County hit by flood, water damage

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Flood waters burst through the roadway that dams up Rainbow Lake near Maple Rapids and Clinton County alone suffered millions of dollars in property and crop damage in the wake of record rainfall last week.

Giles Roehl, director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service, said his office had received estimates that six to 13 inches of rain fell on northern Clinton County in a 20 hour period Wednesday and Thursday.

"You would expect a rain like that once every 500 years in this area," said Roehl.

During the flood:

- At least five Maple Rapids families were forced to evacuate their homes after the roadway beside the Rainbow Lake dam burst and flood waters surged across the flood plain along the Maple River. Homeowners on Rainbow Lake suffered extensive water damage and there were reports that some had to evacuate their homes.

- Millions of dollars in damage was done to crops and soil in Clinton County. Roehl said he and other county officials had estimated that $12 million worth of soil was washed away. Additionally, he said, over 10,000 acres of county crops were at least 50 percent destroyed, including 600 acres of drybeans that were completely destroyed.

- Clinton County roads suffered an estimated $150,000 in damage, said Clinton County Administrator William LeFevre.

- Bradley S. Budek, 17, of Ithaca, lost his life when he was caught in flood waters along the Bad River in Gratiot County, the Lansing State Journal reported on Saturday.

LEFEVERE said on Saturday that Clinton County had not yet been declared a disaster area by Gov. James Blanchard. County officials asked for the disaster designation 25 minutes after the Rainbow dam gave way at about 2 a.m. Friday morning, LeFevre said.

"At this point (Saturday morning) I don't think our request has been acted on," he said.

U.S. Rep. William Schuette flew into Maple Rapids Friday afternoon with two officials from the U.S. Department of Agriculture who were to assess the flood damage and report directly to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng.

Schuette said he had asked President Ronald Reagan to personally secure emergency relief for mid-Michigan residents hit by the flood.

Thousands of acres of land below the dam remained underwater on Friday afternoon. Above the dam, Rainbow Lake had become a river with broad expanses of exposed lake bottom mud on each side.

Details were sketchy as to the number of homes that had to be evacuated.

"To my knowledge there were five or six families that left voluntarily," said LeFevre.

He said emergency shelters had been set up in Maple Rapids and downriver but that no one had shown up to use them.

Maple Rapids Police Chief Dean Moon said on Saturday morning that

RAINBOW DAM — Area fire departments used pumper trucks to no avail in an attempt to relieve pressure on the dam. At 2 a.m. Friday morning the roadway gave way and the waters of Rainbow Lake north of Maple Rapids surged into the flood plain below. The resulting flash flood was only one of a number of similar disasters that befell the state last week. In the wake of record rainfalls a Gratiot County boy lost his life, crops were ruined, precious topsoil was lost, and roads and property were damaged.

Maple Rapids families forced to evacuate were returning to their homes. Among the worst hit by the flood were a handful of homes on the north side of the village, he said.

In St. Johns at least one city street was covered with water on Thursday.

Also on Thursday, a portion of US-27 next to Beck's Farm Market was water-covered but passable.

The southern part of the county was least damaged, with rainfall there estimated at eight-tens of an inch.

Caper ticket

ST. JOHNS Tickets are now on sale for the Capers!

The Clinton Capers, featuring local talent, is planned for Sept. 25, 26, and 27.

Tickets are on sale at the Clinton Memorial Hospital Giftshop, the Carol Ann Shop, 104 N. Clinton Ave., and the First American Title Co., 220 N. Clinton Ave.

Or ask any member of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Handicap support

CLINTON COUNTY Parents of the handicapped in Clinton County have organized a support group to give each other support and encouragement and to share valuable information.

All parents with handicapped children in Clinton County are encouraged to invited to the organization's first meeting on Sept. 18, at 7 p.m., at the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 1400 S. Oakland St., St. Johns.

The guest speaker will be Gary McCampbell, senior mental health therapist, who will describe ways to respond positively to the stress related to having a handicapped child.

"Participating in a parent support group to share feelings with those who have similar experiences is one of the best ways of coping," says Yvonne DePaepe, co-organizer of the group. "Another way is to become better informed. By sharing valuable knowledge and by learning together to be more effective parents, we will best be able to help our 'special' children, our families, and each other."

On November 13, Shirley Swegles, of the Michigan Board of Education, will explain state laws regarding special education.

In February, brothers and sisters of the handicapped will get together with a counselor to talk about their feelings about having a handicapped sibling. For adults, an informed lawyer will explain wills and guardianships to provide for "special" children.

Hospital gets 24 beds, nursing home 25

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Clinton Memorial Hospital will get 24 nursing home beds and Findlay Country Manor will get 25 of the 49 nursing home beds it requested if the Michigan Department of Public Health follows a recommendations of a health systems review agency.

The recommendations were made by a project review committee of the Michigan Mid-South Health Systems Agency (MMSHSA) last Tuesday following a public hearing in Lansing. They were adopted by the MMSHSA board on Wednesday. The recommendations will be sent to the health department, where administrators have the authority to approve or deny Certificates of Need for health care projects. (See box).

MMSHSA administrator Ron Parsons said he did not know how soon the health department would act on the recommendations.

The project review committee made the recommendations after a two hour public hearing attended by a number of Clinton County residents. Findlay Manor Administrator Mark Stapelman and Clinton Memorial Administrator Paul McNamara both made presentations in support of their proposals.

AT ISSUE during the hearing were 49 nursing home beds that a state medical facilities plan says are need-

What's a Certificate of Need?

Why can't anyone build a health care facility where ever they want? Why do they need this thing called a Certificate of Need?

As a matter of fact anyone can build a health care facility without a Certificate of Need. But if you don't have one, then you will not be eligible for any government funds — no payments from Medicare, no payments from Medicaid and no payments from any insurance plan that involves tax dollars.

The chances of any facility surviving without such payments are roughly zero.

The Certificate of Need law was established in the 1970s as an attempt to control health care costs. The rationale behind the law was that taxpayer dollars pay for a large percentage of health care in this country and that taxpayers should not have to pay for duplicate services.

A hypothetical example: A new technology has been developed that allows for the diagnosis of brain disorders. It would cost $1 million to install the equipment in one hospital. But once installed the equipment would have the capacity to serve a three-county area. Yet there are a dozen hospitals in the three county area — and if each hospital installed the equipment the taxpayer would pay for twelve times the equipment actually needed.

Hence, the Certificate of Need law. The certificates are actually issued by the Department of Public Health but applications for the certificates are reviewed by health system review agencies whose job it is to recommend approval or denial based on how well various proposals fit into regional health care plans.

ed in Clinton County. The plan also lists a need for 105 home for aged beds, a category of bed that requires less intensive care than the nursing home beds.

Findlay Manor had asked for all 49 of the nursing home beds as well as 16 home for the aged beds. The facility planned to build a $2.5 million addition to house the additional beds.

Clinton Memorial had requested 24 nursing home beds for a $579,293 conversion of the third floor of the hospital into a nursing care facility.

MMSHSA staff presented an analysis of the comparative merits of both proposals.

"Both... applications have merit," said the summary of the analysis.

The staff analysis assigned point values to how well each facility's proposal met the criteria used to evaluate proposals. Clinton Memorial had a total score of 37 and Findlay Country Manor had a total score of 35.

Psychiatric hospital for St. Johns stalled — page 10A

THE STAFF analysis went on to recommend approval of 24 beds for the hospital and approval of 25 nursing home beds for Findlay Country Manor. It also recommended approval of Findlay's application for 16 home for the aged beds.

However, the project review committee departed from the staff analysis and did not approve the 16 home for the aged beds for Findlay Country Manor. Committee members said it was their understanding that the 16 beds were not financially viable unless all 49 nursing home beds were also approved for Findlay Country Manor.

Although Clinton Memorial did get the recommendation it sought regarding the number of nursing home beds approved for the hospital, the project review committee made the recommendation conditional upon the hospital agreeing to let advocacy groups have access to the facility. Hospitals are not subject to a state law requiring nursing homes to allow

The world in Bement Library Back to reality

By Jean Bartholomew

September's here and back to reality! With the lazy, hot days of summer, writing a newspaper column was furthest from my mind, so I didn't.

The library has been a very busy place during summer vacation. Our Summer Reading Club drew many young readers, people needed vacation books, home improvement, gardening information, and some just looking for a cool spot to relax.

The Summer Reading Club closed Sept. 6 and the book reports are ready to be judged by people outside the library. Winners and others will be notified by mail as to the time of the punch and cookie party. Certificates and prizes will be awarded by the Library Board at that time.

Sidewalk Days Used Book Sale was reasonably successful. A heartfelt thanks to those hardy individuals, all volunteers, who braved the heat for two days on the hottest corner in St. Johns. I'm sure their smiling faces and helpful suggestions did much to make book shopping more bearable. The left-over books were used on the float and given out to good homes along the parade route. Just a reminder, we have an on-going book sale in the library front entrance, ten cents for a paperback, twenty-five cents for a hard cover.

Before I go any further, a comment on the Mint Festival. It was great! The credit goes to all those people in the community who worked so hard for many months to bring pleasure to so many. Did you see the library float? The time and ingenuity that went into it really paid off. It's nice to know so many of you feel strongly about a larger facility. To me it was one of the best in the whole parade. My four-year old grandson from Durand told me my parade (he's a little prejudiced) was the best he's ever seen. Even better than Railroad Days and that's saying something.

The St. Johns Library Project is still in existence. We'd like to see more of your smiling faces at the meetings. We need your input to be successful. The building and sites committee has been working very hard to find a suitable location. I assure you, these are few and far between. Serving on the committee can be frustrating as well as depressing. I know, I've been there. Keep the faith fellas. We never know when something will turn up.

September brings school, school brings papers and themes. It's the same song, second verse. We do have some materials, but not always enough or what the student wants. If we have prior notice we can draw materials from 63 other libraries at no charge to the patron for a month's use. So, if you need something we don't have, please give us enough time to get it. It's very annoying to have negative feedback that the library never has anything I want when we could, if you would.

On this lecturing note may I suggest you enjoy fall. Being a fifth generation Michigander I assure you winter is not far behind.

Jean Bartholomew is the head librarian at Bement Public Library in St. Johns.

Library update

Rich Wertz

As press time approaches at the end of this busy week the library project meeting has not yet found a page — and I am a member of the project, considerably interested in seeing that it gets the publicity it deserves.

So, without wasting any more space, I'll provide an update:

Last winter a group of area residents got together to embark on a project to find a new home for Bement Public Library, which has outgrown its current space in the city office building. Since then:

- A public opinion survey indicated considerable support for a bigger and better library.

- Using in part the results of that survey and in part informal discussions, the project came up with a list of services the library should provide. These include an expansion of all of the current services with the addition of a special area for children, reading rooms, an audio tape room, a computer area, a stage area for drama and films, a music room, an art display area, meeting rooms, and copying and word processing areas.

- Square footage requirements were estimated for each of the services. The bottom line — the ideal building would be in the area of 14,500 square feet and would provide safe parking for 20 cars.

- Hugh Banning and Gary McCampbell spearheaded the construction of library project float that was entered in the Mint Festival Parade, garnering publicity and support for the project.

- Local lawyer Jim Moore is working on securing tax exempt status with the IRS for the library project.

- Possible sources of funding have been identified. These include having revenue sources — such as the rental of office space — included in the design of the library. Other possibilities include the Michigan Department of Commerce ($100,000 grants available for the restoration of historical buildings for use as libraries), and grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities. Still other possibilities include cooperative arrangements with the city, the school district, service clubs and community organizations.

Funding is, of course, of paramount concern. "We've got to be able to afford to operate whatever we build," says project chairman Joe Latoff.

- The building and site committee headed by Mike Mullen has explored possible sites with the able assistance of local architect St. Clair Pardee, who provided actual drawings of possible library designs.

This brings us up to last week's meeting. First, the bylaws of the organization were discussed and adopted. Secondly, the questioned was addressed — where do we go from here?

The decision was made to pursue two parallel courses of action. The first — to analyze the cost of renovating Central School for use as a library. The second — to come up with and explore as many alternative sites as possible. To that end library project organizers once again ask the community at large for input.

"It's one thing to have a small group exploring the possibilities and another thing to have the whole community involved," says Latoff.

Is Central School a good site? Is there a better site? Where? Should we think bigger? Smaller? Are we forgetting to include services that we should include? Are we including services we shouldn't?

Nothing is written in stone. "We are open minded," says Latoff. "We haven't decided anything — we want to hear from people."

Write a letter to a local paper. Grab a library project volunteer by the collar and speak your mind. Call up Jean Librarian Jean Bartholomew (224-4702). Call me (224-2361). Show up at library project meetings. Rent an airplane to tow a banner across the skies — how you choose to communicate is up to you.

$8,636 raised to fight muscular diseases

To the Editor:

We are proud to announce that the Clinton County area brought in a grand total of $8,636 in cash and pledges for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. Cash and checks totalling over $6,200 already turned in and are being used for patient services in our area.

We are more than two thousand dollars over our last year's total due to a very generous business person and the hard work that all our volunteers put into making this a very successful year.

We would like to thank all the food stores in St. Johns for supplying us the meals and supplies for the day. Thanks to Kurts Appliance and Deans Hardware for the televisions, to Rick Taylor for the dish to use them, and Radio Shack for the main drawing prize which was won by Shelly Ehrlich who had over $200 in her canister.

Thanks to Cinema III and Clinton Theatre for the passes, given to those who worked answering phones, fishbowl and helping to set up and take down all the tables, etc., needed to maintain the pledge center. Without the support of the community and volunteers we could not possibly have raised so much to help those in Clinton County with muscular diseases.

To all the caring people out there who gave so generously, even the $1 pledges, we thank you very much.

We have one request and that is if anyone has a file cabinet they would like to donate (tax deductible) it would be greatly appreciated. Call 224-6021.

"It's in the Bag" by Bob Beck

If you're an average American homemaker, here's how you treat spices in your cooking. You use more kinds of spices more frequently today than you did five years ago. You've tried 20 different spices and you have 17 different kinds on hand.

If dill isn't one of the 17, you don't know what you're missing. In the United States dill pickles rank high as the best friend a sandwich ever had. Dill seed is not only good for pickles but also pickled beets, salads, sauerkraut, green beans, stews, fish, chicken, breads, eggs and of course cucumbers.

Botanically, dill is known as Anethum graveolens, (which is easy enough for me to say, with a book in front of me). Though it was first discovered in England in the 16th century, it is not used in that country's food today as much as it is elsewhere.

Both dill seed and weed, which are the dill leaves, are almost always sold dried in the whole form. An annual plant of the parsley family, dill is native to Europe and Asia and has been used for centuries.

This week stock-up on spices from Beck's, where you'll find our variety, including dill, is the "spice of life."

Family focus

Homemakers

Dawn Harris

Are you tired of always doing things for others but never doing anything for yourself? There is an organization within the Cooperative Extension Service that provides classes for adults who want to improve themselves as a spouse, parent, and/or individual. The organization is called the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers (MAEH).

There are several MAEH groups scattered throughout the county. Each group meets monthly in their communities to hear a lesson regarding new information in home and family development. Example lessons include increasing self-esteem, kerosene heater safety, child abuse, diet and cancer, cooking on a diet and low-cost interior decorating.

Currently there are 110 members throughout Clinton County. One very special member, that I would highlight in this column is Grace Frizzell of Elsie. Grace was 95 on Sept. 10 and has been a member since 1937. Happy birthday, Grace!

The first county-wide event of the new program year will be coming up on Wed., Sept. 24. Fall Class Day will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The classes that day will be Emotional Abuse in the Home, Trapunto and Designing Your Best Silhouette.

If you are interested in learning more about Fall Class Day or the MAEH organization in general, call the Cooperative Extension Service at 224-3288. Remember, an investment in yourself, is an investment that will always have a great return! Dawn Harris is the home economist for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Rainbow Lake woman tried in vain to get flood insurance coverage

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Five years ago, after she had suffered the intrusion of water eight inches deep into her house, Rainbow Lake resident Joyce Welch tried to get flood insurance.

No luck. "We could not get it," she says. "You can not get it on an individual basis."

Welch says she learned that an entire geographic area has to be officially declared a flood plain area in order for homeowners there to get flood insurance. She says she was unable to arouse much interest in flood insurance among government officials or other residents of the area.

Last week, as Rainbow Lake overflowed its banks, thousands of gallons of water poured into the Welch home and the homes of other Rainbow Lake residents.

At its highest point the water was six feet deep in the lower level of her house, says Welch. Only when water began cascading over the roadway at the southern tip of the lake did the water in the Welch home begin to recede. A few hours later the roadway collapsed and Rainbow Lake surged into the low lying area below the dam.

"Now we live on Rainbow River," says Welch. AS THE WATER drained out of her home it left behind what Welch estimates to be $30,000 to $40,000 worth of damage. By early Saturday afternoon at least 4,000 gallons of water had been squeezed from the carpets of the house. The lower level of the house was in shambles.

"It's all that mud, that silt — and the odor," says Welch.

Welch estimates that 40 to 50 of her neighbors on the lake also suffered water damage.

Welch says she believes the cost of repairing the damage to Rainbow Lake should not fall only on the shoulders of Rainbow Lake homeowners. The lake and the dam are a throughfare for the water that comes down from the north and then travels into Clinton County where, among other things, it irrigates farm lands, she says. Areas to both the north and the south benefit from the dam, she says.

Welch says she thinks county, state or federal aid would all be appropriate.

And, she says, she will once again broach the subject of flood insurance.

Board adopts $10 million budget, approves millage rate of 35 mills

The St. Johns Board of Education on Sept. 8 approved a total tax levy of 35 mills for 1986.

The board also adopted a budget that includes $10,184,241 in general fund expenditures and $10,082,540 in revenues.

In order to balance expenditures and revenues, the budget projects the expenditure of $101,701 of the district's fund balance.

Before adopting the budget, the board heard a report by auditor James Ireland, of the accounting firm Platte, Lemmen & Ireland.

The audit report said in part that the school district had a general fund balance as of June 30, 1986, of $1,230,951. That amount is $406,538 larger than projected by the 1985 budget.

School officials attributed the larger-than-projected fund balance to several factors, including a drop in fuel costs and tightened controls on spending.

"There were a lot of small things," said Superintendent Earl Gabriel in a Sept. 11 interview. "Frankly, we like to believe that we hold the line on expenditures. Just because it's budgeted doesn't mean we have to spend it. That way we can build up a fund equity."

Gabriel also said the 1985 budget was only three percent off in expenditures and one percent off in revenues from what actually occurred during the year.

"If you can predict 16 months in advance within three percent of where you're going to be, I think you've done a pretty good job," he said.

He said the $406,538 larger-than-projected fund balance will help alleviate a projected deficit in coming years.

Asked to comment on the overall financial condition of the school district, Gabriel said, "The report justifies the request for the millage (last year) and also indicates that we're on target in terms of our long range plans."

ALSO ON SEPT. 8:

• The board authorized bus service for some students who live in within the city. Administrators proposed bus routes for city students who live more than three-quarters of a mile from their schools. That was the distance established by the board at an earlier meeting after rejecting a plan based on a half-mile cutoff point.

Assistant Superintendent Gordon Vandemark noted that the cost of adding the routes was about the same as would have been the case with the earlier plan.

"Basically, nothing changed appreciably," he said.

The bus service began this week for city students who attend school in the morning. However, bus service for afternoon students will not begin until the district takes delivery of four new school buses in October.

School officials said if the afternoon routes were to begin without the new buses, there would be occasions when no buses were available for transporting students to co-curricular activities such as out-of-town sports events.

• Gabriel announced that high school teacher Robert Koger will be responsible for producing publications aimed at informing residents about school district activities.

PRECAUTIONARY LANDING — Details were sketchy at presstime but this National Guard chopper made what the Clinton County Sheriff's Department said was a "precautionary landing" at Parks and Lommis roads near St. Johns Friday night. Witnesses said the chopper appeared to have a malfunctioning rear rotor. Witnesses also said rockets were removed from the site on Friday evening and that the chopper was hauled away by truck the next day.

City commission approves locking park, considers new zoning plan

A new downtown zoning ordinance is one step closer to law and the city park will be locked at night, following the Sept. 8 meeting of the St. Johns City Commission.

Commissioners asked the city attorney to draft a proposed ordinance that would create a "transition area" in the central business district. The ordinance, based on a plan proposed Sept. 4 by the city planning commission, would allow residential property in the transition area to be used for business purposes if certain conditions are met.

A public hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held but a date for the hearing has not yet been set.

COMMISSIONERS, following a recommendation by the city parks and recreation board, agreed to have the city park locked at night for a trial period ending in December.

The park board had recommended the action Aug. 21 after hearing from approximately 30 residents of the area around the park. The residents said the park has become a nighttime hangout for beer drinkers, marijuana smokers and dangerous drivers.

The park board had recommended closing the park from 10:30 p.m. until 7 a.m., the hours the park is officially closed. Under the resolution adopted by city commissioners, however, the park will not be unlocked until 9 a.m.

City Manager Randy Humphrey said the exact time the gates are locked and unlocked could vary. The task will often fall to the city police, Humphrey noted, and responding to police calls will be a greater priority than locking and unlocking the gates.

City officials estimated the cost of constructing the gates to be $1,200.

City officials are also looking into the possibility of installing street lights along Parkview Street. Information about the cost of installing those lights will be obtained from the Consumers Power Company.

At the park board hearing, the idea was discussed of "abandoning" Parkview Street so that it could become a private drive and could therefore be closed to traffic at night. City administrator Diane Edwards said the city will hold off on that idea until it is seen how well other measures succeed.

Abandonment of the street would cost the city an as yet undetermined amount of state money for road maintenance.

McAvoy blasts Dillingham's campaign signs

Patricia McAvoy, the Democrat seeking election to Michigan's 30th District Senate seat, charged last week that the campaign signs of her opponent, Republican Fred Dillingham, are illegal.

But an election specialist for the Michigan Secretary of State office indicated that he had not found Dillingham's signs in violation of the law and three county prosecuting attorneys refused to take action against the campaign signs.

Dillingham's campaign manager said the charge was a political cheapshot designed to attract "badly needed press" to the McAvoy campaign.

Dillingham is currently serving his fourth term in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Dillingham's signs say: "Fred Dillingham, Republican, State Senate, Experience Counts!" The word "Republican" and the phrase "State Senate" are on the same line, with a space separating them.

McAvoy charged that "the language Fred Dillingham has used on his campaign signs (is) designed to intentionally mislead voters into believing that Mr. Dillingham is an incumbent state Senator."

"Not only do the signs not have the word 'for' or 'elect' as required by state law, the theme line is intended to convey the impression that Mr. Dillingham is already in the Senate, and that is not only dishonest, it's illegal," she said in a press release dated Sept. 8, 1986.

"There is no such state law," said Jim Crawford, campaign manager for Dillingham, referring to the lack of the words "for" or "elect" on the Dillingham signs.

The McAvoy press release said letters were filed with the prosecutors of Clinton, Livingston and Shiawassee counties, charging the Dillingham for State Senate Committee with violations of the state election laws. One of those letters, copies of which were distributed to the press, cited two cases in which campaign signs were declared illegal because they gave the false impression that the candidates promoted by the signs were incumbents.

In one case the candidate was given a choice of removing the signs or adding to them the words "for" or "elect."

The letter, signed by Lanny Lynch, of 634 Crestview Drive, Corunna, asked that the Dillingham campaign committee be given a similar choice.

All three county prosecutors refused to take action against Dillingham.

"Clearly, the statute in question does not require a non-incumbent to use the words 'elect' or 'for' in campaign material," said Clinton County Prosecutor Jon Newman in a letter to Lynch. "The statute merely prohibits a non-incumbent from falsely claiming incumbency. Having reviewed the signs in question, I am of the opinion that they do not imply incumbency and accordingly, this office will not take any action."

Crawford said the Dillingham campaign committee had asked the State Elections Division for an opinion on the legality of the signs. He said Election Specialist David E. Peterson had responded in a letter that said election specialists were not lawyers and could not give legal advice, but that the Dillingham signs did not appear to be illegal.

The letter said, however, that the Dillingham campaign might find it "more convenient" to insert the word "for" or "elect" in order to end the issue.

Crawford said the Dillingham committee would not change its signs.

"Our signs are in total compliance," he said.

Crawford said McAvoy's charges were inspired by the desire to stir up press coverage "six weeks before the election."

If McAvoy believed there was substance to the charges, Crawford said, she would have contacted the State Elections Division and would have raised the issue before the primary election.

"She's 20 points behind in the polls," Crawford said.

Crawford also claimed that McAvoy's campaigns signs could be construed as misleading because they do not identify her as a Democrat.

Reward up to $1000 offered for leads on 1985 shooting

A reward of up to $1,000 has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the 1985 murder of Patricia S. Fuller, of Bath Township, said Clinton County Detective Richard May.

May distributed a letter over his signature which included the following information:

Fuller was on June 19, 1985, shot twice with a 16 gauge shotgun in the bedroom of her home at 8678 E. State Rd. The only thing missing from the home as Fuller's purse and contents.

The exact time of the shooting is unknown but it is believed to have happened between the hours of 10 p.m. on June 18 and 5 p.m. on June 19.

Police could find no sign of forcible entry. All tips and information were checked. No arrests have been made. Police are seeking more information about the murder.

Fuller at the time of her death had recently been graduated from Lansing Community College as a surgical technologist. She and her estranged husband, Michael Fuller, were in the process of a divorce in Clinton County Circuit Court.

May said an organization called Crime Stoppers will pay up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the murder.

Jim Davis named to head CISD job training

Clinton County Intermediate School District Superintendent Larry Swartzkopf recently announced the appointment of Jim Davis to the position of Job Training Programs Coordinator.

Davis, a 1971 graduate of St. Johns High School, is the son of Don and Alma Davis, 2141 W. Centerline Rd., St. Johns. He received his B.A. degree in social science from John Wesley College and his M.A. in College Personnel Administration from MSU. He was employed most recently with the Neighborhood Youth Corp in Lansing as an employment counselor assisting low income teenage drop-outs in finding work and finishing school.

"I am excited about the opportunity to be back in Clinton County again," Davis says. "I see the job training program as having a very positive impact on the local labor market. Most recently, our summer jobs program assisted over 450 Clinton area youth in finding employment."

He credits the success to Clinton Intermediate's close working relationship with businesses and education, and to the staff.

"I have to give credit to the hard working staff, Rose Randolph, Jeff Hocking, Alan Johnson, Mike Watson and Rosemary Mc-Carthy," he said.

Davis added that although summer is the busiest time of year, the youth program assists people in year-round job placement, classroom training, on-the-job training, and other programs designed to make people more employable.

A current resident of East Lansing, Davis plans to move to the St. Johns area soon with his wife Debra and their three sons, Aaron, Ivan and Andrew.

Many persons, due to diet, poor liquid intake and sedentary life-styles, are prone to become constipated. So too with the residents of the Manor. Nurses and aides often spent considerable time distributing and administering laxatives and other enabling medications. All that has been changed for some residents through the use of the "special recipe."

The "special recipe" is two cups applesauce, two cups unprocessed bran and one cup of 100 percent prune juice. The dietary department mixes these ingredients and they're served before breakfast and supper meals in carefully controlled portions.

With the introduction of the "special recipe" we hope to provide residents with natural ingredients to improve their body functions; to decrease use of pharmacological laxatives and the residents' drug bill; and to free staff time to be spent with residents instead of record keeping.

The residents are served well-balanced, nutritious, and palatable meals, but they have different tastes, appetites and dietary needs. Not every resident eats everything offered at mealtime, even though the staff certainly encourages them to eat. This "special recipe" provides the necessary extra bulk, pectin, and laxative in a concentrated and tasteful form, easy to give and easy to take.

While there are some uncontrollable variables, we believe it is benefiting residents and staff.

Rivendell told to get more proof

A project review committee refused to give a green light to a company that wants to build a 64-bed youth psychiatric facility in St. Johns.

The same committee that reviewed nursing home bed requests for Clinton Memorial Hospital and Findlay Country Manor asked Rivendell of Michigan to withdraw its Certificate of Need application until it can document either:

- The facility will serve a limited mid-Michigan area and has the support of local mental health boards. Rivendell did produce informal letters from a number of Michigan mental health facilities indicating support for the construction of the facility but committee members said formal letters of agreement were necessary.

- The facility will serve the entire state and has the support of the Dept. of Mental Health.

Rivendell, which has facilities in other states, was formed five years ago by 11 mental health professionals. The company's programs were described by Rivendell President Robert Wood as progressive and effective.

A number of county residents spoke in favor of the facility, including St. Johns City Manager Randy Humphrey. Humphrey said he and other local officials visited other Rivendell facilities and were highly impressed.

Humphrey said St. Johns would benefit from additional taxes and jobs if the facility was built but that, more importantly, the facility would provide a needed service for disturbed youths in the area.

"It is an outstanding program...but we do not have a complete application," said Carlos Caguait, an ex-officio member of the committee.

"The Dept. of Mental Health is not responding with vigor," said committee chairman Bud Burgess. "I wonder why that is. If this is such a wonderful thing, why is there this disagreement?"

access by such groups. McNamara said the condition did not pose a problem.

Stapelman, asked to comment on the committee recommendation, said Findlay Manor would wait to see what action is taken by the health department. He also said it is financially viable for the nursing home to add only 25 nursing home beds but that approval of all 65 beds requested would allow the facility to better serve the community.

The issue of the nursing home beds has been the subject of sometimes acrimonious debate in recent months. At the project committee hearing Stapelman and McNamara both said the boards of their respective facilities had unsuccessfully attempted to work out a compromise that would not have involved mutually exclusive Certificate of Need applications.

Marauders claim second half win against Pirates

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

The first half of the Pewamo-Westphalia/Ovid-Elsie football clash last Friday was not filled with scoring — only six points scored total — but the second half turned out to be a real barn-burner.

The O-E Marauders came back from a 14-0 deficit to best the Pirates 20-14 in the game played at Pewamo-Westphalia.

"We were glad to get the win," Ovid-Elsie coach Dennis Baratonio said. "The team came back and played well in the second half."

A drive in the closing minutes of play by P-W saw the Pirates come close to regaining the lead, but an interception in the endzone by the Marauders' Bobby Foreback with 35 seconds left forestalled P-W's chances for a victory.

Both teams have records of 1-1 at this point in the season.

At the beginning of the contest, it looked as though the Marauders were going to walk all over the Pirates. They took the opening kickoff and drove the length of the field only to have an interception give the ball to Pewamo-Westphalia.

A 15 yard pass from Pat Stump to Doug Nurenberg got the Pirates on the scoreboard at the 2:33 mark in the second period. The touchdown capped an eight play, 46 yard drive for P-W. The two point conversion attempt was no good.

The Pirates improved their lead in the third quarter when Stump scored on a four yard roll-out into the endzone. A two point conversion pass to Nurenberg made the score 14-0 with 7:35 showing on the clock.

Ovid-Elsie came right back, taking the ball 57 yards in six plays, highlighted by a 38 yard run by quarterback Foreback. The drive ended with Foreback tallying six points on a quarterback-keeper. Rick Coleman kicked the extra point to make the score 14-7.

Another Marauder drive opened the fourth quarter with a two yard touchdown score by Neil Putnam. An attempt for the two point conversion was no good, but the Marauders had narrowed the gap to 14-13.

Pewamo-Westphalia recovered an onside kick attempt by Ovid-Elsie but were unable to move the ball successfully against the Marauder defense. The back and forth struggle saw O-E defensemen hold the Pirates three different times inside their own 20 yard line.

FAKE OUT — Ovid-Elsie running back, Richie Stutzman, eludes a would-be Pirate tackler in last week's Marauder/Pewamo-Westphalia football game. O-E scored all of their 20 points in the second half to take the win.

Ovid-Elsie took the lead, and the game, on a 35 yard touchdown pass from Foreback to Conklin with 1:50 remaining in the game. The score came as a result of an 11 play, 83 yard drive. Coleman kicked the extra point, making the score 20-14 in the Marauders' favor.

Although the Pirates moved the ball on their ensuing possession, the interception put an end to their hopes for a win as the Marauders sat on the ball and ran out the clock.

The Pirates totaled 170 yards rushing on 32 carries and were 5-12 in the passing department for a total of 74 yards.

Ovid-Elsie ended the game with 306 yards on the ground in 54 running attempts, and netted 35 yards in the air with 1 of 6 passes completed.

Foreback had 114 yards on 19 carries for the Marauders. Putnam gained 89 yards on 16 carries. Richie Stutzman ran for 69 yards on 9 carries before he was injured in the third quarter. Coleman had 42 yards rushing on 10 carries.

Defensively, Troy Wooley had 10 tackles for O-E, and Mark Burl had 11.

"It was pretty much of a team effort defensively," Coach Baratonio said.

"The win should give us some momentum going into our first conference game this Friday at Corunna," he said.

The Pirates open their league schedule this Friday also, travelling to Laingsburg for a CMAC contest.

SJ defense shines, 7-0

A final score of 7-0 in football may sound like the game played was a boring one.

The St. Johns Redwings ended their second football game of the season with a tally of 7-0 over Waverly last Friday, and according to Coach Bart Kjolhede, the game was anything but boring.

"It was a lot of fun — it was an exciting game from a coach's standpoint," Kjolhede said. "The whole coaching staff was excited."

The excitement was the result of an exceptional effort on the part of the Redwing defense who held the Warriors to 94 total offensive yards, three first downs in the entire game, and allowed just one pass completion for a 12 yard aerial total.

"We totally dominated them (Waverly) defensively," the coach said. "It was a tremendous defensive team effort. It's the best I've seen in the two years that I've coached here, and people told me after the game that it was the best defense they've seen played here in a number of years."

The only score of the ballgame came with 11 minutes left in the second quarter when Jerry Duwell tossed a 12 yard touchdown pass to Tom Penix. The extra point kick by Zane Ballard was good, and the Redwings led 7-0.

St. Johns' scoring drive which resulted in the T.D. took nine plays and covered 59 yards. It was set up by a pass interception by Bill Keeney.

The Redwings had another scoring opportunity in the fourth quarter when they had a first and ten situation at the Warrior's 11 yard line, but could not punch the ball in. St. Johns totaled 208 total yards on 13 first downs.

Duwell was 9-16 in the passing department for 118 yards. Receivers Penix had 49 yards on 4 receptions, and Doug Heyer had 54 yards also on 4 receptions.

Dwight Pierson led Redwing rushers with 58 yards gained on 14 carries, and Keeney picked up 39 yards on 11 carries.

Defensively, Keeney had 8 tackles, 5 assists, and picked off the key interception. Terry Rossow had 5 tackles and 1 assist, and Jim Martens recovered a Waverly fumble.

"It was a pleasure to watch the game," the coach said. "Waverly had comparative personnel to Owosso, and we just shut them down."

"We made some mistakes, you're always going to have mistakes, but it was fun to win."

St. Johns faces Ionia this Friday in their first MMB conference game, and the coach figures it will be a tough one.

"Ionia has an excellent quarterback and they will run multiple formations," he said. "It will be a real test of our defense to contain them. We'll work on our offensive line this week in practices — we'll be better next week."

Fowler blanks All Saints in big, non-league game

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

A capacity Parents Night crowd saw the Fowler Eagles shut-out a strong Bay City All Saints team last Friday with hard-hitting, rough-and-tough football played for the duration of the game.

The win was the 13th straight regular-season victory for the Fowler team, led by veteran coach Steve Spicer.

"We were pleased with the win," Spicer said. "I'm sure there were some sore bodies the morning after the game. We took some hard hits."

The strong Eagle defense held Bay City to just 42 yards rushing, 13 yards passing, and intercepted the ball three times — all in big play situations.

Not to mention a key series of downs in the second quarter when Fowler held All Saints on four consecutive plays on the Eagle four yard line.

"Our overall team defense was good for the entire game," Spicer said. "It was very well-balanced."

Curtis Feldpausch got Fowler on the board with a 20 yard run in the first quarter. An offensive pass interference call on the extra point play made the score 6-0.

The Eagles opened the second half receiving the ball at their 20 yard line and advancing it to the 35 before turning it over on an interception. All Saints time of possession was brief, as Joe Simon recovered a fumble on Bay City's second play from scrimmage to give the Eagles the ball at mid-field.

Two series of plays saw Fowler forced to punt with 3:50 left in the third quarter, and four downs later, they had the ball back again. Bruce Feldpausch called for a fir catch at the Eagle 23 yard line, and Fowler began a long drive which would end in their second score of the game.

Strong running by Feldpausch and Rex Thelen advanced the ball all the way to the Bay City 35, including a 19-yard run by Thelen to open the fourth quarter.

A pass from quarterback Matt Hufnagel to tight end Kurt Simon kept Fowler's drive alive in an ensuing third and six situation, as did another Hufnagel pass to Bruce Feldpausch on the following series of downs.

On fourth down with two yards to go, Hufnagel rolled out around the left end and broke a long run to the Bay City 11 yard line. Short yardage gains by Thelen, and a keeper by Hufnagel, put Fowler in another fourth down situation.

Hufnagel rolled out right and snaked into the endzone to give the Eagles the lead 12-0 with 5:43 left in the game. An extra point pass to Mike Armbrustmacher was incomplete.

The Eagles thwarted All Saints attempts to get into the game on both of their next two possessions when Fowler intercepted Bay City passes. Andy Thelen nabbed the first one on Bay City's first play from scrimmage following the Eagle touchdown, and Mike Armbrustmacher picked off a pass with 2:22 on the clock to seal All Saints fate.

Fowler maintained possession of the ball for the remainder of the game.

Hufnagel was 6-12 in passing for 61 yards. Thelen has 100 yards on 22 carries, and Curtis Feldpausch gained 37 yards on 13 carries. Thelen had 9 tackles for the Eagles and Jon Spitzley had 8.

The Eagles travel to Portland to take on St. Patricks in a game scheduled for this Saturday (Sept. 20) beginning at 7:30 p.m. St. Pats is currently 0-2 in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference.

Sports happenings

Rhonda Westfall

This, that, and the other thing in sports.

The 1986-87 high school sports season is underway, and with it comes a dilemma of sorts for this sportswriter.

How to provide fair and equal coverage on a weekly basis to six different schools with a multitude of boys and girls teams.

The coverage area of the Clinton County News includes school districts from St. Johns, Fowler, Pewamo-Westphalia, Ovid-Elsie, Fulton, and Ashley. Within that area are 25 athletic teams who would like to see game and meet results printed each week.

That poses a problem in terms of time, (how does one person talk to 25 coaches in one or two days time), and space (assuming the stories are written, how does one fit them all into four sports pages.)

In all honesty, there will undoubtedly be weeks when stories cannot be completed in time for the paper's Monday a.m. print deadline.

That should not be taken to mean that some schools are being given preferential treatment over others.

What it does mean is that time simply did not allow for all the contacts to be made to get the results needed to write the story.

Understand?

Our bowling readers hopefully will have noticed the league standings and individual bowlers' scores printed in the paper beginning last week. This will be a new, weekly feature in the Clinton County News.

Leagues and teams from the entire Clinton County area are invited to submit their standings each week for inclusion on the bowling page. Deadline for copy is 5 p.m. on Friday, unless other arrangements are made in advance.

Any questions, call 224-2361.

One special sports feature made it's annual return to the Clinton County News last week — the CCN Football Contest.

This "oldie, but goodie" has been a part of the paper for many, many years with the number of entries increasing all the time.

If you haven't tried your hand at predicting the outcome of football games listed on the page, why not give it a shot? It could mean an extra $20 in spending money for the week — or an additional $20 to pay bills with.

I suppose you could save it too, but that's no fun. If anybody cares, the winning number of 11 right in the opening week of the contest was three better than mine.

That's what happens when you go with your heart instead of your head.

Redwing tankers open with wins

Despite the fact that they have yet to practice in their home pool, the St. Johns girls swim team won their two opening meets of the season last week. They defeated Holt last Tuesday 99-72, and drowned Lansing Everett on Thursday 57-26.

"All the swimmers performed very well for the first competition," Coach Fred Meyers said. "after adverse training conditions. We were very pleased with all results, and especially with first year swimmers Molly Cooper and Katrina Koenigskecht."

First place times for Redwing swimmers in the Holt meet were posted by: Jane Cooper, 200 freestyle, 2:20.24; Lisa Sabo, 50 freestyle, 27.62, and 100 freestyle, 1:00.50; Mindi Wells, diving, 174.20; Kim Bauer, 100 butterfly, 1:09.81; Christine Welch, 100 backstroke, 1:13.55; Jennifer Giesecke, 100 breaststroke, 1:22.03; 400 freestyle relay team of Erin Masarik, Cooper, Welch, Sabo, 4:17.75; and the 200 medley relay team of Welch, Giesecke, Bauer, and Masarik, 2:08.39.

Second place finishes were posted by Bauer, 200 individual medley; and Cooper, 500 freestyle. Placing third was Kara Scranton, 200 freestyle; Giesecke, 200 I.M.; Masarik, 50 freestyle; Linda Strickland, diving;

St. Johns netters keep win streak alive

The Redwing girls tennis team kept their perfect record intact with two more wins last week, sweeping both Waverly and Ionia by 7-0 scores. The wins give the team a 4-0 overall record and make them 1-0 in the Mid-Michigan League.

Coach Melanie Humphrey's singles players had a closer time with Waverly's girls than with conference opponent Ionia. Number one player Lisa Ebert won 6-3, 7-6 over Waverly and took 6-1, 6-1 wins over Ionia. Emily Humphrey, playing number two singles, posted wins of 6-0, 6-2, and 6-0, 6-1 over players from Waverly and Ionia respectively.

Number three singles player Sarah Humphrey took 6-1, 6-3 set wins over Waverly and won 6-0, 6-1 over Ionia, and Wendy Moore at number four singles came away with 7-6, 6-2, and 6-1, 6-1 wins in her matches.

The number one doubles team of Janice Rademacher and Laura Tetens took both of their matches in split sets: 4-6, 6-0, 6-3 versus Waverly, and 6-1, 3-6, 6-2 against Ionia. Jennifer Pearsal and Karin Tetens at number two doubles won 6-1, 7-5 over Waverly and 6-1, 6-1 with Ionia, while the number three doubles team of Kelly Daley and Heather Foote were 6-0, 7-6 and 6-2, 6-0 winners.

The St. Johns girls have two conference matches scheduled for this week, playing at Corunna last night and travelling to Ovid-Elsie tonight (Sept. 16).

The Redwings were rained out of one match last week; a non-conference meeting with Lansing Eastern which was slated for Sept. 10.

Spaghetti dinner at O-E

The Ovid-Elsie girls swim team will sponsor a spaghetti dinner on Sept. 26, prior to the Ovid-Elsie/St. Johns football game, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to purchase new sweats for the girls. Tickets are available at the door or from the girls swim team members.

UP FOR TWO — St. Johns Gina Schneider (20) goes up for a shot in the game last week with Lansing Sexton while Kristin Kloeckner (44) and Karen Simon (24) wait for the rebound and Chris Barnhart (30) looks on.

Redwing hoopsters split in games versus Lansing

The Redwing girls basketball team split a pair of non-conference matches with Lansing teams last week, dropping a game to Eastern on Tues. 58-41, and rebounding with a 47-24 win over Sexton on Thurs.

Eastern's big center, Nikki Keyton, combined with small, quick guards proved to be too much for the St. Johns girls to handle.

The Redwings were down by a score of 36-16 at halftime, and try as they might, they could not come back from that deficit.

Anne Brocker led her teammates, and all scorers, with 24 points. Kerry Porter added six, with the remaining Redwings totaling two and three points apiece.

The contest with Sexton played later in the week proved to be a different story as St. Johns jumped to an early 10-4 lead in the first quarter and improved the margin to 25-8 at halftime. The Big Reds could muster only 16 total points in the second half.

Brocker again led St. Johns with 12 points and cleared the boards of 12 rebounds. Porter had 10 points for the Redwings. Gina Schneider added 8, and Karen Simon was good for 7.

Coach Beth Swears squad opens the MMB season tonight (Sept. 16) with a game at Ionia. They travel to East Lansing for a non-league confrontation on Thurs. The Redwings are currently 3-1 overall.

FLYING EAGLE — Theresa Feldpausch puts up a two point attempt in the Fowler girls basketball game with Portland St. Patrick last week. Mary Kay Jandernoa (23) waits underneath for the rebound. The Eagles came back to take a closing minutes win over St. Pats.

Eagle roundballers win, and lose

The Eagles girls basketball team pulled out a win in the final minutes of their game with Portland St. Pats last Tues. 54-49, but could not manage a repeat performance against Portland on Thursday. Fowler lost that outing 52-49 to give them a 2-1 record for the young season.

"Both games were very physical and tough," said Eagle Coach Tom O'Rourke. "The intensity level was high as a kite for the second week in the season."

The game with St. Pats was a back and forth contest for much of the night. The Eagles' press forced numerous turnovers in the fourth period and helped them to score the 23 points which gave them the win.

Leading scorer for Fowler was Kim Epkey with 16 points, ten coming in the final period. She also came away with 10 rebounds.

Mary Kay Jandernoa added 12 points for Fowler. Amy Witgen had 10 points and six steals, and Theresa Feldpausch was the leading rebounder with 11 boards on the night.

The outcome of the Portland contest was decided in the first quarter when the Red Raiders took a six point lead. Fowler cut that down to three, 24-21 at halftime, and played even with Portland in the second half.

"It was a hard-played game," O'Rourke said. "They (Portland) played man-to-man and used a full-court press for the entire game. We did not get many second shots at the basket either."

Jandernoa was the leading scorer for Fowler with 11 points, Witgen added 10 points, and Theresa Feldpausch topped the Eagles in rebounds with 12.

The Eagles travel to Lansingburg tonight (Sept. 16) for a CMAC match, and will play host to the Ashley Bears this Thursday in a non-conference game.

"We should match up well with Ashley," O'Rourke said of the tough Bear team, "except that they have worked together longer as a unit. We're more of a new bunch."

P-W golfers hope for improvement

The Pewamo-Westphalia golf team carded some respectable scores in their first two matches, but not quite good enough to claim wins for Coach Duane Blatt's squad.

The Pirates dropped their season opening match to Waverly on Sept. 2 by a 311-337 total, and came up short against Portland St. Patrick last week 150-155.

"Waverly has a pretty good team," Blatt said, "and they had a home course advantage playing at Forest Akers East. They shot mostly in the 70's."

Joe Platte and Dan Smith were low men for Pewamo-Westphalia, coming in with scores of 80. Scott Platte carded a 88 and Dane Hengesbach had an 89.

The match with St. Pats was also an away one for the Pirates, with the St. Pat golfers "shooting good," according to Coach Blatt.

Joe Platte was low scorer for P-W with a 35, Smith shot a 38, and Scott Platte and Hengesbach both carded 41's.

Another scheduled match last week, with Laingsburg on Wed., was "lightning out." That will be played on Sept. 18.

In other action last week, the Pirates played a scrimmage with teams from St. Pats, Portland, and Saranac. P-W defeated Portland and Saranac, but lost to St. Pats in the practice match.

"We're getting better," Blatt said.

SJ linksters card win

The Redwing golf team upped their overall record to 2-1 with a 155-163 win over Ionia last week. The match, played at Ionia, was the first Mid-Michigan B conference outing for St. Johns.

"We felt good about the match," said Redwing Coach Paul Sternburgh. "The two conference teams we were concerned about having to play away were Alma and Corunna, so it was good to get the win at Ionia."

Varsity medalist for the match was junior Jeff Dean, who shot a 35. Paul Hughes carded a 38, Tom Lewis came in with a 40, and Paul Schneberger shot a 42.

"The win gives us a good standing in the conference," Sternburgh said, "especially with Chesaning losing their MMB match to Alma."

St. Johns has a busy week scheduled, including two conference matches, a varsity and junior varsity best ball, and the annual Clinton County Meet.

The Redwings will face MMB teams Ovid-Elsie tonight (Sept. 16) at Twin Oaks Golf Course, and Alma on Thursday in their first home MMB match at the Clinton County Country Club.

The top four men on the varsity and junior varsity squads will take part in a best ball competition hosted by Lansing Eastern at Groesbeck Golf Course in Lansing tomorrow (Sept. 17). The County Meet is set for this Saturday, Sept. 20, at Prairie Creek outside of DeWitt.

Dear R.B.W. Middle School Parents:

The Rodney B. Wilson Middle School will open its doors Tuesday, September 16th from 7:00 - 9:00p.m. for its annual Open House. All parents, guardians and grandparents of 6th, 7th and 8th grade students are welcome.

The purpose of the Open House is to provide parents and guardians with an opportunity to meet the R.B.W. staff, to ask questions about the instructional program, and to follow your son's and daughter's daily school schedule. The Open House will begin at 7:00p.m., or as soon as you enter the middle school building. Parents should bring their son/daughter's schedule with them to the Open House for the purpose of locating the proper classrooms and teachers.

Finally, we will meet in the library for coffee and cookies. This will give you additional time to visit with staff members. Since the Open House is geared towards the need of adults, the students need not attend.

We have had an outstanding first two weeks of school. We would like to share some of this excitement with you! See you on Tuesday, September 16th.

Sincerely,

Eagle runners take "firsts"

Boys and girls cross country teams from Fowler were "first" in more ways than one in meets run last week.

The boys took first place with a score of 54 in the Springport Invitational last Thursday and were first in the Lansing Christian Invitational on Saturday with a 29; the girls claimed the top spot at the L.C. invitational with a total of 46; and it was the first time ever that both Fowler squads had won first place trophies at the same invitational.

"The girls did extremely well," Coach Kim Spalsbury said of the Lansing Christian finish, "and the boys were nothing short of outstanding. The times were a little slower than last year, but finishing first against some of the best teams in the state made the wins very pleasing."

Premier runner, Steve Bierstetel, took two individual first places in both invitationals, with a time of 16:49 at Springport and 16:51.8 at Lansing Christian.

"It will be very difficult for anyone to beat Steve if he continues to run as well as he is right now," Spalsbury said.

Finishing first for the Eagle girls in both meets was Stacie Rowell. She was fifth overall at Springport with a time of 21:34, and third overall at Lansing Christian in 21:55.3.

Other boys runners and their places and times at Springport were: Troy Irrer, 8th overall, 17:20; Darrin Feldpausch, 11th overall, 17:37.7; Tim Becker, 15th overall, 17:47.2; and Mike Pohl, 19th overall, 17:57.5. All earned medals for their efforts.

Besides Rowell, top runners for the girls at Springport were: Sherry Schneider, 11th overall, 22:25.3; Rebecca Feldpausch, 13th overall, 22:29.9; Lori Thelen, 17th overall, 22:57.3; and Lynette Feldpausch, 25:10.2.

In the meet at Lansing Christian the time of Lynette Feldpausch was an important one for the Eagles as it was used to determine the girls overall winner. Both Fowler and Concord ended with a score of 46 for their top five runners. As the sixth runner for the Eagles, Feldpausch's 29th place finish was better than Concord's sixth place girl who finished 32nd.

"That doesn't happen too often," Coach Spalsbury said.

The Eagles boys had a "tight pack" at Lansing Christian with fine times posted by all five top harriers. Finishing fourth overall was Irrer at 17:45.5; Feldpausch was sixth at 17:55.2; Pohl was seventh at 17:58.4; and Becker was 11th with a time of 18:07.9.

The top Eagle girls after Rowell at Lansing Christian were: Schneider, 10th, 22:57.9; Feldpausch, 15th, 23:40; Theresa Miller, 17th, 23:55.2; and Sheri Rademacher, 27th, 24:56.9.

Both boys and girls teams will face stiff competition at the DeWitt Invitational scheduled for this Saturday. The girls will go up against a Bath team which is "almost unbeatable," according to Coach Spalsbury.

"We will have our hands full trying to duplicate our performances of last week," he said.

The boys should see a tight race with harriers from Williamston.

"They (Williamston) are running extremely well. We expect them to give us a real challenge. It will be a very, very tough meet," the coach said.

Fulton loses to Potterville

The reigning girls basketball team in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference, Potterville, came to play at Fulton High School last week, and went home with a 47-28 win over the Pirates.

It was the first loss of the young season for Coach Ron Merritt's team, giving them a 2-1 overall and 0-1 record in CMAC play.

Potterville outscored the Pirates 24-12 going into halftime, increasing the margin of difference to 24-18 at the close of the third period. Below average free throw shooting did not help Fulton's cause as they made good on just four of 10 shots taken from the (Continued on page 4)

Pirates net two b-ball wins

Scoring big in two separate quarters, and playing consistently in the other six, gave the Pewamo-Westphalia girls basketball team two more wins last week. They defeated Laingsburg last Tues. 54-34, and took a 70-53 win over Carson City in a rescheduled Saturday game.

"We played well in the third quarter of the Laingsburg game and had a good second quarter in game with Carson City," Coach Carol Rademacher said.

The Pirates were ahead by a 24-16 score at halftime of the Laingsburg game, and scored 24 more points in the third quarter to put the game away.

Brenda Martin was the leading scorer with 19 points, and also had 10 rebounds, 4 steals and 4 assists. Sandy Simon added 13 points, 3 steals, and was tops in the rebound department with 15. Shirley Thelen was good for 11 points, 7 assists and 7 steals.

O-E claims first win

A balanced scoring attack from key Ovid-Elsie personnel, and hot free throw shooting, allowed the Marauders to claim their first win of the 1986 girls basketball season, 56-46 over Montrose last Thursday.

Ovid-Elsie took a one point lead in the opening quarter and increased that to seven, 25-18, going into the locker room at halftime. A total of 47 fouls were called in the contest that saw two Montrose players foul out.

Leading scorer for the Marauders was Carrie Darling. The junior guard had 13 points on the night. Cheryl Batora added 12 points, Bonnie Patrick had nine, Denise Thering was good for six, while Jami Martin, Kristin Gibbons, and Courtney Schneider netted four apiece.

The Marauders made good on 22 of 32 shots taken from the charity stripe, compared to just 6-24 for Montrose.

Ovid-Elsie takes to the road this week, playing their first Mid-Michigan B league game at Corunna tonight (Sept. 16), and travelling to Pewamo-Westphalia for a non-conference contest on Thursday.

The Marauders, coached by Bob Laney, are 1-2 overall.

Fulton basketball

Things won't get any easier for the Fulton roundballers this week as they face tough CMAC foe, Pewamo-Westphalia, tonight (Sept. 16), and travel to Ithaca for a non-league game on Thursday. Both are Class C schools.

Leading scorer for the Pirates was Lori Helman with 9 points. She was aided by Sue Root who had 8 points, while Dee Gardner and Sheila Miller added 4 points each.

Martin took top team honors in scoring in the clash with Carson City, coming away with 18 points, 10 rebounds, 5 assists and 4 steals.

"She has played at guard for us in the past," Rademacher said, "and is doing a good job at forward for us this year. She can rebound well and has a nice outside shot."

Simon had 15 points, 8 rebounds, 5 steals, and 4 assists in the Carson City game. Amy Hengesbach had 13 points and 12 rebounds, and Thelen added 12 points, 5 assists and 3 steals.

The Pirates travel to Fulton tonight (Sept 16) hoping to add to their 1-0 conference and 2-2 overall record. They face Ovid-Elsie on Thursday in a home, non-league game.

"We lost to Fulton twice last year," Rademacher said, "and Ovid-Elsie always gives us a good game. It should be a tough week."

Marauders are not discouraged

Golfers from Ovid-Elsie are not discouraged, despite the loss of their first three matches of the season.

"Practice improves everybody," Coach Sid Keys said. "We will do better."

The Marauders came up short in matches with Laingsburg 154-179, Perry 156-185, and Corunna 193-174. All were played away.

Lee McCallister was medalist for Ovid-Elsie in the Perry and Corunna matches with scores of 43 and 44 respectively. Brad Walker took the low man honors for the Marauders versus Laingsburg, shooting a 42. McCallister's 43 in that match was the second low score for O-E.

O-E tennis team has no luck at all

The Ovid-Elsie girls tennis team has not been getting too many good breaks of late. In fact, to paraphrase a familiar country tune, "if it weren't for bad luck, they'd have no luck at all."

Besides losing their opening three matches of the season, they have lost the services of half of their number one doubles team, Tammy Meyers, for the season due to a broken hand, and of Rhonda Mead, number two doubles player who cut her finger opening a can of balls.

"Emotionally, the girls are kind of down," said Coach Judy Heimker.

The Marauders lost their opening match of the season Sept. 3 to Bullock Creek by a score of 6-1. Shelly Pearce, a junior singles player, claimed the lone win for Ovid-Elsie.

Two other matches with Eaton Rapids and Corunna ended in 7-0 defeats for the Marauder netters. The doubles team of Meyers and Julie Kioski played a match that lasted three hours and 10 minutes, only to lose 3-6, 6-1, 9-7.

"The girls were so tired," Heimker said. "It was a tough match to lose."

The Marauders are fielding a relatively young team this season, having lost five seniors to graduation and with just five girls back who played at the varsity level last year. Those include Meyers, Kioski, Mead, Amy Thornburg, and Cynthia Wineland. With Meyers and Mead out of action, Coach Heimker knows her team has their back against the wall.

There are several bright spots in the form of Missy Boone, an "up and coming freshman" according to the coach, and Shawn Fisher, "returning junior varsity player."

Bear hoopsters win easily

The Ashley girls upped their basketball record to 3-0 with two wins last week, 60-37 over Breckenridge on Tues., and 58-42 over Ithaca in a rescheduled game played on Saturday.

Both were "pretty easy games" according to Coach Carl Wayer who was able to use his bench for a large part of the Breckenridge game and some of the Ithaca contest.

The Bears were ahead by 32 points at one time in the third quarter of the Breckenridge game, ending the period on top 42-12.

Lori Haruska was the leading scorer with 18 points. She also had 5 forced mistakes, 3 steals, and 2 assists. Karen Burlingham was the leading rebounder with 7 boards.

Theresa Fabus added 15 points to the Bears' cause.

Lisa Wingle had 8, and Chaunda Shaw netted 6 points. Sherry Kral had a "good game" according to the coach, with 6 assists, 5 steals, 4 forced mistakes and 2 points; and Jamie Plesko had 4 assists, 3 steals and 2 forced mistakes.

The game with Ithaca was a foul-ridden contest with 32 fouls called on Ithaca and 26 on Ashley. The Bears led from start to finish, allowing the Yellowjackets to get no closer than 9 points in the third period.

Fabus was the top scorer for the Bears with 13 points. Shaw added 12 baskets and had 3 assists and 2 steals. Haruska led her team in rebounds with 12 and netted 11 points, while Kral had 7 points and 3 steals.

The Bears take on Genesee in their first Mid-State Athletic Conference game tonight (Sept. 16). They play at Fowler on Thursday in a non-league contest.

Agricultural news Harvesting

Marilyn Loudenslager

It seemed like the thing to do. In fact, it was a good decision. But, now it's time to harvest the crop and you don't know exactly how it is done.

If you planted sorghum, sudangrass or sorghum-sudangrass last spring to put up as silage this fall, you may be having some of these same concerns.

The sorghums make excellent silage if they are put up correctly. They need to be harvested when the seeds are at the mid to hard dough stage. When they are at this stage the forage should be about 70 percent moisture. If put up at this stage, the silage contains no more acid than corn silage and is well liked by livestock. However, if the plants are immature, the silage will be too sour.

Like corn silage the sorghums are relatively low in protein. So, like corn silage you can increase the protein content by adding anhydrous ammonia or urea at harvest or when filling the silo. To increase the protein by four to five percent add either 10 pounds of urea per ton of silage or add 7.2 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per ton of silage. The silage needs to be between 28 and 36 percent dry matter.

The biggest problem encountered in making quality sorghum silage is putting it in between 28 to 36 percent dry matter. Sorghums are very wet and difficult to get dry. Some methods that have been used with some success are cutting and wilting the sorghum prior to chopping, or adding dry hay or straw while filling the silo. Either methods will increase the total dry matter content of the silage. However, wilting is the preferred method.

Prussic Acid (HCN) poisoning is a risk when feeding forages from sorghum, sudangrasses or sorghum-sudangrass. However, silages made from these grasses usually are safe to feed, because the HCN gas escapes during the ensiling process.

Caution should be taken if livestock are allowed to graze any of these grasses. Prussic Acid poisoning is a problem when the grasses are immature (less than 18 inches tall) or after a frost or drought conditions, the regrowth contains a high concentration of the HCN. Marilyn Loudenslager is the agricultural agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Conservation tillage saves fuel, water, soil; yield same or higher

By EILEEN GILLESPIE
Clinton Soil
Conservation District

Farmers' use of conservation tillage continued to grow in 1985. According to the Natl. Assoc. of Conservation Districts' Conservation Tillage Center, of the 316.79 million acres planted to crops in 1985, farmers used some form of conservation tillage on 99.6 million acres, nearly a third.

Conservation tillage is any tillage or planting system that retains at least 30 percent residue cover on the soil surface. More than 60 percent of the acres under conservation tillage are in the corn belt and northern plains states. Farmers are making the most increases in their use of conservation tillage methods on full-season corn and soybeans. Farmers used no-till, a conservation tillage method in which only a narrow seedbed is disturbed for planting, on 14.9 million acres.

If you are serious about saving fuel, give conservation tillage a closer look. Farmers who have switched from conventional tillage have reduced their fuel use as much as 80 percent by using no-till, the most fuel efficient type of conservation tillage.

Conservation tillage saves fuel mainly because fewer trips are made over the field, horsepower requirements are lower, and less equipment is needed to plant a crop. Until recently, farmers considered the fuel savings to be only a minor by-product of the improved water conservation and erosion control provided by conservation tillage. With no-till, in which all the residue is left on the surface, soil loss can be reduced as much as 90 percent. On steep slopes or highly erodible soils, other conservation practices may also be needed.

Conserving soil, water, and fuel is a great idea, many farmers say, but they want to know how conservation tillage affects crop yields and damage from weeds, insects, and disease.

Compared to conventional tillage, yields with conservation tillage generally are the same or higher. Herbicides are available, if needed, that will control most problem weeds, and field experience with conservation tillage has indicated no significant increase in damage from insects and diseases. Like any other successful farming system, conservation tillage requires proper timing of field operations, careful adjustment and maintenance of equipment, and a close watch for insect and other problems.

For help in planning a conservation tillage system that is right for your farm, call or visit the local office of your conservation district, located at 306 Elm St., St. Johns.

Roehl lines New name

Giles Roehl

A new masthead (name) for this column. Many of you have trouble remembering how to pronounce the name Roehl, therefore, it is hoped this new masthead will help.

Railroad lines, a dentist friend explained, carry a great amount of product both to and from the farm and related industries. He further indicated that although he is not a farmer, he does read the column, finds it interesting and feels that, "If people can associate the name Roehl with the railroad, it will be easier for many to remember the correct pronunciation." Roehl is pronounced rail!

It is hoped that this column will serve you as well, or even better, than the railroads have served America throughout the years. Unlike this dentist friend who also says, "The only crop I grow is a garden of weeds," I hope you grow into a stronger agriculture community in Clinton County. Thanks for the name, Doctor.

How to Survive in Agriculture in the 80's and 90's. On Monday, Sept. 22, we will discuss this question at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Two identical sessions are scheduled — one at 1:30 p.m. and an identical (or nearly so) session at 7:30 p.m. It is hoped that all of us associated with the agriculture industry will attend one of these sessions.

Dr. Mike Kelsey, a man who many of you know and respect from MSU, will keynote the event. Dr. Kelsey will briefly identify where we've been, where we are, and how we got there. He will concentrate on where we are going and how we in the agriculture industry can continue to fit into this great industry.

Dr. Jim Hilker, another respected MSU economist who specializes in forecasting, will provide information on what we can expect during the 1986 crop marketing year — volumes and prices. Hilker will also provide tips on what to watch for as signs of market strengths and weaknesses.

Farm operators, land owners, agriculture industry personnel, and others interested on what is happening, and expected to happen in the future of agriculture and where we fit, are encouraged to attend and participate in the forum that follows the presentations.

The Corner Garden. I love mushrooms. I'm afraid to pick them from the wild. How can a person tell the difference between the edible and poisonous mushroom?

A workshop to provide opportunities for lecture and laboratory in the recognition, collection, identification, and handling of some of Michigan's abundant edible, as well as poisonous mushrooms.

The experience is planned to accommodate beginners and more advanced individuals. The workshop is Sat., Sept. 20, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Westshore Community College, N. Stiles Rd., Scottsville, Mich.

9 to 11 a.m. — Shiitake mushrooms.
11 a.m. to 12 noon — Growing other mushrooms.
1:30 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. — Identifying edible fall mushrooms.

A fee will be charged. Pre-registration is required. Call the Extension Office for additional information at 224-3288.

Giles Roehl is the director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Teach your children safety by teaching the bus rules, says Sheriff T. Haneckow

Back to school means learning safety rules as well as reading and writing, says Clinton County Sheriff Terry Haneckow.

"The yellow school buses are on the road again," Sheriff Haneckow says. "If children obey a few simple rules, bus rides will be safer for everyone."

Sheriff Haneckow recommends teaching children the following:

- Always be on time at the bus stop
- Wait quietly so that the bus driver can see you.
- Keep away from moving traffic
- Never accept rides from strangers
- When getting on the bus: wait for the bus to come to a complete stop, never crowd around the door of the bus, go directly to a seat and stay there
- When riding on the school bus: be courteous to the bus driver and other passengers, know where the emergency exit is and how to use it, never put your head, arms, or hands out the window; never throw food or trash on the seat, floor, or out the window
- When leaving the school bus: stay seated until the bus comes to a complete stop, always use the handrail by the bus door, watch for moving traffic, never cross the road until it is safe to do so and the bus driver can see you

"Teaching your children to obey school bus rules is more than common courtesy," Haneckow says. "How to have a safe trip home is an important lesson for kids to learn."

What 4-H project combines families and dogs while providing opportunities for community service and personal growth?
 The 4-H leader dogs for the blind project.
 "The purpose of the 4-H project is to help us help blind people," says Tom Miller, public relations specialist with Leader Dogs for the Blind in Rochester, Mich. "We have puppies of our own breeding stock, but we need people in the community who want to raise dogs for us."
 Each year, approximately 200 Michigan 4-H families raise puppies for the Leader Dogs for the Blind. In 1984, three out of four dogs accepted by the school were raised by Michigan 4-H members and their families, says John Aylsworth, Michigan 4-H youth program leader. The families housebreak and socialize the dogs and may teach some obedience commands. It is important that the dogs be family dogs, friendly to everyone.
 "4-H families have been successful because family members spend a lot of time with the puppies, walking them along busy streets and taking them into public places," Aylsworth says. "If a dog is rejected, it is usually because the dog is people or car shy."
 The school most frequently uses golden retrievers, Labrador retrievers and German shepherds for its leader dogs because of the breeds' characteristic short hair and good disposition. Families receive the dogs as puppies and raise them for about one year. The dogs are then returned to the Leader Dogs for the Blind for evaluation as potential leader dogs.

 "The partnership of 4-H and the Leader Dogs for the Blind has been very good for both programs," Miller says. "The 4-H clubs have been able to raise and develop animals for us. We're then able to give the dogs formalized training. Afterwards, we assign them to blind persons as leader dogs."
 Dogs that do not graduate and become leader dogs are offered back to the families who raised them as puppies. If the families are unable to take them back, a good home is guaranteed.
 "We have a two-year waiting list of families who want to provide a permanent home to dogs that do not graduate from our program," Miller says. "People know our breeding stock is excellent and thanks to programs like the one through 4-H, they know the dogs have received excellent care and training during their first year."
 If you would like more information about the 4-H leader dog program contact your county Cooperative Extension Service Office or call Leader Dogs for the Blind at (313) 651-9011.
