Central National names new directors to board

LEON W. SCHUMACHER

DR. C. W. LUMBERT

Five new directors were named to the board of the Central National Bank of St. Johns at the annual stockholders' meeting last week.

The stockholders also authorized a 10-to-1 stock split, changing the par value of the stock from $100 to $10 per share.

Elected as new directors were: Stanley P. Ash, Greenville industrialist; Timothy M. Green, St. Johns attorney and probate judge; Dr. Clifford W. Lumbert, local dentist; Paul W. Nobis and Leon W. Schumaker, St. Johns area farm operators.

RE-ELECTED as directors were: William J. Buescher, Greenville; Kermit M. Hart, St. Johns; and Robert L. Leonard, Ovid.

Named to the advisory board at the Ovid office of the Central National were: Harold S. Beardslee, Robert L. Gumaer, Robert D. Martin, Paul F. Meder and George S. Robson.

W. J. Buescher of Greenville was re-elected as president and chairman of the board. Robert L. Leonard, Ovid, continues as executive vice president and was also elected as cashier. David Purtil and Robert Thompson, former assistant vice presidents, were promoted to vice presidents. Clarice Semans was re-elected as assistant cashier.

PAUL F. MEDER retired from his position as vice president and cashier, but he will continue to be associated with the bank on a temporary basis.

The stockholders also authorized the payment of 4 per cent interest on passbook savings with interest to be compounded quarterly—the highest rate permitted by law.

Name C. D. Pardee to board of review

Douglas Pardee, local architect who lives at 303 S. Baker Street, was appointed to the St. Johns Board of Equalization and Review at the city commission meeting last Tuesday.

Hope for May vote on annex

Elections in 30 rural school districts on annexation to St. Johns will have to be done before May 12 to comply with state law.

If the elections are not held before that time, the St. Johns school board will need to start the procedure of resolutions for approval of the election all over again. That was what St. Johns School Supt. Earl Lancaster told rural school board members in a letter recently.

THE ST. JOHNS board has resolved not to accept any high school students after July 1 from districts not annexing.

In his letter, Lancaster outlined the procedures which the rural districts must take in voting. He suggested that an attorney be engaged to handle the legal matters. These are the steps he outlined:

* A NOTICE of registration must be posted in five conspicuous places in each district for 10 days. The actual registration will be done by the township clerks.

* The elections cannot be held until 30 days after registration closes. Notice of the election must be posted in five places for at least six days before the election (thus it will be at least 40 days after approval of the Department of Public Instruction is received before voting can be done).

THE ANNEXATION question will have to be submitted on two separate ballots— 1) on the matter of annexation; and 2) the authorization for the 4.5 mills voted for operational levy.

Sealed Power declares dividend

Paul C. Johnson, president of Sealed Power Corp., has announced that the company's board of directors, during a meeting Jan. 19, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share on its common stock.

Plan $2.6 million Ovid-Elsie bond vote at March 2 election

A $2.6 million school bond issue is up for a vote of the people in the new Ovid-Elsie school district March 2—the biggest decision voters there have had to make since approving the merger of the two districts last summer.

An option on 60 acres of land halfway between Ovid and Elsie has been obtained, and purchase is awaiting the results of the election. An architectural drawing of the proposed school has been posted in Ovid and Elsie for inspection by the voters.

THE MAIN BOND issue for $2,600,000 is only one of four issues to be voted on at the election. Another is whether the school should include a swimming pool and athletic field at this time. That would run an additional $200,000, according to school officials.

Also to be voted on will be proposals for the mutual assumption of present debts of the two schools, and the raising of the constitutional tax limitation by 2.5 mills for two years to pay off the existing bonded indebtedness of the two schools.

FEB 1 IS THE last day to register with township clerks for eligibility to vote in the election.

The site picked for the school is 60 acres on the Martin Galecka farm at the northwest corner of Colony and Hollister (Elsie-Ovid) roads in Duplain Township. The site is halfway between Ovid and Elsie and is bounded on the east and south by blacktopped highways.

Soil Conservation Service soil tests show the site is well suited for construction, the school board reports.

THE NEW HIGH school, as proposed, is meant to fulfill the need for additional space because of expanding enrollments of the two schools and to allow for improvements and additions to the curriculum offered to the students of the area.

The proposed building will contain 35 teaching stations. In addition to the basic English, social studies, mathematics, science and business education areas, there are a number of other features planned.

THE NEW HIGH school will operate on a "closed-campus" basis; that is, the students will remain at the school for the entire day and thus will need to get their noon meal there. Adequate facilities have been provided for the preparation and serving of meals.

One special feature of the proposed cafeteria area is that it doubles in purpose as part of the seating space for the auditorium. When in use as a cafeteria, a folding partition separates it from the auditorium.

ON ONE SIDE of the cafeteria, improved library facilities would be provided. On the other side, the auditorium, contains about 400 permanent seats. The stage (See OVID-ELSIE Page 2-A)

New highway may go west of St. Johns

A new limited access north-south highway west of St. Johns is being given serious consideration by the planning division of the Michigan State Highway Department, said Julius J. Becker, the department's assistant chief engineer, in a talk to the St. Johns Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

Becker said three possible corridors for a new north-south artery are being studied within the seven-mile spread which starts about a mile east of St. Johns and runs six miles west.

The easternmost route would run north from the new Pine Tree interceptor. The western route would connect with I-96 to the south.

IF AND when the present M-21 east-west route through this area is re-located it is likely to go north of the city, Becker said. He pointed out that a northern route would escape intersection with the Grand Trunk railroad line.

In his talk Tuesday the highway engineer discussed past, present and future Michigan road problems in considerable detail. He emphasized the need for planning and local cooperation in new highway construction.

Becker is a resident of St. Johns and a longtime career man in the state department. He was introduced by Alan R. Dean, program chairman for the meeting.

Area cleaning up after storm

Icy roads that are as shiny and slicker yet than glass are still prevalent around Clinton County today, a reminder of last weekend's snow and ice storm.

The sky dumped an estimated 10 inches of snow on St. Johns and the immediate area Friday night and early Saturday. Clinton County south of St. Johns appeared to have gotten less snow, but what wasn't snow was sleet and ice.

A FRESH breeze during most of the storm time swirled the snow into drifts that blocked driveways and doorways and kept street and highway workers on the job throughout the weekend.

IT WAS the worst winter storm in about two years, and city and county road crews jumped right into the mess to keep the main thoroughfares open during the storm. Not until it was over were they able to tackle the real clean-up.

Since the storm came over the weekend, most roads were opened up in time for school classes Monday. But the office of the county superintendent of schools reported that classes were cancelled in Eureka, Ovid and Elsie and Bath. There was no report as to whether other rural schools were closed down.

SCHOOL WAS held in St. Johns. Several buses were late because of icy roads, and one slid into a ditch.

The hazardous driving conditions that resulted from the snow and ice slowed traffic to a crawl, but eight accidents were reported over the weekend in the city, and there were nine others around the county.

None of the accidents produced serious injuries, although cuts and bruises resulted from several of them.

CITY AND county street and road workers were expected to be cleaning up from the effects of the storm for several days yet. In St. Johns the snow came down so heavy that street crews had all they could do just keeping open the trunklines and Oakland Street to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Side streets filled with snow quickly Friday night. One person said her family was unable to get their car out of the garage and up the street until the middle of the afternoon Saturday.

MOST OF THE drifting came up close to houses, rather than in the streets. One driveway was plugged with a four-foot drift from the garage to the street—about 35 feet.

St. Johns crewmen worked extra time Saturday and Sunday scraping up and hauling away the snow from the downtown area and plowing out residential streets.

"WE'RE COMING along real well now," said Rollie Ordiway, superintendent of the Department of Public Works, Monday, "but we have a lot of work ahead of us yet."

Out in the country, where few city folks ventured, conditions were about the same. Don Ewing, county road commission clerk, reported that there were no roads blocked by snow, but most of them were extremely slippery.

THE ROAD commission had 42 men working Saturday and 33 on Sunday as they fought to clear and de-ice the county highway network. The salt bins were emptied over the weekend as

200 tons of it was taken out and spread over the roads. Ewing said a new supply of salt was due Monday.

Some county trucks were on the roads around the clock from Friday afternoon, when the first sleet came down, through the end of the weekend. US-27 and M-21 were kept clear of snow and ice from Saturday on, but side roads were extremely hazardous to travel on. Ice on blacktop roads was beginning to break up some Monday, Ewing said.

THERE WAS more ice and less snow in the southern part of the county than in St. Johns, Ewing said.

The storm began Friday with sleet about 3:30 p.m. and then turned into blowing snow in the early evening. With temperatures ranging right around the freezing mark, the snow frequently turned to ice. Saturday was relatively mild, melting much of the ice. Saturday night, however, produced a heavy icy rain.

Surprisingly, the utility companies received no calls about trouble resulting from the storm.

THERE WERE at least 14 accidents reported to authorities over the weekend. Several produced injuries.

John J. O'Leary, 58, of 902 Scott Road, St. Johns, suffered cuts when he pulled out of his driveway and collided with a car driven by Arthur V. Steavens, 58, of R-1, Elsie, going south on Scott Road. Kathryn Steavens, 47, and Luella Zimmerman, 76, both of Elsie, suffered bruises. The accident happened at 11:30 a.m. near the Wheel Inn.

Mrs. Eva Merignac, 58, of R-5, St. Johns, complained of pains after the car driven by her husband, Alfred J. Merignac, 60, was struck in the right side Friday afternoon. Driver of the other car was Robert D. Plowman, 26, of 505 Giles Street, St. Johns, who, according to the police report, had the right-of-way.

JOHN HARRINGTON Jr., 41, of Lansing, suffered bruises when his car went out of control on icy Island Road, skidded off the road and hit a tree just west of Maple River Road in Duplain Township earlier Friday afternoon. He was treated by an Elsie physician.

Carolyn J. Tody, 19, of R-5, St. Johns, complained of pains after her car hit a tree at the end of a spin from an icy spot on St. Clair Road south of Pratt Road in Victor Township Friday morning. Roger Matthies, 18, of 300 W. First Street, Ovid, a passenger, was unhurt.

Mrs. Pauline E. Torpey of 409 E. Buchanan, St. Johns, was slowing down to pull off US-27 to clean her windshield Friday afternoon when her car was struck in the rear by one driven by Alva J. McAninch, 51, of R-1, Lusk Road, Elsie. McAninch said he did not see Mrs. Torpey's brake lights in time to stop. He complained of some pains as the result of the crash.

Set bid opening on water plant

Sealed bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Feb. 16 for three phases of construction on the new St. Johns water treatment plant.

One phase is for the construction of the building itself; another contracting job will be building of water mains and sludge force mains; and the third will be for the building of a 400,000 gallon ground-level steel water storage tank.

ALL THREE jobs will be done at or near the site of the new treatment plant in the block bounded by Lansing, Lewis, Ottawa and Gibbs streets on the north side of town.

The plant will cost an estimated $495,000 and will be the final project on an $850,000 water improvement program which voters approved last January.

March of Dimes Sweetens Coffee

Friday was March of Dimes Coffee Day in St. Johns, and coffee drinkers at the restaurants and coffee shops of the city donated a total of $66.74 to the fight against birth defects. Coffee was running a little higher per cup than usual at Walker's, where these coffee breakers contributed a dollar each. Mrs. Donald Powers, coffee day chairman, receives the money from (clockwise around the table) Norman Cain, Joe VanRooyan, Steve Hopko, Kenneth Munger, Jerry Knupp and Bill Barber.

and its facilities are designed for maximum use for dramatics, classes, community presentations, and for use by the music department, whose expanded facilities are located in the area adjoining the rear of the stage.

An art room provides for one of the needed, and most noticeable, of the curriculum improvements.

Students will be able to take advantage of fuller and more effective guidance and counseling services, as more space for these activities is provided. In addition to the three guidance and counseling rooms, there will also be conference rooms throughout the building. These provide space for individual teachers to consult with students and parents. Additionally, they provide work space for the teaching staff.

ANOTHER MAJOR improvement is the special education room which will allow the school to plan for, provide, and help students with special problems in academic work.

Vocational facilities, which include commercial, homemaking, shop, farm shop and agriculture, have been expanded and arranged so that a wider selection of course offerings may be given in these areas. Auto mechanics are included among the plans for this department. These facilities may be used in an expanded program of adult education.

IN THE ATHLETIC complex, seating is provided for approximately 2,000 persons. The athletic offices, locker rooms and shower rooms for classes and teams, etc., are located between the gymnasium and the proposed swimming pool. In the center section, a general gymnasium and recreational area is provided. This is located above the locker room area shown on the basic one-floor, two dimensional plans that will be posted. This area will allow for special athletic activities and instruction, such as wrestling, weight-lifting, and adapted sports.

The construction of the swimming pool as shown on the plans is not part of the bond issue for the high school. On the balloting on March 2, it will appear as a separate issue along with the construction of an athletic field. Without passage of this separate proposal, no swimming facilities will be constructed.

EXISTING football, baseball, and track facilities at the present high schools will need to be used. Passage of the proposal will permit the construction of a swimming pool adequate for class purposes, team purposes, summer recreational needs, and adult use during evenings.

As presently planned and proposed, the building will allow for our present and immediate future needs. It will also permit improved curriculum in almost all areas presently taught, including mathematics, science, business education, social studies, English, agriculture, other vocational areas, and physical education. It will allow for new courses or aids in special education, guidance and counseling, and art. Also included will be modern library, kitchen, and food-serving areas. Many of these facilities, as well as the proposed auditorium and swimming pool, will be of use not only to the students but also to all citizens of the district.

PRELIMINARY plans have been prepared and will be posted in Elsie at the Clinton National Bank and in Ovid at the Central National Bank.

From 1930 to 1960, homicides with firearms decreased 25 per cent on a per capita basis; suicides dropped 9 per cent.

Yes! We had snow!

10 inches of it, plus icy rain, coat Clinton; 7 injured in crashes

Wind whipped the snow into drifts all around the business district, and this one in front of the E. F. Boron Co., Clinton Music Center and St. Johns Furniture was one of the deepest. Milo Rowell of Boron's, shown here, said the drift measured nearly three feet. Snow blowers were much in evidence in the business district as merchants worked hard to open up the sidewalks for customer traffic.

Ovid youth dies in accident

OVID—Funeral services were held Sunday for Thomas W. Sauber, 19, of Ovid, who was killed in a high-speed police chase near Owosso early last Friday.

Sauber, the son of Mr and Mrs Carl Sauber, 203 E. Oak Street, Ovid, died when his car rammed into a flasher sign at a Grand Trunk Western Railroad crossing at an S curve two miles west of Owosso.

AN OWOSSO police officer said he tried to flag Sauber down for driving on the wrong side of M-21, but Sauber reportedly sped up and the chase began. His car spun into a fence at one point, but the driver put it back on the road, and the chase resumed.

Mr Sauber was born Dec. 7, 1945, at Evanston, Ill. He attended Ovid High School and spent most of his life in Ovid. He served in the US Navy from Jan. 31 to December 1962. He was employed at the Strawline Manufacturing Co. in Corunna.

SURVIVING ARE his parents.

Funeral services were held at the Houghton Funeral Home Sunday, with the Rev Robert Smith of Mt. Pleasant and the Rev Garth Smith of Ovid officiating. Burial was in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Physical changes in works at St. Johns City Building

Several physical changes—some major and some relatively minor—will be made at the St. Johns Municipal Building in the next few months.

New offices and courtroom for the St. Johns Municipal Court are being constructed in the basement commission meeting room by St. Johns contractor Clare Maier.

He was awarded the job last week by the city commission and also will do some remodeling and modernization in the upstairs city offices section.

THE COURTROOM work will cost an estimated $1,800, and the location of the courtroom will be permanent. City voters approved a municipal court in November and it went into effect Jan. 1. Judge Alba Wert has been handling most of the cases at his law offices since then, however, pending the arrival of file cabinets and other furniture for his courtroom and offices in the city building.

Work was expected to be under way this week on the courtroom construction. There will be space for the judge's office, a conference room and the lobby and secretary's desk in addition to the main courtroom. A storeroom adjacent to the present commission meeting room will be cleaned up and used for deliberation by juries.

ENTRY to the municipal court will be through the doorway on Spring Street beneath the library entrance. As soon as furniture arrives, court will be held at the municipal building.

Besides its use as a courtroom, the new facility will continue to be used for meetings of the city commission. Folding doors presently divide this section of the building from the children's library room. The commission has expressed the thought that eventual expansion of the library into the present fire hall will leave the basement children's library free for expansion of the courtroom and commission meeting room.

The library expansion plans are still long-range plans, and their exact nature is not definite.

REMODELING of the city offices area is definite, however, and work will be starting on that soon, too. The changes, which will cost in the neighborhood of $800, were decided on the basis of recommendations of the city auditors in October.

The auditors, Harris, Reames and Ambrose of Lansing, recommended that the handling of incoming cash be centralized, using a modern cash registering machine. Some money now coming in over the counter goes through the city clerk's office and other goes through the treasurer.

THE COMMISSION has proposed buying a modern cash register, such as the auditors recommend, which will: 1) have sufficient totals to classify the major types of incoming cash by account number; 2) prepare a printed journal of all transactions registered in the machine; 3) have the capability of validating a document being received, such as a water bill, tax receipt or license; and 4) a control total of cash to be accounted for toward the daily deposits.

Just what machine is purchased has not been decided on yet, but all the transactions made on it will be handled by the city treasurer. And here is where the physical changes will take place. The treasurer and the cash register will be moved up to the present entrance to the office area, where a window for her and another for the receptionist will be placed.

PERSONS WHO come to pay bills will be taken care of there; others will be asked to enter a waiting room area behind the treasurer by entering through the present door to the police department.

The city clerk's office will be enclosed, as will the present treasurer's office area. The city assessor likely will be moved to where the treasurer is now, leaving his present office for a map room and other administrative storage.

THE PRESENT police department entranceway will be turned into a short hallway by constructing a wall in front of the present counter. A door at the end of the counter will allow access into the police office, but a reception window in the wall will be used for waiting on persons who have brief and minor business with the police.

City Manager Ken Greer explained that the change will make the police department working area quieter, especially at night when sounds from auditorium functions sometimes interrupt the work of radio operators.

COMMISSIONERS asked the city manager last week to determine whether the new cash register will reduce the cost of having the yearly audit done.

MFMC planning its activities

Mrs George H. Brooks president of the South Central District of Music Clubs and daughter, Miss Maralyse Brooks, attended an executive committee meeting of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs at the home of Mrs I. W. Robertson of Birmingham Wednesday evening, Jan. 20.

On Thursday the state board met at the First Methodist Church in Birmingham for an all-day meeting. It was conducted by Mrs Jan Vanderheide of Grand Rapids, vice president of the MFMC.

MRS BROOKS reported that Mason, which is in the South Central District, has organized a music club which is made up of men and women. The club meets in the evening and has over 80 members.

Some activities the clubs will sponsor are: Junior Festivals, Stellman Kelley and Grinnell scholarships which pay $1,000; National Music Camp scholarship; Young Artists and Student auditions; Junior Composers; Zerounian Junior String Award; and Young Composers Contest. Deadlines are Feb. 15; March 1; and March 15.

Last liquor license approved

The lone available liquor license that was held back by the city commission Jan. 5 was awarded to Donald A. and Beatrice L. Frechen of Frechen's Tavern last Tuesday night.

Mayor Jack Smit said it was pointed out to the commission that the liquor license would have to be given to someone with a beer license. And there are already as many beer license holders in St. Johns as the law allows.

THE COMMISSION held back one of the four licenses it had to hand out in the hope that it would draw a quality restaurant to town. But since such a restaurant would first have to buy a beer license if it wanted a liquor license, the commission decided to let the liquor license go.

Frechen and his wife appeared at the commission meeting and asked for reconsideration of the previous withholding. The commission agreed instantly, and a resolution passed unanimously that Frechen be approved for the liquor license.

THE OTHER liquor licenses were approved earlier for The Roadhouse, Bruno's Wonder Bar and the H & H Lounge.

"Everybody can see that people who hunt are the right people, and the people who don't hunt are the wrong ones," George Bernard Shaw.

Plan data processing of water, tax bills

Tied in with proposed physical changes in the administrative offices at city hall are several procedural changes being contemplated.

Collection of all money at the municipal building will be centralized by having the treasurer receive it and record it on a modern cash register (See additional story). Another change is being worked out in connection with water and sewer bills.

THE CITY IS investigating the possibility of automating the water and sewer billing through the use of an outside data processing service. City Manager Ken Greer explained this would not only save work by employees but would also get the work done faster and more accurately.

The city's goal is to have data processing of bills in operation by the start of the next fiscal year, which will begin July 1. Some "trial runs" may be made before that. The job of the actual billing would be "farmed out" to a data processing service because of the huge expense in purchasing such equipment.

THE SEMI-ANNUAL tax billings may also be made through the use of data processing, as soon as the "bugs" are worked out of the sewer-water project. Tax bills may be done this way in July, but Greer said it most likely would not be until next December.

Clinton girl thankful for "Dimes" scholarship

One of the things which March of Dimes contributions got toward is the National Merit Health Scholarship, a four-year college scholarship to help train young persons to work with the handicapped.

A Clinton County girl, Paulette Jones of rural Grand Ledge, is one of those students who have benefitted directly from the scholarship. Miss Jones, 21, is attending the University of Michigan because of it. She's a junior training for a career in physical therapy.

SHE IS THE daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert W. Jones of Jones Road, Grand Ledge.

What are her feelings about the scholarship grant?

"This question is very difficult to answer," she said, "for I find it impossible to express my feelings to their fullest. The grant has meant a college education for me and the career of my choice, physical therapy."

"THESE THINGS have always been very important to me, and they are the things in my life for which I have worked hardest to obtain. The National Merit Health Scholarship from the March of Dimes made these things possible for me, and for that I am very grateful—perhaps more so than other recipients, for without such a grant my college education probably would not have been.

"Now, of course, with college has come many other things which come with college experience: the knowledge that soon I will be taking part in a great profession, the feeling of self-dependence, a promise of a wonderful future, a variety of experiences that one can find only on the college campus, and perhaps more happiness than I might have otherwise known.

"TO PUT IT all into one easy sentence," she continued, "the March of Dimes has helped me to see my dreams becoming reality. How does anyone express their feelings toward the thing which makes this possible?"

After graduation, Miss Jones hopes to work as a physical therapist in treating patients with all types of handicaps. "Work is much of where my happiness lies," she said, "and it will always be a part of my life—as a physical therapist."

THE MARCH of Dimes will continue through the end of this month.

Russell E. Parks, 23, of R-5, St. Johns, paid a $100 fine and $19.30 costs Friday after his arrest on a charge of reckless driving. Parks was arrested by state police after a high speed chase.

He also pleaded guilty to a pending charge of speeding, issued last August, and was fined $45 and $10 costs. Municipal Judge Alba Wert assessed the fines.

3 injured as boy runs stop sign

A 15-year-old boy who drove away a neighbor's car was charged on two counts last Tuesday night after the car smashed into another at the corner of Baldwin and Oakland streets in St. Johns, seriously injuring the two occupants.

Mrs Doris C. Cramer of 104 W. Steel Street, was thrown out of the car, and her passenger, Mrs Maridell Nelson of 504 Ottawa Street, was thrown into the back seat. Both were hospitalized with cuts and broken bones and were reported in "pretty good" condition at Clinton Memorial Hospital Tuesday.

THE BOY, WHO was turned over to probate court, suffered severe mouth cuts and broken teeth, but he was released after treatment.

He was charged with reckless driving and unlawfully driving away of an auto owned by Florence S. Budd of 205 S. Swegles. City police Officer Russell Doty said the boy ran a stop sign at the corner of Oakland and Baldwin while apparently fleeing from the officer and hit Mrs Cramer's car broadside. He then ran from the scene but later returned with his father.

DOTY SAID HE spotted the car parked with its lights out on the street behind Central School, and when he turned around to investigate, the youth sped away, going through intersections at a high rate of speed before finally hitting Mrs Cramer's car.

Mrs Cramer and Mrs Nelson had just concluded practice for the First Nighters play and were on their way to meet friends for coffee when the accident occurred. Mrs Cramer was the director of the play.

THE SEMI, driven by Leslie W. Beamish, 46, of North Bradley, Mich., jackknifed, finally stopping and blocking half of the northbound lane of US-27. Vernon E. Hansen, 50, of Lansing, who was following, hit his brakes but slid into the truck.

A second motorist, Donald A. MacNaughton, 34, of Carson City, was slowing to stop when his car was hit from the rear by a fourth vehicle, pushing his car forward to sideswipe Hansen's car. The fourth motorist drove away without stopping.

CITY POLICE Officer Robert Ott investigated the crash.

67 pints of blood donated at DeWitt

Sixty-seven pints of blood, nearly double what was given at the last Bloodmobile, were donated Monday when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visited DeWitt.

Last summer only 37 pints of blood were donated there. Clinton County Bloodbank officials pointed out that many more persons in DeWitt donate blood regularly, but much of it is done through places of employment in Lansing.

ARTHUR AND Jean Newman of DeWitt, chairmen for the Bloodmobile visit, were elated over the increase, but they plan to work for a continued increase at the next Bloodmobile visit. To make things even better, a more-than-normal number of pints of Rh negative blood was donated Monday.

The Firemen's Auxiliary was in charge of the canteen and donor recruiting.

TWO MORE Bloodmobile visits are scheduled for today (Thursday) on the west side of the county. One will be at the Lutheran School in Fowler from 1 to 5 p.m. today, with Mrs Fred Tiedt in charge.

From noon to 6 p.m. the Bloodmobile will be at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Westphalia. Mrs Julius Pohl is in charge of volunteer workers there, and the Westphalia Jaycees are handling donor recruiting.

THE FOLLOWING persons donated or volunteered to donate blood Monday at DeWitt:

Avery Lee, Dale Wilcox, Lloyd Ballard, Basil Green, Perry Tinsley, Norma Berkimer, Mary Graves, Richard Nabfeld, Daniel Kelin, Lawrence Ward, Judith Peterson, Marilyn Hiatt.

Fay Hansen, Margaret Paquet, Gertrude Saltow, Alma Miller, Bonnie Ward, Jean Newman, Yvonne Haviland, Margaret Davis, Fred Thomas.

City refuses to lower age for retiring

A resolution that the city of St. Johns make age 65 the mandatory retirement age died for lack of support last Tuesday night. But it may be only a temporary death.

Commissioner Charles Coletta read the prepared resolution, and he refused to withdraw it even though there was opposition to it at the time from most of the other commissioners. But no one seconded the resolution, and it died.

THE RESOLUTION was that: "the policy for the City of St. Johns shall be that any employee, excepting elected officials, upon his or her birthday reaching 65 years of age shall be retired unless the city commission shall by individual resolution determine it would be in the best interest of the city for said employee to continue in service."

The resolution, had it passed, would have had no effect on the requirements of retirement imposed by the state Retirement Board which governs the Municipal Employees' Retirement System.

THE CITY'S PRESENT mandatory retirement age is 70. The commission's rejection of the new resolution last week seemed to hinge on a desire for more information concerning any change in rates toward the retirement system that the change in retirement age might bring.

The resolution may appear again later after such information is obtained.

Slate new round of Peace Corps placement tests

Peace Corps placement tests are scheduled in four Central Michigan cities Feb. 13 at 8:30 a.m. The four closest cities for Clinton area residents are Flint, Lansing, Grand Rapids and Saginaw. In all cases, the tests will be given in the federal buildings in those cities.

The placement test is not passed or failed, but simply indicates where greatest potential lies. The Peace Corps questionnaire, which must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted, tells what an applicant has done in the past. But the placement test is aimed at showing what he or she can do in the future. Applicants do not have to register for the test ahead of time.

THE PEACE Corps questionnaire can be found in Post Offices.

There are two parts to the Peace Corps placement test: a general aptitude test and a modern language aptitude test — for which knowledge of a foreign language is not necessary. Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French achievement test. For this optional test, another hour should be added.

NO PASSING or failing marks are given out, nor will the applicants ever learn their scores. The results are used, with the character references and questionnaires, to estimate the applicant's potential for completing the intensive training program and his ability to be an effective volunteer overseas.

More than 350,000 boys and girls annually participate in National Rifle Assn. junior marksmanship programs.

Skids into tree

James E. Ballard, 20, of Ionia, skidded sideways into a tree on M-21 at the east Fowler city limits Friday evening, but he and a passenger in his car were not hurt. He told sheriff's police that he came up behind a car going about 15 miles an hour. He said he started to pass, the other car turned left into a driveway and he swerved to avoid the crash. He skidded sideways on the snowy highway.

Cub Scout Pack 281 held a potluck dinner at the Perrin-Palmer School recently, with about 75 parents and Cubs attending. Bobcat pins were awarded to Tim Knight, Jack Neller and Bernard Barrett. Assistant dinner badges were given to Bernard Barrett and Jack Neller.

Other awards were made to Tracy Roberts, David Fitzpatrick, Mark Munger, Terry Catlin, Joe Leonard, Eric Bond, Barry Knight, Bruce Devereaux, Tim Martin and Bill Barrett.

DEN 2 PRESENTED a skit and also won the Cubbie Award for the most guests in attendance.

An outing is planned for that Saturday when Cubs, with chaperones, will go to Lansing Boys' Training School to enjoy swimming and other facilities.

CUBS are reminded of Boy Scout Week Feb. 7-13, and that they are to wear their uniforms to school and church all week. The Mungers will have a committee meeting at their home Feb. 1.

Derby winners for the month are Joe Fernholz, Bruce Devereaux and Ted Cartwright.

Many years ago man raced by means of dogs and sledges across the frozen wastes of Alaska in search of gold! Out of this era many legends, stories, dogs and men have evolved, both fictitious and real. To a boy all of these are real and vivid.

Scouting has capitalized on this theme to create an event that transfigures this lad from a boy in Central Michigan into the boots of Reno McKee, Sgt. Preston or one of the literary giants of Jack London. When he reaches deeply into his imagination he again relives this epic of the north. Scouting becomes a living, vital and real dream of fun and adventure. It is called a Klondike Derby.

BOY SCOUTS in Chippewa District of Chief Okemos Council will hold their Klondike Derby Feb. 6 at Rose Lake Experimental Station from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Klondike Derby is a competition event with patrols from each troop competing for a standard of excellence.

The events are sled judging, compass, ice rescue, hill climb, first aid, tree identification, and fire building. The Scouts will be judged as to how they perform under different conditions.

Approve long distance rate schedule changes

Rate schedule revisions for long distance telephone calls within Michigan will save General Telephone Co. customers about $337,000 annually.

The revisions were agreed upon by the company and the Michigan Public Service Commission. Rate periods have been revised as follows:

STATION DAY rates will be effective Monday through Friday from 4:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Station evening rates (formerly called night rates) will apply Monday through Friday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. and from 4:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturdays and holidays.

The present late night or "after 9" rate for long distance calls will become a night rate and will be effective from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. Monday through Friday and continuously from 8 p.m. Saturday to 4:30 a.m. Monday.

ESSENTIALLY, these revisions will advance the effective time for the lowest rate schedule by one hour, from 9 to 8 p.m., give Saturday daytime calls the benefit of the reduced evening rate now given to Sunday calls, and give both day and night Sunday calls the benefit of the lowest rate schedule.

Wrestlers win one, lose one

The St. Johns wrestling team fared both well and badly last week in a pair of matches. The grapplers edged Eaton Rapids 23-21 last Tuesday, but then fell to Hastings 25-19 Friday.

Against Eaton Rapids, the St. Johns grapplers built up an early lead by winning the first four matches and then won just enough of the rest to pull out their victory.

GARY WOOD (95), Tom Harper (103) and Charlie Fisher (120) won by decisions, and Mark Masarik (112) won by forfeit. Jim Paksi (133), Terry O'Connell (145) and Steve Jorae (165) also won decisions.

Lonny Beeman (127) and Chuck Smith (136) lost decisions in their matches, and the Eaton Rapids team then came on strong in an effort to win by scoring pins over Don Boak, Oscar Parsons and Paul Spidel.

IT WAS the first time this year St. Johns had gone the route of a match without scoring a pin.

They failed to get a pin against Hastings, too, and although each team won five matches, Hastings did score three pins against the Redwings, and that was the difference.

TWO OF the matches ended in a draw. Steve Robinson of Hastings and Jim Paksi of St. Johns battled to a draw in the 133-pound class, and Paul Spidel of St. Johns and George Winick of Hastings did the same in the heavyweight match.

Winning decisions for St. Johns were Gary Wood, Charlie Fisher, Chuck Smith, Terry O'Connell and Marv Dollarhite, Ronnie Dush, Steve Jorae and Oscar Parsons were each pinned by their opponents, and Tom Harper and Lonny Beeman lost decisions.

Miller's wins city title, list top scorers

Miller's Tavern made a clean sweep of the first half of the City Basketball League by defeating the Bumble Bee's 63-42 last Wednesday night. They finished the first half of the season with a 6-0 record.

Finishing second were Clinton Tractors and Sealed Power, each with 2-4 marks, and Bee's brought up the rear with a 1-5 record.

MILLER'S HELD narrow scoring margins over the Bee's in the first two periods and led only 23-20 at the half. But then they rambled, getting 20-14 and 20-8 scoring advantages in the last two quarters.

Jim Farley and Bill Werner paced Miller's with 14 points each, while Dan Fox had 13 and Clare Fox 10. Roger Heathman had 24 points for Bee's, and Tom White added 10.

IN THE second game of the evening, the Tractors pulled into a second-place tie with Sealed Power by defeating them 65-46. The Tractors held a first quarter advantage of 21-10 and were never in trouble after that. The score was 32-21 at the half and 44-32 at the end of three quarters.

Perry dumps Wolves 62-55

PERRY — The Laingsburg Wolfpack dropped its seventh game of the season Friday night at the hands of the Perry basketball five, 62-55.

Laingsburg enjoyed a lead only during the first quarter. They led 13-11 at one point, but that vanished for good as the Ramblers pulled away to a 20-13 margin at the first stop. It was 33-25, Perry, at the half and 48-27 going into the final eight minutes.

LAINGSBURG put on a mild rally, outscoring Perry 18-14 in the last quarter, but still falling well short of victory.

Bob Kruger led Laingsburg in a losing cause with 17 points. Other scoring were Don Brown 9, Clyde English 3, Bill Antcliff 9, Tom Wilson 8, Dennis Shaw 2 and Chuck Beavers and Norm Wurm 4 each. Don Dunkel's 21 points were high for Perry.

Fowler game rescheduled

FOWLER — The Fowler High School basketball game scheduled for this Friday will not be played until Tuesday because of a mix-up in dates.

The Eagles were scheduled to play at Vestaburg Friday night, but a check of area team schedules also showed Fulton playing Vestaburg the same night. Further investigation uncovered the mixup.

So, Fowler will meet Vestaburg Tuesday night, Feb. 2, at the same scheduled time. Friday night will be an open date.

DeWitt edges by Elsie 71-68

ELSIE — The DeWitt Panthers had their offense rolling in great style at Elsie Friday night as they picked up their fifth win of the year by a 71-68 margin over the Elsie Big Reds.

All five DeWitt players scored in double figures, with Bill Watson leading the way with 21 points. Others scoring were Jim Dalman 17, Roger Coryell 13 and Pat Weston and Lenny Ward 10 each.

IT ALMOST wasn't enough. After DeWitt built up a 19-13 lead at the end of the first quarter, Elsie began to tear it down. They outscored DeWitt 22-21 in the second period to make the half-time score 40-35 DeWitt.

The Big Reds edged closer with a 16-13 advantage in the third quarter, but then the Panthers took the edge in the fourth quarter to save the game. The score was tied twice in the second half, the last time at 55-55.

ELSIE FELT the loss of starter Kerry Reed, out with an injury, and Tom Micka, who suffered a bruised elbow during the game. Micka managed to score 21 points before he fouled out, however, and he led Elsie's scoring.

Carter and Horak also hit in double figures with 15 and 17 points respectively. Others scoring for Elsie were Ackles 2, Melvin 2, Loynes 6, Jones 3 and Thornton 2.

Car burns after crash; girl escapes

A rural St. Johns girl luckily escaped without injury when her small foreign car burst into flames after it struck the rear of a turning pickup truck on North US-27.

Bonnie Lou Rasey, 18, of R-1, St. Johns was the driver of the car which was destroyed by the crash and fire. Her car struck the rear of the half-ton pickup driven by Lawrence E. Kuhns, 59, of R-1, St. Johns.

THE ST. JOHNS Fire Department was called to the scene a half-mile north of town about 5:15 p.m. Monday where the car was blazing.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Corson reconstructed the accident this way: Kuhns, traveling north, looked in his rear view mirror for rear traffic and saw none. He slowed for a right turn into a driveway. He reportedly did not signal and crossed over the centerline for a wide turn because of a high snow bank.

MISS RASEY came up from behind and was too close to stop and could not pass because the truck was also blocking the passing lane. Her little car hit the rear of the truck, and a gallon can of gasoline in the front trunk of the car caught fire.

The interior of the car was charred.

Educational profits reviewed by group

ROCHESTER COLONY—Mrs Ray Hamer of North Watson Road attended the second of a series of three meetings at Smith Hall Tuesday, Jan. 19, on "Developing Human Resources."

The group reviewed figures taken from a study made in 1961 of the education and earnings of adult males between the ages of 25 to 64. They showed that those who completed eight grades of schooling earned $4,750 in 1961. A high school diploma brought the annual income to $6,102. Those who had four or more years of college had an average income of $9,530. The annual increase of $1,352 (the difference between an eighth grade and high school education) multiplied by the 30 years most people work is $40,560.

More than dollar value involved in education

In the admirable hue and cry for more education of all kinds, generalizations have flowed more freely than factual details. Of course, education is good. More of it will make people more productive. And so forth.

Underlying our reasoning on the subject have always been the hopes for what all forms of education can do to help the individual realize his full intellectual, moral, and spiritual possibilities. Ideally, economic progress is a by-product of growth in other ways.

BUT IT IS in economic terms that much of the urgent need for education presents itself. And it is in economic terms that its worth can be dramatized with specifics.

Recent studies of United States income have showed how hugely lifelong income varied in proportion to years of education. But another, less publicized study shows how today's intensive "employability" programs can help, too.

TAKING A SAMPLE of some 13,000 trainees under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, the Office of Education figured the total cost of their training at $13,300,000. Two out of ten dropped out. But after periods averaging 21 weeks, 70 per cent of the remainder, or 7,111 immediately found jobs in occupations averaging about $2 an hour.

Most of the other 30 per cent found work later. In 24 weeks the 70 per cent had returned to the economy $13,700,000 or more than it cost to train all 13,000.

IN ONE YEAR, according to the study, the average trainee can be expected to earn $3,135 more than it cost to train him. And in addition he is not receiving public assistance.

Dollars and cents add justification to the hue and cry. But they should not obscure the undocumented qualities of education that can make an economically secure life worth living.

Federal packaging law appears unnecessary

A Senate subcommittee has stated that a new and stringent federal law regulating the packaging of food and household products is necessary to protect the consumer from deceptive practices.

To a great many people, however, the views of the subcommittee members who vigorously dissented make a lot more sense.

The proposed law, said Senator Dirksen, would result in higher prices and lessened competition and would harm the interest of all concerned—the consumer included.

AND SENATOR HRUSKA described the legislation as "shockingly bad," adding that it "regards our people as childlike" and businessmen as corrupt.

The bill, it can be fairly charged, is an example of the kind of thinking which holds that a federal bureaucracy should play nursemaid to the public in just about every phase of the national life. The implication is that we aren't very bright and can't protect ourselves against deception.

In this highly competitive economy of ours, any manufacturer and any retailer can tell you just how false that idea is. The American housewife is the canniest of buyers, and it is second nature to compare brand against brand in search of the best bargain.

SO FAR AS packages are concerned, there are all manner of effective federal and state laws and regulations requiring honest statements of weights and measures. If these need to be strengthened in some cases, fair enough.

But the proposed packaging law would go far beyond any real need, would artificially inflate prices, and would reduce the consumer's freedom of choice. "Shockingly bad" is the right description of it.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

For the past three winters I have considered myself fortunate because I have not slipped and fallen on ice or snow. This winter has been no exception, quite surprisingly.

Those previous three winters were in Illinois and I figured that coming back to Michigan winters would surely change my luck for the worse. But this has not been the case, and I knock on wood.

THE EXTREMELY long time that I have been ice accident-free has set me to thinking, and I have almost decided that my good fortune has been due to a certain amount of skill, rather than pure luck. Because I have tried to avoid spills, I have studied the paths on which I walk very carefully.

Those who watch me toddle down the street should have no sorrow for me that I am injured, for I am not; it's just that I'm chicken. That is part of my wintertime skill and part of the reason why I am not injured.

THROUGH careful and painful study and past experience, I have learned not to barge down a wintertime sidewalk with a summertime stride. This is OK, sometimes, however, when you have nothing to lose but your feet. But frequently I am carrying a camera or sheaf of notes or something else that could be damaged or tossed to the four winds by a fall on the ice. And since I am not overly endowed with natural padding, I must look at a tumble with that in mind, too.

SO FAR this winter we have had little bad weather that would lend itself to frequent slipping and sliding and falling. But there have been several occasions when I have put on some pretty good impromptu dances for folks in the downtown area before I finally caught my balance and toddled on down the street.

It is ironic that a fall on the ice is so funny, if not to the person who fell, then at least to those who saw it. And there are usually some people who see it. You will undoubtedly see mine when I take my tumble next week; so I will try to smile through the pain so that we can all enjoy it.

Comfort Plus

By W. E. DOBSON

There are many forms of leisure
Folks have cherished year by year,
Some may have but recent vintage
Others we have long held dear;
One in my particular fancy,
Can snatch victory from defeat,
Let me gain my chosen corner,
Shuck my shoes 'n rest my feet.

I am not a prima donna,
And it's not an over-sight
When I don a pair of brogans
They don't fit too snugly tight;
Still there's restful relaxation,
Of a kind that's hard to beat
When I'm settled warm 'n cozy—
Shuck my shoes 'n rest my feet.

Countless folk resort to travel,
Others like their leisure best,
When it comes in frequent doses,
Nearer to their own home nest;
I kin stay or I kin travel,
'N mostly I find things sweet,
Just so long as I can manage
Shuckin' shoes 'n restin' feet.

When it's time for me t' check in,
When my errands have been run,
When my travel days are over,
And my chores have all been done—
Should Saint Peter deign a welcome,
He could make my joy complete,
If he'd just say "Be at home now
Shuck your shoes 'n rest your feet!"

President revels in the office

IT WAS EMERSON who wrote that the President pays dear for his White House — "it has commonly cost him all his peace"—and many past Chief Executives have appeared to agree. But not, by all accounts, our newly-inaugurated incumbent, Lyndon Johnson.

In the Presidency Mr Johnson finds the culmination of his instinctive calling and natural career . . . however unlikely the train of events that finally placed him there.

For all its penalties and burdens, he plainly revels in the office. And he has more reason to than many Presidents since he possesses the special power conferred by a decisive popular majority and overwhelming Congressional majorities.

AS A NATION we have traditionally mistrusted so much power; and maybe in our time, with the power of the President so greatly extended, we should be more mistrustful than ever.

Yet, under these conditions, I can't get overly-alarmed that the power is entrusted to so practical a politician as Mr Johnson. His political schooling may cause him to wield the power more judiciously than another less carefully instructed.

It's true that some of the goals the President has set for the nation, in both his State of the Union message and last week's Inaugural Address, sound utopian. It is also true that some of the methods for accomplishing these goals sound self-defeating in their cost, not only for the present but even more with the passage of time.

MY HOPE IS that we as a nation can believe that the President's reaching for these seemingly unattainable goals will be tempered by his acute sense of what is politically possible.

And what is politically possible is just another way of saying "that which the great majority of Americans are willing to accept at a given time."

In this sense, I think the President is in touch with the instincts of many Americans. His speeches may sound corny and filled with platitudes, but in his own fashion he has caught the meaning of America—the proverbial America, as he put it last week, of believers in liberty and justice and in our union.

Judgment must be reserved on the unfolding Johnson program, but the American people can hope they will not have paid dear for investing in his hands the enormous power of the Presidency. We'll wait and see; but meanwhile this column joins a myriad of citizens in a Hail to the Chief!

INCIDENTAL INTELLIGENCE: The Burma-Shave sign is joining the wail of the steam locomotive, the cry of "Mark Twain" from the bow of a sternwheeler and the shout of the wagonmaster as a relic of outmoded transport. There's no place for the little lyrics of the open road on a super highway.

However, the nation's attic—The Smithsonian Institution—is preserving the one that Alexander Woollcott called the finest poem in the American language:

"Within this vale
Of Toil and Sin
Your head grows bald
But not your chin.
Burma-Shave."

Will it someday be joined by an electric sign that says: "No Smoking Please—Fasten Your Seat Belts?"

Plugs collective bargaining on farms

AFTER READING your editorial for the week of the 14th, I thought you might be interested in some additional information on collective bargaining for agriculture.

I believe if you will take the time to read the enclosed literature (especially page 10) you may gain a new insight into the problems of the American farmer and also it may bring to mind some of the statements which have been made in the past by people who are opposed to the farmers organizing.

THE MAIN ONE, of course, is that "holding actions increase the tonnage of meat." According to USDA figures, this is the opposite of what really happens. During a holding action the processors are forced to slaughter light weight animals to get their supply, thereby bringing the total yearly tonnage down below normal. (This is on page 10)

(Source of information: USDA Statistical Bulletin No. 333, August 1964.)

I WAS GLAD that you brought out that lower farm prices effect the business people in our towns. Perhaps you may have started some of them thinking about their farmer-customers and what they have to look forward to from them, economically speaking.

In Omaha, Neb., a survey was taken of the livestock that was marketed one week and how much was received for it. The difference between what they received and what they would have received had they sold under an NFO master contract amounted to $1 million! Just think what this would have meant to the town of Omaha and the surrounding area in additional sales. Of course, the opposition says that these prices we are asking are unrealistic, but farmers have received these prices in the past. Just look at the amount of money that has been taken away from our rural areas.

NOT TOO LONG ago you published the amount of money that was brought into Clinton County by the sale of milk from our dairy farmers. I don't recall what the figure was but if the farmer would have received a dollar a hundred more for his milk (as he did a few years ago) you can see it would have made quite a difference in the amount of money that could and probably would have been spent in our towns.

Yes, the financial condition of the American farmer is cause for alarm from every citizen of the United States because the farmers are to the National economy as the roots are to a tree, and everyone knows you can't sever the roots from a tree without it falling.

THERE ARE some people who seem to have the opinion that agriculture should no longer be the backbone of our nation, but if you will recall history this was the opinion just prior to the crash of 1929.

Sincerely,
ROY WESTENDORF
President, Clinton County NFO

P.S. I feel that it would be very difficult, if not impossible, for people to get along without food. Don't you?

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Campaign spending ruckus still holding attention

A biennial ruckus over campaign-spending spirals appears to be holding attention this year longer than before, a possible indication there may be some changes made.

Michigan law books for several years have carried a limit on campaign expenditures, but the law was so written as to make it virtually impossible to enforce the limitation.

The Legislature would be the action-taking unit in strengthening the law if any changes were to be made. It is an administrative agency, however, which is now shouting loudest for change.

GRAND JURY investigation was hinted by some elections officials last year following both the primary and general election campaigns in one legislative district.

Initial studies indicated to some members of the secretary of state's elections division that a clear and provable violation of the spending limit law existed.

Indications of a grand jury call have now all but disappeared and faded into the demands for revision of the expenditure reporting statute.

THE LAW now limits expenses to $40 per thousand votes cast for governor in the previous presidential year. It also allows any number of separate campaign committees to spend this amount.

Financial support from outside the state in a campaign is totally beyond Michigan jurisdiction. And campaign committees are not required to register in any way, so no one really knows whether all expenditures are ever reported for any given candidate.

With these weaknesses pointed up this year and in past sessions, it now remains a question of whether the legislators will take action to place effective restrictions on a matter so dear to their own political lives.

PRISON facilities and policies at both the county and state levels have undergone considerable change in the past decade, and still more is anticipated in the near future.

Corrections officials now feel that clean, modern jail conditions at the county level are an aid toward rehabilitation of criminals, particularly first offenders.

In the past 10 years some 34 new county jails have been built in the state and another 11 are in the construction or planning stage now.

AT THE STATE level, Corrections Director Gus Harrison notes a sharp change in the entire philosophy of penology.

The trend has been toward giving a man a chance while he is paying his debt to society, says Harrison. "Eventually I hope Southern Michigan Prison, the world's largest walled prison, will become obsolete."

More than a third of Michigan's prisoners are now housed outside the walls of the various penal institutions, either in trusty units, farm dormitories or outside camps.

THE DECADE just past has also seen a change in pardon-parole practices, according to the state's top corrections officer.

"On life term prisoners who killed or were judged habitual criminals, we've had about a 99 per cent success ratio in our policy of allowing eventual release," said Harrison. "We also believe in the so-called mercy policy for old men who don't want to die in prison."

With the improved employment situation in Michigan, men ready for re-entry to society can be moved out of prison into jobs faster. The corrections chief said over the past 10 years there was an approximate 10 per cent increase in the probation rate.

SECURITY measure in President Johnson's activities since his re-election have been greater than ever before.

This was particularly noted in the elaborate inauguration plans and structures. It was clear the events of Nov. 22, 1963, are still foremost in the minds of many, at least in Washington.

In Michigan, the immediate impact of the assassination in Dallas was great, but apparently much of the concern has worn off with the passage of time.

THEN, AND again last spring state officers discussed the need for what then Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski described as a "detailed plan for events in case of a statewide tragedy in any way similar to the assassination of President Kennedy."

Initial suggestions included providing adequate protection for all top state officials and security of Michigan's international bridges, electrical plants, water supplies, and transportation and communications facilities.

To date no steps have been made public to implement such a plan which in December 1963 seemed so necessary. Additionally no activities, even since the May intrusion into his office by an armed man.

IT HAS often been said people act only in emergencies, but it would be hoped that reaction to such incidents would have, by this time, produced some action from Michigan's governing officers.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Snow means guaranteed life for sleeping plants

HAYDEN PEARSON

Snow means different things to different people, and the meanings have changed radically in half a century. Time was when big snow rollers, pulled by two or three teams, creaked and groaned along country roads.

Today huge machines clear the main roads and trucks with slanted blades push the snow to the sides of country roads. Winter sports has become big business, and ski fans spend more on rainbow-hued ski clothes than they do on actual skiing equipment.

BUT SNOW still has its basic meaning, for snow is an integral part of Nature's plan in the four cycles that mean a year. The white covering on fields and hillsides protects uncounted billions of seeds; it is a protective blanket over grasses and plants that will send us green shoots when the winter is over and gone.

Snow is created by the solidification of water vapor, and one of the miracles of nature is that though billions of flakes may fall, no two are alike though all flakes are six-sided. A man may think that Nature overdoes the business at times, but snow is Nature's protective covering.

WALK THE fields and woodlands on a mild day and some of the magic of Nature's plan will enter the heart. Here where Mayflowers, trilliums and ferns will offer their color and beauty, the roots are sleeping safely beneath the white. Here where clover and timothy will grow lush, the snow guarantees their resurrection in the spring.

Snow comes in the fall and winter; snow paints a picture of stark simplicity. But on these February days when a man walks his open acres and takes a turn through the woodland, he feels the deeper meanings. For Nature, in its wisdom, sends the snow that means resurrection when time is fulfilled.

News of Interest to Clinton County Farm Bureau Families

Virginia study unit visits here

A committee of 18 leaders and staff members of the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, assigned the task of studying Farm Bureau organizations in other states, recently toured areas of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee with an eye toward making recommendations to expand VFBF services and activities.

The study group focused principal attention on activities of County Farm Bureau organizations in the four states. Clinton County's office was included in their visit. The group spent about a half an hour in the office on Jan. 11 discussing all of the various programs and services to members which center in the office and inspected records and other office procedures.

INCLUDED with the group was the state president, Robert B. Delano, who set up the committee as a result of action by the voting delegates at the 1963 annual meeting. They called for "as study on ways to provide expanded services to Farm Bureau members."

As the result of a year-long study of Virginia agriculture and Farm Bureau organization and activities, the committee reached the conclusion that farmers of that state will need: 1) increased marketing activities; 2) more effective legislative representation; 3) expanded services to members; and 4) greater membership participation in Farm Bureau programs.

THESE conclusions are based on evidence that indicates farmers in Virginia will become more specialized in their operations. Yet the group believes the number of part-time farmers will also increase. They forecast more contract farming and a tremendous increase in farm capitalization.

Michigan Farm Bureau was honored by the fact that Virginia Farm Bureau leaders felt our state organization offered patterns worthy of being followed.

FB groups to discuss water rights

Two years ago Farm Bureau leaders in Clinton County initiated a program which allowed the members to voice their opinions in what they felt the Farm Bureau should do on a county level to help farmers educationally, economically and legislatively.

One of the outcomes of this program was a desire by county farmers to know more about water rights.

RECENTLY a committee was named by the county board to discuss the aspects of water rights and prepare a discussion topic for use in community Farm Bureau meetings. The water rights committee met in January and has prepared this material which will be sent to the groups. In February and March they will be discussing this during their regular discussion period.

Serving on the committee were well-qualified county persons, including Clarence Manning, chairman, who is a member of the county Soil Conservation board; Lloyd Campbell, of the SCS; Robert Moore, Morris Johnson; Darrel Shinaberry; George McQueen, county agricultural agent; and Robert Reese Jr., representing the Community Group Committee.

THIS GROUP will meet later in the year to go over recommendations and further questions made by Farm Bureau members who have taken part in the discussion of this most important subject.

Farm Bureau members wish to thank the members of this committee for the time spent in compiling the information to present to the farmers in Clinton County.

A SUMMARY of the material will be published at a later date on the county Farm Bureau page of this newspaper.

Farm group British-run

The British Isles have a single, all-inclusive farm organization for all farmers. At times, American farmers say, why should we have a number of separate ones here?

A single farmers' organization is possible if there can be no difference of opinion, if someone tells farmers just what they can and cannot do. The National Farmers Union of England is, in a way, a multipiece for farmers.

BUT FARMER members often complain that they must submit to government's final decisions. The biggest day in the national farm organization's year is that on which pricing discussions open with the government ministry. Prices allowed for farm products are set for the ensuing year as a result of these discussions — But...

The procedure is for the National Farmers Union of England to hear the demands and complaints of farmers regarding prices, pass these on to the government, and then take the final decision of the government as to what the prices shall be.

Just what have the English farmers gained?

More than 225,000 persons will spend nearly $25 million to ski in Michigan this winter, the Michigan Tourist Council predicts. This compares with about $5,000 and $6 million 10 years ago.

March 1-15 is Blue Cross re-opening for Farm Bureau members. Though March may seem a long way off, February has a way of disappearing before one realizes it.

For all eligible Farm Bureau members, Blue Cross—Blue Shield will accept new applications made from March 1-15 and present subscribers may make any changes in their present contract.

CHANGES may include change of service to ward or semi-private, change in income plan changing type of contract from full comprehensive to $50 deductible or transferring into the Farm Bureau group. Also spouse or dependents who were not added during the year within the required 30 day time limit may be placed on the contract.

This year a new change will be included, the carrying of eligible dependents on parents contract with "F" rider. This includes children between ages of 19-25 years of age who formerly were required to have their own separate contract. They must be unmarried, and dependent upon their parents for more than half of their income. Students would qualify in most cases.

THE SAVINGS for "F" rider coverage are about 50 per cent of the single subscriber rate for like coverage. MARK YOUR CALENDAR NOW and contact the county Farm Bureau office BEFORE MARCH 15 for any changes or questions about Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Expect 50,000 people for Farmers' Week

Nearly 50,000 persons will converge on the Michigan State University campus during the first week of February.

It's the 50th anniversary of Farmers' Week. And this event, one of the few of its kind in the United States, will have something for everybody from the gentlemen farmer to the hired hand; from the farmer's wife and children to the scientist concerned with agriculture.

will present programs on the latest in scientific farming and modern farm living. Over 400 authorities from throughout the country will appear. They will talk about everything from beekeeping to herbicides. Exhibits will range from Grandpa's 1914 model tractor to the latest in four-wheel-drive models.

The theme of this year's program is "Golden Anniversary—From Progressive Past to Forward-looking Future."

TWENTY MSU departments

FARMERS' WEEK began at Michigan Agricultural College (now MSU) back in 1914 when the annual round-up of the Farmers' Institute and the Michigan Livestock Breeders' Assn. annual meeting were both held on campus at the same time. This joint meeting was called "Farmers' Week."

"Lectures were provided in soils and crops, dairying, livestock, husbandry, horticulture, poultry raising, farm mechanics, domestic science and domestic art," says the official 1914 report of the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

LATER "Farmers' Week" began the showing and sale of fat livestock well before events of this kind were to become commonplace.

At the 1936 meeting, the college's outstanding football team was matched against a championship team of horses in a horse pulling contest. The football team won.

No such contest is planned for the 1965 session, but visitors are expected to find the special golden anniversary event even more exciting — and informative. Even the campus will be different from a year ago.

THE BIOCHEMISTRY building part of the new science complex will feature an exhibit of the practical products of biochemistry research. The new Beef Cattle Research Center on the MSU farm will be open for observation of current research.

Also, the Endocrine Research unit of the Animal Husbandry department will show facilities which include the only boar stud in the country specifically designed for swine artificial insemination research.

BESIDES these exhibits, Byron H. Good, general chairman of Farmers' Week, points to some events which should be highlights of the week:

An agricultural engineering exhibit will show 50 years of farm mechanization with special emphasis on comparing equipment, structures, techniques and costs of important farm equipment today with methods popular 50 years ago.

Project animals—swine, beef cattle and sheep—will be judged with a display of MSU livestock and a judging contest for farmers.

AGRICULTURAL departmental exhibits and discussions will See EXPECT 50,000 page 5

FB women plan capital tour

Once again Farm Bureau Women in Michigan are sponsoring a legislative tour to the nation's capital. The tour is scheduled to leave Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 5:30 p.m. March 14 and return at 7:36 p.m. March 17.

While in Washington they will visit the American Farm Bureau office and visit with staff members on current legislative proposals. The group will meet with their own congressmen and senators and visit Congress while in session. They will visit the USDA or some of its sections. A sight-seeing trip around Washington will include a visit to Mt. Vernon.

COST OF THE tour is $101.57 which includes round trip air travel from Detroit and taxi from the airport in Washington, D. C., rooms at the Willard Hotel, sight-seeing tour and some of the meals.

Reservations must be in by March 10. Both men and women are urged to join with the group. Contact the county Farm Bureau office for details, or Mrs. Dorothy Ward, chairman of Clinton County Farm Bureau Women.

Twelve states in the Nation's Midwest accounted for almost 47 per cent of the total. Michigan alone had 67,961 members, and had the ninth largest Farm Bureau membership in the nation. Illinois, Indiana and Iowa each had well over 100,000 members. Alabama, Texas, Kansas, Kentucky and Tennessee has less than 100,000 but were over Michigan.

MICHIGAN County Farm Bureaus are working hard now to increase the Michigan membership. The big membership drive is hot and is aimed toward completing the job by January's end. Right now Michigan has 5 per cent more members than last year at this same time. Membership campaigners expect to end up with over 69,000 members this year.

In Clinton County, volunteer workers from each township have been making calls this month to non-member prospects. Ninety-three per cent of goal was reached by Jan. 15. Several townships have increased their membership over last year. Over 50 new members are already on the rolls. Bill Kissane, Roll call manager, and area captains Bob Fox, David Pretty or practical, what's your choice?

Does your house really need painting this year? Here's a thought or two on the subject from the US Department of Agriculture.

Wood does not have to be painted to be preserved—but it does beautify the house. A good white house paint should last at least four or five years before it needs to be renewed—tinted paints, five to six years, and dark color paints, six to eight years.

THE BASIC rule is to paint only after most of the old paint film has weathered away. If the paint is built up too thickly, it may require costly and time consuming removal before a new coat can be applied.

The authority who passed on this information admitted he paints his house quite often. Seems his wife, like most women, wants a freshly painted house. But it's your decision to make, after you know the facts.

MUFFINS made from mix—one that you've put together yourself—can add a special touch to an otherwise humdrum meal.

This mix recipe, good for ten batches of muffins, comes from the US Department of Agriculture.

MUFFIN MIX

- 8 c. sifted flour
1-1/2 c. nonfat dry milk
1/4 c. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1-1/2 c. shortening

Stir dry ingredients until well mixed. Cut in shortening until well blended. Store in a tightly covered metal or glass container on your pantry shelf. Use within a month.

MUFFINS

- 1 c. muffin mix
1/3 c. water
1 egg, beaten

Grease 6 medium-size muffin pans. Combine all ingredients and stir just enough to moisten dry ingredients.

Fill muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake at 425 degrees F. (hot oven) about 20 minutes. Makes 6 medium-size muffins.

Dine south of border... down Peace Corps way

For the different and delicious in Saturday night dinner parties, greet your guests with a colorful, flavorful new cuisine. A table trip to Latin America, guided by Peace Corps Volunteers' recipes, will provide an original, indeed memorable, evening.

The Peace Corps' kind of world depends on mutual understanding. And mutual understanding includes more than politics and history. It encompasses customs and culture—and Food!

OUR CULINARY cruise begins in Guatemala where volunteers love Guacamole. This avocado spread makes a delectable hors d'oeuvre when spread on Tortillas from Costa Rica.

To serve eight persons Guacomole:

- 2 large ripe avocados
1 medium-sized onion, grated
3 cloves garlic
1 heaping tbsp. mayonnaise
1 tsp. lemon juice
Few drops Worcester shire sauce
Few drops Tobasco sauce

Peel the avocados, remove the seeds and mash. Add lemon juice, mashed garlic cloves, mayonnaise, Worcester shire sauce, tobasco and salt to taste. Mix together all the ingredients and chill.

TO SERVE eight persons Tortillas:

- 2 c. corn meal
2 c. boiling water
2 tsp. salt
4 tbsp. cooking oil

Mix corn meal and water together, stirring vigorously. Add salt and oil and cook mixture over low flame until well-thickened.

Form small balls of two table-spoons each of the mixture. Flatten the balls with a rolling pin. Then cook the tortillas over a low flame in a frying pan and turn them when they are light brown in color.

FOR AN unusual appetizer, volunteers in Uruguay recommend meat-filled pastries called Empanadas.

To serve eight persons Empanadas: (Freeze leftovers for another festive night).

DOUGH:

- 5 c. flour
1 1/2 tsp. paprika
1/2 tsp. salt
3/4 c. soft butter

Put flour mixed with paprika and salt on a board and make a well in the center. Put the butter in the well and add enough water to make a fairly stiff dough. Knead it for a few minutes and let it stand while you prepare the filling.

FILLING:

- 1/2 c. butter
1 large onion, finely chopped
1 small tomato, finely chopped
1/2 tsp. paprika
1 pound ground lean meat
1 1/2 tsp. flour
1/2 c. beef stock
1/2 tsp. ground cumin
1/2 tsp. chili pepper
1 hard-boiled egg, chopped
1/3 c. seedless raisins
salt to taste

MELT BUTTER in frying pan. Add onions and saute until golden brown. Add paprika, tomato, meat, flour, stock, cumin, chili-pepper and salt. Cook over medium heat for five minutes.

Make dough balls the size of an egg and roll them out thin in the form of a circle. In the center of each round place one table-spoon of the filling, a teaspoon of the chopped egg, one-half teaspoon of green olives and a few raisins. Moisten the edges of the rounds and fold over the mixture, pressing firmly. Make a design along the edges as for pastry. This part of the recipe can be prepared ahead of time. When you are ready to serve, merely bake the Empanadas in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes, or fry in deep fat and drain on paper.

FOR OUR MAIN course, we move on to Bolivia where volunteers enjoy the creative dish Arroz con Pollo. Spanish in origin, Arroz con Pollo is defined as chicken with rice—with any favorite ingredients that you may wish to add.

To serve eight persons Arroz con Pollo:

- 2 chickens, 4 pounds each, cut into parts
6 carrots, cut into cubes
6 stalks of celery, cut into cubes
3 large onions, cut into small wedges
3 cloves garlic, finely chopped
6 tomatoes, skinned, seeded and cubed
2 green peppers, diced
1/2 lb. large fresh mushrooms, sliced
6 hard-boiled eggs, cut into quarters
1/2 c. parsley sprigs
4 tbsp. capers
2 pimentos, cut into thin strips
20 black olives, sliced
1 c. shredded coconut
1/2 c. sliced almonds
1/2 c. white wine
3 c. raw rice
salt and pepper to taste
cooking oil

Place the chicken, carrots, celery, onions, garlic, tomatoes and green peppers in a large pot with enough water to cover. Heat to boiling point and cook until tender (approximately 90 minutes).

DURING THE last half hour, prepare the rice by placing it in a large skillet over a medium flame. Moisten it with cooking oil to prevent sticking, and stir frequently. Add the mushrooms. The rice and mushrooms are finished when they color a warm brown.

After the chicken is done, allow it to cool. Then remove the meat from the bones and dice it into large pieces. Add the chicken, a cup of its stock, the vegetables with which the chicken was cooked, the white wine, and black olives and salt and pepper to the rice and heat over a low flame.

THEN TRANSFER the Arroz con Pollo to a serving platter. To garnish, attractively arrange the pimentos, capers, almonds and coconut on the top of the mixture. Form a border around the dish with sprigs of parsley and hard-boiled egg wedges, sprinkled gently with vinegar.

Accompany this main course with a salad of romaine, Boston and endive lettuces with a simple dressing of wine vinegar and olive oil. This arrangement will provide an appropriate contrast in taste to the appetite-delight of Arroz con Pollo.

FOR A COOLING finish to our Latin American feast, Peace Corps Volunteers in Jamaica suggest a chilled fresh-fruit compote of bananas, pineapples, strawberries and kumquats marinated in your favorite liqueur and garnished with whipped cream and vanilla wafers.

Growing and learning form baby's new world

Mrs Larry Karber is feeding Johnny one of his infrequent baby food meals. Due to the acquisition of two teeth and other growth factors, Johnny Karber eats very little of the baby food that at one time comprised his entire diet but eats more whole foods.

Johnny Karber celebrated his ninth (counting by months) birthday Wednesday, Jan. 27, and he's telling everyone he sees that he's growing-up. Not literally, of course, because Johnny doesn't know how to talk yet, with the exception of an occasional utterance of "mama". But he can tell us by his actions.

When the Clinton County News began to follow Johnny's growth, after he was born last April 27, Johnny, the son of Mr and Mrs Larry Karber of 817 Church St., lived in an eat, sleep, and grow world.

WHILE EVERY man lives in such a world to some extent, the circumstances under which he performs these things change as he matures. The same is true of Johnny.

The appearance of teeth, for example, change man's eating habits, as do the loss of them. Johnny got his first two teeth this month.

The baby food that was, at one time, so essential to his sustenance, no longer interests him or agrees with him. Although it is still necessary for him to eat some baby food, he frequently joins his parents, two sisters, Sharon and Janice, and brother, Dean at meals. Mrs Karber said that he now eats such foods as potatoes, eggs, carrots, peaches, pears, string beans, and bananas. They, naturally, have to be altered for the nine-monther to be able to consume.

ANOTHER PHYSICAL quality which influences our activities is size.

Johnny has added 10 inches to his height since he was born and now weighs 20 pounds. This growth makes it possible for Johnny to pull himself up on the furniture to a standing position, turn television knobs, and reach for objects that formerly did not interest him.

"He also wiggles around a lot now," Mrs Karber said. Due to this new restlessness, Mrs Karber finds him difficult to dress and to hold on to. His quick movements have cost him a bump or two during the past month.

JOHNNY IS also developing new interests.

"He received a lot of baby toys for Christmas," Mrs Karber said. "He received push toys, a string of beads, and rubber toys," she said, "but he would rather pick magazines out of the stack or play with Dean's trucks. He doesn't like baby rattles either."

An integral part of growth is the development of one's personality, and this development is evident, even in a person as young as Johnny.

HE IS NORMALLY a happy baby, ready to smile at the slightest provocation, but according to

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Recently we have discussed the many improvements in Michigan, but this very improvement conceals the magnitude of the challenges we face.

Based on the actions taken and the directions assumed in the next two years, the coming decade can be either one of renewed deficiency and difficulty, or one of unequalled progress.

WE HAVE entered a period of unprecedented change and explosively expanding needs—a revolutionary rising in expectations.

For most citizens, learning and acquiring new skills will become life time processes. The "scientific age" is giving way to a "learning age." Current and new knowledge will revolutionize education, work, travel and recreation.

INCREASED income, leisure time, family formation and urbanization all will develop unexpected demands on our recreation facilities and natural resources, including land and water supplies and water and air purity.

Advanced—and more costly—physical and mental health methods will not only prolong the lives of the healthy but also of the handicapped.

OUR STATE'S population is growing by about 200,000 annually and is expected to reach over 10,000,000 by 1975. It is taking on an hour-glass shape. An estimated 159,000 young people will celebrate their 18th birthday this year, as compared to 102,000 last year—a 50 per cent increase in a single year. By 1970, more than 50 per cent of our total state population will be less than 25 years of age. And senior citizens over 65 are the next fastest growing age group.

This roaring population explosion will require a corresponding increase in job opportunities and the huge investments necessary to supply them. Human and social needs, old and new, will confront our private and public resources, institutions and leadership with unprecedented demands.

THUS THE awesome task of the next two years unfolds.

It is to prepare our state with efficient methods of meeting your needs adequately and the tax structure to yield the revenue justly. And it includes accomplishing this without losing our competitive ability to attract the business investments necessary to provide more and more jobs.

We are fortunate that our present surplus, if used properly, provides us sufficient time to do this.

BUT WE MUST not be lulled into complacency by our sizable surplus.

Despite our recent record levels of annual economic progress and personal income improvement, our annual revenue growth is not keeping pace with just the unavoidable increases in public service expenditures. And as we improve these services, the gap steadily widens between revenue growth and the built-in level of unavoidable expenditures made necessary by the sheer increase in the number of individuals to be served.

IF WE CONSIDER a three-year period since July 1962, when Michigan experienced its last tax increase, we find that the actual and projected revenue growth average is an estimated $38.5 million annually. But when we examine for the same period the built-in expenditure increases, the average annual increase is over $50 million.

Thus, additional revenue over the three-year period, which is a record period of economic expansion in Michigan, averages $12 million less each year than the built-in cost increases in state government.

THE PRESENT facts are that on the basis of revenue growth alone, if we didn't have a surplus, we would not be able to meet the built-in costs without a deficit or improvement in services without an even greater deficit.

It is clear we can improve services where necessary in the coming year only by spending a great deal more than our present tax structure will produce. This means the state will dip into this year's surplus to balance next year's budget.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The big news on roads is, of course, last weekend's snow and ice storm. The north half of the county had more snow and the south half more freezing rain.

It all added up to a busy and interesting weekend for men and equipment. There were 42 men working last Saturday and 33 on Sunday. Some of the crew worked Friday night and Saturday night. They spread more than 200 tons of salt over the three-day period.

THE TREE cutting crews were doing well until the storm interrupted their work. Fred Crowell reported 250 dead trees removed from state trunklines. Jay Barrett says his crews have cut 360 on the west half of the county and Clay Fisher says 350 for the East side. It adds up to nearly 1,000 trees already down.

This progress is partly due to the cooperation we have had from many people who have volunteered to take care of the wood. Our survey last fall showed an estimated 8,000 dead trees along Clinton County Roads.

IT WAS obvious that such a task was impossible without a lot of help. We want to thank the people who have come to our aid and again urge those who can clean up the wood from dead trees along the road to please let us know.

The State Highway Department has finished the audit of the 1962-63 state maintenance reports.

INCOMPLETE figures for 1964 show a record year in many departments. We had the highest income ever received, the highest payroll ever paid, the most construction, the largest dust control program and the most trees cut. In spite of all this increased activity, we finished the year in the "black."

One record was set that no one in the county can be very proud of —the most traffic accidents, highest property damage and most injuries and deaths. However, with the bad weather last weekend, many lives were saved. This has always been the case—when the driving is best—we kill the most.

Marshall School election today

Marshall School District voters will ballot again today (Thursday) on whether or not to sell the half-acre of land on which the old Marshall School once stood. An election Jan. 14 resulted in a 14-14 tie.

The school board says the land is no longer needed for school purposes. The building burned in November.

Farm fire toll highly costly

It would take a sizable bankroll to purchase all of the chickens, turkeys, sheep and lambs grown on Michigan farms, but that's the equivalent amount of losses suffered by the state's farmers each year due to damaging fires.

More than $7.25 million worth of farm buildings, machinery and livestock went up in smoke on Michigan farms during 1963, says Richard Pfister, Michigan State University agricultural safety engineer. Another $7 million is lost through indirect damage such as lost herd replacements, breeding programs, future production losses and late harvesting of crops.

THE 1963 FARM fire losses were three-quarters of a million dollars over 1962 Michigan losses.

Pfister cites four problems which account for two-thirds of the annual farm fire losses:

- defective wiring.
- inadequate lightning protection.
- IMPROPER storage of hay, petroleum and other highly combustible products.

—faulty heating equipment, a real problem at this time of year.

The agricultural safety engineer advised farmers to install adequate insulation so barns can be heated by livestock instead of by supplemental heating equipment. He cautioned farmers to be aware of the dangers of portable oil burning heaters which are not equipped with vents. Electrical heaters are better from a safety standpoint.

HEAT LAMPS should be used only in specially designed fixtures and hung with chains to properly protect livestock.

Pfister also suggests keeping LP gas tanks out of farm buildings and points out that these tanks can lead to disaster due to

Timber harvest in full swing

Timber is a crop which can be harvested at any season of the year. However, traditionally, intertime is still the season for most woods work, says Eltor work, forester for the Conservation Department in this area.

Skidding the logs on snow takes less horse-power, and the logs have less saw-dulling sand on them when they arrive at the mill.

IN THIS AREA where many high grade hardwoods are cut for veneer and lumber, harvesting in winter prevents staining of the wood by fungi which attack the cut logs during warm weather.

Maple in particular is subject to stain. Since it is used where its light color and brightness is especially important, any stain or mark detracts from its value.

A woodlot is a good investment and can earn from $10 to $25 each year on each acre from the growth of wood. However, it should be managed so that this growth can be harvested every 5 to 10 years by removing some of the larger trees.

MOST OWNERS need the assistance of a professional forester to get started with a management plan. Often one or two improvement cuts are necessary before the timber is ready for sustained yield management.

Assistance is available through the Conservation Department's area forester. He can advise you about what needs to be done. He will help select and estimate the volume of those trees to be removed in order to get the timber in better growing condition. If you know what you are selling, you can make a better deal.

Hypocrisy is the necessary burden of villainy. — Samuel Johnson

Reed resigns from planners

City Atty. Harold Reed submitted his resignation from the City Planning Commission to the St. Johns City Commission last Tuesday. Reed said he was resigning because he felt there could be a conflict in his duties as the city's attorney and a member of the planning unit.

The resignation was accepted, and City Manager Kenneth Greer was named to fill Reed's chair on the planning commission. The city charter specifies that a member of the city administration must fill the seat.

Greer has been acting as secretary for the planning commission for some time, and so the work of that unit will not be new to him.

Seals fund up

Some $4,259 had been contributed to the Christmas Seal campaign in Clinton County as of Jan. 15. That is nearly $1,000 more than at the same time last year.

On a world basis, only track and field sports attract more participants than does competitive shooting.

A Boy's Best Friend

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Gary stood at the window this morning waving and hugging the little plush dog I brought him home from my trip. How easy it is to make a small boy happy. I love to bring him things and take him places and watch the wonder and delight glow on his face, sparkle in his big blue eyes. Right now his Dad is his best friend and hero.

daughters of DeWitt were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr and Mrs Arnold Miller.

Visit Lapland in next travelogue

"Finland and Lapland," a film travelogue, will be presented on the "Travel and Adventure Series" of the St. Johns Lions' Club at 8 p.m., next Wednesday at the Clinton Theater. The film will be narrated in person by Harry R. Reed, who produced the travelogue.

Reed, photographer, lecturer and writer, is a resident of Huntington Beach, Calif., and a graduate of Santa Ana College and Occidental College. He has written many feature articles for such magazines as Liberty, Colliers, Holiday, Popular Photography, Look and This Week. Reed is considered to be one of the world's foremost authorities on Finland and Lapland—Arctic Finland and Arctic Norway.

BESIDES lecturing in the United States, he lectures on Finnish radio and television about travel and tourism within Finland and the Scandinavian Arctic. He also writes for Finnish newspapers. Besides being an authority on the Scandinavian countries, he is also a specialist on Alaska and the American Arctic and the Southwestern desertlands.

"Finland and Lapland" is an authentic film-lecture of a great nation and its charming people. It presents Finland and its Arctic region — Lapland — in mid-winter as well as in summer. It is an account of the history, agriculture, industry and architecture of this northern country.

HELSINKI, the great "White City of the North," the capital of Finland, is highlighted with a tour through the shops and colorful market places, luncheon at the unforgettable Restaurant Kestikartano and a visit with Finland's leading television star. Ancient, historic Turku, with its great cathedrals and castles, Tampere, the world's most beautiful industrial city, and Lahti, the most American-like city in Finland, are among the many cities of Finland that are visited in the film. The film also includes the vast Saimaa Lake Region beside the Finnish-Russian Frontier.

Alien address reports due

Walter A. Sahli of the Detroit office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service has again reminded all aliens to report their addresses during January.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted to one of those offices.

PARENTS OR guardians submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

Sahli urges all aliens to report before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties. Information furnished by an alien in making his annual address report to the government is confidential.

After French policemen complained that too many women are making off with their good-looking capes when they hang them on lamp posts when feeling too warm or when directing heavy traffic, the Paris police prefecture made it known that they can be bought for $14 each at a popular boutique.
