Notes Exchange

ST. JOHNS St. Johns Public Schools request that any family planning to host an exchange student contact the high school as soon as possible. For information on hosting students, contact Arlene Scramlin at the high school, 224-9341.

Installed

ST. JOHNS The St. Johns Exchange Club on Feb. 27 installed new member Dave Rogers, manager of the Capital Federal Savings and Loan Association, and reinstalled previous member Ken Kralik, manager of the Clinton County News.

Those attending the meeting also viewed a film made by nationally known motivational speaker Zig Ziglar.

Finalists

ST. JOHNS Two St. Johns High School seniors are among 100 students in the state who have been named National Merit Scholarship competition finalists.

Brian Upton and Rachel Miller are now eligible for final competition in which 1,800 students will be awarded $2,000 National Merit Scholarships. They will also be considered for 4,000 other scholarships funded by corporations and educational institutions.

Upton plans to study international relations at either Michigan State University or the American University in Washington, D.C. Miller plans to study biology at Lyman Briggs College at MSU.

Best wishes

ST. JOHNS Alicia Rouse, 3-years-old, underwent surgery recently to amputate both legs below the knee. She suffers from a rare viral disease.

Jim Hough, columnist for the Lansing State Journal, wrote a column about the little girl, and since then gifts have been flooding into both the Sheriff's Department and Lansing Sparrow Hospital.

Last week a giant stuffed koala bear was sent to the Sheriff's Department by another little girl who had suffered from the disease. A Cabbage Patch doll and a number of other gifts were also sent by well-wishers.

Alicia is the daughter of Michigan State Police Detective Terry Rouse, who is assigned to the Clinton County Sheriff's Department, and his wife Diana.

Pheasants

CLINTON COUNTY 4-H and FFA members will have an opportunity again this year to participate in a pheasant raising project sponsored by the wildlife division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. The DNR will make day-old pheasant chicks and ten pounds of feed available to 4-H and FFA members who qualify.

This is a wildlife project intended to teach youth about wild animals and therefore has certain requirements and restrictions. The pheasants may not be eaten or kept in permanent captivity.

All youth who are interested in participating in the project should contact the Extension Office for an application form. The completed forms should be returned for both county and state approval. Participants must also attend a project orientation class.

Applications must be submitted no later than April 4. Persons interested in applying or who want additional information should contact the Extension Office, 224-3288.

Bengal official accused of $10,000 theft

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Marilyn Knight, deputy clerk of Bengal Township, was charged last Friday with the embezzlement of $10,000 in township funds.

The funds were allegedly taken in the form of a check dated July 2, 1985, drawn on the township's account with Central National Bank in St. Johns.

The $10,000 check was written to Mrs. Knight's husband, Alden Knight, who is the Bengal Township Clerk. The check included a notation

"assessing fee" and was endorsed with the signature "Alden Knight."

Mr. Knight is not a suspect in the case, said County Prosecutor Jon Newman.

"From what we've learned, we don't suspect Alden was aware of (the check)," Newman said. "From what we know, Marilyn Knight placed that signature there."

The check was signed by Marilyn Knight and two other township officials. Newman said it was apparently the practice of township officials to sign checks before they were completely filled out.

According to court records, a July bank statement presented to the township board was a forgery which misrepresented the account balance and from which the $10,000 check had been deleted.

"All subsequent monthly bank statements have been altered in the amount of $10,000 before being presented to the township board," the court records say.

The shortage was discovered by Bengal Township Supervisor Marilyn Irner on Feb. 26 when she contacted the bank to check the balance of the township's account. When she learned that the account was $10,000 short of the amount listed on township records, she obtained a copy of the actual July bank statement as well as a copy of the canceled check.

Irner then contacted Newman and an investigation was started by the Clinton County Sheriff's Department. Newman, who filed charges on Friday, said Mrs. Knight appeared voluntarily for her arraignment before 65th District Court Magistrate Tony Hufnagel on Friday afternoon.

"She's come in every time we've asked her to," he said.

Irner, the township supervisor, declined to comment on the case other than to say state auditors are reviewing township records and that the results of that audit will be available to the public.

St. Johns attorney Richard Wells, who is representing Mrs. Knight, declined to comment on the case.

Central students to move?

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Some of the students who attend classes at Central Elementary School will finish the school year at Perrin-Palmer Elementary, it appeared late last week.

Superintendent of Schools Earl Gabriel said on Friday he was preparing a recommendation to that effect for consideration by the Board of Education at the meeting last night. (March 3)

A state fire inspector recently said he would not approve the occupancy of Central School after the end of the current school year. He cited numerous violations of state fire safety regulations, many of which would require extensive renovation of the building to correct. A citizens' committee has been formed to recommend a course of action regarding the future of the school.

At a Feb. 24 meeting between school administrators and parents of Central School students, most of parents voted to keep their children's classes at Central for the remainder of the year. However, the parents of the students in one fourth grade class opted to have their children's class moved out of the school.

The meeting was attended by parents representing 55 percent of the students who attend classes on the third floor of the school, said Gabriel.

Dennis Honch, the fire inspector, said last month that the emergency escape routes from the third floor of the building are inadequate.

Rural areas hardest hit by '85 fires

One life was lost and $177,775 in property destroyed by fires in 1985 in the area covered by the St. Johns Fire Department, said Fire Chief Clare Maier last week in his annual report to the St. Johns City Commission.

The city fared well, with only no fatalities and $1,350 in property damage during the year. (The report does not include an infant death in the city that occurred in 1986.)

'Overall, fires were down this year'

Out-county fires accounted for both the fatality and the bulk of the property damage. A Maple Rapids woman was killed in a fire on Trench Road early in 1985, Maier said.

The report listed $176,425 in property damage outside the city in 1985.

"Overall, fires were down a little," Maier said.

The fire department made a total of 86 runs during the year, 35 in the city and 51 outside the city, the report said.

Also in 1985, the fire department moved into its newly completed fire hall on State Street, Maier noted.

Hearty jumping

Jump for Heart — Students at Swegles Elementary School in St. Johns last week held a Health Fair, a series of activities designed to teach them about health issues. The finale of the day was a "Jump for Heart" session in which the students raised money for the American Heart Association by jumping rope. They had earlier gathered pledges for each minute of jumping. Here, Repee Carlsson, third grade, gives her best effort.

County commissioners ask state to put county road on priority list

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Never mind the bridges but at least give us a highway — this, in effect, is the message Clinton County officials have given the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

County Commissioners last Tuesday passed a resolution asking the MDOT to include on its list of priority projects an "at-grade" highway from I-69 in the southern part of the county to Kinley Road, about two miles north of St. Johns.

The MDOT is currently preparing a 10-year, $3.5 billion road construction plan. The priority list currently includes a bypass around St. Johns but does not include the rest of a plan approved by the state in 1977 that called for construction of a limited access highway east of US-27.

"What we want is the expressway minus the overpasses they want to put in," said Roger Overway, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

He said the highway could be used as a regular road until the money is available to build overpasses and change the highway into a limited access expressway.

The resolution, almost identical to one passed earlier by the Clinton County Planning Commission, says construction of such a road will improve traffic flow and decrease congestion, separate local traffic from through traffic, eliminate safety hazards and reduce the accident rate, and increase the attractiveness of the area for economic development.

It also notes that "all preliminary engineering, surveying, environmental impact statements and the like have been completed and approved by all applicable agencies" while that is not the case with the "bypass only" plan.

Overway said county officials do not know how the MDOT will respond to the request, or even when construction will begin on the highway project.

"We have no idea," he said. "We haven't even talked to the highway department yet."

However, he said, Sen. Alan Cropsey's office is trying to set up a meeting between county and MDOT officials.

Recall vote is April 22

April 22 is the date St. Johns school district voters will go to the polls to decide whether to recall members of the St. Johns Board of Education.

The county election scheduling committee set the date last Thursday, said Clinton County Clerk Jane Swanchara. That follows a month-long process in which signatures on petitions calling for the election were checked against voter registration lists.

"There were more than enough signatures," she said. "The lowest had in excess of 300 over the minimum required."

Swanchara said Board members, who under state election law had the option of challenging any signatures they believed were signed by people who are not registered voters of the school district, did not challenge any signatures.

Each of the seven members of the Board are subject to recall in the election. Voters will have a choice of recalling all or some or none of the members.

Meanwhile, organizations on both sides of the recall issue said last week they would hold planning meetings this week.

James Sjoberg, co-chairman of the Concerned Taxpayers of St. Johns, the group that circulated petitions calling for the recall election, said on Saturday the organization will meet early this week. He said the organization had not yet made plans for a recall campaign.

"We'll be doing something," he said.

Cris Henning, a spokeswoman for the Positive People for St. Johns Schools, a group formed to support Board members, said the organization would meet last night (March 3).

The organization last month began circulating cards in the school district to solicit support for its position, she said.

"We're soliciting support and identifying supporters," she said.

Ask Bill Schuette Liability insurance

Bill Schuette

A township in Michigan recently was named in a lawsuit filed by a pedestrian who had been hit by a drunk driver. In the course of the suit, because of an irregularity in the shoulder of the road, the township was found to be 10 percent negligent. The drunken driver was found to be 90 percent negligent and the pedestrian was awarded $550,000. When the driver's insurance company would only pay $50,000, the township became liable for the balance of the half-a-million dollars.

Any business owner who has seen his liability insurance rates double or triple in the last year and any person who has read about multi-million damage settlements in court cases is experiencing the crisis we now face in liability insurance. The causes of this crisis are many.

We are experiencing a cyclical downturn or "hardening" in the insurance industry. Over the last ten years or so, there was intense competition among insurance companies for the premium dollar. This caused a price war among competing companies and also led them to underwrite risks that they might not otherwise have. What has happened recently is that the excessive risks and lower premiums have led to losses by insurance companies. Insurance companies have become more conservative in taking on risk and have had to raise premiums.

In the same period of time the body of law dealing with liability has been eroded. Where principles and means of assessing liability for an accident used to be fairly concrete, the law has given way to jury trials in which the settlements are greater than a strict interpretation of the law would allow.

Several states have enacted so-called "deep pockets" statutes in which any individual or institution named in a liability suit, no matter how small their responsibility or remote their connection to a victim, is liable for the entire amount of the settlement. This has led to a case in which a man has sued a school system because he can't read and wants enough money to go to school.

There has been no focused effort to address this problem on the federal level yet, largely because liability law and insurance have traditionally been state matters. As the crisis has grown, the calls for a federal solution have increased, and the 99th Congress has begun to take action.

Hearings have been held in the Senate and the House, and several legislative proposals have been suggested that deal with particular areas of liability. A comprehensive federal solution would be difficult because of differences in state law and because the federal deficit makes it almost impossible to start up any new federal programs.

In the meantime, we are all going to face rising insurance premiums. In the long-term, more effective state regulation of the insurance industry and reform of liability laws will have to occur.

Clover Clippings Responsibility

Theresa Silm

"It's important for young people to take responsibility because taking responsibility is related to self-esteem," says Chris Nelson, MSU Cooperative Extension Service family and child specialist. "Taking responsibility is good and healthy."

Taking responsibility is considered by parents and others who work with early adolescents (10 to 14 year olds) as one of the most important issues in the early adolescent's development. Responsibility-taking, however, doesn't start with 10 to 14 year olds. Ideally, it develops all along their life span. Young people need to begin taking on responsibilities within and outside of the family to become independent.

A study conducted by the Michigan State University Department of Family and Child Ecology and the Michigan 4-H Youth Program revealed that 10 to 14 year olds are more likely to take on personal responsibilities, like grooming and doing homework, than any other kind. Personal responsibilities were followed by family and social responsibilities.

The 10 to 14 year olds' world is expanding, Nelson points out. As they start finding themselves in social situations without adults, young people need to know how to take care of themselves, how to make decisions and how to be responsible for themselves.

Nelson encourages parents to give young people responsibility.

An Oakland County, Calif. study revealed that young people who had household responsibilities had higher self-esteem. They felt more as if they were part of the family, Nelson says, and that helped them feel better about themselves.

"Parents have to expect that kids will help out," Nelson says. "Parents should have reasonable requests, however. There needs to be a balance between expectations and letting kids be kids."

"It's important that parents remember that learning to be responsible is an on-going process. And it takes as much work on the part of the parent as it does on the part of the child."

How family responsibilities are chosen for and by the early adolescent and how much supervision the early adolescent is given are important in determining how the youth develops into a responsible, self-maturing person.

A parent needs to make sure the responsibility or task has been completed, meeting some agreed-upon standard of quality, Nelson says. If the parent doesn't follow through, the child doesn't get the message that it's important to finish the job.

What kind of sportsman would shoot pet

To the Editor:

This letter is to the so called "sportsman" who shot a trusted, beautiful, German Shepherd dog with an arrow "just for kicks." This happened the Sunday before Christmas, near Wilson and Blair Roads, just a few miles north of Eureka.

Do you have any idea how his elderly owners wept to see and hear his anguished suffering or have any thoughts of how they suffered trying to comfort their loved pet until he could be put out of his misery? Needless to say, you made Christmas very sad for an entire family.

Perhaps you would like your $4 arrow back. It does have a lot of teeth marks on it from this poor animal trying to remove it, after it was shot all the way through its body, but it might still be useful to you.

How can any sportsman club condone this hideous and appalling act by allowing a person such as this to remain a member.

You know who you are, and so do a lot of other people by now. We know this was no accident and was intentionally done. How very sick and disgusting. Thank God, you are in the minority, and most people treat animals in a humane way.

Try standing in farmers' shoes for a while

Dear Editor:

Recently, I received a letter by mail which stated what a bunch of bums American farmers are. One sentence read: "Why should the American taxpayer bleed for an 'Aid to Dependent Children' farm support system that breeds the bastards of inefficiency and waste?"

The letter was signed only "A Concerned Parent." I believe that any letter that is worth writing is also worth signing your name to it. Without signing his name, I assume Concerned Parent does not want anyone to point a finger at him in regards to the utterly stupid thoughts he has about the backbone of our country, the American farmer.

Concerned Parent's whole letter, as far as I am concerned, is nothing but 100 percent plan b.s., and that is describing it mildly.

I wonder if Concerned Parent ever realized if he were not for the American farmer producing cheap food that he puts on his table, sometimes at a loss due to so many things the farmer has no control over, that he might be out in someone's barnyard picking some choice morsels with the hungry birds.

A few facts he may not be aware of:

...Farmers do not receive unemployment pay.

...If the farmer has any hospital insurance, he has to pay for it himself.

...Any pension plan the farmer has is paid for entirely by him.

...Property taxes that farmers pay on inflated valuations are so high that Concerned Parent would not be able to pay them if he were a farmer.

Concerned Parent, without all the tax dollars paid by the farming sector into the local school system, our schools would not operate for very long.

Now that I have told Concerned Parent some of the facts about life on the farm, perhaps he would like to try some farmer's shoes on for this crop year and get a first hand lesson in farming.

I also will sign my name below what I have written so Concerned Parent can respond if he so desires. If he does respond, I pray he will have enough pride to sign his name.

Vocational education

These teachers teach working

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

"When we talk to the kids about what happens in a particular profession, we're not just speaking from a book — we've actually worked in the field."

This was Dorothea Daley, a teacher at the Clinton County Vocational Education facility, talking about her special brand of instruction. She teaches in the cosmetology department but she was speaking for the other vocational education departments as well — the automotive mechanics, food service, data processing and health profession departments.

Perhaps because vocational education teachers are somewhat removed from the traditional classroom setting, or perhaps because the public is not generally aware of what happens in vocational education, they sometimes get the feeling, Daley says, that they are not considered as important or as much an integral part of education as their colleagues in the traditional classroom.

Yet for the 200 students from the St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Bath, DeWitt, Fowler and Fulton school districts who each year attend the vocational education center in vocational educational teachers represent a very integral part of their education indeed. For them, vocational education leads directly to the workplace.

In fact, the entire focus of vocational education is to provide actual work experience for the students.

"In the health program they go right into the hospital," says Daley. "In cosmetology, they work on patrons. In food service — those kids run a restaurant."

THE VOCATIONAL education center, located on Higham Street in St. Johns, began with automotive mechanics in 1971. Cosmetology, food services and building trades were added over the next few years, with building trades being replaced by data processing in 1983.

Although some believe the center is run by the St. Johns school district because it happens to be located in that town, it is actually one of the two basic programs — the other is special education — provided by the Clinton County Intermediate School District. The local school districts are allocated certain number of "slots" in the vocational education programs depending on the size of the local district. The local districts contribute funding to vocational education in the form of "tuition" for students attending from their districts.

For each of the vocational educational departments there is an advisory council made up of county

KEVIN KOHLBERY, the automotive mechanics teacher at the vocational education center, inspects progress on a brake repair job.

"Some wait three or four years before they find work in the field but they usually keep their license up."

Vocational education students learn more than just the skills of a profession, she adds. They also learn less tangible skills, such as setting professional goals and working harmoniously with others.

"I do think there is a certain maturing that takes place in this kind of program," she says.

"These people have definitely set goals or they wouldn't be in the program," adds Colleen Hitzeman, another cosmetology teacher. "We teach goal setting, self worth, and interacting with other people... We feel they're one step ahead when they go into the 'real world.'"

Photographs by Rich Wertz

COSMETOLOGISTS Dorothea Daley and Coleen Hitzeman train students for careers in cosmetology. When students have completed the two year course — one year after the students have been graduated from high school — they are qualified to take a state cosmetology licensing exam and begin working in the field.

"It's almost 100 percent of those who complete the program that do take the state boards and receive their license," Daley says.

residents who work in profession taught in the respective departments. While it might be expected that some businesses would view the vocational education center as an unfair form of competition — the students do after all fix cars, serve food and provide cosmetic services for the public — that has not been a problem, Daley says.

"A school is never really a threat to a professional," she says.

VOCATIONAL education students generally start the program in their junior years of high school and spend half their class day at the center. The exception is the cosmetology program — those student do not begin until their senior year and spend their full school day at the center during that year. The cosmetology program continues for one additional year after graduation from high school.

Some students go on to other educational institutions after graduation. Automotive mechanics teacher Kevin Kohlbery says most of his students will go to other schools after graduation. Health profession students who complete the program are qualified nurses aides, although many choose to go on and become nurses.

In the cosmetology program, graduated students are ready to take a state licensing exam and go directly to work in their field — an option their teachers say most of the students take advantage of.

DATA PROCESSING instructor Tom Wilson discusses a program with two students who are programming a computer to "sing" a musical score.

Eating habits

Dawn Harris

For as long as anyone can remember, mothers of America have been telling their youngsters to eat their vegetables.

Well, all that effort has paid off — the per person consumption of vegetables has increased dramatically in the last decade.

Let's look at a few figures. The per person consumption of broccoli — those funny, green little trees — has risen from less than a pound in 1972 to more than two pounds 10 years later.

Americans are also eating more cucumbers, carrots, lettuce and tomatoes. We're eating two more pounds of tomatoes per year than in 1972, and lettuce consumption has risen to more than 25 pounds per year.

Carrot and cucumber consumption has grown by about a pound per year each. But in terms of growth rate, broccoli takes the honors. Its consumption rate has grown 214 percent in just 10 years. Even so, we still eat six times as many tomatoes as broccoli.

Why the increase? We'd like to think it's because mothers did their job so well — and that may be so, but here are a few reasons to ponder.

The baby boomer generation — those people ages 25 to 35 — is extremely health conscious. The baby boomers are also the most educated group in America. One fourth of them are college graduates, compared with only 17 percent of those 20 years older. They tend to pay attention to the education and research being devoted to diet-related diseases.

A final contributing factor has been the shift from a blue collar to a white collar labor force. When there are more workers in an office setting than in a factory setting, there will be a higher demand for lighter, lower-calorie foods, because people who push papers burn fewer calories than those who push steel.

Who will benefit from this change in eating habits? The farmers who produce these vegetables will, with the edge going to those who can provide them year round. Since we will need more carrot peelers, cutting boards and Cuisinarts to use with all the vegetables we're eating, the manufacturers and retailers will benefit some. But all of us are the ultimate beneficiaries! Eating more vegetables — and fruits — makes good nutritional sense.

Dawn Harris is the home economist for the Clinton County Cooperative Service.

Richard and Michelle Henry

Henry — McGonigal

Reside in Bear, Del.

Michelle Ann McGonigal became the bride of Richard Henry in a Jan. 16 ceremony at the home of the grooms' parents in Bear, Del.

The bride is the daughter of Lynwood and Charlotte McGonigal of 5197 Clise Road, Bath.

The groom is the son of Melvin and May Henry of 710 Cardinal Road, Bear, Del.

For her wedding, the bride wore an ivory satin gown with Victorian sleeves. It featured a scalloped hemline on the sweeping train.

Serving as maid of honor was Maureen McGonigal, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of lavender organza with a scalloped hemline matching the brides.

Best man was David Henry, brother of the groom.

A buffet supper was served following the wedding. A lavender colored fountain was incorporated into the wedding cake.

Following their honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. Henry will reside in Bear, Del.

Maureen Thelen and Gary Schafer

Thelen — Schafer

May wedding planned

Roger and Bernice Thelen of Route 2, Tallman Road, Box 87, Fowler are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Maureen Ann, to Gary Schafer, son of Delbert and Agnes Schafer of 3844 N. Hubbardston Road, Pewamo.

The bride-elect is a 1982 graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School and is presently employed with the state of Michigan.

The prospective groom is a 1978 graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School and is presently employed with the state of Michigan.

A May 17, 1986 wedding date is planned.

CUB SCOUT PACK 506 celebrated its one year "birthday" last week. The Fowler pack was re-organized last year after several years of inactivity. Here, scouts at the Blue and Gold Banquet perform a skit demonstrating the ingredients of a good Cub Scout.

Religious art featured at Clinton County Gallery

An exhibit of religious art will be featured at the Clinton County Arts Council Gallery and Gift Shop during the month of March.

A reception for featured artists is planned for March 9 from 1 to 5 p.m. with a demonstration on Ukrainian Egg Decorating highlighting the reception. Pearl Bartkiw and her brother, Nick Pytlowany, formerly of St. Johns, will lead the demonstrations and answer questions. Decorated eggs will also be available for purchase.

In addition, there will be a special display of items used in Easter ceremonies at the St. Vladimir Ukrainian Catholic Church in Flint.

A stained-glass workshop is scheduled for April 19 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Gallery. This class is for beginning students. Cost is $35 and includes all materials for a completed mobile. A minimum of five students is required. Please pre-register at the Gallery by paying $10, balance due the day of the class. The workshop is being conducted by personnel from Delphi Stores in Lansing. Stained-glass items will be a featured medium at the Gallery during the month of April.

Extension Service will offer class on cheaper food buying

The Cooperative Extension Service of Clinton County will offer a three-week series on tips for wise food shopping. The classes begin on March 12, from 1:30-3 p.m., at Smith Hall in St. Johns.

The series will include many tips on how to get the most nutrition for your food dollar and nutritious low-cost recipes will be demonstrated.

Registration fee for all three weeks is $2 with pre-registration required. Contact the Extension Office at 224-3288 by March 10.

Clinton County Arts Council shares art with Findlay

The Clinton County Arts Council, in cooperation with the Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor, has provided a circulating Art Exhibit at the nursing home since Feb. 18. The Arts Council loans art works for exhibit at the Country

Manor, with the exhibit changing every eight weeks.

Works of art will remain available for purchase from the Clinton County Arts Council Gallery located at US-27 and N. Clinton Ave., in St. Johns.

by Bob Beck

There are two events that will happen this year that I will not see again in my life time. One occurs every 75 years the other will never happen again. I'm sure many of you can guess the first as being the reappearance of HALEYS COMET, but can you guess the second. Why its none other than BECK'S FARM MARKET 28th ANNIVERSARY SALE. We are planning quite a celestial event! Come in any day Wednesday, March 5th through Saturday, March 8th 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and have a sample of our giant anniversary cake and ice cream. While you are in our store register for 28 free bags of groceries or a microwave oven. There will be free balloons for the kids and some astronomical bargains.

We take pride in offering our customers the best home-made sausage, baked goods, and the finest produce around. It has been said that the popularity of this event might surpass that of the MAPLE RAPIDS WORLDS FAIR. So don't hear about it from your neighbors, experience it for yourself. Let us show you how much we have appreciated your support over these past 28 years.

So stop in this week to our store and let us provide your just desserts, this week at BECK'S you can have your cake and eat it too.

Findlay Manor News

Family Support Group meets again on March 12, at 7:30 p.m. All are encouraged to attend. Kathy Keller, a CEI Community Mental Health Board member, will lead a discussion on physical changes of the elderly.

Special upcoming events at the Manor include:

- St. Patrick's Day Party, March 17, at 3:30 p.m. An auctioneer is needed — please contact Lisa Wren, 224-8936.
- A banana split party to celebrate the first day of spring on March 21, at 3:30 p.m. As always the community is invited to join the fun.

Happy Birthday to Winifred Wanless on March 5. Cards are appreciated.

Welcome to new volunteers Jennifer Stinson and Holly Pfeiffer.

Did you know...

- That the Dietary Department at the Manor prepares 2,268 meals each week, not including the additional snacks, supplements and guest meals?
- That the Manor has 108 local applicants on a waiting list for basic beds?
- That national studies indicate higher quality care and considerably lower costs in private rather than hospital related nursing homes?

Calendar

The world in Bement Library Spring wishes

By Jean Bartholomew

Thank goodness February is gone for another year. Can Spring be far behind? I'm sure many of us are more than ready. In my case, dreary, cold days make for foggy thoughts. My apologies to the skiers, ice fishers, sledders, and all winter sports buffs who want just one more week, but I've had it!

For those of you doing your income tax the library has both Federal and State reproducible forms covering almost everything. We are more than willing to help you find these. However, please don't ask us any questions. None of the staff is tax educated and cannot give answers or advice. There is a ten cent charge per copied page. Our copy machine is coin-operated and we are not reimbursed by the government for this service.

Another comment on the tax subject. Did you know that a donation, contribution, or memorial gift to the library is tax deductible? The patron may choose how the funds are spent or leave it to our discretion. Used or new books are always acceptable. What can't be used in the library is put on the used book sale, either the ongoing one in the library entrance or on Sidewalk Days in July. The revenue generated is spent for new books. A recycling process that benefits everyone.

I wish each of you a joyous Easter and in honor of my Irish ancestor, for St. Patrick's Day, I share with you one of my favorite poems.

May the road rise up to meet you,
May the wind be always at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
And the rain fall softly upon your fields,
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of His hand.

Come visit us soon — cead mille faille.
Jean Bartholomew is the Head Librarian at Bement Public Library in St. Johns.

How'd you like to take your mail to lunch?

Postmaster David Yallup would like to encourage businesses to drop off their outgoing mail at the Post Office when an employee leaves the office for a lunch break.

The Post Office can provide faster service if it receives a portion of outgoing mail before the early truck leaves for the Lansing processing center at 2:30 p.m.

Yallup says at present the processing center handles approximately one million pieces daily and when it arrives after 6 p.m. it becomes physically impossible to complete the task by their cutoff times.

"Please help the Post Office serve you by bringing mail to the Post Office or Brush Street before 2:30 deposit it in the drop box on p.m.," he requests.

TWIRLING — The Maple Twirlers live up to their name on the dance floor.

Performance

Maple Twirlers like wholesome fun

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

"...and do-si-do
I don't want to see
I don't want to see
Mary cry"

Wendell Law, caller for the Maple Twirlers Square Dance Club, does not just call the dance steps, he sings and dances while he's doing it.

And the Maple Twirlers out there gliding around the floor of the St. Johns Municipal Building community room don't just square dance...they round dance too.

The routine goes round dance, square dance, take a break, round dance, square dance, take a break — and continues that way until the end of the evening.

The round dance is just what it sounds like — the couples promenade around the dance floor in a stately circle. Wendell, arm in arm with his wife Dot, is part of that circle. He calls the dance steps through a radio microphone as the Maple Twirlers execute graceful pirouettes and other round dance steps around him.

The square dances are not always quite so graceful. Wendell likes to throw in a few unfamiliar moves every now and then, kind of keeping the dancers on their toes with the threat of don't-get-ahead-of-ye-caller-'cause-I-might-just-point-them-toes-in-a-different-direction.

"Every dance begins with a smile," says Wendell.

The Maple Twirlers were 21 years old as a club last month, although they will not celebrate the birthday until this spring when all the "snowbirds" come back from Florida. The club was started in 1965 in Maple Rapids — hence its name — and moved to St. Johns in 1982. They meet twice each month and have what club president Max Cumberworth says is nothing but wholesome fun.

"Nobody drinks," he says.

It's true — although visitors are encouraged to help themselves to the bountiful cookies, cheese and crackers.

"I come by it naturally," says Max. "My parents have square danced for 28 years."

Max and his wife Judy have only been square dancing for about three years but he is already president of the club. So is his wife Judy.

"Everything in square dance is in couples," observes Wendell.

"It's something a family, a man and a wife can do together," says Max, "and very inexpensively."

Club members pay $35 yearly to join the club. Per couple.

Photograph by Rich Wertz

CALLER — Wendell Law, with his wife Dot, is a charter member and the caller of the Maple Twirlers.

Last Friday night was "badge night." Just as Boy Scouts and other organizations earn badges for completing various tasks, square dancers earn badges too, some of which are the BLACK CAT, for dancing on Friday the 13th, the PENGUIN, for dancing on the ice at a lake, and the PURPLE HEART, for dancing with three callers, the most expert of square dancers.

Maple Twirlers also visit back and forth with other square dance clubs. All clubs participate in "banner stealing," a practice by which visitors from one club, if armed with at least eight couple while visiting another club, earn the right to "steal" the banner of the host club.

Of course, this means that in order to get it back the host club has to in turn visit the club that stole its banner, which adds up to a fair amount of visiting back and forth and also helps each club out financially.

Visitors pay $4 to attend another club's dance. Per couple.

'Child most important'

Sheriff's Dept. fights abuse

By Charlene Mead-Wilson
Contributing Writer

When a child in Clinton County is sexually abused it is not taken lightly by the Clinton County Detective Bureau, says Detective Sgt. Richard May.

"If there's any evidence that further harm could be done, we'll remove the child, or the suspected offender, right out of the home, right now!" May says.

Sexual abuse cases are very time consuming and need special attention, May said. The bureau has appointed deputy Steve Nobis to handle child sexual-abuse cases. May says Nobis works very closely with the Department of Social Services Children Protection Service Unit (CPS) in St. Johns, in addition to his regular patrol officer duties.

After being informed about a possible sexual abuse case, the CPS unit then inquires into the situation, gets witness referrals and contacts Nobis, says Roger Shutes, program manager of treatment and prevention for the CPS unit.

SHUTES points out that the unit and the bureau start two investigations, one for child protection (by the CPS unit) and one for criminal offense (by the bureau).

Together the CPS unit and the bureau attempt to limit the questioning to a one time visit for the victim, Nobis says.

"We heavily rely on each other so that only one questioning is necessary," he says.

The child is the major concern in both investigations. The bureau and the CPS unit both want no further harm to come to the child physically or psychologically, Shutes says. It can be emotionally damaging to remove an unwilling child, he adds.

"THE CHILD is most important," Shutes says. "We are concerned about the impact (of removal from the home) on the child."

And it is not always in the children's best interest to remove them, Shutes says. There are many "checks and balances" before removal takes place, he says, because the legal system does not allow removal without just cause.

"We do everything we can to keep the child from being removed," Shutes says. "But if they're at risk of further harm we must remove them." Nobis, who has been specially trained on sexual abuse, is available countywide and works together with the CPS unit. "We have a good working relationship with Nobis," Shutes says.

Nobis said he believes the training has been beneficial in the abuse cases he has handled. "I am better able to relate (these cases) to the classroom," he says.

Adds May, "All of the police chiefs in the county will be using (Nobis) on sexual abuse cases. We have been pushing (Nobis) countywide."

THE BUREAU handled 25 cases from April to December 1985. May said 23 arrests were made from the 25 complaints filed.

Several victims may be involved in one household, May says. He recalls one case in which seven victims accused the same suspect.

May said he doesn't believe actual sexual abuse has increased, but the awareness of it has. "Child abuse is coming out of the closet," he says. Since there has been an increase in public knowledge through the media and schools, more people are reporting sexual abuse, he says. Children are also learning more about sexual abuse from schools and TV programs, May says.

"Today kids are more knowledgeable on touching and know when to say, 'Hey, that guy isn't supposed to be touching me like that,'" he says.

May believes it is good that the public is more aware because for some kids abuse is not an unusual occurrence. "For a lot of kids it's an everyday occurrence," he says.

28 YEARS AGO Beck's Farm Market began as a roadside fruit and vegetable stand. This week the modern supermarket is celebrating its anniversary with free cake and ice cream, and raffles in which a microwave oven and 28 bags of groceries will be given away.

Public invited

Beck's celebrates 28 years

With a cake that weighs something over 400 pounds, various promotional specials and raffles in which 28 bags of groceries and a microwave oven will be given away, Beck's Farm Market on US-27 north of St. Johns is this week celebrating its 28th anniversary.

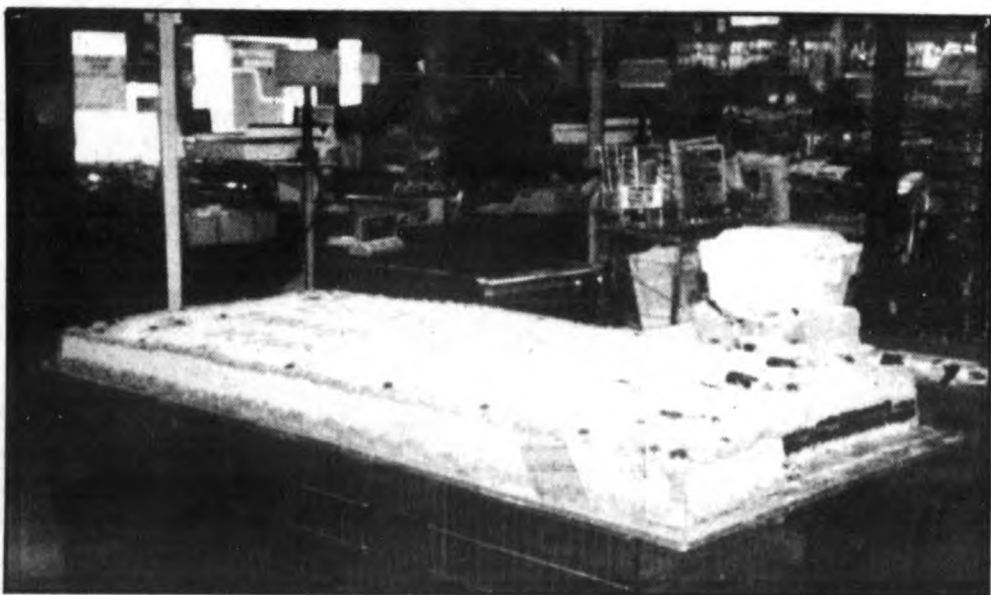

What began in 1958 as a roadside fruit and vegetable stand has grown considerably over the years into what is today a modern supermarket. But even with a total of 45 employees, the business is still very much a family operation.

Bob Beck took over the management of the store from his father, Ben, last April 1. His sister, Paula, is the produce manager. Brothers Barry and Brian are in charge of trucking and the luncheon counter, respectively.

Ben's mother, Barb, keeps the books for the store while his father tends to the marina also owned by the family.

"I grew up in this store," says Bob. "I started sorting bottles when I was nine years old. I remember when they were putting in the first concrete floor. They were setting down tiles. I was probably three or four years old at the time — probably more in their way than anything else."

He also remembers riding in the produce truck with his father to Grand Rapids and to Benton Harbor — where he remembers the boats coming into dock loaded with produce.

Buying their own produce is a practice the Becks continue to this day.

"We feel we can get better quality produce if we pick it out ourselves...just like the way we did years ago," says Bob.

Additionally, the store stocks apples and cider grown by Bob's uncle Dan Beck a mile and a quarter way from the store.

Besides Bob's having taken over as manager, the past year brought to the store expanded hours of business and a new addition to the luncheon counter menu — a breakfast of two eggs, toast and coffee for 99 cents. For another 50 cents those seeking an extra hearty country breakfast can enjoy with their breakfast the specialty sausages made Beck's Farm Market's own Svend Albrechtsen. The native of Denmark at last count was the skillful maker of 17 different varieties of smoked sausage, ham and bacon.

The anniversary celebration will take place from Wednesday to Saturday. The public is invited to come and enjoy free cake and ice cream and to register for the 28 bags of groceries — one for each year Beck's has been in business — that will be given away.

Beck's Farm Market is open seven days each week from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

P-W Pirates raid Eagle win streak

By RHONDA GAFFNEY
Sports Editor

The score was tied 8-8 with 1:40 left to play in the first quarter — that was as close as Fowler would come to winning in last Friday's super, rematch rivalry between the Eagles and Pewamo-Westphalia.

The Pirates ended Fowler's perfect season, upending them 55-50 before a more-than-capacity P-W home crowd whose cheering did more than a little to help the Pirates win.

"It was one game the kids will never forget," said P-W Coach Ron Kramer. "It was a rewarding feeling to know that their hard work had paid off. They earned the win."

"Pewamo-Westphalia did a great job," Fowler Coach Dennis Smith said. "They took us out of our game — we had never played like that before. We didn't rebound well, didn't shoot well, looking back I don't know how we kept the score as close as it was."

The Pirates played with an intensity that some people knew they were capable of, but which they had not displayed throughout an entire ballgame as they did versus Fowler. The seniors especially, in their last game on their home floor, showed they were ready to play — and to win.

P-W HELD A 14-9 LEAD at the end of the first quarter and increased that margin to 10, 31-21, with 1:58 left in the half. Strong outside shooting by Bruce Klein and Doug Schmitt helped the Pirates to build their lead.

Two points apiece from Matt Hufnagle, Bruce Schmitt and Dean Koenigsnecht cut P-W's lead down to 31-27 when the buzzer sounded for the half.

Doug Myers and Pat Stump had the assignment of guarding Fowler's multi-talented Koenigsnecht and "did a nice job on him," according to Coach Smith. Pirate Coach Kramer also had praise for his guards in holding K-13 to just 6 points in the first half and 13 total for the night.

The Eagles continued to be thwarted by P-W's patient, slowed-down style of play throughout the third quarter. Fowler made six points in that period and trailed the Pirates by 10 again, 43-33, to begin the final stanza.

"We've never been behind in a ballgame when it really counted," said Smith. "We got frustrated watching them (P-W) run the clock for the good shot. We hurried shots and missed them as a result of that frustration."

SPARKED BY KOENIGSNECHT'S shooting in the final minutes, Fowler made a run on P-W and narrowed the Pirate lead to 2 points on three different occasions.

Kurt Simon gave the Eagles their first chance at a tie with his basket at 1:35 to make the score 48-46. That brought about an immediate "time-out" call from an animated Coach Kramer off the P-W bench.

A quick series of plays brought Bruce Klein to the line shooting one and one for P-W. He canned both, making the score 50-46, and bringing a "time-out" from Coach Smith.

Kevin Schmitt connected for Fowler, narrowing the lead back to two for the second time, this with 44 seconds left in the game. Simon fouled Stump who went to the line and missed. Mike Hengesbach came up with a key rebound for P-W, and the Eagles were forced to foul Stump again. This time he was good for both — P-W led 52-48 with :21 on the clock.

ANOTHER BASKET BY SCHMITT cut the lead to two, 52-50, for the last time. A Fowler time-out was followed by an immediate foul on Tom Belen. He made both ends of his one and one. Klein's additional one point with 6 seconds left was icing on the cake.

AMONG DEFENDERS St. Johns Senior, Trent Jakus, takes on a host of Alma defenders in last Friday's MMB conference clash. The Redwings tried hard to pull out a win for the Parents Night crowd in what was the final regular season game of the year for St. Johns.

Simon put the last two Fowler points in at the buzzer, 55-52. Absolute bedlam broke out as Pirate fans swamped their team.

"The kids really wanted to win badly," said Coach Smith. "You could tell in the lockerroom before the game, everyone wanted to be 20-0."

Koenigsnecht was leading scorer for Fowler with 13 points. Bruce Schmitt added 12, Kurt Simon had 10 points and 10 rebounds, and Matt Hufnagle had 7 points and 10 rebounds.

Doug Schmitt led the Pirates in scoring with 16 points. He also had 4 rebounds and 2 assists. Klein and Belen both were good for 12 points, with Klein rebounding for 9 with 5 assists and Belen having 3 boards and 1 assist. Pat Stump had 7 points and 3 assists for P-W.

"Everybody played their role almost to perfection," said Coach Kramer. "It was a team effort right down to the last man. The crowd helped us; the seniors playing their last game helped us; and we didn't have the 19-0 pressure that Fowler did — the kids just played super."

Looking to District play which begins tonight for P-W, Kramer said, "St. Louis will be tough. They were there watching us on Friday — they certainly won't be taking us for granted. They have good height and quickness. I hope we can be ready for them coming off from such an emotional game as Fowler's was."

"We're going up as a team to scout the Beal City/Vestaburg game on Monday," Fowler's Smith said. The Eagles drew a bye and will play the winner of that contest. "We like a up-tempo ballgame and that's what we should see no matter who we face in our district. There are some good teams up there."

In Junior Varsity action, P-W defeated Fowler 68-47, a score which Pirate scorekeepers left up until seconds before the tip-off of the Varsity game. A sign of things to come?

No win for Redwings on Parent Night

It was Parents Night last Friday at St. Johns High School, but the Redwings were unable to give parents and fans a win to wrap up regular season play. They posted one more loss on the year, 69-51 versus Alma, in closing MMB action.

St. Johns' record stands at 3-7 4-15 going into opening Class A District competition tonight with Owosso.

The Redwings were behind 17-14 at the end of the first quarter and saw Alma widen that margin to 34-26 by halftime.

St. Johns tried to muster a comeback led by the shooting of Trent Jakus and Butch Armstrong in the second half, and pulled to within five points at one point in the final period. That was as close as they would come to a victory in the contest.

Jakus led the Redwings in scoring with 21 points, Armstrong had 16, with Alex Parker and Jody Peters each netting 6.

In earlier action last week, St. Johns hosted Mt. Pleasant in a non-conference game. They came up short, losing 68-61, after having led by two at the half.

The Wings played Mt. Pleasant for much of the game with balanced scoring from big men, Jakus and Ben Marshall, who also worked the boards well for St. Johns. Jakus ended the evening with 19 points, Marshall added 15, and both pulled down 8 rebounds.

Parker had 9 points in that game, Bill Keenoy posted 8, Kurt Luttgig had 6, and Jody Peters and Mike Schafer were good for 2 points each.

St. Johns' game this evening begins at 7:30 p.m. at Owosso High School.

The Junior Varsity ended their season with a loss and a win. They fell to Mt. Pleasant 97-85, and were winners over Alma 62-49.

P-W and O-E take district v-ball crowns

There was jubilation last Saturday among the volleyball team members from Ovid-Elsie and Pewamo-Westphalia — and disappointment in the camps of St. Johns, Fowler and Fulton.

District titles were won by the O-E Marauders in Class B and P-W in Class C. The Redwings took their district hopes into the final match of the day, but lost 15-5 15-0 to Lansing Sexton.

Fowler and Fulton were both eliminated in the semifinal round of their Class D District: Fowler falling to Pottsville 15-5 15-3, and Fulton losing to the eventual district winner Michigan Lutheran Seminary 15-1 15-3. Fowler advanced into the semifinal round with a win over Morrice 15-13 15-9, and Fulton won their first-round match against Lansing Christian 15-3 15-11.

OID-ELSIE

The Marauders played their district games at Frankenth High School and, although they "didn't serve well at all" according to Coach Doug Long, they did everything else good enough to bring home the district crown.

O-E defeated Vassar in their opening match of the day 15-6 15-5, beat a tough Durand squad in the semifinals 16-18 15-8 16-14, and won the title in the championship match with Chesaning 15-7 15-11.

Leading server was Bonnie Patrick with 22, followed by Sheila Platner and Deb Darling who each had 20.

Jamie Jones led in passing with 86 percent, Platner had 84 percent, while Patrick and Deb and Carrie Darling all had 83 percent. "Our passing was very good the entire day," Coach Long said.

Shelby Terpstra was top spiker and blocker for the Marauders. She had 42 spikes, 9 for kills, and 16 blocks. Courtney Schneider had 35 spikes, 3 for kills, and 11 blocks, and Platner had 21 spikes, 3 kills, and 8 blocks.

"Tips to the floor untouched" leader was Platner with 6, with Terpstra and Schneider each having 4. Leading setter was Jamie Jones with 98 followed by Deb Darling with 74. Jones and Darling had 4 saves each.

The Marauders advance to Regional play at Sanford-Meridian this Saturday with their opening match set for 11 a.m. District winners from Gladwin, Belding and Bay City Handy will be the other teams competing in the regional with O-E.

"We are looking forward to playing on Saturday," Long said. "We will practice as usual this week and may try to set up a scrimmage also."

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA

Pewamo-Westphalia's 10 a.m. 15-8 15-7 opening district win over Laingsburg was a real "wake-up game" for the Pirates according to coach Nancy Kreider. Although they won, the team "wasn't quite in the groove," the coach said.

"We had a chance to watch the other teams after our first match," Kreider said, "and recognized what we had to do to win our remaining matches."

The Pirates came from behind to win their second match with Lansing Catholic Central, finishing 15-11 16-14. Her team "served well and received serve well," in those games Kreider said.

The Championship match of the district pitted St. Louis against P-W which the Pirates won in two games, 15-13 15-11.

"Beth Simon and Lisa Nurenberg served well for us in the final match," the coach said. "There was a determined attitude among the girls on the floor. They wanted more than anything to bring home the District trophy."

Pewamo-Westphalia will face the winner of the Elk Rapids District in their opening Regional match this Saturday, March 8. District winners from Ravenna and Blanchard/Montabella round out the pairings for that Class C competition.

"We will follow our practice schedule and hope to possibly set a scrimmage sometime during this week also," Coach Kreider said.

March madness

Rhonda Gaffney

They call it "March Madness."

It's that peculiar time in the basketball season when tournaments take place — districts, regionals, quarterfinals, semis, and finals.

It can be quite infectious, and has been known to bring entire communities to their knees as they become caught up in the magic spell of "winning."

Some areas become more "mad" than others. As a rule, these have had more experience and know how to really get into the feeling because they have been through it so often.

Take for example the village of Fowler and its outlying community. Beginning in 1938, Fowler High School teams have won their Class D District no less than 30 times. 30 times — even P-W people would have to admit that's not too shabby of a record.

Eagle teams advanced and won their Regional on 11 occasions, were involved in six semi-final games, and took two teams into the finals in 1950 and 1952, bringing home the State Class D crown in '52. George Fox, Frank Fedewa, Everett Sillman, and Alan Thelen are just a few members of those well-remembered teams.

That's not saying that other towns in Clinton County have not had their share of excitement during the month of March over the years.

Pewamo and Westphalia, separately and combined, have given their fans more than a few "mad" moments, as have teams from Ashley, Elsie, Fulton and St. Johns. All have been involved in tournament action and have done their share in giving fans a taste of what March Madness is all about.

I had the very good fortune of being a part of the madness when St. Johns, then Class B, won the District in 1970. The final game played with St. Louis in the new St. Johns High School gym was definitely a night that anyone who was there will never forget.

You could not have squeezed one more body into any crack in the gym. There were over 3,000 people in attendance, which to my knowledge, still stands as the top figure for the Redwings. The noise was deafening and the excitement of the crowd could not possibly have been greater.

St. Johns won, 74-71, on total team effort from all the players. Dean "The Dream" Eisler, Bob Rehmann, Dave Gaffney, Rich Stoddard, Dan Rademacher and every other Redwing combined to give St. Johns its first District title in 11 years.

The Wings went on to play their regional at Waverly High School where they won their first two games, 75-61 over Brooklyn Columbia Central and 93-50 over Charlotte, before falling to Lansing Gabriel 88-78 in the finals. That game, too, remains very vivid in the minds of those who viewed it.

It's all part of the Madness, you see. Once you've felt it, you know that no other basketball game is quite the same. It's a legitimate high.

This week the madness begins again. Realistically, it stands a better chance of striking in some locales more so than in others.

Odds are that of the three teams playing opening district games tonight, St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, and Pewamo-Westphalia, two will probably end their seasons this evening. There will be no March Madness for them this year.

The luck of the draw gave Fowler and Ashley both "byes" for tonight — they will play their first games this Thursday. Should they win, the Eagles and Bears would face one another in the District final game on Saturday. It's interesting to note that the Fowler Championship teams of '50 and '51 took Ashley out of the running in the final District game both of those years. Who's to say what will happen in 1986?

The excitement of March — that's the madness — that's what the game is all about.

VALIANT EFFORT The St. Johns volleyball team played some hard-nosed volleyball in their District matches. The Redwings won their opening match with Lansing Eastern 15-7 15-5 and their semifinal match versus East Lansing 15-9 15-10. Their bid for a Class A District title fell short this year as they lost in the Championship match to Lansing Sexton 15-5 15-0. Class A District competition was held at Sexton last Saturday.

Grove School players make the final four

For the second time, Grove Christian School made it all the way to the semifinal round of the Michigan Athletic Association of Christian Schools, Division II, State Tournament — an "exceptional accomplishment for a school our size," said Coach Byron Prange.

Grove hosted, and won, their District competition on Feb. 22. They defeated United-Garden City by a 71-50 score.

Joe Gazda, who only missed 2 field goal attempts from the floor all night, was leading scorer with 44 points. He was also good on 11 of 12 from the free throw line. John Hawks had 12 points and Rod Johns added 7 in that game.

Grove won their regional with Indianwood-Oxford, in a game that took three overtimes to produce a final 60-59 score. Hawks scored the winning basket in the final overtime with :08 on the clock.

"We had several chances to win in the overtimes," said the coach who had high praise for his bench in that contest. "Gazda and Painter (Darrell) both fouled out and our bench played some outstanding ball to keep us in the game."

Gazda was leading scorer with 25 points, followed by Painter with 17, Hawks with 9, and Craig Dennis with 6.

The semifinal game played on Feb. 25, saw Grove pitted against the Community of Saginaw, a team they beat twice and lost to once before. The final score was 71-64.

"We were ahead by 8 points in the third quarter," Prange said, "but only scored 2 from the floor in the final quarter — that was the ballgame."

"We were very pleased to be among the final four teams in the State," Prange concluded.

Ashley gets revenge in win over Byron

Ashley played for pride in their 56-54 overtime win over conference champion Byron last Friday. The win upped the Bears season record to 8-2 14-6, and gave Bryon their only loss of the year.

"It was a good game all the way around," said Coach Gary Schestag. "There were a lot of heroes."

Some of those "heroes" were Alan Stehlik who held the league's leading scorer, Howie Richardson, to 18 points total; Chris Ringle who played a good game all around and was especially helpful in the second half; Mike Litwiller who carried the offense in the third period; and Rick Saylor who came off the bench and scored the winning points for the Bears.

Litwiller led his team with 26 points, 15 rebounds and 6 assists. Stehlik added 15 points to the total, Ringle had 5 points, 7 rebounds and 7 assists, and Saylor had 4 points, with 2 of those being clutch free throws to ice the game.

Ashley also took a 67-52 win from Webberville in a make-up game played last week. Litwiller had a career high 31 points in that game to go with 12 rebounds and 7 assists. Ringle had 10 points and 8 rebounds, while Darin Cartwright, Stehlik and Greg Carpenter all were good for 6 each.

District play begins for Ashley this Thursday as they face the winner of the Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart/Fulton winner.

"We're comfortable with the draw," Schestag said. "The kids knew no matter who we drew that we would have to be ready to play. It should be a good tournament."

SJHS school records set in Hartland meet

More St. Johns gymnastics records were set and a second place trophy brought home in what was a very busy week for the Redwings.

A new team scoring record for a single meet, 128.8 points, was set by St. Johns in the Conference Meet at Hartland on Saturday, and Chris Ebert established a new record in floor exercise with a 8.8 mark, also set in the Hartland Meet.

The Redwings' 128.8 points was good for second place in the conference, just 1 point behind Hartland who had 129.8 points. Mason finished third with 117.05 points.

"I think we surprised Hartland," said Coach Sue Cerney. "They had been rated in the top ten in the State. We were very pleased with the scores and with the way the meet was run."

Individually, Ebert took first place in the vault, scoring 8.6; Gwynn Sharick placed third with 8.25; Missy Vitek was fourth at 8.15; and Jody Smith finished sixth with a 8.0 score. On uneven bars, Ebert was third at 8.15; Vitek placed fourth with a 7.95; Linda Strickland was sixth with 7.75; and Penny Evans placed eighth at 7.55.

Ebert was third on the beam with a 8.15 score, DeAnne Fox finished fifth at 7.9, and Vitek was eighth with a 7.8. Ebert's 8.8 in the floor exercise was good for third, Sharick finished sixth at 8.15, Vitek was seventh at 8.05, and Evans finished eighth with a 7.8 score.

In the All-Around scoring, Ebert placed second with 33.7 points, just .05 behind the first place Hartland score. Vitek placed fourth with 31.95 points.

The Redwings held their final home meet of the year earlier last with Sexton. St. Johns won that with a 119.15 to 48.9 score. Those points were important ones for the gymnasts as it gave them their final qualifying team score for the Regional which will be held March 8 in Freeland.

St. Johns took the top four spots in each event against Sexton. Place finishes were: Ebert first in vault and bars, tied for second with Sharick on beam and floor exercise; Vitek first on beam, third on bars and floor exercise, tied for third with Strickland on vault; Sharick second on vault; Strickland second on bars; Denise Fox first on floor exercise; DeAnne Fox third on beam; Jodi Smith fourth on bars.

The Redwings traveled to Ionia last week for an Invitational Meet where they finished third in their division behind Rockford, ranked 4th in the State, and Grand Haven, ranked 10th in the State. In that meet, Ebert brought home a second place medal on the vault.

Redwings who have qualified for individual events at the Regionals this Saturday are: Ebert in vault, bars and floor; Strickland and Vitek in vault and bars; Denise Fox, Sharick, and Knight on vault.

O-E ends a winner

Ovid-Elsie ended their regular basketball season on a winning note, defeating Bay City All Saints 52-49 in a game played last Saturday. The win gives the Marauders a 1-9, 4-16 season record.

The Marauders' Sat. win came on the heels of a close MMB conference loss to Chesaning on Fri. The score in that contest was 56-54.

"We led all the way in the first half," said Coach Bob Foreback. "We had a cold spell in the third quarter and couldn't come back."

O-E made a run at winning late in the final period when Bobby Foreback's 2 field goals cut Chesaning's lead to two. The Marauders were forced to foul with :03 on the clock, Chesaning missed the free throws, and O-E got the rebound for a floor-length shot attempt.

Foreback was leading scorer with 21 points and had 7 assists and 3 steals. Troy Barnhill had 20 points and Nick Hurst pulled down 11 rebounds for O-E.

Saturday's win was sparked by fourth quarter scoring from Barnhill who helped the Marauders to a come from behind win. He had all of his 6 points in the final period.

Leading scorer was Foreback with 12 and Jeff Conklin had 11 points and 6 rebounds.

REDWING VARSITY CHEERLEADERS Not only do the St. Johns Cheerleaders do a fine job of cheering on the home team during Redwing basketball games, they also win in cheerleading competitions. The Varsity recently took top honors in Region IV competition for Class A schools, and finished sixth in the State Competition held at Alma College.

Ruess is State wrestling champion for Marauders

Ovid-Elsie High School has a State Wrestling Champion in its midst.

Senior, Bret Ruess took top honors in the 185 weight division at the Class B State Wrestling Meet held last weekend in Charlotte.

"Bret did a really good job," said his coach, Jim Maidlow. "It wasn't even really very close."

Ruess advanced to his state title by decisioning Tom Blandford of Marshall 5-0, pinning Pat McFadden of Farmington Harrison at 2:37, and winning by 8-1 decision over Dan Greyczek of Belding. He pinned Noel Dean of Montrose in 4:54 to win the championship.

Steve Walker and Mike Koyné, who also qualified for State competition, had fine showings in the meet.

Walker, wrestling at 145 pounds, lost by decision 14-11, won by default, and lost his final match 12-10. Koyné, at 155 pounds, won by 4-3 decision; lost 10-4; won a 6-3 decision; and lost his final match 13-2.

As a team, the Marauders finished 11th in the State with 32 team points.

What does the wrestling team do now? "Wait until next year," said Coach Maidlow.

TEACHERS FOR TWO The staffs of Waldron Elementary and Most Holy Trinity schools had their hands full as they took on the eighth grade students in a basketball game last week. The teachers managed to stay close by using a variety of "Globetrotter" style tricks, but the students were the eventual winners.

Teachers fall to students

Medics were on hand. Bodies lay on the floor. Had a disaster struck Waldron Elementary School in Fowler last week?

No. The eighth grade students were simply trouncing the teaching staff of Waldron and Most Holy Trinity schools in a "friendly" basketball game.

Approximately 460 fourth through eighth grade students watched as the teachers used every trick in the book, and some not previously written, but could not overcome the powerful shooting of the students. The eighth grade won 31-29.

The staff versus teachers game was the idea of the Student Council with Jim Wieber as president and "Head Coach" for the students. Twenty-five staff persons took part in the contest, 14 as players with the remainder serving as nurses, water people, referees and announcers.

"I think the students and the staff all enjoyed themselves," said Waldron Principal, Mary Ann Chartrand. "We hope we can make it an annual affair."

When asked how the teachers felt the day after the big game, Chartrand said, "There are some sore muscles — but no one is admitting publicly to that."

Fulton hopes for win

If any basketball team is looking to District competition to help black-out a rather dismal regular season, it's probably Fulton. The Pirates closed out their CMAC play on a losing note, falling to Portland St. Patrick 76-58.

Unfortunately, Fulton's first district game this evening is with Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart — no pushover.

Friday's closing season game left the Pirates with a 0-10 4-16 record. St. Pats was ahead 32-26 at the half and widened that margin throughout the second half.

Leading scorer was Scott Cater with 11 points, followed by Dave Stephens with 10, Joel Parker and Roger Skaryd added nine each, and Todd Walden had 7.

Should Fulton get by Sacred Heart tonight, they would face Ashley on Thursday.

Agriculture update

Giles Roehl

There is more to crop farming than simply doing the field work. Now is the time to start making some decisions. Fertilizer use and recommended varieties may make the difference between a profit and a loss. MSU and the Extension Service are here to help.

1985 Government Program

Remember the ASCS explanation of the 1986 feed grain program March 5 at 10 a.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Pete Lodico and Jim Squires will provide information all farmers need to know. Unless you can afford to gamble that feed grain prices will be considerably higher than current levels by harvest time, you need to understand the feed grain program fully.

Fertilizer — How much for 1986

Before farmers make their final decision concerning fertilizer purchases for 1986 they are encouraged to soil test and fertilize accordingly.

During these periods of tight economic conditions hundreds or maybe even thousands of dollars may be saved by only applying what is needed for the 1986 crop. I worked with one Minnesota farmer who was able to save over $3600 on 160 acres by applying fertilizer according to recommendation rather than by guessing.

Because fertilizer applicants have been made to build soil fertility over the past years, many farm fields possibly need little or no fertilizer. As a result of a 1985 soil test a DeWitt township farmer with a yield goal of 120-149 bushels of corn per acre found that he needed only 150 pounds of Nitrogen per acre — no P205, K20 or lime were required on one field, another field required the 150 pounds of N plus 1/2 ton of lime, and still another field required 150 pounds of N, 25 pounds of P205 and 50 pounds of K20. If he had not tested he probably would have automatically applied fertilizer to every field. The result would have been added cost without added return. No farmer can afford the luxury of recreational fertilizer!

The Extension Office has soil test books available. We also have Extension Bulletin E-550, "Fertilizer Recommendations-Vegetables and Field Crops in Michigan," that is very readable and will help you determine your own fertilizer needs based on the result of soil test from any lab.

Corn Production-Hybrids Compared 1986

Bulletins are now available at the Extension Office. This new publication identifies yield, moisture content and stalk lodging of over 100 varieties of corn in 17 locations in Michigan. Although not as good as the results as if done on your own farm, this publication will give you an idea how the individual hybrids did at the different locations. Ask for bulletin E-431 "Corn Hybrids Compared" revised Jan. 1986.

Variety Trial Information

If you haven't purchased your soybean seed the 1985 Soybean Performance Report — Bulletin E-1206 may help you decide on which one(s) to choose. In addition to the comparative yield score this bulletin will give a relative lodging, maturity and phytophthora root rot resistance score. There are differences in soybean varieties. Choose the one that meets your needs carefully.

DeWitt farmer campaigns for law setting up insurance for elevators

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

One day last July, Harold Hoerner delivered 600 bushels of wheat — with a value of about $1,600 — to the Westmac elevator in Grand Ledge. The DeWitt farmer left with a receipt on which the words "Send check" were written.

Hoerner never saw that check. Three days after he delivered his grain the company went bankrupt. And although the Michigan Department of Agriculture subsequently opened an escrow account from the sale of the warehoused grain to pay off the debts of the company, Hoerner says he never expects to see any of the money he is owed.

"I don't believe I'll see a penny of it," he says. "I'm the poor fellow who sold for cash and that makes me an unsecured creditor, at the bottom of the list when there's not enough money to go around."

HE WAS NOT alone in his loss, Hoerner says.

"I'm not sure of the figures but I believe about 150 county farmers lost grain over there," he says. "I do know some who lost 5,000 bushels."

Hoerner, a "retired farmer" who grows wheat, oats and soy beans on his 40-acre farm on Wacousta Road, thus began a campaign to have a state law enacted that would insure farmers against loss when elevators go bankrupt.

Hoerner proposes legislation based on an Ohio law that requires elevators to set aside one-fifth of a cent from each bushel of grain sold. The money is used to finance an insurance fund protecting farmers who store grain in elevators.

He collected 308 signatures of Clinton County residents — mostly farmers — on a letter to state lawmakers asking for such a law in Michigan. He then went to the Capital Building in Lansing and hand-delivered copies of the letter to each state senator and representative.

What he got in response were mostly form letters thanking him for writing about the "plight of Michigan farmers." One senator, after Hoerner had presented him with a copy of the letter, immediately dropped the letter in a men's room wastebasket.

BUT HOERNER'S efforts did get a more substantial response from at least two elected officials. Rep. Gary Randall, whose congressional district includes Clinton County, in a Feb. 19 letter to Hoerner, said he plans to introduce legislation of the type Hoerner proposes sometime within "the next month or two."

Randall added that he intends to make the legislation conditional upon a referendum of support by Michigan farmers.

Hoerner also got a response from Senate Minority Leader Art Miller, who delegated an aide to investigate the issue. Both Randall and Miller are sending representatives from their offices to a public meeting arranged by Hoerner.

At the meeting, legislation that would insure payment for grain delivered to elevators will be discussed.

Also at the meeting, a representative from the Michigan Department of Agriculture will present an update on the status of the Westmac case.

The meeting will be held at the Eagle Township Hall in the village of Eagle on March 12 at 8 p.m.

Farm workers

Marilyn Loudenslager

An equitable wage and benefit plan for farm employees will help attract good workers and keep them.

"The time spent without an employee, management time taken to look for new help, and the cost of training someone new combine to decrease productivity and profitability," says Allen Shapley, Michigan State University Extension labor management specialist. "Providing an enticing wage and benefit package will help retain good employees and maintain productivity."

A fair, competitive salary is a good start if you want to draw good help. Find out what other area farmers pay their workers and then offer an equal or slightly higher salary, Shapley suggests.

He recommends the employer and employee then get together and write a brief job and benefits agreement. This agreement should not be intended as a binding legal contract but as a way of avoiding any misunderstanding about job expectations. The agreement should include wages, hours, vacation days and holidays, sick days, and any other benefits such as health insurance. It is also very important to include a stated date for reviewing the agreement to discuss how well it is working.

The most common complaint among farm employees is lack of free time, Shapley says. Workers can't be available 24 hours per day, so regular time off should be written in the agreement. For example, the document can state that the employee has off from noon Saturday and all of Sunday, and employers need to adhere to those hours. This alone will smooth out many potential conflicts, he says.

Legally, an employer is required to pay a worker's compensation and half of his/her social security insurance, Shapley says. Larger growers also need to pay into the unemployment compensation fund. Non-required fringe benefits may include free housing, health insurance or a pension plan. Shapley says it is important to keep in mind what a worker would consider valuable in terms of additional benefits. These provisions depend on the worker's age and his/her perceived need for the specified benefit. For example, a young worker may not see a pension plan as a valuable benefit, he explains.

Farm unions now a reality in Michigan

Farmworker unions are now a reality in Michigan agriculture and farm employers must be prepared to address the issue, according to Michigan Farm Bureau farm labor specialist Ron Gaskill.

Gaskill said that several Vlasic pickle and Campbell's Soup growers have signed labor contracts with the Farm Labor Organizing Committee, known as FLOC.

"FLOC has made it very clear that it now will advance its worker organization efforts to other pickle processors and growers in Michigan and Ohio," Gaskill said. "While the ramifications of the labor agreements will not be fully known for some time, it is readily apparent that farm employers must be prepared to address the unionization issue, possibly in the very near future."

Shapley is offering a two-day workshop on labor management that will cover incentives, communication skills, microcomputer payrolls, and a variety of other topics. The workshop will be March 12-13 at the Kellogg Biological Station. For more information, call Allen Shapley at 517-353-4380.

G-T-E announces service expansions

Faster processing of calls with less noise and greater reliability is in the works for many more telephone users in central Michigan as the result of a $28.8 million service improvement and expansion program planned for 1986 by General Telephone of Michigan.
Many customers will have the opportunity this year to select a telephone company which will provide their long distance calling. However, conversion dates for communities in the Lansing area are still one year away.
Equal Access is a new service which will allow customers to choose a long distance company to handle calls to points outside the LATA, from where calls are placed, says Bill Buschle, division manager for GTE.
"Today, customers who make 'one-plus' direct-dialed calls are automatically connected to either GTE or AT&T," says Buschle.
For Grand Ledge and Wacousta, Equal Access conversion is scheduled for December 1987. The new service in St. Johns is slated to begin a few months earlier, March 1987, while access in the Dewitt-Bath area will not be implemented until 1989.
Equal Access also means customers can use other long distance companies by dialing a five-digit access code, followed by the area code and phone number.

Funeral services were held at Carter Funeral Home in Elsie on Feb. 27 with the Rev. Arthur Turner officiating. Interment was made at Riverside Cemetery. Arrangements were made by Carter Funeral Home. The family suggests memorials be made to the Heart Fund.

Brent W. Oberdank

VFW moto is 'Honor the dead by helping the living'

By Bill Coelius
Contributing Writer

Way back in 1899 two separate groups of Spanish-American War veterans who had just returned from Cuba and the Philippines organized to do something about a deplorable situation. It seems these young fighting men had returned victorious against foreign enemies, but apparently nobody cared. They pledged themselves to help one another, to work together for the benefit of the country and for the men who fought to preserve it. These two groups merged in 1913 to become the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW).

The organization is a national, non-partisan, non-sectarian group of veterans who have seen foreign service in times of war or emergency. Men and women of the VFW are from all walks of life, the well-known and famous, and your next door neighbor.

There are almost 10,000 VFW posts in the country as well as 7,000 local units of the ladies auxiliaries, whose primary concern is the welfare of the veteran and his family. Their pride and joy is the VFW National Home near Eaton Rapids which represents a new concept of child care, a refuge for children whose fathers were totally disabled or died. This greatest of all child welfare programs is truly a living monument to the men and women of the VFW. There are 31 residences, each sponsored by individual states. In each lives a complete family of youngsters headed by a house-mother. The basic purpose is to give each child a healthy family environment to serve as a springboard toward a useful adulthood.

Once a year each post sells Buddy Poppies made by disabled vets. Poppies symbolize the very life-blood of the organization and embody the motto: "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living."

During the past year your St. Johns VFW Post 4113 has furnished American flags to various schools, donated to such causes as the Sheriff's Drug Abuse Program, Big Brothers/Sisters, Caring and Sharing, Boy Scouts, Cancer Funds, etc., as well as several local hardship cases, and contributing over 1,000 hours assisting in the support of local charity drives.

Post 4113 is also proud of its program of furnishing hospital equipment to those in need. We have 17 electric and hospital equipment beds, 24 various types canes, 35 collapsible walkers, 60 various styles of wheelchairs and approximately 25 other pieces of equipment having a value (including storage facility) of nearly $18,000. This equipment is not restricted to use by veterans only but is loaned to anyone in need in Clinton County. For additional information call 224-4072.

Meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month, 7 p.m. at the VFW Hall on US-27 just north of town. Post Commander Arlo Devereaux invites the veterans who have not as yet joined to do so and share in the same sense of pride and accomplishment as the men of Post 4113. For information on becoming a member, call Roger Dershem, 224-4072.

Z.C.B.J. lodge reports its last membership meeting

By Joanne Fornusek
Contributing writer

The February meeting of Z.C.B.J. Lodge 225 was called to order by Vice President Marcella Doubrava. Pres. Ladiski was in Cedar Rapids for a Board of Directors meeting.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Thank you notes were read from Anna Sabatovich and Bill Goldman for the cards they had received. A letter from the Health Dept. stated that their policy requires two inspections of the hall per year. A letter was also received from the township supervisor requesting information on all the Lodge's property subject to taxes.

Sister Bradley announced that 15 members are eligible to receive their 50 year pins in 1986. Plans were finalized for the Jaternice Dance scheduled for April 26. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the Frank Hornak Band will begin playing at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $16 per couple and must be purchased in advance. Call 862-5282 for further information and reservations.

Tom Bradley gave a report on the visit from the Health Inspector and why we need a food establishment license. He also proposed a resolution that this license would only be used to cover Lodge sponsored activities. The Building Committee had called the Inspector to the hall because they are planning to remodel the kitchen and wanted to know what the requirements of the Health Dept. were.

Sister Shawn Wassa turned in $80 from jewelry sales. Members voted to give the building committee authority to purchase and install insulation in the hall.

Members were given details of Owosso Lodge's Jaternice Dance planned for Feb. 22.

District meeting will be held in Bannister on March 2. Meeting will begin at 10:30. Potluck dinner will be at noon.

Congratulations and best wishes to Rudy and Marcella Doubrava who are celebrating their 40th anniversary this month.
