'...to listen to farmers'

USDA head Richard Lyng visits St. Johns

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng was in St. Johns last Thursday with U.S. Rep. William Schuette for a visit the congressman said was intended mainly to give Lyng a chance to listen to farmers.

While in the area, Lyng held a brief press conference at the Countrymark Farm Center in St. Johns, met with Schuette's agriculture advisory council, attended a hog roast and endorsed Schuette for re-election to the 10th District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Lyng's endorsement of Schuette was made despite the fact that the two do not agree on every aspect of the nation's agriculture policy, Lyng said.

"The main thrust of the day was to listen to farmers," said Schuette.

While at Countrymark, Lyng said:

- The trend to larger corporate farms and fewer family farms has slowed.

- "I think there was more of that in the '70s when there was rapid inflation," Lyng said.

- He sees no need for more restrictions on the import of agricultural products into the U.S.

- "We don't import that much that competes with our production," he said.

- The elimination of producer assessments and a drop in the price of fuel will compensate for a drop in the support price of dairy products.

Jim Ostrowski, secretary of the Michigan Bean Commission was among those who listened to Lyng's comments at Countrymark.

"I don't know if I buy it," he said when asked about Lyng's remarks about the family farm. "You can ask a lot of family farmers who are going out of business and I don't know if they'll buy it."

Ostrowski said the current farm situation will weed out financially weaker farmers while those in strong financial situations will survive.

ST. JOHNS farmer Lee Thelen asked Lyng if the agriculture department intends to take any action on a 10 cent per bushel "in-charge" at grain elevators.

"It automatically costs you 10 cents a bushel to do business with them," Thelen said. "I claimed it was starting to be a monopoly."

A Lyng aide took Thelen's name and address, saying the department would contact him later with a response. Thelen said he has been contacted several times in the past by agriculture department officials in response to questions he has had.

"They'll call," he said. Has he been satisfied with the answers in the past?

"No, they're political," said Thelen, "but at least they're answers."

U.S. SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE Richard Lyng appeared with U.S. Rep. William Schuette at Countrymark Farm Center in St. Johns last week.

SCHUETTE, asked on Friday about which areas he and Lyng do not agree on, said he favors a more aggressive effort to expand the export of agricultural products, tightened quality standards for exported grain, accelerating the deficiency payments for farmers, and legislation to relieve the shortage of grain storage space.

Schuette said he has proposed two bills to relieve the storage shortage. One bill would provide for "early direct entry for farmers into the farmer-owned reserve" so they will not have to wait nine months for payment.

The other bill, he said, would provide for loans from the agriculture department to producers who need storage facilities.

DONALD ALBOSTA, who is seeking to regain the 10th District congressional seat he lost to Schuette four years ago, said in a press release dated the day before Lyng's visit to the area that "the farm policies of this administration, first under John Block and now under Richard Lyng, have been disastrous."

"We spend more and more billions of dollars every year in farm subsidy payments, mostly going to large corporations, yet farm income and land value continues to plummet," said Albosta. "The decrease in farm land prices from $2,000 an acre to $500 is white collar crime."

"I would like to ask the secretary of agriculture how he can justify a system that pays massive amounts of money to a small group to increase production while we have a huge surplus."

Following complaints of misuse

Park board recommends locking park at night

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

About 25 residents of the area around St. Johns City Park appeared before the Parks and Recreation Board on Aug. 18 to tell of dangerous driving, beer drinking and marijuana smoking by teenagers in and around the park.

After hearing the comments of the residents, the board voted to recommend to city commissioners that the park gates be locked from 10:30 p.m. until 7 a.m., the hours the park is officially closed, for a trial period ending in December.

The board also recommended that the city investigate the possibility of increasing the lighting in some areas of the park.

Also discussed was the idea of having the city "abandon" Parkview Drive so that it could become part of the park and subject to the park rules. Currently it is a city street and therefore can not be closed at night.

Although abandonment of the street was not part of the recommendation, City Administrator Diane Edwards said city administrators would investigate that possibility and report their findings to city commissioners. The investigation will include finding out how much money the city would lose in state road maintenance funds and whether law enforcement could be improved by the change.

THE RESIDENTS said careless driving, including screeching tires and excessive speed by teenagers "cruising" the park and nearby streets, poses a danger to the children who live in the area.

"There are a lot of little kids on Morton Street and we're afraid one of them is going to get killed," said Douglas Poff, another resident of the area.

One woman said she witnessed a car exiting the park flip over from excessive speed. In the car were teenagers who had been drinking, she said. On another occasion she witnessed a car exiting the park with four teenagers clinging to the roof and hood, she said.

Residents said the park has become a nighttime hangout for teenagers, some of whom smoke marijuana, drink beer, swear, play radios loudly and drive recklessly.

"The park has been allowed to become an attractive place for teenagers to hang out," said Vicki Messinger, a resident of Morton Street. "We want to make it less attractive for them...."

"THE KIDS come out after the lights are out, after the game is over," said resident James Cain.

"You know they're drinking because you can hear the cans and bottles when they're there."

Some of the residents proposed closing the park to traffic. Others suggested that doing so would be a hardship to elderly and handicapped people who use the park and asked only that for enforcement of the 10:30 p.m. closing of the park.

City Administrator Edwards said the park has not been locked at night for a number of years, partially because city officials were trying to minimize vandalism at the park. Locking the park gates could encourage walk-in traffic at night and makes police patrols more difficult, it was believed when the decision was made not to lock the gates at night.

The residents also questioned how effectively city police enforce park hours, rules against drinking alcohol in the park and laws against marijuana possession.

"They can go through the park as many times as they want but if they don't get out of their cars and make some arrests or ask them to move on, then they might as well stay out of the park," said Nancy Poff.

St. Johns Police Chief Lyle French said city police do enforce the law to the best of their ability and said parents should take more responsibility for the behavior of their teenagers.

"I CAN'T put all my eggs in one basket," he said. "I can't put all my officers in the park."

French said other areas of the city have the problem of speeding and that youths also congregate in the downtown area.

"It's not an isolated area," he said. "It's all over town."

City Commissioner James Parr, who also sits on the parks and recreation board, said many of the ideas mentioned at the meeting — more police patrols and enforcement, more lighting, regulating through traffic on Morton Street, enforcement of park hours — would have increased costs attached to them.

"Most of this — I can see dollar signs," said Parr, adding that the city will have to complete several other projects in the next few years.

However, he said, the concerns expressed by the residents would be communicated to city commissioners, both formally in the recommendation and informally.

"I know it's not going to solve it for this summer but we'll try to set up something for maybe this fall," Parr said.

"The solution is going to lie in more enforcement, possibly more arrests, and more publicity that they're really cracking down," said parks and recreation board member Kurt Becker.

Board member Joy Tennent noted that the recommendation to city commissioners addressed the concerns of residents regarding activity in the park at night but did not address concerns about daytime traffic and speeding. She encouraged fellow board members to try to come up with "creative solutions" to those problems.

The St. Johns Lioness Club raises funds with a book: School Days and Memories

When the St. Johns Lioness Club decided to hold a fund raiser, the members wanted to do something different.

And although a Chicago publishing company had approached them with the idea of printing a cookbook, they did not figure another cookbook was what the community needed. So they asked the company for another idea — and the end result is School Days and Memories, a book that parents can use to keep a complete record of the children's school days.

The book contains spaces to record medical and immunization data, school work and projects, fingerprints and missing child information — everything under the sun to keep important information and memories intact.

"So the parent has a complete little mini-record of their child," says Ann Beauchamp, president of the Lioness Club.

The book will sell for $3 each, with the proceeds all going back to the community in club projects.

Projects the club has supported in the past include the B.A.B.E.S. drug education program, the Lion's Club All-State Band, the R.A.V.E. domestic assault program, Reading is Fundamental, the Quest program at Rodney B. Wilson Middle School, and the Clinton County Day Treatment Program.

"We also look toward individuals in need," says Beauchamp.

For instance, the club has purchased glasses, orthopedic shoes, clothing and Christmas goods for individuals who might have otherwise gone without.

In order to publish the book, the club solicited local businesses for advertising. The response — $2,045 in revenue from 43 different businesses — far exceeded the expectations of the club members.

"I was really impressed with the support of the businessmen," says Beauchamp. "They responded so well, the membership was just amazed — and appreciative."

The club will start with 350 books and can have more printed as is warranted by the demand for the books.

School Days and Memories will be available soon in local stores and will be sold by individual Lioness Club members.

For information about purchasing a copy of the book, call Peg Feeman at 224-7259 or Caroline Spitzley at 224-3519.

LIONESS CLUB — Ann Beauchamp displays the book the Lioness Club will sell as a fundraiser.

Cropsey endorsement is unfair to labor

To the Editor:
 What an insult our state Senator Alan Cropsey gave to all the hard working people of our area.
 Cropsey did not endorse two candidates for the appellate court only because they were being endorsed by the union. (Clinton County News dated Aug. 12, 1986.)
 I believe the true test of competency should have evolved from the candidates' qualifications.
 Once more, Cropsey has publicly shown his true feelings toward the hard workers in our area, blue and white collar alike.
 These workers sell us food, (Kroger employees), they sell us clothes, (Fisher Big Wheel), they protect us, (the State Police), make our cars, (Olds and Fisher body employees), manufacture parts for cars, (Federal Mogul and Schmelzers of St. Johns), court workers, state workers of many professions, health care workers, (nurses, and aids at Clinton Memorial Hospital), and our teachers, all represented by a union, not to forget all the other non-union laborers that share our common goals of a safe work place with reasonable working conditions and fair compensation. A clean environment that includes safe drinking water and non-polluted air for us all. The right to all of our basic freedoms including equal rights to women and all of our citizens.

 Unlike Cropsey, the unions believe that all segments of our society should be represented and we are grateful that the wise citizens of Michigan have seen fit not to elect Cropsey to such an important non-partisan position for which he obviously is not qualified.
 Thank you.

Pornography is a grim picture, facts show

To the editor:
 We live in a time when people seem to have no sense of what's wrong and what's right. Everyone seems to be looking out for number one — themselves!
 Please, don't get me wrong — there are many kind and loving people out there. I guess, they are who this letter is to.
 My husband and I are on the board of the local chapter of the National Federation for Decency. I would like to take a few minutes to give you some facts and figures concerning pornography and child sexual abuse.
 Did you know:
 • That the telephone number for Dial-a-Porn is on virtually every playground in the United States?
 • That there are 250 kiddie porn magazines on the market?
 • That the Rene Guyon Society, based in Calif., has a membership of 8,500? They boast on their letterhead, "Sex by eight or it's too late." Their membership is conditional upon proof that one has deflowered a little girl before her eighth birthday! How would they prove such an act unless it was witnessed or filmed?
 • That it's not just runaways who suffer the abuse? Some wish they could run away! How does an eight-month old baby with gonorrhea of the throat run from perverse parents? How do four and five year olds run from parents who sexually misuse them in front of a camera and then sell the pictures to smut peddlers?
 • That there is a child seducer's manual titled "Lust for Fun?" It shows in detail how to entice a little girl from a schoolyard or playground, take her home, undress her, have sex with her and then be able to hide all traces that you, or anyone else, had ever abused her.
 • That one out of every four girls in America will be sexually assaulted in her lifetime?
 • That pornography is an eight billion dollar a year racket? And that it is often linked to organized crime?
 • That each sex magazine costs about fifty cents to produce, but sells for from two dollars to $12.50 each? That's a markup of 600-1,200 percent.
 • That a single crime syndicate family put up $25,000 to produce the obscene movie "Deep Throat" in 1973? Profits have already exceeded $25 million and they are still growing!
 • That a professional survey reveals that only four percent of the movie makers ever attend church? Don't be surprised that 93 percent of them approve of homosexuality and 87 percent find no fault with adultery. Producers and writers for television entertainment have a very similar record.
 • That America's children watch television more than six hours a day? Last year, in prime time, four out of five couples they saw go to bed together were not husband and wife.
 • That pornography creates an addiction and goes from bad to worse, with no point of toleration?
 • That this continues to go on because good men, good women, good ministers, good doctors and good lawyers refuse to get involved? You need to know that in not making a decision to help you've made a decision to allow this disease to spread!
 I beg you to get involved. Attend the next NFD meeting in our area. Pray for the pornographers, the innocent children, the many, many victims that are involved. Pray for your children and my children. Pray that the laws will be tougher on the pornographers. Help in any way you can!
 View our video "Victims of Pornography." It is now available to the public. You can view it in the privacy of your own home, with your church group, organization, etc. There is no cost involved and we will send a couple of our board members to show it and to try to answer your questions. Call us today at 224-8358 or 224-4227 to reserve a date for the video.
 I will close with this:
 Wrong is wrong even if you don't get caught.
 Wrong is wrong even if others are doing worse things.
 Wrong is wrong even if it no longer bothers your conscience.
 Wrong is wrong even if it is commonly considered acceptable.
 There is never a right way to do a wrong!
 Please don't wait for this tragedy to strike you or yours — get involved today!

Subject: LABOR DAY
 We are part of an agriculture system that you may consider a wonder of the world. Countless products, abundantly available, are a marvel of nutrition, convenience, good taste and LABOR. Which, by the way, is today's topic... "LABOR DAY".
 Machinists say the father of Labor Day was their own Matthew Maguire, himself a machinist. Not so, retorts the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. They say Labor Day was founded by Peter McGuire, who was ... of course ... a carpenter.
 History records that in 1882, Peter McGuire suggested a national holiday to honor the country's working people. In September of that same year, workers staged the very first Labor Day parade in New York City. Some 10,000 people attended the event.
 In 1887, Oregon became the first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday. Legislation creating Labor Day as a national holiday swept through Congress by voice vote and was signed into law by President Grover Cleveland in 1894.
 The average labor standards have come a long way since then. We've got more people working, and making more money, than ever before in our history ... about 100,000,000 at last count.
 This week when you're shopping for your holiday needs here at Beck's remember, our average employee is way above average ... Have a happy and safe Labor Day weekend.

Editor's notes

Christmas in August

Rich Wertz

Like most people who write things, I have moments at which the idea of writing something about the changing seasons seems an attractive idea. You know that sort of sonorous indulgence — something like, "Now gone is the summer sun that shone upon our lazy fun and here again is autumn, this time of colors and gently falling leaves, the harbinger of winter's frigid breath."
 Smirk.
 I usually repress such impulses.
 Not this time. I've already heard people talking about how summer is almost over so I decided to really get into the spirit of things.

WELL, summer is almost over, time to start thinking about Christmas. Soon the icy wind, having freed itself at last from its temporary captivity, will howl down from the frozen north bearing gifts of snow and mornings when the car won't start.
 And we, huddled in our winter homes, will prepare for our mid-winter celebration of peace and hope. Frost will form on the windows as warm kitchens fill with the aroma of baking mince pies and gingerbread, turkeys and dressing, mashed potatoes and an occasional TV dinner.
 Yes, I remember Christmas past. The tree has been cut and dragged across the snowy meadow, trailing children yipping with delight who ignore the cold that makes their faces red. Father trims the tree and mounts it in its stand. Sisters have returned from the attic with the red and gold and green ornaments, the little Santa Clauses and angels, the strings of tiny lights.
 The tree is positioned with its best side forward.

Soon it is transformed from a simple pine tree into a thing of gaudy beauty, glistening with color and the promise of everything you ever wanted waiting on the Christmas morning.
 Only one thing remains. The moment has come at last when the tree must be crowned. An object, shiny and red and pointed on top, is removed from its box and carefully unwrapped.
 "Not that one," says Mother. "It looks like a martian."
 Then the usual discussion. The star or the angel? The angel is prettier but it always rests crooked atop the tree. Okay, the star it is. Little brother made it in school, so it is better than anything bought in a store, even if its orange and black colors (Little brother was "trying to be different.") bespeak more of Halloween than Christmas.
 The pine needles are swept from the carpet. Let the season begin.

Yup, summer is almost over. Merry Christmas.

Fouch-Baird
Reside in East Lansing

Lisa Renae Baird and James Robert Fouch exchanged wedding vows on July 26 at Bath Baptist Church. The ceremony was held at 2 p.m. and was officiated by the Rev. Richard Cole.

The bride is the daughter of Stanley and Pat Baird, 2273 E. Howe Rd., DeWitt. The groom is the son of William and Natalie Fouch, 8650 State Rd., East Lansing.

Special music was performed by Shelly Gleason who sang "Live Your Life In Us," "With This Ring," and "You're My Inspiration."

For her wedding the bride wore a white chantilly lace wedding gown over taffeta, featuring a wedding ring collar of silk venise lace and pearls and yoke of pointed-spirite. ## Ashley looks to go further in girls b-ball this season

If you were a state semi-finalist in girls basketball last year, what goals would you set for yourself this year?

To be state finalists, of course. That's what the girls basketball team from Ashley hopes to accomplish in the 1986 season, and if 360 practice days a year doesn't do it, one has to wonder what will.

Actually, to be truthful, Coach Carl Wayer's only real goal is to "win one or two more games than last year." However, should those wins occur during state tournament play neither Coach Wayer, nor the team, nor the entire population of Ashley would complain about it.

"I'd like to think we won't lose six games again this year," the coach said of his team's 21-6 final record in 1985. "That's the most games we've lost in years."

The 21-6 ending was good for first place in the Mid-State Athletic Conference, and carried the team into the state semi-finals. All of their six losses were by very close margins.

Coach Wayer's "still young" 1986 Bears team consists of two seniors, six juniors, and four sophomores, with the top six players returning seeing a lot of playing time last season.

Lori Haruska and Theresa Fabus, both 5'8" senior forwards, were all-conference selections last year, and have a good shot at all-state status this year. Fabus was an all-state honorable mention last season.

Haruska averaged 10 points, 7 rebounds, and 3 assists a game last year, and according to Coach Wayer is one of the "best defensive players ever at Ashley."

With almost identical statistics from a year ago, 10 points, 9 rebounds, and 3 assists, Fabus will certainly be a threat to all opponents on the court again this season.

In addition to Haruska and Fabus, the Bears have a number of other returnees back:

Lisa Wingle, 5'8" junior center; Jamie Plesko, 5'7" junior forward; Chaunda Shaw, 5'3" sophomore guard; Sherry Kral, 5'3" sophomore guard; and Sheila Keck, 5'5" sophomore forward.

"We will be very small size-wise again this year," Coach Wayer said, "and will have to rely on pressure defense and transition offense to be successful. The key to the season may rest in the hands of the other players on the team. At least two of them will have to develop to give us some help off the bench."

With all their players returning from last year, Webberville will be the team to beat in the Mid-State Conference again this year according to Coach Wayer.

Besides having coached the girls basketball team for the past 12 years, Wayer also is the Principal of Ashley High School. His record at Ashley, and his career record, stands at 186 wins and 55 losses.

Practice makes perfect.

Hendricks new Bears coach

Although he may be a rookie head coach at Ashley, Sherm Hendricks is not a newcomer to the game of football by any stretch of the imagination.

Coach Hendricks has been with the Ashley school system for the past 21 years, serving as assistant football coach twice during that time. He hopes to build a winning attitude among players on the Bears team, leading them to improve on their 1-5 league record from last season.

"We should be strong defensively," Hendricks said, "and have depth in the backfield. Our problem area lies in our offensive line — we have to learn how to move people out of the way."

Six returning senior starters from last year will aid the young Bears in their quest for a winning record:

Duane Schneider saw action last year as a halfback and linebacker, and will return to those positions this year. Rick Saylor, who saw duty as a defensive halfback and running back last year, will be the starting quarterback for Ashley this season.

Mike Morris and Todd Anderson will also be in the Bears backfield, with Ken Johnston as noseguard and Todd Carriero as guard/linebacker shoring up the defense.

Hendricks expects contributions from halfbacks Aaron Burk and Tom Lamey during the course of the season, with both adding even more depth to the Bears backfield.

"Basically we need work on blocking fundamentals," the coach said, "but the kids are working at learning that."

The coach looks for Byron and Dansville to be the teams to beat in the Mid-State Athletic Conference in 1986.

"They both beat us handily last year, and should be even bigger and stronger this season," he said.

Coach Hendricks played and coached football at both the high school and college levels before coming into the Ashley system. He hopes to use that knowledge along with his familiarity of Ashley to build a "positive team attitude."

"I've worked with kids all my life," he said, "and think I know how to handle them. I'm enjoying this (coaching) immensely."

Redwings smell success in fall air

There was something in the air at the annual Red/White scrimmage and picture night at St. Johns High School last Friday evening. Something distinctive — like leaves burning on an autumn night, or hot dogs roasting on a fall bonfire. What was it that all the parents on Frank Buck Field could sense? A winning football team. It's true. The Redwings have all the makings of a winning football squad as they enter their 1986 season. The players know it to be true, the parents feel it could be true, and the coaches — the coaches aren't really saying anything. They're just kind of standing back, smiling a little, like they know something nobody else does. Eventhough he won't come right out and say it, Coach Bart Kjolhede in his second year at St. Johns, gives the impression that the ingredients are right for the making of an exceptional football season.

That's something Redwing fans are hungry for. "We do have depth," Coach Kjolhede said. "Our offense looks good. We averaged 285 yards a game last year, and look better this year. Right now, defense is our biggest concern." Jerry Duwell, who started the final two games at quarterback in 1985, will start in that position for the Redwings this year. Dwight Pierson and Zane Ballard will be quick in the running back spots, and Bill Keenoy should sparkle this season even more than last year.

"Our defense is stronger than last year, and our offensive line is better," Kjolhede said. "We should be all right. If we're aggressive, we won't get hurt. It's when players get tentative and slow down, that problems occur."

The coach is looking toward his team's scrimmage at Jackson High School tomorrow (Aug. 27) to see how they will fare against tough, Class A competition. The varsity will play at 6:30 in a triangular scrimmage with Bay City Central, Birmingham Brother Rice and Jackson Lumen Christi.

"We'll have our hands full," he said. The coach also knows that the Redwings schedule is not exactly a piece of cake. Opening with home games against non-conference teams Owosso and Waverly will not be easy.

Coach Kjolhede also thinks the Mid-Michigan B league will be "tougher" this year, and more evenly balanced. Chesaning, Ionia, and Alma all look good this season, but all are beatable. The year-round weight training program which Kjolhede has his athletes take part in, has developed some well-conditioned Redwings. They should be ready, willing, and able when the season begins on Sept. 5.

Coach Swears foresees a tough road for Redwings

They would like to repeat as champions in the Mid-Michigan B girls basketball conference. They would like to go further than the opening game of districts in the Class A state tournament. They would like to play with the skill and win with the ease that the 19-2 Redwing team did in 1985-86. But can they? Coach Beth Swears knows she has her work cut out for her if she hopes her St. Johns girls basketball team can achieve the things they would like to in this basketball season.

Not that this year's edition lacks in talent, ability and intensity — they have all that.

They do not have Brenda Eiseler and Mary Murphy from last season's championship team. Both were graduating seniors.

"We will miss them, there's no doubt about that," Swears said. "The ball handling ability of Murphy will be especially hard to replace."

Returning as starters from last year are Kerry Porter, playing the wing position, and Karen Simon at forward. Both are seniors.

Other players from the 1985-86 team who did not start, but who will see action this year are Angie Pung, Chris Barnhart, Shelly Langlois, and Brenda Schafer. Barnhart sustained an ankle injury during practice last week and will be out of the line-up for sometime, which does not help the Redwing cause at all.

"We really need to stay injury-free," Coach Swears said of her 11-player roster. "We simply can't afford to be hurt."

Coach Swears expects junior varsity players from last year to add to her Redwings' hopes for this year. Ginny Schneider and Anne Brocker are among the new varsity team members who should see a lot of playing time this year.

Ovid-Elsie, ("they're always up for us,") Ionia, ("it's really tough to play there,") and Chesaning, ("they should be stronger this year,") are MMB conference teams Coach Swears notes will be teams to beat this year.

The Redwings home opener, and first regular season game, is set for Sept. 9 against Lansing Eastern. "It should be interesting," the coach said.

SJ golf season is short but action-packed in MMB

It may be a very short season, just seven weeks from the opening match through state finals, but the Redwing golf team packs a lot of matches into that amount of time.

The Redwings open on Sept. 3 with a home match versus Holt, and play as many as three matches a week from then through mid-October. They would like to score well in their opening match, and even better by the time they play in the state regional match on Oct. 10-11 at Eldorado, Holt's home course.

Coached by Paul Sternburgh, St. Johns plays all their home matches at the Clinton County Country Club and also practices there.

"The course is in good shape," Sternburgh said. "They take real good care of it. It's a definite advantage for us to be playing both Alma and Chesaning on our home course this year — they should be the teams to watch for in the league."

The Redwings finished third in the Mid-Michigan B conference last year, and will return three of their starters from that squad. Juniors Jeff Dean and Todd Kiem, and sophomore Paul Hughes will be key players for St. Johns again in 1986.

The loss of Jim Tiechert, who was top man for the Redwings last year but moved from St. Johns this summer, will put a damper on the squad's chances to be first in the league.

"He (Tiechert) was our most consistent player, averaging 38 to 39 in match play last year," Coach Sternburgh said. "His not being here will set us back, no doubt."

The golf team, consisting of 13 players both Varsity and junior varsity, travels as a squad to almost all the matches on the schedule. The MMB denotes the top five scorers as "varsity" players with the remainder as the "junior varsity", but all scores are counted and everyone gets a chance to play in the league meets.

The conference meet will be held this year at Twin Oaks with Ovid-Elsie as the host team. Conference scoring in golf is similar to swimming and track with 50 percent of a team's final standing based on conference record, and 50 percent coming at the league meet itself. If the sport remains a fall one, Sternburgh would like to see the conference and regional meets moved up earlier in the season.

"Playing in 45 degree weather with a wet snow coming down is not a true test of a golfer," the coach said. Cold, wet conditions have been a bane to many good golf scores as the season winds to a close.

Whatever the conditions, Coach Sternburgh is glad that he and his team can play holes five through eight at the Country Club on a daily basis, and not as a visiting team.

"Those four holes can make a telling difference in the end result of a golf match — and of a golfer's score," the coach said. "I'm glad they're on our home course."

Veteran coach aids Eagles in CMAC basketball race

A veteran coach who knows his players, and excellent basketball tradition will form the foundation for the girls basketball team at Fowler High School in 1986-87.

Tom O'Rourke returns for his 13th year of coaching in the Fowler school system, bringing with him a knowledge of the sport and of how that sport is played in the Fowler area. That should help the Eagles over some rough spots that may develop with the loss of five seniors from last year's squad.

"Basically, it's a whole new unit to work with," O'Rourke said. "Sometimes it's tough just finding the person they want to pass the ball to."

"If we can stay healthy and improve, we will be in the upper half of the league."

Fowler finished second to Potterville in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference last year, and O'Rourke expects them to be the team to beat again this season.

"They (Potterville) have their all-state guard back," he said. "Pewamo-Westphalia also is returning most of their team from last year. Both should have excellent teams."

Senior Amy Witgen is the lone returning starter at guard for the Eagles. She will be helped by three other players who did not start, but did see action last year: Kim Epkey and Teresa Feldpausch, both seniors, and Mary Kay Jandernoa, a junior.

"We will try to balance our action between players," Coach O'Rourke said, adding that Feldpausch could be a "big plus" if she stays healthy. She was sidelined with injuries for much of the past two seasons.

The coach will also look to Mary Jo Simon and Lisa

Farley, who played on the junior varsity last year, to play a big part in the success of this year's Eagle team. Simon was the leading scorer and Farley the leading rebounder for the J.V.s last year.

The Fowler group started their summer practices the first week in July and have been working four hours a day in practices since then.

"These girls put in a lot of hours in practice time each year," O'Rourke said. "We're hoping it pays off."

Fowler football returns quality, tradition

Fowler High School football. The term is synonymous with quality, tradition, overall excellence in terms of program and staff, and above all — winning football games.

The 1985 season for the Eagle football team, under the guidance of Head Coach Steve Spicer, was a banner year for the senior dominated squad.

Central Michigan Athletic Conference champions. Participants in the Class D State playoffs. Stunning 10-1 overall season record. Five All-league recipients, and one All-State winner.

It will be a tough act for the 1986 team to follow. Fortunately for them, they can rely on the quality, tradition, and excellence to help them over the rough spots, just as it has for so many other Fowler teams in the past.

They also have a coach who has been around for 18 years, accumulating a record of 112-28-1 in that time span, and a group of die-hard fans who would follow the team anywhere.

"We look like a team that lost 19 starters," Coach Spicer said during a practice session last week. "We have a long way to go."

Helping the Eagles in their quest to retain the CMAC crown will be three returning senior starters from the 1985 team: Rex Thelen, offensive back and linebacker, a tough, quick athlete, he has size and quickness; Joe Simon, defensive tackle and off tackle, a smart player who knows his position well; and Jay Bancroft, defensive tackle, with good size and strength.

Other senior players coming back in 1986 are: Curtis Feldpausch, offensive and defensive back; Kurt Simon, offensive end; Ted Myers, offensive end; Bruce Feldpausch, offensive and defensive back; Randy Theis, offensive guard and defensive end; and Jon Spitzley, center and defensive end.

Quarterbacking the Eagles this year will be Matt Hufnagel, a junior up from the junior varsity squad. He will be backed up by Jim Andros, senior at Fowler this year.

Coach Spicer expects to get help from other juniors on the team as the season progresses, and as they learn the ropes from the returning seniors and coaching staff.

"Our goal is always to play as well as we can," Spicer says. "We feel if we can do that, we will be successful." A simple philosophy that serves all of Coach Spicer's players well during the season, and more importantly, one which they can continue to use long after their playing days at Fowler High School are over.

The coach sees the CMAC conference as "very competitive" for the upcoming football season, with a number of teams able to challenge for the top spot.

"The top two teams should be Pewamo-Westphalia and Laingsburg," he said. "Both have a number of key people returning. Two teams that could challenge are Potterville and Fulton, who also have good groups of starters back from last year."

Quality, tradition, and excellence. Good luck, Coach.

Pirates return 11 brawlers in CMAC

Anyone who is interested in talking to an enthusiastic football coach should have a little chat with Kurt Mabie, Head Coach of the Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates.

Coach Mabie is eager for the 1986 football season to begin, and he makes no excuses to anyone about his reasons why.

His reasons come in the shape of 11, count 'em Spud, 11 returning varsity players from the 1985 roster.

They're all fairly large, too, with a starting line averaging 6'1", 200 pounds.

You can hear the thunder already as the Pirate horde hopes to trample their foes into submission.

"If somebody beats us, they're going to know that they've been in a football game," Coach Mabie says.

Sounds ominous.

Among the returning starters are: Jeff Wirth, halfback; Andy Schrader, off tackle; Dave Stump, quarterback; Terry Evans, linebacker; Chris Hearld, defensive lineman; and Pat Heckman, cornerback.

The senior orientated team has "worked extremely hard," according to Coach Mabie. Most players began training last November, following the end of the 1985 season, with a weight program which the team employed throughout the off season.

"There's no reason why we can't be in the thick of the running for the CMAC title," Mabie said. "The seniors have been a good leadership class for the younger players. They are very smart."

With a third place finish in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference last year, Coach Mabie looks for improvement on his team's 5-4 overall record. He picks Laingsburg and Fowler to be tough in the CMAC this year.

"Our attitude is good, and the team has been working hard," the coach said. "With the experience that the seniors have, we've been able to concentrate on bringing our younger kids into playing capacity. They all know what they can do."

In his ninth season of coaching, and second year as head coach at P-W, Coach Mabie knows the road ahead won't be overly easy. They will have to play hard to win in the CMAC and in their non-conference games.

"We have a tough schedule," Mabie said. "With the exception of Ithaca, all of our non-conference games are with Class B schools."

The coach will have a chance to see how his squad performs in a pre-season scrimmage planned for Aug. 28 with Ithaca and Central Montcalm at Ithaca.

"The kids are enthusiastic and have heart — it will take a lot for them to lose that," Mabie said. "I'm looking forward to the season."

Challenge for Pirate golfers

They were Class C state champions in golf in 1985, but it will be an uphill battle for the Pewamo-Westphalia golf team to repeat that feat in 1986.

Not an impossibility, but a definite challenge.

All five of the members of the State Championship team graduated, with just senior Joe Platte returning off the 1985 varsity team. He did not play in the state meet, but will certainly be a mainstay for Coach Duane Blatt this season.

"We've got some good golfers coming up," Blatt said, "some are quite promising. They knew when they signed up for the team that it would take a lot of practice and hard work for them to improve their scores enough to play, and they have worked toward that all summer."

Besides Platte, Coach Blatt will look for help from juniors Dan Smith, Scott Platte, Dane Hengesbach, and Richie Thelen to bolster the Pirates' match scores. He expects the low six men to vary somewhat from week to week on his 11 man squad.

The Pirates play their home matches at the Portland Country Club where they will host their first home meet on Sept. 10 against Laingsburg. They open their season at Waverly on Sept. 2, and hope to still be playing on Oct. 18 when the state meet begins at Kimberly Oaks in St. Charles.

"We're familiar with Kimberly Oaks and also with Valley View where our regional will be played," Blatt said, "so that will be an advantage for us. It's hard to say how well we will do this year without the tournament experience that the boys who won last year had."

What they lack in the way of experience, the Pirate golfers should make up for with their dedication in practice and their desire to be as good as the 1985 team.

The fact that they have a coach with an excellent record should not hurt their chances to do well either.

Blatt has an overall dual meet coaching record of 63-8 with 26 tournament wins, two regional wins, and six CMAC league championships to his credit. His teams have been state runners-up in Class C once, and he has coached two teams all the way to State Championship crowns.

All that in seven years as golf coach at Pewamo-Westphalia. Never say it can't be done to a German from P-W.

Two juniors who will return from last season's squad are Sandy Simon, 5'8" forward who averaged 8.3 points and 7.7 rebounds last season, and Amy Hengesbach, 5'8" forward who should get a lot of playing time this year.

Players up from the junior varsity are juniors Tonya Klein, 5'4" guard; Katrina Sptizley, 5'4" guard; Janean Thelen, 5'4" guard; and Vicki Schneider, 5'5" forward.

Two sophomores on the team are Sheryl Thelen, 5'4" guard who started the last half of last year, and Kerri Nurenberg, 5'4" guard who will also see playing time this year.

Coach Rademacher is hopeful that her team can better it's fifth place finish in the CMAC last year, and improve on their 3-7 league mark. She picks Potterville to be the strong team in the conference again this year, with Fowler, St. Pats, and Fulton all looking good too.

Bill Werner will be a first year coach at the junior varsity level for the Pirates this year, with a freshman team also in place for the first time at Pewamo-Westphalia. That group will be coached by Donna Heckman, a former player at P-W.

The girls basketball program definitely looks strong in Pirate-land.

Other seniors who saw actions off the bench last year are: Rhonda Heckman, 5'5" forward; Lori Rademacher, 5'5" guard; and Lori Heckman, 5'5" forward.

Fulton girls look strong in tough CMAC b-ball league

It's been said before, and it will undoubtedly be said many times again.

The Central Michigan Athletic Conference is as tough a league for girls sports as any small-town conference in the state.

Nobody knows that better than Ron Merriott, head coach of the girls basketball at Fulton High School.

"It's a tough league for all girls sports," Merriott said. "There just seems to always be a lot of excellent female athletes in the CMAC. It's difficult to compete in this conference."

Merriott's 1985-86 team posted a 5-5 CMAC record, good for third place, but were 16-6 overall. That means they lost just one game to a non-conference opponent.

Not too shabby. Eventhough Coach Merriott lost three starters to graduation, including All-Conference, All-Area member Tricia Todd, he is hopeful for his teams chances to perform well this season.

"We definitely have a chance to compete," the coach said. "Our main task will be to find a replacement for the 'take charge' person. It will be hard to fill the void left by Todd, Stoudt, and Welsh."

Returning starters from the Pirate line-up last year are senior forward Michelle Weller and senior guard Janice Kresge. Also coming back this year will be seniors Sue Root at forward, Kelly Upham at guard, and Deb Waldrun at forward.

Coach Merriott will look for help from juniors Dee Gardner and Lori Helman, both of whom should see action as forward/centers, as will Joan Gallagher. Sheila Miller and Kim Friesen, both junior guards, will also be called upon to come to the Pirates' aid.

In Merriott's estimation, last year's State Champs

Potterville, looks like the team to be on top in the CMAC again this season. Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia also look strong in the eyes of the coach.

In his 15th season of coaching one sport or another, six as the girls varsity coach, Merriott is pleased with his team's attitude and their ability.

"They're a good bunch, with good talent — just good kids," he said.

Good luck in the CMAC, coach.

Hardworking crew returns at Fulton

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

Experienced. Tough. Hardworking. All adjectives which could be used to describe the varsity football team at Fulton High school in 1986.

Add to that one very important noun. Seniors.

The Pirates will suit up eight of the them in their opening home game on Sept. 5 with Breckenridge.

That's a fact that pleases Coach Leo Rosencrants very much.

"This is a good group of hard-working seniors," Rosencrants said. "Size wise, our first 12 men are as big a group as any team we've had in quite a few years."

The list of returning starters for the Pirates should give other Central Michigan Athletic Conference coaches a reason to stop and think when they face

Fulton during the course of the season.

All-league tailback Don Price showed friend and foe alike he had the stamina to carry would-be tacklers for a few more yards than he was supposed to last year. Also an all-league choice, Tod Waldrun, will assume the duties of quarterback in 1986.

"They have all worked real hard so far in practice," Coach Rosencrants said. "I'd also like to give credit to my assistant coach Ken Sherrick, and to our junior varsity coaches Rob Zimmer and Greg Dodge. They've all done a super job."

Finishing this year above their record of 4-5 in 1985, is the main goal of the coach at the start of the 1986 season.

He would also like to improve upon their 2-3 CMAC mark of a year ago.

"Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia look strong again this year," Rosencrants said. "It's as competitive a league as you'd want to have to play in. There's a lot of good football played."

In his fourth year as head coach at Fulton, Rosencrants is anxious to see how his team will do in a pre-season scrimmage scheduled for Aug. 29 with teams from Saranac, Evart, and Morley Stanwood. The scrimmage will be played at Saranac.

"I'm looking forward to a successful season," the coach said.

1986-87 OVID-ELSIE BOYS GOLF — The Marauders boys golf team is coached by Sid Keys.

O-E golf coach adds pizzazz

It took some doing, but Ovid-Elsie Athletic Director Bob Foreback, got himself a Class A golf coach in the person of Sid Keys from Elsie.

At age 79, Keys will undertake high school coaching duties for the first time in his life.

However, that fact has no bearing on his ability to teach young golfers all they need to know to improve their game, and maybe just move the Marauders up from the basement in the Mid-Michigan B in 1986.

Keys has been an avid golfer for the past 60 years and has some very definite opinions on how the sport should be played.

"You've got to relax and have fun," Coach Keys says, "and if you can't enjoy it — don't play."

With some help from their mentor, and some practice time at Twin Oaks which the O-E team calls home, the young golf team may boast a winning record in the MMB this year. Juniors James Garlock, Lee McCallister, and Brad Walker return from last year's squad, and all "look good" according to their coach.

Sophomores Terry Good and Mike Price also return from the 1985 team and should aid the Marauders cause.

"I saw the boys play for the first time on Monday," Keys said, "and played with a different group each day after that. I tried to show them a few things that could help them."

"After one round of 18 holes, one of them came up to me and said, 'Mr. Keys, that's the best round I've ever had.' He shot a 42-39."

Ovid-Elsie opens their season with a non-conference match at Laingsburg on Sept. 2, and will play their first home match on Sept. 16 versus MMB rival St. Johns.

"They tell me that Chesaning and Alma are good teams in our league," Keys said. "I really don't know how well our boys will do. We'll just have to see."

If they can win on coaches' attitude and experience, the 1986 Marauders should have it made.

Editor's note: A personality profile of Coach Keys appears on page 14A of the paper.

Back row: Dave Holley, Chris Good, Mark Burl, Chad Bush, Troy Wooley, Rick Coleman, Walt Knickerbocker, Troy Zell, Coaches Bowles and Martin.

Marauders are dark horses in MMB

Watch out Mid-Michigan B football teams. The Marauders from Ovid-Elsie aren't about to lie down and play dead for anybody this season.

Dennis Baratonio, in his second year as Head Coach at Ovid-Elsie, has some rather big plans in the making for his team in 1986 — and for years down the road.

"Our main goal is to improve on our conference record," Baratonio said, "and eventually contend for the MMB title."

The coach knows that Marauder fans were somewhat disappointed with their team's 0-5 conference mark last year, but with practice and patience he has brought the 1986 squad a long way from that record.

For one thing, Ovid-Elsie will return 11 lettermen from last year's team, whose 3-6 overall record was better than it seems to indicate on paper. Six of the returnees started on defense, and five on offense, with the offensive backfield as the main strength of this year's team.

Senior Bob Foreback will return as quarterback and defensive back. He earned all-conference honors for his work as a defensive back last season, with quickness and excellent timing.

Also returning in the backfield are seniors Neil Putnam and Rich Stutzman. Both will see action both ways, Putnam as a defensive linebacker and Stutzman at in-vert.

The right side of the offensive line should be another strong point for the Marauders with three starters returning to those positions: Steve Palatka at center, Troy Wooley at guard, and Bert Leland at tackle. They, along with tight end Chad Bush, should see considerable playing time.

Weak spots in the Ovid-Elsie game may be found in the punting and place kicking categories, with the left side of the offensive line and defensive lines also question marks in Coach Baratonio's playbook.

"The league is really interesting this year," Coach Baratonio said. "We know that we will improve, and expect Chesaning as defending champs to be good. Alma, St. Johns, and Ionia appear stronger, and Corunna has an excellent backfield. The race could be tight."

The coach knows his team must score from inside the 20 yard line this year if they want to post a winning record, and be more consistent offensively.

"If we can continue to improve, kick the football, and be as strong defensively as we are quick and aggressive, we will be a factor in the MMB."

1986-87 OVID-ELSIE VARSITY BASKETBALL — The Marauders varsity basketball team is coached by Bob Lamey. Junior varsity coach is Doug Long.

It's a new, old, coach for Lady Marauders in 1986

Bob Laney, the new varsity basketball coach for the Ovid-Elsie girls team this year, has some rather big shoes to fill.

Those of Mary Hudacek, who stepped down from the head spot at the end of the 1985-86 season after coaching in that capacity for eight years.

Coach Hudacek left the Marauders with a career coaching record of 119-54, including five district titles, and regional honors in 1983 and 1984.

Laney knows it won't be an easy task.

Still, he is optimistic about his team's chances to be strong in the Mid-Michigan B conference in 1986, and hopes to finish as well as the second place berth that last year's squad claimed.

"I feel liked I've raised these girls," Laney said. "I've coached some of them since junior high."

Coach Laney had served as the Junior Varsity coach at Ovid-Elsie for the past five years, and has been coaching in the O-E school system for 14 years. His overall record stands at 84-43.

The loss of All-State, all-conference center Shelby Terpstra will surely be felt by the Marauders this season. Terpstra graduated last year.

Returning starters for O-E are Cheryl Batora and Jami Martin, both senior forwards. Also returning from the 1985-86 team are Courtney Schneider, senior center, Carrie Darling, junior guard, Sheila Platner, senior guard, and Ginny Woodbury, senior forward.

They will be aided by players moving up from the ranks of the junior varsity: Bonnie Patrick, Kristin Gibbons, Tracy Pohl, Julie Houska, and Denise Thering.

Coach Laney picks St. Johns, MMB league champion last year, and Chesaning as the teams to beat in the conference this year.

"St. Johns may have lost some players," Laney said, "but they're always tough to play."

"I'm just really enjoying working with the girls at the Varsity level. They are all hard workers and I feel we can compete successfully with the other teams in the league. I'm looking forward to the start of the season."

SID KEYS The new golf coach at Ovid-Elsie High School has a lot of good stories to tell, and a few tricks to teach to his young charges. The Elsie area resident began his golf instructions last week at Twin Oaks Golf Course.

Marauders bag a great golf instructor in Sid Keys

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

The new golf coach at Ovid-Elsie High School admits he's never coached a golf team before, but team members need not worry that the coach doesn't know his stuff.

Sid Keys has been playing golf for 60 years. "I've never coached a golf team, but I've coached a lot of players — coached them 'til they beat me," the new coach who turned 79 on Aug. 6 said of his new position. "It's fun working with kids."

Keys, who was born in St. Johns and graduated from Elsie High School in 1927, has a wide range of information on golf — and a variety of other topics as well.

The former Dodge dealer in Elsie helps out with the summer golf leagues at Twin Oaks Golf Course north of St. Johns, golfs everyday, and just recently won the senior league club tournament at that golf course.

"Everyday's a holiday," the 0-E coach says, and he plans on living each day to the fullest as "long as the Lord wants me to."

"All my grandparents were long-lived," he said. "They've lived to be 95, 88, and 97½."

COACH KEYS RECALLS how he used to work with youth in his younger days, and reminisced about one well-remembered outing.

"I took a group of Boy Scouts down to see Babe Ruth when he hit his 700th home run in Detroit," he said.

"One of them was Fred Carter — he's from Elsie, and he went on to be an All-American at M.S.U."

"I always contrived to be in town (Detroit) when the Yankees came to play," he said.

Keys also worked with the Civil Air Patrol "during and after the War," and was Assistant Commander of Cadets for Michigan at one time.

The seven-handicapper spends his winter in Florida visiting children and grandchildren, and of course, playing golf. He enjoys playing at other courses around the area, but likes Twin Oaks best.

"It's just like going out with a strange woman," he said. "Fun to go out and play, but home's the best."

HOME IS WITH wife, Neva, a former Clinton County News correspondent from Elsie. Now suffering with heart trouble, he feels badly that she cannot be as active as before.

Alot of professional golfers have come and gone during Key's lifetime, and he's seen quite a few of them play.

"I've been to the Buick Open often, and to the Doral Open," Keys said. "I remember watching the National Open at the Canterbury course in Cleveland in 1946: Lloyd Mangrum won in a playoff with Byron Nelson. They both missed a two foot putt on the 72nd hole that would have won it for either of them."

As far as any tips that he would give to aspiring young golfers, Coach Keys has the answer:

"Take some lessons from a good pro, and practice — a lot of practice — learn the mechanics of the game," he says. "Most boys pick up a golf club like a baseball bat. You can't do that!"

"You've got to grip it right, swing it right, get your timing right — and above all — don't look up. Relax and have fun," he says.

Some days the old pro can go out and have nine putts for nine holes, and other days he will go out and have "twenty-four."

"It's a great game," Keys said. "It can deflate your ego in a hurry. You can be on top of the world, and the next minute, in the bottom of a pit."

Coach Sid Keys.

The Marauder golf team is very lucky to have him as their coach this year.

Skywriter tour

Rhonda Westfall

So, this is what it feels like to be a "big time" sportswriter.

Weary.

It wasn't exactly on par with the Skywriters Tour where writers from various papers tour Big Ten schools by air each fall, previewing football teams.

I didn't have an airplane to travel in. Although having access to one would have been helpful at times last week.

And, I wasn't greeted with a press luncheon at any stop.

But, I did visit all six high schools which are covered during the sports seasons by The Clinton County News to talk to the coaches about their football, girls basketball, and golf teams.

It was all part of the Fall Sports Preview, found on pages 8-13 of today's paper.

It was tiresome at times, but the end result was well worth the effort.

Each school is unique in the way that it handles its athletic programs. Each does things just a little bit differently from the others. Each stop, (sometimes it took more than one stop to get the story) was honestly enjoyable because every coach really cares about his individual kids and overall program.

Here's a brief recap of last week's Clinton County tour:

ASHLEY ON MONDAY Picture Day for the girls basketball and football teams was scheduled for last Monday at Ashley High School. Besides getting the team pictures, I had an opportunity to meet the coaches. Carl Wayer for basketball and Sherm Hendricks coaching football.

Ashley runs a Class A athletic program in a Class D size school. Look for the Bears to be strong again this year in basketball — they're a dedicated bunch.

IT WAS UP TO the Clinton County Country Club early Tuesday morning to talk to Paul Sternburgh, coach of the St. Johns golf team. Coach Sternburgh always has some interesting comments to make about this and that — not always related to the sport he happens to be coaching during any particular season.

It was a beautiful morning for golfing — the St. Johns team is lucky to have such a fine facility to practice at and call their "home course."

Tuesday evening I travelled to Fowler to take pictures of the girls basketball team, where they were hard at work at the Waldron Middle School. Coach O'Rourke and his girls, as well as the boys team, play their home games in the Piggott gym there.

Watch out for Fowler — could be a sleeper in the CMAC.

OID-ELSIE was the county stop on Wednesday for a quick picture of the football team. Head Coach Dennis Baratono is a no-nonsense football coach. Short on words, he puts out a fine pre-season press packet which says it all.

THURSDAY WAS lots of fun. Trips to Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia (football), St. Johns High School (tennis), and Twin Oaks (0-E golf) filled the day.

Fowler Coach Steve Spicer has to be one of the nicest guys around. He always has time, always is willing to talk and says what needs to be said in as few words as necessary. No ramblings about the greatness of his team from Coach Spicer. He knows his job, his players, and what he expects from them and himself.

Exuberant has to be the word for P-W Coach Kurt Mabie. This guy must just love life — he definitely loves his football team. The Pirates will be tough to beat this season.

Probably the high point of the whole week was my visit with Sid Keys, new golf coach for Ovid-Elsie. I could have listened to him for hours. For some interesting comments, check the story on this page about Sid.

THE TOUR ended on Friday, another big day, with trips to St. Johns (girls basketball), 0-E again (girls basketball), Fulton (football and basketball), Portland Country Club (P-W golf), and ending with Picture Night for the football teams at St. Johns High School.

Redwing girls coach Beth Swears had been down with the flu all week, so she had a lot of catching up to do with her team. Still, she took time for a picture and a few words about the Redwings prospects this season. Knowing that her substitute coach during her illness was the "other" Coach Swears, one can understand her wanting to get back to practice.

Ovid-Elsie has a new, old, basketball coach this season in the form of Bob Laney. New to head coaching duties, but old to the 0-E system. He knows his players well — they should do just fine under his direction.

Things are looking up at Fulton. They've had some real glory years in the past, and under the guidance of new athletic director Gerald McVannel the Pirates could see some good years ahead. Football coach Leo Rosencrants and basketball coach Ron Merriott can both be counted on to do their best for Fulton teams.

I enjoyed the ride over to Portland Country Club to meet the Class C State Champion golf coach Duane Blatt. It's easy to see why the P-W golf team has amassed its championship record. Coach Blatt expects his team to work.

Picture Night at SJHS was a treat — lovely evening for football. Coach Bart Kjolhede, the junior varsity and freshman coaching staffs have some real winners in their Redwing teams this year. There will be some fine football played in St. Johns in 1986.

That was it. Busy week, but a fun one. As you've noticed, no mention was made of tennis, cross country or swimming teams. Time and space made coverage of all sports an impossibility in one week.

It's back on the road to get the scoop on all these teams for next week's edition.

More Tylenol, please.

Area coaches expect good things from new ball size

If it seems that girls are able to handle the basketball better during the upcoming 1986-87 season, it may be because they can handle it easier.

All girls teams will be using a smaller, lighter ball in games at the high school, junior high, and elementary levels this year.

The ruling for a smaller sized ball was adopted in 1985, but because of various problems, the official starting date for its use was delayed until the 1986 season. It's use is welcomed by all high school coaches who have seen the difference it has made in play at the college level where the small size ball has been used for two years.

"It only makes sense," said Pewamo-Westphalia coach Carol Rademacher. "Especially at the junior high level, the smaller ball will be helpful for young players to learn correct shooting form. I think you will see improvements in play more in future years than during this season."

That sentiment is shared by all the Clinton County coaches who agree that there have been no dramatic differences in scoring or playing skills in the short amount of time that their players have used the ball so far.

"I can't really see a huge difference," said Tom O'Rourke, head coach of the Fowler Eagles. "People who were good ball handlers are still good ball handlers. It's not going to make anybody good who wasn't already."

"One area that we have noticed a difference is in passing," O'Rourke said. "Passes are more accurate, and the girls can get more speed on the ball."

The new ball is smaller, but not really noticeably so until players have used one or the other for some time. The circumference of the new ball is 28½-29" compared to the men's ball which has a circumference of 29½-30". In terms of weight, the ladies ball may be from 18-20 ounces, while the mens is 20-22 ounces.

Another area that several coaches have noticed improvement is in range of shooting.

"The girls have more confidence in shooting from the outside," said Coach Carl Wayer from Ashley. "Our kids have been using it all winter and summer, so they're accustomed to it by now. It's too small for me—I throw bricks up there with it."

Coach Ron Merriott from Fulton also notes an improvement in shooting, and expects that "shooting will continue to improve as the girls get used to the size."

One thing that all the coaches agreed on was that their teams liked the new ball size.

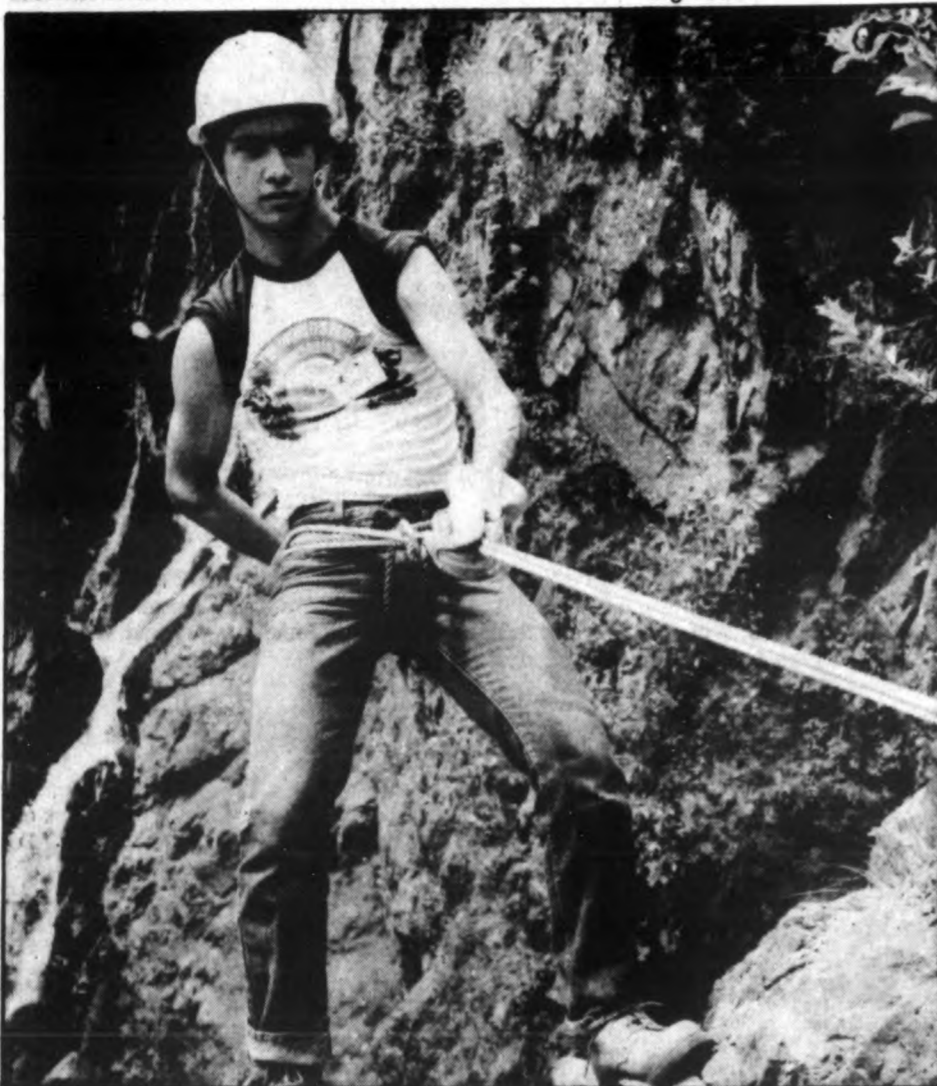

"They really feel more comfortable with this size," said Coach Bob Laney of Ovid-Elsie.

St. Johns coach Beth Swears feels that is true for her team also.

"There aren't many girls who have hands the size of a fellows," she says. "I'd like to see them use the new ball for boys elementary teams also. At least for the real young ones. It would help them to learn proper shooting form instead of heaving the ball up there."

BALL HANDLING should be better in girls basketball this season with the smaller sized basketball being used.

RICK BREWBAKER learned the technique of rappelling during his stay at Michigan Technological University.

Brewbaker learns at MTU

Rick Brewbaker of St. Johns took part in the mountaineering and orienteering exploration in the Summer Youth Program held recently at Michigan Technological University, Houghton, Mich.

pellung is one of the techniques used for traveling down cliffs using ropes.

Brewbaker was one of 1,200 junior and senior high school students attending the 14th annual Summer Youth Program at Michigan Tech which was held this year from July 6-Aug. 2. Students in the program have the opportunity to participate in one of the 47 week-long explorations focusing on exploring careers and developing new skills through laboratory, classroom and field experiences.

Each exploration is directed by a Michigan Tech faculty member or another specialist in the different areas of study.

The son of Kim and Cindy Brewbaker, Rick is a senior at St. Johns High School where he participates in drama and band. He also is involved in 4-H.

Big, little slow-pitch is planned

Clinton County Big Brother/Big Sisters board and staff will take on the Greater Lansing Bigs and Littles in a slow pitch softball game on Sept. 13 at 1 p.m. at the St. Johns City Park field.

Persons interested in playing or serving as umpires should contact Jody Smith at 224-8552 or 224-6419. Jennifer Sell will serve as coach for the Clinton County team. Extra equipment (bats, gloves, etc.) is also needed.

The public is invited and encouraged to come and cheer on the Clinton County bigs and littles.

Community Education soccer starts Sept. 3; parent volunteers needed

An expanded St. Johns Community Education Youth Soccer League returns this fall, with 300 youths expected to participate this year compared to 200 last year.

That is the result of the creation of two different divisions, allowing six and seventh graders to play soccer this year. One division is for second through fourth grades; the other division is for fifth through seventh grades.

Previously, there was only one division for second through fifth grades.

One side effect of the expanded program, however, is that parents are desperately needed to help coach and officiate games.

"We'll train 'em," says John Furry, director of community education. "The primary requisite is they have to be interested in working with kids in an enjoyable activity."

Interested parents should call the community education number listed at the end of this article.

The games will be played on Sunday afternoons at 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The first game will be on Sept. 14.

The registration fee is $10. The fee covers the cost of a T-shirt and the expenses of running the program.

Registration will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 3, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Students should register at whichever public elementary school they attend. St. Joseph School and Eureka Christian School students may register at their respective schools.

Six and seventh grade students should register at the sites where they last played.

The $10 fee is payable at registration.

For your information — Individuals who have reached old age are truly superior people! They survived birth at a time when the rate of infant mortality was high. They lived through childhood diseases before vaccinations and inoculations were given routinely and antibiotics was not even a word. They met the temptations and frustrations of young adulthood, the heartaches and failures of middle age...without group therapy, without analysis. They struggled through two world wars, and kept their households together through depression, inflation, recession, and the cold war.

Old age turns out to be the only thing they cannot overcome. Time brings the inevitable physical and/or mental changes that will not allow them to live alone.

Although only about five percent of the aged over 65 are nursing home residents, one out of five older persons will spend some time in an intermediate care facility during their lifetime. Generally these are people who can no longer take care of themselves and no longer want to live alone since they have limited social support.

Females outnumber males four to one. Since our opening in June 1982 Findlay Country Manor has admitted and cared for over 268 of these elderly and deserving individuals.

Flooded family in Bath files lawsuit

By MARLYN HESS
Staff Writer

Marvin and Joyce Breedlove of Bath are serious about trying to get compensation for flooding damage to their land that they say is the fault of two state agencies. They are so serious that they've filed charges in the court of claims against the Department of Natural Resources, the Department of Transportation, the Clinton County Drain Commissioner, and Holloway Construction Company.

According to Breedlove's attorney, Jane Means, a suit seeking damages was filed July 31. The Breedloves had set a deadline of Aug. 1 to see if the problem could be resolved outside of a court settlement.

The Breedloves own 48 acres near Upton and State roads. It is adjacent to the DNR's Rose Lake Wildlife Station. The Bath family, which raises horses on the land, says water that has flooded their basement and ruined pasture land is coming from Rose Lake because the DNR has dammed the lake to such a high level.

They also charge that the highway department, and contractors Holloway Construction, are funneling water from the I-69 construction site onto the Breedlove's land from the opposite direction.

As for the Rose Lake issue, Drain Commissioner Arden Pierson has been trying to work out a settlement with the DNR whereby a new way would be found for the water to drain from the area. The DNR was to get the necessary flooding easements from nearby landowners in order for a drain to be built. Don Inman, environmental enforcement officer with the DNR, says that up until the time the suit was filed, the DNR was still trying to get those easements.

"We also had prepared a document agreeing to let the drain commissioner dig a ditch across state land to help drain Breedlove's property. But now we're in a holding pattern pending the litigation."

Besides constructing a new drainage system, the other option to solve the flooding problem would be for the state to buy the land from the Breedloves, so that the dam could be kept high (which is a benefit to the wildlife and some property owners who are on the lake) without destroying personal property on the adjacent low lands.

Means says she and her clients feel the state has actually already taken over their land by covering it with water, and that the Breedloves should be compensated. The legal term for this is inverse condemnation. Inman refused to comment on the possibility of the state claiming the land and paying for it.

"More people would be helped if the state of Michigan would just assume the land," Means says, "my clients are just asking for compensation and fairness in this issue."

Some nearby residents favor that option, and would be opposed to a new drain being put in since the water level would go down. LaVern Lambert, Mimi

Lawrence, and Larry Charness all say only the Breedloves are bothered by the water and that they enjoy using the lake as it is.

But Pierson is still hopeful that an arrangement could be worked out with the DNR so a new drain can be put in.

Home canning

Dawn Harris

The first publication on home canning was issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in 1909. We've come a long way since then, thanks to continuing research.

When we use up-to-date home canning recommendations, we can be confident that our products will be safe to eat. Many home canners, however, are using old instructions with outdated methods. A good example is oven canning, which is no longer considered to be a safe canning method.

Likewise, old instructions for water bath processing of low acid foods — vegetables, meats, fish, poultry — are not safe. To destroy the bacteria that cause botulism poisoning, these low acid foods must be processed in a pressure canner.

Recent research has led to changes in USDA canning recommendations just within the past year or two. For example, the recommended processing time for applesauce has been lengthened, and recommendations for canning strained squash and pumpkin were dropped because of safety concerns.

Tomato canning recommendations have undergone much change in recent years. Until researchers can determine adequate processing times, the raw packed method is no longer recommended and processing times for the hot pack method have been lengthened.

Because home canning recommendations continue to change, it is crucial to have current instructions. Check the date on the references you are using. The "Ball Blue Book" was last revised in 1984. Look for a 1983 copyright on the latest "Kerr Home Canning and Freezing Book."

You may want to request extension bulletin E1555, "Home canning fruits, vegetables, pickles, jams and jellies" from the county extension office. There is a 50 cent charge for the publication. An investment in up-to-date canning references can cut food spoilage and prevent food poisoning.

Dawn Harris is the home economist for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Sprouted wheat

Giles Roehl

According to Larry Copeland, of the MSU crop and soil department, there should be no particular concern about using seed from diseased (scab, glume blotch, etc.) wheat that has been properly harvested, conditioned, and treated. Growers should beware of using sprouted seed lots.

Wet weather just prior to harvest caused varying degrees of sprouting again this year, particularly in the soft white varieties. Because of low yields and high screen-outs during cleaning, seed growers will wish to save every possible lot for seed. The risk of using border-line sprouted seed lots should be recognized.

By careful processing and use of gravity cleaners, it is often possible to eliminate enough of the badly sprouted seeds in such lots to meet certification standards (90 percent). However, even though the immediate germination may be adequate, the potential vigor and storability of such seed will be weakened. Our research shows that the laboratory germination of slightly sprouted seed lots may fall from 90 percent in September to as low as 60-70 percent six weeks later. In addition, seeds that do germinate in the laboratory have less trouble with winter survival.

Some seed lots with minimum levels of presprouting may be used but both seed producers and commercial wheat growers should recognize the risks involved and the hazards of using marginal lots that may germinate acceptably now but represent problems later.

Wheat growers and seed producers — Joseph Clayton, MSU botany and plant pathology dept., says seed producers and those saving this season's seed are urged to thoroughly clean seed lots. If scab infected seed is present, it may be necessary to "turn up the fan" to remove as much infected grain as possible.

All seed should be treated with a subtreatment fungicide. Vitavax 200 with Thiram or Vitavax 200 with Captan both have been shown superior to other fungicides for controlling scab seedling blight and seed-borne septoria in the fall. All seed being planted this fall should be treated with a slurry applicator to assure uniform coverage of the fungicide.

The corner garden — We finally got a chance to taste some of that extra sweet, sweet corn from our patch.

It has been a constant argument with the four-legged masked bandits (raccoon) about who maintained legal ownership of this year's crops. We tried many different tactics to keep the bandits out. Finally, one of the good gardeners said, "Try a radio in the patch at night. It makes coon think there is someone in there."

A stop at a rummage sale for a $1 radio and a long extension cord, plugged in at dark and unplugged in early morning, and we have sweet corn to eat! It's worth the effort.

Other methods used with varying success include electric fence around the patch and electric lights in the patch. Whatever you use, good luck! Nothing tastes as good as home-grown corn.

Giles Roehl is the director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Sherry Kast

Leaders proud of 4-Her

By DIANA JOHNSON
Clinton Caprine Reporter

Leaders Jim Roof and Mike Winn are very proud of their top 4-Her, Sherry Kast. They have watched her show all over the state this year and she has been able to place first in many of the shows.

Sherry Kast is the daughter of Don and Linda Kast of Ovid. She is 13 years old and an eighth grader at the Ovid Junior High. She has one sister, Becky, who is nine years old and who is also in 4-H and also takes an interest in dairy goats.

Sherry purchased her first dairy goat about five years ago and now she has five French Alpine dairy goats. She works hard at showmanship, this year being her best year yet — she has taken trophies and ribbons all over the state. Her father, Don, smiles very proudly as he shows off the trophies Sherry has received this year. Her mother, Linda, not only smiles but has tears in her eyes as she says it is all hard to believe.

What does her sister, Becky, think of all this?

"It's exciting," she says, "and I hope to do as well as Sherry has done someday."

Becky says she watches her sister a lot as she works with her goats.

Sherry placed first in the Junior division in showmanship at the County fair. This allowed her to participate in the County Showmanship Sweepstakes. Sherry placed first in the Junior Division.

As I talked to Sherry and her parents about the Sweepstakes challenge, I could tell this is a 4-Her who will go far. The excitement and the twinkle in Sherry's eyes told me the story I was about to uncover would remain history for her 4-H club.

In the past County fairs, Sherry said she was done showing her goats by Wednesday and she could relax and enjoy the rest of the fair, but this year her biggest challenge was about to begin. She would enter the Showmanship Sweepstakes. This, she said, would be exciting for she had never shown any other animal other than her dairy goats. In the Sweepstakes, 4-Hers show many different breeds of animals.

Two county 4-H clubs participate in MSU's Dairy Goat Days Aug. 16

By DIANA JOHNSON
Clinton Caprine Reporter

Dairy Goat Days at Michigan State University were held Saturday, Aug. 16, and two of Clinton County 4-H clubs took their best 4-Hers to participate in the show.

The two clubs were the Country Cousins, leader Jan Blizzard; and the Clinton Caprines, leader Mike Winn. The leaders took their top 4-Hers to enter showmanship classes and different breed classes.

Top 4-Hers from all over the state come to try their best and see if they could make it to the top. There were 70 4-Hers and 170 animals at the show.

Showmanship classes were held first with as many as 20 4-Hers in a division. Trophies were given for first place and ribbons to the top ten.

Senior Division — Cheryl Johnson, Clinton Caprines, eighth place.

Junior Division — Becky Blizzard, Country Cousins, first-place trophy; Sherry Kast, Clinton Caprines, second place; Sara Ingalls, Country Cousins, fourth place; James Wilson, Clinton Caprines, sixth place.

Beginning Division — Becky Kast, Clinton Caprines, fourth place;

Amy Winn, Clinton Caprines, eighth place.

Others who participated were Tina Schaub, Michael Johnson, and Nathaniel Wilson, all of the Clinton Caprines.

Those who placed as Champion or Reserve Champion in the breed classes are:

Lamancha — Laura Ingalls, Country Cousins, Grand Champion and Reserve Champion Jr. Kid; Amy Winn, Clinton Caprines, Reserve Champion five-year milker and Reserve Grand Champion over all.

Nubian — Cheryl Johnson, Clinton Caprines,

Champion Jr. Kid. Saanen — Becky Blizzard, Country Cousins, Champion five-year milker.

Alpines — Danny Blizzard, Country Cousins, Reserve Champion Jr. Kid. Others mixed breed — Sara Ingalls, Country Cousins, Grand Champion Jr. Doe.

The County Herd was done by Amy Winn and Sherry Kast of the Clinton Caprines and Danny Blizzard and Becky Blizzard of the Country Cousins, the county placed second out of the eight counties that participated.

BIG 10 alfalfa is the first variety to set an impressive 10-ton per acre world record for non-irrigated alfalfa.

BIG 10 was developed by one of the world's largest alfalfa seed companies and tested and confirmed by Dr. M.B. Tesar and his Michigan State University staff.

"... this is the highest documented two-year and three-year average research yield for non-irrigated alfalfa in the U.S. and in the world," notes Dr. Tesar.

BIG 10 doesn't stop with high-yield, however. It provides resistance to all the major alfalfa pests including bacterial wilt, anthracnose, phytophthora, and fusarium. It also incorporates very good seedling vigor and moderate winter hardiness, providing top tonnage for 3 to 5 years.

BIG 10 alfalfa gives you the best return for your investment today and is available exclusively at your nearest GREAT LAKES HYBRIDS dealer.

BIG 10 is now available coated with RIZO-KOTE PLUS APRON for improved emergence.

Agricultural news Computer management

Marilyn Loudenslager

Many good micro computer programs are becoming available to farmers at reasonable prices. Some programs I recently became aware of are the MicroTel Accountant through the Tel Farm program and the Dairytrak and Dairy Comp 305 Herd Management Software systems available through Michigan DHIA. The Microtel Accountant is an accounting system designed to take advantage of a farm microcomputer and Telfarm. On the farm, microtel provides an operating statement showing current month and year-to-date information; cash flow summaries; enterprise cost accounting to determine profit centers; vendor referencing needed for 1099 report preparation; transaction listing and sorting on a full audit trial. In addition to this, you get all the management reports and tax updates previously offered through the Tel Farm record keeping system.

Dairy Track provides the farmer with worksheets and reports for management of herd health, breeding and reproduction, milk production as well as culling and replacement. The Dairy Comp 305 is another software program available through the Michigan DHIA. This program was designed with dairymen in mind, keeping entry of data simple. This software package replaces the cow card record system; lets the dairy farmer define the management system best suited for their own records; and has complete DHI communications. What this means is that you can send barnsheet information, receive test results and initially load dairy information from the DHIA by computer to computer communication.

One of the nicest features about these software packages are that they all require the same hardware to run. Although memory requirements vary from program to program, you can run any one of the programs on a computer with the MS-Dos operating system with at least 256 K Random Access Memory (RAM). You should have dual disk drives or hard disk combinations. You will also want a 80 character per line printer with compressed print capabilities. In addition, you may want to consider a 1,200 baud modem to make transfer of information over the telephone lines possible.

For additional information on any of these software packages, feel free to call me at the Clinton County Extension Office.

Marilyn Loudenslager is the agriculture agent for the Clinton County Extension Service.

Countrymark reorganizes

Countrymark, formed in 1985 from a combination of Ohio Farmers Grain and Supply Assc., Landmark, Inc., and Agra Land Inc., has announced a restructuring of the management of the cooperative. An executive team was put in place to implement business combination agreements and assure smooth transition into a unified company when the merger was completed. The board and management, having studied the structure of the company, made the determination for changes which involves four who leave the company.

W. Loren Chalfin, Weldon Blanton, Clayton Johnson, and Robert Sherrer all will be eligible for early retirement or severance plans under the restructuring.

Leaders proud of Sherry Kast

Sherry said she had 24 hours to learn about showing the other animals. She talked with many leaders and other 4-Hers to learn about the showing of dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine, horses, and sheep. Sherry said she is generally nervous before her shows, but she felt she had absorbed as much knowledge as she could.

What did she think of showing other animals? Pigs were the funniest, but also the most difficult to control. Dairy cattle took the most concentration and skill in the moves that must be made with them in relationship to the position of the judge. After being with goats, she found them very large and powerful. Sherry says she now has a lot of respect for other showmen; it is not nearly as easy as it appears. She has learned a great deal and hopes to be able to try it again. She received a beautiful silver tray which she says she will treasure forever.

Sherry says she would like to thank all the leaders and 4-Hers who helped her out for without their support and encouragement this special award would not be possible.

Jiffy Muffler and Brake Shop open for business in St. Johns

The Jiffy Muffler and Brake Shop opened for business June 23 at 909 E. State St. in St. Johns.

Owner Lloyd Robbins said he opened his business in St. Johns after learning that there was no muffler shop in town. Although he has since learned that another muffler shop is expected to open here, he has heard from customers that they find patronizing his shop much more convenient than driving to Owosso or Lansing.

"I've had a lot of people tell me that I've saved them a lot of time and millage," he says. "Now that I'm in town I hope I can save them a trip."

Besides convenience, Robbins lists low prices and fast service as selling points for his business.

Customers can wait in a clean quiet waiting area equipped with a television while waiting for their cars, he says.

"We do most cars in 30 minutes," he says, adding, "I'm not a franchise so I can offer lower prices."

Jiffy Muffler also offers a year-around 10 percent discount to customers 65 years old and older.

Robbins says the goal of his business is to serve the community in any way he can. In addition to mufflers and brakes, the business is equipped to handle repairs such as front end work and spring replacement.

Used car buyers may have potential purchases checked out at Jiffy, Robbins adds.

For the time being the shop is a two man operation run by Robbins and manager Mark Zea. Eventually Robbins plans to hire a third mechanic.

All Jiffy mechanics are state certified, he says.

Robbins worked for Muffler Man in Lansing for eight and a half years before going into business for himself.

Jiffy Muffler and Brake Shop, 909 E. State St., St.

Johns, is open Monday to Friday 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Parr's Pharmacy has new look after renovations

Parr's Pharmacy, 201 N. Clinton Ave., St. Johns, has a new look this week, following several weeks of remodeling.

"We're trying to make a little more use of our space," said pharmacist James Parr. "That's how it all started anyway."

The remodeling was expected to be substantially done this week, but finishing touches will continue for several more weeks.

The pharmacy has been moved from the rear to along the north wall of the store. New carpet has been installed on that half of the store.

New fixtures have replaced the old ones, with the aisles running north-south now instead of west-west.

Parr said the business will increase its line of home medical supplies and durable medical equipment such as walkers, crutches and commodes.

Also planned are new coolers for milk and convenience foods.

"We're trying to expand in our cosmetics, too," said Parr.

Signs above the aisles will make it easier for customers to find their merchandise — at least it will after a while.

"For a while it'll probably be more difficult considering it's been the same for so long," Parr laughed.

He said the last major change at the store was in 1963.

Parr's Pharmacy, 201 N. Clinton, is open Monday to Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Judy E. Hyde

Judy Hyde appointed Fowler branch manager

Brandon White, president, Clinton Bank and Trust Company, has announced the promotion of Judy Hyde to branch manager of the bank's Fowler office.

Mrs. Hyde joined Clinton Bank in 1961, serving in several capacities since that time, most recently as assistant branch manager of Clinton's Bath office.

Mrs. Hyde is a St. Johns area native and resident. She is a graduate of St. Johns High School, and is presently furthering her education at Lansing Community College.

New fixtures have replaced the old ones, with the aisles running north-south now instead of west-west.

Lansing area phone book to be distributed here

United Phone Book Advertiser will distribute a Lansing area phone directory to Lansing and surrounding communities beginning in May of 1987.

The distribution area reaches north to St. Johns and Ovid, east to Portland, and as far west as Morrice.

The company will be based at 609 E. Jolly in Lansing, hiring 40 new employees with Jim Baker as the local manager. Features included in the directory will be white pages of residential numbers; blue pages including civic features, zip codes, city map, and MSU calendar of events; and yellow pages of advertising.

The free distribution to every home and business will increase the regular Lansing phone book area by 200 percent, with approximately 240,000 books produced.

Celebrate Summer!

Marinated Alaska Salmon Salad

- 2 (about 8 oz. each) Poached Alaska Salmon Steaks
- 1 small onion, very thinly sliced
- 1 tomato, sliced
- 1/4 cup each lemon juice and olive oil
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1 teaspoon oregano, crushed
- 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 small green pepper, thinly sliced vertically
- 1 avocado, sliced vertically (optional)

Remove skin and bones from salmon steaks; split each into 2 pieces. Place salmon, onion and tomato in shallow baking dish. Combine lemon juice, oil, parsley, oregano, salt and pepper; mix well. Pour mixture over salmon and vegetables. Cover and refrigerate at least 1 hour; add green pepper during last 20 minutes. Arrange salmon, vegetables and avocado on platter. Makes 4 servings.

Poached Alaska Salmon Steaks: In skillet, pour boiling water over 2 Alaska salmon steaks to cover. Add 3 slices lemon, 3 slices onion, 1 bay leaf and several whole peppercorns. Return to boil; cover and simmer 10 minutes per inch of thickness of salmon. Drain and cool. Makes 4 servings.

California Pistachio Garlic Toast

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 2 to 3 tablespoons chopped shelled natural California pistachios
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- Dash garlic powder
- 2 pita bread rounds

Combine butter, pistachios, parsley, pepper and garlic powder; mix well. Cut each pita bread round into 6 pie-shaped pieces; separate layers. Spread rough sides of pita pieces with butter mixture. Place on baking sheet; bake at 400° F. about 5 minutes or until browned and crispy. Makes 24 pieces. Recipe can be doubled or tripled.

Freezing Tip: Baked California Pistachio Garlic Toast can be packaged in freezer-proof plastic bags or containers and frozen. Reheat to serve.

Ask a cook to describe summer food. The answer will probably be quick and direct: Light, healthy, fresh-tasting, fast and easy to prepare with an emphasis on make-ahead items.

Summer eaters agree. They want food that delights the palate. Food that goes where the action is—on a terrace, boat or beach.

Try a warm-weather menu that satisfies everybody. Equally welcome at a patio buffet, picnic lunch or light dinner, the main course is poached Alaska salmon steaks marinated in a piquant lemon vinaigrette, garnished with pepper strips and tomatoes. Salmon is "fast food" at its best. Tops in high-quality protein and important health-promoting nutrients, salmon steaks can be poached, baked or barbecued in less than 15 minutes.

Accent the entree salad with California Pistachio Garlic Toast. It transforms pita bread into crisp cracker triangles. Easily prepared, these tasty treats can be made-ahead and frozen until ready to enjoy. California pistachios are as versatile as the activities of summer. Tuck them into backpacks and picnic baskets for energy-filled snacking; or leave a bowl of the irresistible ivory colored nuts available for nutritious out-of-hand eating.

Hot summer days beg for cooling refreshment. Serve icy Pear Sorbet Ring, cool and bursting with flavor. Made from convenient canned Bartlett pears, the sorbet is just sweet enough to satisfy the need for dessert without tasting too sugary and heavy. And, with only three ingredients required, it is a breeze to make. Picked at their peak of ripeness, canned pears add flavor and texture to salads, main courses and desserts throughout the year.

California Pistachio-Style Shortbread, a delicately flavored crunchy variation of the buttery cookie, goes together in moments for an easy home-baked treat. Serve with the Pear Sorbet Ring or use it to spruce up ice cream.

With every part of the meal meant to be prepared ahead, this summer menu leaves the cook plenty of time for fun and relaxation.

WINNING PROGRAM — Gene Barnhart and husband Neil went to Pike's Peak and won a trip to Hawaii.

Barnharts: Pike's Peak to Hawaii

Neil and Gene Barnhart discovered the "Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo" in Colorado last summer, a discovery that will take them this year to Hawaii. At the rodeo this summer the St. Johns couple won a free round trip to on United Airlines anywhere in the United States. It started last year when the Barnharts were vacationing in Colorado. "We like the country anyway," says Gene. "Last year we just happened to be there the week of the rodeo and we went all four nights." Returning this year, the Barnharts purchased a two dollar souvenir program. The program was numbered — and their number was drawn for the tree trip. The Barnharts plan to use their prize for a trip to Hawaii in January, the month of the wedding anniversary.

On highways

Police, C.A.R.E. aim for safety

Operation C.A.R.E. (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) will again be in effect for the upcoming Labor Day weekend. The combined efforts of police departments, Michigan citizens and holiday travelers in support of Operation C.A.R.E. during Memorial Day weekend made a significant reduction in fatalities possible in 1986 — nine compared to 23 fatalities during Memorial Day, 1985. The Michigan State Police are once again asking for that combined effort of Michigan's citizens and holiday travelers to help reduce highway fatalities. This can be accomplished by not drinking and driving or allowing a friend to drive drunk; insisting that all occupants of your vehicle are "buckled up;" obeying the speed limits. The State Police will have an additional 1,634 overtime patrol hours worked over the Labor Day weekend, with over 2,500 miles of highways targeted for enforcement. All hazardous traffic law violations will be enforced, with special emphasis on alcohol and speed-related violations. During the 1985 Labor Day weekend, Michigan State troopers removed 200 drunk drivers from the state's highways; assisted 1,891 troubled motorists and issued 11,164 traffic citations. Seventeen persons lost their lives in 14 fatal accidents during that weekend in 1985, 11 of which involved alcohol. Local CB groups will once again be volunteering their holiday weekend to assist holiday travelers by providing coffee break stops at 59 different locations throughout the state. There they will provide hot and cold refreshments, litter bags, bumper stickers, seat belt information and other traffic safety-related materials to help promote traffic safety and Operation C.A.R.E.

Office on Aging raffles '86 Chevy Cavalier

Tickets for the fundraiser are $1 each and may be purchased through Clinton Memorial's food and nutrition services or home health services now through Sept. 5. Two second prizes of a Detroit Tiger game party bus with transportation and reserved seating for 20 people, and a third prize of a weekend for two at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island will be given away

Former St. Johns band director Greg Mowen has been named director of the Grand Valley State College Marching Band. Mowen resides in Pewamo and was most recently director of bands

Few improvements can increase the value of your home as dramatically as an outdoor deck. However, a deck is much more than a good investment. Compared with other rooms in your home, each of which serves a specific function, a deck is unique in that it is really many rooms "rolled into one."

It is at the same time an open-air rec room, an outdoor dining room, a family room with a spectacular view, a quiet backyard retreat for early morning exercise, and for the sun worshipper, a private beach with all the comforts of home.

There are as many types of decks as there are owners, each one offering endless design alternatives to express personal tastes and to cater to lifestyle activities.

Some are sheltered, for people who dislike having to retreat indoors when it rains. Some have wooden walkways and children's play structures. Some have central fire pits, for those who don't want chilly days or nights curtailing their outdoor fun. Decks can even surround above-ground swimming pools. The possibilities are limitless.

And further good news, according to experts at Georgia-Pacific Corporation, the nation's largest supplier of building products, is that building your own deck is a surprisingly easy do-it-yourself project. If you can handle basic tools, including a saw and a hammer, and can follow step-by-step instructions, you can construct a deck.

The do-it-yourself approach will both enable you to save money and gain the personal satisfaction of a job well done.

Following are two examples of creatively-built decks from Georgia-Pacific's "Decks and Outdoor Projects" booklet. Each demonstrates how a little ingenuity and elbow grease transformed a dream deck into a real one that provides endless hours of outdoor pleasure.

DESIGN ELEMENTS—The "backyard hideaway" and multilevel deck each express the individuality of its owner/builder. The decks demonstrate how you can work with your natural backyard conditions to accentuate the positive (such as the spaciousness of the multilevel deck's backyard area), and camouflage the negative (such as the use of angled retaining walls with benches in the "backyard hideaway").

However, these two decks only hint at the wide variety of design elements you can incorporate into your own deck. For example, your lot might be too steep for a traditional yard. Let a deck do the impossible—create a "yard" where one couldn't thrive. Besides taking any shape or size, decks can be situated almost anywhere—including overhanging a steep slope or tiered in multiple levels away from the house.

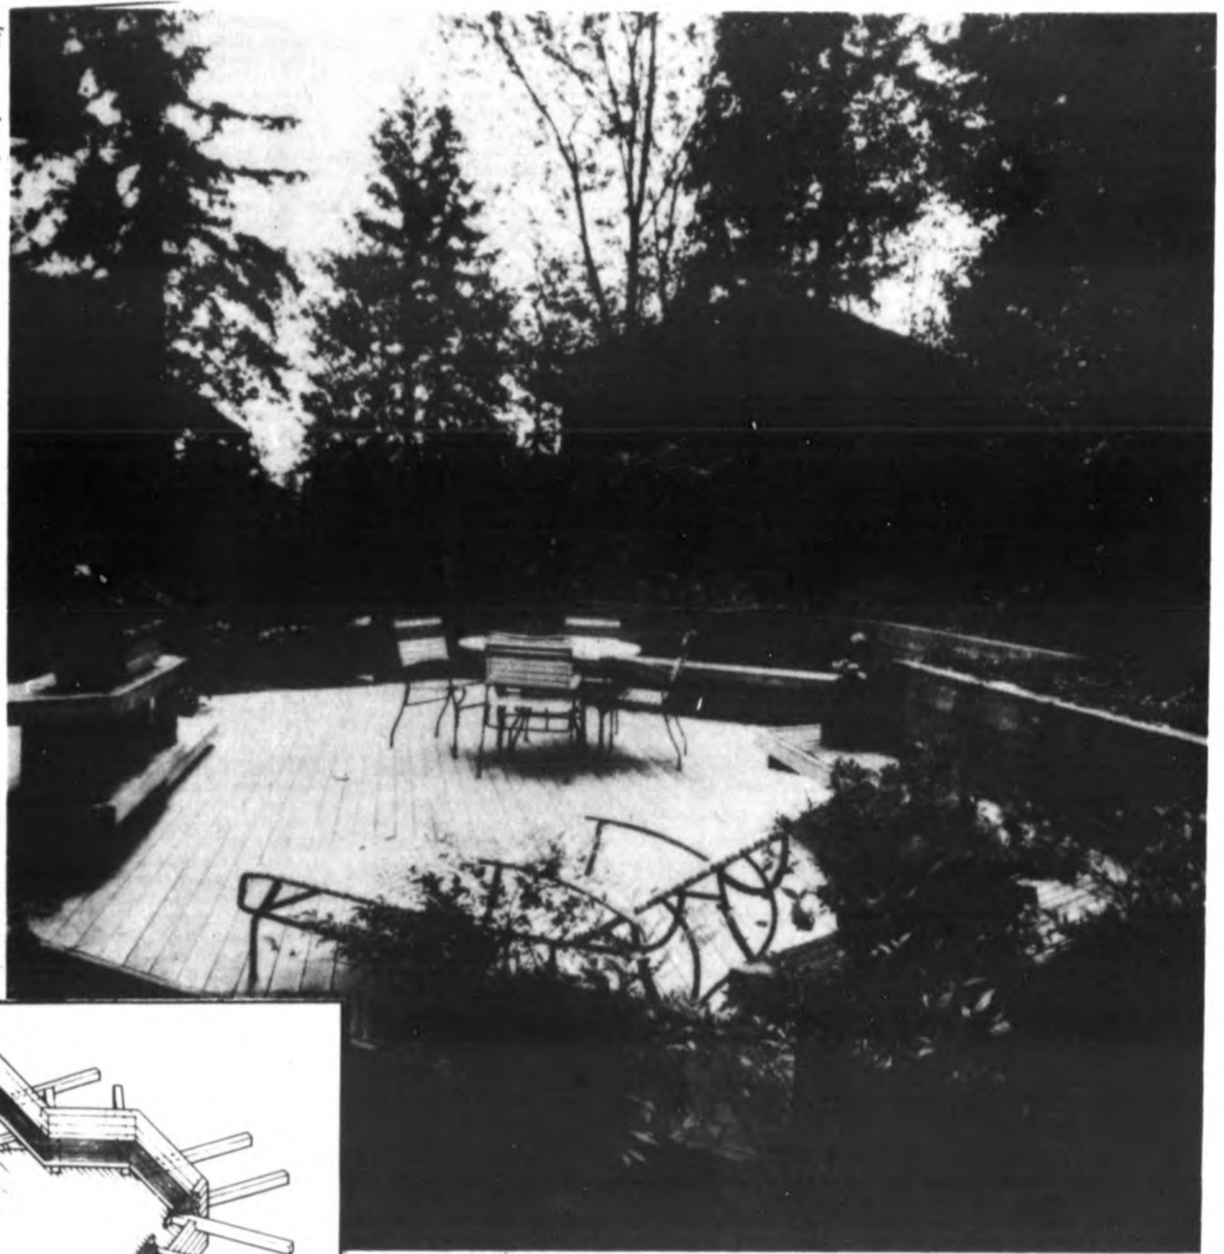

Does your family want year-round enjoyment from their deck system? Then add a roof and walls to your existing deck to create an enclosed sun porch. This type of room can be used on all but the coldest days.

If you need to screen an eyesore, maintain privacy, bar animals and other unwanted intruders, or simply give your deck a finished appearance, a well-designed fence can serve all these purposes.

Perhaps fences are not your cup of tea. Attractive planters make a pretty finishing touch to a deck. Strategically placed, planters also can screen out unsightly views and add a greater sense of privacy.

When it comes to decks, you are limited only by your imagination.

Your Outdoor DECK more than a good investment

A BACKYARD HIDEAWAY—The deck shown (right) is an example of how a deck can become a private world unto itself. It's a place to retreat, alone or with friends, for some welcome relaxation.

Nestled into a steeply sloping hillside, the deck system wraps around the house with walkways, retaining walls and built-in benches forming an integral part of the design.

The angled retaining walls help turn a problem zone into an eye-pleasing focal point. The walls also help solve erosion and drainage problems on the steep lot. Benches built along the walls provide extra seating. Gravel-filled paths lead around both sides of the house to the backyard hideaway.

Other design elements include a five-foot wide upper deck with cedar benches adjoining the house, while the main deck is one step lower, giving extra dimension and a sense of depth to the landscape. In addition, a pathway links the house to lower terrain.

DECK BOOKLET—How do you begin turning your dream deck into a real one? When it comes to any do-it-yourself project, knowledge is a key asset. One of the best sources of information is your local building materials retailer or home center.

In addition, some companies publish do-it-yourself informational guides, such as Georgia-Pacific's "Decks and Outdoor Projects," which can help you get started.

The first section of the Georgia-Pacific booklet illustrates a variety of exciting deck and outdoor projects, focusing on details you may want to incorporate in your design. The second part of the booklet gives you all the how-to information you'll need to design and build your project suited to your outdoor needs and the lay of the land.

Most of the projects shown in the booklet were built of CCA pressure treated lumber because of its availability, and resistance to moisture and insects. Cedar and redwood also are excellent materials for building outdoor projects, although they may be subject to limited availability.

To obtain your copy of the booklet, as well as a $3 rebate coupon on Georgia-Pacific materials, send $3 to Georgia-Pacific Corporation, "Decks and Outdoor Projects," Dept. FFBM01, P.O. Box 48408, Atlanta, GA 30362. To find the G-P Registered Dealer or home center nearest you, call 800-447-2882 (except Alaska and Hawaii). In Illinois call 800-322-4400.

By being well-informed about the wide variety of creative approaches, you'll be certain to build a deck that will prove versatile and attractive for years to come.

THREE DECKS IN ONE—The multilevel deck shown (left) transformed the owners' backyard into a place with sparkle, while being the focal point for all kinds of activities.

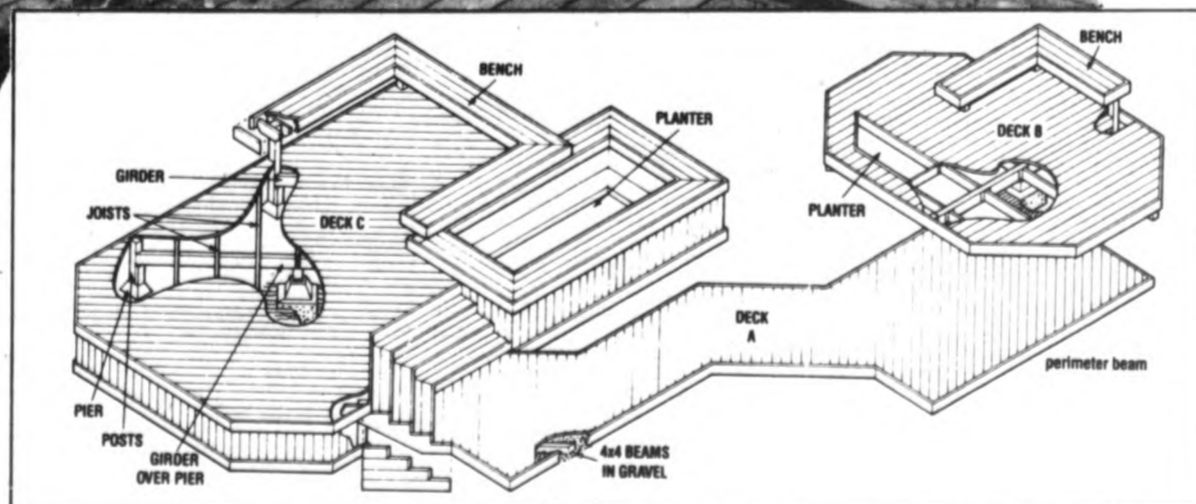

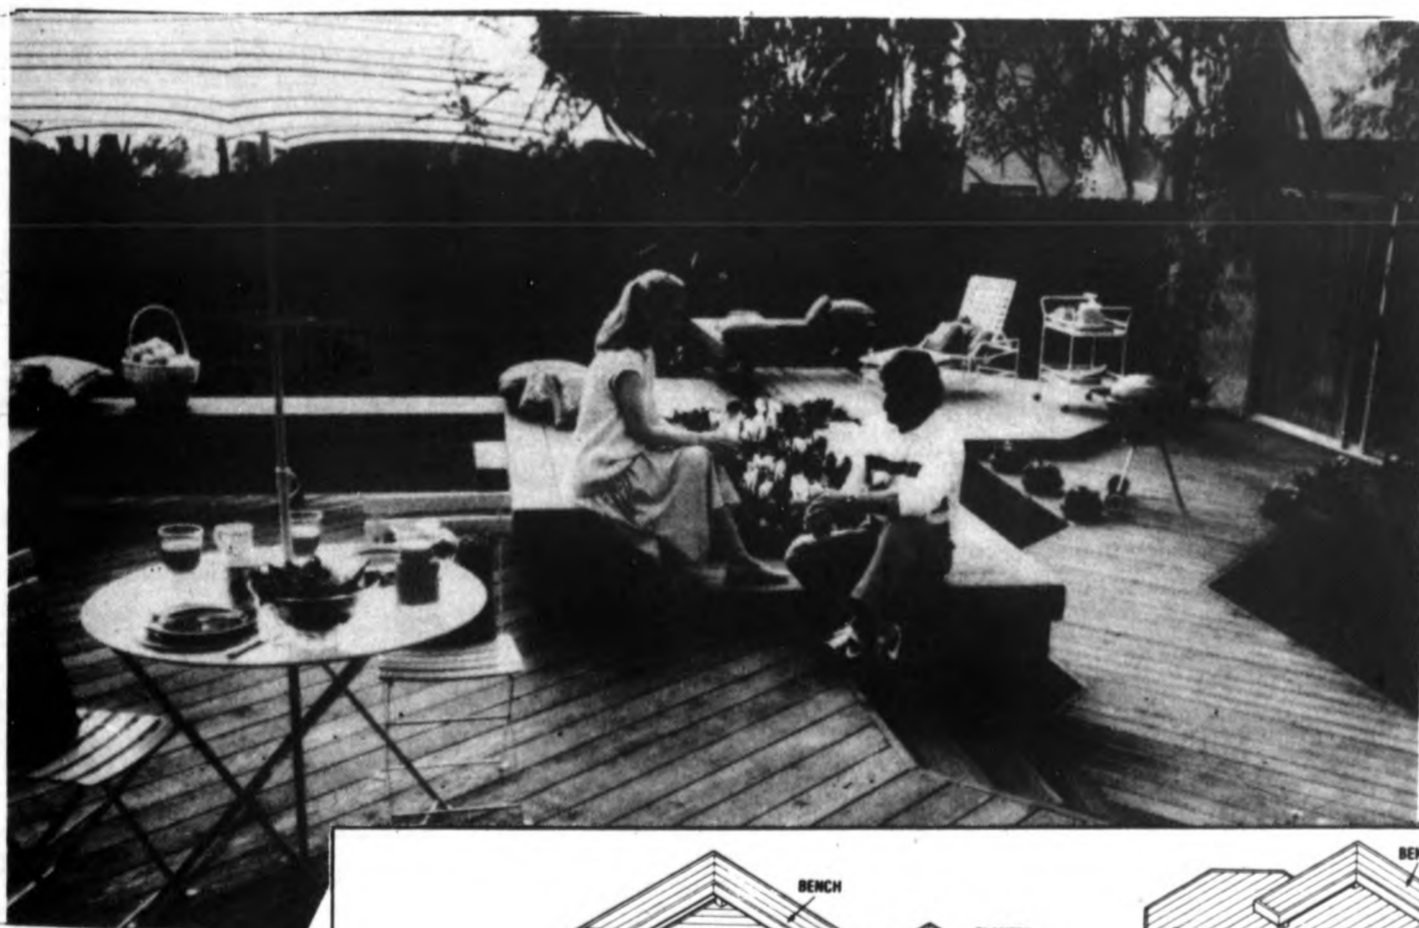

This spectacular deck features a multilevel design that triples outdoor enjoyment. There are not one but three decks, each designed for a specific activity, and linked by an attractive walkway and steps.

A stunning but sensible design solution, this multilevel deck is far more inviting than one mammoth deck. Here, each deck area has its own mood and function, much like the rooms inside a house.

The barbecue center, with easy access to the kitchen, is a small rectangular pad adjoining the house. It's simple to build, even for a beginning do-it-yourselfer, and is a good project to start with when building this deck system.

A cozy place for sunning, relaxing or helping the cook, Deck B is just a step above Deck A. It is an elongated octagon fitted with a built-in, L-shaped bench and an unusual sunken planting area for the green thumb in the family.

An attractively angled wooden walkway leads away from the house and Deck A to the main deck area. This raised platform is bordered by a large planter box perfect for spring bulbs, as well as brightly colored geraniums. The U-shaped bench offers additional seating just right for sipping ice cold tea on a warm afternoon. Scaled for entertaining, Deck C is large enough for an outdoor table and chairs.

DRIVE SAFELY

SCHOOLS OPEN

School-age kids are active, fun-loving little people who ... in their zest ... sometimes forget to stop, look and listen. Next week, when school begins, everyone will have to look out for them, so we are reviewing these important safe driving tips:

- Be especially careful near schools.
- Know all traffic rules and observe them.
- Obey crossing instructions!

- Always be prepared for the unexpected! Remember children are always dashing about.
- Watch out for those peak traffic periods ... mornings, noons, and afternoons.
- When in doubt ... stop!

We urge your cooperation in complying with these rules. Help us safeguard your kids!
