Corrections

The ticket sale dates for the St. Johns Rotary raffle in support of the Fourth of July fireworks display were incorrectly listed last week.

The correct dates are June 13, 14, 20 and 21.

The name of Mike Nobach, superintendent-manager of the Clinton County Road Commission, was misspelled last week.

The June 3 article about candidates for the the St. Johns Board of Education referred to a statement by Robert Craig about moving a kindergarten class from Perrin-Palmer to a country school. The sentence should have said "developmental kindergarten." The latter class already involves students being bused from all areas of the school district.

We apologize for the errors.

Sidewalk sale

ST. JOHNS The annual city-wide Sidewalk Sales are set for July 17, 18 and 19 — one week earlier than previous years.

Table rentals may be made by contacting the Chamber office, 224-7248, before July 1. Non-profit groups that want sidewalk space or to announce an event should also call the Chamber.

Mint fest '86

ST. JOHNS Applications are available for the following Mint Festival '86 events: queen's contest, arts and crafts, antique and flea market, 10K and fun run, street fair, and the parade.

Raffle tickets will be available soon. Already on sale at local businesses are buttons, pins, and mirrors.

Door prize donations are needed for the Queen's Ball.

Volunteers are needed to help run the information booth.

Call the Chamber at 224-7248 to donate or volunteer.

Please see the related article about Mint Queen candidates on page 9A.

Elsie in Elsie

ELSIE The featured attraction at the Elsie Dairy Festival on July 17 through 20 will be Elsie the Bordon Cow.

The corporate spokesperson, created by the Bordon Company in the 1930s to convince the public that the company was not an "evil moneymaker," will appear at the downtown Elsie festival for her only midwest appearance this year.

The festival will also feature helicopter rides, a visit by a hot air balloon, amusement rides, a petting zoo, dances, raffles, arts and crafts, bingo, races and more.

For raffle tickets, call Samuel Smith at 864-4311.

Six school board members take office

Jeanette Adams, James Parr, Kevin Kirk and Neil Barnhart participated in the first meeting of their newly won terms of office Monday evening, following their election to the St. Johns Board of Education June 9.

The four were elected to fill vacancies created by the recall election earlier this year.

The board, as of July 1, will consist of Adams, Barnhart, Parr, Kirk, Robert Craig, Thomas Irrer and Gary Whitford. Whitford was the only member of the previous board who was not recalled by voters.

Thomas Irrer and Robert Craig, who were in the June 9 election returned by voters to the board after having earlier been recalled, will begin their new terms July 1.

Two 21-day terms — from June 10 to July 1 — will be served by Ron Huard and Charles Wadell, who garnered ten write-in votes and five write-in votes, respectively, in the June 9 election.

The 21-day vacancies were created by the recall of Irrer and former board president Peter Apostol. Their terms would have expired June 30 without the recall.

Since no candidates for those two vacancies filed nominating petitions for inclusion on the June 9 ballot, the vacancies were open to anyone for whom the greatest number of write-in votes were cast.

Both Huard, who ran unsuccessfully for a one-year term on the board, and Wadell indicated they would serve the 21-day terms, said Superintendent Earl Gabriel.

Six write-in votes were cast for Thomas Irrer for the 21-day term. However, Irrer could not be declared elected because he had been recalled from that position. He was, in any case, elected to a different term of office.

Major items to be taken up by the board this month include approval of a preliminary budget at a special meeting June 23. State law requires public school districts to have such a budget in place by July 1.

An organizational meeting is scheduled for July 7, at which officers for the new board will be elected.

Recall group's slate of candidates wins rural areas but loses the city

The Concerned Citizens for Education, despite a strong showing in the rural areas of the school district, saw only one of seven candidates endorsed by the organization elected to the St. Johns Board of Education in the June 9 election.

Neil Barnhart garnered 1,662 votes to win a four-year seat on the board. Also elected to a four year seat, with 1,477 votes, was Thomas Irrer, who was recalled from the board earlier this year.

Richard Lehnert, who was also endorsed by the Concerned Citizens and who was a leader in the recall campaign, came in third, with 1,396 votes, in the race for two four-year seats. He won more votes than Irrer in every area of the school district except absentee ballots and the city of St. Johns.

Barnhart also took more votes than Irrer in all but those two areas.

That pattern remained nearly intact in each of six races. Candidates endorsed by Concerned Citizens won in the rural areas but lost in the city and among absentee voters.

"In a sense, it does look like more of a split than I originally thought," said Lehnert, referring to a split some perceive between rural and town residents of the school district.

Lehnert said he was highly disappointed by the election results.

"I felt we came very close to making some very big changes and missed it," he said. "...By not very many votes we utterly failed."

Lehnert said the future role of the Concerned Taxpayers of St. Johns — the original recall group from which Concerned Citizens was a spin-off — might be to communicate to the new board the concerns of rural residents.

For instance, he said, "You ask me if a millage will pass or not and I think I could pretty much tell you."

"There's got to be a way of talking these things out so that what happened last fall doesn't happen again," he added.

Barnhart said he believed more of the candidates endorsed by Concerned Citizens would have won if they had campaigned more. However, he said, he does not believe the election was a failure.

"I think the outcome was good in that the voters had a chance to vote on six new board members and they elected six new board members," he said.

He also said he believes the new board will be more alert than he believes was the case with the previous board.

"I think the board will be more wide awake now," he said.

CCSO report: Central School requires further study

A subcommittee of the Citizens Committee on School Organization (CCSO) should be appointed to make a recommendation on the final disposition of Central School and to choose between two alternatives for replacing it, according to a report adopted by the CCSO last Thursday.

The first alternative would be to build additional classrooms at each of the two city elementary schools. The second alternative would be to find a site for building a new elementary school.

Either alternative should include improvements to Rodney B. Middle School estimated to cost about $500,000, the report said. It also said improvements to Swegles and Perrin-Palmer schools should be made even if new classrooms are not built there.

Both alternatives would cost about the same to implement — approximately $2 million to $2.5 million, including the improvements to the three schools, the report said. That translates into tax rates of 1.2 to 1.5 mills for 15 years or one to 1.2 mills for 20 years, the report said.

The report was to be presented to the St. Johns Board of Education last night (June 16). No action was to be taken until a later board meeting.

The report, adopted unanimously by about 20 members of the CCSO present at the Thursday meeting, was drafted by a CCSO subcommittee. The school board is not obligated to implement the CCSO recommendations.

The key points of the report are:

• Recommendation: a facilities subcommittee of the CCSO no larger than seven members should be selected to achieve certain tasks if the school board re-appoints the CCSO.

• The first task would be to make a recommendation on the final disposition of Central School to the school board by Dec. 1, 1986. This would allow the school board to make a decision by Jan. 1, 1987.

• The second task would be to recommend a method for replacing the lost Central School classrooms, considering each of the two alternatives.

Before adopting the report, the CCSO struck out a sentence that said rebuilding on the Central site was not recommended. The subcommittee's draft said the Central School property is too small to make it suitable as the site for a new building. The CCSO as a whole, however, did not wish to rule out the possibility of rebuilding on the site.

• The report called for an analysis by the facilities subcommittee, in conjunction with the CCSO, of possible sites for a new building and said a recommendation should be made to the board by February, 1987.

• The facilities committee should also by that February make a recommendation regarding the number of classrooms needed.

• By the following March, the school board should initiate a community survey to determine which of the two alternatives has the support of the community.

• The school board should decide between the two alternatives by April 1, 1987.

The report also said planning for the new classrooms should involve parents, other residents, teachers, architects, administrators and board members.

"The voters of the district need to see the final architectural plans and be assured that only truly needed classrooms are being proposed," the report said.

Library project faces 'crucial moment' at public meeting on June 24

A key meeting of the project to build a new library for the St. Johns area will be held Tuesday, June 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Commissioners Room at the Clinton County Courthouse.

"That's going to be the night we put the library together," said Joe Latoff, chairman of St. Johns Area-New Library, Inc. "We going to have information for the community — and we're going to need information from the community. This is a crucial moment."

St. Johns Area-New Library, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization that has been working for several months toward building a new library for the St. Johns area. The existing library is vastly overcrowded, library supporters have said.

At the June 24 meeting, the results of an opinion survey conducted by project supporters will be reported. The survey was conducted to find out what residents of the library service area want in a new library.

"What we're trying to do is deliver the library the community wants, not the library a select-group wants," said Latoff.

Project supporters request interested groups and individuals to attend the meeting to voice their ideas about what should be offered by the new library.

Latoff said project supporters, partly through listening to other community groups, are beginning to envision building not just a library, but a kind of cultural center which could include physical space for art activities, conferences or other community activities.

"Business people, senior citizens, artists — there are a lot of groups out there who might have ideas for the library and we hope they'll tell us about them," said Latoff. "From that information we'll form a list of services and functions the community wants in a library. That list will directly affect decisions about the size, staffing and parking facilities of the library."

The use of volunteer organizations to provide some of the services offered by the facility has been raised as a possibility, he said.

Also at the June 24 meeting, the proposed bylaws of the organization will be discussed. Latoff said it is important to adopt bylaws for the organization as rapidly as possible.

"It's a major element in our effort to secure charitable contribution status with the IRS," he said.

That, in turn, is important because, supporters of the project believe, government funding will play a proportionally smaller role in the support of libraries in coming years, Latoff said.

"The time has come when we can no longer look to government as the sole supporter of libraries," he said. "We must look to other sources in addition to government backing."

St. Johns man directs birthday march world premiere

Retired St. Johns High School band director Walter P. Cole directed the Michigan Lions Club All-State High School Band on Saturday as the band performed the world premiere of the Michigan Sesquicentennial March.

Cole directed the band as it performed the march for Governor James Blanchard, assembled dignitaries from around the state, and thousands of Michigan residents who gathered in Lansing for the kickoff of the state's year-long 150th birthday party.

Cole, who still lives in St. Johns, has been the director of the elite world-traveling band since 1979. The band includes a number of students from St. Johns and Clinton County.

"Any time we can get recognition from the state of Michigan, it's good," said Cole of the band having been selected to execute the first public performance of the Ses-quicentennial March. "And it was good for us."

Clinton County was also a Sesquicentennial leader in that the Clinton County Historical Commission hosted the first Sesquicentennial farm recognition last fall. At the same family for 150 years are eligible Clark Farm celebration, a prototype of a Sesquicentennial marker now available from the Michigan Historical Commission was exhibited.

Clinton County farms owned by the for the marker even if they do not have a Centennial marker. For details, call the Clinton County Historical Commission at 371-1746.

Betty Moore, a volunteer for the county historical commission, said one of the biggest events in the county is likely to be a state-wide "family reunion," an event rife with possibilities for reunions of various sorts in Clinton County. A date has not yet been set.

The Clinton County Historical Commission publishes a quarterly newsletter called The Clintonian that provides information about Sesquicentennial celebrations in the county.

For inclusion on the mailing list, or to submit items of Sesquicentennial interest, write to Betty Moore, 105 S. Swegles, St. Johns, 48879. Or call 224-2025 after 6 p.m.

Recallers told to take cause to state polls

To the Editor:
I appreciate the unbiased and professional manner in which you covered the St. Johns school board recall and election.

In an adjoining district, I could objectively watch this valiant fight by citizens against a government which had suddenly become oppressive. Like the patriots of 1776, they objected to the injustice of being forced to vote for taxes higher than they believed to be necessary in order to obtain that which was already their right — the right to school busing for their children.

When the district was enlarged to form the consolidated schools, busing was part and parcel of the deal between the parents and the state. When both the state and the local schools supplied the money for busing, they set a precedent. Even the Supreme Court recognized busing as part of the deal when they used forced busing for desegregation purposes. The citizens would not have agreed to consolidation without the understanding about busing.

Knowing they represented a righteous cause, the group persevered to the end, only to be defeated in the final round. The question is, why the defeat?

The answer can be obtained from one source only. God is the author of circumstances. He gives victory and He gives defeat. I know this from experience. Against all odds, He decided that I would be the first woman to be elected to the Ovid-Elsie Board of Education. Against all odds, when the village of Ovid had twice reached the point of crisis, in 1980 and 1986, the Lord decided He would choose the President of the Village, and with His guidance, I obtained the right candidates and wrote the campaign literature for two victorious "write-in" campaigns.

The frustration of the defeated candidate for the Ovid presidency in 1986 spilled itself over into many columns of an advertising news sheet, attempting to blame her opponents. How foolish to scream when God had defeated her, not man.

So, the question remains, "Why did this noble group of patriots suffer defeat in the school Board election?" After much meditation, the understanding which God has given me is as follows.

If the candidates sponsored by the Concerned Citizens for Education had been elected to the Board, within two months they would have been worthless, for the superintendent would have sent them to group classes set up by the State of Michigan, in which classes they would have found themselves believing that they now represented the state instead of the citizens who elected them. Truthfully, the government does run the schools with the superintendent as the top member of its bureaucracy. The citizens have the honor of paying the bills, but have no voice in determining the courses of study, political and social ideology, etc.

Many a superintendent of schools has boasted that he is the head of a million dollar business (or many millions). In a democracy, should a government go into business or is this field reserved for private enterprise? Anyone who reads is aware of the graft which accompanies government control of schools, housing, etc. Some are also aware of the fact that in the better private schools, operating on a much smaller budget, the elementary pupils when tested in reading, score a grade or more higher than the public school pupils.

At least this is true of a certain private school in Illinois. They are also taught self-control instead of self-expression.

In conclusion, since the government cannot reform itself, I am suggesting that the time and energy of better than 3,000 Concerned Citizens might profitably be spent in a campaign to elect senators and representatives who will pass legislation to give tax credits to the parents of children, which credits can be spent in the school of their choice, either public or private. There could be 3,000 more citizens in each of the other school districts who are waiting for someone to start a movement they can join.

Porno related to sexual violence, not rare

To the Editor:
Picture this: a darling little boy, probably six or seven, with bright clear eyes, a winning smile, all dressed in a fine little outfit. That's snapshot number one.

Now for snapshot number two. The clothes are off this little guy. Yes, he's naked. His eyes are no longer bright and he can't smile anymore — or talk — or breathe. Through his chest is a knife that was plunged there by some adult who thinks he has a "right" to involuntarily himself with pornography. He is a child pornographer.

This story is true. We heard about it from Dr. James Dobson in his film series "Turn Your Heart Toward Home." He made it very clear what the porn industry is doing to our society.

This kind of sexual violence is not rare and is almost always related to pornographic stimulation. We know the majority of people in our community would be stirred up to action if this had happened to a child. But we ought to be so moved to action to prevent crime before we become victims of it.

We are justly concerned about the portrayal of sex in magazines, movies, videos, books, and now the telephone (of all things). We have heard it is only sold to adults. That is no comfort. Adults are the ones responsible for reducing our sexuality into something that robs us of personal worth. It is the adult's unleashed sexual perverseness that exchanges the goodness of love for bondage.

Pornography only starts with nudity and physical arousal. It gets deeper and darker into sex with animals, with children, to actual killing for the sake of making violent porn movies or pictures. The pictures of the little boy we described is just one example of this.

Hopefully, proprietors and citizens will take active roles in not investing their money for things that degrade and destroy human lives. Porn is a prospering business and it shouldn't be. We are contributing to our demise by purchasing it and keeping the pornographers busy finding new ways to stimulate corrupted minds.

We are also giving the "okay" to use women and children and to dispose of them in whatever way. Instead we should stand against it and put off the self righteous apathy that is becoming more characteristic of our society.

There are opportunities to find out more about this problem and as a group of citizens, do something. We only hope people get involved before personal experience forces them to.

Thanks to all who participated in election

To the Editor:
Please accept my sincere thanks for the opportunity you provided school board candidates to convey our plans and expectations for the St. Johns school district during the recent Candidates Forum.

A special thanks, also, for those individuals who supported my efforts during the campaign. Your contributions in time and effort were deeply appreciated by me and my family.

Finally, please extend my appreciation to all school district voters who exercised their right and responsibility to vote on June 9. Your continued involvement is vital to the future of our children, our schools, and our community.

'Ultimate failure' of recall disappointing

To the Editor:
Anyone who receives 1,396 votes in a school board election in the St. Johns School District is truly blessed with friends, and I want to thank all who voted for me.

Although I came about 80 votes from winning, I am not as disappointed in my own defeat as I am in the ultimate failure of the recall. Some 4,600 people turned out to vote out six school board members; but when the time came to build something worthwhile on that victory, 1,500 of them disappeared.

Bob Craig and Tom Irrer obviously have a more correct perception of reality than the one I saw. Who would have believed that a person recalled by nearly 600 votes, as Tom Irrer was, could be elected to the same post 48 days later? They apparently knew something about "us," something not pleasant to contemplate, and they were right.

No one can say the rural folks did not vote correctly. But not enough voted. Those who did went for the slate of candidates suggested by the recall leaders. All six of those candidates won the countryside — some,

4-H cloverbuds

Theresa Silm

Again this summer the Cooperative Extension Service 4-H Youth Program is sponsoring a special summer 4-H program. This program, known as Cloverbuds, lets 6-12 year olds choose one of six different project areas to study. This exciting six week program is designed to provide an opportunity for 6-12 year olds to make new friends, learn new things and have a good time doing it.

The six project areas included this year are: wood-working, cooking, arts and crafts for beginners; arts and crafts-advanced; sewing and gardening. Members will complete specific projects in the area they choose in addition to having the opportunity to try special activities each week.

Each day the participants will work in small groups on their project. In addition, there will be games and other activities planned for everyone.

The program runs from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and participants are to bring a sack lunch each day. The cost for the program is $6 per youth. There is a $1 registration fee, which includes insurance, and a $5 fee for all project materials.

The Cloverbuds work with teen counselors and an adult supervisor as well as with other youths in their group.

The Cloverbud Program will be held in St. Johns on Mondays, in Westphalia on Tuesdays, in DeWitt on Wednesdays, and in Ovid on Thursdays. Program ap-

Long range plans should also include consideration of the improvements to Rodney B. Wilson Middle School and new roofing for the high school, Eureka, East Essex and Riley schools, the report said.

The new roofing could be delayed until the present bond issue is retired in 1992 but the district would be at risk of the present roofs not lasting that long, the report said.

Also adopted by the CCSO on Thursday was a recommendation that the district temporarily replace Central School classrooms with portable classrooms. That was essentially a formality in that the CCSO had already recommended that the portables be purchased and school district has placed them on order.

"It's in the Bag" by Bob Beck

On June 15th we will observe Father's Day. It is always held on the 3rd Sunday in June. This holiday was started in 1910 by Sonora Dodd of Spokane, Washington. She wanted to honor her father as well as all American fathers.

Her father, William Smart, was a Civil War veteran, who for many years raised his children alone. Two other great war veterans ... Douglas MacArthur and Harry Truman did have one thing in common. They were both named (at different times) Father of the Year.

Father's Day had been celebrated by most people for about 40 years before it became a national holiday. It was as recent as 1972, when President Nixon issued the first presidential Father's Day proclamation.

Fathers are not only important in your home, they are also important in our store. According to a recent study reported in the Grocery Marketing publication, men are responsible for about 42% of the dollars spent in the supermarket today.

Of the men surveyed ... 77% do major shopping - 83% pick up items needed for the next few days. Men spend about $72.00 per shopping trip and 67% of the men use a shopping list. Both men and woman plan 70% of their purchases.

So, "HATS OFF" to all Dads and Granddads.

There's only three days left... Area women between the ages of 17 and 24 hoping to become the 1986 St. Johns Mint Festival Queen have until June 20 at 4 p.m. to submit their application. "Any girl interested should know this is their last chance for this year," said Diana Parker, chairman of the queen's contest. Applications may be obtained from Virginia Shawnee at Clinton Bank and Trust; Parker at First American Title; and Lori Vasquez, at Dancer's Fashions in the Southpoint Mall. Submitted applications must be accompanied with a $20 non-refundable entry fee and a recent picture. "Last year we had 18 candidates, which was great," said Parker.

"We're hoping for at least that many this year." The 1986 Queen Contest has been set for Saturday, July 26 at the St. Johns High School Auditorium from 8 to 10 p.m. The public is invited and encouraged to attend. A $2 donation is being asked for at the door the night of the event. Children under 12-years-old will be admitted free. Mrs. Elouise Harris, the 1936 Mint Queen, will be on hand once again this year. And the 1985 St. Johns Mint Queen Becky Irrer will be taking her final walk as queen. Eric Hufnagel has been selected as this year's master of ceremonies. Judging the event will be five business people from out-of-town locations, who will arrive in St. Johns the day of the event. First American Title will award a cash prize of $50 to the winner of the queen's contest and will also give $25 each to the first and second runners-up. Tabulating the results will be the accounting firm of Nihart and Nihart. A highlight of the evening will be a dance routine choreographed by Melanie Humphrey of Melanie's Dance-E-xercise. Members of this year's Mint Queen Committee in addition to Parker are: Annette White, Bonnie Gregory, Mary Meyers, Jean Mary Bartholomew, Sue White, Barb Markman, Sharon Maybick, Shawnee and Lori Vasquez.

Food safety

Dawn Harris

With all of the open houses, receptions and family get-togethers this time of year, there is a lot of food sitting out without adequate refrigeration. Food spoilage is always a concern when this happens. In the past, food mixtures containing mayonnaise were thought to spoil more readily than others. Researchers have recently found, however, that commercial mayonnaise inactivates some bacteria present when the mayonnaise is applied and slows the growth of remaining bacteria. In a study at the Food Research Institute of the University of Wisconsin, researchers found that when mayonnaise was added to meat salads (chicken and ham), some bacteria were inactivated and growth of the others was slowed down. The greatest increase in micro-organisms in salads stored at room temperature for five hours occurred in the salads containing no mayonnaise. The greater the concentration of mayonnaise in the salads, the slower the growth of the organisms. Commercially prepared mayonnaise in the United States has a pH range of 3.6 to 4.0. Lemon juice and vinegar are mainly responsible for this low pH (high acidity). When commercial mayonnaise is added to a food mixture, it decreases the pH of the mixture. Since acidic conditions are unfavorable for the survival and growth of bacteria such as Salmonella and Staphylococcus, the mayonnaise actually inhibits the growth of these bacteria. It should be pointed out that many homemade mayonnaise mixtures and commercial salad dressings do not have such a low pH. Thus they would not have the same effect on the bacteria. The addition of mayonnaise should not be considered a substitute for refrigeration. The mayonnaise slows the growth of the bacteria, but refrigeration is still necessary to keep the food safe. Foods stored in the refrigerator, with or without mayonnaise, have lower numbers of bacteria than those held at room temperature. Dawn Harris is the Home Economist for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

ALL-AMERICAN GYMNAST — St. Johns High School gymnast, Christine Ebert, her parents Nicki and Jack, and Coach Sue Cerny look over the two All-American High School Gymnast certificates which the state champion recently received in vaulting and floor exercise.

First gymnast ever at St. Johns

Ebert named All-American

By RHONDA GAFFNEY
Sports Editor

A hard-working and dedicated athlete, caring coaches, and supportive parents — those are the key elements needed to make an All American High School Gymnast.

And that's what Christine Ebert of St. Johns High School has.

Christine was the recipient of two All American Gymnast Certificates, presented to her last week by SJHS Student Services Director Rich Vitek.

"This is a very great honor for Chris to have achieved," Vitek said. "We are all extremely proud of her."

St. Johns Gymnastic Coach Sue Cerny and Christine's parents, Jack and Nicky Ebert of St. Johns, were equally proud of their gymnast's accomplishment.

"The standards for becoming an All American are high," Coach Cerny said. "Christine is the first All American that St. Johns High School has ever had."

Qualifying scores are set by a national committee for each gymnastic event for both men and women. Ebert's recognition came in vaulting, where she averaged a score of 9.37. The national average established was 8.80. Her second All American award was in floor exercise. The national average set was 8.60; Ebert had 8.77.

CHRISTINE'S INTEREST in gymnastics began at an early age, although in somewhat of an unconventional manner.

"When she was two years old, we bought a swingset," Mrs. Ebert said. "Christine would spend hours hanging upside down on that — she had great balance and coordination."

While living in Texas, Christine worked out with a gymnastics club for three months, but that was the only formal training she had before her freshman year at St. Johns.

"She really started much later than is normal for most athletes at the competitive level," her father said. "Christine's intensity allowed her to advance as she has in such a short period of time."

Mr. and Mrs. Ebert also give much credit for their daughter's successes to the coaching style of both Sue and Jim Cerny and to the high school program.

"We have been especially pleased with the team sport aspect at St. Johns, and pleased to see so many students participating in gymnastics," Christine's father said. "It has been evident to us that both the Cernys love coaching and genuinely care about their students."

THREE HOURS OF PRACTICE everyday during the season and three days a week in the off-season leaves the soon-to-be eighteen year old little time for anything else. However, Christine does make time for her other main interest — showing her horse, Fancy, on the Paint Circuit each weekend.

"My only real goal is to break the records at St. Johns," the petite, dark-eyed, junior said. "I do plan on going on to college, and hope to compete on a college team."

Being a junior in the 1985-86 school year, Ebert has not been heavily scouted by college coaches yet. Although Central Michigan University has expressed interest and watched her perform at the State Meet where she took first place in the vault.

"Christine is fortunate to be on the team at the time that she is," Coach Cerny said. "She is a hard worker and sets realistic goals, although they may be high. The real key to Christine's success is the support she receives from her parents. In this sport, you need to have parents who are behind you all the way, willing to make sacrifices, and the Eberts are."

As for the All American, she is looking toward her senior year of gymnastic competition.

"There's something special about competing on a high school team — something more exciting than belonging to a club," she said. "Next year, I'm going to have four All American certificates!"

Redwings finish with win in baseball and honor players

A 5-4 win in the completion of a suspended, April game with Ionia gave the St. Johns Redwings baseball team a final 3-6 record in the Mid-Michigan B League and put them at 9-11 overall.

Dan Dorn started the winning rally for the Redwings when he singled and stole second in the bottom of the seventh inning. He advanced to third on a throwing error, Scott Heibeck walked and stole second, and they both came home for the tying and winning runs on a hit by Tim Cleaver.

Dorn was named to the First Team in the MMB as an infielder, and was selected as the Most Valuable Player and Best Offensive player by his Redwing teammates. He ended the year batting 352, with 12 RBIs, 20 runs scored, and 15 stolen bases in 17 attempts.

Named to the Second Team in the MMB was senior pitcher Scot Jones. He was chosen as Best Pitcher for the year at St. Johns, seeing action in 13 games. He struck out 68 batters, walked 27, allowed 62 hits and 46 runs (18 earned) for an ERA of 2.24. Jones led the Redwings in all pitching categories.

Also receiving awards were: Most Improved — Randy Ammons; 101 Percent Award and 1987 Captain — Steve Dunkel; Best Defensive Players — Tim Cleaver and Scott Heibeck; Coaches Award — Alex Parker.

Heibeck was first in RBIs with 13, second for the Redwings in hits (21), batting average (.309), runs scored (12), and stolen bases (8). Jerry Duwell was second in RBIs and third in hits, and Cleaver ended the year with the third highest batting average at .283 and was fourth in RBIs.

The Redwings lose just six seniors for next season, with nine players returning, eight of whom saw a lot of playing time.

"We should have a lot of experienced ballplayers coming back, plus a good crop of underclassmen," said Coach Doug Parker. "The junior varsity finished with a 16-1 record, and that's a good sign for next year."

Records fall in O-E baseball

Members of the Ovid-Elsie baseball team ended their 1986 season, receiving honors from both Mid-Michigan B conference coaches and from team voting in various categories.

Jeff Davis, infielder; Bob Foreback, outfielder; and Joel Bohil, designated hitter were all selected for the First Team by MMB coaches. Chosen to the Second Team as an infielder was Jeff Conklin, and Nick Hurst received Honorable Mention as a pitcher.

Davis was chosen as the Most Valuable Player by his Marauder teammates, while Hurst was named Most Improved and Bohil received the Most Inspirational Player award.

Davis led the Marauders with a .354 batting average. He was second in RBIs with 27, in hits with 34, and set a new school record for sacrifices with six.

Junior Bob Foreback set new school records for hits (35), runs scored (30), and stolen bases (21). His 320 batting average was second best on the team.

Richie Stutzman's 33 RBIs set a new school record, as he led the Marauders in that category, while Conklin also set a new school record for times at bat — 108. He and Hurst shared pitching honors, each with a 4-4 record, while Hurst had the best ERA at 2.20.

The Marauders ended the season in third place in the MMB with a 4-5 league record. Coach Jack Nutter's team was 15-15 overall.

Busch Clash set at Crystal

Crystal Raceway will host their Busch Series race, the Busch Clash, tomorrow (June 18) where top Late Model drivers from across the state will earn points toward a season championship.

The Busch Racing Series is an outgrowth of cooperation from members of the Michigan Speedway Promoters Association (MSPA). Races are held each Wednesday at various tracks around Michigan. The season championship is worth $2000 to the top point man, and $10,000 to the top 15 drivers.

As well as earning points, drivers at Crystal will be vying for $1000 first place money put up by Crystal Raceway owners, the Frickses. The top 20 Pro Stocks from Crystal will be part of racing action for the special night of racing.

Time trials for Late Models begin at 6 p.m., races at 8 p.m., with a raindate of June 19.

The first Enduro ever was held at Crystal Raceway last week, with John Hoard of Crystal taking first place and the $1000 that went with it.

Sixth-three cars started the 250 lap event which is strictly a race of endurance rather than speed. There are no caution flags, with the race being stopped temporarily only if conditions become so unsafe as to put drivers in danger.

Just 12 cars finished the Enduro which saw many lost tires, scrunched front ends, and over-heated cars. The next Enduro is scheduled for August 3 with registration being taken at the track through the month of July.

Olympians enjoy meet

Clinton County Special Olympics ended another successful year, with 21 athletes representing Clinton County taking part in the State Summer Games held June 5-7 on the campus of Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

"This was fun — awesome!" was the most frequently heard comment by the group of students with many looking forward to a return trip next year.

The athletes were coached and chaperoned throughout the weekend by Martha Salisbury, Karen Kirby, Pat Kinne, Jim Cowdrey, John Hallead, Rick Wing and Don Peterson. Coordinating the entire group was Darlene Jekel who gave special thanks to Lori Mellentine and Sue Hambleton from Goffs in St. Johns, and Ann Vleck from Clinton Bank and Trust who helped get athletes to their events on schedule.

"Everyone had a great time, the weather cooperated, and the Rose Pond activities were fun," Jekel said. "We would like to thank everyone for their support this year. The athletes appreciated the parents and friends who came up to watch and cheer them on."

The Olympians returned with a total of 33 medals and 19 ribbons for fourth through eighth place finishes, and numerous first through third place medal winners. Winners included:

REDWING NETTER — Kerry Humphrey, member of the girls tennis team at St. Johns High School, will be swinging for Northwood Institute this fall, courtesy of a tennis scholarship from the college.

Humphrey earns tennis scholarship at Northwood

Kerry Humphrey, three time Most Valuable Player and MMB conference champion for the St. Johns girls tennis team, became the first woman tennis player to receive a tennis scholarship at SJHS.

A 1986 Redwing graduate, Humphrey recently accepted an athletic scholarship to play tennis at Northwood Institute in Midland for Coach Zane Colestock. The four-year Varsity tennis player received letters of interest from Alma College and Saginaw Valley State College as well as Northwood.

"The facilities are beautiful at Northwood," Humphrey said of the indoor and outdoor courts, "and I was really impressed by the attitude of Coach Colestock."

The Redwing standout will be one of just six women singles players at Northwood, a member school of the Great Lakes Colleges Conference. She will also play doubles.

Humphrey, the daughter of Randy and Melanie Humphrey of St. Johns, will be working toward her degree in business administration.

The world in Bement Library Joyous June

By Jean Bartholomew

June is a joyous month with many beginnings and endings...

Congratulations to all graduates, young and old, nursery school through college. I know each of you have striven in your own way to attain these goals. Good for you! Now that the hard stuff is out of the way, you deserve recognition and relaxation.

Much happiness and success to those of you entering into marriage. This too, is a big step. Not all skittles and brew, much give and take, but a rewarding experience.

The library is gearing up for Summer Reading Club. We hope many of you going into third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will sign up, read the required books, write the book report and be with us at the Punch and Cookie Party in October. Remember, this is the only time you can eat and drink in the library.

As many of you are aware, the St. Johns Area/Library Project committee has been doing a survey of the area. At first glance, without complete tabulation, there have been some very interesting comments. Many felt the library was cramped and too small.

However, the ones that really warmed the cockles of the staff's hearts were the flattering remarks about service, cheery smiles, pleasant atmosphere, and helpful manners. You'll never know how much we appreciate your comments. It's nice to hear good things and makes the whole operation worthwhile.

With foreign travel scares, many people are staying home or traveling our United States. We just received the 1986 Mobil Travel Guides. These are separate volumes for various parts of the country. They have all sorts of interesting facts, places to visit, cost of lodging, where cribs and babysitters are available as well as points of interest. If you prefer to be close to home, look over our Michigan collection for holiday ideas.

If you don't want to travel at all, how about building a children's play area? Landscaping your yard, planting a garden, flower or vegetable, building a patio or having a neighborhood cookout? We have books to cover all of the above projects.

If none of the above whets your interest and you don't want to do anything, check out a good novel and leave this world of reality. A chaise or hammock under a tree, something cool to drink and a good book can recharge your batteries and renew faith in your fellow man. All of us need a flight of soul to maintain our sanity once in awhile. Try it, you might like it.
Jean Bartholomew is the head librarian for the Bement Public Library.

Director's News Name needed

Giles Roehl

What's in a name? For the past three months I've been writing a weekly column that addresses economic and crop related topics. For unknown reasons several individuals have asked me, "What's the column's name?" Since I don't have a column name perhaps you can suggest one. I'll appreciate your suggestions.

A handicappers fishing site: Because of the game, fishing, trap, sportsman, and other clubs or individuals interested in preserving and using our natural resources the following are all occurring in Clinton County: a fishing site for those who have difficulty reaching an ordinary site is being built on the Maple River; raising of wild turkeys, pheasants and other up-land game; youth shooting sports and gun training; soil and water conservation education; a walleye rearing pond; a horseback riding trail; maintaining a hard-wood forest and family recreation facilities.

These activities were identified as on-going or necessary by the Natural Resources Public Policy (NRPP) Advisory Committee. The committee — consisting of representatives, farmers, various hunting, fishing, Ducks Unlimited, shooting clubs, other professionals, retired individuals, elementary schools, biology and vocational agriculture instructors, DNR and the Cooperative Extension Director and 4-H Agent — met to discuss opportunities for developing and identifying needed on-going natural resource activities for people, youth through retirement.

Individuals with ideas they feel could be developed into programs or activities are encouraged to contact one of the groups involved in the NRPP Advisory Committee. The organization will either take your idea and develop it or bring it to the committee for possible adoption and refining.

Are your trees healthy? Many of the homeowner phone calls coming into the office are questions about the home fruit or shade tree that doesn't look right.

There is reason for this concern as many trees are under some very heavy stress. Just as we need to be healthy they need periodic feeding of the necessary nutrients for strong cells. The basic nutrients are Nitrogen (N), Phosphorus (P) and Potassium (K).

One method of getting these to a tree would be the use of the fertilizer "spikes" available at most garden or hardware stores.

Another less expensive method would be to use any good fertilizer of equal analysis such as 10-10-10 or 12-12-12. Apply one pound of fertilizer per foot of tree height. To apply this fertilizer, draw imaginary circles every two feet out from the trunk of tree, make a 3/4 to 1 inch hole — eight to twelve inches every two feet on these imaginary circles. Place the fertilizer in these holes (the use of a small funnel will avoid burning the lawn). A ten foot tree would require ten pounds of fertilizer if you have 25 holes that would be approximately 4 (4/10) of a pound per hole.

Water the tree thoroughly, a minimum of two hours after fertilizer application. Keep the tree watered throughout the summer for a healthy friend that will stay around for many years.

Cleaning spray tanks: It is very important that sprayers used for postemergence herbicides be cleaned before use on any other crop. Herbicides used on corn such as 2-4-D or Banvel can persist in the spray tank and injure sensitive crops such as soybeans. In addition, solvents in other herbicides or crop oil concentrates often can effectively remove herbicide residues from the lining of spray tanks, hoses, etc. Therefore, it is important that sprayers be thoroughly cleaned. Details on sprayer clean-up are in Extension Bulletin E-434. Briefly, the first step is to rinse the sprayer inside and out. Spray the rinse out through the nozzles. Then wash the spray system with a cleaning agent. With 2-4-D and Banvel, the most common cleaning agent is household ammonia. Add 1.0 quart of ammonia for every 25 gallons of fresh water. Run the pump to circulate the solution through the entire system and spray a small amount through the nozzles. Leave the cleaning solution in the sprayer for at least two hours but not overnight. Then pump the solution out through the nozzles. Special cleaning procedures must also be followed for some of the new soybean herbicides. In particular, Classic, Canopy, Gemini, and Command are all highly active herbicides which can persist in the spray systems following a normal rinsing. The labels for these herbicides contain detailed instructions on cleaning the sprayers.

With Classic, Canopy, and Gemini, there is some confusion about the bleach to ammonia. Any literature from DuPont which describes the use of chlorine bleach to clean sprayers following Classic, Canopy, or Gemini application is outdated. In addition, the directions call for a more intensive cleaning operation when the sprayer will be used on crops other than drybeans, corn, peanuts, or cereals. The command label calls for the use of heavy-duty detergent two times followed by several rinses with water. Be sure to do a good job cleaning the tank. There have been reports of Command contaminated sprayers being used on crops other than soybeans (i.e. corn, alfalfa, small grains) and causing injury.

The Corner Garden: "How much water does my garden need?" A rule of thumb — generally, mature plants need approximately one to two inches of rainfall per week. If this much rain does not fall, the difference should be supplied by irrigation. (Note: one inch of rain is equal to about 65 gallons per 100 square feet, or 975 gallons for an average 30 x 50 feet. When you irrigate, you can check the amount being applied by checking your water meter, which may be nothing more than a coffee can sitting in the area being watered).

Water before cultivating, tilling, planting or transplanting, as a dry soil is not easily worked, especially if it is a heavy soil.

A soil is considered dry when you dig a sample five to 12 inches deep and clench it in your hand and release it, if it breaks apart easily it is too dry. Sprinkling in the heat of the day should not burn plant leaves. In fact, if the air is relatively dry the evaporation that occurs during watering will cool the plant and may even increase its rate of growth.

Water vegetables and flowers to a depth of five to 12 inches. Deeper rooted trees and shrubs require wetting to a depth of one to two feet or more.

Agricultural news Foot rot

Marilyn Loudenslager

The conditions are just right for a good outbreak of foot rot. According to the results of a recent study on foot rot in sheep conducted by the Veterinary Science Department, Ohio Agricultural Research Development Center, the three essential conditions necessary for the transmission of sheep foot rot are warmth, moisture and foot injury.

Recently the warmth and moisture have been abundant, leaving only the "foot injury factor" to complete the set. According to this study, an injury as small as a pin prick can allow transmission of the foot rot organism into the lamb's hoof.

Elimination of foot rot requires a strict dedication to a systematic treatment plan, which involves:

- Separation of the infected animals from the non-infected animals.

- Trimming the feet of the infected animals and treating the feet with an application of 3-4 cc of 10 percent chloramphenicol in 70 percent ethanol. This can be applied with a hand sprayer.

- The treated animals should be moved directly to a dry area for at least two days. This area should not have had sheep in it for 14 days. A dry environment is very important and increases the efficiency of topical treatments 60 to 80 percent.

- Pre-check treated animals in 3-5 days. Re-treat animals still infected with foot rot and move animals whose feet have healed to a pen which has not had sheep in it for 14 days. Run these sheep through a formalin foot bath before moving them to the new lot.

- Continue re-checking and treating infected animals as described above.

If foot rot is a problem in your flock a good treatment and preventative program is necessary. For a

Certificate change announced

Producers earning commodity certificates under the 1986 farm programs will no longer be required to redeem their outstanding loan collateral but will be able to receive commodity certificates in the same manner as producers who do not have CCC loans according to Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng.

The added option will increase producer flexibility in using certificates by allowing them to make marketing decisions at any time during the transfer period which ends Sept. 30.

Financial focus Objectives

By Chuck Dicken

Before we invest, we should determine what we want our investments to do for us. When we invest, we're using money in the hope of making more money. I seldom receive any argument over this. However, the money we use for investing should be extra money — money that represents surplus savings or income not needed for essentials. We might choose to invest these funds in mortgages, real estate, life insurance or securities (stocks and bonds). They're all basically different, and no one fits the needs of every person.

Slagell honored for 15 years with GT Co.

Russell Slagell of St. Johns was honored recently by General Telephone Company for completion of 15 years of service with the utility. Slagell started his career as a lineperson in 1971 and is presently employed as a facility technician in the St. Johns area. He and his wife, Priscilla, reside on Taft Road in St. Johns.

Since we're discussing mainly securities, let's focus on some of the reasons why we might want to invest in stocks or bonds. Many people prefer them because they can readily be bought and sold. They represent variety and flexibility of interests, as well as absentee ownership or creditorship. Securities are obtainable at varying prices, from very low to very high, and small sums of money can be invested at convenient intervals.

With the help of a good broker, securities can be selected, sometimes with excellent results, by persons having limited investment backgrounds.

When investing in a security, you can profit from it in two major ways. First, you may receive dividends or interests payments which, in theory, are paid to compensate you for the use of your money and any risk you assume. Since the market value of securities fluctuates, you also may profit by buying or selling them.

Investment term of the week — Investment: The use of money for the purpose of making more money to gain income, increase capital or both. Safety of principal is an important consideration.

sale, if any there be, into this court without delay, to abide the further order of this court.

Kids on the block to raise teaching money for series about handicapper experience

Some kids on the block have some thoughts on dealing with life's problems and they're holding a garage and bake sale to raise money to spread the word.

Actually, the Kids on the Block are puppets. Under the auspices of the Clinton County Intermediate School District the puppets run a program designed to teach people about kids with handicaps.

"It really isn't just teaching people about handicaps," says Bill Phillips, CISD special education supervisor. "It's teaching people about situations that are even more difficult if you have a handicap."

At the Southpoint Mall today and tomorrow (June 17 and 18) there will be a garage and bake sale in support of the program.

Puppet shows will give people a chance to see the program in action and other activities — such as attempting to tie a shoe blindfolded or navigating in a wheelchair — will be designed to teach people about the handicapped. "They'll sort of go through what it's like," says Phillips.
