First place winner was Jamie Rademacher, second place went to Stefanie Thelen, and the third place winner was Barbara Pilmore. All received award certificates for their achievement. As the school's first place winner, Jamie will have her name engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

The first place essay advances to state level competition where ten essays from Michigan will be selected in May. Those winners will receive plaques and U.S. savings bonds ranging in value from $200 to $1,000 and will be honored at a banquet in Lansing.

The topic of this year's contest was "Why I Am Important to America's Future." The contest was begun in 1968 and is open to all Michigan eighth grade students.

WILD TURKEY — Amos and Evelyn Lockwood spotted this wild turkey near their home on Welling Road near Eureka Elementary School last week. The couple believes it must be one of the 20 wild Vermont turkeys released near Maple Rapids in February.

Three dead after tragic murder/suicide slayings

Three people are dead after a rural St. Johns man on Saturday apparently shot and killed his two stepchildren before killing himself, said information released by the Clinton County Sheriff's Department.

Dead are William Lee Richards, 38, Duane Armstrong, 16, and Sheri Ann Armstrong, 18, all of 4352 S. Scott Rd.

The killings occurred at the home on Saturday morning. The Sheriff's Department received the call at 10:25 a.m. and discovered the bodies in the home.

The Lansing State Journal reported on Sunday that Richards may have been distraught over a separation from his wife.

Sheri Armstrong was an employee of Fishers Big Wheel in St. Johns.

Duane Armstrong was a junior at St. Johns High School. He had recently completed his first year of varsity basketball. He had received an honorable mention in the Mid-Michigan B League and was last week included in a Clinton County News All-Area Basketball Team.

Central school committee to hold day-long workshop

The citizens' committee studying the future of Central School in St. Johns will hold an April 26 public workshop to gather information from which to fashion a recommendation regarding the future of the school.

Meanwhile, administrators are developing a plan for accommodating Central students next fall when the school is closed. That plan will be presented to the citizens' committee on April 8.

The day-long workshop on April 26 will be chaired by representatives of Tomlinson Harburn Associates, an architectural and planning firm familiar with the situation at Central School.

The school has been declared unsafe for occupancy after the end of the current school year by a state fire inspector. The Citizens Committee on School Organization (CCSO), a committee of about 30 residents of the St. Johns school district, was charged with the task of recommending a course of action to the Board of Education.

THE CCSO said in a press release last week that the workshop will "provide the needed data on which to fashion a recommendation whether to renovate Central School or formulate alternate plans."

The workshop will be held at Central School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. It will be "a brainstorming effort to establish objectives and a course of action. It will provide a time for residents to explore first hand the problems and potentials of the district and to work together cooperatively to seek a generally acceptable recommendation," the press release said.

The eight-hour workshop will be divided into three segments, with residents free to participate as their time permits.

The opening segment will be an "awareness session" to acquaint workshop participants with existing conditions at the school. This will be followed by a "sharing session," for group discussion and sharing ideas. A "decision session" will be held last, during which a tentative recommendation will be drafted.

Following the workshop, the consulting firm will assemble the data and present it to CCSO for consideration and presentation to the Board of Education.

Meanwhile the CCSO will continue its regular schedule of meetings in the high school library.

APRIL 8 — Administrative recommendation for short term solution for accommodating students next fall when Central School is closed.

APRIL 22 — Real estate discussion on potential sale or alternate use of Central School.

APRIL 29 — Discussion of public workshop results.

MAY 13 — Draft of final recommendations to Board of Education.

All meetings begin at 7 p.m. except the last, which will begin with the regular Board of Education meeting at 8 p.m.

All sessions of the CCSO are open to the public with time set aside for public comment.

Judge Tahvonen will run for appeals court seat

Circuit Judge Randy Tahvonen announced last week that he is a candidate for judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals in the 66-county Third District.

Tahvonen, who has been circuit judge in Clinton and Gratiot Counties for over seven years, is seeking to fill one of two vacancies created by the retirement of two present appeals court judges.

Tahvonen stressed the importance of both trial and appellate court experience in working on the Court of Appeals. He has heard over 600 cases as a visiting judge on the Court of Appeals and over 4500 cases as a circuit judge.

"The work of the Court of Appeals requires an ability to distinguish between technical oversights on one hand and major errors on the other," Tahvonen said. "Experience as a private attorney, special prosecutor, circuit judge and visiting appeals court judge gives me the balanced and informed viewpoint needed to make that distinction."

"The purpose of our campaign will be to highlight the importance of the Court of Appeals and to encourage the people of the third district to consider the qualifications of all the candidates before selecting their new judges. If we succeed in those goals, I'm certain we'll be satisfied whatever the outcome of the election."

Tahvonen, a 1970 graduate of Michigan State University, received his law degree with honors from the Detroit School of Law in 1973. Following law school, he worked as judicial research attorney for Judge Louis McGregor of the Court of Appeals and then opened a private law practice in St. Johns. He was elected circuit judge in 1978 and re-elected in 1984.

In addition to his work on the bench, Tahvonen is a member of the faculty of the Michigan Judicial Institute which conducts educational seminars for judges throughout the state. Tahvonen is also a member of the Supreme Court committee to revise the rules of criminal procedure and of the executive and rules committees of the Michigan Judges Association. In 1981, he was one of ten judges in the United States selected to receive a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to study at Yale Law School. Tahvonen is also a graduate of the National Judicial College and the American Academy of Judicial Education.

Tahvonen, his wife Penny and their four children live near Elsie and are members of the First Baptist Church of St. Johns.

Federal revenue sharing drops to zero for 1987

Clinton County Board of Commissioners Chairman Roger Overway said last week that county revenues will be cut another $180,000 next year if federal revenue sharing is not restored to the national budget.

But the chances of restoring the funds to the budget do not look good unless there is a massive lobbying effort by local governmental officials, he said.

President Reagan's proposed budget for 1987 includes no money for federal revenue sharing. This follows several years of partial cuts — revenue to Clinton County from the federal dollars dropped from $375,368 in 1984 to $54,823 in 1985 to $180,000 in 1986.

"As things stand now that figure will drop to zero in 1987. The job that has to be done is to get it in the budget," said Overway.

This year $100,000 of the federal dollars were earmarked for the Road Commission. Another $70,000 went to the county Department of Social Services. Additionally, local units of government will lose federal dollars paid directly to them.

"Most of the local units of government have been putting revenue sharing into their roads," said Overway.

St. Johns City Manager Randy

Humphrey said last month that federal revenue sharing to the city dropped from a high of $150,000 to $35,000 this year "and next year it's going to be zero."

Overway said Clinton County had contributed $360 to a lobbying effort to retain revenue sharing. Other Michigan counties have also lobbied for the funds, he said, but outside of Michigan the loss of revenue sharing seems to have been accepted without protest. Overway said Clinton County was one of only 350 counties nationwide that have contributed to the lobbying effort.

"George Bush said there are two chances of getting revenue sharing extended — slim and none," said Commissioner Richard Hawks.

51-home project slated for Bengal Twp.

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

A subdivision of 51 homes in Bingham Township is slated to be completed by 1993, following approval of a necessary zoning change by the Clinton County Board of Commissioners on March 25.

The upper income single family housing development will be built on 40 acres of land on the northeast corner of Parks Road and County Farm Road.

In approving a zoning change from agricultural use to low density residential, commissioners overturned a recommendation by county planning officials that the zoning change be denied. Planning department staff had recommended denial of the zoning change and the county planning commission had voted 5-2 to recommend that the change be denied.

Those recommendations were made on the grounds that the development would constitute use of the land that is "noncontiguous" with the adjoining land, some of which is enrolled in a farmland preservation program.

PLANNING OFFICIALS also said the housing development will not comply with a requirement of the new zoning, namely that the land "should either have, or within a reasonable future period have, public sanitary sewer facilities."

The development will instead be serviced by private on-site sewer facilities. A state health department representative reported to the Bingham Township Board that the private sewers, if properly maintained, will outlast the residences.

"The case is difficult because on one hand it conflicts with pertinent policies...but if one were to look at the situation pragmatically, it might be concluded that this development will have less of an impact on the agricultural lands...than 51 residences built elsewhere on 51 unplatted parcels," said a planning department report. "However, the policies are not to be ignored..."

IN VOTING unanimously to approve the zoning change, county commissioners noted both that the development would use less farm land than alternative forms of development and that health officials had indicated there would be no problem with the private sewers.

They also noted that the housing development would generate tax revenue for the county. Commission Chairman Roger Overway said federal money supplied to the county is expected to drop.

"We need the money from those homes," he said.

Robert Harr, of DeWitt, the developer of the project, told commissioners that the subdivision will enhance the area. He said the homes would be purchased by upper middle class buyers.

"Those folks are the kind that want to make sure their investment is secure," he said.

Bingham Township officials had earlier unanimously approved recommending that the zoning change be approved.

The world in Bement Library

Spring!!!

By Jean Bartholomew

Oh the joy that Spring brings. A few days of sunshine and my hibernating habits take wing. The mind is full of projects and the body says, who me?

Spring is such a lovely season with the rebirth of plants, budding trees and green grass. A new or renewed beginning for all of God's creatures. Which brings me to one of the exciting things happening at the library. How often have we heard the comments about our size, crowded conditions, materials on two floors and three rooms and "If you ever do anything about expansion or a new building, I'd be glad to help." Well, dear friends, here is your chance. A group of interested citizens have been meeting to discuss this very problem. We need support and input from all of you on committees, so meet with us and volunteer.

A new library is like any planted seed. It needs nurturing care to become a healthy, mature, full-blooming facility and you, the people of the community, are the ones to provide this.

Another nice happening. The St. Johns Rotary Club has purchased 70 new books of all kinds for our collection and has paid for the new bookcase in the front entrance. As a service club, these gentlemen do many good things for the community and we appreciate their interest in the library.

Now that I've told you the goodies, let me suggest if you have an attack of Spring Fever, we have all types of books that could kill or cure your problem. If your lawn needs attention, your bushes pruned, the porch replaced, a new patio or play area in your future, we have helpful how-tos on the shelves.

Outdoor cooking is almost here. Why not try a new recipe on the grill to dazzle your family and friends? Anyone can be a gourmet with the proper instructions. In the same vein, on your walks, keep an eye out for the succulent edible greens. We all recognize dandelions, but how about fiddlehead fern or arrowhead tubers. Needless to say, we have books on identifying these plants.

I hope I have piqued your interest in a number of things this month, especially the library project because each of you are directly involved and important to its success. Meeting times are posted in the library and progress updates will be in the paper or the library bulletin board.

'Community will be set back years by recall'

To the Editor:

It's gratifying to know the democratic process allows for the provision of recall; a process legislatively formulated to remove a person or persons from office for conduct unacceptable to the voting constituency. It's even more gratifying the process has been reserved by the voting public for generally gross malfeasance of the office the recalled person held.

Can you imagine the impact on Federal Mogul or Sealed Power if all the directors were dismissed at once? Can you imagine how the Michigan Milk Producers, the cooperative elevators or our banks would function if suddenly we totally eliminated the boards? Churches, foundations, labor unions, city councils, civic and farm organizations phase in change by normally not making more than one third of the board eligible for election in a given year.

In short, change is healthy when phased in properly. We pride ourselves in this great country that we don't have to recall the constitution or fire the previous government. In fact, we only read of such things in the press in places like Iran or the Phillipines.

Letters

This is St. Johns, not some far off place. This is our future, our children's future. Let's carefully examine why we expect the St. Johns Public School's board to operate and function governmentally different than the other forms of policy-making bodies.

I am a firm believer that our community would be set back many years with a recall. My view has been strengthened with comments from state legislators and other districts that have shared in the unfortunate experience. There are still many very hard policy decisions to be made by our Board of Education; decisions that I hope are fortified with experience in formulating school policy.

Speak out on pornography, writer urges

To the Editor:

Saturday I was picketing against what many of us consider to be pornographic video rentals at the Sneak Preview Inc. and Home Video Center. I have come to realize that there is a tremendous indifference among the good people of St. Johns. Most residents do not approve of these pornographic videos and maybe will even sign a petition in protest against it. However, very few I'm sure have ever taken the time to write these centers to inform them of their concern.

I suggest every concerned resident of Clinton County at least write Sneak Previews and Home Video Center and also Mr. Video (our latest addition to pornographic video rentals) and tell them how much you disapprove of what they are renting out and ask them to remove them from their store. The next thing I suggest is that those of you who do patronize their stores for your family and children videos tell the proprietor why you disapprove of the pornographic material they rent and if they do not remove it from their store you will not patronize their establishment again. There are other places to rent videos from that do not promote pornography.

Come on folks! Isn't it time to do something about the filth that is infiltrating our community? We don't have to accept this. Please, everyone speak out on this serious matter now before it's too late! Three pornographic video rental establishments in St. Johns is just too much for any of us to sit back and accept. If there are any questions, please call me at 224-4763.

Balanced budget

Bill Schuette

The Balanced Budget/Tax Limitation amendment is gaining momentum in Washington and throughout the country.

The Senate is preparing to vote on the proposed amendment, and chances for its approval there look good. Since the time when I became an original co-sponsor of the amendment, the number of co-sponsors has increased to 219, a majority of the House. Already, 32 states have approved their own balanced-budget amendments; an amendment to the Constitution requires the approval of 34 states, and we are close to getting the two more states necessary for approval.

In passing the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings legislation, Congress has already committed itself to a balanced budget by 1991. This legislation seeks to achieve that goal by cutting deficits. But we must ensure that after 1991, when the deficit has been eliminated, Congress will never again be allowed to go on a spending binge that will leave the budget so seriously out of balance as it is today.

The Balanced-Budget/Tax Limitation amendment does this by two means: 1) it requires that Congress adopt a budget that does not exceed more in outlays than it takes in through receipts; and 2) it prohibits Congress from raising receipts — i.e. our taxes — so that it can spend more and still keep within the limits of a balanced budget. In the extraordinary case of a declaration of war, Congress is permitted to waive this requirement.

There is little need to convince anyone of the importance of maintaining a balanced budget and avoiding crippling deficits. Interest alone on the deficit now amounts to 15 percent of the budget — that's more than the budgets of the Army and Marine Corps combined. But reducing this deficit means reducing inflation and reducing interest rates. This strengthens the economy and keeps it rolling, and that means increasing jobs, and making America strong enough to compete with any foreign competitors.

When the authors of our Constitution gave Congress authority over the budget, they intended for Congress to exercise that authority wisely and to act prudently in weighing the costs of good intentions. Thomas Jefferson summed this up when he wrote: "I place economy among the first and most important virtues and public debt as the greatest of dangers. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the guise of caring for them, they will be happy."

Let's not mortgage our children's future. Let's make our choice for economy and liberty. Let's pass the Balanced Budget/Tax Limitation Amendment now. Bill Schuette is the 10th District Representative to the United States House of Representatives.

In the House of Representatives Liability package

Gary Randall

A final legislative resolution to the debate over insurance liability reform will face lawmakers when they reconvene on April 8. The Michigan House has voted to put the bills into conference committee where conferees will work to iron out the differences in the House and Senate versions of the package.

The legislature has been dealing with the issue for nearly eight months. A significant breakthrough came when House Republicans sponsored an amendment to House Bill 5154 that called for a modified cap on awards granted to victims.

The amendment was designed to help reduce frivolous lawsuits and send an important message to all parties that lawmakers intend to reduce liability costs.

The amendment, which passed on a 61-49 vote, would put a $250,000 cap on non-economic damages, with three exemptions — in cases of death, serious impairment of body function or permanent serious disfigurement. In these instances the award decision would be made by a jury.

Although the amendment passed, the House did not concur in a Senate-amended version of the bill, and it was one of the eight bills sent into the conference committee.

A great deal of work is still necessary before liability insurance reform is a reality. I am hopeful that we can resolve the issue when spring session resumes. Gary Randall is the 89th District Representative to the Michigan House of Representatives.

Generic products

Dawn Harris

The popularity of generic food products varies greatly by product category. Some kinds of generic foods are more available to, and accepted by, consumers than others. Consumers buy more generic frozen juice, for example, than generic frozen potatoes.

When generic products were introduced in the late 1970's, consumers were told they could be offered at lower prices for three reasons: lower advertising costs; lower packaging costs; and, in some cases, lower quality.

A lower quality grade of food does not reflect lower safety standards nor, in most cases, lower nutritive value.

The retailers assumed that a significant number of consumers would accept cheap, "no-frills" products of inconsistent quality. This could mean paler green beans or irregular sized pieces of peaches, in exchange for a savings of 10 to 25 percent.

Some studies have shown that shoppers today are more willing to try store labels and generics and are less likely to be "brand loyal", but non-advertised brands are not as popular.

Currently, brand names account for more than 80 percent of sales, while store brands and generics account for only 20 percent when all three are available. Few generic foods have achieved more than a six percent share of the market.

Double value discount coupons for name brands are also competing with the generics.

Some generic foods packers are trying to increase the popularity of their generic products by dressing up the labels with a stripe of color.

Generic foods are packaged according to the retailer's product specifications. Some retailers may have more consistent or higher quality guidelines for their generics, and they may want their product to stand out from similarly labeled foods.

Generic foods are a good buy when the appearance of the food is not an important consideration. Peach halves for a fruit plate need to have eye appeal. Peach slices for a cobbler can be irregular, so generic products would work well in this type of recipe.

Bargain hunting is still a hunt — check prices and discounts for best values.

The dress featured a stand-up neck, and sheer sleeves with satin-lined cuffs. The cuffs and neckline were trimmed with pink chiffon ribbon and tiny clusters of rosebuds on Victorian lace.

Hospital news

New weight loss program to start on April 15 at CMH

"Trimlife", an effective approach to weight loss under the guidance of trained health care professionals, is a new program coordinated through Clinton Memorial Hospital's Life Wellness programs. It is scheduled to begin on April 15.

"Instead of a quick weight loss, we're offering a genuine weight loss in body fat where it really counts," said Sylvia Hirschegger, Health Promotion Coordinator at Clinton Memorial. "We're also advocating a lifetime program instead of a one-shot deal."

Each participant in the program will undergo an initial assessment which includes a computerized fitness evaluation, risk-hazard appraisal, flexibility assessment, and body fat composition. Additionally, participants will consult with a registered dietitian and receive an individualized food plan.

For more information on Trimlife weight loss program, call the Education Department at Clinton Memorial Hospital, 224-6881, ext. 283.

He is a 1971 graduate of Northern Michigan University.

Rudy and his wife, Diane, reside in St. Johns and have two daughters, Alana and Alissa.

CMH admissions personnel will be honored this week

Clinton Memorial Hospital's "front line" ambassadors will be honored the week of March 31 to April 6, during National Hospital Admitting Personnel Week. The hospital is served by 15 admitting/switchboard clerks who processed over 20,000 admissions in the past year.

"We recognize the importance of our role in making our patients and their families feel confident in our services and comfortable in the hospital environment," said Pat Foster, patient accounts manager. "These individuals are generally the first contact people have with Clinton Memorial whether over the phone or on a one-to-one basis."

Clinton Memorial recently completed renovations to its admissions area designed to ease the admissions process for patients.

Whole Brain Thinking event is rescheduled for April 17

The Clinton County Intermediate School District's presentation on Whole Brain Thinking has been rescheduled for April 17 with Dr. Sallyanne Poinsett as the featured speaker.

In order to accommodate the large number of people interested in attending, the program will be offered twice: 4 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. in the St. Johns High School Cafeteria. Dr. Poinsett will discuss what researchers have discovered about how both hemispheres of the brain operate, how to make more use of your whole brain, and how to work with children to encourage their use of the whole brain. All participants will be shown how to figure out which side of the brain is their dominant side.

Cost of the program is $3 per person with a maximum of 95 participants per session. Pre-registration is encouraged, but walk-ins will be welcome if space is available. Send a self-addressed envelope with choice of time and money to: Jenny McCampbell, Clinton County Intermediate School District, PO Box 207, St. Johns, 48879.

The program is sponsored by the Clinton County Consortium on Gifted and Talented. Registration will be open 30 minutes before each program and participants are asked to arrive early as the programs will be begin on time.

Morning Musicales studies French music

BY CAROLYN CAMPBELL
Club Reporter

St. Johns Morning Musicales MFMC focused attention on three French composers of the late 19th Century on March 20 at the home of Mrs. John Caudy.

Mildred Brown reported on the lives and music of Gabriel Faure (1845-1924) organist, teacher and composer; Jules Massenet (1842-1912) composer; and Cecile Louise Chaminade (1857-1944) pianist and composer.

Faure's "Romance Sans Parole" played by Evangeline Caudy, and "Argonaire" from Massenet's opera Le Cid and Chaminade's piano piece "Pierrette" played by Diantha Witteveen revealed the characteristic artistic charm of French music. The mimetic action and gesture of a Pierrette appeared in the Chaminade selection, a Pierrette being a counterpart of a Pierrot, a male character in certain French pantomime having a whitened face and wearing a loose fancy costume.

The club will meet to continue their study of French composers on April 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Maurice Witteveen, 605 S. Mead, St. Johns.

FREE / frē / Not costing or charging anything.

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary

Dear Neighbor,

Whenever you see the word "free", you can just about be sure that the word is being misused. Rarely is anything free.

An area financial institution claims to offer free checking accounts. If you stop to think about it, an account that requires a minimum balance in order to avoid a service charge, or requires you to buy your own checks, is not free. Clinton Bank has no free checking accounts -- and neither does that financial institution.

Our competitor also says that they have several checking accounts which are better than those offered by Clinton Bank and does a comparison to "prove" the point -- but somehow fails to include the one account Clinton Bank considers the best checking account in central Michigan. Why? Because it is far superior to any of the accounts offered by that competing institution.

Clinton Bank's Lifetime Checking account pays increasing rates for increasing balances. It has a low $300 minimum balance in order to avoid the monthly service charge. A $500 balance in a Clinton Bank savings account also will eliminate the service charge. Even if a service charge is necessary, it is a fixed fee with no per check charge.

And there are other reasons. Lifetime Checking account customers can purchase travelers checks for no fee, and can rent a customer deposit box at a discounted rate. Often, Lifetime Checking customers can obtain discounts on installment loans, and may qualify for overdraft protection and unsecured lines of credit.

Don't forget . . . when comparing checking accounts, don't let someone else do it for you. They may not give false information, but may not give all the information, either.

Finally -- when comparing, be sure to ask for information on Clinton Bank's Lifetime Checking account. There's no other account like it in central Michigan.

Sincerely,

Clinton Bank

"It's in the Bag"
by Bob Beck

What famous general said "An army marches on its stomach?" Why, it was Napoleon. And what was Napoleon's favorite dish? Chicken!

In fact, he even took his personal chef along on all his campaigns, to prepare chicken just the way he wanted it. But there was a problem. What with the fighting and all, there was no telling when Napoleon might want to eat.

So his chef came up with an extravagant but effective solution. He simply saw to it that a chicken was put to roast every twenty minutes. That way, whether Napoleon got hungry at two in the afternoon or four in the morning, a freshly roasted chicken always awaited him!

The chicken, by the way, is the oldest domesticated food creature on earth. And, in a way, it has followed the progress of civilization. The early explorers brought some with them to America. So did the Pilgrims later. And as our settlers moved westward, they took along plenty of chickens.

Which is easy enough to understand when you consider the advantages a chicken offers. After all, if you kill a hog, you've got a couple hundred pounds of pork on your hands, and it will soon spoil unless refrigerated. But if you kill a chicken, you can eat it all, right then and there!

By the way, don't worry if the meat around the bones of some chickens looks reddish brown, even after cooking. It's safe to eat, say the U.S. Department of Agriculture poultry inspectors.

Broiler-fryers tend to show this effect because they're marketed young, at 6 to 8 weeks. Their bone marrow has not fully hardened, and red blood cells seep into the surrounding meat, causing a deep red or brown color.

Now then, I'll close by promising always to offer you the finest food values in St. Johns. And you can count on it. I'll never "chicken out" on that promise!

Gen. Haig speaks in St. Johns on Thursday

Retired U.S. General Alexander Haig will be the guest speaker at the Clinton County Republican Lincoln Day Dinner on April 3, at 7 p.m., in the St. Johns High School cafeteria.

He will be introduced by U.S. Rep. Bill Schuette. Also in attendance at the event will be Oakland County Executive William Lucas, who is a probable candidate for governor.

General Alexander Haig was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1947, commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army, and advanced through a variety of military assignments, including service in Japan, Korea, Europe and Vietnam. He attended Notre Dame University, pursued graduate studies in business administration at Columbia University in 1954-55 and received a master's degree in international relations from Georgetown University in 1962.

Gen. Haig served in the Pentagon from 1962-1965, where his positions included military assistant to the Secretary of the Army and deputy special assistant to the Secretary of Defense. He served in Vietnam in 1966 and 67, receiving the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism.

In January, 1969, Gen. Haig was assigned to be senior military advisor to Henry Kissinger, who was then the assistant to the president for national security affairs. Later, he became the deputy assistant to the president for national security affairs and was promoted to full general in 1972.

During his four years in the White House, ending in 1973, he made 14 trips to Southeast Asia as the personal emissary of the president to negotiate the Vietnam cease-fire and return of the U.S. prisoners of war. He also coordinated preparations for President Nixon's visit to China.

Gen. Haig was serving as Vice Chief of Staff of the Army when President Nixon appointed him in May 1973 to rebuild the White House staff. He was subsequently named White House Chief of Staff and retired from the military at that time after 26 years of active service.

President Ford recalled Gen. Haig to active duty as Commander-in-Chief, U.S. European Command, in Oct. 1974. He was later appointed Supreme Allied Commander in Europe. In that position, he was responsible for the military forces of the member nations of NATO. He held that position until 1979, when he retired from the Army.

Following his election in 1980, President-elect Ronald Reagan nominated Gen. Haig to be his Secretary of State. The general was confirmed by the Senate and served as the 59th Secretary of State from Jan. 22, 1981, until his resignation from the position on July 5, 1982.

Gen. Haig is currently President of Worldwide Associates, Inc., a firm engaged in consulting services on domestic and international political, economic and security issues.

Since resigning as Secretary of State, Gen. Haig has served on the President's Commission for Strategic Forces (Snowcroft Commission), the President's Commission for Chemical Warfare Review and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. He completed his first book on the future of U.S. foreign policy based on his over three decades of experience at the highest levels of government and drawing on his tenure as Secretary of State. The book is titled, "Caveat: Realism, Reagan and Foreign Policy."

GEN. HAIG has been given numerous civic awards and college degrees, and serves on many national boards. Among his many military decorations are the Distinguished Service Cross, the Defense Distinguished Service Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Distinguished Flying Cross with Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Purple Heart. He has received decorations from the governments of Belgium, the Federal Republic of Germany, Morocco, France, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and Portugal.

Gen. Haig was born on Dec. 2, 1924, in Philadelphia, attended St. Joseph's Preparatory School, and graduated from Lower Merion High School in Ardmore, Penn. He is married to the former Patricia Fox. They have three children: Alexander, Brian and Barbara and two grandchildren. They live in McLean, Virginia.

Serious crime down 10.5 percent in St. Johns, says annual report

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

Serious crime in St. Johns — including murder, assault, robbery, rape, larceny, auto theft, breaking and entering, and arson — decreased 10.5 percent in 1985 compared to 1984.

St. Johns Chief of Police Lyle H. French, in an annual report to the City Commission, said there were 270 reported incidents of such crimes in 1985, compared to 302 in 1984.

This follows a 5.6 percent drop the previous year, the report said.

"We've got more officers, more visibility on the streets," said French. "I think also, the word is out that the judge is giving stiffer sentences."

Despite the overall decrease in serious crime there were several categories that showed increases. Child abuse and neglect increased from one case in 1984 to three cases in 1985. Malicious destruction of property and vandalism of property increased from 80 to 140 incidents. Bad checks increased from 29 in 1984 to 76 in 1985.

Liquor law violations, including minors in possession and open intoxicants in automobiles, decreased from 199 to 62. However, driving under the influence cases increased from 89 to 111.

The value of property lost to crime in the city in 1985 was $52,788. This is the net loss after $30,766 was recovered by police from a total of $83,594 in stolen property. The net loss to crime in 1984 was $29,651.

Haneckow endorses MSA's plan to strengthen state/county ties

Clinton County Sheriff Terry Haneckow last week announced support for the Michigan Sheriffs' Association's (MSA) four-point legislative proposal to strengthen the state-county partnership against crime.

Sheriff Haneckow said the proposal, introduced at a March 19 news conference in Lansing, aims to reform the state corrections and county jail system by sharing $55 million in state resources to improve corrections at the local level.

"It's tough on crime, it makes efficient use of state and county resources, and it's very cost effective," he said.

Created by the association's bi-partisan Jail/Corrections Advisory Committee, the proposal outlines four goals:

1. obtain state reimbursement to counties for housing felons, estimated to be $25 million annually.
2. establish a $30 million fund to assist counties in obtaining compliance to jail standards or for initiating programs or construction.
3. repeal of Michigan Department of Corrections' authority over jails (by mutual agreement).
4. increase the maximum jail sentence from one year to two years and tie it to a community corrections fund.

Current Department of Corrections' figures (1984) indicate that approximately 3,300 inmates (41 percent) in the state's prison population have been sentenced to terms of two years or less. The legislative proposal, if implemented, would divert many of these inmates into the new system. Sheriff Haneckow said the proposal made good sense for the people in his county.

Members of the MSA Jail/Corrections Advisory Committee are MSA President and Macomb County Sheriff William Hackel and Sheriffs Thomas Edmonds, Kalamazoo County; Gerald Hicks, Hillsdale County; Larry Leveille, Mackinac County; Ron Schebil, Washtenaw County; Thomas McKeever, Wexford County; and Henry Zavislak, Jackson.

The four-point legislative proposal was researched and drafted by the MSA Jail/Druck-up Resource Center.

DeWitt man charged with six counts of sexual abuse

A 58-year-old DeWitt man was charged last week with six counts of second degree sexual misconduct.

Sam E. Barner, 6200 St. Clair Rd., turned himself into the Clinton County Sheriff's Department on March 24 following an investigation by Sheriff's deputies and DeWitt police officers, said Deputy Steve Nobis. Barner was arraigned before 65th District Court Judge Jeffrey Martlew and released on a $2,500 personal recognizance bond.

Second degree sexual misconduct is defined as physical contact without penetration. The offense carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison for each count.

Sesquicentennial planning underway

The Clinton County Historical Commission, a five-member volunteer group appointed by the Board of Commissioners, and serving the community since the time of the country's Bicentennial, has been designated the official agency for celebrating the Michigan Sesquicentennial in the county.

Area representatives of governmental units, organizations and interested Clintonians met at the Courthouse on March 11 for information. The Historical Commission has projects involving official historic site markers, recognition of farms which have been in one family ownership for 150 years, a creative writing contest for students entitled "Capture Your Past". Bath and Westphalia are communities already celebrating 150 years of settlement. Several townships report beautification projects and celebrations planned.

A newsletter is being prepared for distribution throughout the county, with a deadline for copy of April 15. This occasional publication will serve as a forum for sharing information, a calendar of events, needs and expectations.

The Sesquicentennial Agency and any interested persons will meet following the regular meeting of the Historical Commission on April 24 at 8:30 p.m., DeWitt Township Offices, 4700 Brook Street, Lansing.

Copy for the newsletter and Calendar of Events are requested by April 15 and should be directed to Betty Moore, 105 S. Swegles Street, St. Johns.

Leftover eggs

Theresa Silm

Baskets full of brightly colored eggs are one of Easter's oldest and most loved traditions. When the holiday is over, though, many people are left with the problem of what to do with so many hardcooked eggs. Try some of the suggestions given here to make life after the holidays a bit more palatable.

Properly cooked and stored eggs will be the most appetizing. Hard-boiled eggs must be kept refrigerated if you plan to eat them. If you don't want to completely dismantle your Easter baskets, leave one or two of your favorite decorated eggs and refrigerate the rest to be eaten and enjoyed by your family. Properly refrigerated, hard boiled eggs can be safely used for seven days.

Once the holiday is over, hard-cooked eggs needn't be destined only to brown-bag lunches. They are much more versatile than most people imagine.

For starters, try making a quick egg sauce. Add two finely chopped eggs to a can of condensed cream of celery soup. Mix in two tablespoons chopped green pepper and 1/4 cup milk and season with pepper. Heat and serve over vegetables or ham croquettes.

A quick and delicious side dish can be made by combining four hard-cooked eggs with a can of kidney beans. Mix with celery, parsley, chopped onion, and a few tablespoons of French dressing. Chill before serving.

Sliced eggs added to a basic cream sauce will add flavor to most vegetable dishes. Egg sliced will brighten up many salads. Don't forget the old stand-by of egg salad as you plan uses for your Easter eggs. To give a new look and taste to the traditional egg and mayonnaise mixture, try adding 1/4 teaspoon of curry powder or mix in any of the following: chopped cooked meat (leftover ham or lamb from Easter dinner), pickle relish, chopped ripe or green olives, pimento, prepared mustard or sunflower seeds.

Use your imagination and you may wish you had colored more Easter eggs this year.

'The Bad Seed' is not the traditional spring musical

By CAROL GRAHAM
S.JHS Drama Publicist

The St. Johns High School Theatre Department's April 18 and 19 production of "The Bad Seed" is a far cry from the traditional spring musical which the group usually performs. It is a murder mystery.

Director Robert Koger had a number of reasons for electing to go with the different type of spring production. He read the script and found it to be a ality work that would challenge the audience as well as the cast members. He also had been urged by his students to produce a mystery and felt this one contained good characterizations and realistic situations.

Cast member Randall Schmidt who had participated in the productions of "Annie," "Cinderella," "Guys and Dolls," and "Oliver" understands what Koger meant by challenging the cast. In "The Bad Seed," Schmidt plays his first serious role, an older gentleman who is flamboyant and serious at times. It is a stark contrast from the exaggerated and at times outlandish characters he has played in the past.

There won't be any hot dogs for sale, but there will be some good baseball played by area high school teams for anyone inclined to watch the national sport on the local ball diamond this spring.

Teams from St. Johns, Ashley, Fowler, Ovid-Elsie, Fulton and Pewamo-Westphalia will take the field in the next few weeks, and we catch a glimpse of their upcoming seasons in this weeks Clinton County News.

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA

Pirate Coach Mark Rademacher would like to take his team to the league title in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference this year. P-W finished in third place last season with a 11-9-2 record.

"We're hoping to do well," Rademacher said. "Our pitching staff could hold the key, and we have some holes to fill defensively also. We lost two big players in John Thelen and Chris Werner — they were three-year starters for us."

Hoping to fill those shoes are returning members of last years team:

Tony Schafer and Jeff Bengel, both senior pitchers with plus 400 batting averages from last year. Schafer ended the season with a 3-2 record, while Bengel pitched for 4-1 in a relief role.

Troy Thelen, playing centerfield, Scott Smith, at first baseman, Darrel Heckman, catcher and left fielder, and Bill Schneider, playing third baseman will see action for the Pirates again this year. All are seniors. Smith will also be kept in the lineup as much as possible as a Designated Hitter.

Underclassman, Stan Bauer, will be pitching and should help to pick up some slack for the team.

"Bauer pitched a couple of times and won for us last year," Coach Rademacher said. "He pitched the winning game in the Old Timers Tournament that we won last season."

Helping out in the field will be juniors Loren Thelen at shortstop and Pat Heckman, playing second base and in the outfield.

In his second year as Varsity coach, Rademacher would like his team to repeat as winners of the Greater Lansing Old Timers Tournament which the Pirates took over teams from Leslie, Morrice, Fowlerville and others.

"We'll just have to wait and see how well we fill our positions," the coach said. "Fowler and Portland St. Pats should be the teams to fight in the league."

FOWLER

It took Neal Hoffman's Eagles "half the season to jell last year," but his young team proved they could win, finishing the year out at 10-11 after dropping their first seven ballgames.

Returning from last years team will be seniors Dave Thelen, catcher; Steve Simon, shortstop; Dave Miller, pitcher; and Jim Schmitz, first base and outfield.

Juniors from the Fowler lineup last season are Randy Theis, outfield and catcher; Rex Thelen, outfield and pitcher; and Jim Andros, second base.

Rounding out the returning Eagle roster are sophomores Tony Schafer, outfield and pitcher; Don Simon, third base; Kris Thelen, outfield and first base; and Mark Feldpausch, infield.

"Pitching will be a key to our winning," Coach Hoffman said. The Eagles lost Dan Simon, their leading pitcher last year with a 6-3 record.

Hoffman is expecting things from sophomore Schafer who was selected to the All-Conference team last year as a freshman. "He's a good ballplayer," the coach said.

In his eighth year as Varsity coach at Fowler, Hoffman was the junior varsity coach before moving up to the Varsity.

FULTON

The Pirates from Fulton will be hoping to better their second place finish in the CMAC last year with a conference record of 6-4. They ended the year even at 9-9 in overall play.

"We put our emphasis on winning the league games," said Coach Scot Henry. "We hope to be competitive in the CMAC again this year."

A familiar figure in all Pirates sports' uniforms will be senior Dave Stephens, returning All-Conference hitter who will pitch for Fulton.

"Our pitching success will go as Stephens goes," the coach said. "He had tendonitis last year and wasn't able to pitch too much."

Also returning letter-winners from last season are seniors Brad Clark, playing third base; Darrell Thomas, in right field; and Warren Kent, playing centerfield. Seeing action this year also will be Steve Winsor, a senior first-baseman, and junior Jerry Skaryd at second base.

Coach Henry is hoping to get some pitching help from Lyle Bartan and Tod Walden, both up from last year's junior varsity team.

The Pirates open their season on April 8 with Breckenridge.

"The first few games are non-league," the coach said. "We'll see then how things will go."

ASHLEY

Although the Bears will field a fairly young team, Coach Paul Hornak has a nucleus returning from last year that many coaches would be glad to have. Ashley finished in second place in the Mid-State Athletic Conference with a 23-6 overall record.

"This should be an interesting year," Coach Hornak said. "Last year we had career leading performances from five players."

Key letter winners returning for Ashley are: Mike Litwiller, a senior pitcher with a 381 batting average and 4-0 pitching record. He takes the shortstop position for the Bears when he's not on the mound.

Alan Stehlik, also a senior pitcher, he has a 275 BA, 4-0 pitching record, and doubles up as an outfielder.

Greg Carpenter, senior used as a Designated Hitter with a 338 BA, he has a 7-1 pitching record.

Juniors returning to the Bears' team are Duane Schneider, catcher and pitcher; Rick Saylor, shortstop and third baseman; and Mike Morris, outfielder.

"We will need improvements in the pitching department and will be filling two infield and two outfield spots," Hornak said. "We had to make some position changes for pitchers and do lack depth, so our defense may suffer somewhat. Hopefully, some people will have a good year at the plate to take some of the pressure off our pitching and defense."

In his 12th season as Varsity coach, Hornak feels his team can contend for the title.

"Returning champ, Byron, will probably be favored, but Genesee and Dansville could be strong also in the league race."

OID-ELSIE

A second place finish in the MMB last year will turn into a first place one this year if Marauder Coach Jack Nutter has anything to say about it. His team finished the year at 13-12 overall and 6-4 in the league.

"I believe you'll find Ovid-Elsie right in there hustling and scrapping for that top spot," Coach Nutter said. "We have a good defense and a bunch of kids who can swing the bat. Our strongest point is our speed — we have several starters who can really run."

Among those is returning junior Bob Foreback, probable centerfielder who hit 308 last year and was a base stealing threat everytime he was on base. Also returning is shortstop Jeff Conklin, an all-conference infielder last year who doubles as a pitcher.

Jeff Davis, junior third baseman, Richie Stutzman, at catcher and Rick Keiffer, senior outfielder also return from last years team, and along with Foreback and Conklin form the core for the 1986 team.

Returning seniors Craig Santrucek, Mike Howard and Rob Pohl will be making a bid to fill two infield slots at second and first base.

"If we have a weakness, it could be in the pitching department," Coach Nutter said. "We lost our starter, Terry Wooley, and top reliever, Ford Hier."

The Marauders will be looking toward Conklin, who has a 4-2 record, Joel Bohil, Doug Pumford and Nick Hurst to take care of pitching duties this year.

"Dominate pitching, weather and breaks all play important roles in winning and losing in baseball," said the 13-year Varisty O-E coach. Nutter also has eight years of professional minor league ball to his credit — playing one year with the Tiger organization and seven years with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Bath Athletic Boosters are raising funds to build new high school track for Bees

By MARILYN HESS
DeWitt Editor

The question has often been asked: If Bath's track teams can consistently place high in state competition with only a gravel track to practice on and no home track for competition, what could they do if they had a good track?

The answer may be soon in coming.

The Bath Athletic Boosters has decided to begin raising funds for such a track, and have set a June 1, 1988 target date.

"We've been talking about this for quite a while, and we finally decided we had to stop talking and do something about it," says Boosters President Jim Spagnuolo.

The track plans have not yet received final board of education approval, but no opposition is expected.

The Boosters hired Kalamazoo architect Richard Prince last fall to provide preliminary drawings and cost estimates. The proposed track will cost $120,000, but Supt. James Garner says some of that cost can be defrayed by using volunteers to do some of the work that needs to be done.

MONEY FOR THE PROJECT will be raised by donations and fundraisers. A minimum of 60 percent of the profit from Boosters fundraising projects between now and the June 1988 date will go toward constructing the track.

The new track will circle the Bee football field. Garner says the Boosters originally considered putting the track around the football practice field, or resurfacing the gravel track behind the middle school that the high school team uses to practice.

It will be 8 lanes wide, with facilities for the field events such as long jump, high jump, and pole vault. To build the track, the existing home and visitor bleachers will have to be moved back, as well as the flagpoles on the south end of the field. The track will be surrounded by a 4-foot high fence.

TRACK AND CROSS-COUNTRY Coach

Mel Comeau was involved in drawing up the plans, as well as other members of the Boosters' track committee. This committee will oversee the fundraising and construction of the new facility.

Garner says there is a chance that the track could be constructed sooner than 1988, if the Boosters raise a large portion of the money and the school board decides to step in with a loan. He says grants and other funding avenues will be explored.

The first fundraiser for the track will be a 300 Club raffle, says Spagnuolo, and the $60 tickets will be on sale sometime this month through June, when the first drawing will be held.

A boxing match fundraiser has also been scheduled for April 12 in the high school gym.

To help with the fundraising projects, or to donate money toward the track, contact Spagnuolo at 641-6587.

Positive People Know The Facts Positive People Build for The Future Positive People Say "No" to Recall SEVEN GOOD REASONS TO SAY "NO" TO RECALL:

- Are School Board members paid? No. They receive no compensation for their efforts.
- Is Recall the only way to have your interests represented? No. Regular school elections allow voters in the district the opportunity to elect people of their choice.
- Does the Recall effort consider the educational future of our children? No. The Recall effort hurts the educational future of our children and is based solely on one difficult decision made by our board.
- Will recalling our school board provide for stability in our school system? No. The 23 years of experience our current board has cannot be replaced overnight and will, in fact, take many years to regain the stability.
- Do all Positive People think that bussing and extracurriculars should have been cut? No, not necessarily. Some may disagree with this decision, but recall is designed to remove people from office who have committed illegal or immoral acts. Our board has done neither.
- Is Recall the answer to any school district's problems? No. Recall serves only to divide a community and destroys the foundation of education itself.
- "I don't have kids in school so can I let others decide the recall issue?" No. Recall impacts the total community. Our image will suffer, jobs will be lost, our community's growth will be impeded, and our children's future will be harmed.

Girls high school softball is up and coming sport in area

By RHONDA GAFFNEY
Sports Editor

Want an enjoyable way to spend a weekday afternoon or Saturday morning in the fine Michigan spring weather? Take in a girls high school softball game.

There's some strong talent on area clubs as evidenced by a preview of teams from Fowler, St. Johns and Ashley in this week's Clinton County News. Look for close-ups on teams from Ovid-Elsie, Fulton and Pewamo-Westphalia in next week's edition.

FOWLER

The Fowler Eagles will feature a senior-dominated lineup with five letter-winners returning for Coach Betty Smith this year. All five seniors are in their fourth season of Varsity ball for Fowler.

Slated to return are Brenda Kohagen, playing third base; Keri Miller, pitcher; Lisa Miller, outfield; Lauri Miller, shortstop and second base; and Mary Beth Thelen, catcher.

"These girls are all excellent ballplayers," Coach Smith said. "They were part of the team that went to the State quarterfinals two years ago."

Also returning from last year are juniors Geri Thelen, who will be playing second base and in the outfield, Theresa Feldpausch, pitching and playing first base, and Julie McNamara, playing in the outfield.

Last year's team finished the season with an 11-14 record and were in the middle of the pack in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference with a 4-5 record.

"We should have better pitching and catching this year," Smith said. "We're young, but very enthusiastic — we're looking forward to a good season."

In her tenth season as Fowler's softball coach, Smith is "really excited. Every year is a new year," she said.

ST. JOHNS

St. Johns' coach Paul Sternburgh has a powerhouse returning for him this year with a host of talented senior and junior letter-winners. They have some big goals set for themselves as a team.

"Our main goal is to win the MMB conference," Sternburgh said. "We'd like to revenge our loss to Chesaning last year — we felt we should have beaten them. Secondly, we'd like to be invited back to the Softball Classic in Lansing and win that again. No one has ever repeated and it would be nice to be the first team to do that."

Sure to see a lot of action for the Redwings will be returners: Brenda Eiseler, pitcher and first base; Mary Murphy, catcher and outfield; Karen Simon, first base; Angie Myszak, second base; Lara Foy, shortstop and pitcher; Amy Schmidt, third base; and outfielders, Sherri Nichols, Debbie Bensinger and Missy Vitek.

Eiseler had a whopping 600 batting average at one time last season before going into a mid-year slump. She ended the year batting 475.

The Redwings ended the year in second place in the MMB with a 18-7 overall record. They won the Mason Invitational as well as the Lansing Softball Classic against teams like Everett, Grand Ledge and Holt.

"Potentially on paper, this team has a chance to go a long way," Coach Sternburgh said. "They had some good experience playing last summer, and have played together as a team in other sports."

"We're really pretty laid back and relaxed, but the discipline is there when it needs to be. They do what has to be done to win the game," the coach said.

ASHLEY

A young team and a first year coach who is "very excited about coaching," should make for an exciting season for the Ashley Bears softball team.

Coach Jim Lytle brings years of experience in coaching ladies fast pitch with him into his job as the girls softball coach. "I'm certainly looking forward to coaching," he said. "It should be fun."

Returning for Ashley will be juniors Tina Frederick, playing left field, Theresa Fabus, catcher for the Bears, DeAnn Gross, the pitcher, and Lori Haruska, in the third base position.

"It's a relatively inexperienced team," Lytle said. "The underclassman got into four or five games last year. It's hard to tell at the beginning of the year how much they will have improved."

The Bears finished last year with a 13-17 overall record and were 3-5 in the Mid-State Athletic Conference.

"We've set goals for ourselves of winning the league and getting into the Districts," the coach said. "I think we can do it."

East Essex students kept busy with annual science fair projects

Students at East Essex Elementary School were kept busy in past weeks preparing projects for the Third Annual Science Fair held last week.

Each student was required to enter one project for show at the fair with entries judged according to grade level. Categories included Earth Science, Physical Science, and Biological Science.

Kindergarten through fifth grade students were provided with resource materials by their classroom teachers, but all projects were assembled independently by the students. Projects were judged by members of the St. Johns High School Science Dept. teaching staff who volunteered an evening of their time to help at the Fair.

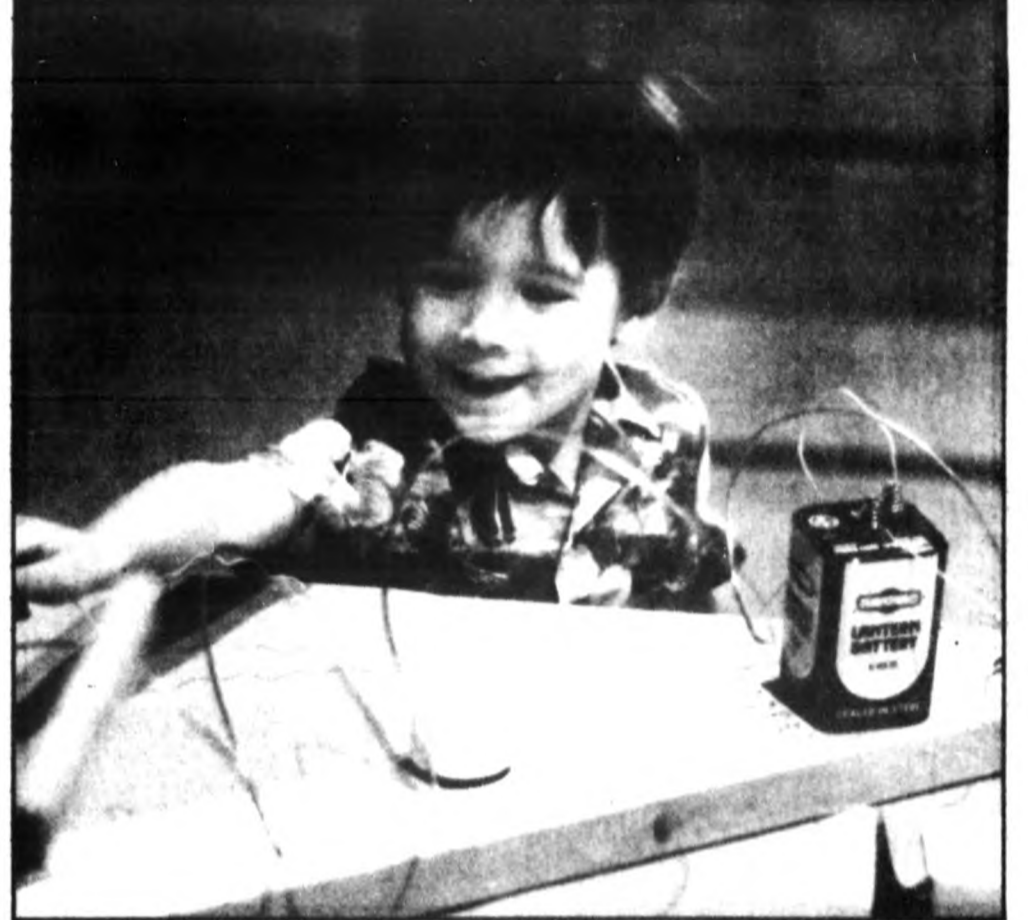

Parents, family members and friends viewed the completed projects at an Open House held at the school on March 26. Earlier that day, Earl Gabriel, superintendent of St. Johns schools, presented ribbons and pins to the award winners at a special school assembly.
