Maple Rapids library theft charged

The treasurer of the Maple Rapids Library Board was accused last week of embezzling thousands of dollars in library funds over a five-year period.

Dana R. Lambert, 607 Poplar St., Maple Rapids, was arraigned in 65th District Court before Judge Jeffrey Martlew on June 4. If convicted of the embezzlement charge she faces a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison.

Clinton County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Richard Koenigsnecht said Lambert had taken approximately $34,000 since she was elected to the library board in March, 1982. The alleged thefts cost the library an additional $5,000 in penalties, forfeitures and lost interest, he said.

The theft was discovered after newly-elected President Marial Abshagen noticed a pattern of sloppy treasurer reports and bounced checks. She said the handwritten treasurer reports typically contained figures that were crossed out and rewritten.

"It was just a premonition that something wasn't right," said Abshagen. "I didn't like her reports. They weren't regular reports."

After Lambert failed to appear at a meeting of the board, which meets every two months, other board members decided not to re-elect her treasurer. Lambert's term expired in March. She had held office as treasurer since her election to the board in March 1982.

Upon going to the bank to change the name on the library's accounts, Abshagen said, "We found there was no money in the accounts. There was less than $1,500 in the three accounts."

The police were called and an audit conducted by the Michigan Department of Treasury. It was the first audit of the Board's records in several years, said Abshagen.

Larry Dalman, a Michigan State Police trooper assigned to the Clinton County Sheriff's Department, said an investigation began April 3. Both he and Assistant Prosecutor Koenigsnecht declined to divulge details about what they learned in interviews with Lambert.

Lambert turned herself in for her arraignment June 4.

Koenigsnecht declined to say exactly how Lambert allegedly embezzled the funds, other than to say she had access to the money and had used several different methods of taking possession of it.

The Maple Rapids Library Board has annual revenues of approximately $13,000, said Nancy Andrews, secretary of the board. She said the board's financial records are in the hands of the authorities.

President Abshagen said several individuals in the community loaned the library money so it can continue operating.

"We would have had to close..." she said. "There's no way we could have continued with the little bit of money we had left."

Funds the board had earmarked for an addition to the library are gone, Abshagen added.

Additionally, she said, the library has to pay overdue bills.

"She had a lot of bills of ours that she had not paid," said Abshagen.

"So we're paying up out back debts."

Abshagen said the board had taken steps to keep tighter control of its funds. The financial records will be audited yearly, she said.

This is the second embezzlement case in Clinton County in recent years. Former Bengal Township Deputy Clerk Marilyn Knight was last year convicted of embezzling $10,000 in township funds. She was sentenced to four months in jail, probation and restitution.

Health officer: Chastity message is not enough

Figures compiled by the Mid-Michigan District Health Department indicate teenage pregnancies in Clinton County are on the increase after several years of decline.

Health Officer Joe Latoff says the reasons for the reversal in the trend are varied. A new contributing factor, he says, is economic stress on families.

What should be done? As the St. Johns Board of Education begins consideration of a proposed sex education policy, Latoff says teaching chastity is not enough — that sexually active teenagers need information about how to prevent disease and pregnancy.

In the following interview Latoff talks about "reproductive health" and how it should be promoted.

Clinton County News: You've mentioned financial stress as a new factor contributing to the increase in teenage pregnancies. Yet unemployment is going down....

Joe Latoff

Latoff: Unemployment, as published by the federal government, is not always an accurate judgement of unemployment in a local area. If people don't look for work they aren't counted.

Also, people can be counted as employed but they went from a $14-an-hour job or a $20-an-hour job to a $3.35-an-hour job. So now we have many households that formerly had one good income who are living on two $3.35-an-hour jobs. And they're not making it. They're faced with turning to certain institutions for the first time and they're not very pleased about that prospect. Their lifestyles are changing. Their disposable income is practically nonexistent.

And that puts stress on households. If you combine household stress with the normal sense of isolation that any adolescent experiences, it's a very dangerous combination. That in my opinion is what we're seeing.

There are several efforts underway to reduce teenage pregnancy. They include the "Say No" program. They include all sorts of communication improvement efforts between parents and adolescents — a variety of things. There are a lot of good things going on but I think they are being mitigated by the stress of economics.

CCN: What should be done?

Latoff: When it comes time to educate children about any subject, including reproductive health, the pattern has to be the same. There's only one pattern that works: the family must give the primary signal. The only thing institutions like education and health and church can do is reinforce the signal. We can't give the primary signal, that's pretty clear.

When we talk about "sex education curriculums" — I prefer to think of them as reproductive health because sex is only a minor part of reproductive health. It is well and good — and given the values of our community, appropriate — to talk about chastity.

But we know that over 200 kids a year — young females from 15 to 19 — are getting pregnant in our county. That doesn't even count the 12- to 14-year-olds who get pregnant every year. So we know we have a significant number of sexually active teens.

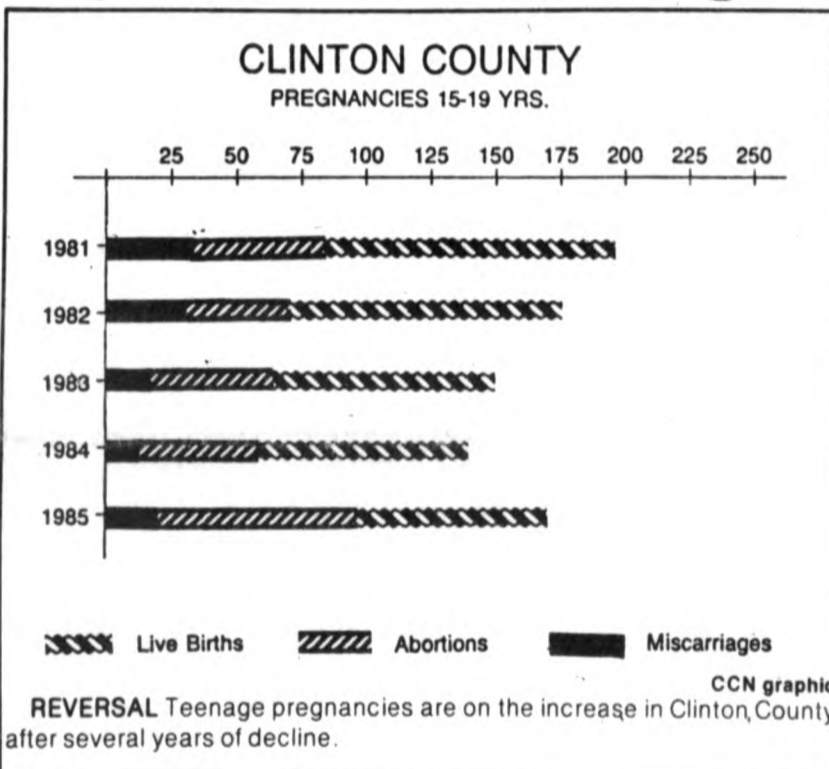

So the message on chastity, alone, is inappropriate. They don't ask their parents' permission or anybody else's to be sexually active. If they're going to be sexually active then for two important reasons we must give them information about the consequences of that behavior and ways to protect themselves from pregnancy and sexually-transmitted diseases. It's no longer: "You get a disease and we have to cure it." It's: "You get a disease and you can die from it."

We must include efforts relative to chastity and the provision of appropriate information to sexually active young people. We can't ignore that.

CCN: And who should do that? The schools or the parents?

Latoff: Number one, we have to do our best to stay in touch with our adolescents — understand their feelings and listen and stay close to them.

Number two, if you suspect they are sexually active you should talk with them. If you believe they are, and you confirm that, and they are going to continue to be sexually active, I hope that you will arrange somehow for them to get the information they need.

St. Joe's Father Hankerd retires

Father William Hankerd, pastor of the St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns, retires this month. His 21 years in St. Johns, he says, have been years of change — changes in the priesthood, changes in the church, changes in the world.

He was ordained at St. Mary's Church in Jackson on April 23, 1949. Nearly 40 years in the priesthood have left the retiring pastor with a youthful vigor and a noticeably optimistic outlook. Many of the changes he has seen, he says, have been changes for the better.

"The priest's role is entirely different," says Fr. Hankerd, sitting at his desk on a recent afternoon, talking to one more in a series of reporters who have come to ask him questions upon his retirement. "He did it all, but now we have others doing it."

Since Vatican II the church has seen the development of the lay ministry — the "pastoral ministry" — without which, Fr. Hankerd says, he would have been overwhelmed with work. The parish has doubled in size since he came here in 1966. Sister Mary Swartz performs many tasks that once were the responsibility of the parish priest.

"It freed me for more attention to liturgy, for sermons, homilies," says Fr. Hankerd. "It took a lot of the detail work and left time for preparation and meditation."

Along with the change in the role of the clergy, he says, there has been a great change in the role of the parishioners. Once, parishioners silently listened to the liturgy, to the music of the church choir. Now they help prepare the liturgy, help provide the music.

"They're not just spectators," says Fr. Hankerd. "They're participants."

CHANGES in the world at large, says Fr. Hankerd, have been varied and many. While he sees many evils in the world, he also sees evidence of a deeper, more genuine, religious commitment on the part of many individuals.

"There's definitely been a decline in morality," he says. "That's Vietnam, that's politics, television... 30,000 jobs lost in Flint. All of these things have changed peoples' morality... There's been a total realignment of values in the world."

Father William Hankerd

But good does come from the bad, says Fr. Hankerd. He sees emerging from the world of religious and moral confusion individuals who have "a more internalized, genuine religion."

"We see a lot of people searching for the values we offer..." he says. "We find them stumbling around in the dark and coming to us."

THE BIGGEST challenge facing the church in coming years, says Fr. Hankerd, is adult education. The church has in place a religious education system to meet the needs of children, he says, but there is a generation of adults who have not had the same religious education their children have had.

"They're not getting it," says Fr. Hankerd. "They're busy raising kids and earning a living."

Fr. Hankerd will retire effective June 24. His successor will be Fr. Robert Lunsford, who will come here from St. Thomas's Church in Ann Arbor. He was attracted to St. Johns, says Fr. Hankerd, by "the same things that attracted me 21 years ago and kept me here. It's a good Christian community, a good place to practice our religion."

Fr. Hankerd's own future includes living at Resurrection Church in Lansing, where he will remain active in church affairs.

"A senior priest, they call me," Fr. Hankerd smiles. "A wise old man."

you had a completely moral country. That is a goal that we all endorse and seek but it is not reality. And to even argue that, you have to say that sex is immoral. You're making a value judgement. I'm not going to get in the business of value judgements. My business is dealing with a reality.

We must promote chastity but we must also realize that people give up their chastity sooner or later. Some sooner. Do we want the babies out of wedlock? Do we want the disease? Do we want the poverty? Do we want the depression? Do we want the suicide? Do we want the ruined lives?

CCN: Should actual contraceptives be distributed to students by either the school or the health department?

Latoff: Contraceptives are provided to people now by the health department. And education is provided to people now by the health department. We are not reaching nearly a significant percentage of the sexually active young people in this community.

To do that, the schools are going to have to participate to some degree. Only the school board, listening to the community, can make a judgement about how direct their involvement should be.

'Draw the line' against Lebanese products

To the Editor:

I recently left employment with a department store in St. Johns because they were selling tank tops made in Lebanon, a country where Americans are being held hostage. When I brought this to my manager's attention he said it was my moral obligation to sell anything the store put out. I decided my moral obligation to myself and my fellow Americans meant more to me.

I urge everyone to read labels. Do you really want to buy something made in a country where Americans are being held hostage? I can't help wonder how the hostages' families would feel about this — and what about the hostages themselves?

I believe in free trade but don't we draw the line somewhere?

'They have made the bus happy and fun'

To the Editor,

I would like to thank each and everyone of the children and parents who have used the "blue bus" for transporting pre-school and school age children this past year.

I have enjoyed their friendship, cards and gifts very much. They all have made the bus trips happy and fun. Each one of the children is very special to me. I will look forward to seeing some of them again next year.

With sincere appreciation,

Minors

By Gary Randall

Minors may soon face stiffer penalties and civil sanctions when found guilty of possession, purchasing of alcohol, or consumption of alcohol on licenses premises under legislation (HB 4694) introduced in the Michigan House.

The bill amends the Michigan Liquor Control Act to authorize judges to impose on first-time offenders a $100 fine rather than the $25 fine allowed under present law, and to require participation in a substance abuse program. The payment of the $100 fine is the responsibility of the offender and not the parent. Under present law, only two-time offenders can be compelled to participate in a substance abuse program.

The legislation also increases the fine for second offense from $50 to $100 and authorizes the judge to order the minor to undergo screening and assessment to determine if the minor would benefit from rehabilitative services.

As part of the civil sanction for the second offense, the court may order the minor to participate in and successfully complete one or more rehabilitative programs. The minor's parent or legal guardian would be responsible for the costs of the screening, assessment and rehabilitative services. For a third or subsequent offense, the minor is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Alcoholism is a progressive disease. The bill is an attempt to establish a mechanism for the early detection and treatment of alcohol before it's too little and too late.

Gary Randall is the 89th District Representative in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Chastity not enough, says health officer

I will tell you that the health department is willing to be a partner in this process to make sure it is a complete process that serves all of the young people and we will cooperate in every way with the school system to see that happens.

...(Chastity and contraception information) are not mutually exclusive issues, that is the point. They are compatible in the sense that there is an age continuum — people give up their chastity at a certain point in their aging process. Some earlier than others. You can't just turn your back on sexually active young people.

CCN: At a school meeting last fall there was the challenge made to show one instance in which contraception information was introduced into the curriculum and it decreased pregnancy rates.

Latoff: No problem, we can do that. The Michigan Department of Public Health can show you places where that has happened. We can lower teen pregnancy rates, we know how to do that.

You know what the magical trick is? Talking to them like intelligent people and dealing with them like real people. Not like the kids we wish they were or might have been, but as they really are.

Youth Fair

By Theresa Silm

This year the Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair will celebrate its 50th birthday when the annual fair is held on August 3-7. Through the years there have been changes and improvements but the basic emphasis on young people and their accomplishments has remained steady.

The Fair Board has been making special plans for this 50th celebration. One of the special events is a birthday party on Monday evening. All past and present 4-H leaders and members are invited to join in the festivities. There will be birthday cake and punch, awards for the oldest past 4-H member, leader who came the farthest, etc., and a band for your dancing and listening pleasure. This begins on the fairgrounds at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, August 3, and we hope you can come.

We're also gathering information and items for a special exhibit. If you have some of your 4-H projects exhibited at fairs in the past, or news articles, photographs or anything else you would be willing to share and loan to us for the week, please call the Cooperative Extension Service at 224-5240. If you would rather, we can photo copy news articles or photos so we don't have to keep your original.

I'm also looking to borrow some sewing projects which were exhibited at fairs during the past fifty years. We'd like to have a display of these in Smith Hall during the fair. We have a style revue during the fair on Wednesday afternoon and would like to have some of these old sewing projects modeled.

If you have something to share for this 50th fair celebration, or if you'd like more information about this year's fair, please contact any of the fair board members or the Cooperative Extension Service soon.

Theresa Silm is the 4-H youth agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Man arrested for marijuana

A DeWitt man faces drug charges in Clinton County after police, acting on an anonymous tip, caught him June 2 in possession of 125 pounds of marijuana, a small amount of cocaine, and one-half ounce of an unidentified white powder.

Ramon Gonzales, Jr., 42, of 10739 Bond Rd., DeWitt, was charged with possession of cocaine and possession of marijuana with intent to manufacture or deliver. Both charges carry maximum penalties of four years in prison. Police confiscated "trace residue" amounts of cocaine, said Det. Sgt. Dan Flint, of the Clinton County Detective Bureau. The half-ounce of white powder also confiscated was thought to contain cocaine but laboratory analysis had not been completed late last week, he said.

Also confiscated were 125 pounds of marijuana and $8,884 cash, Flint said.

FLINT said detectives placed Gonzales under surveillance after a anonymous tipster told police Gonzales possessed the drugs. Detectives watched Gonzales leave his home in a pick-up on Tuesday morning. A marked police car pulled the truck over and the arrest was made at 9:30 a.m.

Flint said the boxes containing the marijuana were marked with Spanish writing, indicating that they had come from "Mexico or a Spanish-speaking country." The marijuana has a street value of $300,000, he said.

Gonzales has no known prior convictions, said the Clinton County Prosecuting Attorney's office. He is free after posting $1,000 cash on a $10,000 bond. Preliminary examination is scheduled for June 24 at 4 p.m. in 65th District Court.

James Fedewa re-elected

James Fedewa of Westphalia was re-elected as state secretary at the 87th annual convention of the Michigan Knights of Columbus, held on Mackinac Island on May 21-23. His one-year term begins on July 1. Meeting at the Grand Hotel, delegates representing 287 Michigan councils unanimously returned their state officers to a second term at their present posts.

Several injured in US-27 wreck

Several people were injured when one car struck another broadside on US-27 in St. Johns early Sunday evening.

At least six of the eight people in the two vehicles were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment. Two were transferred to a Lansing hospital.

St. Johns police said a vehicle driven by Larry McDiarmid, 42, 303 S.

Oakland, St. Johns, was traveling west on Cass Street in St. Johns. McDiarmid told police he stopped at US-27, then proceeded onto the highway during what he believed was a break in the traffic.

The McDiarmid vehicle was struck broadside shortly after 4 p.m. by a vehicle driven by Jeffrey McKillen, 45, of Dexter. Dexter was southbound on US-27.

McDiarmid was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

Passengers in the McDiarmid vehicle were Cathy McDiarmid, 36, and Amy McDiarmid, 11.

Passengers in the McKillen vehicle were Deanna Cornish, 45, of Ann Arbor; Mark McKillen, 16; Katie McKillen, 16; and Jason McKillen, 8.

Paine-Gillam-Scott presents a double bonus for Flag Day

Flag Day, June 14th, will feature a "double bonus" presentation at the Paine-Gillam-Scott Museum on the west side of the Courthouse square in St. Johns. Along with "Flags on Parade," local artist and musician Pasqua Warstler and Kitty Donahoe will present "Bunyan, Banjos and Bristles."

"Flags on Parade" features 48 reproductions and the history of the flags of America from 1607 to 1912. On June 14, 1777, Congress passed the Flag Resolution: "Resolved that the flag of the United States be 13 stripes alternate red and white; that the Union be 13 stars white in a blue field representing a new constellation."

The flags on exhibit give a glimpse into the history of the Star Spangled Banner and the United States. Donahoe will perform songs with Michigan themes of logging and Michigan waters on the guitar, banjo, dulcimer and fiddle from 1:30-2:10 p.m. and 3:20-4 p.m.

Warstler will help children make a sun catcher of the robin, the state bird of Michigan from 2:30-3:10 p.m. and 4:20-5 p.m.

For more information on the Flag Day program call 224-2894 or 224-7402.

Weight loss

By Dawn Harris

It's summer and everyone is thinking about wearing swimming suits and shorts. If that idea makes you think you need to go on a diet right away, then be careful about how you do it. There are many fad diets out right now that are dangerous!

Recently, advertisements have appeared that claim you can lose weight while you sleep without having to exercise or diet. The ads state that a pill that contains "growth hormone releasers" (i.e., L-arginine and L-ornithine) can stimulate the body's production of growth hormone, which the ads claim will result in weight loss. Unfortunately, this will not work.

L-arginine and L-ornithine are both amino acids (protein building blocks) that are necessary for the production of growth hormone. However, the amount of these amino acids present in the over-the-counter preparations is not enough to stimulate the release of growth hormone. More importantly, research has shown that even if it were possible to take enough to increase the level of growth hormone in the body, (and it would have to be injected, not taken orally) weight loss would not occur.

The best advice for successful weight loss is to increase activity levels while decreasing caloric intake — exercise more and eat less. Dieters shouldn't be surprised if the only thing they lose from using "growth hormone releasers" is their money.

Dawn Harris is the home economist for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

"It's in the Bag"
by Bob Beck

Questions: Did George Washington really chop down his father's cherry tree? What is unusual about those Japanese cherry trees in Washington, D.C.? How are firecrackers used in cherry orchards? What happens to a cherry tree when you transplant it in the tropics? What is the greatest amount of cherries ever eaten at one sitting?

Answers: First, George did not chop down that cherry tree. According to Parson Weems' book "The Life of Washington" — which is where the legend started — he merely "tried the edge of his hatchet on the body of a beautiful young English cherry tree, which he barked so terribly that I don't believe the tree ever got the better of it."

As to those Japanese cherry trees in our nation's capital, they are indescribably beautiful during cherry blossom time ... but they don't produce any edible cherries.

The firecrackers? Well, it seems that birds are a real nuisance in cherry orchards at harvest time. And the firecrackers are simply used to frighten them off.

What happens to a cherry tree if you transplant it in the tropics? Why, it stops bearing cherries and becomes an evergreen!

And finally, the champion cherry eater of all time just has to be a 17th century gourmet named Nicholas Wood. I don't believe it any more than you do, but history records that he once put away 60 pounds of cherries at one sitting.

Modern canning and freezing have made cherries a treat you can enjoy any time. And Beck's prices make them a treat you can afford any time. Come see!

Music raises spirits and solidarity

Happy birthday to: Effie Funk, June 3; Mildred Young, June 6; Lena Jessen, June 9; George Blomfield, June 10; Lucile Bauder, June 12. Cards and letters are appreciated.

Music is an important part of our lives because it has universal appeal, eliciting some response from it's participants whether they participate actively or passively. A music program is versatile since it can be conducted on every level, from very simple to highly complex. Participation by residents of a nursing home in a music program increases socialization, raises spirits, and increases group solidarity. Music is an expressive art that brings emotional pleasure and release from tensions and hostility.

Findlay Manor news

Not only does music therapy increase social skills, it also has a positive, therapeutic, physical effect on pulse rate, respiration and blood pressure. Probably the most important aspect of music therapy is the happiness which it brings; it provides our elderly clients with a "success situation" rather than an experience of failure. It emphasizes in almost every program the things which the disabled or frail elderly can do, rather than those which they cannot. One may sum up the value of music therapy by saying that it speaks to the heart and spirit, eliciting a positive physical and mental experience for it's participants.

Here at Findlay Country Manor we recognize the need for music in our activities program. In fact, this summer, we are offering a special "Sesquicentennial Sing-a-long" once a week, as a tribute to our great state. This program is made possible through a grant which will provide our residents with the professionals needed to conduct this program. We also need community involvement. Is there any one out there who can play the piano or guitar or perhaps carry a tune? If so, share your talents with our special population by calling 224-8936.

Interaction with the outside world is a key ingredient to the activity program's success, and music is the perfect universal appeal to achieve this.

Electric Co-op mails $600,000

Members of the Tri-County Electric Cooperative are sharing a $600,000 return of patronage with the mailing of more than 17,000 checks to past and present members served from 1979-1982. Also known as retirement of capital credits, the give-back is the first in the cooperative's 50-year history.

Capital credits represent all margins left after purchased power and operating costs for the year are paid. The margins are allocated to each member based on the member's payment for electric service during the year, but are generally reinvested into the cooperative for several years before being recycled back to the members.

Members who have moved are urged to contact Tri-County Electric Cooperative using a toll-free number, 1-800-848-9333.

Hands-on experience, building rockets, tours of museums, space centers and a trip to the Detroit Space Center are all part of the theme, "Powers of Ten," which highlights the infinite size of space.

SJ defeated 3-1 in semifinal

Redwing fans hold firm in Diamond Classic loss

DAN DORN scored the only Redwing run in St. Johns' semifinal Diamond Classic 3-1 loss to Grand Ledge last week. Coach Doug Parker's team ended their 1987 season with a record of 24-5 overall and were the MMB champions for the first time ever.

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

Redwing baseball fans were behind their team all the way as they packed Municipal Field last week to watch the St. Johns club compete in their final games of the annual Lansing Diamond Classic.

St. Johns defeated DeWitt 8-7 in a Monday night outing, but lost 3-1 to eventual Classic champion Grand Ledge in the semi-final game.

"It was really a big thrill for the kids," St. Johns Coach Doug Parker said. "I think people realize now that we can play with anybody — the Lansing schools, ranked teams, just anybody — and play competitively with all of them."

"We competed with clubs that have real baseball tradition behind them. Grand Ledge deserved to win the Classic — they were probably the best team we faced all year."

The Redwings end their season with a more than respectable 24-5 overall record, and their Mid-Michigan B league championship was the first ever by a St. Johns team.

In the Monday night outing versus DeWitt, Dwight Pierson earned the win in relief of Tom Bates to end the season with a pitching record of 6-0. He went 4 1/2 innings, allowing 2 runs on 5 hits, striking out 4 batters and walking none.

DEWITT SCORED four runs in the top of the first inning and a solo home run by Jerry Duwell in the bottom of the inning put the score at 4-1. The Panthers plated one run each in the third and fourth innings, putting the Redwings in a 6-1 hole going into their at-bat in the fourth.

The Redwings picked up one run in the fourth when Matt Wilcox was safe on an infield error, Pierson walked, a pass ball advanced Wilcox to third and he scored off an infield ground-out by Scott Aylsworth.

The Panthers plated their final run of the game in the sixth and St. Johns answered with two runs of the own in their half of the inning. Scott Heibeck singled, Duwell and Wilcox both walked, and again an infield grounder by Aylsworth allowed Heibeck and Duwell to score.

St. Johns turned the tide and earned the win in the final inning when Dan Dorn walked, Heibeck was safe on a fielder's choice, and a single by Duwell scored Dorn. An RBI single by Pierson brought Heibeck home, putting runners on second and third, and a walk to Aylsworth loaded the bases. Steve Dunkel then picked up a hit to score both Duwell and Pierson and give the Redwings' their 8-7 victory.

AT THE PLATE, Duwell was 2-3 with a home run and 2 RBIs, Aylsworth earned 2 RBIs, and Pierson and Heibeck both singled.

"We played well defensively in the game, committing just one error," Parker said. "We were also helped out by DeWitt errors and with seven walked batters."

"I think people realize now that we can play with anybody — the Lansing schools, ranked teams, just anybody..." Parker

St. Johns went up against what Coach Parker termed "probably the best pitcher in the area," when they faced All-District pitcher Joe Gidley in their semi-final game with Grand Ledge. He hurled a no-hitter with the Redwings' lone run of the contest coming in the first inning off an infield error, scoring Dorn who had walked.

The Comets scored one run in the first inning and two in the fifth to take the 3-1 win.

"We had our opportunities to win," Parker said. "We had a couple of balls that were hit well and three or four judgement calls by the umpires that I'd have to say went against us."

One such play came in the seventh inning when Tim Cleaver, the Redwings' leading hitter who was sidelined with cracked ribs and a kidney problem, came in to pitch-hit in a last-ditch effort to rally his teammates.

With a runner on first, Cleaver hit a shot up the middle. Gidley got a glove on the ball which ricocheted to the second baseman who made the throw to first. Cleaver was ruled out on the extremely close call.

"That really hurt," Parker said.

Duwell was the starting pitcher and took the loss for St. Johns, going 5 2/3 innings and giving up 3 runs on 4 hits with 5 strike-outs and 2 walks. Wilcox came on in relief to finish the game for the Redwings, allowing 1 hit and no runs, while striking out no batters and walking 1.

"Thing might have been different if we would have been able to match up better with them with Cleaver healthy and pitching to match Grand Ledge — but, it just didn't work out that way," Parker said.

"Still, it was thrilling to be able to participate in the Classic and win the games that we did."

Sweetening things just a little bit for the Redwings, was the $500 scholarship which Duwell won at the conclusion of the Classic on Thursday night. He was one of four senior players off from the original 10 Classic teams whose name was drawn as a scholarship winner. Jeff Conklin of Ovid-Elsie also won a $500 scholarship.

The $500 will be sent to the admissions office of the college where the player plans to attend this fall to be applied to his tuition costs.

Classic players win $500 scholarships

Jerry Duwell of St. Johns and Jeff Conklin of Ovid-Elsie were among four senior baseball players winning $500 scholarships at the conclusion of the Lansing Diamond Classic last Thursday.

Each of the ten teams who took part in the annual Classic were represented by one senior player planning to attend college in the fall. The $500 will be sent to the admissions office of the school of their choice to be used for tuition costs.

Other $500 winners were Andy Williams of Dansville and Darrel Beltran of Lansing Sexton.

O-E baseball players named to MMB and All-District teams

Coach Jack Nutter's Ovid-Elsie baseball team capped their successful 1987 with an awards' presentation last week. The Marauders finished the year with a record of 23-11 overall, and were second in the Mid-Michigan B league at 8-2.

Named as the Most Valuable Player was senior outfielder Bob Foreback. He was also selected to the MMB All-Conference First Team and to the All-District team. The Most Improved player on the Marauder roster was Walt Knickerbocker, and Most Inspirational was Jeff Davis. Davis was also voted on the All-Conference, Second Team in the MMB.

Other First Team, MMB selections were infielder Jeff Conklin and designated hitter Dennis Sturgis. Both players also represented Ovid-Elsie on the All-District team.

A variety of school records were set by the 1987 Marauder team, including: number of times at bat — 111 by Bob Foreback, (formerly 108 set by Jeff Conklin in 1986); number of runs scored in a season — 34 by Jeff Davis and Foreback, (formerly 30 set by Foreback); hits in a season — 45 by Foreback, (broke his own record of 35 set in 1986); most triples in a season — four by Richie Stutzman, (formerly three, held by Pete Hurst); most home runs — eight by Stutzman, (formerly six, held by Dan Fox, set in 1983, and Brad Hudacek, set in 1978); most runs batted in (RBIs) — 40 by Stutzman, (formerly 33, set by Stutzman in 1986).

Foreback and Sturgis tied the school record for most doubles in a season, both having nine. They tied the mark held by Stutzman (1985), Ray Trevino (1976), and Matt Fabus (1978). Jason McCreery also tied the school record for best pitching win/loss record of 5-0, set by Dave Schwark in 1970.

Knickerbocker ended the season with the highest batting average for the Marauders at .446. Big averages were also turned in by Stutzman (.438), Conklin (.432), Foreback (.405), Kevin Scott (.400), Sturgis (.388), and Doug Pumford (.379). Finishing out the year with the best earned run average was Conklin who had a .54 average.

P-W wins class C baseball crown

Could there be a Class C State Baseball Champion pennant hanging in the gym at Pewamo-Westphalia High School in the fall?

That possibility is beginning to look more and more like a reality. Especially since the bat-swinging Pirates won their first-ever regional baseball championship last Saturday in a pair of games played at Calvin Christian High School, Grandville.

Coach Mark Rademacher's team defeated Ravenna 8-3 in the first of the regional games, and rallied to earn an 11-8 come-from-behind win over Morley-Stanwood in the championship game.

The double-victory upped the Pirates' record to 14-8 overall, sending them into the Class C state semifinals this Saturday versus No. 5-ranked Niles Brandywine whose record stands at 22-5. The game is slated to begin at 12:30 p.m. at Kobb's Field on the campus of Michigan State.

In the opening regional game with Ravenna, John Jegla and Loren Thelen keyed the Pirates rally in their five-run seventh inning which gave P-W the win. Both seniors had 2-run singles in the inning, following Jeff Wirth's lead-off double. Wirth came home when Todd Smith belted a double. Earlier in the game, Smith had blasted a 2-run home run for the Pirates.

Stan Bauer was the winning pitcher, striking out 9 batters and walking just 2.

Rademacher's squad put together another 5-run rally in the second game to defeat Morley-Stanwood.

The Pirates totaled 21 hits in the two games. Their hot bats have been a major factor in the outcome of many of P-W's recent ballgames, paving the way to wins in 12 of their last 15 outings.

Hitting leaders going into the Class C regional included Loren Thelen and Todd Smith. Thelen held a batting average of .444, had 19 RBIs to his credit, and 24 stolen bases, while teammate Smith had 30 RBIs behind a batting average of .375. Junior pitcher/shortstop Dale Jandernoa and junior second baseman Dan Smith have also been instrumental in the Pirates' wins, most notably in the district championship win over highly favored DeWitt a week ago.

REGIONAL CHAMPIONS — The Pewamo-Westphalia baseball team won their first regional title ever in Class C games played at Grandville on Saturday. Todd Smith (18) has been a big hitter for the Pirate team during the play-offs, as he demonstrated in last week's district win over DeWitt when he singled in three runs.

Rain or shine, fans watch racing action and thrills at Crystal Raceway while kids enjoy Kids' Night

Rains almost halted racing at Crystal Raceway on June 6, but the sun came out and crews worked double-time to ready the track for the running of late model super stocks, pro stocks and IMCA Modifieds.

Conditions were not as smooth as drivers and management would have liked due to the heavy rains early in the day, and the lights flickered as a result of the two-inch deluge, but races did run smooth for the majority of racing and the crowds stayed to the end to watch the action.

Stanton driver Rick Stout, who along with his crew began work on an IMCA Modified just two weeks ago, won the feature. Other drivers in the event came from Spartan Speedway, racing in their second outing on dirt.

Pro Stock driver Troy VanderVeen, who is becoming the racer to beat, started in the 15th position and came on strong to edge out Delbert Brigner for the checkered flag. Behind VanderVeen and Brigner were Jeff Reist, Don Rohn and Tom Minkey.

Pro Stockers who had to place first and second in the B-features to make the A-feature were Chuck Williams, Ed Blackmer, Bill Trueblood, and Bob Nieman. Heat winner were Clark Newell, Joey Fowler, Tim Wood, Trueblood and Nieman.

Early late model action saw St. Johns drivers Jon Botum and Eric Chant take heat wins. It looked like the duo had the right groove for the evening, but Roger Wing improved his 12th position start to take the lead mid-way through the feature.

Chant and Wing kept the crowd on its feet running one/two, with Wing taking the checkered flag. Greg Usher was third, Dick Shively placed fourth and Johnny Roberts was fifth.

Along with the action on the track, Kid's Night featured a money dig, Honeybee the Clown and her sidekick Pin-Up, free candy and toys.

The schedule for next Saturday has been changed. SOD Sprints will not run, as had been planned, but a regular night of fast-paced pro stocks and late models will entertain Crystal Raceway goers. SOD Sprints will run the following evening, June 14, along with a pro stock invitational with $300 to the winner. Both races on Sunday will be qualifiers for the September Dealers Choice.

Saturday races are at the regular time of 7:55 p.m., with Sunday racing beginning at 7 p.m. and time trials at 4:30 p.m.

P-W holds awards banquet

Pewamo-Westphalia High School honored spring sports participants in an end-of-the-year banquet on May 28. Student members of varsity and junior varsity softball and baseball teams received awards.

Named as the Most Valuable Player for the Pirate baseball team was Loren Thelen, while the Captain's Award went to Jeff Wirth and Stan Bauer. Most Valuable Player on the girls softball team was Lori Hengesbach.

Selected as the Male Athlete of the Year was Dave Stump, and Brenda Martin was named the Female Athlete of the Year. Brent and Brian Thelen received the Steve Leneman Award.

Winners of the awards were chosen by a vote of the players and coaches.

SJ track MVP Sandra Terrell gets meet invitations

St. Johns girls track coach Teri Brown presented awards to her Mid-Michigan B league championship squad at the conclusion of the track season last week.

Selected as the Most Valuable Player for the Redwing girls was senior Sandra Terrell, who set a new school record in the mile run at the Class A state final track meet with a time of 5:10.8. Receiving the 101 Percent Award was Krista Schraaben, while Paula Pardike was chosen as Most Improved. Jessica Kluge was named the Outstanding Freshman, Anne Brocker was voted as Outstanding in Field Events, and Luanne Hurst was named Most Spirited.

The Coach's Award went to Kim Korienek and Anita Manas. Selected as team captains for 1988 were Mandy Martens, Kari Simon, and Kerry Porter.

Along with her MVP honor, Terrell was also the top St. Johns runner in the 3200 meter event throughout the year. She has been invited to participate in 3200 meters at the Midwest Meet of Champions which will be held in Indianapolis, Ind., on June 13.

Terrell has also been invited by the International Sports Exchange to compete this summer in the International Rudolf Summer Race in West Germany. Her selection was based on her performances in cross country and track this year.

Area anglers alerted to fish program

Anglers reeling in large-sized Michigan fish this year should record their catches with the Department of Natural Resources to qualify for a Michigan Master Angler patch, which could also qualify them for a "top-five" certificate or a state record honor.

State record holders also received an official state record certificate in addition to their patch. The department also awarded 165 certificates in 1986 to anglers whose fish placed in the top five of each fish category entered that year.

Presently, 179 anglers have submitted Master Angler entries for 1987.

The program, created in 1973, recognizes anglers catching large species of Michigan fish that meet minimum entry weight requirements established by the DNR. To date, nearly 5,000 anglers have been recognized by the department for their catches in 47 of the 49 Michigan fish specie categories listed in the program.

For further information on the program and a list of Michigan's state record fish, contact DNR's Fisheries Division, Box 30028, Lansing, 48909; phone, 517-373-1280.

Redwing softballers earn awards

Members of the St. Johns girls softball team received end-of-the-season awards from varsity coach Paul Sternburgh at their annual season-end gathering last week.

"I was happy with our overall play this year," Sternburgh said. "We are all looking forward to next season. We should be in good shape, losing just a couple players and with the experience that the younger players gained this year."

Named as the Redwings' Most Valuable Player was senior first-basemen Karen Simon. Most Improved was Carrie Darnell and Darnell and Monica Vasquez both received the 101 Percent Award. Debbie Bensinger was voted as the teams' Most Spirited player.

In Mid-Michigan B league balloting, Simon and Missy Vitek were selected to the First Team, All-Conference, and were also named to the Class A, All-District team. Gina Schneider and Tonya LaBar were named to the Second Team, All-Conference.

Sports notes

Theis "Bulldog of Year"

Patty Theis, graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School, was one of three outstanding student-athletes named at the "Breakfast of Champions" awards ceremony at Ferris State College last week.

Members of the coaching staff for the college's 17 varsity sports cast their votes in selecting Theis along with girls basketball player Karen Kramer of Portland St. Patrick High School and Brad Morris, a graduate of Warren Mott.

Theis, a first-team NCAA division II volleyball All-American, is a repeat "Bulldog of the Year" choice from last year's balloting. She led teammates to a share of the schools' fifth straight Great Lakes Conference volleyball championship and a fifth consecutive appearance in the NCAA playoffs.

Named as the Bulldogs MVP, Theis led the team in attack percentage (.324), kills (584), attempts (1,276), and blocks (44 solo/131 assists). She holds eight school records, was twice named to the all-GLIAC academic team, and is a Dean's Award recipient with a 3.48 grade point average in child development.

GVSC hosts football camp, athletic trainer workshop

The football staff at Grand Valley State College will hold a "mini" football camp on June 15 and 16 at Houseman Field in Grand Rapids. The camp is open to all junior and senior high players in grades 8-12.

Total cost is $35, with players asked to bring their own workout equipment including turf shoes for artificial turf and team helmets. Quarterbacks and receivers may bring their own football.

A student athletic trainer workshop, planned for August 2-5, is aimed at junior and senior high school students interested in becoming student athletic trainers. They will receive instruction in the basics of taping and first aid of athletic injuries to the ankle, knee and upper body.

Wind tunnel

By Eileen Gillespie

How far can a pesticide be sprayed — sprayed accurately, that is — on a windy day?

Farmers need to know to make sure that pesticide sprays from commonly used airblast systems reach the crops they are aimed at. Sometimes a mere breeze can force the jet-propelled pesticides into near right-angle turns that make them miss their target completely.

A lot of pesticide chemicals are wasted during spraying operations because of wind. By learning exactly how pesticides get diverted by the wind we should be able to develop wind-resistant spraying mechanisms and procedures that could reduce pesticide costs by 30 percent.

Can't farmers simply skip spraying operations on a windy day? But it doesn't take a strong wind to wreak havoc with a pesticide spray. Even a mild breeze, at certain angles, can radically alter the direction of conventional airblast sprays.

We must be particularly concerned about pesticides sprayed from airblast sprayers mounted on tractors or other machines that move through orchards. To reach the tops of the trees, the pesticide has to be sprayed in a high arch that is easily disrupted by the wind.

We've found that a 15 mi/hr crosswind can bend a 120 MPH spray from that type of equipment as much as 80 degrees. In fact with winds from certain directions, the spray can be forced backwards before it gets six feet from the nozzle. Also we have to remember that significant wind problems can arise from movement of the spraying machinery. Tests show that an orchard sprayer driven at 10 mi/hr could lose most of its pesticide to air currents created by the travel of the sprayer itself.

One solution is to have a sprayer system with nozzles attached to lifting mechanisms that can rise to treetop levels. Wind tunnel test conducted enabled engineers to check and refine a computer program to stimulate how wind affects pesticide sprays. They found that the spray is a lot like a sweptback airplane wing, and that it has some of the same aerodynamic characteristics. The wind tunnel data made the computer program more accurate and a more reliable engineering tool in the future. One more step in designing new pesticide equipment to meet the challenge of a windy day.

The Clinton Soil Conservation District stresses the importance to read and accurately follow the directions on all sprays, in all kinds of weather conditions. Eileen Gillespie is the district administrative assistant for the Clinton Soil Conservation District

Haylage

By Marilyn Loudenslager

If you've used good management practices — harvested on time, chopped the forage to about 3/8 inch and packed the haylage well — you probably don't need to use a preservative or inoculant.

Although some of these products have proven effective, no inoculant or preservative can increase the quality of haylages. They only help reduce loss in storage, according to Robert Patton and Herb Bucholtz, MSU extension dairy specialists.

These are some of the products available to producers:

- Propionic acid. It's a very effective preservative, but it is expensive and quite corrosive.
- Sodium diacetate. It's quite effective, but it is corrosive to feeding equipment.
- Anhydrous ammonia. Field experience has shown good results when five to seven pounds of anhydrous ammonia are added to each ton of haylage. Experimental evidence about its effectiveness is lacking, however.

Exercise caution when using any of these preservatives to prevent chemical burns to the eyes, hands or skin.

Microbial inoculants. At least 100,000 live lactobacillus bacteria per gram of haylage should be present, or 91 billion per ton. MSU research shows that the most effective inoculants are those sold as frozen liquids or freeze-dried products. These inoculants are thawed in water just before being sprayed on the haylage at the chopper or blower.

The problem with preservatives, even those that are effective, is that they are not cost effective. They also lack consistent results.

One of the better ideas for preserving haylage quality is spraying water on the alfalfa just ahead of the chopper. The wetting helps prevent alfalfa leaf loss. For some reason, this has resulted in a two percent increase in crude protein.

Two to three sprayer nozzles delivering 20 gallons of water per acre are attached to the pickup head on the chopper. This does not increase haylage moisture content, but it does save leaves and suppress diet.

About 20 gallons are required per chopper load. The tank can be carried on the tractor, on the chopper or on the wagon. You can use a recreational vehicle-type electric water pump with pump switch installed in the tractor cab.

Avoid using tanks that have contained pesticides, fertilizer or herbicides. Purchase new tanks instead. Marilyn Loudenslager is the agriculture agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Service.

Roehl lines Weeds in corn

By Giles Roehl

Poor weed control will likely be a common problem for corn growers this year because the rain needed to activate pre-emergence herbicides came late.

Farmers often find themselves in a situation where corn has emerged before the correct herbicides have been applied. When that happens, timeliness is critical with the use of postemergence chemicals since weed control is more difficult as they get larger. This is true of both broadleaves and grasses.

Several postemergence herbicides are available to control annual broadleaved weeds in corn. Application of 2-4-D, Butril, Atrazine and several other herbicides are effective in controlling most broadleaved annuals.

Grassy weeds will present the biggest problem for corn growers because they are extremely difficult to control with a postemergence herbicide after they exceed two inches in height. Timing of the postemergence herbicide application is critical to control these weeds.

The following herbicides are available for annual grass control in corn: Atrazine with a crop oil concentrate will control yellow foxtail that is one to 1 1/2 inches tall. Atrazine can be applied to corn at all growth stages.

Bladex 90 DF or Blades 80 W will control yellow, green and giant foxtail and barnyardgrass when the weeds are one to 1/2 inches tall. Control of one inch crabgrass, witchgrass and fall panicum may be inconsistent. Both herbicides must be applied before the fifth leaf is visible on the corn plant.

Bladex 90 DF/Bladex 80 W mixed with Prowl, or Atrazine mixed with Prowl, will control yellow, green and giant foxtail and barnyardgrasses that are one inch tall. Control of one inch crabgrass, witchgrass and fall panicum, may be inconsistent with each of these herbicide combinations. Applications may be made until the corn exceeds the four-leaf stage.

Applications of Tandem, Atrazine and crop oil concentrate will control yellow, green and giant foxtail, barnyardgrass and crabgrass when the weeds are in the one-to-three leaf stage. The herbicide combinations can be applied at all corn growth stages.

Applications of Tandem and Bladex 80W/Bladex 90 DF, or Tandem, Atrazine and Bladex 80W/Bladex 90 DF, will control yellow, green and giant foxtail, barnyardgrass and crabgrass in the one to three leaf stage. These herbicide combinations must be applied before the fifth leaf of the corn plant is visible.

Larger grasses can be controlled only with directed applications of Evik or Lorox. To make this application, growers must use drop nozzles on their sprayers and direct the spray between the rows. Additional information on these postemergence applications is available in extension bulletin E-434, "1987 Weed Control Guide for Field Crops."

When growers use a postemergence herbicide application, they should delay cultivation for at least seven to 10 days to allow time for the herbicide to work.

Corn Borers: Mark White, field specialist for CountryMark called on June 3 to tell me corn borers are already here — about two to three weeks early. They were in numbers large enough to require spraying.

Control of the borers is becoming more difficult because the life cycle of the pest is changing. The tentative guidelines given here will be changed as soon as more reliable indices become available:

1. First generation in the last half of June — where 50 percent or more of the plants show early feeding (small, whitish marks on the leaves).
2. Second generation in late July — where eggs are present on 1/2 or more of plants and when the first early feeding is seen.

Timing is critical for borer control and large larvae (about 1/2 inch long or longer) are usually so deep in the whorls or leaf sheaths that they cannot be reached by insecticides. Do not try to control them if they are large and already deeply hidden. Granules penetrate better into whorls or leaf sheaths than sprays granules should be used when practical. Center the spray nozzle or fan for granules over the row and just above the whorl height when ground equipment is used. Use a nozzle-pressure combination that gives large droplets that will run down the leaves when a ground spray is used.

Historical photos: Hunt's Drug Store and July 4

The Clinton County News is publishing a series of photo pages portraying Clinton County's past. If you have a photograph you think should be included, bring it to our office at 117 E. Walker St., St. Johns. Or telephone 224-2361.

RIGHT — A Fourth of July in St. Johns in 1903. Notice two landmarks, now long gone: The Steel Hotel and the Interurban Railroad.

LOWER RIGHT — Apples grown in Clinton County were once sold in "Moss Gargage," according to information on the back of this photograph, circa World War I. The gentlemen are Frank Valintine (Valentine?) and D.H. Hunt.

BELOW — A farmer stands on an old style hay stack. Oliver Gillespie, who furnished this photograph, wonders if anybody can identify the site or the farmer.
