150th first lady

Jane Piatt is honored

By LORA THOM
Associate Editor

Volunteer services are nothing new to Jane Ingersoll Piatt, who has accepted challenges and changes throughout the 40 years she has committed herself to being an educator.

administrator, social worker, military woman and volunteer.

Piatt, 78, of Eagle was chosen by the award committee at the state level to represent Clinton County and receive the prestigious award for the Michigan 150 First Lady for contributing to her community, Michigan, and the nation in a way that has a lasting impact, but whose contributions often go unnoticed.

Her skill and influence as a woman of strength and compassion, have all evolved from a spirit that sees every obstacle as a challenge, and every challenge as an opportunity.

Piatt has brought a long career of service to education and community involvement to her Michigan 150th First Lady award.

Piatt receives satisfaction out of her volunteer work. "I was surprised to have been nominated for the award, because I'm not that unique at all when I look around and see what my friends continue to accomplish in their lives."

Christmas notes

ST. JOHNS Following are various Christmas events planned for the next several weeks in St. Johns.

Santa Claus arrives by helicopter at the Southpoint Mall on Saturday, Nov. 21, at 10:45 a.m. He will visit with children between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. on that date and also on Saturday, Dec. 5.

The annual Santa Claus parade is set for Friday, Nov. 27, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Parade participants should meet in front of Clinton Home Center on Railroad St., at 6 p.m. Following the parade, carols will be sung on the courthouse lawn and the Christmas tree lighting ceremony will take place. Beginning at approximately 7:30 p.m., Santa will visit with children at the UAW Hall downtown. Candy for the children is being provided by JC Penney.

Other Christmas events include free children's movies on Dec. 5 and 19 at 2 p.m., at Cinema III Theatres in the Southpoint Mall; an Arts and Crafts Show at the Mall on Dec. 5-6; and an Antique and Collectible Show, also at the Mall, on Dec. 12-13.

For details on any event, call the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce office at 224-7248.

St. Johns taxes ready

1987 school and county property tax notices will be sent out on Dec. 1, with a due date for payment of taxes set for Feb. 14, according to city of St. Johns officials. Billings for past due city taxes, (due Aug. 14), will be included in the winter tax billing.

The city's sidewalk improvement plan was successful, with over 3,700 linear feet of sidewalk replaced this year, totaling over $19,000 in reimbursements. The plan reimbursed property owners $1 per square foot for replacement of damaged sidewalk and installation of new walkways.

Persons who are interested in participating in the program next summer should call city offices in order to be listed as a sidewalk replacement area.

City officials urge all motorists not to attempt to travel on Townsend Road between US-27 and Lansing Street during the next several months. Sewer mains are currently being installed and the street is closed to all through traffic.

Throughout the winter months, St. Johns Water Department personnel will check city residents' indoor water meters to make sure they are operating properly. They will also examine seals to prevent leaking. Pictured identification cards are issued to all city workers examining the meters.

According to the water department, problems can be avoided by taking the following precautions:

- Make sure all basement windows and outside basement entrances are closed.

- Make sure there is sufficient heat in your basement, crawl space, or room where the water meter is located; if sufficient heat is not available, wrap the meter and pipes with insulation.

- If you leave your home vacant for an extended period of time, have it checked periodically by a friend.

'Peter Pan' flying high

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Associate Editor

"I'm flying!"

When the curtain rises on the St. Johns High School Theatre Department's production of "Peter Pan" this Friday, (Nov. 20), not only will Lori Nichols, in the lead role of Peter Pan, fly — four other students will sprout wings also.

Dionne O'Dell as Wendy, Nathan Lounds as John, Terry Schwartzkopf as Michael, and Moriah Glew as Jane, all gain the magical power to fly thanks to Peter Pan — along with more than a little help from backstage hands and an intricate flying system.

According to Director Barb Markman, the flying system being used for Peter Pan came via the Jackson Community Players who in turn got the original idea from the Clio Civic Players.

"Clio did all the figuring out as far as the pulleys, wires, and harnesses goes," Markman says. "We have capitalized on their knowledge."

"One person who was most instrumental in helping Clio develop their system — and who has helped us here ten-fold, is Larry Emmerling."

EMMERLING, an executive with the Smetzler Corp., helped deliver and install the system in the SJHS auditorium on Oct. 31.

"He helped us rig the system," Markman says. "The characters who fly in the production tried out the harnesses and got used to the sensation of flying during that first practice."

"We also had all the fathers of the students who fly at the initial practice so they could see for themselves all the safety factors which are built into the system. Until that point, we had parents who were a lot more nervous than the characters themselves were about flying!"

Before Markman came across the flying system used in the production at Jackson this summer, she feared that the school might not be able to perform "Peter Pan" as the fall musical.

"The only other system we knew of was one that Everett High School had used last year which cost $3,000 — that was definitely a little rich for our blood," she says. "We were certainly very happy when we found the one being used at Jackson."

The unseen "helping hands" which lift Peter and the others off the stage belong to Josh Glew, Terry Hart, Noel Heikkinen, Laura Matice, Mike McGee, Brad Moore, Chris Salisbury, Rich Shoup, Rick Smith, Bud Suchek, and Steve Suchek. Along with their duties as flying crew personnel, the helpers have other roles in the play, including cast members, set movers, and a stage manager.

BESIDES PETER, other main characters in the production are: Gerry Nichols as Captain Hook, Chris Hart as the Crocodile, and Christy Dove as Tiger Lilly. Assisting with the direction of the musical are William Tennent, orchestra director, Don Valentine, vocal director, and Sue Lounds, costume director.

The cast, crew, and directors have been working since September to ready "Peter Pan" for its Nov. 20-22 show dates.

"The lights, sets, props, orchestra — getting all these elements to come together is a challenge," Markman says, "but when it does, there is so much pleasure for everyone involved. We work very hard to make everything go smoothly."

"Much of the credit for the success of the theatre program at St. Johns High School goes to the parents for allowing their children to spend the amount of time which is required."

"We demand excellence — and the parents and their kids give us excellence."

Performance times for "Peter Pan" are Nov. 20 and 21 at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p.m. Because of ticket demands, approximately 100 tickets were left for each performance, as of last week.

PETER PAN, portrayed by Lori Nichols, and Terry Schwartzkopf as Michael, will be "flying" during the St. Johns High School Theatre Department's fall musical "Peter Pan" this weekend.

Fowler school board salutes extra effort

The Fowler Board of Education presented special "Recognition Certificates" to Dennis Whitlock and Jeanette Miller at its meeting Nov. 16.

Whitlock, a teacher in the Fowler school system, received the award for volunteering time before and after school hours and during lunch hours to work as an advisor for the Students Against Drunk Driving organization. Fowler High School students have an active SADD association.

A Fowler area resident, Miller was recognized for organizing the PTO carnival at Waldron Elementary School. Proceeds raised from the carnival benefit all of the children in the school, Fowler Supt. Mary Ann Chartrand says.

The school board presents the awards to students, employees, or community members who have made significant contributions to Fowler schools. Recipients are nominated by employees or community members, with winners selected following a monthly review by board members.

AWARD NOMINATION forms are available in school offices.

In other school news, several staff changes were made at both the high school and middle school beginning with the 1987-88 school year as a result of a continued decline in high school enrollment. Because the board is obligated by its master agreement with the teachers' union to make assignments based on seniority as well as on certification and qualifications, adjustments effected the staffs at the high school and Waldron Elementary School.

Charles Trierweiler was moved from the high school physical education classes to the DK-8 PE classes at Waldron, with Dennis Smith assigned to high school PE classes along with government classes. Kim Spalsbury was reassigned to a full-time position, picking up a government class and speech, as well as English classes he had previously taught.

Betsy Smith, former K-8 PE teacher, moved to 4-6 science at Waldron; Shawn Silver, who had taught 4-6 science, was assigned as a 6-8 math teacher; and Cheryl Dodd was laid off as 6-8 math teacher.

Other teachers received minor assignment revisions. The school also is in the process of appointing members to a Health Education Advisory Committee which will formulate a policy on human sexuality. The policy will become the basis for the district's K-12 curriculum covering aspects of human growth and reproduction health education.

The board is looking for a cross-section of people to serve on the committee. Parents with children in school, local clergy, teachers, administrators, community health professionals, students, and other interested persons who would like to serve on the committee should contact Chartrand at 593-2296.

Concerned parents question bus scheduling changes, procedures

To the Editor:

I am concerned about the change in format for children attending Swegles from the east side of US-27. Crossing guards were eliminated and bus schedules were sent home.

The first day, (Monday, Nov. 3), none of the kindergarteners of the afternoon class in our neighborhood ever saw the bus; leaving the kids stranded at the corner park.

On the home from school run that afternoon, the bus was seen driving down Kibbee Street much faster than is acceptable in a residential area.

Concern was expressed by myself and other people in the area to the school about the scheduling situation and the need for supervision of the children since none of them have ever ridden on the bus before.

On Tuesday, the bus left behind a number of children (the fourth grade hadn't even gotten out of school yet). My daughter told the driver about this and went to get her friend from the fourth grade. Upon trying to return to the bus, the door was shut in front of her and she was left standing there along with seven other children without a ride.

Instead of calling the parents, a man from the bus garage came to get and deliver the children.

We, as parents, have told our children never to ride with strangers. This situation presented the children with an uncomfortable experience that was frightening for some.

In dealing with young children, patience and supervision are necessary when a new procedure is introduced. Our children were treated rudely and without consideration by the bus driver, and were not supervised by anyone at the school to make sure for the first few times that everyone went where they belonged.

Most of the parents in this area liked having the crossing guard, but if the change to busing is deemed necessary it should have been handled in a more responsible and considerate manner.

At risk.

By Gary Randall

An Auditor General report confirms that the Department of Corrections is placing the public at significant risk. The recently-released audit showed that nearly 45 percent of prisoners in five prisons and camps audited were "assigned to less restrictive security than provided for by policy."

The report also shows that some of the waivers and departures from higher security were made without documented approval. Errors were sometimes made in determining prisoner security levels by not including a record of all major misconduct tickets or even major pending felony charges.

This is not a new problem, but seems to be more pervasive than was first thought. Placing higher security level inmates in low security settings of camp and community placement often places dangerous people inappropriately — exposing them to the public.

Previous legislative attempts to stop the practice have been resisted, but the time has come for the legislature to stand firm.

The Republican Vice-Chair of the House Corrections Committee, Rep. William Van Regenmorter, is asking the committee to investigate the Auditor General's report, and to request responses from the Department of Corrections. This is an alarming situation that needs to be rectified as quickly as possible.

Gary Randall represents Clinton County in the Michigan House of Representatives.

United Way drive is success

The Clinton County Capital Area United Way Campaign was a tremendous success! The amount reported at the final breakfast held Nov. 10 at the Hilton Inn was $88,103. This represents 105 percent of the county goal, which was $83,842, and a 14.9 percent increase over 1986 contributions.

A number of factors resulted in this success. Contributions by the major corporations - and their employees - played a key role.

Major contributions to the campaign were made by Sealed Power, Federal Mogul, Clinton Bank, Old Kent Bank, Clinton Memorial Hospital, ITT Hancock Engineering, Keelean Buick-Pontiac-GMC, M&M Restaurant Supply, Capital Federal Savings Bank, Goff's, and Krogers.

The contributions from the employees of these companies combined with the corporate gifts exceeded $1,000 each.

Another key to the success of this campaign was its expansion into areas that had not previously been supporters or had not been approached.

Such groups as the Clinton County employees and the area doctors increased their contributions by 100 percent or more, while the restaurant and agricultural groups each contributed a $1,000 in their first year of separate solicitation.

Tom Sullivan, chairman of this year's Clinton County Campaign says, "I want to express my appreciation to all of the team captains who worked on the campaign, and all of the account volunteers who worked at the individual businesses, but most importantly I want to thank the hundreds of donors who through their contributions have supported the 53 agencies of the CAUW.

"I would also like to thank the companies who have made corporate contributions for their generous support. It is only through these contributions that the needed services of the agencies can be provided to the residents of Clinton County."

CCISD plans special events for 25th anniversary celebration

The staff and students of the Clinton County Intermediate School District have a day-long celebration planned for area residents on Wednesday, Nov. 18, as they take part in the 25th anniversary of the CCISD. Festivities begin at 9 a.m., with parents, guardians, and other interested persons invited to attend.

The adult TMI class, taught by Mike Watson with Kathy Droste as an aide, will prepare and arrange refreshments for all the guests. In addition to viewing the facility and various student activities in each classroom, guests will enjoy many other planned events.

Students in the preschool program, under the direction of Gwyn Jansen, Susan Petty, and Pat Weston-Howe, have prepared a friendly welcome table, with a raffle ticket sale coordinated by SXI teacher Maggie Watson. Drawings for prize winners will take place throughout the day.

CCISD students have colored and painted special invitations to their families which were designed by Carrie Johnson, teacher of the SMI adult class. Cake, punch, and coffee will be served to students and guests throughout the day until 3 p.m. Janice Maier, TMI teacher, is the coordinator for the various special activities which will be presented by different classes. The anniversary celebration concludes at 3 with a balloon launch. A total of 100 red, white, and blue helium-filled balloons will rise into the sky before

Quilt show proceeds will benefit RAVE

The pews of the United Church of Ovid were filled to overflowing on Oct. 23 and 24 - but not by the regular congregation. The seats were covered by over 300 handmade quilts and the aisles were filled with more than 350 quilt lovers from four states.

A total of $1,070 was raised at the show to benefit the Relief After Violent Encounter program in Clinton County. Raven House, sponsored by RAVE, opened this summer in Fowler, providing shelter for women and children who are victims of domestic violence.

The quilts on display were judged by persons attending the show, with the first place quilt made by Kay Hufnagel of Fowler. Her anniversary piece quilt with a tulip basket design won her a weekend package for two at the Lansing Hilton valued at $89.95.

Honorary mention was given to the Pohl anniversary quilt, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Norbery Pohl of Fowler. The quilt consisted of nine squares, each hand-designed by one of the Pohl's nine children and their families.

"The show was generally cost free," says Florence Parmenter, organizer of the show and RAVE advocate, "because of all the wonderful people who helped and gave."

Daily prizes which were donated included gift certificates for Eddie O'Flynn restaurant of Owosso, the Portland Golf Course, the Heritage House of Chesaning, and the Horseshoe Cafe in Owosso. Three pillows were also donated.

Music for the show was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ferden, who played the organ and saw.

"It's in the Bag" by Bob Beck

The turkey on your dinner table isn't what it used to be. Fifty years ago, turkeys were long-legged, narrow breasted creatures. The meat they yielded was generally tough and there wasn't much of it.

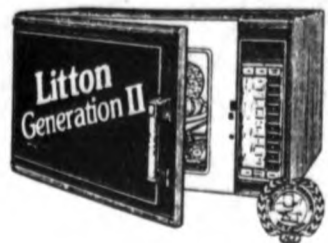

The birds of yesteryear ate home-formulated feed concoctions, but many preferred to scavenge on backyard seeds and whatever. Nowadays, turkeys are more tender, broader-breasted and have a larger proportion of white meat. Advances in feed diets have made the big difference.

It used to be that turkeys made their appearance around Thanksgiving, stayed on through the holidays and then vanished in the New Year along with the last picked-over carcass in the refrigerator.

Not any more! The turkey's popularity cycle has become year-round with the help of a host of new delicatessen turkey items ... frankfurters, ham, pastrami, bologna, salami and sausage, all processed from the dark meat of the turkey. Fifteen years ago 90 percent of the turkeys produced were marketed whole - in the last 60 days of the year. Today, half the turkeys sold are cut up and sold year-round in segregated parts.

There's a revolution going on in the turkey industry and Beck's has the "solution" to the "revolution". Buy all your turkey products here and make every day Thanksgiving.

Sunshine Club meets

By BINA OBERLIN

The Sunshine Club met at my home on Nov. 5. There were 17 members and 3 guests present. Guests were Andra Gidert, Jack and Robert Oberlin.

After the delicious meal, President Diana Bradley called the meeting to order, opening with a Bible reading by Mildred Bradley from Psalms 95: 1-7, and from the Upper Room.

Roll call was answered with what each was thankful for. Minutes and treasury report was read and approved. There was one correction made. In last month's meeting it was stated to bring no more than three items for the white elephant sale. Bina Oberlin was auctioneer for the sale, and started the calling for the next club.

Lynette Wager and Anita Long wanted to be removed from the membership list. Josie Oberlin said she would take May club for Twila Swanson as she will be having eye surgery at that time and would be unable to attend meetings.

A letter was read from Eagle village. Diana Bradley reported on the work Charlie Brown does, and it was voted to send some money to him again this year.

Old business was a discussion about having a September meeting. Jo Kridner made a motion and it was seconded by Carolyn Smith to meet in September. Barbara Wilson won the door prize which was a wall hanging. Members agreed to bring something for the Christmas boxes we put together for the shut-ins.

Cards were signed to send to Sylvia Jelinek and Joann Halteman. Mildred Bradley motioned to adjourn and it was seconded by Helen Cordray. The meeting was closed with benediction.

Family focus Thanksgiving

By Dawn Harris

Thanksgiving is next week and I know your house will soon be filling up with guests. This year why not free up a little more time to spend with your guests. One good way to give yourself a little extra time is to use your microwave more.

In fact, your whole Thanksgiving meal can be prepared in the microwave oven without sacrificing the taste, texture, and appearance of your dishes.

In my article today I have included a few tips that I hope will help ensure you a delicious Thanksgiving dinner.

A 6- to 12-pound turkey cooks up beautifully in a microwave oven. For a nice appearance and texture I recommend brushing the turkey with two tablespoons of brown bouquet sauce and two tablespoons of melted butter. Also, if you cook the bird in a cooking bag with 1/2 cup of water, broth, or white wine, the meat will be moist and tender.

Cook your turkey at medium high for 12 to 15 minutes per pound. Pull the turkey out when it reaches 170 degrees. Then let it sit 10 to 20 minutes until it reaches an internal temperature of 190 degrees.

Your microwave oven will be a big time saver if you remember to cook your vegetables and dessert in it. Vegetables come out crisp and bright and desserts are cooked in half the time.

Finally, don't count your oven out when it comes to making special treats like candy, appetizers, and breads. In my article today I have included a quick bread that I make every Thanksgiving. I hope you enjoy it too!

Pumpkin Nut Bread
1 cup all purpose flour
3/4 cup sugar (half packed brown, if desired)
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. pumpkin pie spice or cinnamon
1/2 cup cooking oil
2 eggs
1/2 cup chopped nuts, optional
1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin

Blend ingredients in mixing bowl at low speed for 15 seconds, beat at medium speed 1 minute. Spread batter in 9 by 5 inch loaf dish lined on bottom with wax paper. Shield ends of loaf with 2 inch wide strips of foil, covering 1 inch batter and molding remainder around handles. Center loaf dish on inverted saucer in oven. Microwave at 50 percent (medium) for 9 minutes, rotating 1/4 turn every 3 minutes. Remove foil.

Increase power to high. Microwave 2 to 5 minutes. If using clear glass dish, check for doneness by looking through bottom. No unbaked batter should appear in center. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes before removing from dish.

Variations: carrot nut bread, substitute 1 1/2 cups shredded carrots for the pumpkin; zucchini bread, substitute 1 1/2 cups shredded, unpared zucchini for the pumpkin; applesauce bread, substitute 1 cup sweetened applesauce for the pumpkin.

St. Johns Schools honors people who serve as 'support personnel'

By BOB KOGER
SJHS Publicist

During the celebration of American Education Week, Nov. 15-21, St. Johns Public Schools has designated Wednesday, Nov. 18, as "Support Personnel Day." On this day the district plans to recognize individuals directly involved in the educational process who are often unseen by the public eye.

The concern, time, hard work, effort, and dedication given by the schools' support staffs are key elements in the day-to-day functions of all educational institutions. The schools' instructional staff is aware and appreciative of the assistance provided for them by secretaries, custodians, aides, and bus drivers.

During "Support Personnel Day" the following support staff groups in the St. Johns district will be honored:

The food service staff has to get up early to meet trucks which deliver the supplies necessary to prepare, deliver, and serve hundreds of meals across the school district. Not only does the food service staff cook, serve, and clean, they also take time to decorate the cafeteria and serving lines on special occasions — as well as dress up in costumes — to make holidays even more special. Their efforts and love are appreciated by students and staff alike.

Maintenance crews are always "Johnny on the spot," when windows are broken, lights do not function, or equipment won't work properly. Their concern for not interrupting teachers and students, adjusting work schedules to get to problems, friendly smile and pleasant words to students and staff, and dedicated concern to get all work completed efficiently is their contribution to the educational process.

Bus garage staff — Without the work of a good bus garage mechanic, bus cleaner, dispatcher, and coordinator, the trip to school — or to school events — would not be possible. The staff at the district bus garage this year not only put in many hours to keep the "Big Yellow" moving, they also remodeled their work place, painted the exteriors of buildings, repainted the bus garage sign, and spruced up the appearance of buses by painting the wheels and trim. They are very special people.

Building custodians not only have the job of sweeping the floors, washing boards, cleaning restrooms, and polishing windows, they also monitor students' behavior in the halls after teachers and staff members have left for the day. And what about the comforting words given to students who have broken up with boyfriends or girlfriends, can't find a parent, or have missed a ride home? These are other things which make the custodial staff special.

The school secretary answers a barrage of questions daily — "I forgot my lunch money," "Could you get a message to my daughter," "I'll need a sub tomorrow,"

"Do we have another ream of paper," "I've got to see the principal," "What time will conferences begin."

Not only is the school secretary expected to have the right answer to every question and be able to type, file, answer phones, and schedule appointments, at times she must also be a nurse, missing persons bureau, lending institution for lunch money, message runner, and friendly face in the office. The task is massive, and they perform their many jobs capably.

School aides are another support staff group who wear a variety of "hats." They jump into the trenches and head to the playground with the onrushing army of students at lunch and recess. It is a misconception to believe that all school aides do is help teachers correct papers and run messages. They are also arbitrator of games, judge of disputes, safety officer for behavior, reference guide to game rules, lunchroom supervisor, fill-ins for secretaries and school librarians. Without their service, the educational process would be hampered.

Bus drivers — Multiply the demands of individuals in a typical family car trip by 30, 40, or 50, and the job undertaken by school bus drivers daily comes into focus. Along with being sure that all safety measures in the operation of buses have been met, drivers attempt to satisfy the needs of their passengers as to heat, room, behavior, estimated time of arrival, and much more.

Receiving room personnel have the job of ordering, invoicing, dividing, distributing and accounting for the multitude of supplies used in the day-to-day operation of the school district. All the cleaning materials, books, paper, office supplies, maintenance materials, pens, equipment needs, and printing and duplicating materials go through the district receiving room. Thanks to the efforts of these people, the various schools receive the supplies necessary for effective operation.

Temporary replacements — Not only is there a list of substitute teachers available for use when teachers are ill or on vacations, a listing of temporary replacements for the school's support staff is also a necessity. It is not always easy for these people to quickly adjust their personal schedules to help the district cover their needs, and their efforts are appreciated.

The St. Johns School District applauds the efforts of its support staff on Nov. 18 — and every day.

Piatt worthy recipient of award

Piatt is the national chairperson for the Women's Overseas Service League of Oral History. She was the first woman in Clinton County to have recorded her military experiences. There are about 3,500 members with 75 tapes recorded. She admires the courageous military women who followed missions to Korea, Vietnam, and France, among other overseas experiences.

Their capacities astonish her and she seeks their stories. She encourages veterans to talk about their war experiences who blazed trails in their lives and careers. "Tell us about it, let us learn from you," says Piatt.

"The enlisted women were as patriotic as the men were; they, too, are a part of history and it is equally as important to preserve their information for future generations to listen to and understand their point of views," says Piatt.

Piatt majored in home economics and graduated from Michigan State University in June of 1930 with a bachelor's degree in institutional management. In 1942 she acquired a Master's degree in child development and parent education from the University of Michigan.

She completed her master's research at Merrill-Palmer, Detroit, one of the first nursery training schools in the U.S., which is now a part of Wayne State University.

In 1932 she began her first nursery school in Lansing, in 1960-67 she taught pre-school at the Beekman Center, followed by five years of teaching special education in Lansing.

"I always wanted a family and children, but I reared thousands of others," claims Piatt.

She was a member of the Mid-Michigan Health Advisory Board, The Junior League, was President of the Lansing Historical Society, a volunteer to the Surgical Lounge of Sparrow Hospital, Lansing, and worked at the YWCA of Lansing for six years.

Piatt has also spoken about her military life and overseas experiences of 1942 to 1967 to child study and parent clubs, church groups, and has sung in the 39ers Chorus, a group of senior citizens in the Waverly district, and has delivered meals to housebound people; a partial list of her volunteer activities.

Piatt first joined the army as a food management nutritionist. She turned the army cafeteria style into a family service type restaurant by getting rid of trays, revising the menus, and setting up tables with tablecloths and vases of flowers to give a hometown effect.

The results were satisfying. "We had to serve 300 people, but we did so well that we were feeding 1,000 people because of our food, service, and atmosphere," says Piatt.

Piatt advanced quickly in her military jobs because of her determination and willingness to do the best job possible. "I was promoted to first mess sergeant in the officer's club, but I didn't stay in that position very long because negro women weren't allowed in the club."

Piatt would never work under conditions which discriminated against people, race, or religion. "I left quite a few jobs because the morals of the people or their actions were illegal or unjustifiable which tended to hurt other people's sense of belonging, pride or well being."

Retirement in 1974 brought Piatt many choices, but she chose volunteer services to work with and for people; a challenge she has continued to tackle with vigor, vision, and a deep humanitarian love.

Financial Focus Buying Bonds

By Chuck Dicken

If you invest in bonds or mutual funds that include bond funds, reading Ben Weberman's "Forbes" column could be beneficial to you.

A senior editor of "Forbes" magazine who has covered the capital markets for many years, Weberman keeps his readers abreast of current bond yields and offers valuable information about individual bond issues and bond mutual funds.

Several months ago, he discussed advertised yields on some of the bond funds dealing in U.S. government securities. If you have invested or plan to invest in one of these mutual funds, a basic review of how they manage their bond portfolios is valuable.

More income generally requires more risk. For example, if U.S. treasuries are paying 7 percent and you find an investment offering 10 percent, then to get this additional 3 percent income, you must accept a risk above which the U.S. treasury obligation offers.

For example, let's say you buy a $10,000 bond that pays 7 percent and matures on June 1. If you hold the bond until that time, you will receive $700 interest each year and on June 1, you will get your original $10,000 back.

But, what if you want to sell your bond before then? There is generally a ready market, but the amount you receive is based on the interest rates at that time. For example, if the rate on bonds of similar quality and maturity is 6 percent, your 7 percent bond would bring a premium, or profit, over its purchase price.

On the other hand, if the current rate is 8 percent, your 7 percent bond would sell at a discount or less than you paid for it.

In our example, an individual 7 percent bond pays a regular, stated interest until it matures. This way, you know exactly how much income you will receive each year. But with a bond mutual fund, since it is a professionally managed portfolio of many bonds, your interest depends on how much income the portfolio generates.

As Weberman explains, "you can't make a pool of 8 percent bonds yield 10 percent." How, then, can many of the "enhanced" or high yield funds do - or claim to do - this?

One way yields are enhanced, or increased, is by writing covered options of the bonds held in the portfolio. Here, the fund manager can take the premium received from the sale of the call option and distribute it as income.

Weberman maintains this is not income, but a return of principal. Regardless, if the market value of the underlying security drops due to a rise in interest rates, the option premium buffers that drop somewhat.

But, if interest rates fall and the security rises in market value, the buyer of the option may call the bond and thus eliminate any potential profit. In other words, for a little additional income, the fund manager has sacrificed the possibility of gain.

As Weberman said, "if someone told you he could pour an 8 ounce beer into a glass and make it 10 ounces, you'd be a little suspicious, wouldn't you?"

IRS hopes to ease tax preparation

The Internal Revenue Service has issued new publications to inform taxpayers about changes in tax laws for Individual Retirement Accounts and changes regarding taxes of children and other dependents.

Award goes to area Slender Center

Mary Ann Green, owner and consultant of the St. Johns Slender Center, was honored recently at the National Slender Convention held in the Radisson Hotel in Madison, Wis. Green was elected to the advisory board of the National Slender Center, and her St. Johns center was awarded the outstanding service award for placing children and other dependents. Publication 923, "New Rules for IRAs," explains new rules which may reduce or eliminate IRA deductions for some taxpayers who are covered by a retirement plan at their place of employment. The publication includes a chart for individuals who are in retirement plans to see if their deductions may be phased out. It also has a worksheet for figuring partial IRA deductions.

Publication 922, "New Tax Rules for Children and Dependents," will help parents understand new laws effecting them. As a result of the 1986 Tax Reform Act, many children who have never filed tax returns before may have to do so.

United Way nets support

Employees of Goff's and Capitol Federal Savings demonstrated their support for helping the local community through the Capital Area United Way. Judy Personious, campaign coordinator at Goff's, reports that St. Johns employees contributed $908 which will be matched by the corporation. Capitol Federal Savings Branch Manager Ken Kralik acted as coordinator for the campaign. He reports a 459 percent increase in their employee gift.

It was a "game of inches." As is the case in so many athletic events, the outcome of last week's Class D football playoff game between Fowler and Sand Creek which the Eagles lost 14-12 hinged on inches.

A couple of inches — and Fowler would have converted on a "fourth-and-inches" play late in the game at the Sand Creek 20-yard line.

A couple of inches — and the Eagles' field goal attempt, also in the fourth quarter, would not have been blocked.

A couple of inches — and the defensive line would have held Sand Creek out of the endzone on their first score of the game.

All the "inches" fell in favor of the Sand Creek Aggies.

"Someone always has to lose — this time it was our turn," Fowler Coach Steve Spicer said. "Our kids played hard and well — we came a long way from the beginning of the season. It was a good year."

"I felt we matched up evenly with them (Sand Creek). If we played them ten times, we'd probably win five of the ten games. They were a good team."

PERFECT WEATHER conditions at Jackson High School's Withington Stadium last Friday night saw the game open with a change of possession. When the Aggies were forced to punt with just over 2 minutes left in the first quarter, a Fowler miscue gave them the ball in good field position on the Eagle 30-yard line.

Sand Creek moved the ball inside the 10-yard line, and the middle of the Fowler defensive line held firm on three consecutive plays before Kevin Pickford snuck into the endzone on a fourth-and-goal situation. The extra point made the score 7-0 in favor of the Aggies with 10:41 left in the half.

On the Eagles' ensuing possession, runs by Don Simon and Jeff Miller gained first down yardage for Fowler. Quarterback Matt Hufnagel completed passes to Tony Bertram and Scott Koenigsnecht to put the Eagles in striking distance on the Aggie 29-yard line.

A pretty 12-yard run around the right end of the line by Miller, and following short yardage gains by the junior back and Simon left the Eagles poised to strike on the Sand Creek 3-yard mark. Again, the Aggies showed their defensive might, throwing Hufnagel for a loss, and gaining control of the ball with 4:44 left in the half.

The Eagles regrouped quickly however, with Joe Plowman recovering an Aggie fumble on their second play from scrimmage. Runs by Miller carried the ball down to the 2-yard line, and a perfect strike from Hufnagel to Bertram in the endzone put Fowler on the board at the 1:23 mark. Ron Schafer's PAT was blocked, making the score 7-6.

FOWLER TOOK the lead on their first possession of the second half when Miller took the ball in from the 1-yard line following a long drive. The Eagles' 2-point conversion attempt was no good, resulting in a 12-7 score.

Despite outstanding defensive plays by the entire Eagle squad, Sand Creek scored with time running out in the third quarter. The PAT gave them a slim 14-12 lead.

The Eagles' closing fourth period rally featured a one-handed grab of a Hufnagel pass by Scott Koenigsnecht which brought Fowler down to the Aggie 27-yard line. That set up Fowler's field goal attempt which was blocked.

Fowler's defense held and Sand Creek was forced to punt on their possession. Senior Andy Thelen returned the punt to the Aggie 43-yard line, and a following 14-yard run by Simon put the Eagles' in scoring position once again.

RUNS BY Miller and Simon brought the ball down to the 20-yard mark, before the "inches" came into play, and Miller came up short in the fourth down situation.

With less than a minute to play, and the clock running down, Fowler got the ball back one last time when the Aggies were forced to punt. Hufnagel suffered a separated shoulder on the punt return, taking a hit that could be heard in the top row of the stadium, and left the field with :27 on the clock.

Scott Koenigsnecht took over quarterback duties for the next play, Hufnagel came in on the second play from scrimmage and threw up two long passes, but the shoulder injury and the clock conspired against the Eagles.

Coach Spicer also saw the game as one of "inches." "The key to the game was the fact that they stopped us on a couple of fourth downs," he said. "Once on fourth-and-three when they sacked Matt, and again when they tackled Jeff with fourth and less than a yard."

"Our kids played good defense, too. We held VanDeVelde (Sand Creek's leading rusher) to just 31 yards."

Overall, Fowler ended the game with 80 yards rushing on 36 carries, and completed 7-12 passes for 94 yards. The Aggies rushed for 111 yards on 38 carries, and completed 2-6 passes for 37 yards.

Fowler had 9 first downs, compared to 5 for Sand Creek.

Miller led the Eagles in rushing, gaining 62 yards on 22 carries, while Simon gained 41 yards on 8 carries.

Despite the fact that there will be no trip to the Silverdome for the Eagles this year, Coach Spicer had nothing but praise for the efforts shown by his team throughout the season and playoffs.

"I'm happy with the way the kids played," he said. "I'm pleased with the year."

SJ cagers fare well in MMB

The St. Johns girls basketball team is closing out the regular portion of their 1987 season in grand style. A lopsided 62-39 Parents Night victory over Alma last Tuesday assured the Redwings of at least a tie for first place in the MMB league, and their trip to Mt. Pleasant on Thursday resulted in a 74-37 pasting of the Oilers.

Coach Beth Swears cleared the bench of all 13 team members in both contests, allowing her cagers to see plenty of playing time.

St. Johns closes out their league season tonight (Nov. 17) with a game at Ionia. The varsity Wings' opening Class A district contest at Owosso High School is set for Thursday, Nov. 19, against Owosso beginning at 8 p.m. The winner of the game advances to second-round play on Saturday, Nov. 21, at 3:30 p.m., versus Flint Carmen-Ainsworth, who drew a bye in the first round.

The championship game is slated for Tuesday, Nov. 24, beginning at 7:30 p.m. IN LAST WEEK'S league game with Alma, the Redwings bombarded the Panthers in the opening quarter, jumping off to a 22-6 first quarter lead. Alma never got back in the contest, trailing St. Johns 16-37 at the half, and 30-49 at the end of three quarters.

Anne Brocker had 16 points, 9 rebounds, and 3 assists to pace the Redwings. Kerry Porter had 12 points and 7 rebounds, Kristin Kloeckner had 6 points and 7 rebounds, Gina Manas and Gina Schneider added 6 points apiece, Krista Schrauben had 5 points and 3 assists, Carey Darnell had 4 points and 5 assists, Mindy Martinez had 4 points, Kelly Bonk had 2 points, and Jill Smith canned a free throw to complete St. Johns' point totals.

The Redwings shot a hefty 50.9 percent from the field in the game.

St. Johns kept their blistering pace up in the non-conference game at Mt. Pleasant, shooting 55 percent from the field and 57.1 percent from the charity stripe. They opened up a 24-7 first quarter lead and never allowed the Oilers back into the ballgame.

Porter tied her second best scoring output of the season to lead St. Johns with 20 points. She also had 9 rebounds and 3 assists.

Manas had a season-high

13 points in the game, and was the second leading rebounder clearing 8 boards. Brocker had 12 points in the game, Monica Vasquez had 4 assists, Jennifer Rositas, Martinez, Kloeckner, and Schneider all contributed 6 points to the win. Schneider also had 4 assists in the game.

Games people play The 'non-team'

By Rhonda Westfall

To have, or not to have, an All-Area Football Team — that was the question.

Every year around this time, tradition dictates that the sports editor select an All-Area Football Team. This team is supposed to consist of the "best" players from among all the local teams covered by The Clinton County News.

That's just about impossible — for a number of reasons.

FIRST OF ALL, who's to judge what "best" means? Should straight season statistics be used, or comparison judgments made between players on one team or another, or what? Obviously, being the "best" in something can mean a lot of different things to a lot of different people.

Secondly, how can a really valid comparison be made between the wide range of school sizes which are covered? How do you stack up a Class D Ashley team with a Class A team from St. Johns? Despite the fact that several schools play against each other during the regular season, none of them play against all the others. So, is an "all-area" team really valid in the first place?

Finally, who really cares? For the most part, the same players who gain recognition on an all-area team have already been named to their individual conferences' first or second teams. Maybe being named to the local newspaper's team has some value to the players and coaches involved — maybe.

THIS IS MY third year of writing sports for The News. The first year, it was kind of fun making selections of who I thought the "best" players in the area were. The second year, it was a lot less fun — I learned a lot in that one year.

That brings us to 1987. There will be no all-area team in The Clinton County News this year.

There are certainly many, many players on teams from St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Fowler, Pewamo-Westphalia, Fulton, and Ashley who are deserving of the honor of "All-Area" player. The fans who go to the games each week know who they are.

The coaches who guide and direct them throughout the season know who they are.

And, especially, the players themselves know who the leaders — who the "best" members — of their teams are.

Personally, I'd like to thank all the players, and the coaches, on each team for providing county residents with another football season filled with a number of very good games.

SPEAKING OF "bests" — Fowler Coach Steve Spicer provided his team — and his town — with yet another exceptional football season. For the sixth time, Coach Spicer led his Eagles into post-season play, where they won their opening Class D playoff game 14-7 over Ottawa Lake Whiteford before losing a cliffhanger to Sand Creek last Friday, 14-12.

During Spicer's tenure at Fowler High School, he has amassed a record of 131-31-1, including eight Central Michigan Athletic Conference titles, and two trips to the state Class D finals.

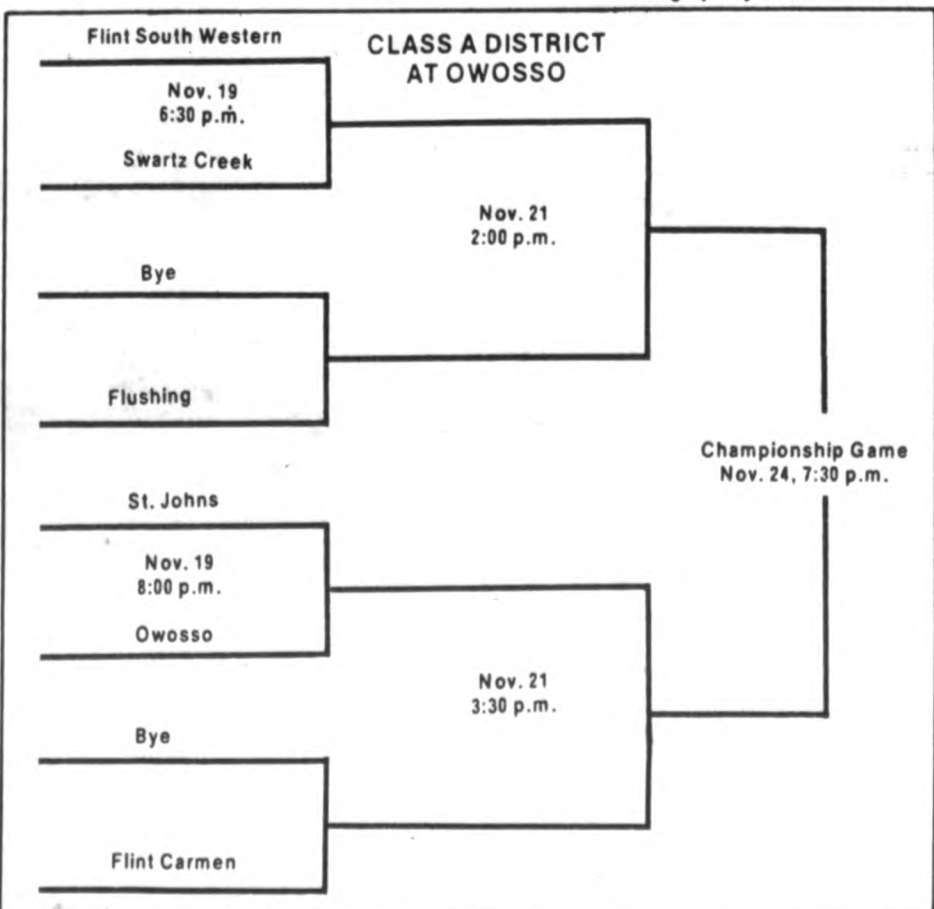

Even more important than being recognized by his peers as a top-notch coach, he is regarded by his players and Fowler residents as a "gentleman," who consistently plays by the rules and expects his players to do the same.

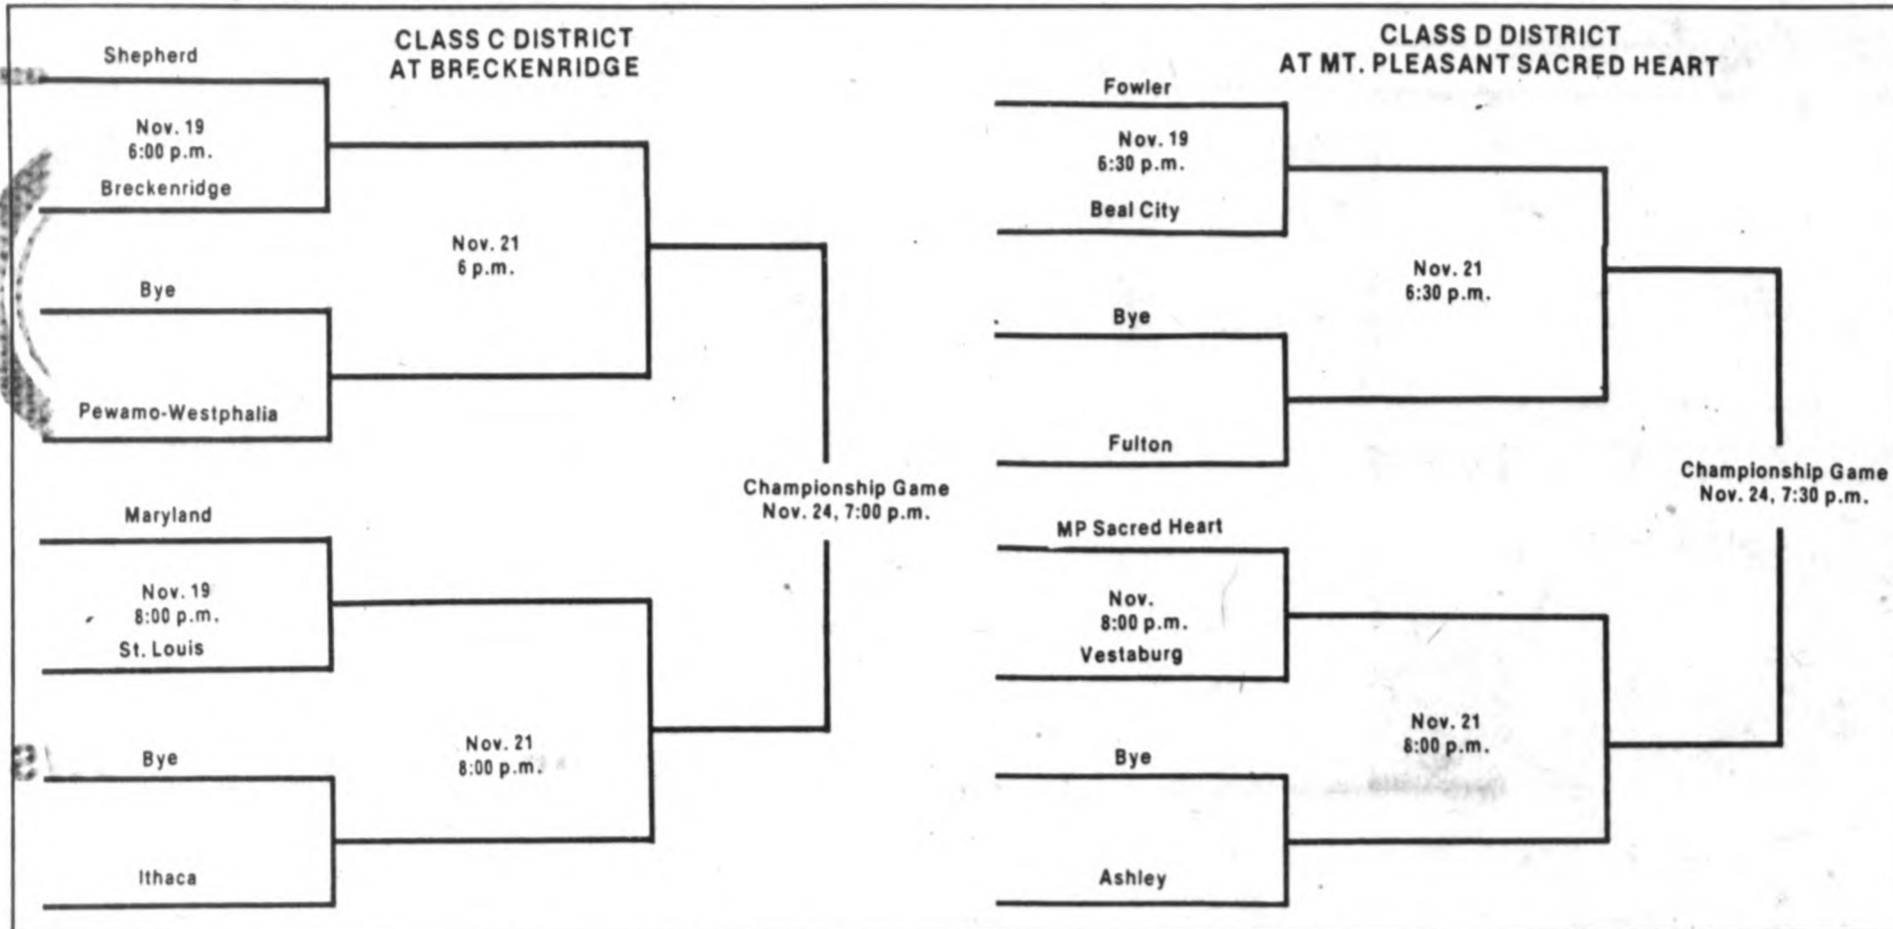

In today's sports' world where drugs, cheating, and foul play exists from the pros all the way down to the high school level, the "Spicers" stand in a class by themselves.

Congratulations to Coach Spicer, his team and coaching staff, and the town of Fowler, on a quality football program which represents all Clinton County residents so well.

Pewamo-Westphalia hopes to gain CMAC cage title

With just one league game remaining in the 1987 season, Pewamo-Westphalia assured themselves of at least a tie in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference with wins last week over CMAC opponents Fowler, 51-44, and Saranac, 61-36.

The victories give Coach Carol Rademacher's squad a record of 11-2 in the league, and 17-2 overall.

Fowler, standing at 9-4 in the CMAC after a 71-60 win over Bath last Thursday, is in a dogfight for second place in the league. Both Portland St. Patrick and Porterville post 10-3 records going into tonight's regular season finale for all CMAC teams.

The Pirates play at St. Pats tonight (Nov. 17), while Fowler travels to Porterville.

Last week's game between P-W and Fowler saw the Pirates jump off to early lead, just as they have done so many times this year. They took a 24-14 lead into halftime before Coach Tom O'Rourke's Eagles surged back in the final two stanzas.

"We made it an interesting game," Coach O'Rourke said of his teams' efforts which closed the gap down to 45-43 with just over a minute left in the contest. "We did a lot of pressing and man-to-man — the girls worked hard."

However, the Pirates countered with a half-court press which enabled them to can enough layups to put the game out of reach.

ACCORDING TO O'Rourke, a key factor in the outcome of the game was the Pirates' rebounding advantage.

"They (P-W) outrebounded us 43-23 overall and 15-2 on the offensive boards — we didn't get any second shots," he said.

Leading scorer for the Eagles was Mary Jo Simon, who ended the game with 17 points. Mary Kay Jandernoa had 10 points, and Marcy Sillman had 7 rebounds and 3 steals.

In the game with Bath, the Eagles' press combined with 33 Bee turnovers to result in the Fowler victory. The foul-ridden game saw Bath capitalize at the charity stripe, connecting on 18-21 shots from the line. Fowler made good on 21-39 foul shots with Jandernoa contributing 7-11 free throws in the fourth quarter alone.

"Both sides pressed and both sides tried to fast break," O'Rourke said. "It was a physically tiring game."

Simon paced the Eagles with 23 points, Sillman had 19 points and 7 steals, Sherrine Rowell had 11 points, and Jandernoa had 10 points, 8 rebounds, and 3 assists.

In Pewamo-Westphalia's final home game with Saranac, a slim 12-10 lead at the end of the first period turned into a 47-22 Pirate rout by the close of the third stanza.

The scoring barrage included two, 3-point shots by Shirley Thelen who led the Pirates in scoring with 17 points. Kerri Nurenberg had 12 points and Sandy Simon added 11 points to the Pirates' totals.

Both squads open district play this week — Fowler in Class D at Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart, and Pewamo-Westphalia in Class C at Vestaburg.

Deer hunters: heed safety rules

An estimated 700,000 hunters are expected to harvest approximately 240,000 deer during this year's firearm deer season which opened Nov. 15, and runs through Nov. 30. The economic benefit to the state is estimated at $250 million.

With the large numbers of hunters roaming the woods and fields in search their prey during the next two weeks, the Department of Natural Resources urges hunters of all ages to exercise good judgement while hunting.

Following are the "Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety in the Field."

1. Treat your gun as if it were loaded — you can never guarantee that your chamber is unloaded. So give an unloaded firearm the same respect you'd give a loaded firearm.
2. Watch where you point your gun — never point the muzzle of your firearm at yourself or anyone else, even if it is unloaded.
3. Know your firearm and its ammunition — before you load, make sure your firearm is in safe operating condition and the barrel is free of obstructions. Double check the specifications of your ammunition to make sure it fits your gun.
4. Do not load your gun before you are ready — Why take chances? When travelling to and from your hunting blind, take down or have your actions open, and always carry your firearms unloaded in their cases.

5. Be sure of your target — and beyond — before you squeeze the trigger, make sure that you have carefully identified your target, then look past it to be sure it is safe to shoot.

6. Beware of fatigue when hunting — when you've been out in the woods a long time fatigue can cause carelessness which can cause accidents. A loaded firearm can accidentally fire with a single, unexpected jar, so watch your step.

7. Don't take chances with a loaded firearm — never step over fences, jump ditches, or make other awkward or unbalanced moves while holding a loaded firearm.

8. Use care when practicing — when shooting for practice, make sure your backstop will prevent ricochets and protect bystanders. Bullets can ricochet off rocks, trees, metal, water, and other hard surfaces.

9. Store your gun safely — when not in use, always store firearms unloaded, away from ammunition, and out of the reach of children and inexperienced users.

10. Remember — alcohol, drugs, and firearms don't mix — never consume alcohol or other mood altering drugs before or during target shooting or hunting.

Roehl lines Farmer's produce

By Giles Roehl

People complain about the farmer. He doesn't manage his business right. He is called a country hick. Yet the food bill is the only thing that is holding the line as far as cost is concerned.

The average worker in the U.S. spends less time earning enough to buy food than ever before. The table below will point this out. I don't know of many segments of the U.S. industry where this has happened. Maybe the farmer isn't doing such a bad job.

At least it seems to be better than what the rest of the economy is doing. The old 4-H slogan may still apply. "It may not be the best, but it's better than all the rest!"

In some other areas we aren't doing so well. For instance, last year consumers spent $332 billion for farm produced food, but $243 billion went to get the food from the farm to the table.

The farmer got only $89 billion (27 percent). (I wonder what the percentage is in a box of breakfast cereal!) Packaging and transportation cost $43 billion. There are 10,000 to 15,000 different products. Many of them weren't around five years ago. Americans are always willing to try something different. Food prices have gone up only a small amount over the last 34 years. This is how much of a particular item one hour's pay for work would buy in 1950 and in 1984.

In 1950 one hour pay would buy 2.4 dozen of eggs, 2.5 pounds of frying chicken, 10.1 lbs. of white bread, 8 quarts of milk, 32.7 lbs. of potatoes, or 2.7 lbs. of pork.

In 1984 one hour of pay would buy 8.3 dozen eggs (which is a 245 percent increase), 10.3 lbs. of frying chicken (312 percent increase), 15.4 lbs. of white bread (52 percent increase), 14.8 quarts of milk (85 percent increase), 34.4 lbs. of potatoes (5 percent increase), and 5.1 lbs. of pork (89 percent increase).

Note that eggs and chicken show the biggest percentage increase. In other words, an individual can buy 245 to 312 percent more poultry for an hour's work in 1984 as compared to the 1950 figures.

Giles Roehl is the director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Agricultural news Cow-calf tips

By Marilyn Loudenslager

If you have access to cornstalk fields, consider the following: (a) Grazing at rate of 1 of 2 acres per cow for 60 days, it may be necessary to supplement with protein and energy after the first 30 days; (b) Harvesting dry stalks as large stacks or bales, beware, if it is too damp (over 40 percent moisture), they will spoil; (c) If stalks are too damp, you can ensile them, but add enough water to bring moisture up to at least 60 percent, chop stalks fine for maximum compaction in the silo.

Wean summer calves before the hard winter sets in.

They will do better on grain/hay or on corn silage than if left on their mothers (unless you crop-feed).

If you keep calves to feed over winter, aim for 1.25 to 1.5 pound gain/day on heifers and 1.5 to 1.75 pound/day on steers. Full-feed legume hay plus 4 to 8 pound grain or 40 pound corn silage plus 1 pound soy will do the job. Free choice mineral mix (50 percent T.M. salt, 25 percent limestone, and 25 percent dical).

Cut-off date for applying grubicides in Michigan is generally considered to be Nov. 15.

Marilyn Loudenslager is the agricultural agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

1987 harvest almost finished

Field crop harvest progressed rapidly during the first half of October, as below normal temperatures and precipitation prevailed, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Statistics Service. However, frequent light rains and cool, cloudy conditions slowed the crop harvest later in the month.

As of Nov. 1, three-fourths of the corn crop was harvested, with harvests of dry beans and soybeans 85 percent finished. The soybean yield, at 35 bushels per acre, is up four bushels from the Oct. 1 forecast. If the trend continues, the 1987 soybean harvest could be a record-setter for the state. The previous record yield of 33 bushels was established in 1980. Soybean production is set at 36.2 million bushels, up 32 percent from a year ago.

The corn yield forecast based on Nov. 1 conditions was 45 bushels per acre, unchanged from Oct. 1. Estimated production of just over 185 million bushels is down 28 percent from 1986. This year's estimated yield is down 10 bushels from a year ago.

The dry edible bean yield is placed at 13 hundredweight per acre, well above the 1986 yield of 8 cwt. which followed the fall flooding. Total production from 460,000 harvested acres, at nearly six million bags, is more than double the small 1986 crop. Nationwide, corn production is forecast at 7.17 billion bushels, down 13 percent from last year; soybeans are forecast at 1.96 billion bushels, up 1 percent from 1986; and dry bean production is estimated at 25.9 million cwt., up 13 percent from last year.

Clover clippings Leaders retire

By Theresa Silm

At the annual meeting, members of the Clinton County 4-H Fair Association showered praises to the board of directors, paid special tribute to three directors, and the retiring fair secretary.

After serving the 4-H Fair for over 23 years, Mary Libey, fair secretary, is retiring at the end of 1987. During her long association with the fair, Mary has managed to keep all the fair records and finances in order. She and her daughter, Linda, recently computerized fair entries, judging records, and premium payments to make the fair operate very effectively.

Ken Harris left the board after serving as a member for eight years. He chaired the fair building and grounds committee for several years and also represented the fair board on the Clinton County Extension and Community Center Advisory Committee.

Ken was instrumental in remodeling the kitchen of Smith Hall to make it more efficient for the fair food stand, as well as for other rentals during the year. Under his leadership, the electrical needs of the fairgrounds were received and updated, significant facility improvements were made, and exhaust fans were installed in Smith Hall.

After serving as a fair board member for nine years, Larry Phinney's term came to an end. Larry had served as president of the fair board for the past eight years.

Under his leadership, the board initiated many fund-raisers and was successful in keeping the fair in the black during some financially difficult times. Other programs such as the Baby Animal Tent, Kid's Day, and Homemaker's Day increased community involvement.

George Hazle also leaves the board after 16 years as a director. Due to a constitutional change in 1978, directors can now serve only three terms; nine years in succession. Having been elected by fellow board members to serve as the vice-president for the past 10 years, Hazle has seen many major improvements. In the past 10 years, the fair board has built the new judging pavilion, the 4-H snack shack, and the fair office.

Special thanks to each of these individuals for their loyal and dedicated service to the Clinton County 4-H Fair.

Theresa Silm is the 4-H youth agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.
