Notes Winners

ST. JOHNS The winners of the St. Johns Rotary Club raffle in support of the July 4 fireworks are as follows: Roger Sadler, $300; K. Rose Krans, $200; Don Joroe, $100; and Mrs. Linda Kurncz, $50.

Cancelled

ST. JOHNS The Clinton County Senior Citizens Center regrets to announce that the trip to Ontario, Canada, on September 16 and 17, has been cancelled due to too few participants.

Those who did sign up will have their money refunded.

Big boost

MAPLE RAPIDS The Maple Rapids Community Center got a big boost recently when the State Commission on Services to the Aging awarded it $11,367 to establish a senior citizen recreation site.

The community center was born last summer when the Fulton School District, to which the Maple Rapids School had been annexed for many years, sold the old building back to the village for one dollar.

Repairs were made to the building using private donations and it was established as a community center with an emphasis on providing a meeting services for senior citizens.

Volunteers

LANSING Interested in serving the elderly as a volunteer?

Twelve volunteers over the age of 55 are currently needed to serve as counselors for at least four hours a week in St. Johns and other Lansing area cities.

Counselors who are selected will assist at senior centers, individual home visits, nursing homes, prevention programs for the elderly, and at nutrition sites.

Applications for the fall training class for volunteer senior counselors should be made by September 10 for classes beginning on September 29. The retired senior volunteer program will assist in the selection and placement process and will offer volunteer insurance coverage and assistance with volunteer expenses including mileage and meals.

To apply, call Mary Partee at 371-5300, or George Long at 374-8000.

Concert

ELSIE Merrill Womach, vocalist, recording artist and inspirational communicator, will appear in concert on August 10 at Ovid-Elsie High School.

Womach has been acclaimed for his four-octave voice and his ability to inspire and uplift people with his singing. During the concert he will share some of his experiences relating to his recovery from a plane crash in which he was badly burned in 1961.

The founder and president of National Music Service Corporation, Womach's appearance in the area is made possible by Samuel and Carol Smith of Carter Funeral Home in Elsie. Net proceeds from the concert will go to buy food for the food pantries in the Ovid/Elsie area.

Tickets are $5 in advance or $7.50 at the door. Seating is limited. Tickets are available at: Carter Funeral Home; Country Cottage Florist, Elsie; Deisler's Flowers, Ovid; Village Market, Ashley; Perrinton Party Store, Perrinton.

Tickets may also be purchased by sending a check for the number of tickets to: Carter Funeral Home, 213 E. Main, Box 177, Elsie, 48831.

Obesity, stress are problems

Heart disease, cancer lead causes of death

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Heart disease and cancer are the two leading causes of death in Clinton County, a annual report presented to the Clinton County Board of Commissioners last week revealed.

The next three leading causes of death are injury, stroke and lung disease, according to the annual report of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department.

The report was presented to county commissioners by Health Officer Joseph Latoff.

Gratiot County and Montcalm County, also served by the Mid-

Michigan District Health Department, were identical to Clinton County in the order of the leading causes of death.

The local figures are in line with national figures, said Latoff.

However, he said, Clinton County does have one health risk more pronounced than in other areas.

"WE HAVE AN obesity problem in Clinton County that is significant," said Latoff.

Health professionals frequently hear from county residents that they feel they are under a great deal of stress, Latoff said, adding that stress compounds other health risks such as smoking or obesity.

"One of the focal points has got to be stress management," he said.

The Mid-Michigan Health Department provides preventive health services for individuals, families, the workplace and the community.

The "Health Style Program" offers county residents an evaluation of their health risks, as well as information about how those risks can be minimized. For information, call 224-8393.

"IN THE majority of cases it has a lot to do with lifestyle," said Health Style Coordinator Phyllis Walker. "A good majority of it can be reduced by changing their health style, by changing their lifestyle."

However, she noted, some health risks — such as genetic or congenital defects — can not be controlled by behavior changes.

Besides citing the leading causes of death, the Mid-Michigan District Health Department report revealed:

- The use of alcohol was the major cause of 10 premature deaths in 1984 in Clinton County. Those 10 deaths represented a total loss of 352 years of life before age 65.
- Premature deaths due to smoking and high blood pressure in Clinton County represented a total of over 180 years of life lost before age 65 (over 90 years for each).
- The trend toward fewer infant deaths continued in Clinton County. In 1984 the death rate of infants in the first 28 days of life was slightly over one death per 1,000 live births.

Montcalm County shows a similar trend.

However, in Gratiot County the trend is reversed. The 1984 death rate of Gratiot County infants in the first 28 days was slightly under 11 per 1,000 live births.

Latoff said Gratiot County deaths were being studied on a case to case basis to determine if there is a problem. However, he said, infant death statistics involve very small numbers and have to be interpreted with caution.

County hay heading for drought relief

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Clinton County hay is going south to help farmers there survive the drought.

"Farmers are an independent group but when things get tough they get together pretty good," said Clinton County farmer Lee Thelen.

Thelen was in the process of loading about 150 bales of hay ("A small load," he said.) onto a pick-up truck and trailer donated by Bee's Chevrolet-Olds-Dodge, of St. Johns.

That shipment was taken to Georgia by Art Wainwright, a reporter for Channel 10 News, who had mentioned to a farmer friend that he was going to Georgia to report on the drought in the southeastern states.

The farmer suggested Wainwright take along a load of hay. Bee's owner Bernard Feldpausch offered to donate a truck and trailer for the journey.

So Wainwright called Thelen, who said, "I'll fill you right up."

Wainwright, who does a little farming on his property north of St. Johns, added a few bales to Thelen's contribution.

"This is all short term right here," said Thelen, as his newly harvested hay was loaded.

BUT AT LEAST, he said, a few days worth of feed might give a drought-stricken farmer enough breathing room to evaluate the situation.

Late Tuesday evening Wainwright and cameraman Keith Bassar were on their way to the Georgia State Farm Market near Atlanta.

That donation was just the beginning.

"This is going to be an ongoing thing until the next crop comes in in the southeast," said Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service county director Pete LoDico.

Local ASCS offices around the state are helping to coordinate relief efforts for the drought-stricken southeast.

LoDico said Fowler area farmer Richard Walker donated about 300 bales and that Jim Squires and Neal Harte donated about 100 bales each.

Those donations represent only the first two days of the relief effort in Clinton County, he said.

Those who wish to donate hay, trucks, labor (for loading the hay) or money may call the county ASCS office for information, LoDico said.

He also said there has been some talk of using feed in government storage to help with the relief effort.

"The congressmen are going to get onto this," he said.

Thelen, asked by a reporter what message he would send along with his hay, said "Keep your chin up. The rain will come."

County farmers or others willing to help in the relief effort may call the Clinton County ASCS office at 224-3720 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

LOADING — From left, Art Wainwright, Ed Ballinger and Lee Thelen prepare a load of hay to send to drought stricken farmers in Georgia. Other county farmers are also sending hay to the southeastern states.

Should city close park to automobiles?

The St. Johns Parks and Recreation Board will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. on August 18 regarding traffic near the city park.

The hearing was scheduled after several Morton Street residents told city commissioners July 28 that they objected to traffic congestion near the park and the speed at which some park-goers drive their cars. Morton Street borders the east side of the park.

City commissioners referred the matter to the parks and recreation board.

City Administrator Diane Edwards said one suggestion that has been made would be to close the park to automobile traffic.

That suggestion and others will be discussed at the public hearing, she said.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

• City commissioners approved a resolution congratulating the Sealed Power Corporation for 40 years of business in St. Johns and 75 years of business internationally.

• Awarded a $7425 contract to the Rademacher Construction Co. for the construction of an addition to a water well house on Townsend Road.

Rademacher Construction submitted the lowest of two bids on the project.

Settlement near for county police

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

A tentative contract agreement has been reached between Clinton County and the Police Officers Association of Michigan, which represents approximately 25 Sheriff's Department police personnel.

By a six to one vote, county commissioners on July 29 approved the contract subject to the drafting of the final contract.

The two year contract, if ratified by both sides, will be retroactive to January 1, 1986, the expiration date of the last contract. It calls for a two percent wage increase for the police officers every six months of the contract.

Additionally, it includes improved insurance and pension benefits.

Commissioners Richard Hawks, Robert VanDriessen, Walter Nobis, Lois Bracey, Earl Lancaster and Glen Webster voted to tentatively approve the contract.

Commission Chairman Roger Overway, who said county property tax revenues are expected to drop in coming years, voted against approval.

"I think we're giving them a higher percentage than they're entitled to and I think we're opening the door on the pension plan," said Overway.

Bracey said she tended to agree but that she thought the contract could cost the county more if negotiations went to arbitration.

ALSO AT the July 29 commission meeting:

- Commissioners approved the hiring of William Dutton to serve as Economic Development Coordinator. Dutton will spearhead the Clinton Area New Development Organization (CAN-DO), an organization formed recently to attract to businesses to Clinton County.
- Dutton will be paid $28,000 plus the use of an auto.
- Dutton has worked in economic development in Ohio and New Mexico.
- Commissioners also authorized Richard Hawks, chairman of the finance committee, to spend up to $8,499 to purchase a car for Dutton's use.
- Commissioners voted five to two to allow the Sheriff's Department to transfer money from the line item for gasoline expenditures to line items for uniform and accessories and for printing and binding.
- The drop in gasoline prices since the budget was put together has created a $10,000 surplus in that line item.

A memo from Sheriff Terry Haneckow requested approval of the transfer of $2,800 so the department can purchase uniforms for two new employees and winter coats and leather accessories.

The memo also requested a $650 transfer to purchase 26 Michigan Law Enforcement Manuals.

Commissioners questioned the necessity of purchasing 26 manuals, suggesting a fewer number would be sufficient.

They also questioned the necessity and amount of the uniform and accessories transfer.

"We criticized the way the uniform money was spent six months ago and now we're going to authorize them to spend more," said Overway. "That doesn't make sense to me and this is one item I'm going to vote no on."

Voting against the approval of the transfers were Overway and Webster. Voting to approve were Nobis, Lancaster, Bracey, Hawks and VanDriessen.

• Commissioners agreed to back a $1,675,000 bond issue by the Cooper Drainage District to finance a project to relieve DeWitt area residents of flooding problems.

With county backing of the bonds, the district will pay less interest on the money.

• Commissioners approved spending up to $6,500 for computer software and equipment for the Drain Commissioner's office.

• Commissioners narrowly approved a resolution urging the Michigan Public Service Commission to allow the Consumers Power Company to convert the idle Midland nuclear power plant to a gas powered facility.

Conversion of the plant to a gas facility would allow the utility to pass on some of the costs of constructing the plant to its customers. Much of the debate in the case centers on whether it would be cheaper to build a new gas plant or to convert the nuclear plant to gas.

"I think this is going to be settled in court and I'm not sure the resolution is going to do any good," said Hawks. "I've attended several meetings and read articles in the newspaper and I'm still not sure if the consumer will benefit."

Commissioner Earl Lancaster said, "I'm sure it won't do any good and I am opposed to the resolution in the first place."

The final vote was four to three to approve, with Hawks, Lancaster, and Bracey voting no; and Webster, Nobis, Overway and VanDriessen voting yes.

Financial focus Time and Investing

By Chuck Dicken

Present investment decisions could be influenced by our future needs.

There is a direct relationship between the amount of money we wish to accumulate and the number of years we have to accumulate it.

To illustrate, let's assume you wish to accumulate a $12,000 college education fund for your newborn child. You believe the child will enter college in 20 years and you're expecting an annual rate of return of 12 percent. To reach this goal you'll have to invest $12.13 per month. If you wait five years — now you'll have only 15 years to meet your goal — you'll have to invest $24.02 per month. If you procrastinate another ten years, you'll have to invest $146.93 per month to achieve the same dollar goal.

So you see, time can be a real asset in planning for our children's education or our retirement — if we don't let it slip away! The more time we have, the fewer dollars we need.

Advice we receive on investments should be weighed in relation to the source. I'm reminded of the cartoon — two hobos sitting on a park bench discussing their investment strategy. I tend to discount advice from the never-do-wells or one who stands to benefit strongly on the advice he or she distributes.

Investing, as I've mentioned before, should not be based on hot tips or hunches. When you select a broker or adviser, ask for his or her philosophy on investing — get to know the broker or adviser you choose. Once you trust your broker, take him or her into your complete confidence and explain in detail your goals and resources. The more your advisor or broker knows you and what you want, the better he or she will be able to serve you. Remember what I've said before — it's your money, so ask questions and get answers. Don't be shy!

Investment term of the week: Broker — an agent who handles the public's orders to buy and sell securities, commodities, or other property. For this service, a commission is charged.

Editor's notes Hay spells relief

Rich Wertz

When we first began hearing news of the drought in the southeastern states and of efforts by farmers in other areas to provide some relief, I figured it was only a matter of time before Clinton County farmers got in the act.

"We'll show them some hospitality northern style," said Art Wainwright, television news reporter and part time farmer, as he and a group of friends loaded hay to take to Georgia.

Nobody expects contributions of this sort to make everything okay but surely it will help a little bit.

I nominate Round Lake Road as one of the prettiest drive-in-the-country roads in the county. Lots of trees, classically scenic farms, gently rolling meadows — the works. It also has a lot of curves in the road, always more interesting than straight lines. I like DeWitt Road for the same reason.

I can understand why some folks don't like the spraying that has been done to control vegetation along the roadway — but for the most part I didn't observe anyplace that the spraying had made that much of a dent in the beauty of the landscape.

Lots of folks getting hitched these days. Just check out the engagements and weddings on the Lifestyle page. After being behind for a week or two, we're caught up on getting the happy news notices in the paper, although it required nudging home economist columnist Dawn Harris off the page a couple of times. Hopefully, her regular readers found her without too much trouble.

Our sports editor is among those who tied the knot recently. Congratulations to Dan and Rhonda Westfall. One thing though — I'm glad the honeymoon vacation is only a week. Rhonda does one heck of a lot of work around here.

Boy, with all these weddings, the 4-H Fair, the Mint Festival, other festivals, harvesting, people taking vacations, sesquicentennial celebrations — this is not what you'd call a slow time of year, is it?

Lately, we've had a lot of recipes in the paper. I think that is good for the paper and we would welcome more from anyone willing to share.

St. Johns Hub Tire participates in AAA discount program

Hub Tire Center, St. Johns, will be among the Metro 25 Car Care Centers, that will offer AAA Michigan members special discounts on automotive services and tires.

The plan also includes special discounts to AAA Michigan fleet cars operation and on AAA Michigan member claims. The plan is one of the largest tire/automotive services programs offered to a single association, said the company.

Under the plan, AAA Michigan members will be able to buy Uniroyal brand tires at a discount. Additionally, Hub Tire Center and other company outlets will offer exclusive monthly specials ranging from oil changes to tune-ups.

Discounts extend to all tire brands and services under the claims and fleet car plans.

"Vanishing" life insurance premiums?

Just the thing for a growing family.

As your children grow, the demands on your paycheck grow, too. So Jackson National Life designed Ultimate II, a life insurance plan that may allow you to stop paying premiums in as little as five years (depending on your age and based on the policy's current assumptions). Even after you stop paying premiums, Ultimate II will continue in full force, building cash values and protecting your loved ones. This innovative plan features:

- Premiums that can "vanish" in 5-9 years
- High current cash accumulation rate guaranteed for one year
- An annual review of economic and risk factors to keep the plan constantly competitive
- Policy design that rewards the policyholders who keep their coverage in force
- The backing of an "A" rated life insurance company

Test drive a White. The right Tractor.

Don't buy too much tractor... or too little. Test drive all three White Tractors shown here to see which is best for your yard.

Only one company, White, can demonstrate these three major types of tractors at one place — your White servicing dealer. Compare them to determine which is best for your needs. Then compare them to the competition. We'll bet $100 you'll go with White.

That's right. Receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond when you buy one of the three models described on these pages. We're so sure they're superior, we'll even give you a bond if you buy a comparable competitive make.

Don't buy too much tractor... or too little. Whatever your yard requires, one of these White tractors is the right tractor for you. Test drive all three, and see for yourself.

TURF BOSS
Zero-turn capability cuts mowing time by up to one-third over standard tractors!

TURF BOSS

Turf Boss is the most efficient and easy-to-operate tractor when you have an acre or more to cover.

Particularly if it's covered with trees, shrubs or other obstacles. It mows up to 3 acres per hour, and many users report time savings of up to one-third. The extra wide, out-front mowing deck is free-floating to follow the contours of the ground for a perfect cut every time. And because the mower is out front, you can mow right up to the edge of your house, a pond or trees, and it flips up for easy cleaning and servicing. True zero-turn, individual-wheel power steering plus hydrostatic drive make the Turf Boss so easy to maneuver, you won't believe you're operating a tractor!

YARD BOSS
GT-1855
Nobody beats our performance... or our price!

$100 U.S. SAVINGS BOND

Visit your White dealer and test drive the Turf Boss, GT-1855 or LT-120. Then check out the competition. We're so sure our tractors are superior, we'll give you a $100 U.S. Savings Bond when you buy one of these three models... even if you buy a comparable tractor from one of our competitors! Ask for details.

GT-1855

You'll want to look at the GT-1855 for heavy-duty gardening jobs requiring ground implements. With a powerful Briggs & Stratton 18 H.P., twin-cylinder Industrial/Commercial engine, the GT-1855 beats many comparably priced, less powerful garden tractors. It's 150 to 200 lbs. heavier than most, with larger wheels for better traction, twin cylinders for a smoother ride, more horsepower for greater overall performance, and superb balance for all types of terrain. All these benefits plus in-line hydrostatic drive, hydraulic lift, and shaft-driven attachments mean greater capabilities for handling big chores with optional ground implements like tillers, plows or dozers.

LT-120

For mowing a typical lawn with traditional requirements, try out the all-new LT-120 with a 38-inch, side discharge mower. It's low in price, but high in features. The LT-120 is the only lawn tractor that combines a 12.5 H.P. twin-cylinder Briggs & Stratton engine with White's exclusive "Cruise-Matic" drive — the perfect combination of smooth performance and power. The LT-120 also features all-steel construction and oversize wheels to provide heavy-duty performance, year after year. It's your best value, dollar for dollar, in a long-lasting tractor backed by a two-year limited warranty.

WRAP-UP: Primary election polls are open until 8 p.m.

Polls opened at 7 a.m. and will remain open until 8 p.m. for today's primary election.

Here is a wrap-up of the county ballot:

- The only contest for county commission seats is in District 5, consisting of Bath and DeWitt townships. Cleo S. Friend is challenging incumbent Richard Hawks for that seat. They are Republicans.
- There are no other county commission contests. However, District 1 incumbent Glen Webster, having missed the filing deadline to be listed on the ballot as a Republican, is running as a write-in Democrat. If successful, he will run in the November election against Bertine A. Thelen, who filed as a Republican.
- Bengal Township voters are the only ones in the county to face a choice of candidates for Township office. On the primary ballot for township clerk are incumbent Arleta Schafer and challenger Alice Hicks. They are Republicans.
- Incumbent Kenneth Miller is challenged for the office of Bengal Township trustee by Gerald R. Rossow.
- Bengal Township voters will also decide whether to renew for two years a one-mill property tax levy for road maintenance and bridge construction.
- DeWitt Township voters will decide whether to renew two mills for four years, one for fire protection and one for police protection.

- Republican candidates for governor are Dick Chrysler, Colleen Engler, William Lucas, and Dan Murphy. Democrats are incumbent James Blanchard and Henry Wilson.
- Candidates for two seats on the Michigan Court of Appeals are Thomas Burns Jr., Alan Cropsey, Gary McDonald, Janet Neff, David Sawyer, Nathaniel Stroup, Randy Tahvonen, and Elizabeth Weaver.

Voters may vote for not more than two candidates in the non-partisan court of appeals contest.

Area 4-Hers visit Washington

Six Clinton County 4-Hers returned home last week following a week long stay in Washington D.C. at Citizenship Washington Focus, a citizenship and leadership training program held at the National 4-H Center.

Kris Barnhart, Anne Huhn, Tanya Andretz, Troy Warner, Paulie Blizard, and Angie LeVeck were among 41 4-H members from Michigan and seven other states who took part in the summer program. The program is designed to help young people understand their rights and responsibilities as citizens and increase appreciation of their American heritage.

Throughout the week the youth took field trips to historical sites, visited federal agencies and community organizations and learned about government procedures. They toured Capitol Hill, visited Kennedy Center, Mount Vernon, Arlington National Cemetery, and the Vietnam Memorial Wall. They met with Rep. Bill Schuette and Bob Traxler.

In workshop sessions at the National 4-H Center, the young people learned and practiced leadership skills, discussed and debated legislative issues and policies, proposed possible solutions to domestic and international concerns and held stimulated congressional hearings and county council meetings. They also developed a plan to incorporate what they learned into on-going 4-H programs in their home communities.

The youth said that one of the best parts of their experience was being able to share ideas with other 4-H members from across the country.

4-Hers interested in attending the Citizenship Washington Focus program next summer, or want additional information about 4-H, may call or write to Theresa Silm, 306 Elm Street, St. Johns; phone, 224-3288.

Girl, 4, hit by county police patrol vehicle

An accident which occurred late on the night of July 30 in which a 4-year-old child was struck by a Clinton County Sheriff's Department vehicle is under investigation by Trooper John Brower, according to the Michigan State Police.

The child was identified as being Amber Ross of 1043 Cedar St. in Lansing. She was taken to Sparrow and was listed in stable condition in the pediatric ward Friday morning.

According to Bath police, the sheriff's deputy, Mark Finnila, was apparently on his way to back up another call when the girl ran out in front of him on Park Lake Road at about 9:45 Wednesday evening.

According to police sources, the girl was visiting with her mother at her uncle's home and a party was going on at the time of the accident.

Police say a crowd collected and the deputy could not get out of his car to see if the child was OK or not. Back-ups were called from Meridian, DeWitt Township, and the Michigan State Police, in addition to Bath, as a precautionary measure.

Emergency medical technicians were fearful at first that the child was seriously injured, but she is apparently doing well.

The accident was still under investigation at press time.

Nancy and Jon George

Davis-George

Double Ring Ceremony

The Rev. Bruce Kintigh united Nancy Davis and Jon George in marriage July 12 at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church during a double ring ceremony, before an altar adorned with bouquets of gladioli, spider mums and white and lavender daisies.

Special music was provided by organist Gwen Denny. The bride is the daughter of Jerald and Joyce Davis of Elsie. The groom is the son of Mr. Donald George, Sr. and the late Edna George, of Owosso.

The bride selected a white organza over a taffeta wedding gown featuring a high neckline with a lace stand up collar and short flounced organza sleeves. Both the bodice and the sleeves featured chantilly lace ruffles and satin ribbons. The gathered skirts flowed to a chapel length train also adorned with lace ruffled inserts and a ruffled hemline.

Her hairpiece, featuring a crown of tiny white flowers and a fingertip veil, was fashioned for her by her mother.

She carried a cascading bouquet featuring white carnations, rosebuds and daisies, intermingled with daisies and rosebuds in shades of lavender and purple.

Donna Hodges was matron of honor for her sister, Debbie Aymor, sister of the groom, served as her bridesmaid. Their gowns were floor length, fashioned of lavender taffeta featuring lace bodice inserts and matching bouquets featuring shades of lavender and purple intermingled with white daisies and rosebuds.

The groom wore and his attendants chose silver-grey tuxedos for the occasion. The attendants accented their apparel with lavender cummerbunds and ties to match their counterparts.

Donald George Jr. was best man for his brother, and Jeff Davis, brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

Ushers were Bruce Davis, brother of the bride, and Don Cramer, cousin of the bride.

A reception for approximately 200 guests was held at the Elsie Legion Hall in Elsie, Michigan.

Angie Pruitt attended the guestbook for her cousin. The bridal table was served by Sandra Cramer, Christine Pruitt and Teresa Pruitt. Lynette Davis cut the wedding cake, which was created by a special cousin, Beverly Bolton.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis of New York state, grandparents of the bride.

David Rockey and Linda Platte

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Platte and Mrs. Harold Rockey announce the engagement of their children, Linda J. Platte and David T. Rockey.

The bride-elect is a 1982 graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School and is employed at the Maynard-Allen State Bank of Portland.

The prospective groom is a 1981 graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School. He is employed as a carpenter with the Leon Schneider Builders of Fowler.

A September, 13, 1986, wedding is planned.

Julie and Bradley Winsor

Winsor-Feeman

Reside in Perrinton

Julie Marie Feeman and Bradley I. Winsor were joined in marriage on July 26 in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. James Longhurst at the Congregational Christian Church in Maple Rapids.

The bride is the daughter of Roger and Peg Feeman, 706 W. Baldwin Street, St. Johns, and the groom is the son of Glen and Carolyn Winsor, Ely Highway, Perrinton.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar decorated with gladioli, fugi mums, carnations and daisies with a unity candle, and candleabra, decorated with flowers and accented with blue pew bows.

Special music for the wedding was performed by soloists Deb and Phil Winsor who sang "Time in a Bottle," "You're My Inspiration," "The Lord's Prayer," and "To Me."

For her wedding, the bride chose a organza over taffeta gown with sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice of silk menice lace and pearls. The gown featured full, shadow sleeves with wide cuffs, and the natural waistline with gathered skirt flowed into a chapel length train with satin ribbon and silk menice and lace.

Her matching hat with menice lace and pearls featured a waltz-length veil.

She carried a bouquet of cascading white orchids, yellow roses, carnations, for-get-me-nots, babies breath with ribbon streamers.

Serving as maid of honor was Cathy Feeman, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Kris Winsor of Iowa, Cherie Winsor and Michelle Fisk of Perrinton, Darla Bauer of Missouri, Kelly Williams of Maple Rapids, Dena Tarr of Grayling, and Judy Potts of Grand Rapids.

The attendants wore blue, satin, t-strap dresses with soft chiffon organza jackets. The bodice of the gowns featured high necklines and were peplum trimmed in chantilly lace. They carried colonial arrangements of light blue roses, yellow daisies, pink sweethearts, light blue forget-me-nots, babies breath, and ribbons matching the dresses.

Best man was Scott Winsor. Groomsmen were Mike Winsor of Iowa, Mark Winsor and Larry Fish of Perrinton, Don Bleamaster, Tim Williams, Jay Gerred, Karl Verwey, and Ben Winsor serving as ring bearer.

Ushers were Ron Winsor, Tim Winsor, Calvin Winsor, and Brian Winsor.

A reception was held in Alma with Dale and Pat Kuenzle, Jake and Bev McVannell serving as hosts and hostesses. Bob and Lynn Koger, friends of the bride, prepared and served at the reception. Also helping were Doug DeBord, Chris Woodruff, Jennifer Kuenzle, Colleen McCarthy, Derek Koger, Malia Koger, and Jill and John Malusek.

Special guests of the couple were Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Feeman, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stearns, grandparents of the bride; Marthann Riley, godmother of the bride; Mrs. Hazel Irwin and Mrs. Eulene Winsor, grandmothers of the groom.

Following a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the couple is at-home in Perrinton.

Throughout the centuries coffee has been praised by kings, banned by sultans, blessed by popes and damned as Satan's brew. Coffeehouses have played a role in the worlds of religion, art, politics, literature and music.

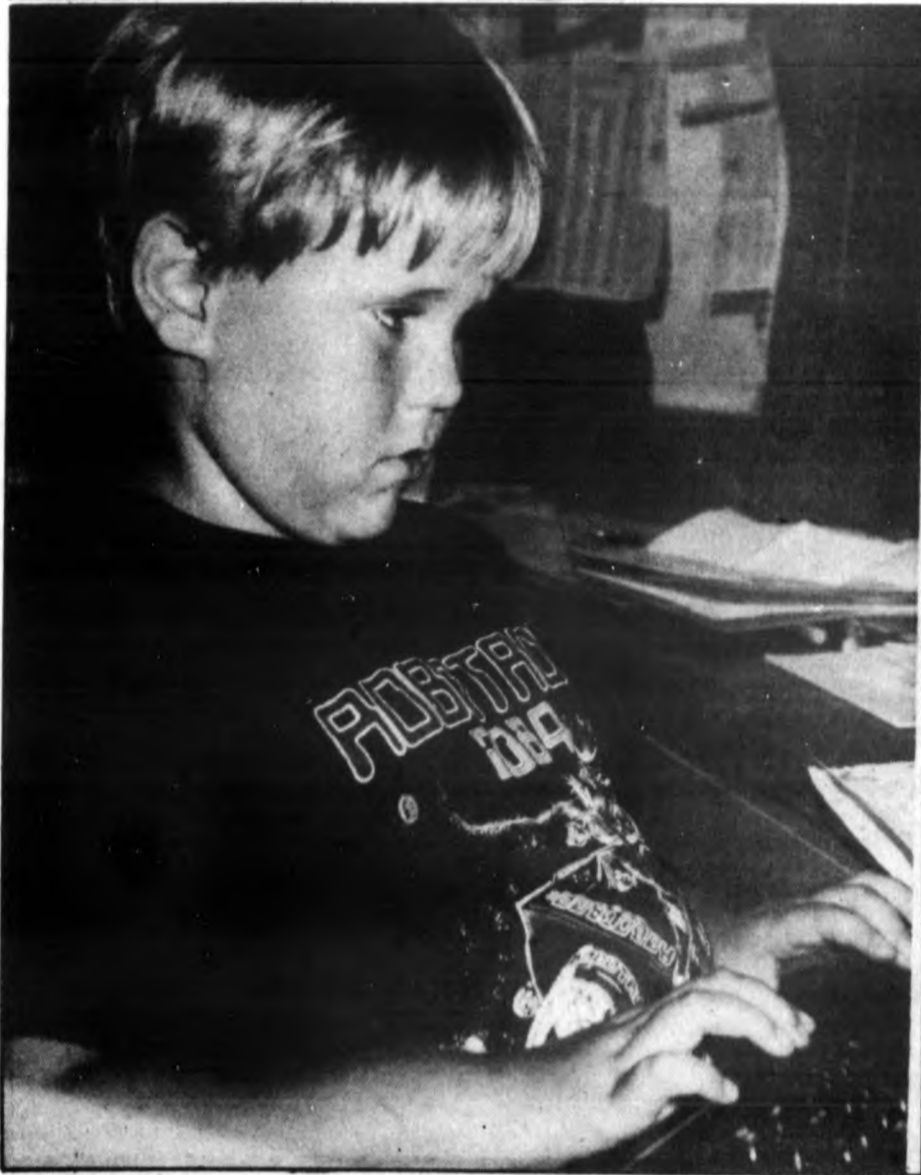

In the 1800's, coffee was used to pay taxes in Hawaii, and at one time Brazilians used coffee grounds as railroad engine fuel. And, in Italy today, office workers don't cluster around the percolator or coffee vending machine. Instead, they pop out to the nearest corner bar, where coffee, not alcohol, is the chief liquid refreshment.

"Some like it hot," (coffee, not the movie), its fragrant steam rising from a hefty mug. Some like it iced, in tall glasses. Some like it strong, black and hard in small cups. Some prefer it weak and light, in dainty China cups.

Then there are those who like it topped with generous helpings of cream, sugar, milk, spices and herbs, whisky, rum... the list is endless. In fact, bartenders use it in their concoctions and bakers in their confections.

Is there a "perfect cup of coffee?" What it boils down to... it's a matter of taste. Take a look at our coffee section this week, Beck's has it all. Selection and quality is not outside of anybody's price range here.

PATRICK DICKENS demonstrates how he typed the data for his project into a computer.

Patrick's computer project

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

"We're getting smarter and smarter and smarter down here," said Patrick Dickens.

Patrick, 7, the son of Al and Linda Dickens, 103 S. Oakland, St. Johns, was talking about Community Resource Volunteers, where he and other area children are learning about computers this summer.

Thanks to Patrick's project a number of his friends will have an easier time keeping in touch with one another.

The final result of his project was a computer printout of the names and addresses of his friends. Not content with a simple directory, however, Patrick also included a listing of his friends' birthdays and information about their pets.

In some cases, Patrick also included his personal comments about the appearance of the animals. For instance Bruno the doberman looks "fine." Hoie the puppy looks "good." Mork the collie looks "crazy."

In a brief description of the project, CRV Director

Bill Richards notes that Patrick came to the CRV office "looking for a challenging project for the summer."

Richards and another CRV volunteer learned that Patrick was interested in using a talent he has for remembering information and the directory project was decided upon.

PATRICK'S FIRST step was to conduct a telephone survey of his friends. When he had finished doing that, he went to the CRV office where he typed the information into one of the CRV computers, using a sophisticated data base program used for business purposes.

"We are proud of Pat's accomplishment, his ability to secure the information and his persistence in spending the time to type it in the computer one finger at a time," said Richards.

Patrick said besides his work at CRV he has used computers at East Olive Elementary and at a friend's house.

When he is not working on computers, he said, he likes soccer, baseball and golf — or at least he likes the idea of those sports. Skydiving, he said, does not appeal to him but scuba diving would be "great." "Teacher, principal, bus driver and book writer," are the occupations he intends to go into when he grows up. "First thing, before all of that, would be an arcade owner on Cedar Street in Lansing."

Besides pinpointing the location, Patrick has put some thought into exactly how his arcade will be run.

"There's going to be pizza down there and we're gonna need waitresses," he said.

As an expert on the appearance of pets, Patrick was asked about his own.

"I have two pets," he said. "A dog called Jade and a cat called Puff. Jade's all black and Jade's a good dog. He's friendly. What Puff likes to do is snuggle up to my mother. And sometimes Puff likes to snuggle up to me. Then my mother says 'I don't believe it!'"

Lew Walling, 95, remembers early days of Clinton County

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

"I can remember the early days, we'd go up there on Saturday nights and sit on the hitching posts," says Lew Walling.

Now a resident of Elsie, Walling was born in St. Johns in 1891. He attended school at Perrin-Palmer, shoveled sugar beets, farmed extensively in Clinton County, helped build North Clinton Avenue, saw his first car in St. Johns and attended the first movie theatre in St. Johns.

"It cost a dime to sit in a chair," he says. "That's all it was — a big empty room with chairs that weren't connected to each other."

When he was about seven years old, he saw his first automobile — and in 1921 he bought his first automobile.

"It was a Brisco," he says. "It had just one light, in front. Cost a little less than $500 brand new."

AND HE REMEMBERS the work people used to do then.

"Good hard work, I guess, is the reason I've lived so long," he says.

He remembers helping his father, who owned several teams of horses, haul dirt when North Clinton Avenue was being built.

"That was probably in 1908 or 1909," he says. "I don't even know what they paid — probably four or five dollars a day for team, wagon and man."

Lew Walling: 'We'd go up there on Saturday nights and sit on the hitching posts'

For another period of time he worked loading sugar beets, first loading them onto a wagon, then onto a railroad boxcar.

"I done a lot of that," he says. "Got 20 cents a ton. We used to load 40 tons a day."

He had a reputation for working fast and hard. "A man came in and worked half a day," he says. "Said he couldn't shovel beets no more."

As for himself, he says, he remembered what his father used to say — "He said you have two speeds — fast and faster."

For two years he worked for a farmer in Bannister.

"I came to Bannister in 1910, just before Christmas," he recalls. "I worked for two years for the same man. He turned out to be my brother-in-law."

THAT WAS BECAUSE he married Francella Cook, the sister of the wife of the man for whom he worked.

But first he went out west.

"That was when it was 'Go west, young man,'" says Walling's daughter, Mrs. Leo Demming, who lives in Carland, Michigan. He worked in South Dakota as a farm hand and as a pool hall cook making flapjacks.

"He can still flip 'em," says his daughter. He returned to Bannister in 1916 and married Francella.

"I started farming for myself and I've been farming ever since," he says. "I raised a lot of sugar beets and three daughters."

Francella died in 1982. "Since then I've been keeping a bachelor's life," he says.

And he still works hard, says his daughter. He keeps his own house, mows his own lawn and recently finished painting his house.

He still drives his car during daylight hours to visit family members — his younger brother, Marion Walling, lives on French Road near St. Johns and he has daughters in Ovid and Owosso.

As a matter of fact, when he was 75 years old, he drove to Alaska.

"Drove a Ford," he says, "a little over 10,000 miles."

The family of Lew Walling will host an open house in honor of his 95th birthday on August 10 at the Carland Church House, Carland, from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m.

Redwings pump weights — game time gets closer

By Rhonda Westfall
Sports Editor

It won't be long now. Just four weeks from this Friday, on Sept. 5, the first high school varsity football games will be played. For many area athletes, and coaches, it will be a time to put hours of practice to the test.

Four weeks from this Saturday, on Sept. 6, some coaches and their players may be doing some rethinking of strategies used the night before. Some will be pleased with performances — and some will not.

Which group St. Johns head coach Bart Kjolhede will fit into remains to be seen. But one thing can be stated with certainty about the 1986 Redwing football teams — they will be conditioned to play, and play hard.

How can one be sure of this fact? The answer is simple — weighttraining.

Kjolhede preaches it, teaches it, and his players live it for two hours a day, three days a week during the off-season.

"The big thing that our weight program gives the kids is commitment," the coach said. "There are many, many other benefits of a weight program, but the big thing it does for a winning football program is that it builds a sense of commitment. When you're willing to give that amount of time to something you have to benefit from it in the end."

ST. JOHNS IS NOT alone in the promotion of weighttraining for its athletes. Practically all schools employ a program of one type or another, to one degree or another. That is another reason why Coach Kjolhede believes so strongly in the necessity of a weight program.

"If you don't train hard and train correctly you will get beaten by someone who does, and possibly incur injury in the process," he said. "Our coaching staff teaches correct and safe techniques which are important to staying injury-free. Weighttraining is an extra help."

"No matter how poor or good an athlete is, he will be better when he is stronger. Anyone who doesn't think weighttraining will increase athletic performance is misinformed."

According to Kjolhede, adherence to a weight program will do six things for the athlete:

Increase speed; increase explosive power; increase agility; increase endurance; increase resistance to injury; and, increase confidence.

"Obviously it would be nice to be born fast," Kjolhede said. "Stronger hamstrings means you can pick 'em up and put 'em down quicker and move your body mass faster."

A fast "body mass" in the form of a big, fullback coming through the line is a definite advantage for any team.

"Explosive power," is the way Coach Kjolhede phrases it.

Kjolhede is anticipating up to 120 students in grades 9-12 taking part in this year's program, with 40 of those playing at the varsity level. He would like to keep them all free of injuries. That is an impossibility, but he stresses that weighttraining will help.

"We're trying to shield muscles," he said.

One other thing the coach is encouraging is the use of knee braces.

"Knee braces will almost totally prevent blow-out of interior knee injury," he said.

FUNDS FOR purchase of this "extra" equipment is not available from the school or from the boosters at this time, but Kjolhede believes investment by parents in the purchase of the braces will be well worth it.

"I believe in the next couple of years they (braces) will become a required part of equipment," he said.

The second year coach at St. Johns is hoping that the use of his weight program throughout the off-season will help the Redwings to improve on their 3-6 record from last year.

"Right now our goal is to win the league and win as many games as possible," he said. "One of my jobs as coach is to make the other teams prepare to play us. Our kids know our offensive and defensive set-ups this year, and we will be able to throw in some different plays to put our opponents off balance."

"We won't 'lose' a game this year. We may not win everyone on the scoreboard, but these kids are committed to playing hard the whole game through. Weighttraining has helped that."

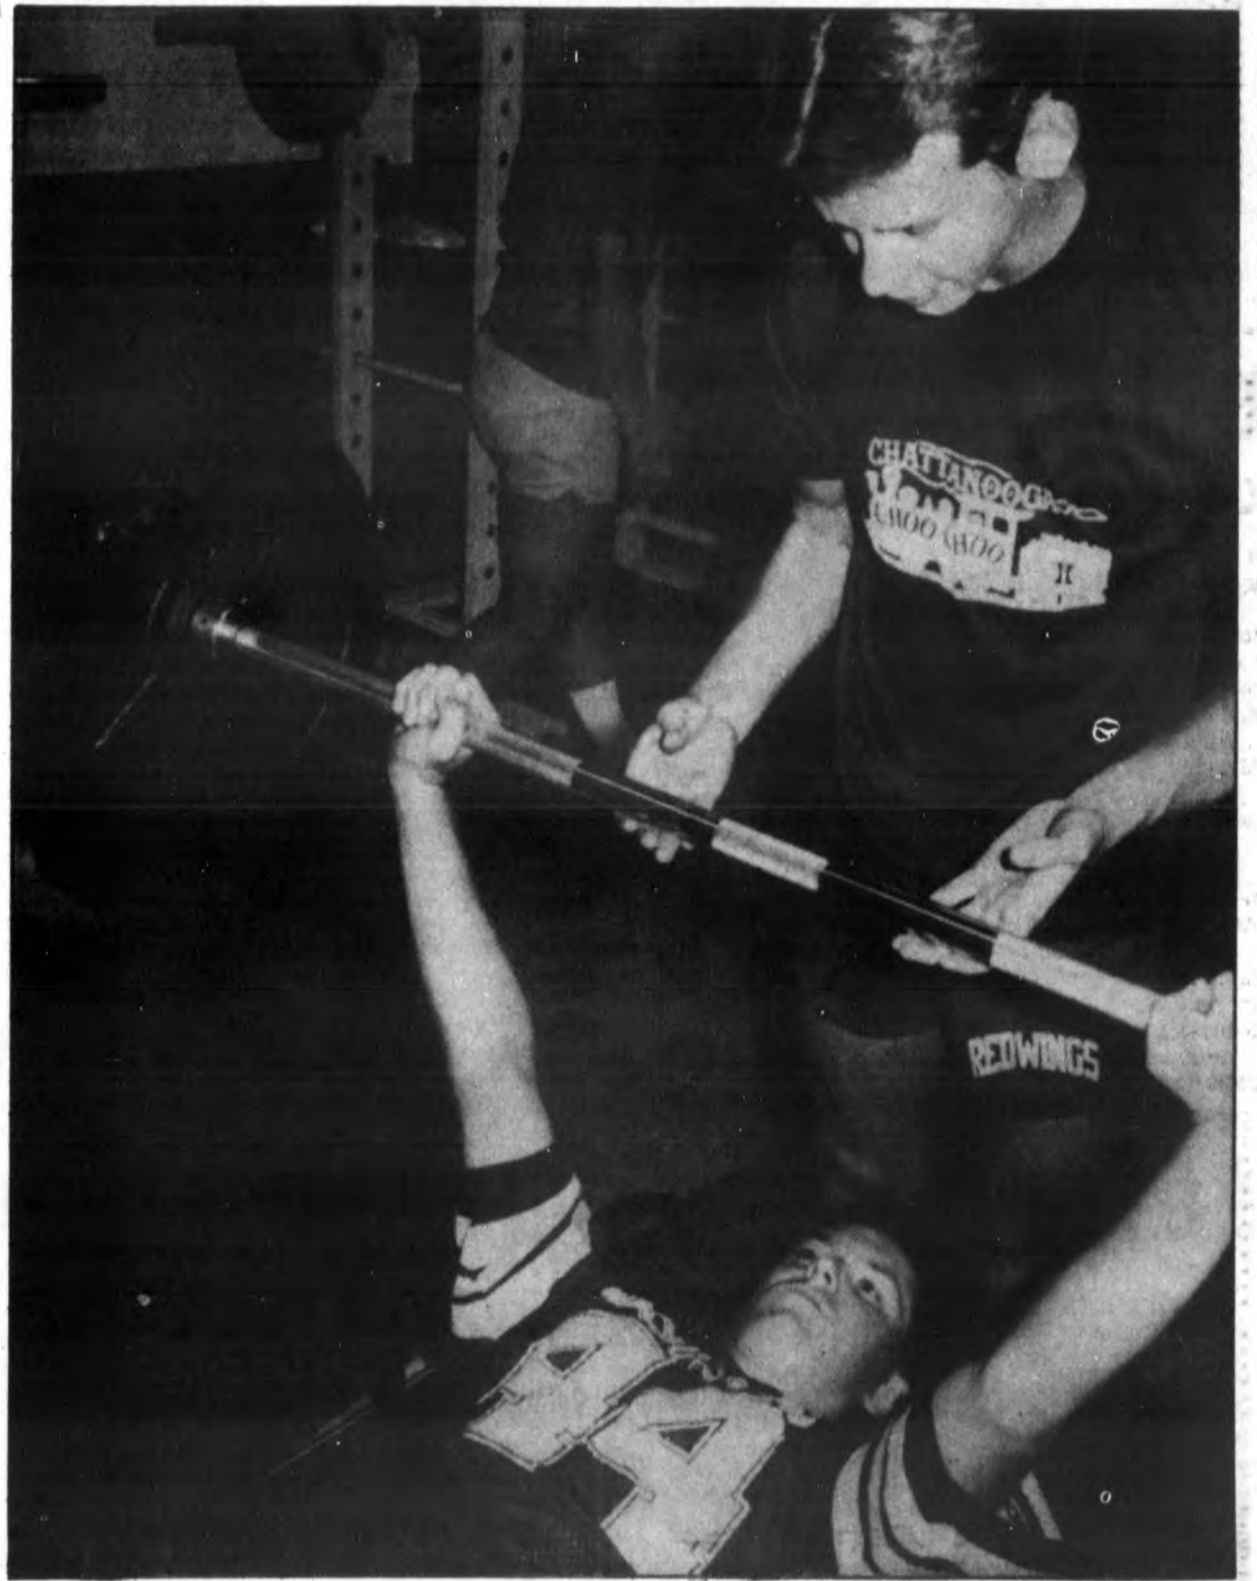

The coaches' love of the game and of his job is obvious. With a year in St. Johns under his belt, he feels he knows the kids he's coaching and knows what to expect from them.

"We have some legitimately smart kids playing," the coach said. "It will be hard for them to fool themselves into thinking they can't win, or they can't do the job expected of them."

"In my mind, football is the last thing around that tests a kid completely — physically, mentally, emotionally. Toughness... guts. That makes the difference in nine out of ten games."

The goals are set. Practices begin next week. Four weeks will tell something.

November will tell the whole story.

TRAINING — As the first game of the season approaches, Redwing football players are hitting the weights three times each week.

Registration is open for DeWitt Ox Tennis Tournament on Aug. 15-17

Registration is now open for the annual DeWitt Ox Roast Tennis Tournament, August 15 through 17. Signup deadline is Monday, August 11.

Play will take place in both junior and adult divisions. In the adult category, divisions include: mens A and B singles; womens singles; mixed doubles; mens doubles, and womens doubles. Registration fee is $3 per person per division.

In the junior category, divisions include: boys 13-and-under singles; boys 17-and-under singles; boys doubles; girls 13-and-under singles; girls 17-and-under singles; and girls doubles. Registration fee is $2 per person per division.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in each division, and to runners-up in those divisions that have eight or more entrants.

Each player or doubles team must bring a new can of balls to use, and must pay the registration fee and sign a waiver before being allowed to play.

Playing schedule will be available Wednesday, August 13. All play will take place at the DeWitt High School courts. If the tournament is rained out, it will be scheduled for the following weekend.

For further information, contact the DeWitt City Hall, 669-2441; or tournament Director Bill Childress, 669-5448.

Volunteers

Rhonda Westfall

Volunteers.

They come in all shapes and sizes; young and old; knowledgeable and not-so-smart.

But they do all have one thing in common. That is a willingness to give of themselves, of their time and talent, for someone or something else, free of charge.

There are volunteers at hospitals, nursing homes, and schools. Volunteers serve on fundraising committees, community service projects, and for political candidates.

And volunteers are the lifeline of sports. Especially in terms of sports related to youth.

Without volunteer coaches there would be no minor league, little league, pony league, t-ball, Sea Lions, etc. In a nutshell, there would be no sporting activities for young people aside from those funded by public or private education.

And we all know how susceptible these have been to budget cuts in the past.

Sure, the programs still cost money. Nothing is free. They are supported by monies raised from various fundraisers, organized by guess who? Volunteers.

WITH THE BASEBALL season rapidly drawing to a close, what better time to send a thank-you to your sons or daughters coach. Or just take time after the game to tell him (or her) how much you have appreciated his efforts during the season.

Too often we take for granted that "the other guy" will say something — and too often "we" are the other guy who doesn't.

Thank you is a little phrase, but it can mean a lot to the coach who has spent hours of his own time in helping your child learn a new skill.

Of course, it's not entirely correct to say that volunteers get nothing in return for their efforts.

The volunteer coaches' reward comes in the smile on the face of the little seven-year-old who finally reaches first base, and is safe, after trying so hard to hit the ball all season.

It's the ground ball fielded successfully, and the play made to first base with runners on and one out to go in the game.

The real reward for the volunteer is simply knowing that he has contributed something of value to a little kid, or a not-so-little kid, that may serve him in future years.

That's really why volunteers continue to coach year after year.

They're suckers when it comes to helping the "underdog."

So, the next time you see that volunteer coach head for his car after the game, stop him.

And say, "Good game, Coach." He deserves it.

You may have noticed a different name at the beginning of this column.

No, the Clinton County News has not changed sports editors again. Hopefully, that will be good news for our readers.

The name has changed by virtue of a wedding which took place Aug. 2, but the face, sports ideas, etc. remain the same.

Actually, the face doesn't look a whole lot like the one at the top of the column either.

Maybe I'll work on changing that next.

Silver spiders and M-60s will be illegal September 1 under recent legislation

Under new legislation, it will be illegal to possess or sell multipointed hooks, commonly referred to as "silver spiders" or "M-60s," used for snagging fish.

Beginning Sept. 1, Dept. of Natural Resources (DNR) conservation officers will begin enforcing public act 189 which was passed in early July. Amending the Michigan Sport Fishing Law, the act dramatically increases the penalties for unlawful snagging in the four snagging areas. These include the Sable River below Hamlin Dam, the Pere Marquette River near Scottville, the Big Manistee River below Tippy Dam, and the Muskegon River below Croton Dam.

Persons found guilty of possessing or selling these devices may be imprisoned for up to 90 days and/or fined up to $300. Second or third offenders will face even stiffer penalties.

Multipointed hooks have always been illegal to use in Michigan, but their possession or sale was not controlled. The new legislation, in effect, declares these devices now to be contraband and prohibits their possession or sale.

Welcome to the Mint Festival — remember to think mint

Welcome.
The St. Johns Mint Festival is one of only three known mint festivals in the country and the only such festival in Michigan.

If you were not here last year, you may find yourself at a loss for where to look first. The festival offers three days of non-stop exhibits, tours, entertainment, shows, food, races, contests, fairs, dances — the list is almost endless.

Fortunately, maps, programs and schedules are readily available to help you make the most of your time. For instance, on Page 6D of this newspaper the festival's official schedule and map is reproduced.

Restaurants and many other businesses in town will be able to provide you with literature detailing the times and locations of all the events of the Mint Festival. Or visit the Chamber of Commerce office for further information. Or just ask someone — you will find St. Johns is full of friendly, helpful folks.

If you were here last year you will find that the festival this year is even bigger and better. An outdoor flea market set up next to the Clinton County Courthouse will complement the arts and crafts exhibit and the antique and flea market of the festival last year.

The "Big Top" tent you will notice on Linden Street is another addition to the festival this year. The tent will house a wide selection of talent over the three day period of the festival as well as hosting a children's art show.

Other firsts this year include the fireman's water ball fight, the ugly dog contest, the children's parade, and the Second Time Around Band's performance on Saturday.

The expanded Mint Parade, kicking off at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, will boast over 100 units on a 21 block route.

Tours of mint farms, a key event last year, will be repeated this year. Festival guests who formerly did not know where the mint in their toothpaste came from can walk away with a first hand knowledge of where mint comes from and how it is processed into the products we use regularly.

Nor will you lack opportunities to take more tangible items home with you. Theme items — mint plants, mint oil, mint candy, mint cookbooks, mint pins, pens and buttons — will be readily available.

Again — welcome.
And remember to "Think Mint!"

THINK MINT — Planters containing mint plants all over town are just one of the many ways the community celebrates its mint growing heritage.

Joann Martis: major force behind the Mint Festival

By BONNIE POWELL
Staff Writer

She's "100 percent chamber," says J.C. Penney manager Dick Johnson. "I think she eats, sleeps, and talks St. Johns Chamber of Commerce."

He's speaking, of course, about chamber director Joann Martis. "She's been with the chamber for four years and in that time the chamber has really grown with her help and initiation," says Johnson, "and she's energetic in getting new members."

Chosen from 26 other candidates, Martis feels her varied background as a teacher and mother, and her involvement in the community at large, helped her to get the job as director.

Martis is a local "lifetime" resident of St. Johns and a 40-year member of the First Congregational Church. She admits that it has always been a lifetime dream of hers to see St. Johns "put on the map."

ONE OF THE FIRST things she wanted to do when she took over the director's job was find a way to do that.

It worried her that people passing by seemed to go around St. Johns. They never stopped to see "what a fine community we have here," she says.

In addition, "People in the community always said 'why doesn't St. Johns have a festival?', so we tried to think of something for a festival," says Martis.

She first came up with the idea of the mint theme because "mint is unique to the area and is a plant produced here for years and years. The highest concentration of mint being grown in the state is here," she says.

Her husband of 32 years, Paul, is also from a mint background. "His grandfather was one of the pioneers and his uncles grow it, so the idea appealed to me," Joann says.

THE IDEA APPEALED to everyone else too and last year the first mint festival took place. It was such a success, this year's will be even bigger and better, Martis says.

Now, her life is a festival with the next year's preparations starting the "day after the other one is over." Normally her hours are part-time at 30 hours per week, but this time of year that's not enough.

Now the work never ceases, she says. "Sometimes I'll wake up in the middle of the night to solve a problem."

The youngest of four children, at age 54, Martis has four children herself. Paulette, 29, David, 28, Melissa, 22, and Christine, 18, are all supportive of her work with the chamber.

Martis is motivated by an enjoyment of people. She feels her desire and enthusiasm for her job may rub off on other people. She believes success in an organized event depends on the volunteers and her theme is to "please volunteer where your interest lies."

MARTIS IS QUICK TO give credit to the festival steering committee for their contributions and says this year she is particularly anxious about the festival. She feels this year will set a standard for the mint festival and will be a good time to evaluate everything.

By next year the routine of putting on the event should be "down pat."

Martis' "deep roots," knowledge of the community, and hard work has been noticed recently as the Kiwanis of St. Johns honored her with a scholarship to attend a special community leadership academy at Lansing Community College.

Chosen as one of 25 people in the LCC area to attend the academy, Martis will go twice a month from September to December.

Her attitude about the course is similar to her attitude about her job. It's an attitude that has meant success, and that is "you can always learn."

Growing up with mint

1936 Mint Queen recalls life on mint farm

Elouise Irving Harris was the first "Peppermint Queen" in Clinton County, crowned by Michigan Governor Frank Fitzgerald on November 24, 1936. The coronation was held in connection with the popular Window Night in St. Johns when merchants' windows were lighted each year for the Christmas season.

Queen Elouise was present at the 1985 Mint Festival and will help in crowning this year's queen. The granddaughter of J.E. Crosby, who pioneered the mint industry in Clinton County, here shares memories of the time she spent working in the mint operation.

FARMING IN THE LAST fifty years has gone from being a job for a lot of people to being a job for a lot of big machines. I thought you might like to look back fifty years to the mechanics of a mint farm circa 1936.

I grew up on a mint farm of a hundred acres where plowing with a two bottom plow took a lot of days and hours. This was usually done in the fall.

Spring was the time to plant roots of the mint plant in an area that had winter-killed or a new field. Or you could wait until the plants had grown to about five or six inches in height. The plants or roots, whichever you used, were dug out of the back furrow because that is where there were more roots or plants, being the center of a section of a plowed area.

The roots or plants were separated by the two people who rode the planter. This device made a row into which the two took turns dropping the plants or roots. This was a finger-numbing process if it were roots you were planting, or a wet, goeey mess if it were plants because Dad usually dunked the plants in water. The reward was seeing the mint growing across the big field.

As the plants grew, their enemy was weeds, so for about six or eight weeks my three sisters and I were expected to help hoe every day except Sunday. We got the grand total of 10 cents an hour and worked ten hours a day! But, we weren't the only ones to do the hoeing. At times there were eight to ten men doing the same thing. We would no more get it hoed entirely, and have to start all over again.

One year it rained so much and the weeds grew so tall, we resorted to pulling them and hauling them to a tree in the middle of the field. It made quite a pile — about eight feet high all around the tree. By the way, the men made more money than we did, but they did a lot more work than we did. I was eleven the first year I hoed, my sisters younger. And what a joy any day it rained — we got the day off!

WHEN THE MINT had the maximum oil in it, the process of cutting and stilling it was a little different than today's. Remember, tractors weren't as big as now, so it took a while longer to cut. Then came the raking with a hay rake into windrows. From then on, it was back-breaking work.

Stills were built on the same general ideas as today's, with the exception that the tubs that distilled the mint were stationary, and the mint was hauled to the still on wagons. Loading the wagon in the field was man-power and a hay fork. Then when you got it into the still, it had to be unloaded into these two tubs by hand. Each tub had two huge wheels with chains on that fitted into the tubs, one on the very bottom. When the tub was half full, the men would tramp it down and lay the chains over the mint, then put in the other wheel and repeat the process for the tub.

After the stilling process was completed these two wheels were removed by using a winch to lift them onto a hay wagon, and were drawn into the pasture field and dumped on the ground. Later these "cheeses" as they were called, were spread back onto the mint field, or used as hay for the horses. There is no aroma like them when they are first dumped on the ground. The pasture was just to the north of the house about a hundred feet.

When my Dad started mint farming in about 1926 he had two horses. It took a lot of long hours to accomplish what about five years later he could do with a tractor in a lot less time.

It took a lot of physical labor and many hours back fifty years ago.

I, for one, must say that I wouldn't have missed it for the world. The sights, sounds, and smells still come back to my memory and make the sum total of my life when I was at home and working in the fields worth every minute of it.

I am instantly transported back fifty years everytime I drive by a peppermint still in August.

MEMORIES

- Hoing like made across the field under a hot, broiling sun to get to the end of the row so you can have a moderately cool drink of water (if someone didn't leave it sitting in the sun instead of under some mint plants).
- Four of us girls hoing row mint alone in another part of the field from the men and telling about books we have read, or maybe making up stories, just to pass the time — ragweeds become boring — or just talking to hear ourselves talk.
- Or racing each other across the field to see who can get done first.
- Or just hurrying to get across the field as it is 5:25 and we quit at 5:30. The truck is waiting to take us to a delicious supper Mom has been working on all afternoon.
- Sometimes we work with the men, and sometimes we annoy them by singing the same song over and over again. (We could be annoying.)
- Hurrying through lunch or dinner so I could have fifteen minutes to read that book I had started, and hated to put down to go to work. I was either reading a book or wandering through Yallup's woods.
- The quietness and peacefulness of a summer morning going into the field, going barefoot some mornings because the dew was so heavy on the mint.
- Knowing it was 5:30 by the length of your shadow on the ground. We got pretty good at judging that too. (Meant we were done for the day.)
- Of course Dad wasn't, he still had things to do. Night and noon he would spend about fifteen minutes in the garage sharpening all the hoes at the grinder. In the field we had a file with us and every so often we would sharpen them again.
- Mint was dusted for bugs. Memory of Dad coming up some calm evening after spraying the "Paris Green" on the mint, still with some of the poison dust on his clothes.

MINT JELLY

2 1/2 c. apple juice
1 tsp. white vinegar
1/2 c. (or more) packed mint leaves
4 c. sugar
Several drops of green food coloring
1/2 bottle of pectin

Combine apple juice, vinegar and mint in saucepan. Cook for 10 minutes. Remove and discard mint. Add sugar and food coloring. Cook for 2 minutes. Stir in pectin; remove from heat. Pour into 7 hot sterilized 4-ounce jelly jars; seal with 2-piece lids. Process in boiling water bath for 5 minutes.

Marilyn Irerer, St. Johns

MINT BERRY JAM

1 1/2 c. strawberries
4 c. sugar
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1 pouch Certo Fruit Pectin
1/2 tsp. peppermint oil

Mix strawberries with the sugar thoroughly. Let stand 10 minutes. Measure lemon juice into small bowl, add Certo, stir well. Stir into fruit and sugar mixture. Stir 3 minutes, add 1 tsp. peppermint oil, stir well. Immediately ladle into jars. Let stand 24 hours then freeze.

Beatrice Goodrich, St. Johns

PINK MINT TAFFY

2 c. sugar
1/2 c. light corn syrup
1/2 c. water
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
1/4 tsp. peppermint extract
Red food coloring

Combine sugar, corn syrup, water and cream of tartar. Place over heat; stir until sugar dissolves. Cook without stirring to very hard ball stage (265 degrees). Remove from heat. Add peppermint extract and coloring. When cool enough to handle, pull until taffy is porous. Twist into ropes. Cut with scissors or cool and break in pieces. Makes 2 dozen pieces.

MINTS

(Recipe for microwave oven)

3 tbsp. butter or margarine
3 tbsp. milk
1 pkg. (15 oz.) creamy white frosting mix
Food coloring (red or green)
1/2 tsp. peppermint extract

Put butter and milk in 2 quart microproof bowl. Cook on HI (max power) for 45 seconds, or until butter is melted. Stir in frosting mix. Cook on HI for 1 1/2 to 2 minutes, or until bubbly. Stir twice during cooking time. Stir in food coloring to tint. Add extract. Drop mixture by teaspoons onto waxed paper. When cool, store in airtight container. Makes 48 pieces.

MINT SAUCE

1/2 c. chopped mint leaves
1/4 c. vinegar
2 tsp. powdered sugar
Few grains of salt

Heat vinegar to boiling. Add remaining ingredients. Cool. Serve with roast meat, such as lamb.

MINTY HEAVENLY COOKIES

2 sticks oleo
1 c. white granulated sugar
1 c. powdered sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cream of tartar
1/2 c. sifted flour
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Few drops of mint/peppermint
Few drops of green food coloring

Cream together first four ingredients. Add eggs. Add vanilla and drops of mint/peppermint, drops of food coloring. Sift and measure dry ingredients together. Mix together until light and fluffy. Roll by hand into very small balls, then roll in granulated sugar (tinted). Press flat with a glass bottom. Bake in 325 oven for 10 to 12 minutes.

Jeanne Coelius, St. Johns

MINTADE

1/4 c. chopped fresh mint
2 c. sugar
1 c. grapefruit juice
1 c. lemon juice
1 c. loganberry juice

Combine mint, sugar and four cups water in saucepan. Boil for five minutes. Cool. Strain into pitcher. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Chill until serving. Yields six servings.

Note: May substitute grape juice for loganberry juice.

My grandmother always made this in the summer from mint that we picked at our cottage on Long Lake.

Judy Huynh, Ionia

MEATBALLS MENTHE

1 lb. lean ground beef
1/2 lb. lean ground lamb
1 1/2 tsp. finely chopped fresh mint
1/2 c. fresh bread crumbs
2 eggs
1 medium onion (finely chopped)
1 1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
All purpose flour
6 tbsp. salad oil
1 can (lb.) tomatoes
1/2 tsp. basil leaves
Salt and pepper

Mix the ground beef and lamb. Wash and finely chop mint leaves and stems and add 1 tsp. to the meat mixture together with the bread crumbs, eggs, onion, salt and pepper. Blend and shape into balls about 1 1/2 inch in diameter, rolling the balls in flour. Heat the oil in a frying pan or electric frying pan and brown the meatballs, turning frequently. When meatballs are well browned, pour off excess fat and add tomatoes, basil, remaining 1/2 tsp. mint, salt and pepper to taste. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Makes about 4 to 6 servings.

MINTY ICED TEA

3-6 mint sprigs
7 tea bags
1 c. sugar
1 6-oz. can lemonade

Bring about one pint water to boil. Remove from heat and drop in tea and mint sprigs. Deep 8-10 minutes. Mix with remaining ingredients.

Recipes courtesy of the Clinton County Extension Service

WATERMELON SURPRISE

1 small watermelon
2 cantaloupe
1/2 lb. cherries
3 tbsp. fresh mint
1 lb. peaches
1 c. sherry
Seedless grapes
1 tbsp. lemon balm

Start in the morning by cutting the watermelon in half, lengthwise, removing pulp with a melon cutter. Mix this with the cantaloupe balls, cherries, grapes and any other fruit you like. Peaches must be added last or they will turn dark. Marinate all day in the sherry to which the mint and balm have been added. Before serving, return to chilled melon shell; decorate with springs of mint dipped in egg whites and dusted with granulated sugar to give a frosted look.

Dog-a-thon planned for August 9 Mint Parade

Walk your dog during the Mint Festival! Show-offs 4-H dog care and training club is sponsoring a "Dog-A-Thon" walk on Aug. 9 as part of the Mint Festival Parade.

Persons interested in walking should meet at St. Johns High School. The walk begins at 10:30 a.m.

Walkers obtain sponsors who make tax-deductible pledges for each mile walked.

Everyone who enters will receive a certificate of participation and person raising $20 or more will receive a Dog-A-Thon collar tag.

Dog-A-Thon is a project of Morris Animal Foundation, a non-profit foundation, studying animal health problems at veterinary colleges.

Proceeds from the event will fund studies of canine health problems including bloot, cancer, and parvovirus.

Verticillium wilt: the scourge of mint farms

By BONNIE POWELL
Staff Writer

Verticillium — a name that strikes fear into the hearts of mint plants everywhere and of mint farmers back in the late 1930s when the disease grew to such proportions it all but wrecked the mint industry in the St. Johns area.

Luckily for them, a man named Merritt Murray, a plant geneticist for the A.M. Todd Company, began experiments with resistant strains of mint and 12 years of research, from 1956 to 1968, culminated in the development of two types of mint that farmers could use with success.

The disease first came to light when it was discovered by a Michigan State University plant pathologist named Ray Nelson in Mentha, a town which derives its name from the mint plant.

The peppermint plant was more susceptible to the disease than the spearmint and its gradual spread all but inundated the fields by the 1950s.

ST. JOHNS FARMER Alden Livingston remembers that the good mint yields his family had gotten on their farm since the 1920s had dwindled to nothing after 1934, when the fungus gradually spread through the soil. The farmers had no choice but to turn to Scotch Spearmint and other crops such as dill.

Born and raised on a farm that has been in his family since 1905, Livingston describes the disease as being a fungus that attacks the circulatory system of the mint plants, sort of like cholesterol is to the human circulatory system. It plugs up the root system and chokes the plant.

He says the disease usually shows up by killing the plant one branch at a time, with the leaves turning brown. In a field it starts out in one spot and works out in something of a circular pattern.

The progress of the disease is gradual, he says, and "it usually takes a few years to spread through a whole field." The problem is accentuated in dry seasons because the lack of water further inhibits the plant's circulation.

ACCORDING TO Dr. M.L. Lacey, a 21-year professor of plant pathology at MSU, the wilt, formally called Verticillium dahliae, could have been a result of a spontaneous mutation of a related disease.

It is spread through the soil and carried to other plants primarily because roots are sold to start new mint plants. If one root with the disease is placed into a field, the whole field could be infected within a few years.

As the fields in Michigan became inundated, the mint industry began to move west, but so did the fungus.

According to Jim Todd, vice president of A.M. Todd Company in Kalamazoo, a large buyer of mint oil, the problem had reached the point where something had to be done. "We employed a plant geneticist, Merritt Murray, who decided rather than cross-breed to get a resistant strain, he would use radiation to develop a mutant strain."

DURING THE FIRST few years, Murray came up with strains that yielded well, but had not oil; grew well, but had no smell; or had oil and smell, but didn't grow well.

Finally, two strains were gradually brought into use. Dr. Lacey was one of the members of the research team testing the results. He says "it was exciting to see it unfold." The new strains were called Todd's Mitcham and Murray's Mitcham.

They were derived from the original Black Mitcham brought from England, with a little help from Gamma radiation.

Lacey says the peppermint is making a comeback but spearmint, which is naturally more resistant to the wilt, is still more popular. The St. Johns area is the largest producer in Michigan with about three-quarters of the acreage in spearmint.

Other areas in Michigan growing mint include north of Sandusky, east of Grant, and a few areas around Stockbridge.

Still a few places left for festival flea market

There are still a few paces left for the St. Johns Mint Festival Flea Market. The market will be held Saturday and Sunday, August 9 and 10, at the Rodney B. Wilson Junior High.

This year the event will feature an inside and outside flea market as well as an inside antique show and sale. Browsers and serious collectors alike will be amazed at the variety of collectibles. Glassware, silver, antique tools, jewelry, dolls, woodenware, pewter and lots of furniture — there are just a few of the nostalgic and collectible items available at the antique show and sale.

Applications for the outside flea market will be accepted through Wednesday, August 6. The number of applications filed by late week indicated a very promising and diverse event.

For applications, please contact the Chamber of Commerce at 224-7248 or Shirley Rasmussen at 224-6107.

HARVESTING — St. Johns mint grower Richard Woodhams harvests a field of mint.

PGS Museum plans special tours and demonstrations during fest

Special hours and tours are planned at the Paine Gilliam Scott Museum in St. Johns during the St. Johns Mint Festival.

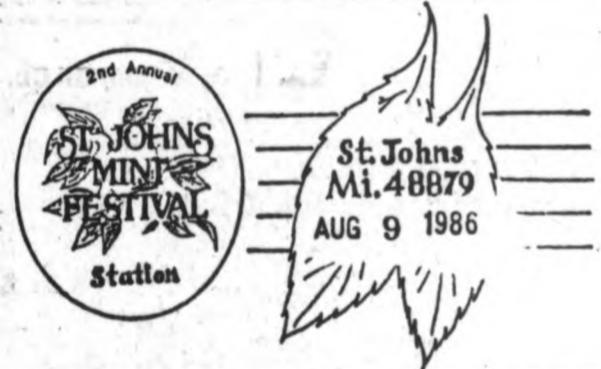

A "Log to Basket" demonstration will be given by the Suttons on Aug. 9 from 2-4 p.m., and "Velocipede Jig-saw 1876" is scheduled for Aug. 10 from 1-4 p.m. Special exhibits on mint farms including a VCR presentation of Clyde Anderson's 1930-40s movies of minting activities will be on display in the doctor's office annex of the museum.

Special sterling silver mint leaf souvenirs, tatted snowflakes, tatted bells, quilling gift cards and pot-pourris of mint will be on sale. Raffle tickets at $1 each will also be available for an Emperor grandfather clock. The drawing will be held on Aug. 13 at 7 p.m.

The museum is located at 106 Maple Street, on the west side of the courthouse in St. Johns.

The museum will be open on Aug. 8 from 1-5 p.m.; Aug. 9 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Aug. 10 from 12:30-5 p.m. Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children aged 12 and under.

MINT STAMP — The St. Johns Postal Service will have a mobile unit parked in the courthouse parking lot August 9 to cancel cards and letters with this commemorative cancellation stamp.

Post office offers stamp to commemorate the Mint Festival

The St. John Postal Employees will host an Open House and Tour of the Post Office during the Mint Festival on Saturday, August 9, from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

The postal employees invite the public to stop in and see how the postal service operates. Questions will be answered and help will be provided for any postal service problems.

Additionally, the "Stamp Pad" mobile unit will once again be parked in the courthouse parking lot to cancel cards and letters with the special "Second Annual St. Johns Mint Festival" cancellation.

Mint: there's oil in them there leaves

Most mint is grown in organic (muck soils) It requires more water than other area crops.

"When we have just the right amount of moisture, everyone else has too much," says one local grower.

After mint is harvested, in much the same manner as is alfalfa hay, it is allowed to cure until the leaves are thoroughly wilted. It is then picked up, chopped and blown into a distilling tub. The distillation process leaves the producer with mint oil — the flavoring for much of our chewing gum, candy, toothpaste and medicines.

If you walk into a local store and buy a package of chewing gum there is a pretty good chance that its flavoring was produced in Clinton County.

"It stands an even-steven chance," says Alden Livingston, a local grower. "Wrigley does buy a lot of mid-western oil. There's a good chance it has Clinton County oil.

Most of the mint grown in the St. Johns area is of the native spearmint variety, although some scotch spearmint and some peppermint is also grown here.

In fact, the peppermint may make a come back in the area. The price paid for native spearmint oil has fallen in the last two years from $15 per pound to $9. Peppermint (and scotch spearmint) is selling for around $13 — meaning more growers will be attracted to growing those varieties.

"You're looking at more and more peppermint," says Livingston.

On the other hand, some growers will stay with native spearmint and wait for the price to rise as other growers turn to the other varieties. This may be advantageous also because spearmint is the most naturally resistant to verticillium wilt.

Mint oil will be plentiful at the Mint Festival. If you want to buy some during the rest of the year, call the Livingston farm at 517-224-3616.

Agricultural news Building ventilation

Marilyn Loudenslager

The temperature is in the 90's, the humidity is very high and you can't think of anything you would enjoy eating! Your reaction to this type of weather is no different than the cows. The spell of hot, humid weather we experienced in mid-July threw many cattle off feed, resulting in a dramatic drop in milk production.

As long as we live in Michigan we will have a few days in the summer when keeping livestock cool, comfortable and eating seems to be an impossible task. However, with good building ventilation we should be able to provide a cool, comfortable, non-humid environment for the cattle the majority of the time.

Opening the ridge, opening the eaves and opening up the side walls on cattle feed stall barns often times provides the ventilation needed to keep cattle eating and producing milk. But when these techniques don't work, for instance in lean-tos, in buildings with low pitched roofs and in very wide buildings, what can you do?

According to Dr. Bill Bickert, MSU agricultural engineer, the slotted roof design offers an opportunity to improve ventilation in these problem buildings.

Slotted roofs have been used for over 10 years in Scotland as a means of naturally ventilating livestock buildings. Slots which are 3/4 inch to 1 inch wide run in the direction of the slope of the roof.

In new construction, the roofing sheets can be spaced during construction. Corrugations must turn up at the slots and this may mean laying the sheets upside down.

On all existing buildings with inadequate ventilation, the slots are made by cutting along the crest of the corrugation or the raised ribs in the roofing sheets.

The slotted roof concept has considerable merit, especially to improve ventilation in a poorly ventilated building. If you are interested in the slotted roof design, contact the Extension Office. We would be happy to help you work out the details.

Marilyn Loudenslager is the agriculture agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Corn Borers — Second Brood Now:

Watch for second brood corn borer larva to be hatching now. Look for egg masses on the undersides of leaves on 10 plants in each of five different areas of the field. Also look for white spots from early feeding on the small larvae that may have just hatched and are feeding on the leaves.

Count the number of these second generation egg masses you see on the plants. The threshold for treatment is when 50 percent of the plants have egg masses or when the first early feeding damage is seen. Treatment should occur within one to three days from the date black heads appear on the borer egg masses.

On this second brood, aerial spraying with a liquid is recommended. A partial list would be: Larsban at 1 qt., 4 lb/1 gal EC (1 lb active) per acre. Pydrin at 8 qt., 2.4 lb/gal EC (0.15 active) per acre. Sevin at 1 1/2 qt., 4 lb/gal F, 1 7/8 lb 80 percent wp, or 3 qt/50 percent wp (1.5 lb active) per acre.

Watch for Mexican bean beetle:

A Clinton County farmer brought in a single white bean plant that contained at least five yellowish, 3' inch long, miniature porcupines — Mexican bean beetles.

They overwinter in rubbish or in woodlands near bean fields. They leave their winter quarters in the spring and the females lay their eggs on the underside of the bean leaves. These hatch in 5 to 14 days into the larva that feed on the underside of the bean leaves. They grow rapidly and reach full growth in 20-35 days. The larva then attaches itself to the underside of the leaf and changes to a pupa, or inactive stage. After 10 days or so the adult beetle emerges. In two weeks the female is ready to deposit eggs for another brood. Treatment guideline: where 1/4 or more of foliage has been damaged by leaf feeding insects, predominately Mexican bean beetles or where there are one or more adult bean beetles per plant in established plants.

Controls: A wide variety of insecticides are recommended; contact the Extension office for a list of chemicals.

Toxic hotline — 1-800-MI-TOXIC:

The Michigan Dept. of Health has established a toll-free toxic and health hotline that will provide citizens with help regarding identification of toxic substances in the environment and ways of reducing human exposure. In addition, callers can get tips on product use and storage, advice on actual and potential human exposure to toxic substances. The hotline is not for use in medical, police or fire emergencies. The hotline is available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Remember this hotline number is 1-800-MI-TOXIC.

Drain system doubles as an irrigation system

The idea of installing a field drainage system that can double as a crop irrigation system is attracting substantial interest in Michigan.

The merit and effect of subirrigation will be shown Saturday, Aug. 19, in Gratiot County by Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service agricultural engineers.

The subsurface irrigation field day will be held at the Moore Seed Farms, a quarter of a mile south of Bannister on Barry Road. Walking tours begin at 9:30 and 11 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m.

MSU Extension agricultural engineers began conducting corn and soybean research at the 39-acre site this spring. The system was installed last August.

Bud Belcher, George Merva, and Ted Loudon, the MSU Extension agricultural engineers in charge of the research, are looking for the best ways to provide subsurface drainage and trying to determine efficient subirrigation management guidelines.

The site is divided into four zones, each with a different water table management level. A 1.5-horsepower pump supplies about five gallons of water per minute per acre.

Lateral tubing spaced at 20-, 40- and 60-foot intervals gravity-feeds moisture to the crop root zone. The water level is controlled by headstands located at the lowest point in each subirrigation zone.

It costs about $150 to $300 more per acre to install a subirrigation system than to put in a field tile drainage system without irrigation capability. Overhead irrigation systems usually cost $350 per acre or more, depending on the type of system and the water source.

The subirrigation system cannot be used effectively in all soils, however.

"The soil must have a subsurface layer that is dense enough to keep downward water loss at a minimum. Yet the soil above the layer must be porous enough to permit moisture to spread sideways as evenly as possible," Belcher says.

"Subirrigation will work best in soil that has good drainage for the first three or four feet and then has a fairly impermeable layer of soil beneath that level," he says.

Generally, however, if a field needs drainage tile, a farmer should consider installing a subirrigation system. It would afford water control in two directions for a lot less money than tilling the field and then installing an overhead irrigation system.

During the subirrigation field day, the engineers will provide details about crop yield potential, cost of installing a subirrigation system, system operation requirements, and water requirements.

The event is free and open to the public.

Jim Ostrowski, St. Johns, again elected treasurer of Michigan Bean Commission

Jim Ostrowski, a shipper representative from St. Johns, was elected recently to his third term as treasurer of the Michigan Bean Commission.

Vice President of Valley

Marketing Cooperative in St. Johns, Ostrowski has been heavily involved in export and domestic marketing of Michigan dry beans.

Also elected at the annual meeting in Saginaw were Einer Thorlund Jr., Chairman, and Jim Sahr, Vice chairman. The new slate takes office on Sept. 1, 1986.

Soybean program to continue; no increase

Michigan soybean producers voted yes in a recent referendum to continue the soybean promotion program by a 70 percent to 30 percent margin, but voted no by a 56 percent to 44 percent margin on a request to increase the soybean checkoff from 1/2 cent per bushel to a full one cent per bushel.

"I think this vote is generally going to have a positive impact on the soybean industry," said Bob Craig, manager of commodity activities and research for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "There is no question that Michian soybean producers are pleased with the job their association has been doing for them."

Craig said he thought the request for an assessment increase went down in part because of low commodity prices and the sluggish farm economy.

James Griffin

ST. JOHNS James Griffin, 2147 S. U.S. 27, St. Johns, died July 30, 1986, at his home.

He was born in Conway, Mich., on Oct. 6, 1903, the son of Charles and Alice (Duplain) Griffin.

He was married to Neva Kuhns in Petoskey on April 24, 1929. He moved to St. Johns from Petoskey in 1942.

He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and a lifetime member of the Knights of Columbus.

He was retired from Motor Wheel as a machine operator.

Surviving are his wife, Neva; one daughter, Orpha Lance of St. Johns; one twin sister, Jennie Foster of Petoskey; three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents, five brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph Catholic Church on Aug. 1, with the Rev. Fr. William Harker officiating. Interment was made at Chapel Hill Memorial Garden. Arrangements were made by Osgood Funeral Home.

Beatrice Wickwire

EUREKA Beatrice Wickwire, formerly of Eureka, died July 29, 1986, at Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor.

She was born in Bangor, Mich., on July 2, 1903, the daughter of the Rev. L.A. and Audie (Fausnaugh) Fisher.

She was married to Carl Brewbaker in Elsie on June 20, 1922. He preceded her in death in 1946. She was married to Paul Wickwire in 1949. He preceded her in death in 1973.

She was a member of the Church of God. She was a homemaker, and had resided most of her life in the Rochester Colony and Elsie areas.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Orville (Virginia) Devereaux of Jackson, and Mrs. Robert (Betty) Boog of Bannister; three sons, Donald Brewbaker of Corunna, Leon and wife Terry Brewbaker of St. Johns, and Rev. C. Duane Brewbaker and wife Ruth Mary of Lake Wales, Fla.; 20 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild; two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Levy and Mrs. Iva Garrett, both of Elsie. She was preceded in death by one daughter, June Brewbaker, one brother and one sister.

Funeral services were held at the First Church of God in St. Johns on Aug. 1 with the Rev. Dan Workman officiating. Interment was made at Riverside Cemetery. Arrangements were made by Osgood Funeral Home.

The family suggests contributions be made to Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor, or the C. Duane Brewbaker Endowment Fund for Christian Higher Education.

Virginia M. Morrow

MISSION, Texas Virginia M. Morrow, 65, of Mission, Texas, formerly of Wacousta and Grand Ledge, died July 26, 1986, in McAllen, Texas, after a short illness.

Mrs. Morrow was a retired employee of the Quality Farm and Fleet Company of Lansing, a member and past Worthy Matron of the Wacousta OES Chapter No. 133, a member of the St. Marks Methodist Church of McAllen, and a former member of the Wacousta Community United Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband, John; three sons and daughters-in-law, Donald and Evelyn Morrow of Wacousta, Gary and Janis Morrow of Holt, and Ernest and Sheri Morrow of Hillsboro, Texas; six grandchildren; two step-grandchildren; and one brother and his wife, Donald and Roberta Palsgrove of Vandalia, Ohio.

Services were held July 30 from the Peters & Murray Funeral Home, Grand Ledge, with the Rev. James Hynes of the Wacousta Community United Methodist Church officiating and OES services being conducted by Wacousta Chapter No. 133. Interment was in the Wacousta Cemetery.

Contributions to the University of Texas Cancer Research Center can be made through the funeral home.

Gwendolene Ellison

ST. JOHNS Gwendolene Ellison, Route 3, St. Johns, died July 28, 1986, at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

She was born in Owosso on Nov. 26, 1908, the daughter of Lee Mortimore and Myrtle Lavina (Preece) Millis.

She was married to Lyle Wilcox in Bannister in 1929. She was married to William Ellison in Flint on Dec. 13, 1953. He preceded her in death in 1975.

She graduated from Owosso Public Schools, and resided in Flint from 1930-1975 before moving to the St. Johns area.

She was a member of St. Johns Episcopal Church and the F.O. Eagles Auxiliary 2460 in Fenton. She was a telephone operator for Buick Motor in Flint. On July 1, 1982, she became the first nursing care patient to be moved into the new Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Charles (Joan) Rasdale of St.

Johns; one son, Max Wilcox of Mass City, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Isham and Mrs. Jean Neverman, both of Owosso; nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Osgood Funeral Home in St. Johns on July 30 with Pastor Merritt Bongard officiating. Interment was made in Eureka Cemetery. Arrangements were made by Osgood Funeral Home.

Cropsey issues report calling for tougher guidelines in sentencing

Tougher sentences will be a "giant step forward" in fighting crime, said Sen. Alan Cropsey last week.

Cropsey, chairman of the subcommittee on sentencing guidelines and a candidate for the Michigan Court of Appeals, recently released a new report with legislative recommendations on changes in the state's sentencing guidelines.

"We've worked on these recommendations for months, and I'm convinced they will make a very positive difference," said Cropsey. "Instituting tougher sentencing guidelines and other reforms will be a giant step forward in curbing the crime that continues to escalate."

The recommendations would allow judges to sentence convicted criminals outside the rules if there is sufficient cause, and would allow criminals who commit serious crimes to be imprisoned on a first offense. The subcommittee also recommends a legislative sentencing commission be formed with judges, law enforcement personnel, attorneys and crime victims updating sentencing guidelines periodically.

The reform calls for minimum mandatory sentences for certain heinous crimes and habitual offenders, and broadens judges' power to give consecutive sentences to multiple offenders and parolees who commit felonies. Bail would also become tougher.

The proposed reforms also recommend certain serious juvenile crime be automatically waived to adult status, limited use of the insanity plea, and greater restitution to crime victims of both juvenile and adult offenders. Finally, the plan calls for a special committee to revise the criminal code by Dec. 1988.

"Obviously, these are recommendations and not mandates," Cropsey said. "But they are progressive, definitive actions we can take legislatively to have a real impact on crime."

Think about this...

This year alone, nearly 38,000 American women will die of breast cancer, and another 115,000 new cases will be diagnosed.

But with today's advanced technology, it doesn't have to be that way.

At Clinton Imaging & Diagnostic Center, we can provide you with the peace of mind you deserve. A simple procedure called mammography may detect breast disease and cancer in its very earliest stages. And that's when detection is most critical to successful treatment.

The cure rate for early detection is very high--97% survival after ten years.

Don't become a statistic. Call your physician today for an appointment at the Clinton Imaging & Diagnostic Center... before it's too late.

Water District No. 1 Public Hearing

Notice of Public Hearing to be held August 12, 1986, 7:30 p.m., at Watertown Charter Township Complex, 12803 S. Wacosta Rd., Grand Ledge, 48837, for the purpose of considering Water District No. 1.

Water District No. 1 includes all properties fronting on W. Grand River Avenue from the Eastern boundary of Watertown township west to, and including, the John Henry Co., north on Felton Rd. 2,400 feet, and south on Industrial Parkway 1470 feet.

Preliminary plans and cost estimates will be on file with the Township Clerk for public examination beginning July 29, 1986. The offices are open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

The improvement shall not be made if the record owners of land constituting 20% of the total frontage of the district file their written objections thereto with the Township Board at or prior to the hearing.

Charlene M. Borgeson, Clerk

669-103 7/28, 29, 31/86

FOR SALE

In 1828 Philadelphia tried to sell the Liberty Bell for scrap but couldn't find a buyer.

PHENOMENON NOW!

Then, in 1776, Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence, saying "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

CREATE YOUR OWN Designer ICED COFFEE

These designer iced coffees are sleek, sophisticated and super-easy because they're made with instant coffee. From left to right: Creamy Coffee Soda, Spiced Brazilian Coffee and Apricot Coffee Frost.

Apricot Coffee Frost

- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup apricot or peach nectar*
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon Maxwell House regular or decaffeinated instant coffee
- Ice cream

*Or use pineapple juice and 1/4 cup sugar.

Combine milk, nectar, sugar and instant coffee in bowl. Beat with rotary beater or blend in electric blender until frothy. Top with scoop of ice cream and garnish with strawberry and peach, if desired. Makes about 2 cups or 4 servings.

Mocha Milkshake

- 1 cup cold water
- 2 teaspoons Maxwell House regular or decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 pint chocolate ice cream
- Ice cubes

Measure all ingredients into blender. Cover and blend 10 to 15 seconds. (Or beat all ingredients in mixing bowl with rotary beater.) Serve immediately over ice cubes in tall glasses. Makes about 2 2/3 cups or 3 or 4 servings.

Creamy Coffee Soda

- 1-1/2 teaspoons Maxwell House regular or decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1/2 cup (about) ice cream
- 1/2 cup (about) club soda or ginger ale, chilled

Measure instant coffee and sugar into tall glass. Add water and stir until coffee and sugar are dissolved. Add ice cream, stir in soda and serve at once. Garnish with a stemmed maraschino cherry and mint sprig, if desired. Makes about 1 cup or 1 serving.

If you're one of those savvy people who feel most comfortable in unique, designer clothing, then you'll really be turned on by this collection of stylish, designer-inspired summer drinks. They're smart, they're sleek, they're sophisticated. And they're super-easy. Once your ingredients are assembled, you can combine them in minutes. All use Maxwell House regular and decaffeinated instant coffee because, just as in designer clothing, quality shows.

The two important points about these cool summer sippers are their good taste and their versatility. Serve them practically anytime! Add a scoop of ice cream or sherbet, if this suits your mood, and serve with spoons as well as straws.

The Creamy Coffee Soda, Mocha Milkshake, Spiced Brazilian Coffee and Apricot Coffee Frost make excellent substitutes for formal desserts. The Coffee Collins is a spirited, irresistible, any-time drink. Serve in tall, tall glasses or bold glass tankards. Lavish with whipped topping, if you like, and pass around a box of rich chocolates or indulgent cookies for added luxury. Now that's style!

Spiced Brazilian Coffee

- 1 square Baker's unsweetened chocolate
- 2 cups Maxwell House regular or decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- Dash of nutmeg or allspice
- 1-1/2 cups milk
- 1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Heat chocolate and coffee in saucepan over very low heat, stirring constantly until chocolate is melted and mixture is smooth. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add sugar and spices. Gradually stir in milk. Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. (Beat with rotary beater to blend, if necessary.) Remove from heat; add vanilla. Cool or pour over crushed ice in tall glasses. Top with whipped topping and chocolate curls, if desired. Makes 3 3/4 cups or 6 servings.

NOTE: Recipe may be doubled.

Coffee Collins

(not pictured)

- 2 teaspoons superfine granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon Maxwell House regular or decaffeinated instant coffee
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1 egg white
- 1 ounce rum, vodka or gin
- Ice cubes or crushed ice
- Ginger ale, chilled

Combine sugar, instant coffee, water and egg white in small shaker or bowl. Shake or beat until coffee and sugar are dissolved. Stir in rum. Pour over ice in tall glass; fill glass with ginger ale and stir. Makes about 1 cup or 1 serving.

Perfect Iced Coffee

- 1/4 cup Maxwell House regular or decaffeinated instant coffee
- 4 cups water
- Ice cubes or crushed ice

Place instant coffee in pitcher or coffee server. Add a small amount of the water and mix well. Gradually add remaining water, stirring well. (This helps prevent excessive foaming.) Pour over ice in tall glasses. Serve with cream and sugar, if desired. Makes 4 cups or 4 servings.

For 1 serving, use 1 rounded teaspoon instant coffee and 1 cup water.

For 16 servings, use 1 cup instant coffee (2-oz. jar) and 1 gallon water.

CREATE YOUR OWN SPECIAL SIGNATURE DESIGNER COFFEES

Here are some special ideas that will make these coffees uniquely yours:

USE COFFEE ICE CUBES—for more pronounced flavor. Use 1 tablespoon instant coffee per cup of cold water and stir. Pour into ice cube trays and freeze.

VARY YOUR SWEETENERS—try honey, brown sugar, maple syrup, grenadine syrup.

For after-dinner iced coffee drinks, add a splash of liqueur—creme de cacao, for instance.

GARNISH WITH GLAMOUR—your own little touches add individuality and charm—a sprig of mint, a slice of fruit on the rim of the glass, a whole, ripe strawberry on a skewer, a dollop or two of whipped topping.

USE STYLISH GLASSWARE—while the traditional iced coffee glass is a tall, slim one, use a variety of smart-looking glassware—big glass mugs, double old-fashioned glasses, oversized balloon glasses, tall champagne flutes.
