Judgeship next?

Cropsey says he's leaving Senate

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Sen. Alan Cropsey (R-30th Dist.) said Monday he will not seek another term in the Michigan Senate and endorsed Rep. Fredrick Dillingham as his replacement.

Cropsey is considering running for a Court of Appeals judgeship but has made no definite plans, said Cropsey spokesman Jim Crawford.

"If there were not a highly qualified conservative to run for the 30th district seat, I would have serious misgivings on relinquishing the office," Cropsey said. "Fortunately that is not the case. Rep. Fred Dillingham has been a strong voice in the House of Representatives and will make an excellent state senator."

Dillingham represents Livingston County in the Michigan House of Representatives. The 30th Senate District includes Livingston, Shiawassee and Clinton counties.

Cropsey said his decision not to run was prompted by a desire "to grow...and go to other areas of service."

"I've been very lucky to see a number of my goals become reality," Cropsey said of his legislative career. "Throughout my eight years in the legislature I've worked to make our state fiscally responsible and to lighten the load of the average taxpayer. As chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, I've been able to put a new emphasis on law and order in Michigan. I'm especially proud of my efforts to mandate tougher sentences for habitual criminals and to enact a dramatic anti-pornography law."

Meanwhile, a committee formed in Howell last week announced it will try to recruit Pat McAvoy, who ran against Cropsey in 1982, to run for the senate seat.

"Ms. McAvoy ran a credible race against Sen. Alan Cropsey in 1982 and this committee plans to encourage her to run again," said a spokesman for the group.

Central School group holds public meeting

The citizens' committee studying the future of Central School in St. Johns will hold a public hearing on March 25 at 7 p.m. in the Rodney B. Wilson Auditorium.

"The committee invites anyone who would like to share their ideas relative to the committee's responsibilities to come at this time to do so," the committee announced in a press release.

The Citizens Committee on School Organization (CCSO) has been charged with the task of recommending a course of action for the district to take regarding Central School. A state fire inspector said last month he will not approve the school for student occupancy after the end of the current school year.

The CCSO has established the following meeting schedule:

MARCH 25 — 7 p.m. Rodney B. Wilson Auditorium. Public hearing.

MARCH 26 — 7 p.m. Central School.

APRIL 8, 22, 29 and MAY 13 — 7 p.m. St. Johns High School Library.

MAY 19 — 8 p.m. Rodney B. Wilson Library. Presentation of recommendations to the Board of Education.

The CCSO also said it will set aside a brief period for public comment at the beginning of each meeting.

Fourth grade to stay for remainder of year

Parents of fourth grade students housed on the third floor of Central School voted last week to keep their children at the school for the remainder of the school year.

They voted 19 to 5 against moving their children to Perrin-Palmer for the remainder of the year.

The decision reverses a vote last month in which the fourth grade parents opted to move the class out of Central School. The second vote was taken after one parent told the Board of Education she did not believe enough parents had participated in the first vote and another parent said she had changed her mind about wanting to move her fourth grader out of the school.

The most recent vote means all Central School students will remain at the school for the rest of the year. Parents of other students housed on the third floor of the building voted last month to keep their children at the school.

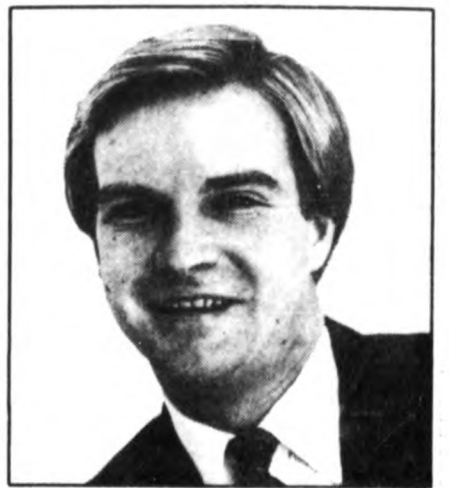

Schuette announces re-election attempt

Citing a record of service to Mid-Michigan agriculture and support of deficit-reduction legislation, Republican Bill Schuette formally announced last week that he will be a candidate for re-election in 1986 for his 10th District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"I delivered on my 1984 campaign promise to get back Mid-Michigan's seat on the Agriculture Committee," Schuette said in remarks prepared for delivery at a series of news conferences throughout the district. "As long as I am in Congress, I will never give up my seat on that Committee," he pledged.

Schuette said that during the current term, Congress has made "giant strides" and is "now on a track that will lead to a balanced budget by 1991."

Recall group to meet Saturday

The Concerned Taxpayers of St. Johns will hold a public meeting this Saturday at the UAW hall in St. Johns, said James Sjoberg, a spokesman for the group.

He said recall leaders will present an update on the group's efforts to recall the St. Johns Board of Education.

Sjoberg also said the meeting might be used to announce candidacies for school board seats in the event the group succeeds in recalling present members of the board.

"Hopefully, they'll be several people who will come forward to throw their hat into the ring for any empty seats," he said.

The Positive People for St. Johns Schools met last night (March 17), after press time for this newspaper.

Anti-porn rally held in St. Johns

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Pornography is only a small part of a societal trend toward a cheapening of human life, said the featured speaker of an anti-pornography rally Sunday in St. Johns.

"The problem is really not sex and violence on television," said Donald E. Wildmon, the founder and executive director of the National Federation for Decency. "The problem is really not pornography. The problem really isn't abortion or any of the other things. The problem is that we're in the middle of a great spiritual war in our society to determine the very foundation of our society."

About 100 people attended the rally, held in the St. Johns High School Auditorium. Besides Wildmon, other speakers at the rally were Dan Bowditch, pastor of the First Church of God in St. Johns and Dar VanderArk, publisher of an anti-pornography newsletter in Grand Rapids.

"There's something wrong in our society but it goes beyond dirty words and dirty pictures," Wildmon said. "There's a whole philosophy that's seemingly taking over our society. It's a narcissistic philosophy. Do your own thing philosophy. Do what I want to do — 'me generation' it's been called."

Wildmon listed a number of examples of what he said is a trend toward a cheapening of human life, including examples ranging from petty vandalism to abortion statistics to cases of kidnapping, child prostitution, rape and murder.

BUT HE SAID pornography is definitely a problem worth fighting. "When we were coming over, Dan (Bowditch) was telling me about something that happened up in this area...a man involved in abusing a child or some children — when they got to his home they found stacks of pornography. You'll always find it. You'll always find it."

"In Milwaukee, a 31 year old father was charged with assaulting his 11 year old daughter...went to his home they found several pornographic video tapes — same kind as they rent down at the local video tape place — and hundreds of porno magazines and books."

Wildmon exhorted the audience to ask retailers to remove pornography from their store shelves.

"If Christians just cared enough to say 'Would you please remove that? I don't think you really approve of what that is and what it's doing.' And you know in many cases they just say 'Well you know, I didn't really want to sell it.'"

"WHAT CAN WE do? You get in-involved. You get organized. One of the things you really need to do is get in with a local organization. They have a local chapter of the NFD here."

"Picketing is the last resort. The first thing is to approach them. Write a letter. Make a phone call. Write the legislature...make a commitment of money."

"If the Christian community fails to rise to this challenge within the next three or four years in a dramatic way, we're going to lose the Christian view of man as the foundation of our society for the whole of Western civilization...If we shift the foundation of our society...to that of the secular and humanist perspective, a child being born today who wants to practice his Christian faith when he's an adult will be physically persecuted."

EARLIER IN THE program Dar VanderArk criticized state Rep. Perry Bullard for what he said was Bullard's refusal to support laws against "dial-a-porn."

"We've got three of them that have passed the Senate in the last few weeks," he said. "Now they are in the House Judiciary Committee. We have the chairman of that committee...Perry Bullard, from Ann Arbor, who refuses to have anything to do with an obscenity law...."

"His representative, his aide, just last week gave the young lady who's been working on this so hard a very tough time. He said she was simply a moral entrepreneur, that in no way do the people of the state of Michigan want to spend good tax dollars on something as trivial as dial-a-porn."

"In talking to the representative from Perry Bullard's office last week — talking about it she said, 'I felt like I was sitting across the table from the devil himself.' That's what it is. That's what it is."

Dan Bowditch said the Clinton County Chapter of the National Federation for Decency will this Saturday picket local video stores that rent sexually explicit video tapes. Picketers will gather at 11:30 a.m. at the county courthouse, he said.

Issues can be lost in heat of public debate

To the Editor:

It is amazing how relatively clear and simple issues can, in the disorganized heat of public debate, become diffuse, fuzzy and...lost. With some luck, perhaps, we can rediscover the real issues in the month remaining before the special recall election April 22 that will decide the fate of members of the St. Johns Board of Education.

An effort will be made to do that — define the issues — in a special information meeting this Saturday, March 22, at 3 p.m. in the UAW Local 925 Hall on Walker Street. The meeting is being organized by the Concerned Taxpayers of St. Johns, who have led the recall drive. I am one of the organizers of that group. From the beginning, it all seemed very clear to me. The School Board said that unless taxes were raised, school busing and certain extracurricular activities would be terminated. To show us ignorant slob what that would feel like, the board discontinued busing, on a week's notice, to give us a month's taste in advance of the millage vote.

I WAS VERY concerned about that decision and tried to talk the board out of it. I felt it would lead to the wrong result.

I happen to agree that the people of this school district do not pay enough taxes to support our schools to the level other communities do. But this method, this "blackmail," would not, in my view, get the millage passed. Nobody likes to be threatened and treated like a jerk; I believed the citizens would vote the millage down to show the board who ultimately controlled spending.

I had no interest in a dispute of that nature. I live 12 miles from St. Johns; I have three young sons in two schools in two locations; my parents did not raise me to become a taxi driver; my wife and I have better things to do than figure out on a daily basis how the children will get to school. Moreover I stood to see the value of my property destroyed.

My participation in the Concerned Taxpayers group was my way of finding a way out. With the promise of a recall, I felt the millage might pass. I find it most irritating that so many think our group was against the millage. Without our group, the millage would have failed, I believe.

RECALLS should not be undertaken lightly. But we think that the decision on busing represents a fundamental policy change by the board, a divergent direction, that is not compatible with the facts of this district. If the school board is willing to consider deconsolidation of this district, if it is willing to divert itself of territory it does not wish to serve, that is a matter it has not yet brought up. The Board has not addressed the question of how one runs a 220 square mile district without buses.

The key element we all must understand is that the St. Johns School District is not the same as the St. Johns community. That is a hard, but true, fact. The fact that the school administration, and the high school and middle school, are in the city of St. Johns, is really of no import.

These schools belong to the district, not the city, and this issue is not a Chamber of Commerce issue or a question of who shops where or a matter of who is positive or negative or loyal in the community. One member of the school board has suggested I am somehow disloyal because I do not look to St. Johns as the center of my sphere of activity. Why should I? I live closer to Lansing than to St. Johns, and there are people in our district still further out of St. Johns than I am. I passed petitions door to door in Watertown Township, and virtually no one said no to signing. There, the issue is well understood.

I cannot stress enough how central the busing issue is. It is vital to the unity of the district. That is where the school board is at fault.

Letters

Out our way, the individual board members are not viewed as evil. They are good people who have somehow lost their vision. We have theories about why. We think the head administrator, Earl Gabriel, is too narrow in his focus to run a rural district as large as ours (he is the ultimate urban man) and, at the same time, he is too strong for our board to keep under rein.

The people urging recall are not negative. They are not destructive. Quite the opposite. They are seeking to unite a geographical area that has no natural unity except for the school system.

It should come as no surprise to anyone that the school bus — the one instrument that spans this geography — should be the focal point, the symbol, in this dispute. It is about the only glue that makes this district one.

Utilities already pay

To the Editor:

Mr. Peterson's surprise and concern in his Feb. 25 letter regarding the taxation of "utility and telephone poles" points out that many of us are unaware of current tax processes. The proposed legislation noted, HB4820, does not create taxation of personal property for utilities but, rather, alters existing tax law for specific treatment within the Single Business Tax Act.

Investor-owned utilities are assessed real and personal property tax for poles, wires, pipe, generating plants, offices, etc. In fact, Consumers Power Company paid approximately $107 million throughout the lower peninsula for 1985 real and personal property tax.

In Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties, a total of $4,290,000 was paid in 1985. The three largest payments were made to the City of Lansing ($958,000), Meridian Township ($448,220) and Delhi Township ($215,110).

Mr. Peterson questioned the propriety of this type of taxation. That question is beyond my level of knowledge for analysis. However, this type of tax does return directly to the schools, cities, townships and others served by Consumers Power Company and its customers.

Many of us pay taxes and accept responsibility assigned by our system of government. We at Consumers Power Company have recently delivered checks for property tax billings. This and other forms of taxation are paid by us as a business and as employees residing throughout Michigan.

"It's in the Bag"
by Bob Beck

If you're of Dutch or German descent, you probably eat sauerkraut every New Year's Day. But just in case you're not, I'd like to tell you about it. You see, there is an old Dutch belief that in order to insure a prosperous and successful year, you must eat sauerkraut on New Year's Day. And thus sauerkraut is just as traditional on New Year's tables in areas populated by Dutch and Germans as turkey is on our Thanksgiving tables. However, contrary to popular belief, the Germans didn't invent sauerkraut. The Chinese did, and they did it by accident. Centuries ago, the workers who built the Great Wall of China lived all summer on rice and cabbage. And as winter approached, they added rice wine to the cabbage to help preserve it. Well, the wine soured the cabbage and gave it a delicious new flavor... and sauerkraut was born! Today sauerkraut is still made from cabbage which has been salted and pressed into barrels until it has slightly fermented. And, of course, sauerkraut juice is canned and served widely as an appetizer. Just in case you think there's anything "foreign" about sauerkraut, I'll have you know that the American Legion, no less, sponsors an annual Sauerkraut Festival in Forreton, Illinois. Tons of cabbage are cooked in huge vats and stirred with pitchforks. And the event is so popular that some thirty thousand tourists come from all over the country to this tiny town 130 miles from Chicago, to share in the fun... and the sauerkraut. So, a salute to sauerkraut, with its German name, its Chinese ancestry, and its American Legion backing. Enjoy some soon. And get it at Beck's where value prices were not invented by accident!

Who is working for better school district?

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to the article written about the group that has formed to support the school board. They call themselves Positive People for St. Johns Schools Committee. If this group is really working for better schools and education, I will do anything I can to help them. But, I have a few concerns.

Why should they request the members of the board to remain silent and not make any public statements? They will do the talking for them. Are they saying that the board is unable to speak for themselves or are they saying that the decisions made by the board were wrong? If this group is for better education and supports the board, why haven't they been attending the board meetings? They allude to the Concerned Taxpayers group as being a negative group because of their recall efforts, yet C.T. cared enough about our schools and our children's education to get involved before, not after, the fact.

The Concerned Taxpayers have always been open and honest about why they are trying to recall the board. They are not trying to separate the community. Just the opposite. They are trying to bring the community together by getting a board who will listen to them instead of a few administrators.

The Concerned Taxpayers have never asked any individual or group of individuals for support only to ask them to "stay in the background" while at the same time welcoming their "political contributions." The Concerned Taxpayers have had several public meetings, and will have more, which have been and always will be open to everyone. The Positive (?) group invites only people who support the board and oppose the recall. Are they afraid of opposing views? The Positive group wants people to believe they did something positive by suggesting the board not pursue complaints filed with the state, when C.T.C. has already been cleared of all charges. Where were they when the board as being negative?

As a member of Concerned Taxpayers of St. Johns, I believe we are as positive about our school system as anyone. Let us not forget what happened that started this recall effort — the disregard for the safety of our children by discontinuing busing, just to get a millage passed. Also, the threat of canceling all sports and co-curricular activities. The board was not honest with us then, and I believe they are still not being honest with us today.

On April 22 I will exercise my rights. My hope is that all registered voters will do the same. If we do, we will be on our way to a better school district.

'A prayer from the heart, inspired...'

To the Editor:

Enclosed is a prayer from my heart, inspired by the Holy Spirit within me. Please print this. Thank you.

Dear Lord Jesus, Savior of the world, King of the universe, dear, loving Friend,

Please inspire us to be a loving, caring people, for others, help us to forgive each other, to be willing to be indwelt by your Holy Spirit.

Father, your children of Africa are crying out for help, they need food, clothes, warm, tender care. As one, I cannot do it alone, but together we can help these suffering human beings. Inspire us as a people O Lord to help them, and each other, please.

You love us so very much, your Holy Bible tells us many times.

Thanks to workers at Riley School fest

To the Editor:

The annual school carnival at Riley Elementary raised a record amount of dollars that the Parent-Teacher Club can use to enhance the quality of education for the students there. And a lot of people need to be thanked for that.

At its last meeting, the Riley PTC voted a big "thank you" to the 100 plus volunteers who worked on games, in the kitchen, and in the planning, set up, tear down and clean up.

And, of course, the parents who brought their children, bought the tickets and otherwise were separated from their money — for a good cause — should be thanked as well.

Mary Lehnert
Secretary, Riley PTC

Sometimes because we can't see your actual presence, we are tempted to doubt you do exist. We know in our hearts that you do exist, deep within we know you're a real person. Help us truly come to know you as our friend, and helper.

Please help our unbelief O Lord! Help us Lord, to pray, to talk with you, to trust in you to continually be working things out for our good. At the time we may not understand, but your Word says you are working for our good. You do care, help us to believe!

Please help our husbands to really try harder to be more kind, polite, tender and caring for their wives and families. Please help the wives to respect, honor, and be gentle to their husbands and families.

Please help the teenagers and the children to know they are loved, they are people, humans who need to learn to care for others too. Help them be willing to help out in their families, and with friends, and the needy in their community and world.

I pray in Jesus name, amen. Thank you Lord.

Spring fever

Dawn Harris

Sometimes it seems we just get over the winter doldrums only to find ourselves hit with a hard case of spring fever.

Victims of spring fever — which is closely related to cabin fever — want more than anything to be outdoors. Not only do we feel that the walls are closing in, but we also begin to feel restless and edgy. We don't want to be at work, school or home. We're sick of our winter clothes. Coats and boots are getting heavier and bulkier every day. We want to walk outdoors wearing light clothing. Is there a cure?

The only real cure for spring fever is spring itself. But there are some steps we can take to relieve the symptoms.

• Gather together all your seed catalogs and seriously plan your flower and vegetable garden. Place the seed order.

• Give in to the temptation to buy a bunch of daisies or daffodils. Or force some bulbs to flower indoors.

• Get your spring clothes out and figure out what you'll need. You may want to buy one of the items now.

• Get out in the yard and examine both the house and yard for signs of winter damage and plan the repairs you will have to make.

• Children get spring fever, too. On a mild day, dress them up in boots and raingear and let them play in the mud and romp in the yard.

• Sprout seeds in the home for planting later. Or let the children grow "garbage" or "grocery" gardens.

Students learn to say no to pressure, then pass that knowledge to others

By DAWN HARRIS
Extension Home Economist

How can young teens stand up for their rights and still be accepted by the crowd? Six teenagers from Clinton and Gratiot counties have the answer to that question.

Sandy Thelen, Sherri Nichols, and Troy Warner of St. Johns, Julie Barnes of Ithaca, and Burke Mays and Ron Fuller of Bath recently completed a training course to teach a program called "How to Say No" designed to help teens make their own decisions in pressure situations.

The first half of the "How to Say No" program explores the various ways young adolescents are pressured into participating in sexual involvement. In the second half of the program, teens learn the skills needed to be assertive once the pressure is on. The underlying message of this program is that it is the person's absolute right to say no to pressure, no matter what they are told by their peers or the mass media.

Although the program focuses on teaching young teens how to say no to sexual involvement, it actually does more than that. It gives the teens skills which will allow them to say no to any pressure, including pressure to drink, smoke, cheat, lie or take drugs.

The teens who have successfully completed the program will be grouped into teams of two to present the "How to Say No" program in Junior Highs throughout Clinton and Gratiot counties. Several communities have already scheduled the program for their schools. For further information, call the Mid-Michigan Health Department or the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Bill Richards matches talent to community need for talent

By Laurie Ross
Contributing Writer

Bill Richards is a talent matcher. In 1976 he launched an organization in St. Johns that acts as a sort of clearing house for matching community needs with those who have the talent to meet those needs.

And now, almost 10 years later, Richards is still matching talent and need for talent.

"I like to put people together and then let them see what they can do," says the energetic, silver-haired father of six. "...let them use their skills and talents instead of saying 'now your job is this and this is what you are gonna do.'"

"You find out that a lot of people can do an awful lot of things that they normally never talk about and some of them develop a lot of skills."

Richards, a former member of the St. Johns Board of Education, has lived in St. Johns for nearly 40 years. He is the founder and director of Community Resource Volunteers, 202½ N. Clinton Ave., St. Johns.

By talking with people, Richards says, he can find out what interests them and what they can do. He then finds that information in his computer. Using a computer program he developed, he tries to match people with projects.

'I like to put people together, then let them see what they can do

Bill Richards

ONE OF HIS PAST projects involved four migrant camps in the area. Richards and some hired helpers took 10 computers out to the migrant camps and taught kids how to use the computers.

Another project has involved getting area high school students to look at vocational job careers. This is done by providing a time and place for the students to talk with someone in the career they are interested in.

Richards most rewarding project, he says, has been the "Michigan Ski for Light" outing held yearly at Sleepy Hollow State Park. Being an outdoors lover himself and a downhill skier, Richards four years ago, brought together cross country skiers and blind people who wanted to ski.

"When you go to the ski meet and see blind people doing this (skiing) and say 'God, isn't this great' it is extremely rewarding," Richards says.

This project has attracted many volunteers. "We have more people coming than we have blind people to ski," Richards said. "We are assigning two (seeing) people to each blind person."

Although Richards works long hours at the Community Resource Volunteers office, he does have help. Help comes from his computer and from area kids who come to the office to answer phones, work the computer (and learn something while they're at it) and even schedule the bus program that was started through Community Resource Volunteers.

The bus program was started about a year ago with a grant from the Department of Transportation of Michigan. The grant provided funds to purchase a bus, which now serves primarily handicapped and elderly people of the St. Johns area.

Even after long days at the Community Resource Volunteers office, Richards still finds time to serve on various boards in the area.

Richards coordinated and incorporated the Senior Citizen Center in St. Johns and now is a member of its board of directors. Richards is also chairman of RAVE (Relief After Violent Encounter), a program for battered women.

In Lansing, Richards is a member of the board of Peckham Industries, a program that employs primarily the mentally handicapped.

ACCIDENT — An Onondaga woman was injured in this accident on US-27 near Mead Road last Tuesday.

Woman injured in US-27 accident

An Onondaga woman was injured in an accident on US-27 near Mead Road last Tuesday that apparently occurred as a result of an argument between her and a passenger while she was driving.

Evelyn C. Basinger, the driver, was taken by ambulance to Clinton Memorial Hospital after the car she was driving ran off the road and flipped over.

A passenger in the car, Randy Dale Griffin, of Shepherd, was not injured.

Witnesses told police the couple was traveling southbound on US-27 about 9 a.m. They appeared to be having an argument, witnesses said. The passenger, Griffin, appeared to strike the driver just before she lost control of the vehicle, the witnesses told police.

The car then ran off the road, recovered momentarily, then ran off the road a second time, rolling over and coming to rest against a tree, the witnesses said.

Would you like to increase your retirement nest egg by 50%?

Not so odd a question as it might seem. Depositing $2,000 each year in an IRA as opposed to a taxable savings vehicle could increase your retirement fund by $50,000 or more at the end of 20 years, depending on interest rates and your tax bracket. I can show you the figures...and the best plan to fund your IRA—a Jackson National Life flexible premium annuity. In addition to tax-deductible deposits and tax-deferred interest accumulation, a JNL flexible premium annuity offers you:

- High current interest (guaranteed on a calendar-year basis)
- No sales charges
- No service or administrative fees with minimum annual deposit
- Safety (Jackson National is rated "A" (Excellent) by A.M. Best, the independent insurance rating service)

Fowler plans benefit for Lyle Feldpausch family

A committee of Fowler residents has been working in preparation for a Lyle Feldpausch family benefit raffle and salad luncheon.

Lyle Feldpausch died Feb. 24.

The event will take place March 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Fowler Church Hall. Most of the food for the luncheon will be donated by area individuals. Area merchants have donated over 50 door prizes that will be given away during the luncheon. "The work and coordination to put this event together has been exhausting at times," says Ken Halfman, who with his wife Sue is heading up the committee. "But seeing the inspiration of all the people who are giving their time and support to make this a success is a constant revitalization to me."

Prices for the luncheon are $3.50 for adults; $2 for children kindergarten through eighth grade; free for children under five years. There is also a $15 family rate.

The drawing for the raffle prizes will be held after the luncheon. Raffle prizes are: first prize, a video cassette recorder; second prize, a hind quarter of beef; third prize, a front quarter of beef; fourth and fifth prize, one-half a hog.

For more information and for raffle tickets, call Bill and Kathy Feldpausch at 593-3367.

Morning Musicale reports meetings, coming events

By CAROLYN CAMPBELL
Contributing Writer

Mrs. Frederick Lewis presided at the March 6 meeting of the St. Johns Morning Musicale at the home of Julia Thornton.

Esther Jacoby reported on the Junior Festival Day at Olivet College, March 1, which is sponsored annually by the South Central District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. 20 junior piano students of Julia Thornton and Diantha Witteveen were among the 711 who participated in the piano festival earning superior and excellent ratings. Mr. and Mrs.

Richard Jacoby and Julia Thornton assisted in serving refreshments during the day to the students, parents and teachers.

The president announced April 8 is the reservation deadline for the State Convention MFMC to be held at McGuire's Motor Lodge in Cadillac on May 7, 8 and 9. Diantha Witteveen reminded members of the local clubs piano scholarship auditions to be held on April 27 at 1:30 p.m.

In keeping with the theme for the club year "A Potpourri of French Composers," Helen Lewis reported on the lives and works of George Bizet (1838-75) renowned composer of opera and Francois Couperin (1668-1773) known as "Couperin the Grand" distinguished French organist, harpsichordist and composer.

"Dreams" by Bizet was played as an organ selection by Julia Thornton. Two excerpts from the 13th Suite by Francois Couperin, "A Troubled Soul" and "Water Reeds," were played by pianist Evangeline Caudy.

The program closed with the members singing "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory of the Coming of the Lord," by Julia Ward Howe.

Blood drive planned for March 27

Residents of Clinton County can help the sick and injured throughout Western Michigan by donating blood at St. Johns Lutheran Church, 511 East Sturgis, St. Johns on March 27. Donors should be between the ages of 17 and 69. The American Red Cross Great Lakes Region, which includes Clinton County, recently raised the age limit for regular blood donors from 67 to 69. Before the new age policy, regular blood donors over the age of 67 were required to present a doctor's written permission before each donation. Now, they can donate without special permission and their eligibility is evaluated at the blood-mobile site by Red Cross nurses.

The entire donation process takes about an hour, from registration to refreshments. Donors are welcome at the drive between noon and 5:45 p.m.

For more information, call Jim or Doris O'Connor at 224-2525.

Schuette to run again for Senate

"If that happens, we will have a prime interest rate of 5 percent," Schuette predicted, citing testimony by the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

"That means jobs, affordable housing, less imports, more exports, manageable farm loans and I believe the overall economic strength to carry us into the 21st century in time of true prosperity," he said.

But he warned that Congress will have to continue to "stifle the spending urge, every time an appropriation bill — whether for domestic or military spending — comes up."

Schuette said that he was enjoying being a Congressman, and that the job was not all "big votes, tough choices and important committees." He said that "a large part of the job is helping people," and reported that his office had been able to help more than 3,000 Mid-Michigan people solve problems with government in just one year.

"The upcoming election will be a campaign of people, with the same level of drive, commitment, energy and pride that caused us to win in 1984," he stated, and predicted that it would "provide us with an even larger margin of victory for Mid-Michigan in 1986."

Democrat Don Albosta, who lost the 10th District seat in a close race in 1984, has announced he will try to regain the seat this year.

Redwing bands earn top ratings

St. Johns High School Symphonic Band received Division I ratings in all categories at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, District 5 Festival held recently.

St. Johns sent four bands to the Festival held in Owosso and Bay City and was the only school in the District to have four groups performing.

The Festival consists of concert and sight-reading sections. During the concert section, the bands perform three pieces of music for the judges who rate the selections on quality of performance. Sight-reading includes playing two selections never before seen by the band or the director.

The bands are directed by Gregg Mowen.

The Concert Band performed "March For a Festive Occasion," by Eric Osterling; "Fantasy on Sailing Songs," by Grundman; and "Novena" by Swearingen. The band received an overall concert rating of a B or Division II rating. In sightreading the band got an overall A- or Division I rating. Their final rating was a II Division.

The Freshman Cadet Band performed "Silver Sword March," by Nowak; "Belmont Overture," by Herrman; and "Westwood Portrait" by Spears. The band received one I Division and two II Division ratings for their concert performance. Their sightreading grade was Division I, which resulted in an overall II Division rating.

The Symphonic Band gave one of their most exciting performances of the year and according to Judge Edwin Nawrock, "had no real weaknesses within it, definitely one of the best bands I've heard."

The band received A's in 35 of 36 categories on its way to a straight I Division rating, putting it in an elite grouping of the most outstanding high schools in Michigan. This qualifies them for participation in the State Band Festival which will be held on April 26. They chose

"Minuteman March," by Pearson; "Psalm 46," by Zdechlik, and "Masque" by McBeth as their concert selections.

More on the HRH

In last week's column we looked at the Michigan Horseback Riding for the Handicapped program and the opportunities available to youth through that program.

This week I want to give you a little background about the Clinton County 4-H Horseback Riding for the

Parenting classes to be held in April

The Clinton County Substance Abuse Center will offer a series of classes on improving family communication and parenting skills beginning in April.

The classes are designed to enhance family growth by building skills in listening, responding, problem-solving, and decision-making.

"The theory is that if people can enhance the skills they already have, especially communication skills, then maybe their kids will talk to them when they're in trouble with things like substance abuse," says Vickie Fitzpatrick, of the substance abuse center.

The eight-week course will be offered in six different locations of Clinton County.

• DeWitt Township Hall — 4700 Brook Rd., Lansing, on Tuesdays from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning April 8.

• Fowler Most Holy Trinity Hall — Mondays, from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning April 7.

• St. Mary's School in Westphalia — Thursdays, from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning April 3.

• East Olive Elementary in St. Johns — Tuesdays, from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning April 8.

• St. Joseph School Social Hall in St. Johns — Wednesdays, from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning April 16.

• E.E. Knight Elementary School in Ovid-Elsie — Tuesdays, from 3 to 5 p.m., beginning April 29.

Rodney B. Wilson pupils to compete

Rodney B. Wilson students will compete in a Junior High/Middle School Mathematics Competition on April 12 at Lansing Community College.

Selected from Rodney B. were: Sixth Grade — Kari Scherwin, Wendy Avery, Janet Woodruff and Matt Thunell. Seventh Grade — Jennifer Petty, Terry Havens, Jeff Whitford, Jay Beebee, Shawn Rahi (alternate), and Randy Nichols (alternate). Eighth Grade — Jeff Wadell, Dan Blundy, Ian Houston, Jennifer Cornwell and Kent Bartley (alternate).

The top 25 finalists in each grade from each regional testing center will compete in the State finals on May 10 at Central Michigan University.

Handicapped Program. In 1983 Clinton County piloted an HRH program during the summer. 12 boys and girls were involved in the first classes during a two week period in June.

The pilot was very successful and people recognized the value that the program had to youth who were involved. The benefits of the program are many and not limited to horsemanship skills. HRH students learn to ride, they learn to care for a pony, develop independence, gain self-confidence, develop a sense of trust in others and have a lot of fun doing it.

To date, 77 young people have been involved in the classes which are held in the spring, summer and fall each year. 43 boys and 34 girls have been HRH students.

Volunteers play an important role in the HRH program. The volunteers, who come from all walks of life, help the riders with a variety of tasks from putting on their safety helmets to preparing to mount.

During the riding lessons, the volunteers serve as horse leaders or sidewalkers who help the riders maintain their balance in the saddle. As the rider's skills increase, they may no longer need the volunteers to assist them.

One hundred five volunteers have worked with the program in this county since it began. Most of the volunteers have been women but both men and women are needed to make the program a success.

Volunteers receive no monetary satisfaction from their involvement but there is great reward in helping a handicapped youngster succeed at something they never thought they could do.

HRH is the kind of program that needs to have the support of the entire community. Help can be provided in the form of a donation of money, or equipment, the loan of a gentle pony, serving as a sidewalker, leading a pony or assisting with transportation.

Currently an HRH Board of Directors is being established and people who might be interested in serving on this Board should contact me right away.

The next HRH session will be held on April 28 and 30 and May 2, 5, 7, and 9. If you would be interested in helping as a volunteer, donating money for equipment or just coming to learn more about the program, contact Donna Apostol 224-8010 or myself at 224-3288.

Theresa Silm is the Youth Agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

WHAT WILL RECALL MEAN TO OUR COMMUNITY?

• If the recall is successful, a new board may be appointed by Governor Blanchard -- not the community -- until another board is elected.

• The school board oversees a $9.5 million dollar budget, 380 staff members, and the future of 3,400 children. If a recall is successful, these responsibilities and current issues before the board -- including the Central School issue -- would ultimately be decided by an inexperienced board. The current board has 23 total years of experience.

• Recall, by legal definition, is, traditionally and historically, designed for removing those persons from office who have committed illegal or immoral acts -- not as a means to represent special interests or dissatisfaction with difficult decisions.

• The educational excellence of the St. Johns School system will suffer in that quality staff members and teachers will be difficult to recruit for placement in our schools.

• Local businesses and industries -- as well as our community's growth -- will be adversely affected by an unstable school system and a divided community. Many people relocating to our community cite a stable school system as a drawing card.

Creativity rules in elementary classrooms

PICTURE PERSON — Jane Noecker, a Lansing art teacher on sabbatical, works with Chad Hartsuff, of Lana Hurwitz's fourth grade class at East Olive School. Noecker is a "picture person" who visits the school once each month with a painting by a famous artist. The students discuss what strikes them the most about the paintings, then try to use that same quality in works of their own.

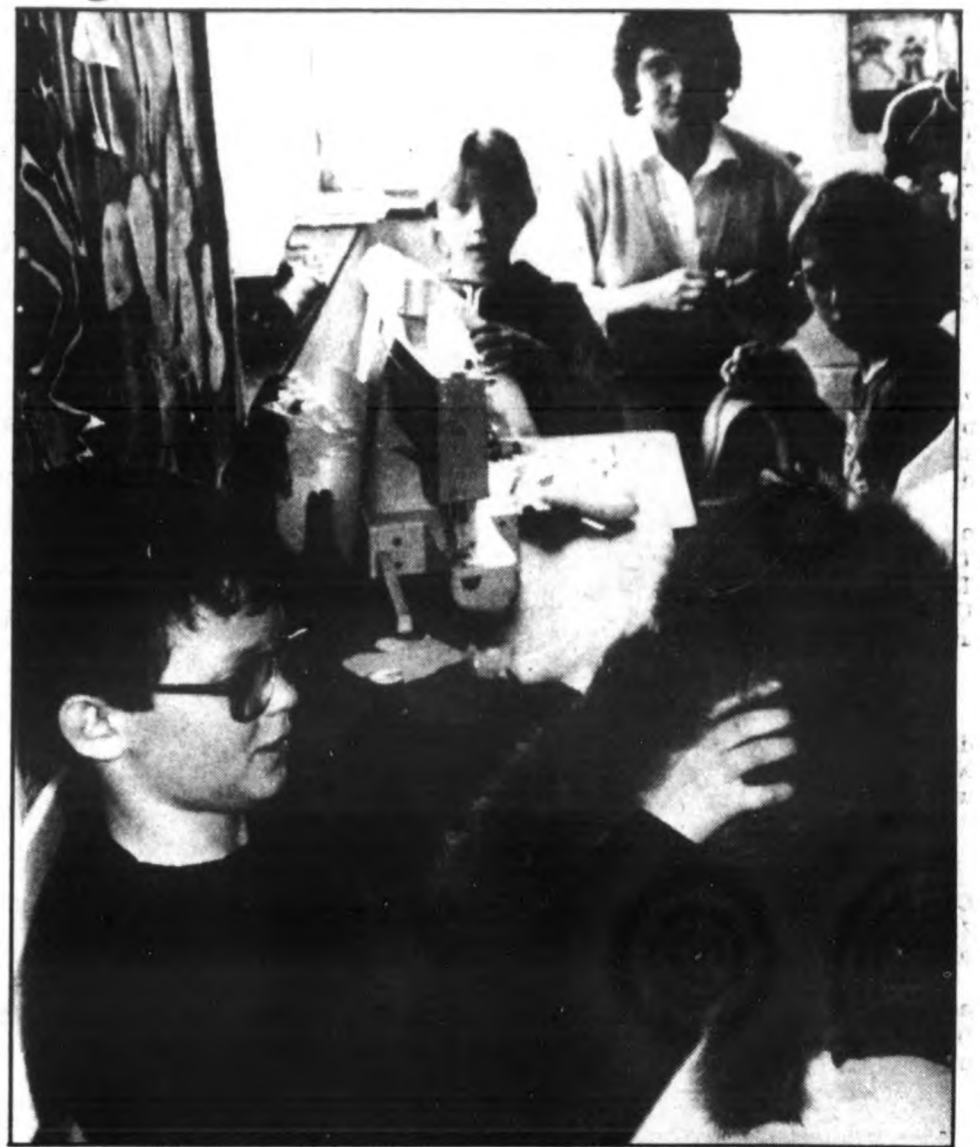

Two St. Johns teachers who were awarded minigrants from the Michigan Department of Education were putting the money to work in their classrooms last week.

Shelley Gunther and Helen O'Dell, both teachers at Central School, were the only two teachers in Clinton County to be awarded the grants.

In Gunther's class the $250 grant was used to buy a terrarium which the teacher then stocked with a turtle, a black water snake, a frog, a newt, and four chameleons.

In O'Dell's class the $410 grant went toward the purchase of a sewing machine and supplies for a puppet theatre projects — although the sewing machine can of course be used for other projects as well.

Meanwhile, other St. Johns teachers were bringing creativity into the classroom last week even without the benefit of minigrants.

MUPPET — Jeremy Baker makes a muppet named "Spike" in Joyce Caulkin's fifth grade class at Eureka School. The muppets are part of a language arts project.

HELP WANTED TEMPORARY

Manufacturing firm in St. Johns has a temporary position in its Production Control department. The qualified candidate will be a high school graduate with good record keeping skills. You must be available to work any shift and work overtime as required. Prior shop floor/labor reporting experience desirable. Send resume to:
P.O. Box 70, St. Johns, MI 48879

PUPPETS — Mary Boyle and her son John, a student in Helen O'Dell's classroom at Central School, work together on a puppet project. The project, funded by a $410 minigrant from the state, involves both parents and students and is aimed at teaching language arts, improving memory, and developing a feeling of self worth in the students.

kindergarteners a chameleon from her terrarium, funded by a $250 minigrant. All of the classrooms at Central School, not just her own, have access to the terrarium. "It's amazing...they'll sit and watch for half an hour when they could be outside," she says.

Fulton Athletic Boosters plan carnival for March 21

This year's Fulton Athletic Booster Carnival on March 21 from 5 to 9 p.m. in the Fulton High School gym is being operated under a new format with Great Lakes Novelty Inc.

The company is bringing in new games, helping set them up and run them. Along with 14 games, there will be a Moonwalk, drawing for door prizes every half hour, a concession stand with sandwiches and pie, spaghetti dinner with garlic bread and salad, hot dogs, nachos, chips, beverages, a fortune teller, balloons and much more. Prizes for winning one of the games will be distributed from a centrally located redemption center. Tickets will be given for winning a game. The winner then has the option of redeeming his ticket or saving up for a larger prize.

The boosters are also selling raffle tickets with the drawing to be held at the Carnival. First prize is a whole hog, second prize is a Walkman cassette player, and third prize are 26 drawings in the Michigan Lotto.

The money the boosters raise throughout the year is used for such projects as resurfacing of the track and buying athletic uniforms.

Pirates fall to big, quick Nouvel team in regional

By RHONDA GAFFNEY
Sports Editor

Pewamo-Westphalia fans can be proud of the way in which the Pirates basketball team ended their season. They may have lost in their bid for a Regional win last week with Nouvel Catholic Central High School from Saginaw — but they certainly gave the much bigger and quicker Panther team all they could handle and more.

The final score of the Regional confrontation between the two teams was 71-49 in favor of Saginaw in a game played before a full house at Ithaca High School last Thursday.

"I was really proud of our kids," said Pirate Coach Ron Kramer. "They all had good attitudes and have matured a lot during the course of the season. I thought it was a fine finish for us."

FROM THE OPENING TIP, it looked as if the quick Nouvel team was going to make mincemeat of P-W. They jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the first three minutes of play with scores coming off steals from their full-court press.

"Their press bothered us, there's no doubt about that," Kramer said. "If we had been able to handle it consistently throughout the game we might have made a run on them."

Although it seemed like more, the Pirates had only 11 turnovers on the night. However, seven of those were converted into baskets made by Nouvel off from steals.

The Pirates fought back in the opening quarter and got in the scoring column with fine outside shooting by Bruce Klein and Mike Hengesbach. The duo and Jeff Smith tallied all of the Pirates 10 points in the first period, making 4 of 6 shots from the field and closing the scoring gap to 16-10 to end the quarter.

The second period saw the Pirates come on strong, outrebounding the bigger Saginaw team and making some fine scoring drives.

"Our rebounding has been a strong point for us from the Fowler game on," the coach said. "We held their big men (Karp, 6'6" and Haley, 6'5") down in the second quarter. It was definitely a very rough and physical game under the boards."

FREE THROW SHOOTING was a problem for P-W through much of the game, but especially so in the second period. They made good on just 2 of 8 from the charity stripe in that stanza. For the night, the Pirates were good on 19 of 34 from the line — well below their season average.

The Pirates' defense held Nouvel scoreless for 3½ minutes in the second period and had cut the lead down to 18-16 with just over three minutes to play in the half. A flurry of baskets in the closing minute saw the score stand at 25-20 in favor of the Panthers to end the half.

Saginaw came out shooting in the third quarter and opened up a big 44-28 lead by the end of the period.

"We tried pressing and doing some things we don't normally do," Kramer said, "hoping to take them out of their game. We played some zone on them, but we're just not physical enough to play that for a whole game."

The Pirates were never able to get close to the Panthers following the third quarter scoring spurt. They never gave up though, and continued to play hard to the end.

"Doug Myers (who played for much of the second half) did a nice job for us," the coach said. "I felt he finished the season out strong. Klein played hard also — he doesn't like taking second behind anyone."

KLEIN LED THE PIRATES in scoring with 15 points and had 8 rebounds. Doug Schmitt, voted by the team as the Most Valuable Player for the year, had 10 points, 8 rebounds and 2 steals. Tom Belen added 7 points and had 4 assists, Hengesbach had 6 points and 6 rebounds, and Pat Stump had 4 points and 2 assists.

"I felt it was a good end to the season," Kramer said. "We had a lull in the middle part of the year. Some of the kids were really feeling the pressure prior to the first Fowler game, but they were able to play out of it. I'm just really proud of all of them."

KLEIN ON LINE — Bruce Klein was instrumental in the Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates success this year, leading them in scoring in a number of contests during the year including their Regional game with Nouvel Catholic Central High School last week. Although the Pirates lost 71-49 in that game, they played hard to the end showing determination and intensity in true "Champion" style

Fowler's championship season comes to end

By RHONDA GAFFNEY
Sports Editor

Disappointed? Yes. Defeated? Never!

The Fowler Eagles may have come up short in their attempt to win another Regional title, losing 91-80 to Flint Holy Rosary last Tuesday, but they will surely be back again next year.

"It would have been nice to win," said die-hard Eagle fan Rose Armbrustmacher, "but we don't dwell on losing around Fowler — we've got track and baseball to look forward to."

When you win with the consistency that Fowler does in every sport it participates in, it's easy to have that kind of an outlook. Looking toward tomorrow didn't make the losing any easier for Fowler's basketball players in their Millington High School lockerroom after the buzzer sounded to end the game.

"The sadness was incredible," said Coach Dennis Smith of his teams' feelings. "They were all very down. Especially after getting to the quarterfinals last year — anything less than that is just not enough."

Fowler played with all the intensity and desire that has characterized their team play for the entire 21-2 season. They were within five points of tying the score with just 32 seconds left in the game, with play throughout the game much closer than the final score seems to indicate.

"In that last minute, I still felt we could win," Smith said.

THE FAST-PACED GAME opened with Rosary taking the first two points which was followed by a quick two for Fowler from Bruce Schmitt. The Eagles never saw the lead in the first quarter, but kept the game close, ending the stanza two points down to Rosary 20-22. Schmitt and Dean Koenigsnecht paced Fowler's scoring with K-13 making good on 5 of 7 shots from the field. As a team, the Eagles were good for 10 of 15 in the first quarter.

Fowler picked up the pace even more in the second quarter and took an early 26-24 lead. Koenigsnecht and Schmitt again accounted for most of the Eagles scoring in the quarter, giving Fowler a 37-36 lead to end the half. Fowler shot a blistering 61 percent from the field.

"We were playing the way we wanted to when we had the lead in the second quarter," Smith said. "We were getting out of the shoot, getting more outlet passes, and running the ball. It was a fast pace — but it would have helped us if it had been even faster. Rosary was tired at the end of the half."

THE EAGLES MADE the first two points of the second half on a basket by Matt Hufnagle over Rosary's "giant", 6'10" Tom Dennis. Watching him on the floor was worth the price of admission in itself.

"We felt we were prepared to stop the big guy," Smith said, "but their balance killed us."

The fact that Rosary shot a whopping 64 percent from the field for the night didn't hurt either.

Fowler lost the lead early in the third period on a pair of one-and-ones made by Holy Rosary. Hot free throw shooting coupled with Rosary's strong defense, and not-so-hot shooting from the line by the Eagles made the score at the end of the quarter 55-58 in Holy Rosary's favor.

The Eagles were good on 14 of 24 attempts from the charity stripe on the night which was "not disgraceful" according to Coach Smith — but not exactly on par with what they usually shoot either.

THE FINAL PERIOD of play saw Rosary shoot a devastating 12 of 13 from the field, a pace which was hard for the Eagles to keep up with. The margin of difference for much of last quarter was in the five point range with Koenigsnecht leading his team in scoring.

DAVID AND GOLIATH — The Fowler Eagles came close to being Giant-killers in their opening Regional game last week with Flint Holy Rosary, but ended up losing 91-80 in the fast-paced contest. Bruce Schmitt, shown with one of Rosary's big men Tom Dennis, turned in an exceptional performance as did senior Dean Koenigsnecht. The Eagles finished the season with a 21-2 record.

"Dean was tired early in the fourth quarter," Smith said. "He got his second wind and came back. The team looks to him especially in a situation like we had in the final minutes — he's a money player."

With the score standing at 74-81 at the 1:37 mark, Fowler was forced to begin fouling. Missed free throws by Holy Rosary and a basket by Koenigsnecht cut Rosary's lead to five, 76-81, with exactly one minute left to play.

Kevin Schmitt committed a foul and Rosary made both ends of their one-and-one. That was followed by another two points from K-13, another foul and good one-and-one by Rosary, and two more points from Koenigsnecht. The score was 80-85 with 32 seconds left on the clock.

CMAC All-Conf B-ball selected

Basketball players from Pewamo-Westphalia and Fowler walked away with honors in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference balloting, placing four members on the All-Conference Team.

Dean Koenigsnecht and Tony Hamilton from Fowler, and Tom Belen and Bruce Klein from P-W were voted to the All-Conference team along with Mike Lehman and Dan Sonday from Portland St. Pats and Greg Hutchings from Laingsburg.

Receiving Honorable Mentions votes in the CMAC were: Doug Schmitt, Pat Stump and Mike Hengesbach from Pewamo-Westphalia; Kurt Simon and Bruce Schmitt from Fowler; and Joel Parker and Dave Stephens from Fulton.

Coaches from schools within the CMAC vote on players from all the schools.

Ebert is state vault champ

There's a State Gymnastics Champion walking the halls of St. Johns High School today.

Chris Ebert competed in the State Gymnastics Meet held at Grand Rapids Creston High School last weekend and laid claim to first place in the vault event. Her total score for the two-day competition was 18.95, with an excellent 9.6 mark on Saturday putting her ahead of all opponents.

"The crowd was really behind her on Saturday," said Redwing gymnastics coach Sue Cerny, "eventhough they had never seen her before. They seemed to understand gymnastics — I think they saw something really good and they liked what they saw."

In Friday evening's competition, Ebert competed in the All-Around class earning scores in the mid to low 8's in each event except the beam where she scored a 6.2. She finished the night tied for fifth place in the vault.

"Chris was the last gymnast on on Friday," Cerny said, "so we didn't get home until 1:30 a.m. Saturday morning. Then, we had to be back over there by 9 a.m. — it was a short night."

The top eight scorers in each event from Friday move on to compete in individual events on Saturday. The scores for each day are combined with the total determining place finishes.

"All the scores from Friday were between 9.1 and 9.6," the coach said. "That put a lot of pressure on Chris because she had quite a difference to make up."

Ebert's winning vault was termed "very good" by her coach, and obviously by the judges who gave her the 9.6 mark. Her first place score of 18.95 was enough to give her a win over last year's vaulting champion from Freeland who scored a total of 18.9.

"I'm just really glad Chris had a chance to compete at this level," Coach Cerny said. "We're all very proud of her accomplishment."

Bears named in Mid-State conf

Mike Litwiller, who helped Ashley to a winning basketball season, has been selected to the First Team All-Conference in balloting by coaches of the Mid-State Athletic Conference. Litwiller was a unanimous choice by the coaches.

Also named to the First Team were: Howie Richards and Jay Willman from Byron, Bill Muron from Genesee, and Darryl Klausung from Webberville.

The Bears placed two players on the All-Conference Second Team: Chris Ringle and Alan Stehlik. Other Second Team members were: Ric Carston from Byron, Steve Townsend from Dansville, and Dave Laux from Webberville.

The Ashley Bears will hold their end of the year banquet this evening at the High School.

Redwing spikers hand out awards to finish year

The St. Johns Redwing volleyball team celebrated a fine season, both individually and as a team, with presentations of awards by Coach Bernie Fox at the end of the year banquet held last week.

Brenda Eiseler was named Most Valuable Player for the Redwings. Mary Murphy received the 101 Percent Award, and Angie Myszak was voted as the Most Improved Player on the squad. Janice Rademacher was selected to Captain her team next year.

St. Johns ended the season with a 19-7 overall record and were 5-3 in league play. They brought home two tournament trophies: winning the Williamston Volleyball Invitational and the Clinton County Volleyball Tournament, both highlights of the 1986 season.

Individually, Eiseler was named to the First Team All-Conference in the MMB for the third straight year. She led her teammates in a number of categories including aces, 36, saves, 14, spikes, 290, and tips, 130.

Also receiving First Team All-Conference honors was Murphy, named to that group for the second year. She led the Redwing spikers in sets, 501, and blocks, 47, and was second in saves with 12.

Named to the All-Conference Second Team from St. Johns were Kerry Porter and Cheryl Rademacher. Porter led the Redwings in points with 142, serves, 232, serve receptions, 159, and was second in blocks with 34. Rademacher paced St. Johns in passing with 371, was second in spikes with 281, and had 9 saves.

Debbie Bensinger received an Honorable Mention notation from the MMB conference, contributing to the overall top quality of the Redwing team this year.

The Junior Varsity volleyballers were also recognized at the banquet, compiling a 13-1 overall record and 4-1 conference record. The JVs, coached by Terri Brown, took first place honors in the Lansing Area Invitational Volleyball Tournament.

Annual sub sale set at P-W high

Pewamo-Westphalia high school students will begin taking orders next week for their annual Sub Sandwich Sale. The sale runs from March 24-April 4 at the high school.

"You can't beat the price," said sale coordinator Kurt Mable. The 9-inch individually wrapped subs sell for $1.50 each and feature a variety of meats and cheeses.

All coaches and athletes take part in putting together the subs and in selling them. An average of 3,000 sandwiches are sold in the annual event, with a high of 4,700 sold one year.

Proceeds from the sale have gone toward assorted sports and school projects in past years, including purchase of video equipment, uniforms, and rebuilding the press box on the football field.

Money raised from the sale this year will be used to help pay for the renovation of the baseball and softball fields which was done last year. Sodding, seeding, new fencing and backstops, and new dugouts were among the $12,000 worth of improvements made to the baseball facilities.

Orders for subs may be placed with any P-W student, or may be phoned into the high school at 587-3281.

"Voice of the Wolverines" promotes book on U of M

By MARK WALKER
Grand Ledge Independent
Sports Editor

The voice of the Wolverines came back to Grand Ledge for a bit of a homecoming recently.

Tom Hemingway, a graduate of Grand Ledge High School, has been sports director of WUOM radio in Ann Arbor for the past 22 years, and has published a book that is a must for all true blue University of Michigan sports fans — Life Among the Wolverines.

Hemingway lived in Wacousta, and graduated from GLHS in 1951. He played baseball for the Comets. After high school, Hemingway went to Michigan State University, then into the Air Force for three years.

He began his broadcasting career at MSU, and from there went to Kalamazoo as sports anchor at WKZO-TV. From Kalamazoo it was on to Ann Arbor as the voice of the Wolverines. Hemingway also has done broadcasts of Detroit Pistons games and Big 10 telecasts as well. He has written and narrated over 25 sports specials.

But his many years with the Maize and Blue are the basis for the book.

Life Among the Wolverines is a modern history of sports at the U of M. Stories by some of the old-timers lend credence to the whole book.

The book goes as far back as the days of football coach Fielding Yost, the man who brought collegiate sports into the modern age. Bennie Oosterbaan and Ernie Vick tell, through Hemingway, the excitement and thrills of playing football for "Old Man" Yost.

Hemingway also had the honor of writing with the great Fritz Crisler, including a special at the time of Crisler's retirement that gave a lot of insight into Crisler.

"It used to be that the young man recruited the school. Now it's the other way around. I really wonder which is best," Crisler said to Hemingway.

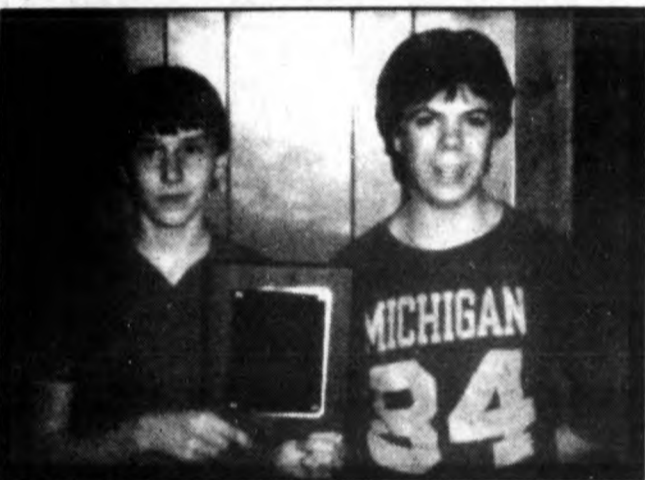

The book goes right through to the modern age of Michigan sports with Bo Schembechler and Bill Frieder.

Hemingway maintains a sense of humor and honesty in the book making it enjoyable reading as well as informative.

Local youth bowlers place second in Y.A.B.A. Classic

CHAMPION BOWLERS — Scott Berry and Steve Rapp display the Tournament Plaque that they received for their second place finish in bowling doubles at the Mid Michigan Y.A.B.A. Junior Bowling Classic. The two St. Johns youths rolled a series of 1361 in the classic held at the Capitol Bowl in Owosso.

Two local youth bowlers took second place in the Mid Michigan Y.A.B.A. Junior Bowling Classic held recently in Owosso.

Scott Berry and Steve Rapp had a series of 1361, good for second place in the doubles division. Berry had a 728 handicap which put him in the finals for singles where he placed sixth. Rapp, with a 695 handicap, placed 26th out of the field of 162 entrants.

The Classic was held this year at the Capitol Bowl and was limited to bowlers with a minimum average of 140 or higher. Bowlers had to have bowled at least nine games to establish their average and each entrant bowled six games in the Classic.

Both Berry and Rapp are part of the Y.A.B.A. program at Redwing Lanes in St. Johns.

Season is set to go at Crystal

Roger Wing, Crystal Raceway's 1985 track champion, recently returned from a racing trip to Florida where he was successful in reaching his goal of "making a feature."

During his nine racing nights, Wing took 2nd in two heats, 6th in one heat, 6th in one semi-feature, and made five features. He took 10th in two features and 14th in another. In the finale, Wing was one of the top 24 drivers in a field of 84 who attempted to qualify.

The tentative 1986 Crystal Raceway season opener is scheduled for April 19. This year's season will include more S.O.D. Sprint dates, more Modified dates, a Midget date, and more special events.

Two new corporate sponsors have joined the list of 57 local sponsors for the 1986 season. Pepsi will sponsor the Memorial Weekend two-day program and several special promotions throughout the season. Union Oil will sponsor the July 3 Late Model Invitational and various promotions.

Congratulations, Fowler Eagles

KURT SIMON — A key element in Fowler's season was center, Kurt Simon, who developed into a more well-rounded ballplayer as the year progressed. The young junior for the Eagles will be a seasoned veteran on next year's team with his experience from this year's tournament games making him a cornerstone for Dennis Smith next year.

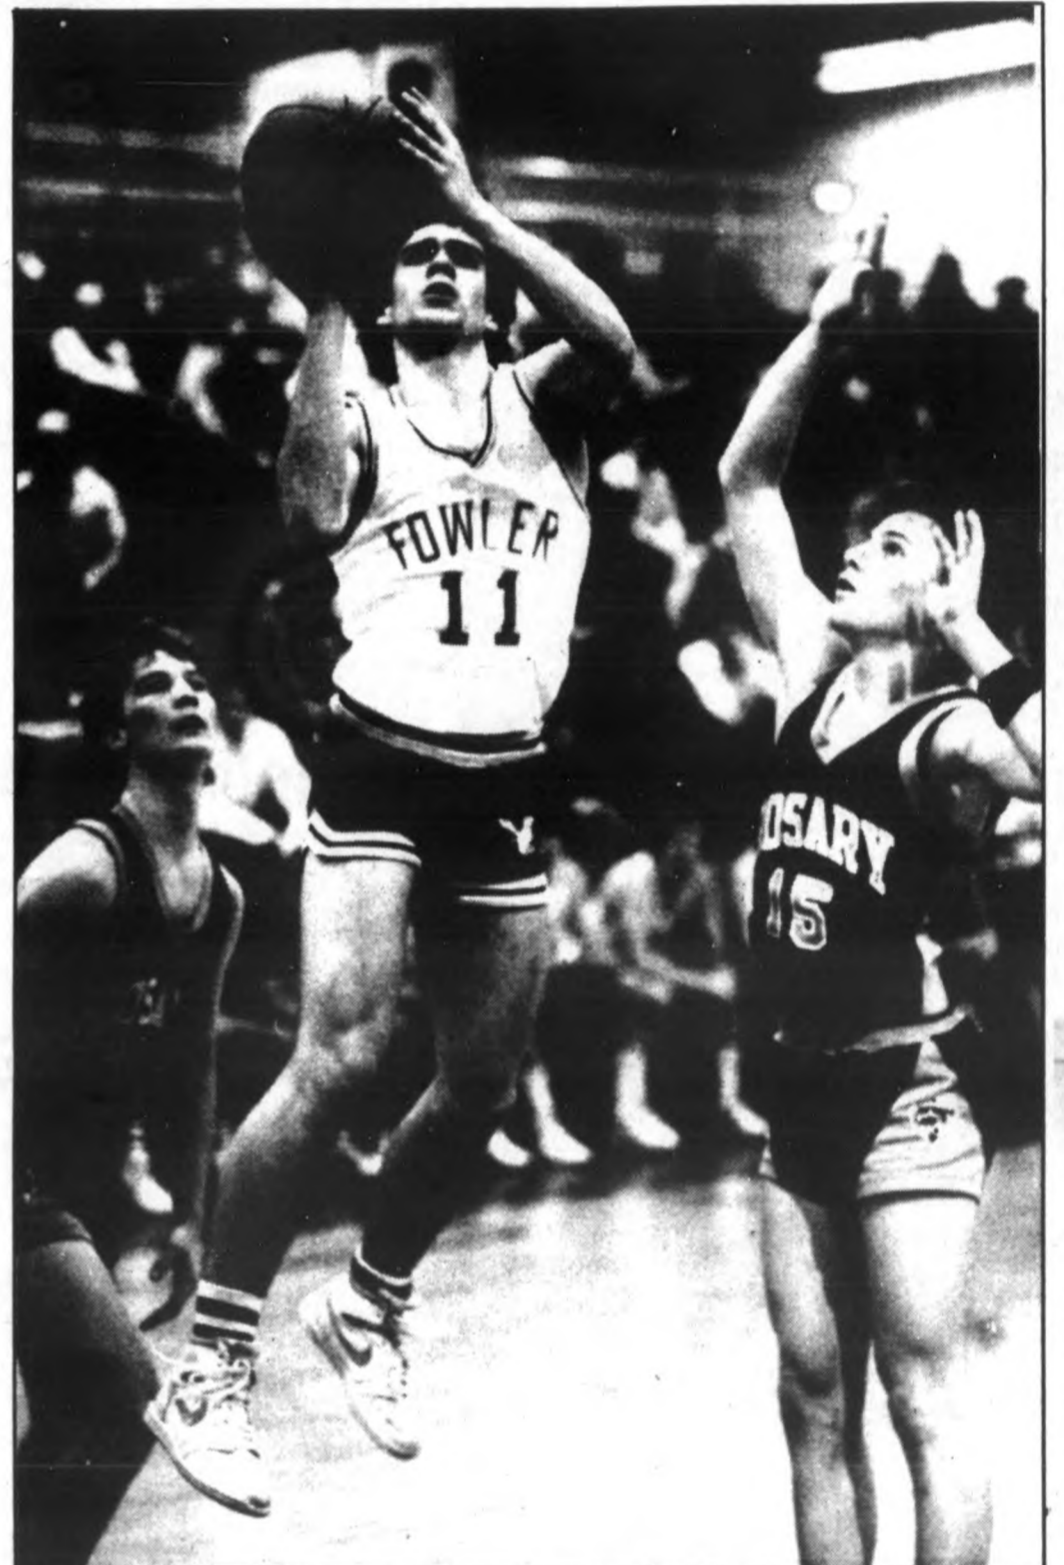

EAGLE CHEERLEADERS — Basketball wouldn't be basketball without cheerleaders, and the Eagles were blessed with a supportive cheering section throughout the regular season and into the tournaments.

FOWLER FANS love their Eagles and gave them 101 percent support throughout the 1985-86 season just as they have in all sports, in all past seasons.

FAMILIAR POSE — Dean Koenigsnecht drives in for one of his patented layups in the Regional game with Flint Holy Rosary. The multi-talented K-13 will be missed from the Fowler sport scene next year.

P-W Pirates are "Champions"

FAR LEFT — Pewamo-Westphalia's Tom Belen was the picture of intensity for the Pirates in every game that he played in during the year. Steady play and sure-shooting made Belen a tough man for opponents to defend and a scoring threat at all times.

NEAR LEFT — Number 52, Doug Schmitt, became a familiar figure to opposing teams especially under the basket. Never a showboat, Schmitt's determination and rebounding strength was always evident in the Pirates' big season victories.

BELOW — Coach Ron Kramer and JV Coach Cary Bashore were not always "on the bench", but were always near enough to it not to draw a "bench technical." Kramer led his Pirate team to their first District title since 1979 and ended the regular season with an upset win over CMAA rival, Fowler, putting a blemish on the Eagles' then perfect record.

Rural living Farm survival

Giles Roehl

Agricultural news Parasitic infections

Marilyn Loudenslager

For some area farm families the outlook appears grim. For others, their main objective today is to survive during a period of economic uncertainties and for still another group, the objective is to improve management on an already sound farming program. These families all must start at the same point, setting aside an adequate amount of time for management — time to develop and use records that will identify the actual cost of production of a quart of milk or a bushel of grain or other production, time to study the records of the current farming enterprises and the alternatives that may be available to them and their family.

The need to plan and to give direction to our actions is even more important to the first two groups than the latter. However, all farm families must take the time to plan!

It is much easier to keep plunging ahead than to take the time to evaluate where we have been, how we did or didn't do, to determine if to proceed on the same road would be the right direction or if to change directions or taking a detour may be beneficial.

Listed below are some production and risk reduction strategies that may help you develop your plans.

PRODUCTION STRATEGIES

1. Soil test and fertilize accordingly.
2. Don't keep hogs and cattle beyond good selling weights — Hogs: 210-240 pounds; Cattle: 900-1100 pounds.
3. Feed cattle with care; they can break you fast.
4. Analyze feeds and balance rations accordingly.
5. Shop around for your necessary production inputs.
6. Seek full employment of labor either on or off the farm.
7. Seek full use of equipment and facilities.

8. Liquidate high-tech equipment, step back 30 years to labor intensive farming to cut costs when labor is available.
9. Pool orders to get discounts. Share labor and machinery with neighbors or relatives.
10. Fine tune application rates on seed, fertilizer and chemicals.
11. Reduce tillage trips; double up on fertilizer and chemical trips.
12. Rent livestock-grain facilities rather than build.

RISK REDUCTION STRATEGIES

1. Custom feed cattle and hogs.
 2. Use futures to hedge in profits when offered.
 3. Instead of cash rent, go to share rents or flexible cash leases to reduce your exposure to price and yield risk.
 4. Negotiate cash rents downward where warranted.
 5. Use the government set aside program; it will provide a price floor.
 6. Diversify your labor by using low capital enterprises and off farm employment.
 7. Use crop insurance unless you can afford the risk!
 8. Unload high risk enterprises (cattle feeding).
 9. Use options markets to insure against adverse market moves, at a fixed premium cost.
- MSU and your Cooperative Extension Service are ready to help you through all your planning. If you are interested in developing management records or long and short range plans, contact our office.
- Individual agents can help with your concerns or a team of agents may be assembled to help you study the potential alternatives (EMAT team).
- Giles Roehl is the Director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Parasitic worm infestations in cattle causes weight loss that reduces production, and can even lead to death if left unchecked. Proper management reduces the threat of worm problems.

If producers use good management techniques, worm infestations will rarely be a problem. Cattle ingest parasites while grazing in the spring and fall when worms are in the larval stage. After entering the host, the worms mature and lay eggs in the cattle's digestive tract. The eggs are then excreted in the cattle's manure, to be ingested during grazing when the new generation of worms is in the larval stage.

Management practices are designed to keep cattle from ingesting the larvae when they are most abundant. Operators should first deworm cattle before moving them to pasture in the spring. This should kill worms that overwinter in the cattle's stomach and intestine and minimize later field contamination. You may want to check worm load before and after deworming to verify the treatment worked.

Cattle can be dewormed anytime after April 1 — as most of the larvae overwintering in the gut have matured by that time. If the farm has high stock density, operators should consider deworming again in July. Once cattle are dewormed, operators need to see to it that the animals stay that way. This means making pastures as worm free as possible.

It is not possible to eradicate parasitic worms from

Kendra Phinney is named '86 Chianina Assoc. Queen

Kendra Phinney, daughter of Larry and Bonnie Phinney of rural St. Johns, has been chosen to represent the Michigan Chianina Association as its 1986 queen. Chianina cattle are a popular new breed of beef cattle widely shown in the United States, grown and tested for 30 percent less cholesterol in their meat. Kendra has been a 4-H member for eight years of both the Stoney Creek and Spats 'N Spurs 4-H clubs. A sophomore at St. Johns High School, Kendra has been a member of the St. Johns interscholastic equestrian team for two years.

Director candidates are: (FLBA) Jack Anderson, St. Johns and Ronald Weller, Middleton; Tom Irner, St. Johns and Jim Mikek, St. Louis; Bob Droscha, Charlotte and George Covert, Leslie; Gerald Cole, Bancroft and Gene Maynard, Elsie. (PCA) William Chapin, Blanchard and Tony Thelen, Pawamo; Douglas Witt, St. Johns and Ernest Bebow Jr., Alma; Ted Harms, Vermontville and Ron Hamlin, Webberville; Brian Bandkau, Owosso and Gordon Topping, Stockbridge.

In addition, the stockholders will select the 1987 Nominating Committee. The FLBA nominating committee candidates are: Douglas Kostal, Ithaca and Bill Fedewa, DeWitt; Gary Haynes, Mason and Paul Masters, Charlotte; Bob Bohac, Owosso and Bruce Conklin, Corunna. The 1987 PCA nominating committee candidates are: Jerry Stickler, Remus and Douglas Meier, Mulliken; LaVerne Reeves, Ithaca and Leroy Nurenberg, Pawamo; Larry Brodbeck, Lake Odessa and Dorrell Witt, Grand Ledge; Robert

Fulton to host farm day

Fulton Community Education program is sponsoring "Fulton Farm Family Day" on March 22 at Fulton High School. This will be a special day for farmers, agricultural business people and all members of the farming community. Programs on conservation tillage equipment, pole building construction and an explanation of the 1985 Farm Bill by Congressman Bill Schuette are among the activities planned for the day. The farm day begins at 9 a.m. and runs through 2 p.m. Free child care will be provided; bringing a sack lunch.

The program is not limited to residents of the Fulton School District, but registration should be made through the Community Education office at 236-5130.

pastures. Some worms will survive the treatment and others will be spread by birds and the wind and in a variety of other ways will reinfest the field, however fields remain relatively clean until early July but may reach a risky contamination level by this time, as the season's second generation of larvae start hatching. Changing pastures help keep worm counts down.

Confining cattle until June ensures fields are relatively worm free for the first part of the season as well, but this is often economically impractical.

Implementing a management program that involves cutting and grazing pastures by rotation to keep pastures worm free may be a viable work management tool. Using three pastures, graze animals on one field, cut the grass for hay on the second, and rest the third field. After the first cutting rotate the animals to the freshly cut field, hay the rested pasture, and rest the previously grazed field. Continuing this practice through the summer keeps parasitic worm contamination from building to a problem level.

Deworming cattle again in the fall is also suggested to rid cattle of the parasites before they become metabolically inactive within the digestive tract for the winter. This is particularly important for young cattle, whose immune systems are not completely developed and are less tolerant to parasites.

Performing a worm load check at the end of December will provide operators with an idea of how well they managed the season's parasite problems and the extent of cattle contamination to expect the following spring.
