Don't drive drunk this New Year's, police warn

Don't wake up New Year's morning in jail — or worse yet, with blood on your hands. That's the message from police officers this week.

For the last two years Clinton County has not had a fatal traffic accident during New Year's celebrations, says Sheriff Terry Haneckow. "We've been very fortunate as far as holidays," he says.

But area police are not going to relax this year — they will do everything they can to make sure county roads are safe to travel this holiday week.

Police officers on road patrol will be "extra alert" for intoxicated drivers on New Year's Eve, Haneckow warns.

"We don't take them home, either," he says. "We come down quite strictly on that."

There is a reason for that.

"Over half of the people who are killed will have been drinking," Haneckow says. "You know it and I know it."

1986

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Never let it be said that 1986 was not an eventful year in Clinton County. Not all of those events were good news. Some were tragic; others were merely controversial. Then, too, there was some good news.

Here, then, is a month-by-month review of the biggest stories of 1986 in Clinton County.

JANUARY

A group of St. Johns-area residents, angered at what they call blackmail on the part of the St. Johns Board of Education in getting voter approval of the last millage increase, begin a campaign to recall the school board. In the first two days of the campaign, the Concerned Citizens of St. Johns gather over 900 signatures. A total of 1,502 are needed in order for a special recall election to be called.

Board members fight back by filing a formal complaint with the state against Concerned Citizens for what board members say are two violations of state election law: failing to file a statement of organization and failing to include a "Paid for by..." statement on recall campaign literature. Board members say they will drop the complaint if Concerned Citizens drops its recall campaign.

Board member Gary Whitford does not sign the complaint. He says the

The past year is not likely to be remembered as the year that nothing happened in Clinton County complaint was not meant to be vindictive but that it conflicts with his beliefs about how conflicts should be resolved.

Board members also challenge Concerned Citizens to announce its own slate of candidates and solutions to the problems of the school district.

Concerned Citizens member Jim Sjoberg characterizes the complaints as "technical and nit-picky." Sjoberg also says it was the hundreds of Concerned Citizens members — not the leaders of the group — who started the campaign and it is only the members who can stop it.

The group later files a statement of organization and pays $140 fine for having filed it late. On Monday, Jan. 27, the group files over 2,000 signatures in support of a recall election with the Clinton County Clerk's Office.

STEERING committee members of a new economic development group announce the beginning of a membership campaign. CAN-DO will attempt to keep existing businesses and attract new ones — and thus preserve and attract jobs — to the county by providing information about advantages and incentives offered by the county to industry.

The organization has a $56,000 grant from Clinton County and hopes to attract another $15,000 in municipal and township support.

The St. Johns High School Theatre Department wins a Division I rating for its production "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" in a district competition hosted by St. Johns.

Awarded for excellence performances were: John Trayer, Tanya Andret, Carol Graham and Gerry Nichols. Awarded for superior performances were Trish Shoemaker, Pat Niemi, Dan Redman (for photography) and the Acting Ensemble.

The theatre students will now take their show to regional competition in February.

FEBRUARY

A group that calls itself Positive People for St. Johns Schools has formed and will campaign in support of the school board members threatened with recall. The group includes Clinton Memorial Hospital Administrator Paul McNamara and former St. Johns school superintendent Earl Lancaster. Positive People asks the board members to "back away" from publicly debating the recall and to concentrate on their board duties.

Anticipating the loss of federal revenue sharing and a 10 to 13 percent drop in farm land assessments, Clinton County Commissioners adopt a resolution aimed at keeping better track of how county monies are spent. The resolution prohibits the over-expenditure of line items and makes it harder for department heads to have their budgets increased.

The Foundation for Excellence, an organization that will provide "educational extras" to the St. Johns Schools, is formed with seed money provided by the Lion's Club, Rotary, Exchange Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Foundation President Ron Huard explains that the purpose of the Foundation for Excellence is not to enter into the routine budget process of the school district.

"Our purpose," he says, "is to enhance that budget."

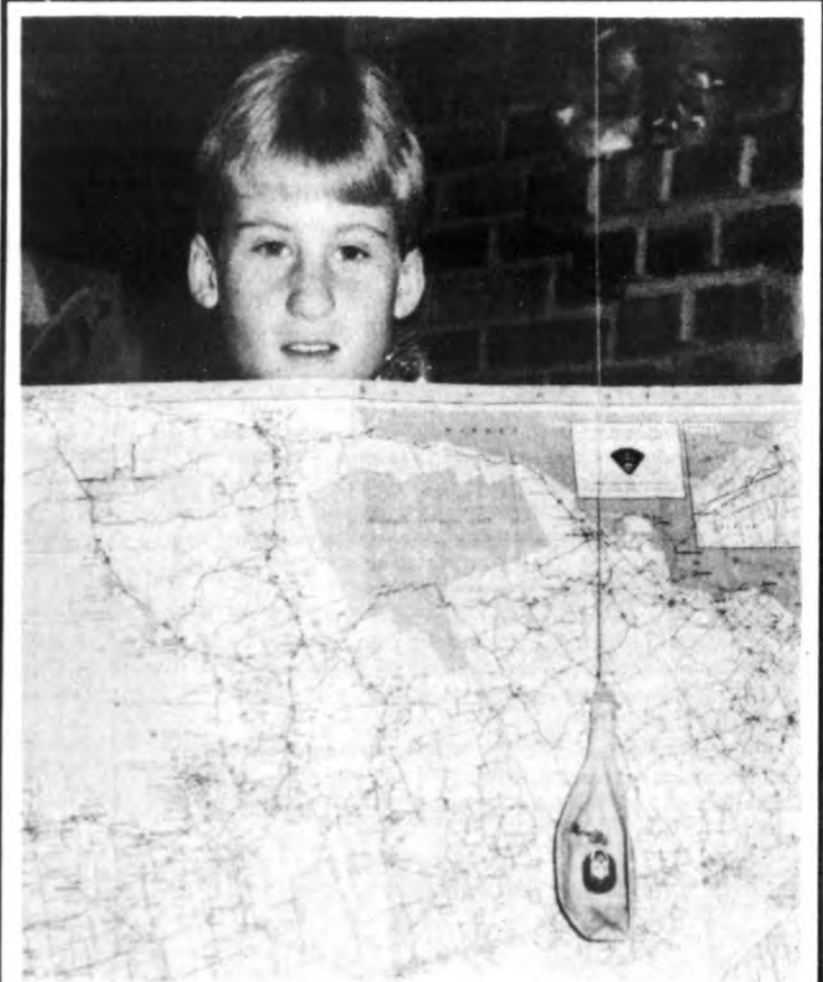

In St. Johns, Richard Cressman is named Mason of the Year. In Fowler, a "Community Tribute to Joe Hafner" is held for that respected and well-liked resident who suffers from Lou Gehrig's disease.

A state fire inspector says the century-old Central School in St. Johns is unsafe and orders it closed at the end of the school year. The school board re-establishes a citizens committee to figure out what to do about the closing.

The death of William H. Patton, retired vice president and manager of the Capital Federal Savings and Loan Association, has prompted an outpouring of memories and last respects from his friends and business associates.

He is recalled as man deeply committed to his family, friends and community.

LONG DISTANCE — Jesse Livingston, of St. Johns, displays his balloon and a map showing the area of Ontario in which it was found.

Jesse Livingston's balloon travels over 350 miles to Ontario

What went up in St. Johns came down over 350 miles away in Ontario, Canada. It was a balloon belonging to Jesse Livingston, a Swegels School fourth grader, who sent the balloon aloft as part of class project in November.

"We all had our balloons go up in the air," says Jesse, the son of Gerald and Wanda Livingston, of 1401 S. Oakland in St. Johns. "We watched them a few minutes, then went back inside."

That was that, until shortly before Christmas, when a cardboard tube addressed to Jesse arrived in the mail.

"I opened it, saw my balloon and then I knew what it was," says Jesse.

Jesse's balloon had been found by Tim Malkiewicz, an Newcastle, Ontario, man who had been deer hunting in an area 120 miles northeast of Toronto. The hunter wrote that he had found the balloon in a tree high on a ridge of the forest he was traversing.

Malkiewicz, besides sending back Jesse's balloon, sent season's greetings and maps of Ontario and Canada.

"When we go back to school in two weeks I'll take it back to school," says Jesse.

Jesse is a student of Swegels fourth grade teacher Lynn Koger. The balloon launch was part of the Reading is Fundamental program.

Financial aid

IVID-ELSIE A financial aid information session for college-bound students will be held in the library of Ovid-Elsie High School on Jan. 6, 1987, beginning at 7 p.m.

Application forms will be distributed and the various scholarship and financial aid programs will be reviewed. Information will also be available on all financial aid programs.

The night is part of "Financial Aid Awareness Month" which has been declared for the month of January, 1987, by Governor James Blanchard.

and more aid

ST. JOHNS Financial aid forms used by students in applying for college grants and scholarships are now available in the Student Services Office at St. Johns High School. Students planning on attending college and applying for aid, must submit the forms between January 1 and February 15, 1987.

The forms are the Financial Aid Form (FAF) and the Family Financial Statement (FFS). The following factors should be considered when deciding which form to use: 1. College preference; 2. Cost; 3. Ability to explain unusual circumstances; and 4. Personal preference.

St. Johns High School will conduct a financial aid workshop to assist families in completing their financial aid form on Jan. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Lee Peterson from the Michigan Department of Education will conduct the workshop.

Parents with questions on financial aid should contact Student Services at 224-9341, ext. 108.

It's D.C. or private practice now, says Cropsey

By MARILYN HESS
Staff Writer

Those who aren't wagering on Michigan or Arizona State in the Rose Bowl are probably laying bets on just what Alan Cropsey of DeWitt is going to be doing when his term in the Senate expires with the year 1986.

Cropsey himself says he has narrowed his choices to two.

"I'm looking at either a position in Washington with the Justice Department, or staying here in Lansing and opening a private law practice," he says.

Cropsey, the 34-year-old DeWitt Republican who has represented the 30th Senate District for the last four years, lost a primary bid for the Third District Court of Appeals in August.

"It was a surprise that I lost," Cropsey says. "Quite frankly, I thought I would place in the top three. The other candidates were surprised, too, I think."

Still, if he did not know the outcome, Cropsey says, he would do it again. Conditions seemed right, he says, and he certainly didn't give up his Senate seat to undergo what he refers to as his "ill-fated" Court of Appeals candidacy thinking that he would lose.

CROPSEY SAYS he is proud of several accomplishments during his term as Senator.

"We put the crime issue on the front burner, but a lot more needs to be done. We've accomplished a lot in the liability area, especially government liability, and the pornography legislation is now winding its way through the courts," he says.

"I think that we botched the medical malpractice thing terribly. We didn't address it in total, but made a valiant attempt. My guess is that the legislature is going to have to look at it again, because the rates will continue to go up." One issue that the Senator wishes he could have addressed is regulations for non-public schools. However, since a relevant lawsuit has yet to be settled, Cropsey says it may be as long as three or four years before the topic can be addressed.

In considering issues which directly affect Clinton County residents, Cropsey says his successor, Fred Dillingham, will have to deal with the placement of a US-27 bypass around St. Johns and the surrounding area.

"A highway is a no-win situation for a legislator," Cropsey laughs. "No matter where it is put, someone is going to not like it."

CROPSEY is known — and sometimes disparaged — as a man whose actions are motivated by fundamentalist religious beliefs. Those beliefs — and his conservative political bent — have sometimes caused trouble.

He acknowledges that "there's a tremendous amount of overlap between conservative political leanings and fundamentalist or evangelical beliefs." But, he says, his position is "not a narrow Baptist viewpoint, let's say."

"I have come to trust a lot of people on the moral issues that don't have my religious beliefs," he says, mentioning specifically Dillingham, who is a Catholic. Cropsey and his family attend the Grove Bible Church.

"I think overall, I have made a positive impact," Cropsey says. He tells of a lobbyist confessing several weeks ago that when Cropsey was first elected the lobby corps had him pegged as a conservative fundamentalist.

"But then he went on to say that my handling of the liability issue caused them to see another side of me, that I didn't fit the narrow label they had put on me. I took that as a compliment," Cropsey says.

When he needs a break from lobbyists or just about anything, Cropsey says his favorite escape is to go to the library and read. Anything. He likes reading flying or construction magazines, books on philosophy, science, or what the future could be like.

"There's a lot of life in those libraries, really. It gives me balance," he says. Whenever he goes to a mall, he adds, his wife often has to drag him out of the bookstores.

Cropsey is looking forward to spending more time with his wife and three sons. Joel is five, Gabriel is three and a half, and Nathanael is one and a half.

"Assuming I go to the private sector, it will be nice to have weekends basically free. It's a lower profile and I'm ready for that. I thought I'd have a lower profile as a lame duck, but that hasn't been the case," he says. "Of course, that doesn't mean I'm going to drop out entirely. I'm not ruling public office out in the future...."

Physical education is crucial to education

To the Editor:

St. Johns physical education classes are an important part of the total school curriculum at the St. Johns High School. This is what we are trying to get the community to understand and believe in. I personally feel that we at St. Johns have one of the better physical education programs in the state. We are constantly reviewing our curriculum and working hard at making it the best it can be.

There are several studies that show U.S. children are testing far below the average minimum health standards in physical fitness. Other studies show that students who are physically fit and active get better academic grades.

I feel the picture is clear. If we are really concerned about the recent articles about our nation at risk because of low academic grades, then we more than ever should support a good physical education program for kindergarten through high school. At the present time we have physical education at the junior high and high school but not at the most-needed elementary level.

THE PHYSICAL education department is going through a self-study program to assess the needs at all levels and gain support for having physical education at the elementary grades.

Our physical education program at the high school covers a wide range of curriculum which is broken down into units. In each of our units we start out with specific goals we are attempting to accomplish. We spend three to five days teaching these skills using lectures, demonstrations, AV material and community resources when feasible.

Next, the students participate in game-related situations. We expect a good effort and cooperation. Sportsmanship is stressed. At the completion of the unit a written quiz and skills test is given to see if we have accomplished our goals. All students each day will do 10-15 minutes of calisthenics, stretching and jogging each day before activities start. We really believe cardiovascular fitness is an important aspect of our program and attempt to promote it whenever possible.

In addition to physical education activities we do several health units during the school year ranging in length from one day to two weeks long. Students are expected to take notes and have written tests at the completion of the health units.

In closing we ask each student to approach class with a positive, ready-to-work attitude. We ask that they try the best they can and give a good effort in participation.

CPR TRAINING — "Physical education is not just throwing a basketball around now," says St. Johns instructor Wayne Morrison. Here, a CPR instructor from Clinton Memorial Hospital instructs a high school student in CPR.

With a combination of effort on the part of the students and good teaching from our staff of Beth Swears, Linda Brown, Dirk Besko and myself, we feel confident our goals will be met.

Proctor & Gamble is not tied to Satanism

To the Editor:

I have been aware of flyers being circulated in many public places the past two weeks maligning the Proctor and Gamble Company as a supporter of satanism.

I wrote the company and received the following reply which I wish to share with all of your readers in an effort to stop these untrue rumors.

Mariam Randolph
St. Johns

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter has been edited and condensed.

Ms. Randolph:

Thank you for contacting us regarding our company's trademark. The allegation of a connection between satanism and Proctor and Gamble is untrue, and we appreciate the opportunity to share the enclosed material with you.

As background, since early 1981, a false and malicious story has been circulating that our moon and stars trademark is a satanic or occult symbol which signifies some connection with satanism or devil worship. This fabrication also claims that the president of Proctor and Gamble appeared on a

Child's hug is what season is all about

To the Editor:

I was in St. Johns last Saturday for a quick visit. I had the opportunity to stand by US-27 and wave to those who passed by. It was good to see about 90 percent of those who saw me, wave and honk their horns. The look of the young especially was worth the time and effort.

Several parents brought their little ones to see me. One of those small fry — I think his name was "Joey" — was taken in by the thrill of sitting on my knee. He was speechless! He could not tell me what he wanted on the 25th. Then a beautiful thing happened. As the small lad was safely in his mother's arms, he whispered in her ear.

Mom released the child and he ran quickly to me with his arms outstretched. The hug he applied is hard to describe. But to me I understood quickly what this time of the year means to other Joeys, Sallys, and so on — love for one another.

May God bless everyone!

tionally televised talk show (Donahue, or sometimes the Merv Show, is usually mentioned) to discuss the company's connection with satanism.

None of this is true. The president of the company has never appeared on any talk show to discuss satanism or our trademark. Further, contrary to this tale, the trademark was not just recently added to our product packages. In fact, the moon and stars trademark is more than 100 years old and represents only Proctor and Gamble.

Calls and letters about this malicious story reached a peak in the summer of 1982. At that time, the producers of various network talk shows provided letters clearly stating that no Proctor and Gamble executive has appeared on their shows for any purpose. Many religious leaders were appalled by the ugliness of the story and also volunteered statements on our behalf. Copies of some of their letters and statements are enclosed, along with copies of some of the newspaper stories published then.

Frankly, the story seemed to have stopped after the media attention given the problem in 1982. Unfortunately, it continues to resurface and take on a new life in some areas....

Sincerely,
P.B. Sussman

"It's in the Bag"
by Bob Beck

Appetizers provide a tasty bridge from hunger to the dinner table, and enable you to appreciate the main course with ease, rather than attacking it so that its subtleties are overlooked.

There are many varieties of appetizers; hot, cold, liquids, spreads, canapes, dips, meats, fish, fruits, salads, relishes, cheeses and vegetables, to name a few.

Appetizers are practical additions to the meal, providing an outlet for leftovers. In fact, a creative cook always enjoys preparing and serving appetizers. Any drink or food that temps or stimulates your appetite and does not destroy it is an appetizer. Snacks, however, are not to be confused with appetizers or hors d'oeuvres.

From the cook's point of view, appetizers buy extra time, for they can be served while the dinner is still being prepared.

Remember, appetizers should be served in small portions and be in harmony with your main course. The appetizer is to tease the palate and whet the appetite.

By the way, if you run out of ideas and leftovers Beck's has all kinds of hors d'oeuvres ready and waiting. And we guarantee they won't "tease" your food budget ... just "ease" it. Come see!

Thanks to you

Rich Wertz

I was going to write something thoughtful and inspiring about the end of the old year and the start of the new year but Theresa Silm beat me to the punch. Read her column on page 4A. That's exactly how I feel about the new year — it couldn't have been said any better.

Thanks a lot, Theresa, for stealing my thunder.

Actually, I do want to take this opportunity to give serious and heartfelt thanks not only to Theresa Silm but also to her colleagues at the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service. Thanks to Giles Roehl, our new county director, for his entertaining and informative column "Roehl Lines." For those who have not already discovered this, you don't have to be a farmer to enjoy that column.

Thanks to Marilyn Loudenslager and Dawn Harris for faithfully providing your columns to county readers each week. May we be cursed with a thousand misspelled headlines if we ever take you for granted.

Thanks also to two columnists new to the County News this year. Chuck Dicken, with his "Financial Focus" column, has shed light on how the stock market and other financial institutions work, a subject that previously left me and presumably many other readers baffled. And thanks to Eileen Gillespie for her informative and intriguing "Conservation Corner."

Welcome back and thank you to Jean Bartholomew for her monthly "World in Bement Library." We're glad you have returned to these pages, Jean, even if you are chicken of having your photograph taken. Come on other columnists, let's try peer pressure: "Everybody else has their picture on their columns!"

The Clinton County News depends on so many people to make sure relevant news gets to our readers that we could not possibly name them all. Here is an attempt to name a few who regularly submit unsolicited copy virtually ready to print:

Communists seek the corruption of youth

To the Editor:

I recall waking during a restless night, the worst nightmare of a lifetime. In the nightmare I was fighting communism, which had taken over our country. Concerned about communists in our country, and unable to sleep I got up at 2 a.m. and wrote a letter to our then-president Nixon explaining my concern.

His response to that letter was, yes, we do have communists in our country, and because we are a free country as long as they sign a paper stating they are communists they are free to live here, and that there are those who also have jobs in the White House.

On Stalin's death bed he said the way to take over a country without firing a shot is through the youth. Get their minds on sex, drugs, rock music, alcohol, and the country will destroy itself from within.

Even the wisest of wise people have fallen into the trap of destruction and take part of our youths in trapment. As the events Stalin talked about engulf the innocent and make prisoners of our young people, while the adults make laws and enforce them, our youth are being destroyed morally and physically.

It seems that those adults who are trusted by the youth are the ones leading them astray. Who does our youth have to look up to?

When sex education is taught in the schools, and the programs. Maxine Strahle, of the Clinton County Arts Council, faithfully keeps us informed of Arts Council activities and events. Chris Henning, of Clinton Memorial Hospital, writes all those many items of hospital news and recently performed above and beyond the call of duty with her article about Chad and his parents.

Thanks to Debbie Whybra and all the rest of the crew at Findlay Country Manor for keeping us informed of Findlay Manor happenings and for letting us know when special events are planned.

Thanks to Carolyn Campbell, Beverly Austin, Joanne Fornusek, Frank Bernath, Bina Oberlin, Jeanette Huard, Virgeline Priest, and Diana Johnson.

All of these people do a terrific job of reporting the activities of their clubs and organizations.

If I've forgotten others who regularly sit down with pen and paper to write for this newspaper — and I undoubtedly have — please accept our thanks and my apologies in advance.

Thank you to all of the hundreds of people in the community who are the source of so much news — the city and school officials, the county officials, the leaders in the private sector, the police and fire officials. There are too many of you to name — but you know who you are.

Thanks also to all of those who took the time to write one letter or one article or to make one phone call to us during the past year. Where would we be without your praise, without your criticism, without your involvement?

Most of all thank you to our readers. The Clinton County News begins the new year considerably stronger than it began the old year. The progress we have made so far was only possible because of the support and goodwill of the people of Clinton County.

We, in turn, promise to make continual improvements to this newspaper, to correct our weak points and to make our strong points stronger.

That is, after all, why we are here.

youth take to heart what they've learned, and their experiences lead to a higher percentage of pregnancies, venereal diseases, etc., who will take the credit? Will the buck be passed again on the fault of the parents?

What ever happened to reading, writing, and arithmetic? Parents work hard, pay taxes, plus, to get a good education for their children, and young people are graduating, some unable to read and write properly. What makes the schools think they can do a better job teaching sex classes? Schools were started to teach scholastics. That's what they should stick to, and perfect that.

It's time someone within the school or on the school board with guts and moral standards sticks their neck out and says "no." But in the society we live in, medals are given to those causing destruction of families and teens rather than correction. The crooks are applauded, while the innocent are destroyed.

The young people are falling prey to the vultures of society who seem to care less about their future, but are allowing Stalin's prediction to come true.

Wake up America, before it is too late. The blood of the young people lies on the hands of the adults. Love in Christ Jesus.

DeWitt family thankful for donations of blood

By MARILYN HESS
Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: Blood donations are needed desperately during this holiday season when regular donors get too busy to think about it. According to Susan Pyle from the Red Cross office in Lansing, the need is especially severe this year because the area recently supplied a greater than normal amount of blood to several patients. Consider giving blood as a gift of life this season.

As five-year-old Melissa Bates of DeWitt flits around the living room, going from cutting out shapes in a Sesame Street magazine to donning a Shera costume, she is the picture of health.

No one would guess that by the time Melissa was three years and nine months old, she needed 23 blood transfusions, not counting the total blood exchange performed at birth.

But thanks to those transfusions, which kept her going until her condition could be taken care of, Melissa is actually quite healthy now.

Hereditary spherocytosis is the name of the condition that caused all the trouble for Melissa. Her father, Scott, and her four-month-old sister, Kodee, also have spherocytosis.

IN LAYMAN'S terms, it can be explained in this way: some of the red blood cells are misshapen, and the spleen mistakes them for older cells to be destroyed. That's exactly what happens — the body destroys those (misshapen, but otherwise normal) red blood cells faster than the bone marrow can produce new cells. That's when a transfusion becomes necessary to bridge the gap and insure the body has plenty of healthy red blood cells.

Spherocytosis manifests itself in several ways — victims can become jaundiced, or anemic. The Bates children react in the latter way. Kodee has to be tested every week to make sure her anemia is not out of control. She's had three transfusions in her young life.

Melissa, thankfully, has not needed a transfusion for quite some time now, since she became old enough to have her spleen removed. The only danger now is decreased immunity to infections, so her mom, Deon, watches her a little more carefully than most parents would. Scott had his spleen removed when he was two. Kodee, who appears more stable than Melissa was, probably will have hers taken out when she gets older, too.

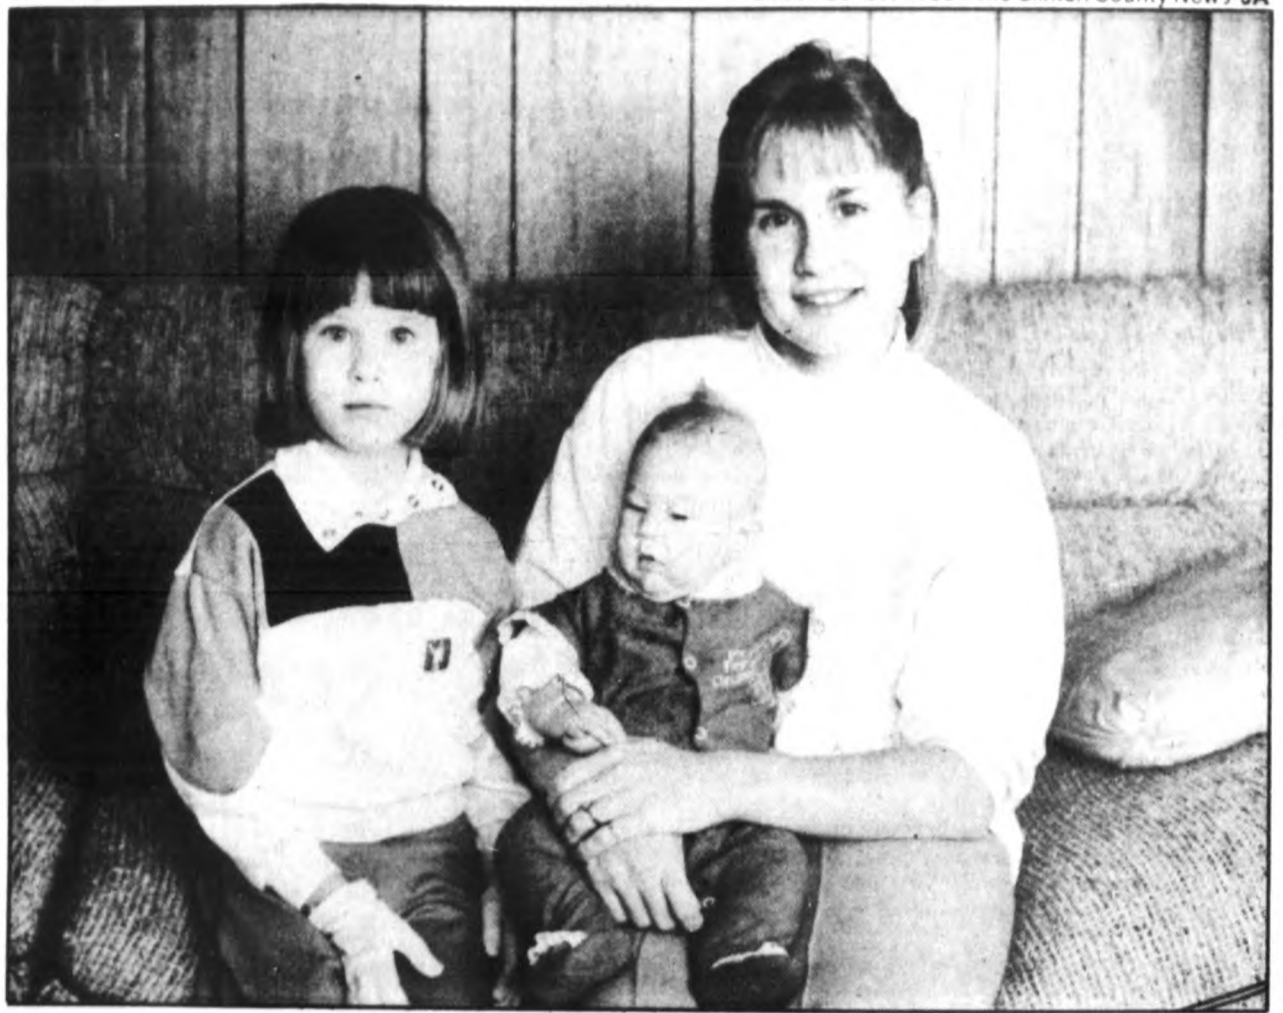

MOST OF Scott's family members have the condition. It is not recessive: if a person has spherocytosis, it will manifest itself and not "hide" for a generation. One of Melissa's cousins was the first to be born in three generations without it.

Theoretically, Scott and Deon's chances of passing the condition to their children was 50-50. So in a way, the couple knew what their lives might be like if their children did inherit it. Still, keeping the youngster healthy requires a lot of time — most of it spent driving to or from the doctor's office, and in the outpatient wing of a hospital for the transfusion.

Melissa said she didn't really understand what was wrong with her, and Deon said the youngster would ask about all the needles: "Why mommy, why?" But she was always a good sport, and doesn't remember much about her operation, except that there was a really neat playroom in the hospital.

If watching their child be poked with needles and IVs isn't enough, Scott and Deon have to worry about doctor bills and the threat of AIDS from donated blood.

That, she says, really isn't a worry, though: "We just prayed. We have a lot of faith about it," she says.

Photograph by Marilyn Hess

THANKFUL — Deon Bates is thankful for the blood donations that saved the lives of her two daughters, Melissa (left) and Kodee. The girls have a blood condition which requires repeated transfusions to bring the problem under control.

Family focus Lemons

Dawn Harris

Consumers in Michigan who buy a new car and then have extensive problems with repairs now will have the opportunity to obtain another car. Under a 1986 state law, auto manufacturers are required to replace the car or to refund the consumer's money after four tries at repair, or after the vehicle is out of service for 30 days.

The "auto lemon" law applies only to new cars purchased after June 25, 1986. The defect must have been reported to the manufacturer or dealer within either one year of delivery of within the warranty period, whichever is shorter. Leased, used or demonstration models are not included under this act. Defects caused by modifications to the car or by accidents will not be covered under this act.

The consumer has the following responsibilities for this law to be applicable.

- To report the defect in writing to the manufacturer.
- To keep copies of all correspondence to and from the manufacturer and the dealer.

- To keep copies of all work orders for repairs on the vehicle, including the dates and mileage at time of repair.
- To follow all requirements of the warranty, including any specifications about repairs being done by an authorized dealer.
- Possibly to participate in an arbitration effort.

If all of these conditions have been met, a manufacturer is required by law either to replace the car with a model of comparable value or to refund the full purchase price, less a reasonable allowance for the consumer's use of the vehicle prior to the first report of the defect. The decision on replacement or refund is the manufacturer's. Consumers who are not satisfied have the option of seeking a court settlement.

Looking back

Theresa Silm

As the year draws toward its close, we might look back through the months and take a sort of inventory. There were days we had fears but most of what we feared never materialized. There were days we suffered physical discomfort and on other days emotional hurts. We failed in some efforts. We were disappointed in some people. In moments of trouble, the outlook always seemed much darker than it later proved to be. These were the losses of the year. Let's write them off, wipe them out, forget them.

Then let's take a fresh look back through the same months. We can count so many more days when we were free of any kind of fear. We can remember that on most mornings we woke up vibrant and healthy and eager for the day's activities. There were more compliments than affronts, more notes of appreciation than words of criticism. We can be proud of our many successes, happy over the people who pleasantly surprised us. We shared in much more happiness than we realized at the time. These are our profits for the year. Let's write them into our hearts and remember them, for they will help us meet the New Year with confident courage.

Happy are they who at the end of the year have something beautiful to remember from yesterday, and something good to hope for from tomorrow; who have friends they want to copy, and who want to copy them; who have the courage to attempt great things all by themselves and the wisdom to ask for help; who give thanks with a whole heart for present blessings and who are already at work with plans for the New Year.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Here's a roundup some of the things happening in 4-H

This fall and early winter, nearly 60 Clinton County 4-H clubs have been active with a variety of organizational and educational activities. Courtesy of news reporters and leaders from several clubs, here is a brief overview of some of the things that have been happening.

Armantrout visits 4-H Wonders

Jim Armantrout, a probation officer for Clinton County, recently visited the 4-H Wonders Club. He talked about the different crimes that are committed by kids and showed a slide presentation starting with a first offense sentence in Green Haven to a last sentence to the state prison.

The presentation was very interesting and taught 4-H members what happens to people who don't obey the laws. This type of activity makes the regular monthly 4-H meeting more educational and entertaining.

Elsie 4 Corners 4-H Club meets for Christmas in library

By JULIE WILSON

Library Night was enjoyed by the Elsie 4 Corners 4-H club on Dec. 16. There were seventy people present in the Christmas atmosphere of the Elsie Public Library. Mrs. Orpha Clement, librarian, and Mrs. Lawrence Hess of the Library Board were also present.

Douglas Wadell, president of the club, conducted the meeting. Pledges were led by Matthew Galecka and Paul Remenar. Christmas songs were led by song leaders Erika Thornton, Suzette Moore and Wendy Wilson.

Mari Shipley read the minutes and roll call.

An entomology book was voted on and presented to the library as a community project. This has been a 4 Corners annual gift at Christmas time.

Mrs. Rod King, Davids and Jarods mother, sang, "Merry Christmas With Love," and "Worship the King." This was especially appreciated to have a parent take part. Another members. New officers for the upcoming 4-H year are: Keisha Schaub, president; Shawn Rumzek, vice president; Cherish Joostberns, secretary; Katina Schaub, treasurer; Michael Johnson, news reporter.

Officers attended a special workshop on Dec. 9 which was designed to help them in their new duties. A special Christmas party was held on Dec. 16 with a gift exchange and a canned goods collection for the needy.

Happy Hustlers host parents

By Eric Matson

Happy Hustlers held a Parents Night on Nov. 10. Everyone brought refreshments and demonstrations were given, such as clowning.

The club decided to donate old baseball gloves to British Honduras, with the help of Mr. Hutton. The club also went Christmas caroling around St. Johns on Dec. 10.

Several new 4-H clubs and Cloverbud clubs in Clinton County will be featured in the coming weeks. Cloverbud clubs are special clubs for 5-8 year olds.

Persons wanting more information on starting a 4-H club should contact Theresa Silm at the Extension Office in St. Johns.

parent, Don Lloyd, Tina's father, gave a timely and good report on fire safety. Michelle Wadell gave a health report.

Perfect attendance awards were given to four members who had attended all twelve meetings of 1986. These were: Paul Remenar, Nathan Rivest, Julie and Wendy Wilson. Receiving 11-month awards were: Ryan Dennings, Thomas and Brian Kuchar, Melissa and Tammy Kusnier, and Mari Shipley. This seems remarkable, but it does help to make an effective organization.

Hub Antique Car Club donates for car seats

Area parents will find it easier to ensure the safety of their children thanks to the efforts of the Hub Antique Car Club.

Members of the club recently donated $380 to the Mid-Michigan District Health Department's car seat program. The program offers parents the use of car seats for children newborn to four years of age.

Michigan law requires the use of safe cars seats for all children below the age of one year. The MMDHD has been unable to keep up with the demand for the seats during the last 18 months — a situation the Hub Antique Car Club set out to correct.

The club's donation will make possible the purchase of 10 additional car seats.

"This donation couldn't be a better Christmas gift for the children of Clinton County," said Judy Meiklejohn, coordinator of the car seat program. "We certainly appreciate the Hub Antique Car Club's interest in the safety of county children."

The club raised the funds at its Car Swap last July. Each year the club donates the proceeds of the annual event to a community project. The next Car Swap will be held July 19, 1987, at Bee's Chevrolet-Olds-Dodge in St. Johns.

Meiklejohn noted that although the donation helps to reduce the waiting list for the car seats, more donations are always helpful. To make a donation or for more information about the car seat program, contact the MMDHD at 224-2195.

Dianna Kirby is listed in book, 'Who's Who Among High School Students'

Dianna Kirby, a senior at St. Johns High School, is listed in the 1986 edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Her photograph, along with her biography, is published in the 20th annual edition of the publication. Recognition in the book is a national honor for junior and senior students. Only six percent of all juniors and seniors are recognized each year. They are chosen for the honorary award on the basis of leadership and accomplishment.

Dianna has been active in her church youth group, chorus, and band — including the marching con-

The St. Johns High School Theatre Department, having already taken first-place honors at district and regional competition for its production "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" takes second place honors at the state contest.

The Redwing theatre students will perform at a youth arts festival in Kalamazoo in May.

St. Johns school business manager Richard Terres resigns to take a new job in Howell. In an administrative re-organization to fill the vacancy, assistant superintendent Gordon Vandemark and controller Beverly Prowant will take over Terres' workload.

A new county Cooperative Extension Service director, Giles Roehl, begins his new duties. He comes to Clinton County from the wilds of Cottonwood County, Minnesota, where he also did extension work.

MARCH

April 22 is set as the date for the recall election against the St. Johns Board of Education.

County commissioners ask the state to put the county on a priority list for state highway projects. The state is currently putting together a 10-year, $3.5 billion road construction plan — which so far does not include construction of the limited access highway east of US-27.

The deputy clerk of Bengal Township, Marilyn Knight, is accused of embezzling $10,000 in township funds.

A group of St. Johns area residents have formed a group for the purpose of building a new library for the St.

CES hosts class on weight-loss

Beginning on Jan. 6, 1987, the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service will hold a "Love It and Lose It" weight loss class at the Ovid Village Hall from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The four-week series features an individualized eating program and good information on nutrition, stress exercise and self-esteem. Cost of the series is $5 which includes low-calorie demonstration recipes and personal computer print-out.

Pre-registration is required and may be made by calling 224-3288. Registration deadline is Jan. 2.

Johns area — a library capable of adapting to new technologies and roles that will be expected of libraries in the coming century.

The Positive People group asks Board of Education members to drop a complaint against the group trying to recall them from office. Board members agree. Recall organizer Jim Sjoberg says it is a moot issue because the complaints have already been resolved.

Sen. Alan Cropsey announces he will not seek reelection to the his 30th District seat in the Michigan Senate. He will instead run for the Michigan Court of Appeals.

About 100 people attend an anti-pornography rally at the St. Johns High School sponsored by the Clinton County Chapter of the National Federation for Decency. Donald E. Wildmon, founder and executive director of the national organization, says the nation is "in the middle of a great spiritual war to determine the foundation of our society."

The St. Johns High School Symphonic Band wins Division I rating at district competition. The Redwings were the only school in the district to have four bands performing at the event.

Tragedy strikes when a Clinton County man shoots his two children to death before taking his own life with the same gun. Dead are William Lee Richards, 38, Duane Armstrong, 16, and Sheri Ann Armstrong, 18, all of 4352 S. Scott Rd., St. Johns. Richards is reportedly distraught over a separation from his wife.

APRIL

Gen. Alexander Haig, former U.S. secretary of state, visits St. Johns to campaign for Republican office-seekers. Haig tells an audience of 385 people at the Clinton County GOP's annual "Lincoln Day Dinner" that the nation is on the eve of a "unprecedented improvement in the quality of American life."

Six of seven office-holders on the St. Johns Board of Education are recalled by voters. Gary Whitford retains his seat by a vote of 1,935 to 2,607.

Bill Tennant, director of orchestras and chairman of the St. Johns High School music department, is named Director of the Year at the Michigan Youth Arts Festival. Journalism teacher Robert Holzhei is elected

The big change in long-distance is coming.

If your telephone number begins with 224, here's what you should know.

There are lots of long-distance phone companies. Each has its own products and prices. But until now, only one of them offered you the convenience of "One-plus" dialing. If you wanted to use any of the others, you had to dial as many as 14 extra numbers.

No more. Thanks to a service called "Equal Access," you choose the company you prefer for "One-plus" dialing.

In the next few days, we will send you information explaining Equal Access, plus a ballot to let you choose among the long-distance companies serving your area. (If you don't make a choice, we're required to select a company for you.)

Read the material carefully. Then mark the ballot with the company of your choice and return it to us.

That's all. We'll do the rest. When Equal Access starts, we'll automatically connect you to your choice.

Watch your mail for details. Choose the long-distance company you want—and return the ballot to us.

president of the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association at the same spring conference at which the SJHS yearbook takes a fifth place award among all Class A Michigan schools. The school newspaper is awarded for an analysis of the school millage issue.

MAY

The new Veterans's Memorial is dedicated in Mt. Rest Cemetery, St. Johns. The memorial, dedicated to "all veterans through peace and war," is the culmination of a community effort involving hundreds of area residents. St. Johns resident John Caudy is one of the driving forces behind the memorial.

There are 22 candidates running for six seats on the St. Johns Board of Education. Twenty-one of the candidates appear at a public forum sponsored by the Clinton County News and the St. Johns Reminder to answer questions from the public and a panel of journalists.

The first annual Festival of the Arts at St. Johns High School is a smashing success despite a tornado threat that causes one evening's activities to be postponed.

Six out of six bars in Clinton County targeted by a state police sting operation serve alcohol to an underage police operative. The bars — Fowler, Westphalia and Eagle — were "lax" about alcohol regulations, says a police spokesman.

JUNE

An era ends as the century-old Central School closes its doors on departing students for the last time.

The St. Johns Rotary hosts its fifth annual Youth Talent Show.

Jeanette Adams, James Parr, Kevin Kirk, and Neil Barnhart, are elected to the St. Johns Board of Education. Serving 10-day terms to fill gaps created by the recall election are Ron Huard and Charles Wadell, who were elected to the posts with ten and five write-in votes respectively. At the end of that ten days the seats go to Robert Craig and Thomas Irrer, who are elected to the offices only a few months after they were recalled.

JULY

Jim Sjoberg, one of the leaders of the recall campaign campaign that ousted six members of the St. Johns school board from office, files a legal challenge to the seating of Craig and Irrer on the board.

Sjoberg asked Sen. Alan Cropsey to ask the attorney general for an interpretation of the law upon which the challenge is based.

The Clinton County Chapter of the American Cancer Society raises $10,000 in only three days at the Great American Lock-Up. Local residents are thrown into "jail" and have to raise "bail" from their friends. The bail money is used to fight cancer.

Mary Ann Chartrand is named Superintendent of Fowler Public Schools.

Roadside spraying by the Clinton County Road Commission intended to control the growth of vegetation draws the ire of some county residents who says the decaying vegetation is unsightly and the spray a possible health hazard.

Westphalia and St. Mary's Parish celebrate their 150th birthday with a five-day bash culminating in the Fourth of July and an Old Fashioned Day on July 5.

Some St. Johns parents are upset because their school children are being transferred to new school buildings this year. The district is trying to return to a neighborhood school arrangement, but is facing problems with overcrowding at some schools.

Cheryl Rademacher is named the 1986 Mint Queen from a field of 12 contestants.

Wheat test weights are down from last year for county farmers. Wet weather is to blame.

Rochester Colony celebrates its 150th birthday.

Elsie the Cow is the star of the Elsie Michigan Dairy Festival.

AUGUST

Clinton County farmers respond to draught in the southeastern United States by sending tons of hay to help farmers there feed their livestock.

When reports surface that some northern Michigan counties are also suffering from drought, county hay makes its way up there also.

"Farmers are an independent group but when things get tough they get together pretty good," observes Clinton County farmer Lee Thelen.

The second annual St. Johns Mint Festival is another success, drawing an estimated 8,000 visitors and prompting comments from vendors and festival-goers that the festival is bigger and better than the previous year.

St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce Director Joann Martis estimates that there are triple the number of spectators along the route of the Mint Festival Parade.

"It seemed to me that there were more vendors, more things to see," comments Lynn Koger, of St. Johns.

Sen. Alan Cropsey who gave up his seat in the Michigan Senate to run for Michigan Court of Appeals, is unsuccessful as he garners only about nine percent of the vote district-wide. Another local candidate for the Court of Appeals, Circuit Court Judge Randy Tahvonen, also garners about nine percent of the vote. The two men are, however, the top vote-winners in Clinton County in the crowded race.

Other primary winners: Kenneth Miller and Gerald Rossow tie in the Republican primary race for Bengal Township trustee. Miller is declared the winner in a drawing. Arleta Schafer will be the Bengal Township clerk following her primary victory. Neither Miller nor Schafer have Democratic opposition.

Republican Fred Dillingham will square off against Democrat Patricia McAvooy in the general election race for the 30th Michigan Senate seat following their respective primary victories.

Glen Webster, the incumbent county commissioner who missed the deadline for filing for re-election as a Republican is successful in his write-in campaign as a Democrat and will square off against Republican challenger Bertine Thelen.

The Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair again draws crowds to its three days of competition, entertainment, exhibits, food and fun.

Portable classrooms are installed at Perrin-Palmer and Swegles schools in St. Johns to compensate for the closed Central School. Behind the scenes a citizen's committee struggles to come up with a long-term school facilities plan.

United State Department of Agriculture chief Richard Lyng visits the county to campaign for area Republicans, including U.S. Rep. Bill Schuette.

Clinton County Commissioners decide to once again ask county voters to approve a tax increase that would fund the construction of a new county jail. The proposal has failed twice before and commissioners are doubtful that it will pass this time. Some commissioners, in act, vote against putting the proposal on the November ballot because they believe it would have a better chance of passing in a special election at a later date.

SEPTEMBER

Floods lash at the northern part of the county as the roadway along the Rainbow Dam north of Maple Rapids gives way in the wake of record rainfalls.

Millions of dollars of damage is done to crops, soil, and property. Families in the Maple Rapids area are forced to evacuate their homes.

Rainbow Lake is left a broad expanse of mud and Clinton County is one of two dozen Mid-Michigan counties that are declared disaster areas.

Bureaucrats in Lansing, after hearing presentations and arguments from representatives of Clinton Memorial Hospital and Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor, recommend that the hospital get 24 beds and the nursing home 25 beds of 49 at issue between the two institutions.

The recommendation is later approved by the Mid-Michigan South Health Systems Agency board of directors.

The first case of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) in a Michigan school-age child is reported in St. Johns. School and local health officials respond by formulating a communicable disease policy which is adopted by the school board and by disseminating factual information about AIDS.

As news reporters and television teams come to St. Johns from all over the state, the community reacts by forming a group to provide emotional and financial support to the family of the stricken child.

Dr. Richard Tooker, an expert on AIDS and a physician with the Mid-Michigan District Health Department, says at an informational meeting about AIDS that the real epidemic associated with the disease is an epidemic of fear.

That epidemic does not materialize in St. Johns. The community is praised in newspaper editorials around the state and the district's communicable disease policy is emulated by other school districts.

Clinton Capers, the every-two-years community variety show pulls off another success.

The St. Johns Planning Commission recommends to the City Commission the creation of a "transition zone" in the downtown area. Under certain conditions, residential property in the transition zone could by permit be used for commercial purposes. The plan is later adopted by the City Commission.

OCTOBER

A committee consisting of James Parr, Jeanette Adams and Robert Craig is appointed by the full St. Johns Board of Education to come up with a sex education policy to bring back to the full board in January. Over 100 residents attend a school board meeting at which the concept of sex education is discussed, with a number of them expressing distrust of the concept of the schools teaching sex education. A smaller number say the schools should teach the subject.

St. Johns High School counselor Loren Perry is charged with four counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct involving an underage male. The charge is later plea-bargained to two counts of attempted criminal sexual conduct. After pleading guilty to the lesser charge, Perry resigns from his position with the school district. Sentencing is scheduled for January.

Maurice and Leola Gore are awarded for Distinguished Service to Agriculture at the Clinton County Farm Bureau's annual meeting. Jon Miller is named Outstanding Young Farmer and Tammy Ashley is introduced as this year's Discussion Meet participant. The Clinton County contestants go on to take state honors.

NOVEMBER

Clinton County voters return Glenn Webster to office as a Democrat but go Republican in most other races. Bill Schuette is sent back to Congress and Fred Dillingham is sent to the Michigan Senate. The new jail proposal is defeated 6,412 to 6,331 — a margin of only 81 votes.

The St. Johns industrial park gets its first tenant and the county gets a boost to its economic development efforts in the form of M&M Restaurant Supply. The company plans to build a $2 million-plus facility in St. Johns that will employ approximately 60 people to start.

"I'm particularly happy about it because it gets the St. Johns industrial park off the ground," says Bill Dutton, the first director of CAN-DO. "Nothing breeds success like success."

M&M was the first success of CAN-DO, says Dutton, explaining that the organization became involved after talks between the company and St. Johns City Manager Randy Humphrey had been initiated by the regional RED-Team.

Eagle-mania is building in Fowler.

The committee studying a sex education policy for the St. Johns schools releases a draft report on two thirds of its proposal. Still to come are specific objectives of such a policy — and consideration of the proposal by the full board.

DECEMBER

Handel's Messiah is performed in St. Johns for the first time since the 1950s. It is performed by Community Education's Community Choir and Orchestra to a nearly full high school auditorium.

The St. Johns Area-New Library, Inc. announces that the St. Johns Post Office is a possible site for a new library. Talks will be held with city and postal officials to discuss the possibility of moving the post office to the city industrial park and the library to the current post office.

The Foundation for Excellence has raised $4,000 and is preparing to fund its first "educational extra" for the St. Johns schools.

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department announces a new effort to control the spread of AIDS by providing factual information about how the disease is spread. The message: avoid certain behaviors and you won't get AIDS.

The St. Johns Board of Education votes 5-2 to extend for one year the contract of Superintendent Earl Gabriel.

Jevon Thompson, a former rock musician and drug addict, brings his anti-drug message to Clinton County. Take it from one who has been there, he says, and avoid drugs like the plague.

The St. Johns Board of Education gives the Varsity Cheerleading Team the go-ahead to attend a national cheerleading event in Nashville, Tenn.

St. Johns city commissioners give approval to the first application for commercial use of residential property in the downtown transition zone. Businessman Al Marrah is given the special use permit despite the protests of a group of neighbors who say they were not aware of the new ordinance.

Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley issues an opinion indicating that school board members Craig and Irrer are in office legitimately.

The New Year

Giles Roehl

The New Year is upon us. We have 365 days to enjoy the fact we are alive and well. A number of years ago I cut something from a newspaper that I carry with me. I don't remember which paper it came from, but I would like to share it with you.

Golden Rules for Easier Living

1. If you open it, close it.
2. If you turn it on, turn it off.
3. If you unlock it, lock it up.
4. If you break it, admit it.
5. If you can't fix it, call someone who can.
6. If you borrow it, return it.
7. If you value it, take care of it.
8. If you make a mess, clean it up.
9. If you move it, put it back.
10. If it belongs to someone else and you want to use it, ask permission.
11. If you don't know how to operate it, leave it alone.
12. If it's none of your business, don't ask questions.
13. If it's not broke, don't fix it.
14. If you smile, it will come back to you.

Author unknown

If you are one to make New Year resolutions, these will give you a good start on your list.

Corner Garden

Prevent bark splitting in young fruit trees, maple and other tender-barked trees by painting the trunks with white latex (not oil-based) paint, shading them with canvas or burlap screens, or wrapping the trunks with tree wrap. The splitting occurs after the bright winter sun has warmed the south and west sides of the trees. Then, as the temperature falls, the bark cools and contracts faster than the inner tissues. Something has to give, and it's almost always the bark.

Keep flowering plants looking good as long as possible by keeping them in a cool, brightly lit spot free of hot and cold drafts. Daytime temperatures in the 60s and night temperatures in the 50s are recommended.

Place house plants where they'll receive all the natural light that's available, and water them sparingly. Most house plants need no fertilizer in the winter, unless they're actively growing under artificial light. Too much fertilizer and water and too little light and low humidity are the main causes of poor house plant performance in the winter.

Giles Roehl is the director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

USDA changes eligibility rules

Nonprogram crops will be considered individually when determining if producers in disaster-affected counties qualify for compensation under the 1986 disaster payment program, according to an announcement made last week by Daniel Amstutz, Under Secretary of Agriculture.

Eligibility for disaster assistance requires that a producer must have suffered more than a 50 percent loss of production in 1986 because of floods or hail or excessive heat or moisture.

In determining eligibility, public law 99-500 provides that two factors must be considered: whether there has been a substantial loss of production of the nonprogram crop and whether an economic emergency has occurred.

The statute provides only for consideration of a loss of actual production for program crops. Therefore, a quality adjustment will not be considered for wheat, feed grains, upland cotton, rice, soybeans, sugar beets, sugar cane and peanuts.

"Most producers requesting disaster program assistance should have already furnished acreage and production reports to their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office," Amstutz said.

Producers eligible for disaster program assistance must file an application for their disaster payment during the period Jan. 12 through Jan. 30, 1987.

Other program provisions include:

- Program crops will be considered individually in determining compensation for losses.
- With respect to program crops, eligible counties are those in which Farmers Home Administration emergency loans are available for losses of 1986 crops caused by drought, excessive heat, excessive moisture, flood or hail. For nonprogram crops, eligible counties are those in which producers became eligible subsequent to July 1, 1986 to receive FmHA loans.
- Producers requesting disaster program assistance will be required to furnish acreage and production reports on forms provided by their county ASCS office.
- The county ASCS committee will use the reports to determine whether the producers have sustained a loss of production that will qualify for disaster assistance. The producers must also provide, when available, evidence of their actual yield for 1983, 1984, and 1985 for all crops except wheat, feed grains, upland cotton, peanuts and certain kinds of tobacco.
- In the case of wheat, feed grains, upland cotton and rice, only producers who participated in the 1986 commodity production adjustment program for the respective crop are eligible for disaster assistance. For non-program crops, eligible producers are those who suffered losses as the result of natural disasters that create an economic emergency for the producer.
- Payments will be made in generic commodity certificates.
- In general, payments to eligible producers for a crop will be computed by multiplying 50 percent of the disaster payment yield for the crop times the eligible acreage, subtracting the 1986 actual production, and multiplying the product by the payment rate. The payment rate will be the price support loan rate for the crop. For a crop for which there is no loan rate, the payment rate will be an average market price for the crop.
- Payments to a person will be limited to $100,000 for program crops and $100,000 for nonprogram crops. The changes announced last week were published in the Dec. 24 Federal Register.

Safe ice

Marilyn Loudenslager

Ice on a river, a farm pond or a lake, attracts kids of all ages like magnets. It's fun to skate, ski, ice fish or just walk and look at the ice. But before you venture out onto a frozen body of water think about the safety precautions!

So back to our original question: how thick should "safe" ice be? A safe depth of ice is difficult to define. While three inches of ice on a farm pond may hold a person with little danger, that same three inches on a moving stream or a lake with springs, stumps, and currents could be very dangerous. On the Great Lakes, one step from three foot thick ice may lead the next step to nothing more than skim ice.

According to Howard Doss, MSU safety specialist, the following measures are suggested to reduce the risk of ice accidents.

1. Do not drive on ice.
 2. Test the ice continually with an ice spud or similarly heavy bar or staff, especially for ice skating and ice fishing.
 3. Stay away from stream mouths and lake inlets and outlets.
 4. Be suspicious of gray or dark spots in the ice, these may be soft areas. Note: ice deteriorates along shoreline and around pilings and docks first.
 5. Rescue gear should be available. A ladder, a good line, a tree limb or even an article of clothing can save.
 6. If you work on ice, two large spikes carried on the body can be used as a hand hold on the ice when crawling from a hole.
- Those who can avoid ice travel should do so, particularly snowmobiles, cross country skiers and snowshoers who can enjoy their sports on solid ground.
- If travel over ice is unavoidable, as in ice fishing, or work-related, some of the factors that should be weighed are types of ice, recent weather, your knowledge of conditions and area, and your knowledge of the body of water you are crossing. Keep these tips in mind and help make your winter experiences on the ice happy ones.

A summary of 1984 Telfarm data suggests that those dairy herds selling 14,000 pounds of milk or more per cow per year had a much greater chance of having a positive net farm income. Dairy farms with holstein herds selling less than 13,000 pounds of milk per cow per year had an average net farm income of minus $3,500.

When specialized Michigan dairy farms were sorted by level of milk sold made up the lowest production group with a positive net farm income. Dairy herds selling over 17,000 pounds of milk per cow annually averaged $25,200 net farm income. Milk production level continues to be a major factor in determining profits.

The 1986 Michigan DHIA average for all dairy herds on official test is 16,534 pounds of milk — an increase of 428 pounds over the 1985 average. Many factors are responsible for the increase. They include the knowledge and ability possessed by Michigan dairy farmers, genetic potential of dairy cows, improved technology, favorable growing conditions for feed crops (in much of Michigan), relatively low price of feed and the need to generate sufficient cash income to offset decreasing milk prices and increasing expenses.

An important point is that the increase in milk production per cow is real and is here to stay. Milk yields will continue to increase and any dairy farmer wishing to compete has little choice but to do those things which cause dairy cows to produce at high levels.

How does a person go about getting the dairy herd to respond and produce at these higher levels? Feeding, genetics, herd health, reproduction and management are all involved and each is dependent upon the other. One thing that does not appear to limit production is herd size.

There has been a general belief that small herds in stall barns have a production advantage. The reason generally given for the advantage is personalized attention to individual cows. Those cows in small herds may get more personalized attention, but they are not producing any more milk because of it!

When herds on Michigan DHIA were grouped by herd size, the average milk, fat and protein production increased as herd size increased. Herds with less than 40 cows averaged 15,800 pounds milk per cow annually, while those with over 160 cows averaged 17,100 pounds of milk annually.

Weed control workshop set

A special five-day weed control workshop will be held Jan. 15, 22, 29, and Feb. 6 and 19 in St. Johns at Smith Hall. Dr. Jim Kells of MSU and his agronomy weed control team will teach the workshop. Any producer participating in this program will be re-certified as a pesticide applicator in lieu of the MDA exam. Interested producers should call the Cooperative Extension Service.

Pump Installations and Repairs are a Job for Certified Pump Installers

Looking for a pump for a new or existing water well? Or do you just need some repair work on your present one? If the answer is yes to either one, your next move should be to call a certified pump installer. Each certified installer has been tested by the National Water Well Association on his ability and knowledge to install, troubleshoot, and repair water pumps. Only those who have successfully completed the examination are permitted to display the symbol of a certified drilling contractor. Look for the emblem of confidence. Call this certified pump installer.

Clinton County News 224-2361

THE MOST food was collected by the third grade from Waldron School in a "Food by the Pound" contest in Fowler recently. Grades kindergarten through eight from Waldron and the Middle School competed against each other to see which class could collect the most food for the needy.

Waldrom third graders win food contest

Waldron Elementary and Middle School in Fowler took part in collecting food for the Clinton County Food Drive, with the theme, "Food by the Pound." Grades competed against each other to see who could bring in the most weight.

Fourth grade: 133 pounds
Seventh grade: 108 pounds
Kindergarten: 88 pounds

Second grade: 69 pounds
First grade: 63 pounds
Fifth grade: 39 pounds
Sixth grade: 29 pounds
Eighth grade: 10 pounds

The school collected a total of 679 pounds with third graders receiving a pizza party for their efforts. Canned goods, flour and sugar were abundant items.

The classes finished in the following order:
Third grade: 149 pounds

Fourth graders stage 'The Polar Express'

Parents and relatives of Mrs. Wambaugh's fourth grade class at Waldron Elementary School in Fowler presented their Christmas play called "The Polar Express."

The project was part of their language arts class, with students writing the dialogue and making all the sets.

Cast members included: Narrator, Jeremy Andersen; Mark, Luke Schmitz; Conductor, Dean Thelen; children on the train, Heather Halfman, Erin Martin, Brent Kramer, and Stephanie Martinez; elves, Justin Conley, Justin Taylor, Robbie Thurston; Santa, Joey Thelen; Sarah, Maggie Roso; Mom, Jackie Kohagen; Dad, Kevin Johnson; production assistant, Rachel Burhop.

Holy Trinity six graders host 'Red Flannel'

The sixth graders of Most Holy Trinity School in Fowler presented their Christmas play entitled "The Red Flannel Suit" on Dec. 16.

In the play, written by Helen Louise Miller, a Santa Claus costume restores the Christmas spirit to a family after they find settling into their new home difficult on Christmas Eve.

Director Karen Brown presented each participant with a red carnation in appreciation of their hard work and time. Rose Ann Schafer, one of the class members, gave a thank you speech to Brown and presented her with a bouquet of red roses.

1986: a year filled with sports

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

1986 — a year filled with sports news. High school through elementary, summer baseball programs, bowling, racing — a wide variety of sporting events and special features were part of the sports picture covered by the Clinton County News in the past year. As the year draws to a close, here is a brief month-by-month recap of some of the highlights in area sports from 1986.

January, 1986

St. Johns girls volleyball team took first place in the annual Clinton County Volleyball Tournament hosted by St. Johns. Coach Bernie Fox's Redwings won 15-9, 15-7 against Ovid-Elsie in their first match of the day, and defeated Ovid-Elsie in the championship match, 15-4, 15-9. Teams from St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Fulton, Fowler, Pewamo-Westphalia, DeWitt and Bath took part in the annual event. The Redwing spikers also won the Potterville Invitational in January, defeating Lansing Eastern in the final match 12-15, 15-10, 16-14.

The wrestling team from Ovid-Elsie, under the guidance of Coach Jim Maidlow, was busy winning at invitational wrestling tournaments. The grapplers won at the St. Louis Invitational with a 192 team total with 10 schools participating, took first place at the Durand Invitational from among 12 schools with 133 team points, and won their own O-E Invitational with 177½ team points and 9 schools taking part. The Marauders had a perfect record as a team, with perfect individual records held at that time by Mike Koyné (155 weight) at 20-0, and Brett Ruess (185 weight) at 29-0.

February, 1986

The Fowler boys basketball team clinched the Central Michigan Athletic Conference title with a 77-53 win over Potterville. The team, coached by Dennis Smith, had a perfect 16-0 record at that point in the season. First place in the Central Michigan Swim League went to the St. Johns boys swim team, coached by Jim Makaruskas. The team was undefeated in dual season meets with an 8-0 record. St. Johns hosted the CMSL league meet, finishing second in that to Alma, 217-216. The St. Johns girls gymnastics team posted their highest totals of the year in vault and floor exercise in a 121.75 to 120.05 win over Lansing Eastern. Sue Cerny's Redwings had a record of 7-2. Chris Ebert tied a school record in the Eastern meet in floor exercise with a score of 8.75. She had qualified for state regional competition at this point in the season in the vault, bars, and floor exercise.

March, 1986

The Pewamo-Westphalia boys' basketball team, coached by Ron Kramer, ended Fowler's 19-game winning streak in the last regular season game, 55-50. The game was played before a more-than-capacity crowd at Pewamo-Westphalia High School. Ovid-Elsie and Pewamo-Westphalia girls volleyball teams won district crowns, the Marauders coached by Doug Long and the Pirates by Nancy Krieder. In Class C, P-W defeated Laingsburg, Lansing Catholic Central, and St. Louis. In Class B, O-E took wins from Vassar, Durand, and Chesaning. Shelby Terpstra had 42 spikes, 9 for kills, and 16 blocks for the Marauders in those games.

March Madness struck Clinton County teams and fans when the annual basketball spring tournament ritual began. Some area teams fared well, and some did not. Fowler won their 31st Class D district title, defeating Vestaburg 73-52, and Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart 72-61 in the final championship game. The tournament was held at Vestaburg High School. The Eagles were without the services of star guard, Tony Hamilton, who suffered a broken collarbone near the end of the regular season. The Eagles went down to defeat in their opening regional game played at Millington High School, losing to Flint Holy Rosary 91-80.

Pewamo-Westphalia won their first district title since 1979, winning three games at Ithaca High School in their Class C district. The Pirates defeated St. Louis 63-42 and Breckenridge 64-41, then advanced to the championship where they beat Shepherd 32-30. P-W was eliminated in their regional bid by Saginaw Nouvelle Catholic Central, 71-49. The game was played at Ithaca High School.

St. Johns lost out in their Class A district versus Owosso, 64-48, at Owosso High School. Ovid-Elsie dropped their opening Class B district game to Durand, 73-44. Fulton lost their Class D district game to Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart by a 48-42 score. Ashley was eliminated by Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart, 58-44, in their Class D district game.

St. Johns Redwing gymnast Chris Ebert took first place in the State Gymnastics Meet in the vault with a school record of 9.6 and a two-day total score of 18.95. The competition was held at Grand Rapids Creston High School.

Bret Ruess won the Class B State Wrestling championship in the 185 weight class in the State Meet held at Charlotte High School. Ruess, a senior at Ovid-Elsie High School, pinned his man in 4:54 of the championship match to become state champion.

April, 1986

Spring sports were in full swing in area high schools. The St. Johns girls softball team, coached by Paul Sternburgh, won the Mason Invitational. Senior pitcher Brenda Eiseler had a perfect 7-0 record with 82 strikeouts during the month of April. The St. Johns boys tennis team under the guidance of Coach Al Werbish was undefeated at 2-0 in the Mid-Michigan B League. Area track teams were busy in dual meets and invitationals. Boys and girls track teams were fielded by: Fulton, Coaches Ron Merritt and Roger Thelen; Ovid-Elsie, Coaches Doug Long and Sherm Hazelton; St. Johns, Coaches Linden Lade and Terri Brown; and Fowler, Coaches Kim Spalsbury and Neil Hufnagel.

Crystal Raceway opened for their 1986 racing season before a capacity crowd. A number of improvements to the track and overall facility, made by owners Ray and Pat Fricke, were enjoyed by racing enthusiasts throughout the season.

Brenda Eiseler, senior member of St. Johns High School Varsity girls basketball, volleyball and softball teams, signed a letter of intent to play basketball at Saginaw Valley State College in the fall of 1986.

May, 1986

The Fowler boys and girls track teams were in the middle of a record-breaking season, with the boys winning the Potterville Invitational, and both teams sweeping the double-dual meet at Potterville.

The annual Clinton County News Track Meet was held at Ovid-Elsie High School with teams from St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Fowler, Fulton, Bath, DeWitt, and Laingsburg competing. Fowler's boys took first place with a team total of 148, while DeWitt's girls claimed first with a 115 team total.

Meet records were set by Bonnie Parker from Ovid-Elsie in the girls 330 low hurdles, time of 47.6, and Dean Koenigskecht for Fowler in the boys 100 dash, time of 10.1.

The St. Johns girls softball team was a repeat winner of the Diamond Classic softball tournament hosted by the Lansing State Journal at Ranney Park in Lansing. The Redwings took an opening game win over DeWitt 10-0, defeated Laingsburg 18-2 in their second outing, and won the championship game over Fowlerville by a 4-3 score. Named as co-MVPs for the Classic were St. Johns' Mary Murphy and Brenda Eiseler. Murphy batted .636 for the Classic and did an outstanding defensive job as catcher, while Eiseler netted a total of 22 strike-outs as the Redwing's pitcher.

June, 1986

The Fowler girls track team set a new Class D State Meet record in the 3200 relay as they finished third in the state in Class D. Team members included: Kim Epkey, Stacie Rowell, Mindy Sillman, and Cindy Schneider. The record-breaking time was 9:54.04. Eagle boys finished in second place in the State Class D meet.

The Fulton boys baseball team, coached by Scott Henry won the Central Michigan Athletic Conference championship in baseball. It was their first CMAC championship in any sport for Fulton teams since 1978. The Pirates took the crown with a 1-0 victory over Portland St. Patrick to finish the season at 7-3.

Chris Ebert from SJHS, received two All-American High School Gymnast certificates for her efforts during the gymnastics season. Her honors came for the vault, where she averaged a 9.37 score, and floor exercise with a 8.77 average. Ebert became the first female gymnast to ever receive the All-American Award from St. Johns High School.

July, 1986

The Little Buick Open was held at the Clinton County Country Club, sponsored by Keelean Buick-Pontiac-GMC of St. Johns. The low gross winner was Felix Ridsdale from Ovid, and the low net winner was Dick Andrews from Maple Rapids. The low scores enabled both golfers to take part in Pro-Am day at the Buick Open held at Warwick Hills outside of Flint. Tournament organizer, Frank Keelean and CCCC pro Jim Ruff also participated in the Pro-Am event.

St. Johns Youth Baseball, St. Johns City Rec Softball, St. Johns City t-ball and lassie leagues, the Colt-Palamino League, Fowler Youth Baseball, and the South Gratiot County League were just a few of the available baseball and softball programs for young people and adults in Clinton County to participate in the summer months. All were in full swing, with many adult volunteers coordinating and making the programs possible.

Mike and Scott Berry bowling out of Redwing Lanes in St. Johns, took first place in the YABA National Family Twosome State Tournament held in Mt. Pleasant. Keith Rapp took second place in the Michigan State Junior Bowlers Single Scholarship Tournament, winning a $500 scholarship.

August, 1986

St. Johns Redwings were getting in shape for the upcoming football season by "pumping iron" in the SJHS weight room. An assortment of weight training machines and devices were in place for all St. Johns sports teams courtesy of the St. Johns Sports Boosters.

The Triplets were the minor league champions in St. Johns Youth Baseball, ending the season with a 13-0 record. The Dodgers won the little league championship with a 10-9 win over the Tigers, and Hub Tire took top honors in the pony league with a 10-3 win over Dominoes.

Several members of the St. Johns High School baseball team took part in the Colt World Series as members of the Lansing Colt All-Star team. Travelling to LaFayette, Ind., were Scott Heibeck, Andy Ball and Dwight Pierson. Teams from the United States, Puerto Rico and a representative from the Asian Pacific took part in the tournament.

September, 1986

Football season began, and all fall high school sports were previewed. Along with gridiron action, fall sports at area high schools included: girls basketball, girls swimming, girls tennis, cross country, and boys golf.

The new St. Johns Sports Boosters organization was introduced at St. Johns High School, along with plans for their major fundraiser — a daily lottery. Booster chairman Chuck Heyer outlined the groups' main objective as being a support organization for all St. Johns athletic teams.

The Ovid-Elsie girls basketball team, coached by Bob Lamey, defeated St. Johns girls 50-49, while the St. Johns football team under the coaching of Bart Kjoehede handed the Marauders a 23-7 loss in "cross-town" rivalries at the end of the month.

The St. Johns girls basketball team brought home the championship trophy from the Williamston Tipoff Tournament for the second consecutive year. Sophomore Anne Brocker led the way for the Redwings in what would be the first of many times throughout the year, as St. Johns defeated DeWitt in the opening tournament game 54-46, and beat Williamston in the championship game 53-50.

October, 1986

St. Johns harriers won both boys and girls sides of the Clinton County Cross Country meet held at Prairie Creek Golf Course near DeWitt. In a unique occurrence, St. Johns and Fowler boys tied 34-34 and St. Johns and Dewitt girls tied 39-39 in team totals turned in by the top five finishers for each school. St. Johns sixth place runners broke the tie for both groups. Finishing sixth for the boys was Eric Bolyard while Lori Montry placed sixth for the girls.

The Pewamo-Westphalia golf team won the Class C golf regional in Mt. Pleasant with a 349 team total for 18 holes. Medalist for the Pirates was Joe Platte who carded an 84 in the outing at Valley View Golf Course.

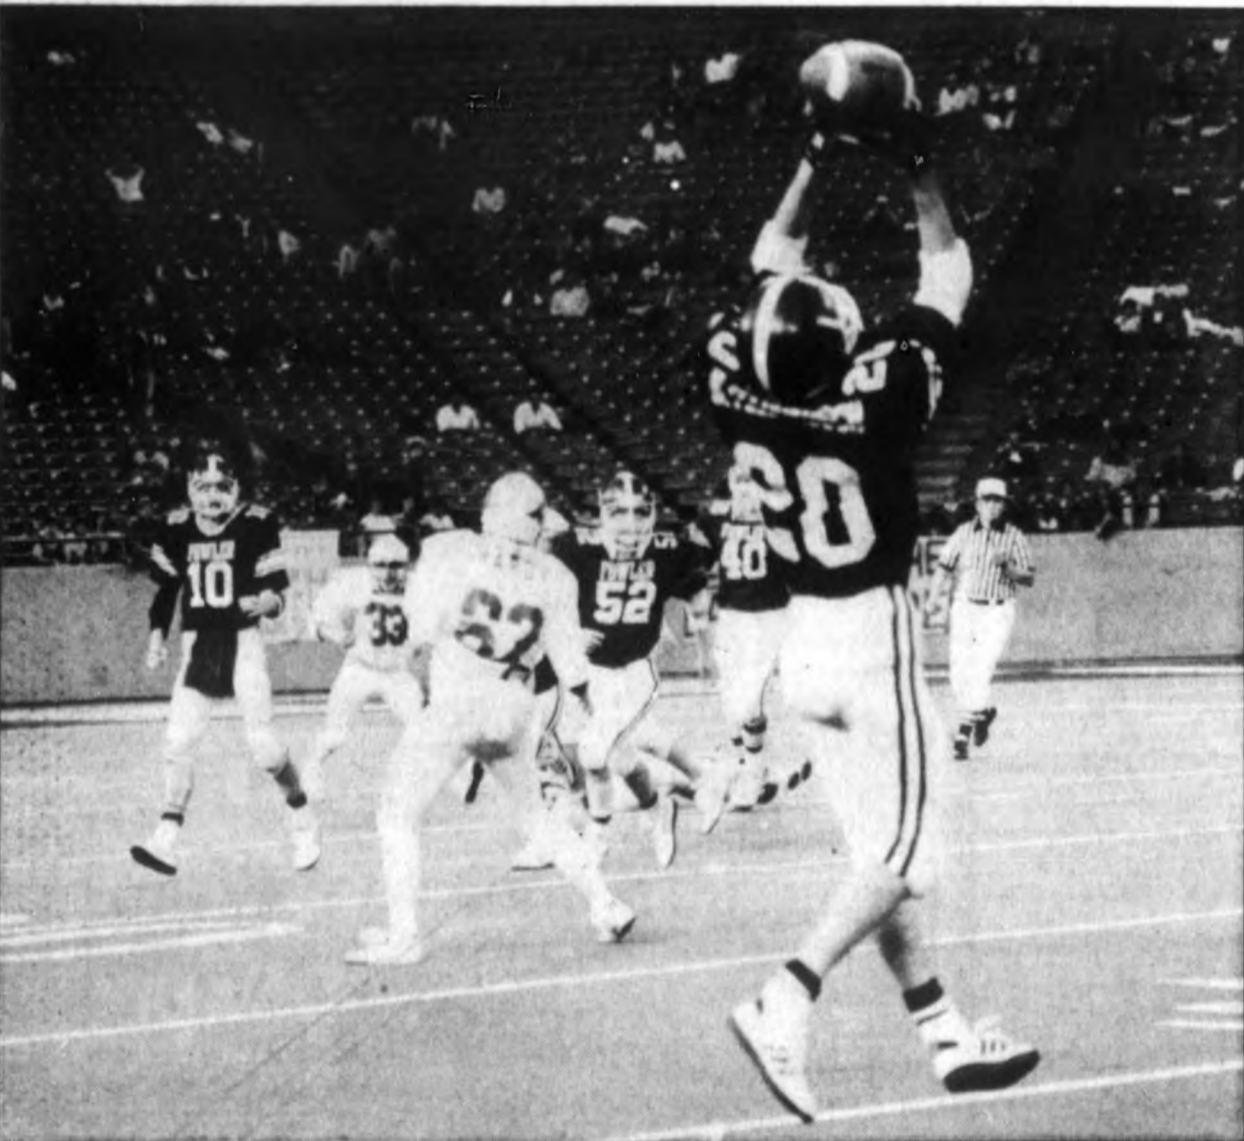

The St. Johns girls tennis team, coached by Melanie Humphrey won their seventh consecutive Mid-Michigan B conference title, ending the season with a perfect team record.

The Fowler football team won the Central Michigan Athletic Conference title, ending their regular season at 8-0. With Coach Steve Spicer at the helm, the Eagles were poised to begin playoff action in the Michigan High School Football Playoffs.

November, 1986

Girls basketball teams began district tournaments with cagers from St. Johns and Pewamo-Westphalia bringing home championship trophies. Coached by Carol Rademacher, the P-W Pirates defeated Ithaca in their Class C district final game by a 77-33 score.

The St. Johns Redwings, coached by Beth Swears, took Class A district wins in games with Flint Carman/Ainsworth 38-28, and Flushing 54-53. The Ashley girls team with Carl Wayer as coach, lost in their Class D district opening game to Saginaw Michigan Lutheran Seminary, 62-48. They ended the year with an impressive 17-3 season record. Coach Bob Lamey's Ovid-Elsie team won their first Class B game versus Corunna 49-44, but fell in the finals to Chesaning 36-34. The Fowler Eagles under Coach Tom O'Rourke lost their Class D district opener to Portland St. Patrick 39-36.

SILVERDOME PASS — The appearance of the Fowler football team in the Class D Michigan High School Football Playoff championship game at the Pontiac Silverdome in November was a big event of the 1986 sports season. Bruce Feldpausch (20) goes up to snag a Matt Hufnagel (10) pass during that game.

Fulton, coached by Ron Merritt, won their opening Class D district game with Beal City 60-54, but lost in the final game to Michigan Lutheran Seminary 38-36.

The Fowler football team provided excitement for all area football fans throughout the month in their Class D playoff games.

The Eagles racked up numerous "firsts" enroute to their appearance in the Class D championship game at the Silverdome in Pontiac.

Detroit Servite was the Eagles' first playoff victim in the pre-regionals, being shut-out 23-0. Two more near-perfect games followed with Fowler claiming a 36-0 regional win over Whitmore Lake and defeating North Muskegon in the semi-final game 6-0.

The last high school football game of 1986 ended in a 36-24 loss for Coach Steve Spicer and his team, in the Class D Championship game with Saginaw Michigan Lutheran Seminary.

It was a season that will long be remembered by all Eagle fans, from Fowler and the surrounding communities.

December, 1986

The Redwing girls basketball team went all the way to the final game of their Class A regional before losing to South Lyons 45-39.

The squad defeated Lansing Eastern 78-68 in the opening game of the regional, and ended the season with a 14-8 record.

The Pewamo-Westphalia girls basketball team lost in their opening Class C regional game to Saginaw Catholic Central Nouvell by a 51-44 score. The cagers ended their season at 20-4.

Boys basketball teams got their 1986-87 seasons underway.

St. Johns cheerleaders took part in the 8th Annual Detroit Pistons Cheerleaders competition with the junior varsity squad earning first place and a chance to cheer at the Pistons game in the Pontiac Silverdome.

The Redwing varsity squad finished second in the competition.

Mindi Wells senior diver on the St. Johns girls swim team, was named to the All-Area swim team. Receiving honorable mention nods were Missy O'Connell from the Ovid-Elsie girls team and Lisa Sabo from St. Johns.

Pearsall busy with MSU cagers

St. Johns High School graduate, Sue Pearsall, has started in all four of Michigan State University womens basketball games this season, leading the Spartans in total steals with nine.

Pearsall has totaled 38 points on the year, averaging 9.5 points per game, and is second in assists with 14.

The Spartans took a 3-1 record into the Felpausch Holiday Classic, where they hosted Brigham Young, Central Michigan University, and Miami (Florida) in the two-day tournament.

Bob's IGA store in St. Johns to close its doors this week

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Not everyone is overjoyed about the new tax laws that take effect Jan. 1. Bob Anderson, owner of Bob's IGA in St. Johns, says he is losing so many write-offs that he has no choice but to close the store Dec. 31.

"We forced to close the 31st — either that or lose a bundle of tax write-offs," says Anderson. Anderson, who bought the store two years ago and who invested money in remodeling the interior of the building while the landlords remodeled the exterior, admits to being somewhat bitter.

"The store did quite an increase in business from the time we took it over until now," he says.

Not only that, he says, the new laws take effect at a time when the future of the north end of St. Johns looks quite optimistic. The city industrial park looks ready to take off and several other small businesses are investing in the area, Anderson says.

Not only that, he says, but the closing of Bob's IGA leaves many of his elderly customers without a nearby grocery store. And it leaves a workforce of about 20 quality employees out of work, he says.

"I would like so much to thank the customers...I'm mostly disturbed about what will happen to the employees," Anderson says. "They are a good group of people. It really leaves a lot of good people hanging."

He hopes the store will be purchased and re-opened, says Anderson. But in the meantime, he says, the other grocery stores in the area could benefit from hiring from among his former employees. Some have over 10 years experience, he says, and are those who remained when the workforce was "thinned down to nothing but the best" during the last two years.

"They'd do well, some of the other stores, to catch up some of these people," says Anderson.

Anderson says he is fairly confident that the store will be purchased and re-opened.

"The price we're asking is an awfully good buy for someone," he says. "I'm certain there is someone out there."

In the meantime, Bob's has sold off all of its fresh produce and is getting ready to close. The doors will re-open Jan. 5 for a two week inventory reduction sale and then...

"I can only hope we'll find someone with enough funds..." says Anderson.

Kurt's Appliance under 'new' ownership

Kurt's Appliance in downtown St. Johns has a new captain but will remain on the same course it has steered since the business was started by Kurt Becker over 19 years ago.

That is the word from Becker and from the new owner, Ray Schomisch.

Schomisch is hardly new to the business — he has been with the store from the very beginning. In 1976 he began buying shares of the business and early this month — Dec. 4 — he bought the last of the founder's share and

APMA appoints Dean Wakefield

Dean Wakefield, son of Mrs. Cressie Wakefield, 807 E. Baldwin, St. Johns, has been appointed director of public affairs for the American Pediatric Medical Association. He joins the APMA after a 26-year career in public affairs and public relations with the Dow Chemical Company.

Wakefield is a 1953 journalism graduate of Michigan State University.

became the sole owner of the store.

Changes will be minimal, says Schomisch. After 20 years as the manager of the service department, he will become the general manager. Other than that the store will remain pretty much the same. The mix of products, the staff, even the name of the business will remain as they are now, he says.

"We're going to continue to stress service like we always have," says Schomisch. "We're going to try to be competitive with our prices."

All in all, says Becker, it will be a very orderly transition for the business. Becker adds that he has "an appreciation of the people who have been my customers and the people in the retail business that I have been associated with."

Becker says he is leaving the business because he figures after 40 years downtown — he spent 20 years with Dean's Hardware after coming to St. Johns in 1946 — it is time for a change.

Becker and his wife, Jean, own a condominium in Florida where they plan to spend part of each year.

"I'll be going down there to enjoy it about five months out of every year," he says.

But, says Becker, St. Johns will remain his permanent residence.

"My ties with St. Johns will stay as strong as they are now, I hope," he says, and adds that he will keep his positions on the St. Johns Recreation Board and the boards of the Clinton Area Care Center and the St. Johns Cemetery Association.

"I think Ray will do a good job of carrying on the tradition of Kurt's Appliance," says Becker.

Kurt's Appliance, 217 N. Clinton Ave., St. Johns, is open Monday-Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Health Dept. observes 20th

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department marked its 20th anniversary on Dec. 6 with many past employees, board of health members, volunteers and current employees attending the event at the VFW Hall in Alma.

Special guests included Dr. James Harrison, M.D., chief medical executive from the Michigan Department of Public Health, and state Rep. Gary Randall.

Paul Mahan, 20 year veteran of the MMDHD, was emcee for the evening festivities. He highlighted some events of the past 20 years while Dr. Richard Tooker, medical director, discussed the future of public health in rural Michigan.

MMDHD Health Officer Joseph Latoff paid tribute to all staff, board of health members and volunteers. Special recognition was paid by Latoff to persons dedicating ten or more years service in public health.

Assistant home economist needed to work volunteer

The Clinton County Extension Service, home economics program is looking for an adult volunteer to act as program assistant to the Extension Home Economist, who would donate 24 hours per month from Jan. 1987, through Sept., 1987.

The program assistant's major duties include working directly with Extension Homemakers organizations, assisting in educational programs taught by the Home Economist and record-keeping for Home Economist contacts. The volunteer will have an opportunity to learn how to use the IBM personal computer and update skills in the home economics area.

The position is open to all without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, or handicap. Interested persons should be personable and able to work well with all age groups.

Further information and applications may be obtained from Dawn Harris at the Extension Office, 224-3288. Application deadline is Jan. 9, 1987.

including: Glenn Webster, chairman of the board of health, Jane Custer, Mildred Denslow, Laree Geller, Ruth Gregory, Joseph Latoff, Paul Mahan, Julia Mazola, David Mumford, Dorothy Rice, Donna Williams, and Alice Schleder.

Special recognition was also given to: Alberta McDonough accepting for her husband Dennis McDonough, Luella Canfield, Marian Wrang, Ina Dye, Irene Gruesbeck, Helen Rayburn, Pat Miller, Killy Wiles, Betty Gleason, and Pauline Goetschy. Volunteers honored were Virgrie Roth and Frances Corner.

In the service

Allen Schafer

Airman Allen Schafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Schafer of Fowler, has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

Kent Webb

Spec. 4 Kent Webb, son of Russell and Martha Webb, 1213 Longspur Dr., DeWitt, has been decorated with the Army achievement medal in West Germany. The achievement medal is awarded to soldiers for meritorious service, acts of courage, or other accomplishments.

Webb is a tracked-vehicle mechanic with the 586th maintenance company.
