Jail election is slated for Nov. 3

November 3 is the date Clinton County residents will decide on a proposal for a new jail.

County commissioners last Tuesday set the date and took out an option to buy a proposed site for the jail. The site is east of St. Johns, adjacent to the back of the Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor property, between Wildcat and Townsend roads. The county paid owner Bill Buggs Jr. $3,000 to hold open the option on the 60-acre open until Dec. 31.

If voters approve a bond issue for the jail, the county will pay $90,000 for the site.

The cost of the proposed jail is estimated at $6 million, said Asst. County Administrator Jeanette Smith. Interest on the bonds would cost another $6 million over. Voters will be asked to approve a tax levy of up to one mill for 20 years to pay the debt.

THIS IS the fourth attempt to get voter approval of a new jail since 1977. The first two proposals were soundly defeated but a proposal last year was rejected by only 79 votes.

County law enforcement officials have long said the current jail is overcrowded. The jail was intended to have a 42-inmate capacity. Since the start of the year, the daily inmate average has been 47.4, said Jail Administrator George Weber. The county has a daily average 17.4 inmates boarded out in other counties, he said.

Weber said the cost of boarding out inmates this year was about $78,000 as of June 1. He estimated the cost for the year will be $175,000 to $180,000.

COMMISSIONERS also hired Gus Harrison, Inc. and Landmark Design Group, Inc. as consultants and architects for the new jail.

Plans for the proposed jail are expected to be ready by August. Tentative plans call for up to 100 cells.

"Everything is tentative," said Smith. "It all depends on what the consultants come up with."

Illegal

Police last Thursday confiscated $1,600 worth of fireworks, some of which are illegal in Michigan, from an Okemos man who was allegedly selling them in Clinton County.

Police confiscate illegal fireworks

An Okemos man charged with selling illegal fireworks near St. Johns last week says he will never again try to supplement his income in that way.

"First and last time, believe me," said Daryl Hansen, of 1935 Dansberry West in Okemos, as he watched Clinton County law enforcement officials inspect an estimated $1,600 worth of fireworks they had confiscated from him.

Police say Hansen was selling the fireworks, some of which are illegal under Michigan law, on the roadside of US-27 near Parks Road. If convicted of the misdemeanor charge of possession of illegal fireworks, Hansen faces a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Hansen cooperated with police who were attempting to identify which of the fireworks they had confiscated are illegal in Michigan. But he suggested the law was a spoilsport. "The law is the law," he said. "But good gracious — how far can you protect people from themselves?"

"They're selling this stuff right and left in other parts of Michigan," he added.

Before beginning to sell fireworks, Hansen said, he contacted prosecutors' offices in several Michigan counties to try to determine their stance on the sale of fireworks. In Michigan many fireworks are illegal that are allowed under federal law. Hansen said he had not contacted Clinton County authorities before setting up shop here.

Clinton County Prosecuting Attorney Jon Newman said police arrest all sellers of illegal fireworks they come across in the county.

"We don't need that in Clinton County," commented Sheriff Terry Hanecow.

Fowler board cites Pohl for leadership

The Fowler Board of Education presented a Board of Recognition Award certificate to John Pohl at its meeting July 6.

Pohl received the award for the support, time, and effort he gave as chairperson for the Fowler Citizens for a Successful Millage campaign. Through his leadership, both millage proposals passed.

The board presents awards to students, employees, or community members who it feels have contributed to the Fowler Public Schools in a significant manner. Recipients are nominated by employees or community members. During a monthly review of the nominations, winners are selected.

Nomination forms for the award are available in the school office.

Notes

Car show

ST. JOHNS — The Hub Antique Car Club will hold its eighth annual car show, swap meet and flea market July 12 at Bee's Chevy-Olds-Dodge on US-27.

Gates will open at 8 a.m. and close at 5:30 p.m. Admission is $2. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

For more information call Pete Stevens at 224-2407, Larry Irner at 224-7456 or Louis Anderson at 224-3779.

Rivendell

ST. JOHNS — A groundbreaking ceremony for Rivendell of Michigan will be held Friday at 10 a.m. on Townsend Road near Lansing Street.

The Rivendell facility will offer treatment to disturbed youths in the mid-Michigan area. Community leaders have hailed it as both an economic boon the county and a badly needed service for youths.

On Monday, July 13, Kathleen Kennally, Rivendell senior vice president for communications, will appear at the evening meeting of the St. Johns City Commission to present a slide show and answer questions from the public about the facility.

Audubon

ST. JOHNS — Eleven members of the Mid-Michigan Audubon Club enjoyed a potluck supper on June 23 at the St. Johns City Park, after which they went for a walk on the trails.

On June 20, several members travelled to Grayling to the Kirtland Warbler sanctuary, on a tour conducted by the forest service ranger station. People from all over the world come there to see the rare Warbler, which are restricted to a limited habitat.

There are an estimated 210 birds in the area, down from over 500 ten years ago. Traps have been set to catch their enemy, the cow bird, with over 25,000 caught each year. This has been a big help in increasing their numbers.

No Audubon meetings are planned for July and August.

Bible time

ST. JOHNS — The Grove Bible Church, at the corner of Shepardsville and Price roads, will present Neighborhood Bible Time for the fourth year in a row.

Pastor Bob Prange extends a welcome invitation to all youth between the ages of five and nine in the greater Clinton and Shiawasee area.

Magic, dramatized stories, Bible drills, lifetime souvenirs, daily gifts, great competition and refreshments are a few of the things intended to make the program dynamic and exciting.

There will also be a program for teens led by the Youth Evangelists. It will be held evenings, July 12-16, for all young people of high school age.

For further information, call 651-5729.

Raven House hopes to open in July

Opening day for Clinton County's shelter for battered women and children is getting closer each day as renovation and interior decorating nears completion.

"It's a little bit scary to get this big all of a sudden, but I guess we'll just have to grow with it," says Janet Holden, director of Relief After Violent Encounter.

RAVE, the St. Johns-based organization that offers help to victims of violence in the home, hopes to open the shelter this month.

The shelter will be called the Raven House. The public is invited to attend an open house at the shelter on July 18.

The Most Holy Trinity Parish in Fowler voted several months ago to donate the use of its former convent building to RAVE for use as a shelter. RAVE asked the Clinton County community at large to "adopt" rooms within the building for repainting, furnishing and decorating.

THE COMMUNITY responded with gusto. So far, a total of 786 volunteer hours have gone into the renovation of Raven House. All of the rooms except one, a bathroom, have been adopted. On any given day volunteers can be found working in the shelter amid the smell of fresh paint and boxes of supplies.

Last Tuesday, Kay Hufnagel was painting a hallway on the ground floor of the building. She had come to the shelter with the Confraternity of Christian Mothers, a Fowler group who had adopted the kitchen of the building. The kitchen was completed but Hufnagel noticed other work that needed to be done — so she did it.

Many volunteer hours were provided by a group of Fowler men working with RAVE board member Norbert Pohl. Ben Weiber, Hugo Fox, Carl Weiber and others have been plastering, fix windows and making other repairs.

The following groups have adopted rooms at the Raven House:

- FOWLER: Confraternity of Christian Mothers, the eighth grade class at Most Holy Trinity School, Catholic Order of Foresters, Knights of Columbus, Class of 85 and the Daughters of Isabella.

- ST. JOHNS: St. Joseph Youth Group, St. Joseph Parish (two rooms), St. Johns Lioness Club, the children of Norman and Anne Beauchamp in memory of their grandparents, Frank and Mary Maquire, Alfred and Arlene Lounds; Realty World Donaldson; Good Samaritans; Clinton County Department of Social Services employees; Lutheran Women; and the Rev. Michael and Janet Herman.

- PEWAMO: Janet Minarik.
- HASLETT: Danny and Gwen Hulbert.

- LANSING: Beta Sigma Phi and the Krogers Employees Association.

- DEWITT: St. Anns Episcopal Church.

Additionally, the Holy Family Church in Ovid purchased a new washer and dryer; Becker Furniture of Fowler furnished a new kitchen floor; and St. Mary's Catholic Church in Westphalia provided paint for the hallways.

Although rapid progress is being made at Raven House, the need remains for certain contributions:

- Lamps, end tables, baby furniture, twin beds, coffee pot, fans, and flash lights are needed

- Cash contributions are needed to cover such expenses as smoke alarms, first aid kits, plastic mattress covers, pillow covers and office supplies.

- Volunteers are always needed.

For information on how to donate or volunteer, call 224-RAVE.

Photographs by Rich Wertz

PUFFALUMP VISIT — Sarah Reese, 3, of St. Johns enters Raven House with her puffalump. Sarah is the daughter of Julie Reese (background), a RAVE volunteer who has helped prepare the shelter.

RAVEN HOUSE — Volunteer Kay Hufnagel of Fowler paints a hallway in the soon-to-open shelter for battered women and children. Community support for the shelter has been tremendous, says Janet Holden, director of Relief After Violent Encounter.

Editor's notes Ex-es in Texas

By Rich Wertz

Once when I was a kid the pastor of our church came out of the closet and admitted he liked country music. This was a bold move for a pastor whose congregation tended more toward the long-haired stuff — classical, rock 'n roll, that sort of thing.

The pastor said he was a closet country music fan. Leave the sublime and transcendent to the Mozarts of the world, leave the monkey-monkey-shake and the yah-yahs to the Mick Jagers. Country music, said the pastor, expresses simple, basic human emotion. The songs, he said, are about the lives of normal, everyday people. He liked that.

I was reminded of that pastor recently. While driving the roads of Clinton County of late I've been listening to WSJ 1580, "Clinton County's Country Connection," and have heard all the latest country songs. One guy sings about the mixed blessings of domestic life ("Drivin' in the station wagon/trying to keep the muffler from draggin'").

Another guy sings about being in some bar where he is sorely tempted to break his vows of marriage. Not to worry. As he gazes into the eyes of his beautiful young temptress he sees the reflection of his wedding band. Brings him right back to his senses.

Well, that's basic human emotion for you.

Actually, I thought of the country music fan pastor after detecting certain changes in country music. For instance, some country songs these days sound suspiciously like rock 'n roll, what with electric guitars and the occasional synthesizer.

But the real change is more subtle. What we have here is a slow infusion of insidious sophistication.

A month or so ago the airwaves carried a song about the baby boom generation. Part of the song went something like this: "We all could run computers and we all could dance. We all had 'Calvin Klein' written on our underpants...Our optimism mingled with the gloomkinds of the Baby Boom."

Now then are some sophisticated lyrics. That's sophistication, my friends, right here in River City. We're not just talking about broken hearts anymore. This is serious social commentary.

My current favorite is a song that goes: "All of my ex-es live in Texas." That's ex-es as in ex-wives. Ex-es in Texas. It rhymes. It's funny.

You know times are changing when rampant materialism and divorce find their way into the lyrics of country music. I wonder what that pastor would think of this new breed of country music with its themes of...come to think of it, of normal, everyday life. Maybe the music hasn't changed that much after all.

Clover clippings Citizenship

By Theresa Silm

Fourteen Clinton County young people will participate in the 4-H Citizenship-Washington Focus program July 11-18 at the National 4-H Center, Chevy Chase, Md.

Dana Burghdoff, Kyle Graham, Jennifer Goodrich, Terry Hart, Stacie Holland, Mike Huhn, Jenny Kissane, Brian Mead, Therese Nichols, Keisha Schaub, Tracy Spellman, Patti Straub, Doug Wadell and Wendy Zuzelski will represent Clinton County. They will be among 4,300 4-H'ers from 45 states who will attend weeklong sessions throughout the summer.

The Citizenship-Washington Focus program helps 4-H'ers understand individual citizenship responsibilities, American history and our government system. Young people will also learn new leadership techniques based on peer group dynamics.

Through workshops and seminars, the 4-H'ers will explore citizenship, improve their communication skills and increase their understanding of global interdependence. They will also simulate a congressional hearing and local governing council, review how a bill becomes law and learn the basics of proposal development.

Participants will see government in action and meet with members of congress during a day on Capitol Hill. Field trips to federal agencies, community organizations, and historical and cultural sites are also scheduled.

At the end of the week the members will develop plans of action to strengthen 4-H teen leadership in Clinton County.

The Citizenship-Washington Focus program is conducted by the National 4-H Council in support of 4-H youth programs nationwide.

For more information about the program, contact the Cooperative Extension Service Office, or call 224-5240.

Agricultural news

No-lead

By Marilyn Loudenslager

The reduction of lead in gasoline has caused a general concern that older engines may suffer premature valve seat wear if operated on unleaded fuel. In response to this concern, USDA-EPA tested seven engines using leaded (1.20 gram/gal), low lead (.10 gram/gal) and unleaded gasoline. In addition two non-lead additives were tested.

The seven agricultural engines tested were: John Deere "B", Farmall "H" International Harvester 240, and Ford 8N tractors, John Deere 303 combine engine, and two General Motors 292 truck engines. A recreational vehicle engine was also tested.

Results of the tests showed that all engines performed satisfactorily on both leaded and low-lead gasoline. Some of the engines performed satisfactorily on the unleaded gasoline (generally, those designed for use at lower rpm's) but most experienced exhaust valve-seat wear.

The two non-lead additives, manufactured by Lubrizol and Dupont, were not satisfactory in reducing valve seat wear unless used at several times the recommended rates. At these high rates, excessive engine deposits and oil contamination became a concern — both having unknown implications.

A survey of farm engine use showed there are 1.8 million gasoline powered tractors, 271,000 gasoline powered combines and 750,000 gasoline-powered trucks larger than one-ton capacity. Fifty-eight percent of tractors are vulnerable to excessive valve-seat recession if operated on unleaded gasoline unless they are low rpm engines or have hardened exhaust valve seats. Only 33 percent of the tractors have hardened seats. All combine engines receive hard use and those with cast iron valve seats are likely to experience excessive valve-seat recession. A large number of farm trucks could be vulnerable depending upon their operating situation.

Marilyn Loudenslager is the agricultural agent for the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

"It's in the Bag"

by Bob Beck

They didn't have airplanes three hundred years ago. But if they had, the stewardess...on British planes, at least...wouldn't have come up the aisle asking if you wanted "coffee, tea or milk."

Instead, she would have said: "Coffee, tea or lemonade?"

All of which introduces today's subject, probably the oldest soft drink known to man. And it is a fact that lemonade ranked right along with coffee and tea in popularity back in seventeenth century England.

For that matter, it was very big in France, too. And as long ago as 1676, peddlers on the streets of Paris sold lemonade out of tanks strapped to their backs.

Not that they invented lemonade. Credit for that, believe it or not, goes to the Mongolians, who discovered...in the thirteenth century B.C.---that a delicious and refreshing beverage could be made from the juice of lemons. And historians tell us that for many centuries afterwards, lemons were grown almost entirely for use in lemonade...which was considered a very rare and exotic beverage indeed.

Today, of course, lemonade doesn't enjoy quite the status. But things are looking up. For it is very high in Vitamin C. And Vitamin C is one of our fastest-growing diet fads. In fact, in a new book called "Vitamin C and the Common Cold," one enthusiast is even quoted as saying that high daily doses of Vitamin C might add fifty years to your life!

Well, I don't know about that. But I do know that Vitamin S...for Savings...is good for your budget. And everything here at Beck's is high in that!

IN CONCERT — The Sing Ambassadors from Germany will perform at the St. Mary's Church in Westphalia at 8 p.m. on July 22.

German choir to visit

A men's choir, members of a Quartett Club from the village of Huesborn, West Germany, will be on a concert tour of the United States this summer. Part of their three-week tour will include a visit to Westphalia from July 21 to July 23.

The choir from Germany will perform at St. Mary's Church, Westphalia, Wednesday, July 22, at 8 p.m. The singing group is well known in their native Germany, also in worldwide circles, having performed in London, Rome, New York, Chicago, and Mexico.

Kunibert Koch (Cook) is the choir director. The men sing opera, operettas, religious music, modern, and choir pieces.

Huesborn is a small village in the parish of Wenden, which in turn is in the district of Olpe in the State of Westphalia in West Germany. The group is looking forward to their performance as the "Singing Ambassadors" for the German Sauerland to the town of Westphalia, Mich.

There will be no admission charge for the July 22 concert. An ice cream social will follow.

The German singers' appearance is part of a summer-long series of events in Westphalia sponsored by a group of Westphalians who took a "Sentimental Journey" to the German Westphalia two years ago and are returning the hospitality they enjoyed there.

Gallery hosts gardeners

"Earthy Delights — The Gardeners' View," the July art exhibit at the Clinton County Arts Council Gallery, is highlighted by the council's second annual horticultural art competition.

The multi-media competition encourages innovation and creativity, and includes entries by artists from throughout Clinton County and surrounding communities.

An artists' reception is planned for July 12 from 1-5 p.m. at the Gallery, located on US-27 and N. Clinton Avenue in St. Johns, at which time competition winners will be announced. The public is invited to attend and view the exhibit.

Christ VanAntwerp, executive director of the Michigan Association of Community Arts Agencies, will judge the competition. Gift certificates from Silver Lead Paint Co., of Lansing and Dick Blink Art Supply of Galesburg, Ill., will be awarded in addition to cash prizes.

Participating artists include: Florence Horn of Ovid; Kevin Smith of Howell; Marlene Grannet of Fowlerville; Paula Stuart Hankins and Jeanne Curtis of Owosso; Grace Hungerford, Carmen Bamert and Florence Walling, all of Flushing; Joyce Johns; Doris Jarrell of La- Doris Kay of Lansing; and D'Hondt, Margaret Hart ingsburg; Tricia Reust of Wanda Gringhuis Ander- and Maxine Strahle of St. DeWitt; Ann Spencer and son of Spring Lake.

Perrinton planning party

A variety of games planned by Brenda Young and Joan Bradburn will keep persons attending the Perrinton Centennial on July 17, 18 and 19 busy hopping, running, and jumping.

Kickball games lead off the activities on July 17 beginning at 10 a.m. with a children's olympics scheduled from 1:30-5 p.m. Included will be diaper races, peddle bike races, wheelbarrow races, frog jump, apple dunk contest, potato sack race, and a slinging shot contest.

A cutest child contest begins on Friday also at ten cents a vote with two age groups of 0-2 years and 3-5 years. Children do not have to be present to win, or from the immediate area. Pictures along with name, address and age may be mailed to Brenda Young, Box 191, Perrinton, 48871 by July 13. All money for votes will go to the children with winners announced on Sunday at 5 p.m. There will be a first place trophy for each age group.

A 10K race and 1-mile fun run are planned for July 18, both beginning at 9 a.m. sharp. There is a $6 pre-entry fee or a $8 fee on race day for the 10K event and a $4 pre-entry fee or $5 fee on the day of the race for the fun run. T-shirts will be given to all persons who enter with a first place trophy, mens overall trophy, womens overall trophy, and trophies to the first three finishers in each age group in the 10K run. A first place trophy and t-shirts will be awarded in the fun run. For more information, call Brenda Young at 236-5162.

Included in the final day activities on July 19 are a fish derby from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., horseshoe pitch, and bed race. Persons must fish between the bridge on M-57 and Bakers bridge in the fish derby and all fish must be registered. There is a $5 entry fee for doubles only in the horseshoe pitch with trophies awarded for first through third places.

A $5 entry fee per five-man team is required for the bed race with any size bed with mattress and bottom sheet and wheels no larger than four inches as requirements. First place finishers win $25, second place wins $10, and $5 goes to the third place team. Teams must register at the post officer before the race.

A co-ed softball tournament, firemans waterball contest and log splitting and sawing contests are also scheduled during the weekend.

Special postmark set

Perrinton Postmaster Bernice Flegel last week announced a special stamp cancellation will be available during the weekend Perrinton Centennial celebration on July 17, 18, and 19.

"The Postal Service is most happy to participate in the 100th anniversary of Perrinton," Postmaster Flegel stated. "We will be conspicuous in a postal vehicle. The Stamp Pad, on main street. Our hours will be 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and noon to 4 p.m. on Sunday."

A wide range of stamps, envelopes, and stamp collection products will be available for collectors and local or area residents who wish to have a postal souvenir of the Centennial, Flegel said. The commemorative cancellation will be at the mobile vehicle during the weekend, but will also be applied to envelopes and cards sent to the Perrinton Post Office. "This celebration is a time to remember the history of our people and our community," Flegel said, "and perhaps this special cancellation is one modest way to offer a Centennial souvenir through the Perrinton Post Office."

Flood plain areas added

Two areas in the village of Elsie are designated flood plain areas on a National Flood Insurance Program map recently released by the Department of Natural Resources.

One area is in the northwestern corner of the village. The other is along the Baker Creek in the southeastern corner of the village.

The designation means those who build homes in the areas will be required to have an engineer's certification that their houses are above a 100-year flood level determined by the DNR. In return for building above the flood level, the homeowners become eligible for inexpensive flood insurance from the federal government.

Clinton County Zoning Administrator Tom Ackles said Elsie has technically been enrolled in the flood insurance program since 1982. However, he said, until the DNR released its flood plain map there was no way of enforcing the elevation requirements of the program.

The program does allow for some variances. For instance, the owner of a home built before the area was enrolled in the program can get insurance at a higher rate even if the house does not meet the elevation requirements.

Exodus part of school

An Exodus journey was one of the highlights which 70 children of St. Cyril's parish experienced during their week of Bible school.

The journey took place on the grounds around the parish hall and church. The students prepared for the trip by making a tunic, head band, cardboard sandals and walking stick. Father John Hoogterp acted as Moses for the journey taking the children to the burning bush, the Red Sea, feeding them manna, to Mt. Sinai and to the Promised Land.

Other activities during the week included a "Living Rosary" and a children's mass with family luncheon following. Directors for the program were Margaret Horak and Father John, along with catechists Joe Beno, John Madden, Margaret Remenar, Theresa Horak, Mary Madden and Joanne Evans.

Helpers for the week were Paul Remenar, Damien Milkulka, Michelle Wadell, AnMarie Bradley, Diane Kusnier, Jean Stefanek, Marcie Fabus and Mary Hughey.

St. Johns student pens award winner

A St. Johns student and his advisor were recently honored at the Inaugural United Nations Ball for his national winning essay on the future of the United Nations. A second place prize of $750 was awarded to Adam Coffman, son of Dale and Patsy Coffman. Accompanying Coffman was his advisor, Peggy Andretz.

Present at the ceremony were United Nations Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar, U.S. Deputy Permanent Representative to the U.N. Herbert Okun, National United Nations Day Chairman, J.W. Marriott Jr. and U.N. Ball Chairman Paul O'Neill.

UNA-USA's National High School Essay Contest is an annual contest open to students in grades 9 to 12 nationwide. The contest has three levels of competition. Each entry must compete on the local level, which is sponsored and organized by one of the 165 chapters and divisions of the association. The top essay from these contests are forwarded to a regional screening out of which 10 essays emerge to compete in the final judging by a panel of prominent citizens.

The title for the contest was "The United Nations: Looking toward the year 2000." Ambassador Byrne commented, "This contest is an ideal way to interest high school students in the United Nations and its work and to educate them about the organization."

Copies of the national winning essays can be ordered from UNA-USA, 485 Fifth Ave., N.Y., N.Y. 10017-6104.

Cadets promoted

By CORA GOLDMAN
The Gratiot County Top

Guns composite squadron of Alma are pleased to announce that six cadets have successfully passed their first promotion in Civil Air Patrol, receiving their Curry Award.

They are: Cadet Ronn Boules of Ashley, Cadet William Ted Goldman III of Perrinton, Cadet Jeff Green of Perrinton, Cadet Lauri Smith of Sanford Lake, Cadet Michael Toole of Carson City, and Cadet Jeff Wagner of Ashley.

To receive the Curry Award, cadets had to run one mile in 11 minutes, conduct a practical demonstration of leadership ability, and pass a written exam.

The Gratiot County Top Guns composite squadron of Alma was formed in December of 1986.

Civil Air Patrol is a federally chartered auxiliary of the United States Air Force, founded December 1, 1941. It has three principal missions: emergency services including communications, aerospace education and training, and a cadet training and motivation program.

The cadet program is designed to inspire the country's youth to become leaders and dynamic American citizens through an interest in flying.

Cadets take part in a number of programmed and special activities.

From these they develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to understand the total impact of air and space operations on society. They learn discipline by studying leadership and by learning military drill and courtesies. They become physically fit through a special physical training program.

Through studies and other activities, cadets work their way through a series of 15 achievements. As cadets progress, they earn increased rank, ribbons or certificates and also become eligible for nationally sponsored special activities and may compete for academic scholarship.

The Civil Air Patrol cadet program is open to all youths who have completed the sixth grade and are between the ages of 13 and 18. There is no age limit on Senior Members.

For more information, call P.A.O. Cora Grace Goldman, (517) 682-4143, or visit a regular Monday night meeting at the Gratiot Community Airport, 3999 W. Seaman Rd., Alma. Meeting time is 7 p.m.

Zone Colts are champs

Exceptional baseball talent and well-played games were the norm in Grand Ledge during the July 4th weekend as eight all-star teams from Michigan, Illinois and Indiana took part in the Hilton Classic Baseball Tournament.

St. Johns High School juniors, Matt Wilcox and Barry Kiel, along with SJHS varsity baseball Coach Doug Parker were all members of the Lansing Zone Colt team which ended up as tournament champion of the round robin affair that concluded Sunday.

"Both Matt and Barry did very well," Coach Parker said. "All the teams were good baseball teams and play was competitive. The tournament was well set-up and run. It was a really nice weekend."

The Lansing team lost their opening game last Friday to Fenton by a score of 7-6, then came back to bomb Battle Creek 27-2.

"We just really hit the ball well in that game," Parker said.

A 12-4 win over Joliet, Illinois, on Saturday put the Lansing team into the semifinals where they defeated Auburn, Indiana, 7-4. That set up a rematch with the Fenton squad in the Sunday championship game which Lansing won 10-3.

Kiel was the starting catcher in three of the five games played and caught the championship game. He also had a hit in the final game. Wilcox saw relief action from the mound in the opening game, played shortstop and third base in other games, and had a home run.

Also participating in the tournament was Mike Cowdrey, a SJHS sophomore, who played on the Lansing Babe Ruth All-Star team. His father, Al Cowdrey, was a coach on the team. They won their first game on Friday versus Alpena 13-9, lost to Auburn, Indiana, 13-1, defeated Blue Island, Illinois, on Saturday 10-6, and lost in the semifinals to Fenton 11-7.

DeWitt High School head coach Frank Deak is head coach of the Lansing Colts, while Larry Sernick of Eastern High School and Parker are assistant coaches. Colt teams are made up of 15 and 16 year-old players, and the Babe Ruth squad is for players aged 15 and under.

Palamino team earns split

The St. Johns/DeWitt connection in the 17-18 year-old Palamino League split a doubleheader with Owosso last week, winning the opener 8-2 and dropping the nightcap 7-5. The split gives the team a record of 7-3 overall.

Stan Bauer, standout pitcher on the Class C regional champion Pewamo-Westphalia High School team, went the distance in the first game and earned the win. Bauer threw a one-hitter, striking out six batters to give him a perfect 3-0 record in the league.

With seven total hits in the game, St. Johns/DeWitt scored one run in the second inning, two in the third, one in the fourth and three in the fifth. Bauer put the game away in the sixth when he doubled and scored on an error.

St. Johns' Scott Heibek was 2-4 at the plate, while Dale Hawkins was 2-3 and Tony Ebert had 2 RBIs. Both are members of the DeWitt High School team.

St. Johns' hurler Dwight Pierson took the loss in the second game giving up eight hits and six runs in 1 2/3 innings of work. Andy Ball from St. Johns came on in relief to finish the game, allowing five hits and one run.

The Owosso club, with Ovid-Elsie High School batmen Bob Foreback and Richie Stutzman as team members, took a 6-0 lead after two innings. St. Johns/DeWitt scored one run in the bottom of the second inning and made the score 6-5 when four runs were plated in the fourth. Owosso added a run in the fifth to complete scoring.

Barry Kiel of St. Johns was 3-4 at the plate, while Redwing Tim Cleaver was 2-3. DeWitt player Mark Kampinen was 2-4.

"We've got a lot of good players on this team," Coach Doug Parker (St. Johns baseball coach) said. "We're trying to give all of them plenty of playing time this summer."

The Palamino League involves teams from East Lansing, Grand Ledge, Jackson, Sexton, and Lansing as well as Owosso and St. Johns/DeWitt.

The team plays Vandervoort's of Lansing today (July 7) at DeWitt High School at 4 p.m., and is at East Lansing on July 14.

Redwings enjoy successful baseball season in 1987

By RHONDA WESTFALL
Sports Editor

When the 1988 St. Johns High School baseball team takes the field next year, they will do so with many memories of the successes they enjoyed during their 1987 campaign:

- Mid-Michigan B league champions for the first time ever.
- SJHS school record for total wins — 24.
- Participation in the Lansing Diamond Classic for the first time in 10 years.

- 12 game and seven game winning streaks.
- 10-5-1 record against teams with a 20 game or more win record.
- Second place finish in the Mason Invitational.

The 1987 squad, coached by Doug Parker, was without a doubt a talented group of athletes who used a variety of tools to take come-from-behind wins on numerous occasions. Looking back on the season, Coach Parker reflected on what he saw as key reasons for the Redwings' successes.

Good times posted at St. Mary run

Under near-perfect weather conditions, 153 runners took off in the sixth annual St. Mary Parish five mile run on July 4. The event, chaired by Jerry Wirth, was held in connection with the parish's annual July 4th festivities.

"We had a good turnout, good weather, and the times were better overall than last year," Wirth said. "We were satisfied."

Steve Soblensky of Olivet covered the course in the best time for the third consecutive year to claim the first place male overall trophy. His time of 26:40 was just ten seconds faster than second place finisher, Steve Bierstetel, a star cross country and distance track runner from Fowler High School.

The best female overall time was posted by Emily Kloss, a native Fowler resident. Her time was 32:14.

Good times roll at Owosso Speedway

The track was wet and slippery from a rain shower prior to race time at Owosso Speedway on June 27.

Kris Patterson grabbed the flag in the late model feature and dash which gives him the lead in points, leaving Gene Playter 40 points behind.

Alan Taft held on for second place in both the feature and dash with Bob Harden placing third in the feature. Harden claimed first place in the pursuit and also took the checkered flag in the IM heat. Taft placed second in the pursuit.

Pro stocker Tim Shinabarger won the feature putting him 30 points behind pro stock point leader Ed Doutre. John Edmonds won the third heat and placed second in the feature behind Shinabarger. Dash winner, Scott Clifford, placed third in the feature.

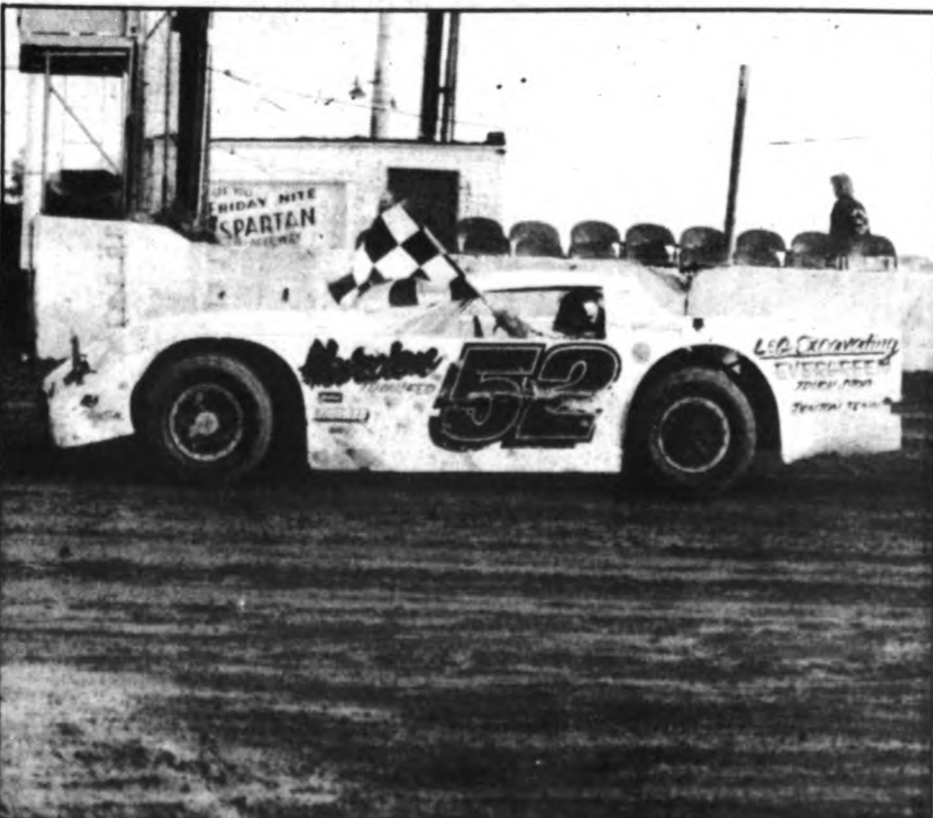

Roy Straight took the checkered flag in the pro stock semi-feature with Barry Ruest placing second, Jeff Anderson taking third, and Leo Smith finishing fourth. Heat winners were Jerry Mattson and Rick Sova.

Shinabarger took first in the flying stock feature and remains point leader in the second half of the season.

The last race of the night was the Mid Michigan Powder Puff State Championship. Kay Leffel, driving Steve Thomas' '20, took the lead in the second half of the race and flew in for the win.

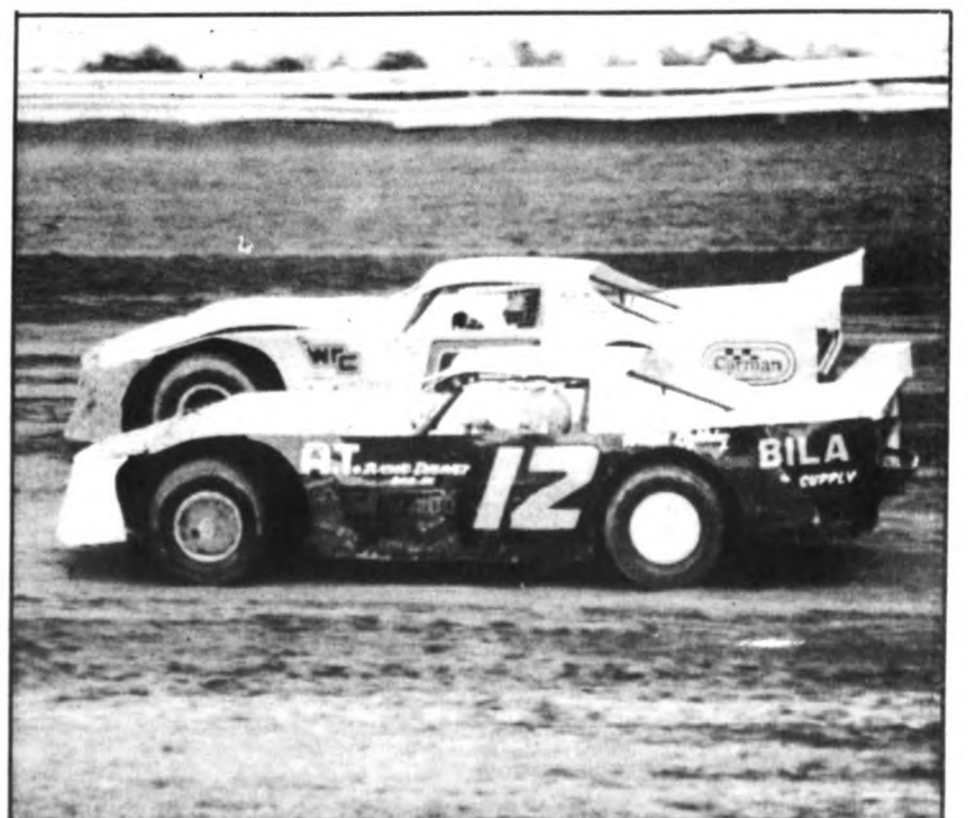

During intermission, Bob Dennison rode a three-wheeler through a six-foot high wall of fire.

SOD Sprints returned to Owosso Speedway for the July 4th races along with mini-mods. Gates at the speedway open at 4 p.m. for registration with time trials at 6:30 p.m. and racing at 7:30 p.m.

SJ baseball wrap

"This team had an excellent attitude," Parker said. "They never gave up — they always played hard. We also had good team cohesiveness and depth. When we had injuries to key players during the season, we received excellent play from the team's non-starters."

"We had good senior leadership, with all our seniors possessing good ability and intelligence. All six of our seniors will attend college in the fall and 50 percent of our team members carried grade point averages of 3.0 or better. They all wanted to be the best they could be."

Bearing proof of the Redwings' abilities, six team members were named to the MMB All-Conference team, three players were named to the Class A All-District team, and three players were chosen on the Lansing State Journal's All-Area team. Coach Parker was named Coach of the Year in both the MMB league and the Class A All-District team.

Senior pitcher Tom Bates was selected for First Team honors in both the MMB league and the Journal's All-Area team, and received an honorable mention notation on the District Team. Bates was the winningest pitcher for the Redwings with a record of 4-0 in the league and 8-1 overall.

He carried a 1.47 ERA in the league and struck out 63 batters total. He had 14 hits on the year, good for a .226 batting average with one home run and 10 RBIs. He received the Best Pitcher Award at the end of the season, and was selected to play in the Lansing Old-Timers All-Star Game.

Named to the First Team on both the MMB and District lists was senior infielder Jerry Duwell. Duwell, an Honorable Mention recipient on the Journal's All-Area Team, saw action on the mound for the Redwings with an overall record of 4-2 and 1-0 in the league. He pitched in eight games and earned one save. He collected three home runs on the year to go with 26 RBIs and a batting average of .371, and was a Mason Invitational medal winner.

The remaining First Team MMB selection was senior outfielder Tim Cleaver. His bat produced 39 hits (to tie with Duwell for most hits), three homers, seven doubles, the team-leading 28 RBIs, and a powerful .453 batting average. Named as the Best Offensive Player and Most Valuable Player on the 1987 Redwing team, Cleaver was a Second Team All-Area selection and received an Honorable Mention notation on the All-District squad. He was also a Mason Invitational medal winner and was chosen on the Old Timers All Star team.

Players selected to the MMB Second Team were: Steve Dunkel, Scott Hebeck, and Dwight Pierson. Dunkel, a senior, received the 101 Percent Award at the end of the year and carried an overall batting average of .286 with 16 hits and 13 RBIs.

Chosen as 1988 co-captains, Hebeck and Pierson were both instrumental in the Redwings' 1987 victories. Pierson had a perfect 6-0 overall record on the mound, striking out 29 batters, earning one save, and ending the year with a 2.75 ERA. He had 15 hits with four doubles and one home run and totaled 11 RBIs. Hebeck had 30 hits on the year and collected 14 RBIs. His speed on the base paths earned him stolen bases on 14 of 15 attempts. He ended the year with a .291 batting average.

Other St. Johns Redwings who received awards were: Mark Henning, Most Improved; Dan Dorn, Best Defensive Player; Randy Ammons, Coach's Award; and Andy Ball, Mason Invitational medal winner.

One thing that Coach Parker stressed throughout the season was that the team must learn that they were good enough to "play with anybody." Checking on St. Johns' record against top-notch opponents, it seems that the Redwings learned that lesson well.

They took two wins from Lansing Everett — a Class A semi-finalist in the state tournament; defeated Alma and Chesaning twice — both won district titles in the state tournament; and beat DeWitt three times — the Capital Circuit League champion.

"It's the best we've ever done," Parker said.

Carson City golf scramble

Anderson wins big at Crystal Raceway

The outlaw late models, pro stocks and fireworks shared the spotlight at Crystal Raceway on July 4 with all three enjoyed by enthusiastic race-goers.

Denny Anderson had the biggest spoiler, the fastest time, a heat win, feature win, huge trophy, and $1,000 put by Capitol City Oil of Lansing. Anderson's 15.23 is a new track record for late model outlaws at Crystal. His car is owned by Bruce Mehney of St. Johns.

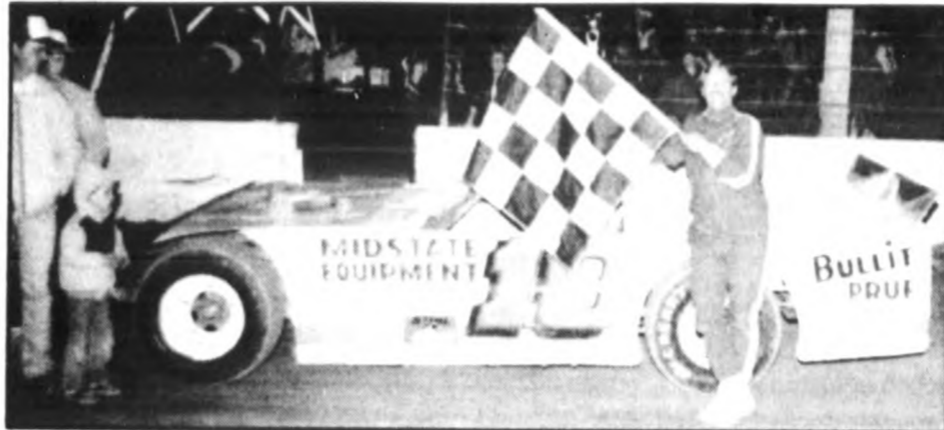

St. Johns driver, Ken Love, in a newly rebuilt car won the other heat with John Skvarenia winning the B-feature. Bob Flinn won the 10-car Australian Pursuit.

It appeared that Kris Patterson would win the late model feature, but Anderson prevailed followed by Flinn, Gene Playter, Johnny Roberts, Bryan Hull, Mike Garvey, Andy Piercefield, Dick Shively, and Dennis Walker as top ten finishers.

Troy VanderVeen took home top honors in the mid-season championship with Bill Simpson placing second. Bill True, who began the race in 22nd place, finished third. The remainder of the top ten were Tom Minikey, Jeff Reist, Roy Doolittle, Clark Newell, Gene Carson, Gary Erldge, and Jason Wilmore.

Pro heats were won by Jim Kohn, Don Louchart, Jody Hall, Trueblood, Joey Fowler, and Simpson. Trueblood and Tim Wood won the B-features and moved up to the feature.

Sprints visit Crystal Raceway next weekend, July 11, with time trials at 6:30 p.m.. The Budweiser Thunderfest should bring fans to their feet many times with sprints, late models, and pro stocks all on hand and over 100 cars in the pits. Racing begins at 7:55 p.m.

Mutual funds

By Chuck Dicken

Some months ago a mutual fund company released a report to shareholders which showed how one of their investments had increased more than 600 percent in value over a 10-year period ending May 31, 1986. Apparently, this report raised some eyebrows of shareholders and resulted in letters to the president of the fund questioning the accuracy of the figures.

This prompted another message to shareholders explaining a very important feature of mutual funds — accumulation of shares. It is a feature so often overlooked or misunderstood by mutual fund shareholders that a brief review is always beneficial. Mutual funds are required to distribute at least 90 percent of all investment profits. This is done in the form of dividends or distributions. These distributions consist of (1) capital gains recognized by the firm from the sale of securities and (2) income paid to the fund from interest or dividends on the portfolio. At the end of the year, each shareowner receives a summary of distributions to use when reporting his or her income tax. A copy is also sent to the Internal Revenue Service which can then match each shareowner's reported income with what the fund has reported paying him or her.

Of course, the choice of whether to accept these mutual fund distributions in cash or to reinvest them in additional shares of the fund is yours. But, regardless of the choice — cash or reinvestment — taxes are due on the distributions during the tax year they are declared. If you elect to receive all distributions in cash, the number of fund shares you own remains constant. If, on the other hand, you choose to reinvest these dividend distributions in additional shares, the number of shares you own increases and compounds.

When measuring the performance of your fund, these distributions must be considered. Since the fund distributes most of the profits and income it earns, the quoted price of the fund could remain relatively un-

Growers lobby for labeling

Earlier this year, a group of Michigan apple growers went to Washington, D.C., to lobby for country-of-origin labeling on imported apple juice. Now, the U.S. Department of Treasury is reviewing regulations that would require imported apple and other fruit juices to be labeled with their country of origin.

There is concern that department officials may be influenced by juice processors not to accept the regulations. Therefore, Michigan Farm Bureau is alerting apple growers to contact their Congressmen, urging support of "true" country-of-origin labeling, which would mean an exact list of countries the juice came from.

Michigan apple growers believe that consumers have the right to know — and if they do know, they'll prefer juice from Michigan apples.

changed yet you would continue to receive dividends.

For example, an examination of one shareholder's mutual fund statement in January 1986 showed he owned 7,538 shares with a net asset value per share of $16.29 for a total value of $122,794. By the end of the year, the per share value had increased $2.07 — not an overly impressive number, you say. However, during that year had he selected to receive his dividends in cash, they would have amounted to $22,459.

However, this shareholder chose to have his dividends reinvested in additional fund shares rather than accepting them in cash. So, at year's end he had 1,275 more shares. He now owned 8,813 shares valued at $18.36 each for a total value of $161,807. By reinvesting and compounding, he had increased the total value of his investment by $39,013 or 31.8 percent.

Keep in mind these results are for the year 1986 which showed a market of significantly rising stock prices. The purpose of this example is to illustrate the importance of considering the number of shares owned or accumulated, any dividends received in cash, and, finally, the power of compounding when measuring the performance of your mutual fund.

Understand your mutual fund and you will either become more comfortable with it or you will have reason to reconsider its investment value. Either way, you will win.

Ronald Simon promoted

Clinton Bank President Brandon White has announced the promotion of Ronald Simon to assistant vice president and controller.

Simon has been a member of Clinton Bank's staff for seven years, most recently serving as accounting officer. He is a 1987 graduate of the R.M. Perry School of Banking at Central Michigan University, serving as president of his class in 1987. Simon received a BA degree in accounting from Aquinas College in Grand Rapids.

Simon, his wife Carol, and two daughters are residents of Pewamo. He is a member of the Knights of

Ronald Simon
Columbus and St. Joseph's Parish in Pewamo.

Little Caesars expands

Little Caesars of St. Johns will later this month open a second dining area that will feature family entertainment on weekends, says restaurant owner Ron Margetin.

The restaurant in the Southpoint Mall last year converted from a delivery store to a full service restaurant. Since then, says Margetin, the restaurant's business has grown to the point at which more seating capacity is needed.

"We felt we needed something for immediate overflow," he said.

The new room will seat up to 100 patrons. The room will also allow the restaurant to better accommodate large groups, Margetin said. Instead of the booth seating offered in the first dining room, the new room will offer table seating that can be arranged to suit various size groups.

Entertainment will be offered on Friday and Saturday evenings, Margetin said. Acts will likely include one- and two-person musical acts and light comedy, he said.

"I think it's going to be a success in St. Johns," he said.

Promotions announced

City Bank and Trust Co., N.A., Jackson, the parent holding company for Clinton Bank and Trust in St. Johns, announced several promotions last week.

Donald Southwick was promoted to assistant vice president of trust and investments, Charles Moyer to corporate trust officer, Janice Crum to trust officer, and Jill Patch to assistant investment officer.

Roehl lines Dry beans

By Giles Roehl

Potato leafhoppers are present in moderate to high numbers in a great variety of crops and weeds. Leafhoppers are one of the concerns dry bean producers need to be looking for when scouting their fields. Small bean plants, soy and dry, can experience severe "hopperburn" and stunting of growth, as a result of feeding and injection of toxic saliva. Symptoms in beans (and potatoes) include cupping of leaves and leaf margins.

Start control measures when you find one or more green "laced winged" type hoppers per trifoliate leaf and when first cupping (curling down and inward) of the leaf appears from feeding. Full coverage with spray materials is not needed and one gallon by air ten gallons per acre with ground equipment is sufficient.

Chemicals that can be used Cygon, Defend, Sevin, Orthane, Lannate, Nudrin, Guthion, Ethion, or Malathion are non-restricted sprays that may be used. Restricted chemicals include: Pyrdin, Phosdrin, Parathion or Methyl Parathion.

When scouting, also be on the lookout for the small pineapple looking Mexican Bean Beetle larva. Concentrate spray for these over the plants. Use drops where necessary to get full coverage. The same chemicals as for leafhoppers can be used to control this insect.

Corner Garden: If you plant cucumbers next to watermelon, do you end up with a cucumelon or a watercumber? To what extent do vegetable crops cross pollinate? What are the effects of cross pollination?

Vine crops seem to raise the most question about crossing. Most vine crops cannot cross pollinate each other. Watermelons and cucumbers will not cross each other, nor will squash, pumpkins or gourds, says B. Rosie Lerner, Purdue University Extension Horticulturist.

Some species of squash, gourds and pumpkins can successfully cross pollinate each other. However, even if the cross takes place, it does not affect the fruit the year it occurs. An acorn squash blossom which has been fertilized by pollen from a Kentucky pumpkin field will still develop an acorn squash. But, if you save the seeds from the acorn squash and grow them the next year, the resulting plant and fruit is likely to be a combination of characteristics of both plants.

Cross pollination occurs quite freely among different cultivars of the same species, so saving seeds from this year's fruit to plant next year is not generally advised. The resulting plants are quite unpredictable and may not produce desirable fruit.

Cross pollination can be a problem in corn. Keep separate the different types of corn by at least 250 feet. Pollen from field (dent) corn causes sweet corn kernels to lose their sweetness and become starchy. Even the extra sweet cultivars can become less sweet or possibly starchy if pollinated by standard sweet cultivars.

Sweet corn and popcorn also should be separated from one another, says Lerner. Popcorn pollinated by sweet corn will be sweeter and the kernels may be shriveled when dry. Sweet corn pollinated by popcorn will be starchy yet will probably appear to be normal.

Different colored corn can also cross pollinate. Yellow is dominant so that white corn pollinated by yellow will be yellow, but yellow corn pollinated by white will probably stay yellow.

Of course, you only need to worry about corn cross pollination if both types mature at the same time. A 14-day difference in maturity, either from different cultivars or different planting dates, should be sufficient. Otherwise, 250 feet between cultivars prevents substantial crossing.

Giles Roehl is the director of the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Grain stocks improve

Stocks of corn and wheat in Michigan storage facilities on June 1 were higher than a year earlier, while soybean and oats stocks were down, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Statistics Service.

Corn stocks in Michigan on June 1 were nearly 159 million bushels, 18 percent above the June 1, 1986, level. Fifty-five percent of corn stocks were on farms. Soybeans in storage were put at 10.5 million bushels, 8 percent lower than a year ago. Off-farm storages held 57 percent of the soybeans.

Wheat stocks, at nearly 11 million bushels, were 7 percent above stocks this time last year. About 92 percent of the wheat was stored off farms. Oat stocks stood at just over 3.1 million bushels, 37 percent above a year ago. About 67 percent was stored on farms.

Corn stored in the U.S. on June 1, was estimated at 6.33 billion bushels, 27 percent higher than a year earlier. U.S. soybean stocks totaled 865 million bushels, 2 percent higher than a year ago. All wheat in storage was placed at 1.81 billion bushels, down 5 percent from last year. Oats in all storage were 133 million bushels, down 28 percent from a year ago.

Outlook brighter for agriculture

Farm prices are not what they should be, exports are not high enough, we could use a little more rain, and the Farm Credit System needs an infusion of federal money. That's the bad news.

The good news is that farm prices and export volume are both much better than they have been.

When the monthly index of prices report came out from the U.S. Department of Agriculture at the end of May, the overall farm price index was up 3.2 percent. That is the largest one-month increase in 10 months and the fourth consecutive monthly increase.

Livestock producer prices are leading the way in what could be considered as a recovery period. Cattle prices are at their highest level since 1980. Hog prices are the highest they've been in 10 months.

Farm exports are expected to be up $1.2 billion from the previous year for fiscal 1986/87. That's the October-September period. This will be the first increase in three years. Total tonnage is forecast to rise 18 million tons and that will be the highest since 1980/81. Those increases are coming in wheat, up five million metric tons; corn, up seven million; but still a drop in soybeans of a million tons.

Plummer enjoyed job

By RUSTY PLUMMER
Alfalfa Specialist

With the end of June has come the end of the funding of the grant that has supported my position at the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Office. I have enjoyed meeting and working with many of the producers in Clinton County. I hope that my efforts have benefited the areas' producers, particularly mint and alfalfa.

At this time I do not have the final figures on the amounts of the loans through the state disaster programs, but the office should have these totals within the next few days. The dollars involved in this program will have a real impact on the finances of the operations participating.

A special thanks to the office assistants for all of their help. They really work hard to give you, the residents of Clinton County, one of the best Extension offices in this state. We, as agents, could not do our jobs nearly as effectively without top notch office assistants.

Again, I truly enjoyed working with you. I put my best foot forward to do for you the best job I could and I feel that you reciprocated in the same manner.

Happy Birthday to Birdena Surmace whose birthday is July 14.

Admission to our nursing home

Admission to a nursing home can be a very stressful experience for the patient as well as the family. The patient usually experiences nervousness and apprehension due to the unknown. This is especially true for those residents who have a diagnosis of confusion. Having to change to unfamiliar surroundings and routines can make it very difficult and uncomfortable.

Upon admission the patient is welcomed by the social worker. The social worker informs family and patient of all pertinent information, takes a social history and has patient or guardian sign all appropriate admission papers. Then the resident is introduced to the nursing staff and taken to his/her room by the nurses aide. The aide familiarizes them with their new surroundings. The nurse aide explains where the dining room is located, how to use the call light, and when meal times are scheduled. They also answer any questions the patient and/or family may have. The nurse aide then takes an inventory of the patient's belongings, weighs the patient, and takes a temperature, pulse, respiration, and blood pressure.

Another important part of the admission is for the nurse to do a thorough physical assessment of the patient. Completing an assessment of the patient helps the nurse learn a great deal about the patient's physical and mental weaknesses and strengths.

Once the physical assessment has been completed, the nurse reviews the physician's orders and starts the patient's care plan. The care plan is a very useful and important tool for most departments in the nursing home. It informs the patient's diagnosis, the long range goals, a list of all physical, mental, social, and spiritual problems and/or needs with measurable goals, plans, and approaches to follow. As problems change or are resolved, the care plan is updated by the appropriate staff members.

The care plan is then completed by holding the initial care plan conference which is done within the first week of admission. The social worker, director of nursing, director of activities, director of dietary, charge nurse, and the nurse aide attend this conference, as well as encourages the family and patient to attend and participate. By having this conference we hope to accomplish better communication between all departments in the nursing home and the patient and family members so that we can continue to give the highest quality of care that's possible.

By this time the admission is complete. However, there is an adjustment period which varies with each individual. The patients must actually come to trust those who are caring for them, as well as have accepted living in a nursing home.

Throughout the nursing home admission process and the adjustment period, it is very important for the staff to be reassuring and supportive at all times to the patient and their family members. The family must be assured that the proper decision was made and rely on the judgment of their chosen physician and the health care professionals at the facility. They must give their loved one support, yet an opportunity to become comfortable with the new environment. They may wish to consult with a social worker or join family group meetings to share their feelings and anxieties.

Normally within two to three weeks the resident has found friends, projects, and outings that help make the new lifestyle very comfortable.

Energy grant awarded

St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns was awarded a Department of Energy grant in the amount of $13,059 in an announcement made by 10th District Rep. Bill Schuette last week.

The grant is provided for under the National Energy Conservation Policy Act which provides grants for conservation projects to improve energy efficiency of schools and hospitals.

"The parish is to be commended for its efforts to conserve our nation's energy resources," Schuette said. "I hope these funds will assist them in their efforts to save money and conserve energy."

The funds will be used for the adoption of energy saving procedures and for the purchase and installation of devices recommended by technical audits which were performed earlier.
