County budget a record

A record $5.5 million budget was approved by the Clinton County Board of Commissioners last Thursday as it set the millage rate at 5.6 mills, an increase of .5 mills over last year's level.

Commission Chairman Roger Overway stated the increase was necessary because of higher salaries to county employees and overall inflation.

Overway cited a study by the state Office of Local Government Services which showed many of the county's non-union employees were underpaid in comparison to other counties of equal size in the state.

"It will cost the county approximately $200,000 to make up those salaries," Overway said.

County, sergeants differ on salary see page 7

"The county plans on implementing two-thirds of the study's recommendation this year and half next year," the chairman said. "There will be substantial increases for some employees, some as much as $3,000."

The study also showed some county employees were overpaid and Overway said those positions will be redlined for the next couple of years to keep them in line.

The budget as a whole is one where not every commissioner agreed on something, Overway commented, and that a compromise was made in most cases.

With the increased millage rate, Clinton County will work with an additional $314,953 over last year's property tax revenues. The .5 mill increase will cost the local taxpayer an average of $16.50.

Overway said the largest increases the county is seeing is in the courts.

The circuit court judges will receive a $4,000 increase this next year to bring their salaries to $62,000. The district court judges will receive $58,000, another increase of $4,000. And the probate court judges will garner a $6,000 increase to bring their salaries to $56,000.

The Board of Commissioners have little control over these salaries because most of it comes from the state level.

Prior to the passage of the county's tax levy and budget, an appeal was made by Watertown Township resident Barbara Boughton to the commission not to levy a property tax increase on that township because it did not comply with the state law of setting the rate a Sept. 15 deadline. She said the county commission would be in violation of that statute if it passed the millage.

However the commission proceeded with the millage assessment requested by Watertown Township on the recommendations of county prosecutor Jon Newman.

Newman said it is not the function of the board to review the wisdom of the actions of the township board in determining the amount needed for township purposes. He said the board is limited to determining whether the proposed millage is within lawful limits and whether the township board did in fact adopt a resolution for the millage.

The failure to comply with the state statute, Newman stated, does not invalidate the tax.

Gabriel evaluates plan

What's ahead for schools?

By MARTY ACKLEY

For months now it's been publicized how much danger the American educational system is in.

A U.S. Department of Education study entitled "A Nation at Risk" has caused some concern in every city, town, village, and hamlet across the country. It has also prompted legislators, both nationally and statewide, to move on finding a cure for our ailing schools.

Are our schools in that bad of shape to be so alarmed?

State Republicans believe so. They've come up with, some believe, a radical proposal to "...ensure that excellence in education is a reality for Michigan."

The plan, among other things, calls for the school year to be extended from 900 hours to 1,140 hours by 1988-89; an intensive study of average daily attendance; an assessment every two or three years by an audit team on each school building; student competency tests at all levels; teacher competency tests; and the use of 1.5 per cent of the personal income tax be used to help fund education.

St. Johns Superintendent of Schools Earl Gabriel believes the Republican plan has a lot of good ideas on the surface, but might end up being a combination of many different plans once the dust clears in the legislature.

Gabriel was opposed to the idea of having the students' school year lengthened saying he'd rather work on quality of education and not quantity.

He did however, say he would like to see the teachers stay on longer.

"We would give the staff paid time to sit down and work on the system, say, two additional weeks a year," Gabriel said.

"It wouldn't be for grading papers or marking grades, either. It would be highly structured, working hard at trying to improve the educational content of our schools."

As for setting a minimum competency test, Gabriel was opposed, saying, "It would say nothing of the quality of student. It would say everyone has been able to achieve the lowest standard acceptable."

"The standards set may be below what we expect of our own people," he said. "Yet the critics say if we set the standard too high, we will discourage some kids."

What the superintendent is recommending is a differentiated diploma system whereby students would have their diplomas signify what kind of curriculum they took — be it college prep, general education, vocational education, or just on attendance.

"Right now all diplomas are equal," Gabriel said. "That's an injustice to the kid who really tried. It would be a form of motivation (to have this new system). The diploma would then have some merit."

Gabriel feels a teacher competency test, if one is compiled, should be a national one similar to those taken by optometrists, nurses, or doctors. Otherwise a school system would never know how good an education the teachers received. It wouldn't matter if one graduated from Michigan State or the University of Michigan or Mid-State University somewhere in North Dakota.

Is there really need for change in the schools?

Gabriel says there has got to be segments of the population where there needs to be improvements.

"You can find some weaknesses everywhere and need for improvement," he noted. "If a school system didn't think so, I'd be suspect of them. We all should strive for improvements."

Gabriel also said you have to take a look at the kinds of graduates a school puts out today. He said because of the minimum wage laws and hard economic times, kids are staying in school longer.

"Our schools have more staying power and retention than we've ever had," he said. "There used to be a time where kids with a learning disability would drop out of school a find menial labor at a menial wage, but now we've lost that market and there's no place for those kids to go but stay in school."

Gabriel says there is a lot more responsibility on the schools now also.

"Our mission has changed," he said of what is expected of schools today. "Instead of only education, our mission is to deal with the problems of the kids too. We have become a social agency as well because there are more social, psychological, and economic problems than ever before."

In talking about the funding of education, Gabriel said he would welcome a shift in the responsibility from the local property tax to another revenue source, namely state and national government.

But in doing so, you have to make sure there are very few strings attached so as to let the local school boards control the specific allocation of that money, he commented.

Overall, Gabriel feels the criticism of schools is good, as long as it is constructive criticism.

"If it is designed to be constructive, it's always healthy. Sometimes people develop a sense of lethargy. I think we continually need to be evaluated," he said.

Gabriel related schools to raising children.

"If you work with them with positive reinforcement, the child will develop into something to be proud of."

Two men killed by train in county

Two Lansing men were killed Tuesday afternoon when their pickup truck was struck by a Grand Truck Western train on Forest Hill Road, just north of M-21 in Clinton County.

Dead at the scene were the driver, Nevia Gonzales, 41, 122 W. Grand River and David Hernandez, 45, 402 Filley St., Lansing.

Clinton County Sheriff's Department authorities say Gonzales was northbound on Forest Hill when his truck was struck broadside by the eastbound, 13-car train.

The engineer of the train told authorities he didn't think the driver saw the train until the last second when he applied the brakes and slid into the path of the oncoming locomotive.

The impact made a twisted wreck of the pickup truck and tore the box off the back of the truck, which the train dragged some half-mile down the track.

The accident remains under investigation.

The Sheriff's Department also investigated an unusual series of robberies last Thursday evening at the Paul Fata and Sons food distributors south of DeWitt.

Badge Beat

Two masked gunmen waited in the shadows of the building and, one by one, robbed trucks and crews returning from their routes. By the end of the spree, four drivers had been locked up in the freight compartments of one of their trucks, and between $2,500 and $3,000 in cash was stolen.

Authorities learned of the incident shortly before 1 a.m. when one of the truck drivers managed to escape the truck by knocking out a panel in the roof.

The suspects were described as white males in their 30s, each carrying some sort of semi-automatic handgun.

Deputies said the victims apparently determined an hour or so later that they could break out safely, but took additional time. No one was injured in the robberies.

A break-in was reported at the Knobhill Tavern at Alward Road and U.S. 27 early Friday morning. Entry was gained by knocking out a window sometime after 12:30 a.m.

Taken was approximately $200 in cash.

A vacant house was broken into in Ovid Township early last week. Taken was a Sears Craftsman commercial 15½ floor model drill press, one vise, one angle iron, one box of drill bits and chain and chain cutter. The worth of the stolen property was estimated at $1,200.

Marion Craig of Laingsburg reported his 18-foot aluminum canoe was taken from his garage. Painted on one side of the boat was "M.E. Craig JR". The canoe was valued at $200.

The Clinton County Sheriff's Department handled a total of 110 complaints and made a total of 29 arrests during the past week.

The St. Johns Police Department investigated several personal injury accidents last week.

Four school-aged youngsters were injured in a two-car accident in St. Johns Friday morning.

A car driven by Kelly Purchase, 17, 507 E. Higham was westbound on Baldwin Street when she failed to yield the right of way and struck a car driven by Trent Jakus, 16, 1108 S. Clinton St.

Jakus, Purchase, and her two sisters, Sarah, 10 and Chris, 8, were slightly injured and sought their own treatment.

Monday morning, around 11 a.m., Brenda Searles, 20, of 2265 Parks, St. Johns, pulled out onto Cass Street from Clinton and struck a car driven by Todd Humphrey, 24, of 710½ E. Higham St.

She stated because of the construction to the county jail, she couldn't see the oncoming traffic. The impact of the accident sent Searles' vehicle into a telephone pole.

Both Searles and Humphrey sought their own treatment.

Later that morning, Jeffrey Russell, 15, 1114 S. Clinton was northbound on Oakland Street, lost control of the vehicle and struck a tree and parked car. He was treated and released from Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Around 7:24 p.m. Friday night, a car driven by Richard Cramer, 16, of 7341 S. Krepps, St. Johns, lost control of his car and struck a tree while driving through the city park.

He told authorities he leaned over to pick something up off the floor of the car when he lost control of the vehicle. Injured in the accident were two passengers, Thereas McLain, 15, and Heather Cook, 12, both of St. Johns.

They were treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Fowler inforces building codes

The Fowler Village Council showed concern over some residential construction taking place without the proper permits.

At the last council meeting, it was noted that throughout the summer months, some remodeling and alterations of buildings was done without first obtaining a permit.

In other action by the village council:

The body moved to remind citizens that installation of new basement walls and remodeling of commercial buildings are definitely subject to first obtaining a building permit.

If people in Fowler are planning to remodel or alter, they have been asked to contact the Village Clerk, or the Clinton County Department of Development Control in St. Johns to determine whether a building permit is necessary.

The council also approved a plot plan for construction of a new clinic building for the Fowler Veterinary Service.

Members of the council expressed their opinion that the 45 mile per hour speed limit currently posted on East M-21 within the village should be reduced. The village will contact the state highway officials.

Department of Public Works employees told the council they are again experiencing problems with vehicles parked all night on Main Street, which interfere with street cleaning. The Clinton County Sheriff's Department will be requested to issue tickets to such vehicles.

The village council received a request from Dynamo Equipment Company and Harvey Antonides to re-zone property located at 10653 E. Second St. from outer commercial to industrial classification, to pave the way for possible establishment of a liquid fuel and fertilizer business. A public hearing was scheduled for Monday, Nov. 7 at 7 p.m. at the village office.

The council also granted permission to Vernon Thelen to establish a beauty shop in his residence. The council determined it would not be in violation of the zoning ordinance.

A committee was also formed to inspect trees located on street right-of-ways. If any are found to be diseased or a hazard, they will be removed. The council said, however, it did not intend to remove any healthy trees.

United Way: Best effort

The Clinton County United Way has reported $49,277.75 has been pledged. That is 98.4 per cent of the county's goal of $50,000. That is the highest per cent of the goal the county has ever attained.

Many individual accounts reported increases over last year. The notable ones were: J.C. Penney a 64 per cent increase; St. Johns Schools, 34 per cent increase; Sealed Power Corp. a 28 per cent increase; Central National Bank, a 28 per cent jump; I.T.T. Hancock a 17 per cent increase; Federal Mogul, 12 per cent increase; and Clinton Bank increased by 6.3 per cent.

The campaign cabinet consisted of Brandon White, Paul McNamara, Sandra Bisson, Dan Redman, Dale Abraham, Tom Rapson, and Mick Boog.

The Clinton County United Way wants to thank all those leaders and all members of the community who pledged.

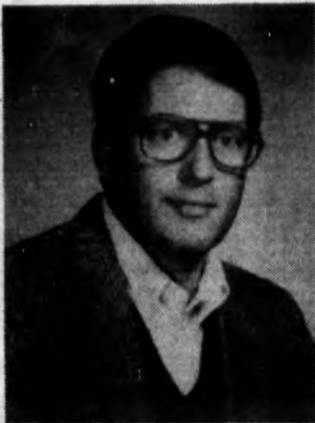

They said it is still not too late to contribute. People can do so by sending the contribution to James R. Robinson, Sealed Power Corp., 916 W. State St., St. Johns, 48879.

Four running for office find no troubles in city

By MARTY ACKLEY

It's a rare occasion when four candidates for the same office agree on the issues.

But that is the way it appears as four St. Johns City Commission hopefuls rev up their campaigns for the city-wide election Nov. 8.

The fact of the matter is, there are no issues.

All four candidates believe the city is being run so well at the present time, there are no gripes. There is nothing to debate, nothing to change, and nothing to mend.

The Clinton County News asked each candidate a series of six questions and hopefully their responses will be able to help voters make their decisions in this non-issue campaign.

The questions were:

- What experience would you bring to the commission?
- Why do you want to be a city commissioner?
- How will you be an asset on the commission?
- What would you change if elected?
- What two things does the city of St. Johns have going for itself?
- What is the role of a city commissioner?

Jeanne Rand, 204 Oak St., said the experience she would bring to the city commission would be her seven years on the commission back in the 1970s, two terms as vice mayor, four years on the city planning commission, four years as executive secretary for the American Red Cross, six years as the chairman of the Clinton Area Care Center, and seven and a half years as owner and operator of a local restaurant.

Since resigning as chairman of the Care Center recently, she said she wanted to run for city commission because she enjoys involvement in civic affairs.

"A woman would be a good equalizer on the council," Rand said. "A lot of households in St. Johns are run by women and they could relate and identify better to a woman on the council."

Rand stated she is not running to change anything in particular, her presence on the council will be as a contributor. She feels the city is being run now better than it ever has.

She said the city of St. Johns is a good farming community and an affluent community with fine churches and school system. The city has also grown in an orderly manner, according to Rand, saying she's most proud of the zoning in the city.

She feels the role of a commissioner is to make the laws, and see that the city is financially stable to handle the expenses of the city as prudently as it can.

"The city is big business," she said, "and it takes people who've had my experience to run it."

Benson Munger, 300 S. Oakland, says his experience as executive director of the American Board of Emergency Medicine has enabled him to work with similar boards like the city commission and has served on two boards himself, the Tri-County Emergency Medical Services Board, and the Rotary Board.

He is running for office to offer his services to the city and hopes the city wants to take advantage of what he can offer.

What Munger is offering, he says, is his knowledge of the city of St. Johns, the people of St. Johns, and knowledge of how to evaluate the city in relation to other things and how it should operate. He was born and raised in St. Johns and has lived here for the past 12 years.

Like the rest, Munger says he doesn't have any one particular thing he would like to see changed in the city and that he has no gripes with how the city is being run at this time.

He says the city of St. Johns' assets are that it has a sense of itself, a cohesiveness.

"It's been able to grow without exploding," Munger stated, "and it's been able to provide the needed services for itself."

Munger also noted the strength of the location of St. Johns.

"It's far enough away so it's not swallowed up by a metropolitan area like Lansing, yet close enough to give the people the opportunity to take advantage of what a metropolitan area has to offer," he said.

He feels the role of a city commissioner is to set policy for the city as opposed to administering; the commission is intended to set the overall direction for the city.

"The commission is there to provide a sounding board for the public as well as the administration,"

Munger said. "It has to be able to translate the needs of the city back to the community and the needs of the community back to the city."

Raymond Parr, 207 W. Cass, would bring 20 years of experience on the St. Johns Board of Education, 10 as president, to the city commission.

The local pharmacist was asked to run by several people in the community, he said, who felt a man with his experience and business knowledge would be beneficial to the city.

"My experience in the local community," is what Parr considers his biggest asset would be to the commission, as well as being a lifelong resident and, "knowing the problems, even though I may not have the answers, I'm willing to learn."

Parr says there's nothing at the present time he would want to change and that the city is being run really well at the present time.

He says the city of St. Johns is a close-knit, well-run community; people know everybody and the problems. "That's one thing I don't like about big cities," he said.

St. Johns has more community mindedness, says Parr, something you don't find in a big city.

Parr feels the role of a commissioner is basically to set policy and to see that the policy is carried out.

"I know that," he says, "from my experience on the school board."

J. Raymond Pineau, 401 E. Gibbs, says before becoming a claims adjuster for State Farm Insurance, he was a police officer in the Detroit suburbs of Madison Heights and Southfield, and he feels as a police officer, he became very close to city politics and how a city should be run.

He is running for city commissioner because he is community minded. "I like the city and I want to help it out," he said.

Pineau says he has a grasp of what's happening in the city. He is also the only one of the four candidates to have any kind of question against the city management.

"There is 22 acres the city bought two years ago for an industrial complex," he said. "And we have a wastewater treatment plant that won't be able to handle any expansion there. The plant is operating at 75 per cent capacity right now and we've got to watch what we build in this town."

Pineau said the wastewater treatment plant will have to be expanded if the city intends to build in the industrial park, and said the plant was inadequate when it was built.

He also noted he would like to see the city park on Ottawa Street given to the senior citizens. He said the seniors won't go there because it is not kept up, and said if the city would give the park over to the senior citizens, they could keep it up and have their own park.

Other than those couple of points, Pineau says there are no major changes he would want in the city.

"The city is running in the black and I'd like to keep it that way," he stated. "The council is doing a good job."

What Pineau likes about St. Johns is its central location. "The fact that it is the county seat is a boost," he said.

Yet, one thing he believes the city is lacking is a big carnival or festival like other cities have. He says every small town has some kind of big event, but not St. Johns. An event like that would bring people from five counties into the city and bring in a lot more money into St. Johns.

Pineau says a city commissioner is a segment of the people, one that is dedicated to the city. The commissioner is there to help people and assist in making the decisions to help the people, he says, it is a stopgap on everything. One unique campaign promise Pineau is making is that, if elected, he will give his commissioner's salary of $1,300 to the Special Olympics.

Pineau has been a long-time supporter of the Special Olympics and added, "I don't want to take the city's money for my job. If I'm helping the city, I don't think I should get paid for it."

The four candidates are running for two seats on a four-year term. The seats were vacated with the retirements of Commissioners John Hannah, who served for 15 years; and Donald Roesner, who served nine years.

Who's fair?

By MARTY ACKLEY

I used to fight with my older, and bigger, brother often when we were growing up. On a couple of occasions I was fortunate enough to get the upper hand on him and pin him to the ground where I had him on MY terms.

But knowing that I couldn't stay on top forever, or until Mom came home, I said I would let him up if he promised not to beat up on me anymore.

He promised he wouldn't.

I don't think I have to tell you what happened next.

That's right, he promptly got loose and proceeded to beat the living heck out of me!

Was that fair? Hardly.

A similar situation occurred last week between the Clinton County Board of Commissioners and the sergeants of the Sheriff's Department, and earlier in the year, to the deputies.

"Big Brother" County Board found itself pinned to the floor by both those units, knowing by the just rules of the game, things were not going to go their way. And they didn't.

The deputies got a very favorable settlement from a binding arbitrator and the sergeants worked out a nice deal for themselves as well to up their salary.

Now when the County Board got off the floor, they retaliated against the two groups by renegeing on the settlements and only budgeting half of what they promised.

Whether it was justified what the deputies and sergeants were promised is beside the point to me. The commission can rationalize all it wants why it should only budget half of the settlements. The fact of the matter is, according to principle, it isn't fair.

The prices in this article dated Jan. 17, 1923 are from the Republican News. Can you hardly believe this?

Gasoline takes another two cent jump Saturday

Standard Oil filling stations over ten states, of which Michigan is one, displayed a notice that an advance of two cents went into effect Saturday morning. This is the second two-cent advance in two weeks. For several months, gasoline was just 14.3 cents in the county. About two weeks ago, the price was advanced to 16.8 cents and Saturday to 18.8 cents. The gasoline war, started by the governor of North Dakota, was responsible for the radical cut. Oil companies declared that as soon as the surplus was diminished the price would advance again. This has come to pass. The 14.8 cents price is the lowest in many years. The peak price charged for gasoline came about four years ago when the owner had to "did up" 31 cents per gallon.

Tigers rise in Little League

The former last place Tigers took two games this week in the Little League including a 10-4 pasting of the Yankees, to even up their record for the year. But despite equalizing results throughout the league, the Yankees clung to a slim one-game lead by virtue of a 5-3 win over the Indians.

Duane Wirick homered, and Jerry Bashore and Daniel Wright hit triples to lead the Tiger hitting attack for the week.

George Gavanda hit two homeruns and a single in three times at bat to lead the Braves in a 10-8 assault against the Indians, who dropped two straight games during the week.

Q / A

St. Johns supports conference expansion

Plans to expand the Mid-Michigan 'B' Conference, triggered by the recent applications of Lakewood and Greenville, are coming to a head.

After rejecting Lakewood and Greenville for the 1984-85 season, the conference voted unanimously to consider a 12-team, two-division conference for 1985-86. Representatives from Lansing Waverly, Durand, Portland, Lakewood and Greenville came to an Oct. 19 meeting of conference officials to express their interest.

The conference could approve the 12-team format at a meeting next Wednesday, Nov. 9, in St. Johns.

We talked to St. Johns athletic director Steve Bakita about the proposed expansion.

Q: You said that Ionia,

Portland, Greenville and Lakewood would probably be the West Division teams in this new conference. Who could the other two schools be?

A: I think we've made our point rather clear. We'd like to stay in the division with the present makeup. Alma, I think, is undecided at this time. It does look at this time that St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Chesaning and Corunna would probably be in the East Division, along with Durand and Lansing Waverly. We're going to try and make US-27 the dividing line.

Q: What are some of the options for the 12th school?

A: Once we arrived at it, we probably would send out some invitations. We don't know of anybody that's really looking at this time. Central Montcalm was invited (to the Oct. 19 meeting) but they couldn't come. If they came in, they could possibly go into the West Division.

Q: How close to reality is this?

A: We are shooting for the 1985-86 school year.

Q: Do you think everything can be worked out for that year?

A: They're at least interested. They were interested enough to come. I guess Nov. 9 will be the day of reckoning. We'll find out who's going to put it in writing.

Q: What is St. Johns' position on expanding the conference?

A: As I stated, it was a unanimous vote (to approve the plan). It will ease scheduling. We think it's workable. I guess it boils down to a matter of trying to help some school districts out.

Q: Would this mean they would function as two separate six-team leagues?

A: No. We would schedule, for all practical purposes, to arrive at a championship. This hasn't all been worked out. To use football as an example, everyone would play their five league games within their division. Then, the possibility is the top two teams playing each other for the championship the next week.

Q: Before, you said you would prefer to keep it at six teams. Now you're saying this is workable.

A: The more we talked to these schools and got a little better feeling as to where we would fit into each division, it took care of our concern of travel. If Waverly and Portland came in, we would be sitting just about in the middle of the whole league.

Q: Portland and Lakewood are now applying to enter the Capital Circuit league. How would that affect this Mid-Michigan 'B' plan if they were accepted in the Circuit?

A: I think that was our main reason for setting Nov. 9 to get this under a motion. Lakewood would like to come this way. If this can be worked out with 12 teams, I think Lakewood is preferring to come in this direction.

Q: Could you go ahead with 11 teams on Nov. 9?

A: Probably, with the restriction that we would get the 12th team. Everyone there seemed to be rather confident that we could get the 12th team, somewhere.

Q: What if 10 teams decided positively by Nov. 9. Would you go ahead with it then?

A: Probably. It would be a little more difficult to get those two additional teams. If we get nine, it could be a little more difficult. If Durand and Waverly say no, we're sitting there with nine teams, and we're almost back to a four-four (teams in divisions), which we just turned down.

Q: It sounds like you're pretty sympathetic with Lakewood and Greenville, trying to accommodate them in any way you can.

A: We're all in education. We want to do what's best for kids.

Wooley is chosen by County Dems

In executive board action, the Clinton County Democrats selected Doug Wooley of St. Johns as its new party chairman.

Wooley is a lifelong resident of Clinton County, graduating from Elsie High School.

A Vietnam era veteran, he served in the U.S. Air Force where he was an instructor teaching judo and unarmed defense, security, law enforcement and other related subjects.

Employed at Federal-Mogul Corporation in St. Johns, Wooley is a UAW Committee Representative and member of the bargaining committee. He has also represented the Federal-Mogul hourly employees at the Intra Corporate Federal-Mogul UAW Council.

Wooley was elected financial secretary for UAW Local 925 of St.

Johns, a position he has held since January 1980.

In regards to his new position, Wooley stated he hoped to unite the many county democrats.

"Now that we have a democratic governor, it's clear what responsible leadership can do for its citizens," Wooley said. "Our state was $1.7 billion in debt, the largest deficit of any state in the nation. The state's credit rating was lowered and we were on our knees facing bankruptcy."

"That's when the governor and responsible legislators voted to save the state with a temporary tax increase," he said.

Wooley said without the increase, the state police would have been cut 40 per cent, most state colleges and universities would have been closed, state aid to local schools and cities would have been cut dramatically and many state hospitals, prisons and mental institutions would have been shut down.

"Although the tax increase is temporary," Wooley explained, "its benefits will be long lasting. Our credit rating has already been upgraded, saving the state millions, as well as the increased aid to education and economic development, both crucial building blocks in the state's recovery."

"I'm enthusiastically looking forward to working with the people of Clinton County for the betterment of the communities," he added.

Anyone with questions about the Democratic Party of Clinton County can call Wooley in St. Johns at 224-6261 during the morning.

Cheese distribution set for county area

Capital Area Community Services, Inc. and its Clinton County Community Services Outreach Office announces that between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. beginning Tuesday, Nov. 8 through Thursday, Nov. 10, the Clinton County Office will distribute free U.S.D.A. Commodity Cheese to income eligible residents.

Everyone who received cheese and has a registration card needs to bring their card to the site during the distribution. No other information is needed.

The distribution site will be at the Nazarene Church, 515 N. Lansing St. in St. Johns.

For those individuals who did not apply for a card, you must do so before the November distribution.

To qualify for the program, an applicant must be at or below the following guidelines: family size of one, the household income of $6,075; family size of two, household income of $8,175; family size of 3, household income of $10,275; and family of four, household income of $12,375. For each additional member to the family add $2,100 to the household income.

Presentation of proof of income is necessary to receive a registration card. The following is proof of income: copy of Social Security, SSI, or VA check; Benefit Report from the Social Security Administration; copy of Homestead Property Tax Credit Claim; State and Federal Income Tax Returns; rental or lease agreement from subsidized housing or a Benefit Report or form letter from the Department of Social Services Office dated within the past three months.

Food stamps and Medicaid cards are not proof of income.

Registration cards are available at the Clinton County Community Services Office, 100 S. Ottawa St., St. Johns, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday until Nov. 7. After that date, no registration cards will be issued until Nov. 11. Cards will not be available at the church nor at Community Services during this distribution. Everyone must apply before Nov. 7.

For more information, call Community Services at 224-6702.

Schools invited to college night

Students and parents from Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia High Schools have been invited to participate in the annual College-Trade School Night at Portland High School tonight.

The College-Trade School Night helps students and their parents explore the choices and options available. They will be able to visit with representatives from big schools, small schools, private schools and vocational schools.

College and vocational school costs continue to increase from five to 25 per cent each year, thus it is important to attend one of the three identical sessions on financial aid.

The students and parents are also urged to visit with the various representatives from the R.O.T.C. programs and scholarships and investigate the various armed services college saving programs.

Circuit Court

Here are the sentences handed down by Circuit Judge Randy L. Tahvonen for Clinton and Gratiot Counties:

□ Gary Trew, 25, 10759 Babcock Rd., Bath, was sentenced to 16 to 24 months in prison for attempted larceny in a building and 32 and 48 months in prison for larceny in a building.

□ Robert Feneis, 34, Phoenix Correctional Facility, was sentenced to 16 to 24 months in prison for attempted larceny over $100.

□ Karl Richard Armstrong, 22, 711 N. Swegles, St. Johns, was sentenced to four months in the county jail, three years probation and court costs of $360 for attempted larceny in a building.

□ James Patrick Anderson, 18, 104 N. Lansing, St. Johns, was sentenced to 60 days in jail for assault and battery and disorderly conduct.

□ Jeffery Harris Arrell, 18, 2265 W. Parks, Lot 455, St. Johns, was sentenced to 15 days in jail, two years probation and $360 court costs for larceny in a building.

□ James Dean Peters, 20, 507 N. Pine River, Ithaca, was sentenced to two years probation and $1800 restitution for attempted larceny in a building.

County, sergeants stories contrasting

By MARTY ACKLEY

The Clinton County Board of Commissioners made it sound like blackmail.

The Clinton County Sheriff's sergeants made it sound like charity work.

That is the disagreement over how the two groups viewed the settling of the contract dispute between the county and the sergeants.

County commission chairman Roger Overway told the board and others present at the commissioners' meeting last Thursday that the county was forced into this contract as much as it was with the deputy's contract earlier in the year.

The deputies won a sorely-felt arbitrator's ruling which ordered the county to pay a total of a 17 per cent increase to their salary.

The sergeants, on the other hand, settled on an agreement and ratified the contract without an arbitrator.

The contract calls for a salary increase of $21,909 retroactive to Jan. 1, 1983 and again to $22,765 retroactive to July 1. The balance of all that back pay will be made up on the sergeants' next paycheck.

The sergeants' salary is some $500 above what the top deputy earns.

"The sergeants said if we don't agree with their contract, they'd take us to binding arbitration," Overway said.

"The increase amounts to a $5,000 increase, which is what it would cost the county to go to arbitration. This is what they (sergeants) wanted so as not to go into binding arbitration," he stated.

Overway added that he felt the county's luck with an arbitrator in this case would have been equivalent to the luck it experienced with the deputies.

Sgt. Dan Flint, the president of the sergeants' union local, felt they were helping the county out.

"We actually settled for less because we didn't want the county to go to arbitration," he told The Clinton County News. "It was a matter of $4,000 to $5,000."

"It's our taxmoney too," Flint said, "and since the county was in a bind, we decided to settle for less."

Flint said the county gave the sergeants "a hard road too" because of the deputy situation, but that the sergeants didn't give the county that much hassle over the lesser contract.

The sergeants' seemingly good intentions went for naught, however, as the commissioners did onto them as that they did onto the deputies.

The commission, feeling the contract settled on was too excessive, budgeted only half of the $5,000 increase because as Overway said, "We should treat the sergeants like the deputies."

If the sheriff doesn't have excess money in his budget to make up the difference, he may have to lay a sergeant off like he had to do when the commission short-changed the department with the deputy's salary increase.

Commissioner Richard Hawks disagreed with this action against the sergeants.

"In the case of the deputies, we had no choice in the increase," he argued. "But with the sergeants, we agreed on the increase and we should give them what we agreed on."

The sergeants will receive one benefit from the county that the deputies did not. The county pays for the sergeants' retirement, while the deputies have to pay into theirs. It's a difference of $1,000 to $1,500.

The Steel-Wallbridge Drain, south of St. Johns, protrudes up and out of the drainage area. City and county engineers termed the drain useless. The County Drain Commission will now reinstall the tube and redirect the flow of water to make the area functional again. (Photo by Marty Ackley)

Remedy to come for Steele Drain

A washed-out and useless drainage culvert in the southern portion of St. Johns will be repaired by the Clinton County Drain Commission after attempts to have the drain replaced failed.

Several weeks ago, Drain Commissioner Arden Pierson wrote a letter to the City of St. Johns asking it to pay the costs involved in replacing the culvert since the city is responsible for some 67 per cent of the water that goes through that drainage area along U.S. 27 south of the city.

Estimates by the city engineer to replace that drain and two others needing repair in that drainage district would be $38,000.

The city told the drain commission it would not fund the entire renovation costs, but would like to see the expense distributed throughout the entire drainage district. The city said it would look at its budget in the spring and reconsider entering a petition to have the whole drainage area upgraded.

Pierson told The Clinton County News that since the owner of the farm where the crossover was located wanted to have the culvert repaired, he felt it should be done.

The county will therefore reinstall the drainage tube and upgrade the culvert area to make it functional at a minimal cost. The estimated cost would be somewhere around $750.

Pierson said the trouble began a few years back when there was an overflow of water to that drain and a "floating action" started and began to lift the tube up where it became useless. The water then began channeling itself around the tube and eroding away the banks of the ditch.

"As a good neighbor, we asked the city to renovate the drain," Pierson said. "There is some responsibility to the city because of the development upstream. With the building upstream, there has been an increase in the flow of water downstream."

He said it was a situation where there has been urbanization in a rural area, but added the city has been very cooperative in looking to remedy other drainage problems in the area.

Pierson said the remedy they have come up with is a reasonable solution to the situation, but someday there will need to be a total renovation to the drainage area where the growth of the area will be too much for the outdated drains to handle.

CMH providing diabetes testing

Over 240,000 persons in Michigan alone have diabetes and don't know it. That's not the kind of thing Clinton Memorial Hospital thinks should be kept secret.

In conjunction with Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 6-12, Clinton Memorial Hospital will be co-sponsoring free diabetes screenings for all area residents.

The screenings are also being sponsored by the St. Johns Lions Club, St. Johns Rotary Club, and the American Diabetes Association/Michigan Affiliate.

The screenings will be held at Clinton Memorial on Nov. 8, 9, 10 from 1-4 p.m. and from 6-8 p.m.

Persons urged to be checked annually for diabetes are those who are over 40 years old, overweight, and related to diabetes.

Diabetes is a serious disease and a major cause of heart attack, kidney failure, blindness and death. The symptoms of diabetes, when present, may include frequent urination, abnormal thirst, unusual hunger, rapid weight loss, itching, fatigue, blurred vision, and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

If the test results indicate that a person may have diabetes, he or she will be advised to see a physician for further evaluation.

The screening test and the recommended high carbohydrate meal are not appropriate for person who have been told they are diabetic.

Local church installs pastor

On Sunday, Nov. 6, at 4 p.m., the Institution of Rev. Carlos J. Caguiat will be held at St. Anne's Episcopal Church in DeWitt. St. Anne's is located at the corner of U.S. 27 and Webb Road.

The Order for the Celebration of a New Ministry is for use when a priest is being instituted and inducted as the Rector of a parish.

The service is built around the Proclamation of the Word at Eucharist. In addition to the Eucharist, there are two parts to the action: the Institution and the Induction.

The Institution expresses the acceptance of the new minister by the people among whom he or she is to work.

The Induction is represented by a series of presentations — Bible, water for baptizing, a stole, a book of prayers, keys, a book of canons, bread and wine, and perhaps other things to signify special ministries.

Their acceptance by the new minister indicates acceptance of the responsibilities of the new office. This mutual recognition of people and their new minister, in the presence of the Bishop and with his prayers, constitutes the celebration of a new ministry consistent with understanding of the church expressed in the ordination rites.

The Very Reverend William S. Logan, Archdeacon, will be officiating at this ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Stephen P. Pressey, Rector at St. Katherine's Episcopal Church in Williamston; and the Rev. Edward G. Rice, Rector, All Saints Episcopal Church of East Lansing and Dean of the Capitol Convocation.

Father Caguiat comes from New York City where he was Vicar of St. Christopher's Chapel of Trinity Parish and Rector of The Church of The Good Shepherd.

Father Caguiat attended the General Theological Seminary in New York City, graduating in 1965 with a M.Div.

He is married to the former Julianna Shomsky. They have three children, Stephen, 22, Jonathan, 19, and Sarah, 17. Caguiat works full time as the Administrative Director of the Clinical Center at Michigan State University.

An invitation is extended to all area clergy to participate in the procession.

After the Service of Institution, a dinner will be held in the undercroft of the church in celebration of this occasion.

The Chapeltones give concert

Our own area group, The Chapeltones, will be giving a Gospel Concert at Bath Baptist Church, Nov. 6, at 7 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. The group consists of Jerry and Bev Swartz, son Curt, Mike Beach, and Dan Hirschy.

Eagles shoot for state playoffs

Victory assures Fowler's berth

By AL PALMERI
Sports Editor

Before the football season began, Fowler coach Steve Spicer said it would probably take a 9-0 record for any team in his region to qualify for the state Class D playoffs.

Little did he know that his team would be in that position this week.

If Fowler beats Class B Portland, it qualifies. The Eagles would then play Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes in a first-round playoff game next weekend in Corunna.

However, if Fowler loses, things get about as mixed up as a feather in a whirlwind, as Foghorn Leghorn would say.

Basically, if Fowler loses, the Eagles would finish 8-1. The door would then be wide open for either Saginaw Michigan Lutheran Seminary, 7-1, or Flint Holy Rosary, 8-0.

The Saginaw school is playing AuGres AuGres-Sims, a Class D team that is 6-2 Friday. Flint Holy Rosary is playing Allen Park Cabrini, a Class B school that is 7-1, in the Catholic League Prep Bowl at the Pontiac Silverdome Sunday.

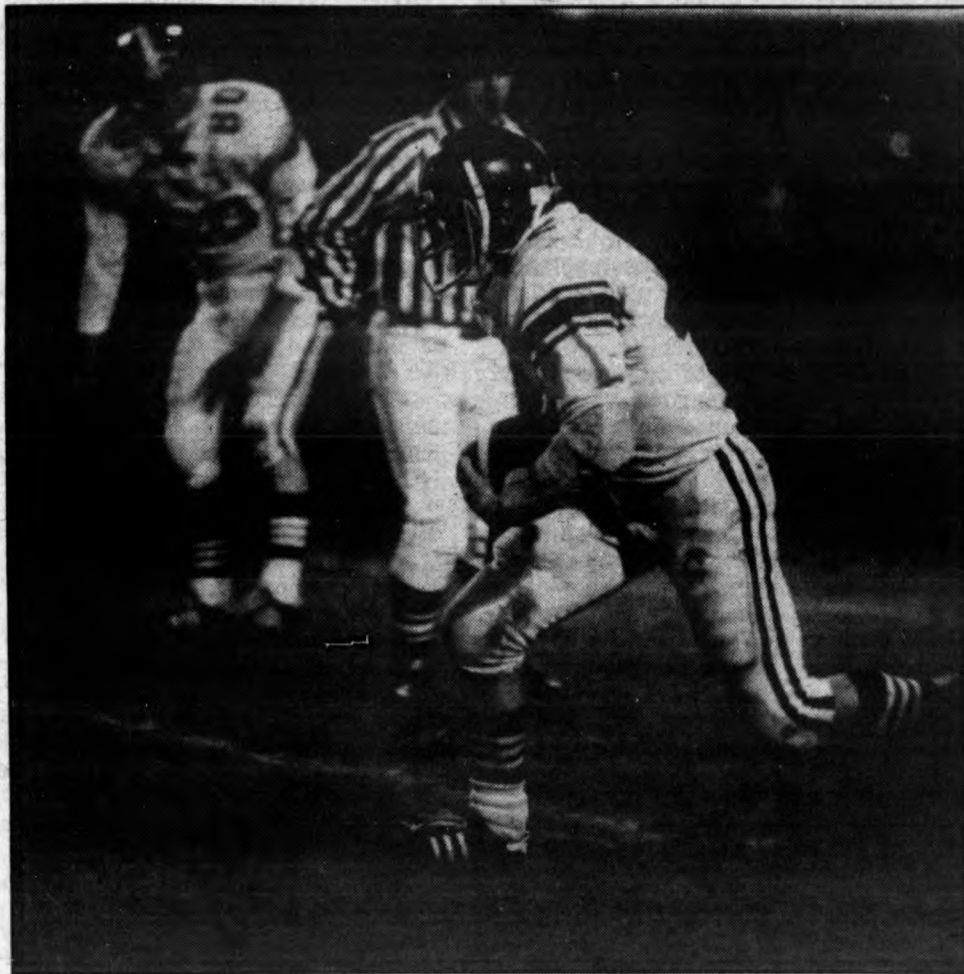

Fowler has 576 playoff points now, and Saginaw Michigan Lutheran Seminary has 533. If Fowler loses and Saginaw wins on Friday, Saginaw would have 613 points and Fowler would have 582.

That would make the games of Fowler's defeated opponents very important. In the state's playoff system, a team gets eight bonus points for every game that one of the opponents it defeats wins. For example, Fowler defeated Maple Valley the first game of the season, and the Lions have won all seven games since, giving Fowler 56 playoff points.

Basically, if Fowler lost and Saginaw won, Fowler would need to have four more of its defeated foes win to beat out Saginaw. In that situation, Fulton's game with Ithaca would become crucial, since Fowler has beaten Fulton and Saginaw has beaten Ithaca.

But if Fowler loses and still manages to top Saginaw in playoff points, Flint Holy Rosary would have a good chance to beat out both schools if it beats Cabrini.

One other team, Gobles, has an outside chance to make the playoffs. First, it must defeat Class C Fennville and then hope for losses by Fowler, Saginaw and Flint. Even then, it is doubtful that

Fullback Dan Simon, running against Pewamo-Westphalia, is one reason why Fowler is 8-0. On defense, he and fellow junior Bill Payne have been solid hitters at the inside linebacker spots. (Photo by Mike Kitchen)

Gobles could overcome Fowler.

If Fowler loses, the best way for the Eagles to make the playoffs would be if both Saginaw and Flint lost.

Spicer, who looks upon a playoff berth as a reward instead of a goal, is looking for a tough game at Portland.

"They beat P-W (Pewamo-Westphalia) 20-8, and we beat P-W 14-7, so I would have to say we're probably the underdog," Spicer said. "I wouldn't be surprised if their starting quarterback isn't back in the lineup. His hand wasn't in a cast last Friday. We're going to expect to see him."

Portland's quarterback, Dan West, broke his throwing hand two weeks ago. Contrary to Spicer's opinion, Portland coach Doug Parshall said West's hand is still in a cast and that he definitely will not play.

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, 8-0 and ranked as high as No. 2 in Class D polls, is patiently planning for Fowler or another playoff opponent. It plays Detroit St. Martin dePorres Sunday in a Catholic League Prep Bowl game at the Silverdome.

"If we get beat (by Portland), that's still a good season for our kids is we go 8-1 and win the CMAC (Central Michigan Athletic Conference)," Spicer said. "The kids have still had a successful season. It looks like the last ballgame is the season, but you can't say that."

Fowler stayed perfect last week by routing Genesee, 35-0. The visitors could only gain 75 yards, and 1,000-yard rusher Don Robinson was held to a miserable three yards in 13 carries.

"He's a good back, but if you play good defense it kind of neutralizes things," Spicer said.

Fowler's Tom Simon pushed his school-record rushing total to 1,180 this season by gaining 198 in 31 carries. He also scored three touchdowns on runs of 1, 17 and 3 yards.

"We thought we could make a better showing," said Genesee coach Jim Masserang, whose team fell to 5-3. "I don't know what else to say."

Rival Portland geared to win

When two teams like Portland and Fowler clash on the gridiron, one never needs an excuse to play good, solid football.

Area bragging rights are on the line, after all.

This Friday's matchup at Portland High School has an extra twist, however. The Eagles, champions of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference and holders of a perfect 8-0 record, are looking to earn a berth in the Class D playoffs.

The Raiders, 5-3 at this point, have the obligation of playing the spoiler role.

"We're going to play as well as we know how and let the chips fall where they fall," declared Raider coach Doug Parshall. "If Fowler beats us, we'll be pulling for them in the playoffs as much as anyone. But Friday night, we're rooting for Portland to beat Fowler. That's the way it has to be."

"Our defense is going to have to have a super night because they're an excellent ball club," continued Parshall. "They just keep coming at you. They're very well drilled and very well disciplined."

Defense is something about which Parshall usually hasn't had to worry. The Raiders have recorded four shutouts this season, and the defense has kept the team in every game but one (against Belding).

Last week was no exception. The Raiders limited Pewamo-Westphalia to 90 total yards on offense and walked away with a 20-8 victory.

The offense, meanwhile, continued to roll despite the fact that John Davids was making his first start at quarterback. Davids, substituting for the injured Dan West, completed three of four passes for 36 yards and one touchdown.

"For having only one week's practice, he did an excellent job," praised Parshall. "He called some good plays and ran the ball club real well."

Marauders nip DeWitt

Ovid-Elsie evened its record at 4-4 by beating DeWitt, 7-0, last Friday.

The Marauders snapped a three-game losing streak and won for the fourth consecutive year over DeWitt. The Panthers fell to 3-5.

St. Johns boys exit as champions

Cross country observers can point to many reasons why St. Johns has won the last five championships in the Mid-Michigan 'B' Conference.

But if you ask the ones who know — the senior runners on the team — they can summarize the reasons rather easily. As far as they are concerned, championships have stemmed from long, hard workouts and excellent coaching.

Two-a-day practices for the St. Johns boys started the same time as the football team began its two-a-day workouts. During the school year, the runners had sessions at 6:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Ruling over those workouts is veteran coach Bob Spencer, who the runners credit most for their five-year reign.

"He keeps a loose atmosphere," said Tom Rayman, St. Johns' No. 1 who recently claimed the conference individual championship. "We have a good team attitude."

Rayman has been a part of three conference championships. Classmates Brian Devereaux and Darren Scott both have been on the varsity for two seasons, though Scott missed another season with an injury. Loren Partlo, the team's other senior, came out for cross country this year for the first time.

"It's a difficult sport, a lot more demanding than other sports I've been into," said Partlo, a transfer from Coleman High School.

The seniors had a goal to qualify as a team for the state Class A meet, but the best St. Johns could do in last week's regional at Grand Blanc was an eighth-place finish. The Redwings scored 206 points. Regional winner Swartz Creek scored 50.

However, Rayman and junior Andy Brockmyre qualified for Saturday's state meet as individuals. Rayman finished fifth and Brockmyre was 27th.

"I want to be in the top 20," said Rayman of the meet at Brighton. "I haven't been to the state meet, so I don't know what to expect."

Devereaux finished 37th, Brad Smith was 52nd and Scott was 65th in the regional.

In girls' competition, St. Johns' Tina Simmon qualified as an individual for the state meet, where she will try and improve on last year's eighth-place finish. Becky Irerer (29th), Bobbi Bolyard (37th), Kim Heibeck (52nd) and Diane Upton (69th) were the other St. Johns placers.

St. Johns finished in sixth place with 192 points. Winner Flushing had 69 points.

Fowler: The Fowler boys finished eighth in their Class D regional at Shepherd last Saturday, scoring 192 points. Kingsley won the meet with 57.

Sophomore Rick Klein led Fowler by placing 30th. Junior Tom Armbrustmacher was 31st, followed by freshman Steve Bierstetel (35th), senior Tony Myers (46th) and sophomore Brian Ruhl (50th).

Gonzales quiets rumors; Redwings rally to victory

By Al Palmeri
Sports Editor

In an effort to clear up rumors about his departure as St. Johns' head football coach, Joe Gonzales made one thing perfectly clear on Monday.

"I'm not quitting," he said. "I don't think it's good to go out when there's some controversy. I don't think it's good for the program. I don't think it's good for the school."

The "controversy" Gonzales referred to can be traced to a letter which appeared in The Clinton County News on Sept. 29. The letter, written by a daughter of another St. Johns football coach, criticized Gonzales for his handling of players.

After the letter appeared, Gonzales announced to his players that he was seriously considering resigning as coach after this season. News of his intent spread quickly, as many people started to question the veteran head coach about the impending decision.

But Gonzales told his players before last Friday's 14-6 victory over Mt. Pleasant that he was staying on for at least one more season.

In 10 seasons as head coach at St. Johns, Gonzales has posted a 58-30 record. His teams have won three conference championships, the most recent coming last year in the Mid-Michigan 'B'.

This year, St. Johns tied Alma for second place in the conference. The Redwings carry a 4-4 record into the final game Friday at Grand Ledge.

to score two second-half touchdowns.

Chad Munger turned a dive play into a 39-yard touchdown run for the first score. Then, with 1:44 left in the game, Ron Wycoff squirmed 1 yard for the clinching touchdown after Mt. Pleasant failed on a fake punt at its own 9.

In the first half, Mt. Pleasant dominated play but came away with only six points.

St. Johns stopped one drive at its own 1 when Chris Loucks stripped the ball from an Oiler ballcarrier and John Keenoy recovered. The visitors also had a touchdown run called back because of clipping, and were stopped inside the Redwing 20 on another occasion.

Munger finished with 114 yards to bump his season total to 545 yards in 136 carries. Loucks carried four times for 48 yards, giving him 489 in 59 carries (an average of 8.3 yards per carry).

Safety Jeff Hayes added glitter to his sparkling season by snatching his eighth interception.

Grand Ledge, led by quarterback Kent Baker, is sure to test Hayes and Co. in the season finale. The Comets, 2-6, operate out of a multiple offense which shows the shotgun formation at times. They also have used a spread formation with tackles lined up as wideouts on occasion.

Backs suffer injuries as P-W falters again

Pewamo-Westphalia enters Friday's game against Carson City-Crystal with the prospect of starting a whole new set of running backs than when it began the season.

Though youth and inexperience are contributing factors for P-W's disappointing football season, injuries are another reason why the Pirates are 2-6. P-W has lost four of its finest two-way players — Joe Trierweiler, Bruce Cook, Jon Thelen and Doug Nurenberg — to serious injuries.

Trierweiler and Thelen had been starting as running backs. When another two-way player, Tom Schafer, went out with a charley horse during the first quarter of last Friday's loss to Portland, P-W was forced to switch players out of their normal positions.

The offensive backfield then consisted of converted end Pat Riley, starting safety Joe Bengel and Brian Thelen, who began the year as a backup fullback.

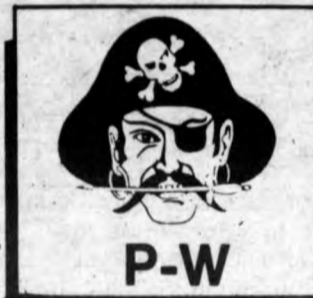

"We've just lost too many people to be able to carry out our offense properly," said P-W coach Mike Folk, whose team lost, 20-8, to Portland.

"You just can't teach a kid a backfield position in a couple of days. There are plays that we run that he (Riley) just doesn't know what to do. You can't blame a kid for that."

When Schafer went down early in the opening quarter, he didn't return to action until the third quarter, when P-W was trailing, 14-8. The Pirates couldn't produce a first down in the second half and finished with 87 yards total offense — 81 of those coming in the second quarter.

"We have not been a very good second-half team this year, except against Fowler," Folk said. "I don't know what it is. We've tested these kids endurance-wise, and they are as good if not better than any team we've had."

P-W yielded 236 yards but Folk praised the efforts of certain defenders. Troy Thelen had seven solo tackles and Vern Miller had eight tackles and one sack. Senior end Jim Pohl and senior nose guard Scott Schmitt also played well, Folk said.

Brian Thelen scored the lone Pirate touchdown on a 1-yard run. Bengel ran for the conversion.

Carson City-Crystal, 4-4, brings a multi-talented offense to P-W for the season's final game. Three different backs rushed for 100 yards or more in last week's victory over Saranac.

Take a Bow

Bruce Fedewa, Alma College football: Bruce, a junior linebacker, had a brilliant day for Alma Oct. 22 in a 34-7 win over Kalamazoo College. The St. Johns High School graduate intercepted two passes, returning one 11 yards for a touchdown and another to the Kalamazoo 20 to set up another score. A week before, in a 15-6 win over Olivet, he had three sacks.

Jim Seegraves

Jim Seegraves, Western Michigan University football: Jim, a freshman linebacker, made 12 tackles on Oct. 22 in a 24-20 loss to Ball State in his second collegiate start. The DeWitt High School graduate has taken part in 33 tackles this year.

Alicia Wittchell, Bath High School cross country: Alicia has been running No. 2 on the third-ranked Bath team as a freshman. Last Saturday at the Class C regional meet in Williamston, she finished a strong third, a notch below teammate Laurie Wentzel.

Bath runners claim crowns

Maybe there's something in the water at Bath that produces good runners.

Or maybe the credit should go to coach Mel Comeau, a veteran of 19 seasons at the southern Clinton County school.

Whatever the reason, the Bees keep piling up championships.

Last spring, Bath won both Ingham County League track titles. And last week Tuesday, the Bee boys and girls captured both league cross country crowns.

For the boys, it was their eighth title in the last nine years. The Bath girls won their third championship in as many seasons.

Both teams now advance to the state Class C meet, where they will hope for finishes in the top three. Last year, Bath's boys finished third and the girls took fifth.

Swimmers stay winless on year

DeWitt's swim team tumbled to its seventh consecutive loss last week, but all was not lost as far as the Panthers were concerned.

The week featured 21 personal-best times in losses to Holt on Tuesday and Okemos on Thursday.

Kelly Smith led the way with three personal-best efforts. In the 114-57 loss to Holt, she produced DeWitt's only two individual victories in the 50-yard freestyle and 100-yard butterfly. She also swam with Sherry Garber, Missy Waier and Missy Cook on the victorious 200 medley relay team.

Against Okemos, Smith had three second-place finishes. Okemos swept every first place and won the meet, 99-57.

DeWitt entertains Mason tonight at 7 p.m. in a meet which could produce the Panthers' first win.

Fowler's hopes dim with a loss

If Fowler's football team beats Portland Friday, it qualifies for the state Class D football playoffs. But if the Eagles lose, games played by opponents they have beaten become very important.

For each game that an opponent it has beaten wins, Fowler picks up eight bonus points toward a playoff berth. Last week, Fowler picked up 32 bonus points when Portland St. Patrick edged Manistee Catholic in the game's final minute, Maple Valley upset Battle Creek Pennfield, Laingsburg knocked off Webberville and Vestaburg won its first game against Ashley.

Here are the games to watch (Fowler's teams are in bold):

- Genesee (5-3) vs. Flint Academy.
- Vestaburg (1-7) vs. Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart.
- Portland St. Patrick (6-2) vs. Saranac.
- Fulton (6-2) vs. Ithaca.
- Laingsburg (5-3) vs. Ashley.
- Pewamo-Westphalia (2-6) vs. Carson City-Crystal.

In a matchup of two of Fowler's opponents, Maple Valley (7-1) plays Potterville (0-8).

Fowler last made the playoffs in 1980. That year, the Eagles won their first two playoff games to make it to the Pontiac Silverdome, where they finished as state runners-up.

"If we get beat (against Portland), that's still a good season for our kids," said Fowler coach Steve Spicer.

"It looks like the last ballgame is the season. But you can't say that."

Redwings tighten grip on conference lead

St. Johns stayed perfect in Mid-Michigan 'B' Conference girls basketball last week and put together an overpowering display of rebounding.

The Redwings bombed Alma, 76-34, last Tuesday, rebounding the Panthers, 76-16. Brenda Eiseler led the way with 14, followed by Amy Hartsuff and Janine Scott with 11 apiece and Pam Sehlke with 10.

With the victory, St. Johns hiked its conference record to 6-0.

Eiseler, who scored 23 points against Alma, led St. Johns to a 47-37 win over Lakewood last Thursday. She scored 17 points and grabbed 15 rebounds. Hartsuff also had one of her best games this season with 12 points and five assists.

In other Clinton County action, Pewamo-Westphalia piled up a season-high 31 steals in last Tuesday's 52-32 win over Fulton.

Operating out of a half-court trap, the Pirates kept pressuring Fulton into mistakes. Jackie Bauer recorded 11 steals and Lynda Rademacher had five as P-W hiked its Central Michigan Athletic Conference record to 7-0.

Bauer led the scoring attack with 14 points. Michelle Wieber had 12 points and 11 rebounds and Rademacher had 10 points and nine rebounds.

P-W also avenged its only defeat last week by whipping Ovid-Elsie, 45-37, last Thursday.

Rademacher led P-W with 20 points, 15 rebounds and five blocked shots. Ovid-Elsie, on the other hand, was hampered by the absence of starters Paula Coleman and Teri Woodbury with ankle injuries.

P-W shut off the Marauders' high-scoring guard, Mary Perrien. She didn't score in the first half and finished with 11 points.

P-W, 15-1, is ranked fifth in Class C in the latest coaches' poll.

Before losing to P-W, Ovid-Elsie picked up its sixth MMB victory in seven outings by slipping past Chesaning, 43-39. Woodbury had 14 points and Shelby Terpstra had 11 to lead the Marauders, who entered this week's action at 12-2.

Fowler gave unbeaten Ashley a scare last Thursday before bowing to the home team, 50-44.

The scoring and rebounding of Peg Thelen and Darce Schmitt kept Fowler within six points for the entire game against the Bears, who had beaten Fowler by 37 points earlier this season and are rated as high as No. 2 in Class D polls.

But Fowler suffered a critical blow when Schmitt fouled out with about four minutes left. She had scored 11 points.

"She's been playing some good ball," said coach Denny Smith. "If we can keep her in there, we're not too bad. But she has a tendency to foul."

Thelen, who has recovered from a foot injury, scored 18 points to lead the Fowler, 6-8 overall.

Thelen scored 19 points and Schmitt had 13 in Fowler's 53-44 victory over Laingsburg last Tuesday. Cindy Schneider offered support in a reserve role by scoring nine points.

Bath won its third game of the season last Wednesday when it nipped Morrice, 39-37, in the final seconds. After Sara Jubb sank a free throw to tie the game at 37, Wendy Foote hit both ends of a one-and-one for the winning points.

Foote, who finished with 14 points against Morrice, scored 17 against Haslett last Thursday. Unfortunately for the Bees, the rest of the team could score only 12 as Haslett rolled to a 57-29 win.

The loss dropped Bath to 2-8 in the Ingham County League.

DeWitt had more success against Haslett last Tuesday as the Panthers knocked off the No. 8-ranked team in Class B, 44-41, in overtime.

The Panthers tied it on Diane Lotre's 20-footer at the buzzer, and won it when Renee White and Sheila Milner combined for five points in overtime. White finished with 21 points and 20 rebounds — both career highs.

On Thursday, however, Okemos wrecked DeWitt's bid for a share of the Capital Circuit championship by downing the Panthers, 54-43.

"They intimidated us," said coach Frank Deak. "We tried to guard against it, but... Okemos is Okemos. They intimidate most anybody they play."

Okemos jumped to an 11-3 lead and maintained the advantage as Kathy Barron built up a game-high total of 33 points.

In games around the county Tuesday night, Pewamo-Westphalia clinched the CMAC championship by beating Portland St. Patrick, 55-36; St. Johns hiked its record to 12-2 by topping Ionia, 44-32; Ovid-Elsie lost for only the third time when Corunna won, Circuit by losing to 42-38; DeWitt fell to 7-7 Charlotte, 40-33, and Bath overall, 3-3 in the Capital beat Dansville, 46-44.

Community Service Center Groundbreaking

Ground was broken last Sunday for the Community Services Building at the St. Johns Seventh Day Adventist Church on Oakland Street. Pictured from left are: June Freeman from the State Federation of Community Services, Michigan Conference of Seventh Day Adventists; Jim Hopkins, pastor of the St. Johns Seventh Day Adventist Church; Leone McKelvey, president of the State Federation of Community Services; Hugh Benniga from the State Department of Social Services; Maxine Moser, the new center's administrator; John Arehart, mayor of St. Johns; Glenn Kilpatrick and Elder Gaylord Stevenson, members of the church. The Center will be 24 by 40 feet in dimension and will cost between $15,000 and $17,000 to construct. Organizers say they already have $10,000 donated, and are still accepting donations. With volunteer labor, Pastor Hopkins hopes the building will be completed by the end of November. (Photo by Marty Ackley)

NO MONEY DOWN!!
INTEREST RATES AS LOW AS 1%. PAYMENTS BASED ON FAMILY INCOME FOR QUALIFIED BUYERS.

If your gross family income can be adjusted to $18,000 a year or less, then you may qualify for a low interest, no money down loan to purchase a federally financed home. Your interest rate is determined by your income. We have put hundreds of families into homes. We have specialized in Federal Financing for 10 years and sell homes over the entire state. Call first for a pre-screening. In most cases we can tell you over the phone if you have qualifying potential.

- *Example 1, 2, 3 & 4. Here's what this program can do for you:
1. Family with 1 child, $12,000 yr. gross income, 39,000 mortgage. Zero down, $116 month house payment, approx. 1% interest.
  2. Family with no children, $16,000 gross family income, 42,000 mortgage. Zero down, $174 month house payment, approx. 5% interest.
  3. Family with 2 children, 14,000 gross family income, 45,000 mortgage. Zero down payment, 134 month house payment, approx. 1% interest.
  4. Family with 3 children, $19,500 gross family income, 46,000 mortgage. Zero down, 214 month house payment, approx. 5% interest.

*Examples 1, 2, 3 & 4 are based on a formula using an estimated figure of $800 per year for property taxes and a $150 annual home owners policy.
You should have few or no debts. Payment Subsidy is subject to recapture. Income will be reviewed every 12 months. Mortgages are for 33 years. Taxes and insurance are not included in house payment.

Home Tour set to begin

The Clinton County Historical Society will present "Christmas Past, Christmas Present" during its 1983 Home Tour Festival on Dec. 3.

Ten charming St. Johns homes will be showcased in their Christmas finery. The homes range in age from the 1860s to the present. A multitude of other community events will also be available in St. Johns at that time.

A quilt show at the Methodist Church, an arts and crafts fair at the Southpoint Mall, a flea market and non-profit groups sale at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School, public meals served by the Congregational Church and the Rebeckkas, a door decorating contest, lunch with Santa at the municipal building, a sale at "Santa's Cellar" in the Central National Bank are among the community events coinciding with the Home Tour.

The ten homes to be presented for touring are:

- The Jack Giesecke home, 205 W. State St., a house built in 1874 in the Second Empire Style by John Hicks, local merchant and community leader.
- The Richard Kohls home at 208 W. Cass St., of the Carpenter Gothic Style.
- The John Keenoy house at 202 W. Cass, a wing and upright with Italiniate trim and bracketing.
- The Douglas Peck house at 304 E. Cass, a Victorian cottage dating from the 1860s.
- The Charles Huntington house at 506 E. McConnell. Moved to its present location to make room for the Methodist Church, this house was once a hotel.
- The 1940s brick bungalow of Terri Theriac and Cindy French at 207 E. McConnell, decorated in the "Country Style".
- The Larry McDermaid home at 303 S. Oakland, was moved to its present location in the 1890s, although the house itself originates from the 1860s.
- The Anthony Kuntz house at 506 S. Oakland, is Southern Colonial style and is a large home dating from the 1880s.
- The final home is the Douglas Warren house, an imposing St. Johns landmark since its construction in the 1920s. Among its elegant features are windows with glass made by the Ford Motor Company to be used as windshield glass in its Model T cars. The original owner of this home was the first Ford dealer in St. Johns.
- The Paine-Gillam-Scott House at 106 Maple St., the Historical Society Museum and oldest brick house in St. Johns will also be open.

The homes will be open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Other events will begin at 9 a.m.

In the evening, the tour will be conducted by candlelight and lanterns will light the streets near the tour stops.

Long known as a "hometour with elegance," this years tour offers many fine old homes for public viewing. Tickets are $4 the day of the tour, available at the houses, or $3 by presale.

Tickets will be available at Mark Roberts Furniture, Bennetts, the Bement Library, the Chamber of Commerce in St. Johns, or by mail from the Historical Society, Box 174, St. Johns, by sending a self addressed stamped envelope with remittance.
