Facts, figures differ

Board battles sheriff

By PETER W. BRONSON

Fresh from a sparring match with Circuit Judge Timothy Green over the Friend of the Court's salary, Clinton County commissioners squared off last week for a few rounds with Sheriff Anthony Hufnagel.

Hufnagel says he needs $28,000 to pay his deputies a raise they won in binding arbitration, or he'll have to eliminate midnight road patrols and coverage of three county areas in which 28,000 people depend on sheriff patrols for police protection. (see related story)

But the board says no way — or at least that's what five members of the personnel committee said June 14, according to Board Chairman Roger Overway. Overway said the vote was 5-0 to reject the sheriff's request.

Hufnagel says the vote was 4-1, but that's not the only fact he and Overway disagree on. (For the record, the unapproved minutes say it was 4-1, with Glenn Webster in the minority).

They also disagree on the amount needed. Hufnagel says he wants $28,000, and Overway, speaking on behalf of the board, puts the figure at $29,000 or $30,000.

In addition to disagreeing, Hufnagel and Overway use different facts to support their arguments. Hufnagel points out his patrolmen have dwindled in four years from 15 to a dozen, which may now be cut by four more, to eight.

But Overway points out that Hufnagel's total employees have grown from 15 in 1972 to 36 today, and said the sheriff's budget has grown from $150,000 to $750,000 during the same decade. He says the department is top-heavy.

As for deputies salaries, Hufnagel says they make "over $30,000 with fringes included," and are in the middle of area salary rankings for similar departments.

Adding in overtime pay of nearly $4,000 annually, Overway says the deputies average closer to $36,000.

And about Hufnagel's decision to eliminate the midnight shift: The sheriff says he considered jail staffing and manpower, selecting the shift in which more activity is "officer initiated." He points out, though, that the four deputies he has targeted for lay off arrested 47 drunk drivers in the past six months.

Overway says the decision was purely political.

"As a matter of fact," Overway said, "when a school board wants more money and feels they won't get a millage passed by the taxpayers, the first thing they say they'll cut is sports, something the public wants. I think Tony is trying to pull the same thing on the board of commissioners."

As for the outcome at the board's next meeting June 28, Hufnagel and Overway, naturally, have different predictions.

In hopes of swaying the votes of two commissioners and picking up a vote from Earl Lancaster, who was absent June 14, Hufnagel has taken his case to the public, urging taxpayers to call their commissioners.

But Overway said Hufnagel's chances of gaining a 4-3 majority are slim and none. "We're going to accept the recommendation of the personnel committee," he said confidently.

Perhaps he has reason for confidence. When Judge Green ordered the board to give the Friend of the Court a $5,000 raise, to $30,000, board members refused, and the judge ended up settling for a token raise, making her January pay hike to $24,668 retroactive to October.

Patrol cut leave crime 'home free'

By PETER W. BRONSON

A pay raise for deputies could force patrol cutbacks that would give criminals an open season in Clinton County, Sheriff Anthony Hufnagel says.

"If the criminal element finds out about no midnight road patrols, they're home free," Hufnagel said Monday.

County board members, though, say the sheriff is just making a bad situation worse in an effort to put public pressure on them for more money.

Board Chairman Roger Overway says Hufnagel deliberately chose the midnight shift to worry the public and put pressure on board members.

"There are lots of things he could do, but he's not looking at them now," he said of the sheriff. "Instead, he's putting political pressure on the board."

The dispute began at a meeting of the board's personnel committee Tuesday, June 14, when commissioners voted 5-0 not to give Hufnagel an additional $29,000 to pay his 20 deputies and correctional officers a retroactive five percent raise won in binding arbitration.

Responding to the vote Monday, Hufnagel presented a plan which calls for the lay off of four of his 12 road patrol deputies to make up the difference. The lay off will result in discontinuation of midnight road patrols as of July 10, the sheriff said.

"We just shudder at the thought of not having people available on the Fourth (of July)," Hufnagel said. Hufnagel said the midnight shift, rather than the afternoon or morning shifts, was chosen because of jail staffing needs and lack of personnel.

The cutback also will mean an end of contracts calling for patrols in Watertown Township, Westphalia and Fowler, he said.

Because of state funding requirements, it would be more economical to boost his budget by $28,000, Hufnagel argues. He says a reduction of his patrol force will cost the county important state funding and the $25,000 annually paid by Fowler, Westphalia and Watertown Township for patrol coverage.

But commissioners say that's not the point. They say deputies, who now will make nearly $22,000 — more than $30,000 with fringes — are overpaid.

They also say Hufnagel's department, with seven sergeants — including two in the detective bureau — is top heavy.

Most of all, however, commissioners fear granting an increased budget will send a message to the county's non-union employees that raises are available for the asking, encouraging them to organize as deputies have.

Hufnagel, on the other hand, insists his deputies rank in the middle of a salary comparison of 13 area agencies with 10 or more men. He says he needs enough sergeants to cover all shifts and to protect himself and the county from lawsuits for lack of adequate supervision.

And as for other employees, Hufnagel said threatening that raises will force lay offs will not deter non-union county employees from seeking higher pay. "As long as one man has seniority, he'll say (too bad for) the rest."

The board will consider the personnel committee recommendation as a whole at their June 28 meeting, and Hufnagel hopes the public will let commissioners know how they feel.

"I think this is something very serious and I think it's something the public should be aware of," the sheriff said. "If they want midnight patrols, they should call their commissioner, and if they don't want midnight patrols, they should call their commissioner."

Bicyclist killed

An 11-year-old Fowler boy was killed last week when his bicycle was struck by an auto.

Jeffrey Leonard Parson of 515 S. Main St., Fowler, was riding his bicycle on Wright Road two blocks south of M-21 when he crossed into the path of an auto driven by Mary Lee Jorae, 38, of 2889 S. Wright Road, Fowler. Parson was pronounced dead at the scene following the accident, which was reported to Clinton County Sheriff's deputies at 2:21 p.m.

In other action reported by Clinton County law enforcement agencies, several breaking and enterings occurred and a Texas man was injured when a dog ran in front of his motorcycle. Sheriff's reports said 90 complaints resulted in 17 arrests.

• Scott Dean Wohlfert, 23, of Bedford, Texas, was driving a motorcycle east on Alward Road about one-half mile west of Hollister when a dog ran from a ditch into his path, sheriff's reports said. Wohlfert struck and killed the dog. He was taken by his parents to Clinton Memorial Hospital, where he was reported in "good" condition Tuesday.

• A break-in reported to county deputies June 18 at the home of Kimberly Kay Wolgamott, 3611 Chadwick Road, resulted in the theft of $1,910 worth of jewelry items and a TV, reports said. The break-in was reported at 10:58 p.m.

• A wagon tanker loaded with anhydrous ammonia, white with a red frame trailer, was taken from Bob Nourse of 11553 Cutler Road, Eagle, reports said. The 13-foot trailer was reported missing at 11:25 a.m. June 15.

• Rose Ott of 4941 Chipewa Path, Owosso, reported the theft of $11 in change from the Dairy Delight at 9790 E. M-21, Ovid, June 18 at 10:35 a.m. Entry was gained by breaking a front counter window, reports said.

• Bath Township Police reported six cartons of cigarettes and 18 boxes of candy bars were taken in a break-in at the All World Ball Park sometime between June 12 and 13. Owner Jim Sober of 12305 Chandler reported the theft.

• A stereo tape player, speakers and cassettes were taken from an auto belonging to Tim Kummer of Crestwood, East Lansing, while the vehicle was parked at 16764 Newton Road, Bath Township Police reported. The theft was reported June 14.

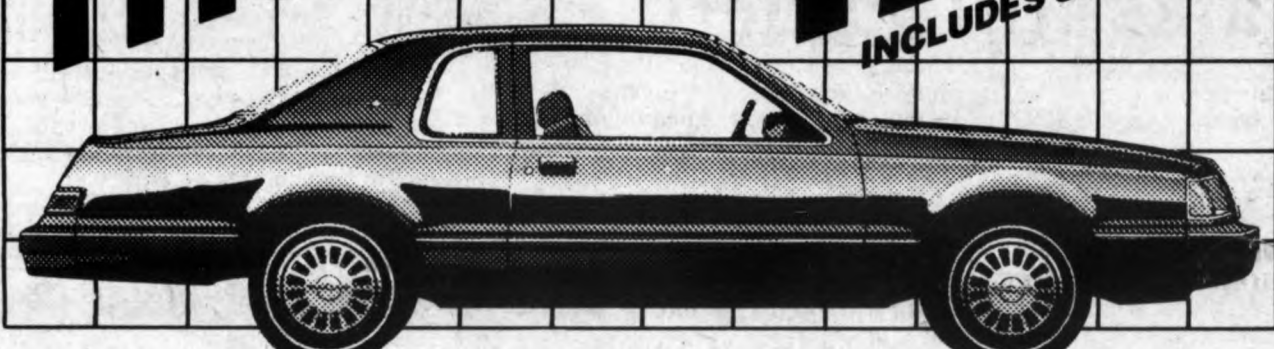

• Two break-ins were reported in St. Johns the evening of June 14 and morning of June 15, reports said, but nothing was found missing in either of the homes.

The first was reported at 10:36 p.m. June 14 by Robert Ruff of 5756 Townsend Road. Ruff returned from a softball game and discovered someone had broken into his residence through a bedroom window.

The second was reported by John Skapik of 1912 S. Watson, at 9:06 a.m. June 15. Skapik noticed his rental home had been entered through a bedroom window and the bedroom was ransacked.

'No thanks,' lawmakers say

By PETER W. BRONSON

Michigan legislators will NOT get a raise this year if Clinton County's lawmakers have anything to say about it.

"Let 'em leave," said 30th District State Senator Al Cropsey, R-DeWitt, referring to his colleagues who say their present salary of a minimum $31,000 is not enough. "You very seldom see an open seat which is not hotly contested. There will always be good people with a desire to serve who will find the salary is plenty."

Cropsey, long a staunch opponent of legislative pay raises, including the latest scheduled 7.2 percent hike, was joined in his criticism by 89th District Representative Gary Randall, R-Elwell.

"The legislators are worth what they're being paid. But considering the state of Michigan's economy, it is intolerable that legislators would consider accepting a pay raise," Randall said.

Unless blocked by a pay freeze bill, the raise becomes effective automatically, raising salaries by $2,200, to $33,200 annually. If that happens, both Cropsey and Randall pledge to give their raises back to the state or to a charity — and both are leaning toward the latter.

"In the past I have turned it back to the state, but I'm not sure what I'll do this time," Cropsey said. "The more I'm there (in the Senate) the more disgusted I get with the way money is allocated. I might just donate it to a private charity."

Randall echoed Cropsey's complaint about giving his raise back to the state, saying the money would "just end up being spent in southeastern Michigan anyway."

Both also blamed Negaunee Democrat Dominic Jacobetti for blocking the pay freeze proposal, which is stalled in Jacobetti's House Appropriations Committee.

"He thinks his pay ought to be doubled," Cropsey said of the Upper Peninsula Democrat. "I think that's balderdash, and I hope that catches up to him. I hope his constituents are paying attention to what he's proposing with their taxes."

Randall hopes the pay freeze proposal would be sent to the floor for a vote of the total House, in which case, he predicted, it would be passed. "It appears the chairman of the appropriations committee (Jacobetti) is not going to allow it out of his committee, though," he said. "I'm not on that committee, so there's not a whole lot I can do."

He said most legislators would not risk the political damage of a vote against the pay freeze if the measure were put to them. And along with Cropsey, he said public pressure on the issue has been intense. The raise would put the state's lawmakers among the highest — if not the highest — paid in the country, at a time when taxpayers are feeling the effects of a 38 percent tax hike, they pointed out.

"If we are supposed to be setting policy and setting an example, how can we accept a pay raise and then tell people, with any credibility, that these are difficult times and cuts need to be made?" Randall asked.

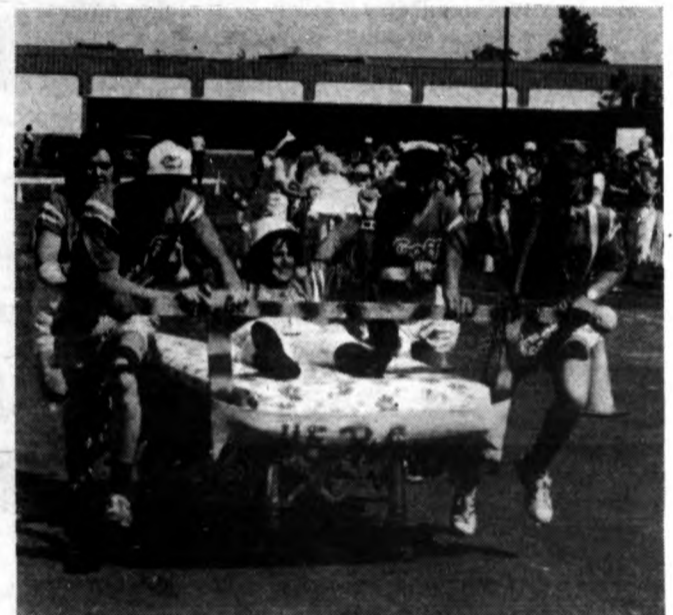

"The type of people you want in Lansing are worth $31,000 a year, but the issue is not whether the legislature is underpaid or overpaid, it's a matter of timing. We just can't afford that kind of damage to our credibility."

Cropsey feels likewise, and says the state just plain can't afford the cash to pay for hikes in the salaries of legislators, or the raises for other state officials which are included in the package. "If you include the raise for the governor, the lieutenant governor, the supreme court justices and legislators, it doesn't sound like that much. But if you figure the increases for local judges salaries, which are based on the supreme court justices pay, it adds up to more than $2.5 million," he said.

"When you see so many other areas of state government cutting back, when you see workers at the major auto companies taking cuts in pay, the point is we just can't afford it."

Teacher contract talks still stalled

By PETER W. BRONSON

St. Johns teachers will not return to work next fall unless a new contract is agreed upon, says Ted Slicer, president of the St. Johns Education Association.

Contract talks have been at a standstill, with both sides awaiting the outcome of the annual school election Monday. Superintendent Earl Gabriel says he'd like to resume negotiations soon, and Slicer agreed.

In a statement issued Monday, Slicer pointed out teachers have been negotiating for a new contract for about 18 months. Negotiations began in January, 1982.

In a vote taken last week, only five of the association's 159 teachers said they would return to work in the fall without a new contract.

"Nobody wants to strike, really," Slicer said. "We're meeting with Gabriel this week and we hope we can get back to work on negotiations."

At issue is teachers' salaries. St. Johns is one of the last county districts to settle with teachers, along with Ovid-Elsie. Settlements in other districts have ranged from a salary freeze to a nearly seven percent increase.

St. Johns teachers say they need more money, citing data prepared by their parent association, the Michigan Education Association (MEA). A recent MEA audit of district finances says money budgeted for salaries has declined by three percent from 1980-81, enabling the district to reserve more cash on hand (fund equity).

The audit also says St. Johns salaries slipped from 10th among 33 districts of in a four county area to 23rd. "If salaries are not increased this year, teacher salaries in St. Johns will decline significantly when compared to surrounding districts," the audit said.

The report recommends salary increases, and says the board's proposal of a wage freeze to save the district money is not justified.

Gabriel said he would prefer not to comment on the report because it concerns topics being discussed in bargaining. However, he promised a response on the audit will be presented to the school board by controller Rick Terres at the board's July meeting.

"If we have a contract by then, it may all be moot," Gabriel said.

Slicer, who also has refused to discuss specific negotiating demands, said his group will break silence on the contract talks in August if a contract has not been agreed upon.

Four to vie for two vacant seats

New faces compete in city races

By PETER W. BRONSON

St. Johns will get two new city commissioners Nov. 8, when two of four new candidates win seats vacated by two long-time members.

Johns Hannah, a city commissioner for 14 years, submitted his resignation for health reasons to Mayor John Arehart June 8. Hannah, retired, was injured in an auto accident last December. He will resign effective Nov. 1.

Hannah said his resignation was tendered with "extreme sorrow," and that "It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve on the commission and to have had a part in the city's steady growth and prosperity over the last 14 years."

Also not running for re-election is 10-year commissioner Don Roesner. "I guess it's time to let someone else have a try at it," he said last Friday. Roesner, a pharmacist at Clinton Memorial Hospital, cited personal reasons and the time-consuming nature of serving as a commissioner, as a member of the planning commission and on the city's parking and personnel committees.

Replacing Roesner and Hannah will be two of four candidates to be elected at large. The top two vote-earners in an election Nov. 8 will win seats on the five-member commission.

Those running for city commission are:

- Benson Munger, 41, of 300 S. Oakland, executive director of the American College of Emergency Physicians. Born in St. Johns, Munger moved to Los Angeles, Cal., and then to East Lansing before moving back to St. Johns 13 years ago. He and his wife, Betty, have two children, Heidi, a student at Western Michigan University, and Chad, a St. Johns High School senior.

- Raymond G. Parr, 59, of 207 W. Cass St., owner and operator of Parr's Pharmacy in St. Johns. A pharmacist, Parr is a lifetime resident of St. Johns and served on the St. Johns school board for 19 years, including several as president. Parr and his wife have three children, Marsha and Jim of St. Johns, and Barbara of St. Joe.

- J. Raymond Pineau, 49, of 401 E. Gibbs St., an adjuster for State Farm Insurance. A St. Johns resident for three years, Pineau is a member of the local VFW, the American Legion, the St. Johns Exchange Club and the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce.

- Jeanne Rand, 204 Oak St. Former director and founder of the Clinton Area Care Center fund drive, Mrs. Rand serves as vice-president of the Hazel I. Findlay Country Manor Board of Trustees. She is a former member of the board of directors and a former owner and operator of a local restaurant, Jeanne's Beans. Mrs. Rand was a city commission member for seven and a half years, including four years as vice-mayor. She served on the city library board and planning commission, and was executive secretary of the American Red Cross. She and her husband, Robert, have one son, Ward, of Haslett.

On reduced charges

Husted is sentenced

By PETER W. BRONSON

David Leonard Husted of St. Johns was sentenced to four years of probation, 90 days in jail and fined $500 by Circuit Judge Timothy Green Monday.

Husted, of 709 N. Mead, pleaded guilty to a charge of fourth degree criminal sexual conduct as part of a plea bargain struck April 7. He was also ordered to seek psychiatric help, and must not be in the company of unrelated minors without another adult present during his probation, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Richard Keonigsknecht said.

"The main concern of the victims was the psychiatric part," Keonigsknecht said.

Husted was arrested by St. Johns Police Sept. 3, 1982, and charged with first- and third-degree criminal sexual conduct for allegedly raping a 13-year-old girl in 1978 and 1981. He was also charged with one count of gross indecency for alleged incidents with a 17-year-old boy in 1980 and 1981.

Following a conference with investigators, the victims and attorneys representing Husted, however, Keonigsknecht agreed to allow Husted to plead guilty to the lesser charge in return for a promise to drop the more serious rape charges.

Lewis was critical of the agreement during circuit court hearings, but could not be reached for comment on the sentencing.

His secretary refused to relate information about the sentencing and hung up after saying "We make it a practice not to give it (information) out over the phone."

However, Keonigsknecht explained the jail term will be served in two segments: 30 days at the beginning of his probation and 60 days at the end. Husted will also be permitted to pay his fine in $25 per month installments.

Phil Camillo has authored a book on using computers, and he's ready to share his expertise at a new business he's opened in DeWitt. Camillo offers a basic computer camp for students age 8 and up, from his offices at Suite 1, Country Meadows Village Center. The camp will be open through Aug. 19. Lawsuit leaves status of manager confused

By PETER W. BRONSON

Confusion continued this week as to the status of St. Johns Michigan Federal Credit Union Manager Roy Ebert following a lawsuit charging him and his board of directors with sexual harassment.

A hearing on the suit to determine if a trial may be held in Clinton County was adjourned Monday when attorneys failed to serve necessary papers on time, a circuit court spokesperson said.

Edith Harsh, attorney for the five former credit union employees who have filed the charges, predicted a week ago that the change of venue hearing would be cancelled because the credit union had not obtained legal counsel.

Acting Credit Union Manager Mary Michaels referred comments on the lawsuit to credit union attorney Paul Maples, but Maples said he was not the spokesman, and that nothing had changed since he was last contacted and told the County News he would not represent Ebert or the credit union board.

"We've been notified by an insurance carrier of coverage for the board," Maples said Tuesday. He said the credit union board was expected to vote Tuesday or Wednesday night on obtaining legal counsel.

Ebert, reached at his home, refused to comment on his status. Ms. Michaels said Ebert had not been suspended "at this time."

The former Mayor of St. Johns from 1974 to 1977 has been accused of verbal and physical sexual harassment by four former female employees and one present female employee. They say Ebert was guilty of "repeated sexual demands, unconsented touching and propositions to engage in sex."

The five filing suit — all in their 20s, according to Ms. Harsh — are Christine Brawner, LuAnn Feldpausch, Sherri Jopke, Yvonne Makara and Tammie Witt. Their suit seeks an undetermined amount of money damages, not less than $40,000.

The credit union board also has been charged with negligence for failing to remove or warn Ebert once notified.

Female employees first complained of sexual harassment to state and federal agencies last Jan. 18, and Ebert and the board were notified Jan. 28.

Betty Geller

Betty Geller honored

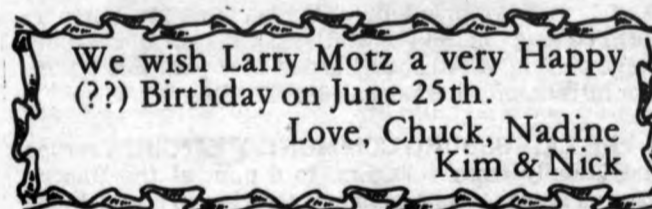

Betty Geller, R.N., director of nursing at Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns, received special recognition in the Nurse of the Year competition sponsored by the Detroit Free Press recently. Announcement of the award was made in the June 12 edition of the Free Press.

Mrs. Geller was nominated on behalf of Clinton Memorial, its staff, employees, volunteers and freinds in a letter to the Free Press explaining how she "exemplifies the finest qualities of professional nursing."

Mrs. Geller began nursing in 1942 at Clinton Memorial. She joined the County Health Department and returned to Clinton Memorial in 1962, becoming director of nursing in 1976. In addition to her duties at Clinton Memorial, she volunteers her time to the Red Cross Blood Bank and visits patients in their homes.

One member of the nursing staff said of Mrs. Geller: "She has an unselfish interest in others. Her deep faith in God, in man and in herself has made her the beautiful person that she is. When success came to her as director of nursing, she didn't change. She still comes to work in a uniform and is always on the floors, helping out and even working midnights. Above all else, her patients are her priority."

"It's not surprising she would be so honored," said Paul McNamara, chief executive officer at Clinton Memorial. "She has done a remarkable job at Clinton Memorial in blending together clinical nursing skills with the administrative responsibilities she has as director of nursing."

Academics at DeWitt convinced Hollands

By AL PALMERI

When Grand Ledge High School was reduced to a five-hour school day, Bill and Pauline Holland started looking for another school district. They wanted a seven-hour day for their sons, Steve and Jon, so they studied curricula from Waverly, East Lansing, Okemos and DeWitt. After many hours of information gathering and discussion, they settled on DeWitt.

The significance of that is lost if you didn't follow what went on at Eastern Michigan University's baseball stadium last weekend. That's when Steve, a pitcher-first baseman, and Jon, a third baseman, helped DeWitt win the state Class C baseball championship.

"I think curriculum-wise, DeWitt offered everything that we felt the kids needed," said Bill Holland, who retained his home in Delta Township and moved into a condominium in Country Meadows. "They did offer a good college prep course, and that's what we felt the kids needed."

"We stress academics first, and athletics is kind of a privilege," said Pauline Holland.

Rumors flew like jets when the boys transferred from Grand Ledge, a Class A school, to DeWitt. The parents say they shrug off speculation about how their sons were recruited by ignoring most of it.

"For us, personally, I think it was a very advantageous move," Mrs. Holland said. "The move was not done primarily for athletics. I think there are always those who are going to look at it with suspicion."

Her husband was more direct.

"I can unequivocally say we were not recruited," he said. "In fact, (coach) Frank (Deak) didn't even know it until after we enrolled the kids."

Deak, a guidance counselor at DeWitt, said he coached Steve two years ago in a Babe Ruth summer league all-star tournament. But he said he had no idea the Hollands were coming to DeWitt for school.

What was his reaction when he heard about the transfer? "Elation," Deak said.

Local students graduate as new health assistants

In addition to their high school diploma, some local students took something extra with them as they left high school this year: They're also graduates of a Health Assistants training program.

The 24 students who participated in the training program at Clinton Memorial Hospital and Hazel I. Findlay Manor have been enrolled in a year-long course to learn skills in health related careers and get a close-up look at health professions.

The course, offered by the Clinton Intermediate School District, prompted praise from some of the students.

"It helped me gain self-confidence," said Laurann Lynam of St. Johns. "It makes you realize how many different kinds of people there are in the world."

Miss Lynam's new skills will be applied this summer when she begins working in a patient's home in the St. Johns area, reports said.

"It helps you decide if you want to go into nursing or not and it gives you a lot of skills you can use, like CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation), first aid and even how to work with people," said DeWitt senior Shelly Roberts.

Most agreed the best part of the program was a chance to gain practical, first-hand experience in health-related work.

"We're ahead of the others," one student said. "We know the basics, the medical terminology and what to expect."

Students also complimented their instructor, registered nurse Linda Fowler, of whom one said:

"She's great. She's a friend and a teacher and she puts a lot of effort into the class."

Senior high school students who completed the Health Assistants program are: Ovid Elsie students Brenda Batora, Lisa Clark, Jamie Fatura, Lisa Huffman, Marigene Latz, Martha Loynes, Gayle McAlister, Jill McKay and Sarah Schoendorf; DeWitt student Shelly Roberts; Pewamo-Westphalia students Geri Hengesbach, Patti Smith and Sherry Smith; and St. Johns students Dawn Davis, Marilyn Henley, Tammy Laskosky, Laurann Lynam, Tami Simon, Tracee Wainwright, Toni Wohlfert and Patricia Wood.

Linda Brzak and Dot Witt also completed the program under Adult Completion.

In our Opinion

Cropsey, Randall right on pay hike

Who contributes more to society, a dedicated teacher who shapes and encourages the growth of young minds, or a guy who hits and catches baseballs for a living? Is the ability to dunk a basketball or cry on cue more valuable to our culture than the creative genius of a poet or the probing intellect of a medical researcher?

If you believe money talks, the answer is yes; if contributions are measured in financial rewards, it is clear that movie stars and ball players are the more valuable citizens. That's the problem with salary comparisons.

Most would agree that any reasonably proficient ditch digger — much less a dedicated teacher — contributes more to our society than any number of athletes, movie stars and "beautiful people" whose egos far outstrip the value of their achievements.

But when it comes to salaries, there is no comparison. That's the way things are, and those who are satisfied with their job and believe in what they're doing do not waste their time comparing paychecks with others.

Certain members of the state legislature, however, have been overly preoccupied with their salaries of late. They say they're entitled to a 7.2 percent raise. Negaunee Democrat Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, chief spokesman for "underpaid" lawmakers, says: "I'm worth as much as a Congressman because I do more for my people."

If that is the case, we suggest you run for Congress, Rep. Jacobetti. Better yet, run for the state line and keep going.

If scriptwriters for "That's Incredible" are looking for a truly mind-boggling topic, they need look no further than Jacobetti's demand that beleaguered Michigan taxpayers foot the bill for his raise along with a recent 38 percent income tax hike: a hike we were told was necessary to bring Michigan out of economic red ink.

Michigan can't afford to adequately staff its mental hospitals, can't afford to maintain or build new roads and highways, and can't afford to maintain funding for the education of its children. But suddenly, Michigan can afford to increase the salaries of the governor, the lieutenant governor, legislators, supreme court justices, ad nauseum.

Many legislators, including Clinton County's, say they will return their raises to the state or donate them to charity.

89th District Rep. Gary Randall, R-Elwell, and 30th District Sen. Al Cropsey, R-DeWitt, say they will do their best to impose a pay freeze for legislators if given a chance.

Although Jacobetti and other Democrats cry "partisan politics," it's clear their attempt to skate their own raises past unsuspecting voters has left them on thin ice.

We think Cropsey, who has long been an opponent of such automatic pay hikes, deserves credit. His effort to untrack the pay hike express deserves recognition. Randall, too, deserves a pat on the back for putting legislative credibility ahead of personal gain.

As for those who insist on comparing pay stubs: If most were paid what they're truly worth, they might find themselves forced to work for a living or face poverty.

The secret of DeWitt winning the Class C baseball championship could be found at Lansing Sexton High School Monday night.

That's where coach Frank Deak and his Panther starters launched their summer baseball schedule on a team co-sponsored by Melville Emblem of Lansing and the DeWitt American Legion.

Wait a minute. Didn't these guys just win the state championship on Saturday? Don't they deserve a rest?

Well, maybe. But playing summer baseball was a big reason for the team's success. DeWitt's march through the state high school tournament put the summer team two weeks behind schedule, so Monday was a time to catch up.

Frank Gifford once said of Vince Lombardi that he lived for football 16 hours a day and slept only because he had to. Deak's dedication to baseball may not be quite as intense, but his love for the sport has paid big dividends for DeWitt, just as Lombardi's love of football paid off for Green Bay.

Deak is a hard-working coach who never stops looking for an edge. Largely because of his influence, DeWitt has a distinctive style. Its baserunners are aggressive, its pitchers throw strikes and its defense doesn't self-destruct. As top-ranked Montague discovered during the state tournament, Deak-coached teams are not in awe of others.

She couldn't believe it

To the editor:

After reading your editorial about Jimmy Farley, I could not believe how you proceeded to be judge and jury against someone you've never known. I knew Jimmy all of his 19 years, as he was my neighbor and my good friend.

Jimmy and I had many talks, especially about sports. Football and basketball were his favorite subjects to talk about. Athletics meant too much to Jimmy to be thrown away on alcohol. I feel you have done a great injustice to Jimmy, his family and anyone who knew him.

Jimmy was a type of young man every parent would be proud to have as a son.

Sincerely,

Editorial was excellent

To the editor:

I want to commend your publication for its excellent editorial of June 16 on the issue of driving and drinking.

A surprising number of people, even parents, berate peace officers and judges for "hassling" young people who are involved in alcohol related traffic motor-vehicle violations. Those who read and reflect on your editorial may come to understand why those of us on the law enforcement system want to defuse "the deadly mix of alcohol, cars and teens."

Very truly yours,

Cropsey vote gets praise

To the editor:

I just want to say "thanks" to Senator Al Cropsey for his vote against the Equal Rights Amendment. It's too bad we don't have more senators and representatives with his courage.

The people of this country have said NO to the ERA.

DeWitt shows that the state championship did not come by chance. His teams have won 131 of 171 games — a winning percentage of .766. By comparison, check out the major league baseball standings for current winning percentages. No team is above .700.

The importance of summer baseball — all of those tiring, thankless and anonymous hours in the sun — cannot be dismissed. In fact, Deak considers it essential. After last year's high school season, all of the varsity players and all except two from the junior varsity played summer ball. They played and played and played. Then they played some more.

Two players — catcher Tom Deak and centerfielder Scott Maiers — played 82 games of summer ball in 1982. The recently completed high school season had 35 games.

"You can't minimize it at all," said coach Deak, reflecting on the importance of summer baseball after winning the state championship. "The fear of the unknown (at the state tournament) is a lot less. There are some kids who have played basically in their backyard and haven't had an opportunity to play against a team from outstate. These kids did."

Even with an extension of three years, the amendment was not ratified.

Women already have all the equal rights under the law that they need to pursue professional career opportunities and salaries. In fact, sometimes they have more rights now than the average white male when it comes to job opportunities!

Men and women should do all they can to share in the development of this country and its future, but we don't need ERA to help us.

A look at a few statistics concerning divorce, increase in youth suicide, emotional disturbances, etc., might lead one to ask what the world would be like of more women would choose to stay home and care for their children.

Instead of making motherhood out to be drudgery, the media ought to help women discover the joys of a career as a mother and wife.

Her position is clarified

To the editor:

In response to the article in last week's County News, I would like to clarify my position regarding school closings.

I, along with many members of the Central Parent Teacher Organization, would like to see a decision made by the school board in time for the coming school year. I did not make any suggestions as to which school(s) should be closed. Over the years, there have been various plans presented to the board. They have had lots of input from administrators, teachers and parents. No matter what recommendations a citizens committee makes, the ultimate decision still remains with the school board.

The longer a decision is put off, the longer the district will remain in turmoil. If the decision is delayed until December, then the parents, students and teachers of five different elementary buildings are going to live through months of wondering if they will still have their building next year.

In addition to this, it also makes sense financially for the school board to make a swift decision. If the district has a chance to save up to $150,000 by closing one or more schools this coming year, then it should be done now. To leave 10 classrooms empty is a luxury our district can ill afford. That is why I said I thought most taxpayers would like to see the decision made soon.

Sincerely,
Jenny McCampbell
St. Johns

DeWitt bags state crown

By AL PALMERI

The sight was almost too much for Tim Deak to behold as he stood behind the screen at Eastern Michigan University's baseball stadium.

His old team, the DeWitt Panthers, was pounding on Union City and preparing to enter the state Class C championship game for the first time. They would win that game, 8-2, and win the final game against Lake Fenton, 5-1.

Deak, an all-state shortstop at DeWitt presently on a full-ride baseball scholarship at Eastern Michigan, pondered a question. What made this particular pack of Panthers so special?

He talked about a higher team batting average and improved pitching, but settled on one aspect that set this team apart.

"They play relaxed," he said. "Everybody's loose. Last year, we were all tense."

Senior Eric Wieferich, who anchored the defense by playing flawlessly at shortstop, agreed.

"We have so much fun together," he said. "We knew we could do it. It's just a matter of executing."

For coach Frank Deak, roots of the state championship can be traced to Little League, where many of the players joined forces on their first team.

"They've been together for the better part of 5-6 years," Deak said. "There's been a lot of time involved."

The development of Steve Holland as DeWitt's No. 2 pitcher and the defensive excellence of veterans like centerfielder Scott Maiera, first baseman Dave Pettit, catcher Deak and rightfielder Ken Rajala contributed greatly to the state championship.

"You take away any element and we wouldn't have won it," said coach Deak. "We didn't have any injuries all year and I think that's significant. We had the one injury to (second baseman) Sam Dalman and we held our own for that time."

Dalman had his right hand broken by a pitch early in the season but recovered in time for the state tournament. "I switched to a lighter bat," he said.

Steve Sontich and Steve Holland pitched DeWitt 28-7, past Union City, 24-5, and Lake Fenton, 30-10.

Sontich stopped Union City on six hits. He struck out nine and walked only one. His counterpart, Brian Vaccaro, walked eight in four and two-thirds innings.

Three of those walk batters came around to score.

"He was fast," said coach Deak of Vaccaro. "He got the ball over, but then he started losing it a little bit."

Holland checked Lake Fenton on five hits. He struck out seven to hike his season total to 112 in 67 innings, and walked three.

The junior lefthander also provided the game-winning hit when he lined a bases-loaded double to centerfield in the fifth inning.

For the season, Sontich and Tom Deak were named co-Most Valuable Players. Sontich had a 10-1 record as a pitcher and batted over .400. Deak also batted over .400 and set school records for RBI's (41), runs (43), stolen bases (33 in 34 attempts) and hits (42).

No. 9 batter stings tournament foes

By AL PALMERI

Jon Holland batted over .400 this season from the No. 5 position in the DeWitt baseball team batting order.

So what was his reward for the state Class C tournament? He was demoted to the spot traditionally reserved for the team's weakest hitter.

Hoping to gain an edge for the tournament, DeWitt assistant coach Ron Maiera suggested that the sophomore third baseman bat ninth.

"When you get away from home, nobody knows him," Maiera reasoned. "Traditionally, at the end of the batting order, you see less curve balls. That was part of it. Also, a lot of times we had runners in scoring position and we needed someone to make good contact. It seemed like a logical thing to do."

"He (Maiera) asked me what I thought about it, and I didn't like it," said head coach Frank Deak. "I thought we were going pretty good. But we talked about it, and it seemed logical."

Logical indeed. All Holland did during the final four games of the state tournament was collect five hits and drive in six runs.

"The tendency is to look at him as a ninth batter, even though he doesn't look like one," Deak explained. "He saw a lot more fastballs than he would have as a No. 5 batter."

In the semifinal win over Union City,

Holland punched an inside fastball to rightfield, scoring Scott Maiera and Eric Wieferich with what proved to be the game-winning runs.

"It doesn't bother me at all," he said after the game, addressing the issue of batting ninth. "I'm really comfortable with it."

In the championship game against Lake Fenton, Holland led off the DeWitt fifth inning with the game still scoreless.

He hit a hard grounder which was bobbed by the Lake Fenton shortstop. Four batters later, Steve Holland delivered the game-winning runs with a three run double.

But Jon had one final chance for a RBI in the sixth, when Wieferich walked and stole second base. He came through resoundingly with a triple and was greeted with cheers as he left the game for pinch-runner Scott Jubeck.

Area coaches laud DeWitt

Baseball coaches from the other five Clinton County schools were asked for their reaction to DeWitt winning the state Class C baseball championship. Here are their comments:

Jim Cotter, Pewamo-Westphalia: "I think it's a real credit to their program. I'm real happy for them. There's a lot of factors in a championship team. I think they went out expecting to win. A lot of people went out on the field hoping to win. DeWitt went out on the field expecting to win. That's the mark of a championship club."

Neal Hoffman, Fowler: "It's a nice combination. They've got good athletes, well-coached and fundamentally sound. Frank's always got a fundamentally sound team. He always fields a sound ballclub, but when you have the athletes to go with it, it's tough to beat. They never beat themselves."

Jack Nutter, Ovid-Elsie: "I was out East on a trip and I just got back, but it didn't surprise me that much. I know they had a good team. They had real good pitching."

John Wilcox, St. Johns: "I thought they had an excellent ballclub all year. They had a good returning crew. When (Steve) Sontich wasn't pitching, they had hitting enough to make up for it. They're a very, very disciplined team. They deserved every bit of it."

Javier Cavazos, Bath: "It will do a lot of good for our area. They'll see what a lot of work, particularly in the summer leagues, can do for you. I'm happy for Frank, because he's been involved in my summer program for a long time. They peaked at the right time — basically that was it."

Seven wins mark Panthers' march

The scores in DeWitt's march to the state Class C state championship:

DeWitt 8, Olivet 5
DeWitt 4, Lansing Catholic Central 2
DeWitt 5, Maple Valley 0
DeWitt 4, Montague 1
DeWitt 15, Morley-Stanwood 10
DeWitt 8, Union City 2
DeWitt 5, Lake Fenton 1

After the championship game, DeWitt players were asked, "What has made this year's team so successful?" Here are the responses:

Ken Rajala, senior rightfielder: "We've had a good senior class. We were very good athletically."

Eric Wieferich, senior shortstop: "We have so much fun together. We knew we could do it. It's just a matter of executing."

Steve Sontich, senior pitcher: "We had two good pitchers this year, and a lot better hitters."

Sam Dalman, senior second baseman: "They worked a lot harder during the winter. We're a lot closer this year. It's like a family."

Steve Holland, junior pitcher: "For the most part, everybody pulled together. We do a lot of things together. We play cards together."

Pearsall shines at WMU

By AL PALMERI

Sue Pearsall's stomach kept turning every which way but loose as she thought about the All-Star basketball game she was about to play in at Western Michigan University. She needn't have worried. The St. Johns graduate poured in 16 points during the game, which was sponsored by the Michigan High School Basketball Coaches Association and brought together some of the finest talent in the state.

"The whole week I was really nervous," said Pearsall, headed for Michigan State on a full-ride basketball scholarship. "I kept saying, 'I hope to play well enough not to embarrass myself.' I wasn't too confident in myself, but I just played and it just came."

"I never would have thought I would have scored that many points."

Pearsall played only 19 minutes, but she made the most of her opportunities to score. Only Kim Archer, a fellow Michigan State recruit, scored more. Archer finished with 21 points.

"Most of my points were off fast breaks, and most of hers were off rebounding," Pearsall said. "She's a real strong player."

In another type of all-star competition, some of Clinton County's best baseball players gathered at Michigan State's Kobs Field for the 10th-annual Central Michigan Old-Timers Baseball Association All-Star double-header.

Two county pitchers — Ovid-Elsie's Dan Bukovcik and Pewamo-Westphalia's Dan Pohl — helped lead the West Division team to a 13-3 victory over the East Division.

Bukovcik pitched three innings without allowing a run, and Pohl yielded only one unearned run for his three innings. Pohl struck out six, including five in a row.

"He had the best curve ball I've seen all year," said P-W coach Jim Cotter, who ran the West team with Fowler's Neal Hoffman.

P-W outfielder George Heckman walked four times in the game and scored three runs. P-W catcher Ted Droste drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single and also scored a run.

For Ovid-Elsie, second baseman Pete Hurst had one single and one RBI.

"It's a real nice experience," said Hoffman. "Just let the kids hit and see what happens. The other squad was bunting in the first inning, but we just told our kids, 'You're here to hit. This is an all-star game.'"

Other county all-stars competing that day were Ed Beachnau and Tyler Vail of Bath and Eric Slamka and Eric Smith of St. Johns.

VILLAGE OF FOWLER

Summary of Fowler Village Council meeting minutes:

A regular meeting of the Fowler Village Council was called to order by President Philip Simon on Monday, June 13, 1983, at 7:00 P.M. at the Village office. Trustees present were Goerge, Antonides, C. Thelen, Koenigsnecht and Pline. A. Thelen was absent.

Minutes of the May 9th, May 16th and June 1st meetings were approved as read. Payment of current bills was approved.

Clinton County Sheriff's Department reports for April and May were reviewed.

Approval was given for McPherson, Inc. to recycle, prime and double seal coat three blocks of Pine St. and three blocks of Sorrell St. Approximately twelve additional blocks of Village streets will receive a double seal coat, as will the alleys in the business district.

The Council approved an additional five year lease with Grand Trunk Railroad for the commuter parking area on West First St., as well as a lease agreement with Clinton County for the purpose of locating a satellite receiver station on the Village water tower.

The Village will purchase playground equipment costing $800 to $1000 for installation on Village property near the ice skating rink at the corner of East Third and Victor Streets. A portion of the cost will be covered by the proceeds of a raffle held last summer during the Village's birthday celebration, as well as a donation from the local Lions Club.

At its recent special meetings, the Council agreed that the Village will pay 40% of the individual Village property owners' assessments for the improvements being made on the Waltz/Sturgis and Fowler Extension No. 2 drains. When added to the Village at-large assessment, this will result in the Village paying a total of approximately $94,000 for the improvement project. This action, plus an approximate 14% reduction in the estimated assessments due to lower than anticipated bids, will result in a savings of approximately 54% from the preliminary assessment for each property owner in the Village.

The Council has approved the transfer of a Class C license from David Edmonds to Joseph Fuller and Sheila Schanski, and a plot plan submitted by G. J. Martin and Associates for construction of a new retail store building on East M-21.

The next regular meeting of the Fowler Village Council will be held on Monday, July 11, 1983, at 7:00 P.M. at the Village office.

Bath Cardinals nip Mariners

The Bath Cardinals matched their entire win output for 1982 by beating the Tri-Cities Mariners, 15-6, in a Michigan Charity Football League (MCFL) opener in Bath last Saturday.

But the Cardinals are thinking beyond that one victory. In fact, they're already thinking about winning all of their games — including the one in August for the league championship.

"They think they're going to win 12 in a row, and right at this point they're not going to settle for anything less," said head coach Phil Bailey. "These kids believe they can do it, and we've been coaching them like they can do it."

"Who knows? I know this — they're determined. I've coached a lot of football, but I've never seen a group of guys that are more dedicated."

The Cardinals had to fight from behind against Tri-Cities, a first-year entry in the MCFL. They trailed, 6-2, in the fourth quarter.

Abandoning a passing game which Bailey described as "terrible," the Cardinals pounded out a 75-yard drive for the winning touchdown. Quarterback Chuck Beckman sneaked one yard for the score.

Tri-Cities tried to come back in the closing minutes, but Cardinal nose guard Al Jordan intercepted a pass and ran 17 yards for the clinching touchdown.

"In the fourth quarter, when the chips were really down, these kids really sucked it up," Bailey said. "We're in good shape. Tri-Cities had guys strewn all over the field."

Bath had taken a 2-0 lead when a snap flew over Tri-Cities punter's head and out of the end zone. But the Mariners regained the lead on a 10-yard tight end reverse in the third quarter.

Bailey credited the offensive line — tackles Lester Kennedy and Dave Gensterblum, guards Don Demmick and Bill Dennany and center Dave Rapelje — for Bath's 287 yards rushing on 45 carries.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

Please take notice that on June 27, 1983 at 8:00 p.m. at the Pewamo-Westphalia High School Library, the Board of Education will hold a public hearing on the district's proposed 1983-84 budget and on the levying in 1983 of an additional proposed millage rate of 1.2591 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Education may not adopt its proposed 1983-84 budget until after the public hearing. A copy of the proposed 1983-84 budget summary is available for public inspection during normal business hours at the office of Superintendent of Schools.

The Board of Education has the complete authority to establish that 30.0 mills be levied in 1983.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1983 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982 by four and eight - tenths percent (4.8%).

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the district's proposed 1983-84 budget and the levy of an additional millage rate.

Following the public hearing, the Board of Education may adopt its 1983-84 budget; not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Education may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

St. Johns driver wins two more

St. Johns' Kris Patterson won two more feature races last weekend, bumping his season total to 10 victories in Late Model stock car competition.

He won the 25-lap feature at Ionia County Speedway Friday and the 25-lap feature at Hartford Motor Speedway in Kalamazoo Saturday. He finished second to Laingsburg's Gary Fedewa on Sunday at Owosso Speedway.

Ovid's Al Taft had the fast qualifying time of 20.71 seconds at Owosso Speedway Sunday. Another Ovid racer, Dave Mulder, won the first heat race.

Last week, Patterson broke the track record at Owosso Speedway by speeding around the 1/2-mile, dirt oval in 19.3 seconds.

Other local racers fared well Sunday at Owosso Speedway's 1/4-mile asphalt track. Elsie's John Forsythe won the 25-lap feature for Sports stocks, with Ovid's Ed Conklin finishing third. Forsythe also won the second heat race, and Conklin took the Sports stock dash.

Sinadinos pins; Michigan wins

Michigan's high school wrestling elite beat the touring Wisconsin Junior Olympic Elite Team, 8-7, in a match at DeWitt last Thursday.

"They don't expect to lose any more duals," said Randy Smith, match organizer and Michigan team coach. "He (Wisconsin coach Wayne Stapleford) said this team was very, very competitive."

Jim Sinadinos, the only DeWitt wrestler who competed, pinned Kurt Weyers, a Wisconsin state freestyle champion, in 3:35. "He dominated the kid," Smith said.

DeWitt's Craig Hummel, scheduled to wrestle at 178 pounds, withdrew after injuring a knee in a motorcycle accident.

St. Johns track picks co-MVP's

Melinda Roberts and Caren Rojas were picked as co-Most Valuable Players at the St. Johns girls track banquet.

10 Tips for a Successful Garage Sale:

1. Advertise your garage sale in the Green Sheet Classified. Call by Monday noon.
2. Be sure to have plenty of small change on hand for customers paying with large bills.
3. Be sure all merchandise is clean and neat. An old dusty item will not sell as well as it would if you have cleaned it.
4. Have an extension cord available so appliances can be tested. Play radios, old TV sets. Appliances sell faster when working.
5. Don't forget the children. They love small inexpensive items.
6. Presentation is very important in any sale. Display your merchandise in an interesting manner.
7. Offer free coffee, iced tea or other beverage. Your hospitality may make them more inclined to buy.
8. Sort clothing and mark with size tickets.
9. Have paper bags, boxes, and newspapers handy for packing items when they are sold.
10. Get 2 Free garage sale signs when you place your ad in the Green Sheet Classified.

Albosta survey answers released

Almost two-thirds of those surveyed in Congressman Don Albosta's 10th District, which includes Clinton County, believe the third year of President Reagan's tax cut should be postponed for those who earn more than $50,000.

Opinions on the President's tax policy and on other topics of national interest were compiled by Albosta, D-St. Charles, in his 1983 Questionnaire. Albosta shared the results with his House colleagues during a speech.

According to the questionnaire, 63 percent of respondents said they think the tax cut should be deferred for those in the $50,000 and up income bracket, at least until the federal budget can be balanced.

Asked which is more important, controlling inflation, reducing unemployment or reducing interest rates, most (48 percent) answered unemployment, with survey answers divided almost evenly between inflation (25 percent) and interest rates (27 percent).

Those surveyed were also asked to pick areas where the federal budget could be cut. Heading the list was expenditures for foreign aid (93 percent "yes"), followed, in order, by aid to cities, nuclear weapons, transportation funds, housing subsidies, food stamps, the third year income tax cut, economic development assistance, aid to education, job training funds, farm programs and social security.

Nine out of 10 said Congress should restrict imports from countries where the sale of American goods is blocked; 85 percent agreed that educational benefits should be denied to those who do not register for the draft; 64 percent urged refusal of funding for the MX missile system; 77 percent favored repeal of a tax law requiring banks to withhold 10 percent of interest on dividends; and 80 percent supported a partial moratorium on farm foreclosures.

Almost all who replied to the survey (98 percent) said the able-bodied should be made to work for welfare payments, housing subsidies and food stamps.

"I want to thank the thousands of mid-Michigan residents who took the time to share their views with me on these important questions," Albosta said. "Their response will help me better represent my district as these issues are considered in the House of Representatives during the next several months."

Drying time cut

A new spray solution being developed by a Michigan State University researcher could cut the drying time for alfalfa by as much as 50 percent, according to Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service reports.

With over 32,000 acres of alfalfa grown in Clinton County, the development could be a significant time saver for local farmers, said Roberta Weber, extension agricultural agent.

The spray solution, being developed by Dr. Bill Thomas of MSU's Animal Science Department, helps change the coating on alfalfa stems so they dry more quickly. Some tests have improved drying time by 50 percent.

"A big problem for farmers is waiting for the hay to dry before baling and often racing rainy weather," Ms. Weber said in a recent release.

The most effective method of application and spray technique is the subject of present research. Farmers and others who wish to know more about the spray can call 224-3288.
