Good buses

OVID-ELSIE The entire fleet of 31 Ovid-Elsie school buses passed the annual state police inspection with a perfect "green" rating on the initial inspection. In recognition of the excellent preventive maintenance program in place at the school, the Ovid-Elsie Board of Education adopted a resolution commending bus mechanics Arnold Wieber and Gary Munson, bus supervisor Hazel Hinkle and all the bus drivers for their efforts.

Lincoln Day

ST. JOHNS State Senator Fred Dillingham will be the speaker at the annual Lincoln Day Appreciation Dinner on March 26 at the St. Johns High School cafeteria. The dinner begins at 7 p.m. with a special reception at Capital Federal Savings and Loan in St. Johns planned for 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Dinner tickets are priced at $15 per person or $25 per couple. Tickets for the reception and dinner are available for $50 per couple. The annual event is sponsored by Clinton County Republicans. For tickets write to the Clinton County Republicans, P.O. Box 92, St. Johns, Michigan 48879.

O-E election

OVID-ELSIE Open houses are planned for March 9 at Ovid Junior High and March 19 at Elsie Junior High beginning at 7:30 p.m. The open houses have been scheduled so that the public may tour the buildings and obtain information concerning the middle school election on March 30 for voters in the Ovid-Elsie school district. The new middle school facility would replace both Ovid and Elsie junior highs, housing approximately 500 students in grades six through eight. In addition to constructing and equipping the new school, the $4,650,000 bond issue would provide for renovations and repair of the school district's three elementary schools and the high school. A panel discussion and question/answer session will follow each of the open houses.

Home loans

ST. JOHNS Clinton County Department of Planning and Zoning reports the availability of a low interest home improvement loan program funded through the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA). The program will be administered by Peggy Cote Piggett, who has independently contracted with the county. Eligible applicants must have an adjusted annual income of $20,000 or less (gross income less $750 per household member) and own a home that is at least 20 years old. Exceptions to the last requirement include improvements made to weatherize, incorporate handicapper accessibility, comply with basic health and safety factors, or to repair damage caused by a natural disaster. Interest rates on the home improvement loan vary between one and nine percent, and the loan value can range between $500 and $15,000 with up to 15 years to repay. Further information about the program is available at the offices of the Dept. of Planning and Zoning, 1003 S. Oakland St., St. Johns. Applications will be taken on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Call 669-3663 or 224-6761, ext. 272 for an appointment.

Earl Gabriel resigns

Takes new post with state group

By RICH WERTZ
Editor

St. Johns is still a good school district but a lack of money threatens the quality of the education it provides, said Superintendent of Schools Earl Gabriel, who resigned Monday. Gabriel, 56, is leaving his $51,480 post March 30 to become the assistant executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

"I think people in St. Johns see this as a premier school district," he said. "It was probably more premier a few years ago than it is today because finances — state support — has lessened over the years and in the interim I don't think the public has been willing to pick up the difference..."

Replacement will likely by summer

St. Johns will likely have a new superintendent of schools by July, said Earl Gabriel, who resigned this week to become the assistant executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Gabriel said both of his top assistants, Steve Bakita and Gordon Vandemark, are worthy candidates for the post he is leaving.

"I think that I would be less than an appropriate superintendent if I didn't feel that these people were properly trained to be able to step into that position," he said. "I think the board ought to seriously consider either one of those two as potential candidates."

Even if the board hires a superintendent from outside the district, Gabriel said, the hiring process will likely be completed by the start of the next fiscal year in July. Gabriel may play a role in the search (Continued on page 20A)

Redwings take state theatre title

They did it again. For the eighth time in 17 years of competition the St. Johns High School theatre team was last weekend judged the best in the state.

As the Redwings' performance of Paul Sills' "Story Theatre" ended on Saturday, people packing an Oakland Community College auditorium jumped to their feet for a rousing standing ovation.

Competition judges, equally enthusiastic, awarded St. Johns 290 points out of a possible 300.

"Flawless!" exclaimed one judge.

In addition to winning back the title they lost to Ann Arbor Pioneer last year, the Redwings returned from the competition in Farmington Hills with 79 "superior" medals for individual work. These medals went to the entire cast of 17 and student director Randal Schmidt; to the set construction and painting crew; the costume and make-up crews; and to Cris Woodruff, Carol Graham and Stephanie Shelton for their program design.

"Story Theatre" has a cast and crew of 79 students and teachers. Theatre teacher Robert Koger directs the play. He is assisted by teacher Bab Markman and student director Schmidt.

champions, the Redwings will perform the show during the opening assembly of the 1987 State Youth Arts Festival in Kalamazoo on May 8. The Redwings are also planning a special performance for the community in early May.

The next project of the theatre department will be an all-school production of "Fiddler on the Roof." The show, directed by Barbara Markman and produced in conjunction with the music department, opens April 24.

In May, Koger will direct his theatre production class in a dinner theatre performance of "The Fantasticks."

Man sentenced for leaving wreck

A St. Johns man will be sentenced this week in District Court on a charge stemming from the death of a Fowler boy in September.

Brian S. Simmon, 15, of 11509 W. Second St., Fowler, died Sept. 29 after being struck by a car while on his Lansing State Journal newspaper route. The car was allegedly driven by Richard Klein, 5267 S. Francis Rd., St. Johns.

Klein will be sentenced Feb. 26 on one count of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident. He pleaded no contest to the charge in a plea-bargained agreement with the Clinton County prosecuting attorney's office. One count of leaving the scene of a serious personal injury accident and one count of leaving the scene of a property damage accident were dismissed in the agreement.

A no contest plea indicates that the defendant is not admitting guilt but will offer no defense. The person is then subject to being judged guilty and sentenced just as if there had been a conviction.

Assistant Prosecutor Richard Koenigsnecht gave this description of the events leading to the death of Brian Simmon:

Klein was driving south on M-21 near Fowler shortly before 7 a.m. on Sept. 29, 1986. The morning was dark and it was raining. He allegedly struck the boy but did not realize it was a person he had hit.

He stopped the car about a mile away to fix the hood of his car that had opened in the impact of the accident. He then continued to the home of some friends. After hearing sirens he returned to the scene of the accident. Klein said it is then that he learned that the boy had been killed.

He then returned to the home of his friends and told them of the situation. They allegedly convinced him to call the Sheriff's Department. The Sheriff's Department advised him to return to the scene, which he did.

Koenigsnecht also said the charge of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail.

Klein will be sentenced Feb. 26 in St. Johns by visiting Gratiot County District Court Judge James B. Mackie.

Hospital appeals decision

Clinton Memorial Hospital has appealed a Michigan Department of Health decision not to approve 24 skilled nursing care beds for the hospital, says a letter from the hospital's board of directors.

The health department earlier this month announced approval of 49 skilled nursing care beds for Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor in St. Johns. At the same time the department announced it would not approve 24 beds requested by the hospital.

"However, following review of the decision, there are several discrepancies in the analysis of the hospital proposal, and we have filed an appeal," say hospital board members in an open letter to the community released last week.

The letter is printed in its entirety on page 2A of this newspaper.

Administrators for both the nursing home and the hospital say revenue expected to be generated by the skilled nursing care beds is crucial to their facilities. The nursing home is planning a $2.5 million expansion, including a wing that would house the 49 beds. The revenue would be "essential to our financial viability," say hospital board members.

Both facilities argue that the community would be best served if they were awarded the beds they have requested. The state will not approve more than 49 skilled nursing care beds for the county.

The letter from hospital board members also outlines the hospital's financial situation and solicits donations in support of the facility.

MEANWHILE, a group calling itself Residents for Clinton Memorial Hospital has organized in an effort to assist the hospital.

"What we want to do is show that we can pull together and cooperate and still have the health care we need," says Ken Kralik, a spokesman for the group.

Residents for Clinton Memorial Hospital was formed after Kralik last week appealed for public support for the hospital. Kralik was recently a patient there for several days after he was injured on duty with the St. Johns Fire Department.

Kralik said the group believes that the first thing it needs to do is gather information about the hospital's situation. Members are circulating a petition asking the hospital's board of directors to hold a public information meeting, he said.

Those who desire information about the group, or who wish to comment on the situation, may write to Residents for Clinton Memorial Hospital, P.O. Box 493, St. Johns, 48879.

Donations may be sent directly to the Clinton Memorial Hospital, Human Relations Department, 805 S. Oakland St., St. Johns, 48879.

Fire to be listed as 'undetermined'

The cause of the fire that destroyed the Clinton Home Center in St. Johns Feb. 7 will remain "undetermined" in the state fire marshal's report.

Detective Sergeant Alan Nutter, of the fire marshal division of Michigan State Police, told St. Johns Police Chief Lyle French last week that his final report would not list a specific cause of the fire.

French said he was told the fire started in an area of the home improvement store that was being remodeled. Fire investigators had earlier suspected that the fire had started in the furnace of the store. French said the furnace will not be listed as the cause of the fire. However, he said, neither has it been cleared.

The furnace was located in the area of the store under remodeling in which the fire started, he said.

Fire investigators had earlier ruled out arson as a strong possible cause of the blaze. Clinton Home Center is open for business in temporary quarters at 210 N. Clinton Ave.

IN ITHACA, a Feb. 10 fire that destroyed four downtown businesses, has been blamed on an overheated furnace in the basement of Beebe's Furniture Store. Total damage in that fire was estimated at $750,000.

Hospital board members address CMH speculations in open letter

An open letter to the community:

During the past several weeks there has been a great deal of speculation regarding the future of Clinton Memorial Hospital in the face of mounting financial difficulties. And, whenever there is any threat to such a time-honored institution as Clinton Memorial Hospital, some very real and imagined fears will surface and rumors become plentiful.

Specifically, the rumors of payless paydays for hospital employees, the rumors of Clinton Memorial closing its doors, the rumors of a merger or buyout by another corporation — are all totally unfounded. On the other hand, the ongoing financial struggle is very real and is, indeed, a threat to the 60-year tradition established by our community and Clinton Memorial.

For the year ending Dec. 31, 1986, Clinton Memorial Hospital experienced a loss of $346,195. Most recently, a net loss of $7,000 for the month of January was suffered, and additional losses are anticipated for the month of February.

What is happening at Clinton Memorial is not unlike that which is occurring in rural hospitals nationwide. There is no single contributing factor to these difficulties but rather a combination of several changes seen in the health care industry in the last five years. At that time we foresaw the effects these changes would have on the hospital and we moved forward in several diversification projects. These very ventures allowed us to forestall the difficulties we face today while contributing to the hospital.

As early as 1983, when a new payment system was put in place by the federal government, small hospitals began their fight for survival. The new system established set fees for reimbursement to hospitals, regardless of how long patients required hospitalization or how many tests/treatments they might need during that hospitalization. What the insurance company wouldn't pay for hospitals such as Clinton Memorial had to.

The payment system represents just one change and challenge that Clinton Memorial Hospital has been forced to respond to.

A more health-conscious, informed consumer as well as advanced medical treatment and technology have also played a role in limiting hospital admissions and the length of each stay. New mothers, for example, spent an average of four days in a hospital for the delivery of a child and follow-up care just five years ago. Today, the average hospital stay for an obstetrical patient is two days.

Specifically, you can see the dramatic changes our hospital has undergone just since 1984 by comparing several areas of activity and/or revenue.

Patient admissions	2,563	2,164	1,834
Patient days	12,333	10,335	8,404
Occupancy rate	44.3%	37.3%	30.3%
Net income	-$503,779	-$124,380	-$346,195

Occupancy rate based on 76 licensed beds. Clinton Memorial Hospital currently has 48 beds set up for use.

Combatting these changes while maintaining a high level of care for patients has been a tremendous challenge for Clinton Memorial and several substantive measures have been taken to maintain our viability. Labor costs have been reduced significantly with the unfortunate layoff of the equivalent of 27 full-time employees since December. Equipment purchases and expenditures have been reviewed and/or eliminated and administrators have taken a voluntary wage cut. Inventory reductions and the closing of the DeWitt and Bath Medical Centers also represented measures taken to combat these changes. We are confident that these measures will allow us to operate a balanced budget for the remainder of 1987, but the immediate cash flow problem represents a serious short-term concern. Measures are also being taken for a long-term solution to these difficulties.

On the positive side, we continue to see marked increases in the use of many services, including the emergency room/medi-center, home health and homebound meals, as well as steady activity in our outpatient areas. Continued promotion/growth in these areas will allow us to offset some of the losses experienced by decreased inpatient revenues. Additionally, the active recruitment of physicians to our medical staff will also provide for a more stable base of operations in the future.

Our long-term plans include an appeal to be filed with the Michigan Department of Public Health in response to their denial of 24 skilled beds for Clinton Memorial Hospital. The decision, instead, awards all 49 nursing beds to Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor. However, following review of the decision, there are several discrepancies in the analysis of the hospital proposal and we have filed an appeal.

The placement of 24 beds at Clinton Memorial Hospital is not only a matter of service to our community but also essential to our financial viability. Additionally, there are several advantages in the placement of these beds at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

- Patients will be visited regularly by their physician and physicians will be readily available since they are in the hospital daily.
- When patients are discharged from the hospital but still require nursing care, they will experience less trauma in transfer to the skilled nursing area since this area is attached.
- Other services such as physical, speech and occupational therapy, x-ray and cardiopulmonary therapy and diagnostics, are already in place at the hospital. Patients requiring these services would have ready access to them without having to incur additional costs in a facility that must contract for them.
- The costs associated with having these ancillary services available can be spread over the costs for the entire hospital operation.
- Skilled beds will be available for county residents and these patients and their families will not have to seek this care outside of Clinton County.
- The patient will be assured of more continuity of care as he/she requires varying levels of care such as acute, skilled and home care.
- Payment for nursing care at Clinton Memorial would be at the same rate as that assigned a nursing home.

- Per-bed costs and start-up costs for Clinton Memorial Hospital are significantly less than for Hazel I. Findlay and, consequently, monies borrowed by the hospital will also be significantly less.
- Patients will receive proper care by an already trained professional staff capable of providing this level of care.
- The viability of the hospital will be greatly improved by placing 24 beds at Clinton Memorial and the remaining 25 at Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor. Such a recommendation, in fact, was made by the Michigan Mid-South Health Systems Agency to the Department of Public Health in September, 1986.

In closing, we would assure each of you that the measures being taken as well as our appeal to the Department of Health are all designed to preserve the 60-year tradition of quality health care services available to the community. The role we play in our community is too vital to be lost on us now. Employment figures in Clinton County indicate that Clinton Memorial is the fourth largest employer in the area — this despite more stringent cost-cutting measures of late designed to maintain our viability. This figure alone, though, is not a true indicator of the real impact we have on our community as a whole.

Our 1986 payroll totaled just under $4 million, representing nearly $6 million in potential buying power held by the 200 hospital employees and their families. And with 100 percent of our staff living within the hospital service area it is clearly evident that we are, as a whole, a vital force on the economic health of the community. Take into consideration the more than $80,000 that hospital employees contribute to local government, coupled with the local spending on the part of the hospital itself, and the impact increases.

We would ask, then, that each of you — and the community as a whole — join forces in providing the support so desperately needed by Clinton Memorial Hospital. For years, we have maintained a viable position in the community and provided assurance to you and your family that we would continue to be the hospital that's "large enough to serve and small enough to care."

But, today, we need your help. We need your donations and would ask that you send them to the human resources department at Clinton Memorial Hospital, 805 S. Oakland St., St. Johns, 48879. In the near future, we will again be making an additional appeal for contributions to a major capital campaign to finance equipment purchases and major renovations necessary for hospital operations. We need your financial support, we need your moral support, and we need your confidence in our future. Local businesses, farm families and residents responded to a similar need nearly 60 years ago. We would hope that you, too, will rise to such a challenge today.

Sen. Dillingham comments: Property tax reform report

I have just received a copy of the recommendations made by the commission on property tax credit. It suggests that people want fair taxes more than they want lower taxes. Sweeping recommendations from the commission on issues ranging from K-12 financing to the homestead property tax credit would hopefully result in a state property tax structure more equitable for all taxpayers.

Last March, Republicans in the state Senate created the 15-member commission to study the state's property tax system and recommend long-term improvements. I have been concerned for some time over recent trends to cut back the state contribution levels for funding education. So I am particularly pleased the report calls for a larger state contribution and a guaranteed minimum level of per-student school funding. Commissioners discussed the possibility of increasing the state sales tax to pay for better school funding, but only in conjunction with a guaranteed property tax cut.

One of its key proposals is a major change in the way K-12 schools are financed in Michigan. There is a wide disparity between what the top and bottom school districts spend per student throughout the state — ranging from $1,750 to more than $5,000 — and the commission worked to find a fairer distribution of available state and local resources. To guarantee lower property tax rates and raise the revenue for more state school funding, commissioners considered increasing the four percent state sales tax to six percent, a change which must be approved by state voters. To make property tax rates more equitable across the board, the commission recommends a statewide property tax. Although not set in stone, a 17 to 18 mill tax rate was suggested by the commission as an appropriate level.

The commission also recommends changes in tax abatement programs, possibly limiting tax breaks for new business to seven years instead of 12 unless a development has regional impact. It also suggests the state homestead property tax credit upper limit income eligibility be lowered from more than $73,000 to $30,000. And it proposed a comprehensive study of whether tax abatements accomplish what they are designed to do, which is spur economic expansion.

Noting the lack of accountability and adequate funding, the commission recommended stricter standards and education for assessors and better funding for the assessment process. Homeowners currently have no idea if their assessment is accurate. Requiring minimum standards and an adequately funded appeals system is an important way to offer consistency and accountability to property owners.

I will be asking the 30th Senate District school superintendents and board members plus local elected officials for their assessment of this report. It is my hope that together we can make a difference for fair and lower taxes.

Fred Dillingham is the Senator from the Michigan 30th Senate District.

The world in Bement Library

Winter blahs

By Jean Bartholomew

Greetings from Chicken Jean, your pictureless librarian. I appreciate your concern Rich, maybe someday.

Things are moving right along at Bement Public Library. We're busier than ever with the reproducible tax forms (federal and state). We have provided this service as a convenience to our patrons. Unfortunately, we are not trained to answer your tax questions.

Also, the ten cent fee for copying does not go into library coffers. This is the cost to us to provide another service for the public. I realize it can be an inconvenience, time consuming, a cost that used to be free and you need to vent your frustrations on someone. Please! Not the library staff. Write or call your legislators and register your complaints with them.

Speaking of forms and anger. I am. Someone removed the Michigan 1040 form from the binder and took it with them. How selfish to deny others the use of this. To whoever did it — may you receive no refund and be audited for ten years.

The St. Johns Area New Library Project is moving along. There has been no firm decision on a site as of yet. We still need public input. It's to be your library and you should be in on the planning. Just think how nice it would be to have room for browsing, relaxing, study hours, study areas and record listening spots.

When the library opened it had 850 volumes. We now have over 28,000 pieces of material. Enough said, but I can dream, can't I?

February is budget time in the library. Not fun. The Bement Public Library Board appeared before the city commission asking for a donation for library support. This board will be contacting the townships we serve — Bengal, Bingham, Dallas, Greenbush, Olive, Riley, Westphalia, and Essex for the same purpose in the near future.

Without monetary support we cannot continue to function. How sad it would be if the doors were closed and the nearest library miles away. I hate negativism. It gives me a headache and makes my stomach hurt. However, I have faith in you people and know you won't let this happen, so I will just look forward to seeing your happy faces.

One more thing, question of the week. We will help you find material for the answer, rejoice with you when you find it, commiserate with you if you don't. We will not do research over the phone nor give you the answer. This is a school project for the whole family, not a librarians' exercise.

Not a very pleasant column this time. Must be my midwinter blahs. I'll do better next time I promise.

Says Jim Jordon at CANDO meeting

Development takes patience

Clinton County and the state of Michigan face sophisticated competition in the struggle to attract and retain business and industry, Jim Jordon, executive director of the Lansing Area Chamber of Commerce, told county economic development boosters last week.

Jordon was the guest speaker at the first annual meeting of the Clinton Area New Development Organization. CANDO members and guests gathered at the Prairie Creek Golf Club for the Thursday evening meeting.

Forty percent of all companies in Michigan have been solicited by out of state agencies trying to lure away Michigan's industry and business, Jordon said.

"That's one reason why the RED Team has spent more time on business retention than anything else," said Jordon, referring to the Regional Economic Development Team.

Jordon said Clinton County, by forming CANDO, had taken an important step toward preparing for economic development. He warned that results will not happen overnight.

"Economic development is not an overnight accomplishment," he said. "It is long term, day after day, unglamorous, plodding, trudging, hard work."

He urged the representatives of the 54 private companies and 10 government units that joined CANDO in its first year to cooperate with CANDO Director Bill Dutton. He said Dutton will at times request information or tours for representatives of companies interested in locating in Clinton County.

"And then he could say to you, 'I can't tell you who they are,'" said Jordon. "And Bill is going to lose some friends. And you're going to get frustrated. But that is the way the game is played."

Jordon also said a positive community attitude is necessary in the effort to attract new firms. The county is a product that has to be sold, he said, and telling visitors negative things about the area will discourage the customer from buying.

"With only a few words you could destroy what it has taken Bill and me years to put together," he said.

Jordon encouraged CANDO members not to overlook tourism as a potential growth industry.

"Tourists do two things," he said. "They spend money and they go home. They do not require new infrastructure. They do not require new schools, new highways, new taxes."

Earlier in the meeting CANDO Chairman Randy Humphrey said, "We fully understand and appreciate that most growth occurs with the expansion of business that is already here."

CANDO Director Dutton said, "We are trying to generate the message that if a company does have a problem that is inhibiting its ability to grow — and we can do anything about it — we certainly want them to contact us."

St. Johns woman dies in accident

A St. Johns woman died in an Eaton County traffic accident early Monday morning.

Diane Mailand, 29, of St. Johns, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by the Eaton County Medical examiner.

The Eaton County Sheriff's Department said officers responded at 2:56 a.m. Monday to the report of an accident on Columbia Highway east of M-99.

Police said Mailand had been traveling west on Columbia Highway when her car crossed the road and struck a tree on the south side of the road. The victim, who was not wearing a seatbelt, was thrown from the car, officers said.

Eaton Rapids Ambulance and Rescue responded to the accident call.

St. Johns responds to Sunday evening fire

The silence of a Sunday night in St. Johns was broken Feb. 21 by an 8:53 p.m. fire siren.

St. Johns firemen were at the scene of a car fire four minutes later. A Ford Bronco owned by Tom Salisbury, 640 Mead Rd., had developed an engine fire, reported St. Johns Fire Chief Clare Maier. The fire occurred on Village Square Drive in St. Johns.

Maier said firemen were clear of the scene at 9:25 p.m.

A steady line of cars streamed down Clinton Avenue onto Village Square Drive to witness the event.

Junior and senior high counselors will be available for individual half-hour planning sessions on the afternoons and evenings of Feb. 26 and 26 and March 2 and 3.

Parents who are unable to attend the parents night, but who wish to schedule an individual planning session, should call the high school Student Services Center at 862-4237 or 834-2271 on Feb. 25 to schedule a meeting with a counselor.

P-W kindergarteners to register March 3, 4 and 5

Parents of next year's kindergarten students in the Pewamo-Westphalia school district should register their children on March 3, 4 and 5. Children may also sign up at that time for the various screenings that will be given.

Dennis Toth, elementary principal, will be at Pewamo and Westphalia elementary schools on the following dates:

March 3, Westphalia Elementary from 8:30 to 11 a.m., noon to 3 p.m. and on March 4 from 8:30 to 11 a.m. for students from the southern end of the school district.

March 4, Pewamo Elementary from noon to 3 p.m. and on March 5 from 8:30 to 11 a.m. and noon to 3 p.m. for students from the northern end of the district.

In addition to registration for kindergarten, parents will sign children up for readiness screening, vision and hearing screenings, health appraisal and speech screening. All of the screenings are necessary before a child enters school.

Any child who turns five before Dec. 1, 1987, is eligible to attend kindergarten in the fall. It is recommended all children who will be five before that date be registered.

Parents who are unable to register their children on the above dates should call Pewamo Elementary School, 593-3488, to make different arrangements.

19 SJHS Band Members will tour China

Capitol Federal launches new promotion to help raise funds for trip

Now through March 31st, 1987, Capitol Federal is giving $5.00 for every new Savings or Checking account opened to help raise money for 19 St. Johns High School band members "1987 China Tour".

That's right. And, anyone in the St. Johns community can help.

Capitol Federal's St. Johns branch employees say the promotion is a great idea. And it's easy!

Here's all you have to do: Stop in to the St. Johns office! Choose between a Savings account, which still pays 5½% interest. Or, if you want the convenience of writing checks and earning interest, open a 5¼% interest bearing Checking account. Both accounts require a minimum deposit of $100.00 to be eligible for the promotion.*

"Our Passbook Savings still pays 5½% interest so people can get a very good rate and help out the kids at the same time," states Ken Kralik, St. Johns Branch Manager.

Capitol Federal President Robert Clark says "We like to take part in worthy community causes. This is a brand new promotional idea for us, and we're optimistic that it will be successful in helping send the band members to China."

Hopefully, with your help we can help the dream become a reality for 19 St. Johns High School students.

Open a Savings or Checking account today at our St. Johns office of Capitol Federal Savings Bank.

*Money must remain on deposit for 90 days.

Communication can be comfortable

By MARY ANN BOND
Findlay Manor R.N.

There are several primary barriers to communication with the afflicted elderly. In this article I will describe two, aphasia and dementia.

Aphasia is a disability many people have to learn to deal with. It is a disease or injury of the brain centers. It manifests itself as a loss of the power of expression by speech, writing, or signs, or of comprehension of spoken or written language. With this condition communication can be very frustrating. Here are some rules which will help make communication easier and more comfortable.

1. Always give the person plenty of time to respond.
2. Use clear and short sentences.
3. Let the person know that you have understood the message by repeating it back conversationally.
4. Phrase questions for a short response, multiple choice or yes or no responses.
5. Rephrase the message if not understood initially.
6. If the person is unable to express himself, let him write down what he wants to say or use visual cues.
7. Try to be familiar with the person's level of comprehension and adjust rate length, and complexity of speech to the level at which the person can respond with success.

Another disability that complicates communication is dementia. Dementia is the impairment of memory or decrease in intellectual capacity due to structural brain damage or dysfunction. It is very stressful for the person that knows he or she is confused and is losing their memory, as well as their loved ones. Here are some rules to use which will make communication easier.

1. Keep conversation simple.
2. Although those afflicted with dementia may talk, they understand very little.
3. Always ask only one question at a time and then wait for a response before asking another.
4. Communication should occur in brief exchange.
5. Avoid conflicts or arguments.
6. Try using sensory input, such as visual, and touch, to enhance comprehension.
7. Provide external memory aides, such as name bracelets, reminder signs, calendars.
8. Try to reorient person to self, place and time throughout your conversation as needed.

These are only several communication disabilities that the aging person and their loved ones have to face and learn to deal with to make communication less complicated and uncomfortable.

Happy birthday greetings to:
Lorena Flowers, Feb. 25; Gertrude Gregory, Feb. 26; Lillian Farris, March 2; Elizabeth Rowell, March 3; Lila Treat, March 4; and Gladys Jones, March 4.

Morning Musicales holds guest night

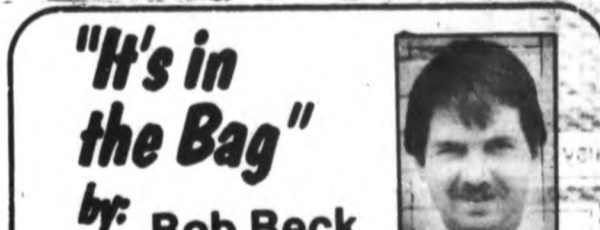

By CAROLYN CAMPBELL

St. Johns Morning Musicales, a member of the National Foundation of Music Clubs, held its annual guest night dinner and program at the Congregational Church Carson Center on Feb. 12.

In keeping with the theme for the club year, "Love Makes the World Go 'Round," Kaye Pilmore spoke on "Love of Self" followed by the pleasurable singing of the guest soloist Lesley Daman. She began with Irving Berlin's "Stage Door Canteen" and continued with other favorites including "My Heart Belongs to Me," "You Go to My Heart," "Peg O' My Heart," "Going Out of My Head," "I've Got You Under My Skin," "Zing Went the Strings of My Heart," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," and "All of Me." Pianist Diantha Witteveen accompanied Daman in the nostalgic evening of song.

Dinner was served buffet style with tables decorated in the traditional hearts, flowers and lace of Valentine's Day. Esther Jacoby, Carolyn Campbell and Ruth LeBlond served on the dinner committee.

The next meeting will be Feb. 26 at 9:45 a.m. at the home of Julia Thornton, 407 S. Mead, St. Johns.

These cute couples won the 'Cutest Couple Contest

Judges in the "Cutest Couple Contest," sponsored by Southpoint Mall merchants on Valentine's Day, had a difficult time determining winners from among the 78 photographs entered at Haddad's Gifts, Clothesworks, and Fisher's Big Wheel.

"I would have liked to make all of them winners," said Djane Edwards, St. Johns City assessor.

Judges Ken Kralik, branch manager at Capitol Federal Savings, and Janet Foland, a realtor with Century 21 Property Mart, agreed.

"The winners were selected on the basis of explicit love and happiness portrayed in the photos," Kralik said. "It was a very hard decision from all the entries."

Grand prize winners in the contest were Harry and Edna Whittaker of St. Johns. They received $50 in mall gift certificates. Second place went to Dianna Kirby and Jamey Hoeve, while third place honors went to Mary Koenigsnecht and James Kentfield. Second and third place winners received $25 in mall gift certificates.

Honorable mentions were awarded to Shane and Shonda Perdue; Peggy Schueller and Matt Braun; Tim Moore and Penny Welling; and Sandy Jelenik and Todd Andersen. Daisy Goose and Thistle Gander — yes, they are geese — also got an honorable mention.

Southpoint Mall merchants expressed their appreciation to all the entrants and commended them on being "cutest couples." Photographs of all the entries in the contest will be on display at Haddad's Gifts during February.

Financial focus Tax-exempt bonds

By Chuck Dicken

In a recent interview reported in "The Market Chronicle," a professional investment publication, Richard Franke, president of John Nuveen and Co., said the new tax legislation makes investing in municipal bonds more desirable but much more complex than in the past.

Under the new laws there are four major categories of tax-free municipal bonds based on their degree of importance to the public. The less essential they are, the more unfavorable tax treatment they receive. Franke further broke the four major categories into, "...at least nine separate categories of municipals, each with potentially different tax consequences for investors."

The point of Franke's remarks is that individual bond buying will become more complex.

"It will take municipal bond analysts, bond counsel and experienced portfolio buyers to assess whether bonds are subject to an alternative tax (AMT) or if they might even be taxed retroactively," he said.

Where does all this leave the average investor who's looking for safe, tax-free income? Will they be able to determine if a bond is tax-exempt, practically tax-exempt, or not tax-exempt? With lower tax brackets are tax-free investments still attractive? The problem may not be as complicated as it appears.

To begin, lower tax brackets reduce but do not eliminate the advantage of tax-free investments. Further, with other tax-advantaged investments being eliminated or diluted in benefits, tax-free bonds may offer your only choice. So, before resigning yourself to a life of taxes with no relief, look at your options. If you decide you want to invest in individual tax-free municipals, ask for a prospectus or opinion.

The purpose of a bond as well as an outside legal opinion must be given in the bond prospectus. You should be aware of this, and before investing, either examine the prospectus or question the bond broker from whom you plan to purchase the bond. If you're comfortable with and trust your broker and his or her firm, you can be assured that if a mistake is made in representing the tax status of your bond, the broker and his or her firm will correct it.

The other opinion open to investors seeking safe, tax-free income is to consider Municipal Unit Trusts. These investments offer individuals access to an increasingly institutional market. Here bond buyers, research analysts and a staff of professional investment experts assemble a portfolio of bonds. The trust collects the interest, monitors the bonds, submits them for payment at maturity or call, and mails you regular checks of tax-free interest. Because a number of different bond issues are bought for the trust, you receive additional safety through diversification. Instead of owning only one bond, you own an interest in several different bonds. Some bond trusts even insure their bonds so if they experience financial problems, the insurance company immediately begins to pay interest and principal when due. Many investors appreciate this added assurance.

A final way investors can enjoy tax-free interest is through mutual funds that invest only in tax-free municipal bonds. Like any investment, understand what you're buying before you invest. Purchasing shares in a tax-free fund just because it offers a bit more income than another fund could be a costly mistake since the quality of the bonds in the fund might be of questionable safety. It's vital to understand not only how much income you'll receive but also the quality and safety of the underlying investment. It's wise to consult a professional you trust and respect to assist you in your selection. Ask questions until you're satisfied with the answers.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 requires you to sharpen your investment pencil to look for the best return on your investment dollars. Tax-free municipal bonds are still one of the best ways to accomplish this. Whether you buy your own bonds, invest in a unit trust or buy shares in a tax-free mutual fund, be certain you understand the investment so you don't lose your tax benefits or, worse yet, lose your investment.

SIGNING AUTOGRAPHS — John Smoltz, pitcher for the Detroit Tiger baseball organization, obliged Tiger fans from Most Holy Trinity School in Fowler by signing his baseball card. Tiger talk at Holy Trinity

By RHONDA WESTFALL

Being part of a major league baseball organization has long been the dream of many a young person, and probably still is in this day and age.

For John Smoltz, 1985 graduate of Waverly High School, the dream has become a reality.

With obvious pride, Smoltz wore his Detroit Tigers sweater when he addressed the eighth grade class at Most Holy Trinity School last week, talking to the students about working on achieving goals.

The lanky righthander was drafted by the Tigers following his senior year at Waverly and played Class A ball for the Detroit club at Lakeland, Fla., last year. He is hopeful that he will move up to the Tigers AA team in New York this year, with his next goal being the AAA farm club in Toledo — just a step away from the big leagues.

"Pitching for a major league team has been a goal of mine since I was in seventh grade," Smoltz said. "My family and myself moved to Lansing 10 years ago from Detroit, so I've always dreamed of being a Detroit Tiger."

Setting high goals and working hard toward achieving them has been a part of Smoltz's lifestyle throughout his young career. He played baseball during his junior and senior high years and spent summers playing on a variety of teams on youth leagues in the Lansing area.

ALONG WITH a supportive family, Smoltz gives much of the credit for his successes thus far to dedicated coaches. He singled out Carl Wagner, one of his summer league coaches, for special mention in helping him to reach his potential.

"He (Carl) took me to a lot of tournaments," Smoltz said. "He must have 50 trophies that his teams have won in baseball. I know it would mean a lot to him if I made it into the majors."

A highlight of Smoltz's career was pitching in the final game of the Junior Olympics against a team from Cuba. Smoltz was invited to play on the north team of the Junior Olympians, then selected as one of the best players from that group to be part of the United States team. Allowing just two runs, Smoltz eventually took the loss.

"I'll always remember the thrill of playing baseball for the U.S.A. team," he said.

Invited to speak at the school by eighth grade Tiger fans Glenn Pung, Jon Schneider, Tom Becker, and Terry Schneider, the students also watched a video of the various steps Smoltz has taken in his goal to become a Tiger pitcher. Holy Trinity principal Steve Dembowski and Neil Hufnagel, a teacher at the school, arranged for the visit by Smoltz.

Although Smoltz has been involved in working with students at baseball functions for a number of years, this was one of his first presentations to a group of students.

"The kids really enjoyed my talk and especially the video tape," Dembowski said. "He did a terrific job."

"After hearing about his accomplishments, there is a group of fans in Fowler who know that John Smoltz has what it takes to make it."

Area junior varsity spikers learn net skills

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

High school girls volleyball has made great strides in the past few years, becoming a popular sport in terms of attendance at matches and in increasing numbers of girls participating.

Growth at the junior varsity level has been just as great for most area teams as has been experienced by varsity squads. This week, the Clinton County News takes a look at area j.v. teams — the building blocks for varsity teams.

ST. JOHNS

Redwing junior varsity spikers boast an impressive 11-4 record for the season which came to an end last night (Feb. 23) with a match versus Alma. Coached by Tracie Young and Terri Brown, the team consists of 14 members.

"We've had a successful season," Coach Young said. "Every match we've played has been a total team effort. Serving has probably been our greatest asset this season."

The highlight of the season for the junior Wings was participating in the Lansing Everett Tournament and bringing home the second place trophy from that invitational. St. Johns defeated teams from Everett, Greenville, Williamston and Portland before losing to Brighton in the final match of the day.

"Playing in the tournament really seemed to get us going," Young said. "We won every match after that." Members of the 1987 St. Johns junior varsity team include:

OVID-ELSIE

Marauder junior varsity volleyball coaches Jeff and Brenda Hettinger have many, many good things to say about their 1987 squad — and for a very good reason.

Undefeated this season with a 16-0 record, O-E's junior varsity spikers perfect record dates back into last year as well. The team has not lost a match in 24 consecutive outings. Quite an accomplishment.

"This is a really good team, and especially a good group of sophomores," Coach Jeff Hettinger said. "They are definitely the best group of girls in one class to come through Ovid-Elsie in a long time. They have the best winning percentage ever in volleyball at O-E."

Along with their undefeated season, the squad captured first place honors in invitational play in December. The Marauders won matches over teams from Saginaw Carrollton, Lakeview, Birch Run, and Bay City Western enroute to claiming the first place trophy.

Team members include: sophomores, Lynn Sue Thornton, Ronda McClelland, Shannon Pohl, Michelle Reed, Chris Wittenburg, Bridget Dowd, Jodi Donaldson; and freshmen, Vicki Donaldson, Tammi Jones, Angie Kapprosky, Jamie Knutson, Kelly Gibbons, Jennifer Follett, Robin Nemanis, and Tammy Tyler. Manager for the squad is Sharre Personious.

In their second year as coaches of the Ovid-Elsie squad, the husband and wife team like what they are doing.

"We've enjoyed coaching this group tremendously," Hettinger said. "It should be a good group for Coach Long (O-E varsity coach) to have on the varsity next year."

FOWLER

"A coming-on squad," is the way Fowler Coach Betsy Smith describes Eagle junior varsity spikers.

"The girls don't have any volleyball experience before their freshmen year," Coach Smith said. "The freshmen on the team are just coming to the point where they know what to do on the floor."

"I think the program has shown real growth in the last few years — it's a coming-on program."

With a record of 2-9, the team learned from their losses as much as from their wins.

"We don't really put that much emphasis on the win/loss record," the coach said. "But, when they won their first match of the season, they were elated."

The fourteen member squad did not take part in any tournaments this year, but Coach Smith noted that she hoped they would be able to participate in some invitational next season.

Team members include: sophomores, Donna Feldpausch, Sherrine Rowell, Sara Schafer, Angie Myers, Mindi Koenigsnecht, Staci Paksi, and Paula Armbrustmacher; and freshmen, Tina Thelen, Darla Taylor, Peggie Fox, Staci Piggott, Kaye Becker, Carolyn VanElls, and Becky Simmon.

"Donna Feldpausch has been a real asset to the team," Coach Smith said. "She's the last of a long line of outstanding athletes in her family and is doing an excellent job."

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA

Pirate spikers added a third place finish at the Potterville junior varsity invitational tournament, held last Saturday, to an already fine 1987 season. Their overall record of 11-4 and 6-1 league mark bespeaks the fact that this group of volleyball players will bring some genuine athletic talent to the varsity level next year.

"This group has a lot of natural athletes," first-year coach Donna Heckman said. "They work well together. Winning has been pretty much a team effort."

Playing in the tournament at Potterville, the Pirates defeated Belding 15-4, 15-10, and Battle Creek Penfield 14-16, 6-15, and split with Lakewood 15-3, 10-15 in pool play. They advanced into the play-offs, winning their match with Battle Creek St. Philip 16-14, 15-11, before losing to Potterville 6-15, 12-15.

"We had beaten Potterville twice during league play," Coach Heckman said, "but couldn't do it three times."

Sophomores on the junior varsity roster are Gina Simon, Gina Bierstetel, Shirley Thelen, Sandy Martin, and Ellen Droste. Freshmen include: Lori Simon, Beth Heckman, Laura Thelen, Jami Bierstetel, Lori Trierweiler, Amy Hengesbach, Julie Miller, Wendi Miller, Veronica Schrauben, Heather Harrison, and Tina Smith.

The junior varsity season ends on Feb. 26 with a match versus Fowler. Following that, Shirley Thelen and Jami Bierstetel will participate with the varsity during upcoming district play.

Ovid-Elsie places four wrestlers into Class B regional meet at Flint

Four members of the Ovid-Elsie wrestling squad are on their way to Class B regional competition on Feb. 28, placing in the top four in their weight classes at the district meet held at Birch Run High School last Saturday. The regional meet will be held at Flint Kearsley High School.

Mark Burl took second place in the 167 pound class, losing by a 16-0 decision to his opponent from Birch Run in the championship match.

Also advancing to regionals are Think Nguyen (112 pounds), who won by a 10-3 decision over his man from

Fowler grabs top spot in CMAC cage victory over Fulton

Fowler cagers assured themselves of at least a piece of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference first place pie with a 69-40 win last Friday over Fulton. Their 8-1 league record puts the Eagles in sole possession of first place with both Pewamo-Westphalia and Laingsburg tied for second at 7-2.

This Friday's conference finale between Fowler and P-W will determine if the Eagles retain their CMAC crown for another year.

"Our number one goal from the beginning of the season was to win the league title," Fowler Coach Dennis Smith said, "and we've done that. We don't necessarily mind sharing that with someone, but we will make the best of our opportunity to win it outright."

The always intense rivalry between the two schools gets underway on Feb. 27 at Fowler's Piggott gymnasium. As usual, a capacity crowd is expected. Doors open at 5 p.m.

Last Friday's game with Fulton saw the Eagles jump off to a 22-8 first quarter lead. Senior Kurt Simon netted 8 of his game-high 20 points in the opening period.

A slow second period ended in a 28-17 halftime score. Fowler came out ready to play in the third period behind the sure-shooting of Matt Hufnagel. The junior pumped in 10 points in the stanza, breaking the game open and giving the Eagles a 46-26 lead going into the final period.

AS A TEAM, Fowler out rebounded Fulton 31-17 and made 29-49 shots from the field, good for 59 percent.

"We were taking the shots we wanted and putting them down," Smith said. "As far as rebounds, nobody got a lot, but everybody got some."

Simon had 6 boards to go with his 20 points, Hufnagel ended the night with 16 points, and a host of Eagles got into the scoring column with 6 points or less.

Roger Skaryd led Fulton in scoring with 14 points, Brad Smeltzer had 10 points, and Tod Koone had 8 points and nine rebounds.

"Fowler is just a very well-coached outfit," Fulton Coach Larry Walden said. "We pressed them the whole game and it didn't rattle them at all. I was pleased with our kids for hanging in there."

In their other outings last week, Fowler defeated Ovid-Elsie 72-58 in a non-league contest and Fulton lost to Ithaca 53-45.

O-E's Marauders played a good game against Fowler, with the Eagles taking a slim 8-point lead (54-46) into the final stanza. Fowler went to the free throw line 18 times in the fourth period, connecting on 12-18 to help them take the win.

"Ovid-Elsie's perimeter people do a nice job," Smith said. "They shot 44 percent from the field on the night and most of those were from outside shots."

Joe Simon did allittle bit of everything for Fowler, tallying 13 points, 11 rebounds, 4 assists and 4 steals on the night.

"He (Joe) played a really nice game," the coach said. Brother Kurt was the leading Eagle scorer with 16 points, Hufnagel had 11 points and 10 rebounds, and Rex Thelen also had 11 points.

SJ tankers almost perfect in swim win

The St. Johns High School swim team swamped Eaton Rapids in their final dual meet of the season last week, winning by an astounding 128-41 score. Redwing tankers claimed first and second place finishes in every event, garnering third place finishes in numerous events as well.

With a record of 7-3-1, St. Johns could finish anywhere from second to fourth in the league. Final conference standings are calculated on a 50/50 split determined by the teams' records at the end of the dual-meet season and their place finish in the year-end conference meet. That will be held this weekend (Feb. 27-28) at Alma High School.

"That ought to be an incredible meet," said St. Johns Coach Jim Makaruskas. "The league has been extremely close all year, and is up in the air even now, especially with so many tie meets this year."

Conference meet times are used as qualifying times for the state meet which concludes the swim season. Coach Makaruskas is hopeful that some Redwings will qualify for the state meet.

"We definitely have some kids who are within range," the coach said. "They're starting to rest up now — we should have some qualifiers."

Results of the Eaton Rapids meet follow:

First place finishers: 200 medley relay — Aaron LeVeck, Mike Martindale, Mike Fitzpatrick, Mike Beck, 1:55.82; 200 freestyle — Troy Warner, 2:04.21; 200 individual medley — Tom Newhall, 2:16.05; 50 freestyle — Dave Newhall, 24.91; Diving — Paul VanBeelen, 183.10; 100 butterfly — Steve Williams, 1:04.74; 100 freestyle — Beck, 56.8; 500 freestyle — German Povina, 5:04.09; 100 backstroke — LeVeck, 1:05.5; 100 breaststroke — Martindale, 1:07.58; 400 freestyle — Warner, D. The Marauders placed tenth as a team at the district meet with an overall score of 64 points.

St. Johns loses 67-66 in overtime MMB cage contest at Chesaning

When St. Johns' cagers lost an overtime MMB 67-66 decision to Chesaning last Friday night, they also missed a golden opportunity to move into second place in the league. A win would have put the Redwings at 5-3 in the conference, one game up on Ionia (5-4) who lost to Ovid-Elsie on Friday.

Instead, St. Johns stands at 4-4 with just two league contests remaining. "We were disappointed," St. Johns Coach Keith Haske said. "We had our chances to win, but missed the shots we needed."

St. Johns got off to a good start, leading 13-3 early in the game. They maintained the lead throughout the first half, going into the lockerroom at the half ahead 38-33. The Redwings were able to keep their momentum going into the third quarter when they opened up a 52-40 advantage on the Indians mid-way through the stanza.

Things began to slide from that point, with Chesaning chipping away at the score and the Redwings able to tally only 8 points in the fourth quarter. The Indians took the lead and St. Johns sent the game into overtime with the score tied 64-64.

Chesaning tallied the first overtime points and Clark VanBuren countered for the Redwings with a basket knotting the score at 66-66. A trip to the charity stripe by Chesaning proved to be the only point they would need to claim the win as St. Johns could not get the ball to drop on three separate attempts with less than :10 seconds remaining.

Tom Penix led St. Johns in scoring with 26 points, netting 20 of those in the first half, and VanBuren had 14 points.

In a Tuesday night non-league game with Okemos, St. Johns was manhandled 96-59. Costly turnovers, 17 in the first half, helped the Chieftains to amass a 54-25 point advantage by the end of the half. The Redwings could not climb out of that hole.

Penix and VanBuren again led St. Johns' scoring, tallying 14 points apiece. VanBuren also had 10 rebounds on the night and Jim Martens had 9 points for the Redwings.

The Redwings travel to Mt. Pleasant for a non-conference contest tonight (Feb. 24) before closing out their home season with an MMB game versus Corunna on Friday.

CMAC VOLLEYBALL — Fowler and Potterville are two Central Michigan Athletic Conference teams who squared off in a recent volleyball match. The Eagles are coached by Betsy Smith.

Eagles split pair of volleyball matches

Fowler varsity spikers split a pair of volleyball matches last week, defeating Ashley 15-8, 15-7, 15-8, and losing to Fulton 15-12, 15-11.

"We had played Fulton three times previously this year and beat them all three times," Fowler Coach Betsy Smith said. "I guess this time it was Fulton's turn to win."

The non-league decision over Ashley was a "good, solid win" according to the coach.

Theresa Feldpausch and Judy Feldpausch each had 6 spikes and Julie McNamara had 12 serve points in that match.

The Eagles are in third place in the CMAC conference with a 3-4 record. They play at Ovid-Elsie tomorrow (Feb. 25), host Pewamo-Westphalia on Thursday in their last conference match, and take on Portland in the regular season finale on March 2.

Class D district action will see Fowler travelling to Potterville the week of March 7 to compete with teams from Potterville, Ashley, Lansing Christian, Fulton, Morrice, and Vestaburg.

SJ junior spikers

St. Johns junior varsity spikers took a close 15-12, 16-14 win over Corunna last week.

Heather Johnson and Emily Humphrey had 2 service aces each for the Redwings. Registering 1 kill apiece were Nicole Lodico, Wendy Moore, Carey Darnell, Lisa LaForest, Jennifer Miller, and Johnson.

THE PIRATES played even with Ithaca for three periods of their Tuesday non-league game, trailing by just 2 points, 34-36, going into the final period.

With the score tied 42-42 early in the fourth quarter, Fulton turned the ball over three consecutive times on attempts to get the ball inside. Ithaca capitalized by making baskets following each turnover, getting all the ground they needed to claim the win.

Scott Cater led the Pirates with 13 points and 16 rebounds, Skaryd had 11 points, and Tod Walden had 10 points for Fulton.

The Pirates have tonight (Feb. 24) off before hosting Portland St. Patrick in their final CMAC game of the season this Friday.

Fowler, ranked number five in the state in Class D in the AP poll and third in the Detroit News poll, also has tonight open prior to the big game with Pewamo-Westphalia.

"It's really nice not to have a game on Tuesday," Coach Smith said. "This is the first break we've had since the start of the season."

"This week and the next few are going to be exciting. Next week we have Lansing Christian coming in here and, of course, the following week districts begin. We're rolling along pretty good right now — we just have to keep it up."

Marauders upend Bulldogs in 65-63 win

The Ovid-Elsie basketball team held off a last minute surge by Ionia to pick up a 65-63 Mid-Michigan B league win in a game played on the Bulldogs home court last Friday.

Trailing by 2 points at the half, 25-23, the Marauders gained ground on Ionia throughout the third period to take a 39-36 lead into the closing quarter. They were ahead by 7 points with 3:15 left in the game, then allowed the Bulldogs to take the lead 63-61 with 1:24 showing on the clock.

Claiming possession of the ball off a free throw attempt, Ovid-Elsie tied the contest with just :30 second remaining on a basket by Jeff Conklin. Ionia tried to hold the ball for the last shot, but the Marauders forced a turnover and Troy Barnhill was sent to the line, giving O-E a chance to win.

With :06 on the scoreboard, Barnhill was good on both attempts from the charity stripe and Ovid-Elsie claimed the victory.

"It was a good game, although we did allow them (Ionia) to get back in the game when we had a chance to pull away," O-E Coach Bob Foreback said. "But, the kids came through in the end."

Barnhill led the Marauders in scoring with 27 points, Nick Hurst had 19 points and 8 rebounds, Conklin had 11 points, and Mark Morey had 7 rebounds.

"Both Morey and Conklin did a good job defensively against Ionia's best ballplayer," Foreback said.

In a non-conference game played at Fowler last Tuesday night, Ovid-Elsie came out on the bottom end of a 72-58 score.

The Marauders were down by 6 points in the fourth quarter of that contest when Conklin was called for travelling on a layup that would have made the score even closer. Fowler went on to make 12-18 shots from the free throw line in the period, helping them take the win.

Conklin paced the Marauders with 14 points, Hurst had 12 points and 11 rebounds, and Barnhill and Bob Foreback had 10 points each.

With no game tonight, O-E travels to Alma for an MMB contest this Friday (Feb. 27). They host Haslett on March 3 and wrap up their regular season with a home MMB game versus Chesaning on March 6.

The Ovid-Elsie junior varsity defeated Fowler 54-48, and dropped a close 60-58 decision to Ionia.

SJ gymnasts vault over Eastern

St. Johns' gymnasts registered a 124.45 to 109.55 win over Lansing Eastern last week, improving their record to 8-2 with last night's meet on Sexton closing out the regular season. The conference meet will be hosted by St. Johns this year, scheduled for March 7.

Senior Christine Ebert paced the Redwings in the dual meet with Eastern, finishing in first place in vault with a score of 9.15 and first in floor exercise with 8.85. She was second on the bars, scoring 7.85, and second on beam with a 7.85 score.

Linda Strickland placed first on bars with a score of 8.4. Missy Vitek finished third on bars; scoring 7.75, and was fourth in vault with 8.25. Also placing third was Deanne Fox on the beam with a 7.2 score and in floor exercise with 7.85. Gwynn Sharick finished third in vault with a score of 8.4.

A number of Coach Sue Cerny's gymnasts have already qualified for regional competition which will be held again this year at Freeland on March 14. State finals are scheduled for March 20-21 at Grand Rapids Creston High School.

Redwing qualifiers include: Ebert in all events; Vitek on bars, vault and floor; Fox in vault and beam; Strickland on bars and vault; Jodi Smith in vault; Missy Knight in vault; and Sharick in vault.

Perry are slated to participate in the district. Pre-districts begin the week of March 2 with district action getting underway on March 7.

O-E spikers earn MMB victory

With a 15-10, 15-9 win over Alma last week, the Ovid-Elsie volleyball team pushed their MMB record to 3-1. The win keeps the Marauders in a tie for second place in the league with Chesaning, with the two squads squaring off last night in their final league dual meet of the season.

Ovid-Elsie hosts the conference meet this Saturday (Feb. 28). Final league standings are calculated on a 50/50 basis between final dual-meet play and conference meet finish.

In the match with Alma, Sheila Platner led the Marauders in serve points with 9. She also had 7 kills. Jami Martin had 8 serve points and 5 kills, Courtney Schneider had 14 kills and 4 blocks, and Jamie Jones had 25 assists.

Besides the MMB match with Chesaning last night, Ovid-Elsie hosts Fowler tomorrow (Feb. 25) in a non-conference match to end their regular schedule.

The Marauders will take part in Class B district play at Birch Run, with the draw for pre-districts being held yesterday. Along with O-E and Birch Run, teams from Chesaning, Corunna, Durand, Frankenmuth, Haslett, Millington, Montrose and

Pirates still in race

All that stands in the way of the Pewamo-Westphalia basketball team earning a share of first place in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference is — the Fowler basketball team.

The Pirates, whose 42-40 win over Pottersville keeps them tied with Laingsburg for second place at 7-2, must defeat Fowler (8-1) when the two clubs meet this Friday in order to share the league title.

Last Friday's game at Pottersville saw the Pirates lead 16-10 at the close of the first quarter, then let Pottersville back in the game in the second period to take a 24-22 lead into the lockerroom at the half.

A barrage of third quarter baskets put P-W ahead 36-29 going into the final stanza. Pottersville rallied in the final stanza tying the game at 40-40 late in the period.

With 1:20 left on the clock, Dane Hengesbach connected on a shot from the top of the key to give the Pirates a slim 42-40 lead. Playing good defense, P-W forced Pottersville to commit a turnover on their ensuing drive downcourt, and the Pirates got the ball back.

P-W held the ball for the last shot, forcing Pottersville to foul with just :20 seconds remaining. The free throw attempt was missed, and once again, the Pirates' defense came through, forcing Pottersville to take a bad shot. The Pirates claimed the rebound and the game.

Dave Stump led the Pirates in scoring with 14 points and had 4 steals. Dave Hengesbach had 10 points and 10 rebounds. Dave Spitzley had 10 rebounds and 4 points. Dane Hengesbach had 3 assists and 3 steals, and Glenn Stump had 8 assists.

In a non-league Tuesday night game with DeWitt, the Pirates opened up a big 24-13 first quarter lead behind the strong shooting of Hengesbach and Stump. The duo combined for 14 of the team's point in that period. Hengesbach ending the night with 15 points, 10 rebounds and 3 steals, while Stump tallied 10 points total.

Jeff Smith had 13 points and 3 steals and Bill Schafer had 10 points in the game that saw all Pirates enter the scoring column. Brent Thelen had 5 rebounds and 3 steals, Dane Hengesbach had 4 assists, and Glenn Stump had 9 assists.

Pewamo-Westphalia has tonight off, with the game at Fowler being the last regular season outing for the squad before the start of district play.

The Pirate junior varsity defeated DeWitt 66-51, and outscored Pottersville 51-38.

SJspikers head MMB

St. Johns varsity spikers increased their Mid-Michigan B league record to 4-0 with a 15-10, 15-13 dual-match win over Corunna last week. The win keeps the Redwings in first place in the league with Ovid-Elsie and Chesaning tied for second at 3-1.

Coach Bernie Fox's team hosted Alma (0-4) last night (Feb. 23) in their final match of the season before the conference meet this Saturday at Ovid-Elsie. Final conference standings are determined on a 50/50 basis by dual-season records and the outcome of the conference meet.

In the match at Corunna, the Redwings held off rallies by Corunna in each game to preserve the win.

"We started out looking sharp and scored the first points in both games," Coach Fox said. "They began playing better and caught up to us, so it was not easy. We were happy with the win."

Kerry Porter had 8 spikes and 2 serve aces, and teammate Debbie Bensinger also had 2 serve aces.

St. Johns came home with a fourth place finish from the Belding Tournament held on Feb. 14. The Redwings defeated Rockford (15-9, 15-10), split with Holton (8-15, 15-5) and East Grand Rapids (13-15, 15-7), and lost to Pottersville (8-15, 13-15) in pool play.

Finishing in second place in their pool, St. Johns advanced to the semi-finals where they were defeated by Belding 1-15, 6-15.

"We played well against Rockford and served well in our second game with Pottersville," Fox said, "but mental mistakes and lack of enthusiasm cost us a split with Grand Rapids."

The First Congregational restores an antique organ

Shortly after the turn of the century a D.H. Felgemacher organ was installed in the First Congregational Church of St. Johns. The organ has served the congregation loyally for over 75 years — but after all these years it needs a little fixing up.

Two years ago major problems in action, sound, stop function, tuning and wind supply became pronounced. Church-goers formed a committee to study the options for restoring the organ to its former grandeur. The committee has an agreement with the Fowler Organ Company for restoration work.

Actually, the organ has been worked on twice before. The first time was in the mid 1950s — the original facade pipes were removed and replaced in a chamber and the organ's console was changed from pneumatic to electromechanical action.

Then, in the 1970s, problems with the instrument's wind supply and action were addressed, although not entirely corrected.

The organ today is valued at $165,000. The congregation intends to invest $38,000 in its restoration.

"It has so much potential that is not being tapped," says Pastor Jay Terbush.

Diantha Witteveen, one of several church organists, says the organ is part of the heritage of the church.

"There's a lot of emotional attachment," she says.

The possibility of simply replacing the organ with a new instrument was rejected by the congregation almost as rapidly as it was mentioned, she says.

Pastor Terbush comments that the restoration of the instrument will not only preserve an item of historical significance, it will also improve the church's music and, therefore, its worship services.

"I really feel that the music of the church is such an integral part of worship..." he says. "The organ is a vehicle to that. The whole purpose we're here on Sunday is to worship."

"Hopefully, the music will inspire the spirits of people and help them sense the presence of God."

Ted Slicer attends education meeting on teaching econ

St. Johns High School teacher Ted Slicer was among 18 educators representing 23 school districts who attended a conference of economic education leaders in Gaylord last week.

The meeting was part of Project DEEP (Developmental Economic Education Program) of which the St. Johns Public School District is a part. The main goal of the project is to assist school districts in teaching economics.

At the conference, district representatives received updated information on the progress of the project and had an opportunity to share their insights and concerns with the council.

The project is endorsed by the State Board of Education and cooperates with Junior Achievement in many parts of the state. It is funded by a grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation through the joint council on economic education in New York City.

Roehl lines

Program review

Giles Roehl

The Clinton County Extension Service is participating in a program review. Such a review is the process where the local extension office has a good look at what has happened, what is happening, what is planned for the future. The review also asks whether the activities meet the needs of Clinton County.

One hundred and eighty of you were contacted by volunteer interviewers and asked to respond to a questionnaire concerning the above concerns mentioned. Some of you were not home, some were too busy or sick to answer and some do not believe in telephone interviews. However, over 120 valid responses were received. That is two-thirds of one percent of the total households in the county. Statistically, not that bad of a random sample.

The results of the survey will be studied to determine what you are telling us. We will be looking to see if you like these columns, what methods you like to get information and a host of other responses.

The over-all advisory committee is currently assisting the agents to review data and make arrangements for this program review. If you have not been contacted and would like to provide input, please give me a call at 224-3288.

Congratulations to Dan Keilen, Clinton County conservation farmer of the year. Dan has a 760-acre farm south of Westphalia. Keilen utilizes conservation practices on the land as well as in the handling of animal wastes, and windbreaks on the farm. They also use conservation tillage and no-till farming. The Keilens are striving to conserve our heritage — are you?

Corner Garden: Senior citizens — are you aware of the many services available to you at Capital Community Services? Pauline Baert, one of the volunteers on the overall extension advisory committee, indicates that of the host of services available, many are under-utilized. One example she quoted was the availability of legal assistance to the elderly. Other helps for seniors are transportation, heating assistance, USDA food commodity, home aides, etc..

If you have a question in any area of concern, call Pauline at 224-7998 or 224-7837.

Giles Roehl is the director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Observes National FFA Week

St. Johns FFA shows tractor safety

The St. Johns chapter of the Future Farmers of America is celebrating National FFA Week by conducting a special presentation on tractor safety.

The St. Johns chapter will represent the district at the FFA regional leadership contest on Feb. 26. There chapter members will compete in a demonstration contest.

The chapter qualified for the competition at the district contest in Coopersville. There the chapter's effort paid off with a gold rating and a first division rating.

Besides giving the presentation for the various contests chapter members will give the presentation to vocational agriculture classes.

The presentation shows audiences how they can prevent tractor accidents on their farms. Tractor accidents account for over 16 percent of all farm accidents.

The chapter commends the members of the demonstration team for a job well done and wish them well in their next competition.

Good nutrition

Marilyn Loudenslager

A good nutrition program for raising top quality replacement heifers begins before a calf is born and continues until the heifer freshens.

"There are no shortcuts to a proper young cattle feeding program," says Robert Patton, Michigan State University extension animal science specialist. "Any calf worth raising is worth raising well."

The calf's nutrient demands on the dam are small until the last two months of pregnancy, when the calf grows rapidly. Feeding a nutrient deficient diet to a cow then can result in a nutrient deficiency in the newborn calf. Dry cows on a poor diet are also more susceptible to metabolic disorders, such as fat cow syndrome, milk fever and ketosis. These disorders result in a more difficult birth and a weaker calf.

You can help reduce environmental diseases by providing a clean, dry calving area for the dam.

The first few hours after birth are the most critical for the calf's nutritional program. Colostrum, the first milk produced by the cow after freshening, is important to the calf because it contains high levels of fact, vitamins, protein and immunoglobulin. The immunoglobulin is the only way the calf can obtain natural antibodies to fight diseases.

Feed two quarts of colostrum as soon as possible after birth, preferably within the first half hour. The ability of the small intestine to absorb the antibodies in the immunoglobulin decreases soon after birth. By the time the calf is 36 hours old, it has lost its ability to absorb antibodies.

Continue feeding two quarts of colostrum twice a day for at least three days. You may then switch to whole milk, fermented colostrum, discard milk or milk replacer. If you use milk replacer during the first two weeks, it should be an all-milk-based replacer. Soy-protein-based milk replacers are hard for young calves to digest.

All bottles, nipples and pails used to feed calves must be washed and sanitized to prevent the spread of disease from one calf to another and to kill bacteria.

A starter grain can be offered to the calf when it is three days old and should be available by day seven. You can wean a calf when it has been eating 1.5 pounds of starter grain per day for four to seven days. Offer high quality hay to the calf when it is one to two weeks old.

A thorough explanation of how to raise heifer calves is given in the book "Raising Dairy Heifers for More Profit," published by MSU. The book, selling for $15, also covers issues such as feed management for heifers, contract raising of dairy replacements, pastures for dairy heifers and seven other topics for dairy farmers. To order the book, write: William Bickert, 120 Farrall Hall, MSU Department of Agricultural Engineering, East Lansing, 48824-1323. Marilyn Loudenslager is the agricultural agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Extension hosts nutrient day March 6

A nutrition check day, sponsored by the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service, is planned for March 6 at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Producers wishing to have forages or other feed stuffs analyzed should plan to attend.

A lab equipped with near infrared reflectance spectroscopy (NIRS) can rapidly analyze hay, haylage, corn silage and whole corn for protein, available protein, acid detergent fiber, neutral detergent fiber, dry matter, total digestible nutrients, net energy of lactation, potassium, calcium, phosphorus and magnesium.

In addition to the testing van, a group of dairy agents will also be available to balance dairy rations based on the new feed test results.

There is no charge for the forage test or the ration work. However, persons should call the extension office at 224-3288 by March 5 to reserve a time slot for testing.

Farm calendar

O-E FFA returns with awards from contests

By MARGIE GREEN

The Ovid-Elsie FFA chapter went to New Lothrop for the district 1 leadership contests on Feb. 12.

At the contest, Jim Neathery earned a silver award in greenhand public speaking, Kevin Neathery earned a silver award in extemporaneous public speaking, and Brian Neathery earned a second place gold award in regular public speaking.

Lee Purdy earned a second place gold in job interview, and Joanne Newton and Cathy Love earned a first place gold in demonstration for their demonstration titled "Computers in the Ag. Room." Participants in parliamentary procedure, with John Lehman as chairman, Kevin Nash as secretary, Bob Nixon as parliamentarian, and Dave Newton, Brett Miller and Steve Hammond as members, tied for first place gold.

Members in the above three contest areas advance to regional competition in Fowlerville on Feb. 26.

A win at the regional competition would earn members a trip to state contests in March on MSU.

Airport could ask county for money

By BONNIE POWELL
and THOMAS O'TOOLE
Staff Writers

With the advent of airline deregulation, economic forces have slowly winnowed the number of jet carriers serving Capital City Airport down to one, and local government officials are struggling to find a solution.

Last week, Joe Drolett, Delta Township Supervisor and owner of Drolett's Travel Unlimited, convened a group "who's who" in the greater Lansing area at the Delta Township Hall to discuss the concept of a support group to help stem the airline drain.

The meeting was held in light of recent pullouts by major carriers at the airport, including the pending departure of United Airlines. Except for Piedmont, only commuter services will remain.

George Carr, chairman of the Capital City Airport Authority, told the audience of business, education, and government leaders that it is "a general misconception we control the airlines. We do not — we're simply a landlord."

"It put us in an interesting situation because the townships, except for the section in Lansing, don't contribute financially to the airport," he said later. "We have been working very hard to put together the right study and strategy, but we need the right framework to channel their (committee) efforts."

He brought up the problem that in recent years only Ingham County and the city of Lansing have supported the airport financially. "If this is to be a successful regional effort, we need full support from the region," said Carr.

Carr says counties such as Eaton and Clinton, which fall in a ten mile radius of the airport, will in the future be approached about their interest in helping with the airport problem.

As for Clinton County participation, Carr said that he hoped for voluntary cooperation by the county, which would "work into a formal agreement" in the future.

Gabriel comments on the district he is leaving premier position without pumping some dollars into it, whether they're state dollars or whether they're local dollars. It's tough for some people to see that but it's a fact of life."

Gabriel said he accepted the newly created MASA post in part because it offers greater job security and a higher salary than his present position.

"The board did see fit to renew my contract for one additional year," he said. "At that time I had expressed to them that I hoped for more than that. The fact that that decision was not unanimous would also give you some feelings of concern."

Gabriel declined to say what his new salary will be but said, "My income as a result of this move will be substantially more. I had expressed to the board some concern over the fact that the superintendent of schools was being paid an amount that was not too far away from the assistant of the district. I thought that with the responsibility that I had there should have been a greater variance."

The new position is also an opportunity to return to an organization he once worked with and with which he has long been affiliated, he said. He is a past MASA director and board president.

"When I can get a tremendous opportunity like that with greater security...and more money, it was just impossible for me to say no," he said.

Asked if he were influenced by the antagonism directed toward him during the recall election last year, Gabriel said, "Not really. I think those are the kinds of things you have to wade through and wait out. That's a decision that the board has to make. If the board members felt that demand was an appropriate demand then I think they have to address it. I had not gotten that feeling from the majority of the board."

Gabriel also said he is not leaving to escape problems faced by the school district.

"I'd be the last person to say I run away from problems," he said. "I'd rather face them head on than turn my tail between my legs and run the other way. That's not the reason I left."

In an interview on Friday, Gabriel also said:

ON PROBLEMS: faced by the district: "The district's got lots of problems we're going to have to face. We still have the problem of sex education; we still have the problem of the disposition of Central School; we still have to deal with all our total facilities problems; we have five contracts that are coming up this spring; we're certainly going to have to look, if we're going to do anything in terms of facilities, at some kind of long term bond issue; unless there is a major revisions in the state aid, and it doesn't appear that there's going to be, we may have to look at some additional millage in the next couple of years."

ON EVENTS leading to the recall election: "That recommendation we made to stop co-curricular activities and transportation immediately instead of waiting for the outcome of the election came as the result of some input I had received from my school ambassadors group. I said that publically at the meeting at that time. People said to them, nobody has ever believed the board will do what it says. Because they never did — and the only way to let them know that is to demonstrate by doing it and if they give you the millage, reinstate it."

"And that was the recommendation I made to the board...But I told them that was not an Earl Gabriel concept per se but it was a feeling that existed in the community at that time...."

"But by the same token their kids today are being transported, programs are better funded, and we are making progressive strides in terms of our educational quality in the district as a result of getting that millage. I'm very fearful about where we would be if we had not had that millage."

ON CLOSING the schools when the money ran out if voters did not approve the previous millage proposal:

"I will take full responsibility for that proposal. I still think that was a better proposal than the second one, which was to stop transportation. I would have done that. The board backed off of that after the election was held and we didn't do it...they then accepted the statement from the Department of Education that says you can't do it and decided they would try for another election...I would have challenged the Department of Education in that respect."

ON HIS ACHIEVEMENTS as head of the district: "When I came here four years ago the district was in somewhat disarray. It had some board-superintendent difficulties.

I'm not trying to make a judgement as to fault there but anyway they did exist. They had been without some major contracts with employee groups for almost eight months. Since that time I think we have substantially developed some labor peace with most of our labor organizations.

"We re-organized our administrative staff with more responsibilities and accountability. Our staff members have had greater opportunities for professional development, in-service training..."

"We've instituted a zero-based budgeting system that I think has given again more accountability for where the dollars are spent."

"We passed a millage, the first one in ten years in the district, albeit resulting in a recall. But nevertheless, if that was the only way we could get some millage to make this a viable school system, that's the sacrifice that had to be made. Unfortunately, from my perspective I think the people who were recalled were treated very unfairly."

ON HIS HOME: "I don't plan to make any moves within the next six months. That can change from day to day. We have roots here. They're not as deep as a lot of other people's but our friendships are something Pat and I feel we ought to retain and keep."

Replacement by July?

for his successor in that superintendent placement assistance is one of the responsibilities of his new MASA post.

Board of Education President Gary Whitford said, "In order to be fair to our employees we would like to give them the first chance at application."

But the board will also consider candidates from outside the system, he said. He added that the board may have to look outside the district if there are no applications from current employees.

Gabriel said he believes the superintendent's salary should be ten percent more than the top assistant's salary.

"I think that anytime the superintendent of schools is making...approximately $1,200 more than the top assistant, I don't think that is recognition of the kinds of responsibilities that the office holds," he said.

"To get ten percent more that the top assistant is not unreasonable to manage a $10 million operation."
