals on their home field this Saturday by virtue of a 5-0 blanking of Vestaburg in their pre-district game. Ashley will face either Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart or Portland St. Patrick in their District.

Mike Litwiller threw a two-hitter for Ashley to take the win. He fanned nine batters along the way, and walked one.

A three-run sixth inning put the game away for Paul Hornak's team on an RBI single by Duane MARAUDER HURLER — Doug Pumphord, pitcher for the Ovid-Elsie baseball team, shows his form during a recent game. All area baseball and softball teams saw action in the pre-district round of high school tournaments last week. District finals will be played this Saturday, May 31, at various sites around the state.

Redwing girls in 'A' district final

The Redwings took an easy 12-2 pre-district softball win in their opening game at Holt last Friday. St. Johns advances to the Class A District at Waverly High School this Saturday (May 31) where they will take on Lansing Eastern at 12:15 p.m.

Brenda Eiseler was the winning pitcher for St. Johns, giving her a perfect 16-0 record for the year. The only hit Eiseler allowed was a second-inning leadoff single by the Rams' shortstop who later scored on a bases-loaded walk.

Seven runs crossed the plate for the Redwings in the second inning. Lara Foy drove in two runs on a triple, giving St. Johns a 9-0 lead.

Eiseler hit in three runs on two singles, while Mary Murphy, Angie Pung and Sherri Nichols each collected a pair of hits for St. Johns.

Coach Paul Sternburg's team takes a 23-1 record in the District game with Eastern.

Tennis awards for SJ

The Redwing tennis team celebrated their season with an Awards Banquet held on May 22. Coach Al Werbish presented the Most Improved Player Award to Kevin Zimmerman and the 101 Percent Award to Curt Luttig.

Named as next year's Captain was Eric Fish, and Chris Briggs received the award for Best Doubles Player. The team voted themselves as "Most Valuable Player."

Receiving Varsity letters were: Troy Foote, Dave Schroeder, Jason Zimmerman, Chris Briggs, Trent Byra, Eric Signs, and Rich Kirby in doubles play; Kevin Zimmerman, Eric Fish, Curt Luttig, and Brad Thompson in singles play.

Fulton is CMAC track host

Fulton boys and girls track teams wrapped up their regular season by hosting the Central Michigan Athletic Conference meet last week. The girls finished in second place with 55 points and the Pirate boys placed third with 30½ total points.

Don Price took two first places for the boys, with times of 4:36.2 and 10:12.5 in the mile and two-mile runs. He will be participating in the State Meet at Hillsdale College this Saturday in those events.

Other place finishers for the boys were Scott Cater in the discus at 111'11" and Tod Koone at 11'0" in the pole vault. Both were good for second place. Scott Berry tied for third in the high jump at 5'6", and Joel Parker finished third in the 400 dash at 54.2.

A breakdown of girls' finishing places follows:

First place finishers: high jump — Dee Gardner, 4'9"; 300 hurdles — Janice Kresge, 47.0; 3200 run — Kelly Stouff, 12:47.2; 1600 relay — Kresge, Dee Johnson, Julie Sluka, Lori Helman, 4:18.7.

A variety of Fulton boys and girls took part in the Morning Sun Meet in Mt. Pleasant yesterday and Janice Kresge will be participating in the Lansing State Journal Honor Roll meet today (May 28).

Kresge will represent Fulton at the State Meet this Saturday in the 100 and 300 hurdles, as will Dee Gardner in the high jump and Deb Waldrun in the shot put. Also travelling to the State Meet will be the 3200 relay team of Gardner, Kresge, Helman, and Upham, and the 1600 relay team of Kresge, Johnson, Sluka, and Helman.

Fowler claims track crown in CMAC

For the sixth year in a row, the Fowler girls track team finished in the top spot in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference with a perfect 4-0 dual meet record and a win at the CMAC meet scoring 91 points.

The Eagle boys also capped off a fine season with a relatively easy 126½ point victory at the CMAC meet run at Fulton last week. That made them number one in the conference, an honor they have wanted for several years, finishing with a share of first place last year.

"It was an exciting meet for us," said boys Coach Neil Hufnagle. "It feels good to win the title outright."

Girls coach Kim Spalsbury thought the sixth-season crown was like, "icing on the cake. We were very pleased to get to this point in the season. It has been an outstanding year."

Netters end year

The Redwing boys' tennis team finished out the 1986 season with a 6-4 dual meet record, claimed the MMB conference title, and placed fifth in regional action held at Mt. Pleasant.

"We played hard and did as well as could be expected," Coach Al Werbish said of St. Johns placement in the tough Class A regional.

St. Johns faced stiff competition in the 12-team field with schools from Midland, Traverse City, Owosso, Bay City, Saginaw, Mt. Pleasant and Bridgeport all included in the regional. Midland Dow finished first.

In number one singles, Brad Thompson defeated his man from Mt. Pleasant, and lost in the quarterfinals to Owosso. Curt Luttig, number two singles, won his match with Bridgeport and lost in the quarterfinals to Traverse City.

Number three singles, Eric Fish, was defeated in his opening match with Owosso, and number four singles, Kevin Zimmerman, won over Bay City Western before losing in the quarterfinals to Traverse City.

Eric Signs and Rich Kirby won their opener with Bay City Central, but lost in the quarterfinals to Midland Dow.

The number two doubles team of Trent Byra and Chris Briggs had the best finish for the Redwings in the regionals. They drew a bye, defeated Bay City John Glenn in the quarterfinals and lost to Midland in the semifinals.

Number three doubles team of Dave Schroeder and Jason Zimmerman took their opening match with Bay City Central, and were defeated in the quarterfinals by Owosso.

In closing dual meet action, St. Johns lost two close matches to Mt. Pleasant, 3-4, and Waverly, 2-5. Both were non-conference matches.

Fowler hears a 'General'

By RHONDA GAFFNEY
Sports Editor

Steve Schmidt, former basketball stand-out at Waverly High School, loves basketball.

He has to. He plays nearly every night before sell-out crowds for seven months of the year.

Schmidt is a member of the Washington Generals — the basketball team that plays against the Harlem Globetrotters during their worldwide tours. He spoke to the eighth graders at Most Holy Trinity School in Fowler recently on achieving goals.

"Steve is a prime example of what kids can do if they set goals for themselves and really try to achieve them," said Stephen Dembowski, teacher at Holy Trinity and former coach of Schmidt. "The students were impressed with set-backs that Steve had to overcome to reach his goal."

Schmidt graduated from Waverly High School in 1979 with hopes of receiving a scholarship offer from a Division I school. He was contacted by a number of colleges, including Michigan and Notre Dame, but no scholarships were forthcoming. He elected to attend San Jose State, a Junior College in California, and later transferred to Central Michigan University.

"Steve could have given up on his goal of playing professional basketball at that time," Dembowski said, "but he continued to work hard at improving his basketball skills."

THROUGH HIS WORK at basketball summer camps during his years at CMU, Schmidt made contact with the Washington Generals and was asked to play by their General Manager Red Klotz.

"The Generals look for good basketball players with good character," Dembowski said. "The Globetrotters are the 'Goodwill Ambassadors' and all their players have to project that image."

Schmidt had just completed his first year with the Generals when he spoke to the students, playing 184 games in a seven-month period. He opened the tour with the Globetrotters in Australia and thoroughly enjoyed his experiences with the team.

In his talk to the students, Schmidt emphasized the importance of setting high goals and having the determination to reach them.

"He really related to the kids," said Dembowski. "The main thrust of his talk was that although his own goals centered on basketball, the same principle could be applied to academics or personal improvement."

Schmidt's future plans include playing a few more years with the Generals before he attempts to attain a new goal — coaching at the collegiate level.

"After hearing Steve talk, there was little doubt in the minds of the students that this new goal would also be achieved," Dembowski said.

4 Corners announces winners of club projects

The regular meeting of the Elsie 4-Corners 4-H Club was held at Elsie Elementary School with President Craig Galecka opening the meeting. The pledges were led by Jason Stambersky and Erika Thornton.

Mari Shipley read the previous minutes and roll call answered yes or no to completion of their winter projects. These were to be finished by April 26, the Winter Windup date. Reports were given by those attending the event at St. Johns High School.

Elsie 4-Corners project winners from the Winter Windup included: Ryan Dennings, rosette for Safety demonstration; Melissa Wadell, rosette for Health talk; Michelle Wadell and Julie Wilson, ribbons in several contests; Monica Horak and Melissa Kusnier, Style Review pins. Douglas Wadell worked at the food stands at the Windup and Marilyn Kuchar, 4-H Council member, assisted throughout the day as did several leaders and parents.

Cindy Kusnier, club float chairman, spoke of ideas for the wagon which will also be in the Elsie Festival Dairy Days.

Mari Shipley gave a report on her participation at the Yankee Springs Trip as a counselor.

4-H members, leaders and parents present were asked to write what 4-H is all about, how long they had been involved, what they are making or doing, what they had enjoyed most and learned. The ideas and thoughts presented were beneficial to the organizational leader and to the Elsie 4-Corners 4-H Club.

Bill Schuette Reports

Farm foreclosures

Bill Schuette

The loss of one's livelihood is always painful. Such a loss becomes all the more painful if we know that there are actions we could have taken to prevent it. Yet this is the situation many farmers face as the incidence of foreclosure increases. Many farmers are today faced with huge debt burdens, but foreclosure is usually not the best solution to this problem. In fact, economically, it is often the least efficient solution.

When circumstances beyond the control of the farmer result in foreclosure, his land is sold at auction — land which has plummeted in value in recent years. When foreclosures increase, the amount of land on the market also increases. That, in turn, depresses land prices even further, and solvent farmers find their land value, collateral for their loans, eaten away at an alarming rate, pulling them even closer to ruin.

The irony is that these fire sale farm auctions often provide less money than could be secured by allowing viable farmers to restructure their loans.

We in Congress realize this vicious cycle can and must be stopped. Rather than stand by while farmland is dumped on this depressed market, I have cosponsored various pieces of legislation to stem the rising tide of foreclosure. The House has already passed one such bill which I cosponsored. This bill expresses the sense of Congress that the Federal Farm Credit Administration and its associated agencies and lending institutions use their existing authority to restructure loans for viable farming operations instead of foreclosing, and to take other actions to help farm families. The overwhelming margin by which this bill passed — 407-0 — shows there is wide bi-partisan support for restructuring loans rather than foreclosing farms.

The reason for this is not hard to understand: quite often, restructuring loans is simply a more economical alternative to foreclosure. Rather than losing almost 50 percent of a loan, the Farm Credit Administration can lower the farmer's interest, keep him in business, and in most cases recover the loan. This is a good deal not only for farmers, but also for bondholders and all taxpayers.

Given the current agricultural situation, our lending institutions must work to keep farmers on their land. We must permit production agriculture to readjust and reamortize loans. We do not need to foreclose on the hopes and dreams of farm families and production agriculture across the land. I say forebear, not foreclose.

Bill Schuette is the 10th District Representative to the United States House of Representative.

Crop monitoring

Giles Roehl

Have you walked out into your fields in the last couple of days? Now, with the majority of the crops planted, is the time to do some crop monitoring. A walk through your fields may give big returns or it may just let you know what's happening.

Have you checked for alfalfa weevil? If any feeding damage is noticed on alfalfa leaves, look in the new growth for the small grub. When just hatched, the grubs are a milky color with a black head and are only about one-eighth inch long. As they grow, they become more green with a white stripe down the middle of their back. They still have the black head. If 25 percent or more of the alfalfa tops show damage and it will be a week or more until harvest, it will be profitable to spray. Call for chemical instructions.

Wheat. When checking near the base of the wheat plant you may see what appears to be a white, cotton-like fungus. The fungus, powdery mildew, may affect the yield some. Unless it starts to attack the flag leaf it will not be profitable to spray to control. Control, if necessary, would be a commercial product called Bayleton used according to label instructions.

Velvetleaf and other weeds may be causing a reduction in yield. Chemical control with a herbicide such as Atrazine, Sutan plus, Basagran, 2-4 D, and Banvel. For effective control in areas of heavy velvetleaf pressure, plan to use a combination of soil pre-emergence and post-emergence applications. Since its past time for pre, a post-emergence chemical could be used. The post-emergence herbicide with the greatest activity on velvetleaf is Banvel. 2-4 D is somewhat less effective and Basagran is both less effective and more expensive. Plants should be treated when they are no more than 2 inches for best results. Atrazine (2 pounds A.I. per acre) plus crop oil concentrate (1 quart/acre) is also effective postemergence on velvetleaf and may be the best choice if the plants are taller than 2 inches or if a Banvel drift is a severe concern. Don't let the velvetleaf get over five inches tall or it will be considerably more difficult to control. Banvel can be applied at 1 pint/acre to corn less than five inches tall. On taller corn, reduce the rate to 1/2 pint per acre. In addition, use drop nozzles if corn is 6-8 inches tall.

An early post-emergence treatment of Banvel at 1 pint per acre will provide good control along with some soil activity, but a second application of Banvel at 1/2 pint per acre may be used if necessary.

Timely cultivation can also be very helpful in controlling all weeds, especially plants between the rows. However, cultivation may stimulate the germination of additional plants.

ASCS — Pete LoDico, office director, brought over some information concerning the 1987 Government Feed Grain Program. See these references elsewhere on this page.

Alert — Fruit Edition from MSU indicated on May 13 that except for some occasional fire blight and scab on apple, the primary problem received by the Plant Diagnostic Clinic has been the appearance of damage from winter kill. Winter kill has been evident on strawberries and blueberries with some occasional damage on young apple fruit tree stock. Severely damaged plants will need special care such as additional watering, especially during dry periods.

Ag dept. is seeking public comment on 1987 wheat program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is seeking public comments on provisions of the 1987 wheat program which must be announced no later than June 1, 1986.

Milton Hertz, acting administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said USDA would consider comments as well as current data on U.S. and world crop conditions and the supply/demand outlook before making final decisions on the program.

The USDA wants comments on the following:

- The loan and purchase level. The basic loan level cannot now be lower than $2.85 per bushel; however, it may be adjusted down to $2.28 per bushel to maintain competitiveness in national and international markets.
- Whether a marketing loan with related provisions should be implemented.
- The established target price. The minimum target price is $4.38 per bushel.
- The percentage reduction under an acreage limitation program. Since 1986-crop ending wheat stocks are expected to exceed 1 billion bushels, the minimum percentage level is 20 percent and the maximum is 27.5 percent.
- Whether an optional land diversion program should be established and, if so, the percentage of diversion and the payment rate.
- If a marketing loan is implemented, whether the inventory reduction program should be in effect.
- Whether a portion or all of the deficiency or diversion payments should be made in the form of commodity certificates.

• Provisions of the farmer-owned reserve program.

• Whether a wheat export certificate program should be implemented.

• Whether the special wheat grazing and hay program should be implemented.

Hertz also said the USDA requests comments on the establishment of county loan rates, commodity eligibility premiums and discounts and other provisions necessary to carry out a loan and purchase program for wheat.

Comments should be sent to: Director, Commodity Analysis Division, USDA/ASCS, Room 3741-S, PO Box 2415, Washington DC, 20013.

In addition, a regulatory impact statement on the 1987 wheat program options is available and may be obtained by writing to the same address.

Foot problems

Marilyn Loudenslager

A major change in housing has occurred in the past 25 years. Free stalls were developed to reduce the dual problems of loose housing; dirty cows and the need for large amounts of bedding. It was only a short time before additional steps were taken: to confine cows year-round on scraped or washed concrete; to give them only free stalls (and often cramped ones at that) with minimal bedding or artificial surfaces to lie on; and to feed them large amounts of grain and other concentrates with little or no posture and long hay or other "effective fiber". The floor surfaces also stayed wet almost all the time, and a cow's exercise was minimal. In addition, new concrete, given a rough finish to reduce slipperiness, was extremely abrasive to hooves.

Cows moving into a new dairy barn encounter a number of changes: a different diet, more wetness, space less desirable for lying in, less exercise, and a harder floor surface. Under these circumstances, many cows develop foot and leg problems, and many dairy farmers tend to blame these problems solely on the new, hard floor.

Ben McDaniel of North Carolina State University, suggests that while the floor surface must be considered, several other factors contribute significantly to foot and leg disorders and should not be neglected. Factors believed to be important influences on hooves are nutrition, wetness, abrasiveness or slipperiness of the floor surface, abnormal stances, less exercise, and genetics. Each will be discussed separately.

Nutrition The major problem seen in herds with hoof problems appears to be lack of "effective" fiber. Often the overall ration is adequate in fiber, but cows have the opportunity for, or are forced to have, widely varying fiber intakes. Dr. McDaniel observed that many but not all cows on magnetic feeders will develop enlarged hooves. It is also suspected that there are genetic differences in a cow's ability to eat large amounts of concentrates without suffering hoof damage. Over feeding of heifers and dry cows can also cause hoof problems.

Floor surface Constant exposure to abrasive surfaces wears down hooves and makes them susceptible to injury. Cows with such hooves spend less time eating and their hooves are softer and even more susceptible to wear. Older concrete floors often become smooth and therefore slippery when wet. On such surfaces hooves tend to become longer and larger. Cows are very prone to injuries from falling or "splitting" on such surfaces. Grooving or procedures to roughen the surface and improve footing have been successful in reducing cow losses in these cases.

Genetics It is clear that differences in true hoof shape are heritable and related to economically important traits. The problem is that genetics is only a partial long term solution to foot problems. It would take several years to replace all cows with better heifers, even if accurate sire summaries were available. Thus, improved feeding and management is the short term solution to decreasing foot problems.

Footbaths Regular use of footbaths with either copper sulfate or formalin as the active agent has consistently reduced foot problems. Research has shown that they both harden as well as disinfect the hoof. Research has not been extensive enough to establish exact recommendations. At North Carolina State University good results have been seen with daily use of a 5 percent solution of copper sulfate. Many European and American farmers have reported good results with two to five percent formalin.

When developing a management program for hoof care, the emphasis should be on prevention of foot problems. Once a hoof has been damaged it is likely to have increased susceptibility to disorders for the remainder of the cow's life.

Milk production goes up four percent in Michigan

Dairy herds in Michigan produced 465 million pounds of milk during April, up four percent from a year earlier, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Milk cow numbers averaged 386,000 head, down 6,000 from a month ago and down 4,000 from April 1985. Michigan dropped to seventh place nationally in milk cow numbers but still placed sixth in milk production. Cow numbers are expected to continue to decline because of the Dairy Termination Program (DTP). Large increases in milk per cow continue to offset reduced cow numbers. Milk output per cow averaged 1,205 pounds, up 55 pounds from one year ago. The value of milk sold in Michigan averaged $12.20 per hundredweight (cwt.) during April, down 80 cents from one year earlier. This price reflects the total value of milk at the dairy plant or receiving station before deductions are made for hauling charges, dairy promotion funds, and special assessments.

Wheat poll is a threat to freedom of farmers, says county officer

The wheat poll to be conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in June is a threat to farmers' freedoms, said Clinton County Farm Bureau President Howard Straub.

The poll of wheat growers, intended to find out if they want to use mandatory production controls to obtain prices, is a provision of the 1985 farm bill. "I am concerned that

Ag Expo '86 planned for Michigan State in July

More than 300 commercial farm exhibits, field demonstrations about forage production and marketing, and a forage machinery clinic will highlight Ag Expo '86, July 22-24 at Michigan State University.

mandatory production controls on wheat would only be the beginning and could lead to a government-controlled agriculture in the U.S.," Straub said.

"Restricting the amount of land that can be used for a commodity will force wheat growers to look for other crops and commodities to produce. This, in turn, will impact supply-demand and price relationships well beyond wheat. Once controls move from wheat to feedgrains, the resulting sharply higher feed costs would be devastating for red meat producers."

The main exhibition will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on July 22 and 23, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on July 24. Field demonstrations will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the 22 and 23, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the 24. A variety of tours and educational exhibits will round out the program.

"The real issue is whether our farms will be managed by farmers or by a government bureaucracy."

Straub said the Clinton County Farm Bureau will be involved in a nationwide campaign to urge wheat farmers to vote no in the poll.

"I'd be very surprised if a farmer went away from Ag Expo without at least one new idea that could benefit the farm operation," said Bill Bicket, Ag Expo chairperson. The main exhibition area, located at Farm Lane and Mt. Hope, will hold displays worth millions of dollars. Visitors can see irrigation systems, field machinery, dairy equipment and supplies, livestock handling equipment, grain harvesting and storage systems, crop sprayers, farm buildings and seed and fertilizer supplies and services.

Solid waste management units may include landfills, surface impoundments (agoons, ponds, pits), land farms, waste piles, tanks, container storage areas, disposal wells, wastewater treatment units, waste transfer stations, waste recycling operations, and any other activity that is, or was ever, used to manage solid waste (including liquid or contained gaseous waste).

The public is hereby encouraged to provide factual information as to any known releases (date, type) of hazardous waste or hazardous waste constituents to air, surface water, groundwater, or soils.
